Marshalls Hit By U. S. Fleet

Invasion Believed Near If Not Already In Progress

By WILLIAM HIPPLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

PEARL HARBOR, Jan. 29—Possibly presaging imminent invasion of Japan's mandated Marshall islands in mid-Pacific, swarms of planes from United States carriers heavily pounded three atolls today which significantly had drawn some of the major attention during more than 20 consecutive air raids.

Adm. Chester W. Nimitz, announcing the major assault tonight, said the targets included the air base of Taroa on Maloelap, an atoll which already had undergone 21 raids; the atoll of Wotje, which had taken 18; and Kwajalein, previously hit 16 times.

Hints Of Strong Force

The admiral said "Pacific fleet carrier task forces" participated. This hinted strongly that sizeable elements of the aircraft carrier forces publicly reported as being amassed for use against the Japanese have been thrown into the battle.

May Be Continuing

(The terse communique did not make clear whether the attacks had been completed or were continuing. The fact that the assault was announced on the same day it occurred, instead of waiting for the usual period of radio silence in attack-and-retire operations, indicated the attack might be the opening stroke of actual invasion).

The Marshalls have been pounded almost daily since shortly before the invasion of the Gilberts Nov. 20 when regular raids were begun in order to neutralize the Marshalls.

These islands were hit twice before by carrier forces, which included a heavy concentration of torpedo planes, divebombers and fighters.

Hit First In 1942

The first was Jan. 30, 1942 from Adm. William Halsey's task forces in a daring raid. It was the first United States offensive in the Pacific since Pearl Harbor.

The Marshalls were hit heavily last Dec. 4 by task forces.

Admiral Nimitz' communique was incomplete. A full report from attacking ships and details probably will be forthcoming tomorrow.

The text of the communique:

"Pacific fleet carrier task forces have made attacks on Marshalls island atolls today, including Taroa, (Maloelap), Wotje, and Kwajalein."

Rabaul Pounded, 23 Japs Downed

Six More Believed Downed; Ship Sunk

By OLEN CLEMENTS

ADVANCED ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, New Guinea, Sunday, Jan. 30—Rabaul was raided again on Jan. 27, the 25th raiding mission there by the Allies this month during which 23 more plains were shot down to soar Nipponese losses in January above 400.

Headquarters, reporting the raid today, said six other enemy planes

RABAUL "GIVEN UP"

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP) — The Tokyo home radio, which commented yesterday that the situation at Rabaul, New Britain, was "becoming grave," today said that it had reached "a serious stage for which we cannot hold even the slightest optimism."

probably were shot down as Mitchell medium bombers, escorted by fighters, flew up from Solomons bases to hit the Laukunai airdrome, the enemy's principal fighters base at that northeastern New Britain fortress.

Cargo Vessel Sunk

In a favorite Allied hunting ground for Japanese shipping—in the vicinity of Kavieng, New Ireland, navy Catalinas sank an 8,000-ton enemy cargo vessel the night of Jan. 27.

The air arm pressed its ceaseless campaign to soften up the New Guinea area about Madang, current objective of the Allied ground forces. Mitchells and fighters went after the Bogadjim sector just south of Madang, the Ramu valley and the shoreline below the Japanese shipping base.

The newest victory over Rabaul was noteworthy for the fact that the 23 to 29 enemy planes downed amounted to more than half of the 40 interceptors the Japanese threw into the battle.

The raiders lost six planes, making a total of more than 60 as the cost of the attacks made on all but two of the 27 days so far accounted for.

Supply Dumps Blasted

Later on the 27th, Liberators flew to Rabaul from the Solomons and blasted supply dumps. The Volunteers Asked In "Defense Of Rome"

(By The Associated Press)

The "enlistment of volunteers up to the age of 37 for the defense of Rome" has begun with Fascist party offices serving as recruiting bureaus, a German broadcast said today.

The governor of Rome appealed to the population to place all their motorcars at the disposal of the authorities for "safeguarding the foodstuff supply of the capital," another broadcast said, and the governor of Vatican City "thereupon handed over to Rome administration a large number of motor vehicles."

Himmler Reported Executed By Hitler

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP)—NBC correspondent Paul Archinard, in a broadcast from Bern, Switzerland, today quoted the Journal De Geneve as saying that Heinrich Himmler, gestapo chieftain, possibly had been executed because of ambitions to replace Adolf Hitler.

Crippled Children Are Depending On YOU For Help!

For some reason or another, Lubbockites are not rallying as they have before behind the Crippled Childrens' council.

The annual benefit dances will be held tomorrow night at the Lubbock and Hilton hotels, and at the Cotton club, but advance donations and ticket sales are lagging far behind normal.

Big Push In Drive Starts Here Tuesday

Three Groups Are Fully Organized

THE 'big push" in Lubbock's Fourth War Loan drive opens Tuesday morning.

The goal is $3,597,000 in War bonds.

The "zero hour" will be 9 o'clock Tuesday morning.

Three teams of bonds salesmen, all Lubbock citizens, will start out at that hour to put the campaign over the top in short order—just as the three previous drives in Lubbock have done.

To Work In Groups

C. E. Maedgen's big gift subscription division will start out on a select group of purchasrs—those

OFF TO GOOD START!

They do things in a big way out at New Deal school district.

Friday night, W. O. Fortenberry, bond chairman for the district, and his committee staged a community gathering at a basketball game at the school and after the smoke had cleared a total of $47,000 cash value in bonds had been sold.

Monday, the committeemen will start their calls throughout the district and hope to have the quota of $77,000 in hand before they call a halt.

Free basketball games with both the boys and girls teams playing featured Friday's program and the games became even more interesting after it was learned Supt. A. L. Faubion had agreed to buy $10 in bonds for each point the teams scored. Faubion's purchases in bonds totaled nearly $800.

who buy $5,000 and over in bonds. M. B. Hilburn's general solicitation division will sell bonds of less than $5,000 and Mrs. Hilburn's women's division will start a "door knocker" campaign to sell $100,000 in bonds to the city's housewives.

Maedgen's workers will meet at the Lubbock hotel and Hilburn's division at the Hilton hotel. There will be no breakfasts served. Mrs. Hilburn's women workers will meet at the St. John's Methodist church Monday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock for final instructions.

Workers in Maedgen's big gifts division are: Sam C. Arnett, sr., Homer D. Grant, Walter S. Posey, George A. Simmons, W. F. Eisenberg and Hubert L. Allen.

Hilburn's Organization

Earl B. Collins, J. Ben Cole, Bob Fuller, J. A. Raley, jr., and J. C. Reynolds are majors under Hilburn. Their captains are as follows: Collins — Bert Pinson, Arch King, Orville Smith, Wyatt Hester, Dutch Wigington, George Soash and Joe H. Bryant; Cole—H. V. Stanton, F. J. Minister Flays Delay In Story

PORT ARTHUR, Jan. 29 (AP)—The Rev. R. E. Day, pastor of Port Arthur's First Baptist church and father of a son who is a Japanese captive in the Philippines, today charged that the government "is making propaganda and politics out of the torture of our soldiers and the broken hearts of their families."

"Why was the truth about the Japanese barbarism so long suppressed?" the Rev. Day demanded.

"It looks to me that our government is resorting to most reprehensible tactics in holding up these facts and then springing them on us as an election year opens and for the purpose, apparently, of propagandizing the Fourth War Loan."

Dictatorship Charged

He added: "Talk about 'dictatorships,' all indications are that America has one which rivals those of Europe."

The pastor's son, Capt. Morris E. Day, was an Army chaplain on Bataan and has been a prisoner of the Japs since the fall of the citadel. The officer's wife, Mrs. Gabriela Day, is a teacher in Howard Payne college at Brownwood. She has had three postcards from her husband in the last two years.

"The administration," said the Rev. Day, "should give us the facts as they develop, for informational purposes, and should not juggle its releases with an eye on politics and propaganda. We Americans can take it; all we ask is the truth as promptly and completely as we can get it."

Thousands Of Poles Slain By Germans

LONDON, Jan. 29 (AP)— More than 13,000 citizens of Sarny, a town in old Poland recently recaptured by the Red Army, were slain by the Germans, the Moscow radio said today.

The broadcast, recorded by the Soviet monitor, said the atrocities included "23 men killed in a gestapo torture chamber, two orthodox priests smothered with tar and burned to death on a bonfire, 1,000 youths driven away to slavery in Germany and 400 houses burned."

Cruel Trick Played On 'Army' Mother

DETROIT, Jan. 29 (AP) — When Mrs. Juanita Waits, 18, of Columbus, O., went to Hattiesburg, Miss., last November to be near her husband, Pfc. Wayne Waits, who is stationed in an Army camp, she left their 6-months-old daughter, Marylin Anne, with a friend.

Regular letters informed her the baby was well, she said, until a week ago she received one that read:

"I should have told you, but last November right after you left I got tired of keeping the baby and I had a chance to go out west with a friend of mine and I left the baby in a gray machine in Detroit."

Mrs. Waits arrived here today and told her story to Policewoman Susan Glinski. A check of records showed "Mary Doe No. 156 abandoned in a gray car here the night of Nov. 6.

From the property room Mrs. Glinski brought a pile of infant garments. Mrs. Waits quickly picked out a sateen-edged jacket, a sweater and a dress edged in blue ribbon, as being Marylins. The records showed thew were the garments on Mary Doe No. 156.

The Childrens Aid society reported the child had been placed in a private home after futile search for the mother, but Mrs. Waits was assured she would be reunited with her daughter on Monday. She returned to her hotel room to wait.

Studied Cruelty Of Japs Is Recounted

Victim Breaks As Details Recalled

LOS ANGELES, Jan. 29. (AP)—A story of studied cruelty inflicted by Japanese upon American fighting men after the fall of Bataan was related here last night by a pale young Army Air forces captain who escaped after experiencing more than a year in the successive hells of Nipponese prison camps in the Philippines.

Capt. Skuel C. Grashio, 25, of Spokane, Wash., talked for three hours at an Army-sponsored press conference. The details were so harrowing that several women, including Mrs. William Dyess, widow of his commanding officer in the Philippines, were ushered from the room.

Traces Route On Map

The slender captain stood on a chair and traced on a map the route over which he said he and the others were beaten, starved and clubbed until they wound up in the Davao penal colony on Mindanao.

"There was a little A. A. F. boy lying out there," said the captain. Tears came to his eyes and he looked into space. A short recess was called and then he continued.

"He was lying naked out by a garbage pit. He was nothing but skin and bones. He was almost gone from chronic dysentery. The blow-flies were literally eating him alive.

"I asked if I could do anything and he . . . he showed he still had his American decency and pride, even if we were existing like the lowest animals by then. He said he wanted me to take him away somewhere so the other boys wouldn't see him dying like a rat."

The slender captain told of the "march of death," to which the War and Navy departments referred in releasing the story of Jap atrocities:

"Nineteen kilometers beyond our defense lines, as we plodded along without food or water under grueling sun and under almost constant beatings with fists and rifle butts, we came upon hundreds of bodies of Americans and Filipinos.

"They had been shot or bayo-

Lions Break From Parade Cage And Kill Two Mules

NUEVO LAREDO, Mexico, Jan. 29 (AP)—The Ferrandi circus filled its engagement here today—but without two of its prized lions.

It happened this way:

As the circus troopers paraded through Nuevo Laredo, children and oldsters lined the streets. Then, at a main intersection the two lions, vicious and hungry, broke out of their cage. They immediately pounced on two mules. They were eating the mules when circus attendants shot them.

Through all the excitement, the circus band, riding a wagon in front of the lion cage, keep playing on, though unable to keep the attention of the excited spectators.

Clapper Says Jap Fighting Equipment Is Not So Good

By RAYMOND CLAPPER
Special Correspondent

SOMEWHERE IN NEW GUINEA Jan. 29 (By Wireless) — After an unsuccessful attempt to reach the New Britain front aboard a P-T boat, owing to impassable weather, I had to knock around quite a bit before I finally got a chance to go through on an LST—one of those highly useful but slow tank-landing ships.

I had to fly to a certain port to catch the LST. The flight took just under an hour. It takes the LST, doubling back over the same route, just under 24 hours.

CLAPPER

Before leaving the PT base, I looked at the clothes and equipment of a Jap prisoner taken while I was there, the first prisoner taken by this P-T outfit in 13 months. His clothes were so soaked, you couldn't tell much about them. The P-T crew had taken some of his meager equipment as souvenirs—a small drinking cup of aluminum, a water bottle of a brass alloy, a jungle knife 18 inches long in a leather sheath.

The Japs' equipment is meager all round. Their air strips are so short and primitive that we can't use them effectively until they have been completely rebuilt. Our use of jeeps and other mechanized equipment in the jungle is far beyond the Japs. It leaves no question of the outcome provided we are willing to stay with it long enough.

The policy in this area thus far has been to land where the Jap isn't, whittle down his supply lines, starve him out, push him into the sea, always avoiding a costly frontal attack. That is the operating principle of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as well as Lt. Gen. Walter Krueger, his top field commander.

The Boys Keep Busy

Allied Hold Is Expanded Near Rome

37 Nazis Down In Vicious Air Blows

By EDWARD KENNEDY
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Algiers, Jan. 29—The Allies have expanded the beachhead south of Rome in drives which have placed British troops within 18 miles of the Eternal City and Americans within light artillery range of the vital point of Cisterna, 14 miles northeast of Anzio and 33 miles from Rome, Allied headquarters declared in a special announcement this afternoon.

It was probable that tonight the din of battle was sounding in the ears of the inhabitants of Nazi-held Rome.

Railway Bridge Taken

The British advance went three miles beyond Carroceto where a railway bridge 18 miles south of Rome was captured. 'Light artillery range" in connection with

TRUCE FOR CASUALTIES

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY, Jan. 27 (Delayed) (AP)—After a German request for a battle lull to evacuate casualties, both sides withheld fire while 75 Yankee medical officers and a smaller number of Germans removed dead and wounded from a bloody battleground along the Rapido river.

The unusual incident happened two days ago after one bridgehead force was pushed back across the stream in the fighting that tied up German troops who otherwise would have been free to attack the beaches south of Rome. Since then the Americans have forded the Rapido at other points and are now pressing the enemy strongly north of Cassino.

Cisterna, might mean anything from small mortars with a range of a few hundred yards to a 75 millimeter field gun, so it was not known here just what this position was. But it was considered certain the Germans were unable to use either the air field, the Appian Way or the railroad in the area.

Cisterna is on both the Appian Way and the main rail line to the Cassino front which intersect there. Cisterna has an important airfield, with concrete runways 1,100 yards long, hangars and workshops.

The air war over Italy reached a new peak of intensity in which Allied planes of all types flew 1,500 sorties and blasted 37 enemy planes out of the skies against a loss of five Allied aircraft. It brought the Allied two-day total to 87 Nazi planes destroyed.

Eight Miles Of Pope's Home

The British advance 12 miles north of Anzio placed Allied troops within eight miles of Castel Gondolfo, summer home of Pope Pius XII and brought up the possibility of the fighting damaging papal or church property.

Since the invasion of Italy all Allied troops have had standing orders not to use church property as military cover and to avoid damaging religious shrines wherever possible. However, the Germans have used church steeples as observation towers and fortified other property. It is impossible to swing the battle around such places and they must be taken as any other objective un-

Sugar Stamp No. 40 Becomes Valid Feb. 1

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP) — To take care of the needs of housewives who wish to can early fruit, stamp No. 40 in war ration book four will be valid for five pounds of sugar beginning Feb. 1, the Office of Price administration (OPA) announced today.

The stamp, good through Feb. 28, 1945, will be the only one issued this year buying sugar for home-canning, but additional amounts will be made available later on application to local boards. Last season, two five-pound stamps were validated for home-canning.

OPA said today's preliminary action was designed to provide sugar in the south for canning such early fruits as strawberries. The complete plan for alloting sugar for 1944 canning will be announced later.

Vows Of Vengeance Sweep West Coast

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 29. (AP) —Vows of vengeance and demands for retribution swept the war-conscious Pacific coast ttoday as the reaction of horror to the stories of Japanese atrocities mounted to new heights.

So acute was the feeling in many localities on the west coast, home of more than 100,000 persons of Japanese ancestry prior to Pearl Harbor, that Lt. Gen. Delos C. Emmons, commanding general of the western defense command cautioned against individual retaliation in this country.

"It would do us more harm than good," he said.

102 Germans Blasted From Sky; 44 U. S. Planes Lost

(By The Associated Press)

LONDON, Sunday, Jan. 30—More than 1,800 tons of bombs were hurled on Frankfurt, Germany, in daylight yesterday by more than 800 U. S. Flying Fortresses and Liberators—the greatest armada of heavy American bombers ever sent into action.

They and their fighter escort, totaling more than 1,500 planes, shot down 102 German righters, it was announced in a joint communique early today from U. S. headquarters and the British Air ministry.

Thirty-one U. S. bombers and 13 fighters failed to return.

The bomber airmen themselves shot down 60 enemy planes and the escort pilots 42.

Nazi Center Deluged

The big German manufacturing and transport center was deluged with high-explosives, incendiaries and propaganda leaflets.

The bomb tonnage was the greatest ever reported for an American raid.

The Americans flew an 800-mile round-trip by daylight to deliver their blows less than 12 hours after the RAF's night fleet, attacking in unusually great strength, handed Berlin its thirteenth heavy bombing, the second in two nights and according to Swedish reports one of the most damaging of the war.

The leaflets the Americans dropped on Frankfurt were copies of the Atlantic Charter printed in the German language. The attack reverberated through Frankfurt for hours afterward because the bombloads included delayed-action high explosives.

Three Crippling Blows

With the two attacks on Berlin and the one on Frankfurt, the Allies in a little more than 36 hours staggered the German homeland with three crippling main blows and in addition engaged in a number of secondary mine-laying and bombing operations wihch were exceptionally widespread, the entire effort involving probably well over 2,000 planes.

Tonight the German longwave transmitters, including the country's largest, Deutschlandsender, went off the air, suggesting new night raids on German territory and perhaps the third in a row on Berlin.

The RAF, flying "in very great strength,"—probably 800 planes—kept their bombing "well concentrated and large areas of fire were observed," the air ministry announced. Forty-seven of the big bombers were lost.

Swedish dispatches reported great fires raging in the German

Mangled Body Of Baby Found

The mangled body of an apparently prematurely-born negro baby was found by city and county officers Saturday afternoon beside a ditch in the canyon north of the city, police reported last night.

The discovery was made by Policeman W. M. Whorton, and Deputies Sheriff Cap Moore and Raymond Land, who investigated a report by an unidentified white youth who had found the small body after driving a dog away from the scene. Officers said the boy told them he was playing near the scene and noticed the dog tearing at some object. He drove the animal away with rocks, he said, and after discovering the body, fled in terror to give the alarm.

Probably Buried Friday

Investigation revealed, officers said, that the body had been buried in a shallow grave in a ditch where water drainage empties into the canyon. The dog apparently had dug up the body.

Officers said condition of the body indicated it had been buried probably some time Friday. Tracks of a man and woman were found near the scene.

Escaped Allied POW Aid Rome Sabotage

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 29 (AP) — Numerous escaped American and British prisoners of war are hiding in Rome and working with the Italian underground in a campaign of sabotage since Allied troops landed south of the Italian capital, it was reported today.

A Swedish businessman who left Rome days ago said the escaped prisoners hide during the day and at night help destroy communications and make the hours of darkness a nightmare for the Germans. Between 5,000 to 10,000 gestapo men are working with Italian informers trying to ferret out the Americans and British, he said.

Reds Fall Back In Ukraine Area

Heavy Losses Said Inflicted On Nazis

By JAMES M. LONG
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Sunday, Jan. 30 — The Red Army lost ground to a bitter German counter-attack in the south Ukraine in the fiercest fighting on the long Russian front yesterday, while other Soviet forces in the north advanced to within 22 miles of the Estonian border, cleared the great Moscow-Leningrad trunk railway, and captured the rail junction of Novosokolinki, 70 miles from the Latvian border, Moscow announced today.

The Nazis lost 2,800 men and 86 of their tanks in their Ukraine counter-offensive east of Vinnitsa, said the Moscow midnight communique, recorded by the Soviet Monitor, but "our troops by order of the command, withdrew from several populated places and took up positions more advantageous for defense."

Full German Weight

The Germans, who have been attacking steadily in this area since Jan. 12, were throwing all their weight against Soviet forces which not only menaced the approaches to the Rumanian frontier but threatened the main German supply artery into the Dneiper bend, the Odessa-Lwow railway.

At the same time Berlin announced it had abandoned the Ukrainian railway junction of Smela 150 miles east of Vinnitsa.

The major Russian successes scored in the north where the Russians reached the town of Zagoritsi, 22 miles east of the Estonian border, and moved westward to the Narva railway.

More than 2,000 Germans were killed in this fighting, and in an ambush the Russians wiped out a column of German artillery men, captured 60 of their heavy guns and 100 trucks loaded with ammunition.

The captured guns then were turned on German units stationed nearby, Moscow said.

Other Soviet forces pried the Germans from their last hold on the double-track Moscow-Lenin-

Nips Have Made Progress But Instincts Still Like Savage

By DEWITT MACKENZIE
Associated Press War Analyst

What explanation is there in this twentieth century for the horrible atrocities which have been perpetrated wholesale on helpless American, Filipino and British prisoners of war by the Japanese, as exposed by Washington and London?

The Japs are barbarians—literally barbarians. It's less than a century ago that our own Commodore Perry opened the mikado's domans to the outside world and civilization. Since then the Nipponese have made considerable progress, but their instincts remain the same as they were in the savage days of pre-historic times. While they have a veneer of civilization, their instincts are primordial.

"But," somebody challenges, "the Germans have been committing similar atrocities. Do you also claim that they're uncivilized?"

The reply is that Hitlerite Germany — the Nazi portion of the population — has deliberately reverted to barbarism under the fuehrer's lead.

Not All Germans Nazis

We must note that not all Germans are Nazis. There are many of the older generation who abhor Hitler and all his works, but are forced to do his bidding by the brutal gestapo. They execute people in Germany these days for even talking out of turn.

Hitler, whom Winston Churchill has described as "this evil man . . . this monstrous abortion of hatred and deceit," has turned back the clock in his country to methods which make the barbarities of Attila the Hun look like the golden rule. He had to do this in order to impose his "master race" on the world by force.

One of his earliest steps was to disavow Christianity and introduce paganism.

Glorified War And Killing

He stressed the glorification of of war and killing. He savaged the boys for the days of slaughter which he proposed to inaugurate as soon as he could. He encouraged the young girls of the reich to indiscriminate breeding of boys. The youth whom Hitler got hold of ten years ago, today are dead upon the steppes of Russia, or are in his armies. The younger ones are coming along, ready to serve their master.

You will note that Japan and Germany are the only nations which have been engaging in artocities against prisoners of war and civilians. True, Mussolini also golrified war and practiced aggression but he didn't introduce paganism into Italy, in order to brutalize his people.

War crimes will be punished, but there remains a far greater problem for the Allies. That is the inauguration of an educational program that will complete the civilization of the Japanese, and re-educate the Nazified Germans.

Former Lubbock Man Killed In Houston

W. L. Ragland, 44, formerly of Lubbock, was killed about 7:30 o'clock Friday night when he was struck down by an automobile while crossing a street in downtown Houston, his home.

Ragland, who resided here about 15 years ago and who since that time had made his home in Dallas and Houston, was a barber. He is a brother of Clyde, Lee and Oscar Ragland, all of Lubbock.

Funeral services are tentatively scheduled at Sanders Funeral home Monday morning, according to relatives here. The body is expected to arrive in Lubbock this afternoon.

Ragland is survived by his mother, Mrs. G. W. Ragland, Lubbock; and six brothers, Cecil Ragland of Mena, Ark., Ted Ragland of Dallas, Clarke Ragland of Toledo, Ohio, and the three brothers of Lubbock.

Soldier Says Ballot Is Wanted Overseas

TEMPLE, Jan. 29 (AP)—Sgt. Alfred Perry of Providence, R. I., just returned from New Zealand, was of the opinion today that a majority of soldiers overseas would vote "if they had an opportunity."

The plan to draft labor also was a 'good idea," said Sgt. Perry, who is one of several men sent to McCloskey General hospital here for injuries and other ailments not resulting from enemy action.

"Some of the fellows are asking about voting down in New Zealand," he said. "I think that a majority would vote if they had an opportunity."

Perry was sent to McCloskey with back injuries, which he received when a tree, pushed over by a bulldozer, fell on him.

Giant Warship Is Launched

NEW YORK, Jan. 29. (AP)—The U.S.S. Missouri, world's most formidable warship, was launched today with ceremonies dedicating her not only to the forging of victory but the enforcement of peace.

"The christening and launching of this greatest warship of all time," Senator Truman (D-Mo) said in a brief address, "illustrates the decisive answer which the democracies of the world are making to the challenge of the aggressor nations.

The senator said the 45,000-ton vessel will be commissioned nine months ahead of schedule. The Missouri, named for Truman's home state, has sister ships, but her armament will make her the toughest fighter afloat.

3,500 Ships In 1943

"It is such records as this," he said, "which enabled the Navy to commission 3,500 new vessels in 1943 — a total greater than all the ships possessed by the Navy at the beginning of that year. This not only replaces all our losses, but vastly increases the fighting strength of our Navy and makes it beyond question master of the seas."

Miss Mary Margaret Truman, daughter of the senator was chosen sponsor of the $100,000,000 dreadnaught, which is a sister ship of the Iowa, the New Jersey, and the Wisconsin, and has 418,000 square feet of deck space — equal to a 15-story office building 150 feet square.

Started In 1941

Ten thousand workmen have put in 3,300,000 man-days of work on the giant "battle wagon" since her keel was laid Jan. 6, 1941, and before that engineers and draftsmen worked 530,000 man-days and used 175 tons of blueprint paper drawing up the plans.

When fully equipped and loaded, she will displace enough water to flood 46 acres of land. And tucked away in some corner of her complicated insides is an electrical plant powerful enough to supply the civilian and industrial needs of a city the size of Santa Fe, N. M., (1940 pop., 20,325).

NEW TEMBLORS

BUENOS AIRES, Jan. 29 (AP)—The city of San Juan which was virtually destroyed by an earthquake Jan. 15 experienced four new tremblors late yesterday but no additional damage was reported.

Brief Bits Of Local News

There is to be a called meeting of the Lubbock Youth council Monday night at 7:30 o'clock in the district court room. All representatives and those interested in youth are asked to come to the meeting.

Capt. Lloyd W. Rosser, brother of Mrs. Joe L. Reed, 2717 Twenty-ninth street, arrived in San Francisco Friday after duty in the Southwest Pacific for 18 months. Capt. Rosser will visit Mrs. Reed and his aunt, Mrs. W. J. Harris, 2809 Thirtieth street, while on leave.

Lt. Douglas Lemmel of Seattle, Wash, and husband of a former Lubbock girl, Miss Josephine McLarty, was killed in a mid-air collision at Key field, Meridian, Miss., Jan. 26. Lt. Lemmel was to have gone to foreign service Saturday. The funeral will be in Seattle. Mrs. Lemmel's brother, Marvin McLarty, and sisters, Mrs. Donald Robertson and Mrs. Don Lewis live in Lubbock; she will return here to live.

Lt. Earl Walker, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. W. Walker, has reported on the West coast for duty as a navigator on a transport plane. He and his wife are making their home in Alameda, Calif.

West Texas and eastern New Mexico men in the armed services figured Saturday morning in announcements of the Navy and War departments. The War department said Cpl. Lee R. Dean, brother of H. H. Dean of Star route 4, Lamesa, and Pfc. Joe R. Parker, son of Mrs. Ethel L. Smith of near Muleshoe, had been wounded in the southwest Pacific. The Navy department said James Edward Teas, seaman 2nd, USNR, son of Mrs. Minnie Ann Teas of Lovington, N. M., and Dalton Maurice Teague, seaman 2nd, USNR, son of Mrs. Hazel Teague of Shallowater, were missing, and that Platoon Sgt. Bruce Redman, USMC, brother of Mrs. Marjory Cox of Colorado City, had been wounded.

In lieu of $1,000 bail each binding them over to Feb. 14 action of a 72nd district grand jury, Odie McAfee, 17, of Sulphur Springs, R. J. Sessums, 17, of Dimmitt and Tahoka and W. E. Owens, 23, of Tahoka remained in county jail late Saturday. They are charged with theft over $50, specifically threshed grain from E. C. Hughes, farmer of near Acuff.

Official From London To Speak In Lamesa

LAMESA, Jan. 29. (Special) — The Lamesa Rotary club announces that David Cushman Coyle who has just returned from London where he has been directly associated with the OWI as a consultant, will deliver the next in a series of lectures Tuesday night at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium. His subject will be "The British Commonwealth of Nations as Contributors."

A crowd of over 300 was present for the first lecture of the series last Tuesday night in the high school auditorium. Dr. No-Yong Park, Kirksville, Mo., born and reared in China, spoke on the "Oriental Nations as contributors.

Tickets to each lecture and season tickets for the entire series are on sale at McCall drug store, Collins, First National bank and Bryant's pharmacy, or may be obtained from any member of the Rotary club here.

SOVIET BUDGET HIGHER

LONDON, Jan. 29 (AP)—Adoption of a 1944 national budget of 245,600,000,000 rubles—17 per cent over 1943—was announced by the Moscow radio as the tenth session of the Russian Supreme Soviet (parliament) opened yesterday in the Kremlin.

Giant Turnip Is Grown On M. A. Jarvis Farm

For the benefit of those who doubt that dry land farming is profitable, W. C. McCelvey, Lubbock real estate man, has in his office in the Donley building a huge turnip, weight of which is eight and one-half pounds, grown on the farm of M. A. Jarvis four and one-half miles southeast of Lubbock on the Tahoka highway.

McCelvey said this is believed to be the largest turnip ever grown in this section of the state, and possibly the whole state.

The Jarvis farm is not irrigated, he said, and the soil is sandy and about 18 or 20 inches lower than the average. McCelvey stated that Jarvis has so many of these turnips he has been feeding them to the stock on the farm.

ENROLLMENT NEAR 2,000

LAMESA, Jan. 29 (Special) — Enrollment in Lamesa schools has almost reached the 2,000 mark, it was announced by V. Z. Rogers, superintendent. The elementary schools report a total enrollment of 1,352 pupils. Students enrolled in the high school number 515, while 108 students are attending Lamesa's colored school. The total enrollment of all the schools is 1,975.

Bataan Hero's Home Town Bitter At Delay On Story

By HAMILTON WRIGHT
Abilene Reporter News Staff
Written For The Associated Press

ALBANY, Tex., Jan. 29.—Richard T. Dyess, father of Lt. Col. William Edward Dyess, for a year a prisoner of the Japanese and who was killed in the fall of his fighter plane Dec. 22, 1943, near Burbank, Calif., declared today:

"I'd rather my son would be where he is than in a Jap prison camp. If this news release on Japanese cruelty and atrocity fails to help sell war bonds, God save this country."

Regrets Late Release

He said he had learned about the atrocities through friends.

