Good Audience Hears Dillon At Portales

On last Friday night a good crowd greeted Governor Dillon at Portales.

Ezra Watts, Republican County Chairman presided at the meeting.

The first speaker of the evening was Dr. Crile, of Roswell, who entertained the crowd with a humorous talk on national issues.

He was followed by Governor Dillon, who reviewed the work of the state administration.

In talking on the famous one-quart liquor law, Governor Dillon said:

"The prohibition law was introduced in the last session of the legislature by Senator Bryant and Co. It was air tight and a good bill, but the lower House introduced a substitute bill bearing the one quart provision. This bill was passed by both houses."

"When the bill came to me for my signature and I saw the one quart provision, I hesitated and asked what it meant.

I was told that under the old law, an enemy could place a quart of liquor in the car of an innocent person and cause his arrest, and the seizure of his car, and feeling that this law was better than no law, I signed it, with the hope that a future legislature would correct this weakness.

He stated that he was dry in principal and practice.

At his Clovis speech he said:

"The law as it stands, was not amended at my request but it was done with the consent of the prohibition forces present urging passage of the bill.

"I have wondered why Mr. Dow and Mr. Vaught would resort to the tactics they have employed in this matter, but when I realize they are most ardent supporters of a man for president who desires the overthrow of our national prohibition law, and who would make official bootleggers out of our state government, I can then appreciate why they feel justified in waging a campaign of misrepresentation against our own law.

"I did not desire the 'one quart' provision of the law, did not suggest it and did not ask it, but with others who were fighting for the bill, and only because of an absolute necessity for a prohibition enforcement law, I consented.

"I am glad that we have the present law, even with that infirmity, and I feel that all persons who are earnestly endeavoring to assist the prohibition case should join in an honest attempt to enforce the present law and strengthen it at the first opportunity. At least they should be truthful."

RICHLAND

The farmers are having a little vacation as it is too wet to work after so much rain.

The school Literary Society gave its first program Friday night. There was a large crowd out and everyone reported a good program. Watch for date of next one.

Bro. Blair filled his regular appointment Sunday and Sunday night to large and attentive crowds.

The 1st Sunday night is singing night.

Don't forget prayer meeting every Wednesday night.

W. G. Short spent Sunday at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Dee Parten, Blanche Parten took Sunday dinner with Mrs. Lula Parten.

Mrs. Lewis Faw and Rev. L. A. Blair visited in the Joe Parks' home Sunday.

Misses Ruth McClintock and Mable Short were visiting in Dora Wednesday.

Mark Williamson has returned home from Colorado, where he has been for the past year.

Miss Mable Short spent Friday night with Mrs. Marene Owens of Portales.

Miss Merel Thomas spent the week-end with home folks.

Mrs. Joe Parks was a Clovis visitor Saturday.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

There will be no preaching service at the Christian church on next Lords day morning, as the pastor will occupy his pulpit at Elida, at the eleven o'clock hour. The Bible school will convene at nine thirty instead of ten o'clock to accomodate those wishing to bring dinner and go on to Elida for the service there.

Bro. Lorts will fill his regular appointment at Rogers in the afternoon, returning to Portales for the evening sermon.

Head of Bank Association Is Held Up

Melvin Traylor and Party Robbed By Four Suave Outlaws.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—Four suave bandits early today held up Melvin A. Traylor, president of the American Bankers' association, an associate and their wives, and obtained $1,525 in jewels and $50 in cash.

The lost consisting of a $1,500 diamond ring, a string of imitation pearls, valued at $10, a $15 broach and $25 each from the two men.

Accompanied by John Hagey, vice president of the First National bank here, Mrs. Hagey and Mrs. Traylor, Traylor started to drive from a downtown hotel to their homes. Just as they approached the Hagey home an automobile forced the Traylor machine to the curb. The bandits took the jewelry from the women and then demanded the men's wallets.

Finding a memorandum in Traylor's wallet, one of the bandits glanced at it and handed it back, saying:

"No market tips in that, you can keep it."

The bandits then fled after taking the ignition key to Traylor's car.

Melvin Traylor, was a cousin of J. M. Traylor, deceased, and is well known to a number of Roosevelt county people. He visited the Traylors at Elida several years ago. At one time he was a clerk in the grocery store operated by Uncle K. Robertson in Kentucky.

News Bookkeeper Looses Currency

On Tuesday afternoon, between 3:30 and 4:00 o'clock, Miss Hazel Todd, lost $30.00 in currency between the First National Bank and Joyce Pruit Co., or between the latter place and the News office.

The currency was in 2-$10.00 bills and two $5.00 bills.

The finder will be paid a reward of $5.00 on return of the lost money to the News office.

COE HOWARD FOR LIEUTENANT GOVERNOR

Coe Howard, democratic nominee for lieutenant Governor, reports that the democrats are winning all over the state both state and nationally. Mr. Howard in a telegram to the News, urges the people of Roosevelt County to turn out a full vote on the 6th of November and give the county a record of 100 per cent vote.

In the last election there was only a 50 per cent polled in the county. Think of what this means in this election?

Roosevelt is the banner democratic county of the state, and on election day should maintain this record.

Be sure that you come out and vote and see that your neighbor also comes out and votes. By so doing, you will increase the democratic majority in the entire state.

You have had the opportunity to study the candidates offered by the two major parties, you are now prepared to cast an intelligent vote.

In marking your ballot, make a cross in the circle of the party for which you wish to cast your vote. Or if you cannot vote the entire ticket (this applies to republicans) make an X in the square opposite the name of the candidate for which you want to cast your ballot.

The ballot this year is cumbersome, and without care many will be mutilated and thrown out.

Edwin Chavers Has Car Wreck Wednesday

On Wednesday afternoon, Edwin Chavers and family were driving on the Clovis highway, about six o'clock in a new Four Door Sedan, when the car left the road, climbing one bank and then plunging over head first.

The car lit on the top, with all four wheels in the air.

No one was seriously injured, and the only damage to the car was a bent radiator and fender, and one wheel slightly damaged.

Not a glass was broken, and the doors opened without binding, Chavers and family walking out, their tracks showing in the roof of the car.

This was a remarkable accident, and shows the strength of the body, which ordinarily would have been crushed.

The car was in the hands of the mechanics, and repaired ready for the road early Thursday morning.

BRACKENS' TWINS

Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Bracken are the proud parents of twins.

A little girl and a little boy made their appearance at their home Sunday evening.

FRIDAY BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. Herman Luper was hostess on Thursday afternoon to the regular Friday Bridge Club.

Mrs. T. E. Mears, substituted for Mrs. Judevine and the members playing were Mrs. H. H. Buchanan, Mrs. E. L. Wright, Mrs. Marjorie Richardson, Mrs. E. N. Neer, Mrs. J. J. Spires and Mrs. P. R. Burn.

Mrs. Luper served a delectable plate lunch at the close of the game.

Mrs. Effie McCarty and daughters, Loreta, Naomi and Mae Belle spent Sunday afternoon at Texico.

Senator Sam G. Bratton Speaks Friday Night

On Friday night at the court house the people of Roosevelt county will have the opportunity to hear New Mexico's red headed senator.

Senator Bratton is one of the nations leading orators, and it is a privilege to hear him.

His work in the United States Senate has been marvelous, and he will have something of interest to tell you on this occasion.

TRIP AROUND THE WORLD

A number of Portales young people celebrated Hallowe'en evening with a trip around the world. They started from Old Mexico at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Yoachum, after a chile supper. The next place was France, at the John South home where they ate cake and apples and drank cocoa. After this they embarked for Holland, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Disney, and ate pie and drank grape juice. Then they took ship and sailed for America, the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Rowley. There the lights were out and all were seated on the floor before the fire place where they toasted marsh mallows, told ghost stories and "felt the cat, the car ran over." This was a very realistic affair, and many were the screams of "pleasure."

The following guests enjoyed this party: Misses Norene Yoachum Eula South, Edna Locker, Edna Disney, Leola Hayes, Hazel Todd and Della May Yoachum, and Messrs. Clint Fairly, Wayne Stratton, Everett Dupuy, Bill Watts, Lorace Disney, Duncan Simmons and Wesley Little.

Alan Sanders is able to be on the street again after having been laid up with a couple of broken ribs.

S. M. Stroup Has Nice Position

S. M. Stroup, who taught for two years in Portales has just been given a position in the Denton Post Office with a nice salary. His friends will be glad to hear this as they knew he especially liked the Post Office work. Mr. Stroup was teaching this year at Sweetwater, Texas, and resigned to accept this position at Denton.

ADAMS—JETER.

On Tuesday, Oct. 23rd, 1928, Miss Hazel Irene Adams and Mr. Troy D. Jeter accompanied by Miss Adams mother, brother and sister motored to Clovis and were quietly united in marriage, the Rev. Howard Rogers, pastor of the Christian church performing the ceremony.

The bride is the second daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Adams of our city. Portales has been her home since she was nine years of age.

The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Jeter, who resides some five miles out of town on the Elida highway, having located there four years ago.

Both young people are well and favorably known here and have a host of friends, who, together with the News wishes for them many joys along lifes pathway.

On Sunday, Oct. 28th the newlyweds and the immediate families of each enjoyed a day of happy fellowship in the elder Jeter's home. Mother Jeter having prepared a bountiful and appetizing dinner and Father Jeter at this time presented the bride with a $50.00 bill as a wedding gift.

Mr. and Mrs. Jeter are at present at home with her people and are assisting in the cafe of which her father is proprietor.

J. S. Vaught Addresses Large Audience Voters

On last Thursday night, Hon. J. S. Vaught and party addressed a large audience at the High School Auditorium.

The meeting was opened by the song, "Sidewalks of New York," by a bevy of Portales Young ladies.

County Chairman, Floyd Kennedy introduced C. M. Compton, Jr., who introduced the speakers.

The first speaker of the evening was Coe Howard, of Portales, democratic nominee for lieutenant governor.

