

Congo Cease-Fire Is Hailed In U. N.

By TOM HOGE
UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—The signing of a cease-fire between Congolese national army and Katanga gendarmerie was hailed at the United Nations today as an encouraging sign of progress toward unification of the Congo.

Prospects of a cease-fire led U.S. Ambassador Adlai E. Stevenson to tell President Kennedy on Sunday that there was "some hope of a solution to the problem in the Congo."

Some African delegates criticized him as painting too bright a picture.

A spokesman for the U.S. delegation expressed gratification over the cease-fire, but noted that there is still a long way to go before actual unity is achieved.

A U.N. spokesman took a similar view. He expressed hope that the cease-fire would be implemented, permitting both sides to continue the negotiations on putting into effect Acting Secretary-General U. Thant's plan for reuniting secessionist Katanga.

Diplomats here agreed tension would be eased by a cease-fire and Katanga President Moise Tshombe's reported offer to send the head of his armed forces to Leopoldville to pledge allegiance to the central government.

But they said he has given little indication of abiding by them.

Reports from Elisabethville said that, even while he negotiated with the Leopoldville government, Tshombe has been building up his armed forces. Various estimates put his force at from 12,000 to 40,000 men.

Tshombe also has agreed to split government revenues of his mineral-rich province with the Leopoldville regime, as specified in acting Secretary-General U. Thant's plan for Congo unity. But the European-owned Union Miniere firm still pays taxes to Katanga on its large exports of copper and cobalt, and Katanga continues to keep the money.

Nigerian Foreign Minister Jaja Wachuku called Monday for quick U.N. action to settle the Congo crisis once and for all.

"Time is running out, and the money is running out, too," Wachuku told the U.N. General Assembly in a policy speech. "It would be a disaster if we don't tie up the loose ends before the two run out completely."

Many delegates are convinced that Tshombe hopes through vague promises and stalling tactics to hold on until the United Nations either runs out of money or gives up trying to unify the Congo.

3 Divisions Kickoff UF Drive Here

The Advance Gifts Division held the first formal kickoff this morning in the Scurry County United Fund campaign at a "Dutch treat" breakfast at the Town House.

This division, headed by Max West, will seek $21,000 of the $38,000 campaign goal.

E. H. Williamson, general campaign chairman, expressed appreciation to the division's workers, and urged them to complete the campaign in the allotted time.

Ernest Sears, United Fund president, challenged the division to meet its goal as soon as possible.

Homer Bankhead, executive director of the establishment of minimum-wage allotments provided by law.

Freeman did not set price support for next year's cotton. His determination of the allotment assumed continuation of support at about the present average of 33.04 cents a pound. He left the price support matter, as well as the final planting allotment, open for possible congressional action.

Officials said Congress would need to act by late February because planting begins then in Texas.

The national allotment will be apportioned among states, the state allotment among counties and then among farms, largely on the basis of past planting.

Freeman did not indicate what the administration wants in new cotton legislation. He said his department's Cotton Advisory Committee recommended at a recent meeting the adoption of what it called a trade-incentive and choice program.

Cotton Growers Face Tough Control Plan

By OVID MARTIN
WASHINGTON (AP)—Growers are faced with the toughest control program in history for the 1963 cotton crop unless Congress acts.

Secretary of Agriculture Orville Freeman set Monday a national planting allotment of 16 million acres, the minimum permitted by law and the smallest ever set under a crop control program first authorized in 1938.

This year's allotment was 18.1 million acres.

The secretary said the present law forced him, because of increasing supplies and a declining market, to make this sharp reduction in allotments.

Freeman said the Kennedy administration hopes Congress will enact a new cotton program early next year allowing a larger allotment and eliminating some defects President Kennedy has attributed to the present program.

The present program features a two-price system, one for the domestic market and another and lower one for the world market.

The President has said this dual system places domestic users at disadvantage with foreign competitors, with a resulting loss in markets for growers. This difference is now 8.5 cents a pound or about one-fourth of the domestic cotton price.

Freeman also proclaimed marketing quotas on next year's crop and set Dec. 11 as the date for a grower referendum on them. Quotas must be approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting. Quotas have never been rejected and were approved for this year's crop by 96.9 per cent of those voting.

In addition to the 16 million acres for the 1963 allotment, farm law provides an additional 310,000 as a national acreage reserve to be used to the extent needed for the establishment of minimum-wage allotments provided by law.

Freeman did not set price support for next year's cotton. His determination of the allotment assumed continuation of support at about the present average of 33.04 cents a pound. He left the price support matter, as well as the final planting allotment, open for possible congressional action.

Officials said Congress would need to act by late February because planting begins then in Texas.

JFK, Soviet To Confer

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy and Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko will meet at the White House Thursday.

In announcing this, the White House gave no clues as to specific matters that might come up for discussion. The continuing crisis in Berlin is an obvious point for consideration, among other matters.

Presidential press secretary Pierre Salinger said that the initiative for the meeting, the first between the chief executive and Gromyko since last Oct. 6, came from the Russians.

"The Soviet government," Salinger said, "expressed a desire to have the foreign minister meet the President."

Strong Earthquake Hits New Zealand

CHRISTCHURCH, New Zealand (AP)—An earthquake swayed tall buildings in towns and cities of both islands of New Zealand today and triggered spectacular snow and ice avalanches in the mountains.

Centers on the country's highest peak, 12,349-foot Mt. Cook, the earthquake started an ice avalanche that covered the whole of one face of 10,350-foot Mt. Sefton.

There was no immediate report of any casualties.

President Gets First-Hand Flight Report From Schirra

WASHINGTON (AP)—Astronaut Walter M. Schirra Jr. talked over details of his six-orbit ride around the earth with President Kennedy today. The Schirra family watched with beaming smiles.

The conference in the President's White House office had a homey touch, with family small-talk as well as discussions of Schirra's space achievements.

Front Drops Temperatures

By The Associated Press
Temperatures dipped a bit as a weak cold front edged southward but Texas weather still was broken with wintry Tuesday.

A broken patch of thunderstorms worked across Northeast Texas from around Bonham to Texarkana before dawn, extending east to Tyler.

By early morning the forward edge of the cool air lay along a line from just south of Ardmore, Okla., to Lubbock. Skies were clear except for a few patches of clouds in East and South Texas.

The Weather Bureau predicted the northern would reach South Central Texas by night, showing the mercury down to the high 30s in the P a h a n d l e by early Wednesday. Scattered showers were expected to move into southern areas of the state also.

San Angelo recorded a high of 99 degrees Monday, a record for the date. Readings elsewhere were mostly in the 90s but ranged down to 76 at Dalhart.

Temperatures before sunrise Tuesday varied from 48 at Dalhart to 79 at Corpus Christi.

Ben Bella Is Off To Cuba

By GEORGE ARFELD
HAVANA (AP)—The Castro regime called out thousands of Cubans to give a massive welcome today to Premier Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria.

The 45-year-old Algerian leader flies here from Washington, where he reviewed world problems, including Cuba, with President Kennedy.

A spokesman for Ben Bella denied reports that the Algerian leader will try to mediate between the United States and Cuba during his Havana visit.

Cuban students, workers and others were told to line the route between Havana's airport and the capital. The Communist newspaper Hoy published detailed instructions to citizens of various quarters of greater Havana on where to take positions along the highway.

