Hurricane Lashes Beach Homes On Carolina Coast

New Wildcats Are Scheduled In 3 Counties

Three new wildcats, one each in Stonewall, Sterling and Pecos Counties, have been announced.

Deepest of the three will be the Stonewall project, which is to be drilled by Wayne Petroleum Co. of Abilene and associates as the No. 1 M. A. Baldwin. Location is 660 feet from south and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 50-D-H&TC. That is about four miles east of Aspermont. Contract depth is 6,500 feet, calculated to allow a test of the Ellenburger.

George T. Abell of Midland will drill the No. 1 State-Barnes and others as a 5,500-foot Ellenburger test in North Pecos County. The drillsite is 660 feet from northwest and northeast lines of section 114-10-H&GN, five miles east of Imperial.

J. T. Watts of Melvin, Tex., and associates are to drill to 1,425 feet with cable tools at the No. 1 H. H. Eiland, Southwest Scurry Benge. Location is four miles southwest of Sterling City and 2,117.5 feet from west and 330 feet from south lines of block 14, survey 35.

SCURRY COUNTY

Sid Katz and associates No. 1 County field try, has been plugged and abandoned on total depth of 6,860 feet in reef lime. No shows for production were reported.

Stanolind Oil & Gas No. 15 Dora Cunningham, Cogdell field test in North Scurry County, is continuing to test. No results have been reported. Five and one-half-inch casing was cemented at the total depth of 7,106 feet in lime and perforated at 7,010-020 feet. The perforations were treated with 2,000 gallons of acid.

Taylor Oil & Gas No. 4-A Winston Brothers in Central Scurry County is drilling below 6,907 feet after a drillstem test from 6,850-907 feet. The tool was open one hour and five minutes with gas at the surface in 10 minutes and fluid in 65 minutes. There was no description of the fluid. Final recovery when the drillpipe was pulled was 180 feet of oil and gas-cut mud and 470 feet of free oil with 80 feet of oil-cut mud. No water was present. Flowing pressure ranged from 520 to 1,100 pounds, with shutin pressure after 30 minutes 2,432 pounds.

Superior Oil No. 1-537 Mathis, Northwest Scurry field try, is cleaning out at 7,742 feet and preparing for production tests.

Union Oil of California No. 1 M. L. Simmons in Northeast Scurry County is drilling in lime and shale below 5,080 feet.

Mercury Dips To 37 Here

A cool front which brushed over Texas dropped the mercury to 37 degrees in Snyder last night. Yesterday's maximum temperature was 70 degrees. At 7:30 a.m. today the temperature stood at a chilly 40 degrees, Mrs. D. P. Strayhorn, weather observer, said.

By The Associated Press

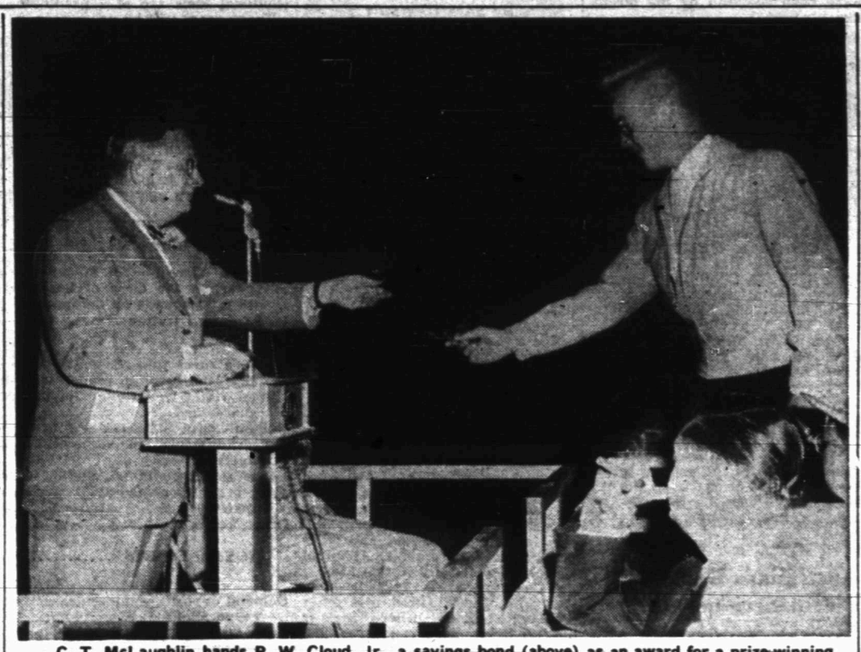

Fall began in earnest for all Texas Friday.

A fast-moving cool front brought near-freezing temperatures to the Panhandle and brisk weather as far south as Brownsville early Friday before moving into Mexico.

Minimum temperatures ranged from 34 at Amarillo to 67 at Brownsville. The only rainfall reported was .03 inch at Brownsville and .01 at Galveston. By mid-morning, skies were clear all over the state.

Temperatures were expected to get up to the 60's in extreme North Texas and to the 80's in the south Friday afternoon.

Minimum temperatures included: Abilene 40, Austin 52, Laredo 65, Dallas and College Station 45, El Paso 50, San Antonio 55, Houston 57, Corpus Christi and Alice 63, Galveston 62, Fort Worth 48, Lubbock and Dalhart 35, Wichita Falls 42, Presidio 56 and Childress 39.

Oil Industry Short On Public Relations, Sen. Daniel Says

There's nothing wrong with a vast majority of Texas oil millionaries that some favorable publicity would not cure, U. S. Sen. Price Daniel declared here last night.

Daniel, speaking at an Oil Progress Week event at the Snyder rodeo grounds, said that too many people in other sections of the country do not know the true story of oil. Many of them think that because one oil millionaire marries a "belly dancer" and another pitches a $50,000 wedding party in a California night club all oil millionaires must follow the same pattern.

"They don't realize that for one of these there are 10,000 others who are useful citizens," Daniel declared.

He cited Snyder and Scurry county as an example of oil and the community making progress together.

Daniel warned that the oil industry still faces serious problems in the field of government controls, and cautioned against heavy imports of foreign oil.

He predicted that Congress would adopt legislation knocking out the Federal Power Commission's ruling for Federal price controls on natural gas.

"The Supreme Court wrote that law, and making laws is not the court's business," he reminded.

Daniel also said the depletion allowance of 27½ per cent must be preserved and that imports of petroleum must be curbed.

"Major companies are not holding down their imports as they should," he charged. If the present trend continues, he said it would become necessary in the interest of the National Defense and in the interest of the oil industry itself to impose some regulations to govern imports.

Daniel cut his speech short as a group sat shivering in the rodeo stands in the face of the season's most potent norther.

Several hundred persons turned out for the barbecue, which opened the evening's program. Many of them remained in their cars, however, during the program in the rodeo arena.

Daniel was introduced by French Robertson of Abilene, chairman of the state prison board.

The Rev. Ronald Hubbard led a brief memorial in tribute to State Sen. Hardley Sadler, who died of a heart attack earlier in the day at Stamford. Originally, Sadler had been scheduled to be here to introduce Daniel.

C. T. McLaughlin, who served as master of ceremonies, presented savings bonds to winners of an Oil Progress essay contest conducted in the High School. The awards, which came from the Diamond M Foundation, went to Myrlene Markhan, Patsy Williams, Thomas Rigsby, P. W. Cloud, Jr., and Myrtle Scott.

Several exhibits of oilfield equipment and servicing machinery were lined up at the rodeo grounds, and crews of several companies put on demonstrations at the outset of the program.

Cotton Marketing Quota Cut For '55

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The nation's cotton farmers will vote Dec. 14 on an Agriculture Department proposal that would reduce marketings of the 1955 fiber crop about 16 per cent below this year's restricted level.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson yesterday set the 1955 crop marketing quota at 10 million bales, the minimum permitted by law, in a move to restrict production and reduce a current surplus.

By comparison, this year's crop, also grown under controls, has been estimated at 12½ million bales. The previous year's production was 16,400,000 bales.

To become effective the Benson proposal must be approved by at least two-thirds of the growers voting. This year's control program won approval by a majority of 94 per cent. Growers never have rejected quotas on cotton.

To implement the quota program, Benson announced that the department will allot acreage planting shares totaling 18,113,208 acres. This year, 21,379,000 acres were alloted, but only an estimated 20 million were planted. In 1953, when there were no controls, farmers planted nearly 25 million acres.

The control program carries strong economic weapons for compliance. If a farmer overplants his allotment, he must pay a cash penalty equal to 50 per cent of the parity price on the excess cotton. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices declared by law to be fair to farmers in relation to their costs.

Furthermore, growers who plant more than their alloted acres are denied government price support loans, not only on cotton, but on other crops they grow.

Benson said farm legislation required him to put cotton quotas at the lowest level permitted by law because of a current excessive reserve supply of 9 million bales, accumulated largely from a big crop in 1953.

He estimated the total supply for the current year at 21½ million bales and the market demand—domestic and export—at 13,600,000 bales.

The secretary did not announce the support rate for the 1955 crop. This year's production is being supported at 90 per cent of parity.

Under new farm legislation, supports for cotton and some other major crops may range next year from 82½ to 90 per cent of parity, depending on the size of supplies. The larger the supply, the lower supports may be. However, Benson has indicated that the support rate for the 1955 cotton crop will be "about 90 per cent" of parity.

