Reds Rout 14 Nazi Divisions

20,000 Said Slain And Vast Stores Of Material Taken

By TOM YARBROUGH
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Saturday, March 11—Moscow announced yesterday that the Red Army had opened a third great offensive in the Ukraine and sent 14 Nazi divisions into such headlong retreat that they abandoned all their equipment—including 1,100 mired tanks and big guns—and lost 20,000 men killed.

The new offensive, heading south in the middle of the southern front, broke through on a 109-mile line, overran 300 populated places, including the pivotal stronghold of Uman and resulted in the capture of 2,500 Germans, the Russians said.

Stalin Order Of Day

The announcement was first made by Premier Marshall Joseph Stalin in an order of the day and later information was given in the Moscow communique and its midnight supplement—all recorded by the Soviet monitor from broadcasts.

The latest Soviet report, which revised the number of German divisions routed upward from 10 to 14, said the German units in flight included one artillery, six tank and seven infantry divisions.

"The true scale of the German defeat can be judged from the huge quantity of trophies captured by our troops," the late bulletin said. "Weapons, equipment and military supplies were strewn on the whole course of the road from the Gniloi Tikich river to the town of Uman. All the roads were packed with enemy tanks, self-propelled guns, armored troop carriers and trucks."

Five German "Adolf Hitler tank divisions" which "were intended to stop our offensive" were "compelled to abandon all their military and technical equipment and flee," said the Soviet daily communique, recorded by the Soviet monitor.

Entire Front Ablaze

This third offensive already has rolled forward from 25 to 44 miles in five days, Stalin announced in an order of the day, thus setting ablaze the entire Russian southern front along a curving battleline more than 500 miles long. It joined offensives already under way to the east above Nikolaev and Kherson and to the west in the region of Tarnopol.

The Germans were retreating on each of the three big fronts as the Red Army mounted a supreme effort to throw them back into Rumania and Poland or cut them to pieces if they should elect to make a stand in the Ukraine.

The latest push directed by newly-promoted Marshal Ivan S. Konev, commander of the second Ukrainian front, was pushing south toward Bessarabia from the top of the German salient into the Dnieper bend.

On his right were the First Ukrainian front forces under Marshal Gregory K. Zhukov moving

Germans Report Allied Landing

LONDON, March 10. (AP)—The Berlin radio said today that 1,500 British and American Commandos —"under the command of General Churchill"—have landed on the tiny Adriatic island of Lissa, and that other raids on the Dalmatian coast and nearby islands may be expected.

The German reference to a British general with the name of Churchill," suggested it might be Capt. Randolph Churchill, 32, Prime Minister Churchill's son who was recently reported to have parachuted into Yugoslavia to confer with Marshal Tito.

British sources said, however, they had no information about the reported landing or whether the raiders were led by Randolph Churchill. There has been no official announcement that American Rangers or British Commandos were in Yugoslavia.

Supply Base For Tito

The Germans said the landing was "probably designed" to secure the island—10 miles long and five miles wide—as a supply base "on behalf of Tito bands in southeast Europe," and added that it had yet to be determined whether the Commandos included the 2,000 Tito followers on Lissa.

The broadcast termed the raids of small military value but said they had propaganda value, "particularly towards the Tito bands which during the last few weeks have complained about the lack of British and American support."

Lissa is about 25 miles southwest of the Yugoslav port of Split and about 50 miles southwest of the nearest territory held by Tito's forces.

ITALIANS EAT BETTER

SOMEWHERE IN SOUTHERN ITALY, March 10 (AP)—Italians of southern Italy are getting more to eat, bread lines have disappeared, and locally-produced commodities are flowing more freely into regular trade channels after a clamp-down on black markets, Allied Control commission officials said today.

RAF Believed Out Over Conitnent

U. S. Crews Rest But Berlin Quakes

By GLADWIN HILL
Associated Press Staff Writer

LONDON, March 10. — The Paris radio clicked off the air tonight, indicating that RAF night bombers which last night blasted a Nazi airplane factory near Marseille, might have returned to deliver another blow at the German-dominated continent.

An air raid alarm sounded in Berlin today for several hours but no bombs were dropped, a Stockholm dispatch said. The alert presumably was caused by reconnaisance planes as American Flying Fortresses and Liberators took a day off after setting an endurance mark for large-scale heavy bombing by hitting the German capital four day out of six.

Berlin Still Burning

Travelers arriving in Malmoe, Sweden, from Germany said fires were still seen burning in Berlin today.

The heavy British Lancaster bombers winged through a bright "bomber's moon" last night to hit Marignane in the wake of the American daylight pounding of Berlin. It was the RAF's third straight night heavy bomber operation without the loss of a plane.

The German-controlled Scandanavian Telegraph bureau quoted both German and Swedish air passengers as saying that American bombers attacked Berlin from all directions on Wednesday. The noise of the engines could be heard in deep air raid shelters, they said, adding that the sky was "crowded with bombers."

Underground and elevated transportation systems were said to have been disrupted on both Wednesday and Thursday.

Flying Boat Factory

The RAF night blow was against a factory at Marignane building six-engined flying boats and converting French planes into troop carriers which the Germans sorely need. It is a part of the plane-manufacturing "reserve" which the Germans left in France when they moved many plants and much equipment to Germany.

It was the third such attack for the RAF in just over a month. A similar force using the new six-ton "factory-buster" bombs hit the Gnore-Rhone airplane engine factory at Limoges Feb. 8 and on

Magnet To Be Used In Hunt For Pistol

AMARILLO, March 10. (AP)—A powerful magnet will be used in a final hope of pulling from the slush of a Canadian river pool a pistol sought in the slayings of Dr. and Mrs. Roy Hunt of Littlefield last Oct. 26, Sheriff Bill Adams said today.

After an Amarillo man told officers he threw a pistol in the water after loaning his car on the night of the killings to a convict now held in the case, the river channel was diverted, leaving a pool. From this water has been pumped, in an effort to find the gun, but Sheriff Adams said this method appeared hopeless because slushy sand has been flowing into the pool faster than pumps could remove it. The magnet will not be ready for operation for several days.

Irish Refuse To Oust Axis Spy Leaders

U. S. Claims That Invasion Menaced

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 10.—The United States publicly accused Ireland tonight of affording a base for Axis spies endangering the approaching Allied invasion of Europe, but the Irish government replied it was taking effective anti-espionage measures and refused an appeal to expel German and Japanese diplomats from the country.

The State department announced that the request for expulsion of the enemy officials,

DEPLORED BY BRITISH

LONDON, Saturday, March 11 (AP)—The British press deplored today Prime Minister Eamon De Valera's rejection of a United States government request that Eire close the German legation and Japanese consulate in Dublin and the Yorkshire Post characterized the Irish action as "a deliberate rebuff."

The Yorkshire Post said that "Mr. De Valera can be under no misapprehension about the strength of American feeling of the necessity of closing the legations.

"His rejection of the American request can be construed only as a deliberate rebuff."

held to be leaders in the spy ring, was transmitted to Prime Minister De Valera at Dublin Feb. 21. The department made public the text of a note setting forth the spy accusations.

No Neglect Of Duty

Simultaneously the Irish legation here issued the text of De Valera's reply rejecting the request and stating that "should American lives be lost it will not be through any indifference or neglect of its duty on the part of this state."

De Valera also said he had received the assurance of the American government that it "does not contemplate" using military measures — presumably invasion of Ireland—because of rejection of the request that the Irish eject the enemy officials.

The American note, presented by Minister David Gray, had reminded the prime minister of the vast military preparations now under way in Britain and northern Ireland and declared it is

Cobb, In Death, Still Humorous

NEW YORK, March 10 (AP) — Irvin S. Cobb, one of America's best-known humorists, has voiced his last quip, written his last story.

The 67-year-old Paducah, Ky., author, actor and after-dinner speaker, died today at the Hotel Sheraton. He had been ill for three months.

In a coma during his last 24 hours, he was unable to keep a vow made last December to Kent Cooper, executive director of the Associated Press, that he would "keep friendly newspapers fully advised" when he got ready to depart.

Letter Of Instructions

In a letter, left in the office of the Paducah Sun-Democrat with instructions that it be opened after his death, Cobb asked that his body be cremated and the ashes used to fertilize a tree to be planted in Paducah, where he began his newspaper career.

The letter said he wanted no mourning, no flowers and no funeral in the traditional form.

In this 1,500-word document, Cobb revealed his views on death, funerals, the prospects of afterlife and religion.

"In death, I desire that no one shall look upon my face and once more I charge my family, as already and repeatedly I have done, that they shall put on none of the bogus habiliments of so-called mourning," he said.

Inexpensive Container

Asking that his ashes be placed in an inexpensive container, he continued:

"If anybody tries to insert me into one of those dismal numbers run up by the undertaker's dressmaking department, I'll come back and ha-nt 'em. Nor do I crave to make my mortal exit in a tail-

Post-War Talk Angers Boys; Winning War Said First Job

By RELMAN MORIN
Substituting For Hal Boyle

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 1. (Delayed) — A soldier wrote an angry letter to his service newspaper recently, expressing the thought of thousands of other soldiers in the Mediterranean when he said "let's stop all this post-war talk and get on with the dirty business of fighting."

A fervent "amen" to that, among both British and American troops, swept through this theater from Algiers to Anzio.

Post-war talk, when it doesn't actively infuriate the man in the field, merely bores him.

The reason is neither obscure nor complicated. It is simply that, in this theater, no evidence whatever has appeared to indicate that peace is anywhere near. To the average soldier it looks like a long war. The campaign in Italy is bleak, slow and costly. Perhaps the Germans are cracking, but the men at Anzio and Cassino haven't seen any signs yet.

So they ask, "why talk of post-war days when the war itself is so far from ending."

They don't allow themselves to think of it, particularly in the sectors where the fighting is hardest. In the rear areas and at base sections Army discussion groups may occasionally touch on a post-war program, but not at the front. Up there the men don't think beyond "the dirty business of fighting."

It would be a dangerous morale

Examiner Approves Air Service Here

No Opposition Offered To Braniff Plan; Line Expected To Start In Short Time

WASHINGTON, March 10. (Special) — Airline service for Lubbock within the next two to three months, perhaps sooner, apparently was assured today.

The seeming assurance was given when Thomas L. Wrenn, examiner for the Civil Aeronautics board, announced that he will recommend CAB approval of an application by Braniff Airways, Inc., to make Lubbock an intermediate stop between Wichita Falls and Amarillo on its Dallas to Denver line.

No Opposition Voiced

His announcement came at the conclusion of a hearing on the application during which all the evidence and testimony urged that favorable action be taken.

As had been indicated previously, no opposition to the application appeared. All parties having possible interest in the case agreed not to file briefs, make oral arguments, require notice of the examiner's recommendation or to insist upon any of the other procedures usual to such cases.

The consequence is, it was explained, Examiner Wrenn's recommendation will be submitted to CAB at once, ready for its immediate consideration and action. A decision by CAB within a month or less appears to be a reasonable expectation.

If the decision is favorable, Braniff officials said that another 30 to 60 days will be required to complete the details before the actual inauguration of service, which will require no additional equipment. The rendering of service, it was explained, simply will mean that the planes which now travel direct between Wichita Falls and Amarillo will be rerouted so as to include Lubbock.

While the exact schedule re-

$6,066 Added To Red Cross Fund; Total Now Is $59,670

Drive for Lubbock's $78,500 quota in the Red Cross War fund continued to move ahead Friday, but slowly.

