Chinese Joins Big-3 Talks

Tangled Polish Issue Unsolved As Diplomats Leave For World Parley

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, April 23—The Big Three foreign ministers dropped the tangled Polish issue today and broadened the scope of their talks by calling in Chinese Foreign Minister T. V. Soong tonight.

The Polish question was seemingly dropped for the time being to await Moscow's reaction on the discussions thus far.

The night session, longest so far, ended just before 11:30 p. m., eastern war time.

Soong, first to emerge from the closed meeting in the office of Secretary of State Stettinius, said arrangements for the San Francisco United Nations conference were discussed.

Soong Avoids Answer

Asked whether the question of trusteeships for territories to be taken from the defeated Axis nations came up tonight, Soong avoided an answer, telling newsmen "I have to run now to catch my plane to San Francisco. I am late now."

The "arrangements" for San Francisco discussed tonight may have involved the Russian demands for three votes in the assembly of the world organization to be set up at San Francisco. Also

NOT TALKED AT YALTA

LONDON, Tuesday, April 24. (AP) — The Moscow radio said early today that the question of restricting Polish participation in the San Francisco conference to a government jointly recognized by the United States, Britain and Russia "was not even discussed at the Yalta conference."

The broadcast, quoting Tass, the official Soviet news agency, said reports "in some sections of the foreign press" that it was decided at Yalta to invite only representatives of a recognized Polish government, and not representatives of the Polish government at Warsaw, "absolutely do not correspond to fact."

Moscow said "this question not only was not decided. It was not even discussed."

under discussion could have been requests by smaller nations for a greater voice in affairs of a world peace-keeping agency than was proposed for them in the Dumbarton Oaks formula.

Eden Also Silent

Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary, coming out of the session at 11:18 p. m., a few minutes behind Soong had nothing to say beyond the smiling comment "it's all over."

He said he was leaving tomorrow for San Francisco.

V. M. Molotov, Russian foreign commissar, stayed behind in Stettinius' office until 11:27 p. m. Whether there was a private conference during that time was not stated. He came out with his usual imperturbable smile and all he said was "goodnight. Goodnight."

When Molotov will leave for San Francisco was not revealed by the Senate To Trace Meat Shipments

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—A Senate committee decided today to trace meat shipments all the way to the housewife's kitchen, apparently fearing the new packer subsidy program will not immediately cure distribution and black market ills.

The proposal was advanced by Senator Ellender (D-La) and promptly seconded by Chairman Thomas (D-Okla) whose group has been inquiring into all food shortages for weeks.

Used As Sample City

The idea is to use Washington as a sample city, find out how much meat is shipped here, which distributors get it, which retailers are served, and finally what the retailer does with it.

Ellender said he didn't think there is as much under-the-counter activity as is generally believed but the best way to know for certain is to call in the packers and the corner butchers.

He said he wanted to know, too, how much meat that comes here "is going to all these big restaurants."

Won't Get More Meat

E. E. Mollin, secretary of the American Livestock association, Denver, Colo., said the plan worked out by four government agencies wouldn't "get to the point of getting any more beef." OPA erred, he said, in failing to give price relief to the feeder men. As a result, he asserted, the packer will buy up calves this fall and slaughter when the animals should be "in the feeder lots."

Mollin said he thought the plan would help distribution. It would be better, however, to simply raise the cattle ceilings, he testified. Cattlemen, he said, are fearful of subsidies because at end of war, "they may be caught holding the bag" when prices fall and subsidies are removed simultaneously.

The Ellender inquiry will get started Thursday.

Jap Forces On Mindanao Cut In Two

By RAY CRONIN
Associated Press War Editor

THE Japanese defenders of Mindanao, second island of the Philippines, have been split in two by fast advancing Yank forces, Gen. Douglas MacArthur reported late Monday.

The general added 10,896 Japanese dead to skyrocketing Nipponese casualties in that archipelago carrying the grand total close to 335,000.

In the Okinawa area, where American doughboys are locked in a deadly struggle with strong Japanese forces on the southern

TOKYO PLANT FOUNDED

GUAM, Tuesday, April 24. (AP) — Hitting the Tokyo area the first time since a large scale fire raid on the enemy capital April 16, a large force of B-29s bombed the Hitachi engine plant for the first time this morning. Other plants in the Tachikawa industrial area, just west of Tokyo, also were attacked.

Between 100 and 150 Superfortresses participated in the raid, which hit only miles west of the imperial palace in Tokyo.

Maj. Gen. Curtis Lemay reported the Marianas-based B-29s bombed visually in good weather from medium altitude.

No News On Okinawa

Fleet Adm. Chester W. Nimitz said in his communique that "there is no further information on progress in southern Okinawa."

Latest front dispatches pictured Yank doughboys as fighting to recapture Kakazu. The Japanese took the town in close and bitter fighting after infiltrating American lines at night. Kakazu is near Naha, heavily defended Okinawa capital.

American and British carrier planes and naval gunners bagged the 33 Japanese aircraft in the Okinawa and nearby islands.

Total Japanese casualties in the Philippines—most of them killed, some prisoners—shot to 334,824 as Gen. MacArthur added 10,896 dead

Dutch Criticize Peace Proposals

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL
Associated Press Staff Writer

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23 (AP) A Big Three jam on Poland and blunt Dutch criticism of their peace-keeping proposals plagued the United Nations tonight on the threshhold of their international conference.

Forty-eight hours before the meetings start, there were these significant developments on the east coast and at the Golden Gate:

1. American, British and Russian foreign secretaries, deadlocked at Washington on the make-up of a new Polish government and Polish representation at the security parley, decided to make another attempt at accord in San Francisco.

Plans On Veto Control

2. Dr. Elco Van Kleffens, foreign minister and chief of the Netherlands delegation, attacked big-power plans for veto control of projected peace machinery.

3. Indian delegates made it clear that they would demand a seat on a proposed security council.

4. Apparently motivated by a desire for bids to membership in the United Nations and an invitation to their meeting here, Argentina made overtures toward establishing diplomatic relations with Russia.

5. Foreign Minister Georges Bidault dismissed at a news conference any possibility that France might lead a revolt of small and middle powers against the Dumbarton Oaks plan. But there was evidence of French concern lest the United States try to pressure the delegation into giving up some of the colonial empire—particularly Indo-China.

Concern Over Poland

Delegates arriving for pre-conference consultations heard with evident concern that the Washington discussions on Poland had fallen short of their goal—at least for the time being.

They expressed fears, privately,

House Defeats Recess Session

AUSTIN, April 23. (AP)—By a margin of five votes a resolution permitting the legislature to adjourn into general session from May 22 to Sept. 11 died in the House of Representatives today.

A motion to reconsider the vote, offered by Rep. Will Smith of Beaumont, just before the House adjourned until tomorrow, had the effect of permitting the House to backtrack upon 24 hours notice if a majority desires. No vote was necessary on this motion.

After nearly a full day of argument on the resolution, introduced by Rep. Jo Ed Winfree of Houston, a direct vote on its passage mustered 65 affirmative ballots against 70 negative ones.

The proposition had been mulled in the House since last week. The resolution had the signature of at least 85 members when it was introduced. Some of the sponsors deserted it as debate became prolonged.

Called Slap At Governor

Opponents claimed it was a slap at the governor in that it denied him the opportunity of calling a special session of the legislature and that it trespassed on the constitution in many places.

Proponents declared it was not intended as a slap at the executive and amended it to stipulate the governor could reconvene the general session before Sept. 11. Their principal argument was that the end of the European war before fall might require special legislation including constitutional amendments and constitutional amendments cannot be submitted at special sessions. If the general session was reconvened by the governor or by termination of the recess period constitutional amendments then could be submitted, they said.

Edson Finds Many Pressure Groups All Set For Parley

By PETER EDSON
NEA Washington Correspondent

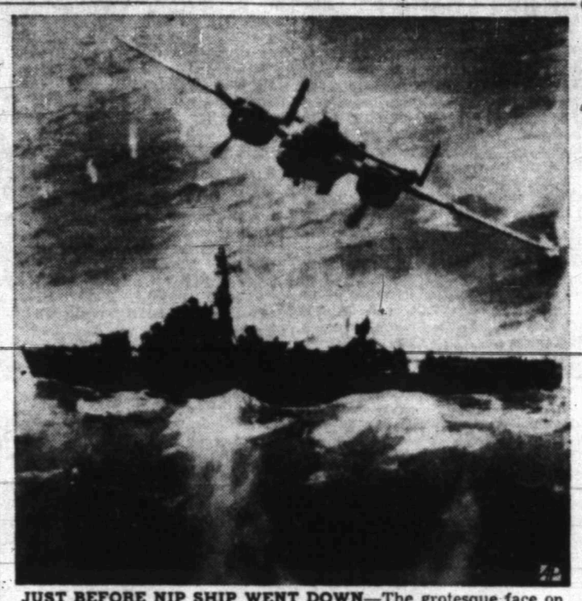

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23 — Looking under the bed to see who might be hiding there to disturb the sweet dreams of peace being envisaged for San Francisco, the first thing that greets the eye is a scary spectacle so frightening it makes you want to dive for the pillows and pull the covers up over your head tight. It is the prospect of representatives from 42 U. S. clubs, societies and pressure groups invited by the State department to send to San Francisco spokesmen who will serve as consultants to the eight-member official U. S. delegation.

The 46 United Nations may have their difficulties in agreeing how they will lie in the same bed of security, but their peaceful slumbers will not be disturbed nearly so much by a Soviet Russian with a secret vote plan, a temperamental De Galle Frenchman with a collection of trick amendments, two quarreling Polish factions, nor a half-dozen British dominions scheming quietly to rule the world, as they may be bothered by this fringe of 42 lobbyists.

