Actor's featured in the presentation are Susie LeBlanc, Ma Kirby; Gregg Hendson, Elmer Kirby; John Cummings, Arthur; Ann Smith, Caroline; Raulie Irwin, the stage manager; and Judy Torres, Beulah. The play is directed by Frank DeAngelis.

A second cast will present the show locally at a later date. The cast includes Beth Bohmfalk, Bill Ormand, Steve Russell, George Thornton, Mary Jean Novosad, and Vickie Vermillion. Steve Russell, Bill Ormand, and Beth Bohmfalk will also serve as technicians and alternates for the contest production.

LOWER LONG DISTANCE RATES IN EFFECT FOR TEXAS

Lower long distance rates are in effect on station-to-station calls within Texas after 8 p.m. daily and all day Sunday, Dor Hopkins, manager for Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. announced today.

The night rate formerly was in effect after 9 p.m. Now it is effective at 8 p.m. daily, and applied all day Sunday. The "evening" rate, which applies from 6 to 8 p.m. Monday through Friday, is effective all day Saturday.

"Since Sunday is the day families usually get together, this change in rates will make it possible for family calls to be made all day Sunday at the lowest rate of the week," Hopkins said.

The changes in rates will apply only to station-to-station calls. The "night" and Sunday rate will not apply to intrastate collect or third-party calls.

A LONELY SPOT. There is a lonely little spot near Grizzly Peak, northwest of Durango, Colorado, which can only be reached by foot, up a winding trail, high above the murmur of the singing Cascade Creek headwaters. At this time of year, every man, whether he lives in Colorado, New York, or any other state, should have his own little lonely spot, where he can remind himself that it's spring, sit back, and let himself dream. — WFS Photo

Former Pastor To Preach At First Baptist

A former pastor in Rockport is coming back to this city to preach a series of services in the First Baptist Church. W. D. Broadway, pastor here until 1957, and now pastor of the First Baptist Church of Lancaster, Texas, will speak at revival services April 18-25.

The thirty-four year old pastor's administrative ability has earned him the chairmanship of the important Local Arrangements Committee of the Southern Baptist Convention of 1965. He has served as president of the Lancaster Ministerial Association and the Dallas Baptist Pastor's Conference. Active in civic affairs, he serves as chaplain of the Lancaster City Council and is an active worker in the Kiwanis Club.

The present educational building of the local Baptists was constructed during Broadway's pastorate. He is remembered here for his congenial personality and excellent preaching ability. The members of the First Baptist Church are hopeful that their friends of all faiths will hear this interesting speaker.

FRIO WILDCAT SLATED IN COUNTY

Aransas County has gained location for a 9,000 foot Frio wildcat two miles north-northwest of Rockport by Pel-Tex Petroleum Co. Inc. of Houston.

The No. 1 Lillian Armstrong is 784 feet from the north line and 310 feet from the west line of a 71-acre lease and T. T. Williamson Survey, A-219.

The project is approximately 2,800 feet northwest of McMahon No. 1 Ferris a 7,515 foot failure, and ¾ mile southeast of Salt Lake area production.

BAND BOOSTERS TO MEET

There will be a meeting of the Band Boosters Club at the Band Hall at the high school Monday, April 12 at 7:30 p.m. A short business meeting will precede the regular meeting. All parents are urged to attend.

CYO TO HOLD CAR WASH

On Saturday of this week, from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m., the Catholic Youth Organization of Rockport, will wash cars as part of their effort to raise money for attending the summer School of Catholic Action.

A telephone call to either SO 4-2308, or SO 4-6779, will arrange for the pick-up and delivery of your car.

The cars will be washed in front of the Catholic hall. They would like to wash your car.

Harry L. Mills, Jr., Killed In Accident

Harry L. Mills, Jr., a State Highway Patrolman, was one of two men killed seven miles south of Sinton, near the Sodaville community, in an automobile smashup in which his partner, Patrolman Edwin de Sha, was seriously injured.

The driver of the second car, Manuel Garcia Vera, of nearby Taft, was the other man killed.

The crash occurred at the intersection of Farm Roads 1944 and 1074, seven miles south of Sinton.

According to Highway Patrol Sergeant Ray Holub, the two patrolmen were answering a call south of Taft in reference to the Friday night shooting at Odem of San Patricio County Deputy Sheriff D. S. Ridgway, who was shot in the chest during a struggle with (continued on page 8)

Bill Bans Red Fishing In Texas

A bill was engrossed in the house Wednesday which would prevent Communist fishing and shrimping boats from receiving licenses and fishing within the territorial waters of Texas.

