SNOOTER KNOWS

A LITTLE ABOUT EVERYTHING
AND NOT MUCH ABOUT ANYTHING

AMERICAN soldiers have come to prefer Sicily to North Africa, that is that part of Sicily they have captured. The boys have found all the various kinds of fresh fruits and vegetables they can eat, and occasionally, a big mug of wine. They refer to their newly acquired possessions as "just like back home." Here's the reason. They can barter a few cigarettes for fresh cucumbers, tomatoes, honeydew melons, corn on the cob, eggplant, water-melons. Grapes are ripening fast in the hot Summer sunshine and the plums and peaches are coming in. There are some small green apples and kind of a miniature pear, very tasty, and the supply of lemons is plentiful. Any Martin County soldier boy roaming around in that part of "the vine and fig tree," can thank his lucky stars he's there instead of here. Of course, I mean as to plenty fruits and vegetables, because the fruit and vegetable crops here are few and far between.

MY EXPERIENCE with a Victory Garden, (that is, my wife's experience), has been anything but profitable. To get ready for the garden try-out, a wagon load of dirt was hauled to the scene of action. Then the spot was boarded up with about $3.00 worth of lumber and six-bits worth of canvass to act as a lid. The dirt spread in the enclosure and the garden seed planted. Either the lid was raised or lowered at the improper time, for the seed was non-producing, for the soil was minus the proper nutrition ingredients, or water was used too freely or not free enough, or damfino. . . . What vegetables did arrive at our table came from some other fellow's garden through the local grocery store. I argued with the wife perhaps it was birdseed she was sold. But I glory in her spunk, she's now preparing to brave the elements, insects, and back-breaking work to plant a fall garden.

SOMETIMES I have an itching sensation I wouldn't mind to be an Axis, if it so happened I couldn't find any other way out. The reason: Because the United States and Britain gives my people such pleasing terms to cease fighting after I have looted, pillaged, and murdered. Of course, as for myself, I wouldn't want to be caught. They offer who will conduct the Song Services for the Revival at The Stanton Methodist Church, August 11-12. Mrs. Flowers will also speak at 3 o'clock "For Women Only," services during the meeting.

The Flowers team plan to arrive in Stanton, Wednesday, August 11th and will meet with special groups of workers on Wednesday, Thursday, and Friday nights. The preaching services will not begin until Sunday, August 15th. This team of Special Workers will come to Stanton from the Fairmount Methodist Church in Abilene.

Make your plans to hear the R. L. Flowers Team at the Stanton Methodist Church, August 15-22.

