HST Warns Nation Must Stay Strong

By LEON SHLOSS
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—President Truman soberly warned today that as much as the U.S. prizes peace and friendship "we prize freedom more" and "must resort to our own strength to hold aggression at bay."

Mr. Truman issued his admonition at the dedication of a memorial carillon presented by American Veterans of World War II to the Arlington National cemetery.

The President spoke as it became known he will ask Congress in January for $43.5 billion to operate the government for the 1951 fiscal year. About $13 billion will be for the defense Mr. Truman talked about today.

Official Resigns

In another defense development, the White House announced that Sidney W. Souers has resigned as secretary of the National Security council to become special consultant to Mr. Truman on defense.

Standing before the tomb of the Unknown Soldier, which looks out over the Potomac river from a plateau of Arlington cemetery, the President declared today:

"Much as we prize peace and friendship, we prize freedom more. And much as we trust in God, while he is rejected by so many in the world we must trust also in ourselves.

"In an age where peace must be protected, we must resort to our strength to hold aggression at bay.

World Is Divided

"For the earth is deeply divided between free and captive peoples. There is no appeal to the brotherhood of men who live in the daily fear of the concentration camp. Until the captive peoples of the world emerge from darkness, they cannot see the hand we hold out in friendship.

"While they are made to respond to our handclasp with a mailed fist, we have no choice but to stand ready in self defense."

Souers, while in the key security council post, has for the last two years briefed the President daily on world developments affecting security of the United States.

Post Is Filled

James S. Lay, jr., who has been Souers' assistant, will succeed him on the top level council, which is charged with the national security and whose membership is confined to the President, vice presi-

Union Votes Phone Strike

(By The Associated Press)

ST. LOUIS, Dec. 21 — Union officials said tonight they have a meeting scheduled with Gov. Forrest Smith of Missouri Friday morning concerning their dispute with Southwesten Bell Telephone company.

They said they hoped the governor would have the same success in gaining settlement of their fight as he and other governors had in bringing an end to a recent strike against the Missouri Pacific railroad.

The meeting was set for 10 a.m. (CST).

Not Planning Conference

But Gov. Smith said in Jefferson City, Mo., that he did not know what the union officials wanted to talk about and did not plan to call a governor's conference at this time.

Officials of Southwestern Bell said they would attend the meeting if invited. The governor said as far as he knew the union had not invited the company. He added since the union, Division 20 of the CIO Communication Workers of America, had asked for the meeting it was up to them to invite another party.

He added that he saw no reason for suggesting a conference of governors at this time since he has not been notified officially that a strike vote has been taken.

The U. S. Mediation and Conciliation service tried to bring both sides together in further negotiations, but apparently met with

Hoskins Guilty, Gets 35 Years

AMARILLO, Dec. 21. (AP)—Dwight Hoskins was found guilty of murder with malice and sentenced to 35 years in the state penitentiary by a Potter county jury tonight.

The jury arrived at a decision at 7:49 p. m., hours after many spectators predicted a "hung jury." Jurymen deliberated for more than 24 hours before giving the court their decision.

A sparse crowd of not more than 40 persons heard Judge Henry S. Bishop read the verdict in the 47th District court. Immediately after the reading, Hoskins' mother and sister broke down.

Keeps Stoical Expression

Hoskins was led out of the court by deputies. His stoical expression betrayed no emotion.

Prosecuting attorneys claimed Hoskins shot and killed Charles Lee Freeman, a crippled service station operator, on the night of Oct. 5. Police officers said the Freeman boy had been shot in the back during the robbery of the Wornie Kelley service station, which netted $31.11.

The state demanded the death penalty.

Jurymen had adjourned for dinner at about 6 p.m. today returning about a half hour later to resume deliberations. The verdict was read at 8:50 p.m.

Formal sentencing of Hoskins was expected Thursday. Defense attorneys said notice of appeal will be given immediately.

Guard Placed Around CIO-UAW Offices

FBI Opens Probe Of Attempted Bombing

(By International News Service)

DETROIT, Dec. 21.—The FBI today began an investigation of the attempted bombing of the CIO-United Auto Workers headquarters in Detroit—linked by local officials with efforts to murder union President Walter Reuther.

The FBI was ordered by Attorney General McGrath to determine if federal laws had been violated, thus giving the government jurisdiction in the case. The move followed last night's plot involving 39 sticks of dynamite.

Detroit police placed a 24-hour guard at the union headquarters and the UAW offered a $25,000 reward for the apprehension and conviction of those responsible for the bombing attempt.

Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy said the bombing attempt "definitely" is tied in with the shotgun attempts on the lives of Walter Reuther and his brother, Victor, UAW educational director.

Attorney General McGrath said any one of three federal laws might apply so as to give the government jurisdiction in the case.

He added that final government action will be determined by the investigation. The laws cited by McGrath prohibit the transportation of dynamite by an auto which also transports passengers; conspiracy to injure, oppress or intimidate any citizen, and the federal right to apprehend any person who flees from one state to another to avoid prosecution.

Comment Refused

Special Agent Harry O'Connor of the FBI's Detroit office refused comment on the case.

Inspector Joseph Krug of the Detroit police special investigation division said he has not been "officially" notified of FBI intervention. But he said:

"We will absolutely co-operate with them to the fullest extent."

Krug said Special Agent O'Connor had not contacted him and he had no knowledge of FBI activity in the case as yet.

To all questions, O'Connor replied:

"All I have to say is 'no comment.'"

Bomb Powerful

The lone clue is the bomb itself—a crude, but powerful, explosive fashioned of 39 sticks of dynamite. Police experts said it was enough to blow the four-story union headquarters to bits and partially wreck nearby business buildings.

Detroit Police Commissioner Toy said the bombing effort "definitely" is tied in with the shotgun attempts on the lives of Walter Reuther and his brother, Victor, in the past 20 months.

Walter's left arm was maimed by a blast fired through his kitchen window on April 20, 1948, while Victor lost an eye in a similar shot-

Dewey Rejects Republican 'Bid'

PORTLAND, Ore., Dec. 21. (INS)—A definite "no" from Governor Thomas E. Dewey today rubbed out all hope of Oregon backers that he might change his mind and run again for the Republican presidential nomination.

Gov. Dewey wrote his old friend John C. Higgins, who managed his intensive campaign in Oregon last year, that "nothing has occurred or will or can occur to change what I said the day after election last year."

"Nothing could arise," Dewey emphasized, "now or in the future that would lead me to be the nominee of our party in 1952. My decision is as certain and final as death and the staggering new deal taxes."

Wrote To Governor

Higgins said he wrote the governor out of curiosity because certain things have been happening in the East lately to indicate that maybe a move would be made to get Dewey into the race again.

Dewey's reply, received today, stated:

"Because you have been such a grand friend for so long and also because you were chairman of my primary campaign (against Harold Stassen) in Oregon last year, you are certainly entitled to know my plans.

435 Expected To Die In Holiday Traffic

CHICAGO, Dec. 21 (AP) — The National Safety council today forecast a three day Christmas holiday traffic accident death toll of 435. This is the largest preholiday estimate the council ever made.

"We are forced to make this estimate by mathematics," said Ned H. Dearborn, council president. "But our hearts tell us the toll will be lower—that the American people will not permit such a tragedy. I hope our mathematics is wrong, and our hearts are right."

The estimate covers only immediate traffic deaths—persons killed between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Monday.

"If everyone is determined to make this a merrier Christmas by preventing accidents, our estimate will be too high," Dearborn said.

Stalin Hailed On 70th Birthday As Champion Of World Peace

By NATALIA RENE
INS Staff Correspondent

MOSCOW, Dec. 21.—Premier Stalin was hailed by Soviet leaders on his 70th birthday today as the champion of world peace and Deputy Premier Molotov warned the West that a new war of aggression will bring "liquidation" of "world imperialism."

Molotov's warning was sounded in a special birthday edition of Pravda as the Soviet Union and Communists throughout the world lavished acclaim, mountains of gifts and honors on the Soviet leader.

While Molotov wrote about the dangers of a new war, Deputy Premier Georgi Halenkov repeated Stalin's old theme that it is possible for Capitalism and Socialism to co-exist in peace.

Tonight the top marshals, generals and admirals of the Soviet Union gathered at the Bolshoi theater to heap praises of the military services on Stalin. High party officials and foreign diplomats also were present.

Stalin was in the seat of honor at the Bolshoi theater conclave, listening to tributes from Com-

Bonham Men To Face Additional Charges

CORSICANA, Dec. 21. (AP)—Two men who aroused interest of North and West Texas peace officers were indicted yesterday for armed robbery.

The pair were James Thomas Scrivner and William Robert Leeman, both of Bonham. Their arrest, following running gun battles in Corsicana and Dallas, brought several officers from Northwest Texas who wanted to question them concerning robberies in their towns.

They were indicted here for armed robbery of Cabell's food store Dec. 4. The men fought a running gun battle with Police Officer W. D. Thedford as they escaped from the store. Later they were captured near Dallas after several shots were fired.

(Scrivner, Leeman and Orville Wayne Mann, 21, also of Bonham, remain in county jail in Lubbock in lieu of bonds set following charges against them in several West Texas counties. Scrivner faces charges in Dickens and Crosby counties, the others there and in Lubbock county. Talmadge Monroe Bonham, 17, charged in all three counties, was released from jail in Lubbock after posting bonds totaling $45,000.)

Low Reading Of 15 Degrees Forecast Here

A SNOWLESS cold wave that marched through Lubbock and the South Plains Tuesday was expected to push the mercury down to a low of 15 degrees this morning, the Weatherman said last night.

"Fair and cold" was the blunt forecast for today, with high afternoon temperatures between 40 and 45. Slightly warmer temperatures are expected Friday after a morning low near 20.

Heading for the predicted low of 15 this morning, the mercury here was down to 25 at 10:30 p.m. Wednesday and reached 21 at 12:30 a.m. today.

What Lubbock and the South Plains missed in the way of a weather show, Amarillo and the Panhandle got.

Panhandle Has Snow, Ice

A thin layer of ice and snow covered the Panhandle last night after snow, sleet and freezing rain fell Tuesday night and Wednesday morning.

Panhandle highways remained dangerous last night as the Texas Highway patrol urged motorists in that area to drive only if necessary.

In the Borger area, a film of ice covered the highways and two inches of snow fell on top of that.

Man Killed In Wreck

The slippery highway was blamed for the death of Virgil David Simpkins, jr., 21, of Borger. He was killed when his automobile failed to make a curve and overturned, the Associated Press reported.

Clearing skies over the Panhandle indicated the fall of snow and sleet was over temporarily, but sub-freezing temperatures prevented thawing.

Lubbock celebrated Wednesday—the first day of winter—with an afternoon high of 36. High for the day was 48, at 12:30 a.m. and just before a cool front from the west moved in. The northern cold wave moved in later to send the mercury on down.

High Winds Sweep Area

The Lubbock Weather bureau clocked west winds at 32 miles an hour at 6:30 a.m. Wednesday before the direction switched to the northwest and the velocity lessened.

Fairly light winds and sunshine should make today's cold temperatures less noticeable than those of Wednescday, the forecaster indicated.

Chinese Reds In New Onslaught

(By The Associated Press)

Red China's armies, nearing the end of a year in which they have all but blown the Nationalists off the mainland, Wednesday stalked their enemy for knockout blows in the west and south.

The radio in the Communist capital of Peiping boasted that the armies of Gen. Hu Tsung-Nan were being encircled in the Chengto area.

Previous Nationalist reports have indicated, that Hu has extricated the bulk of his 400,000-man armies from the former government capital in the west.

Hu's troops last were reported moving down the highway from Chengtu to Sikang province. In mountain-bound Eikang Chiang Kai-Shek proposes to set up a guerrilla base for a hoped-for come back on the mainland.

The Peiping broadcast said Communist troops control 50 miles of the main highway between Chengtu and Sikang, beginning at Pengshan, 35 miles south of Chengtu. Only Hu's rearguard still are in this area unless the reports of his retreat are unfounded.

In the south, a press report in Hong Kong said Red troops were embarked on a mass movement down the Liuchow peninsula.

The status of Yunnan province, south of Sikang, still was clouded. The Nationalists on their island redoubt of Formosa announced Monday they had recaptured Kunming, Yunnan's capital.

Late press reports in Hong Kong said the city still was held by forces of warlord Gen Lu Han, who turned on Chiang Kai-Shek and went over to the Communists Dec. 9.

The later reports asserted fighting still was in progress in Kunming's outskirts between Lu's troops and those still loyal to the Nationalists. Nationalist warplanes bombed the fringes of the city.

Scurry County Boom Is Declared Outstanding Oil Event Of 1949

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Dec. 21. — Railroad Commissioner Ernest O. Thompson today called Scurry county oil development the outstanding oil event in Texas for 1949.

He bragged on Texas' oil-producing ability but foresaw a not-so cheerful future for the oil producer in 1950.

"With imports reported on the increase and our oil exports on the decline, the prospects for 1950 do not look very bright for the oil producer," he said in a prepared statement to the press.

"The one good thing about the oil picture is that there certainly is no shortage," said the commission member, adding:

"Everybody can have all the oil products they can use for any purpose."

Thompson said the four Scurry county pools "now appear to be one giant billion-barrel pool." He said the pool comprises some 40 to 45 thousand acres and is still open at the north and south

Vandenberg Favors Cut In U. S. Aid To Friendly Nations

By FREDERIC TUTTLE
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 — Sen. Vandenberg (R.-Mich.), declared today that Communist China does not now "qualify" for United States recognition and that American economic and military aid to friendly nations should be "sharply reduced in 1950."

This is the last call for contributions to the 1949 Goodfellows' Christmas fund for the needy children of Lubbock.

Gifts now exceed by more than $600 the $3,000 requested at the start of the drive. For the 15th consecutive time since the Goodfellows were organized in Lubbock, they have been given more than they asked.

The Chief Goodfellow won't know until all the bills are in whether the donations are enough to pay them. The number of children to be remembered is several hundred larger than estimated when the $3,000 budget was set at the beginning of the drive. The $3,000 would not have been enough to take care of all the children who are depending upon the Goodfellows. But the Chief Goodfellow hopes there will be

Rearmament Plans For Europe Mapped

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (INS)—Secretary of State Acheson today announced "substantially complete agreement" on expenditure of more than one billion dollars for rearming Europe in 1950 but said Britain momentarily is holding up the program.

Acheson told a news conference that necessary bi-lateral agreements with Italy, Norway, Denmark, France, Belgium, the Netherlands and Luxembourg have proceeded to the drafting stage.

With respect to the United Kingdom, he said "the discussion is still on general principles."

An over-all agreement under the North Atlantic defense alliance is expected by January. Acheson, chairman of the North Atlantic council of foreign ministers, announced he will assemble the group next month for a ratification that will open the way to U. S. Aid.

Modified Brannan Plan Urged As Aid To Low Income Families

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21—Farmers Union Secretary Russell Smith today urged a modified Brannan farm plan as a partial answer to the rural phase of the low income family problem.

Smith advocated that small farmers be guaranteed prices at 100 percent of parity—the estimated fair price—while the percentage is graduated downward for farmers with a gross production of $12,500 or more.

Appearing before the Sparkman Economic subcommittee on low income problems, Smith also proposed production loans to enable small farmers to switch from such surpluses as cotton to livestock, and reconstruction loans to finance new enterprises in under-industrialized areas.

The Right Rev. Msgr. L. G. Ligutti, of Des Moines, told the committee that Congress bypasses the nation's neediest group—rural workers—in its farm and labor legislation.

The midwestern Catholic cleric, famed for his long campaign to resettle factory workers on "subsistence farms" with chickens,

Snow, Rain, High Winds Hit Midwest

(By International News Service)

THE first day of winter brought the United States every kind of weather imaginable Wednesday — driving rain, wind-swept snows, sub-zero temperatures, and balmy, spring-like breezes.

It was the shortest day of the year — the winter equinox — when the sun reached its northermost point and began the swing back to the equator.

But to millions of Americans in the Midwest, the day was still too long.

States Are Warned

In Kansas City, the U. S. Weather bureau issued a warning that freezing rain, sleet and snow will buffet many parts of Kansas, Missouri and Oklahoma.

Snowfall in eastern and southern Kansas was expected to reach six inches and the mercury scheduled to drop to zero.

(The winter storm by late last ngiht already had brought snow, sleet and freezing rain to Missouri and howling winds were expected in its wake today with the mercury hovering around 20 degrees, The Associated Press said.

Southwestern Bell Telephone company reported, meanwhile, that its long-distance circuits in the Midwest were being crippled by ice which has ripped out many of its lines.

Cities Are Isolated

At least 17 Missouri cities were isolated from outside phone communication when the ice, reaching an inch and a half in thickness, tore down the lines.

(Sleet and ice snapped power and communications lines at Quincy, Ill., a Mississippi river town of 40,000, the Associated Press reported. So many lines broke that the city's power supply was turned off to avoid the danger of live wires. All long distance telephone lines were out of order.

(In Oklahoma, three to five inches of snow were reported in the Panhandle and the northwest part of the state. Temperatures ranged from 14 to 25 degrees in the late afternoon and highway con-

Man Is Held On Assault Charge

A 24-year-old department store employe, bound over to grand jury investigation Wednesday on a charge of assault with intent to rape, remained in county jail last night in lieu of $5,000 bond.

The prisoner, Buddie Carrol Sims, 24, of 1600-block Ave. J, was arrested at his home early Wednesday, only a short time after the attack allegedly occurred.

Guests At Yule Party

He and the prosecuting witness, a pretty young brunette married woman of 100-block Ave. U, told T. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney, that he, the woman and her husband were guests at a Christmas party in downtown Lubbock Tuesday night, and that the three went to the Ave. U address afterward.

About 6 a. m., Pharr was told by the woman and her husband that the husband and Sims went to town to sweep out a drugstore, owned by the husband's father. Sims said he had to "go home," but went from the store to the Ave. U apartment, investigators were told.

There he got into bed with the woman, who had not arisen, she said. He sought to make advances to her and she awakened and dis-

FAKE PASSPORT RACKET CLAIMED

Texas Solon To Seek FBI Aid In Fight Against Illegal Immigration

By W. R. Higginbotham
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. Rep. Ed Gossett, (D-Tex.), said today he will ask the FBI to help stop illegal immigration he claims is on a scale so huge it practically amounts to a "foreign invasion."

Gossett said he wants the FBI to investigate subversives among the thousands pouring through wide gaps in the nation's border guard and to dig into a "fake passport racket" that enables many of the aliens to stay.

Gossett and Rep. J. Caleb Boggs, (D-Del.), made a three-day inspection of the New York district immigration service with a view to strengthening alien controls. Members of the House Judiciary committee, which has approved a bill to allow detention of aliens here without legal right, plan to investigate conditions in Detroit and other border areas soon.

Inadequate Force Claimed

Gossett said they found that New York has 200,000 illegal aliens roaming free because of inadequate immigration forces and "the absoluute refusal of the New York courts to enforce such immigration laws as we now have."

