Loyal French Forces Quickly Crush Revolt

New Forsan Officials

Elected officials of Forsan held their organizational meeting Tuesday to get the newly launched incorporated city into business. They include, from left, J. B. Anderson, alderman; Leland Camp, marshal; A. P. Oglesby, alderman; C. J. Lamb, mayor; O. W. Scudday, alderman; Bob Wash, alderman; C. B. Long, alderman.

Forsan's First Ordinance Grants TESCO Rates, Service

FORSAN—Forsan City Council, in its initial meeting on Tuesday night, enacted Ordinance No. 1—which grants Texas Electric Service Co. the right to serve Howard County's newest incorporated town and also to charge rates increased in accord with a request recently made by the utility company.

The official family was sworn in at the meeting on Tuesday night. The first problem, according to Mayor C. J. Lamb, is to find a way to provide the town with some income.

Representatives of the tax engineering firm of Pritchard & Abbott were on hand at the meeting. The firm has made a survey of taxable properties in the city limits of Forsan and indicated it will set up a system of taxation which will bring in revenue to pay for the operation of the town.

Meantime, Leland Camp, city marshal, is officially the law in Forsan, but so far no way has been found to pay him for his services.

Bob Wash, a city council member, is acting as city secretary until ways and means to provide a paid employe can be worked out.

Lamb said that he is confident it will all work out and that Forsan will soon be on its municipal feet and operating as a town should.

Plans call for the council to meet on the second Tuesday in each month. However, Lamb anticipates a call-meeting or two in the near future.

"We've got to get the tax angle in operation and find out exactly where we are," he said.

6 Board Members Are Added By 1st National

Six additions to the board of directors of the First National Bank were voted by stockholders in a called meeting Tuesday afternoon.

Going on the board were Jack Irons, H. W. Smith and Adolph Swartz, all prominent Big Spring business men; and James S. Key, R. T. Waddell and Jackson Parker of Odessa.

Irons is manager of the West Texas Compress and Warehouse Company, and has resided here for more than 15 years. He has served on the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce on several occasions.

Smith, a resident since 1935, was for eight years a wholesale oil company agent, then opened the oil field transport service bearing his name. He has been a C-C director, was its vice president one year, and has been president of the Kiwanis Club, as well as that organization's district governor. He has been a school trustee, is now on the zoning adjustment board.

Swartz has been a Big Springer for nearly 30 years, operating a ladies specialty shop all that time. He is a past president of the Chamber of Commerce, of the Rotary Club, the United Fund and has been active in a number of fund drives for the Red Cross, State Hospital work, and other agencies.

Key, Waddell and Parker, key business figures in Odessa, are among those who bought controlling shares in the First National some months ago.

The addition of these directors now gives the bank a board of 22 members.

Insurrectionist Leader Captured

ALGIERS (AP) — Forces loyal to President Charles de Gaulle crushed the four-day army revolt today with hardly a shot. The man who led the insurrection, Gen. Maurice Challe, surrendered to face trial and possibly a death sentence.

Three other retired generals who joined in leading the mutiny — Raoul Salan, Edmond Jouhad and Andre Zeller — were not accounted for. One unconfirmed report put them at a Foreign Legion camp at Zarelda, 25 miles from Algiers.

The French Ministry of Information said Challe landed at a field near Paris. He will be brought to trial on charges of organizing an insurrection and usurping power. Similar charges have been placed against the three other generals and three colonels.

The government has not disclosed whether Challe will be tried as a soldier or as a civilian. On that issue could depend whether he faces a firing squad or the guillotine—although the possibility of a death sentence was largely discounted in Paris.

The uprising ended with the bewildering abruptness with which it began Saturday.

Thousands of Europeans gathered in the center of Algiers as rumors swept the city that loyal soldiers were preparing an attack.

But the mutinous generals could give little encouragment to the French settlers, who had hoped De Gaulle's plan of self-determination for Algeria was domed by the insurrection.

The generals attempted to speak to the crowd but found the microphones were dead. They then boarded trucks guarded by paratroopers and fled the city.

Gendarmes and loyal soldiers took control of the city and threw up roadblocks.

Sporadic shooting broke out but after daylight life in Algiers steadily returned to normal. Stores and shops opened and buses were on schedule.

In Paris, Information Minister Louis Terrenoire said a plane from Algeria had landed at British Gibraltar with certain "accomplices" of Challe but he did not know their names.

AS CRIMINAL

Already stripped of his rank and dismissed from the service on order of De Gaulle, Challe was to be confined in Sante Prison in Paris as a common criminal and not in a military prison.

Challe and the three other generals of his rebel junta fled from Algiers Tuesday night after the collapse of their revolt. A convoy of trucks and autos, guarded by some of the paratroopers who had spearheaded the rebellion, took them and some 35 of their top followers to an unknown destination.

While civilian and military authorities made prisoners by the insurgents in their predawn coup last Saturday resumed control of their offices in Algiers, gendarmes and troops set up roadblocks on main highways. Search planes roared into the Algerian skies at dawn.

SETTLERS DESPAIR

The fleeing generals left behind them despairing and bewildered French settlers of the North African metropolis who had supported their effort to overthrow De Gaulle and keep Algeria forever French.

In addition to trials of the generals and four colonels charged with key roles in the revolt, military courts presumably will also judge the soldiers who joined in the revolt, particularly the paratroopers who were the rebellious officers' strongest arm.

It was not known if any action was planned against the civilian supporters.

The rebellion, second such defiance of De Gaulle in Algeria in 15 months, collapsed with spectacular suddenness late Tuesday night. One moment the military junta was urging the anti-Gaullist French of Algiers to fight to the death. Soon after they were driving off into the darkness in trucks loaded with paratroopers.

CLIMATIC SCENE

The climactic scene of the short-lived uprising occurred in the vast forum in the heart of the city.

A crowd of 50,000 French settlers gathered there as rumors spread through the city that forces loyal to De Gaulle were preparing to retake Algiers.

Inside government headquarters Challe, Salan, Zeller and Jouhaud listened with sullen despair as the bad news poured in.

Mobile gendarmes, loyal to De Gaulle and supported by tanks, were approaching the city. Oran and Constantine, once in insurgent hands, had surrendered to government forces earlier in the day.

The game was up and the generals, professional soldiers, knew it.

Challe and Salan attempted one last gesture. They went to a balcony overlooking the forum, the same balcony from which Challe Monday told a cheering crowd of 100,000 his forces would fight to the death to keep Algeria French.

FIRST SHOTS

Challe looked down on the angry mob and tried to speak as the first shots rang out from clashes between mutinous paratroopers and loyal gendarmes. But the microphone was dead and his words were lost in the tumult of wild shouts from the crowd.

Challe, Salan and Jouhaud left the government building and climbed into trucks loaded with their paratroop followers. Zeller left in an auto. All but Challe were broken men. Challe laughed and puffed his pipe.

Newsmen asked Challe if he planned to surrender. Challe chuckled and said "no." It was his only comment.

Earlier in the day Challe had sent a letter of surrender to De Gaulle placing himself "at the disposal of the government." Apparently he changed his mind.

The gendarmes mopped up the few pockets of resistance in Algiers, herded the population indoors and took away the arms of civilians they met on the streets.

Trustees Okay Buying Of Portable Classrooms

Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District approved the purchase of fabricated steel portable classrooms during a special meeting held Tuesday night.

A bid of $5,500 for each unit by Fabricated Steel Buildings, Inc., Midland, was accepted, pending changes in specifications which might be considered necessary and determination of the number of buildings required.

No decision was made about the number of buildings which would be purchased or when the transaction would be completed. The bidding company will be notified about specification changes and negotiations for a contract will be started.

24 BY 32

The building accepted will be a 24 by 32 feet steel fabricated building with a concrete floor and resting on a concret pad foundation. It will be insulated, furnished with incandescent lighting, have an acoustical ceiling and a wide roof overhang.

After a report by Jimmy Fox of Atcheson, Atkinson and Fox, the architectural firm representing the school, trustees decided that the Fabricated Steel building met the needs and purpose of portable classrooms. Other firms bidding on the work were Modular Building, Inc., Houston with a bid of $72,324 for ten units and McRan Metal Buildings, San Angelo, with a bid of $8,376 per unit.

In other business, trustees accepted a bid on a 2.38 acre plot of land between the Senior High School and St. Mary's Episcopal Church on Goliad Street. The bid by the church was $2,000 an acre. Appearing on behalf of the church were Fred Doelp and Conny D. Wade.

PLOT DISCUSSED

A plot of land lying between Fifth and Sixth Streets owned by the Salvation Army was brought into the discussion. Capt. James Jay, post commander, and R. H. Weaver, attorney, discussed leasing the property to the school.

The Salvation Army proposal was to lease the property to the school district for 15 years with a 10 year option on renewal in return for accepting any assessments which might be levied upon the property.

Members did not believe the time limitation would be satisfactory and a committee of Floyd Parsons, Dan Krausse and Harold Talbot was appointed to check into the proposition and make suggestions. They are to report on the committee findings at the next meeting.

GIVEN TO Y

The old Lakeview Elementary School building will be donated to the YMCA for use as a Lakeview branch of the Y. The land will be leased for $1, a year and assessments.

The grant will be effective after construction of the new building is completed and the old building is vacated.

The 1962 budget was discussed briefly to acquaint trustees with possible income and expenditures.

No action was taken.

Liquor Credit Case Is Heard

AUSTIN (AP) — The 3rd Court of Civil Appeals heard oral arguments today on the attorney general's appeal against a temporary injunction granted the Diners Club, Inc., against the Liquor Control Board.

Dist. Judge Jack Roberts of Austin granted the injunction last summer. It prevents any action by the liquor board against 26 Texas package stores holding contracts with the Los Angeles-based credit card organization.

The Liquor Control Board alleges that arrangement between the club and the package stores violates state laws against selling liquor on credit. The card organization purchases credit accounts of its members from retail liquor dealers at a 6¼ per cent discount and assumes collections.

The contracts are with stores in Austin, Amarillo, Big Spring, Dallas, Fort Worth, Houston, Odessa, San Antonio and Wichita Falls.

Dies From Fall

WASHINGTON (AP)—Mrs. L. Quincy Mumford, 54, wife of the librarian of Congress, died Tuesday of complications which developed from a fall she suffered in 1959. Her husband, a former director of the Cleveland Public Library, came to Washington in 1954. Mrs. Mumford was born in Branford, Conn.

Lakeview School Building To Be Awarded To YMCA

Trustees of the Big Spring Independent School District approved donation of the Lakeview Elementary building to the YMCA at a special meeting Tuesday night.

The old building will be used by a Lakeview branch of the Y when the new Lakeview addition is completed and the building has been evacuated. It will be renovated under a Dora Roberts Foundation grant.

Property on which the building stands will be leased to the Y for $1 a year and assessments for a 25 year period. It will revert to the school upon termination of Y use.

With the approval by the trustees, preliminary plans for renovation will be instituted, according to Everett Taylor, youth program secretary at the Y.

"This is one of the best things which ever happened for the community," he said.

In a Building Fund Drive, about $1,300 was collected and Taylor felt that with such backing the program should be successful.

The Lakeview branch will act as a separate branch of the Y, but will be under the board of directors of the central YMCA.

Taylor said he hoped the building could be finished by October or November.

A contest to determine the Board of Management for the coming Lakeview branch will begin April 29. About 50 persons have agreed to serve if elected.

Ballots listing their names will be mailed to persons in the community and 15 will be elected. Ballots should be returned by May 6 for counting and determining winners.

Lamesa Deposits Show Increase

LAMESA (SC)—Deposits in Lamesa banks were up considerably over a year ago, but fell short of the all-time level, it was reported in statements of condition issued here recently.

The deposits showed a decline of $2,473,115 from the final recording of 1960 and were listed by the two financial institutions at $20,919,425 on April 12. The all-time record is $23,392,540.

Loans dipped downward from $12,692,268 last December to $9,307,347.

Deposits included $9,213,718 in the First National Bank and $11,705,707 in Lamesa National Bank. Loans at the First were listed at $3,486,861 and at Lamesa National $5,820,486.

City Purchases Four Vehicles

A new pickup truck for the street department, and two motorcycles and a squad car for the police department were authorized on the basis of low bids received at the Tuesday night city commission meeting.

Shasta Ford Sales was low bidder on the half-ton pickup. The bid was $1,817.91, with a trade-in allowance of $295.01, making a net cost of $1,522.90.

Other bids submitted, with gross, trade-in allowance, and net, were: Tidwell Chevrolet, $1,755, $75, and $1,680; Jones Motor Co., Dodge, $1,690, $25, and $1,665.75; Shroyer, GMC, $1,853, $50, and $1,803; Driver Truck and Implement, Co., International, $1,951, $211, and $1,740.

Tidwell Chevrolet submitted the low bid on the squad car for the police department, in which there was no trade-in considered. The bid on the 4-door sedan including special equipment, automatic transmission, alternator for radio, and oversize brakes, was $2,308, with delivery in two weeks. Shasta Ford Sales was second with a bid of $2,411.48, and Jones Motor Co., Dodge, $2,460.50.

A three - wheel motorcycle, for the police department, was bought from Cecil Thixton at $1,655.05. A two-wheel motorcycle was purchased from Thixton for $1,654.80, less 10 per cent. The bid included a trade-in on an old motorcycle now used by the department, allowing $400 for the old machine. The commission chose to pay the net price of $1,489.32 and repair the old machine for use in escort work.

Plaintiff Loses Rail Damage Suit

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP) — A man who alleged he suffered a broken leg when struck by a box car was denied a $185,000 injury claim. The jury also found there was no evidence the plaintiff had been injured.

A 56th District Court jury passed the ruling in Galveston Monday.

N. H. Barker, 54, alleged in his suit against the Santa Fe Railway that he suffered the broken leg while he was walking across tracks at Sweetwater, Tex., Sept. 4, 1958.

Attorneys for the railway submitted evidence to bear out its contention that the accident never occurred.

New School To Be Dedicated

A new school building on the Big Spring State Hospital grounds will be dedicated Thursday at 10 a.m., according to Dr. Preston Harrison, superintendent.

It is a branch of the Big Spring Independent School District and was opened under a program called "Exceptional School for the Emotionally Disturbed."

The new building has two classrooms and currently 13 students are being taught by C. B. Underwood, instructor. The school allows the children to continue their education while they are patients at the hospital.

