On Drug Charges

Four Men Arrested

Four Olton men were arrested last week after Drug Enforcement Administration undercover agents spent the past two and a half months working in the Olton area.

Arrested Saturday on felony charges of sale and delivery of marijuana were Greg Smith, Harry Washington, Larry Washington and Mark Smith, who were placed in Lamb County jail by Lamb County Sheriff's office and Olton Police.

Another Olton man was arrested on misdemeanor charges of possession of marijuana.

Joe Luis Castillo of Hereford was arrested in Olton Wednesday, Feb. 23, after being told by Hereford police that he was wanted in that county. He pleaded guilty before City Judge Audie Thomas and was fined $200 and court costs.

An attempted burglary was made about 11:30 p.m. Wednesday night at Frontier Savings and Loan. County Deputy Ruben Garcia and night officer William Hammon called Police Chief Don Hatley and reported that a burglar was inside the building.

A call was made to local firemen to help in the search outside the building after they failed to find anyone inside. A safe had been opened but there was nothing in it. Nothing seemed to be missing from the business.

Chief Don Hatley expressed his appreciation to local volunteer firemen for their assistance in searching for the burglar.

In other activity, a man was jailed for being drunk Thursday night. He spent the night in jail and was fined $37.50 by Judge Thomas.

CCA Banquet Set Monday

"A man with a flair for pleasing people, calming nerves and chasing away the blues." That's Ed Hennessy, guest speaker for the 20th annual Chamber of Commerce and Agriculture Banquet.

Singer, humorist and speaker, Hennessy will present "This Laughing, Singing America" when he appears here Monday evening in the school cafeteria. Banquet time is 7:30 p.m.

Hennessy was Master of Ceremonies for the Miss Universe Beauty Pageant when it was held in Long Beach, Calif. He has staged more than 200 beauty contests throughout the country.

During summer months, he is entertainment counselor and stage director for state and county fairs in California, Oregon, Washington, Arizona and Montana. He has presented such well known entertainers as Bob Hope, Jack Benny, Wayne Newton, Pearl Bailey and the King Sisters.

The 1977 CCA Banquet will offer a "first" as tributes are paid to two outstanding youth of Olton. An Outstanding Girl Student and an Outstanding Boy Student will join the ranks this year with Olton's Man of the Year, Woman of the Year and Farmer of the Year.

Chamber officers and directors will be recognized along with out-going officers. Heading the Chamber for 1977 is Wendell Potts. Bill Morris is newly elected vice president with out-going president, Dale Cary, as secretary-treasurer.

Frances (Mrs. George) Redinger, 1976 recipient of the Woman of the Year award, is CCA manager.

Dinner music will be provided by Dean Carson.

Longtime Resident Dies

Mrs. Nora Judith Graham, 91, mother of Calvin Graham, died Tuesday in her home in Olton.

Services were held at 3 p.m. Thursday in Church of the Nazarene with the Rev. Terry Connally, minister, officiating.

Burial was in Olton Cemetery under the direction of Parsons Funeral Home.

Mrs. Graham had been a resident of Lamb County since 1907 and had lived in Olton since 1942.

She was born in Carrol County, Ind. Nov. 27, 1885.

Other survivors include a sister, Mrs. Cora Danforth of Hereford; a brother, Ray Gehres of Bloomfield, N.M.; six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

NATIONAL FFA WEEKwas observed over the Nation this week and local youngsters are good ambassadors of the organization. Brian Muller, president of the OHS chapter of Future Farmers of America, holds one of the 37 baby pigs he presently has as a part of a swine production project. Local FFA'ers and Vo Ag advisor Steve Fraze leave Monday to compete in the Houston Livestock Show.

Landscape, Gardening Clinic Slated Here

Olton Grain Coop will sponsor a landscape and flower gardening clinic Thursday, March 3 in the Agriculture Community Building. Bob Bitsche of ChemAgro will conduct the free clinic which will begin at 10:30 a.m. and conclude at 2:30 p.m.

With more than 20 years experience in the nursery business, Bitsche will discuss basic fundamentals of landscaping and gardening with details on color, care and selection. He will share helpful hints for amateur gardeners and "green thumbers" alike. Men and women are invited.

OGC and ChemAgro will provide a free luncheon to those attending the clinic. Persons interested in attending are asked to stop by Olton Grain Coop and register so that information will be available on the number expected to be lunching.

