Around The Square

By Mack

Our work is going to be a lot easier since we posted ourselves on local traffic regulations. We have been walking the corner of a block, eyeing the red light, looking for a cop and then walking very rapidly across the street. We know the penalty for jaywalking in Fort Worth. There if you are lucky enough to get across the street alive, a cop will meet you on the other side and then your fate is in the hands of the judge. And there has never been a "not guilty" verdict. But since we have been "wised" up a little we boldly march across the street right in the middle of a block.

P.S.—We hope the cops don't see this, for it may sound a little like bragging.

Already we are learning to find "pinch hitters" when we need a news story. We needed Bruce Pipkin pretty bad today, but learned he is out of the city. Some fellow told us Everett Plowman could fix us up. We were trying to find out the name of the Quarterback Club's new secretary. The fellow was right—he did.

E. M. McCoy, motorman on the courthouse elevator, likes to work. When you visit the courthouse be sure and take the elevator and forget the stairs. His job will be more permanent, he thinks, if he appears to be busy. He may have something there.

R. W. Drake an Eastland county rancher, who gets his mail at Strawn, spent several hours here Wednesday. Mr. Drake is a very pleasant man, but enjoys an argument, even though he may be 100 per cent in favor of your contention. If we get by with this it won't be long until we learn whether he ever serves barbecue at the ranch. If he does, we are in complete agreement with him, regardless of what the question is or what side he is on.

Since learning that $170,000 worth of livestock was sold at Eastland's auction sale Tuesday, we know why county commissioners support and cooperate with the county agent and his assistant. These men rustle good breeding stock and then educate our boys on how to grow them in the most profitable manner. And a nice little fund of a hundred or so thousand dollars coming in weekly from the sale of home grown livestock is not to be sneezed at. We are for bigger bulls and better barbecue, Joe Stalin notwithstanding.

Personal Loss In Flood Bill Appears To Be Near Defeat

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (UP)—A proposal to provide $100,000,000 in cash for personal losses in the recent Kansas-Missouri floods appeared headed for defeat today as the House took up a $113,400,000 flood relief bill.

The House Appropriations Committee yesterday settled most of President Truman's proposed $400,000,000 flood relief and insurance program, including a bid for $190,000,000 for cash indemnification to Kansas-Missouri flood victims.

Rep. Errett P. Scrivner, R., Kan., said he would try to restore a cash indemnification provision by an amendment on the House floor. His proposal would provide up to $100,000,000 in cash payments for personal losses up to a maximum of $10,000 a person.

But Rep. John Taber, N. Y., top Republican on the appropriations committee, opposed Scrivner's proposal because there is no "justification" for cash payments. The committee said cash payments would set a precedent for similar payments for every type of disaster.

The bill, stripped of cash payments and insurance proposals, would provide $113,400,000 in loans and grants through existing agencies.

It provides:

1. An extra $18,440,000 for the Agricultural Department to be used in rehabilitating farms.
2. An extra $30,000,000 for the Farmers Home Administration for repair of homes and facilities.
3. An extra $5,000,000 for the

Reds Refuse New Site For Korean Peace Talks

TOKYO, Oct. 4 (UP)—The Communists refused today to shift the Korean truce talks from Kaesong to the no-man's land village of Songhyon. Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway promptly asked them to suggest some other site between the battle lines.

The exchange left resumption of the suspended armistice conference still possible, but only barely. While neither side budged from its basic position, neither seemed ready to take the responsibility of breaking off negotiations altogether.

North Korean General Kim Il Sung and Chinese General Pen Teh-Huai rejected Ridgway's week old proposal to move the conference to Songhyon in a note delivered at 10 a.m. (8 p.m. Wednesday EST).

Only 7 1/2 hours later, the Supreme United Nations Commander sent this reply to the Red Commanders:

I propose that our delegations meet at a site selected by you and acceptable to me approximately midway between our respective front lines, where the armistice discussions can be promptly resumed.

"Satisfactory conditions can only be insured by moving the conference sit to an area which is not under the exclusive control of either side."

Iran Expected To Challenge UN's Council

TEHRAN, Iran, Oct. 4 (UP)—Vice Premier Hossein Fatemi said today Iran will challenge the United Nations Security Council's competence to deal with the Anglo-Iranian oil dispute and will walk out of the New York session if the council rules against it.