Participating in the dedication ceremony will be Dr. Frankie Williams, clinical director, Underwood, two students and hospital personnel.

1-Way Street Experiment Comes To An End Monday

One-way streets in downtown Big Spring, except for Third and Fourth streets, will pass into history Sunday morning.

Following one of the recommendations of the Traffic Commission, the Big Spring City Commission Tuesday voted to revert the downtown streets of Scurry, Runnels, Second, and Fifth to two-way traffic.

Tied in with the turn-about was notice that the police department will step up enforcement of traffic violations in this area. Included in this change was the decision to stop right turns on red lights.

NO AUDIENCE

Despite widespread interest in the one-way system and relatively large crowds at Traffic Commission hearings, there was no audience on hand to hear the deliberations of the commission. The large number of extra seats that had been brought into the commission room remained vacant throughout the meeting.

The Traffic Commission recommendation was:

"This Commission believes that during the past six month trial period, the present one-way system has helped eliminate congestion and increased safety downtown, particularly on Scurry and Second streets; however, due to public and merchant reaction obtained in public hearings and a mail survey, this Commission recommends that the city commission take one of the following actions:

"1. Keep one-way traffic (north) on Scurry from Fourth Street to Second Street and on Second (east) from Scurry to Runnels. Eliminate one-way traffic on Runnels and Fifth; or

ELIMINATE

"2. Eliminate all one-way traffic except on Third and Fourth and return to the . . .two-way system."

This recommendation opened the discussion and all commissioners agreed that the present system should be changed.

Commissioner George Zachariah made a motion that recommendation No. 2 be adopted and that right turns on red lights be eliminated. It was seconded by John Stanley.

John Taylor suggested that recommendation No. 1 be given consideration as it was obviously tailored to solve serious congestion problems near the post office and in the bank areas. He pointed out that several merchants on Scurry and Second streets had endorsed the program.

He agreed with Zachariah that the commission should be guided by the desires of the people and listed some of them who desire that it be partially retained.

Voting on Zachariah's motion, the commissioners split, Paul Kasch joining with Taylor against it. Mayor Lee Rogers broke the tie, casting his vote with Zachariah and Stanley.

In the discussion, Zachariah said he believed the merchants would want the system back in a short time. Stanley said he felt the system had been unpopular and that it was largely responsible for his being on the commission.

Bruce Dunn, director of public works, said all the necessary changes to make the switch could be completed by Sunday morning and this was selected as the change-over date.

Although right turns on red signal lights will be stopped, this change will not become effectively immediately. The commission planned to allow for a period of public notice as well as allow time for the necessary signs to be purchased or prepared.

Members of the Traffic Commission on hand for the meeting included George Oldham, chairman, Jack Smith, Joe Leach, Jerry Worthy and Glenn Cootes. The City Commission commended the members in several statements for its hours of work in hearings and studies regarding the problem.

House Members Begin Debate On Money Bill

AUSTIN (AP)—House members fought off delaying tactics today and began an expected day-long job of spending $380 million from a state treasury that is currently $100 million in the red.

Efforts to postpone debate on the Senate- approved appropriations bill (SB1) until Friday morning failed, 98-33.

Defeat of the motion by Rep. Tom James of Dallas apparently cleared the way for debate Friday of a corporation income tax measure (HB960) written as a companion piece to the retail sales tax (HB727) now in the Senate.

"We are confronted today with a catalogue," James said of the 4½-pound bill handed members Monday. "We need more time to see what is in here and draft amendments."

"Don't you think if we want to get through and go home by May 29 (end of the regular session), we should work today?" asked Rep. B. R. Dewey of Bryan.

Rep. James Cotten of Weatherford, head of the House Appropriations Committee, reminded James that he voted Monday against setting the bill for special debate Friday.

Rep. Ray Bartram of New Braunfels reminded Cotten that Cotten voted against the entire appropriations bill in the 1959 Legislature.

"Now let's get down to work," said Speaker James Turman after James' motion was tabled.

The proposed revision of the Senate spending bill calls for expenditures in 1962-1963 of about $380 million from the general revenue fund and total spending of more than $2.5 billion from all funds, including federal grants.

The Senate meanwhile gathered again under the threat of another day of filibustering.

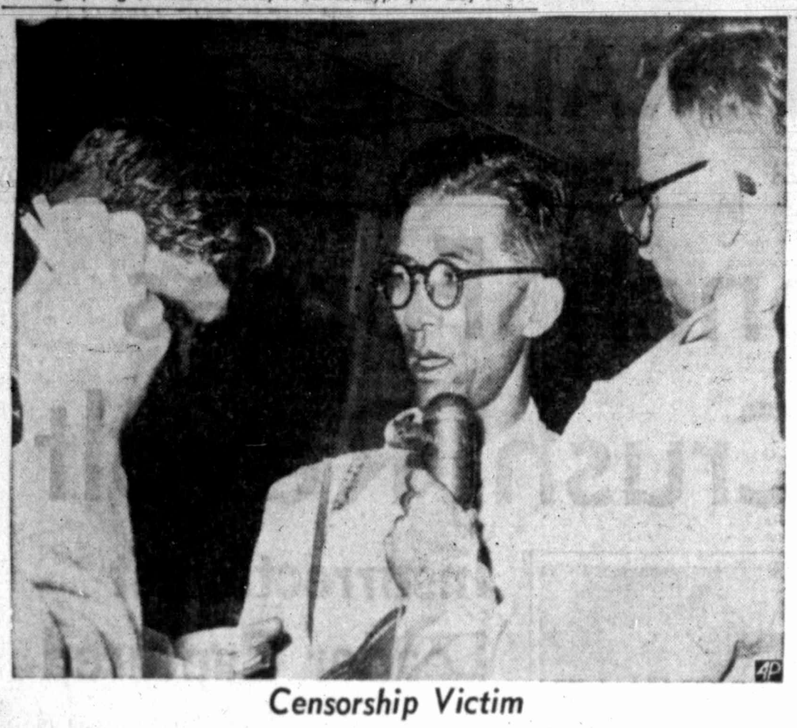

The filibuster that tied up Senate action about 20 hours Monday and Tuesday effectively bottled up action on a bill that would add the University of Houston to the list of state supported colleges. A similar measure has been approved by the House.

Shortly before 11 p.m. Tuesday both teams of senators agreed to recess until 11 a.m. today with no indication of any compromise.

Sen. Bob Baker, sponsor of the bill (SB2), said he hopes the Senate will agree to come back to the measure Friday instead of quitting Thursday for the weekend. Baker's supporters contend the state should take over the school of 11,000 students in the fast-growing and highly industrialized coastal area.

Sens. William Moore, Bryan, and Hubert Hudson, Brownsville, furnished most of Baker's opposition Tuesday. Sen. Wardlow Lane, Center, aided them with lengthy questions. They argue the state is hard pressed to meet the financial needs of existing state colleges without obligating the state to the additional $11 million a biennium cost estimated for the University of Houston.

Baker's bill was not up today and Thursday because Senate rules call for consideration of House-approved bills on those days.

Censorship Victim

Kinji Kawamura, correspondent for Asahi News Agency of Tokyo, Japan, tells reporters at Idlewild Airport in New York that censorship drove him out of Cuba. He said stories are deleted and correspondents are detained. Kawamura arrived aboard the first Cuban airliner to reach New York since the invasion of Cuba. He said he saw many Czech technicians in Havana.

Force Against Castro Seen As A Last Resort

What are the chances of the United States using military force against Fidel Castro's Cuban regime? John M. Hightower, veteran AP diplomatic affairs specialist, reports in the following dispatch that the employment of force as a last resort reportedly is one of several plans being considered for dealing with the Cuban crisis.

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Kennedy administration is reported to be considering possible use of military force against the Castro regime in Cuba if other means eventually fail to put an end to the island's pro-Communist rule.

Employment of force as a last resort is said to be one of several plans under study here for dealing with the Cuban crisis. Others include the application of political and economic sanctions against Cuba through joint action with Latin American allies.

Some officials believe that as the situation develops following the unsuccessful rebel invasion last week, other American governments might ultimately be be willing to participate even in military operations against Castro. The United States is trying to convince them through diplomatic consultation that Cuba as a Communist base is a threat to the entire Western Hemisphere.

NO DECISION

None of the possible lines of anti-Castro actions under consideration by President Kennedy are near firm decision.

They include:

Naval blockade — In Kennedy's view this would be an act of war and probably not a very effective move since a blockade is aimed at strangling a nation slowly.

Economic embargo — a partial embargo already is in effect. The greatest single diplomatic disadvantage of a total embargo is that it would subject the United States to propaganda charges of starving the Cuban people. Cuba now can buy foodstuffs and medicines from the United States.

Another anti-Castro operation by Cuban refugees—some authorities think such an action might still be the way out for the United States if the operation could be properly organized and supported on a large scale.

PLEASED

Kennedy reportedly is pleased with the success he has thus far achieved in rallying bipartisan political support for a tough and determined U. S. anti-Castro policy.

The latest evidence, this support came Tuesday from Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York, a Republican party leader, who had just conferred with Kennedy for an hour.

"I think it is time for all Americans to stand united behind the President in support of whatever action becomes necessary to defend freedom," Rockefeller said.

Rockefeller expressed the view that the presence of Castro in Cuba, considered in the light of world developments generally, has threatened the security of the United States.

NEW MEANING

His view appeared to give fresh meaning to a statement which Kennedy made in a speech last Thursday to the American Society of Newspaper Editors. He said then that if the inter-American doctrine of non-interference in the internal affairs of another country became merely an excuse for lack of action, the United States government "will not hesitate" to protect the security "of our own nation."

Prior to his meeting with Rockefeller, Kennedy had conferred with former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon. Eisenhower said the country should support the President, who has the responsibility for determining policy. Nixon, in advance of his White House call last week, also had spoken of supporting the President.

OTHER BACKING

Words of backing also were relayed from former President Harry S. Truman, Eisenhower's Democratic predecessor, by Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson. After meeting with Truman in Kansas City Tuesday Johnson said Truman supports a "course of courage" in the handling of world crises.

In his talks with the leaders of both major political parties Kennedy is reported to have sought their advice on possible future U.S. actions toward Cuba. He also provided them with information on the collapse of the Cuban rebel assault.

The President also is understood to have discussed with them a number of other world trouble spots, including Laos and its Southeast Asian neighbor, Viet Nam.

PRESSURE

There is increasing belief here that the imposition of a cease-fire in Laos—agreed to by Britain and the Soviet Union—will be followed by an increase in Communist pressures on the pro-Western government of South Viet Nam.

In fact, authorities here are deeply concerned about the outlook for both Laos and Viet Nam. Even with an end to the Laotian fighting, they expect the Communist rebels will use every device of political pressure and subversion to continue their campaign to take over the country.

Cuba To Halt TV Quizzing Of Prisoners

KEY WEST, Fla. (AP)—Fidel Castro's regime announced today it will halt the televised parade of captured invaders, who soon may march before his firing squads.

The last public interrogation was set for tonight after a session in which the son of an anti-Castro leader told his captors he was duped about chances of the April 17 invasion but that it was not his father who deceived him.

The son of Manuel Antonio de Varona conceded in a telecast monitored at Key West that he was deceived when told the Cuban people would rise against Castro.

NO REPLY

He made no reply when asked if he knew "your father has asked for the open intervention of the United States with its submarines, with it invading troops."

The elder De Varona is a member of the Revolutionary Council which coordinated the invasion.

Young De Varona, wearing hornrimmed eyeglasses, argued spiritedly with interrogators. He asked them if they felt so certain about a public's support of the Castro regime, why did they not hold an election.

While Cuban inquisitors peppered the invasion captives with loaded questions before TV cameras, the first airline passengers arriving in Florida since the conflict were wary in expressing themselves as thankful they were able to leave Cuba.

RAN OFF

Most of 86 persons who got off a plane at Miami were Cuban nationals. Some of them scurried away from newsmen seeking interviews. Others refused to identify themselves when telling of life in Cuba under active war conditions.

An old man said "we come from hell."

A 14-year-old girl, who said her name was Sophia, clutched a rag doll and told of hearing bombs in Havana.

An elderly man started to talk with newsmen but a woman yanked his arm, shouting "no, no" and pulled him away.

A Havana TV quiz witness named Pablo who claimed he was forced to work for the U.S. Central Intelligence Agency, said an aide of CIA Director Allen Dulles 15 days in the invasion failed.

FRANCO AIDE?

Another witness said he was Ismael de Lugo, a Spanish priest who once fought for Gen. Francisco Franco. He told interrogators the Capuchin Order in Rome ordered him to "perform my spiritual duties" for the invaders.

De Lugo's left arm was bandaged in a sling. He said it hurt from a shrapnel wound suffered during the attack on the Cuban south coast.

Candido Mora Morales said he had been a congressman during the regime of Fulgencio Batista. He said also he is a brother of Menelao Morales, who was killed in an attempt to assassinate Batista.

Tuesday night's 14 witnesses brought to 425 the total of captives questioned since Friday over the Cuban national television and radio network. The Castro government claimed more than 1,000 invaders have been captured.

Key Factor In Conviction

DALLAS (AP)—The testimony of a witness that she heard a shot over the telephone was a key factor in the conviction of Troy Lee Webb, 22, of murder.

Webb admitted firing the bullet, but said he did so when he saw Roy Gene Sample, 22, and Webb's estranged wife "heading for a bedroom" arm-in-arm. Sample died of a .22 caliber bullet in the chest.

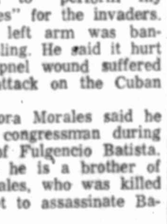

Other witnesses testified Mrs. Webb was on the front porch playing cards and at the time of the shooting last Aug. 26 she was talking on the telephone. They said Sample was seated inside the house with the Webbs' 3-month-old child at his side.

Under Texas law Mrs. Webb could not testify in a trial in which her husband was a defendant.

But Mrs. Roberta Pitts, a friend, testified she held a 15-minute telephone conversation with Mrs. Webb that ended with a "shot, a scream, then feet running and silence."

The jury deliberated 45 minutes Tuesday before returning a guilty verdict and recommendation of a 99-year sentence.

NEGLECTED TO PRAY

By T. H. Tarbet, preacher
Church of Christ, West Highway 80
P.O. Box 1383.

"Moreover as for me, God forbid that I should sin against the Lord in ceasing to pray for you . . ." (I Sam. 12:23).