Bitsche has conducted similar clinics in the Oklahoma City and Tulsa, Okla. areas and, last summer, presided over one for approximately 5,000 persons under the sponsorship of Fort Worth Garden Clubs.

Youth To Participate In Plainview Matches

Fun and excitement for the entire family is awaiting those who attend the boxing matches in Plainview Saturday night, according to one of the spectators at a recent match, in which several Olton boys participated.

The local boxing team, consisting of Lance Phares, Danny Garcia, Gilbert Garcia, Alfred Fuentes, Chad Phares, Mike Nelson and Joey Fernandez, will be in Plainview and the matches begin at 7:30 p.m. at the Hale County Agriculture Building. Smaller boys fight first, beginning with the 45 pounders and working up to heavyweight boxers.

Coaches Don Hatley and Wayne Phares expressed their appreciation to local residents who have been contributing to the team in furnishing money for eats when they travel.

The local Lions Club was also commended for their support in furnishing the warm ups, boxing trunks and sweaters for members of the team.

A number of matches for the boys in recent months has resulted in a number of trophies being won and brought back to Olton. In November, the team boxed in Plainview and Danny Garcia and Lance Phares were winners of the championship trophies, with Alfred Fuentes and Chad Phares being named runner-ups in their class.

Alfred was a runner up in Lubbock matches early this month. Participating in Golden Gloves tourney in Amarillo, Chad and Alfred were owners of another runner up trophy each.

Local residents who would like a fun evening are invited to attend the matches at Plainview and support the Olton team.

The team presently works out in the garage at the Dick Watson home until better facilities are found.

To Biblical Plains

Oltonites Return 'Home'

By Lily May Silcott

Darwin and Connie Cox and their two small sons are back at home in their little "cabin" on the Biblical Plain of Sharon, located near the site of the New Testament city of Antipatris in Israel. And, they are happy and excited about their return.

The Coxes recently visited in the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Cox and his brothers, Phil and Kelly, for the first time since their departure in July 1975.

An 18 hour flight from Lubbock, with a few intermediate stops, brought them to the outskirts of the metroplex that is Tel Aviv - the spot they have chosen to make their home.

The unusual choice of location for the Cox family came 18 months before Cox actually sold his farm equipment and secured necessary papers and passage for himself, his wife, Jeff then about three years of age, and Danny, six months old.

Friends who had heard them speaking of such a move were astonished when final plans were executed; were concerned that the young couple would take a small child and an infant to a foreign land without even a "job promise."

But the Coxes went calmly about the venture with Darwin saying "This is what we definitely feel the Lord would have us do. We have friends who are regulation-board appointed missionaries but we have never felt that was for us. We feel the Lord wants us to go and live among the racially divided people on His land as witnesses. I feel that my contribution will somehow be in helping with agricultural problems of the struggling little nation of Israel. We feel that He will take care of our needs and provide a work for us to do."

Now, some nineteen months later, as he tells events in the story of their lives he says simply "It is the best thing that ever happened to us."

When the Cox family arrived in Jerusalem, with only a few possessions in hand, they went immediately to a Baptist Missionary, Charles Worthy, then serving there. The volunteers quietly offered to work among the peoples wherever they were most needed.

They were taken immediately to Baptist Village, a small agricultural community of about 75 acres.

The first settlers of "the village" had been children from Nazareth who came in 1955 as orphans, unwanted and abandoned because they were of mixed races. The location was made into a children's home and vocational high school. The original orphans have since outgrown their need for assistance.

The Village presently serves as a Center of Conferences, Youth Camps and family retreats and a Center for musical and cultural activities.

Darwin and Connie took up residence in the village which is the home of the "Believers Congregation" who live, work and worship there.

"We use the term Believers (those who accept and follow Jesus), as opposed to the term Christian" Connie explained. "In Israel some people are born with the connotation 'Christian' but it is a socio-political term and is not to be confused with believing in Jesus as we understand the word."

Although the village receives some aid in donations from Southern Convention and some help from BSU groups in summer camps, it is struggling to become self-sustaining. The original dormitories are used to house guests who come for camps, (retreats for them to spend time away from harried and pressured city life) to attend Bible Study Conferences, music and cultural clinics and generally enjoy the peaceful quiet, the calm serenity of the rural village.