Benson said individual farm allotments will be made before the referendum so that farmers will know how the program will affect them.

Should growers reject the cotton quotas, price supports would drop to 50 per cent of parity and would be available only to those farmers who planted within all crop allotments assigned them.

Fund To Aid Youth Grows

A total of $239.25 has been contributed to the fund started this week for Sammy Berry, 14-year-old Snyder school student who underwent an operation for removal of his right arm and part of the right shoulder this week.

Sammy's Boy Scout troop No. 123 has planned a bake sale Saturday at Sunbeam, Everybody's and Piggly-Wiggly food stores.

Relatives reported today that Sammy was "not doing as well as they had hoped" following the operation in M. D. Anderson hospital in Houston.

The special fund for Sammy's aid has been started here, with the West Texas State Bank and the Snyder Daily News accepting donations for the fund.

Many contributions have been made annonymously.

Names of persons and organizations and the amount of their contributions so far are: VFW and American Legion $25, Mrs. E. B. Robberson $10, Eldon W. Thompson $10, E. Ledbetter and family $5, J. E. LeMond $3, Walter Wells $5, J. B. Davidson $10, George E. Parks $15, Dr. John H. Hamblen $10, Hugh Birdwell $1, A. B. Smith $25, Junior High School Parent-Teacher Association $25, Inez Brown $25, Scurry County Butane Co. employes $11, and Business & Professional Women's Club $15.

Union Merger Gains Favor

WASHINGTON (AP) — Prospects for a long-debated merger of the AFL and CIO appeared brighter than ever as leaders of the two big union groups gathered today in a new effort to heal their 19-year-old split.

Successful negotiation of a "no-raiding" agreement between the rival groups four months ago was heralded as a promising initial move toward amalgamation.

Presidents George Meany of the AFL and Walter Reuther of the CIO brought their top aides together expecting to get down to the contentious job of working out the mechanics of an actual merger.

Despite the expressed optimism, an outright failure in the new merger effort—with so many conflicting personalities among the union chiefs and varying claims of organizing area rights—would surprise nobody. Numerous previous merger efforts all failed.

Meany and Reuther have worked years since they succeeded to the top union jobs.

Meany told the AFL convention a few weeks ago he looked for fast action in achieving a merger and saw no reason why it should be "talked or conferenced to death."

New Hearing Due Boy Who Aided His Dog

MONROE, La. (AP) — A second hearing was scheduled today for 10-year-old Joe Cooper, who was sent to a delinquent boys' home after he pointed a loaded shotgun at school officials to save his dog.

Letters and phone calls from throughout the nation have protested the speed with which Judge Howell Heard committed the boy on Oct. 6. At the request of Joe's married sister, Judge Heard set the new hearing for 4 p.m. (CST).

One family in Dallas, Tex., offered adoption and a college education to the boy, son of a widow whose only monthly income reportedly is a $55 state assistance check.

Joe had aimed the shotgun at his principal and truant officer.

"I guess I was excited about what they were doing to give the dog to the dog catcher," he said later.

"Me and my boy friend went to school and when we got there my dog Tippie was running around the playground. Then these two little girls came over and told me somebody was going to give my dog to the dog catcher."

The boy demanded that the principal, Mrs. Tiny Clark, unlock the dog, but she refused. The dog was picked up because it was untagged and unvaccinated.

"Then I went home again and got the gun," Joe continued.

The boy pointed the gun at Mrs. Clark and M. C. Griggs, truant officer. Police were called and the boy was taken to Judge Heard.

Four and one-half hours later, Joe was put in the Louisiana Training Institute here.

Judge Heard explained the boy was sent to the institute because he possibly was dangerous.

"There was no father home. We have no detention home," the judge added. "I had no other place to put him. It was done for his benefit."

He also pointed out that the mother had agreed to a hearing on the same day as the incident.

But protests mounted against the speed of the action against the sixth-grade pupil. Judge Heard later admitted "ordinarily hearings aren't held that quickly."

Joe Cooper, 10-year-old Monroe, La., boy was committed to the state detention home a few hours after threatening school officials with a shotgun in an effort to save his dog, Tippie. The sixth grade student threatened the principal and truant officer after they locked up the dog, which followed him to school. Numerous protests on the swift decision of the court has resulted in a new hearing for the boy.

Most Residents Flee To Safety

By REESE HART

WILMINGTON, N.C. (AP)—Hurricane Hazel, with winds of more than 100 miles an hour, smashed into Carolina's coast today and moved inland.

The big storm and the crashing waves it generated tore up coastal installations and beach homes from Myrtle Beach, S.C., to the Morehead City, N.C., area.

There were no immediate reports of casualties among the well-warned residents, most of whom sought cover in places of safety.

In response to a radioed appeal from Mayor Ernest Williams of Myrtle Beach, a resort halfway up the South Carolina coast, Gov. James F. Byrnes ordered the Conway Tank Battalion to duty to prevent looting.

The tropical storm, which wrought heavy damage and loss of life in Haiti Tuesday, struck the U.S. mainland a severe blow, but towering waves caused more damage along the coast than wind.

The Miami Weather Bureau, hurricane forecasting headquarters, reported in a 10 a.m. advisory that the storm center crossed the coastline a short distance east of Myrtle Beach at 9:15 a.m.

"Gale to hurricane force winds and extremely heavy rains will continue especially to the north and east of the center as the hurricane progresses northward across North Carolina and into Virginia during the day," the advisory said.

"All precautions should be continued against dangerous winds and abnormally high tides on the North Carolina coast and northward until the hurricane passes."

Thousands of beach homes were torn up and many homes and concession stands washed away.

Associated Press photographer Ruth Faircloth reported from Myrtle Beach watching a virtually undamaged house with attached garage float majestically out to sea, its weather vane proudly turning.

Dr. Waldo H. Jones, hurricane warning officer at Myrtle Beach, estimated winds there at 100 to 120 miles an hour. He said tides were 9 to 11 feet above normal.

Far up the coast at Morehead City, N.C., streets were under water and waves lashed at the seawall protecting the hospital. The water was not expected to reach the hospital's ground floor.

Lawrence Cook, assistant police chief at Wrightsville Beach said most of the cottages along the water front there had been washed away. Three families were marooned in that area and the coast guard was sent to rescue them.

The hurricane winds spread across a path as much as 120 miles wide as they struck. An advisory said the forward speed of the storm was 25 to 30 miles an hour and it was expected to pick up speed as it progressed.

Communications and power lines were down in many areas. Small boats piled up on the shore.

Coast Guardsmen evacuated 60 persons from Ocracoke Island homes on the North Carolina outer banks and were sheltering them in the Ocracoke lifeboat station, which is on higher ground.

The Weather Bureau said the high tides would continue for some time in the Myrtle Beach area. Myrtle Beach is a resort community about halfway up the South Carolina coast.

Hurricane warnings were hoisted all the way from Charleston, S.C., to the Virginia Capes, but the Bureau said only gale force winds would be experienced at Charleston.

Torrential rain accompanied the storm and heavy rain fell over a large portion of the two states.

A special advisory from the Washington Weather Bureau said the storm was expected to turn northward and move across North Carolina, central Virginia and pass a short distance west of Washington this afternoon.

First to suffer as the hurricane struck were beach houses and fishing piers. Most beach areas had been evacuated before the storm struck.

The sheriff's office at Conway, S.C., reported that an 800-foot fishing pier at Tilghman's Beach, north of Myrtle Beach, washed away. Myrtle Beach police said a pier at Spivey's Beach, south of Myrtle, also fell victim to the towering waves.

Communications went out in some areas. Phone lines to Myrtle Beach went out of commission as AP correspondent Noel Yancy was reporting on conditions there.

Wrightsville Beach, east of Wilmington, and Carolina Beach, south of Wilmington, feared a repetition of the two-million-dollar damage they suffered Aug. 1, 1944, in the most severe hurricane to strike this section in modern times.

Waves pounded at beach houses today even before the storm reached its height.

This Cape Fear River port escaped severe damage in the 1944 storm.

Churchill Seeks To End British Strike

LONDON (AP) — Prime Minister Churchill today called his Cabinet into meeting for the second time in 24 hours in an effort to find a solution to London's worsening strike troubles.

Sir Walter Monckton, minister of labor, conferred during the day with labor and management seeking some solution to the strike of 24,000 dock workers which has crippled the great port of London.

It was understood Monckton was not able to get to this afternoon's Cabinet session.

The stoppage by 24,000 dockers and a walkout by more than 15,000 London bus drivers and conductors presented Britain with its worst potential labor crisis since the general strike of 1926. Another 8,000 ship repairmen also were idle in a separate unofficial stoppage.

The Communist Daily Worker cheered all the walkouts, calling for "the unity and solidarity of the working class."

Sir Walter Monckton, minister of labor, set up the dock talks after an emergency meeting yesterday of Prime Minister Churchill's Cabinet.

It was believed the ministers approved an action plan should the strike affect essential food supplies and services. One drastic step the government could take would be to declare an emergency and order troops to the docks to unload perishable cargoes.

Ignoring pleas by union officials that the men return to work to permit negotiation of grievances, defiant strike leaders declared the stoppage would become national next week unless the employers made peace.