"We found that our big cities, especially New York, have hundreds of lawyers who make their living out of immigration practice," he went on.

"Many of them devote their time to helping aliens get into the country illegally, or to remain here illegally. Any alien with a little money or a little ingenuity can slip into the United States and in most cases remain."

Gossett said he was unable to identify the country of origin of the aliens. Some, he said, were West Indians who can purchase fake Puerto Rican passports. Puerto Ricans are U. S. citizens.

Because many of them come here for "subversive purposes," he said, he will recommend that Congress authorize peacetime aid by military intelligence in rounding up illegal immigrants. He also plans to introduce a series of bills to tighten immigration laws as soon as possible.

SUSPECT ADMITS OPERATING ALIEN SMUGGLING RING

HAVANA, Cuba, Dec. 21. (U.P.)—Gregorio Simonovich, 44, a former Cuban immigration official, has confessed he operated a ring that helped smuggle aliens into the United States, police said today.

Simonovich implicated Gaylor Miles Saxton, 27, of Grand Rapids, Mich., an American pilot arrested Dec. 7 in Miami on charges of smuggling 28 European aliens into the United States from Havana, police said.

Simonovich has been described by federal officials in the U. S. as the mastermind of all smuggling activities in the Caribbean.

Cuban police said Simonovich admitted he organized the smuggling ring after being dismissed from the Cuban immigration service on Jan. 7, 1937, after four years' service.

Christmas Luncheon Held By Rotary Club

A Christmas theme dominated the regular weekly luncheon of the Lubbock Rotary club at the Hilton hotel Wednesday.

A quartet composed of Dr. A. Lee Hewitt, Miss Joyce Watson, Mrs. Sue Lovett, and Wilson Ward, accompanied by Mrs. Mamie Neal on the piano, sang a group of carols, with Dr. Hewitt explaining briefly their traditional backgrounds.

The Rev. David L. Zacharias, pastor of the Westminster Presbyterian church, delivered a Christmas message in which he drew an analogy between the "no vacancy" signs found during the last war, and those that confronted Joseph and Mary in Bethlehem, where there was no room for the Christ Child at the inn.

"I hope there will be room for Him in our hearts and lives this Christmas," he said.

State Sen. Kilmer C. Corbin was introduced as a special guest by George W. Gray.

Visiting Rotarians, introduced by Cecil H. Cale, were Roy Abel and Tim Lyle, both of Ralls; Alvin R. Allison, and Otis Burson, both of Levelland; W. P. Layne and Allen Payne, both of Slaton; Cullen Chapman of Big Spring; and Gary Schwartz of San Angelo.

Dr. H. I. Robinson offered the invocation. Rex Webster led a song, accompanied on the piano by Roy Bass. Club Pres. Guy C. Victory presided.

Services To Be Held Today For Son Of Lubbock Couple

Services have been set for 4 p. m., today, at the Rix Funeral home chapel for Lynn Walter Daughtrey, 8, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Daughtrey, 2622 Twenty-sixth, who died early Wednesday morning.

Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the First Methodist church, will officiate, with burial to follow in Tech Memorial Park cemetery under the direction of the Rix Funeral home.

The child, who had been ill for about six years, died at 3:37 a. m., Wednesday, in West Texas hospital. He was a second grade student at Roscoe Wilson school.

His father, an engineer with the Arabian-American Oil company in Saudi, Arabia, is scheduled to arrive in Lubbock by plane this morning for the funeral.

Besides his parents, he is survived by a brother, Norlan; and his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Hodge, and Mr. and Mrs. R. D. McAnelley, of Del Rio.

Pallbearers will be Carroll Dale, Bill Self, Bob Pugh, Avin Sherrell, Clifford Hunter, and Jack McQueen. Playmates and close friends Ray Glenn Dale and Jerry Smith will be honorary pallbearers.

Jail Terms Threaten Water Wasting New York Residents

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Jail terms were threatened today for persons who waste water as the city struggled to make its skimpy water supply last longer.

Magistrate Morris Rothenberg fined nine men from $25 to $100 each yesterday for permitting leakage or other waste.

The city's reservoirs are now 34.7 percent full, which compares with 49.9 percent a year ago. With normal consumption 1,192,000,000 gallons daily, the city has about 62 days supply left before pressure fails if present conservation measures continue.

Texas Gulf Ports' Charges Of Export Discrimination Denied

(Special To The Avalanche)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—Charges that the federal government is discriminating against Texas ports in allocating exports for which the General Services administration's Bureau of Federal Supply is responsible, were denied today by Jeff Larson, administrator.

Answering a letter addressed to Sen. Tom Connally by J. P. Kerr, port director, Orange Wharf and Dock Commission, Orange, Larson declared that such exports as were going through other Gulf ports originate in other adpacent areas.

Many Items Available

According to Kerr, such exports from other ports which could go through the Orange port are certain fabricated pipe, chemicals and heavy hardware.

Cast iron pipe, ammonium nitrates, nitrogenous fertilizers and pig iron are moving through Gulf ports, Larson advised. The cast iron pipe, moving from the Birmingham area to Mobile, is cleared through a nearby inland port, Ammonium nitrates from Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, and Nebraska clear through Braithwaite, La., which, according to the administrator, is the only safe loading port in the Gulf approved by the United States Coast Guard.

Fertilizers are moving through Port Houston, most of which originate in that region. Other movements include pig iron from Lone Star, Texas, originally slated to move through Port Orange but diverted when it was found that the trestle on the Missouri Pacific railroad, required to reach the bulk materials landing dock, was unsafe following an accident. The trestle has since been repaired. This shipment finally cleared through Lake Charles.

Larson informed Senator Connally that the current export program calls for utilization of all ports, "consistent with the primary objectives of getting maximum values in services for expenditure of the tax dollar.

Kerr was assured that in the future, the Port of Orange will not be dischiminated against by the federal government.

"In continuing the program, we are purchasing additional materials, some of which we feel confident can move through the Port of Orange without sacrificing objectives of the government," Larson stated.

"In the event situations arise where that can be accomplished we will be glad to allocate materials for export through Orange port facilities."

No Serious Coffee Shortage Seen By Government Agency

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (INS)—The government said tonight there is "no serious shortage" of coffee at present and predict that supply will be "close to demand" for the next year or two.

The Agriculture dapartment also suggested that Latin-American coffee growers, who supply 98 percent of U. S. needs, may boost their future output by "better cultivation of (coffee) trees or by planting new trees on new land."

The agency pointed out, however, that this would have no effect on the immediate supply, since coffee trees must grow for five or six years before bearing beans.

Soviet Possession Of A-Bomb Doubted By Retired Admiral

LOS ANGELES, Dec. 21. (AP) — Retired Adm. William H. Standley, former ambassador to Russia, doubts the Soviets have either the atom bomb or a large submarine fleet.

"President Truman's report concerned their possession of the secret of atomic energy," he said at a press conference yesterday. "From what I know of the industrial potential, I don't believe they have the bomb at all."

He also scoffed at the report by Janes Fighting ships that Russia has more than 300 submarines with hundreds under construction

Stalin Is Urged To Take Stock On Birthday, Start Beating Red Swords Into Plowshares

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Dec. 21.—To Joseph Stalin, Care of the Kremlin, USSR.

Dear Joe,

Congratulations, old Tovarich of wartime, on your happy anniversary today. You wake up on the longest day of winter to find yourself 70 years old—the life span alloted to man by the Bible you studied as a boy.

I sure would like to attend your big hoedown. You Russians really know how to throw a party! The last one I attended was in 1945 when we linked up with your boys on the river Elbe. I was carrying a rifle for Uncle Sam at the time. We were shy of caviar and vodka, but we tanked up on German wine and traded our rations back and forth.

Had Wonderful Time

It was a wonderful time. We laid aside our guns, your boys and our boys, and laughed and drank together on the river's bank—and nobody was afraid of anybody. None of us who was there can ever forget that first day of full peace and happiness after the long years of war.

Circumstances being what they are I won't be with you in Moscow tomorrow. But I would like to send you a birthday gift—of advice.

The advice, Joe is to stop and look around.

For a guy only two inches taller than Napoleon you've come a long way. You were born a poor Georgian boy, Joseph Vissarianovich Djugasvili, whose father wanted him to become a cobbler and his mother a priest.

But you yourself chose to be a revolutionary, and chose as your party nickname—Stalin, 'man of steel." You've lived up to your nickname.

Your iron will carried you through seven exiles to Siberia.

You fought your way up through Bolshevik ranks, and you let 1,000,000 farmers starve to death because you thought you knew what was best for Russia.

Perhaps you did. You have reached heights of power unknown to any previous Russian ruler. You unified your country in uneasy peace—purging by blood all who stood in your path—and you saved your country in a mighty war.

Every step of the way you have said your acts were dictated by a desire to help the common man—the working class. Practically all leaders say that.

Well, Joe, now's the time to put up or shut up.

Men Want Peace

What the common man in all lands has yearned most for is a period of peace and prosperity stretching endlessly ahead for him and his children. The common man everywhere, including the Russian, is sick of shedding his own blood.

The Russian working man, like the American, wants a better house, better schooling for the kids, a few new gadgets around the kitchen to keep his old woman happy, and more meat on the table.

And if you want to be remembered with real love by all the little Ivans of Russia, Joe, that's what you'll give them—instead of three more battleships and 1,000 more submarines. There are no enemies at your gates.

You've got the power, Joe, and if you use it wisely maybe God will give you added years to turn your Russia into the wonderland of plenty you have promised so often.

Let's really start beating those swords into ploughshares, old timer.

Sincerely, Pvt. G.I. Joe (retired

MORE ON GREETINGS

CLEVER, original greetings include one from Mr. and Mrs. Jack Tippitt. Artistic Jack has drawn a bucking reindeer on whose back two western-garbed characters are trying to retain their hold. They dotted the "J" and "I" in their name with stars.

JIM TINSLEY, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Tinsley, 2214 Thirtieth, received a Christmas card from his former teacher, Miss Neville Wrenn, who lives in Memphis. There is nothing so unusual about that, but consider that the only address on the card was Jack's name and street address!

MR. AND MRS. D. M. HOWELL incorporated an acrostic in sending their greeting cards this year. In the last line of the verse is the instruction to read down the line of the first letters to spell out the names of the senders.

MRS. SAM MARSHALL of Clarksdale, Miss., a former Lubbock resident, sent Mrs. R. W. Walker, a Christmas card in the shape of a shadow box in three sections. The back section shows a snow scene complete with tiny church, farm houses and frozen lake and the second shows an old-fashioned decorated tree on the lawn of a Colonial estate. The front section pictures people who are coming to the tree, bearing gifts and the cover is the gate to the plantation.

Mrs. Mary L. Thompson sent Mrs. Barney Alford a card simulated box of white plastic with white stars and tied in red plush. The top is centered with a holly leaf. When you lift the leaf you find a Christmas greeting and when you turn it down you see the name of the sender.

OUR usual cards included greetings from Mr. and Mrs. Charles Whiteacre which hopes "may the riches blessings of life be yours for the many good things you have done, and also Good luck, health, times, golf, fishing, skiing, football, Canasta, bridge, gin rummy, no overdrafts, no past due notes, no dog house, no burned toast, no weak coffee, no breakfast quarrels, occasional breakfast in bed.

IN THE MAIL

DEAR MISS TURNER: About the cutest Christmas tree I've seen this year is in the Shelby Haught home in Shallowater. Their first grandchild is due in early 1950 and the tree is decorated in baby rattlers of every color, shape and fashion, no two alike. There are about 26 rattlers in the collection, including musical ones.

A FRIEND.

DEAR MARGARET TURNER: Do you still have in your files the name of the little town in New Mexico that is noted for its Christmas lighting? If so, would you print it and do you know if it is lighted this year?

Thanks,

A READER.

DEAR READER: The name of the town is Madrid and it is located up in the hills not far from Santa Fe. We went over there in 1941 and the observance was blacked out then until after the war. Since then, so far as we know, they have not put up the lights again, partly because of difficulties in agreeing on who was to sponsor the project.

A PUPPY, half collie and half German shepherd, is to be given away, it is three months old. Telephone 2-7984 and if you can not go after the dog it will be brought to you.

MRS. EDWARD S. SMITH, JR.

Betty J. Fortenberry Bride Of Mr. Smith

The wedding ceremony of Miss Betty Jane Fortenberry and Edward Simmons Smith, jr., was performed at First Christian church Tuesday at 7:30 o'clock in the evening. Rev. John S. Rankin read a double ring service before large floorstands of white mums, gladiola and calla lilies against a candlelighted background of woodwardia fern and an archway of greenery and white satin bows.

Preceding the ceremony, Mrs. Wayne Kelly, organist, played traditional wedding music and accompanied Mrs. B. M. Hays of Post as she sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because." "Clair de Lune" was played during the wedding and "The Lord's Prayer" was offered as a musical benediction.

Bridal Aisle Lighted

The wedding party marched down an aisle lighted with white tapers and marked with white satin ribbon bows. Mr. Fortenberry gave his daughter in marriage. She wore a gown of ivory slipper satin, fashioned with a yoke of bridal illusion adorned with seed pearls and outlined with a satin bertha. The long fitted sleeves extended into points over the hands, and the fitted basque came to a point in the back where it was joined to a full skirt which swept into a long train. Her fingertip veil of bridal illusion fell from a tiara of seed pearls. She carried a white Bible topped with a bridal bouquet of white roses, carnations and a white orchid.

Miss Imogene Fortenberry, who attended her sister as maid of honor, wore a gown of blue satin and net fashioned after the bride's. Her headdress was a halo of blue net and her bouquet was of pink carnations, tied with pink and white ribbon. The bridesmaids, Miss Mary Jo Smith of Lorenzo, sister of the bridegroom, Misses Bobbie Young, Johnnie Sue Corcorran and Betty Jo Corcorran of Lubbock, and Miss Charlotte McDaniels of Dumas, wore gowns made similarly to the maid of honor's. Miss Smith wore pink and carried blue carnations; Miss Young wore green with pink carnations; Miss Johnnie Sue Corcorran was dressed in orchid and carried pink flowers; Miss Betty Jo Corcorran was gowned in pink and had a blue carnation bouquet and Miss McDaniels wore yellow with orchid carnations. They were matching net headdresses.

Sandra Fortenberry, niece of the bride, and Gail Stringer, flower girls, were dressed in white net and taffeta with white net headdresses and silver baskets filled with rose petals.

Attendants In Satin

Tony Pearson of Lorenzo was bearer and Bryan Teal of New Deal was trainbearer. The two children wore ivory satin suits.

Ronald Smith of Lorenzo served as best man, and Bill Miller, James Bowen, Ted Powell, Bob Bowers and Joe Fortenberry, brother of the bride, were ushers.

A reception honoring the couple was held following the ceremony in Yaqui room of Hilton hotel. The bride's table, laid with a white linen cloth, was centered with a three-tiered wedding cake decorated with swans, lilies of the valley, and pink and yellow mallow roses. Chrystal appointments, bouquets of the bridesmaids, and tapers completed the decor. Parents of the bride and bridegroom and members of the wedding party assisted with hospitalities.

When the couple left on a wedding trip to Colorado, the bride was wearing a green dressmaker suit with bead trim. Her accessories were in black and white and she wore a white orchid corsage.

Mrs. Smith is a junior student at Texas Technological college and Mr. Smith is a graduate of Tech where he was a member of Los Camaradas social club and Delta Sigma Pi. He is associated with Continental Oil company in Lorenzo where the couple will live after Jan. 1.

Wedding guests were from Lubbock, New Deal, Lorenzo, Post, Dimmitt, Estelline, Vernon, Ralls, Pampa, Brownfield, Plainview, Littlefield, Levelland and Roswell, N. M.

Children Turn Tables On Mothers And Teacher At Christmas Party At School

The tables were turned on both teacher and mothers at a party given by first graders taught by Mrs. J. T. Shaver, at Central Ward school Wednesday afternoon.

The first graders presented their teacher with gifts of trucks, blocks, a train, tea set, two dolls, dish pan, stove, box of candy and a broom.

To Keep At School

Mrs. Shaver explained that she will keep the "dream toys" at school so that she and the children may enjoy them for the rest of the school year.

The first graders turned the tables on their mothers by preparing and serving refreshments. Their mothers were guests.

The children had prepared the fruit cake, which was an ice box cake and which received numerous compliments.

They had learned their number work as they made the fruit cake by cutting the ingredients into specified numbers of parts.

Recipe Given

The recipe follows:
Two boxes graham crackers.
Two bottles of cherries
Two lbs. of marshmallows
One cup of nuts.
Two lbs. of dates

Roll the crackers. Cut cherries into three parts. Cut marshmallows and nut halves into four parts. Stir all ingredients together and mold in pan, storing in refrigerator.

Slice to serve.

The children made the cake two weeks before the party. Jim Collier was head mixer.

Pupil Presides

They also served fruit punch at the party. Each child had taken one orange and one lemon to school for the punch.

Lois Marie Garren presided at the punch bowl as children and mothers received refreshments.

Funds for the fruit cake were made at a room rummage sale and Hallowe'en party during the fall. Early in December, a committee started asking Mrs. Shaver what she wanted Santa Claus to bring her for Christmas.

As she named the toys she would like, the children made purchases with help of their mothers.

At the party, Mrs. Harvey Dunn played the part of Santa Claus.

Room parties were held in all elementary schools in Lubbock Wednesday afternoon during the final one and one-half hours of the last school day before Christmas holidays.

All schools of the city closed Wednesday except Carroll Thompson Junior High school, where holidays will open at close of classes today.

The first rebroadcast of a London radio program was made in this country in 1925.

U. S. Warned Against Severe Defense Cut

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Secretary of Defense Johnson tonight warned against "penny-pinching" on defense outlays. He said the nation's watchword must be—"military security first, economy second."

Johnson declared it would be just as disastrous to this country's security to trim preparedness funds too deeply as it would be to "wreck the economy by inordinate military expenses." He said this would "help he cold aims of potential aggressors."

The defense chief expressed those views in an address prepared for the annual meeting of the New York County Lawyers association.

Johnson, who now is directing an economy campaign in the military establishment aimed at cutting $1 billion of this year's defense budget, did not give any estimates of how much he thinks should be spent next year. For defense in the current fiscal year ending next June 30, Congress appropriated $15 billion—a peacetime record.

He simply said the United State "must have" an up-to-date fighting force in being, rapidly enlargeable in wartime, capable, in concert with out national allies, of defeating any potential enemy."

Dialogue Presented For Fifth Grade At Afternoon Party

Fifth grade pupils of K. Carter school were guests at a Christmas party given Wednesday afternoon at the school. A feature of the event was a dialogue, "Santa Claus' Proposal," presented by Mrs. M. F. Summar and Mrs. H. W. Burton.

Mrs. Burton also read a poem, "Mrs. Santa Claus."

The 30 children attending exchanged gifts.

