Funeral services for Oscar Chastain, who died Saturday afternoon at the family residence at 405 Pershing street in Eastland following a long illness, were conducted Monday morning at 10:00 o'clock from the residence. Interment was in the Eastland cemetery.

Rev. Phillip W. Walker of the Eastland Methodist Church, and Rev. Jones W. Weathers of the Eastland Baptist Church conducted the services. Hanner Funeral Service was in charge.

The large crowd attending the rites overflowed the house into the yard and into the streets. The floral offering was extra large and very beautiful.

Active pallbearers were Sam Russell, Howard Russell, Grady Russell, Leslie Hagaman, Pat Hagaman, Fred Hagaman and Jim Whittington, all nephews of the deceased.

Oscar Fitzallen Chastain, son of the late R. F. Chastain and wife of Eastland, was born in Erath county and came to Eastland county with his parents in 1893. He resided in Eastland continuously from that time with the exception of a period of years when he was connected with the public schools of the State and as professor of history and economics at Texas A. & M. College, a position he resigned to enter Y. M. C. A. work during the World War. Following this he returned to Eastland to take up the practice of law.

Mr. Chastain was a man of scholarly attainments. He served Eastland county two terms in the State Legislature. He was a Knight Templar Mason and a Shriner, and was a lifelong member of the Baptist church.

The deceased is survived by his widow, the former Miss Bertha Francis Whittington, from one of Eastland county's pioneer families; a daughter, Mrs. Charles E. Terrell of Birmingham, Alabama; three brothers, Claude Chastain, Hamlin; Paul Chastain, Bentonville, Arkansas; Gus Chastain, Oklahoma City, Okla., and two sisters, Mrs. Sam Russell, Sr., of Stephenville, and Mrs. John Mabile, Clearwater, Florida.

Dakar Fiasco Puts Them on Spot

Angry repercussions from Britain's press, public and officialdom followed the failure of the combined British-French naval expedition against Dakar, French West African port. Among main targets of criticism for the "fiasco" were Gen. Charles de Gaulle, right, leader of "Free French" forces, and Gen. E. L. Spears, left, British liaison officer who is held to have been Prime Minister Churchill's chief advisor in favor of the expedition.

SURPLUS FOODS WHICH WILL BE DISTRIBUTED IN COUNTY ARE LISTED

Through new and extended designations, local surpluses of fresh vegetables will continue to be available under the Food Stamp Plan in Eastland County during the whole month of October, Eber H. Peters, local Stamp Plan representative announced today. Along with nationally designated surplus foods, these seasonal surplus vegetables can be obtained with blue food stamps for the period October 1 through October 31. The fresh vegetables available in the Eastland County area for October are fresh cabbage, fresh tomatoes. These may be obtained by Stamp Plan participants in exchange for blue stamps at local stores.

The new designation is the sixth announced regionally this season by the Department of Agriculture for Food Stamp Plan areas where seasonal surpluses are in evidence. Irish potatoes have been added to the list of "nationally designated" surplus commodities which will be available to Stamp Plan participants in all Stamp Plan areas for the October 1-October 31 period. With this exception, the nationally designated surplus commodities officially listed for all areas for October are the same as those listed for the September 2 through September 30 period. The complete list of blue stamp foods for the Eastland County area for the October 1 through 31 period, including national and local designations, is Irish potatoes, apples, pears, oranges, butter, raisins, rice, pork lard, all pork (except pork cooked or packed in metal or glass containers), corn meal, shell eggs, dried prunes, hominy grits, dry edible beans, wheat flour, whole wheat (Graham) flour, and fresh cabbage, fresh tomatoes.

Queer Action Means Man Seeks A Cat

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—It happened on one of those semi-busy streets in a residential section one night.

The man, clad in pajamas, ducked behind a bush each time a car approached. When it passed, he ran to a nearby tree and shook it. Residents of the neighborhood, watching the process, got suspicious and called police.

Radio Patrolman M. Ellis, who answered the call, reported that the man merely was trying to retrieve his cat and "just didn't like the idea of being seen in his pajamas by passing motorists."

Airplanes In Use To Trap Antelope Is a New Idea

AUSTIN, Tex.—An airplane will replace hard-riding horsemen when the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission resume the trapping of antelope in West Texas next month, it is announced by the executive secretary of the Game Department. Trapping of antelope on over-grazed areas and transporting of them to heavily grazed land is necessary because the fleet game animals will not jump fences higher than three feet.

The Game Department, using a technique developed by the New Mexico Game Department, trapped nearly 300 antelope near Sterling City last fall. Horsemen were used to round up the antelope and drive them through a series of pens into a net corral, where they were picked up, placed in crates and transported to their new homes, some times more than 200 miles distant. Despite the fact antelope are extremely wild when attempts are made to drive them, so successful was the trapping of them last year that only six of the animals were killed.

Experiments by game managers in attempting to trap antelope in any direction desired by the use of an airplane has proved successful, the executive secretary said. With a plane flying no lower than 500 feet, antelope can be directed. It is expected that not only will the Game Department be able to cut its trapping crew from a dozen men to four, but that twice as many antelope can be trapped in half the time. This will mean an appreciable saving to the Department and also that more areas suitable for antelope which are not now stocked can be populated with the pronghorns.

There is now a closed season on antelope in Texas due to the fact that the animals decreased to a few thousand because of over-shooting. The Game Department is working toward an open season.

This will mark the first attempt by any game department to round up and trap antelope by use of an airplane. If the rounding up of antelope with an airplane is as successful as it is expected, several hundred additional sections of West Texas land may soon be populated with the excellent game animal. More than 200 sections of land were stocked with pronghorns trapped last year. Antelope will not thrive in wooded areas, but there is much open land in West Texas upon which they will do well.

Antelope trapping is one of the half dozen restoration projects being carried on by the Game Department under the Pittman-Robertson program with the aid of federal funds, which are obtained by an excise tax on arms and ammunition.

In addition to rounding up antelope, it is possible the plane, which will be rented, will be used for making game surveys. It is impossible to make accurate counts of big game by surveys from the ground. It takes but a short time to count big game in any given area from the air. Such information is extremely useful in game management.

