Lewis Plans Work For All In Lean Years

Contract Aim Is For Work Sharing During Bad Times

(By The Associated Press)

CINCINNATI, Oct. 8—The coal industry today was on notice that John L. Lewis has another major contract aim for the near future—a share-the-work program for lean years.

Lewis disclosed his goal to the 2,000 delegates to the United Mine Workers convention. He said it already was being tried out on a small scale in the anthracite field.

But he could not get his job stabilization plan across in the soft coal industry up to now, he said, "simply because there is no national leadership in the bituminous industry."

Plan For Depression

Nevertheless, he added, if conditions get so tough—in the event of a depression—that the stability of the contract is threatened "the UMW itself may find it necessary to advise our members how many days a week they need to work."

"We have that contractural right," he said, "because the contracts are written to permit that."

The last two contracts have provided the diggers will work only when "able and willing." The present pact expires next June 30.

This stabilization of employment, he said, "is a matter of self-preservation for our mine workers; it is a matter of self-preservation for the investors in the industry."

"So next year, in 1949 or at any other time, when evil days come upon this industry, you will find the United Mine Workers moving in, and if there are only three days' work in this industry we will all have three days' work.

The union has profited, he said, "from the "bitter experience" of the 20's.

Then the coal operators "unable to sell their coal at a price whereby they could pay the scale, would close their mines for an indefinite period, and when our people were starved into submission locally they would undertake to operate their mines non-union at a lower wage scale."

"This in turn would create the necessity for other operators doing the same thing and reducing it

Lewis Boosts Dewey's Odds

CINCINNATI, Oct. 8 (AP)—John L. Lewis indirectly endorsed Republican presidential candidate Thomas E. Dewey today and called for a "holiday" so the miners could vote on Nov. 2.

In a long resolution on political action, reviewing Lewis' criticism of President Truman, a special committee declared that:

"As to the other major party candidate for President of the United States, we can only say that, to our knowledge, he has never uttered any statements that reflect upon the integrity or the objectives of the United Mine Workers of America, or its officers or its members.

No Policy Change

"It is our opinion that the UMW is not departing from its political policy or its constitutional provisions by placing this factual information before you (the convention) for consideration.

"We are satisfied that the members of the United Mine Workers, their wives and dependents can be relied upon to protect their country, their homes and their union.

"We conclude this report by recommending the defeat of our enemies and the election of our true friends."

German Truce Goal In Talks

Bid To End East-West Stalemate Over Berlin Is Made By Argentine Leader

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 8—Argentine Foreign Minister Juan A. Bramuglia conferred with Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky today in a bid to end the East-West stalemate over Berlin, authoritative sources said.

The sources said it was the second time in 24 hours Bramuglia, president of the United Nations Security council, talked with leaders of Russia's U. N. delegation.

The Argentine saw another Soviet leader yesterday, the sources said. They did not identify him.

There were reports here of an unofficial approach by H. V. Evatt of Australia, the assembly president, and Secretary-General Trygve Lie to the four big powers, with an appeal for a three-month truce in Berlin. This could permit the four-power council of foreign ministers to discuss a lasting settlement. Officials would not comment on the reports.

However, both American and British spokesmen said their governments would not accept such a proposal. They said if they agreed to temporary removal of the Berlin blockade it would imply acceptance of Russia's right to reimpose it.

Earlier Bramuglia had talked with Philip C. Jessup, deputy U. S. delegate on the council, Sir Alexander Cadogan of Britain and Alexandre Parodi of France.

The object of the talks was said to be to work out a plan which might meet both Russian and Western power demands in their dispute over Berlin.

Bramuglia is known to have received an unofficial mandate from the five other "neutral" governments on the Security council to seek an East-West compromise.

The Security council adjourned Wednesday after the three Western governments had submitted their indictments of the Russian actions. It is not likely to meet again until Monday.

Nations Named For UN Council Terms

(By The Associated Press)

PARIS, Oct. 8 — Cuba, Egypt and Norway were elected today to two-year terms on the United Nations security council. The terms begin next Jan. 2.

Cuba replaces Colombia, Norway will take the seat now held by Belgium and Egypt takes over from Syria under the council's geographical representation system.

Norway and Cuba were elected on the first ballot, while four ballots were necessary to decide between Egypt and Turkey. The final vote was Egypt 36, Turkey 19.

Elected Unanimously

Cuba was elected unanimously. Norway received 44 votes. Elected nations were required to poll a two-thirds majority vote.

The coming term will be the second for Egypt. She was elected to a one-year term at the first U. N. assembly session in London in 1946.

China, France, India, Peru, Belgium and Chile were elected to the economic and social council. All were elected on the first ballot, with China, France and India polling 50 votes, Peru 49, Belgium 43 and Chile 41. All 58 nations voted.

Belgium and India replaced the Netherlands and Canada. The other four were reelected.

Jewish Reaction Bitter

Jewish reaction to the choice of Egypt was bitter.

"The people of Israel will not understand this utter disregard of all moral considerations" an Israeli spokesman in Paris said.

"Egypt's armies have been engaged in open aggression against Israel since May 15, in brazen contempt of the (U. N.) charter."

Ahmed Khashaba Pasha, Egyptian foreign minister, told reporters Egypt would speak in the council "for the whole Arab and Moslem world, including Turkey."

"Tell everybody that it's an Arab victory," said Riad El Solh of Lebanon. "It proves our solidarity in the United Nations."

Ship With 14 Aboard Feared Lost At Sea

SAN DIEGO, Calif., Oct. 8 (AP)—The motorship Malibu Inez with 14 persons aboard is feared lost in the wake of a tropical storm off the tip of Cape San Lucas 200 miles south of here.

After the vessel sent out an SOS last night, the commercial vessel, Empire State, covered the distress area and reported that it was unable to sight any sign of the Malibu Inez, the Coast Guard reported.

The Navy destroyer Henry W. Tucker, which had been proceeding under forced draft toward the area, was ordered to return to port, the Coast Guard said.

The Malibu Inez, a chartered ship, carried 13 men and women. It left Long Beach, Calif., last August to visit Cocos island in a search for pirate loot.

13-Year-Old Bride In Second Grade

McMINNVILLE, Tenn., Oct. 8 (AP)—Truman Hester, 36, and his 13-year-old bride, who is in the second grade at McMinnville grammar school, settled down to housekeeping today.

Hester, a lumberyard worker, said he met Mary Elizabeth Stanley when he went to collect rent from her father, Robert Stanley.

The two struck up a romance, he said, and were married by a Baptist preacher at Rossville, Ga., last Friday.

Mary Elizabeth said she would stay in school.

Tropic Storm Hits Bermuda

HAMILTON, Bermuda, Oct. 8 (AP)—A tropical hurricane battered Bermuda from end to end for three hours last night, causing extensive damage.

A survey showed today the storm caused destruction heavier than the total damage of two previous hurricanes this fall. No casualties were reported, however.

As power lines fell before winds reaching more than 100 miles an hour, the island was in total darkness and there were virtually no communications. Thousands of trees were uprooted.

Florida, Havana, Hit

The hurricane was the same one that lashed southern Florida and Havana earlier this week.

Residents of the island had been warned of the storm and battened down before it struck.

Airplanes from the American base at Kindley field had been flown to fields in Puerto Rico and the United States. Two British ships put out to sea to ride out the storm and two floating docks at the shipyard were sunk to avoid damage.

A Mile Off Base In 38-Degree Breezes

Sleepwalker Without Pants Finds College Avenue Cool

City Patrolman Jerry Hoover didn't quite believe what he saw this morning—a shoeless man walking around without his pants in 38-degree temperature.

Hoover jumped off a city bus to remind the fellow that 200-block College is a bit public for such a masquerade, even at 6:30 a. m.

The thinly-clad had a teeth-chattering explanation — and goose-pimples.

He was most urgently looking for an address on Maple. He had been in bed there, in the residence of a half-brother.

"But I walk in my sleep."

Cold shocked him awake, but he had wandered far enough to be lost. He was a mile off home base when accosted by Hoover.

A telephone call to the station about that time was corroborative. The relative had found the somnambulist's shoes and trousers and figured what was going on.

Police released the man, 37 of Bell county, without charge, but offered advisory alternatives—either to hunt a milder climate for such strolls, or else to sleep with his pants on.

USDA Cotton Forecast Cut

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. (AP)—The Agriculture department today forecast this year's cotton crop at 15,079,000 bales of 500 pounds gross weight.

This figure is 140,000 bales less than the 15,219,000 forecast a month ago. Last year's crop was 11,857,000 bales and the ten-year (1937-46) average was 12,014,000 bales.

Acreage For Harvest

The acreage for harvest was indicated at 23,323,000 acres.

The condition of the crop as of Oct. 1 was put at 82 percent of normal compared with a 72 a year ago and 71 for the ten-year average.

The yield of lint cotton per acre was indicated at 310.3 pounds, compared with 267.3 pounds last year and 254.2 for the ten-year average.

No estimate for cottonseed production was given. But the department said that if the raito of lint to cottonseed should equal that of the ten-year average, production would be 6,091,000 tons. Production last year 4,681,000 tons and 4,947,000 for the ten-year average.

Texas Estimates Given

The indicated acreage for harvest, the Oct. 1 condition, the yield per acre and production, respectively, by states included:

Oklahoma 1,032,000; Texas 8,998,000; 67; 173 and 3,250,000; New Mexico 214,000; 95; 550 and 245,000; Arizona 274,000; 94; 543 and 310,000; California 804,000; 87; 567 and 950,000.

The production of American-Egyptian type cotton was forecast at 3,000 bales. This compares with 2,600 forecast a month ago, with 1,200 produced last year and 30,600 for the ten-year average.

Gene Bearden Limits Boston To Five Blows

Attendance Record Believed Broken; Tribe Leads, 2-1

(By The Associated Press)

MUNICIPAL STADIUM, Cleveland, Oct. 8. — Lefthanded Gene Bearden shut out the Boston Braves, 2-0, with five hits today to give the Cleveland Indians a 2-1 advantage in the 45th World Series.

Making his third start within a seven-day period, the 28-year-old Bearden baffled the Braves with his dipping knuckler.

It was a heart-warming victory for the loyal Cleveland fans who were watching their first series game since 1920.

Both Were Rookies

Bearden, winner of 20 games in the regular season, including the important tie playoff Monday with the Boston Red Sox, gave his own cause a tremendous lift with two hits, one a double, off loser Vern Bickford. Both starters were rookies finishing their first years in the big show.

The game, wrapped up in jig time, required only one hour and 36 minutes. It was all over in the third, as it turned out. After the Indians went out front they refused to give any ground.

Bearden's double over Tommy Holmes' head against the wire fence in right field started Bickford's downfall. A costly error by Al Dark gave him another push toward the Braves' second loss of the series.

Threw Wild To First

After Bearden doubled, Dale Mitchell worked Bickford for the third walk he had given out. Larry Doby rapped a potential double play ball to Eddie Stanky, who threw to Dark for the force on Mitchell. However, Dark, jostled in the play at second, threw wildly past first in a try for a double play. Permitting Bearden to score the first run of the game in the third inning.

In the fourth, Bickford got in trouble by a walk to Ken Keltner. After he struck out Wally Judnich, singles by Ed Robinson and Jim Hegan drove home Keltner with the second run.

After Bearden followed with a single, loading the bases, Manager Billy Southworth of the Braves decided that was enough for his 28-year-old freshman. Bill Voiselle, old "96" from Ninety Six, S. C., stomped in from the bull pen to put down the uprising. He left three stranded.

10 Retired In Succession

Voiselle retired ten men in succession until Doby singled with one out in the seventh. That was the only hit he allowed in a neat relief job. Red Barrett finished

It was 39 degrees at Calarendon, 40 at Amarillo and 45 at Childress with most Panhandle points reporting readings in the 40s; central Texas points had overnight lows in the 50s and coast points in the 60s.

Chicago Candidate Is Found Murdered

Victim's Gashed Body Sprawled Near Busy Street; Was Brother Of Leading Republican

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Oct. 8—William John Granata, 42, candidate for circuit court clerk and brother of a leading Republican state politician, was found dying early today on a busy loop theater-district street. Police termed it murder.

Granata, brother of State Sen. Peter C. Granata, was found sprawled at the entrance to his apartment building at 188 W. Randolph street—within two blocks of the brightly lighted theater district and across the street from a hotel night club.

A later autopsy disclosed two deep gashes made, Coroner A. L. Brodie said, by some instrument such as an ax or meat cleaver. Granata died at Henrotin hospital.

The autopsy, conducted by Dr. Jerry Kearns, coroner's pathologist, said the body had two deep wounds, one in the neck, the other in the rear of the skull. The skull wound touched the brain, but either could have been fatal, the report said.

Police traced Granata's movements during yesterday and last night. They said he attended political meetings in furtherance of his campaign for the circuit court clerkship, a county office, dined with friends, and attended more political meetings in the evening. They quoted Granata's wife, Violet, 24, as saying he displayed no signs of nervousness.

Capt. Ray Crane of the uniform division and Sheriff Michael Walsh took charge of the investigation. Both said the death was murder.

Police said they had been unable to locate anyone who saw Granata receive the wound. They were summoned by Nicholas Salm, night elevator operator in the building, who discovered the body.

Granata is also 27th ward com-

DEWEY ATTENDS CEREMONIES

President Invades Rival's Territory

(By The Associated Press)

President Truman invades Gov. Dewey's home grounds today while his Republican rival attends New York ceremonies honoring a former Democratic presidential candidate.

Mr. Truman was scheduled to make a rear platform talk in Albany en route to Buffalo where he will deliver a campaign broadcast tonight.

To assure a "very warm welcome" for the President, the GOP candidate asked that his state employes be given time off to hear Mr. Truman.

Dewey plans to return to Albany tonight after taking part in a New York City ground-breaking ceremony for a housing project to be named for the late Alfred E. Smith. Smith lost to Herbert Hoover in the 1928 campaign.

Refers To Hoover

Mr. Truman referred to the Hoover administration in a series of campaign speeches yesterday in New Jersey where many rally signs read—"We want low cost housing."

"There were breadlines instead of pay lines" during the Hoover regime, Mr. Truman said. He declared that while the Republicans "just sat and waited for prosperity to come around the corner" the Democrats took action against the depression.

It would be a world "tragedy," he told a Jersey City rally, for the nation to return to a "reactionary government."

Benefits Outlined

Mr. Truman said the people should vote the Democratic ticket if they want a higher minimum wage, bigger social security benefits, a fair deal for labor and a government that "puts people ahead of property."

This view was countered by Gov. Earl Warren, the GOP vice presidential candidate. He pointed to his party's record in state welfare legislation as an example of "Republicanism in practice."

The Californian told a Madison, Wis., audience last night that in

Three Felons Break Prison

HUNTSVILLE, Oct. 8. (UP) — Three prisoners at Ramsey prison farm in Brazoria county, including one serving an 8-year sentence for assault to murder, cut their way out of a dormitory early today and fled.

Capt. O. O. Stewart, manager at Ramsey, told General Manager O. B. Ellis the men were James Herbert Webb, 32, W. J. Harding, 39, and Oliver Twist, 21.

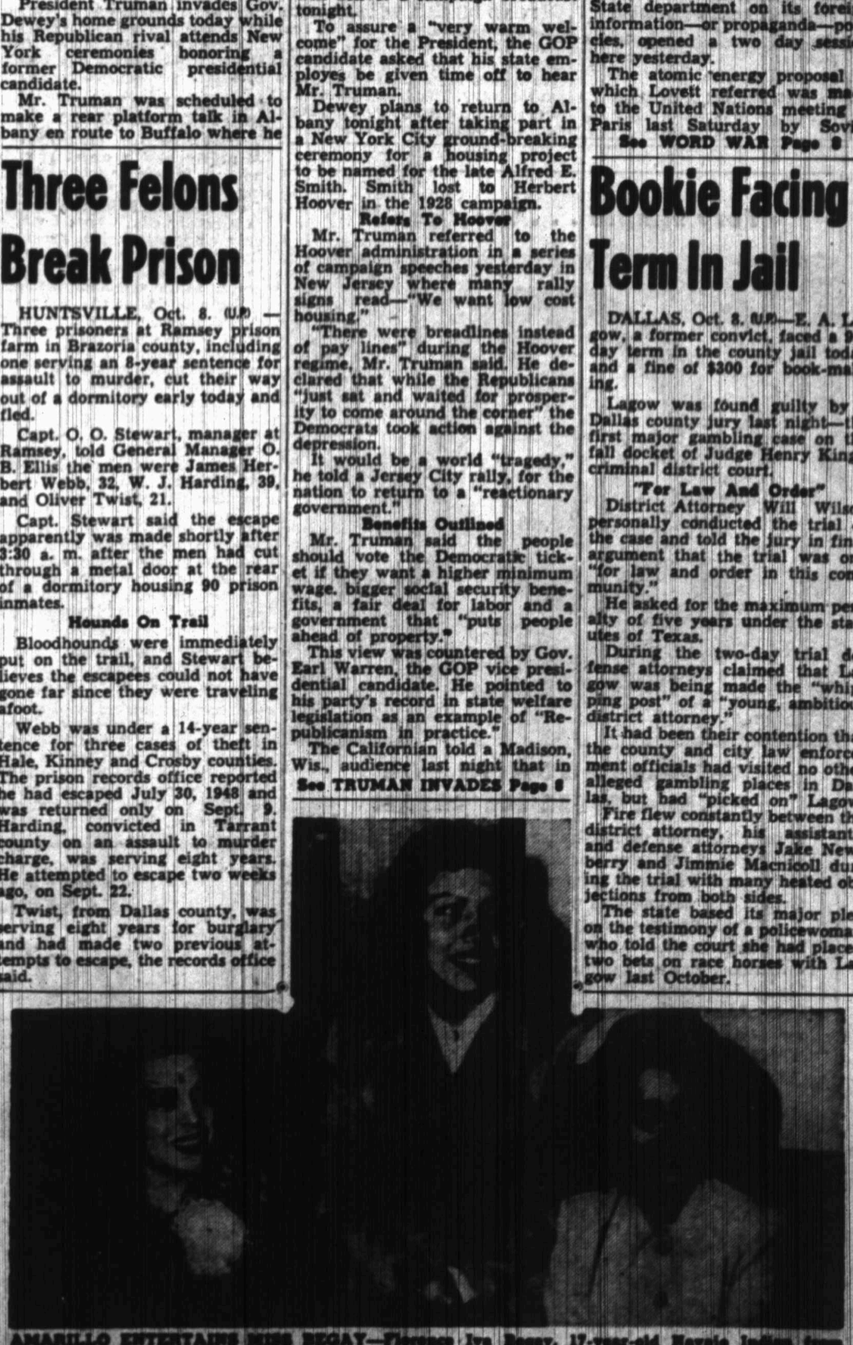

Capt. Stewart said the escape apparently was made shortly after 3:30 a. m. after the men had cut through a metal door at the rear of a dormitory housing 90 prison inmates.

