Approximately 150 Questionnaires In

Approximately 150 replies have been received from the Jaycee postcard poll, sent out last week to every poll tax payer in the county. The cards asked whether or not the citizens desire to hold a Perryton Celebration this year and to date, the replies are about half for and half against. Those who have not sent in their cards are urged to do so this week so that the Jaycees may have a guide for making Celebration plans.

Ranger Band Members Place High at Canyon

Soloists and twirlers with the Ranger Band won five first, four second and three third division ratings at the Interscholastic League Regional Music Competition-Festival held at Canyon last week.

Leroy Carter Is Named Equity Sales Manager

Leroy Carter has been named sales manager of the Perryton Equity, including all stations, Aldon Bell, general manager, has announced. Carter replaces Jack Atchison, who resigned to take the position as manager of the Farmers Cooperative.

Carter grew up in Perryton and started working for the Equity in December, 1945. He is a veteran of World War II, serving several months in the European Theatre.

He has attended several short courses offered by Texas and Oklahoma state agricultural schools. He is a recent graduate of the state school for testing and grading grain. He will remain in charge of the Equity testing and grading department.

Good News for Kids! Saturday Classes

There's good news for school children this week. Supt. Gilbert Mize has announced that classes will be held all day Saturday, just like any other school day. Classes were made necessary Saturday in order to make up a day lost in January when low gas pressure closed the schools one day. Under the Gilmer-Aiken school bill, a certain number of days are required during the school year, regardless of any reason for missing a day. The school buses will run Saturday but the cafeteria will not be open.

Electric Service Rate Increase Granted by Council; First Raise for Local Company

The city council Tuesday night approved an increase in rates asked by the Community Public Service Co. The increase was 3.7 per cent for residential users and 10 per cent for commercial users.

C. E. Whippo, Panhandle division manager of the company, said the increase was necessary because of increased costs. This marks the first time in history that the Panhandle division of the company has asked for a rate increase. Whippo said. There have been five occasions in Perryton's history when the rate was voluntarily decreased, however.

In 1945, the residential rate was reduced by 10 per cent and the commercial rate was reduced 20 per cent. This means that electric power will cost less after the increase than it did in 1945.

Farmers Co-op. Annual Meeting To Be May 10

The annual stockholders meeting of the Farmers Cooperative will be held on Thursday, May 10, manager Jack Atchison has announced. The meeting will be held at the district courtroom in the courthouse, beginning at 2 p. m.

The annual election of officers will be held at this time. The terms of A. E. Pittman and J. H. Kershaw expire on the board of directors this year. Holdover directors are W. M. McCarty, H. C. Brillhart and Paul Shrader.

The financial condition of the organization, as reflected in the audit made by A. J. Weiser of Amarillo, will be read and discussed.

1945. In fact, Whippo said that electric power is cheaper than in 1940.

When the rate was decreased in 1945, the company thought that with the end of World War II, inflation would end. Instead, as everyone knows, the country was just beginning a period of higher and higher prices. Since 1945, the company has spent $750,000 in new facilities in the Panhandle division, which serves Spearman, Waka, Farnsworth, Perryton, Booker, Dargouett, Follett, Lipscomb and Higgins.

Whippo pointed out that company wages have more than doubled since 1940; the cost of poles, transformers, trucks and all other equipment have practically doubled since 1940; the cost of living has increased 76 per cent since 1940; while the cost of electric power is 34 per cent cheaper now than in 1940.

The proposed rates, which the council approved, will affect residential users who use more than 50 KWH each month. The

Jaycee Booth to Aid Ranger Club

The Perryton Jaycees, to help the Ranger Club membership drive along, will set up and maintain a booth on Main street Saturday, soliciting new members for the Ranger Club.

Five teams of seven Jaycees will work in shifts at the booth from 10 a. m. to 8 p. m. Saturday.

The Ranger Club has approximately 200 members, and has a goal of 400 before the end of this month. The dues paid in by members will go to finance the summer recreation program for youngsters.

maximum increase for any residential meter is 50 cents per month and if the consumption is less than 50 KWH there is no increase.

Commercial users will pay more for all over 50 KWH, with a maximum increase of $4.75 per month if they use 1,000 KWH or more.

Rates for municipal use are not affected by the change.

IHC Show to Be Presented Tuesday Night

The "International Hit Parade" featuring stars of stage and radio fame, will come to Perryton next Tuesday night, May 8, at the school auditorium. The show is being brought here by the Foote Truck and Tractor Co., local International dealers.

This stage show, which has appeared recently in some of the larger Panhandle cities, has been received with enthusiasm wherever shown.

The program features the Morenos, who do a trampoline act and also comedy sketches in costume; Ray Conlin, Jr., ventriloquist whose dummy is called "Hickory Heckler"; Penny Wright, vocalist; and Ed Cooney, one of the country's best harmonica players.

There will be some new color movies in addition to the stage show.

"There will be no selling, just entertainment," stated C. W. Foote of the local company. "This is a free family party and everyone in the community is invited."

SEASON'S FIRST SCORE—Melvin Williams, Perryton catcher, brings in the first run of the season in Texas-Oklahoma league play Sunday in Perryton's game against Booker. Williams walked, stole second and came home on an error by the Booker shortstop. Perryton won the season's opener 12 to 10.

Ask Increase In Grain Sorghums For This Area

If wheat farmers of this area need any encouragement to plant grain sorghums, the government has it for them. Herman Hargrove, chairman of the county PMA committee, has received a letter from the state PMA office, urging all farmers whose wheat has failed, to plant their land to grain sorghums this year.

"With continued strengthening in consumer demand in prospect and with military requirements increasing there will be need for all the livestock, dairy and poultry products that can be produced from the feed supplies that are expected to be available in the next few years. Feed is the essential factor in maintaining livestock for the present high level of production of meats, dairy and poultry products and must be maintained for several years," the letter from B. F. Vance, state chairman, stated.

To Pay Travel for WAC And WAF Enlistees

Both Army and Air Force increased the area of WAC and WAF selectivity this week with the announcement that prospective female enlistees will travel at government expense to recruiting "main stations" for final interviews and tests.

T/Sgt. Emile R. Sinner, local recruiting sergeant, said that the move is expected to attract many more women applicants and may be the forerunner of a larger program to boost the size of the Women's Army Corps.

Vitamin E Halts Mink Disease

WASHINGTON (AP)—Researchers at the U. S. Department of Agriculture have found a remedy for "Yellow Fat Disease," which kills thousands of mink kittens annually. The remedy is to provide some form of vitamin E in the ration.

Yellow fat disease is most prevalent along the Pacific coast where mink are fed largely on fish scrap, which is plentiful in the region. To supplement the fish scrap and provide a source of vitamin E, scientists have used fresh horse meat or liver.

Wheat germ meal, however, proved a cheaper source and when it was fed in ample quantities, none of the mink developed the disease.

Fat and Funny Aldo Enjoys His First in English

By ALBURN WEST

(AP Newsfeatures)

ROME—Aldo Fabrizi, rolipoly funnyman and character actor of the Italian screen, soon will make his bow to the American movie public as a comedian in his first English-speaking film.

The 240-pound Aldo, known abroad for his serious roles in "Open City" and "To Live in Peace," speaks English in the new movie even though he does not know the language. The secret, of course, is that he memorized his lines phonetically.

