CHAINED—Angeline Cliett, 19, daughter of a Waller, Tex., ranch owner who calls herself the "Queen of Eneri," doesn't seem to be getting much reaction as she shows the chain she's wearing to Rep. Clark W. Thompson, (D-Tex) on the steps of the Capitol. Angeline says she is going to wear the chain until Congress passes and President Eisenhower signs a bill giving her mother, Mrs. Irene Cliett, title to the ranch on which the Clietts live. A federal judge ruled half the 700 plus acres belong to someone else. (AP Wirephoto)

Ike Yields To British, Agrees To Conference

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower yielded to British insistence today and agreed to go along with a summit meeting of the United Nations Security Council if that is generally desired by the Western Powers and Russia.

A White House announcement to this effect shortly after noon today apparently ended a dispute with Britain over whether the Western Big Three should move directly toward a U. N. summit session or merely indicate indirectly in notes to Moscow that such a meeting might be possible.

About an hour earlier, British Foreign Minister Selwyn Lloyd had told the House of Commons in London that Prime Minister Harold Macmillan would attend if a special meeting of the Security Council were arranged.

The purpose of the meeting, Lloyd said, would be to discuss the Middle East crisis but it would not act on any resolution unless there was general agreement that such action shluld be taken.

Press secretary James C. Hagerty said at the White House:

"A United Nations Security Council meeting of the character suggested by Foreign Minister Lloyd is clearly with the contemplation of the (U.N.) Charter.

"If such a meeting were generally desired, the United States would join in following this orderly procedure."

Meanwhile, it was learned, Secretary of State Dulles had revised a proposed U.S. note to Soviet Premier Khrushchev to bring it more into line with Brtain's insistence that the Western Powers should open the way clearly and unmistakably for heads of government to attend an extraordinary session of the Security Council.

Khrushchev proposed on Saturday a five-power emergency summit conference at Geneva composed of government chiefs of the three Western nations, plus himself and Prime Minister Nehru of India. He also asked the attendance of U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold.

France generally favored conditional acceptance of the idea of a summit conference.

Eisenhower and Dulles, who were cold to the idea of a hastily arranged meeting at the summit, favored simply pointing out to Khrushchev that he has full opportunity under the U.N. Charter to get the Security Council to enlarge its consideration of the Middle East problem if he wants to do so.

Britain favored a declaration of more positive readiness to attend such a meeting, and Macmillan and Lloyd faced the necessity of having a policy statement to the House of Common today.

This public announcement of British policy evidently forced decisions in Washington as well as London.

STAGES IRAQI COUP IN LONDON—Col. Abdul Kadir Faik, gestures at a news conference in London where he announced the onetime embassy of the Kingdom of Iraq is now the embassy of the Republic of Iraq. Direct Talk With Iraq Regime Urged

WASHINGTON (AP) — Sen. Richard B. Russell (D-Ga) proposed today that the United States negotiate directly with the revolutionary regime in Iraq in an effort to "go to the heart" of the Middle East crisis.

Russell, who heads the Senate Armed Services Committee, said he is willing to have the government do almost anything that promises a hope of stabilizing conditions and permitting the withdrawal of U.S. troops from Lebanon.

The Iraqi revolt brought Eisenhower's decision to send the Marines to Beirut to forestall a possible overthrow of the government there.

Russell said he fears "if we can't get the Marines out in six months they may be there forever."

Russell said he thinks trouble shooter Robert Murphy, who talked yesterday with rebel leaders in Lebanon, should be dispatched to Baghdad for talks with Brig. Gen. Abdel Kerim Kassem, new Iraq premier.

While Russell was not hopeful about possible effective United Nations action in the crisis, Sen. J. William Fulbright (D-Ark) said the small nations who are opposed to the use of American troops in the Middle East may provide the necessary votes in the U.N. General Assembly to set up an international police force.

The United States is expected to put before the General Assembly its plea for a U.N.-sponsored international force if the Soviet Union vetoes a compromise Japanese plan for strengthening the present U.N. observer force in Lebanon. Both have been suggested as means of letting U.S. troops withdraw.

Although the United States is supporting the Japanese plan, Sen. William F. Knowland (R-Calif) voiced strong objection to it unless the expanded observer force is armed.

Knowland contended that if U.S. troops were replaced only by unarmed observers, the change would be fatal to the future of Lebanon or any other country" which might be threatened.

Construction Is Halted By Wage Dispute

MIDLAND (AP) — Associated General Contractors members shut down all jobs here yesterday after being unable to agree with the Ironworkers Local 408 on a new contract. The contractors said they acted individually.

This followed settlement Sunday of a dispute between the union and contractors in the Texas Panhandle and nearby areas of New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas.

The agreement at Amarillo left 69 other West Texas counties in a dispute between the local and the contractors.

Projects closed down in Midland included the First National Bank building, Midland Reporter-Telegram and the First Christian Church. Nearly 200 workers in all crafts are affected.

The union seeks a 40-cent pay increase, some of it in fringe benefits, over the next two years. The contractors offered 12½ cents.

The shutdowns by the contractors may spread, said Hugh Welch of Abilene, executive secretary of the employer group.

Ironworkers have been drawing $3.12½ cents an hour base pay.

Union spokesmen said the Amarillo agreement provided a 27½-cent increase for home-based pay, with 12½ cents not effective until next spring. Part of the money will go into a union welfare fund. Workers on projects 25 miles or more from their home cities will receive an additional 5 cents per hour.

Krush Set To Bid High For Technicians

LONDON (AP)—Nikita Khrushchev says the Soviet Union is determined to build up its chemical industry quickly and will outbid America to pay high wages to non-Communist technicians from the West.

The Soviet Premier made the statement in a speech at the recent Communist Congress in East Berlin. The text of the speech—made July 9—was broadcast by Moscow radio today.

Khrushchev said the Soviet Union stands ready to pay foreign technicians, even if they oppose communism, "more than the richest concerns and firms pay."

"Many of these people are not attracted by political ideas," he said. "They are more interested in what the Americans call business.

"Therefore let us pay them well, let us pay them more than do the Americans or Bonn (West Germany), and when they work with us they will see that we are not their enemies.

"Having worked with us such people will become convinced by the facts that socialism is the most progressive social order, and that communism is the radiant dream of mankind about his future."

Three Persons Die In Head-On Collision

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP) — Three persons were killed last night in a head-on crash at the crest of a hill between a station wagon and a pickup truck.

Mrs. Ann Block, 25, of Lodgepole, Neb., riding in the truck, and Donald Schultz, 18, of Billings, Okla., were killed outright.

William Henry Wright, 26, of Brownsville, Tex., driver of the station wagon, died later. Schultz was riding with Wright.

Loren Block, 27, husband of Ann and driver of the truck, and his 13 months old son, Reid, were injured.

Radio Equipment Bid Is Accepted

The low bid was accepted by the city council last night on purchase of new two-way radio equipment for the fire department.

Jay R. Huckabee Co. of Snyder, dealer for DuMont radio and electronics equipment, was the low bidder with a total bid of $7,164.

The new equipment will include eight mobile radio units for fire trucks and other fire department equipment, two complete new base stations, one for the fire department and one for the city police department, mobile monitors for the two fire department sub stations, and a fire department monitor to be placed in the police station which will be capable of both receiving and transmitting messages.

The fire department system will be assigned a new frequency separate from the frequency used by the police department. At present both are on the same frequency and both use the police base station equipment.

The six mobile units now in use by the fire department will be transferred to the water and sewer department trucks and will remain on the police frequency, and a monitor now used by the police department will be placed in the city water and sewer office so that water and sewer employes can be dispatched directly from their office.

The old police base station will be moved to the city warehouse, the old national guard armory building, and will be used by the Snyder Amateur Radio Club for disaster and emergency use. It will remain property of the city, however.

Other bids last night were Chester F. Faison, Dallas, on Link-Gonset equipment, $7,177.50; and Robert H. Stayton, Midland, Motorola equipment, $7,571.66.

The Federal Civil Defense Administration will pay half the cost of the new equipment, and the city and Scurry County will share the other half. The city and county will each pay $1,791 on the new equipment. County agreement has been given to the purchase.

Purchase order for the new equipment will not be issued until the FCDA has given its approval, which will require about 30 days, Roy L. Dunlap, city manager, said.

After that about 30 days will be required for delivery of the equipment, and several days will be required to install it.

After it is installed and inspected by the State Fire Insurance Commission, Snyder will receive a 2-cent credit on its fire insurance key rate.

Absentee List Grows Here

Scurry County's heavy absentee vote for the first Democratic primary was still gaining today, the last day voters can secure ballots.

By mid-morning, 285 persons had voted absentee, and another 32 ballots were out and to be mailed in.

Dan Cotton, county clerk, said ballots mailed out today to absentee voters must be mailed back in time to reach him by 2 p.m. Saturday, the day of the primary.

A number of persons were voting in person at the county clerk's office today.

Those who are ill and those expecting to be out of town on the day of the primary can vote absentee.

Soil Bank Signup Set

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department said today it will start about Sept. 1 signing contracts with farmers for retiring additional cropland in 1959 under the conservation reserve of the soil bank program. The signing period will close about Oct. 10.

The department also said it has settled on $13.50 an acre as the average rental payment it will pay for land taken out of production under this program compared with $10 this year. The $13.50 rate had been proposed several weeks ago.

The department hopes to get about 12½ million acres retired for periods of three-five or ten years.

Atom Bomb Hoax Broadcast In Italy

VIENNA (AP) — Vienna radio listeners were shocked Monday night to hear a voice urging them to leave the city as "an atom bomb will be dropped tomorrow."

South Texas Crude Prices Are Boosted

CORPUS CHRISTI, Tex. (AP)—Prices on South Texas crude oil have been raised from 10 to 20 cents a barrel by Suntide Refining Co.

The increase came after a series of decreases and was made to conform with competitive prices in the area, Suntide officials said, and is effective on about 15,000 barrels of crude oil daily.

The increase became effective last Friday within the area served by Suntide Pipe Line Co.

Panel Pares Defense Fund For Building

By WILLIAM F. ARBOGAST

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee today cut more than half a billion dollars from Defense Department construction fund requests. It cited the new Air Force Academy as an outstanding example of "loose fiscal procedures."

It slashed $511,838,000 from the $1,730,653,000 requested by the administration for construction program at military bases in the United States and abroad.

The Air Force was given the biggest cut, 300 million dollars from the $1,001,500,000 it requested.

The Navy's bid for $368,253,000 was trimmed by $85,502,000, while the Army's request for $340,900,000 was pared by $126,336,000.

Project after project, including such items as officers' swimming pools and elaborate housing accommodations, was cut out completely or sharply slashed as undesirable or "certainly not essential."

The committee was especially critical of policies and practices relating to construction of the Air Force Academy at Colorado Springs, Colo.

Many buildings at the academy, the committee said, were increased in scope and cost without congressional approval until after binding contracts had been approved.

"A typical example of the lack of realistic planning" in connection with the academy, the committee said, was Air Force approval of floor-to-wall ceiling blackboards on all four walls of classrooms.

In an effort to curb future spending at the academy, the committee urged the House to clamp a ceiling of $139,797,000 on the total cost of the academy. It cut a million dollars from the $4,372,000 requested for the present years.

