Spraberry Shows Logged At Tester In Tom Green

Atlantic Refining Company found shows for possible Spraberry production on a core taken from its No. 1-29 Sugg, prospector in the Tom Green Panhandle which separates Sterling and Irion Counties.

The project was cored from 4,971 to 5,013 feet. Recovery was 42 feet, the top 37 feet being shale and the bottom five feet sand bleeding oil. Top of the Spraberry is at 5,008 feet, elevation 2,481 feet.

No. 1-29 Sugg is approximately 4,100 feet southeast of Delta Gulf Drilling Company No. 1-A Cope recently completed southernmost producer in the Weddell-Spraberry field of Southwest Sterling County.

Operator was to core ahead and then take a drillstem test.

Sinclair Completes Pennsylvanian Well In NW Upton Sector

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company has completed its No. 1 TXL as a small pumping discovery from the Pennsylvanian in Northwest Upton County.

The well was completed through perforations at 10,580-600 and 10,610-10,710 feet for a daily potential of 54.65 barrels of 43.2-gravity oil and now water. Gas-oil ratio was 711-1.

This new producer is 12 miles northeast of Crane and 660 feet from north and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 19, block 41, T-5-S, T&P survey.

It is one mile west and slightly south of Sinclair and Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 R. G. Davis, opener of the Davis-Ellenburger field, and about five and three-quarter miles southwest of the Pegasus-multipay field.

Continental Acquires Big Interest in Salt Creek Oil Properties

Continental Oil Company has acquired the working interest of the Jones Estate, subject to overriding reservations payable out of 85 per cent of the oil, in the Salt Creek pool of Kent County.

The interest of the Jones Estate in the unitized Salt Creek pool and surrounding undeveloped acreage is valued at $11,000,000.

Override Retained

The overriding interest was retained by the Jones Estate and has been sold to a group composed of Rice Institute, M. D. Anderson Foundation of Houston, Yale University, St. Paul School and a number of pension funds represented by J. P. Morgan & Company.

The working interest of the Jones Estate in the Salt Creek pool properties, which were developed by General Crude Oil Company, Houston varies by leases, but it is in the range of 50 per cent.

General Crude Operator

That sold to Continental represents 11 1/2 per cent of the unit, of which General Crude is the operator. The latter has a 40 per cent interest in the unit.

There are approximately 70 wells in the Salt Creek pool, with a scheduled allowable of 9,750 barrels daily, subject to shutdown days.

Covers 8,000 Acres

The developed portion of the pool within the unit, in which Continental obtained the 11 1/2 per cent interest, covers approximately 8,000 acres.

Continental also acquired the working interest of the Jones Estate in approximately 15,000 acres of undeveloped acreage in the area. The Jones Estate interest in this acreage approximated 25 per cent.

McKnight Is Going Back To Tulsa As Parker Executive

Ish McKnight, well-known Midland oil man is moving to Tulsa after having lived in this city for 16 years.

In making the move McKnight is returning to the place where he started in the oil business. His first experience in the industry was 1934 in Tulsa with Mid-Continent Petroleum Corporation.

Going With Parker

He is going back to Tulsa to be head of the land department for Parker Drilling Company. Tulsa is the headquarters of that concern which operates as a contract drilling company and also as a development and producing unit for its own account.

McKnight came to Midland in 1936 as a scout for Mid-Continent.

He stayed with that company un-

Record Crowd Attends 1952 Rodeo Opener

By JIM LINDSEY

Midland's World Championship Rodeo thundered in Wednesday night before an all-time record crowd for the 18-year history of the annual event.

More than 8,000 spectators overflowed the steel stands east of the city to view a fast-moving show which brought loud approval from officials and onlookers alike.

Secretary Louis Bartha of Midland Fair, Inc., sponsor of the five-night rodeo, echoed the estimates of fair authorities and longtime officials of the rodeo in placing the opening turnout above the 8,000 figure.

Champions from far-flung corners of the nation learned Promoter Everett Colborn brought his best stock to this Permian Basin capital. And a majority of them equaled the challenge with crowd-pleasing performances.

Three Cowpokes Hurt

But one of three performers injured slightly received emergency hospital treatment. Ted Smith of Midland was hurt when thrown from a bareback bronc but returned to the arena before the show ended.

Spliced between the regular rodeo events were special acts which won unanimous approval. The Moore family offered something different in the way of rodeo entertainment with its dogs and educated mule. Clown George Mills never was better with Alex Alexander, his negro assistant, in stride, too.

Red Ryder and Little Beaver, comic strip personalities for millions of daily newspaper readers, spotlighted the usually colorful grand entry. They returned to the arena later for an introduction all their own and an exchange of words with Clown Mills.

The Lightning C Ranch Horseback Quadrille, led and directed by Rodeo Promoter Colborn, received

Those who witnessed the wild cow milking at Monday night's performance of Midland Rodeo no longer wonder at the high price of milk.

The price even may be too low, considering the small amount of milk obtained by the cowboy "dairymaids" and all the time, trouble and effort required to get it.

The wild cow milking event is quite appropriate at this time—June being Dairy Month in Texas.

The clowns added tremendously to the opening day parade Wednesday. Many persons wondered who the clowns were and where they came from.

Everyone is congratulating and commending the Midland Lions Club upon the sponsoring, arranging and staging of Wednesday's Rodeo Parade. And it was Lion Duke Jimerson who planned and directed the procession.

The opening day parade undoubtedly was the longest, best, most complete, most colorful and most interesting ever presented in Midland. And a record crowd was on hand to see it. Everyone enjoyed it, too.

• • •

Not many of the thousands who witnessed Wednesday afternoon's parade missed the competent way the Midland police force handled itself as well as the crowd.

Decked out in their new Sam Brown belts, they snapped smartly to attention and saluted properly whenever the color bearers passed by.

State Highway Patrol Captain Glenn Warner of Pecos was on hand with a half dozen reinforcements to help N. G. Black and Oscie Renfrow, state patrolmen stationed here, handle the traffic during the parade Wednesday afternoon and the opening show Wednesday night.

Draft To Summon 29,000 In August

WASHINGTON—(AP)— The Army Thursday issued a draft call for 29,000 men in August.

The Marine Corps, Air Force and Navy do not plan any draft calls that month.

The August quota raises to 983,430 the total of men drafted by all services since September, 1950. The Army got 902,000 of these, the Marines 81,430.

A Defense Department announcement said the Army needs the 29,000 in August for replacements and to maintain authorized strength.

Government Halts Exports Of Steel

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The government Thursday halted the export of all steel mill products except those "essential to direct military production of the United States or friendly countries, or essential to direct defense-supporting industries."

The action was taken by the Commerce Department because of the strike which has cut off new production by the nation's steel mills.

It follows an embargo already placed on warehouse deliveries of steel to U. S. producers of consumer goods.

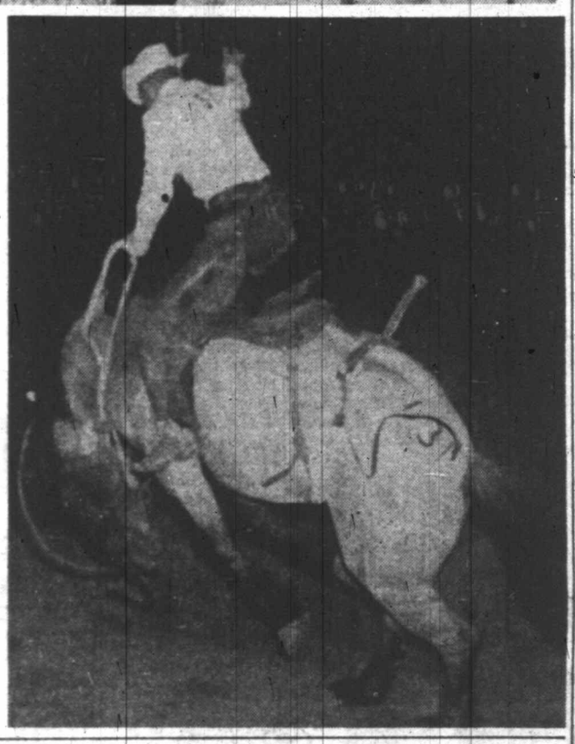

The department's Office of International Trade said the order would be effective until further notice.

RODEO TIME — Thousands of Midlanders and visitors from throughout the area turned out Wednesday for the opening of the 18th Annual World Championship Midland Rodeo. During the afternoon they saw a colorful parade and, above, waved greetings to Red Ryder and Little Beaver on the courthouse lawn. At night a record-breaking crowd saw an exciting show with performances like that of Joe Patterson of San Angelo, shown at right trying to tame a wild bronco named Martin Springs.

Old West Returns To Midland With Mile-Long Rodeo Parade

By COPE ROUTH

The Old West came back to Midland, Wednesday afternoon.

It came back with the hoofbeats of scores of horses, the shouts of gaily bedecked cowboys and cowgirls and the music of marching bands.

It came back with a mile-long parade which unwound before record-breaking thousands who lined the streets for the opening festivities of the 18th annual World Championship Midland Rodeo.

And when the last tired clown had shuffled past and the screaming fire engines traditionally brought up the rear, Midland had seen the longest and most colorful parade in its history.

There were an even dozen carefully - designed and professionally-built floats, which sparkled in the long line of prancing horses and decorated automobiles.

A huge globe, surrounded by beauties, won second place for the Beta Sigma Phi's while one of the prettiest drilling crews ever assembled around a miniature oil rig brought the third-place trophy to the Desk and Derrick Club.

There were other floats, too.

They included those entered by the Midland Fair, Inc., The Old Coon Hunter, Midland Shrine Club, Lamesa Shrine Club, Hi-D-Ho Drive-In, South Little League, Midland National Bank, the Midland Florist Association and the Lions Club.

It was the Lions Club which sponsored the parade, and under the direction of General Chairman Duke Jimerson, it was assembled at Dallas and Illinois Streets and proceeded over its downtown route without a hitch.

Red Ryder and Little Beaver, principal characters in the popular comic strip of The Reporter-Telegram, led the parade, along with officials of the Midland Rodeo, and they waved untiringly in response to the shouts of thousands of youngsters.

The Sheriff's Posses were there, too.

The colorful Post Stampede, with its 19 mounted cowboys, won the Midland Sheriff Posse's annual award for the best riding group.

Others included, of course, the Midland Sheriff Posse, the Odessa Sheriff Posses, the Odessa Ladies' Sheriff Posse and the Ward County Sheriff Posse.

The pace for the parade was set by the music of the Midland High School band while, further back in the long line of floats and cowboys, marched the band of the John M. Cowden Junior High School and the fezzed musicians of the Suez Shrine Temple Band, from San Angelo.

Dozens of new automobiles, bearing pretty girls, also were included in the parade, each carrying the name of a garden club or similar organization.

As the cowboys and cowgirls themselves rode through the streets, the judges had the job of picking out some more winners and here are their decisions, along with the prizes:

Arena Secretary Pete Kerscher released a star-studded program at noon Thursday calling for a parade of the top contestants at the second of five shows. The rodeo will end Sunday night.

Harry Tompkins of Dublin, all-around champion cowboy at the Carlsbad, N. M. rodeo last week, is due aboard a bareback bronc. He is a three times world champion bull rider.

Jim Shoulders of Henryetta, Okla., all-around cowboy champion in 1950 and present bull riding champion, also will make a Thursday night bareback bronc junket. He is a former world champion bareback bronc rider.

The bareback bronc riding contest is the first competitive event after the grand entry which gets underway promptly at 8 p.m.

The big names in calf roping circles appear on the Thursday night program. They include Troy Fort of Lovington, N. M., twice world champion; Walter Poage of Rankin, 1950 champion at Madison Square Garden; Buddy Neal, Rankin; Doyle Riley, Ballinger, and J. D. Holleyman of Ozona.

Jack Favor of Arlington, Whit Keeney of Stephenville, and Jim Bob Altzer of Ozona are familiar bulldoggers returning to the arena Thursday night.

The saddle bronc kingpins go into action, too, in the second go-round. They include Sonny Lavender of Holliday, Manuel Enos of Fort Worth, Tater Decker of Antlers, Okla., and Paul Templeton, Washington State standout. Templeton, Decker and Enos were in the money Wednesday night.

Red Ryder and Little Beaver will be back, along with other outstanding personalities and specialty artists.

House, Senate Vote Postal Pay Money

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Senate Thursday passed and sent to President Truman a supplemental money bill making it possible to pay half a million postal and other federal workers.

Owing to a legislative snarl that tied up the measure, the federal employes haven't been paid for work they did last month.

Payday now is assured them, however, by Senate passage of a compromise $971,342,641 bill which earlier in the day had been approved by the House.

The bill largely contains funds to run government departments out of money at the tag end of the fiscal year which closes June 30.

★ LATE NEWS FLASHES ★

WASHINGTON—(AP)—The House Thursday voted, 361 to 1, in favor of a new GI Bill of Rights for veterans discharged from the armed forces since fighting began in Korea on June 27, 1950. The bill now goes to the Senate.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Representative Rooney (D-NY), in debate on the House floor Thursday, branded Gov. Allan Shivers of Texas as one of the farm operators in the United States who consistently have exploited cheap farm labor from Mexico.

GATESVILLE—(AP)—Thirteen boys ran away from the State Training School for Boys here just before noon Thursday, making 31 who have escaped during the last week. Seventeen still are at large.

China's Loss Laid At Door Of Democrats

ABILENE, KAN.—(AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower said Thursday the paramount issue of the political campaign is "real peace and security in the world."

The five-star general, a candidate for the Republican nomination, said in a press conference Thursday morning he hopes the country can get out from under "the umbrella of fear and doubt and hysteria" he said now covers the country.

Declaring that he intends to "speak out as frankly as I know how" on the issues of the day, Eisenhower added:

1. He hasn't "the slightest idea" whether he can defeat Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the GOP nomination.

2. He would consult Gen. Douglas MacArthur on Asiatic policies if he became President.

3. There is no political connection between him and the Truman Administration which would prevent him from attacking the Democratic record.

4. He believes the states primarily should handle the question of creating a Fair Employment Practices Commission.

Will Back Nominee

5. He will support the Republican presidential nominee—if he doesn't get the prize himself—on the assumption that the GOP platform will be satisfactory.

6. The states can handle education problems better than the federal government.

7. "Our government needs a searching going over" by some one who has had no connection with the Democratic administrations of the last 20 years.

8. Agriculture must not be permitted to suffer but he doesn't know at this time the exact measure of price supports that should be given by the federal government.

9. The Truman Administration must take the responsibility for the "tragic loss" of China.

10. He supports a Feb. 6, 1950, declaration by Senate Republicans on foreign and domestic policies.

He said he assumes the principles of the statement will be incorporated in the Republican platform.

The statement, subscribed to by Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, charged the Truman Administration had given a "green light" for the Communist invasion of South Korea by its Far Eastern policies.

Declaring he is against "socialization of medicine," Eisenhower said he favors private aid for medical education.

Eisenhower has called the loss of China a great international tragedy of our times.

Thursday he referred to the loss as "an international disaster of the first magnitude."

He refused to blame any individuals for China's loss, but he added:

Dutch Plane Sinks British Naval Vessel

DEN HELDER, THE NETHERLANDS —(AP)— A Dutch Thunderjet crashed into a British minesweeper Thursday and the 119-foot vessel sank in flames. A report from the British Embassy to London said 15 seamen lost their lives. A cautious British Admiralty statement conceded that "casualties are believed to be heavy."

The plane crashed during NATO exercises. A Dutch communique said the pilot was killed and two survivors of the 65-ton British vessel were rescued.

In London, the Admiralty said the ship, ML2582, normally carried a crew of 16.

The accident occurred off the Dutch Naval Base of Den Helder, between the mainland and the West Frisian Island of Texel.

The plane and the ship, a 16-knot craft powered by gasoline engines, were taking part in maneuvers with Dutch, British and Belgian forces.

Longtime Midland Resident Is Dead

Mrs. J. H. Williamson, 80, longtime resident of Midland, died at 7 p.m. Wednesday in Western Clinic-Hospital, following a brief illness.

Funeral services will be held at 2:30 p.m. Friday in the First Baptist Church. The Rev. Vernon Yearby, pastor, will officiate. Interment will be in Fairview Cemetery under direction of the Newnie W. Ellis Chapel.

The former Miss Ella Smith, Mrs. Williamson was born March 8, 1872 in Kansas. She had been a Midland resident since 1909. Her late husband, J. H. Williamson, was a pioneer building contractor here. She was a member of the Baptist Church and of the TEL Sunday School class.

Truman Silent On Steel Crisis Plans

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman Thursday said he does not contemplate sending any legislation to Congress dealing with the steel strike.

This was the only comment he would make at a news conference when he was questioned about Monday's Supreme Court decision declaring his seizure of the steel mills was illegal.

Questioners asked also whether he would invoke the Taft-Hartley Act in order to get the workers back on the job. His reply was only, no comment.

He had a one-word reply—never—to the question of whether he would comment on the court decision.

The steel strike which followed instantly on the court decision, which returned the mills to their owners, now is in its fourth day, with Congress studying new strike curbs.

Soon after the news conference, the new White House peace talks on steel were opened as scheduled under the guidance of Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman.

CIO President Philip Murray led a 10-man steelworker delegation into Steelman's office. He found President Benjamin F. Fairless of the United States Steel Corporation and six other top-management men already there.

Government stabilization officials said they knew of no fresh plan Steelman might have for settling the six-month-old steel dispute. The amount of a steel price increase, as well as of a wage increase, is at issue.

Almost 750,000 workers were idled by the strike. These included the 650,000 steelworkers, along with almost 100,000 others furloughed in coal mines, railroads, shipping and docks serving steel mills.

Lightning Kills Farmer As Storms Boil Across Texas

By The Associated Press

Lightning killed a farmer in Northeast Texas early Thursday and severe thunderstorms for that section of the state were forecast for Thursday night.

George Hembree, 50, was struck by lightning as he drove a tractor into a field to plant cotton five and one-half miles south of Quinlan, southwest of Greenville. Hembree's son, Bill, nearby, was not hurt.

The bolt shot down from a thunderstorm that brought .30 inch of rain to Greenville.

The U. S. Weather Bureau said severe thunderstorms were expected late Thursday afternoon and night in parts of Arkansas, Texas and Louisiana.

The storm forecast said:

"Locally severe thunderstorms with hail and strong winds are expected through Arkansas, the northeastern portion of East Texas and northwestern portion of Louisiana Thursday afternoon and night."

Showers Wednesday night and early Thursday brought Wichita Falls .51 inch and Mineral Wells .10 inch of rain up to 6:30 a.m. Austin, Dallas and Texarkana reported sprinkles.

The Weather Bureau said a weak cool front was moving across the state. At mid-morning the front lay between Mineral Wells and San Angelo.

Lieutenant Governor, Solon To Attend Friday's Rodeo

Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey of Austin and State Senator Hill D. Hudson of Pecos will be among the dignitaries scheduled to attend the Friday night performance of Midland Rodeo.

The two state officials are expected to arrive here Friday morning to spend the day visiting friends and acquaintances. They will occupy the governor's box in the grandstand at Midland Fair Park Friday night.

Senator Hudson has attended a number of Midland Rodeos, but it will be the first time Lieutenant Governor Ramsey has attended the big annual celebration here.

Herb C. Petry, Jr., of Carrizo Springs, immediate past president of Lions International and a candidate for congressman-at-large from Texas, will be a special guest at the rodeo Thursday night.