Included in the 42 are four big business groups, two associations of lawyers, three labor organizations, four veterans' organizations, four farm groups, five women's societies, two Catholic, two Jewish and two Protestant auxiliaries, six peace societies, four businessmen's luncheon clubs, three educational societies and the National Association for the Advancement of Colored People.

If the object of San Francisco is to establish peace and keep the

German Brutality Warning Is Issued

LONDON, April 23 (AP)—A solemn warning was issued to all Germans tonight by President Truman, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin that any person guilty of maltreating any Allied prisoner of war, internee or deported citizen would be "ruthlessly pursued and brought to punishment."

The warning was addressed to all commandants, guards, Gestapo agents and other persons, regardless of service or rank, in whose charge Allied nationals have been placed, whether in battle zones, on lines of communications or in rear areas.

Individual Responsibility

The warning said:

"All such persons, no less than the German high command and the competent German military, naval and air authorities, will be held individually responsible for the safety and welfare of all Allied prisoners of war, internees or deported citizens in their charge."

The joint statement of the three powers was being transmitted to Germany by every means available, including broadcasts at midnight (British time) from London-Washington and Moscow.

The warning declared, "any person guilty of maltreating or allowing any Allied prisoner of war, internee or deported citizen to be maltreated, whether in the battle zone, on lines of communication, in a camp, hospital prisoner or elsewhere, will be ruthlessly pursued and brought to punishment."

Each Person Liable

This responsibility, it added, will be regarded as "binding in all circumstances and one which cannot be transferred to any other authorities or individuals whatsoever."

Churchill announced in the House of Commons last Thursday that such a warning would be issued and explained its purpose was to bring home to persons who actually handle the prisoners that they are personally responsible and cannot hide behind orders from higher authorities.

Nazis Supposedly Will Leave War Prisoners Behind

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—The German government has offered to leave in camps in the Reich all prisoners of war as the Allies advance.

A joint State and War department announcement today said the United States had accepted the proposal.

It was made to the United States through the Swiss government, as protecting power for this government.

The State department said that according to the latest available information the German government still is holding as prisoners of war some 60,000 to 65,000 American soldiers. Allied armies have overrun 47 of the 78 prisoner of war camps and hospitals where American soldiers were known to be held.

The announcement stated:

"The government of the United States informed the Swiss government that unless word to the contrary was received from Germany by midnight Sunday night, April 22, 1945, the government of the United States would consider this arrangement as being in effect as between itself and the German government as it relates to American prisoners of war, and as being operative as of that time and date."

No word to the contrary had been received from the German government when the specified time passed.

Senate Votes Down Training Proposal

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—The Senate voted down today 66 to 9 a proposal to require 12 months of training before duty for all draftees under age of 20.

The action came after Gen George C. Marshall, chief of staff, had advised the Senate that the Army will adopt a policy of sending overseas no soldiers under 19, as soon as military conditions permit.

Senator O'Daniel (D-Tex) offered the rejected proposal as an amendment to legislation extending the draft law for one year. The law expires May 15.

The vote on O'Daniel's amendment cleared the way for consideration of a proposal by a bipartisan group to require at least six months training before combat for inductees under age 19.

Indictment Charges Baby Was Murdered

DALLAS, April 23 (AP)—A murder indictment was returned here today against Virginia K. Layton, 30, of Dallas, in connection with the death of her new-born baby, the body of which was mailed to California.

The child's body was found in a package at the Palo Alto, Calif., postoffice. The package was mailed from Dallas April 3, officers said.

Reds Smash On In Burning Nazi Capital

By ROMNEY WHEELER
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Tuesday, April 24 — Two Soviet armies wrested at least one-third of shattered Berlin from Adolf Hitler's personally-led defenders yesterday while Red Army tanks surged to the Elbe river within 20 miles of American forces awaiting a link-up.

A three-power announcement that the Western and Eastern Al-

RUSSIANS BEAR GIFTS

(By The Associated Press)

Red Army soldiers will meet their American and British Allies with gifts of "pouches of tobacco, flasks of wine and Moscow vodka" when the Western and Eastern fronts merge, a Moscow radio broadcast said last night.

The dispatch, reported by the FCC, quoted a correspondent with the Russian Army on the Berlin front.

lies had joined was expected momentarily.

The burning Nazi capital was nearly encircled and early today German reports indicated that savage street fighting was swirling in almost one-half of the doomed and blazing city.

Small Gap Remains

Marshal Stalin disclosed that only a 16-mile gap remained to be sealed on the west. The Germans admitted it had been narrowed to 10 miles and the Luxembourg radio broadcast an unconfirmed report that the city which Hitler had planned to be capital of the world for 1,000 years was caught in a steel ring.

Southwest of Berlin's smouldering and debris-littered streets Soviet forces, climaxing a dramatic 100-mile sweep in seven days, reached the Elbe at Muehlberg northwest of Dresden and approached the river on a 38-mile front.

The defenders of the sprawling German capital were fighting a losing battle. Late last night the German radio—in probably the most authoritative report from the city—said the Soviets were fighting on Friedrich's park and near Koenigs gate, a mile and a half from the center of the city at the intersection of Unter Den Linden and Friedrichstrasse.

But throughout the city waves

Nazi Prisoners Said Sterilized

PARIS, April 23. (AP) — Many French war prisoners were left sterile by brutal and perhaps deliberately planned treatment in German concentration camps, a leading Paris specialist said today.

The new atrocity charge was added to a rapidly unfolding horhor program which all evidence indicates was carefully calculated and had for its object the effective extermination of perhaps some ten million Europeans whom the Nazis regarded as enemies to their system.

These chosen victims were in addition to the anti-Nazi Germans and German Jews who had already been largely liquidated.

Systematic Destruction

It has already been established that the Nazis pursued the systematic destruction of France by putting on corruption, undermining the currency, destroying what industry they could not turn to their own needs.

But they did not stop at this. It was the very best and most unselfish Frenchmen who went to the German concentration camps. The Nazis apparently did their best to kill off most of these Frenchmen and prevent those who survived the rigors of torture from producing offspring. This would assure Germany of a permanently weak France.

The Paris physician, who prefers that his name not be used, in a report prepared for the Associated Press said that in 18 months' close study he had found the sterility rate high among released and escaped French prisoners.

Pay Hikes Granted Telephone Workers

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—The War Labor board today unanimously granted pay increases of $2 to $5 a week to more than 31,000 Southwestern Bell Telephone company employes.

The decision, affecting non-supervisory workers, was based on recommendations of the national telephone panel. It had found the increases in accordance with wage stabilization policy.

The company furnishes local and distance service to 444 localities in Arkansas, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Texas and part of Illinois adjacent to St. Louis. The workers are represented by the Southwestern Telephone Workers union, affiliated with the National Federation of Telephone Workers.

The wage adjustments are retroactive to August 29, by agreement between company and union. The union asked for a general hourly increase of 17½ cents or $7 a week. The company offered an average increase of 4.7 cents an hour, or $1.88 a week.

The board, acting for nearly 21,000 traffic department operators, provided a $5 weekly increase in top rates for those in larger cities and $4 for operators in smaller localities.

Tanks Lunge For Hideout

Whole Southern Front Ablaze, And Prisoners Checked In By Thousands

By AUSTIN BEALMEAR
Associated Press Staff Writer

PARIS, Tuesday, April 24—A powerful new U. S. Third Army offensive swept 53 miles across the northern approaches to Hitler's alpine fortress yesterday as Russian forces in radio contact with the Americans on the U. S. First Army front hinted that the historic junction might come today.

A Russian from the front south of Berlin sent "cheerful greetings to our American comrades" crackling across to the listening Americans. The U. S. Ninth Army saw Russian flares on the Berlin front, a possible indicator that the Red Army was approaching the Ninth Army under cover of night.

Southern Front Ablaze

While the world waited for this welding of the Allies of east and west at the center of the Reich, three Allied armies set the whole 225-mile southern front ablaze with a relentless onslaught that was threatening hourly to burst into Germany's last battleground in the south.

Once more the power of Lt. Gen. George S. Patton's Third Army was turned on, and 33,000 prisoners were taken in the opening hours of the drive. Now his tanks and troops were hurdling the river barriers 75 miles north of Munich, northern sentinel city of the alpine redoubt.

The hard-hitting tank columns had been moved secretly 125 miles south from the front pointed toward the Elbe, and they fell upon the fanatical SS troops, chosen to stand and die in the south, before they knew what hit them.

Tanks Running Wild

A field dispatch declared that tanks and troops were running wild across the rivers and hills and reports were current on the front that the Germans were hurriedly clearing civilians from Salzburg, eastern anchor of the redoubt. Salzburg now is 108 miles ahead of the American troops.

The French First Army and the U. S. Seventh Army had torn breaches in the Danube river line 25 and 48 miles from the western outposts of the retreat at Lake Constance.

The Seventh Army threw back the Germans four miles from its bridgehead on the Danube 50 miles from Munich. Swift moving spearheads drove up to the river for close support to Donauwoerth and Erlingshofen, only nine miles to the northeast.

Here the Seventh was 17 miles

British Slash To Edge Of Ferrara

ROME, April 23 (AP)—British Eighth Army forces broke into the outskirts of Ferrara tonight against stubborn German rear guard resistance, front dispatches declared, while Allied headquarters announced that units of both the Eighth and the American Fifth Army had advanced to undisclosed points on the southern banks of the Po river.

Associated Press correspondent George Palmer reported from the front that British troops, despite extensive enemy demolition work, were closing in on Ferrara, 30 miles north and slightly east of recently-captured Bologna.

Push To Po River

North and northwest of Bologna, British and American forces pushed to the Po. Associated Press correspondent Sid Feder reported from the Fifth Army front that American tank, artillery, infantry and air assaults had ripped apart great portions of the remnants of two German armies trying desperately to escape across the river. Thousands of terror-stricken Nazis appeared to have lost the race to their chief "back door" to safety.

