Nazi Pressure Upon Rumania Is Increased

Balkan Entente In Session; Sweeping Industrial Plan Is Demanded By Germany

(By The Associated Press)

BELGRADE, Feb. 2.—German pressure on Rumania to obtain acceptance of a sweeping plan to make her industries, petroleum production and agriculture adjuncts of the reich's economic structure was reported by informed persons today as the meeting of the Balkan entente opened here.

Rumania, the informants said, already has made some concessions to Germany but is looking to her partners in the entente—Turkey, Greece, Yugoslavia — to support her in a policy of economic neutrality which would enable her to resist encroachments which might involve her in war.

Want Normal Trade

Under this policy, proposed after a decision it was futile for Rumania to ask other entente members for a military alliance, the four nations would sell supplies both to Germany and the Allies but only to the extent of normal, peacetime trade.

Under Germany's program, it was said, Germany would liquidate a large debt to Rumania by wholesale shipments of munitions and other manufactures.

Rumanian industry would discontinue manufactures duplicating Germany's and concentrate on products Germany could use.

Rumania would keep a steady stream of oil, wheat and timber moving to the reich.

German technicians would be sent to assist Rumania.

Briefly, the plan virtually would freeze out Britain and France from Rumania and involve a written or

Youth Is Sought For Hatchet Slaying Of Mother And Sister

MONTREAL, Feb. 2. (U.P.)—Police sought James Fahey, 21, today for questioning in connection with the hatchet slaying of his widowed mother and one of his three sisters.

Mrs. Mary Helen Fahey, 67, and Loretta Fahey, 28, were found dead, their skulls crushed, at the foot of a cellar stairway by another daughter, Winnifred, 21, when she returned from work yesterday.

Police found a blood-stained hatchet in the kitchen and believed the two women had been struck down as they were preparing supper and that their bodies had been thrown into the cellar. Loretta's wage money, received yesterday, was missing and the mother's purse had been rifled.

Patty Berg And Betty Jameson All Square For First Round

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Feb. 2 (AP)—Patty Berg of Minneapolis and National Champion Betty Jameson of San Antonio, Texas, finished the morning round all square in the 36-hole finals of the Miami Biltmore women's golf tournament today.

Miss Berg, who relinquished the national title for an operation, went 1 up four times on the first 18 holes but the tenacious Texas girl always rallied.

Each scored a fine 76, six under women's par, for the round.

Woman And Young Daughter Die In Flames At Houston

The deaths brought the total of deaths from fire in Houston to 10 so far this year.

Working Wives Are Branded As Menace To The Country

(By The Associated Press)

HARRISBURG, Pa., Feb. 2.—Working wives, a woman political leader asserted today, are a "menace to the public health, morals and general welfare."

"A wife's place is in the home," said Miss Florence Birmingham, president of the Massachusetts Women's Political club, in a prepared address before the Pennsylvania School Directors association.

"To permit an estimated six million married women to hold jobs when their husbands are in well paid positions is a crime against justice x x x."

The situation of the jobless, single girl, Miss Birmingham contended, is "the most tragic of any class in society today."

"While couples who work enjoy double incomes, single women are driven in desperation to suicide and vice dens.

"Only when the husband is disabled mentally or physically should the wife become the family breadwinner."

Story Of Atrocities In Poland Revealed

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Feb. 2 — The Polish government in exile is piecing together a story of atrocities in the German-occupied portion of Poland which it says rival or surpass the most barbarous treatment of a conquered people in history.

In its series of "white papers," which are being issued periodically and are to be assembled in a book later, the Polish government describes the land that Germany seized as one of hunger, stark fear, wrecked churches and hospitals, and executions. It says deportations of the populace are conducted with methodical brutality.

Similar Paper Issued

A similar paper was issued last night by the Polish envoys to Italy and the Vatican.

Tales of atrocities and suffering also are reported from that portion of Poland which fell to Soviet Russia.

The Poles declare the papers contain only information which has been carefully investigated and verified, including an estimate that the Germans have executed 18,000 Poles of all classes.

At Bydgoszcz alone, the papers say, 6,000 persons had been shot down by the close of 1939, three months after Germany conquered the country.

Mayor Beaten And Shot

As an example, one paper says the Bydgoszcz mayor, a Mr. Barciszewski, "was ordered to clean the automobile of the gestapo (German secret police) with his tongue. He protested and was odiously beaten up and later shot to death."

The paper adds that "shortly after the Germans took Bydgoszcz, 5,000 men, among them many priests, were shut up in the cavalry

Britain Ready For Bombings

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Feb. 2 — The Royal Air Force is prepared to reply in kind to large scale German bombing of Great Britain expected in the spring, authoritative sources asserted today.

Speedy, fighting planes with machine guns in the tails to permit fire in any direction were described as Britain's means of meeting the anticipated attack by a new German bomber built for speedy performance at high altitudes.

New Bombers Built

"There is evidence the Germans are pressing construction of fast, long range bombers," an aviation source said. He described the new type as a twin-motored Junkers bomber, JU-88, carrying a crew of three or four and three guns, one in the nose and two in the fuselage.

He said Germany probably would use the new bomber in "considerable numbers."

In comparing the gun merits of

Harvard Frosh Goes Out On Limb In Order To Get Date

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Feb. 2. (U.P.)—Haywood Stuart Kirby of Rye, N. Y., a Harvard freshman who went out on a limb for a date—and got it—forsook the role of Tarzan to return to classes today.

Kirby climbed a tree on Cambridge common yesterday and threatened to sit there until Miss Libby Esler of Pittsburgh, Pa., a Radcliffe freshman, agreed to date him.

While he sat on a limb his roommate, Frank E. Crawford of Sheffield, carried romantic messages to Miss Esler, depicting Kirby's perilous plight. Munching apples, Kirby passed the time by reading a copy of "Divine Love and Wisdom."

Finally Miss Esler consented. The couple went on their date last night with $10 which Kirby won on a wager with classmates that he could date Miss Esler.

Lombard And Gable Found At Gun Club

Fear For Safety Had Been Held When Pair Failed To Show Up After 27 Hours

(By The United Press)

ENSENADA, Lower Calif., Feb. 2.—Clark Gable and Carole Lombard were reported safe today at La Brea gun club, 24 miles south of here after the couple were feared to have been lost in the gale-swept country of rugged Lower California.

John Husson, proprietor of the El Mcrro cottages in Ensenada, drove to the gun club this morning and reported seeing Gable, who said, "No, we didn't get stuck, but the roads were so terrible that it took us 11½ hours to make the trip."

Gable and his wife left Hattie Hamilton's ranch, 115 miles south of here, for Ensenada yesterday at 8 a. m., and had been unreported for 27 hours. They had expected to arrive at Ensenada by mid-afternoon yesterday. When no word was received of their safe arrival, friends and MGM studio representatives were anxious for their safety.

Officials of their studio, Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer, organized a searching party. They feared that the stars, who are married, had been the victims of an automobile accident.

Road Is Dangerous

The drive ordinarily requires but six hours. Heavy rains began soon after they left and fell all day. The road is clay and rain makes it slippery and dangerous. The country between here and the ranch is sparsely populated and the terrain is wild.

Otto Winkler and Erick Carpenter, of the M-G-M studio, flew to the ranch, where the stars had been duck hunting, and discovered they had left. Studio officials here waited anxiously for word of them until midnight when they hired a taxicab, and, with searchers in other machines, started out along the road

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Feb. 2 (AP)—President Roosevelt arrived here today for a week end at his home overlooking the ice-bound Hudson.

Farmer Is Flabbergasted As Plane Taxies Up To Door

ALLENTOWN, Pa., Feb. 2. (AP)—Farmer John Fink gaped when an airplane taxied up to his back door and a youthful pilot casually asked: "How do I get to the Allentown-Bethlehem airport?"

Fink gave the information and, still gaping, watched the plane take off from a patch of pasture.

"MAW, THEY'RE MAKING EYES AT ME"—A Houston ordinance declares that it is unlawful to stare at or make what is commonly known as "goo-goo" eyes at other persons. Two youths, 17 and 20, have been lodged in jail for three reasons. First, the above-mentioned ordinance and, second and third, these two beauteous car-hop waitresses, auburn-haired Margaret Brown, left, and blonde Faye Pettit. The girls called the cops saying the boys made "goo-goo" eyes at them. The boys claim it was all the girls' fault.

Action Demanded For Wagner Act Changes

(By The United Press)

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2.—Rep. Frank Fries, D., Ill., today called for House labor committee action on amendments to the Wagner act, charging that the committee has been sitting around doing nothing while people are being murdered."

Fries made his statement to the labor committee, of which he is a member. The committee is considering amendments to the Wagner act, while a special House committee is investigating conduct of the national labor relations board, which carries out the act.

Conditions Are Deplorable

"We have been having hearings here for a long time," said Fries, "and we have not accomplished anything. Meanwhile, we have been having hell in this country and conditions are deplorable.

"When people are being murdered, our committee should do something about it."

Fries made his remarks during committee questioning of R. J. Thomas, president of the CIO United Auto Workers Union. He asserted that 40 people had been killed in conflict between the United Mine Workers Union (CIO) and the Progressive Miners (AFL).

Hot About Subject

"I'll never cool off on this subject," he said. "I'm pretty hot about it. I'm getting sick and tired of this formality and sitting around. All the hell exists and we are doing nothing about it."

Before the special House NLRB inquiry, Lloyd K. Garrison, University of Wisconsin law dean and first labor board chairman, defended the present labor board.

Garrison asserted the board had helped to reduce conflict between the AFL and CIO. He followed the present chairman, J. Warren Madden, as a witness in the board's rebuttal to charges of maladministration presented in previous testimony before the committee.

No Peace Is Seen

Even if the board should be changed as its critics propose, Garrison said he saw no prospect that dispute over the act would be reduced.

"I have not the slightest doubt in the world that the new five-man board (proposed by the AFL) would be subjected to the same onslaughts as the present board," he said, "and would be faced with precisely the same difficulties."

He urged that the board be relieved of authority or duty to decide the appropriate bargaining unit in struggles involving the AFL and CIO. However, he believed board decisions in such cases thus far have "succeeded to a substantial extent in avoiding open strife."

251 Attending Meet At Tech

Value of welding to farmers and other equipment users was described before approximately 250 men of Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma this morning in the opening addresses of the fourth biennial welding conference at Texas Technological college.

Surfacing of points of plows with hard metal will cause the equipment to be of service several times as long as otherwise, for instance, it was pointed out. The same is true of excavating equipment.

Portability In Its Favor

Portability of welding equipment was pointed out as in its favor. While new equipment might be obtained at loss of time and considerable expense, the old equipment might be repaired at site of its use.

L. D. Sugg of Houston and W. J. Chaffee of Troy, Ohio, spoke this morning.

Dr. Clifford B. Jones, Texas Tech president, said in his welcome address that it is one of the purposes of a school of technology to sponsor such conferences.

He discussed the importance of technology and the progress made.

Jury Panel Reports Saturday For Trial Of Negro Suspects

Two negroes, James Lee and H. C. Chambers, will go to trial on burglary indictments at 9 o'clock Saturday morning in the 99th district court of Judge E. L. Pitts.

Judge Pitts ordered a jury panel to appear at that time. With exception of those cases, said Burton S. Burks, district attorney, the docket will be clear until March 11, when three cases specifically had been set.

