SHANGHAI PREPARES FOR JAP BOMBARDMENT

Franklin Puts Oil Import Tax Up To House Committee

LEVY URGED AS INDEPENDENTS' ONE SALVATION

U. S. Would Get $102,000,000 Annually From Duty, Proponent Says

MONOPOLY CLAIMED

Importers Will Kill Out Little Man Within Year, Is Claim

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—A plan for helping both the government and the independent oil producers through their financial difficulties was proposed today before the house ways and means committee.

Wirt Franklin of Oklahoma City proposed an excise tax on oil imports which he said would add $102,000,000 annually in federal revenue and bring "marked improvement in the domestic industry."

He predicted that under present conditions the domestic independent oil producers would be destroyed within a year.

Industry Threatened

Franklin is president of the Independent Petroleum association and represented the entire domestic industry, except those who also import oil. He contended cheaply produced Venezuelan and other foreign oil was destroying not only the petroleum producers but business and banks in all oil states.

The purpose of the oil interest seeking to dominate the American industry, he said, is to create a monopoly. He held that by destroying the independent producers through low prices forced down by foreign oil, the interests hope to buy production here at their own prices "at the end of the depression."

Domestic Taxes

"Heavy taxes are imposed on the domestic oil industry," the witness said, explaining every move from the time the oil came out of the well until the filling stations sell it is taxed. "Is it fair to tax out of existence the domestic industry and let oil come into this country absolutely free?

"The independent oil industry can not exist for another year under these conditions."

Franklin asked a two-cent tax a gallon on imported crude and fuel oil, and a four-cent tax on imported gasoline and lubricating oil. He eliminated kerosene, because it was "the poor man's light." He opposed a federal tax on domestic gasoline.

Importers Named

He said the Shell company, subsidiary of the British-controlled Dutch Shell interests; the Pan-American Petroleum and Transport corporation, a subsidiary of the Standard Oil interests, and the Gulf Oil company, controlled by the Mellon family at Pittsburgh, were importing foreign oil in competition with domestic production.

The committee recessed its open hearings until next Tuesday when opponents to the proposed tax on oil imports and to taxes on household gas and electric energy will be heard. In the meantime, the group will begin working in executive session on proposals to increase income, inheritance and surtaxes.

Asks Import Tax

Wirt Franklin, independent Oklahoma oil man who has been a leader in the fight for a tariff on foreign oil for the last two years, presented a plan yesterday for an import tax. He spoke before the house ways and means committee.

COURT ENJOINS TRUCK LAW

Companies Get Order Stopping Limit Enforcement

AUSTIN, Jan. 27. (AP)—The state today was temporarily restrained from enforcing the 7,000-pound limit provision of the highway truck law against two truck lines. Injunctions granting temporary immunity from arrest for violation of the provision were issued by District Judge J. D. Moore to the Johnson Motor Freight Lines of Fort Worth and the Northeast Lines, Inc., of Paris.

Hearing on making the injunctions permanent will be held Feb. 1.

The temporary restraining orders will apply only to the two companies and will not restrain enforcement of the law against truck lines that have not obtained injunctions. Several truck lines have obtained temporary injunctive relief pending final determination of the validity of the provision.

The injunctions granted today restrain all officers, state, county and precinct, from arresting drivers of the complaining companies for hauling more than 7,000 pounds.

Baker's Position on League Called Fatal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (US)—Many friends of Newton D. Baker in the capital today expressed the belief that he destroyed any hopes he may have had for the democratic presidential nomination by repudiating the League of Nations as an issue in the campaign.

Baker has been one of the leading proponents of the league for years and his political friends were mystified by his assertion that the league should not be made an issue. They say that his only chance was to stand by his principles.

HOPE LOST FOR BRITISH SUB AND 60 MEN

Admiralty Believes Sunken Craft and Crew Gone Beyond Rescue

GALE HALTS SEARCH

Rescue Ships and Minesweepers Fail in Long Quest

LONDON, Jan. 27. (US)—The British admiralty regards the submarine M-2 as lost and believes the 60 men aboard have perished.

This statement was made by a spokesman who declared that many submerged objects in Dead Man's bay between Weymouth and Portland isle have been investigated without result.

Minesweepers finished operations for the night but stood by in the vicinity where the M-2 was last reported. Smaller craft returned to harbors, to resume searching tomorrow.

DIVERS GRAPPLE WITH TWO OBJECTS

WEYMOUTH, England, Jan. 27. (US)—Hampered by a 50-mile gale sweeping the English channel off Bill of Portland, a depleted force of searching vessels grappled tonight for two heavy objects on the sea floor, hopeful that one might be the submarine M-2 which plunged stern-first to the bottom with a crew of 60 aboard.

The British admiralty regards the submarine as lost and believes its men have perished, but dredging will continue until the missing underseat boat is found. An admiralty communique issued at 10:30 p. m., 36 hours after the M-2 dove in practice yesterday, stated:

"Two objects have been located by sweep wires but owing to strong tides, divers have had difficulty in reaching the bottom to investigate.

Diving Continues

"Divings have been continued when possible throughout the night, in spite of the search by many craft, no bubbles or oil have been seen in the areas up to the present."

Minesweepers finished operations for the night but stood by as a destroyer guard's searchlight cut the mist off Chesil bank and Bill of

Defense Contests Hawaiian Charges

HONOLULU, Jan. 27. (AP)—Charging judicial coercion was used to obtain the indictment of Mrs. Granville Fortescue, and three navy men for the slaying of Joseph Kahahawai, alleged woman attacker, defense attorneys filed a motion today to quash the second degree murder accusation.

The indictment was returned yesterday only after Circuit Judge A. M. Cristy had refused to accept one grand jury report and had confronted the inquisitorial body with a reference to anarchy. The jury supposedly had attempted to return a "no bill" in the lynching case.

Dissolution of the indictment was asked on the ground it was not the voluntary act of the grand jurors.

Arraignment of the quartet was set for 9 a. m. Friday.

Nap Cures 'Fidgets' For City

By RODERICK T. GRANT

AURORA, Ill., Jan. 27. (AP)—Aurora will tell you that a little nap is just the thing for a case of nerves.

Last Friday this Fox river valley city of 50,000 had all the symptoms of a nervous breakdown.

Nothing organically wrong, perhaps, but Aurora worried too much.

Chicago suburbs to the east, neighbor cities up and down the valley were having their bank failures and their industrial pains. Depositors in the five Aurora banks were fidgety.

Mayor Conrad Bjorseth decided to administer an anesthetic. Not so much for the physical rest as the psychology of the thing. So Aurora pulled down its curtains for a winter nap last Friday morning. The mayor set the alarm for today.

The bells and whistles blew at 9 a. m. The patient hopped up, surprised at his own enthusiasm after the five-day rest. Bands played while shoppers thronged to the stores—they had been able to buy only groceries and drugs, newspapers and the usual public utility commodities since Thursday night.

All day there were long lines at the windows of the receiving tellers in the five banks—they used to give the paying tellers most of the business—and at the end of a busy day the bank deposits had gained an estimated $750,000. New accounts were numerous.

Aurora is quite a spry old town today, thank you.

NEGRO GIVEN 30-YEAR TERM

Jury Convicts Derouen in Slaying

A sentence of 30 years in the state penitentiary was assessed Harrison Derouen, negro, by a jury in Judge Allan D. Montgomery's 30th district court shortly after 9 o'clock Wednesday night after a jury had found the defendant guilty of the murder of his mother-in-law, Martha Simmons, on the night of Dec. 27.

Evidence in the case was given to the jury shortly after 5 p. m. At 9 o'clock the jury announced it had reached a verdict. Judge Montgomery was called and received the verdict.

Derouen was charged with slaying the woman with an iron bar. The woman was found on Bonner street with two wounds on her head. She died within a few hours.

The defendant took the stand in his own defense Wednesday and denied having been near the scene of the slaying on the night in question. He said he remained at a negro church until about 9:45 p. m., and then went to Lake street, where he remained with friends until about midnight.

On cross-examination, the witness admitted knowing that his mother-in-law owned several houses and two vacant lots in this city. He denied having any knowledge of her owning $1,000 in building and loan stock. Admitting that he knew his wife was the slain woman's only child, Derouen vigorously denied killing Martha Simmons so that his wife might inherit the older woman's property.

Negroes again crowded the courtroom to fullest capacity throughout the day Wednesday.

Anson Murder Trial Nearing Close

ANSON, Jan. 27. (AP)—Testimony in the case of Cecil Hunter, Jones county farmer, charged with murder in the death of Ralph Shirley, Stamford filling station operator, probably will be completed by noon tomorrow. Shirley was killed by a blow from a single-tree, wielded by Hunter, at Stamford last July.

Hunter, on the stand today, told of striking Shirley as the latter advanced toward him. He also testified to a severe beating he had taken from Shirley about two weeks prior to the killing and said that immediately preceding the fatal fight Shirley threatened to whip him. Hunter said he was afraid of Shirley and thought he was advancing to attack him.

The defendant's wife and several character witnesses testified for Hunter.

State will open rebuttal testimony tomorrow.

TAXPAYERS WARNED OF PENALTY DATE

State's Period of Grace on Delinquent Property Ends Jan. 31

'31 TAXES NOW DUE

School, County, State and Irrigation Levies Due In Part

Next Sunday, Jan. 31, will be the last day for payment of 1931 taxes of six classifications without penalty, and the final date for payment of delinquent taxes minus penalty and interest, according to a review of the situation obtained by The Record News from local officials Wednesday.

Payments Due

City, Wichita Falls school, irrigation, county, state and county

AUSTIN, Jan. 27. (UP)—Attorney General James V. Allred ruled tonight that poll tax payments may be made legally on Sunday, Jan. 31.

school taxes, on their various payment plans, have payments falling due on Jan. 31; and under the special relief legislation passed by the state government and the city council, delinquent taxes for 1930 and past years may be paid without old penalty and interest additions, up to and including Jan. 31.

Since Jan. 31 occurs on Sunday, tax collecting offices will not be open on that day; but checks in the mail on that date covering current or delinquent taxes will be construed as having gotten in ahead of the deadline.

After Sunday, Jan. 31, 1932, penalties and interest on delinquent taxes waived during the past four months by all governmental units will be automatically reinstated. In order to avoid payment of such penalties and interest, delinquent taxes must be paid at tax collection offices by next Saturday; or be in the mail by Sunday.

All governmental units are without authority to grant any extension whatever of the period in which delinquent taxes may be paid minus penalties and interest heretofore imposed. Section 1 of house-bill No. 80 provides as follows:

Delinquent Penalties

"That all interest and penalties accrued and as now fixed by law, on all state, county, special school school district, road district, levee improvement district, and irrigation district taxes and taxes of other defined subdivisions of the state, other than incorporated cities and towns, delinquent up to and including Oct. 20, 1931, shall be, and the same are hereby released, provided said taxes are paid on or before Jan. 31, 1932."

City taxes for 1931 will be payable in two payments. The first payment originally was set for Jan. 31, but has been deferred by the city council to March 31. The 60 days extension was granted in order that taxpayers might more completely avail themselves of the present opportunity to pay delinquent taxes without penalty and interest No further extensions on the first half of 1931 city taxes will be granted; if the first half is not paid by March 31, a penalty will be imposed and the unpaid amount will begin drawing interest at six per cent. The second half payment of 1931 city tax will be due on or before July 31.

At least one-fourth of the 1931 taxes for the Wichita Falls Independent school district must be paid on or before Jan. 31. Failure to make such payment will draw a 10 per cent penalty on the year's tax, and six per cent interest on the unpaid due amount from Feb. 1 until paid. Since the last legislature provided for payment of the 1931 school taxes in four equal payments during the year, the school board has no authority to extend the time allowed for payment of the first quarter, due Jan. 31. This decision was announced at the close of a special meeting of the board held at the City National bank Wednesday afternoon.

Under the law regulating the collection of taxes for water improvement projects, the taxes assessed by the irrigation projects here are

Killer Breaks Jail At San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 27. (UP)—Pete McKenzie, notorious El Paso adn San Antonio killer, who escaped from the Bexar county jail early today, left a note saying he might be doing the wrong thing but that if officers had been more humane the break could have been avoided.

He added he was thankful he was betraying no trust and had implicated none of his friends in making the break. It was the second time he had attempted to escape since confinement here.

Police throughout Texas sought McKenzie tonight. His absence from the jail's death cell was discovered at breakfast hour. Authorities said he had released himself from the cell with a key, sawed the gratings from a window and lowered himself to the ground with a rope.

JUDD JURORS BECOME ILL

Death Trial Halted by Two Bad Colds

By A. M. ROCHLEN

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 27. (US)—Trial of Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd, charged with the trunk murder of her two closest girl friends, came to an abrupt halt here today when two jurors reported ill with colds and were ordered to bed by Judge Howard C. Speakman.

The session ended just as the defense was completing an elaborate structure of pschopathic past and insane influences of the baby-faced defendant and her ancestors for 100 years back.

The trial, now in its second week halted in the midst of loud poundings of Judge Speakman's gavel to restore order after an elderly woman fainted in the back of the courtroom, the second to pass out today and the sixth during the trial.

Precautions Taken

Ambulance sirens screached and the crowd milled in wild excitement as the jurors filed back to their quarters with orders to return to court tomorrow afternoon.

Dr. George W. Brockway, called by the court, said Juror M. T. White, a clerk, had a bad cold, and alternate Juror Joseph Standage was coming down with one. Both men were ordered to bed, in care of nurses, and special stipulations were made by opposing attorneys to permit the jurors to remain in partial seclusion that other mem-

Fresh Jap Offensive Stirs Washington to Fear Of Grave Crisis

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (UP)—Joint economic pressure on Japan to halt its invasion of China is being considered by the United States and Great Britain, it was learned tonight.

The possibility of imposing a boycott upon Japan has been discussed informally with Great Britain whose attitude has not been made known. The efficacy of such a boycott would depend largely upon her cooperation.

Another alternative would be an embargo prohibiting importation of Japanese goods. This move, however, would require an act of congress whereas a boycott could be accomplished without congressional sanction.

Methods Vary

No provisions for such economic pressure are contained in any treaties to which the United States

STIMSON CONFERS

LONDON, Jan. 27. (AP)—The Sino-Japanese controversy at Shanghai received the serious consideration of the British government today following a conversation between Secretary of State Stimson and Sir Ronald C. Lindsay, British ambassador at Washington.

The government was expected to send a reply to Colonel Stimson through the ambassador. Whether the secretary of state made definite proposals for dealing with the Shanghai situation was not revealed.

There has been a tendency in official British circles to minimize the seriousness of events at Shanghai.

is a signatory power, but there is nothing in international law to prohibit such a move.

A boycott might take the form of restriction of passports to Japan and the cooperation of banking and business interests in restricting credits to and imports from that country. Some letters have been received at the state department suggesting an embargo on Japanese silk.

Chairman William E. Borah of the senate foreign relations committee refused to comment on the proposed boycott, asserting he would withhold comment until such action was called to the attention of the senate. Several months ago,

'Zero Hour' In Shanghai Is At 4 A.M.

Japanese Threaten to Fire Upon Chinese Portion Of International Port; Marines Called Out

SHANGHAI, Jan. 28. (Thursday)—(US)—A state emergency exists in Shanghai and all citizens were called upon to defend the city, by the municipal council meeting in special session this afternoon.

Volunteers were being rushed to earthworks and barbed wire defenses. British and American marines were entrenching themselves behind defense positions in their settlements.

Japanese warships landed 1,000 additional troops and three airplanes as Admiral Shiosawa, their commander, refused to accept Mayor Wu Te-Chen's apologies as bona-fide.

Shiosawa turned over defense of the international settlement to Brigadier General Fleming, of the British garrison.

A mysterious bomb exploded outside the Japanese consulate today, affording Japanese marines fresh motive for occupying the Chinese city south of the international settlement.

Americans were warned to take refuge in the international settlement as Japanese fighting men from the formidable war fleet prepared to put down Chinese agitation against Japan.

Just eight hours before a Japanese ultimatum demanding the suppression of anti-Japanese societies and boycotters was due to expire, the situation took on a menacing aspect.

An unidentified assailant who made his way along the Whangpoo road of the international settlement, which is under heavy guard of police and troops, threw the bomb at the Japanese office.

This act of terrorism, which was perhaps the most serious outrage of the recent series of anti-Japanese incidents, occurred shortly after Shanghai had awakened to the cold sunshine of a day which may be historic in the modern history of China.

Japanese warships and landing parties are expected to act against the city, probably occupying it after a bombardment if such action is necessary to overcome the resistance of 24,000 Chinese troops in the area. The Japanese ultimatum expires at 6 p. m. (4 a. m. Wichita Falls time) after which action by the powerful naval force in the harbor is expected.

Chinese Concentrated

Chinese forces, concentrated at Shanghai in the last few days, were ordered to remain at their posts to resist any attack. There are about 25,000 Chinese troops in the area, holding well-fortified posts.