FRANK WOLCOTT RANCH BOUGHT BY G. W. ALSUP

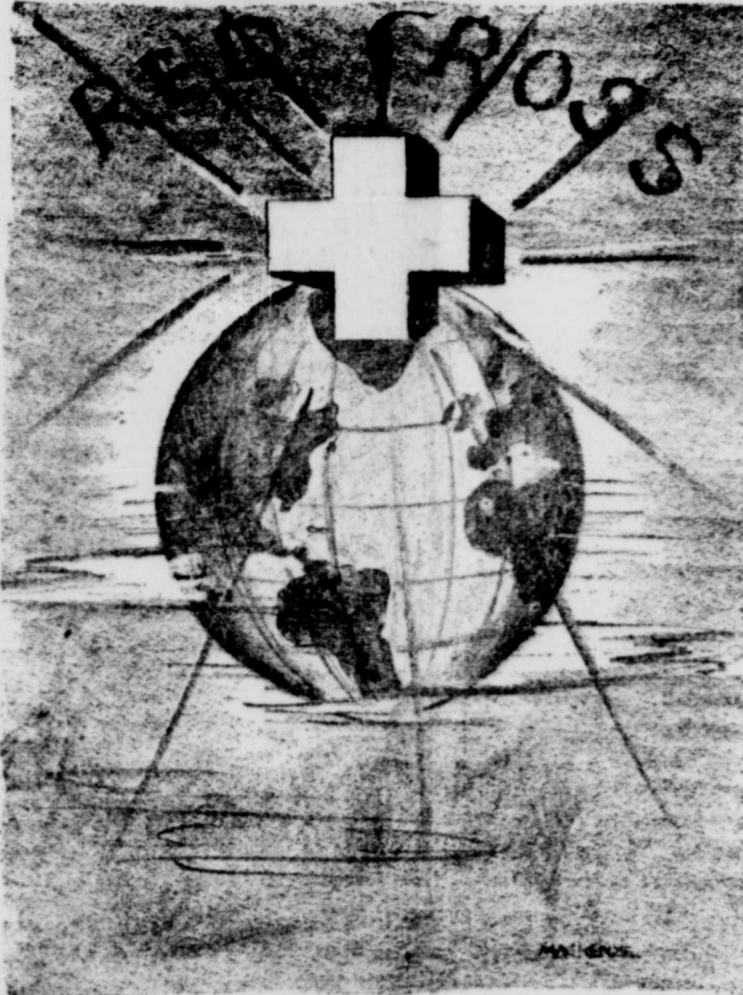

At the sale Tuesday, of the Frank Wolcott ranch held by Sheriff Morrison Zimmerman at the courthouse, G. W. Alsup of Stanton, was the highest bidder. The ranch is located 5 miles west of Taran, this county, and contains 516 1/2 acres.

It is one of the better ranch propositions in Martin county.

The sale was brought to satisfy a judgment held by Garza county. The ranch brought $11,000.

give the country back to the people, help them get on their feet again. This peace method has been offered Italy since Mussolini abdicated. But the "power that be" have been slow to act and Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower has informed the new Italian government he can no longer wait and that the leaders will be responsible for whatever befalls their country from here on out.

JUNIOR RED CROSS RECEIVES NOTE OF APPRECIATION FOR FATHER'S DAY CARDS

Mrs. Morgan Hall, Chairman Junior Red Cross, Martin County Chapter, has received the following letter of appreciation from R. N. Skinner, Field Director of American Red Cross, Army Air Forces Bombardier School, Midland Army Air Field, Midland, Texas:

Dear Mrs. Hall: We wish to acknowledge here-with the Father's Day cards delivered to me at the time of the Camp & Hospital Council meeting. I have been asked by the Medical Authorities to extend their appreciation of the contribution as well as that of the men. Individual handwork of this type is greatly appreciated by the patients because many of them have sons and daughters in Junior Red Cross work in their home communities and they are very appreciative of items of this type.

May I again express the thanks of this office as well as that of the Medical Authorities and patients for these fine Father's Day cards from your Junior Red Cross.

Very truly yours,
R. N. SKINNER,
Field Director

Need Wash Cloths

Mrs. Hall says: "Recently we have had word from the National Office of the Red Cross that there is a critical need for 200,000 wash cloths to be furnished immediately. The Midwestern Area Office has accepted a quota of 100,000. This would seem to be a production activity in which a great many Junior Red Cross members might participate, hence I urge the Stanton Junior members to get to work now and make as many of these cloths as possible. The cloths should be 11x11 inches. It is important that they be no smaller. The cloths may be made of new terry cloth, white outing flannel, or from the ends of Turkish towels, the centers of which are worn out. We are advised it is of extreme importance that where cloths are made of used Turkish towels, that great care should be taken that no gray or dingy material be made up into cloths.

Reports reaching us indicate that a good many of the wash cloths which have been made from the Turkish towels had to be discarded because the material did not appear to be clean. The edges of cloths should be carefully finished with a button-hole stitch or some other means which will prevent the material from unraveling when used. Finishing the edges of wash cloths made from outing flannel, the edges should be turned over once and then covered with what is known as "blanket stitch." The embroidery cotton used for the blanket stitching should be white, not pink or blue. Knitted or crochet wash cloths are not wanted.

OPEN LETTER TO ALL MARTIN COUNTY SOLDIERS, SAILORS AND MARINES

T. W. HAYNIE
Post Commander American Legion

My Hearty Greetings to You:

I hope you will not feel that I am presumptuous in addressing this letter to you, although many of you do not know who I am.