Italian War 'Shortage'

One of war's ironies is that Italians, enemies of Britain, now are taking up the very British style of shorts for men. Following Premier Mussolini's recent approval of shorts to conserve material for war uses, loyal Italians, like these Roman youths, took up style they once thought "sissy."

Eastland County Cotton Growers May Get Loans On 1940 Crop

Eastland county cotton farmers who produce middling cotton of 15-16 staple length, may place their 1940 crop under Government loan at about 9 1/2 cents a pound, R. R. Bradshaw, chairman of the Eastland County AAA Committee, announces this week. Loans will be available until May 1, 1941.

Loan rates for all eligible grades and staples have been established by the Commodity Credit Corporation. They are on a net-weight basis, which makes them average 40 points over commercial quotations. Premiums and discounts vary with each grade and staple length.

For example, the rate on middling 7-8 inch cotton is one-fourth of a cent less than for 15-16 inch middling, on which the loan rate is based, while one-inch cotton of the same grade will bring one-fourth of a cent more. Middling 1-1-8 inch cotton is one and a half cents above the basic rate.

In the same manner, strict middling cotton in the medium staple lengths will bring one-fourth to one-third of a cent more than middling cotton, while strict low middling of the same staple is discounted about two-thirds of a cent per pound.

All cotton submitted for the loan must be classed by a Board of Cotton Examiners of the United States Department of Agriculture, whose decision will be final. Cotton produced in this county will be sent to the office of the Agricultural Marketing Service in Abilene for classing.

To obtain a loan, a farmer delivers his cotton to a warehouse which has been approved for handling loan cotton. The warehouseman sends samples to the classing office, and upon receipt of their report, inserts in the loan cotton the farmer then takes up his loan, forms and his warehouse receipts to a bank or other lending agency and receives his cash for classing.

The regulations under the act require that the cotton buyer's records contain the following information: (1) the name and address of the producer; (2) date of purchase; (3) original gin bale number; (4) weight of the bale or the lot of cotton purchased; (5) amount of the penalty collected, if any; and (6) the serial number of the marketing card or certificate by which the cotton was identified when marketed.

"It is preferred that the buyer make no change in his regular record-keeping system, other than to record some necessary information which he previously did not enter on his accounts, ledgers, or other records," Mr. Bradshaw said.

Any buyer who desires to keep a separate record of the information required, however, can obtain the necessary forms from the county AAA office.

"The buyer must always examine the marketing card," Mr. Bradshaw said. "If the producer does not show his card, the buyer must make a report to the county AAA office and rebit with his report the marketing penalty of 3 cents a pound on the entire amount sold. If the card serial number is not on the record, it is assumed that the buyer did not see the card and he will be required to submit the report and to pay the penalties due."

BOMBING RAIDS ARE REPORTED BY BOTH SIDES

Heavy attacks on enemy war industries were reported today, both by German and Great Britain.

Britain said her Royal Air Force bombers had heavily attacked the great Fokker aircraft works in Holland, being used by the Germans, in addition to Nazi rail centers, oil depots and air-dromes and magnetron works.

British guns fired across the English Channel at Dover today and the press announced that new night fighting planes would be produced in quantity and that air warfare would shift back to the continent by spring.

Berlin began evacuation of women and children from the Nazi capital today, though it was claimed the move was purely voluntary and no one was being forced to leave the city. Neutral observers were of the opinion that this meant Berlin had suffered much heavier casualties and more damage than had been admitted.

Londoners, meantime, were being told that city's defense works were greatly improved.

Nazi sources said that 38 British and 14 German planes were lost today and claimed that the German air force bombed aircraft factories, munitions works and docks in England.

In Bombay it was reported that negotiations between the British envoys and Mahatma Gandhi over independence for India has been broken off again.

Fighting continued against Japanese in Indo-China, and it was denied in Washington that United States naval officers had been advised to remove their families from the orient. Navy officers protested to Japan over seizure and beating of a United States sailor.

Two Youths Enlist In The U. S. Army

Wilbur Milo Choate, Route 3, Ranger, and Thomas N. Rogers, also living on Route 3, Ranger, have joined the United States Army, enlisting at the Eastland Recruiting Office, it was announced today by Patrick Hossley, in charge of the office. Both have been assigned to the field artillery at Fort Sill, Okla.

At present there are openings in the air corps, field artillery, quartermaster, infantry and cavalry. Hossley stated today. Youths wishing to enlist in any of these departments can get full particulars from Hossley at the Eastland Recruiting Office of the United States Army.

Changing Leaders Is Not So Bad Wilkie Tells Detroit Crowd

DETROIT, Mich., Sept. 30.—Wendell Wilkie, republican presidential nominee, today said that England had proved there was no basis for belief that changing leadership during a crisis was bad.

Great Britain has done much better under Prime Minister Winston Churchill, he said, than it was doing under Prime Minister Neville Chamberlain.

Wilkie came to Detroit from South Bend, Indiana, where he was faced by two large banners reading "We Want Roosevelt." He spoke before a large crowd at South Bend.

Improvement of Two Military Highways Being Urged Today

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—Two highways, both described as of military importance, were proposed to the State Highway Commission today. One was from Dallas to Cleburne and the other was from Fort Worth to Southwest Texas.

The latter road would also open a large new market for Southwest Texas livestock now being sold at San Antonio.

W. B. Marshall of Dallas said the present Dallas-Cleburne highway is inadequate and that establishment of a military camp at Brownwood increases the urgency for improving it.

War Comes Home

So now it is here, the war they talked and wrote about while we read and listened, uncomprehending.

Since Sept. 1, British casualties have been as follows:

Civilians (men, women and children) 10,000

Men of the fighting forces 250

This is war in 1940, war carried to its cold, relentless logical conclusion. It is not the first time that women and children have been war's victims. But it can safely be said that this is the first time war has taken a toll of 40 civilians to one soldier.

War has always been terrible. To take strong, clean young men, train them to kill, and send them out to kill or be killed—that has always been a standing reproach to all man's pretense to civilization. But at least they were trained first, they had weapons in their hands, they could die fighting.