"We keep our rates as low as possible so that people from lower standards of living can afford to attend. The price per day is equivalent to about $5. This includes clinics, conferences, housing and three meals daily. Guests are mostly native Israelis, many are Palestinians and some refugees from Lebanon. People of all ages attend the camps in groups of 100 to 120 persons each week," the Coxes relate.

"Israeli people love music and cultural advantages, this is a big attraction for them. And, too, they love the relaxation, peace and quiet of our farm.

"We who live there have to work continuously in upkeep of the buildings and premises, with so many people using the facilities.

"The congregation meets each Saturday to minister to Believers. We also have a daily ten o'clock coffee and prayer time. Many non-believers stop activities and attend with us. Electricians, painters and any workmen who happen to be on the premises are welcome. They usually join us - and often make prayer requests.

"Believers come from varied backgrounds. Some are converted Jews and Christians. Many are connected with the American Embassy in Tel Aviv or laymen from private American industry or Americans who are in Israel to train Israeli people in the use and care of weapons and planes sold to Israel."

In speaking with the Coxes one becomes aware that all four of them have already made unique contributions to the people they want to help.

Darwin is one of the chief reasons for the Oasis-like beauty of the village. To him has been assigned the care of that portion of the acreage planted to citrus trees. He also irrigates and tends the grounds landscaped with grasses and palm trees that contribute so much to the serenity and beauty of the rural retreat.

The semi-arid land receives some rainfall in winter, November through February. The remaining eight to nine months of the year irrigation is necessary and constant. The water system is a national project. Water, taken from the Sea of Galilee and from huge springs of the Tel Aviv area, all flows through the same underground system. It is applied by Cox to the grounds and citrus grove by sprinkler systems.

Even though Darwin went for the purpose of helping with agricultural problems - he has had it all to learn. He confesses "I didn't have a thing to offer the village when I went there. I knew nothing of citrus fruits. But a neighboring grove owner, a Jew, has come to my assistance and taught me the things I needed to know about watering, pruning, grafting, fertilizing, spraying and even marketing the fruit. Because of our friendship he seems drawn to the village and he often comes to go over the grove with me just to check current needs.

"Connie and I are both trying to learn the Hebrew language by taking night classes, but working with my Jewish friend has taught me even more. With a little Hebrew, a little English and a lot of gesturing - we communicate."

Income from the citrus grove and from the lease of vegetable acres goes into helping finance the Conference Center.

Connie works in many areas of the Center but she speaks most of her contribution through music. She is a member of the 70 to 80 voice choir that sings all over the little country.

At Christmas the choir sang the Messiah at Jerusalem. They were accompanied by Israel's Philharmonica Orchestra, who performed simply because of their love for good music.

Family Planning Available At Community Action Center

Lamb County Community Action Center, featuring family planning, has opened an office in Olton.

Located in the building formerly occupied by Dr. Jim Kirkpatrick, it maintains a full time employee and is open each day through Friday 8:30 a.m. until 5:30 p.m.

Enedina Alvaraz is on duty to assist persons with family planning. No appointment is necessary. A service for senior citizens will be added within the next month, according to Mrs. Joe Chester, board member.

The family planning service is available to all who are interested. The center, sponsored by LCCAC, is funded through South Plains Community Action Center.

Letter To The Editor

Dear Sue:

I hope that sometime in the near future you have some room to let me describe a place in words that may seem mauldlin or overemotional because of my frailty with the pen, but I hope part of the heart of the words and the message I write will say something I wish to express.

This place I wish to describe stands on the flattest ground around. For a long time now it has been peopled by persons who set their heels in the dust, sturdied their legs and turned their chins toward fortune and misfortune with courage and self-reliance.

This place cannot be compared to other places because of the people who live there and their caring ways for all.

They are not people who meet you, put on an empty smile and turn away. They are people who look you in the eye, reach out a friendly hand, put their whole person at your service if you need anything. They are good all of the time, but if the fortunes of life push you off balance and you have a little misfortune they are never to be outdone in compassionate action or selfless service when they are needed.

No list of kind deeds could be completed because it would be too lengthy and some very important ones would no doubt be omitted.

Do you realize what it means to return from a long journey with what seems to be ill-tidings and here stands one of these people smiling with hands outstretched? "I've come to take you home and while we're going I'll take you by the hospital so you can see your sick people." Then Christmas day and the day before, people came bringing not one but two Christmas dinners and all of the extra goodies any one could wish for.