I feel there may be a good reason for writing you about the amount of Army life insurance you are carrying. I have just come into possession of information that the present Army is not carrying even 50 per cent of the amount of Life Insurance made available to you by the Veterans Insurance Bureau.

There are many reasons why you should apply for the full $10,000 insurance policy.

First of all, you are protecting your parents and loved ones back home. Some of you have left a wife and baby, and in case you should not return this insurance will assure that baby a chance in the world of which you dream every night (and which you look forward to) from the wet and sticky foxholes in which you lie on the many battle fields of this war.

When you married that girl you not only promised to take care of her as long as you lived but you promised to take care of her after your death.

Now how else can you fulfill your promise except through life insurance.

Officers are going through every encampment urging service men to carry the full amount of insurance offered each man and one report from Guadalcanal only recently where one of these officers had been working, told of six soldiers who were killed by a Jap bomb, who, prior to his visit, three had no insurance, one was carry -1000 and two were insured for only -5,000 each.

This Government insurance is the least expensive and the surest investment you can make.

Also when you come home you can convert any amount you carry while in service into policies that are in some ways better than most old line policies.

In many cases it is from 16 to 40 per cent lower than you can get from any other source, and there is no occupation in which you might enter that will effect the course of this policy. If you are not insured for the full amount see your company commander without delay and get signed up.

My World War I buddies, and buddies of your World War II who are already discharged for various reasons, and are now members of the American Legion, join me in wishing you a safe journey through the fighting that is yet to come, and we all hope that before the end of next year, we will be greeting you on the Main Street of your old home town in Stanton.

MR. AND MRS SAUER MOVING TO ALBANY

Mr. and Mrs. Punk Sauer and daughter, Betty, are moving to Albany to make their home. On Wednesday evening at the City Park, Mrs. Flora Rogers, sponsored a picnic in honor of Mrs. Sauer to which were invited girlhood friends and schoolmates and friends and neighbors. Two cakes and a freezer of ice cream were brought by Mrs. Rogers and served to the following: Mrs. Annie Flanagan, Mrs. Flora Morris, Mrs. Fannie Rogers, Miss Loree Massey, Mrs. Inez Woody, Mrs. Ida Mashburn, Mrs. A. L. Reed, Mrs. Belle Mashburn, Mrs. Jewel Hancock, Mrs. J. E. Kelly, Betty Jane Sauer, Margaret Reed, Joy Mashburn, Cathryn Avery, Ida Mae Peters, Clara Rose Peters, Margaret Flanagan, Wanda Mashburn, Cynthia Ann Mashburn, Glynnia Sue Reed.

Mrs. Sauer received many lovely gifts attesting to the friendships made through forty years she has made her home in Stanton.

CAPT. A. C. NUTTALL LEADS AIR RAID OVER HAMBURG

THE HUSBAND OF STANTON GIRL
LEADS FORTRESS
FIGHTER GROUP

Mrs. Alfred C. Nuttall, Formerly Miss Esta Lee Hazlewood of the Courtney community, recently received word that her husband, Captain Alfred C. Nuttall, led the famous raid over Hamburg on July 25.

Capt. Alfred C. Nuttall of Montessano, Washington, operations officer of the U. S. Army Air Corps stationed in England, led the Flying Fortress - fighter group which gave Hamburg the heaviest daylight raid in history. He went to Midland as a pilot with the Searchlight Battalion in November, 1941.

Taking the lead in the Hamburg is only one of the events in Capt. Nuttall's life that shows his spontaneous leadership.

He was the honor graduate in his high school class, according to Montessano authorities and the bronze and silver palm Scouting emblem while attending the University, Seattle, Washington. He was squadron commander of the Flying Corps at the time of leaving the States, but has been promoted to operations officer of his group since arriving in England.

News of Capt. Nuttall's part in the Hamburg raid was broadcast to the world by radio and press releases Monday.

