County Residents Turn Out In Force For Centennial Meeting

By FRED JOHNSTON

Amid the lively jazz music of Don Chandler and his Dixie Four, approximately 225 residents of Mitchell County met in the Colorado City Civic Center Thursday evening for the Mitchell County Centennial Celebration Town Meeting.

The purpose of the Town Meeting was to inform county residents about what is to happen during the Centennial Celebration scheduled for July 16-25 and what needs to be done by participants in order to make the celebration a success.

James Kling, a representative of the Rogers Company, informed those present that in being there, they were fulfilling a duty to find out about the Centennial and participate in the Centennial events. He said, "If we can end up with not only a glimpse of the past but also a look at the future, the celebration will be a success." Kling stated that the purpose of the celebration is to unify the county, develop new leadership, stimulate the local economy and to have fun—to celebrate the 100th birthday of Mitchell County. The Rogers Company, which began in Fostoria, Ohio in 1903, has been helpful in presenting historical celebrations across the nation.

Kling presented a group of slides indicative of the company's success. The slides showed festive parades, floats, fashion shows, promenades and scenes of the construction and presentation of stadium shows and pageants held throughout the nation. Kling noted that the Rogers Company provides the sets, lighting and costumes for the shows.

In giving his profession as being an expert in Civic Celebration Management, Kling stated that the success of any celebration depends on those who are willing to work and participate. He said, "The success of

DOWELL DIVISION of DOW Chemical USA presented Colorado City Volunteer Firemen with Romex (non-flammable) coveralls Friday afternoon. This donation will enable the firemen to enter structures filled with smoke and minimum flames, wearing their "Scott" air packs without the heavy Romex fire coats, Jerry Hammond noted. This will relieve the firemen of the extra weight. Firemen pictured in the new overalls are (left to right) Kenneth Golden, Jerry Hammond, Blake Hammond and Doyle Mitchell. Ballot Places Drawn For Local Elections

Wednesday's deadline to file for ballot position in local city council and school board elections brought out several last minute announcements of candidacy.

In the Loraine City Council race, three incumbents announced for reelection and three other candidates tossed their hats into the ring just under the deadline.

Mayor Vance Dickenson is running unopposed for the mayor's slot. Incumbent Evert Henderson's name will appear first on the ballot. In the second position, Jack Brewer will be listed. Calvin Forbus' name was drawn for the third position and incumbent Mike Stutts' name will appear in the fourth slot. Tommy Green's name was drawn for the fifth and final listing.

Loraine Independent School District's ballot will have only the three incumbent candidates listed. They will appear in the following order: 1. Royce Beights; 2. Ronald Bruce and 3. Dean Oliver.

Tom Rees Declines To Run

Colorado Independent School District Board of Trustees President Tom Rees has declined to seek reelection as a trustee.

When announcing his intentions not to run again for the office, after having 13 years on the board, Rees, an attorney, noted that business commitments would not allow him to serve another term.

Rees, who has served as board president for all but a few months of his 13 years as a trustee, stated, "My experience on the school board has been very rewarding and is something I will cherish for many years to come, especially my association with the school board members. 'It is with regret that I do not attempt to run for an additional term, however, my business commitments will not allow it. See REES Page 6

County To Consider Applicants

Sheriff Bill McGuire's resignation will be acted upon when Mitchell County Commissioners Court convenes Monday at 1 p.m. in the county courthouse.

McGuire announced his intentions to resign last month and at that time, county officials began taking applications for the position of sheriff.

The names of the applicants will be announced during the meeting and applications will continue to be taken until March 16 at 9 a.m. when interviews for the position will begin. Commissioners will consider a right-of-way easement with Custom Ag.

A report will be made on the jail standards commission inspection and a determination will be made by the court on which discrepancies can be corrected collectively and bids asked for the See BIDS Page 6

Jackson Found Guilty Of Injury To A Child

By DONNA WATSON

Melvin (Shack) Jackson, 26, of Colorado City was found guilty and sentenced to five years in the state penitentiary for injury to a child by a three man-nine woman jury here in 32nd District Court Wednesday.