Figures Set For Several Texas Bases

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House Appropriations Committee recommended today that these amounts be provided for Army, Navy and Air Force constuction in Texas:

Army: Red River Arsenal, $140,000; Ft. Bliss, $9,129,000; Ft. Hood, $4,606,000; Killeen Base, $31,000.

Navy: Ordnance Aero-physics Laboratory, Daingerfield, $1,459,000.

Air Force: Amarillo AFB, $929,000; Bergstrom AFB, Austin, $1,516,000; Biggs AFB, El Paso, $3,252,000; Brooks AFB, San Antonio, $435,000; Carswell AFB, Fort Worth, $2,113,000; Dyess AFB, Abilene, $1,263,000; James Connally AFB, Waco, $750,000; Kelly AFB, San Antonio, $693,000; Laughlin AFB, Del Rio, $897,000; Perrin AFB, Grayson County, $706,000; Randolph AFB, San Antonio, $245,000; Sheppard AFB, Wichita Falls, $975,000; and Webb AFB, Big Spring, $3,265,000.

The money measure, totaling $1,218,815,000, is $511,838,000 under the amount sought by the administration.

Soviet Play Threatens To Delay Vote

By MAX HARRELSON

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —A Soviet attempt to rewrite a Japanese Middle East peace plan threatened today to delay a showdown vote for at least 24 hours.

In a surprise move, Soviet Delegate Arkady A. Sobolev handed the 11-nation Security Council a series of amendments, including a new demand for the immediate withdrawal of U.S. forces from Lebanon.

He suggested strongly he would use the veto to kill the Japanese resolution if his amendments were turned down. The Council already has rejected a Soviet resolution calling on American troops to get out of Lebanon.

The Soviet amendments were sure to be rejected.

The Japanese resolution provides for beefing up the present U.N. observer group in Lebanon so it would guarantee the political independence of the strife-torn Middle East country and permit the withdrawal of U.S. forces.

Some delegates said they would have to get new instructions from their governments, and doubted they could do so in time to vote today.

The delay gave more time for big-power exchanges on possible high-level talks either in the U.N. or outside. In this morning's brief debate, however, there was no mention of these talks or of the proposed emergency meeting of the U.N. General Assembly.

Defeat of the Japanese plan may result in an emergency session of the U.N. General Assembly.

Diplomatic efforts to settle the latest Middle East crisis held most attention as the tense area generally remained outwardly quiet. The chief military development yesterday was the assignment of U.S. Marines to Lebanese army antisniper patrols in Beirut.

The Western Big Three planned to tell Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev that the proper place for settlement efforts is the U.N. Only Indian Prime Minister Nehru and U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold had accepted Khrushchev's bid for a summit conference, beginning today, on the crisis, and Hammarskjold in his acceptance insisted that such a meeting be closely linked with the U.N.

The Western reply opened the possibility that Khrushchev might come to U.N. headquarters to turn a Security Council meeting into a summit session.

The vaguely worded Japanese resolution seeking to resolve the crisis was interpreted as calling for strengthening the U.N. observation group in Lebanon. The Council established the group June 11 to insure that there was no infiltration of arms and men from the United Arab Republic to Lebanese rebels.

Absentee Vote Surge Puts New Life Into Campaigns

BY CLAYTON HICKERSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

A last-minute surge of absentee voting and a stepped up tempo in the race for Governor of Texas marked the state's 1958 primary campaign Tuesday.

With Tuesday midnight the deadline for absentee voting, officials at many courthouses over the state reported an increased run on the absentee ballots.

Two of the principal candidates for governor said the most interest in Texas was not in the U.S. Senate race, but in who was to run the state government in Austin. Both — former Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel and Gov. Price Daniel — predicted they would do it.

The other candidate for governor, and the most surprising campaigner in any of the races, State Senator Henry Gonzalez of San Antonio, said in a Fort Worth Television appearance that Texans could choose either "tweedle or o'tweedle, tweedle-dum and tweedle-dee" or Gonzalez.

Gonzalez, too, was confident. He scheduled a 9:30 a.m. "victory conference" in Dallas with newsmen.

Former interim Senator William Blakley of Dallas hammered at the farm situation and said he favored farm supports until a "proper solution" for the problem can be found.

Senator Ralph Yarborough, who Blakley seeks to bar from his first full term, remained in Washington from where he said he would report Wednesday night on the Middle East crisis.

Blakley said, "My position and my views have been misrepresented to you by our opposition." He said he wanted to set the record straight.

"Many times," said the slim Dallas businessman, "I have said that farmers should have the right to make a living without governmental controls.

"But, until the time when a proper solution to the farm situation can be found, the farmer must be compensated to equalize his income and his standard of living with the rest of our economy."

Yarborough, who has said he backs President Eisenhower in sending troops to Lebanon, said he would make a full report on the Middle East crisis. He conferred with government leaders close to the situation Monday, including Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson and Senator Mike Mansfield (D-Mont.)

Yarborough's brother, Donald, stumped through their native East Texas Tuesday while Mrs. Ralph Yarborough scheduled a meeting in Georgetown Tuesday morning with her husband's supporters.

Gonzalez, in a 30-minute telecast, asked Gov. Daniel to drop his "pious, sanctimonious" attitude and tell the people names of lobbyists who attended a breakfast at the mansion.

Gonzalez said the lobby control bill "about which the governor likes to brag" really is no control bill at all. He said a lobbyist could now give a Senator a new auto and it was all right as long as the lobbyist didn't have to argue about a bill.

Panel Taking Testimony On Role Of Adams In Refunds

By B. L. LIVINGSTONE

WASHINGTON (AP)—A House armed services subcommittee starts taking testimony behind closed doors today on the role of Sherman Adams in a $41,284 penalty refund to a New England textile firm.

The White House says Adams, President Eisenhower's top aide, did no more than relay queries and information on the matter in a routine fashion. Former officials of the now defunct company, Raylaine Worsteds, Inc., have denied any White House pressure was involved.

Subcommittee Chairman F. Edward Hebert said several days of closed-door testimony will be taken before any public hearings are called. The group spent yesterday studying the background without calling witnesses.

The new investigation follows lengthy hearings by another subcommittee of Adams' relations with Bernard Goldfine, a Boston textile manufacturer and real estate owner who denied Adams pulled strings in his behalf. Goldfine is not involved in the current inquiry.

Fresh support for Adams came from Secretary of Commerce Weeks, who described him as a "loyal . . . devoted . . . dedicated . . . honest" public servant. Weeks made public in a statement comments he had planned as a speech.

Weeks said Adams has been "whiplashed more brutally than any individual in public life in our generation," and has been "cruelly smeared by vindictive hatemongers."

"When the whole truth on him is known by the public," Weeks added, "I believe my own high opinion of his rugged New England character and service to the nation also will be the verdict of the fair minded American people, and those who have been persecuting him will be ashamed."

The Raylaine company was penalized $49,784 for late delivery of uniform fabric shortly after Pearl Harbor in 1941. It appealed unsuccessfully to the Armed Services Board of Contract Appeals for a $25,000 refund, but in 1957 succeeded in having the case reopened and the penalty cut by $41,284.

Roswell M. Austin, a former member of the appeals board, told reporters an inquiry in behalf of Raylaine was made by Adams, and asserted:

"It was my thought that the inquiry was improper."

He said, however, that Adams' inquiry did not influence the board's decision, which he implied was in accord with the facts.

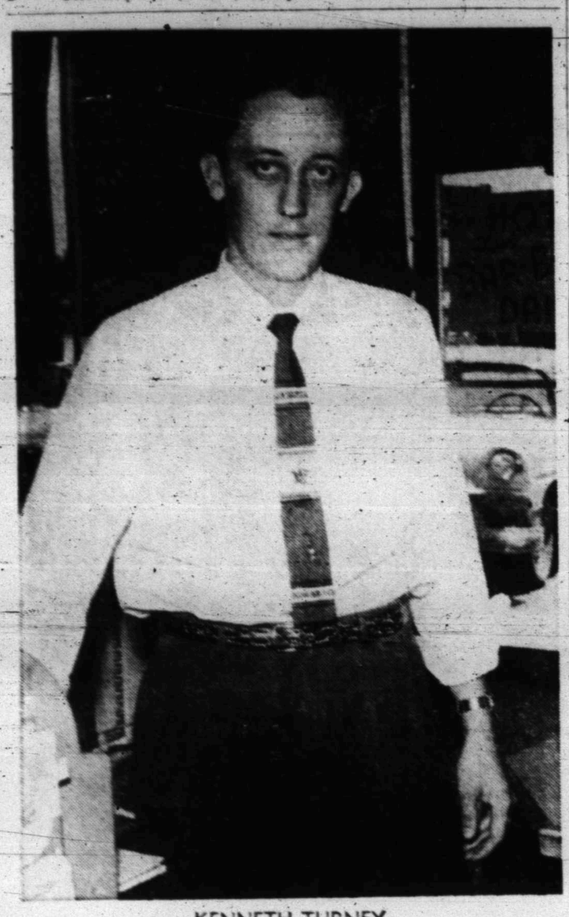

Austin retired from the board in September 1957, a few months before the decision was rendered in favor of Raylaine.

Austin said an inquiry about Raylaine also came from a member of Congress whom he did not identify.

Later, Rep. Chester E. Merrow (R-NH) told a reporter he presumed he was the congressman to whom Austin referred.

Merrow said he had some correspondence with federal agencies asking about the status of the case, and later urging that the board's refund award be expedited.

He said he regarded it as a routine matter of the type that crosses the desk of every member of Congress. The company was situated in Merrow's congressional district.

KENNETH TURNEY
... New JRB manager

New Manager At Rainbow

A new manager assumed duties here yesterday at the JRB Rainbow Supermarket No. 2 on the Big Spring highway.

He is Kenneth Turney, 29, who came here from Brownwood to take over the new store, which was opened in February.

Sterling Parker, JRB vice-president who lives in Snyder, announced Turney's appointment as manager of the store.

Turney had been stock manager for a JRB store in Brownwood, and he has been with the company two years. He has been in the grocery line five years.

A native of Comanche, Turney had been a resident of Brownwood about seven years. He had graduated from Carlton High School and attended John Tarleton State College.

Turney is married and has one son, Kenneth, Jr., 3. He has not yet moved his family here.

BIRTHS

Mr. and Mrs. William Jennings, Box 245, are parents of a son weighing seven pounds, 12½ ounces, born at 8:38 a.m. yesterday at Cogdell Memorial Hospital.

Army Offers New Option

A new enlistment option for qualified men who wish to serve only within the continental United States was announced today by Master Sergeant Charles Young of the Snyder Army Recruiting Station. Under this new option, men enlisting for the Army Air Defense Command may now choose one of the 23 metropolitan areas open as their duty station.

These assignments are available on the east and west coast as well as in other strategic defense areas within the United States. Accepted men will be given basic training at Fort Carson, Colorado, and will then be assigned directly to their duty station after a 14 day leave of absence to their home. At the duty station they will receive either "on the job" training, or be sent to an Army school for specialized training in guided missiles or electronics, dependent upon their qualifications and ability.