Now it is the turn of the women and children, the unarmed householder standing on his doorstep. Such have suffered before, have been killed before, but usually as an incident to some military operation. Today it is not only a recognized tactic of war, it is war.

To say this is not to reproach the Germans, though to them had fallen the dubious honor of introducing this logical and ultimate horror. It would be unrealistic to suggest that the Poles would have done to Berlin, if they had been able, what the Germans are doing to London—that the French would not have done it, or the British today, once war had been unleashed. It was pre-knowledge of these things that led to the ill-fated attempts to preserve peace at Munich, attempts ill-advised as we now know, but understandable. For all this was implicit the day the first bombing-plane was built.

Until the world returns to sufficient sanity to see clearly the utter futility of all this—until it has displaced the leaders who without turning a hair plunged the world into these ultimate horrors—until it so organizes itself as to make peace a way of life and not a vivid dream, there is only one answer for the United States:

Be strong!

Willkie accuses FDR of putting the draft in politics, and what would politics be without a little wind, anyway?

If Germany's Big Berthas get too big the R. A. F. can always prescribe a reducing diet designed to have drastic effects.

Report from Moscow states a huge boa constrictor has kidnaped a child and is holding her prisoner. That vodka goes all the way when it makes you see snakes.

The Mysterious Occident

MODERN MENUS

BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

THE party season begins and hostesses look for something festive. Mushrooms belong in the party menu.

For hors d'oeuvres, try these pickled canned mushrooms. They are new, cost very little and are also "a conversation piece." They give your guests something to talk about.

CANNED PICKLED MUSHROOMS

Put one cup mild vinegar (wine or cider) in saucepan; add 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 bay leaf, small bag of pickling spices, and contents of 1 can (8 ounces) sliced mushrooms (both liquid and mushrooms). Bring to a boil. Cool.

Serve whole on toothpicks for canapés, or chopped finely, spread on plain or toasted rounds of white, rye, or whole-wheat bread or salt-rise crackers, and served as appetizers.

For the first bridge luncheon of the season serve stuffed mushrooms. Fresh mushrooms are reasonable now and with a little fixing you'll have a magnificent entrée.

STUFFED MUSHROOMS

(Serves 4)
Twenty-four fresh mushrooms, 3 tablespoons finely chopped bread crumbs, 3 tablespoons cream, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 egg yolk (slightly beaten), 1 tablespoon finely chopped fresh parsley, 1 teaspoon finely minced onion.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Apple-sauce, fried scrapple, corn bread, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tomato juice, creamed mushrooms, toast, grape bowl, tea, milk.

DINNER: Pickled mushroom appetizers, stuffed shoulder of veal, gravy, mashed potatoes, baked squash, lettuce and green pepper salad, steamed orange marmalade pudding, foamy sauce, coffee, milk.

Peel mushrooms and remove stems. Scrape stems and chop well. Mix chopped stems with all the other ingredients into a moist stuffing.

If not moist enough, add a little stock. Arrange mushrooms, stuffed side up, in shallow glass baking dish with a little stock. Sprinkle lightly with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) for about 12 minutes. Serve with triangles of hot buttered toast.

Creamed mushrooms is always rated as a regal dish. Use heavy cream, butter, salt and pepper and nothing else for luxury results. Peel mushrooms and scrape stems. Slice. Simmer in hot butter for 10 minutes, then add heavy cream. Simmer until cream bubbles and thickens. Season lightly. Serve on triangles of hot dry toast, pouring cream over the mushrooms.

Alien Since 1884 Is Still Just Visitor

By United Press

WILMINGTON, Del. — Employees of the alien registration office here were amazed by the quiet, well-bred English woman who reported at the office to register.

"Must I register?" the little grey-haired woman asked. "I'm just a visitor here."

"Where are you from?" she was asked.

"England," she replied. "You see, I am only a visitor here, but

I came on my visit in 1884 and have been here ever since. No, I have not been naturalized, as I'm only a visitor."

The huddle is limited to 25 seconds this season, but the grandstand quarterbacks still have until Monday morning.

"Willkie" and "Roosevelt" Debate

YESTERDAY: At the gambling place, Sue Mary overheard Nick and Vera discussing young Clark. He is deep in debt. Vera has suggested he sell his own property for the amount due. If he does, it will defeat the governor, an old friend of Nick's. Sue Mary saw Nick in a picket line at the plant.

SUE MARY IS WATHEED

CHAPTER XX

SUE MARY felt they were watching her. She felt that Vera watched her at the office, and that Natalie watched her every moment at the apartment.

While she was patting on cleaning cream before the mirror she looked up to see Natalie reflected there, her eyes staring at Sue Mary's face. Somehow she managed to smile.

"I can't seem to keep powder on," she said pointedly. "This heat's terrible." But she felt rather than saw the watchfulness in Natalie's answering smile.

And Joe, too, was watching her. Tomorrow her week of grace would be up and still she had not moved from the apartment, still she had not broken with the YIP group.

She knew that he would wait for her to call him and say she had broken her word. Joe's word was good. If he promised her to do something he would do it, and she expected Sue Mary to do likewise.

She tried not to think of what he would believe. All her plans for the future—what would he think, what could he think, when he knew she had broken her word? She had made no move to change the situation of which he so thoroughly disapproved.

So she didn't call him. It was their night to have a date, but she didn't try to find him. She didn't know what she could say, what explanation she could offer that wouldn't involve him, too, in this nightmare through which she felt she was moving. And she didn't hear from him.

Another week went by. The papers carried stories of the airport site committee meeting and promising to have a site selected in a few days.

Campaign ballyhoo was mounting. Governor Miller's forces emphasized the need of keeping in office a man of integrity, a man who had safeguarded the interests of the people in the past; a man who saw the need of national defense, and a man with a sane view of the future.

to tear him down; continued to stress the necessity of putting Fritz King in office; a man who would help the workers; who would not permit the state money to be spent on needless defense expenditures, while the relief budget would be pared, and the capitalists would benefit.

OUT at the Smithson factory the picket line continued to grow. One department had shut down and Gull Plane announced it would have to go behind schedule unless it got parts immediately.