Mothers of the children were invited to a coffee in the school room Wednesday morning. Mrs. Wesley Smith is the room teacher.

L'Aiquillee Needlers Are Guests At Party

On Jan. 4 at 3 p.m., the club is to meet with Mrs. H. T. Wilkins, sr., Idalou highway.

Funeral Services Are Held For Girl Shooting Victim

COVINGTON, Dec. 21. (AP) — Services and burial for Marilyn Forston, 18, were held today.

Tomorrow services will be held in the same church—the Covington Baptist church—for the 19-year-old boy, George Clements, who shot the girl to death Tuesday and then fatally wounded himself.

Miss Forston was buried in Rose Hill cemetery at Cleburne. Clements will be buried in Rio Vista cemetery near here.

Clements died at 1:25 a.m. today in Memorial hospital at Cleburne.

Miss Forston had come to her home here for Christmas holidays from Texas Wesleyan college at Fort Worth, where she was in school. She was in a hardware store here when Clements came in and pumped three bullets into her body and then stepped away and shot himself.

The young couple had dated in school here, but recently they had broken up.

Survivors of Miss Forston include her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Forston of Covington, and two brothers, Marion Forston of Orange and Charles Forston of Fort Worth.

Clements is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. F. Clements of Fort Worth, a sister, Jeanie Ruth, and three brothers, Bobby, Charles and Ray, all of Fort Worth.

County Cork Boy To Have Real Yule Dream--Texas Style

DALLAS, Dec. 21 (AP) — A seven-year-old boy in County Cork, Ireland, is going to have his Texas-style Christmas dream come true.

Young Sean O'Neill wanted, more than anything, a cowboy suit for Christmas. He put the wish into a letter, sent to "General Postoffice, Texas, U. S. A." Ultimately the letter came to Dallas Postmaster J. Howard Payne, who handed it over to the Dallas Times Herald.

The Times Herald printed it yesterday. The reaction set in today, and Sean is going to get not one, but several items of cowboy paraphernalia. And they will be delivered, in true Santa Claus style, before Christmas, via American Airlines and American Overseas airlines.

Future Visit Planned

Sean's letter said he needed a cowboy uniform because "I'm going out to Texas someday to Roy Rodger."

Sears-Roebuck company announced right off that Sean would get a cowboy suit, free. About that time, the Pied Piper company of Dallas, threw in a Hopalong Cassidy suit, which it manufactures. Then the Schoelkopf company of Dallas went both of them one better. It's gift to Sean, it said, would be leather vest and chaps, along with holsters and toy pistols to complete the costume that any well-dressed young cowboy needs — either in Muleshoe, Tex., or County Cork Ireland.

American Airlines said the suits would be delivered in time for Christmas. The packages for little Sean will be given personal handling along the line to insure pre-Christmas arrival.

University Student Accused Of Robbery Released To Mother

DEDHAM, Mass., Dec. 21. (AP)—A young Brown university student who police said robbed a cafe for funds with which to avenge his father's death in a Canadian airliner crash has been freed on his mother's promise he will be treated for a nervous condition.

Patrick J. Parker, 18, of Rye, N. Y., was released by Superior Court Judge Frank J. Donahue after a county prosecutor said the mother has promised the youth would be placed in a private rest home.

Parker's father, Russell J. Parker, former vice-president of the Kennecott Copper company, was one of 23 persons killed in the crash of a Montreal to Quebec plane at St. Joachim, Que., last Sept. 9.

Police said young Parker robbed a Plainville cafe of $55.60 Nov. 19 to obtain funds to finance a trip to Canada to kill J. Albert Guay, a Quebec jeweler held on a charge of murder.

Guay will go on trial next month on a charge of murdering his wife, Rita, who was among those killed when a bomb exploded in the baggage compartment of the plane and caused it to crash.

Police said Parker appeared to be "completely broken" over his father's death.

The young student did not contest the robbery charge. Prosecution was suspended and the case placed "on file." This means it can be taken from the file and prosecuted if Parker is ever arrested again.

The Associated Press incorrectly said that Guay confessed he arranged a bomb be placed in the plane's baggage compartment.

Rare Books In Microcard Form May Be Added To Tech Library

Rare and old books and hard-to-get periodicals may now be added to the Texas Tech college library in microcard form, librarian R. C. Janeway said Wednesday.

The college has bought a $195 micro-reader which will allow the purchase of magazines or books printed in microscopic form, which might not other wise be obtainable, he said.

Differing somewhat from the microfilm machines in use in many places, the micro-reader works on a reflection-enlarging basis. Entire volumes may be printed on tiny two- by four-inch cards and thus made available here, although it might not be possible to ge. copies of the books themselves. Also, the cost will be about one-tenth as great.

Only a limited number of magazines and books have been so reduced thus far, Janeway said, but the list is steadily growing. Purchase of the microcards will enlarge the facilities for research offered graduate students at the college, he added.

More Applicants Sought By State Board Of Education For Top Post

AUSTIN, Dec. 21. (U.P.)—Members of the State Board of education, seeking a commissioner of education to supervise the state's school system, today opened the door to all comers.

Cecil Morgan of Fort Worth, chairman of a five-man committee, said some "40 or 50" names had been suggested for consideration.

However, he said the list was far from closed.

More Applicants Sought

He said he would like "any person who is an applicant or thinks they know" of an applicant, to get in touch with any member of the board.

"We want this (selection)," he said, "to be democratic."

The committee will not make recommendations on any applicant.

It's duties, Morgan said, will be limited to "fact-finding."

Members of the committee, gathering here for a one-day meeting, approved a form letter which will be sent to various persons believed possibly qualified for the position.

The letter will seek basic information on potential applicants' experience, general background and whether they would be interested in applying for the new job of state commissioner.

February Report Possible

The Fort Worth attorney said it would be "at least the February meeting" of the 21-member board before the committee would submit a report.

The applicant list, he said, would be "held open indefinitely —until the field is exhausted."

The position, created under the Gilmer-Aikin education reform laws, requires that the applicant be a resident of Texas for five years prior to his appointment.

The new commissioner will succeed to the post now held by Dr. L. A. Woods, state superintendent of public instruction. Although Morgan declined to release any names now before the committee, it was understood Woods' name was among those suggested for consideration.

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—British Overseas airways said today one of its big trans-Atlantic Constellations was damaged after landing in Iceland with 20 passengers aboard.

Two persons were injured, a BOAC spokesman said. One broke an arm and another sprained an ankle. The airways line here did not have their names.

The spokesman said damage to the plane was minor but that a new plane might be flown from Scotland to take the passengers on to Montreal, their destination.

He said the plane's port undercarriage was damaged after it landed. He said it may have collapsed or something may have gone wrong with its mechanism. It did not crash, he added.

The big ship left London and made a routine landing at Keflavik, about 40 miles from Reykjavik, Iceland, the airways asserted.

The spokesman was unable to say whether the accident occurred as part of the landing or when the plane was preparing to take off again. It happened at 8:57 a. m. (CST).

The airways here said it did not believe any Americans were aboard.

Escaped Monkey, Laden With Polio, Killed By Troopers

COLLEGE PARK, Md., Dec. 21. (INS)—A Rhesus monkey "shot full" of deadly polio viruses escaped from its cage in a University of Maryland laboratory today and kept the campus in an uproar until state troopers succeeded in killing it.

The elusive monkey, described by laboratory officials as "unusually vicious," was stalked for nearly four hours before it was slain with a rifle shot.

Bid For Freedom Made

The snarling simian made its bid for freedom as it was being transferred from one cage to another in the university's livestock sanitary service department.

Dr. Arthur L. Brueckner, head of the livestock department, said that it was unlikely a bite from the monkey would have transmitted infantile paralysis to any person or animal. But he explained:

"We didn't want to take any chances and that's why we didn't instruct the troopers to 'bring him back alive.'"

The fugitive monkey was one of a number of animals injected with polio to compare the malady with effects of Newcastle disease in poultry.

Margaret Truman Gets Ovation At Carnegie Hall Appearance

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)— A packed Carnegie hall audience gave Margaret Truman an enthusiastic ovation last night, and the music critics thought she was wonderful.

But they didn't think her voice was quiet as pleasing as she was.

The President's daughter, making her New York debut in a program carried over radio (ABC), was accompanied by Frank Black's orchestra.

Several top metropolitan opera figures were in the audience, along with numerous government dignitaries and United Nations officials.

President and Mrs. Truman weren't here.

Prison Officials Foil Break Plan

RALIEGH, N.C., Dec. 21. (U.P.)—Warden Joseph Crawford said today a "Kansas City mob" might be involved in a daring plan for seven long-term prisoners to break from Central prison.

Two prison employes also were parties to the plot, Crawford said.

It was a tip from Kansas City authorities, Crawford disclosed, which led to the uncovering three weeks ago of a small arsenal of improvised weapons.

Surprise Search Made

A surprise midnight search turned up four makeshift guns, several bottles of simulated nitroglycerin, 10 hacksaw blades, keys to the main cellblock and the warden's car and 50 stolen automobile title forms.

Crawford said the hacksaw blades, shotgun shells and .38 caliber pistol bullets were smuggled in by a prison employe.

He refused to name either employe involved but said one was a guard and one a truck driver. Reportedly they were to have received $10,000 each for their share in the escape.

The plot was bared when Missouri officers found a letter signed by the wife of one prisoner on a robbery suspect arrested in Kansas City.

The letter mentioned three prisoners and said two of them could be freed for $10,000 each. The woman directed that the money be sent to her husband's home in Raleigh.

At the same time Crawford said two Kansas City men arrested for the $148,000 robbery of Belk's Department store in Greensboro might be connected with the escape attempt.

Greensboro Police Chief L. L. Jarvis yesterday identified the two as John Murray Gould, 38, and John Radazzo, 35. A third man was believed to have escaped with some $9,744 in cash.

Conviction Of Hearne Man On Bad Check Charge Is Upheld

AUSTIN, Dec. 21 (U.P.) — The Court of Criminal Appeals today upheld a five-year sentence against S. B. Jones of Hearne, who was found guilty of defrauding a Franklin bank of $10,850.

Jones was convicted by a Robertson county jury on a charge of violating the Texas "bad check law."

Jones, the court said, made the check out to the McAllen State bank and deposited it at the First State bank of Franklin.

Despite defense pleas, the appeals court said that "we think the fact still remains that appellant (Jones) gave this check with an intent to defraud, and did defraud the First State bank of Franklin out of this sum of money as charged. . ."

The check was dated Nov. 27, 1948. Shortly afterward, Jones was charged with delivering a worthless check to the Franklin bank following the bank's shutdown.

Because the altitude of Johannesburg makes him want to yawn instead of sing, Moishe Oysher, Jewish cantor and singer, arranged to arrive in the South African city only an hour before his scheduled concert there.

Late Rally Gives Abilene 43-41 Win Over Westerners

Eagles' Fourth-Quarter Splurge Overcomes 32-27 Lubbock Lead

By AL WILLIAMS
Avalanche Sports Writer

In a wild fourth-quarter rally, the Abilene Eagle cagers came rumbling from behind last night at Chapman fieldhouse to defeat the Lubbock Westerners, 43-41, before approximately 300 persons.

After assuming a seemingly safe 32-27 third quarter advantage, the Westerners were unable to hold the margin as a flock of fresh Eagles poured into the game to outcharge and outplay the local five with a tight man-to-man defense all over the court.

Close All The Way

The game was close all the way, with the lead changing hands six times in the first half and three times in the final half. The count was knotted eight times during the game.

The non-district tilt was marked by frequent and inaccurate shooting on the part of the Lubbock team, which had trouble penetrating the stout Abilene defense for close shots, shooting from far out in the main.

Lubbock's defense proved vulnerable in the early stages of the game, and Eagle players were able to break under the net for lay-up shots.

Ingraham Leads Eagles

Center Walter Norton paced the Westerner five in scoring, bagging 13 points with nice backboard work and a fine jump and whirl shot. Forward Jimmy Sexton was runnerup with eight points, and hustling Tom Cheatham had seven

For Abilene, long-shooting Hub Ingraham made 10 points, and Jack Stuard made nine—all in the last quarter. Stuard's shooting spelled the difference in the final stanza when he sank three field goals and three free throws. He sparked the Abilene defense also, using his height to advantage.

The defeat was the second for Lubbock this season in 11 starts, It was Abilene's fifth win.

Abilene fielded a tall, well-built team which started out strong, jumping into a lead which was not equaled until midway of the second quarter when Lubbock went ahead, 14-13, on a Norton field goal.

Lead Changes Hands

Both teams held the lead in the final two minutes of the half, and another Norton jump shot evened the score at 18-18 shortly before halftime.

Lubbock went ahead briefly in the third period, but a lay-up shot by Glenn Darling brought the Eagles abreast of the Westerners, 20-20.

Then the Westerners got hot with Norton, Sexton and Cheatham hitting to send the count to 32-27 at the end of the third period.

The fourth quarter was a different story.

Big Ingraham sank a free throw and Vol Montgomery put a lay-up shot through the hoop to bring the Eagles within two points of Lubbock.

Stuard Waxes Warm

Then Stuard took over, evening the count at 32-32, and putting Abilene ahead, 34-33, following a free throw by Lubbock's Jim Wilson.

Stuard stretched the Abilene margin to 35-33, but Cheatham hit a long shot to deadlock the score again, the last time that Lubbock was to share the lead although the Westerners came close after trailing, 41-35.

Wilson hit two more free throws and Cheatham and Bill Williams sank baskets, Williams' coming on a 20-foot set shot from side court, making the score, 40-41, with 45 seconds left.

Cheatham was fouled but failed to make the shot good as it bounced off the inside of the basket, and when Lubbock took the ball out of bounds it was lost on a bad pass.

Stuard Connects

Stuard successfully made two free throws to put the visitors out in front, 43-40, before Norton hit a charity toss with less than 20 seconds to go.

In the dying seconds Lubbock's over-eagerness gave the Eagles another chance to score from the free throw line, but both shots were missed.

As the game ended Lubbock snared the ball, and Carl Ince aimed a long shot at the basket from his own end of the court which hit the rim and bounced out at the whistle.

The Westerners used but seven players, and all the boys played hard through the game. But missed shots and a few bad passes were the difference.

Lubbock's Cowhands dropped a curtain raiser to Abilene's "B" team by a 22-30 count.

Bobby Sexton was high man for the Cowhands with 10 points, and Tommy Yelvington was next with five points. Couch paced Abilene, making 11 markers.

New Baseball Rules List Slight Changes

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP) — Rough stuff around second base is outlawed in the new official baseball rules adopted for the 1950 season today after nine months of work.

Clarifying the old rule against "interference" by a baserunner, the committee took action to penalize a runner for "deliberate and unsportsmanlike action" in leaving the baseline for the obvious purpose of "crashing" the pivot man on a double play.

The new rules, like the old, leave enforcement up to the judgment of the umpire. Now, however, the intent is clearly written in black and white for all to see.

If the umpires enforce this rule, the old rolling block of football style play that has bounced second baseman and shortstop into center field will stop.

Bob Finch, secretary of a subcommittee to the official rules committee, said there were "few basic changes" from the old code. Clarification is the key word of the rules, now written in simple direct words that a sandlot boy can understand.

In general, the American and National leagues got together to agree on interpretations of rules. There have been some different interpretations in the past.

Since March 3 there have been six meetings of the original committee and its sub committee paving the way to today's official action.

There are 10 divisions to the rules, running from objectives through offensive and defensive play, umpires and scoring rules.

The catchers' box has been reduced from 10 feet to eight feet, and the coaching box extended from 15 feet to 20 feet.

As previously announced, the strike zone now will be defined as "between the batter's arm pits and knees" instead of the old shoulder and knee limitations. The committee pointed out that most major league umpires have been calling strikes in that manner for years.

KENTUCKY WINS

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Dec. 21. (INS) Two successful free throws in the last five seconds of play gave the University of Kentucky a 49-47 victory over the DePaul basketball team tonight. The Wildcats' seven-foot center, Bill Spivey, captured scoring honors for the contest with 16 points. Bato Govedarica got 15 for DePaul.

Erratic Passes Slow Raiders

By CHOC HUTCHESON
Avalanche Sports Writer

Despite an erratic passing performance, Texas Tech's Red Raiders last night registered their fifth victory in nine basketball starts this season by outscoring the Austin college Kangaroos, 69-57, before a slim crowd of 100 fans at Tech gym.

Although somewhat confused by the Kangaroos' zone defense (the first zone they had encountered this year), the Techsans grabbed the lead in the opening minute of play and held it all the way. With Guards Chester (Jiggs) Jackson and Jack Alderson showing the way, the Raiders moved to a 34-25 halftime lead, and built their margin to 21 points before an Austin college surge in the closing two minutes trimmed the lead to 12 tallies.

Gibson Hits 12

Jackson, showing his "old-time" eye for the basket, netted 23 points to walk off with individual scoring honors. Alderson bagged 16, while Center Gene (Rocco) Gibson came up with 12.

Big Jim Wilson, Austin's all-Texas conference center, meshed 17 points to lead the gold-clad visitors. Clarence Warren hit 14 and Bill Evans collected 12 for the Kangaroos.

Remarkable accuracy from the free-throw line helped the Raider cause. Tech cashed in on 15 of 17 charity tosses, while Austin college made only seven of 15 free pitches.

Alderson Connects

Alderson pumped in a one-handed shot after one minute of play, and Gibson made it 4-0 a minute later with a tip-in.

Austin college didn't dent the scoring column until five minutes had elapsed, with Warren making a free throw.

Gibson and Alderson sparked a spree which increased Tech's lead to 11-3, but Austin rallied to pull within three points at 13-10 and against at 15-12. Field goals by Eddin and Jackson pushed Tech safely out front again, and the two quints finished the first half on even terms thereafter.

Austin's Sixth Loss

Coach Polk Robison's Techsans started fast in the second stanza, pouring in seven points in the first two minutes while holding Austin scoreless. After that, the Kangaroos were never really in the ball game, although Evans fired in seven points and Warren hit two in the final two minutes to trim Tech's lead considerably.

It was the sixth setback in eight games for Austin college, coached by Byron Gilbreath, former Red Raider cage star. The Kangaroos had dropped a 56-57 verdict to Wayland college at Plainview Tuesday night.

West Texas Teams Get 2-1 Nod

Sports Scribes Pick Coyotes, Wildcats

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

Wichita Falls and Littlefield were made two-to-one favorites by the sports writers Wednesday to win Texas schoolboy gridiron championships.

A poll of the men who report high school football showed that Wichita Falls was a top-heavy choice to beat Austin at Fort Worth Friday for the Class AA title and that Littlefield boasted the same margin over Mexia in their battle for the Class A championship at Abilene next Monday.

Seventeen writers picked Wichita Falls and 15 took Littlefield while Austin received eight votes and Mexia seven.

The only West Texas sports writer selecting Austin was Putt Powell of the Amarillo Globe-News. All others came from East, South and Central Texas. Mexia did not get a vote from north or West Texas or the Panhandle.