Mr. Howard stated that out of 24 counties which he had visited during this campaign, 21 were safe for the democratic ticket. He gave an account of the campaign in the different counties he had visited, stating that the most interesting place that he had visited was the National Soldiers hospital at Ft. Beard, where all the boys interviewed with the exception of one or two were for Al Smith.

The next speaker of the evening was Frank H. Patton, nominee for attorney general.

Mr. Patton stated that he recommended the changing of the system of employing special attorneys for the various departments. That the attorney General should have power to place attorneys in such departments where the business of such department required them, thereby saving thousands of dollars to the tax payers of the state. That the moneys now paid special attorneys should provide free text books to every child in the state.

He recommended a change in the system of collecting delinquent taxes, putting the collections of these taxes in the hands of the district attorneys of the state.

He asks that you take the records of the two parties through the past years as your guide in voting.

That the 7 and 1-2 years of republican government had been a period of graft and corruption.

The next speaker was J. S. Vaught, nominee for the United States Senate.

Mr. Vaught said:

" "I am glad to get here in Coe Howard's county. Coe Howard has continually talked Roosevelt County, saying wait till you get to Roosevelt county. Coe's conduct has been very good until last week when we reached Las Cruces, where after Coe made his speach a beautiful young lady came to the platform and presented Coe with a beautiful bouquet of flowers.

"Coe has received a wonderful recognition everywhere he has been.

"I am going to talk about two parties and two men. The democratic party on one hand the republican on the other.

"Eight years under the great leadership of Woodrow Wilson saw more constructive legislation passed than during eight years in the history of the nation.

Child labor law.
8 hour work day for every man.
Women's right to vote.
Parcel Post.
Federal Aid Road law.
Federal reserve act.
Rural credits act.
Creation of Tariff Commission.

There is no tariff issue in this campaign. The tariff is a local issue, affecting local sections of the United States.

When I am in the United States Senate my first interest will be to care for the people of New Mexico.

He asked why the republican party took the tariff off of cow hide, and if you have seen any reduction in the price of shoes.

"During the seven and one half years under the republican administration there has not been seven and one-half years of such corruption in any period of the past government.

"The darkest spot in the history of the nation, is the treatment of the ex-service men by the veterans bureau, in the past seven and one-half years. Down at Carls bad I found an existance of this abuse.'

"John E. Polk, great nephew of President James K. Polk, who enlisted in the Canadian army at the beginning of the World war, who was on the battle fields of France in three weeks time. On the entrance of the United States in this war, he transfered to the American army. He was gassed three times, shot in the face, and struck in the cheek by a machine gun bullet. Discharged in 1919, eyesight failed in 1920, becoming totally blind. The Canadian government gave him $600.00. The United States Government has refused any relief, saying that he must look to the Canadian government.

"He is married, and his wife runs a beauty shop in Carlsbad. He has only a short time to live. Will you, as American citizens allow a thing like that to go on?

"He has taken the matter up with Senator Cutting, with no results. It is outrageous.

"I wish that you might go to Ft. Beard and see how cheerful the disable soldiers are."

"The only dry issue in this campaign is Al Smith. You are either for or against him. Why is it? There is no reason for it, and the reason is the man himself. He has a public record of 25 years. Can you fool the people of a state for 25 years?

"At the age of 29 he entered the New York Legislature. His sympathies have always been for the man in everyday life.

"The school system which he has established, is a record. Talk to the people and see what they think of him.

"He has been defeated only one time since entering public life."

"Turn the light of publicity on that "dry" party. What did the republican party do when they first had the opportunity to show what they could do on this issue in 1921?

"Their first act was to take the enforcement out of the hands of the attorney general and place it in the hands of the treasury.

"It is a crime to manufacture or transport intoxicating liquor, yet the enforcement has been placed in the hands of A. J. Mellon, the largest distiller in the United States.

"Bootlegging has become the 5th largest business in the United States of America.

"I am not speaking from personal experience. I do not drink or buy bootleg whiskey.

"Do you feel that after 7 1-2 years of failure to carry out their pledges of enforcement, that you should continue them in office? They have never tried to enforce this law.

"Under the law that the republicans promised you, New Mexico has become the third wettest state in the Union. How much more do you want to know about this? They gave the bootleggers of New Mexico a license and it does not cost them one cent.

"They gave them a law permitting them to carry ONE-QUART. Are you going to be fooled into voting for them on the blank statement that they are the dry party?

"Enforcement of the Volstead act has never been tried in the past seven and one-half years. I never will vote to change that act until it is given a fair trial.

"Since they have seen fit to ask me how I stand on prohibition, I want Bronson Cutting to state how he stands politically and privately on prohibition on this platform Friday night.

"I have nothing to hide. I have a public record. Look into my record on prohibition and law enforcement.

"I want Senator Cutting to tell what he has done constructive for the ex-service men, and for their relief.

"Eight years ago Hoover did not know whether he was a republican or a democrat, but would have taken the nomination from either party."

CHARLES COMPTON'S PARTY

Charles Compton entertained a number of his friends at the home of his parents, Judge and Mrs. C. M. Compton Wednesday evening with a Hallowe'en party. There were so many ghosts, hobgoblins, witches and fantastic figures around that no one knew just who was who. At any rate they all enjoyed themselves to the limit.

HALLOWE'EN PARTY.

On Saturday night, Oct. 27th, from six to eighth o'clock, Mesdames Lula May and R. D. Wright entertained the juniors of the Christian church and a few of their friends with a hallowe'en party, at the May home in East Portales.

The merriment began even before reaching the house for as the guests arrived in costume they were met at the gate by a ghost who insisted upon clasping each one by the hand, they were then conducted to a living room alive with witches, black cats, bats, owls, etc., indicative of the hallowe'en season.

PORTALES SORGHUM.

Portales is becoming famous for several things and one of them is sorghum. This week the News was presented with a bucket made by Kenyon and Kenyon. They have a large outfit for making syrup and the grade is No. 1.

A WORD OF CAUTION.

The last lap of the election race is at hand, and it is possible that some over zealous friend of some candidate may be tempted to put out some bitter words that will cause wounds that will take years to heal.

Both political parties have chosen the best ticket in years. On these tickets are men of high standing, personal and political. The selection should be made on political issues, and it is the duty of each voter to vote for the best man possible for the place to be filled. In doing this they should not be governed by personal prejudices, but by the ability of the candidate to fulfill party pledges.

Oftimes a private citizen, when elected of ice is powerless to follow his inclinations, but must be governed by the leaders of his party.

Let every citizen try to go through this election without bitter personal charges against the candidates in the field.

Governor Dick Dillon, in his speech here last Friday night, made a good talk, which was favorably received in all except his reference to the one-quart liquor law. The News believes that Governor Dillon is a nonest and conscientious man, but that he has been misled by the republican bosses in regard to this bill. That he will not be returned to the governors chair for the next term, there is no possible chance of a doubt. When he again becomes a private citizen, Portales would welcome him, should he desire to locate in the best town in New Mexico.

KEEP THE PROHIBITION ISSUE STRAIGHT

Sincere prohibitionists are being told that had not Governor Dillon signed the one quart bill New Mexico would have been without an enforcement statute. Such is not the case.

When Governor Dillon signed the one quart bill he by that scratch of the executive pen repealed one of the most stringent prohibition laws that ever appeared on any statute book. The one quart law automatically displaced the prohibition law of 1919.

Certain honest drys and temperance advocates are being forced into an embarrassing position by this deception. They are faced with the problem of reconciling their dry convictions with a measure that legalizes one quart of liquor.

We believe these drys have been imposed upon by apologists for the one quart law and we think their stand is based on a lack of information.

Here is Section 4, Chapter 151 of the Session Laws of 1919 imposing a penalty for liquor law violation and automatically repealed by the one quart law:

"Any person violating any of the provisions of the preceding section shall for the first offense be imprisoned in the county jail for a period of not less than 90 days nor more than six months and for the second offense shall be imprisoned in the state penitentiary for not less than two nor more than five years and the district court or the judge thereof shall have no power to suspend the imposition or execution of any sentence required by this act to be imposed for violation thereof."

Under the terms of that measure of the prohibition law was not a simple matter of rich bootleggers paying their fines and hiking the subsequent price of moonshine. They went to jail for at least 90 days and maybe six months.

The next time they appeared in court they went to state prison for at least two years and maybe five. There was no alternative as the power of suspension of sentence was taken from magistrates.

Constitutionality of the law of 1919 was upheld in two cases, once in the case of State vs. Foster in 1922, opinion by Judge Parker and again in the case of State vs. Snyder in 1924, the opinion by Judge Bratton.

Chapter 118, Session Laws of 1923 was an act to enforce the federal prohibition amendment. The law was declared unconstitutional in an opinion by Judge Tomlinson Fort, concurred in by Judges Parker and Botts in the case af State vs. Armstrong.

Decision of the supreme court that the law of 1923 was unconstitutional in effect held that the law was a nullify, as tho it had never existed and as result the law of 1919 resumed its place as the prohibition law of the state.

When A. T. Hannett vetoed a prohibition measure passed in 1925 the law of 1919 remained in effect and that law was the law of the state until the day of Governor R. C. Dillon signed the one quart measure.

So great was the republican legislature's enthusiasm for the one quart measure that it was passed with emergency clause, dispensing with the usual 90 day period.

At the time Governor Dillon's signature legalized the possession of a quart of liquor the state was regulated by one of the most vigorous enforcement acts every passed by any legislature.

The 1919 law, it is true, had witnessed so much legislature hari kari that it was dormant. But the governor could have revived it easily; he could have used hits of its revival as a club over that reluctant legislature, whose onslaughts against the genuine dry measure were led by that redoubable wet, O. A. Larrazolo, now Senator Cutting's running mate.

How any member of the W. C. T. U. or of the Anti-Saloon league can defend a measure sanctifying a quart of liquor is beyond us. When they are told it was that or nothing they are being deceived for partisan political purposes.