Fifty per cent of the liberty passes of the 1,200 United States marines in the international settlement were cancelled and the patrols were doubled.

There are 6,000 well-trained foreign troops in the international settlement, but they cannot operate outside the bounds of the foreign district. The British military officials took measures similar to those put into effect by American commanders, and French troops are on duty in their concession. All foreigners were advised by consuls to move into the settlement.

Women Removed

Many Japanese women and children have been evacuated from Soochow and other points of danger, but a United Press survey showed 200 United States and British families living in Chinese territory in the city. Most of them are flying the flags of their countries over their homes to ward off possible attack.

"The situation is exceedingly serious," United States Consul General Edwin Cunningham said Wednesday night. "There is no need for alarm today, but there may be tomorrow as far as the Chinese settlements are concerned."

More Ships Due

The Japanese, with some 1,500 marines and 10 warships in the Shanghai area, will be reinforced today by 13 more warships from Japan. The normal number of United States and other warships are in the harbor. Three Japanese military airplanes arrived from Nagasaki.

Expecting that their reply to the Japanese ultimatum, which will accept most of the points demanded by Japan, will be rejected, the Chinese military officials have detailed troops to guard all roads entering Shanghai and assembled 400 Chinese cavalrymen in the Kingwan race course region, which the Japanese might attempt to use as an airdrome base.

The tension in the native and foreign quarters of Shanghai mounted steadily as the hour for expiration of the ultimatum drew near. The Japanese consul general, Murai, delivered the ultimatum to Mayor Wu Tech-Chen of Shanghai, saying that "unless all the demands are accepted and executed, drastic action will be taken."

Japanese Admiral Shiasawa, in charge of the fleet here, said:

"I have received my final instructions. The Chinese may accept the Japanese demands, but in our experience the Chinese promises are never carried out. That's all."

Mellon Issues Sharp Denial Of Part in Colombian Oil-Loan Deal

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—A sharp denial he had any knowledge of negotiations which led to the granting of the now celebrated Barco oil concession in Colombia to the Gulf Oil company, of which he is a stockholder, was issued tonight by Secretary Mellon.

The concession has figured prominently in the recent inquiry of the senate finance committee into loans made abroad by American bankers.

Only today Senator Johnson, Republican, California, introduced two bills to bring such loans under federal supervision and restriction, asserting the senate hearings had revealed "shameful practices."

Secretary Mellon said "a persistent effort has been made to connect the granting of a loan by American bankers to that government and to imply that improper influence was exercised in order to bring about the granting of the concession."

"I had no knowledge of the granting of the Barco concession which it is said was coincident with the fulfillment of a credit obligation," the secretary said. "I had no knowledge at any time of any contract by bankers to grant a credit to the Colombian government. I never knew that such a credit had been granted or fulfilled until the senate hearings."

Mellon asserted these indirect

HOPE LOST FOR BRITISH SUB

60 Men Believed Dead in Sunken Craft

Portland: Divers were ready to descend to the sandy floor 102 feet below the gale-swept surface despite the running tide.

The darkness, rough seas and winds thwarted the efforts of airplanes, submarines and the majority of 12 searching vessels, which were ordered back to Weymouth, Portsmouth and Plymouth to put out again tomorrow at dawn, or tonight if the M-2 is located. H. M. S. Tedworth, with special diving equipment, left Plymouth tonight for Dead Man's bay.

Wives Informed

On orders from Sir Bolton Eyres-Monsell, first lord of the admiralty, the master of the submarine depot ship Dolphin radioed wives of the men aboard the sunken M-2:

"Madam, we regret to inform you that your husband is missing and feared to have been drowned aboard the submarine M-2, believed sunk off Bill of Portland."

Fears were voiced that the M-2 had damaged its safety-hatches in its dive to the sea floor of "Dead Man's bay," as the waters between Chesil bank and Portland isle are known locally. This would prevent use of the Davis safety lung, of which the M-2 carried 65.

Air Exhausted

Despite reports that the M-2 could remain submerged for 72 hours, it was pointed out at the Portsmouth base that only 56 hours' supply of air could be considered the maximum. Since the submarine dived at about 10:15 a. m. Tuesday, this would place the air limit at about 6 p. m. Thursday.

Reports that the M-2 had been located were denied by the admiralty, whose charts revealed the hulk of a sunken warship at the spot where grappling lines touched metal in Dead Man's bay. Oil in another spot, thought at first to mean that the M-2's hull had been broken, was later said to have been left on the surface by the coastal ship Tynesider.

It was Captain Howard of the Tynesider who revealed that he had seen the submarine plunge stern-first. The Tynesider oil patch was sighted by two airplane pilots, and the dredging vessels formed a circle about the patch and cast lines to the sea floor 102 feet below unsuccessfully.

Signals Unanswered

The submarines H-44 and H-49, which cruised in wide areas all day between Weymouth and Bridgeport sending under-water signals, reported no response from the M-2. The mother ship Adamant notified the admiralty it believed the M-2 had been located on the sandy bottom, but later reported that its lines had come in contact with an unmarked wreck.

The little hamlet of Portland, where most of the M-2's crew attended a dance Monday night, and the coastal cities of Chatham, Weymouth, Portsmouth and Plymouth, homes of most of the 60 men, were gloomy when hawsers were drawn up and dredge-lines pulled in by the returning searching craft tonight.

Van McPhail, president of the company, was given a two-year suspended sentence. He will be on probation for five years. J. S. Kimbrough, secretary-treasurer, was given six months in the county jail and fined $1,500.

The sentences were passed in United States district court, by Judge Bascom Deaver of Macon, Ga., assisting Judge James C. Wilson with a crowded docket.

Flood Threat Subsides In Red River Valley

TEXARKANA, Ark., Jan. 27. (AP)—Red river flood danger appeared subsiding tonight as a tenth of a foot decline from the highest predicted stage of 27 feet was reported at Index with a stand at 31.4 reported at Fulton and only three-tenths of a foot rise at Springbank.

The river was two miles wide at Fulton, reaching main levees on both sides, while practically the same situation prevailed at Garland City. A large timbered area at Junction of the Little and Red rivers was inundated. While some cotton land in Little River county was covered.

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 27. (INS)—What dame fashion has decreed as the latest and snappiest in feminine beach attire is of far more importance than the Manchurian situation to Dr. Katsuji Debuchi, Japanese ambassador.

A fashion show held up Dr. Debuchi's departure for Washington following conclusion of a trip to Cuba for a whole day.

"I believe I'll stay over until tomorrow," Dr. Debuchi said when told a fashion show was to be held here this afternoon for the winter colony.

"I've always been interested in fashions for the ladies. In fact I think they're decidedly more important right now than the Manchurian situation."

U. S. Hints Boycott Against Japan

however, when the League of Nations was discussing possibility of joint economic action in the Manchurian situation, Borah said publicly:

"A boycott would lead to war."

Stimson Acts

Secretary of State Henry L. Stimson took a preliminary step toward meeting the new, grave phase of the Japanese-Chinese crisis today when he forwarded to the senate full diplomatic correspondence on the Manchurian dispute.

Though the correspondence was sent in response to a resolution passed a month ago, it is likely it never would have been furnished had not Stimson decided the moment propitious to lay the United States' position open to the public.

His next move may be a sober warning to Japan that its threat against Shanghai, now extended so a move on Nanking, the capital of China, is a menace to world peace. He may hint the world is not ready to condone war-like action by any nation, much less a signatory of anti-war treaties and one treaty directly guaranteeing China's sovereignty.

Aggression Reviewed

Stimson left his office early this afternoon, and was understood to be considering the advisibility of a warning, which may be a final one.

A Japanese ultimatum to China, demanding a final reply to its demands for cessation of anti-Japanese activities by Chinese civilians, expires at 4 a. m., tomorrow, central standard time.

Japanese naval officers have hinted the reply, regardless of its content, will not be satisfactory. The alternative to a satisfactory reply is interpreted generally as meaning a move against Shanghai which almost certainly will involve American interests in the great international settlement there.

TAX PENALTY DATES NEAR

Officials Tell Amounts Due By Jan. 31

due in two payments. The first half must be paid on or before Jan. 31; the second on or before Aug. 31. The law stipulates that failure to pay half the annual tax by Jan. 31 necessitates the imposition of a 10 per cent penalty on the entire amount.

Poll Taxes Increase

The first half of all 1931 state and county and county school tax must be paid on or before Jan. 31, in order to avoid a penalty of 10 per cent and six per cent interest. Taxpayers who paid half of the 1931 tax on or before Nov. 30, 1931, are allowed until June 30, 1932, to pay the second half without penalty or interest. But for taxpayers who did not make the half-payment for 1931 before Nov. 30, 1931, the entire amount will become delinquent after Jan. 31, will be penalized and will draw interest.

Payment of poll taxes in Wichita county showed a considerable gain Wednesday, the day closing with about 7,500 poll tax receipts having been issued.

Automobile registrations to date totalled about 8,000 Wednesday evening, according to Arthur C. Howard, county tax collector. This number is little more than half the total cars registered in 1931, it was said.

ONEAL TELLS LAW ON PAYING POLL TAXES

Wichita Falls property owners were reminded by Senator Ben G. Oneal in a radio address Wednesday night that they may pay poll taxes without paying property taxes.

"Even though you may not be able to pay your property taxes by the last day of this month, you have a right to pay your poll tax without paying your other taxes," said Senator Oneal.

"See to that payment. Be ready and qualified to elect to office officials committed to rigid economy and efficiency in governmental affairs."

The speaker pointed out that unless there is a large increase in poll tax payments in this section in the next two days the section will lose much of its voting strength and consequently influence in needed legislation.

$20,000 Damage Suit Here to Get Review From Supreme Court

The Texas supreme court Wednesday granted a writ of error in the $20,000 judgment granted Miss Violet Stone, Electra, nurse against W. P. Lincoln, Electra tank builder, after a fatal automobile accident on the Electra-Vernon highway more than a year ago.

Under the writ of error granted, the supreme court will review the case, tried in the 89th district court here, and decide finally the appeal.

Gaston Scott was killed and Miss Stone seriously injured when the car in which they were riding struck a truck owned by Lincoln on the highway at night.

The court of civil appeals affirmed the trial court verdict for Miss Stone and the defendant took the case on up to the supreme court.

JUDD JURORS BECOME ILL

Death Trial Halted by Two Bad Colds

bers of the jury might be prevented from contracting the ailment.

Before the unforseen delay stopped the trial, once again the kin of Mrs. Winnie Ruth Judd today climbed on the witness stand to barter away family pride for a chance to save their daughter's life.

Father Testifies

After 49 years "in the service of the Lord," Rev. Harvey Joy McKinnel raised his weary frame into the witness stand to help his daughter convince the jury that she is insane.

And in this task the 72-year-old retired clergyman, who still preaches in the missions and churches of Phoenix, did not spare himself or the memories of his departed folks.

"My father's mother died in Scotland about 1830, insane . . .

"Joseph McKinnel, my uncle lost his mind at the age of 19, he was insane until death . . .

Nephew Kills Self

"My sister's son, Robert A. Bowie became mentally unbalanced at 19. Eight years later right here in Bisbee, Arizona, he died a suicide. . . .

"And George Wilson, Ruth's cousin, was mentally unbalanced for 23 years and died at Bartonville, Ill., chained to a chair."

Reverend McKinnel's story was richer in detail but not much different from that of his aged, bewildered wife, Mrs. Judd's mother, who preceded him on the stand in the morning session. She dealt more with Mrs. Judd's eccentricities and the strange "mother complex." Between them the parents of Mrs. Judd laid the strongest foundation so far reared by the defense in it's claim that the baby-faced, tubercular office secretary is and was insane at the time AgnesAnne LeRoi and Miss Hedvig Samuelson were murdered.

Experts have estimated that Manchuria contains nearly 89,000,000 acres of forests with a timber stand of more than 150,000,000 cubic feet.

Harry Schram Heads Junior College Senate

Harry Schram was elected president of the Junior college Senate at the regular business meeting of the club Tuesday evening to succeed Harry Daugherty, who has been head of the organization for the past six weeks.

Other officers elected Tuesday were: Vice president and chairman of the program committee, S. C. Anthony; secretary-treasurer, Ford Massey; and sergeant-at-arms, Harry Daugherty.

The group held a general discussion of current event topics. Assignments were made for the program for the next meeting.

SOWN COTTON IS GIVEN TRIAL

Both Lint and Stalk Made Into Cellulose

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

CHAPEL HILL, N. C., Jan. 27.—Cotton is sown broadcast like grass and mowed like hay in a 10-acre field conducted by the University of North Carolina chemistry department.

An entirely new kind of cotton crop is raised. There is no picking, no spinning. Instead both cotton and its stalk and leaves are converted into cellulose, the raw substance from which artificial silk, paper, explosives and hundreds of other industrial products are manufactured.

Future Big Market

This, says Dr. Frank K. Cameron, professor of chemistry, is the future big market for cotton. Already the Carolina experiments indicate a possibility for making more money out of cotton at present prices by raising it as cellulose instead of as cotton.

The result of three years of this new farming conducted by Nicholas W. Dockery, assistant to Dr. Cameron on the dockery plantation at Rockingham, N. C., were made public today.

The cotton boll is 90 per cent pure cellulose. The cotton plant is 40 per cent cellulose and is waste under the ages-old methods of cotton farming. When cotton is raised for cellulose, instead of being planted in wide rows and cultivated, it is sown broadcast, or in very close rows.

Mowed Like Hay

Nothing more need be done, the report states, until the plant matures. Then it is mowed with an ordinary machine, raked up, baled with a hay baler, and is ready to be crushed into pulp for cellulose. Even the storage problem is simplified, says the report. One bale was left on a platform all winter in rain and snow, without appreciably impairing its cellulose value.

Last year Mr. Dockery obtained 1,800 pounds of mixed stalk and lint from one acre; this year 3,000 pounds average from 10 acres. Next year he expects to grow 5,000 pounds an acre.

At this rate he estimates probable cost at $25 an acre, two cents a pound. The average cost of producing cotton now is given at North Carolina as about five cents a pound.

"There are a number of distinct advantages," Dr. Cameron said. "The boll weevil will be deprived of his havoc making powers. Cotton from infested areas is as good as any for making cellulose. There is a possibility that in time the weevil will be eradicated, since there will be no stalks left in the field for his hibernation while awaiting the next crop. Whether he will be able to survive the winter on other vegetation has not been determined."

Clarendon Library Draws Many Readers

Special to The Record News.

CLARENDON, Texas, Jan. 27.—Clarendon's city library loaned more than 12,000 books during the past 12 months, Mrs. C. A. Burton, librarian, revealed Wednesday.

The library is open to the public on Tuesday and Saturday of each week for only a few hours, but it is the aim of the library board to arrange for daily openings when finances will permit.

The report showed the library opened in 1931 with 2,087 volumes on its shelves and during the year added 375 new ones, wear and tear causing the loss of 25. Thus 1932 starts off with 2,387 select volumes open to the membership, and with some 50 books having been added since the first.

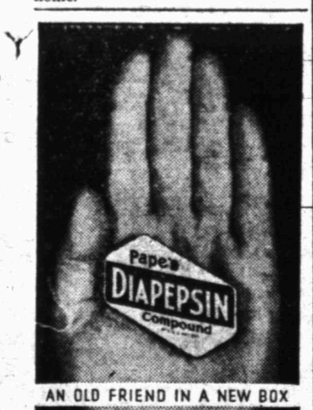

One hundred and fifty-six names are on the library membership roll and figured on the average family basis there are approximately 700 persons receiving benefit from the institution. The use of the library is not limited to the city of Clarendon, and many of the most constant readers are from the rural districts of the county.

The board is composed of Mayor W. P. Cagle, Mesdames J. T. Sims, E. P. Shelton, C. A. Burton, librariran; W. H. Patrick, treasurer, and Sam M. Braswell, secretary.

Murder Suspect Gets Life Term in Prison

PIGGOTT, Ark., Jan. 27. (AP)—Ernest Powell of Piggott was convicted in criminal court here last night of connection with the murder last September of M. T. Railes, a retired Osceola business man. He was sentenced to life in the penitentiary.

The state contended Railes was slain with intent of robbing him and that $1,800 was taken from him while he was a guest at Powell's home.

Doctors Balk at Great Risk in Effort to Save Child's Mind

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (US)—Baby Diana Moore's chance-in-a-thousand for a normal, healthy life grew dim tonight.

After X-ray tests at Columbia university's medical center, doctors said they do not believe science can accept the challenge of Diana's 19-year-old mother, Mrs. Lillian Moore, who begged them to gamble the infant's life on an operating table even with the odds 999 to 1 that Diana would never survive.

Mentally Crippled

The little girl, who will be 2 her next birthday, has a strange brain deformity which dooms her to lifelong imbecility unless the medical profession can do something to correct nature's freakish error.

Dr. Frederick MacCurdy, superintendent of the Vanderbilt clinic at the university where tiny Diana was subjected to X-ray tests all day, said tonight that a skull operation might have been performed successfully on the child immediately after birth, but that now it would be virtually hopeless to attempt.