Hounds On Trail

Bloodhounds were immediately put on the trail, and Stewart believes the escapees could not have gone far since they were traveling afoot.

Webb was under a 14-year sentence for three cases of theft in Hale, Kinney and Crosby counties. The prison records office reported he had escaped July 30, 1948 and was returned only on Sept. 9. Harding, convicted in Tarrant county on an assault to murder charge, was serving eight years. He attempted to escape two weeks ago, on Sept. 22.

Twist, from Dallas county, was serving eight years for burglary and had made two previous attempts to escape, the records office said.

Sly Plans Of Russians Will Be 'Debunked'

Last Restraints In Propaganda Fight Will Be Removed

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 — The United States appears today to be casting aside the last restraints in its propaganda war with Russia.

From two top officials comes evidence that the day of soft talk toward the Soviet Union has given way entirely to a new period of blunt statements unvarnished by the familiar phrases of diplomacy.

In Washington, Undersecretary of State Robert A. Lovett revealed that he has received orders from Paris to "debunk" the latest Russian proposal for dealing with atomic energy. These orders presumably were given by Secretary of State Marshall himself.

Russian Aims Nailed

And in Durham, N. H., Assistant Secretary of State Charles E. Saltzman declared in a speech that the Soviet rulers since the end of the war have made this plain:

"That their real aim is world domination through the instrumentality of Communism and that they will stoop to any strategem of coercion, subterfuge, duplicity or double dealing that serves their purpose."

Speaking before the University of New Hampshire, Saltzman thus used some of the harshest words ever applied to the Soviet Union in recent years by a top State department official.

The assistant secretary in charge of occupied areas said the United States hopes to win the conflict with Russia "this side of war—by patience, calmness, and spiritual fortitude."

Avoiding War Is Policy

But, he added, it may not be possible to avoid war, although the government is proceeding on the assumption that it is possible.

Lovett made his disclosures about "debunking" the Soviet atomic energy proposal in a brief speech before the United States advisory commission on information.

That body, which the President appointed in August to advise the State department on its foreign information—or propaganda—policies, opened a two day session here yesterday.

The atomic energy proposal to which Lovett referred was made to the United Nations meeting in Paris last Saturday by Soviet

Bookie Facing Term In Jail

DALLAS, Oct. 8. (UP)—E. A. Lagow, a former convict, faced a 90-day term in the county jail today and a fine of $300 for book-making.

Lagow was found guilty by a Dallas county jury last night—the first major gambling case on the fall docket of Judge Henry King's criminal district court.

"For Law And Order"

District Attorney Will Wilson personally conducted the trial of the case and told the jury in final argument that the trial was one "for law and order in this community."

He asked for the maximum penalty of five years under the statutes of Texas.

During the two-day trial defense attorneys claimed that Lagow was being made the "whipping post" of a "young, ambitious district attorney."

It had been their contention that the county and city law enforcement officials had visited no other alleged gambling places in Dallas, but had "picked on" Lagow.

Fire flew constantly between the district attorney, his assistants, and defense attorneys Jake Newberry and Jimmie Macnicoll during the trial with many heated objections from both sides.

The state based its major plea on the testimony of a policewoman who told the court she had placed two bets on race horses with Lagow last October.

Home Economics Teachers To Attend Clothing Seminar

Miss Mabel Erwin, professor and head of the department of clothing and textiles, Tech home economics division, will conduct a clothing seminar for homemaking in Lubbock county Saturday morning from 8 until 11:30 o'clock in Annex 1, of the home economics building.

The teachers will participate.

The purpose of the seminar is to discuss trends in clothing construction.

"The modern tempo of living requires less time in sewing, yet the higher costs of living demand more home sewing than ever before," Miss Erwin explains. "It is important that the home sewer creat a garment that is satisfying to her standards of good taste and tailoring. She does not want an amateurish product which one authority has described as 'that fireside look'."

Short cuts and methods of efficient organization will be discussed.

MARY HAWORTH'S MAIL . . .

Retired Clergyman, Speaking From 50 Years As Minister, Warns Of Danger Of Social Drink

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: This is to express appreciation of the excellent work you are doing in your writings. I never pass one of your articles, because I find you have great understandings of human nature and give splendid advice to persons seeking guiding principles in their various relationships. You expound such good common sense that your column is refreshing to read.

Now, having said this much, I wish to offer a friendly amendment to your reply of September 16, to the mother-dominated wife who asks what course to take during a forthcoming long visit from her parents, who oppose social drinking, whereas the wife and husband (a middle-aged couple) have been imbibing and dispensing alcoholic refreshments, very moderately, in recent years.

The wife says in part, "I rather not serve liquor while my parents are here . . . but even if we had no liquor in evidence, I wouldn't know what to say if the subject came up." Previously she had explained, "Mother unconsciously expects to be told what she wants to hear," and always heretofore the daughter has ruefully obliged her in that, although with some misgivings about her devious tact.

DON'T LET SOCIETY STIFLE CONSCIENCE

In reply, you speak of the daughter's adult-age responsibility to "live by her own lights," and in effect counsel against relapsing into hypocritical pseudo-submission to maternal autocracy.

I fully agree with your thought that the daughter shouldn't let her dominating mother regulate her married life; but I feel you should have reminded her, also, to beware of letting friends dominate her conscience, for she implies that she would feel easier in mind if she and her husband let liquor alone.

There are many hospitable drinks to offer, without resorting to liquor, which has ruined many a home, and I am reminded of what a scientist, then acting president of a great university, once told a convention of educators. He said, "The purpose of education is to reduce the number of apes in this country." And "aping" others is just what created this woman's problem.

NEITHER A FANATIC NOR FOOL REFORMER

I HAVE been a clergyman for nearly half a century, but never a fanatic or fool about trying to regulate others' lives. Once I attended an industrial congress in a border city, where I was the only clergyman aside from the Episcopal minister who dared sit in the section where drinks were served at the principal banquet.

Some businessmen were surprised to find me there, and asked what I was doing there. I replied in good humor, "I thought some of you boys might need me," and we laughed. Two liquors were served but I drank only coffee and the whole group respected by attitude and seemed glad that I had joined them. Later, when I undertook to lift a large debt on my church, they helped me generously, regardless of creed.

In my ministry I mingled with all the people but did not try to regulate anybody; instead, I tried to abide by the dictates of my own conscience, for which they respected me most, I think. And now may God bless and prosper your work. (Signed) F. W.

MELLOW DISCOURSE BUT SUPERFICIAL

DEAR F. W.: Your mellow commentary makes good reading, and your supplementary advice to the harried wife is well spoken. She should indeed beware of letting the example of friends lead her into courses of action that conflict with her better judgment.

However, haven't you noticed that persons who've been long dominated in a major life-relationship, dating back to earliest years, tend to slip, as if by conditioned reflex, into that same pattern of conciliatory "accommodation" in most of their lesser relationships as well.

Thus, until the woman learns to deal maturely with her mother, it isn't likely that she can change character in relation to other valued associates, either. So I venture to think that my original single-aim treatment of the problem struck to the heart of the matter. M. H.

Governors Of Many States Promise Official Proclamations

Sunday Will Be Grandmother's Day, And Likely She Won't Be Found In Old Rocker

By LEO TURNER
United Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—Sunday is be kind to grandmother day, if you can find the old girl.

Mrs. Lyn Greene, president of the New York Grandmother's club, took time out today to explain what your mother's mother's been up to. Mrs. Greene is a comfortable looking grandmother with a little grey in her hair and a twinkle in her eye.

"Hurry over," she said, "I only have a few minutes."

Grandmother Pictured

Grandmothers, Mrs. Greene said, aren't where you'd expect them to be. She smiled. Then she began to recite.

"You picture her with folded hands,
"Rocking to and fro.
"You picture her with smiling lips,
"From whence old stories flow.
"With graying hair and feeble look,
"Thinking of the past.
"How long will she be on this earth.
"How long will her illness last!"

Mrs. Greene is a poet—when she isn't a painter, or a sculptor, or a physical therapist, or going to a party or planning a meeting to discuss some charity for helpless grandmothers or needy grandchildren.

Easy Chair Is Out

"Today's grandmother has a lot on the ball," she said. "Mrs. Essie Williams, one of our members, is calisthenics instructor in a Bronx high school. There's one grandmother in our national organization who is only 33 and already has six grandchildren."

"Nope, grandma's not sticking to her easy chair," Grandmother Greene said. "She'd do a lot more if grandpa could keep up with her.

"She walks with her head held high, and pep;
"She does not have to watch her step.
"Her store of knowledge she shares with joy.
"She's called upon by girl and boy.
"Her mail is twice as great as mine,
"She's out at night 'way past nine."

Singer Kate Smith is sponsoring grandmother's day this year, and has promises of proclamations from the governors of Minnesota, South Carolina, Ohio, Nebraska, Florida, North Carolina, Louisiana, Maine, Oklahoma, West Virginia, Indiana, Maryland, Texas and Vermont.

There are 6,000 members of grandmothers' clubs in 38 states. "Our purposes are social, educational and philanthropic," Mrs. Greene said.

Being a grandmother isn't just a United States pastime. There are affiliated clubs in Canada and Czechoslovakia.

Roscoe Wilson Students Hear Talk By Lubbock Fire Chief

Burning trash is the most common cause of fires and smoking in bed and leaving electric irons on rank next in that order, Fire Chief W. E. Twitty told students of Roscoe Wilson school this morning in a program given at the school in observance of Fire Prevention week.

Asked by a student what would be a good home fire extinguisher, Fire Chief Twitty suggested that a box of baking soda be nailed to a wall. In event of fire, the box could be jerked down, the nail tearing a hole in the corner, and soda could be sprinkled on the fire.

Chief Twitty answered questions of students representing each class and Bradley Black from the fire department spoke briefly. Their remarks were heard in the class rooms over the address system.

Tells Of Unusual Fires

The chief said one of the most unusual fires was one that destroyed 1,200 to 1,500 bales of cotton. Black told of a fire in Lubbock, which spread from a child's plastic ruler after it had ignited.

Twitty said the fire department has 58 firemen, with 29 on duty on alternate days. The department has five pumping engines. A total of 446 runs has been made since Jan. 1 and few were caused by false alarms. There have been no fatalities as result of fires within the city limits this year, he said. He said the city has about 75 per cent as many fire plugs as it needs; that it should have about 400 more.

Mrs. Ivy Savage, principal, said two fire drills have been conducted this week in Roscoe Wilson school in observance of Fire Prevention week and that the 533 children in the school can be out of the building in one and one-half minutes in an obstructed drill, in which imaginary obstructions occurs.

"I don't know if I'm going back in show business. I hope I might be able to help other people be as happy as they have made me happy."

She did not get to explain her happiness project, because her lawyer, Milton Raynor, cut her off and told her it was time to telephone her father in Toledo, O.

Man Taken By MP's Says He Is Russian

ALISO CANYON, Cal., Oct. 8 (U.P.)—A man who identified himself as Russian army officer was seized by military police today as he watched large-scale war maneuvers of U. S. naval and marine units.

Brig. Gen. Omar T. Phieffer, chief of staff of the marine corps barracks, Camp Pendleton, took charge of the man, and said he planned to question him later today.

In preliminary questioning, Phieffer said he was unable to understand him, because the man spoke only a few words of English. Phieffer ordered him to be taken to the provost marshal.

The man was in full Russian uniform and in broken English said he was a Russian officer, Phieffer said.

General Montgomery Confident In Western European Command

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Selection of Field Marshal Viscount Montgomery to head the newly formed military command of western European nations—Britain, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg—continues to be a subject of warm discussion not unmixed with some heartburning.

Those who disapprove maintain that Monty is a land soldier, whereas his big new job calls for the handling not only of land forces but air and sea units as well. Then, of course, some French critics aren't happy in having the command centered in England, since France obviously will be an early battlefield if there is another war.

Approval Assumed

So far as Uncle Sam is concerned, one assumes that he must have given his nod before Montgomery was appointed to a command in which America is so vitally interested inasmuch as her front line lies in Europe. Whatever criticism the field marshal may have evoked during the late war, we have the testimony of none less than General of the Army Dwight Eisenhower that Montgomery is "one of the great soldiers of the war . . . a figure who will live always, not only in British but in world history."

The colorful, 61-year-old soldier is something of a one-man-band, but supreme command permits a fair amount of that trait. He knows his soldiering and has supreme confidence in himself, which accounts in considerable measure for his ability to inspire high morale among his followers.

Morale Big Item

Morale is a big item in the field marshal's calculations. When I was with his army in Africa in '42 he told me during an interview:

"Morale is the thing. You can do anything with an army if its morale is high. Your troops must be in that frame of mind where they want to fight—where they're anxious to meet the enemy in battle. Morale depends on success. Give the troops success and their morale is high."

So Monty gave his men success as he drove the great Marshal Rommel back across the dessert, and their morale was indeed high. They thought a lot of their skipper.

Own Morale Is High

Montgomery's own morale is in top gear. During our chat in his desert caravan the name of Rommel naturally came up and he pointed to a life-size, head-and-shoulder photo of the German commander, remarkable: "That's Rommel. I captured that."

"What do you think of him?" I asked.

"He's a grand soldier," replied Montgomery, "but we shall beat him."

"You're confident—your own morale is high," I said.

He nodded, and looked me squarely in the eye. Montgomery believes in himself. And that isn't a bad characteristic for a commander.

Has Crusader Flame

Montgomery has another notable characteristic. There burns in his gray eyes the unmistakable flame of the crusader. If he weren't a great general he would be in some other field of leadership, and it would involve idealism, if I have sized up my man rightly.

Perhaps that fits with the fact that he is intensely religious, and is proud of the fact that he doesn't drink or smoke. He once boasted to Prime Minister Winston Churchill:

"I don't smoke, I don't drink, and I am 100 per cent fit."

To this the inimitable Winston replied.

"I smoke, I drink and I am 200 per cent fit."

Churchill compared Montgomery to Cromwell, which sums up rather well the chief of the new Western European Military command.

NEW CAR WASHING SERVICE—The building above will house the "Minit Man" car washing service which will go into operation Monday. With a capacity of nearly a car a minute, the operation will be on the "assembly line" principle, as the autos flow in through the back door, receive vacuum cleaning and pass through a series of mechanized brushes and power washing equipment to a blower which will have them dry as they pass out the front door. The building was built by W. C. Barnett for his son, W. C. Barnett, jr., and Bill Watson, who will operate the business. The establishment is one of three of its kind in the state, the others being at Dallas and Houston. (Staff Photo.)

Former FBI Official Says Reds And Agents Waging War Now

HARRISBURG, Pa., Oct. 8 (AP)—A former top-ranking FBI official asserted today the "Soviet Union and her agents are actually waging war in a very real sense at this very moment."

Edward P. Morgan, former administrative assistant to J. Edgar Hoover, head of the Federal Bureau of Investigation, made the statement in a prepared speech before the Pennsylvania Newspaper Publishers' association.

Reds Waging War

"This is war—in any man's language," Morgan asserted, adding:

"In overrunning the countries of central Europe, the Soviet Union has placed her great Red army at their back door, has infiltrated these countries with Communist agents, and with power politics and ruthless secret police methods has literally taken over these countries contrary to the wishes and desires of their people."

At the same time, Morgan praised what he termed "the magnificient job done by the American press in alerting the country to Communism's challenge to democracy."

Morgan told the more than 400 newspaper publishers and editors attending the association's annual convention, that America's newspapers have "helped tremendously in thwarting the carefully-laid plans of Dictator Joseph Stalin for world domination.

CAMERA EYE CLICKS

BINGHAMPTON, N. Y. (AP) — Detective Joseph Varsik was shown a picture of a California man who was wanted for embezzling $25,000. Varsik, who is known for his camera eye, said he remembered the face. He had seen the man walking on Clinton street here. He went back to Clinton street, found the man, still walking, and arrested him.

Nine Rail Damage Suits Transferred

DALLAS, Oct. 8. (AP)—Nine damage suits asking a total of $180,330 from the Texas Electric Railway company have been transferred from Grayson county to Dallas district courts.

The suits were filed by ten Collin county residents as the result of the head-on crash of northbound and southbound interurbans last April near Vickery.

Forty-nine persons were injured in the early morning crash April 10.

Sam P. Burford, chief counsel for the Railway company, said the suits were transferred to Dallas at the company's request. The accident occurred in Dallas county and the company has its main offices here, Burford said.

The plaintiffs in the nine suits, and the amount of damages asked by each are:

Cyndia Mae Johnson, a minor, $10,000; Dorothy Searcy, $33,700; Mr. and Mrs. H. K. Bonham, $31,750; B. F. Henry, $21,000; Kenneth Doyle Spearman, $2,500; Harold T. Dunafan, $3,380; Morris Ray Odle, $25,500; Eulious H. Cates, $16,000; and Harold A. Howard $15,000.

Artificial man-made kidneys can now be hooked onto the human body's blood vessels in an emergency to cleanse the vital fluid of wastes that would cause death.

U. S. Challenges Leaders Of Electrical Union To Disprove Communism Charges

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8. — The government today challenged leaders of the CIO United Electrical workers union to disprove charges of Communist ties.

The alternative: the union's quick and complete ouster from A-bomb plants.

In disclosing this stand the Atomic Energy commission also under-lined a policy of requiring labor union leaders representing atomic workers not only to submit non-Communist oaths but to obtain the same FBI loyalty clearance demand of the workers themselves.

Union Protest Answered

The commission a week ago barred the U. E. from representing workers at any new atomic plants for the stated reason that the loyalty of some of the union's officers is open to "very serious question."

The challenge to the U. E. leadership was voiced by AEC Chairman David Lilienthal in a letter replying to a protest from Union President Albert Fitzgerald.

Lilienthal wrote that unless the questioned loyalty of U. E. officers is "cleared up satisfactorily," the AEC intends to take "such further steps that may be necessary" for security.

From another commission official it was learned that the "further steps" means ousting U. E. from the Peek street atomic plant at Schenectady, N. Y., where the union presently represents workers under an overall contract with General Electric company.

One Plant Now Involved

The outright ban against U. E. so far only denies the union the right to represent workers at the Knolls atomic power laboratory at Schenectady when that facility, now being built, is put into operation. At the time the ban was announced, however, the commission said additional moves would follow.