Fatemi told a press conference that Premier Mohammed Mossadegh and the 17-man Iranian delegation that leaves for New York Sunday will "repudiate Britain's complaint."

Mossadegh said in a farewell address to Parliament that his appearance before the Security Council would determine if the council is "another trap or net for watching weaker nations." He accused Britain of "bringing pressure to bear and using threats against us."

Fatemi said Mossadegh "will attempt to prove that the Security Council has no competence to discuss the matter."

"If the Security Council states its competence, the Iranian delegation will not attend that session."

He said Mossadegh will pay "out of his own pocket" for his plane ticket and those of his son and daughter who will accompany him to New York. Mossadegh's son also is his physician.

Thermometer Hits 105 Here; Fort Worth High 106

With thermometers standing on the 105 degree line, Wednesday, Eastlanders are wondering if summer had returned. We knew that it was hot, but never dreamed that all kinds of hot weather records were broken yesterday. Abilene with her 100 degree temperature, admits that it was the first time in the 65 year weather bureau history that an October day had produced such a high reading.

Fort Worth thermometers topped the 106 degree mark, and resident of that city are trying to get the weather bureau to promise some kind of relief. So far this has not been done. Abilene predicts slightly cooler weather, and with thunder-heads floating over Eastland early today, the same may be expected here. It may be temporary, however, for it will likely tag a good, general rain to do much good, it is stated.

THE WATER SITUATION (EDITORIAL)

Water is not considered a treasured item until the lake goes dry, and then it is priceless.

Eastland's water comes from a lake just north of the city, and ordinarily the supply is ample for all needs. However, at this time the picture appears rather dark. There is no ample supply, and for weeks water has been rationed. By January, according to a statement by City Manager I. C. Heck, there will be little or no water in the lake. What then? That's the sixty-four dollar question. If you have the answer step right up and demand the reward.

Eastland's lake is not too new. It is partially filled with silt and other matter and its supply, when full, is nothing like what it was a few years ago.

The water shortage has created a very serious problem, and mere talk will not fill the lake. Something must be done. It must be done immediately.

Just at this time Eastland people are feeling this water shortage. Water is being rationed, and less than one half the water needed is being consumed. People are obeying the ration order and are using just the water absolutely necessary. Mr. Heck stated Tuesday that only for co-operation given by consumers the situation would have been even more acute.

There has been talk of building a new lake to be used jointly by Eastland and Ranger. More recently, according to Mr. Heck the city council, as well as local citizens, have been considering enlarging the old lake's capacity by building the dam a little higher and widening and enlarging the spillways and taking in additional water-shed acreage.

This plan, it seems, meets with the approval of a majority of citizens in that it is the cheapest plan and in all probability would afford quicker relief.

Mr. Heck is of the opinion that $25,000 would repair and increase the capacity of the lake, and can in all probability be handled with RFC assistance. He recently made a trip to Dallas and feels that the plan outlined there could very easily materialize.

Deep wells have been considered, but salt and other minerals existing here make this plan impractical, it is said.

1560 Head Of Cattle Moved At Auction Sale On Tuesday

Out-of-town buyers are increasing in number each week for the livestock auction sale held in the Faircloth auction barn. On Tuesday of this week there were buyers here from several states, and they were very active buyers. Meaning that a lot of good Eastland county raised beef and pork will go to feed Californians, Kansans and others who, unfortunately, are not blessed with many of the advantages we have.

At the sale Tuesday 1560 head of cattle, 125 hogs and about 100 sheep and goats changed hands. Sales totaled $170,000 dollars, and this means new money for Eastland County livestock producers.

Prices at this time are very good and bidding and buying were strong. The market was very active on all classes of cattle with the possible exception of medium grade butchers and stockers. The hog market, to, was fully active and strong.

Among other out-of-town buyers was the Berry Packing company of San Antonio, City Packing company of Fort Worth, and Don Estes of San Angelo, packer and feeder buyer for a California and Arizona firm. Mr. Estes purchased four cars of cattle and they have been shipped to those states.

Fred Kennedy of Graham, representative of a California packing firm, bought two car loads.

