Rangers Embark On Conference Schedule by Taking On Area's Top Ranking Dumas Team

The Rangers this week embark on the district 1-AA football schedule and bump into the top team in the Panhandle for their opening contest. They meet the Dumas Demons Friday night at Dumas and will be decided underdogs in the game.

Dumas has disposed of Canyon, Memphis, Olton, Hereford and White Deer and have only a tie game with Tulia to mar their season record. Under a new coach, John Whinnery, and with most of last year's team returning, plus an outstanding group of boys up from the B team, the Demons are enjoying their best season in a decade.

Last week the Demons disposed of unbeaten White Deer by a 39-14 score, while the Rangers dropped their opening game of the season to White Deer by a 28-6 score.

In their games this year, the Demons have employed a passing attack featuring a pair of brothers, Joel Lummus to Rusty Lummus; a running attack sparked by fleet little Joe Mowery and powerful Jack Berry. Their line averages 174 pounds and has been stingy with touchowns.

However, all is not gloomy for the Rangers. They displayed some savage blocking and tackling last week against the heavier Guymon eleven, and have the size to make the Dumas game an interesting contest.

No serious injuries were sustained in the Guymon tilt, and the Rangers will be at full strength for the opening conference game.

Probable starting lineups:

Dumas: Ends, Lummus (152) and Lacy (185; tackles, Travis (195) and Baird (170); guards, Riley (162) and Gaulding (170); center, Richards (185); backs, Lummus (131), Cashion (152), Mowery (122) and Berry (180).

Those planning to attend from Perryton are W. B. LaMaster, Lee Little, T. W. Gray, and R. T. Shindler.

Progress reports on highway 83 will be heard from all states.

Football Queen Coronation to be Held Tuesday

Dukes and duchesses from each grade in school will attend the queen and her attendants.

Half of County CROP Quota Met Last Week

With several workers still to report, approximately one-half of the county CROP quota was reached last week, according to H. B. Urban, county CROP chairman. The quota was three carloads of grain and there have been one and one-half carloads reported thus far, Urban said.

"We are confident of making the three-car quota," Urban said.

Tentative plans for dedicating the CROP cars have been made for the first week in November, when several state dignitaries will be present, Urban said. The drive will continue through this week and contributions may be turned in at any elevator, the Chamber of Commerce office or with any CROP worker.

SW Lineman of the Week

Keith Flowers Is Gridiron Whiz

Keith Flowers, one of Perryton high school's football greats and a member of the 1947 undefeated team, has been drawing praise from all quarters for his outstanding work as linebacker and defensive captain of the TCU Frogs this year.

Keith was nominated for the Associated Press All-American defensive team after his work in the Arkansas game and that same week was chosen Lineman of the Week by the Dallas Morning News for the Southwest Conference.

In fact, Flowers looms as a near-certain all-conference choice this year and if his play continues as it did in the first four games, he has a good chance at landing an All-American berth.

Here's what the Dallas News had to say about his performance in the Arkansas game:

"Flowers terrific performance against Arkansas Razorbacks was a dramatic one. The 200-pound senior linebacker, or defensive center if you want to be old-fashioned about it, was a limping terror in the Little Rock night.

"Carried off the field in the second period, apparently through for the evening or longer, Flowers soon was observed on the sideline, on his feet and working out a charley-horse just above the knee on which an operation was performed during the summer.

"And a few moments later, he was hobbling back into action to help squelch a powerful Arkansas drive which had almost reached the final stripe. That defensive stand turned the tide of battle, in which Arkansas had been giving the Frogs a clear-cut beating.

"It wasn't until the fourth period, though, that the Christians manage to go ahead. They did it on a field goal by—yep, Keith Flowers.

"It was a bad angle, the ball was slightly slick from pre-game rain, and Flowers hadn't tried a field goal all season, though he had been kicking extra points. Then to complicate matters, Gilbert Bartosh, the ball-holder, missed the rubber kicking tee

Light Rain and Cold Front Move In

A cold front moved into the Perryton area early Wednesday morning, sending the temperature down to 44 degrees and bringing a light rainfall in the county. The rainfall was measured at .10 inch at station KEYE; .30 inch in Perryton and amounts ranging up to .25 inch along Wolf Creek. The moisture, while welcome, was not enough to be of material benefit to the wheat crop.

Muleshoe Man Is Questioned About Local Swindling

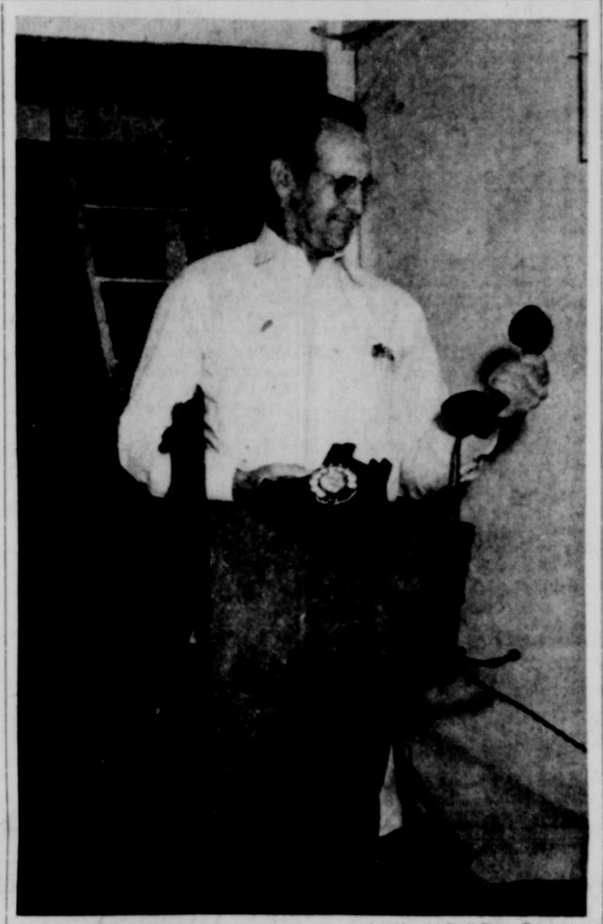

Sheriff Ray Phagan and Carl Ellis flew to Muleshoe Sunday to question confidence man Ernest McManus on the bank forgery chages in Perryton in 1948 and 1949. McManus is in the Muleshoe jail, charged with felony swindle in passing a $150 worthless check.

Phagan said that McManus answers the description of the man who bilked the First National Bank and the Perryton National Bank out of a total of $945 three years ago. However, he found the suspect "not very talkative." Samples of his handwriting are being compared with that on the worthless checks given the local banks.

Secret Service men are investigating the activities of McManus in connection with alleged swindling of a dozen or more banks in the West Texas area to the tune of $50,000.

According to authorities, he has a five-page criminal record

'Wheel of Progress' Pageant To Be Presented Saturday

"The Wheel of Progress," a pageant prepared by the county Home Demonstration clubs, will be presented Saturday night at the high school gymnasium and there is no admission charge.

The pageant consists of a large wheel with seven spokes depicting the different phases of the work of the county HD work, now celebrating its 18th anniversary.

The county chorus takes a leading part of this event, singing the same songs that were sang at College Station last August when they and two other choruses in the state took part in the 25th Anniversary Celebration in Home Demonstration work. There were over 300 women in this immense wheel.

The chorus is under the direction of Mrs. H. N. Elledge, with Mrs. Dean Leighnor as pianist.

Mrs. Jack Hendrix will give the story form while the wheel is being formed.

Each of the 185 club members in the county will share in the "Wheel of Progress" pageant.

The delegates from the county who attended the state meeting are helping to stage the event. They are Mrs. J. R. Stump, Mrs. C. E. Haar and Mrs. David Burgner.

Others who will assist as spoke captains are Mrs. Fay Faries, Mrs. B. L. Hance, Mrs. Fred Huston, Mrs. Charles Selby, Mrs. David Burger, Mrs. Kenneth Cudd and Mrs. Martin McCartor.

Council Takes No Action On New Request

The Southwestern Associated Telephone Co. Tuesday night presented the city council with a new request for a rate increase, this time upping their request from the previous raise sought in May. The company wants an increase which would boost the rate on business phones 80 percent and would go up on residential phones approximately 60 per cent.

Citing the low return on the investment, district manager Jim Davis of Guymon said that higher rates were a necessity for the company. He showed the council members a financial statement of the company, showing a net return of only $196.63 at the Perryton exchange last year.