These physical needs are important but not nearly so important as that smile of love, that kiss, that sincere tear and that "lean on me, I'm here, I want to listen, I want to help. Don't worry these cares that you have will be taken care of by us even at personal self-sacrifice."

When you go out from this place you will find these people's influence still out in the big world, too. Wherever you go you'll find their sons and daughters with these same wonderful qualities.

How can you say "Thank you" to such wonderful people with such Christ-like qualities? No words are adequate.

West Texas CCA Adopts Needed Legislation

At the Mid-Year Meeting of the Board of Directors of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, eight position papers were adopted in regard to needed legislation that should be considered by the 65th Texas Legislature.

Position papers have been issued in regard to: (1) Requirement for successful completion of a mandatory course on benefits and fundamentals of American Free Enterprise System for graduation from Texas high schools; (2) requirement for economic impact statement on all proposed rules of Texas agencies; (3) the need for including all persons, engaged in activities to influence legislation, under the Texas lobby laws; (4) the need for stringent requirements for zero-based budgeting for all state agencies; (5) urgent need for state legislation that requires all rules and regulations issued by state agencies be forwarded to appropriate house and senate committees for concurrence before they can go into effect; (6) need for "sunset" law concept for most Texas agencies and advisory committees; (7) need for state legislation to eliminate unnecessary state agency expenditures for self-serving public relations activities; and (8) oppose Senate ratification of appointment of State of Texas employees to any State Board or State Advisory Committee that sets or recommends policies that employee would work under.

W.H. Collyns of Midland, WTCC president, commenting on needed Texas legislations, said that "requirements for the successful completion of a mandatory course on the benefits and fundamentals of American Free Enterprise System for graduation from Texas high schools is needed to protect the future of America; there is a need for a requirement for an economic impact statement on all proposed rules of Texas agencies to protect jobs both present and future; and that a need for a "sunset" law for most state agencies has been clearly demonstrated."

"There should be zero-based budgeting for all state agencies to reduce the cost of state government on the taxpayer," says the WTCC president. "WTCC opposes Senate ratification of appointment of State of Texas employees to any State Board or State Advisory Committee that sets or recommends policies that the employee would work under because of possible conflict of interest and the WTCC feels there are plenty of qualified persons in the private sector to fill all appointive state positions."

C.L. Cooke of Fort Worth, chairman of WTCC's State Affairs Committee, has stated that "state lobby regulations should be made applicable to state agencies' heads and employees, and that there is a need for eliminating unnecessary state agency expenditures for self-serving public relations activities."

"All rules issued by state agencies should be forwarded to appropriate House and Senate Committees for concurrence before they can go into effect," says Mr. Cooke, "which would give elected members of the Legislature veto power on any regulation deemed not to be in the public interest and not the intent of the Legislature."

Everything But The Kitchen Sink

BY MOZELLE TROTTER

Gutenberg would never believe it! Today's "printing machines" might easily be the products of a science fiction venture into the next century. Their demonstration is enough to make one doubt that "seeing is believing."

It was the privilege of the gals at the Ladies Gazette, last weekend, to attend a West Texas Press Meeting held in connection with Mass Communications Week at Texas Tech University. That's how we happened to get a look at the fantastic, amazing new machines which can print words speedier than the thoughts can be formed.

They are "cheap little play toys," too. Their cost is almost as astounding as their talents! If you've aspirations for writing a novel (maybe the same volume as "Gone With The Wind"), there is just the machine to do it for you! Of course, it'll have to stay on the best seller lists for several years if you're to finish paying for your machine!

Awesome! That's what they are!

We'd never get a paper out around here if we had them though - we'd be playing with them all the time! They have "memory banks" and the punch of a key brings back a story you've already set and stored for future use.

Another button can tell you what stories you have stored! Simple taps of three or four keys will allow you to add to or take away from that already written story and you've got it up-to-date (if necessary).

The information you've set up can be "stored" on memory discs (not as large as a ladies' hanky!) and the fantastic feature is that a 300-page book can be held on that single little black scrap!

Ah, the age of computers! I'm sufficiently impressed! Wonder if I should be standing at attention, salute ready, and say, "It was v-e-r-y i-n-t-e-r-e-s-t-i-n-g, Mister Machine?"