Aldo is cast as a cemetery caretaker, a strong part in a movie story of an ex-GI who returns to Italy to get his buried ill-gotten gains on the wartime blackmarket. The film, "Three Steps North," is produced and directed by Hollywood's W. Lee Wilder. Lloyd Bridges is the former GI. A promising Italian starlet, Lea Padovani, plays opposite him.

The movie also boasts of having Ingrid Bergman and her Italian producer-director husband, Roberto Rossellini, as extras. The Swedish star, whose romance played across the frontpages for months, will be seen strolling with her husband through a cafe in Amalfi, tourist-famed southern Italian seaside village.

The producers of "Three Steps North" are not making any predictions about the film. But if the fans have as much fun seeing it as the producers claim they had making it, all will be well.

Aldo Fabrizi, they say, was a show all by himself. Memorizing his English lines purely phonetically cost the fat volatile Italian many hard-working hours. In the heat of the Roman summer, he insisted on studying in his hotel room so he could have the comfort of sitting around naked.

Aldo also found that he could use symbols for words to help him remember the sounds. For instance if the words "beautiful girl" appeared in his lines, he sketched an appropriate figure replete with voluptuous charms. Standard equipment on the set was a big blackboard covered with Aldo's drawings.

Wilder hired a seven-year-old Amalfi boy, Nicolo Maneri, to play a small role. His pay was $100, a new suit, new pair of shoes and all he could eat.

Then there was a 65-year-old gilder in Amalfi who was picked for a bit part because of his beard and long, grey hair. After shooting part of the scene one afternoon, he was told to return that night for the remaining shots. He showed up clean-shaven and with his grey locks trimmed and greased in movie-idol style.

In one scene, a group of tough-looking characters were hired to jump on Lloyd Bridges and steal his passport. Afterward Bridges discovered his billfold was missing.

The George and Vulture is on the site of a 14th century inn known as the George. The vulture got in later.

British Bomb Reds With Leaflets

KUALA LUMPUR (AP)—British pilots are doing more than dropping bombs on Communist terrorist hideouts in the Malayan jungle—they're carrying on a propaganda war, too. In a four-day period, the airmen dropped 4,000,000 leaflets in selected areas in Negri Sembilan state.

Some of the leaflets, directed to terrorists themselves, called upon them to surrender. Others publicized rewards offered for information leading to the capture or killing of terrorists by security forces.

Trapper Finds Excited Wolves Easy to Snare

(AP) Newsfeatures
SUDBURY, Ont.—Andy Tyson credits a theory he has worked out about wolves with his success in snaring them.

During the last year has caught 22 in the Tyson Lake area south of this northern Ontario nickel-mining center — 11 early in the year and the others after the deer season ended last fall.

The way Tyson figures it, when one wolf is caught in a snare, the other members of the pack become so upset that they run wildly about and are quickly snared themselves.

That is why he places as many as 40 snares in one small area, instead of spreading them out through the bush, as most trappers do.

"I got five in one bunch in November and three in another in December," he said recently. "You could see in the snow how they went crazy when the first one was caught."

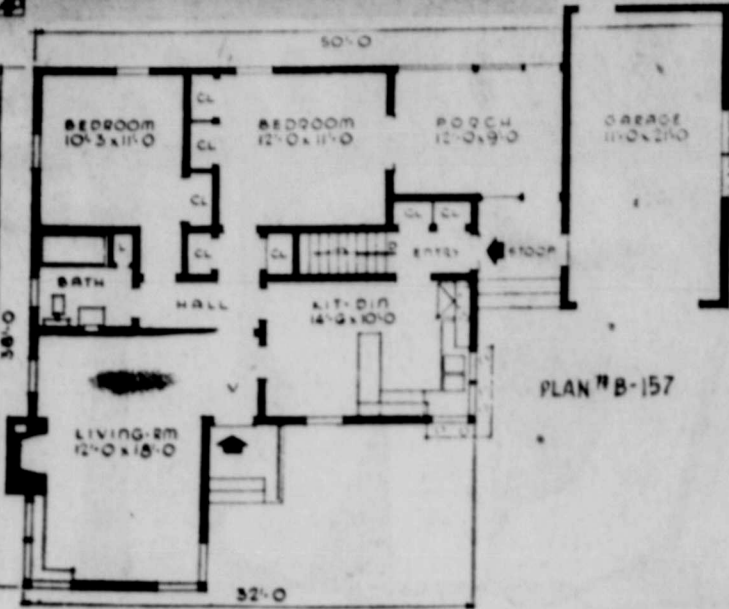

To remove human scent from his snares, he boils them and handles them with gloves until they are set. When taking the snares into the bush, he rides on a sled behind his dog team.

"That's one time I don't slog along on snowshoes. The human scent will remain even in deep snow for days. You can walk if there is a blizzard, or if it is snowing a great deal, for the weather obliterates the scent. But the dogs have to work a little harder otherwise."

Tyson, a stocky, blue-eyed bushman, hates wolves as despoilers of the forest. But something that happened last December made him feel slightly friendly toward them for the first time. While trailing three wolves through the bush, he came upon a mink they had killed without injuring the pelt. He sold the fur for $25.

Record Number Converted In Baptist Revival

More than 180 persons were converted to Christ during the highly successful revival meeting of the First Baptist church under the leadership of Dr. C. B. Jackson of Dallas, state evangelist.

The closing service of the revival last Sunday evening was quite impressive as persons from seven to 70 years of age were baptised. A unique feature of this service was that both the pastor and associate pastor participated in its performance.

Dr. Jackson said that more grown men walked the aisles of the church for Christ in this revival than in any recent revival in which he has participated.

Mrs. Chellis O'Brien of Abilene assisted during the revival campaign, working with the women of the congregation. W. G. Burton, minister of religious education, conducted the special singing and music during the revival.

Rev. O. C. Curtis, pastor, said that this was one of the best attended revivals, with the highest interest, of any since he became pastor of the church eight years ago.

Baptist Brotherhood To Meet Tuesday

A special meeting and fish fry will be held Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock by the Men's Brotherhood of the First Baptist church with men and boys who made decisions during last week's revival as honor guests.

Principal speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Porterfield, pastor of the First Methodist church at Gruver. Rev. O. C. Curtis, local pastor, has announced. The meeting was originally scheduled for Monday night, but was changed to Tuesday night because of conflicting activities.

TONIC FOR A TIRED ROOM

Have you walked into your living room recently and had it suddenly dawn on you that the room has a "tired" look about it? Have you suddenly realized that it has looked the same for too long?

The best tonic we know of for "tired" rooms is furniture rearrangement. Not just pushing the sofa over onto another wall and the desk into the opposite corner, but a complete reassembling of all furnishings to put the room in a fresh, bright mood.

You may find that you want to discard some pieces... or that a replacement is necessary. Sometimes just one new piece is all that is needed to give existing furnishings a whole new lease on life.

The sketch above illustrates an interesting compact arrangement that is a departure from the usual. The only new pieces added were sectional bookcases above sofa to give wall interest and conserve space and the generous-sized coffee table. Note the convenient group of storage units, with dishes handy for serving tea and snacks. This grouping gives a friendly, intimate feeling to the room and leaves other areas for writing and music groups.