Predictions Listed

Here's what the boys had to say:

Johnny Janes, San Antonio Light — Wichita Falls 20, Austin 13 — Unless Johnny Kitchen (Austin coach) gets to the field with a fire hose (Corsicana claimed the field had been wet down before its game with Austin); Littlefield 13, Mexia 7.

Billy Werley, Vernon Record — Wichita Falls by 12 points and Littlefield by 20.

Townsend Miller, Marshall News Messenger — Wichita Falls and Mexia.

Warren H. Hasse, Pampa News— Wichita Falls over Austin and Littlefield over Mexia.

Bill Coffey, Sherman Democrat — Picking Wichita Falls and Littlefield to win.

Jerry Ribnick, Houston Chronicle — Wichita Fals 20, Austin 7 — Must stick with my alma mater; Coyotes have too much aerial power for pass-weak Maroons. Littlefield 14, Mexia 6 — Should be a rip-snorter of a ball game but Littlefield has too many guns.

Shorty Shellbourne, Midland Reporter-Telegram — We pick Wichita Falls and Littlefield in finals.

Bill Thompson, Paris News — Wichita Falls 20, Austin 7. Anybody who can beat Highland Park (we didn't) rates as favorite in my book. Mexia 14, Littlefield 0.

Choc Hutcheson, Lubbock Avalanche-Journal — Wichita Falls has a solid all-round game. I'm taking the Coyotes by 20-7 if the weather is good. The margin will be narrower if it's played in the mud. Littlefield has too much ground power for Mexia but the Black Cats will score through the air. My guess is Littlefield by 26-13.

Bob Cole, Wichita Falls Record News — Austin reports it will show up just to be there. The Maroons will be tough but will wish they hadn't shown up. Littlefield 20, Mexia 6 — Too much ground power and too much finesse.

Frank A. Godsoe, jr., Amarillo Globe-News — Will believe Wichita Falls and Littlefield can lose when I see it. Figure each game may be decided on the margin of a touchdown.

Houston Post — Wichita Falls over Austin 12-13, and Littlefield over Mexia 20-13.

Chuck Whitlock, El Paso Times — Pick Wichita Falls over Austin and Littlefield over Mexia. Coyotes have vastly superior ground game and pass defense. Littlefield also gifted with a hard-running team.

Powell Favors Austin

Louis Anderson, Corpus Christi Caller-Times — My choices are Austin and Littlefield without reservations but subject to change immediately after games are played.

Oscar Larnce, Waco News-Tribune — Austin 14, Wichita Falls 7; Littlefield 13, Mexia 7.

Dick Oliver, Port Arthur News — Austin 27, Wichita Falls 13 — Too much power plus talented Maroon bench; Mexia 14, Littlefield 7 — Black Cats have conquered tougher competition.

Putt Powell, Amarillo Globe News — "Wichita Falls doesn't have a state championship outfit. The Coyotes have a fine little team but they are too small to beat the big Austin Maroons who also have more speed. Wichita Falls was lucky Lubbock was upset by Austin of El Paso. I'll say Austin 27, Wichita Falls 7.

Zarko Franks, Houston Chronicle — The team that beat Port Arthur is the local favorite. Maroons, say 20-13.

Wrestling Bear Bests Overhull At Arena

A large crowd was treated to a fine wrestling program Wednesday night at Sled Allen's arena, with two fast bouts and a 10-minute exhibition on the card.

Appearing in the exhibition were George Overhull, young Amarillo grappler, and Gorgeous Gus, the wrestling bear, in the best animal-and-man performance yet seen in the local ring.

Gus was the stronger of the two and therefore the winner, pinning Overhull after 10 minutes of mayhem with a body smother. The bear showed his training by getting several human-like holds on Overhull's arms, legs and head.

LaBell Triumphs

Pierre LaBell, Frenchman from Portland, Ore., defeated Rod Fenton of Edmonton, Canada, in the main event, the bout lasting 38 minutes.

LaBell was caught in an arm lock and stomp after three minutes of the first fall by Fenton, but in the next set-to the fighters went 25 minutes before Fenton was stopped with a punishing knee lift and smother.

Appearing faster and more able to take punishment, LaBell took but 10 minutes of the third fall before stopping Fenton with a drop kick and smother.

Cummings Wins

Billy Fox and Bob Cummings went all three falls of their first event, with Cummings taking the final fall and the match.

Fox opened strong, throwing Cummings with a flying tackle and smother after 10 minutes of the bout, but Cummings took the next two.

An inside cat toehold was the weapon used to defeat Fox, and Cummings won the second fall in 17 minutes and the final in three minutes with the hold.

The match was clean throughout, and Fox proved to be a speedy, but outmanned opponent for the Oregonian.

Close Race Foreseen In SWC Basketball

DALLAS, Dec. 21. (AP)—Another multiple championship may be in store for Southwest Conference basketball fans this season.

On paper it appeared today that two of last season's three co-champions might turn in a repeat performance.

That would be Arkansas and Baylor, who at this stage of the pre-season warmup schedule seem to boast an edge in manpower over the five other conference teams.

Rice, the third member of last winter's top-ranking trio, was figured among the also-rans, with the principal challenge expected to come from fifth-place Southern Methodist, a tough team that lost some close ones a year ago.

Texas, another perennial challenger, doesn't figure to be in the running, while Texas A&M and Texas Christian loomed as possible dark horses despite miserable showings last season.

San Jose State Preps For Raisin Bowl With Stiff Scrimmage Drill

SAN JOSE, Calif., Dec. 21. (AP)—San Jose State college's football players banged into each other in stiff scrimmage today for their Raisin Bowl game with Texas Tech in Fresno, Dec. 31.

It was the third successive practice in which contact work has been employed. The Spartans concentrated on both pass offense and defense.

Coach Bill Hubbard said his pass patterns need considerable improvement if they are to click against the Texans. It was the first time this year the squar has gone through three days of practice without an injury.

COACHES TO MEET

FORT WORTH, Dec. 21. (AP)—Directors of the Texas High School Coaches association will open a three day meeting here Thursday morning and at that time they'll be extended an invitation to hold their annual coaching school here next August.

Weather Slows Raider Workout

Cold weather forced Coach Dell Morgan to send the Texas Tech football team through a short workout Wednesday at Jones stadium, and a strong wind took most of the pep out of the 36 players.

Practice will continue today, with a morning skull session on tap and a drill on the field at 3 p.m. Following a brief drill Friday morning the team will be free until Monday for Christmas holidays.

Yesterday offensive plays were run through, and a little defense against San Jose plays came in for attention.

Coach Morgan said that Tech and the Spartans used about the same formations, and that he had noticed several plays used by both teams were almost the same.

Both squads use the T-formation, man-in-motion and other variations of the standard T.

Coach Morgan said the difference in the two teams might be in passing, with San Jose rated better than the Raiders in this department.

No injuries have cropped up in the Raider camp. All players are looking forward to the Dec. 31 Raisin Bowl date and are working hard to insure a Texas Tech victory.

Mexia Has Well-Balanced Club

Black Cats Possess Unmarred Record

MEXIA, Dec. 21. (Special)—Littlefield's Wildcats will bump into what appears to be a solid, well-rounded club when they go against the Mexia Black Cats in the state Class A football finals Monday at Abilene.

The Black Cats, coached by former Texas Tech grid star Ty Bain, are the only unbeaten, untied Class A team in Texas. Scoring 383 points to the opposition's 64, they have racked up 14 consecutive wins this year. One of these was an impressive 26-6 verdict over New Braunfels, pre-season favorite to capture the Class A crown.

Good Ground Defense

Mexia's line, averaging 169 pounds per man, will be outweighed about 11 pounds per position by the vaunted Littlefield forward wall, but the Black Cat forwards are confident that they can check the South Plainsmen's terrific ground game. Mexia has given up an average of only 65 yards rushing per game this year, and stopped heavier New Braunfels' heralded attack stone cold.

The Black Cat backfield is considerably lighter than the Littlefield secondary, but is extremely versatile. Sparkplug of the group is Derrell Carlile, 166-pound fullback who twice has won all-district honors in 20-A. Although slowed by an injured ankle, Carlile has rolled up 1250 yards net on 226 carries from scrimmage in 14 games, with 19 touchdowns to his credit.

Cain Top Passer

Other top leather-luggers on the Mexia squad are Halfbacks Bobby Duke, 145, and Bruce Outlaw, 155. Each has averaged better than five yards per try through the season.

Garland Cain, beanpole quarterback who stands six-three and weighs only 140 pounds, directs the Black Cats' T-formation attack. In four playoff games, Cain (whom many observers rate as a better high school passer than Ernie Lain, the ex-Rice star who also was a Mexia product) has tossed eight touchdown aerials. In view of Littlefield's unimpressive pass defense record, some observers think Cain's passing holds the key to Mexia's chances of victory Monday.

Boast Good Record

Since dropping from Class AA into Class A in 1944, Mexia has compiled a record of 32 wins and four losses in Class A play. The Black Cats have won four district titles and two regional crowns during that six-year span.

Bain, captain of Texas Tech's 1941 team and one of the Border conference's all-time great blocking backs, took over as head coach at Mexia (where he lettered in 1932-33) last season. Although he started with just one letterman, Carlile, he produced a team that won eight and lost only two. One of the defeats was a 19-7 trouncing administered by Huntsville in the district playoff.

Five All-District Stars

This year's mark of 14 straight wins gives Bain an overall record of 22 triumphs and two defeats in his two seasons as Black Cat mentor. His 1949 club has brought forth some outstanding individual stars, including five all-district selections—Carlile, Duke, Guards Willie Lambert and James McKissick, and Tackle Robert Cashion. Carlile and Cashion also made the 1948 all-district team.

Despite a bruising game in last week's 7-6 win over Uvalde in the semifinals, Mexia's squad is expected to be near top physical condition for the championship clash with Littlefield. Bain said this week that while five of his players needed medical treatment after the Uvalde scrap, none of the injuries were serious, and the entire squad should be ready to go Monday.

Mexia's 1949 record:

Mexia 33, Mart 6.
Mexia 18, LaVega 7.
Mexia 45, Athens 0.
Mexia 33, West 0.
Mexia 27, Marlin 0.
Mexia 38, Hearne 6.
Mexia 18, Teague 0.
Mexia 26, Franklin 6.
Mexia 20, Groesbeck 7.
Mexia 16, Huntsville 13.
Mexia 23, LaVega 7.
Mexia 53, Grand Saline 0.
Mexia 26, New Braunfels 6.
Mexia 7, Uvalde 6.

BY CHOC HUTCHESON

While re-reading Harry Stuhldreher's book, "Knute Rockne, All-American," I recently ran across a couple of amusing Rockne "after-dinner" anecdotes that are well worth passing along.

Since there's still the flavor of football in the air, this is as good a time as any, so here goes:

The first is Rockne's story about a game between two negro grid teams. As The Rock told it, one of the elevens had a quarterback who rattled off signals in this manner: "Six million, seven hundred and eighty-four thousand, four hundred and fifty-six," whereupon the play would be run.

Continuing with Rockne's own words, the story goes: "Late in the second period, a halfback on this team was knocked out . . . Immediately, on the bench, a big, strapping man unwrapped himself of his blanket and overjacket and began prancing up and down the sidelines with the leg action of an antelope, took his final instructions from the coach and flew madly onto the field . . . After his entrance, the quarterback began his usual chant: 'Seven million, two hundred and forty-three thousand'—only to have the eager substitute interrupt, 'Don't bother about no signals, man, just pass me the ball and interference, follow me!'"

Another yarn that helped gain Rockne fame as a speaker was this one:

"During an important game, a friend of mine was sitting beside one of the 'second guessers' of the alumni, who was slightly inebriated and did not hesitate to tell my friend what play the quarterback should call.

"With the ball in Notre Dame's possession on their own 33-yard line, with a first down, the informant said, 'Quarterback should call for a line buck now.'

"Instead, the quarterback called for an off tackle play which gained 15 yards.

"Whereupon the inebriated spectator muttered, 'Since that play was good, he oughta follow it up with the same one. Keep hitting that spot.'

"But the defense was shifted, so the quarterback sent his fullback through center for nine yards.

"The alumni coach then stated, 'Well, he has second down and one to go, he should come back with another line play like that so he'll be sure to get his first down.'

"But the quarterback, noticing that the defensive backfield had closed in, faked a line play, stepped back, and tossed a pass to one of his men who was clearly in the open and who went on to the four-yard line before he was downed.

"By this time, my friend was thoroughly disgusted with the advice from the inebriated fellow beside him, so he turned to the alumni coach, and sarcastically asked, 'What would you do now, pal?'

"To which the other replied, 'I've gotten that quarterback down that far, so the hell with him. Let him get the rest of the way himself!'"

Marlin Smith, jr., ex-Lubbock squadman, now is a member of the TCU varsity travelling squad which recently completed a tour of the Midwest. . . Pancho Gonzales still hasn't found the key to beating Jack Kramer, who holds a 31-5 edge in the pro tennis tour featuring the two Californians . . . As an avowed exponent of wide-open, entertaining football, I'm glad to see Otis Douglas take over as head coach at Arkansas. Douglas himself is on the conservative side, but it's a surefire bet that he'll give fans a better show than did John Barnhill, whose offensive attack wasn't very exciting even when the Razorbacks had such individual stars as Clyde (Smackover) Scott in the backfield . . . What'll-they-think-of-next dept.: California colleges now are having their student body cheering sections attired in similar garb. Imagine, if you will, 10,000 collegiate Eds and Co-eds dressed in matching sweaters and beanies' . . . The instructor roster also includes Paul Richards, Jack Knott, Al Vincent and Hap Morse. Tuition is $100 with sleeping quarters available at $4.50 a week and good food obtainable at boarding house prices . . . Byron Gilbreath, coach of the Austin College Kangaroos who bowed to Texas Tech last night, was a member of Coach Berl Huffman's 1940-41-42 cage units which lost only one home game in three seasons. He was Tech's high scorer in 1942, and received honorable mention for the Little All-America quint that year.

Young Abilene Tornado Victim To Be Able To Walk With Braces

DALLAS, Dec. 21 (AP) — It will take months of training, but Mina Ladell Person, 11, victim of the tornado which struck Abilene in October, will be able to walk again, although she will require braces. But her best method of getting around still must be a wheel chair.

That was the opinion today of a staff member of Scottish Rite Children's hospital, noted for its aid to crippled children. The staff member asked that his name be withheld.

Mina suffered a back injury in the tornado. It paralyzed her legs. Until a week ago she was in an Abilene hospital.

"She got very good care in Abilene," said the staff member in charge of her case. "Her condition is good and continues to be good."

He said that she would receive exercises in the Dallas hospital and probably will be able to walk with braces. The doctor said it may take months of training but the exact length of her stay in the hospital must await developments.

The doctor reported that there was no hope that she would be able to use her legs normally again.

Her main method of getting around probably will be a wheel chair, he reported. She will be able to walk, he estimated, but such movement will be slow.

Natural Gas Firm Files New Brief On Proposed Pipeline

SANTA FE, N. M. Dec. 21 (AP) — An oil conservation commission spokesman said today a new brief filed by El Paso Natural Gas company gives the firm a stronger case for building the San Juan pipeline. The firm asks approval for the 451-mile line to Topock, Ariz.

The spokesman said the new brief "shows that the company now controls more acreage and more proven reserve than it did when the application was first filed."

A 10-mile federal line to Gallup, N. M., would supply about 1,500,000 cubic feet of gas a day. Arizona towns also would be served, the brief says.

The rest of the 168,000,000 proposed cubic feet daily would be picked up at Topock by the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. for industrial use in California.

The El Paso firm has a line across southern New Mexico and southern Arizona to Los Angeles.

The fourth FPC hearing on the San Juan line will be in Washington Jan. 4. New Mexico and Arizona both have intervened in behalf of the line, noting that a $43,000,000 development program probably would be touched off if the line is okayed.

Burk To Captain Rebel All-Stars

MIAMI, Fla., Dec. 21 (AP) — Adrian Burk, Baylor's passing star, and Lionel (Red) Noonan, Alabama's plunging fullback, today were named co-captains of the Southern squad which will tangle with the North team in the Shrine's College All-Star football game here Monday night.

Players selected the co-captains and Miami's Coach Andy Gustafson called it a good choice.

"Both are fine competitive players and leaders," he said.

Baylor's Coach Bob Woodruff, who is helping Gustafson, had special praise for Burk.

"You can call him another Sammy Baugh," Woodruff said.

Burk will do most of the punting for the South and also may be counted on to carry the ball in addition to his passing duties.

Noonan will alternate at fullback with Miami's Whitey Campbell on offense and also is expected to play defense.

Irish Stars Arrive

The Rebel squad went through two more workouts today, with plenty of running and passing. Burk, Jim Powers of Southern California and Vic Vaccaro of Florida did most of the passing.

Six Notre Dame players joined Coach Herman Hickman's North squad and went through their first drill session.

Bill Wightkin, Notre Dame end, injected new life into the squad with his cheers in the huddle.

Other Notre Dame players who arrived today were Halfback Larry Coutre, Tackle Ralph McGehee, Fullback Mike Swistowicz, Guard Bob Lalley and Center Walter Grothaus.

Hickman warned his players after practice that "the next 48 hours are going to be our toughest."

The game is expected to draw close to 50,000 in the Orange Bowl stadium, with kickoff time 7:15 p.m. (CST).

Increase Reported In U.S. Daily Crude Oil Production

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Daily average crude oil and lease condensate production in the United States increased 20,850 barrels last week, the American Petroleum institute reported today.

The total daily average was 5,000,150 barrels, compared with 5,697,300 a year ago.

Refineries operated at 83.6 percent of potential and ran 5,389,000 barrels of crude oil to stills daily. The previous week's operation was 81.2 percent of capacity with 5,234,000 barrels run to stills daily. A year ago runs were 5,766,000 barrels a day.

United States heavy fuel oil production was estimated at 8,056,000 barrels last week, 7,853,000 the previous week and 9,490,000 a year ago.

Light fuel oil production was 7,263,000 last week, 7,037,000 the previous week and 7,571,000 a year ago.

Gasoline production in the United States was 18,329,000 barrels, compared with 18,219,000 barrels the previous week.

SANTA CLARA UPSET

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 21. (INS) —Xavier university set back the highly-touted Santa Clara basketball team, 76-41, tonight, marring the Westerners' opening game of an Eastern tour.

Fesler Denies Resignation

PASADENA, Cal., Dec. 21 (INS) — Ohio State university's capable football coach, Wesley Fesler, protested vehemently today that although he was "weighing" an offer to go into private business he most certainly had not resigned as mentor of the Buckeyes.

The former Ohio All-American declared:

"If I've resigned, I would be on a Christmas shopping tour with my wife."

Fesler, interviewed during the Buckeye practice session today in Pasadena's Brookside Park, appeared incensed over a report from Columbus that he had tendered his resignation. He said:

Mad About Rumor

"I'd like to find out who wrote that story from Columbus reporting my resignation. It is a lie. I'm not embarrassed—just mad at something I never said."

