Crippled 'Winds' Matador Tonight

C. Need Members, Income

The crippled whirlwinds of Floydada High school will be engaged tonight in one of two conference games in District 4-A, when they meet the Matador Matadors on the Matador field.

The other conference game will be between the Spurr Bull Dogs and the Crosbyton Chiefs. This game will be played at Spurr.

The games were advanced one night on the calendar so as not to interfere with Halloween night activities of the schools in the district. The Matador-Floydada game has been booked for tonight instead of tomorrow night since last summer when the games were first scheduled.

The Lockney Longhorns, perched at the top of the district percentage ladder, are resting this week, as are also the Paducah Dragons and the Ralls Jackrabbits.

The Matador boys, with Red Amorette as their mentor, will be gunning tonight for their first conference win. They have lost to Spurr 33 to 13 and to Ralls 20 to 0.

On paper the Whirlwinds, which tied the Ralls team when they met and have title to that game by penetrations count, would thus be counted three touchdowns the better team. However, injuries and losses have taken a lot of the edge off the Whirlwind offensive front, and they are vulnerable defensively against speedy, open field play.

So what the record says may be all wrong when the two teams get out on the field. The Whirlwind's re-vamped offensive did not get going until the last quarter of the Paducah game here last Friday night when the boys lost a game before they could get steam up. The Matador club is credited with having some cat boys working in the backfield.

Last Week's Games
Last Friday's results: Paducah Dragons 13, at Floydada 6; Ralls 43 at Lubbock (B) 0; Spurr Bull Dogs 0 at Lockney 6; Matador 10; Crosbyton 10.

Hallowe'en Party
Friday Night at Lakeview School

A Hallowe'en party will be given at the Lakeview School house Friday night, October 31. The event is sponsored by the Home Demonstration club. Games of "42" and various games for the younger set will furnish entertainment for the evening.

Everyone is invited to witness the dispersal of Mr. Jones' body at the Lakeview School morgue at the stroke of 7:30. Come in disguise and if you survive, refreshments will be served to you.

Festive Hallowe'en
Date at Sand Hill
Will be Friday night

Due to conflicting dates, the Sand Hill carnival will be held tomorrow night (Friday) instead of tonight as announced in The Hesperian last week. The carnival is sponsored by the school and benefits will go toward buying a projector.

Included in tomorrow night's entertainment are bingo, fish pond, shows, cat rack and plenty of candy, pie and hamburgers.

Plans Ready
on Pavement
To Lakeview

Plans are ready and have been sent to the State office at Austin for checking in the State Highway engineer's office for the hard-surfaced road to Lakeview, Resident Engineer James F. Potts said this week.

The 7.1 miles of paving, approved as a federal farm to market project the third and last in the picture for Floyd county, is likely to be in the December letting and will be ready to begin as soon as the weather is safe in the year 1948.

This assumes that the county will have gotten all the right-of-way easements and all title troubles out of the way.

The proposed road extends from Highway 70 (State Highway No. 28) four miles east of Floydada, due south for 7.1 miles to the Lakeview store and school, and will put an important segment of road into the hands of the State Highway department for maintenance for year round travel.

An extension of this route south to the Crosbyton county line is included in the future plans of the Commissioners' court, for future construction in Precinct No. 4 as recommended to the State Highway department. Hard-surfaced mileages south from Dougherty is also being turned over to the State Highway department for future allotment of State funds.

Club Boys Use New Show Barn For Fat Swine

The biggest show of swine today in the Fat Pig show incident to Achievement day for 4-H club and FFA boys greeted the eyes of Floyd county people who witnessed last Saturday's livestock events.

Judged by Ray C. Mowrey, of the school of agriculture, Texas Technological college, the show included in all classes 94 swine, ranging from senior boars to 195-pound finished barrows five months old.

The show put into use for the first time the show barn on the Floydada Road association grounds in east Floydada. The compliments on this show building were generous and numerous. Its dimensions made the show an easy one to handle, with ample space for spectators and live stock as well.

Forty-eight of the ninety-four animals shown went on the block when the event closed. This means that 46 of the animals went back to farms as breeding stock, including all of the Cow-Sow-Hen contesting animals.

To demure little Miss Juanice Shearer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Shearer of Pleasant Hill, goes the honor of being the first girl in Floyd county to show a prize-winning swine on Achievement day. She exhibited a light cross breed barrow and after winning her class sold the animal for a prize above the market for the day.

E. L. Angus, president of the Chamber of Commerce, was warm in his praise of the moving spirits behind the show and of the excellence of the animals offered in the contest. To A. L. Hartzog and H. G. Barber, Mr. Angus said, should go the principal praise for the successful undertaking. The Chamber of Commerce underwrote the prize list and general expenses of the achievement day program. Hartzog, who is county agent, was associated with H. G. Barber, vocational agriculture sponsor in Floydada High school for the smooth manner in which the show was carried on. FFA boys of Floydada High school put in many hard licks getting the barn and premises ready for the show.

Guests of W. M. Hambricht
The officials of the swine show numbering some 15 persons, were guests of W. M. Hambricht at a dinner at Hotel Coffee shop at high noon before the judging began at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. Steaks from a fat steer raised on the Hambricht farm at Lakeview were served.