The rates requested Tuesday night are as follows:

	Now	Asked
Business
Individual	$5.50	$10.00
2-Party	4.50	8.00
Extension	1.25	1.50
Residence
Individual	3.00	4.75
2-Party	2.50	4.00
4-Party	2.00	3.50
Extension	.75	.75

Davis said that the company has an investment of $382,029.87 in Perryton and made a return of .05 per cent last year, or $196.63. They desire to make a return of 4.42 per cent, or $16,874.16.

The council made the company an offer of approximately 25 per cent some time ago but it was refused.

Mayor Dean McCutcheon said Wednesday that no action was taken on the rate request and that it has been tabled for further study.

Italians Assured On Eritrea

ASMARA, Eritrea (AP)—Emperor Haile Selassie has given assurances that Italians in Eritrea "shall be granted their rightful place" in Eritrean economy when this country is united with Ethiopia under a federation. Federation, according to a decision of the United Nations Assembly, is to be set up not later than September 1952.

The Ethiopian Emperor gave the assurance to the President of the Eritrean Chamber of Commerce, Vittorio Vercellino, in a recent Addis Ababa interview.

Vercellino, after his return to Asmara, said the Emperor also indicated the possibility that Ethiopia and Italy may soon resume diplomatic relations. These have been severed since 1935 when Mussolini's legions invaded Ethiopia.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

By TEX EASLEY

(AP) Special Washington Service

WASHINGTON, D. C. (AP)—Congressman Lindley Beckworth of Gladewater grew up among the forests of pines and oil derricks of East Texas, so it's befitting he has become a top figure here on matters concerning these two resources.

At 38 he is next to the chairmanship of the House interstate and foreign commerce committee, which is headed by 77-year-old Rep. Robert Crosser (D) of Ohio.

Taking his seat in the House Jan. 3, 1939 at 25, the minimum age for admission—the youngest to be sworn in in more than a century, Beckworth went on the Commerce Committee nine years ago. He is head of a subcommittee on newsprint and one of the committee's best authorities on petroleum problems.

The Beckworth newsprint subcommittee, which recently met with newspaper publishers in New York and then looked over the big mills in Canada, has just issued a report which concludes that paper prodction will be adequate for the immediate future.

The long-range out-look, however, is much less certain and the committee says it will have to keep a close eye on the situation. It is considering plans for increasing newsprint production in the United States, as well as seeing what can be done to hike output of Canadian mills.

That the newsprint problem, which affects every newspaper and magazine in the nation, is more far-reaching than one might at first imagine is seen in the following observation from the committee report:

"We live in a forld of constant change on battlefields of words which control and direct the destinies of peoples and nations. Newsprint must be considered essential along with other dire necessities of nations."

One of the big shortages in production of newsprint in Canada—which produces four-fifths of all such paper consumed in the United States, is sulphur. And that commodity comes almost entirely from Texas and Louisiana. The committee report said:

"One ton of sulphur produces some seven to eight tons of sulfite pulp, and one ton of sulfite pulp is used for each six to seven tons of newsprint. A ton of sulphur, accordingly, represents some 50 tons of newsprint."

At present there are two newsprint mills in the south—at Lufkin, Texas, and Childresburg, Ala. A bill has just been introduced in the House which would authorize the Reconstruction Finance Corporation to lend up to 50 percent of the amount needed to erect new mills.

When Congress adjourns Beckworth plans to take his subcommittee and look further into the possibility of new mills being erected in this country. The group also may go to Mexico to check timber resources there.

The House resolution under which the Beckworth newsprint subcommittee is operating instructs the group to study and determine whether any government agency is formulating plans for putting into effect:

1. Restrictions relating to the production or consumption of newsprint for book papers; 2. requirements respecting the grade labeling of commodities; or, 3. requirements intended to bring about simplification and standardization of production, marketing, and distribution of commodities.

Should his committee go to Mexico, Beckworth says, it also will make a thorough study of the petroleum industry below the border.

Shipments of oil from Mexico to the United States, which averaged 10,000,000 barrels annually in the past five years, leaped to 18,000,000 (m) barrels in 1950.

Reward for Dissatisfied Tithers

SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP)—There is $100 on deposit in a bank here which can be claimed by anyone. Anyone, that is, who tries tithing for one year and finds that God does not keep his promise to take adequate care of the giver. In five years there has been no claimants.

The Rev. DeWitt Safford, who deposited the money, recently renewed the offer and promised to include the five years' interest.

A tither is one who gives 10 per cent of his income to the church. Safford reports his church has 178 tithers out of a communicant membership of 481. None of them, he says, has shown an interest in his $100.

Fire Insurance Is Bargain for Texas Buyers

AUSTIN, Texas—Texans who buy fire insurance are benefitting from one of the nation's fairest and most equitable systems of setting insurance rates, Fire Insurance Commissioner Paul H. Brown said recently.

Brown, who recently announced fire insurance rate reductions which will save Texans $2,303,000 during the next year, said that the rate-making system used in this state is equitable because it treats everybody alike. If the people in one community pay a little less for their fire insurance than the people in another community, it's because the system of setting rates rewards the towns with low fire losses and who enforce high standards of fire protection and building and electrical installations.

That is because three separate factors are considered in setting rates, Brown said. These factors are the town's key rate, its good fire record credit and the experience credit applied to the particular class of building insured.

Key rates—the basic insurance rate—varies a lot from one community to another," Brown said. This is because the key rate is based on the size and quality of the fire department, the water supply and distribution and other fire ptotection factors."

Rates for different classes—dwelling, mercantile buildings manufacturing plants, etc.—also depend on the type of construction, proximity to a fire plug and similar factors. The kind of business located in a building also affests the fire insurance rate.

After the key rate is determined, then what is known as an "experience credit" is applied. In simple terms, this means simply that the fire loss record on all buildings of a given class is studied and the rate reduced on those classes with low fire losses. For example, all single-family dwellings in Texas now enjoy credits in rate that vary from 48 to 60 per cent, depending on whether they are brick or frame and whether or not they are near fire protection facilities.

Still further rate reductions are given communities through the good fire record credit system. Based on its fire loss record, a community can lower its insurance rates as much as 25 per cent in a single year, Brown said. A total of 516 Texas towns and cities are now enjoying fire record credits while only 113 are paying higher insurance rates because of penalties. The maximum credit given is 25% while the maximum penalty that can be assessed is 15%.

A lack of knowledge of insurance laws sometimes results in charges that there are inequities in the rates charged dwelling owners as against those charged mercantile building owners.

"We apply the same yardsticks and the same rate-making system to every class," Brown said.

Mother Finds Lost Son

SINGAPORE (AP) — A mother has found her son after a 10-year search, but it may still be a long time before she sees him. The woman is Fukuyae Kaniko, a Japanese who married an American dredgemaster attached to a British tin dredging company in the little village of Tanjong Tualong, in Perak state of Malaya. The boy is John Palmstrom, who was born a fortnight after the death of his father 15 years ago.

With the outbreak of World War II, the mother was arrested and interned. The boy later went to a Japanese school in Singapore until 1945. He then was evacuated with other school children to Japan. After the war, the mother started an intensive search for her son. Finally, she learned her son was alive—but in Japan, living in Furuyeda Machi, Sagaken, with an uncle and under the name of Kodako Kaniko.

Fukuyae Kaniko would be a happy woman were it not for the fact that her son lost his American citizenship through non-residence in the United States. Now she has a problem of trying to get to Japan to see him or for him to be sent over to her.

The 155-pound Maxwell has been playing golf for 10 years. He started at the age of 12. Great things have been forecast for Billy ever since he began breaking into the invitational tournaments. His first fame came this year when he became southern intercollegiate champion.

Maxwell then won the national amateur at Bethlehem, Pa., and immediately was tabbed as the fellow who would carry on after other great Texas golfers —Ben Hogan, Jimmie Demaret, Lloyd Mangrum, et al—hang up the clubs.

Rubber Boom Makes Fortunes

RANGOON (AP) — A rubber boom in the sleepy southern fishing centre, Tavoy has bounced citizens right into the money. Money there comes so easily Rangoon folk skyride down for a weekend's fast profit-making, a government agent said.

He said it is difficult to meet a Tavoyan who is not rich. A world demand for rubber has brought about this happy state on the south coast. It sent prices to five times their normal but buyers easily recover their outlay.

Most south coast plantations are located in Communist-occupied territory. This, helps towards making illegal trading safe. Nonetheless he said buying in the badlands is a chancey business because the rebels are known to murder customers to retrieve stocks for another sale. The Communists who are not averse to earning a fast buck also make customers pay for the privilege of trading in their territory which houses the richest plantations.