Ben Bella is expected to spend at least 48 hours on the island nation and to confer with Castro.

President Kennedy hosted Ben Bella at a White House luncheon Monday as a man "who has borne heavy burdens and bears them now with distinction."

In reply, Ben Bella paid tribute to "political courage which has more meaning than physical courage, because it is easier sometimes to display physical courage than the political kind." This was a reference to Kennedy's support, while a U.S. senator, of Algerian independence.

Kennedy also told Ben Bella "Algeria has a chance to prove that all those who wanted to hold back the tide of history were wrong. This was perhaps Kennedy's strongest condemnation since he became President, of the French colonists who bitterly fought Algerian independence."

Ben Bella's Washington visit set a new style in official U.S. welcomes. The setting for the 21-gun salute, red carpet and full-dress band was the long, green lawn south of the White House instead of the airport, where ceremonies are drawn out by the slow pace of planes.

A FOUR-VEHICLE CRASH was logged last night at Twenty-fifth Street and Avenue J at 6:28 p.m. Three vehicles had stopped for a red light, all facing west. They were a Chevrolet flat-bed truck driven by Juan Garcia Alvarado; a Ford panel truck owned by Western Uniform Co. of Lubbock, and driven by Charley D. McNeal of Lubbock; and a Dodge car, pictured, driven by Billy R. Green of Snyder. A Mack semi-trailer truck, also headed west, failed to stop, and sideswiped all three vehicles. The truck, owned by Arrow Food Co. of Dallas was loaded with beans, and was driven by Fred Richard Lambert of Dallas. Lambert was charged with DWI by city police, and was assessed a fine of $100 plus costs and 10 days in jail after pleading nolo contendere in county court this morning. Two city fire trucks and Bolger Ambulance service answered the call. Most seriously injured was Green, driver of the car, who suffered head and back injuries. All other injuries were believed to be minor.

Effort To Fire Test Fails Again

HONOLULU (AP)—The United States failed Monday night for the fourth time in five tries to detonate a nuclear device at high altitude above Johnston Island—and again a missile was to blame.

The Atomic Energy Commission said the failure was due to a malfunction in the Thor booster carrying the sub-megaton device to its firing altitude of 30 to 40 miles. The range safety officer deliberately destroyed the missile eight minutes after it was launched.

Debris from the rocket and nuclear warhead fell harmlessly into the ocean within a pre-designated safety zone away from Johnston and adjacent Sand Island, the AEC said. An announcement said there was no nuclear detonation and no danger to persons on the islands.

An AEC spokesman said the tests would be rescheduled. He said other missiles would be used to launch two other devices in other tests.

One test will use a Nike-Hercules rocket, and the other a specially constructed booster with the booster from a surface-to-surface

Sergeant rocket. Use of these missiles would indicate the two shots will be fired at relatively low altitudes because neither has the necessary thrust to carry their payloads to great heights.

The failure was another blow to United States missile prestige and an embarrassing disappointment to scientists and technicians at Johnston Island. Only one shot from Johnston in the current series has been successful on July 8 when a giant three-megaton device was detonated at an altitude of 210 miles.

Monday night's flop followed one 34-hour delay because of bad weather. The schedule went forward Monday night toward its planned firing time of 9:30 p.m. (2:30 a.m. EST today). Radio monitors picked up a voice from Johnston saying "liftoff, liftoff."

Then, eight minutes later, the same voice screamed, "negative, negative!"

The test was designed to probe the ionosphere and Van Allen radiation belts and determine whether such explosions could be used to mask sneak missile attempts.

CHAMPION RED LOCKET NITA LOUISE AND OWNER ... perhaps the greatest of all time

Former Track Star Exhibits Champions

By LUCY DYSART
Malcolm Keeble loves Dachshunds and justly so, for over the past 14 years they have won for him a house full of prize ribbons and trophies.
It would be impossible to describe them all, just as it is impossible for Mrs. Keeble to display the hundreds of silver bowls, trays, standing trophies and plaques.
The first Dachshund in the Keeble household was purchased by their daughter, while attending LSU. As it happens with most families, Mr. and Mrs. Keeble more or less fell for the pup. Slowly they began building a select group of registered, pedigreed Dachshunds. This was in 1948. Today, they quarter around 40 fine specimens in their own nationally-known Loumac Kennels of Snyder.

or west—the Keebles will attend if possible. If they can't then their entries are flown to the shows.
The dogs are excellent travelers, and prove it frequently by hopping a last-minute flight to the show in progress. They seemingly have no aversion to these jet flights, for not once have they failed to bring home ribbons and trophies. The breed are loving companions for adults or children. They're clowns at heart and excellent show dogs.
In 1957 and 1958 the Keebles campaigned their great wire-haired Dachshund bitch, Her Majesty, the Queen, Champion Red Locket Nita Louise, who was top in the nation both years. Nita Louise established an all-time record of 60 wins over 38 different judges. It was the opinion of these judges that Nita Louise was perhaps the greatest wire-haired bitch this country will ever see. The Queen retired from the show ring at the end of 1958.
Now and again she will attend a show, but for exhibition only. In the accompanying photograph with Mr. Keeble, she is a 20-pound brindle wirehair, who has certainly won her share of honors.

Some of her famous companions on the Lubbock Highway are Champion Steelwire of Heying-Teckel, Champion Woodrow and Champion Sampson, plus many others.
The Keebles have developed a new look in the breed. Better body conformation, stronger bones, longer necks and bodies, as well as a healthier and finer undercoat. This new look has taken years of careful research and the selection of particularly fine mates to eliminate any mis-matches, and thereby weeding out any faults of the strain. Their reward for such painstaking care is a string of nine standing champions at the present time and a kennel which is internationally known and respected.
The Keebles are old hands at winning ribbons and honors, but it is just a bit more than difficult to get them to admit it. Mrs. Keeble is a crack shot with a rifle and with a golf club, and is the current secretary of the Snyder Women's Golf Association.
Mr. Keeble finally admitted that he represented the United States in the 1924 Olympic Games in Paris, France. Back in 1921 at Austin High School in Austin, he set the state record in the 120-yard high hurdles. In 1922 he broke his own record in the same event and also broke the record in the low hurdles and established the state record for javelin throwing. Also in 1922 in Chicago, at the National Interscholastic Track Meet, he tied the world record for the 120-yard high hurdles, placed second in the low hurdles, third in broad jump and fourth in the javelin throw, to become high point man in the meet.
Feb. 27, 1924, was a red letter day in Malcolm Keeble's life: for he broke the world record for the 50-yard high hurdles on an indoor board track. His time was six seconds flat. This is still the record for his Alma Mater, the University of Missouri, and the "official record for the world (unofficial, because the official records were destroyed in the St. Louis fire.) Thirty minutes later he equaled the world record for 50-yard low hurdles with a time of 5.99 seconds.
The summer before the Olympic tryouts he was national champion of the hop, step and jump event at an interscholastic meet in Chicago. The section tryouts for the Olympic team were held in Lawrence, Kan. In this contest, Keeble won the hop, step and jump and the high hurdles, which automatically placed him in the finals. The Olympic finals were held at Cambridge, Mass. A bad fall on the ninth hurdle placed Keeble behind four boys he had previously beaten, but he did place second in the hop, step and jump. So, basically, he was on the Olympic team, but not in the capacity of his specialty. Due to a bad ankle, he did not place first in the actual Olympic Games. Until this time, he had won 183 races and lost three. Each of the losses was due to a fall.
However, while in Europe, he did compete in many relay races and ended up in Rotterdam, Holland, where he won the 110-yard high hurdles. In this victory, he not only defeated the Dutch champion, but broke the Holland record.
He was so intent upon the race that Keeble did not realize that he had won, until the hand started playing and "all heck broke loose." That night he was honored at a banquet attended by the Prince of Wales and was presented a medal by Queen Wilhelmina. The Dutch champion he defeated was Oscar Van Rappard, who admired Keeble's win and ability so highly that he offered him his champion's medal for the previous year. Keeble declined the honor, but the men remained good friends and corresponded for over 20 years.