Mr. - Mrs. Reeves
Attend Odd Fellow Encampment

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Reeves returned Tuesday night from Gainesville where they had been since Sunday attending the 95th annual session of the Grand Encampment of Patriarchs Militant of the Independent Order of Odd Fellows of Texas, who met jointly with the Ladies auxiliary. Approximately 2,000 visitors were in Gainesville for the meeting.

The encampment opened Sunday with a parade through the downtown streets to Fair Park Community center, where the business sessions were held.

Dallas Auxiliary No. 6 conducted memorial services at the First Methodist church Sunday night. A performance by the Gainesville Community circus was given for the delegates.

M. E. Stone, grand patriarch presided at the sessions of the encampment and Mrs. M. E. Stone, president of the Ladies auxiliary, conducted the auxiliary sessions.

The 1948 encampment of the Patriarchs will be held in Galveston.

Negro Is Fined $300
On Highway Wreck

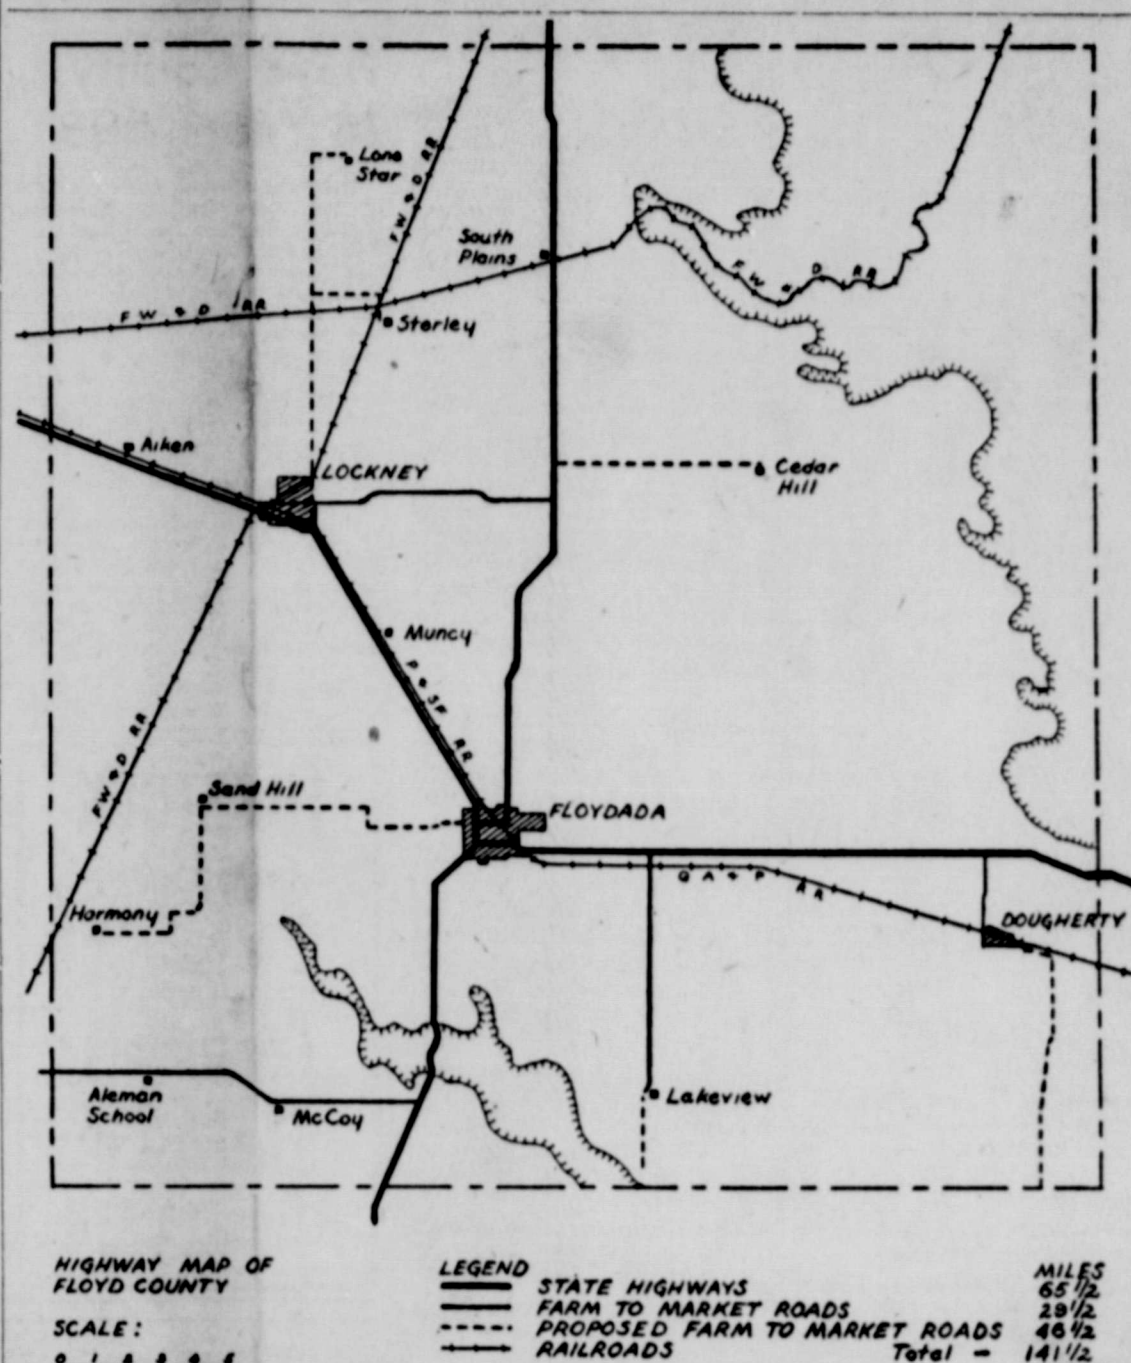

Wilton King, Jr., colored, was assessed a fine of $300 and costs on a charge of assault with a motor vehicle in county court here this week as a result of the accident in south Lockney last week in which three were seriously injured.

Meanwhile Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Knight and small child, Ruby Faye Knight, are in quarters of the labor camp at Lockney with injuries which will require several weeks to heal. They were hospitalized at the Lockney clinic for a few days. Dorothy and Chas. Fisher, were less seriously injured. They had come to Lockney from Hugo, Oklahoma to work in the harvest.

The negro driver and four others in his car had only slight hurts. Making the turn into the business route from the highway at Lockney the negro's car skidded into the Oklahoma man's car and struck it sideways.

W. H. FINLEY III.
W. H. (Bill) Finley has been gravely ill at his home on West Jackson street this week. His condition as of yesterday had not given members of the family any hope of his early recovery.

Cotton Harvest Moves at Slow Pace in County

Except for the fact that the demand for laborers in the cotton fields and cotton processing plants of the county is considerably in excess of the supply, the harvest of cotton this week is progressing normally in made-to-order weather.

Gins which have always operated on around the clock schedules are simply unable to draft sufficient labor and are closed down for a few hours daily to give their tired crews time for some rest. None of the gins at Floydada or Lockney had sufficient help as late as Tuesday night and other gins are reported in the same category over the county.

Yield and quality of the cotton continue above normal according to reports.

Pink Bollworm Is Found

Operating this week under a pink bollworm quarantine, gins of the county and the cotton raisers are finding the restrictions ample but not burdensome. Representatives of the U. S. Department of Agriculture found pink bollworm in the bolls of a bale of cotton turned out last week at Farmers Coop gin from the J. Sam Hale 40-acre field southwest of Floydada a half mile.

Floyd is one of 17 counties of the area put in the quarantine area, two others being Dickens and Crosby, where pink bollworm was found to have spread. Previously Terry was the closest county in the quarantine area. Permits to haul involve no expense. Since all bolls must be burned however, their use as cattle feed will not be permitted, and this will work a hardship in instances.