ON THE HOUSE

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER, AP Real Estate Editor

It seems a safe bet that you'll never again see houses built exactly like homes erected before World War II.

Defense restrictions on the uses of steel, aluminum and copper are bringing about the second major revolution in home planning and building that has occurred in less than 10 years.

The first big change came with postwar building costs.

That shift saw the expense of lathing and plastering widely circumvented by dry wall construction. Interior woodwork was simplified with modest trimming strips in place of ornate millwork. Plain plywood doors replaced more costly paneled doors. Storage walls in the form of closet rows economized on interior partitions. Many basements were eliminated. And open planning merged dining room with living room—among various other sharp departures from tradition.

Now the American home is due for another shake-up.

The shortage of critical metals, coupled with rigid curbs on the size of mortgage loans, makes the construction of large houses difficult.

The National Production Administrator, who set the rations of steel and copper, predicts there can be no hope of relief from present shortages before 1953. By that time, judging from past experiences, new building practices will have had time to become so well established that even a plentitude of materials may never swing the pendulum all the way back. Houses definitely will be different.

Architects are on the spot. Builders are looking to them to contrive plans that will stretch allotted metals to give home buyers a maximum amount of house for their money.

Since nails, all plumbing and heating pipes, electric wiring, reinforcing bars and sheet metal for flashing and termite shields are now effectively rationed in minimum amounts for every house—and since all structural steel, such as I-beam girders, H-beam, angle irons and plates are prohibited in one-family houses—the builder expects the architect to specify what substitutes, if any, can be used.

An indication of the importance of design in solving this dilemma was brought out at a recent meeting of the Long Island Home Builders Institute. A committee on merchandisable architecture reported on research in alternate specifications a builder may use and stay within weight limitations on controlled metals.

Herman York, a leading designer of small houses, reported as chairman of the investigating committee. With sketch plans of nine houses recently built in New York suburbs, Architect York showed where metal economies could be achieved.

He predicted that the use of wood girders in the place of steel beams will be one of the first substitutes that may noticeably alter design of a house. Shorter spans permitted for wood will call for changes in plans for framing a house.

York also predicted that concrete column msay be due to appear in basements. These can be poured without reinforcement by the use of patented forms, which can be stripped, or left on the posts, as you prefer.

He explained that steel lally columns, while not included in the prohibition of structural steel, are counted in the 1,800 pounds of carbon steel allowed per house. However, adjustable steel jack columns, known as teleposts, are classed as "B" products and as such are not included in steel limitations on the job.

But the copper shortage presents far greater obstacles than the pinch in steel. York showed the builders an example of how 35 pounds and more of copper could be saved by placing kitchen and bath back-to-back and as near the front of the house as possible. This location of kitchen and bath, combined with the divided bath to take the place of two baths, appears destined to be one of the major features in future house design.

A saving of 35 pounds or more in copper is a vital saving under the Controlled Materials Plan. Only 35 pounds of copper is allowed for any house using steel water pipes. Where copper tubing is required, 160 pounds is the top copper allowance. These amounts are scarcely enough.

Engineers for General Electric point out that 35 pounds of copper should be enough to wire a small five-room house, or a four-room ranch-type dwelling. The National Adequate Wiring Bureau figures 37 to 38 pounds of copper needed to wire a house of 1,100 square feet. Figures in both cases allow for electric range wiring.

However, the GE men have figured out a way to add two full sized rooms to a house without exceeding the 35 pound copper limit.

Their system is to wire all switches with ordinary bell cord on a low-voltage transformer circuit that trips relays at electric outlets. This is the system used in the remote-control wiring that greatly increased flexibility of electric control in homes.

The engineers report that the use of this principle, without adding extra features, would make it possible to build a house of 1,360 square feet, using only 35 pounds of copper wire, instead of a house of about 1,000 square feet.

The difference is equivalent to two rooms, each 12 by 15 feet in size. And the wiring trick not only stretches the copper, but also saves 61 pounds of steel that would be used in conduits or jacketed cable.

Much depends on the wiring contractor, of course, but once such economies become established, the house of the future should move toward further embellishments of these practices, rather than backward toward pre-war standards.

Godfrey On TV

BERLIN (AP)—Arthur Godfrey, who is a pretty big man in it himself, says that, except for sports, most television programs in the United States are no good.

"Pee-ew," said Godfrey of television programs in a radio interview broadcast here during his recent European visit.

The versatile Arthur, who handles his several radio and television programs like a juggler, said the only things he could commend on American television were the sports casts.

Kangaroos Menace Australian Sheep Herds

SYDNEY (AP) — Thousands of kangaroos are moving in great mobs in the inland part of south eastern Australia and causing hundreds of sheep to die.

They are eating the grass and driving the sheep from waterholes. Feed is so scarce in some parts that sheep are being moved by road transport. One reporter who traveled 200 miles through grazing country along the Darling River saw hundreds of kangaroos, but few sheep. Permits to shoot kangaroos have been refused, but farmers and graziers are reported to be killing hundreds just the same.

SINGAPORE (AP)—Dealers in textiles in this British crown colony are worried—they're losing a lot of money. That's because their original idea was to make a lot of it.

The market is now flooded with Indian and Japanese textile materials and buying has sharply tapered off. When prices rose sharply because of the Korean War, many textile firms though things were going to get much worse. So they bought up everything they could, placing extraordinarily big orders.

But the prices in Japan suddenly nosedived, and material which cost $1 per yard now is sold at 40 cents. The result: the price in Singapore has dropped to about 50 cents.

TAXES: If the tax bill agreed upon by the Conference Committee finally passes both Houses, it will mean that there has been a boost of $15,750,000,000 since the beginning of the Korean War. $6,100,000,000 of this tax was passed in September, 1950, and $3,900,000,000 came as a result of an excess profits tax passed during the early part of January of this year. Both of these tax measures were passed before I came in Congress. The present $5,750,000,000 tax boost makes up the remainder of the $15,750,000,000 overall increase during the past year. As I have said in previous news letters and in numerous speeches, the only possible justification for the increases, including the last one, is the military needs of this country. Approximately six-sevenths, or 60 billion dollars out of the 70 billion dollars estimated in the budget for the fiscal year 1951, is earmarked for military and defense purposes. This means that a peaceful solution of the world's problems in the near future could well mean much needed relief for the United States taxpayer. This tremendous amount of money earmarked for military purposes also means that there must be a constant and vigilant watch on the expenditures by the Defense Department. The needless waste of tax money, whether it be for military items or otherwise, is nothing short of criminal, and must be stopped. Almost every member of Congress is on the alert to see that expenditures are justified. Military personnel should be more prudent in the expenditure of tax funds than they would be in their own personal business because they are in a position of trust. The same rule is applicable to every government official, although it seems that many have been overlooking it. Those who fail to recognize and fully meet the responsibility of that trust must be weeded out and called upon to answer for their mistakes and misdeeds. This goes for all public officials, whether elected or appointed and whether they be Federal, State, or local officials.

Congressman Wheeler of Georgia told me the other day of some of the highlights of his trip to the new atomic plant site in the Savannah River, South Carolina area. He went to the site without identifying himself and applied for a job. He states that he was very curtly told that he would have to go back to a town some thirty miles away and join a local union before he could apply for a job. He did not do this, but went on into the reservation with his secretary and made an on-the-ground investigation as best he could. He states that he was able to drive around quite a bit over all portions of the area except the restricted areas. He came back with a report that much manpower was being wasted, and immediately lodged his complaints and charges with the proper committee in the House and with the Comptroller General. This indicates what is being done to try to prevent some of the things that happened during World War II.

THE FOREIGN AID APPROPRIATIONS: The appropriations for foreign aid passed the House yesterday. I voted against the authorization for this foreign aid and also voted against the appropriations. It is my opinion that the money necessary for these purposes should come out of the 60 billion dollar military program, as it is military assistance that most of the countries need to protect themselves while they are building up their economies. The appropriation was for $8,299,000,000. Europe gets 5 billion military aid, 1 billion economic aid; the Near East and Africa, 396 million military aid, 160 million economic aid; Greece, Turkey and Iran are major beneficiaries. Asia and the Pacific get 535 million military aid, 237 million economic aid; part is for military equipment for Chinese nationalists on Formosa; American Republics, 38 million for military aid, and 21 million economic aid. The foreign aid bill appropriates approximately seven and one-half billion dollars in new cash and re-appropriates 800 million in funds previously provided by Congress but not yet spent. It is interesting to note that this foreign aid bill is approximately 3 billion dollars greater than the amount to be raised by new taxes in this country. In other words, it can be said that all of the additional taxes that you have to pay, plus some of your old taxes, will go for foreign aid. You can see that most of these funds are earmarked for Europe and the North Atlantic Treaty countries. In most of these countries the per capita public debt is less than ours, while at the same time their standard of living will equal only about one-third of our standard of living. I wish that I had the space to give you some of the figures on these public debts of foreign countries and the present standards of living in those countries. I will try to do it in a future news letter.