Rep. Dick Cory of Victoria sponsored the bill.

His alien fishing bill stated that no license shall be issued to any fishing or shrimping boat operating in the coastal waters of this state—"owned in whole or in part by any alien power or any subject or national thereof, or any individual who subscribes to the doctrine of international communism, or who shall have signed a treaty of trade, friendship and alliance or a nonaggression pact with any Communist power."

Cory's bill will be up for final action in the House later in the week or early next.

42 WHOOPERS COUNTED AT ARANSAS

A count yesterday of whooping cranes at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge in Austwell revealed all 42 birds present and accounted for, Robert H. Shields, manager of the winter home of the rare birds said.

Shields said that the birds "are showing some indication of wanting to leave," however. The birds go from the refuge to Canada to spend the summer months.

The birds have "tended to bunch together" in the past few days and have been feeding heavily on vegetation, a sure sign the birds are ready to head north, Shields said.

The birds usually leave April 18 each year, but some have left as early as March 23. The latest they have stayed at the Refuge was May 16.

Fresh, Salt Water Fishing Bill Okeyed

A bill which would place both fresh and salt water fishing in Aransas County under a Parks and Wildlife regulation was approved Wednesday night by the House Game and Fisheries Committee.

The bill by Rep. Leroy Wieting of Portland was amended to require the commission to consider the recommendations of its marine biologists in setting regulations on salt water fishing.

Rep. Bill Rapp of Raymondville, the chairman of the subcommittee which worked over the bill, pointed out that this would make it possible for part of Copano Bay to be under one set of fishing regulations while the rest is under another. He said it will be hard for fishermen to tell which county they are in.

The committee also approved a bill by Rep. Rufus Kilpatrick of Beaumont to give the commission authority to regulate the taking of crabs in all bays along the Texas coast. He said some fishermen have been catching too many female crabs. He said both commercial fishermen and sportsmen's groups have endorsed the bill.

Another major bill reported out of committee Wednesday night with a favorable recommendation was a statewide bill to outlaw the use of .22 cal. rimfire ammunition for hunting deer, sheep, elk antelope, bighorn sheep and Aoudad sheep.

Trustees Sworn In At Meeting

The Aransas County Independent School Board, at their regular meeting, canvassed returns of last Saturday's election, and declared Thomas M. Rogers and Roberts Johnson duly elected, after which they were sworn in for a new term.

In the re-organization of the Board which followed, the following officers were re-elected:

Dr. H. F. Elliot, president; James B. Jackson, vice president; Shelley P. Roaten, secretary; and Ottie Mundine, secretary pro-tem.

In other business, they accepted a high bid of $13,505 from Frank W. Wells and Arthur Bracht for the old Fulton School site, consisting of 12 lots in Block 29, of the Fulton Townsite Survey.

The trustees then authorized School Supt. J. D. Gray to negotiate for purchase of four lots in Block 16, Denver Heights, from Kenneth R. Colborn, of Bozeman, Mont., at a total cost of $2500. These lots are just to the north of the High School campus, and adjacent to the school property.

John D. Barnett, Shirley Ann Jones, Albert L. Patton, and William N. Speers were elected as teacher replacements for the coming year. Supt. Gray, in discussing these new teachers, told the Board there were still a number of vacancies to (continued on page 8)

ROTARIANS HEAR WAGLEY DISCUSS DANCE CLUB

Rotarians heard Burl P. Wagley, local lumberman, at their regular luncheon Wednesday, as he reviewed the history of the "Paws and Taws Square Dance Club" which has nearly completed a new clubhouse in Fulton.

He explained that the club is operating the "Paws and Taws" Filling Station in Fulton, primarily by volunteer services of club members, to aid in paying for the clubhouse, on which many of the members have donated time, materials and services.

Visitors were Tom Petrilli, Rockport; Thomas Dean, San Antonio; J. A. Simpson, Racine, Wis.; George G. Gilliam, Corpus Christi; William F. Rumpf, Ingleside, John F. Mitchell, Martin Treptow, Thomas Ingle, Sinton; J. C. Weaver, Sinton; Dr. J. Martin Shaw.