"I regret the story was not released earlier by the Army and Navy, as the Japs already knew the story; they know every step they took. And even chased our boys on the water. My son was forbidden to tell me any of this and not a word of it did he relate to me or his mother or any one else here at Albany. He died a soldier.

"The Army and Navy intelligence evidently attempted to appease the Japs by withholding this story for fear that they might attempt reprisals.

"My son was familiar with the psychology of the Japs and stated to me that it would not affect any of the boys that were on Bataan, that parents would know sooner or later of this terrible tragedy and that the American people should know the facts; that every boy that was on Bataan would be happy to have the story told. The information I have is that the boys on Corregidor were shown much better treatment than the boys on Bataan. I hope some of those boys will live to tell their stories."

Was With Natives

Judge Dyess said his escaped son, after a year in a Jap prison camp on Mindanao, fought with the natives.

"The only consolation that my wife and I received Thursday night was when MacArthur's aide was quoted as saying that when he and other officers were living in Bataan they knew my boy as Captain Dyess.

"When other officers were leaving he asked my son, 'are you not going with the other officer?' My son replied, 'I'll never leave Bataan as long as there is a flyer on it.'"

A long moro knife Col. Dyess used is on exhibition here in the USO front window. A native chieftain gave it to him to cut his way through the dense jungles and dispose of the Jap quietly, Dyess said.

Can't File Stains Off

Some stains on the knife cannot be filed off, he said.

John McGaughey, publisher of the Albany News, said, "at the Lions club today quiet a few criticized the late release of such important and far reaching matter."

Miss Ollie Clarke, manager of the Chamber of Commerce, said many fellow townsmen with whom she talked censured federal authorities for withholding so long the story of brutality and murder.

Opinions Still Vary On Story's Release

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Pres Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—Hope that relentless publicity may force Japan's warlords to cease the tortured and 2murder of helpless American prisoners was tempered in high quarters of the government today by grave concern that it might have an opposite effect.

These two reactions, inquiry revealed, stem from a fundamental disagreement involving chiefly the armed services and Office of War information (OWI) over the wisdom of making public the Philippine atrocity story, jointly issued by the War and Navy departments yesterday after being held secret for many months.

Stirs American People

But whatever the reasons behind the disclosure, so far as its effect on the Japanese may be concerned, officials agreed that no single announcement had so infuriated the American people or produced such bitter determination for vengeance since word flashed over the wires two years ago that Pearl Harbor had been attacked.

Whether the announcement signaled a new policy with respect to atrocity stories remained uncertain in the absence of any official commitment on that point. It was considered certain, however, that other heart-sickening incidents were still to be told in the suffering and death of those for whom no spokesmen have yet escaped to this country.

Policy Complicated

The question of fundamental government policy was further complicated by the apparent lack of a full, on-the-record explanation of why it was finally decided to put out the report of the Philippine tragedy. So far as could be learned, however, this apparently was the situation:

After the three officers who made the report had escaped from the Philippines in the fall of 1942, returned to Washington and recorded their experiences, there began a long debate inside the government over whether the information should be made public.

Officials of the OWI, whose job is is to inform the American people of the kind of enemies they face, argued in favor of release on the ground that the people had a right to know the full facts.

Opposed By Services

Opposition to this position came largely from the armed services. Many high officials felt that disclosure might bring further torture and suffering for the prisoners who survived in Japanese hands and also might interfere with diplomatic efforts to improve their condition.

That events finally forced the conflicting views to some degree of reconciliation was indicated yesterday by Stephen Early, presidential secretary, who said it had been decided that further secrecy was pointless. There was no hope of the Japanese allowing further relief supplies to reach the prisoners, he said.

To this the OWI added that there was hope that publication of the atrocities might bring some improvement in the Japanese attitude toward war prisoners.

Lynn County Agent Resigns His Position

TAHOKA, Jan. 29 (Special) — Judge C. Smith has announced his resignation as Lynn county agent, effective some time next month. He plans to join his father and brother in farming a large tract of land near Slaton, his former home. He has held the post a little more than a year.

K. J. Edwards, district agent, and the Lynn county commissioners court are seeking a successor.

Smith, who served about two months as AAA administrator for Lynn county, became county agent Jan. 1, 1943. He has had particular success with 4-H club projects, having organized a number of new boys' clubs in the county.

L. C. Heath Chosen As Terry County Attorney

BROWNFIELD, Jan. 29 (Special) —The Terry county commissioners court has announced the appointment of L. C. Heath, local attorney, to finish out the term of Virgil Crawford as county attorney, who is due to enter military service next month.

Crawford, a graduate of Baylor university school of law, was serving his second term as county attorney. Before being elected to the county office he was city attorney.

Heath has practiced law here for a number of years. While living at Tahoka he was county attorney of Lynn county.

Truck Burns After Crash, Driver Dies

GLADEWATER, Tex., Jan. 29. (AP)—Travis Tew, truck driver, of Carthage, was fatally burned after a truck collision near Longview last night.

Tew was driving a truckload of hogs, destroyed in the blaze.

Officers said another truck loaded with produce was involved in the crash.

Noted Editor Is Taken By Death

EMPORIA, Kas., Jan. 29 (AP) — William Allen White, who grew into a journalistic giant in his home town, died today. He would haye been 76 years old February 10.

The world-famous editor of the Emporia Gazette had been in declining health for more than a year. He underwent an operation at Rochester, Minn., last October, but failed to improve.

At his bedside were his almost equally famous wife, Sally Lindsay White, and his son William L. White, himself a writer of note.

Up Through Ranks

White died on the 83rd birthday of his native state while Republican notables were gathering at Topeka, the capital, for the annual political love-feast at which he frequently was a central figure, although not always a party regular.

He entered the newspaper field through the back shop, learning the printing trade in his 'teens. He attended the University of Kansas from 1886 to 1890, but did not graduate.

After working on the Kansas City Star for three years as an editorial writer, White returned to Emporia in 1895 and bought the Gazette with a borrowed $3,000. Success came early. A year later he began a career as a magazine story writer and author which erased his debt and put his paper on a paying basis.

Famous Editorial

A political editorial, "What's the Matter with Kansas?" threw him into national prominence in 1896. A lampoon on the populist movement which arose in Kansas, it was used widely in the Republican national campaign of that year.

He never held an elective office.

He bolted the Republican party in 1912 and resigned as Kansas national committeeman to follow Theodore Roosevelt in the Bull Moose movement. "Roosevelt bit me and I went mad," he explained later."

Presidents and tenant farmers equally were his friends. The door of his private office always was open.

He wrote more than a dozen books, including biographies of Calvin Coolidge and Woodrow Wilson, and several novels.

He and his wife lived simply, but well, in the same big house for more than 40 years.

Most Tragic Moment

The couple's most tragic moment was in 1921 when their 16-year-old daughter was brushed from her horse by a tree limb and fatally injured. Several days later White wrote a poignant editorial, 'Mary White," now regarded as a classic.

William L. White, novelist and war correspondent, is their only surviving child. He and Mrs White have an adopted daughter, Margaret, a war orphan he brought to America on his lap on a crowded plane and about whom he wrote a book.

CHILDREN ESCAPE

PHOENIX, Ariz., Jan. 29. (AP)—Six hundred children at play in a Phoenix schoolyard miraculously escaped serious injury Friday when a medium bomber faltered in an approach to a nearby landing field, clipped off a power line and crashed into the yard killing two of the plane's three occupants.

Lubbock Corporal, Veteran Of North African, Sicilian, Italian Campaigns, Tells Of Fighting

Kasserine pass was hot that day. Cpl. Boyd O. Roberts, who is home for a isit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Roberts of 402 Avenue C in Lubbock, up front near where the Nazis had sent the the Americans backpedaling the day before, was creased in the neck and shot through a finger and his platoon sergeant, Marvin C. Rector of Portersville, Calif., was shot through the leg at the same instant.

The .50-caliber machinegun was shot out from under them. The men, engineers of the Second corps, had burned out several barrels of their gun already.

They kept on fighting.

Their earlier baptism of fire was manifesting itself.

Green American troops, not so green now, were manifesting themselves. Everybody knows what happened to Rommel thereafter.

Attached To Seventh Army

Cpl. Roberts' corps was attached to the Seventh army in North Africa and Sicily, then to the Fifth army in Italy. It received a commendation from General Patton for its behavior at Kasserine pass, when after the battle it worked three days and nights on roads that let the tanks and heavy mobile guns go rolling after the Germans.

This fellow Patton cuts quite a figure with the Second corps.

"He rode up in a jeep and found us at work with only C rations to eat. He gave a quick order. Men of the engineers can't fight and work on C rations, he said. We were issued U rations—one and a half per man. Boy, that saved us!"

All the way, the engineers repaired or built roads, bridges or docks, taking time out only to fight.

Cpl. Roberts volunteered June 8, 1940 and trained at Fort Ord, Calif., went to maneuvers in Washington and, after Pearl Harbor—showing how seriously this country took the implications of our Pacific fleet losses—helped build barbed wire entanglements on Los Angeles beach and other sea-washed areas on the Pacific coast.

At Jolon, Calif., there was anti-tank practice.

The corps was shipped. To Ireland, then England, then Scotland. Then there was the North African invasion, and the Second corps landed at Arzew, near Oran. The shells of burned out vessels that had opposed the landing were all around. The corps constructed a hospital, then a railroad spur to an ammunition dump. Then came move after move, to patch roads. Then Kasserine pass. Then a six-mile bypass near Mateur.

Joined Eighth Army

Juncture was made with the British Eighth army, and repairs to the Bizerte docks and rehabilitation at Tunis had to be done. Then a landing at Gela beach on icily, the march to Licata and across the island to Randazzo on the powerful flank of volcanic Mt. Etna.

Then Allied troops landed on Italy.

They would march into an Italian village, and there would be the inevitable stench of corpses of humans and animals. The engineers would bury the humans, burn the mules and horses.

Cpl. Roberts' ribbons are the Purple Heart, good conduct, Pre-Pearl Harbor, American theater and European theater (four stars).

He will report Feb. 16 at Denver for reassignment.

City Wins Trophy For Improvements In Water Supply

Lubbock completed a greater number of improvements to its water supply in 1943 than any other city in Texas, and a trophy cup signalizing that achievement will be presented to the city, it was announced Saturday.

The information was contained in a letter from Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer of Austin, to City Manager Marlin R. Smith, jr., of Lubbock.

The award will be made the night of Feb. 1 at a dinner program of the 26th Waterworks and Sewerage Short school at Texas A. & M. college, Dr. Cox announced.

Congratulations to the city were expressed.

Smith said the award probably resulted, in the main, from chlorination of the Lubbock water supply, approximately $18,000 in equipment having been installed at the five city pumping stations. The city also added water mains as a part of limited expansion induced by wartime conditions. Chlorination of water is in effect, sterilization, insuring purity of water for public consumption.

The award, it was suggested here, probably was based on a ratio of water supply improvements to the size of the population.

Schneider Rites Set Monday At Wilson

Rites will be read in Wilson Baptist church at 3 o'clock Monday afternoon for Frank Schneider, sr., 62, of Wilson, who died about noon Saturday in St. Mary's hospital where he had been a few days. Burial will be in Wilson cemetery under direction of Rix Funeral home.

Schneider came to this vicinity about 20 years ago from Milam county. Survivors include his wife, two brothers, Robert Schneider, Thorndale, and Joe Schneider of Temple; a sister, Mrs. Zoffie Luska of Temple; five sons, Frank Schneider, jr., Willie Schneider, Herman Schneider, Adolph Schneider and Edward Schneider, all of Wilson; five daughters, Mrs. Willie Neiman of Wilson, Mrs. Charlie Schneider of Wilson, Mrs. Jerome Zatopek, Houston, and Misses Mary and Frances Schneider of Wilson, and 17 grandchildren.

Play Periods At Schools Planned

To improve the individual and community life and to provide a worthwhile recreation, the Lubbock public schools are organizing a new service for the children, it was announced Saturday by E. J. Lowrey, director of athletics of the schools. A period of supervised play, to be held each school day from 4 to 5:45 p. m., will be inaugurated soon at each of the elementary schools in Lubbock, he said.

During favorable weather this supervised play will be held outdoors, but, Lowrey pointed out, when the weather is unfavorable it will be carried on in the school buildings.

Forms Sent To Parents

Forms are being sent out to parents of all Lubbock children, to be filled out by those who are interested in having their children take part in the program. Parents are urged to have their children attend these play periods every day, especially where both parents are working, Lowrey said.

There will be inter-school competition in seasonable sports for boys and girls who participate in these activities, he said, culminating in a "play day" at Chapman field sometimes during the month of May.

Five Schools Making Plans

Five schools in the Lubbock system have already started making plans for their supervised play periods and have chosen supervisors. These are:

George R. Bean school: Mrs. Edwin Read, a graduate of North Texas State Teachers college. She majored in physical education and playground work.

K. Carter school: Miss Evalyn Pickens, graduate of Texas Technological college with minor in physical education.

Dupre school: Mrs. Mary A. Power, who has had a number of courses in playground supervision at Texas university.

George M. Hunt school: Mrs. Julia Cane, graduate of Battle Creek, Mich. She majored in physical education and has had extensive experience in this field in the schools of Detroit, Mich., and as director of the YWCA in Kalamazoo.

Wilson school: Mrs. Leona M. Thomas, graduate of Texas Technological college with minor in physical education.

Spur Bond Rally Is Set For February 12

SPUR, Jan. 29. (Special)—The Spur Independent school district committee for the Fourth War Loan drive, composed of Jack Christian, Raul English, W. A. Harris, James B. Reed and J. L. Karr, have announced the huge Dickens-Kent county war bond rally to be held in Spur on Saturday, Feb. 12. Special attractions for the ocasion are being planned and business houses here will be closed for a part of the day.

Col. E. A. Simpson of Amarillo, principal speaker for the rally, will be present, according to word received by O. B. Ratliff, county chairman, from the regional office in Plainview. Foster Cook, superintendent of schools and general manager of the drive here, said the school children of Spur will take a part in the program. Bidding is expected to be high on a Nazi helmet, taken by a Texas boy at the battle of Salerno, which will be auctioned at the rally.

Gordon's Transfer Here Is Approved

Jason O. Gordon apparently is the new county farm agent for Lubbock county.

A telegram from K. J. Edwards, district agent, to County Judge G. V. Pardue is authority for the statement.

It read:

"I am transferring Gordon to Lubbock county, effective March 1. Make any announcement about this that you think appropriate."

Lubbock county commissioners court, presided over by Judge Pardue, Friday afternoon had offered Gordon $2,200 a year in county funds, $400 more than had been paid C. C. Jobson, resigned, to accept the vacant post here. The state would pay the remainder of his salary.

Gordon informed the court Friday he would communicate with Edwards, who has the exclusive right to name the agent. He is county farm agent of Floyd county, formerly was assistant county agent here, and is a graduate of Texas Technological college.

Exhaustive Brief Prepared On Application For Airlines

WHEN members of the Civil Aeronautics board open hearings Tuesday in Washington on applications of American Airlines and Continental Airlines for authority to operate airline service through Lubbock, they will learn a number of things about Lubbock and the South Plains, they probably didn't know before.

Primary facts to be presented to the board in a brief prepared by the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce will be the economic importance of Lubbock and the area and how the present airline applications will serve the area.

Davis Represents City

Testimony in conjunction with the brief will be presented orally to the CAB members by A. B. Davis, manager of the chamber of commerce, who left Saturday afternoon for Washington as official representative of the chamber and the City of Lubbock.

American Airlines is seeking permission to operate between Memphis, Tenn., and El Paso, via Oklahoma City, Lubbock and intermediate points, thus completing trans-continental service over a shorter and faster schedule route.

Continental Airlines proposes to operate from Tulsa, Okla., to Hobbs, N. M., via Oklahoma City, Chickasha and Lawton, Okla., and Wichita Falls and Lubbock.

Largest City Without Airline

Among the highlights of Davis' testimony and brief before the board will be the claim that Lubbock is the largest city of its size and population in the nation not served by any sort of airline.

The exhaustive brief prepared by the chamber of commerce staff also reveals that:

Lubbock has an estimated 44,839 people, based on registration of No. 4 ration books, and that 90.7 per cent of the population is native white.

Postal receipts in 1943 totaled $373,251 and bank deposits on Dec. 31 were $40,182,034.15, a per capita $896.14.

Retail Distribution $75,615,000

Lubbock hotels had a total of 140,510 registrants during 1943 and check of the hotel records showed that 1,330 registrants in four typical months of the year were from American Airlines cities and 1,003 from Continental Airlines cities in the same period.

Retail distribution of 15 South Plains counties in 1942 totaled $75,615,000 with Lubbock county heading the list with $28,318,000. Retail distribution of 17 North Plains counties, with Amarillo as the hub, totaled $78,844,000.

Lubbock ranks third in the nation as an inland cotton market, Memphis, Tenn., and Dallas being ahead of the South Plains metropolis. Value of the 1943 cotton crop is estimated at $44,340,900.

3,668 Producing Wells

There is a total of 3,668 producing wells in nine counties of the South Plains with daily allowable production of only 192,906 barrels compared to daily potential of 3,304,464 barrels. October, 1943, production totaled 3,941,826 barrels, only about 600,000 barrels above the daily potential of the field.

Of 2,260 cars of cattle marketed at Lubbock during 1943, 250 cars went to the West coast, 400 to St. Louis, 30 to New York and Boston, 450 to New Orleans and Texarkana, 730 to Fort Worth and 400 cars to miscellaneous points in Texas.

A total of 7,841 cars of hogs valued at $17,761,305 were marketed at Lubbock during the year; 2,290 cars of the total going to Los Angeles, 97 to San Francisco, 161 to Oklahoma City, 160 to Kansas City, 191 to St. Joseph, Mo., 80 to Denver and 4,862 to Fort Worth.

Butter Shipping Center

Lubbock shipped more butter than any city in Texas, a total of 8,149,631 pounds. New York and Boston got 3,412,361 pounds, California 1,378,925 pounds, Chicago 1,169,861 pounds and Texas and New Mexico points 1,988,484 pounds.

A total of 4,633,042 pounds of eggs was shipped from Lubbock and 3,699,751 pounds of poultry in about the same distribution as butter shipments.

Shipments of cottonseed products from Lubbock were as follows: 16 cars of Motes (undeveloped cottonseed not separated in ginning); 272 cars of cottonseed oil, 132 cars of linters and 222 cars of hulls. Of these shipments, 378 cars went to cities on airline routes.

Companies Operating Here

In the oil industry survey, it was revealed that a total of 93 oil companies have headquarters offices in this area. Of this figure, 45 of the companies are located on American Airlines routes and 23 on Continental Airlines routes.

Total number of branches, offices, plants and subsidiary companies located in Lubbock is 155, sixty of which have parent companies in American Airlines cities and 10 on Continental Airlines. A total of 152 companies hold warehouse space in bonded warehouses in Lubbock. Forty-three of these companies are located in American Airlines cites and three in Continntal Airlines cities.

Lubbock is headquarters for a total of 273 representatives of large companies, 138 of which are located in American Airlines cities (excluding all Texas except Wichita Falls and El Paso) and ten are located in Continental Airlines cities.

Braniff Conferences Set

The exhaustive brief, containing 29 separate divisions, is handsomely bound in heavy manila paper. A shipment of extra copies for CAB members and airlines representatives preceeded Davis to Washington.

He is to remain in Washington next week for a pre-hearing conference set for Feb. 8 on the application of Braniff Airways, Inc., for permission to make Lubbock an intermediate stop between Amarillo and Wichita Falls on its Dallas-Denver line. Braniff officials have advised that they are prepared to begin this service within a few days after approval is given.

The usual purpose of pre-hearing conferences, it was explained, is to dispose of many matters so as to shorten the time required at a final hearing on the application. If the usual procedure is followed the Feb. 8 hearing will be followed shortly by the setting of date for a final hearing.

Axis Subversive Activities Cited

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP) — "The Axis invasion of the United States" began ten years before Pearl Harbor, the Dies committee said today in a report recommending legislation that "will once and for all stop this foreign penetration of our country by those governments and groups which seek to destroy it."

The report, by the House group charged with investigation of un-American activities, dealt almost exclusively with Japanese activities and commended that "the complete story of a Japanese treachery and objectives may never be known, since the Japanese operate with cunning and trickery and also since the Japanese language is almost impossible of comprehensive interpretation and translation by a non-Japanese."

Used Many Guises

Long before the sneak attack on Pearl Harbor on December 7, 1941, the committee said, the invasion by the enemy began "in the guise of culture organizations, youth movements, bunds, singing societies, kens, tourist bureaus, forums, associations, news bureaus, treaty merchants, etc."

These, the committee found, "were established here as outlets for pro-Nazi and pro-Japanese propaganda, as fronts for espionage bureaus, and as a nucleus around which could be regimented those that would serve the fuehrer or the emperor.

"We know now that this invasion did take place. The extent of its effectiveness is difficult to determine; however, we do know that thousands in the United States were willing to meet and march in uniform under the Swastika of Nazi Germany. We also know that thousands of American citizens of Japanese ancestry boldly told this government that they were loyal to Japan and would not defend the United States."

Through their consular officers in this country and their fifth-column groups, the committee said the Japanese kept in close contact with the operations of the United States fleet and with defense preparations on the west coast belonged to some Japanese association, the committee continued, and penalties of "social and economic boycott and ostracism" were imposed on those who baled at the pro-Jap moement.

Final Approval Is Given Texas Plant

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP) — Rep. Patton (D-Tex) announced last night that the Defense Plant corporation had given final approval to plans for erection of a $3,500,000 ironore blast furnace works at Rusk, Texas.

The War Production board previously had granted priorities for the project, but construction had been delayed by financial transactions between E. F. McCrossin Engineering Co. of Birmingham, Ala., and New York, which is to build and operate the project, and the DPC.

The plans call for removal of two existing blast furnaces, one in Pembroke, Fla., and the other in Wells, Mich., to be reassambled in Rusk. Little new material will be needed, Patton said.

McCord Says He May Run For Congressman

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 29 (Special) —Rollin McCord, 40-year-old district attorney of the 106th Judicial district, was in Plainview this week and said that he may make the race for Congressman from the 19th Congressional district, the office now held by Representative George Mahon.

McCord is serving his second term as district attorney of the 106th Judicial district. He was formerly county attorney of Lynn county.

McCord, lives in Tahoka with his wife and two children. He has lived there since 1916.

Ten Administrative Officers At LAAF "Real Veterans"

Ten of the administrative officers at the Lubbock Army Air field have been at their present jobs less than two years, yet between them, they have a total of 175 years of Army service. And they all earned their commissions 'the hard way,' coming up from the enlisted ranks.

Caputain Wilber R. Rhodes, of Patterson, N. J., LAAF photo officer, is the "veteran" with 26 years of continuous Army service. He served one year at the front with the Infantry in World War 1, and has 8,000 hours of aerial photography to his credit. He enlisted in the Army in 1918 and received his commission in June, 1942.

Major Elmer J. Voltz, of Pittsburgh, Pa., post quartermaster officer, is second with 23 years of service, but is first in point of Army service as an officer. He enlisted in 1917 and saw action with the Infantry in five major engagements of World War 1. In 1923 he was commissioned in the reserve Cavalry and in 1925 was transferred to the National Guard, serving as an officer in the same company that he served with in France as a private. He remained there till his assignment to LAAF in January, 1942.

Started In Cavalry

First Lt. Leon W. Grilley, of San Antonio, engineering officer in charge of hanger No. 2, with 21 years in the Army, started in 1923 as a machinegunner in the Cavalry, and switched to the Air Corps in 1928. He received his commission at LAAF in July, 1942.

Second Lt. George R. Martin, of Charles City, Ia., LAAF assistant materiel officer, has 18 years of Army life behind him, and all in the Air Corps. Aside from 7 months of service in the Philippines, just prior to 'Pearl Harbor,' he has been stationed at various fields in Texas, including SPAAF, and received his commission at Foster field in April, 1943. LAAF is not new to him as he served here last year as a M/Sgt. and line chief of the old 502nd School Sqdn.

16 Years In Air Corps

A Texas man is next in point of service, witht 16 years in the Air Corps. He is Captain Walter P. Schattel, of Hermleigh, LAAF director of aircraft maintenance, who holds the record of flying the first airplane in Scurry county in 1928. He enlisted that same year and he too, has spent most of his Army life at Texas Air fields, with three years at Luke field, Hawaii, from 1932 to 1935.

First Lt. John E. Greiner, Altoona, Pa., assistant post adjutant, is next with 15 years in the Air Corps, and all of it has been in administrative work. He enlisted in 1929 at Fort Bliss and after seeing service at several other fields in Texas arrived at LAAF in August, 1941, where he soon rose to the rank of Sergeant Major. He was commissioned here June, 1942.

The last four of the ten administrative officers who 'rose from the ranks' all have 14 years in the service of their country. Second Lt. Lawrence A. Hines, of Kenosha, Wis., assistant adjutant of the 84th Air Base Sqdn., has had the most colorful and varied military career of anyone at LAAF, although his 14 years have not been consecutive. He enlisted in 1913, and served on the Mexican border until 1917 under Gen. John J. Pershing, who was then a captain. He was in the famous chase after Pancho Villa. During World War 1 he was at the front and has several campaign ribbons for action in major engagements. After the war he was sent to Hawaii, and in 1921, accepted an honorable discharge to return to civilian life. However, there was too much 'Army' in soldier Hines, and in 1938 he entered the Air Corps and came to LAAF in January, 1942, where he soon won his commission, in July of the same year.

Capt. Odis C. Tyler, of Jena, La., engineer officer of the 495th TEFTS, has been an Army Corps man all of his fourteen years in the Army, starting at Dodd Field in 1928 and coming to LAAF in January, 1942, from Brooks Field. He was a M/Sgt. and line chief when he received his commission, in July of the same year.

First Lt. Duncan P. Troutman, of Carthage, Mo., LAAF police and prisoner officer, has spread his 14 years over the last 26 years. He enlisted at the outbreak of the World War and spent a year at Kelly Field, returning to civilian life after the armistice. He returned to the Army in 1927 and spent eight years in the Quartermaster Corps, returning again to private life in 1935. However, by now the Army was in his blood and Lt. Troutman donned khaki again in 1940 and soon earned his way to 1st sergeant of the San Antonio Military Police. He came to LAAF in March, 1942, and was appointed first lieutenant in June of that year.

Another Texan completes the list, 1st Lt. John C. Burke, of San Antonio, post materiel officer. He is comparatively new to the Air Corps, starting his Army career in 1930 and serving six years each in the Coast Artillery and Signal Corps. He transferred to the Air Corps in 1942 and came to LAAF in August of the same year, receiving his commission here one month later.

War Veteran Assumes Game Warden Duties

LAMESA, Jan. 29. (Special) — F. M. Stovall, a native West Texan who has served as a fighting man with the RAF and the Army Air corps for the past four years, has moved to Lamesa and assumed his new duties as game warden in Dawson and ten other counties in this area.

He and his wife live at 1015 South Second. He is the son of Rev. C. B. Stovall, pastor of the Baptist church at Sterling City.

A native of Knox county, Stovall served in combat duty with the 119th Bombing squadron of the RAF. He succeeds F. O. Lytton in this district.

Renfro Funeral Set At Meadow Today

Funeral services will be conducted in the Church of Christ at Meadow at 3 o'clock this afternoon for Mrs. J. W. Renfro, 63, who died at her home near Meadow about noon Saturday. She had been ill several months.

Rev. Guy N. Wood of Lubbock will officiate.

Mrs. Renfro, a resident of the Meadow vicinity 17 years, is survived by her husband, a sister, Mrs. Willie Wilson of Clarksville; and a half-brother, Charles M. Ward of Nevada.

Burial will be in Meadow cemetery by Rix Funeral home.

T. O. Petty To Head Schools At Anton

ANTON, Jan. 29 (Special)—According to information supplied by David Tullis, retiring superintendent of Anton schools, T. O. Petty, county school superintendent, has accepted a position as superintendent of schools here.

Tullis has been expecting to be called into the armed service for the past several months and has decided to volunteer for induction.

Mrs. Tullis has been named principal of the high school to replace R. F. Hollingsworth, who has been called for induction.

FEED ROLLING IN

AMHERST, Jan. 29 (Special)—Trucks loaded with bundle feed from north, south, east and west are rolling into the Amherst elevators. The feed is being stacked along the Santa Fe tracks adjacent to the elevators. This has been a big grain year in Lamb county, and the great stack of unthreshed grain here stands in mute proof.

U-Boat Captain Asks About His Former Home, New York City

NEW ORLEANS, Jan. 29. (AP)—A young German submarine captain who said he once lived in New York apparently was lonesome for the big city when he questioned members of the crew of an American ship his U-boat torpedoed and sank.

Luther Alexander, radioman third class from Texas, told about it yesterday at the New Orleans naval armed guard center.

When he and his mates took to lifeboats, Alexander related, the sub surfaced and came alongside, and the skipper gave them directions in good English.

"I think the guy was lonesome. He wanted to know what we had for Sunday dinner and asked us if we had enough food, water and medical supplies," Alexander said. "He told us not to strike and matches because there was bunker oil on the water, then told us to row to the liferafts that were floating around and turn off the lights on them so planes wouldn't spot them."

The American survivors were soon rescued by a Brazilian destroyer and treated "like kings," he recalled.

The U-boat commander said he had lived in New York until 1936, according to Alexander. "He wanted to know how the war was going, how we got along with British sailors and how things were in New York."

Petersburg Lions To Aid In Bond Drive

PETERSBURG, Jan. 29. (Special) — At a recent meeting of the Lions club of Petersburg, it was decided that the club would again aid in the Fourth War Loan drive. Two team captains were appointed and the membership in turn was divided into two groups of equal number for a contest to determine which team can sell the most bonds. T. A. Cocke was named captain of one team and Charles Schuler the other.

These two teams will make an effort to contact everyone in this community and urge them to buy bonds.

Lockney Bond Sales Said Disappointing

LOCKNEY, Jan. 29 (Special)—Members of the local War Finance committee expressed disappointment at the sales in Lockney and surrounding communities as only $57,218.75 in series E bonds had been sold through Wednesday. The quota for this type of bonds is $207,000.

Chairman Sam Miller of the committee said, "Bond sales have been disappointing to date. Beginning next week ladies will sell bonds from booths in the bank and post office."

President's Birthday Ball Set At Muleshoe

MULESHOE, Jan. 29 (Special) —The annual President's Birthday ball will be held in Muleshoe Monday night at Priboth roller rink, it was announced by Mayor R. L. Brown. He stated that the chamber of commerce will supervise the disribution of funds remaining here.

The celebration committee, Brown said, has asked that those who do not care to take an active part in the celebration make their contributions at the drug stores here.

Medical Discharge For Seabee Fails To Keep Him Down

Now comes Othey McNew, 21, of Pettit community, who wouldn't subscribe to views that a medical discharge from the Seabees and a revision to civil life under 1-C classification disqualifies him from scrapping with the Nazis or the Japs.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. McNew of Pettit let a back injury suffered in January of 1943 adjust itself under hand work as an oil field "roughneck."

He pestered his draft board until it reclassified him 1-A.

He showed up in Lubbock last week, wanting into the Army.