An announcement said elements of both the American Fifth Army and the British Eighth had reached the banks of the vital stream, where the shaken Nazis might attempt to make a final stand in northern Italy. The exact points where Allied armor wheeled up to the Po were not disclosed, but at its nearest point the river curves 27 miles north of Bologna.

An earlier communique reported that advance units of the Fifth Army had driven as far as 35 miles northwest of Bologna, which

Japs Say Asia Peace Already Arranged

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23 (AP) —Japan announced today — in advance of the United Nations conference in San Francisco—that her satellite and puppet countries already had projected a peace and prosperity organization at a Greater East Asia conference in Tokyo.

Domei news agency dispatches, broadcast by Tokyo and recorded by the Federal Communications commission, said envoys from Manchuria, China, Thailand, Burma and the Philippines acted to establish a "security system" and "co-prosperity sphere."

The Greater East Asia conference—obviously a Japanese propaganda move to steal an imitative march on the United Nations conference—was not announced to the world until today, when it assertedly completed its business.

Togo, who called the conference, was quoted as saying the proposed United Nations world security organization was a move by the United States and Great Britain "to establish a despotism of the big powers, although they preach ostensibly 'democracy' and 'equality.'"

Official Crimes Agency Is Urged

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—Creation of an official American agency to investigate and record war crimes was proposed in Congress today as reports of Nazi atrocities built up deep anger at the capital.

The Senate, meanwhile, debated nearly an hour over complaints that a congressional delegation already on the way to see the horrors perpetrated by Hitler's thugs, was hand picked. The congressmen, and a group of newspaper and magazine editors and publishers, were flown to Europe by the Army at the request of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

Offered In Both Houses

Resolutions for official inquiries were offered in both houses—in the Senate by Senator Chandler (D-Ky), and in the House by Reps. Brooks (D-La), Gossett (D-Tex), and Flood (D-Pa).

As sponsors of the measures voiced their demands, several of their colleagues spoke angrily about Nazi mistreatment of prisoners.

"Full publicity and adequate punishment is essential to future peace and civilization," Gossett said.

Gossett suggested a congressional inquiry group, but Brooks and Flood wanted a more-varied "war atrocities commission."

Brooks called for a 14-member commission, composed of six con-

Adolf Cries Out To Deposed Musso For Aid In 'Climax'

By RICHARD KASISCHKE
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, April 23.—Adolf Hitler, reported by Nazi sources to be still in blazing Berlin, cried out today in an eleventh hour message to his one-time Axis partner, Benito Mussolini, that the "struggle for our very existence has reached its climax."

As the German fuehrer sent his despairing report to the deposed duce in Milan, the Nazi "Werewolf" radio hinted at a grim and fraticidal denouement inside the embattled capital, asserting that Germans were now fighting Germans in the smoke-filled streets.

Earlier today Nazi propagandists broadcast that Hitler, with Gauleiter Jaul Joseph Goebbels at his side, was inside Berlin "directing from the front line." Tonight, a station broadcasting on the wavelength used by the underground werewolves changed this to say Hitler was not in the city but that Goebbels, "the fuehrer's trusted friend, is directing the Berlin Volkssturm."

This late broadcast did not say where Hitler was but added that "the Werewolves have been informed the fuehrer has issued an historic order for the German troops from the west to march upon Berlin."

"These tested units," it continued, "have been ordered to intervene in the batile for Berlin and the first of them has already reached the capital periphery. There is no doubt a few days, perhaps a few hours will decide this battle."

The Werewolf broadcast on fighting among Germans inside Berlin said "traitors" were firing at German troops from several

ON STOCKINGS

WHEN a stocking manufacturer advises women to go stockingless that's news.

Yet such is the cousel handed out by Roy E. Tilles, president of one of the country's largest hosiery companies. Says Mr. Tilles:

"American women will have to prepare for a real stocking shortage next summer. There may be as much as a 30 per cent drop in hosiery production.

"Women will just have to learn that stockings are precious items. The must wear heavier stockings for service wear. They must plan to use leg makeup for sports, and wear sheer stockings only when they want to look their best."

Mr. Tilles cast his bombshell in the midst of a recent Lilliputian fashion show in which each living model was matched by a carionette wearing the same costume in miniature. Even Mr. Tilles, the host, was represented by a puppet.

Make This Home Recipe To Take Off Ugly Fat
It's simple. It's amazing, how quickly one may lose pounds of bulky, unsightly fat right in your own home. Make this recipe yourself. It's easy—no trouble at all and costs little. It contains nothing harmful. Just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcel Concentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take two tablespoonsful twice a day. That's all there is to it.
If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, easy way to lose bulky fat and help regain slender, more graceful curves; if reducible pounds and inches of excess fat don't just seem to disappear almost like magic from neck, chin, arms, bust, abdomen, hips, calves and ankles, just return the empty bottle for your money back. Follow the easy way endorsed by many who have tried this plan and help bring back alluring curves and graceful slenderness. Note how quickly bloat disappears—how much better you feel. More alive, youthful appearing and active.

New School Already Overcrowded Here

School authorities scratched their heads Monday as the new McWhorter school in the Arnett-Benson addition went on a full-day schedule.

With approximately 300 students jamming the building for the first full day of classes, the need already was evident for an addition.

Half-day sessions had begun last week when but four rooms were available. All eight rooms were in use yesterday.

Students, Mrs. Reuby Rhodes, the principal, and faculty had been on a half-day schedule at K. Carter since last September.

Crowded conditions were attributed by R. W. Matthews, superintendent of schools, to the influx of new residents to the district after the announcement that a school would be erected there. Many new homes have been built in the Arnett-Benson addition since the beginning of school, Matthews said.

He said that it might be necessary next term to turn the workroom and cafeteria into classrooms.

Mrs. Rhodes acceded to her present position after approximately 20 years in the Lubbock school system, Matthews said.

The school is named for the late B. O. McWhorter, prominent Lubbock pioneer.

New Courthouse Is Aired Again

County commissioners turned Monday from a discussion of a proposed comfort station on courthouse park and talked of the erection of a new courthouse in the unpredictable future.

It was the second time in recent weeks that comfort station talk took that oblique slant in the commission room.

A comfort station consistent in size and other properties of such a courthouse should be located in the proposed court building, commissioners indicated their belief.

Earl Collins, chairman, and J. A. Fortenberry, both members of a comfort station committee of the chamber of commerce, attended the morning session of the court, to hear an adverse report of the commission's recent inspection of two city-owned comfort stations in San Antonio.

To Double Facilities

County Judge Walter Davies, spokesman for the court, said toilet facilities in the basement of the courthouse here "already more than exceed the combined facilities" of those two inspected in San Antonio, "and we propose to accept bids May 14 for doubling our present toilet facilities here in the courthouse." He and the commissioners, Barrett Penney, Ben Mansker, T. L. Holt and Vol J. Farris, expressed preference for a comfort station in the courthouse —preferably a courthouse extended upward by two stories over the present structure, and eastward and westward by two-story wings —where, as it was described, there could be "more privacy" and where, taking a lesson from what happened in San Antonio's courthouse plaza and Alamo plaza, "our courthouse park won't be ruined and its trees damaged by persons cutting across the lawn from every tangent."

The new courthouse talk—merely a rehash of conditions which concededly have caused the old building to be outmoded—brought no specific plans, but commissioners did indicate favor of hearing recommendations of architects.

The session, otherwise routine, was concluded in the afternoon.

Lubbock High Wins First In Contests

Lubbock High school vocational agriculture judging teams captured first place in the 19th annual judging contests at Texas Technological college Saturday, despite an erroneous report in Sunday's Avalanche-Journal. This was the first time since 1926 that the local school has won a majority of the contests.

Lubbock's judging teams, coached by Henry Elder, won first in the livestock judging with highs in dairy cattle and sheep and second place in swine and fourth in beef cattle; first in poultry with a first in cull or keep reasons and second in breed identification; and second in the milk division.

In the livestock contests, Kenneth Perkins of Lubbock was second high individual, J. R. Bridges, third, and James Shearer, fourth. In the poultry division, Jack Smith of Lubbock was first and Wendel Conditt, second.

Sunday's paper erroneously stated Brownfield was winner of the contests when the team only placed high in the crops judging contest.

Regional Track Meet Set For Chapman Field Today

Region One track and field athletes will move into Lubbock today for the delayed running of the meet scheduled for last weekend at Canyon, but postponed because of heavy rains on the track there, it was announced Monday afternoon by E. J. "Pinkey" Lowrey.

Continued rains in the Canyon area has made it impossible to hold the meet at Buffalo stadium, and at the last minute the arrangements were completed to bring the meet to Lubbock's Chapman field.

Lowrey and assistants were busy Friday evening getting the local field in shape for the running of the events here, and barring bad weather, will have everything ready to go at the scheduled 10:15 o'clock starting time this morning on the preliminary events.

Holmes Is Starter

Windy Nicklaus of the Canyon school will be in charge of the track and field events here. Lt. Joe Holmes of Lubbock Army Air field will be the starter, but what other officials will work has not been named. Nicklaus is expected to bring along a few helpers, and others will be recruited from a list prepared by Lowrey.

The continued bad weather on the Panhandle plains made the move necessary, but will not effect the literary and tennis events, which will go on as scheduled at Canyon today.

At the time the shift was made, Lowrey arranged to notify the athletes of schools in the southern half of the region, while Canyon officials will call schools in the northern half.

Schools contacted by Lowrey included Andrews, Levelland, Plainview, Abernathy, Hale Center, Denver City, Meadow, Tahoka, Petersburg, Olton, Idalou, O'Donnell, Lamesa, New Deal, Spring Lake and Anton.