House Denies Land For Whoopers

AMERICA NEEDS WATER. Ask any western farmer what he needs most, and chances are he'll say water. To meet his needs for this precious liquid, there are now more than 3,000 projects being studied. Most ambitious of these is called NAWAPA—North American Water and Power Alliance—which would re-route several rivers in northern Canada and Alaska, and would irrigate 17 western states. Whichever projects are finally endorsed, the day is coming when western farmers, such as above one in Idaho, will no longer need to stringently ration water in their irrigation system.—WFS Photo.

As Rep. Winfield K. Denton (R-Ind.) put it, "How much more can the whoop in 52,000 acres than they can in 47,000?"

On that basis, Denton's House Appropriations subcommittee on the Interior Department rejected a department request for funds to add 5,000 acres for whooping cranes at the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge.

Interior's Bureau of Sport Fisheries and Wildlife has asked $1.1 million to acquire the additional land and explained at length that more than just the preservation and protection of 42 whooping cranes was at stake.

Nevertheless, the parent Appropriations Committee and the House itself bought Denton's recommendation that no funds be approved for wildlife habitat refuge acquisition until the whole program is reevaluated.

In agreeing with Denton, the full committee reported to the House, "it is not evident . . . why an additional 5,000 acres should be acquired at a cost of $1,100,000 to provide nesting and breeding habitat for about 42 whooping cranes when the federal government already owns 47,000 acres at that location for this purpose."

The matter is now before the Senate which may or may not reverse the House action.

In testimony before Denton's subcommittee, John S. Gottschalk, Sports Fisheries and Wildlife Bureau director, argued long and strenuously for the Aransas addition to no avail.

Denton started it by wondering if the whooping cranes are worth $35,000 each to acquire the additional land.

Gottschalk's opening reply was: "We recognize if one attempts to evaluate this program solely on the basis of (continued on page 8)

Accident Record For April Starts With Big Bang

The accident record for April started off with a big bang, according to Chief of Police Bob Hewes.

The first this month was at the intersection of Market Street and Highway 35, and involved Thomas Cassel and Julian Tapia, both of Rockport.

The Tapia vehicle was traveling north on Highway 35, while the Cassel car was traveling east on Market Street. Approximately $200 worth of damage was done to each vehicle. Cassel was issued a citation for failure to yield the right-of-way after stopping at a stop sign.

The second accident occurred at the corner of Wood and Cedar Streets, involved Kenneth Herbert of Rockport and Victor Turner, of Corpus Christi.

Approximately $150 damage was done to the two automobiles.

Turner was ticketed for failure to yield the right of way. Hewes said the number of accidents this year already is equal to last year, and the property damage is greater, although less than in 1963, when five accidents rang up a total of $2,500 in property damage.

Incumbents Win Election

Two incumbents were re-elected to the Rockport City Council in a comparatively light turnout of voters.

Charles Garrett, local butane dealer and commander of the VFW, polled 107 votes to defeat Marcelino Ramirez, an employee of Vernon's Food Store in the race for Ward One.

In Ward Two, Norvell Jackson, operator of Jackson's Marine Services, polled 165 votes to 125 votes for V. A. Dully, Jr., a former councilman, who owns the Tropics Motel.

WOMAN'S CLUB MEETING POSTPONED

The Woman's Club meeting which was scheduled for April 13, has been postponed until Tuesday, April 20, at 2 p.m.

RYSCO Payroll Nearly $375,000

A prediction that this city will become one of the leading boat building centers of the Gulf Coast was made this week by John P. Mitchell, executive head of Rockport Yacht and Supply, who gave some interesting statistics to back up the assertion.

Discussing the shipbuilding situation as a whole, Mitchell called attention to the fact that national concern is being expressed because of the obsolescence of the U. S. fishing fleet.

"American fishermen are using vessels from 20 to 60 years old in many sections of the country," he said, "while foreign nations with drastically lower construction costs and big government subsidies, have been building thousands of modern vessels.

"The sight of huge, long-ranging fleets of Russian and Japanese vessels off our coasts has brought home to the public and Congress just how inadequate our own fleets are," he said.

In August last year, Mitchell said, President Johnson signed the "Fishing Vessel Construction Subsidy Act," authorizing $10,000,000 a year for five years, to subsidize up to 50 per cent of the cost of U.S. fishing vessels of the latest design.

Rockport Yacht and Supply Co. has not received any contracts under this program, Mitchell said, but has been engaged in a program of building steel trawlers of advanced design and extended range and may, at some later date, participate in the subsidy program.

Briefly reviewing the company's history, he said that RYSCO was founded in 1935, by the late T. Noah Smith, Sr., and for many years has been engaged in repair and maintenance of all types of vessels, commercial and recreational, and also in construction of wood boats of various sizes and designs.