County Agent A. L. Hartzog, who was agent for sometime in Terry county says that farmers will find the pink bollworm protective measures will not affect their marketing operations either in price or otherwise and they can haul their own seed home. Seed which go to market, however, will go only to mills for crushing and cannot be resold for planting. Trucks which haul the seed are required to have truck carefully wrapped to prevent any of the seed escaping enroute. The County agent's office does not have anything to do with the establishment or execution of the quarantine rules.

A hurried survey made late yesterday by The Hesperian of cotton ginnings in the county indicates the total turned out today is slightly above 7,000 bales. As one Lockney ginner expressed it, the harvest probably is about one-third done. Some cotton raisers are about half through, some just starting and others have not begun to gather their cotton yet.

The Road Building Program

(Although The Hesperian should be set down as favoring the road bond issue for an interim building program, due to be passed on by the taxpayers on November 22, here is attempted an objective discussion of the present set-up of arteries of travel in Floyd county, the proposed construction for the immediate future and also the long-range needs of the citizenship. Figures as to mileage and the plat shown were made available from the office of Resident Engineer James F. Potts of the State Highway department.)

Herewith is presented in the form of a map reproduction the picture of improved arteries of travel in Floyd county, as of now and projected for the early future. The legend identifies the routes but does not show many local roads, some of them quite important, amounting in all to more than 1,300 miles.

The map highlights the tremendous job of road building before the property owners of the county in working out their formula of improved routes of travel in the future, first steps in the pattern of which have been taken and the next steps proposed are also outlined.

North and south "east and west" are shown State Highways 207 and 28, amounting to 65 1/2 miles already built. These were constructed to form a pattern of through traffic, without regard except incidentally to local travel needs as the highway pattern was formulated by the State Highway department, in contrast to the later development of the Farm to Market road plan which takes into consideration travel count, number of improved farms to be served, school houses, gins, elevators, milk routes, et cetera.

Roads Already Built
Indicated as the first step in this Farm to Market road plan are the 7 mile "cutoff" from Lockney east to Highway 207, the 14 1/2 mile route from Highway 207 south of Floydada 7 miles, to Petersburg east and west, labeled No. 54, both of which are now in use, and the 7.1 miles from Highway 28 south to Lakeview school and store yet to be built but which is in the Farm to Market program and indicated as though already constructed. Contract for the Lakeview road will be let in December, assuming that the Floyd County commissioners set all right of way problems cleared and fences moved so that the state and federal funds can be expended without danger of being impeded by local quarrels and squabbles and title problems.