May it not be said that we who are the children of God have neglected to pray. This temptation is great because we are so busy; but it is imperative that we take time to be holy.

"I exhort therefore, that, first of all, supplications, prayers, intercessions, and giving of thanks be made for all men; for kings, and for all that are in authority; that we may lead a quiet and peaceable life in all godliness and honesty." (I Tim. 2:1, 2.)

By the authority of Phil. 4:6, we pray for the sick. In fact we have a time designated every Thursday evening for inviting prayer requests. We do not confuse this with the miracles of healing wrought in the days of the Apostles; but we believe in praying.

In these times, the rulers of the nations especially need our prayers. Let us not sin against the Lord by ceasing to pray.

DEAR ABBY

Better Check On His Line

DEAR ABBY: I stopped a man on the street and asked him for directions. (I was new in town.) He walked me to where I was going, as it wasn't very far. We struck up a friendship. That was two years ago. I won't go into detail, but now we are very much in love. Abby, he says he has no family at all. No sisters, brothers, parents, nobody! He never talks about his job, his past or his co-workers. He says he "sells." We sometimes talk of marriage but nothing definite. I am 27 and he is 34. Is it possible that he can have not one relative or friend or co-worker?

GIRL ALONE

DEAR GIRL: Possible, yes. Probable, no. Find out what he sells, for whom and then check on him. It could be a "line" you don't want.

* * *

DEAR ABBY: I have been going steady for a year now, and it is getting close to the engagement stage. I am 19 and my "problem" is 20. When we go out on a date, we usually stop to get something to eat on the way home.

He always orders a hamburger WITH ONIONS. When we say goodnight, all I can smell are onions. Could you suggest something?

ONION HATER

DEAR ONION HATER: Tell your friend that when he orders a hamburger, he should "hold the onions" if he would "hold his girl."

* * *

DEAR ABBY: We have a 22-year-old niece whose pet dog recently died. No one can talk to her. She is in another world. She refuses to eat, and she cries all night. We are afraid she's losing her mind. We try to tell her that 12 years is a full life for a dog, but she says hers could have lived to be 20. She even talks of committing suicide. We have had humans die in this family and she never took it so hard. How can we help her get over it? Don't suggest a puppy. We bought her one and she wouldn't even look at it.

WORRIED AUNT

DEAR WORRIED: All pet owners suffer some heartache at the loss of a cherished pet, but your niece has gone off the deep end. An emotionally mature, healthy person adjusts to such a loss. She needs professional help — and NOW!

* * *

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I recently attended the wedding reception of a friend. We took a very special gift. But the thank you note we received was for the wrong gift. Should we let it go or should we let them know what our gift to them was?

MRS. M.

DEAR MRS. M.: By all means, let them know. Good-humoredly, of course.

* * *

Yes, Abby will answer your letter personally if you write to ABBY, Box 3365, Beverly Hills, Calif., and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Jews Complain No Cooperation In Tracking Nazis

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —The World Jewish Congress charged Tuesday that Interpol—the international criminal police organization—has refused to try to track down Nazis accused of crimes against humanity.

The congress submitted a complaint to a council of nongovernmental organizations which hears statements and makes them a part of the records of the U.N. Economic and Social Council.

Dr. Maurice L. Perlzweig, international affairs chief of the congress, coupled his complaint with the charge that governments were refusing to extradite war criminals on the grounds that they are political refugees.

Death Penalty Ban Voted Down

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—California's assembly Tuesday voted down a four-year moratorium on capital punishment and then overwhelmingly defeated a bill to abolish the death penalty.

Outright repeal was voted down 54-24. The moratorium bill failed on a 40-40 tie.

Negro Girl, 10, Expecting Baby

MEMPHIS, Tenn. (AP)—A 10-year-old Negro girl has entered City Hospital to await the birth of a baby expected next month.

The child, identified on hospital records as Dolores Smith, is married to an 18-year-old farm laborer, relatives said. They live in Mason, a rural west Tennessee area.

The youngest mother on record was a Peruvian girl who gave birth to twins when she was 5.

Sunburn And Hair In Medical News

By The Associated Press

Tips on sunburn, canker sores, and hair figure in medical news:

Sun Bathing

You can get a worse sunburn in May than in August.

In North America, the sun's rays reach maximum intensity June 21. So the intensity is stronger in mid-May than late August. As for sunbathing in general, experts warn that chronic over-exposure to the sun is a major factor in producing skin cancer.

Canker Sores

Canker sores can frequently be prevented, or relieved, by eliminating certain foods from the diet, a medical team finds.

They learned some victims of canker sores were sensitive to foods containing citric acid, including citrus juices and chocolate, and other persons to acetic acid contained in vinegar, pickled foods and salads. An allergy may be responsible. Sensitivity tests can spot the offending food.

Tips On Hair

Many women complain their hair is falling out at an excessive rate. One reason can be too much stretching and pulling on the hair for "high" or other fashionable coiffeurs, says a medical journal report.

An expert on cosmetics warns against using household detergents which can irritate sensitive areas of the scalp, or cause damage to the eyes.

Jet Age Health

Modern man zips about at high speed from one climate to another in a few hours. Artificial light turns night into day. He moves through sudden changes of temperature, from air-conditioning to summer's broiling heat. A vacation can turn winter into spring.

In all this, man is far removed from the environment in which he evolved, with its regularity of time, light, temperature, and geographical location.

Maybe such changes are producing some diseases of civilization, suggests Dr. Rene Dubos, Rockefeller Institute scientist. He urges a new approach in medical research to explore the effects of new forces, new substances, and new stimuli upon humans.

Dizzy Spell Cure

Ultrasonic waves — pitched too high for human hearing—can often overcome the dizzy spells which mark Meniere's disease, reports Dr. Frank Altmann of New York City.

Meniere's disease is usually caused by a malfunction of the inner ear, and the remedy for the dizzy sensations is to destroy a certain part of the inner ear.

The ultrasonic waves do this without causing any loss in hearing ability, as does happen often in surgery, he reports. The ultrasonic technique rarely overcomes noises in the ear—another symptom of Meniere's disease — but neither does surgery.

Washington Never Lied —And He Stayed Here

TAMPA, Fla. (AP) — Immigration officials think they are rid of Angel Molina, 15, who gave them a hectic time.

He arrived here Wednesday as a stowaway from the Canary Islands aboard the Colombian ship Azurlite. At first he said he was a Cuban refugee seeking asylum. Later he gave six other versions of how he happened to be here. When none of those tales proved acceptable he made a dash for freedom but soon was caught.

The Azurlite sailed for South America late Monday and Molina is believed to have gone with it.

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—Give it back to the Indians?

Mayor Bruce Hoblitzell wants to turn over part of Iroquois Park to one or two Indian families this summer to set up a village.

He thinks it would lend atmosphere to the outdoor drama, "Bound for Kentucky," scheduled July 3-Aug. 12 in the park's amphitheatre. The story deals with the founding of Louisville by George Rogers Clark in 1778.

Paying Samaritan

SARASOTA, Fla. (AP) — A young man went to the police station intent on helping officers clear up a mistake. It cost him $50.

Peter Joseph Haden, 24, told the police he was not in jail on a charge of driving while intoxicated, but that it was a friend who had been using Haden's name.

"How did it happen?" inquired Lt. Luther Legette.

Haden said the jailed man had borrowed Haden's car, which had Haden's driver's license in the glove compartment. In response to another question, Haden admitted he knew his friend had no driver's license.

Legette replied: "You are under arrest for allowing an unlicensed driver to operate a motor vehicle. Bond will be $50."

Dr. Waldron Is TMA Chief

GALVESTON, Tex. (AP)—Dr. George W. Waldron of Houston is the new president-elect of the Texas Medical Association.

He was elected Tuesday night at the closing session of the association's House of Delegates and will assume the presidency at the 1962 convention.

Dr. Harvey Renger of Hallettsville, who has been president-elect, succeeded Dr. May Owen, the first woman ever to be president of the association.

Other officers elected were Dr. May Tenery of Waxahachie, vice president; Dr. James Murphy of Fort Worth, speaker of the House, and Dr. Max Cole of Dallas, vice speaker.

The house of delegates also voted to increase the board of trustees from 4 to 7 members. New members elected were Dr. J. B. Copeland of San Antonio, Dr. C. E. Willingham of Tyler and Dr. Charles P. Hardwick of Austin.

Revenue Fund Deficit Is Lower

AUSTIN (AP)—The deficit in the state Revenue Fund slipped under the $100 million mark during the past two weeks, the state treasurer reports.

The deficit was $99,985,073 at the close of business Monday, the treasurer said.

On April 7, the last warrant call, the red-ink figure stood at $103,116,877 and two weeks before it stood at $155 million.

A Devotional For Today

Jesus answered the Sadducees, "You are wrong, because you know neither the scriptures nor the power of God." (Matthew 22:29. RSV.)

PRAYER: Our Father, incline our attention to reading Thy Word regularly and to meditating on it so that we may know the Scriptures and feel the power of Thy spirit surging through us. Save us from having our lives come out wrong because we do not study and follow the pattern we have in Christ. In His name. Amen.

(From The 'Upper Room')

Credit Can Be A Great Blessing

Mr. Micawber's advice to young Copperfield still pretty sound economics, but under our modern system of credit, it is possible to budget the future for current enjoyment.

In essence Mr. Micawber's analysis that 20 pounds of income, 20 pounds of expense results in happiness, whereas 19 pounds of income and 20 pounds of expense results in misery.

This is still the danger in a day when credit may be had easily by those who deserve it. Too often, business operators or credit managers will make or encourage sales without sitting down to analyze an individual's circumstance. Too often, individuals have eyes only for what they want and not for what they make. It is not, therefore, at all difficult go broke on credit; in fact, you can go broke easier and faster and further than most any way we know.

Credit, however, is not to blame. The trouble lies with those who grant it and those who use it. Through our arrangements which will permit us to purchase household goods, automobiles, houses and even vacations and spread the cost over a period of time, most of us are able to budget a sufficient portion of monthly income to balance matters. Meanwhile, we enjoy the benefits, conveniences and pleasures now while we are paying for these things. Left to our own management, few of us could save enough to do these things, and if we did, as in the case of a house, we might be too old to enjoy them.

Credit is a good thing, but it must be handled with respect and honor. Like fire, it can be a great blessing, or it can be devastating; which lies within the hands of the individual.

Annual Uneasy Period

"High drying winds have sapped top moisture and slowed plant growth and seed bed preparation from the blacklands westward," according to the weekly crop report of the U. S. Department of Agriculture. "Need for rain is greatest in south central and western areas" of Texas.

Unfortunately, the USDA is so right. The summation certainly hits the nail squarely on the head for our region. Except for the irrigated belts, very little planting can be attempted unless and until we obtain a good rain to furnish top moisture.

About this time of the year we seem to fall into a vicious weather cycle—it won't stop blowing until it rains, and it can't rain until it stops blowing. Thus, there is a certain inherent uneasiness until something happens to break the cycle and we actually get a crop into the ground.

While there is a natural concern from this time forward, there is no great cause for alarm. Actually, from this time until the middle of May is about the ideal time for planting; to the end of May and even the middle of June is not critical. Thus we have a period of grace, and, unless there are too many more of these high, dry winds, we will have the added advantage of a good sub-soil seasoning. Meantime, it is the rancher who is hurting, for his copious weed crop is playing out and he needs a rain to bring on the grass.

GIVE A MAN ENOUGH ROPE—

Time To Close Ranks On Cuban Issue

WASHINGTON—Maybe it's time to urge the petty politicians to lay off each other and recognize the seriousness of the Cuban situation. For it's serious in more respects than one.

It's not important to look back just to assess blame, political or otherwise. It is more important to learn from the past and then go ahead decisively.

To understand what's been going on here, it is necessary to say that President Eisenhower and his advisers felt more than a year ago that it was desirable to encourage the Cuban exiles who wanted to liberate their homeland. Vice President Nixon and others participated in those discussions. Some people in the State Department dragged their feet and kept urging all the reasons why no help should be given. Division of opinion was responsible for many months of delay. Meanwhile, the Communists intensified their help to Castro.

WHEN THE PRESIDENTIAL campaign got under way, it became necessary for President Eisenhower to take Sen. Kennedy into his confidence and tell him what was taking place. There was no dissent by Mr. Kennedy but an eagerness to find out what was being developed to hasten the exit of Fidel Castro from the scene. Discussion of dangers and pitfalls became prolonged at various levels of government here and caused Vice President Nixon, for instance, to become impatient as he urged that the plan be carried out promptly. But it proved to be a bigger undertaking than anyone had foreseen. Also, the political campaign itself acted as an inevitable roadblock to action.

When President Kennedy came into office, he could have stopped the whole enterprise. He was urged to do so by some of his inexperienced advisers who said a lot about "prestige" in Europe, Asia and Africa, and expressed fears about Latin-American opinion and over what Mr. Khrushchev might do. President Kennedy rose above the bickerings of his advisers and decided to stay with the original plan. He is being wholeheartedly commended for this by former Vice President Nixon.

NOW, IT SO happens that Secretary Udall of the Interior Department made a comment on television last Sunday which aroused the ire of Senate Republican leader Dirksen and others. Mr. Udall was asked if the American people today support "this kind of American involvement in an attack on Castro." The secretary replied:

"Well, I don't think there is any doubt but that they do. The fascinating thing about this particular business is that here was a plan conceived by one administration—this, from all I can find out, began over a year ago and President Eisenhower directed it. And here the actual plan was carried out under a successor administration. I certainly think the attitude of the former President, of Mr. Nixon, and of these other people is indicative of the fact that we do stand together as a people and that whether what we did was right or wrong, that there is national unity on questions like these."

Perhaps Mr. Udall was trying to bolster national unity, but his off-the-cuff remarks came to be construed as critical of the preceding administration. He expressed regret afterward that this had happened.

ACTUALLY, ONE GOOD purpose is served by examining in retrospect what did happen. For obviously there were some weaknesses revealed. It's no secret that the United States hasn't been equipped to carry on guerrilla warfare. Also, it is well known that Mr. Nixon had been recommending right along that the Central Intelligence Agency confine itself to information-gathering and that it be relieved of any responsibility for guiding guerrilla operations. For this is largely a military problem. One result of the discussions has been a determination by President Kennedy to strengthen America's facilities for helping guerrilla operations on our side, especially since the Soviets specialize in that sort of thing nowadays. He has asked Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor to study the problem and recommend a plan of operations for the future.