NAPANOCH, N. Y. (AP)—Ben Feinberg, director of the Napanoch County Club in Napanoch, New York, scrupulously observed the rules of Noise Abatement Week recently.

Following the Governor's statement that "noise impairs human health and lowers efficiency" Feinberg said he installed muffled buzzers in each room instead of the customary bell, that loudspeakers replaced the dinner gong, all help wore rubber soled footwear, a sign was posted at the entrance against excessive horn blowing and a slogan of "No Noise at Napanoch" was ordered.

Cultivation Still Effective Against Weeds

WASHINGTON (AP)—A warning to farmers who are fighting weeds with the new herbicides of recent years was issued here by Warren C. Shaw, agronomist with the U. S. Department of Agriculture. Shaw comes out in favor of cultivation as one of the most effective ways to control weeds.

"No available herbicide," says Shaw, "will kill all weeds and leave crop plants completely unharmed. If we do not cultivate to control resistant weeds, it will be only a short time until fields will be weedier than ever—with weeds even more difficult to control."

Shaw adds that research results throughout the country show that even when weeds are controlled with chemicals, many soils will give higher crop yields when cultivated at least once.

How Census Experts Tell U. S. Population Before It's Counted

By ROBERT E. GEIGER
Newsfeatures Writer

WASHINGTON—U. S. census experts now can estimate the nation's population month by month so accurately that the top population forecaster, Jacob Siegel, without peeking at the figures the nose counters were gathering, estimated within 81,000 people of what the 1950 official census would total.

In a population of 150,697,361 people, the 1950 census total, this was an error of less than 1/10 of one per cent. For most census purposes this can be considered virtually perfect.

The United States constitution instructed officials to count noses every ten years and report the total to Congress. The main purpose was to establish the number of representatives each state should have in Congress. Representation is based on population.

But many other reasons have arisen why the country needs to know, more frequently than once in 10 years, how many people it contains.

If the birth rate is rising cradle makers would like to know about it so they can build more cradles. And if there are more old people the eye-glass makers would like to hear about that. The Census Bureau gets hundreds of requests from business people.

The experts have developed a system of estimating population every month and have been doing it since 1940.

They keep close track of birth statistics. They have to estimate these in some states because of incomplete records. But most states now keep fairly accurate records.

They subtract the number of deaths from the total births. There always have been more births than deaths in the United States.

Then the experts study statistics on people who came into this country from foreign nations and those who left the United States to live elsewhere. This shows the net gain or loss from migration.

All these figures are compiled on a month-to-month basis. Starting in the month following each 10 year census, the monthly gain is added to the 10-year census total, considered accurate because it is an actual count of noses.

Thus last April, 120 months had elapsed since the previous census count. Siegel, making his April estimate, said there were around 150,778,000 people in the United States, over-estimating by 80,639.

It is easier to estimate total U. S. population than a state's population.

The states do not keep records on persons who move from one state to another. But the U. S. government keeps accurate records on people who cross its international boundaries — it hopes.

The only ones not counted are spies and a few other aliens who may be smuggled in, officials say.

Draft-Age Chinese Head Home

KUALA LUMPUR (AP)—Youthful Chinese in the Federation of Malaya are still trying to leave the country to avoid being called up under manpower regulations.

R. P. Bingham, Secretary for Chinese Affairs, reported more than 10,000 Chinese—60 per cent of them between the call-up ages of 18 and 24—have asked permission to leave Malaya and return at a later date.

The young Chinese desiring to leave all list Communist China as their destination.

The area of the Pacific Ocean is about the same as the combined extent of the Atlantic, Indian and Arctic Oceans.

Ethiopians speak a Semitic language.

Thailand Bans Wild Beast Export

BANGKOK (AP)—In an effort to conserve its wild life, Thailand has banned the export of wild animals. Action followed reports that trappers and dealers were stripping the jungles to fill the expanding trade in wild animals.

Thailand has been the main operating ground for international wild animal dealers since the war. Elephants, tigers, leopards, monkeys, gibbons and snakes have been shipped to the United States and Europe to replenish war-depleted zoos.

Wild animal operators are now expected to turn to Borneo for their supplies. Communist terrorism has closed Malaya as a hunting ground.

Hungry House-Breaker

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Tradition has it that poets are always starving. Apparently the same applies to poet-burglars.

Police report a burglar entered the home of L. E. Sanderson and besides taking $375 in cash and jewels ate half a two-pound box of candy and drank two bottles of pop.

He went next door, still guzzling a pop bottle, picked up $718 worth of jewelry and ate a pound of peanuts. Then, discarding the pop bottle, he fled. Police found a note saying: "I did the job brief—the poet."

HOT DOGS! And how! Mildred McMahon, 21, and weighing 135 pounds, got herself a job walking 13 miles a day to test rubber footwear (for the Hood Rubber Co.) in Watertown, Mass. Mildred at the end of a work day in her favorite position for rest. But tomorrow she'll be on the job again and in the next 12 she expects to walk as far as from Boston to Los Angeles along her local route. She uses her weight and her energy to wear the heels and soles of boots, galoshes and rubbers. If they test they are good enough for the market. You'd think Mildred be down to a wisp, but she says: "All it does is stimulate my appetite."

MODEL "RB"

Grain Drill

Check These Outstanding Features

Low-Wheel Design

Low-wheel design shortens the seed drop—assures more accurate drilling at faster tractor speeds.

Automatic-Type Wheels

Rubber-tired wheels, equipped with Timken tapered-roller bearings and dustproof hubs make it possible to drill accurately at speeds up to 6 miles per hour... to transport this drill at 15 M. P. H.

Sturdy Steel Construction

The heavy angle-steel frame is strong and rigid. The keystone-shaped box of 16-gauge steel won't twist, buckle or sag. Crank-type axles carry the smooth-running demountable disk wheels.

Choice of Furrow Openers

Single-disk, double-disk, semi-deep furrow, and moldboard deep furrow openers can be supplied.

Double-Run Feeds

Dependable double-run feeds drill wheat, oats, barley, rye, flax and many other crops with yield-boosting accuracy. They can be easily adjusted to plant grain in 100 different quantities per acre.

Simple Gear Drives

Steel roller chains operate the simple four-unit gear drives from the ground wheels. Metal guards keep out dirt and trash.

Big-Capacity Grain Box

The keystone-shaped box of 16-gauge galvanized steel holds one bushel of grain for each foot of box length. The non-spill box covers are water-tight.

Jackknife Spring Pressure

Spring pressure is applied on the furrow openers with jackknife effect. This assures uniform penetration over ridges, depressions, and on the level.

A-Type Disk Bars

A-type disk bars, attached to the front frame angle at two points, hold the furrow openers rigidly in line—assure straight, evenly-spaced rows.

Hydraulic Powr-Trol

The Model "RB" can be equipped for operation with John Deere Powr-Trol, an exclusive development for John Deere Tractors. This new feature gives the tractor finger-tip control of the drill.

Sizes

The John Deere—Van Brunt Model "RB" Grain Drill is built in 16 x 8 and 16 x 10 sizes.

Q. Is it possible to enroll in two schools at once under the GI Bill?

A.—Yes, but only under three conditions: (1) the one complete course you are taking is not available at a single institution; (2) your principal school prescribes a course and approves enrollment in a second school; and (3) the training furnished by the second school is part of your one elected course and can be scheduled satisfactorily.