A total of about 35 teams is expected to compete in the meet here with about 200 athletes expected.

Prelims This Morning

The first events on the program this morning will be the preliminaries in the pole vault and shot put, both scheduled for 10:15 o'clock. Prelims in the high jump, broad jump and discus are scheduled for 11 o'clock.

In the track events, the preliminaries will start at 10:30 o'clock with the 120-yard high hurdles the first event. The 100-yard dash preliminaries are scheduled for 10:45 o'clock.

At 11:10 o'clock, the 440-yard dash preliminaries, and 15 minutes later the low hurdles. Fifteen minutes later the 440-yard relay preliminaries are scheduled with the 220-yard dash preliminary scheduled for noon.

Schedule For Finals

The finals will start at 2:15 o'clock in pole vault and shot put. The high jump and broad jump finals are scheduled for 2:55 o'clock with the discus slated for 3:20 o'clock.

Finals in the track events will be as follows:

2:30 p.m.—High hurdles.
2:45 p.m.—100-yard dash.
2:55 p.m.—440-yard dash.
3:10 p.m.—Low hurdles.
3:30 p.m.—440-yard relay.
3:40 p.m.—880-yard run.
3:50 p.m.—220-yard dash.
4:00 p.m.—Mile run.
4:10 p.m.—Mile relay.

The Lubbock Westerners are defending champions of the meet, and again are rated high in the standings, with some quarters making them the favorites to repeat.

Two of the top schoolboy athletes of the state are scheduled to take part in today's meet, but the third member of this select group has been called into service in the Navy, and will not be on hand.

Johnny Campbell, great little athlete with the Pampa Harvesters, was called into service last week, and will miss the regional meet. Campbell was expected to shatter the existing record in the mile run, and was a heavy favorite to cop this event in the state.

Clay, Dean Featured

Randall Clay, also of the Harvesters, will be here to take part in the weights events, heaving the shot and discus. Clay has heaved the discus 136 feet, 10 inches this season. This is short of the record set two years ago by May of O'Donnell, but Clay is given a good chance to better the mark.

Cliff Dean of Lubbock is rated among the state's best pole vaulters, and has already bettered the regional record of 11 feet, 6 inches several times this season. Dean is rated as perhaps the one best bet in the meet to set a new mark. The regional pole vault record is the oldest one on the books, and was set 11 years ago.

Much interest has been centered on the half mile run, with some critics confident that the record in this event may fall. Jim Lowrey of Lubbock, Ralph White of Petersburg and Willingham of Amarillo all being boomed as big threats in the event.

Another top flight star in the meet today, and one that looms as a possible high point star of the day, is W. C. Harrison, the Denver City flash. Harrison has been going strong all season, and has established himself as one of the greatest track stars on the Plains.

With the hopes of clearing skies for today, the meet should be one of the best of recent years.

Athletes Shoot At Records

The hopes of every athlete entered in the Region One track and field carnival here today will be that he might break a record. Just in case your memory needs a little jogging, here are the records that the boys will be shooting for.

The record books have found the ink getting a little old and dried on the regional records, and for the past two seasons there have been no changes in the books.

The last time a new record was written was in 1942 when two marks changed when the Amarillo sprint relay stepped the distance in 45.3 seconds, and May of O'Donnell heaved the discus 141 feet, 4 inches.

Five of the records have stood the test of time since 1935 when the meet had a record breaking show that topped them all. But the daddy of the records was set in 1934, but on the basis of season's performances, that record is due to bow out this afternoon.

The oldest record is the pole vault mark set in 1934 by Schultz of Tell when he soared over the bar at 11 feet, 6 inches. Cliff Dean of Lubbock has done 12 feet five times this season, and stands the best chance in 11 years to erase the grand daddy of all the regional records.

The present Region 1 records:
120-yard high hurdles—Compton, Mobeetie, 15.1 seconds, 1935.
100-yard dash—Jones, Hedley, 10 seconds flat, 1935.
200-yard low hurdles—Heiskell, Pampa, 23.9 seconds, 1941.
440-yard dash—Kirkland, Dumas, 51.2 seconds, 1935.
220-yard dash—Jones, Hedley, 21.5 seconds, 1936.
880-yard dash—Lambert, Muleshoe, 2 minutes and 4 seconds, 1938.
Mile run—Manning, Brownfield, 4 minutes and 45 seconds, 1935.
Mile relay—Amarillo, 3 minutes and 33.7 seconds, 1940.
440-yard relay—Amarillo, 45.3 seconds, 1942.
Pole vault—Schultz, Tell, 11 feet and 6 inches, 1934.
Broad jump—Minor, Tahoka, 22 feet and ½ inch, 1940.
Discus—May, O'Donnell, 141 feet and 4 inches, 1942.
High jump—Smith, Tell, 6 feet, 1935.
Shot put—Wilkerson, Tell, 48 feet and 9 inches, 1936.

Regional Tennis Tourney Started

CANYON, April 23. (Special)—Braving the elements to get by the first round of the region one tennis tournament, the tourney was started off here today with the only returning defending champions getting by the first round in good style.

Lubbock county netters broke even in the first round play, David Hester of Lubbock High school winning his opening match in boys singles, but Bob Galey of Shallowater was beaten in the first round.

Hester won over Rawlings of Kress in straight sets, 6-2, 6-4, and moved into the semi-final round. Galey fell before John Allen of Amarillo in straight sets, 6-1, 6-1.

Jimmy Byrd of Post also survived the first round, beating the Lockney entry, 6-0, 6-1, with an impressive show.

The Amarillo tennis team, putting strong entries into all four divisions, had three of them to advance in the semi-final round of play to retain the best chance in the field for the team championship.

O'Donnell Girls Win

The only Amarillo team beaten in the first round was the girls doubles pair of Mary Nell Park and Nell Quattlebaum, who fell before the defending champions, Peggy Cummins and Edna Edwards of O'Donnell. The O'Donnell pair was forced to come from behind to stay in the running, winning 2-6, 6-1, 6-1.

Bobby Adams and Patsy Holland of Lakeview eliminated Janice Grant and Ellen Copeland of Dumas in the only other first round match in the girls doubles, 6-0, 6-1.

Camille Fite of Sundown fell before Amarillo's Pat Jackson, 6-3, 6-1, in the girls singles. In the only other match in the girls singles played today, Elaine Bagwell of Claude eliminated Mary Beth McCollough of Panhandle, 7-5, 6-2.

Amarillo, Sundown, O'Donnell and Plainview remained in the battle for the top honors in the boys doubles.

Matlock and Kirby of Sundown won a long, bitterly fought match with Skelton and Franklin of Panhandle, 6-1, 4-6, 6-2, to remain in the race. Tomlinson and Pearce of O'Donnell came through in straight sets over Meyers and Dollar of Dumas.

Plainview's Carl Myers and Emmett Meyers delivered the goods to eliminate C. E. Anderson and S. Mayfield of Quitaque, in another bitterly fought battle, 6-2, 6-8, 6-2. Amarillo's highly favored pair of Hayden Hardin and Jack Laing romped over Lockney, 6-2, 6-2.

The semi-finals will be played Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock and the finals at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. If the weather is still bad Tuesday, the matches will be played inside Barton gym.

Dykes Grins About White Sox Hitting

CHICAGO, April 23 (AP)— The pitching is as good as Manager Jimmy Dykes expected, but the hitting of Chicago's undefeated White Sox has almost made rotund James swallow his inevitable cigar in pleasant surprise.

The American League pacesetters, off to the best White Sox start in a quarter of a century with five straight wins, have belted 64 hits, an average of 13 per game, for a .352 percentage at the plate.

Most of the thunder in the surprising get-away of the lightly regarded Pale Hose is packed in the bats of Dykes' aging outfield trio of Oris Hockett, Johnny Dickshot and Wally Moses whose average age is nearly 33. This "tottering" three-some is hitting a sizzling .420.

Studebaker Weasel

ABOVE—This Weasel is climbing an embankment somewhere in France, as troops of the U. S. 9th Army pursued the retreating Nazis.

AT LEFT—Mortar shells are being put aboard a Weasel in a western European combat area at a platoon ammunition dump only 800 yards behind the front lines.

BELOW—Here's a Weasel in the water, towing rubber rafts filled with supplies in the Bougainville campaign. This new "Champion" in warfare is particularly well suited to island warfare.

THIS surprise vehicle of the war, the Studebaker Weasel, travels swiftly and stealthily on broad, flexible, rubber-padded tracks. Sure-footed on sand, snow, mud or swamp, it also takes to deep water like a boat. Thousands of Weasels are now streaming off the Studebaker production lines. This versatile personnel and cargo carrier is powered by the same 6-cylinder engine used in the Studebaker Champion car.

Solons Study Tariff, Monetary Issues

WASHINGTON, April 23. (AP)—Two battles on economic aspects of postwar world collaboration occupied Congress today on the eve of the United Nations conference at San Francisco.

The appearance of Commerce Secretary Henry A. Wallace held immediate attention on Capitol Hill.

He will press before the House ways and means committee the administration's proposal for broad new authority to trim tariffs in reciprocal trade agreements with other nations. Committee Republicans have aligned themselves solidly against the proposal.

The other battle is in the House banking committee, over the Bretton Woods proposals for a world reconstruction and development bank and an international currency stabilization fund.

On neither issue is the administration certain to have its way.

President Truman has endorsed the late President Roosevelt's stand on both the tariff and monetary issues. Mr. Roosevelt said these economic measures are inseparable from military and political planning among the United Nations.

Japs Told To Fight "Even After Death"

SAN FRANCISCO, April 23. (AP)—Japanese soldiers were instructed today by War Minister Korechika Anami to fight on "even after death" in defense of their homeland.