A lack of coordination is inevitable when one administration goes out and another comes in. Theoretical discussions about the "transition period" are helpful, but they cannot become a substitute for actual experience. The United States "changed horses in mid-stream" and is today paying the penalty for it. Next time a presidential election comes up, some serious thought will have to be given to a system that will preserve the continuity of operations on the world front irrespective of who is the victor in the contest for electoral votes.

ONE THING IS CLEAR. Mr. Castro will make the mistake of his life if he thinks the so-called "failure" of the invaders last week will gain him anything in the long run. Mass executions will only intensify the drive to undermine his regime, and it could possibly involve the use of American military forces soon if the present Havana government continues to maltreat Americans and seize their properties. The days of Castro are numbered. In the not-far-distant future, the sequel to the "invasion" will come, and there will be a different story to tell.

Well, Alright, But Somebody Goofed

WASHINGTON (AP)—So many key men in the Kennedy administration got under the cloak of anonymity these past few days it looked like a tent.

But it makes you punchy when an authoritative source, who won't let his name be used, is contradicted by a high official who can't be named.

It started late last week when reporters began asking why the Cuban invasion failed so miserably.

They talked to one of the most important men around Kennedy. But he didn't want to be identified. So an "authoritative source" was quoted as saying:

1. Former President Dwight D. Eisenhower and former Vice President Richard M. Nixon encouraged President Kennedy to go ahead with plans for the invasion.

2. United States intelligence was faulty in its reports on how much armament Fidel Castro had and the likelihood of a hoped-for Cuban uprising.

PRETTY SOON Andrew Hatcher, Kennedy's assistant press secretary, issued a statement which denied part, but not all, of what the "authoritative source" had said.

Hatcher denied Kennedy and Eisenhower had discussed the invasion before the inauguration. But he didn't deny U.S. intelligence fell on its face.

On Monday a top-ranking official, who said he couldn't be identified by name, told newspaper editors: U.S. intelligence was away off the beam on Cuba.

He said:

1. The Cuban underground and U.S. intelligence miscalculated the amount of arms Castro had and the degree of support Cubans would give the invasion.

2. U.S. intelligence was caught short when the French generals revolted in Algeria.

On Tuesday, talking to the same group of editors, another high official in the Kennedy administration, refusing to let his name be used, said:

1. The CIA correctly and accurately reported Castro's military power and the temper of the Cuban people before the invasion began.

2. The CIA also knew about the discontent of French generals in Algeria but not about the decision to revolt because that apparently was decided on suddenly.

THIS SAME HIGH official later told reporters it was understood that the initial Cuban invasion, if to be successful, had to be sustained a while before the Cuban people could be expected to respond with an uprising.

Since it wasn't sustained and collapsed in a hurry, this anonymous official was asked who was to blame for not sustaining it.

The official wouldn't say, although it would seem he was hitting at the Navy, whose chief of operations is Adm. Arleigh Burke.

Career Woman's Onus

NEW YORK (AP)—Remarks a career woman gets tired of hearing:

"After all, she's married to her job."

"Sometimes, don't you feel you'd like to chuck it all for a husband and a home?"

"And now it is my pleasure to introduce to you Miss Nell Grapple, a pioneer in our field who, as you all know, was among the first women in our industry to—"

"It's not only that she knows the business inside out. To hire a man with half her brains would cost us twice as much."

"I'm sorry, ma'am, we don't serve unescorted ladies at the bar."

"Miss, that is your third one. How about taking a look at the menu?"

"Let her pick up the tab. What if she is a woman? She's got a bigger expense account allowance than any man in the office."

"What do you do with all the money you make?"

"I know I'm talking rough, and you'll have to excuse my language. But I've always thought of you as one of the boys."

"Gee, I don't know the answer to that one. You'd better ask Miss Grapple. She was in the company when Abe Lincoln was chasing ambulances in a buggy."

"Frankly, Miss Grapple, we think the titian tint makes you look a bit haggard. We recommend in your case our new tint, glamorine-gray, which is specifically designed to accentuate your mature youthfulness—and at the same time point out that here is a person of responsibility."

"I'm glad you've agreed to come to the office picnic, Miss Grapple. You'll be a real force in keeping it from getting out of hand."

"You wouldn't believe it, looking at her now, but I can remember when she came to work with a ribbon in her hair."

"Would you mind taking up a collection in the office for Judy, who joined us last month: She's getting married."

"We have to face facts, Miss Grapple. Our gross has dropped off three months in a row. We'll have to cut our personnel 10 per cent, and since you are single—"

"Why, Nell Grapple, what a surprise! I haven't seen you since college. Meet my husband, George. What have you been doing all these years? Having fun, I hope."

"The thing I often wonder about you career women is: Who zippers up the back of your dress when you go out of an evening—the elevator operator?"

"Actually, our size 14 is cut tight and is the same as size 10 in the less expensive shops. I would recommend size 14. You'll feel more comfortable—and your girdle won't show."

"Gee, Aunt Nell, I appreciate your present so much. You do too much for me. I wish you had a daughter of your own. You are a wonderful person. Any girl would be lucky to have you for a mother."

Irritants Can Cause Heart To Skip

By JOSEPH G. MOLNER, M. D.

"Dear Dr. Molner: What causes heart beats to skip? Is there any cure? Will it damage the heart? Is it considered organic?—Mrs. U. H."

Ordinarily we are so used to the beating of the heart that we don't notice or have an awareness of it. Maybe because of excitement, or heavy exercise, we notice the difference—a pounding of the heart. Or lying with ear pressed against a pillow you can hear, or at any rate, sense the pulse sometimes.

However, under some conditions the customary smooth rhythm of the heart can be disrupted. Then we notice it! An extra impulse, or beat, is thrown in, followed by a pause, very brief, of course. This is what we sense as a "skip," although it really isn't. It's just a variation in the usually regular timing.

The commonest causes are some irritants to the heart muscle. Coffee, tea and tobacco are the principal ones. Moderate amounts as a rule won't have any such effect, but excessive ones can. And to be included are excessive amounts of "cola" drinks, because of the caffein.

When I say "excessive," I can't be specific. Lots of coffee and inveterate smoking will not affect some hearts, but only a few smokes or a few cups will irritate others. People are different.

As for organic causes, hyperthyroidism, or overactivity of the thyroid gland, is a familiar offender. It usually increases the heart rate, and the heart muscle can become irritated as a result. Then it is susceptible to these extra beats, or "skipping."

Patients who have had heart attacks are especially prone to these extra beats, so for them tobacco and caffein should be avoided if used to a degree that produces heart irritability.

Curing these "skips" or extra beats? First determine whether any organic heart disease exists. After that, check habits as to use of tobacco, tea, coffee or other caffein drinks. Simply reducing such irritation helps. Then, if need be, check for hyperthyrodism—"skipping" from this usually occurs when you are at rest, and activity eliminates it.

Ordinarily the extra beats are harmless if there is no underlying heart disease. With a heart that has had real trouble, the extra beats may throw enough added strain onto the already injured organ to be of significance.

"Dear Dr. Molner: Please write about coffee and its effect, if any, on the kidneys. Is it preferable to drink tea?—Mrs. C. J."

Both coffee and tea contain caffein, and caffein is a stimulant to brain, heart, kidneys. Stimulants in moderation aren't harmful, of course.

The amount of caffein in this beverage depends on the source of the coffee bean, and on the amount of steeping of the tea. It would be possible, therefore, to make tea that's weaker in caffein than coffee, or vice versa.

The choice is one of taste and convenience. Excessive use of either may in some people cause nervousness, wakefulness, irregularities of heart rhythm, and frequent urination.

I decline to take sides between tea and coffee. Either is fine if used within the amounts that suit your physiology.

"Dear Dr. Molner: I am a diabetic and take medication for it. Is there anything I can take to gain a little weight? I am in my early 60's, five feet two, and did weigh 145 about five years ago. Now I weigh 119.—Mrs. R. C."

With diabetes, you are better off at the lower weight. Come to think of it, you're doubtless better off even without diabetes. That's a very good weight for your age and height.

How to get rid of leg cramps and foot pains? The answer may be simple. Write to Dr. Molner in care of The Big Spring Herald for a copy of his leaflet, "How To Stop Leg Cramps and Foot Pains," inclosing a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope and 5 cents in coin to cover cost of printing and handling.

More Important Duty

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—As firemen dashed into her house, Mrs. Wilbur Holleman dashed out. She said she didn't know exactly where the fire was but that she would be back shortly.

Later, she explained she was hurrying to the airport to greet Dr. Eugenio Plaza, deputy permanent Italian representative to the U.N.

When she and Plaza returned to the house, Mrs. Holleman surveyed the damage and Dr. Plaza gave autographs to firemen.

Around The Rim

Another Kind Of Badge

One of the sure-fire gimmics in magazine row is to write an article about a state. If it is favorable, the item will be picked up here and there; if it is unfavorable it draws vitriolic notes to the magazine, the local the bait and forthwith clean the news stands of every available copy. While their bile is thus stirred, a few will pen vitrolic notes to the magazine, the local paper or whomsoever they can conjure as a recipient.

The latest to employ this device is Mr. Russell Lynes, managing editor of Harper's Magazine, in which some pretty-fair digs have been taken at our fair state with fair results. Things must be well with Harpers these days, for Mr. Lynes diatribe (restricted mainly to the architectural realm) is as mild as soothing syrup. Nevertheless, a few excerpts from the May issue:

"I WAS LESS interested in what Texas culture is like now than in what it used to be like 75 years ago, a time when culture everywhere in America was gaudier and in some respects less self-conscious . . . I saw both sorts, and essentially there is very little difference between what went on then and what goes on now . . . 'What they don't understand here,' an English woman now living in Dallas said to me in Austin, 'Texans have a terrible inferiority complex. They're terribly touchy' . . . almost as touchy as Americans.

"One has that feeling not just because of one's own provincialism but because Texans exploit it. In Texas you are never allowed for a minute to forget that you are in Texas, the sovereign state with a history that you are constantly reminded is the history of Texas and not the history of part of the United States. Highway signs are cutouts in the shape of the state . . . The sombrero is the common Texas badge . . . The Texan wears it out of Texas primarily so that you'll know him for what he is.

"CULTURALLY, TEXANS are in the import business, not the export business. Their local pride seems to be not in what they create, but what they can attract and having attracted it, how they can put their stamp on it.

"Texans (architecturally) are a little more embarrassed by their 19th century extravagances than many other parts of the country . . . Someday I suspect, Texas is going to be sorry that it has bulldozed its delightful houses of the 1830s out of existence. They aren't quite old enough yet to be considered historical, and by the time they are, it will be too late. Some proud Texan who cares about Texas history and who has some cash and imagination . . . ought to hire a good architectural photographer with an eye for the original, the unique, and the lively to get these buildings on film before many more of them disappear and he should get the University Press in Austin to publish a book of them."

"County courthouses once must have been the best port barrels in Texas . . . rising about the town square like the cathedral in a town in France . . . almost invariably square symmetrical structure with cupolas on its four corners, columns by its four entrances and some sort of center tower on top . . . The voice of Texas culture today is not very different from that of its courthouse architecture."

SO MUCH FOR the excerpts. Mr. Lynes should be told about E. M. (Buck) Schweitz's excellent book (University Press) of sketches on Texas architecture. He also should be told that the press release sent out by his magazine is (unless my advance copy was wholly inaccurate or woefully incomplete) about as distorted a piece of information as I have seen. The four paragraphs of quotes in the piece designed to ballyhoo sales of the magazine do not appear in the article we received. Maybe that's some sort of Madison Avenue badge.

Everything But Nero's Fiddle

WASHINGTON—Ironically, the Senate was debating penny-ante amendments to the minimally-important minimum wage bill while the United States was losing a critical battle in the Caribbean—losing it by default.

IT IS NOW clear that President Kennedy gambled for a bargain-counter, closed-circuit overthrow of Castro—gambled and lost. The President evidently thought he could win back Cuba for the West by supporting a Richard Harding Davis filibuster of political outcasts, their ranks padded by adventurers—but it was a plot without a hero. There was nothing in the stuffed shirt character of Jose Miro Cardona, nominal leader of the Revolutionary Front, to inspire Cuban patriots to run outdoors and fight—so they stayed home in droves. I doubt if American history will show any such previous ill-planned, ill-fated, ill-omened fiasco as this.

HAD THE PLOT come off, it would have proved cheaper and cleverer than the honest use of American troops. The false facade of neutrality and isolationism would have been made plausible by success. If the coup had instantly worked, President Kennedy would have looked good as a velvet-gloved artist with an iron fist. But it's doubtful if the trickery, no matter how niftily turned, could have made the United States stand forth as the world champion—which we should be—of decency, democracy, liberty and truth.

Just before the Senators buckled down to the peanut politics of getting or saving their constituencies a few cents on minimum wage, there was a slight, by-the-by reference to the enormous event of this American defeat. Javits of New York and Cooper of Kentucky called attention to the rules of hemispheric defense almost as if they were discussing croquet.

JAVITS: "This (presidential) statement is based both upon . . . the Monroe Doctrine . . . and . . . the Rio Pact."

Cooper: "We hope that the other Latin American States will fulfil their obligations under that (Rio) Treaty. Yet, if that should not occur, then the United States has its own responsibility . . . under the Monroe Doctrine. Our prestige and honor are at stake."

THE EXCHANGE took only a few minutes, in an all-but-empty Senate, for the subject did not seem to rate in importance with minimum wage. Somewhat stunned by this offhand treatment of the nation's fate, I staggered back to the office to re-read the mentioned documents. This, too, was a shaking experience. The Monroe Doctrine, composed by 18th century minds at the close of the Age of Reason, states that European intrusion of the Western Hemisphere would be considered "the manifestation of an unfriendly disposition toward the United States"—in short, an act of hostility.

The Rio Pact, a creation of our age of unrealism, says in Article One that: "The high contracting powers formally condemn war . . ." So there! That ought to make the nasty thing go away.

THE CONTRAST between old-fashioned American thinking and new-fangled internationalism sticks out in these two documents. The Doctrine is a unilateral policy. We have the capability and responsibility for carrying it out. The pact is a 21-nation policy which simply cannot be implemented.

The President, by a word, can set the Doctrine into action. The Rio powers would have to get the United States and 20 Latin American countries to decide in unison how to act—which is a practical impossibility. President Kennedy could invoke the Doctrine and shoot the Communists out of Cuba. By the time the Rio powers could mount a plan, the war in Cuba would be irrevocably lost.