Q. May I claim my grandmother as a dependent parent for GI Bill subsistence allowance purposes? She raised me ever since I was a small child.

A. Yes, but only if you can establish that she is your foster mother and actually takes the place of a parent. Under those conditions, you may be granted increased benefits for a dependent parent.

Q. I submitted a claim for increased disability compensation and failed to show up for my physical examination, since it simply slipped my mind. What should I do now?

A. Your claim for the increase has been considered abandoned. You should file a new application and make arrangements for a new physical examination.

Q. My daughter is receiving death pension payments from VA based on the facts that she is the child of a deceased World War I veteran and that she is attending an approved school and is not yet 21. Will the payments continue through the summer vacation, even though she temporarily will not be in school?

A. Yes, so long as evidence is submitted to VA showing that she was in school and intends to go back at the end of the summer vacation.

Pepper Brings Record Price

SINGAPORE (AP)—Pepper is bringing new record-breaking prices in the Singapore market. A consignment of 25 tons of black pepper recently was sold for $675 per picul, or approximately one-sixteenth of a ton. White pepper brought $1,110 per picul.

PFC. JERRY WARD, above, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. R. Ward, 107 S. Main, has completed Marine basic training at San Diego and is now assigned to a unit stationed at San Diego. Ward was graduated from Perryton high school with the class of 1950 and attended Baylor University at Waco until mid-term this year.

On the Losing Side

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP)—The Southern Association record for consecutive defeats was broken in 1950 when Little Rock lost 21 straight games. The former league mark of 20 losses in a row was held by Mobile which compiled that record in 1917. The Little Rock nine lost 24 of its first 25 games last season.

Only English Can Murder King's Tongue

By CHARLES E. WHITING

Newsfeatures

LONDON — Many American tourists are running into a language barrier they never expected to encounter in England.

And it isn't merely pronuncia-tions like "bawth" and "tomah-to" that throw them.

An American newspaperman
in London stopped at the corner one evening to collect the newspapers — a chore normally attended to by his wife. But she was bedded with flu.

"Where's the Missus, Gov?"
asked the news vendor. "Not queer, I 'ope."

He wasn't being rude, but merely solicitous about the state of his customer's health.

American "Innocents Abroad"
learn to ask for a "serviette" instead of a table napkin in restaurants. That layer-cake on the pastry tray is known only as "gateau" to the waitress and it's useless to ask for it by any other name.

The cinema (movies) has taught most Americans that an elevator is a "lift" to their British cousins. But do they know that some very respectable restaurants advertise themselves as
"dives?"

If you are looking for hardware store to replace that lost trunk key, you'll want an "ironmonger."

A request for an orchestra seat at a theater will bring a blank stare from the cashier. You want a seat in the "stalls." It's the circle if you prefer the balcony.

A "quid" is a pound, or $2.80.
A "bob" is a shilling, worth 14 cents. You'll want to tip the porter half a crown. That's about the same size as an American half dollar but worth 35 cents. A sixpence (seven cents) is sometimes called a "tanner."

Of a somewhat special character is the rhyming slang of London's Cockneys. This takes a commonplace word and changes it into something that rhymes with the original word.

Thus, a motor car becomes a "jam jar." A cash till is a "jack-and-jill." And the simple farewell "goodbye" becomes — by some delicious switch—"cherry pie."

Bridge for Sale

SANTA BARBARA, Calif. (AP)—
Wanna buy a bridge? The county supervisors have one up for sale. It's a 1200-foot steel span, built at a cost of $174,992 in 1917
which crosses the Santa Ynez River north of here. It was made useless when the highway it served was rerouted.

The supervisors don't expect anyone to buy it for transportation to another site. They hope someone will be interested in salvaging the steel.

Judge Hanna Dies April 6 In Kansas

R. I. Hanna, one of Ochiltree county's early day citizens, died April 14 at the home of his son, Ormonde Hanna, in Corwin, Kansas, following a short illness. He had celebrated his 89th birthday on April 6 while a patient in the hospital.

Judge Hanna, as he was called in this community, lived on a farm in the northeast part of the county in the early days. He served as Ochiltree county judge and county school superintendent.

ent and was the first president and manager of the Perryton Equity. He was the Equity manager when it began operations in December, 1919, in a small frame elevator where the concrete structure now stands.

He moved to Kansas in 1922 and had lived there until his death. Judge Hanna was born April 6, 1862 in Ray county, Missouri and came to Texas in 1882, when he was 20 years of age. He was united in marriage to Medora Ola Biffle in 1893 and to this union three sons were born.

Two sons preceded him in death and his wife passed away in 1939. Survivors are one son, Ormonde of Corwin, Kansas, two daughters-in-law, three grandchildren, several nieces and nephews and a host of on any type soil; and have a lasting effect in the soil.

University officials at the University of California and the University of Nebraska are engaged at the present time in using Calfeed 104 in experiments.

The local distributors plan to get farmers to use Calfeed 104 in small plots this year to test it out for this particular soil.

The soil conditioner, which comes in 80-pound bags, is spread on the ground with a fertilizer spreader, then is disked into the soil. A treatment of 300 pounds per acre is recommended for this area.

It is also being used on lawns, flowers and shrubbery in town.

A farmer at Cotopaxi, Colo., reported he used the soil conditioner on 80 acres of wheat near Kanorado, Kansas. His farm was hit by hail and adjusters listed 85 per cent loss. He then harvested the wheat, getting 16 bushels of wheat to the acre, while surrounding fields, not treated, yielded only eight bushels per acre.

The product is registered with the Colorado State Department of Agriculture.

and a third rating in marching. The band also marched in the Spearman Celebration parade Saturday morning and received the second place trophy, Guy-mon winning first place.

On Wednesday, the band made its last public appearance of the school year in the Guy-mon Pioneer Day Celebration parade. About 90 junior and senior high school band members made the trip. It was the 35th appearance of the Ranger Band in uniform during the school year.

J. D. Davis is the band director.

Mrs. Donald DeWolfe and children of Amarillo will be guests in the Gene Akers home this week end. Mrs. DeWolfe is a sister of Mrs. Akers.

Funeral services were held Tuesday, April 17, at 2:30 p. m. at the Hazelton Methodist church. Rev. W. J. Thomas officiated, assisted by Rev. C. E. Gilbert. Burial was in the Hazelton cemetery.

Ochiltree Wheat Story Related in National Paper

The Wall Street Journal, Chicago edition, carried a front page story about Perryton and Ochiltree county on April 26 which spread the news about the wheat crop failure last year and the poor prospects this year.

Staff writer John S. Cooper, who wrote the article, visited several days in Perryton gathering information for the story. He talked with Carl Ellis of the First National Bank, Aldon Bell of the Equity, John Bolin of the Perryton Implement Co., county agent Hood Willis, the Herald staff and W. T. North of the Goodyear Store.

"The second loss in a row is beginning to pinch the pocket-books of the prosperous Panhandle wheat farmers," the story said. "At Perryton's two banks, deposits in April were down a half million from December, and at the First National Bank, deposits are off $3 million from the $9,500,000 of three years ago."

