Surface location is 296 feet from the south line and 220 feet from the southeast line of Lot 114, Outlots of the Town of Lamar. There will be a meeting of the Aransas County Commercial Fishermen's Association on Tuesday, Nov. 26, for the purpose of re-organizing and electing officers for 1964, at 7:30 p.m., in the Yacht Basin Cafe.

Outboard Races Slated For Next Sunday, Nov. 24

The "Tip O' Tex" Inboard Racing Association has been granted permission by the Aransas County Navigation District to stage another of the index of performance races for outboards that have been so popular here since they were first started about a year and a half ago. The race will be from 2 p.m. until 4:40 p.m., Nov. 24.

However, in a letter to the Association's chairman, Dr. William C. Triplett, they laid down two stipulations aimed at curbing some of the more exuberant outboarders, who occasionally forget there are other people besides themselves.

The District, in granting the permission, did so provided that use of the basin by racing boats is definitely confined to the hours stated—2:00 p.m. until 4:30 p.m., and that no outboard with horn-type exhausts is allowed to compete.

The district, in its letter, told Dr. Triplett that the members of the board felt that these two restrictions were fair, and that they would not hamper the racing itself.

In the past, there have been complaints about the amount of noise made by some of the boats that were raced, while equipped with horn-type exhausts, which intensify the noise of the engines without adding to their power.

The CP&L Aids With Christmas Lights

Central Power and Light Company will again donate the services of its local employee organization to help install Christmas decorations between the band shell and the beach, according to Manager B. T. Hardeman.

Hardeman said installation of the holiday decorations will get underway within the next few days, and the lights will be turned on after Thanksgiving. Hardeman and Jack Sanders are on the Chamber of Commerce Committee cooperating with the company.

Additional CP&L employees from nearby towns can be called in if needed, Hardeman said.

The Christmas decorations were purchased by the Rockport Chamber of Commerce, and CP&L has annually donated the labor and equipment needed to install the lights, and then to take them down after the holidays.

All electricity for the operations is also donated by the power company, as a contribution to the city's Christmas lighting program.

Sanitary Association Dinner Held Wednesday

The City of Rockport was host Wednesday night to 90 members and wives of the Coastal Bend Water and Sanitary Association, for its monthly meeting.

A dinner was held for those attending the meeting, at the Woman's Club, and after the dinner Sam Warrington, of the Texas Health Department, was the featured speaker.

He traced the history of Texas' water certification program from its beginning to its present high state of excellence. The Texas program, Warrington said, was now used as a model by other states in developing competent personnel for the handling of public water supplies.

Harking back to the introduction of the certified personnel program in the state, and public approval of water supplies, Warrington said one of the greatest problems in the beginning was to get over to public officials that water could carry many diseases.

At that time, Warrington said, advances in bacteriology and preventative medicine had not reached their present importance; education in the bacteriological theory was almost non-existent, and mayors and city councils frequently scoffed at even the most elementary precautions as unnecessary.

Yet, he pointed out, once this became better known and the precautions taken, occurrences of typhoid, dysentery and similar epidemics, disseminated by water, had dropped to only a small proportion of what they were 40 years ago.

Members of the Association from most of the surrounding towns attended the meeting.

The arrest was the result of careful checking and attention to detail, following reports by Goose Island State Park Manager Albert Wofford, that Otto E. Elliot and his wife, of Pratt, Kans., had reported that their car had been broken into while they were fishing, and a denim bag containing a billfold with $32 and credit cards, and a diamond engagement ring set valued at $750 had been stolen. ORDER OF EASTERN STAR ENTERTAINS OFFICIALS ON VISIT

Rockport Chapter No. 479 Order of the Eastern Star met in the Masonic Hall for regular meeting Monday night. Prior to the meeting, a dinner was served at Corky's honoring the Deputy Grand Matron Otis Demback who made her official visit to the chapter. She was accompanied by Edith Cornell, Frankie Cornell and Bernice Harvey, who assisted her in the work. Mrs. J. Allen Frye sang "Sunrise" and Mrs. Clyde Hayden led the group in prayer.

