All Set For Co-Op Construction To Get Started Here Monday

If there are no hurricanes, high water or other acts of God to delay it, Monday, July 7th, will see the first turning of dirt and the start of construction on the new $93,000 office and warehouse building for the Southwest Texas Electric Co-Operative in Eldorado.

The go-ahead signal for this major construction job came last Friday when the Rural Electrification Administration in Washington, D. C., formally put ther approval on the general contractor, J. W. Nesom of San Angelo, who had previously been awarded the contract in a meeting here on June 11.

In a meeting here on that day (June 11) attended by Mgr. McCormick and all of the directors, bids were considered from 11 different contractors, and contract was awarded to J. W. Nesom General Contractor of San Angelo on a low bid of $92,252.

The only remaining formality after that was approval of the contractor by the REA in Washington, and when this was received last Friday, the job was ready to roll.

Contractor Nesom and Architect Donald R. Goss were here on Monday of this week for a pre-construction conference at the local office with Mgr. McCormick.

The contractor indicated that two or three key men from San Angelo would be on the job here and would probably drive from San Angelo each day. Other laborers or crew men would be recruited locally. He also reported that many parts of the job would be farmed out to sub-contractors.

The contractor is allowed 185 working days, excluding Saturdays, Sundays, holidays, and bad-weather days, to complete his contract. This would figure out to be about seven months.

Plans for the new building have been in the mill for over a year, and the loan application was made about a year ago.

The Co-Op now is paying rent on three buildings. When the new home is built all operations will be concentrated at one place, resulting not only in a big saving in rent money, but in a big saving in time for employees.

Masonic Lodge Installs Officers

Masonic Lodge No. 890 installed new officers at the meeting held last Thursday night. Installing officer was J. E. Spencer and installing marshall was John Stigler.

Officers installed were Bill Lester, Master; Dwight Wiedenmann, Senior Warden; G. L. Johnson, Junior Warden; Albert McGinnes, Secretary; Alvin Atkinson, Senior Deacon; Tom Dempsey, Junior Deacon; Bill Word, Tyler; and Stewards: W. G. Godwin and H. W. Scott. Chaplain was Joe Andrews.

She uses the mist or fogging method and will explain by illustrations and pictures how this method is a success. All who are interested in starting plants from cuttings are urged to be present at this meeting.

SINGING POSTPONED UNTIL AUGUST 4th

Two New Producers Past Week

Two Schleicher county fields have recently gained good oil producers.

Hancock Oil Co. of Midland completed their No. 2 Robinson in the Otto (Canyon) field, 16 miles northeast of Eldorado for a calculated, daily potential of 201 barrels of 37.9 gravity oil, with gas-oil ratio of 497-1.

Potential was based on an actual 16-hour flow through 18/64-inch choke and perforations between 4,489-5,680 feet. This section had been treated with 250 gallons of mud acid and 5,000 gallons of regular acid. Tubing pressure was 260 pounds, casing pressure, 200 lbs.

Another recent completion is the Standard Oil Co. of Texas 3-A, Christina Mittel well No. 3 which was finaled for a daily flowing potential of 240 barrels of 45.8 gravity oil, no water, through a 14/64-inch choke and perforations between 6,302-308 feet. Tubing pressure was 600 pounds with a packer on the casing.

Location is 14 miles northwest of Eldorado.

Chambers & Kennedy, et al, Midland will drill the No. 1-G Otto Williams as a ½ mile south outpost to the two-well Otto (Strawn) field of Schleicher county, seven miles northeast of Eldorado.

Contract depth is 5,500 feet; ground elevation is 2,294 feet.

Wells in Sutton county recently completed for El Paso Natural are the Davis 1-A and Davis 1-E. On Davis 1-D pipe has been set at 6,050 feet and operator is trying for completion.

Davis No. 1 is drilling at 5,700 feet with Pico Drilling Co. having the contract. All three crews and the company pusher live in Eldorado.

A fire resulting in about $1200 damage was sustained on Rig No. 5 belonging to Great Western Drilling Co. Monday evening. The fire originated in the clothes-changing dog house and was thought to have been started by either matches or a cigarette. A high wind swept it through the dog house, but no damage was sustained by clothes hanging in lockers there. Side curtains stacked outside caught fire and were heavily damaged. A line to the butane tank was burned through and fed the flames until a valve was turned off by crew members. The evening tour crew quickly brought the flames under control with a high pressure water hose.

Rig No. 5 is drilling the Garrett No. 1 Cecil Meador located 15 miles northeast of Eldorado. Wednesday late they were drilling at 3,942 feet in lime and shale.

Sinclair R. L. Stansberry No. 2 was drilling at 3,699 feet this morning (Thursday) in shale with lime streaks. Contract depth is 5,500 feet and Tucker Drilling Co. of San Angelo has the drilling contract.