We have the anomaly of a few stern prohibitionists apologizing for a quart of moonshine liquor, manufactured in violation of the 18th amendment and legalized in defiance of the United States constitution.—New Mexico State Tribune.

IMPORTANCE OF ELECTING DRY SENATOR AND REPRESENTATIVE

Never in the history of the nation has the public been so wrought up over the prohibition issue as today.

The present party in power has made a joke of the 18th amendment, and have made no effort towards its enforcement.

Shall you cry for prohibition and continue in power a party who have demonstrated in the last seven and one half years, that they are not in sympathy with this amendment, and who have made no effort for its enforcement?

It was the republican administration who took the enforcement out of the hands of the Attorney General's department and placed it under the supervision of the Treasury department, at the head of which was Amy Mellon, a distiller, has appointed as enforcement officers and directors extreme wets, who have brought disgrace to the nation. Men who have patronized the bootleggers, and only make arrests when it will seem to show that they are making a half hearted effort at enforcement.

The 18th amendment can not be changed except by a two thirds majority of the Congress of the United States, and by the ratification of two thirds of the states in the Union.

Then is it not of great importance to elect to the national congress men who are in sympathy with this amendment. Men who are dry in private as well as in political life?

J. S. Vaught is a bone dry, privately and politically, and in every respect. He has pledged himself to vote for no amendment until this law is given a fair trial at enforcement, and not then unless the amendment will strengthen the law.

John Morrow has demonstrated during his service in Congress that he is a tried and true dry.

Senator Cutting has never come out and declared himself of this issue. He is reported to be a wet in belief and practice.

The president has no power to change this law, and Alfred E. Smith has pledged himself to enforce every provision of the constitution. His record has shown that he is a man fearless in the execution of the laws. With him in the president's chair, we have much better chance for a fair trial at enforcement than under the present conditions.

On the 6th day of November you will have the opportunity to vote your sentiments. If you are a dry and vote for Hoover, you will continue the present policy of non-enforcement.

NEW MEXICO TEAM WINS HIGH SCORE

The New Mexico College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts students attending the R. O. T. C. training camp at Fort Sam Houston last summer made the highest score in marksmanship of any college team in the Eighth Corps Area. The New Mexico team ranked third among the Agricultural Colleges in the United States and fourth among the colleges and universities competing for the handsome bronze trophy, the Warrior of the Pacific. The trophy was won by the University of Hawaii, the men from that institution firing the best score made at any of the R. O. T. C. summer camps.

Juniors from the New Mexico College who are taking the advanced course leading to a commission as a reserve officer attended the camp at Fort Sam Houston. Twenty-seven of them fired in the competitive match. Among the colleges in the United States, exclusive of Hawaii, the Oregon Agricultural College and DePauw University made a better score than the New Mexico College men.

Ogburn Gaskill, of Deming, New Mexico, a senior in agriculture, was high man on the New Mexico College team. He ranked sixth among the marksmen of the institutions placing in the national competition. Only representatives of the University of Hawaii and the Oregon Agricultural College made better scores than Mr. Gaskill. Charles Crosby, of Alamogordo, New Mexico, ranked twelfth, and Tom Mann of Alamogordo, ranked twentieth among the representatives of the highest scoring institutions.

Ogburn Gaskill was unable to represent the New Mexico College on the Eighth Corps Area rifle team at Camp Berry, and his place was taken by Charles Crosby. Mr. Crosby made next to the highest score of any of the men competing from the Eighth Corps Area. The Oregon Agricultural College had twenty-nine men competing with an average of 203.69; DePauw University, with forty men competing, had an average score of 193.87. The New Mexico College, with twenty-seven men competing, had an average score of 189.96. The representatives of the New Mexico Agricultural College have ranked high each year in the competitive work in military training at Fort Sam Houston.

Every purchaser of a new Ford is entitled to Free Inspection Service for the first 1500 miles

THE modern automobile is a finely built piece of machinery and it will stand a lot of abuse. Considering the work it does, it gives surprisingly little trouble. But there isn't a car made that will not run better and longer if given proper care.

The first few hundred miles are especially important because that is when the mechanism of your car is being broken in.

Proper attention during this period will lengthen its life and prevent unnecessary trouble later on.

We are particularly interested in this matter because we believe it is our duty not only to make a good automobile, but to help the owner get the greatest possible use over the longest period of time at a minimum of trouble and expense.

With this in view, the entire Ford dealer organization has been specially trained and equipped to service the new Model A car.

Furthermore, we have instructed every Ford dealer to give the following Free Inspection Service at 500, 1000 and 1500 miles:

Check battery
Check generator charging rate
Check distributor adjustment
Check carburetor adjustment
Check lights
Check brakes
Check shock absorber adjustment

VOTERS OF BOTH PARTIES---
Vote in Favor of
---THIS AMENDMENT ON NOV. 6TH!

TEXT OF THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT

"Leases and other contracts reserving a royalty to the state for the development -and production of any and all minerals on lands granted or confirmed to the State of New Mexico by the Act of Congress of June 20, 1910, entitled "An Act to enable the people of New Mexico to form a constitution and state government and be admitted into the Union on an equal footing with the original states' may be made under such provisions relating to the necessity or requirement for, or the mode and manner of, appraisement, advertising and competitive bidding, and containing such terms and provisions as may be provided by Act of the Legislature; the rentals, royalties and other proceeds therefrom to be applied and conserved in accordance with the provisions of the said Act of Congress for the support or in aid of common schools or for the attainment of the respective purposes for which the several grants were made."

We have been leasing oil and gas lands under laws made for grazing lands. We have leased, under the administration of both parties, with the approval of the legislature and the state courts, over two million acres of such lands under these laws. Now with real oil development about to begin in our state, a question has been raised as to the validity of these leases and activity is hanging in the balance until we can confirm them.

This amendment has the approval of the Congress of the United States. It will allow our legislature to pass an act to regulate the manner of leasing. The revenue will continue to go to the schools. If it should fail to pass, some two million acres of land are likely to be tied up in litigation for a long period of years and returns from new leases and renewals come to a standstill.

Regardless of your political party and your vote on candidates for office, do not forget to vote in favor of this amendment which is of vital importance to your state. The Chairman of the State Central Committees of both parties have gone on record urging its passage. Every person and organization in the state which is familiar with its concept and purpose is for it. It is the only amendment coming up at this election. Take your amendment ballot, vote in FAVOR OF, and put it in the box.

Ask every acquaintance to add his vote. The passage of this amendment means business for everyone in this section. The failure to pass might well result in a serious depression. Do everything in your power to help pass this amendment NOV. 6th.

Floyd School Notes.

School will be out on Wednesday of this week in order that the teachers may attend the State Teachers meeting at Albuquerque.

The different classes have spent much time this week preparing an exhibit to send to Albuquerque. This is to be the only exhibit taken from any school in Roosevelt County.

Mrs. Parish was given a very pleasant surprise on her sixtieth birthday on Oct. 22, about thirty-five women spent the day with her, each brought something for dinner and she was given a large roaster for a birthday present.

The girls who wen to Las Cruces came back to school with broad smiles. They must have had a wonderful trip. Perhaps it was because of the canning team winning first in canning apple preserves. The other team had bad luck. Their demonstration was schedvled for 7 p. m. Wednesday morning and was changed to 1:15 p. m., after demonstrations, the girls were invited to tea at the girls' dormitory, Wednesday night, they went to a picnic in the Tartogans mountains given for all the club members. After being served with refreshments and playing games, they gathered around the campfire and listened to several very interesting talks given by former club members who are now attending college and who have received their scholarship. Friday, in El Paso, they visited the smelter and the Dairy Creamery Company where they saw many things of interest. Dinner was served to them at the Chamber of Commerce. From there the girls were taken to the Bakery, then to the El Paso Herald Times. They also went to Juarez and through the great gambling hall.

Students were allowed two trucks in which to go to the "King of Kings" shown by the Cozy theatre at Portales on Friday afternoon.

There will be a B. Y. P. U. social at the school building Wednesday night. Those who wish to may masquerade in their Hallowe'en costumes. Everyone is invited.

The Home Economic Department has made a modeled poster of the Floyd High School building, grounds and flower beds in colors for the exhibit. This class, under the supervision of Mrs. Don C. Foster, have been working on a booklet file of about two hundred 100 cal-portions of common foods as prepared for the table.

Donald Gordon paid a brief visit to home and Floyd friends Sunday enroute to Kansas City with some livestock to show for the State College.

Mrs. Don C. Foster received a telegram Monday morning stating that her mother was killed in a car accident. The student body and teachers are sending flowers as a token of sympathy.

Senator Reed Questions Hoover

In a speech delivered in the City of Baltimore, Thursday night, October 25, Senator James A. Reed, of Missouri, addressed the following questions to Mr. Hoover with the request that he take the American people into his confidence and answer them:

"Do you include within your general approval the theft of the oil lands by Sinclair, which were perpetrated under the Harding Administration?

"If you do not approve, why did you not voice that disapproval when the steals were being perpetrated under your very nose?

"Did you approve of the payment by Sinclair to your fellow Cabinet member, Fall, of more than $293,000?

"Did you approve the lease to Doheny which has since been condemned by the Supreme Court as a gross and conscienceless fraud?

"Did you include in your blanket indorsement the secret payment by Sinclair of the debts of the Republican National Committee by the transfer of Government bonds?

"Did you approve the secret cashing of those bonds by Cabinet officers?

"Does that sort of business contribute to the 'spiritual uplift and preservation of American homes' which you are now advocating?

"Do you include in your blanket indorsement the approval of conduct of your fellow cabinet member, Mr. Mellon, in the collection of more than $2,000,000 to secure the nomination of Pepper for the Senate?

"Do you include in your indorsement the approval of the political methods of Mr. Vare, whose influence secured your nomination at the Republican Convention? If you do not approve, why do you accept Vare's support?

