Kitty's Korner

By Kitty Montgomery

Well, the election finally came and went and all America is glad that noise is over for another four years.

What on earth ever happened to "It matters not whether you win or lose, it's how you played the game?"

Good grief! Before it was all over President Nixon emerged as a filthy, capitalist war monger, and Senator McGovern as a half-witted milk-sop who woke up with a new, wild idea every day.

All this mud-slinging and accusations and condemnations is downright un-American and something just must be done about it. Many of the charges and counter-charges were so ridiculous as to be laughable, had it not been such a deadly serious game.

Even Jack Anderson, in his Monday's column, tells the American public that both men are decent, good individuals in spite of it all. And you can bet your bottom dollar that when Jack Anderson says something good about somebody it's just got to be the gospel.

The American sensibilities have been so dulled by the monotonous hammering rhetoric of them all, if one of the candidates had shot the other one on the television tube, the response would no doubt have been "so what?"

Freedom of speech has been completely worn out. We need an amendment or a law to protect the people from the politicians' rhetoric, especially from smear campaigns which are not based on facts nor evidence, but spring up from one "news source" or another. We never know from whence the rumor comes, and whether it's true or false, doubt is bound to linger. And this is no time to doubt the integrity of our nation's leaders.

However, the voters have chosen and apparently were not swayed by much that was said. Maybe the American public is not so naive after all.

I think the election results do point up the fact that the television news editorialists' opinion is not necessarily that of the American public, and that alone is important. This indicates how much more mature Americans have become since the 1964 election when they were so swayed by that medium.

The lopsided vote also served to prove that the young radicals Senator McGovern surrounded himself with in the early days of the campaign were definitely a minority, although a look at the tube would give one the opinion that they were typical of the American youngster. We will no doubt see and hear less of protest and protesters, as the election was the biggest protest of all.

OZONANS EXERCISE RIGHT TO VOTE -- Precinct 2 voters, casting ballots in the high school auditorium in Tuesday's General Election used the longest ballot in Texas history, as did voters all over the state. A full slate of officers, plus 14 proposed amendments to the state constitution made the ballot almost saddle-blanket size. In the picture, 1. to r., are Mrs. Evelyn Thompson, waiting to sign the voting list; Tom Montgomery, and election workers, Mrs. Charlie Applewhite, Mrs. Tommy Harris and Bill Baggett.

Lions' Hopes For District Title High As Cohoma Falls To Owls

Ozona's Lions climbed back into the win column Friday night with a 34-6 thrashing of the Crane Golden Cranes, while their rivals for the District championship, the Coahoma Bulldogs, were defeated by the Big Lake Owls.

The district is topsy-turvy at the moment, but if the Lions can prevail over the Stanton Buffaloes tomorrow night and down the McCamey Badgers in the final game,

Wildcat Slated For Southwest Crockett County

Shenandoah Oil Corp., Midland, will drill a 10,000-foot wildcat in southwest Crockett County, 25 miles southwest of Ozona and 2-3/8 miles northwest of Canyon gas production in the Ozona multipay field. It is the No. 1 Cox.

Location is 660 feet from the north and 1,980 feet from the west lines of 9-John H. Gibson.

It is 5/8 mile east-northeast of a 12,741-foot failure, Standard Oil Co. of Texas (now Chevron Oil Co.) No. 1 Cox, abandoned Nov. 14, 1965.

even a tie on the part of the Coahoma team would give the Lions the championship, which seemed so out of reach this time last week.

The Buffaloes opened the season with the same pre-season record chalked up by the Lions. However, they lost their first two district games before winning over McCamey last Friday night, and the Lions should have the upper hand on their home field tomorrow night.

Stanton lost their district opener to Coahoma 20-0 and their second district game to Crane 7-0. They beat McCamey Friday night for their first win.

The Lions had an easy time of it with the Crane eleven, running the score to 34-0 before letting the Cranes cross the goal line four a touchdown.

The Lions scored in the first quarter when Ricky Webster hauled in a 21-yard pass from David Sewell. Sewell kicked the extra point.