While the X-ray results will not be completed for a week, after which a final report will be made, physicians at the medical center said they did not expect them to show much more than they already know about Diana's sorry plight.

Dr. MacCurdy said the clinic has been besieged with mothers of mentally defective children who have been demanding operations ever since the widespread comment aroused by the Moore case.

Diana's father, James Moore, has been separated from the mother for some time and today Mrs. Moore received a telegram from him sent from Detroit in which he said he read of the case in the papers and wished her success in her decision.

GYPSIES FLOCK TO NEW YORK

Depression Is Boon for Fortune Telling

By H. ALLEN SMITH

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (UP)—Gypsies are migrating by the hundreds to New York, attracted by an unprecedented boom in fortune telling, Konrad Bercovici, author and one of the foremost authorities on gypsies, said in an interview today. He has been investigating the reason why there are now more than 15,000 of the race here.

The depression has caused a boom in phrenology and kindred arts and along Broadway and Sixth avenue the gypsies have set themselves up to make a killing.

"They're all prosperous," said Bercovici, "though they never respect the money they earn. A gypsy throws it away as fast as he earns it."

Reputations Gain

Bercovici considers the situation as salutary, from the standpoint of the gypsies themselves, since many long-standing errors are being dispelled by their presence in the cities.

"Gypsies and kidnaping," the author said, "have been associated traditionally, and without foundation. Gypsies do not kidnap children. I'll admit they steal, but they steal only when they're in need. The greatest of all sacrileges in the tribal code is to tell a lie. If a gypsy lies to another gypsy, he is expelled, ex-communicated, thrown out. He becomes an exile with whom other gypsies will not associate. News travels fast in the tribes, and within a week every gypsy from coast to coast will know about it."

Gypsy women, Bercovici said, have a passion for expensive jewels.

Costly Jewels

"The costumed women you see in the dingy vacant stores, offering to examine the bumps on your head for a dollar, usually are wearing 20 or 30 thousand dollars worth of jewelry," he said.

"Their costumes, too, are costly. The ordinary gypsy costume costs more than one of Poiret's gowns."

Though they have one colony on Long Island, the 15,000 gypsies now in New York are scattered through the five boroughs. They have periodic parties, which last from four days to a week. For these functions they usually hire a large hall on the lower east side. A gypsy marriage is the occasion for a week-long party, where the guests drink kamess moll, the gypsy wine, dance and sing and tell stories.

Tribal Leaders

The tribal leaders are called the barossans. They perform marriages and grant divorces. They rule autocratically, according to Bercovici, and are always held in great respect. A tribe may number only 20 or may have 400 members.

Modern day gypsies travel in automobiles and they trade cars in the same manner in which they used to trade horses.

Bercovici's latest book, "Against the Sky," is a novel about the gypsies in New York. He is organizing a genuine gypsy orchestra which is to be featured, under his direction, on a radio chain.

Texas Truck Law Felt in Oklahoma

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 27. (AP)—Cotton hauling by motor carrier virtually has been abandoned in Oklahoma as a result of enforcement in Texas of the new 7,000-pound load limit law.

Virtually all cotton haulers who have been transporting that commodity from Oklahoma points through Texas to gulf ports have quit business, unable to make money by carrying only 14 bales the set in Texas.

Although Oklahoma-Texas interstate business has become unprofitable with the new law, which applies to all carriers, most of the big trucking companies plan to continue the regular freight service, reducing their loads to the 7,000-pound limit at the Texas line.

As a by-product of the clearing of timber land, British Columbia is now establishing a charcoal industry.

South Bend Capitalist Believed In Hands of Super-Criminals

By ROBERT T. LOUGHRAN
(Copyright 1931, by United Press)

CHICAGO, Jan. 27.—A band of seven super-criminals, graduated from machine gun bank holdups to kidnaping for ransom, is the gang holding Howard A. Woolverton, rich South Bend manufacturer, for $50,000 ransom, the United Press was informed today.

The Woolverton abduction is another in the long series of abductions which the band has engineered in the last two years in Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Wisconsin, Missouri and Michigan. The wealth the desperadoes have exacted from victims by torture and terrorism is estimated at more than $1,000,000. Last year they got $500,000.

Only once in the 104 weeks that the band has been operating has it failed to extort money from the gamblers, business men, bankers, or business women and bankers' wives seized at machine gun and pistol point, the informant said. The kidnapings have averaged almost one a week.

Typical Crime

The single failure was when fear of discovery forced the extortionists to kill Mrs. Clyde Garrison, in Peoria, Ill., when she and her husband were escaping in October, 1930.

The Woolverton abduction is described as a typical "seven" crime. Its finesse illustrates the degree of perfection in the crime specialty of the close-knit organization.

The United Press informant described the methods of the "seven gang" in these words:

"They are all hardened criminals, over 35 and under 40. Each made a name for himself in the underworld as a bank robber or a holdup killer.

First "Job"

"Two years ago they talked it over, decided they could do better collecting ransom money than robbing banks. They pulled a kidnaping. Although it was crude work, compared with what they do now, it was successful.

"These fellows can put up a good front. They live in the best hotels. They dress like millionaires. They have expensive luggage and costly jewelry. Their system is to send one of their number into a city and look around for a prospect.

"Finally, when everything is ready, the gang swoops down on the victim. They work fast, but with care. They are too wise to wear masks, but the man who approaches the victim holds one hand over his face. All the victim sees is a pair of gleaming eyes under a hat brim.

Victim Masked

"A sedan door is opened. The victim is thrown inside. Arms seize him and clap a pad made of billboard cloth and fitted with adhesive tape over his eyes.

"The kidnapers drive for about two hours, then hustle the blindfolder victim into a hideaway. There he is bound, hand and foot, and the threats of torture and death begin.

"In a few hours or next night, the gang transfers the captive to another hideout. There may be half a dozen transfers. The captive is told he will be burned alive, or cut into pieces, or his wife and children tortured unless the amount demanded is forthcoming."

Among those the informant said the "seven" have abducted and held for ransom, were:

Mrs. Nell Donnelly, Kansas City business woman, reported to have paid about $50,000.

James Hackett, Blue Island, Ill., gambler, paid a reported $200,000.

James J. (Jack) Lynch, Chicago racing news service owner, paid a reported $75,000.

LaFollette Maps Trade Revival Aids

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 27. (INS)—Economic improvement must center about four main points, in the opinion of Senator Robert M. La Follette.

Speaking here last night the Wisconsin Progressive proposed: Reducing labor hours, unemployment insurance, a $5,500,000,000 program of public construction, and federal cooperation in unemployment relief.

"As well sell bonds for construction as for destruction as during the world war," he declared.

Death Suspects Held In San Antonio Jail

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 27. (INS)—Ray and Willett Wolf, brothers, and their companion, Otha Skinner, all accused of the fatal shooting last Friday of Hugh Applewhite, former Frio county sheriff, at Pearsall, was held in Bexar county jail today for safe keeping. They were transferred here secretly late yesterday, Pearsall authorities explaining there had been "some talk at Pearsall about their bonds being too low."

Bonds of $1,500 each were allowed when the trio surrendered in an isolated farm house near Pearsall Saturday. Applewhite was shot to death as he sat in his auto.

House Votes $390,000 For Arms Conference

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (UP)—The house today voted the state department $390,000 for expenses of the American delegation to the Geneva disarmament conference. Authority to spend $450,000 was originally granted but when the appropriation bill came up the committee reduced the amount.

Forty-Year Search for $50 Script Brings Success at Last

FORT WORTH, Jan. 27. (AP)—It took Mike Murey 40 years to find that piece of city script, but he did, and today he took it to city hall and demanded his $50.

The faded scrap of paper, issued to Murey June 8, 1891, in return for "street work," cost city clerks three hours of searching in the archives at city hall. They finally found an 1891 fee book in which the entry was made and an 1887 ordinance authorizing the issuance of such script. The city supposed it would have to pay the claim.

Murey, in presenting it to the legal department, explained that he had misplaced it and that he had looked for it in odd times over a period of more than 40 years. He found it among some old papers only yesterday.

Two Aged Horses Remain in Noted West Texas Stable

SAN ANGELO, Texas, Jan. 27. (AP)—Old Guggenheimer, a 22-year-old saddle horse, and his pal, Dutchy, are all that are left of the great Sam Waring collection of horses that produced nationally known race horses about two decades ago.

There was Waresmore, which ran second to Rosebud, the winner of the Kentucky derby in 1914. This same horse established a world's record for the seven-eighths mile at the Juarez track. A bookmaker bought the horse from Waring.

Arthur Waring, a son, operates a good portion of the original ranch, near Eden, although about 6,000 acres were cut up into farms and sold.

LITTLEFIELD, Texas, Jan. 27. (AP)—Organization of the Panhandle North and South Highway association was perfected at a recent meeting here.

The new association will seek state designation and construction of a highway from Channing to Big Spring by way of Vega, Hereford, Dimmitt, Littlefield, Levelland and Lamesa. The road would traverse the western part of the Panhandle, which is not served now by any north and south highway.

Arthur P. Duggan of Littlefield was elected president; J. E. Hill, Hereford, vice president and C. J. Ray of Levelland, secretary.

ELECTRA CUTS MAYOR'S PAY

Salary Reduced to $25 Per Month

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Jan. 27.—A. B. Corder, member of the city commission, has issued a statement explaining why the salary of the mayor will be reduced to $25 per month after April 15 when the new term begins. A resolution, introduced by Mr. Corder, was passed by the city commission this week indicating that the mayor and city commissioners will receive $25 a month as the charter provides and the city recorder $25. His statement follows:

"In reducing the salary of the mayor of Electra to take effect at the close of the present mayor's term; we are following the city's charter. Section 4 states that the mayor 'shall not hold any other public office of emolument.' This seems plain to me. I find nothing in the charter to the contrary.

"Heretofore for many years the mayor has been appointed recorder or city judge and has also been given the authority as city manager. Section 8 provides a salary of $25 per month for the mayor and city commissioners. For many years the mayor has drawn a salary of from $200 to $250 per month. Last May the salary was cut to $125 and he was relived of the duties of city manager. Each commissioner took over the duties of his department.

"In fixing the salary after April 15, 1932, we feel we are going by the charter of the city. It is the opinion of the present commissioners that some one else be appointed recorder or city judge, at a salary of $25 and take it out of politics and out of the fee system."

TEXAN DEFENDS BORDER FORTS

Tom Connally Opposes Abandonment of Posts

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—A move to prevent the proposed abandonment of four forts along the Mexican border was launched today by Senator Connally, Democrat, Texas, who contended it would involve a great waste of money which the government had invested in them.

Senator Connally introduced a resolution calling upon the secretary of war to report the value of the property and other details concerning forts Brown at Brownsville; McIntosh at Laredo; Clark at Brackettsville; and D. A. Russell at Marfa.

Information sought includes the amount of land owned, the amounts appropriated for establishing them; the number of troops now quartered there and the number that could be accommodated.

On receiving the data, Connally said he planned to attack on the senate floor the policy of abandoning the forts. He said the war department has said it would abandon Fort D. A. Russell by May and this he wants to prevent.

"This is a time when the utmost economy in the administration of every branch of the government is necessary," he said. "If the forts along the Mexican border are abandoned, millions of dollars will be required to build barracks and quarters at other posts to accommodate the troops now stationed along the border.

"In the interest of economy," I shall oppose the announced policy of the war department. It is unthinkable that at this time the government should be called upon to assume the payment of millions of dollars for additions to other posts when we have already available accommodations for them at their present stations.

"I am opposed to the policy of abandoning the border posts for the further reason that in time of peace the army ought to maintain posts along the Mexican border to preserve order and to prevent raids and depredations."

Tax Penalties in Valley View Waived

Special to The Record News.

VALLEY VIEW, Texas, Jan. 27.—The Valley View school board waived penalties and interest on all back school taxes until the last of January, 1932, according to a decision made this week. A statement issued by the board follows:

"By order of the Valley View school board all penalties on back taxes are eliminated from this date until the last of January, 1932. This action on the part of the school board precludes any controversy that might come up over the interpretation of the law on this matter to the effect that all penalties and interest on delinquent taxes may be waived."

Saving for the year 1930 will be 15 per cent; for 1929, 22 per cent; and for 1928, 28 per cent.

PACIFIST BOOK CALLED 'VILE'

Maj. Gen. Fries Assails Peace Pamphlet

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—A motion to adjourn today kept members of the house immigration committee from hearing excerpts from a pamphlet pronounced by Major General Amos A. Fries, a witness, "the vilest I have ever read."

Fries was testifying that Fascists belonging to the Civil Liberties union influenced the directorate of the Federal Council of Churches to expressions "tainted with Communism."

He appeared against the Griffin bill, to provide that religious views against war should not debar aliens from citizenship.

Fries submitted the brochure 'Young People's Relationships" and read from its title page that it was prepared by the "conference on preparation for marriage and home making instituted by the Federal Council of Churches."

Among its paragraph headings was "light petting and heavy petting—where draw the line."

Among the organizations Fries had mentioned as pacifist-dominated was the Methodist Federation for Social Service.

Mrs. Lowell Fletcher Hobart, president general of the D. A. R. and Mrs. Newbold N. Potts, president of the national patriotic council, also opposed the bill.

BANK BANDIT TELLS OF PLOT

Palestine Hijacker Implicates Partner

PALESTINE, Texas, Jan. 27. (AP)—Howard Wingate, confessed participant in a plot to rob the First National bank of Palestine was the principal witness today at the trial of Porter Cooper former cashier of the bank, on a charge of attempting to rob the bank of $8,427 Nov. 18.

Wingate told of planning the robbery with Cooper and agreeing to divide the money equally. He was on the witness stand for two hours. He was closely cross-examined. The court sentenced him to five years imprisonment yesterday when he pleaded guilty to the charge.

The state apparently was depending largely on his testimony in its efforts to convict Cooper. Wingate was alleged to have been the man who staged the actual hold-up, entering ahe bank with a pistol. Cooper was accused of being his inside accomplice.

Bank employes were herded into the valut. They telephoned from in the vault to officers, who arrested Wingate shortly afterward. After questioning, officers said, he agreed to make a statement, which implicated Cooper. Both were indicted by the grand jury.

RIOTING MARS MINE MEETING

Workers Rebel Against Leadership

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind., Jan. 27. (US)—A riot broke out at the United Mine Workers convention here late today. Order was restored after the sergeant at arms ejected a delegate and used force in quieting others.

The outbreak was the result of insurgency against the leadership of the international officers.

John Hindmarsh, of Riverton, Ill., a member of the executive board of district No. 12, in a speech charged that membership had dropped to 163,793 since 1919 and blamed the condition within the organization on international leadership.

Philip Murray, international vice president, attempted to reply to Hindmarsh. The latter interrupted and was joined by other insurgents, whereupon the sergeant at arms attempted to restore order. Hindmarsh was overpowered and Henry Schuster, a delegate from Scranton, Pa., was ejected.

Blows were struck but no one was seriously injured. The disorder lasted for fully 10 minutes before order was restored and Murray permitted to continue his defense of the international officers.

Whenever insurgency developed against the leadership of John L. Lewis and his labor cabinet the rebellious element has been smothered when it came to a test of strength.

During the day resolutions were read demanding salary cuts for the international officials, curtailment of appointive powers and limitation of tenure of office.

Youth Flees Police After Auto Crash

Mrs. Boodie Sewell, wife of Police Captain John L. Sewell, received a severely wrenched shoulder late Wednesday night when the car in which she and her husband were riding collided with another machine at the intersection of Lamar and Seventh.

The driver of the other machine, a youth of about 23 years, was brought to police station while officers awaited a report from the Wichita Falls Clinic hospital as to the seriousness of Mrs. Sewell's injuries. Shortly after it was reported that Mrs. Sewell was not seriously hurt, the youth was granted a request to walk across the street to see how much damage the crash had caused to his car, which he said he had borrowed.

Gaining the other side of the street he broke into a run and escaped. Police were searching late Wednesday night for him.

Mrs. Paul Von Allmen Succumbs At Houston After Long Illness

Mrs. Paul Von Allmen, former resident of Wichita Falls for many years and wife of a widely known business man here, Wednesday afternoon succumbed to a prolonged illness in Houston.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Eckman, relatives here, left Wednesday night for Houston to attend funeral services, to be held at 4 o'clock Thursday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Von Allmen made their home here for 12 years before Mrs. Von Allmen's health sent them on a vain quest across two continents.

Mrs. Von Allmen was first in the automobile business and later in the real estate business here. For five years he was director of the noted Maskat Shrine chanters, and a leader in Shrine activities.

After traveling all over the United States and in Germany in an effort to restore Mrs. Von Allmen's failing health, 18 months ago they went to Houston for the same reason.

Mrs. Von Allmen was able to be up in spite of her illness until a few weeks ago, when the disease took a constantly graver turn.