About fifteen years ago a vertical lift, turn table and trackage was installed, giving Rockport a new and modern facility for handling vessels up to 100 tons and 100 feet in length. The arrangement, design and layout of the yard has attracted favorable comment in the industry from all over the nation.

Recently, the wooden structure formerly used as a boat construction shed has been removed, and is being replaced with a new and larger steel building. Additional trackage was added, to permit handling of 200 additional feet of boats, for either construction or repair, and a two story extension is being built on the yard is the huge, enclosed paint shed, where the finest kind of work can be done on the most luxurious yachts.

Mitchell said that after four years in which a number of extremely successful wooden and steel trawlers were built, T. N. Smith, Jr., president of Rockport Yacht and Supply, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Luling Oil and Gas, of which Smith is also head, and R. H. Wallace, executive vice president of both firms, elected to go into production of stock steel fishing boats.

The 72-foot wooden boats, designed by Albert Silchenstedt, the company's chief engineer and production manager, has proved themselves outstanding, in sturdiness, seaworthiness, ease of construction, and crew comfort.

From the plans of these wooden 72-footers, Mitchell said, those for the 72-foot steel trawlers were developed. After completion, these plans were submitted to William Garden, naval architect of Seattle, Wash., one of the nation's outstanding authorities on design of fishing vessels. He approved them, stating the 72-foot hulls were as nearly perfect in design as hulls could be.

Construction of these boats began early in 1964, and to date, six of them have been delivered for use in South American waters, with five more under construction in the yard. In addition, four 60-footers, a smaller version of the 72-footers are under construction for the Casterline Fish Co. of Fulton, Texas, and a similar boat is also being built for T. J. Johnson of Rockport, and Raymond Bedre, of Aransas Pass. Two 82-foot boats for geophysical exploration work are nearing completion for owners in Freeport.

RYSCO is one of Rockport's largest businesses, Mitchell said, and gave some statistics to prove his contention. Annual taxes amount to $1025 for the county, $1110 for the school system, and $1236 for the City of Rockport. Annual insurance premiums, handled locally, amount to more than $15,000.

Junior-Senior Banquet Held At Sandy Shores

The annual junior-senior banquet of ACHS was held Saturday, April 3, at Sandy Shores Motel, with Eldon Mackey, president of the junior class, acting as master of ceremonies and extending the welcome. Billy Ormand, president of the senior class, made the response, and after Rusty Kline sang the senior class song, "Green Leaves of Summer," the invocation was given by Mary Moore.

Junior class officers, besides Mackey, are David Picton, vice president; Courtney Johnson, secretary; Mary Lou Atchley, treasurer; Monroe Menke, business manager; and Ray Brown, reporter.

Bobby Edwards, Linda Eller, Donald Glass, Mickey Gray, Naralene Hesselstine, Susan Hulet, Larry Hies, Jill Jeffers, Michael Lane, Susie LeBlanc, Lola Lewis, Darrel Lichte.

Ruby Lown, Sallie McCord, Herby Mills, Hugh Morrison, Charlie Moses, Carolyn Pena, Charles Picton, Alfonso Pulido, Consuela Rinche, Ken Roberts, Roy Rogero, Steven Russel.

CONGRATULATIONS

Mr. and Mrs. Murphy Guillory are proud parents of a baby girl, born March 29 in a Sinton hospital, weighing eight pounds, and named Monica Jeane. Maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. George Nava. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. James Trahan, of Lafayette, La.

Electrical consumption per year is in the neighborhood of 253,884 kilowatt hours, costing $7829.76. Annual water consumption is only 33,636 gallons, an important consideration where water shortage is a constantly recurring threat, and this consumption brings the city $882.25 annually.

Consumption of natural gas is 1560 MCF annually, costing $140.40; telephone and telegraph charges are $5,000 annually. The 112 full-time employees have an annual payroll of $364,458, and 80 per cent of them live in Rockport and Aransas County.

FOOD IN BALANCE. While housewives are complaining that the cost of food is too high, farmers are complaining about low investment returns. To get to the bottom of this issue, Congress appointed the National Commission on Food Marketing, a 15-man commission to trace the movement of food from the farm to the family dinner table. It will also report on the growing danger of monopolies in the food industry. — WFS Photo

DRT Meeting To Be At Bracht Home Next Week

Scheduled for next Wednesday, April 14, there is a meeting of the Daughters of the Republic of Texas at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Bracht, with Mrs. Bracht, Mrs. Charles Gibson, Mrs. Eugene Johnson, Mrs. James C. Herring, Mrs. Jack Hagar and Mrs. Norman McLead, all of Rockport, acting as hostesses.