Passengers Hurt As Pilot Swerves To Avert Collision

PITTSBURGH —(AP)— The pilot of a twin-engine unscheduled airliner averted a tragedy Wednesday night by putting his big plane into a sudden, jarring sideslip to keep from crashing into two smaller airplanes near Pittsburgh.

All of the estimated 30 passengers aboard suffered bruises as they were tumbled about as if in a crazy house at a carnival.

To cap his performance, Capt. Henry Glaser, the pilot, set his ship down smoothly on an unlighted airport.

Dr. Arthur O'Keefe of Boston, a passenger, administered first aid and sent eight of his flight companions to the hospital. Four were detained but are not in critical condition.

"People were thrown from their seats into the aisle and the baggage came toppling down on top of us. It was like being in a crazy house at a carnival."

Glaser said he was at about 4,000 feet altitude when he saw several smaller craft. When a crash with two appeared imminent, he said he put his plane into the violent maneuver.

Seconds later he set the plane down on the unlighted Allegheny County (Pittsburgh) Airport. This airport had been virtually abandoned only last Tuesday due to the opening of a new, 33 million dollar port. Lights on the old port were not in operation.

The pilot said the planes he missed apparently were military craft but added he was not really certain. He brushed aside praise of his passengers, Commenting:

"You have to think fast."

The flight was sponsored by the North Star Air Coach Company although the actual operators were Caribbean-American Airlines. The plane took off from the Washington National Airport and was enroute to Burbank, Calif., when the incident occurred.

Determined Youth Fails Third Time To Get In Army

FERNDALE, MD. —(AP)— Johnny Arzoomanian, the eighth grader from New York's Bronx, is back under watchful eyes again after his third attempt to join the Army, or failing that, slip abroad a ship bound for Korea.

The 13-year-old youth was picked up Wednesday afternoon on U. S. Route 301 headed south toward another port after not being able to board a ship in Baltimore. He had left home Monday night.

Last week, he was picked up twice in the Washington area and returned home.

"I'll do anything to get into the Army except wait," he said while police waited for word from his home. "I'll do the same thing again."

'Male Harem' Script Returns Mae West's Name To Lights

By ERSKINE JOHNSON
NEA Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD — Exclusively Yours: Mas West has finally found the movie script that will bring her back to the screen—"The Male Harem," by Jerry Adelman. It's a story about a zippy British duchess who's captured by pirates in 1799, turns buccaneer herself and captures the handsomest men who sail the seas as her love prisoners. Wow!

Paramount and Irving Berlin are huddling about a filmusical titled "White Christmas," a repeat costarring film for Bing Crosby and Fred Astaire, who clicked together in another Berlin musical, "Holiday Inn."

Cracking-voiced Joan Davis and radio comic Jim Backus are teaming up for a domestic-comedy telefilm series titled, "I Married Joan." But there are no plans for Joan's boy friend, Danny Elman, to be shouting the title.

Kathryn Grayson is hiding a romance with a famous Hollywood name, who's absolutely free to pop the marriage question . . . Liz Scott will be the glamor girl in Dean Martin and Jerry Lewis' "Scared Stiff" now that the boys have kissed and made up with Producer Hal Wallis. Paulette Goddard played the role in the original version with Bob Hope. It was titled, "Ghost Breakers."

Poor Salesmanship

"Movietime, U. S. A." is a great idea—but stars sent to hinterlands aren't being given enough time to sell the idea that "movies are better than ever." That's the lament of Pat O'Brien, just back from a junket, who charged:

"The troupe I was with did 68 stands in six days. It was ridiculous. We hardly had time to say 'Hello.'"

A unit publicity man was assigned at the last minute to accompany Marilyn Monroe to Niagara Falls for filming of "Niagara." His No. 1 job: To keep the press away from her except for scheduled interviews.

Rosetta Duncan of the famous Duncan sisters, has been told by doctors that she has a throat nodule and may have to undergo surgery . . . John Barrymore, Jr.'s 4-F classification by the military will stick. A scarred shoulder and silver plates from a football injury . . . Susan Cabot, who divorced her artist hubby some months back, is on the verge of reconciling with him.

Blonde Jane Kean, who's saying she may be Mickey Rooney's next wife, is in the cast of his new Columbia film, "All Ashore." Meanwhile, his almost-ex, Martha Vickers, has switched agents, added five pounds to her shapely frame and comments:

"What do I think about Mickey marrying Jane Kean? All I can say is I hope he has a safe and sane Fourth of July."

Goodby, Mrs. Flynn

The whisper's around that Patrice Wymore (Mrs. Errol Flynn) and Warners are about to end their star-studio relationship . . . Ava Gardner and her Frankie are hammering at the "he's-a-jolly-good-fellow" theme. A movie magazine carries a layout of them being extra-nice to everybody under the heading, "How to Win Friends With Ava and Frankie."

Can't that singer now be called "The Man of Extinction?"

Vic Damone and Joan Benny have a date in Europe. Pretty Joan, as good as engaged to Vic, was promised the trip last year by Papa Jack when she agreed to delay their marriage until her graduation from college.

Gary Cooper's been his silent self about his big secret, but now it can be told that his partner in his new independent film set-up will be Ernest Hemingway. Cooper and the novelist will team up to film three—maybe more—Hemingway short stories against authentic backgrounds. Cooper, by the way, won't have to undergo surgery, for his ulcers, after all, and explain it with:

"I just stopped worrying about things."

Bob Mitchum ready to junk his movie career? The word's been printed and whispered, but it's Bob himself saying: "Look, I was ready to quit pictures the day I started. But I can't quit. I need the dough."

Reform Promises End Five-Hour Riot By Tarheel Convicts

RALEIGH, N. C. —(AP)— Tension still hung over Central Prison Thursday following an uprising Wednesday in which 150 inmates held 10 prison employes as hostages while bargaining for prison reform.

The rebellious prisoners won promises from prison officials that guard Capt. W. G. Meadows would be suspended pending an investigation of prisoners' charges that he mistreated them.

An investigation also was planned into their complaints they were served bad food.

For almost six hours Wednesday the big prison, which houses about 800 convicts, was like a powder keg ready to be touched off.

The uprising was the fifth violent incident to hit the prison within a month. A guard captain was stabbed Sunday night and three earlier stabbings involved prisoners.

Warden Robert A. Allen said the prisoners rebelled shortly after 1 p.m., seized three guards and seven civilian foremen and locked them in the Industrial Building. They demanded to talk with Allen and Prison Director Walter Anderson and outlined their grievances to them.

Finally, at 6:40 p.m., the hostages were released unharmed after the prisoners had exacted the prison reform promise. Part of the surrender terms was that newsmen be present when the promises were made. Allen also agreed to exact no reprisals.

Meadows denied he had mistreated prisoners.

Film Producer Starts Jail Term

LOS ANGELES —(AP)— Producer Walter Wanger has begun serving a four-month sentence for the jealousy shooting of Jennings Lang, agent for his screen star wife, Joan Bennett.

Grim and tight-lipped, the 57-year-old movie maker surrendered Wednesday night at county jail. He turned a deaf ear to newsmen's queries about a possible reconciliation with Miss Bennett. The two have been estranged since the shooting last December 13.

Wanger was convicted of shooting Lang in the groin in a Beverly Hills parking lot. He accused the agent, now recovered, of stealing his wife's love.

The MATURE PARENT

There's No Power In A Parent Quite So Healing As Honesty

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

Lila's parents have just moved to a new town. Since she hadn't yet been able to thaw the coolness with which other children sometimes regard those who enter school in second terms, she had been quite lonely.

One day at recess, Lila overheard a discussion of a birthday party to be given that afternoon for the little girl up the street. So when she came home from school, she went to her toy chest. From it, she carefully collected all the colored marbles of her Chinese checker set, put them in a box, wrapped it in paper and tied it up with some of her new hair ribbons.

Then Lila went to the birthday party. As she climbed the porch steps, the little hostess opened the door. She stared at the uninvited guest, stuck out her tongue, screamed with laughter and yelled, "Go on home. I didn't ask you to my party."

Lila went home. She did not feel particularly elated over what had happened to her. But when she reported it to her mother, she began to feel that she had been really mistreated.

• • •

"Oh, my poor baby," cried Lila's mother. "How cruelly you have been treated. Oh, what a terrible town to have to live in!"

Then Lila's mother burst into tears.

Why? None of us, not even children, can expect to be invited to everybody's parties. Why does this normal, inevitable experience of Lila's make her mother so emotional? Could it be that she is really angry at being uprooted from her own friends by Lila's father?

Could it possibly be that this nice person who is Lila's mother is really secretly pleased by her child's unhappy experience because it gives her ammunition to make her husband properly humble when he comes home tonight?

Perhaps. If so, we mustn't feel a bit superior to Lila's mother. She has no idea at all that she feels anything so human. She thinks she feels compassion for Lila, not an ordinary everyday emotion like resentment. But it's there, bossing her around and she doesn't know a thing about it.

It would be good to know about it because honesty could rectify the damage her overemotionalism has done to her little girl. Honesty could put Lila's experience into perspective in no time at all were Lila's mother to blow her nose and smile at herself.

All she has to do is say, "Well what do you think of me carrying on like that over someone who sticks out their tongue? But I'll tell you a secret. I wasn't nearly so sorry for you as I was for me. A lady I spoke to in a store today turned her back on me. That's why I made such a fuss. Come on over here and let's cuddle, you and I."

There is no power in us so healing, so creative as honesty. It is what keeps the watch on the house of our consciousness "that it be not broken down."

Insurance Women Of Midland Hold Initial .Bosses Banquet

The Insurance Women of Midland held their initial bosses banquet and installation of officers Wednesday night in the Ranchland Hill Country Club. Delbert Downing, manager of the Midland Chamber of Commerce, was the principal speaker.

"If you don't know love," Downing told the group in his inspirational talk, "then you don't know God, because God is love." He advised his listeners to devote their time to doing worthwhile things.

Larry Burnside served as master of ceremonies. Laura Jesse, president of the Insurance Women, gave the welcome address and Bill Harkrider, president of the Midland Association of Insurance Agents, gave the response. The invocation was given by Cecil Boles.

Fern Kelley, vice president, introduced the club members and their guests. Out-of-city guests attending were Hugh Hurbart of Lubbock, special agent of the National Union; Dick Urban, special agent of the Home Insurance Company, and Marvin Marrow of Abilene, special agent of the Loyalty Group.

Robert Gans, director of the Junior High School band, played the following piano selections: "A Pretty Girl Is Like a Melody," "The Sunny Side of the Street" and "Begin the Beguine."

Following the program officers were installed by Roy McKee. New officers are Fern Kelley, president; Gale Allen, vice president; Mavis Jones, secretary; June Eikenberg, treasurer, and Margie Holman, reporter. The group presented a gift to Laura Jesse, retiring president.

The tables were decorated with mixed arrangements of asters and daisies. Arrangements of lemon leaves, alternated with candles, extended down the length of the tables.

Places were marked with match folders engraved with the words, "Insurance Women of Midland."

Western Togs Rate Tops At World's Championship Rodeo

Grandstand cowpokes were as thick as bruises on a bronc rider Wednesday night when the eighteenth annual Midland World's Championship Rodeo held its opening session in the Fair Park Arena.

The first-night crowd filled every available seat and overflowed into the aisles, making passage difficult for all but the most adept cowhands.

A great many of the spectators preferred "leaning on the old top rail" to scrambling for a seat in the stadium, despite frequently broadcast warnings to clear the fence. An unexpected swerve by one of the Brahmans produced quicker results than any number of announcements.

One little cowgirl had a beige jacket to match her frontier pants and complete her western ensemble. The couple sitting behind her also wore beige frontier pants with identical brown and yellow shirts.

One youngster watched placidly while bucking broncs made short work of their would-be riders, but could hardly contain her enthusiasm when Red Ryder and Little Beaver made their entrance. At intervals throughout the show she would say, "I wonder what Little Beaver's doing."

Finally it was past bedtime for the youngest cowpokes. While the cowhands they hoped they would grow up to be were still performing in the arena, sleepy little cowboys hit the trail to dreamland.

Then it was all over for the night. The onlookers folded their programs, gathered their families together and began to wonder just where they had parked their cars.

UN Maintains Stand On Screening POW's

MUNSAN, KOREA. —(AP)— UN truce negotiators Thursday accused the Communists of insisting that thousands of Allied-held war prisoners be chained or handcuffed and shipped back to the Reds like cattle.

Maj. Gen. William K. Harrison told the Communists their demand for forced repatriation of all Allied-held prisoners "falls on deaf ears. The UN will not forciby and violently drive to your side anyone who resists returning to you."

The chief UN negotiator's address came after North Korean Gen. Nam Il charged that recent outbreaks of violence on Koje Island have proved the Allied principle of voluntary repatriation "utterly bankrupt."

The negotiators, at Red insistence, will meet again at 11 a.m. Friday at Panmunjom.

An Historic Stride

With the signing of the German peace contract, another historic stride has been taken toward stability and new strength for the Western world.

Only a short time ago the Allied treaty with Japan took effect. But admittedly there is a vast difference between that agreement and the German accord.

The pact with Germany does not cover the whole nation, but only the Western zones occupied until now by U. S., British and French troops. Since the Russians occupy East Germany and we could not get together with them on a treaty for all Germany, we have done the next best thing. If and when the country is unified, our treaty will apply to all areas.

Not many days back it had begun to look as if really grave obstacles to the new German agreement were rising, especially among Chancellor Adenauer's own majority coalition of parties. Temporarily, at least, that now has changed. Opposition from the chancellor's close supporters has been muted.

But although the entire free world may herald the signing of this treaty, there can be no easy assumption that the sailing now will be smooth. The powerful German Socialists, led by the implacable, dyspeptic Kurt Schumacher, are stoutly against the treaty and will buck it hard when it comes up for ratification in the Bonn Parliament.

The pact also must be ratified, of course, in the U. S. Senate and the British and French legislatures. The Labor Party's attitude suggests that in Britain, if nowhere else among the non-German signatories, trouble may develop. The leftist Laborites echo the Schumacher argument that this agreement wrecks any early chance for German unity.

Whatever the effect upon unity, the treaty does give West Germany most of its sovereignty back. It formally ends the Allied occupation, although not the presence of Allied troops on German soil. Hereafter they are there as friends and protectors, much the same as American troops are in Japan.

In return for restoration of its civil powers, West Germany has pledged itself to rearm and recruit some 12 divisions of 300,000 men. These units would be incorporated in the projected new six-nation European defense army.

Thus the groundwork is laid for West Germany to become a potent, independent ally of the Allied nations in their continuing struggle to save the world from encroaching communism. This is only the first step toward that goal, but it is a major commitment and therefore it deserves the plaudits of all free men.

The Russians and many another will rail against this treaty as destructive of hopes for peace. In actuality it is the opposite. It represents, as did the Japanese treaty, a courageous effort to bring back into the family of free nations a former enemy. It stands out as a constructive act symbolic of the will to muster every available ounce of strength against tyrannical Communists.

To the extent that the free peoples are able to fulfill the promise of such acts as the German peace treaty, the outlook for peace will not be lessened but enhanced.

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

By Drew Pearson

(Copyright, 1952, By The Bell Syndicate, Inc.)

Drew Pearson says: Truman-Dever Sunday-morning conference was revealing; Ike made first political speech in Abilene; early Democratic leanings may help Eisenhower.

WASHINGTON — The extent to which President Truman is directing backstage operations for the Democratic national convention can be gathered from a recent Sunday-morning conference with Gov. Paul Dever of Massachusetts and Frank McKinney, chairman of the Democratic National Committee.

Governor Deve is to be Democratic keynote speaker, and the three men discussed the contents of his speech at some length, almost down to the commas and the semicolons. At one point the President even asked Dever whether he planned to read his speech.

"No, Mr. President," replied the Massachusetts governor, "I just can't read a speech. I fumble and stumble too much. I'll have a few notes, but I'll know what I want to say."

There was agreement that the speech must include a strong position on civil rights, and should review Democratic achievements during the last 20 years with a warm tribute to the Truman-Acheson foreign policy.

The President seemed so interested in convention plans and the meeting lasted so long that Governor Dever was late for the 11 o'clock mass at St. Matthew's Cathedral. After church, a group of friends asked:

"Is the President going to take an active part in the convention?"

"This is the age of modern communications," replied Dever with a smile. "It's my guess that nobody at the convention will be able to see the President's hand."

Ike's First Political Speech

His political enemies probably will make something of the fact that the first political speech Dwight Eisenhower ever made in his life was at Abilene, Kan., in 1909 as a Democrat, and the second political speech of his life also was at Abilene in 1952 as a Republican.

The first political speech was at the age of 19 at a Jackson Day dinner. Eisenhower's father was a Democrat, and young Ike was picked as Democratic representative of the younger generation. The reason he made no more political speeches until this week was because he entered West Point a few months later.

Entirely aside from his political enemies, the 1909 speech at Abilene is significant in two respects:

No. 1—Young Ike made this profound observation at the age of 19: "'As the twig is inclined so the tree is bent.' A man after voting the straight ticket for several elections seldom changes from one side to the other."

This will be played up by Taft leaders; in fact, Congressman Carroll Reece of Tennessee, Taft's campaign manager for the South, already has cast doubts about Ike's ability to take off the gloves against the Democrats because he's been too close to them.

On the other hand, what many GOP leaders forget is that the Democratic Party has the predominant registration in the nation today, and in order to win, the Republicans must woo large blocks of Democratic votes. A candidate who has had Democratic leanings in the past sometimes can do this better than a dyed-in-the-wool Republican.

GOP Split: 1912-1952

No. 2—Young Ike's 1909 speech was filled with references to the division inside the Republican Party, which later split it squarely in two during the row between President Taft, father of the senator, and ex-President Teddy Roosevelt.

Ironically, Eisenhower now is in exactly the same kind of fight, with the Republican Party becoming more bitter and another split threatened between conservatives and progressive Republicans.

After the elder Taft refused to seat Teddy Roosevelt's delegates to the 1912 convention, Roosevelt bolted, formed the Bull Moose Party. Today the same fight over Texas, Louisiana and South Carolina delegates is certain to take place in Chicago, with President Taft's son and Eisenhower lined up in bitterly opposing camps.

Young Ike, speaking as a Democrat in Abilene in 1909, had some worldly-wise observations to make about the earlier split in the party of which he now is a member.

As shown by following remarks young politician Eisenhower was trying to wean the progressive wing of the Republican Party over to the Democrats, just as Eisenhower the candidate now will have to win Democrats over to the Republican Party.

"One branch of the Republican Party)," he told the Jackson Day meeting at Abilene, "is called the square-dealers, insurgents, and reformers. Although these men are loud in their denunciation of Cannon, Aldrich, and a few others who are hide-bound party men, yet they refuse to join any other party and at election vote the Republican ticket . . .

"There is an inborn desire in all normal and healthy boys to help the smaller contestants in an even fight," Eisenhower continued. "A young man, in speaking of the political situation the other day, said: 'My father is a Republican and so was his father, but I am going to vote for the Democrats at the next election because I think they need me and the Republicans do not.'

Boosts Democratic Principles

"But notwithstanding such reasoning as an admiration of fair play, the parental vote and the like, a man's first vote generally is cast correctly. He has arrived at an age of great self-confidence and has acquired a feeling of self-importance, for he figures that he will be about one-fifteenth of a millionth part of the vote of the United States.