Dell Barber served as defense attorney for Jackson.

District Attorney Rusty Carroll opened the case against Jackson Monday by alleging Jackson had beaten the three-year-old son of Gloria Garcia with his fists to the extent that the child was in danger of dying from a ruptured liver.

Carroll presented a statement allegedly signed by Jackson, saying, while intoxicated, he had hit the child.

Dr. Pat Thomas took the witness stand and testified that the boy had been admitted to Root Memorial Hospital on April 21, 1980 and surgery was performed to repair the damaged liver.

Thomas said he reported the boy's condition to welfare authorities because of the extent and type of injuries.

The district attorney asked Dr. Thomas if the injuries could have been caused by the child falling off of a bike and Dr. Thomas answered it took a good deal of force to cause the injuries.

Ms. Garcia then took the witness stand and testified that about three days before she took her son to the doctor, she had come home alone from the Mitchell

County Day Care Center, where she had worked with one-year-old children, to find "Shack," with whom she had been living since January of that year, with some of his See JURY Page 7

The station manager reported a radio had been stolen out of a U-Haul truck while the vehicle was parked on the lot of the station. See POLICE Page 6

Truck Wrecks Tuesday

Wet weather was blamed, in part, for an accident which occurred Tuesday at 10:55 a.m., one mile east of Loraine on Interstate 20.

A 1979 Freightliner tractor-truck and semi-trailer driven by David Eugene Graves, 41, of Grand Prairie was westbound on I-20 when it apparently slid sideways on a curve due to rainy weather and slick highways, Investigating Officer Texas Highway Patrolman James Burson said.

The trailer swung around and passed the tractor and the vehicle, See WRECK Page 6

Spice of Life

By Jana Bassinger

I recently started an exercise program which includes jogging and have found the sport of jogging really does improve the physical and mental stamina of the body.

When I was going to school, I was involved in an exercise class in which a film about jogging was shown.

The main character of the film was an eighty-year-old woman who had acute arthritis and was having a very hard time getting around. When visiting the doctor, he told her that if she didn't start some vigorous exercise she would be bed ridden for the rest of her life. He then recommended jogging.

The woman couldn't believe it, but she decided to take his advice regardless. She started walking and when she got used to that, she jogged a little bit. She really began to like the attention that she was receiving so she increased her program to one mile a day.

She stated that she had lost all her pain and felt as though she were young again.

I find that although jogging is tiring, it has been good for my physical and mental health. It also gives me a strong sense of accomplishment.

I am a strong believer in exercising and eating a good diet. However, before a strenuous exercise program is begun, I would highly recommend a doctor be consulted.

In a recent conversation with the manager of the Texas Teenage League, Hubert Bassinger, he stated that the league is having a hard time getting off of the ground this year. See COLUMN Page 7

RECOGNIZE THIS historical landmark? The Red Top Cafe was constructed on October 13, 1930. The building originally had red stripes and a revolving top to attract attention to the bar-b-que pork business housed in the structure. Because few Texans seem to eat bar-b-que pork, the business didn't last long and since that time, numerous other businesses have been housed in the structure. It is currently a used car lot for Dockrey Motors. This old landmark will be pictured and written about in next month's "New Yorker," according to J. Lee Jones, Jr.

Bale Count

For all practical purposes, cotton ginning in Mitchell County has come to a halt with the eight area gins reporting a total of 20,144 bales ginned and an estimated 18,406 bales of that figure produced in Mitchell County.

Loraine Co-Op reports they have completed ginning for the season with a total of 4,471 bales ginned.

Mitchell County Gin has also completed the season and reports a total of 2,306 bales ginned.

Westbrook Gin has no bales on the yard at this time, but anticipates a few producers will strip areas that are wet now at a later date. They currently have ginned 1,517 bales.

Producers' Co-Op has completed ginning this season and reports 3,643 bales ginned.

Buford Co-Op reported a final bale count of 2,557 bales.

China Grove Co-Op is still ginning remnants and anticipates about two more bales will be ginned before completion of their ginning season. They currently report 3,496 bales ginned.