In the second quarter Ruben Tambunga scored early for the Lions on a 6-yard plunge. Sewell ran for the two extra points. Just before the half, Oliver Payne broke loose on a 46-yard run to score for the Lions. The conversion try was no good, but the Lions had a 21-0 halftime lead.

In the third quarter they scored twice. Gerald Huff ran it in from six yards out after a Lion march down field, but again the PAT try fell short. Tambunga scored the final touchdown for the Lions on a dazzling 71 yard dash with Sewell booting the extra point.

Willie Neal scored for Crane in the final quarter, with the point after try no good.

Christmas Ideas Program Slated For C.C. Tuesday

"Light up your Christmas World" is the theme of a Christmas program to be given Tuesday, November 14, at 1:00 p.m. at the Civic Center.

Rita Butler, home economist for West Texas Utilities and Debra Gentry, County Extension Agent will be presenting the program.

This year's program will feature decorative lighting and new recipes for the holiday season. Gift ideas that can be made at home will also be included.

Everyone is welcome to attend.

Local Merchants Promote Shop At Home Nights

Ozona merchants will promote "Shopping in Ozona," for Thanksgiving and Christmas by remaining open until 9:00 p.m. on Thursday nights until Christmas.

Participating merchants will begin the promotion next Thursday night and various items will be sale-priced, with some stores having registering for drawings at their store or other enticements for the public. Some plan to serve refreshments to their shoppers.

Plans were made for the holiday promotion at a meeting of the retail committee at the Chamber of Commerce Wednesday morning. Those present were given names of those who were not on hand and have been contacting them this week. All retail outlets will be given an opportunity to participate and all are urged to do so.

The group was of the opinion that Ozona has everything to offer the holiday shopper that nearby larger towns do, and more besides. By shopping at home, the shopper eliminates the city sales tax, saves gas and wear and tear on vehicles, seldom if ever is forced to drive for blocks to find a parking place, and never must wait in line to be helped.

Most of the merchants said their holiday line featured more variety this year than ever before and most will have larger and varied inventories for the holiday season.

ASC Has Record Rummage Sale

A record $835.90 was raised during the Crockett County Unit's sixth annual Rummage-for-Research sale last weekend, for benefit of the American Cancer Society.

Special events chairman Mrs. C. E. Davidson III was in charge and other volunteer workers were Mrs. James Weant, Mrs. Eddie Hale, Mrs. Joe Tom Davidson, Mrs. Brock Jones, Mrs. Mike Clayton, Mrs. Charlie Black, Mrs. Estelle Chapman, Mrs. Charles Williams, Mrs. Bob Childress and Mrs. M. E. Nicholas. Mrs. Nicholas, Crusade Chairman, expressed appreciation to all those who donated items for the sale and to the many customers.

Mrs. L. A. (Red) Greer underwent surgery Tuesday morning in a San Angelo hospital.

Light Voter Turnout For County In Tuesday's General Election

Crockett County voters went to the polls 1220 strong in Tuesday's general election, a light turnout in view of the fact that over 2,000 residents were registered to vote in the election. Registration closed thirty days before the election.

Voters in the county did go along with the rest of Texas and the nation in giving the Republican Presidential-Vice Presidential incumbents a wide margin of victory. The Nixon-Agnew ticket polled 851 votes to 329 for the Democratic ticket leaders, McGovern and Shriver.

Crockett County voters also went heavily for the incumbent Republican Senator John Tower. The count was 684 for Tower and 340 for Barefoot Sanders,

Junior Varsity Wins Final Game Of Season 12-0

Coach Charles Spieker's Ozona High School Junior Varsity beat Iraan 12-0 last Thursday night to close out their football season, ending the year with a 5-2-1 record.

Scoring for the Lions was Craig Taliaferro on a quarter-back sneak. The PAT failed. The second touchdown for the Lions was on a pass play from Romaldo Cervantez to Lionel Cervantez.

Leading the defense were Richard Sanchez, Robert Rodriguez, Larry Baird and Romaldo Cervantez.

Both cars were totally demolished in the collision. Investigating officer was Highway Patrolman Bobbie Papasan.

Participating merchants will begin the promotion next Thursday night and various items will be sale-priced, with some stores having registering for drawings at their store or other enticements for the public. Some plan to serve refreshments to their shoppers.

