Arbor Day Set For Friday, Jan. 15th

Arbor Day, by official proclamation of Governor John Connally, will be observed in Texas, Friday, January 15.

Governor Connally in his proclamation said, "By resolution of the 51st Legislature, the third Friday in January each year was designated as Arbor Day. It was set aside as a day to encourage the planting of trees throughout the State, for pleasure and use of its citizens."

The Governor of Texas designates Friday, Jan. 15, as Arbor Day in Texas, and urges all citizens, especially the public schools, to appropriately observe this occasion in the interest of our State and Nation.

Arbor Day was first observed in Nebraska, Jan. 5, 1872. In Texas the occasion was first celebrated Feb. 22, 1889, in the community of Temple. Now, 72 years later, this tree-lined city is a memorial to all men who protect and replenish rather than destroy this natural resource for future generations.

GM Science Show At Bogata School Friday, Jan. 22

"Liquid sunshine" powers a portable radio. A small platform slides across the floor on a thin layer of air. And a "misbehaving" suitcase illustrates principles used in modern guidance systems.

Bogata High School students will see these and other interesting demonstrations when the famed General Motors science show, Previews of Progress, appears at the school on Jan. 22, at 10:00 a. m.

"We seek through Previews to inspire more young people to make science and engineering their career and provide the trained talent America must have to keep pace with the promise of the future," John F. Gordon, president of General Motors, declares.

James G. Holliday of General Motors Public Relations Staff will narrate the 45-minute, non-commercial presentation. One of the highlights of the show is a fuel cell, a device that converts chemical energy into electrical power. In the show, a few drops of "liquid sunshine" added to the cells provide enough energy to operate a portable radio.

Another example of solar energy, the amazing Sunmobile, will be demonstrated. The 15-in. model car depends on eight photoelectric cells for its operation. The button-like cells on the hood of the car convert light rays into electricity which drives a small electrical motor inside the car. A

Talco Trojans Lose To Hughes Springs

The Talco Trojans tasted their first defeat in District 17-A this season at Hughes Springs Friday night when they were defeated 44-24.

The Talco "B" team salvaged a 40-35 victory for the Trojans.

The score was close most of the game and at halftime Talco enjoyed a 23-22 edge, but Hughes Springs pulled away late in the game for the 10-point final margin. The win was the second of the conference season for Hughes Springs.

Jerry Black and Johnny Horton paced the Talco scoring hitting for 13 and 12 respectively. Jimmy Sistratt was high for Hughes Springs with 12.

In the "B" game, Steve Hall and Jimmy Smith had 13 each for Talco.

Guests in the home of Mrs. W. H. Crawford the past week were her nieces, Mrs. George Wims of Mt. Vernon and Mrs. Thelma Arnold of Mt. Pleasant on Wednesday and her cousins, Mrs. Addie Meadows of Garland, Mrs. Abbie Wade and Ruby Glass of Mt. Pleasant, Thursday.

300-watt lamp is used to simulate the sun's rays in the show. As the light strikes the cells, the Sunmobile moves smoothly across the table.

Seven Previews units are now touring the United States with the latest version of the show that includes the following demonstrations:

Polymer Chemistry, Sunmobile, Fuel Cell, Gyroscope, Exploding Wire Phenomenon, Reuleaux Triangle, Air Bearing Platform, Jet Propulsion.

Austin. — Surprises come fast and furious on the political scene in Austin. First surprise of the new year was the resignation of veteran Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson. Then came an even greater one.

Just as the Legislature was about to open and everything was in readiness under the old management . . . presently confronted with problems both old and new . . . Gov. John Connally named House Speaker Byron Tunnell to fill Thompson's old post.

Thompson, once the battling mayor of Amarillo and for more than 30 years a scrapper on the Railroad Commission, had been ill for many months. Only recently he had been moved from an Austin hospital to his home in Amarillo. He had two years yet to serve.

Tunnell is an East Texan. He's the first person from the East Texas oil area to serve on the Railroad Commission in 23 years. He was just beginning his third term as legislator from the Tyler-Kilgore region and expected to preside for a second term as House Speaker.

Immediately upon learning of Tunnell's appointment, Rep. Ben Barnes of DeLeon, Tunnell's first lieutenant during the 1963 session, began contacting Legislators about the speakership. Barnes already had announced as a candidate for Speaker of the 1967 session. Simultaneous with Barnes' race for the speakership were similar activities by other House members, either openly or behind the scenes.

This list included Henry C. Grover of Houston, Jack Woods of Waco, Paul Haring of Goliad, George Richards of Fort Worth and Wilson Foreman of Austin.

There were several other potential candidates.

LONG SESSION — Most observers feel the 59th session may run through the summer. Certainly it will dominate the 1965 Texas political scene.

These results seem likely: . . . Lawmakers will spend a record amount of money, much of it to uplift higher education. Budget proposals of both Governor Connally and the Legislative Budget Board awaited Senators and Representatives at their capitol desks.

. . . School teachers will get the $45 a month pay raise they are asking. But they will have to figure out who is going to foot the bill.

. . . few more exemptions are going to be removed from the state sales tax. Just enough to balance the budget, but not enough to hurt much.

. . . Commission on Higher Education will be reorganized along lines recommended by Governor Connally. But the success or agency may not get all the power Connally would like it to have.

. . . Stormy hearings will be held over legalizing horse race betting and sale of liquor by the drink. Both proposals may move farther than they ever have before. Maybe all the way.

. . . A congressional reapportionment bill eventually will be adopted. However, it's difficult to see any agreement on legislative redistricting.