He wants to be a paratrooper! He'll know soon—he hopes.

PIONEER DIES

HENDERSON, Jan. 29 (AP)—Wiley (Tone) Ward, nearing his 100th birthday, died today at the home of a son in Murchison, Texas., relatives here were informed. The pioneer Rusk county resident who had been residing with his son for several years, came to this section from Alabama in 1876.

Overseas Forces Sent Cigarets By Tahoka

TAHOKA, Jan. 29 (Special)—According to W. T. Hanes, president of the Tahoka Rotary club, two hundred cartons of cigarets have been sent to men on the war fronts as a result of donations placed in jars in Tahoka stores. The Rotary club is sponsoring the campaign here.

Hanes said 100 cartons were designated for delivery to the Pacific war theater and 100 cartons to the European area. More than $100 has been placed the jars to date, he said.

FAVORS DEPORTATION

BOSTON, Jan. 29 (AP)—Warren H. Atherton, national commander of the American Legion, said today in an interview that he favored deportation of all Japanese subjects in the United States as soon as possible.

The CHIROPRACTOR-and You

No. 13 of a series of articles published in the public interest to explain and illustrate the practice of Chiropractic.

PSORIASIS

CASE HISTORY No. 827. A 13-year-old girl who had suffered with psoriasis for eight years. Face, ears, neck and almost every part of the body, was covered with scaly lesions. Hospitalization, serum injections external applications of many kinds had been tried, but the condition persisted. When she first visited a Chiropractor the child was a pitiable sight. The spine was examined and a nerve blockage causing metabolic dismunction (chemical imbalance) was revealed. Adjustments were begun to release the nerves, and within a short time the lesions began to peel off and disappear. On her thirteenth birthday all trace of psoriasis had left the child's skin with the exception of a few spots above the knees, and these last traces disappeared within a few days.

EPILEPSY

CASE HISTORY No. 542. A young man barely 18 years old who had been advised that his condition of epilepsy was incurable. Epileptic fits had grown in frequently since he was nine years old, and all efforts had failed to restore normal health. He visited a Chiropractor as "a last chance," and on April 7th the first spinal adjustments were begun. He has not had a single epileptic seizure since and has improved remarkably in health and outlook.

WHAT IS CHIROPRACTIC? Chiropractic is based on the fact that the brain is the human power house. It creates vital energy. Without brain energy no organ or part of the body can function. Brain energy is transmitted over the body's network of nerves. These nerves radiate from the spine, and it is in the spine that the nerves can be "pinched" by vertebrae, and the flow of energy over them impeded or cut off. When, in this way, the connection is broken between brain and one or more parts of the body, disease is the inevitable result. By skillful analysis and precise spinal adjustments, the Chiropractor is able to locate and release impinged nerves, and restore an uninterrupted flow of brain energy to the part affected. Health follows naturally.

Schoolboy Cagers Schedule Big Week

By Mack Turner

THE OTHER day our friend James Coontz from Amarillo dropped into the office and I began to take the advantage to do a little bragging about what Lubbock had down here in the way of basketball teams. I found James had a comeback for each and every argument.

The Amarillo Sandies have a great high school team, and I couldn't argue the Westerners over them. Amarillo Army Air Field, with it's stars and All-Americans from such basketball hot beds as Seton Hall of South Orange, N. J., and Long Island University, has another great team, and I couldn't convince James that South Plains Army Air Field's Point-a-Minute lads were better.

After James was gone, I began to think what a great basketball show it would be to stage a double header some night before long and put the undefeated Medical Detachment from South Plains' Squadron League against the undefeated 84th Squadron team from Lubbock Army Air Field on the bill as the curtain raiser.

That would be a great game between two good teams, but added to that put the main event battle on between Amarillo Army Air Field and South Plains Army Air Field.

If a wrestling match and a symphony orchestra can raise $7,135,000 and a bowling exhibition can raise another $1,000,000, a basketball game of that kind should sell a few war bonds, and to start it off, I'll buy a $25 bond to get in and see the ball games.

One of the greatest means of raising money for any worthy cause is through the field of sports, and athletes are not prone to turn down the chance to do their bit. Personally, we think something should be done in Lubbock from a sports angle to aid the present war loan drive.

I don't know much about the travel rules for the Army Air Force athletic teams, but for a cause as worthy as the war bond drive, I feel sure that any rules against such a thing could be let down for this big event.

AN AIRMAIL letter found it's way to our desk from Howard Kirkpatrick, who won the lightweight championship of the Golden Glove tournament in Lubbock last year. It came from Niles, Calif., and reads:

"I thought I would let you know the reason I haven't sent in an entry blank for the Golden Gloves. I am in California, working in the shipyards. I am working in the Richmond Shipyard No. 1 for Henry J. Kaiser. I am a burner.

"I would sure like to be back there for the Golden Gloves, but I guess building ships are more important.

"I hope the fellow who wins the lightweight crown this year is as proud of it as I was, and try as hard to go to the top as I did.

"J. D. Kirkpatrick, my brother, is the unlimited heavyweight champ of the 11th Naval District in San Diego.

"I wish Lubbock the best of luck this year."

And I am sure that Lubbock wishes Howard the best of luck, and hopes for his return after the ships he builds has made bigger and better Golden Glove tournaments possible.

A RECENT item in the Daily Oklahoman told how our old friend, Henry Frnka, coach of the Tulsa Golden Hurricanes, was in the dog house of the Southern sports writers who covered the Sugar Bowl game New Year's day.

The Tulsa lads romped out on the field in new uniforms with white shirts and gold numerals that made the boys hard to identify from the press box. The secret practice sessions Tulsa held also served to bring some sharp remarks from the writers.

The writers waited until they had gone back home before they turned loose the barrage against Frnka.

I have seen enough football over the country to know that Frnka is not the only coach that has sent a team on the field with numerals so hard to see that you had to be kinfolks to most of the ball club and a personal friend to the rest of them to know who was who.

And some football stadiums have press boxes that might almost as well be in the next county. We have seen high school playoffs in the big million dollar stadium at Dallas and the big copy of it in Fort Worth, and if the numbering is the least bit confusing in stadiums like this, it will put plenty of silver threads among the gold trying to discover some clue of who gained three yards at left tackle.

But regardless of the color of the numbers on the Tulsa lads' backs, Tulsa has given the Sugar Bowl writers a couple of real shows and Coach Henry Frnka has established himself as a real ring master of football's circus sideshow since landing at Tulsa.

I'll be seeing you.

NEW RECORD

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Jan. 29. (AP) —Alan Ford, Yale's "Balboa Bullet," set a new world's swimming record for the 100-yard free style today at 50.1 seconds, bettering also the American, Collegiate, Pool and Yale records in his record-smashing effort. The feat highlighted a Yale triumph over the University of Pennsylvania Natators, 52-22.

The Lubbock schoolboy cagers have a busy week before them this week with the fireworks to start Wednesday night at the high school gym and find the teams in action for the rest of the week. E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, athletic director of the Lubbock schools, Saturday announced the booking of five games for Wednesday, Thursday and Friday, and entered Coach Marlin "Shorty" Hayhurst's Cowhands in the Wolfforth invitation tournament Friday and Saturday.

The Westerner A and B teams will clash Wednesday night with the high stepping Idalou cagers, Class B third place winners in the state tournament last year at Austin. The games will start at 8 o'clock.

Thursday afternoon, Coach Curtis Barrett's edition of the Junior High Cowboys will tangle with the Ropes Juniors for their season's opener. The game will be played at the high school gym at 3:30 o'clock.

Play At New Deal

Friday night, the Westerners and Coach Russell Wimberley's Cowboys will invade New Deal for a pair of battles that will get underway at 8 o'clock. The same day the Cowhands will start play in the Wolfforth tournament, but no time or opponent has been named for them as yet.

The Westerners are making time at the present, waiting for the three schools in the North half of District 1-AA to decide the winner of their division, and the opponent for the Westerners in the playoff for the title.

The Westerners will face a real test Wednesday night in the Idalou Wildcats, winners of 17 of the last 19 games and a team with five lettermen back from last season's third best Class B team in the state.

Five Lettermen

The Idalou club is expected to start it's five lettermen against the Westerners. The lineup will include Moody Hurley and Dib Truett at forwards, Tilley Sneed at center, and Bill Kelley and Troy Snodgrass at guards.

The scoring battle among the members of the Westerner squad shows a pretty clear picture of the reason why the Westerners have been able to run up impressive scores this season and shows the five regular starters leading the way in much the same order in which they started out early in the season.

It has also shown the steady rise of the first string reserves of the Westerner club. Bill Cope zoomed his scoring figures well above the 100 mark with his 24 point rampage Friday night and took a 25 point lead over Marion Manderson, early season leader.

Cope leads the parade with 119 points, Manderson has 94. Riding in third place is Jerry Crawford with 58, Burl Gene Moore with 38 and George Brewer with 36. These five are the regular starters.

R. W. Mowyers has been coming to the front fast as a scoring ace as well as an excellent ball hawk, and now has 29 points. Hower Lawson first broke into the limelight in Lamesa, and has compiled 12 points in recent games. Walker has accounted for the remaining eight points of the Westerner regulars.

SPAAF Cage Leaders Feature Week's Play

The undefeated Medics lay their record on the line in squadron play at South Plains Army Air Field this week along with three other top notch teams of the first division on the schedule.

The high scoring Medical Detachment team, paced by Robert Boyd, Jr., and Dick Hargreaves in the point making department, tangles with the 64th squad Wednesday night in the opening game. The 64th is in a three way tie for third spot in the standings with the Squadron Two team and the 370th Base Headquarters cage squad. The 64th has won two, lost two and the Medics have won five straight and show no signs of letting up.

In the night's finale, the Squadron Two team, with two triumphs and two losses, will play the 995th Quartermaster team, which holds fifth spot with one win and three setbacks.

Thursday night finds the formidable 848th five meeting the SPAAF Band. The 848th, which boasts one of the league's top scorers in Sgt. William J. Besson, is now tied with the 356th colored team and the improved Squadron One five for second place in the standings with four wins ,two losses. The Band holds the cellar spot with no wins in three attempts. The final game Thursday night sends the 356th against the 370th squad.

The league standings:

Team—	Won	Lost	Pct.
Medics	5	0	1.000
848th	4	2	.666
356th	4	2	.666
Squadron I	4	2	.666
370th	3	3	.500
Squadron II	2	2	.500
64th	2	2	.500
Student Det.	2	4	.333
995th	1	4	.200
SPAAF Band	0	3	.000

Red Raiders Battle Lobo Five This Week

Coach Polk Robison's hustling Kids of Texas Tech will roar into New Mexico Thursday to seek revenge for a cage loss suffered at the hands of the New Mexico Lobos on the Tech floor recently. The Red Raiders will play in the lair of the Lobos Friday and Saturday nights.

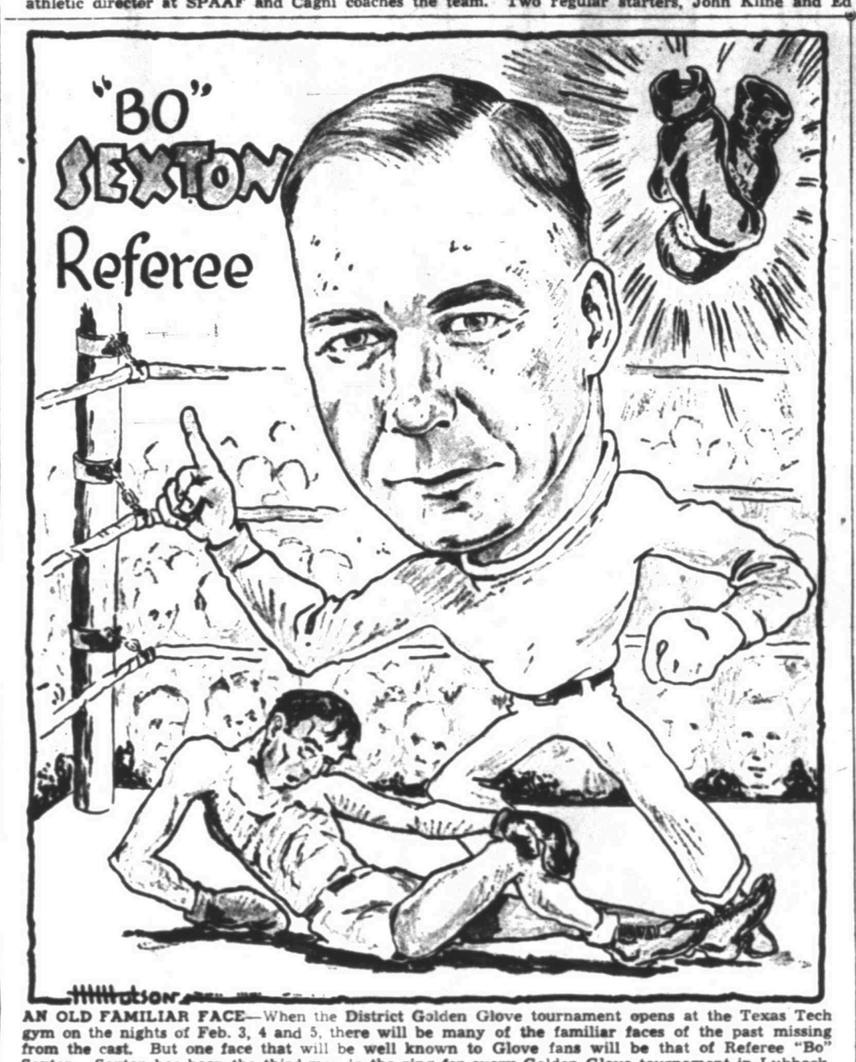

The Lobo club, star studded with Naval trainees, is one of the most powerful cage outfits in this section of the country, but the Red Raiders appear to be much better balanced and smoother working unit than when they played the Lobos in Lubbock.

The games in New Mexico are the only ones on the Tech schedule for this week.

WINGED COMMANDOS—One of the currant hot shot basketball teams of the country is the high flying South Plains Army Air Field cagers who have gone through an eight game schedule to date with seven wins in a row after losing the first ball game, and have hit the hardwood at a pace of better than a point a minute. These stalwarts carry the colors of SPAAF in basketball play this season. Front row, left to right, Richard Hargreaves, Ray Cagni, Capt. Nathan B. Eubank, Charles Conley, Bernard Stock. Back row, left to right, Spencer Skogstad, manager, Leason McCloud, Bob Edwards, Doug Wakeland, Dwight Toedter. Capt. Eubank is athletic director at SPAAF and Cagni coaches the team. Two regular starters, John Kline and Ed Kalfain, are not pictured.

AN OLD FAMILIAR FACE—When the District Golden Glove tournament opens at the Texas Tech gym on the nights of Feb. 3, 4 and 5, there will be many of the familiar faces of the past missing from the cast. But one face that will be well known to Glove fans will be that of Referee "Bo" Sexton. Sexton has been the third man in the ring for every Golden Glove tournament in Lubbock, and has worked most of the ones held in West Texas. But travel restrictions, gasoline and tire rationing, and other handicaps have greatly reduced Sexton's work among the Golden Glovers for the past two years, but he always manages to get to the local shows. Since he was a member of the Texas A. & M. boxing team in 1917, Sexton has boxed and refereed for the sport for 25 years, but still says that one of his greatest thrills in the sport was in the late '30's when the card one night at the local Golden Glove tournament booked 15 fights, and produced 15 knockouts. "That was a cinch to judge, and no squawks about the decisions," Bo grinned.

SPAAF Entries Ready For Golden Gloves Tournament

"We're ready."

That was the word Saturday afternoon from Capt. Nathan B. Eubank, athletic officer, and Staff Sgt. Bob Rings, boxing coach, as they announced plans for entry of eight men in the annual District Golden Gloves tournament at Texas Tech's gym Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights.

With the addition of two more boxers to an already promising group of leather tossers, SPAAF will make a strong bid in the heavier weight classes for honors. The field took two titles last year and one runner-up spot. The boys are out to better that record if at all possible.

Two Added Entries

Added to the SPAAF entries is a middleweight and welterweight contender, Rene Alcaron of San Antonio, Texas, who tips the scales at 160 pounds and Al Crowley of Florida, former amateur champ of the state who will be taking his bow among the welterweights.

Six other promising prospects already have been announced as definite starters and Staff Sgt. Rings was optimistic for his proteges as he sent them through another stiff session Saturday afternoon.

Ringside fans watching the Commando mitt men exchange blows had high praise for Pfc. Ardus Ward of Malta, Utah, 147-pound welterweight, who was Inter-Mountain AAU champion in 1941 in Salt Lake City, Utah; Sgt. Clyde Jones of Perryton, Texas, who won the state light heavyweight title at Abilene in 1938 and the All Service Southwestern title in 1941, and who is fighting as a heavy now; and Sgt. E. R. McGarrity of Dyersburg, Tenn., 160-pound middleweight and former athletic standout at the University of Tennessee.

Besides Ward in the welterweight class SPAAF will have Crowley, who shows plenty of speed and has enough experience to be tough for any opponent.

Two Lightweights

SPAAF will have two lightweights seeking honors in Pfc. Milton P. Papps, 135-pound New York City amateur fighter, and Sgt. John P. Dugan of Bristol, Penn., who fought in Philadelphia amateur circles for three years.

McGarrity and Alcaron will be the middleweight contenders and should give other entries in this class some competition.

The eighth entry is Sgt. Kenneth Young, 175-pound light heavyweight from Jersey City, N. J., who also seems capable of making a strong bid for the championship of his division.

Sundown Named Site Of Girl Cage Meet

The District 18 girls basketball tournament will be held in Sundown Feb. 24, 25 and 26, it was decided Saturday afternoon at a meeting of school leaders in the Hilton hotel. All counties in the district must have their county tournaments decided by Feb. 19, at which time another meeting will be held at the Hilton hotel to draw up the brackets for the tournament.

G. L. Detrixhe of Sundown was named as permanent chairman of the District at the meeting Saturday. It was also worked out at the meeting that each school entered would be allowed 15 passes to the tournament to take care of the coaches, players and other officials. About 14 schools were represented.

Among the favored teams expected to compete in the tournament will be Union, winner of second place honors in the state tournament last year, and Meadow, one of the present crop of top notch basketball talent. These two teams will likely rule as favorites in the tournament.

Dextrixhe said Saturday that he had received a number of letters from schools not represented at the meeting Saturday, and urged that all schools have representation at the meeting Feb. 19.

SPAAF All-American On Monday Program

An interview with Cpl. Leason "Stormy" McCloud, standout star of the high-scoring South Plains Army Air Field basketball team, will be the highlight of the "Winged Commando Show," SPAAF radio program over KFYO at 7:30 o'clock Monday night.

Corporal McCloud, who scored 29 points against Texas Tech Thursday night, is a former All-American from the University of Colorado, and is considered potential material for a service All-American cage team this year on the basis of his performance on the league-leading SPAAF quintet.

McALLEN, Tex., Jan. 29. (AP)—Warren (Napper) Davis, former president of the Valley Coaches and Officials Association and the Valley Football Officials Association, has reported for duty with the Navy at the induction station at San Antonio.

Budge To Return To Lubbock This Week

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (U.P.)—Lt. Don Budge, star of the $1,710,000 war bond all-star tennis card, looked forward today to a week end's rest in New York before he reports for duty again at Lubbock with the Army Air Forces.

Budge came from behind to win from John Kramer, Coast Guard cadet, 7-5, 7-5, in the feature match of a program that saw professionals play amateurs for the first time in tennis history.

In addition, he teamed with Lt. Don McNeill, USNR, to break even in the men's doubles, 5-7, 8-6, against Kramer and Ensign Fred Schroeder. In a third appearance before 5,200 war bond-minded tennis fans, he paired with Dorothy Round Little of Great Britain to drop a 6-4 set to Alice Marble and Kramer.

Apparently at top form, Miss Marble made it a clean sweep for the pros by defeating Mary Hardwick of Great Britain, 6-2.

The National Women's singles champion, Pauline Betz, of Los Angeles, triumphed over Katharine Winthrop of Boston, 6-4, 5-2, in an exhibition curtained by a time limit.

In another meeting of champions, McNeill, 1940 singles titleholder defeated Schroeder, 1942 champion, 6-1.

Westerner Trackmen Start Early Drills

Marlin R. "Shorty" Hayhurst, Lubbock High School track coach, has started part of his thinliclads to limbering up for the coming track season with those not playing basketball going through daily workouts at Chapman Field.

The track team will be greatly reinforced after the basketball season with a number of lettermen being turned loose for track activity at that time.

Among those working under Hayhurst at Chapman Field are Bobbie Martyn, Louis Hunt, Mike Zellman and Milton Butler for the dashes; Roland Nichols, Gerald Davis and Harry Libby for the middle distances; A. L. Graham and Mark Davidson in the mile; Harold Emery, Buddie Boles, Bobby Ketron and Martyn in the low hurdles; Emery and Boles in the high hurdles; Johnny Trout, Johnny Davis and Bill Nelson in the pole vault; Carlon Land, N. W. Elston and Raymond Yandell in the weights; Louis Hunt in the broad jump, and Emery, Boles, Nichols and Elston in the high jump.

Hayhurst is planning an intrasquad meet at Chapman Field for Feb. 7-8 if the weather is permissable.

SPAAF To Play Midland, LAAF

South Plains Army Air Field's point-a-minute Commando cage team plays at least three games this week in an effort to boost their winning streak and add to their rocketing point total which now stands at 404 points in eight games, the last seven straight being in the win column.

Tuesday night, the high scoring Commandos play hosts to a strong team from Midland Army Air Field. The tussle is set for 8 o'clock and a large crowd is expected at the post recreation hall for what may turn out to be one of the toughest tests of the season for the SPAAF squad.

Friday night, the SPAAF team tangles with the Lubbock Army Air Field five in a return engagement on the LAAF hardwood in a Lubbock Basketball league game. The Winged Commandos are leading the league with three straight wins, one of them a 59 to 35 decision over the Fliers.

And to highlight the week's schedule, the Commandos journey to Midland Saturday night to return the contest with the bombers. Additional games with some of the top notch cage squads of West Texas are being talked and arrangements may be made for more games in the city.

Hit New High

The Commandos hit a new high for scoring last Tuesday night when they rolled over Texas Tech's hustling team, 63 to 45, in a fast game. The triumph was the seventh straight for SPAAF and boosted their scoring mark to 50½ points per game, one of the best among service teams in the state. The Commandos have challenged any hardwood team in the state, service or otherwise, and as a result may find several takers, it was said at the field Saturday.

The SPAAF squad boasts a well rounded and experienced lineup which clicks regardless who is playing and who the opponent might be. Working as a smooth combination, the Commandos nevertheless have two individual scoring aces who have hit the net for impressive totals in eight games. Former All American Leason "Stormy" McCloud tops the scoring with 128 points, an average of 16 points for each game of the eight he has played. John Kline, former Ohio University cage ace and another star of the team, has amassed 100 points.

Scoring Records

The other members of the team while not runing up high scores have helped spark the triumphs, Capt. Nathan B. Eubank, athletic officer, emphasized. Also coming in for their share of the praise are such standouts as Bob Edwards of Monahans, Texas, who has 34 points, Charles Conley, former Springfield, Mass., college star with 36 points, Ed Kalfain, ball hawk and formerly standout on the University of San Francisco five, with 34 points, Bernie Stock with 21 points, Ray Cagni with 11 points, Doug Wakeland with 19 points, Dwight Toedter with 12, Dick Hargreaves with six points, Tony Kolka with four and Spencer Skogstad with two points.

The Commandos' game with LAAF Friday night is the only one on the league schedule and added to the game with Midland Tuesday night puts the hardwood spotlight on the loop leaders for this week.

Scoring the league has been unusually high on the part of all teams with only a few points deciding the issue. LAAF and Texas Tech are tied for second place in the league play, the Fliers having won two games and lost two, Tech winning one and suffering a single setback, while the Tech Engineers have lost three close games in as many attempts.

One Man Basketball Star Stages A Show

CHEYENNE, Okla., Jan. 29 (AP) —When four of his teammates fouled out of a county basketball tournament, Leo Cockrell of Durham High school took over alone for the final two minutes and battled Liberty Center to a standstill.

More than that, Cockerell scored a point.

Durham, whose coach had brought only a five-man squad to the tournament, began to lose its manpower on fouls in the second quarter and by the time there were only two minutes left in the game all its players were gone except Cockrell, a 14-year-old 90-pound freshman. The score was 40-37 in Libertys favor.

Cockrell fought so well Liberty Center couldnt score a point, and upon being fouled himself, sank a free throw to make the final score 40-38.

For out-of bounds plays, the rival coaches and referees agreed to let Cockrell bounce the ball in from the sidelines, then run onto the court, grab it and go on from there.

Frogs Upset Texas Longhorns, 44-37

FORT WORTH, Jan. 29. (AP) — Texas Christian's battling basket ball team dropped the Texas Longhorns from the top of the Southwest Conference standings tonight by scoring a 44-37 upset victory.

The loss was the first of the year for Texas, but nevertheless the Steers slipped to second place behind the Rice Owls, who moved to the lead by virtue of having played one more game.

The Frogs started fast and held the lead all the game but for a brief period in each half. The Longhorns once owned a 12-8 margin midway of the first half, and again took a 34-32 edge midway of the second half.

The game was rough, with the Longhorns drawing a total of 20 fouls from officials Johnny Morrow and Jack Sisco. The Frogs were called 15 times.

Three Longhorns, Bob Summers, Al Martin and Joe Crowley fouled out and Floyd (Zeke) Chronister of the Frogs also collected four personals.

Texas played a pressing game, but found the Frogs too clever in their ball handling. Too, the Longhorns were missing their shots badly in the final ten minutes of the game.

Hot man for the Frogs was Stewart Allen, who rang the bell from far out six times and added two free throws to tie Roy Cox of Texas for high point honors at 14.

The Longhorns now have won five games and lost one.

Owls Rally To Beat Mustangs Five, 38-27

DALLAS, Jan. 29. (AP) — The Rice Owls forged into first place in the Southwest Conference basketball race tonight by trimming Southern Methodist 38-27 here while Texas Christian was upsetting Texas 44-37 at Fort Worth.

The results left the Owls with six victories and one defeat while Texas, unbeaten until tonight, fell into a tie with Arkansas for the runner-up slot, each having won five games and lost one.

Giant Bill Henry led Rice to the decision by pitching 16 points through the hoop to lengthen his individual scoring lead to 133 points.

The Mustangs battled Rice to a 17-17 stalemate at the half.

The Owls put on a sizzling finish with Henry hitting his stride ten minutes before the close. SMU had drawn to a 25-21 lead at the time.

Dallas fans saw an upset in the making until the giant Henry started to click. Bill found the range for eight points and the Mustangs got only two—on foul tosses—as the minutes ran out.

Dennis Haden led SMU's pointmaking with 13.

Golden Glove Meets Near Peak Of Action

FORT WORTH, Jan. 29. (AP) — Texas Golden Gloves district competition will reach its 1944 peak next week when 12 tournaments will be in progress in as many cities and service camps.

Champions of four districts already have been named, and the final five tournaments are scheduled for the week of Feb. 7-12.

The state championships will be held in Fort Worth Feb. 16-21. Winners there will be sent to the Tournament of Champions at Chicago.

El Paso, Amarillo, Camp Hood and Camp Fannin already have held their tournaments.

From El Paso will come one of the two eligible state defending titleholders, Sgt. Manny Orega, the Texas featherweight king. The Dalhart boy was outpointed by one of the finalists at Chicago last year.

Tom Attra of Brooks Field, formerly of Austin, is the other defending champion who is eligible this year. He will compete in the big San Antonio tournament, which opens Monday.

Also opening Monday will be tournaments at Beaumont, Brownwood and Houston. Camp Maxey will climax a series of eliminations with finals on Monday night, and the three day Abilene meet also will end on Monday.

Tuesday will see start of fighting at Childress and Harlingen, and Wednesday the Odessa meet gets under way.

Dallas and Lubbock tournaments open Thursday, and the Fort Worth district, where 188 fighters have signed, opens Saturday.

Points to hold later tournaments are Corpus Christi, Waco, Grand Prairie Naval Base, Bryan Army Air Field and Camp Howze.

TEXAS TITLE

EL PASO, Jan. 29. (U.P.)—Promoter Jimmy Erwin revealed today he had signed Texas heavyweight boxing champion Buddy Scott of Dallas to defend his crown against Lotario Ramirez of El Paso in a 10-round title bout here Feb. 11.

Lowrey Reports That Sports Expansion Is Running On Schedule

E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey, athletic director of the Lubbock schools, said Saturday afternoon that preliminary plans were being perfected for the revival of the Junior High track meet sponsored by the Lubbock schools.

The event was started a number of years ago as an annual event on the Lubbock sports program, but was discontinued last year. This was one of the steps written into the plans adopted by the school board for the expansion of the sports program in the local schools.

Lowrey said Saturday that he had contacted a number of the schools that had formerly entered the junior track meet, and that many of them expressed their hopes that the event could be revived this year.

Lowrey also said that the expansion of the sports program was running well on schedule and he was confident that it would be in full swing by the start of the new school year next September.

To date, only two new coaches have been added to the staff, Marlin "Shorty" Hayhurst and Curtis Barrett, but he said that several other applications have been listed and that action will be taken on new coaches at a later date.

Lowrey said that the only change in the plans of the citywide sports speedup program from the first outline of the plans issued late last year was that all lettermen of the Cowhand and Cowboy athletic teams would receive sweaters instead of just letters, as had been first announced.

The program has already been enlarged into the Junior High school where both Curtis Barrett apd Russell Wimberley have basketball squads at work. This sport will probably be expanded still more next season to include four Junior High cage teams with a regular schedule of games, and a Junior High playoff for the school championship.

The program is scheduled next year to be extended on into the city grade schools as soon as suitable coaches can be obtained.

Sundown Tournament To Start Thursday

The Sundown High School invitation basketball tournament will open Thursday night at the high school gym for three days of battling for the top prizes, Coach G. L. Detrixhe announced Saturday.

Awards have been announced for winners and runnerups in the boys and girls championship flight and winners in the consolation round as well as a sportsmanship trophy for the boys and girls. Individual awarded have been announced for each member of the All-Tournament team in both the boys and girls divisions.

Pairings have been announced each division, but starting times for each game was not named.

In the upper bracket for the boys Morton will battle Meadow, the Sundown B team will play Whitharral, defending champions, Union will play Amhurst and Smyer meets the Sundown A team. Pettit drew a bye, and will meet the winner of the Sundown B-Whitharral game and Whiteface drew a bye and will play the winner of the Smyer-Sundown A game.

In the girls bracket Whiteface will face Meadow, Sundown B will play Smyer, Pettit and Amhurst battle and Sundown A plays Whitharral. Morton drew a bye to play the winner of the Sundown B and Smyer game, and Union drew a bye to play the Sundown A and Whitharral winner.

Max Arrants and Stumpy Hamilton have named referees of the meet.

Porkers Weaken And Lose To Phillips 66

BARTLESVILLE, Okla., Jan. 29 (AP)—Phillips 66's undefeated National AAU champs had all they could manage from Arkansas' Razorbacks during the first half tonight, but a furious offensive in the final period enabled them to pull ahead for a 57-42 basketball victory.