Contributions reported during the day to General Chairman George P. Kuykendall totaled $6,066.88, and boosted the total for the drive to $59,670.93—still nearly $20,000 short of the quota.

Of the new contributions reported, $2,071.35 came from Idalou rural school district. The report, which was described as being still incomplete for Idalou, was the first to be made from any of the rural areas of the county.

Not included in the day's totals reported from drive headquarters was $424.34, contributed by school pupils of the city through their classrooms. The opportunity to contribute in the drive was given because of the expressed wish of a great many children, the chairman said.

School Contributions

The school contributions, as reported to Floyd Honey, principal of Senior High school, were as follows: Junior High school, $155.94; Senior High school, $78.07; Central Ward, $24.25; Dupre, $49.50; George M. Hunt, $12.81; George R. Bean, $36.36; Guadalupe, $2.76; and Roscoe Wilson, $64.65.

Reports from K. Carter, Sanders and Dunbar (negro) schools will be made Monday, Honey was advised.

The general chairman urged again that workers who have not reported should do so as soon as possible. Many reports still are out in the employe groups division, he added.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, March 10 (AP)—Mrs. Franklin D. Roosevelt asked at a press conference today whether the president intended to seek a fourth term, replied:

"I never talk to the president about those things. I don't think a man's family has any right to influence him in things like that, which are truly important and which must be decided from circumstances at that time. I have no idea whether the president will run for a fourth term and I doubt very much that the president knows."

Reds To Get U. S., British Fleet Units

FDR Denies All Hints Of Conflict

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, March 10 — American and British warships will be turned over to the Russian Navy in satisfaction of Soviet wartime claims on the Italian fleet, informed reports said today and were apparently borne out by statements from President Roosevelt.

At the chief executive's press-radio conference, the gist of these reports—as related in an Associated Press dispatch—was read by a reporter who asked for comment.

Mr. Roosevelt replied that it was a matter of military strategy which ships were going where and perhaps he had better not say.

No Conflict With British

Along the same line, however, he told the newsmen emphatically that there was no conflict whatsoever between what he has said and what Prime Minister Churchill has said about the Italian fleet.

It would have been apparent all along that there was no controversy, he asserted, if some reports of what he said a week ago had not left out certain key words.

"Were those key words 'or the equivalent'?" a reported asked.

They were, Mr. Roosevelt agreed.

The President first disclosed last Friday that Moscow had made a claim on the Italian Navy since Marshal Badoglio's surrender was to Britain, the United States and Russia. He said it had been half-decided to transfer to the Red Navy about one-third of the Italian fleet or the equivalent.

Word Implication

(The Associated Press account for morning papers of March 4 reported the words "or equivalent," said they were not expressly clarified—and added that they left the possible implications the Russians "might take some other types of war materials of equivalent value, rather than ships "or" if ships of the categories desired by the Russians are not available in required numbers, Britain or

Fanatical Japs Break U. S. Lines

GUADALCANAL, Saturday, March 11. (AP)—Striking during a rainstorm and under cover of low mists, Japanese broke through barbed wire entanglements Thursday on the northern perimeter of the American lines at Empress Augusta bay on Bougainville in the northern Solomons.

A 32nd division spokesman said the enemy succeeded in occupying a few machine gun pillboxes on commanding ground.

Meanwhile, Japanese artillery continued to shell the American perimeter and the two airstrips. A United States dive bomber on patrol was shot down by Japanese machineguns. Other American planes were damaged on the ground.

American artillery during the night and early morning poured about 2,000 rounds into the Japanese force sighted in the area Wednesday. The force had been spotted by a sergeant on patrol. The sergeant, Carrol R. Kinley, of Hummelstown, Pa., killed three Japanese, then got back to his lines.

The Nipponese were trying infiltration tactics. Two of the enemy were killed inside the American barbed wire barricades and about 25 along the northern perimeter in three days.

Japanese mortars dropped shells in the airfield area, but the airstrips remained active, reported Navy Lt. (jg) Tom Lambert, of Spokane, Wash.

(At the time the enemy attack appeared to be developing, American headquarters on Bougainville pointed out it would be in the nature of a suicidal assault and probably was prompted by knowledge of the Japanese there that they had been left to inevitable starvation.)

HOUSTON, March 10 (AP)—Mrs. Wessie Jenkins McNeill, 61, teacher in the Houston public schools for 35 years, died last night after an illness of three weeks.

Talasea Falls To Marines

Peninsula Cut And Japs On North End Caught In Trap

By C. YATES McDANIEL
Associated Press Staff Writer

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Southwest Pacific, Saturday, March 11—United States Marines captured Talasea airdrome Wednesday and then wheeled north to occupy the township the following day, thus cutting in two the Willaumez peninsula of north New Britain which they invaded only last Monday.

Headquarters reported the victories today. The successes firmly implanted Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces more than 100 miles east of their Cape Gloucester holdings and within 170 miles of bomb-ravaged Rabaul.

No Details Available

No details were available concerning the final fight for the airstrip and town but a spokesman said enemy reaction, which had developed several hours after units of the First Marine division gained its beachhead Monday, reached its peak of intensity Tuesday.

The Leathernecks, who landed on the peninsula's west coast opposite Talasea, cleared a path through land mines and began a push across the five-mile-wide peninsula.

The occupation of Talasea trapped any Japanese caught on the northern tip of the narrow land strip which sticks up like a sore thumb from the northern coast.

Advance On Admiralty

In the invaded Admiralty islands to the north of the New Britain action, cavalrymen have pushed their steadily expanding lines three and a half miles northwest of captured Momote airdrome on Los Negros. Japanese planes strafed the sector without effect.

In still another action on the borders on the Bismarck sea, Americans moving west of Saidor toward Madang achieved steady progress.

In the vicinity of Dutch New Guinea, Catalina planes bombed shipping, causing one medium cargo vessel to be beached and compelling Japanese to abandon another.

Unable to crack the strong lines established on Los Neegros island of the Admiralties by dismounted units of American cavalry, many of the Mikado's front-line troops took their own lives or openly invited death rather than admit defeat.

Nips Destroy Selves

A delayed dispatch from Asahel, Bush, Associated Press war correspondent with the First Cavalry division, graphically related how Nipponese soldiers plunged swords into their own vitals or destroyed themselves by holding grenades against their chests.

Pvt. Dan Burnett of Franklin, N. C., told Bush he saw "a dozen or so Nips gather in a circle in a

Rail Yards At Rome Battered

Nazi Dead Clutter Beachhead Ground

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS, Naples, March 10. (AP)—American medium bombers attacked Rome's railway yards again today.

(The Nazi-controlled Rome radio said "a large number of houses were hit and it is feared casualties are high." Two of the American raiders were declared to have crashed in flames at the outskirts of the city.)

Marauders escorted by American-manned Spitfires bombed the Tiburtina yards in the eastern suburbs, hitting rolling stock and warehouses, it was announced here.

The Littorio yards on the northern outskirts of the city were bombed by Mitchells under Thunderbolt escort. Crewmen reported hits on tracks and cars crowded at the northern end of the yards.

Nazi Dead Clutter Ground

Two small but vicious German stabs at American positions southeast of Carroceto on the Anzio beachhead were repulsed by Yank infantry at dawn yesterday, leaving no-man's land so cluttered with enemy dead and wounded that German details required several hours to remove them under a Red Cross flag of truce.

The two attacks gained not a yard of ground, reported Associated Press correspondent George Tucker from the beachhead.

Supplementing yesterday's estimate that 40,000 casualties had been inflicted upon the Germans in Italy since Jan. 22, when the landing was made at Anzio, headquarters announced that the total of Nazi prisoners taken in Italy now had passed 15,000. Of these, 3,000 were taken on the beachhead and 1,500 in and around Cassino.

Shelling Dwindles

German shelling of the beachhead has dwindled to its lowest point in over a month, with only some 20 shells daily from long-range guns now falling in Anzio and vicinity.

The weather continued bad throughout central Italy, sharply limiting ground action, but floods were receding in the Cassino sector, where streams were out of their banks a few days ago.

Allies Cuff Japs In Burma Theater

NEW DELHI, March 10 (AP)—Chinese-American forces under Gen. Joseph W. Stilwell smashed southward three to four miles in the Hukawng valley of north Burma in the past 24 hours while Chinese troops continued to chop up trapped Japanese in the Ngamaw G-Walawbum-Ninghku Ga area, killing 600, it was announced today.

U. S. medium and fighter-bombers raided Shwebo, Anisakan and Bauk airfields in central Burma, escorted by RAF fighters, with "highly successful" results. Preliminary reports indicate 46 enemy aircraft were destroyed, and great destruction was caused to field installations.

Japanese concentrations at Ma-Gaung and Kamaing in north Burma were attacked by medium and heavy bombers of the U. S. Air force, and a bridge was destroyed. Later raids loosed 100,000 pounds of bombs on the two towns, and large fires were started.

Farrell Is New Argentine Chief

BUENOS AIRES, March 10 (AP) Gen. Edelmiro J. Farrell, who had served for two weeks as acting president of Argentina, assumed the office of president today upon the resignation of Gen. Pedro Pablo Ramirez.

Col. Gregorio Tauber, executive secretary of the presidency, announced the action which made Farrell the titular chief executive. This latest change in Argentina's kaleidoscopic political picture came after Ramirez—whose administration previously had broken relations with the Axis—delegated his executive powers to Farrell two weeks ago on the ground that he was fatigued by the tasks of office.

Neither the text of Ramirez' resignation nor of the manifesto which explained the change to the public has been disclosed.

Court Remains Aloof

The supreme court, which received copies of both documents yesterday, met this morning and decided to acknowledge their receipt and place them on file. This was interpreted to mean that the court intends to remain aloof from this latest change.

(At a press conference in Washington U. S. Secretary of State Cordell Hull said Friday that the situation inside Argentina was in such a state of confusion at the moment that it defied intelligent or accurate comment.)

The effect of Ramirez' gesture on Argentina's foreign relations was variously interpreted here.

U. S. Ace Says 15 Good Days Will Doom Nazi Luftwaffe

A FIGHTER BASE IN ENGLAND, March 10. (AP)—"Give us 15 more good days when we can get the Jerries up and I think it will mean the war is won as far as the Luftwaffe is concerned," Capt. Walker Mahurin, leading fighter ace in the European theater, said today.

While his prediction definitely was on the optimistic side it showed how American fighter pilots feel about this week's savage air battles during which the men flying Thunderbolts, Mustangs and Lightnings have shot down 197 enemy aircraft.

The former Fort Wayne, Ind., clerk's 20 victories are only six under the American World war II record of 26 held jointly by Marine Major Greogory Boyington, missing in action since last January, and Marine Major Joe Foss. Captain Eddie Rickenbacker topped America's aces in the last war, also with 26 triumphs.

Mahurin likes to see Berlin under his wing tips.

"It shows the trend more than anything else when we can go all the way in there and shoot them up," he observed. "We definitely have superiority now."

Mahurin frankly admitted he is "scared to death" on every flight. "I think a lot of us are," he added in the interview.

March 10, 1944

DEAR:—

The Red Cross War Fund has been the favorite topic of conversation about town this week. We are happy to report the mothers and wives and sisters raised their quota, $10,000, with a margin of $134.27. They were boosted by the sale of an 1,880-pound Longhorn steer donated by Tobe Foster, local ranchman and oil man. The steer was sold at auction Thursday.

Although the men are short of their goal, we've an idea it will be met all right. Lubbock county's goal was set at $78,500.

O. W. Ribble, candidate for mayor, and J. Ray Dickey, for city commissioner, have filed formal applications for places on the ballot in the city election April 4.