A number of U. E.'s officers have refused to tell congressional investigators whether they are or ever have been Communists. In addition the union has been described in sworn testimony as "the largest Communist-dominated organization in the United States."

Fitzgerald's letter to Lilienthal accused the AEC chairman of "cheap political maneuvering" and said "the union denounces the utterly false and groundles insinuations concerning the loyalty of this union and its members."

Full Hearing Offered

Lilienthal denied any reflection on individual union members, stressing that they, like all atomic plant workers, must meet FBI requirements before being allowed to enter the plants. As for the leadership, the chairman wrote Fitzgerald:

"If the officers of U. E. desire, the commission will give them every opportunity to participate in a fuller exploration of this issue.

"It should be understood, however, that the AEC would expect the U. E. officers to be prepared to give full and candid statements concerning present or past affiliations with the Communist party or Communist - dominated organizations.

"In addition, the same personnel data will be requested of the U. E. officers as has been furnished by employes and by various officers of other unions who represent employes in the atomic energy program."

The commission also made public a letter from Lilienthal to CIO President Philip Murray who had protested against blacklisting the union because of the failure of U. E. officers to sign the non-Communist affidavits.

Murray noted that the non-Communist affidavit proviso of the Taft-Hartley act still is being challenged in the courts.

To this, Lilienthal said that whatever the outcome of the litigation the loyalty of various U. E. officers still would be open to "serious question" because of information available to the Commission.

Alumnae Of Former College Will Meet

DALLAS, Oct. 8. (AP) — Former students of Mary Nash college of Sherman meet here for a reunion Oct. 15 and all will be almost 70 years old or older.

The school was founded in 1877, but was sold to the Methodist church in 1902. It became Kid Key college, now extinct.

Tech Student Editor Will Attend Banquet

Orlin Brewer, Texas Technological college student from Olton and editor of the college paper, The Toreador, has been invited to be one of the honor guests at a dinner sponsored by Fort Worth's professional chapter of Sigma Delta Chi, journalism fraternity, at 7:30 p. m., today in the Worth hotel, Fort Worth.

Brewer is one of 11 students chosen from Journalism classes in Texas colleges and universities in an intern program of the Texas Newspaper Publishers association. He served as an intern on the Fort Worth Star-Telegram, working in various departments during the past summer.

Brewer said Thursday that he would probably leave Thursday night for Fort Worth, and return to Tech sometime Saturday.

Westerners, Sandies, Wichita Falls, Port Arthur, Waco, Marshall Given Nod

Littlefield Is Also Favored

BY ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

Picking the winners in this weekend schoolboy football games:

Port Arthur over San Antonio Brackenridge—Too much experience, not to mention speed and a rock-ribbed line, although Brackenridge might make it close.

Amarillo over Odessa—Looks like a toss-up, but beating the Sandies on Butler field is almost an impossibility, so we'll string along with the home club.

Scots Are Too Slow

Waco over Highland Park—The Scots are too slow to match the speed and finesse of the Tigers.

Marshall over Kilgore—Gahlen Dinkle is the difference here as Kilgore joins Brackenridge, Odessa and Highland Park in dismissal from the undefeated class.

Houston Reagan over Houston S. F. Austin—Against general opinion, but we look for an upset. Both are unbeaten to date.

Wichita Falls over Pampa—Rebounding from the Abilene upset, the Coyotes should have the stuff to KO Pampa's unbeaten record.

Denison over Bonham—Apprensive over this choice, but unbeaten Bonham's opposition couldn't match the rugged Denison schedule.

Rate Among Top Five

Kerrville over Fort Worth Paschal—The hill country boys probably rate among the top five in the state now with their injured backs in uniform.

Fort Worth Arlington Heights over San Angelo—But the West Texans have improved a lot since losing to Denison.

Those are the top games, but we'll try to name the winners in the others with you guessing at our reasons:

Littlefield over Brownfield, Lubbock over Childress, Vernon over McKinney, Weatherford over Quanah, Sweetwater over Midland, Big Spring over Lamesa.

Borger, Plainview To Lose

El Paso Austin over Borger, El Paso Bowie over Plainview, El Paso High over Douglas, Ariz., Ysleta over Roswell, N. M., Breckenridge over Greenville, Denton over Electra, Ennis over Sulphur Springs, Arlington over Grand Prairie, Ranger over Cisco, Stephenville over Coleman.

Texarkana over Longview, Gladewater over Tyler, Cleburne over Waxahachie, Temple over Hillsboro, Palestine over Corsicana, Houston St. Thomas over Conroe, Henderson over Bryan, Athens over Jacksonville, Beaumont over Lufkin, Freeport over Nacogdoches, Galveston over Port Neches, Texas City over Alvin.

Austin over Laredo, Victoria over Cuero, Kingsville over Brownsville, San Benito over Robstown.

Fort Worth North Side over Dallas Forest, Mineral Wells over Fort Worth Tech, North Dallas over Fort Worth Riverside, Dallas Woodrow Wilson over Sherman, Dallas Adamson over Paris, Baytown over Houston Davis, Corpus Christi over Houston San Jacinto, Houston Milby over Houston Sam Houston, Brownwood over San Antonio Harlandale, Orange over San Antonio Tech and Beaumont South Park over San Antonio Burbank.

Death By Natural Causes Is Ruling

CHICAGO, Oct. 8 (INS) — A coroner's jury ruled death by natural cause today in the case of Stan Mauldin, ace Chicago Cardinals tackle who died following the Cards' National Football league game with Philadelphia the night of Sept. 24.

The jury also recommended heart examinations in addition to regular physicals for all athletes requiring major physical effort.

Mauldin was stricken with a heart attack in the Cardinal dressing room following his team's 21-14 victory over Philadelphia and died two hours later.

Players Sold To Kilgore Drillers

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 8 (AP)—President Bonneau Peters of the Shreveport baseball club reports Nick Gregory, Texas league home run king last year, and Merv Connors have been sold to the Kilgore Drillers of the Lone Star league.

The Shreveport club president said Gregory was removed to make room for upcoming young talent.

The amount of life insurance owned in this country at the end of 1947 totaled $188 billions.

Birmingham Barons Cop Dixie Title With 3-1 Win Over Cats

FORT WORTH, Oct. 8. (AP)—Birmingham, which could finish only third in the regular Southern association season, wrapped up the Dixie series title with a 3-1 decision over Fort Worth last night.

The Barons won the series with the Texas league champion, four games to one.

It was Birmingham's third championship in five Dixie series participations and the Southern association's eleventh success against 15 for the Texas league.

Birmingham lost the first game of the series to the Cats, then took the next four.

George Wilson scored the Barons' first run in the fifth when Cat hurler Dwain Sloat threw wild after fielding Dick Adkins' bunt. Wilson added the second score with a homer and Tom O'Brien's home run in the ninth produced the final run.

Fort Worth's only score off the steady pitching of Al Lamacchia came in the eighth. The Cats loaded the bases after two were out, but only a bobble by shortstop Mel Hoderlein let in a run. Lamacchia fanned Johnny Le Gros to end this potential threat.

A crowd of 6,883 made total attendance for the five games 56,245.

Raiders Off By Air For Game At Tulsa

Two Continental Airline planes left the local airport this afternoon at 1 bearing the 36-man football squad from Texas Tech that Saturday afternoon will face the Golden Hurricane from Tulsa university in Skelly Stadium.

A pep rally at 12:30 p. m. is scheduled to be held before the planes leave with the squad of Red Raiders, who have been made seven-point underdogs for their seventh meeting with the Tulsans.

Look Anything But Good

A far from impressive defensive drill wound up preparations for the game yesterday, with the varsity eleven looking anything but good against a freshman team that used Tulsa plays. Air route attacks by the freshmen particularly were good and all indications point toward the Tulsans relying primarily on this weapon. The ranking second in the nation on forward pass offense stamps them as dangerous foes in this department.

Again the Raiders will not be at full strength for the game, with Fullback Bud Conley still on the sidelines with a bad knee, as is Guard Milburn Haydon. Neither player will make the trip.

But Halfback Glenn Lewis, Guard Dan Pursel and Center Bud Henderson are reported well and will make the trip, adding power to the Raider line and backfield.

Yesterday's final drill for the Tulsans found the Raiders looking singularly unimpressive again, with drooping morale and lack of hustle. Linemen made mistakes and the pass defense was not reassuring. The freshmen made little gain against the line, but their passing, borrowing Tulsa plays, clicked with monotonous regularity.

Finks Is Problem

Tech's biggest problem Saturday will be in stopping the passing of Jim Finks, the six foot, 170-pound passing wizard, and the running of Jim Ford, the 155-pound running whiz. In addition, they face a fine halfback in Paul Barry, who has replaced Hardy Brown, while Joe McGraw and Jack Egan give power and ability at fullback.

The line doesn't leave much room for improvement, with Ken Sutton and Forrest McLane, lettermen, heading the ends. Sutton weighs 200 pounds and McLane tips the beam at 180, both standing over six feet tall. Nate Armstrong and Russell Frizzell, lettermen, head the tackles, weighing 200 and 240 pounds respectively, and both standing over six feet. Rogers Lehew, Arnold Burrough, Ralph Detwiler and Ruben Morgan are the lettermen at guard, while Leon Files and Billy Joe Cagle ably handle center assignments.

BOWLING SCORES

High scores for the night were rolled by Bill Slover, Mission Orange, 180-507; Gail Tyson, Hemphill-Wells, 183-504; Frances McDowell, Lubbock Packing, 145-451; Joyce Vaughn, State Drug, 152-427; Polly Buckner, Hub Laundry, 175-434; Paole Patton, National Bank, 153-419; Bennie, KCBD, 189-475; and Josephine Johnston, Bell's, 128-376.

Tunney Invited To Dallas Boxing Meet

DALLAS, Oct. 8. (AP)—Gene Tunney, former world's heavyweight boxer, who served with the Marines and the Navy in two world wars, has been invited to attend the first annual Marine-Navy boxing tournament here Nov. 4.

Former and active duty marines and sailors have arranged a nine-bout card to determine the team championship.

Texas Lightweight To Challenge Champ

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8 (AP) — Buddy Garcia, the Galveston, Tex., lightweight who made such a good showing here last Monday, is going to get a chance to show what he can do against champion Ike Williams.

Matchmaker Johnny Attell announced yesterday he has signed Williams and Garcia for a 10-round over-the-weight bout at the arena Nov. 1.

EGAN HANOVER WINS

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 8. (INS)—Egan Hanover, owned by D. M. Saunders of Toledo, O., swept to a straight-heat triumph Thursday in the $50,071 Kentucky Futurity. The three-year-old victor, driven by Ralph Baldwin, won in 2:04 and 2:03 2/5, paying $2.80, $2.60 and $2.20 in the first heat and $2.80, $2.40 and $2.20 in the second.

FURR NO. 5 WINS

The No. 5 Furr Food store opened defense of its bowling title Tuesday night by sweeping three games from Store No. 2, while Store No. 3 and Store No. 19 followed suit.

Store No. 3 defeated No. 16, while Store No. 19 beat Store No. 1. High man for the night was Lowel Caddel of No. 19, with 191-471.

Of Clemson, S. C., College's 40 varsity football players, 26 are from South Carolina.

Lubbock After Second Victory

Childress' surging Bobcats of District 2-AA will invade Texas Tech's Jones stadium at 8 o'clock tonight to battle the rebounding Lubbock Westerners in the final non-conference tilt of the season for the Hub city eleven.

A crowd of approximately 8,000 persons is expected to be on hand at kickoff time to see the Westerner gridders bid for their second victory of the season, while the scrappy Bobcats shoot for thier first win in a murderous inter-district slate. The Lubbock team has tied Odessa and defeated North Side in earlier tussles, while losing to San Angelo and Austin. Childress has been beaten on successive weekends by strong Amarillo, Borger and North Side of Fort Worth.

High Scoring Seen

A high-scoring battle is predicted in the encounter as the Westerners send their powerful single wing attack against the Bobcats' speedy "T" formation offense. The Lubbock schoolboys have averaged 175 net yards rushing in each of their four games against tough foes, while the Childress crew has relied on a dangerous passing attack for long yardage.

Heading the Bobcat assault will be ace Quarterback T. Jones, one of the best passers in West Texas. Jones completed 14 passes in 25 attempts last week against North Side of Fort Worth, for a net gain of 197 yards. Jones, working the "man-under" post on the T-formation, is also a good runner on "keeper" plays and is a deceptive ball-handler.

Bobby Brown, triple - threat tailback, and wingback Donald Decker wil spark the Lubbock offense. Brown has been the Westerners' most dependable ground - gainer this season, although he was hampered by an ankle injury against Austin, and he has turned in a creditable passing job. Decker, senior letterman and co-captain, picked up 46 yards in two carries against Austin last week and will probably see more service tonight. Malcolm Young, who alternates at the tailback and fullback slots, has been hampered with a pulled muscle this week and will probably see only limited action.

Have 185 Pound Wall

The Westerners will field a forward wall that averages approximately 185 pounds per man, while the Childress linemen will average about 170 or—with one combination—about 175. The Westerner and Childress backfields both average 155 pounds.

Childress starters, according to Coach Don Ezell, will be Charles Rogers, 160, left end; Jack Temple, 180, left tackle; Wiley Compton, 153, left guard; Mack Barron, 170, center; Granville King, 165, right guard; Jeral Lyons, 170, right tackle; Roy Bush, 170, right end; T. Jones, 160, quarterback; Thomas Hays, 155, right half; J. H. Cagle, 152, left half; and Emil Farha, 163, fullback.

Both squads are evenly matched in experience, since each eam has only one regular from the 1947 squads.

QUALIFYING STARTS

TEXARKANA, Oct. 8 (AP) — Qualifying play in the four states invitation golf tournament starts here today.

Eight members of the 1948 Syracuse football team, all war veterans, are married.

Four Games Played By Junior Elevens

Favorites in the South Plains Junior High football league chalked up victories over loop foes Thursday, with O. L. Slaton of Lubbock drubbing Levelland, 25-0, last night at Chapman field in the most surprising encounter of the four-game slate.

The Hub city gridders, operating from a quick-breaking T-formation, completely dominated the conference tilt. O. L. Slaton tallied its first six-pointer on a two-yard smash by Fullback Johnny Tatum in the first quarter, then scored again in the second stanza on a 10-yard end sweep by big Duane Rampy.

Two Long Aerials

Two long aerials gave the Lubbock youngsters two touchdowns in the last half, with Quarterback Charles Brewer—one of the top performers of the tilt—passing 30 yards to End Jimmy Crawford and Back Dickie Lowrey tossing 25 yards to Tatum.

In the first game of the "twin hill" at Chapman field the O. L. Slaton seventh and eighth graders nose out the Levelland junior "B" team, 7-6. The Lubbock gridders tallied in the second quarter on a seven-yard reverse play by Halfback Harold Teal, then Fullback Jerry Martin plunged for the extra point. Halfback Elmer Belt scored for Levelland on an 87-yard run on a fake punt.

J. T. Hutchinson of Lubbock capitalized on the long touchdown gallops of Ronald Stephenson, a converted tackle, to defeat the Littlefield Junior 26-0 Thursday night at Littlefield.

Scores Three Times

Stephenson, who was switched to the backfield only this week, scored three touchdowns on runs of 15, 85 and 75 yards. Billy Presley tallied the other six-pointer on a 25-yard off-tackle slant.

In the "B" encounter the Littlefield representatives took a 13-1 decision over the Lubbock eleven. James Taylor chalked up the lone Lubbock touchdown with a five-yard smash.

In other league games Plainview defeated Lamesa, 13-0, as Halfback Wilbur Wilson scored both touchdowns, and Brownfield edged Seminale, 12-7.

Two "non-conference" tussles were unreeled, with the seventh and eighth graders of Lubbock's Carroll Thompson Junior High battling to a 13-13 deadlock with the Abernathy Juniors. Billy Biggs and Billy Conley tallied for the Thompson "B." In the other game, Post's Juniors beat Seagraves' Juniors, 14-0, behind the brilliant running of Halfback F. M. Reep.

Lubbock Pioneers Are Licked, 12-6

Levelland High's "B" gridders uncorked a powerful ground offense and an accurate short passing attack to gain a narrow 12-6 triumph over the Lubbock High Pioneers Thursday afternoon at Chapman field.

The Lobo "B" eleven tallied in the first quarter on a 40-yard drive, with Fullback Bill Taylor smashing over from the one-foot line.

The Pioneers tied the count at 6-6 early in the third period, after being stalled in the second quarter by the hard-charging Levelland forward wall. The Pioneers took over on their own 35-yard line, following a Levelland punt, and speedy Halfback Dan Boone swept around right end for 65 yards and the touchdown. The extra point try was blocked.

Levelland clinched the victory in the final stanza on a 50-yard drive to paydirt. Halfback Jim Luker circled left end for 10 yards and the tally.

Big Spring To Tackle Lamesa

LAMESA, Oct. 8. (Special) — The Golden Tornadoes of Lamesa High school will open their District 2-AA competition here tonight at 8 on McCollum Field, playing host to the Big Spring Steers, with the home team a slight favorite to win their second victory of the season.

Coach Bob Harrell's Tornadoes, idle last Friday, have had rugged drills for two weeks in preparation for the battle with Big Spring. Harrell pronounced the squad in top physical shape, but warned that the Lamesans would have to be more impressive Friday night than they have been in workouts to date.

Lamesa, with one win, one tie and two losses in four starts, is a one-touchdown favorite in what looms as a low score contest. Harrell scouted the Odessa-Big Spring game and says the Steers are much better than their 52-0 lacing indicates.

Johnsey Tankersley, three-letter winner in the line, who has been a fullback this year, has been shifted back to a guard position. Art Bizzell will take over the fullback duties, with Larry Lattimore at Bizzell's tailback spot. Ronald Chapman and Dick Echols will be starting halfbacks, with Bobby Hawkins and Randall Reeves as replacements.

The remainder of the starting lineup will include Phillips and Scott, or Womack, ends; Rose at the other guard position; Hart at center; and Adair and Eggleston, tackles.

Frank Rose, guard, again will do the punting and is expected to surpass Big Spring efforts. He averaged 39 yards against Brownfield on eight boots. But the Steers will have a five-pound weight edge.

Bruising Grid Clashes Are Scheduled Over Nation

Between . . . The Lines

— By JOE KELLY —

That was more like it yesterday, with the Cleveland club beginning to show more signs of why the American loop usually is favored over the National, whether it's the World Series or the All-Star game. The Indians and Braves each got eight hits, but the American loop team really made theirs count, getting just about par value at four runs. And for the second consecutive day, the Cleveland mound staff sparkled, even though their record today shows only one victory against one defeat.