"Do you include in your blanket indorsement an approval of the preparation of a tariff bill under Mr. Mellon's direction which gave him a tariff upon his aluminum trust products of 11 cents per pound and 55 per cent, ad valorem on kitchen utensils? Is that the way you propose to bring prosperity into the homes of your much beloved 'Main Street?'

"In your blanket approval of the Republican policies of the last two administrations, do you mean to assert that they have properly met and solved problems of the farmers?

"If you are devoted to this country and had your residence here all the time, why did you not vote until you were 46 years of age?

"Where did you actually have your home during the period from the time you left here at 23 years of age until you came back at the age of 46 to take a job?

"Where was your house in which you lived with your family located?

"Where did you actually reside when you testified in May, 1917, that your only place of residence in the country was the Willard Hotel, Washington, D. C., when you had been there only five days?

"In 1914 you admit you were the director in twenty-nine British and foreign syndicates, and that your brother was a director in fifteen. You now say you have resigned your directorates. Will you tell the American people where your money is invested, when it was invested and how much of it is still invested in foreign companies and syndicates?"

Local Scouts In First Aid Training

The local Boy Scout troops this week entered into a program of First Aid Training. This is being operated by the Area office and it is reported practically every troop in Eastern New Mexico is taking part.

To the Boy Scouts First Aid means "Till the Doctor comes." The problems are made as real as possible and the Scouts actually dramatize them. Each patrol in the troop practices separate during the Patrol period of the troop meeting.

Woman Makes Trans Continental Drive

It was perhaps only fitting that during the same year that a woman for the first time flew the Atlantic ,another woman should record what is claimed to be the all-time woman's record for a trans-continental automobile journey. At any rate, Miss Telle Glyndon, of Atlantic City, driving a Chevrolet sedan, completed on September 9th, the 3468 miles that separated her native city from San Francisco. The expired time for her "non-stop" journey was eight days, eight hours and 15 minutes.

Miss Glyndon was accompanied on her journey by her brother-in-law, and a friend, neither of whom has ever driven an automobile. Alone, it was up to her to drive every inch of the distance, and this she did.

"It was an endurance test solely," she explained when she checked in at the San Francisco ferry. "I did it to prove that woman's endurance is as great as man's and I think the result of my journey has done this."

Miss Glyndon's trip was given official endorsement by Mayor Anthony M. Ruffu, Jr., of Atlantic City, who timed her start and bade her bon voyage with message of greeting and the official key of Atlantic City for delivery to Mayor Rolph, of San Francisco.

"I got so sleepy at times, especially the third night out, that I thought I would have to quit," Miss Glyndon said. "I don't feel as though I ever again want to drink a cup of coffee or inhale from a bottle of smelling salts.

"It was the detours that delayed us. Out of Pittsburgh was a terrible stretch of road, necessitating a long detour. Also, in certain sections of the far west, we encountered more than one heart breaking detour."

Not once during the trip did Miss Glyndon enter a hotel for food or sleep. Ten minute nods at the wheel sufficied for rest. Sandwiches and coffee eaten with one hand, while the other steered, were her only refreshments. She is an experienced driver, and for the last six years has driven Chevrolets exclusively. Just before the trip she purchased a new sedan and drove it 1,200 miles before starting on her record breaking journey. The only stops the car required were those made to take on gasoline, oil and water. No change of tires or adjustments of any description were necessary.

A Ticket of Honor-A Campaign of Facts

The people of the State of New Mexico in convention at Albuquerque taken charge of the machinery of the convention and nominated a state ticket which every voter of the state can feel justly proud. They nominated a ticket of Honor, a ticket which we can depend to deliver that which they promise us. This ticket is headed by such well known and respected men as Bob Dow, our present attorney general, who is competent, honorable and fearless. J. S. Vaught, who is known through the state for his kindly disposition and striking personality, and unquestioned character, a champion of the dry forces of New Mexico. Honest John Morrow, three times our United States Congressman, and never a word of censure or rebuke, nothing but praise for his efforts put forth for the common people.

Each and every candidate on this ticket was selected of his or her character, qualification and ability to care for the office to which they were nominated, and not because of their wealth or influence. No Political Boss named any candidate on this ticket, and no political boss will have any strings on any of them if elected.

The greatest failing of the present republican administration is that they are under the domination of the political boss and have not the courage to say NO.

Smith People Drag Religion Into Campaign One Quart Law Is Explained By Reverend Baker

(By the Republican State Central Committee.)

"Some of the people say that if Governor Smith is elected president, the pope will be president. Well, that is good enough for me, for that would be far better than the Republican administrations we have been having."

"These were the startling statements of Bryan Johnson. One of the speakers at the Smith-Robinson banquet held at the Franciscan Hotel here Saturday night and which was attended by 400."

The above is from the Albuquerque Morning Journal, October 29, 1928.

Mr. Bryan Johnson, is the organizer of the Smith-Robinson Clubs, employed by the National Democratic organization.

The Democratic organization has accused the Republican party of dragging the religious issue into the campaign which accusation is false.

The above shows the strenuous efforts made by the Smith adherents to drag the question into the campaign. Such efforts deserve the condemnation of all fair-minded people.

Story of One-Quart Law.

Reverend Rufus C. Baker, District Superintendent of the Methodist Episcopal church for New Mexico, and State Superintendent of the Anti-Saloon League, has put an end to the scurrilous attacks upon Governor Dillon for signing what is now generally tremed the "One Quart law."

Mr. Baker was present at the Legislature during the time the bill was under consideration. The bill that the temperance workers of the state really wanted was the one vetoed by Governor Hannett after it had passed the previous Legislature. The present law was the best that could be secured, and Governor Dillon signed it because it gave a law that Wayne B. Wheeler, the Counsel for the Anti-Saloon League for the nation, pronounced the seventh best in the whole country.

Quart Not Legalized.

That it legalizes the ownership of a quart of liquor is not true. It prohibits having for sale a single drop of intoxicating liquor. It placed the burden of proof on the owner of even a gill of liquor to show that it is not in his possession for the purpose of sale.

Mr. Baker's statement is clear and authoritative and puts to shame the people who have spoken of the Governor as "One-quart Dillon." It shows that the Governor, as a consistent advocate of prohibition, did the very best for the cause that was possible in the circumstances.

Mr. Baker's letter follows:

"I believe that facts and fair play have a part even in a heated political campaign, and for that reason am writing you of my knowledge and estimate of the situation as touching the Prohibition Enforcement Code enacted by the last session of the New Mexico State Legislature.

"Certain political speakers and writers have been making violent attacks upon this prohibition law. There is just one provision in the law, so far, has been attacked by them.

"That provision reads as follows.

"Provided, that nothing in this section shall authorize seizure or confiscation of liquor, or a conveyance where such liquor does not exceed one quart, unless the same is being transported for sale."

"Thatprovision is attached to sec. 5 of this law, which provides for the seizure of intoxicating liquors and all vehicles in which the same are being transported.

No Immune From Arrest.

"Based upon that one section, political speakers and writers have been indulging in the extravagant assertion that this law 'protects the bootlegger and makes him immune from arrest if he has only one quart of liquor'. The fact is that the law does not provide that a bootlegger can have in his possession one quart or any other amount, for sale. It does provide that where a person has in his possession one quart of intoxicating liquor, which is not used for sale or held for that purpose, or being transported for the purpose of sale, it cannot be confiscated; but the law plainly says that any liquor, or vehicle conveying the same, whether it is a quart or less than a quart, can be confiscated and the offender prosecuted, if the same is being held or transported for the purpose for the purpose of sale.

Law Best To Be Had.

"I was present at the state Legislature collaborating with the prohibition forces of the State in securing the passage of an enforcement code when this law was passed. I read the copy of this law before it was presented to the Legislature. I noted then this provision which is causing so much concern and debate. That provision was not put in at the request of the present Governor, but was put in as a concession to obtain its passage. The prohibition forces knew the temper of the last Legislature and consented to the insertion of this provision, knowing that without such concession the bill would be defeated, and we would find ourselves without a prohibition enforcement code as we were when the former Governor vetoed our bill two years before. With that one single exception the law is a splendid one. The late Wayne B. Wheeler, counsel for the Anti-Saloon League, pronounced this the seventh best in the nation, even with that provision in it. And not a semblance of evidence has ever been produced to show where this provision has been the means of protecting a single bootlegger since its passage.

Law Used Effectively.

"This law is not all the prohibition forces of the State would like. It is not as good, for example, as the law vetoed by the former Governor two years before its passage. But compromise in practical politics has always had its place. The prohibition forces of the State are not fully satisfied with the present law and will work for a better one. But in the meantime we have in the present law one that can be and is being used, and used effectively, where those being charged with its enforcement care to put its provisions to the test."

Respectfully yours,
(Signed) RUFUS C. BAKER.

SOCIETY and Club

Eastern Star Party.

Amid spooks, hobgoblins, witches, ghosts and other weird creatures, with grinning, contorted, or horrible faces, the members of the order of Eastern Star were at home at the Masonic Hall on Tuesday evening to about 75 guests. The hall was a veritable ghost land, with fantastic forms.

Mrs. C. M. Compton was chairman of the decoration committee and with the aid of a number of ladies had given the hall this Hallowe'en effect.

Guests were received by ghosts and witches and conducted up the "Ladder of Fame" until by their own consent they were ready to come to earth. After the arrival of all the guests, all joined in the ghost march, with music of a funeral dirge played by Mrs. T. A. Martin.

John V. Miller and Miss Nelleta Cooper were then initiated into the Order of Ghosts. The next game was to shave the Cats whiskers but each one mistook his neighbor for the cat and put all to flight with the lather. Other games of such calibre were played all joining heartily in the merriment. Mrs. J. E. Wise was chairman of the eats, which conguests declared it to be unsurpassed. Mrs. J. C. Compton was chairman of the east, which consisted of sandwiches, pumpkin pie, cocoa or coffee. These were delicious and the party as a whole was a wonderful success.