Fesler admitted that he had business offers, "which I am weighing," but that he was in no position to make a decision until after the Rose Bowl game on Jan. 2 with the University of California.

"When the proper time comes we'll let the news out to everybody at the same time," he said.

Richard Larkins, director of athletics, told International News Service that Fesler had not said anything to him about any intention to quit. Larkins added:

Year To Year Basis

"Fesler is on a year to year basis with Ohio State. We have a gentlemen's agreement for five years, and he's now in his third year of that. I am sure that if he intends to resign next season, he will speak to me first."

Rumors that the able Buck mentor would resign had been circulated daily in Pasadena ever since the Ohio aggregation arrived and today they were topped by the report from Columbus that Fesler had quit.

Two Offensive Styles

The versatile Buckeyes will operate either from the "T" or the single-wing when they tangle with California on Jan. 2 in Pasadena's annual Rose Bowl classic.

The Scarlet and Grey will have two workout daily until Friday. Thereafter one daily practice at 2 p.m. is planned.

So intensive was Tuesday's sessions that two of the Bucks ended up with minor injuries. Jerry Krall, one of the nation's best running backs, had his ribs and neck jolted in a hard collision, and Curly Morrison, rugged fullback and ace punter, suffered a twisted knee.

Both men were back in action today, however.

Connie Mack Confident His A's To Be Title Contenders In 1950

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21. (AP)—Connie Mack reaches his 87th milestone tomorrow confident his 50th year as manager will find the Philadelphia Athletics in the thick of the American league pennant race.

The veteran leader of the Athletics has picked 1950 as the year to win "one more" pennant before stepping out as manager.

"I know I'm well up in years," said Mack, "But I don't feel them. And I'm looking for real competition from all of the teams next season."

He believes the Boston Red Sox will furnish the toughest opposition because of their pitching. And the Chicago White Sox will be the surprise team, in his opinion.

The Boston symphony orchestra was founded in 1881. It has had ten conductors.

Stage Set For Cotton Bowl Cage Tourney

DALLAS, Dec. 21. (AP)—The Cotton Bowl enters the basketball business this year and officials are tickled over the way things have turned out.

There are prospects of having two undefeated teams, both of national prominence.

St. Louis and Navy currently boost unblemished records. They are to meet what figured to be two of the Southwest's best in the Cotton Bowl tournament Dec. 30-31.

Baylor and SMU were chosen to oppose the Billikens and Tars. At the time it looked like a good idea but subsequent events have indicated the Baylors and Methodists will probably be playing each other for the booby prize.

The Bears have lost three games out of seven. SMU dropped five of the same number. Baylor is a washout intersectionally, having tumbled to Kansas State, Nebraska and Tulane. SMU has been able to win only over Centenary against teams from other areas. The Methodists lost to City College of New York, Niagara and Colorado, dropping two games to the latter. Both Baylor and SMU took hefty beatings. Baylor, for instance, was whammed by 48 points by Kansas State and 33 by Tulane. SMU lost to Colorado by 29.

But seeing St. Louis and Navy is bringing a steady ticket sale.

The first round Dec. 30 pits Baylor against St. Louis and SMU against Navy. The next night the winner of the first night's games clash for the title with the losers getting together for third place.

This will be the first time for the Cotton Bowl to hold attractions other than football. It's a week-long program of events. Monday 32 Texas high school basketball teams open a tournament that runs four days and nights. Interspersed will be amateur ice hockey games between teams from Houston, Fort Worth and Dallas.

The Cotton Bowl football game is Jan. 2 between Rice and North Carolina.

Marchildon Is Trade Topic

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 21 (AP) — The Philadelphia Athletics said today they have no intention of giving up Phil Marchildon to the New York Yankees if the one-time Canadian swifty's right arm is ready for baseball.

Rumors were common when the A's summoned Phil to have his arm examined today at John Hopkins in Baltimore.

The main rumor had it that Marchildon would be swapped for the Yankees' Johnny Lindell if his flipper is diamond-worthy.

Connie Mack, the A's owner-manager who'll be 87 Thursday, said, "There is no talk of trade."

"We brought Phil on from Canada," Mack said, "to find out if he is over his arm trouble and worth signing for next year."

Mack hinted there is a chance he might use Marchildon as bait for a trade if his arm gets an okay. He made it clear he would expect more than Lindell, a lukewarm hitting outfielder last season.

Mercury May Hit Low Of 15 Here

Wednesday night, the mercury stood at 18 degrees at 10:30 p.m. and a low of 12 was expected this morning.

A general trend toward warming up was expected in the Panhandle Friday, along with the slight warmup on the South Plains.

Maximum temperatures Wednesday ranged from a summery 87 degrees at Alice, in South Texas, to a chilly 28 at Clarendon, in the Panhandle.

The state forecast for this morning called for minimums of 12-22 degrees in the South Plains and Panhandle and 20-32 elsewhere in West Texas. For the Red River valley, lows of 20-28 were predicted, with 28-32 in the remainder of the northwest and extreme north portions of East Texas.

The norther that hit the Panhandle had moved down in the central portion of Texas late last night and strong winds played around it.

The front that moved from west to east swept across the northern half of the state Wednesday and was in Louisiana by nightfall. With it came drizzle and light rain.

Reporting on Panhandle road conditions, the Highway patrol said highway 66 was iced over at several points, and that roads northwest and east of Amarillo were extremely dangerous. Wichita Falls weather was reported similar to that of Lubbock—cold and dry.

Balmy weather traveling ahead of the weather front brought record high temperatures to Lufkin in East Texas. At noon Wednesday it was 77, the warmest first day of winter on record. Lufkin had 79 on Tuesday, highest for that date since 1926.

The change in weather at Lubbock brought in fog at 4 a.m. Wednesday, which became dense between 4:30 and 5 a.m. before the arrival of a second front from the west to disperse it.

Plainview at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday was cloudy with fog restricting visibility to three miles, ceiling to 1,000 feet.

A highway patrol report from Plainview at 9:30 p.m. Wednesday said skies were clear, with the mercury down to 28 degrees.

Winter officially arrived in Texas at 10:24 p.m. Wednesday, bringing with it the shortest day of the year. However, the experts weren't sure whether Wednesday or today was the shortest.

They explained that the late hour of winter's arrival divided factors which determine the length of the day, calling for hours of tedious calculation to make a decision.

Speculation Aroused By Elliott Roosevelt And Night Club Singer

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP) — The mother of a night club singer said today her daughter and Elliott Roosevelt are "interested in each other."

The Hartford, Conn., Times quoted Miss Georgeanne (Gigi) Durston today as saying she and Elliott "are very fond of each other."

Elliott and his third wife, Faye Emerson Roosevelt, are separated.

Neither Elliott nor Miss Durston could be reached directly.

Miss Durston's mother, Mrs. Gladys Durston, said her daughter had just finished a six months engagement on a Columbia Broadcasting system TV program.

Santa Claus Arrives On Early Visit To Residents Of Plains

PLAINS, Dec. 21 (Special) — Santa Claus arrived in Plains Tuesday afternoon for an advance visit, at which time he accepted orders for Christmas delivery.

Unfortunately there was no snow, so Santa flew in by plane instead of by reindeer and sleigh.

He was unaccompanied on his trip here this year. Last year "Granny" (Mrs. J. M.) Harris of Plains accompanied the red-suited visitor.

Louis Unmindful Of Proposed Mixed Boxing-Wrestling Bout

CHICAGO, Dec. 21. (INS).— The Illinois athletic commission today refused Promoter Fred Irwin permission to stage a mixer wrestling-boxing match between Joe Louis and Chief Don Eagle.

Commissioner Joe Triner and his associates discussed the proposal and ruled against it.

It seems that no one discussed the matter with Louis. But the International Boxing club said that the Brown Bomber wouldn't consider such a proposal.

U. S. Official Denies Soviet Accusations

TOKYO, Thursday, Dec. 22. (AP) —General MacArthur's diplomatic chief today called "unadulterated twaddle" a Russian charge that American authorities are helping to complete repartriation of Japanees war prisoners.

The Soviet charge was hurled in a letter signed by Lt. Gen. Kuzma Derevyanko a few hours after he walked out of the four-power allied council for Japan yesterday. Derevyanko led his delegation out rather than discuss Russia's failure to complete reparation of Japanese war prisoners.

The reply to Derevyanko was made by William J. Sebald, who is also chairman of the four-power group. The American said the Russian's letter was designed to "throw a smokescreen around his (Derevyanko's) lack of courage—in fact, inability—to face the searchlight of public scrutiny on the probelm of Japanese repatriation."

Return of Japanese prisoners held since the war by Russia has long been a sore point with American, British and Japanese authorities. The Soviets have insisted all have been returned. Sebald told the council yesterday that if this were true it must be assumed that 374,041 Japanese died in captivity, victims of Russian brutality and "disregard for humanity."

Peacetime Record Indicated For 1950 U.S. Pork Supplies

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP)—An Agriculture department farm survey indicated today that 1950 supplies of pork may set a new peacetime record.

The department reported the 1949 fall pig crop at 37,262,000 head, an increase of 10 percent over the 1948 fall crop, and forecast a 1950 spring crop of 62,500,000, an increase of 6 percent over this year's spring crop.

The fall crop compared with a 10-year (1938-47) average of 34,692,000 and a record of 47,762,000 set in the war year of 1943.

The production of pigs this fall and last, respectively, by states included: Texas 1,114,000 and 1,146,000.

Increase In Steel Prices Announced By Major Firm

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 21. (AP)—National Steel corporation today joined the parade of steel producers raising prices with Board Chairman Ernest T. Weir defending his industry against what he called a "very vicious attack by a couple of fellows in politics."

National Steel, one of the nation's ten largest steel companies, advanced prices of most steel products and extras about $3.50 a ton, compared to the $4 advance made by the United States Steel corporation and a dozen other firms.

Weir said National Steel Subsidiaries were reducing tin mill products about $4 a ton, compared to the $3.50 reduction made by other firms.

AUSTIN, Dec. 21. (U.P.)—Gov. Allan Shivers today named Roy D. Jackson of El Paso to succeed the late W. D. Howe as district judge of the 34th judicial district.

The governor also appointed William E. Clayton of El Paso to succeed Jackson as district attorney.

Jackson has been district attorney of the 34th district since 1933, and Clayton was serving as assistant district attorney.

Judge Howe died last week. The 34th district is composed of El Paso, Culberson and Hudspeth counties.

Plane Similar To One Missing Reported Seen In North Texas

DALLAS, Dec. 21. (AP) — The Dallas office of the Civil Air patrol said tonight it had a report that a plane similar to one missing on a flight from Tulsa to Dallas since Monday was seen in North Texas.

H. J. Happel, president of the Happel Construction Co.; C. W. Healey, an engineer, and W. J. Crawley, pilot, all of Tulsa, were aboard the plane.

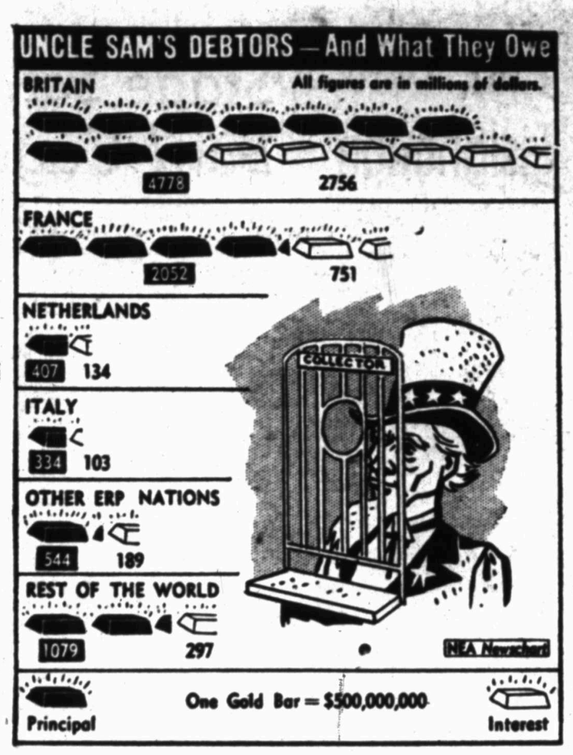

An aircraft similar to the Cessna 170 in which the men weer flying was reported seen flying low and apparently in trouble during very bad weather just southwest of Sherman about 7 p. m. Sunday.

The CAP said it would send approximately 20 planes from six North Texas cities into the Sherman-Denison area of North Texas tomorrow.

Foreign countries are obligated to repay the United States about $13,000,000,000 over the next 50 years, according to the U. S. Commerce Department. Britain is by far our biggest debtor, owing over half of the total; France is next, owing 21 per cent. The newschart above gives approximate breakdown of Uncle Sam's outstanding foreign credits. The figures leave out about $11,400,000,000 in World War I debts, and upwards of $60,000,000,000 in grants and gifts during World War II, for which no repayment is expected.

enough when all the donations are in.

But, regardless of what may or may not come in, all the children on the approved list—some 4,000 of them—will receive a package on Christmas morning containing at least one nice toy and generous quantities of candy, fruits and nuts.

Helpers To Be Needed

These packages will be distributed early Christmas morning. Following tradition, Lubbock people will be asked to do the distributing. Many—as hundreds always have—cars will be needed for this purpose. Those who can help in delivering these Santa Claus packages in person to the children to whom they will be addressed, are asked to please make their Sunday morning plans accordingly.

The Chief Goodfellow will announce tomorrow just where and when to pick up the packages.

Several unusual gifts were received Wednesday. The Lubbock County Sheriff's posse gave $65. The second grade pupils of Mrs. Alice Lawrence in the George M. Hunt school sent $2. A Lubbock business man contributed $250 with the stipulation that his name not be revealed. Barbers Local union No. 781 gave $50.

Other contributions will be welcomed. If there should be a surplus this year, the money never will be used for anything except to provide a happy Christmas for some needy child.

Gifts should be sent to the Chief Goodfellow in care of The Avalanche-Journal, 1211 Texas avenue.

Vandenberg declared.

"In neither respect does it now qualify for recognition."

Vandenberg said that the formula he laid down for recognition of Red China would apply to the "handling of foreign diplomats," a reference to the jailing of Angus Ward, former U.S. counsul general at Mukden, only recently freed by the Communists.

Secretary of State Acheson later told a news conference that Vandenberg's views represented much of the criteria upon which the U.S. is approaching the China situation.

Christmas Tree, Party Cheer Usually Glum Bus Passengers

DALLAS, Dec. 21 (AP) — When the commuters' bus to Carrolton and Denton pulls out of the station tonight, the passengers may be just as glum and weary as usual.

But they may have some smiles left over from last night. It was different.

The bus—on its regular Continental Trailways run and filled with people who live in Carrolton and Denton but work here—was all dressed up like a Christmas tree. In fact, it had a Christmas tree, surrounded by packages, on the back seat.

The passengers didn't even look at their watches to see if they were behind schedule (they were).

They laughed and harmonized on Christmas carols.

And, finally, when the bus lumbered to a stop in Denton, they had a party. They had drawn names for gifts, and they passed them out from around the tree.

Large food markets carry as many as 3,000 separate articles packaged in consumer sizes.

Controversy Aroused By Public Address System In New York

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (U.P.)—New York's first big-time talkie-squawk got under way today.

The question was whether travelers have a right not to have their ears bent by "the big noise in Grand Central terminal."

The terminal, one of the world's great railroad stations through which more than half a million persons pass daily, has a public address system for three months. And for 17 hours each day it has poured organ music, news and weather reports, and advertising over commuters and travelers from more distant parts.

Future Silence Possible

The New York Public Service commission opened a public hearing on the pros and cons after receiving many complaints. On the bench was Commissioner George A. Arkwright. He will recommend to the full commission whether the $25,000 public address system should be shushed.

The commission will decide by a vote.

Kenneth F. Stone, assistant general counsel of the New York Central railroad, which is a co-owner of the terminal, told the commissioner that railroad costs were up 70 percent and the public address system helps pay expenses.

James L. Fly, a former FCC commissioner, spoke for the commuters. He contended that the public address system violated a basic public right—"the right to be let alone." He said a basic freedom was "the freedom not to listen."

Phone Strike

little success. Negotiations broke down at noon Monday after on and off sessions since Oct. 25.

Workers Vote To Strike

Frank P. Lonergan, vice-president of the union's division 20, announced today workers in Southwestern Bell's six state area had voted four to one to authorize officers to call a strike.

"All preparations for a walkout have been completed and we can act within a few minutes," Lonergan declared.

A company spokesman said today the union cannot legally call a strike without giving 30 days written notice.

This view also was held by Vance Julian, chairman of Missouri's state mediation board which administers a stringent state law prohibiting strikes against public utilities.

Law Faces Test

Julian said his office would take jurisdiction if the 12,000 Southwestern Bell employes in Missouri walk out. The anti-strike law, enacted after the 41-day strike by the telephone company's employes in 1947, provides for stiff penalties against unions which strike against an essential utility.

Union officers contend they do not come under the act, which hasn't yet been put to a test. Some light may be thrown on the subject at Friday's conference.

Lonergan said the meeting was requested so that the union could air general aspects of the dispute. He would not elaborate.

Another union spokesman said, however, that purpose of the conference was to suggest action by the governors of the six states served by Southwestern Bell.

gun ambush at his home last May 24.

The auto workers' chieftain was not in the building at the time, but he said he probably would have been if bad flying weather had not delayed his return to Detroit from Louisville, Ky., yesterday. He arrived around 7 p. m. and went directly to his home.

The dynamite, wrapped in gaudy Christmas paper and tied with a blue ribbon, was discovered by two building watchmen after a mysterious phone tip to a Detroit Times reporter. The caller told reporter Jack Pickering that the bomb had been placed in the building.

One fuse attached to the dynamite had burned into a faulty detonator cap and a second fuse had sputtered out an inch away from another cap.

Caller Unidentified

The unidentified caller indicated to the Times reporter that the bomb was intended for Reuther. He told Pickering:

"It was placed while the big guy was in the building."

When questioned regarding the bombing attempt, Reuther said:

"Apparently whoever was responsible did not know my schedule."

Elaborating later in the day, Reuther interpreted the bombing attempt as a "homecoming present for me." He said:

"I have been hitting the Communists pretty hard in the last month."

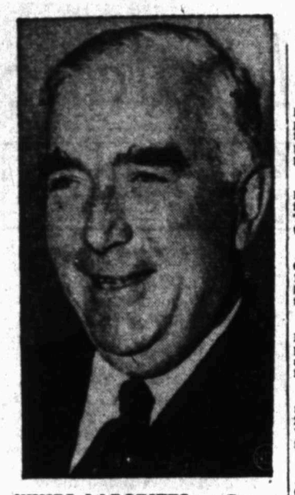

Asked if he thought it was Communists, he replied:

"It could be Communists or diehard elements among employers."