On March 11, too, there may be other cases ready, since a grand jury is slated to reconvene Feb. 26.

Ina Ray Hutton Is Asking For An Annulment Of Marriage

NEW YORK CITY, Feb. 1. (AP)—Ina Ray Hutton, blonde band leader, has applied for an annulment of her marriage to Charles O. Doerwald, a New York traveling salesman, papers on file in Rockland county supreme court disclosed today.

Miss Hutton contended she and Doerwald were married last July 29 in Warrenton, Va.—five days before his divorce from his former wife became final.

President To Stand Pat On Budget Plan

Cuts Made By Committee Are Called Terrific; Makes No Mention Of Possible Veto

(By The Associated Press)

HYDE PARK, N. Y., Feb. 2.—President Roosevelt told reporters in firm tones today he was standing on his budget and a $900,000,000 agricultural appropriation for the year beginning July 1.

He said the House appropriations committee, which slashed the farm appropriation bill 20 per cent below budget estimates, had made perfectly terrific cuts. The bill is pending in the House.

Recalls Budget Message

Volunteering to discuss agricultural appropriations at a press conference here, Mr. Roosevelt said he saw no reason why some excerpts from his budget message should not be reprinted.

He had had some excerpts typed out, and he read them to newsmen. They said:

"I have carefully checked the individual estimates under these broad categories and I am satisfied that no lower figures can be attained except at the expense of impairing the efficiency with which laws are administered or of working undue hardships upon individuals or economic groups. I refuse to accept the responsibility of adopting either alternative. . . .

Must Guard Gains

"We must not only guard the gains we have made but we must press on to obtain full employment for those who have been displayed by machines as well as for the 5,000,000 net addition to the labor force since 1929. We must therefore avoid the danger of too drastic or too sudden a curtailment of government support. . . ."

President Roosevelt arrived at his home here early today to spend the weekend.

Mr. Roosevelt made no mention of a possibility of a veto should Congress enact a bill carrying substantially less than the budget recommended for government agricultural activities.

Farm belt congressmen have been talking of trying to persuade the

Felons Prefer War To Jail

(By The United Press)

FORT WORTH, Feb. 2 — If they could get out of jail, six Tarrant county prisoners today notified Herbert Hoover, head of the Finnish relief campaign in this country, they would like to fight in the Finnish army.

The "if" makes their presence in the "stop Russia" line-up improbable, because two of the six are sentenced to the penitentiary and the other four await trial on felony charges. State officials are not likely to release the men even if Finland accepted them for military service.

Could Pay Debt To Society

Virgil Harris, under 99-year sentence for robbery here and charged in Denton county with assault to murder a highway patrolman, wrote to former President Hoover:

"Our ages range from 23 to 35 and we all are in good physical condition. We also realize what we are offering, but we want to offer our lives to Finland in her time of dis-

Ex-Kaiser Thinks All Nations Should Join War Against Reds

Winter's Fate Is Just A Toss-Up Today

(By The Associated Press)

QUARRYVILLE, Pa., Feb. 2.—Disciples of the groundhog as a weather prophet could take their pick today between six more weeks of winter—or an early spring.

In this self-appointed capital of the woodchuck world, top-hatted members of Slumbering Groundhog lodge ventured solemnly out in a snowstorm that made a glimpse of the groundhog's shadow improbable.

Traditionally, there'll be six more weeks of bitter cold weather if the woodchuck sees his shadow Feb. 2. If he doesn't, legend says spring is just around the corner.

Elsewhere in the nation groundhogs gave varying forecasts.

At Gobbler's Knob, Punxsutawney, Pa., a 50-year-old lodge rivalling the Quarryville group reported that the groundhog appeared in bright sunshine, saw a long shadow and scurried back to his hole as the mercury plunged toward zero.

Come On Out, Pal, No Shadows Today, Maybe

In Texas the groundhog had little chance to see his shadow. It was cloudy all over the state.

From the clouds around Kansas City, Mo., it looked like no woodchuck shadow and groundhog followers predicted mild weather dead ahead.

In Minnesota, the groundhog skidded out on a coating of light sleet and cast an ample shadow. Michigan and Wisconsin groundhogs did, too.

Frank Tracy, of Washington courthouse, Ohio, told this story:

His pet groundhog, "Chuck," burrowed under the front porch 88 days ago for its winter nap. Emerging today, "Chuck" touched off an alarm Tracy had rigged on a trap door, saw its shadow and scratched at the

Ex-Convict Is Subdued By Tough Cowboy

Louis Tindall Nabs Bandit

FORT WORTH, Feb. 2. (U.P.)—Willard Deweese, 30, ex-convict who attempted a hold-up last night, has learned his lesson about tackling cowboys like Louis Tindall — even without six-guns.

Deweese was captured by Tindall, former rodeo trick rider who found the would-be robber in the back of his automobile.

"Give me the money," ordered the bandit when Tindall, attired in cowboy clothes, opened the door to enter his car. Tindall carried $275.

Takes Gun Away From Him

The cowboy's answer was to grab Deweese's pistol and take it away from him. The robber fled on foot, with Tindall in pursuit, firing five times toward Deweese. The latter jumped in an idle taxicab, but Tindall ordered the driver not to move.

When Deweese attempted to leave the stalled taxicab, Tindall subdued him with a blow over the head. A few minutes later two policemen arrived.

Deweese has been sentenced to prison here twice, once for a robbery-shooting and once for forgery.

Influenza Epidemic Rages In Louisiana

BATON ROUGE, La., Feb. 2. (AP)—An influenza epidemic, developing after the severe cold wave, has struck at least 2,500 children and industrial employes at Louisiana's capital and vicinity.

C. B. Turner, East Baton Rouge parish school superintendent, said at least 25 per cent of the parish enrollment of 9,000 were ill with influenza.

"At least 20 per cent of our teachers have 'flu,'" Turner declared.

Five hundred of the 7,500 workers at a chemical plant and two oil refineries were reported ill.

Forty-five cases of influenza were hospitalized today at Louisiana State university.

More than half the staff at the parish courthouse developed cases. A dozen policemen contracted it but no firemen.

Lubbock Occupants Of Auto In Collision Not Injured

Lubbock occupants of an automobile which was in collision with a motorcycle 15 miles south of Abilene at 6:30 o'clock Thursday night were uninjured. They were Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Cheatham of 1105 Avenue V and their small daughter, Betty.

Carlton Nutt and Hollis Nutt, jr., both 23, of San Angelo, riders of the motorcycle were slightly injured and were admitted to an Abilene hospital, the Associated Press reported.

Cheatham, in telephone conversation with employes of Lubbock Poultry & Egg company where he is employed, said his car was badly damaged.

The Cheathams were returning from Rockwood, Coleman county, where they formerly lived.

Bars In San Francisco Are Going In Red Because People Prefer To Drink At Home

SAN FRANCISCO, Feb. 2. (U.P.)—Drinking in San Francisco has been reduced to statistics by John Charles Houlihan, executive secretary of the Tavern Owners Association of California.

He has found that in San Francisco, only one drink per capita is consumed at the bars every two and a half days.

Is Against Law

The reason why Houlihan is secretary of the Tavern Owners' Association instead of the Saloon Keepers Association is that it is against the law in California to call a bar a saloon.

It must either be a Tavern, or a Cavern, or a Cuvette instead of a Buvette or anyone of a score or more of other circumlocutions. The one thing they have in common, regardless of the name they operate under, is that they all sell hard liquor, and that the name of the places leaves no doubt in anyone's mind that it is really a saloon.

Houlihan's statistics show that there are 1,338 mis-named saloons in San Francisco and each saloon keeper's share of the potential population is 500.

Must Do $30 Daily

Each tavern, or whatever it may be called, has to do $30 worth of business a day to keep out of the red. The overhead includes such fixed expenses as $1.50 a day for the license; $4 for wholesale liquor; $7 for the bartender; $2 for rent, and so on.

However, in addition to the 1,338 hard liquor licenses that are operated under a variety of names, most of which do not exist in the English language, Houlihan has found there are 438 beer and wine on-sale places; 1,126 off-sale retail hard liquor package licenses and 949 off-sale beer and wine licenses.

An analysis of his statistics, he says, warrants the conclusion that after the one drink per capita at the bar every two and a half days, the drinking San Franciscan goes home and really starts drinking.

As the Taverns, and Caverns, and Curvettes and Puffets instead of Buffets have a hard time making their $30 a day necessary to keep out of the red, the state board of equalization will endeavor to reduce them from 1,338 to 1,000.

Don Marshall, chief liquor control officer, reports that there is less drinking now than when the prohibition went into effect in 1919.

However, he reports that more women are drinking and the chief headache of bartenders is to keep enough stools at the bar free to permit an occasional male to have a drink.

Dogie Club To Be Organized By Negro Boys Here Sunday

A Dogie club will be organized at 2 o'clock Sunday afternoon by negro boys and more than 300 boys are expected to be present.

Emmett Galloway, counselor of Downtown Boys club, said the young negroes would meet in Messiah Presbyterian church and perfect plans for the club.

Recreation and study will be supervised for the boys by competent negro adults, under direction of Galloway. All kids of school age are eligible for membership.

There will be no expense in connection with the movement to minimize juvenile delinquency among the race, in much the same manner as for whites in the Downtown Boys club, Galloway said.

In addition to supervised play, Sunday character building services will be conducted each week by the counselor.

The negro chamber of commerce is assisting in the move.

A similar organization among Mexicans will be formed the following Sunday. The Latins will be Pintos.

CARROT CAKE

BERLIN (AP) — With butter and fats a real luxury in Germany, food dietitians are devising cake and other recipes which leave out as much of these and other scarce ingredients as possible. Grated carrots have been found a satisfactory substitute for eggs and fats in cake-baking. Nazis claim cakes so made taste "splendid."

Nightmare Voyage In Open Lifeboats On Icy Atlantic Is Described By Seamen

LONDON, Feb. 2. (AP)—A "nightmare voyage" in open lifeboats on the icy Atlantic in which 13 seamen froze to death, was described last night by 20 survivors of the 5,625-ton Greek liner Eleni Stathatos, torpedoed and sunk by a German submarine Jan. 28.

The survivors reached the Eire (Irish) shore today. They said they were in lifeboats for four days, during which they had to throw the frozen bodies of their 13 companions overboard.

The crew originally consisted of 32 Greeks and one Irishman, Michael Ryan.

Rammed Torpedo Home

Ryan said the submarine came to the surface near the ship Sunday morning, fired a shell over the bows, and then rammed a torpedo home.

The crew escaped in two boats.

"A heavy sea was running and the weather was bitter cold," said Ryan.

"Our hands and feet swelled up so much—we were so tired of rowing—it was awful!

"It was a bad dream. We were always cold, we were always tired, we were always hungry.

"Then the worst of all came Wednesday.

"There were the dead in the boat—13 Greeks. They had frozen to death. We threw them overboard.

"Later the second boat capsized. We had the larger boat, and we got the men out of the water.

"Early today we saw the Irish coast but we were so tired we couldn't row any more. It was terrible.

"A motorboat finally came out. And here I am."

Ryan and five others are in a hospital.

The chief checked through his officers until he found one who was an expert skater. Then he assigned him to skating duty at the park, with instructions to bring law and order to the pond.