Other key issues which will occupy the 59th Legislature are statewide water planning and financing, oil and gas tract pooling, mental health and tuberculosis programs, criminal code revision, judicial redistricting, state property tax repeal, extension of the medical care for the aged program as authorized by constitutional amendment voted on November 3, equal rights for women, gasoline tax exemptions for municipal bus lines, and enlargement of state tourist and industrial attraction programs.

GARY BEING ACTIVATED — Texas Educational Foundation selected Dr. Oscar J. Baker, superintendent of schools at Dickinson, as director of new Camp Gary Training Center near San Marcos.

First group of 37 teachers will arrive at the war - on - poverty training base by Feb. 1. Then the first 300 students are due in March.

Base eventually will enroll 2,000 trainees in 45 vocational programs and basic education.

BUILDING COMMISSION SWITCH — Governor Connally has yet to take a position on the Texas Research League's recommendation that he turn his job as a member of the State Building Commission to someone else.

But the other two commissioners have indicated they wouldn't mind giving up one job too many.

Commission administrators State building construction and operation. This includes the State Capitol and the six buildings now in the Capitol complex. Also, others in Austin and over the State. Recently they recommended construction of another multi-million dollar State office building. Also a new mansion for the Governor.

But the Governor did not support the recommendation he helped make when he revealed his 1966-67 budget proposal.

HIGHWAY RECORD — Before the end of 1965, Texas will have 1,623 miles of super roads. Total interstate highway system designated for Texas is 3,025 miles.

California, heretofore the leader, has a designated interstate system of 2,173 miles. Interstate construction in Texas costs $610,000 a mile, compared with about $1,000,000 nationwide.

COMMISSION "STUCK" WITH OIL — Railroad Commission is having a difficult time getting rid of more than 107,000 barrels of oil, impounded because of illegal production. Some of it has been tied up since 1938.

About 70,000 barrels of this oil has been stored in Beacon Tanks in East Texas for close to 30 years. State can't find a buyer for it because Federal law prohibits the sale of illegal oil into interstate commerce, says Fred Young, attorney for the Commission.

Young said the counties have received some benefits from the Commission's problem. When a well is shut down on an illegal production order, oil at the well is impounded in tanks at the well site. When oil operators want to use their tanks, the Railroad Commission will let them give the impounded oil to counties for road construction free.

COMPLIANCE PLEDGED — State Board of Education voted 113-5 to comply with the 1964 Civil Rights law, a necessary ingredient for acceptance of some $37,000,000 in Federal funds for public school operation.

But the Texas Commission on Higher Education, which will administer the new Federal college construction grant program, says it has not been requested to sign any such agreement.

STRENGTH FROM THE BIBLE

The prayer of faith shall save him that is sick. —(James 5:15).

We can use our faith to help others in sickness, as well as ourselves. Our prayers can be like lights in the darkness because our affirmations of God-life can bring His healing presence to the side of the one in need of Him.

Discover the difference in the '65 Chevrolets

(As different from other cars as they are from each other)

CHEVROLET — As roomy a car as Chevrolet's ever built. Chevrolet Impala Sport Coupe

When you take in everything, there's more room inside this car than in any Chevrolet as far back as they go. It's wider this year and the attractively curved windows help to give you more shoulder room. The engine's been moved forward to give you more foot room. So, besides the way a '65 Chevrolet looks and rides, we now have one more reason to ask you: What do you get by paying more for a car—except bigger monthly payments?

CORVAIR — The only rear engine American car made. Corvair Corsa Sport Coupe

You should read what the automotive magazines say about the '65 Corvair. They're wild about its ride. They think there's nothing else this side of the Atlantic that can touch its styling. They say if you haven't driven a new Corvair Corsa with a 180-hp Six Turbo-Chargaarged! you just don't know what you're missing.

Alcorn Aims To Adapt To The Great Society If He Doesn't Have to Change

Editor's note: Achin Alcorn, philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sulphur takes a look at the Great Society over the top of his glasses this week.

Dear Editor: I was out here deep in thought the other night drawing up some blueprints for bringing the Great Society to this Johnson grass farm, well in advance of spring planting, and there are a few questions I need answered.

In the first place, how much will be expected of me? Will this farm fit into the finished plans of the Great Society? I mean, which one will have to yield, me or the G. S.? If a man's gates sag, can he qualify? Can there be a loose board on the front porch? Does he have to understand what's happening in Vietnam?

Understand, I'm in favor of the Great Society, but I'm asking these elementary questions so we both know where we stand before we rush headlong into it.

Generally speaking, I always admire whoever is President at the time, for different reasons, which anybody can find if he hunts hard enough, and I have come to admire President Johnson because he likes to work hard. But, can he admire me because I don't like to work hard?

I am willing to plunge into the task of bringing the Great Society into being, provided it's understood in advance won't anything change around this Johnson grass farm, and I would like to know if President Johnson will accept these terms.

When you ask the question, can we have a Great Society and still keep a place like this, I begin to look around and fidget, although I take some comfort in remembering it has withstood the efforts of the New Deal, the Fair Deal, the Eisenhower Deal and the New Frontier to change it. Yet this fellow Lyndon Johnson seems to have a drive that might sweep my gates back on their hinges and replace the loose boards on the front porch, although I will try to avoid the contagion and hold out as long as

God meant it for good. (Gen 50:20)
Whenever we meet with something that seems unjust, we should hold firmly to our faith in God. Let us remember that God's law is at work, that His law is sure and unflinching, that His justice always prevails.