J. P. Barber of Shamrock, and Rex Clifton of Evans, Texas, buyers, bought quite a number of cattle.

George Sharver of Seymour purchased 144 head of stockers, and other Texas buyers purchased smaller numbers.

Tuesday's sale, while good, was not out of the ordinary at all. Sales are held on Tuesday of each week and receipts are always large. In conversation with Sig Faircloth Jr., it was learned that the local sale has shown a steady growth all along. Many out of state buyers and medium size packers in Texas are giving the Eastland sale very serious consideration.

In conjunction with Mr. Faircloth, the Telegram plans to give complete sales reports each week, together with local prices.

CONGRESSMEN ASK FOR MORE FUNDS FOR ATOMIC WEAPONS

By JOSEPH L. MYLER
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (UP)—Russia now is capable of starting all-out war and will follow up its second A-bomb blast with frequent tests of better atomic weapons, congressional and atomic experts said today.

Russia's desperate effort to match the United States in history's grimmest arms race brought calls for:

1. More billions of dollars—perhaps up to $10,000,000,000 a year—to expand vastly U.S. atomic production, and
2. Creation quickly of a civil defense program—now dragging its feet for lack of funds—which would be capable of at least military

Bow and Arrow Wizard To Be At EHS Monday

Jim J. Lynch, bow and arrow wizard will be presented Monday, October 8th at 11 a.m. assembly at the Eastland high school, W. G. Womack, superintendent said.

Lynch will present exhibitions in arrow shooting which will include, upside down, sideways, backwards, overhead, glance shot, rolling target, swinging target, and many other amazing feats.

Student admission will be 15 cents. Others will be charged 25 cents.

The show is open to the public, everyone is invited he said. This is the first of a series of Southern School assembly programs which will be presented throughout the school year, Womack said.

gating the horrors of a sneak atomic attack.

The White House announcement yesterday that Russia had "recently" exploded "another atomic bomb" did not take congressional and other authorities exactly by surprise. But it put them in a mood for action.

Rep. Henry M. Jackson, D., Wash., a member of the Joint Committee of Atomic Energy, said flatly he was convinced "the Soviet Union is capable today of launching an all-out war." In place of the $1,000,000,000 spent annually on atomic energy, he called for spending five to ten times that amount.

"If we do the job," Jackson said, "I am supremely confident that we will be able to keep Stalin from launching an all-out war."

Chairman Brien McMahon, D., Conn., announced that he will ask the House-State Atomic Energy Committee at a meeting today (10:30 a.m. EST) to approve his resolution calling for all-out atomic expansion. McMahon has said that $6,000,000,000 a year could give this country an atomic Army, Air Force, and Navy.

He and other like-minded congressmen are shooting for a start on the proposed new production—to turn out "dozens" of different kinds of atomic weapons—in the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Disclosure of the new Soviet A-blast set off new battles in the east-west propaganda war.

White House press Secretary Joseph Short noted in reporting Russian bomb burst that President Truman specifically told him to stress that the United States still seeks "effective, enforceable, international controls" over atomic energy.

Russia has blocked such controls despite approval by a majority of the United Nations. By producing atomic bombs, Short said, Russia refutes her own publicized claims that she is interested only in peaceful uses of atomic energy.

All atomic sources, congressional and administrative, emphasized that new Russian test means the Russians have built up their stockpile to the point where they can use new production of atomic explosives for fabrication of new weapon types.

Rep. James E. Van Zandt, R., Pa., a member of the House Armed Services and of the Joint Atomic Committees, conjectured that the recent Soviet explosion was a test blast of a guided missile warhead like those being perfected by this country.

Van Zandt claimed he had an advance "tip" on the Russian explosion.

"I understand there were two of them—one a success and one reported to be a dud, Van Zandt said.

Shivers, Daniel May Run For The Senate In 1952

AUSTIN, Oct. 4 (UP)—A high state official among those best informed in Texas predicted today that when Sen. Tom Connally runs for reelection in 1952 he will face opposition from either Gov. Allan Shivers or Attorney General Price Daniel.

The source, long connected with politics, said flatly it is a ballot-backed cinch that either the attorney general or the governor will oppose the state's senior senator next year.

"One or the other of them," he said, "will be in there."