Keeble now has been with Mobil Oil Co. for 37 years, and many more exciting events have colored the lives of the Keebles. But, if they were all told in this interview, you wouldn't have anything left to discover on your own about these two accomplished people.
And truly this would be an injustice, for while visiting and getting to know them, the hours are like minutes as their highly varied experiences unfold gradually before you.

Daily Crude Flow Drops

TULSA (AP)—U.S. oil production slumped last week, largely because of declines in Oklahoma and Texas, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.
Production last week averaged 7,327,975 barrels per day, down 28,900.
Oklahoma output was down 9,400 barrels daily to 550,000, Texas 8,805 to 2,512,640.
Figures for other states included Arkansas 75,000, Colorado 114,300, Louisiana 1,361,300 and New Mexico 296,600.

Cuban Boat Claims Abandoned Vessels

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The Cuban pilot boat Balcarar is at the port of Progreso to recover several boats abandoned there by fleeing Cuban exiles.
The pilot boat was put under armed guard because its papers were not in order but no difficulty was expected in its mission of taking the abandoned boats back to Cuba.
The boat captain, Antonio Esquivel, said his papers were out of order because when he left Cuba he hadn't intended to put in at Progreso.
Progreso is on the tip of the Yucatan peninsula.

ANTI-CASTRO RAIDERS—Six Cubans, described as raiders who sank a Cuban patrol boat, stand on the deck of a Coast Guard boat which brought them to Key West from the British island of Cay Sal where they sought refuge after the sea battle. Immigration officials took them into custody for questioning and refused to identify them. Two Castro militiamen, wounded in the raid, were taken to Miami for treatment. (AP Wirephoto)

Hijack Attempt On Bus Fizzles

COLUMBUS, Tex. (AP) — A young Texan tried to hijack a high-balling Greyhound bus between Houston and San Antonio Monday night, wounding one man. Driver Charles Couser and one of about 20 passengers foiled the attempt which led to the arrest of Ted Mundine, 24, after he fired several shots inside the bus. Mundine is a former convict who last lived in Houston. He told Colorado County Sheriff J. O. Walker he was en route to San Antonio with his wife and 20-month-old son. Moises Rodriguez of Monterrey, Mexico, was shot in the chest with a pistol but was not seriously wounded. He was taken to a Weimar hospital. Walker said Mundine would be charged with assault with intent to murder and with robbery. Couser said Rodriguez does not speak English and he was shot after Mundine ordered him to raise his hands. "At first I thought someone had the radio on," said Mrs. Lorene Hetzel of Galveston, one of the passengers. "Then I saw a man put a gun to the driver's head. He said 'Pull over or I'll blow your head off,' so the driver stopped."

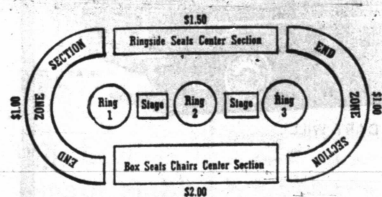

Reds Challenged By Warsaw Writer

WARSAW, Poland (AP) — An outspoken Warsaw writer has challenged the Communist system to provide material incentives to persuade Poles to work harder. An article in Tygodnik Powszechny, a Catholic weekly, says flatly that people work much harder in the capitalist West than under socialism and they achieve better living standards as a result. The article is signed by Kisiel, the pen name of Stefan Kisielewski, art and social critic of the weekly.

Bonus To Customer Was Not Intentional

SAN RAFAEL, Calif. (AP)—That $5,465 a customer found in his grocery bag was an unintentional bonus and should be returned, says food mart owner Maury Guy. He reported to police Monday that he had put the amount in a paper bag for depositing in a bank when some customers came in. Guy said he put the bag by the check stand and waited on the shoppers. When he had checked out their bags, he found his also missing.

New Innovation In Seating Sponsored This Year by Carson & Barnes Circus

One feature of the circus this year that impressed the local sponsor of the Carson and Barnes big three ring circus was the new and attractive policy of informing the public of the PRICE of all tickets before attending the show, and allowing the public to pick the area they desire to sit in. Carson and Barnes Circus has adopted the policy used by the major football and baseball stadiums and have made all of their seats reserved. A diagram of the seat location and the three price ranges can be seen in their news advertisement and on the circus ticket wagon. Remember, at the CARSON AND BARNES CIRCUS you select the area of the circus tent you desire to sit, purchase ONE ticket for the seat of your choice. In addition to revolutionizing the seating policy of the circus, the Carson and Barnes Circus has modernized their performance to appeal to the adult as well as the children. Realizing that the television spectacles like International Showtime, Ed Sullivan and the Dupont Hour, have been well received by the adult audience the Carson and Barnes Circus has obtained some of the best acts appearing with International circuses. These acts can be seen at both performances, afternoon and night at the Rodeo Grounds. Snyder, Fri., Oct. 19

Society Parade Opens Met Season

NEW YORK (AP)—The Metropolitan Opera opened the longest season in its long history Monday night, but none of the subsequent performances is going to be quite like Monday night's. They may not, for example, have Mrs. Joseph P. Kennedy, mother of the President, gracing a center box in the Diamond Horseshoe—in beaded pink tulle and a chic piled-high hairdo. They also are not likely to have a grand dame called Zsa Zsa Gabor strolling languorously out of Sherry's Lounge in the old opera house, trailing black velvet. For, in the finest tradition of opera opening nights, the opera, Umberto Giordano's "Andrea Chenier," had to defer to the spectacle of society on parade in the lobbies, lounges and corridors. The start of the 26-week season came on the earliest opening night in the Met's 73-year history, but not too early or too warm for the mountains of sable, mink and chinchilla traditionally displayed on this occasion. The opera told a half-fictional story of the poet Andre de Chenier, who was condemned to death in the terror of the French Revolution despite his sympathy with the revolutionary cause. Franco Corelli sang the title role. Eileen Farrell was Maddalena, who chooses to go to the guillotine with him. Robert Merrill was Gerard, the former butler who condemns the poet.

Nominations For Crude Increased

AUSTIN (AP)—Nominations by major oil purchasers and producers for Texas crude oil in November totaled 2,524,186 barrels a day, an increase of 33,853, the Railroad Commission said. The Bureau of Mines forecast for the November demand is 2,900,000 barrels a day, up 85,000 from October.