For U. S. Representative the county gave O. C. Fisher, the Democratic incumbent, a large plurality over his Republican opponent. The vote was 831 for Fisher to 190 for Doug Harlan, for Representative of the 21st Congressional District.

In the governor's race the Democrat Dolph Briscoe polled 657 votes to Republican Henry

Mrs. Fuantoz Is Injured In Sun. Auto Accident

Mrs. Charlie Fuantoz was hospitalized with a possible broken back Sunday afternoon as the result of an automobile accident at the intersection of Ave. H and 5th Street.

Mrs. Glenn Wheeler was headed north on Ave. H, driving a 1963 Ford, when it collided with a 1970 Pontiac driven by Kay Fuantoz and heading east on Fifth St.

Mrs. Wheeler suffered lacerations and complained of chest pain. She was treated and released at Crockett County Hospital following the accident. She returned for further treatment Monday morning.

Kay Fuantoz was treated for lacerations about the head and released. Another passenger in the Fuantoz car, Elizabeth Fierro, was treated for head injuries.

Both cars were totally demolished in the collision. Investigating officer was Highway Patrolman Bobbie Papasan.

Grover's 293 and the Raza Unida Party's Ramsey Muniz's 207.

Bill Hobby polled 818 votes for Lt. Governor to 176 for Alma Canales, the Raza Unida Party's choice.

Democrat John Hill, opposed only by the Socialist Workers Party, received 890 votes in the county while Thomas Kincaid, the Socialist, received 6 votes. The same trend was seen in the Comptroller of Public Accounts race where Democrat Robert S. Calvert polled 880 votes to Socialist Anne Springer's 6 votes.

Jesse James, the Democratic incumbent for State Treasurer, polled 585 votes, while Maurice Angly, Jr., the Republican candidate polled a surprising 359 votes in the county. Ruben Solis, Jr., the Raza candidate received 179 Crockett county votes.

Democrats were unopposed in all other races with the exception of that of Railroad Commissioner, and Byron Tunnell, Democrat, led with 697 votes; Jim Segrest, Republican, 212 votes, and Fred Garza, Raza, 177 votes in the county.

The only other race at the state level with any opposition was State Representative for District 70. Hilary B. Doran, Jr. the Democratic incumbent was opposed by Erasmo Andrade of Crystal City, and the candidate of Raza Unida. Doran won Crockett County with 840 votes to 176 for Andrade. Ozona Infant Dies Of Tape Deck Thief Has Eye Witness, Felipe Castro Tragedy befell an Ozona family last weekend when little one year old Clara Pena died of tranquilizer poisoning.

The baby girl was found in a semi-conscious condition Thursday afternoon and rushed to Crockett County Hospital where the contents of her stomach were removed after it was discovered that an older sister, 3 years, had fed her several pills of a potent tranquilizing drug given only by prescription.

Members of the family found the children with the medicine and the baby was already in a toxic condition. They rushed both little girls to the emergency room at the local hospital and they both received treatment. However, all efforts failed to restore the younger child to consciousness.

She was transferred to San Angelo by a Janes ambulance later Thursday afternoon and placed under the care of a pediatrician at Shannon Hospital where she died Saturday without regaining consciousness. She was born in Ozona Aug. 19, 1971, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Abdon Pena. Funeral services were held from the Catholic Church at 4 p.m. Monday with Fr. James Plegans officiating. Burial followed in Lima Cemetery under the direction of Janes Funeral Home.

Surviving besides her parents are her brother, Roland; 2 sisters, Lydia and Lenora, all of the home, and her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Pena.

C of C Picks Up 12 New Members

The Ozona Chamber of Commerce has signed up 12 new members since the annual membership drive got underway the first of the month.

The drive will continue until Nov. 30. There are business memberships as well as individual memberships. Anyone who has not been contacted by a member of the Chamber may go by the office for an application.