"Farm machinery dealer John Bolin, who for 10 years watched farmers peel off a big roll of bills every time they bought equipment, last year, for the first time, started to do a little credit business. Combine sales by the town's seven farm equipment dealers dropped from 50 in 1949 to 15 last year. This year, they don't even expect to hit even 1950's volume."

The story tells about the search for a substitute for the wheat crop, about the greenbug infestation, and how business in general has slumped this year in this area.

Balko Students to Make Industrial Tour

Balko pupils of the second and third grades will visit Perryton tomorrow, Friday, to make an industrial tour arranged by the Chamber of Commerce. The children, who will be accompanied by Mrs. Vera Westfall, plan to have a picnic lunch at the county park and visit a number of firms that afternoon.

Firms to be visited include the Coca-Cola Bottling Co., the Dr. Pepper plant, Stewart Printing Co., station KEYE and the Southwestern Associated Telephone Co.

Equity Annual Meet Being Held Today

The annual meeting of the Perryton Equity is being held today, beginning at 10 a. m. in the company's general office. There will be a free chicken dinner at noon, at which approximately 2,000 persons are expected to attend.

The business session will be held this afternoon. The major item of business is securing stockholder approval of a charter amendment which will raise the capital stock of the Equity to $3,000,000. The board of directors have voted to transfer all allocated reserves and member equities to common stock.

The terms of M. J. Groves, Waka; J. W. Sims, Perryton; Clyde Devers, Huntoon; Claude Saunders, Balko; and F. L. Bell, Gray, expire this year on the board of directors.

Twenty-One Farms Have Government Crop Insurance

A total of 21 farms in Ochiltree have been signed up for federal crop insurance, reports Elliott Lee, county PMA secretary. There must be 200 farm units in the program in order for the county to participate, Lee said.

Deadline for taking out the federal crop insurance is August 31, or before the farmer sows his wheat, Lee said. The insurance may be canceled at any time up to April 31, 1952. Once taken out, it remains in effect unless canceled by the producer.

Premium rate is .8 bushel of wheat per acre, and the cash price for both the premium and the loss payments are based on 90 per cent of parity as of January 15, 1952, which is expected to be around $2 per bushel.

Premium payments are made on the basis of seeded acreage, and there is a 1 per cent discount for each 50 acres seeded. If the producer pays the premium by January 28, 1952, he gets a 5 per cent reduction, Lee said.

The insurance pays 4.4 bushels per acre in case of loss, and the crop is protected against drought, flood, hail, wind, frost, lightning, fire, insects and plant diseases. Congress provides the administrative expenses of the program.

Alkaline soil which had been abandoned for years produced good crops after a Calfide 104 treatment.	Owner collected 85% hail loss; then harvested 16 bu. of 63 test per acre after Calfide 104 treatment.	Wheat treated with Calfide 104 entirely free from greenbugs although completely surrounded by infested fields.	Calfide 104 puts adobe, gumbo and other heavy soils in good tillable condition.	Greenhouses produced flowers twice normal size by using Calfide 104; have discontinued spraying for insects. Number of buds per plant increased 100 percent.	Forced growth gave one extra cutting per year and nearly doubled total year's tonnage after application of Calfide 104.	Calfide 104 sweetened acid soil and eliminates the need of any other sweeteners.	Newly planted grass came up in five days. Brown appearing lawns and evergreens take on a beautiful dark green color after being treated with Calfide 104.	Tonnage increased by three tons per acre. Sugar content raised. Much greater length noted.
DISEASE Wheat, potatoes, sugar beets, vegetables and flowers have been entirely free of Mosaic, root rot, fusarium wilt, rust, fungus growth and other diseases when planted in soil treated with Calfide 104.

Gardeners Differ Over Fertilizers

By ROBERT E. GEIGER
OCHILTREE COUNTY WRITER

There are two schools of thought about the use of commercial fertilizers in home gardens.

One group of experts says that if manure is not available the commercial fertilizers, such as nitrogen-phosphorus combinations should be used.

The other school says to use manure and compost composed of "natural" materials. These include decayed leaves and even garbage.

The second group—with a wide following—says the use of commercial fertilizer produces inferior crops. It also claims crops grown from "natural" fertilizers are more likely to have greater resistance to insects and plant diseases.

Experts Study Claims

Department of Agriculture experts are studying these latter claims but say they have found no substantial evidence to uphold them.

Meanwhile, they recommend the careful use of chemical fertilizers where plenty of barnyard manure is not available.

Careful studies now are being made of the most efficient way to use chemical fertilizers. This work has been accelerated since atomic materials have become available. These atomic materials allow scientists to study the exact manner in which plants absorb nourishment from the soil. The experts expect to learn more about how to apply the chemicals—how far away from the plant, at what depth, at what time, etc.

What Experts Have Found

Meanwhile here is the latest information to come from the experts:

1. Fertilizer may be sown broadcast and thoroughly raked into the upper three to four inches of soil just before the seeds are planted. This is an easy method.

2. However, better results frequently are obtained by placing the fertilizer two inches to each side of the seed, and just a little deeper.

3. Apply about one pound to 25 to 30 feet of row.

4. One of the best fertilizers for most home gardens is a 5-10-5 mix—5 per cent nitrogen, 10 per cent phosphoric acid and 5 percent potash. (The rest of the mix will be ashes or some other "filler.")

5. Best results are obtained where plenty of manure or other organic matter has been worked into the soil before the garden was planted.

Fertilizer experts say the home gardener should be careful not to use too much commercial fertilizer. Whether it is broadcast or applied underneath the seed rows, it should be well mixed with the soil before the seeds are planted.

Tomatoes, Beans and Potatoes
They also warn home gardeners that tomatoes do not need much fertilizer and this plant may be damaged by heavy nitrogen applications. Use small amounts of barnyard manure, supplemented by light use of superphosphate. Heavy fertilizer application causes tomato plants to have a rank growth but many blossoms drop instead of forming fruit.

Beans and tomatoes are other crops that do not need heavy fertilization.

Potatoes are not grown in most home gardens because such liberal supplies generally are on the market the year 'round. So most city gardeners do not have to worry about fertilizing potatoes.

Beans, however, will grow on almost any good garden soil without fertilizer.

Lime is harmful to snap beans and gardeners should be careful.

Behind, As Usual

In spite of all evidence to the contrary, the United States Department of Agriculture persists in predicting wheat yields of 50 per cent of normal in Texas and Oklahoma this year and we don't see where they get their information.

It must be that none of the Department of Agriculture experts have visited the wheat belt this season or they certainly wouldn't predict a 50 per cent crop.

The Department of Agriculture predicts a carryover of wheat on July 1 this year of about 425 million bushels and a carryover on July 1, 1952, of about 380 million bushels, based on the present crop.

Crop reporter A. W. Erickson, who certainly does visit the wheat belt, and regularly, declares that the government is always about three months behind the facts in its wheat estimates. It would appear that Erickson is being conservative. The government is about two years behind.

Will We Get the Rain?

Ochiltree county farmers and ranchers haven't been very enthused over the recent rain-making project, although counties all around us have signed up with the Water Resources Development Co. of Denver to increase the rainfall this year.

Plans have been made for a charter under the name of the Texas Panhandle Weather Improvement Association to include Spearman, Dallam, Hartley, Hansford and Lipscomb counties.