YET, SOMEHOW a policy by one nation is regarded, in our age of unrealism, as inferior to a policy by 21 nations. Speakers and writers are considered profound if they propose that we live by multilateral agreements. Is it because we will do anything, believe anything, endure anything, in order to stay out of war? Is it because we have been made mad by the gods who are about to destroy us? Is it because the Communists have brainwashed so many of our spokesmen that we are intellectually devitalized and as good as dead?

WELL, the historians will have their fun with those questions. Perhaps it will be written that the Democratic welfare package, giving more money for less work among other goodies, so beguiled the statesmen and the people that they played upon it, like Nero's fiddle, amid impending disaster. Perhaps it will be recorded that the end of American nationalism came while prophetic columnists were saying that the United Nations would save us, and that the John Birch Society poses a graver danger than Communism, anyhow.

GE's Problem Of Reputation

SYRACUSE, N.Y. (AP)—The reputation of a business—or business in general—can be a fragile thing. And General Electric officials and stockholders assembled heer today are tackling this problem: How can a damaged reputation be mended?

They all know there has been damage aplenty. And so do a multitude of other business executives. Their employes and their stockholders have had varying degrees of jitters ever since GE and 28 other makers of electrical equipment ran afoul of the anti-trust laws.

IN FEBRUARY, they were fined nearly $2 million after pleading guilty or no contest to charges of price fixing and bid rigging.

Seven officials, three of them GE men, went to jail for 30 days.

The public also is looking over the shoulders of GE executives and stockholders today.

In some quarters, the entire business community's code of ethics has been questioned. Some say that the United States vaunted system of capitalistic and competitive enterprise has been put in a bad light before the world.

The problem is being tackled here in typical American fashion.

THE STOCKHOLDERS are meeting openly asking an accounting, and then voting on the re-election of the 16 directors.

The GE chairman and president, Ralph Cordiner, says the way to mend the company's reputation is to admit the past faults and tighten up regulations and inspections to see that it doesn't happen again.

His critics include James B. Carey, president of the International Union of Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers, who is demanding a vote of censure, without any hope of getting it.

THE FREE-FOR-ALL taking place here at the annual meeting of the GE shareowners has wider implications.

The public has been asking: How could such a widespread law violation go over a period of years?

Those admitting they were in the price-fixing conspiracy apparently accepted it as a way of corporate life. Some of the men who pleaded guilty said that was how one behaved if he wanted to get ahead, or even hold his own, in a big company.

SOME GE stockholders are taking a down-to-earth stand. They are worried about what will happen to company sales, if the furor about past practices isn't silenced.

Others are worried about what will happen to GE's financial future as a result of damage suits growing out of the antitrust sentences.

And the business community in general is worried because some critics have used the case to attack all business standards, to discredit business politically, to talk of punitive laws and more government regulation.

Pre-Pasted Wall Fabrics Are Easy To Apply, If Careful

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Are the new pre-pasted wall fabrics easy to apply?

They are if directions are followed, and the one messy step in wall covering, applying adhesive, is completely erased. It will appeal to the man who doesn't like to get involved with paste when doing a home project, and it is a breeze for the lady of the house who can tell a plumb line when she sees one.

Scissors, brush, bucket, sponge, water and a ladder put you in business. The key to the whole job is wall preparation, a must when any new surface is to be applied.

Wash greasy wall surfaces with ammonia solution, follow with clear water and dry it. Dull any glossy paint surfaces with a paint and varnish softener, steel wool or sandpaper.

Repair cracks with patching plaster, or spackling compound, smoothing with sandpaper as you would if you were painting the wall. It is a great temptation when a covering has substance to let it cover the multitude of tiny cracks that require mending. But it will not give you a good job.

Put all your effort into the first strip you apply, and the others will fall into proper place. Professional wall coverers like to start at a door or window to make the job easier.

They cut the fabric a few inches longer than necessary, and they unroll strips alongside each other to make sure the pattern matches when they cut it.

Amateurs should cut all the strips necessary for an entire wall before proceding.

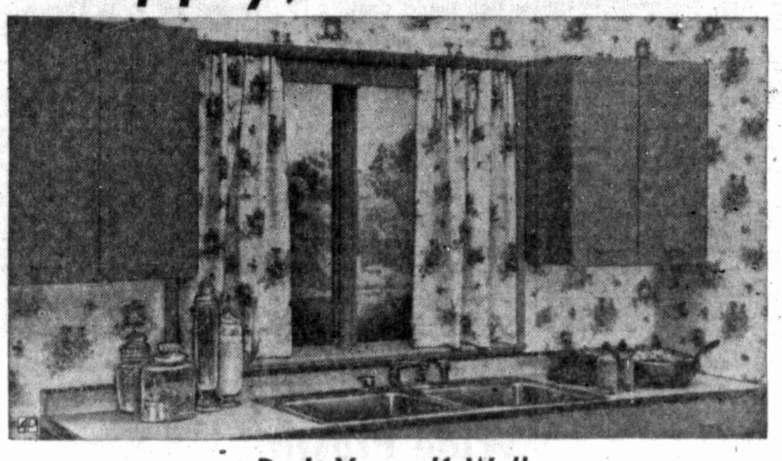

To get a plumb line, measure a point 24 inches from the door or window you've selected as the beginning of your project. Tie a fork or other weight to a string on the wall at a point near the ceiling at the mark you've made. Take the strip you've moistened with a wet sponge and line up the side with the plumb line.

Brush the top into place at the ceiling with a little overlap. Unfold the bottom two-thirds and brush it to the wall. The center section should then be brushed with an outward motion. Remove plumb line after first strip is put up.

Brush the wall fabric into ceiling joint and crease with scissors. Pull it away from the wall just enough to permit cutting it along the crease line. Follow the same procedure around doors and windows.

The edge of the first strip is your guide for succeeding strips, each new strip should be tightly butted against the adjacent strip, taking care that a perfect pattern match is made. Open seams may be butted by pushing strips together with your hands.

These new wall fabrics are ideal for use in heavy traffic areas because they can be washed clean with soapy water. Unusual colors, textures and patterns are available combining durability and attractiveness. Some of these new coverings are available with matching fabrics for draperies, slip covers, plastic shower and window curtains.

Do-It-Yourself Wall

It is only necessary to moisten the back of the pre-pasted fabric used to cover this wall. Curtains match the wall fabric. Even amateurs can redecorate a room with no mess, if they follow directions.

Civil Defense Program Given To Spoudazio Fora Members

Civil defense was the topic for a program by Mrs. J. M. Hill Tuesday evening when members of the Spoudazio Fora met in the home of Mrs. James C. Jones. Mrs. Bill Lansing was cohostess.

"Knowledge is Survival," was the title of the talk by Mrs. Hill who said "All authorities dealing with civil defense know that it is a thankless job—trying to get people to prepare for something that no one wants to admit might happen. . .but remember, this could happen." The speaker then listed five steps in the civil defense program each person should acquaint himself with: Warning signal Friday is practice alert; protection from fall out; community plan for emergency action; first aid home emergency preparation; use Conelrad 640 or 1240 on radio.

Members were reminded to inspect the fall out shelter at the 18th and Main St. fire station which will be open to the public on Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

Installation of officers will be held on May 23 in the Blue Room at Cosden Country Club.

Mrs. Bob Bright, state hospital representative on the volunteer council, told of improvements planned at the hospital ground cemetery and also of the need for drapes in the school room. There is also a demand for invalid walkers for the wards. A sum has been voted for the new sound system for the hospital.

Mrs. Dudley Jenkins, Mrs. Lansing and Mrs. Bill Coleman were appointed on a committee to nominate a club member for Club Woman of the Year which is based on some outstanding contribution to the club.

Announcement was made of the state federation meeting in Midland on May 1-3 and all members were urged to attend. Mrs. Richard Patterson, a member, is to receive an award for her contribution through the Fine Arts department. She won second place in the state.

ABClub Dignitaries Here

When Paul Dobbs, district governor of the American Business Club, and ABC National Executive Secretary Bill Pearson arrived here, among those who greeted them were Roy Reeder, a charter member of the local service organization and Bob Rogers, local president. Left to right, above, they are Reeder, Dobbs, Pearson and Rogers.

3 Factors In Gaining New Members Listed For ABClub

A service club courting a prospective member should offer him three things, Bill Pearson, National Executive Secretary of the American Business Club, told members of that organization at a banquet held in the Student Union building at HCJC Tuesday night.

Those things, Pearson said, are: (1) The opportunity to make new friends, (2) the opportunity for personal growth and (3) the opportunity to serve his community.

Pearson stated he quit the employ of another national service organization to join the ABClub movement because, in his mind, that organization offered five attributes that similar clubs did not have. They are, he said:

(1) The finest scholarship program in existence, (2) the method for raising funds supporting the scholarship plan — through 'living endowment,' (3) the best membership procurement program, (4) family conventions and (5) a new national headquarters which, he added, rated as first-rate in every respect.

National headquarters of the ABClub recently were moved from Danville, Ill., to High Point, N. C.

Pearson took note that the local club now needed six new members to become a member of the ABC's "Blue Chip" club and expressed confidence that the local organization would meet such qualifications between now and the deadline, May 31.

He also urged the local organization to send as large a delegation as possible to both the district and national conventions.

Pearson, who is on a tour of ABClubs around the country, was accompanied here from Odessa by Paul Dobbs, ABC district governor, who introduced him.

Emcee of the program was Bob Rogers, president of the local American Business Club.

Added entertainment was provided by members of the Howard County Junior College choral group, who were introduced by Ira Schantz.

Local Delegation Checks Surplus Plan In Dawson

How Dawson County is making use of surplus commodity distribution in aiding its indigent residents was being studied Wednesday by a delegation of Howard County officials.

Ed Carpenter, county judge, headed up the group which was in Lamesa on Wednesday morning watching the Dawson County program in operation. Present also were Ralph White and L. J. Davidson, county commissioners, Mrs. Ruby Phillips, county welfare officer, and Roy Anderson, assistant city manager of Big Spring.

This county, in cooperation with the city, is planning on putting a surplus commodity distribution operation in effect as a step in lessening the mounting welfare operations costs.

Under a plan being considered the county would make investigation of the applicants for relief, issue orders where such orders were deemed proper, and the city would supply a storage place and a man to hand out the items.

The visit to Lamesa was to see how the Dawson County officials are operating the plan.

ASSEMBLY OF GOD

Good Attendance Marks Convention

For the second day Tuesday of the West Texas District Council of the Assemblies of God, approximately 900 delegates and visitors attended sessions at the city auditorium.

Delegates to the morning session heard Rev. J. A. Thomas, district superintendent, cite the rapid growth and rise to prominence of the Roman Catholic in the United States. He called for the same determination among Protestant Christians and particularly within the denomination.

In the afternoon meeting, Rev. Seigfried Enke, refugee from Communist East Germany, told of the post-war death march to Siberia forced on German prisoners by the Russian Army. He said his father, an Assembly of God minister, was forced to kneel before the altar of a church on the death march route and was shot. His mother died of exposure while his sisters were forced to work in the Siberian salt mines until ill health allowed their release.

The Rev. Enke said that a Christian revival in America today is the only real resistance to the forces of Communism.

Guest singers in the evening service included the Gatlin family from Odessa and the Ambassadors Trio from Waxahachie.

Rev. E. S. Williams, featured speaker for the council, challenged Christians against superficiality in religion. In the course of his address, he stated that much of Protestantism has lost its Protest. He cited the decline of church attendance in such Christian countries as Sweden and Great Britain, branding this trend as apostacy, and urged that the current increase in church attendance in the United States be encouraged and continued.

Some of the chief problems faced by the church today, said Williams, are "superficial" religion, inadequate indoctrination, and "watered-down" preaching. The answer to our needs is not "reform" or reformation, but transformation, he said.

Rev. Williams was to address the Wednesday and closing Thursday evening sessions of the Council.

Election of district officials and district business were on the agenda for the Wednesday services.

Work Starts Soon On New TV Cable Firm

Don Mansell, vice president and manager of Big Spring Cable TV, Inc., told the city commission Tuesday night that construction work will start immediately on the community cable antenna system which will furnish residents with several channels of television, including live network programs.

Mansell said the antenna would be erected on South Mountain, south of Birdwell Lane. An office will be opened in Big Spring as soon as a suitable site can be obtained, he said. During the construction, approximately eight to 10 persons will be employed.

The first service coming from the new system will cover the southeastern area of Big Spring, and will be expanded to other areas as soon as possible. Residents desiring to receive service from the community cable will be serviced for a $10 connection fee, and a monthly charge of $5.95. Additional outlets will be provided at $1.25 each per month, with no additional connection fee. The estimated cost of the system has been set at approximately $300,000. FM music, at a later date, will be piped to customers at no additional charge.

Mansell said the system has been designed to furnish five channels of TV to customers.

"There is absolutely no danger, due to electricity on the cable, as it carries less than one-tenth volt of current."

Rail Opposition Develops At Red River Hearing

PARIS, Tex. (AP)—Opposition to development of the Red River as a cargo-carrying waterway was voiced today by a representative of railroads at a Corps of Engineers hearing.

Doswell Gullatt of Washington, D.C., said: "Our railroads oppose plans for the creation of a new, unneeded transportation facility in the form of a navigation project of the Red River. Such a facility... would be unwarranted and uneconomical."

Gullatt represented the Texas & Pacific Railway, Missouri Pacific Railroad and Texas & New Orleans Railroad.

Kite Contest

Members of Cub Pack No. 138, sponsored by Washington P-TA, filled the air with kites Tuesday afternoon.

Rick Taylor won the contest when he got his kite into the air, let out 300 feet of string, reeled in the kite and returned first to the finish line. Twenty boys flew their home-made kites.

The meeting was held on the parking lot west of the stadium. The Webelo den had the opening and No. 6 the closing. James Reedy received his gold arrow on the Wolf and his denner's badge; Kenny Curry, Forrest Ray Ward, the Wolf badge; and Billy Bob Wilson, two silver arrows on the Wolf. Tom Yeats, cubmaster, was in charge.

Mrs. Dorene Kennedy, 706 E. 14th, called and gave police the license number of a car carrying some boys who shot at her cat.

James Larson, Civil Engineers Bldg. No. 223, told police that two of his tires were cut with a knife while his car was parked at the Park Inn between 9:30 and 10:30 p.m.