"A leader of a political party who is a clean and fearless fighter," concluded young Eisenhower, "and possesses a winning manner is undoubtedly the means of attracting a large number of votes. The young man sees that the more honest and fearless leaders have become disgusted with the actions of the leaders and the party proper. He admires these men greatly but he cannot help but think and remark that they are fighting for many of the same principles which the Democratic Party advocated."

That was Dwight Eisenhower's first and last contribution to the Democratic Party. According to the Abilene News:

"To say that he handled himself nicely would be putting it mildly. His speech was well-received."

A few months later, Ike Eisenhower was in West Point, where no one is supposed to be either a Democrat or a Republican.

Have A Laugh

It was the cowboy's first visit to the city. He registered at a hotel and followed the bellboy who took his valise.

A door opened and the cowboy yelled, "I won't take that room! It's no bigger than a closet and doesn't even have a window."

The bellboy said, "Mister, that's not your room; that's the elevator."

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

What does a traveling salesman do when he isn't traveling or selling? If he's a bridge player, he drops into a bridge club wherever he happens to be.

Charles H. Sanders, of New York, travels quite a bit as sales manager for a cigaret company. On a recent trip to Cincinnati, Mr. Sanders, one of the ranking players in the country, had to find a remarkable play to fulfill the contract in the hand shown today.

West opened the jack of diamonds, and Mr. Sanders won in dummy with the ace. He promptly led three top clubs from the dummy, discarding low diamonds from his hand.

	NORTH (D)
	♠ Q 5

	♦ A 9 8
	♣ A K Q 7 3
WEST		EAST
♠ A 8 7 6 2		♠ 4

♦ J 10 4		♦ K Q 6 5
♣ J 10 8 4		♣ 9 5 2
	SOUTH
	♠ K J 10 9 3
	♥ A K Q 6
	♦ 8 7 2
	♣ 6

North	East	South	West
1 ♣	Pass	1 ♠	Pass
2 ♣	Pass	2 ♥	Pass
2 N.T.	Pass	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead—♦ J

The average player would probably try to draw trumps next. Mr. Sanders, however, saw no reason to give the opponents a chance to defeat the contract if the distribution happened to be freakish.

His opponents happened to be two of the best players in the country, and he knew that they would take a great delight in hornswoggling the visiting expert, if they could.

After running the three top clubs, Mr. Sanders proceeded to lead out the top hearts. The ace of hearts was safely cashed, but West ruffed the king of hearts.

West could not afford to lead two rounds of trumps, since then Mr. Sanders would make his contract with four trump tricks, two hearts, a diamond, and three clubs. West therefore returned a diamond, forcing declarer to ruff.

Declarer now made the key play of leading his low heart. East won with the ten of hearts and could not find a way to defeat the contract. If he returned anything but a trump South would surely be able to ruff his queen of hearts with dummy's queen of spades.

If East returned a trump, two rounds of trumps would permit declarer to draw all of the trumps and cash his queen of hearts safely at the end.

CARD Sense

Q—With both sides vulnerable, the bidding has been:

South	West	North	East
1 Heart	Double	Redouble	1 Spade

You, South, hold: Spade 5, Hearts K-Q-J-9-4-2, Diamonds A-J-8-6, Clubs 7-3. What do you do?

A—Bid two hearts. Your partner has asked you to let the next bid come around to him unless you can double for penalties. Your failure to follow instructions indicates that you are not interested in doubling spades. It is clear that you have a sound heart suit in a hand that is much better adapted to offense than to defense.

What's RIGHT?

You are driving to another city to spend a week-end with friends and they have let you know they are expecting you in time for dinner. At the last minute you are delayed in starting and know you won't be there by dinnertime.

WRONG: Explain to your host and hostess what happened after you arrive.

RIGHT: Telephone them long distance and let them know that you won't arrive in time for dinner.

WASHINGTON COLUMN

Newspaper's Suit Spotlights McCarran Hostility To Press

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Nevada Senator Pat McCarran's new proposal to ban news photographers, radio and television broadcasting apparatus from committee hearings is regarded here as merely the latest in a series of moves to impose censorship on many phases of American life.

The McCarran act has barred from admission to the United States, even on temporary visitors' permits, a number of the world's leading scientists.

The McCarran omnibus immigration bill, which recently was passed by the Senate, further tightened these restrictions on the admission of foreigners to this country.

Senator McCarran's Internal Security Committee's investigations and the examination of witnesses brought before it constantly have challenged the right to freedom of opinion and freedom of speech.

To the extent that these various activities have been directed at combatting communism and Communist propaganda, they have been commended generally. Senator McCarran's antagonism to freedom of speech and freedom of the press goes deeper than this, however, as revealed by his campaigns against publications that have been critical of him in his own state of Nevada.

H. M. Greenspun, publisher of the Las Vegas (Nev.) Sun, has been in Washington and New York recently, frankly and openly trying to raise money to carry on his fight against what he says is a McCarran-ordered boycott of resort advertising in his newspaper.

Greenspun has filed a million-dollar damage suit against Senator McCarran; the senator's administrative assistant Eva Adams; Marion Hicks, manager of the Thunderbird Hotel, and various other resort and gambling club operators.

Restraint Of Trade

The charge in this suit is conspiracy in restraint of trade under the fair trade laws. Without this advertising from the five resort hotels in the Las Vegas area, Greenspun may have to fold, or else knuckle under to McCarran pressure.

This latter is what happened in the case of a Reno sheet, the Nevada Labor News. Its publisher, Denver Dickerson, started out on a campaign of criticism of the McCarran political machine operations.

Pressure was brought to bear on the paper's advertisers, including the casinos, to withdraw their support. Today the paper no longer is critical of McCarran and the ads are back.

Hank Greenspun's story of opposition to McCarran is much more bizarre than this. He was born and brought up in New Haven, Conn., and went to law school in New York. He is in his middle 30's.

He got into the war and saw combat service in Europe. He got trench foot and was invalided to a British hospital. Although a blue-eyed Jewish boy himself, he married his Irish nurse and brought her home. They now have four children.

In New York after the war, Greenspun got mixed up in the illegal shipment of arms to Israel and took the rap for it.

Then he got involved with Bones Remmer, New York racing figure, who thought he had an inside track to get a state franchise for a new horse-racing concession near Buffalo. When that evaporated, Remmer and Greenspun got in Greenspun's car and drove to Las Vegas.

Likes Las Vegas

Remmer remembered that Tom Mix once told him what a wonderful place Las Vegas was for a resort center. Remmer thought he might open a track there.

When they got to the edge of town, Remmer remarked at once, "This place is too small to support a track." Nevertheless he sold stock in the venture, until some past income tax troubles caught up with him.

But Greenspun liked Las Vegas, its warm sun and dry air. He called his wife in New York and told her to come on out.

He got a job first as press agent for a hotel. Then he started a Las Vegas magazine for tourists.

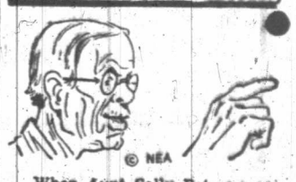

A short time before, the Typographical Union had pulled a strike on the Las Vegas Review-Journal, the established and then the only paper in town. Unable to win the strike, the union started a paper of its own in opposition.

The Sun was a losing proposition right from the start. After it had shown a deficit for some months running, Greenspun went to Typo Union headquarters in Indianapolis and offered to take the paper off its hands. He had no money, but the union took his notes.

Greenspun says he was doing all right till he decided to take after Senator McCarran as the too-powerful boss of the state. He printed some pictures and a story about young Tom Mechling, who is running for U. S. senator against Alan Bible, McCarrans' law partner. That was when they began to put the screws on, he says.

Greenspun says all the resort operators are his friends, and would like to support his paper. But the senator won't let 'em. They give him some "Red Cross" ads on the side. But even with these he hasn't much chance of winning.

IN 15 minutes the usual party was complete Brinsley Shaw and Charlotte Dean, Hubert Canning and his wife Isolda—all were there except the Lawrences.

Zimmer and a woman in silver drew near one of the open windows. Light from a lamp behind them high lighted Zimmer's blond head, but the woman's face was a blur in the shadow.

Isolda Canning's voice was low and desperate. "I'm frightened, Max."

"What are you talking about?"

"Perdita Lawrence. She's in the hospital. She may die. The radio said 'traffic accident.' Max, were you driving the car?"

"Be quiet!" Zimmer's voice was low and furious. "You're out of your mind. I give you my word I had nothing to do with Perdita's accident. I've been wondering why she and Lawrence were late."

Zimmer gripped the edge of the window grille with both hands.

"No. She can't talk. She can't let her father know the truth. If she did, I would tell him the same story as hers with different motivation and that would be unbearable for Perdita. And for her father."

"But, if she's delirious?"

"That's improbable, but not impossible. However, in a business like this you have to take a some risks."

"I don't want to take a risk like that."

"Don't you realize I have a plan?"

"You're not fooling me! If you are, I swear I'll get out from under by going to the police myself before anyone else."

"Speak more softly. You're hysterical. You'll feel better when you've had a cocktail. It'll be along soon."

"But, Max, what are we going to do?"

"You can trust me. Now talk about something else."

Listlessly she followed him over to the piano that stood by the next window and looked over his shoulder as he opened a bound volume.

"These lieder of Schumann's?"

"I can't read music."

"But you must have heard this." Contempt tinged his voice a little. "At the movies, if nowhere else. Don't you recognize the first two bars?" Softly he struck four notes—D, D sharp, F, F sharp.

• • •

"NOW!" Basil stepped out of the shrubbery and walked toward the French windows. Lloyd followed him wonderingly.

Otto approached Isolda. There were two of the colored cocktail glasses on his silver tray—one sapphire, one aquamarine. The sapphire glass was on Isolda's side of the tray as Otto presented it. Her hand was moving toward the glass when Basil vaulted the grille of the French window.

"I'll take that." He snatched the sapphire glass from her hand.

Isolda's lips parted in utter astonishment. Otto began to shake so that a little of the other cocktail spilled on the tray. Zimmer stood like stone, an unlighted cigaret between his lips.

"Dr. Willing! I didn't expect another of your intrusions so soon!" His stare was insolently calm, but his voice vibrated uncontrollably.

Isolda screamed. Basil looked down the room where she was looking and saw Foyle standing in the archway that led to the hall. A uniformed policeman was moving toward Otto.

"You can arrest Zimmer," said Basil. "I have the poisoned drink. I even know the signal he used for Otto—three times in my presence, twice the evening Duggan and Miss Shaw died and once tonight. I was slow getting it; but at least in time to save Thereon Yorke and the Cannings."

"Save?" There was dawning horror in Yorke's eyes. "What have you saved me from, Dr. Willing?"

Basil looked at her with something that was not quite pity. "He was a patient of Dr. Zimmer's too."

Savagely Canning turned on Isolda. "You . . . ." His lips worked but he could not form words.

• • •

AT midnight the rain ceased. When Basil Willing got home, a new moon was riding the clouds in the sky beyond the library windows.

Gisela was waiting up for him and insisted on hearing everything immediately.

"How could Zimmer realize instantly who Duggan was and why he was there?" Gisela asked her husband.

"When Duggan arrived Zimmer did something completely out of character that has puzzled me all along—he put his arm around Duggan's shoulder, a gesture of familiarity he would not use ordinarily to a person he had never seen before. He did it in order to pick Duggan's pocket. Zimmer simply had to know which one of us was the real Basil Willing. A glance inside Duggan's wallet told Zimmer that. The wallet contained a private detective's license issued in Jack Duggan's name and a check for $400 made out to Duggan and signed 'Katherine Shaw per C.D.' It was as clear as a printed message: 'This is Jack Duggan, a private detective employed by Katherine Shaw.'"

Diary Keeper Must Face Court Martial

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Maj. Gen. Robert W. Grow, whose diary was stolen by Russian agents while he was visiting in Germany, will be tried by court martial, the Army announced Thursday.

Grow was a military attache at the American Embassy at Moscow.

The announcement said the Army had completed the investigation of the charges preferred against Grow and that trial by court martial is warranted.

The Russians made propaganda use of the diary, publishing excerpts in which Grow was depicted as advocating war now against Russia.

The trial will be held at Fort Meade, Md., with the sessions closed to the public. The date for the trial was not announced.

On April 28, the Army announced it was investigating charges against Grow which included:

1. Improperly reporting classified military information in private records.

2. Failing properly to safeguard classified military information.

Texas Republicans Face New Question: When Can They Hold July Party Meets?

By MARTHA COLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Texas Republicans have put their lawyers to work on a mighty important question—when can they hold their July precinct conventions?

Some say July 19—that's a week before the July 26 Democratic primary. Some say they must be July 26, same day as the primary.

They're the ones Orville Bullington of Wichita Falls, state GOP executive chairman, says "Only God, in his infinite wisdom, can understand."

If the Republican precinct meetings are held on July 26, the day of the Democratic primary, that means a poll tax holder can't vote in the primary and then go attend a Republican precinct convention on the same day. For the law says flatly that's illegal.

The Republican precinct conventions in July serve the same purpose as the Democratic primary—both lead to nomination of the party candidates for elective offices in Texas.

Supporters of Senator Robert Taft for President figure Republican precinct conventions and the Democratic primary on the same day will see many of what they call the "overnight Republicans" fall by the wayside.

They have charged that the supporters of General Eisenhower really are Democrats and figure they'll choose a Democratic primary over a Republican Party precinct meeting.

The Eisenhower people retort that they're just as good Republicans as anybody else. And their leaders are drumming up business to get the people out to precinct meetings to prove it.

If the GOP precinct conventions are held a week before the Democratic primary, there's nothing in the state law to prevent a voter from participating in both. The law merely says it's illegal to do both on the same day. But, there's the matter of party loyalty and party pledge that would keep a voter from doing it.

Porter Vs. Zweifel

The Taft supporters generally have aligned themselves with Henry Zweifel of Fort Worth, national GOP committeeman from Texas.

The Eisenhower backers generally have aligned themselves with Jack Porter of Houston, a candidate for Zweifel's post. They charge that Zweifel and his followers are the old guard Republicans in Texas and strive to keep the party small in order to horde patronage. They figure the only way to oust Zweifel is to get control of the state party machinery.

The precinct conventions in May started delegates on their way to the presidential nominating convention of both parties.

Those in July start the ball rolling toward permanent state party organization and, in the case of the Republicans, nomination of state candidates at the state convention to be held the fourth Tuesday in August.

There's no question but that the Democrats will hold their precinct conventions the same day of their primaries.

In the case of the Republicans—the law says in one place that "There shall be held in each county a county convention of each party to be composed of" delegates "elected by the qualified voters of each precinct on primary election day, precinct conventions to be held on said day." This year that is July 26.

In another place, though, stipulating how a party may nominate its candidates by convention, the law says nominations may be made at a state convention, composed of delegates from various county conventions, "which shall be composed of delegates from the general election precincts in such counties elected therein at primary conventions, held in such precincts on the third Saturday in July." This year the third Saturday is July 19.

Child's Confession Solves 23 Mystery Fires—Almost

DANVILLE, KY. —(AP)— Those mysterious fires plaguing the John Gibson household since Saturday have been solved—almost.

A 13-year-old niece of the Gibsons Wednesday night admitted she set 22 of the pesky little blazes.

But sparks of mystery, and fire, continue. Investigators said a twenty-third fire was reported after the girl was taken from the four-room Gibson home for questioning. The cause of this blaze hasn't been solved.

Further questioning of the girl and Mr. and Mrs. Gibson was planned Thursday, authorities said. The investigators said Johnnie Dee Bailey, a fifth grader, admitted setting the fires—the first on impulse for fun, the others to keep up the mystery. The family managed to put out most of the fires unaided.

She has been residing with the Gibsons but was sent to the home of friends for the night. Her father, Clarence Bailey, was killed in an accident in Indiana eight years ago.

Fire Chief Alex Upton had reported Monday, after "a thorough investigation," that he thought the fires were set, but blamed no one then. Table cloths, curtains and bed clothing were among articles burned.

Investigators from the state fire marshal's office were called in and conducted the inquiry with city and county officers. No charges were filed.

Careless use of matches and smoking materials is the greatest cause of fires in the United States.

Lubbock Baby Dies In Highway Mishap

SANTA ROSA, N. M.—(AP)—A six-months-old baby was killed and his grandfather injured gravely late Wednesday when an automobile over-turned 22 miles southeast of here on U. S. Highway 84.

The infant was the son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Hughes of Lubbock.

A rear tire blowout while their car was traveling 50 miles an hour was blamed for the accident, the sheriff's office here reported.

Mrs. Hughes, a daughter of Grissom, suffered face and hand cuts and her mother a sprained wrist. Hughes escaped with scratches.

Eight Jailed In Swindles On Reserve Fleet Supplies

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The FBI Thursday arrested two men—one a federal official—and charged them with diversion of surplus government rope.

Capt. Manuel Gonzales, 42, assistant chief of the division of ship repair and maintenance for the U. S. Maritime Administration, was arrested in the Commerce Department Building in Washington.

Emile Schmidt, 65, used rope buyer, was taken into custody by FBI agents in New Orleans.

FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover said Gonzales was charged with embezzling and selling without authority some 170,000 pounds of rope valued at about $8,500.

Schmidt, he said, was charged with receiving a portion of the goods, which had been in storage aboard the reserve fleet of the Maritime Administration at Beaumont, Texas.

Captain Gonzales, a former Navy commander, was in charge of that fleet when the rope was disposed of between January, 1951, and March, 1952, Hoover said.

Gonzales was promoted in March of this year to his present position in the Maritime Administration. He resides in Hyattsville, Md.

The FBI said Thursday's arrests make a total of eight persons who have been taken into custody in recent weeks in an investigation involving embezzlements from the Beaumont Reserve Fleet supplies.

The FBI named those previously arrested in the Beaumont investigation as Capt. Howard J. Gray, 44, assistant fleet captain there; Norman A. Fisher, 44, a boat operator; Fritz Herman Kaleck, 44, an insurance agent; and Murphy F. Sterling, 30-year-old steel worker, all of Beaumont; Thomas Oscar Wigley, 45, former electrician for the reserve fleet, arrested at San Francisco; and Edwin J. Anderson, 37, of Galveston, former fleet diver, who was taken into custody at Galveston.

SAVED BY AFRICAN NATIVES—Dr. Gustaf Hoen, an American medical missionary who was stricken with polio in a primitive African village, arrives in Boston, Mass., enroute to Boston Children's Hospital for treatment. Working under the doctor's direction, the African natives saved his life by fashioning a respirator out of wood and bicycle pumps. With Dr. Hoehn are Dr. Lowell of the Children's Hospital and Capt. Helen Perz, Army flight nurse.

School Custodians Over Area Attend Lectures In City

A custodian and building engineer school for custodians of Midland Public Schools and schools in neighboring communities opened here Thursday and will continue through Friday.

The school is being held from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. daily, with 60 persons attending from Andrews, McCamey, Crane, Garden City, Big Spring, Stanton, Lamesa and Midland public schools.

Subjects to be discussed include floor maintenance, inside workings of plumbing, care of all masonry type floors, electrical maintenance, and care of windows and walls.

A lecture on "Human Relations as Pertaining to Custodians" will be given by Wesley Martin, director of special services here. Other lectures are scheduled during the two-day session.

Meals are being served in the cafeteria.

Charges Dropped Against Church Pulpit Confessor

HOLTON, KAN. —(AP)— Bank robbery charges have been dismissed against Albert Johnson, 23, who stood in the pulpit of a Topeka, Kan., church May 4 and confessed participation in the robbery.

