Live Manger Scene at 1st Baptist

High school and junior high students of 1st Baptist Church will present a live manger scene Monday and Tuesday evenings on the church lawn facing 15th Street, under the direction of Ron Long, music and youth minister.

There will be two shifts each night, from 6:30 to 7:15 p.m. and from 7:30 to 8:15.

High School students will give the Monday night presentation and those from junior high will be featured Tuesday night. Altogether, approximately 25 boys and girls will take part, Long said.

Students to portray the various characters that make up the Nativity scene will be selected later this week.

Live animals will be used. A donkey will carry Mary on her trip to Bethlehem. There will be sheep and lambs, cows and calves around the manger.

Construction of the setting is due to begin during the weekend.

"The public is invited to view this manger scene each night," Long said.

The Chamber of Commerce is sponsoring home and business Christmas decoration contests. Judging is not automatic. For an entry to be judged, you must call the Chamber office, 447-5848, and tell them your name and street address. Judging will be done on Monday, Dec. 19.

1st Baptist to Present Christmas Musical Sun.

The congregational choir of First Baptist Church will present a beautifully orchestrated Christmas musical by Rodger Strader "King of Love" Sunday, Dec. 18 at 7 p.m. There will be over 30 voices within the choir highlighted by spotlights from John Scott, Sue Lacy, Jean Hughes, Mary Bearden, Rosemary Foster, and Harriett Schaub.

Earl Hartman will be narrating the cantata with passages from the Christmas story out of the book of Luke from the Bible. Darrell Nash will be engineering the background music.

The auditorium will be beautifully adorned with red poinsettias, greenery and candles creating the appropriate setting for this special time of the year.

"Although the musical will be televised locally on channel 5, one will only be able to experience the true sense of worship created on this occasion if he or she is physically present in the service. We invite you to worship with us as a form of celebration to our 'King of Love,' Jesus Christ," says director, Ronald Long.

Those involved in the musical will be: Mary Bearden, Elaina Barton

Football Comes Saturday - Semi-Pro Team to Meet Wellington Ex-Players

Football returns to Powell Field Saturday, Dec. 17, when a Wellington team and Amarillo semi-pro team meet at 7:30 p.m. The game will be played by professional league rules.

The Wellington team, still unnamed, is also aiming at semi-pro status, said Eddy Blacksher, one of those promoting the event.

This will be a benefit game, with all proceeds over actual expenses going to the school, preferably the athletic department, Blacksher said.

The school board Monday night, Dec. 12, gave permission for the game to be played on Powell Field and for the Wellington team to use Skyrocket pads and equipment.

Blacksher said WHS coaches James Williams and Ronny Williams have been invited to serve as coaches.

Amarillo has a semi-pro football league of four teams, and an effort is being made to organize a second league of southeast Panhandle towns, it was explained.

"In this first game we want to see if there is enough interest and enough people to show up and watch," he said.

If interest is strong enough, an effort will be made to draw Clarendon, Childress, Memphis and possibly other towns into a second league and a schedule will be worked out.

Approximately 18 men are suited out and practicing and several others are wanting to play. "Anyone who wants to try out is welcome any night this week," said Blacksher.

Several of this group are in college where they are involved in athletics, and home for the Christmas holidays. They will play if they can secure permission from their coaches.

Among those invited to play are Cliff Pennon, Ronny Pennon, James (Junebug) Thomas, Billy Blacksher, Eddy Blacksher, John Ham, Mark Jett, Will Jett, Frankie Myers, Kenneth Warren, Rand Johnson, Teenie Powell, Brad Uddermark, Tommy Coleman, Tim Trimble, and Albert Armstrong.

David Caison will run the chains and Bill Hall is due to announce the game. Don Reeves will be gatekeeper and get others to help.

"If this deal works, we will try for a spring league semi-pro league if we can create enough interest."

Blacksher assured. "We have a lot of good athletes not in college and this would give them something to do. That's what we're shooting for."

Wellington will be wearing white jerseys with red numbers Saturday night.

Mystery Santas Identified

There's some good guessers in Wellington. Four of them have correctly identified the Mystery Santa.

For the week of Dec. 5-9, Donnell Davis correctly guessed that Nell Wilbur was the mystery Santa and thereby won $50 in script. This occurred on Friday,

Santa's Visit, Decoration Judging, Drawing Planned

Santa Claus makes his annual stop in Wellington to visit with young friends Thursday, Dec. 15, from 7 to 9 p.m., the only time he will be here this year.