Mayor Carl Slaton and Commissioners J. O. Jones and Garland Newsom are not seeking re-election.

After an Amarillo man, friend of Jim Thomas, who is held in questioning in the murder of Dr. and Mrs. Roy Hunt in their Littlefield home last October, said he threw a gun in the Canadian river, officers sought to divert the channel in trying to find the weapon. The Amarilloan said he had lent Thomas his car the night of the slayings and Thomas had visited him the next morning. The gun had been in a drawer in his quarters where anyone could have gone in and taken it unknown to him. His fears were so aroused over the thought, he threw the gun in the river.

Search was called off after the sand had been lowered three feet and nothing was found except more sand.

The sheriff and rangers say the case eventually will be worked out in spite of discouragements.

The Avalanche-Journal papers will refer to the negro section of Lubbock by the name finally chosen by the residents there—"Carver Heights."

A dozen or more suggestions for renaming the secion, long known as "The Flats," were made after the idea was advanced in The Plainsman Says column written by Chas. A. Guy in The Evening Journal, that even the best intentioned residents of the colored area couldn't overcome the horrid term.

The "Carver" part of the name is in honor of the late scientist, George Washington Carver.

On the sports front we learned this week that spring football practice is to begin at Texas Tech Monday. Every position will be filled, except centers. To date no one has applied for that berth. Jack Dillon of Chillicothe, who was one of the first grid stars to be drafted to the armed service from the Red Raiders' ranks, has returned to Tech to resume his athletic career after receiving an honorable discharge from the Army.

Henry Frnka, University of Tulsa head football coach and athletic director, has signed a new five-year contract, school officials there announced this week.

Elmer "Red" Durrett, who played with the Lamesa club during the West Texas-New Mexico Baseball league 1940 season, has been signed by the Montreal Royals of the AA International league, according to Sporting News, official baseball publication.

Five new park sites in outlying suburban areas have been purchased and three existing parks are to be enlarged, it was announced at a special meeting of the city parks board last Tuesday night. Total cost of the program is not to exceed $60,000, according to K. N. Clapp, chairman and spokesman for the parks board.

Nominees for queen of Tech's Junior prom March 24 have been announced as: Celestine Wheeler, Tulia; Mary Wells, Anton; Jackie Wilkison, Friona; Francine Young, Lubbock; Betty Herring, Roswell, N. M.; Lucille Melton, Olton.

It's Col. Bryan Harper now. Announcement of the promotion was received this week from Page field, Fort Myers, Fla., where Colonel Bryan is commanding officer of a fighter group.

This week's loveliest parties have been given in honor of Miss Eunice Klett, bride-elect of Capt. Emmet Shannon of Richmond. Their marriage will take place here next Saturday.

That's all this time.

Prehistoric Reptile May Throw New Light On Geological Data

AUSTIN, March 10. (AP) — A horny-backed, cigar-shaped prehistoric reptile found in a quarry in Howard county may throw new light on an important geological formation through which drillers pass in seeking oil and water.

H. J. Sawin, assistant geologist in the university's bureau of economic geology, will begin the second of his studies of vertebrate fossils found in the triassic formation, which underlies the high plains of Texas, some of Oklahoma, much of New Mexico and extends down into Mexico, Dr. E. H. Sellards, bureau director said today.

Significance of this and other studies of these fossils lies in the fact that they aid in identifying and correlating the various subdivisions of the formation.

As complete information on the aspects of the formation becomes available, oil drillers — piercing this formation en route to the deeper oil-bearing Pennsylvanian and Permian formations—will be better able to chart their progress, Dr. Sellards explained.

LAAF's Red Cross Total Now $3,244

The enlisted men, Womens Army corps and aviation cadets still were by far the largest group contributors with a total from these sources of $1844.45. Last year's drive netted the Red Cross $2700 and Major Goulding expressed hope today that the field would exceed last year contributions by at least $1,000.

New Policy Announced On Service Men In Politics

BY D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 10 — President Roosevelt today approved a joint Army-Navy policy agreement which would permit General Douglas MacArthur, Lieut. Commander Harold E. Stassen or other members of the armed forces to become candidates for elective office, but would bar them from campaigning.

A regular Army or Navy man, such as MacArthur, could become a candidate, however, only if a nomination "is tendered without direct or indirect activity or solicitation on his part" while a member of the reserve on active duty, such as Stassen, could announce as a candidate without waiting on a nomination.

Requires Release From Duty

The new regulations, clarifying previous ones and bringing those of the Army and Navy into line for the first time, require release from active duty for any military man elected to public office.

They were made public at a news conference with the presidential comment that they were not new and were not directed at any one in particular.

The day brought other political developments, including:

1—A letter from Secretary of War Stimson telling Senator Vandenberg (R-Mich) that he had ordered discontinued from future issues of the Army War college library bulletin a list of magazine reprints which the senator said contained a "smear" article against the man he wants to see president —General MacArthur.

Unity Luncheon

2—A "unity" luncheon at the capitol participated in by 49 of the 58 Democratic senators, including members of all factions, and officers of the Democratic national committee, in honor of the new secretary of the committee. The luncheon was tendered by Chairman O'Mahoney (D-Wyo) of the Democratic Senatorial campaign committee. Senator Guffey (D-Pa) his predecessor in the chairmanship, was among those absent. Eight were out of town.

3—Chairman Robert E. Hannegan of the Democratic National committee, who addressed the luncheon, told reporters that "hundreds" of Democrats with whom he had talked in his travels over the country favored a fourth term for the President.

4—Senator Gillette (D-Iowa), who had repeatedly announced he wanted to retire, telegraphed Iowa Democratic leaders he would be a candidate for re-election after all —a decision which prompted Hannegan to predict that Iowa will go Democratic.

Reds Get Ships

the United States might supply them.")

In some quarters the President's remarks were interpreted to mean there was to be an immediate three-way split-up of the Italian fleet and some disquiet was stirred in Italy and Britain with the result that Prime Minister Churchill discussed the matter in Commons yesterday.

Italian Fleet Intact

As the situation now stands, the Associated Press learned here today, the plan is to assign a dozen or more British and American warships to Russia while keeping the Italian fleet intact in the Mediterranean where it now is operating under Allied direction.

At one time, it was contemplated that about one-third of the Italian fleet would be transferred to the Soviets for the rest of the war. The expectation then was that Turkey would join the Allied cause as a belligerent, the Germans would be cleared from their island bases astride the Mediterranean entrance to the Dardanelles, and the ships could be moved into the Black Sea where Russia could make very good use of them.

The prospect of Turkish belligerency has diminished, however, and it appears the Russians could best use additional seapower on convoy routes to northern ports.

Ships Better Suited

The Italian ships were not designed for operation in cold seas and hence American or British-built ships would be better suited to this use. Chances are that most of the ships the Russians receive will be of American origin.

On the basis of what has been disclosed concerning the surrendered Italian fleet, it appears the Russian claim would embrace one or two battleships, two to four cruisers, nine destroyers and several submarines and smaller craft.

On convoy work, the Soviets could best use destroyers and other lighter vessels, and translating the Russian claim into "equivalent" is reported to be the major unsolved question now in the whole matter.

GEORGE SMITH DIES

DALLAS, March 10 (AP) — George Smith, former business manager of the Corpus Christi Caller, died at the Veterans hospital at Lisbon, Tex., today. Smith served as business manager for the paper in the early 30's, after several years as advertising manager.

Irish Refuse Plea

"vital that information from which may be deduced their nature and direction shuld not reach the enemy."

Many Lives At Stake

"Not only the success of the operation but the lives of thousands of United States soldiers are at stake."

Specific evidence of enemy espionage operations within Ireland were given in the assertions that (1) the German legation in Dublin, at least until recently, had possessed a radio sending set and (2) German planes had dropped into Ireland two parachutists equipped with radio sending apparatus.

While acknowledging Ireland's good faith in their efforts to maintain strict neutrality, the United States said it actually is impossible to determine "with certainty" the extent of the enemy's Irish-based espionage against American shipping and troops.

It then cited the fact that German and Japanese diplomatic and consular officers in Dublin still enjoy their customary immunity and declared "Axis representatives in every country use these special privileges and immunities as a cloak for espionage activities against the United States."

Complete Break Sought

The Irish government was specifically requested to force the recall to their homelands of the enemy officials and the American note expressed the hope that this would be accomplished by a complete break in relations between Ireland and the Axis.

De Valera replied to this that forcing removal of diplomatic officials "is universally recognized as the first step toward war" and he added that the Irish government "could not entertain the American proposal without a complete betrayal of their democratic trust. . . . Irish neutrality represents the united will of the people and the parliament."

On the charge that the German minister had a radio transmitter, De Valera said he had ben "debarred from using it" for a long time and that for "some months" it had been in the custody of the Irish government.

'Chutists Rounded Up

"As regards the two parachutists dropped in Ireland last December," the Irish reply said, "they were apprehended within a few hours. Two other agents dropped here since the war began met a similar fate. The fifth, who arrived during the first year of the war, remained at large until Dec. 31, 1941, but the police were aware of his presence here almost from the first moment of landing and successful activities on his part were rendered impossible."

In commenting on Ireland's counter-espionage activities, De Valera said that including the captured parachutists a total of 10 foreign and two Irish nationals are now held in Irish prisons because they were "suspected of intentions to engage in espionage."

"These are the facts," he said, "and it is doubtful if any other country can show such a record of care and successful vigilance."

British Support Plea

He also disclosed that the British government had officially given support to the United States in its efforts to have the Axis officials ousted.

"The Irish government do not wish to comment on this," he said, "except to remark that it is perhaps not known to the American government that the feelings of the Irish people towards Britain have undergone a considerable change precisely because Britain has not attempted to violate our neutrality."

The American note caused extreme tension in Ireland for several days after its delivery and the Irish Army was ordered to stand by for action along the Ulster border in the period of Feb. 25 to Feb. 28.

Feared Military Move

The Irish apparently were apprehensive lest a rejection of the note should result in an Anglo-American military move against Ireland. On one occasion during the period of tension the Irish minister to Washington, Robert Brennan called at the State department here and is understood to have inquired specifically whether the Allies intended a military stroke at Ireland. He was told, according to reliable reports, that Ireland was safe from Anglo-American invasion.

The Irish have other problems of a more practical nature involving Britain and the United States. Only last week Brennan asked Undersecretary of State Stettinius about the possibility of acquiring two American merchant ships to haul wheat to his country. The Irish have a 20 per cent deficit in wheat supplies. Presumably Ireland's economic dependence on Britain and the United States give those two countries some pressures which may be exercised if London and Washington want to use them.

Sleep researchers claim that only 16 per cent of the world's people know how to relax completely.

Plant Workers Remain Off Job

BROWNFIELD, March 10 (Special)—Most of the employes of the local plant of the Arizona Chemical Co., today continued to stay away from their jobs in what they term an attempt to obtain an early hearing before the War Labor board on a request for recognition as a collective bargaining agency.

A spokesman for the striking employes said they notified the management Wednesday night of their plans to "walk out" at 10 o'clock the next morning if the company did not agree to aid in getting early action on the request. He alleged that at 1 o'clock Thursday morning the company instituted a "lock-out" and began shutting down the plant.

Conciliator Expected

A War Labor board conciliator, who today was reported on his way here to look into the controversy, had not arrived late tonight.

The plant was still in the stages of shutting down, with five men who refused to participate in the "walk-out" and two union supporters at work. The group had agreed to keep a skeleton crew on the job while the plant tapered down operations.