MEETING CONTINUES AT CHURCH OF CHRIST

Revival meeting is in progress at the Church of Christ and will continue over Sunday, August 8th.

Preaching being done by Walker Allen of Wingate, Texas. All are cordially invited to attend this Gospel meeting.

Cotton Jacket

A short-sleeved jacket of heavy cotton makes a summer evening gown an informal evening dress. The jacket worn here by Maureen O'Hara, RKO star, is trimmed with a dr. watling and three buttons in a soft, dusty red. The same dusty red forms the background for coral and rose stripes woven into the simple evening dress. Unpressed pleats bring slender fullness to the skirt.

GOVERNOR STEVENSON'S PROCLAMATION URGES RETURN OF DEPOSIT BOTTLES.

In the proclamation just issued by Governor Stevenson, Texans are urged, during the month of August, to conserve the existing supply of returnable deposit bottles by returning them promptly to the dealers. Governor Stevenson's proclamation points out that the general public, by returning idle milk, carbonated beverage, beer bottles, which can be sterilized for civilian re-use, will permit the glass industry to re-use even more of its facilities for the manufacture of glass containers for food, and other items, required by the armed forces at home and abroad. Mrs. Margaret McDuffie, the Governor's personal secretary, was photographed with him at the time the proclamation was signed.

PROCLAMATION

GOVERNOR OF TEXAS

No. 8029

TO ALL TO WHOM THESE PRESENTS SHALL COME:

Whereas, the conservation of deposit bottles, like the conservation of all other materials these days, is of vital importance to everyone, and

Whereas, millions of these empty deposit bottles are known to be in homes, garages, business places and industrial plants; and

Whereas, the return of these bottles which can be sterilized for civilian re-use would permit the glass industry to use even more of its facilities for the manufacture of glass containers for food and other items required by the Armed Forces at home and abroad:

Now, Therefore, I, Coke Stevenson, Governor of the State of Texas, do hereby request that every person cooperate in this DEPOSIT BOTTLE

CONSERVATION PROGRAM which opens August first, and ask that they search their homes, garages, business places and industrial plants and promptly return these containers to the places from which they were obtained.

In Witness Whereof, I have hereunto signed my name officially and caused the Seal of State to be affixed hereto at Austin this 19th day of July, A. D. 1943.

CITY DRUG STORE

Popular Pharmacy, Now Authorized Distributor of Well Known Lederle Veterinary Products.

The City Drug Store, popular druggists, announces a new valuable service to farmers and stockmen of this county. This store, for the first time, has established a department for the sale of veterinary biologicals and pharmaceuticals made by the highly regarded Lederle Laboratories.

Never before has it been so important for farmers and stockmen to guard the health of their valuable animals. It is pointed out. The immunization of horses, cattle, swine, sheep, fowl, small animals, against disease costs but a trifle when compared with possible heavy losses of these animals through easily preventable infections.

The Lederle Laboratories, whose veterinary products the City Drug Store now markets, is the largest maker of human and veterinary biologicals in the world. Each year, in the great Lederle laboratories, upwards of a million dollars are expended in research into human and animal diseases.

In the development of animal vaccines, serums, etc. Lederle is noted for its distinguished pioneering. Lederle perfected the first refined, hog cholera serum, first introduced into this country an effective rabies prophylactic, developed Anthrax Serum Vaccine (Carbozoen), was first to obtain Government permission to produce an effective swine erysipelas serum and, comparatively recently, perfected Equine Encephalomyelitis (Chick-Embryo Method) which stopped the nationwide epizootic of sleeping sickness among horses in 1938.

Prescription Filled
Over 15 Million Times

Recommended to do just two things: relieve constipation and gas on the stomach.

This successful prescription is now put up under the name of ADLERIKA. Get a bottle of Adlerika next time you stop at your druggist's and see for yourself how quickly gas is relieved and gentle but thorough bowel action follows. Good for old and young. Get Adlerika from your druggist today.