Next step in the road building program for the county, to take care of the abandoned picture of scholastic affairs, elevators and gin hauls, milk routes and things of the kind, is to realize what the taxpayers are to see on in the vote on November 22. Whether this step, based on an interim program with the State Highway department participation, while the federal attitude takes shape in the next two years, will be backed by the taxpayers in sufficient numbers is the question mark. The effort is to get the program going on a county-wide basis. At least three areas in the county are all set to take up a local program should the countywide plan program not get the nod of the voters.

Must Serve All Precincts

That the program must be carried as far as practicable to all four precincts of the county is a fore gone conclusion, and under pressure from the State Highway department the commissioners have set up their "first" objectives. In doing so they have had to make some choices based on the over all picture. The State Highway commission has insisted that courts make up their minds due to considerable confusion. One month a court has a delegation insisting that the commission undertake to help on one route or set of routes, then after local pressure is applied, show up again the next month or so and insist on something entirely different. "Decide what you want and get it in writing," is the commission's attitude, so as to pin courts down. Politically this is a difficult thing to do. A commissioner in the nature of things, is reluctant to say that he wants and must have one certain needed road above another certain needed road. Since he can't have them all at once, he does have to say, however, with the reservation stated but probably not recorded that he has other equally important farm to market needs. He must meet the state's insistence that he have a program to which he is working.

Four Precinct Picture
As a result of this pull and tug in Floyd county here is the picture and proposal for the immediate future:

In Precinct One, Sand Hill and Harmony people have worked long and hard on a plan for an all-

Judge I. B. Holt to Address Lions Club
at Some Other Date

Judge I. B. Holt, of Lamb county, representative of the 130th Legislative district, will not be heard by the Floydada Lions club tonight. His date with the club has been postponed.

Because of conflicting dates the club will, in fact, have no meeting tonight. The club was due to have several visitors whom they wished to have hear the state representative. When it was found that many could not attend the date was cancelled to give the legislator a better house when he does come to talk to the club.

Yesterday it was announced that the district governor will visit the club on November 15, which has been designated ladies night.

Problems in Precinct 3
In Precinct No. 3, the commissioner is upset with the problems that go with a lot of wide open space and desperate needs. The road he ran came nearest to getting approval as indicated on the map as extending eastward to Cedar six miles from Highway 207. If he can get approval of this route he has a later chance of working on eastward to the Motley county line to connect with the state highway at Plamot and eventually work out something for the extreme northeast part of the county, where the road problem is complicated by the rough terrain, streams, and boundary lines of adjacent counties.

Charge of Assault
Made Against One

A charge of aggravated assault was filed in county court here yesterday against Jack Leaverton, about 35, Lockney business man, in connection with injuries sustained Tuesday night about 10:30 by J. C. Colvin, about 60, also of Lockney.

Colvin was treated for extensive head injuries, and named Leaverton as his assailant, Deputy Sheriff Earl Cooper said.

Standard Test
Reaches 4100
Ft. This Week

Delayed briefly this week by a twisted drill stem, operations at Standard Oil company of Texas' No. 1 Daniel on the Arthur B. Dunson homestead land 6 1/2 miles south east of Floydada, were proceeding again this mid-week, according to reports from the test.

Sunday the hole had reached 4,140 feet in depth, with formation said to be running a few feet higher than in the Merry brothers test on the Montgomery land further west. This last-named test was drilled to a depth of about 6,500 feet before it was abandoned due to mechanical trouble.

The Standard test, first to be made by that company in this county, has permit to drill to 7,500 feet.

No other way to go: Bread and milk prices are up, reason being the cost is up. Wheat has continued its flight upward and the baker has had no alternative. Milk production is away down and demand away up. In the matter of milk in particular the demand as between processors of different "milk sheds" has been so keen that a stable price has been practically an impossibility. A Floydada dairy, for instance, could hold the price down, meaning that he could refuse to pay the upped price. But he would have no milk soon. He can take his choice at some milk at a price or no milk. The circle goes on around, of course, to make the job a difficult one for the milk producer, on account of his high costs. Major losers will be the elders and the little tots, where the family budgets simply will not go around the increased prices.

There are a good many farmers in Floyd county who are in the freshman and sophomore classes as to operating an irrigation farm, who would do well to watch how the upper classmen and the graduates in the business. Lands which have been subject to irrigation all the time are just now being put under the well. Usually a man has to pay for any education he may have, that is, he must make his own mistakes. Certainly he will, some of them. But there are some ideas the beginner has that he could have his mind disabused of by looking about. There are men in Floyd county who have been irrigating 30 years or so—through bad, had market years as well as through the other kind of years—hails, dust storms, greenbugs, grasshoppers, flea hoppers, cotton lice. They won't tell you what you ought to do. They take it you are going to find out for yourself that some of your pet ideas won't work, the same as it was with them once upon a time. However, they'll let you watch and they will give you hints. If you are an irrigation beginner why not pick out some successful fellow and listen somewhat.