The program will be given by Mrs. Hagar, who will speak on "Shells of Texas and Their Commercial Uses."

Highlight of the program will be presentation of five sisters, all new members of the Clara Driscoll Chapter, to the membership. They are Mrs. Horace F. Adrian, of Refugio; Mrs. J. J. Head, Sr., of Huntsville; Mrs. B. B. Hale, of Aransas Pass; Mrs. Harry Zavisch, Jr., of Tilden; and Mrs. M. L. Campbell, of Corpus Christi.

All five are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Winters, formerly of Alice, Texas. Two other new members of the Chapter will be presented, also, Mrs. Jewel Kerr Clanton, and Mrs. Earl Knott, both of Corpus Christi.

At the meeting, president of the chapter, Mrs. J. E. Curliott, Corpus Christi, will present to each member of the executive board an Alamo plate, bearing the replica by the 1961 legislature.

Mrs. Curliott, in announcing the meeting, said:

"We feel this chapter is unique in two respects: First, having five sisters come into the chapter at the same time, and, second, as far as we know, we are one of the few chapters who have three generations of the same family as members."

"Mrs. J. G. Toland and her daughter, Mrs. Harold T. Bailey of San Diego, and Mrs. Toland's granddaughter (the daughter of Mrs. Bailey) Mrs. Lisa Speed."

Mrs. Curliott also said she had recently delivered to the Alamo Museum, for display, the past president's pin of Mrs. Clara Driscoll, which was presented to Mrs. Driscoll in a ceremony held in Corpus Christi in 1940. This was done in accordance with instructions given by the Chapter. Also presented at the same time was a silken flag given the Chapter by Mrs. Driscoll, who organized the Chapter in 1921.

Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Thompson of Yoakum visited Mrs. G. C. Mullinax and Mrs. Lillian Gray Saturday

THIS WEEK'S BARGAINS

The Armstrong Tract: 71 subdivision acres traversed by F.M. 1781—400 feet highway frontage. At this time it has a 7500 foot test for oil and gas being drilled on it. There is being offered for sale, subject to prior commitment, the surface and mineral estate subject to the existing oil and gas lease whose primary term expires April 7, 1965, and subject to owner retaining a 1/12th non-participating royalty. The existing lease provides for a 1/6th royalty. In case of production the buyer would receive a 1/12th royalty which will pay for the land. In case of no production, the land is well worth the money for subdivision purposes.

The Ferris and Moore Tracts: 280 subdivision acres with almost 1000 feet on highway 1781 and 4000 feet on paved county road. This tract adjoins the Armstrong Tract. What is being offered for sale is the surface and all of the mineral estate, subject to a 1/16th non-participating royalty being retained by the owners. Another subdivision tract with oil possibilities. This tract is a little more removed from the oil play and the price per acre is appreciably less. Of course this is being offered for sale subject to prior commitment.

The well will be down within two weeks by which time these tracts will either be sold or withdrawn from the market in case of favorable shows in the well.

Owens, in his letter, discus-sese at some length, small industries for the South Texas area that could provide goods and services for the Department of Defense, which was the subject of Barnard's inquiry.

In addition, Maness, in his letter, mentions the fact that he is having a member of the staff in the Southwestern Area Office at Dallas to contact Barnard, to furnish more specific information on industries of this sort.

The directors were much interested in Barnard's efforts, and promised him every cooperation in his efforts to attract such contracts to this area.

HOUSE DENIES LAND—

individual numbers of birds in existence, it will lead to some rather staggering per bird figures. But we don't believe this is the basis on which this can be done.

"What, in effect, the inclusion of the authorization for the protection and preservation of rare species . . . did was to recognize the interest of the American citizens in preserving stocks of birds or other animals before they become extinct. I guess one might say it gets to be like diamonds, the scarcer they are, the more valuable they become."

Gottschalk went on to point out that it actually boils down to preserving a whole species of animal from disappearing from the face of the earth, in the case of the cranes.

He added that there are numerous species of birds protected at Aransas besides the whoopers. He mentioned red-tailed egret, roseate spoonbill, white-tailed hawk, Mississippi kite, Audubon's caracara and the pauraque.