'Better Than Bought'

"I cook with a pinch of this and a pinch of that," confesses Mrs. Victor Foster. That practice, however, does not keep her from clipping recipes that she reads or from buying cookbooks. Like most recipe collectors, she admits that she might not know at a given time where a particular recipe might be found.

Ophelia shares, with Enterprise cooks, a recipe for easy sweet pickles which are sure to please pickle fanciers. The good-as-candy, crispy sweets are very simple to make since they begin with already prepared dill pickles rather than cucumbers and the tedious steps normally required.

Victor, who's known as Frosty by friends and neighbours, and Ophelia moved to Hart Camp in July, 1963 from Shamrock. They purchased the small general mercantile which had been operated by Frosty's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Hollums. Ophelia "keeps shop" and Frosty is manager of Plains Grain, Hart Camp location.

The Fosters have two daughters. Pam, a 1969 OHS graduate, teaches and coaches basketball in Iowa City, Iowa. Selected for outstanding honors as a Fillies' basketball player, Pam attended Temple Junior College, Parsons College in Fairfield, Iowa and graduated from Sam Houston State University.

Kim, a senior at OHS, is not yet sure of her field of study but plans to attend Angelo State University in San Angelo.

Four-year-old Tiger, a tiny tan colored chihuahua, is also a "member of the family."

Keeping store leaves Ophelia very little time for hobbies, but if there were, she would like doing needlework and sewing.

Opelia loves putting up foods for the freezer and likes to make relishes.

"Our neighbors are so good to bring us things in the summer time and I really enjoy preparing it for the freezer. Home fixed vegetables are so much better than the ones I sell," she says.

QUICK CINNAMON ROLLS

2 cans biscuits

Melt in pan (I prefer a loaf pan), ¼ c butter, add ¼ c brown sugar, ¼ c nuts, optional.

Dip biscuits in this mixture, then in a mixture of ½ cup sugar and 1 tsp. cinnamon. Roll and stand on end in pan. Bake 30 minutes at 400°.

EASY SWEET PICKLES

Drain one gallon dill pickles (I use Morton's 30 count). Quarter pickles, put in same gallon jar and add 5 lbs. sugar and 2 T Tarragon vinegar. These are very crisp.

My recipe tells me to let these set 2 weeks, but we do well to let them set 2 days.

DEVILED EGG MOLD

1 env unflavored gelatine
½ c water
1 t salt
2 T lemon juice
¼ t Worchestershire
1/8 t cayenne pepper
¾ c mayonnaise
1½ t grated onion
½ c finely diced celery
¼ c finely diced green pepper
¼ c chopped pimento
4 hard cooked eggs, chopped

Sprinkle gelatine on water to soften. Place over low heat and stir until gelatin is dissolved.

Remove from heat, add salt, lemon juice, Worchestershire sauce and cayenne pepper. Cool. Stir in mayonnaise, fold in remaining ingredients. Pour in mold. This is trouble, but good.

IRRIGATE YOUR WIDE OPEN SPACES WITH OUR 360 THRIFTY-RAIN™ PIVOTAL SPRINKLER SYSTEM.

If you have relatively level land, and you've been putting off buying an electric-drive pivotal system because of price, we've got just what you've been waiting for. The new Gifford-Hill 360 Thrifty-Rain™

Finally, there's an electric-drive system that's within the budget reach of farmers who would ordinarily buy either hydraulic or water-drive systems. The 360 Thrifty-Rain™ is a "long span" version of our classic 360. The basic difference being the distance between towers (164 ft. on the Thrifty-Rain™ 124 ft. on the standard 360).

The 360 Thrifty-Rain™ 164 ft.

The standard 360 124 ft.

By using longer spans, we reduced the number of towers necessary to cover the same acreage. That means less cost to manufacture. And less cost to you!

The 360 Thrifty-Rain™ is also equipped with heavy duty drive systems. Both the original 360 and the 360 Thrifty-Rain™ feature a unique computer-designed sprinkler head spacing and nozzling concept that provides uniform water distribution and reduced pumping costs. Both systems use heavy-walled 6⅝" O.D. pipe for extra strength.

Consequently, the 360 Thrifty-Rain™ is structurally stronger than other "long span" systems on the market today. It operates efficiently even under high wind conditions, and can handle up to 10% grades.