An announcement from one or the other, it was predicted, will probably come "soon after the first of the year."

REDS—

Kaesong, where the Reds broke off the armistice conference Aug. 23, lies behind the Communist lines and is patrolled exclusively by Communist troops. Songhyon, proposed by Ridgway a week ago as an alternative site, is in the middle of no-man's land eight miles to the southeast.

The Communist commander indicated in their morning note that they would refuse to consider any site but Kaesong for the cease-fire parley. They said that the UN command had agreed last July to Kaesong for the talks and to the neutralization of the surrounding area.

The Red note said Ridgway's proposal to move the talks to Songhyon was "entirely void of reason."

"You should not propose the new problem of changing the conference site," the note said. "Everybody will easily discover that you deliberately violated the neutrality of Kaesong even though this was proposed by yourself."

"By following your proposal in changing the conference site, how can it be guaranteed that you will not again proceed to violate it when you desire to disrupt or break the negotiations, and would not the state of negotiations only become worse?"

"Therefore, the unreasonable demand proposed by you, if... not to create a threat, is merely to create new pretexts to continue to prolong the negotiations."

The Red commanders proposed immediate resumption of the cease-fire conference in Kaesong with the first order of business to be the establishment of machinery to guarantee the neutralization of the city.

The Communist note was delivered to UN liaison officers at Pan Mun Jon, the Communist check point on the edge of the Kaesong neutral zone, at 10 a.m. (8 p.m. Wednesday EST), but it was not translated and its contents released until 5:25 p.m. (3:25 A.M. EST).

Ridgway's reply was released by his public information office only two hours later—a marked contrast to the seven days it took the Reds to reply to Ridgway's Songhyon proposal.

The UN commander's note was only three paragraphs long.

"I have already made clear to you my views regarding the unsuitability of Kaesong as a conference site," he said in part. "Events have proved that equality of movement and control has not been and cannot be assured there."

Ridgway obviously was irked by the fact that the Communists had broken off the cease-fire talks Aug. 23 on a trumped-up charge that UN planes had bombed the Kaesong zone the previous night.

The UN command not only denied that any UN plane was involved in that incident, but accused the Reds of staging a fake raid deliberately so that they could break off the talks.

Varied Speakers Will Be At The Baptist Meeting

DALLAS, Oct. 4 — A West Texas cowboy, a former U.S. Deputy Marshall, and missionaries from five continents will be featured speakers at two Baptist conventions in Houston October 22-23.

The conventions are the annual meetings of the men's Brotherhood and the Woman's Missionary Union, which will precede the annual sessions of the Baptist General Convention of Texas, October 23-25.

The women's convention will open at 10:30 Monday morning, October 22, in the Music Hall of the Sam Houston coliseum. Beginning at 7:00 p.m. the same day the men's meeting will be held in the main building of the coliseum.

Both will close out Tuesday afternoon before the opening of the general convention sessions at 7:00 that night in the coliseum. Speakers for the W.M.U. meeting will include Mrs. George Martin, Southern Baptist W.M.U. president, Norfolk, Va.; Mrs. H. H. Grooms, Birmingham, Ala.; Dr. Duke K. McCall, president of the Southern Baptist seminary, Louisville, Ky.; and missionaries representing Baptist work in Africa, North America, South America, Asia and Europe.

Mrs. R. L. Mathis and Miss Eula Mae Henderson, Dallas, state W.M.U. president and executive secretary, are in charge of the women's convention.

A father-son team will be presiding at the men's meeting. They are F. Ivy Boggs, Dallas estate analyst and Brotherhood president, and his son, Frank Boggs, evangelistic singer, who will be in charge of the music.

L. H. Tapscott, Dallas, is state Brotherhood secretary.

Yankees Favored To Take Series

NEW YORK, Oct. 4 (UP)—Baseball writers went overboard for the New York Yankees as usual today, picking them to win the series from the Giants by a better than 3 to 1 ratio.

Despite the unprecedented finish by the Giants in the playoffs yesterday, 76 out of 100 writers polled doubt whether they can do it again. And of the 76 who picked the Yankees, seven are convinced they will do it in just four games—the minimum distance. Another 27 like them to wrap it up in five games, while the largest group, 34, picked them to win it in six. Eight more think it will take them the full seven games.

