Vows For Miss Linville, James Kimble Read In Richmond, Va.

First Presbyterian Church in Richmond, Va., was the setting for the May 27 wedding of Miss Sue Ellen Linville and James Robert Kimble of Austin.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Roy Norman Linville, 3239 Stratford Road, Richmond, Va., and Dr. and Mrs. John Wilson Kimble of Floydada.

Dr. James A. Jones III, minister of the church, performed the double ring ceremony at 1:30 p.m.

Escorted and given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an ivory silk organza gown fashioned with a fitted bodice and a high neckline outlined in Venice lace. The lace also bordered the full circular skirt and the chapel length train. Her short mantilla was edged in Venice lace and was attached to a lace trimmed camelot hat. She carried a bridal bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Miss Tina Popowski of Cambridge, Mass., was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Barbara Tilson, Boston, Mass.; Mrs. Max Holshouser and Miss Sue Scott, both of Richmond, Va., and Miss Nicki Nichols of Morgan City, La.

Bridal attendants wore Victorian style field print formals with high necks, edged with lace. The ivory colored gowns were highlighted by vivid colors of green, golds, white, reds and pink. Waistlines were accented by jabot crushed cummerbunds, and the hemlines were complemented by layers of ruffles and lace.

The attendants carried nose gays of field flowers tied with moss green velvet bow in the back of her hair with long streamers.

Jeff Kimble of Rochester, New York, served his brother as best man. Groomsmen were Joel Kimble, Austin; John Kimble II, Arlington, both brothers of the groom, Roy Ward Linville, the bride's brother, Richmond, Va., and Philip Michael Kinslow of Denton. The four also served as ushers.

Mary Ann Gray of Richmond was organist.

VOTERS in the June 3 runoff elections were warned this week by Secretary of State Bob Bullock to "stay in the party primary where they voted on May 6." He said "every voter needs to know that if they voted in the Republican primary on May 6, they cannot vote in the Democratic runoff. And if they voted Democratic the first time, they cannot switch and vote Republican."

When was the last time you decided to wash a new dress, only to discover that you threw out the washing instructions two days before?

The traditional source of care information, personal experience, based on trial and error, no longer meets the needs of consumers. Now, thanks to a new regulation by the Federal Trade Commission you will be getting answers to questions about washing, wringing, fluff drying, or dry cleaning certain kinds of clothing. As of July 3, 1972, clothing and yard goods must have a permanent label disclosing instructions for their care and maintenance.

The rule applies to any garments and hosiery, both domestic and imported. Even home sewers will benefit from this rule, which requires piece goods as well to be accompanied by care labels, which you can affix permanently to them by normal household methods, such as ironing.

Specifically, the label must fully inform you how to wash, dry, iron, bleach, dry clean, and otherwise regularly care and maintain a particular article; warn you if the care procedures that usually apply to such a garment would diminish its use; be made readily accessible, and not hidden in a pocket, for example; and remain legible for the useful life of the article.

June 3." He continued "We want the public to know that this action violates Article 240 of the Texas Election Code and is punishable by a fine of from $100 to $500." Bullock stated that he knew "there were instances of this reported during the May 6 primary. Like crossover voting, this dual voting practice is against the law and will not be tolerated. He said he wanted local election officials to bear down and make sure this doesn't happen in the runoff."

the fashion scene last fall, have mushroomed in popularity, mainly because of their optimum creativity, according to Miss Dunlap.

"At present they recount nautical, Oriental and circus themes, but the trend is toward centering the story interest on animals (especially those of the endangered species), zodiac signs, enameled initials and personalized charms."

She said that the most exciting motifs by far center around the performing arts theme, depicting puppet-like characters.

In choosing a pendant, the Texas A&M University specialist said to keep the size in proportion with your own body size. A small woman will be overpowered by too large a motif, while small designs can become lost around the neck of a larger woman.