They tell us that every beginner there ever was in farm land irrigation looks at that beautiful stream gushing from the earth, then looks up at the horizon and as far as he can see in any direction the water will flow, pictures himself making it all grow as lush as a garden. And he thinks in terms of the kind of crops he is used to growing the way he is used to growing them. But farming with artificial water supply, supplemented, sometimes too much, by that which nature supplies from the sky, is a different kind of a job. The beginner takes some terrific body blows as well as some shocks to his ego. The men of the county who began irrigating 30 years or so ago will tell you that.

Here at The Hesperian office we're beginning to bother a little about the oil situation. While only two tests of all that have been made seem to have gone down to finality—both drilling into granite—the oil companies have spent a huge sum of money in Floyd county, Motley, Crosby and Hale, trying to find that elusive sand that sure ought to have what we are looking for. Also into leases they have dropped quite a bit of money. And still no oil. We are ready for Standard's test on the Duncan homestead land to be the one that makes oil. However, the minute it does it will catch the town of Floydada, for one, about as unprepared to take the most advantage of such good fortune as a town could be.

An organization with imposing title is laying plans now to get Texas' water supply including the underground supply of the plains country, into the hands of a regulatory body similar to that of the oil industry of the state. If you want to use the water supply you have access to you'll first send to Austin to ask somebody, seems to be the inevitable trend. Entry of the big shots into the state, gobbling up water supply down-state, seems to be the answer to the continued demand. Add this, of course, to the natural disposition of many to "pass a law" and add another bureau or commission, and you have a situation that will be difficult. Plains people will fight it, of course, and the longer they can stave off state management of their affairs the better for them. But it may be (probably is) that it is a losing battle within the "fore seeable future."

There are 13 artificial dairy breeding associations operating in Texas now.

The translation of DDT is dichloro diphenyl trichloroethane.

Floyd County 14 Years Ago

These items taken from the files of The Floyd County Hesperian published fourteen years ago.

(Issue of November 2, 1933) Heavy clouds out of the northwest Wednesday night covered Floyd county with the first general rain in two months, averaging from a half inch to over an inch.

Monday night of this week, a prowler burglarized the store of Felton-Collins Grocery and market. A heavy screen was torn loose, the light in the back door broken and the latch operated through the broken pane to open the door.

Movement of dirt on the east end of the grading project on State Highway No. 28 from the Motley county line to Floydada was started Monday. Fine weather has prevailed and rapid progress is being made on getting construction underway.

The plant of the Floydada Concrete and Warehouse company, 600 bales of cotton and two freight cars of the Santa Fe Railway company were total losses in fire that lighted up the whole northwest part of town and burned spectacularly for two hours Tuesday night at 12 o'clock.

Floyd county gins had turned out a total of 14,414 bales of cotton from the 1933 crop this Thursday morning's check over the territory indicated.

Fess Whitfill, of Liberty community, has been receiving treatment this week for serious acid burns about the face and eyes which he suffered Thursday afternoon of last week.

Lieutenant Dan Jenkins, who is in the aviation corps at Ft. Crockett Galveston, left Wednesday, after spending the week with his parents Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Jenkins.

Students, Faculty Rally Round For The Football Squad

Monday afternoon at 2:45, the faculty and student body, with the exception of the football boys, participated in an impromptu school spirit rally held in the auditorium.

After rousing speeches by Mr. Graves and Mr. Haden stressing the importance of school spirit, the band led the pep squad and student body to the football field, to the tune of "Beer, Beer."

The student body, having surrounded the football team, participated in a school yell led by the pep leaders. Betty Tye, representing the pep squad, presented the first in a series of speeches. The second speech was made by Billie Sisson, band representative. Bradford Beedy, representative of the student body, made the third speech. The next speech was made by Mr. Barber on behalf of the faculty. George Sherrill, a prominent business man, then spoke the speeches with an offering of the backing of the business men of Floydada.

Another yell and the school song concluded the rally.

Have you met that brown-haired Pep Leader with the "soft, luscious look"? Her name is Bobbie Medlen. Probably you've noticed her dark brown eyes with the questioning look so often in them, and her dreamy way of walking — as if she walked on clouds! She is five feet, five inches tall, and has one hundred and ten pounds very evenly distributed.

Mr-named "Be", she is the type of girl who can be vivacious, quiet, studious, carefree — just at the right time. Bobbie, a member of the senior class and Gamma Sigma Kappa, can well be called the typical all-around girl.

Beginning a perfect day, Be would arise at 6:30. After a brisk morning ride on her best horse she would return home for a huge breakfast consisting of a stack of pancakes resembling that of Lil' Black Sambo — along with sausage and coffee. After her morning meal she'd curl up for a nice nap until lunch (about 12:00). Italian Spaghetti with all the trimmings would "hit the spot" for the noonday meal. Afterward she'd go for a spin in her automobile that converts into an airplane when "biddle" away the afternoon until time for her true love to carry her off to some exclusive spot — for instance a Masquerade Ball.

Be would enjoy being a bachelor — maybe it's an old maid with her cats but her ambition is to be a locomotive engineer so she must have the privileges of running all those interesting little buttons Bobbie's favorite time of day is dusk and her hobby is playing the piano (she does a good job of it, by the way).

Being Pep Leader heads the list of Bobbie's "likes". Other than that she is crazy about pink lipstick "Black Magic", sweet, friendly, and — — — — — red and blue, and football. "Good eating" refers to fried chicken, cherry pie, and pickles is Bobbie's estimation. Bowling and marbles are two more of Be's favorite sports. Sweaters and skirts and Claud Parrish are at the top of her "favorite" list.