A program of music by children of First Baptist Church is planned for Thursday night on the courthouse square.

But that's not the only thing that will be happening in Wellington Thursday evening. Fifteen merchants in the downtown area have announced they will remain open from 7 to 9 p.m. for the convenience of those who cannot shop at other times.

Merchants who are open Thursday night will be holding their own drawing for script, a one-time only event which will be open to those buying merchandise in the 15 participating businesses, according to Tommy Hudson, Chamber of Commerce president.

Coming up will be the judging of houses on Monday night, Dec. 19, and the second evening on which merchants will be open, Thursday, Dec. 22.

"You must call the Chamber of Commerce office, 447-5848, if you want your business or home judged in the First Christmas decorating contest in recent years," Hudson emphasized.

He reminded that the Monday night judging is a new date.

"You will need to leave your light on, so the judges will know where to stop," Hudson emphasized.

Response to the appeal for decorations has been good, it was pointed out. Winner in the home decorating division will receive script which may be

Applications will be accepted for review by a local committee through 4 p.m. Thursday, Dec. 22. The fund is being used to provide holiday assistance, such as food, clothing or toys for children, to underprivileged families in Wellington and Collingsworth County.

the food to charitable organizations at a nominal cost. It has been in operation for about one year.

Donations to the Christmas Blessing Fund are being accepted at Wellington State Bank. Those wishing to donate should contact Judy Forrester at the bank.

Donations to the Fund have been received this week from Mr. and Mrs. Elbert Watts, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Sanford, Hattie D. Racial Mix in School Unchanged in 8 Years

The racial mix of Wellington public schools has remained virtually unchanged over the past 8 years, a recently completed ethnic enrollment survey shows.

The survey shows that for the 1983 school year enrollment is 14% black, 22% Hispanic, 64% white and American Indians, Alaskan Natives, Asian and Pacific Islanders together make up less than 1% of the school population.

That compares with a survey in 1976 which indicated enrollment by ethnic groups at 15% black, 20% Hispanic, 64% white, and less than 1% other groups.

Over the 8 years, the percentage of blacks varied from 13% to 17%, the percentage of Hispanics from 19% to 24%, and the percentage of white from 61% to 65%.

Wellington School Board saw the report at regular board meeting Monday, Dec. 12, at which the board handled a variety of other business.

The board approved a request by the senior class that the annual senior trip be changed to a ski trip to Red River, New Mexico during the spring break.

And the board approved the use of old equipment and the football field by a local group organizing a semi-pro football team. The school will receive the proceeds from the game, less travel expenses for the opposing team and officials salaries. A game has been scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Saturday, Dec. 17, against a team from Amarillo.

The board also approved the purchase of a used school bus from Samnorwood ISD. The bus was needed after an engine failed on another bus used on regular routes.

The board also approved an additional $1250 expenditure for an Apple II computer to be used by the high school math department.

The board also approved an official homework policy which the Texas Education Agency said each school district should have. And the board approved a policy of evaluating credits earned by students in unaccredited schools who wish to transfer to Wellington schools.

The board also heard the annual audit report from Brown, Graham and Co. of Shamrock.

Present were board members Kirby Campbell, Frances Schmidt, Carroll Nunnelle, Bill Spillman, Reed Souder, and John Barton. Dan Langford was absent.

Commissioners Cover Business

Collingsworth County Commissioners Court at its regular meeting Monday, Dec. 12, passed an order to build a 5-wire fence for S.L. Yeilding on a quarter-mile road on the south side of Panfork Baptist Encampment.

Mr. Yeilding and his wife are year-round residents at the camp headquarters.

The commissioners also passed an order to approve certification that the right of way of U.S. Highway 83 located in Collingsworth County, from the Wheeler County Line south 4.75 miles, has been acquired according to policies of the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation and in accordance with applicable federal and state laws governing the acquisition policies for acquiring real property.

The court signed and approved the 1982-83 county audit, made by F.E. Coan of Amarillo.

Commissioners signed and approved a permit number with General Telephone at Dodson, approving construction of lines 4.75 miles west of Dodson.

The court then recessed until Tuesday night, Dec. 13, when it was scheduled to meet again to discuss hospital insurance for officials and county employees.

New Ambulance Service Laws Effective Statewide January 1

A new Texas ambulance law states that, effective January 1, 1984, all Texas communities must comply with minimum standards of training and certification of emergency medical care personnel.

Marshall Peters, president of Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Services discussed the impact these new laws will have on the Collingsworth as well as all other small town services.