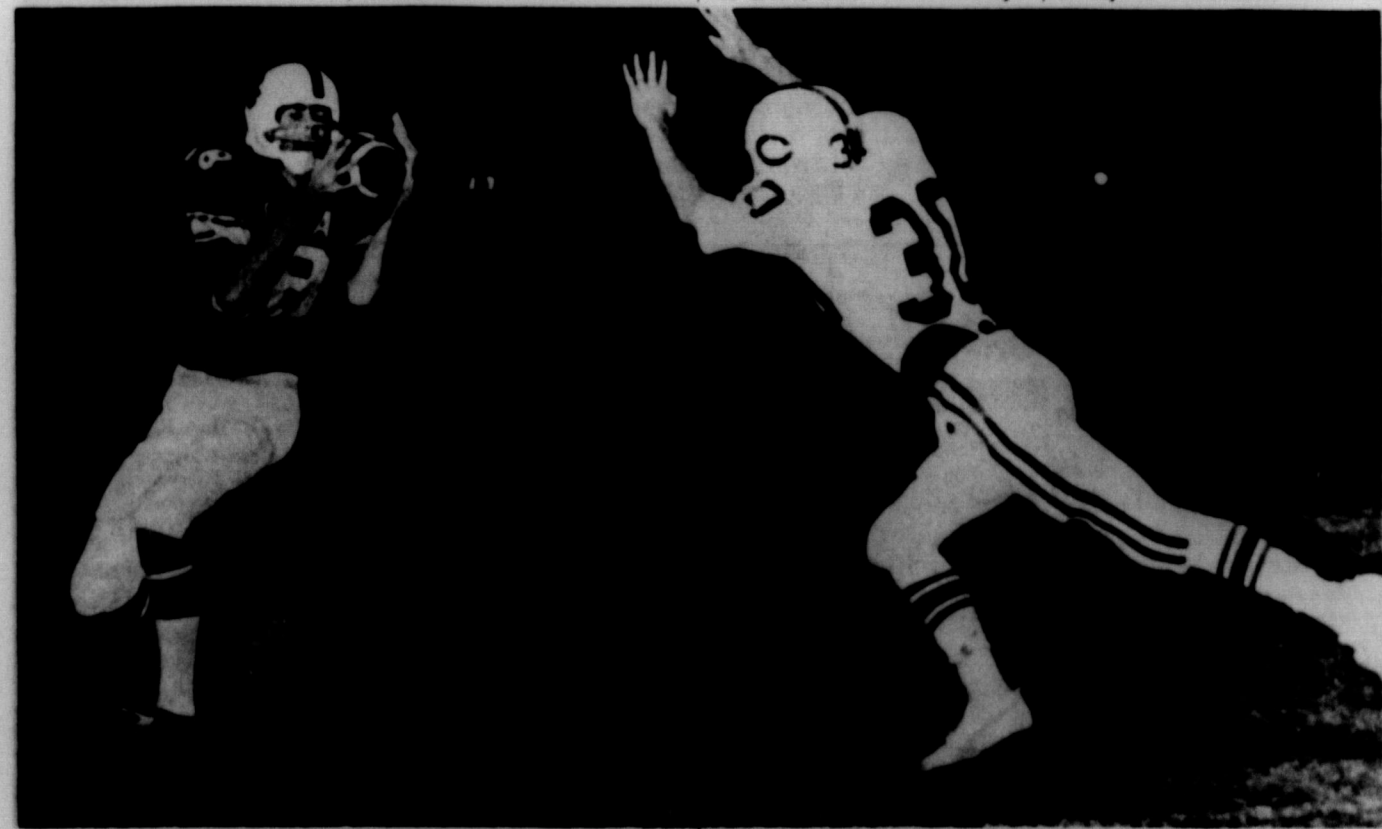

Tape Deck Thief Has Eye Witness, Felipe Castro

Thanks to the "sharp eye" of Felipe Castro, an employee of Ozona Boot & Saddlery, a tape deck thief was caught and dealt with by the law here Tuesday morning.

Castro was sweeping the walk in front of the boot shop about 9:15 when he noticed a shabby looking group in a hippie van stopped across the street. A long-haired man was looking in the autos parked there. Castro saw him take something from a station wagon belonging to Mrs. Frank Hill. He notified Mrs. Hill, a water district employee, and called the sheriff's office.

When Mrs. Hill checked her car she found her stereo tape deck missing. Officers stopped the van about two miles west of Ozona on highway 290. A man, two women and a child were the occupants, all from Quebec, Canada. However, a search revealed no tape deck.