Vera continued to go out with Young Ross Clark. Kitty's eyes were continually stormy and her mouth tightened into a red bow as she filed and typed and watched Vera.

It was late afternoon when Miss Grant called Sue Mary.

"I'm sorry to do this to you at such an hour," she apologized. "But Mr. Clark is home. Sick again. Too much worry and work. Anyway, he wants to dictate some notes and he needs some papers and you're the only one I can send."

"You'll have to work late, but you can take time off tomorrow. Come back here tonight and finish the work he gives you and then sleep in tomorrow. Will you do it?"

Sue Mary was glad to have to work. It might take her mind off her own problems. "Yes," she said. "Of course I'll do it, and I really don't mind."

THE big Clark house was quiet. She had a glimpse of the dining room as the butler ushered her to the library where she and Mr. Clark would work. Candle light flickered on the big table throwing shadows on the crystal and china and linen, and a maid in black with a white starched apron and tiny cap, such as one saw in the movies, was fixing flowers.

And in the library, old Ross Clark munched a sandwich and sipped a glass of milk.

"Indigestion," he said, gruffly, and Sue Mary wondered just how much enjoyment he got from his fortune, when worry and responsibility could make him turn into such a haggard, gray old man.

They worked steadily, accomplishing much, until finally he pushed the papers away and sank back in his chair.

"We've done a good day's work," he said. "You're no quitter." She didn't know how to answer. As long as he was impersonal, as her boss, she could meet him, but when he became just a weary, sick, old man, grateful to her for her help, she couldn't find words.

"You know my son?" he demanded. "I've seen him in the office." "Not often," he said. "Not often. He doesn't like work. Not our kind anyway. The new generation. We've slipped up somewhere with them. They lack what it takes. They want life the easy way."

He lighted a cigar and seemed to forget her presence. Then he said, "What about that Vera Oliver—the dark-haired one? He sees her, doesn't he?"

Sue Mary caught her breath. She felt a hidden strength, an abrupt awareness in the old man. "I—I believe so."

"You know so. Everyone does. He's a fool. I thought when the governor appointed him to that airport committee he might settle down. He likes aviation. He can fly a plane. I thought when Russell named him to that board he'd be serious. But I don't know. I don't know."

It was then that Mrs. Clark came in the room. She was a slight woman, her hair turning gray. "You've worked too hard and much too long, Ross," she said, smoothing his hair. "You're tired, and this young woman must be tired as well. If you won't spare yourself you should at least think of others." Her voice was low and kind. Clark looked at her and smiled.

"Maybe so, my dear. I guess I have kept this young lady here too long. We'll send her down in the car. I'm afraid some of this work must be done tonight too."

Sue Mary smiled at them both. "It's all right. I know it had to be done. I'll rest in the morning."

"Well, I hope someone can rest," he said, and his wife laughed and took Sue Mary's arm.

"The car will be right here, my dear," she stopped at the table in the big hall and touched a vase of roses. "Would you like these? They're from my garden."

Out in the car, speeding back to town, Sue Mary buried her tired face in the fragrance of the flowers. Old Ross Clark, for all his illness and age, knew his son and she believed, feared what he might do.

But, she told herself, he has no idea just how far he'll go, or how easily he can be led—with Vera to do the leading and Nick to suggest.

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

CAMPAIGN AIMED AT "TOTAL DEFENSE" MAY LAUNCH ATTACK ON UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM

BY BRUCE CATTON
NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—Mark down the words "total defense" as two which you are likely to hear a great deal more of in the near future.

As used here, they refer less to army and navy preparations than to the old, basic problem of unemployment, unsolved after seven years of the New Deal. The signs right now point strongly that a brand-new attack on this old problem may presently be made—possibly before the election, more likely (depending, of course, on the way the voting goes) shortly after it.

The point is that for a good many months a number of influential pressure groups have been insisting this nation will never be a "total defense" until its productive capacity is fully employed and all its jobless citizens are back at work. This point of view is shared by some of the top economists within the New Deal. On both sides it is felt that recovery and re-employment due solely to defense spending won't be enough; that some permanent solution to the whole problem has got to be found.

CHURCH LEADERS WANT ACTION

EARLY last June, an Interfaith Conference of Catholics, Protestant and Jewish leaders met here to consider the unemployment problem. This conference, after three days' discussion, urged the government to set up a continuing commission of representatives of consumers, farmers, labor, finance, manufacturing, education, religion and government to study the problem.

MEANWHILE, certain government agencies have been glancing in much the same direction. The Temporary National Economic Committee will be out before long with a comprehensive report of its labors. New Dealers have long hoped this could be the springboard for a new plunge into a problem which, they admit, the New Deal has not yet really grappled with. Last fall the National Resources Committee drew up tentative findings pointing in the same direction. The advisory section of the Defense Commission has also given a good deal of thought to the matter.

The argument right now is that no defense program is complete if it doesn't include a plan for ironing out the kinks in the nation's economy. So far this year in appropriations voted and commitments made, the nation has let itself in for the spending of upwards of $20,000,000,000 on defense; the pressure groups are insisting a job can't possibly be done unless a defense program is accompanied by a plan for the unemployed.

a scripture reading by Twyman Hale, Billie Ross Hodges, accompanied at the piano by Miss Margaret Jo McCleskey, offered a violin solo.

Many Women Relieved

Headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain, and other periodic distress of women may be due to functional dysmenorrhea from malnutrition, a condition often helped by CARDUI. Main way it helps is by increasing appetite and flow of gastric juice; thus aiding digestion, building resistance to periodic distress. The other way CARDUI may help you: Take it a few days before and during "the time." Used and popular for more than 50 years.

C. of C. Directors Discuss Projects At Early Session

Directors of the Ranger Chapter of Commerce met at an early-morning breakfast at the Paramount Cafe this morning at which time reports on activities of the organization were discussed.

Dr. Rosa Hodges, chairman of the livestock committee and of the Ranger Horse and Colt Show, announced that plans had been made for a show to be held this fall, and that Saturday, Nov. 2 had been set as tentative date.

The directors voted to install a road sign at Morton Valley, pointing the way to Ranger. The sign was decided upon because many motorists, unfamiliar with the roads, fail to notice the junction of the two roads and keep to the right, toward Eastland.