Colorado Gin Company has completed ginning this season with a total count of 1,040 bales.

Farmers' Gin reports they have ginned 1,120 bales and they have completed ginning for the season.

These figures bring the total number of bales of cotton ginned in Mitchell County to 20,154.

About one-half of the number of bales ginned in China Grove are estimated to have been produced in other counties, subtracting these 1,748 bales from the total count leaves an estimated 18,406 bales produced and ginned in Mitchell County.

This compares to the poorest harvest figure in recent years of 10,256 bales for the 1974 cotton harvest and the highest figure of 86,088 bales for the 1979 cotton harvest.

Shakespeare's use of sound effects and style of writing were in the presentation. Ezra Pound's effective use of poetic devices was second and Emily Dickinson was the third outstanding example of deftness in the use of symbolism which surrounds us. Pound used it graphically in war, hope and destruction.

Elizabeth Elliott presided at the business meeting. She introduced her guests, her brother, D.C. Wilson and his wife. Members read original poems.

YOU AUTO KNOW

By Aaron Carpenter

Q. When my engine growled weakly but wouldn't start, I thought the starter solenoid was bad. But when I jumped the solenoid with a cable, the engine still would not crank. The starter motor is good and the battery cables and terminals checked OK. So what else?

A. If your car has a starter relay, your trouble probably is there. The relay likely will be located on the firewall. Find it by tracing the positive battery cable. Jump the relay with a heavy cable to check for bad relay. If you don't have an extra length of battery cable, disconnect a cable from one side of the relay and touch the end of the disconnected cable to the terminal on the other side of the relay. If the engine cranks at normal speed, this indicates a bad relay which should be replaced.

Pray Without Ceasing (1 Thessalonians 5:17)

Bobby D. Chaney
Pastor
Christian Fellowship

God desires to communicate with His children. The children of God should have a desire to communicate with Him. We need to grow to a place where we are totally conscious of the presence of God every moment. "If you then be risen with Christ, seek those things which are above, where Christ sitteth on the right hand of God." "Set your affection (mind) on things above, not on things on the earth." (Colossians 3:1-2) In other words, we need to be so heavenly minded that we are of earthly good. Too many times the only time we talk to God is in time of need or we want his blessings. It is not God's will for us to wait for a tragedy before we talk to Him. It is not a burden to pray without ceasing! In fact, it is a joy, a delight and a real blessing! "He that dwelleth in the secret place of the most high shall abide (lodge) under the shadow of the almighty." When we live or stay in the very presence of God, He will covet us with His wings like a mother does her chicks and we have to allow this to happen. Do you want a real blessing? Then, work at being God-conscious every minute. Pray without ceasing!

friends at the house. She said her children, who stayed at the center during the day, (at that time, she had a four-month-old baby and the three-year-old boy) had stayed behind with her sister for a few minutes to play with other children. About 30 minutes later, Ms. Garcia said, her sister brought the children home.

Ms. Garcia said she was upset because "Shack" had company and didn't want to go anywhere. She said she wanted to go out.

Ms. Garcia claimed to have taken a bath and bathed the two children then gone to a friend's house. She testified that the boy showed no apparent signs of injury at that point.

She said she took the kids and left. When she returned home, the group was still there (she could only recall one friend's name, "Crip") so she put the baby in the bedroom in its crib and the boy on the bed she shared with Jackson. She said the boy usually slept on one of the two couches in the living room.

Ms. Garcia said she sat down to watch television, still upset because "Shack" wouldn't take her anywhere and began to "crack" her foot.

She said "Shack" got angry with her because of the noise and got up and slapped her across the face twice.

Ms. Garcia testified that she just sat there and "Shack" left the house to take his friend home.

She said she then went to bed and didn't know when he came home.

Next, Ms. Garcia testified she suddenly awoke and found it was about 4:30 a.m.

She noticed the boy was no longer in her bed and said she got up to go see where he was.

She said she saw "Shack" standing in the kitchen warming a bottle for the baby. He was holding the baby in his arms.