Sheriff Billy Mills picked Castro up and he positively identified the van and its occupants, including the man (Continued on last page)

LET'S STOP THE SMEAR CAMPAIGNS

Now that the elections are over we hope that we can deal with a touchy matter without being accused of "partisan politics." It is an issue which the Milwaukee Sentinel has bluntly dubbed as "McGovernism," described as "making assumptions of guilt that are far more reckless and dirty than anything the late Sen. Joseph R. McCarthy was accused of doing."

"Taking stories from the Washington Post alleging a White House use of a secret fund to finance political spying and sabotage," declares the Sentinel, "McGovern proceeds to treat the stories as proven facts."

"Never mind the principle of being innocent until proven otherwise. McGovern brushes all this aside. Acting as judge, jury and would-be executioner, McGovern declares that The Washington Post stories 'place the whole ugly mess of corruption, espionage and sabotage squarely in the lap of President Nixon.'"

"As it happens," continues the Sentinel, "no one has been convicted of any such charge, let alone having been tied to Mr. Nixon. The whole case consists of little more than hearsay and insinuations. The only matter of any substance of this point are the indictments returned in the Watergate bugging case, and that is still far from sufficient proof beyond any reasonable doubt to support McGovern's verdict of a 'whole ugly mess of corruption.'"

"McGovern has met the enemy of morality in politics and he is it. Meanwhile, the old enemies of McCarthyism, such as The Washington Post, are engaging in the same sort of low tactics they accused McGovern of employing in battling Communists," concludes the Sentinel.

Unfortunately, now that the election is over there are still those around who intend to continue the game of smear and fear, the so-called "Common Cause" outfit and "Nader's Raiders." These are genuine, bona-fide witch-hunting organizations and they should be denounced by all fair-minded Americans.

Pied Piper

Little Tommy raced across the street to buy a strawberry cone from the ice cream truck. But as he started back, he stepped into the path of an oncoming car. Tommy was seriously injured, and his family sued the ice cream company for having failed to warn him of the danger.

At the trial, the company protested that its driver had no obligation to take care of other people's children. But the court ruled otherwise. Ordering the company to pay damages, the judge said: "The sense of haste is purposely aroused in the children by the tinkling of bells and flashing of lights. The responsibility of one who provokes into action the natural recklessness of children ought (to) be proportionate to the danger he creates."

There have been a number of these "Pied Piper" lawsuits in which a street vendor has been held liable for tempting a child into jeopardy. However, some courts have rejected such claims, at least when special circumstances come into the picture.

Consider another case, also involving injury to a youthful ice cream purchaser. This time, the boy had walked some distance around the rear of the truck before starting back across the street. Moreover, he was a vigorous 10-year-old, the kind of youngster ordinarily well able to cross alone.

Denying damages, the court said the driver could not fairly be blamed for assuming that the boy was "on his own."

Furthermore, the victim himself may be guilty of negligence. Thus:

An 11-year-old boy leaped onto the running board of an ice cream truck, out of the driver's line of vision. When the truck began to accelerate, the boy fell off to the pavement.

In the lawsuit that followed, he acknowledged that he had been aware of the risk he was taking. Turning down his claim, the court said:

"All the essential ingredients of contributory negligence were present."

Tips For Gardeners

From the
Ozona Garden Club
By
Mrs. Bailey Post

Since last week's near freeze, I am hoping this warning isn't too late to caution you to get your indoor potted plants, that need to be protected from freezes into the house, hot house or other storage space. Plants may be trimmed back severely so not to take up so much room, or you may place several plants in one pot for the winter. Give these plants some water, but do not over-water during the winter.

Provide special protection against sweeping winds and intense winter sun for slightly tender evergreens. Screens of burlap or other material are especially useful for plants newly planted or planted in drafty locations.

To protect old peonies, cut the browned or dead tops off to near ground level. Place a cup of bone meal around plant and mound dirt up several inches for the winter months.

If you haven't planted pansies, November is the ideal time to get them started. Be sure the bed is located in sun or partial shade. The soil should be well prepared to the depth of 12 inches. Add peat moss or compost and a light feeding of a complete fertilizer. Plant pansies at least six inches apart and cover lightly with a mulch. Keep beds moist during the growing season.

