Daylight Time Begins April 27

On Sunday, April 27 at 2 a. m. Daylight Saving Time will become effective for a six months period. The time will be moved up one hour.

Not everyone wants to move his clock ahead an hour, and a bill has been introduced to exempt Texas from the 1966 federal law establishing daylight saving time. States are permitted to exempt themselves, but Texas cannot do it this year because there isn't enough time.

States must exempt themselves from the entire six-months DST period or not at all. So if it is not in effect before April 27, it cannot hold back the clock hands this year.

State Capital News

By Vern Sanford

Austin. — Budget battle lines are being drawn in the Legislature. But redistricting lines aren't. .And Speaker Gus Mutscher is getting lined up for a summer marriage to a former Miss America.

While appropriations and redistricting don't look too cheerful, the prospect of putting a bride in the Speaker's Apartment in the Capitol has added a bright note to deliberations.

Early in the summer, Mutscher will marry Donna Axum, Miss America of 1964. Miss Axum, an Arkansas beauty, is a speech teacher at Texas Tech in Lubbock .

As for redistricting. a US Supreme Court ruling has wiped out the Legislatures optimisitc feeling that it could avoid any sort of redistricting this year. High Court ruled that congressional distincts must be precisely the same size, and Legislatures "must justify each variance no mater how small."

Texas' congressional districts are clearly outside the Court's decision, so they will have to be redrawn. Since that involves a lot of work. the possibility of a special session looms.

In other action, the House Appropriations Committee approved its version of the budget bill for the next two fiscal years. A Senate-passed bill would spend $5,775,900,000, but the House version has only $5,724,500,000. Major difference is in raises for state employees.

While the Senate bill would involve a sizable tax bill, the House version could get by on existing revenue. Neither bill includes pay raises for teachers.

Final bill will be drawn up by a House-Senate conference committee, which is expected to get pretty steamy in its deliberations.

WORK LOAD EASED —Eastr holidays limited action on major legislation but Committees continued to churn out bills.

House tentatively approved annual legislative sessions, but fell one vote short of final passage of the constitutional amendment proposition.

Senators passed a minimum wage bill in their first Friday work of the 1969 session. Earlier they engrossed a proposed constitutional amendment to repeal the annual voter registration requirement, substituting a limit on the registration period of four years maximum.

Senate took two hours to engross legislation making Texas government units liable to damage suits for negligent acts of their personnel. An amendment attached by Sen. A. M. Aikin of Paris exempted school districts, to the consternation of sponsors.

House passed 32 bills on local and consent calendars, then passed three more on the general calendar.

Approved by House committee and ready for early action are proposed constitutional amendments (already cleared by Senate) to legalize the sale of liquor by the drink on a local option basis, and abolish the welfare spending ceiling. Sponsors of both claim they need 100 votes for submission to voters at statewide elections.

OBSCENITY EYED — Liberties taken by motion pictures the past few years and the increase in the availability of smutty literature has resulted in a flood of bills aimed at tightening up the laws against obscenity.

House Criminal Jurisprudence Committee held a hearing on three of the bills — by Reps. James Nugent of Kerrville. Lamoine Holland of San Antonio and Joe Salem of Corpus Christi —and sent all three to the same subcommittee, which presumably will combine the most desirable features of all three into one bill.

Holland's bill aims at obscene literature, Salem's at dirty movies and Nugent's covers the whole field of obscenity.

Only opposition to the bills came from a spokesman for the Texas Drive-in Theater Owners Association, who said the bill would hurt the 1,000 ligitimate theaters in Texas to get at the "50 or so that show skin flicks."

Also meeing favorable receptions in the Legislature are bills to exempt from prosecution under the anti-obscenity laws projectionists who own no interest in theaters.

AERONAUTICS GAG — Texas Aeronautics Commission has proposed new rules and regulations for the hearing of cases before it — including a prohibition against anyone connected with a case from discussing the merits of the case with newsmen.

Commission's jurisdiction primarily involves the certification of intro-state airlines and the granting of state airport-aid grants to communities.

Proposed rule, which will be considered at a May 15 hearing, says a party to a case may not discuss it with newsmen "outside the presence of all other parties or their representatives, unless a member of the Commission is present."

WATER PLAN MOVING — Texas Water Rights Commission took just two hours to wind up hearings on a $9 billion statewide water plan.

Commission promised a ruling by April 22 on whether or not it approves the plan. It must determine whether all existing water rights are adequately protected.

Lower Rio Grande Valley water districts wanted approval withheld unless the 390,000 acre-feet of upstream diversion of Rio Grande waters, as proposed in the plan, is prohibited. They claimed the diversion would "bankrupt" three lower valley counties.

Northeast Texas spokesmen didn't like the plan's sizeup of their water needs. While favoring use of surplus to help dry areas, they said they oppose "robbing Peter to pay Paul."

Meanwhile, a $3.5 billion revenue bond constitutional amendment cleared both houses of the legislature for a place on an August 5 special election ballot.

REHABILITATION PROGRAM CUT — Texas Education Agency has been notified by the federal government that federal aid to the state vocational - rehabilitation program will be cut by approximately $5 million this year.

That would pare the program about 18%. or specifically from $27,363,204 to $22,537.694.

However, Assistant Education Commissioner C. G. Fairchild says the actual benefits of the program won't be reduced that much, because when the money situation gets tight, the TEA gets more cooperation from other agencies and individuals, such as physicians.

"So it's not all as bad as it may sound," he says. "After all, we started with only $10,000 in 1929, and then all we could do was ask for free help. It's still available."

ATTORNEY GEN. RULES — Atty. Gen. Martin has held in a new opinion that the Parks and Wildlife Department has authority, with consent of the governor, to set the selling price on marl, sand or other sedimentary materials to be removed from Galveston Bay and used as fill.

In another opinion Martin concluded that the county commissioners cannot use road and bridge funds or farm-market-lateral road funds for paying courthouse salaries, fire prevention services. tax evaluation services or hospital care of indigent.