● ● ●

Actually, it isn't exactly a thrilling World Series. There haven't been the usual scintillating defensive plays and the usual heavy blunderbussing has been remarkably quiet. So far the pitchers have been far ahead of the batters and while you always expect good mound jobs in the Series, seldom do you get two fine jobs in two days by opposing pitchers. Not that Warren Spahn hurled himself to glory, but there was only one extra base blow off his offerings and there have been only two in the set so far, both doubles and both yesterday. We're still waiting for that home run.

● ● ●

And the man that gets the first one probably will be one of the more puny batters on either the Braves or the Indians. Right there you would have to look pretty hard to decide which one it would be. Neither team's batting average is such as to send opposing pitchers into the shakes. Believe it or not, the Indians boast only an eight-man average of .291, while the Braves figure to hit only .281 as a team. Who ever heard of two World Series opponents boasting such low averages? It may not set a record, but it is pretty low for both leagues.

● ● ●

We are looking forward today to seeing the Indians scalp the Braves to go up in the series. Gene Bearden can be a masterful hurler, as the Boston Red Sox can attest, and playing in the home park will help the Indians. We expect to see a little more of that power assert itself in the American League park. All in all, possibly the deadness of the series will liven up in a live city. Boston never has been known as a place of whoop-te-do and the silent crowd at the two games was a pretty good sign of it.

The Texas Tech football team today is flying to Tulsa, where they meet the Golden Hurricane tomorrow afternoon. We have our fingers crossed over the outcome and, if we were wearing cowboy boots, would stick a rabbit's foot in the to eof each one. Nothing has happened so far this week to rekindle the flame that burned so brightly among the players from Sept. 1 through Oct. 2. They haven't shown the hustle necessary this week in practice to indicate that they are ready to meet a good Tulsa team.

● ● ●

The biggest mistake Tech players could make would be to underrate Tulsa. The mere fact that Baylor and Florida licked them does not make them any less potent. If you remember, Baylor licked Tech last year 32-6, while edging Tulsa only 7-6. This year the Bears romped to a 42-19 victory over the Hurricane. The inference is that Tulsa is not as strong. Nothing could be farther from the facts. Coach Tipp Mooney says that Baylor simply is a stronger, bigger, rougher team and he predicts that they will make plenty of trouble in the SWC. Therefore, three touchdowns for Tulsa against the Bears doesn't seem to be such a bad job. After all, Tech only scored once against SMU and aren't too much stronger than Baylor.

● ● ●

We suddenly realized that we didn't list the scores of last week's games featuring Tech's future opponents, so they follow: Florida 28, Tulsa 14; Baylor 7, Mississippi State 7; Utah 48, Arizona 14; LSU 26, Rice 13; Texas Mines, open; Texas 47, New Mexico 0; and Hardin-Simmons, open. Past opponents fared this way: NTSTC 20, WTSTC 7, and Oklahoma 42, Texas A. and M. 14. Incidentally, the number "14" seems to be an Aggie fixation. They've played three games, lost them all and scored 14 points in each one.

● ● ●

To the best of our knowledge, H. C. Marshall, the Commie influence hasn't reached the Tech football team. But we did check into the name Red Raiders for you. Our informant, a tall gentleman with a mustache and a decided accent, whether Russian or not we couldn't say, swears it is gospel. On a trip once to the effete East, the then-named Matadors were clad in flaming red jerseys. And they proceeded to slaughter the innocents with such reckless abandon that a local sportswriter of that clime tagged them the Red Raiders. It stuck and thus they have been called since.

Top-Ranking Teams Facing Tough Foes

By HAROLD CLAASSEN
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 3—There's nothing like a World Series to keep your mind off the football practice field. These predictions are made almost entirely on the basis of what teams did in last Saturday's games.

Last week's figures: 62 correct, 11 incorrect for an average of .849. Season's record to date: 114 correct, 28 incorrect for .815.

This week's selections:

Minnesota at Northwestern: The lines are reported equal, with Northwestern also possessing a rounded attack. Northwestern.

Michigan at Purdue: Purdue has gone all out in the past two weeks and lost both games. Michigan, despite a long casualty list, has played within itself while winning two. Michigan.

UCLA at Washington: Coach Howie Odell of the Washingtons is back in good health after a three- week illness. He will feel worse Saturday night. UCLA.

Oklahoma vs Texas: This bruising battle, scene of a young riot a year ago, is the athletic feature of the Texas State fair. So what would be fair-er than a Longhorn victory? Texas.

Harvard at Cornell: Harvard gained 360 yards along the ground in defeating Columbia last week. In the belief that the Cornell line can't quell that type of offense, the pick is Harvard.

Kentucky at Georgia: It is seldom that a Georgia team looks poorly in football. The Bulldogs did, however, in their last two starts. They are over it now. Georgia.

Notre Dame Again

Michigan State at Notre Dame: Isn't it about time that Emil Sitko had a day for himself? Notre Dame.

Army at Illinois: Army is as good as any team in the east and the Illinois fans will get an unpleasant surprise from Jim Cain. Army.

SMU at Missouri: Kyle Rote and Doak Walker will make it a sad afternoon for Missouri. SMU.

Vanderbilt at Mississippi: This forecaster has been wrong on Mississippi the past two weeks. That must stop. Mississippi.

Princeton at Pennsylvania: No chance for a repeat of that startling Princeton victory of two years ago. Penn.

Skipping over the rest in a hurry:

Friday,

Alabama over Duquesne, Colgate over Boston university, Colorado A. and M. over Denver, Detroit over San Francisco, Penn State over Syracuse, Richmond over Furman, Villanova over Miami (Fla.), Wichita over Drake, South Dakota over Augustana, Utah State over Arizona (Tempe) State.

Saturday,

East: Boston college over St. Bonaventure, Brown over Rhode Island, Columbia over Yale, Dartmouth over Holy Cross, Lafayette over Washington & Jefferson, Pittsburgh over West Virginia, Rutgers over Temple, Bowdoin over Amherst, Buffalo over RPI, Canisius over Fordham, Connecticut over Springfield, Lebanon Valley over Hofstra, Lehigh over Drexel, Muhlenberg over Scranton, New Hampshire over Maine, New York over Brooklyn, Trinity over Norwich, Tufts over Bates, Union over Vermont, Wesleyan over Coast Guard.

Midwest: Indiana over Texas Christian, Kansas over Iowa State, Kansas State over Arkansas State, Marquette over St. Louis, Miami (O) over Bradley, Cincinnati over Ohio university, Nebraska over Colorado, Ohio State over Iowa, Xavier over Louisville, Iowa Teachers over South Dakota State, Denison over Beloit, Butler over Western Reserve.

South: Duke over Navy, Florida over Auburn, Georgia Tech over Washington & Lee, Louisiana over Texas A. & M., Maryland over Virginia Tech, Mississippi State over Clemson, North Carolina over Wake Forest, North Carolina State over Davidson, Tennessee over Chattanooga, Tulane over South Carolina, Virginia over George Washington, Virginia Military over William & Mary.

Southwest: Arkansas over Baylor, Hardin Simmons over Arizona, New Mexico over New Mexico A. & M., Texas Tech over Tulsa, Texas Mines over West Texas State.

Far West: Nevada over North Texas State, Oregon over Idaho, Oregon State over Portland, California over Wisconsin, Rice over Southern California, Utah over Brigham Young, Washington State over Montana, College of Pacific over San Diego, Montana State over North Dakota State, Hawaii over Redlands, Wyoming over Idaho State.

Close Tussles Are Forecast

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Staff Writer

The title that can't be awarded may be taken unofficially tonight.

Brackenridge of San Antonio, conceded to be top entry in the City conference, and Port Arthur, class of AA, tangle in Texas schoolboy football's game of the week.

Both Are Undefeated

Both clubs are undefeated and untied and lay impressive past performances on the line in San Antonio.

There are other unbeaten, untied teams in action, but the Amarillo-Odessa, Highland Park-Waco, John Reagan (Houston)-Austin (Houston) games can't match the importance of the big one.

Brackenridge won the state championship last year and has thundered ahead in its district of the newly created city conference this season.

Port Arthur, once a feared name in double A competition, has a smooth, high-scoring eleven that has cleaned up everything it has met thus far. The Yellowjackets are ranked as the top team in the state, with Brackenridge close behind.

Decide Three Champs

Under the new Interscholastic league program, three champions are to be decided—in City conference, AA and A divisions.

If Brackenridge and Port Arthur follow the pattern cut for them, tonight's result can be a claim for the mythical "state champion" title.

Sixteen of the state's 17 undefeated, untied teams are in action, along with seven unbeaten, tied elevens.

Lamar of Houston last night stayed in the once tied class by blanking Pasadena, 13-0.

In other games last night, Sunset (Dallas) walloped Graham, 25-6; Poly (Fort Worth) beat Gainesville, 19-7; Lanier (San Antonio) downed Del Rio, 20-13, and in a conference game, Alamo Heights handed its crosstown rival Edison a 41-8 licking at San Antonio.

Amarillo, one of the powers in the panhandle, and Odessa, a hot West Texas team, mix it up in what is probably the second best game on the schedule tonight. Amarillo is undefeated and Odessa has only a tie to mar its record.

Others who risk undefeated records are Arlington heights (Fort Worth), Milby (Houston), Pampa, Sweetwater, Austin (El Paso), Bonham, Stephenville, Henderson, and Kilgore, which meets once tied Marshall. Alice has an open date.

Texas, Arkansas, SMU, Rice, TCU And LSU Are Given Edge

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Baylor and Arkansas hook up in the most important football game in the Southwest tomorrow although all other members of the conference will be striving to further the area's prestige in intersectional strife.

It's a battle between undefeated teams.

Arkansas, grown in stature since trimming Texas Christian, now is regarded as a top contender for the title. Baylor also added to its rating by playing a strong Mississippi State team to a 7-7 tie.

Something To Behold

So the collision of these fast-moving, well-manned teams, each with a powerful line and some of the best running backs and passers in the country, should be something to behold up at Fayetteville.

Southern Methodist, the top rated team of the conference, plays Missouri at Columbia, Mo., in what should again be a high-scoring battle. The Methodists are favored, as usual, to win and keep one of the longest victory streaks in college football alive. The Mustangs haven't lost one since mid-November of 1946.

Texas Christian sashays into Big Nine territory to play Indiana in another feature intersectional clash. Indiana is unbeaten and untied, holding a 37-7 victory over Wisconsin and a 7-0 decision over Iowa. T. C. U. definitely will be the underdog.

Rice In California

Rice goes out to Los Angeles to play Southern California, a team that has looked no better than the Owls. Last year they played to a 7-7 tie. This time Southern Cal is favored but not much.

Texas A. and M., winless in three appearances, is expected to stay that way against Louisiana State at Baton Rouge in a night game. The Cadets never before had a worse season start. They can score and look good for a half but just don't have the defense to keep the other team from running just about as it pleases.

For the stay-at-homes, Texas and Oklahoma play at Dallas in the forty-third renewal of an ancient gridiron feud. The Cotton bowl, revamped and enlarged, is ready to handle the greatest crowd ever to see a football game in the Southwest—more than 67,000. Unless it rains there will be that many there, too. The game has been sold out for months. Texas is rated the favorite, principally because Oklahoma hasn't won one in eight years.

We hit four out of six last week. Any grammar school boy could have beaten that. Maybe we'll do better this week since we have studied the situation longer. Last week we spent 30 seconds, this week 35:

Texas A. and M. vs Louisiana State at Baton Rouge (night)—The Aggies are talking about a secret weapon. Hope it isn't so secret they don't even know about it. Louisiana State by two touchdowns.

Texas vs Oklahoma at Dallas—Texas by a touchdown in a scoring duel.

Arkansas vs Baylor at Fayetteville—The Bears will pay for defeating the Porkers last year; Arkansas by 10 points.

Rice vs Southern California at Los Angeles—Everybody else is taking Souther Cal. We'll be different and pick Rice by a touchdown.

Southern Methodist vs Missouri at Columbia, Mo.—Unless S.M.U. is pointing too hard for Rice, whom they meet a week hence, they ought to beat Missouri by three touchdowns.

Texas Christian vs Indiana at Bloomington, Ind.—The Horned Frogs may not win in their own territory but they do mighty well in intersectional games. We'll take the Frogs by—well, they don't have fractions of a point in football. But it looks that close.

Food Increase For Berliners Planned

BERLIN, Oct. 3 (AP) — Gen. Lucius D. Clay says Berliners may get a food lift this winter.

The American military governor told newsmen last night that the Western allies are planning to grant a "small increase" soon.

Clay added that if the present good flying weather continues, every Western Berliner will have some coal too.

The commander said the Western powers are paying the entire operating cost of the air lift except for the German workmen who load and unload supplies. They are paid by the German government.

Clay added, however, that eventually the German government will have to pay for the food too.

Prominent Musician Dies In Car Mishap

WICHITA FALLS, Oct. 3 (U.P.)—Funeral services are held today from the First Baptist church for a prominent musician and wife of the Wichita Falls city physician, Mrs. F. R. Collard, who was killed yesterday afternoon in a car accident four miles east of Wichita Falls.

H. B. Gilbert, 67, of Dallas, a retired national bank examiner, was injured in the accident. He suffered concussion, a chest injury, abrasions and shock.

The accident occurred when the car in which Mrs. Collard and Gilbert were riding went out of control and struck a large cottonwood tree alongside the highway.

Mrs. Collard was widely known as a concert organist and had appeared in recitals in Chicago, New York and Washington.

She is survived by her husband, a daughter, two grandchildren, and her parents.

Air General Speaks At Press Review

Long B-36 Missions Seen If U. S. Should Go To War Soon

(By The United Press)

FORT WORTH, Oct. 8. — Gen. George C. Kenney, commanding general of the Strategic Air command, today called the B-36 bomber "the plane we'll have to use for long-range missions if we get into another war in the near future."

Kenney is here to attend the press preview of the giant six-engine bomber which has been produced by the Consolidated Vultee Aircraft corporation.

The general who led the air force route of a Japanese fleet in the Bismarck sea battle and Lamotte T. Cohu, president of consolidated, welcomed the aviation editors at an informal reception at the Hotel Texas last night.

"I believe we could take the B-36 now, fly from New York to Honolulu and drop a simulated bomb load and return, non-stop," Kenney said. He added he was confident that by using a few tricks, the plane could be flown to Tokyo and back, the wrong way and against adverse winds.

The next step in aviation beyond the 12,000-mile range B-36, which is powered by six pusher engines, will be in jet aviation, Kenney predicted, adding that was still possibly years in the future.

Today's activities included a breakfast at Hotel Texas, luncheon at the plant, a barbecue given by Amon Carter and test flights of the plane during the afternoon.

Proceeds from the sale go into the chapter's funds to provide a free service to disabled veterans and their families, as well as the widows of all war veterans. This service covers the presentation of claims for government benefits, counselling and rehabilitation work and aid in finding suitable employment for disabled veterans.

Carl Smith, commander of the DAV, said the day has been officially proclaimed as "Forget-Me-Not Day" by Mayor W. H. Rodgers.

In urging Lubbock to open its purse Smith said:

"You can thank the disabled veteran for his sacrifice by purchasing a Forget-Me-Not and helping to underwrite a vital service program for the disabled veterans of this community.

"The DAV maintains service officers who help—free of charge—all veterans in their fight for adequate pension and compensation and to assist the disabled in proper presentation of claims for government benefits. The Veterans Administration has recognized the value of the DAV and has commended our work."

up with a hitless inning after Voiselle was lifted for a pinchhitter.

Bearden struck out four men on the way to the greatest triumph of his career. Usually troubled by wildness, he did not issue a walk all afternoon in this game which started under threatening skies and wound up in bright sunshine.

Long after game time, the Cleveland officials still were trying to tabulate the official attendance. A good guess was over 75,000. This might be a new series record.

The spectators went home to rave about the pitching perfection of Bearden, the war vet with aluminum plates in his head and left knee.

The lefthander won his last seven straight in the regular season, shutting out Detroit last Saturday to clinch at least a tie for the Tribe. Then he came back with only one full day of rest to work the playoff Monday at Fenway park.

Largest Insurance Payment To Be Made

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 8 (U.P.) — The Monsanto Chemical company will receive $17,312,000, described by the company as the largest single insurance payment in history, for the losses it suffered in the Texas City disaster of April 16, 1947, William M. Rand, Monsanto president, disclosed today.

Negotiations for this sum, Rand said, have been concluded with the Oil Insurance Association of Chicago which is a group of many leading stock insurance companies. Monsanto had originally claimed $21,542,999.

Rand explained that the company had carried $14,750,000 in property insurance, in which there was a 9 per cent co-insurance clause, and $7,000,000 in use and occupancy, which incorporated an 80 per cent co-insurance clause. These policies were written by the Oil Insurance association. Monsanto also carried a supplemental use and occupancy policy for $567,937 with Lloyd's of London.

In that GOP record in California, Warren added, "there is encouragement for the view that we can reverse the trend of recent years and keep government closer to the people." Senator Alben W. Barkley, Warren's Democratic rival, was contending meanwhile that the Republican candidates, "have gone through the campaign thus far without taking the people of America into their confidence."

Word War

Deputy Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky. It was a plan for simultaneous agreements to outlaw the bomb and set up international controls.

French Reaction Cited

The United States immediately took the position that the western powers could never agree to scrap the atomic bomb until adequate safeguards against development and use of the bomb by any other nation had been put into operation.

Lovett, however, said that after Vishinsky's proposition was made the French radio termed it a new basis for discussions because the Russians seemed to be retreating and making concessions.

Then, Lovett said, came the instruction that the Soviet maneuver "must be debunked in the simplest phraseology possible."

"That is one of our jobs," Lovett told the information commission, "not only to make our case, but actually to debunk the mass of confusing details which are put out."

Marshall Changes Rules

Lovett said he expects valuable guidance from the advisory commission headed by Louisville Publisher Mark Ethridge. It is concerned with all aspects of the foreign propaganda program, including particularly the world wide "Voice of America" radio broadcasts.

When Marshall first took over the State department almost two years ago he ordered American propaganda operations held strictly to factual accounts of this government's foreign policy developments.

Several months ago, under increasingly violent attacks on the United States by the Russian radio, Marshall modified his rules to permit the "voice" to answer specific false charges.

It now appears that the government has gone all the way into the "debunking" of Soviet policy moves which it considers misleading.

Moreover, it appears to have reached a new stage of saying publicly that the United States has lost faith completely in the Soviet government.