The $835 holdup of the bank at Hoyt, Kan., occurred four years ago. District Judge Robert H. Kaul dismissed the charges against Johnson under a Kansas law requiring prosecution for a crime to be initiated within two years of the offense.

At the time of his public confession, Johnson said he had been directed by God to give himself up so he could "warn younger kids to avoid the fate that befell me." He expressed a desire to become a minister.

Lamesan Elected As New President For FFA In Area

ODESSA—Darrell Rogers of Lamesa was elected new president of Area II FFA chapters as the climax Wednesday of their annual session.

Other officers named were: Gary Monroe, Iraan, vice president; Milburn Wink, Robert Lee, treasurer; Richard Clugston, Ysleta, secretary Billy Yeatts, Meadow, sentinel; Wilburn Bednar, Garden City, reporter; and Billy Whiteside, Divide, parlimentarian.

Ann Way, Big Lake, was selected as Area II FFA sweetheart. She will represent the area in Dallas competition to name a state sweetheart. A senior in Big Lake High School, she is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lacy Way, Texon ranchers.

The three-day session opened Monday with approximately 100 delegates registering.

Mother Of Midland Resident Is Dead

WINTERS—Funeral services for Mrs. G. W. Scott, Sr., 80, mother of Dr. J. Dow Scott of Midland, were to be held at 3:30 p.m. Thursday at Bradshaw Baptist Church.

The Rev. Mr. Fulton was to officiate with The Rev. D. W. Ward of Drasco and the Rev. Austin Powers of Henderson, assisting.

Interment was to be in Winters' Fairview Cemetery, under the direction of Still Funeral Home, Winters.

A longtime resident of this area, Mrs. Scott died at 5:10 p.m. Wednesday at her home in Bradshaw.

Born Jan. 30, 1872, in Comanche County, she was married to G. W. Scott Dec. 9, 1897. The couple moved to Winters in 1909, and later continued to Drasco Community. She was a member of the Bradshaw Baptist Church.

Two daughters and four sons are among the survivors.

House Group Delays Censure Proposals

WASHINGTON —(AP)— A House Judiciary Subcommittee delayed action indefinitely Wednesday on a batch of proposals to impeach or censure President Truman and to deny him seizure authority.

The measures were introduced in the wake of Truman's seizure of the steel mills and before the Supreme Court outlawed his action as unconstitutional.

BRITAIN, TOO, HAS RED TAPE

LIVERPOOL, ENGLAND—(AP)—Beniamino Gigli, noted Italian tenor, offered to sing for Korea-bound British troops he met at a pier here Wednesday night just before he sailed for Canada.

"But," he explained somewhat puzzled, "I am told that I cannot because of what you call 'red tape'."

Midland Memorial Hospital Announces Director Of Nursing

Mrs. Frances Hardwicke has arrived in Midland to be director of nurses at the Midland Memorial Hospital. She will succeed Mrs. Peggy Rose, who resigned to attend Texas Christian University.

The new director will supervise the present corps of 55 nurses and nurses' aides now employed at the hospital.

Mrs. Hardwicke earned her A. B degree at the University of West Virginia and taught school before she decided to pursue a nursing career. She became a registered nurse after training at the Fairmont Emergency Hospital in Fairmont, W. Va., and remained at that hospital for several years as an instructor in its school of nursing.

Later she was director of nurses at a hospital in Kingwood, W. Va., and accepted a similar position in Kermit, Texas, in 1948. Mrs. Hardwicke resigned her post in Kermit to accept the Midland position.

She is first vice president of the 21st District Graduate Nurses Association of Texas.

Broncs Nudge Indians, 7-6 To Snuff Out Victory Streak

Harris Calls Nat Deal With Yanks, 'Once In A Lifetime'

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—Stanley Raymond Harris has discovered that the other clubs are beginning to respect the Washington club, which is good.

"When they look up to you, you've got them on the defense," says Bucky Harris.

"We're on the attack."

Jackie Jensen

Frank Shea

"It was just one of those freaks that come along once in a lifetime," grins Manager Harris.

"I was somewhat hesitant at first, didn't want to part with Noren, but when George Weiss started throwing names like Jensen, Wilson and Shea around loosely—three for one—I grabbed it quickly.

"I didn't know what Shea would do for us, but I saw Jensen in the Coast League and knew Wilson was an excellent outfielder.

"Jensen seems happy with the change, if for no other reason than that I let him play regularly. He's the kind of a kid who has to play every day. Bench him and he becomes discontented, and it affects his play.

"There was nothing amazing about the way I handled Shea. At the outset, I let him go his way, worked on his curve a trifle, and used him in relief. He got hot and look at him now.

"The same goes for Sleater, the young left-hander we picked up from the Browns with Marsh for Michaels. Lou had a 1-9 record with St. Louis last season, but with us he immediately won, 2-1 and 1-0. I liked him as a prospect—he's only 24—but never dared to think he would go for us from the gun. Yet he's as good a pitcher as we have."

The Go-Go Boys Of 1952

Harris says the Yankees got a splendid man in Irv Noren, but believes Casey Stengel erred experimenting with him at first base.

"I knew about his first-base possibilities, but he's too accomplished a center fielder to be tried elsewhere," he explains.

The move hardly could have surprised Harris, however, for two years ago Manager Stengel's legerdemain actually had the great Joe DiMaggio at first base.

"The Yankees could use some strength at first base," comments Harris, "but I doubt that they'll find it in Noren. If they'll leave him alone in center field, he'll do 'em some good."

The Nationals acquired a package of the White Sox' speed in landing Busby, who came with Holderlein for Mele, and are running. The Nats are extraordinarily swift, worry pitchers, hurry the other side into mistakes. They're the Go-Go Boys of 1952.

Have Richest Farm System

Jim Busby's hitting has fallen off, but Harris says the one-time Texas Christian quarterback can bat .230 and play center field for him.

The Old Boy Manager says the Nats will improve, that with a break here and there believes they can maintain the early foot.

Harris can't recall when pitching so overpowered the batting, nor can he account for it. Perhaps Stanley Musial put his finger on it when he said more stickout pitchers have come into the National League since the war than hitters and playmakers.

Have the Nats any youngbloods coming up through the farms?

"There are a couple of kids we have our eyes on, but they're still a year or two away," says Harris.

"I figure we don't have to go looking for material any more. Under the New Deal, you see, all we have to do is stand pat and let 'em drop the big ones in our laps."

Clark Griffith has the richest farm system in the country—the Yankees.

Saxton Outpoints Luther Rawlings

CHICAGO —(AP)—Muscular Johnny Saxton followed out his plans of crowding, covering and connecting to whip rangy Luther Rawlings Wednesday night and register his twenty-ninth consecutive ring victory without a loss.

The New York welterweight, outweighing his Chicago opponent 147 to 144 1/2 pounds, showed off his steaming left hook and close-in artistry before a mere 2,411 customers in Chicago Stadium.

The group, smallest of the 1952 stadium season, paid $7,191.

Artesia Drops Vernon Lower Into Longhorn Cellar With 7-4 Win

VERNON —(AP)— The Artesia Drillers shoved the Vernon Dusters deeper in the Longhorn League cellar here Wednesday night with a 7-4 victory before a small crowd of 443.

Inability to solve the hurling of Mike Rodriguez was the difficulty for the Dusters. Rodriguez gave up seven hits, including three triples and a double.

Lefty Wallis got into hot water the first time when the Driller bats started sounding off in the third canto.

With one down, Rodriguez worked the Duster left-hander for a gratis trip and went to second when Nick Cappelli singled. Herb Harrow scored Rodriguez with a Texas Leaguer to right. Bases on balls to Joe Bauman and Rudy Briner brought in Cappelli and Harrow scored on a wild pitch.

In the seventh inning Wallis was chased to the showers in favor of Eddy Baski. Wallis walked Harrow, then got Jim Ackers and Bauman out. Briner singled and Paul Halter rapped out a hard hit Texas Leaguer, scoring Harrow. Eldon Pichan's double, scoring Briner and Halter, sent Wallis to the hot and cold faucets.

Two singles and a base on balls scored Jim Ackers in the ninth with Artesia's last tally.

Vernon's two runs in the sixth came off two singles and Art Neal's triple. H. C. Sargent tripled and scored on the throw-in when Neal flied out in the eighth. Audie Malone singled and scored on Al Richardson's triple down the third base line in the ninth.

The score:

		R.	H.	E.
Vernon	000 002 011	4	7	0

Paul McHargue, Midland lumber dealer, oil man and left-handed golfer, is going to take his portsided clubs to Seguin for a south-sided whack at the Twelfth Annual Left-Handed Golfers Association tournament June 18-22.

Texas southpaws will tee off in six flights, and Gill Miller of Houston, president, expects the event to be the biggest in the history of the tournament.

Fred Blackmar, 19, of Luling is the defending champion, and Fred Haver of Houston was runner-up in the 1951 contest.

All left-handed golfers are eligible to enter with special events slated for those who have trouble reaching the 100 mark, the president said.

CONSISTENT WINNER

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Andy Davis, All-Southern Conference backfield ace from George Washington U, now playing for the Washington Redskins in the NFL, is a consistent trophy winner. He has been awarded four trophies by the Touchdown Club in the nation's capital. He was voted the outstanding local high school player one year, outstanding local sandlot player another year, and the outstanding collegiate performer another season. The fourth trophy? He got that for having won the other three.

Thirty-one of 50 players on the West Virginia University football roster are natives of the state. All except three of the out-of-staters come from within a 100-mile radium of the campus.

Herb Dwire, Tribe Rookie Hurler, Is Booked As Loser

BIG SPRING —(AP)— The sizzling, seven-game win streak of the Midland Indians was snuffed out here Wednesday night when the Big Spring Broncs fought from behind to nudge the Tribe, 7 to 6.

The defeat stopped a drive by the Tribe which saw them climb out of the league cellar and advance all the way into second place behind the league - leading Odessa Oilers.

GETS CALL — Indian mound ace Eddie Jacome, with an 8-2 record, will go against the Big Spring Broncs Thursday night in an effort to start Midland back on the victory path.

The Indians appeared headed for another win, but a five-run outburst in the eighth inning, sparked by a double off the bat of Witty Quintana, pulled the Broncs from behind and enabled them to take the win.

Three Run Baffle

A three-run bobble by Pat O'Keefe, who made a vain attempt to field Rickie Gonzales' ground ball at first, enabled the Steeds to pull within one run of the high-flying Tribe. Pat Staseey later was passed intentionally by Israel Ten, Tribe relief tosser, but the strategy backfired when Juan Visteur doubled in the winning run down the right field line.

Midland started out with a roar, plating a tally in each of the first three frames. Bert Baez, who gained credit for his fifth win of the season, rode out the storm, however, and seemed to get stronger as he went along.

Hayden White, spelling Dempsey Albritton at second base, stroked a home run with the bases empty for Midland in the third.

In the fifth, a rhubarb occurred when Baez threw a cripple to the plate, asking for a new ball. He did not call time, however, and O'Keefe blasted the ball into right field for a double that plated Gahlen Dinkle.

Dwire Charged

The loss was charged to rookie Herby Dwire, who recently joined the tribe on option from the Temple Big State League club. Midland's hard-hitting Left Fielder Dick Cassidy and Manager Zeke Bonura were ejected from the contest in the fourth inning by Umpire Bruce Averill. Cassidy was thrown out after protesting a strike call. Bonura's eviction came about in this way:

Indian Pitcher Dwire had asked for and received new balls twice. He asked for one a third time and Umpire Averill refused to let him have it.

Bonura charged out of the dugout, grabbed the ball which had been in use, and heaved it over the grandstand and out of the playing field and was promptly tossed out of the game in turn by Averill.

Fourth Straight Loss Dips Abilene Deep Into Seventh

By The Associated Press

Abilene, one-time leader in the West Texas-New Mexico League, rarely has seen rougher days than the ones Borger hands it.

The ever-skidding Blue Sox were buried further than ever in seventh place Wednesday night after Borger beat them, 8-7, for a fourth consecutive win.

Clovis won its third straight from Pampa with Red Dial hurling an eight-hit, no walk 3-1 triumph. Second-place Lubbock took the opener, 7-3, and lost, 4-3, in the nightcap.

Johnny Fine broke even for Amarillo in trying the iron man pitching feat in a card of two games with Lamesa. Fine and Amarillo won the first, 3-0, then bowed, 6-4.

Sayles Levies Fines On Monchak, Fowler

ABILENE—(AP)—Longhorn League President Hal Sayles announced Wednesday that he had fined Managers Al Monchak of Roswell and Chet Fowler of Vernon for directing "abusive language" at umpires in recent games.

Charles Is 2-1 Favorite To Take Back Heavy Crown

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — The fourth and most lucrative episode in the Jersey Joe Wolcott-Ezzard Charles road series will be unreeled Thursday night with Charles rated a 2-1 favorite to make boxing history and become the first former heavyweight king to win back his crown.

Forecasts of fair weather for the 8 p.m. (CST) 15-rounder in Municipal Stadium, site of many historic events in sports, boosted promoter Herman Taylor's confidence that about 35,000 will pay $250,000 to see the scrap. Taylor said he already had $150,000 in the till and predicted a bumper last-day sale.

The bout will be broadcast and telecast coast-to-coast with a 75-mile area around Philadelphia blacked out of the telecast.

With $175,000 paid for the radio-TV rights, this latest, and no doubt last, number in the three-year-old rivalry appeared a cinch to eclipse the financial take of the other three stops in Chicago, Detroit and Pittsburgh.

It was in Pittsburgh last July 18 that the heavy-fisted, thick-armed, Walcott uncorked a perfect left hook to knock out the champion in the seventh round.

"I'll be out to knock him out again," said the 28-year-old Camden miracle man in his last public statement. "I've got his number and he knows it."

"He's got the title. I'll have to go after him and get it," said the solemn-faced and determined Charles.

If the challenger follows through on his statement, the fight could be the best of the series that started with a waltz in Chicago, picked up a little steam in Detroit and really started to blaze in Pittsburgh.

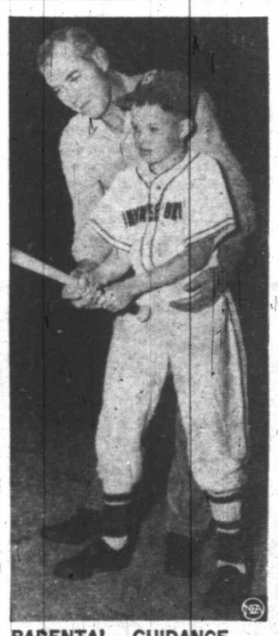

Walcott, a superb counter-puncher with a kayo wallop in either hand, is in a perfect spot to suck Ezzard into a trap. As Ezzard pointed out, he will have to make the fight.

This really is up the alley of the champion. One opening by Charles could mean the fight. Walcott has been working constantly on devastating counter punches. It seems he has geared himself for a quick finish although he said, "I can win a decision if the bout goes the limit."

The 1952 pounds will be 10 more than he packed for his losing fight in Pittsburgh.

Walcott's weight has not varied much. He expects to weigh 194 or 195 tonight. For the other three bouts he weighed, in order, 195 1/2, 193 and 194.

Canyon Star Will Attend West Texas

AMARILLO —(AP)— Ray Burrus, Canyon High School athlete, will attend West Texas State College, Gus Miller, WTS coach, said Wednesday.

Burrus, all-star football, basketball and track star, asked Miller to announce his decision so other schools "would leave him alone," Miller said.

Loop Leading Oilers Swat Colts, 12-8

ODESSA —(AP)— After a shaky start, Evelio Ortega, the ace of the Odessa Oiler pitching staff, went on to collect his ninth win of the season against only one loss as the Oilers downed the San Angelo Colts, 12-8, here Wednesday night. The win put the Oilers seven full games in the lead.

Scoring three big runs in the first inning off three hits and a pair of walks, it looked very much like the Colts were off to the races once more. Ortega, however, settled down in to hold off the Colt hitters and limit them only five more runs the rest of the way.

In the home half of the initial frame Odessa counted one tally off Starter Bob Garza on one base [illegible], and a double, by Lefty Loyko, who drove in the walking Batson. Garza received a little rougher treatment in the second inning as the home club counted a pair of runs off three bingles to knot the score.

In the third frame with one out and three runs across the plate, Mario Saldana came on in relief of Garza. The fourth saw Saladana get his walking papers in favor of Perry Ellis, who finished up the game. Saldana was tapped for three runs on two hits, while Ellis gave three tallies on five safties. The losing pitcher was Garza, his fourth reverse of the season against [illegible] wins.

In the ninth inning, San Angelo Manager Mark Christman and Left Fielder Jake McClain were ordered from the ball park by Umpire Valentine. A disputed foul ball caused the big fire which led to the thumbing of the two men.

The payoff game of the three game series is on tap for Thursday night, with Wes Ortiz probably getting the nod for the Oilers, and Cotton Russell the probable Colt choice.

The score:

San Angelo	300 020 021	8	13	4
Odessa	123 330 00x	12	[illegible]	0

Garza, Saldana, Ellis and Solis; Ortega and Castro.

Higgins' Six-Hitter Helps Braves Goose-Egg Rockets

The Braves pounded in three runs in the initial inning to win the game behind the fine hurling of Higgins.

It was the second night in a row Sweetwater pitchers had given up only six hits—no small feat in the Longhorn League. Ernie Sadler turned the trick Tuesday night.

From the last of the first until the Braves tallied a single run in the ninth, it was a scoreless pitching duel with Ron Peterson of the Rockets matching the effectiveness of Higgins.

Peterson gave up only six hits himself, three of them in the first inning. He spaced the other three, two of them of the scratch variety, over the other eight frames.

Armando Galvan led off with a double down the left field foul line in the first for the Braves. Charlie Buck drew a walk and went to second when Emil Carlini forced Galvan at third. Warren Sliter then drew another walk to load the bases. Lou Suarez pushed a ground single to right to score Buck and Carlini. Tony Traspuesto drove in Sliter with a sharp single to right center.

The two teams then were held scoreless until Buck doubled off the right field wall to drive in Galvan, on with a walk, in the ninth for Sweetwater.

Bobby Lemmel was the only Rocket to go as far as third, when he was safe at first on a fielder's choice, moved to second on an error and took third on a ground out in the first for Roswell.

The score:

		R.	H.	E.
Roswell	000 000 000	0	6	1

Higgins and Traspuesto; Peterson and Crawford.

Big Spring Sports Scribe Tommy Hart, who also broadcasts the Bronc home games, said Wednesday the current Big Spring club is the weakest team they have fielded since the league resumed play in 1947.

Conversely, after watching the Indians polish off the Broncs Tuesday night, he called the Midland squad the strongest he has seen represent this city.

* * * * *

Hart said the Broncs are undermanned, with only 14 men on the squad (two under the limit allowed by league rules), and they intend to operate that way as an economy move.

Contrast the Big Spring situation to that of Midland.

The Indians now have 17 men (one over the league limit but one is to be released soon) and one of the strongest benches in the league.

* * * * *

It's hard to find replacements like Hayden White, Jose Peraza and Woody Pennington. The Indians have been fortunate in that they have not been hard hit by injuries so far this season but it could happen.

* * * * *

Dempsey Albritton, Indian second baseman, will be out of action four or five days as the result of spraining his right ankle Tuesday night in the Big Spring game.

Dr. Homer B. Johnson, team physician, said while the injury isn't serious, Albritton will have to stay out of action a few days.