Location is a north offset to the Liedkte & Liedkte No. 1 and is an east offset to the Katie Harris No. 1, a re-entered gas well, making 19,000,000 cubic feet per day.

Key Rate Lowered To 34c On Fire Insurance Here

WATER WORKS IMPROVEMENTS SUCH AS THIS RESPONSIBLE FOR INSURANCE CREDIT HERE

Fire Chief Palmer West started the ball rolling with a letter last March to the State Board of Insurance that will benefit every citizen in the city carrying fire insurance. The key rate was recently reduced to 34c as a result of improvements made in the city water system almost two years ago.

The contractor on such construction jobs usually sends information to the state officials outlining improvements made, but through some error the information was not sent until Palmer West brought it to the attention of the State Board of Insurance who in turn, contacted Bland Construction Co., who furnished them with a description of the work done here.

The key rate was 96c in 1939 when the local fire department was organized and has steadily been lowered since that time, due to the fine protection afforded the Eldorado citizens, and through diligence on the part of the department in asking for and getting lower rates. The town also enjoys 25% rate deduction for good fire record.

The city now has 500,000 gallon storage facilities at the corner of Hill and Pecan streets. These are supplied from wells drilled there, by three pumps which have a capacity of 1,050 gallons per minute. Two of the pumping units are completely automatic, with one being operated manually. All are enclosed in an attractive brick pumping station building which also houses an automatic chlorinator.

In an interview with a local insurance agent Tuesday, he stated that no notification of the key rate reduction had been received by his office, but that he was sure it would be forthcoming as soon as the new rate books were out. He estimated that the new rate would mean an actual saving of approximately $.06 per hundred dollars of insurance carried, which when figured on a city-wide basis, will be a substantial saving to Eldorado citizens.

Low Bidder Gets Contract On Reynolds Road Job

W. L. Barnes, the Austin contractor who was low bidder on the Reynolds road job when bids were opened in Austin June 10th—this week was finally awarded the contract by the Highway department.

The Austin contractor was low with a bid of $88,447.62 for grading structures base and surfacing on FM 1828 in Schleicher county.

The project extends from a point on the Mertzon highway 7 miles northwest of Eldorado, for a distance of nearly 5½ miles on the present Reynolds road—which will bring the new road up to a point west of H. A. Belk's.

Resident Engineer Robert A. McCullough of Sonora will be in charge of the project for the Highway Department, and it is estimated that the work will take 90 days to complete.

Some time ago Schleicher county commissioners awarded to Bethel Jeffrey the contract for fencing the right of way on the route, and that part of the job is now well under way toward completion.

COUNTY AGENT'S COLUMN

by Tiny Godwin

Schleicher County Agricultural Agent

Producers of cotton, especially the irrigated farmer should study bulletin No. 896, Texas Guide for growing irrigated cotton.

From planting to harvest with the "whys" are explained in detail. Calling to mind a few facts stressed are: the cotton plant utilizes two-thirds of its total uptake of nutrients during the first one-third of its life. It is therefore important that an adequate supply of plant food be available the first 55-65 days of emergence. This covers the life of the plant into early boll stage.

For each bale of cotton produced the soil must furnish 80-100 pounds of nitrogen, 40-60 pounds phosphorus, 60-90 pounds of potash. The actual amount of fertilizer applied should be based upon the results of a soil analysis.

The addition of cotton burrs at the rate of 2 and 4 tons per acre with 30 and 45 pounds of nitrogen increased lint yield 87 and 211 pounds, respectively.

The rate of water use in relation to plant development is given in chart form with reasons why. A producer may do all other things so vital necessary in the development of a cotton crop and penalize himself during the bloom stage by not supplying sufficient amount of water, shortening fiber length and reducing fiber quality.

The "do's" and "don'ts" for producers handling sprays and dusts are a must to insure safety to the operator.

1. Always read the label before using and follow warnings.
2. Always store in original containers. Store outside the home and out of reach of children.
3. Never smoke while spraying or dusting. Avoil inhaling sprays or dusts. Wear protective clothing or masks where indicated on labels.
4. Wash hands after spraying or dusting. Avoil spilling sprays or dusts on skin or clothing.
5. If symptoms of illness occur during or shortly after spraying or dusting, call a doctor or get the patient to a hospital immediately.

If you drive your tractor on the highways you need to be extra careful because the normal 5-15 miles per hour of a farm tractor is almost like standing still on the highway in fast automobile traffic.

Take into consideration these points to help prevent dangerous accidents:

1. Be sure you can see ahead, to the side, and to the rear of the tractor and the implement you are pulling.
2. To be sure others see your tractor, have flags attached during the day and proper lights at night.
3. Be sure your steering apparatus is in good condition. Tractor with wheels that shimmy should be kept off the highway until repaired.
4. Keep the brakes equalized and tight enough to make short stops. Have good controls at all times.
5. Be familiar with the machine you are operating, and don't carry passengers on the tractor.