THE CROSLEY POLL

Little Change Indicated In Southwest Candidate Choice

By ARCHIBALD M. CROSSLEY
Director, The Crossley Poll

As the two campaign trains moved not very far apart in the southwestern part of the country, President Truman and Gover Dewey were met with divided opinion. Polls completed immediately prior to their appearances showed a toss-up in Colorado, a preference for Dewey in California, a preference for Truman in Arizona, and a slight lead for Dewey in Nevada.

Polling in California the latter part of September showed on significant variation in results from September first figures. The comparison follows:

	Late Sept	Sept. First
Dewey	51	52
Truman	41	41
Wallace	8	7

The single point shift may represent a slight decline for Dewey, during the interim between the periods covered, or it is small enough to be due to the normal mathematical limitations or results taken from samples of the population.

The figures for the other states are as follows:

	Colo.	Nev.	Ariz.
Dewey	49	50	45
Truman	49	48	51
Wallace	2	2	4

These states show no major change between the first and second polls, but do not yet show what differences may have been caused by the visits of the candidates. For this purpose a third poll will be undertaken shortly.

Dewey Leads In West

In California (25 electorial voes) the Wallace vote makes the Dewey lead clear cut. Considering only the two major parties, Dewey has 55% and Truman 45% of their total. The Republican candidate is therefore ten points ahead, and the state seems reasonably sure for Dewey and Warren.

In Colorado (6 votes) the two major parties divide evenly. In Nevada (3 votes) Dewey has under 51% and Truman over 49% of the two-party total, less than two points apart. In Arizona (4 votes) Dewey has 47% and Truman 53% of the two-party total. The state is therefore likely but not yet certain to go for Truman.

Previous Vote Cited

During the Roosevelt years the Mountain states have been normally Democratic, reaching very high percentages in 1936. Six of the eight Mountain states voted for Roosevelt for a fourth term, Utah giving him 61% of the two-party total. Wyoming gave Dewey 51% and Colorado gave Dewey 53%.

By contrast, in the last Republican election (1928), all eight states went heavily Republican. Hoover took 66% of the Colorado two-party vote, 64% of the Wyoming vote, 59% of the Montana vote and even 54% of the Utah vote where his poorest Mountain states showing was made.

The present indications are that this year these states generally will show a closer division of opinion than other parts of the country.

Sapphire Large As Coffee Cup Found

BRISBANE, Queensland, Australia, Oct. 8 (AP) — A blue sapphire, claimed to be the biggest in the world, has been found near Emerald, central Queensland, by Mrs. Roy McKinney, a miner's wife.

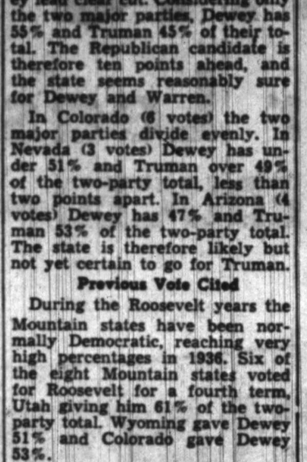

The sapphire weighs 1958 and is as big as a coffee cup, experts said.

Mrs. McKinney was picnicking with friends when she found the stone on the surface about 300 yards from where the famous Black Star sapphire was found last May. The Black Star weighed 1156 carats and was sold in New York for $300,800.

Mrs. McKinney sold the stone to the manager of a nearby claim for an undisclosed amount.

SERVICE APPRECIATED

FORDVILLE, N. D., (U.P.)—Arthur Wood, veteran rural mail carrier, learned that folks in this area appreciated his daily rounds in all kinds of weather. When he retired after 30 years' service, more than 250 people gathered at a picnic in his honor.

Sisters Lose Suit For Damages Against Alabama Radio Station

MONTGOMERY, Ala., Oct. 8. (AP)—An individual's right of privacy, while it must be protected, must sometimes yield in reporting news events of public interest, the Alabama supreme court has ruled.

The court held yesterday that two Tuscaloosa sisters are not entitled to damages from radio station WJRD, Tuscaloosa, for a broadcast about their dead father.

The tribunal affirmed an earlier ruling of the Tuscaloosa circuit court that the sisters, Mrs. Roberta Lindgren Smith and Mrs. Katrina Lindgren Mathews, had no cause for legal action.

In Public Interest

The sisters charged the broadcast tended to "degrade and bring into public ridicule the name and memory of (their) father" and to "revive certain long - forgotten events."

While agreeing that each case of this kind must be tried on its own merits, the court ruled in this instance that the broadcast was "of legitimate public interest."

Justice Davis F. Stakely, who wrote the opinion, said there is a conflicting principle that the "white light of publicity safeguards the public" and that "free disclosure of truth is the best protection against tyranny."

Frequently the public has an interest in an individual, he added, which transcends his rights to be let alone.

"Freedom of speech in broadcasting, like freedom of the press, among other things," he wrote, "is to preserve untrammelled a vital source of public information."

Father Disappeared

Mrs. Smith and her sister sued the radio station for $50,000 after a broadcast in May, 1946. The broadcast related that their father, the late John Lindgren, left home in 1905 and disappeared after drawing $700 from a bank.

Twenty-five years later the missing Tuscaloosa blacksmith died in California and left a will naming his daughter Roberta as the chief beneficiary. It was through the will that California authorities learned he had a family in Alabama.

In this particular case the court held that "the passage of time could not give privacy to his acts because the story of John Lindgren is a part of the history of the community."

The court said while there was a possibility the privacy of the daughters might have ben violated by unwarranted and offensive publicity, such was not the case in this broadcast.

Eskimo Group Made Russian Prisoners

NOME, Alaska, Oct. 8 (INS) — The Army told today how 17 Eskimos were held prisoner by Russia more than six weeks for "invading" Siberia un-wittingly. The group includes six women and a child.

The Eskimos live on Little Diomede island, in the Bering Strait. A short way off is Big Diomede island, in Russia territory, and beyond is the Siberian mainland.

They left early in August for Siberia on their yearly ivory-trading trip.

But United States authorities had forgotten to tell them something — the Soviet Union had canceled a 1938 treaty permitting them to make the expedition.

When they reached Siberia they were taken into custody by Soviet authorities, returned to Big Diomede island, placed in tents and guarded closely. They said they were treated well but definitely were prisoners.

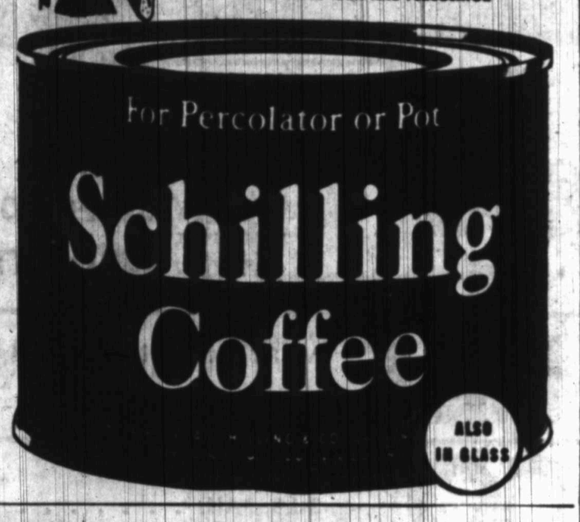

Eventually they were freed. They reached their home Sept. 25.

In the meantime the Army had become worried about their long absence and sent Col. A. M. Clark of Army intelligence to investigate. He returned to Nome today with their story and said they are in good condition.

Board Endorses Dismissal Of Red Baltimore School Teacher

BALTIMORE, Oct. 8. (AP)—The dismissal of a kindergarten teacher because she is a Communist has the unanimous endorsement of Baltimore's school board.

The teacher, Mrs. Regina Frankfeld, an admitted Communist, was fired at the opening of the fall semester by Dr. William H. Lemmel, superintendent of public instruction. He said he was acting under the new policy adopted by the school board last June to bar Communists and "other subversives" from the school system.

Teacher Does Talking

Mrs. Frankfeld was in the rear of the meeting room when the board approved Lemmel's action yesterday. After the vote, she rose and said:

"I am a member of the Communist party. I admit it. I am proud of it."

"Nobody will question my loyalty. . . . History will judge who are the Americans, you or I."

Statement Made

Earlier she heard Roszel C. Thomsen, board president, say:

"No doubt Mrs. Frankfeld is a skillful teacher. The more skillful she is, the better she can serve world Communism. No one who supports Communism can be a proper person to teach in our schools."

Mrs. Frankfeld asked for and was given a hearing before the school board last month. Her husband Philip is head of the Maryland-District of Columbia Communist party.

Farm Bureau Queen To Be Chosen Here

Selection of Lubbock county's Farm Bureau popularity queen, who will represent the county in a district Farm Bureau meeting to be held at Hotel Lubbock next Wednesday, is to be selected Saturday morning from a list of eight entrants, it was announced yesterday by Glen T. Hackney, county FB chairman.

Judges are to make their county queen selection in a meeting at 11 o'clock in room 205 of the Home Economics building at Texas Tech college. Hackney said the contest is not a bathing revue, but candidates will be judged on poise and attractiveness of a non-formal costume.

The winner is to get a $25 award and the right to compete in the district contest Wednesday for an award of a $65 wrist watch and an expense-paid trip to San Antonio.

The eight candidates in the county, all from Farm Bureau-member families, represent nearly every section of the county. They are:

Miss Bobby Ruth Kenley, Miss Mary Helen Bruce, Miss Peggy Richardson, Miss Betty Jo Kitten, Miss Mae Jean Truett, Miss Katy Loraine Truett, Miss Patsy Bumpass, and Mrs. Bruce (Lexiedene) Isom.

Policemen Lend Gentle Hands To Childbirth Task On Street

DETROIT, Oct. 8 (AP)—The call of duty brought two police sergeants and two patrolmen to a task for gentle hands.

It happened late yesterday and Detroit now has its first "sidewalk baby."

Out for an evening walk, Mrs. Pearl Toombs, 22, collapsed on a street corner. Understanding passersby put in an emergency call.

Two scout cars dashed up. There was no time at spare.

In the next few minutes Sgts. Edgar Smuck and John Morrissey and Patrolmen John Long and Albin Kozmowski, making a bed of their coats, assisted in the birth of a child.

The baby, a girl weighing six pounds, and the mother were hospitalized. The child, Mrs. Toombs' second, was placed in an incubator.

Headquarters said the four policemen had met their responsibilities.

New England Caught In Quiet Revolution Of Mixing Peoples

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

FALL RIVER, Mass., Oct. 8 (AP) — Here is where the old New England Yankee is being dunked in his own melting pot.

Along the mill-lined banks of the Quequechan river a new pattern is emerging—a pattern typical of the new New England. It could be called the second revolution in New England—a long, slow, quiet revolution resulting in the mixing of the blood of many nationalities instead of the violent shedding of a few.

It is the change that has taken place in the stern and rocky New England character as a result of successive heavy waves of immigration for over a century.

Story Century Old

This tidal flood of new faces and new languages has washed over the old Yankees irresistably. Those who haven't mingled and been absorbed are, in some ways, almost strangers in their own land—that is the land they took from the Indians.

The story goes back a century. Shrewd Yankee traders put their shipping and farm wealth into cotton mills. Then they brought over Englishmen from Lancashire to work in the mills.

Then the Irish came over, the French came down from Canada, the Portuguese from the Azores. A generation ago large-scale immigration dropped off.

For a long time the lines between the old Yankees and the newcomers were sharply drawn. The immigrants complained they put out all the sweat and the Yankees—the grandsons of the men who whipped the British—took in all the money.

Melting Becomes Faster

But in three generations the melting pot did a lot of melting, and it's melting faster every day. The old lines have crumbled, and the new child in America's old cradle of liberty is a vigorous offspring of both the old and new.

"We used to be regarded as just another ragged cotton mill town," said one Yankee descendant. "But we like to think we have created here a new culture, where people of varying backgrounds mix and bring forth new talent.

"Our nationalities mingle and get along with no friction. They are intermarrying steadily.

"I think we live pretty happily in pretty fair circumstances."

Engineer Fraternity Planning Convention

AUSTIN, Oct. 8. (AP)—Members of Tau Beta Pi, honorary engineering fraternity, will hold their national convention here Oct. 13-16, it was announced today.

William J. Murray, Texas railroad commissioner, will be the principal speaker, while Gov. Beauford Jester and Dr. T. S. Painter, president of the University of Texas, are scheduled for welcoming talks.

Program Against War Threat Outlined At Church Conclave

By BILLEE WHEELOCK
Associated Press Staff Writer

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 8. (AP) — The present mood of hysteria and anxiety over tensions between the United States and Russia "can turn any incident, no matter how insignificant, into a war," delegates of the United Lutheran Church of America were told today.

"It is against this threat that we should direct a program of action now," the board of social missions reported to the more than 1,000 laity and clergy attending the Lutherans' 16th biennial convention.

Board Urges Delegates

The board of social missions, through its executive secretary, the Rev. C. Franklin Koch, New York, urged delegates to:

1. "Challenge the judgment of those who say 'war is inevitable,' and those who urge 'a preventative war' with Russia.
2. "Discuss the present international situation with your congressional representatives and senators.
3. "Seek to influence others to join in securing support of a federal program of sound democratic cooperation with other nations.
4. "Pray daily that the leaders of the nations may know and follow God's will and that as individuals we may be cleansed from hatred and selfishness."

Recovery Best Bulwark

"The best bulwark against Communist infiltration and terrorism," the report stated, "is a program designed to speed economic, social, political and moral recovery in western Europe."

War is the antithesis of the spirit of the gospel, the report continued.

"But we have permitted oppression and discrimination to go unquestioned by the church."

Chinese Communists Shoot Down Airplane

NANKING, Oct. 8. (AP)—A transport plane flying between Mukden and Peiping was shot down over the Manchurian city of Ishien by Communist anti-aircraft fire, killing all occupants, the Catholic newspaper Yishihpao said today.

The newspaper did not further identify the transport. Most of the transports flying this area ordinarily carry between 30 and 50 passengers. A few are piloted by American fliers who stayed out here after the war to work for private air lines such as that operated by retired Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault.

The dispatch said a second plane was damaged by anti-aircraft fire but it did not say whether the planes were commercial or military.

Parachuting Spiders May Be Key To Flying Disc Question

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 8 (AP)—No, ma'am. Those weren't men in parachutes you saw drifting down toward the thundering surf north of the Golden Gate. They weren't flying discs, either. Take the word of the U. S. Air Force and assorted professors—they were spiders. Parachuting spiders, that is.

They created quite a stir yesterday, at that. Mrs. Wilma E. Huff of Stinson beach 'phoned the sheriff, who called Hamilton field, and air force search planes and a helicopter were rushed into action to seek the "parachutes" she reported.

Coast Guard Acts

The Coast Guard sent three more planes and a cutter. Civilian and service authorities formed ground parties.

An air force searcher came up with the answer. He found the filmy, wind-borne web of what he called "a parachute spider." And maybe all America's reports of flying discs were just spiders, he said.

These tiny spiders sail around simply because of the housing shortage, professors of entomology explained. Many kinds of spiders break up their family groups in the autumn. Sometimes as many as 1,000 go forth from each home to seek housing of their own.

Climb Weed Stalk

They depart by climbing a weed stalk and spinning a spiderweb scarf. When the scarf is big enough, the wind carries it away, with the little spider hanging on. Sometimes, with weather conditions just right, the airborne spiders rise to altitudes of 2,500 feet, says Prof. Edward O. Essig of the University of California. Sometimes their webbed scarfs are as much as four feet long, and can look remarkably like a full-sized parachute at a distance.

Or maybe like a flying disc . . .

And if one should drift across your field of vision at close range, against a far-away mountain background, the professor said, maybe you'd think they were big, distant objects going like blazes.

Woman's Son-In-Law Charged In Assault

EDINBURG, Oct. 8 (AP)—A 38-year-old Hargill man faced charges today of assault with intent to rape his mother-in-law, a 58-year-old mother of 17 children.

The woman told officers she fled to a neighbor's house after she had fended off her son-in-law's attack.

Inauguration Of New Trains Set At Dallas

DALLAS, Oct. 8 (AP) — The Texas & Pacific railway today planned inauguration Sunday of three new trains, including the Louisiana Eagle, a Fort Worth-Dallas-New Orleans streamliner.

The other two trains will be the all-coach Louisiana Daylight, the first daytime train service between New Orleans and Dallas-Fort Worth, and the Westerner, operating on an overnight schedule between Dallas-Fort Worth and El Paso, with California connections.

Fire Causes Heavy Damage At Houston

HOUSTON, Oct. 8 (AP) — Loss was estimated at $100,000 today from a three-alarm fire here last night that gutted the second and third floors of a downtown office building.

Fire Chief C. A. Middlekauf said firms where stock was damaged most heavily included the Alaskan Fur Co., inc., Stein's Stores, Inc., Shaw Jewelry Co., and Adam Hat Store, Inc., all located in the building on Main street.

The blaze was discovered shortly before midnight, and Assistant Fire Marshal Lester Gross believed it started in a stairway.

The California Automobile Association advises that electricity in the ignition system of a car will leak away if spark plugs are improperly gapped or have cracked insulators.

U. S. Official Declares Soviet Aims Threaten Our Security

DURHAM, N. H., Oct. 8 (AP) — (AP)—Assistant Secretary of State Charles E. Saltzman says that while the United States seeks peace with Russia it way "not be possible" to avoid war.

He stressed, however, that the State department will proceed "on the assumption that it is possible" to avert a clash.

Speaking at the University of New Hampshire last night, Saltzman said "we are exerting our utmost to avoid war."

Preparedness vital

"We hope to win this conflict this side of war, by patience, calmness and spiritual fortitude," he said in a prepared address. "Perhaps this will not be possible but we shall proceed on the assumption that it is possible."

He said that the prospects of maintaining peace will improve if this country is prepared to preserve its security and freedom "at all costs."

Russia's real aim, he asserted, "is world domination through the instrumentality of Communism."

"The eyes of the American people should now be fully opened," he said. "We have completed a painful process of disillusionment, we now know that the Soviet rulers have no intention of cooperating in establishing peace and order in the world.

"Their aims and their methods are a direct threat to the national security of the United States."

Saltzman's appraisal of the situation was regarded by diplomatic observers in Washington as probably the boldest yet made by a high policy maker in the U. S. government.

The assistant secretary is in charge of policy under Secretary of State Marshall for the occupied areas of Germany, Japan, Korea and Austria.

Dancer Must Appear In Narcotics Case

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 8 (AP) — Dancer Vickie Evans, 25, is under court order today to appear with Actor Robert Mitchum and two others for trial Nov. 22 on charges of criminal conspiracy and possession of narcotics.