Moon Shot Is Set Tomorrow

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—Engineers and technicians, frustrated for 24 hours by a faulty spacecraft component, made final preparations today to launch the Ranger 5 spacecraft Wednesday toward the moon. The launching was called off late Monday when checkout could not be completed in time. The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said there wasn't enough time to make the calibration check and replace Ranger 5 stop its Atlas-Agena B booster rocket. The problem, involving reduction of signal strength in a radio telemetry circuit, cropped up Sunday. Ranger 5 is intended to streak across a quarter million miles of space, take closeup television pictures of the moon and then land an instrument capsule to record moonquakes and meteor hits. NASA has a favorable period ending Friday in which to launch the rocket to put Ranger 5 on the desired course.

Between You And Me

BY JERRY JACKSON

Regardless of Friday's Lake View-Breckenridge outcome, District 3-AAA members will have a battle over 500 during the season's inter-sectional strife. With 15 victories, 13 losses, and one tie, they can't miss.

The record runs surprisingly true to form when stacked up against that of last year, when the tab read 16 wins and 14 defeats.

Brownfield, of course, was not included in the 3-AAA lineup last season. This year the Cubs have barely managed to keep their heads above water with a 3-2 mark, but that cannot be taken as a true measure of their strength when it is taken into account that those two losses were by 8-10 and 12-16 to Andrews and Seminole.

Cub victories, on the other hand, have all been by much wider margins. Each one has been the result of a methodical four touch-down and having little trouble with Littlefield, Hobbs, and Leveillard. Needless to say, their newness within the cozy family circle does not prohibit them from being a likely contender for the district title.

As it looks from here, any one of five teams within the six-team district could conceivably sail down the bunding should the chips fall their way, with only Colorado City appearing to possess the fire-power to turn the trick.

Defending champ Lake View was brushed over in the pre-season polls, but has come on to win all four of its non-district tilts. The Chiefs' opponents, to be sure, make up an unimpressive list, but the fact remains that they have a winning heritage going for them and they are no longer the district doormat.

Lamesa, which was runner-up in last year's district scramble is cruising along with a 4-1 record and looks to be approximately as strong as in 1961.

Next in line is Snyder, which has won two of five games against a strong slate of foes and looks to have a better club than that record mirrors. The Tigers, still looking for explosiveness in their offense, have made up for their lack of scoring to a degree by throwing up an extremely tough defense. Also, they are capable of playing inspired and winning ball.

Then there is Nolan County's tarnished star—the Sweetwater Mustangs. Their 1-3-1 record is admittedly an anemic one, but to count them out of the race would be premature. The Ponies pose as an odd case. Before the advent of the season they were chosen as 3-AAA co-favorites along with Brownfield. They opened up on the right foot by toppling Breckenridge 22-6, a justice then a surprising offense has led to their going down by 0-24 to Abilene, 8-24 to San Angelo and 8-26 to Graham while salvaging that wacky 2-2 tie with Abilene Cooper.

There is without a doubt the toughest non-district slate of all, however—three 4A opponents and a pair of solid 3A outfits. An October poll probably wouldn't see them on top, but they still look like the strongest "keeper" among the current crop.

Thigh Injury Forces Spikes To Sidelines

DALLAS—Dallas Texas fullback Jack Spikes is reported to be lost to the team for the remainder of the season following the hemorrhaging of an injured thigh here Monday.

Spikes, a native of Snyder and all-American while at TCU, was injured while playing against the Boston Patriots in Boston Friday. It marks the third time in his three seasons with the Texans that the star fullback has been sidelined by injury.

Rookie Curtis McClinton has been given the go-ahead to start in Spikes' place Sunday when they host the New York Titans. The injured leg was packed in ice soon after it was hurt, and chances that Spikes would be lost for only a short period were good until the hemorrhaging began yesterday.

Celts Get Lovellette

BOSTON (AP)—Boston has bolstered its bid for a record fifth straight National Basketball Association championship by acquiring Clyde Lovellette for pivot insurance behind Bill Russell.

The Celtics closed the deal with the St. Louis Hawks late Monday night, surrendering next year's second round draft choice and an unannounced sum of money for the 6-foot-9 shotmaker.

"He's the guy we've been looking for," chirped an exhilarated coach Red Auerbach, when he learned the deal had gone through. It had been known for some time the Celtics' most pressing problem was to secure some relief for Russell, the 6-10 defensive genius who has to play almost every minute of every tough game.

Auerbach had requested that St. Louis owner Ben Kerner hold off placing the 33-year-old one-time University of Kansas All-American on waivers until Boston owner Walter Brown could make an offer.

Lovellette, a nine year NBA veteran and one of the members of the league's exclusive 10,000-point-club, had been slow rounding into shape for the Hawks in this pre-season period due to a foot injury.

"I knew Lovellette definitely could help us, that's why we went after him," Brown said.

World Championship Up For Grabs Now

By JACK HANDB

Associated Press Sports Writer SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—After 13 days, 6,800 miles of jet travel and six ball games, the San Francisco Giants and New York Yankees are all even again going into today's seventh and final World Series game.

And for the third time in the rain-delayed marathon, it will be Jack Sanford of the Giants facing Ralph Terry of the Yanks. Sanford (24-7) shut out the Yanks with three hits and beat Terry (23-12) in the second series game, 2-0. Terry edged Sanford in the fifth game, 5-3, when rookie Tom Tresh broke a 2-2 tie with a three-run homer in the eighth inning.

The Giants have not won a series in six series meetings, the Yanks hold a 4-2 edge, winning in 1953, 1955, 1957 and 1951. The Giants took the first two—in 1921 and 1922. In all, the Yanks have 19-7 series record against all competition while the Giants are 5-9.

But records mean little to this Giant bunch, who were written off after their "June swoon." From the brink of disaster, they closed a four-game gap on the Los Angeles Dodgers in the final week of the National League season, then pulled out the pennant in the ninth inning of the third playoff game.

One down three different times in this just with the Yankees, they bounced back three times—the third time Monday when Billy Pierce and Orlando Cepeda led them to a 5-3 victory that snapped Whitey Ford's five-game series winning streak.

Pierce, an old American League, won his first series game with three hits and beat Terry (23-12) in the second series game, 2-0. Terry edged Sanford in the fifth game, 5-3, when rookie Tom Tresh broke a 2-2 tie with a three-run homer in the eighth inning.

One down three different times in this just with the Yankees, they bounced back three times—the third time Monday when Billy Pierce and Orlando Cepeda led them to a 5-3 victory that snapped Whitey Ford's five-game series winning streak.

Pierce, an old American League, won his first series game with a three-hitter for his 13th consecutive victory at Candlestick Park, and Cepeda awoke from an 0-8-12 hitting slump. He had three hits—a double and two singles—drove in two runs and scored one.

The defeat left Ford, top winner in World Series history with 10, sharing the record for most series defeats—five.

Cepeda's outburst got him a place in the starting lineup for today's game, although he has been riding the bench lately against right-handed pitching.

Willie McCovey, who usually replaces Cepeda at first base, will be in left field in place of Harvey Kuenn, and Tom Haller will take over for catcher Ed Bailey. Haller always catches when Sanford pitches. The Yankees plan no lineup changes.