Reports were made on the wool and mohair warehouse and the peanut warehouse. It was reported that 7,000 pounds of wool and mohair had been stored this fall, and by the time of the spring clip a much larger amount was expected to be handled through the warehouse. The peanut warehouse was opened Friday.

Dr. P. M. Kuykendall, chairman of the roads and highways committee made a report on progress being made on securing right-of-way for Highway 301 from Deadmans to Ranger.

Those present at the meeting were Lee Dockery, president; R. A. Tunnell, R. E. Garner, Dr. P. M. Kuykendall, A. N. Larson, L. H. Flewellen, John Kindle and L. W. Meador.

O. F. CHASTAIN FUNERAL HELD MONDAY A. M.

Funeral services for Oscar Chastain, who died Saturday afternoon at the family residence at 405 Pershing street in Eastland following a long illness, were conducted Monday morning at 10:00 o'clock from the residence. Interment was in the Eastland cemetery.

Rev. Philip W. Walker of the Eastland Methodist Church, and Rev. James W. Weathers of the Eastland Baptist Church conducted the services. Hanner Funeral Service was in charge.

The large crowd attending the rites overflowed the house into the yard and into the streets. The floral offering was extra large and very beautiful.

Honorary pallbearers were the Eastland County Bar Association members, members of the various courts of the county and all officers and employees of Eastland county.

Active pallbearers were Sam Russell, Howard Russell, Grady Russell, Leslie Hagaman, Pat Hagaman, Fred Hagaman and Jim Whittington, all nephews of the deceased.

Oscar Fitzallen Chastain, son of the late R. F. Chastain and wife of Eastland, was born in Erath county and came to Eastland county with his parents in 1893. He resided in Eastland continuously from that time with the exception of a period of years when he was connected with the public schools of the State and as professor of history and economics at Texas A. & M. College, a position he resigned to enter Y. M. C. A. work during the World War. Following this he returned to Eastland to take up the practice of law.

Mr. Chastain was a man of scholarly attainments. He served Eastland county two terms in the State Legislature. He was a Knight Templar Mason and a Shriner, and was a lifelong member of the Baptist church.

The deceased is survived by his widow, the former Miss Berna Francis Whittington, from one of Eastland county's pioneer families; a daughter, Mrs. Charles E. Terrell of Birmingham, Alabama; three brothers, Claude Chastain, Hamlin; Paul Chastain, Bentonville, Arkansas; Gus Chastain, Oklahoma City, Okla., and two sisters, Mrs. Sam Russell, Sr., of Stephenville, and Mrs. John Malibie, Clearwater, Florida.

Dakar Fiasco Puts Them on Spot

Angry repercussions from Britain's press, public and officialdom followed the failure of the combined British-French naval expedition against Dakar, French West African port. Among main targets of criticism for the "fiasco" were Gen. Charles de Gaulle, right, leader of "Free French" forces, and Gen. E. L. Spears, left, British liaison officer who is said to have been Prime Minister Churchill's chief advisor in favor of the expedition.

SURPLUS FOODS WHICH WILL BE DISTRIBUTED IN COUNTY ARE LISTED

Through new and extended designations, local surpluses of fresh vegetables will continue to be available under the Food Stamp Plan in Eastland County during the whole month of October, Eber H. Peters, local Stamp Plan representative, announced today.

Along with nationally designated surplus foods, these seasonal surplus vegetables can be obtained with blue food stamps for the period October 1 through October 31.

The fresh vegetables available in the Eastland County area for October are fresh cabbage, fresh tomatoes. These may be obtained by Stamp Plan participants in exchange for blue stamps at local stores.

The new designation is the sixth announced regionally this season by the Department of Agriculture for Food Stamp Plan areas where seasonal surpluses are in evidence.

Irish potatoes have been added to the list of "nationally designated" surplus commodities which will be available to Stamp Plan participants in all Stamp Plan areas for the October 1-October 31 period. With this exception, the nationally designated surplus commodities officially listed for all areas for October are the same as those listed for the September 2 through September 30 period.

The complete list of blue stamp foods for the October 1 through 31 period, including national and local designations, is Irish potatoes, apples, pears, oranges, butter, raisins, rice, pork lard, all pork (except pork cooked or packed in metal or glass containers), corn meal, shell eggs, dried prunes, huminy grits, dry edible beans, wheat flour, whole wheat (Graham) flour, and fresh cabbage, fresh tomatoes.

Queer Action Means Man Seeks A Cat

SAN ANTONIO, Tex.—It happened on one of those semi-busy streets in a residential section one night.

The man, clad in pajamas, ducked behind a bush each time a car approached. When it passed, he ran to a nearby tree and shook it, watching the process, got suspicious and called police.

Radio Patrolman M. Ellis, who answered the call, reported that the man merely was trying to retrieve his cat and "just didn't like the idea of being seen in his pajamas by passing motorists."

Airplanes In Use To Trap Antelope Is a New Idea

AUSTIN, Tex.—An airplane will replace hard-riding horsemen when the Texas Game, Fish and Oyster Commission resumes the trapping of antelope in West Texas next month. It is announced by the executive secretary of the Game Department.

Trapping of antelope on over-grazed areas and transporting of them to less heavily grazed land is necessary because the fleet game animals will not jump fences higher than three feet.

The Game Department, using a technique developed by the New Mexico Game Department, trapped nearly 300 antelope near Sterling City last fall. Horsemen were used to round up the antelope and drive them through a series of pens into a net corral, where they were picked up, placed in crates and transported to their new homes, some times more than 200 miles distant.

Despite the fact antelope are extremely wild when attempts are made to drive them, so successful was the trapping of them last year that only six of the animals were killed.

Experiments by game managers in attempting to turn antelope in any direction desired by the use of an airplane has proved successful, the executive secretary said. With a plane flying no lower than 500 feet, antelope can be directed. It is expected that not only will the Game Department be able to cut its trapping crew from a dozen men to four, but that twice as many antelope can be trapped in half the time.

This will mark the first attempt by any game department to round up and trap antelope by use of an airplane.