Mitchum, Miss Evans, Actress Lila Leeds and Robin Ford, real estate agent, were arrested Aug. 31 at what police said was a marijuana smoking party at Miss Leeds' residence.

Miss Evans' attorney argued before Superior Judge Thomas L. Ambrose yesterday that arresting officers did not find marijuana in her possession or see her smoking but the court held that evidence was sufficient to be considered by a jury.

WANTED HIS FISH

NEW YORK, (AP)—Ramon Sanchez was charged with stabbing another angler he claimed had stolen a 3½-pound fluke he had caught. Sanchez and the victim, James Fox, were passengers on a fishing boat. Leaving court, Sanchez was unconcerned about his seriously wounded victim. "Where's my fish?" he demanded.

Units Of Air Force Will Go To Europe

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8 (AP) — The Air Force has announced that three additional units—two of them now stationed in Texas—are preparing to go to Europe to help the Berlin airlift.

No date of departure from the United States was given in the Air Force's statement yesterday.

The units are the tactical air command's 313th Troop Carrier wing at Bergstrom air force base, Austin, Tex.; the 98th Air Supply squadron from Kelly air force base, San Antonio and company A of the 809th Engineer Aviation battalion from Fort Francis E. Warren, Cheyenne, Wyo.

"OLD ENOUGH TO BE HIS MOTHER"

That's one of the signs of a Borderline Anemia

We've all met women who seem years older than their husbands—pale, dispirited, no fun to be near.

Yes, and their loss of pep and healthy color may very well come from red blood cells that are faded and weak. They may have a Borderline Anemia—due to a ferro-nutritional deficiency of the blood. Medical studies show that up to 68% of women—many men and children—experience this tiring blood condition.

Weariness and pallor have many causes—always consult your doctor regularly. But if you have this Borderline Anemia, remember: Ironized Yeast Tablets can help you reclaim your vitality and healthy good looks. They are specially formulated to help build up faded, shrunken and fagged-out blood cells. To feel better—to look better—to act more alert and alive—try IRONIZED YEAST TABLETS!

*Due to a ferro-nutritional blood deficiency, a condition for which Ironized Yeast is specially formulated.

THE seemingly endless war which flares in this section each cotton-picking season between some cafe operators and persons of Latin ancestry has broken out again and presents a problem most difficult to solve to the satisfaction of all concerned.

Called to our attention within recent days have been two instances of the stalemate, one here in Lubbock, the other in Littlefield.

In each instance, the Latins involved were highly respectable persons of education and better than average economic status. One of them is a native-born American who spent 39 months of his 66-months Army service in overseas fighting.

* * *

The Lubbock case had to do with Mr. and Mrs. Fidel Figueroa, of Taxco, Mex., and was a most unusual case. Mrs. Figueroa is a native-born American of Anglo ancestry. Mr. Figueroa is a citizen of Mexico and of Latin ancestry.

The Figueroas, en route from Taxco to Mrs. Figueroa's Nevada dude ranch, drove in here late the other day and registered at a motel. They had dinner in a nearby cafe, a small, plain one. They encountered no difficulties.

But next morning, when they entered the same cafe for breakfast, they were told "we don't serve Mexicans."

Both surprised and ired, the Figueroas climbed back into their new Cadillac sedan, drove to one of the leading hotels and were served breakfast in the coffee shop without question, or incident.

* * *

IT so happens that the Figueroas are both wealthy and prominent, but that is not of import. What is important is that they are educated, cultured people. We checked up on their story and their backgrounds and here are the facts:

Mrs. Figueroa formerly was on the staff of the Laredo Times when Charles E. Green, now editor of the Austin American-Statesman, ran the Laredo afternoon newspaper. She now writes a daily column in a leading Mexico City newspaper, under the byline of Leslie Cortez d'Figueroa.

Mr. Figueroa is one of the top-flight artists of Mexico and the Figueroa home in Taxco is a mansion.

They are not dirty, ignorant itinerants, but, instead, are first class people.

* * *

We do not know Mr. Garcia, but we do know from his expertly typed letter, which was perfect in its literary composition, that he is very well educated and highly intelligent.

Mr. Garcia was in Littlefield aiding in the cotton harvest—not as a worker in the fields, but as an employe of the Texas State Employment commission. While in the Lamb county capital he personally experienced an unpleasantness of which he says he often has heard, but which he, himself, had never experienced before.

* * *

HERE is his story: One evening he went into a Littlefield cafe and ate dinner, without incident.

Next morning, he went into the same cafe for breakfast and was refused service because of his Latin-American background—even though he is a native born American citizen and an ex-serviceman.

"I am not asking," Mr. Garcia wrote us, "for any more than any ordinary American citizen is entitled to . . . (But) I believe it is only normal for an average American citizen to fight for his rights and privileges to the extent of his abilities and this is exactly my intention."

* * *

It is impossible for people of intelligence, culture and education to fail to realize how persons like the Figueroas and Mr. Garcia feel when subjected to such indignities.

There is no excuse for such occasions arising; no sense in permitting them to arise.

The error, of course, arises out of ignorance—ignorance on the part of people who do not understand that Mexicans, or people of Latin-American antecedents, come in various and sundry educational and cultural brackets, just as native-born, Anglo-Americans do; that Latin-Americans, like Anglo-Americans, sometimes are very high class people and sometimes are not.

* * *

THERE is, however, another side of the over-all picture and that side has to do with where the rights of one person stop and the rights of another begin.

Just as the individual feels he has certain rights as a patron, so does the owner of a business feel he has certain rights as the operator of that business.

In this country, a safe man, a grocer,—or anybody else—can do business only with blue-eyed people, or bowlegged people, if he so chooses. A lawyer may accept only certain types of cases and from certain people; a doctor may limit himself to any specialty he chooses and treat only people willing to pay for them.

In short, in business, freedom of action extends to the seller as well as to the buyer and there must be a dividing point somewhere.

* * *

The individual's reaction to segregation of any kind comes, we suppose, from the reasons for it.

We happened, once, to be refused cafe service, but it didn't bother us a bit.

We were roving around a section of Baltimore we had known as a boy—just looking it over. It was about 2 p. m., we'd had nothing to eat since a 9:30 breakfast, so went into an attractive place labelled "Bar and Grill" for a lunch-time favorite we cannot get at home, namely, a "ham-on-rye" and a glass of draught beer.

There were no customers in the small, neat place as we entered and sat down in a booth. The manager, a foreign-looking man, came immediately over.

"I'm sorry," he said, "but I can't serve you. We limit our trade to negroes."

We thanked the guy and left, neither mad, nor embarrassed.

* * *

WHILE we consider as faulty the judgment which bars from cafe service all persons of Mexican lineage regardless of their individual qualifications, the fact that the Figueroas and Mr. Garcia were served without difficulty in other places—and in the case of the Figueroas in a swankier place—proves that the cafe operators who refused them service were only exercising their right to choose their own clientele.

It all boils down to a clash of rights—real and imaginary—on the part of the seller, on the one hand, and the buyer on the other.

And as long as such a clash of rights obtains, the knotty problem, as we noted in the beginning, will be difficult to solve to the complete satisfaction of all concerned.

Perhaps the best way to work the whole thing out is for us in the "interior" of Texas to take a tip from El Paso or San Antonio, where tens of thousands of Latinos and Anglos live together in harmony.

In those places, the only "segregation" between Latins and Anglos is based upon the individual's cleanliness and his conduct and not whether his eyes are blue, or brown.

BY DREW PEARSON: HAROLD ICKES VOLUNTEERS TO MAKE SOME SPEECHES FOR HST

Truman Deplores Wallace Egg-Throwing In Texas

WASHINGTON — Honest Harold Ickes, who sometimes wields a meat axe for a pen, and Harry Truman, who can be blunter than a concrete pavement, got along pretty well when they met at the White House this week.

Neither had seen each other since they parted in a blaze of verbal glory two and a half years before.

PEARSON

"I never held anything against you," the President told his ex-secretary of the interior. Obviously he was referring to some of the things Ickes wrote about him in his pungent column.

Probably Ickes could have said the same about some of Truman's harsh remarks, but he didn't. Instead he reminded his ex-boss about an incident which Truman had completely forgotten. It was in the early days of the Truman administration and referred to tidelands oil.

Ickes had never been able to get Attorney General Francis Biddle, liberal as he was, to bring an action before the Supreme Court to recover the submerged oil lands of California, Texas and Louisiana for the federal government. Nor had Truman's Attorney General Tom Clark yet moved. So Ickes laid the thorny problem right in Truman's lap. And without batting an eye, Truman promised action.

Next day at a cabinet meeting he carried out his promise. Asking Tom Clark when the tidelands-oil suit would be taken before the Supreme Court, Truman added: "I want it taken up right away."

It was one of the most controversial issues in the Far West, certain to lose votes, sure to rouse the undying ire of the big oil boys who had contributed to Truman's campaign. Nevertheless, the suit was brought and won.

This week Ickes reminded Truman of the forgotten incident, then volunteered to make some speeches pointing out that Truman had the courage of his convictions while Dewey had avoided putting certain controversial cards on the table.

Truman On Wallace's Eggs

When District of Columbia Democratic leaders greeted the President on his return to Washington from the hustings, the first question they asked him was about his health.

"Vitamin C stands for campaigning as far as I'm concerned," replied Truman. "When I left town on this trip I had a cold and a sore throat. Now I'm rid of both and I gained 10 pounds while making speeches."

"What do you think of those Texans tossing eggs at Henry Wallace?" inquired Al Wheeler, Washington attorney and chairman of the D. C. Democratic committee.

"I was sorry to hear about that—I really was," replied the President. "I guess the incident was building up for a long time. Some of those Texans have never liked Wallace since the day he was plowing under pigs.

"Then they get awful mad about Wallace posing as a missionary trying to make Christians out of Southerners who don't agree with him. Add to that Wallace's Commie connections and you get some idea why those eggs were thrown. Those Texans couldn't hold out any longer.

"But I don't like that kind of of demonstration in a democratic country," concluded Truman, "regardless of the circumstances behind it."

* * *

CONGRESSMAN Parnell Thomas has begun mailing out 10,000 special letters to New Jersey voters—at the taxpayers' expense—aimed to strengthen his shaky chances of re-election . . . when President Truman returned from his western campaign trip one of those waiting to greet him inside the White House grounds was his old bootblack friend—John Malragon of Kansas City . . . The President has been assured by his aides that he'll carry every state in the South (southerners doubt it) . . . Roger Straus, of American Smelting and Refining, whose father, Oscar Straus, was secretary of commerce under Teddy Roosevelt, is slated for a cabinet job under Dewey.

* * *

Vandenberg Gets Busy

Tom Dewey had to put heavy pressure on his old friend and one time rival—Senator Arthur Vandenberg—to get Vandenberg to campaign for the Republican ticket.

Vandenberg, who prides himself on his bipartisanship, didn't want to make any speeches at all. However, one of Van's close friends, ex-senator John Townsend of Delaware, warned him that unless every Republican got out and worked the Democrats were likely to capture the Senate.

If the Democrats get control of the Senate, Vandenberg was gently reminded, he wouldn't be chairman of the senate foreign relations committee any more.

Note—Arthur is now campaigning.

* * *

DESPITE the unfavorable political polls, Hary Truman is sure going down fighting.

He is scheduling another 100 speches between now and election day, and sooner or later he hopes to step on enough of Dewey's toes to smoke him out and make him fight back.

Here is the wind-up for the last week of what will be the most vigorous campaign probably staged by any president in history:

Leave Washington Saturday, Oct. 23, with "whistle stop" speeches for three days en route to Chicago . . . Tuesday, Oct. 26, important speeches in Gary and South Bend, Ind., Toledo, Sandusky and Cleveland, Ohio. . . Oct. 27, a jump back to Pittsfield, Springfield, Worcester and Boston, Mass. . . . Next day, Hartford, New Haven, Bridgeport and Stamford, Conn . . . Night of Oct. 28, a big rally in New York, following which Truman will leave for Kansas City for his final speech on Saturday, Oct. 30.

* * *

Under The Dome

Michiganders are wondering why the Ford Motor Co. and General Motors haven't canceled the franchises of auto dealers Graff and Burges, both indicted for violation of the corrupt practices act. . . Atomic Energy Commissioner Louis Strauss will make an important speech on peacetime uses of atomic energy at the University of New Hampshire. . . . Congratulations to Attorney General Tom Clark for naming a woman, Grace Stewart, to one of the top positions in the Justice department. Mrs. Stewart is now executive assistant to the attorney general.

Eighty percent of the players on the University of South Carolina football varsity are war veterans.

Mary Martin Is Determined To Get A Cleopatra Musical

THE FIRST NIGHTS: "Magdalena" came to the Ziegfeld Theater and confused most of the critics. Mr. Barnes found it "a melodious and gaudy pageant" however. The consensus reported that its light - hearted music battled a heavy - footed tempo . . . Another well-meaning bore, "A Story for Strangers," is a fantasy about a talking horse. The critics went to sleep two nights in a row counting turkeys . . . The legit week failed to be rescued from complete misfortune by "Town House" which Geo. S. Kaufman directed. Mr. Atkinson summed up: A mechanical whizzbang that never explodes" . . . Mr. Morehouse's observation: "A fairly lively show" . . . The Ballet Russe de Monte Carlo at the Met Opera House plus Alicia Markova's great dancing is playing to standees even with the Paris Ballet for alleged competition . . . John Martin in the N. Y. Times reported that Serge Lifar's "Les Mirages" (in the latter ballet) is not much of a ballet . . . "It is endless, empty and affected," he noted . . . Robert A. Hague (in the Star) found it "no great shakes" and "the company's lack of a first-rate choreographer (Lifar) was painfully illustrated" . . . The same critic reported that the style employed by Lifar has been kidded so much "it is difficult for an American observer to take it seriously."

The Magic Lanterns: Deanna Durbin beats Dewey to the White House in "For the Love of Mary." This is set in the Presidential mansion. Deanna's canarying is fine, but the plot must have voted for Rutherford Hayes . . . You needn't waste any rahrahs on a fumbling pigskinema called "Triple Threat" . . . "The Black Arrow" is tough enough to tangle with Mons. Cerdan, Zale's conqueror. It is a robust adventure story "The Olympics of 1948" sprints along. Theodore Husing and William Stern pace it with nimble narrating "Miraculous Journey" forgot to pack a script . . . "Rachel and the Stranger" is "very light but very entertaining" "Sons of Adventure" is a puny film wherein Boy Meets Girl and Pish Meets Tush.

STAGE DOOR: Bernard Shaw's new play, "Buoyant Billions" (a comedy of no manners), will premiere at Zurich, Switzerland. Shaw told friends: "To spare me the aggravating English critics' habit of comparing my latest wukk with my lahst!" . . . You can't buy tickets to Tennessee Williams' "Summer and Smoke" until mid-Dec. . . . Ray Bogler does a new soft-shoe routine in "Where's Charley?" which ties up the proceedings for several minutes. It comes to the St. James Oct. 11th . . . Broadway actors don't always lay off. Tommy Morton, only 21, appeared in 3 hit musicals in the same season. "Angel in the Wings," "High Button Shoes" and "Make Mine Manhattan" . . . Mary Martin is determined to play the role of Cleopatra. She's asked Thornton Wilder to write a musical for her—around That Woman . . . Maurice Evans' "Man and Superman" tour (to the coast includes 33 sleeper jumps. (Happy pneumonia!) . . . The big bankroll behind "Magdalena" is San Francisco coin (mostly bankers) who got most of it from the Italian colony there . . . BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

TIP to young housekeepers: Here are a few easy ways to make the man you married think you are a truly remarkable woman.

Never trust telephone messages to memory. Saying off-handedly to a husband. "A Mr. Green—or maybe it was Brown — called you" is not the way to relay a telephone message. Take notes on a scratch pad, kept always beside the telephone, and hand the message over with all important facts in writing.

MILLETT

Have plenty of ash trays scattered around the house, and don't forget to put them back where they belong the minute you've finished emptying them.

* * *

KEEP EATS HANDY

ON your emergency shelf in the cupboard have always the makings of a simple meal and a variety of ready-to-serve refreshments. A man never feels as hospitable as when he offers a spur-of-the-moment invitation, and he can't make such gestures unless he knows you can always whip up something for the unexpected guest.

If you read the newspapers first, keep it in order. No man wants to have to hunt for the sports page or for the funnies.

Give him one little corner of the house where you don't "straighten up" after him, a place where he can lay something down and go back later and find it.

Never sacrifice comfort to beauty when buying furniture for your home.

"Try And Stop Me"

A NEW HAMPSHIRE town will have a new chairman for next year's Decoration Day ceremonies. This year's master of ceremonies is in the permanent doghouse for insulting the richest man in the community (and patron saint of the volunteer fire department). He meant well when he asked the Great Man to deliver a Memorial Day address, but the phrasing of his invitation was unfortunate to say the least.

His invitation read as follows: "You are the man we all want for the job. The program will begin with a welcome by the mayor, then selections by our quartette, then Miss Doolittle's rendition of the Gettysburg Address, then remarks by you, and then the firing squad."

Reports Say Underdog Appeal Of President Is Taking Hold

WASHINGTON — Almost without interruption from now until the week end before election day President Truman will be on the road carrying his uphill, underdog fight to the country. The President and the men immediately around him refuse to believe that the voters have in overwhelming numbers made up their minds and that nothing said or done between now and Nov. 2 can change the outcome.

CHILDS

During the brief interval in Washington the President and his advisers reviewed the strategy of the past two weeks and plotted the attack to come. Greater emphasis from here on out is to be put on the "constructive" side of issues rather than on denunciation of the 80th congress and the Republican leaders whom President Truman is blaming for the failure of his domestic program.

Thus, in his speech on social security, the President will say that the constructive effort of the Democratic administration was to expand social security provisions so that 2,000,000 additional persons would be put on the rolls. In contrast, the Republican congress, the President will say, acted to cut off 750,000 who were previously covered.

* * *

To Emphasize Act

In virtually every talk in the next few weeks, as the campaign strategists plan it, emphasis is to be placed on the Taft-Hartley act and its threat to trade unionism. This emphasis represents the influence of Clark Clifford, special counsel to the President, who maintains close relations with both A. F. of L. and CIO leaders.

Clifford has become convinced that the Taft-Hartley act is a wedge that will be used to shatter the economic power of mass trade unions in the not-too-distant future. The drive against the unions will gather momentum with the unemployment that would come with a recession or depression.

If the threat of such an attack be driven home, it is believed that organized labor can be spurred into getting out the labor vote in the large cities. Besides repeatedly injecting the Taft-Hartley threat into his back-platform speeches, according to present plans, the President will make a major talk on that theme either in Chicago or in Akron, Ohio.