The weatherman promised fair weather with the temperature in the mid 70s for the game.

The winners will split $362,578.32 and the losers will divide $241,718.88. Nobody knew how many shares were voted, but, on the basis of 30 for each, a winner would get about $12,000 and a loser about $8,000.

'Mum' Was The Word For Kerbel

CANYON (AP)—Joe Kerbel, coach of West Texas State, expressed surprise today that he had been criticized for not announcing that his star runner, Pete Pedro, wouldn't play in Saturday night's game with Arizona State.

Kerbel explained that he tried to get the halfback into the game and didn't know until the last minute that he couldn't play. Pedro sat out the game with a leg injury.

Al Stephan, director of promotion for Arizona State, said he had no advance information that the star halfback wouldn't be in the lineup.

He added that had there been such an announcement, the crowd wouldn't have drawn a crowd of 26,589 because many of the people went expressly to see Pedro.

The Phoenix Press Box Association criticized the college for not saying Pedro wouldn't play because of the leg injury.

"We had every hope that he would play," said Kerbel. "I ran him all over the place for treatment. I have the word of doctors in Phoenix that they did everything they could to make it possible for Pete to play."

Bilko, Others Farmed

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The Los Angeles Angels have sent first baseman Steve Bilko, pitchers Bob Bots and Bob Sproat and utility man Tom Burgess to Dallas-Fort Worth of the American Association.

"THE MISSISSIPPI MESS"

James H. Meredith's hands are sticky with the blood of his fellow Americans; not because of his right to enter the college of his choice, but because he was stubborn to the point of pushing himself into a place where he was neither welcome or wanted. General Walker's hands are no cleaner than Meredith's. He knew Meredith was under a right guaranteed to every American citizen under our constitution to attend the college of his choice. Mr. Walker knew better than to encourage people who disagreed with the law to take up arms and fight against the men who were duty bound to enforce the law.

The question of what takes precedence—the right of the individual or the right of the state. This is not a problem of education, it is a problem of human personal rights guaranteed by the Federal Constitution which has been abridged by the States to accept a man black or white, yellow or red, as a citizen, to charge him with all the responsibilities of citizenship, military service, taxation and the like, then deny him access to the same institutions which he, through taxation, supports is a clear violation of his rights as a citizen of the United States. There are a lot of angry people in Mississippi and there are a lot of people in Mississippi who believe in law and order, who believe in human dignity of the individual, the equality of man under the law regardless of race, creed or color. This mess exposed two men who were neither welcome or wanted at Oxford, Mississippi. The blood of their fellow Americans was shed. I hope they are both satisfied. John Tower travels across the country spewing forth his silly observations almost nightly and the Right-Wingers hang on to his words as if he knew what he was talking about. John Connally does the same, he spews forth his words in the name of the Democrats. Ten years ago he was spewing forth his words to elect a Republican. We have the Berlin wall in German, we don't want the "Johnson Wall" in Austin. Scurry County is Liberal Democrat. We are tired of playing "follow the leader", voting for the party year in and year out, eating the few measly crumbs while others attend the political feast. We don't, as some Republicans believe, have to be baptized in Republicanism to vote for Jack Cox or G. P. Proctor. Both are good men, warm hearted and merciful. We want industry here, a State Park and a Junior College, and we intend to get them. If it takes "politicians" to get them, then we will get into politics. We are not ignorant people, if we have to elect Jack Cox in order to get a Junior College and industry for the people in Scurry County, then we will elect him. One man saw the earth desolate and void. "And not a man left" and the cities became wilderness and the birds fled. Was he looking forward or backward? See Sunday's paper.

Notes From Series Circuit

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Figuring the Series: Ominous note for Giant fans: exactly 50 years ago today, the Giants lost the World Series when they were beaten by the Boston Red Sox 3-2 in the eighth and deciding game. One game ended in a tie.

Orlando Cepeda of the Giants emerged from a long slump Monday with three hits—his first of the series. It was the first time he collected that many in one game since Aug. 24, when he had five hits off Philadelphia pitching.

Lefty Billy Pierce, off whom Roger Maris of the Yanks hit his first 1962 series homer Monday, is a member of Roger's 61 in '61 club. The outfielder hit two of his 61 homers off Pierce, who was then with the Chicago White Sox. Both came in the same game on Aug. 16 in Yankee Stadium.

The Yanks are in a good position to set a Series record for weak hitting today. They are batting a collective .196. The Series low for a seven-game set is .195 by the Dodgers in 1956.

Billy Pierce's three-hitter was the 27th in Series competition and the second of this Series. Jack Sanford also did it against the Yanks in the second game.

GEORGE HERRING

Broken Jaw Suffered By Lt. Herring

QUANTICO, Va.—Lt. George Herring of the W. S. Marine Corps, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Herring of 3006 Forty-first Street, Snyder, Texas, will be confined to the base hospital here for approximately a month due to injuries received in Saturday's football game against the Army Paratroopers.

Lt. Herring, playing right guard for the Quantico Marine team, was the victim of a broken jaw sustained during the game. He is a graduate of North Texas State University, where he was an all-Missouri Valley Conference lineman.

Brownwood's Lofty Perch Threatened

DALLAS (AP)—Wichita Falls, Denver City and New London easily held their places at the top in the Dallas News poll of school-boy football teams today but Brownwood was being challenged in Class AAA by the defending champion, Dumas.

Dumas, which smashed Muleshoe 60-4 last week, pulled within two points of Brownwood, which managed a 14-0 victory over Weatherford.

There were only three new teams to make the rankings. In Class AAAA, led by Wichita Falls, Abilene moved to 10th place as the result of a 29-4 victory over Odessa Permian. Lamar Consolidated replaced Lamar edged into Class AAA when Chiles was beaten 38-0 by Olney.

Denver City is No. 1 in Class AA and New London heads Class A for the fourth straight week.

QBC Meeting Of Tonight A 'Big One'

There will be a little additional icing on the cake this evening when the Quarterback Club meets, the occasion being Humble's Oil's "Southwest Conference Highlights of 1961," a color-sound film presentation.

The meeting is to get underway at 7:30 in the high school cafeteria. Preceding the SWC film will be reports from the system's coaches on their games of the past week and the reeling of the Snyder-Stamford game film.

All members and guests are invited to attend the session.

Lacrosse, the official national game of Canada, was developed from an Indian game called "Baggetaway."

Darrell's Hat Size Same After Steers Polled First

By JACK KEEVER
AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—The coach of the University of Texas Longhorns, named today as the No. 1 college football team in the nation, said ratings mean very little to him.
"I'd feel slighted if we weren't in the top ten," Coach Darrell Royal said, "but being No. 1 doesn't make one lots of difference to me."
The Longhorns were No. 2 in last week's Associated Press poll and moved into the top spot after defeating traditional rival Oklahoma last Saturday 9-6.
The Longhorns replaced Alabama, the defending national champion, which defeated Houston, 14-3. The Crimson Tide fell to second place. Texas finished with 438 points and 21 first-place votes, compared to 477 points for Alabama. Bear Bryant's club collected 24 first-place votes, however.