"A long pendant chain creates a longer line," she added. "The eye moves in an up and down direction with the longer chain, resulting in a slimmer illusion. A shorter chain adds more width to the figure."

Miss Dunlap said that an interesting pendant design should not be forced to compete with a busy background. Keep the bodice area simple.

Pendants aren't limited to casual garb but can also add drama to evening wear. Available in enamel, gold or silver finishes, they frequently combine two or more finishes in one.

"The flexibility and sensitivity of pendants to swerves in fashions and fads assures that the accessory necklace will have a definite place to hand in today's fashion picture."

HERE is a quick one dish recipe that's mighty tasty. All you need to complete the meal is a tossed salad and maybe dinner rolls. The recipe is a one dish macaroni and beef casserole.

1 1/2 lb. ground beef
1 cup cooked macaroni
1 small (1 1/4 cup) onion chopped, or 1 tablespoon instant minced onion
1 cup (8 oz. can) tomato sauce

Art Exhibit Held Here

An art exhibit was held Saturday in the Floyd County Historical Museum in conjunction with the opening of the museum during the Old Settlers Reunion. The exhibit was divided into two divisions, adult and children.

The adult division consisted of paintings of several local artists. There were 47 paintings in the exhibit. The paintings included work in water color, acrylics, oil painting, and metal sculpture. Work came from both amateur and professional artists.

The children's division included work from first, second, and third grade students from Duncan Elementary of Floydada. The work included crayola drawn murals from first grade students, paper sculptured men by second grade students, and cardboard box forts and covered wagons made from egg cartons and paper, done by third grade students. The children's exhibit will stay in the museum for a few more days.

Mrs. Joe Taylor was in charge of putting up the art exhibit.

"DID the photographer send your pictures yet, grandma?" asked the grandson. "Yes, but I sent 'em right back," said the old lady in disgust.

"But why did you do that," the grandson inquired.

"I'll have none of his impertinence!" snorted grandma. "On the back of each photo that brazen young man had stamped: 'The original of this is carefully preserved.'"

"Quality education is the key to our children's future."

"It is unfortunate, that the prospects for better education for our children should be placed within the emotional cloud of the bussing issue. I am opposed to massive, forced bussing for the purpose of reaching an arbitrary and artificial balance of the races. The differences in learning ability are primarily formed in the home, not in the school.

"I do not believe that bussing can materially improve the quality of education for any child in Texas. If I did believe that, I perhaps could support bussing. The types of school bussing that have been ordered in some cities pose an egregious threat to our schools. It is an economic Pandora's Box.

"My position, then, favors expenditures that promote equal education within our existing public schools rather than leaving inferior schools as they are and sending children to them from better schools. I will be the first to concede that every school in Texas is not equal insofar as quality of instruction is concerned.

It is our resources - money, teachers, and curricula - that must be shifted and given equal division if we are to have an equitable educational system for all our children."

Edward Thomas Appointed SCS Conservationist

Youth, dedication, experience, professionalism - these are some of the traits of Edward E. Thomas, newly appointed state conservationist for the U. S. Soil Conservation Service in Texas.
Thomas returns to his native state from Nashville, Tennessee where he was deputy state conservationist for SCS. He succeeds Clyde W. Graham who has been named director of the South regional technical service center in Fort Worth.

A career conservationist since 1954, Thomas was an assistant to Graham at the Temple state office until he went to Nashville in January 1971.
"Having the chance to return to Texas as state conservationist exceeds my fondest dreams," Thomas admits matter-of-factly. "My family and I learned to love Tennessee, but it was always second to Texas."

After starting his conservation career at Lubbock in 1954, Thomas worked at Wellington, Wheeler, Jayton, and Morton. Then he became area conservationist at Pecos in 1963. After holding a similar position at Harlingen, he moved to Temple as assistant state conservationist in 1968.
Thomas is a 1954 graduate of Texas A&M University where he was a member of the track team. He is also a graduate of Vernon High School and served as an Army officer in Korea from 1954 to 1956. He is a member of the T Association of Texas A&M, the Soil Conservation Society of America, and the American Society of Range Management. He and his wife Mary have three children: Eddie, 15; Bill, 13; and Susan, 11.