Edison's FIRST LAMP

On October 21, 72 years ago, the late Thomas A. Edison perfected the first practical incandescent lamp. A year later he built the first factory for producing lamp bulbs commercially.

Edison's first lamps were crude affairs of hand-blown glass with carbonized bamboo filaments. They produced only 16 candle power of light and cost $1.10 each to manufacture.

Today, lamp bulbs of similar wattage produce more than eight times as much light, have a longer burning life and sell for only 18 cents each.

Increased lamp efficiency plus low-cost electricity have made good lighting today's biggest bargain. Take full advantage of it by filling your empty sockets with right-sized bulbs today!

Bible Lines

"Mine Eyes Have Seen Thy Salvation"

THERE was a man in Jerusalem named Simeon; and the man was just and devout, waiting for the consolation of Israel: and the Holy Ghost was upon him. And it was revealed to him by the Holy Ghost, that he should not see death, before he had seen the Lord's Christ.

And he came by the Spirit into the temple: and when the parents brought in the child Jesus, he took Him up in his arms, and blessed God, and said:

"Lord, now lettest Thou Thy servant depart in peace, according to Thy Word: For mine eyes have seen Thy Salvation, which Thou hast prepared before the face of all people; a light to lighten the Gentiles and the glory of Thy people Israel."

Palo Duro Not Burial Site For Outlaws

CANYON, Texas—The crosses on Mesa Mecca are not markers for the graves of Billy the Kid, Bat Masterson, and other noted gunmen of the Wild and Woolly West. They were erected by the San Jacinto Baptist Church as a part of the setting for an Easter service two years ago. Since then thousands of tourists have asked if the crosses marked the grave of Billy the Kid or some other notorious character.

The questions is not so foolish as it may sound, according to John McCarty, Park Manager, who is also the author of articles and books on the history of this region. He made an intensive study of the part the Panhandle played in the life of Billy the Kid and his downfall.

Billy the Kid and his gang wintered in the Panhandle in 1878-79. A part of their time was spent on the LX Ranch on the Canadian a few miles distance, and part of it in camp at Tascosa. There they met and traded with the cowboys and cowmen who later tracked the Kid and his gang to their capture and to the Kid's subsequent death.

The movement to get rid of the Kid was initiated in the Panhandle of Texas, and Panhandle cowboys and officers were in leadership all the way. Jim East, who captured the outlaw, and Pat Garrett who killed him, were products of this region. Garrett was from Mobeetie and East later was Sheriff at Tascosa. Panhandle ranches sent delegations of cowboys who knew how to handle guns after him. A Panhandle rancher directed the campaign.

Since the Palo Duro Canyon was a favorite hideout, travel route, and rendezvous of hunters, outlaws, gold seekers, and explorers, it is not unlikely that Billy the Kid and his gang escaped "casing the joint." He could have been buried on Mesa Mecca had not some Texas Panhandle cowboys went out for him in New Mexico.

Parts of 16 Cars Go Into Navy Vet's Auto

(AP) Newsfeatures

RICHMOND—Name any American-make automobile, and the chances are good that it is an ancestor of a snazzy, distinctive convertible coupe put together by an 18-year-old Virginia youth.

Navy veteran Clarence L. (Slick) Patterson, of Glen Allen, Va., has just finished a three-year job of blending parts from 16 different cars into his "dream boat." Whenever he drives from his home to nearby Richmond, crowds gather around his pride-and-joy. "What kind of a car is that?" they ask.

It cost him $3,000, though he did most of the work himself.

"Slick" is a railroad sheet-metal mechanic and his trade skill came in handy as he welded to-tegher the different car parts.

The youth hotly denies that his car is a "hot-rod."

Push-buttons raise and lower windows, open doors, uncap the gas tank, operate signal lights and also blow two horns. "Slick" has a 1950 model horn for ordinary purposes. But, for a laugh or a lifted eyebrow, he has a squawking, 1926 horn under the hood.

Water Injections Help Oil Wells

BRADFORD, Pa. (AP)—Hot water injections may be just the thing to pep up lagging crude oil production in almost depleted Western Pennsylvania oil fields. This conclusion is based on a six-month field experiment recently compltted here by the Pennsylvania Grade Crude Oil Association. Tests were made in a water injection well, 1,200 feet deep.

Dr. J. N. Breston, director of Penn Grade's Bradford laboratory, explained that the rate of oil recovery by water flooding oil sands depends on the at which the water is Hot water injections test well to take one-four water, Breston said. cates a quicker and omical oil recovery.

One Woman Is Entire Staff Of Newspaper

WINSLOW, Ark. (AP) — The weekly Winslow American is a one-woman newspaper.

Mrs. Maud Duncan, a sprightly widow of 77, has published the American alone since the death of her husband, founder G. N. Duncan, in 1918.

Miss Maud—as she is fondly called by townfolk—rounds up her news items, sells the advertising, hand sets all of the type and prints the paper on a foot-powered press.

There's nothing unusual about it, Mrs. Duncan insists.

"I think it would be highly unusual for an able-bodied woman to sit down and give up just because she isn't able to hire people to do the work."

A typical day finds Miss Maud up at dawn and in town after breakfast checking news sources, picking up her mail at the post-office and selling an ad or two before returning to the office.

On the day the American goes to press, she sits down at an open type case, grabs a "stick" and sets the news—she seldom writes it out beforehand—then the ads and starts making up the page forms atop an old billiard table bequeathed by a bankrupt pool hall proprietor.

After the forms are justified tightly, she locks one on the old standard press in a corner of the shop, inks the rollers, takes a deep breath, hops aboard a bicycle seat attachment and begins pumping away at the pedal. "It's sort of fun when you get onto it."

Her newspaper, 9 by 12 inches, ranges from two to eight pages. Each page must be printed separately.

The tiny editor has become an institution in northwestern Arkansas.

"She's done a lot for Winslow," says Mayor E. A. Hobbs, "and every time you see her and get caught up in that enthusiasm of hers you know she'll keep on doing as long as she can walk.

Courting Postmen Leave Jobs

LONDON (AP)—It's the male in them that's getting London's mailmen down.

Mail sorter W. S. Pettitt told a gathering of Union of Post Office Workers that 144 postmen left one big London mail sorting office in the past year because of the night work there.

"How can a young postman on a permanent two to ten p. m. duty do his courting?" he asked.

A helicopter can seed 2,000 acres of forest land in a day compared to one acre by a man.

CULPRIT GETS "CHAIR"—Don Donathan, first chair barber in a hotel barber shop in Amarillo, was chained to his chair when a few regular customers grew tired of waiting for him to return from coffee. Donathan had coffe brought to him once in the morning and once in the afternoon. The regular customers no longer have to wait for him to get back from a coffee break. (AP Photo)

KICK OFF RUN—Southern Methodist back Jerry Norton (with ball) is tackled by Notre Dame back John Lattner (14) as Norton carries the kickoff back to the 30-yard line at the start of the game in South Bend, Ind. Other Notre Dame men are guard Tom Seaman (62) back Dave Flood (32) and back Jack Whelan (17). SMU players are guard Herschel Forrester (67) and back Pat Knight (35) SMU won 27-20. (AP)

GERMAN ORPHAN—Blonde, blue-eyed Judy Lynn, 2, of Germany is shown on her arrival in Dallas on her way to her new home in Abilene, Tex. With her are her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Louis Cook of Abilene, who arranged the adoption through Church of Christ missionaries in Frankfurt. Holding Judy Lynn is Mrs. J. L. Watson of Austin, Tex., who brought the child to Texas from Germany by plane. (AP Photo)

The U. S. Government established the Pony Express in 1860 for fast communication between the older states and California. It was succeeded 16 months later by a telepgraph line.

Bill McCahan, righthander who had a brief trial with the Brooklyn Dodgers this spring, has racked up four straight wins for Fort Worth in the Texas League.

On April 19, second day of the International League season, the Baltimore Orioles drew only 571 fans. That same afternoon 10,181 were at the races at nearby Laurel Park.