Bobbie detests two faced people, despises black and orange together, hemmy and satin. Other than these, she is neutral (if there be such a thing!).

Bobbie Gene's "Ideal Male" fits this description: First, he must be very original. Intelligence (but not too much) and a unique sense of humor are required, too. He is eight feet tall, weighs 170 pounds, has buckles, pins, and buttons was received Thursday by Mr. Barber to be handed to the boys who ordered them.

unusual hair, wears a blue beard has freckles, carries a walking cane and persists in falling asleep in church and snoring loudly. Incidentally he has eight fingers on each of three hands. (She definitely does not want him to have an inferiority complex, either.)

We predict you will go places Bobbie. Keep up the good work!

Longhorns Take Conference Lead Friday Night

Reaching the half-way mark in the conference honors Friday night, the Longhorn Longhorns battled the Lockney Longhorns in a six-minute overtime game. The Longhorns were slightly favored to win.

The Longhorns rest this week and on successive week-ends take on the Floydada Whirlwinds and the Matador Matadors on their home grounds and journey to Paducah for the last game of the conference season. On the basis of past performance they should take each of these teams as they get to them.

a long pass from J. Simpson and ran for 21 yards only to be downed on the four-yard stripe. The whistle blew after the first unsuccessful effort to shove the ball over.

A score by the Longhorns late in the fourth quarter on a quarter back sneak was called back on a rules violation. The play was effectively screened and had the Bull Dogs scattered over the field hunting a ball totter.

Deception and Speed
The spectacular sneak play pointed up the Longhorn game of deception and speed, which spelled the difference in the teams. On the basis of pre-game estimates the Bull Dogs were slightly favored to win.

NEW RETAIL PRICES FOR MILK

Effective November 1

Patton's Pasteurized Sweet Milk, Qt.,	22c
Patton's Homogenized Sweet Milk, Qt.,	23c
Williams Dairy Raw Sweet Milk, Qt.,	21c

The shortage of feed and pasture in this territory has resulted in a shortage of milk. Producers must either get more money or go out of business. Other cities of this section are actively bidding for whole milk produced in Floyd County.

As a result of these conditions over which we have no control, we have again raised the wholesale price of milk and must increase the retail price.

We are holding the spread between our buying price and our selling price as low as we can to stay in business and at the same time guarantee a supply of good, wholesome milk.

We hope you will bear with us until weather and market conditions are more nearly normal.

Everywhere you look you see BIG-CAR QUALITY and everywhere you travel it's AT LOWEST COST

There's plenty of "B.T." in Chevrolet's eye-catching, eye-stopping Body by Fisher. Swift, racy lines and contours that are up-to-the-minute in style! You'll find these bodies only on Chevrolet and higher-priced cars.

When this car heads out of town and onto a rough road it seems to "take smooth pavement right along with it"; for it has the famous Knee-Action Gliding Ride, and this, too, is found only in Chevrolet and higher-priced cars.

Here are two liveliest that few cars of any price can equal... power and dependability known the world over... all stemming from Chevrolet's World's Champion Valve-in-Head Engine which has delivered more miles for more owners than any other engine built today!

Be sure your car is ready for winter! Bring it to us for service and let us get it ready for the bad-weather days ahead.

Good Crop of Excellent Apples Made This Year

King is back. And of course the King Apple, reigning monarch of southwestern tables. Home-owners here in the Southwest are aware of King Apple each year. The smart cooks know that this fruit offers an abundance of taste and nutrition when served in scores of easy-to-fix ways.

This year, who like to serve a stand what good cook doesn't? Indeed, a good crop of King Apples has been made, and now features the variety that you see at your grocer's like best. The red-checked apples are filled with all the excitement of the new season!

Buyers welcome the reminder that apples — like so many quality food items — may be used by brand name. The distributors of fruits and vegetables for this autumn's apple season are now buying the apples that you know and respect. They pay you to look for your brand, because a well-advised brand or trade mark is your assurance of high quality.

When you visit your grocer's next, try to include a sufficient supply of apples. Your family will appreciate them as between meal snacks, and, as you well know, your favorite recipe using apples will bring not only hearty compliments to you, but hearty appetites to the table!

Conservation District News

The Soil Conservation Service technicians assigned to the Floyd County Soil Conservation district set high points on the following farms during this week: Joe Brown, W. E. Sims, and J. W. Paulkenberry.

Contour lines to irrigate volunteer wheat up were run on the W. A. Boedeker and Alvin Wilson farms.

The grasshopper bait spreader that belongs to the Soil Conservation Service has been removed from behind John Reagan's office. We would appreciate it if the person taking the spreader would notify the District office in the Agriculture building.

The Soil Conservation Service technicians were on the Luther Dorrell farm discussing preliminary plans for a soil and water conservation practice on his farm. Mr. Dorrell is contemplating putting down an irrigation well and expects to water the north half of his section.

H. R. Patterson has adopted the sprinkler system of watering. He has been watering up hay and small grains, and says his sprinkler system is the stuff on his steeper land. H. R. will be glad to explain the system to anyone interested and tell all about the costs, etc. They say you can stand near one of the sprinklers and it is just like being out in a rain.