By UFW Union -

FARM BUREAU UNDER ATTACK

Farm Bureau has been the target of a nationwide attack by the United Farm Workers National Union (AFL-CIO) in an effort to intimidate the farm organization and force it to cease its efforts to get farm labor legislation passed on Congress.

Three leaders of the UFW appeared April 26 at the AFBF headquarters in Park Ridge, Illinois, threatening to begin a massive nationwide "informational" campaign against Farm Bureau if the farm organization did not stop its legislative effort by May 8.

AFBF President William Kuhfuss' response was that Farm Bureau would not only not stop its efforts, but would pursue them with renewed vigor. He repeated this in a news conference the next day.

UFW demonstrators appeared on May 9 at Farm Bureau offices in 23 states. In Texas, they demonstrated at the Bexar, Harris and Dallas County FB offices. Only in California did they turn out in force—at four county FB offices.

TFB President J.T. (Red)

Woodson issued a press release that day saying in effect that the attempts to intimidate Farm Bureau would not succeed. On that day, the TFB sent to County presidents a packet of materials including copies of news releases sent by TFB and AFBF. Additional materials sent out May 15 included the draft of the statement handed out by UFW demonstrators along with information debunking the charges made by the UFW handout.

The Union obviously is uneasy over the AFBF's legislative proposal in Congress as well as Farm Bureau-backed bills in several state legislatures.

In essence, Farm Bureau's farm labor legislation would provide:

(1) Guarantee of secret ballot elections for farm workers on the question of which—if any—union they wish to represent them.

(2) Prohibition of the secondary boycott in agriculture as it is presently prohibited in industry under the provisions of the National Labor Relations Act.

(3) Protection against the strike at harvest time by specifying a reasonable period for notification before a strike, and by setting guidelines for fair arbitration of disputes.

(4) Creation of an Agricultural Labor Relations Board to administer the Act.

Apparently, the question of the secret ballot worries the Cesar Chavez group. In the only secret ballot election held in California, the Chavez union was solidly beaten.

Also, Chavez does not want to give up the secondary boycott. This has been his only successful weapon. By forcing certain crops off the market (notably table grapes), he was able to force growers to capitulate and sign with him. Thus, grape workers were forced to join a union they obviously did not wish to join.

This latter issue is the central theme of a documentary film produced by AFBF last fall. "The Road to Delano" consists mostly of interviews with California grape workers who are unhappy at being forced into the UFW.

This Film Will Also be Shown to Civic Organizations as Time Permits

FARM BUREAU will not capitulate to the demands of Cesar Chavez and his sympathizers and stand idly by while farm workers are coerced into unions they do not want, president of the Floyd Farm Bureau said Tuesday.

Carrying out an ultimatum delivered to the Farm Bureau national leadership recently, began demonstrating at Farm Bureau offices by Chavez supporters Tuesday. The Chavez group demanded that Farm Bureau desist from its efforts to secure the enactment of constructive farm labor legislation and threatened a massive "informational" campaign to smear the Farm Bureau.

"We have nothing to hide and will not yield to such pressures," the farm leader said.

He emphasized that the Farm Bureau is not opposing the right of farm laborers to organize and be represented by a union. But the farm organization contends that workers should have a choice in the matter.

The Chavez apparatus has successfully employed the secondary boycott technique to coerce thousands of farm workers into its ranks. When growers could not market the boycotted products they had no alternative but to sign their workers over to the Chavez union. The fact that the United Farm Workers Organizing Committee which Chavez heads, (now the United Farm Workers National Union - an AFL-CIO affiliate) had to resort to the secondary boycott is indicative of the coolness of the workers themselves toward UFWOC's organizational efforts and their reluctance to join the union voluntarily, the farm leader pointed out.