Kiwanis Schedule Ladies Night

All Kiwanians are reminded of the ladies night meeting at Cosden Country Club at 7 p.m. Thursday.

This meeting will replace the regular meeting of the club at the Hotel Settles Thursday noon.

However, President Ernest Welch announced that a "round table" will be maintained at the Hotel at noon for any Kiwanians who find it impossible to be at the ladies night and who wish to keep their attendance record intact.

No special program is planned for the ladies night, Welch said. The dinner will be served and a social hour will follow. There will be no speakers or other formalities.

Meeting Time Is Changed

Time of the meeting to discuss organization of a county employe credit union has been changed.

The meeting will be held at 5:15 p.m. Thursday in the 118th District Court Room. It had originally been slated for 7 p.m. but conflicts developed and it was voted to have it immediately after the end of the business day on Thursday afternoon.

D. M. Baker, with the Federal Credit Union operating at Webb AFB will be the speaker at the meeting and explain the steps which must be taken.

All county official and employes are urged to be present at the meeting.

Fire Reported

Firemen were called to the Keith Motel, 1100 E. 3rd, at 11 a.m. Tuesday when a cigarette thrown in a waste basket set fire to the building. Firemen reported heavy damage to the kitchen and porch and some smoke damage to contents.

Pleads Guilty

John B. Gaskins, charged with writing a worthless check, pleaded guilty to the charge against him in Howard County court. He was fined $50 and costs.

Guilty Pleas On Docket

Thursday morning will be devoted to hearing pleas of guilty in 118th District Court.

Eight or more such pleas will probably be presented to the court, it was indicated Wednesday when Judge Ralph Caton and Dist. Atty. Gil Jones had all of the defendants in felony cases who are in jail and who have not as yet been able to employ attorneys brought into court for questioning.

Attorneys were named by the court to represent the defendants. All of the defendants were indicted by the recent grand jury.

Most of those before the bar informed Judge Caton their present plans are to enter guilty pleas to the indictments against them.

Four pleas of guilty were heard in the court Tuesday—in the cases of Harry Weeg, C. C. Ryan, Frank Hughes and W. D. Froman, accused of embezzlement of gasoline from Cosden refinery.

Defendants who were before the court today included:

E. B. Hickman, charged with forgery of a credit card; Carvin C. Hill, attempt to pass a forged instrument; Roy Lee Shell, passing a forged instrument; James E. Setala, robbery by assault;

Shufford Walker and Elwood F. Benton, robbery by assault; Jessie Brions, forgery; Jackie Earnest Awtrey, burglary; George W. Beaire, car theft; Henry Hernandez, burglary; Richard Chavarria, burglary; Charlie Cleary, habitual burglary.

Dallas Gunfight Reveals Wide Prostitution Ring

DALLAS (AP)—Police investigating the gunfight among eight police characters in a bowling alley Monday have uncovered a far-flung prostitution racket operating throughout Texas and as far as Florida and California.

Police Chief J. E. Curry said Tuesday the fight which killed Henry Callahan, 32, and wounded or injured four other men and three women, said all had been involved in crime a number of years.

The gunfight "was probably the result of mutual suspicion stemming from one faction thinking the other had informed on them," he said.

"We are pretty sure no formal gang organization was involved. This will probably be the end of any such outbreak around here."

Other police officers described the persons involved in the shooting as five procurors and three of their call girls.

They said that in pockets, wallets and purses of the eight police found papers and notes which provided a "panorama of prostitution" across the southern part of the United States.

The papers gave addresses of hotels and motels in scores of cities and the contact to be made in each, if a girl sought "work."

The papers also showed that the prostitution was carried on over three circuits as far as the Dallas girls were concerned.

One led through West Texas into New Mexico, Arizona and California. Another went north to Oklahoma and Kansas. A third route went through East Texas, Louisiana, Mississippi, Arkansas and as far as Florida.

The complete lists were turned over to the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

"Every city of over 10,000 in Texas is listed and some cities list several hotels and motels," one detective said.

"Yes, and a lot of towns under 10,000 too," said another officer.

Officers said listings on the papers seized were by states and by cities.

OIL REPORT

Tucker Spots Field Outpost

Tucker Drilling Co., Inc. staked an outpost in the Fool's Creek (Clear Fork) field area the No. 1-A S. C. Currie. This Glasscock County project is three-quarters of a mile west of the field and is set for 6,400 feet to test the Wichita Albany. It is four miles southeast of Garden City.

Martin County got a prospector in Humble Oil and Refining Co. No. 1 J. E. Parker, a depleted Clear Fork producer in the Martin (multipay) field. It will be deepened to 8,200 feet for tests of the Fusselman.

The Breedlove (Devonian) field in Martin gained another site in the southeast portion of the field. It is Pan American No. 16-B S. D. Breedlove, set to bottom at 12,500 feet.

The fourth well was completed in the Fool's Creek (Clear Fork) in Glasscock County field when James R. Currie No. 3 TXL-Currie, Nolan and Shaeffer pumped 120 barrels of oil on initial potential. It is one location north and east-southeast of a producer.

Living Costs Are Unchanged During March

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs were unchanged in March from the record high in February.

The government reported today that its index stayed at 127.5 per cent of the 1947-49 average. This is 1.4 per cent above a year earlier.

Prices on some consumer items were higher in March than in February, but others were lower. The changes canceled out each other to leave the index unchanged.

Most price changes were relatively small. Prices for food and transportation, especially used cars, declined. Food averaged two-tenths of one per cent lower for the month, although three per cent higher than a year earlier.

Somewhat higher prices were recorded during the month for housing and reading-recreation. The latter raise was primarily due to higher movie admission charges.

Robert J. Myers, deputy labor statistics commissioner, said a slight living cost increase had been expected in March. He said the fact the index remained steady was symptomatic of the stability that has been continuing in consumer prices the last six months.

Mrs. Jolley Goes To Odessa Meeting

Mrs. Otillie Jolley, R. N., director of nursing service at the Big Spring State Hospital, left this morning to attend a State Garden Club annual meeting in Odessa.

She was to be on a panel of four persons to speak on garden therapy in the treatment of emotionally disturbed, blind and geriatric patients.

Mrs. John G. Berry, Goldthwaite, a national officer in the Garden Club Organization, was scheduled to be a member of the panel also.

The meeting was set for 7:30 a.m. in the Lincoln Hotel.

Player Maneuvers Boost Detroiters

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — On the basis of early returns, the Detroit Tigers appear to have been the most successful in their various off-season player maneuvers.

The Tigers, off to a blazing start with eight in a row after dropping their first game, came out of winter deals with Milwaukee and others, a first string catcher in Dick Brown, a regular center fielder in Billy Bruton and two capable relief pitchers in Terry Fox and Jim Donohue.

To fill the gap left by the winning Tigers moved up Jake Wood, 23, a widely heralded rookie from their Denver farm. Wood is hitting .286 and has turned out to be a good leadoff man.

With Bruton hitting in the No. 2 hole and Steve Boros, another rookie, playing third base and hitting .333, the new faces are paying off in Tiger Stadium. Chuck Cottier, also acquired from the Braves, is a capable infield reserve behind Chico Fernandez.

Perhaps the most important of all was the acquisition of Brown, former Chicago White Sox and Cleveland catcher who went to Milwaukee in December and then was thrown into the Bolling deal a few days later. He hit only .163 in Chicago last year but is hitting .321 at Detroit.

Bullpen pitching was a real problem for Detroit before they picked up Fox and Donohue. Fox, a 12-game winner at Vancouver, has a 1-0 record and has appeared in three Tiger games. Donohue also has a 1-0 record after three appearances. The Tigers grabbed Donohue from the Los Angeles Dodger organization in the regular minor league draft for $25,000. He had a 5-5 recod in St. Paul last year.

The San Francisco-Cleveland deal has not paid any spectacular dividends for either side yet. Johnny Antonelli has an 0-1 record with no complete games to show in two starts for Cleveland. Willie Kirkland, the outfielder who went to Cleveland with Johnny in the swap that sent Harvey Kuenn to the Giants, is hitting only .200. Kuenn, who has played both third base and the outfield in San Francisco, is around the .250 level.

First Again

Larry Bisceglia, of Long Beach, Calif., is first in line at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway for the 13th straight year. Disceglia arrived at the speedway gate to take up his customary position at a 16th Street gate entrance. For 13 years he has been first to park his truck at the Speedway gate so he can be first to enter the grounds May 30 for the 500-mile auto race. (AP Wirephoto).

LOOKING 'EM OVER

With TOMMY HART

Big Spring is regarded as the doormat of District 2-AAAA in all things athletic but San Angelo scribe Bob Milburn, in a recent column, points out that the Steers have won two district titles in their five years within the conference, whereas San Angelo has nothing to show for its efforts since the Bobcats won the football crown under Pete Sikes in 1950.

The Bobcats were favored to cop the bunting in basketball, golf and baseball this year.

The caddies bet more in most of the big pro golf tournaments than do the golfers themselves.

Gary Player's club carrier in the Masters won several hundred dollars in wagering on the South African. In addition, Player tipped him $300 at the conclusion of the meet—fair earnings for less than a week's toil.

Ben Hogan, the famed Hawk of pro golf, says he hasn't putted well in five years now.

Hermalinda Lopez, one of the fine tennis players at Howard County Junior College, will be ineligible for the remainder of the semester. She failed by an hour to make her required work. She hasn't lost her enthusiasm for the game, however, and is already making plans to compete for the college next year.

In addition, she may talk an Edinburg girl who was the Class 4A singles champion last fall into attending college here next year.

Polk Robison, the Texas Tech athletic director, maintains few athletic events rival the sportsmanship displayed in Southwest Conference tennis, where the competitors generally make the decisions on whether shots are good or bad.

Dick Ebling, the basketball standout at Big Spring High School, probably could get a college scholarship now as a swimmer, if he wanted to go that route.

He's considered one of the most promising swimmers ever to come along in the local YMCA program.

Archie Clayton Jr., the 6-feet-9½ one-time Big Spring resident who starred in basketball for Fort Worth Paschal High School, has signed a pre-enrollment basketball letter at Texas Christian.

There was a time when Buster Brannon, the TCU mentor, reasoned he might lose Archie to Rice University but young Clayton decided to stick close to home.

Brannon tabs Clayton as one of the finest big men ever to play in the city of Fort Worth. Archie and David Hull, a 6-feet-3 boy also signed by TCU, led Paschal to the 25-5 record and a district title the last season and both were named to the all-district team.

Archie is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Clayton of Big Spring.

Auburn Will End Doghouse Stay

WASHINGTON (AP) — The council of the National Collegiate Athletic Association today is expected to end probation and permit Auburn University once again to take part in NCAA-sponsored championships and bowl games.

A top NCAA source said the decision would come when the council acted on a report by the committee on infractions, which has been reviewing the athletic "policies and practices" of the Alabama school. The council ends a three-day meeting today.

Auburn has been on probation for player recruiting rule violations since 1956. It is the longest penalty handed any NCAA member since 1952, when the NCAA began enforcement of its code on recruiting of athletes.

The council Tuesday banned organized summer basketball competition. Players taking part in such summer basketball could not play college basketball under the proposal by the NCAA council.

Most organized summer basketball is played either in the Los Angeles area or in the Eastern United States. New York's Catskill Mountain resorts, the so-called "Borscht Circuit," is a hot bed of summer basketball.

NCAA Executive Secretary Walter Byers said the council refused to delay by one year a new ban on participation of high school football players in all-star football games.

The 1961 NCAA convention adopted the new rule. Some promoters of all-star games had asked that it be eased for some games this year.

Church League Will Consist Of 7 Teams

The YMCA Church softball League, which begins operations next Monday night, consists of seven teams. One of those represents the Forsan Baptist Church, managed by Hubert Bardwell.

Local entries and their managers include Salvation Army, Capt. James Jay; East Fourth Baptist, Morris D. Sewell; Temple Baptist, R. J. Stricker; College Baptist, Fred Potts; Westside Baptist, James F. Hollis; and First Baptist, Bill Bradford.

The teams will use the City Park diamond on Mondays and Thursdays of each week.

First round of play continues through June 15 while the second round ends Aug. 3.

The top four teams will then compete in a tournament to determine the overall champion.

The schedule:

Webb Bowlers Enter Meet

Six members of the 331st Fighter Interceptor Squadron have entered the ADC Bowling Tournament and have submitted scores of the games they bowled April 22nd at the Bobby Layne Bowl-a-rama.

The six members were selected to represent the 331st FIS after they received top score in a tournament held among squadron members. They are Captain Albert Shortt, Capt. Kenneth Savage, S. Sgt. Roger Labrie, S.Sgt. John Landa, S. Sgt. C. B. Locke and S. Sgt. Donald Cooper.

The scores bowled during the weekend were telegraphed to the Sector Headquarters, Oklahoma City, Okla. The two top team scores and six top individual scores from the sector are then sent to the 33rd Air Division Headquarters, Richards — Gebaur, Missouri. The top six bowlers in the sector will be considered "All Stars" and awarded certificates.

Division Headquarters will then select the top six "All Stars" from all sectors to represent the 33rd Air Division and will also select the first and second place teams within the division and award them cash prizes.

Each ADC Division throughout the Air Force will select their representative teams in like manner and all teams will compete for top honors at the ADC Bowling Tournament at Otis AFB, Mass., May 18 and 19, 1961.

A score of 2551 was submitted by the 331st team and Capt. Albert Shortt and S. Sgt. John Landa with scores of 560 and 554 respectively are vieing for honors in the doubles and singles events. All scores are without handicap.

Sabbato Low In Fem Play

Jodie Sabbato won medal honors in the Women's Club Tournament at the Big Spring Country Club Tuesday with a 92.

Winner of the meet will be determined in 54 holes of medal play, it has been decided. Competition gets under way today and continues through Friday.

In all, 16 players qualified. Of that group, 11 are in the title flight while the others will take part in the novice or nine-hole flight.

Mrs. Billie Dillon, Mrs. Howard (Marguaritte) Schwarzenbach and Mary McConkey are regarded as the leading threats for the championship, along with Mrs. Sabbato.

When the tournament was last held two years ago, Mrs. McConkey emerged as the winner.

Pistol Team Is On Way To Meet

Webb's Pistol Team left today to attend the 1961 Air raining Command Tournament for Small Arms (pistol matches) at Sheppard AFB, Texas.