The union posted $25,000 reward for the apprehension and conviction of persons responsible for placing the bomb in the building. More than $200,000 has been offered in the shootings of the Reuther brothers.

FIRE CLAIMS CHILD

SPEARMAN, Dec. 21. (AP)—Stephen Easley, 2 years old, died today to bring the death toll from a fire Tuesday to two. His brother, Lynn, 10 months old, died yesterday. They suffered burns when their home was razed. Still in a critical condition were Donna Fay Easley, 4, and the father, Leon Easley. He was burned rescuing his children.

She said she saw a man driving a car and tried to get him to take her to the police.

She said he told her he didn't want to get mixed in the case, and drove on.

Sims, she said, discontinued his pursuit of her when the car appeared, and she ran on to 2000-block First and called police.

Then Sims, Pharr and arresting police said, went into a residence in 300-block Ave. S and forced a woman there to call a cab for him.

She, Mrs. C. S. Williams, dug her fingers in the man's wrist so that he winced, she said, after he had made her telephone.

Mrs. Williams said the man stalked in without knocking and announced that he worked with her husband.

She told him she knew he did not, that she knew the men who work with her painter husband, who had just left for work.

Neighbor Calls Police

Mrs. Williams said the man then announced that he was a plainclothes detective investigating an "$80(overdraft at the bank."

"My husband does not have a bank account," Mrs. Williams said she told him.

"Well, I knew him in New York," the man allegedly answered.

All that time, Mrs. Williams said, he was chasing her.

He caught her arm and made her phone. Then, Mrs. Williams grabbed the intruder's arm and "dug in".

She ran out next door, when he released her, and a neighbor telephoned police.

Arrest Made

V. P. Stephens and Doyle Clark, police patrolmen who answered the call from the Ave. U address, heard a radio announcement of the second case and answered it too.

City Detectives Lee Rice, jr., and L. W. Forrester entered the case and, about 8 a.m., arrested Sims in bed at his residence. He denied returning to the apartment or making any assault on the woman.

Both women identified him as the man who had burst into their houses.

He told Pharr he is married and the father of two small children.

His wife is in Dallas, he said.

cows and gardens, blamed high pressure salesmanship of luxuries, 'unjust profits" and taxes as "hookworms of low income people."

The Agriculture department meanwhile announced an 18 percent cut in the price support of eggs and officials said they believe this will result in a consumer price cut of eight to 10 cents a dozen next year.

Eggs will be supported at about 37 cents a dozen in 1950 compared with about 45 cents a dozen this year.

Greater Consumption Sought

Secretary of Agriculture Brannan said the action was designed to boost consumption to a level "more nearly approaching the anticipated level of production and at the same time provide continuing inducement to farmers to convert abundant supplies of feed grains to such nutritious foods as eggs.

The department forecast a 1950 spring pig crop of 62,500,000 head, the second largest output for this time of year in history and officials predict retail prices on pork will slump five to seven percent.

Elsewhere on the farm and food front, the department gave farmers an additional month and a half to sell their 1949 cottonseed under the government's "emergency purchase" program and dairy state senators prepared to stage a filibuster and tack on tax repeal amendments in an effort to block the relaxation of oleomargarine laws.

Stalin Hailed

munist leaders from China, Hungary, Italy and the republic of the Soviet Union.

A great cheer went up when Stalin entered the theater in the company of Molotov, Lavrentia Beria and other top members of the powerful Politburo.

Party Is Held

A champagne and caviar party was held at Spiridonovka house in honor of the premier, bringing together foreign diplomats and leading Soviet personalities of stage, screen and the arts.

Stalin himself appeared content to follow his routine work schedule at the Kremlin while the nation celebrated with gay festivals, colorful acrobatic and singing performances, speeches and gala lighting displays.

U. S. Ambassador Alan Kirk and Prime Minister Attlee of Britain were among western officials whose messages of greeting and "best wishes" to Stalin were received at the Kremlin.

Congratulations Sent

Lavish messages of congratulations came from Communist leaders of Europe, many of whom arrived in Moscow to present them personally.

Mao Tse-Tung, Communist leader in China, in a speech at the Bolshoi theater, hailed Stalin as the "teacher and friend" of the people of China and the "entire world" Matyas Rakosi, Hungarian Communist chief, Palmiro Togliatti, Italian Communist chief and La Pasionara, Spanish Communist leader, helped lead the tributes to Stalin.

Marshal Alexander Vasilevsky, minister of the Soviet armed forces, said in his speech the Soviet army, navy and air force "will always be an invincible stronghold of our socialist state." The meeting broke up with the singing of the internationale.

Huge Portrait Shown

A huge portrait of Stalin across the stage served as a backdrop for the assemblage.

Shouts of "Stalin, Stalin" came from the Soviet representatives as the premier's accomplishments in peace and war were praised by the speakers.

(Two sour notes in the Stalin celebrations were sounded in Yugoslavia and eastern Germany. Marshal Tito's newspapers, waging a propaganda war against the Moscow-led Cominform, refrained from mentioning the Stalin celebrations.

((The Berlin newspaper Der Abend reported that 25,000 pamphlets describing Stalin as the "greatest slave-driver" mankind has known were distributed in the Soviet section during the night.)

Articles Written

Molotov's article in Pravda, the official Communist newspaper, headed a list of about a dozen written by members of the powerful Politburo and other Soviet leaders eulogizing Stalin.

He reiterated the prediction that an ecomonic crisis is "maturing" in the United States and other capitalist countries and warned that Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia, the Kremlin's current arch-foe, and a "treacherous clique of hired murderers and spies" are due to meet a "shameful fate" soon.

Molotov also declared that the Socialist victory in Russia has proved the "correctness of Stalin's development of the Lenin theory" that the "victory of socialism in one country is possible."

Molotov Sound Warning

He coupled this with the warning against "imperialists who would forment a new war."

Georgi Malenkov, another deputy premier, declared that it is still possible for capitalism and socialism to co-exist peacefully in the world.

In his article dedicated to Stalin, Malenkov recalled the Soviet premier's words to the effect some time ago and declared Stalin still wants peace.

Malenkov cited as proof of such a desire by Stalin the premier's statement to Kingsbury Smith, European general manager of International News Service, Harold Stassen, former governor of Minnesota, and Elliot Roosevelt along this line in the period from 1946 up to the start of the present year.

PILOT ESCAPES DEATH

MANILA, Dec. 22. —(Thursday) (INS)—U. S. Air Force headquarters in Manila reported today that an American pilot miraculously escaped death yesterday when he crash-landed his jet-propelled F-80 in a central Luzon rice field. The pilot, Lt. Don C. Upshaw, was knocked unconscious in landing but recovered his senses and was able to walk away from the wreck. He suffered only minor scratches.

ends.

"Recoveries of 20 percent o oil in place have been testi fied at 100 barrels of oil pe acre feet. We should be able to increase the percentage of recovery above this very conservative estimate," he continued.

The longtime commission member and veteran exponent of conservation of oil and gas reported the drilling of 2,635 exploratory wells in Texas in 1949.

"This effort resulted in 484 new oil discoveries, either entirely new areas of production or producing horizons in already known oil fields, and 95 new gas discoveries, leaving 2,074 dry holes in this search for oil or gas," Thompson observed.

"Texas and the nation are now amply assured of all the oil needed for the foreseeable future," he declared continuing:

"Texas alone could produce one million barrels more oil every day of the year during 1950 if we could market this extra million barrels of oil. This could be done without physical harm to the producing wells. But what would we do with the oil?

Production Given

"Our 116,000 producing wells in Texas now pour out about two million barrels of oil every day. This is the average daily production for the month of December.

"January production will be a little les son account of the lessened market demand.

"Texas oil wells average 18 barrels per day. The average production for the 438,936 oil wells in the United States is twelve and six-tenths barrels per day.

"Oil wells in South America and in the area around the Persian gulf produce from 8,000 to 15,000 barrels per well per day.

"The import duty is ten and one-half cents per barrel into the United States.

"With imports reported on the increase and our oil exports on the decline, the prospects for 1950 do not look very bright for the oil producer."

Winter Grips

ditions were hazardous in some sections because of ice.

(Power was cut off for some time in parts of Ponca City, Okla., when ice laden wires snapped, the Associated Press said.)

And in Chicago, the weatherman warned that the icy rains and snows would hit parts of Iowa, Wisconsin, Michigan and Illinois.

In Texas, a cold front was moving across the Panhandle, bringing with it snow flurries and an expected low of 12 degrees.

Meanwhile, in Washington, D.C., residents enjoyed temperatures in the low 60's.

Balmy In East

And in New York and the New England states, balmy weather in the mid-fifties characterized the day.

Pennsylvania, Ohio and Kentucky also were unseasonably warm, but the Blue Grass state expected colder temperatures tonight.

In the Los Angeles area, smudge pots were burning to guard citrus plants against the killing cold. Other sections of California were clear and cold with some crop damage reported in the valley regions.

(Palmdale, Calif., reported a pre-dawn of 21 degrees. Van Nuys had 28, Burbank 31, Riverside 28, San Bernardino 29, Beaumont 24, and Santa Maria 28. Growers also kep wind machines going and there were no reports of damage to the multi-million dollar citrus crop The AP said.)

Parts of the Rocky mountain region reported snow flurries with temperatures below freezing.

District Court Jury Answers 50 Issues In Action Here

A 99th District court jury hearing evidence in the civil action of Sam Hallmark against R. E. Graves and wife, returned answers to 50 special issues to Judge G. V. Pardue at 9 p.m. Wednesday after nearly four hours of deliberation.

It was indicated the plaintiff would move for judgment as a result of the verdict.

The action, for foreclosure of a mechanic's lien, sought recovery of approximately $11,000, court officials said. It grew out of Hallmark's construction of a dwelling for the defendants here.

Crenshaw, Dupre and Milam and Davison and Irvin represented Hallmark. Berry and Ball were counsel for Mr. and Mrs. Graves. Pleadings in the case opened last Thursday.

Checks Signed By Hobbs Mayor Require Comptroller's Okay

SANTA FE, Dec. 21. (INS)—All checks signed by Hobbs Mayor J. Paul Heard now must be approved by State Comptroller J. D Hannah "to protect the interest of Hobbs bondholders."

Hannah said today "they've got kind of a mixup down there—their bond retirement funds are mingled with the general funds."

Hannah suspended Heard last summer but the mayor was later reinstated by a district court order.

Recently Heard has refused to sign checks for city employes, and also has refused to sign papers putting into effect the city manager type of government recently approved by Hobbs voters.

FAMILIAR VOICE HEARD

New Venture Records Historic Events, Personalities In Sound

By BOB CONSIDINE
INS Staff Correspondent

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. — A new kind of history is being written in sound rather than by pictures and the printing press, by Edward Murrow and his associte, ex-Sgt. Fred Friendly. It is called "I Can Hear It Now" and it is arresting listening.

Sonic history's volume one, number one, was released last year, with the voices of Will Rogers, F.D.R., Al Smith, Herbert Hoover, Alf M. London, Col. Lindbergh, Churchill, Hitler, Willkie, Stalin, Attlee, Truman and MacArthur carrying the thread of the story.

Their voices had been pruned meticulously from the tons of records and miles of wire recordings they left in their historic wake. In and around their story, men described the burning of the zeppelin Hindenberg, fires, deaths, wars, disasters and — with Clem McCarthy at the mike — the second Louis-Schmeling fight.

Volume two, just released, picks up the vocal history at the point where MacArthur dropped it on the deck of U.S.S. Missouri in Tokyo bay, at the finish of volume one.

This is a volume that looks to man's quest for post-war peace. Man's failure to find it is written in sound from the rumbling, rambling pessimism Churchill showed at Fulton, Mo., to the jet-propelled and prophetic explosions of Winchell, who scooped Winnie on the rupture of the peace, to the shocking hiss and roar of an A-bomb.

Jimmy Petrillo was the accidental father of volume one of "I Can Hear it Now." Talking history books had been labeled poison in the phonograph trade since Edison's time. But Fred Friendly, who conceived the new technique, made his sales pitch (by chance) just as Petrillo stopped the music on records. A big firm shrugged and said, "So what can we lose."

The first was a tremendous success. So is volume two, in which, incidentally, Petrillo plays a role with his vivid appearance before a Senate committee.

Other high spots are Mayor LaGuardia, reading the Sunday comics to the children of New York, during a delivery strike; the Howard Hughes and Hiss-Chambers hearings; poor old Babe's frog-voiced farewell at the Yankee stadium, and the A-bomb tests at Bikini.

But the new volume's high moment, for me at least, is an almost incredible selection of key remarks from the Truman-Dewey presidential campaign, the most dramatic and revealing condensation of months of oratory I've ever heard.

Election Miracle Explained

The antagonists seem to be sitting across a table from each other. The result is eye-opening and explains the miracle of last Nov. 2 in a way which no other medium could hope to solve it.

Murrow and Friendly now plan to devote volume three to the years between 1900 and 1933 and will spend a year in search of voices to fit the words that forged the history of that period.

This is the system used, in effect, by the excellent British answer to volume one of "I can Hear it Now."

The British call their enormously long recording "Prelude to Pearl Harbor." But American listeners, students and collectors will find their ear more keenly attuned to the familiar voices of the two American volumes — voices now preserved forever in a dramatic pattern of cohesion.

Neat Program Devised

Mr. Roberts, not the skipper of a Navy supply ship, but, in this case, the mayor of Providence, R.I., has come up with a neat program for cutting down pedestrian accidents in his town during the holidays.

He has let loose a city employe, with his pocket filled with cash prizes, and given him the name, "J. Walker." The people of Providence are urged to stop likely-looking prospects on the street and ask, "are you J. Walker?" If a person taps the right person, he gets a cash prize. If he doesn't, he has reminded himself about the facts and dangers of jay-walking.

All children in the city under eight are urged to attend, Wayne D. Groce, post commander said. "The party is not for underprivileged children, but for all," he stated.

Besides the appearance of Santa Claus, the cast of the show "Stars of Showtime," now being sponsored by the Legion, will appear with a program.

Christmas Eve Service Scheduled At RAFB

The citizens of Lubbock were extended an invitation to attend Christmas Eve services at the base chapel at Reese Air Force base Saturday night, base officials said Wednesday night.

Protestant Christmas Eve services will be held at 11 p. m. and will be conducted by Chaplain James M. Becker and Chaplain Jared A. Walker.

Catholic midnight mass will be held by Chaplain Frank J. Gilchrist at midnight.

Texans Urged To Divert Liquor Funds To Charity By State WCTU

AUSTIN, Dec. 21. (U.P.)— The state president of the Women's Christian Temperance union today urged Texans to contribute money ordinarily spent on "bottled Christmas spirits" to worthy charities benefitting children.

The WCTU chief, Mrs. Claude de van Watts, called for a "liquorless Christmas" celebrated in the true spirit of Christianity."

She said little children pay for boisterous yuletide celebrations with bitter suffering, hunger and disappointments.

Mrs. Watts also urged Gov. Allan Shivers to issue an executive order closing all liquor stores on Dec. 25 and 26, to help prevent a "wet Christmas."

She further deplored action of some liquor dealers in "desecrating things sacred" by displaying or using symbols of the birth of Christ to promote sale of liquor.

"We recommend a liquorless celebration of the Lord's birthday," Mrs. Watts said, "one that will lead us to a greater appreciation of the Prince of Peace."

Borger Man Killed When Car Skids Off Curve On Highway

AMARILLO, Dec. 21. (AP)— Virgil David Simpkins, jr., 21, of Borger was killed early today in an automobile accident.

His car failed to negotiate a turn near the new Canadian river bridge on State highway 177 north of Borger.

Survivors include his wife; his mother and step father, Mr. and Mrs. S. A. Youngblood of Borger, and a brother, Francis E. Simpkins, Borger.

The highways were very slippery at the point where his automobile skidded off the highway.

The Hutchinson county sheriff's office said highways in the area were covered with ice on which two inches of snow had fallen. The office warned motorists to stay off the road unless travel was absolutely necessary.

"Here's the Day on the South Plains"

Lubbock, Texas, Thursday, December 22, 1949

Tech Management Group Plans Meet

Annual banquet of the Texas Tech management association will be held Jan. 9 in the Hilton hotel ballroom, it has been announced.

John Walker, vice president of Braniff International airways and director of the recent "Braniff States of America" industrial survey, will be the principal speaker. "A Nation Within a Nation," a discussion of that survey, will be his topic.

Besides student and faculty members of the association, many industrial leaders of West Texas have been invited to attend the banquet.

Woman's Plea Ends Boom Of Army Guns

FRANKFURT, Germany, Dec. 21. (AP) — A German woman's plea for quiet will silence the salute guns of the U. S. Army in Frankfurt.

The Army announced today it has decided to abandon the twice daily gun salutes which rattle the windows of houses for blocks around the American headquarters building.

Two weeks ago Mrs. Werner Schnelle wrote the U. S. commander asking if he couldn't at least point the gun in another direction to reduce the force of the blast.

Today the Army wrote her that the salute will be fired for the last time Christmas Eve—except for occasional special military events.

"I trust that you will regard our action as in the nature of an unofficial Christmas present," the Army's letter said. "May the new found tranquil and quiet of your home life presage luck and happiness for you in the new year."

ORGANIZATION PLANS COMPLETED

Sundown Man Is Named Head Of South Plains Engineering Group

By KENNETH MAY
Avalanche Staff Writer

Approximately 60 oil men attended an organizational meeting of the South Plains Sub-section of the American Institute of Mining and Metallurgical Engineers in the Hilton hotel Wednesday night, electing W. D. Powers of Sundown as first chairman.

Next monthly meeting of the infant chapter will be held here Jan. 16, with the national president, Dr. Lewis E. Young, expected to be present. The local group is a sub-section of the Permian basin section.

Other Officers Nominated

Other officers nominated by the nominations and by-laws committee and approved in the Wednesday meeting included Bob Liebrock, Lubbock, first vice-chairman; Cy Helm, Levelland, second vice-chairman, and David Morrison, Lubbock, secretary-treasurer.

A membership potential of more than 120 have already indicated their interest in belonging to the South Plains sub-section. Any professional mining or metallurgical engineer practicing in his field is eligible for membership and may join by contacting one of the officers. The new president expressed confidence Wednesday night that many would do so before or at the next meeting here.

Both active and local membership is open in the South Plains group. Local members will not receive the benefits derived by the active members, but may attend all the meetings, although they will have no vote. Dues for both types of members will be $1 per year.

Johnston Presides

Paul Johnston, Texas Tech professor, presided over much of Wednesday's session as chairman of the by-laws committee. R. R. Shaffer, Stanolind Oil & Gas, and E. B. Armstrong with Honolulu Oil company were the other members of the committee.

Present from the Permian basin section were Lee C. Flood and Joe Chastain, both of Midland. Chastain delivered official sanction from the parent organization and expressed confidence the South Plains chapter will develop into a full section within a short time.

Powers, the new president, is district engineer for Sid Richardson, Inc., at Sundown. A graduate of the Colorado School of Mines, he began as a roustabout for Stanolind Oil company.