"It will put a little more pressure on us than we feel is necessary, but nothing we can't live with," he said.

"We will have to be a little more strict on our personnel and our training and probably on some of our equipment," he continued.

"If we use some of our equipment, it will require medical control if we use it," Peters said.

Using communications equipment, a local doctor or one at the emergency receiving center at Amarillo must direct the ambulance personnel in the use when transporting a patient.

Some change in scheduling personnel will follow, and after Jan. 1, the Texas Department of Health will be in control, but I don't think we will see a great change," he adds.

Collingsworth Volunteer Ambulance Service has long been a leader in emergency care and member training, and Peters said that "everything we have to do is up to par at this time." Most ambulance service members are now coming to our monthly meetings.

Peters has announced another 120 hour course to be held after the first of the year, he says that 10 more people are needed in order for the course to be held. Anyone over 18 years of age is eligible.

"We'd like to have some permanent residents who will consider this course and volunteer for the ambulance service. We foresee the need for more members."

He cited volunteers who have the backing of their employers in taking courses and making the ambulance runs. He urged that those who are in hazardous occupations give some thought to having an employee taking the emergency medical technician course.

She also made the Christmas balls that decorated the tree.

STATE CAPITAL HIGHLIGHTS

By Lyndell Williams

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

AUSTIN—Every candidate needs a viable issue he or she can develop to stand out among the fad political issues which bloom prior to elections or legislative sessions, and Texas Comptroller Bob Bullock last week pinpointed one which may become a winner.

Pointing out that Texas produces 30 times more industrial hazardous wastes than it produces cotton, Bullock said the Lone Star State is "fouling its nest" and needs to crack down on waste disposal practices.

One of the first things Texans need to do is to raise the tax on the producers of hazardous wastes, to pay for cleaning up the mess already made and to deter out-of-state producers from shipping more of their wastes to Texas.

At $30 a ton, the Texas permit fee to dispose of hazardous wastes is the lowest in the nation. The typical range across the nation is between $500 and $1,000 a ton, with Tennessee topping the chart at $10,000 a ton.

Since Texas has a considerable number of waste sites, most of them near the Gulf Coast chemical plants, Bullock says, an updated hazardous waste tax could raise up to $50 million per year to clean up the dumps and still be among the lowest in the nation.

Not a Stunt

Bullock, of course, is planning to run for governor in 1986 and he needs good issues for that task. But his serious work on the development and presentation of this issue is not a stunt, and it hints of a departure from what is Bullock's usual style.

Generally regarded by friend and foe alike as one of the most knowledgeable state officials, and generally avoided and unmolested by candidates seeking higher office, Bullock can be cocky and combative with a dash of parody. Lately, the old Bullock has been seen less and less, and a serious, determined Bullock has emerged.

Teacher Pay Raise

Teachers' lobbyists are still pushing for Gov. Mark White to call the Legislature into special session this summer to raise their salaries, but Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby last week predicted the issue is dead until 1985.

Salaries cannot be raised unless legislators raise taxes, and Hobby doesn't consider that likely in an election year.

White is still waiting for a Select Committee to finish its study of the state public educational system, and he has indicated he will poll legislators after the committee's final report.

If lawmakers support a tax hike/salary hike, he will call them into special session.

In any event, the issue is likely to enjoy lively debate in the 1985 regular legislative session.

Veterans Home Loans

Last week the Veterans Land Board announced the sale of $85 million in bonds to provide mortgage financing at less than 10 percent for Texas veterans.

The winning bid was submitted by First Boston Corp. of New York. The sale represents part of a $500 million housing bond package approved by voters last month.

Land Commissioner Garry Mauro called the low bid a "great Christmas present for our Texas veterans," and promised the loans will be available before the holiday.

AG Asked to Resign

The state Republican Party called on Texas Attorney General Jim Mattox to resign or step aside until he resolves his guilt or innocence on a commercial bribery charge.

Mattox won't do either, and responded that Republicans are too aligned with his nemesis, Mobil Oil and other big oil companies.

Meanwhile, true to his public style of championing the small consumer against the conglomerates and giants, Mattox last week attacked the staff of the Public Utility Commission for being too soft on Southwestern Bell.

The phone company is seeking a $1.3 billion rate hike from the PUC, and Mattox was incensed by the staff's recommendation of a 15.5 percent rate of return.

PUC chairman Al Erwin rebutted Mattox's criticism and said the Mattox letter to the three PUC commissioners violated a state law that forbids private communications between commissioners and persons active in legal proceedings before them.