Standard 360 spans are interchangeable with 360 Thrifty-Rain™ spans. That means you can use standard spans to allow flexibility of tower location and accommodate special terrain problems.

So if you've got wide open spaces to irrigate, and you don't want to pay for capabilities you don't need, get a Gifford-Hill 360 Thrifty-Rain™ And save yourself some money to boot.

Anniversary Celebration Honors Rev., Mrs. Evans

The Rev. and Mrs. M.O. Evans will be honorees Sunday, Feb. 27 at a reception celebrating their fiftieth wedding anniversary. Relatives and friends are invited to attend the reception to be held in the Centennial Room of Hale County State Bank from 2 to 5 p.m.

Hosting the event will be children of the couple, Mrs. Ershel (Mary) Johnson and Jimmie D. Evans of Lubbock; and grandchildren, Mrs. Sam Roden, Amarillo, Mrs. Steve Burleson, Gruver, Mrs. Mark Gunter and Steve Johnson of Olton, Jimi Dee, Joe and Jeff Evans, all of Lubbock.

The Rev. Evans and the former Ladelle Jones attended high school together. They were married in Memphis Feb. 27, 1927. Evans attended Wayland Baptist College when it was a two year college. He pastored churches at Skellytown and Holliday, and has done supply preaching for numbers of churches.

Presently he is assistant pastor of First Baptist Church, Plainview, involved in a ministry to the homebound and rest homes. He looks upon his work with Senior Citizens, whom he calls Keen Agers, as the most rewarding work he has ever done.

Mrs. Evans has worked right beside her husband through the years with young people, youth, Sunday school classes or in the choir.

"This is an important occasion to us" Evans commented, "and we hope those who will be unable to honor us with their presence will be with us in their thoughts and prayers."

RISING RURAL LAND VALUES -- Rural land values to increase over the United States although the rise hasn't been as fast in Texas as in the Midwest. For the year ending Nov. 1, farm real estate values jumped 17 per cent for the entire nation but only about 7 per cent in Texas, notes an economist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. The sharp increase raised the U.S. average price per acre for rural from $380 to $445. The increase in rural land values stems mainly from a strong farm income as a result of increased demand for agricultural products, especially from foreign countries.

Protecting Our Environment

News Of Progress

NEW PROTECTION

Your health may be protected better in the future because of steps being taken by government and industry.

Recently, Congress passed a complex new act giving the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency the added responsibility of requiring that substances potentially toxic to people or to the environment be tested, regulated and, where necessary, banned. The usual assumption is that this "toxic substances" act refers only to chemical operations. However, it covers all potentially toxic substances in manufacturing, distribution, processing, use and disposal.

Little four-year-old Jeffrey has made his impact in the Holy Land by becoming medical history. Born with a sight defect, last year he was not seeing at all from one eye when a therapist sent the Coxes to a renowned orthodox Jewish surgeon - complete with long black robe and little Jewish hat. Delicate surgery was performed and therapy has been continued for about a year. Resulting diagnosis says "we have never seen a child with such a degree of congenital defect brought to such a degree of healing."

In a county of socialized medicine the operation was very inexpensive, about $47. However, the hospital facilities were neither new nor elaborate. The building, quite old, had no nurses except mothers of the youthful patie ts. Connie had to carry Jeff (after he'd been given anesthetic) down two flights of stairs and across a court yard to a team of four surgeons. She also served as his nurse for the one day they kept him in the hospital, recuperation at home and back for his periodic checks.

Little happy-go-lucky Danny is making his impact in a very natural way. The native people love children, their own and others. But, this little charmer is easy for them to love and accept because his name is "Daniel". In the cradle of Bible history a great percentage of children bear the names of Old Testament heroes, Abraham, Moses, Jacob and Daniel. So little Danny arrived with ready made acceptance - he is "one of them."

Darwin and Connie, both graduates of Hardin-Simmons University, were teaching in Arlington when Uncle Sam uprooted them. Cox served a stint in U.S. Armed forces, one year in Vietnam. Thereafter he came home to farm three years, east of the city.

They say they feel no unusual degree of danger living in Israel. "There are Israeli soldiers carrying rifles everywhere they go, but it seems so commonplace we hardly notice them anymore. We feel quite free to go shopping in the large markets of the city, or in the more prevalent small stores of this "poor" country and in the open markets where meats and vegetables are sold.