The next year's first vice-chairman, Liebrock, is a graduate of the University of Texas and is currently district engineer for Stanolind in Lubbock. Helm, second

Negro Held In Lieu Of Bail On Charge Of Auto Theft

A 24-year-old negro, Tommie Carruthers, was held in county jail late Wednesday in lieu of $1,000 bail set by C. E. Lynn, justice of peace, in a car theft charge.

He admitted in a statement given to A. W. Salyars, assistant district attorney, that he had taken a Pontiac automobile belonging to S. D. (White Child) Lennox and had wrecked it enroute to Slaton.

He said he passed a place in the negro quarters and saw the car, its engine running.

L. W. Wilhite, a state highway patrolman, came by on patrol and arrested him. Carruthers denied having been the driver, but the ignition keys were found in his pocket, officials said.

Northeast Area To Be Studied

L. M. Lockhart of San Antonio has contracted to drill two deep wildcats in Northeast Scurry county.

The first one of the prospectors is to be started by January 7 and the second is to begin operations before May 1, 1950.

Lockhart's No. 1 J. S. Criswell of Graham, is to be located 660 feet from south and east lines of the southeast quarter of section 625, block 97, H&TC survey. That will put it approximately 15 miles northeast of the town of Snyder.

Company Owns Half Interest

Bay Petroleum corporation will have a half interest in the exploration, and in the quarter section on which it will be located.

Castleman & O'Neill, Midland independents worked out the deal for Lockhart to drill the two wildcats. Those operators have several hundred acres of leases in the spread surrounding the location for No. 1 Criswell. Bay also owns considerable acreage in that region.

Drilling at Lockhart's No. 1 Criswell is to be underway by January 1, 1950.

Exact location for Lockhart's second northeast Scurry county wildcat has not yet been selected. It will be on land owned by Susie Koonsman, and others, and on a block which sets in approximately two miles south of the location of No. 1 Criswell.

Included in the Koonsman block are the southeast quarter of section 215, the northeast quarter of section 213, the northwest quarter of section 157, the east half and the southeast quarter of section 157, the northwest quarter of section 156, the southeast quarter of section 217, the northwest quarter of section 217, and the east half and southeast quarter of section 220.

Castleman & O'Neill will be equal partners with Lockhart in the leases in the Koonsman block and in the wildcat which he is to start on that acreage by May 1, 1950.

NEW WELL COMPLETED IN SCURRY COUNTY

Sun Oil company No. 2 Lemon, discovery from the Strawn lime on the southwest side of the northwest sector of the Kelley-Canyon field, in central-west Scurry county, has been officially completed for a 24-hour flowing potential of 110 barrels of oil, and no formation water.

Gravity of the oil was 39 degrees. Gas-oil ratio was 790-1. Flowing tubing pressure was 50 pounds. Casing pressure was 950 pounds.

The production is from open hole in the Strawn lime between 7,665-80 feet. The flow on the potential test was through a one-quarter inch tubing choke.

Tech Conducts Study Of Feeds

Sorghum silage has indicated a superiority to cottonseed hulls for steer feeding purposes during the first 28 days of an experiment at Texas Tech, Dean of Agriculture W. L. Stangel announced Wednesday.

An average gain of 3.09 pounds per animal during the first period of the experiment was recorded for a sorghum diet as compared to 1.94 pounds for a cottonseed hull ration.

Prior Tests Made

This is not the first experiment conducted at Tech into the merits of the two rations, Dean Stangel said, but rather an attempt to detemine what mixture of the two, or straight diet of one, will produce the best results for the least money and time. Cost tabulations will be compared later.

Six lots of 10 yearling Herefords each are being used in the research. Animals in two lots are fed straight rations, respectively, of silage or hulls; one is given a half and half mixture; one 75 percent silage and 25 percent hulls mixture, one 75 percent hulls and 25 per cent silage and one is fed cottonseed huls alone without any grain.

Supplement Also Used

In all lots except the last, the animals are fed a dry-lot supplement of milo chop, cottonseed meal, and alfalfa hay. The milo is taken out for the last lot.

The experiment will last a total of 140 days. Dean Stangel said.

Man Reports Robbery Of Cash, Clothing To Police In Lubbock

Police said a man identifying himself as Bob Hooker and listing his address as a cot house on Ave. F, told them that he was robbed late Tuesday by a man and a woman who took his money, shoes and hat and "disappeared."

Hooker said he met the man at an East Lubbock cafe and was invited to "take a drink" with him. The two had worked together, but he did not know the man's name, Hooker said.

The two went to a tourist court in 100-block College Ave. The woman was there, and was introduced as the other man's wife. The complainant said.

Hooker said he took several drinks and remembered nothing else until he awakened this morning, half-frozen in the cabin.

SANTA LIFTS HELPING HAND—Little Linda June Belcher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Belcher of Seagraves was in Lubbock this week with her mother to do some shopping and Santa Claus came by them on his way to make a visit to The Avalanche-Journal, where a group of school children had called to donate their pennies to the Goodfellows. Linda June just wouldn't pass by without paying the merry old gentleman a personal call. So her mother had to bring her up to the editorial rooms for a visit. In the picture above, Linda June is happy as can be as Santa helps her back down the stairs. (Staff Photo.)

Central Baptist Sunday School Departments Present Program

Sunday school departments of the Central Baptist church, 1309-11 Eighteenth, presented a Christmas program Wednesday night at the church.

While a young person's choir sang, the Beginners' department re-enacted "Away In A Manger," in pantomime, with the Primary department following with "Silent Night," and the Junior department next in "O Little Town of Bethlehem."

The Senior department presented a play in pantomime, "The Queen of Days," pertaining to Christmas.

Several of the group recited Christmas poems, including three-year-old Kenny Gideon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jean Gideon, 2426 North Third, who recited "The Night Before Christmas."

New Site Urged For Air Academy

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (Spl.). Another Texas military post today was added to the list of Texas applicants for the location of the proposed air academy.

Rep. Paul J. Kilday, San Antonio, has urged the Air Force site selection board to pick Camp Bullis, 19 miles north of San Antonio in the direction of Fredericksburg.

In San Antonio Area

Camp Bullis, an old Army maneuver ground near Leon Springs, was used for training Army officers during the first World War. It is connected by a military highway with Randolph field, Brooks field, and Kelly field in an encirclement of the metropolitan area of San Antonio, and is easily accessible from Fort Sam Houston.

It has 14,000 acres as compared with the 9,000 which the site selection board requires, and it already is owned by the government. The camp is inactive.

Education To Be Stressed

Kilday put forward Camp Bullis after the Air Force announced a change in plans for the air academy, preferring an educational type of institution rather than an air field principally.

Originally, Kilday had sponsored Randolph field, which he says is still his choice if he can persuade the Air Force to go back to its original plan and establish an Air Force graduate school.

Other Texas applications being pressed for consideration are El Paso, Fort Worth, Bryan, Alice, and another not named. Dallas is being considered, too, for it has been asked by the Air Force to bid if it wanted the site. Locations near Fort Worth recently have been looked over by preliminary engineering survey teams.

An Unhappy Prospect

THE President's determination, expressed several times recently, to press for action on his so-called "civil rights program," when Congress convenes next month has highlighted the prospects for a session of little achievement.

The opposition to the Truman left-wing program unquestionably will be vigorous. A virtually certain Senate filibuster might drag the debate out almost endlessly. And the congressional session is sure to be shorter than usual because most congressmen will be running for reelection next year and will be anxious to get home to direct their campaigns.

If Mr. Truman insists upon a showdown on "civil rights," Congress won't have time for much other business. And the outcome of his pet bills would be doubtful. Many congressmen from doubtful states won't oppose the program openly and won't vote against it. But they'll do everything they can behind the scenes to avoid a showdown because, personally, they are just as much opposed to the program, and particularly to the FEPC, as any Southern Senator or Representative.

Mr. Truman knows better than anyone else that his hardheaded insistence upon socialistic legislation will interfere with the orderly procedure of business in the Congress. He also knows that his insistence will cost the taxpayers a great deal of money because wrangling over his measures will keep Congress in session much longer than otherwise would be the case. But being a politician of the old school, the President is not primarily concerned with either efficient, or economical government. His primary concern is to attempt to attract votes. And he undoubtedly believes that by yelling for the rights of minorities over the rights of the majority he will hold the Northern left-wingers and city machines in line and the Southerners will continue to be politically hidebound to strike back.

This, however, does not affect the fact that the decision is up to the President on whether the "civil rights" controversy is to become the barrier to a session of Congress which, without this obstacle, might do a great deal of constructive work.

Taking Inventory

THE 70th birthday anniversary of Josef Stalin on yesterday naturally was not celebrated extensively in the free nations. The Communists in most of those nations, including the United States, observed the event—a privilege allowed them, and which they flagrantly abuse, because of their residence in the democracies they are striving to destroy.

But, while the occasion was not one for celebration by liberty loving peoples, it made an appropriate time for frank consideration of certain unchallenged facts.

Josef Stalin now has been the ruler of Russia and world Communism for 26 years. No autocrat in history ever has experienced more complete power. None ever has been the dictatorial ruler of as many people. None has been the symbol of varying degrees of fear, dread and apprehension among so many outside his actual domination.

He has brought under his sway every nation which could be subjugated by persuasion or force—usually by force. He has been the undisputed mastermind behind all the disturbances his adherents could cause in the nations which have refused to submit to him.

At 70, he is not satisfied with the power he holds. On the contrary, his ambitions as to the future make achievements of the past appear small by comparison. He and Communism acknowledge they are aiming for nothing less than global rule. Nor is the prospect made more cheering by conviction that, regardless of what may happen to Josef Stalin, Communism still will strive to carry on.

Observance this week, if not celebration, of the Stalin birthday thus is appropriate among liberty-loving peoples. But it should be the sort of observance which will be dedicated to the strengthening of the defenses of the freedoms that Stalinism would destroy.

He is a rare man who won't stop to pick up a girl who falls for him.

Ready To Throw Her Into High

XXXIII

WHEN Charlie Reddy opened his eyes once more, his first sensation was one of surprise—that he was still alive, surprise that, apparently, not much time had elapsed, and that Tom O'Neill was still in the workshop with him. His head throbbed with a regularity that paced his heartbeat and sickened him with its monotony and persistence.

Tom was looking down at him with a dull, expressionless face.

"I was going to kill you Charlie. I was going to kill you, Charlie. But I was too tired."

Reddy suddenly felt a surging desire to live. He struggled up onto one elbow and passed his hand exploringly over his face—it was still there. He got to his knees, then, and rested his weight for a moment on his heels. He marshaled his mental forces slowly as he stood up. The light touch, he decided would be best.

"Lucky for me, Tom," he said thickly. "Glad you were too tired. What happens now?"

Tom shook his head. "I don't know. I was standing here thinking: shall I kill him, too? And then, I said: Tom, you're too tired. Too tired, now."

"You killed Nell and Martin Falter?"

Tom nodded. "Nell and Falter and Andreyvitch." Tears overflowed onto his cheeks, "Poor old Andreyvitch!"

"Andrey Yakov isn't dead, Tom."

Tom shook his head sadly, "Yes, he is. Andreyvitch is dead. I did it myself."

Reddy didn't argue. "Why did you kill Falter, Tom?"

"Falter was a blackguard, he belonged dead. He took my wife away from me. And he took my money away from me. Almost $15,000 he took away from me. Five hundred dollars a month I paid him. Fifteen thousand dollars and Nellie. And he laughed at me, called me names. A drunkard, he called me, and a—a silly old many trying to keep a young wife. I'm not old; 48 isn't old."

Tom covered his face, trying to muffle his coughing sobs.

"Why did you kill Nellie, Tom?" Reddy asked it gently.

TOM bowed his white head like a nonplussed schoolboy. When he looked up, the muscles in his face were twitching:

"I did, didn't I?" he asked childishly. "I did kill, Nellie?"

"Yes, you did, Tom," Reddy answered soothingly as he took a cautious backward step toward the cupboard. Without taking his eyes from Tom, he reached down and lifted out the other blue figurine. As soon as he held it in his hands, he felt a surge of excitement. It weighed more than the first one!

Tom was nodding his head. "She didn't love me anymore. She was going to tell the police I killed Martin Falter, she said I would go to jail and she would get all of my money. She knew I killed Martin Falter because she found the —" His staring eyes focused on the blue figurine Reddy cradled in his hands. He shook his head chidingly. "No, no, Charlie, put that back. The other one is yours."

Reddy tapped the figurine—it gave back a solid, thudding echo.

"Put it back, Charlie," Tom repeated patiently.

Reddy was wrapping it in a square of cheesecloth. "I'd better take this one, Tom. You're being very sensible about everything you know I'd better take this along."

"Put it back Charlie."

Reddy recognized a new tone in Toms voice. He looked up into the muzzle of a rusty old .45. Tom held the bulk of the heavy gun in a steady hand.

Reddy decided to smile. "Now, Tom," he admonished quietly you want this all over and done with, don't you? You're tired, Tom, you want to rest now."

O'Neill blinked slowly, then shook his head. "Not in jail. There's no rest in jail. Only black, stinking air. No breeze, no ocean, no sunshine. Nothing but black air and loud voices. Nellie was going to put me in jail, and so I killed Nellie."

Reddy's mind pawed frantically through a jumble of impulses: He discarded the strongest one—that of jumping Tom—the man's hand was too firmly on the trigger! His best bet was to talk quietly and think fast:

"Tom I'm not going to put you in jail. No one in Dolorosa is going to put yu in jail. We'll take you some place sunny and quiet where you can rest."

O'NEILL'S eyes had begun to burn like brilliant blue neon tubes. He stood motionless. His voice was still unhurried and positive:

"No. I want to go alone. No one will take me anywhere. I know where I want to go. And I'll go alone. Give me my blue lady, Charlie, I'll take her along with me for a little ways."

Reddy held the figurine toward him, "All right, Tom. Here it is, take it."

Tom shook his head, smiling a little. "Go over there, Charlie, and get a sack from the cupboard. Put the blue lady in a sack."

Reddy eyed the cupboard, he could see a pile of burlap on the lowest shelf. He turned as if to obey Tom—as he did, he fumbled the figurine and it fell with a hollow crash on the brick floor. He saw the hand with the gun drop limply to Tom's side as the white-haired man stared down at the fragments. Reddy felt that it was safe to look and what he saw on the floor widened his eyes. He glanced up again warily, but Tom still stood as though hypnotized by the pieces.

Reddy dropped to his knees to examine the stained wadding that had been sealed within the blue lady.

Looking At Life -- By Erich Brandeis

WHEN I arrived in New York City yesterday I was late for a luncheon appointment; so I hailed a taxicab that had just discharged another passenger.

The driver was sitting at the wheel, grinning and shaking his head.

BRANDEIS

"What's the matter?" I asked. "What's the big joke."

"Gosh," he replied, "it sure is great what a lot of suckers a lot of people are."

He started his cab and began to philosophize—as New York cabbies do so often and so well.

Did I see the fellow who just got out of his cab?

I didn't pay any particular attention to him, I told the cabbie, except he seemed a bit on the flashy side.

"He was just a sucker," said my philosopher. "His fare was sixty cents. So he gives me a dollar bill and tells me to keep the change.

"Who does he think he's impressing? Not me. I know suckers and four-flushers when I see 'em."

He took a minute off his subject to tell another taxi driver, whom he had just missed by an inch, what he thought of him, his mother and all his ancestors. Then he went on.

I shall leave out the quotation marks because I can't quote him verbatim. Your newspaper wouldn't print it that way. New York taxi drivers don't always use printable language.

But I'll give you a general idea. Some day you may want to come to New York and not be taken for a sucker.

Incidentally, what the cabbie told me applies to your own town as well and to tipping (and four-flushing) in general.

People who depend on tips like generous tips, of course, he told me.

But they have no respect for the fellow who overtips.

I say "fellow," because, according to my informant, women never overtip, but usually undertip.

The reason? He thinks it is that women don't care nearly so much about impressing other people as men do.

A woman, he said, doesn't dress up because she's a four-flusher. She dolls up because she's a peacock. (That's what

IN RECENT TALKS

Ike Worries Demos

By RAY TUCKER
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON: — General "Ike" Eisenhower's overnight appearance in the role of a leading possibility for the Republican presidential nomination in 1952 has placed the Truman politicos in a dilemma which they do not know how to solve. They would like to "tear him down" and "smear him," but their publicists find it difficult and dangerous to resort to such tactics against such a distinguished figure.

TUCKER

There is no doubt, however, that the General's recent denunciations of the "welfare state" as meaning a loss of individual liberty and national bankruptcy worry the White House strategists.

The Eisenhower movement was largely responsible for the hurried trip which Secretary Snyder, Mr. Truman's closest political pal, recently made to Key West. It is known that they talked more of politics than finances.

HINTS: The Truman group prefer, of course, an opponent like Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio or Harold E. Stassen of Minnesota-Pennsylvania, having abandoned hope that Governor Thomas E. Dewey can win the nomination again. They think that the President can defeat any of these three men, but they are extremely doubtful of success against the commander of our European forces in World War II.

It is clear to them that they cannot turn loose against General Eisenhower the same sort of "hate" propaganda which the Raskob-Michelson machine directed against Herbert Hoover in early depression days. It would probably make friends for him and enemies for them.

But they will concentrate on his alleged want of political or governmental experience. They will insist that today's domestic and world problems are not the kind that can be handled by a career soldier turned college president. Indeed, it is probable that indirect hints to this effect will be made by Mr. Truman when he delivers to Congrss his message on the State of the Union next month.

JAIL: The resourceful Democratic strategists and propagandists also have another anti-Eisenhower trick in their bag. It is the same one which they used against the G.O.P. in 1948, when they helped to persuade that party's leaders and convention delegates to nominate Mr. Dewey instead of Senator Taft, who might have had a better chance of victory.

Mobilizing friendly columnists, reporters, speakers and departmental press agents, they will try to stir strife among the Republicans. Their theme will be that it would be shameful and ungrateful if the party turned down such old servants as Messrs. Taft or Stassen in favor of such a political interloper as a man who never voted until the New York elections last month. This kind of talk has already been heard in Washington circles.

They also count on General Eisenhower to help their game along by making indiscreet statements that will antagonize vast groups of voters and politicians.

Right now, they think he has already made a serious blunder. They think millions of people will resent his suggestion that "if people prefer security to liberty, they can go to jail."

GENERALSHIP: Two recent developments have contributed to the Democrats' concern over the Eisenhower-for-President trend, for it cannot yet be called a movement. In fact, his sponsors prefer to keep his present and future activities divorced from anything that looks like partisan politics.

The first reason for White House worry is the well founded belief that such an old hand as former Secretary James F. Byrnes is masterminding the scheme to swing many southern states to Eisenhower if he should oppose Mr. Truman or the same kind of New Dealer. They have reason to know the South Carolinian's uncanny cleverness at political infighting and also field generalship.