The voting by a nationwide panel of sports writers and sportscasters was on the usual basis of 10 points for first place, 9 for second and so on.
Following Alabama, in order were Southern California, Louisiana State, Mississippi, Ohio State, Arkansas, Northwestern, Washington and Wisconsin.
"I'll tell you one thing, though," said Royal, "Arkansas has reason to be slighted that they aren't ranked any higher."
Undeclared Arkansas, Texas' next opponent, advanced from No. 8 to No. 7 after defeating Baylor, 28-21, in a Southwest Conference game.

Royal said the Longhorns have no hopes of stopping Arkansas' offense this weekend, but can only try to slow them down.
"They have the ability to move the ball and move in a hurry," Royal said. "They score big and it's obvious we don't."
Arkansas and Texas play Saturday night in Memorial Stadium here in a game which many feel will decide the 1962 Southwest Conference championship.
The top ten, based on a 10-6-5-4-3-2-1 point system (first place votes in parentheses):
Team W L T Pts.
1. Texas (21) 4 0 0 438
2. Alabama (24) 4 0 0 427
3. Southern California 3 0 0 382
4. Louisiana State 3 0 0 372
5. Mississippi 3 0 0 356
6. Ohio State (2) 3 0 0 318
7. Arkansas (1) 2 0 0 286
8. Northwestern (2) 2 0 0 261
9. Washington 2 0 0 242
10. Wisconsin 2 0 0 238
Others receiving votes: Georgia Tech, Michigan State, UCLA (1), Penn State, Missouri, Oregon, West Virginia, Maryland, Duke, Army, Auburn, Nebraska, Miami (Ohio), Kansas.

Steer Coach Belittles His Ground Game

By The Associated Press
Coach Frank Broyles of Arkansas fears a ground attack because his team hasn't had to defend against one this season—and Texas, the Razorbacks' foe Saturday at Austin, is a running team.
Coach Darrell Royal of Texas assures Broyles, however, that he doesn't have to worry since "we can't move the ball."
Royal is worrying about injuries as much as anything. He said his two tackles, Jim Besselman and Ken Ferguson, may not be able to play against Arkansas and minor injuries are handicapping other players.
Texas A&M Coach Hank Folsberg's chief concern is giant quarterback Sonny Gibbs, the Texas Christian passer. He has to try to stop Gibbs at College Station Saturday when the Aggies play TCU in a conference game.
TCU Coach Abe Martin found both of his left halfbacks, Donny Smith and Jerry Jack Terrell, were troubled by injuries. He'll have to use sophomore Larry Bulach.
Texas Tech and Baylor, two of the three winless teams in the conference—Southern Methodist is the other one, get together at Waco. The Bears are expected to be free of injury but Tech has lost its first two quarterbacks.
Coach J. T. King is grooming reserve halfback Allen Shuler to help out Tech's remaining men under, Doug Cannon and Richard Mahan.
SMU and Rice clash at Dallas in a four-team conference game Saturday. Scout Herman Morgan of the injury-free methodists said Rice has a strong team "capable of beating any club on any given day."
Coach Jess Neely of Rice didn't have anything to say about SMU's strength but he worked his Owls hard for the coming game.

AFL Leaders Remain Stable

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—There was no change in the statistical leaders of the American Football League last weekend but Cookie Gilchrist of the Buffalo Bills made the biggest impression.
The 248-pound fullback shattered San Diego's famed foursome four-front that averages 64 and 275 pounds) by running for 124 yards, and jumped all the way from fourth to second in the rushing race.
Charley Toar of Houston still is the leader with 866 yards on 78 runs but Gilchrist is only nine yards back. He went past Abner Haynes of Dallas in his drive toward the top.
Len Dawson of Dallas easily stayed out front in the passing race when he threw for 242 yards against Boston. The Texan sharpshooter now has 12 completions in 130 tries for 1,140 yards and 13 touchdowns.

New York Congressman Holds Unusual, Deflated Dinner

By INEZ ROBB

Once upon a time a political stalwart with pocketbook to match took me to one of those $100-a-plate party dinners by which both Democrats and Republicans continuously raise money to pay campaign and election expenses.

At the time I felt that, with charity toward all, the dinner was worth $5, and, with the political speeches thrown in, not worth a plugged nickel. It was my first and last experience of such rich party feasts, as no other Annie Oakleys in this sphere have been offered me.

However, I have felt no sense of privation. Rather, I have felt a continuous sense of wonder since World War II that so many of the party faithful can afford to pay for $100-a-plate dinners. Once upon a time, and not so long ago, such dinners were restricted to celebration of the natal day of Lincoln and Jefferson.

Now, they are a weekly experience in one part of the nation or another, a commonplace affirmation of the affluent society. The $100-a-plate dinner is no longer the place where the party elite meet to greet the man who Everyone right down to the office memorandum, has gotten into the act.

However, there are bound to be some of us who believe that $100 is an exaggerated price to pay for pot roast and mashed, even if the candidate looks like Rock Hudson and is kissing all comers. Penurious parties like myself may even feel that the price isn't right, not by about $95 worth, plus tips.

So I am glad to report that deflation has hit the market and in all places, New York City. At a recent party dinner for Congressman John V. Lindsay (R. N.Y.) the price was shaved by $96.50, putting the blue-plate special at $3.50 per person, or just about what it is worth.

Furthermore, and contrary to the $100-a-plate dinners, the paying guests only had to listen to Lindsay, who represents New York City's "slit-necking" district and who is, of course, running for re-election. At the C-note affairs, the cast of speaking characters invariably outnumber those in "Ben Hur" (who was present from attending because his chariot got caught in traffic).

A little investigation turned up the fact that Lindsay is not averse to $100 dinners and may need one himself if his admirers are invited to many more $3.50 table d'hotes. Not only are Lindsay headquarters about $200 on the dinner, but probably a third of the diners were too young to vote.

How did a smart politician, in a $100 era, get himself in such a fix? Well, in one word, deliberately. The $3.50 dinner was designed for the high-school and college students who helped man Lindsay's campaign headquarters last summer in New York and who acted as "interns" in his Washington office.

If you, too, have never before heard of a political "intern," the work is applied to a student who longs to get a little experience in practical politics. So he gets experience in operating mimeograph machines, doing research at the water cooler, keeping the perspiration going and occasionally going out for cigarettes. Then, at the end of summer, he is ready to run for Student Council!

The $3.50 price tag was designed to keep the dinner within reach of students, of whom some 250 said. Not all were interns, of course. (After all, a politician has to get some work done, too, and he can't have S. R. O. in his office.) The interns all had lots of friends.

Even though incidentals and some guests of his own will cost the candidate around $200, Congressman Lindsay believes it pays to catch the party faithful young and tell them something, although not too much. A three-piece orchestra played for dancing at the $3.50 dinner, after Lindsay had said a few words. And if the price of the party inner is novel, so is the fact that all the guests were young enough to dance.

Junior Editors Quiz on ANIMALS

QUESTION: Why can't a giraffe make any sound?