The Perryton fire department was called out at 5 a. m. Thursday morning to the Weldon Wright farm, three miles east of town on the Uncle Sam highway, to extinguish a fire in a machinery shed. Zeke Finds a Home

(AP) Newsfeatures

MIDLAND, Texas—Zeke Bonura has found himself a baseball home.

Bonura managed Midland of the Class C Longhorn League most of this season. As soon as he took over (on June 15) the fans started coming out in droves.

So, the club's board of directors named Zeke manager for next year and decided to have a training camp in either Mississippi or Louisiana. They even talked about constructing a new park.

Bonura began his pro baseball career with New Orleans of the Southern Association in 1929. He later moved to Dallas and in 1934 graduated to the Chicago White Sox.

"In 1939," says the former first baseman, "I hit .347—the best of my career—and demanded a $500 increase. Nothing happened so I told Comiskey (Charles Comiskey, owner of the Sox) if he didn't pay he might as well trade me. So he traded me."

He was sent to Washington and later played with the New York Giants.

He was in the service for four years, organizing sports among the troops as well as the youngsters of Africa, Italy, France, Germany and Switzerland.

To accomodate racing fans, Delaware Park has 65 acres of parking space. The surfaced parking lots can handle 12,000 automobiles.

YOU CAN FIND ANYTHING—Rolland Shearer of the city police force is the man who has to repair the parking meters when they get out of order and is becoming quite adept at it. He says he finds mutilated coins, slugs, matches, toothpicks, bobby pins and a variety of other objects punched into the meters, but since they don't operate the meter, all it means is extra work for Shearer. He keeps six extra meters on hand for use as replacements while others are being repaired.

Any Challengers In Big Tomato Contest?

The cucumber contest, which saw entries ranging up to 18 inches in length, has been declared closed, and now the Herald invites entries in the big tomato contest. Mrs. Omar Truax has a tomato which weighs 17 ounces, and is aptly named the "Colossal" variety. She grew it in her back yard at 1121 S. Drake and says she had several tomatoes this summer that weighed around 14 ounces. With the frost date rapidly approaching, it is unlikely that there are any larger tomatoes left, but if there are, the Herald would like to hear about them.

Fort Worth Firm Seems Interested In Safflower Plant

There seems to be some possibility of getting a safflower processing plant established in Perryton, following a visit of two officials of the Marco Chemical Co. of Fort Worth, reports Lee Little, Chamber of Commerce secretary-manager.

The C. of C. received a letter this week from Leon H. Brachman of the Marco company, asking for 300-400 pounds of safflower for processing in the company pilot plant at Fort Worth. Brachman said that the company wants to get enough safflower oil on a commercial basis to submit samples to potential customers and get a more definite price quotation.

The Marco officials were in Perryton several weeks ago, inquiring about some grain storage space, and became interested in the safflower crop. They indicated that the company would be interested in building a safflower processing plant, if the supply of safflower could be guaranteed and the selling price of the oil remains right.

Marketing of the safflower has been the big stumbling block for local growers. The yields this year proved that the crop can be raised well in this area, and the oil content is excellent. The Western Solvents Co. plant at Longmont, Colo., is at present the only marketing point for safflower, however.

The Farm Bureau has taken the lead in seeking establishment of a safflower processing plant here, and W. H. Lance, Farm Bureau president, is confident that ample acreage of the crop can be secured if a market is established.

Ruby Robert Fitzsimmons held the world's heavyweight title from 1897 to 1899 even though he weighed only 158 pounds.

Kit Carson's old home is owned by the Masonic order and operated as a public museum at Taos, New Mexico.

when he put the ball down. So Flowers booted the ball out of the wet grass. It was a low liner that looked more like a home run in a baseball game—and it just zipped through the corner of the goal posts. The Frogs went on to win 17 to 7.

"Not bad for a snakebit football player. Flowers was struck on the hand by a rattlesnake while working on the family farm near Perryton last summer. "The snake died. Flowers' hand swelled slightly.

"He's rugged," testifies Coach Dutch Meyer. "And he's quick and smart, one of the great competitors we've ever had. Seeing him go in there against Arkansas reminded me of the old days when guys stayed in there sixty minutes, even with broken legs. If I ever see him when he's not limping, I'll be worried."

Keith came to TCU with a great high school running reputation which had earned him a berth on the prep all-America team of 1947. But he says, "I wouldn't want to play offense now. Defense is fun, a lot more fun than offense,' says Keith.

Coach Dutch Meyer calls Flowers one of the greatest competitors TCU has ever had. Meyers says "He's smart, quick and rugged. Seeing him go in there against Arkansas the other night reminded me of the old days when guys stayed right in there 6 minutes even with broken legs. He's the old-fashioned type."

A knee injury hurt his chances in his first two varsity seasons, causing him to miss four games his first year and three last year. Then came an operation and a sound Flowers took the field for the 1951 campaign.

If he makes the all-conference team, he'll be following once again in the footsteps of his big brother, Clyde, who was fullback on the undefeated 1939 Ranger team and later made the all-Southwest conference team, plus several All-American mentions, as a tackle on the 1944 championship team.

A man giving the name of R. W. Mahaney opened an account with the First National Bank in May, 1948, posing as a custom combine operator, and after making several deposits and withdrawals, left town letting the bank hold the bag to the tune of $750.25.

In February, 1949, he reappeared in Perryton, this time giving the name of R. H. Houstem. He opened an account at the Perryton National Bank, made withdrawals and deposits, and finally left town with a $195 overdraft caused by a worthless check deposited.

Samples of both checks were declared identical by handwriting experts at Austin, and the Department of Public Safety reported that they had a thick file of the same checks, given in Vernon, Paducah, Memphis and Floydada, among other cities.

W. H. Lance, who was then sheriff, had handbills made with pictures of the worthless checks, and sent the handbills to every law officer and bank in the state. He received a number of replies back that the same man had worked the same scheme in other towns.

However, the elusive forger proved impossible to locate. Several trips were made to view suspects, including one good prospect at Waco, but all proved false leads.

Hornfly Poses Big Problem For Ranchers

COLLEGE STATION — The hornfly population of the state has reached the danger point. That's the word from James A. Deer, associate Extension entomologist of Texas A. and M. College. He reports the weather of the past few weeks—repeated showers with warm temperatures and above average humidity—has been responsible for the hornfly population increase.

Deer says cattle owners should immediately take the necessary steps to rid their herds of these pests. Here's why; a heavy infestation will cause cattle to go into the winter in a weakened condition and if they become heavily infested with lice during the winter, there'll be more trouble. Hornflies and lice are both blood suckers and the result will be anemic cattle.

Accoding to Deer, cattle treated now for hornflies may also be treated for lice. This combination treatment will save time and labor and is insurance against cattle going into the winter in a weak condition. For the combination treatment, Deer recommend that livestock producers spray their animals with a solution containing four pounds of 50 per cent wettable DDT powder and four pounds of six per cent gamma wettable BHC powder to each 100 gallons of water. Toxaphene may also be used. He recommends using a spray containing only five-tenths of one per cent of this material.

Finally, Deer suggests that livestock owners contact their local county agricultural agents if they need more information or help in preparing and using these sprays. The important thing is—get rid of the pests now.

Dog Foils Jail-Break

CARMI, Ill. (AP)—A sheriff's pint-sized pooch foiled plans for a jail break recently.

Sheriff D. W. Griffith of White County pieced together this version: Oscar, the Griffiths' tiny Pomeranian, started barking at 1:30 a. m. It roused the sheriff in his quarters below the jail. He found the outer jail door and the cell cage unlocked, but a 14 year old trusty was missing. Five male prisoners seemed to be asleep.

The boy was apprehended later in front of the jail. He had returned after two prisoners who admitted complicity but failed to join him at a prearranged rendevous.

We Can't See This One

Texans will vote on several constitutional amendments on November 13, and while the entire text of all amendments have appeared in the Herald, it is doubtful if many people have studied them. There are several good ones and several not so good, and the amendment which seeks to revise the present system of Texas old age assistance payments is in the latter category.

Briefly, this amendment opens the gates for state pension payments to thousands of foreigners and residents of other states who are at present not eligible.

It abolishes all residential and citizenship requirements for old age pensions and would authorize an additional $7,000,000 to be spent on these pensions.

In fact, the amendment would require a special session of the legislature to levy the taxes to secure the $7,000,000 annual addition to the pension funds.

If the present citizenship and residential requirements are abolished, as the amendment seeks, the pensions of those old people now receiving them would probably be reduced instead of increased.