Besides her husband and her relatives here, Mrs. Von Allmen is survived by a mother, who lives in California and a sister in Houston, all of whom were at her bedside.

Funds Provided for Credit Aid Company

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—The huge Reconstruction Finance corporation today received the money with which it will begin its work of resuscitating business, but was told it must wait until tomorrow for formal senate approval of the men who will guide its activities.

President Hoover signed an appropriation bill giving the agency $500,000,000 to lend to railroads, agriculture and financial institutions. Meanwhile, Senator Blaine of Wisconsin forced a day's postponement of senate action confirming the appointments of Charles G. Dawes as president and of Harvey C. Couch and Jesse H. Jones as directors of the corporation.

At the same time, senate leaders were at work on the next problem arising from the economic situation, that of extending help to the depositors of closed banks. A bill proposed by Senator Glass, Democrat, Virginia, to accomplish this and bring about widespread changes in the banking laws was returned to a sub-committee for overhauling. The administration wants it extensively revised. Features which some felt would counteract the present drive to end deflation were the especial subject of the new study.

Rail Labor Locked In Wage Cut Parley

CHICAGO, Jan. 27. (US)—The railway unions recessed tonight until tomorrow morning without having reached an agreement on the 10 per cent reduction in wages demanded by the railroads of the country.

David B. Robertson, spokesman for the 21 labor groups, said:

"We have made no progress since noon. The situation is exactly as it was at that time."

When the unions met this afternoon it was understood that 16 of the 21 organizations had reached a decision on whether to accept or reject the plan of the railroad executives.

This called for a 10 per cent reduction in wages on the part of the men and stabilization of employment on the part of the roads.

Higher Court Acts in Appeal of Torch Slayer

AUSTIN, Jan. 27. (AP)—The court of criminal appeals today upheld the 99-year conviction of A. E. Stanley for the "torch murder" in Fort Worth of Roy Hawthorne.

Hawthorne's body was found in a pasture, where there was evidence of an attempt to burn it. The state alleged that Hawthorne was slain in the bathroom of Stanley's home. The homicide occurred on July 26, 1930, state primary election day.

Stanley denied that he was responsible for Hawthorne's death. He said that Hawthorne was beaten in fight that he (Stanley) had attempted to stop.

The appellate court upheld the validity of the "54 hour" law, which prohibits the working by an employer of women employes more than 54 hours a week, or nine hours daily for six days.

It passed on the statute in denying an application of E. D. Butcher, Houston laundry operator for a writ of habeas corpus, seeking his release from jail. He had been remanded to jail when he refused to pay a fine for violation of the law after he had been convicted in a Harris county court.

Cecil Adaire, convicted in Fannin county for the slaying of Roi Butler and given 20-year imprisonment, won a new trial. The trial court judgment was reversed and remanded because of improper questions asked Adaire by state prosecutors. The appellate court held the interrogations were calculated to impress the jury that Adaire was guilty of specific acts not connected with the charge for which he was on trial.

Mellon Denies He Knew of Deal charges and innuendoes had recently been broadcast by a United States senator, and since "I am a stockholder in one of the companies interested in the concession and I have been definitely drawn into this matter, more particularly in the radio speech, I deem it proper to state the facts." He added:

"The suggestion that I participated in or in any way concerned myself, directly or indirectly, with these transactions is entirely without foundation in fact."

The two bills of Senator Johnson, at whose behest the finance committee undertook its investigation of foreign securities marketed here, would establish a board with control over the loans and require public reports on all such credits.

The "foreign loan board," as it would be called, would supervise all negotiations between American bankers and foreign governments seeking advances. The reports on the loans would be made to the secretary of commerce.

Under the brilliant and persistent questioning of Johnson, the senate investigation disclosed that billions in foreign bonds were floated without proper supervision. Nearly $1,000,000,000 of these bonds are now in default.

The hearing today disclosed that while making huge loans to Cuba, the Chase National bank of New York employed Jose Obergon, son-in-law of President Machado, as a branch manager of its Havana branch.

Senator King, Democrat of Utah, introduced documentary evidence showing that Obregon received $500,000 in connection with $50,000,000 loaned to Cuba by a banking group headed by Chase National.

Although King sought to show that this was a "commission" which went to Obregon personally, officials of the bank, who were testifying, denied that he retained any of the money for himself.

LONG ASSERTS POWER STAND

Louisiana's New Senator in First Speech

WASHINGTON, Jan. 27. (AP)—In his first speech in the senate, Huey P. Long of Louisiana today protested against "the administration reaching into the back yards of corporations" to pick men for government commissions and the supreme court.

The new Democratic senator arose during the consideration of William E. Humphrey of Washington state for re-appointment to the Federal Trade commission, to deliver his protest.

He said he had seen the power, trade and tariff commissions "nullified" by such appointments and on one occasion when the supreme court was tied on a public utility question the ninth member named was against the public interest in the matter.

"I don't expect this will do any good," said Long, "but I want to make known that I intend to vote against all re-appointments to these commissions."

Murray Delays Action On Phone Tax Pact

OKLAHOMA CITY, Jan. 27. (UP)—Gov. W. H. Murray has not determined whether he will accept the Southwestern Bell Telephone company's offer to settle the state's $644,000 tax suit for $38,000.

The governor said today he had been too busy to study the offer forwarded him by Atty. Gen. J. Berry King. He said after a hurried inspection of the offer that he believed the company could not be made to pay the penalty if the company had been advised by proper state officials that it was not liable for the tax. The company makes these claims in affidavits.

Slender, exquisite her figure

But her skin, Tragic!

By Julia Foster ★

Litho, beautifully molded . . . a simply captivating figure. I watched her with delight. But as I drew nearer the whole illusion was ruined. What a tragedy—her skin! How I longed to tell her about a daily treatment I learned from a famous beauty expert.

Don't ever let your skin reach the "tragic" stage. No woman has the right to do that these days. You'll be surprised what a little time and the right kind of daily care will do to keep your skin supple and youthful . . . free of blemishes. Here, for instance, is a two-minute treatment:

Use your hands to massage a lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water into the skin. Work it in, gently. Then rinse away lather, dirt and oil...with warm water, followed by cool. For dry skin, a little olive oil at night. In the morning, your regular make-up. But never, never—till after this correct foundation cleansing!

Read the text in the panel at the right: "Beauty In a Test Tube." It tells you why 20,000 beauty experts endorse the above treatment.

Tired—try this pick-up bath

Shave a cake of Palmolive into 4 cups of water and heat it until the soap has completely dissolved. Then, pour this amber liquid into a half a tubful of tepid water. Let this caressing bath enfold you—enrich and revive your skin. Then, massage your entire body with the lather from another cake of Palmolive. Rinse it off and rise, refreshed, from the most soothing beauty treatment you can imagine. You'll find yourself wanting to don a smart frock—go places—do things!

For the next ten days won't you indulge in this daily care...for face and bath? Then—feel your skin. Revel in its smoothness, its loveliness. A "tragic" skin? Not for you! Use Palmolive...for a lovely complexion.

BEAUTY IN A TEST TUBE

Olive oil for the complexion! Always known to keep skin soft, supple, youthful.

But can you get enough olive oil in soap? How much, actually, goes into Palmolive? Here is the exact amount—in this test tube at the right. To this generous olive oil content can be directly traced the great benefits of Palmolive Soap to the complexion. Palmolive is the only large-selling soap made of vegetable oils exclusively. The only one using olive oil as a base. Other Palmolive ingredients are simply oils from palm trees necessary to produce a richer, creamier, more workable lather. The color is the natural green of olive and palm oils—no artificial coloring.

More than 20,000 of the world's leading beauty experts have for years urged women to use Palmolive Soap in preference to all others. Heed their advice!

★ Julia Foster has interviewed over 2,600 beauty experts in the past two years. She attends beauty conventions; is in and out of smart restaurants, clubs, theatres. Her information on beauty subjects is authentic. It deserves your careful reading.

Wednesday Club Programs Cover Interesting Topics

Interesting programs, election of officers, and pleasant social features marked the meetings of Wednesday study clubs. Miss Marguerite Peery was hostess to the Twentieth Century Junior, honoring the president, Mrs. James E. Hay, with a delightful covered dish luncheon at her home on Seymour road.

The large table in the dining room was covered with a handsome Italian cut work cloth and silver holders holding green tapers, with a center of pastel sweet peas, made it very attractive. The small tables where luncheon was served, were centered with clusters of sweet peas. A delicious three-course luncheon was served.

The study of the Victorian age was continued and Mrs. Shadie F. Hale was leader in the interesting study of Dickens. An clever review of "The Tale of Two Cities," which had been prepared by Miss Mary Peters, was read by Miss Peery and a round table discussion followed.

New Century Junior

Mrs. Abernathy was hostess to members of the New Century Junior club when Russia was the subject of the day's program.

Mrs. Joe B. Carrigan gave a splendid review of "Twice Born in Russia," by Natalia Petrova and "Soviet Russia," discussed by Mrs. John Hampton was the second number. An enthusiastic round table discussion showed intense interest in Russian affairs.

PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

I was amazed the other day when speaking to a man whom I had always found unusually well informed on books, to learn that he had never read nor even heard of Mrs. Gaskell's classic, "Cranford."

It seemed as if some one had missed knowing flickering shadows of trees in summer orchards; known nothing of old fashioned gardens. All those things that life in a small town or in a rural community gives to youth are embodied in Cranford.

The book was praised by literary lights of the date when it was published—in the early nineties—I think. They likened it to some of Charles Lamb's writing and men and women alike loved it. For it is the story of quaint and simple people whose daily lives, lived in plain and unpretentious ways, have still all the divine romance and tragedy of lives we find in great biographies.

Miss Mattie is the real heroine—if there is one—in the book. Miss Mattie or Miss Matilda, according to the occasion. She was a very proper and very diffident little old maid who had one ruined romance in her life.

Never do green peas come to my table that I do not remember the dinner with a bachelor that took so long a telling in Cranford. Mr. Holbrook asked three ladies to spend a June day at his country home and after Miss Mattie had been persuaded it would be perfectly proper, they went on the long drive to Woodley.

The old-fashioned garden at Woodley, I remember, had roses and currant bushes touching one another and feathery asparagus bushes made backgrounds for pinks and gilly flowers. The gilly flowers, I particularly remember, because I never saw those blossoms.

But the thing that impressed me was the dinner. They had ducks and green peas and only two pronged black-handled forks with which to eat the peas. Miss Mattie picked up her peas one by one and ate them daintily. One lady pushed them to the side of her plate and sighed over them; but the writer looked at the host and seeing him shoveling them wholesale into his mouth on the large rounded end of his knife, she imitated him and survived. I think of it whenever I am tempted to eat tiny peas with a teaspoon.

Mr. Holbrook was Miss Mattie's sole romance and when he died in France, where she hated for him to go because she feared frogs would not agree with him, she wore "something like" a widow's bonnet.

There's much to laugh at in Cranford. There is Miss Betsy's cow that fell in a lime pit and when they dragged her out with much of her hair off, and Miss Betsy cried and asked Captain Brown what to do, he told her, "Get her a flannel waistcoat and flannel drawers if you want to keep her alive," and the Alderney cow went to pasture each day dressed in dark gray flannel.

Read Cranford to hear the arguments over the relative virtues of Dickens and Dr. Johnson. Read it for pure love of good reading; but if you have not read Cranford, be sure to read it.

Weak, Tired . . . Couldn't Work

"I feel much better Now"

"I WAS weak and run down and I couldn't work much. Some days I was in bed all day . . . on account of female weakness.

"My cousin recommended your Vegetable Compound to me and I began taking it right away.

"I sure feel like a new woman. Work all day and am stronger and feel fine now.

"I have only taken 3 bottles but I found relief in the first one I took. I recommend it to any woman who suffers as I did."—Mrs. C. E. Hawk, R. R. No. 2, Prairie City, Iowa.

That is the reason why so many nurses use Midol. They know it blocks all possibility of such pain for hours—and nurses know that it is not a narcotic and so is quite safe to take at this critical time.

OUR CHILDREN

Eighteen

Eighteen is a difficult age. It is just as difficult for the 18-year-old child as it is for those who are dealing with him. He feels himself grown up in every way. He wants to go on his own. The slightest hint of interference sets him into a rage and he storms and threatens and finally goes off slamming the door behind him. That stirs up a storm in him and in the rest of the family that takes some time to calm down. About the time it is settling into silence somebody speaks out of turn again and there is another uproar.

We have to study the nature of these children, or younger adults,

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, inclosing stamped, addressed envelope for reply.

and try to go with them rather than against them. In some ways they are as grownup and as responsible as ever they will be, while in others they are childish. They measure themselves by their strengths and we by their weaknesses. One childish performance on their part and we are ready to put them into bibs once more. Fear gets the better of us and we want to hide the child and save him.

It is better to let him go on his own as much as possible. Even if he does make mistakes, what of it? Everybody else has made them. He cannot hope to escape. The best we can do is to try to prevent his making very serious ones and if we go about it in a sensible way we usually succeed.

The children who have trouble in school and out have to make all sorts of defenses. They have to make the first one to themselves to comfort their spirits in the face of failure. This often takes forms that annoy us acutely. Sometimes they put on a bright air and assume such an attitude of self-confidence that we can't find a place to hang a maxim on. We accuse them of being careless about their state when in reality they are suffering and putting the best possible face upon it.

Now and then one of them runs away. His report is so bad, he knows that he is in for a bad time at school and at home and he has no acceptable defense to make. He hates to think of what his mother will say and how she will feel. He hates to think of the disappointment he is. In his bewilderment he sees no way out so he runs away in the vague hope of finding some place to hide, some thing he can do, some bit of luck to pull him through.

Wait patiently and he will come back. Take him to the experts and try to find the cause of his trouble. Keep thinking success for him. Keep hoping even when things are darkest. Nothing about youth is final. Your attitude is bound to be reflected in his and if you only hold on long enough he will win through.

"But he is 18, he is 20, he is 22," you say. "He ought to know something by this time if he is ever going to be any good."

Be patient. Don't count years so much. They are not so important as the growth he made or did not make during their term. He is usually two or three years behind in certain phases of growth and the understanding and power that comes of such growth. You will have to bide your time and wait for him to catch up. He will if you just hold on and keep pushing, driving and pulling him along the road he has to travel.

Encourage Health

Health is the first requisite of a happy successful life. Get health and all other things will be added to you. In the first place it makes you very attractive. The light in your eyes inspires others to love you. The color of your skin makes them glad to look at you. The magnetism of your healthy spirit draws people to you. They want to be with you, to feel your vitality stimulating them, to laugh with you, to share your well being.

That's worth striving for even if health did not mean all this and more to you personally. When you are filled with health you feel like a conquering hero. The earth you tread on has a message of hope and cheer. Each time your foot strikes it you feel its upward push. The sun and the sky and the sea exist for you and the stars are yours for they sing in your spirit. Food tastes so good and bed feels so fine and all your days are pleasant ones. There is no fear, no doubt, no darkness in your life when health is in you.

We ought to strive to win this prize for the children in our care. Not that we want to be fussy about it, health is never fussy. It is simple and wholesome, accepting life as it is, crude, warm and pulsing. We want the children to be like that. We want them to enjoy simple food. A cereal well cooked, good rich milk, sweet bread and butter, a bit of fruit, ought to be a feast for the healthy child. If it isn't we want to find out why and set to work to remedy it.

Children need plenty of fresh air and exercise. The city children are at a disadvantage there and the children of the country have the best of it. But even city children can play in the open air if they are sent regularly to the playgrounds and parks. Fresh air, simple food, exercise, something to do and the children are well cared for and likely to be in good health.

Talk health before them. If there is somebody ill don't make the misfortune a topic for family conversation. Children get notions about illness that would astonish you. I've known impressionable children to strive to be ill because the reports that came from the sickroom were so dramatic and colorful that they made the invalid a center of solicitude for days on end and filled the listening youngster with a desire to be just as dramatically interesting as that.

Thoughts have a great deal to do with health. Keep thinking health and strength and courage and you will be likely to have them. You certainly will be more likely to feel well if you want to feel well than if you wish to be a petted invalid. That is particularly true about children. If you praise them for rosy cheeks, good appetites, shining eyes and lovely teeth they will begin to think that health is attractive and worth while. Give the same attention to the healthy child as you would to the ailing one, putting the same emphasis on health, and see what happens.

Some people hate to say they are perfectly well. "O, I feel so so. Can't complain. Had a headache last week that was a corker but since then I've felt pretty good." Don't let children hear you talk like that. Cheer up. Covet health. Talk health. Think health. It pays.

Memphis Pair Mark 66th Anniversary

MEMPHIS, Texas, Jan. 27. (AP)—The five children of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Wells of Memphis attended the 66th wedding anniversary of the couple.

Wells, a veteran of the civil war, is 87 and Mrs. Wells is 85. Both are still active and in excellent health.

Heavy Snow in Sierras Handicaps Wild Life

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Jan. 27. (UP)—Extremely heavy Sierra snows have proven a handicap for California wild life this winter.