Odds and Ends

Former Attorney General John Hill has over $100,000 in his campaign fund to run for Texas Supreme Court Chief Justice next year, but he is holding off cementing his campaign organization until he finds out who his opponent will be.

Texas Land Commissioner Mauro spent much of last week in New York working for a settlement of the $1.7 billion oil royalty lawsuit against Mobil Oil Corp.

State Rep. Jim Rudd, D-Brownfield, may be the leading contender to replace retiring Appropriations chairman Bill Presnal. Other contenders are Jay Gibson, D-Odessa, and Doyle Willis, D-Fort Worth.

Talk about expensive Christmas trees: John Coffee told us this one about his daughter and son-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. W.D. Green, and what must be the most expensive tree in Childress County this year. Mike Hughes of Hughes Nursery in Wellington had set out a beautiful 15-year-old pine tree at the new doctors' clinic in Childress. Susan Coffee Green noticed the tree was not where it was supposed to be and asked the doctors where it had been moved. They said it hadn't been moved, and a close-up inspection revealed that the tree had been chopped down and hauled off. Someone is enjoying a very fancy tree this year.

The Chamber of Commerce's Mystery Santa contest is creating a lot of interest around town this holiday season. We couldn't believe it last week when Donell Davis identified Nell Wilbur in our office. We'd been sitting here reading clues with the Mystery Santa all week and were too dumb to figure it out.

Dr. Carter Holcomb reminded us last week of the old saw about getting old: Dr. Carter says: "There are three ways to tell you're getting older...First, you can't remember anything, and second...Well, I can't remember the other two."

Lots of poinsettias are appearing this week in homes and businesses around the community, and here's a little story on them from a 1966 book called "The Miracle of Christmas", which we found when cleaning out a closet, along with a note that Fern Nix had given the book to my Mom.

"In a certain village in Mexico, many years ago, it was customary on Christmas Eve to take gifts to the church and place them before the Creche. One evening there was a small boy standing outside the church door. How he wished he could enter the church and present a gift to Jesus, but he was poor. He had nothing to give.

"I can at least pray," he thought to himself. He knelt silently outside the church window and listened to the voices raised in song. When he rose to his feet again, he was amazed at what he saw in the spot where he had knelt. It was a beautiful plant with scarlet leaves and a yellow flower in the center. He had never seen anything like it. Realizing it was a miracle he carefully plucked it and took it into the church. As he placed the beautiful flower before the manger, he whispered, "This is my gift to the Christ Child. My own precious gift."

'The Mexicans call the plant 'The Flower of the Holy Night.' Our first ambassador to Mexico, Dr. Joel Roberts Poinsett, brought it to the United States and the flower became known as the 'Poinsettia.'"

Wheat Growers to Get Deficiency Payments

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2 -- Eligible wheat farmers soon will receive an estimated $735 to $765 million in deficiency payments on their 1983 crop, according to Everett Rank, administrator of the U.S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service. Rank said deficiency payments are required under the 1983 wheat program because average market prices received by farmers during the first five months (June through October) of the marketing year were below established target price levels of $4.30 per bushel for wheat. The deficiency payment rate is based on the difference between the established target price and the higher of the national

The sociology seminar began at WT with a discussion of "yellow journalism." Laura Schachter, editor of The Canyon News, headed the discussion. Students from Wellington were Wes Reeves and Leslie Hammons. After the talk, the group went to Amarillo by van to tour the Amarillo Globe-News and hear a lecture on journalistic careers from Managing Editor Garrett Von Netzer.

The fourth seminar was the fine arts seminar held at the Music Department of WTSU. Holly Wilson was the student from Wellington. The activities included listening to a live combo of jazz, pop, and rock music, and a discussion on improvisation. After that, all students received a private lesson in voice or any musical instrument that they played.

weighted average market price for June through October or the loan rate.

National weighted average market prices were $3.51 per bushel for wheat. Thus, eligible producers will be paid 65 cents per bushel for their 1983-crop wheat based on the $3.65 loan rate, based on the national weighted average market price.

Deficiency payments will be made to wheat farmers who participated in the 1983 acreage reduction program. Rank said the payment checks will be issued through local ASCS offices as soon as possible after Dec. 9.

Producers participating in the acreage reduction program were eligible for advance deficiency payments at a rate of 32.5 cents for wheat. Final deficiency payments will be reduced by payments advanced to the producer for the respective crop. A Total of $344 million has been paid in advance deficiency payments for wheat.