ANSWER: Actually, giraffes are not completely voiceless. Zoo keepers and hunters have heard them make moaning sounds at certain times. But it is true that the giraffe rarely uses his voice, and the reason is that his voice box, or "larynx," where sound is produced in animals and men, is poorly developed. But then the giraffe does not need such an ability. As our artist suggests, he is talented in other ways. His eyesight, hearing and sense of smell are all very keen and from the lofty position where he holds his head, he can look far away (A) and see danger before it comes too close. Then, too, his checkerboard body pattern makes him difficult to see under certain conditions (B). He can outgallop most horses, making up to 35 miles an hour. Giraffes also run by "pacing," moving the legs of the same side forward and back at the same time (C). Lastly, (D), a giraffe can fight. He has dynamite in all four feet and he can swing that long neck as if it were a huge club. His head can deliver a blow of tremendous force.

FOR YOU TO DO: Backbone in men and higher animals are formed of small bones, the "vertebrae," which also go up the neck. Make a guess as to how many vertebrae there might be in a giraffe's neck. 18, 20, 25? You've guessed wrong. There are 7, exactly the same number you will find in a mouse's neck.

(Betsy Mooney of Newport News, Va., wins $10 for this question. Mail yours on a postcard to Junior Editors in care of this newspaper. It may win $10 or the weekly award of a Brimfield Junior Encyclopedia.)

Some Things World Could Do Without

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—In a world getting more crowded all the time, here are a few things we could do without:

Mink jackets for dogs who have almost everything.

Those gummy cocktail tidbits that stick to your dentures.

Professional wrestling bouts in which one contestant looks like a Greek or Nordic god—and the other looks like the offspring of Mrs. Dracula and the Hunchback of Notre Dame.

Best-seller books that tell you how to do something you never really wanted to get one anyway.

Telephones in bathrooms.

Shoelace-free men's slip-on shoes. The only sure exercise flabby middle-aged men have left today is tying their shoelaces.

Mauve-colored lipsticks. No girl should have purple lips unless she has been out ice skating in the cold too long.

Transparent plastic wastebaskets. Who wants to look into a wastebasket anyway except a private detective?

Restaurant menus printed in any language except American. Restaurants that charge twice as much for iced tea as they do for hot tea.

Business tycoons whose wrist-watches buzz to warn you that they are busy people and you have taken up quite enough of their time.

Women who take off their shoes in the movies and then, when they rise to go, need the services of three ushers with flash lights to find their lost footwear.

New churches so weirdly designed the innocent bystander mistakes them for hamburger stands, hamburger stands designed to look like cathedrals.

Medicine bottles on which the instructions are printed so small you need a microscope to read them.

Doctors who tell a patient he's run down and needs a good long rest with absolute quiet—and then send him to a hospital where the nurses wake him up every morning at 8 a.m.

Strangers who want something from you and address you "hey, fellow."

Culture addicts who sneer at you if you like a melody by Stephen Foster or Irving Berlin, but themselves enjoy a Beethoven symphony just as much if it is played backward and forward.

Cranky columnists who write articles like this—instead of looking at the bright side of life.

Mexico Plans To Export Gasoline

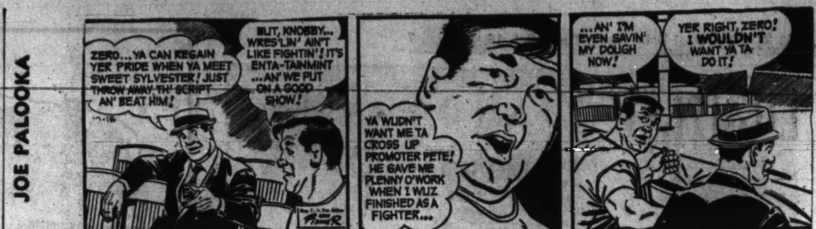

MEXICO CITY (AP)—Mexico's government-operated oil industry is about to enter the international market as an exporter of gasoline, a well informed source said today.

This informant said the nation which the past was forced to import gasoline to meet growing internal demand, is now in a position to export surplus fuel.

Texas Congressmen En Route To Parley

LIGHTEST MEXICO

BY JOHN ABNEY

MEXICO CITY—Got away from it all the other afternoon at the Jockey Club with Mr. Charlie Gup- till. And we sat there looking at the too-gorgeous-for-words scenery of the Hipodrome race track and contemplated the odds on the tote board.

The Jockey Club is the gathering place for Mexico City's ultra- ultra although some scribbles are permitted to enter if they wear a necktie (and the rest of their clothes, naturally).

There is the big lounge where you can lounge around studying photographs of steeds and jockeys who made good. The fox and hounds-type bar where you have a few martinis and rehearse things you are going to say to your boss next time you see him. And the restaurant.

This consists of tables in a swank, glassed-in room overlooking the track. And more tables out on a long balcony which overlooks the track a little better. Several stories high.

So Mr. Gupilli and your energetic correspondent sat at a table on the balcony, waving at our colleagues sitting here and there at other tables, and commented sadly on the appalling working conditions to which foreign journalists are subjected.

Mr. Gupilli nibbled at a thick steak and said he might have to go on tranquilizers if working hours didn't improve and added he would go on them anyhow if we didn't stop suggesting his steak came off one of yesterday's losers.

Down below, the starting bells clattered and the civilians shouted and urged their favorites on to greater efforts. Waiters piled up with more food and were highly attentive although I had to reach for the salt twice.

About the sixth race, Mr. Gup- till said he had to hurry home and take his cat to the vet because the poor cat was sick as a dog. However, he did want to relate the tragic experience of Mr. John Allus of United Press International a few weeks ago.

It seems that Mr. Allus had been persuaded to attend the contests and witness the participation of a charger owned and operated by Mr. Bill Shanahan, in the third race.

"Allus was sitting right over here," said Mr. Gupilli, pointing "when the horses filed out of the paddock for the first race. Well suddenly a priest stepped from the crowd and blessed Number Two. You know, made a sign in front of the horse and then stepped quietly back.

"Now when the starting bell rang Number Two went off in a blur and hit the finish line ten lengths ahead of everybody else.

Naturally, Mr. Allus became terribly excited and even toyed with the idea of wagering a few pesos.

"So," said Mr. Gupilli, "the horses came on the track for the second race and Allus saw the same priest step out and bless Number Seven. And it was Number Seven by some incredible win like seventeen lengths."

Mr. Allus' pulse shot up to 180 and he was going wild.

Then when the horses were in the starting stalls for the third race," said Mr. Gupilli, "Allus saw the priest walk over and make signs before Number Four, which was Shanahan's bucket. Well—Allus rushed to the betting windows and laid out a week's pay on Number Four's nose. The starting bell rang just as he got back to his table, the horses streaked out and Number Four fell over dead."

Reliable witnesses report Mr. Allus rushed sobbing down stairs and spoke to the priest.

"Father," he said desperately, "I saw you bless those nags and the first two were wonderful but the first two were wonderful but they—gosh, I bet everything I had on Shanahan's hayburner. Why?"

"My boy," said the padre, "one of the problems with you semipagans is you don't know the difference between the benediction, which I gave the first two horses, and last rites, which I applied to Number Four."

Of course, Mr. Shanahan hotly denies any such thing happened. All I know is, this is the way Mr. Gupilli told it and Mr. Allus failed to show up at his office for nearly a month.

Caroline's Group Heard Over Cannons

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Kennedy has learned to his dismay that cannons on the White House lawn can drown out everything but daughter Caroline and her friends.

He learned this as he stood right-hipped and at attention while cannons on the south lawn boomed a welcome for Premier Ahmed Ben Bella of Algeria.