Rainbow Girls.

The Rainbow Girls were at home to a number of friends at the Masonic Hall Monday evening. The Hall was decorated for the occasion with black cats, pumpkins, streamers of black and yellow crepe paper and numerous suggestions of the Hallowe'en time. Merry games were played and all entered into the spirit of the occasion.

Delicious refreshments were served before the going away hour.

Dr. and Mrs. Wollard at Home.

Dr. and Mrs. Wollard were at home Wednesday evening with a six o'clock dinner to a few close long-time friends.

The table was beautiful with its candles and flowers, proclaiming the Hallowe'en time. The dinner was delicious as Mrs. Wollard is a wonderful cook.

The guest list was Mr. and Mrs. Ed. J. Neer, Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Mears, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Carr and the host and hostess.

Opal Mae Grunig Entertains.

Miss Opal Mae Grunig celebrated her 9th birthday Saturday, Oct. 27th by entertaining several of her playmates with a hallowe'en party. The minutes sped by all too swiftly as one game followed another in quick succession.

Refreshments of Cocoa and hallowe'en cookies were served to Louise, Johnnie Mae, and George Hemie, Junior and Jack Morgan, Junior, Vernetta, and Opal Mae Grunig.

Girls Bridge Club.

Thursday evening Miss Betty Hoover was hostess to the Thursday Bridge Club at the home of Dr. and Mrs. N. F. Wollard. There were no prizes.

Those playing were: Miss Bernice Hayes, Miss Grace Elliott, Miss Vada Mae Jackson, Miss Sybil Lyons, Miss Lucile Wurster, Miss Madge Walker and Mrs. J. H. Lee and the hostess. Delicious refreshments were served at the close of the game.

AN AMAZING CIRCUMSTANCE.

Bob Dow, the Democratic candidate for governor, will speak in Albuquerque Monday night. At this time, he will no doubt again recommend abolishing the delinquent tax collectors, if he is elected governor. That matter, of course, is a debatable question and worthy of consideration by the voters.

But there is another matter in connection with delinquent taxes that has just come to the attention of the Journal, and requires an explanation from Mr. Dow. And that is we have just learned and verified that within the last few days Mr. Dow, since he became the democratic nominee for governor, sought and effected a 75 per cent reduction in his delinquent taxes in Eddy county. And another member of his family secured a like reduction.

It is ordinarily expected that when a man seeks the high office of governor, that he above all others, should deal with his state or county in his private business so that the state or county will not get the short end in all that is due from him. This should be especially true when the candidate for givernor is also the attorney general.

Mr. Dow has received good treatment from the taxpayers. He has always received payment from the state for what ever was legally due him. The National Guard has also been good to Mr. Dow. He receives $500 per year from that source.

Mr. Dow has been on the public pay roll for many years, as a district or state official. He took what was coming to him, but made no effort to give the state or county what was coming from him, when he sought through a political supporter, the only democratic delinquent tax collector in the state, to settle his long past due taxes for the years of 1922 to 1925 for 25 cents on the dollar. And moreover, he has done this since he has been the democratic nominee for governor.

It is a most amazing situation and probably without parallel for a candidat for governor who has for years been on the public payroll and at the same time attempts to evade his just taxes by seeking a reduction of 75 per cent in his favor. The entire amount involved is not large, and Mr. Dow could have settled it in full with little more added to what he receives from the National Guard. But apparently he has no desire to see that the county or state get all that is coming when he, personally, or one of his family, is concerned.

Mr. Dow also appeared to have plenty of money for traveling about this state promoting his pre-convention campaign, and was able to travel to other places attending rodeos. No effort was made on his party to pay his taxes, but sought to keep his payment for this purpose as low as possible.

Other taxpayers have sought a compromise on their taxes, but it is inconceivable to believe that a man seeking the high office of governor, would ask a reduction in his taxes after years of delinquency. And make the payment of $220.25 for the full settlement of $881 due in just taxes. And also seek the same remedy for another member of his family at the same time by paying $158.54 as settlement for $634.16 of just taxes.

Mr. Dow sets forth in his stipulation for a 75 per cent reduction, all sorts of excuses for failing in his business ventures, and overlooks entirely his incompetence as a business man.

This is the man who now wants to take charge of the five hundred million dollar business of managing the state of New Mexico as its governor.

Mr. Dow should tell his audience here, if elected governor, if he will advocate the same treatment for all taxpayers, of which he availed himself as well as another member of his family, by only paying 25 cents on the dollar for taxes due.—Albuquerque Journal, Oct. 29.

LIQUOR LAW DECEPTION.

Wet campaigners have had their inning in their unwarranted attacks on the so-called Dillon "one-quart" liquor law and the reaction has set in, as the truth has become known that the law has been used effectively in the enforcement of prohibition and has not protected the bootlegger in a single instance. Without it the state would have reverted to the law of 1919, which was unenforceable.

Sincere prohibitionists who asked for the passage of the 1927 law signed by Governor Dillon know this as do Democrats in the state legislature who joined with the Republicans in voting approval of the law.

The history of the prohibition enforcement measures in the state is interesting and should be firmly fixed in the minds of the people. The 1919 law was uneforceable. It made it necessary to obtain convictions before seizures could be made. District attorneys of the state held it was useless to attempt to bring prosecutions under its provisions.

Section 4 of Chapter 151 of the laws of 1919 read in these terms:

"Upon any conviction for a violation of the provisions of this act, it is hereby made the duty of the prosecuting officer of the state, prosecuting the said cause, to file with the trial judge a sworn affidavit in writing in the manner provided by law, praying for the immediate issuing of a search warrant, to the end that any liquors had or held by the defendant may be discovered and subjected to the provisions of this law; and it shall thereupon be the duty of the trial judge to forthwith issue such search warrant, addressed to the proper officer, commanding him to forthwith proceed and search the premises named and described in said warrant and to seize any liquors that may there be found and to bring and produce same before the court, and such liqours so seized and produced before the court shall be subjected to such disposition as the court may direct."

It absolutely prevented search and seizure before conviction and would have been the law of the state now unless Governor Dillon had signed the law of 1927.

This came about because the law of 1923, which was passed to cure this defect, was held unconstitutional by the supreme court and left the law of 1919 standing. The 1923 law was held void because the Volstead act provisions were made the law by reference rather than copying the provisions in full, though the California court had held such a law constitutional and the Anti-Saloon League of the state wanted the law as it was given to them.

The fight for a stringent law was renewed in 1925 and the legislature passed an act that was pronounced an excellent law by prohibitionists. Governor Hannett vetoed it. Again in 1927, the fight for a new dry law was renewed and a measure passed which was an honest effort to put on he books an enforceable measure. It was signed by Governor Dillon and was a big step forward. The so-called one-quart provision was inserted after a determined fight by the wets who rejected to seizures in private homes and there is nothing in that provision which protects the bootlegger, and the law has proved effective.

Democratic legislators and lawyers know this and the hysteria that has been raised by the wet campaigners is nothing more than a canard to attempt to deceive the voters.

The attacks on the law have been baseless and hypocritical and made by the wet interests and their chief organ in New Mexico, the last Albuquerque newspaper, who are not interested in seeing a good prohibition measure upon the books of the state. Their deception has been completely uncovered and Governor Dillon, who is a true prohibitionists, both in theory and in practice, can be trusted more than the newspaper organ and speakers for the wet interests, who are openly against prohibition.—Albuquerque Journal, Oct. 30.

The Democratic Campaign Committee, and the editors, whose minds are warped by partisan hate and whose conscience has forsaken them, of the Democratic Press, are trying to befuddle the minds of the voters, and to sidestep the prohibition issue (which their candidate for President has precipated) by attempting to give the Republic candidate for Governor all the credit for passing the existing prohibition law, and attempting to besmirch Governor Dillon's character because of that law; however, they do not tell the voters who sponsored the existing law, nor that all the Democratic Senators present at the session when this bill was up for passage, with one exception, voted for the passage of the bill, the exception being Senator Vesely of Grant County. They do not tell you that the bill, introduced by Senators Bryant, of Roosevelt County and Coe, of Lincoln County was discarded by the House of Representatives and a substitute bill, the same as the Senate bill with the addition of the one-quart provision, was passed by the House and sent to the Senate for concurrence and that Senators Bryant and Coe sponsored the House Bill, containing the One-Quart Provision, and voted for its Passage. Senator Vesely again being the only Senator present who voted against the passage of the bill.

In as much as Senator Bryants paper is continually belittleling the so-called One-Quart law, we wonder if the people of Roosevelt County are going to endorse One-Quart Bryant.

The above statements are facts and can be readily proven by anyone who will consult the Journal of the Senate and the House of the last Legislature session. They are a matter of public record.

Candidate Dow tells the voters that, if elected, he will reduce taxes, but he does not pretend to tell you HOW he is going to accomplish this. Why not? Because candidate Dow knows full well that the only way taxes can be reduced will be by reducing the appropriations for our State, Charitable and Penal Institutions. Candidate Dow knows full well that he cannot reduce the expenses of the various offices in the Capitol without seriously hindering the progress of the State's business. Do the people of New Mexico want to Retrogress, go backward, or do they want to Progress, go forward? Can Candidate Dow accomplish the impossible, or fool ALL of the PEOPLE ALL OF THE TIME? We opine not and believe the people of New Mexico want progress and prosperity and will continue in the even tenor of their way and elect the man for Governor who has given the people an honest progressive and capable administration.

The democratic press tells you that candidate Dow proposes to stop, or materially cut down, the road building by the State Highway Commission and to cut out the extravagant expenditures of the Highway Department. Why does candidate Dow generalize? Why not be specific and tell you that your main highways east and west, or your county roads will be cut out of the road building program, or that less of these roads will bebuilt , or highly improved. They speak of working the roads with mules instead of with expensive machinery, but they do not tell you that under that system not more than fifty per cent, or one-half of the present 5,000 and odd miles of road, now under maintenance with mortorized equipment, could be maintained, and therefore your secondary road, county and by-roads could not possibly be taken care of.