Production was halted Thursday.

A CIO representative has been negotiating with the plant's personnel for several months, it was reported.

A subsidiary of the American Cyanamid & Chemical corp., the plant makes "salt cake", a substance used in the manufacture of heavy wrapping paper.

Airline Service

mains to be arranged, the service proposed would put Lubbock within approximately two hours of the Fort Worth-Dallas district and within five hours or less of Denver. At terminal and points along the route, fast connections with any point in the United States will be provided.

Davis Presents Evidence

Witnesses at the hearing today include A. B. Davis, manager of Lubbock Chamber of Commerce, Dale Miller of Dallas, Bill Holden of Fort Worth, R. W. Knight of Wichita Falls, Congressman Eugene Worley of Amarillo, Charles E. Beard, vice president of Braniff Airways, and Terrell C. Drinkwater, an executive of Continental Air lines, which is awaiting a decision on an application to establish an airline between Tulsa, Okla., and Hobbs, N. M., via Shawnee, Oklahoma City and Lawton, Okla., and Wichita Falls and Lubbock, Texas.

Davis was on the stand approximately an hour, considerably longer than any other witness, and introduced voluminous exhibits supporting the application into hearing. Drinkwater and others testified to the need for an airline service between Lubbock and the Texas South Plains and the Fort Worth-Dallas district.

BRANIFF PREPARED TO START ON SHORT NOTICE

DALLAS, March 10. (AP)—Braniff Airways will be prepared to serve Lubbock as a stop on the Denver, Colo., and Fort Worth-Dallas air route as soon as designation of the route and approval of airport facilities there are received from the Civil Aeronautics board, officials said tonight.

The designation is expected sometime within the next month following announcement in Washington that Examiner Thomas L. Wrenn of the CAB would recommend that the West Texas city be given the proposed service.

Another Victim Of Officer's Gun Dies

RIVERSIDE, Calif., March 10 (AP)—Capt. Aubrey Serfling, shot, allegedly by a fellow officer Sunday night, died tonight in the camp hospital. His wife, who flew here from their Preston, Minn., home, was at his side.

Serfling was the fourth victim of a service pistol which a coroner's jury said was wielded by 2nd Lt. Beaufort G. Swancutt. The latter was reported recovering from gun wounds inflicted by civil policemen, and army officials said he would face a court martial when he is able to be brought into court. Also dead are Dorothy Douglas, and Lourdine Livermore, each 19, and policeman Arthur Simpson.

Three other victims of the shooting, 2nd Lts. Harry J. Light and Aldace Minard and Cpl. Robert Sampson were reported recovering from their wounds at the camp hospital.

STATEMENTS TO BE DUE

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP) First returns under the new tax law's provisions requiring labor unions and other organizations to file financial statements with the Treasury will be due May 15. A formal announcement to this effect will be made next week.

Soda should seldom be used in cooking, since it destroys vitamins.

PRESIDENT AT 28—Robert R. M. Carpenter, jr., 28, new president of the Philadelphia Phillies, holds his son, Robert, 3rd., three, as Mrs. Carpenter holds daughter Mary, one.

Chair Assessed Man Who Drowned Family

DALLAS, March 10 (AP)—Chesley A. Gragg, 41-year-old cement plant worker, was convicted and sentenced to death today by a district court jury which heard only circumstantial evidence to support the state's charge that he drowned his wife, Flora, and 10-year-old stepson.

The two drowned last June 16 in a borrow pit. Gragg did not testify, and no evidence was presented by the defense, which asked an instructed verdict of not guilty on grounds the state's circumstantial evidence did not prove guilt beyond a doubt. The instructed verdict was refused.

State testimony included:

Ann White, 20, of Mt. Pleasant, identified in court diamond engagement and wedding rings and a wrist watch she said she received after the drownings. Thirty-three love letters allegedly written to Miss White by Gragg were read in court. One was written the night after the deaths and another on the day of the funerals.

clearing after we had thrown them back" and blast themselves to death by the grenade method.

The dispatch, dated March 5, apparently referred to the desperate assaults made by the Japanese through the night of March 3 in their final effort to crack the American lines. Gen. Douglas MacArthur, reporting that battle in his March 5 communique, said wave after wave of Nipponese was destroyed before they "finally recoiled in complete defeat after one of the fiercest encounters of the war."

Americans were cleaning up Los Negros today of the last elements of resistance. Their supporting warships and supply vessels had entered nearby Seadler harbor.

SIX PACIFIC RAIDS MEET NO ENEMY INTERCEPTION

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP) Six bombing raids were carried out Wednesday against Japanese positions in the Marshall and Caroline islands without any fighter opposition and only slight anti-aircraft fire.

The Navy told of the raids today in this Pacific fleet announcement:

"Seventh Army Air force Liberators attacked Ponape and Kusaie in the Caroline islands on March 8 (west longitude date). Airdrome and dock facilities at Ponape were bombed and ground installations were hit at Kusaie.

"On the same day four enemy bases in the eastern Marshall islands were attacked by Army and Marine aircraft of Fleet Air Wing Two. Air fields and gun emplacements were principal targets.

"There was no fighter interception on any of these raids, and damage from anti-aircraft fire was light."

Okay Of Simplified Income Tax Bill Seen

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—Chairman George (D-Ga) of the Senate finance committee predicted tonight that an income tax simplification bill eliminating the filing of returns on incomes up to $5,000 will be passed and sent to the president within 60 days.

"This will affect some 30,000,000 taxpayers," he told a press conference.

He and Chairman Doughton (D-NC) of the House ways and means committee declared in a joint statement that every effort would be made to limit the new legislaltion to simplification of the individual income tax law—a theme which Treasury Secretary Morgenthau likewise stressed at a press conference a short time earlier.

Hardships Of World War I Said Exceeded

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP) Maj. Gen. Troy H. Middleton, who has fought in two wars, says that "at no time in World war did I see front line infantry soldiers face such hardships from the weather and the enemy as they are enduring in Italy today."

Middleton, in private life the dean of Louisiana State university, commanded the 45th infantry division throughout the campaign in Sicily and in Italy until a knee ailment forced him to come to Walter Reed Army hospital here for treatment. Now returned overseas, Middleton was interviewed while here, the Army disclosed today.

Middleton, in this interview, said that despite constant mud, the almost continuous rain and snow, and the fact that the front line troops are cold all of the time and wet more often than dry, the morale and spirit of the men is "absolutely marvelous."

The 45th originally was made up of Oklahoma national guardsmen but fillers and replacements for the division since have come from all over the country.

Bomber Forays

March 2 plants near Paris and Albert in northern France were bombed.

The "bomber's moon" campaign has been devised to take advantage of the usual period when the RAF's night fleet is prevented by the bright light from making heavy attacks deep in the continent. As the moon wanes in the next week or ten days it is possible that big RAF forces will resume the coordinated campaign with the American Air Force.

Movement Is On For Wage Control Law

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP) With pressure mounting for higher wartime wages, a movement developed on Capitol Hill today to write into law the "Little Steel formula" curbing wages.

Representatives Gore (D-Tenn) and Monroney (D-Okla) announced they will seek to add wage restraints to legislation prolonging the life of the Office of Price Administration, now due to expire June 30. Hearings on a measure to extend OPA began today before the Senate banking committee.

The wage control issue got attention at the capitol as an offstage AFL-CIO rivalry for prestige accelerated a campaign to overturn the Little Steel Formula, and the troubled War Labor board turned to the White House for guidance.

Irvin Cobb Death

coat with white tie and artificial pearl studs.

"I'll be done with after-dinner speaking forever, so why dispatch me hence in all the regalia of the craft?"

He said his idea of an epitaph would be, "anyhow, he left here," but added that might offend the pious. As another suggestion he offered this: "I have come back home."

The tree, he said, would be monument enough but he had no objection if his survivors wished to mark the spot with a simple bronze plate or a slab of Kentucky limestone "set flat in the kindly earth."

Wants No Flowers

Cobb suggested that anyone disposed to send flowers use the money for some non-denominational charity.

"Above all I want no long faces and no show of grief at the burying ground," he directed.

He asked that there be no reading of "the so-called Christian burial service which, in view of the language employed in it, I regard as one of the most cruel and paganish things inherited by our forbears from our remote pagan ancestors."

He said that perhaps the pastor of the First Presbyterian church in Paducah would consent to read the 23rd Psalm which "contains no charnel words."

No Threat Of Hellfire

Cobb added that the Psalm "carries no threat of eternal hellfire for those parties we do not like, no direct promise of a heaven, which, if one may judge by the people who are surest of going there, must be a powerfully dull place, populated to a considerable and uncomfortable degree by prigs, time-servers and unpleasantly aggressive individuals.

"Hell may have a worse climate but undoubtedly the company is sprightlier."

"One advantage of dying," Cobb said, "is that it affords a fellow opportunity to say a lot of things that have been curdling in his system all these years. Frankly, I'm enjoying myself."

A friend of the family said here that the body would be cremated Monday and the ashes taken to Paducah.

Mrs. Cobb and a nurse were with him when he died. He is survived also by a daughter, Mrs. Elizabeth Cobb Rogers of New York.

Filings Made By Ribble, Dickey

Formal applications for places on the ballot in the city election April 4, have been filed by O. W. Ribble, as candidate for mayor, and J. Ray Dickey, for city commission place 2, according to information given at the city hall Friday.

Fred Childress, whose candidacy for commission place No. 4 was announced last Sunday along with those of Ribble and Dickey, will file a similar application later, it was said.

No other candidacies have been filed for the places on the city commission which are to be vacated by Mayor Carl E. Slaton and Commissioners J. O. Jones and Garland Newsom, who are not seeking re-election.

Applications for places on the printed ballot must be filed with Miss Lavenia Williams, city secretary, not less than 10 days before the election date.

Russian Front

into southern Poland and toward Rumania and on his left were the Third Ukrainian front troops of Gen. Rodion Y. Malinovsky.

Zhukov's forces "continued to fight street battles in the town of Tarnopol," the communique said, while his left wing captured the district center of Khmelniki and more than 30 other populated places. Khmelniki is on the Ukrainian Bug river, 34 miles northwest of Vinnitsa. Also captured was the rail station of Uladovka, 22 miles northwest of Vinnitsa.

Malinovsky's troops swept up 150 more communities in the area west of Krivoi Rog, the communiyue said, and "retreating under the blows of our troops, the enemy is suffering huge losses of men and material."

The Russians captured Novgorodka, a district center 21 miles southeast of Korovograd, and the rail stations of Kazanka, 75 miles northeast of Nikolaev.

Soldier Reaction

factor if they did.

Let a soldier hear a peace rumor, let him think that the armistice is near, and immediately he becomes a very cautious soldier. Quite naturally he doesn't want to risk his neck just then. What he wants is to stay safely in his foxhole until the moment they call "cease firing."

And so they don't think or talk peace or post-war in the line in Italy.

Morale is good for the very reason that the troops, however much they would like to believe otherwise, can see no early end to the war. They know they are winning, but they also know how much is yet to be won.

Their reaction to post-war talk is that the people at home don't know how much is left, don't know how hard the job is, and have ceased to worry about the war as such.

To the man facing a German tank or listening to the approaching scream of a dive bomber, the war is all that exists. He has neither time nor energy for anything else.

HERE'S CONFIDENCE

STOCKHOLM, March 10 (AP) — Some residents of Berlin have so much confidence in the accuracy of American bombers sent against industrial targets that they climb onto roofs to watch the air battles, a traveler from the German capital said today.