4-H and FFA boys are busy filling their granaries for the coming year's feeding projects.

Calves will be fed at home by the boys. Lambs will be fed at home and in the local barn.

Barley, oats and maize with the addition of a sweet feed protein supplement and antibiotics will enable the boys to have the best ration to make as rapid gains as possible on lambs and calves.

Success in spot oiling of Johnson grass with naphthas, diesel oil and kerosene is being reported by many producers. Spot oiling of Johnson grass is about as cheap as hoeing and the grass is killed by the chemicals. Spot oiling necessitates oiling the crown of the grass.

Other producers are using sodium daiapon and sodium TCA with good success.

Jimmie Powell has good Johnson grass control by spot oiling on 73 acres of irrigated cotton.

Home Demonstration Agent's Column

By MRS. VIDA KREKLOW

Elephants and Aggies never forget. A week ago Monday afternoon after the storm I spotted the typical family which was moving. The husband was in a household goods loaded truck and the wife was in the family car loaded with the overflow, the children and the dog. Both were parked alongside the jail and having truck trouble. I had just left Charlene Edmiston's and knew that the road was closed on the way to Christoval.

Figuring that no family wanted to spend two or maybe more hours waiting for a draw to run down, I stopped and told them. The man was very appreciative to have the information, thanked me and then asked me my name. "I'm Mrs. Joe Kreklow, the County Home Demonstration agent in this county," I said. "Mrs. Kreklow," he answered, "you look exactly like a woman named Vida Moore who used to be at A&M college when I was an Aggie. In fact, I rode from the mail gate to Austin one time with her."

Then we had the hand shaking, the formal introduction to the family and that good feeling that comes from having seen a face again that once, more years than Jack and I cared to recall, had crossed your path.

That's how Jack Acock and his family were met in Eldorado as they moved from Hondo to the Dr. Bill Hixson ranch, and I do hope that they got to their new home safely that night.

P.S. They did.

Club meetings are fun. And it's a rare one that goes by but what everybody learns something, and that includes teacher too. I believe the words of the song which goes, "If a teacher you would be, by your pupils you'll be taught." At any rate, the demonstrations are informal and everybody there is free to ask questions, relate experiences and generally swap information.

Tuesday afternoon the Good Neighbor club met with Mrs. E. H. Dannheim when a demonstration of the freezing of vegetables, fruits and meat was given. The general discussion covered all forms and methods of keeping fruits and vegetables, and Mrs. Gene Edmiston said that they were enjoying their unusually good apricot crop which she had made principally into apricot marmalade or butter. Since the apricot season is just about gone, I'm going to give a recipe for plum butter which can be used for peaches, pears, apricots, plums and fruits of that variety.

Plum Butter

Prepare the plum (or other fruit) pulp.

1. Select sound ripe fruit.
2. Wash thoroughly. Crush and cook in own juice at slow temperature until soft, stirring to prevent burning.
3. Press through a colander. If you wish all the fibrous material removed, then press through a fine sieve.

Prepare the plum butter.

4 cups plum pulp.
2 cups sugar.
1/8 teaspoon salt.
¼ teaspoon mixed ground spices (if desired).

1. Combine pulp, sugar and salt. Boil rapidly and stir constantly to prevent burning.
2. As the butter cooks down and gets thicker, reduce heat to prevent spattering.
3. Test for desired thickness by pouring small quantity on a cold plate. When it is cooked enough, no rim of liquid will reparate from the butter around the edge of the plate.
4. Stir in fresh spices. If a light color is desired, add whole spices tied loosely in a cheese cloth bag while the butter is cooking.
5. Pour boiling hot butter into clean, sterilized jars to ¼ inch of top if paraffin is to be used. If no paraffin, fill jar to top.
6. Seal, wipe free of any stickiness, label and store.

Not every man in the county has a brand new airplane parked at his front door. Nick Jurecek does. But it isn't his and he can't use it. In fact, nobody can use it. Monday afternoon's high winds flipped Bill Bayles' new poisoning plane over and it landed in Nick's front yard, on its back. A damaged plane is something like a balsa wood kite. When it's wrecked there isn't too much that can be salvaged. The loss is just about total and it's a shame; the little plane was so pretty—and expensive.

Prevent spoilage and poor quality in home canned food. You lose time, labor and money when your canned food spoils. If quality is poor, the food may lose appeal and nutritive value.

Three main causes of food spoilage are: under-processing, faulty seals and improper handling, according to extension foods and nutrition specialists.

Work for top quality in your canned products by following these suggestions from the specialists:

Use young tender products.