We can see no reason for this. The pension is meager enough as it is, without adding several thousand more to the rolls at one stroke and then having to dig up the money to pay them.

Wolf Creek Philosopher

Gets Serious On Foreign Question

(Ed. note: The Wolf Creek Philosopher must have had a touch of indigestion, his letter this week reveals.)

Dear editar:

You know, I don't know anything about international affairs, which doesn't necessarily disqualify me for talkin about em, a private citizen has as many rights as a Congressman in this country, in fact I don't even know anything much about national affairs, state affairs, county affairs, precinct affairs, farm affairs, well I do know a little about farm affairs but I don't intend to employ that knowledge, you run your business and I'll run mine, is my policy, if I'd wanted to farm any better I'd started years ago, but what I started out to say is that while I don't know anything about international affairs, I know a little something about human nature.

And one of the things I know is that Stalin ain't no fool, that is, in the long run he may turn out to be one, but with the experience of Hitler still fresh in his memory, with the futility of one nation's attempt to whip the world still starin him in the face, he ain't gonna try it.

I don't care how hard Russia has been workin toward a war machine since the last war or how careless the United States, England, France and all the rest have been in lettin our machine run down, I'll bet my entire bindweed farm against one wadded-up issue of your paper from year before last that Russia can't whip us. She could do us a lot of damage but she couldn't whip us and hold us.

Therefore, when everybody, even me, knows Russia is supplyin the material to help the Chinese fight the Korean war, will somebody tell me why we should use up men and energy scrappin over unidentified ridges in Korea? Understand, there may be a valid reason, and if it'll prevent an all-out bombin war, everybody's in favor of the ridge fightin, but if I was punchin a votin button in Congress, and understand I'd much rather punch only a starter button on a tractor out here on Wolf Creek, I'd punch one in favor of tellin Russia, not China, that if she doesn't call off the war in Korea and the other places she's nibblin at, we'll start dealin with Russia and forget about the ridges and gulches we've been foolin around with for over a year.

Of course ain't nobody asked me for my opinion. Next week I will try to get back on something lighter. The international situation may be like the problem of bindweed in my field—the people in a position to solve it ain't got the drive to do it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

From the SIDELINE

with HAROLD HUDSON

Several months ago Ben Ezzell, popular editor of the Canadian Record, used our column as a fill-in for his "Spur of the Moment," pleading lack of time to prepare a column as a result of a trip to Dallas. We're using the same excuse this week and present herewith last week's comments by friend Ezzell:

In the morning mail the other day was a letter from a New Jersey mail order house specializing in neckties. Just as it was about to hit the wastebasket, a paragraph caught our eye which we thought might be worth some passing comment. It explains why these mail order experts can "undersell" our Main Street merchants.

"We specialize," it explained. "We sell only one product . . . men's neckwear. This specialization in itself allows great economy, but further than that, we again are at an advantage in having no 'Main Street' store rents to pay, nor have we any agents or salesmen whose commission would have to go into our price."

Now that is an interesting point which is worth closer inspection. Having no "Main Street" store, this firm naturally has no contribution to make, either, to the taxes, which maintain our streets, provide us fire and police protection, water and sewer service, and other benefits derived from an organized community.

Enjoying a location remote from Canadian's Main Street (but just as close to you as the post office) this firm naturally makes no contribution, either to our schools. It makes no donations to our churches. It contribute no tax money to our hospital. It is not solicited for a single donation for our Boy Scouts, our Red Cross funds, our March of Dimes drives, our high school band uniforms, our Chamber of Commerce, or any of the other countless community solicitations to which Main Street businessmen are subjected (and to which they contribute willingly and liberally).

And employing no clerks and salesmen, naturally it does not contribute a dime of its income to the payrolls which maintain a flow of business in our town. It is not responsible for the purchase of one sack of groceries, one gallon of gasoline, or one single item of furniture.

Since it specializes in neckties it is not concerned with the problem of maintaining an adequate inventory of other goods to meet the varied requirements of its Canadian customers. It doesn't have to concern itself with whether or not its good friends and customers in Canadian will be able to obtain other items of clothing which they may require. It specializes . . . and great is its economy.

But this firm goes a bit further to save you money on your neckwear. It sells you its product only for cash in advance, which, it advises us, "is a tremendous factor in our low costs." We don't doubt it . . . It would be a big factor in ours, too . . . and in the economy of every Canadian Main Street store . . . if we received cash in advance on all orders. We could save hundreds of dollars each month on book-keeping expense, postage, time, and losses on bad accounts.

This cash-in-advance policy, of course, is designed to save you trouble. You just send your money now . . . and get your ties later. Then you won't have to worry about spending another three cents on postage, or having bills to bother with next first. Of course, if you don't like the ties after you get 'em, that's too bad . . . but look at the money you've saved.

That's a good idea. Look closely at what you've saved. You've saved a few cents worth of contributions to your community in the form of taxes, donations, and payroll . . . those "Main Street" extras which the mail order houses get along without and which, they assure you, your local merchant has to add to your cost on items you buy at home. You've even saved the trouble of having to select your own neckties. That's worth something, isn't it?

Now look at what you've spent: $6.60 for half a dozen (minimum order) neckties which are probably a good buy at a buck cash. (You can buy better ones, in nationally advertised brands, for $1.50 at your local stores . . . but, of course, you're contributing a little of that money to Main Street "expenses.") But that's not all . . . you'll have to add postage, and a 15-cent money order fee (no checks, please). And a couple of weeks delay. Add it up.

Wouldn't it be wonderful if we simply did away with all Main Street stores and handled all our business by mail order?

Mack Suitor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Suitor, and member of the freshman class of North Texas State College, Denton, visited his parents last week end.

Ever stop to think
Your First Car can be a Buick!

THIS being a land where it is every man's right to dream of getting ahead—and the pursuit of happiness is guaranteed by the Constitution—it happens that a great many people aspire to own a Buick.

But too often they start with a lesser car first—from a feeling that Buicks are something you have to build up to gradually, as your take-home pay improves.

So—if you have any such notion—we'd like to set you straight, right here and now.

You don't have to hope and dream and wait. If you can afford a new car—the first car you buy can be the Buick SPECIAL pictured here.

Its price tag says so. Its low cost of operation says so too.

We know that it looks like a lot of money. That's what makes it such a buy.

We know that it has a long list of features found in costlier cars, and that it rides and handles like cars that sell for a great deal more.

But that simply means that—at its price—you're getting a very big money's worth.

All of which adds up to one conclusion: the smart thing to do is come in and give this neat and nimble new SPECIAL a thorough going-over.

Try out its power—the power of its high-compression, valve-in-head Fireball Engine.

Try out its ride and handling—and you'll discover it has the "big-car feel" that you'd expect from a Buick.

Try it out for size—for room—for comfort—for all the things that you've dreamed someday of having in a car—and you'll thank your stars that you found out the facts of life in time.

Equipment, accessories, trim and models are subject to change without notice. *Standard on ROADMASTER, optional at extra cost on other Series.

TEXAS POLL

...an's Popularity Improves ...xas, Late Poll Reveals

..., Texas—As a candi- ... re-election, President ...s improving his posi- ...e minds of Texas vot- ...ding to the latest state- ...vey by The Texas Poll. ...ajority of Texans still ...ose General Eisenhow- ...ruman in 1952.

...e results of the latest ..."trials heats" between ... Truman and three po- ... Republican candidates ...hief executive's job in ...election:

...ing against Gen. Eis- ... Truman has gained ...ince the last measure- ...July. But the General's ... continues to bring ... impressive majority— ... Republican candidate. ... "trial heat" between ...nd General MacArthur, ...ed commander still has a plurality, but he has lost his majority held in prior measurements.

3. President Truman now commands a bare majority over Republican Senator Robert A. Taft, showing definite strength against the senator from Ohio. Last spring the President ranked below Taft.

The Texas Poll has matched President Truman against General Eisenhower on five previous surveys, starting in May, 1950. In each survey, a representative cross section of the Texas voting public was asked this question:

"Suppose the Republicans name General Eisenhower as their candidate for President in 1952, and the Democrats nominate Truman again, for whom would you vote?"

For Truman: May 1950, 42%; Nov. 1950, 40%; Feb. 1951, 41%; May 1951, 25%; July 1951, 29%; Sept. 1951, 33%.

For Eisenhower: May 1950, 38%; Nov. 1950, 42%; Feb. 1951, 46%; May 1951, 61%; July 1951, 63%; Sept. 1951, 58%.

Undecided: May 1950, 20%; Nov. 1950, 18%; Feb. 1951, 13%; May 1951, 14%; July 1951, 8%; Sept. 1951, 9%.