It costs about $5 per quarter section to join the association and get in on the rain making project.

Since Ochiltree is not in it, as yet, the thought occurs to us that the association will have to be very exacting or the rain they make will stop over into Ochiltree county just the same. This brings up a point—can the rain makers cut off the rain at the Ochiltree county line—drenching the other counties and leaving this county dry?

Lee Cox, of the Water Resources Development Co., when he met with Ochiltree county farmers two weeks ago, assured them that no method yet devised can squeeze water out of a cloud for one area to the detriment of another area. If this is true, then Ochiltree county will be all right, whether joining the association or not.

It appears that before the rain-makers get through we are going to have federal laws to regulate rain making.

Let's Preserve Our Heritage

Since the days of the Romans, scales have been used in weighing merchandise to be exchanged, in order that both the buyer and the seller would be assured fair treatment. Because scales are honest and impartial, they have come to be the symbol of justice.

When a man is on trial his fate depends on the scale of justice in the form of a jury of 12 persons. It has been said that the choice of the number, twelve, is unquestionably based upon scriptural precedent. Just as there were 12 prophets to foretell the truth, and 12 apostles to teach the truth, 12 jurymen are chosen to ascertain the truth.

As American citizens, we all have the right to trial by jury. We have the assurance that we will not be deprived of life or liberty without just cause. Even though we know that the fate of every person who is accused of crime—large or small as it may be—is dependent upon a jury, it is often difficult to find 12 men who are willing to serve as jurors.

In a survey made recently among district and county judges and attorneys by the American Citizenship Committee of the State Bar of Texas, it was indicated that in some localities two out of three persons summoned for jury duty offer excuses to be released. Some of the excuses deserve consideration, but more often they do not. It is this lack of interest in the democratic system of justice and in the right of one's fellow man that has prompted the American Citizenship Committee and the Texas Press Association to designate May as "Jury Service Month".

The bar and the press have joined in urging that no Texan ask to be excused from jury service during May. The far-reaching objective of the campaign is that a reawakening among the people of this state to the urgent need for intelligent and willing jurors will help discourage all excuses in the future.

In the past all the Reconstruction Finance Corporation needed was refinancing. Today, what it needs most is re-constructing.

Judging from the latest news from Washington, the sculptor isn't the only one who makes his living out of chiseling.

Take A Tip From The Morans

"At last we've found the way to keep our rooms from being stuffy during winter rainstorms," says Mrs. R. L. Moran of 6035 Floyd, Houston, Texas. "Before we discovered Childers All-Aluminum Awnings we had to close all of our windows whenever it rained. Now we keep windows open even in driving rainstorms because Childers Awnings can't leak and they add new beauty to our home."

Find out for yourself how this revolutionary new awning can give your home new beauty and guaranteed leakproof protection. Childers All-Aluminum Awnings are more leakproof, more stormproof, more sunproof than any awning at any price. And you can still buy Childers Awnings for 10% down, take 30 months to pay! Isn't Worrying Over High Prices

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher reports on worrying this week, something he has very little knowledge of, if you ask us.)

Dear editor:

One of my neighbors went into town last Friday and sold a calf at the sales ring and he came home pleased over the fact that he got $150 for it. He almost felt guilty, like he'd cheated somebody. Kept looking around like he felt maybe somebody was gonna take it back.

"Most money I ever hope to get for one calf," he said.

Personally, I don't feel that way about it. I ain't never seen a calf of mine I wouldn't rather get $160 for than $150, or any other lower price you can name.

The point is, with farm prices sort of high, a lot of my neighbors are worried, they have the idea they are maybe getting too much, although that's the last thing they'd want to leak out and I ain't seen none of em send in any money back.

With me, the things I have to sell just can't get too high, although I could stand some reduction in the gouging I get when I have to buy something, and it has never bothered my conscience any to get a big price for wheat or milo or calves or anything else that works itself up through the bindweed and

Who said You can't Afford a Fine Car?

WHEN you look at everything a ROADMASTER has to offer, it's natural to conclude that it's priced with the rest of the fine-car field.

Sweeping proudly past you, it has a distinction that few cars can equal.

Stepping nimbly away from a stop light, it has the willing surge of power that the very exclusive combination of a 152-horsepower Fireball engine and Dynaflo Drive* delivers.

It rides the road with majestic smoothness, and comes to a smooth and gentle halt, in response to the finest brakes that Buick engineers ever developed.

Inside, it has spacious room, from side to side and front to back and seat to roof—plus a softness of cushions and a richness of fabrics which bespeak the custom standards to which it is built.

All you could want in a fine car is here in abundance.

But don't let that mislead you into deciding "it's too rich for me."

If you've looked into 1951 cars generally, you'll discover this:

You can own a ROADMASTER for just a shade more than an ordinary car will cost—and for several hundred dollars less than the price tags usually found in "the fine-car field."

Why not look into this today?

a synthetic quarrel with the Kremlin. DON'T BE FOOLED. At a word from the Kremlin we will get it all back in the form of bullets, bombs, bayonets, with interest.

Over all of this we have been catering to every whim and whim of England's pro-soviet government. It's about time we stopped feeding and loaning money to some of the daubers until they show a little appreciation. Charity begins at "Home."

And now our soldiers ask, "Why give the enemy a military advantage by not daring to cross a river when we are open to attack anywhere?" MacArthur said, "I could not answer." Neither can any other sane man.

It is my opinion that to command soldiers to fight such a war as it were with their hands tied, is nothing but cold-blooded murder. Is this the part of our soldiers of Democracy?

Their not to make reply, Theirs not to reason why, Theirs but to do and die! God rest the souls of the 9000! I wouldn't blame the boys a bit if when they get home (if they ever do get home) all gangled up and went "Skunk" hunting.

And as if all this hasn't been aiding and comforting the enemy enough, we now fire our best general. It's the last straw.

How about making all the proceedings at Casa Blanca, Tehran and Yalta public? The people have a right to know what went on there, and the time for keeping it secret for security reasons is long since passed.

Whether treason can be proven before the house I do not know, but I do know this—it is well proven in the minds of the people.

In conclusion I will say that if it is heeded, MacArthur's address will go down in history along with Lincoln's Gettysburg address, Patrick Henry's, "Give me liberty or give me death," and other masterpieces. If it is not heeded this nation will not have a future history.

After listening to some of the comments tonight it seems to me that Congress must be mostly inhabited by a bunch of morons. My prayer tonight is God save America.

Sincerely yours,
K. J. BREMMER

Fort Worth's Colonial Golf Tourney Has Exclusive Field of 42 Pros

Associated Press Staff
The most exclusive tournament in professional golf isn't going to be so exclusive this year. You still need an invitation to participate, but sponsors of the Colonial Invitation at Fort Worth, Texas have added six extra places to bring in some veteran names in money golf.

The field this year has 42 pros after the $15,000 prize money. In the past, the Colonial has emphasized its hand picked field—the smallest at medal play in big-time golf—was limited to 36 places. The Colonial tournament committee this year said the extra places were to enable it to invite all players who have participated in the majority of its tournaments.