Near Quincy recently a herd of deer was forced to lower levels in search of food. The herd was struck by a passenger train and five were killed.

A flock of 75 mallard ducks was forced down by a heavy blizzard on the 8,000-foot level. The wild fowl were discovered floundering in heavy drifts by Mike Ostini and Joe Dellera, two mail carriers.

Prince George Artist Of the Royal Family

LONDON, Jan. 27. (UP)—Prince George, youngest son of the king and queen, is the artistic member of the family. His latest effort is to design his own monogram for his note paper and handkerchiefs.

This is an old English G, surmounted by a coronet and surrounded by the garter.

On the walls of his sitting room at York are several black and white sketches done by the royal crayon.

Huge Mastodon's Form Erected in Museum

LINCOLN, Neb., Jan. 27. (UP)—The huge skeleton of a long-jawed mastodon, unearthed on the rim of Devil's gulch, Brown county, Nebraska, is being erected at the state museum here.

The elephant, designated the Eubeledon morrilli, is larger than the modern day elephant. Its bones and frame were larger and coarser. The specimen illustrates the principle that all early elephants were four tuskers and had low brows.

Trees Adaptable To City Discussed At Garden Club

Sprays of golden bells and native red berries down the center of the tables and bowls of blossoms from the gardens of members of the club, made a beautiful setting for the January meeting of the Garden club at the Woman's Forum clubhouse Wednesday. Mrs. J. C. Mytinger was in the chair and after the invocation by Mrs. Bernard Martin, Mrs. William E. Young sang Mary Daggett Lake's "Have You Ever Been to Texas in the Spring?" with the group joining in the chorus. The song was written for Texas Garden clubs and will be used locally as the regular theme song.

A charming letter, accompanied by a poem "Bittersweet for Sale," and a box of bittersweet, sent by Dorinda Wade from her new home in Missouri, received enthusiastic applause.

Mrs. W. W. Cook introduced Miss Mary Luise Webb and Mrs. J. M. Isbell who were guests and each spoke briefly. Miss Webb told of the plans made for beautification of environment in country districts, stating that environment meant as much as a comfortable home; Mrs. Isbell, who is the country beautification chairman in the county federation, asked the cooperation of the club, particularly the plant exchange. The club voted unanimously in her work.

Mrs. Mytinger appointed Mesdames J. M. Isbell, W. W. Cook, Rhea Howard and G. D. Bowie on the club extension committee to work with Mrs. Bert Bean, chairman.

Out of town guests were introduced, among them Mrs. G. B. Smedley and Mrs. A. G. Poindexter of Fort Worth.

Talk on Trees

Mrs. Walter Campbell was presented by Mrs. Mytinger as the person in charge of the day's program and she in turn presented N. H. Downing who spoke to the club on trees. Mr. Downing stated that trees should be considered for their placement, whether they are to be used on the street or the lawn or as a background and advised choosing a number for each purpose then eliminating until the person planting would have what was needed. The foliage and the adaptability to the soil were also stressed in the choice. Mr. Downing then gave a list of deciduous trees suitable to Texas and Wichita Falls, followed by a list of evergreens. He named trees subject to root rot and advised blacklisting them. The audience was advised against over-watering and was cautioned to use no fertilizer with the conifer type of evergreen. The bamboo tree was named as the most valuable and it was stated that Mrs. C. E. McCutcheon owned several.

Mr. Downing answered questions in an interesting discussion following the talk and many members took notes.

Delicious Luncheon

LOSE FAT This Right Way

Modern science has found that excess fat is largely due to a scanty gland secretion. Too much food which should supply fuel and energy goes to piled-up fat.

Since this discovery, doctors the world over are feeding this lacking factor. The results are seen in every circle. Excess fat has been disappearing fast. Millions have gained slender figures, new youth and vigor, in this right way. They have done it without starvation, by combating the cause.

Marmola prescription tablets present this modern method in a form convenient and cheap. They are prepared by a medical laboratory, famous the world over. People have used them for 24 years—millions of boxes of them. Now multitudes of people show and tell the results. Some of your friends are among them.

If your figure is abnormal, your vigor below par, do what these people have done. Take Marmola tablets—four a day until conditions are corrected. Don't starve yourself. Don't use methods which are futile. Do the right thing now.

All druggists supply Marmola. A book in each box gives the formula and explains the amazing results. Go start now. You do yourself a vast injustice by remaining over-fat.

To make Children EAT

Don't force children to eat! The girl or boy who has no appetite has stasis—which means the child is sluggish. But cathartics have caused more constipation than they ever cured! The "California treatment" is best—just pure fig syrup. Try this for a few days then see how eagerly your youngster will eat.

How to Conquer Sluggishness

Stimulate the colon and that child with a finicky appetite will devour everything set before him. Here's the simple treatment that does more for babies or older children than all the diets, fad foods, or tonics.

Nature has provided the only "medicine" you'll need to stir a child's colon muscles into proper action. California fig syrup. Pure, delicious, harmless. It acts on the lower colon—where the trouble is. It has no ill effects on the intestines.

Begin tonight, with this marvelous "California treatment." Any druggist has California fig syrup, all bottled, with directions. Use enough the first time to cleanse the clogged colon of every bit of poison and hard waste. Then just a little twice a week until the child's appetite, color, weight and spirits tell you the stasis is gone. Whenever a cold or other upset clogs the system again, use this natural vegetable laxative instead of drastic drugs.

WARNING

There are dealers who practice substitution. Be sure to protect your child by looking for the name CALIFORNIA on the bottle.

LOVELACE

Tiny Pup Is Only Friend of Aged Healer as Death Comes

Special to The Record News

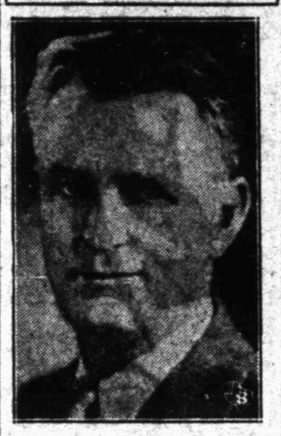

FREDERICK, Okla., Jan. 27.—Dying in a lonely hotel bedroom, penniless, Dr. O. J. Fay, 80, who described himself as a psycho-analyst, able to heal any disease without medicines or surgery, talked cheerily to the last of better times coming, when patients would furnish him practice.

He came to Frederick two weeks ago, taking a room in the Thurmond hotel on West Grand. Ads were inserted in the papers, proclaiming him as the "Human X-Ray," and printed bills were distributed. Before many days the doctor himself was on the sick bed, enfeebled with age.

Knowing the end was near, he gave the name of a son who was in Los Angeles, Calif., two years ago, but as he sat in his chair, life ebbing from his body, he insisted there was no one but the undertaker to notify.

A tiny fox terrier accompanied the aged man.

Sheriff Sued

After investigation by auditors of the records of the sheriff of Dallas County, county commissioners have filed suit to recover $20,800, which they maintain that Sheriff Hal Hood, pictured above, should have turned over to the county instead of keeping himself during 1931. They will also investigate the sheriff's records for the three preceding years, they have announced

Davis Expected To Obey Order of Wet GOP Leader

PHILADELPHIA, Jan. 27. (INS)—Sen. James J. Davis is about ready to drop his attitude of "watchful waiting" and plunge into the wettest of the political seas, it was forecast here today, following a conclave of G. O. P. leaders at the home of William S. Vare in Atlantic City.

Davis had been warned by the Philadelphia chieftain that if he expected to be re-elected he must come out on a wet platform. Vare's declaration was taken to mean that the wringing wet Philadelphia Republican organization would seek another candidate if Davis did not take a definite stand against prohibition.

Alarmed by Vare's stand Senator Davis started mending his political fences at once.

A Washington Bystander

By KIRKE SIMPSON

WASHINGTON.—Fifty thousand dollars is a lot of money. More particularly, it is a vast sum to a political party with a national convention to pay for and its war chest not only bare but deep in debt.

John J. Raskob

Which explains why that $50,000 blue chip tossed on the table so nonchalantly by boosters of Atlantic City as site for the Democratic national convention in June completely upset all previous calculations.

What political writers yet do not seem to know definitely is whether that east coast bid was to be taken at face value, or was intended merely to force Chicago's hand and take the convention there?

That is what it did—even compelling forces aligned with New York boosters of Governor Roosevelt for the presidential nomination to abandon hastily their previous Kansas City urge and mobilize behind Chicago's bid matching Atlantic City's.

For the Roosevelters at this stage any place but New York would be better than Atlantic City. It is too close to home, too much within the shadow of that man of mystery, Al Smith.

Raskob's "Poker Face"

The bland smile with which Chairman John J. Raskob, opening the convention city bidding before the national committee disclaimed any personal interest in the result beyond the hope that the highest bidder would be favored implied that he knew what was coming.

Was that another glimpse of the Raskob "poker face?" If so, Chicago rather than the Roosevelters might have been the victim of Raskob strategy.

What might have happened had all four contesting cities stuck to the previous $150,000 limit instead of making an auction buy of it will never be known now.

As a matter of fact, aside from the purely commercial aspect of the matter to the cities involved, it is quite likely that the determination of the convention city rarely has any important bearing.

New York in 1924, when the McAdoo-Smith deadlock forced the compromise nomination of John W. Davis on the Democrats might be an exception.

Skirmishing

Managers, self-appointed or otherwise, of the moves for various nomination possibilities may see in these struggles over the convention city a chance to test strength.

One thing the Democrats did by selecting Chicago. They made it certain that national politics would adjourn from Washington to that city from June 14 to a date indefinite. Short of some improbable emergency, the White House will be inside page stuff for that interval.

Steel Promotion Favors Protege Of Former Master

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—Appointment of William J. Filbert as vice chairman of the finance committee of United States Steel corportaion marks another promotion for a protege of the late Judge Elbert H. Gary.

Associates of the former steel master said today Judge Gary had an unusually high regard for Filbert who is a lightning calculator of figures and is said to be better posted than any other man on steel corporation statistics.

Filbert, already a member of the finance committee and a director of the corporation, has held the relatively minor office of controller. However, his influence is said to far exceed the limits ordinarily associated with that title.

Filbert is one of the highest salaried executives in the world and one of the least known.

Germany has stopped paying reparations. Well, now that we know we're not going to get the money, we can forget about it and see what we can get out of the depression.

Economic Pull-Hauling

WHILE desperate efforts are being made from the federal government down to the last individual to overcome our depression, it becomes more and more apparent that certain new economic and industrial standards must of necessity become a part of any permanent cure.

Widespread deflation caused by the depression has been praised in many quarters, in which it is held that commercial values must reflect true values before healthy business can be established. The principal complaint registered against President Hoover's reconstruction finance corporation is that it has in it the germ of forced inflation.

Beneath valuations upon which commercial exchanges are made, however, are the fundamental values of real commodities and labor and personal service. Economic values first were determined almost entirely by the law of physical supply and demand. Each man and his family produced by hand that which satisfied their needs. With the coming of the handicraft era, and after that the industrial age, the element of labor entered more and more into the fixing of exchange values.

The present situation reveals with utter clarity, however, that the industrial age has run away with itself. Industrial and financial expansion has set such a terrific pace that basic economic standards have been left far behind—neglected in the onward rush of mass production and mass credits. Those two basic commodities—raw products and labor—still are valued pretty much as they were two generations ago.

The amount of labor required to produce goods for humanity's needs has been decreased tremendously by science and invention. It has not been redistributed so that those who can work may work. Consequently, the vast majority of people have no means of procuring their share of goods which are being produced. As a natural result, he who produces heavily from the soil finds himself without a market, and must dispose of his products with no hope of profit—if not, indeed, at a heavy loss.

As stated by Dr. Lewis Browne in this city recently, we have perfected the science of agronomy; we are masters of industry, and captains of finance; but our science of economics is infantile, because we have not yet learned the science of distribution. There is no lack of goods, which are the basis of value. There is no lack of money. But we are woefully lacking in distribution, and until that problem is solved, no permanent relief from the present economic distress can be effected.

A Hero Failure

WHEN Virginia unveiled its magnificent new bronze statue of Robert E. Lee the other day, on the 125th anniversary of his birth, it honored a man who has long since ceased to be exclusively a hero of the old South. The famous son of Virginia, leader of the lost cause, belongs to all the nation now; and the nation, if it is wise, will keep him on his pedestal for a long time.

For Lee is quite unlike any of the other heroes in our national gallery. All the others were successful; Lee was, by ordinary material standards, a failure. His career was crowned with defeat instead of victory. And it is a tremendously good thing for us to have a hero of that kind in our pantheon.

Success is a thing we all strive for, and it is only natural that we should. Our history and our environment have compelled us to admire the success story. But we have overdone it. We have fallen into the habit of believing that material success, or the lack of it, supplies the only gauge by which a man's life can properly be measured.

The figure of Lee supplies a perfect corrective for this attitude.

The man gave himself to a cause that lost. He personified that cause. By sheer, dazzling brilliance he came within a hair's breadth of making it succeed; in the end, when the remorseless force of circumstances was too much for him, he went down to defeat with it. All that he had fought for vanished on the march to Appomattox. His own career was wrecked in the collapse of the confederacy.

And yet—failure or no, he was one of the greatest of Americans, and he occupies a securer position each year. And his memory is a living proof of a profoundly important truth; that worldly success or failure, after all, count for very little.

You may remember a war-time cartoon in "Punch"; an arrogant kaiser glowering down from war's desolation at Albert of Belgium, taunting him "See—you've lost everything!" And Albert replies, "Not my soul!"

Better than Albert, Lee proves the same point. And the man who can make that reply has not, in the end, really lost anything.

Love Stands By

READ THIS FIRST:

Lois Corbin, a pretty working girl, falls in love with Bruce Durand, who is from one of the wealthiest families in Chicago. Ashamed to let him know where she lives, Lois leaves her family and goes to share an apartment with Arlene and Margaret, two girl friends. Bruce does not meet her to take her down to work, as he has promised, and Lois begins to know the first bitter disappointments of love. Lois worries are over, however, when Margaret stops at her desk and tells her that Bruce had to break his date with her on account of business. He comes to take her to lunch, and before he leaves her he asks her to go out dancing with him the following Saturday. Bruce waits for her each night to take her home. He wants to spend all his time with her, but Lois insists that a girl must have some time to herself. She particularly wants this evening to herself, because she is going to move into Margaret's apartment. She finds that the davenport is much too short for comfortable sleeping, and is just getting homesick when she drops off to sleep.

Now Go on With the Story

CHAPTER IX

Lois thought it was great fun getting ready for her date Saturday night with Bruce. Even though the tiny apartment was crowded when all three of them were preparing for their dates, still they were good natured about everything and everybody joked and laughed a lot. Saturday night always was a hilarious night in Chicago. Everybody everywhere was preparing for the evening that would have no end until the first streaks of day began to show over the swishing lake.

The cabarets were planning their capacity houses. Extra tables were set out, extending upon the dance floor until a narrow space was left for the dancers. Large dance halls were in readiness for the thousands of feet that would waltz over the shining, waxed floors. The movies anticipated long lines of customers which usually crammed their houses to overflow on Saturday nights.

No work tomorrow. Sleep as late as you liked. Tonight was the one night in the week when the great city stretched, yawned and became active like some animal after lying dormant. One fell into the swing of it somehow. Lois did.

She tried on dress after dress. Arlene and Margaret passed judgment on them. At length she put on one that passed all of them. It was a filmy, yellow crepe made with a little bolero and a sash of rainbow colors. It was Arlene's, and it made Lois look like a million dollars. At least that is what Margaret said she looked like. The yellow would match the color of Bruce's car, Arlene said, joyfully. Arlene went in for things like that. She had a lot of dresses of various color just for that reason alone.

Lois had never had such a pretty dress in all her life. It was the kind she always had desired. She had seen some just like it in the windows of the shops along Wabash avenue. It was grand, feeling that one was dressed well enough so that any man would be proud to take you out. Bruce would like her in it, Lois knew.

"It will have to be pressed," Arlene said.

Lois hummed a little tune as she spread a towel on the kitchen cabinet and turned on the electric iron. She was getting into the spirit of living. This was life, life that she had yearned to experience.

"Can I wear those blue beads tonight, Margaret?" Arlene called from the bath room.

Margaret said, "Yes, if you'll let me wear your crystals."

Arlene said, "O. K."

The phone rang. It was Arlene's date down stairs. Arlene glanced hastily at the little rose colored clock on the library table. "Good heavens," she said, "I had no idea it was as late as it is. Well, he'll just have to wait, that's all. I'm nowhere near ready."

It was exciting. Soon now, Bruce would call from downstairs. Lois would say, "Tell him to come up, please," just as she had heard Margaret and Arlene do on other occasions when she had been over there to see them.

It made Lois look like a million dollars

Finally, they were all dressed and Arlene called down for them to "send Mr. Pollard up, please." Lois never had seen Arlene look so pretty. She had on a dress of pale blue chiffon that swept all around her when she walked, like the veils on a dancer when she was going through her steps on the stage of a great theater.