The port of London tieup, now in its 12th day, already is affecting food supplies. Imported eggs, butter and bacon are fast vanishing from stores in the metropolitan area. Industrial experts estimate between a fourth and a third of Britain's overseas trade is at a standstill.

The strikers say they will stay out until employers accept their main demand—that overtime work should be on a voluntary basis. The employers so far have refused to negotiate until the stevedores withdraw their ban on overtime, imposed at the start of the year. The city's bus strike, meanwhile, entered its third day with 15,746 of the system's 43,000 drivers and conductors idle and 3,263 of its 7,600 buses laid up.

The busmen, who lack the backing of union leaders, quit work when the state-owned transport system introduced new schedules to spread manpower.

Schools Face New Boycott

WILMINGTON, Del. (AP)—A boycott of Milford, Del., schools by white students, repeating a tense racial situation which occurred here several days ago, appears in the offing once again.

The state of Delaware paved the way yesterday for the readmission —legally— of 10 Negro students to the formerly all-white combined elementary-high school. The school has a registration of 1,562 pupils, including 686 white high school students.

Vice Chancellor William Marvel ruled that the Negro students "have a clear legal right" to attend the Milford school. His statement precedes a formal order by the Court of Chancery, expected next week.

Marvel's ruling was followed by a statement from Bryant Bowles, president of the National Assn. for the Advancement of White People (NAAWP), strong opponents of integrated schools.

"When the Negroes walk in, (to the Milford school), the whites will walk out," he said. "I'm sure of that. Marvel has reserved the Negroes. I think that about all he'll have in the school is the 10 Negroes . . ."

The Negro students had been integrated for three weeks of the fall term, until a boycott cut attendance to a third of normal and resulted in the resignation of the Milford School Board. A new board ordered the return of the Negro students to an all-Negro school in Dover, Del.

Marvel's ruling was made on an appeal for reinstatement filed by the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People on behalf of the students and their parents.

Marvel did not specify in his order when the Negro students should return to class.

Major Buyers Due To Take More Texas Oil

AUSTIN (AP) —Major purchasers want a little more Texas crude oil for November than they asked for October, they have advised the Railroad Commission.

The companies reported yesterday advance nominations for November total 2,784,231 barrels daily, up 21,042 from last month's nominations.

A statewide proration hearing has been set for next Tuesday here for the commission to hear further evidence on which to base Texas' allowable for November.

Last month, at the almost unanimous request of the oil industry for a cutback, the commission dropped the pemissive flow 59,138 barrels daily, pegging it at 2,788,141 barrels.

Robertson To Return Today

WASHINGTON (AP)—Asst. Secretary of State Walter S. Robertson returns today from a mystery mission to Formosa reported to have dealt with limiting Nationalist forays against Communist China.

There was no advance comment from Robertson, the State Department's top Far Eastern affairs official, nor from department spokesmen here on the precise purpose of his sudden trip to confer with Nationalist Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

There was reason to believe, however, that the United States would like to see fighting between the Communist and Nationalist Chinese kept to an absolute minimum.

Raft Reaches End Of 115-Day Voyage

PAGO PAGO, American Samoa (AP) — Slowed by heavy seas, the balsa raft "Seven Little Sisters" neared the end of its voyage from Peru today, bobbing along at the end of a towline from the welcoming ship Manuatele.

Three hundred islanders in colorful native costumes jammed an area between the boat dock and the customs shed to welcome the tiny raft and its intrepid skipper, 61-year-old William Willis.

Willis yelled to Dr. D. D. Smith of New York, aboard the Manuatele "I have no need of medical assistance, everything is fine."

Smith, three Samoans and John P. Mosher of Parsons, Kan., an officer aboard the Manuatele, leaped overboard, swam to the raft and accompanied Willis into the harbor.

Willis, shaved and apparently in the pink of condition, was asked what he would like to eat at a welcoming banquet. "Anything, thank you, anything except raw fish," he replied.

Willis, a native Texan who now lives in New York, set out from Peru four months ago with a cat and a parrot as his only companions.

The cat, he said, was in good condition—but she had eaten the parrot two days ago.

Capt. Robert Payes of New York, skipper of the Manuatele, said the raft, too, was in fine shape and had stood the 115-day voyage well.

Gov. Richard Barrett Lowe of American Samoa planned the welcome banquet and made arrangements for Willis to spend his first night ashore in a newly redecorated guest room, complete with an innerspring mattress the likes of which Willis has probably been dreaming about for weeks.

A broken tow line that took half an hour to repair delayed the raft's arrival. Willis apparently had foreseen such a possibility for he refused to leave his craft until it reached port.

In New York his wife Bess, told he wouldn't get off the raft, said, "of course he wouldn't get off. The raft might smash against the other ship. He has to be at the steering wheel all the time."

That steering wheel apparently had shortened the distance Willis had to travel.

He had planned to drift 11,000 miles in eight months, whereas the trip took less than four.

Willis traveled alone to "show that a lone man can conquer the ocean and the fury of the elements with his bare hands and the most rudimentary means of navigation."

Slaying Suspect Recovering Memory Gradually Under Quiz

FORT WORTH (AP)—Little by little, David Hagler, 36, Fort Worth businessman, held on a charge of murder in an Oklahoma station wagon death, remembers what happened last weekend.

Yesterday, he remembered a third occupant of the ill-fated station wagon. He has been under almost constant questioning in the Tarrant County jail since he surrendered to police here Wednesday at noon.

Hagler at first was believed to be the murder victim whose charred body was found in the station wagon near Davis, Okla. But a dental examination proved the body was not Hagler's. Then he turned up in Waco, Tex., and on Wednesday morning surrendered to Fort Worth police.

Among other things that Hagler, an asphalt firm executive, remembered about his Friday-to-Wednesday adventures:

1. He drove his 1954 Mercury sedan to Oklahoma last Friday and checked into the Cedarvale, Okla., Cabins. Then he returned to Fort Worth by bus.

2. When he arrived in Fort Worth, he went to his home where the death car, a station wagon belonging to his former wife, was parked.

3. The station wagon contained 12 or 15 five-gallon glass jugs of white gasoline he said he bought earlier for asphalt experiments.

4. He was not aware, he said, that white gasoline could be bought in Oklahoma.

Agent Steel Westbrook of the Oklahoma Bureau of Investigation said last night Hagler had pieced together for him the following story:

Saturday morning he drove the station wagon to a downtown tavern where he began drinking with two men he met.

The men he knows only as "Joe" and "John."

Hagler and his two companions then drove to Arlington where John got out. Hagler and Joe met a man known to Hagler only as Hern (correct spelling unknown).

The trio then drove to a tavern east of Dallas. Hagler said he believes he drove from nearby Arlington to Dallas but from there on his memory is hazy—he believes he was a passenger during the trip to Oklahoma.

The next thing Hagler remembers was awakening in a sickened condition at the entrance to Turner Falls Park, about half a mile from the tourist courts.

His car, money and watch were gone. He says he had been robbed.

Hagler walked to the tourist court, got into his other auto and drove to Gainesville where he registered as Dale Waggoner at a hotel about 2 a.m. Sunday.

Westbrook said Hagler could not tell him just how he happened to turn up in Waco Monday morning.

Hagler was held today on a fugitive warrant filed yesterday just as a habeas corpus hearing was opened. Asst. Dist. Atty. Jerald Murad, who filed the warrant, requested that no bond be allowed.

But at an afternoon hearing requested by Defense Atty. Byron Matthews, Justice of the Peace R. S. Callaway set Hagler's bond at $10,000. Matthews then declined to post the bond, saying he might make it Friday.

The fugitive warrant filed by Murad was on the basis of a murder charge lodged against Hagler in Sulphur, Okla., which accused him of the slaying of "John Doe."

Report Communist Gain In Indonesia

By WILLIAM L. RYAN
AP Foreign News Analyst

Dispatches from Indonesia indicate today a worsening economic-political situation which is bringing the Communist party there ever closer to striking distance of power.

The dispatches tell of skyrocketing prices, of shortages of bread, canned foods, powdered milk and other foodstuffs, of hoarding and of complaints by importers that they are the victims of shakedowns by political parties.

More ominously, the army chief of staff, Maj. Gen. Bambang Sugeng, who has been constantly at odds with the Defense Ministry, apparently is having a difficult time preventing the ministry from arming what may amount to a communist-controlled militia.

The dangerous elements which have been present in Indonesia's politics ever since it gained sovereignty from the Dutch are coming more and more to the fore. Thus, Gen. Sugeng, apparently on the verge of being forced from his job as chief of staff, has been hard put to prevent the rise of what would amount to a Communist police force.

The Communists long have been campaigning for arms for an organization called Perbepsi. Those are the initials of a group called "The Union of Former Guerrilla Fighters," whose members took part in the underground war against the Dutch in presovereignty days. It is now a Communist-dominated group and probably Communist controlled.

The proposal to arm this organization — ostensibly to fight the terroristic Dar Ul-Islam (State of Islam) organization, which seeks a totally Moslem state — has been supported for some time now by Defense Minister Iwa Kusumasumantri.

But Gen. Sugeng has complained the defense minister was attempting to use the army as a political instrument.

The Communists now support the government. For some time they have been in a position where they could precipitate a crisis if they chose. They have not done so, apparently following international instructions of Communists to pursue parliamentary tactics. Moreover, if the present nationalist government fell, it would likely be succeeded by the Moslem Masjumi, which has made it plain what it would do about Communists.