Turkey Thermostat Helps Grower

RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—A brooder alarm is now being used on the Birchwood Farm at Fayetteville, N. C. The alarm operates by thermostatic control, one under each hover, and is wired to the turkey producer's residence. If the temperature drops below 75 degrees or rises above 110 degrees, a bell rings in the producer's bedroom.

L. W. Herrick, Jr. extension turkey specialist at State College, says faulty brooder operation or a brooder stove going out may cause poult to chill, pile up and smother. Or the stove may become extremely hot and possibly cause fire to break out. In either case, the alarm will notify the turkey manager. This could mean saving the poult from smothering or preventing the house, equipment, and birds from being destroyed by fire.

gets it next year. The Colonial starts the summer PGA tour, but is the only tournament where all the big names usually play. Most skip a tournament or two during the summer and some, like Hogan and Byron Nelson, make only a select few.

American industries use about 70,000 tons of tin a year.

World's Fastest Camera?

LONDON (AP)—A camera which can take 24,000,000 pictures per minute has been displayed by the Ministry of Supply at an exhibition here.

The ministry says the photographs could clearly show an ordinary house fly 100 yards away. The camera is described as the fastest high definition camera in the world. It is used for studying the details of explosions, which sometimes last only a fraction of a second.

The camera throws images on to a stainless steel mirror which revolves 150,000 times a minute. The image is reflected through small lenses on to film. The camera contains some of the fastest moving apparatus in existence, the ministry says.

Ace Action Team, Smashes Killers' Bogus Mine Plot

"Ridin' the Outlaw Trail," an outdoor action drama of bullets and blackmail, starring Charles Starrett and Smiley Burnett, comes to the Pertex on Friday and Saturday.

In the new Western, Starrett again hits the saddle to uphold law and order. Trailing a bandit who has stolen $20,000 in gold pieces, Starrett catches up with him, too late, at Spring Rock. Here, the bandit is murdered for the gold he carries and Starrett goes after the killers.

The popular star uncovers a renegade blackmail plan to force an old prospector into helping them. Together with his sidekick, Burnette, Starrett succeeds in wiping out the renegade gang, but not without plenty of gun-flaming and fist-flying excitement.

UP FRONT—Willy and Joe, the two Bill Mauldin characters who gave millions of soldiers, and civilians, too, lots of laughs during World War II as an example of an unshaven, weary, unglamorous foot soldier, have been brought to the screen, "Up Front," starring David Wayne and Tom Ewell, comes to the Ellis Theatre on Tuesday-Thursday.

'Inside Straight' Is Story of Early Tycoon

With San Francisco's fabulous get-rich-quick era of the late 1800's as its colorful background, "Inside Straight," starring David Brian as Rip MacCool, comes to the Ellis on Sunday and Monday.

This is the story of fortunes made and lost overnight on speculations in mining stocks, of ruthlessly ambitious men who started out in dingy hotel bedrooms and ended up in palatial mansions on Nob Hill, of beautiful women who preyed on and made fools of them. It is particularly the story of Rip MacCool, who came to San Francisco with a fanatical determination to reach the top, no matter what the odds. In a fascinating progression of events we follow Rip as he puts over his first shady deal with the unscrupulous hotel owner, Ada Stritch, we trace his rise to a position as one of the city's richest and most powerful men, his marriage to the beautiful but mercenary Lily Douvane, his second marriage to the appealing French governess, Zoe Carnot, the tragedy of her death, and the final and most dramatic gamble in Rip's life in which the vindictive Ada Stritch is again his rival. In this tense climatic scene, Rip's cards are stacked in his favor but the results come as a suspense-filled surprise.

Van Heflin Is Indian Scout In 'Tomahawk'

Van Heflin is an Indian Scout in his latest picture, "Tomahawk," a Western story which comes to the Ellis on Friday and Saturday.

In the picture, Heflin is troubled on two counts; the government, violating a Sioux peace treaty, has built a fort on the redskins' last remaining hunting grounds; and among the garrison's officers is Alex Nicoll, against whom Heflin seeks revenge because Nicoll had been responsible for the massacre of Heflin's Cheyenne wife and baby.

To the forts comes Yvonne DeCarlo with a traveling show-wagon, Nicoll, escorting her, kills an Indian boy enroute. This incident causes the restless Sioux to ready for the warpath, and the tension rises as Heflin rides out to rescue Yvonne, who has fled to escape Nicoll's attentions. Nicoll, sent to help, leads his platoon into a trap and escapes, but subsequently is killed.

The Indians are beaten off, Heflin wins Yvonne and a new peace treaty is arranged.

Bored? Just Go Shopping

NEW ULM, Minn. (AP)—Sandra J. Kooman, age three and a half got bored when she and her mother were taking a nap. So she went shopping.

In a grocery store she helped herself to two bottles of cream, a can of soup, candy, bubble gum and cookies. She bobbed her head yes when the checker asked her if her mother had sent her and went out with her bag of groceries. But no one noticed when she added a new purse, a toy sewing machine and a little clock at another store. In a third store, busy clerks paid no attention when she tried on a new pair of shoes. Leaving her red sandals, she wore them out of the store. But her bag was heavy and she set it on the sidewalk and went into a fourth store.

There a friend of the family spotted her and suggested a soft drink. That slowed her down until now frantic parents caught up. Pappa M. E. Kooman found her bag on the sidewalk and retraced her trip, paying as he went.

says Arnold B. Bongert, Jr.
Owner, Radio Cab Company
Salt Lake City, Utah

"Since I changed my 14 cabs over to Conoco Super, I've cut oil consumption almost 50 per cent. With at least 85,000 miles on each, there's no sign of needing new engines yet!"

"50,000 Miles-No Wear!" Proved Here:

After a 50,000-mile road test, with proper crankcase drains and regular care, engines lubricated with new Conoco Super Motor Oil showed no wear of any consequence: in fact, an average of less than one-thousandth inch on cylinders and crankshafts. AND gasoline mileage for the last 5,000 miles was actually 99.77% as good as for the first 5,000! This test proved that Conoco Super can keep your new car new.

Mom and Dad Haven't Always Ruled The Roost; Now They're Honored

Although our modern sons and daughters have obviously agreed to "Honor thy father and thy mother," it hasn't always been this way. A recent study of world history revealed that Mom and Dad have known some pretty unhappy moments.

Mother's Day, on Sunday, May 13, and Father's Day on Sunday, June 17, are, of course, comparatively recent developments. Moreover, the shower of gifts and affectionate greeting cards that parents will receive this year are a far cry from the treatment given their ancestors.

In "The Golden Bough," a definitive study of racial customs, Sir James George Frazer points out that many primitive tribes children were afraid even to call their parents by name—as it would attract evil spirits. In-laws were also subject to this taboo, and the most solemn oath a native of New Britain can take is: "Sit, if I am not telling the truth, I hope I may shake hands with my mother-in-law."

From other sources, the ups-and-downs of Mom and Dad appear to be equally trying. Back in the Stone Age, life with father frequently ended in a life-and-death struggle. For the strongest son became head of the family—if and when he could kill or drive away his father.