* * * * *

Pat Lorenzo, former Midland center fielder, made his debut with Lamesa in the West Texas-New Mexico League Monday night and pounded out a double in three trips to the plate.

* * * * *

It's probably pure coincidence, but Midland pitcher Herb Dwire was struck by a pitched ball thrown by Bronc hurler Bert Baez Wednesday night and a little later Baez was struck by one of Dwire's slants.

We could have had who struck who first reversed but in any case, turn about is fair play.

* * * * *

His name is Gahlen, an easy one to remember. He had been called Gehland, Garland, Dick and Allen, and none of them was right.

Dave McKenzie occasionally pilots the Indians, though not as the term most frequently is used.

Trade Will Make Bosox Tougher, Says Yank Pilot

NEW YORK —(AP)— Casey Stengel of the New York Yankees thinks the recent nine-man player deal between Boston and Detroit will make the Red Sox a strong pennant contender.

The wily manager of the defending champions refused to be pinned down as to which team he thought got the better of the trade that sent George Kell, Hoot Evers, Dizzy Trout and Johnny Lipon to Boston in exchange for Walt Dropo, Don Lenhardt, Fred Hatfield, Johnny Pesky and Bill Wight.

He did say, however, that the new players, especially Keel and Evers, would make the Red Sox a tougher team for the Yankees to beat.

Leahy, Wilkinson Strings To Clash

SOUTH BEND, IND.—(AP)—When Notre Dame and Oklahoma meet for the first time on the gridiron next Nov. 8, two of the top coaching records in college football will be on the line.

Bud Wilkinson, coach of the Sooners, has won 46, lost six and tied one for a .864 mark in his five-year tenure at Oklahoma.

Frank Leahy, Irish mentor, has a 71-won, nine-lost and seven-tied record for an .888 percentage in ten Notre Dame grid seasons. Prior to his coming to the South Bend institution, Leahy had a 20-2 record in two years at Boston College.

Wilkinson has not lost a game in Big Seven competition. He has won 26 and tied one while Oklahoma has copped five straight conference crowns.

New Players Boost Boston To Loop Lead

By The Associated Press

This may be the year Tom Yawkey is rewarded for his costly and unceasing efforts to bring an American League pennant to Boston.

The generous owner of the Red Sox found out painfully that pennants couldn't be bought. Yawkey then set up an expensive farm system. It produced a pennant in 1946 and heartaches ever since.

Yawkey, far from discouraged, tried another method. Tuesday, he okayed a million-dollar deal that brought four veterans from Detroit in exchange for infielders Johnny Pesky, Walt Dropo, Fred Hatfield, Pitcher Bill Wight and Outfielder Don Lenhardt.

The trade already has paid the Red Sox dividends. Three of the newcomers, Third Baseman George Kell, Outfielder Hoot Evers and Pitcher Dizzy Trout teamed up Wednesday to lead the Sox to a 13-11 triumph over the Cleveland Indians. The other Tiger acquired in the deal, Shortstop Johnny Lipon, didn't play. The victory enabled the Red Sox to take over the lead from the Indians.

Kell and Evers each cracked a home run and drove in three runs apiece. Trout, working in relief, gained his second victory.

The New York Yankees climbed into third place, 1 1/2 games behind Boston and five percentage points ahead of Washington, by beating the Chicago White Sox, 6-3.

Dodgers Stretch Lead

Little Bobby Shantz turned in his eighth straight victory and his ninth of the season as the Athletics shaded Detroit, 4-3, in a night game at Philadelphia.

In the National League, the Brooklyn Dodgers stretched their lead to two games, downing the Pittsburgh Pirates, 7-4, in a night game while the runner-up New York Giants bowed, 6-2 to Chicago in the afternoon.

Big Bob Rush recorded his seventh triumph for Chicago in beating the Giants. The Giants scored twice in the fourth to check Rush's consecutive scoreless inning streak at 32.

Cloyd Boyer came up with his second shutout of the season as the Cardinals defeated the Boston Braves, 6-0, in a night game at St. Louis. Boyer allowed four hits, fanned seven and walked none.

Oklahoma City Adds One Point To Shaky Texas League Lead

By The Associated Press

It's a snail's pace for sure, but Oklahoma City's Indians raced ahead in the Texas League Wednesday night out of a virtual four-way tie.

The Indians took advantage of a trick in figures to add a percentage point to their first place hold—making a difference of two points over second-place Beaumont.

The Sooner State club had a point on the others before having played fewer games.

The wacky chase, which Wednesday had the cellar club just three games out, reeled off three doubleheaders to make more breathing room.

Houston was the only one of the top four to lose—dividing a pair with Fort Worth, 7-3 and 1-3, to fall out of the lead. The nightcap win was the first Fort Worth has taken in seven clashes with the Buffs.

Dallas slipped from first, yet won. The Eagles stopped San Antonio, 4-1. Beaumont snapped its six-game losing string and halted Tulsa after six straight successes, taking a twin bill, 3-2 and 11-6.

Oklahoma City rapped Shreveport, 7-4 and 8-4.

Rendezvous Wrings Out 6 To 4 Victory

Rendezvous gathered in six runs on six hits Wednesday night at Wadley Field to top Continental, 6-4. The softball losers got four safeties.

Shell forfeited the second game to the American Legion because of lack of players present.

Thursday night, Humble takes on the Independents and Phillips tackles Western Plastic. Game time is 7:45 p.m.

The girls will take over at 8 p.m. Friday to play the Snyder Merchants under the Wadley Field lights.

ON END—Driver Owen Toth's stock car did a head stand nosing into the ground at Elyria, O., yet he came out of the tumble unhurt. (NEA)

Cates Wins Victory For Little Leaguers

Gerald Cates pitched the Cards to the Little League's first-half championship with a 9-8 victory over the Eagles in Wednesday's Southern circuit tilt. Don Kidwell was the loser.

HIGH SCORING RECORD

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Dick Todd, head coach of the Washington Redskins in the NFL, scored 994 points throughout his professional, collegiate and high school grid career. He scored 214 points with the Redskins, 116 with Texas A&M and 664 with Crowell (Texas) High.

PAT SOCKS A FEW—Pat Garner of Midland, a quarter-finalist in the thirty-first annual Texas Women's Golf Tournament at Texarkana, takes time out between rounds of match play to brush up on her driving. The Midland miss and Mrs. H. C. Riedel of Dallas, co-medalists, also are co-favorites for the tournament crown.

Midland's Pat Garner, Mrs. Riedel Gain Quarter-Finals

TEXARKANA —(AP)— Eight of the states' top feminine players clashed Thursday in the quarter-finals of the 31st annual Texas Women's Golf Tournament.

The three favorites came through Wednesday.

Pat Garner of Midland beat Mrs. M. B. Killian of San Antonio, 5 and 4. Mrs. H. C. Riedel of Dallas eliminated Mrs. W. B. Simmons of Texarkana, 4 and 3. Mrs. L. M. Keating of Houston downed Mrs. Jack Munger of Dallas, 2 and 1.

Others going into the quarter-finals:

Mrs. Harry Coffman, Houston, defeated Mrs. Nell Moody, Sherman, 4 and 2; Mrs. Al Mortensen, Houston, defeated Mrs. Harry Scott, Houston, 2-up; Mrs. Ned Stewart, Texarkana, defeated Mrs. Howard Fuqua, Texarkana, 3 and 2; Mrs. N. M. Morgan, Baytown, beat Mrs. Lou Lewis, Houston, 6 and 4, and Mrs. Ruby Lee Harding, El Paso, defeated Mrs. W. A. Haley, Houston, 4 and 3.

Thursday's flights: Mrs. Riedel and Mrs. Coffman; Mrs. Keating and Mrs. Mortenson; Miss Garner and Mrs. Stewart; Mrs. Harding and Mrs. Morgan.

No winner of the Hambletonian Stake has ever sired a winner. One of the top 1952 choices, however, is Hardy Hanover, son of Titan Hanover, who won the 1945 version of the harness racing classic.

Texas Terror Paces Pro Money Winners

CHICAGO —(AP)— Jack Burke, Jr., the Texas terror, heads the PGA money-winning list as well as the Vardon Trophy and Ryder Cup standings, official figures showed Thursday.

Lloyd Mangrum, veteran Chicago campaigner, picked up the Colonial Open's first check as well as taking the Western Open to boost his earnings by $5,100 to $9,096 and second place behind Burke. Burke has totaled $12,455.

Cary Middlecoff dropped from second to third on the list with $8,106 while Doug Ford held fourth with $7,845.

Burke maintained the Vardon Trophy pace with an average of 70.47 strokes through 48 rounds with Mangrum moving in as the closest challenger with 70.644 in 28. The same pair ranks one-two in Ryder Cup points.

Track, Field Stars Chalk New Records

COMPTON, CALIF.—(AP)—There were five new best marks of the year for the nation's track and field stars to aim at Thursday, topped by a toss of 58 feet, five and one-half inches registered by Yale's gift to th world's shotputting ranks, Jim Fuchs.

Fuchs, who holds the world record at 58 feet, 10 1/2 inches, equaled his own American record with a performance Wednesday night in the annual Compton Invitational Track and Field Meet. He set the American mark in nearby Los Angeles in 1950 and matched it on his first put Wednesday night. His world mark was set in Europe.

Other "best of 1952" marks reached here were:

Andy Stanfield, shore AC, 20.4 in the 220-yard dash.

Frank Flores, Southern California, 48 feet, two inches in the hop, step and jump.

Two other performances equaled the best this season—national champion Jack Davis of USC, 23 flat in the 220-yard low hurdles, and Billy Anderson of the Army, son of radio's Rochester of the Jack Benny show, 13.9 in the 120-yard high hurdles.

Texas, Arizona Set For Regional NCAA Playoffs

AUSTIN —(AP)— Texas and Arizona, a couple of teams that make a habit of getting into the NCAA playoffs, tangle at 8 p.m. Thursday.

Five Arizona Wildcats from the 1950 team that lost a two-out-of-three series to Texas are back for revenge. Their chances are considered good, Arizona rating a slim favorite because of superior pitching strength.

Texas—which is pretty much a one-pitcher team this year—will put its hope in right-hander Luther Scarborough in the opener. He sports an 11-1 won-lost record for the year.

Winner of the best of three games will represent District 6 in the National Collegiate Tournament next week in Omaha, Neb.

UN Troops Divide Big Koje Compound

KOJE ISLAND, KOREA — (AP) — Tank-led Allied infantrymen and Engineers split one of Koje Island's big prisoner compounds in half with a tough barbed wire fence Thursday as 3,340 jeering Communist civilian internees stood by chanting Red hymns. There was no violence.

Erection of the fence within Compound 607 was ordered by Brig. Gen. Haydon Boatner, the Koje commander, as the first step in splitting 17 big compounds into smaller camps for the island's 80,000 POW's.

The heavily-armed troops marched into the compound shortly before Boatner issued a statement acknowledging that rations have been withheld from three compounds on separate days.

There have been reports that food rations were reduced to enforce discipline among unruly prisoners. Boatner said this was not the case.

Bags of sand were delivered to three compounds Wednesday and stacked where the food usually is placed. This raised speculation that discipline was being enforced by withholding rations.

Boatner explained, however, that the sand was for use in quelling fires.

Some 1,600 prisoners who were moved to Koje following the May 20 riot in a hospital camp at Pusan were removed from Compound 91 and distributed among other enclosures. An official said the prisoners were separated into groups of Chinese, North Koreans, officers, enlisted men and civilians. The transfer was complete without incident.

Eighth Atom Blast Of Spring Series Lights Nevada Skies

LAS VEGAS, NEV. —(AP)— The eighth atomic blast of the Spring series flashed across the Southern Nevada sky before dawn Thursday.

The detonation was touched off at the government's Yucca Flat test site at 4:55 a.m. (Pacific Daylight Time) and was visible clearly here, 65 miles from the site.

Shortly after the detonation, the Atomic Energy Commission announced that the shot was from a 300-foot tower and that approximately 751 mice were used in tests for radioactivity effects.

The announcement did not say how close to ground zero the animals were placed.

The test was the twentieth held here since the Atomic Energy Commission began using the Nevada site in January, 1951. The current series is believed to be near an end.

Red Ryder Visits Midland Rotarians

Fred (Red Ryder) Harman took time out from his busy cowboy schedule, even on his twenty-sixth wedding anniversary, to attend the annual Midland Rodeo meeting of the Rotary Club Thursday noon in Hotel Scharbauer. Red Ryder made a brief talk, as did his constant companion, Little Beaver, and his ranch foreman, Red Cissen, all of Pagosa Springs, Colo. They are here to attend and participate in Midland Rodeo.

T. Paul Barron was in charge of the rodeo program. He also introduced Marion Flynt, president of Midland Fair, Inc., and Duke Jimerson, rodeo parade chairman. Ralph M. Barron, No. 1 Red Ryder fan, was presented an original, autographed Red Ryder comic strip.

Herb C. Petry of Carrizo Springs, a past president of Lions International, made a brief talk. He was introduced by James L. Daugherty.

Taft Keeps Narrow Edge Over General In Count At Polls

SIOUX FALLS, S. D.—(AP)—Sen. Robert A. Taft apparently edged out Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower for South Dakota's 14 delegates to the Republican convention, subject to an official canvass.

With 10 precincts unreported, the Ohioan held a slim 590 vote lead over new civilian Eisenhower. The vote in the remote uncounted precincts did not appear to be enough to change the unofficial tabulations.

The count with 10 precincts missing gave:

Taft 64,740.

Eisenhower 64,150.

Taft held the shaky margin of 50.23, against 49.77 per cent for Eisenhower.

The results in seven of the uncounted precincts will not be available until Saturday when the official county canvass is made.

Tug Of War In Red-Ringed Berlin Continues Unabated

The Russians slapped back their ban on American patrols operating on the superhighway from Berlin to West Germany and the Communist press threatened a further tightening of the Red squeeze on the city.

West Berlin police increased protective measures along the perilous frontier areas bordering the surrounding Russian zone after two women were grabbed Wednesday night by Russian soldiers and German Communist police.

The Westerners doubled to 300 the number of alarm boxes scattered along the perimeter for use in summoning police quickly.

In the British sector, British troops and German police continued their "anybody out but nobody in" siege of Russian-operated Radio Berlin into the third day.

The radio, staffed by German Communists and guarded by 20 Red Army tommy gunners, stayed on the air, broadcasting its customory anti-western diatribes.

Other traffic was normal, however.

Quiet Reigns Across Warfront In Korea

The biggest Communist units met by United Nations patrols, on the central front, numbered about 30 or 40 men. The infantrymen traded brief volleys.

T. Reynolds of Midland, employed by Ohio Petroleum Company, stuck a splinter in his arm on the railing at the rodeo grounds Wednesday night. He was treated at Western Clinic-Hospital.

Petry Thinks U. S. Should Honor Treaty On Tidelands

Herb C. Petry, Jr., of Carrizo Springs, said here Thursday he feels the government should honor the treaty under which Texas reserved its tidelands when it entered the union.

"We expect other nations to honor their treaties with us, and why should not our government live up to its treaty with Texas in regard to its tidelands," the immediate past president of Lions International and a candidate for congressman-at-large from Texas, declared.

Petry arrived here late Wednesday to attend Midland Rodeo and to visit with Midlanders in the interest of his campaign.

He said also the United States should have an unwavering, definite policy against communism, and should not permit any Communist to hold any office or position of trust in the government.

"I favor a strong national defense to keep this nation strong against attack from outside, and a strong domestic policy that would protect us from attack from within," he said.

PRIZE FLOAT OF RODEO PARADE—This magnificent float entered by the First National Bank, showing a pretty cowgirl mounted on a giant horse, was judged the best Wednesday afternoon in the annual Rodeo Parade.

WACO POKER GAME RAIDED—

Trio Painted Like Indians Kills One Man, Hurts Second

WACO —(AP)— Three armed men painted like wild Indians burst into a private poker game near here just before midnight Wednesday, killed one man and wounded another before speeding away in two cars.

They took some $400 or $500 with them, taken from the wallets of seven or eigh. men who were playing poker at the home of G. H. (Jeff) Walker.

He told assistant District Attorney Tom Moore, Jr., Thursday that he had invited some friends over to play poker Wednesday night.

He said that about midnight three men, with streaks of red and yellow paint on their faces and hands and sheer stockings pulled over their faces burst into the room where the game was going on.

Walker said the eyes of the men looked as if they were doped.

Shotgun Branished

Walker said one man had a sawed-off shotgun, another a sawed-off rifle and the third, a pistol. He said they fired into the floor.

They made the poker players stand against the wall with their hands in the air and took their wallets. Walker estimated that the sum was $400 or $500.

The trio then took about a dozen rolls of adhesive tape, taped the players' hands behind them and made them lie down on the floor.

Two of the men took Walker into an adjoining room to question him about more money, while the third guarded the players on the floor.

Walker said the two men demanded where more money was and threatened to beat him up if he didn't tell. About that time, he said, the guard in the other room yelled, "hey, I got another one!"

Walker said one of the men had been in the bathroom when the trio burst in and had stayed there quietly during the furor. He said apparently the guard had found him.

Walker said that then the two with him rushed back into the game room and he heard two heavy blasts as if from a shotgun and then a pistol shot.

Left On Floor

Walker was left lying on the living room floor. He said he heard two cars turn around in front of his house and then leave. The trio took Johnson's car, and it was found abandoned in the area later.

Walker estimated that the trio stayed some 20 or 30 minutes. He said they ransacked the house, including the attic.

He didn't think they came up in a car. He said he had some fox hounds in a pen and a cocker spaniel named "Poochie" at his house. He heard the dogs barking, he said, but didn't go investigate. He guessed the men had slipped up to the house and were hiding in the weeds while they watched the house.

Walker theorized that a fourth man drove up in the getaway car. A neighbor, Mrs. Shelton Clay, said she heard a car come into her yard about midnight and then leave.

More said he thought the fourth man may have been a local fellow.

Riders Even-Steven

The grand entry and quadrille horseback dances behind, champion-spurred drama began to spill over into the laps of the throngs which jammed the grandstand and lined the arena fences.

It was even-Steven in the bareback bronc riding with Paul Templeton sticking on rugged "Stranger" for first place. Six of 12 riders failed to remain aboard the charging steeds.

The calf ropers couldn't miss with the loop. Guy Weeks of Abilene turned in the best time of 15.1 seconds among the 15 competitors Wednesday night. All made their catches.

Sonny Linger of Alamosa, Colo., took "a deep seat and stayed a long time" on Flaxie to win top honors in saddle bronc riding. Tater Decker of Antlers, Okla., and A. L. South of Lawton, Okla., split second and third.

Bud Linderman of Red Lodge, Mont., appeared glued to the side of "Chief Tyhee" as the spinning critter gave the big cowboy a ride that proved thrilling to the swarming fans.

Bulls Too Tough

The Brahman bulls appeared as salty as they come, only two of eight completing rides. Sonny Lavender of Holliday finished first.

The wild cow milkers had their troubles. Whit Keeney of Stephenville led in the popular event with a time of 35.5 seconds.

Earl Alvin's "Royal King" compiled the most points in the cutting horse contest. Rider was Kirby Walters. Just two points behind in second place came Skeet, owned by Ennis Livestock Company and ridden by Milt Bennet.

First go 'round competition continues Thursday night in a majority of the regular rodeo events. Saddle bronc riders completed the round Wednesday night.

The Midland High School Band, directed by Ralph Mills, set the musical tempo for the rodeo. Ray Lackland of Dallas announced the events.