Officers and airmen from Webb attending the four-day meet are: Capt. Robert J. Schaeffer, team captain; M.Sgt. Howard A. Brown Jr., T. Sgt. Robert W. Roe, S. Sgt. Benjamin H. Howard Sr., S.Sgt. Morris E. Wade, S.Sgt. James M. Jackson and 2nd. Lt. Wilber R. Brown, alternate.

Abilene Eagles Nudge Big Spring, 4 To 3

ABILENE—Abilene handed Big Spring its sixth defeat in seven District 2-AAAA baseball starts by winning a 4-3 decision here Tuesday afternoon.

The Longhorns play Odessa High in their final home game Saturday. Abilene goes to San Angelo.

Mickey Miller pitched the win for Abilene, scattering seven Steer hits. The Eagles managed nine off Roy New, the Big Spring hurler.

Abilene scored what proved to be the winning run in the fifth without the benefit of a hit.

Victor Hedges opened the round with a base on balls and moved to second on an outfield bobble. New then fielded Miller's ground ball but his throw to first pulled Jeff Brown off the bag, at which time Hedges scooted to third.

Hedges then scored on an infield out off the bat of Billy Monk.

Brown collected two of Big Spring's seven hits, one of them a double. New also had two hits for Big Spring, both of them singles.

New fanned eight and walked only three in his six inning tour of duty.

San Angelo Wins Over O. Permian

SAN ANGELO — San Angelo humbled Odessa Permian, 5-4, here Tuesday afternoon to 'hang tight' in the battle for second place in District 2-AAAA baseball standings.

A double by Gary Golightly with two out in the seventh inning scored Roy Franklin and Sammy Soto. The ball fell just inside the left field foul line. Franklin had tripled and Soto had walked.

Permian had counted twice in the top half of the inning when Jimmy Routh and James Williams crossed the plate.

Steerettes Win Over Seminole

Arah Phillips' Big Spring Steerettes wound up pre-State Meet activity by defeating Seminole in Seminole, 29-15, in a volleyball exhibition Tuesday night.

The win was the 29th in 33 starts for the locals, who engage Birdville in a first round game of the State Tournament at Abilene at 10 a.m. Friday.

Four teams are entered in the Class AAAA division at Abilene. Plainview opposes Harlandale in the other first round contest. Finals are scheduled for 4 p.m.

Diane Womack led the Steerettes in scoring last night with 12 points. Judy Walton had eight for Seminole.

Midland Wins Over Odessa

ODESSA — Midland continued along the path toward its second straight District 2-AAAA baseball championship by belting its nearest pursuer, Odessa High, 8-2, here Tuesday afternoon.

The win put Midland two games ahead of the pack, with only three to play.

Sammy Vaughn pitched the win for Midland, yielding only four hits to the Bronchos. The loss went to Harlan Hinds.

Midland settled Odessa's hash early, scoring three runs in each of the first two innings.

Three M Men Big Boost To Giants

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

The San Franciscans no longer have the three Willies with the bat, but they've moved into first place in the National League race with three M men—Miller, McCovey and Mays.

With Stu Miller's relief pitching breaking up a rally, Willie McCovey driving in two runs and Willie Mays cutting down a run at the plate with the double play peg, the Giants replaced Los Angeles in first by trimming the Dodgers 3-1 Tuesday night.

Milwaukee came from behind for a 4-3 victory over St. Louis in the only other game played in the NL. The Philadelphia at Pittsburgh and Cincinnati at Chicago games were rained out.

In the American League, Baltimore defeated Cleveland 5-2, Kansas City broke loose for a 20-2 romp over Minnesota and Boston whipped Washington 6-1. Rain washed out the New York at Detroit and Los Angeles at Chicago games.

The Dodgers, after winning three in a row, ran into quick trouble against the Giants, who hold a .912 percentage point edge after winning the opener of a two-game series at Los Angeles. Chuck Hiller opened with a single off Dodger ace Don Drysdale (2-2) and scored on a single by McCovey. The Giants' first baseman then tagged a fourth-inning solo homer for the decisive run.

Right-hander Jack Sanford won his first and had the Dodgers on a string for six innings, allowing just two hits. In the seventh, Junior Gilliam drew one of Sanford's six walks and scored on singles by Maury Wills and Charlie Neal. That's when Miller hustled in for a perfect, three-inning relief job.

Miller first retired Tommy Davis on a foul pop and then got Wally Moon on a liner to Mays in center. Willie's rifle shot to catcher Tom Haller nailed Wills trying to score.

Moon, the Dodgers' hero with a NL record-tying total of eight home runs for April, was hitless for the first time in 14 games this season.

A single by Henry Aaron drove in the tying run for the Braves and an error by Red Schoendienst brought in the clincher as Milwaukee came from behind with three runs in the eighth against loser Curt Simmons (1-1) and reliever Lindy McDaniel. Lew Burdette won his first, on the third try, giving up six hits, one a ninth-inning home run by Stan Musial.

Stellar Field In Blue Grass

LEXINGTON, Ky. (AP) — A standout field of Kentucky Derby eligibles was being assembled at Keeneland today for the $25,000-added Blue Grass Stakes.

Among the 9 or 10 thoroughbreds expected to start Thursday are the winners of the Louisiana and California derbies, the Chesapeake Stakes and Santa Anita's San Felipe Handicap.

The field is regarded as one of the finest ever put together for this race, which has produced three derby winners — the last one Tomy Lee in 1959.

At a mile and an eighth the Blue Grass is one furlong shorter than the run for the roses May 6 at Churchill Downs.

Alberta Ranches' Flutterby and Kerr Stables' twin threat of Mr. Consistency and Gay Landing shaped up as the early betting favorites.

Flutterby won the San Felipe Handicap and has finished in the money in four other stakes this season.

His stablemate derby co-favorite Four-and-Twenty, last week gained Keeneland's Forerunner purse—three of those last four winners have gone on to win the derby—but is not eligible for the Blue Grass.

Mi Consistency, Flutterby and Gay Landing finished 1-2-3 in the California Derby.

Other top expected starters include Vera Smith's Bass Clef, Louisiana Derby winner; Chesapeake Stakes winner Orleans Doge, owned by Ben Weinert and William Resseguet; and Eastwood Stable's Loyal Son, second in the California and Arkansas derbies.

Calumet Farm, whose devil red and blue silks have been in the Kentucky Derby winner's circles seven times since 1941, has Sho Lea to test its mettle in the Blue Grass.

J. Graham Brown's He's a pistol, who ran second to Four-and-Twenty in the Forerunner, is another possible starter.

The rest include Louis Lee Haggin II's Astate; Donald McKellar's Endsville and Jacob Sher's Sherluck.

Ruidoso Makes Ready For '61 Race Season

RUIDOSO, N. M.—Horses began arriving this week for the 15th meeting at Ruidoso Downs Race Track, May 19th through Sept. 10th. Present stall applications point toward the most successful meeting in the history of the mountain track.

Among the early arrivals is the crack stable of A. B. Green, Purcell, Oklahoma. His horses include Dynago Miss, winner of $30,000 Ruidoso Quarter Horse Futurity last year; the hard-hitting stakes winner Polly Jane, and five two-year-olds nominated for several rich stakes.

Trainer Ike Danley, who compiled a remarkable record here last year, has 12 horses stabled now, and 12 more will arrive from Sunland Park soon. Included among his charges is the fleet filly, Road To Reno, winner of four stakes at Sunland.

Rain Play, a good son of Ringmenow, is one of the first nominees for the Ruidoso Thoroughbred Futurity to arrive. He is trained by veteran conditioner W. C. Roberts, who also has his old faithful "Maxie" here this year.

Watonga, Oklahoman Bill Passig arrived recently from Rillito Race Track, Tucson, Arizona, with 12 horses, including Exciting Eyes, a winner at the Arizona tracks. Among the hopefuls in his stable for the Ruidoso Quarter Horse Futurity is Lightning Bass, owned by Houston oilman E. L. Bass. Before opening his public training stable, Passig trained for Dub Phillips of Dallas. He saddled many top winners including Easter Rose and Breeze Bar.

Cubs Present Skits, Displays On Monthly Theme

Twenty Cub Scouts and about 30 parents attended a meeting of Cub Pack 238 Tuesday. After the opening ceremonies by Cub Master Guy Cook, each den presented a skit based on the monthly theme, each den had on display an assortment of kites, airplanes, parachutes, and other items.

During the awards ceremony Den Mother badges were awarded to: Den 1, Mrs. Smart; Den 2, Mrs. Eggleston; Den 3, Mrs. Draper; Den 4, Mrs. McGowan.

Russel Mapes was given his Bobcat badge by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Mapes. Denner and assistant denner badges in order, were presented to: Den 1, Joe Lynch and Don Butz; Den 2, Philip Wheless and Skippy Eggleston; Den 3, Rocky Crittenden and David Draper; Den 4, David Deramus and Roger Sankey. Den Chief shoulder cords were awarded to Boy Scout Richard Knous with Den 1, and Scout Carroll Talafuse with Den 3.

An outdoor meeting is planned for the next pack gathering and will be held on the Buffalo Trail at 2 p.m. May 27.

Engineers, Commissioners Discuss Highway Projects

A general discussion of various highway projects for Big Spring and Howard County—both those programmed for early work and those in the future—was held at a meeting Tuesday of the City Commission with the District Highway Engineer J. C. (Jake) Roberts.

A luncheon session was held at the Cosden Club. With Roberts for the parley were W. H. Shaw, Abilene, district design engineer; Ben Wilkinson, supervising resident engineer, and Joe Smoot, senior resident engineer.

It was agreed that work of setting new grade, adding curbing and gutter for street-width surfacing on Third and Fourth Streets—from Union Street east to Birdwell—will be started this summer, with a goal of an October letting for the state's portion of the work.

Commissioners and Roberts also discussed aspects of streets in the eastern portion of the city as they will be affected by interchanges when Interstate 20 is constructed. Incidentally, Roberts said right-of-way acquisition for the interstate loop to go north of town was nearly three-fourths complete.

The district engineer discussed the extension northward of FM 700 from Interstate 20 to the Snyder highway. He said it was felt advisable to wait and do all this job—grading and drainage structures as well as surfacing—in one unit, so the usual preliminary work will be held up awhile. There will be no delay, however, on the ultimate job. Roberts suggested some study might be given on a slight re-routing of this extension.

He said that engineering work should be started soon for the Gregg Street (Highway 87) overpass over the T&P railroad tracks. Roberts said this is one of the real traffic bottlenecks in Big Spring, and he wants it remedied as soon as possible. Work will continue, of course, on the widening (with four-lane divided traffic) of Hwy. 87 northward from the city to the Martin County line.

The officials had considerable discussion on right-of-way requirements on FM 700 westward from Hwy. 87 south, in event this route is improved for connection with U. S. 80 on the west. Roberts stressed that this project is not yet in district planning, but suggested that land requirements be sufficient to carry six lanes of traffic, if and when the improvement is made.

Contract For Filter Plant Work Awarded

The contract for construction of the addition to the water filter plant and a new clear water storage reservoir for Big Spring was awarded to B. B. Adams of Fort Worth, for his base bid of $321,000, during the city commission meeting Tuesday night.

The consulting engineers, Freese, Nichols and Endress, Fort Worth, had studied and tabulated the bids over the past week, with recommendations that Adams be awarded the contract.

The base bid was chosen over alternates because of the extra cost of a different type of filter in the underdrain system. What is known as an Infilco Wagner Block filter underdrain system, built of concrete on the job, will be used as it is in the present filter plant.

STARTS SOON

Work will probably be started about May 15 and completion time will be 180 calendar days.

A request from Webb AFB for permission to relocate a section of a building and a portion of a railroad siding not now needed was granted. A road will be built in place of the railroad siding, and the portion of building moved will be used for storage. The building was formerly owned by the city.

An amendment to the franchise formerly issued to Seminole Cable TV, owned by Don Mansell of Seminole, was approved whereby the franchise will revert to a corporation known as Big Spring Cable TV, Inc. Mansell told the commission that the tie-on fee of $10 and a monthly service charge, not to exceed $6 for one connection outlet, would be retained, with additional outlets at $1.25 each. The company plans to carry four channels and will later add FM background music at no extra charge.

RAILROAD FOR KIDS

Vance Kimble, operator of the Parkland Miniature Golf Course, appeared to get zoning changed on two lots purchased to build a miniature railroad ride. He was told by the commission that he would have to retain only that portion classed as non-conforming under the new zoning plans for the same type of use. The commission said that he could build his railroad on his present parking area but could not use the new lots for the ride.

City Manager A. K. Steinheimer discussed the proposed purchase of a more versatile addressograph for the cycle billing of water, and tax department mailing use, a new street sweeper on a rental basis, and the purchase of a new pickup truck. No action was taken on the first two, pending more information. The commission turned down the truck purchase and authorized the over-hauling and continued use of a 1956 model.

RATE INCREASE

The second reading of an ordinance granting a rate increase for Texas Electric Service Co. was passed. A public hearing had been set at 7:30 on the rate change, but no one appeared for or against it.

Discussion of a proposed house-moving ordinance resulted in an authorization to prepare the ordinance for the next regular meeting of the commission.

The commission instructed the right-of-way committee to meet with the attorney and representatives of the Edwards Estate to work out agreements on the price of land to replace that being asked for right of way on FM 700 from the Jacobus Apartment site just west of Westover Road. The committee will report to the next commission meeting.

Mrs. Cawthron Dies Tuesday

COLORADO CITY (SC)—Mrs. Drue Cawthron, 47, died at 6 p.m. Tuesday at the Root Memorial Hospital following an illness of several weeks. Mrs. Cawthron was born May 20, 1913 in Cuthbert, and married Cawthron Dec. 22, 1929 in Colorado City.

Seh was a member of the St Luke Methodist Church.

Funeral services will be held Thursday at 2 p.m. from the First Methodist Church. Burial will be held in the Teeville cemetery near Colorado City under the direction of the Kiker and Son Funeral Home.

She is survived by her husband, a son, Jimmy, and a daughter, Glenda Kay, of the Cuthbert Community; two sisters, Mrs. Dub R. Hines, Abilene, and Mrs. W. L. Thorpe, Mesa, Calif.; five brothers, J. L. Strain, Cuthbert, Ed Strain, Colorado City, J. R. Strain, Tahoka, and Billy and James Strain, both of the Cuthbert Community.