A five-point program, reported in a Domei agency wireless dispatch recorded by the FCC, was issued by Anami. He told the army that following these instructions would be "setting the imperial mind at ease."

The instructions included these quotations from Domei:

"Firmly believe in the indestructability of our divine land."

"Fight gallantly with this spirit of death defiance and wipe out any enemy who dares to invade our imperial land, and never permit any invader to leave this land alive."

PEACE STOCKS EDGE HIGHER

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP) — Investment demand for rails and stocks with good peace prospects today helped the market edge to a new average high for the last eight years although many leaders failed to join the swing.

The Associated Press 60-stock composite was up .3 of a point at 64.4, a peak since 1937. The carrier average was up .8 at 40.4, also a new top. Of 932 issues appearing, 479 were gainers against 453 down or unchanged.

Prominent on the advance were Southern Pacific, Texas and Pacific Railway, N. Y. Central, Studebaker, Hudson Motors, Willys-Overland, Armour, Cudahy, Wilson and Co., Kennecott, Montgomery Ward, and American Telephone.

Packing stocks were buoyed by announcement of plans to boost government meat payment subsidies by $15,000,000. Potential orders for new automobiles spurred the motors. The outlook for heavy shipping even when Germany folds aided the carriers.

Losers included Johns-Manville, Western Union, "A," Sears Roebuck, Douglas Aircraft, United Aircraft, Du Pont and Woolworth.

Transportation bonds pushed up at the last.

Why feel old at 40, 60 or more—why be the victim of the older years? If life apparently has lost its zest, you again may be able to enjoy life as you did in your youth. If added years have slowed down your vim, vitality and youthful pleasures, here is a simple, inexpensive method that may change your whole outlook on life. Why not try and regain the pleasures of living you once enjoyed. Why be discouraged—why not regain the verve and zest of a much younger man?

Keep Your Chin Up Charlie, Uncle Is Slow, But Certain

NEW YORK, April 23. (AP) — Charles Dougherty, 91, learned today he would receive $135.62 owed him by Uncle Sam for 67 years, but commented skeptically: "I ain't got it yet, and I ain't planning on how to spend it 'til I do."

President Truman signed a bill authorizing payment of the 67-year-old debt, owed Dougherty for overtime work in the Brooklyn Navy yard back in '78.

"I've waited 67 years now," Dougherty said. "I've waited so long I don't know how I'm going to spend it.

"—And I'm still waiting," he added firmly.

"But I always thought it would come along some day. Like everything else."

Telephone Workers Get Wage Increase

HOUSTON, April 23 (AP)—Some 1,000 employes in the traffic department of Southwestern Bell Telephone company here have been awarded wage increases of $22.50 per month, Mrs. Jewel Whatley, vice-president of the telephone workers union, said today.

The wage grant was $7.50 less than the flat $30 asked by the workers, Mrs. Whatley said.

Mrs. Whatley said the WLB directive called for a $12.50 per month increase for clerks. She said the average for all employes in the union would amount to about $17.50 per month.

The WLB wage-increase action followed on the heels of a labor dispute in the company's long distance department last week. Between 200 and 300 long distance operators failed to report for work in protest against the company's policy of importing operators from other cities.

The dispute was settled when the company agreed to discontinue the policy "until grievances of the union are settled."

Hannegan And Truman

Demo Chief A Valuable Advisor

THERE are some who profess to be upset over the fact that since Mr. Truman succeeded to the Presidential chair, Robert E. Hannegan, chairman of the Democratic National Executive committee, has taken on all the aspects of an important advisor to the Chief Executive.

To them, and to others who may be interested, we direct some facts regarding the personable citizen of St. Louis.

While it is true that Bob Hannegan, the son of a policeman, was once a "ward heeler," and later was a machine boss in St. Louis, it also is just as true that recent years have seen his stature increase by leaps and bounds.

Back in 1933, Hannegan was appointed Collector of Internal Revenue in St. Louis, largely because of his political power in that city and his successful efforts in behalf of the campaigns of Senators Harry Truman and Bennett Clark. But Hannegan worked like a Trojan at the job and became one of the best revenue collectors in U. S. history.

In 1932, when Guy Helvering quit as Commissioner of Internal Revenue in Washington, Secretary Morgenthau, Helvering and Tax Slueth Elmer Irey each made out a list of best available men and when the lists were compared, the name of Bob Hannegan was at the very top of all three. He was appointed after Treasury detectives checked his record from birth onward and nothing wrong could be found anywhere on his record. What Bob Hannegan did as federal commissioner is now history—he proved himself the best man who ever filled the job because he worked at it, early and late, and even took a night course in tax law to make himself better qualified.

Bob Hannegan didn't want to be chairman of the Democratic National committee. Suggested by James F. Byrnes and Postmaster Frank Walker, he tried to say "no" to Franklin Roosevelt, but the late President simply "kidded him out of it." At the helm of Fourth Term campaign, he again acquitted himself as a man of outstanding ability.

Hardboiled Washington correspondents liken Bob Hannegan to Jim Farley in that his sincerity is unquestioned; he is scrupulously honest; he is loyal, frank and an indefatigable worker. Furthermore, they say, he has a habit of sticking to his word. They recall, too, that the late President Roosevelt announced before a full cabinet meeting that political appointments must be cleared through Hannegan—something he never did for Jim Farley, even in the days of their closest association. In short, all the testimony indicates he has "plenty on the ball."

Hannegan's interest in Mr. Truman's administration stems not alone from State pride, but also from a long and flourishing friendship with the President. We think he'll be helpful to President Truman and that his counsel will be valuable to the country, as well as to the Chief Executive.

The Science Of Nutrition

AMERICANS have become acutely conscious in recent years that there is a science of nutrition. Spectacular proof of this awareness is to be found in the mushrooming sales of vitamin pills. But there is other and more encouraging evidence in the growing demand for such food as milk, meat, eggs, fruits and fresh vegetables.

This trend is the result, of course, of important discoveries made in the field of nutrition. Through newspapers and magazines the public has learned that there is a direct connection between diet and health. Housewives have eagerly applied the knowledge made available and today the results can be seen on millions of tables.

Yet the science of nutrition is still new. What the investigators have discovered so far is merely a fraction of what remains to be studied. The striking results of recent research, as reported at the annual meeting of the Nutrition Foundation at New York City, clearly indicate that the door to important new knowledge is only beginning to open.

Studies at Harvard point to the conclusion that by bettering the diet of expectant mothers it will be possible to reduce the percentage of deformed children to a fraction of what it is today. Other research concerned with the fatty material within the liver has provided an important lead bearing on the convalescent treatment of large numbers of returning service men. There is new light on diabetes and on why fliers can stand high altitudes better when fortified with a meal rich in carbohydrates.

Nutrition is a science that bears directly upon the well-being of every man, woman and child and it is heartening to note that its horizons are steadily widening.

Proper nutrition is the health "prevention" which is better than a pound of latter, corrective "cure." The more we know about it—and the more we practice it—the better off we'll all be.

"Many birds sing without opening their bills," declares a naturalist. Maybe we'd feel more like singing if we didn't open ours.

XXIX
ILLNESS

The heat in Majorca was intense. The rains came. The downpour lasted for days. The rain came down in sheets and the sky, usually so blue, was gray and heavy with leaden clouds.

The gloom and murk that settled over the island enveloped also the occupants of the old Carthusian monastery between the rocks and the sea. Frederic caught a cold and he could not shake it off. His illness, while not serious, had sapped his strength.

George was alarmed when she saw him hunched over the keyboard, unable to sit straight.

"—George, why do you stare at me like that?"

"Was I staring?"

"—Am I so like a ghost I frighten you?"

"The rain, Frederic. The rain and the wind."

The winds blew and currents of air swept through the vaulted chamber. The candles flickered.

George sent for the chief doctor of the island. But it was three days before he was able to make the trip to Valdemosa.

He came and he examined Frederic. He shook his head. "I don't know," he said. "I don't know."

A second doctor came. He said the same thing. Over the period of a week, three doctors came to the monastery. They all examined Frederic and they all shook their heads.

Then in a day or two he was back at the piano. The cold was gone but he was left with a slight cough.

The grayness, the gloom, the constant rain all helped to dissipate somewhat the unreality of Majorca smiling.

Frederic worked constantly.

"—Do you know, Professor, I was thinking only the other day—"

He looked up from the piano. "George!"

Her clothes were wet, her hair drenched.

"Where have you been?"

"Walking."

"—In the rain?"

"Why not?"

"—You might have told me." She murmured something.

"—What!"

"Nothing, Frederic."

"—I said, George, you might have told me."

"You have your work."

"—But you always tell me."

She was wringing her hair. "Yes. I used to think it was important. But nothing I say is important to you, Frederic."

"Everything you say is important. How can you talk like that?"

"No, Frederic. We live in worlds apart. Whenever I try to bring you into mine— What's the use?"

"—That's being very mean, George. We have our own world —together. Isn't that what we've always said?"

She pushed her hair back from her face. "For days you've been dinning that Polonaise jumble into my ears! I could scream when I hear it! That's no place in my world for that, Frederic! None! Do you hear me — you damned idiot!"

Frederic squirmed. His face was white. "I—I'm sorry, George." His hands twitched. He tried to steady them. "I am not well, George; I am not well."

He tried to rise from the piano. "—George, don't turn your back on me. I need you, George—very much—more than anybody in the world. Look at me. You can see, George, I am not well. I must work—I must—I have to—"

"That damned jumble?"

"—No, oh no, George. That's wrong. I know it's wrong. Forgive me, George. Tomorrow—you will see—I will be gay—graceful —and out of my head there will come waltzes—beautiful melodies, George—for you. Yes, I promise —the light and gay tunes that you love so much.