If the rounding up of antelope with an airplane is as successful as it is expected, several hundred additional sections of West Texas land may soon be populated with the excellent game animal.

More than 200 sections of land were stocked with pronghorns trapped last year. Antelope will not thrive in wooded areas, but there is much open land in West Texas upon which they will do well.

Antelope trapping is one of the half dozen restoration projects being carried on by the Game Department under the Pittman-Robertson program with the aid of federal funds, which are obtained by an excise tax on arms and ammunition.

In addition to rounding up antelope, it is possible the plane, which will be rented, will be used for making game surveys. It is impossible to make accurate counts of big game by surveys from the ground. It takes but a short time to count big game in any given area from the air. Such information is extremely useful in game management.

Italian War 'Shortage'

One of war's ironies is that Italians, enemies of Britain, now are taking up the very British style of shorts for men. Following Premier Mussolini's recent approval of shorts to conserve material for war uses, loyal Italians, like these Roman youths, took up style they once thought "sissy."

Eastland County Cotton Growers May Get Loans On 1940 Crop

Eastland county cotton farmers who produce middling cotton of 15-16 staple length, may place their 1940 crop under Government loan at about 9 1-2 cents a pound, E. R. Bradshaw, chairman of the Eastland County AAA Committee, announces this week. Loans will be available until May 1, 1941.

Loan rates for all eligible grades and staples have been established by the Commodity Credit Corporation. They are on a net-weight basis, which makes them average 40 points over commercial quotations. Premiums and discounts vary with each grade and staple length.

For example, the rate on middling 7-8 inch cotton is one-fourth of a cent less than for 15-16 inch middling, on which the loan rate is based, while one-inch cotton of the same grade will bring one-fourth of a cent more. Middling 1-1.8 inch cotton is one and a half cents above the basic rate.

In the same manner, strict middling cotton in the medium staple lengths will bring one-fourth of a cent more than the basic rate, while strict low middling of the same staple is discounted about two-thirds of a cent per pound.

All cotton submitted for the loan must be classed by a Board of Cotton Examiners of the United States Department of Agriculture, whose decision will be final. Cotton produced in this county will be sent to the office of the Agricultural Marketing Service in Abilene for classing.

To obtain a loan, a farmer delivers his cotton to a warehouse which has been approved for handling loan cotton. The warehouseman sends samples to the classing office, and, upon receipt of their report, inserts in the loan forms the grades and staples of the cotton. The farmer then takes his loan forms and his warehouse receipts to a bank or other lending agency and receives his cash.

While the new requirements for classing of loan cotton will necessarily cause some delay in the making of the loan, the benefits to be derived from the system will more than offset the inconvenience of the delay. Growers will receive a uniform classification of their cotton, done by Government employees who are expert in classing cotton. The farmer will find this cotton class record a valuable aid, either in the sale of his cotton or in the sale of his equity in the cotton," the official said.

Eastland County Cotton buyers, who are required by the 1940 marketing quota provisions of the Agricultural Adjustment Act to keep accurate records of all purchases from producers, will be able to do this as a part of their routine work, according to E. R. Bradshaw, Chairman of the county AAA Committee.

A record of purchases from producers with white marketing cards was not required in past years. This year such a record must be maintained in addition to the records and reports which buyers during the past 2 years made for purchases from producers with red and blue marketing cards, and which they are also required to make this year.

Pointing out that no special records are required for white marketing cards, as a general rule, the bureau records ordinarily kept by the buyer will contain all the information necessary with the possible exception of the serial number of the producer's marketing card.

The regulations under the act require that the cotton buyer's records contain the following information: (1) the name and address of the producer; (2) date of purchase; (3) original gin bale number; (4) weight of the bale or the lot of cotton purchased; (5) amount of the penalty collected, if any; and (6) the serial number of the marketing card or certificate by which the cotton was identified when marketed.

"It is preferred that the buyer make no change in his regular record-keeping system, other than to record some necessary information which he previously did not enter on his accounts, ledgers, or other records," Mr. Bradshaw said.

Any buyer who desires to keep a separate record of the information required, however, can obtain the necessary forms from the county AAA office.

"The buyer must always examine the marketing card," Mr. Bradshaw said. "If the producer does not show his card, the buyer must make a report to the county AAA office and remit with his report the marketing penalty of 3 cents a pound on the entire amount sold. If the card serial number is not on the record, it is assumed that the buyer did not see the card and he will be required to submit the report and to pay the penalties due."

AUSTIN, Sept. 30.—Two highways, both described as of military importance, were proposed to U. S. State Highway Commission today. One was from Dallas to Cleburne and the other was from Fort Worth to Southwest Texas.

BOMBING RAIDS ARE REPORTED BY BOTH SIDES

Heavy attacks on enemy war industries were reported today, both by German and Great Britain.

Britain said her Royal Air Force bombers had heavily attacked the great Fokker aircraft works in Holland, being used by the Germans, in addition to Nazi rail centers, oil depots and air-dromes and magnets works.

British guns fired across the English Channel at Dover today and the press announced that new night fighting planes would be produced in quantity and that air warfare would shift back to the continent by spring.

Berlin began evacuation of women and children from the Nazi capital today, though it was claimed the move was purely voluntarily on the part of all residents and no one was being forced to leave the city. Neutral observers were of the opinion that this meant Berlin had suffered much heavier casualties and more damage than had been admitted.

Londoners, meantime, were being told that city's defense were greatly improved.

Nazi sources said that 38 British and 14 German planes were lost today and claimed that the German air force bombed aircraft factories, munitions works and docks in England.

In Bombay it was reported that negotiations between the British envoys and Mahata Gandhi over independence for India has been broken off again.

Fighting continued against Japanese in Indo-China, and it was denied in Washington that United States naval officers had been advised to remove their families from the orient. Navy officers protested to Japan over seizure and beating of a United States sailor.

War Comes Home

So now it is here, the war they talked and wrote about while we read and listened, uncomprehending.

Since Sept. 1, British casualties have been as follows:

Civilians (men, women and children) 10,000
Men of the fighting forces 250

This is war in 1940, war carried to its cold, relentless logical conclusion. It is not the first time that women and children have been war's victims. But it can safely be said that this is the first time war has taken a toll of 40 civilians to one soldier.