No Lunacy Cases Heard

For the second straight month there is no need for the county court to sit on lunacy matters at Big Spring State Hospital.

Ed Carpenter, county judge, who presides at such sessions, said there are no indefinite commitments on which hearings must be held this month. There were none in March. At the last lunacy court session in February only two cases were heard.

The new law, covering admission to state hospitals for the mentally ill has greatly diminished the need for such hearings, it was said. One provision of the law enables a patient to sign a waiver to such hearing and thereby eliminate the need for his case to be considered by the court.

Telegraph Strike

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexican telegraphic operators Tuesday night started a national strike, leaving the entire country without wire communications.

Takes New Post

Lloyd Bergsma has been named director of the Cattle feeder division of the Texas & Southwestern Cattle Raisers Association. He has been granted a leave of absence from the Texas Agricultural Extension Service where he has served as livestock marketing specialist for the past two years. The association position is a new one, recognizing the increasing importance of feeding in the beef production field.

Gra-Y Banquet Set Saturday

Lakeview Elementary School will have its Gra-Y Banquet at 8 p.m. April 29 to honor its champion football and baseketball teams.

The banquet will be held at the Lakeview High School gymnasium and is sponsored by the Lakeview P-TA and the Quarterback Club.

Guest speaker for the occasion will be Dr. P. D. O'Brien, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

All Gra-Y league players at Lakeview Elementary School will receive trophies for their part in bringing the championship to the school. Everett Taylor, youth program secretary at the YMCA will make the presentations.

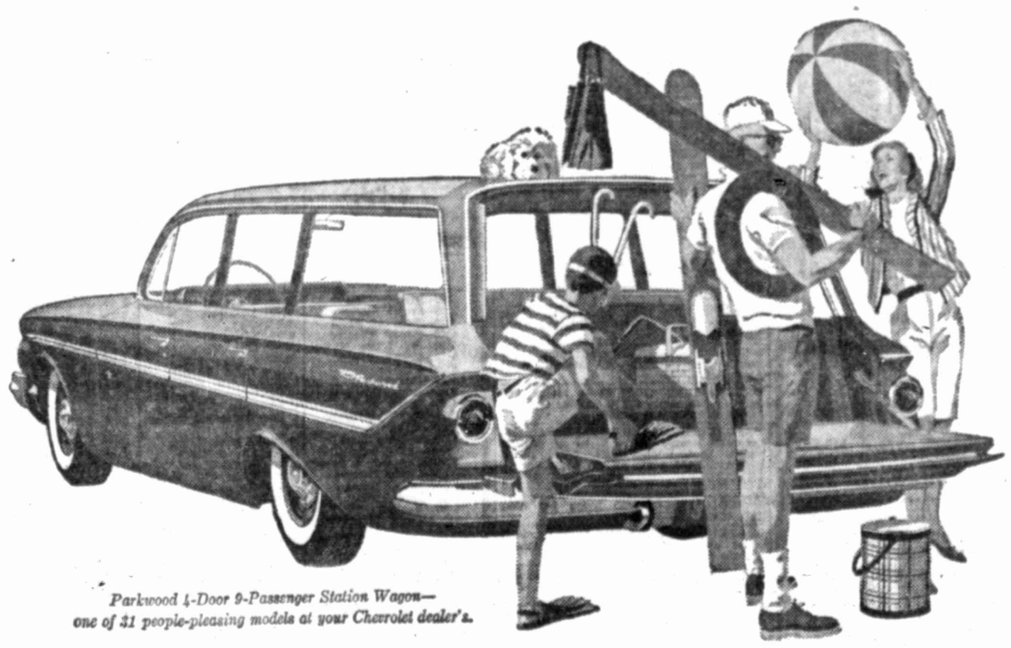

The Lakeview teams won the championship of their league by beating out Boydstun Elementary School teams in both football and basketball. The basketball team won nine consecutive victories.

Tickets to the affair cost $1 and can be obtained from school members, at the door the night of the banquet, or by calling Airman 1. C. Ralph Ross at AM 3-2585. The public is invited.

Attendance Better For Career Panels

Career Information Week discussions had an improved attendance for the second night as about 35 students and parents came to the Tuesday night sessions at Goliad Junior High School.

The program is a cooperative effort by the school, the A&M Club and local business people to acquaint students and parents with occupation areas of interest to the students.

Panel members discuss their occupation covering such aspects as usual duties, characteristics of the job, qualifications necessary, employment prospects, advancement opportunities and area of possible employment.

TEST RESULTS

Students have been furnished results of aptitude and interest testing and the program is intended to help them plan their education to fit a probable occupation. At the same time, the program will acquaint them with new areas of work so they will be better qualified to determine where their interest lies.

Discussions begin at 7:30 p.m. in the gymnasium and cafeteria at the school. Parents and students are urged to attend as many sessions as they desire.

The students will be given evaluation sheets Friday to determine the usefulness of the program and any improvements which can be made, according to John P. Yates, counselor.

SOCIAL SERVICE

Tuesday night panel members spoke about social service work and several mechanical occupations.

On the agenda for tonight are scientific occupations and computational and clerical work. They are expected to draw the largest crowds, according to Yates.

In the gymnasium, panelists and occupations under discussion will be Jerry Jenkins, chemical engineer; Bert Andries, electrical engineer; Louis Thompson, consulting engineer; Dewie Stevenson, mathematics; Dr. Louise Worthy, pediatrician, and Mrs. Nancy Annen, dietician. Moderator for the group will be James Tidwell.

Carlton Chapman will be moderator for the panel in the cafeteria. Members and occupations to be discussed by them are George Thorburn, certified public accountants; Mrs. Betty Rains, bank teller; Mrs. James Tidwell, secretary; Warren "Bud" Farrow, sale and file clerk; Mrs. Sarah Guthrie, traffic management, and Don Newsom, bookkeeping.

Thursday Rites For Miss Allen

Funeral services for Miss Iris Zavier Allen, 21, Ackerly, will be at 9 a.m. Thursday in the Immaculate Heart of Mary Catholic Church with Father Francis Beazley officiating. Interment is to be in City Cemtery and River Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

Miss Allen, who graduated from Ackerly High school and also completed college work at Howard County Junior College, died suddenly in a Lamesa hospital at 2:45 a.m. Tuesday. She had become ill at 10 a.m. at her home and was taken to Lamesa. Death, doctors ruled, was due to a cerebral hemorrhage.

She was born in Ackerly on March 24, 1940.

Miss Allen was to have been married in November. The funeral rites were delayed until Thursday in order to give her fiance time to fly to Big Spring from Pennsylvania.

Survivors include her mother, Mrs. Georgia Ann Allen, Ackerly; one brother, W. A. Allen Jr., Big Spring; four sisters, Mrs. Robert Adkins and Mrs. Oleta Weaver, both of Big Spring; Mrs. Wilma Click, Ackerly, and Mrs. Robert Owens, Lake Charles, La.

Littlejohn Rites Set Saturday

Henry Jeffery Littlejohn, 47, died at a local hospital Monday afternoon after an illness of about three months.

He was born in Ranger Jan. 20, 1914, and had lived in Big Spring since 1924. He was employed by the Duncan Drilling Company for the past 15 years as a driller.

Mr. Littlejohn was married to Katherine Gent in August, 1943, at Reno, Nev.

Funeral services will be at 2:30 p.m. Thursday at River Chapel with the Rev. A. R. Posey and the Rev. S. E. Eldridge, officiating. Burial will be in Trinity Memorial Park under the direction of the River Funeral Home.

Pallbearers will be B. B. and A. L. Gilstrap, and Woody, Eugene, James and Robert Long.

He is survived by his widow; a daughter, Joyce Kay Littlejohn, living at home; three brothers, Cecil, Houston, Jack, Corpus Christi, and Jewell Littlejohn, Big Spring; three sisters, Mrs. Jettie Jones and Mrs. Mary Lou McLeod, both of Corpus Christi, and Mrs. Juittie Massingill, Denver, Colo., and a niece, Alice Harrison, Big Spring.

There are other nieces and nephews.

Cubs Work On Indian Costumes

Indian costumes were used as a project at the meeting of Den 5, Pack 14, when the Cubs met in the home of Mrs. Dwight McCann Tuesday afternoon. Neal Bryson opened the meeting with the Cub Scout promise. Douglass Burnett and Coy McCann were in charge of the games.

Bobby McCracken closed the meeting with the Living Circle. Den Dad, Dwight McCann, taught the boys how to pass a football. Refreshments were served by Don Madewell.

LEGAL NOTICE

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Red River Topic At U.S. Hearing

PARIS, Tex. (AP) — Allowing the Red River to attack farms, highways, railroads and bridges cannot be tolerated, the executive vice president of the Red River Valley Association told the Corps of Engineers today.

Roy Matthias, in an opening statement at a one-day hearing on the need for controlling the river, said "The destruction of land due to the meandering and vicious caving of the banks of the Red River" is of "deep concern to all people in the Red River Valley and the nation as a whole."

He spoke before an estimated 100 farmers from Arkansas, Texas, Louisiana and Oklahoma and others interested in controlling the sometimes shallow and sometimes turbulent river.

His statement was similar to ones he made at hearings on the Red River at Alexandria and Shreveport, La., last week. Today's hearing concerned the Red River from Denison Dam to Fulton, Ark.

Matthias said work on the river should take into consideration such things as "flood control, navigation, irrigation, pollution abatement, domestic and industrial water supplies, and other lesser benefits such as recreation."

The meeting was conducted by Col. Howard Penney, district engineer of the Tulsa District. The three hearings were authorized by Congress to study the need and cost of developing the river.

Following the hearing the Corps of Engineers will start a four-year $400,000 study of the river and various plans for its control.

The report will go to Congress for possible approval and appropriation of funds.

At a meeting here Tuesday, conducted by Matthias, farmers told of the destruction of land because of floods and the meandering of the river. They outlined their plans for presentation of testimony before the Corps of Engineers.

E. A. Hysaw, a 57-year-old farmer from near Sumner in northwest Lamar County, said the river forced him from one farm. He added:

"I have seen the river eat up 400 acres of land over the years and the river looks more dangerous now than it did 40 years ago."

Speaking on the need for making the river navigable, Matthias said, "The restoration of water transportation to the Red River Valley is inevitable.

Members of the Red River Valley Association have proposed a 12-foot deep canal from the junction of the Red and Mississippi rivers to Denison Dam. They say it would open the Daingerfield iron fields to water commerce and connect the Dallas-Fort Worth areas to river traffic on the Mississippi.

Religion Target For Cuban Reds

MEXICO CITY (AP)—A sharper crackdown on religion, both Catholic and Protestant, has been one result of last week's abortive Cuba invasion, according to persons who flew here from Havana Monday.

One foreigner said there has been a sharp jump in arrests of priests.

Priests of the Roman Catholic Church were being arrested along with politicians, said another passenger of the first Cuban Airline plane to fly from Havana since the invasion started a week ago Monday.

"Estimates run from 50,000 to a million prisoners arrested in the past few days," he said. "Jails and penitentiaries are so crowded Castroites are taking over large private homes to house them.

"Many innocent men are being held without a chance to be heard. These include many newsmen."

It's Fine To Be Relaxed, But Let's Not Fall Asleep

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—A relaxed manner of performing is dandy. But Dean Martin is so darn relaxed and lazy-mannered and sleepy-voiced that it sometimes is hard to understand him.

Tuesday night, during Martin's NBC special, there were moments when an interpreter would have helped.

Andy Griffith was one of Martin's guests. With Dino slurring his words, and Andy using his deepest Deep South dialect, it sometimes sounded as if they were speaking in strange, foreign tongues.

The program had one bright sketch idea—a burlesque of those old movies about the dramatic struggles for success by Tin-Pan Alley composers, complete with all the cliches, even the inevitable splitup of the successful team over a girl.

The most unusual aspect of the rather long hour show, however, was a notable omission: No one made any jokes about Martin and alcohol. Maybe it's the beginning of a new era in Dean Martin's shows.

Dallas Democratic Panel Approves A Loyalty Oath

By The Associated Press

The Dallas County Democratic Executive Committee Tuesday night endorsed interim Sen. William A. Blakley in the U.S. Senate runoff election May 27.

The action came after the committee adopted a loyalty oath which in the future will tie party officials to all Democratic nominees regardless of whether they are of the liberal or conservative wings of the party.

The loyalty oath was the first ever adopted by the committee, and very similar to one presented by so-called party loyalists a year ago and turned down.

Republican John Tower, Blakley's Republican opponent in the runoff election, said a large number of Democrats in the state are supporting him.

"They are tired of being boss-ridden," said Tower. "There are grass roots movements against the professional politicians as was shown in the fall election."

Tower gave his views in an interview Tuesday night at Austin, where he spoke at a banquet of the University of Texas Students' Association.

Dr. Frank Connally Jr., former mayor of Waco, was named chairman of the rally at Waco May 5 which will launch the runoff campaign of Blakley for the old Senate seat of Vice President Lyndon B. Johnson.

Madison Clement, also a former mayor of Waco, will be vice chairman.

Some 250 Democrats from Waco, Central Texas and other parts of the state attended a meeting in Waco Monday night to plan the big rally.

1,500 Braceros A Month Enter

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Interior Ministry said Tuesday that an average of 1,500 braceros a month have gone to the United States during the first quarter of 1961.

A sharp increase is predicted in the months ahead, particularly from the Chihuahua and Monterrey contracting centers.

Cool Front Sets Off Light Showers

By The Associated Press

Skies were clear in northern Texas Wednesday in the wake of a cool front that touched off light showers as it moved southeast.

Skies were mostly cloudy in the southern half of the state.

Early Tuesday temperatures varied from 42 at Dalhart to 76 at Corpus Christi. Most readings were in the 50s and 60s.

Tuesday evening thundershowers were reported at Hughes Springs, Marshall, Kilgore, Henderson, Crockett, Centerville, College Station and Coldwell. However, no heavy rainfall amounts were reported.

High temperatures Tuesday ranged from 63 at Dalhart up to 95 at Presidio. San Antonio and Laredo had 94, Austin 92 and Brownsville 90.

Took Everything But The Hole

TULSA, Okla. (AP) — All that was left was a hole in the ground when thieves finished working out on a producing oil well near Skiatook.

V. A. Darnell, Tulsa, said he discovered all the well's $4,000 worth of equipment gone late Monday when he visited his 20-acre lease.