Another argument Gottschalk used was that the additional land could answer the increasing Gulf Coast need for recreation in the summer when the birds are in the North.

The bureau also wants to acquire land for about $220 an acre before the recreation craze in the area pushes it up to $1,000, according to Gottschalk.

He then reverted to his original premise that the land is primarily for the whooping crane and that these other reasons are in the nature of footnote arguments.

He said the Bureau is going to ask Congress to approve a new program of research on rare birds. It could lead, he added, to multiplication of the whooping cranes to the point where they would number 500 instead of 42.

The extra land is needed both for this research program and for the additional birds if it is successful, he concluded.

Mills and his companion were traveling south on FM 1074. Vera's automobile was going west on FM 1944 and struck the left side of the patrol car, Holub said.

Justice of the Peace Frank Markussen, of Sinton, said Vera was killed instantly, while Mills lived about five minutes but was dead on arrival at a Sinton hospital.

Funeral services for Mills were at 1:30 p.m. Monday in Grace Lutheran Church at Sinton, with Rev. B. F. Gaskamp, pastor, officiating. Burial was in Rockport Cemetery under direction of the Starbuck Funeral Home of Sinton.

Mills, 28, was a native of Rockport and had been stationed at Falfurrias with the Highway Patrol before moving to Sinton about two years ago.

The superintendent also submitted for the Board's approval a school calendar of next year which, he said, has been prepared in accordance with those of other schools in this area. This calendar, Gary said, includes a cooperative workshop before the opening of school, on August 27-31, with Gregory-Portland, Aransas Pass, and Ingleside.

Next year, according to the prepared calendar, school opens Sept. 1, and is followed on Sept. 6 by the Labor Day holiday, before getting under way in real earnest.

though the area is progressing, she said, and that they have made a sound investment, but they're more interested in their own comfort and enjoyment than anything else.

Prospect buyers aren't as much interested in promises as they are in fact.

"If you tried to sell a prospective buyer in the same manner as the salesman for the Immigration I'm afraid you wouldn't get very far," she said.

"Do not," the old brochure says "neglect this opportunity to join men of enthusiasm, capital, energy and skill who are developing the new seaport and summer and winter resort on the Texas coast, where the great trinity of human aspirations — health, wealth and happiness — are so easily recognized!"

"People don't want to hear that sort of thing now," said Mrs. Sipe. "They want to know whether the place has central air conditioning and heating, and how much is built in, and they're not nearly as interested in price as they are in getting what they want."

Asked what people want, she said that the market in this area is either for comparative inexpensive vacation homes, or for larger, modern ones, with all the conveniences.

"There are not nearly as many people wanting do-it-yourself places as there were several years ago," she stated.

Word-of-mouth and other publicity was credited by the real estate woman with the number of people that come to the Rockport area looking for homes.

"Only recently," she said, "we had three couples from Iowa who said their friends had told them to try Rockport first. Winter tourists are good ads for here. They stay long enough to become thoroughly acquainted with the area, and pass the word along."

One thing needed here, she believes, is some sort of center where older people who are spending time here, or who have retired, can meet, become acquainted, and stage parties, games and other social events.

"They come in, buy homes, and settle down to enjoy themselves," the real estate woman said.

"They're attracted by the climate: the bird watching, fishing, the beaches and the wildlife refuges, and they like to live here and visit these other places. But they get lonesome; many of them are hungry for companionship, and some place like this would be a great help."

Two Incumbents Re-Elected To School Board

Two incumbents, Roberts Johnson of Lamar, and Thomas Rogers, of Rockport, were re-elected to the Aransas County Independent School Board Saturday, after nearly 600 people cast votes.

Johnson, who ran without opposition, received 534 votes.

Rogers was opposed by Hillis Dominguez, who ran two years ago against School Board President Dr. Homer P. Elliot.

Rogers was running for his first full term, as he was appointed a year ago to fill the place vacated when Charles Roe resigned. He polled 400 votes against Dominguez' 151.

Pirate Band Wins Sweepstakes

The Pirate band, in University Interscholastic League contests at Vanderbilt over the weekend, received first division ratings in both concert playing and sight reading.

These, combined with the first division rating, the band received in marching contests at Victoria last fall combined to give the band the coveted UIL Sweepstakes trophy, the second year in succession that they have won this honor.

The judges at Vanderbilt praised the band's musical style, tone and finish.

Both the band and Director J. O. Robertson said they were proud to be able to represent the school and community and wish to thank all their patrons for the support that has been given so freely.