War has always been terrible. To take strong, clean young men, train them to kill, and send them out to kill or be killed—that has always been a standing reproach to all man's pretense to civilization. But at least they were trained first, they had weapons in their hands, they could die fighting.

Now it is the turn of the women and children, the unarmed householder standing on his doorstep. Such have suffered before, have been killed before, but usually as an incident to some military operation. Today it is not only a recognized tactic of war, it is war.

To say this is not to reproach the Germans, though to them had fallen the dubious honor of introducing this logical and ultimate horror. It would be unrealistic to suggest that the Poles would have done to Berlin, if they had been able, what the Germans are doing to London—that the French would not have done it, or the British today, once war had been unleashed. It was pre-knowledge of these things that led to the ill-fated attempts to preserve peace at Munich, attempts ill-advised as we now know, but understandable. For all this was implicit the day the first bombing-plane was built.

Until the world returns to sufficient sanity to see clearly the utter futility of all this—until it has displaced the leaders who without turning a hair plunged the world into these ultimate horrors—until it so organizes itself as to make peace a way of life and not a vapid dream, there is only one answer for the United States:

Be strong!

Willkie accuses FDR of putting the draft in politics, and what would politics be without a little wind, anyway?

If Germany's Big Berthas get too big the R. A. F. can always prescribe a reducing diet designed to have drastic effects.

Report from Moscow states a huge boa constrictor has kidnaped a child and is holding her prisoner. That vodka goes all the way when it makes you see snakes.

The Mysterious Occident

MODERN MENUS

BY MRS. GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Service Staff Writer

THE party season begins and hostesses look for something festive. Mushrooms belong in the party menu.

For hors d'oeuvres, try these pickled canned mushrooms. They are new, not very little and are also "a conversation piece." They give your guests something to talk about.

CANNED PICKLED MUSHROOMS

Put one cup mild vinegar (wine or cider) in saucepan; add 2 tablespoons sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 bay leaf, small bag of pickling spices, and contents of 1 can (8 ounces) sliced mushrooms (both liquid and mushrooms). Bring to a boil. Cool.

Serve whole on toothpicks for canapés, or chopped finely, spread on plain or toasted rounds of white, rye, or whole-wheat bread or salted crackers, and served as appetizers.

For the first bridge luncheon of the season, serve stuffed mushrooms. Fresh mushrooms are reasonable now and with a little fixing you'll have a magnificent entrée.

STUFFED MUSHROOMS

(Serves 4)
Twenty-four fresh mushrooms, 3 tablespoons finely chopped bread crumbs, 3 tablespoons cream, 3 tablespoons butter, 1 egg yolk (slightly beaten), 1 tablespoon finely chopped fresh parsley, 1 teaspoon finely minced onion.

TOMORROW'S MENU

BREAKFAST: Apple-sauce, fried scrapple, corn bread, coffee, milk.

LUNCHEON: Tomato juice, creamed mushrooms, toast, grape bowl, tea, milk.

DINNER: Pickled mushroom appetizers, stuffed shoulder of veal, gravy, mashed potatoes, baked squash, lettuce and green pepper salad, steamed or-shape marmalade pudding, foamy sauce, coffee, milk.

Peel mushrooms and remove stems. Scrape stems and chop well. Mix chopped stems with all the other ingredients into a moist stuffing.

If not moist enough, add a little stock. Arrange mushrooms, stuffed side up, in shallow glass baking dish with a little stock. Sprinkle lightly with buttered bread crumbs. Bake in hot oven (425° F.) for about 12 minutes. Serve with triangles of hot buttered toast.

Creamed mushrooms is always rated as a regal dish. Use heavy cream, butter, salt and pepper and nothing else for luxury results. Peel mushrooms and scrape stems. Slice. Simmer in hot butter for 10 minutes, then add heavy cream. Simmer until cream bubbles and thickens. Season lightly. Serve on triangles of thin dry toast, pouring cream over the mushrooms.

Plot Against Americans

I came on my visit in 1884 and have been here ever since. No, I have not been naturalized, as I'm only a visitor.

Two Shoppers in One Act

Characters in the Play:

Mrs. Black, who has $35 to spend on a new fall suit.

Mrs. White, who also has $35 to spend on a new fall suit.

Act 1, Scene 1

Mrs. Black enters store, "just looking" for a suit... any suit. Tries three or four departments. Tries on fifteen or sixteen suits. No luck... "had nothing special in mind." Leaves store baffled and exhausted... and empty handed.

Act 1, Scene 2

Mrs. White enters store. Consults newspaper clipping in handbag. Steps promptly into elevator for third floor. Tries on suit she saw advertised. Likes it as much as she thought she would. Buys it, and leaves store, radiant with success and satisfaction.

This play has a moral. Consult these columns for your best buys! They will save you much time... countless steps... and a whole lot of money.

Alabama To Urge Better Horse Breeds

By United Press
MONTGOMERY, Ala. — The state of Alabama is making plans to start a horse breeding farm to state use and as a nucleus to promote horse culture in Alabama. Gov. Frank M. Dixon, father of the idea, said the state will buy 4,000 or 5,000 acres of breeding land in the rich, grassy Black Belt of central Alabama and stock it with 12 or 15 brood mares. Beef for state needs also will be raised on the farm, he said. State prison farms now use about 60 horses a year.

BRUCE CATTON IN WASHINGTON

CAMPAIGN AIMED AT "TOTAL DEFENSE" MAY LAUNCH ATTACK ON UNEMPLOYMENT PROBLEM

BY BRUCE CATTON

NEA Service Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Mark down the words "total defense" as two which you are likely to hear a great deal more of in the near future.

As used here, they refer less to army and navy preparations than to the old, basic problem of unemployment, unsolved after seven years of the New Deal. The signs right now hint strongly that a brand-new attack on this old problem may presently be made—possibly before the election, more likely (depending, of course, on the way the voting goes) shortly after it.