Arlene was as pretty in her way as Lois was. She was blonde, her hair was soft and curly around her face. Her skin was creamy. In the summer, she used to try to acquire a tan because she thought that was the fashionable thing to do, but all she could get was a sunburn and it was so painful that she gave up now in favor of her own natural color. Her eyes were blue, not so deep as Lois' eyes, either in color or in understanding, but she knew how to use them to their best advantage as far as captivating men was concerned.

Arlene had a way about her with men. She never met one that did not ask her for an engagement the second time. She was full of life and always joking and men liked that about a girl. They like to feel, if they took a girl out, that she was having a good time. And Arlene certainly knew how to give them that impression, whether she was enjoying herself or not.

Mr. Pollard turned out to be an elderly gentleman, not at all the type that Lois would have been interested in. He pressed her hand a little when Arlene introduced him to her, and then he kept his eyes on her while he looked at her from head to foot.

"Friend of yours?" he asked Arlene.

"She lives here now," Arlene said proudly. "She's one of us."

The gentleman said "Oh." Then he launched off into matters that had occurred at his office, no part of which Lois thought to be at all interesting despite the fact that Arlene and Margaret laughed uproariously at some of the things he said. She was happy when the phone rang and she heard Bruce say, "I'm here, honey."

Her breath caught a little as she opened the door in response to his knock. She stood there for a moment because Bruce stepped in and wouldn't let her turn around. He whistled softly.

"Miss Corbin, I believe was the lady with whom I made the engagement. I guess there's some mistake."

Lois laughed bashfully. She wished the dress really belonged to her. She felt queer now since Bruce was calling so much attention to it. She tried to change the subject.

"I want you to meet these people, Bruce," she said.

He turned around then and Lois introduced him.

Arlene said, "We haven't many places to sit down when we all have dates in here, but guess you can find a place."

Margaret said, "Bring that little chair in out of the kitchenet."

Margaret's date came soon then, too, and they all sat around and talked concerning different things that were happening in the city. Lois continued to wish that Bruce would suggest departing, but he seemed perfectly contented to sit on there talking.

Lois observed that every time Bruce got out a cigaret, Arlene struck a match and held it for him. He had seemed a little embarrassed

Any question of fact you may ask will be answered promptly in a personal letter to you. Be careful to write clearly, give your full name and address, and enclose two-cent stamp for reply postage. Q.—In contract bridge, does the fact that a small slam or grand slam is made when only game is bid, point to the conclusion that the players did not value their hands properly?—A. L.

A.—Approximately 75 per cent of slams made are not biddable. Opponents play differently against a slam bid. Also there may be fortuious leads or misplay on the part of an opponent.

Q.—Which horse of the progeny of Man o' War has most nearly approached him in physical appearance and track performance?—J. A. E.

A.—Miss Elizabeth Daingerfield, who managed the horse after his retirement from racing, says that American Flag most nearly resembles his sire. At Faraway farm the son was often mistaken for the sire, and vice versa, by horsemen and other visitors. Miss Daingerfield thinks that American Flag also came nearest to reproducing Man o' War's qualities as a race horse, although Crusader was more famous and more successful, due to the fact that he was a sounder horse.

Q.—Will filling up the brick wells around trees with dead leaves injure the trees?—C. B. H.

A.—It will injure them. Wells should be kept open, so that the bark will stay dry and healthy. The reason for these wells is that the bark above the ground does not readily adapt itself to moist (such as underground) conditions.

Q.—What size are crimson clover seed?—D. K.

A.—About the size of a pin head.

Q.—How much per square foot does a complete janitor service in a modern office building and medical building cost?—P. S. W.

A.—According to a report of the National Association of Building Owners and Managers, strictly for cleaning costs, all cities give the average for 1930 as 20.5 cents per square foot. A small group of medical buildings reported a cleaning cost of 23.7 cents per square foot. Cleaning is but one of the operating costs in an office building—the other groups of strictly operating items being electricity, heating, plumbing, elevators, general expense, and power, which show a total operating cost of 62.3 cents per square foot for office buildings, and 77.25 cents per square foot for medical buildings.

Q.—What are bilboes?—C. H.

A.—This name was given to a bar of iron with sliding shackles once used to fetter prisoners.

Q.—How much money was paid out last year in salaries by Harvard university?—M. E. L.

A.—Harvard paid nearly $5,000,000 for salaries and research work. Harvard's total income was about $13,000,000.

Q.—Please give recipe for salting nuts.—N. M.

A.—Blanch almonds and filberts. Use raw peanuts and remove skins. Use whole pecan nut meats. For each cup of nuts, heat, in small frying pan, one-half cup olive or cooking oil, or half lard and half clarified butter. Put in enough nut meats at a time to cover bottom of pan and stir over fire until delicately browned. Remove with spoon or small skimmer, taking up as little oil as possible. Drain on brown paper and sprinkle lightly with salt. Avoid cooking nut meats (especially pecans) too long, as they darken after being removed from fat.

Q.—Into how many languages has "The Rosary" been translated?—M. T.

A.—Into eight.

Q.—How was the chief clerk or reading clerk of the senate appointed?—A. McC.

A.—John Crockett, the present chief clerk of the senate who acts as reading clerk, was chosen in 1908. The senate at that time directed the secretary of the senate to select a reading clerk. A number of people were tried and Mr. Crockett was chosen.

TEXAS PIONEER SHOT TO DEATH

Wellington Man Accidentally Killed

Special to The Record News.

WELLINGTON, Texas, Jan. 27.—The top of the head blown away by a shotgun discharge, the body of David L. Worley, prominent pioneer farmer, was found hanging across a board fence at his farm home, 16 miles north of Wellington, early Wednesday morning.

The body was found by Mrs. Worley who followed him into the barnyard where he had taken his gun to investigate noises in the chicken yard.

Justice of the Peace T. W. Myers, who conducted an inquest, said death was due to accidental gunshot wounds.

A resident of Collingsworth county since 1897 and father of a distinguished family, Mr. Worley had been one of the leading farmers and landowners here for many years.

His son, "Buster" Worley, was president of the Texas 4-H clubs for two years and state delegate to the national 4-H club convention in Washington last year. The young man is now a student in Texas A. & M. college.

His widow and a daughter, Mrs. Hess Deger of Aberdeen, also survive.

Funeral arrangements were not complete Wednesday night.

Lonely English Prison Where 300 Convicts Mutinied

This huddled group of granite buildings comprising the lonely Dartmoor penal settlement, famous in fiction and fact as a prison for England's most desperate criminals, recently was the scene of the greatest convict mutiny in modern British prison history. Three hundred inmates, enraged at being served porridge without sugar for breakfast, fought a pitched battle with wardens and special police and set fire to prison buildings before being subdued by riot guns. Nearly 100 persons were reported to have been injured.

ITALY YEARNS FOR EMPEROR

Backers Would Enhance Title of Victor

By THOMAS B. MORGAN

ROME, Jan. 27. (UP)—A movement to raise the title of King Victor Emmanuel of Italy, to "emperor of the Holy Roman empire" is gaining momentum among influential Italian leaders, it was learned tonight.

Extreme Fascists and sworn monarchists are the outstanding supporters of the proposal, which has for its basis the contention that the king is sovereign of the city of Rome and that he is rightly "king of the Romans," which, in turn, carries with it the title of "emperor of the Holy Roman empire."

Movement Revived

The movement had its inception in the Lateran treaty of 1929, which ended the long quarrel between the Italian state and the Catholic church. It was revived by the recent bestowal of knighthood in the supreme order of Christ on the king by Pope Pius XI.

The act was interpreted as reassuring the cordial relations between the Italian sovereign and the pope and it was declared that, on the basis of territorial jurisdiction, it would follow that the king should assume all the titles which accrue to the ruler of the city of Rome.

Supporters of the move recognize that as far as any territorial or political advantage is concerned, there is little or nothing to be gained by the proposal. They insisted, however, the titles would serve to aggrandize and glorify the position of the Italian monarch, as well as to imply a certain guardianship over the city of Rome as the seat of the pope.

Elaborate Ceremony

They also suggested that assumption of the title should be accompanied by elaborate ceremony such as was ordinarily observed in medieval times. There would be nothing to prevent the coronation of the king in St. Peter's, especially since Italian kings have had to forego that ceremony since the establishment of the Italian kingdom in 1870, due to lack of a traditional ceremony suitable to the occasion. The fact that they were at sword's points with the popes of former days made a coronation ceremony difficult.

The reconciliation of the church and state has removed that obstacle and the supporters of the movement contend the tradition and pageantry of Rome, centering around St. Peter's cathedral, would furnish an ideal setting for such a ceremony. The iron crown of the Lombard kings, regarded as the legitimate crown of the Italian rulers, would be the symbol of kingship and even of empire.

Davidson Insists on New Road Route Through City Streets

FREDERICK, Okla., Jan. 27.—Davidson citizens are determined to have the approved routing of highway No. 14 through that town changed if it is possible. A delegation of eight were present Tuesday noon at the luncheon of the Frederick Chamber of Commerce when this matter was discussed.

Tillman county recently placed $15,000 worth of securities in the hands of the state highway commission, which body agreed to furnish the remainder which is required to construct highway No. 14 from Frederick to Red river bridge south of Davidson.

The road north of here to the Kiowa county line is completed. This is to be a main artery from Canada to Mexico and one of the few gaps which yet remain to be built is the few miles from here to the Wilbarger-Tillman county bridge. The state highway department is simply marking time on this project until a route can be selected through Davidson which will be satisfactory to the residents of that town and will also be approved by the federal government.

About 18 months ago a short route was surveyed from Frederick to the Red river bridge which parallels the Frisco railroad between these two towns. It passes through Davdison at a point three blocks east of the First State bank going due south to the bridge. Residents of Davidson object to this route because it misses the business section. They seek to have it pass through the street between the bank and Ford Motor company. The route recently approved by the federal authorities was a compromise, as an earlier route which was desired by United States engineers went due south from the Hair farm, northeast of Davidson, which would have missed that town entirely.

It was decided at Tuesday's meeting to have County Engineer Dwight Powell make a rough draft of the route desired by Davidson citizens after which a delegation from that place and Frederick will go to Oklahoma City in an effort to have the state highway commissioners join in requesting the federal authorities to make a new survey.

Present at the luncheon from Davidson were Rev. Z. Z. Renfro, Rev. C. C. Wilson, Rev. C. F. Brown, Fred Hood, W. B. Burks, Luther Dobbs, Harry Collins and Glynn Shults.

GLASS EATER

PORT ARTHUR, Texas.—A prisoner was recently brought to the local city jail on a charge of drunkenness. This being his second stretch, he was given a sentence of six months. When his lunch was given him, he turned it down and asked for glass, tacks and razor blades. He was given some glass and much to the surprise of Warden M. B. Ward ate it. He is a former circus performer.

Twenty-two entrants vied for the honor, and for the silver loving cup which has been won by G. L. Boykin and George Jones in the previous tourneys.

Air Travel Cost Reduced One-Half

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (UP)—If a person wanted to fly a round trip from the Pacific coast to New York two years ago, it cost $600 and the trip was made in a single engined mail-plane.

Today you can make the same round trip in a tri-motored passenger transport with meals furnished and with de luxe service comparable to anything found on the European continent for $288. The one way fare has dropped from $200 to $160.

The above is typical of what has happened to airplane fares in the last six months, until today the average cost in the United States is six cents a mile and the cost in regular schedule of operations is approximately rail plus Pullman.

One of the largest air transport lines in the world, in point of daily mileage flown, whose planes fly a million miles a month, touching 45 cities in 19 states, started off the year by announcing plane plus Pullman fares. This was followed by similar announcements of other lines.

The average in 1931 was slightly under seven cents a mile. Today the average is less than six cents a mile.

A survey shows that the need for air travel by executives and business men is increasing. Sixty per cent of 784 corporations capitalized at $100,000 or more have executives and representatives using airplanes regularly.

ROAD MEET SET FOR HENRIETTA

Highway 5 Association Seeks Right of Way

GAINESVILLE, Texas, Jan. 27. (AP)—Securing right of way for 11 miles of the route for highway No. 5 through Clay county will be the next objective of the Highway 5 association, it was announced by Joe N. Boozer of Gainesville, president of the organization.

Boozer and Egbert Thompson, secretary of the association, are planning to conduct a meeting at Henrietta soon for the purpose of discussing ways and means of securing the right of way for the last remaining gap in the state project from Texarkana to Texline. Commissioners of Cooke and Montague counties signed orders recently to guarantee right of way through the two counties, and the routes were accepted by the state highway commission at its January meeting.

RADIO OUSTS ALASKA CABLE

Modern Carrier to Replace Line to United States

SEATTLE, Wash., Jan. 27. (AP)—Carrier of many of the world's greatest news stories, the Alaska cable is to be retired in reserve, giving away to radio.

Built primarily for the United States army in the early gold rush days, the system grew with the territory and for years has been the only means of regular commercial communication between Alaska and the United States.

It was over the cable the first word of Capt. Roald Amundsen's successful polar flight and landing at Teller, Alaska, in the dirigible Norge was flashed.

Over it came the story of the takeoff of Sir Hubert Wilkins and Col. Carl Ben Eielson on their flight across the world's blind spot from Point Barrow, the northernmost white settlement in Alaska.

The wires reported the finding of Eielson's body on the wind swept arctic wastes of the Siberian coast with the wreckage of his plane after months of diligent search.

Pulsated With Life

Ice-bound and ice-crushed ships, wrecks on dangerous rocks and the frigid severity of the north, its gold rushes, discoveries and famous characters have figured in accounts which have passed over the system.

Last year the dots and dashes on the cable told of the flights of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh, en route to the Orient, their arrival and entertainment at Point Barrow.

Its flashing impulses brought news of their perilous flight down the rugged coast from Point Barrow to Nome.

Lesser stories included the record making flights of Reg. L. Robbins and Harold S. Jones, Fort Worth, Texas, airmen, the first to make non-stop hops from Seattle to Nome and Fairbanks and from Fairbanks to Seattle.

Linemen Bore Hardships

In the early days signal corps men maintained land lines to connect with the cable, enduring extreme hardships in the severe winters to "keep the channels open."

More and more, in late years, radio has been causing abandonment of land lines until the cable came to be used principally for service between Seward, chief relay point of the North, and Seattle.

While preparations are under way to supplant the cable with radio almost entirely, efforts also are being made to seek congressional authorization to sell the entire system, including the 36 radio stations operated in Alaska in conjunction with it.

Mother of 7—Still Young

THE woman who gives her organs the right stimulant need not worry about growing old.

Her system doesn't stagnate; her face doesn't age. She has the health and "pep" that come from a lively liver and strong, active bowels.

When you're sluggish and the system needs help, don't take a lot of "patent medicines." There's a famous doctor's prescription for just such cases, and every druggist keeps this standard preparation. It is made from fresh laxative herbs, active senna, and pure pepsin. Just ask for Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin today. Use often enough to avoid those attacks of constipation. When you feel weak and run-down or a coated tongue or bad breath warns you the bowels need to be stimulated. Give it to children instead of strong laxatives that sap their strength. It isn't expensive.

usual cathartic. You'll be rid of all that poisonous waste, and you haven't weakened the bowels. You'll have a better appetite, and feel better in every way. The constant use of cathartics is often the cause of a sallow complexion and lines in the face. And so unnecessary!

Would you like to break yourself of the cathartic habit? At the same time building health and vigor that protects you from frequent sick spells, headaches, and colds? Get a big bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin today. Use often enough to avoid those attacks of constipation. When you feel weak and run-down or a coated tongue or bad breath warns you the bowels need to be stimulated. Give it to children instead of strong laxatives that sap their strength. It isn't expensive.

This was the choice facing Ellen Rossiter, a "dime-a-dance girl" in a Broadway dance hall. Ellen had never known luxuries and longed for them. Larry Harrowgate whom she loved treated her as a playmate, was never serious. Steven Barclay, rich and middle-aged, offered her every happiness money could buy.

Ellen made her choice and her story, "The Dime-a-Dance Girl," by Joan Clayton, tells what happened. It's a thrilling, unforgettable serial beginning

The 1927 Crew

The Spudder baseball offices are periodically beseiged with questions concerning members of the old Spudder gang that operated here in 1927—the team that brought Wichita Falls its one and only Texas league championship and its one and only Dixie pennant. Fans still remember that noble crew, and oftimes they want information on the whereabouts of certain members of the team. So Guy Airey, Spudder secretary, is working up a roster of the whole bunch, giving present addresses of each player, if it is possible to obtain that information. We hope to give this roster to you through this column in a few days.

The 1927 team undoubtedly was the most popular team in Wichita Falls' baseball history. It was popular because it won games. The 1930 team was the closest thing to such a popular bunch of players that has been here since. Some may consider the 1930 team more popular, due to the individual brilliance of a few players, but the fact remains that the team as a whole did not click as did the 1927 bunch, and without that ability to click it faltered in the dizzy race for the championship.