AMERICAN LEGION TO SPONSOR PICTURE
AT TEXAS QUEEN

The American Legion is sponsoring the British Signal Corps picture Desert Victory to be shown here August 10-11.

The picture was made of the Great British Eighth Army drive across Northern Africa, after breaking Rommel's lines at El Alamein.

It gives a very comprehensive view of the fighting in Libya and Tunisia. There is plenty of close-up action of the actual fighting, aerial combat, fighting out on the Mediterranean Sea. The picture is given for the benefit of the American Legion's Memorial Fund. Regular prices will prevail.

Cigarette Drive
The American Legion has started a drive to send cigarettes free to our boys overseas.

Arrangements have been made by the National American Legion with several of the makers of our best cigarette makers to furnish them at 5c a package.

Every nickel you give will provide a pack for some soldier who is a long, long way from home and loved ones.

If members of the Legion have not contacted you we would be glad for you to drop in at J. D. Renfro's and contribute what you feel like giving.

As an ex-soldier we know what this effort of ours means to the boys in the foxholes and slit trenches overseas and we are more than glad to do this for them.

Up to Monday, Aug. 2, a total of $98.60 had been collected and we have just started.

Make your contribution and then watch for the milk bottles placed on the counters and help us help this drive get going strong.

Remember anything we do is not too much for a soldier who is ready to sacrifice his life for us.

The American Legion of StantonSTANTON TREATED TO CLEVER AIRPLANE STUNTS

The denizens of Stanton, were treated to an air full of airplane acrobatic stunts Monday noon, that is doubtful many folks here had ever seen performed. The first knowledge the town was due an aerial performance came when the flier swooped down with the "barrels" of his engine wide open that loosed a noise that shook the buildings. Then gaining a lofty height in the air the flier gave us the barrel roll, loop-the-loop, flying on his back and the side-slip.

The aviator was Lt. Roy Clinton Wilson, son of Bill Wilson, stationed at Courtland, Ala., and who spent a couple days here visiting his father.

Lt. Wilson is a flying instructor at the Alabama Field and has been in the aviation sector a year and a half in the army 10 years. He was flying a P-38 trainer plane, and left immediately for his field in Alabama, stopping in San Angelo to pick up a comrade who accompanied him.

MRS. MAURICE TIXIER
VISITING PARENTS

Mrs. Maurice Tixier and little daughter, Linda, of Casper, Wyoming, are guests of her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kaderli. She arrived last Saturday. On Sunday there was a family reunion at the Kaderli home. Mr. and Mrs. Hilton Kaderli and little son of Midland, came over, and Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Kaderli and son, which put all the Kaderli children and grandchildren under one roof for the first time in years.

Mr. Tixier will be remembered as having been in the French army at the beginning of hostilities and on the coast of Africa when France fell was able to make it back to the United States and join his wife and baby daughter whom he had never seen.

Seriously Injured

While trying to rope a calf on a ranch in Borden county one day last week, the calf ran under the horse throwing Ruben Knight violently to the ground crushing his chest and rendering him unconscious from which he has not recovered. He was taken immediately to a Lamesa hospital and removed this week to a Big Spring hospital. Pneumonia has set in and Knight is in a serious condition. He worked one fall as meat cutter for Atchison Grocery.

CANINE COMMANDOS

The Canadian Army's newest recruits are four dogs of mixed breed who are learning to use their fangs for guard duty. The dogs will grab an intruder and pin him down until help arrives. Inset shows Lou Abfalter, a well-known dog trainer, who is teaching the canines commando tactics.

FOUR of the newest recruits in Canada's Army are youngsters of 15 to 18 months, averaging about 65 pounds in weight and from two feet to 18 inches in height, answering to the names of Private Buster, Ping, Rex and Postum. Altogether they form a sort of canine United Nations. Rex is an even mixture of husky and collie; Buster is half Labrador retriever and half airleide; Ping is 50 per cent collie and 50 per cent chow. Postum, who looks like an albatross, claims that his place in Dogdom's nationality is a military secret.