Looking around, she said she found the boy lying on a couch (not the one on which he usually slept). She said he was slobbering and he had dried tears on his cheeks. She said she moved him to the other couch, covered him up and went back to bed.

About 6:45 a.m., Ms. Garcia said, she awoke again and "Shack" was in the bed with her. She said she went to the couch to see about the boy and found him with dirty pants. She took the boy to the bathroom and cleaned him up and at that time she said she noticed a large bruise on his abdomen.

She testified that the boy said the little kids at the center had done it, then she said he told her that her sister's kids had caused the injuries.

Ms. Garcia said she then asked "Shack" if he had been mad enough at her to hurt the boy and "Shack" had said he had not done it.

Ms. Garcia testified the boy wouldn't talk or move later on that morning and told her when she tried to move him that he hurt.

Friends of "Shack's" came to the house later that morning and while they were there she looked at the boy's ear, which was swollen. She said she went to the basement where "Shack" and his friends were working and accused him of hurting the boy then ran to a friend's house.

She said the boy was yelling for her not to hurt him because she was holding him around the abdomen too tightly.

At that point, she took the children to her mother's house where they stayed for three days. Because the boy was vomiting and could not urinate, she said she took him to Dr. Thomas and the child was hospitalized.

At this point, Ms. Garcia denied inflicting his injuries on the boy.

The children were taken from the home by the welfare after a few days and given to Ms. Garcia's mother for a few days and then transferred to a foster home, according to Ms. Garcia's testimony.

Several times during her testimony, Ms. Garcia indicated she did not believe "Shack" had injured the boy. She said he had always been kind to the children and had never, to her knowledge, struck one of the children.

Upon cross examination, Ms. Garcia testified that she had been about five months pregnant with "Shack's" baby at the time the incident occurred.

She said the welfare took the children and she became ill and was admitted to the hospital.

She testified that she had considered surgery at that time because the "baby was dead in me." "The doctor was going to do a DNC to clean me out," she stated.

She testified that she had been prepared for the surgery and "Shack" had asked her not to have it done, to wait until the end of the month.

She said she had left the hospital at that time.

In her testimony, Ms. Garcia said Mike Huckabee, an investigator for the Department of Human Resources, and the district attorney had said she or Jackson must make a statement about how the child was injured in order for her to get her children back. She said she was told by them to stay away from "Shack."

She later changed her testimony and said her attorney had told her that.

When Melvin Jackson took the witness stand, he refuted his written confession, saying he had never hit the child.

He indicated that because the welfare had taken the children and because Gloria was pregnant with his child, he was trying to find some way to get the children back.

He said because the welfare told him the only way to get the children back was for one of them to make a statement, he had told Gloria he was going to make a statement and he went to County Judge Bill Carter for advice. Jackson testified he had told Judge Carter he was going to confess to hitting the boy and asked his advice.

Jackson said Carter told him he didn't need advice, he needed a lawyer.

Jackson said he had made the statement, but the welfare did not give

During the course of the trial, District Attorney Carroll had the boy brought to the courtroom and had him display his operation scar.

He also brought out a surprise piece of evidence. It was not entered into evidence but was given to the defendant, Jackson, to read.

It was reported to be a statement made by Ms. Garcia, five days previous to the date Jackson made his statement.

After reading the statement, Jackson indicated "the statement was probably true the way she said it."

The jury was not given any indication as to the contents of the statement.

Church League Cagers Hit Courts Tuesday Night For Dynamite Action

Church League Basketball play got underway, but no sooner launched until it is nearly ready to land, or conclude. Due to lack of participation and interest, the league play was only set for three nights with a two-night tournament scheduled to immediately follow on March 16 and 19, according to Rev. Bob Grayson, coordinator.

Although there are only four teams in the battle, the competition and challenges of winning are just as great, stated Rev. Grayson.

During Tuesday night's battle, Calvary Baptist came out on top when they zoomed past St. Ann's Catholic, 41-27. Chuck Claxton was high scorer for Calvary with 14 points and Cleon Williams led St. Ann's scoring with seven points.