Favorites Clash Today For Lubbock Boys' Doubles Title

A rematch of the finals in the recent practice tennis tournament of Lubbock High will be staged again this morning at 10 o'clock when Jerry LeMond and Dale Cooper battle Billy Walker and Billy Hester for the boys doubles crown of the school.

The two teams, favored in the opening round, brushed by preliminary opponents Friday afternoon at the Dupree courts to set up the final match today.

LeMond and Cooper were the only ones pressed to win as Louis Hawkins and Johnny Cole turned on the pressure in the first set, but were beaten 7-5, 6-1 in the match.

Walker and Hester had little trouble in sliding by Joe Dean Payne and David Mohle in the other match, winning in straight sets by 6-1, 6-0 margins.

The winner of today's match will represent Lubbock in the boys doubles in Interscholastic League meets this spring. The girls doubles team of Francys Peters and Juanice Bagwell was unopposed.

Mack Reveals 26 Are Signed By Athletics

PHILADELPHIA, March 10. (U.P.)—A personnel check-up by Manager Connie Mack of the Philadelphia Athletics revealed today that 26 players had signed their 1944 contracts and will be on hand when the team begins spring training at Frederick, Md., next Sunday.

Luke (Hot Potato) Hamlin, former Major League pitcher who had a brilliant year with Toronto in the International League last season, definitely is a holdout, Mack said. Hamlin returned a contract which offered him $4,500, a $3 per cent increase over his salary at Toronto, Mack said.

Other Athletic players as yet unsigned are rookie outfielder Bill Burgo, who wants more than the $3,000 he was offered, and Louis (Bobo) Newsom. Newsom, Mack said, was not a holdout but had not decided definitely to play baseball this year.

Sinkwich Passes For Service With Army

ATLANTA, Ga., March 10. (U.P.)—Frankie Sinkwich, Detroit Lion back, was ready today for another military uniform—this time the khaki livery of the Army. Sinkwich, former Georgia All-America star, was accepted for general Army service yesterday at the Fort McPherson, Ga., induction station.

Sinkwich was medically discharged from the Marines last year because of flat feet and a football knee.

The Army ordered him to report back to his draft board for assignment after his 21-day preinduction furlough.

Savold Wins Verdict In Scrap With Baksi

NEW YORK, March 10. (AP) — Experience and cunning triumphed over youth and rugged punching power tonight as Lee Savold, Paterson, N. J., veteran heavyweighed 198 and Baksi 210 1-2.

A crowd of 15,947 paid $62,170 to see the battle, in which Savold, veteran of 14 years of ring warfare, catapulted himself among the challengers for Joe Louis' title. It was Savold's first victory in five starts in the Garden, and burst the Baksi bubble which was inflated two weeks ago when the ex-coal miner outboxed Tami Mauriello of the Bronx.

Savold won the verdict through expert counter punching, ring savvy and a left hook which found its mark repeatedly on Baksi's rugged chin.

Baksi's punches were the toughest all the way, and several times he staggered Savold with rousing rights to the jaw. When hurt, however, Savold called on all his cunning to weather the storm and came back punching.

Bartolo Lifts Crown From Phil Terranova

BOSTON, March 10 (AP)—Boxing with machine-like perfection, Boston's cool-headed Sal Bartolo gained the N. B .A. featherweight championship from dogged Phil Terranova of New York with a one-sided 15-round decision tonight before a 12,130 crowd at the Boston Garden.

While becoming the second NBA titlist to surrender his diadem in 48 hours—for Sammy Angott lost his lightweight honors to Mexican Juan Zurita on Wednesday night—Terranova lost every round without taking a single backward step. His aggressive tactics were ideal for the polished Bostonian, who stopped most of the defending titlist's leads with lightning left jabs, mostly, and accurate hooks to the head and body.

While losing ground every passing second, Terranova, refused to become discouraged. He was driving as hard at the finish as at the outset but seldom managed to land a clean blow, due to his opponent's superior skill and artistic footwork.

One of Terranova's best was a right hook that opened a slight cut over Bartolo's left eye in the ninth, after the courageous champion, who started as an 8-5 underdog, had been hampered by a half-closed right eye, the target of most of his opponent's jabs, from the fourth session.

Pony Back Joins Up With Rice Owl Club

HOUSTON, March 10 (U.P.) — Rice Institute football prospects were better today as Lloyd Parker, a tailback, reported for duty here after transfer by the Navy from Southern Methodist University.

A 175-pound tailback from Raymondville, Tex., Parker was one of SMU's better backs last year.

The Rice squad, still in a formative stage, will not begin heavy workouts until next week, Coach Jess Neely said.

TROUT GOES HOME

EVANSVILLE, Ind., March 10. (U.P.)—Paul (Dizzy) Trout, Detroit Tiger pitcher who won 20 games last season, terminated his two day stay at spring training camp today and went home to Terre Haute, Ind., for a pre-induction military physical examination.

Zurita Matched With Beau Jack

NEW YORK, March 10 (AP) — Promoter Mike Jacobs added another twist to the already snarled lightweight fistic tjtle mess tonight when he signed Juan Zurita, the newly-crowned N. B. A. champion, with Beau Jack, who lost the N. Y.-N. J.-Pa. version to Bob Montgomery a week ago. The 10-round over-the-weight battle will be held in Madison Square Garden March 31.

Original plans had called for Montgomery to clash with Sammy Angott on that date in a battle that would clear up the clouded 135-pound situation but Sammy spoiled that by losing his crown to Zurita Wednesday night in Hollywood.

When Angott insisted on going through with the bout, Montgomery reported that he was "too tired to defend his laurels for a while."

Frankie Thomas, handling Montgomery's affairs, said his boy wasn't feeling well and was tired from training and making weight for recent scraps with Ike Williams, Al Davis and Jack.

The New York State Boxing Commission which had engineered the Angott-Montgomery go to remove any doubts about either's claim to the title, insisted that the bout should go on as scheduled and even summoned Montgomery to appear for a physical checkup.

Jacobs, despairing of getting the boys together, subbed the Jack-Zurita affair and finds himself with two or three bouts instead of one as it is possible that the winner of this one will get a later outdoor match with Montgomery with Angott figuring as another contestant.

Angott Accepted For Limited Army Service

LOS ANGELES, March 10 (U.P.) Sammy Angott, shorn of his lightweight title (N. B. A. version) by Juan Zurita today awaited the Army's call for limited service.

The bull-shouldered Italian from Washington, Pa., passed the Army physical examination yesterday — except for defective vision, which made him non-eligible for combat duty, but acceptable for limited service.

Officials at the induction center said he might be called any time after three weeks. This would permit him to go through with a scheduled bout with Bob Montgomery at New York on March 31, if Promoter Mike Jacobs wanted the match, now that it has lost its significance. It was slated for the world's undisputed lightweight championship.

PERFECT DEDUCTION

One of the best yarns we've ever heard about bowling is related by Rex Hess, of the Mansfield, Ohio, New-Journal. It seems Hess went to interview a kegler who had just bowled a perfect game and found he had started celebrating before he started bowling. In fact, the interviewee explained, he had stopped at that place across the street for a few quick ones and when he got into action he could see three balls rolling down the alley toward 30 pins . . . "All I did was keep on rolling them," the bowler explained. "I figured that any guy who couldn't knock down ten pins out of 30 with three balls must be drunk."

MICHIGAN FAVORED

CHICAGO, March 10. (AP) — Michigan is not only the overwhelming favorite to annex the Western conference's indoor track and field meet at the University of Chicago fieldhouse tomorrow, but the Wolverines are in a position to establish an all-time point record.

Seven Schools Share Honors In Practice Track Events

Seven high school track teams shared in the glory of the practice track meet Friday afternoon at Chapman Field with some exceptionally good marks set up for early season meets. The Lubbock Westerners loomed as a strong track and field crew with a large squad producing some key men for almost every event.

Track men from Idalou, Tahoka, Levelland, Lamesa, Meadow and Sparenburg all shared in the honors, and won places in the 14 events carded at the meet. Two of the outstanding men in the meet were Sowder of Idalou and Murphy of Levelland. Sowder won two first places and one third while Murphy won a first and two third places.

A FUTURE STAR

A new member of the Lubbock High School coaching staff was announced Friday afternoon—by the proud papa. The new arrival is a son, born to Mr. and Mrs. Marlin R. "Shorty" Hayhurst at the Lubbock General hospital Friday morning at 10:15 o'clock. He has been named Jerry.

Coach Hayhurst, Westerner track and field mentor, couldn't get excited about Friday's track events at Chapman Field, but was with his team at the meet. Prior to coming to Lubbock, Hayhurst coached the Seminole Indians to a regional football championship.

The new arrival is the second son of the Hayhursts.

"He'll be a quarterback in football and a dash man in track," Coach Hayhurst insisted on telling everyone at the track meet Friday.

No points were tabulated on the meet, and was held as a practice affair.

Perhaps the best marks of the day were set up by Westerner stars with Burl Gene Moore, Johnny Davis and Bill Cope sharing the honors, two of the events coming in the field events and one in the track.

Moore's time of 53 seconds for the 440-yard dash is a time that will compare well with records in meets of high school class this early in the season, and ranks well with times reported from the Border Olympics at Laredo yesterday.

Bill Cope's heave of the discus for first place with 125 feet, 9 inches bettered the former record of the Border Olympics, and for early season is a very promising feat. Johnny Davis, in taking the pole vault at 10 feet, 6 inches, also showed exceptional form for this early in the season.

The summary of the meet:

High hurdles — Boles, Lubbock, first; Emery, Lubbock, second; Sowder, Idalou, third. Time 18 seconds.

Low hurdles — Sowder, Idalou, first; Boles, Lubbock, second; Hankins, Lamesa, third; Boone, Lamesa, fourth. Time 26.9 seconds.

Mile run — Hawkins, Lamesa, first; Graham, Lubbock, second; Crabtree, Levelland, third; Badgett, Meadow, fourth. Time 5 minutes, 18.3 seconds.

Orlan Ott Reaches Finals At Chicago

CHICAGO, March 10 (AP)—Only one Texan was left in the running here tonight in the Golden Gloves Tournament of Champions as Aviation Cadet Orlan Ott from Chase Field, Corpus Christi, battled his way into the finals by a three-round decision over Cpl. William Gillian, Peoria, Ill., here tonight.

Sgt. Manny Ortega, El Paso lad and repeating champion of the Texas Golden Gloves at Fort Worth, was beaten in the semi-finals of the 126-pound class, losing a three-round decision to "Major" Jones, Kansas City, Mo.

Middleweight Dick Young, Camp Barkeley, Abilene, third member of the Texas party to return to Chicago for the finals, was the victim of Collins Browns, Chicago. Browns won by a technical knockout in the third round.

Lorenzo FFA Cagers Win Three-Way Meet

LORENZO, March 10 — The FFA Club boys of Lorenzo high school won a three-cornered cage tournament here tonight by beating Idalou's FFA boys in the final game, 25 to 17. In the opening game, Idalou had advanced into the finals with a closely contested 26-to-22 victory over Ralls.

Dodds Hopes To Win Two Feature Events

NEW YORK, March 10 (AP) — Gil Dodds, who punishes himself with a 1:58 half-mile while winning mile runs, comes up for a double dose of the treatment tomorrow night when he competes in both the mile and the 1,000-yard run in the Knights of Columbus meet at Madison Square Garden.

Victorious in all his five starts this winter, Dodds will attempt to duplicate the efforts of Glenn Cunningham who in 1935 established a world mark for the shorter distance at 2:10.1 and an hour later won the mile in 4:14.8.