* * *

The fact is, of course, that it is only at this eleventh hour that labor has begun to try to organize seriously for the Truman-Barkley ticket. The disaffection both before and after the Philadelphia convention resulted in a kind of paralysis that has only now been thrown off.

In Michigan, with its great industrial centers, the CIO united auto workers has taken over the Democratic party. But with the deadline for new registrations less than a week away, there is no indication of a rush of new voters who might be expected, with union urging, to vote Democratic.

In New York David Dubinsky, head of the International Ladies' Garment Workers union, has informed the White House that he will do everything in his power to help the President. Registration figures show, however, a drop in New York City of 234,585 below 194. This is bad news indeed for the Democrats, whose chances of carrying New York state were slight at best and dependent on a huge vote in the city.

By way of contrast it is revealing to look back at the Democratic campaign of 1940. That campaign, too, was conducted in an atmosphere of deepening crisis with the formerly free countries of western Europe under Nazi tyranny.

Roosevelt Too Busy

President Roosevelt, running for re-election to an unprecedented third term, started out by saying he was "too busy" to campaign except for brief "non-political" inspection trips to developing war industries, he would confine himself to a few nationally broadcast speeches.

It was the late Wendell Willkie who barnstormed across the country speaking often a dozen times a day, frequently pausing in the course of a motorcade to address street-corner groups. The Willkie campaign in its intensity was a precedent for President Truman's present strenuous effort.

Willkie succeeded in forcing Roosevelt off his high non-political "too busy" plane As reports showed certain states wavering, FDR went out and made political speeches that had never been on the original schedule limited to four or five addresses.

If he was to make a real try for re-election, President Truman, in my opinion, had no choice but to do what he is doing. He could hardly have remained in Washington to represent himself as the indispensable man in resolving the east-west riddle. Reports

WE CAN'T TAKE THE RISK

Some of the soundest military strategists—men of unimpeachable integrity—question the wisdom of large investments in warships in the present air and atomic era. Another element, less expert, argues that any huge ships authorized in the future will be built for the primary purpose of creating jobs for admirals.

But, disregarding these opinions and criticisms, most Americans probably read with approval the Navy's plans for a 65,000-ton carrier big enough for B-29's. They will approve because they will recall what happened to Japan during World War II because our Navy was able to take our aircraft within striking distance of the enemy much sooner than if reliance upon land bases for launching attacks had been necessary.

It may be, as some authorities contend, that surface ships are obsolete. But this, definitely, has not been proved. Until ther is such proof, Uncle Sam would take a bigger risk than most Americans would approve to be without the biggest and best he is capable of building.

Red Cross Emblem Is Being Used By Communists For Propaganda

By FREDERICK WOLTMAN
Special Correspondent

NEW YORK, Oct. 8.—The name of the Red Cross and a variation of its world-wide symbol of mercy are being exploited for political purposes, the World-Telegram revealed today, by a propaganda organization termed Communist by the Justice department.

The organization is the American Council for a Democratic Greece which seeks to sell the American people on Soviet expansion in the Balkans.

Prominent Names Used

In an attempt to capitalize on the reputation and good will of the Red Cross, the council has plastered the name and a huge red cross emblem on its literature, letterheads and "contributors' booklets" in a nation-wide campaign to collect 250,000 signatures and raise money to discredit the present Greek government in favor of the communists.

Despite its designation as Communist by Attorney General Tom C. Clark last May, the council has rounded up many prominent persons to bolster its drive.

Albert Einstein, Thomas Mann, Arthur Garfield Hays, Fannie Hurst and Joseph E. Davies, former ambassador to Russia, are among the names used in the campaign literature.

Meanwhile, national Red Cross headquarters in Washington today was studying the literature for possible violation of federal laws. A statute makes it a federal offense to use either the name or the emblem except for the business of the Red Cross and the Army and Navy medical corps.

The emblem used is a variation of the regulation Red Cross. The vertical line is longer than the horizontal. The printed matter reads: "A petition to the International Red Cross to save lives in Greece."

In the literature, "Red Cross" appears in capital letters on the cross; and the cross itself is printed in red ink.

59-Year-Old Man Is Off Death Fast After Visit From Police

CHICAGO, Oct. 8. (AP)—John A. Bender is off his "death fast" after a visit from the police.

Bender, a retired contractor who turned to writing religious mottoes, said he decided to go on a fast last Sunday "so that virtue may regain its dignity."

He said he ate his first meal yesterday after people began bothering him too much—and after police told him it would be illegal to starve himself to death.

Reason For Fast

Bender, 59, said he weighed 156 pounds at the start of his fast, and weighed 145 pounds yesterday.

He told reporters earlier that his starvation plan was prompted by his discouragement over the prospects for world peace and by what he said is the lack of truth and honesty among people.

At the start of his fast, he said "I will abstain from food to the end so that virtue may regain its dignity. Everything is glorified by dignity. People refuse to sacrifice unless for selfish reasons."

Bender said his will was all made out and that he had bought a burial lot and a tombstone near Chippewa Falls, Wis.

Purge Of Texas Demos Opens

Ouster Moves Are Launched

AUSTIN, Oct. 8 (U.P.)—The purge of anti-Truman Democrats from the county and state organizations of the Texas Democratic party apparently was underway today in full force.

The ousting of so-called "disloyal" party officials—those who refused to support the Truman-Barkley ticket—was ordered by the Fort Worth convention in September.

Conference Is Held

Yesterday, state Democratic executive Chairman John C. Calhoun of Corsicana and Secretary Vann M. Kennedy of Austin conferred in Austin. Calhoun said copies of the loyalty resolution adopted in Fort Worth, calling for pledges of loyalty, had been mailed to the 62 members of the state committee and to the county committeemen in all 254 counties.

While a large number already have replied, he said, those who failed to do so would be given one week in which to answer.

He declined to state whether any state committeemen or county chairmen had refused to take the pledge.

Ouster Is Expected

The state committee was expected to oust those who failed to reply in the allotted time or who refused to take the pledge.

The state chairman made it clear that he intended following the will of the Fort Worth convention.

Top party officials also are awaiting a reply from National Chairman J. Howard McGrath on the possible ousting of Democratic National Committeeman Wright Morrow of Houston. A move has been afoot to put Byron Skelton of Temple in the Texas committeeman post, on the grounds that Morrow was included in the "disloyal" group.

City Plan Commission Delays Action On A Proposed Change

The City Planning commission, meeting in regular session last night at City Hall, referred for further discussion and examination a request from Carl E. Maxey for placing lot 2, Thirty-Fourth street second addition, in a zone which would allow construction of a 92-unit apartment house to be located on property between Thirty-fifth and Thirty-sixth streets and Ave. X and College Ave.

A petition from a group of home owners in that vicinity, protesting the proposed zone change, was read at the meeting, and Eugene Guyer, representing the property owners, appeared before the commission to present their case, namely that such an apartment structure would create a traffic hazard to an adjacent public grade school, as well as lessening the value and desirability of the immediate residential area.

Zone Change Request Refused

Maxey and Vernon Thompson appeared at the meeting on behalf of the zone change and proposed structure, pointing out need for additional apartment dwellings.

Members of the commission were in agreement that action on the case should be withheld until the next meeting, in order that other affected persons might present their cases, and in order that the zone change request might be studied further.

The commission rejected a request, presented with a petition signed by several affected property owners, by E. K. and E. W. Hester for changing the zone regulations on lot 18, block 2, College Park Addition, from a "B" to an "F" zone, a business zone. The property in question lies at Twenty-third and College Ave. The commission reminded the Hesters that only a part of a block could not justifiably be rezoned, and that much of the block in question was built up in residences. The request was rejected also because not all the affected property owners had been contacted.

Ordinance Change Urged

Before the commission also was a petition from 42 pe rsons in the neighborhood of 2725 N. Fifth street who desired to go on record as being opposed to any zone change which would allow additional business in their vicinity.

Vaughn Wilson, city attorney, appeared before the commission on matters pertaining to repair and expansion of non-conforming buildings; that is, buildings which do not conform to the zone in which they are located. In particular discussion was a grocery store which stood in a non-business zone, and which, for that reason, could not be repaired or remodeled.

Wilson proposed to the commission that an amendment be made to the zoning ordinance authorizing the Board of Adjustment to permit repairs and remodeling of such non-conforming structures, with reservations, one that such repairs would not be opposed to the interests of property owners in the vicinity of the structure in question.

Plats Are Approved

K. N. Clapp, chairman of the commission, appointed the commission's zoning committee, composed of Homer D. Grant and J. H. Murdough, to meet with the Board of Adjustment on the matter and make a report at the next meeting of the commission.

The following plats, having undergone previous inspection by the platting commission, were approved:

RCA Will Pay Its Employes In Service

NEW YORK, Oct. 8. (INS)—The Radio Corporation of America announced today that its employes who enter the armed forces under the selective services act of 1948 will not suffer financially.

Brig. Gen. David Sarnoff, president and chairman of the board, said that all employes of RCA and its subsidiaries will be paid the difference between their civilian earnings and what they get in military service.

The ruling applies to all RAC employes of six months or more and to volunteers as well as draftees.

Contrad Let For Plans On Sewage System

Contract to do the engineering for expansion of the city sewage disposal system was awarded to Harry N. Roberts, Lubbock consulting engineer, at a special meeting of the city commission Thursday afternoon.

Roberts offered to do the work for 1 2/3 per cent of the total cost, tentatively estimated at $452,800. On the basis of that estimated, the job would net Roberts $8,542.67.

Hasie & Green Engineering Co., also of Lubbock, proposed to do the job for 2 per cent.

Plans To Be Drafted

The work will involve the drafting of plans for the expansion and engineering supervision during the construction.

Roberts agreed to try to complete the specifications for the expansions needed most urgently within the next four weeks.

Mayor W. H. Rodgers said the construction then will be awarded as soon as possible in an effort to complete enough of the work to take care of the city's sewage disposal needs next summer. Disposal facilities were over-loaded frequently last summer and officials say the condition can be expected to be worse next year unless the plant is enlarged before that time.

The present plant, completed in 1941, was designed for the needs of a city of 60,000 population. All estimates agree that the Lubbock population now exceeds that figure.

Cost To Be Spread

Much of the expansion recommended by Roberts, he said, should be adequate for the needs of a city of 99,000 population. Lubbock should begin making preparations for a population that large by 1958, his report said. He emphasized, however, that additions to some of the facilities now proposed probably will be necessary in 1953.

Mayor Rodgers said the cost of the expansions recommended by Roberts can be spread over three years, involving expenditures estimated at $129,000 immediately, $166,800 next year and $157,000 the year following.

The mayor said this will make possible the financing of the project without proposing a bond issue. He estimated the city has about $300,000 in unsold bonds, voted in 1947, for sewage expansions. He believes the remainder can be taken out of current revenues.

New Deal Is Given Blame In Shortage

NEW YORK, Oct. 8 (U.P.)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey blamed the current housing shortage on the Democratic New Deal today. He said it failed to keep pace with the pre-war housing needs.

The GOP presidential candidate drove here today from Pawling for the dedication of the Gov. Alfred E. Smith housing project to which the state of New York will lend $25,000,000.

Reminds Of Failures

Dewey, in a speech prepared for delivery at 4 p. m. (EST) at ground-breaking ceremonies, apparently was well aware that President Truman, his Democratic opponent, has belabored the Republicans for their housing policies. Without referring to the President or the Truman charge that the Republicans want "two families in every garage," Dewey reminded his audience of New Deal failures.

He pointed out that in the latter part of the 1930s, housing experts said 1,200,000 new homes should be built every year.

"They were not built," he said. "Instead, if you combine all the building of the three years 1937, 1938, and 1939 — the total was only enough to meet one year's needs."

He admitted that it was "inevitable" that new home building should drop sharply during the war.

Big Housing Deficit

But, he added, the overall result was that "we are up against a gigantic housing deficit."

He said builders of America were building today as never before. But that housing requirements of the population, particularly veterans, made the current record-breaking rate of construction still inadequate.

"It is a big problem—and we can solve it," he said. "But we cannot solve it merely by good intentions or by the wave of anybody's hand — or even by the wave of the hand of our federal government."

He said to solve the housing shortage which has been one of Mr. Truman's major talking points, "we need to cut through the impenetrable underbrush of theory and disagreement and dispute, and draw up a workmanlike program."

Cooperation Is Asked

He called on labor, industry, bankers and all levels of government to get together on a coordinated national housing program.

"It must be the kind of program that can be agreed to and can be consistently followed," he said. "That kind of agreement is not impossible to get. With competence, firmness and real encouragement on the part of government, we can get it."

The GOP candidate spent the night on his Pawling farm before

HIGH SCHOOL SENIOR

SPRINGFIELD, Mass. (U.P.) — Frank Rivers, 21-year-old war veteran who is a senior at Technical High School, came in one morning and passed out the cigars. His wife had given birth to a son.

James Melton Thrills Large Crowd In City

James Melton, who holds an enviable position in the fields of concert and radio and has been a favorite in tenor roles at the Metropolitan, exhibited his fine voice at the Senior High school auditorium Thursday night to an audience of 1,600 Tech students, faculty members and town people.

The concert was first of the Tech Artist course numbers for this season.

Generous With Encores

The affable Melton, a handsome, black-haired, blue-eyed Irish type who stands about six feet one, was generous with encores. He is sprinkled with the magic stardust that makes celebrities and abounds with the attractive personality and simplicity of manner that characterizes the great.

In a program arranged to fit college audiences, he won the students with his folk-song group and his last encores which included a brace of cowboy songs, including "All Alone on the Prairie" and concluding with the ever popular "Home On The Range." Sustained applause greeted his choice of "Soliloquey" from "Carousel" (Rodgers-Hammerstein) and his final number was the theme song which is his signature on the weekly NBC "Harvest of Stars" program and which students had been clamoring for for several minutes.

Melton, not understanding the calls, explained after a puzzled look, "That's one of my relatives."

The final line of the theme song is "Let me bring you music from within my heart" and that is what the tenor did last night. His program was opened with the beautiful "Thanks Be To Thee" (Handel) and he substituted "Ave Maria" (Cavaliera Rusticana) for the aira from "Don Giovanni" that was scheduled.

"Mit Einer Wasserlilie" (Grieg) was a fragile thing and "Voices" (Hageman), a short number, stood out in delicacy, to be followed immediately with "Don Juan Gomez," a blustery song about Don Juan Gomez, a self-admitted remarkable fellow.

The tenor can be both formal and informal and the transition is made with the greatest of ease. His recitative and aria from "La Tosca" (Puccini) was richly appealing and his rendition of Schubert's "Serenade" was a thing of romantic beauty.

Melton sings with perfect composure and with no apparent effort. His face retains its handsome appearance throughout his singing. He just opens his mouth and

Charge Due In Reuther Case

DETROIT, Oct. 8 (AP)—Authorities set about today to charge the attempted assassination of Walter P. Reuther to a once minor official of the CIO United Auto workers.

Prosecutor James N. McNally said he would ask recorder's court for a warrant against 39-year-old Carl Bolton, a former UAW-CIO local vice president.

Without making public any of his evidence in advance, McNally planned his request of the court for today. He will ask a warrant charging attempt to kill, he said.

Intention Announced

McNally announced his intention yesterday, nearly a full six months after Reuther, though badly wounded, escaped with his life from a shotgun blast fired through a window of his home. That was the night of April 20.

McNally's declaration elicited an expression of surprise last night from Bolton's lawyer, Joseph Louisell.

"Any warrant or charge against Bolton in connection with the Reuther shooting is certainly a surprise to me and I know nothing about it," Louisell said.

Bolton In Jail Now

Bolton presently is held in Ponliac, Mich., charged with burglarizing a CIO cooperative store in that city last Feb. 28.

He and numerous other union men were questioned in the shooting of Reuther, the UAW's president. The UAW offered a $100,000 reward. Other offers brought the reward total to $117,800.

Police theories in the attempt at solution dwelt in part on union politics as well as possible private grudges against Reuther.

Bolton was twice a vice president of Ford local 400 in suburban Highland Park. UAW sources said that although Bolton at one time opposed Reuther he never was regarded as an active antagonist.

Bolton, not now active in the union, has been on a leave of absence from his Ford job, union sources said. He has a police record, including imprisonment for armed robbery and larceny.

French Leader Says Japs Sponsor Revolt

SINGAPORE, Oct. 8. (AP)—Vice Admiral Robert Battet, commander in chief of French naval forces in the Far East, said today "12,000 to 15,000 Japanese troops" still are in Indochina training and sponsoring the revolt of Vietnam against the French.

The Vietnam republic has been in revolt against French rule since August 1945.

Population Question Studied At Houston

HOUSTON, Oct. 8 (AP)—Houston and Harris county took up the population question again today, claiming that greater Houston was making deep inroads into the 750,000 mark.

To bolster previous claims on population ranging from 640,000 to 770,000, county officials today pored over the school census and concluded that Harris county would exceed three-quarters of a million population two years hence —when the next census is taken.

Based on the ratio of school-age children, statistics came up with a 706,000 figure, or 177,000 more than in 1940.

Students Will Pass If Teachers Strike

MEXICO CITY, Oct. 8 (AP) — The department of education announced today it will promote all public school students if a teachers strike prevents final examinations.

The Mexico City branch of the teachers union has called for a series of two hour work stoppages to enforce demands for 30 per cent salary increases. The union has threatened to strike for the raises.

In most Mexican schools the long vacation is during the winter when unheated classrooms are chilly. A strike might close school before final examinations.

SENTENCED TO HANG

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 8 (AP) — Former Lt. Col. Yoshinari Tanaka was sentenced to hang today for ordering the execution of Brig. Gen. Guy O. Fort and three other Americans on Mindanao island in the Philippines.

Sentence was passed by an Eighth U. S. Army commission.

Young Grid Player Suffers Concussion

Will Ed Craddock, 14-year-old member of the J. T. Hutchinson Junior High football team, apparently was suffering no ill effects this morning as result of mild concussion suffered in the J. T. Hutchinson Junior High-Littlefield Juniors football game at Littlefield Thursday night.

The boy was knocked unconscious in a play and regained consciousness in a short time. After eating following the game, he lost consciousness again and was taken to West Texas hospital, where a doctor said he had suffered mild concussion. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Perry Craddock of Brownfield highway.

He was taken home following treatment. He remained home this morning but felt well, said his mother.

GIVEN LIFE TERM

YOKOHAMA, Oct. 8. (AP) — A general court-martial today sentenced Lyle R. Garner, 19-year-old soldier of Fayetteville, Ga., to life imprisonment. He was convicted of raping a Japanese girl.