There are many common shrubs and trees you may have or want around your home that would be attractive background material in a flower arrangement. In your plans for the fall planting, use some of these in your landscape. Some that do well here are Aucuba, Barberry, Calliandra, Eleagnus, Ligustrum, Holly, Creeping Juniper, Mahonia, Nandina, Photinia, Pyracantha (red), Native Evergreen Sumac, Abelia, Artemisia and other new ones that you may want to try.

HOW MUCH DOES
IT COST TO FURNISH A HOME

A study was made by a national agency last year, and it showed that the average family spends 20% of the cost of their home for furniture. In other words, the average $20,000 home costs about $4,000 to furnish. This average includes not only furniture but floor coverings, draperies and electrical appliances.

Of course, many families go way beyond this average, and many are obliged to spend a lot less. Actually the amount of money you spend will never take the place of good taste.

We have all seen homes which were furnished for $1,500 and done more attractively and imaginatively than others on which two or three times as much was spent. That's where a reliable furniture dealer who employs good salesmen-decorators can be of great help.

We invite you to come in and take advantage of our free decorator service. We can help you select the furniture that will be both comfortable and attractive in your home whether you are working with a big budget or a small one.

Mildew; Easier To Prevent Than To Cure Says Expert

College Station--Mildew is a problem that's much simpler to prevent than it is to cure. Mrs. Doris Myers, home management specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service of Texas A&M University, explained mildew growth and outlined prevention tactics in answer to a growing number of requests from Texas residents for the information.

Cotton, rayon, linen, silk, paper, plaster and leather are all affected by mildew, while certain man-made fibers are not, the specialist noted.

"Because of their resistance to mildew, the homemaker might want to consider using man-made fibers for curtains, rugs and blankets in damp areas."

"Mildew flourishes in damp, warm, poorly aired and lighted areas."

"These include closets, damp basements, laundries, sink cabinets and refrigerator interiors--mold will grow even at low temperatures."

"Wherever there are damp clothes, draperies, shower curtains, rugs or leather goods, look out for mildew."

"Even plastic shower curtains can mildew--due to the soap film accumulation."

Preventing mildew in the first place is much easier than trying to get rid of it once it's established, Mrs. Myers said.

She outlined USDA tips to help combat dampness--and thus mildew--using mechanical means.

First, since continuing dampness is the root of this evil, the homemaker should provide adequate drainage around the outside walls of the house.

Turning to home interiors, the specialist recommended installation of air conditioners and dehumidifiers which can aid in removing moisture.

Likewise, good air circulation can be achieved through the use of properly sized and well located fans--to help reduce chances of mildew.

"Any walls and floors made of concrete or other masonry need to be water-proofed."

mildew, sponge it with one of the following solutions prepared by a local pharmacist: a one-percent solution of dichlorophene, hexachlorophene, salicylanilide, thymol or paratolophenol in alcohol.

Mrs. Myers stressed the importance of always reading the label on chemical containers--and then following the directions accordingly. "Also, store the containers well out of the reach of children and pets," she concluded.

VACUUM

Steve doesn't mind. Only a little. He knows Dad has to travel. And some days Mom must work the swing shift.

Steve doesn't mind. Not very much. It's just that food doesn't make a dinner. It's like a vacuum when you're alone. And the evening -- what's to do?

Such vacuums can affect adversely the developing personality of a child. They can also test a child's sense of security and self-reliance.

We claim no expertise in child psychology. Our concern, however, is that there be no Sunday morning vacuum. A Steve whose character is being molded by spiritual and moral training, a Steve whose home has the atmosphere of religious conviction and integrity... such a Steve is better equipped to meet the tests of loneliness and freedom.

In many families we cannot alter circumstances--but we can foster quality of character to cope with it. The Church is ready to help!

"It's not nice to fool Mother Nature!" -- but it sure is fun and tastes great when it comes to fresh apples and apple products.

Not so long ago people cooked their own applesauce from fresh apples, but the only time they could enjoy its flavorful goodness was when apples were in season. The same was true about apple juice and apple cider -- the finished product only lasted until the juice eventually turned to vinegar.