Dancer Gets Hot As Matches Flare

STANFORD-LE-HOPE, Essex, England, Feb. 2. (AP) — Oscar James put his box of matches back in his hip pocket at a dance last night and hurried out on the floor when the orchestra struck up his favorite dance tune: "Boomps-A-Daisy."

His partner was Mrs. E. M. Maitland.

"Hands, knees, and boomps-a-daisy," jived the band, and James and Mrs. Maitland did.

They just had executed a particularly live "boomp" when the matches burst into flame.

James was unhurt; his pants were.

Campaign To Raise Military Funds For Finland Will Be Start

John O'Ryan Heads Drive

NEW YORK, Feb. 2 (AP) — Maj. Gen. John F. O'Ryan, commander of the 27th division of the A. E. F. during the World war, said today a nationwide campaign would begin Feb. 15 to raise money for military use in Finland.

O'Ryan, accepting the chairmanship of the newly organized "the Fighting Funds for Finland, Inc.," after twice conferring with Herbert Hoover, declared:

"Coordinated barbarism is on the march against the uncoordinated national units of civilization, and is knocking them off piece-meal.

Demand Realistic Aid

"The American conscience and American ideals demand realistic aid to the men of Finland, now on the firing line defending their families, their homes and their country."

Expressing belief there "should be no limitations upon the Finnish government as to the uses for which the monies are to be expended by it," he added that time was "the essence of effective aid."

Former President Hoover's fund-raising campaign is for Finnish civilian relief only. It excludes military purposes.

Clothesline Theft Worth About $25

Twenty-five dollars worth of household linens and other possessions was taken from a clothesline of the W. M. Ramsaier residence, at 1906 Tenth street, police were informed.

A cafe reported the overcoat of a guest had been stolen.

A negro porter reported a man was attempting to steal an automobile, but the suspect was booked with drunkenness instead.

A woman charged her husband with assault; in an informal complaint.

Typewriter Stolen

Clark Wood informed authorities a typewriter had been stolen from 204 Myrick building, in a burglary.

Burglars, perhaps youthful, made themselves "at home" and nearly wrecked a house at 1902 Texas avenue.

A fire had been built in the fireplace and evidence showed the visitors stayed long enough to eat nuts, police records showed. An elbow had been sawed from the drain pipe of the kitchen sink.

Listed as missing, in addition to the elbow, were a telephone and a wrench. The house belongs to W. A. Glasscock of route 1.

A typewriter valued at $25 had been stolen from his office in the Wall building, Elmo Wall told police.

Dub Comer of 2120 Eighth street reported a $25 overcoat and a $3 pair of gloves stolen from a car parked at the residence.

A blanket was stolen from the 2015 Tenth stret residence of Mrs. R. B. Walden.

Manuel Brooks' bicycle was stolen at his home, 224 Avenue H.

Troy Rogers of 2417 Wolffarth street said a $30 wrist watch was taken from the residence the last few days.

A tire, with wheel and tube, was stolen at the B. J. Keesee place on route 3.

Group School Meeting For Reserve Officers Is Set

A group school meeting for reserve officers of the South Plains will be conducted at 7:30 o'clock tonight in the military science building on Texas Technological college campus.

James W. Turnbow, cadet in the graduating class of the Tech unit of the Reserve Officers Training corps, will be instructor tonight. Subject will be "Obstacles, Trench, Road and Antitank". Turnbow is from Clifton.

Prof Frowns On Sleepers But Tries To Show Them Comfort

COLUMBIA, Mo., Feb. 2 (AP) — Breton Berry, associate professor of sociology at the University of Missouri, frowns on class sleepers — but makes them comfortable.

He has rigged up a six-foot army cot in his office. Any student too tired to stay awake is ordered to sleep out the class period on the cot.

The catch: The student is marked absent.

Tech Topics

Dorothy Shimotsu, born of Japanese parents, who finished requirements for a degree at conclusion of the fall semester at Texas Technological college, is to begin duties as assistant dietitian in the tubercular sanatorium near Carlsbad, Texas, Feb. 10.

Miss Shimotsu, who was registered from Brownsville, is a native Texan. Her father, graduate in agriculture from Colorado State College of Agriculture and Mechanical Arts, farms near Brownville. Her mother is a graduate of the Presbyterian seminary in Tokyo. Miss Shimotsu attended Brownsville Junior college before coming to Tech in 1937.

In contrast to conditions in previous years, there was no continuation of registration when classes of the spring semester opened this morning at Texas Tech.

A total of 3,442 students, or 107 more than the final total last spring, had paid fees when the official enrollment period ended Thursday afternoon. Of that number, 3,303 had completed registration, said Registrar W. P. Clement. The long session total is 4,170.

Those who had not completed scheduling of classes must wait until the late registration periods to complete the procedure. Late registration will be conducted from 2 to 5 o'clock Saturday afternoon and from 3 to 5 o'clock Tuesday and Friday afternoons next week, in basement classrooms in the library building. Late registration fee will be charged after Saturday.

An article on rainmaking experiments of the late C. W. Post, by C. D. Eaves, is to appear in the April issue of the Southwestern Historical Quarterly.

Eaves, history professor at Texas Tech, was on leave of absence during the fall semester to work toward a doctorate at the University of Texas. Subject of his dissertation will be "The Post Colony in West Texas."

Two articles by Eaves on the early life of the Texas born breakfast food specialist already have been published. "C. W. Post, Colonizer of West Texas" appeared in the Southwestern Historical Quarterly last July and an article entitled "Some Experiments of C. W. Post" appeared in the 1939 West Texas Historical Yearbook.

Several Texas Tech students are in West Texas hospital.

All are in satisfactory condition except Richard Golden, seriously ill with pneumonia, said one of the college physicians. Golden is from Monahans.

Sylvan Pederson of Clifton, R. C. Johnson, jr., of Lubbock, and Clark Pace of Bowie have undergone appendectomies this week.

Bill Hodges, student from Childress, became ill and fell at College Inn Thursday, suffering a head injury.

Quenton Hamrock of Colorado and Jack Wells of Wellington, suffering influenza, probably will be wissed from the hospital today.

Legal Machinery Once More Jerks Up Juvenile Boys

The courts continue to ride herd on the juveniles.

Two Lubbock boys were sentenced Thursday to terms in the state boys training school and two others were paroled. All are 16.

One youth who admitted theft from lockers at Senior High school and burglary of a Garlington Food store was sentenced to four years by Judge E. L. Pitts of 99th district court. A similar sentence was imposed on another for theft of a tire and rim.

A third was given one year and paroled to his parents for speeding. He previously had admitted a similar offense and had been questioned about peeping into residences.

Drivers license of the fourth was revoked for six months and he was paroled.

Stockholders Hold Session In City

Farmers and ranchers from nine South Plains counties gathered at the Hilton hotel this morning for the annual stockholders meeting of the Lubbock Production Credit corporation. A luncheon was held at noon and the session will close between 3 and 4 p. m.

Election of two directors, the reading of reports and a talk by John H. Seale, jr., of Houston, secretary of the Production Credit Corporation of Houston, will highlight the meeting. Earl Davis of Acuff, president, and Lee F. York of Lubbock, secretary-manager, will make reports on the association.

Retiring Directors

Retiring directors are: A. R. Brownfield of Brownfield and Roy Fitzgerald of Plains. Other officers include: Roy Sherman of Seminole and T. W. Gabbert, of Ralls, directors; and W. E. Melton, jr., assistant manager.

Following election of the new directors, a directors' meeting is scheduled at the Hilton Saturday at which time new officers will be elected for 1940.

The corporation maintains offices in room 210 of the Lubbock National bank building. Loans to farmers and ranchers to finance their operations are made by the organization which is owned by the shareholders in the 9-county area.

Quarterly Conference Of The Methodist Church Tonight

The first quarterly conference of the First Methodist church will be conducted at 7:30 o'clock tonight, said Dr. L. N. Lipscomb, pastor.

Dr. O. P. Clark, whose title has become district superintendent rather than presiding elder, under new laws of the combined Methodist church, will preside.

"All officials of the church are asked to attend, and the membership-at-large is invited," said Dr. Lipscomb.

Spring Must Be Just Around The Corn

(By The United Press)

Put away that overcoat, neighbor, it looks like an early spring. This is groundhog day and from conditions over the state this morning Arctomys Monax's search for his shadow will be a futile one.

Light rain pelted scattered portions of Texas from El Paso to Louisiana and from the Red river to the gulf. At dawn those sections not reporting rain were cloudy.

If the situation remains the same throughout the day it will mean that the groundhog, emerging from his hole after a winter's repose, will see no shadow of himself and will stay in the open for his spring chores.

All this means—if you're a firm believer in the groundhog legend—that winter's worst weather has passed and spring is just around the corner.

Should the sun break through and give the furry little weather prophet a glimpse of his shadow, the story has it that he immediately ducks back into his winter refuge in certainty that six more weeks of frigid weather are due.

Texas temperatures this morning were mild, except in the Panhandle where Amarillo and Pampa reported sub-freezing weather.

Rain and temperature reports just before dawn were:

Texarkana 44, cloudy; Dallas, 48, light rain; Tyler 44, light rain; Fort Worth 47, light rain; Waco 52, light drizzle; San Antonio 58, light rain; Navasota 53, light rain; Houston 52, cloudy. Galveston 52, light rain; Corpus Christi 56, cloudy; Brownsville 63, cloudy; Gainesville 42, light rain; Wichita Falls 37, cloudy; Pampa 28, cloudy; Amarillo 28, cloudy; El Paso 50, light rain; Wink, 40, cloudy; Big Spring 36, light rain, and Abilene 37, light rain.

Approximately 200 Affected In Organization Of Tailors

Organization of a Lubbock unit of the Association of Texas Cleaners was completed Thursday night at a meeting attended by 65 persons in Hilton hotel.

J. K. Medders, president of the Lubbock union, reported satisfaction in a recent membership drive. Nearly 65 members were signed, he said.

The union seeks to better working conditions of employes of cleaning establishments, with agreement from employers. Approximately 60 per cent of Lubbock cleaners have endorsed the move, Medders said.

Approval of a constitution, regulating wages and hours, is expected soon. Nearly 200 employes of Lubbock tailor shops are eligible to join the organization.

Another meeting is planned for Tuesday night in Lubbock hotel.

The entire world has only about $110,000,000,000 in money in circulation.

WPA Projects For Two South Plains Counties Approved

Two South Plains counties, Garza and Hale, were included in a long list of Texas counties with approved Works Projects administration jobs, according to word from state headquarters at San Antonio.

Garza project is the elimination of unsanitary devices in rural and suburban areas throughout the county where sewer systems are impractical. WPA funds alloted were $8,229; county and state department of health funds, $3,931; 21 workers will be employed.

Hale, improve Plainview streets by surfacing and building curbs and gutters; WPA funds, $4,654; city of Plainview funds, $7,104; 46 workers will be employed.

The Plainview work has started, it was said at the district office here. Work will begin in Garza county about Feb. 20.

SURPLUS AIDS CHILDREN

RAMONA, Calif. (AP)—This town quickly took up an offer by J. T. Dixon of the State Relief administration to make surplus commodities available for school luncheons. Adequate diet for undernourished children was the idea behind the offer, Dixon said.