The One-Year Rule

High school officials not only in this city, but o'er the length and breadth of the state, are breathlessly awaiting an edict from Roy B. Henderson, interscholastic league head, concerning the proposed one-year transfer rule and the eight-semester rule.

As you know, these matters have been voted upon by school officials. The result of the ballot will not definitely decide a course of action by the interscholastic league, but it will have an influence on the ultimate decision of the league's executive committee.

School officials are chiefly concerned over the one-year transfer rule, and for a good reason. The proposed rule would require a year's attendance at the school in question by the in-coming athlete before he would be eligible for high school football. But at the present time, when the transfer rule is being debated, there appears to be considerable migrating on the part of athletes, and school officials in several towns, we hear, are wondering whether these boys will be affected if the transfer rule is adopted.

The rule in its present form plainly states that it is retroactive—that is, candidates for the squad next September must have attended the school in question a full year. But school officials are hoping that the retroactive clause in the rule will be omitted, and that athletes who might already have changed their residence, or who may move between now and September, be exempt.

This does not mean that schools hereabouts are going into the importing business on a grand scale and hope to smuggle in a trainload of athletes before a transfer rule goes into effect. Such a state of affairs does not exist so far as we know. But there are some cases of legitimate transfers. For instance, it was learned the other day that a bang-up grid player had moved to Wichita Falls from Kilgore, Texas. Nobody knew he was an athlete until he had been in town several weeks. In a case like this it is only natural that school officials should want a non-retroactive transfer rule put into effect.

BAT WILTS IN THIRD ROUND

Title Vacant as He Fails To Make Weight

By GEORGE KIRKSEY
United Press Staff Correspondent

MUSIC HALL, CINCINNATI, Ohio, Jan. 27.—In a scene of wild confusion in an edifice dedicated to one of the finer arts, the world's featherweight title bout between Christopher (Bat) Battalino of Hartford, Conn., and Freddie Miller, Cincinnati southpaw, was declared "no contest" in the third round tonight by Referee Lou Bauman.

Battalino, weighing 129¾ pounds, officially lost his title on the Cincinnati commission scales this afternoon, but Miller weighing 122½ pounds, had a chance to capture the crown by winning tonight.

Obviously weakened by his vain attempt to make the featherweight limit of 126 pounds, Battalino appeared only a shell of his usual self in the first two rounds.

Hits the Canvas

After a furious exchange at close quarters early in the third round Battalino slumped to the canvas on his knees. He did not attempt to claim a foul, but he appeared to have been hurt about the stomach from one of Miller's slugs to the body. The referee had counted to eight when Battalino struggled to his feet and attempted to defend himself.

Miller was moving in for a knockout when Battalino went down for the second time, apparently without being hit. Referee Bauman turned his back on the fallen fighter and walked to a corner, refusing to count over Battalino. After leaning over the ropes and addressing a message to one of the boxing commissioners, the refree returned to where Battalino lay and ordered him to get up and resume fighting.

Battalino was down about 40 seconds this time, but was still dazed when he gained his feet.

After an exchange Battalino again went down from a body blow, landing on all fours. Again Referee Bauman refused to count over him. The referee walked to Miller's corner, spread the ropes apart and crawled out of the ring.

Leads Him Out

With seconds of both fighters climbing on the outer edges of the ring, both contestants resumed fighting without a referee. Finally Hy Amiloy, Battalino's manager, reached Battalino and led him to his corner.

Presently Carl Wilzbach, president of the Cincinnati boxing commission, crawled into the ring and announced over the amplifiers "we are prepared for this situation. I declare the bout no contest and any fan wanting his money back can collect it by presenting his stub at the box office."

Commissioner Wilzbach announced after the bout that neither contestant would be paid. Battalino was to receive 37½ per cent and Miller 12½.

BURK REVIVAL

Favorites in Rocky Mountain

Getting an even break in two games with the Wichita Henrys, national A. A. U. cage champions, the Wyoming Cowboys are big favorites in the 1932 Rocky Mountain race. The team won the eastern half last year, but was trimmed by Utah in the playoff. Three members of the veteran combination are shown above.

LARAMIE, Wyo., Jan. 27. (AP)—University of Wyoming's veteran combination, using the short pass and quick breaking style of game, is headed for another basket ball championship.

The Cowboys won 11 and lost 1 game in the 1931 campaign which they closed with the eastern division championship of the Rocky Mountain conference in their possession.

They lost in the three-game playoff series with the University of Utah, western division titleholders of the conference.

Utah won the third and deciding game by one point, but Wyoming was without the services of two regulars from the first half on to the finish.

This season the Cowboys look like the best in the mountain region by several rods. They were good enough to get an even break in a two-game series with the Wichita Henrys, National A. A. U. champs.

Les Witte, the sharpshooting forward of the Cowboys, has been adjudged one of the best the region has turned out in several years. He is a southpaw and hard to handle, scoring repeatedly in spite of close guarding.

The Cowboys are coached by Willard (Dutch) Witte, University of Nebraska athlete, who is a brother of Les.

The Utah Aggies are favored to win the western division championship of the Rocky Mountain conference this year. Utah university, defending champion, was whipped by two eastern division teams in pre-season games. Colorado college and the Colorado teachers thumped the Utes.

SANTONE GOLF MEET TODAY

Best Ball Event to Open Tournament

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 27. (UP)—The Lone Star state's 11th annual open golf tournament will begin here tomorrow, with an amateur-pro best ball event opening the four-day classic.

Leading amateurs entered include Johnny Dawson, Chicago; H. E. Frost, Omaha and Gus Moreland, Dallas, present Texas amateur champion. A dozen other amateurs have made qualifying scores of less than 80.

Many of the nation's leading professionals are here and others are expected for the open tournament proper. A score of Texans, led by Dick Metz, Texas and Southwest P. G. A. open champion, will do all they can to see that a Texan wins the title. No Texan has ever won it.

The amateur-pro best ball event will be played over the long Riverside, nine-hole, 72 par course. Dawson, in qualifying rounds, won the medal with a card of 35-36—71, one under par. H. E. Frost, Omaha, was second with a card of 36-38—74.

The Texas open event will begin Friday on the Brackenridge park course over a 72-hole route. Eighteen holes will be played Friday, 18 Saturday and 36 Sunday.

Metz, Tony Butler of Corpus Christi and Ben Hogan of Fort Worth are the leading Texas pros entered. Gene Sarazen, Walter Hagen and possibly Harry Cooper will not compete this year. Ralph Guldahl, former Texan now of Detroit, who won the recent Arizona open, will play as will a majority of the other Arizona competitors.

Mystery Cloaks John D's Failure to Play Golf

ORMOND BEACH, Fla., Jan. 27. (US)—John D. Rockefeller Sr., failed to appear on the Ormond Beach golf course today and a veil of mystery surrounded the reason.

Some say that a cold caused his absence, but still others held to the opinion that the persistency of a woman fanatic, seeking an interview forced his seclusion.

Rockefeller only a few days ago changed his point of entry to the golf course to a more distant and secluded spot when the woman persisted in trying to pass the guards to see him.

Failure of the philanthropist to appear on the course today broke up a routine of years standing.

Orders have been given to the guards by Rockefeller to treat the mysterious woman with the utmost courtesy, a guard said, but she is not to be permitted to annoy him.

The woman is termed a crank. She was picked up in Daytona Beach last night, five miles from her home, and returned in a police car. It is reported her relatives have been asked to come and get her.

Dozen All-Time Records Broken By Rio Grande Valley Fishermen

BROWNSVILLE, Texas, Jan. 27. (AP)—Not less than a dozen all-time records for size, quantity and variety of fish landed in the waters of the Gulf of Mexico in this section were hung up during the season just past—one of the most unusual seasons the section has experienced.

It is estimated that sport fishermen caught no less than four times the number of fish during the season as during any previous year.

Statistics just compiled by sportsmen in the valley show that approximately 700 tarpon were landed in the waters of the gulf in this section, probably more than twice the number ever landed any previous year.

The largest tarpoon ever caught was landed during the year, as well as the smallest, and many other records were hung up.

The unusual feature of the tarpoon season was that it has not yet ended. Sportsmen in this section expressed the belief that if the winter remains as mild as it has been up to now, the water will not get cold enough to drive the tarpon on south to Tampico.

Absence of the usual fall floods of the Rio Grande kept the water clear and aided fishing greatly.

The increase in number of fishermen, particularly the hundreds of tourists fishing in this section, was also a big factor in the many records.

Big Trout Landed

The records show that Rufe Irick on April 16 caught the largest speckled trout ever landed here, one measuring 34 inches, and weighing 13½ pounds.

The largest fish of the year was a 14-foot, 4-inch sawfish, landed by Charles Kenedy, valley man.

A world record for the largest jewfish ever caught on regulation tackle was established by O. C. Gaskill, Ohio tourist. He landed one weighing 547½ pounds.

The largest tarpon ever landed in the gulf waters near Brownsville was brought to gaff by H. J. Berney of South Bend, Ind. It measured 7 feet 6 inches. Berney also landed a shark with legs, a curiosity never before seen here.

To A. Cueto of Brownsville went the doubtful honor of landing the smallest tarpon ever hooked on tackle. It measured 9½ inches.

C. W. Deter of Cleveland, Ohio, set an all-time record by catching three tarpon in 20 minutes. Another similar record was set by George Greer of Dallas, David M. Lide of Shreveport, La., and Clyde Tandy of Brownsville. Fishing together, they each hooked a tarpon, and each landed his fish, a feat never before recorded here.

J. W. Gardner of Harlingen set a record for the largest tarpon ever caught by hand. He saw a six-foot tarpon stranded in shallow water near a sand bar, and plunged into the water, catching the fish under the gill.

Largest Kingfish

The largest kingfish on record here was caught during the year by J. C. Maxwell of Fort Worth. It measured 4½ feet.

Joe Wells of Brownsville made a record catch of a tarpon on light tackle, landing a 5-foot, 7-inch tarpon on No. 9 line.

A number of other unusual and novel records were made during the year, such as the introduction of night fishing for tarpon, which proved a success.

In view of the general increasing interest in tarpon fishing, plans are now being discussed for a tarpon rodeo some time during the coming season, which is expected to open in earnest about April 1, although many tarpon will probably be caught before that time.

SEYMOUR BOYS GET SWEATERS

18 Grid Letter Men Are Honored

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Texas, Jan. 27.—Eighteen letter men of the 1931 Panther football squad were awarded letters and sweaters here Wednesday. Only five were of the two stripe class, while the remaining 13 were one year awards. Two girls were also awarded letters and sweaters, Eveland Alexander and Jenette Golden, both juniors, for their high record selling tickets for gridiron clashes this year.

Of the 18 gridsters only five will be lost by graduation. They are W. R. Hardy, Edgar Johnson, Charles T. Porter, Jack Fancher and Byron St. Clair. The first three are two year men while the last two lettered this year for their first time.

Those receiving sweaters, besides the ones already named were Captain-elect Mack Coy and Hooser, two-year men; Seals, Franklin, Woods, Hughes, Coleman, Harrison, Shawyer, W. S. Howard, A. Howard, Chilton and Richmond, one year men.

It is the custom of this school to award letters after mid-term and then only to those passing three-fourths of their work.

G. L. Ragle, acting manager of the Texas theater here, honored the letter men and Coach Jenkins Monday night with passes to see "Spirit of Notre Dame."

WOOD SETS NEW SPEED RECORD

But Speedster Says He's Not Satisfied

MIAMI BEACH, Fla., Jan. 27. (US)—Gar Wood, famous American water racer, today officially set a new world's speed record for a water craft when he raced his Miss America IX over the north and south course in Indian creek at an average speed of 110.78.

Wood's average speed was faster by half a mile per hour than the 110.223 miles per hour record set by Kaye Don, Great Britain's premier water speed ace, last summer on Lake Garda, in Italy.

But while visibly pleased with his own record, the wily Wood was not satisfied. He said he was sure he could better his new record by almost another mile per hour, and will attempt to shatter his today's all-time record in another speed trial tomorrow.

Wood said he would attempt to make some changes in his boat's hull overnight, he added:

"I am not satisfied with the shape of Miss America's hydroplane bow, which made my little boat ride too high instead of planeing through the water to allow smoothness and maximum speed."

Wood's assault on the water speed record today apparently was a do-or-die attempt, with grave danger of cracking up. Anyhow, Wood had speed launches posted along his racing route in order to pick him up in the event of an accident. His hydroplane was piloted over the flashing water craft, too, but he would not say for what reason, unless it was to "pace" Mis America IX.

Favorites in Billiard Tournament Defeated

CHICAGO, Jan. 27. (AP)—Frank Scoville, Buffalo, and Len Kenney, Chicago, saw their hopes for the world's three cushion billiard championship flicker and die today, both receiving their third defeat.

The veteran Tiff Denton, Kansas City, himself far out of the championship race, applied the brakes to Scoville's chances by defeating him, 50 to 30, in 55 innings and was followed by Jay Bozaman, Vallejo, Calif., youngster, who conquered Kenney, 50 to 35 in 46 innings.

Otto Reiselt, Philadelphia, and Arthur Thurnblad, Chicago, the defending titleholder, had a day off and their deadlock for first place with four victories and one defeat each was unbroken.

ISN'T it unfortunate that so many young women are harsh in their judgment of others? You might be inclined to think that George is guilty of a terrible offense. But this isn't the case by any means.

George is all right—a thoroughly eligible bachelor. Would you like to know why most girls avoid his attentions? This is the plain truth—they won't forgive his lax shaving habits. He is frequently seen with a repulsive growth of stubble on his face.

• • • •

Possibly we are all too quick in condemning a man for untidy appearance. Some find it hard to shave—and are as severely criticized as careless men. None can afford the handicap imposed by bristles. The blade Gillette is manufacturing today is especially designed for use on tender skin. We state without reservation that this is the sharpest blade ever made by the Gillette Safety Razor Company. It moves easily across the face—shearing every bristle—and makes shaving thoroughly comfortable.

Try this blade on our guarantee. Learn by experience that there is no reason to avoid close and frequent shaving. Buy a package and give two blades a trial. If you don't agree that every shave is unmatched for speed and comfort—return the package and your dealer will refund the entire purchase price.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (AP)—Cotton was quiet, but generally steady at slight reactions today.

Moderate southern selling or liquidation was quite readily absorbed by trade buying and covering. After selling up to 6.84 early in the session May contracts eased off to 6.08; or a point below yesterday's closing quotations, and closed at that figure. The final tone of the market was steady at net unchanged to 3 points lower.

Trade demand was again attributed partly to the Far East and while buying was in small lots it was quite persistent. In this connection, it is estimated by one of the international houses that owing to the reduced crop and relatively high prices for Indian cotton, the replacement of that growth with American cotton for the current season will amount to about 1,600,000 bales, of which China will consume an estimated 400,000 bales.

Nothing was heard of any change in the southern spot situation and while there was a little southern selling here at times during the day it was not an important factor.

Liverpool cables said that hedging had been taken by covering and trade calling in that market and reported moderate sales of cotton cloths for shipment to the continent and the Near East. Exports today 51,372 making 4,772,616 for the season. Port receipts 34,963. U. S. port stocks 4,953,639.

Futures closed steady, unchanged to 3 points lower. Spot, steady; middling, 6.70.

NEW ORLEANS COTTON

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 27. (AP)—The cotton market was again very quiet today with prices fluctuating narrowly within an extremely narrow range of only 5 points. After opening steady 2 points up to one down the market gradually eased off owing to weakness in stocks and hedge selling at the lowest reached during the session showed a decline of 5 points. After ruling a shade steadier in the afternoon the market closed quiet at net declines for the day of 3 points.

The market opened steady with Liverpool cables coming in a sdue to one penny point cables coming in as due to one penny point there had been hedge selling which was met by trade calling. Manchester cabled moderate cloth sales to the continent and the Near East.

March closed at 6.63 and July at 6.97, or 3 points net lower for the day.

First Taste of 1931 Statements Leaves Stock Market With Frowns

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Jan. 27. (US)—Stock market today had its first full taste of 1931 statements and found them not quite palatable.

Lacking concrete news out of Chicago on the railway wage controversy, the market naturally was forced to reach its immediate conclusions from the actual news at hand, which was furnished primarily by the income accounts of leading enterprises.

There was a tendency when the market closed to place possible significance on the refusal of the rail group to join the down trend. It was pointed out that the rails have led each important fluctuation for months and while industrials and utilities both dropped today on the average, the railroad shares closed slightly higher.

Whatever significance this may hold, the market seemed to be more inclined toward observing and diagnosing the statements being issued.

Volume expanded a half million shares in stocks, while bonds showed little change in price.

For some time important sources have suggested the likelihood of conservative corporation managements taking advantage of conditions to write down every possible charge against 1931 results. The opinion prevailed that stockholders were not anticipating cheerful results.

For that reason, it is imperative that stockholders or would-be stockholders carefully analyze statements now being issued for treatment of extraordinary items.