The Worthy Matron and Worthy Patron, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hill, presided. After a very interesting and instructive evening, the group retired to the lounge where refreshments were served to more than 50 including a goodly number of visitors. The table was lovely with its mint colored nylon net over pink satin table cover. The center piece was made of beautifully arranged pink roses.

Mrs. R. L. Wofford, Past Worthy Matron, served coffee, and Mrs. O. W. Brymer, Warden, served hot chocolate. Mrs. Paul Rogers and Mrs. Jake Pierce were hostesses.

Letter to the Editor

Nov. 16, 1963

To the Editor,
The Rockport Pilot,
Rockport, Texas

In response to your request for further comment, since the writer has urged the Navigation District Commissioners to authorize a comprehensive plan for the development of the Little Bay waters, and because a number of interested taxpayers have inquired about the purposes and advantages of having such a plan, it seems fitting to publicly outline what is meant by an Engineering Plan for the development and use of Little Bay.

Since the amount of bay water surface is limited, and because there are many users and activities wishing to share this bay, the development of Little Bay should provide for the maximum benefits to this entire community. Certainly any penalty to property values should not be disregarded, nor should any boating activity—even the scheduled but a few times annually—be denied when it is reasonable to accommodate such events.

The plan proposed by the writer lists the various activities for which the natural resources of Little Bay can provide.

1. Increase the area for water skiing so that many more can safely participate.
2. Specify the areas to be dredged and relate them to the activities they will serve.
3. Designate the areas to be preserved for feeding grounds by the many water fowl which bring a great number of visitors to our community throughout the year.
4. Increase the water area for more boating activities, including sailing by younger participants.
5. Indicate the additional shore line areas for the use and development of facilities related to the water activities of Little Bay.

There are available areas which are suitable for development and which will benefit the community and not be competitive with privately operated waterfront facilities.

6. Relate and coordinate the many activities to be provided by Little Bay with the existing facilities of the Navigation District on Aransas Bay.

7. Submit preliminary estimates of cost for the construction of the improvements outlined in this Comprehensive Plan. In order to judge practical values and to establish priority for installation it is necessary to have cost information.

It should be kept in mind that such a plan as hereinbefore outlined is not a closed book, on the other hand it will require reappraisal of the plan every few years to keep it up to date in order to meet the changing activities and the needs of the community.

Such a plan would be prepared on a scale sufficiently large to permit its use for public presentation and discussion. No one has all the answers. Only by public presentation and wide discussion can we develop the broad interest and cooperation of our citizens so necessary for successfully carrying out any worthwhile plan for the development of Little Bay.

Respectively submitted,
M. W. Cochran,
Consulting Engineer.

Johnson, of Audubon, Iowa who is spending the winter here) and one guest, Mrs. W. C. Murphy. She was assisted by Mrs. W. S. Falk, Jr.

After the refreshment period, Mrs. L. W. Hight, Circle chairman, called the meeting to order with a prayer. During the business session, the group voted to make baby quilts for overseas, using 3" blocks—these being 27x36". A list of missionary children, who are at present students in the U. S., was passed around and each one picked out a name and will write them.

DEPUTIES SOLVE—

Yates was carried down to the Aransas County jail. One thing led to another, and he admitted to Hunt that he was the one who had broken into the Elliot car.

Yates directed Hunt to the place near the Copano Causeway where he had thrown them, and the denim bag and Elliot's billfold and credit cards were recovered, although the $32 and the rings were missing. Yates said he thought his wife had the rings. Hunt and Hewes picked her up at the bus station where she was waiting for a bus to Corpus Christi and took her to the jail where, after some private conversation with her husband, he called the officers and gave them the rings.

A check was run through the Department of Public Safety on Yates, and it was learned that officers at Hobbs, New Mexico, had been trying to locate him for some reason, although he denied having been there. However, further questioning by Hewes and Hunt uncovered an amazing string of thefts from automobiles over the central and western part of the state.

According to the story Yates told, up until three months ago he had been an oilfield worker, with money in the bank and a good job. Then, because of illness, he was no longer able to work, and turned to stealing.