Twelve Lubbock Lions Attend Dinner Held At Big Spring

Twelve Lubbock Lions attended a testimony dinner at Big Spring last night when 400 Lions from West Texas heard Melvin Jones, Chicago, the founder of Lionism and secretary-general, speaker at a program in the Settles hotel.

Fifteen clubs were represented, said Dr. Marshall Harvey, president, who headed the delegation. The Jones address was the principal one of the evening.

From Lubbock were: Dr. Harvey, George Watkins, H. J. Bingham, Dr. Allen Hamilton, formerly of Big Spring; Dr. W. A. Petty, Noel Stalnaker, C. J. Norton, Dr. S. C. Arnett, Robert H. Bean, W. H. Evans, Homer Maxey and Huddleston Wright. With the group was E. H. Loring of San Antonio.

Buffoons were originall mountebanks in Roman theaters.

Guests Get Hammer And Nail At Party To Hang Up Coat

CHICAGO, Feb. 2 (AP)—Each of the guests arriving at James Snyder's quarters in the Great Northern hotel for a party received a hammer and nail.

Eyebrows arched in surprise until the host explained:

"So you will have a place to hang your hat and coat."

One and all pounded spikes into the wall with great gusto.

They were informed then that the hotel was being evacuated and would be torn down soon because the new subway would be dug in adjacent Dearborn street.

Stan Laurel's Spouse Gives Up All Claim To His Name

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 2 (AP)—Illiana Laurel today formally surrendered all claims to the name of Stan Laurel, sad-eyed movie comedian and her ex-husband, in exchange for $6,500.

After Laurel obtained a preliminary decree of divorce last spring, the Russian singer sought to set aside the divorce and attendant property settlement on the ground that she was intimidated at the time.

She failed in that attempt and today she presented to the superior court a new property agreement.

DEATH TOLL RISING

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California received the unwelcome news from its motor vehicle statistical bureau that the state leads all others in deaths from automobile accidents; and that based on records of the first 10 months of 1939 the accident toll is growing.

More Rainfall With Cooler Temperatures Forecast For Futu

anged Cycle Said Certain

BY FRED BAILEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2. — There is no doubt about it, says the U. S. weather bureau, it has been unusually hot and dry the last few years.

Thousands have written the bureau asking, "Is our climate changing?" "Not necessarily," answers the bureau, "but the weather certainly is."

Many people confuse weather and climate, F. W. Reichelderfer, chief of the bureau, explained. Weather, he said, is the condition over short periods — days, weeks, months and even several years — while climate is average weather over a much longer period, perhaps 10 years.

"During the present decade there has been a decided tendency to dry weather and for more than 20 years a tendency to abnormal warmth, notwithstanding an occasional bad flood or cold winter," Reichelderfer said.

Climate Phases Vary

Climate does change, but it will take records for a good many more years to prove that it has in the United States, he said. Weather bureau records, however, indicate the recent hot, dry years were just a warm phase of normal climate.

"The present warm, dry phase is typified by three nationwide destructive drouths — 1930, 1934 and 1936—and by a general warmth not exceeded for a century," Reichelderfer said.

As an example of subnormal rainfall, he brought out a chart showing that in the Dakotas the shortage of water, as compared with normal, was 3,000 tons per acre between 1930 and 1936. Those states were in an area hardest hit by the drouths.

The summers are getting hotter and the winters milder, bureau records showed. For the country as a whole, every winter for the past 25 years, with the exception of those of 1917-18 and 1935-36, have been uniformly warmer than normal.

How long this warm, dry trend in weather will continue, the bureau will not even guess. But on one point the weather experts are agreed.

It will be followed by a cooler, wetter phase, when there will be more rainfall and lower temperatures.

Higher temperatures all over the world during the past 25 years indicate that the heat from the sun may have increased temporarily for some reason unknown to scientists. High temperatures and deficiency in moisture usually but not always, coincide.

Groundhogs in western New York burrowed through four inches of new snow but there was enough sunshine for shadow-casting.

Most of New England, except Vermont and central Maine, was cloudy.

A snowstorm in New Mexico kept woodchucks underground.

But whatever the groundhog prophets discerned, Dr. Gustav Swanson, University of Minnesota farm zoologist, summed up the reaction of scientists.

"Nuts!" said he.

Given "Go Ahead" Signal

me Minister Chamberlain was a "go ahead" signal by the e of Commons last night to conduct the war under his own program as an opposition demand for a special economic coordinator in the war cabinet was voted down.

The House rejected, 185 to 90, a laborite motion for the addition of a minister to plan "the resources of the nation for successful prosecution of the war."

Chamberlain said he had "reached the conclusion that this is no time for a change of this sort."

to restore at least a part of the appropriations. Some were hopeful the Senate might restore the cuts.

Newsmen told Mr. Roosevelt that Senator Harrison (D-Miss) had said that the government had a moral obligation to provide $200,000,000 for parity payments to farmers. The budget carried no estimate for parity payments.

Mr. Roosevelt recalled that he had stated in his budget message that he would have to recommend additional amounts for farm benefits if hopes were not fulfilled and prices did not go up a little further.

The chief executive had no answer, other than a smile, when a newsman asked whether the press still would be coming up to Hyde Park with him next February.

That was just another attempt, as futile as numerous ones that had preceded it, to draw the president out on a third-term.

"Finnish Bandits Will Be Destroyed," Is Challenge Hurled By Radio From Moscow

(By The United Press)

LONDON, Feb. 2.—The Moscow radio, less than a day after the statement of President Kyosti Kallio of Finland that Finland was ready to negotiate an honorable peace, broadcast today an editorial from the newspaper Pravda, official organ of the communist party, asserting that "The Finnish bandits will be destroyed and exterminated."

"We will achieve victory over them under our great leader Stalin," the editorial continued.

There was no indication whether the editorial, from today's issue of the newspaper, was a reply to Kallio's speech.

The Moscow radio broadcast excerpts from the Pravda editorial. The principal one was, textually:

"Since the Anglo-French imperialists provoked a new war they tried to drag in the Soviet by instigating the white Finnish scum to attack us. The Finnish bandits will, however, be destroyed. We will achieve victory over them under our great leader Stalin."

Stock Market

SELECTED STOCKS BID UP

NEW YORK, Feb. 2 (AP) — Selected stocks were bid up moderately in today's market but many issues suffered from neglect.

A few aircrafts, steels and specialties developed timid followings for gains of fractions to around 2 points. Dealings were slack in rallying periods, however, and, toward the finish, top marks were cut or eradicated in some cases. Losses also were plentiful, volume was in the vicinity of 800,000 shares.

Revival of milk buying spirits was attributed principally to the belief that at least a temporary right-about was in the cards because, for seven consecutive sessions, the list, on average, had been down or unchanged, the flow of bright earnings statements stimulated a few stocks but, for the most part, were ignored. Receding business trends, politics and the European war continued as handicaps.

Cluett Peabody was a strong spot, recording a new 1939-40 peak. Up the greater part of the day were National Steel, Bethlehem, International Paper & Power, Dresser Mfg., Douglas Aircraft, Boeing, Canada Dry and Montgomery Ward. Continental Motors was the most active gainer. Resistant were Dow Chemical, Union Carbide, Eastman Kodak, J. C. Penney and American Can.

Bonds were uneven. Commodities improved.

Rumania's main fear was said to be that by becoming Germany's economic ally she would be inviting attack by Britain and France and possibly become the war's main battlefield.

Rumania was said equally to fear a German thrust should she balk at Germany's demands and to have scant confidence in British-French guarantees of help because of her distance from them and Poland's fate.

Thus she wants to follow a middle course.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, Feb. 2 (AP) — The wheat market today staged its best rally in more than a week, prices advancing a cent a bushel or more.

Many traders regarded the market's action as a technical reversal brought about by the fact that prices have declined rather steadily so far this year. Reports of more activity in the cash wheat and flour the past day or so and several private messages stressing doubt that much improvement in winter wheat condition has occurred as a result of snows encouraged buyers.

Wheat closed 1-1¼ higher than yesterday, May 97¼-⅛, July 94⅝-½; corn ¼-⅝ up, May 53⅛-¼, July 55⅛; oats unchanged to ⅝ higher.

American News Correspondent In Japan Is Facing Charge

TOKYO, Feb. 2 (U.P.) — The foreign office announced today that James R. Young, International News Service correspondent, had been charged with violating the army criminal code by disseminating abroad slanderous articles and rumors about the Japanese forces.

Japanese Diet In An Uproar

(By The United Press)

TOKYO, Feb. 2. —Tokao Saito, a leading member of the Minseito party, threw the diet into an uproar today with a caustic attack on the government's policies and a demand for a statement on how long the war in China would last.

The bitter attack by Saito, who was educated at Harvard university, threw the lower house of parliament into pandemonium and created a political issue. Members of his own and other parties issued a statement asserting that his "remarks were detrimental to the lofty ideals of the empire."

Army Joins Attack

The army joined in the attack on Saito and said that he had "made open insults against the objectives of the sacred war in China."

War ministry officials demanded that Saito withdraw his criticisms and it was announced that War Minister General Skunroku Hata would speak in reply to him in the diet tomorrow.

The government's plans for eventual peace with China were "lofty and idealistic," Saito said in his speech in parliament.

Wants Outline Of Plans

He demanded that the government outline its plans for a settlement of the undeclared war with China, the exact nature of such a settlement and how long it would be before it could be reached.

The great sacrifices already made by Japan should constitute the most fundamental basis for a settlement of the struggle with China, he said. He demanded information as to what the government means when it says it is striving for a statement on the government policy with regard to the Soviet union, the communist international and the impending Chinese central government to be established by the Japanese army under former Premier Wang Ching-Wei.

It was not expected that the diet would consider Japan's trade relations with the United States until next week since it is now concerned chiefly with domestic issues, including the acute electric power shortage due to lack of coal, living costs and the incident created by British seizure of 21 German seamen from the Japanese liner Asama Maru.

craft fire turned the planes back.

It was announced officially that bombing activity yesterday was fairly heavy, with 20 localities, mostly rural, attacked Two persons were killed and seven wounded, it was said.

Aimed At Large City

The offensive in Karella, where entrenched Finns were reported holding against the new-style Russian battle tactics, was aimed directly at the seaport of Viipuri, Finland's second largest city, and pivoted on attacks in the vicinity of Summa, 20 miles to the south.

At the same time, a Finnish army communique reported Russian attacks repulsed in the Petsamo area of the far north, on the Salla front just above the Arctic circle and on the Lake Ladoga front in the southeast.

Charge Behind Tanks

An Associated Press correspondent with the Finnish armies on the Mannerheim line said red army infantry charged behind the advancing tank-sledge barrier on the isthmus front after six hours of artillery preparation.

In this new assault, in which 130 fighting and bombing planes participated, machine-gunners and riflemen on the sledges protected the tanks from Finnish grenade throwers.

The fighting lasted through the night but Finnish officers said the defense line was intact and that 15 Soviet batteries had been silenced.

"Great Profile" Keeps Them All Guessing What Stunt He Will Pull Next On Broadway

(By The United Press)

NEW YORK, Feb. 2.—John Barrymore's Broadway revival ran headlong today into the conflicting demands of a reconciled wife, a jilted protege and a forlorn daughter.

A show-down was due at any moment between the wife, Elaine Barrie, 25, and the protege, blonde, 22-year-old Doris Dudley, over who is going to have the role of one of the great lover's daughters in his play "My Dear Children." Miss Barrie had the role while the show was on tour, until she deserted both it and Barrymore because he spanked her too hard in the acting at St. Louis.