First Night Results

First night results included:

Bareback bronc riding: 1. Paul Templeton of Wenatchee, Wash.; 2. J. B. Brandshaw of Bandera; 3. Manuel Enos of Fort Worth.

Calf roping: 1. Guy Weeks of Abilene, 15.1 seconds; 2. Bill Edwards of Crane, 15.5; 3. Ray Wharton of Bandera, 15.8; 4. Gene McLaughlin of Fort Worth, 16.6.

Saddle bronc riding: 1. Sonny Linger of Alamosa, Colo.; 2 and 3 split, Tater Decker of Antlers, Okla., and A. L. South of Lawton, Okla.

Steer wrestling: 1. Bill McGuire of Fort Worth, 9.1 seconds; 2. Jack Favor of Arlington, 9.8; 3. Junior Hays of Midland, 10.4.

Wild cow milking: 1. Whit Keeney of Stephenville, 25.5 seconds; 2. Lefty Wilken of Ysleta, 44.7; 3. Buff Douthit of Pecos, 72.7.

INK VANISHES; MAN DOES, TOO

DALLAS —(AP) Watch out for a fellow who passes checks written in disappearing ink.

That warning came from the Dallas Better Business Bureau Thursday.

They heard about it from Lamesa where the man opened a small bank account and began writing checks on it. Next day merchants were astonished to find the writing an illegible blur.

The man is described as about five feet 11.

Heavy Bonds Hold Pair Facing Counts In Bank Burglaries

TUPELO, MISS.—(AP)—Two Southwest ex-convicts called "real bad boys" by the FBI have been nailed down by heavy bond.

James V. Counts, 31, of Henryetta, Okla., was ordered held in lieu of $50,000 bond Wednesday on bank burglary warrants from Carter, Okla., and two Texas towns: Trent and Enterprise.

Melvin Westfall, 22, of Terrell, Okla., was held under $10,000 bond on a federal charge that he harbored a fugitive. Both waived preliminary hearing before a U. S. commissioner here.

The men were captured in Corinth, 50 miles north of here, Tuesday night after a wild auto flight that ended when their car smashed a roadblock and swerved into a dead-end street.

Police said they had been on the lookout for the two since they escaped from officers in Meridian, Miss., about 150 miles to the south, last month.

Counts and Westfall were taken to nearby Aberdeen, Miss., and jailed.

Mrs. Al Vineyard Reported Improving

Mrs. A. H. Vineyard, 900 Andrews Highway, is "improving nicely" at Midland Memorial Hospital, attaches reported Thursday. She underwent an emergency appendectomy Saturday.

Mrs. Vineyard is the wife of the manager of industrial relations department of Shell Oil Company in the Midland area.

Garrett Funeral Rites Conducted

Funeral services for Mrs. Inez Leo Garrett, 34, 1011 South Fort Worth Street, were to be held at 3 p.m. Thursday in Nennie W. Ellis Chapel. Interment was slated in Fairview Cemetery.

Mrs. Garrett died early Wednesday in a Midland hospital after an illness of several days.

Survivors include the parents, two sons and two daughters.

FINGER MASHED

Alfredo Bonillo, 303 North Carroll Street, employed by Pannell Brothers, was treated at Western Clinic-Hospital Wednesday for a mashed finger. Attaches said the injury was suffered when a wrench slipped.

Telephone Company Sets 'Split' Payment System

Due to Midland's increased growth, the Southwestern Bell Telephone Company will have three different billing periods each month to its customers, instead of one as in the past, Manager Roy Golston said Thursday.

Customers having telephone numbers beginning with the numeral "2" will have their statements mailed on the sixth day of the month. The 16th day of the month will be mailing date of statements for those having a number beginning with "3," and the 26th of the month will be mailing date for those having a telephone number beginning with "4."

Golston pointed out that all statements would be for a month's service rendered to the day previous to the date a statement is mailed.

Formerly, the company mailed all statements on the 26th of each month.

Golston said this resulted in all customers endeavoring to make payments at the same time, or inquiring about their statements.

With payments to be made at three different periods, both the company and the customer will be facilitated with prompter service, Golston said.

The manager said the "split system" of billing customers was being used successfully in the larger exchanges of the company.

"Midland and our company has just grown to the point that an one billing date causes too much of an overload," Golston said.

Truman Accepts Bid Of Howard McGrath For Weekend Visit

WASHINGTON —(AP)— President Truman's surprise acceptance of an invitation to weekend in New England with J. Howard McGrath, the attorney general he ousted two months ago, stirred political speculation Thursday.

McGrath got the axe April 3, less than four hours after he summarily fired Newbold Morris as government corruption investigator.

McGrath has seen Truman a number of times since that dramatic day. Still reporters got a jolt late Wednesday when the White House announced the President would spend the June 14-15 weekend at "Sunnybrook."

That is McGrath's farm on the old Point Judith road at Great Salt Pond, Narragansett, R. I. It indicated both men were willing to let bygones be bygones. McGrath was at the White House earlier in the day, talking to members of the President's staff, apparently completing arrangements for the trip.

The White House said Truman will be accompanied to the farm only by members of his staff. And McGrath said there was no political significance whatever to a weekend get-together of old friends.

No one ever contests the decisions of the two official timers because they've spent a total of 28 years performing the timing chores for Midland's rodeo.

Aldridge Estes, Sr., has been on the job for all 18 shows while Hollis Tyson has been clicking the stopwatch for the Midland show for the last 10.

"My mother's name was Petry, and it could be we are related," said Burvin Hines, assistant manager of the Chamber of Commerce, when he met Herb C. Petry, immediate past president of Lions International, here Thursday.

"Could be," Petry replied. "Since I am running for office I would like to claim kin to everyone. (Petry is a candidate for congressman-at-large from Texas). He is here to attend Midland Rodeo.

Red Ryder and Little Beaver attracted tremendous applause from the stands as they rode in the Grand Entry and later appeared in the arena at the opening night rodeo performance.

They will be out there again Thursday night to greet their many friends from throughout the Permian Basin Empire.

Early Day Midland Teacher Visits Kin, Attends Rodeo

Nim (Bunker) Hill, an early-day Midland school teacher, is here from his home in Duncan, Okla., to visit his brother, J. E. (Bob) Hill, veteran Midland rancher, and to attend Midland Rodeo.

Nim Hill came to Midland with his brother Bob about 1906, and taught history in the Midland public school system until 1910.

"Paul Barron, Penoe Wadley, Dunn Reiger and Irwin Ellis were four of my lieutenant students back in those days," the Oklahoma man said.

He marveled at the growth and development of Midland and said the city has changed in many ways since those 1906-10 days. He said present day Midland surely looks good but would look even better if it would just rain.

"Is the name of the newspaper still the Livestock Reporter?" he asked. "That's what it was when I used to live here." (It has been The Reporter-Telegram since 1928).

The Hill brothers were visiting around town Thursday morning and Nim Hill still was able to find a few of the old-timers he knew in other days here.

Attorneys Of Texas Name Glenn Turner As New President

His election in state-wide balloting by mail was announced by current President Cecil E. Burney of Corpus Christi. Everett L. Looney of Austin was chosen vice president.

Seven members were elected to three-year terms on the state bar board of directors. They are C. M. Kennedy, Texarkana; John P. Blair, Beaumont; Earl Roberts, Longview; Floyd Enlow, Angleton; Albert M. Walker, San Marcos; Virgil T. Seaberry, Eastland; and W. F. Nowlin, San Antonio.

Mrs. Johnnie Hill, 1104-A East Noble Street, is a medical patient at Midland Memorial Hospital.

RIGHT KNEE BRUISED

Willie Shaw, 105 North Carver Street, employed by Gene Brewer Construction Company, was treated at Western Clinic-Hospital Wednesday for a bruised right knee. Attaches said a brick struck his knee while he was working.

TWICE-COUNTED CARGO SPILLED

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J.—(AP)—When Earl Cherry counts sheep, he counts sheep.

Cherry, of Franklin, Ky., a helper, was asleep beside the driver of a big truck rolling along the New Jersey Turnpike Thursday with a cargo of 275 sheep.

Suddenly, state police said, Cherry had a nightmare and grabbed the wheel. The truck veered wildly over a safety island and overturned.

Cherry and the driver, Pitt Donald, also of Franklin, were unhurt.

REPORTING THE TOP NEWS IN REAL ESTATE

COMFORT AND RELAXATION are the most select words to describe what this home invites. It is a 3-bedroom California Redwood home—with a myriad of "finer" extras. Grecian-patterned, grey carpeting in the SPACIOUS living room, wood-burning fireplace, air-conditioned, plastered walls, rear porch, huge concrete patio, and an 8-foot-high California Redwood fence, water softener, Disposall unit, 2-car attached garage. It is a BETTER HOMES & GARDENS floor plan—and you'll love it. $19,950.

$2,000 DOWN WILL PURCHASE a lot of house even in these inflation days. We have only a FEW left, located in TOWN NORTH. Two bedrooms in each. All are clean and attractive-looking. Buy now—before the WHEEL OF INFLATION goes up and up.

150x140 FOOT LOT ON MAIN STREET, a few steps from WALL. Especially priced because the owner desires to move to Arkansas. $39,500. Excellent terms available.

FOR $1.85 PER DAY, you can purchase a 3-year-old home. Two bedrooms, large living room, rear utility porch, entry hall and guest closet. Large flower-box in front, lawn, paved street. It's really clean. Only $2,200 down! The full price is $8,900.

WEST TEXAS BRICK RAMBLER. This home was built with a view of removing you away from your work. It is just off Andrews Hiway, and is on a half acre of ground. Three large bedrooms, 2 ceramic tile baths, 2-car garage. You will find the perfect floor-plan in this home—and lots and lots of closets. French doors in the dining room invite you to additional privacy in the tile fenced yard which is landscaped. Central heating and air-conditioning, Disposall unit, tile features in the large kitchen. Waterwell and pump for your convenience and economy. One of Dean Slavens' best-built homes. $28,850.

NEARING COMPLETION of three new homes in TOWN NORTH. Three bedrooms, ceramic tile bath, living room and dining area beautifully carpeted, covered front porch, attached garage which easily converts into a den. The floor plan severs the living area from the sleeping quarters—for privacy. The street is paved. $13,750.

WITH SMALL ORCHARD on North Main. This attractive home has 2 large bedrooms, carpeted living room, and attached garage. There are lots of trees enclosing the fruit orchard—and the lot is almost 300 feet deep. Tile fence in rear yard, BBQ Pit, utility house with washer connection and water well and pump. Five blocks to school. $12,500.

HERE'S A NEAT DEAL in a 2-bedroom home. It is a well constructed John-Manville asbestos siding home with a delightful appearance in and out. Located NORTH of town on a paved street with trees. Beautifully clean interior—and you never have to paint the exterior. Oak floors. ONLY $7,000.

AN OPPORTUNITY TO TRADE your home in on a brand new 3-bedroom; 2 tile bath brick and panelled home. Ours is in the 2400 block of West Kansas—Where is yours? We have a double carport attached, leading from the kitchen and the dining room, which has French doors—and it can easily be enclosed and used for a den. We have luxurious carpeting in every room and even in the closets, central heating, tile wainscoating in the kitchen. We are in the mood to trade. Are you? This one is within your reach: $22,900.

IT'S A BEAUTY ON A BUDGET! A lovely 2-bedroom home with attached garage. Located on paved street. $1,475 cash down, balance monthly.

Four Convicted In Cicero Race Riots

CHICAGO—(AP)—The police chief, two policemen and the village attorney of suburban Cicero were convicted Wednesday night on charges stemming from race rioting last July in the all-white suburb.

The officials were tried before a federal court jury on charges of violating or conspiring to violate the federal civil rights statute. The indictments were returned in connection with the rioting, which occurred when a negro attempted to move his family into a 20-apartment building in the community of 70,000.

Three days of rioting, with crowds of 5,000 milling around the apartment building, ended July 12 when five companies of National Guardsmen were sent to the scene.

Police Chief Erwin Konovsky was convicted on two counts, violating the federal rights statute and conspiracy. He faces a possible maximum sentence of two years in prison and a $2,000 fine.

The two policemen, Sgt. Roland Brami and Frank A. Lange, were convicted of violating the statute and face possible maximum punishment of one pear in prison and $1,000 fine each.

The defendants had been accused of depriving Harvey E. Clark, Jr., 29-year-old negro bus driver, of his civil rights by failing to keep crowds from interfering with his efforts to move into the apartment he had rented.

Two Cicero town officials, President Henry J. Sandusky and Fire Marshal Theodore H. Wesolowski, were freed of charges of conspiracy during the trial on recommendation of government prosecutors.

Ike's Backers Hail Warren's Majority As Rebuff To Taft

SAN FRANCISCO —(AP)— Gov. Earl Warren's vote in Tuesday's Republican presidential primary neared the million mark Thursday, and Eisenhower supporters hailed his victory as a slap at Senator Robert A. Taft.

State and national campaign leaders for Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower quickly issue jubilant statements emphasizing that the Werdel group favored Taft — while their own organization had endorsed Warren.

Permian Basin Oil And Gas Log—

til 1943 when he moved to Lario Oil & Gas Company and its affiliate Globe Oil & Refining Company as a scout and landman.

In 1944 he joined Woodley Petroleum Company as a landman and remained with that concern until 1946 when he became an independent oil operator, broker and trader.

Has Been Independent

He has continued to operate as an independent since that time. He has maintained offices in the Midland Tower for several years. The McKnight home in Midland is at 1601 West Tennessee Street.

The move to Tulsa will be made on July 1. The McKnight family consists of Mrs. McKnight, and two daughters, Carolyn, 13, and Judy, nine.

McKnight's mother, Mrs. Sarah McKnight, who has lived in Midland several years, will return to Tulsa when her son and family move to that city.

Active In Organizations

McKnight is a director of the Texas Mid-Continent Oil & Gas Association, the Independent Petroleum Association of America and the Midland Chamber of Commerce.

He is a member of the Petroleum Club of Midland, the Midland Country Club and of the Masonic bodies of this city.

Yoakum Wildcat To Try To Develop San Andres Production

Murchison, Fikes and Hall No. 1 Neely, South - Central Yoakum County wildcat, six miles southwest of Plains failed to find production in the lower formations in drilling to a bottom of 11,474 feet in Devonian lime.

It is to plug back and test the San Andres-Permian where it has some good shows and will try to complete from that horizon.

Devonian Made Water

The Devonian was tested at 11,300-340 feet. The tool was open for two and one-half hours. Recovery was 10,000 feet of salt water. There were no shows of oil or gas.

The section at 5,175-5,315 feet recovered a little free oil and a fair amount of oil and gas cut drilling mud in a series of two drillstem tests.

No Water In Section

No formation water was logged in that section. Operators are expected to plug back to about 5,400 feet and test the indicated pay zone above that point.

It is two miles southwest of the West field and four miles north of the Wasson field. Both of those areas produce from the San Andres.

Moore To Re-Enter, Test Upper Zone In Irion Dry Hole

Moore Exploration Company of Midland is to re-enter and drill out a deep dry hole in Central-South Irion County and try to complete an oil well from the project.

The work will be done at Moore No. 1-H Noelke, located 1,617 feet from north and 660 feet from west lines of block 1, Tom Green County School Land.

Drilled By Hunt

This exploration was originally drilled as the Hassie Hunt Trust Estate No. 1-M W. M. Noelke Estate to a bottom of 7,918 feet in Ellenburger.

That formation was unproductive and the wildcat was plugged.

Glorieta Wildcat In Goldsmith Pool Set For Completion

Stanolind Oil & Gas Company and The Landreth Company have found good indications for production in the Glorieta-Permian lime in an area in the multipay Goldsmith field on Northwest Ector County and will attempt to complete a producer from that formation.

It was originally started as a field well in the Goldsmith-5,600 field. That production is from the Clear Fork-Permian.

That pay has been found productive in No. 5-H-Deep-Scharbauer in drilling to a total depth of 6,320 feet.

Glorieta Section

The zone between 5,058 feet and 5,300 feet in the Glorieta has also shown for commercial yields of oil. Operators have filed an application with the Railroad Commission of Texas requesting a permit to dually complete the project from the Glorieta and the Clear Fork.

There is no Glorieta production adjacent to the No. 5-H-Deep-Scharbauer. Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 32, block 44, T-1-N, T&P survey.

General Crude To Drill Ellenburger Test In SE Nolan

General Crude Oil Company has staked location for a 6,800-foot Ellenburger wildcat in Southeast Nolan County seven miles north of Blackwell and four miles northwest of the Northwest Hylton - Strawn field.

It is No. 1 W. W. Davis and is located 660 feet from south and 460 feet from east lines of southwest quarter of section 146, block A-1, H&TC survey.

Rotary tools will be moved in and drilling will begin at once.

New Concern Has Recently Bought Many Properties

HOUSTON—(AP)—Fladger F. Tannery, one-time head of the business administration department at the University of Texas, has resigned as assistant comptroller of the Humble Oil & Refining Company.

He will head a multi-millioned oil exploration firm, The Texas General Production Company.

The Delaware corporation was organized April 7 with Tannery as president, William R. Taylor of Houston, chairman of the board, O. W. Ward, also a Houstonian, as vice president in charge of production and C. C. Bankhead, Jr., of Abilene, in charge of exploration.

Big Line Of Credit

An open credit of $8,000,000 has been ordered for the new concern by the Chase National Bank of New York, The Houston Post said.

The newspaper added that the company "has been buying producing properties at a furious pace during the past few months. It now has approximately 296 producing wells, mostly oil, with a production of 7,000 barrels daily."

Project Scheduled For Hermleigh Pool In C-E Scurry Area

One lacotion south of American Trading & Production Corporation No. 1-A Elmer Howell, multipay discovery in the Hermleigh area of Central-East Scurry County, the same concern spotted location for No. 2-A Elmer Howell.

It will be drilled 660 feet from south and east lines of the northeast quarter of section 62, block 3, H&TC survey. It will drill to around 7,500 feet on an 80-acre lease. Drillsite is 10 miles east o fSnyder.

No. 1-A Howell has shown for production in a Canyon sand, Strawn sand and the Ellenburger. It is now at total depth of 7,514 feet in the Ellenburger taking a drillstem test.

Laan-Tex Spots 6,000-Foot Test In C-N Gaines

Laan-Tex Oil Company of Dallas No. 1 Coline Oil Company-Oil Development Company of Texas is to be a 6,000-foot wildcat in Central-North Gaines County.

It is four miles west of Seagraves and 660 feet from north and east lines of section 2, block C-35, psl survey. Drilling with rotary tools is to start at once.

The venture is slated to test through the San Andres-Permian lime.

The nearest production from that formation is about 10 miles to the west in the south side of the Wasson field.

Midlander To Dig 5,800-Foot Test In Pecos Sector

Charles A. McCamy, of Midland is to start drilling at once on his No. 1 State National Bank of El Paso, which is to be a 5,800-foot wildcat in North-Central Pecos County.

The prospector is due to drill into the upper Ordovician and it may go on to the Ellenburger.

Hunt Schedules Shallow Wildcat In West Pecos

Hunt Oil Company No. 43 Elsinore Royalty Company is to be a 3,000-foot cable tool wildcat in West Pecos County.

It is to be 1,320 feet from east and south lines of section 64, block D, This project will be the forty-third shallow wildcat Hunt has GC&SF survey. That makes it 16.9 miles southeast of Chancellor.

drilled on the 145,230.83 block of leases in the West Pecos County region which is jointly owned by that concern and by Gulf Oil Corporation.