In today's circumstances, it seems unlikely the Communists will make a definite strike for power in the immediate future. They can remain wedded to the nationalists, whether the nationalists like it or not.

The danger in Indonesia seems to be that the Communists are patiently setting the stage for the time when the signal comes for them to attempt a takeover by "internal" means. The worsening economic situation is to their advantage, and the arming of Perbepsi would probably be another long step toward their ultimate goal.

Rehearsal Is Set For Choir

The Community Choir will hold its first rehearsal of the season at 7:30 Monday night, Robert Clinton, director, has announced.

The meeting will be held in the high school choir room. Persons who were members of the choir last year or who would like to join it for the first time are invited to attend.

The choir was organized last year under Clinton's leadership. Membership is open to any person who likes to sing. Rehearsals are held on week nights, and are arranged to suit the convenience of the greatest number of choir members.

The choir's presentation last year, given in December, was a portion of Handel's "Messiah." New choruses from the work are to be added for this year's presentation, Clinton said. Persons who were members of the choir last year may use the books they purchased then, and additional books have been secured for new members.

Doctor Dies Before Award Is Presented

NEW YORK (AP) — Death came yesterday to 81-year-old Dr. Antonio Pisani—just eight hours before he was named New York state's outstanding practitioner of the year.

The state medical society's governing council voted the tribute to Pisani at 9 a.m. After the meeting, the council learned he died at 1 a.m.

Pisani practiced medicine on Manhattan's lower East Side since 1897. Three sons also became doctors.

Western Guatemala Reports Heavy Rains

GUATEMALA (AP)—Reports to the Interior Ministry said heavy rain storms in western Guatemala had left so many homeless that officials are unable to meet the "horrible situation."

Reports said San Jose and Champerico, Pacific port towns, were flooded by both river and sea. Inhabitants of San Jose, a town of about 3,000, were removed in railroad cars.

Youths Back Here To Face Theft Charge

Two 18-year-old youths wanted on accusation of being absent without leave from military posts, theft of two motor vehicles, and escape from a military guardhouse were returned here from Abilene yesterday afternoon on charge of stealing one of the vehicles.

In separate instruments purported by Lt. George Sutton of the Abilene Police Department to be their voluntary signed statements, the men are identified as Don Ray Chatel, 1404657, and Russell Lee Osborne, 1411592, both enlisted men of the U. S. Marine Corps.

The statement bearing Chatel's name says he went absent without leave from his station at San Diego, Cal., was arrested at Cheyenne, Wyo., placed in a guardhouse at an air force base at Denver, met Osborne there and escaped with him on Oct. 12.

The statement with Osborne's name says he was absent without leave from his post at Cherry Point, N.C., arrested at Torrington, Wyo., and confined in the Denver guardhouse.

Both statements agree that the two stole a 1949 Ford coach at Denver the night after their afternoon escape, drove it to Colorado Springs and stole an Oklahoma license plate from another vehicle, placing it on the stolen car after removing the latter's Wyoming plates, then drove the car into Texas, abandoning it Wednesday night 20 miles north of here when a tire blew out.

The statements say the men then hitch-hiked to Snyder, stole a yellow 1949 Studebaker pickup from the yard of a residence here, drove it to a rural road near Abilene, and pushed it into a creek from a 20-foot bluff. They then are said to have walked to a highway, where Abilene policemen apprehended them.

A charge accusing the youths jointly of stealing the pickup from A. E. Smith 705 Twenty-eighth Street, was filed here yesterday morning. The men are to appear before the grand jury, which is now in session.

They were returned here from Abilene by Howard Gibbons and Bill Love, deputy sheriffs.

The abandoned Ford was found in Garza County by Bill Zimmerman and E. W. Green, highway patrolmen of Snyder, and towed here yesterday morning.

Flyers Save Valuable Plane

HAMILTON AIR FORCE BASE, Calif. (AP)—Air Force officials told the story of two fliers who risked their necks to save their $500,000 F94C Starfire jet and literally "slid home" and kept damage to $300.

Lt. Ward Tuttle, 25, pilot, took off with his radar observer, Lt. Lawrence Bubba, 26, from McClelland Field near Sacramento on a flight to Hamilton Field, near San Rafael. Tuttle's home is Bremerton, Wash. Bubba is from Easton, Pa.

On the way, their landing gear jammed.

Tuttle radioed ahead and McClelland oiled a 3,500 foot long strip of runway for the landing.

Instead of abandoning the plane by parachute, Tuttle and Bubba cut the engine, brought the plane onto the prepared runway and skidded to a halt on the oil after 2,500 feet.

The accident occurred as Brown was preparing to enter Highway 80 from the Snyder-Colorado City State Highway 101. His truck crossed Highway 80 and crashed into the creek bed on the opposite side.

Solar Power Expected To Expand Soon

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The sun's energy can be used to power stoves and other household appliances. It can also be used in small solar-power machines for such things as irrigation, heating and cooling houses, and charging batteries.

Use of such appliances and engines will be widespread within five years. And businessmen are missing a bet by not looking into the possibilities of a new solar energy industry.

These predictions are made — as a sort of an aside—by scientists who are meeting here today with manufacturers, engineers and utility officials for the primary purpose of studying the industrial uses of atomic energy.

The solar energy use these scientists are talking about is for small-scale power units. They think these things could come soon, if industrial leaders would take them up. They contend we shouldn't wait on the big-scale developments planned for the future use of atomic power plants or large-size solar engines.

"There is a worldwide demand for small solar-power machines, up to five horsepower, for irrigation, heating and cooling of dwellings, charging batteries, and other ranch uses," Charles G. Abbot of the Smithsonian Institution says.

"The demand is very keen in Australia, India, Israel and other semiarid regions, where fuel is several times more expensive than in the United Utates."

But he notes there are at least 150,000 square miles in California, Arizona and Nevada where the sun furnishes sufficient energy for such power plants during 300 days per year.

"At present there is no company manufacturing such units, though the demand is large and constant," Abbot says. "I receive several inquiries a week where such devices are available. I have to reply that they exist now only at the Smithsonian."

Another scientist at the National Industrial Conference Board's forum on atomic energy in industry has her eye on the housewife. Dr. Maria Telkes, of the College of Engineering of New York University, says small household appliances powered by the sun can soon be a reality in many parts of the world, especially those where conventional fuels are at a premium.

These areas will be candidates in time for large-scale solar energy power plants. But within five years, she believes, small devices will be in use. Her own university is testing a solar stove.

Although sugar cane was grown in Hawaii when it was discovered by the Western World, the people of the islands had not learned the art of making sugar from it.

SOCIETY SCRIBBLINGS

Aiding Civic Projects Is Objective Of New Club

By ANITA HALL

Men connected with the oil industry are known to be progressive and so are their wives. Due to the fact that this is National Oil Progress Week, the wives of local employes of Halliburton Oil Well and Cementing Company chose a fitting time to organize a club whose purpose is revealed in their slogan: "Better Halliburton and Community Fellowship."

The club was organized Thursday when the women met for a luncheon at the Hilander. It was voted to name the club the Halliburton Ladies' Club and the members are to meet monthly for a luncheon and afternoon of bridge and canasta. It was agreed to dispense with the practice of giving prizes and to donate the money that would have been spent on them to any fund-raising drive in progress for civic improvement.

Members of this newly-organized club are Mrs. K. H. DUNCAN, Mrs. LLOYD WEATHERS, Mrs. RICHARD HAM, Mrs. H. L. (PETE) CAVENDER, Mrs. JAMES GIBSON, Mrs. MATT ALLEN, Mrs. GLENN BARRON, Mrs. RAY WILKINSON, Mrs. R. L. MOBLEY, Mrs. C. N. NECESSARY, Mrs. JACK PITZER, Mrs. JOE AMASON, Mrs. STANLEY KERBOW, Mrs. B. F. DAVIS, Mrs. D. L. WRIGHT, Mrs. C. L. CLEVELAND, Mrs. J. D. HORTON, Mrs. CLAY PROCTOR, Mrs. BILL MORRIS, Mrs. W. W. CAREY, Mrs. L. W. GILSTRAP, Mrs. H. W. VICK, Mrs. W. R. LEHMAN, Mrs. PAUL METCALF, Mrs. JOE JACKSON and one member from Sweetwater, Mrs. BEN TURNER.

Officers were elected during a business session following the luncheon. They were Mrs. Necessary, president, Mrs. Lehman, vice-president; Mrs. Wilkinson, secretary; Mrs. Cavender, treasurer.

The club organized for the purpose of assisting any local civic project in any way, either as a club or individually, Mrs. Necessary said. She added that any civic club could feel free to call on them for aid.

Fish deserves a rich fate. To make sure it gets its due, a man who knows as much about fine food as anyone in this country has written the best guide Americans have yet had to this subject.

"James A. Beard's Fish Cookery" (Little, Brown) is the title of his cookbook. A general discussion of preparation methods prefaces the book. There are many fine recipes for the preparation of fish dishes that will give you an interesting change in your menus. Here is an exciting recipe found in his book that is easy to prepare. If you can't get the type of fish called for in the recipe, substitute any small fish avaliable.