Wants To Be Spanked

Now that she and Barrymore have been reconciled, at least for the last two nights, she wants to be spanked nightly again, and Miss Dudley is ready to fight for the privilege of being the great lover's subject.

The daughter, 17-year-old Diana Barrymore, by Barrymore's first marriage to Michael Strange, was not interested in the play but she still hoped her father would leave "that woman," end his wanderings and go "home" to her apartment.

Legal Problem Raised

The Barrymore-Barrie reconciliation, which began in a night club yesterday morning when she moved in on his table over the protests of both Miss Barrymore and Miss Dudley who were helping him celebrate his Broadway opening, already had raised a complicated legal problem. His and her lawyers went into a huddle over what effect their spending a night together would have on their divorce case pending in California.

Barrymore made no secret over where he and Miss Barrie had spent the night after leaving the club, and where they spent last night.

"Why," he said, stepping from her hotel apartment yesterday evening, "I spent the night here. And what of it? I have it on good authority that it's still legal in New York for a man to spend the night with his lawfully wedded wife. Or am I misinformed?"

Elaine Old-Fashioned

He was asked what had changed his mind about women since he arrived by train Wednesday holding another of his stage daughters, Patricia Waters, in affectionate embrace, announcing that from now on "no more sophisticated women for me; I'll take the old-fashioned type."

"Oh," he replied, "when you come right down to it, Elaine isn't so sophisticated. There are times when she is extremely old-fashioned, thank God."

Just before he had left Miss Barrie's apartment for the theater, she had admitted reporters to see the happy domestic scene; he in robe and slippers; she serving his dinner. She asked the reporters to please leave while he ate but he said:

"Hell, let 'em stay. I've done everything else in public—so why shouldn't I eat in public?"

they would have traveled.

A gun club and a few tourist camps, none with telephones, are the only habitations along the road.

There was belief that they might be at one of these.

If the rain and poor roads had stalled the Gables, studio officials said, they probably would not suffer. The station wagon carried complete outing equipment.

Gable, top M-G-M star, a week ago signed a new seven-year contract which will bring him about $2,000,000. He was given a month's vacation as a bonus and he and Miss Lombard went to Lower California to hunt.

Yesterday was Gable's birthday and Winkler and Carpenter flew here to be with Gable and Miss Lombard for a birthday celebration at the Ensenada hotel. Their failure to appear prompted the flight to the ranch.

H. F. Godeke, head professor of mechanical engineering, and J. C. Hardgrave, assistant professor, this morning announced an addition to the program. A movie entitled "Union Melt" and showing a new process in welding will be shown at 1 o'clock Saturday afternoon in the engineering auditorium. By the process, material one inch thick may be welded at the rate of two feet per minute.

Those attending the conference listed occupations as welders, chemists, salesmen, students, tank builders, machinists, blacksmiths and officials of manufacturing and welding companies. Welders were in the majority.

New Equipment Shown

New types of welding equipment perfected in the last year are being exhibited in the college mechanical engineering shops in connection with the conference. Visitors were to go to the shops at 1:50 o'clock this afternoon, after hearing an address at 1 o'clock by A. R. Keller, representing the Bureau of Labor Statistics of Texas. He was to speak on "American Society of Mechanical Engineering Code Requirements for Fusion Welding of Boilers and Unfired Pressure Vessels."

Professor Godeke presided this morning and C. K. Rickel, Big Three Welding company, Fort Worth, was to preside this afternoon.

O. V. Adams, Tech dean of engineering, will preside Saturday morning. R. K. Hughes of the Linde Air Products company of Tulsa will speak on "Welding for Profit" at 8 o'clock Saturday morning, L. C. VIRGINIA CITY, Nev.—It was back in the last century that the Comstock Lode dazzled the country with its rich production of gold and silver—but there's wealth in the old hills yet. Constructive Progress Said Aim Of United Mine Workers

By E. E. EASTERLY
Associated Press Staff Writer

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Feb. 2. — The United Mine Workers of America adjourned its 36th constitutional convention Thursday, assuring the nation that its sole objective was "constructive progress" for all people.

"Let the country be assured," John L. Lewis told the 2,400 delegates, "that in all our plans and thoughts there is no thought to do anything to the detriment of any American citizen.

Work For Progress

"Our every thought is to make constructive progress, not alone for ourselves, but for all the people of the country, our nation and our flag."

The UMW president said the convention, representing 600,000 miners, would have "profound influence" on certain public questions.

"Can there be any doubt," he asked, "that the workers are opposed to war and that labor won't support a statesman who will lead the nation into war to carry out some fancy foreign policy?"

What They Did

Before ending their two-week session, the delegates took the following action today:

Voted to create a national policy and scale committee which will prepare wage scales for submission to coal operators in March, 1941;

Reiterated a demand for a 30-hour work week now 35 hours;

Decided to seek a national joint wage scale meeting with bituminous coal operators of the nation; and

Disapproved of a proposal to accept transfer cards for all CIO international unions, because the question should be decided by the CIO.

Tech And Hardin-Simmons To Resume Athletic Relations With Bang Tonig

Cage Contest "Natural" In Every Respect

Steeped in tradition and rivalry, athletic relations between Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons will be resumed with a bang at 8 o'clock tonight when the Red Raiders and Cowboys tangle in the opening classic of the most-talked-about cage series of the season.

Scene of the tussle tonight will be the Tech gym.

A "natural" in every respect, the contest will find the Techs and Abilene aggregation mixing it for the 21st time in more than a decade of cage competition—that is, for which there are records available.

The game will mark the "sugar" series between the two basketball clubs of Coach Berl Huffman and Coach Frank Kimbrough. And it wouldn't be surprising to find the casaba gentry hanging from the rafters even before Official Jack Sisco's whistle echoes through the rambling structure. Record throngs are expected both here and in the Cowboy Corral Saturday night.

It was "way back when" just after the establishment of the college here, that this rivalry between the Scarlet and Black and Purple and Gold was given impetus. Since, it has become one of the factors which more or less contributed to the rapid growth of Tech, especially.

Is "Sugar" Series

Summing up the records of games between the Raiders and Cowboys, it is noted that for the decade, 1926-1936 and on to the present time, for that matter, the Crimsons have captured 10 games and lost the same to one score contests played and entered on the books within that 10-year period.

The Raiders split that first series, did the same the following year but in 1928 swept both contests. Hardin-Simmons came back in the following spring and handily drubbed the Raiders, split the next series by decisive scores and resorted to the one-game plan again in 1931. In 1932, the Raiders lost the initial tussle, 46 to 36, but came back strong to take the finale, 50 to 46. No games were played in 1933, but the following year and the next, Tech came up to the tape with four wins.

Cowboys Won Last

The last time the Techs and Cowboys clashed was in the spring of 1936. And memories of that particular feud, which was inaugurated amid speculation and the like, are quite clear in the Techs' minds. Hardin-Simmons "just" won all four tilts played, all by decisive margins.

Favorites mean nothing when these two squads clash. Ordinarily, it is the team that is "supposed" to win according to the dope that loses by the largest score. Such could easily be the case this time.

Both Teams Experienced

Experience versus experiences and height against height will be the order on the menu tonight. The starting quintets of Coach Frank Kimbrough and Coach Huffman will be polished to the helm. Each will find it more or less embarrassing to lose in this revival of relations between the two schools—a move hailed with applause over the entire state.

For the Techs, the same five which have been the mainstays in 13 triumphs of 18 games they have played this season will be starting against a revamped Abilene lineup.

Brown, Roper Start

Coach Huffman likely will send Marshall Brown and Robert Percival, two veterans who have hit the net with consistency in recent weeks, in at the forward slots. At the pivot post will be Bauman Roper, the blond thatched lad who has given Brown a run for his money in the individual scoring race this year, even forging ahead of him occasionally.

Guards will be Curley Risinger and T. L. Gilley, a couple of boys who know their way around on anybody's court. They should be able to do something about the Cowboy threats which have developed into dangerous goal shooters down Abilene way.

Arriving this morning, Coach Kimbrough and his cohorts will take it easy throughout the day awaiting their big chance tonight.

Brother Combination Threat

Probable starters for the Cowboys include: Porter Osborne, a newcomer who became eligible at mid-term, and Bob Cowsar, a one-letter veteran, at the forward positions. Handling center duties will be Grady Osborne, Porter's older brother. Grady is an elongated 6-foot, 7-inch giant who has averaged 10.2 points per game this year to pace the Cowboy individual scoring. He has earned two letters on the court and is rated one of the best shots in the business. Guards will be Dudley Reed and Deward Marcum, both lettermen.

That aggregation averages 6-foot, 1-inch. The Cowboys' season record is blotched with a top-heavy number of losses, but that doesn't detract anything from the fact that an inspired game is expected from them tonight.

Double Header Carded

Immediately preceding the main attraction between the Red Raiders and Cowboys, the Picador charges of Coaches Dudley Akin and Bill Amo will tangle with the Lorenzo Independents. This game starts at 6:45.

Forty cents will admit spectators to both games of the double header.

Reports from Abilene are to effect that several carloads of fans are expected to journey here for the tussle, the procedure being reversed tomorrow night with Lubbock enthusiasts following the Crimsons.

CAN'T KEEP A GOOD COACH DOWN!—Not Coach Berl Huffman of the Texas Tech's Red Raiders, anyway. This shot, typical of the many scenes in which Burly Berl is seen at cage contests in which his charges are competing, in all likelihood will be duplicated many times tonight at the Tech gym and again in Abilene tomorrow night. The reason: his Crimsons are tangling with the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys in an important series. Standing with Coach Huffman and also giving his all for the boys on the court is elongated Jake Geron, one of the more improved players on the squad.

McLemore Gets New Lease On Life; Girl Jockeys Are To Go Into Action On Sunday

By HENRY McLEMORE
United Press Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Calif., Feb. 2. — Yesterday as I was sitting around having a cocktail in the same city with Hedy Lamarr, Lana Turner, Vivian Leigh and Jean Arthur, someone mentioned that girl jockeys were going to ride in a race at the Agua Caliente track on Sunday.

Had they said a submarine had been sighted in my bathtub I couldn't have been more interested, and I immediately told one of my social secretaries to catch a street car and go ask the parole commissioner if it would be all right for me to go to Mexico over the week end.

Trouble Is Expected

If he consents to let me go south of the border, down Mexico way (I'm singing at this moment, even if you aren't) I'll be at Caliente when the girls get to galloping. Without ever having seen girl jockeys in action I strongly suspect there is going to be a lot of trouble connected with the whole thing.

In the first place, no one is going to be able to identify the horse they bet on by the silks of the jockey. Don't try to tell me that any girl is going to wear any silks that are handed to her, regardless of color, cut, or fit. The blonde jockeys are going to insist on becoming shades of blue, no matter what the real colors are of the owners they are riding for. And if you think any red head in the bunch is going out dressed in a cerise shirt, then you don't know as much about women as I do.

Ride Like She Pleases

Another thing, what woman is going to pay any attention to the instructions given to her in the paddock by the trainer as to how he wants the horse ridden? She'll ride the horse just as she pleases. The average woman is independent enough, but give one of them a whip, as these girl jockeys will have, and she'll be her own boss.