COLLINGSWORTH COUNTY AGENT REPORT

by Nancy Janes

Good nutrition plays an important part in feeling good.

Nutrition is the food you eat and the way your body uses this food. Nutrition affects your physical and mental performance as well as how you look and feel.

Good nutrition means eating the proper amounts of foods. This depends on your age, sex, amount of physical activity and your state of health.

The Daily Food guide gives a plan for sound eating habits and includes the following groups:

--Milk Group -- 2 or more servings a day for adults, 3 servings for children and 4 servings for adolescents and pregnant women.

--Breads & Cereals -- 4 or more servings a day.

--Vegetables-fruit Group -- 4 or more servings each day.

--Meat, Fish, Poultry and Beans Group -- 2 or more servings a day.

--Fats, Sweets and Alcohol Group -- Use with caution. May be used to provide additional calories as needed.

It is not necessary to have 3 square meals per day to be well nourished. Americans are snacking more and feeling guilty about it. According to a national survey conducted this year by the Wheat Industry Council, two-thirds regularly snack between meals. Snacks can be nutritious and fit into the daily food guide.

GATE Students Attend Seminars

BY WES REEVES

Several Wellington High School GATE students have participated in various activities within the past six weeks.

On November 16, eight students accompanied by GATE coordinator, Deanna Van Pelt, traveled to West Texas State University in Canyon to attend four seminars.

On November 22, four students, again with Mrs. Van Pelt, went to a mock trial clinic in Amarillo at the Potter County Courthouse.

The seminars attended on November 16 were sponsored by West Texas State University. These were over science, technology, sociology and fine arts. Each seminar was conducted by a professional in that subject. They were planned in order to help students with their career interests.

The science seminar was entitled "From a Single Cell." This seminar originated at Canyon. From there the group traveled to the Don Harrington Discovery Center. It mainly centered on understanding factors that influence embryological and fetal growth. The students viewed a slide show and discussed the effect of environment on growth. Students attending from Wellington were Brian Van Pelt and Mike Myrick.

Robotics was the subject of the technology seminar held on campus at WTSU. The seminar director was Dr. David H. McCampbell of the Department of Industrial Education at WT.

Barry Bowen, Jay Anders and Tracy Day attended from Wellington. A discussion and demonstration of robots were some of the activities.

THE CLIMB

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Even when you know the proper way to climb with skis and the way up becomes easier, it still exerts you. However, the way is made even less of an effort when you think of the rewarding ride down.

The reward of an eternal life with God is easier still because it is a gift.

"For the wages of sin is death; but the gift of God is eternal life through Jesus Christ our Lord."

Attend church . . . learn more of this wonderful gift.

Collingsworth County received a plaque for continued gain in Farm Bureau membership each year for 5 years.

WHS Boys, Girls Win Norwood Tourney

Wellington boys and girls took championship honors in the 24th annual Basketball tournament held Thursday through Saturday, Dec. 8-10.

Shamrock boys and girls placed second, McLean girls and Allison boys were third and consolation winners were Lakeview girls and Samnorwood boys.

Tension was high in the boys finals Saturday night, as tournament boys defending champion Shamrock met Wellington.

Last year, Shamrock defeated Wellington 63-62.

This year it was the other way around, Wellington took the championship by one point-60-59.

Wellington girls defeated Shamrock 50-43 to win top honors.

In the contest for third place Allison boys defeated McLean 42-28 and McLean girls won over Samnorwood 41-36.

In consolation play, Samnorwood boys defeated Lakeview 76-39 and Lakeview girls were winners over Hedley 35-29.

Trophies were awarded in these four categories.

"We had a good tournament considering the good weather," said Samnorwood principal Kenneth Martindale. "We didn't have a lot of farmers because the weather held and they were harvesting cotton. But we had good games all three days."

The one overtime game came Friday night between Shamrock and McLean boys, with Shamrock winning by one point.

"The Wellington-Shamrock games were well played, well coached, and well represented by Shamrock and Wellington people," said Martindale.

"Both games were good for the fans and the fans supported them."

Martindale said plans have already been started for the 25th annual Samnorwood tournament to be held a year from now.

"We'll try to do something a little different," he said.

Trophy donors included City State Bank, Kenneth Davis Welding and Construction, Saied's Department Store, Wellington State Bank, Robertson Refrigeration, C&H Pharmacy, Lutie Gin, Cleve McCarty, Manager and Mahnen Drug.