It was nip and tuck the opening period, and 26-26 at halftime.

Guard Gordon Carpenter of Phillips and guard Deno Nichols of Arkansas put on a scoring duel, Carpenter emerging victor with 21 points. Nichols bagged 17.

Ticket Sales Lagging For Crippled Children's Dance

That little negro you used to see dodging up alleys because of horrible facial scars caused by burns is virtually unnoticed now.

He passes you on sidewalks, just like any other little boy, without embarrassment.

Some of the youngsters you used to open doors for pityingly, because of their club feet, you don't pay any attention to now.

They don't have club feet anymore.

The Crippled Children's council has been at work on many deserving underprivileged youngsters.

It's Up To The Public

It will continue to function for the relief of children in families of lower economic brackets, or children without parents, if the public continues its financial support.

That was the announcement Saturday by officials seeking to influence attendance at Monday night's annual dances to raise money for affected children who otherwise could not hope for medical and surgical treatment.

"We have seen to it that many children have had tonsilectomies; several have had eye ailments corrected; others have had bone deficiencies relieved; the halt and the lame and the blind have come under our protective agency—we have done incalculable good to many youngsters, some of whom have so overcome their handicaps that they not only are physically stronger, but have become rehabilitated and so sufficiently trained vocationally that they are social assets, it was announced.

Tickets Going Slowly

But council members viewed "with concern" Saturday the slowness of the public's reaction to ticket sales for the Monday night dances, where a person for $1 can go to any or all of three dances—at Hilton and Lubbock hotels and to the Cotton club.

Whereas almost 2,000 tickets were sold for some of the dances of other years since the council became active here a decade ago, no more than an estimated 500 tickets had been disposed of up to noon Saturday.

"Please ask the public to buy tickets, whether it plans to attend the dances, and to mail contributions for this worthwhile program to the Crippled Children's council, postoffice Box 89 in Lubbock," it was asked by J. Ray Dickey, council president, and J. E. Maisen, secretary-treasurer.

"Some persons buy tickets each year, and never attend a Crippled Children's dance. Some others make a financial contribution each year, and never buy a ticket to the annual dances. If the public could know how our work is abridged through lack of funds, I think there would be much more support."

Dances will commence at 9 o'clock. C. A. Rodgers and his band will play at Lubbock hotel, Ross Edwards' orchestra at the Hilton. The Crager orchestra will strike up at the Cotton club. Tickets will be on sale Monday night at each place, and Lubbock luncheon clubs are selling through their committees."

"Go and dance so that deserving children may walk," it was urged.

Jury Commission To Meet Monday

A grand jury commission will report at 10:30 o'clock Monday morning to Judge Dan Blair to draw a grand jury panel for the February term of 72nd district court convening Feb. 14.

The commission is composed of Chas. A. Guy, W. W. Snodgrass, both of Lubbock, and Fay Luck, of Shallowater, L. B. Wooten of Slaton and N. A. Payne of Lubbock route 5.

Judge Alton B. Chapman of the 110th judicial district, of Floydada, was hearing a pauper's oath contest that resulted from appeal of a civil action Judge Chapman heard several months ago in Hockley county after Judge J. E. Vickers, 99th district judge who then was a special judge of the 72nd district, had disqualified in the case. The latest hearing was in Lubbock Saturday, as a courtesy to opposing counsel.

Both the 72nd and the 99th courts this week will hear civil non-jury cases, it was announced.

Barrow And Smith Get Two-Year Sentences

DALLAS, Jan. 29 (AP) — L. C. Barrow and James Duane Smith pleaded guilty in federal court today to charges of conspiracy to steal $17,167 worth of whisky and were sentenced to two years each in the penitentiary by Judge T. Whitfield Davidson.

Charges of actual theft of the whisky against the pair were dismissed after the guilty pleas were entered. The sentence against Smith will run concurrently with a five-year term given him Friday on a charge of receiving and concealing stolen liquor.

Seven persons, including Smith, were found guilty in the whiskey theft yesterday.

Pilot Parachutes From Plane, Drowns In Lake

ABILENE, Jan. 29 (AP) — The pilot of an Army plane drowned in Fort Phanton Hill lake, seven miles north of here, today after parachuting from his disabled craft.

Fishermen reported that as the parachute descended, the plane, one of several in a formation, exploded while still in the air and sank in the lake.

AGENT APPOINTED

POST, Jan. 29. (Special) — Miss Kate Adele Hill, district agent, extension service, College Station, has announced the appointment of Miss Mabel Ann Manley, graduate in Home Economics at East Texas State Teachers college, Commerce, whose home is at Cooper, Delta county, as Garza county Home Demonstration agent. Miss Manley has arrived here and will be in her office on the second floor of the court house.

New High Seen On Poll Taxes

With a total of 9,018 poll taxes having been issued up to time the office closed Saturday night and an expectation based on public reaction of other years that approximately 1,500 would be issued, counting checks in the mail, Monday, it appeared "inconceivable that the number of poll taxes purchased for the record 1940 election year won't be broken by the total for the 1944 general election year."

The announcement was by H. B. Bryan, county tax assessor-collector of Lubbock county.

Slaton Sub Station

Bryan said 8,956 poll taxes had been bought by 3 o'clock Saturday afternoon, including 491 that had been sold at Slaton since Jan. 10, when a sub-station was opened there. Bryan obtained his Slaton check by a 3:30 o'clock visit there Saturday afternoon.

By 5 o'clock, 783 poll taxes had been issued in the tax office here, as compared with a prediction of 700.

The record year, poll taxes assessed in 1939 for the 1940 general election, stands at 9,408, only 390 more than the total up to Saturday night.

Exemptions Brisk Also

Bryan said that issuance of temporary and permanent exemptions was running "just about as briskly." Persons who became 21 years old since Jan. 1, 1943, must tobtain a temporary exemption entitling them to cast their ballot in 1944. Persons 60 years old or older who live inside a city of 10,000 population or more must have a permanent exemption certificate or a poll tax. Persons who live in rural areas or in cities less than 10,000 population need have no exemption certificate to vote but they, no matter how long they have voted without an exemption certificate must obtain one if they have moved into the corporate limits of Lubbock.

All poll taxes or exemption certificates must be obtained by Monday midnight, the statutory deadline.

"Our office will be open until that moment," Bryan said.

He urged that those who have not purchased poll taxes or obtained exemption certificates do so Monday "as quickly as possible, so that you can be served as expeditiously as possible."

General Motors Plant In Denmark Damaged

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 29. (AP)—A transformer station was destroyed and a great part of the General Motors plant damaged in Copenhagen by bombs set by saboteurs early today, dispatches from the Danish capital said.

In a shooting fray between a band of 25 saboteurs and guards one person was killed and two were wounded.

KILLED BY TRAIN

PLAINVIEW, Jan. 29 (AP)—Mrs. George M. Tate of Aiken was killed and her husband injured today when their automobile was struck by a Santa Fe mixed train eight miles east of here.

Theater Manager Sues Petrillo For $500,000

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP)—President James C. Petrillo of the American Federation of Musicians (AFL) was a defendant today to a $500,000 damage suit filed in supreme court here by a theater manager who charged he was forced to employ union musicians against his will under threat of strikes.

General Manager David T. Nederlander of Detroit's LaFayette theater charged that despite pleas that music was not required in the theater, which specialized in dramatic productions, it was forced "under duress and compulsion" to contract for six union musicians to a total weekly salary of $500 for a year.

Physician Says FDR Is "In Fine Shape"

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP) — President Roosevelt's personal physician reports him physically in "surprisingly good shape."

Rear Admiral Ross T. McIntire, who makes a daily check on the President, said the chief executive's recent bout with influenza was only incidental, and Mr. Roosevelt fortunately had been persuaded to slow down and avoid the relapse so common in the epidemic of the ailment.

He said the President came through his trip to Cairo and Tehran in "grand style," but he commented that in irregular schedule had disturbed Mr. Roosevelt's exercise routine.

Recalling that Mr. Roosevelt's 62nd birthday will occur Sunday, the physician asserted that he is "basically in fine shape for a man of 62."

Farm accidents in the U. S. take about 5,400 lives a year.

Tire Eligibility Rules Tightened

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP) — OPA Rationing Chief Col. Bryan Houston, announcing stringent new eligibility requirements for issuance of new passenger car tires, said today that the supply available for February will be short of eligible demand by at least 250,000 tires.

The February quota of new tires, most of them synthetic, is 750,000 units, while the demand from motorists on OPA's list of essential drivers is expected to be about 1,000,000, Col. Houston said at a press conference.

"This means," he stated, "that local boards must decide which drivers should have priority and that others will have to go without."

Based On Car's Use

Eligibility hereafter, he stated, will be determined on the basis of the purpose for which a motorist uses his car, rather than the distance he drives it.

Under this system, virtually no holders of "A" card gasoline rations will be able to obtain new tires, the rationing chief said, and the only "B" card holders eligible will be those whose driving is rated high on the essentiality list.

The shift is necessary it was stated, because of serious depletion of the supply of used passenger car tires available for low-mileage drivers.

Such motorists, Col. Houston explained, may need tires for highly essential purposes even though their total mileage is small.

Since there is no provision for occupational driving in the "A" card ration of east coast motorists, none of them will be eligible for new tires.

In other parts of the country, "A" card holders use part of their ration for occupational driving, but only a "very small number" will be able to qualify for new tires, Colonel Houston said.

U.S.-Trained Chinese Advance In Burma

NEW DELHI, Jan. 29. (AP)—American-trained Chinese troops have pushed deeper in the Hukawng valley area of northern Burma, wiping out Japanese elements fighting above Taipha Ga, and driving back enemy units between the Tarung and Tanai rivers, a Southeast Asia communique declared today.

Some Chinese groups already have crossed the Ahawk river, but have not yet met enemy troops.

The bulletin from Admiral Lord Louis Mountbatten's headquarters reported slight activity in the Chindwin valley, and declared Japanese counterattacks on the Arakan front of northwest Burma were repulsed in the Razabil area.

RAF heavy bombers struck Rangoon Friday night, and fighters strafed Japanese troops in support of Allied forces in the Maungdaw area of the Mayu peninsula. U. S. medium bombers attacked the road south from Taipha Ga in the Hukawng valley yesterday. One Allied plane was lost in all operations.

Banker Gives Up His Policy On Bond Sales

WAHOO, Neb., Jan. 29 (AP) — Emil E. Placek, Wahoo banker, said today he would go along with the United States Treasury department and withdraw from his announced policy of turning over names of those who do not support the Fourth War Loan drive in his county to local draft and ration boards for punitive action.

A spokesman for the Treasury department said last night that unless Placek dropped his plan immediately he would be asked to resign as Saunders county war finance committee chairman.

RAIN IN AUSTIN AREA

AUSTIN, Jan. 29. (AP) —Rainfall which averaged nearly an inch in this area last night and yesterday was continuing today. It was considered highly beneficial to ranges and growing truck crops.

OWI Reorganization May Be In Store

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—Internal troubles in the Office of War Information contributed today to reports that Byron Price, director of censorship, might be designated by the White House to head and reorganize OWI.

Such a solution, if adopted by President Roosevelt, apparently would leave OWI Director Elmer Davis out of the picture. Davis is involved in a sharp dispute with his overseas director, Playwright Robert Sherwood, which has gone to the White House for settlement.

President Secretary Stephen Early declined comment on the reports.

SCOUTS AID BOND DRIVE

O'DONNELL, Jan. 29. (Special) — O'Donnell boy scouts are doing their bit in helping to raise the quota of $93,825 set for the O'Donnell school district in the Fourth War Loan drive. To date these lads have sold $11,953.75 in bonds and stamps.

No fish or animal is more famous for his strength, stamina, and power than the shark. He draws his tremendous store of vitality and power from the sea in which he lives. Today, this same food-rich sea provides the animal proteins, minerals and vitamins which your poultry and livestock must have to be healthy, fast-growing and productive.

STANTON'S 18% LAYING MASH brings these vital elements from the sea and puts them to work in your poultry yard. This fine feed, milled right here in Lubbock, contains ManAmar and B-G Plus, Blended with local-grown grains into a feed especially adapted to the needs of West Texas feeders.

B-G PLUS
is a patented vacuum concentrated extract from fish. This new and potent product, resulting from ten years of ceaseless research and experiment, supplies extra minerals and vitamins in Stanton's 18% Laying Mash.

MANAMAR
in Stanton's 18% Laying Mash supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials — fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "Complex."

ManAmar and B-G PLUS have been developed and are produced in the laboratories of Philip R. Park, famed livestock nutrition authority. These laboratories have also approved the formula for Stanton's 18% Laying Mash. Let the records of users tell the rest of the story. Get all the facts today.

Farm, Ranch Women Have Big Role In Current Affairs

BY DOROTHEA LYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

Texas farm and ranch women working under a victory demonstration program for 1944 are making the best of the wartime way of life and planning for a better world after the war.

The program, every activity of which is considered in the light of its effect on the war, has evolved through organization of 2,517 home demonstration clubs federated into the Texas Home Demonstration association working with the extension service of Texas A. and M. college.

With a membership of 42,070 women, this association helped 292,783 Texas families last year. Its program represents a reliable cross section of activities of the farm population.

Foremost among the 1944 objectives of the victory demonstrator is production of feed, food and fiber for home use and war needs.

Supply Farm Labor

Supplying farm labor has become the responsibility of hundreds of farm women who are driving tractors, harvesting and hauling crops and caring for livestock in the absence of "hired help." Indications are that women will be called upon further as more male farm labor goes to war.

Secondly, farm women are serving in the homefront war program. The goal is to have every home demonstration clubwoman in the state trained in both home nursing and first aid. A definite program of training in these two courses began in 1941 when 28,404 women were trained. The next year many took advanced courses and prepared to teach others.

The 1944 program stresses study of state legislation affecting farm families. On recommendation of the state convention the farm woman will use her influence to secure popular support of the state constitutional amendment providing for distribution of county tax funds according to needs of the counties.

Defending Rural People

She will support the move to protect and defend the rights of rural people against what she considers discriminatory and unfair legislation against rural people.

Her scope broadens as she studies world events. In Willacy county every home demonstration club studied the Atlantic charter. The 120 women learned what the charter sets out.

Postwar world conditions and juvenile delinquency fit into the club's citizenship program.

Study of specific marketing problems is another forward step in her 1944 plan.

Supporting Youths' Clubs

She is pledged to stand behind and encourage 4-H club work among boys and girls.

Home demonstration programs last year centered around production and reservation of food and the care and repair of clothing, equipment and furnishings.

The 1943 goal in garden production was a garden on every Texas farm and ranch and one for every third town and city family.

J. F. Rosborough, extension service horticulturist, and Jennie Camp, specialist in home production planning, believe that over 90 per cent of the 418,000 farms and ranches in the state planted home gardens and that 80 per cent of the 400,000 rural non-farm families and 33 per cent of the 900,000 city families tended gardens, making a grand total of 880,000 victory gardens in the state.

Mrs. Winifred J. Leverenz, food preservation specialist, estimates over 100,000,000 containers of food were stored in pantries and cellars.

Added civic duties fall to the farm woman in the coming year. She will continue serving on ration boards, driving school buses, teaching school, collecting salvage, studying Red Cross courses.

Jones county is proud of the fact it has 55 rural women in nine communities who are capable of conducting nutrition courses.

Travis county had a series of recreation meetings to keep up morale, the admission charge being salvaged fat and scrap metal.

The Nolan county demonstration club made articles for Avenger Field and Camp Barkley hospitals.

Women of the LaMarque home demonstration club of Galveston county repaired and altered garments for soldiers at Camp Wallace and eight received certificates of honor and appreciation from the commanding officer, Col. E. A. Stockton.

Sponsored Health Clinic

A Cameron county demonstration club sponsored and supported financially a Mexican health clinic. Three clubs in Maverick county sponsored a pre-school child clinic at which 31 children were vaccinated against smallpox and immunized against diphtheria.

With these activities the farm woman accepts the responsibility of her long-range obligation: cooperating to grow food for home use and others' use. That is her paramount aim and her ablest talents are turned in that direction.

Miss Mildred Borton, vice director and state home demonstration agent, has this to say: "Texas farm and ranch women are in the vanguard on the home front. They are holding to the good of the past, making the best of wartime life and planning for a better world after the war. They can always be depended upon to do their part and help others do theirs in building good family and community life."

Frankfurt Lashed

capital after the two nights of assault, and one report said the great Tempelhof airport apparently was knocked out.

While the record force of "heavies" was blasting Frankfurt, American medium Marauders again stabbed across the channel at secret fortifications blocking the shortest invasion route to Europe. It was the 28th attack in a 40-day old campaign to obliterate these defenses along the coast of northern France.

The Marauder raid was complemented by sweeps carried out by RAF light bombers and fighters which also hit a Brittany airbase and enemy shipping off the channel island of Jersey. Supporting RAF fighters, which also covered the return of the American heavy bombers from the continent, shot down four German planes. Seven British planes failed to return from the operations.

No Opposition In North

Apparently all the German fighter strength was concentrated around Berlin and Frankfurt because the Marauders found the air deserted over northern France.

During the evening London experienced its 701st air alert of the war and the eighth this year. The concussions of heavy anti-aircraft gunfire shook houses in several areas before the all clear was given. Some high explosives struck the London area. One observer said the Nazi raiders appeared to come in relays from two or three points.

The fighters of the Frankfurt escort formed a gigantic corridor down which the bombers, led by another formation of fighters forming a spearhead, flew to their objective.

The plan proved at least partly successful because many of the returning bomber crews reported encountering very light opposition, although some said the enemy fighters broke through to give them terrific battle.

Strain On Nazi Defense

Obviously the American-British double-barreled assault on Berlin and Frankfurt, 300 miles apart, was planned to throw a maximum strain on German defenses. It was estimated that the 1,800 fighters which the Germans have massed in the west and the ground gunners between the coast and Germany proper were given their biggest test. Some must have been in action hours on end.

The record American assault coincided with announcement of the arrival of Maj. Gen. James H. Doolittle to command the Eighth Air force. Although the announcement did not specify the time of arrival, it may be that this was the first operation under him in this theater.

Frankfurt, a city of 500,000 population which has been attacked heavily six times, including a 2,000-ton assault by the RAF, took what undoubtedly was the worst daylight pounding given any target of the war.

grad railway line by taking the town by Chudovo. Many Germans were killed or taken prisoner and remnants of the garrison fled into the forests and marshes where they were being hunted down. Large quantities of booty were still being counted.

The Russians also captured the railway station of Viritsa, 33 miles south of Leningrad on the Vietbsk line, capturing important war material.

In an area, about 200 miles south of this northernmost fighting, the Second Baltic front Army of Gen. Markian M. Popov captured the rail junction of Novosokolinki in a surprise attack that sent the Germans "floundering from side to side" as Russians broke into their lines from several directions. When the short battle was over many prisoners were taken and war material captured.

Japs Captured Around 50,000 In Philippines

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP) — A review of official casualty reports indicates that the Japanese probably captured at least 50,000 American and Filipino fighting men in the Philippines.

Of the total, approximately 22,331 were American soldiers, sailors and Marines, 12,037 Philippine scouts, and the others members of the Philippine commonwealth Army.

Studied Cruelty Of Japs Recalled

neted. That far from where the fighting had taken place, the poor fellows could only have been murdered in cold blood.

"Dysentery started the second night. We still had no water or food. There were fewer of us on our feet as time went on, but we got nothing. When we'd stagger along past a water buffalo wallow and men would try to scoop up a handful of the filthy, muddy water, the Japs would club us back into line with their rifle butts.

"The dysentery, diarrhea, malaria and tropical ulcers were becoming more general by the third night, when we got to a place called Hermosa.

Clubbed Across Face

"Hermosa! That's the place where a Jap 'superior private' clubbed me across the face for no reason at all with a bamboo stick which broke two of my teeth and split my mouth open.

"If they'd shot me it would have been a blessing. We were starved, exhausted, dirty, crazy for a mouthful of even the filthiest water. We looked like starved, skinny bums . . . But the skinniest bum you ever saw along a railroad track would look better than the rest of us.

"The guards were changed often enough so that they were always fresh, but we were forced along with bleeding, blistered feet and emaciated bodies. They even counteredmarched us for 14 kilometers one day, for no reason I have been able to fathom other than some more brutilay.

Balance Is Bloody Haze

"The rest of that march is still just a bloody haze.

"In all that time the only food any of us got was slipped to us by Filipinos, who risked torture and death to do it. Some of them I saw caught doing this were clubbed across the face with rifle butts.

"The Japs never gave any prisoner the slightest medical attention. Sometimes when a boy would collapse they would bayonet him right before our eyes. This isn't hearsay—I saw it.

"We had to stand guard over, the garbage pits to prevent starving men from eating the rotting refuse. No wonder, I guess, that on one single day I counted 500 Filipino bodies being carried out for burial."

Grashio, Lt. Col. William E. Dyess and hundreds of others were taken to a camp northwest of Manila in June, 1942, and in the following October to Bilibid prison in the city. "Conditions were slightly better there; in other words, you got a little more rice."

Escaped Last April

Capt. Grashio escaped from the prison camp in Davao last April by means which he was not permitted to relate.

He served on Bataan under Col. Dyess, to whom he referred "as the greatest man of the war." Col. Dyess, who also escaped from a Japanese Philippines prison camp, was killed Dec. 22 when his fighter plane crashed at Burbank, Calif., near here.

The captain entered the service in September, 1940, and was commissioned in April of 1941. He holds the Distinguished Service Cross with two Silver Stars for heroism in the Philippines fighting.

Garshio, who is now attached to Ft. Wright at Spokane for a checkup, said he normally weight 145 pounds and that he was down to 90 when he escaped. He is now back to 130 pounds.

Bond Campaign

D. Jenkins, J. H. Brock, Bill Keyser and R. O. Bennett; Raley—Eli Fonville, G. R. Kennedy, A. H. Maas, Chas. Whitaere, Walter Davies and Bill Pittman; Reynolds—Geo. Gray, Ed Corcorran, Chas. Read, Victor Lindsey, C. I. Wall and W. W. Rix.

Each captain has selected a group of five lieutenants to work with him in the campaign.

Texas Technilogical college has been set aside as a separate territory and a group of downtown business men and college men will make bond solicitations there, the college receiving credit for all purchases.

To Stress Series E

Stress will be laid on the sale of Series E bonds. The quota for these is $1,195,000, approximately the same as in the Third War Loan drive last fall. The total quota of $3,897,000 compared with $4,618,900 in the third drive.

Workers are to continue their sales efforts for three successive days, making daily reports to drive headquarters in the chamber of commerce. It is hoped that the quota will have been met by the third day.

The drive in the rural sections of the county is already in progress, Roy Boyd, rural chairman, reported Saturday. Excellent responses are being given district workers, he said.

Neil H. Wright, who directed the two previous drives, is still chairman for the entire county.

Story Of Atrocities Boosts Bond Sales

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 29 (AP) —A spurt of $72,000 in sales of war bonds yesterday was attributed by Cooke county Fourth War Loan drive officials to disclosure of Japanese atrocities to prisoners of war.

Passing the half-way mark in the drive today with sales of $552,456, toward a goal of $1,100,000, the county was $120,000 ahead of the same time in the Third War Loan drive, although the goal was $200,000 less.

Sales yesterday were the highest for a single day since opening of the drive.

CRACK DOWN ON DANES

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 29. (AP) — Using paid informers to combat acts of sabotage, the Germans are arresting Danes at the rate of 50 to 75 daily, the free Danish press service said last night.

Frank Gilliland Dies After Heart Attack

Frank Gilliland, 61, of 2410 Eighth street, died Saturday from a heart attack. He had been residing in Lubbock for the past 18 years and had lived in Montague county prior to that time.

Survivors include his wife; two brothers, Edgar Gilliland of Lubbock and Lonnie Gilliland of Harrah, Okla.; three sisters, Mrs. Cavett Hunt of Lubbock, Mrs. J. L. Webster of Estelline and Mrs. Ora Barnes of Texarkana; four sons, Horace of Seagraves, Lonnie of Wichita Falls, C. B. and Troy in foreign service; three daughters; Mrs. C. C. Pierce of Greenville, Mrs. D. B. Cox of Lubbock, and Mrs. R. H. Tanner of Lubbock; and 10 grand children.

Funeral services are to be held Monday afternoon at 2:30 at the Methodist church at Abernathy, with Rev. C. A. Bickley, pastor of Asbury Methodist church here officiating, assisted by Rev. Frank Beauchamp of Abernathy. Burial is to be at Abernathy under direction of Rix Funeral home.

what air transport does out in this mountain jungle. Lt. Paul N. Wentz, Morgantown, Ind., the pilot brought his ship over from the states, leaving there June 17. Since then he has flown his ship 124,000 miles, which is better than halfway to the moon. Until the end of December, Wentz had carried 1380 tons of cargo and personnel in his ship, which is almost three LST loads. He has made 75 hospital trips between port Moresby and Nadzab, Finschhafen and Lae. The co-pilot, James Lambdin, is from Oklahoma City.

I ASKED one of the crew what was the most interesting trip they had made.

"The one we just got back from," he said. "We were on leave in Sydney."

You can get some idea of a day's work by these transport pilots out here from what our plane did the day before I was aboard. It left Port Moresby at 6 a. m. for Gusap, 250 miles away, carrying troops, and returned to Moresby with an Allison airplane engine for overhaul. Then it carried some Australian personnel from Moresby to Finschhafen, about 250 miles. Then it carried personnel from Finschhafen to Dobodura, near Buna, about 110 miles.

Air Traffic Is Heavy

Incidentally, Dobodura airport, which has several landing strips, handles more military traffic than any field in the area, and the local crew says it's more than any field in the world, but that is probably a bit of bragging. It is the crossroads of the war out here. We took it from the Japs, who had one short landing strip, November 1942.

It was from here that thousands of casualties were evacuated from the Buna campaign, which was the worst of the New Guinea fighting. That, together with Guadalcanal, was the first time the Japs had been licked in the field by white troops from the time they started at Hong Kong—at the time of Pearl Harbor.

Troops from Wisconsin, Michigan and other Midwestern states did a heroic job there, as I could well believe after driving through the swamp and jungle which we have since opened up with broad hard-surfaced roads, enormous installations and supply dumps extending for a dozen miles around.

Judge W.W. Cook, 85, Dies At Wichita Falls

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 29 (AP)—Judge W. W. Cook, former district judge here, died today at the age of 85.

A native of Paducah, Ky., he opened a law office in Abilene, in 1888. He also practiced law in Stonewall and Montague counties before moving to Wichita Falls in 1918. While in Montague county he served as county attorney. He retired from the 78th district court in 1933.

Survivors include his wife, two daughters and a son.

Vatican Denies Jap Philippines Report

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP) — The Vatican has officially denied Japanese allegations that the Holy See has recognized the so-called republic of the Philippines the State department announced today.

Vatican recognition of the Japanese regime in the Philippines was claimed in an enemy broadcast January 8.

AAF Closing Many Units

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP) — The Army Air forces will return to civilian users 70 colleges utilized in the college training program and 14 civilian contract schools used in the pilot training program.

The War department, announcing this tonight, said that students now in training at these institutions will complete their courses but that in future no new AAF students will be accepted for training at these establishments.

Among colleges to be released by the AAF is Oklahoma City university.

Lamesa School Closing

Among the civilian contract schools to be released are those at Wickenburg, Ariz.; Twenty-Nine Palms, Calif.; Muskogee, Okla.; Oklahoma City; Fort Stockton, Texas; Hicks Field, Texas; Lamesa, Texas.

The department said the move was in conformance with General H. H. Arnold's recent report in which he stated that "as the war continues, emphasis will naturally shift from training of vast numbers of new men to the training of replacements."

The AAF emphasized that "elimination of any particular college or civilian contract school does not reflect dissatisfaction relative to the performance of the school."

Italian Advances

less British and American soldiers are to pay a heavy price in lives.

The French recaptured two hills north of Mount Belvedere against stiff opposition and threw back three counterattacks. The Americans north of Cassino lunged out with the support of tanks against the powerful German Gustav line positions. Repeated German counterthrusts were beaten down.

Short British Advance

The British on the west side of the Garigliano river made a short advance northeast of Suio.

(The German communique said the Allies had taken Mt. Rotondo, a mile and a half beyond Castelforte, and about five miles inland on the Garigliano front.)

Targets for naval guns included Formia on the Gulf of Gaeta.

The capture of the bridge in the beachhead beyond Carroceto represented an advance of 12 miles from Anzio at a point eight miles inland. The bridge carries the road north out of Anzio over a railway line and stream. The railroad is not the main Naples-Rome line, but a spur from Anzio.

Elsewhere in the beachhead area American and British troops were finding German resistance more determined. They were encountering Nazi tanks and heavy artillery and small arms fire.

Fierce Sky Battles

Sky battles over the beachhead south of Rome yesterday were unmatched in violence in the Mediterranean theater since those in which the Americans and British knocked the German Air force out of the sky when the German Army was making its last desperate stand at Tunis and Bizerte in North Africa last spring.

(The Rome radio said that Bologna, 200 miles above Rome, was heavily bombed by the Allies Saturday. Bologna is an important junction in northern Italy for railways radiating to France, Switzerland, Germany, and Yugoslavia. The broadcast was recorded in London by the Associated Press).

American negro pilots for the second successive day distinguished themselves, shooting down four more planes. Capt. Charles E. Hall, Brazil, Ind., scored the day's only double, bringing down a FW190 and an ME-109 to make his total three victories.

Fifteen of the German planes were shot down by American veteran P-40 groups, while five fell to American-flown Spitfires and one to an RAF Spitfires.

One group of Fortresses, with P-38 escort, was jumped by 30 German fighters at Aviano airport, 40 miles north of Venice and 14 of them were destroyed.

Seventy-Six Nurses Thought Jap POW

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP) — Seventy-six women nurses of the Army and Navy apparently are still prisoners of the Japanese, captured when the Philippines fell.

Army files show that 66 Army nurses are prisoners. Persons recently returned to this country in an exchange of internees say that ten Navy nurses, brought into Manila early in 1942 (possibly taken at the time naval installations in the Manila area were captured) also are held by the enemy.

Gin Set Up In Tech Textile Department

Installation of a new 7-saw cotton gin in the textile engineering building at Texas Technological college to be used for instruction and research work has been announced by L. E. Parsons, head of the textile department.

"Ginning," Parsons said, "is the first and one of the most important steps in cotton processing and it is very helpful to have textile students understand good ginning."

The new unit will be utilized in the yarn manufacturing and the cotton grading classes. The effect of ginning on the staple will be studied. Since the gin is in a building where the humidity is controlled, it will be possible to make a study of the advantage of humidity control in overcoming static, which West Texas ginners have had trouble with.

Japanese sent up no planes against those raiders.

The cargo vessel bombed off Kavieng apparently was heavily loaded with fuel oil. The Catalina pilots said they counted 113 explosions after two 1,000-pound bombs hit the vessel amidships. Enormous flames billowed up and it was considered probably that practically all the crew burned.