Then there is the question of the weights. As all you old horse players know the weight a horse carries is very important. But who'll be able to believe weights at Agua Caliente on Sunday? Women just don't go around revealing their honest weights.

And what will happen in case of a photo finish? Is there any woman with insufficient vanity to think they're taking a picture of the horse she is riding and not of her? Once she realizes there is a possibility of having her picture taken at the finish line she will forget all about riding and spend the last 16th of a mile primping. The horse will have to get along the best he can as the gal jockey powders her nose, adjusts her cap more becomingly, and daubs on fresh lipstick. When she crosses the finish line she will be sitting straight up in the saddle giving the camera the old smile.

Startling Information

Don't be surprised if, after this race with the girl jockeys, you read such startling information as this:

"Miss Fifi Mahoney was suspended for 10 days by the stewards for throwing her compact at Jockey Marie Dizzione while rounding the far turn."

Or—

"Miss Eunice Partsmart and Miss Doris Cluny were fined $100 each and set down for the remainder of the meeting because of gossiping on the backstretch during today's running of the lassie stakes."

Junior High Is Determined To Get Perfect Victory Year

Centering their ambitions on making it a perfect year in the matter of victories, Lubbock Junior High school's amazing Cowboy cagers Thursday afternoon thumped the Sweetwater junior delegation, 29 to 12, to retain their lily white slate.

The triumph marked the fourth in a row for the charges of Coach Lovic Liston. And speculation on a perfect season in the cage game as well as for the gridiron is not so very unusual among loyal Cowboy backers.

McCurry Paces Scoring

In fact, it is not at all an impossibility.

Primo McCurry, veteran forward, set things on fire for awhile with his sensational goal work, the ace cager grabbing scoring honors for the day with 15 tallies.

Captain Joe L. Thompson, forward, and Hollis Walker, guard, were tied for second place honors in individual scoring with six tallies each. Other Cowboys playing and their scores if any included: Ragland, Hubert Bechtol, center, 2; Robert Brewer, Ezell Wallace and Kemp Lanford.

For Sweetwater, the following played: C. McElmurray, forward; R. Taylor, forward 2; B. Stasser, center, 2; B. F. Hand, guard; Hedrick, sub guard, 4; A. B. Gee, guard, 4.

Coach Liston's boys journey to Sweetwater next Friday.

Harvesters To Seek Revenge In Cage Tilt

Coach Odus Mitchell's Pampa Harvesters, a gang of elongated hoopsters who had their collective heart set on winning the "Big Five" title, will make a last desperate bid for a place in the Panhandle's cage sun tonight when the confident Lubbock High Westerners invade the north Texas city for a conference tussle.

Saturday night, Coach "Goober" Keyes and his boys will take on the revenge-seeking Amarillo Sandies in the helium city high school gym.

Both Seek Revenge

Outcome of these two crucial clashes will go far, in fact, will practically decide whether the Black and Gold shall wrest the crown from the hands of the inexperienced Sandies, defending titlists, or allow Pampa or Plainview to cop the crown.

Coach Keyes and his traveling squad of veterans left Lubbock shortly after noon for the contest with the Sickle Wielders tonight. They will return to Amarillo tonight.

Both Pampa and Amarillo will be after Lubbock blood as the Westerners were the boys who upset well laid plans of both teams last week-end to add another notch in their "games won" column. As things turned out, the surprising Bronc Busters came through with a 23 to 20 decision over the Harvesters and the next night followed up with an even more convincing victory over Amarillo, 31 to 21.

Plainview "Darkhorse"

Teams in the "Big Five" play two games with each other, on a home and home basis, and should the Westerners triumph in one or both of their road engagements, only Plainview's "darkhorse" Bulldogs would stand in the way. However, it must be remembered that Pampa could easily take the lead with a win tonight, the Harvesters having won three and lost one, while the Westerners have won two and lost none.

Those making the trip north include the following players, all veterans: L. A. Storrs, Frank Smith, Leete Jackson, James Barker, Pete Cawthon, Max Walthall, Roland Nabors, Robert McKinnon, Joe Tyson, James Kelley, J. D. Milner, Francis Bearden and J. A. Blackwell, if he has recovered from a cold sufficiently.

Lamesa Here Tuesday

Monday night, the Westerners journey to Lamesa to take on the Tornadoes. Tuesday night, the Dawson county boys journey here And next Friday night, the Borger Bulldogs and Westerners tangle in their only game of the season in the local gym.

Two Women Stars Battle For Title

By GAYLE TALBOT
Associated Press Sports Writer

CORAL GABLES, Fla., Feb. 2.—Having recovered somewhat from the near-freezing temperatures of last weekend, the citizens of Miami and their winter visitors were out in warm sunshine today to follow what promised to be one of the best women's golf matches in recent years.

Meeting in the 36-hole final of the annual Miami Biltmore tournament were Betty Jameson of San Antonio, the national champion, and Patty Berg of Minneapolis, four-time previous winner of this event.

The two girls apparently have reached the peak of their form. Without much doubt, they are the best in the country.

Neither had much difficulty reaching the final. Patty simply breezed through her opponents, while Miss Jameson was extended only by Dorothy Kirby, the Atlanta star. In yesterday's semi-finals Patty overwhelmed Marion Miley of Lexington, Ky., a Curtis cup player, 5 and 4. Betty loafed to a 3 and 2 win over Shirley Ann Johnson of Winnetka, Ill.

Though the Texas girl holds the national title, today's match offered her an opportunity to make it official. For when she won her crown last summer, Patty was home recovering from an operation for appendicitis.

They played each other twice before in recent years, each winning a decision.

Second Day Of Action In Cage Tourney At Levelland Is On

LEVELLAND, Feb. 2. (Special)—With one of the largest competing fields of any cage tournament in this part of the state, the all-West Texas boys high school basketball meet swung into the second day of action at 9 o'clock this morning.

First round games were to continue until late in the afternoon, at which time the second round tussles were to get underway.

Semi-finals and finals are scheduled for Saturday, with the championship clash carded for that night. The tourney started Thursday.

Levelland Triumphs

Levelland and Frenship forged into the second round in opening games with decisive triumphs. They meet in a second round battle later Whiteface, 31 to 22, and Frenship whipped Pettit, 29 to 20. Other first round tilts found Smyer eliminating Amherst, 29 to 15 and Sundown ekeing out a 20 to 19 decision over Wellman.

Other teams entered include: Idalou, Abernathy, both strong district contenders, O'Donnell, Clauene, Klondike, Meadow, Post, Morton, and Union.

Gloves Entry List Grows

Without reservation one of the outstanding such events in the state, the fourth annual Lubbock Avalanche-Journal District Golden Gloves tournament—which gets under way next Monday night for a three-night stand—will top this area's winter sports program with room to spare.

Boasting an entry list that has hurtled well past the century mark, with the demand for ducats growing, and with a goodly majority of those planning to participate putting the polishing touches to their workouts the best fist fest in the history of the Golden Gloves in this area is forecast.

Three Nights Certain

Definitely decided on a three-night show, the district committee yesterday continued preparations for a tournament packed with action plus. Just jotting down the names of the fighters on the present entry list, the committee has indicated that there would be approximately 35 bouts Monday night, all in the first round classification; about 10 less in the quarter-finals and introduction to the semi-finals Tuesday night, and approximately 24 tussles for the main attraction.

Deadline for entries passed at midnight, but several additional filled in cards are expected in the mails today. An expected late rush brought 13 entries to the office Thursday, seven of them from the Mexican section, which staged an elimination tourney last night and nominated seven promising leather slingers.

From Plainview came two popular fighters to look in on the workout at the "downtown gym," and scout some of their probable opponents. The Plainview delegation consisted of Edward Sutterfield, a favored middleweight, winner of his division in the Floydada and Plainview preliminary, and Heavyweight Jimmie Hodges, who won a decision over the Lubbock and Lockney favorite, Fats Mitchell, in the Floydada meet. With Hodges and Sutterfield, who kindly posed for pictures, was A. C. Bumpass, Plainview sports enthusiast and former Lubbock citizen, who brought the entries of four other Plainview fighters, or enough to fill out a complete team. Jack Noble, featherweight; Robert Carruthers, middleweight; Tommy Allen, welterweight, and Joe White, middleweight, are new entries who join Guy Manges, J. E. Anderson, Sutterfield and Hodges to comprise the Plainview team which will compete for the team trophy—provided one other town or community sends a complete team of eight or more fighters. Slaton and Tahoka have promised complete teams.

Seven Mexicans Enter

A new entry from Lubbock last night was B. L. (Joe) Brown, a middleweight who is stepping into fast company when he takes the ring next week in the District tournament.

From the elimination fight night in "little Jaurez" came entries from Johnny Carmona, Johnny Munoz, Avar Lucero, Tibe Cadena, Ignacio Rubio, Isidro Castillo and Martin Lucero.

Yesterday's entries brought the total enrollment to the 109 mark, with approximately six more entries due today from Littlefield.

Amateurs Are To Organize

A big step toward organization of special baseball, basketball, softball and other such athletic leagues for amateur sports in West Texas was made in the city Thursday when the West Texas Amateur Athletic association became reality as the climaxing accomplishment of the one-day athletic training institute.

The institute, conducted in three sessions throughout the day at the American Legion hall under the direction of the recreation section of the Work Projects administration, attracted coaches and fans of the area interested in the organization of such a body as the W. T. A. A. A.

Rich Is Chairman

Chairman of the organization is Fred Rich, local sportsman and Cooper High school coach.

Purpose of the association will be the sponsorship of leagues, tournaments and contests in amateur sports for West Texas. Efforts have been started to gain affiliation with state and national amateur athletic bodies. First objective of the group is to stage a cage tourney for this district, the winner to participate in the TAAF championships in Waco in March.

Large Crowds Present

Other activities to be put on by the West Texas AAA include baseball leagues and tournaments that will qualify the champions for American Baseball congress competition, softball, tennis and volleyball events.

Members on the committee are Rich; Clarence Fox, vice chairman; William Amo, secretary; Alvin R. Eggling, Evelyn Richter, Lewis Spears, John Wilson and Mrs. John Wilson.

More than 400 persons attended three sessions of the clinic, which was directed by C. O. Brown, executive vice-president of the Athletic Institute, Inc., of Chicago. The institute consisted of lectures, discussions, moving pictures and coaching clinics.

At the final session the initial local showing of "Play Ball, America", the new National League talking picture, was shown. A silent picture was screened on "The Amateur World Series", the film being issued by the American Baseball Congress. Eggling, field supervisor of recreation in the Lubbock district, handled all arrangements in bringing the clinic here.

Stamps Quartet And Dallas Singer To Be On Program

Singers at a program opening at 7:30 Saturday night at Central Baptist church will include Stamps quartet and Marion Snyder of Dallas, said Rev. Jeff D. Welch, co-pastor.

The quartet is enroute to the Hockley County Singing convention to be held all day Sunday at Sundown, 17 miles southwest of Levelland. Snyder has taught singing classes in Lubbock in years past and is well known here, the minister said.

Old Friends Meet Again

By Collier Parris

THE NEIGHBORS' CHILDREN, forbidden to play in each other's back yard since a parental falling out a few years back, are friendly enemies once more.

Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons university, most classic foes in West Texas college athletic history, are resuming athletic relations tonight after a five-year "break". The Matadors and the Cowboys play each other in a basketball game here tonight.