In three "trial heats" using the same question about Truman and MacArthur, the general has always beaten the President. But Truman has improved his position from his low folowing the firing of MacArthur.

	May	July	Sept.
For Truman	29%	35%	40%
For MacArthur	53	53	48
Undecided	18	12	12
	100%	100%	100%

Note that the "undecided" voters in the above now carry the weight of decision between the two men.

The same question, asked about Truman and Taft in three separate surveys shows how the President has made a consistent come-back:

	May	July	Sept.
For Truman	33%	45%	50%
For Taft	38	40	32
Undecided	29	15	18
	100%	100%	100%

On the latest survey, President Truman gained support at Taft's expense; the July measurement shows his gains came mostly from the ranks of the undecided.

FOUR BANDS now hear the rhythm provided by Mack Suitor, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lonnie Suitor, freshman student at North Texas State College, Denton. Mack is a member of the 22 Armored Reserve Unit band and dance orchestra and also the concert and dance organizations of North Texas State. Last year at Perryton high Mack provided the "beat" for the local music makers.

Veterans Forum

Q. I received a National Service Life Insurance dividend check from VA, and I'm sure VA made a mistake. How can I get things straightened out?

A. Write to the VA district office that handles your NSLI account, giving complete information so that the office can identify your case. The address is the same that appears on the printed envelope that VA sends you for premium payments. Do not write the VA Central Office in Washington.

Q. I am a patient in a VA hospital, and my doctor told me I am to be transferred to another hospital for specialized treatment. Who pays for the move?

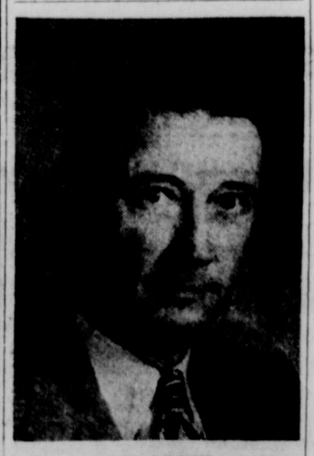

A. The VA. Transportation between VA hospitals may be furnished at Government expense, if the transfer is deemed necessary by VA doctors in charge of the case.

Q. Can a veteran enter into business with a non-veteran, and get a GI business loan?

A. Yes, provided the interest of the veteran is properly protected. The VA guarantee, however, will be limited to the veteran's portion of the business.

Q. I've been on active duty in the Army for the past 20 years, and I am to be discharged. Will I be eligible for GI Bill training or has the July 25 cut-off date killed off my chances?

A. You will be eligible for training, provided you are discharged under other than dishonorable conditions. The July 25 cut-off date, for the most part, affected veterans discharged before July 25, 1947. Those discharged afterwards (such as yourself) have four years from discharge date in which to begin and until July 25, 1956, in which to wind-up training, depending on entitlement.

Rheumatic Heart Disease First In Child Death

AUSTIN, Texas — Rheumatic heart disease is now the first cause of death among children aged ten to fourteen, and is second only to tuberculosis at ages 15 to 25. Despite the importance of this disease it's cause and spread is not completely established. No vaccine such as those that prevent typhoid fever, diphtheria, smallpox and whooping cough has yet been developed, for its prevention and control. We do know, however, some of the danger signals and with the physician's accurate diagnosis some of the damaging results of the disease may be prevented.

Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, points out that in general the danger signals of rheumatic fever are pain and swelling in the joints of the knees, ankles, elbows or wrists. The pain is usually felt in one of these centers and spreads to the others. Often times a child will get irritable and cross without any visible signs of a good reason for this attitude; he may cry easily or develop habits of nervousness. A physician should be consulted at once in such a situation, for these symptoms may be the beginning of rheumatic fever.

Exposure to frequent chilling, damp or overcrowded living quarters, a poor diet, an attack of scarlet fever, a bad cold or other infection caused by certain streptococcus germs are likely to be predisposing factors in the appearance of rheumatic fever.

According to Dr. Cox the best safeguards against this disease are to have each child and adult examined at least once a year by a physician, to have the right kind of foods for an adequate diet and to have plenty of rest, when the disease is suspected of being present, a doctor should be consulted at once.

Mrs. J. P. Rogers and children Scott, Donna and Phil of Amarillo visited from Thursday until Sunday with Mrs. Rogers' aunt, Georgia Hurlhey.

Takes Army 'Crooks' To Catch the Crooks

(AP) Newsfeatures

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. — What? You say they've got crooks at the Army Finance Center?

Well, not really, but three GI's at Fort Benjamin Harrison's Army Finance Center have a lot of fun playing the part of slick criminals.

The three are Sgt. Philip F. Coccio, Cpl. Carl Erickson and Pvt. Donald C. Kamin.

They are "countermen" in the model offices of the finance school. It's their job to try and cheat student finance men.

They break all the rules the men are taught to enforce. They try to pass counterfeit money. They give the students every short-change routine in the books. They also take a whack at cashing personal checks and war bonds improperly.

Do they get away with it? They say not too often.

"Once you've shown a boy how he's just taken a counterfeit $10 bill," says Sgt. Cocchio, "he's learned a lesson he'll never forget."

A SLICK ONE—M. Sgt. Wilbur Jarchow of West Chicago, Ill., plays the part and tries to steal money from student cashier Sgt. 1/c Dale Young of Lincoln, Neb. Jarchow flips a bill to the floor when Young is not looking.

The character of daily worship and living that sets the individual at-one with the divine nature is the only acceptable atonement, declares the Lesson-Sermon titled "Doctrine of Atonement" to be read in all Christian Science churches on Sunday, Oct. 21. The Golden Text makes the point clear. It reads, "If any man be in Christ, he is a new creature: old things are passed away; behold, all things are become new" (II Corinthians 5:17).

Willing obedience to God's law is essential. Jesus admonishes (Matthew 10:38), "He that taketh not his cross, and followeth after me is not worthy of me." Mary Baker Eddy further points out (science and Health with Key to the Scriptures, p. 19): "Every pang of repentance and suffering, every effort for reform, every good thought and deed, will help us to understand Jesus' atonement for sin and aid its efficacy; but if the sinner continues to pray and repent, sin and be sorry, he has little part in the atonement,—in the at-one-ment with God, — for he lacks the practical repentance, which reforms the heart and enables man to do the will of wisdom."

AMERICANISM and CHRISTIANITY or COMMUNISM and ATHEISM...which do you want? The inescapable challenge facing the Christian world today is COMMUNISM. COMMUNISM is OFFICIALLY ATHEIST. To destroy the American principle of FREEDOM of WORSHIP is the declared intention of this ANTI-AMERICANISM.

ABOUT twenty years ago the Comintern declared: "The ultimate aim of the Communist International is to replace world capitalist economy by a world system of Communism....It will bury forever all mysticism, religion, and superstition." That anti-God declaration has never been challenged. In fact, it has strengthened its atheist principles to a point that has rarely been seen before in history. The Truth is, Communism cannot live with Christianity, because it is a religion unto itself, as much so as it is a system of politics and economics.

COMMUNISTS declare theirs is simply the "scientific" application of the teachings of history. They also say theirs is not only a "scientific" system but is the ONLY SYSTEM. Communists say Christianity is superstition. They refer to Christianity as something especially designed to capture the masses for exploitation by capitalist masters. Communists say "DOWN WITH THE CROSS WHICH IS THE SYMBOL OF FAITH FOR THE CHRISTIAN WORLD."...Therefore, Communism and Christianity become the two great rival Faiths of the Twentieth Century.

CHRISTIANITY believes one thing about the nature of man and his destiny, the nature of morality, the basis of ethics, and the nature of the Universe; COMMUNISM believes the exact opposite. CHRISTIANITY believes in the INDIVIDUAL and in the RIGHTS OF MAN. COMMUNISM believes the individual is the wholly owned SLAVE OF THE STATE.

THIS atheistic, materialistic, conspiracy threatens to engulf the whole world. Unless it is stopped our liberties, political, civil and religious rights, will go the way of the unfortunate nations which have already been crushed to earth behind the iron curtain of Moscow. If you believe in God and the Bible of the Lord God Almighty, won't you help hold high the CROSS. It is being threatened by Communist enemies. For the sake of all that is dear to you...attend your church and support her good work.

Rangers Chalk Up Third Win Of Season; Trim Guymon 20-7

The Rangers chalked up their third victory of the season Friday night by trimming Guymon 20-7, bringing their season record to three wins, three losses. The team displayed some good, aggressive blocking and tackling in disposing of the heavier Oklahoma visitors.