Training for guard duty with the Army, the four dogs are undergoing a four-weeks' course in canine commando tactics. They are learning to be suspicious of everyone except their keepers, four members of the R.C.O.C. Pte. E. M. Brennan of Ottawa has teamed up with Rex; Pte. A. Dennis of New Brunswick with Buster; Pte. T. W. Jones of Winnipeg with Ping; and Pte. J. G. McIntyre of New Brunswick with Postum.

The dogs are learning to attack an intruder by seizing his arm and pulling him down. An instructor wears a heavy two-inch-thick pad from his shoulder to his finger tips for the job. When he approaches, the dogs are supposed to leap upon him and get a good hold on the padding. They all respond in the approved manner except Buster, who takes a bite at the padding and then tries to sink his teeth into the instructor's ankles. According to the trainer it's a neat trick that Buster himself developed—but it's a little tough on the instructor.

Meals for the dogs consist of 3 pounds of cooked meat for every 25 pounds they weigh. They are given one serving a day. They are fed, groomed and taken on their patrols by only one man. The presence of a second person anywhere within their sight will meet with a hot reception. The dogs are trained to respond to verbal commands and gestures. They are never struck nor whipped even though in the early days of their training they disobey orders. Nature has given them thick heavy coats, ideal equipment for duty during cold winters.

Elizabeth Jenkins Seeks Title of
"Most hated by Axis in 1943!"

THE AXIS has probably never heard of Miss Elizabeth Jenkins—but she's doing her level best to change that!

For example:

Elizabeth works in an essential industry thereby releasing, in effect, a fighting man. And out of the salary she gets for her work she puts 22% into War Bonds, through the Payroll Savings Plan. She figures that her investment may help to maintain the three fighting men who are closest to her—her two brothers and her father.

"They're fighting for me, and I'm helping to buy their fighting tools!" says Elizabeth.

Her father commands a brigade of the North Carolina State Guard. He saw action overseas in the last war and his stories have made Elizabeth keenly aware of the importance of her investment in War Bonds. He has explained that no matter how much spirit and fight a soldier has, he needs the best equipment money can buy. He has also pointed out that American soldiers are the best equipped in the world.

Miss Jenkins wants to keep them that way, because in addition to her father, she has two brothers in the Army.

Lieutenant Tom is an anti-aircraft artilleryman. Captain Jack is in the Air Corps. So Elizabeth is reasonably sure that in one way or another, the Axis will hear from the Jenkins family in the near future!

Are you doing as much for America's future as Elizabeth Jenkins? Every dollar you can lend helps, so . . .

Weren't there a few more dollars in your last pay envelope that could have gone into War Bonds—but didn't? Get out your pencil right now, and see if you can't boost the percentage you're putting aside for Uncle Sam—and yourself!

YOU'VE DONE YOUR BIT — NOW DO YOUR BEST!

What You Buy With WAR BONDS

Fig Boat

At sea on a submarine isn't exactly the "life of Riley." In the Battle of the Atlantic, or on the great stretches of the Pacific these sailors know the hazards of their work.

One of the spots aboard these "Fig Boats" that all crew members enjoy is the galley, or kitchen. Space limitations prevent an elaborate set up, but cooks aboard these vessels are justly proud of the meals they prepare for their crews. Your increased purchase of War Bonds helps make submarine life as pleasant as possible.

Keep 'Em Oiled and Greased THEY'VE GOT TO LAST!