So far as has been reported none of the shallow projects has found any shows of commercial production. However it is thought that they have provided sub-surface information which probably will be used in the near future to select locations for one or more deep wildcats which probably will be drilled on the block.

El Tee Will Dig Pennsylvanian Test In NW Dawson Pool

One-half mile northwest of the discovery in the two-well Mungerville-Pennsylvanian field of Northwest Dawson County, El Tee will drill No. 1-95 Classen as a 9,000-foot rotary project.

Location has been staked 660 feet from north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 95, block M, EL&RR survey and 16 miles northwest of Lamesa.

Three Outposts Are Staked To Reagan Field

Three more outposts have been staked to production in the Spraberry Trend of Northwest Reagan County.

Southland Royalty Company of Fort Worth will drill No. 1 Boyd three-eighths of one mile southeast of Fogelson & Pauley No. 13-42 Boyd, recent two and one-half miles southeast extender to the Aldwell-Spraberry field.

George G. Johnson Drilling Company, Davison and Mascho will dig No. 2 J. F. Nunn 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 44, block 36, T-5-S, T&P survey and one-third mile southeast of Weiner-Floyd production.

The same operators No. 1 Nunn is to be dug 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of the same section.

Standard Stakes Another Project In Wilshire Pool

Standard Oil Company of Texas No. 22-130 McElroy Ranch Company is to be drilled as a one-location north stepout to production in the Wilshire-Ellenburger field of West-Central Upton County, 18 miles northwest of Rankin.

Contracted to 12,500 feet it will be drilled 1,980 feet from north and west lines of section 130, block D, CCSD&RGNG survey.

DST In Spraberry Fails At Sinclair Wildcat In Dawson

Sinclair Oil & Gas Company was drilling ahead after failing to find production from the Spraberry in a drillstem test of the top of that formation in its No. 1 Grady Scott, wildcat in Central-West Dawson County.

The interval tested was from 7,995 to 8,069 feet. Tool was open one hour. Recovery was 40 feet of drilling mud with no shows of oil, gas or water.

Location is 660 feet from south and east lines of section 101, block M, EL&RR survey and 10 miles west of Lamesa.

Norsworthy Quits Duster In Fisher

C. L. Norsworthy, Jr., of Dallas No. 1 Rex Parks, Central-West Fisher County wildcat, eight miles west of Roby has been abandoned and plugged on total depth of 7,105 feet in barren Ellenburger lime.

The project did not report logging any shows of oil or gas.

It was 660 feet from south and east lines of section 74, block 3, H&TC survey. That made it five miles southwest of the Bennett field and seven miles northeast of the Claytonville - Pennsylvanian reef field.

OKIE POLICE HAVE TROUBLES

McALESTER, OKLA.—(AP)—Who does a policeman call for help when something is stolen?

A police cruiser was stolen Wednesday a few steps from the police station. It was found several hours later, abandoned five miles northwest of the city.

Trio Injured Here By Car

Three Midland residents received emergency treatment for minor injuries Wednesday night at Midland Memorial Hospital.

Attaches said they were struck by an automobile on West Highway 80.

City police said they had no information regarding the injured persons, as no accident was reported to them.

Texas Middie Asks $100,000 Award In Highway Crash

BALTIMORE—(AP)— Midshipman Rae E. Richerson, Shallowater, Texas, is asking $100,000 damages for injuries he says will prevent him from receiving a commission as an officer in the U. S. Air Force.

Richerson graduates from the U. S. Naval Academy this week.

The suit filed here Wednesday contends Richerson suffered back and leg injuries in a collision last March 20 between a tractor-trailer truck and a car driven by Midshipman Erwin E. Troske, Jr., of North Dakota. One midshipman was killed and four were injured.

Named as defendants in the suit are Troske and the owners of the truck.

Blink Your Eyes And Jet Is Gone

AP Newsfeatures

DALLAS — The weird looking craft's two jet engines roared and it began rolling down the runway. Four or five seconds later it was airborne.

The pilot banked the plane sharply and pulled it skyward into a tight spiral. At the top of a 90-degree turn the "fastest fighter afloat" shot almost straight upward.

It was the Navy's newest jet interceptor, the F7U-3 Cutlass, designed to outfly and outfight any plane in the air. It probably is the fastest airplane produced in the United States today. The plane is manufactured here by Chance Vought, a division of United Aircraft.

Several pilots are known to have flown the F7U-1 Cutlass, predecessor of the F7U-3, faster than the speed of sound. Official sources, however, have not confirmed this. The Navy says the plane is in the "over 600 mile an hour class."

Plane Causes Shock Wave

Col. Fred J. Ascani, 34, deputy commander of the flight test center at Edwards Air Force Base, Calif., flew the F7U-1 Cutlass so fast recently that it caused a shock wave. So did Lt. Col. Richard L. Johnson, 34, of Wright-Patterson test center at Dayton, O.

These shock waves vibrated a large area of nearby Dallas, and caused residents to fear a terrific explosion had occurred in an industrial plant. Police and newspaper telephone exchanges were swamped with inquiring calls.

Dr. Wayne Redmose, a professor of physics at Southern Methodist University, said the planes had to go through the sonic barrier to cause the sound blast. "To set up a shock wave of this magnitude the plane would have to be going faster than the speed of sound," he said.

Sound travels about 760 miles an hour at sea level. At 40,000 feet, if the temperature is -40 degrees, the speed of sound is approximately 665 mph.

Two Jet Engines

The Cutlass is built around two turbo jet engines equipped with afterburners. The afterburners give the added boost needed for quick climbs and are used for combat emergency power.

The rate of climb of the Cutlass is almost unbelievable. Chance Vought officials won't say, but authoritative estimates place the rate of climb at 12,480 feet per minute at sea level with the use of afterburners.

This incredible rate of climb is gradually reduced at higher altitudes to an estimated 5,080 feet per minute at 35,000.

To look at it, you'd say the F7U's design is radical. It has no horizontal tail surfaces. The vertical stabilizer is built into the swept-back wings. Elevators and ailerons combined in the trailing edge of the stubby wings are known as ailavators.

But the designers say it is the logical answer to demands for high speed and the use of two jet engines in a fighter.

The pilot sits well forward in his cabin overlooking the plane's short nose. The cabin is pressurized, and either heated or cooled by automatic air conditioning equipment.

The F7U has yet to reach the fleet in numbers. But the Cutlass proved its worth in tests off the aircraft carrier U.S.S. Midway in July, 1951.

Dorothy's Sarongs, College Panties Vie For Popularity

Sweptback Wings Standard Style

FARMINGDALE, N. Y. —(AP)— Sweptback wing effect will be standard for every first-line combat plane in the Air Force by 1955, says Alexander Kartveli, vice president of Republic Aviation Corp.

"It's sweptback wings that help man man fly faster than sound," he said. "Sweptback wings cut down on what airmen call drag. For example, a plane with wings swept back 45 degress flying at the speed of sound (760 miles an hour at sea level) reacts to the pilot's control like a straight-wing plane at only 540 mph.

"Thus a plane with sweptback wings is more maneuverable at high speeds, can turn, wheel, climb and dive easier," he said.

Teen-Agers Must Prepare For Baby-Sitting With Understanding, Dignity And Knowledge

By EDRIE VAN DORE
Written for NEA Service

HARTFORD, CONN. — (NEA) — How do you get started on a baby-sitting career? Usually, it starts within a family, caring for small sisters, brothers, cousins, and spreads to friends and neighbors.

Once you let it be known that you are available for baby-sitting, you will probably have all the engagements you can fill, for baby-sitters are much in demand and short in supply.

If you live in a neighborhood where there are small children, call upon the mothers and tell them you would like to be a sitter. Write or print your name, address and telephone number on slips of paper and leave them with the mothers.

At home, place a pad of paper and a pencil beside your telephone and ask members of your family to write down messages from these mothers, when you are not at home. And then be sure to call the mother back and tell her whether or not you can come. If you cannot come, and have a friend who might do so, offer her name as a substitute.

Sometimes the teachers, counselors and principals at school will know of parents who need sitters. Or, your friends will tell you of families where help is needed.

In general, no baby-sitting engagements should be accepted if they are going to keep you away from home after 10 o'clock, excepting Friday or Saturday or unless you can spend the night and go to bed in the home where you are working.

Most parents of sitters make this rule for their children and most parents of small children accept it. The latter, if sensible, will ask nothing of a sitter they would not later want their own children to do.

One of the most necessary conditions of baby sitting is that the employer take the sitter home when it is late in the evening. This should be true for boys under 16 as well as girls who are even older.

If this is not possible, the sitter should spend the night, call her own parents for transportation, or just not accept the engagement in the beginning.

It is important to remember that sitters usually are still children, too. They are older children but they are not adults, and they do need a certain amount of protection.

We are told that sometimes girls are frightened by the fact that a man returning from a party late in the evening has had too much to drink and is in no condition to drive a car taking a girl home, to say nothing of other possible embarrassments.

It should not surprise such an employer if he has trouble finding baby-sitters. Word will spread rapidly among teen-agers that he's not a good person to work for.

What are the wages for baby-sitting? This depends on the locality and the wages paid to other sitters. Usually, it ranges upward of 35 cents an hour.

For parents employing sitters, the expense has become so high that, added to the cost of movie tickets and dinner before or refreshments after, an evening's recreation entails substantial expenditure.

If you would like a lot of work, therefore, you might offer to accept engagements for less pay—25 cents an hour, even a dollar for an evening.

After all, in many cases you will come into the house after the baby is asleep, spend the evening listening to the radio or watching television or doing your homework. It's an easy way to earn a dollar.

It is a wise thing to keep an account of what you earn as a sitter, save some of your money for Christmas gifts or special purchases, buy your own tickets for school games and dances, and possibly even some of your own clothes.

Youth Center Chatter

By JEAN CORBELL

Hi Gang! I want to explain why Nancy isn't writing the Chatter this week; she is on a vacation in Boston. If you'll bear with me and overlook my mistakes until Nancy gets back, I'll try to write the things you'll want to read.

FLASH! The snoopers are on the loose! Be careful for you may say something you wouldn't want in the Chatter. I'll let you know who they are later, but right now . . . Watch Out!

We all want to thank Myrt for letting us have dances as often as we have been, so here it is. THANKS!

There seems to be a lot of people asking Myrt to get new records for the juke box, but due to the money problem he can't do this. So if you want a record just bring it up and he will be happy to put it in the juke box. Of course there wouldn't be a money problem if every one would pay their dues!

There are four little words I would like to say and they are: "Stay off the lawn!" We know you don't mean to, but every time you put your foot down on the lawn you kill thirty little grass seeds. Let's give them a chance to live so our Y.C. will look nice.

It seems a game of hearts was started Tuesday night by Fern, Don Hudson, Barney McClendon and Jay Slickland. The winner was Don Hudson, but we all know that Don couldn't have won without Bill Leonard, who helped Don by looking over the other players' shoulders.

Weekend Schedule

We have another movie Friday night. The name of it is "Angel On My Shoulder." Take my word for it, it is going to be good. Let's all go and see it! Saturday night is another "Bulldog Stomp." I have heard that Myrt won't keep having the dances unless every one goes to church on Sunday, so let's all be sure and go.

We would like to say goodbye to Eldon Kinikon, who has left us for the Navy. We will miss his harmonica playing.

I think everyone enjoyed the dance the Y.C. had after graduation Tuesday night. Becky Jones and Dan Ratcliff gave us some entertainment. It was a little modern dance they call Jitter Bugging! Bill Erskine did a good job telling everyone what to dance. By the way, "Why weren't you dancing, Bill?"

Jimmy Counts and Bud Lea really did surprise everyone Wednesday before last when they walked into the Y.C. with their big sombreros. We hope you had a nice time, boys. Did the girls you danced with like them?

Tuesday, May 27, a large group of boys celebrated the end of school by blocking off the street by the Y.C. and having a street dance. It didn't last long, however. The dancers moved into the Y.C. to continue the fun. Al Cole in his blue jeans and bright yellow boots must have started a fad. Within thirty minutes most of the boys were dressed in blue jeans and high top boots. Some of the boys really looked sharp. There was something new for the Y.C. that evening, too! What I'm talking about is the new hill billy records we had. They really were neat.

Here's How It Works

We have a number of new students in M.H.S. who are not acquainted with our Youth Center and how it operates, so I would like to explain it. You do not have to have a special invitation to join. Everyone in their teens is welcome. The membership fee is one dollar. If you know anyone who is not a member, get them to join!

"Mickey" was the name of the movie we had last Friday night, and I think everyone will agree it really was good! The "Bulldog Stomp" was held again last Saturday night. We had a lot of the old gang back from college, and it made it seem like the good old days!

There is a girl who has been pestering me to death to get her name in the Chatter, so here it is in capital letters, PEGGY TIDWELL!

Did you know that Carol O'Donnel has the measles? Hope no one else gets them. If I don't get the measles, I'll see you next week.

RED VIEW—This Communist's-eye view of Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, printed in the Communist newspaper "L'Humanite," in Paris, bore the caption "Ridgway the Grenade. Ridgway the Pestilence." The editor of the paper, which urged Communists to attend street demonstrations, was reported arrested for "inciting to riot."

There is space for 40 persons to stand in the head of the Statue of Liberty, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

Treat Favorite Spring Grads To Cherry Ice Cream Punch

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Wonderful as they are, school diplomas are not good to eat. So plan a party for your favorite graduates built around a huge bowl of Cherries Jubilee Ice Cream Punch.

It's a real treat for memorable occasions like graduation parties or engagement parties or wedding receptions, with its rich creamy texture and the delicate pink color of cherry juice accented by floating vanilla ice cream scoops and big bold purple Bings.

Cherries Jubilee Ice Cream Punch

One cup sugar, 2 cups water, 1 No. 2 1/2 can Bing cherries, 2 cups lemon juice, 1 quart ice cubes and water, 2 quarts chilled gingerale, 1/2 gallon pre-packaged vanilla ice cream.

Combine sugar and water in saucepan. Place over low heat and stir until sugar is dissolved; pour into punch bowl. Drain cherries, add cherry juice, lemon juice and ice cubes and water. Stir until ice is melted. Add gingerale. Open carton of ice cream and use ice cream scoop or tablespoon to add ice cream to punch. Stir until ice cream is partially melted. Add cherries.

Taffy Ice Cream Punch
(50 one-half-cup servings)

Two quarts freshly made double-strength coffee, 1/2 cup sugar, 1/2 cup molasses, 1 quart water and ice cubes, 1 quart milk, 1/2 gallon pre-packaged chocolate or vanilla ice cream.

Pour coffee into punch bowl. Add sugar, molasses, water and ice cubes; stir until sugar is dissolved and ice is melted. Add milk. Open carton of ice cream and use ice cream scoop or tablespoon to add ice cream to punch. Stir until ice cream is partially melted.

The MATURE PARENT

By MURIEL LAWRENCE

One night after Tad was asleep, his mother hurriedly was called to the bedside of a sick relative. A week later, after she returned, Tad awoke early one morning screaming from nightmare. An animal he couldn't describe had been chasing him.

The next night, the animal was lying in wait for him at bedtime. Although his father told Tad to go to sleep like a "man" and a "soldier," Tad wouldn't. Three days later, distracted, his mother sought professional help.

"Tad resented your leaving him," she was told. "Children often hate us and this should never frighten us. It is because Tad is frightened at having hated you that he has had to disguise his hate in the form of the animal. The less frightened you are by his hate the quicker you can help him to get rid of the animal. You must get him to tell you all about his anger with you until you and he can talk about it cozily together, your arms around him."

When Tad's father heard what the counsellor had said, he lost his temper. "Bunk!" he snorted. "You go upstairs and turn his light out. I'm not going to have this modern nonsense in my house. You'll ruin the boy, encouraging him to spend all his time dreaming up spooks to be scared of."

Now Tad's father has some spooks of his own that he's scared of too. He spends much of his waking life haunted by fear of his sales manager. He carries twice as much accident insurance as he can afford. He has a bad habit of arguing inaccurately over commissions. His friends always are having to say to him, "Take it easy, son; it hasn't happened yet."

It would be fine for Tad's father if he could bring himself to want lights on, instead of out. He needs a little light on his resentment of those who had to ask their bright, good-looking son to earn his own way through college.

He needs some light on what went on inside him one night long ago that he spent washing greasy dishes in his college commissary as music from the June day dance drifted through its open window. If he could only trust truth to work out love and compassion, he would lose fear of hate in himself or others.

He would rejoice to be able to expose the hidden, cruel thing, so that it could no longer keep him on the run, fearful, looking ahead for it, expecting loss, expecting hurt, expecting punishment.

It is not for nothing that the Greeks made their Furies the children of lightless Night and Darkness.

• • •

"Fear is often the manifestation of hate," writes Dr. Karl Meninger. There it is, out in the sunlight, in seven English words. Let's not be afraid.

Let us, too, stop sneering at the symbols by which children hide their angers at us. There's nothing new, nothing modern about the way conscience disguises guilt at bad feelings.

Few of us can afford to make merry with Tad's animal. He is kin to the damned spots on the hands of Lady MacBeth, to the apparitions of guilt that cried to Richard III of England, "Let me lie heavy on thy soul tomorrow." He is classic stuff.

We must go gently with children's guilt at hating us. Tad's is a baby soul, too new for guilt at hating his mother to sit heavily upon it. He is not yet a man, nor a brave soldier. He cannot digest hate and expel it without help.

Champion Sought By Beer Drinkers

The Spanish contest is organized by the recently constituted National Federation for Beer Drinkers. The federation, which already has 5,000 members, is also the organizer of the European championship to be held in Madrid. Countries invited are Germany, England, Italy, Belgium and Switzerland.

Every foreign competitor will compete with the beer of his own country. The Spanish record is 7.9 quarts drunk in an hour in a tourney in Barcelona last year.

MILDEW SPOTS

Remove mildew spots as soon as they are discovered — before they have a chance to weaken or rot material. Take off surface growth by vacuuming thoroughly or brushing the affected article out of doors. Dry-clean fabrics that cannot then be washed or sponged with water.

KOJE PRISON CAMP "MEMORIAL"—Grave of a North Korean POW, surrounded by picket fence in foreground, becomes a "memorial" for POW's in this prison camp compound on Koje Island. The prisoners conducted an elaborate service before the body was interred.

Book Sales Record Italian Decrease

Italian book publishers announced some 37 million books were sold last year to more than 47 million Italians. Those in the Lombardy region are the most avid readers, they said.

FOOT HEALTH

In order to maintain foot health and promote good posture, girls in the 12 to 14-year age group should wear high heels not over one and one-half inches high.

Casualties in Korea

WASHINGTON—The Department of Defense Wednesday night announced the following Texas casualties in the Korean area:

Wounded, Army: Cpl. Bobby D. Forester, Longview; Second Lt. Lewis W. Ham, Linden.

Pioneer Air Lines Replace DC-3's With Faster Fleet

Pioneer Air Lines will replace its DC-3 service to Midland with the new fleet of 270-mile per hour, 36-passenger Pacemasters in four steps during the month of June, Gen. Robert J. Smith has announced.

Early this week, the change from DC-3 equipment to Pacemasters was effected on Flights 41, 43, 46 and 48. With this change, there are two roundtrips daily between Dallas and Midland with the Pacemaster.

The second step will be on June 16 and 17 when DC-3 planes will be replaced by Pacemasters on Flights 22 and 25. Effective with the completion of this step, Midland will have Pacemaster service on one roundtrip daily between here and Houston, Austin, San Angelo, Lubbock and Amarillo.