The Army Air Defense Command has the primary duty of defending the United States against enemy air attack by the use of such ground to air missiles as the Nike Ajax and Nike-Hercules.

Four Guilty Pleas Heard

Six cases in county court yesterday and this morning resulted in four pleas of guilty and two cases in which bond was set.

Two were bootleg cases. Ebaristo Perez, arrested by city police yesterday afternoon, pleaded guilty to a charge of illegal transportation of seven cases and two six-packs of beer, and County Judge Edgar Taylor gave him a 60-day jail sentence.

In the other bootleg case, Thomas Henry Hudgins, who had been charged with illegal sale of beer and had been arrested by the sheriff's department, pleaded guilty and was fined $123.50, including court costs. He first pleaded not guilty but changed his mind.

Two were cases of aggravated assault. John Calvin Morgan entered a plea of not guilty to a charge of aggravated assault on his wife, and Taylor set his bond at $500. John R. Chisum pleaded not guilty to a charge of assaulting his wife, and his bond was set at $1,000.

In two other cases, Charles Lewis Macke pleaded guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated and was fined $73.50, including court costs, while H. C. Cope was fined $28.50, including court costs, on a plea of guilty to a charge of swindling.

Pasture Land Is Burned Monday

Some pasture land on the J. D. Logan place four and one-half miles southeast of Snyder was burned over by a fire shortly before noon yesterday, firemen said.

Firemen said that the fire occurred about 11:45 o'clock yesterday morning. They put the blaze out.

Rebel Says Troops Will Depart Soon

By WILTON WYNN

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — One of the leaders of the opposition to President Camille Chamoun said today he believes American troops will be withdrawn from Lebanon soon.

Former Premier Hussein Oweini, leader of the national front, said he based his view on talks he had Monday with Robert Murphy, President Eisenhower's special diplomatic trouble-shooter who has been thrust into the role of mediator in this little country's politics.

Oweini said he thought the Americans would soon withdraw because the Iraqi situation is now "stabilizing."

U.S. Marines, sent here to assure Lebanon's independence, were in the midst of a lot of noisy shooting again Monday night as opposition elements, many of them pro-Nasser, continued their 74-day rebellion.

No bullets hit Leathernecks positions around the airport, however, and the Marines did not return the fire.

One Marine was killed before dawn by a Marine sentry. An officer said the dead man had failed to answer a challenge as he was returning from a mission.

In the heart of Beirut, a number of heavy explosions shook buildings early today and automatic rifles chattered.

The nightly noise usually means the rebels are exploding dynamite bombs in their terror campaign and that government security forces are replying with rifle fire.

A Marine officer said that closer liaison with Lebanese army units had stopped some of the sniping that has been going on around U.S. positions.

Lebanese forces have moved into previously unprotected high ground around the airport, forcing snipers farther back. As a result no new reports of attacks on American planes have been reported.

Jobless Claims Show Increase For Week

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—About 3,000 more jobless workers filed for unemployment insurance in Texas last week, upping the total to 77,786, the Texas Employment Commission said yesterday.

Initial claims for the week showed an increase, hitting 6,594 as compared to 6,513 for the week ending July 11.

The commission said total claims actions reached 79,320, with $1,546,287 being paid out, as compared to 76,209 claims actions the previous week.

The 1957 payment for the same period was $474,346.

Acreage For Seed Cotton Authorized

WASHINGTON (AP)—A bill by Rep. J. T. Rutherford (D-Tex) that authorizes use of not to exceed 1½ per cent of a state's long staple cotton acreage allotment for the growing of high quality seed passed the House Monday. It was sent on to the Senate.

The bill is applicable largely to irrigated farms in West Texas and New Mexico.

Child Hurt In Fall Through Window

Mercie Rios, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Julian Rios, who live on the Lubbock highway across from the B & B Parkway grocery store, was injured when she fell through a window pane at noon yesterday.

Attendants at Bell Funeral Home, whose ambulance took the child to Cogdell Memorial Hospital, said that she had a deep cut under the arm and had lost much blood.

Marines Are 'Hot To Trot'

CAMP PENDLETON, Calif. (AP)—All but emergency leaves have been canceled for the 17,000 officers and men of the 1st Marine Division because of the Middle East crisis.

The 3rd Marine Air Wing at El Toro Marine Corps Air Station at Santa Ana has restricted liberty to an area within 50 miles of the base. The normal limit is 150 miles.

A Camp Pendleton spokesman said the division was being held ready for a possible move to the Middle East. Men on 30-day leaves will not be recalled unless the division gets orders to move.

"We don't know what might happen," he said, "but when they sound the button, we've got our barracks bags all packed. We're hot to trot."

Turks Beef Up Guard For King's Father

ISTANBUL, Turkey (AP)—Turkish security police have strengthened their guard on the sanitarium housing Jordan King Hussein's mentally ailing father after reports of a plot to kidnap him, informants said today.

Two sources said an attempt actually was made last month to abduct 47-year-old ex-King Talal. They said guards stymied the would-be abductors.

However, a high-ranking Turkish official said there was no actual kidnap attempt. He said the guards were strengthened 20 days ago after a report of a kidnap plot.

Another source said one of two leaders of the reprted plot identified only as an Arab—fled the country and the other now is under surveillance here.

Rumors sweeping Istanbul say the plotters wanted to spirit Talal out of Turkey and set him up as a rival to his pro-Western son's reign. The story goes that the kidnapers planned to land on the banks of the Bosporus below the sanitarium. Ships of many nations pass regularly within sight of the institution.

Talal succeeded to the Jordanian throne when his father, King Abdullah, was assassinated July 20, 1951. A year later he was declared mentally incompetent and the Jordan Parliament deposed him in favor of Hussein. After stays in sanitariums in Switzerland and Egypt, he came to Turkey in 1953.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen
Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wobbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Hold false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug counter.

Bird Case Dismissed

NEW YORK (AP)—By his own account, it's not that Samuel Brown doesn't like birds. It's what they are doing to his fire escape that has finally prompted him to act.

For 10 years, Brown's Brooklyn neighbor, Mrs. Max Leak, has been feeding bread and cake crumbs to flocks of birds that gathered near her porch.

For 10 years, Brown says, the birds have been perching on his fire escape. Brown says he is tired of having the fire escape scraped.

So, Brown, 70, haled Mrs. Lezak's husband, also 70, into Magistrates Court yesterday and put the matter before Magistrate Charles Solomon.

Can Brown prove that the birds on his fire escape are the same ones Mrs. Lezak feeds, Solomon asked.

Brown had to concede that the birds in his neighborhood are all pretty much alike.

WOMEN

Summertime Lunches Must Be Nutritious

Summer is a wonderfully relaxed time—schools out, the swimming pool's open, the uniform of the day is a pair of shorts and a two-gun holster

All but one of our routines relax. The Texas Beef Council reminds mothers that healthy, active young bodies need just as much essential protein food during the summer as they did during the winter. Muscles and bones don't stop growing because school is out, and no less food "fuel" is burned in the swimming pool than was needed for touch tackle last Fall.

The same warm weather which lures the children to the pool or the backyard will kill their appetites unless meals are attractive and well planned, and the Beef Council has found that "well planned" in the summertime really means "planned ahead."

Cooking in quantity is especially important during the summer, so the kitchen can be heated only once for the preparation of several meals. The economical cuts of beef fit well into a summertime cooking program, since many of them need relatively little attention while they cook slowly.

A good trick is to simmer a double-recipe of beef stew or soup while you are going to be busy in another part of the house. Either of these protein-rich dishes may be stored in meal-size containers in the freezer or in the refrigerator for several days. After a 15-minute reheating, Mother is ready to call a truce in the backyard Indian war.

If the "good guys" are encircled by marauding renegades and can't escape from the fort, take cold meat loaf sandwiches to the beleaguered army, where a few catsup smears will hardly be noticed on the war paint.

This Beef Council recipe solves the problem of a quick, hot lunch for one. If Junior emulates his Father and brings his Army buddies home for lunch without warning, multiply the ingredients accordingly.

Cook and stir over low heat for about 5 minutes:

¼ cup ground beef
1 tablespoon chopped green pepper
1 tablespoon chopped onion
1 tablespoon catsup
Salt and pepper to taste

Served open on the bottom of a hamburger bun, this nourishing "different" sandwich leaves the other hand free to hold a glass of milk. Send your soldier back to the front with an orange or other fruit, and he's ready to fight again!

Grandmothers Going Modern

AKRON, Ohio (AP) — Has your grandmother joined a harmonica band? Are there tinted threads among the grey? Is grannie bowling too frequently to crochet?

More power to her, says Mrs. Sylvia Stalcup of Akron, national president of the Grandmothers' Club. After 20,000 miles of traveling as the nation's No. 1 official grandma, Mrs. Stalcup reports modern conveniences have gotten grannie out of the house and into all kinds of activities.

"Todays's grandmother is adventurous enought to try the chemise, vain enough to watch her figure, chic enough to tint her hair if she feels like it, and agile enough to wear 3-inch heels."

As for the harmonica band, Mrs. Stalcup says 18 grandmothers in Akron play in them. Bowling is also popular with the nation's grandmothers, she says.

But the nation's No. 1 grannie is all for banishing the grandmother who tries to be a matriarch.

"The grandmother should never, never try to dieate to the younger members of her family. She can give advice, but only when it's asked for."

Mrs. Stalcup offers some other "don'ts" for grandma: Don't baby sit too much, don't play favorites among your grandchildren, and don't live with your children if you can help it.

There's a lot to look forward to when you become a grandmother she says.

"The rearing of your own family with all its trials — as well as its joy — is behind you. In the role of grandmother you don't have the responsibilities you used to, but you have all the joys over again in your grandchildren."

And what is Mrs. Stalcup already four times a grandmother, looking forward to?

"Becoming a great-grandmother."

When Honey is used in the freezing of fruits use mild flavored Honey in the proportion of one part of Honey to four or five parts of fruit, on sliced or crushed fruits. If you pack whole fruits with Honey, add 1 cup of water to each two cups of liquid Honey and then use just enough of this diluted Honey to cover the fruit.

Summer Fun Free For All

Summer parties can be less formal, and less expensive than winter shindigs. A lawn party is fun and expenses can be kept to a minimum, even if the folks let you have a couple of members of a band for dancing. It gives the crowd a chance to get all dressed up in their dance clothes.

A beach party is lots of fun too, and the whole crowd can supply cooking talent, even if you foot the bill for the goodies. A fun game is Luta De Galho, the chicken fight, a Brazilian teenage game, ideal for the beach. Two players may pit themselves against each other, or a group may be divided into teams. Handkerchiefs are placed in the belts of boys and girls. Arms are kept folded tightly across the breast. They hop about on their right foot, without touching left foot to the ground. The left arm may be used to wrest handkerchief from the belt of their opponent, who tries to ward off the blow with the right elbow without unbending the arm. Any player whose right arm unbends or who touches his left foot to the ground is disqualified.

Red hot potato chips may be added to the usual beach fare of toasted hot dogs, hamburgers, corn or what have you. Take a 7 oz. bag of potato chips, 3 tablespoons of butter, 2 cloves of garlic minced fine, or crushed, 1 tablespoon of paprika, ¼ teaspoon cayenne pepper. Melt butter with seasonings and pour it into the bag of potato chips. Shake the whole thing gently without breaking the chips, but thoroughly enough to coat them all with butter. A more painstaking way is to coat them with the pastry brush lightly, and return them to the bag for their trip beachward.