The first of these thefts that he admitted was one at Lake Thomas, Texas, where he and his wife were going to camp out in the open near some picnic tables.

"Two young men came out to go swimming, and they parked a little way from us," he said. "They had on their bathing suits under their pants, which they pulled off and put on the front seat. Then they swam out in the lake to an island. My wife was asleep on a picnic table and I went to their car and reached through the window and took $7 out of a billfold on one of the pants. I didn't look in the other pair of pants. I went back to where my wife was and told her I was ready to go and we left."

The pattern of this theft was the same as the others Yates committed later. The couple went back to Dallas, and at Grapevine Lake, Yates took $30 from another man's billfold and nearly $100 from another. They then returned to Dallas, and from there went to Lake Tonawanda. In one car there he found two wallets and took a little over $100 from the two, according to the signed confession obtained by Hewes and Hunt.

From Lake Tonawanda, the Yates' went to Greenville, and stayed for a time, just as they had at the other places. While there he worked on a farm and did a little cotton picking. Then they went to Lake of the Pines near Marshall, and he lifted $20 from a billfold there. They then went on through Dallas to Waco to Lake Whitney and set up camp there.

Yates said he rode around the lake, and took a .38 Colt revolver from one car in which he found no money. The next day he saw some people put their clothes in their car trunks and go swimming. He pried the trunks open and got about $2 out of one car and $4 out of another. He thought someone might have seen him, so he got his wife and headed for Corpus Christi. Near Port Lavaca, he saw some men fishing, and burglarized their car, getting about $90 out of two billfolds.

From Port Lavaca the couple back to Houston without going to Corpus Christi. They rented an apartment on the Galveston Road, but he said he was so scared, according to the confession, that he moved again. He took a trip to Galveston by himself, and stole a billfold from a car there, finding nothing in it. Two or three days later, he drove down Highway 225 to the coast and found a car parked from which he took two billfolds from which he obtained about $30.

Several days later, after he was unable to find a job in Houston, the couple started for Corpus Christi once more and they stayed there one night before coming to Rockport and committed the theft from Elliot's car. They returned to Corpus Christi that night, and later they returned here, just to see the sights. They went to Goose Island again, and while returning from there were arrested.

Yates is still in jail, charged with burglary from a car, his wife was released. In the meantime Hewes and Hunt are continuing to check to see if other thefts were committed.

The business meeting was presided over by the chairman, Mrs. Volney Cavitt, and the secretary's and treasurer's reports were given by Mrs. Harry Mills and Mrs. Lloyd Smith. Mrs. Travis Bailey was appointed to serve as project chairman. It was announced that the annual Women of the Church Christmas party will be held at the church on the evening of Dec. 12.

Letters to the Editor

To the good citizens of this town, I will try to write my feelings down.

I guess they can always leave us to a vote about the race course and the speed boats.

Some like the quiet; some, the money. If you own your own home, it's not very funny.

Most people like the peace and quiet when they lay down to sleep in the day or night.

If you work eight hours or have a bad heart, you are getting off to a pretty bad start.

If you have come to this town to fish or to sit, like they say in England, you have had it.

If an air-conditioner you can't afford, you can't shut all the windows and doors.

Your nerves will have to be in good shape to listen to the noise that the race boats make.

Our taxes won't go up, so they claim. It will be charged to the dust and settled by the rain.

They have dredged out this and dug out that till there's not room left to cuss a cat.

The beach is hard to keep as it shows. What will it look like when the crowd all goes?

Beer cans and bottles from end to end, they could wait for high tide or a hurricane.

If the promoters want a good race town, everyone will have to let their hair down.

Just like Santa Anita; Harve de Grace, that's where all the big shots go.

We could have gambling houses and roulette wheels, a game of chance we could deal.

The promoters want the town this way, so the big shots will come here to play and pay.

Now if we all let our hair down, we could clean all these suckers before they leave town.

To stop all the controversy and all of the grumble, give all the people a good strong shovel.

Like our drainage system beyond a doubt, the race course would never get dug out.

If I had my say and you can believe me, a fishing town it would always be.