Jethro Vaught Says Elect Smith Because He Is A Catholic

(By the Republican State Central Committee)

Jethro S. Vaught is making a pathetic appeal for votes for Governor Smith. We should vote for him because he is catholic. Mr. Vaught has a friend who is thirty-second degree mason. That friend married a catholic girl, and they have two boys who were brought up in the faith of their mother. To defeat Smith who is a catholic would show those boys that neither of them could become president, because no Catholic has never been president. Each would think that the fact that he is Catholic would bar him. How terrible would the defeat of Smith be for those boys! So says Jethro Vaught.

By the same token should Jethro Vaught be defeated for Senator, it would be prrof to any boy named "Jethro" that he never could hope to be Senator because no one named Jethro has ever been a Senator. "So, my friends, just prove to any dear boy whose name is Jethro that he has no chance to become United States Senator, elect me to the Senate," says Vaught in effect.

Silly as it sounds, Jethro Vaught has just as much right to appeal for votes himself, because his name is Jethro, as he has to appeal for votes for Smith because Smith is a Catholic.

SMITH WILL BE DEFEATED

Governor Smith will be defeated, not because he is a Catholic, but because he offers nothing to the voters of the United States except, if elected, to make an earnest effort to modify the Prohibition Amendment. He will make intoxicating liquors cheaper and more plentiful.

Neither Governor Smith or Jethro Vaught claims that Smith's liquor program will make any more money for the grocer, the dry goods merchant, the Automobile dealer, or for any of the trades of professions. Doctors would have more patients, but none of them wants that kind of prosperity.

Instead of adding to the liquor traffic takes from the productive energy of the country and decreases the ability of the people to pay for the necessities of life, to say nothing of the luxuries which add so greatly to the pleasures of life.

Strangely, the claim for repeal or nullification of the Prohibition Amendment is that more and cheaper liquor will promote morality and respect for law.

THE GROWTH OF CHURCHES

Let stastitics of the churches make answer.

Since Prohibiton went into effect, the membership of the churches in America has increased from forty-two million to fifty-four millions, and the value of the church property has more than doubled within that period.

The increase in church membership, since prohibition went into effect, is without even approximate parallel in human history.

Mr. Jethro Vaught—remember that no man named Jethro has been United States Senator—says the Democratic party has abounded its historic principle of tariff for revenue only, and that it now is for the protection of the livestock industry—cattle, sheep, meats and wool.

A BLACK FINANCIAL RECORD

Gorvernor Smith, in his address of acceptance, said he was for revision of the tariff on the principles of the Underwood Tariff Bill. The Underwood Bill free-listed cattle, sheep, meats and wool So did the Wilson-Gorman Bill in the Cleviand administration.

The Wilson-Gorman Bill and the Underwood Bill are the unly tariff bills passed by the Democrats since the Civil war. Each of them brought disaster to the country.

Under the operations of Democratic free trade the livestock industry was ruined. During the Cleveland administration a cow and calf brought an average of about $5. Now calves alone bring from $35.00 to $40.00.

An experienced sheep grower says that, under the Cleveland administration it took several fleeces, after paying the cost of shearing, hauling, sacking and packing, to pay for one package of Duke's Mixture.

Before the Republican tariff bill of 1922 was passed, the price of lambs dropped to $3.00, the price of sheep to $5.50, and the price of wool to ten cents per pound. After the passage of the Republican tariff bill protecting sheep and wool, lambs went to $8., sheep to from $11. to $12. and wool to thirty-five cents.

Would Invite Disaster.

The election of Smith and a Democratic Senate and House of Representatives would be to invite financial disaster.

Ask Jethro Vaught or John Morrow in what way, except by giving the people more and cheaper liquor, they expect the election of Smith to add to the prosperity of the country.

Hoover, Cutting, and Albert G. Simms stand for the definite policies of the Republican party which have always brought prosperity.

Smith, Vaught and Morrow stand for the Democratic policies, whatever they are. Democratic control has always brought hard times.

You take no risk in voting for Hoover, Cutting and Simms who are candidates, respectively, for President, United States Senator, and for Representative in Congress.

You risk bringing hard times to the nation, in general, and to New Mexico, in particular, when you vote for Smith, Vaught or Morrow.

You say Mr. Democrat, that you take no risk. So said several millions of Democrats when they voted for Grover Cleveland and Democratic candidates for the Senate and House of Representatives in 1892.

The record of the Democratic party is not one to inspire confidence.—(Political advertisement.)

Vote For Constitutional Amendment

Voters at the polls on November sixth will find, handed to them with their main ballot, a ballot on an amendment which vitally affects the welfare of the state and the returns of money from rentals of oil and gas lands.

Farmers of the Enabling Act in the Congress of the United States at the time of our admission as a state, determined to prevent any conflict by stockmen over public lands, provided that the leasing of lands be made only after ten weeks of advertising. No possibility of oil or gas in New Mexico was considered at that time. This requirement is extremely impractical in cases where oil development is taking place and lands are varying rapidly in value.

The Legislature of New Mexico, the State Land Office under administrations of both parties, and the courts, have ruled in favor an interpretation of the law which would permit leasing without the ten weeks delay and over two million acres of state lands have been so leased.

Now that real development is taking place in the Southeastern part of the state and these leases are acquiring tremendous value, a question has been raised as to their validity. Most of them were let to individuals of the state and same have been since acquired by operators able to develop them. The future of the oil development in the state is at stake and the returns from state lands for school purposes will be tremendously depleted if this amendment should not pass.

The Enabling Act provided that our state constitution could be changed only with the permission of the Congress of the United States and this permission was secured at the last session. The proposed amendment provides that the regulation of the handling of the leasing of state lands may be determined by Act of the Legislature of the state. If it is passed the state legislature can pass an act legalizing once and for all the leases now outstanding upon which the state has collected rentals for many years. Oil development will go forward. Revenue continues to go to the schools and will increase in amount as the oil activity increases. Vote in FAVOR OF THIS AMENDMENT ON NOV. 6.

BOB DOW, THE PEOPLES' CANDIDATE FOR GOVERNOR

Born in Lea County on the eastern slope of New Mexico, he was reared by christian parents, who were honored and respected by all who knew them.

His father was killed in the line of duty as a peace officer defending the frontier of eastern New Mexico.

As a young man he labored in the mines at $1.50 per day, he has done duty in a blacksmith shop, and followed cow trails that led him into every county in eastern New Mexico.

He was educated in the public schools, the Roswell military Institute and is a graduate of one of the foremost law schools of the United States.

He has served Roosevelt county as district attorney with credit to himself and the satisfaction of every citizen.

He has served as Attorney General for the state of New Mexico, which place he now holds, and has so well cared for the interest of New Mexico in that position that citizens from every walk of life and political affiliations have showered him with praise.

Being one of them, Bob Dow has always championed the cause of the common people, he is a dry in theory and in fact. He has championed the cause of prohibition at all times. And as Governor of New Mexico he will never tolerate the use of the great Seal of the State of New Mexico for the protection of the bootlegger even to the extent of one quart.

Under his guidance we can rest assured that the great highway political machine as builded by Dillon and the Republican administration placed on an economical, efficient and business like administration.

He is not obligated to any politician or bunch of politicians, therefore he is in a position to say NO, to the grafters, pie counter applicants.

A vote for Bob Dow is a vote for clean government.—Democratic Central Committee.

Jim Vaught Answers Tribune Questions

Cutting Asked to State His Position, Privately and Politically.

Carlsbad, Oct. 24.—J. S. Vaught, democratic nominee for U. S. Senator, in his campaign speech here last night answered four questions asked of the two senatorial candidates editorially by the New Mexico State Tribune. Previously he had answered two prohibition questions put exclusively to him by the Albuquerque Morning Journal.

Mr. Vaught read the four questions and gave his answer to each in "yes" or "no."

The questions and Mr. Vaught's answers follow:

Question 1.—Do you believe the New Mexico enforcement act signed by Governor Dillon is a sincere effort to aid federal prohibition officers and if so in what way?

Answer—No.

Question 2.—Do you believe the prohibition act is being earnestly and equitably enforced in New Mexico today. If the answer is "yes" please recite the names of three prominent citizens who have been arrested, tried and convicted of possession of liquor. In the absence of such illustrations does that mean that prominent citizens are not violating the law?

Answer—No.

Question 3.—Do you have or have you had since prohibition became the law of the land in your possession, legally or otherwise, any quantity of intoxicating beverages in greater amount than one quart, the unit of crime as defined by the New Mexico prohibition law?

Answer—No.

Question 4.—Will your vote as a United States senator on the prohibition question coincide with your personal actions? That is if you vote dry, will or do you drink dry?

Answer.—Yes.

"Now that I have answered my friend, the Tribune, and Senator Cutting's friend, the Journal, I am going to ask some questions myself," Vaught said.

"Why doesn't Cutting state his position on some of these questions—prohibition especially?

"Is Senator Cutting dry?

"If so, how long has he been dry?

"I own no newspapers with highly paid editors to write my sentiments. I control no newspapers. I therefore take pleasure in answering questions direct to the people."

Plants Reveal Ore

Several remarkable examples where beds of ore were revealed by plants growing on the surface above are summarized by Lidgely in the proceedings of the Australian Mining institute. The Amorpha canescens shrub indicates the presence of galena, the lead sulphide ore, in Michigan, while in Missouri a plant belonging to the poison sumach family serves the same purpose, as a lead ore indicator. Beech trees often indicate that limestone beds are to be found in the neighborhood. In Spain a sort of bindweed, known as Convolvulus athaeoides, is deemed of high value in betraying the presence of underlying deposits of phosphate ore. The plant Erigonum ovalifolium discloses the existence of silver ore in Montana. The calamine violet, which grows in upper Silesia, Westphalia and Belgium, is a sign of the existence of calamine, the zinc ore, in the neighborhood.