BUTTERFISH EN PAPILLOTTE

Butterfish (1 per serving),
Cooking parchment or aluminum foil
Ham slices (1 per serving)
Anchovy butter
Grated onion
Butter
Salt and pepper
Thick tomato puree
Chopped parsley

Cut heart-shaped pieces of aluminum foil big enough to accommodate the fish. On each piece of foil, place a slice of ham near one edge. Spread it with anchovy butter (a blend of anchovy paste and butter) and a little grated onion. Top with a small fish, dot with butter, season with salt and pepper, add a teaspoon of tomato puree and sprinkle with chopped parsley. Fold the other side of the parchment over this, crimp the edges together so that they are tightly sealed. Bake at 425 degrees 20 to 25 minutes.

COOKBOOK AUTHOR . . . James A. Beard prepares fish in foil with no muss and fuss but full of flavor.

If you are inclined to skip this food, you might remind yourself that three cups of milk a day provide enough calcium for the body needs of a moderately active adult. This amount of milk also furnishes all the day's needs of riboflavin and at least one-third of the protein, in addition to some viatmin A, and a small amount of iron.

Tigers Will Try For Upset Over Mustangs

The Snyder Tigers are in good spirit on the day of their second conference game, which will be played in Sweetwater tonight.

Game time at Sweetwater is 8 o'clock. Snyder football fans are expected to flood the Mustang Bowl there to see this game, which is growing into one of the biggest games each season. Since the Mustangs and Tigers renewed their competition in 1952, each team has won one game. The two squads have met eight times in 29 years, with Sweetwater winning five of the contests and Snyder three.

It was last year that the Tigers, who were called the weakest team in the district and did finally wind up on the bottom, surprised the Mustangs 13-0 in the Snyder stadium. Jackie Grimmett and Jerry Smith led the team to that win. The year before, Sweetwater had crushed Snyder 47-7.

Right now the relative ratings of Sweetwater and Snyder are about the same as they were at this time last year. Sweetwater at one time was picked to win this district and is now called a contender for one of the top three places. Snyder, which has been rated near the bottom, has shown much improvement in the last few weeks and made a good showing even in losing to Levelland 13-6 last week.

Coach John Conley is hoping his Tiger team will remain in good spirit for tonight's game. The Mustangs will be seeking revenge for last year's upset and have a heavy line and fast backfield. They will be playing at home and are assured the backing of Sweetwater's regular big turnout of fans.

To fight that, Conley will depend, in part, on determination of Snyder gridders. Conley's squad has a scrappy line and a hard-working backfield.

Up to now, the Tiger record is 3-1. Snyder wins were 26-12 over Ysleta, 19-0 over Bowie of El Paso, and 51-0 over Thomas Jefferson of El Paso.

Sweetwater, while its record does not look that good on paper, has had rougher competition so far. The Mustangs have not played a district game yet. They will be aiming for a first loop win, and they have had two weeks without play to prepare for it. They tied Northside of Fort Worth 20-20 and lost to Abilene 13-0 and to San Angelo 21-0.

All Sweetwater's competition so far has been from Class AAAA, and both Abilene and San Angelo are top-rated teams of their district. Although the Northside game resulted in a tie, Sweetwater led the Fort Worth team 20-0 at half-time only to fumble it away in the second half.

The Mustangs led Abilene in almost all statistics, even while losing. In their three games this year, the Mustangs have gained 274 yards rushing to opponents' 531. The Sweetwater team has completed 16 of 37 passes during the season so far for 237 yards. It has lost the ball 10 times on fumbles. Three team members, Frank Smith, Harold Hobbs, and James Harvey do most of the passing, with Smith leading the field. Chief receivers so far have been Robert Brothers, Harvey, and Bubba Meyer.

The Tigers, in their four games, have gained 1,127 yards rushing to opponents' 626, completed 14 out of 34 passes for 324 yards and three touchdowns to opponents' 22 out of 55 for 274 yards and no score. Snyder has lost the ball on fumbles six times this season. It has gained the ball, on opponents fumbles, 12 times. Doing the passing for the team is Bernie Hagins and Powell Berry. Top receivers are Don McNew, Alan Snead, and Jimmy Bennett. Leading ground gainers are Gerald Crawford, Joe Baxter, and Jack Spikes. Top defensive players so far have been Steve Blair, Berry, James Parker, Shorty Grimmett, and Doug James.

Sweetwater's line averages 10 pounds per man heavier than Snyder's. The Mustangs have an average of 188 pounds up front. The backfield average is the same, 159 pounds.

Conley will probably replace Spikes, fullback who has a slightly injured ankle, with Baxter at fullback. Spikes will probably play in the game, however. Baxter, who usually runs at left halfback, weighs 175. Moving into Baxter's position will be 140-pound Crawford, who usually splits time with Bennett, 155, at right half. Bennett will be at that spot tonight. Hagins, 140-pound regular quarterback, will start, with Berry as his substitute.

In the line, starters have not been changed. Snead, 175, will be at right end, while 170-pound McNew will be at left end. Tackles will be Grimmett, 165, on the left and Frankie Minton, 230, on the right. At left guard will be Parker, 175, with Blair, 155, at right guard. James, 165, will be center.

Both teams run off the split-T offensive formation.

While Snyder and Sweetwater are playing, two district leaders, Big Spring and Vernon, will clash in Vernon. Breckenridge, which has not yet played a district game and is expected to take the district, will take on Plainview, Levelland, a third district leader, will go to Lamesa.

ABOVE THE BLEACHERS

By DALE WALTON

Tickets were selling fast this morning for tonight's Snyder-Sweetwater football tilt in Sweetwater.

Most fans wait until the last day to get tickets. Some wait until they get to the out-of-town game site. That's what many are expected to do today.

Don't stay home just because you don't have a ticket. Sweetwater's Mustang Bowl will hold 9,600 persons, so there should be a seat available.

• • •

Gail's game at Ackerly tonight is an all-important one for players and fans of both teams. Both are strong this year and and are going to try for the six-man district title. Tonight's game may be the one to decide it. Ackerly has already downed the former district champ, Klondike. Each team has one district win.

• • •

James, like other coaches in this area, is now working on his basketball schedule. As the Gail schedule now stands, the Coyotes will open at Ira Nov. 30 in a non-conference game, and Ira will return the game Dec. 3. Gail's district will include Klondike, Flower Grove, Dawson, Loop, Courtney, and Ackerly.

• • •

Out at Ira, senior gridders who finished their last football season last week were Leon Ford and Don Gray. Ford, an end, has been playing three years. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kermit Ford. Back Gray, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. D. Gray, was this year's pep squad hero. He was leading scorer and ground gainer for the team. Another senior, Lawton Taylor, couldn't play this year because of an injury, so he served as manager. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Taylor.

• • •

There have been rumors around District 3A-1 that Breckenridge's enrollment last year is not sufficent for the school to even be voted into Class AAA this year. Nothing has been confirmed on that. There have been also been rumors that the Buckies may be just plain turned down by this district. If they have sufficient enrollment, we hope they are not shut out. That happened to them in District 3A-2, so if this district gives Breckenridge up, the Buckies won't have any choice but to drop to Class AA. Breckenridge's former district may think the best way to get rid of competition is to kick it out, but we don't agree. We'd like to see them stick around until teams like the Snyder Tigers can beat them.

• • •

We hear Big Spring's coach Carl Coleman is plenty worried about the Steers' game in Vernon. We don't blame him. The Lions may beat them on passing. Looks as if Vernon may be slightly stronger than some persons figured earlier.

2 Undefeated Teams Keep Their Records

By The Associated Press

Two of the state's 82 unbeaten teams maintained their records last night as the Texas schoolboy football weekend opened with a scattering of games.

Forest of Dallas lashed Adamson of Dallas 19-0 to remain undefeated and united in Class AAAA.

Paducah, one of the top teams of Class A, swamped Lockett 66-0.

The big push comes tonight, however, with the schedules of all classes bulging with conference games.

Only four games involving unbeaten teams are carded. In Class AA, mighty Lamarque, unbeaten and untied, plays Alvin, undefeated but tied, in a District 27 conference game. Northeast of San Antonio and Gonzales, both boasting perfect records, get together in a District 23 game.

Class A has two games matching unbeaten outfits. Groveton and Corrigan, both undefeated and untied, tangle in a District 19 conference game. Trinity, unbeaten and untied, plays Woodville, undefeated but tied, also in a District 19 test.

Conference play dominates the top classes—AAAA and AAA—and the headliners match Abilene with Odessa in District 1 of Class AAAA and Lufkin with Texarkana in District 4 of AAA.

B Team Plays Sat. Night

The Snyder High School B team will be playing at home at 8 o'clock tomorrow night.

The squad, coached by Jack Dillon, was originally scheduled to go to Colorado City for the game, but the C-City team will now come here.

The team has a 1-2 record, with a win over Lamesa and losses to Big Spring and the Loraine A squad.

Bobby Pollard, Tommy Pritchard, and Jerry Taylor are offensive leaders of the team, while Larry Dickson, Orville Ham, and Joe Reaves are defensive standouts.

Border Teams Are On Spot

By EDDIE LEE

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—The Texas members of the Border Conference are on the spot in this week's football action.

The toughest assignment has been drawn by the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys, who travel to Cincinnati for a day game against the Cincinnati Bearcats.