The Giant supporters, 24 in all, were conservative about how long it will take them to win. Not one writer dared to predict they would win in four straight, and only two, Writ Gammon of the Chattanooga Times and Vincent X. Flaherty of the Los Angeles Examiner, believed they could do it in five. There were 11 who liked the Giants in six games and 11 more who selected them in seven.

Canadian—

British Commonwealth Division paced the advance on the second day of the flaming offensive along a 40-mile front stretching across the western half of Korea.

The Canadian 25th Brigade seized its hill objectives west of Yonchon against light resistance. It pushed the Canadian's line three to four miles north of the positions from which they lashed out at the enemy Wednesday dawn.

Elsewhere along the offensive front, however, fanatic Chinese and North Korean Communists put up bitter resistance and in two cases forced slight UN withdrawals.

The Reds were making their principal stand along a 10-mile sector from west of Yonchon to Chorwon. An 8th Army briefing officer said the fighting at some points west of Yonchon was "fairly rough."

The Chinese and North Koreans fought to the death from bunkers and deep entrenchments, some of them dug into the sheer sides of rocky cliffs on the mountainous front.

UN tanks ranging up to 52-ton British Centurions moved up to blast bunkers pointblank. Flame-throwers hurled liquid fire through gun apertures to cremate the defenders.

The 8th Army was assaulting the enemy's "Little Siegfried Line," designed to protect the main north-west highways in western Korea and perfected during the lull in the fighting which followed the start of the Koesong truce talks.

The UN assault was described officially as a "limited offensive." But it appeared "limited" only in that it was not designed to carry all the way to the Manchurian frontier.

The whole western and west-central fronts from Korangpo in the west to the approaches to Pyongyang at the apex of the old "Iron Triangle" were ablaze. The U. S. 1st Cavalry Division near the center of the offensive line fought all day Thursday without reporting any substantial gain. Its 5th Regiment fell back slightly under 300 rounds of enemy artillery and mortar fire northwest of Yonchon.

The 7th Regiment also reported heavy resistance as of 3 p.m. (1 a.m. EDT) north of Yonchon.

West of Chorwon, the Communists launched two counter-attacks against the U. S. 3rd Division. Artillery dispersed the first enemy group of 200, but the second counter-attack by 300 Reds forced a slight American withdrawal.

Northwest of Chorwon, Puerto Rican troops made limited advances against light resistance.

Also in action were the U. S. 25th Division and South Korean 1st Division, Americans, British, Canadians, Australians, New Zealanders, Greeks, Turks and South Koreans also were battering at the enemy's line.

No Limit On Some Salaries

WASHINGTON, Oct. 4 (UP)—If you're a licensed physician or a lawyer employed in a professional capacity, you can stop worrying about government ceilings on your pay. There aren't any. The salary stabilization board has so ruled in a new interpretation of that section of the Defense Production Law which exempts some physicians and lawyers from salary stabilization.

Employed dentists and osteopaths licensed under state law get the same exemption as their medical colleagues.

The board ruled, however, that the exemption does not apply to "auxiliary branches" of the medical profession, such as pharmacists, nurses, optometrists, chiropractors and dental technicians. Their salaries are covered by federal ceilings, along with those of physicians who are employed by such corporations as insurance companies and who do not practice in a licensed hospital.

Shivers—

"The one who makes the announcement first," he added, "will probably make the race."

It was considered most unlikely that both Shivers and Daniel would enter the senatorial race in opposition to the veteran Connally.

Both men are biding their time, saying little but leaving the door wide open for future action.

If the governor does not run against Connally, he could run for re-election as governor or retire from public life.

Daniel could seek re-election, probably unopposed as attorney general, make the bid for governor or go into private business—if he doesn't make a race for the U. S. Senate.

However, both the governor and the Attorney General have gone on record as opposing President Truman in a possible bid for re-election.

Daniel, in a recent speech at Houston, called upon Texas to lead the way in opposing Mr. Truman's renomination.

The attorney general based his fight on a plea that Texas Democrats insist on a presidential candidate who will recognize Texas' title to the Tidelands.

The governor has asked for an unopposed delegation to the National Democratic Convention in 1952. Considering that the governor speaks for the Democratic party in Texas, that is about as strong as he can go at this time in opposition to the fair deal administration.