"The crime rate is quoted as lower there than here, but it is on the increase we're told. Israeli parents there worry just as American parents do here - about where the younger generation is headed.

"We never feel too close to war there. There are disturbances and riots. Moslems and Jews fight over possession of Abraham's Cave, but the general public is not effected by it."

The new residents find Jerusalem a mixture of the old and the new. The Government tries to maintain ancient quaintness for tourists but newer elements are also seen. The hill country, alone is unchanged they report.

Connie comments "One of the more unusual facets of our lives is celebration of Christmas in a land that doesn't recognize the day. But as we sing in our Christmas programs the curious come out to the farms, listen and ask questions.

"Most ironical is the fact that the government has to thin out forestry plantings and they give us the trees we decorate - when they couldn't possibly be bought anywhere in the land."

Darwin ponders "The typical Jew is antaganistic, they have fought so long to remain a separate people, but when a Jew comes to believe in Jesus as Messiah they are the most joyous Believers we know. Our baptizing is nearly all done in the Jordan River.

"We think the presence of believers living and working in the midst of Jews, Moslems, Arabs, Palestinians and others, is having a profound effect. They respond well to the whole concept of the farm."

In a parting thought, Darwin shared a bit of his Yiddish vocabulary. "Shalom", he says, "is used both as a greeting and farewell. Based upon its Hebrew usage and related root-word Jesus seemed to have used it to mean "Peace" -- and even now it seems to denote the presence of God."

'Diary Of An Irrigator'

The following was penned by Darrel Phal, South Dakota State University extension irrigation specialist and is entitled "Diary of an irrigator."

January 1
Called Banker.
Asked for $10,000 to buy corn.
He laughed, I didn't.
Sold steers.
Lost $100 per head.
Banker didn't laugh.
Asked for loan for irrigation.
Banker listened.
Mentioned I needed $50,000.
Banker choked and nodded.
Brought debt to $70,000, with loss on steers.
Banker got drunk.
Called Joe the well driller.
He'll be out tomorrow.
Called County Agent.
He said I was dreaming.
Map showed no water on farm.
Called Bill the pivot dealer.
He helped fill out permit forms.
Received permit.
Salesmen call every day.
Each sells the best system.
Still no test holes.
Called Joe the driller.
Banker wonders if we have water.

February 1
Joe drives in with test rig.
Truck breaks through frost.
Rent four-wheeler to pull out test rig.
Joe goes back to town.
Banker calls.
Would like to cancel loan.
Joe's helper, 18 year old boy, Brings up rig for second try.
1st hole dry.
2nd hole dry.

Robert Cooper Earns Honors

Robert Cooper was among students making the A and B honor rolls and the Distinguished Students list which totaled 589 for the fall semester at Tarleton State University, according to TSU registrar John Whiting.

Students listed on the A honor roll must have a 4.0 grade point ratio on the 4.0 system and be taking a minimum of 12 hours. Students on the B honor roll have a grade point ratio between 3.00 and 3.99 with no grade lower than B. Distinguished Students have a GPR of 3.25 to 3.99 with no grade lower than C.

Robert, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Cooper, made the B honor roll and the Distinguished Students list.

TREES, SHRUBS, VINES SAVE ENERGY -- Properly placed trees, shrubs and vines in the home landscape can cut the cost of cooling and heating your home, says a landscape horticulturist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service. Such plants can protect the home from wind, heat and cold as well as provide natural beauty. A row of evergreen trees on the northwest side of the home can be particularly effective against chilling winds in the winter and in directing cooling breezes around the home in the summer. Tall trees on the west side of the home can afford some relief from summer heat.

STUDENT VISITS

Pat Britton, a student at Texas Tech was here last weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Britton and their daughter, Nancy.

"A man is known by the company he organizes."

ENERGY SOURCES ON FARMS, RANCHES -- Texas farmers and ranchers currently have vast sources of energy on their lands -- the secret is how to put them to use. Among the renewable energy sources are the sun, the wind, crop residues and animal manures. The Center for Energy and Mineral Resources at Texas A&M University is conducting research to find feasible ways to use these energy sources so that some of the pressure can be taken off declining stocks of oil and gas. Since agriculture uses a tremendous amount of energy, it is vital that alternate sources of energy be found.