Today consumers can enjoy a continuous supply of fresh, high quality apples most of the year.

If you are planning on making your own applesauce or apple juice this fall, right now is the time to select your apples. Large quantities of fresh apples are moving to market from apple producing areas around the U. S. Although this year's forecasted apple crop of 149 million cartons is just under last year's total, there will still be an abundance of fresh apples available in November.

For those who prefer canned apple products--there is no need to worry. Stocks of canned applesauce and applesauce and apple juice, one of the most economical of the fruit juices, are more than ample to supply consumer requirements in November. The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service has included canned applesauce and apple juice as well as fresh apples on its Plentiful Foods List for November.

Sometimes bruised and damaged apples are sold at bargain prices. Consider how you'll use them before buying. Baked apples and apple salads call for the most attractive apples, while apples for sauce, butter, jelly and cider may have blemishes.

Think "apples" in November. Try apple tarts, apple dumplings, Waldorf salad, fried apples, applesauce, cinnamon apples. Crisp apples make great snacks.

Foods on the U. S. D. A. November Plentiful Foods List include: Rice, turkeys, broiler-fryers, eggs, apples, applesauce, apple juice, cranberries.

"It's not nice to fool Mother Nature!" -- but it sure is fun and tastes great when it comes to fresh apples and apple products.

Not so long ago people cooked their own applesauce from fresh apples, but the only time they could enjoy its flavorful goodness was when apples were in season. The same was true about apple juice and apple cider -- the finished product only lasted until the juice eventually turned to vinegar.

Today consumers can enjoy a continuous supply of fresh, high quality apples most of the year.

If you are planning on making your own applesauce or apple juice this fall, right now is the time to select your apples. Large quantities of fresh apples are moving to market from apple producing areas around the U. S. Although this year's forecasted apple crop of 149 million cartons is just under last year's total, there will still be an abundance of fresh apples available in November.

For those who prefer canned apple products--there is no need to worry. Stocks of canned applesauce and applesauce and apple juice, one of the most economical of the fruit juices, are more than ample to supply consumer requirements in November. The U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Marketing Service has included canned applesauce and apple juice as well as fresh apples on its Plentiful Foods List for November.

Sometimes bruised and damaged apples are sold at bargain prices. Consider how you'll use them before buying. Baked apples and apple salads call for the most attractive apples, while apples for sauce, butter, jelly and cider may have blemishes.

Think "apples" in November. Try apple tarts, apple dumplings, Waldorf salad, fried apples, applesauce, cinnamon apples. Crisp apples make great snacks.

Foods on the U. S. D. A. November Plentiful Foods List include: Rice, turkeys, broiler-fryers, eggs, apples, applesauce, apple juice, cranberries.

he saw take the tape deck from the car.

A search for the missing tape deck was conducted and it was discovered behind the Trade Rite Grocery, where the people had stopped for milk before leaving town.

Evidently the man saw Castro observing his actions and decided to get rid of the evidence. He left an electric guitar and amplifier behind in the station wagon, no doubt due to haste.

The man was being held in Crockett County jail late Tuesday on charges of theft.

Care For Summer Wear Is Must When Putting Away

College Station--Fall is here so out come appropriate sweaters, jackets and coats. With the cooler weather, summer clothes are put away with expectations of a nice, fresh wardrobe next spring.

Marilyn Brown observed. The consumer education-clothing specialist with the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, Texas A&M University, said the homemaker should take certain steps prior to storage to keep clothes fresh and undamaged.

Unless stored clean or unsoiled under good conditions, clothes can come out of storage in poor shape.

"Store clothes in cool, dry areas. Warm, moist or humid areas are ideal environments for mildew--especially if any starch is left in the

"Once mildew is established, it's impossible to remove unless the fabric and dye can withstand bleaching."

Miss Brown offered another tip: "Never put away soiled clothing. Stains will draw moth larvae, which can quickly damage garments in dark closets."

In addition, the stain may set during the time in storage whereas it might have been easily removed if promptly treated.

"A few extra minutes of care now can result in a better conditioned wardrobe later," she concluded.