These same hot chips make good fare for an impromptu porch party. Serve them with small bowls of extra trimmings such as anchovy fillets, small Norwegian sardines, chopped scallions or very thin slices of pepperone, the hard hot little Italian sausage that you get at meat counters or delicatessen stores. You can jazz up potato chips in the oven too by sprinkling cheese over them or spoonfuls of pizza sauce.

A good food idea for a lawn party may be a Chinese menu. It may be prepared in advance, and heated up at the last minute, saving the hostess time. The rice may be cooked up in a couple of minutes.

A good game, even for a dress-up party, may be a chopstick race. Each guest places a small bowl of rice on a napkin, and at a signal starts eating. The one who empties his bowl without spilling the rice, or spills less than anyone else wins a prize. A Chinese carving, a picture or a pair of chopsticks make good prizes.

Make Small Fry A Laundry Bag

AP Newsfeatures

LITTLE THINGS can encourage a child to be neat and put her things away. A gay laundry bag, for instance, can teach her to put soiled clothes where they belong, so that her mother doesn't have to waste time on washday searching her room for things that need washing.

Here is an idea for a laundry bag that looks like a dress, easy to make from left-over fabric. Just be sure the fabric is washable, advise local sewing center experts.

To make the laundry bag, simply cut two dress-shaped pieces, with short sleeves and round neckline. A good size for the bag is 26 inches long, 16 inches across the body of the bag and 20 inches from sleeve-tip to sleeve-tip across the shoulder line.

Slit and hem the front opening. Attach a small band collar and bow-tie at the neckline. To disguise its bulge as the laundry piles up, add a small gathered apron. Finish sleeves with bias binding.

Hang the bag on an ordinary wooden hanger in a convenient spot, at a height easy for a child to reach.

Many mothers make these laundry bags to match the fabrics in the room, using material left over from curtains and bed-spread. Additional fabric left over from a decorating project may be utilized for garment bags and shoe bags.

Toots Shor, famous New York restaurateur, recently told Louis Vaudable, owner of the world-famous Maxim's of Paris, that his best-selling dishes are roast beef, stews and steaks. Monsieur Vaudable replied that he sold the same dishes with wine sauces. To the Texas Beef Council, this indicates that beef is the most popular meat in each of the two countries, the difference being that Americans consider eating and drinking as two separate activities.

When using Honey in baked products one should use a moderate oven to prevent the product from becoming too brown.

ENTERTAINING MADE EASY—With company in the house, snack suppers can be as successful as sit-down dinners and give the hostess more time to enjoy the visitor. Featured on this snack tray is avocado Jamboree.

A Banquet Of Bits-Bites

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

TWO SUBURBAN housewives have the answer to the problem of entertaining in busy households.

Their formula? Use snack cookery in many social situations in interesting ways.

This enterprising team, Alice Schryver and Francille Wallace, found other women wanted to know about their have-guests-and-enjoy-them-too regime. Their recently published "The Complete Hors d'Oeuvres Cookbook" (Coward-McCann, $3.95) gives the results of their experience.

Talking to the authors over lunch, we discovered that Alice's family considers snack cookery an adventure that offers loads of fun. Two pre-teen daughters can't wait to get in the act and, using their mother's recipes, make and serve spreads and dips. Even the father has been beguiled by this easy cookery and has been known to produce speedy Chinese-type snacks with the mere help of a skillet.

Fran says her husband is a meat-and-potatoes man. But even he enjoys main-dish party snacks such as corned beef turnovers made from rich pastry, miniature meat balls, skewered seafood rolled in bacon, meat kabobs, grilled open sandwiches of baked beans, bites of roast beef and cheese, barbecued spareribs and other stick-to-the-rib dishes.

Both authors urge hostesses to take advantage of the fact that modern entertaining has shifted from the formal to the casual. "Snack suppers can be every bit as successful as sit-down dinners," they emphasize. If you have a freezer-and the authors have designated any of the 1,000 recipes in their book that may be frozen-parties that feature hors d'oeuvres can be largely do-it-ahead affairs.

Do you ever have spur-of-the-moment company, Sunday afternoon drop-ins, once-every-week-groups, luncheons and tea parties, cocktail parties and stay-after guests? Alice and Francille have recipes and menus to offer.

One of their most interesting menu ideas is what they call the American Smorgasbord. For it the buffet table need have only napkins, plates and forks plus a variety of hot and cold hors d'oeuvres. In the same way that the Chinese add a different dish to their banquet menu for each additional pair of guests, the larger the party the more numerous should be the dishes served. Guests come to the table as they please, enjoy choosing hot hors d'oeuvres from chafing dishes or electric skillets, bites and bits from a cold array.

"There's just one formality you need observe," Francille advises. "Act like a hostess and let people konw you're there!"

Here is our adaptation of a popular spread from "The Complete Hors d'Oeuvres Cookbook."

JAMBOREE

Ingredients: 1 medium-sized avocado, 1 teaspoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon drained capers, 4 slices crisply fried bacon (drained and coarsely crumbled), salt.

Method: Cut avocado in half and remove seed and skin; with a fork mash avocado fine. Stir in lemon juice and capers, then bacon and a dash of salt. Makes about 1 cup. Good as a dip with potato chips.

Homemakers find, that Honey used in cakes, cookies, and bread absorbs and holds moisture which is important at any time of year, but is particularly so during the late summer and early autumn months when the soft breezes are drying.

Hostesses easily gain culinary respect of their guests when they serve refreshments which include Honey in ice tea, ice coffee, fruit cake, fudge, oatmeal and other cookies, French salad dressing and hot and cold lemonade. Many use Honey to glaze baked ham.

Murphy H-D Meeting Held

KNAPP—The Murphy Home Demonstration Club met Thursday with Mrs. N. L. Long.

Twelve members and several children were present A White elephant sale was held which netted the club $25.00.

Coffee, cold drinks, potato chips and sandwiches were served.

The county-wide family picnic is scheduled for Towle Park pavillion on Friday night, Aug. 22, at 7 p.m., with each family requested to bring a basket lunch.

In recipes for muffins, bread, and rolls made with Honey instead of other sweetening agents, one does not make any change if Honey is used measure for measure.

Flavor and sweetness of Honey-bread explains its popularity with the members of the family because it is tasty. The homemaker, whether she buys Honey bread or makes it, likes it because it is nutritious and because of the Honey in it, it keeps fresh a long period of time.

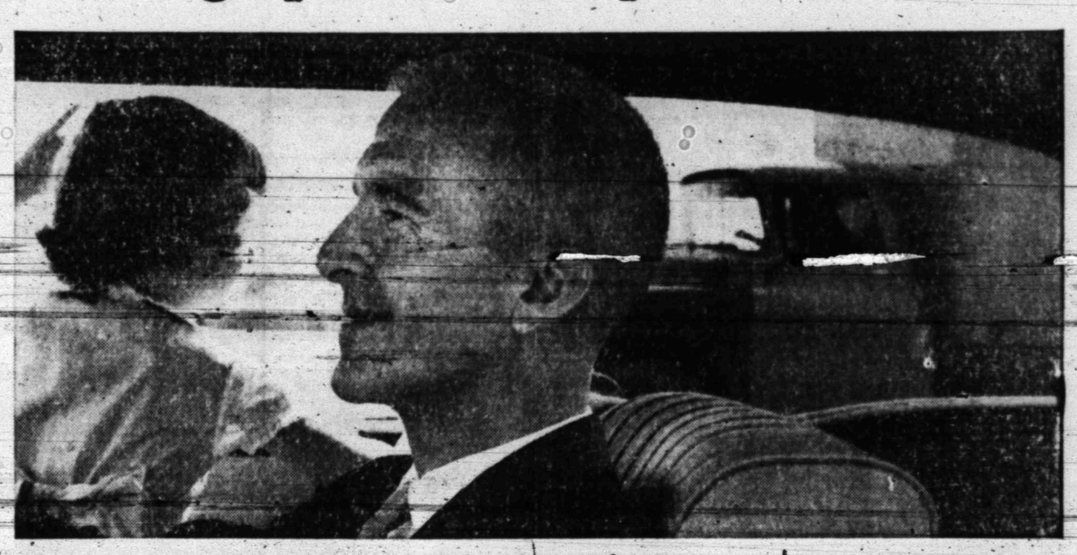

Honey lessens fatigue and increases energy and power to work.

QUESTION: Why does the moon change shape?

ANSWER: Sometimes the moon looks like a great silver globe in the sky. At other times it appears much smaller, and at others it is a mere sliver of light. Actually, it does not change shape at all. It just seems to because at times it is reflecting less sunlight than at others.

The moon has no brightness of its own and its light is a reflection of the sun's light. The amount it reflects changes because the moon and the earth are constantly moving in the universe—the moon around the earth and the earth around the sun. At times the moon stands directly on a line between the sun and the earth and reflects no light to us at all. This is called the "dark of the moon." As the moon moves in its orbit, we first see it as a small crescent. This crescent gradually widens until, about the seventh day after the new moon, it is a half circle. The moon is then said to be at its first quarter. About seven days later, the moon is in such a position that the entire surface that is visible to the earth reflects the sun's rays. This is a full moon, or second quarter. The moon then begins to diminish in size until it once again disappears and becomes a new moon, ready to start the cycle over again. Each cycle takes about four weeks.

• • •

FOR YOU TO DO: Watch the moon for several nights and notice how it gradually changes shape.

Two Agencies Will Vie For Funds To Attack Arthritis

NEW YORK (AP)—The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis announced today it is expanding its program to attack major health problems of the nation.

Until now, the foundation has been concerned with polio. Paralytic polio has been virtually licked by the Salk vaccine.

Basil O'Connor, foundation president, said research initially will be in five areas: polio, virus research, disorders of the nervous system, arthritis and birth defects.

The foundation's expansion into arthritis research indicates it may vie for funds with the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation. The latter last week rejected a proposed merger by the two groups.

O'Connor said no attempt will be made to duplicate the work of other voluntary agencies. He added, however, that as scientific breakthroughs occur they will be pursued wherever they lead, with the general objective of improvement of man's health.

The arthritis group voiced regret that the polio foundation had not "seen fit to join forces" in combating arthritis, but instead was entering the field on its own.

The polio organization will be known henceforth as the National Foundation, O'Connor said.

He said the enlarged program is a natural outgrowth of work done in the course of finding a polio preventive and caring for polio victims.

When the breakdown of merger negotiations was announced last Wednesday, the arthritis foundation said basic differences in the organization and methods of operation of the two foundations apparently could not be reconciled.

In today's statement by the arthritis foundation, chairman Floyd B. Odlum said there are more than 11 million suffers from arthritis in the nation.

He said that perhaps the decision by the polio foundation to enter the field, too, may help point up its seriousness. However, he said: "It is regrettable that they should not have seen fit to join forces with the Arthritis and Rheumatism Foundation in order to utilize our medical and scientific resources and to carry on the advances we have achieved to date . . ."

Odlum said that with the polio foundation "entering a number of broad fields of medicine, our leadership feared that most of the funds to be raised . . . would be devoted to fields other than arthritis."