Cunningham ran the 1,000 yards first that night and then came back to run the mile. Dodds is reversing the program and will have a rest of an hour and 15 minutes between the two races.

In the longer event he will be opposed by Bill Hulse, holder of the American outdoor record at 4:06, Don Burnham of Dartmouth and Rudy Simms of New York University.

The Boston pastor's rivals in the 1,000 will be Les Eisenhart, Ohio school teacher and national indoor king at the distance and Al Daily, IC-4A champion, among others.

Although Cunningham negotiated the dual task in 1935 he was defeated in both ends of the test in 1939.

Jim Herbert of New York, also will try a double and the ironman stunts have helped sell all of the 17,000 tickets for the games which close New York's major indoor board season.

Herbert hopes to get revenge on young John Fulton of the San Francisco Olympic Club in the 600 and then joins Dodds in the 1,000 field.

There are 57 relay teams entered in that division of the program.

PATRIOTIC COLORS

BETHLEHEM, Pa., March 10. (AP)—Dartmouth athletes will wear red, white and blue in the Intercollegiate wrestling championships open at Lehigh university tonight.

"We are unable to buy, beg or borrow wrestling tights," wired William McCarter, Dartmouth's director of athletics. "Since regulations demand them shall we be barred from competing?"

Tournament Manager E. F. Carraway replied no—and borrowed red trunks from Muhlenberg, white from Lehigh and blue from Bethlehem High school.

Goose Creek Stars To Enroll At Rice

HOUSTON, March 10 (AP) — George Walmsley and Bill Taylor, star Goose Creek athletes, will enter Rice Institute in July, the Post said tonight.

The announcement was made by the two youths following a conference with athletic director and head coach Jess Neely.

Walmsley, who sparked the Ganders to a semi-final berth in the 1943 schoolboy race, had been sought by nearly every major college in the nation, the Post said.

Taylor, a crack end, weighs 195 pounds and towers six feet four inches.

TAAF Cagers Reach Quarter-Final Play

FORT WORTH, March 10. (AP) —Seven service team and the strong North American Aviation quintet of Dallas moved the quarter-finals of the state T. A. A. F., basketball tournament here Friday night.

Bergstrom Field, the favorite, bounced Ellis Parts of San Angelo 46-22, and Wolters 63rd Battalion trimmed Hicks Field 44-26, in late games.

U. S. Coast Guard of Galveston eliminated Avoca Indenendents, 50-40, and Fort Worth Army Air Field beat Harris Service of Denton 41-25. Camp Bowie's 13th Armored Division beat Camp Hood 45-41; Kelly Field received a forfeit when Austin's City champ failed to appear, and Camp Barkley's 12th Armored Division Hellcats brushed aside Dallas Highland Park Methodist, 72-53. In other second round games.

Quarter-finals are due Saturday morning, semi-finals in the afternoon and the finals Saturday night.

Quail, Friona Reach Semi-Finals In Meet

HILLSBORO, Tex., March 10. (AP)—Aqualli will play Quail and Mesquite will meet Friona in semi-finals of the state high school girls basketball tournament tomorrow morning.

Losers of the first-round games last night played in the quarter-final consolation contests this afternoon.

The old name for sinusitis was catarrah. This is the time of year on the Plains when those succeptible will suffer more account of the dust storms. Why they are succeptible is a question we all cannot agree on. The mucous lining of the air passages become inflammed and highly sensative. Particles of dust coming in contact with this surface will set up an irritation.

Let's Not Be Too Generous

MANY Americans certainly will be disturbed by the muddle that has arisen over the apparent intent of the high command to turn some of the Allied warships over to Russia.

They will be disturbed especially by the clear indication from Prime Minister Churchill that these ships will come from the "Anglo-American" fleet, and not from the Italian navy as first reported by President Roosevelt. Mr. Roosevelt later hedged on his first statement to emphasize that Russia would get ships from the Italian fleet, "or the equivalent."

Americans thus must conclude that the plans are for Uncle Sam to play Santa Claus in this case. They know from experience that when an Englishman talks about something that "Anglo-Americans" are planning to do, he usually means that Americans are going to do it.

If this is the plan now, many Americans aren't going to like it. They don't believe that this nation has warships to spare to Russia or anyone else. Many of them are keenly conscious that the Japs right now are killing American boys with the scrap iron that continued to flow to Japan largely because the administration and Congress didn't want to offend a "friendly power." Americans hope, of course, that there never will be any trouble with Russia. But they still don't want even the slightest chance to be taken that some day we might have to fight our own warships.

Aside from that: Why is it necessary to turn warships over to Russia outright? If Russia needs warships—and we and Britain have some to spare—why not make them available with the American or British crews which could return them when the present job is finished? These are just two of many questions that need answering before any approval is given to the proposed warship deal.

Parks For Future Lubbock

IT isn't boasting to say that people in a young and progressive city like Lubbock are inclined to be "park minded." They are keenly awake to the fact that such things as an intelligent parks program require long-range planning. They know that the city which waits until a park actually is needed usually pays dearly for the site, if one is obtainable at all.

Therefore, we believe Lubbock people will approve overwhelmingly the City Commission's recent authorization to the Parks board to buy five new park sites in outlying areas and to enlarge three existing parks, including Booker T. Washington park for negroes, at a total cost not exceeding $60,000. Likely to meet with especial favor was the decision to enlarge the negro park, which has become entirely too small for its needs.

It is true, of course, that much of the land to be bought may lie now in the middle of unpopulated areas, remote from developed residential sections. Pessimists may wonder whether Lubbock ever will have need for parks so far out. But most of us—and we do not feel that we are optimists—are confident that most people now in Lubbock will see the day before too many years when our city will spread to and beyond these new sites.

This prediction, we insist, does not represent exocessive optimism. It is an expectation supported by past achievement and by factual, basic prospects. It is a forecast which is stripped of the appearance of fancy when considered that present sites of residence-area parks that now are over-crowded were "out in the country" not so many years ago.

True, it is entirely possible that the time may come when sites could be bought more cheaply than at present. This is possible, but no means certain. The possibility might be important if the City of Lubbock were interested in speculative investments in real estate. Against this possibility are those that values won't go down, or that land now available for park sites won't be obtainable later. Against the possibility also are the virtual certainties that values will go up before they ever go down and, within a few years, will become stabilized at minimum values for above the prices that might be paid for them now.

However, as remarked, the city isn't speculating in real estate. The present purpose is to provide sites against the day when they are needed. The city simply can't afford to take the chance that desirable sites won't be obtainable when the need for them becomes urgent. The city isn't taking that sort of chance, and our conviction is that the day will come when this foresight will be vindicated completely in the eyes of the appreciative citizenship of the Future Lubbock.

THE STORY: Kitty Bishop comes to the suburban home of her brother, Ben Graham, and his wife, Peg, to recuperate from her sudden divorce from Collins Bishop, a meteorically successful young lawyer. Kitty had rebelled when the increased importance of his career made him apparently neglect her. She makes a hit with ebullient Mac MacGregor and hen-pecked Randall Seaton. Mag Seaton is jealous.

IX

Mag Seaton had certainly trailed sparks of indignation as she left the Graham's on Sunday afternoon, but Mac's guess that she intended to light a fire under Randall for his attentiveness to Kitty Bishop was as wrong as it was logical. There was only one blaze in Doremus that day after all. Mag Seaton banked her fires.

In essence Randall Seaton was a deeply civilized man. Instinctively, each time he opened his door he pretended as long as possible that his home was smooth and agreeable.

"Had a good day?" he asked as he came in one evening.

Mag looked at him as though he'd lost his wits. "My usual gay round," she said. "A little cooking, a little cleaning, a little ironing."

It sometimes seemed to Randall that his wife's mind worked like a sun-dial in reverse, making only cloudy hours. He sat down in a depressed sprawl. He could feel the silence he dreaded gathering.

"Where's Johnny?"

"Upstairs doing his homework . . . It must be heaven to be able to afford decent help," said Mag to the air.

"It must be heaven," said Randall Seaton, "to come back to a pleasant environment at night."

"Is it my fault we can't afford to live anywhere except in a stupid place like this?" Mag inquired conversationally.

The demon that drove Randall into answering back, even though he knew better, reacted as usual. He said it wasn't Doremus he'd had in mind, it was their own home.

"Ah," said Mag, "our happy home . . . What is it, Johnny?"

"Nothing," said Johnny, "I just thought maybe dinner was ready."

He looked at neither of his parents, quickly picked up the evening paper and hid behind it.

After a painfully monosyllabic dinner Johnny disappeared gratefully to his room and his radio, his only reliable sources of security.

"Why," asked his father when the boy was safely out of the way, "do you have to rub it in on Johnny that I'm a frail reed to trust in?"

"Meaning?"

"That bicycle business at dinner. If he's outgrown his old one, and I promise him a new one, why make it such a point to convince him it's foolish to count on anything I say?"

"Isn't it?"

"We pay our bills, don't we?"

"Most of them. Such as they are. Hardly the ones I'd have expected to be paying at this time."

Fifteen years ago Mag Seaton had married a bright future. Randall had been a copy writer in an advertising agency—and he still was. He would continue to be, unless his sins of absenteeism became too flagrant, but that was all. He couldn't put his finger on any single point at which ambition had flattened out into indifference, life into a disappointment too tiresome to do anything about but endure, and Mag's brittleness into bitterness. All he was certain of was that the only way to bear it was not to think about it.

"Oh," said Mag suddenly. "Peg Graham called up. They want us to come over Saturday night."

"Swell—"

"I told her I wasn't sure."

"Why? Was there something else we— began Randall thoughtlessly, then checked.

"Why? For one thing, I find Kitty Bishop less exciting than you do. Men are so naive. Some women are born — travelers."

Randall said distinctly, "And some women are born spiteful."

"My dear Randall! You are absurd. She's such a sympathetic little thing, isn't she?"

"Yes she is. And she's gay and good-tempered—"

"That's easy, when you've nothing to do but think of your own comfort."

Randall's face darkened. He looked combative instead of weary. Mag read into his uncharacteristic reaction new proof of the power of Kitty's attraction.

"Mag," said Randall after a moment, "I've seen Kitty twice. You can't build up a case against me on two meetings—"

"Not when you deliberately and in front of—"

"Not," interrupted Randall, "when MacGregor spends as much time with you as I know he does!"

"Why wouldn't you know it!" flashed Mag. "I'm not ashamed of it! And what right have you to criticize me for it? Do you think I enjoy never talking about anything but the price of meat, and sore throats, and how to make cookies without sugar? At least you see people; you go somewhere, even if it is back and forth to the same place. If I find someone to talk to, someone who's congenial, I dare you to take that away from me, Randall Seaton!"

There was a long silence. Deep masculine pride, stirred and outraged, forced Randall to make an issue of the Graham party.

"We'll go to the Grahams'," he said shortly.

The silence Randall dreaded fell heavily. If he could have blamed Mag for everything it would have been easier. But he couldn't; his brain still worked, although he regretted it. The less he thought the better. He no longer cared enough even to look defiant as he poured himself the evening's first drink.

Looking At Life - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

MARGARITA MADRIGAL, a Spanish teacher, has just discovered that New Yorkers are nice people.

In emerging from a taxicab, she twisted her ankle, banged her eye against a fire hydrant and was knocked cold.

First, several passersby hurried her into a nearby restaurant and gave her some hot coffee.