"We feel that our position is fair to everyone concerned, and we stand by the policies of our organization which call for the enactment of constructive farm labor legislation," he declared.

FARM BUREAU is the Only Farm Organization that is Working to Keep Unfair Unions and Boycotts from Agriculture.

SCS Receives Safety Award

District Conservationist, Jon J. LaBaume, received a certificate of safediving from Arneal Scott, Area Conservationist, honoring the staff of the Floydada Soil Conservation Service in Lubbock last week. This certificate was given by the United States Department of Agriculture for preventing motor vehicle accidents from January 1, 1962 to December 31, 1971.

The Floydada work unit continues its high standard of safety by training in safety, and keeping all vehicles and equipment in good operating condition. Safety doesn't just happen. It must be worked on by keeping operators and vehicles in good physical and mental condition.

Office safety is also practiced in all SCS work units.

Such items as office equipment, light-fixtures, floors, stairways and storage areas are checked periodically for safety. Adequate lighting is necessary for good eye care. These items should be checked in the home to maintain a safe home.

Conservation is defined as the maintenance and use of our natural resources. The SCS believes that people are our most important resource.

The objective of the SCS is to serve all the people in Floyd County. We assist farmers and ranchers in planning and maintaining their farm or ranch. The Soil Conservation Service also gives inventory and evaluation to urban dwellers.

To find out how the Soil Conservation Service can best serve you contact your local SCS Office in Floydada.

President Robert Lee Smith discussed the continued public interest in viewing the museum. During the Tuesday business meeting the members had to barricade the door to keep out visitors and one persistent party pushed until the barricade was snapped in two.

The board voted, as a safety measure, to post signs asking the public to please keep out while carpenters are working inside. The museum will be officially opened later in the summer.

The work of the Green Thumbers Federal Work Group, was applauded by the board members.

Board members present included Robert Lee Smith, Eli Neff, Mrs. Joyce Williams, Mrs. Nancy Marble, Mrs. Reba Henry, Jim Word, Mrs. Marguerite Daniel, and Ted Bell.

VOTE FOR PERFORMANCE

There is no margin for error in an office that must guarantee the biennial fiscal solvency of the state—balancing billions in receipts to payments each year. Bob Calvert has built a tax accounting system that is considered a model for study by other states. During 23 years as Comptroller, he has an unblemished record of remarkable public service.

VOTE FOR EFFICIENCY

Bob Calvert has continually modernized operations to provide greater service at lowest cost. The electronic data-processing equipment he installed is recognized as one of the most sophisticated and efficient computer systems in the nation.

VOTE FOR CONFIDENCE

Under Bob Calvert, the Comptroller's Office has returned $450,776,028.09 to 692 Texas cities since their sales tax was enacted. Every penny has been accounted for. His records are verified by the State Auditor's Department to insure absolute accuracy. The Texas Research League has proclaimed Calvert's office one of the most outstanding in the country in accounting and administration.

VOTE FOR INTEGRITY

The only things "old fashioned" about Bob Calvert are the virtues of honesty and integrity which he considers vital for a person in a position of such public trust. On the other hand, his runoff opponent, who has had six marriages, four divorces and one annulment, was fired from the Comptroller's Department last November after being convicted of aggravated assault on a female.

Practice Caution When Handling Oxygen And Acetylene Bottles

Oxygen and acetylene bottles, when filled to maximum pressure, can be deadly when abused by misuse or mishandling, states O. L. Harris, teacher of vocational agriculture at Floydada High School.

At 70 degrees F. and oxygen bottle containing 244 cu. ft. of oxygen contains 2,200 pounds of pressure per square inch (P.S.I.). If this bottle is used without being secured to a substantial support, such as a workbench or post, it can easily be overturned. If this happens, and the main valve is broken off, the bottle will "take off" in the same manner as a jet engine, and they have been known to penetrate as many as three solid brick walls before running out of pressure.