"I confidently expect," he said, "that within another 10 years our research people will track down the cause of this disease and come up with a final cure."

He said one policy difference that blocked the merger was the fact that the arthritis foundation gives scientists—not laymen—the main voice on its governing boards.

Conviction Appealed By Nazi Butcher

BAYREUTH, Germany (AP)—Martin Sommer, the "Butcher of Buchenwald," has appealed his conviction by a West German court of wartime mass slayings in the Nazi concentration camp.

Sommer was given the maximum sentence of life imprisonment after his conviction July 3. The prosecutor's office said he has not yet submitted any legal arguments to support his appeal.

Blakley Predicts Victory Saturday

HEARNE, Tex. (AP) — Sen. Ralph Yarborough has lost vites by his actions and record, challenger William Blakley told campaign workers here as he predicted a substantial majority for himself in Saturday's primary.

Blakley, who pushed through Cameron, Belton, Temple and Killeen on his way to Waco today, spoke to a rally of campaign workers from 15 counties.

He also reviewed his stand on four key campaign issues in a telecast beamed from Bryan. He will make a state-wide telecast from Waco tonight.

"All the news is good," Blakley told his supporters. "We are going to carry well over half the counties.

"Our opposition has never been in the majority in Texas and they are not now. They have tried desperately to make a personal issue out of me, but that has fallen flat and they have run out of something to say. They have lost votes by the actions and they have lost votes by their record."

Blakley said Yarborough's return to Washington was "a transparent effort to make last-minute publicity out of a serious international situation" and said it would further lessen the "minority support" for the senator.

In his telecast, Blakley put himself on record on these issues:

Rural electrification: "This work must continue and a political environment must be maintained whereby adequate power at reasonable rates will be made available to cooperatives so that they can continue to supply the needs of the farm and ranch people of Texas."

Testimony Heard In Will Contest

CLEBURNE, Tex. (AP)—A bitter contest over the will of the late J. E. Sexton continued today following testimony that the bachelor millionaire was sane at the time he left his millions to a rest home operator.

Other witnesses said he was forcibly confined in his later years.

Mrs. Agnes Kirk, the rest home operator, was on the witness stand at the end of the first day of a probate court hearing yesterday.

Rival lawyers clashed as attractive Mrs. Kirk, 40, gave inconclusive testimony. Sexton lived at her Cleburne place at times before his death Feb. 28 at the Cherokee Rest home at Jacksonville, Tex., at the age of 80.

Sexton's sister, four nieces and a woman who claims she was his common-law wife are contesting the will naming Mrs. Kirk to receive the estate estimated at from 2 to 60 million dollars.

Mrs. Kirk's attorneys objected when she was called to the stand by counsel for the East Texas relatives of Sexton on the grounds that she was summoned only in an effort to embarrass her.

Mrs. Kirk testified under questioning by Angus Wynne Sr., of Dallas, that a man identifying himself as Will Hanson brought to her in 1955 the will executed by Sexton in her favor. She said she didn't know anything further about it and that Hanson since has died.

Wynne sought to question Mrs. Kirk about some visits she mentioned with a Mrs. Bessie Richardson. Special Judge Atwell McDonald interrupted at this point and said the questions were irrelevant.

Wynne and lawyers assisting him told the judge heatedly that they were trying to prove conspiracy to defraud by Mrs. Kirk and Mrs. Richardson. The judge ruled this wasn't an issue in the case and directed that the line of questioning be dropped.

It wasn't indicated whether Mrs. Kirk will be recalled to the stand immediately.

Mrs. Sylvia Benedict, 32, a registered nurse who once worked at the Cherokee Rest Home, testified that Sexton was held there against his will most of the time in padlocked quarters.

Her brother-in-law, Darrell Benedict, gave similar testimony. Dr. O. D. Smith Jr., who said he became Sextons physician in 1949, testified that Sexton was sane. The Benedicts also said they considered him so.

Benedict, 34, attendant at the Rusk, Tex., Sate Hospital and a former Jacksonville taxi driver, testified that Sexton once fled from the Jacksonville rest home to Overton, Tex.

Two Priests Return Home

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Two American Catholic priests — one hardly able to speak and the other speaking in a whisper—set foot on home soil here yesterday for the first time since leaving a Red Chinese prison.

The Rev. Joseph P. McCormack of the Maryknoll order and Father Cyril Wagner, a Franciscan, released after five years imprisonment, flew here from Shanghai where they had gone after leaving Red China.

Father McCormack, 65, New York City, said that for those five years "we weren't allowed to talk—or even move our lips as if to speak. But, of course, we did."

He spoke barely above a whisper because, he said, prison conditions had robbed him of normal voice tone. Father Wagner, suffering from asthma, was apparently too fatigued to speak with newsmen.

The priests' conviction for "the flavor of espionage" and for being "imperialistic tools," Father McCormack said, was ridiculous.

Petition Opposing Intervention Stopped

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP)—Some University of Texas students were stopped yesterday from circulating a petition opposing "unjustified intervention of American troops in the internal affairs of Lebanon."

Ed Price, former UT football coach and assistant dean of men, said they were stopped because they "have not applied for permission" to set up the booth. He said they had the right to circulate the petition.

About 30 students signed the petition.

A spokesman for the signers, Helen Heise, said the petition was an expression of individual students only.

Grand Jury Here Will Reconvene

The June - July Scurry County grand jury will reconvene tomorrow to attempt to complete its work for the term.

Wayland Holt, district attorney, said the grand jury will have several cases to consider. The group will convene at 9 a.m. tomorrow.

Boys Club Trip To Dyess AFB Canceled

A trip to Dyess Air Force Base, Abilene, which had been scheduled by the Scurry County Boys Club has been cancelled.

The cancellation came when Dyess was put on 24-hour alert and stopped receiving visitors.

The trip had been scheduled for Wednesday.

Police Raid Black Market

TOKYO (AP)—Eighty Japanese police and customs officers today raided Tokyo's downtown black market and seized enough American luxury goods to start a give-away program.

Six truckloads of television sets, refrigerators, washing machines, golf clubs, cameras, watches and 150 cases of U.S. canned goods, worth $30,000 in all, were confiscated in the raid on the "Ueno PX," an alley where U.S. Post Exchange items are sold at low prices to all comers.

The duty-free goods get into Japanese channels through illegal sale by U.S. servicemen or theft. They will be auctioned at the customs warehouse.

No arrests were made.

Flood's Homer Beats Braves

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

What makes that National League race so tough? A playing pattern that gives you a three-game sweep from a club one week then hands you a loss to the same bunch a week later.

Ask the Milwaukee Braves and the Chicago Cubs.

The Braves, with a chance to regain first place from idle San Francisco, blew 3-0 and 4-3 leads last night and were beaten 5-4 in 14 innings by the St. Louis Cardinals. Curt Flood's sixth homer gave it to the Cards, who lost three in a row to the Braves at St. Louis a week ago.

And the Cubs, who swept Cincinnati in three last week, were belted 9-4 by the Redlegs last night in the only other game scheduled.

No games were scheduled in the American League.

The Braves remain a full game behind the Giants, who open a road trip tonight at Philadelphia.

The Cubs now are just a game ahead of the fourth-place Cardinals, 5½ games behind the Giants. The Reds jumped from eighth to fifth.

Lew Burdette, whose error gave the Cardinals a 3-3 tie in the seventh inning, wes handed a 4-3 lead on Joe Adcock's 13th homer in the Milwaukee seventh. But Wally Moon, sent it into extra innings with a ninth-inning homer, his second off Burdette, now 9-8.

The winner was reliever Bill Wight, who blanked the Braves on four hits over the last 6 2-3 innings for his first National League victory.

The Redlegs breezed against the Cubs, although Harvey Haddix had his troubles in the ninth before gaining a 6-5 record. Cal Neeman, who belted a two-run double earlier, hit his ninth homer, and Tony Taylor doubled with one out, but Haddix wrapped it up after Taylor was nailed at the plate trying to score on a single.

Bob Thurman hit a three-run homer for the Reds in the seventh, but they had it bagged in a four-run fourth. Rookie Marcelino Solis lost his first major league decision as George Crowe lined a bases-loaded double for two runs. Two more scored on a force-out and Roy McMillan's single.

Orioles Surprise Of American Race

By ED WILKS
Associated Press Sports Writer

Okay, so Manager Paul Richards has some different ideas about baseball. But his Baltimore Orioles in third place in the American League Race? How unorthodox can you get?

Yet that's where the Birds were sitting as they opened a two-week tour of the West at Chicago. They're 14½ games behind the New York Yankees, but they're only 3½ shy of second-place Boston.

The Orioles moved to third by taking two of three from Cleveland last weekend while Detroit lost three of four at Boston and slipped to fourth.

The Orioles have won 8 of 12 since the All-Star break in a jump from seventh to third.

Pitching has been the answer for the Birds, who have improved their standing each season since gaining the old St. Louis franchise in 1954. They were seventh in '54 (and again in '55, although they won three more games in their second season), sixth in '56 and fifth last year.

With the likes of Jack Harshman (late of the White Sox), Arnie Portocarrero (late of the A's) and Billy O'Dell and Milt Pappas, a couple of home grown kids, the Orioles are just one game under .500. The pitching staff has a record of 30 complete games, the same as the White Sox, and second only to the Yankees' 6.

The Yankees are at Detroit tonight. Boston is at Kansas City and Washington's at Cleveland for a twi-night pair.

No games were scheduled in the AL yesterday.

'Cerv Night' Set In K-City

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Bob Cerv has furnished the Kansas City Athletics with more runs than any other player this season. Tonight the fans are going to furnish his new home.

Its Bob Cerv night at Municipal Stadium for the 32-year-old outfielder who ranks second among American League hitters despite a succession of injuries.

Former President and Mrs. Harry Truman will be among the 20,000 expected for the home-stand opener with Boston. So will Govs. James Blair of Missouri, George Docking of Kansas and Victor Anderson of Nebraska.

Cerv is second in the league with 65 runs batted in, tied for third in homers with 24 and fourth in hitting with a .325 average.

He probably leads in courage—a statistic the records don't show. Cerv has played this season while his jaw was broken and wired shut. He played in the All-Star game with a broken toe. He will be in the starting lineup tonight with an elbow painfully swollen. Cerv was hit by a pitched ball Saturday.

The committee in charge of Bob Cerv Night says contributions from fans will furnish the home which the Cervs recently purchased near Kansas City.

Heated Battle For 4th Spot On In TL

By The Associated Press

The Texas League race rolls into the stretch with a hot fight for fourth place the life of the party.

Houston pulled back into the spot Monday night as the Buffs felled the league leaders, Fort Worth, 4-3. But there are only three games difference from fourth down to eighth and San Antonio is just a half-game back of Houston.

The defeat of Fort Worth and an 8-2 victory by runnerup Corpus Christi over third-place Austin left the Cats nine games ahead of the field.

The most important news was that Tulsa had finally won one—The Oilers beat Victoria 3-1 to snap an 8-game losing streak. It came when new manager Jim Fanning shook up the lineup. Fanning succeeded Al Widmar as Tulsa manager Sunday.

There were three sparkling pitching exhibitions.