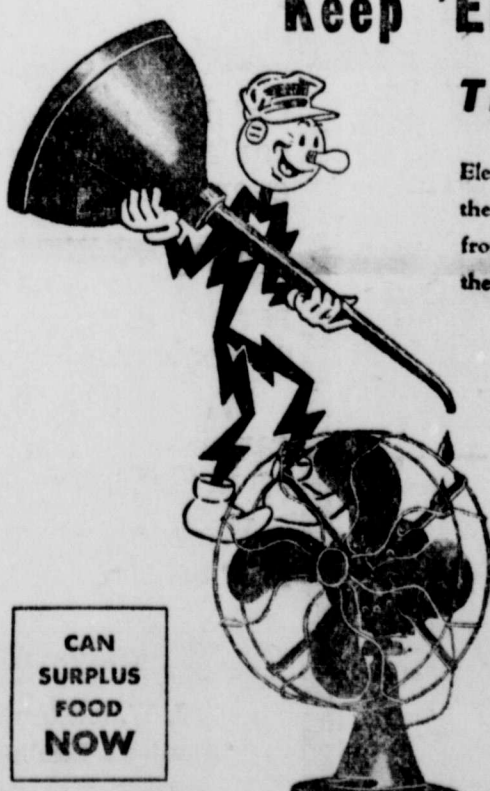

Electric fans have been working overtime. The chances are they again need a little oil or cup grease to protect bearings from wear. Electric fans have gone to war—take care of them.

Some Fans Need Oil

For fans which have oil holes, use a medium-weight lubricating oil, such as automobile engine oil. Be careful not to use too much, for it runs out and rots the rubber insulation.

Some Fans Need Grease

Some fans have grease cups instead of oil holes. These cups, containing a small wick and coil spring, should be filled with cup grease; not oil. If in doubt, take your fans to an electric shop for oiling and greasing.

FOUR BEDROOM DEMONSTRATIONS OF MARTIN COUNTY 4-H CLUB GIRLS

FERN HODGE
Martin County Home Demonstration Agent

ATTRACTIVE BEDROOM IS DOROTHY EUBANK'S

Being a bedroom demonstrator is what any 4-H girl can do if she once makes up her mind to plan and do a lot of hard work is the opinion of Dorothy Eubanks, member of the Stanton Jr. 4-H club.

Dorothy had a bed and a dresser in her room with which to begin her demonstration. She, her mother and grandmother built the closet but had to hire the door made and they hung it.

The walls were unfinished and the woodwork painted an unattractive brown. The floor had been stained and the stain had worn off in spots. All woodwork received three coats of ivory paint, and the floor three coats of light oak floor enamel. Adding to the attractiveness of the room was some lovely blue and white striped paper on the walls. New shades had to be purchased for windows as well as new white dotted gingham curtains.

A small table, formerly used anywhere in the house was brought in to serve as a bedside table.

With all these added improvements, Dorothy still had no place for writing or studying. An inexpensive small desk was purchased.

Dorothy had to earn some of the money to help in her room improvement. With this money she bought a white chenille spread and her curtains.

It is hard to tell which means more to Dorothy, her new bed spread or the desk.

In telling her story to the judges recently, Dorothy said she had learned so many things that would mean so much to her throughout her life. By being a demonstrator, she has developed a sense of pride in order, efficiency, and attractiveness, that will help her and her mother as they do other home improvement.

Standing side by side with Dorothy in doing all the hard work that was required to obtain a neat, attractive bedroom, was her mother, Mrs. Eubanks said that Dorothy's room made her ashamed of her bedroom which joins it and that she wasn't to be satisfied until she completed her "bedroom demonstration."

Although Dorothy is only 12 years old and has done club work about a year, she is an club-minded now her mother has begun to wonder when her enthusiasm can be curbed.

BOBBY DOUGLASS PROVES REAL CLUB WORK NEVER CEASES

Bobby Douglass, 4-H club member of Terzan, smiled a number of times she has learned in five years of club work. All these resulted in a pleasing and more attractive bedroom.

Her room had to have everything done to it with the exception of painting the woodwork. The walls were papered with a blue wall paper dotted here and there with small bunches of yellow flowers. A neighbor lady and some of Bobbie's friends helped her with the papering.

The closet was made neat and orderly as well as the storage space in her dresser. An old chair was given a fresh coat of white paint.

All the new things Bobbie had was an unfinished combination bookshelves and bedside table. This received white paint along with the closet interior, the chair and a very attractive black iron bedstead.

Her well equipped bed properly made is a pride and a joy of Bobbie's.