Simple Arithmetic

A man with a wife and 11 children, many of them grown up, appeared at the entrance to an entertainment hall, bought two tickets, and demanded that the entire family should be admitted.

The doorkeeper declined to admit them with only two tickets.

"But all these are my children," said the man.

"Of course," said the doorkeeper; "but some of them are too old to be admitted free."

"Too old? What's that got to do with it? Doesn't it say on your bills that children under twelve are admitted free with parents?"

"Yes."

"Well, I've got 11 children, and if 11 children aren't under twelve, I'm beat."

Force of Habit

The brain is like a dense forest, and our thoughts are backwoodsmen blazing a trail. When once a certain thought has passed through it, it is easier for the same kind of thought to come again. That is habit. Fold a piece of paper, then spread it out. It is easier to fold it again in the same crease than in any other way. That is habit. So, to create a habit of cheerfulness, we must send cheerful thoughts along again and again until the trail in our minds is thoroughly blazed. Then it will be easy to be cheerful.—R. P. Anderson.

Giraffe a Tight Fit

The entire staff of Harvard university paused in its duties for four hours while professors, instructors and ordinary help gave advice on the problem of getting a giraffe, 15 feet and 6 inches tall, into the institution via a door that was only 6 feet high and 5 feet wide. The giraffe, being dead and stuffed, could give no assistance by bending his neck. After many maneuvers failed he was placed on his side and see-sawed in with the aid of 18 stout dead-game bearers.

Medical Sermonettes

By W. E. LEONARD, M. D.

(©, 1927, by Western Newspaper Union.)

"'Tis nothing when you are used to it." No one could have better proclaimed the tyranny of habit than does the caustic old Dean Swift in this proverb. Habit grows by what it feeds on and subtly chains its victim long before he realizes it. Therefore the need of watching for the first signs of the chains. The simple act of wrong eating, oft repeated, becomes more and more difficult to overcome. Not only habits of the table but all sins against right living grow upon one insidiously until it requires great determination and great power to throw them off. Generally the awakening comes only after nature begins to cry out in pain and suffering, and even then one warning is seldom sufficient, but the sinner experiences several strong hints before he turns right about and reforms. It is far easier to be wise beforehand and to proceed moderately at all times, and thus avoid the extremes that lead to suffering and disaster. Many illustrations could be given, recognizable by all. Perhaps the most common is the habit of too rapid eating, which grows upon most of us before we become aware of it. With very few exceptions, as the years go by, it leads to all manner of dyspepsia, ulcers of the stomach or intestines or even worse.

A Lie Nailed.

(By the Republican State Central Committee.)

Democrats are spreading the charge that this week's El Nuevo Mexicano, Senator Cutting's Spanish weekly, tells the voters to vote for Smith and Cutting.

This statement is absolutely false.

An unauthorized attempt to insert a form of instructions to voters was discovered after the paper was in press, the article was promptly removed, all printed copies that could be found were destroyed, and no such copies were circulated by the publishers to any person.

"Sneaked" copies of the "killed" issue are being used by the Democrats in a desperate last-minute attempt to stem the Republican landslide.

Don't be fooled by Democratic fakers.

Vote 'er straight for Hoover, Dillon, Cutting, Simms and the whole Republican ticket.—(Political advertisement).

Kennedy Sees Largest Voe for Democratic Ticket in History of County.

Floyd T. Kennedy, democratic county chairman, who has been among the people of the county more, perhaps, than any one else in the county since the campaign began, predicted early this week that the democratic party was going to roll up the largest vote in the history of the county. He says that Bob Dow and J. S. Vaught are both running strong as well as the balance of the ticket.

Kennedy predicts a vote of more than three thousand with the democrats getting at least two thousand five hundred.

Benefit Program Is Postponed

Due to the continuous rains this week, the Athletic benefit program that was to be given in the high school auditorium Friday night of this week by the Public Speaking department will be postponed until a later date.

It was feared by the management of the program that the roads would be in such condition that many of those who would like to attend could not do so.

The date of the program will be announced later.

MR. DILLON, DO YOU REALLY DESERVE RE-ELECTION?

A Governor who asks for re-election, Mr. Dillon, does so on the fullfillment of his former promises. You promised certain definite things two years ago. Have you carried out your promises?

You promised lower taxes—and our state tax rate has soared from 3.4 mills under the last Democratic administration to 5.4 mills under yours.

You promised prohibition enforcement. Mr. Farley of the Anti-Saloon League and Mr. Stearns of the Prohibition Enforcement Department toured the state and wrote thousands of letters on official letterheads asking support for you on the grounds that you would enforce prohibition. You kept your prmise in that regard by signing a one-quart law which has made us the joke of the nation. We are now classed as one of the four states in the Union which do not cooperate in prohibition enforcement.

You promised lower administration costs—and salaries in every state department have been increased under your administration. You have been quite obviously no match for the grasping froglegs led by Holloman and Harry Wilson and Charlie Roehl.

You promised a "business administration"—and the Land Office revenue to the schools has been reduced from $9.10 per child (the high mark reached under the Hannett administration) to less than $8.00 under yours.

You promised free text books—and you didn't give them to us.

You made a great stir in your campaign against highway expenditures—and you promised to maintain the roads of the state at low cost by using mules? Where are your mules now? Why has your administration spent ONE MILLION DOLLARS FOR ROAD MACHINERY? Can you tell the people how much of this million dollars went to Jack Sheehan of El Paso—the man who was proved to have cheated the state before?

You appointed as United States Senator a man who had never been a sincere Republican or a sincere anything else. You appointed him—and yet neither you nor he has ever been able to show that he has a single qualification except great wealth which he did not earn. You ignored men of standing and ability in your own party. Can you ever make the voters of the state believe in your sincerity or his sincerity as you both ask for re-election?

Mr. Dillon, do you really think you deserve re-election? Do you think you will be able to keep your promises this time any better than you did before? Do you think New Mexicans can prefer you to courageous Bob Dow, who is his own man—or your Progleg Senate appointee to J. S. Vaught, who towers over him as a man over a boy? Don't you think, Mr. Dillon, that New Mexico has tried you and your party in the balance and found them wanting? We shall see on November Sixth.

Classes Will Not Have Annual

The high school annual question has been dropped, stated the busines manager of the staff.

In the junior and senior class meetings last Thursday, Duncan Simmons announced that there would not be a year book. Three different trials and campaigns had been put on by the two classes, yet enough pledges had not been turned in to fulfill the requirement of two hundred and fifty books. The senior class was also divided in opinion about publishing a book.

The staff could not receive discounts on the engraving work now. "It would probably cost from a third to a fourth more than it would have in September, stated sponsor, C. F. Brown.

The seniors are now planning to leave a remembrance to the school to take the place of the annual.

Sophomores Have Party Friday

The Sophomore class of the Portales High School gave a Hallowe'en party last Friday evening at 7:30 in the gymnasium. There were 41 members of the class present, also Mr. and Mrs. Golden. Mr. Steiner, Miss Nelletta Cooper, and Miss Beth Hall.

The guests were met at the front door by a ghost who demanded the password "Nuwallah" and who ushered them to the dark interior of the hall where he left them to find the way over bed springs covered with cans, grass, skeletons, chairs and buckets of water. The "gym" was attractively decorated with black and orange paper, cane and huge pumpkins with gleaming teeth and staring eyes.

Many interesting games were played. A prize was given to the person with the best costume and Miss Nelletta Cooper representing a witch, told the fortunes of everyone present and all found out many interesting and surprising things of their future life.

Refreshments of cider, pumpkin pie-a-la-made, apples, and favors filled with black and orange candy were served about 10:00 o'clock.

Library Gets New Books

Several new books have been obtained by the library including a biography of Disraeh by Morwais.Disraeh is undoubtedly the greatest of Englands many famous prim ministers according to history.

Six fiction books have also arrived and will soon be in circulation according to head librarian, Dupuy.

A biographical work written for boys and girls about Lincoln will probably be popular.

Several books have been obtained that will be of aid to the Home Economics department. An especially good one being, "Art in Everyday Life."

Various supplies have been received by the bookbinding department of the library and work is going on rapidly in this department.

Public Speaking Club Organized

The following officers were elected in the Public Speaking Club Monday. Merle Forbes, president; Beulah Brown, vice president; Jewell Atkins, Secretary; Emmett White, parliamentarian, and Jones Smith, club reporter.

The constitution was also read by the chairman and adopted by the club.

Senior Class Is Taking Lead

The Senior class of 1928-29 of Portales high school has an enrollment of 56 pupils, 23 boys and 33 girls. The enrollment for seniors last year was 62, forty-four of that number were girls and only 18 boys.

Of the 23 senior boys three belong to the boys pep squad which is composed of 17 boys of this school, 14 of the 33 senior girls belong to the girls pep squad which is called pepperettes. There are 42 pep club girls representing this school.

The senior class is allowed one party and one picnic each semester, they have already had their party for this semester.

When the time for choosing a class ring came some one suggested standardizing a ring for this school. This suggestion was put before the senior class in form of a nomination for a standardized ring. The seniors have adopted a standardized ring for this school.

Home Ec. Girls Display Uniforms

The Home Economic girls' featured their uniforms in a style show in assembly Tuesday morning.

The Home Ec. II girls were first to occupy the stage. The girls with the yellow uniforms came first, gracefully turned around once to show the lines and style of their uniforms. Next came the girls with the pink, then the lavendar and last the blue. Four girls represented each color and after they lined up in a row across the stage the colors blended very prettily.

The Home Ec. I. girls came next all girls wearing pink uniforms, and doing very much the same thing as the Home Ec. II class.

Next the second section of Home Ec. I. displayed their uniforms of lavendar, blue, pink and green checks.

The last number was a group of six girls sewing at machines, diligently working away. They then formed a line accross the stage and sang "I'm forever Blowing Bubbles," and ripping and tearing the cloth they had been sewing.