Eddie Fisher, the collegian from Oklahoma, hurled a 5-hitter as Corpus Christi doused Austin. The Giants rapped 13 hits behind him, featuring a grand - slam homer by Al Steiglitz and a 2 - run triple by Eric Rodin.

Dallas beat San Antonio 3-2 to knock the Missions down to fifth place and it was the pitching and batting of Jim Tugerson that did the job. Tugerson got his second hit of the season—a double—and it put Dallas ahead to stay. He also scored for the third run in the inning and San Antonio never could catch up.

The rest of the night Tugerson was hurling himself out of tight spots. Harvey Cohen pitched a 5-hitter for San Antonio but Dallas bunched too many of them on him in the third.

Norman Camp held Victoria to four hits but had to have help in the ninth. Jim Golden came in to get the last Rosebud out. Tulsa manager Fanning put Ramon Conde in at third base in his shakeup of the Oiler lineup and Conde responded with three hits.

The Houston-Fort Worth game was a wild one, with 20 hits on both sides along with five errors. Fort Worth left 13 stranded on base because of inability to bunch its 13 hits properly. Houston got only seven hits but one was a homer by Ellis Burton and another was a triple by Charley James.

Texas To Field 33 College 11s

By Harold V. Ratliff

Texas isn't as big as Alaska and it also doesn't have as much college football as two other states. This isn't said in a deflationary way but introduces the subject at hand—just how much college football will the state have come fall.

In Texas there will be 33 senior colleges playing the game. That's 18 fewer than the state of Pennsylvania and two under Ohio.

There has been no decrease in college football as compared to last year. Texas colleges are in five conferences—the Southwest, Border, Lone Star, Missouri Valley and Southwestern (Negro).

Here will be the line up next fall:

Southwest Conference—Baylor, Texas, Texas A & M, Texas Christian, Rice Southern Methodist. Texas Tech is in the Southwest Conference but won't compete for the championship until 1960.

Border Conference—West Texas State, Hardin Simmons, Texas Western.

Missouri Valley Conference—University of Houston, North Texas State.

Lone Star Conference—Sam Houston State, Texas A & I, Southwest Texas State, Howard Payne, Lamar Tech, East Texas State, Sul Ross, Stephen F. Austin.

Southwestern Conference—Wiley, Texas Southern, Prairie View, Texas College.

There are nine independents—Texas Lutheran, Austin College, Trinity, Corpus Chrisit, Abilene Christian, McMurry, Bishop, Jarvis, Paul Quinn.

The college football schedule will be launched Sept. 13 but there will be only a smattering of games. Virtually all of them hit the trail Sept. 20.

This year there'll be an instance of a white college playing a Negro college. That comes Oct. 25 when Corpus Christi engages Texas Southern at Houston.

There has been a reshuffling of the junior colleges but 15 will start the campaign next fall—the same as last year.

Kilgore and Tyler of the Longhorn Conference have joined Paris and Texarkana of the Texas Conference to form a new league, called the Texas Eastern.

That leaves Navarro, Blinn, Cisco, Henderson County and Ranger in the Texas Conference. Ranger left the Pioneer Conference.

Del Mar of Corpus Chrisit, Victoria and Wharton of the Longhorn have entered the Pioneer Conference with Arlington State, Tarleton State, San Angelo and the Cameron Aggies of Oklahoma.

Thus the junior college line up for fall will be:

Pioneer Conference — Arlington State, Tarleton State, San Angelo, Del Mar, Victoria, Wharton.

Texas Eastern Conference—Kilgore, Tyler, Paris, Texarkana.

HE'S SAFE, UMP—Those appear to be the words of Spencer Dyer, Snyder Pony League catcher, with bat in hand, as he gives the "safe sign" on a play that saw Bubba Fleming attempt to score on a wild pitch in last night's game with Colorado City. But Umpire Jeston Corbell "over ruled" Dyer as he called Fleming out sliding in. Taking the throw in plenty of time to tag Fleming out is Colorado City pitcher Steve Hillhouse, No. 14. Colorado City rallied for two runs in the bottom of the seventh to win the series opener, 3-2. (Lee Watson photograph)

COLORADO CITY HERO—Pitcher Dale Walker, right, was the "Man of the Hour" in the Colorado City Little League ranks last night. Walker is shown trotting across home plate after he had blasted a bases-empty homerun in the fourth inning that gave C-City an insurance run in her 2-0 victory over Snyder American League in an area playoff game here. Looking on dejectedly at left is Snyder catcher Eddie Kirby. The umpire is Speedy Moffett. Walker, in addition to his homer, pitcher a four-hitter at the local lads. (Lee Watson photograph)

C-City Wins Pony Tilt On No-Hitter

Southpaw Steve Hillhouse turned back the Snyder All-Stars on no hits last night as he led the Colorado City All-Stars to a 3-2 victory in the first of a best two-out-of-three game series for the area Pony League championship before a capacity crowd at Towle Park.

Despite Hillhouse's no - hitter, though, Colorado City had to pull the game out of the fire with a two-run uprising in the last of the seventh inning after two were away to emerge victorious.

Second game of the series will be played here tonight, starting at 8:30. If Snyder wins tonight, then the third and deciding game would be played here Thursday night. Winner of the series will go to the regional meet in Abilene next week.

Hillhouse and Bob Pena, Snyder righthander, hooked up in a brilliant mound duel last night as neither team earned a run through the first six innings.

Colorado City did pick up an unearned run in the fourth inning to hold a 1-0 lead going into the seventh and final frame. Curtis Scott singled off second baseman Jerry Franks' glove to set up C-City's first run. Scott swiped second, went to third on catcher Spencer Dyer's overthrow and then trotted home on a bloop single to right by Harold Hendley.

Those two hits, both "tainted," were the only base hits Pena surrendered. But Pena, who didn't walk a man the first five innings, weakened in the sixth and seventh innings and gave up five walks before being relieved with two away in the seventh.

Hillhouse also weakened in the final two innings and he was on verge of defeat until the 11th Hour rally by the Colorado Citians. Hillhouse didn't allow a Snyder baserunner past first base the first five innings.

Then Bubba Fleming worked Hillhouse for a walk to open the Snyder sixth, stole second, went to third on a passed ball and then after two were away, Fleming attempted to score on a wild pitch but was thrown out at the plate on a close play.

Snyder got back in the running in the top of the seventh when she scored a pair of runs to take a 2-1 lead. Dyer opened with a walk, stole second and third and then scampered home on a passed ball to tie the game up at 1-1.

Freddie Miller, meanwhile, had walked and then made his way around the bases on a passed ball, stolen base and an error, putting Snyder ahead, 2-1.

Pena's control went haywire in the 7th but even at that he came within one strike of winning the game. After getting the leadoff man in the 7th, Pena walked the next two and then struck out Hillhouse for the second out.

Pena then got two strikes on the next batter, catcher Martin Christian, but finally walked him to load the bases. Pena missed the plate on the first two pitchers to the following batsman, Charles Houston, and was replaced at this point by Steve Free.

Free finished walking Houston to force in the tying run and then Terry Davis singled through the middle to drive in the winning marker.

Hillhouse struck out 18 and walked five while Pena whiffed 11 and passed the same number.

Snyder Nationals To Try C-C LL 9

Colorado City will meet the Snyder National League All-Stars for the Area 2 championship tonight at Towle Park, starting at 7:15.

The Colorado Citians gained the finals by edging past the Snyder American League All-Stars last night, 2-0. Snyder National had drawn a bye into the finals.

Snyder American outhit Colorado City 4-3 last night but two fine defensive plays rubbed out the only two serious scoring threats by the Snyder team.

With C-City leading 1-0, Snyder catcher Eddie Kirby singled and Jimmy Wilson doubled to put runners on second and third with none away in the fourth but a double play killed this threat.

Pete Greene hit a sharp line drive that Colorado City second baseman Roger Proctor grabbed who then tossed to third baseman Peter Garrett to catch Kirby trying to scramble back after he had headed home.

Snyder managed to put only one more runner aboard after that, Kirby singling with two away in the sixth.

The other serious scoring threat by Snyder came in the second inning. With two away, Leslie Brown got life on an error and moved to second when Bruce Brooks was hit by a pitched ball.

Then Snyder pitcher Blake Roberts dropped a single into right field which Brown attempted to score on but he was thrown out at the plate on a fine throw from right fielder Joe Wallace.

Colorado City got her first run in the third without the aid of a hit. Danny Kennumur walked with one away and came around on two consecutive Snyder errors after Garrett had whiffed for the second out.

Walker gave himself some insurance by leading off the Colorado City fourth with a homerun over the left field fence.

Roberts, in holding Colorado City to three hits, struck out four and walked one.

Walker whiffed 10 Snyder Americans and didn't walk a batter although he allowed one free pass on a hit-batsman.

Six-Man School Next Week In Abilene

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — The Texas coaching school for six-man football will be held here next week.

The clinic, featuring All-Star basketball and football games, runs from Monday through Friday, Aug. 1.

The East-West all-star basketball game, with Gerald Williams of Goodrich and Jay Cox of Weinert as coaches, will be Thursday night. The All-Star football game, with J. W. Massingale of Sidney and K. K. Sams of Union as coaches, is scheduled Friday night.

Girls All-Star Nine Hosts Roscoe Tonight

The Snyder All-Star girls softball team will meet Roscoe here tonight in an exhibition game.

Game time will be 8 p.m.

It will be the first game for the All-Stars who were chosen last week.

Jim Swink Giving Up Pro Football

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Jim Swink, a top rookie prospect, stayed at his summer job with a motor freight firm today as the Chicago Bears started professional football training at Collegeville, Ind.

"I have definitely decided not to play," TCU's 1956 All-America halfback said. "It was a number of reasons . . . Iwould rather not say the specific one . . . I just decided I would rather continue on in school at Southwestern and not to play ball."

Ivan Parke, trainer for Marine Chance Farm, was America's leading jockey in 1923 and 1924.

Midland Rips Hobbs Twice

By The Associated Press

Midland must be mad at Hobbs—the Braves have racked up 39 runs in three games with the Cardinals in the Sophomore League race.

Sunday Midland whipped Hobbs in a double-header 11-8 and 8-0. Then, Monday night the Braves walloped the Cards 20-1.

Monday night Artesia took a 4-1 licking from San Angelo and stayed in a tie with Hobbs for first place.

Midland wasn't increasing its lead in the eastern division but the Braves already had a 13-game bulge over second-place San Angelo anyway.

Gold Jacke's Edge Past Lubbock, 13-12

The Snyder Colored Girls Gold Jackets edged the Lubbock Colored girls here last night, 13-12.

It was the eighth win in nine starts for the Gold Jackets.

The Gold Jackets go to Odessa tomorrow night to meet the Odessa Colored girls.