Then, a woman walked up to her and handed her her pocketbook containing $250. Miss Madrigal had dropped it and the contents had spilled into the street. The woman and a companion had carefully gathered them up, and not a penny was missing.

When she turned around to thank the finder, she had disappeared in the crowd.

"New Yorkers are the nicest people," said the Spanish lady, "and I always thought they were cold and selfish."

Yes, New Yorkers are the nicest people. And so are Chicagoans and Bostonians and Detroiters and Atlantans.

Do you know why?

Because people are people.

What difference does it make whether you live in New York or Allentown or Seattle or Ypsilanti?

If you're right, you're right anywhere, only, maybe in a large city, you get pushed around too much to show it.

So many people tell me they wouldn't live in New York for anything. Too big.

You have no idea what a bunch of hicks the so-called New Yorkers are.

A "pitchman" (that's those fellows who sell potato-peelers and other gadgets out of a suitcase and run when they see the cop) told me that New York is the easiest place to get rid of junk.

"Biggest suckers in the world," he said, "the bigger the town, the more suckers it attracts."

DON'T ever be afraid of New York. Just a bunch of small-town people trying to look big and act big.

Where else would you find supposed-to-be sophisticates paying $25 for $4 theatre tickets or giving a night-club headwaiter $10 tips just so that he will recognize them the next time they come in with out-of-town cousins?

I've lived around New York for more than 20 years and I haven't found New Yorkers any different from anybody else.

They take the same pills, catch the same colds, wrestle with the same income-tax returns as you.

Many of them think that milk comes from cans and that caterpillars are tractors.

But when you are in trouble they are the nicest people!

The National Whirligig

The News Behind The News

WASHINGTON
By Ray Tucker

JOSEPH W. MARTIN, jr., professes complete indifference to President Roosevelt's action on the soldier voting bill. The house Republican leader does not believe that the fate of the controversial measure will have any real political effect on either major party's November fortunes.

"I have received exactly three letters on the subject from fighting men," said the Bay Stater, "despite the attempt to blow his question into a great national issue involving constiutional rights. One was vehement in demanding the right to vote. The other two writers said they were more interested in winning the war, returning home and getting jobs. If there has been any 'fraud' in this dispute, it was the effort to create confusion and dissension at this grave moment."

Administration sponsors of the federal ballot have apparently made the same belated discovery. They have relaxed their activity on behalf of the Green-Lucas scheme since President Roosevelt branded any other method as a "fraud on the soldiers". Not even that description of the Eastland-Rankin proposal, which had passed the Senate, stimulated the expected approval of the White House stand by letter-writing troops.

Now FDR's parliamentary advisers are begging him not to duplicate the blunder he committed when he voted the Revenue bill with a sharp reproof to Congress. This time they think he should accept the "piece of crust" that has been offered him instead of holding out for the whole loaf.

His decision in their opinion will show whether he has taken to heart the "Barkley rebellion," and means to accept the Senate Majority leader's advice to be less dictatorial in his attitude to Capitol Hill.

SUSPICIONS: The Senate committee named to investigate the proposed U. S.-owned pipe line across Arabia will ask some burning questions of administration negotiators when hearings open; that it, provided that the White House does not block the inquiry.

Most of the inquisitors' leads have been furnished by representatives of the oil companies involved. The three corporations—Standard Oil of California, the Texas Company and Gulf Oil—can easily finance the project's cost—150 million—out of their own treasuries. But the administration insists on advancing the funds, which will be repaid by the private owners in 20 years.

Petroleum spokesmen contend that this subsidy amounts to a device that will give the government final decision on policy. It will also enable our State department to exert pressure on various rulers in the Middle East, as the British have done wherever they possessed similar concessions.

In short, federal intervention will plunge both private and public interests into a maelstrom of international intrigue and power politics in a highly explosive area. It has already aroused the suspicions of the British and Russians, who feel that they have priority rights in that strategic region.

REQUEST: Formation of the Senate pipe line committee, meanwhile, has hit several snags. The sponsors suspect that the White House wants to block any investigation until negotiations—or even construction—are so far advanced that it will be too late to cancel or alter the terms of the contract.

Eight members of the group have been named, but Vice President Henry Wallace has failed to select the ninth and supposedly impartial associate. The delay may be due to his oratorical trips designed to win himself a renomination, but the private oil people have their own ideas about his dillydallying.

The request for $25,000 to pay the expenses of the probe has reposed for several weeks in the Committee of Audit and Control, which is headed by Sen. Scott Lucas of Illinois, a White House workman and special pleader.

ELECTION: Democratic Congressmen with shaky seats—and that applies to nearly every member save those from the Solid South—are sore about their lack of support from the three formal party organizations—the National, Senatorial and Congressional committees. They charge that they are being sacrificed on the altar of FDR's fourth-term ambitions.

National headquarters, for instance, has not functioned for months on their behalf. It has distributed thousands of pamphlets extolling the Roosevelt record, with not a word about the achievements of the legislators.

WINNING THE WAR
By Albert Leman

ALTHOUGH the blitz on the Pacific atolls is outstanding in the brilliantly conceived and executed feats in marine history, it is but a curtain-raiser. Until we sink the Japanese navy we cannot win the war.

Strategists are convinced by our experiences in the Gilberts, Marshalls and Truk that Tojo—unless he is desperate—will not order his battleships into action until we are close to his home land. He has lost so many destroyers and subs that he can no longer throw a protective screen around his dreadnaughts, and he dare not have them in exposed outposts.

His armada is now occupied in one of the primary functions of a navy, that of keeping communications open—in this instance, between Nippon and the stolen empire. But it is still a fleet in being; in other words, it can rush into the sea lanes extending to China, Burma and the Far East and there repulse our attacks.

CLIMAX: We cannot yet operate surface ships in these narrow waters that are guarded by land-based aviation and powerful men-of-war, although our submarines are constantly torpedoing merchant vessels on these routes.

It is impossible to transport a huge expeditionary force to Japan proper so long as the enemy menace is afloat. Xerxes failed to take Greece when his barges were destroyed at Salamis. The Carthaginians lost the first Punic war after the life line between Sicily and Africa had been severed by Roman sailors, Napoleon's dream of crossing the English Channel faded when Nelson sent his fighters to Davy Jones's locker at Trafalgar. We, too, are unable to land and maintain an army in the heart of Nippon so long as its battlewagons are on the prowl.

Admiral Nimitz's assignment is to track down the Japanese navy and make it fight. But this super-Santiago engagement may not occur until we have steamed into the East China Sea or the Japan Sea—and one or two year may elapse before that climax is reached.

SUPPLY: How can we hope to be victorious in combat nearly 5,000 miles from the United States with fresh war ships covered by an umbrella of shore-based planes? is a question frequently asked.

Admirals reply: In a year the U. S. Navy probably be four times as large as Hirohito's; it is already double. Three million sailors, Coast Guardsmen and Marines are enrolled—a million more men than served overseas in the last war. We have more than twice Japan's total of big aircraft carriers and even more auxiliary flat tops. We could sustain severe losses and still outarmor, outgun and outnumber the Nips.

We—not the Japs—are now picking up Pacific islands as bases to fly aircraft for the protection of our squadrons. And these conquests as well as those already won will be used as supply depots, ammunition dumps and reconditioning centers.

HAVOC: As was revealed in this space recently, we now have huge floating dry docks in the Pacific to accommodate the largest naval craft. Others are scheduled for towing from America. Many smaller mobile facilities for lesser vessels are also on the spot. These "trailer machine shops" follow in the wake of the advancing task forces.

In addition, shipbuilding will be concentrated on the Atlantic Coast while we are converting many of the Pacific yards into dry docks. When it appeared that Hitler would conquer North Africa and attempt to invade the United States by way of Dakar, Brazil and the West Indies, such basins were established in the Carribbean and in Africa to service the fleet that was to stop him. These are available, since damage from U-boats is so diminished.

Longhorn Steer Doing Well In Zoo Corral In Capital

By TEX EASLEY
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, March 10 (AP)—The largest single herd of real Texas Longhorn cattle in existence today, so far as is known, is on the Wichita Mountains National Wildlife Refuge near Cache, Okla., according to the Fish and Wildlife service. There are 214 animals in the herd.

Last October they auctioned off 41 of the lot to private individuals for specialized purposes, particularly for establishment of private herds.

The Longhorns hit a low in 1927. In that year two men traveled 5,000 miles and examined more than 30,000 head of Texas cattle before they were able to collect a herd of suitable specimens. Finally, a herd of 20 cows, 3 bulls, 3 steers, and 4 calves was rounded up and sent to the Wichita Refuge. Animals showing undesirable characteristics are weeded out.

On two occasions a search was made in central Mexico and some typical longhorn bulls were bought to improve the herd and breed out foreign characters.

Gateado Doing Well

This data supplied by the wildlife service reminds us of Gateado. Remember him? He's the Texas Longhorn steer who, amidst a lot of fanfare and public speaking, took up residence in October, 1941, at the U. S. National Zoological Gardens here.

The zoo keepers say he's apparently happy and standing this climate excellently, despite the fact that he grew up on the Tom East ranch down near Hebronville. The Texas and Southwest Cattle Raisers association turned him over to the Texas Society of Washington, and the Lone Star group saw that fitting ceremonies were held when he entered the zoo.

GATEADO measures a little over 5 feet, straight across from tip to tip of his horns—zoo officials say most of these 8-foot horn-spreads you hear about are not "airline" measurement but follow the curvature of the horns. He has been viewed by about 5,000,000 people since his arrival here. His corral is about a fourth of an acre in size, near the main entrance and along side such other attractions as the zebras, buffaloes and camels.

Grover Hill Honored

Grover B. Hill, the amiable Texan who has been named Undersecretary of Agriculture, was the guest of honor at a reception given here by Maj. Burris Jackson of Hillsboro, on duty here as liaison officer between the Congress and the Army postal service.

Among those on hand for the reception were Dr. A. B. Cox, of the University of Texas Bureau of Research and Statistics, and L. T. Murray, former Waco mayor.

DR. COX, joining in conferences American cotton shippers representatives with federal officials, criticized the attitude of some government leaders that cotton is a "paupers' crop."

The income on cotton is $28 per acre, including both lint and by-products, he declares, compared with $20 on corn and $11 on wheat. Admitting that the labor costs are considerably higher on cotton per acre, he believes the solution to prosperity in cotton production is in reducing the cost of chopping and picking.

This means further mechanization, adds Dr. Cox, and consolidation of some of the smaller farms so as to make the use of machinery sound, or getting them to turn to livestock and vegetable production.

He admits that this view will be opposed by many, but contends that it is the one way that cotton can get into a position where it will not have to be subsidized through a supporting loan. But by thus lowering production costs, the American grower can face foreign competition and get his staple into commerce rather than into government warehouses, he believes.

Congress And Religion

Representative Wright Patman of Texarkana comes through with this interesting information on religious affiliations of his colleagues in Congress:

Only 8 of the 525 senators and representatives have no declared church affiliation (There are 6 vacancies in the House.) According to faith, there are 380 Protestants, 97 Catholics, 7 Jewish; 33 are unspecified.

Denominations among Protestants: Methodist, 93; Presbyterian, 69; Baptist, 60; Episcopalian, 57; Congregational, 21; Lutheran, 18; Disciples, 17. There are several ordained ministers in the House and one in the Senate.

THE Forest Service recently allocated to Texas $40,342, which represents 25 per cent of the receipts from the sale and use of National Forests resources in Texas during the last fiscal year.