Grade School Notes

Miss Florence's class in third grade geography is studying about Japan. Tuesday morning Miss Florence let the children bring some Japanese Wimonas and they had a tea party. The refreshments consisted of tea served Japanese style.

From 2:15 until 4 o'clock Friday Mrs. Cannon entertained her room with a Hallowe'en masquerade party. The school room was decorated with Jack-o-lanterns, witches, bats and cats. The shades were pulled down which made the room dark except the lights from the jack-o-lanterns. Many Hallowe'en games were played, including a ghost parade and fortune-telling.

Refreshing pop corn was served and frog crickets were the favors.

Mrs. Cannon took three of her nature study classes on field trips last week to find all the interesting things in nature that they could. They especially were in search of leaves of different varieties.

The nature study classes are taking up the study of dogs this week. They are making some posters and are expecting to study some live specimens of fine dogs.

W. T. Student Has Editorial In Magazine

Jack Williamson Receives $50 For An Editorial Published in Amazing Stories Quarterly.

Readers of the magazine, "Amazing Stories Quarterly" found in the fall issue an editorial, "Scientifiction, Searchlight of Science," by Jack Williamson, of Elida, New Mexico, who is a freshman in West Texas State Teachers College.

The editorial is representative of the line of thought in which Mr. Williamson is interested. He has written a number of pseudo-scientific stories. The conciseness, nice choice of words, and ability with which he brings his ideas to a climax are outstanding features of this editorial for which he received a prize of fifty dollars. Thought is evident in every line and certainly every line is thought provoking.

"Amazing Stories" is a comparatively new magazine which first came off the press in January of this year. It is especially interested in scientifiction which it defines as being: "fiction with a plausible scientific background" and its stories and articles bear on this thought.

Mr. Williamson is a member of The Prairie staff and of the college press club. Since he enrolled here his writing, on several occasions, have been worthy of notice. The above mentioned editorial is to be found elsewhere in this issue of The Prairie.—Canyon News.

SCIENTIFICTION, SEARCHLIGHT OF SCIENCE

By Jack Williamson.

Science ever widens our conception of the natural universe. We drift farther from the old idea of man as the chief end of creation. To the savage, the universe is his valley, with the heavens arching low overhead, and himself, supreme. Science has found a million new worlds, and lost itself in them. Earth has become a cosmic note; man utterly ephemeral and insignificant. Science and Intelligence alone remain considerable qualities. Then, if the life of the earth is the briefest instant in Time, a question rises: must man pass from the earth, or will Human Intelligence rule on, a new factor in the universe? The idea is stupendous. Science is the doorway to the future; scientifiction, the golden key.

The chief function of scientifiction is the creation of real pictures of new things, new ideas, and new machines. Scientifiction is the product of the human imagination, guided by the suggestion of science. It takes the basis of science, considers all the clues that science has to offer, and then adds a thing that is alien to science—imagination. It goes ahead and lights the way. And when in the author's mind, it makes science sees the things made real them real instead. It deals only with that which it can see, or weigh, or measure; only with logical hypothesis, experiment, and influence and calculation. Scientifiction begins with the ending of science.

The realization of scientifiction is proverbial. Science has made hardly a step that scientifiction has not fortold. And science in return, has disclosed a million new and startling facts, to serve as wings for the scientifiction author's brain.

Scientifiction takes a thousand accumulated facts and builds them into a real, impressive picture of ages past, whereby the future of the race may be foretold. It mounts a Time Machine and ventures through futurity, revealing the results of unknown conditions and tendencies.

Science knows that life on other worlds is possible, but it remains for scientifiction to make the vision real, and to suggest the space flier to verify it. Then science may build the flier, and see for itself. The boundless energy of the atom, the Fourth dimension, the sub-universe below, and the super-universe above, are scientific absurdities all, until scientifiction gives them reality.

And science goes on, with scientification as the searchlight. Here is the picture, if we can but see it. A universe ruled by the human mind. A new Golden Age of fair cities, of new laws and new machines, of human capabilities undreamed of, of a civilization that has conquered matter and Nature, distance and time, disease and death. A glorious picture of an empire that lies away past a million flaming suns until it reaches the black infinity of unknown space, and extends beyond.

Roswell High Beats Portales By Score 13-0.

The Roswell high school Coyotes added another victory to its 1928 gridiron record yesterday afternoon when they defeated the fast Portales high school aggregation by a score of 13-0 in a game played at Portales before a large crowd.

The game was Roswell's contest all the way, although at times Portales appeared to be dangerous. The Coyotes, after a rather weak showing in the first two quarters, braced in the last half and sent two touchdowns across the Portales goal.

In the first quarter neither Roswell or Portales were able to get within striking distance of the other's goal. In the second quarter McDonald of Portales broke away for a sensational 40 yard run and the period ended with Portales on Roswell's ten yard line.

In the third quarter Roswell started a terrific offensive and at the end of a series of line thrusts had placed the ball on the Portales 30 yard line. The passing offensive of Roswell, which was so effective against Artesia and Tucumcari, started functioning and Williams shot a pass to Peed which accounted for the first Coyote score.

Roswell scored again in the fourth period after a steady march down the field which saw the complete collapse of the Portales line. The try for extra point failed and the score ended 13-0 in favor of the locals.—Roswell Record, Oct. 27.

The picture is incredible to us now. Even in the light of scientifiction it is distorted and vague. The idea of the final product of evolution is beyond us. But a sublime picture is that scientifiction may build through the ages, and that science may realize for the ultimate advancement of man.

PROPOSED AMENDMENT HELPS THE SCHOOL

Proposed Amendment No. 4, should be adopeted at the election Tuesday, November 6. New Mexico needs more money for the support of the common schools and the institutions of higher education. The most promising source of increased funds is oil lands belonging to the state schools.

These oil lands are not being developed now because the enabling act of the state constitution, while making provisions for leasing state lands for grazing purposes, did not provide for making leases for oil. Consequently no holder of oil leases is sure his lease will stands in Federal courts and the tendecy is for the companies to postpone drilling until title to lease has been cleared.

Congres has granted premission to amend the constitution so that oil leases may be made so they not conflict with either state or Federal laws.

Proposed constitutional amendment No. 4 will, if adopted, authorize the state legislature to enact legislation to provide for leasing state lands for oil purposes and validate leases already made. when such legislation is passed, we may expect a real increase in state school funds. That incrase means better schools at less expence to the taxpayers.

Citizens really interested in better schools will work for the passage of Amendment No. 4 If the amendment is passed, we may look for drilling to begin on schools lands of New Mexico at once. Oil royalties will be added to the permanent school funds and our schools will be better supported than ever before.

Let's carry the proposed amendment and develop New Mexico's resources.

Rastus had gotten into the clutches of the law and was talking things over with his lawyer.

"I think," said the attorney, "I can get the jury to exonerate."

"Boss," said Rastus, "Ah don't want to be exonerated. Ah just wants to be let loose."

SOCIETY

Christian Ladies Aid.

The Christian ladies aid was entertained Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Claude A. Lorts at the parsonage in a get-to-together meeting.

The ladies had been invited to bring their work and many nimble fingers plied the needle, making dainty little articles for the coming bazaar. Just before the arrival of the home going hour each one enjoyed a generous helping of cake and coffee.

Miss Allene Traughber Hostess.

The hallowe'en season is here and among the first of its festivities was a costume party given on Friday, Oct. 26th by Miss Allene Traughber at the home of her parents just north of town.

Games of various kinds occupied the major portion of the evening, ghosts and goblins were present and mingled freely with the other guests, seemingly enjoying the games, the dainty salad, sandwiches, pop corn and peanuts as much as real people.

Miss Edna Disney Entertains.

Among the outstanding social affairs of the week was a Hallowe'en party on Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Disney by their daughter, Miss Edna, to a number of her friends.

For this occasion the house was tastefully decorated with autumn flowers, pumpkins and other suggestions of the Hallowe'en time. There were three progressions of auction 42, after which the hostess servd a refreshment course of pumpkin pie and cocoa. Those enjoying this party were, Misses Eula South, Hazel Todd, Edna Locker, Leola Hayes, Vera Hendrix; and Messrs J. R. Shock, Clint Fairly, Wayne Stratton, Brody McAlister, Lorace Disney and Charles Owens. Chas. Owens gave several vocal numbers, accompanied by Miss Mildred Disney on the piano.

Lucy Belle Carrolls' Birthday.

Saturday was Lucy Belle Carrolls' 6th birthday and she celebrated the occasion with a party in the afternoon at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Carroll.

The home was a ghost place with its witches, hobgoblins, black cats and spooks. There was a lovely birthday cake with its candles. The little folks made much of the hours from 2 to 4.

The guests were Rayma Jean Means, La Rue Ansley, Anita George, Mary Sue Donalson, Martha Jane Donalson, May Beth Wise, Lena Keller, Alma Ruth Lee, Ruth McDonald and Lucy Belle Carroll.

Costume Party.

On Tuesday night, Oct. 30th, the senior C. E. society of the Christian church, twenty-six in number enjoyed the hospitality of Pastor and Mrs. Lorts in a hallowe'en party at the parsonage.

Costumed guests upon arrival were met at the door by the ghost with the icy hand, and welcomed into the living room lighted by jack-o-lanterns and appropriately decorated in orange and black crepe paper with witches, black cats, owls, bats, etc., much in evidence.

Several hallowe'en games were played among which was a very creepy one, "The Dead Cat." In another partners were chosen and each couple given a stick of gum and two tooth picks, the girls to chew the gum until pliable then the boys to make an animal from the gum and tooth picks. Some fearful looking beasts were evolved.

Refreshments consisted of sandwiches, pickles, devils food cake with orange icing and cocoa. Guests departed about 10:30 declaring the evening to have been very happily spent.

Owing to the rush of political matter this week, many local and county items were compelled to be left out.