To make the renewal of relations unanimous, the Matadors will return the visit, playing the Cowboys in the Hardin-Simmons gymnasium Saturday night. It should be a great basketball series.

And no doubt the Texas Tech team supporters, especially the band boys, are hoping that Hardin-Simmons puts all its eggs in one basket.

The Tech cagers themselves, of course, are hoping that the Hardin-Simmons cagers lay several eggs — but not in the basket through which the laying thereof counts two points per egg.

Until 1935, for the edification of patrons who do not get the "egg" idea, Texas Tech and Hardin-Simmons had carried on an unbroken ten-year athletic rivalry second to none in these here parts. During the early part of the decade, the Cowboys of Hardin-Simmons exercised the upper hand, turned back the Red Raiders of Texas Tech, then known as the Matadors, at almost every meeting.

But as Texas Tech grew in enrollment numbers and popularity, gradually outstripping the Baptist institution of Abilene — an institution which had held top honors but which was handicapped by the presence of two other senior colleges in the same town — so did the Texas Tech athletic strength grow, and it wasn't long before Tech not only had broken even in the won and lost columns but had gone ahead. Interest was dying out a bit, rising up momentarily in 1932 when one of the greatest teams Tech ever had was humbled by an underdog Hardin-Simmons grid squad. There was talk of cutting Hardin-Simmons off the schedule, in favor of bigger game, and games.

The talk got high, and the payoff came in the spring of '35 when a Texas Tech band, on concert tour, was assaulted on the outskirts of Abilene town by a delegation of Hardin-Simmons pupils following appearance of the Tech band in Abilene town. Said pupils allegedly did toss hen fruit at and through the windows of the bus transporting the band. A riot was nipped in the bud, but the presence of eggs on any Tech student's menu or dining table since then has brought on unpleasant memories.

Never again will Texas Tech teams dally with Hardin-Simmons teams, was the official verdict, and with righteous indignance the populace of Lubbock agreed.

But the old order changeth and giveth place to the new.

Texas Tech didn't get the big-time football schedules indicated, and the incident of the eggs wore away from memory until today it is only a humorous chapter in the history of college life.

The Abilene-Lubbock and the Simmons-Tech rivalry, it was finally realized, was perhaps the most natural rivalry to be obtained. Besides that, a resumption of Tech and Hardin-Simmons rivalry might add two-bit pieces to the turnstile receptacles whereas nickels and dimes has been the order. And so, stroking their beards, the powers proclaimed that the past is forgotten and we want to play ball!

It was too late to arrange a football game between the two schools for this year, by the time the council got around to forgetting the past, and evidently too late for the basketball teams to meet, the schedules having been arranged. But they reckoned without the genius of Berl Huffman.

Huffman, the freshman football and varsity basketball mentor, was sitting in his office one day a few weeks ago reading another chapter in the Phog Allen basketball book and considering the night when he'd be in agony again while watching his Red Raiders play basketball.

But Huffman likes agony, and he noted that, what with "dead week", examinations, and registrations for a new semester, his team would be out of kilter for three weeks or so. He figured the Raiders would be back in school and ready to go about February 2. He did a little more figuring and reading, then lifted the telephone receiver.

Frank Kimbrough finally got on the other end of the line, and to him Huffman spoke as follows:

"How about your team and my team getting together in a basketball series about February the second and third?"

Huffman swears to this date that he heard Kimbrough "swallow real hard," and gasp for breath. The silence grew embarrassing and Huffman said:

"Well, speak up, my good man. How about a date?"

"I'll have to look at my schedule," Kimbrough is reported to have said, at long last, "and see if the dates are open."

"Hell, I'm looking at your schedule right now," said Huffman, "and you ain't got no games for those dates. So how's about it?"

Both of them finally agreed that they'd have to talk it over with their respective athletic councils. They did this, communed with each other once more, and set the dates.

So that's how come Hardin-Simmons and Texas Tech are playing a basketball game at the Tech gymnasium tonight, at 8 o'clock, and another at the Hardin-Simmons gymnasium tomorrow night.

And so begins again a beautiful athletic friendship between the two rivals. No need to say that a goodly crowd will be there, because it is a foregone conclusion. Advance ticket sale has passed the wildest expectations of Business Manager Gwendolyn Dowell and Publicist William Parker. If you haven't bought a ticket already, you may not get in tonight.

Schilling is the winning candidate on the flavor ticket! The reason? It's a matchless blend of the world's choice coffees, skilfully roasted to bring out delicious full flavor and strength.

That Girl on Broadway says it's a toss-up as to who is the most ignorant: an illiterate person, or one who believes everything he reads.

The highest salary of 1939 went to an executive of a soap company. Any wisecracker who resists the temptation to say something about cleaning up deserves a pat on the back.

A palm to Mr. Arlie Crites of the Palace, Lindsey, et al, and to the Griffith Amusement Co. for getting around to signing up "Gone With The Wind" for Lubbock in the near future. For awhile it looked like the Griffith boys were going to hold back on "Gone" until well after television changes the face of the amusement world.

Lubbock and South Plains people, as all should now know, will get to see the highly publicized and allegedly very swell picture the latter part of this month. Its run here will begin on February 25.

While that is a little behind Amarillo and San Angelo, it's close enough and will preclude the necessity of South Plainsmen going to either of those foreign seaports in order to get an early view of the flicker.

Because "Gone With The Wind" is the most highly publicized and most expensive cinema in history, the producing company has exhibitors over the well-known barrel. (It cost $2,000,000 to produce.)

The producers know that everybody in the country is running a fever over wanting to see it, hence are making the exhibitors take it at a tremendous rental charge.

As is the case in Amarillo and San Angelo—and, for that matter, New York and probably everywhere else—"Gone" is showing here at gosh-awful prices.

However, them as don't want to pay the gosh-awful prices will get much later chances to see the picture at regular rates.

(Note to Sports Editor Collier Parris: Massillon, Ohio, High school, nearly always—as at present—the holder of the Ohio high school grid title, wants to play the Lubbock Westerners, Texas' current champions, in 1940. They want to play the game in Massillon and might be persuaded to play a return match in Lubbock in 1941. While Lubbock High's 1940 schedule is all but complete and it may be impossible to match the teams this year, Dr. W. B. Irvin, superintendent of schools, is in possession of the information and is writing Athletics Director Brown, of Massillon, to find out what can be found out. If the thing can be worked out, it'd be a great publicity stunt. Plainview High, you know, has just completed an intersectional game-and-game contract with Biloxi, Miss.)

THIS South Plains country needs airline connections with the Pacific and Atlantic coasts, more farm-to-market paved roads, lower freight rates, more and better rural phone service and a thousand and one other things.

But what it needs most of all right now is about two feet of mud extending all over it!

Congratulations to Olton, thriving county seat of Lamb county, which soon is to have a brand new postoffice, completely equipped—in fact, just like the one recently acquired by Sudan, in the same county.

* * *

YOU hear a lot of praise for good writing on the part of current novelists and newspaper reporters, but it is a matter of fact and record that some of the best writing and reporting the world has ever seen is to be found in the Bible.

The Twenty-third Psalm, for instance, is one of the smoothest bits of literary talent ever put before the public.

A bill introduced in the Kentucky legislature the other day would make it unlawful for any person to "lie drunk, or asleep, in the state capital."

Its passage will be bad news for those galleryites gassed into unconsciousness while listening to the deliberations of the statesmen!

That Man on Avenue Q says if he were crazy enough to take a cold bath these snappy mornings, he'd probably be crazy enough to boast about it, too.

How is the poor census enumerator going to cope with the average American woman who invariably responds to a question with a question?

WE AMERICANS are very, very funny people. The record proves it.

Every so often we demand that our national congress enact a law that we know we won't uphold. The reason for this doubtless is we want the law to keep us from doing something we shouldn't do, figuring that even if we go ahead and break the law, we've done our part by appearing to be vicarious in the matter.

Latest example of this strange psychological quirk embraced by us as a people is the law requiring that airplanes purchased by the English for delivery in Canada must be pushed, not flown, over the border!

American-made and sold planes destined for delivery to the British are flown by pilots employed by the manufacturing company to Pembina, North Dakota. There, providing the pilot finds Pembina, the American crews pile out of the ships, the money is paid for the planes which then are pushed across the border.

Then the same American crews stroll across the line, climb in the same planes, and fly them either to Winnipeg or Ottawa.

Then the crews hustle back to the U. S. A. to get other planes and repeat the performance!

THE INTERESTING thing about this monkey-business is that it complies with the letter of the law—and that those who drew up and passed the law knew of the run-around in advance.

From where we sit down here in Lubbock, Texas, a couple or three thousand miles from dear old Pembina, it looks very, very silly indeed.

If we're going to sell planes to the British and deliver them to an inland Canadian city, why shouldn't we go ahead and fly 'em all the way there? What difference, actually speaking, is there in flying the planes across the border, and in pushing them across?

In either case, it's the same plane, the same crews—and the same objective is reached.

Knowing the British as we do—and as the financial records show them to be—the only sensible thing about the whole transaction seems to be that the American manufacturers get their money before the planes finally leave American soil.

We're highly in favor of that, remembering how the British are about not paying their bills.

But even that could be taken care of should the planes be flown all the way from the factory fields to Ottawa or Winnipeg. The money could be handed over before the planes left the ground — and a contract could be drawn up whereby the plane must be duplicated free if it failed to be flown undamaged across the border.

What a world, what a world!

POLICE CHIEF DON REEDER and some of the boys in his department are having a lot of fun with a copy of an examination recently taken by a Los Angeles cop who was seeking promotion and thus was forced to take a written test.

Here are some of the questions, with their cockeyed answers:

Q. What would you do in case of a race riot?

A. Get the numbers of both cars.

Q. What is 'sabotage?'

A. Breaking the laws of the Sabbath.

Q. Name an act that would constitute reckless driving?

A. Driving without regard to the Presbyterians on the street.

Q. What first-aid treatment would you give a person suffering an epileptic fit?

A. Take him to a doctor and have the bite treated.

Q. What are rabies and what would you do for them?

A. Rabies are Jewish preachers and I would be very glad to do anything I could for them.

Q. To what extent may an officer use force in effecting an arrest?

A. Use good, common sense, and if not capable, summon help.

Those answers sound a lot like some of them made to questions on KFYO's street-corner broadcasts!

Women Want Beauty!

CAST OF CHARACTERS

SUSIE LAMBERT—She served waffles and dreamed of being beautiful.

DICK TREMAINE—He liked Susie's waffles but he couldn't see Susie.

JEFF BOWMAN—His chief concern was to make Susie as beautiful as she wanted to be.

* * *

Yesterday: Susie accepts a splendid radio offer. She is still confused in her emotions, however, regarding Jeff and Dick. She is dating Dick.

CHAPTER XXIII

Life was so full of joy and interest, so crowded with new experiences and sensations. The most important ones continually escaped Susie, lost in the intoxicating jumble. She wanted to glory in Mr. Jasper's offer, she wanted to thrill to the dance hour with Dick, deep in her heart she was ecstatic over the prospect of Christmas with Jeff and Edna. New clothes, attention, the very consciousness of beauty—actually she was so busy being joyous that it was difficult to sort out and tabulate the various causes, impossible to drink deeply of any one happiness.