"—But today — my head, George—"

"Are you sure, Frederic, it isn't Paris you're aching for?"

"—Paris?"

"Yes. And Professor Elsner?"

"—No, George."

"And your beloved causes?"

"—You accuse me—you accuse me falsely—"

"I wonder?"

"—You do, George. You are very mean. You have no right—".

"What shall it be, Frederic—the old way of life—"

"—George, I am not well."

"The old way of life, Frederic —or the new way, as you and I had palnned it?"

"—I am not a well man, George."

"What is your choice?"

"—Take me away from here, George—the rain—the dark—the damp—"

"You choose Paris?"

"—George, you won't listen. Away from here, that's all. Do that, George. Anywhere—Nohant. Yes, we could go there. Yes, Nohant. You will take me, won't you, George?"

"You and I?"

"—Always. Yes, George, I swear —always—"

"No intruders?"

He stared at her. He repeated her words. "No intruders."

"And you will hold your head up, Frederic—firm—"

"—Yes," he said, his head drooping.

"—With the same unalterable contempt for what the world thinks of you—or of me—or of us both?"

"Yes."

"There will be no backing down, Frederic? You agree to that?"

"I agree." His eyes wandered over the floor.

"Frederic."

His eyes were trying to find her.

"—Hand me, please, that Polonaise jumble—"

The Witch of Nohant gently tore the pages into small pieces.

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

NEW York City Fireman David Paul McKean has just been appointed a City Magistrate by Mayor La Guardia, and his salary will hereafter be $10,000 a year instead of the $3,000 which he has earned heretofore.

BRANDEIS

Magistrate McKean is 37 years old. While working as a fireman he earned a bachelor's degree in accounting and a master's degree in law.

Mayor LaGuardia swore him in a few days ago, and after administering the oath admonished him as follows:

"All I ask is that you stay as you are now. Keep the same wife, the same children, the same home, and don't try to keep up with the Joneses."

Mayor LaGuardia and I aren't very good friends. I have criticized him often for his ill manners, his violent temper and his lack of courtesy.

But one thing I have to give the little son-of-a-gun credit for—he has a lot of common sense, (and, incidentally, taking it all in all he is about the best mayor New York has ever had).

And here, in these few words to the new Magistrate, he expresses about all there is to a successful life:

"Stay as you are now—don't try to keep up with the Jonesses."

In the first place I admire LaGuardia's policy of promoting people out of the ranks. I wish there were more of that in politics and in business.

And in the second place, isn't one of the great troubles with so many so-called successful men that they try to change as they get ahead and that they and their wives try to keep up with the jonesses?

A COUPLE of weeks ago my attention was called to a certain fashionable New York suburb that leads all other communities in the number of foreclosures and in unpaid tradesmen's bills.

I investigated and found that many of the homes foreclosed had recently been bought by men who had been promoted in business or whose incomes had increased considerably.

To live in that community is considered "the thing" and unless you keep up with the Jonesses you are nobody in that swanky suburb.

Pretty soon the outgo is twice as high as the added income and foreclosure, debt and failure are the natural consequence.

"Stay as you are now—and don't try to keep up with the Jonesses." I know no better advice.

Labor Peace Expected

Unions May Join Under Truman

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

THE nation's foremost labor leaders entertain high hopes of eventual unity in this important war- and peacetime field as a result of Harry S. Truman's accession to the Presidency.

Although they mourn the passing of their great friend, Franklin Roosevelt, they recognize that the new Chief Executive enters the White House under circumstances which permit him to deal with the labor problem impartially and nonpolitically.

President Truman holds no personal grudge against any of the rival chieftains. The recent agreement for a pay increase to the United Mine Workers will now be ratified by the War Labor board without any difficulty. For which John L. Lewis will be as thankful as his gruff nature permits.

TUCKER

Nor does HST owe any great political debt to the Hillman-Murray Congress of Industrial Organizations, even though Sidney made possible his nomination for Vice President in Chicago. For one thing, Mr. Truman did not want the honor. Second, he appreciates that Messrs. Hillman and Murray used him merely to block James F. Byrnes of South Carolina.

As chairman of the Senate Truman committee, the Missourian spanked all three labor organizations, although he reserved his heaviest fire for Hillman.

He excoriated the CIO boss when he discovered that Hillman had stopped award of a contract for prefabricated houses to a low bidder in Detroit because the United Construction Workers, the prefabricators, was a Lewis organization. But he also criticized practices of the AFL and the United Mine Workers. He played no favorites.

UNITED: The most momentous chapters in the history of organized American labor will probably be written during the administration of Harry Truman. In preparation for the trials they will face in the postwar period, it is believed that the three rival workingmen's organizations will eventually bury their political and economic differences and merge into a united front.

The return of John Lewis' United Mine Workers to the AFL is now a certainty. The path had been paved, but there was always the possibility that the former administration would use its influence to prevent an amalgamation, as it had several times in the past. Mr. Truman, on the contrary, wants them to get together.

Once these two groups have combined, there will be every incentive for the CIO to join these two other powerful labor machines. Had Mr. Roosevelt continued as President, or had Henry Wallace been his successor, the Hillman-Murray forces would have relied on their inside influence to keep them on top of the pile. They would have seen no advantage in a reunion.

Principal objectors to such a consolidation are Communists in the CIO and certain manufacturers who do not want labor too strong in its own right.

But the recent charter signed by Eric Johnston of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, President William Green of the AFL, and President Philip Murray of the CIO indicates that responsible leaders of labor and management want an end to industrial wars and disputes.

To that movement President Truman has already given his private blessing!

JUSTICES: President Truman's first congressional address exalting a government based on "law and justice" produced curious responses among the members of the Supreme court sitting in the front row of the House chamber at the joint session.

Mr. Roosevelt's personal appointees, especially the extreme judicial champions of New Deal reforms, were obviously nervous and upset. Felix Frankfurter clasped and unclasped his fingers. Justices Hugo Black, Bill Douglas and Wiley Rutledge shifted in their seats uneasily. The expressions on their faces were blank.

These are the four jurists who, in handing down decisions, have construed the law as they thought it should be and not necessarily as Congress meant it to be. Now and then they won over such men as Stanley Reed and Robert Jackson, thus making a majority.

It was quite evident from their physical manifestations that they thought the new President was rebuking them for their personal interpretations of the statutes and giving them a new set of constitutional orders. And they did not like it a bit.

The black-robed New Deal judges enjoyed close relationship with President Roosevelt, and they tried to carry out his wishes. Now they seem to feel themselves in eclipse, personally and judicially.

Chief Justice Harlan Stone and Owen Roberts, both Republican appointees and New Deal dissenters, applauded like noisy gallery listeners, while their colleagues kept their hands folded in their laps. The two justices seemed to like the new President's philosophy of government—and jurisprudence.

WINNING THE WAR

LATEST Norwegian grapevine news reaching New York is that the Nazis are making far greater preparations to hold the northern citadel than was previously expected.

Ammunition is flown in daily. U-boat bases are being strengthened by Todt engineers. Extra underground hangars have been completed at Gardemoen. Early this week labor gangs were finishing new bunkers and barricades in the streets of Oslo.

LEMAN

A huge railway ferry was switched from the Baltic and landed mysterious boxes in southern Norway, which later were taken under heavy guard by train to Stavenger. As each case was 25 feet long, patriots suspect it contained a V-bomb.

Most Norsemen believe the fanatical Nazis and criminal Quislings will attempt to hold out in the rugged hills—as their fellow gangsters may do in the Bavarian redoubt. But, more than a last-ditch stand, the Norwegians fear that the Huns will ruthlessly apply the scorched-earth torch to factories, canneries, pulp mills and hydroelectric plants.

The little kingdom is not a great agricultural state. Now that more than half of her merchant marine has been sunk, these enterprises are her few remaining assets.

TRAITOR: In certain sections the Germans are burning wooden houses. When owners rebuild from peat sods, bands of marauders return and pull them to pieces.

The enemy has confiscated or destroyed most of the boats; these formed the base of Europe's most important fishing industry.

Only craft left are those small enough to haul far up on shore and hide under pine boughs. In Winter these could not be used even at night; telltale footprints in the snow would have revealed their presence to Gestapo snoopers. If the Nazis make a funeral pyre of the last few earthly possessions of the Norwegian people, the frightfulness of their present plight will be increased a hundredfold.

Though threatened with fresh catastrophes, the gallant Norsemen have not hesitated to strike back. The other day a Quisling chief of police stepped toward his auto; another car drew up to the curb and its occupants pumped bullets into the traitor, killing him.

Ordinarily this would have been an excuse for wholesale shooting of hostages. But the Germans have learned at last that brutal retaliation only inflames the patriots to renewed resistance, so they make fewer arrests.

So far as is known here, they only jailed one professor "as a warning." Perhaps garrison commanders hope to establish a reputation for leniency against the inevitable day when they themselves will be prisoners.

Opposing Groups Claim Truman As 'Our Man'

Iron Decisions Face President

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.—No pretty lady ever was wooed by so many suitors of so many persuasions as President Truman.

Figurative bouquets have poured in profusion, with boxes of sweet platitudes. The climax was reached when Republican gentlemen from the Senate, led by Senator Taft of Ohio, called to offer their help, with as kind protestations as Greeks bearing gifts.

This is something that probably has not happened around here since President Monroe, well over a century ago, instituted that "era of good feeling."

STOKES

Everybody wants to claim Harry Truman as "our man."

Conservatives are telling him privately and in print not to have any more traffic with those nasty New Dealers and Liberals and Leftwingers. The latter group whispers that he can't trust those horried Conservatives.

It's all very pretty and very natural and so amusing. Like school girls with a crush. Mr. Truman, a shrewd gentleman who learned about human nature and politicians in 10 years in the Senate, must be enjoying this rush immensely.