At 4 a. m. the next morning in the Kavieng area, Allied patrol planes bombed and started fires on two enemy ships in a convoy.

The considerable air activity both north and south of Madang was intended principally to disrupt enemy transportation. Mitchells and Thunderbolts succeeded in destroying or damaging several bridges.

Sharp Fighting In Ramu

Headquarters said the Australians who resumed a drive more than a week ago in the Ramu valley 40 miles to the south of Madang and captured strong ridge positions still are engaged in sharp fighting at Kankiryo saddle.

In the sector northwest of Australia, Catalinas on Friday attacked the Laha airdrome on Amboina island and started fires visible for 60 miles.

On Bougainville in the northern Solomons, enemy-held positions both north and south of the American beachead at Empress Augusta bay were pounded by torpedo bombers, divebombers and Mitchells. American warships, which have been increasingly active in that sector, shelled Mamagata on the southwest coast.

News Briefs

Charges were filed in County court Saturday on Ida Paul White, 30, of Brownwood for theft of clothing valued at $11 from Dunlap's Department store.

George Smith, 2413 Avenue B, reported to police Saturday night theft of a blue '39 model Ford coach taken from Sixteenth street and Texas avenue. The vehicle's license number is 971-132.

A City bus driven by A. L. Perkins and a car driven by Wayne Wallace, 2111 Eighth street, collided at Broadway and Avenue M, Saturday morning. Both vehicles received considerable damage. No one was injured, police officials said.

Police investigation revealed Saturday that George Bastillos, 4-year-old Mexican boy, who was admitted to Lubbock General hospital Friday night received his injuries when he fell from back of a vehicle on which he was "hitching" a ride. Contrary to a report released by hospital attendants the boy received only bruises and was released from the hospital Saturday morning.

Capt. H. Klaus, operations officer of 39th Battalion, Texas State guard, returned Friday from the War Department school "Gas Reconnaisance Agents course" held for state guard officers at Fort Sill, Okla.

MORAL VICTORY

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (U.P.) — R. V. Hudgins sued the United Typewriter & Adding Machine Co. for $462. The company counter sued him for $819. A municipal court jury decided both parties were entitled to recovery—in the amount of $1 each.

Ration Board Quits On Politics Charge

GAINESVILLE, Jan. 29 (AP) — Five members of the Cooke County War Price and Rationing board resigned their positions today because, they said, acting District Director J. Bryan Miller, Fort Worth, had appointed a labor advisory committee without consulting the board.

Resigning were Fred Snuggs, county chairman; D. L. Monroe and J. W. Gladney, members; Felix McCurdy, public relations director, and Herbert Maurer, member of the tire rationing panel.

Chairman Snuggs said the first knowledge he had of the appointment of such a committee was receipt of a copy of a letter written by Miller to the three appointees, notifying them of their selection and outlining their duties.

He branded appointment of the committee, without knowledge and counsel of the county board, as "a political move directed from Washington."

Said Snuggs: "They are running the show up the line and they can have my job. This is a political year and they are just playing politics."

Many Soviet Girls Driven To Germany

MOSCOW, Jan. 29 (AP)—A dispatch today to Red Star, Russian Army newspaper, said hidden messages found in two recaptured cities below Leningrad indicated hundreds of girls had been transported to Germany.

The communities are Taitsi and Krasnoye Selo, both about 15 miles south of Leningrad in a section from which come some of Russia's most beautiful girls.

Atrocities Bring Pressure For Early Knockout Blow

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

Whatever the underlying purpose of the Washington and London governments in disclosing at this time details long withheld of revolting Japanese brutalities to unknown numbers of the heroes of Bataan, Hong Kong and Singapore, publication is certain to create public pressure on both sides of the Atlantic for quickened action against Japan.

SIMPSON

Reaction in Congress and Parliament came immediately to bear out that expectation.

The officially authenticated tales of almost unbelievable Japanese sadist torture of surrendered troops went farther than could any spoken pledge to assure that all the might of Britain as well as the United States and China will be focused on the defeat of Japan as well as Germany.

Pathway Being Cleared

On the day that Washington revealed details of the sickening Japanese treatment of captured troops in the Philippines and in lost British bastions of the China Sea, there were strong hints that the double thrust from south and east to clear a thousand-mile-wide pathway through Japanese central and South Pacific islands outposts is gaining momentum.

Sustained Army-Navy air battering at key Marshall island atolls and at enemy air strips in the Admiralty islands clearly point toward coming action to seize and consolidate these Pacific footholds.

Capture of both far-separated island groups would open the door to passage in force through the New Guinea-Truk gap to the southern Philippines and Sulu archipelago approaches to the China Sea.

Would Lay Truk Open

Seizure of Admiralty air strips or bases for sea operations would virtually split off all Nipponese outposts south of Truk. A simultaneous American advance into the Marshalls, foreshadowed by the persistent air attack on every enemy installation in the group, would lay Truk open to air and sea siege.

Nor can Japanese commanders doubt that behind that converging attack lie plans to bring into action bombers of a range and hitting-power unmatched. Already there are reports of evacuation of Tokyo and of Japan's main industrial war centers in expectation of just that.

The day when huge craft can sweep westward, unload their devastating bomb cargoes over Japan and go on to China to reload for a return trip assault may be near.

More Than $40,000 In Bonds Sold Last Night At SPAAF Ball

With a record breaking sale of more than $40,000, an officers' War Bond dance at the Officers' club at South Plains Army Air field Saturday night boosted the SPAAF total for the Fourth War Loan campaign past the $84,000 mark.

Sponsored by Col. and Mrs. Norman B. Olsen, the dance was the third in recent months staged for the sale of war bonds and brought the cash total for officers' dances to more than $70,000, the Saturday night event being the most successful yet conducted at the field.

The dance was the first dinner dance ever held at SPAAF and the purchase of a bond was required for admission. More than 150 persons were present with many large cash sales bringing the total over the $40,000 mark and helping boost the $100,000 sale expected at the post. SPAAF has set a quota of $100,000 for the Fourth War Loan campaign and the big bond barometer at the field now shows $84,000 in sales.

The dance drive staged by Col. Olsen brought the Commando figure nearer the goal with the campaign only half over and continued efforts will made during the next two weeks to reach the $100,000 total.

A big week for the sale of bonds has been planned at the field this week with several parties and two dances at the field boosting the sale of bonds. A big dance for enlisted men is set for Saturday night and a large turnout is expected by those making arrangements. The dance will get under way at the post recreation hall at 8:30 o'clock and all soldiers who participate in the dance will purchase a $1 stamp which will be kept by the buyer. A bond raffle will highlight the festivities.

The same night, all civilian workers at SPAAF will gather for a big war bond dance in the new Service club. The dance is the first social event on the field for the civilians and will get under way at 8 o'clock. Civilians in charge of making arrangements have promised a large turnout and equally large bond sale. The SPAAF civilians, with 12.36 per cent of their monthly pay being invested in bonds, 98.16 per cent of them participating, now have the fourth best war bond buying record in the entire Eighth Service command which includes several states of the Southwest.

Tuesday night, members of the Women's Army Corps at SPAAF will play hostesses for a Bond party in the Service club with admission being 10 cents in war bond stamps.

Other highlights of the party will be various games with bonds and stamps as prizes. Other organizations on the field also are planning bond festivities.

The bond dances and parties of course are all with a purpose, that of boosting sales at SPAAF during the war loan campaign. The field's goal of $100,000 during the drive is double the sales on the field for both the Second and Third War Loan campaigns at SPAAF in 1943.

War Bond officials announced Saturday that not only were cash sales showing an increase but allotments were being boosted by military personnel and civilian workers.

USO Activities Are Announced

The Lions club of Lubbock has agreed to furnish volunteer hosts and hostesses for this week at the USO Center, 1211 Thirteenth street, it was announced by club officials Saturday.

The Serviceaires group of the Hubettes will be hostesses at the club this afternoon from 2 until 6:30 o'clock and a program of classical music will be given in the Library from 7 to 9 p. m. tonight. This morning from 10 until 12 o'clock coffee and doughnuts will be served.

All wives of enlisted men who are interested in bowling are invited to the Plamor lanes, 1011 Fourteenth street, where they may bowl for 13 cents per line Monday at 4 p. m.

Dance Monday Night

A dance will be held at the club at 8 p. m. Monday with the Crackerjills as hostesses. Also at 8 o'clock the art class will be in session.

The regular weekly square dance will be held Tuesday night beginning at 7:30 o'clock.

Cadet wives will be guests at a luncheon at the USO at 12:30 p. m. Wednesday. The LAWS will have their weekly meeting at 3 p. m. the same day. A dance, sponsored by the Serviceaires, will be given at 8 o'clock Wednesday night.

The only activity scheduled Thursday at the USO will be the art class at 8 p. m.

A luncheon for wives of all enlisted personnel is scheduled for 1 o'clock Friday afternoon, followed by several tables of bridge. At 8 o'clock Friday night the Aerodonnas will be hostess at a dance given at the club.

Saturday is Brownfield day at the club, with hosts and hostesses coming from that city to entertain. They will furnish refreshments from 5 until 9 p. m. The regular Saturday night dance will be held at 9 o'clock. Music will be furnished by an orchestra from Lubbock Army Air field. At 3 p. m. Saturday ladies of the mending service will be present.

At the Negro center, 2101 Avenue C, a kid party and dance will be held Tuesday night at 8 o'clock. Wednesday night at 8 o'clock a tag dance is scheduled and a Guest dance will be held Thursday at 8 p. m.

More Milk Directed Into Processed Food

More milk will be directed into production of cheddar cheese, butter, dried skim milk, evaporated milk and other vital wartime products under a War Food administration order which becomes effective Tuesday, R. Q. Meredith, area marketing supervisor of food distribution, said here Saturday.

The order is a part of the WFA program to obtain more efficient use of the nation's milk supply, Meredith said. The order restricts total production in 1944 of all types of cheese other than cheddar; pot and baker's cheese to the quantity produced in 1942. Deliveries of cottage cheese, pot and baker's cheese were limited under a previous order.

Meredith said civilian quotas of cheese other than cheddar and cottage is expected to be reduced from an average of 17 1-2 million pounds to around 16 million pounds a month.

YANKS TRAIN SWEDES

STOCKHOLM, Jan. 29. (AP) — Interned American pilots and crewmen have trained Swedish aviators to fly a Flying Fortress which was forced down in Sweden in October, the newspaper Aftonbladet reported.

Handle Bar Hank's Mustache 'Scared' Gray On Tarawa

HOUSTON, Jan. 29. (U.P.) — "Handle Bar Hank" Hooker lost a black mustache in the bloody battle of Tarawa.

Handle Bar was the name school kids gave Hurshal W. Hooker when he drove a school bus two years ago. His fine black mustache flourished in the green hell of Pacific island warfare when Hank joined the Marine Corps.

His father, who lives here, said Hank had to shave the mustache off after the battle of Tarawa because it suddenly went pale.

"I thought it was just dusty with white coral dust," Hank wrote.

"When it wouldn't get black, I gave it a shampoo. I washed and washed but the more I washed the whiter it got.

"I suppose I just scared it gray. So I shaved it off."

Hank also fought with the Marines on Guadalcanal. At Tarawa and on Guadalcanal, he killed 21 Japanese soldiers.

Seventeen Charged For Selling Coupons

SAN ANTONIO, Jan. 29. (U.P.) — Seventeen persons faced black market charges today in connection with the theft and sale of 1,000 gasoline coupons.

Complaints were filed in federal court yesterday by Asst. U. S. Dist. Atty. Gilbert Sharpe and William V. Dobbins, district enforcement attorney for the Office of Price administration.

Sharpe said two persons were charged with selling the coupons for 25 cents each and the others were charged with purchasing stolen goods.

During the last two months 17 filling stations have been robbed in this area for coupons good for nearly 250,000 miles of travel, he said.

OPA officials also announced that 32 San Antonio motorists had been charged with using occupational gasoline for pleasure trips. These motorists face cancellation of all gasoline coupons, they said. The motorists were checked at the Laredo international bridge on trips into Mexico.

School Essay Contest Set By VFW Auxiliary

An annual essay contest sponsored by the Women's Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars is being conducted in Lubbock High school and essays are to be turned in not later than midnight, April 17, Mrs. Elizabeth Bruce, local chairman, announced Saturday.

'Unity for Peace" has been chosen as subject for the essay which shall be between 500 and 1,000 words in length, with any student regularly enrolled and maintaining class work at the time of writing the essays being eligible. The contest will be conducted through social studies teachers and local winners will receive $5 as a prize.

Essays will be judged on literary construction, interpretative views, and patriotic inspiration.

Area Red Cross Meeting Slated

Red Cross workers from 20 Panhandle-South Plains counties are expected to gather at the Hilton hotel Wednesday for an area meeting at which Earl E. Dombross of St. Louis, regional director of chapter service, and other headquarters officials will speak.

Approximately 50 persons from Bailey, Briscoe, Cochran, Castor, Crosby, Dickens, Floyd, Garza, Hale, Hockley, Hall, Lamb, Kent, Lubbock, Lynn, Motley, Parmer, Swisher, Terry and Yoakum counties are expected to attend the meeting which gets under way at 9:30 a.m.

Lubbock Chapter Host

The Lubbock county chapter will be host to the meeting.

Chapter chairman, War Fund chairmen and public information chairman from the various chapters will be urged to attend the meeting which will deal with preparation for the $200,000,000 Red Cross 1944 War Fund campaign which is scheduled to be launched in March.

Depends Upon Preparation

"The success of this greatest appeal for funds in history will depend largely on advice preparation," W. C. O'Mara, chairman of the Lubbock county chapter said Saturday.

"We will hear late reports on the vital services to the armed forces rendered by the American Red Cross on its global program for victory," O'Mara said. "Since All Red Cross activities are based upon the work of local chapters, we in this area are an essential part of this great endeavor. The Red Cross 1944 War Fund campaign takes on even greater significance now as our forces are poised for a general invasion. The need for keeping the Red Cross 'at his side' will expand rapidly as the theaters of war spread."

Hares are common in most northern sections of the globe.

Early Vote Sought On Service Ballot

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP) — Administration senators are ready to cry "filibuster" at their opponents if they can't get a vote started Monday on their federal war ballot plan for the armed forces.

Turned into a political issue by four days of bitter debate, the bill will start its second week's run in the Senate Monday and so far not one test vote has been taken.

Republicans and a bloc of southern Democrats have peppered the bill with amendment attempts hoping either to eliminate the federal war ballot entirely or hold it to a status equal with state absentee ballots and subject to state election laws.

Backers of the revived war ballot plan are striving for a Senate decision before the House votes—possibly Tuesday—on a "states rights" bill which would leave it to the states to handle all military absentee voting. That bill, labeled a "fraud" by the President, passed the Senate a month ago.

The new Senate bill is intended as a substitute for the "states rights" bill.

C. C. Primm Honored By Brownfield Group

BROWNFIELD, Jan. 29 (Special) —C. C. Primm, Brownfield druggist, was chosen by a secret vote of business men of Brownfield as being the most outstanding young man of this city because of his activity and leadership in civic enterprise for the betterment of the home town and citizenship. The selection was made at the quarterly meeting and banquet, held by the Brownfield Junior Chamber of Commerce Wednesday night.

The award, an emblem similar in appearance to the DSC, known as the Distinguished Service Award of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce, was presented by Taylor Cole of Midland, a national director of the Jaycees.

LET'S hope that our fight for what's right isn't followed by a fight for what's left.

We know a girl whose ambitions are wholly matrimony.

AMERICAN SOLDIER — The night before he enlisted in the United States Army in 1917 Edward Markham, editor of the St. Peter (Minn.) Herald, wrote a little essay that hundreds of thousands of other American soldiers are saying in their own way today. What he printed then is worth printing again:

"I am a mother's son . . . I am the pride of a family and part of a home . . . I love my life as you love yours. I am a youth in years and experience in life, yet I am a gambler, betting the highest stakes that a man can wager . . . my life . . . If I win, you win; if I lose I have lost all . . . The loss is mine, not yours; and there is a grieved mother, a saddened family and a broken home to which I can never return.

"I ask only for the Godspeed and support of my nation in return for laying upon the altar of my country my all . . . For bravery and blood will you furnish bullets and bread? Will you pawn your shekels if I pawn myself? Will you bet your gold while I risk my life? I am the flower of a nation's manhood, the glory of a noble race. I am the American soldier."

Are you buying an extra bond during the Fourth War bond drive?

WHEN you take your used kitchen fat to the butcher deliver it in a clean tin can. He will not accept fats in glass containers . . . If you have a fountain pen that is in need of repair before it can be given to a man in service, take it to the Red Cross rooms, 1605 Avenue J, or to boxes set up for that purpose at either Hemphill-Wells or Hanna-Pope stores . . . For a story of a pioneer Texas resident who has managed to live a full, normal life despite the fate of having to spend 84 years as the victim of infantile paralysis, turn to column 5 on this page. Read of the life of Mrs. A. J. Raines of Dumas and Stratford. She is the grandmother of C. E. (Dutch) Wiginton of Lubbock who says she has always been cheerful and a great tease. . . . The Navy boys at Yale university have voted Dinah Shore as "the girl they'd most like to stand midnight watch with!" . . . By the way when Miss Shore was graduated from high school she was voted "the girl most likely to succeed."

YOUNG women in Lubbock who are having trouble getting along on the Army pay of their second lieutenant husbands do not have to face the financial worries of Gloria Vanderbilt De Cicco. That poor little rich girl has to save money so she can live on a private allowance of $135,000, plus the pay of a lieutenant . . . Here's a suggestion for the millions of American lassies whose pictures aren't adorning barrack walls: "If not a pin-up girl, be a chin-up girl and help win the war that way!" . . . Newest "Mom" song is "Don't Worry Mom." We'd venture that admonition has been written in as many letters from the boys in service as those famous other three words, I love you."

Stop markers in the middle of the streets at a number of places . . . A vitamin tea tried in a number of war plants has met with success. Workers are offered mid-shift refreshments such as lemonade and cookies fortified with vitamins. He is a prisoner of war in Germany.

City Federation Discusses "Buy A Bomber" Drive In Friday Business Hour

ONE of the heavy bombers may bear the name "City of Lubbock" if plans laid by the City Federation at its monthly meeting Friday morning at Hotel Lubbock materialize. Anyone in Lubbock who buys a bond during the Fourth War Loan drive may turn the amount in and get credit toward the bomber which will cost $300,000. All series E bonds may be counted at the purchase price and series F and G if bought from the club's treasury. The information, amount of the bond and the serial number, may be telephoned to either Mrs. C. D. Doggett or to one of the presidents of the various clubs making up the Federation, who will turn the information into State Federation headquarters, Austin.

The "buy a bomber" campaign has been endorsed by the State Federation and several Texas cities already have contributed enough to purchase bombers, pursuit planes, ambulance planes, etc. In November alone $411,000 was received in serial numbers at the headquarters in Austin toward purchase of the planes.

Mrs. H. F. Godeke presided at the meeting and a nominating committee to report in February was named. Mrs. George Soash is chairman, assisted by Mesdames Sam Hodges and W. B. Sides.

On Clothing Drive

Mrs. Doggett, reporting on the recent clothing drive for peoples of invaded countries, said 42 cartons had been shipped from Lubbock.

Mrs. Godeke announced plans for a collection of old fountain pens to be sent to Emerson McCord of Houston who repairs them for men in service.

The discarded pens may be taken before Feb. 1 to either the Red Cross rooms, 1605 Avenue J, or to either Hemphill-Wells or Hanna-Pope stores.

Mrs. N. H. Holt, chairman of legislation in the Federation, introduced Dr. O. A. Kinchen, professor of history at Texas Technological college, guest speaker.

In speaking on "The Development of Labor Problems," Dr. Kinchen gave the history of the organization and growth of labor unions and cited the stands taken by labor leaders.

Mrs. Ardelle Scales led group singing. Resignation was accepted of Mrs. Clarence Whiteside as second vice president. She is moving from Lubbock.

Supper Held By Patronesses

Patronesses of Las Chaparritas, girls' social club at Texas Technological college, entertained new patronesses and active members of the club at an informal supper Saturday from 4 to 8 p. m. at the Lubbock Country club. A cowboy motif was used in decorations and favors. Games and folk dances were enjoyed.

New patronesses are Mesdames Lee Harrison, A. G. Barsh, Douglas Witt, G. W. Cochran, J. R. Weiss, W. B. Rushing, jr., Mary Martin and J. F. Anthony.

Mrs. Geo. P. Livermore was chairman of arrangements assisted by Mesdames Charles Bacon, Clyde Smith, Archie Scott, Carl York and Virginia Lewis.

Other patronesses are Mesdames A. G. Swanson, George Langford, Sam G. Dunn, Arch Lamb, Elliott Taylor, Hop Halsey, C. D. Doggett, J. C. Allensworth, T. R. Prideaux, Parker Prouty, E. T. Pope and Reuby Rhodes.

Three Alumnae Assist

Alumnae assisting in the entertainment included Mesdames George Weiss and Chas. C. Watson and Miss Betty Alice Gordon.

Las Chaparritas members at the party were Trinka Norman, Emily Cowan, Marie Hunsucker, Margie Gerber, Ernestine Gambill, Tommye Mitchell, Madelyn Weeth, Margueritte Nobles, Mary Frances Barnard, Jean Conner, Betty Coffey, Donella Bucy, Mary Wells, Helen Pemberton, Edyie Hill, Betty Loveless, John-Anna Williams, Ned McCleskey, Pat Hutton, LaJuana Leibfried.

Parliamentary Class Continues This Week

The remaining classes of the parliamentary law course being taught by Mrs. H. F. Godeke at Dupre school are to be conducted Tuesday, Wednesday, and Thursday nights in room 108 of the school from 7:30 until 9 o'clock.

Anyone can still enter the course by paying a fee of one dollar. Mrs. Godeke will give a review Tuesday night of what she has already taught. She also gives mimeographed copies of the outline of the course to those who enroll.

Dupre Parent-Teacher association is sponsoring the course.

Student Choir To Sing Here

The Denton A Cappella choir from North Texas State Teachers college which was formed five years ago and which has won recognition in the entire Southwest will give a concert at Lubbock Senior High school auditorium Feb. 11 at 8:15 p. m.

Dr. Wilfred C. Bain, head of the music department of the college, directs the forty young men and women in the choir.

A varied concert program ranging from numbers of the most elevated church music to negro spirituals will be given.

Recently the choir has sung for a large number of army camps in Texas and the Southwest.

Tickets may be purchased from members of the Allegro Music club which is sponsoring the concert.

Hays of Lubbock, is to take place at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at the First Methodist church in Colorado City with Rev. C. M. Epps reading a single ring ceremony.

Gladioli will bank the altar which is to be lighted with tapers burning in candelabra. Miss Luella Knox of Lubbock and Mrs. Bill S. Cooper of Colorado City will light the tapers.

Mrs. N. H. White of Colorado City will play the wedding marches.

Couple To Be Unattended

The bride is to wear an ice blue crepe dress with brown accessories and an heirloom necklace. Her corsage will be gardenias. When the couple leaves for a trip to Dallas and Houston she will wear a gray traveling suit with brown accessories.

A former student at Texas Technological college and John Tarleton college, Miss Whorton is a graduate of the School of Medical Technology at St. Mary's hospital in Galveston. For the past year she has been laboratory technician at Lubbock General hospital.

Mr. Hays was graduated from the mechanical engineering department at Tech college in 1943. He is an engineer with the Humble Oil company in Baytown where the couple will live.

The bridegroom's father and his sister, Mrs. L. H. Kirby, are to attend the wedding.

Crocheting Study Is Made By Needle Club

The Jolly Working club met with Mrs. Ed Jones, 714 Fourth street, Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Members crocheted and studied new crochet designs.

Mrs. Ida Alford and Mrs. N. D. Kelso were guests. Others present were Mesdames E. M. Rowden, J. E. Jennings, Orvil McDaniel, D. L. Ford, W. O. McAteer and George Hamilton.

Texan Unable To Walk Since Two Has Spent Normal Life For Eighty-Four Years

BY W. R. RUTHERFORD
Special Correspondent

DUMAS, Jan. 29 — This is the story of 90-year-old Mrs. A. J. Raines of Dumas and Stratford, who has not walked since her sixth birthday, but who brought six children into the world and managed to do her share of home and community work, and whose life is an example of courage to her relatives and many friends.

In October of 1853, Amanda Crawford was born in Munroe county, Kentucky. She was moved to Denton county, Texas, when she was two years old. Four years later she was stricken with infantile paralysis and robbed of the use of her feet.

Compensating strength flowed to the aid of indomitable courage, and the child attended school, aided with house work and grew into womanhood.

For many years she did her work on her hands and knees. As a child she helped make the family clothes. When she operated a sewing machine she disconnected the treadle and operated the machine with one hand and guided the sewing with the other.

Fifty Years Without Wheel Chair

A specially built horse block to the back of a faithful pony was springboard from home to school and on hands and knees the child and young woman conceded no odds to the more fortunate. Mrs. Raines spent 50 years without a wheel chair; she had been too busy even to dream of such a great comfort.

In 1875 Amanda Crawford married A. J. Raines of Denton county. Here again she declined to let physical handicap interfere with life and work.

The Raines had six children. Three are living. They are Mrs. Arthur Ullom of Dumas, Mrs. Josie Powell, who lives on a farm 18 miles south of Canyon, and J. R. Raines of Altus, Okla.

One daughter, Mrs. Nannie Bell Wiginton, died in 1921. She was the mother of C. E. (Dutch) Wiginton of Lubbock.

Mr. and Mrs. Raines, Sr., moved to Altus in 1900; two years later the family settled on a farm a mile south of the old Stevens community in Sherman county ten miles south of Stratford.

No one was a better driver of buggies and wagons than the lady who could not walk.

Helped Manage Cafe

Leaving the management of the farm to their son, Mr. and Mrs. Raines moved to Stratford and bought a cafe, and Mrs. Raines helped manage it. Not until after they moved to Stratford did Mrs. Raines get a wheel chair.

Mr. Raines died in 1904.

Though the years Mrs. Raines found time for her share of community and social work, and she is a charter member of the Stratford Christian church.

Now, at 90, she lives cheerfully with her children, mainly with Mrs. Ullom at Dumas. Mr. Ullom is deputy tax collector for Moore county and Mrs. Ullom has a contract for feeding county prisoners. The Ulloms live in an apartment on the fourth floor of the Moore county courthouse.

Here in the home of an adoring daughter and son-in-law is rest for the knees that kept going when the feet were stilled.

Here Mrs. Raines keeps plugging. Within the past two months, for example she has finished two quilts.

ACE Programs Are Outlined

Programs for the year have been planned by the Association for Childhood Education. Dr. Robert Lockard, assistant professor of engineering drawing at Texas Technological college, will speak on "Originality in Children's Art" Tuesday night at 7:30 o'clock at Seaman hall.

In March, Dr. Grace Moore of Hogg foundation is to appear on the association's program. The date and subject will be announced later.

An exhibition of work done by Lubbock Public school children will be shown in the gymnasium of the high school Tuesday, April 4, under the direction of Miss Dorothy Lomax, co-ordinator of the curriculum in Lubbock schools.

The last meeting of the year will be a banquet at which Capt. W. B. Irvin will speak on "Trends in Education as Conditioned by the War." Date and place will be selected later.

A.C.E. meetings are open to all who are interested in child welfare. After each program there is a social hour.

Miss Bonnie K. Dysart is chairman of the program committee, and serving with her are Miss Evelyn Jones and Mesdames Ivy Savage, E. L. McCrory and E. L. Mader.

Seventy-Fifth Anniversary Is Observed By PEO Chapters

"THIS, Our Seventy-Fifth Anniversary" was the theme of the Founder's day program given by the AA chapter of PEO at a tea at the home of Mrs. C. E. Maedgen, 1811 Broadway, Friday afternoon at 4 o'clock for Chapters AA and AK jointly.

Mrs. O. R. Hand gave "What Is This PEO?" as the introduction to the program. Other members took roles of past presidents and reviewed regimes of PEO under each president for the seventy-five years.

Mrs. Marvin B. Hilburn, who was general chairman, opened the program and closed with a prayer. Taking program parts were Mesdames Morley Jennings, M. C. Overton, J. H. Murdough, Jack Morris, John A. Winslow, C. J. Wagner, H. F. Godeke, Roscoe Wilson, Robert Allen, and Herbert Maxwell.

Before the tea, Chapter AA held a business meeting at Mrs. C. J. Wagner's home, 1644 Broadway, and AK chapter met with Mrs. Maedgen.

DFD Alumnae To Give Supper Wednesday

DFD Alumnae will give a supper Wednesday night at 7 o'clock at the home of Mrs. Albert Fortenberry, 2703 Twenty-first street, as a courtesy to active members and pledges.

Club Talks On Gardens, Books Are Scheduled; P-T Council Plans Playlet

FIRST week in February will be a busy time for study club and parent-teacher members.

Founders' day will be celebrated by the City Parent-Teacher council Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock in candlelighting playlet called "Burn Candles, Burn" at Senior High school auditorium.

Past city council presidents will be honored, and past presidents of local P-T units will be guests. Charter presidents of all organizations are especially asked to be present. Local units of the association will be presented.

Mrs. Charles A. Ross is Founders' day chairman. Mrs. Ivy Savage and Mrs. S. W. Brunson are in charge of music.

In the playlet are Mesdames Acle Cope, E. L. Price, T. D. Gray, Dave Carruth, J. A. Burns, George Box, C. A. White, Alex McDonald, Joe Nislar, J. E. Hartley, C. C. Chambers, C. W. Tatum and Odell Hughett.

Varied programs are to be given at sorority, reader, and women's club meetings this week.

Mrs. Teressa B. Gegg, county executive secretary of the Red Cross, is to be guest speaker for Alpha Delta chapter of Beta Sigma Phi Thursday night at 7:45 o'clock in the Hilton hotel Aztec room. She will speak on phases of Red Cross work. After the program, sorority girls will give a white elephant stunt. There also will be a business meeting.

The Altrusa club meets with Mrs. Leona Roffey, 2209 Fourteenth street, Thursday night at 8 o'clock. Dr. Pauline Miller, chairman of the club's International Relations committee, is in charge of the program.

"Also The Hills," a book by Frances Parkinson Keyes, is to be reviewed by Mrs. A. G. Barsh for the Readers Digest group Tuesday afternoon at 1 o'clock at Mrs. Tucker's Tea room, 1506 Avenue R. Mrs. Barsh is hostess.

On Soil Conservation

Subject for the Lubbock Woman's club meeting Tuesday afternoon at 3 o'clock at the Hilton hotel is "Soil and Water — The Source of Life." Mr. O. T. Williams, district conservationist, will give a lecture on soil conservation, and Mrs. F. A. Kleinschmidt is to speak on "Conservation of Natural Resources." Roll call subject is "My Garden."

Bookman groups of the American Association of University women meet in four units Wednesday night.

MISS PAULINE CHA[illegible]

Pauline Chaney Is To Marry

Miss Pauline Chaney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Henry E. Chaney of Cleburne, will become the bride of Flight Officer Charles Kenneth Emerick of South Plains Army Air field and Olympia, Wash. at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon at the SPAAF chapel with Rev. H. G. Gantz reading the double ring ceremony.