But Texas Tech's Red Raiders will have their work cut out for them against underdog Louisiana State at Baton Rouge. Eyebrows around the conference would go up sharply if Texas Western fails to end Trinity's four-game winning streak at El Paso, Tex.

And West Texas State will be consigned to the conference cellar if they fail to get past New Mexico A&M in the only conference game on the schedule. The same also goes for the Aggies.

Arizona's two members, both tumbled from the unbeaten ranks a week ago, are favored to return to their winning ways. Arizona meets Idaho of the Pacific Coast Conference at Tucson while Arizona State at Tempe visits Wichita Falls, Tex., for a clash with Midwestern.

Rice To Show Its Freshmen Off Tonight

By The Associated Press

Rice Institute brings its freshman football squad into view Friday night for the first time this season, entertaining the Southern Methodist Colts at Houston.

The Owlets are the only Southwest Conference freshman squad which hasn't played at least one game this season. Their lineup includes at least two players regarded as top prospects by Freshman Coach Charley Moore.

The pair—King Hill of Freeport and Frank Ryan of Fort Worth—are both quarterbacks and both are described by Moore as fine runners and passers.

The winner of the Friday night clash will be one of the only two freshman teams unbeaten this year. Rice hasn't played a game and SMU won its only previous start from Paris Junior College.

The other team with a flawless record is Baylor, whose cubs took their second straight Thursday night with a 38-14 victory over the Texas A&M Fish. It was A&M's first loss after two straight victories.

The Cubs broke loose with three second-half touchdowns to win easily after leading only 20-14 at halftime and trailing 14-13 until the final play of the second quarter.

Baylor's big line helped hand A&M the defeat by jarring the Aggie backs loose from the ball twice in the first quarter. The Cubs scored both times.

Other freshman action this week will send TCU to Arkansas Saturday night for a game at Fort Smith.

The standings:

	W	L	Pct.	Pts.	Opp.
Baylor	2	0	1.000	57	21
SMU	1	0	1.000	31	7
Texas A&M	2	1	.667	52	44
Rice	0	0	.000	0	0
Texas	0	1	.000	7	19
Arkansas	0	1	.000	6	14
TCU	0	1	.000	0	7

Jim Hill, returning to pro football as halfback with the Cleveland Browns, was nicknamed "Iron Claw" in his college days because he was almost infallible as a pass receiver.

Texas, Rice, TCU, Baylor Are Favored In Weekend Games

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF

Arkansas' thinly-manned Razorbacks try to make it a peak of futility for Texas, Rice goes after revenue from Southern Methodist and Texas Christian battles for its life against Texas A&M Saturday in an all-out championship schedule of Southwest Conference football.

It's the biggest day of the campaign as the last three teams to see conference action flex their muscles.

Texas, most overwhelming favorite to win the championship in league history, appears to have more guns than the unbeaten Razorbacks but will have to use them more cautiously than they have been. Arkansas never lets opportunity knock twice.

The forte of the sophomoric Razorbacks is fumble recovery. They also are good at gathering in enemy passes. Texas, however, has thus far thrown little.

Arkansas will be outweighed about 20 pounds to the man in the line and greatly out-experienced. Being sadly outweighed is nothing new but the Porkers haven't yet met a team with the experience background of the Longhorns.

Rice and Southern Methodist are girding for a tremendous offensive show and the scoring should be plentiful. Rice will want to win this one in the worst way—there's a little matter of settling with SMU for a shocking upset last season.

Texas Christian is considered one of the best teams in the country but it's ironic that the Horned Frogs face limination from the conference race against a team that isn't supposed to win a conference game. The Frogs lost to Arkansas two weeks ago. Another licking would knock the Frogs out of championship consideration.

For the Aggies it will be the first game counting in the conference standings. They'll be trying mighty hard on their home field where TCU hasn't won in six years.

Baylor will be away from the tumult playing Washington of the Pacific Coast in an intersectional game at Waco. But it's important to the Bears, who have lost their last two although favored to win them. A licking from the Huskies would just about shatter all of the Bears' confidence, if there is any left.

Close to 150,000 will see the four games with the largest turnout at Houston where 60,000 will be in the stands to watch Rice's brilliant Dicky Moegle run with the ball and keep a wary eye out for Frank Eidom of SMU, the guy who broke Rice's heart with a 92-yard dash last season when all had seemed lost for the Methodists. It's the only night game on the schedule.

Texas anticipates 42,000 for the Arkansas-Longhorn melee and they may get an eyefull what with runners like Henry Moore and passers and kickers like George Walker of the Razorbacks. Arkansas, 13-point underdogs, could win this one and make the writers look worse than they really are. Chances are, however, they won't.

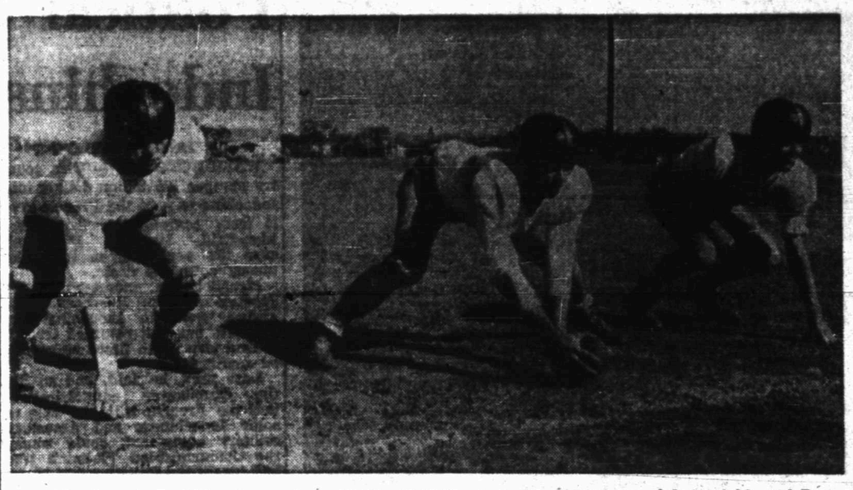

Hitting four out of six last week, your predictor would take them like this:

TEXAS-Arkansas — Arkansas' winning streak stopped at three games.

RICE - Southern Methodist—Ought to be a wonderful football game but unless SMU has a secret weapon it will fall in this game.

TEXAS CHRISTIAN-Texas A&M—The Horned Frogs better be careful. If they are they should win by about two touchdowns.

BAYLOR-Washington—The Baylor Bears bound back and win after a terrific scrap with one of the passingest teams in football.

Hobbs Takes On Bronte In District Game

The Hobbs Panthers will be ready to jump for every break in their grid game tonight at Bronte.

Bronte, even though it lost last week to Trent 20-18 in a district game, is the favorite in tonight's loop tilt. Hobbs has a 1-1 district record, with a loss 43-14 to Hermleigh and a win 27-20 over Robert Lee.

The Panthers will try to follow the pattern they set last week in the upset over Robert Lee after getting 20 points behind.

For the season, Hobbs' record is 2-4, while that of Bronte is 3-2. Hermleigh and Loraine presently lead the District 6-B standings, while Hobbs and Trent are tied next in line and Bronte and Robert Lee hold down bottom positions.

In tonight's games other than the Hobbs-Bronte match, Robert Lee will be in Loraine and Trent will go to Rochester for a non-district game. Hermleigh is idle.

Ralph Hardin now leads Hobbs scoring with 36 points, while Bynum Miers follows with 22, Durward Hopper has 16, Mack Etheredge 12, and Don Hayes six.

Little Dutch Takes Over Tulsa Oilers

TULSA, Okla. (AP)— L. D. (Little Dutch) Meyer, who led Dallas to two consecutive Texas League pennants, will pilot the Tulsa Oiler entry in 1955.

Meyer, 39, resigned as manager of Dallas last season after the Eagles skidded to last place in the standings. They finished in the same position with Les Fleming at the helm.

Meyer managed the Eagles from 1951 when they finished in third place and then wound up first the next two seasons and won the Dixie Series in 1953.

Snyder Teams Win In Runaway Games

Two Snyder football teams, the freshmen and eighth grade, took lopsided wins last night in the Snyder stadium, both over Stamford teams.

The frosh won their game 39-7, while the eighth grade took its game 36-13. This brought the eighth grade's season record to 5-0. The frosh have now won two games and tied one. The seventh grade did not play last night. This makes the thirteenth straight win for the eighth grade, coached by Charlie Storrs and Guy Sullivan. Actually, the eighth grade as a single team has never lost a game. Before last year, the seventh and eighth were combined into one team. Even that year the junior high had a 6-2 record. The frosh team is coached by J. P. Ward.

The Snyder frosh opened scoring near the end of the first quarter when Bobby Staton went six yards around right end behind the blocking of Israel Hinojos. Hinojos had set up the touchdown on a 34-yard run. The team failed to convert and led 6-0. Early in the second period, Stamford drove 42 yards to score, with Robert Hardin pushing through the middle for the last five yards. Fred Upshaw passed to Rufino Escuvido for the extra point, putting Stamford in a one-point lead.

The Snyder team struck back soon when quarterback Bud Morgan bootlegged around right end 56 yards for a score and 12-7 halftime lead. Early in the third period, the Snyder frosh started a drive from their own 32 and worked to the Stamford six, where Morgan bootlegged again to get the ball across. Long runs on that drive were turned in by Staton. Hinojos' kick was good for the extra point. As the fourth period opened, Snyder tallied again when Dean Staton went around left end behind Billy Phillips' block and finished out the 36 yards needed for a score. Hinojos converted. Stamford couldn't make a first down then and had to give up the ball on its own 27. From there, Morgan passed 24 yards to Phillips and then bootlegged for the final three yards.