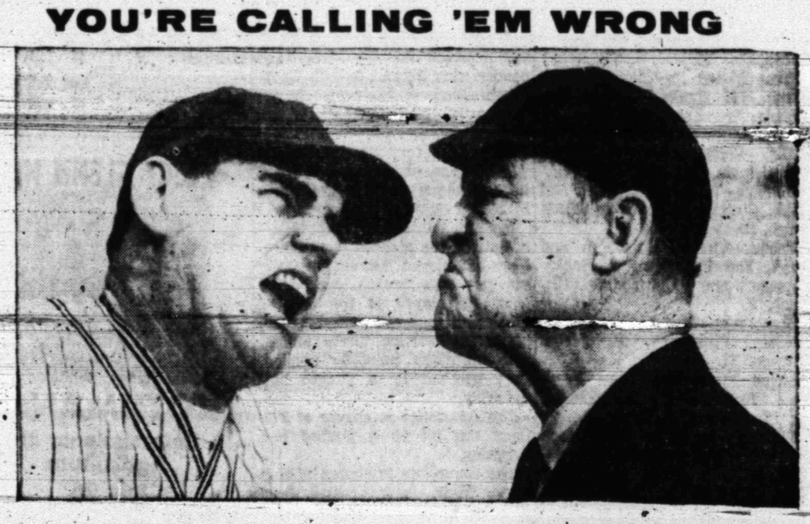

Next home game for the Gold Jackets will be against Odessa Friday night.

Travel Records Fall

THE HOUSTON CHRONICLE:

While many of the politicians in Washington are, for political purposes, trying to convince the American public that the economy is in a worse condition than it is, Americans are ignoring the gloom talk and setting new records in vacation travel.

That the American citizens would spend money on vacations, many of them paying on the installment plan, is strong evidence that they have a lot of confidence in the future of the economy. Public confidence is a very important factor in keeping the nation from having a serious recession.

The United States passport office early in June reported a 21 per cent increase in the first four months of 1958 in applications to travel abroad. The American Automobile Assn. reported that reservations for travel abroad in the late summer and fall already are up 50 per cent over last year. Americans spent $1,950,000,000 in foreign travel last year, an increase of 7½ per cent over the previous year. The increase is expected to be even larger this year.

An interesting sidelight is that more Americans are taking their own cars along. The automobile association reported a 70 per cent increase in the issuance of international drivers licenses and a 76 per cent increase in cars purchased for delivery abroad. Many of these vehicles will be sold back to the dealers under a prearranged repurchase plan.

Last year the average American traveler spent $1533 on his trip abroad. This year the average probably will be higher.

The automobile association reports, also, that vacation travel within the United States is expected to increase substantially. Last year 80,000,000 Americans took vacation trips.

Many millions of dollars will be spent by these traveling Americans. Not only does their obvious confidence help the economy, but the dollars they spend will further stimulate business of all kinds.

Central Bank In Bond Market Again

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—Re-entry of the Federal Reserve Board into the long-term U. S. bond market throws the spotlight today on a small but influential group that deals in government securities.

It is one of the biggest financial markets in the world. Deals, often involving millions of dollars, are usually made over the phone.

Deals can be made on small margins, allowing speculators in new and the. And the market operations, while not under the direct control of the Federal Reserve, are easily and almost constantly influenced by the Central Bank, normally the market's biggest buyer and seller. From now on the influence will be more marked.

Your Savings Bonds aren't involved. You can redeem them at the U. S. Treasury but you can't sell them to any other [illegible] and they can't be traded or influenced in any way by the government securities dealers.

But there are some 167 billion dollars in U. S. securities today that are marketable.

The Federal Reserve since 1952 has been buying or selling only the short-term securities—such as the 91-day U. S. Treasury bills—and its operations are aimed at supplying the commercial banks with enough funds to handle what the Fed considers the legitimate needs of business but not enough to encourage what it calls speculators.

Now the Central Bank is buying long-term bonds again. The announced aim: to keep the market orderly (which it hasn't been of late). The side effect: to bolster the prices of U. S. bonds, which a time when both the recession and the Middle East crisis need firm markets.

There are 17 dealers in government securities. Five of these are banks — the Guaranty Trust, Cehmical Corn Exchange and Bankers Trust of New York; the First National and Continental Illinois National in Chicago.

The banks usually operate in the short or medium term bond market. Other dealers operate in both long and short term securities.

The Central Bank stopped trading in long-term bonds in 1952 on an agreement with the Treasury that it would no longer support the price of these bonds as it had been doing during and after the war in line with the administration's easy money, low interest policy in those years.

But with the Treasury returning frequently these days to the money market as the federal deficit starts to rise, the Central Bank is agreeing to keep the market in line.

The market has other customers besides the Federal Reserve. Commercial banks buy and sell government securities. Corporations buy and sell. Insurance companies buy and sell. Even individuals do, although their total operations are comparatively small.

Banks, insurance companies and other financial institutions buy when they have a surplus of funds and want to put it at work earning interest. They sell when they need cash to lend to business at higher interest rates than government securities pay.

Corporations often find their cash flow has given them a surplus. And no matter how temporary this may prove to be, they put the money to work at once. Government securities are a favorite investment at such a time. They sell when their cash is low or when they need cash for expansion or operating needs.

The 17 dealers supply this market. Uusually they keep it very orderly. The Federal Reserve is now going to try to help them.

Lebanese Tired Of Whole Thing

By RELMAN MORIN

BEIRUT (AP)—"We're sick and tired of the whole thing. The people don't care what kind of a solution develops so long as they get this over with."

Camille Birbari, 36-year-old purchasing agent for a Lebanese firm, was talking. His office is in the center of Beirut—one of the hottest spots in the 73-day-old rebellion against Lebanon's pro-Western government.

Frequently, Birbari has telephoned his pretty wife Aida, mother of one child and with another on the way, that he had to work late.

Actually his office building was under heavy rebel fire. One employe was killed and another wounded. Birbari moved his desk away from the window and felt reasonably safe. But he couldn't tell his wife the real reason for his working late — "She was already nervous and I wouldn't give her any more bad news."

Aida's time drew near. Because of rebel sandbag barriers in sections of the city and the government's 8 p.m. curfew, the husband became apprehensive about the trip to the hospital.

"We had curfew passes, of course, not knowing when Aida might have to go to the hospital. Then they canceled the old passes and told everybody in the city they would have to get new ones. There was nothing we could do but hope for the best. My wife was nervous but very brave."

Ten days ago Birbari took his wife to the hospital — at 7 p.m., an hour before the streets were cleared and before the nightly shootings and bombings began. The baby arrived that night.

"We were very fortunate," he said. "It's hard to say what might have happened if we had to go suddenly through the streets at midnight."

Birbari's work frequently takes him around Lebanon, into rebel-held territory. He has been shot at several times on the roads and three times narrowly escaped exploding bombs.

Although he travels widely in the country, he said nobody could estimate what percentage of the people are actually fighting or militantly supporting any of the various factions.

"Most people wouldn't give two hoots about politics so long as the shops kept open," he said. "It's mainly only the political leaders and their personal rivalries.

"You must remember that in the villages the clan system prevails. If the head of the clan tells the village to fight with one side or the other, they fight. But they don't know what for and they don't care."

Birbari said the arrival of the U.S. Marines caused celebrations among the government supporters and badly scared the opposition. But the great majority of the people now just want peace, he declared, adding: "We are sick and tired of it. We're against anything that disturbs the stability of the country."

Students Surprised By Quickie Exam

WICHITA, Kan. (AP) — Psychology teacher Robert O'Rourke sprang a quickie geography test on his summer school class at Wichita East High School.

Handing out an outline map of the Middle East, and a list of the capitals of Turkey, Syria, Lebanon, Iraq, Israel, Iran, Jordan and Saudi Arabia, he offered extra credit to those who could fill in the names of the eight nations.

Stop And Count Your Pleasures

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Man tends to spend more time yearning for what he wants than enjoying what he has.

Did you ever sit and make a catalogue of your personal pleasures, things past or present that have helped to make your life add up to more—and you'd hate to be without or never to have known?

You may be pleasantly surprised to find how many things in this world have made your journey through it memorable.

Here's one man's impromptu list:

Cigars, nylon socks and the Notre Dame football team in a vintage year.

Girls.

The crooning of Bing Crosby when the world was younger. Helen Hayes in any play.

The old movies of Charlie Chaplin and W. C. Fields.

Vanilla ice cream. Strawberry shortcake, corn on the cob, and the unforgettable taste of a lamb's eyeball at an Arab barbecue in the Algerian desert.

Climbing to the top of the Eifel Tower in August, 1945. And to the dome of St. Peter's in Rome in 1946. And the Great Pyramid outside Cairo in 1954.

Asking the first girl I ever dated in high school to go sit in the park on the way home from the prom and her immortal answer: "What for!"

Sitting on the front porch of the old family home on a summer night long ago listening to my father explain the mysteries of life, politics, baseball, and why women are so unpredictable.

Shaving with champagne one morning when we ran out of water in the march across France.

Walking home in London in wartime during a blackout lit only by bombursts.

The beautiful, beautiful girls of Bali!

The mystic ecstasy of a full moon at harvest time in Kansas.

The infinite satisfaction of suddenly realizing you live in a house in which your dog, your child and your wife are all happy there together, and not one would rather be anywhere else.

The taste of snow when very young. The feeling of inner virtue that comes with going on the wagon when considerably older.

The prose of Jonathan Swift, the Bible, Thomas Hardy, R. L. Stevenson, George Bernard Shaw, and H. L. Mencken. And the poetry of Shakespeare, Keats, A. E. Housman and Emily Dickinson.

Producer's Wife Granted Divorce

SANTA MONICA, Calif. (AP)—TV producer Rod Amateau would go off to the movies by himself when he got angry, his wife testified in winning a divorce.

Mrs. Joan Andree Amateau, former New York stage actress, received the decree yesterday after telling the court her husband's temper tantrums made her nervous and upset.

The court approved a property settlement and $350 monthly support for the couple's daughter Chloe, 3½, who will live with her mother. Amateau is 34, Mrs. Amateau 28.

HAMBURGER IS... king

Behold the royal hamburger! Versatile, economical favorite of everyone, and quick-to-fix for hot summer days. Ground beef can be prepared in so many ways, too. Use your favorite recipe soon, or try one of these new ways to fix ground beef. It's low priced and guaranteed at D&H . . . where you get S&H Green Stamps with every purchase . . . DOUBLE every Wednesday with $2.50 purchase or more.

TWO TASTY WAYS

Meat Crust Pie

Mix together
1 lb. hamburger meat
1 cup soft bread crumbs
½ cup milk
1 tbsp. chopped onion
1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
¾ tsp. salt
⅛ tsp. pepper

Pack into 9" pie pan to cover the bottom and sides. Press another pie pan on top. Bake at 350 degrees 7 min. Remove upper pan, bake 3 min. more. Turn into this hot meat shell . . . 2 cups heated and seasoned mixed vegetables (1 pkg. frozen) . . . 1 cup cut-up fresh or cooked tomatoes (drained) . . . Garnish with green pepper rings (cooked 5 min.) Return to oven; bake 20 min.

Meat-Stuffed Peppers

8 green peppers
1 small onion, chopped
1 pound hamburger
2 tablespoons fat
4 medium tomatoes, chopped
1½ cups cut, fresh corn (3 to 4 ears)
Salt and pepper

Remove top and seeds from green peppers; parboil 5 minutes; drain. Brown onion and meat in hot fat; add to tomatoes, corn and seasonings; stuff peppers and top with buttered crumbs. Stand upright in greased 11 x 7 x 1½" baking dish; add small amount water. Cover and bake in 350 degree oven 1 hour. Makes 8 servings.