FDR Knew About It

Franklin Roosevelt knew all about it. Mr. Roosevelt was able, during his campaign for his first nomination and afterwards in the Presidential campaign, to be many things to many men, for everybody was ready to be satisfied with anybody to replace Herbert Hoover. In the early part of his administration, with the country in desperate straits, he was able to hold nearly everybody together.

But when he began to reform the country's financial and industrial structure and do things for labor and the average man, he raised up implacable enemies—and he kept them to the end. The "Hate Roosevelt" crowd began to gather fairly early and stayed late.

HERBERT HOOVER became in 1923 the darling of many professional liberals, strange as that may seem now. They had some misgivings when the support of the late Andrew W. Mellow, Pittsburgh magnate and Secretary of Treasury under President Coolidge, and the big boys of the Old Guard was required to clinch his nomination. But they clung to him hopefully.

Early in his administration, Mr. Hoover let himself be induced to call a special session of Congress to revise that tariff—already high enough. This was a sad mistake. He was tugged this way and that by Conservatives and Progressives but, in the end, he signed that monstrosity known as the Smoot-Hawley bill. His troubles began.

"No Time For Compromise"

President Truman's chief predicament, perhaps, is that he can't stop and consider. He hasn't time. He was thrown into the midst of the toughest set of circumstances that ever confronted a man suddenly elevated by Fate to the White House, with the exception of Andrew Johnson. This is no quiet time such as that into which Calvin Coolidge stepped, on the death of Warren G. Harding.

It is time for action and decision and hardly conducive to compromise.

MR. TRUMAN inherited a set of policies already formulated and laid down, which he himself has espoused as his own. They include creation of a new world order, embodied in a political organization that is the problem of the forthcoming San Francisco conference; financial machinery embraced in an international Bank and Stabilization fund, now before Congress; a trade promotion program provided in extension of the reciprocal tariff, also before Congress, as well as measures to furnish jobs on the home front when the war ends.

These are all highly controversial. They draw a direct issue.

The compromisers already are beginning their seductive gestures.

Also, though it is obscured now, the new President is manager of the same party, the same widely split party, over which Mr. Roosevelt had to act as steward. It will not take long for this to become apparent.

The new President must strike quickly and decisively.

New "Power Bomb" Can Outdo Sound

LONDON, April 23. (AP)—A new rocket-propelled "power bomb" which is faster than sound was announced today.

A joint communique by the U. S. Strategic Air forces and the British Admiralty said:

"Rocket-propelled bombs, conceived by the Admiralty, were used by B-17 Flying Fortresses of the U. S. Eighth Air force in their attacks against E-boat pens at Ijmuiden, Holland, Feb. 10 and March 14.

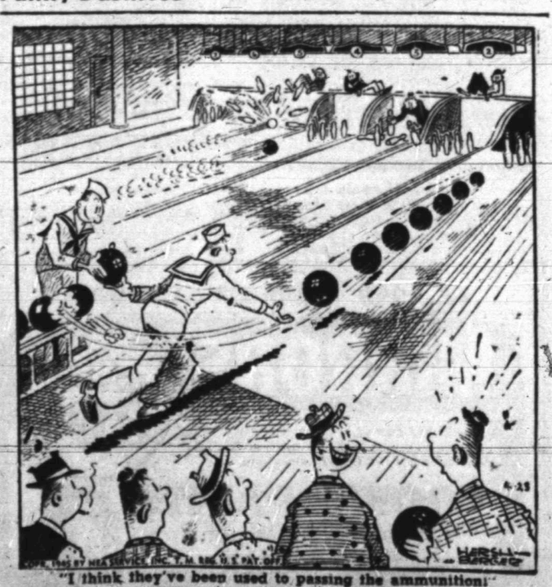

"The bomb was designed to penetrate thick layers of concrete and it is known that several hit and pierced the massive roofs of the pens and are believed to have caused considerable damage to facilities inside."

VON TRESS APPOINTED

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—Edward C. Von Tress, Evanston, Ill., today was appointed acting deputy director of the printing and publishing division of the War Production board, succeeding Donald G. Shook of Washington, who is retiring to private business.

NOTICE TO THE PUBLIC

Buses are overburdened as never before. A crisis is near. With more men, tires and gas going to war, present service can barely be maintained. Each day brings greater loads. When you must travel locally, let this be your creed:

1. Do Not Ride in Rush Hours, except to and from your job.
2. Have Exact Fare Ready, saves time and fuss.
3. Move Back When Driver Asks, speeds your ride.

This simple creed will work wonders.

Third Smashing For Adolf's Lair

from the German city of Augsburg and farther to the southwest infantry battled nine miles west of the Danube stronghold of Ulm.

Disorganization spread through German ranks north of the Danube, a battle dispatch said. Whole units, surprised that all retreat had been cut off, were surrendering.

While the Germans were hotly pressed to keep the French and the U. S. Seventh Army out of their well-manned and well-stocked mountain fortress, the Third Army threw its enormous weight into the struggle.

The French First Army closed up to the Swiss frontier on a 38-mile front east of the Black forest pocket and was driving east along the north shores of Lake Constance toward Friedrichshafen, 15 miles from the Austrian frontier at the east end of the lake.

British Near Bremen

On the British front far to the north, Bremen—second greatest port of Germany—was under heavy assault and troops driving in from the east last were reported five miles from the heart of the city.

Troops and tanks driving in less than two miles south of Bremen cut the mains furnishing the city's principal water supply.

Other British forces hammering a siege arc around Hamburg, the No. 1 port of the Reich, seized Harsefeld, 20 miles to the west and Esterbrugge, 10 miles west. From the latter point they began shelling enemy shipping in the Elbe estuary.

Canadians in western Holland made a surprise crossing of the Maas river 25 miles east of Rotterdam, and in the north Polish troops fought up to within six and a half miles of the port of Emden.

Want Quick Kill

Bent on making the kill quickly, one armored column rumbled up 13 miles from the Danubian stronghold of Regensburg and about 75 miles from Munich, which stands at the northern edge of the alpine redoubt.

Other columns burst across the Naab river and swept almost unopposed 23 miles southeast through disorganized defenses into Naag and Wetterfeld, northeast of Regensburg and 43 miles southwest of the Czech armament city of Pilsen.

The blows were dealt in concert with those of the U. S. Seventh and French First armies, already 29 to 48 miles from the western-most ramparts of the redoubt, and pouring southward in tremendous strength.

The Danube river line was buckling under the impact of the U. S. Seventh Army's armored attack which carried across the historic barrier 50 miles west of Munich and was up to the stream on a 50-mile front.

In the center of the Western front, the U. S. First and Ninth armies listened to the rumble of Russian guns and, with junction patrols alerted, waited for the linkup that would be announced from Washington, London and Moscow simultaneously.

Waiting For Russians

It was clear that the two big American armies were waiting for the Russians to come to them, since only patrols were operating beyond or close to the Elbe river —the probable junction point.

The U. S. First Army, however, completed the subjugation of Dessau, city of 120,000 population 52 miles southwest of Berlin, and captured 21,373 more prisoners Sunday, most of them in the Dessau fighting.

The U. S. Ninth Army, for its part, contented itself with the capture of Dannenberg on the Elbe's west bank 20 miles southeast of the eastern limits of the British Second Army's 50-mile hold on the river.

Third Disappointed

A field dispatch said the Third Army troops were frankly disappointed that they had not been allowed to strike for Berlin, but were enthusiastic about the new campaign, offering possibilities of bringing the war to a swift conclusion by dismembering the southern redoubt.

The Third Army was hammering away on a 65-mile front. It was four miles or more into Czechoslovakia on the northern part of the front after capturing Dolreuth and Thonbrun, two miles east and three miles north respectively of the captured Czech city of Asch.

Mercury Falls, Hail Pelts Several Areas

Temperatures dropped sharply early Monday night in the face of strong winds after hail hit scattered spots in the Lubbock area Sunday night and Monday morning.

At 10 o'clock, the reading was 43 as compared with 69 at 2 o'clock in the afternoon.

A late report from the Santa Fe dispatcher's office at Slaton said that there had been no news of recent rain; high winds which had plagued the Panhandle and South Plains yesterday afternoon and night were dying down and skies were clear at Canyon and Clovis.

Hail pounded the Monroe vicinity about 6 o'clock yesterday morning, it was reported. Abernathy was caught in a brief hailstorm early Sunday night that damaged gardens and stripped trees. Plainview, at the same time, received .25 of an inch of rain and some hail. Hale Center was touched lightly by hail. Reports of hail also were received from Olton, Littlefield and Floydada. Ralls received an estimated inch of rain Sunday night.

A shower fell in Lubbock early Monday.

The weather forecast for West Texas said, "mostly cloudy and cooler except on the South Plains and in the Panhandle."

and 353 prisoners during the week beginning April 16. American losses in the same week totaled 584 killed in action, 2,168 wounded and three missing.

Jap Position Weakened

The Japanese position on Mindanao was greatly weakened as Yank doughboys made a rapid sweep of 30 miles. They reached the road junction at Kabacan, thus isolating the northern Japanese garrison from that in the south. On this front the Yanks, in air miles, are midway between their landing beach and Davao port, the main objective.

From Kabacan the road winds southeast to Davao gulf then northeast to the city of Davao, pre-war Japanese stronghold and hemp center. Guerrilla reports indicate that most of the estimated 50,000 Japanese still on Mindanao are strongly entrenched in the Davao sector.

Local Gains On Luzon

American doughboys made local gains on Luzon fronts where supporting airmen unloaded 372 tons of bombs on Japanese positions.

One of two American columns headed for Baguio, summer capital, was within 3,700 yards of the city's northwest municipal line.