As A Farm Woman Thinks

(By Nellie Witt Spikes)

RELEASE FOR EMILY

By Mrs. Lillie Littrell Looney. She scarcely knew when time had ceased.

Nor guessed when Eternity began. The touch of miracle was so light Upon her mortal span. Nor felt a cold breath upon her brow. She had not heard a brush of wings. She only thought how strange it was.

No shadow walked beside her now. More free than she had ever been. She left no footprints upon the sand. And flowers and fruit she turned to touch. Trembled no longer beneath her hand. She came at last to a low green hill. And there beneath its grassy crown. She made her bed, and breathed a sigh— And gently laid her down.

O, she had not known how burden-some The ceremonies of bone and breath— Until she had lost them when she passed. Over the threshold into Death.

The above poem is copied from November and December issues of Pinnacle and we are very proud of Mrs. Looney winning first prize contest with her poem. I am sure there are many who recently lost a loved one will appreciate the lovely lines.

I also find in the November issue of Reader's Scope another friend has won "The Find Of the Month" with her Skyrockets for Amarillo. I have gotten acquainted with Mrs. Von Soden through the mail and find her a very interesting correspondent. She is a "child" of the old Texas Panhandle and lived at Hereford just before we moved there. Good writing to you, Mary Von Soden, and may we see many stories from your gifted pen.

Thanks to Jimmie Poore Holloman and Mrs. Clyde Bagwell for interesting rocks for my collection. Jimmie picked hers up near Pine-cliff, the mountain home of Emily Griffith, famed educator and founder of the Opportunity School in Denver. Mrs. Bagwell brought one from Laguna Beach, California. So my collection ever grows, and where it stops nobody knows.

Mrs. Tom Reed of Famer not only gave me the recipe for her very fine Linden Relish but also a generous sample of the finished product which all found very much to our liking. I will pass it on but won't be quite so good as Mrs. Reed to have a sample also.

Linden Relish
6 large green tomatoes . . . 4 large carrots . . . 6 red sweet peppers . . . 6 green peppers . . . 1 medium cabbage . . . Grind, mix and sprinkle 3/8 cup salt over and let stand about five hours. Squeeze dry, add 6 cups sugar dissolved in one quart vinegar. Add one tablespoon celery salt one tablespoon dry or prepared mustard. Put in jars and seal, requires no cooking.

This new plastic stuff to make balloons is the stuff. Wouldn't it have made the boy's eyes (at hogkilling time when I was young) pop out of their heads as they labored over a hog bladder (scrapping and blowing and scraping and blowing after they had to make a hollow cane) to have seen a boy come up with a small tube of plastic, get a blob over the end of a hollow stick they had bought and blow without effort a big, big balloon with colors of the rainbow!

R. C. Forbes says in Woman's Home Companion: "Your opinion of others is apt to be their opinion of you."

Good thought for the week:
Autumn
A haze on the far horizon
The infinite, tender sky.
And the wild geese sailing high—
The rice, rich tint of the cornfield.
And all over upland and lowland
The charm of the goldenrod.
Some of us call it Autumn
And others call it God.

Pen, Not Kill, Rabies Suspect

AUSTIN.—Contrary to popular belief, rabies is more prevalent in winter than the so-called "dog-days" of the hot summer months.

In a statement released this week by Dr. Geo. W. Cox, State Health Officer, it was disclosed that of all animal brains submitted for examination by the State Laboratory in January, 1947, 33 per cent tested positive for rabies, while in the mid summer month of July only 18 per cent were positive.

"If all stray dogs were destroyed and all pets vaccinated for rabies it would go far toward stamping out this justly feared, and always fatal disease," Dr. Cox said.

The doctor stressed that dogs suspected of having rabies should not be killed immediately, but should instead be confined ten days for observation to see if the disease develops. If a dog sickens and dies during the observation period, the head should be packed in ice and sent to the State Health Department for examination. Freezing the brain, or killing the dog prematurely, or in such a manner as to injure the brain may make correct laboratory findings uncertain, if not impossible.

Dragons Score in, Let 'Winds ave Yardage

Friday night's tilt was one of the worst defeats Floydada Whirlwinds could suffer. A team that was scheduled to lose came up with a surprise victory over the Dragons. The Whirlwinds made the game a yardage once then kicked the ball. The Dragons were then recovered. A few varied plays and Sandlin passed over the line to Beck from the Floydada line. Sandlin's try at conversion was wide, and in the matter of minutes Paducah had a telling six point lead on the favored Floydada eleven. The rest of the quarter Paducah ran in their own territory on kicks at strategic times. Paducah was finding it difficult to take the game easy and letting Sandlin shake loose. Paducah had the ball in their possession to start the second quarter and had advanced to the Floydada thirty yard line before Hale stepped in the air to take one of Sandlin's passes and return it to his twenty-five yard marker. Unfortunately Sandlin brought down Hale pass on the next play and generally ran through the Floydada line from the forty-five to the fifty yard line which he crossed standing. He then took the ball for a good punt to give the Dragons a thirty-yard point lead. Again for the remainder of the quarter Floydada found themselves under pressure in their own territory and could offer no real threat of scoring. After the half Paducah again received the ball and made a sustained drive from their twenty yard line to the Floydada six yard line before Sandlin took over and started the same kind of drive, but history repeating itself they drew a fifteen yard penalty for unnecessary roughness from the Paducah twenty-two back to the thirty seven and were forced to punt to the Paducah fourteen. Fourth Quarter Antics Paducah carried the ball from the seven to the Floydada forty six where they punted to the Floydada ten. Floydada then came to life and took the ball on a steady march to the fifty-yard stripe where the ball went over on downs. Luckily the two plays Amburn took the ball from Paducah in the midst of a run and advanced to the Paducah forty-seven before being stopped. Floydada advanced to the twenty four yard line and it looked like they might score, however it wasn't to be that easy.