Gather and can in the cool of the morning.

Can in small amounts.

Clean food thoroughly. Keep all utensils and containers clean.

Use aluminum, unchipped enamel or glass for holding or precooking food.

Aim for speed in preparation. "One hour from the garden to can is ideal."

Use proper type of can or jar for food being canned.

Have food hot when sealed unless canning vegetables by one-step cold-pack method.

Get a good seal.

Do not overcook or underprocess.

Cool quickly.

Store in a dark, dry place.

Store in a cool place—50 to 70 degrees F.

Get latest information on canning from my office, call 24281. Also ask for the material on how to prevent spoilage and poor quality in home canned food given in Extension Leaflet 276.

Mrs. Goldie Sugg of Sonora has caught the biggest bass, so far, with one weighing 4 lb. 9 oz. dressed. Mrs. Fred Logan was high for a while a nice bass caught at Devils river.

—ps—

Among new families moving here this week were Mr. and Mrs. Earl Dennis of Sonora, who have rented the Oliver rent house. They belong to the Baptist church and he is a plumber and windmill man.

EARN AND LEARN

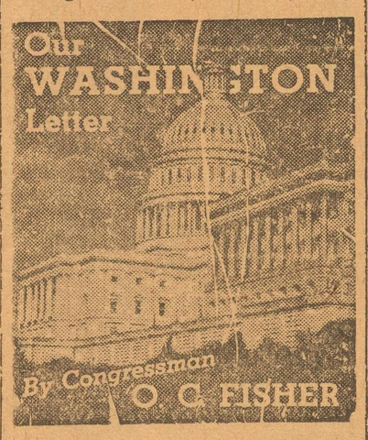

"Methods of Freezing Foods," was the demonstration given by Vida Kreklow when the Earn and Learn H. D. Club met Thursday evening, June 27, at the Methodist educational building.

Recreation was led by Mrs. E. F. Smith who conducted a memory game. A guest, Mrs. Billie Grant, won the contest and received a roll of waxed paper.

Refreshments of fresh fruit sundaes were served to nine members and one guest, by Mrs. M. H. Woodward.

The next meeting, July 10, will be at the ranch home of Mrs. Oliver Teele.

Cynthia and Allen Burk from Midland spent last week here with their grandmother, Mrs. Way King.

A railroad transportation bill, designed to reorganize and modernize the laws that deal with railroads, and to provide a loan program for certain lines in financial stress, passed the House last week. It was previously approved by the Senate.

Certain New England interests had been able to slip an amendment into the bill before it reached the House which would remove scoured and clean wool from the present exemption from ICC rate control. By shopping around on the free competitive market, scouring plants are able to get wool shipped east by truck at a substantial saving in rates under those charged by railroads. We were able to get the bill changed on the Floor of the House, and retain the present exemption.

Did you ever see a Confederate bill—a REAL one? Mr. Emmett C. Gardner of San Angelo has sent me a memento, a $1.00 bill, dated April 1, 1862, signed in the handwriting of L. S. Baechtet, redeemable "out of proceeds of cotton pledged." This bill was used by Mr. Gardner's grandfather, O. T. Francis of old Virginia, a Confederate cavalryman over much of the south during the civil war.

* * *

Speaking of the civil war, do you happen to know of a confederate widow? There are believed to be about 1,500 of them living. Each of them is entitled to a Federal pension under a recent law, but the Veterans Administration informs me it has no record of who these widows are and where they live.

The daring young lady in the flying juice box

She started something — this winsome chauffeurette of 50 years ago! She sometimes scorched down the road at 20 m.p.h. (except against a strong wind or when the batteries needed recharging).

But daredevil that she was, our fair heroine would pale to see her darling daughter as she pilots the family station wagon through 1958 traffic on her daily rounds to school, supermarket and train.

And her housewifely duties don't end there. Today's young mother is also cook, nursemaid, social secretary and purchasing agent. Sometimes she even helps earn the family income — always has a big say in spending it. And whether or not a family has a regular savings program usually depends on her.

That's why so many women are the instigators of a regular investment program in U. S. Savings Bonds. They appreciate the feeling of security that such a program guarantees. They know that U. S. Series E Savings Bonds are one of the best investments a family can make. The principal invested in Bonds is safe. The returns are sure. And now every Series E Bond pays a new, higher interest — 3¼% when held to maturity!

If you're one of today's daring young ladies of the flying horsepower, you undoubtedly take an active interest in your family's future financial security. Remember — one of the best ways to do something about it is to encourage your husband to start investing regularly in Savings Bonds today!

Here's another thrifty idea! To see how fast small change can add up, put it into Savings Stamps. 10¢ and 25¢ denominations available at your post office along with handy albums to keep them in. Start a book today.

Part of every American's savings belongs in U. S. Savings Bonds