State Fair Is Ready To Go

DALLAS, Oct. 8. (AP)—The 1948 State Fair of Texas was pronounced almost ready to go today, with just 24 hours left for last minute preparations.

W. H. Hitzelberger, general manager, said the fair would be in full dress and ready when the gates open to the public at 9 a. m. tomorrow.

Gov. Beauford Jester will snip the ribbon across the main gate, and thousand of visitors were expected to flow through the turnstiles in the opening hours of the $30,000,000 show.

The opening day in keeping with tradition, will be press and radio day.

Grid Tilt Big Event

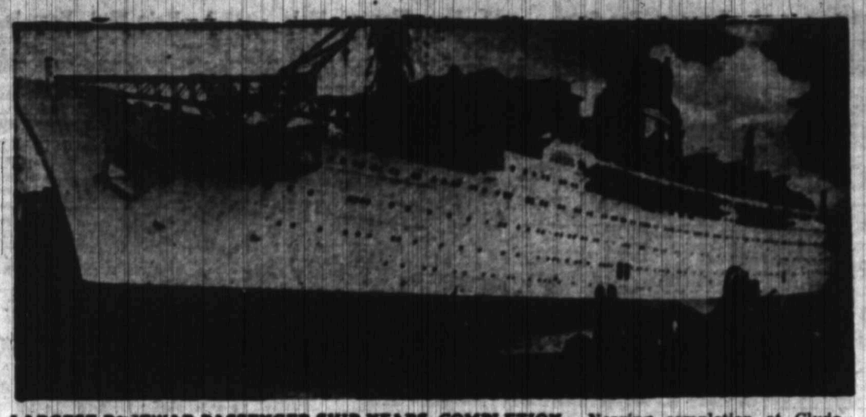

But the big event will be the annual grid tilt between the Universities of Texas and Oklahoma in the newly enlarged Cotton Bowl stadium, a drawing card for some 67,000 persons.

Opening day visitors to the fair were reminded that traffic congestion would be heavy near the fair grounds between noon and 2 p. m.

They were urged to come early and avoid the rush. Hitzelburger asked that football fans come before the game in order to avoid traffic and parking congestion, and promised a world of interesting exhibits to those who do.

Hitzelberger claimed the fair, sparked by $3,000,000 in improvements, will be "bigger' better and more colorful and exciting" than ever before.

Seven Teachers Would Dig Coal To Help District Pay Salaries

POTTSVILLE, Pa., Oct. 8 (AP)—Seven teachers would like to turn coal miners to help their school district make enough money to pay their salaries.

The seven quit their jobs Monday because the Blythe township school district has not paid them since last March due to financial difficulties. One is a football coach.

They hit on a new plan yesterday. They offered to go into the mining business to build up the salary kitty. In Pennsylvania's anthracite fields, much of the school district's income comes from mine lands owned by the district.

The township school board looked on the proposal with favor. Said a spokesman: "We can't see sufficient taxes collectible to meet the needs."

Governor James H. Duff has been asked to try to reach a solution.

Only Few Secretaries On Duty In Nation's Capital During Second World Series Game

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 8.—Where was everybody in Washington yesterday?

Ask me, I know.

Everybody was in front of the nearest television or radio set listening to—what do you think? The world series!

Doggone, it beats the mischief how a man can't get a day's work done when there's a ball game on. (Understand, I don't want to get anybody in a jam. So no names).

I called the State department, curious to know what was the latest on the Berlin air lift. I got a secretary on the phone. She said the other secretaries were out.

Bug Weapons Confidential

"But," she put in, "if you-all want the score it's 1 to nothing Boston at the top of the third."

The gal said her boss was downstairs getting coffee.

There has been a lot of talk at the Department of Agriculture lately about de-bugging planes coming into the United States so we won't get malaria and our plants won't come down with bug fever.

I dialed republic 1242 and asked for the office of the secretary. The secretary wasn't in. The assistant secretary wasn't, either. And neither was his assistant, or the assistant under him.

The under secretary I did get, turned out to be a stenographer. She said, yes, she understood the United States was having bug trouble of a sort but she wasn't authorized to say what weapons, if any, we had perfected to combat same.

Army, Navy Out

It was the same at the Treasury department. The nice young lady who answered Secretary John Wesley Snyder's 'phone said she was sorry like everything that the boss wasn't in, but did I know that Cleveland at the moment was leading 2 to 1?

I asked her how she knew and she said:

"Haven't you heard of radio?"

And hung up.

The Department of Navy, which isn't fighting any wars these days, made no bones about what it was doing. You couldn't get 'em on the 'phone without ringing the bell for minutes on end.

Same with the Army.

At the Post Office department, it seems that all of the mail had been delivered at game time.

The girl who answered the 'phone said she'd ring the people I wanted to talk with "but I don't make any promises."

It's just as well she didn't.

Secretary of Commerce Charles Sawyer was somewhere "I don't know where," his secretary said.

A couple of prominent guys, though, had a good excuse for not answering the phone.

Maurice Tobin, the secretary of labor, left word that he was "out on business." Being a former governor of Massachusetts, if his business wasn't watching a ball game in Boston—!!! well!

Agriculture Leaders To Meet In Dallas

Described as a special effort to impress upon farmers and ranchers the necessity for building cash reserves during times of high income as a hedge against future developments, agricultural leaders of Texas are to meet in Dallas next Wednesday to discuss use of U. S. Savings bonds in a program of sound management in agricultural production.

The conference, called by Nathan Adams of Dallas, chairman of the Treasury department's advisory committee for Texas, is to be held at the Baker hotel from 9:30 to 2 o'clock. The announcement said nearly every farm agency and organization in the state had signified intentions of being represented.

Tom Leadley of Lincoln, Neb., widely known editor of The Nebraska Farmer, is to address the meeting. C. N. Shepherdson, dean of the School of Agriculture at Texas A. & M. college, is to preside, and conduct a forum discussion on means of educating farmers and ranchers on the value of regular investments in U. S. bonds as a factor in sound management.

The conference also is to consider problems involved in the Treasury's fiscal policies and management of the nation's $252 billion public debt as they affect the farming and ranching industries in Texas, Adams has said.

Lowly Sausage Skins Life Savers In New Process Designed To Purify Human Blood

BUFFALO, N. Y. (AP)—The lowly sausage casing does a medical job in artificial kidneys that sometimes save persons dying of blood poisoning.

Sausage skin often is made of cellulose acetate. In the mechanical kidney, the same stuff filters poisons out of human blood, just as normal kidneys do.

The mechanical kidney is a machine used outside the body. The patient's blood is pumped through it and back into his body again. Its main value now is in last-resort attempts to save persons suffering from certain kinds of blood poisoning that develop when their kidneys fail to work.

Benefits Temporary

The first such machine, a big apparatus, was invented by Dr. W. J. Kolff of Holland. Recently three Canadians, Dr. Gordon Murray, Dr. Edmund DeLorme, and Newell Thomas, developed a kidney using the cellulose filter, plus a pump. A third one, with some improvements, was designed and is operated here by Dr. George S. Slotkin, of Millard Fillmore Hospital and the University of Buffalo Medical School.

It can't substitute for or repair permanently damaged kidneys. But it can take the poisons out of blood and give the kidneys a rest. Benefits are only temporary unless the brief holiday helps the real kidneys recover and go back to work.

It may save lives in kidney failure and blood poisoning due to metals, to reactions after blood transfusions, acute nephritis, a kidney disease, or certain blood poisonings during pregnancy. Dr. Slotkin said. It does not help in chronic nephritis or in high blood pressure.

Process Described

In the machine here, the patient's blood is drawn from a vein in the abdomen and then is pumped through 100 feet of narrow tubing made of cellulose acetate. This tubing is coiled around the inside of a six-gallon plastic jar. The jar is filled with a special chemical bath, stirred by a propellor. The blood is a purified as it passes through the tubing.

Poisonous salts in the blood pass through the tubing into the chemical bath. The tubing permits only one-way traffic for these poisons. Nothing in the bath can enter the blood. And only the toxins in the blood are small enough to pass out through the tubing.

At intervals some of the chemical bath is drawn off and fresh material added. An air trap captures any bubbles or blood clots, and the blood then flows back into another vein in the patient's body. A drug, heparin, is used to prevent blood from clotting.

Dr. Slotkin's machine can operate at 70 different speeds for blood flow. The speed is adjusted to the patient's body size and blood pressure. It usually takes four hours for a person's blood to be completely de-toxified.

Water Meeting Is Set Oct. 14

MIDLAND, Oct. 8. (AP)—A definite outline for a reservoir on the Colorado river to serve at least four West Texas cities is due to be submitted at a meeting in Big Spring Oct. 14, M. C. Ulmer declared.

Ulmer, president of the Colorado River Municipal Water association, said here yesterday the proposed reservoir would be located on the Colorado river several miles above Colorado City.

"The engineers now have definite data on which Midland, Odessa, Colorado City and Big Spring can determine their future course," Ulmer said. "I am keeping an open mind until we hear the reports."

One Site No Good

The two-year-old associate enlisted the assistance of the U. S. Geologic survey and Texas State Board of Water engineers, as well as a consulting firm in Fort Worth, to investigate possible reservoir sites on the upper Colorado.

One site three miles northwest of Colorado City was found to be unfeasible because of a salt water intrusion, but the latest report is understood to include studies of a new site upstream which would impound a lake lying in Scurry and Borden counties.

The association has discussed the feasibility of a 125 mile pipeline to carry water as far westward as Odessa and the T. and P. railway offered the right of way for the pipeline.

Carroll Hollister was an able accompanist. He played rippling rhythm for the highly varied program and his solos, which included two numbers and an encore by Debussy must have brought despair to the many piano students who are struggling to make the compositions sound the way he played them. He returned for two encores, "Golliwog's Cake Walk" (Debussy) and "Malaguena" (Lecuona).

Melton will appear with the Amarillo Philharmonic orchestra Saturday night.

City Plan

and Adams and Jefferson Avenues.

Request from M. E. Tew for approval of "Tew subdivision," located at Second street and Ave. X.

Request from A. H. Gearhart for approval of "Gearhart subdivision," located on East Broadway and East Ave. P.

Request from C. C. Harkey for approval of subdivision of the west two and one-half acres of lot 3, block 32, Crump Five Acre addition, located on the northeast corner of Fiftieth street and Ave. S.

The approvals were recommended by W. L. Bradshaw of the platting committee.

A number of zoning requests, held over from the previous meeting, were reported on by the zoning committee, and the following zone change requests were rejected:

Request by Clyde Jones for changing lots 19 through 24, block 225, Original Town, southwest corner of the intersection of Ave. M and Eighteenth street, from residential to retail business zone.

Request by J. H. Dillard and others for changing east one-half of block 10 and all of block 11, Original Town, from an "E" to an "F" zone. The property in question is located between Fourth and Fifth streets at Ave. F.

Request by A. T. Tarter for changing lots 1, 2, and 3, block 12, Southside addition, located on the southeast corner intersection of Ave. K and Twenty-fifth street, to place in business or industrial zone.

Request of J. W. Ross and O. C. White for changing lots 21, 22, 23, and 24, block 11, O'Neal Terrace, from an "A" to an "F" zone. The lots are located on the northwest corner intersection of Ave. S and Thirty-fourth street.

Passed by the commission after a report of the zoning committee was the request of A. W. Warsham for changing lots 21, 22, 23, and 24, block 14, Merritt and Wild subdivision of block 14, Roberds and McWhorter addition, at the northeast corner intersection of Ave. X and Fourth street, from "C" to a "G" zone.

Two zoning requests were held over for further study, including:

Request of J. C. Davis for changing lots 24, 25, 26, and south one-half of lot 27, block 31, Easley subdivision, from "C" to "G" zone; the property located on the west side of Ave. Q northeast at Second street.

Request from Buster Welch for reconsideration of his petition for changing lots 8, 9, 10, 11, 12, and 13, block 8, southeast corner of Ave. Q and Twenty-first street, from residential to business zone.

Although the latter request was temporarily shelved, the commission passed a motion that a hearing for property owners in the affected area be given, including those of the above lots 8-13 east of Ave. Q on Twenty-first and those of four lots on the west side of Ave. Q on Twenty-first. The commission also discussed the importance of alleys in the affected area to facilitate truck and delivery traffic in the event that the request is approved.

Members of the commission discussed the matter of publicizing the agenda of forthcoming meetings and the setting of a deadline for zoning petitions and the like that would be considered at a meeting. A motion was passed to the effect that matters pertaining to zoning that are to be taken up by the commission must be submitted to the city secretary by noon on the 25th of the month preceding the next monthly meeting.

The agenda will be made up from this and will be printed in the Avalanche-Journal soon after, so that any person wishing to protest or speak for a zoning request will be made aware well in advance that such a request is pending.

Matters submitted after the above deadline will not receive consideration until the next monthly meeting.

Members present at the meeting were K. N. Clapp, chairman, Chas. A. Guy, W. L. Bradshaw, J. D. Hassell, J. T. Krueger, Homer D. Grant, M. R. Smith, and R. L. Oldham. Absent was J. H. Murdough.

British Night Spots Have Hit A Slump

LONDON, Oct. 8 (AP)—London night clubs, about the only places you can buy a drink after 10:30 P. M., are in a slump. Not so long ago people elbowed their way through the crowds, paying anything up to $24 for a bottle of Scotch. But that's all changed now. They can buy a bottle of gin that used to cost them $12 and more in a night spot, for about $6 from their grocer or local wine shop.

Pubs as well as night clubs are complaining about the shortage of money. Too many of their old customers, they say, are saving their money for vacations on the continent or are cutting down because they just can't afford it.

Governor Warren's Daughter "Steals Show" In Wisconsin

EN ROUTE WITH WARREN TO DULUTH, Minn., Oct. 8. (AP)—The band blared "On Wisconsin" and blonde Virginia Warren stole her father's show at Madison, Wis., last night.

A preponderantly undergraduate audience on the University of Wisconsin campus whistled, cheered and shouted its approval of the 20-year-old daughter of the GOP vice presidential candidate.

It demanded "we want Virginia" at the start, and then kept the governors of Wisconsin and California standing around for 40 minutes getting her autograph at the end.

In between, Gov. Earl Warren talked Republican politics and beamed paternally.

Other Stops Slated

Today, fresh from his daughter's triumph, Warren campaigned northward into Minnesota with a major talk on tap tonight at Duluth.

En route, his campaign special is scheduled to make stops at La Crosse, Wis., Winona, Wabasha, Red Wing and St. Paul, Minn., and at Superior, Wis., before arriving in Duluth at 5 p. m.

At Madison however, it was mostly Virginia.

So enthusiastic was her reception after an introduction by Gov. Oscar Rennebohm, that Warren said it tempted him to make her give the speech—"and if it happens again, I will."

When the governor concluded his talk, students mobbed the platform for autographs. Virginia, herself an undergraduate at the University of California, signed for 40 minutes while Governors Warren and Rennebohm waited meekly on the edge of the crowd with other Wisconsin Republican notables.

Warren departed largely from his prepared text, taking an informal tone with a comparatively small audience braving rain and cold to fill the university stock pavilion about two-thirds its 3,500 seating capacity.

He said he was taking a "neutral" attitude, "as a University of California alumnus," towards Saturday's Wisconsin-California football game at Berkeley.

"We shouldn't be frittering away our time here on politics when there are more important things to do," he told his pleased audience.

"We ought to be on a train or plane on our way to Berkeley for the game."

Tech Publicity At State Fair Planned

Radio broadcasts, which will also be heard over a loud speaker system, were mapped out for Oct. 23, Texas Technological college day at the Dallas State fair, by Frank Junell, assistant to the president, and officials of the Dallas chapter of the Texas Tech Ex-Students and Alumni association Wednesday when Junell flew to Dallas for the conference.

Junell, who returned to Lubbock Wednesday night, said the broadcasts would be carried on the greater part of the day, over station WFAA, including recordings by the Texas Tech band and some speakers, among whom probably will be W. L. Stangel, head of agriculture at Tech, and Paul White, president of the Dallas Ex-Students and Alumni association.

White will also be in charge of the Texas Tech booth in the Hall of Agriculture, which will be on the order of a lounge, and from where booklets about Tech will be distributed daily, particularly Oct. 22, which is high school day at the fair. Junell said intentions were to place information about Texas Tech in the hands of every high school student who attends the fair.

Versatile Britisher And Wife Are Writing Book About Cats

BY BOB THOMAS
(Associated Press Staff Writer)

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 8 — News from the literary front: James Mason and his wife are writing a book—about cats, naturally. The volume will be released in January, with illustrations by the actor.

The versatile Britisher is doing retakes for "Caught" and will start "Trilby" in six weeks. Jennifer Jones was to co-star, but she goes into "Madame Bovary" right away and another Trilby is being sought.

The Masons expect their first child next month and both are sure it will be a girl.

Al Jolson is a guy who doesn't give up. He says he has recorded enough songs not only for his forthcoming film biography, but for two other pictures as well! That should keep Larry Parks busy for years to come.

William Powell is averaging a radio show a week these days. "Got to keep the ham in me alive," he tells me as he walks to another rehearsal. It's too bad that MGM and U-I can't find some good stories for such a fine performer.

Betty Grable and Harry James plan to do a record album together. She made one record with him, under the name of Ruth Haig. Asked if she would like to sing with his band on the road, she replied: "Oh no, I'd be too embarrassed. Besides, I'm not good enough. Harry might not love me any more."

Bing Crosby is resting at his Elko, Nev., ranch prior to an air show and benefit in San Francisco Saturday . . . Wonder if Lucille Ball is sore about the new "Interference" ending. Now Lizabeth Scott gets the man (Vic Mature) instead of Ball.

Youth Killed When Mistaken For Bear

COOS BAY, Ore., Oct. 8 (AP) — A boy, mistaken for a bear, was shot out of an apple tree and killed, meager information received here today indicated.

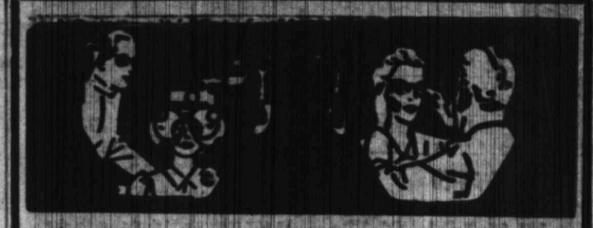

Deputy Coroner J. Dale Taylor said he was advised Arthur Cotter, 15, was with a group of boys shaking down apples from trees near Myrtle Point, south of here, yesterday. A member of a hunting party mistaking the moving boy in the tree for a bear, fired and the boy fell dead from the tree.