Floydada fumbled again and got the ball back again only after Sandlin made his only fumble on the forty yard stripe. Handley recovering. From the Paducah forty, the 'Winds made a march to the goal where Jones plunged the skin over. Conner's try at conversion was knocked to the ground and the game ended, Paducah thirteen and Floydada six.

Paducah's injury list hurt very badly in this game and though we had good boys in there playing they were inexperienced and were up against a tough team to get experience against. On the other hand don't under rate the Dragons. They are a bunch of hustlers and good ball players. It's no disgrace to lose a hard fought game to a good team. This one is lost but there are others to play and win. Hard work and the will to win plus time's healing of injuries will help. Just remember 'Winds, we're for you win lose, or draw as long as you do your best.

New Type Band

To see a band march on the field at half time during a football game is nothing new to most of us, and marching with military precision and snappy uniforms goes along with it but to see a band march on the field playing "Margie" and doing a rhythmic step with blackened faces, in levis or other such clothes, "well it but doesn't happen," but it did Friday night when the Floydada High school band performed at half-time. In the meantime Ruth Elaine Harmon, with painted face also, crossed the field and faced the Floydada stands, where she sang "St. Louis Blues" to the accompaniment of the band. Gene Dale Jackson supplied more entertainment as he took a trumpet break in between courses using a "Wow Wow" style. The Band then formed and marched off the field in regular military manner, as June Powell did acrobatics.

We can always expect pleasant entertainment at the half-time as supplied by the high school band. May they never run out of pleasant surprises for our entertainment.

Road Program

Adjacent counties. Granted a hard surfaced road to Cedar, which would be third probably on the state program, he could get on to the county line with a road at some future date and thence north to care for a rich area bounded on the west by the caprock, on the east by the Motley county boundary line and on the north by the Briscoe county line. People in that large area have been "stepchildren" of Floyd county and cast off from their natural travel area both north and east. Thumbs down at Austin on any other proposals to solve the perplexing problem in the northeast part of the county has been the rule. The commissioner there has to stake any plan he may have on the success of a first extension to Cedar, and apparently the taxpayers under the hill can get relief for their highway transportation problems only if it comes in that manner.

In Precinct Four
In Precinct Four the problem is much the same as in Precinct Three with variations. The two mile extension south from Lakeview store would extend toward Crosby county road improvements that would mean an eventual tie between the county seats of Floyd and Crosby county. But that is not controlling under the present program as it might have been in former programs. How many people it will take care of in school and other local transportation program is the question, and how much locally originating commercial traffic will it handle. The same is true of the route south from Dougherty for several miles. The fact that the Dougherty mileage is needed so badly as an outlet for cotton and cotton seed and other traffic south and cotton seed meal and other traffic north, and that it would effect a big mileage saving in traffic between two important highway arteries are not being considered now by the State Highway department. Next only to the people of the northeast part of the county the people of the southeast corner of the county have been the stepchildren of this county, due to boundary lines and terrain considerations.

Other Areas Involved
These decisions of the Commissioners as to a "first" road improvement program by the nature of things leave some considerable areas out in the cold so far as immediate plans are concerned. These areas include some territory in every precinct, but particularly as mentioned above the Providence and Pleasant Valley, and in addition the Center, Fairview and Campbell areas most of which are in Precinct 4. Fairview is due south of Cedar and Campbell is on due south of Fairview four miles. Campbell is two miles north of Highway 28 as it swings east of Floydada. There is also a big slice of country between the Lakeview improvement and the proposed improvement south from Dougherty. What per centage these people, who are left out of the "first" plans, will be for the county-wide plan will determine the fate of the bond issue on November 22 and the probability of the continuance of the county-wide program for the next two years. The attitude of Floydada and Lockney property taxpayers also will have a large bearing on the outcome. And whether the other communities of the county which now have hard-surfaced roads will be interested in broadening the county system further will have some thing to do with the matter.

Swine Show

awarded by four of the county's important coops, went to young Sam Ross of Dougherty on the Cow-Hog-Hen contest. Second place winner in this contest was Jerry Dunn whose award is 100 baby chicks at brooding time next spring. Third place went to Cecil Boedeker.

A special prize for showmanship, not on the regularly catalogued list was given for showmanship. Three of the outstanding swine breeders of the area judged the boys on their manner of showing their animals. The winners were:

First Bob Hambright; second Gordon Hambright; third Seth Johnston.

Largest hog shown was a Chester white senior boar weighing 830 pounds, which was grand champion boar of the show. He was exhibited by Seth Johnston of McCoy.