In the second game, Austin Church of Christ fell to Dallas Church of Christ 35-50. Robert Bender led Dallas Church of Christ with nine points and Gene Carter was the high cager for Austin Church of Christ with 12 points.

In the third battle of the night, Calvary Baptist was defeated by Dallas Church of Christ 62-40. Leading Dallas Church of Christ in scoring was Cornell Ausbie with 17 points and Chuck Claxton was again the high scorer for Calvary. Gene Carter made 22 points which helped them pull out a win over St. Ann's Catholic in the final game Tuesday night, with the final score 53-38. Leo Molina led St. Ann's scoring line.

In Thursday night's action, Calvary Baptist fell to Austin Church of Christ 24-51 with Gene Carter leading them with 16 points. Chuck Claxton was high scorer for Calvary with 13 points.

In the second match of the night, Dallas Church of Christ put in on St. Ann's Catholic 61-36. Cornell Ausbie led Dallas Church of Christ with 15 points and Leo Molina had 12 points for St. Ann's.

Calvary Baptist pulled out a tough win against St. Ann's Catholic, with Chuck Claxton sinking 12 points, leaving the final score 54-41. Leo Molina again was the high scorer for St. Ann's with 14 points.

In the final game of the night, Dallas Church of Christ beat Austin Church of Christ 48-35 with Charles Jackson leading the scoring with 11 points. Bobby Matlock led the defeated team with 15 points.

Thursday night is the next and last night for Church League play prior to the tournament.

Calvary will face Dallas Church of Christ at 6:30 p.m. in an effort to raise their standings.

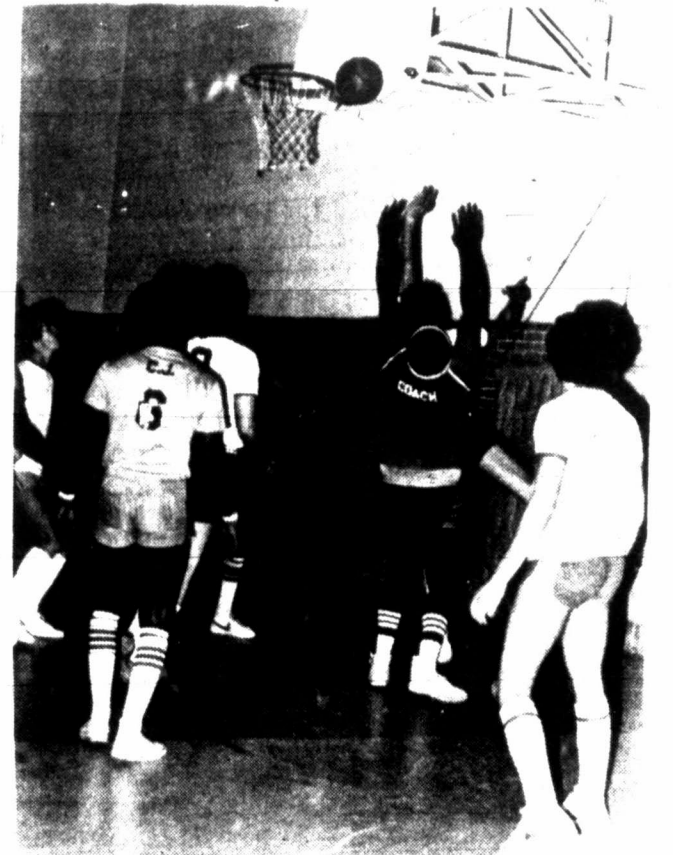

The 7:30 p.m. game will see St. Ann's Catholic battle Austin Church of Christ and in the 8:30 p.m. game, Calvary will have another battle with Austin Church of Christ.

In the final game of the night, St. Ann's Catholic will try to improve their record when they meet Dallas Church of Christ.

A complete tournament bracket will be placed in the RECORD on March 16.

The games are open to anyone and persons wishing to watch or support their team may do so free of charge, according to Grayson.

CHURCH LEAGUE Basketball got underway Tuesday night in the Wallace Gym. Teams battled with drive and determination.