Letters Of Civil War Hero Describe Texas 100 Years Ago

Among the many Civil War heroes that got their first taste of soldiering in Texas was J. E. B. Stuart, who, as a young man landed at the forgotten port of Saluria and passed through Corpus Christi, leaving us a lively picture of that place in letters he wrote on his way west.

Stuart and several other officers of the old regular army made their way south from Saluria on a little mail boat that ran from that point, off present-day Point O'Connor, to the headquarters of General Persimor F. Smith, in Corpus Christi.

As there was no military force kept there, Stuart, then a young second lieutenant, was obliged to wait until an escort could reach Corpus Christi from Laredo. While he waited, he was hospitably entertained by the general and his lady.

From Corpus Christi, Stuart traveled westward with the escort, sleeping on the ground, and never seeing a house or other sign of human habitation. Water was scarce, and, says Stuart, "a mud hole is sought with as much activity to camp by at night as we would repair to the spring under the beech tree the hottest day in August."

"The whole of Texas west of the Nueces is infested with a rather numerous tribe of Camanches," he continued, "that like the Arabs go where-ever pasture and plunder offer the greatest inducements and circumstances make it safest. Their horses are so fleet and their endurance so great that they are seldom overtaken after a robbery except when loaded down with plunder."

Stuart was proprietor of a coffee pot, two mugs, a knife, fork, spoon and frying pan when the escort and a long train of supply wagons left for Laredo, and was provided by the quartermaster in charge with a horse and a seat in an ambulance, "which is nothing more than an old-fashioned carryall with two mules."

"Deer bounded over the plain in herds . . . rabbits and partridges ran along before us," and Stuart kept the game box pretty well supplied, as an addition to the usual Army fare.

The new second lieutenant saw his first mirage, and said he "had no idea the deception was so perfect. Far away in the distance there were silver lakes with objects resembling ships, and on the farther shore was foliage of the richest hue."

Laredo was a little Mexican village of miserable "jacals" or hovels, with Fort McIntosh a mile away and beautifully situated on a bluff commanding a view of the Rio Grande. There Stuart met an old class mate, with whom he stayed as a guest.

But Stuart was ordered still further westward. His company, along with another from his regiment, and a number of Texas Rangers were to start, even before Stuart reached them, and to march from Fort Clark, under command of Major Simonson, of the Mounted Rifles, to the Limpia (later called Fort Davis), according to all accounts was a charming place, but more completely isolated from the luxuries and comforts of civilization than any place on the Texas frontier.

On Stuart's march west from Fort McIntosh, he encountered jackrabbits and his first peccaries or javelinas. At Live Oak Creek, where they camped one night, there was a roost of wild turkeys. Stuart apologized to his cousin Miss Betty Hairston, for writing of nothing but Indians and rattlesnakes, but told her she mustn't expect to hear of anything else from Texas.

From Fort Duncan at Eagle Pass he was accompanied on his journey by Lieut. Edson, also bound for the Limpia, and Dr. Myer, the surgeon of the expedition.

From this place to Fort Clark, Stuart said, "it is 50 miles, and from Fort Clark to Limpia it is said to be 335 miles."

It took Stuart weeks to make the same journey that can be accomplished now in less than a day's time!

Edric Deason, who was admitted to Spohn Hospital last week is now at home and expected to return to work.

Miss Nan Jackson, student at Texas Tech, spent her spring vacation with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Jim Jackson last week.

SHE STOOPS TO STUDY. This little girl in Bradford, Pa. discovers the wonder of spring in the fragile lines of a flower. And in their sight, questions are born. Are they soft? Where do flowers come from? Why do they smell pretty? Her child's curiosity draws her hand irresistibly to the petals, and from all this a child learns. — WFS Photo

CONSERVATION FUND STICKERS ON SALE

The new Land and Water Conservation Fund Sticker is now on sale at the local office of the Bureau of Sports Fisheries and Wildlife, Austwell, Texas, according to Robert H. Shields, Refuge manager, of the Aransas National Wildlife Refuge.

Purchase of the $7 bumper sticker entitles the driver of an automobile and all passengers to enter federal recreation areas with payment of the daily fee. Daily fees average 50 cents per person per day, and are good for one time only, Shields pointed out, which makes the $7 sticker a real bargain in outdoor recreation.

The stickers are on sale at most Department of the Interior agencies, as well as at the U. S. Forest Service offices and at the forest and park areas where they are required for entrance or use of recreational facilities.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Svehla, Jr. and Miss Melanie, of Evanston, Ill., have been visiting Mr. and Mrs. Hal Tong. Melane joined the Perch Club when she fell overboard while fishing on a barge.