Perryton led, 14-0, at the half and added another touchdown in the third quarter before Guymon scored, making their touchdown on a blocked kick.

B. R. Pletcher broke the ice on the second play of the game when he scampered 71 yards for the initial Ranger touchdown, behind some nice blocking, and when Gene Clack kicked the extra point, it was 7-0 before the late comers reached their seats.

The remainder of the first quarter was scoreless, but early in the second, the Rangers started a drive from their own 38 which carried across the goal line, the clincher coming on a brilliant 40-yard dash by Pletcher. A pass, Pletcher to Dick Haar, set the ball on the Guymon 40 and on the next play, Pletcher broke loose. Clack again added the extra point and it was 14-0.

Soon after the second half began, the Rangers capitalized on a recovered fumble at the Guymon 39 to start goalward again. Ed Cummings lumbered 28 yards down to the Guymon 11, added two more yards, then Dick Haar galloped 8 yards around right end for the third score. This time the kick was no good, and it was 20-0.

The only other distinguishing feature of that third quarter was a booming 52 yard kick by freshman Landrum Osborne, which sailed dead on the Guymon 2. This put the Tigers in a hole and they graciously handed the Rangers the ball on the Guymon 20 with a recovered fumble.

However, the Rangers couldn't go, and the Tigers snatched back the ball when Bob Kenny intercepted a Pletcher pass on the 20.

This time, the visitors put on their only sustained drive of the evening, going down to the Ranger 1 before the stout Ranger forwards held and took over the ball. Guymon had a touchdown called back on this series for an offside penalty.

After punching out to the 12, Osborne dropped back to punt and found center Ira Neville on top of him when he kicked the ball. The ball dribbled back across the goal line and was pounced upon by Guymon for the touchdown. The kick was good and it was 20-7.

Late in the game, Guymon drove to the Ranger 10, but were held for downs and that was all the offensive threat for the Tigers.

Game statistics:

Oldtimer Coaches For Fun

BROWNWOOD, Texas (AP)—J. Horace (Cap) Shelton carries this amateur business to the extreme. He's been track coach at Howard Payne College 31 years and has never been on the payroll of the athletic department.

Coaching track is a hobby with Cap. He likes it so well he's willing to do it for nothing. In fact, he insists on it.

His record is mighty good. He has won 13 Texas Conference Championships in the 20 years Howard Payne has competed for it under his coaching. The conference wasn't formed until 1927 and has skipped a few years because of the war.

One of Cap's proudest memories was of Aubrey Reese's hurdles victory over the great Fred Wolcott. Wolcott set world's records and is known as one of the mightiest tracksters of all time. But Reese beat Wolcott in both the high and low hurdles when the latter was at John Tarleton Junior College. Wolcott won fame while running for Rice Institute.

Shelton explained why Reese never made a world champion. "He wouldn't race the clock. He'd just run against his opponent. I never could get him to run as fast as he could."

Third Annual Horseshoe Pitch Set In Amarillo

AMARILLO, Tex.—It's horseshoe pitching time in the Tri-State area again with Old Tack's third annual Great Plains Horseshoe Pitching Tournament scheduled for October 20 at the Ellwood Park courts in Amarillo.

For the first time, the open doubles division will not be run off. An expected record entry has made tournament officials eliminate the two-man competition in order to handle the singles field.

Ellwood Park's seven-lane courts will be employed for the first time this year. There are bleachers with a seating capacity of approximately 500, adequate shade trees in case the sun gets too hot and a public address system to keep the spectators informed of what is going on.

Last year's event was won by Elbert (Al) Lee of Stinnett. He won't be back to defend his Class A title, so the field is wide open. Sam Alexander, the 1949 champion, will try for his second crown, however.

Harold Yingling of Higgins won the Class B championship and Amarillo's J. B. Allen took Class C honors.

The tournament is open to all males in the Tri-State area. Entry fee is $2, and includes a buffet luncheon, which will be served at the Veterans of Foreign Wars dining hall during the noon hour.

Entries may be mailed to the Horseshoe Tournament Editor, Amarillo Globe-News, Amarillo, Texas.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Foster left Thursday, October 11, for a two weeks vacation.

Don't Kill This Big Bug

A PRAYING MANTIS—about actual size.

(AP) Newsfeatures

If you see a strange, green insect, looking like a gargoyle at prayer, don't kill it. Rejoice, it's a praying mantis.

The praying mantis is on the increase and is moving northward, which is the first good news to come out of the insect kingdom for a long time.

Once primarily an inhabitant of the southern states, the praying mantis has now gone as far as southern Canada, where it is helping the farmer and gardener in the perennial war against destructive insects.

Not that the mantis is not destructive. It's one of the fiercest hungriest insects in the world, but happily concerns itself primarily with the unwanted pests like Japanese beetles, potato bugs, flies, grasshoppers, and caterpillars. Chances are that the praying mantis you'll see is a female, for the ladies of the species have the unfortunate habit of devouring the males—as well as smaller members of its species. But they are helpful, albeit, weird, creatures.

In addition to taking a kindly view of the mantis, in spite of its looks, farmers and gardeners should keep an eye out for its egg capsules, the gray-brown spools it fixes on plant stems in September. In the spring, whole colonies of tiny, wingless farm-assistants will be hatched to carry on the good work of insect-eating started by their parents.

Roy Rogers Too Smart for Bad Men at Caliente

Roy Rogers comes to the screen at the Ellis Theatre on Friday and Saturday this week, cast as the owner of a deluxe service for the transportation of race horses. He's out to get a crooked gang which has murdered one of his men and stolen a beautiful mare owned by Dale Evans.

It all happens after Roy has been advised by a gypsy fortune teller not to take his horses across the border at Caliente. Roy listens to her forecast of trouble but goes anyway.

When his stable-boy is killed, Roy blames himself and promises revenge. He also knows that if he doesn't recover the mare, Dancing Girl, not only will his own business be threatened, but it will mean financial ruin for Dale.

Thrilling Action

Roy's wonder horse, Trigger, helps Roy to capture a mysterious run-away mare which turns out to be Dancing Girl with a dye job. With the recovery of Dale's horse, Roy, his sidekick Pinky Lee and his friend Leonard Penn round up the crimnials after an exciting fight.

The story concerns two brothers, both in the British Army in India, as they fight the hill tribes together and fight each other for the hand of Miss Hudson.

Margaret O'Brien Is Big Girl Now

The first awareness of increasing age will come to some moviegoers next Sunday and Monday at the Pertex when they see Margaret O'Brien, ex-child actress in "Her First Romance." This is the blossoming out picture of Margaret as a woman instead of a child with winsome ways and pigtails.

She has a glamorous hair-do, off-the-shoulder gowns, and the ability to dance a hot Charleston, all of which seems a bit odd for the youngster, but she soon seems quite at home as a grown-up.

"Her First Romance" shows Margaret in the first surge of that old urge. She has a hopeless crush on a popular boy. When she learns that he is to spend the summer at Camp Chippewa, she enlists the support of her kid brother in getting their parents to send them to the camp.

At camp, Margaret's dreamboat pays her no attention. However, she gets her chance to make up to him when the camp runs a competition in which the title, "King of Camp Chippewa," is conferred on the boy who builds the most successful money-earning project. Margaret's ideal wants to build a novel boat-slide, but he doesn't have enough money for lumber. Margaret and her kid brother help him, and get themselves into plenty of trouble as a result. Reality and romance come to grips in an hilarious climax.

Grid Racket Is Exposed in New Picture

One of the season's most talked-about films is "Saturday's Hero," an expose of big time football, which comes to the Ellis Theatre on Sunday and Monday, starring John Derek.

Derek is shown as a star high school athlete who wishes to climb above his family's station in life and jumps at the chance to play football for an ivy-coated college.

Derek quickly discovers that he is only a "Saturday's Hero," cheered wildly one afternoon a week because of his spectacular football-playing, but otherwise shunned by the fraternity boys. Too, as a football-playing commodity, he isn't expected to try too hard for the education he so desperately desires.

He also discovers that he is being sponsored as an All-American player by a wealthy and over-bearing alumnus, who is furthering his own political ambitions by building up his alma mater as a great football college. Also complicating Derek's life is a love affair. Derek and Donna Reed, niece of the alumnus, fall in love and plan to marry. Finally, Derek is seriously injured in a bruising game. Out of football forever, the boy must choose between remaining at college and returning to his home environment, and he is not sure whether or not he can plan his future to include Miss Reed.