The forest service, in accordance with law, made available $16,136 ddditional — representing 10 per cent of the receipts—for the construction and maintenance of roads and trails in national forests in Texas. Expenditures in Texas in the last fiscal year from all appropriations available to the forest service amounted to $758,794. These were principally for fire protection, insect and disease control; management operations, road and trail construction and recreational use.

Feed
PIG RATION
Today, more than ever before, it is extremely important to speed up growth and keep mortality down in young pigs. Feed is too precious to waste on the laggards and pork is too valuable to lose before it goes to market. Stanton's 20% pig ration provides extra protection against both. In hundreds of hog lots, it has consistently improved pig health, speeded up growth and reduced mortality because it gives little pigs the same kind of boost that chick starter gives to baby chicks. It is being fed widely to sows before farrowing and—preferably in "creeps" as illustrated—to pigs from 2-3 weeks of age on up.
ManAmar
In Stanton's 20% Pig Ration supplies the hard-to-get feeding essentials—fish proteins, food minerals and vitamins, including the important Vitamin B "Complex," supplied by patented "B-G Plus."
ManAmar and B-G Plus have been developed and are produced in the laboratories of Philip R. Park, famed livestock nutrition authority. These laboratories have approved the formula for Stanton's 20% Pig Ration. Let the records of users tell the rest of the story. Get all the facts today.

Perilous General Retreat By Nazis In Ukraine Seen

By KIRKE L. SIMPSON
Associated Press War Analyst

A general German retreat behind the Bug river line or into Rumania on the Black Sea flank of the eastern front may be indicated by surrender of Uman, the fall of which was first announced by Berlin, and propmtly confirmed in a Stalin victory bulletin from Moscow.

SIMPSON

Whether abandoned in a line-shortening maneuver to meet the growing danger to the whole Nazi Dnieper salient as Berlin indicates, or taken by storm as Moscow says, the loss of Uman marks a significant deterioration in the German defensive position in the south. The railhead town, some 40 miles southwest of Zvenigorodka, covered approaches to three vitally important rail crossings of the central Bug river.

Its capture implies that the whole Nazi deployment east of the Bug from Vinnitsa near its northwestern rise to Nikolaev at its mouth may be on the move to the rear to escape multiple Red Army entrapment drives.

Nazi Troops Shifted

Russian reports tell of Nazi divisions pulled out of the Dnieper bend salient farther east to buttress the defense of the tarnopol-Prekurov-Zherinka front, 200 miles to the northwest, where Russian spearheads stand within less than 60 miles of the Rumanian frontier above the Cernauti gateway to central Ruminia. A desperate German fight to retain the Presukrov salient below the Russian advance that cut the Warsaw-Odessa rail trunk between that junction and Tarnopol apparently has failed. Both critical junctions and Zhmerinka seemed doomed.

Red troops are already in the streets of Tarnopol. Its loss as well as that of Preskurov and Zhmerinka would give the Russians a solid grip on a 130 mile stretch of the Warsaw-Odessa railroad. That would make its reopening by the Nazis all but impossible. It would render the situation of all Nazi troops to the south and east of the Bug river or even the Dniester precarious.

May Quit Odessa

The obvious Nazi move would be a retreat into Rumania, surrendering last footholds in the southwestern Ukraine, even including the important port of Odessa. With another Russian deep break-through drive in progress southeast of the Uman sector to threaten Nikolaev directly, all Bug crossings from Zhmerinka to the sea are in danger, and all Dniester crossings behind it to the west also in peril.

The Nazi retreat from the Dnieper salient, if it is in progress, bids fair to be the biggest and most dangerous detachment operation yet faced by the German staff in Russia. To pull back an Army without disaster under surging Russian simultaneous pressure from the north, northeast and east with no adequate railroads available and across a terrain Moscow described as a sea of mud and flood due to early thaws must mean morale sapping losses in both men and heavy equipment.

Littlefield Man Is Up At Front As Japs Driven Back

LOS NEGROS ISLAND, Admiralty Group, March 6. (Delayed) (AP)—The Americans presented a formidable column this morning as the division commander had good reason to order all available forces into the line in what was to be the first grand scale effort to drive the Japanese from Los Negros island.

Each man carried a part of his unit's special equipment as well as his jungle pack and carbine.

In the line of march as the column approached the starting point for the advance was Pvt. Clyde W. King of Odessa, Tex.

After the men had been under way for a while, they rounded a curve and came upon a barricade of trees across the trail. The troops broke warily around the barricade and machinegun nests.

A bulldozer was summoned to clear the obstruction for following vehicles. Among those manning the huge machine was T/5 Joseph C. Henderson of Littlefield, Tex.

It was apparent that the enemy had departed in great haste.

After about three miles the column turned inland toward the north, biting deeper into the jungle. Silence persisted; there was no evidence of the enemy save trucks, dozens of rubber tires, ammunition carts and scores of empty beer and saki (wine) bottles.

A General Stuart tank — the first in action in the Los Negros campaign — came up, its siren howling.

The occasion called for a celebration, so a group of officers and specialists gathered around a luncheon, with K ration the piece de resistence.

Extension Is Given To Littlefield Fire Credit

LITTLEFIELD, March 10. (Special)—The City of Littlefield was officially notified recently that Littlefield was one of the few smaller cities in the state with a sufficiently good fire record to warrant extension of the maximum 25 per cent credit on all fire insurance policies effective as of March 1.

For the past year this city has enjoyed a credit of 15 per cent and the new rate will reflect a further 10 per cent saving to all policyholders.

Smith Calls For Special Session

AUSTIN, March 10 (U.P.)—Gov. Coke R. Stevenson, in Fort Worth today, was expected to ignore a letter from Lt. Gov. John Lee Smith asserting the governor was ignoring the constitution in refusing to call a special session of the Texas legislature to facilitate soldier voting.

Stevenson had refused previous requests for a session, citing an opinion of the attorney general that a special session of the legislature cannot remove the poll tax voting requirement that blocks a vote for most Texas soldiers.

May Match Strength

Some saw in Smith's communication an indication that the lieutenant governor plans to match strength with the goyernor in the summer's political campaign, but his letter said he "waived any personal political interest or consideration."

Possibility that Stevenson and Smith might meet for a personal discussion was seen in presence of both in North Texas. Smith's letter was released here last night while he was in Arlington and the governor is a few miles from there for the opening of the Fort Worth Fat Stock show.

Summed Up In Paragraph

Smith's contention that it is the governor's constitutional duty to convene the legislature is summed up in a paragraph of a three-page, single-spaced, typed letter in which he contends sole power to pass upon tax questions is given the legislature and that by refusing to call a session, the governor usurps that power.

He said: "In effect, governor, your refusal to permit the legislature to meet in this instance had the same result as dissolving the legislature—the law making body has been refused its constitutional right to function."

Raps Attorney General

Commenting upon the attorney general's attitude, Smith's letter said:

"Your attorney general, while posing as an authority on constitutional law, refused to give me, as lieutenant governor, an opinion, thus clearly violating Sec. 1 and Sec. 22 of article four of the state constitution. This I treat simply as the petty act of an equally petty man, and I dismiss it as an act of no consequence, but I refuse to dismiss as of no consequence his unwarranted employment of the constitution to disenfranchise nearly one half million of the most worthy citizens of the state."

Smith has not formally announced for re-election. There has been some talk that he might run for attorney general.

Big Night Expected At SPAAF Carnival

The largest turnout of the three night annual Red Cross War Fund carnival is expected tonight at the post recreation hall at South Plains Army Air field with civilian and military personnel and guests in attendance.

Thursday's and last night's programs were for military personnel and guests, but tonight civilian workers at the field and their guests also will take part in the festivities.

Purpose of the carnival is to raise the contributions for the Red Cros War Fund campaign. A similar event last year at SPAAF brought in more than $2,000. Thursday night, more than $700 was contributed and no totals were available late last night on the Friday night program.

The post exchange at SPAAF is contributing all sales from 200 dozens of doughnuts and dozens of boxes of popcorn made by the PX machines. All proceeds from all booths, games and dances will go toward the SPAAF quota of $6,000. Already more than $3,747.97 has been contributed by civilian and military personnel at SPAAF during the 1944 campaign at the field.

Hockley County Red Cross Drive Mapped

LEVELLAND, March 10. (Special)—The organization for carrying on the 1944 campaign for Red Cross funds, which will officially get underway in Hockley county on March 15, is being completed this week. A complete plan will be worked out between now and that date.

Every block of the city will be thoroughly covered by workers during the drive and every community in the county will be reached by a systematic working force of volunteers who are interested in the success of the drive.

The quota assigned Hockley county this year is $12,200, its part of the national quota of $200,000,000.

FORECAST OPTIMISTIC

CHICAGO, March 10. (AP)—The most optmitic forecast yet made for the 1944 wheat crop came out of Oklahoma today when the state crop board estimated the state might produce 60,000,000 bushels of the bread cereal. The estimate was made on the basis of conditions existing March 1.

Cocoa was used for currency and commerce in the Aztec Empire.

Doomed Japs Take Own Lives As They Fail On Admiralty

WITH THE FIRST CAVALRY DIVISION, Los Negros Island, March 5.—(Delayed) (AP)—These are the Mikado's front-line troops on Los Negros, big Marines, well trained, well-nourished, well-armed, proud wearers of their dragon belts.

"These are Japan's proud warriors. So that when they failed to crack the line held by American First Cavalry division troops, the Japanese took their own lives rather than admit failure.

"One Jap officer jumped up on a bunker directly in front of us," said Pfc. Wilbur Resler (address ungiven), "waving a Jap battle flag in one hand and a sword in the other.

"'Kill all the American dogs,' the officer shouted. Then he plunged his sword into his own stomach."

Others seemed to invite death openly. One walked slowly toward American lines waving a huge battle flag and refusing to stop at command. An instant later he was riddled by the fire of many rifles.

"Probably in honor of our Fort Bliss (Texas) background, they came at us singing 'Deep in the Heart of Texas' at the top of their squeaky voices," said Corp. J. L. Licon, El Paso.

In the sector held by the troop of which Carl Chiles, El Paso, is first sergeant, the Japanese attacked principally with grenades and bayonets. "Some of them had bayonets tied to long sticks instead of to their rifles," Chiles said. "Maybe they hoped to make up in that way for their shorter reach."

There are some wounds no drugs can heal!

WHEN a man is hit in battle, he gets the best of care. No effort, no expense is spared to save our wounded boys.

But there are some wounds no drugs can heal . . . the wounds that come from loneliness, from being far from home . . . the wounds that come from worry . . . the wound of missing you until his heart breaks and he feels he can't go on.

There are no drugs for wounds like these—no drugs except a mother's touch.

And that is where the Red Cross—your Red Cross comes in.

For the Red Cross is still the Greatest Mother in the World. All over this earth—wherever our fighting men go—the Red Cross is with them. Its Clubmobiles stand at desert crossroads. Its rest homes will be found on every front from London to Calcutta. Wherever humanly possible, its packages reach the prisoners of war in far-off camps . . . get through the barbed wire straight from your hearts . . . with fine American food, cigarettes and tobacco.

When you say "Thank God for the Red Cross" remember this . . . it is your Red Cross . . . your bandages and your blood.

Yes, and your money too!

Giving to the Red Cross has always been a great proud habit of thirty million American families . . . proud that they could give . . . proud of Red Cross that made the giving worthwhile.

Of course, you have given generously before. Of course, you will give again.

But this year, when the need is greater than ever before . . . when it's your own sons we serve . . . this year dig deep and be glad. For wherever he is

The RED CROSS is at his side
and the Red Cross is YOU!