Since papering her room was the first experience Bobbie has had in hanging paper, she knows that papering isn't hard work now. She is so pleased with the improvement that the wall paper made in her room she told her grandmother they must soon paper the other rooms that are still unpapered. She said she was so proud of her room now she was ashamed of the other two rooms.

And that's the way doing club work should affect one—that after all, there's no stopping place if one has a will to do things as Bobbie has shown she has.

JOYCE-BERNITA SHORTES FIND A WAY

That the day of miracles had not passed, was clearly shown in the bedroom that Joyce and Bernita Shortes, sisters and 4-H club members who live in the Brown community, have recently completed.

To use an expression that is commonly used, they had to start from "scratch" and work up. In their bedroom were two dissimilar iron beds and a chiffo-robe. The beds were so old they were practically worn out. Joyce and Bernita realized something had to be done about the bedsteads, first. Each had always wanted a bed of her own and, knowing that expenditures for the room improvement must be limited, the girls began to look around. They could not find new beds in the stores, but finally their problem was solved. Some cotton pickers had left two old double-bed size iron bedsteads in the house which accommodated cotton pickers. They had these bedsteads cut down to three-quarters size, the head sawed off and the foot was used for the head.

Each girl has her own dressing table. The tables were made from orange crates and a master job of painting was done on these. One clever thing about these orange crate dressing tables is the way in which the ruffler are divided in the front and can be pushed back so that articles stored in the shelves beneath can be easily secured. Then just as easily the curtain is restored to its normal position.

MISS WILSON HOME FROM FORT WORTH

Miss Corinne Wilson, who is stationed at the Liberator Nursing School in Fort Worth, is home for a visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Wilson. Mrs. Wilson is in a hospital at Andrews recovering from a major operation performed last Sunday morning, and for this reason Corinne is home.

Mrs. Wilson will remain in the hospital about two weeks longer.

LIVED IN STANTON FIFTY YEARS AGO

The following letter was addressed to Postmaster Hall:

Buffalo, N. Y. July 10, '43
To the Postmaster, Stanton:
Fifty years ago I lived in Stanton. It was then called Merienfield. There must now be a daily or weekly newspaper in Stanton. I would appreciate it so much if someone would send me a paper so I could see how much the place had grown. I know no one there any more, so knew of no one to write but the postmaster.

So many changes have taken place in 50 years. I still have pleasant memories.

Yours truly,
Frances Slater

BOMBARDIER SCHOOL CHAPLAIN PROMOTED

Chaplain James L. Patterson, who has been stationed at the Big Spring Bombardier school almost since its inception, has been promoted from the rank of first lieutenant to that of captain.

Before he entered the army, Chaplain Patterson was a Methodist pastor at Roanoke, Va.—Big Spring Daily Herald.

Chaplain and Mrs. Patterson and son, Jimmie, have rooms at the O. B. Bryan apartments in Stanton.

Returns From East Texas

Miss Lavell Arnold has returned home after spending her vacation with friends and relatives in East Texas. Returning with her was her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. O. L. Patterson of Grand Saline.

Keep Smiling:

The food situation is not to be alarmed about. Did you ever hear of anyone starving to death in Martin County? Yes, we agree it's a lot more trouble to have to stop and count points, but after all, we are inconvenienced very little compared with what our boys are going through.

Just count up what you ordinarily use and most of us have available more than we have been buying. The main trouble is the old "free spirit" of always buying what we want when we want it, that hurts the most. We are always glad to assist you in every way possible in your point buying.

IT'S ESSENTIAL . . .

Your Car Is Essential—Let Us Help Take Care Of It!

Most of our driving now is confined to essential driving—and it's more essential that your car be given the proper care now than ever before.

We offer you the most complete service for your tires. Our tire recapping and repairing service is appreciated by motorists who rely on their car for essential driving.

We give you expert tire repairing and recapping service, a tire service that will stand up in this hot weather.

We repair and cap automobile tires and repair all sizes of tractor tires.