For example, the U. S. Steel report, disappointing as it was, would have been worse but for the inclusion of "special income" of $19,000,000. Without this item, there would have been a deficit of upwards of $6,000,000 before preferred dividends. As it was the net income reported of $12,966,000 equaled $3.60 a preferred share.

General Motors ostensibly earned $2.43 a share on its common stock, but "extraordinary non-recurring losses" of $20,000,000 reduced the actual net for 1931 to $2.01 a share. This latter amount was all that is available from last year's operations for payment of the dividend, now $3. General Motors has 43,500,000 shares outstanding.

The Woolworth company today added its report to the growing list of statements including non-recurring items. Woolworth reports a net equal to $4.24 a share, but this was only after including $1.02 a share profit derived from sale of securities.

Actually, the company incurred a deficit after its dividend distributions last year, which however, included $2 extra per share in cash.

Steel common was freely supplied on the dividend reduction, but more so by the very plain intimation of the directors that no further payment need be expected until earnings improve.

Obviously, the stock will be under the shadow of a dividend omission until conditions show betterment. The Pennsylvania railroad issued a similar notice yesterday in voting to maintain for this quarter its 50-cent dividend. The Pennsy directors, almost in the words of the Steel board, notified shareholders dividend maintenance depend solely upon business betterment.

The Pennsylvania earnings, it was stated by the management, last year were but $1 a share.

With all of these dividend omissions and readjustments still facing the market, speculators were in no mood to lean too strongly toward the constructive side.

The main hope for sizeable immediate rally appears to exist in a cheerful announcement out of Chicago.

During the day there seemed to be a good deal of switching going on, even in individual issues where efforts were made to maintain stability. This was especially true in Steel and Woolworth, according to stock exchange advices.

Dallas Reserve bank lowered its rediscount rate to 3½ per cent, bringing the entire system in line on this level, and encouraging the hope that the New York Reserve bank tomorrow may lower its rate in confirmation of the easy credit policy inaugurated recently.

It may be however, that the heavy gold outflow may halt the reserve plans temporarily, although to date most of the gold withdrawn has been from previous "earmarkings" and therefore unrelated to the American gold supply.

An important decision pending tomorrow relates to the French attitude toward renewing the $100,000,000 credit to Germany.

From Washington came reports of a possible tax on electrical energy. Building interests were reported demanding a 25 per cent reduction in wage scales. This is hardly in line with "inflation" talk.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Jan. 27. (AP)—Spurred by indications that Argentina would abolish her strange "Figar Precio," and that trans-Pacific war tension was increasing, grain values made brisk rallies today.

The "Figar Precio" is an Argentine trade method by which the price to be paid to a grain grower will be fixed by an indefininte time after the delivery of the grain, sometimes eight months after. With this method in vogue, a handful of large firms virtually monopolize Argentina's grain export business, and the Argentine farmer receives for his wheat as little as about 25 cents a bushel.

Rallying 1⅜ cents from an early low point, Chicago wheat futures closed firm at the day's top level, ¼@½c above yesterday's finish, corn ¼@⅜c advanced, oats ⅛c off to ⅛c up, and provisions 2c to 15c down.

Corn and oats largely paralleled the action of wheat. Reports concerning the number of corn consuming livestock units on farms tended to lift the feedstuff prices.

Provisions lacked support, despite hog market upturns.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—May 57⅜@57½c. 58⅝@58⅜c; July 57⅜@57¼c. 58½@58⅝c; Sept. 60c, offers. Corn—May 40¼@40⅜c, 40⅞c; July 42c, 42½c; Sept. 43⅝c, offers.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Jan. 27. (US)—The Argentine market developments are not expected to have any appreciable effect on world markets, it was thought today. While the operation of the futures exchanges in that country may be restricted for a time it was not thought likely that the government would interfere with the consistent policy of the trade in that country to dispose of supplies as rapidly as possible in foreign markets with wheat pressing for sale in all important exporting countries.

This policy of the Argentine shippers to dispose of supplies as rapidly as possible has been apparent ever since the accumulation of a burdensome world surplus. Furthermore, insufficient storage space and facilities of handling grain in the South American country have always tended to make crops move to market rapidly.

A scattered export business was reported in Manitobas, hard winters and durums, but the aggregate volume was comparatively small, seaboard wires said.

Vancouver advices indicate that Australian wheat is underselling Canadian varieties in the Oriental market by 3 to 5 cents per bushel.

the first time she did it, muttering something about having one some place, but the next time he seemed pleased. Arlene knew the little ways to please a man. There always was one sure way and that was to flatter them. Arlene spared nothing when it came to that.

As Arlene sat there comparing Mr. Pollard with Bruce, she had a sudden desire to vamp Bruce away from Lois. There was no doubt in her mind but that she could do it if she wished. She had done it numerous times, right under the girl's nose.

"Lois didn't say half enough about you," Arlene began, "about your looks I mean."

Lois felt her cheeks begin to redden. She wished Arlene had not said anything like that. She didn't want Bruce to think she had been discussing him with any one. He turned to her quickly.

"What were you doing, Lois—running me down?" He was laughing but Lois did not see any joke to it.

Arlene broke in swiftly. "Oh, no, I didn't mean anything like that. I only meant that of course no one can describe any one perfectly. Lois said you were good looking all right, but she didn't give the impression that you were as handsome as you are."

Lois wished that she were any place else except there in that room. Surely Bruce would think that Arlene was cheap to talk that way. But he seemed to like it. He went on kidding about it.

Finally Lois could stand it no longer. She arose and put on her hat.

"It's getting pretty late, Bruce, if we're going out."

Bruce got up. "Yes, guess we'd better get on."

Arlene followed them to the door. "Good night, kids," she said.

Lois was already on her way to the elevator so that she did not see Arlene touch Bruce's hand ever so slightly as it left the door knob.

KATY HONORS RAILROAD VETS

Eight Men in Service Over 50 Years

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, Jan. 27.—Eight railroad veterans who have served the Katy lines continuously for a total of 415 years sat down at luncheon here yesterday with M. H. Cahill, chairman of the board and president of the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad, to form one of the most unusual groups of railroaders in the Southwest.

The occasion for the gathering was the entry of three of the number into the ranks of 50-year veterans. With but two exceptions all started their railroad careers with the Katy while in their teens. All are still in active service and are employes of the operating department.

Oklahoman Holds Record

Dean of the Katy-ites in point of service is G. B. Lorraine, clerk at Durant, Okla., with a record of 57 years of service. John R. Tierney, engineer, Parsons, Kan., is next with a record of 55 years. Benjamin F. Boydstun, conductor, Denison, Texas, A. G. Peck, general agent, Oklahoma City, and Charles W. Stiles, roadmaster, Muskogee, Okla., each have 51 years of service. "Baby" members who joined the select 50-year group yesterday are A. R. Brashear, general agent, St. Louis, J. E. Lydick, engineer, Sedalia, Mo., and Benjamin J. Swanner, conductor, Denison, Texas.

The new members were presented with diamond-studded Katy lines emblems, symbolic of their half century of service.

Since the founding of the Katy Veterans' association, only 19 employes have received these coveted 50-year emblems, and in addition to the eight men gathered here yesterday, there is only one other now in active service. He is John H. Henderson, colored mail clerk in the general offices of the Katy at St. Louis.

The luncheon was given in a private dining room of the Gunter hotel, and while the veterans around the table swapped experiences of early railroading days with their president, their wives were being entertained at a luncheon tendered them by Mrs. Cahill.

In addition to the veterans and Mr. Cahill, only Walter Walthall, executive general agent, San Antonio, and W. E. Williams, manager of the department of personnel, St. Louis, were present.

The entire party arrived here last night on the Texas Special.

In greeting the veterans, Mr. Cahill referred to them as typical of the vast army of "peace time heroes" who, he said, had "stuck to their jobs through thick and thin and had set a shining example for younger men who have grown up on the railroad under their care and direction."

Cahill Pays Tribute

"To be a good railroader," the president said, "means that one must have a great deal more character, more determination and more of the spirit and understanding of cooperation than is demanded in any other industry. Railroading is a never ending and gruelling task. It calls for long hours of constant alertness, a never failing devotion to duty, and a zeal for service that never lags. The man who does not qualify in these and all other respects does not stay at railroading very long. For a man to serve one railroad for a half century is eloquent proof that he has been tried and tested in what I believe is the most exacting business in the world."

Mr. Cahill declared himself proud to be the head of a railroad that boasts eight men still actively engaged in the operation department who had each served it for 50 years or more, and that the gathering here was arranged as an expression of the esteem in which veterans are held by the rank and file of the Katy lines employes, and of the management's appreciation for their unusual records of continuous and loyal service.

ROAD TO SPEND $300,000 IN IMPROVEMENTS

Plans for an immediate program of improvement on the Missouri-Kansas-Texas railroad, representing an expenditure of $300,000, were announced here Wednesday by W. A. Little, division passenger and freight agent of the line.

Mr. Little received information from the St. Louis headquarters that orders had been placed for 2,800 tons of 90-pound rail, which will be used in relaying parts of the Katy main line track between Stringtown and McAlester, Okla. It was said this was the largest individual order for railway steel for use in the Southwest placed in several months.

It is understood that the rail and fastenings will cost $150,000 the remaining $150,000 being necessary for additional track laying forces. Delivery of the rail is expected within 30 days, when work will begin replacing steel put down several years ago.

HAHD TO SAY

Nobody Knows Exactly What the Harvard Accent Is

CAMBRIDGE, Mass., Jan. 27. (US)—What is a Harvard accent?

Harvard students don't know, and neither does a broadcasting company which advertised for a radio announcer with a Harvard accent and then gave it all up when nobody could explain just what a Harvard accent really was.

This interesting information was contained in the annual report of Russell T. Sharpe, secretary of the student employment office, sent to President A. Lawrence Lowell today.

DEATH CASE IN WHEELER SET

Former Officer Faces Trial Monday

WHEELER, Texas, Jan. 27. (AP)—Tom C. Johnson, former Wheeler county deputy sheriff, will go to trial Feb. 1 on a murder charge growing out of the fatal shooting of George Brooks of Shamrock more than a year ago.

Johnson's first trial on the charge resulted in his conviction and a sentence of five years in the penitentiary. The case was reversed by the court of criminal appeals and remanded for trial.

Brooks was killed while seated at a counter in a Shamrock cafe. In the first trial Johnson sought to prove that Brooks had threatened his life and that he had been critically injured in a former encounter with Brooks.

DEATHS

The body of Mrs. Philo N. Taylor, 39, resident of the K. M. A. community near Iowa Park who died at hospital here early Wednesday morning, was forwarded Wednesday night by the Hines mortuary to Linden, Texas, where funeral services will be held Saturday. Mrs. Taylor had been a resident of the K. M. A. section for two years. She is survived by the husband; a son, J. D. Taylor; her mother, Mrs. Lou Washington of Linden; six sisters and five brothers.

POLITICS STIR IN GAINESVILLE

Eighteen Candidates Already on Ticket

GAINESVILLE, Texas, Jan. 21. (AP)—County politics is already at high pitch in Cooke county. Eighteen candidates have already made their formal announcements, seeking 11 county and precinct offices.

Lions Seek Market For Wichitan's Rugs

Members of the Lions club were asked by Frank Cripliver Wednesday noon to assist Miss Mary Adams, blind rug weaver, in obtaining an increased market for her rugs.

Several months ago the Lions club purchased a rug-loom for the young woman, whose vision is only 10 per cent of normal. She lives on the Burkburnett highway, about two miles beyond the city limits. Her rugs are advertised there by a sign erected by the Lions club.

Demonstrations of clairvoyance by Dr. B. M. Cunning constituted a period of entertainment for those present Wednesday. Dr. Cunning is now appearing at the State theater.

W. H. Featherston gave a report on the intraclub bridge tournament, and C. J. Coffey told of the bowling team's activities. Nathan Chenault Jr., announced plans for the older boys' conference to be held here this week-end.

Duets by Mrs. C. Y. Tully, soprano and Mrs. W. M. Priddy, contralto, were a feature of the program. Accompaniments were played by Mrs. Lucille Brooks Huff.

Last Services Held For Mrs. Jewell Stout

Funeral services for Mrs. Jewell N. Stout, 31, who died at a hospital here Tuesday following a brief illness, were held Wednesday afternoon from the Highland Heights Christian church. The Rev. J. E. Montgomery, pastor, officiated. Burial was in Rosemont under the direction of the Merkle Undertaking company.

The body rested in state at the church from 10 a. m. Wednesday until the hour of services at 3 p. m.

Mrs. Stout was active in church work during her residence in Wichita Falls.

Commissioners to Hold Tax Conference Today

Reassessment of taxes on several pieces of property so that back taxes may be paid before Feb. 1 will occupy the county commissioners court in a special session to be held at 9 a. m. Thursday, according to County Judge John P. Marrs.

Among the properties to be considered Thursday morning will be that of the Texas-Oklahoma Fair association, it was said. That and other pieces have been on the unrendered roll for several years, Judge Marrs explained.

Search for Kidnaped American Baby Fails

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 27. (US)—Twenty picked detectives searching for Carol, 11-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Aguilar of Los Angeles who was kidnaped in a park here yesterday, today abandoned Puebla in their efforts to recover the child.

Reports that the infant had been taken to Puebla by the two kidnapers were investigated and then denied by Luis Lara Robelo, chief of detectives. A Spanish family in Puebla was suspected but questioning revealed the mistake.

HOWARD ASKS SECOND TERM

County Tax Collector Gives Review of Work

Briefly giving a report of a few of his accomplishments during his term of office, including his active support in the passage of the split tax payment bill, in the remission of penalties and interest on delinquent taxes, and his personal collection of over $200,000 in order that the schools of Wichita county might continue their sessions, Arthur C. Howard announced that he would respectfully ask, at the hands of the Democratic voters of Wichita county, a second term to the office of county tax collector.

Advocated Split Tax

Some two years prior to the time that Mr. Howard assumed the duties of tax collector he advocated a plan whereby taxes might be paid in partial payments, and during his first term in office, by putting forth a large amount of personal interest and expending his own personal funds, he assisted the movement and now is enjoying the realization of his plan. Due to his clear conception of a plan which might lighten the burden of the taxpayer, he was called to Austin when the bill of split payment of taxes and remission of penalties was pending before the legislature, and through an active campaign, the expenses of which were borne by himself, he gave what assistance he could in having these measures become laws.

When the various common schools, as well as several independent school districts, in Wichita county were in a deplorable condition financially, Mr. Howard took it upon himself to assist them in order that the school term might continue, and his records reveal that he drove over 12,000 miles and was successful in collecting a total of $202,500 for the benefit of the county and schools. The records further reveal that this added expense of collection cost the county nothing.

"I am indeed grateful to the voters of Wichita county," Mr. Howard said in discussing his candidacy for a second term, "and have attempted not only to show my appreciation by courteous service, but have attempted at all times to keep the interests of the taxpayers of my county at heart, and with this in view I feel that the people, as a whole, are entitled to a report of some of the things which my duty prompted me to perform during my first year in office.

"I am most happy in the fact that my dream of a plan for the partial payment of taxes has been realized. The members of the state legislature who so earnestly worked for the passage of this law deserve the heartfelt thanks on the part of the property owners of the state and it gives me much pleasure to know that I made a trip to Austin to give the bill what little assistance I could.

Service to People

"At all times during my tenure in office I have attempted to do the things which I felt a hired servant of the public should do, and I feel that the exerted efforts which I put forth in driving to various cities in Texas and Oklahoma to collect taxes from major companies in order that the school children of Wichita county would not have the doors of the schools closed, was done as a matter of duty and that the performance of the same gave me much pleasure.

"I have sent out approximately 6,000 letters to the taxpayers of the county since Jan. 10, 1932, advising them of the great saving to them if delinquent taxes were paid before Jan. 31, and although the payment of such taxes, if made before that time, will take from me large amounts of fees of office, I am truly hopeful that every property owner will be able to make such payments so that it may greatly accrue to his benefit, for the saving thus effected will mean much for the welfare of the individual taxpayer, as well as add to the general movement toward more prosperous times. During my first year, the administration expense of my office has been cut $3,300.

"Again I wish to express my most heartfelt appreciation to the voters of my county for the honor bestowed upon me in the past, and submit myself to their serious and earnest consideration for a second term as tax collector of Wichita county."

In Race Again

Re-election as county tax collector was asked Wednesday by Arthur C. Howard in his formal announcement.

"Arrest that smoker's cough, Officer"

"STOP" was the word
But one tough bird
Drove on. The cop began to bristle
At being scoffed . . .
But then, he coughed
And coughed . . . and couldn't blow his whistle.

A fellow cop
Said, "'Smatter pop?
The fags you smoke have caused that yappin'
Your throat went stiff.
I tell you, if You smoked OLD GOLDS, that wouldn't happen!

"OLD GOLD'S my choice.
They save my voice,
Take irritations, large and small, out!
So when some 'gyp'
Becomes too flip,
A cough don't interrupt my bawl-out!"