A hard-fought, probably bitter race, was in prospect if either Shivers or Daniel enters the contest against Connally, a political veteran of half a century.

The campaign issues, it was believed, would probably be drawn on foreign policy, particularly in regard to China. Domestic policies of the Truman administration and the Tidelands battle would not be overlooked.

Daniel, 41, is now in his third term as attorney general.

Shivers, who will celebrate his 44th birthday anniversary tomorrow, is in his first elective term as governor. However, he served more than half of the unexpired term of the late Gov. Beauford Jester.

Both are old campaigners in the Texas field.

But so is Connally.

The 74-year-old senior senator ran his first successful race for public office when he was elected to the Texas Legislature in 1901.

He was elected to congress in 1917 and served as a representative until 1928, when he was elected to the U. S. Senate.

Since that time, he has been re-elected in 1934, 1940, and 1946. Connally long ago announced that he'll be bidding for re-election again in 1952.

Eddie Cantor Loses A Year

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 4 (UP)—Banjo-eyed comedian Eddie Cantor said today the end of daylight saving time worked in reverse for him. While the nation was gaining an hour, he trimmed a year from his age.

The stage, screen and radio veteran admitted to his television audience last Sunday that he would be 60 on Jan. 31. But since the show, he has been flooded with newspaper and magazine clippings giving his birth date as 1893, which would make him only 59 on his next birthday.

"Wonderful," said Cantor, who has no record of his birth date. "It's funny that on Sept. 30 when the nation gained an hour from daylight savings, I lost a year."

MAKE BEAUTIFUL PINCH-PLEAT DRAPES AT HOME!

Every homemaker may now bring that smart decorator touch to every room in her home with rich, expensive-looking pinch pleated draperies, curtains and valances. And she can make them herself—quickly, easily and inexpensively!
A new pre-pleated buckram has been developed which offers a foolproof method for non-professional sewers to make perfect pinch pleats without tedious measuring, with less time and effort than ever before possible. No special drapery hooks or pins are required and pleats are formed instantly simply by pressing together the well-defined creases in this amazing new pre-pleated buckram. This money-saving, time-saving decorating aid is now being offered by local department and variety stores

CISCO LAUNDRY SERVICE

Don Doyle Eastland Phone 60

Dear Home Owners:

The impression seems to be pretty general that all building and repairs have been shut down except those requiring large down payments as set forth by recent government regulations. SUCH IS NOT THE CASE! . . . As an example . . . Under Title I loans for repair and remodeling your home, a $500.00 amount would require 10% or $50.00 down payment with the balance of $450.00 payable over a period up to 36 months at $14.37 per month. Loans can be made from $60.00 to $2,500.00.

Think of that new sleeping porch, your newly painted home, new interior painting, and wall paper . . . or a remodeled kitchen or bath!

We will gladly make you an estimate of your planned improvements. We will arrange the credit papers for you and usually within a few days work can begin. After the job is completed the loan is paid off monthly in easy installments.

If you will come by the lumber office or phone us we can give you further details.

Yours for a more beautiful home,

Frank Crowell

Houston Youth Charged With Student's Death

HOUSTON, Oct. 4 (UP)—A youthful Houston machinist was held on murder charges today in last week's fatal beating of Leon Eddie Gryder, University of Houston engineering student.

The charges were filed against James Marion Denny, 22. Gryder's badly beaten body was found Saturday by a night watchman at a Houston parking plant.

Homicide officers said witnesses reported Gryder's car struck a parked car, owned by John Knox, another machinist, in which Denny was a passenger Friday night. The witnesses said Gryder failed to stop, and Knox and Denny gave chase, followed by another car in which three youths were riding.

Gryder was knocked down and his head struck the pavement, the witnesses said, then the two other vehicles left the scene after Gryder apparently had regained consciousness.

Denny denied hitting Gryder, the authorities said.

Gravedigger Left Holding The Egg

SEATTLE, Wash., Oct. 4 (UP)—A Seattle gravedigger charged that a salesman duped him out of $1,133 and left him holding the bag with 1,200 hard-boiled eggs.