A note of interest is added to the double ring ceremony because F/O Emerick's ring will be his grandmother's wedding band and Miss Chaney's ring will be his mother's wedding band. Miss Polly Akin of Nashville, Tenn., will be maid of honor. She has chosen an aqua wool dress to wear with brown accessories and a white corsage. The bride will wear an aqua suit with turf-tan accessories and an orchid corsage, and she will carry a small white Bible. Lt. Don Ehr of Wisconsin and SPAAF is to be best man.

Attended Baylor University

The bride-to-be's parents and late grandparents are well known pioneer residents of Cleburne. Miss Chaney was graduated from Cleburne High school, and attended Baylor university. She has been employed in headquarters of the 411th sub depot at SPAAF.

F/O Emerick is the nephew of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Lang of Olympia. He attended the University of Washington and was a member of Alpha Theta Pi. He was associated with the Seattle National bank at the time he enlisted in the Army Air forces.

After a brief visit with the bride's parents at Cleburne, the couple will take a trip to Chicago and points of interest in the state of Kentucky, and will be temporarily at home at Bowman field, Ky.

Miss Lyle Is Church Bride

Miss Ella Mae Lyle and Dr. T. G. McCorkle exchanged wedding vows in a service read at the First Methodist church Saturday morning at 10 o'clock by Dr. H. I. Robinson. Only family members and a few friends attended the ceremony.

Mrs. Mamie I. Neal played organ music.

The bride wore a black and white suit with white blouse and black accessories and a corsage of Talisman roses.

Guests were Mrs. McCorkle's brothers, T. G and T. D. Lyle and their families of Ralls; Dr. McCorkle's father, L. H. McCorkle; his brother, Dr. J. B. McCorkle and family and his sisters, Misses Thora and Eula McCorkle, and Misses Margaret Weeks and Mabel Erwin.

The couple is to be at home at 3805 Twenty-first street.

The bride has resigned as assistant professor of home economics education at Texas Technological college. She holds a bachelor of science degree from Tech and a master of arts degree from Columbia university.

Zavalo Club Party Is Given By Leftwiches

Cpl. and Mrs. Marion Leftwich, sponsors of the Zavalo club, entertained with a kid party Friday night.

Members and dates present were T. S. Cranford, Wanda Jo Ribble; Joe David Sides, Sara Daviss; Roger Southall, Polly Ann Gossett; Fred Rogers, Nell Anthony; Tom Ingram, Pat Marquis; James Rountree, D'Aun Corcorran; Charles Walden, Sue Boulter; Clyde Nevill, Mary Beth Dupree; Jack Leftwich, Marjarie Read; Charles Luling, Betty Quinlan; and Bob Hassell, Gene Carolyn Harvey.

Bill Fox, an alumnus, and Virginia Pitts were also present.

Holyfield-Owen Vows To Be Read Tuesday

The marriage of Miss Naomi Owen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Owen of Olton, and L. L. Holyfield of Dallas, is to take place in Dallas Tuesday where the couple will make their home.

The bride-elect has been cosmetician at Hemphill-Wells store. She was honored last week with a series of parties.

SPEND WINTER HERE

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Miller, 3022 Twenty-first street, have as their guests for the remainder of the winter Mrs. A. H. Small of Verona, Ill., and Miss Ada Dix of Mazon, Ill. The Millers have just made a trip to Illinois, and their guests returned with them.

Alvin Michael Bloom Honored With Party

Alvin Michael Bloom was given a party at his home, 1317 Twenty-sixth street, Friday on his fourth birthday.

The guests were David Garsek, Harvey Leva, Pauline Finberg, Hinda Kahn, Gary Stansell, Ronney Silverman, Preston Beaird, Gordon Cizon, Ralph Robertson, jr., and Charlotte Vaught.

James O. Bean, seaman first-class, has been visiting in his home for several days after finishing boot camp in San Diego. Seaman Bean is a graduate of Lubbock High school.

Bible Teachers Will Lecture

The Church Women's federations regular fifth Monday afternoon program will be at 3 o'clock at St. John's Methodist church with the Jewish ladies auxiliary as cohostess.

Miss Bernice Scarlett and Miss Virginia McLean, Bible teachers in Senior and Junior High schools, respectively, will talk on teaching Bible in the schools. Mrs. Alsie Carleton will give the devotional, and Miss Polly Silman will sing "The Stranger of Galilee."

There will be an executive board meeting of the federation at 2 o'clock.

Churches belonging to the federation are First Methodist, Asbury Methodist, First Baptist, Nazarene, First Christian, Jewish, Roman Catholic and Episcopal.

"Nurenberg Stove" To Be Staged Saturday

"The Nurenberg Stove" will be presented by the Clare Tree Major players Saturday at 2:30 o'clock at Senior High school auditorium. This is thirl in a serise of plays which are presented under sponsorship of City Parent-Teacher council.

CIRCLE TO MEET

Circle for service men's wives meets with Mrs. Robert White, 2202 Fifteenth street, Monday afternoon at 2 o'clock. Mrs. J. W. Atmar will teach the tenth chapter of Romans.

Hello Peoples:

Well, it actually materialized—the absolutely new and smart brightly painted wooden pieces have arrived at the Decorators Studio. You have never seen such amazingly dashing colors as Beet Red, Magnolia Green, Yellow, Chartreuse and Mexican Blue. The Rumpus Room Cart is done in the combination of yellow and blue. This has the racks for twelve glasses and the cart rolls. See this set with red, white and blue glasses and blue glass ash trays—just the right thing for that Rumpus Room.

For the fastidious bachelor's apartment or a game room in a couple's dream house you should have the Bar done in Beet Red. There is a huge popcorn bucket in the same color that serves other purposes—a wood bucket, for instance (provided you have a real fireplace) or a bucket for cooling that bottle with ice all around it. The bookends are the answer to many inquiries we have had for bookends that are distinctly masculine. They are large balls that look good enough to eat. By the way, the girls have added just the touch this set-up needs. See it and I know you will agree with Grandpa Nosey.

You have been looking for gifts that will thrill the Army bride and now you can have it. What would be nicer than small wooden trays just the right size for a glass and sandwiches or what have you? She can pack these in a small box and not be afraid of breaking them when her husbands orders come through that he must move to another field immediately. There is a large bowl to match these that would make any bride proud to entertain guests in the smallest apartment. Cigarette boxes in these cheerful colors also make appropriate gifts for those who are moving from place to place. The salt and peppers do not waste a fraction of an inch—they are round but fit together to conserve space.

There is a coffee table in yellow and magnolia green that will do astonishing things for the informal sitting room or sunroom.

Come on folks, let's buy those bonds and plenty of them.

Yours,

Grandpa Nosey.

Miss Clara Pratt, agent, discussed the care of eggs with the members. Mrs. Rucker suggested ways to conserve gas, Mrs. John Redwine told the group about food being made from yeast, and Mrs. W. C. Vaughan gave reasons why eggs should be served daily.

Mrs. N. M Reed joined the club. Members present were Mesdames Bill Henry, S. H. Robinson, R. B. Sport, E. L. Corley, Earl Teague, A. C. Wright, and a guest, Suzanne Vaughan.

The club will meet Feb. 10 with Mrs. Bob Crump and Mrs. Lewis Brown as hostesses.

AIR SERVICE RESUMED

AUSTIN, Jan. 29 (AP)—Braniff Airways today resumed its direct schedules between Austin and Fort Worth. Service was interrupted last August when Meacham Field was closed to traffic for new construction.

NEW AUSTIN PASTOR

AUSTIN, Jan. 29 (AP)—The Rev. Fred P. Bishop of Weslaco will succeed the late Rev. H. H. Dare as pastor of the Shettles Memorial Methodist church here, District Superintendent L. C. Beasley announced.

The government's vocational rehabilitation program is calculated to prepare 50,000 physically disabled persons for employment in this fiscal year.

Call Is Made For Red Cross Workers Here And Idalou

Since the last yarn shipment was received at Red Cross production rooms Dec. 11, yarn for 283 garments has been issued and Saturday morning workers were expressing pleasure at the response. All Army yarn of quota 4, except six helmets, has been issued; there is yarn for turtleneck sweaters and for 14 pairs of Navy gloves still available.

Some war relief yarn for sweaters is still unissued and knitters are urged to come sign for work as soon as possible, as it is long past due.

The production room has round needles for Navy scarfs and dozens of these scarfs should be completed in time for the Feb. 14 shipment, workers said.

Surgical Dressings "Slow"

This week in surgical dressings has been "very slow," according to co-chairmen Mesdames I. C. Enochs and Richard L. Douglas. There are three shipments of dressings in the production room, 1605 Avenue J, to be folded as soon as possible. Two of these are direct from headquarters and one is an emergency shipment from Pampa.

The rooms are open afternoons between 1:30 and 4 o'clock.

Idalou Room Open

Folding of surgical dressings will be resumed by Idalou women Monday when they meet at a room in the Idalou City hall at 1 o'clock. Nine thousand 4x4 bandages are to be made.

Mrs. W. R. Knoles is chairman of the project.

The room will be open Monday, Wednesday and Saturday afternoons from 1 until 4:30 o'clock and Thursday evenings between 8 and 10 o'clock.

Fliers Captured In Bombing Of Tokyo Tortured Daily

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This startling story is the first eye — and ear — witness disclosure of the revolting tortures administered to American pilots who bombed Tokyo. It was told by J. B. Powell, editor of the China Weekly Review in Shanghai, to his assistant of four years ago, Frances Long. She tried to get home before Pearl Harbor, was captured in Manila, and while Powell suffered loss of his feet through Japanese treatment while an espionage suspect, she was interned in the Philippines. They came home together in the first exchange of American and Japanese nationals and met again last Friday to talk over the latest revelations of Japanese atrocities. It was then that Powell revealed that he had listened to the tortures of the American pilots who later were murdered).

BY FRANCES LONG
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Jan. 29—The Japanese not only executed American fliers captured after Jimmy Doolittle's famous raid on Tokyo, but also tortured at least six of them unmercifully beforehand, J. B. Powell, former editor of the China Weekly Review, said today.

Powell, a prisoner in the notorious bridgehouse in Shanghai at the time, now is in Presbyterian hospital here.

"In the next cell to us were six American boys," he said. "At first we thought they were marines who had tried to escape from concentration camps, but later we found out they were aviators captured after the Doolittle raid.

Tortured Unmercifully

"They were tortured unmercifully daily. The Japanese seemed to delight in torturing them, more than the civilians. That was because, I suppose, they refused to divulge any military secrets. Later two or three of them were taken to Japan and executed."

The bridgehouse, near the bridge which joins Shanghai proper and Chapei, is a drab brown building which used to be known as "the public residence of virtuous neighbors."

The bridgehouse has become a place of torture for Chinese and, since Pearl Harbor, for whites.

No Definite Information

Little was known about what went on behind those brown walls. There were rumors but there was no definite information until some of the prisoners were repatriated to this country in June, 1942.

Powell is one of those who came back. When I was Powell's assistant before the war, he was a cheerful, slender man of 157 pounds.

I saw him today in Presbyterian hospital ,a changed man: haggard, nervous, embittered. He has lost both feet. His weight today is 120, a gain of 45 pounds since his repatriation.

Going On Throughout War

"I am glad the Army and Navy released that material on atrocities," he told me. "Torturing of American, British and Chinese has been going on since the war started. It is right that the people back home know how the Japanese are treating our people in the far east, especially the way they are treating the military prisoners."

Powell's own story is an example of the treatment of which he speaks. Long regarded as an enemy because of his sympathy for the Chinese and his outspoken editorials in their behalf, the Japanese threw him into the bridgehouse on December 20, 1941.

From that day until March, 1942, he lived in a 12-by-18 foot cell with 40 other persons, most of them Chinese.

Uncomfortable Position

"Twenty-two people would have sat in that cell fairly comfortably" he said, "but we were forced to sit, day in and day out, with our knees hugged closely to our chests.

But that was not so painful as sitting Japanese style, with our knees crossed and most of our weight on our feet. That type of sitting was considered punishment by the Japanese. If one of us disobeyed in the slightest way, the rest of the prisoners were punished, too.

"We received regular beatings, even if there was no disobedience. The Japanese usually used a pine club, two by four inches, or a piece of board from packing cases. They beat every part of our bodies with these clubs, with malicious delight.

Couldn't Help Those Beaten

"We could not help or touch any of those who were beaten. That was the worst part, because so many of the prisoners died as a result."

On the first day of March, 1942, Powell was taken to Kiangwan and put in solitary confinement until the latter part of May. He was forced to write letters to friends in Shanghai to the effect that he was being well treated and well fed, despite the fact that his daily ration of one bowl of rice had been cut in half.

"By that time I was more dead than alive. Gangrene had set in in my feet because of malnutrition, cold weather and also because of the way I was made to sit. I finally became unconscious with pain and was taken to the general hospital, where my feet were amputated."

In 1276 Roger Bacon published a book which gave the first description of how lenses can aid sight.

Trial Judge Advocate's Office Provides Many Free Legal Services To Soldiers

Legal difficulties a soldier is liable to experience are the same he might have in civilian life, but his chances of smoothing them out in jig time are possibly better than when he was a civilian.

A complete free legal service for soldiers is maintained at South Plains Army Air field in the office of the trial judge advocate.

The office serves as the Army's prosecuting agency in the comparatively few cases where a soldier gets off the beam and commits a violation of the Articles of War or civilian laws, but as in a civilian law office, it probably performs more functions of "civil" law than of "criminal" law.

Handles Many Legal Matters

The Legal Assistance office handles interviews, preparation of instruments, negotiation, correspondence, legal advice and other work connected with legal matters. The office cannot actually represent a soldier in court, but can and does refer soldiers to civilian attorneys.

The Lubbock County Bar association, in cooperation with bar associations all over the nation, gives its help unstintingly to soldiers in need of legal representation in court. Lawyers here have agreed to represent soldiers referred to them by Legal Assistances offices and charge as fee only what the soldier is able to pay.

Capt. Camp Is Officer

Capt. William P. Camp, who practiced law in San Antonio for 16 years before receiving his commission in the AAF, is the trial judge advocate and legal assistance officer at SPAAF. He was an assistant district attorney of Bexar county from 1935 until he entered the army in 1942. He lives at 2304 Seventeenth street.

Enlisted man on duty in the office is Sgt. Turner Adams of 2613 Twenty-third street. He practiced law in Lubbock from 1931 until he enlisted in 1942. Assigned to the office as income tax consultant is Sgt. D. C. Henry of Crosbyton.

Secretary, court reporter and notary public is Mrs. Billye Wills of 512 Ave. O.

Notary Services Free

Services of a notary are furnished without charge to military personnel.

Captain Camp is the summary court martial which consists of one officer and presides over certain specified minor offenses.

In special and general courts martial, the trial judge advocate serves as the prosecuting agent and some other qualified officer agreeable to the accused serves as defense counsel. Criminal cases in which the Army has jurisdiction include all cases in which the accused is a member of the Army.

SPAAF ranks at the top of a list of 39 stations in the AAF Central Flying Training Command in the speed with which prisoners are brought to trial in special courts martial cases. The list was compiled over a six-months period. The SPAAF average is only 4.5 days, best record in the AAFCFTC.

Fewer Courts Martial

The number of courts martial handled by the trial judge advocate at SPAAF dwindled during 1943 in proportion to the number handled during the length of time the field was open in 1942, showing a distinct improvement.

Captain Camp and his staff are among the busiest and most popular people on the field these days, since they provide free advice and aid in computing income taxes for military personnel. Income tax problems always become pressing during taxpaying periods, since this is one of the most widely-used services of this office.

The office handles all claims for personal injuries and property damage for and against the government, records of proceedings of various boards on the post and disposes of effects of deceased military personnel, sending such property to the next of kin.

HOUSTON MAN KILLED

HOUSTON, Jan. 29. (U.P.)—William L. Ragland, 47, a barber, was killed last night when struck down by a car as he crossed a street. The driver of the car was charged with negligent homicide. Ragland's death was Houston's third traffic fatality of the year.

New Auditorium For Baptist Church At Lorenzo Completed

LORENZO, Jan. 29 (Special) — Rev. H. G. Verner, pastor of the First Baptist church in Lorenzo, has announced the completion of the new auditorium of the church. The basement and framework of the church were completed three years ago. The building, a frame structure with concrete basement, contains 16 rooms other than the auditorium, including the pastor's study.

The baptistry picture, a reproduction of a snapshot taken of the River Jordan, was painted by Miss Mary Cree Cosby of Bowie and presented as a gift to the church.

Verner also announced the recent installation of a nursery for the care of small children.

Chairman of the board of deacons of the church is O. H. Kemp. X. R. Banks is superintendent of the Sunday school and W. G. Barrett is president of the brotherhood

Forced Showdown On Fourth Term Planned

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP) — Senator Bridges (R-NH) laid plans today to force President Roosevelt's hand on a fourth term decision through legislation requiring that the names of presidential candidates be printed on the ballots which must be mailed early to let service men vote.

Bridges said he would suggest Monday that the Democrats advance their national convention to a date early enough to list the ticket on overseas ballots.

The federal ballot form in the administration's bill carried blank spaces for president, vice president, senators and congressmen. The voter either could write in the name of his candidate, or could simply designate the party for which he is voting.

Republicans argue that this pattern would give a break to the Democrats should President Roosevelt seek re-election because he has so long been associated in the public mind with the presidency.

Bridges will offer his amendment next week when the Senate resumes consideration of the service voting bill, caught in a welter of political oratory after Mr. Roosevelt demanded its passage in a message that spurned as "fraud" Senate-passed bill leaving the absentee voting job up to the states.

Five Children Burn To Death In Fire

CHICAGO, Jan. 29 (U.P.) — Five children, ranging in age from five months to 11 years, were burned to death early today when their home, a one-story frame building located outside the limits of suburban Melrose Park, was destroyed by fire while their parents were at work in a war plant.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Porter, the parents, had left their children in charge of their oldest son, "Sonny," 13, early in the evening to go to work. The fire, believed to have started from an overheated stove, consumed most of the building while the children slept. Sonny was the only one who escaped.

The victims were Laura Jean, five months, Selma, 2, David, 4, Paul, 7, and Grace, 11.

Illinois Private First On New Beachhead

By HOMER BIGART
New York Herald Tribune Writer, Representing the Combined American Press (Distributed by The Associated Press)

WITH THE 5TH ARMY at a Beachhead South of Rome, Jan. 26 (Delayed)—Five days of painstaking research has established that Pvt. Walter P. Krzysztofiak of Summit, Ill., was the first American ashore on the Anzio beaches south of Rome.

There were many claimants to his honor. Each unit that landed in the initial assault wave had one doughboy who believed that his GI shoes left the first imprint in the sands. But Krzysztofiak's claim is based on the indubitable fact that his landing boat scraped bottom two minutes ahead of "V hour"—2 a.m. Saturday morning.

Krzysztofiak was the bodyguard for Capt. Frederick Saam of Calumet, Ill. His particular job was to cut the German's barbed wire on the beach near Anzio so that Saam's men could swarm into town.

It was a very important job and the 30-year-old draughtsman, who has a wife and a two-year-old son, sweated like a taxpayer with a summons from the internal revenue bureau as the boat neared Anzio's darkened waterfront.

Morton Discusses Plans For C. Of C.

MORTON, Jan. 29 (Special)—In a meeting in the county court room, more than 30 business men were told the importance of a chamber of commerce by J. S. Mansfield, secretary of Levelland Chamber of Commerce, and Harvey Pool, county agent of Hockley county. This meeting was the result of petitions that had been circulated asking for the organization of a chamber of commerce.

R. C. Strickland was elected temporary chairman and Albert Morrow was named temporary secretary at the meeting Tuesday night. J. B. Nicewarmer, W. B. Cox, Roy Hickman, W. W. Williamson and T. L. McAlister were appointed as a committee to draw up preliminary plans, constitution and by-laws.

All business men, farmers and ranchers are urged to attend the next meeting which will be held at 8 o'clock next Tuesday night in the court room.

Escaped Corregidor Hero Says Only Part Of Story Is Told

FORT WORTH, Jan. 29 (AP)—A honeymooning hero of Corregidor, Maj. Jack Hawkins, whose Fourth Marine regiment was cited three times by the President and whose own DSC was pinned on his blouse by General MacArthur for "extraordinary heroism," declared here today that "only part of the Philippine story has been told."

Beyond that remark about the atrocities of the Japs against American prisoners, Major Hawkins can say nothing of the sadistic murders revealed in the "march of death" story of Lt. Col. Edwin Dyess of Albany, Texas.

And he can say nothing either of those last desperate days in the Philippines or of his capture by the Japs.

But like Dyess and two of his buddies, Major Hawkins fled the Philippines by secret means, eventually reached MacArthur's headquarters and finally came home to claim his bride.

After a five-year engagement, the young major was married last Dec. 23 in naval academy chapel at Annapolis to Miss Rhea Ritter of Detroit, whom he had met when he was a midshipman and when she was an undergraduate at the University of Maryland.

Stamford Girl Elected Tech Class Secretary

Martha Larche of Stamford was elected secretary of the freshman class at Texas Technological college at an election held Thursday evening in the Chemistry building. She replaces Frances Keim, who was elected during the fall semester and did not return to Tech for the spring semester. Other officers elected in the fall were: President, Ted Crager; vice president, Tom Pirtle. Miss Larche is a member of the Las Vivarachas club.

Representatives to the student council were also elected at the meeting, as is the custom every spring, since freshman representatives are not allowed to sit in student council meetings during the fall semester. Representatives elected were: Home economics, Betty Boulter, Ko Shari member from Lubbock; engineering, Robert Dennis, Wrangler member from Sundown; arts and science, Charlene Fisher, Las Vivarachas member from Slaton; and commerce, Jack Thompson, Wrangler member from Lubbock. No agriculture division student was elected.

CONE, Jan. 29 (Special)—At a Fourth War Loan auction here Friday night $23,755 in war bonds was raised in the auctioning of pies, cakes and other delicacies. Auctioneer for the affair was Kenneth Bozeman of Lubbock who reported that one stick of chewing gum brought $200 in bond bids.

Principal speaker was O. C. Thomas of Ralls. Drive chairman are: L. M. Tomme and Jack Robinson. Quota for Cone in the drive was $13,000. Bozeman said that the expense money paid him for his services would be donated to the Milam's Orphan home.

Yankees, Germans Call Battle Truce To Move Wounded

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY IN ITALY, Jan. 27. (Delayed)—Two men—an American captain and a private — carrying a Red Cross banner tied to two sticks marched through battered no man's land to the brink of the bloody Rapido river today and crossed into German territory amid a deathly silence.

They walked on across the stricken land — scene of the heaviest fighting since Salerno—until they came to a barbed-wire barrier where they were soon greeted by a German officer.

They were there in response to a German request for a battle lull to evacuate casualties, and after terms were agreed upon locally both sides withheld their fire while 75 Yankee medical officers and a smaller number of Germans removed the dead and wounded. Some had been lying under heavy artillery fire for three days.

The Americans brought back 25 bodies and four wounded men, one of whom was a medical officer. When he was lifted into a litter, the latter grinned feebly and said: "Look, I have got maid service—you can't beat this battlefield."

Elsewhere fighting raged uninterrupted along the battlefront and soon after the truce time expired both sides opened up with heavy, rolling artillery barrages. This sector of the sanguinary Rapido river again became a "no man's land."

Drastic Cuts In Funds For U. S. "News" Agencies Are Urged

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP) — Representative Anderson (R-Calif) recommended today that the House order "drastic reductions" in funds appropriated government information agencies for printing "so-called" news, which he contended was dead before ever being released to the press.

The Californian said federal agencies had increased their use of paper 40 per cent during the last fiscal year in the face of a 23 per cent paper reduction decreed for private publishers.

Lack of use by newspapers of the government's news releases indicates, Anderson maintained, "waste, extravagance, duplication and lost manpower."

Floydada Pastor To Leave For Indiana

FLOYDADA, Jan. 29 (Special) —Rev. A. C. Durrant, pastor of Cumberland Presbyterian church here for the past 15 months, will leave Monday with his wife and two daughters for Indianapolis, Ind. He has accepted the call as pastor of a church in that city, having resigned his pastorate here on Jan. 1, effective next Sunday.

Rev. Durrant said in announcing his departure, "Our own congregation, the citiens of the community and the pastors of other congregations of Floydada have been most co-operative and helpful." He will preach his last sermons here Sunday morning and evening.

By 1944 there will be an estimated 46,500,000 persons in the United States under the federal old-age and survivors insurance program.

Floydada Rotary Club Observes Anniversary

FLOYDADA, Jan. 29 (Special) —Rotarians from Ralls, Plainview and Lockney were guests of Floydada Rotary club in its meeting Wednesday, at which time the fifteenth anniversary of the organization was celebrated. The club reported 100 per cent attendance for the occasion.

All charter members, whether local residents or now removed from Floydada, were invited. Among telegrams of felicitation received were those from Robt. A. Sone, Corpus Christi; B. L. Blacklock, Munday; A. D. Cummings, Olney; and Geo. A. Lider, Wichita Falls. These were charter members of the club.

It was pointed out at the meeting that Plainview Rotary club sponsored the Floydada club fifteen years ago. Fred Lowe, D. D. Bowman and J. B. Caldwell, of that club, instrumental in the organization of the club here, were among those present in a delegation of 12 Tuesday from Plainview.

Rev. Lester Rickman of Plainview, made the principal address.

Count de Prorok To Be Speaker Thursday At Knife And Fork

"France Fights On From Africa," the most thrilling saga of World War II, will be the subject of Count Byron de Prorok, guest speaker, at the February dinner of the Knife and Fork club at the Hilton hotel Thursday, Feb. 3, at 7 p. m.

The gripping story of General de Gaulle, the hair raising escape of General Giraud, ships that fought on when France fell, others that were sent to the bottom of the sea rather than submit to German capture, brave officers and brave men from the Foreign Legion and from lowly villages and farms who underwent every privation to set up a new and powerful branch of the United Nations forces are all told by Count de Prorok.

Born in Mexico (1896) of Polish-French - Magyar - English ancestry Count de Prorok inherited an ancient Polish title. He is one of the world's outstanding archeaologists. He has dug up more mummies and explored more ancient cities and civilizations than any other living man. He owns a Ninth Century castle in Normandie (occupied France) will the largest private mummy collection in the world. (Now in German hands).

The Count has been an American citizen for several years and speaks perfect English. He is the author of "Dead Men Do Tell Tales" published in March 1942, and many other books.

Count de Prorok tells the generally unknown story of the march of the modern legion across the steaming jungles and burning Sahara barrens from Lake Chad to Tunis in the spring of 1943 when the French patriots helped crush "the Afrika Korps." He brings personal word of the half million French troops from Africa making up France's modern army of freedom.

More Beef For Armed Services Is Ordered

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP) — The War Food administration today directed packers operating under federal inspection to set aside a larger quantity of beef for the armed services.

This order will give the military services about 30 per cent of the current production of beef. It comes shortly after the office of price administration announced increases in ration point values of most cuts of beef effective February 1.

Under the WFA order, packers must set aside at least 80 per cent of all canner and cutter beef for the armed services.

Prior to today's order, packers had been required to set aside specified percentages only of their output of commercial, good, choice and utility grades of beef.

Kidd, Ralls grocer, was elected vice president and C. W. Mann was re-elected secretary-treasurer, his fifth term for the office.

Martin Bormann Is No. 3 Man In Reich

BERN, Switzerland, Jan. 29. (AP) —Martin Bormann, chief of Hitler's private Berchtesgaden chancellery, has taken over the functions of the ministry of the interior from Heinrich Himmler, the Journal de Geneve declared today.

The newspaper said Bormann "thus becomes the most powerful man in the third Reich after Hitler." Himmler retains the title as minister of the interior "but had to renounce exercising a notable part of the functions" the Journal said.

The commercial production of tobacco began in 1612.

News From The Boys Serving In The Armed Forces Of Uncle Sam

AN EIGHTH AAF BOMBER COMMAND STATION, England —2nd Lieutenant William Clark, 22, of Levelland, Texas, has been decorated six times for his achievements as an Eighth Air Force Flying Fortress pilot. He holds the Distinguished Flying Cross and Oak Leaf Cluster to the Distinguished Flying Cross, the Air Medal, and three Oak Leaf Clusters to the Air Medal. Flying on 20 bombing attacks as co-pilot, Lt. Clark has flown recently as first pilot. Clark's first DFC was awarded for an attack on Nazi installations at Vitry-En-Artois, in occupied France, when, after his Fort was knocked out of formation by flak and fighters, he helped bring the crippled bomber back to base at low level through persistent fighter attacks. With 3 wounded men aboard, Lt. Clark and his pilot, 1st Lieutenant Jerome H. Mudge of Minneapolis, Minn., managed to get their Fort over the coast of Dover and land at the first field they came to. They brought the ship in skillfully and brought it to a stop by turning down the ball turrent guns to act as a brake. The ten men in the ship were all alive and the wounded recovered.

AN EIGHTH AAF BOMBER COMMAND STATION, England—Five Texas men assigned to work in the Link trainer room at an Eighth AAF Flying Fortress station demonstrate the functioning of the intricate pilot-training equipment to Everett A. Hansen, St. Paul, Minn., (second from right) a technical representative of the Minneapolis Honeywell Regulator company. Of the Texas men, three are natives of Lubbock, and a fourth lived there two years. Left to right: Staff Sgt. Chauncey C. Gammill, 28, 2305 Eighth st., Lubbock; Cpl. Lyman A. Jones, 28, Amarillo; Pfc. Roy C. Pickens, 36, 1639 Nineteenth st., Lubbock; Staff Sgt. Ralph S. Krebbs, 26, (in trainer) 1608 Broadway, Lubbock; Hansen, and Staff Sgt. Alvan K. Parchman, 25, of Lorenzo, who attended Texas Tech at Lubbock.

Texans serving in the Army, Navy, Marines and Coast Guard in the Hawaiian area gathered in a Texas Round-Up in Moana Park, Honolulu, Jan. 16 to honor Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, commander in chief of the U. S. fleet in the Pacific and a native Texan. Marion W. (Buddy) Sprague, storekeeper, second class, wrote his mother Mrs. Frances Hermann, 1908 Broadway, after the party, sending a program and writing an interesting account of the event. Texas day hostesses for the celebration included Miss Loxey Shropshire of Dallas, who represented Lubbock, and Mrs. Julia Coleman of Winnsboro, who represented Texas Tech. Riley H. Allen, editor of the Honolulu Star-Bulletin, who is from Colorado City, was master of ceremonies. Sprague wrote that it was a great thrill to hear the crowd sing "The Eyes of Texas" that far from home. The Lubbock and Tech gang crowded under a huge palm tree in the park and Sprague sent home the following list of those attending: James R. Hughes, seaman, first class, U. S. Navy reserve; Howard F. Green, aviation radioman, third class, U. S. Navy; George H. Ater, U. S. Coast Guard; Wayne Dee Groce, U. S. Army; Pfc. John Houk, Marine corps; Pfc. Lloyd Sursa, and Sgt. W. J. Taylor, Marines; L. V. Risinger, civil service; Theo Mitchell, Army; Capt. Roscoe Clark, Ensign Gregg, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Davis.

Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Turner of Idalou have been informed of the promotion of their son, William L. Turner, stationed somewhere in China with the U. S. Air forces, to the rank of Major. Information came in a letter from Major Turner, who has seen action in Java and in New Guinea. He has served overseas since Dec. 18, 1941, except for six months when he taught gunnery in New Jersey. Before entering service Major Turner, who was reared in Idalou, was attending Howard Payne college. In the letter, Major Turner assured his parents, "The men over here, as well as in other theaters, known without a single doubt that we are going to win the war. All of their thoughts are of the day when they can be home with their families and friends."

TURNER

PETERSON FIELD, Colo.—2nd Lt. Byron B. Chappell, son of Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Chappell of 1617 Eighteenth street, Lubbock, has arrived here for assignment to the Combat Crew Training school as a navigator, after completing months of specialized training in Army Air Force Technical schools. In civilian life, Lt. Chappell was a teacher of the Lubbock Junior High school, after receiving his M. A. degree from Texas Technological college in 1941. He was commissioned a second lieutenant at the San Marcos Navigation school, San Marcos, Dec. 24, 1943. Mrs. Byron Chappell, his wife, is making her home in Colorado Springs while Lt. Chappell is stationed here.

W. J. Shafer, Slaton, recently has been promoted to the rank of motor machinist mate second class in the U. S. Navy. He is serving somewhere in the South Pacific. Shafer, who has been in service 19 months, received his boot camp training in San Diego. He was stationed in San Francisco six months and for the last year has been at his present station. His wife resides in Slaton.

SHAFER

LITTLEFIELD — Clarence Cotter, who is in the army reserve and is a copper miner in Arizona, has been visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Cotter the past few days. Mr. and Mrs. Cotter have three other sons in the service: Raymond B., with the Seabees; M. J., with the U. S. Navy, who was at Pearl Harbor at the time of the attack by the Japs, and Joe Neal Cotter, who has just entered the Navy and will receive basic training at San Diego, Calif. Another son, who is not in the service, is Clifford Cotter, who is engaged in defense work in California.

LUKE FIELD, Arizona—Mrs. J. B. Robertson, Route 1, Petersburg, Texas, pins on the silver wings of a fighter pilot for her son, Lt. Harold B. Robertson, after graduation exercises at Luke Field, AAF Training Command school, Jan. 7, 1944. At left are Mrs. W. L. Robinson, an aunt of Lt. Robertson, and J. B. Robertson, his father. (AAF Training Command Photo).

Wm. Clyde Dane, 21, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. D. Dane, 2611 Ruby street, who enlisted in a Naval Construction battalion in October, 1942, is now stationed with the SeaBees on New Georgia island in the Southwest Pacific. He received his boot camp training at Williamsburg, Va. and in March, 1943, was sent to Camp Parks, near San Francisco, Calif. He was later transferred to Camp Rosseau and embarked for overseas from Camp Hueneme in May, 1943. He has seen service as a SeaBee in New Caledonia and Guadalcanal. He has been advanced to a coxswain, third class. His wife, the former Billie Parnell, received a Jap rifle from him recently, which has been on display at Lubbock Army Air field. The rifle has a bayonet attached.

DANE

Cpl. Cecil Flynn who recently completed a radio mechanics course at Coca Raton, Fla., is spending a 12-day furlough with his mother, Mrs. May Bell Flynn, 1406 Avenue J. He formerly studied at Madison, Wis., and Scott Field, Ill.

Seaman First Class Marvin Specter, 20, is in Lubbock on leave visiting his parents, Mr. and Mrs. B. Specter of 1913 Avenue O. He has been stationed for 1½ years at a Coast Guard barrack in New York City, N. Y. He will leave here Thursday and report back to New York City for further orders. Seaman Specter enlisted in the Coast Guard in October, 1942 and took training at Manhattan beach, Brooklyn, N. Y., later being stationed on a ship in New York. He has been overseas once, going to England and several other places. He found England "very nice." While coming back, his ship was attacked by enemy planes. Specter is a graduate of Lubbock High school.

SPECTER

CAMP BEALE, Calif.—Sgt. M. R. Appling of 1703 Twenty-third street, Lubbock, Tex., is now a student at the West Coast Chemical Warfare school here, enrolled in the 2nd Gas Noncommissioned Officers course.

James M. Lowry, seaman, first class, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. O. Lowry of Levelland, is a member of a gun crew aboard a merchant ship somewhere in the Southwest Pacific. He is a member of the armed guard of the Navy. He enlisted in January, 1943, and was at sea from September 1 to January 1 this year. He has been at Guadalcanal and other points in that area. He visited his parents recently on a ten-day leave. He is a former student of Levelland High school.

LOWRY

KEESLER FIELD, Biloxi, Miss. —The job of helping keep America's giant B-24 Liberator bombers in fighting trim for their aerial assaults on the Axis awaits Pvt. Archie A. Chism, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Chism, 2016 6th St., Lubbock, Texas. Pvt. Chism was enrolled here this week for Keesler Field's airplane mechanics course, having qualified for this Army Air Forces Training Command technical school with outstanding marks on the Army mechanical aptitude tests. The course includes instruction in B-24 fundamentals, structures, fuel and electrical systems, propellers, instruments, hydraulic systems, engine operation and airplane inspection.

BOWLDEN

JOHN R.

Mrs. J. S. Johnson, a Gold Star mother in World War II, has two other sons in the service of Uncle Sam. One son, Marine Cpl. Bowlden Johnson, died last July 2 in an Oakland, Calif., hospital after serving with the Marines on Guadalcanal during early encounters with the Japs. Contracting malaria, he was brought back to states and died from complications after numerous attacks of the malaria. Mrs. Johnson's oldest son, John R. Johnson, is a storekeeper, second class, in the U. S. Navy; he and his brother having enlisted the same day. He is now stationed somewhere in New Guinea where he has been since October. He has been overseas 14 months and was stationed in Australia for several months. He took specialist's training at the University of Colorado following his boot camp at San Diego. Sgt. William (Bill) Johnson, the third son, is in the Army Air Forces and is stationed at a Liberator base somewhere in England. He was stationed at Lubbock Army Air field 13 months before receiving training at Jefferson Barracks, Mo., and on the East coast. All three sons were graduates of Lubbock High school and former students of Texas Tech.

WILLIAM

HUTCHINSON, Kas.—Aviation Cadet Byron Davis Varner, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Smith of San Diego, Calif., has completed primary flight training at the Naval Air Station here, and has been transferred to the Naval Air Intermediate Training center at Corpus Christi. Cadet Varner is a graduate of Lubbock High school.

Lt. (j.g.) W. E. Connell, former student of Texas Tech, spent a brief leave with his family in Shallowater last week before reporting for duty at the Naval Air station, Atlanta, Ga. After completing his instrument training there, Lt. Connell will report to Alameda, Calif., for assignment to the Pacific fleet.

Pvt. James K. Wester, II, son of Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Wester of Lubbock, is stationed somewhere in England with the Army, the native country of his paternal and maternal great-grandparents. He is a grandson of the late J. K. Wester, former superintendent of Lubbock Public schools. Young Wester, who is a graduate of LHS and a former student at Texas Technological college, is in a signal radio intelligence company. He received his training at Southern Methodist university, Camp Kohler, Calif., and Vinthill Farms, Va., after enlisting. His wife and daughter, Nancy Ruth, whom he has not seen, are at home in Albuquerque, N. M., for the duration. The Lubbock youth has written his parents the American Red Cross is doing a wonderful work in giving the soldier a "home away from home."

AN EIGHTH AAF BOMBER COMMAND STATION, England—Capt. Leonard P. Roper, of Bullard, Tex., pilot of a Flying Fortress, has been named commanding officer of a Fortress squadron at this station, it was announced recently. Capt. Roper, 26 years old, was formerly the operations officer of the squadron he now commands. He has participated in 11 bomber combat missions over enemy occupied Europe and has been decorated with the Air Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster for "meritorious achievement" during these missions. A native of Bullard, Capt. Roper attended Texas Tech and was athletic coach at Frenship High school, Wolfforth, Tex., before entering the service.

ROPER

HE'S A MAJOR NOW—Capt. Spencer A. Wells, above, president of Hemphill-Wells company now serving in the Army, was promoted to a major the past week, according to word received here. Major Wells is in the inspector general's department and is stationed at Camp Polk, La. A captain in the infantry in World War 1, Major Wells has been in the service since December, 1942. He was adjutant to Gen. Charles McArthur in the Rainbow division in the last war.

Master Sgt. Coy C. Simpson, formerly of Lubbock, who is stationed at Richmond, Va., received the Purple Heart award in behalf of his son, Weldon L. (Sarge) Simpson, who was reported killed in action over Germany, Aug. 17. Simpson was a former Texas Tech student. His sister, Mrs. J. C. Brown, resides at 3501 Twenty-fifth street.

SIMPSON

SAN MARCOS—Ernest A. Conley, son of Mrs. E. A. Conley of 2113 Main street, Lubbock, and Clinton Thomas Ferguson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Oliver Ferguson of Ralls, are now members of a class of aviation cadets and student officers which has reported to the Army Air Forces Navigation school here for an 18-week course in advanced aerial navigation.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Scarborough, 1924 Seventh street, received word last week that son, Pfc. Alvin Scarborough, of the Quartermaster corps of the Air corps, has landed safely somewhere in England. Pfc. Scarborough entered training at Lubbock Army Air field in December, 1942, and had been stationed at San Marcos and at Augusta, Ga. He was at Myrtle Beach, S. C., before being sent across. He attended Petersburg and Lubbock High schools. Pfc. Scarborough was in Lubbock on furlough in October, 1943.

SCARBOROUGH

Walton E. Rogers, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Rogers of 1958 Avenue G, recently was advanced from aviation metalsmith, third class to second class. Rogers is on duty with the Navy in the Caribbean area. He enlisted February 18, 1942 in Lubbock.

Sgt. Orville L. Davidson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Morgan N. Davidson of Lubbock, has been promoted to the grade of staff sergeant, it was announced recently "somewhere in England" by the Eighth Air Force Bomber command.

WASHINGTON STATE COLLEGE, Pullman, Wash.— David Bozarth, brother of Mrs. W. C. Myers, of Lubbock, Texas, and former route boy for the Lubbock Avalanche-Journal, is now receiving basic engineering training under the Army Specialized Training program at the State College of Washington, Pullman. Bozarth enlisted in the signal corps October 12, 1942. He was called to active service in April, 1943, and took basic and specialized training as telephone lineman at Camp Kohler, Calif., before transfering to the ASTP.

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. — V. W. Carr, son of Vincent Carr of 1920 Twenty-fourth street, Lubbock, Tex., and N. W. Davenport, son of J. W. Davenport of South Plains, have arrived at the Oklahoma City university here for a five-month course of Army Air force instruction.

HARDING FIELD, La.—Second Lieutenant James K. Harrison, nephew of Mrs. Grace Hamilton of 2223 Twenty-seventh street, Lubbock, is now undergoing tactical training here in the famous P-47 "Thunderbolt," the world's fastest interceptor plane.

Pvt. Paul E. Stewart, who is visiting his wife, 1815 Avenue F, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. I. M. Stewart, 1720 Avenue E, is scheduled to leave Feb. 1 for Camp Fannin, where he is stationed. Pvt. Stewart is on a 10-day furlough, the first he has had since his induction into the armed forces last August. He was stationed at Fort Douglas, Utah, when he entered the Army, but was later transferred to Camp Fannin.

STEWART

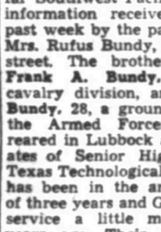

Cpl. Vance Swaim, former Lubbock attorney, now stationed somewhere in the South Pacific with the Marines, is reported to be in good health and wishes to be remembered to his friends here, according to a letter received here from Master Gunnery Sgt. Gene P. Welch, who recently returned to the states from that area. Sgt. Welch said Cpl. Swaim distinguished himself at Guadalcanal and Tarawa. He is still overseas but hopes to be back in Texas soon to relate his experiences. Cpl. Swaim is a former county judge of Foard county. His parents reside in Crowell.

Pvt. Gifford R. Chaney, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Chaney, 2420 Ave. K, is stationed at the University of South Dakota with the Army engineers, ASTP. Pvt. Chaney entered the service in February, 1943, and received his basic training at Ft. Lewis, Washington. He is a graduate of Lubbock High school. His wife, the former Katherine Duke, is visiting here for two weeks before returning to South Dakota.

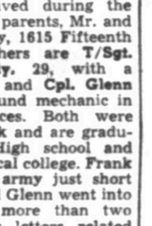

CHANEY

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Reddell, Lubbock route 1, received a telegram from their son, William D. Reddell, S 2-c, that he had landed at San Diego, Calif., Dec. 23, but for only a short stay in the states. He saw action on the Gilbert Islands where he took part in the battle of Tarawa. He is the chaplain's assistant aboard his ship. He is 19 years old, a graduate of Idalou High school and former student at Wayland college.

ALBERT

WALLACE

Aviation Student Albert L. Jones, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. C. Jones, 2309 Seventh street, is now in training at A. & M. college. A graduate of Lubbock High school, he attended Texas Tech in 1942-43 before going into service. Mr. Jones has a brother, Pfc. Wallace D. Jones, who made his home with Mr. and Mrs. Jones while attending high school here, who is now with the Army Engineers somewhere in England. He was stationed in Canada 17 months prior to going overseas. Pfc. Jones was employed in the circulation department of the Avalanche-Journal while attending school.

PERRIN FIELD—Lt. Grover J. Isbell, 24, son of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Isbell, 2606 Twenty-second street, Lubbock, Tex., has reported to this Army Air Forces Training command station as a basic flying instructor. A University of Texas graduate and former geologist with the Stanolind Oil company, Lt. Isbell completed his flight training at Moore Field, where he was awarded his officer's commission and pilot's wings.

Pfc. N. F. Mullins, jr., 30, son of Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Mullins, sr., 2224 Twenty-first street, is now stationed at March field, Calif., with an engineers battalion. A former Tech student, Mullins was a U. S. government engineer and was stationed at South Plains Army Air field and at Clovis prior to going into the Army. His wife, the former Ernestine Hudgins, also attended Tech.

MULLINS

LEVELLAND—Ray Wiley, who has been with the medical corps in Alaska for almost 28 months, is here on a visit with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. D. G. Wiley. After a twenty day visit here he will report to Fort Bliss for reassignment. Ray attended Levelland High school and was inducted into the army at Fort Bliss on April 25, 1941. He was later sent to Camp Callan, Calif., from where he went to Alaska. He is with the highway engineers division.

Clyde P. Savell, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Savell, 1005 Avenue C, left last Wednesday for U. S. Navy training at San Diego after being inducted here. He has been a resident of Lubbock for several years and was employed as a truck driver for Clowe and Cowan prior to his induction. His wife and two sons reside at 3407 Avenue K.

PIERCE

TRAVIS

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Truett of Becton have two sons in the Air Corps and both are stationed at the same post and work on the same shift. They are Pvt. Pierce H. Truett and Pvt. Travis P. Truett. Both graduated from Idalou High school and volunteered in the Air Corps on Nov. 1, 1942. They are still together, being stationed at San Marcos and both work in the sheet metal department on the same shift.

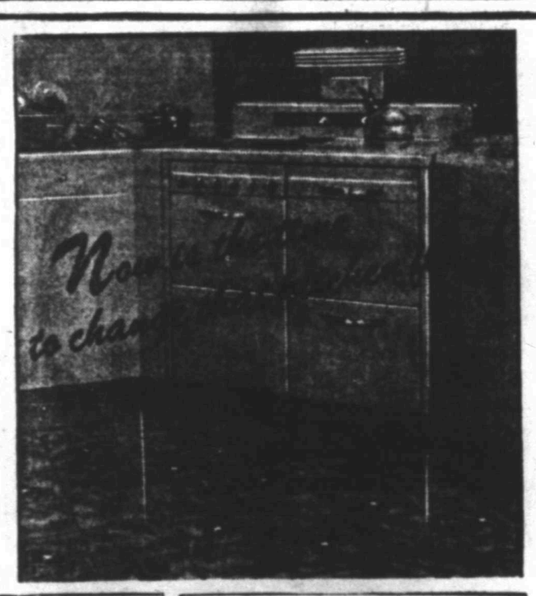

WITH THE FIFTH ARMY, Italy — Quietly, without fanfare, the men of the 36th "Texas" Division who haul rations, troops and ammunition to their buddies on the Fifth Army front in Italy are handling a vital job with the skill that wins wars. Recently a trucking detail, under the sectional supervision of Staff Sergeant Owen S. Lattimore, 1802 Avenue P, Lubbock, Texas, was wakened in the middle of a cold, rainy night to pick up a consignment of artillery shells, which were to be delivered in two trucks to the frontline gun batteries before morning.

LATTIMORE

Returning from the ammunition dump, the trucks moved slowly in the blackout over winding, muddy trails. Suddenly, they halted. The high bridge over the railroad track had been blown, and the driving rain had whipped the whole area into a pool of mud. The men decided to form a human conveyor belt. Spacing themselves at intervals, they passed the 50 pound shells across the ravine. Footing was treacherous, however, and many spills took place. The trucks, without the excess weight, detoured the pass and got to the other side. The ammunition was reloaded, and reached its destination on time.

Hollywood On The Loose...

Martha O'Driscoll Disputes Laraine Day's Charges

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 29.—Martha O'Driscoll threw a bombshell of her own at Laraine Day's charges that she saw too many brass hats and too much gold braid and not enough buck privates on an Army camp tour. Just returned from a six-week tour of Alaska and the Aleutians, Martha said the officers frequently gave up their seats to enlisted men.

Miss O'Driscoll

"When show time came—that was for the men," she said. "At Attu there were only a few officers' tickets for the show, and they gave their tickets to the men. Not one officer saw our performance. Even an admiral and a general missed the show. You've never seen such a sense of responsibility for their men," Martha added, "as those officers have in the Aleutians."

The rush to the lobby after film previews to see the stars has long been a pain in the box office to local theater managers. Other night, at the preview of Rita Hayworth's new film, "Cover Girl," the theater manager decided to do something about it. Just before the preview, he flashed a title on the screen reading: "Please keep your seats, after the preview. There are NO STARS in the theater. Save life and limb. Stay for the rest of the show." It worked, too.

GI HUMOR

OPENING scene in a new, and very dull, Army training film features a very attractive girl in a bathing suit. She winks at the camera, dives into a swimming pool, swims a few strokes and then climbs up a ladder. The film then cuts to a title reading: "That's all the entertainment for today, boys. Now let's get down to business."

Theaters Here To Stage 'Bond Day'

Lubbock theaters are to cooperate again in the staging of a "bond for every seat" day in connection with the Fourth War Loan drive.

Febuary 10 has been set as the day when theater patrons will be admitted to all Lubbock theaters if they have purchased a bond in the Fourth War Loan drive.

Bond purchases will be admitted to the Tech, Midway and Arcadia theaters any time during the day or night while admission to the Lindsey theater will only be allowed bond purchasers after 6 p. m.

A premiere showing of "Destination Tokyo" will feature the program at the Lindsey. The picture, a saga of submarine life starring Cary Grant and John Garfield, is said to be one of the finer films of the year.

SILVER PRODUCTION

MEXICO CITY, Jan. 29 (AP) — Mexico's silver production during 1943 was 87 million ounces, government figures showed today. The total was more than the 79 million ounces produced by Canada, Peru, and the United States combined, the report said.

Britons Ponder About U. S. Postwar Stand

DALLAS, Jan. 29. (AP) — Dr. Henry Sloan Coffin of New York, moderator of the general assembly, Presbyterian church, U.S.A., told North Texas Presbyterians today the question most often asked him on a trip to England and Scotland was:

"Will the United States stand by the postwar settlement?"

The British are weary, their land virtually ruined by bombs and cut up to make miles and miles of landing fields and to provide room for the invasion rehearsal, he said. "They know they are not strong enough alone to enforce a postwar settlement. They're not sure of Russia's position unless a stable organization can be set up.

"Almost wistfully they ask will the United States stand by. And what are we to say to them?"

Dr. Coffin spoke today at Fort Worth and expects to be in Amarillo Sunday.

BREWERS LIMITED

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP) — The War Food administration issued an order today limiting brewers' 1944 purchases of hops and their production of hops products—such as beer and malt for food—to last year's level.

U. S. military and war services will require about 16 per cent of the total allocatable supply of meats until October, 1944.

Ish Kabibble, The Gent With The Frozen Pan And Sheep Dog Hairdo, Is Doing All Right In Hollywood; His Real Name Is Merwyn Bogue

HOLLYWOOD, Jan. 29. (NEA)—For a guy who made a big hit in red flannel underwear as "The Man on the Flying Trapeze," Merwyn Bogue is doing all right in Hollywood. You know Merwyn—he's Ish Kabibble, the gent with the frozen pan, the sheep dog hairdo and possessor of the highest-paid stooge in Hollywood — Kay Kyser.

Merwyn (no wonder he changed his name) is the gent who plays the trumpet in Kay Kyser's orchestra, pays all the bills at the end of the month—he's also the band's manager—acts in all of Kay's movies, collects and publicly reads the world's worst poems and essays.

Here's Typical Essay

Such as this essay on feet:

"Feet are stuff that people who walk all over others usually can't stand on their own two. Feet have toes which is the same as fingers on hands, only without so much knuckle. Toes on feet run from small to large, but sergeants' feet run from small to ridiculous. Feet are stuff that never git lost because when you go to bed they always turn up."

But to get back to the acting department, which is the reason for today's dispatch.

In Kyser's latest filmusical for RKO, "Around the World," Ish Kabibble, teamed with Joan Davis, was given more comedy than he'd ever done before the cameras. When studio big-shots previewed the film the other day they laughed so long and loud they fell right down on their faces and smashed their fat cigars.

The studio is now thinking of casting him in a lot of pictures, and building up his roles in future Kyser films. There's even talk of starring him in a series of half-reel shorts in which he'd deliver more of his wacky essays and poems.

Elmer To Ish

Merwyn Bogue started out life with the Kyser band 15 years ago as a trumpet player and comedy character named Elmer. Elmer wasn't much of a success until the band was playing in a San Francisco night club in 1933.

One night, Merwyn, or Elmer as the boys called him, put on some red flannel underwear, was hoisted to the ceiling in a trapeze and sang, "Oh-o-o-o, he floats through the air with the greatest of ease."

That did it. Every night dancers would gather round the bandstand to watch the act. There were so many encores, Kyser finally told Merwyn to dig up a really corny old song to follow "The Man" to chase the people off the floor. Merwyn dug up an old song titled, "Ish Kabibble," figuring it would not only drive them off the floor, but also out of the building.

Results in Reverse

But the results were just the reverse. Audiences liked "Ish Kabibble" better than "The Man on the Flying Trapeze." Merwyn was a sensation. And when anyone mentioned him after that, Kyser said: "You mean Ish?" It's been Ish Kabibble ever since.

In fact, that San Francisco night club engagement which changed Elmer to Ish started Kyser's band on the road to Hollywood. Until then, it was just another band.

This business of combing his hair down in front of his eyes and acting the fool is all right financially, Ish says, but not so good for the morale of his 7-year-old son, Pete.

Not long ago Ish went to a P.-T. A. meeting at Pete's school in Beverly Hills and Pete's teacher took him aside. "Look," she said, "please do something about your son. He's upsetting my classroom. He's always combing his hair down in front of his eyes and reciting poetry and essays."

Ish says he's finding it difficult to stop the kid from reciting. But he has stopped the hair combing. Every morning Mrs. Ish slicks down Pete's hair with so much grease that even George Raft would be jealous.

Work To Start Soon On Levelland Housing

LEVELLAND, Jan. 29 (Special)—Actual construction work on the Levelland housing project is expected to get under way in a few days as material is being assembled by the contractors this week. Enough material will be on the ground to build 20 of the 30 or more houses so there will be no delays on this account.

Several of the buildings will be built on Avenue L, between Fourth and Fifth streets. Stacks of lumber have already been unloaded there.

Levelland asked for this authorization for building homes because of the seriousness of the housing situation here. Thirty buildings have been authorized, but needs are far beyond this number.

WAREHOUSES OF RUBBER

NEW YORK, Jan. 29 (AP) — Donald Richter, a rubber plantation supervisor in Liberia, said today that warehouses in that country were stacked with rubber, which apparently had not been moved because of a lack of shipping.

Officials In Quandary Over State Union Law

AUSTIN, Jan. 29 (AP) — Enforcement of Texas' new union regulation law — already under various court attacks — today appeared to be up to county and district attorneys.

Secretary of State Sidney Latham, whose office is named in the act as its administrator, and Attorney General Grover Sellers said that the nature of the act was such that local officials would probably carry the burden of seeing to it the law is complied with.

Monday is the deadline under the law for filing of financial statements by unions. Latham said only about 150 have been filed, and extensions of time were granted 85 others which operate on a fiscal year basis rather than on a calendar basis.

He noted that the act did not provide his office with investigators, and that information was not available to him as to unions which might not comply with the laws' provision calling for financial reports. He said that he could only guess that there were between 3,500 and 5,000 unions in the state.

The law provides that county attorneys, district attorneys and the attorney general are the enforcing officers. Sellers said that his office would proceed in an investigation if it were presented with certified information from the secretary of state that a union was not complying. It was his opinion local officers were in a favored position for proceeding against possible violators.

Blast Furnace At Rusk Is Approved

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29 (AP) — A three and one half year struggle by Rep. Nat Patton (D) of Crockett, Texas, to establish an iron ore blast furnace works at Ruck, Texas, has finally borne fruit.

Last night the Defense Plant corporation (DPC) gave final approval to plans for erecting the $3,500,000 structure, Patton announced, adding the blast furnaces should begin operating within eight months.

During the past 3½ years, the project had been several times at the point of final approval only to be referred back to various subdivisions of the War Production board and the DPC.

South Plains Oil Developments . . . .

Showings In Wildcat Test In Northwest Hockley Is Tops

TOP DEVELOPMENT of the South Plains oil activity during the last week was the showing of petroleum developed in cores at Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 1 Tom Cobb, wildcat test in northwest Hockley county, 12 miles north of the Slaughter field.

At the end of the period the project was bottomed at 4,669 feet in San Andres dolomite, waiting for orders, after cutting cores from 4,639 feet to the total depth, which had ben stained, and had bleeding oil and good porosity, in at least the bottom 22 feet of the inspected section.

Same Formation As Slaughter

Likely executives of Stanolind will issue orders to take a drillstem test of the zone already cut, and then to follow that up with more coring.

The oil signs are of considerable amount, unofficial reports indicate. They are in the same formation which is oil-yielding in the Slaughter pool.

Location of the possible new discovery, is 660 feet out of the southeast corner of labor 103-E league 75, Haskell county school land survey, and approximately 12 miles northwest of Levelland.

The new prospect is about four miles northeast of a dry hole drilled by Brown &. Wheeler, several months ago on the French land, which had some shows in the San Andres zone as it drilled down to explore the Clear Fork, lower Permian section, where it was barren, and abandoned.

Staking of location for a 7,400-foot wildcat in northwest Kent county, by Blackwell Oil & Gas company, Cushing, Okla., as No. 1 A. A. House, to be 1,407.62 feet from the west and 1,335.4 feet from the north lines of section 8, block B, psl survey, was another important item in the oil exploration program of the area.

Geo. Callihan, Abilene, contractor, is moving a cable tool rig to the location and will start drilling next week.

The project will be about 20 miles northeast of Post, and approximately 60 miles southeast of Lubbock.

Assembled By Harrison

No. 1 House will be on a block of over 10,000 acres assembled by Lee C. Harrison, Lubbock, and Howard S. Branain, Houston, and who turned part of the acreage to Blackwell for drilling the well.

Some other tracts have been sold to other operators, Harrison and Branain are reported to have retained interests in the deal.

The test will be almost four miles northeast of the Gulf Oil corporation No. 1 Swenson, Garza county wildcat, which was drilled in the northeast quarter of section 25, block 2 H&TC survey, in extreme northeast Garza in 1939, to a total depth of 8,104 feet, before being abandoned, as dry, in granite.

Gulf Test Showed Oil

The Gulf test showed oil between 7,352 feet and 7,400 feet, after plugging back to 7,400 feet. It was treated with 2,000 gallons of acid and swabbed 150 barrels of oil and 166 barrels of salt water, but could not be developed into a commercial oil well.

Continental Oil company has made locations for two semi-wildcat projects to the Clear Fork lime at around 7,600 feet, in northwest Gaines county, and in the southeast part of the Wasson field.

Continental No. 1-D-49 Wasson is located 1,660 feet from the north and east lines of section 49, block AX, psl survey.

The tests will be approximately three-quarters of a mile from the nearest production from the 7,600-foot level. The main production in the Wasson is from the top section of the Permian lime, which comes in at an average top of 5,100 feet.

Recovers Salt Water

Amerada Petroleum corporation No. 1 W. W. Kurfee, wildcat 12 miles southeast of Plainview in southeast Hale county, in section 6, block N, H&OB survey, recovered 8,000 feet of salt water on a 17-hour test through 210 perforations in the 5½-inch casing at 9,770-9,840 feet.

It had previously shown 1,900 feet of salt water on test through 197 perforations from 9,871-9,922 feet. Total depth of the hole is 10,250 feet in granite, with the 5½-inch casing cemented at 10,051 feet.

Operations started during the week on previously announced prospectors in east Yoakum and south-central Gaines counties.

Helmerich & Payne, Inc., No. 1 Higginbotham, section 539, block D, Gibson survey 6½ miles north of the nearest production in the Wasson field, had drilled to 521 feet in redrock and is running 10¾-inch casing to the bottom, to be cemented there.

Other Locations Made

Neville G. Penrose, Inc., No. 1 Brownfield, in the northeast quarter of section 563, block D, about midway between the Ownby and the Waples-Platter fields, and about 2½ miles from each pool, is building a rotary derrick.

L. L. Horne, No. 1 George D. Norman, wildcat to 5,500 feet to explore for production in the San Andres lime, in section 8, block C-45, psl survey, near the center of the south line of Gaines county, had spudded and is drilling past 150 feet.

DeKalb Agricultural association of Lubbock, No. 2-E University, prospector in extreme northeast Andrews county, in section 5, block 6, University survey, contracted to 5,500 feet, had progressed below 3,099 feet in anhydrite. Top of the anhydrite was checked at 2,200 feet, on the surface elevation of 3,325 feet.

Woodley Petroleum company No. 1 Mrs. Mittie E. Farmer, new producer, two miles north of the Wasson field in central Yoakum county, in the southwest corner of section 635, block D, has been put on the pump and has reported a settled production of 76 barrels per day, after clearing the hole of fluid which accumulated while the lifting equipment was being installed.

The oil is carrying an average cut of 1 per cent water and 4 per cent basic sediment. The crude is coming from the zone above 5,315 feet—plugged back from 5,340 feet. Top of the oil carrying strata was a 5,203 feet, in lime.