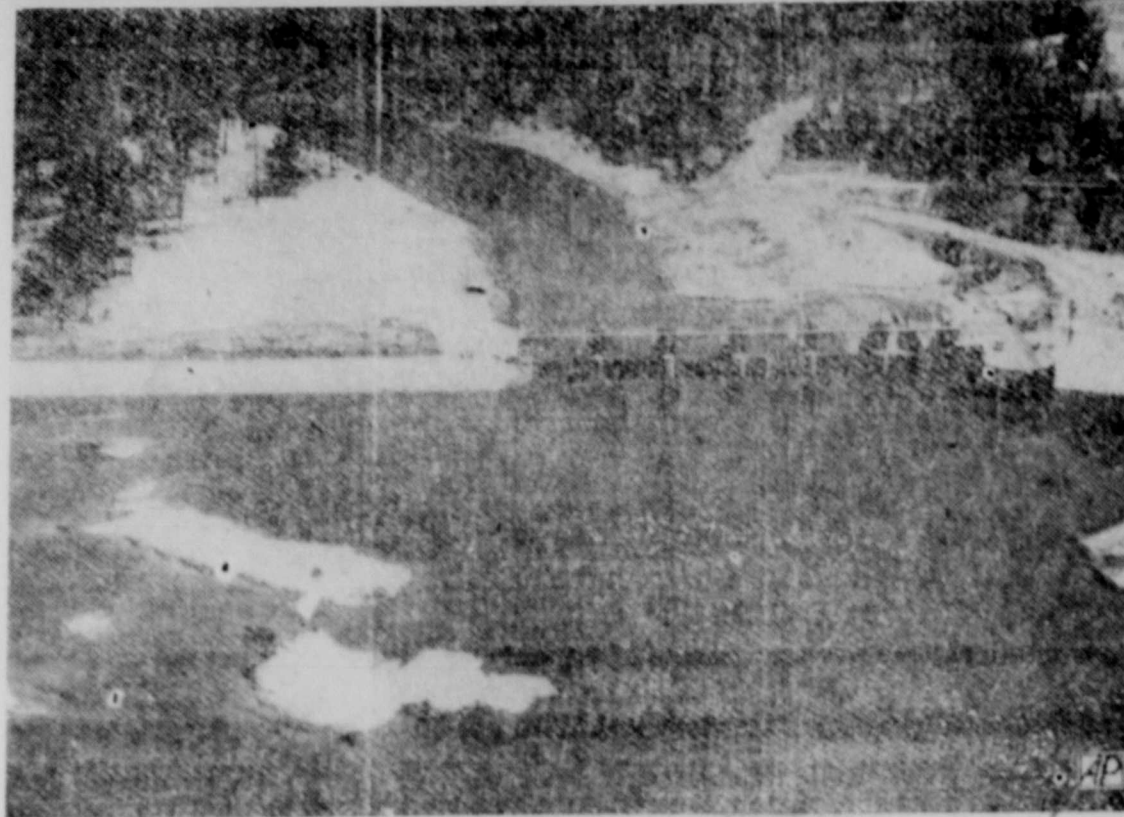

Mother remained, but with the understanding that "a woman's work is never done."

As time passed, however, these irreverent customs mellowed, and parental respect and dignity were established. Biblical scholars have recorded that it was considered a crime punishable by death for a son to disagree with his father. And early Romans called down the curses of family gods on children who failed to show the proper respect for their parents.

In Yugoslavia, three consecutive Sundays in December were set aside to honor family ties. On Dechiji Dan (Children's Day) stern parents, with tongue-in-cheek, hostile their youngsters, holding them captive until they promise to be good or offer some little gift. On Materitse (Mother's Day) and Ochichi (Father's Day) children turn the tables, and refuse to untie their parents unless rewarded with sweets, new clothing, or some other coveted gift.

Once the die was cast, it was inevitable that Mom and Dad would receive formal recognition. In 1887, Miss Mary Towles Sasseen, a school teacher in Henderson, Kentucky, began holding annual exercises to honor mothers. The public schools of Springfield, Ohio, adopted her plan in 1890, but the tradition ended there.

Then in 1914, President Woodrow Wilson signed a Congressional Resolution setting aside the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day. This official gesture crowned the efforts of Miss Anna M. Jarvis, whose campaign for nationwide observance of Mother's Day had begun in May, 1907—after arranging memorial services for her own mother at Andrews Methodist Church in Grafton, West Virginia.

TOWN BLUFF DAM—The Town Bluff dam on the Neches River 50 miles north of Beaumont will be opened officially in a public celebration (May 5). The dam impounds the largest fresh water lake in East Texas. It is 14 miles long and five miles wide. This aerial photo shows the reservoir fillin behind the six-gate spillway. (L.P. Photo)

Appropriately enough, a mother, Mrs. John Bruce Dodd of Spokane, Washington, is the founder of Father's Day. At her proposal, the Spokane Ministers Association sponsored the first Father's Day celebration in 1910. Americans everywhere soon adopted this beloved custom, observing it annually on the third Sunday in June.

This year, with their Big Day fast approaching, both Mom and Dad have another surprise in store for them. Many of the 1951 greeting cards are titled "To Father On Mother's Day" and "To Mother on Father's Day."

It's just another way of saying that both can be King and Queen on any day!

Moats Used As Guard Against Reds

MALACCA AP—It's going to be a lot tougher for Communist terrorists to get back into areas from which they have been driven by British security forces. One village, Simpang Bekoh, is being resettled with loyal and law-abiding citizens of Malaya, but it has a unique feature—it is surrounded by a moat. Dredgers now are at work, making a moat 14 feet wide around the village.

British authorities may carry out this scheme to help protect other villages which are being resettled after the areas are cleared of Communist terrorists.

Organize Weather Improvement Association

At a joint county meeting Wednesday night at Spearman, North Panhandle farmers completed plans for making application for a charter under the name of Texas Panhandle Weather Improvement Association. This Association will include Sherman, Dallam, Hartley, Hansford, and Lipscomb Counties as charter members.

A similar organization is being completed by the Oklahoma Panhandle Counties of Cimarron, Texas, and Beaver. A third organization of this type including a group of southwestern counties in Kansas have their application in for a charter.

Plans are being worked out for a contract with the Water Resources Development Company of Denver, Colorado to cover the three areas when these groups of counties receive their charter.

Education meetings have been conducted in the above named counties. Mr. Cox explained the process of increasing the rain fall over the area by his company. At the meeting Thursday night at Stratford, the court room was filled by farmers and their wives who are interested in this project. Mr. Cox plans to use a pot or burner distributed over the area in which coke and silver iodide is heated giving off silver iodide in a process of seeding the clouds to increase the rain fall. These burners will be operated by local farmers and ranchmen under the supervision of one of the Water Development Resources men. When a storm begins to move into this area the local directors of the Texas Panhandle Weather Improvement Association will be contacted by the Water Resources Development Association and if the local directors request an increase in the moisture the burners will be distributed and start the process of seeding the clouds in the proper area to increase

We were sorry to learn of the death of T. H. Blair. The family has our sympathy in this sad hour.

We are glad to know that Mrs. Jim Karber is out of the hospital and still improving.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Young of Cherokee, Okla. were visiting in this community last week-end. They are old-time residents of Beaver county.

Little Miss Judy and Jerry Miller visited several days last the rain fall over the area covered by the contract.

This process of weather improvement sounds rather fantastic; however, men who have had contracts with this company last year have been contacted by some of the local directors. They found that they have renewed their contracts for this year and feel that the process has had some success in their area.