Susie's life was comparable to her diet. Small tastes of this, a tiny portion of that, never entire satisfaction. Not that she found fault. Susie was in a delirious state, snatching at life's gifts, hugging them to her heart, letting them go when her arms became too full.

After three hours in the shoe department, where hundreds of women milled about for a sight of Suzanne, for a word with her, Susie hurried back to the hotel and made a supreme toilet for Dick. Her hands shook with excitement, her breath came unevenly. When a florist's box arrived, when she tremblingly lifted an orchid from the shimmering mass of transparent paper, her rapture was tinged with tears. Had she realized the significance of the offering, that once earthy violets had seemed the perfect tribute for Susie, she would have been even more ecstatic.

She wore the fur-trimmed ensemble in which she had been presented to Mr. Harker, inner joy lending an appealing loveliness to her face. The orchid nestled in the fur of her collar, touching her cheek with a caressing finger.

Effort was rewarded by Dick's first glance as he met her in the lobby.

"I thought I must have dreamed you," he said, taking her arm and guiding her to his car.

Susie paid slight attention. Sitting beside Dick, slim and extravagantly garbed, faintly perfumed with a delicate, exotic odor, Susie knew that she had arrived.

"You're Hollywood, transplanted in ugly old Chicago," Dick said.

"Chicago isn't ugly," she objected. To her it was fairyland, the glistening background for miracles. "I love it."

"But you should see Los Angeles, Beverly Hills, Hollywood—clean and shining, full of atmosphere."

"Another adopted son of California," she mused, not quite liking this turning of the back on home.

"You bet. And the girls out there—they certainly treat a fella right."

"Dear me—am I hearing complaints?"

Taking his eyes from the traffic he looked down at her with the well-remembered flash of white teeth. "Not you, Suzanne, nary a complaint. How about letting me show you off at the Hermit Club party on New Year's Eve?"

"It's a date," she said. Susie's joy blazed higher. The Hermit Club on New Year's Eve—only a favored few received that gift from the gods. Ah, the gods were kind—kind.

Followed two mad, whirling weeks. Dates and double dates with Dick and his friends. The friends gradually drifted away, Susie's preference for Dick obvious even to the smitten young men. Christmas Eve started at 5 o'clock with a cocktail party at the luxurious home of one of Dick's friends. Susie, with her simple background, felt a bit out of place at this party. She met Dick's sister and was snubbed, not much, but enough to make her wonder.

Had she heard Hester Tremaine's comment to her mother she would not have wondered, she would have known, might have been more pleased than troubled.

"Dick's mad about the common little thing," Hester told her mother. "Can't keep his eyes off her. Some fine day we'll wake up and find Suzanne, product of Harker's bargain basement, hanging from our family tree." This was a misrepresentation and unkind, but Hester was not especially kind.

"Dick's just having a good time," her mother said easily. "He isn't taking on a wife to support, not since your father has shut down on him."

"He seems to think Suzanne has money, and maybe she has," Hester shrugged. "Whether or not, I'll bet my next month's allowance she'll snag him."

And Susie, who had a more ladylike name for it, was definitely out to win Dick. She was so violently in love with him that she lived in a daze, one moment deliciously sure, the next frantically dubious. And Dick was overly attentive. Telephone calls before breakfast, conversations italicized by subtle flattery, innuendos with double meaning that toppled Susie's listening heart, little intimate reminders, hints of a commonly shared future, low caressing laughs.

Flowers came daily. On Christmas he gave her a compact, of all things, a smooth, shining thing, sweet to the touch, entrancing. Susie offered her lips in an impulsive gesture of gratitude and it was strange that she thought of Jeff when Dick kissed her.

She saw little of Jeff these days. Except for the Christmas party, with Jeff making a palpable effort at holiday cheer, with Edna and John Harker deeply oblivious to everyone save themselves, she had scarcely seen Jeff.

She knew that Edna and Mr. Harker were married on the last day of the year; in fact Jeff diffidently asked her to attend the simple service, but that was the day of the Hermit Club ball and Susie gave the Bowmans never a thought.

Dick had asked her to wear the Snow White gown and she gave thanks, it being the only evening frock provided by Harker's. Ready for the party she was like a perfumed kitten, drowsy with delight, tiny thrills singing through her blood. Dick's apparent adoration gave her confidence and confidence gave her poise. Utter happiness lent beauty where none existed.

Her scarlet mouth was a flower, waiting to be crushed, her impertinent little nose added personality, her shadowed eyes were deep with the mystery of love.

Only one small incident jarred in the perfection of the evening. Dick poked fun at the party. Susie should see how they did things in Hollywood. He ruined one entire dance by minutely describing a soiree at the home of a prominent actress. Susie wanted to be impressed and was, slightly, until Dick inadvertently let out the fact that the party was a benefit of some kind.

"They do things out there," Dick said boastfully. "They lead and these mugs follow."

Susie, who had thought the Hermit Club party the last word in sophistication and luxury, felt a bit deflated.

"Why do you stay here if you don't like it, Dick?" she asked.

"If you want to know the truth," he replied, his cheek touching one of her curls, "it's because a certain girl has a strangle hold on me." This was only half the truth. Dick's father had not yet seen the advisability of tendering a loan to his son.

Up went Susie's spirits. Dick often said things like that. Never had he said he loved her, never had he verged beyond the indefinite, but small straws in the wind kept her blood at fever pitch.

"Maybe your girl would like California," she suggested daringly.

He side-stepped. "My girl is tied up with a radio contract," he said. Dick was much impressed with Susie's contract, especially when she naively mentioned her salary. If she made good— That was another reason why he lingered on, to see if she made good. Meanwhile the telephone calls, flowers, tea dances, dinners, first nights at the theaters went on and at last came the night of Susie's first broadcast.

THE BERMUDAS—A HEADACHE

The suggestion that the United States is contemplating a new routing of its trans-Atlantic planes tends to emphasize the fact that the Bermuda islands, now belonging to Great Britain, always will be a problem for this country in any hands except our own.

At present, the trans-Atlantic routing is to Bermuda, then to the Azores and on to continental Europe. The proposal under consideration is that the planes travel to Puerto Rico instead of Bermuda. The step would be in retaliation because of British treatment of our war-time commerce.

However, without considering reprisals, the Bermudas are still a problem for us. They are situated only a few hundred miles off our shores and are near our most vital centers. If Britain or any other nation should fortify them heavily, they would become a menace to our national existence.

Britain, of course, has never taken the chance of antagonizing the United States by building fortifications on Bermuda. There seems no probability that any nation could make use of them as a base for attack upon us. Yet, even so, the fact that Britain uses them as a base from which to cause irritations now suggests that our position would be in some degree more comfortable with the Bermudas under our direct control.

Braintruster Cohen May Be Out Of Job W Congress Acts; World Peace Meet Fizzled

BY BRUCE CATTON
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Feb. 2 — The cruelest blow yet launched at the famous brain trust is about to be swung by Congressman Dudley White, Ohio Republican, who aims to do half of the Corcoran-Cohen team out of its job.

Ben Cohen's official position is general counsel to the National Power Policy committee, which was organized under authority of letters from the President to the Secretary of the Interior.

Catton

White's point is that since the job wasn't set up by Congress, Congress can't legally vote money for it; so he is going to raise a point of order against the $68,000 which is allotted in the pending Interior department appropriation bill.

The same point of order killed appropriations for the National Resources Planning board and the Office of Government Reports a few days ago. If it's upheld again, Cohen's job is gone.

Tommy Corcoran is safer. He works for RFC, which was set up by Congress.

French Had To Sneak

This war has put a terrible crimp in the doings of world peace societies.

Dorothy Detzer, head of the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom, returned recently from a meeting of the league's executive committee in Geneva with the remark that only members from England, France, Switzerland and America were able to attend—and even the French members had to sneak out of their country to get there.

The skeletonized committee couldn't do much. Chiefly, it considered the idea of transferring international headquarters to the United States. It finally agreed to hold off a while and see whether the war spreads.

FDR Mentions "Successor"

Even if you could listen to President Roosevelt's most intimate conversations, you still might not know if he plans to run for a third term.

The other day he was talking over some government problem with a close associate. He said he'd postpone action for one year, and added, "I'll leave that one for my successor."

But because of the impish way the President cocked his head and grinned, the associate hasn't the faintest idea whether the remark really meant something or was just tagged on for the fun of it.

Cushions WPA Cut

The WPA appropriation for the present fiscal year was cut down more than half a billion dollars by the last Congress—but there hasn't been the trouble that was predicted. One big reason is that there has been a cushion which nobody thought of at the time.

They tied her up, stole $1000 in jewels and furs. Mascarella is pictured grinning at the maid as she identifies him for police, who held him for assault and robbery.

Twins Are Born To Couple Four Times In Five Years

BY ALEX JANUSITIS
United Press Staff Correspondent

VANCOUVER, B. C., Feb. 2. — Dick Dye, 39-year-old father of what he believed to be the only four consecutive sets of twins in the world, proudly boasts that the Dionnes "have nothing on me."

The four sets of twins have been born to the Dyes within the last five years, the last on Aug 31, 1939. They have two other children, Marian, 10, and Norma, 8.

Mrs. Dye was 16 when she married Dye, a veteran of the World war, who was then a youth of 23, in 1923, while both were living in Yorkshire, England. They came to Canada some years later.

First Baby In 1929

They were childless until 1929, when the first child, Marian, was born. Then, six years later, the twins began arriving.

The first set, Dorothy and Donald, were born in January, 1935; the second, Joan and John, in December, 1936; the third, Frances and Frank, in July, 1938; and the fourth, Edna and Edward, in August, 1939.

Physicians and gynecologists here have searched medical records carefully, but have not been able to find any case to equal the English couple's record. They were even more amazed when they discovered that there have been no other cases of multiple births in either Dye's or his wife's families.

"It is extremely difficult to account for this phenomenon," Dr. E. Elder, the Dye family's physician, said. "There are about one set of twins to every 100 births, but consecutive girl-boy twin births are exceedingly rare.

No Parallel In Canada

"I can find no other case in Canada of such a record as Mrs. Dye has established with the birth of Edna and Edward."

All of the Dyes' twin girls were healthy and strong when born, but the boys were "blue babies" and in each case it was feared for a time that they would not live.

Today, however, all are equally healthy and happy. They are bright and intelligent and show a great affection for each other. The children are not on any special diets, but eat "plenty of good healthful food."

Mrs. Dye looks after her young and large family with little outside help, although she admits they are "quite a handful sometimes." Asked how she manages it, she said:

"Oh, we manage somehow. They are all so good and the babies are perfect."

Dye, a jovial, good-natured man who stand about 5 feet 8 inches in his stocking feet and weighs 170 pounds, is "mighty proud" of the children, and is willing to stop work at the Glenburn Service Station he operates in East Hastings, on the outskirts of Vancouver.

"I'll bet you'd have to go a long way to find a bunch of kids as good-looking and as healthy as mine," he said.

"Yes, the record of the Dionnes is remarkable because the children are all alive. But there are many instances in history of five, six and even seven babies being born to a woman.

"Now the record of my wife and I is different. There is nothing in medical history to match it. Our babies were all twins and each set is made up of a boy and girl."

"But that is not all. Another coincidence is that the girl twins were born first in each case. The boys came last, and they almost died.

"Today, the boys are bigger and healthier than the girls."