Revolt Completed In Just Two Hours

By STAN CARTER

BAGHDAD (AP) — It took a group of army officers just two hours to overthrow the monarchy and establish a republic in Iraq.

The army dissidents appear to have been in complete control of the country from the start on July 14. There may be some hidden opposition to the new regime, but it is not apparent to a visit or just arrived.

The way people are taking to the people, but they seem pleased by the result.

Although the officers of the new regime and the average Iraqi don't like the U.S. intervention in Lebanon and the British landing in Jordan, the chief concern appears to be for their own affairs coupled with a desire to be accepted by the West as the legitimate government of this oil-rich Middle East country.

There is great admiration of the United Arab Republic's President Nasser, but there does not seem to be any great desire to join the U.A.R.

The revolution was a military operation carried out like clockwork.

At 5 a.m. on July 14, one company of infantry, supported by a tank and several antitank guns mounted on jeeps, surrounded the royal palace where 23-year-old King Faisal and Crown Prince Abdul Ilah were preparing to leave for a Baghdad Pact meeting in Istanbul.

At the same time other army units surrounded the home of Prime Minister Nuri Said, long the country's political strong man, and the residences of government ministers. Centurion tanks rumbled to strategic places throughout Baghdad. Gen. Rafiq Aref, commander of the army, was arrested.

The army says this is what happened at the palace:

A captain demanded that the King come out and surrender. Instead the King, the crown prince and the King's aide de camp began firing from the second floor windows. A soldier was wounded in the army.

The army then brought up an antitank gun and began shelling the stucco-covered brick mansion, setting the interior afire.

The royal family fled by a back door to get to a car and escape. What prevented them from reaching a car is not clear, but instead they walked up a gravel path toward the front of the house and were shot.

Nor is there any explanation of why the troops stopped firing, but the family was shot down on the lawn about 20 feet from a front corner of the palace.

Those killed were the King, the crown prince, the crown prince's mother and two sisters, a woman servant and the King's aide. The crown prince's wife was wounded and is reported recovering in a hospital.

The crown prince's body was "given to the people" and mutilated. The other royal dead were reported buried in unmarked graves.

Nuri Said escaped from his house on the Tigris River front as it was being surrounded from three sides. The army believes he crossed to the other side of the river in a boat and took refuge in the home of a friend.

A servant was paid a reward of 10,000 dinars ($28,000) for telling the army the next day Nuri was hiding in the home of his master.

All sources report he was dressed as a woman, with a pistol hidden in the folds of the garment. Some say he opened fire and killed two persons when he was arrested, others that he did not try to shoot.

There is no firm figure on the number killed in the revolution. One official source said "not more than 30," another said "about 14." All but Nuri are reported to have died on Monday. The dead included three Americans, a Briton and a German who were killed by a mob after the revolution had been won. The Americans and the German were taken from the leading hotel by troops, then abandoned to the mob.

PROMOTED BY NAVY—Thomas R. Pior, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. R. McCrary of Snyder and husband of the former Elizabeth M. Banks of Mystic, Conn., is congratulated by his commanding officer aboard the submarine, USS Capitaine, upon his promotion to Sonarman, second class. Before entering the Navy in 1954, Pior attended Texas Tech.

U. S. Beauty List Will Be Reduced

By DIAL TORGERSON

LONG BEACH, Calif. (AP) — The United States' 45-girl contingent in the Miss Universe contest will be slashed to 15 today as preliminaries for the selection of Miss U.S.A. begin.

Thirty-four foreign beauties won't face the judges at tonight's program, but they'll be there, clad in costumes of their native lands, to take part in ceremonies.

For the 79 contestants, the start of judging marks an end to the light-o plea[illegible] of being a beauty queen. Rehearsals will take up much of the time not spent in actual competition from now on.

The girls visited 20th Century-Fox studios yesterday, three busloads of them, nearly all wide-eyed with wonderment at their first glance at a Hollywood studio.

Miss Israel, 21-year-old Miriam Hadar, studied actor Hugh O'Brian curiously as he fired his six-gun a few times to impress the girls.

"Who is he?" she asked, indicating the U.S. television institution known as Wyatt Earp. "Is he famous?"

Miss Louisiana, Eurlyne Howell, of Bossier City, hobbled around the studio with a cane. A temporary rope railing collapsed Sunday and the heavy iron support cracked her on the foot.

Hobble and all, she still looked good enough to catch the eye of Ben Bard, director of new talent training at 20th Century-Fox.

She was one of five girls Bard said he wanted to talk to about possible contracts. The others: Miss Denmark, Evy Norlund; Miss Holland, Corine Rottschafer; Miss Washington, Rose Marie Nielsen, Seattle; and Miss Poland, Alicja Bobrowska.

'Guys And Dolls' Good For Chuckle

By W. MARSHALL COMERER

DALLAS (AP)—The State Fair Musicals put on their third revival of "Guys and Dolls" last night—a fact its Broadway characters would duly note in laying their bets on the run's success.

Runyon's masterfully sketched characters have always been good for a chuckle or a laugh. Update the dialogue, add a cast of big names, put the show across with some snap and polish and the result is a pretty good bet to be a success.

In the key roles are ery-singer Johnny Ray, Janice Paige, Alan King and Patricia Wilson.

This was the first attempt at a book show musical for Ray. His singing was fine, but he didn't seem quite convincing as the sharp crapshooter and gambler, Sky Masterson. Johnny is just too nice a guy to get messed up in a gang like that even if he does to straight in the end.

Janice Paige, in voice, figure and manner was a genuine Miss Adelaide, the night club singer who has been engaged for 14 years to her guy before a wedding ceremony right on Times Square.

Alan King, a native of Brooklyn and a night club comedian with a great gift for mimicry, was a natural in the role of Nathan Detroit, the small-time gambler who runs the oldest floating crap game in New York.

In the same league with these big namers was Patricia Wilson, who played the righteous-minded Salvation Army girl who surrendered her heart to Sky Masterson.

Miss Wilson was last seen here in a night club act. She has been in television, radio, summer stock and an understudy on Broadway. She's got the looks and the pleasant freshness the heroine of a play needs. She also has a pretty and clear-toned soprano voice that stood out in this top company of singers.

As the rotund gambler's errand boy, Nicely-Nicely Johnson, Jack De Lon stopped the show with his singing of "Sit Down, You're Rockin' The Boat."

Paraplegic Escapee Is Off To Cuba

NEW YORK (AP)—A paraplegic who escaped twice with his wheel chair from Welfare Island and spent some of his free time at the movies was put on a plane for Cuba yesterday by immigration authorities.

This was the third time that Luis Oswaldo Lavin-Gardin was deported from the United States. He entered the country illegally three times.

Two immigration officers to whom he surrendered in mid-Manhattan yesterday went with him to Idlewild Airport. The officers took no chances, and remained at the airport until the plane left.

Last Wednesday an immigration officer went to Bird S. Coler Memorial Hospital on Welfare Island to take Lavin-Gardin into custody. He had escaped.

On Thursday the fugitive was picked up by a federal agent and returned to the hospital. The next day he escaped again.

Lavin-Gardin told the inspectors he had outside help in making both escapes. He is a paraplegic as the result of having been shot by a state trooper six months ago while resisting arrest.

Lavin-Gardin said he was taken to the home of a friend Wednesday and visited two moving picture theaters.

Youth Struck By Propeller, Dies

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP)—Mike Duffey, 14, died yesterday from loss of blood and shock after coming in contact with a motor boat's propeller at Eagle Mountain Lake.

Duffey and two friends had rented the motor boat at the lake for swimming and water skiing.

Duffey drove the boat back to the dock but was having difficulty berthing it. One of his companions took over the controls and Duffey dived into the water. He came in contact with the propeller and suffered deep cuts on his thigh and legs.

London's Fashion Emphasis Unchanged

LONDON (AP)—British fashion designers began their autumn shows today, and the emphasis for the new season seemed unchanged—just high busts, high waists and short skirts.

The opening show was by Mattli, who carried the long-legged look into his entire autumn collection. Even his evening dresses were short.

Child Eats After Seventh Operation

PANA, Ill. (AP)—For the first time in her young life, 5-year-old Karen Lee Gordon is getting her fill of home cooking.

Mashed potatoes, noodles, eggs, fruits, even a little meat — whatever Mom puts on the table, the pert, blonde child polishes off. Then she runs her expanding belly, coos blissfully and proudly reports, "I'm full."

It's something new for the Gordon household. Gone is the hated tube through which the little girl had to be fed since she was 3 days old.

Because Karen was born without an esophagus, doctors had to insert the tube through a hole in her abdomen. Eating was a tasteless ordeal.

An operation two years ago permitted the child to take semi-liquid baby foods, even a little ice cream. But she still couldn't eat solids and received most of her food by tube.

Last Thursday, Karen turned 5. She celebrated the birthday with cake and ice cream in her room at St. Mary's Hospital, Decatur, Ill. She ate all she wanted and that's when they knew positively that the last of seven operations had worked.

Doctors had succeeded in substituting for the esophague a portion of the child's lower intestine.

Karen went home last Friday to a marvelous new world of foods.

"She has an awful big appetite," Mrs. Gordon said today. "She'll eat anything I put in front of her.

"She keeps telling me so many things she wants to try. So I'll make them, and then she sits down and eats real good and when she's through she says, 'I'm full.'"

Child Custody Pact Reached

MINEOLA, N.Y. (AP) — Gregg Juarez and his 18-year-old estranged British heiress wife have reached a custody agreement on their baby daughter.

Juarez, an interior decorator, snatched the baby, 7-month-old Bianca, from his wife's arms July 8 just before a plane was to take off for Nassau, the Bahamas. He also handed separation papers to his wife, the former Frederika (Bobo) Sigrist.

In the settlement, reached here yesterday at a conference with State Supreme Court Justice Mario Pittoni, Mrs. Juarez will have custody of the child each year except between June 15 and Sept. 15.

Juarez, 33, will have the child the rest of the time. Both parents have unlimited visiting rights.

In the custody tussle Juarez accused his wife of consorting with other men. She has charged him with living on her money during their 17-month marriage.

Daily Crude Flow Rises

TULSA (AP)—Daily average production of crude oil and condensate rose 22,475 barrels to 6,308,300 during the week ended July 19, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

Oklahoma gained 40,900 barrels to 568,400 and Kansas was up 38,420 to 335,400.

The Journal estimated 1958 production at 1,291,131,900 barrels compared to 1,486,520,789 a year ago.

Colorado was up 500 to 1 2,800, Arkansas up to 75,400; and Louisiana was down 2,750 to 811,550.

Production was unchanged in Texas at 2,406,100 barrels; and in New Mexico at 276,400.

Ginning Figures Lag In South Texas

MERCEDES, Tex. (AP) — Cotton ginning in the four Lower Rio Grande Valley counties total 32,998, which is well short of the total of 108,339 bales for the same period last year.

Cotton is some two weeks late this year due to early season rains and cold weather.

The Valley Farm Bureau reported 29,055 bales for the week, the preceding week had 3,943.

Cameron County has ginned 15,161, Hidalgo County 9,226, Willacy County 8,388 and Starr County 223.