Railways, factories, airdromes and shipping were the targets of American fliers in strikes on Formosa, the China sea, French Indo-China and Borneo.

Chinese forces were reported by the Chungking high command to have punched out new advances against the three-pronged Japanese drive on the American air base at Chihkiang. The Nipponese were backtracking toward the three bases from which they launched the general offensive.

Advances In Italy

was captured Saturday. These American and Allied troops had advanced approximately 75 miles in the first eight days of their offensive and had scored a clean breakthrough of the Germans' tough Appennine mountains defense line.

The fertile Po valley was littered with the wreckage of the fleeing enemy's transport. More than 1,700 pieces, including 1,066 motor vehicles, were destroyed or damaged by Allied planes yesterday, and there was no slackening of the assault from the skies.

Heavy Flying Fortresses and Liberators, supporting the ground forces struck at nine bridges over the Adige and Brenta rivers in the path of the retreating enemy today. Three of the bridges were at Pada, the others southeast of Verona.

French Army Units Equipped By America

WASHINGTON, April 23 (AP)—The French embassy said today a second eight Army divisions are being equipped under American lend-lease and that the French air force is being doubled in size.

With supporting units, the first eight divisions readied for battle aggregated 225,000 men, Jean Monnet, special lend-lease envoy, said in a statement issued by the embassy. He added that the United States Navy is maintaining more than a score of refitted French ships.

Civilian relief supplies, which total 242,401 tons from D-day through last Dec. 31, jumped to 383,532 tons in the January-March quarter, he asserted, adding that April shipments may approach 185,000 tons.

ACCIDENTS REDUCED

CHICAGO, April 23 (AP)—Shipyards competing in the victory shipbuilding safety contest cut accidents 25 per cent lest year from 1943, the National Safety council reported today.

Russian party.

Stettinius and his own traveling group left the secretary's office a few minutes later, laden with luggage and brief cases marked for air transport, preparing to leave at once for the United Nations meeting.

Soong had been waiting outside in another office for about 43 minutes before he joined Stettinius, Eden, and Molotov in their deliberations. They had met again at 9 p. m., after earlier conferences during the day.

As had been the case in previous sessions involving only the British, American and Russian conferees, there was no announcement of the specific matter under discussion.

Previous Soviet Attitude

However, it is only in very recent weeks and especially since denunciation of the non-aggression pact with Japan that top ranking Russian diplomats have shown any inclination to confer officially with representatives of the Chinese government.

During most of the world-wide war the Russians have studiously avoided any thing that might connect them with the war in the Pacific in which they are not involved.

Soong's entry into the conference was taken as backing for previous indications that the tangled Polish situation had been put off until Molotov can consult his government and renew conversations in San Francisco.

Meanwhile the State department declined to comment officially on a Moscow radio report which complained of what it called "foreign press" accounts that the Big Three had agreed at Yalta against inviting to San Francisco any Polish government unrecognized by Britain and the United States.

No Official Claim

However, there never has been any official claim here that such an agreement was made directly by President Roosevelt, Prime Minister Churchill and Premier Stalin at their Crimea conference.

Diplomats however pointed to the fact that there was a Yalta agreement to amalgamate the Kremlin-sponsored Warsaw provisional government with other Polish elements.

With such an agreement in existence, it was suggested, the Yalta conferees might have seen no necessity to consider such a point at all.

Even if the factual accuracy of the Moscow report is accepted, diplomats here see it as likely that the President and the Prime Minister took it for granted that an acceptable government could be set up in the two and one half months before the United Nations meeting.

Never Recognized Regime

This country and Britain never have recognized the undiluted Warsaw group and it would be a diplomatic rarity for a nation sponsoring an international meeting to invite a government it does not recognize.

The action of Russia in staying away from recent aviation conferences to avoid contact with regimes it does not accept is cited as a case in point.

It became clear earlier in the day that the Big Three nations—the United States, Russia and Britain—had failed in a night and day of conference to settle the tangled Polish question and had decided to try again at San Francisco.

Tonight's meeting of the Big Three was arranged late in the afternoon.

Reds Hold Over Third Of Berlin

of Soviet tanks were battering through the streets, smashing down barricades, overcoming tank traps and plunging in a great arc extending 35 miles around the city from the northwest through the east and south to the southwest.

Swedish and Swiss reports said that Russian tanks were rolling down shell-cratered Unter Den Linden toward Hitler's Reichs chancellery on the Wilhelmstrasse. The Russian's mass of armor was sweeping forward at an almost unbelievable rate. Some observers speculated that the entire city might fall within two days, as another 11,000 prisoners were herded into Red Army cages.

The Russian's mighty surge to the Elbe completely isolated Berlin from the Nazis' national redoubt to the south and effectively split Hitler's "Fortress Europe" in two.

Effectively Cut In Two

The Russians were 22 miles from last-reported American positions on the Mulde river near Wurzen, west of the Elbe, but the swift drive had effectively cut off all northern Germany from the south, from Austria, Czechoslovakia and northern Italy.

The Nazi underground "werewolf" radio said that Germans were fighting Germans inside Berlin's barricades, reporting that "traitors" were firing at German troops in nothern Berlin, where waves of Red Army tanks were plunging relentlessly toward Unter Den Linden and Friedrichstrasse, dead center of the city.

At the same time, an overwhelming mass of Soviet armor was blasting into Berlin from the south.

Escape Gap Narrows

The escape gap rapidly was being closed and one report said it had been narrowed to five miles in the area of menaced Spandan on the northwest.

The Nazis, routing huddling civilians from shelters, threw women and boys into the inferno of the city's death battle as the Russians bored in from three sides under a blanket of shellfire which had churned mile after mile of the city into a wasteland of twisted steel and stone.

In the first of three orders of the day, Stalin announced that massive Russian forces under the 99 generals and 50 other commanding officers of Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov's First White Russian Army had captured five major districts of Berlin proper and four outlying towns.

Reds Surge Westward

At the same time, Zhukov's troops surged westward north of the city and captured Oranienburg, 17 miles northeast of the heart of Berlin, took nearby Birkenwerder and surged across the Havel river in the northern arm of a closing pincer on the city. They won Heinnisdrof on Lake Tergel and were reported in German broadcasts to have swept into the northwestern suburb of Heiligensee.

Meanwhile as Stalin disclosed that by-passed and embattled Frankfurt on the Oder, 33 miles east of Berlin, fell, troops of Marshal Ivan S. Konev's First Ukrainian Army plunged into Berlin from the south, breaking through the German defense ring based on the circular autobahn.

RAF Batters Nazi Ships Pulling Sneak

LONDON, April 23. (AP)—British planes today pelted bombs and rockets into troop-laden enemy ships sneaking out from the Frisian islands off the Dutch coast, and set fire to at least two.

Second Tactical Air force Typhoons and Spitfires also attacked German air bases near the Danish border, destroying 50 parked planes and shooting down two, while other groups caught a fleet of German aircraft fueled and loaded for a take-off from the Eggebek airfield, exploding 11 of them on the ground and damaging 13 others.

Still other units raked German troops retreating north from Emden, and bombed and knocked out 22 locomotives and 100 railway cars in another crippling blow at enemy transportation.

Rocket-firing RAF Beaufighters guarded by Mustangs sank a medium sized German freighter and damaged two escorting flak ships in the Sogne fjord on the Norwegian coast, diving between cliffs 3,000 feet high to reach their targets.

Dutch Criticism

that more talks in San Francisco might not conclude in time to remove one shadow hanging over a harmonious beginning of the security parley.

Some of them suggested that lack of an early adjustment of the Polish issue would jeopardize efforts to create an effective peace organization. They took the position that it is imperative at the outset that the Big Three demonstrate an ability to work together in harmony.

Small-Nation Lead

If France isn't in the vanguard of small-nations' opposition to Dumbarton Oaks, the Dutch very well may be.

Van Kleffens' bluntly-worded pronouncement to reporters on veto authority posed that prospect, as well as one of a definite split between smaller nations and great powers.

But his statement was tempered by an assertion that the Netherlands would go along if other countries wanted to accept the veto plan.

Pressure Groups

peace, why don't a lot of these people stay home? The fact that more than one of each of the pressure groups are invited to San Francisco is in itself evident that in normal times they can't agree with each other on the same thing.

On the eve of the conference's opening at San Francisco, a great dread grows that the good old American love of a show, with political convention torchlights, Ringling Brothers, Barnum & Bailey and Hollywood touches thrown in, may so scare the delegates from the other 45 United Nations that they will revolt. They may rise in unison and say: "If this be the price of peace, give us war; if this be the higher standard of living to which you Americans wish to raise the rest of the world, lead us back into slavery; if this be democracy in action, give us dictatorship. If this is what we have been fighting for, goodby."

Loving this country and not wishing any other, it is possible to enjoy the corn relish at high noon knife-and-fork deliberations of Lions, Rotarians and Kikanis; to view with detachment the bickerings of A. F. of L., C. I. O. and N. A. M.; to argue religious differences with tolerance; and to get some genuinely hearty laughs every now and then out of the women, God bless 'em, who will join clubs. All these things are as American as apple pie and ice cream and we understand them.

Why Secretary of State Stettinius invited them to San Francisco is understandable. Why they want to be there is understandable. They're all tremendously interested and they want to contribute their two cents' worth. Who doesn't.

As a demonstration of American public opinion expressing itself by insisting that the statesmen get together and form an organization that will stop war, this 42-act greater combined lobby of counsellors can exert a wholesome influence. But if the boys and girls get the idea that they are going to San Francisco to put over pet projects, to insist on patented panaceas of their own preparation, to stage demonstrations and raise holy Ned if their private, picayunish perfectionism is not followed to the last detail—

In the name of peace, sweet peace, they ought to stay home.