In Texas
after golf
beer's the one...
for good taste,
good fun

After a hard-played 18 holes, it's good to settle down on a soft chair in the club house and add up the score with friends. What better time for the drink that scores with almost every golfer—cool, thirst-quenching beer? Yes, beer's great to relax with, great for refreshment, great for taste. So whatever your sport—boating or baseball—swimming or tennis—relax afterwards with the zestful taste of beer.

Chevrolet

"walks" right over bumps and trouble

Independent front suspension takes the "truck" out of truck ride. It smooths rough roads, protects truck, driver and cargo from excessive jolting. And on Chevrolet pickups it's a proved system with millions of miles of user experience behind it. Try it out on one of Chevrolet's great Fleetside or Stepside pickups. It's one of the big reasons that Chevrolet is first choice with pickup users from coast to coast.

Put telephone wires underground and you've put them in a safe place. Safe from wind, rain, hot weather, cold weather, stormy weather. All around safer from the kinds of trouble which can affect your phone service.

That's why this year Southwestern Bell is spending $10 million burying hundreds of additional miles of telephone cable underground. In effect, buying life insurance for your telephone service.

There's another benefit. New jobs will be created. Some in the telephone business and an estimated 500 new jobs among the hundreds of firms which sell supplies, services and materials to the telephone company.

This is a 1965 communications bonus. Part of a massive construction effort to make the world's best telephone service even better.

STILL SMILING. Nikita Khrushchev may have turned a little more pale and thin since he was ousted from power, but he hasn't lost his sense of humor. Asked how he felt, Khrushchev quipped: "Like a pensioner!" WFS Photo.

For over a century the U. S. Government has published navigational charts. At the top they bear the notation "Founded Upon the Researches Made in the Early Part of the Nineteenth Century by Matthew Fontaine Maury while as a Lieutenant in the U. S. Navy."

By this recognition, paid no other naval officer, the government reminds mariners throughout the world of their continuing debt to the man who founded oceanography, the science of the sea.

Yet few Americans are aware of the accomplishments and dramatic life of the man who, in his own time, was internationally known for his work in oceanography, hydrography, astronomy and meteorology.

Terribly distressed at the prospect of Civil War, Maury tried to arrange arbitration between the north and the south. But when the conflict began, Maury, at the peak of his career, put aside his great passions — the pursuit of knowledge, his beloved Navy, the comfort and safety of his family — to cast his destiny with that of the people of Virginia.

He invented electric torpedoes to protect southern harbors; he went to England to procure and outfit ships for the Confederacy. And when fighting was over, Maury, because of his secret service work for the Confederacy, was not included in the amnesty.

Three years passed before United States policy made it safe for him to return, after which he became a professor of physics at the Virginia Military Institute and worked for the rebuilding of the south.

Francis Leigh Williams, author of numerous books about Virginia, and former research assistant to Douglas Southall Freeman, has written the first complete, accurate, documented biography of this man who has so long deserved the attention of those who appreciate history, drama, and the American tradition.

It is one of the new books on the shelves of Aransas County Public Library, made possible by a recent gift for purchase of reference and non-fiction books.

Other new books purchased from this same source include "Birds of the Ocean," a completely revised edition of the various species of sea birds; a book on "The Mountain Lion" which deals with the natural history of the animal; C. M. Young's book on the Seashore; and one on the "Furred Animals of Australia."

Also, a History of Ships and Boats; The Great Beach, about Cape Cod; a recent best seller, The Horse Knows the Way; and eight other volume sets, The Lives of Game Animals; Harper's Bible Dictionary; Six Pence in Her Shoe; Queen Victoria, a definitive biography.

Purchases also include a number of books for the Texas shelf: Home on the Double Bayou; Glory, God and Gold; Gay as a Grig; We Pointed Them North; Gila Trail; Ozona Country; Cattle Kings; Dog Ghosts; Taming The Nueces Strip; The Animal World and Familiar Reptiles and Amphibians.

For the reference shelves are Historical Arts of the Bible; Giant Snakes; Seaside Plants of the World; How to Use a Microscope; Natural History of Mammals; Lovejoy's College Guide; Living Fishes of the World; Best Loved Poems of the American People; American Seashells; and Living Amphibians of the World.

Most of these will be available within the next couple of weeks or so, as they are catalogued.