After Ben Bella had conferred with the President and left, a reporter asked Kennedy what he thought of the childish noises that came from the second floor during the ceremonies on the lawn.

"We will talk about that this afternoon," he said.

The President then smiled—but only slightly—whirled, and rushed into the White House.

"Was Caroline punished?" a newsman asked White House press secretary Pierre Salinger Monday night.

"Not that I know of," he replied.

During the ceremonies, every boom drew a shrill-voiced "Bang" from the President's daughter and her friends in their kindergarten on the second floor of the White House. Every command to the military color guard drew a mimicking order from the happy children upstairs.

Neither Kennedy nor Ben Bella cracked a smile or furrowed a brow at the high-pitched, giggling chorus. But most newsmen, diplomats, and State Department officials did not suppress their smiles.

This was the first time President Kennedy has welcomed a foreign chief of state on the White House lawn with a 21-gun salute. The cannon usually boom their welcome at the airport.

For Caroline, who will be 6 next month, and her classmates, it clearly was an unusual day that deserved an unusual demonstration. They provided it.

In Nogales, a new customs house is under construction and the old one is being torn down. Plans call for Piedras Negras to start demolishing the old downtown section in 30 days. Plans there also call for a "door in Mexico" and a facilitating for the commercial district.

In Juarez, construction of new public buildings, new avenues, commercial and cultural centers is proceeding on schedule. About 80 per cent of the Juarez work will be finished before the end of next year, Bermudez said.

Bus Driver Dies Of Heart Attack

AMBLER, Pa. (AP)—David H. Pinkett, 59, fell ill as he turned his loaded school bus off the expressway and headed for nearby Orland.

He swerved to the shoulder of the road, put on the brakes, turned off the ignition and slumped over the wheel—dead of a heart attack.

Police said his action Monday halted the bus, with 20 pupils aboard, a few feet from an embankment from which it could have plunged 30 feet to railroad tracks.

Familiarity Makes Play

By WILLIAM GLOVER
Associated Press Drama Critic
NEW YORK (AP)—Familiarity breeds mild amusement for Broadway in "Seidman and Son."
Warm-hearted, soft-headed an trite in every character, the sentimental tatty-pull arrived Monday night at the Belasco Theater.
Heading the cast is Sam Levene, an old pro at getting a chuckle with a raised eyelid, a laugh with a shrug and a guffaw.

The plot, extracted by Elick Moll from one of his own novels, concerns a dress manufacturer and a large of those family and office screwballs dearly beloved by the makers of B movies and television serials.

Jewish dialect is a main prop of the humor, and when the dialogue slackens, Levene has those sweeping gestures ready.
Although there isn't an unpredictable moment all the way, "Seidman and Son" has an ingratiating warmth. Like getting together with a bunch of folk you've known for a long, long time.

Sir Edmund Hillary, the conqueror of Mt. Everest, has built a school for Sherpa children in the high Himalayas.

Cold Water Best For Burns

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer
ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—
Cold water is winning more medical votes as the best treatment for burns.

The cold is credited with relieving pain faster, and also with promoting faster healing.

Instead of putting grease on a hand or finger or other area burned by a stove, a match or other heat, some recent medical advice has favored bathing the affected area with cold tap water or ice water.

This idea is by no means brand new, Dr. T. C. King of the University of Kansas School of Medicine said today. Ancient Hindu writings advised the same treatment.

The first-aid manual for Russian soldiers advises exposure to cold water or cold air, he added. An Icelandic doctor recently joined U.S. colleagues in reporting quicker relief of pain from cold water.

Speaking to the American College of Surgeons, Dr. King described animal experiments in which quick local cooling resulted in far less severe general injury to the burned body.

In a similar experiment, Dr. Jose M. Ferrer and associates of Columbia University's College of Physicians and Surgeons also reported better survival from extensive burns in animals which had been chilled.

These experiments were aimed at learning why the cold treatment is beneficial, the surgeons explained. One reason appears to be that there is less loss of vital body fluids in the burned areas.

Whether the cold treatment would be best for humans who have suffered very extensive burns cannot be answered, Dr. King said. But the laboratory evidence tends to support cold water as a good idea at least for minor burns.

In any case, he and Dr. Ferrer agreed, the cold-water treatment must be applied within a few minutes. Half an hour after a burn, the cold treatment does not seem to do any good.

Hohler In Parley With Khrushchev

MOSCOW (AP)—U.S. Ambassador Foy D. Hohler had a three-hour conference today with Premier Khrushchev, his first official call on the head of the Soviet government.

The ambassador arrived Sept. 20 when the premier was vacationing on the Black Sea and President Lyndon B. Johnson was on the point of leaving for an official visit to Yugoslavia.

PEOPLE IN THE NEWS

Senior Kennedy Visits President

By The Associated Press
Joseph P. Kennedy, the President's father, is at the White House for a week's visit. The former ambassador to Britain, who is recovering from the effects of a strike, went to Washington from the family home at Hyannis Port, Mass.

The elder Kennedy probably will visit New York City a week from now and then fly to his winter home at Palm Beach, Fla., White House press secretary Pierre Salinger said.

U Thant, acting secretary-general of the United Nations, will visit Algeria at the invitation of Prime Minister Ahmed Ben Bella, a spokesman said at the United Nations. No date has been set.

The wife of Charles Chaplin Jr. filed suit in Los Angeles for separate maintenance.

Mrs. Marta Chaplin, 32, a doctor's assistant, charged "extreme cruelty and grievous mental suffering" at the hands of the 37-year-old son of the comedian. She seeks $437,75 a month pending trial of her divorce suit.

Chaplin is worth $250,000, the wife said. The complaint said they were married last April and separated in September.

British Foreign Secretary Lord Home was made a knight of the Thistle, Scotland's ancient order of chivalry, by Queen Elizabeth II, it was announced at Edinburgh, Scotland.

He will be installed a knight at a ceremony at St. Giles Cathedral in Edinburgh on Thursday, a court announcement said. King Olav of Norway will be made a knight of The Thistle at the same ceremony.

Mrs. Katherine Dexter McCormick, Boston civic leader and philanthropist, has given the State Department a half-million-dollar Swiss chateau so that U.S. diplomats will have a better meeting place when they go to Geneva, the State Department announced in Washington.

The historic chateau is perhaps the largest private donation ever received from an individual by the department, the announcement said.

A Roman Catholic bishop and 50 priests are in Snyder today for the dedication services of the new Catholic church at Thirty-first Street and Avenue A.

A third organized political group in Scurry County came into being last night when about 32 persons met in the district courtroom and set up a county unit of Texas Democrats for Eisenhower.

James Fosser, Snyder attorney who is chairman of the group, opened the meeting. Mrs. W. J. Bryant is co-chairman with Rosser.

Roy Meador, safety chairman for the Kiwanis Club, last night was chosen chairman of the Citizens Traffic Commission being organized here.

About 30 persons, representing various men's and women's civic groups attended the meeting last night.

George Mahon "officially" handed over Scurry County from the 19th Congressional District to Omar Burleson in the 17th District last evening when the two were featured guests at the free barbecue sponsored by the Oil Industry Information Committee.

Because of population changes, this county was shifted by redistricting. The change actually does not take place until January.