A grand larceny charge was filed in Justice Court yesterday against Walk K. Millar, 51, on the complaint of J. V. Clark. Clark accused Millar of selling him a non-existent "egg route" which allegedly supplied taverns with hard-boiled eggs.

Clark told deputy prosecutor John L. Vogel that all he got out of the deal was the 1,200 hard-boiled eggs. He said he paid $1,000 for the route, while the eggs and fancy containers he purchased to deliver them in cost $133. Millar was arrested and released on $2,500 bail.

Actress Grayson Wants A Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif., Oct. 4 (UP)—Her home was like "Grand Central Station" with strangers cooking in the kitchen on Sunday mornings, film actress Grayson testified in divorcing singer Johnny Johnston.

Miss Grayson was awarded an interlocutory decree yesterday after telling Superior Judge Orlando H. Rhodes "there was never any privacy in our married life." "I would come home and find parties and not even know the people," she said, and when she objected, Johnston said she was "anti-social."

The 29-year-old singing actress said her work was affected by the continual round of "partying."

Johnston, 37, did not contest the suit. Rhodes approved a property settlement giving Miss Grayson title to the family home and custody of their daughter, Patricia, 2.

Wealthy Texan Will Marry An Egyptian Dancer

PARIS, Oct. 4 (UP)—Sultry Egyptian belly dancer Samia Gamal gave her Texas fiancé a big farewell kiss which he said left him nervous, restless and unable to sleep—and took off my plane today for Cairo.

Shortly after the 27-year-old dancing favorite of King Farouk of Egypt departed, Sheppard W. King, 3rd, of Houston, said his mother had telephoned him from Texas last night.

"She told me I was a disgrace to the world and ordered me to come home immediately," the 26-year-old wealthy estate manager said.

"She also renewed her threat to disinherit me. She has been disowning me all my life."

King said he told his mother it was "ridiculous to get excited."

"But, before I could say anything else she hung up on me," he said.

"It makes no difference to me if she cuts me off. All I want is Samia."

He said that he and his sister will leave tonight for Rome to design their mother's order to go home.

He and Miss Gamal announced yesterday they plan to marry in a Moslem ceremony next December in Cairo.

He said neither he nor the dancer got any sleep last night.

"We just sat on the floor talking about the future all night long," King said.

Rev. and Mrs. Alford Nelson were called to the bed side of her mother in South Texas Monday afternoon.

Have you noticed that red is the truly important fashion color this Fall? From morn till midnight you'll see it in suits, dresses, cocktail frocks and sumptuous evening gowns and, of course, in all kinds of fabrics.

Couldn't leave the color red till we suggested a saucy starched red petticoat to wear under a dark suit or dress. And if you're penny-wise you'll make it yourself—a half-slip of muslin, the bottom flounce of eyelid embroidery. Dye a bright red with all-purpose dye, starch and you're walking in high fashion.

When rhinestone jewelry needs a little brightening up, douse it in an ammonia bath or spread toothpaste on a soft brush and gently go over stones, then rinse in warm water and dry. Your gems will glitter beautifully!

Don't you just love those little individual fruit tarts? And do you want to know how you can make 'em easy as can be? Use the backs—yes, I said backs—of your 3-inch muffin tins to make shells. Bake, then fill with fresh fruit; top with whipped cream for a sort of fruit salad dessert. Delicious!

Don't throw those odd earrings away. Use as lapel pins or string on your charm bracelet. They make mighty pretty ornaments.

Marshall Wives Still Fighting Social Security

MARSHALL, Oct. 4 (UP)—Seventeen rebellious housewives disclosed today they planned to "take to the stump" to encourage a change in the nation's social security laws and threatened Secretary of the Treasury John Snyder with a lawsuit.

In a petition attached to their quarterly reports to the Treasury Department, the housewives notified Snyder "we have retained the honorable Martin Dies (former congressman) to secure for us the hearing that our government has thus far denied us."

They added that unless money confiscated from their bank accounts to pay the withholding tax was returned, they would take the matter to court.

Mrs. Carolyn Abney, spokesman for the group, said a "speaking committee" had been established and that several engagements had been lined up to publicize their case against the government. The housewives have rebelled against withholding the social security tax for their domestic help on grounds it placed them in "involuntary servitude" as tax collectors against guarantees in the U. S. constitution.