At that time, Midland will have Pacemaster service to and from Abilene, Sweetwater, Big Spring, Lubbock, Plainview, Amarillo, Clovis, Tucumcari, Santa Fe, Albuquerque, Houston, Austin and San Angelo.

The third step in the transition will be made on June 24 when the Pacemaster will replace the DC-3 on Flights 23 and 24, thus providing another roundtrip, the second between Midland and Houston, Austin, Lubbock and Amarillo.

On June 28 and June 29, all other Pioneer DC-3 flights to Midland will be replaced with Pacemasters.

With the Pacemaster, Midland will have service to Pioneer's 21 cities in Texas and New Mexico with a 270-mile per hour, 36-passenger, postwar, modern design plane instead of a 24-passenger, 160-mile per hour, prewar aircraft.

From Midland to Houston, the Pacemaster time will be two hours and 29 minutes in comparison to three hours and nine minutes in the DC-3. The 270-mile per hour plane will also substantially reduce flying time from Midland to all other key cities on the Pioneer system.

Your Child's Emotional Growth Depends on Early Understanding

Mrs. Clara Savage Littledale, editor of Parents' Magazine, makes it a point to visit nursery schools as often as possible. She learns much from her direct contact with the children to guide her in showing parents how they can improve family relationships.

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Never hold your baby at mealtime. Insist on early toilet training. Don't pick the baby up when he cries. Expect him to conform to a rigid pattern of behavior.

Sounds like we're heading back into the dark ages of child care. Well, before you start pulling your hair out, these unrealistic suggestions for bringing up your baby are merely the 25-year-old memories of Parents' Magazine editor, Mrs. Clara Savage Littledale.

"The ideals of parents haven't changed," Mrs. Littledale says. "There is still the instinctive urge to give your child all the love and help to make him a happy individual. But today's theories of how this can be accomplished are completely different and, I think, much more mature and realistic."

Mrs. Littledale, a mother and grandmother in her own right, is well-qualified to sit in her pastel-painted, modernistically - designed New York office and expound on how child - care methods have changed in the past 25 years.

Not only has she worked with leading psychiatrists and doctors in the field of child study, but she has personally spent much time working directly with children in clinics and nursery schools.

Furthermore, her post as editor has permitted her to keep her finger on the pulse of the American family through all the years of change.

"I remember editing articles, recalls Mrs. Littledale, "which prescribed standard schedules for bringing up your child. Rocking spoiled the baby, thumb-sucking was a dangerous habit which had to be stopped at all costs, it was healthy to let an infant cry—even if he cried because he was hungry and needed to be fed ahead of the schedule."

Mrs. Littledale maintains that we have discarded the old-fashioned, grim methods of caring for our children for many and varied reasons.

"For one thing, we are learning more and more about ourselves," she points out. "Psychiatrists have helped us to understand why we react to people and situations as we do, and child study experts have taught us many things about our children and their pattern of development.

"We have come to understand that a young child, coping with the strange, hostile world about him, needs the warmth, comfort and security of his parents' love."

The Parents' editor feels the scientific, serious research performed by men like Dr. Adolph Meyer of Johns Hopkins Psychiatric Clinic has also done much to increase the swing to less formality and the junking of rigid time schedules.

"Then, too," explains Mrs. Littledale, "motherhood and fatherhood are taking on an almost professional coloration. Young women study child development and parent-home relationships in college. Nowadays, as contrasted with 25 years ago, it is considered quite manly for a father to take an active interest and part in the life of his baby."

Mrs. Littledale is not proposing, however, that we have reached a stage of perfection when it comes to understanding and helping our children to develop into healthy, well-adjusted individuals.

There are still parents she points out, who insist that their children act like "little adults." They want them to repress anger, be completely unselfish, accede to all demands and requests. Mrs. Littledale says she can't help but wonder how many adults can possibly admit that they possess such personal qualities.

Perhaps the most important fact that Mrs. Littledale's research and work with children have revealed over the years is that children are people, but not grown-ups, and must be treated accordingly. Applied to our own family relationships, this theory might profitably change the course of events.

JACOBY ON CANASTA

By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

"How many wild cards are you allowed to meld with a pair," asks a Canton, Ohio, correspondent. "Some say that you may meld three wild cards with a pair, but others say that you can never use more wild cards than natural cards. What is the rule on this subject?"

You are allowed to have up to three wild cards with any meld at all. It doesn't matter how many natural cards you have in the meld, just so long as you have at least two of them.

Let me make it specific. Suppose you have a pair of kings. You may put those kings down with one wild card, or with two wild cards, or with three wild cards.

Suppose you have three kings. You may put them down without any wild cards at all, or with one wild card, or with two wild cards, or with three wild cards.

The same is true if you have four kings, or five kings, and so on. And, of course, the rule applies to queens, or jacks, or any other denomination.

This rule applies at any time in the hand—whether it is for your initial meld or laetr on. You are always allowed up to three wild cards in any meld.

Q—In a game of samba I melded ace-king-queen of hearts, and my partner later melded ten-nine-eight of hearts. If I should draw a jack of hearts later in that hand, may I unite the two melds and complete the samba with the jack?

A—Yes. You are allowed to combine two sequences in this way in order to complete a samba. Note, however, that this is possible only when you combine two three-card sequences with a new card. A samba may never include more than seven cards.

Q—In a game of samba, the opponent at my right discards an eight of hearts. Am I allowed to take that card with three eights that are in my hand, and then meld that eight of hearts with a sequence? It is not a question of count, for the initial meld has already been made.

A—No. If you take a discarded eight with two or more eights from your hand, all of them must be melded as eights. You cannot use that discard in a sequence.

Leonardo da Vinci was the first painter to recognize the laws of light and shade, according to the Encyclopedia Britannica.

★ Daddy Ringtail ★

By WESLEY DAVIS

Daddy Ringtail And Uncle Bunkum

Daddy Ringtail, your monkey friend, was walking down by the Whispering River when Mother Ringtail came running up and said: "Daddy Ringtail, guess what!"

Daddy Ringtail tried to "guess what" but he couldn't, and so Mother Ringtail told him. She said that Uncle Bunkum from the zoo had come for a little vacation visit at the monkey house, high up in the top of the very tall tree, there in the middle of the Great Forest. Yes, and Uncle Bunkum had brought a little present for the family. The present was really a bunk bed to sleep in.

"A what?" asked Daddy Ringtail.

"A bunk bed," said Mother Ringtail. "It's a bed with a 'downstairs' place for someone to sleep on, and right above the 'downstairs' place is an 'upstairs' place for someone else to sleep on."

Daddy Ringtail and Mother Ringtail hurried home together to see the bunk bed that Uncle Bunkum had brought for a present. Yes, and the bunk bed was just as Mother Ringtail had said it was. It had a 'downstairs' place for someone to sleep in, and right above it was the 'upstairs' place for someone else to sleep in. But where oh where was Uncle Bunkum?

"Oh, Uncle Bunkum," called Mother Ringtail again.

"I want to say a 'happy day' and to thank him for the bunk bed present," said Daddy Ringtail.

"Oh, Uncle Bunkum!" called Mother Ringtail again.

Where oh where could Uncle Bunkum be? Well he wasn't in the kitchen near the refrigerator, or in the living room close by the radio, or out on the porch in the swing, or anywhere that the folks could find, except—wait! There was Uncle Bunkum's hat on a chair. There were his shoes beneath the chair, and there were his shirt and coat and pants all folded. Why, Uncle Bunkum could not be far away, Mother Ringtail was sure, because Uncle Bunkum would not leave without his clothes. Yes, Uncle Bunkum could not be far away, Daddy Ringtail was sure indeed, because there he was all hidden beneath the cover up on top of the bunk bed, sleeping a happy sleep with only his nose not covered. Happy sleeping, Uncle Bunkum! Happy day.

Educated Pooches Train Kiddies In Traffic Safety

CHARLOTTE, N. C. — (NEA) — Some time ago, Charlotte traffic policeman Ernest E. Pressley decided the best thing that could happen to the cause of traffic safety would be to have it go literally to the dogs.

As a result, more than three million school children have taken unprecedented interest in their safety lessons in a manner they and their teachers won't soon forget.

When neighborhood children flocked to Pressley's backyard to watch his pet setter and his wife's collie perform some tricks he'd taught them, Pressley hatched the idea for a traveling animal circus—one that would be devoted to teaching safety lessons.

Building up a troupe of trained dogs, he set forth to present his idea in various parts of the nation. It proved so successful his chief granted him special leave to continue his work and the American Trucking Associations, Inc., sponsored him on a 13-week tour of nine Eastern states this Spring.

Safety patrolman from an Arington, Va., high school has a chat with the canine cast of the animal Safety Circus between acts of the road show that teaches safety to school children.

Leading lady of the Safety Circus is Lassie, here showing a seventh grade boy and girl the proper way to cross a street with a baby carriage. That's Susie in the carriage and Officer Ernest E. Pressley, originator of the circus, in background.

Never Fail

The tricks never fail to bring down the house. The conclusion of each performance finds the audience on its feet cheering and whistling for more. And succeeding days always bring Pressley some fan mail, the bulk of it pleading letters from children who want to offer "poor little Elmer" a home.

To make certain the safety lessons will linger long after he has left town, Pressley and the trucking associations have organized a Junior Traffic Safety Club.

To become a member, children must learn the answers to a difficult safety questionnaire until they can complete it without error. Members—there are 75,000 already—then receive a certificate of membership with their name on it.

One Of Finest

Such authorities as FBI Chief J. Edgar Hoover, the National Safety Council and the International Chiefs of Police Association consider the animal circus one of the finest safety programs ever put together and have often said so.

But Pressley isn't looking for praise. He's looking for a sharp reduction in the accident lists, and the truckers hope to be able to send him out on the road again next Fall for the whole school year.

A Proclamation

WHEREAS, This city always is interested in the health and strength of its citizens and in its economic welfare, and

WHEREAS, Milk is recognized of vital and increasing importance to the universal well-being; and as nature's most nearly perfect food; and

WHEREAS, The preservation and improvement of the great dairy industry of Texas, with some 500,000 Texans dependent upon it and its allied industries for livelihood, are of interest to all Texans as a matter of practical living, and directly of importance to the health and well-being of every person; and

WHEREAS, The dairy industry of Texas annually joins that of the nation in observing the month of June as a period in which the health and life-giving values of milk and dairy products may be emphasized; now

THEREFORE, I, Perry D. Pickett, Mayor of the City of Midland, in full appreciation of the opportunities for constructive public service do hereby proclaim the period of June, 1952, as DAIRY MONTH for the City of Midland, and do urge civic and business groups to cooperate in its observance, both in public and in private, in order to increase our appreciation of milk and dairy products, to the end that our health may be improved, our financial well-being increased, and our gratitude to the Great Giver expressed.

OUT OF DOORS with Field & Stream

By JOE STETSON
Dog Editor

I don't quite remember how we got started talking about dogs — perhaps it was because some of the dogs were being given their afternoon airing. At any rate the cab driver made a remark or two about this breed and that and then directed a question to me that I couldn't ignore.

"What is the best kind of dog?" he asked.

There is only one answer to that question so I gave it to him.

"Your kind," I said.

"Wadaya mean, my kind?" It was obvious that he thought I was implying some kind of insult.

"Haven't you a dog?" I asked.

"Sure," he said.

"Well, the kind you have is the best kind of dog."

"My dog's a mutt—a pure bred Heinz," the driver said as he squeezed through traffic.

"You know it's funny," he continued, "he knows my cab when I drive home at night and he's up in the window watching for me. The wife says he gets the curtains dirty, but I know she doesn't mind. She says he shouldn't be fed at the table, too, but I notice he's always sitting up begging on her side and that ain't for nothin'.

"He's got a ball and you should see him hunt for it. Just say 'getcher ball' and he starts lookin' in every corner and under the couch 'til he comes up with it.

"Then is when he's really funny. 'Go put your head in the corner' I say, and he walks into the corner by the radio and pretends he's not lookin' while I hide his ball. Then he comes racing out and finds it and brings it back again.

"You should see him walk on his hind legs. He's smart as a whip. We almost lost him once, though. He was a sick dog. Cost a lot of dough in vet bills, too—shots and pills and special food—but the wife and I took turns feedin' him every two hours for four days, then he picked up slowly lik how he's doinpu?p*g,b up slow like and now he's fine.

"What I wanted to know, though," he said as he slid the cab into the curb in front of my stop, "is what's the best kind of dog?"

"Gosh," he muttered, as I slipped him his fare, "I guess I heard you the first time."

Texan Charged In Barracks Slaying

SAN DIEGO, CALIF. — (AP) — Pvt. Leon Delaner Franklin, 23, of Palestine, Texas, was charged in a federal complaint issued Wednesday with manslaughter in connection with the death of Pvt. Robert E. Hootman, 26, of Kirkwood, Mo., after a fight in the Camp Pendleton Marine Corps Disciplinary barracks.

Franklin is the son of Mrs. Clydia Maye Franklin, of Dallas, and Alexander Howard Franklin of San Antonio.

Hootman died Monday at Camp Pendleton Naval Hospital. The FBI said death is believed to have been caused by skull injuries, but a post-mortem examination has been ordered.

FBI agents and Military Police are questioning dozens of Marines said to have witnessed the fight in a disciplinary stockade Sunday night.

By EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.
Written for NEA Service

Rocky Mountain spotted fever is an acute infectious disease which has been found in all but two or three states and in Canada, Mexico and other parts of the world. It is caused by a tiny agent called a rickettsia and is spread by the bite of ticks. The Spring and early Summer are the times when it is most common.

The death rate from spotted fever varies from place to place and season to season and formerly about one in four of those stricken died. As in so many other diseases, prevention is important. In places in which ticks are common, the wearing of protective clothing (high boots and one-piece outer clothing) is advised.

The destruction of ticks, is, of course, highly desirable, and since the disease can be carried by dog ticks, as well as the more commonly involved wood ticks, care against infection from this source should be planned carefully.

Those who are exposed to ticks should search themselves carefully at least twice a day and remove any ticks with ether, chloroform, or by using forceps. Removal by bare fingers is dangerous.

The disease develops suddenly after an incubation period of about two to 10 days. Chills, fever, and severe pains, especially in the arms and legs are characteristic. The fever is high from the beginning.

A curious rash, which has given the disease its name, "spotted fever," appears between the second and sixth day. The skin is often swollen and bleeding may occur into or under the skin and mucous membranes. Laboratory tests are important in the diagnosis.

Vaccine Advisable

A preventive vaccine has been found useful in human beings as well as in animals. It probably is not practical or advisable for everyone to receive this vaccine, but those who are likely to be exposed in areas where ticks and the disease are common should probably receive it.

Until recently treatment has been rather unsatisfactory Now, however, two relatives of penicillin—chloramphenicol and aureomycin—have been found of the greatest value.

If diagnosis is made early and one of these antibiotics is employed, recovery is the rule and few deaths occur, but care in prevention still is worthwhile.

CONSERVE GASOLINE

One way to conserve gasoline for automobiles and airplanes is to use "bottled gas" for fuel in city buses. Millions of country homes now are using it for cooking and a goodly number of buses are using it as fuel, enough to prove that it provides satisfactory and economical power.

ROPING IN GRANDDAD'S DAY—Nope, this isn't a scene from Midland's World Championship Rodeo, but W. P. (Bud) Estes, 75, wrapping up his calf to win the day money in a roping event here July 6, 1902. The calf's neck was broken in the rough and tumble action. Estes, who lives at Gulf Camp, recalls that oldtimers used to rope every Independence Day. The roping grounds were located then in the present Latin American section of the city.

Make A Giant Pancake

By GAYNOR MADDOX
NEA Food and Markets Editor

Try this giant-size pancake-omelet. It has all the delicate texture and "puffed up" appearance of an omelet, yet it is amazingly easy. Use a pancake ready-mix to simplify making and guarantee 100 per cent results.

Start it in a skillet on top of range, then place in the broiler for final browning. Add diced cooked bacon folded into the batter for extra flavor. Top with tart currant jelly. Serve with fresh buttered asparagus.

Hot broiled fruits such as halves of peaches or apricots are good accompaniments to the meal. Cut in wedges to serve for a perfect luncheon dish or make a pancake- omelet the main dish for a supper party.

Bacon Pancake Omelet
(Makes 5 servings)

Three egg yolks, beaten, 3/4 cup milk, 1 cup pancake ready-mix, 3 egg whites, stiffly beaten, 1/3 cup diced cooked bacon, drained.

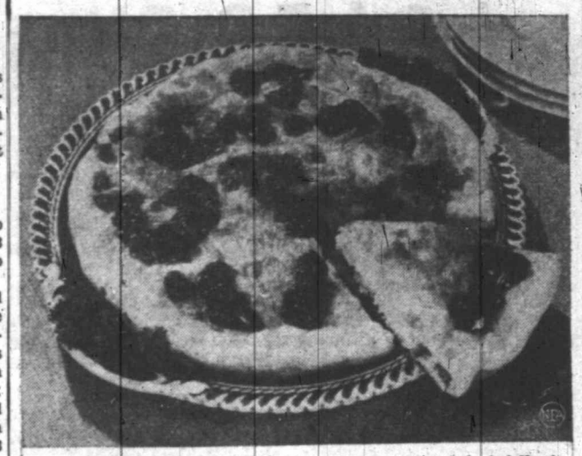

Combine beaten egg yolks and milk. Add all at once to pancake ready-mix, stirring lightly until fairly smooth. Fold in beaten egg whites and bacon. Heat about one teaspoon butter in a 9 or 10-inch frying pan; pour omelet into hot frying pan and cook over direct heat until bottom of omelet is golden brown, about 3 minutes. Place in broiler about 3 inches from source of heat and continue cooking until top is delicately browned. Top with currant jelly and serve immediately.

Buckwheat Waffles
(Makes 5 servings)

Two cups buckwheat ready-mix, 1/3 cup melted shortening, 2 eggs, 2 cups milk.

Place all ingredients in medium-sized mixing bowl. Beat with rotary egg beater until batter is fairly smooth. Pour batter onto a hot waffle iron. Bake until iron stops steaming.

GIANT PANCAKE OMELET with crisp bacon and tart jelly is easy to make, using pancake mix, for luncheon or supper party.

Mississippi Plans Tornado Warnings By Highway Patrol

JACKSON, MISS.—(AP)—Mississippi's highway patrol and the Jackson Weather Bureau have blueprinted a plan for a statewide tornado warning network. The nature of tornadoes makes it impossible to predict where they will strike until the familiar and dreaded black funnel appears, and then too often, it is too late.

George Fish, meteorologist in charge of the Jackson Bureau and Col. T. B. Birdsong, director of the Mississippi Safety Commission, have devised a warning system that will use the highway patrol's nine radio stations as relay points.

Highway patrolmen will be instructed in how to spot and recognize the severe thunderstorm activity that usually precedes tornadoes. They will be given a regular course in weather observing. The patrolmen will report storms to the nearest radio relay station. This information will be radioed to the Weather Bureau which in turn will have it broadcast over local radio stations in the storm area.

WINDOW SHADES

PLASTIC MIRRORS

Plastic mirrors, unlike those of glass, do not shatter, are shock-resistant, and do not steam or cloud. They are about one-third as heavy as glass mirrors of the same size. Made of transparent plastic, they have a metallic reflecting surface deposited on them by a vacuum process.