Sinclair Prairie Oil company No. 3 Granger, in the southeast quarter of section 487, block D, Gibson survey, and one location northwest of a producer in the Ownby field, in Yoakum, is testing after treating to the bottom at 5,355 feet, with 1,500 gallons of acid.

During first 24 hours of the test the well swabbed 153 barrels of oil, cut with from 6 to 38 per cent acid water and drilling mud.

With 1,400 feet of fluid standing in the well, the operator had already recovered 137 barrels more than the oil load pumped in with the acid, and had assured a producer, and an extension to the field.

Shell Oil company, Inc., No. 1 Ownby, in the northeast quarter of section 802, block D, a southwest extension to the Ownby pool, had plugged back to 5,388 feet, from a total depth of 5,399 feet, and had perforated several sections between the bottom and 5,270 fet, with three shots to the foot, and was preparing to treat with acid to increase the production which has already been developed.

Hickok & Reynolds No. 1 Bain Price, 5,500-foot wildcat in section 342, block D, in northwest Yoakum, 17 miles northwest of the Wasson field, had drilled below 4,920 feet in lime, and was continuing.

Humble Oil & Refining company No. 1 H. T. Fillingim, section 661, block D, Gibson survey, prospector in southwest Yoakum, four miles northwest of the Wasson producing area, is making hole under 4,495 feet in anhydrite.

Continental Oil company No. 1-A E. H. Jones, section 22, block A-7, psl survey, in northwest Gaines county, had penetrated to 11,272 feet in lime and was drilling ahead.

Humble No. 1 Cox, section 14, block A-11, psl survey, in west-central Gaines county, is progressing past 10,778 feet in lime.

Fishing For Drill Pipe

Carl B. King Drilling company and Bay Petroleum corporation No. 2 Blair, section 39, block AX, psl survey, an 8,000-foot development in the southeast section of the Wasson field, is boring through lime under 6,876 feet.

Shell No. 1 Jones, section 490, block G, CCSG&RGNG survey, two miles west of the Russell pool, where the production is from approximately 7,800 feet, had reached 4,600 feet in lime and was fishing for twisted-off drill-pipe.

Samedan Oil corporation No. 1 Jones, one miles north of the Cedar lake pool in northeast Gaines, in section 10, block 8, D&W survey, failed to increase production by shooting the pay section at 4,776-4,808 feet, with 40 quarts and 80 quarts of nitro.

The well swabbed 106 barrels of oil in 24 hours natural, before the explosives were used, and on test following the shooting produced at the rate of 100 barrels of oil and 3¼ barrels of water per day.

Likely the operator will complete the well as stands.

Sohio Producing company No. 1 Allsup, section 113, block 12, E&LRR survey, in northwest Lynn county, is making hole under 6,240 feet in lime.

After reaching the contract depth of 6,000 feet, early in the week, the test is being continued on a day-work basis, and likely will drill ahead to at least 7,000 feet.

The zone at 6,130-40 feet had streaks of porosity and dead oil—but no indications of production.

Richards & Carter, No. 1 Stoker, prospector four miles west of the Garza pool in central Garza county, and five miles southeast of Post, in section 32, block 5, GH&H survey, had drilled below 2,155 feet in red sand.

Hockley Test Completed

Sinclair Prairie No. 1 J. C. Tyner, 440 feet out of the northeast quarter of labor 5, league 48, Edwards county school land survey, on the northeast side of production in the Slaughter in west-central Hockley county, has been completed for a 24-hour flowing potential of 191.08 barrels after treating with 10,000 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 579.1. The pay zone was at 4,952-55 feet.

Sinclair Prairie No. 2 Tyner is a one-location stepout from the No. 1 Tyner, and will also be in labor 5, league 48, Edwards county school land survey. Drilling is to be started during the week.

Kidd & Cherry, Dallas, No. 2 Delia Slaughter Wright will be a south-side flanker to the northwest extension to the Slaughter in east-central Cochran county. The location is 660 feet from the south and east lines of labor 8, league 59, Martin county school land survey, and 1,700 feet south of the same operators' No. 1 Wright, now in course of completion.

Devonian Oil company No. 40-A Duggan, in labor 5, league 55, Oldham county school land survey, and on the southwest side of the Slaughter field, in southeast Cochran county made a 24-hour official potential gauge of 480 barrels, flowing, after 12,000 gallons of acid. Gas-oil ratio was 510-1. The pay was at 2,980-5,020 feet.

The Texas company No. 147 Bob Slaughter block, labor 72, league 38, Zavalla county school land survey, treated with 12,000 gallons of acid and flowed 1,041 barrels per day. Gas-oil ratio was 520-1. Pay section was at 4,925-5,015 feet.

J. C. Hawkins No. 68-A Mallet, labor 7, league 47, Edwards county school land survey, Slaughter field, in east Hockley county, flowed 281.56 barrels in 24 hours after using 6,000 gallons of acid in the pay at 4,876-4,953 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 585-1.

Other Locations In Yoakum

Texas Pacific Coal & Oil company No. 39 Ruth Bennett, account 1, section 631, block D, Gibson survey, Yoakum county, a one-location stepout to the Wasson field, was completed for a daily potential of 380.88 barrels after using 10,000 gallons of acid in the pay at 5,300-5,262 feet. Gas-oil ratio was 480-1.

Plymouth Oil company has made two locations on the outside of the producing limits of the north extension of the Wasson in central Yoakum.

Plymouth No. 1 Morrison & Woods, will be 330 feet from the south and east lines of section 613, block D, Gibson survey.

Plymouth No. 2 Morrison & Woods, will be 1,650 feet from the south and 330 feet from the east lines of section 613.

Each test will be 1,320 feet west of the nearest producer.

Other Wildcat Reports

Important wildcats, still in the same condition as a week ago, include:

Gulf Oil corporation No. 1 Dean, in northeast Dawson county, still fishing for drill-pipe with bottom of the hole at 10,455 feet.

Seaboard Oil company No. 1 Spraberry, in southeast Dawson, temporarily shut down at a plugged-back total depth of 6,900 feet, after failing to develop oil production, without a heavy water intrusion.

Fishing For Tools

The Pure Oil company No. 1 Martin, in central Floyd county, still fishing for lost tools with the total depth at a corrected figure of 5,324 feet in dolomite and anhydrite.

Atlantic Refining company No. 4 Dean, outpost to the southwest extension of the Slaughter, in southeast Cochran county, in the southeast corner of labor 1, league 89, Lipscomb county school land survey, is drilling under 3,735 feet in anhydrite.

Sunray Oil company No. 1 Wright-O'Neal, in labor 1, league 59, Martin county school land survey, a stepout to the northwest Slaughter extension, in Cochran, had reached 4,250 feet in anhydrite and was drilling ahead.

Gulf No. 6 Gordon, 5,280 feet from the north and 660 feet from the west lines of section 12, block X, psl survey, in southwest Hockley county, a southeast outpost to the Slaughter, had reached a bottom of 450 feet and had cemented 8⅝-inch casing at 441 feet with 125 sacks of cement.

Humble No. 1-F Matador Land & Cattle company, Dickens county wildcat in section 10, block AS, J. E. Calloway survey, a scheduled 7,500-foot development, was drilling in shale past 5,160 feet.

Three Soldiers Meet; All Have Same Names

WICHITA FALLS, Jan. 29. (AP)—Three unrelated soldiers with identical names got acquainted here today — solely by accident.

Sgt. John Poindexter of Sheppard Field felt in a social mood and introduced himself to a corporal from Newport Beach, Va. The corporal's name was John Poindexter, in officers' school at Fort Sill, Okla.

While the two were talking, a stranger came up and asked for a match. Introductions revealed he was John Poindexter, a private from Honolulu and a pre-cadet at Sheppard Field.

So three John Poindexters—not related—met in the same USO club on the same day and engaged in the same conversation.

U. S. Plans Tapering Off Of Stockpiling

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29. (AP)—Two major moves of the War Production board which became known today indicate that the United States is planning to taper off its aggressive stockpiling of critical raw materials.

The actions, not officially announced but verified by official sources, were:

1—The board set a policy to govern the size of stockpiles. The formula: Three months' supply at the full wartime rate of use; or one year's supply less the amount which the North American continent can produce.

2—All WPB division directors were instructed to take steps to see that England or other Allied nations considered are notified "at a very early stage" when important changes are planned in programs for importing and storing up materials which foreign countries have helped to supply.

The proposed size of stockpiles under the new formula was considered modest enough to allay industry's fears of a huge government hoard of metals which might be dumped on the market at the war's end with disruptive effects on the economy.

WEST SIDE OF COURT HOUSE

THE IMPORTANCE OF FUEL CONSERVATION MUST NOT BE MINIMIZED

The fuel used in American homes is a drain upon our limited resources of labor and transportation. The necessity of conserving it is great since the production and distribution of all fuel—coal, oil, electricity and gas—depends on manpower, which is in itself becoming scarce. The more fuel used by civilians, the less of these resources there will be to fight the war.

THESE SEVEN DO'S are seven ways in which you can conserve gas and not cause any loss of heat or inconvenience to your household.

(1) Turn off heat when airing rooms.

(2) Close off unnecessary rooms for winter.

(3) Storm windows are heat savers

(4) Shut heat off when opening windows for night

(5) Install automatic door closers.

(6) Adjust fireplace dampers.

(7) Close door immediately upon departure.

Be Prepared To Sound Your Voice!; Bold Strategy Seen For Fourth Term Drive

Don't Be Just An Onlooker

Be Sure You Can Vote This Year

NEVER before has it been more important than it is right now that Texans pay their poll taxes, and thus qualify themselves to vote this year.

This statement has been made many times before. We must plead guilty to having made it during other poll tax payment periods. But never has it been made with such complete and obvious truth as right now.

Everyone knows of at least five elections —national, state and local—that will occur this year. Everyone has ample warning that pressure groups of all kinds throughout the nation are seeing to it that they will be able to marshal every last ounce of their strength at the polls.

Therefore, the plain people, of whom those in Lubbock and Texas are typical, must be prepared to protect their interests. They won't be able to represent their interests at the polls unless they are qualified to vote. And they can't be qualified unless they pay their poll taxes or hold exemption certificates.

So, if you have not attended to this matter already, do so at once. Remember, Monday midnight is the absolute deadline. If you don't qualify to vote by then, you'll be on the sidelines while others decide the most critical issues and candidacies in history.

Here's That Big Chance!

MOST of us who remain at home have said and thought, perhaps many times, that we would like nothing better than the opportunity to take a personal slap at the Axis.

Well, everyone in Lubbock will have some very special opportunities of this kind during the coming week. They will be opportunities afforded during the Fourth War Loan drive.

The campaign already is in progress in rural areas of the county. In the city of Lubbock, it will get under way Tuesday and will be pressed with particular vigor through Wednesday and Thursday. Most people in the city will be called upon by members of the campaign organization during those days. Every additional bond you buy during those days, or during the Loan drive, is going to be a blow at the Axis delivered, in person, by you. It also is going to help curb the dangers of ruinous inflation and will represent added security for you during the post-war period.

Naturally, the purchase of additional bonds will require strain on the part of a great many people. But that will not be an excuse for not buying. We all know that millions of men really are sacrificing. There is nothing that people at home might do that is remotely comparable to the genuine sacrifice that members of our fighting forces have made, are making and must be prepared to make.

Most of us have talked, smugly or sincerely, at one time or another, about our eagerness to help those men all we can. This coming week offers the opportunity to prove that we meant what we said. In the vernacular, it demands of us that we put our money where our mouth is.

A Full Correction Needed

MOST Americans will hope intensely that Congress won't let the matter drop with the blistering report by a House special committee the other day which charged the National War Labor board with usurping powers forbidden to it by the Constitution.

Specifically, the committee condemned the board's policies in enforcing maintenance-of-membership clauses between workers and employers. This is a clause which means, in effect, that an American citizen can't work on most war jobs—including government war contracts—unless he is a dues-paying member of a labor union. The War Labor board has upheld this policy which places union membership ahead of an American citizen's right to work and to aid in the war effort.

However, the committee's report is only the first step toward correcting a condition which disgraces a nation that pretends to be a democracy. If the report is ignored, or made the subject of endless wrangling, or is pigeon-holed, conditions will continue as they have been.

It is hoped, for the welfare of America, that Congress, will accept the committee report, and will carry on vigorously from there. If Congress fails to do this, it is a fact that American citizens should bear in mind when they go to the polls in the elections this year.

The One Minute Sermon

Give to every man that asketh of thee; and of him that taketh away thy goods ask them not again.

And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.—Luke 6; 30 and 31.

OUR PLEDGE

WE pledge allegiance to the Flag of the United States, and to the Republic for which it stands, One Nation, indivisible, with Liberty and justice for all.

A Little Confusing, Isn't It?

Introducing Major Bland, Most Envied Man In His Squadron

On The Italian Front....By Ernie Pyle

By ERNIE PYLE
War Correspondent

IN ITALY, Jan. 29.—Maj. Ed Bland, commander of the dive-bomber squadron I've been with, is the most envied man in the squadron. That's because he acquired five cases of Coca-Cola.

Major Bland accomplished this remarkable feat by getting acquainted with a naval officer whose ship was in nearby waters. The Navy often has such rarities as this, and is usually good about sharing them with Army friends.

ERNIE PYLE

The major is a very popular man ordinarily but now he has become doubly popular. The Coca-Cola is down to two cases already and going fast.

Speaking of Coca-Cola, do you remember the item in this column a month or so ago, about the soldier who got a bottle of it from home and decided to give it as first prize in a lottery? The proceeds were to be used for adopting the child of a soldier killed in this outfit.

Radio Goes Haywire

When I left them more than $1000 had already been taken in. I haven't had a chance to get back there and find out who won the bottle, but here's the reason I bring the subject up again:

It seems the Rome radio picked up the item, completely distorted it, and used it for home-front propaganda. The way it came out on the Rome radio was that our soldiers were so short of supplies they were paying as high as $10,000 for just one bottle of Coca-Cola. They not only gave the story a completely false meaning but they deftly added $9000 to the kitty. Well, that's one way to fight a war.

BACK to Major Bland—he never knows what to say when people ask where he's from. Sometimes he answers Oklahoma and sometimes Colorado.

He was raised in Waurika, Okla., where his parents still live. But he married a girl from Fort Morgan, Colo., and home to most soldiers is wherever their wife is. Ed's plane is named: "Annie Jane" for his wife.

He has seen their baby only once—he got home for a few hours when the baby was four days old, and then came right overseas.

His father is agent for the Rock Island railway. Ed often thinks how ironic it is that his father has spent a lifetime making trains run and here his son is overseas shooting up trains as fast as he can so they won't run.

Ed has had one of the "small world" experiences, only it hasn't finally culminated yet. His best friend back in Waurika was a doctor named Ralph S. Phelan. They haven't seen each other for three years and had lost track of each other.

But just the other day Ed found out that his friend is Captain Phelan of the Medical corps and that for months he has been up in the front lines here in Italy working right below the skies where Ed does his dive bombing every day. They haven't yet got around to seeing each other.

Kentuckian Is Youngest

The youngest pilot in the squadron is Lt. Robert L. Drew, who is 19. He comes from Fort Thomas, Ky., but as young as he is he outranks his own father, for young Drew is a first lieutenant while his dad is only a shavetail.

The father, Robert W. Drew, was in the Navy in the last war, ran a flying-boat service on the Ohio river in recent years, and is now a ferry-command pilot back home.

ONE of my friends in this squadron is Corp. Adolph Seeger, who owns a farm two miles outside of Evansville, Ind. Seeger is a driver. Although most of the other enlisted men live in the same apartment building the pilots live in, Seeger voluntarily sleeps in a tent at the motor pool in order to be near at hand in emergencies.

Seeger thinks it is odd that he should be over here driving a car which doesn't seem to him very important, while at home his 64-acre farm lies idle because there's no one left to farm it. His mother lives there all alone.

Joke Is On Pilot

Around the airdrome they joke about how one pilot won his victory over an enemy plane.

It seems he caught a tiny observation plane, similar to our Cubs, while he was out on a low-level mission. As soon as the frightened little enemy saw our ships, he got as low to the ground as he could. One of our planes pulled up and came down at him in a dive. The little plane was so slow that our pilot misjudged its speed and completely missed him. But as he shot on past, his propeller blast caught the little ship, threw it upside down, and it dived into the ground—quite fatally.

There's more than one way to skin a cat, as they say.

YOU laugh at some very sad things in wartime. For instance, the pilots tell with merriment about the fate of a German motorcyclist.

Our planes were strafing a mountain road one day. They saw this German motorcyclist, who in his terror kept looking back over his shoulder at the approaching planes, and consequently rode right off the highway and over the edge of a 400 foot cliff.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

WITH the death of Lou Henry Hoover, the wife of former President Hoover, this country lost a LADY.

Mrs. Hoover, all through the years, was lovely—lovely in looks, lovely in character, lovely in manners.

I met her many years ago out in California, when her husband had not yet reached the highest office of the land.

She was simple, then, refined, gracious, charming and modest.

She was no less charming and modest when she was the President's wife, no less charming and modest to the day she passed away.

Mrs. Hoover hated personal publicity; she never tried to be in the limelight; she never took advantage of her prerogatives.

To her being a President's wife was not a bombastic privilege, but an earnest duty.

It doesn't matter what your politics may be, you couldn't help admiring her.

It wouldn't matter whether your mother was a Republican or a Democrat, would it?

To me, Mrs. Hoover was the typical American woman.

The Hoovers are wealthy. But to her last day, she was her husband's companion, his helpmate, his inspiration, his WIFE.

Many a time, I used to see the Hoovers together, on walks, on rides, on train journeys.

I like Mr. Hoover. He deserved a woman like Lou Henry.

Regardless what you think of him as a President; as an American, as a man of principle, as a gentleman, I know no finer specimen.

I know he will miss his Lou. Thousands of people will miss her, particularly the Girl Scouts and former Girl Scouts for whom she did so much in her quiet, dignified, efficient way.

HERBERT Hoover never was a "glad hand." He was always a lonesome man, even with many friends around.

Lou Henry Hoover helped him to share his loneliness—with her firm but soothing fireside presence and the warmth of her heart.

Herbert Hoover will be very, very lonely from now on.

But he has the solace of more than 40 years of happiness and honest, decent, loving companionship.

There must be an end to every life.

But there need be no end to memories.

Frank Tactics Anticipated

(The National Whirligig)

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

PRESIDENT Roosevelt's friends expect he will pursue a re-election strategy different from and bolder than that adopted when he sought a third term in 1940. Then, he withheld news of his "willingness" to run again until the last minute and offered himself as a formal candidate only after the convention had assembled at Chicago.

They believe that because international conditions have undergone a change he can afford to use more frank and aggressive tactics. Four years ago he cited the fall of France and the Low Countries in May 1940 as the reason why he should forego a "personal desire to retire" and remain in office. But the war will be a continuing affair by July instead of a sudden crisis; there will be no need for him to be so coy as he was the last time.

Thus his intimates think that he will issue a carefully prepared statement within a few months, announcing that he will head the ticket if the delegates "demand the sacrifice." The move, naturally, would sweep aside even the faint opposition that now exists.

The politicos behave as if they anticipate such a daring stroke. At this time four years ago only a few brave spirits were demanding that Mr. Roosevelt violate the two-term tradition. But now he has been urged to do it again by the Democratic National committee, Vice President Henry Wallace, Speaker Sam Rayburn and many other prominent party leaders.

The only conceivable thing that might stop him would be conclusive evidence that he would be defeated in November. It is generally agreed that he will sidestep a nomination in that event. But so far he appears confident that the people will endorse his regime, especially his post-Pearl Harbor policies.

EAGER: The destruction of Japan, after Hitler has been finished off, will be largely a Navy-Air Forces job with use of a minimum of American infantrymen. To mothers and fathers who have worried lest their sons' European service be followed by a year or more of warfare in the Pacific, this should be good news.

Washington strategists cannot afford to disclose their detailed plan of attack, but it is generally conceded that the need for United Nations ground troops will be small once the enemy's outer defenses have been penetrated.

When that objective has been attained, it is estimated that the combined British and American fleets will be able to blow open several ports on the Chinese mainland, especially Hong Kong and Singapore. Through these bridgeheads the Allies will pour planes, artillery, Garand rifles, a force of instructors and food for the vast, experienced Chinese Army.

Chiang Kai-shek has indicated that his fighters are eager to deliver the fatal blow if actual invasion of the Land of the Rising Sun becomes necessary.

ACTION: Air bases from which Formosa and Hirohito's backyard can be bombarded will be established. Shipping between the empire's ports and her sources of supply in the south — Malay, Thailand, the Dutch East Indies — can be blockaded by submarines and planes.

Meanwhile, an enveloping pincers movement may be mounted by way of the Aleutians and the Japanese islands (the Kuriles) that might prove susceptible to seizure from the air or water. Under such a two-way pounding it is thought that the Asiatic foe could not maintain resistance for more than a few months.

Only a short period would be required for launching an offensive of this nature, whereas it would be a tremendously difficult task to shift millions of men from distant European fronts to the Far East. The transfer would mean a delay of several months. Moreover, there would hardly be sufficient space in crowded China to accommodate such an array.

But warships and aircraft can be sent into action in that theater without a time lag. Indeed, there are signs that Britain, China and the United States are almost ready to undertake the initial steps in this type of maneuver.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

A TIP-OFF on the true condition of Japan is Premier Tojo's recent message of alarm to the Diet, ordering stepped-up mobilization of industry with especial emphasis on plane and ship construction.

Experts on the Far East, including high naval officers back in New York from the Orient, declare that his open admission of peril indicates that he can no longer conceal from his own countrymen the colossal miscalculations of his war lords: They delayed too long in starting their factory expansion program.

The military clique plotted its original aggression very cleverly. By snatching outposts while we slumbered and by swiftly exploiting captured archipelagoes, we were at a disadvantage.

But, puffed up by initial success, the rulers rested on their oars. They reasoned that we would grow weary of fighting after a year or two, entirely overlooking that their empire was not equipped for an endurance test. They neglected to organize their own economy for protracted attrition.

Tokyo waited until last fall before she began to replace clerks, waiters and other services with women. Until recently very few workers were forced out of nonessential tasks to make munitions.

BRAIN: Hirohito's enterprises have been divided into three branches of employment: A.) Coal, iron, steel, light metals, aircraft and shipyards. B.) Textiles, glass and food. C.) Small businesses and those of slight value to the war effort. Whenever necessary the first group may conscript employes from the other two.

Heavy industries — especially steel — lagged because of an unsatisfactory price structure; subsidies have only now been granted to remove this handicap. By comparison: In October Uncle Sam produced 7,800,000 tons — as much in a single month as Japan turns out in a full year.

Tojo is hampered by lack of machine tools. Spokesmen of our jig and die trade state that he cannot procure the scrap iron required for top-grade castings. Owing to scarcity if electric power and motors, his hammers and devices operate on a belt-drive system, a time-and manpower-consuming process.

Japan's only reserve of engineers experienced in mass production is in the textile field; these technicians have lately been transferred to plane factories.

Had the Axis been farsighted, Germany and Japan would have built long-range cargo submarines; underwater freighters could then have carried rubber and other raw materials to the Reich; Nazi precision tools and know-how specialists could have been sent in return.

But the totalitarian brain trusts are not so superior as their propaganda would have one believe.

HOSTAGES: The relentless sparring for superiority continues between Nazi occupation authorities and the patriots.

Germans in Holland announced a razor blade registration week. The public, which had assumed this to be just another example of Teuton love of red tape, was given the high sign by the grapevine as to its true purpose. By sabotage, bomb damage and other disasters the enemy has been losing municipal population records, voting lists and other rolls from which they could pick their forced labor.

The scheme was to obtain a census of males (old enough to have whiskers) under the harmless guise of tabulating owners of shaving equipment.

One of the most severe measures adopted in Norway is the taking of high school boys as hostages. They are allowed to attend classes but threatened with execution if any of their fellow students attempt to escape to Sweden.

Outside World Comes To Quiet Irish Village

E. Arnot Robertson's "The Signpost" Is Book-Of-The-Month

E. ARNOT ROBERTSON is an attractive English woman, whose chief hobbies before the war were sailing boats and writing novels. Sailing boats are out for the duration, but Miss Robertson, in spite of her war job at the Ministry of War Information in London, still finds time for novel-writing. Her latest is "The Signpost," which has been selected for distribution by the Book-of-the-Month club for January.

ROBERTSON

The setting of "The Signpost" is a small Irish village. In this village there is a signpost, which reads, "Eighty miles to Dublin." This signpost is a symbol to the young folk who long to escape the narrowness of their environment.

Typical of these young people is Bridie, a girl whose character is portrayed with unusual poignancy and tenderness. Then there is her sweetheart, the fanatical Irish nationalist, Sean; the village priest, Father Keith, a good man and a stern man; Aunt Mary Sullivan who infinitely prefers talk to food or money; and The Gambeen, the loan shark who sits like a spider on the village web getting them all in his power.

The outside world comes to this quiet village, in the person of Tom Fairburn, an RAF flier on leave, and Denyse, a Frenchwoman, wife of a French banker who had gone collaborationist. The story tells of the changes these two bring to the village when they enter into its life; and of how, in turn, their interest and sympathy in the local problems give them a new perspective on their personal difficulties.

Miss Robertson, by the way, is the author of "Four Frightened People," which you may have seen as a movie.

FOWLER ON BARRYMORE

GENE FOWLER can write like an angel when he has a subject that moves him and he has exactly that in "Good Night, Sweet Prince" (Viking), a biography of the late John Barrymore. The tempestuous life of the actor would be right down Fowler's alley even if he had never met Barrymore, and, since they were close friends, you can well imagine that you will get more than your several nickles' worth in this volume.

Fowler does not spare Barrymore, but he writes of him with a compassion that should communicate itself to readers and enable them to understand this truly great actor and the lamentably tragi-comedy final years.

G. I. HUMOR

"G. I. LAUGHS—REAL U. S. HUMOR" (Sheridan), edited by Harold Hersey, is a collection of the best cartoons and writings from some 70 Army camp magazines. Back in pre-Pearl Harbor days, when Mr. Hersey started collecting these publications, as a hobby, they numbered a mere 50. But as the camps expanded and new ones sprang up, so did the magazines. By the end of 1941 the official Army list included 350, and today the exact number is a military secret; however, a safe guess would be more than 1,000. So far as Mr. Hersey knows, no complete file of these publications exists. Particularly the early mimeographed issues seem to be lost, except for those clippings salvaged by Mr. Hersey and now preserved in "G. I. Laughs."

"TALL TALES THEY TELL IN THE SERVICES" (Crowell), edited by Sgt. Bill Davidson of "Yank," the Army weekly, compiles some of the whoppers told by our fighting men. Humorous all the way, it tells of such feats as the nautical cat with the wooden leg who clubbed rats to death and of the G. I. shaving in a busy Army washroom who discovered he had shaved someone else in the jam.

STORY OF THE SOIL

"THE AMERICAN LAND," by William R. Van Dersal (Oxford), is the story of the soil of the country, its history, its condition in the beginning and now, the crops that grow on it and where they come from. It is a comprehensive volume for the student who wishes to be well read on a subject that is vital now and is written by an expert.

Today's Chuckles

"THE law of gravity has never been suspended," asserts a physicist. Oh, yes, it has. On several occasions when we were a lad passing a graveyard at night, we weighed about half as much as a hummingbird feather.

Be ready when these "Soldiers of Victory" call at your Home this Week....

THE "shock troops" of your Government's 4th War Loan Drive—a drive that must raise $3,597,000.00 in Lubbock County to put the punch behind the punch that may make 1944 the date of doom for the Nazis—will soon call on you to buy your personal quota of Bonds. For of the $14 billion that must be raised in this Drive, $3,597,000.00 worth must come from Lubbock County.

Welcome these Lubbock County men and women who are among —5 million of them—who are not only buying their share of Bonds but are giving their time without pay to call on you, personally.

Should your neighbor who is working in the Bond Drive fail to find you at home this Week, don't let that keep you from buying your "share of Victory ..."

Every bank, most department stores, every postoffice, saving and loan associations, most theatres, and hundreds of other places sell Bonds

Buy Yours Tomorrow...

Remember your job in this Drive is to buy more than your share of Bonds. That's the only way YOU can be certain you are still backing the attack. So be ready to meet your Bond representative with an open check book.

WE BOUGHT EXTRA WAR BONDS
4TH WAR LOAN

This sticker in your window means you have bought 4th War Loan securities.

Pipeline Is Near East Hockley County Line

LEVELLAND, Jan. 29 (Special)—The big pipeline, that has been under construction from near Levelland for several weeks has made its way to near the east line of Hockley county. Good progress has been made despite the rough weather that has prevailed in this section.

A large force of men have been at work on the ditch and the pipe liners have kept close behind, welding the joints of pipe.

When completed the line will carry oil from the South Hockley field and adjacent fields to Drumwright, Okla., where it will join other lines to convey oil to the east coast.

Preparation for the line is being made all along the route which takes a straight northeast course into Oklahoma. Huge amounts of material have been assembled in Floyd county. More than 200 carloads of 16 inch pipe in 40-foot lengths began rolling into Floydada, Petersburg, Roaring Springs, Dougherty and Boothe Spur last week to be unloaded in railroad yards at these points for distribution on the 16-inch Stanolind pipeline which will span Floyd county from east to west boundaries.

It is estimated the big pipe stringing job will be completed in a month or six weeks.

Governor To Speak At Matador Banquet

MATADOR, Jan. 29 (Special)—Governor Coke R. Stevenson will be the principal speaker at the 7th annual Father-Son banquet to be held Thursday night, Feb. 10, it has been announced by C. A. Pitts, general chairman for the banquet.

Ticket sale for the affair will open Monday, Pitts said, and plans are under way for approximately 400 fathers and sons. This meeting, sponsored by the Matador Lions club, was started seven years ago by Lt. Paul Eubank, reported killed in action in the South Pacific, Jan. 11.

Pitts said price of tickets this year, which includes admission for man and boy, will be $2.50.

MPs In London Look Like White Christmas

LONDON, Jan. 29, (AP)—American military police in London have blossomed out in a new getup which, according to one gleeful GI, makes them look like a half-realized white Christmas.

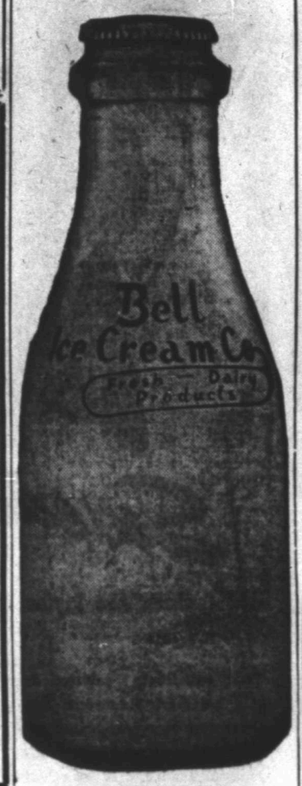

The outfit, which is intended to make the MPs safer in blackouts, includes a white-painted plastic helmet, a white web Sam Browne belt, white gloves and white leggings—all worn over an olive-drab issue uniform.