Shortly before the end of the game, Gary Vice went left on a reverse play and covered 33 yards for the final score. Hinojos' kick was good, making it 39-7. Hinojos led ground gain for the night. Top defensive players were Vice, Maxey Carey, Larry Page, Bill Jennings, and Dwaine Merritt.

The eighth grade, in its game, scored the first time it had the ball. Stamford had punted out. Snyder started from the Stamford 37, and Roger Hensley split the middle for about 18 yards to hand off to Billy Rinehart, who went the rest of the way to score. After another unsuccessful Stamford try, Snyder took over, again on the 37, and tried one pass. That failed, so Hensley swept right end with about six good blocks by his linemen and took it all the way. Jimmy Allen kicked the extra point to put the team ahead 13-0 four and one-half minutes deep in the game. In the second period, the Snyder team drove down to the Stamford three - yard line, but Stamford's goal line stand kept Snyder out of the end zone. The Snyderites made up for that when Stamford took over, though. Allen nabbed Stamford's Ted Buckley for a two-point safety. Stamford then kicked off from its 20, and Mickey McGrew returned it 65 yards through three Stamford tacklers and good Snyder blocking for a touchdown. Allen's kick was good for a 22-0 lead.

Soon after the half, McGrew sailed around right end behind blocking by Gene Williamson and Allen and went 35 yards to score. Allen made the point kick. As the third quarter opened, Richard Mahan faked and kept, crossing right tackle for seven yards and another score. Allen's kick was good.

Stamford's first score came in the third quarter, when Don Davis broke through right tackle for 85 yards and a TD. Joe Reeves went through the middle for the extra point. Top defensive players for Snyder included McGrew, Bill Dubose, Tony Anger, A. L. Minica, and Johnny Griggs.

Ameche Meets With Dawson Tomorrow

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

The line-splitting rushes of Alan (The Horse) Ameche will be matched with the deadly pitching arm of Lenny Dawson tomorrow when Wiscon and Purdue clash at Lafayette, Ind., in the battle of second and fifth ranked football powers.

Behind Ameche's powerful running, Wisconsin has swept through its first three games without a defeat. Dawson pitched Purdue to victory over Missouri and Notre Dame before being shackled last week in a 13-13 tie with Duke. Wisconsin is a seven-point favorite.

Duke, also unbeaten and possessing what may be the strongest team in all Dixie, will have its own hands full at Durham, N.C., where it meets a swift-hitting Army team which has scored one-sided victories over Michigan and Dartmouth.

The televised Game of the Week pits Southern California against Oregon at 4:15 p.m., EST.

Holding prime regional interest are such games as West Virginia at Penn State, pitting two unbeaten elevens of the East; Michigan State at Notre Dame; Alabama at Tennessee; and Arkansas at Texas.

Oklahoma, which catapulted into the No. 1 position in the Associated Press poll on convincing victories over California, Texas Christian and Texas, moves into its own league—the Big Seven—where the dangers aren't so grave. The Sooners play Kansas and they rule a three-touchdown favorite.

UCLA, third ranked behind Oklahoma and Wisconsin, has a home date with up-and-down Stanford and the experts figure the Uclans, the last Rose Bowl representatives, have enough single-wing power to win by 13 points.

Ohio State, also unbeaten, is host to the Iowa team which knocked off Michigan State in the first game of the season. Minnesota, the surprise of the Big Ten with three straight triumphs, takes on an Illinois team which hasn't got moving. Ohio State is fourth ranked nationally while Minnesota is No. 11. Both are favored.

Gail Goes To Ackerly For District Set

The Gail Coyotes, who already have one district football win to their credit, will try for their second at 8 o'clock tonight as they go to Ackerly.

This game could well determine the six-man district championship of this area. Ackerly holds a district win over Klondike, defending champion. Other teams in the district are Dawson, Courtney, Flower Grove, and Loop.

Gail's district win was 34-6 over Courtney two weeks ago. The Coyotes were idle last week.

In non - district games, the Coyotes have downed Imperial 46-20 and lost to Garden City 33-32. That bring's the season record to 2-1 and points scored 102 to opponents' 59.

Probable starters for Eddie James' Coyotes in tonight's game are Donald Reddell and Shorty Farmer at ends, Lonnie Doyle at center, Glenn Kingston at quarterback, and E. L. Franklin and Borden Reeder at halfbacks. Larry Smith fills in for all of them. Franklin is leading scorer for the team.

Canyon Club Sets Matches

Rifle matches and trap shooting have been scheduled for Sunday afternoon at the range of the Canyon Rifle Club.

The club, which will start the afternoon's activities at 3 o'clock, has invited the public. Any person who wants to shoot and takes his own ammunition may have use of the range. The range is located two miles east of the Snyder Cemetery.

This is the first fall shooting matches scheduled by the club, which now has about 45 members and is trying to increase membership to 75. President of the group is Raymond Busby. The club plans turkey shoots just before Thanksgiving and Christmas. It meets monthly on each third Monday.

Roby To Host Throckmorton

The Roby Lions will be trying for their first district win and third victory of the season at 8 o'clock tonight when they take on Throckmorton.

The game will be played in Roby. The Lions have about a 50-50 chance against the Throckmorton team, which has lost two district games. Last week, Roby fell to Haskell 45-6 and Throckmorton to Albany 37-12 in district matches.

Season records of the two teams are the same, with two wins and three losses.

In last week's loss, Roby was playing without star back Freddie Stuart, who is out for the season with a broken leg. Charles Viney fills in for Stuart.

Political Structure Led To Indochina Defeat, Solon Says

By JAMES MARLOW

WASHINGTON (AP) — This country pumped 2½ billion dollars into Indochina to help the French save it from communism. Sen. Mike Mansfield, Montana Democrat, says it's beginning to look like money down the drain.

Mansfield, a member of the Senate's Foreign Relations Committee, went to Indochina last year. He has just returned from a second visit. Both times he reported findings.

Last year, he said, and so did the Eisenhower administration, that the French, with the help of some Indochinese and American military equipment, could smash the Communist-led Vietminh who had fought the French seven years.

The French and those Indochinese who fought with them against the Vietminh, outnumbered the latter, by Mansfield's estimates, 5 to 3 in manpower and 10 to 1 in armaments, the latter largely American.

But it was the French, not the Vietminh, who were smashed. The humbled French at Geneva last summer agreed to let the Vietminh have half of Viet Nam, the largest of Indochina's three states. The other two are Laos and Cambodia.

The French are still in southern Viet Nam. But with the Vietminh in the northern half, and the Vietnamese in the southern half torn by factional disputes and corruption, all Viet Nam looks shaky to Mansfield.

So does Laos, where he reports dissension and Communist infiltration. To Mansfield the only bright spot is Cambodia, where the French have given the people real independence.

The French held Indochina as a colony for almost 100 years, and they did not prepare the Vietnamese for independence by training them as administrators or soldiers who could run and protect the country if and when it got independence.

Ho Chi Minh, leader of the Vietminh, cloaked his communism under nationalism, promising the Vietnamese freedom from the French. The French still didn't realize that their day in Indochina was over.

The result: Millions of Vietnamese, fed up with French colonialism, gave their sympathy or active support to the Vietminh. So the French fought without united Vietnamese backing.

The only way in which the French could have won their war with the Vietminh, in Mansfield's view, was by meeting two conditions which he considered essential:

1. They had to give the Vietnamese full independence to offset the pull by the Vietminh who promised freedom.

2. There had to be developed among the non-Communist Vietnamese a capacity to submerge their factional, personal and sectarian interests in the larger interests of their country.

What then was the cause of failure in Indochina? Mansfield, the best informed man in the Senate on that country, says:

"If there was one overriding cause of the failure, it is to be found in the distorted emphasis given to the capacity of military measures alone to bring about an end to the Communist advance in Indochina . . .

"What was lacking in the situation was not military power but a sound political substructure for this power which could only have been built by fulfilling the two conditions previously discussed (independence and an end to factional disputes in Viet Nam)."

Students Will Judge Traffic Fine Appeals

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—Michigan State College has granted authority to a student court to sit in judgment on fellow students appealing campus traffic violation fines.

The five-member court is designed to handle normal "gripes" on tickets. It meets about once a week. Thus far it has received 82 appeals involving more than $700 in fines.

A complete set of driving rules was devised by students, campus police and the dean of students' office.

Police hung some 200 tickets on cars during the first two days of the driving rules, adopted Oct. 1. The number of violations dropped to five by the third day.

The majority of tickets were $10 parking violations — "a heap of money when you have to get it from home," as one student put it.

Youngster Has Same Tooth Extracted Twice

BALTIMORE (AP)—Pat Stilson, 10, pulled a loose tooth Tuesday and was told he ought to put it under a pillow and perhaps the fairies would come along and replace it with a lovely present.

But Pat isn't the sort to be careless with merchandise of such high potential value. If he put the tooth under his pillow, it could be that one of the brothers would make off with it, he reasoned.

So he put the tooth in his ear and went to sleep.

Yesterday, he had an ear ache.