The point is that for a good many months a number of influential pressure groups have been insisting that a nation will never be "total defense" until its productive capacity is fully employed and all its jobless citizens are back at work. This point of view is shared by some of the top economists within the New Deal. On both sides it is felt that recovery and re-employment due solely to defense spending won't be enough; that some permanent solution to the whole problem has got to be found.

CHURCH LEADERS WANT ACTION

EARLY last June, an Interfaith Conference of Catholics, Protestants and Jewish leaders met here to consider the unemployment problem. This conference, after three days' discussion, urged the government to set up a continuing commission of representatives of consumers, farmers, labor, finance, manufacturing, education, religion and government "for discussing constructive measures to solve the unemployment problem."

A couple of months earlier a similar demand was made by the National Consumers' League through its president, Josephine Roche, who was also chairman of the President's Interdepartmental Committee to Co-ordinate Health and Welfare Activities. Miss Roche remarked that industrial revival so far had not cured unemployment, and declared that "the gravity and immediacy of the problem" called for a concerted attack. In addition, both the C. I. O. and the A. F. of L. have urged the same sort of action. Philip Murray, C. I. O. vice president, told the Interfaith Conference there must be broad planning to prevent "a complete collapse of our domestic economy" when, as and if the rearmament program ends.

SAY SPENDING ISN'T ENOUGH

MEANWHILE, certain government agencies have been glancing in much the same direction. The Temporary National Economic Committee will be out before long with a comprehensive report of its labors; New Dealers have long hoped this could be the springboard for a new plunge into a problem which, they admit, the New Deal has not yet really grappled with. Last fall the National Resources Committee drew up tentative findings pointing in the same direction. The advisory section of the Defense Commission has also given a good deal of thought to the matter.

The argument right now is that no defense program is complete if it doesn't include a plan for ironing out the kinks in the nation's economy. So far this year, in appropriations voted and commitments made, the nation has let itself in for the spending of up to $20,000,000,000 on defense; the pressure groups are insisting it's not enough. They want more "full pre-employment" from defense programs.

THE PAY OFF

BY HARRY GRAYSON

NEA Service Sports Editor

OWNERS want professional baseball treated as a community enterprise in which the entire city shares partnership.

But when the customers finally get a championship outfit for which to root, world series prices are jacked up out of the reach of the great majority of loyal patrons . . . to more than four times those of the regular season. Box seats are raised from $1.60 to $6.85, reserved from $1.35 to $5.65, general admission from 85 cents and $1.10 to $3.45, and the bleachers from 55 cents to $1.15. To make matters worse, tickets must be purchased in three-game lots. Gus Fan can't buy one or two tickets for a single game. If he desires to see the world series, for which he has been pulling all year, and is willing to attend alone, he must dig up $20.55 if he chooses to park himself in a box, $16.95 if he chooses to occupy a reserved seat, or $10.35 if he is satisfied just to get in the park.

If someone is to accompany him—and who wants to attend a ball game alone?—he must cough up $41.10, $33.80 or $20.70, depending on the location.

SPECULATORS reap a harvest because of the three-game lot system. It makes it easier for scalpers to obtain pastboards.

All tickets except bleachers and standing room, the latter at $3.45 a sardine, go on sale in advance, but it is graciously announced that bleachers and standing room will be thrown open on the morning of each game. Now that the big day has come, those who shouted themselves hoarse all season, but can't afford the increased tariff now, can stand in line and take their chance. Owners claim that any other plan is impracticable. They contend there is no other way of disposing of say the $1,000 seats in Cleveland's Municipal Stadium . . . at those prices. They can do it on any given day of the season . . . at regular rates, but frankly admit outsiders have to be counted on and the bulk of the home trade slighted to make possible rich world series gates.

They point to a lack of time when a race is as close as the current one in the American League, yet—from April to October—no one gets in an hour's notice as long as seats are available.

They declare the prize has to be high to keep the noble athletes hustling throughout the season. Isn't that rich? Without baseball, most players would sit and whittle.

Professional baseball's excuses for the gouging of and rank injustice to its followers are flimsy.

The world series is the most critical part of what is called the national game, and it is taken out of the reach of the average person who makes it possible.

Ponder, Miss Mary Jane Todd, Mrs. W. W. Simpson and Carl Eakin.

Honor pins were presented to them. Achievement pins were presented to all members with an average of 85 to 95 and reward pins were presented to all with an average of 75 to 85 for the past year.

A vocal trio composed of Misses Thelma Compton, Beatrice Reager, and Frances Usery, was presented. Mrs. Frank Hicklin then gave the installation address.

The benediction was offered by the group at the end of the program. About 75 members attended.

Many Women Relieved

Headaches, nervousness, cramp-like pain, and other periodic distresses of women may be due to functional dysmenorrhea from malnutrition, a condition often helped by CARDUI. Main way it helps is by increasing appetite and flow of gastric juice; thus aiding digestion, building resistance to periodic distress. The other way CARDUI may help you: Take it a few days before and during "the time." Used and popular for more than 50 years.

C. of C. Directors Discuss Projects At Early Session

Directors of the Ranger Chapter of Commerce met at an early-morning breakfast at the Paramount Cafe this morning at which time reports on activities of the organization were discussed.

Dr. Ross Hodges, chairman of the livestock committee and of the Ranger Horse and Colt Show, announced that plans had been made for a show to be held this fall, and that Saturday, Nov. 2 had been set as tentative date.

The directors voted to install a road sign at Morton Valley, pointing the way to Ranger. The sign was decided upon because many motorists, unfamiliar with the roads, fail to notice the junction of the two roads and keep to the right, toward Eastland.

Reports were made on the wool and mohair warehouse and the peanut warehouse. It was reported that 7,000 pounds of wool and mohair had been stored this fall, and by the time of the spring slip a much larger amount was expected to be handled through the warehouse. The peanut warehouse was opened Friday.

Dr. P. M. Kaykendall, chairman of the roads and highways committee made a report on progress being made on securing right-of-way for Highway 361 from DeWanna to Ranger.

Those present at the meeting were Lee Dockery, president; B. A. Tunnell, B. E. Garner, Dr. P. M. Kaykendall, A. N. Larson, L. H. Fievelien, John Kindie and L. W. Meador.