His mother took him to Johns Hopkins Hospital for the tooth's second extraction.

Canine Ousted By Cottontail Roommate

CLEVELAND (AP) — Mr. Courage, a 130-ounce cottontail rabbit, is standing off a 130-pound Pyrenees dog out in Warrensville Heights, Ohio.

The rabbit was taken into the John R. Arthur Family two weeks ago and put out to share a 10-by-20-foot doghouse with Duchess.

Next day the rabbit caught Duchess fooling around with his lettuce. Mr. Courage placed himself in the door and since then has refused to let Duchess come in.

Uranium Rush On In Western States

By EARLE L. JESTER

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—A rush which at times has brought memories of the California gold rush of a hundred years ago has scattered uranium claims across Utah and other Western states.

It has been marked by feverish searching for the A-bomb metal, with a modern Geiger counter replacing the old-time pan; by a surge of stock sales that took an estimated 14 million dollars from hopeful get-rich-quick speculators.

The fever largely is gone but the boom continues.

And Milton H. Love, director of the State Securities Commission, says he is confident that a permanent, well-established uranium industry will result.

Love provides the estimate of 14 million dollars in stock sales. He predicts that 20 per cent—one in five—of the companies which have sold stock will prove profitable. But he emphasizes that it is still too early to speculate on their probable profit, with most still engaged in exploration and development work only.

There have been two phases to the uranium boom in Utah.

The first was the rush of prospectors—many of them amateurs—to the barren hills and valleys, principally in southeastern Utah.

The second was the marketing of stock by new companies formed to enter the uranium field.

There are no accurate figures as to the number of prospectors. The Atomic Energy Commission says the peak came in the spring and early summer when literally thousands tramped the area in search of a strike.

Interest has waned somewhat but the AEC exploration office here says it still is receiving up to 300 inquiries a month from persons wanting to try their hand at prospecting.

What are their chances of hitting? There is no sure answer. One AEC official said, "Maybe one in a thousand."

Lure for the prospectors is a $10,000 bonus offer. The AEC says it will pay that amount to anyone discovering and developing a mine producing 20 tons of ore of 20 per cent uranium content.

So far no one has earned that bonus.

But the AEC, which at present little as two tenths of 1 per cent uranium can return the producer a profit. Payment for the ore is based on the uranium content.

The stock sale surge came in early summer. Brokerage offices at times had to lock their doors to control the flood of prospective customers. Stock issues often were oversubscribed before certificates were issued. Sales boomed to as high as three to five million shares per day.

Now brokers say volume is a third to a half the average of the early summer boom. Purchasers are asking for information on a company's prospects before they buy.

Much of the buying now is by mail, particularly from residents living in the East and Southwest.

CHURCH NEWS

Bible Fellowship Service Set Here

The regular meeting of the West Central Texas Baptist Bible Fellowship service will be held here Tuesday at the Calvary Baptist Church.

The public is invited to attend the services of the meeting, the Rev. T. Gerald Cates, pastor of the church, said. The first service is to start at 9:30 a.m. with a Bible message. An afternoon service is to start at 2 o'clock and be concluded at 4 o'clock. The closing service will begin at 7:30 p. m.

About 150 to 200 out-of-town visitors are expected to attend the conference, Mr. Cates said. Dinner for these persons will be served at the church. Special singing is also planned during the day.

Speakers during the conference and their subjects are to be:

The Rev. A. V. Henderson, pastor of the Baptist Temple in San Angelo, "Prophetic Doctrine and Practical Giving."

The Rev. George Epperson, pastor of the Calvary Baptist Church in Merkel, "Soul Winning and the Coming of Christ".

The Rev. A. L. Patterson, pastor of the Fundamental Baptist Church in Sweetwater, "The Apostasy".

The Rev. Raymond Dunn, pastor of the Central Baptist Church in Coleman, "The Resurrection and the Rapture of the Saints".

The Rev. M. M. Griggs, pastor of the Bible Baptist Church in Electra, "The Judgement Seat of Christ".

The Rev. Roy Sullivan, pastor of the Austin Avenue Baptist Church in Brownwood, "The Restoration and Conversion of Israel Introducing the Millennuim."

The Rev. B. W. Wallace, pastor of the Bible Baptist Church in Coleman, "The Millennium: The Thousand Year Reign of Christ Over the Earth".

The Rev. David Cavin, pastor of the Castleberry Baptist Church in Fort Worth, "The Last Judgement of the Unsaved Dead".

Mr. Cavin will be the speaker for the evening service.

Children Get Boost From 'Aunt Alice'

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Any mother who has survived the tense ordeal of preparing her moppet for a grammar school pageant might regard Mrs. Alice Viola Clements with awe.

For Mrs. Clements, the show world's most durable foster mother, has auditioned some 300,000 talented and not so talented children in a quarter of a century.

More than 12,000 kids have appeared on "Aunty Alice's" famous "Children's Hour" Sunday program over WNBC and WNBT here. The program, which recently celebrated its silver anniversary, has been a springboard for many now famous entertainers.

"So far as we've been able to find," said Mrs. Clements, "it's the oldest continuous show in radio. It has gone on for some 1,300 consecutive weeks."

It is now only a part-time task for busy, warm-hearted Mrs. Clements, who was once a Broadway dancer herself. Five years ago, after the death of her husband, she took over the operation of his Philadelphia advertising agency. commutes here, where she holds auditions, and writes, directs and produces her show.

She loves to work with children, handles them easily with a firm knowing kindliness.

"I had twins, but lost them as babies," she said, quietly. "Since then, I've—well, I've learned to be fond of other people's children."

Each year she contributes to the education of a number of talented children whose parents can't afford to give them the training they need.

"I've always been interested in show business," she said. "I was the youngest of seven children in a Pennsylvania Dutch family. My father had paid $400 for a piano, and none of the older children cared to play it.

"When I came along, I had to. My thrifty father simply wasn't going to let that piano go to waste. I gave my first concert debut at 8, and I wore panties made of flour sacks with the name of the company printed on them.

"As I sat down to the piano, everybody in the audience started laughing. In flipping back my starched dress, I had given a free ad to the flour company."

Each night now when Mrs. Clements looks at television her heart is warmed by the sight of at least 6 to 8 performers who got their start on her program.

"Not all are stars," she said, "but they are making a living."

Among the better known graduates of her children's hour are Ezra Stone, Robert Q. Lewis, Arnold Stang, Joan Roberts, Eileen Barton and Roberta Peters.

What has she learned from 25 years of working with children?

"Well, the most important thing is—to treat them as adults," she said. "Children respond to reason at least as well as grownups—and they're more obedient.

"The parents often are more of a problem than the children. They never seem to be satisfied if a child has one talent. They want to push the child into everything, or claim he can do anything."

One father offered Mrs. Clements a new car if she'd put his child on her show. A jeweler offered her an expensive watch on the same basis.

"I had to turn them both down," she laughed. "The children get on the show only by their own talents. We don't audition their parents' pocketbooks."

Mrs. Clements believes that encouraging children to develop their talents helps cut down juvenile delinquency.

"A child trying to become good in anything simply doesn't have time to get into trouble," she said.

She has found that child ventriloquists usually are the most highly intelligent of young performers. young comics the most mischievous.

"It's hard to hold their attention—they are always trying to make me laugh," she said. "But I suppose I really love them best of all. I always dreamed of being a comedienne—but I wasn't."

That is the key to "Aunty Alice's" success. She shares the yearning behind every child's most impossible dream, and does what she can to help it come true.

Formosa Aid Needs Decline

By FRED HAMPSON

TAIPEH, Formosa (AP)—Formosa can't be self-supporting while maintaining a half-million-man army, but it is making progress and getting by on fewer U.S. dollars each year.

V. S. de Beausset, project manager of the J. G. White Engineering Corp., says economic progress in some fields has been sensational since 1949, when the Nationalists were driven from the mainland.

The White firm has been here six years as consultant to President Chiang Kai-shek's government. Much U.S. money has been spent on White recommendations.

Here are some of the things De Beausset says Formosa has accomplished:

Five years ago, the island spent 45 million U.S. dollars a year for cloth. Today, textile mills have been restored or improved until Formosa makes all its cloth. The only expenditure now is 17 million a year for raw cotton from abroad.

Formosa's farms are overworked. They need heavy fertilizing. Formosa spends 35 million dollars abroad for chemical fertilizer. By constructing chemical fertilizer plants and using local chemical deposits, De Beausset expects to see foreign exchange expenditures for fertilizer drop to five million annually within two more years.

U.S. experts four years ago in a survey found that with improved methods and plant varieties, the same amount of sugar could be produced on half the land. The government accepted the recommendations and now Formosa is almost self-sufficient as to food. It can even export rice.

"LET YOUR LIGHT SO SHINE"

ST. MATTHEW said, "Let your light so shine before men, that they may see your good works, and glorify your Father which is in Heaven." Men must ever marvel at the wondrous light which beams from the cross on which He died. It is aglow today with the light of forgiving grace. It challenges the weak to walk by faith and offers pardon to those who fall at its foot.

IN MILLIONS of churches this week men of God will read from His guide book and offer from His word, ways to "let your light shine." In His Temples of Worship we may learn to pray the most gracious prayer, "Father, forgive them; they know not what they do." May the light of Jesus illumine your soul as it lights up the Cross on which he died.