DIXIECRATS: The strategy would not differ from that which swept four southern states into the Thurmond-Wright column last year, save that General Eisenhower would head the Dixiecrats' ticket instead of two relative unknowns.

In other words, Eisenhower would be named by the Republicans on their slate, and then be picked to top an independent, Dixie party labelled American Democratic or what-have-you.

If the Columbia president can keep in the limelight without abusing it, and if he can maintain his present popularity, his backers believe that he would carry more southern states than Mr. Truman would.

PROCESSION: Supporting this theory is the almost triumphal procession which General Eisenhower recently made through Texas, where he addressed the Houston Chamber of Commerce at the invitation of Jesse H. Jones. The enthusiastic welcome he received there was duplicated on his visit to Galveston, where he addressed another cheering audience.

General Eisenhower originally wished to confine his Houston appearance to a dinner of only 1,500 at the Rice Hotel. But the demand for tickets was so great that, after much persuasion, he agreed to deliver his main address in the Coliseum. For only the third or fourth time since it was built, the hall's 15,000 seats were taken, and there were many standees.

Rightly or wrongly, Texas is classed as one of the states which Eisenhower might carry against Truman.

GERMAN LEADERS REGAIN POWER

Foreign Financial Tieups Hit

By THOMAS L. STOKES
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON.— The files of the Justice department, other government agencies and congressional committees are full of the detailed story of how, after the first World war, directors of great German industries, to make agreements with Giant industry here, in England and France, divided up world markets, controlling production, patents and prices.

Thereby they not only built up their resources for the "der tag" of another attempt to conquer the world but through their profits financed spying activities here and in Latin America. And by the restrictive agreements they limited production of strategic materials by those who would be their future enemies — our country, England and France.

Was Bold Plot

It is a carefully documented story of a daring plot that almost worked. We felt the full brunt of it when "der tag" came and Adolf Hitler, a mere stooge of the German industrialists and financiers, unloosed his goose-stepping Nazis upon the world.

After the second costly lesson, which should have been enough, we pledged ourselves to break up that German-dominated international ring of industry and finance. Our people understood that was the purpose. They have been cruelly let down, as continuing evidence demonstrates.

THE latest is the news from Germany that stockholders of one of the greatest of those industrial empires, or cartels, I. G. Farben-Industrie, now are dmanding that the properties be turned back to the German government for it to decartelize, or break up, into smaller units, of which there would be three under their plan, one in each of the Allied zones of the United States, France, and Great Britain.

What this tells you is that we have done nothing to break up this empire, and that none of it has been sold, as planned, but still is owned by its original German owners. You would not know this from our own officials who have repeatedly announced that this I. G. Farben cartel had been broken up. But the press statements handed out at Frankfort by the protective committee of I. G. Farben stockholders give us the real truth from the mouths of those who know. They have let the cat out of the bag as they start their propaganda campaign to retain I. G. Farben as is and as was.

The proposed new setup would be only a mockery, leaving the cartel practically intact, since the cartelists are very influential with the new West German government that we helped to install. Since the war the Farben enterprises have been operated by former Farben officials as trustees and managers, and the projected scheme would turn it back to them as before the war.

This is where we all came in, back in 1921-22-23 after the first World War.

This new evidence of the brazen effrontery to restore the old order, with which our government as cooperated, comes on top of the recent visit here of Herman J, Abs, the German financier who was one of the architects of the Nazi regime and active in its appropriation of Jewish properties and of resources of other nations overrun by the Nazis, as explained here recently. The Deutsche bank, of which he was a director, was intimately tied in with the industrial cartelists which supplied the war, all a part of that system known in Germany as Nazism and generically as Fascism.

Former Official Visits U. S.

Further inquiry here disclosed that Herr Abs, who already has risen to an influential place in the councils of great Britain and our government in Germany, was graciously received here among officials of various agencies — State department, Federal Reserve board, Treasury, International bank and International Monetary Fund.

Some knew little or nothing of his past history. He was described by one as "a charming gentleman," and, of course, very smart. They knew chiefly that he was a banker, and of the international fraternity which, in the past, has been above governments. He was described by one as a friend of John J. McCloy, our new high commissioner in Germany, which apparently was introduction enough.

THE ties of international finance which has well infiltrated into top foreign policy posts, seem to be much stronger often than claims of wise national interest or wise international policy or than our pledged war aims. The chief influence in weakening our decartelization program in Germany, it may be recalled, was of this fraternity, William H. Draper, vice president of Dillon, Reed and Company, who served until a few months ago as head of the economic division of our military government. Dillon, Reed, like other big financial institutions, had prewar interests in Germany.

The pattern is coming back together again through the influence of those who have forgotten what the war was all about — if they ever really knew.

U. S. Taxpayers Get Nipped By Operation Of Foreign Policy

By SIGRID ARNE
Associated Press Staff Writer

This is a little report on the way our foreign policy can move us quickly, and sometimes unwillingly, over into the cash register department.

It concerns the money we are investing in Israel, but it could be repeated many times over for other sections of the globe.

Ten will get you 20 that not one in 100 taxpayers could name the boundaries of Israel. Yet we are now committed to put at least $130,000,000 there.

Sought National Home

Israel is the new Jewish nation. For generations some Jews have fought for such a national home because of the treatment they got in other lands. Other Jews have argued that it would be best for their people to just settle down where they are and fit into national patterns.

Be that as it may, the U. S. government proposed to the United Nations in 1947 that old Palestine be divided, part given to the Jews and part held as a separate little Arab nation.

That idea won after a lot of debate and after the United Nations had held two special sessions on the problem.

Palestine had been governed by the British under supervision of the League of Nations between World War I and World War II. Finally the British announced they would pull out on May 15, 1948. They did, and the same day Jewish leaders announced the new state of Israel. The UN was still debating what to do about it, but with Israel a going concern the UN agreed.

U. S. Recognizes Israel

President Truman announced recognition of Israel immediately. The U. S. was the first nation to do so. In fact President Truman moved so quickly that there is a persistent story around Washington that he recognized Israel before he received the official announcement of the new nation.

Now we have been asked to help Israel.

The Export-Import bank has already made Israel a loan of $100,000,000. Interest is 3½ percent. The loan runs for 12 years, and Israel should start paying off in 1952. The funds are released for specific projects, and the bank has already allocated $73,350,000. Israel plans programs for agriculture, transportation, housing, communications and some works on ports.

UN Votes Funds

On top of that, this month the United Nations voted to spend $54,000,000 on helping out the Arab refugees who fled when the Jews took over Israel. Most of this money will go to neighboring areas.

The fund is supposed to be contributed by member nations of the UN. When the vote was taken other nations expected the U. S. to put up half the fund, or around $27,000,000.

The fund is supposed to be used in 18 months. There is no assurance that there won't be a second call for money.

The U.S. State department feels that the sum won't come in quick enough to get the work started. So the department's Middle East experts have written a bill which will go to Congress asking that the Reconstruction Finance Corp. be permitted to put out $5,000,000 to tide over the program until the contributions come in.

Santa Claus Asked To Return Missing Father To Family

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (U.P.)—Dear Santa Claus:

Here's a letter from six-year-old Darold Lee Getman, of Hornell, N.Y., a fellow who's got a request for Christmas that may top your list.

He mailed it to United Press and asked that it be passed on to you, Darold wrote:

". . . My brother and I live at 10 Sheldon St. and we hope you won't forget us this year. The present we want most is our daddy to come home for Christmas. He's been gone a whole year and we don't know where he is. Maybe he is even sick.

Santa May See Him

"We thought you might see him, cause you travel all over the world. If you do, Santa, will you tell him, 'Please come home for Christmas?'

"My mommy has been awful sick and had to have her leg cut off so we need our daddy. You will know him when you see him cause he is the best daddy in the whole world. Anyhow, you were to our house once and you and daddy and mommy and my little brother Gerry Dean — he's only two — we had our picture taken together, you'll find the picture with this letter case you forget what my daddy looks like.

Toys Welcome Too

"Of course we would like some toys if you can bring them. I would like a two gun holster set and cowboy boots too. My brother would like a cowboy suit and maybe a Teddy cause he is so little and likes to take a toy to bed with him.

"I hope you can get these things, but the present we want is our daddy . . . anyway make him have a nice Christmas."

Santa, here's the rest of the dope on Darold's daddy. On Jan. 10th, he left his Hornell home for Elmira, N.Y., where he worked for the Hoover company as district sales supervisor. He didn't return. Folks around Hornell — they all thought a lot of Mr. Getman — said they couldn't understand it.

Everybody began to look for the boy's father, but nothing was heard of him until about a week after he disappeared. Then he turned up in Burbank, Calif. He had taken his car to a garage there to have it repaired, but he didn't go back to get it.

Since he's been gone, things have been pretty tough on Mrs. Getman. She became seriously ill and had to have a leg amputated. And just recently, she lost her home.

The local authorities have done all they could to find her husband. Do you think you could help?

Former Fort Worth Man Takes Life By Swallowing Poison

FORT WORTH, Dec. 21. (U.P.)—A 34-year-old Mathis pharmicist took his life here early today by swallowing poison.

An inquest verdict of suicide was returned in the death of Harold Dehnisch. Peace Justice Frank Hurley said Dehnisch, who formerly worked in drug stores here, took the poison while visiting a friend, Charles Graham, who was at work in a prescription laboratory here.

Looking At Life

the cabbie said, not D.

THE smallest tippers are the rich people who live on Park Avenue. That's because they were smart enough to make a lot of money and they know how to take care of it.

The biggest tippers come out of joints. He guessed it must be "easy come, easy go" with them.

What is the right size of a tip?

That depends, he said. He'd rather get twenty cents on an eighty-cent trip from a polite guy who treats a cabbie or a waiter like a gentleman than a forty-cent tip on a sixty-cent ride from somebody who thinks he's a big shot.

Then he told me about going to Vassar College not long ago to visit a girl friend. He took her to a restaurant where a lot of the college girls eat. After the meal he put down a quarter tip.

His girl friend asked him not to spoil the waitress but to give her a nickel. So he laid down a dime instead.

"And the waitress thanked me like I was a millionaire."

We had arrived at my destination. The fare was 75 cents.

I had intended to tip him a quarter.

But after that story I made it a dime instead.

Did he thank me "like I was a millionaire"?

He did not!

Englishman Finds Heifers Untamed

OLDHAM, England, Dec. 21. (AP)—Weary Charles Cryer has sold his two racing heifers—as is and where is.

Now all the buyer has to do is catch them.

The heifers—a pair of three-year-old shorthorn sisters named Rosie and Daisy—are lurking in a 25-acre field.

Two weeks ago Cryer decided to round them up and take them to market. But they ran like gazelles every time he entered the field. This went on for days.

In desperation, Cryer put up a reward of £5 ($14) for their capture. Fifteen men and four dogs chased Rosie and Daisy fruitlessly up and down the field. This also went on for days.

Finally Cryer gave up and sold them, at £30 ($84) under the market price, to dealer Albert Lovell.

"I've got a few ideas up my sleeve," Lovell said today. "Now I'm going to let them calm down a while before I have a go."

Two men who escaped from a Taranto, Italy, jail raided the Governor's house, ate a meal, took a bath, selected suits from his wardrobe and escaped through a window.

Appeals Court Upholds Two Houston Death Convictions

AUSTIN, Dec. 21 (U.P.) — Two death penalties assessed at Houston were upheld today by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

The appeals court affirmed a trial court conviction and death sentence given William Smith, jr., for the slaying of bus driver Leslie D. Gibbins on Dec. 22, 1948.

Smith and a companion, the court said, boarded Gibbins' bus and announced that "this is a stick up." The bus driver gave some money to Smith's companion and while "doing something" with his money changer was shot by Smith.

The court also affirmed a death sentence against Ben Pickett, a Houston negro, who was convicted of the rape of a 54-year-old white woman, which occurred on Nov. 15, 1948 near Sheldon in Harris county.

Former Top State Red Expected To Face Ruling Of Court Today

HOUSTON, Dec. 21. (AP)—A federal judge is expected to rule tomorrow on whether or not the former state chairman of the Texas Communist party must testify in an immigration investigation.

Federal Judge T. M. Kennerly took the case under advisement today after Miss Ruth Koenig, the former state chairman, appeared in court to answer a show cause subpoena.

Immigration officials want Miss Koenig to testify in their investigation of Kurt and Steffi Regina Wittenberg.

The Wittenbergs, Houston residents, have applied for American citizenship papers but also seek to be permitted to return to Germany.

Woman Fails To Testify

Miss Koenig did not testify today at her show cause hearing.

James J. Green, state Communist party secretary, is to appear before Kennerly tomorrow to show cause why he could not be cited for contempt.

Kennerly last week ordered Green to testify before the immigration officials and produce any party papers or documents pertaining to the Wittenbergs.

Immigration officials recommended the contempt proceedings while advising the U. S. district attorney's office Green had refused to testify or produce the documents.

The Wittenbergs testified today in the proceedings involving Miss Koenig and Robert L. Brannan, a factory worker who had been served with a similar show cause subpoena.

The Wittenbergs testified they have applied for American citizenship but that they want to go to Germany and "do not want to return to the United States."

Wittenberg, under cross-examination, said his first move in trying to return to Germany was to apply to the Soviet embassy in Washington for a visa.

He said a steamship company representative advised him that was the proper procedure. He said he fled from the Hitler terror 11 years ago and now wants to return to his homeland.

He did not say where his German home was but Mrs. Wittenberg said her former home was at Hamburg.

Daniel Asks Southern States To Back Texas On Segregation

ATLANTA, Dec. 21 (AP) — Attorney General Price Daniel of Texas has called on other southern states to help Texas fight for segregation in schools.

In a letter to Georgia Attorney General Eugene Cook, Daniel warned that the Heman Sweatt case would affect 17 states practicing segregation. The case is pending in the Supreme court.

Sweatt, a Houston negro, is seeking entrance into the University of Texas. He is asking the Supreme court to reverse its approval many years ago of "separate but equal" facilities for negroes. He argues that segregation itself is unjust discrimination and illegal.

If Texas loses this case, Daniel wrote, the states will "be deluged with law suits for entry of negroes into white colleges, high schools and grade schools."

He suggested that Georgia and other southern states file briefs not on the facts of the case but defending the principle that separate facilities for negroes are legal if they are substantially equal to those for whites.

Scurry County Tests

the Canyon reef lime, and it failed to find production in that zone. It was drilled on down to the Strawn in the hope that it might make a well in that horizon.

Location is 853 feet from south and 1,787 feet from east lines of the southwest quarter of section 205, block 97, H&TC survey. That makes it five miles west of the town of Snyder.

DON AMECHE NO. 1 IN BORDEN RUNS TEST

Don Ameche No. 1 Clayton & Johnson, Central Borden County wildcat, five miles west of Gail, and 660 feet from south and west lines of the northeast quarter of section 30, block 31, TP survey, T-5-N, has run a drillstem test in the top of the Ellenburger.

Results of the investigation had not been received at the time this report was prepared.

The Ellenburger was entered at 9,524 feet, on an elevation of 2,626 feet.

It was drilled to 9,554 feet and a one hour drillstem test was taken with the packer at 9,516 feet. There was a blow of air at the surface during the period. No gas or fluid showed at the surface while the tester was open.

Operator was coming out of the hole with the tool at last report.

This prospector failed to develop any shows for production in any of the formations above the Ellenburger.

FOUR NEW WELLS IN SCURRY ARE COMPLETED

Completion-reports for four new producers in the North Snyder field of Scurry County have been filed with the Railroad Commission of Texas.

Barnsdall No. 2 P. J. Collins, after an eight hour test calculated a 24 hour potential of 975 barrels of 43.9 gravity natural-flowing oil. No formation water appeared. A 32-64 inch choke was used.

Location of the producer is 467 feet from south and east lines of section 40, Kirkland & Fields survey. Elevation is 2,443.4 feet.

L. M. Lockhart No. 1 Rosser flowed natural 502 barrels of 43.2 gravity oil through a ¾-inch choke on a 24 hour test. Gas-oil ratio was 900-1, and tubing pressure 675 pounds.

Pay was topped at 6,718 feet; the total depth was 6,825 feet. A seven inch oil string was set at 6,720 feet.

Pure Oil Company No. 8 C. B. Watley, on a 24 hour potential test, flowed natural through a ¾ inch choke 1,368 barrels of 44.4 gravity oil. No water appeared.

Location of the oiler is 467 feet from the west and 660 feet from the south lines of section 394, block 97, H&TC survey. Elevation is 2,521 feet.

Claud B. Hamill No. 2 L. S. Sentell is the fourth reported completion. The 24 hour potential calculated a natural flow of 2,281.25 barrels of 43.5 gravity oil. A ¾ inch choke was used and no water appeared.

Hamill No. 2 is 467 feet from west and 1,620 feet from the north lines of section 26, block 1, J. P. Smith survey. Elevation is 2,462 feet.

vice-chairman, will be district engineer for Western Drilling company at Levelland beginning Jan. 1 and is a graduate of Dartmouth. The secretary-treasurer, Morrison, is connected with George P. Livermore company of Lubbock and is a 1947 graduate of the University of Oklahoma.

Robbery Probe Launched Here

City detectives and the district attorney's office Wednesday were investigating the complaint of a Lubbock man whose wife allegedly was robbed by assault early Tuesday in a taxicab before she was left in front of her tourist court home.

E. G. Pharr, assistant district attorney said the case was complicated by the fact that a report of the offense was delayed for nearly 17 hours after the alleged assault.

Police reports said Howard F. Wilson, the woman's husband phoned them about 1:13 a.m. Wednesday.

Received Call From Wife

Patrolmen B. A. Dorman and Jeff Earthman answered the call to the tourist court. There Wilson told them his wife had called him about 11:30 p.m. Monday from a place she did not identify, and said she was returning home.

He said she had not arrived when he left for work at 7 a. m. Tuesday.

When he returned Tuesday afternoon his wife was in bed, her clothing bloody.

She had been cut three times on the forehead and beaten and bruised.

She said the offense happened in a taxicab. She listed the first names of two men in connection with the case, one for the driver of the cab and the other for the man she said had attacked her.

Her attacker, she said, is a bootlegger. She described him sketchily.

Mrs. Wilson said a set of wedding rings, $23 in money, including a $20 bill, a set of ear rings, her shoes, slip and other articles of clothing were taken from her.

Stains In Taxi

Police said their investigation revealed there were stains on the rear cushion of a taxicab owned by the company she named, and that two pieces of glass found on the rear floor board also were stained.

The pieces of glass were taken by city detectives early this afternoon.

'Indians' Take War Path On Changing Denison Dam Name

DENISON, Dec. 21 (AP) — There's a battle on in these parts over the efforts of some Oklahomans to change the name of the $60,000,000 Denison dam.

Rep. Jack McGahney of Durant, Okla., who claims to be one-quarter Choctaw, wants to rename the dam "Okachito dam." "Okachito" is Choctaw for "big water."

Denison folks, of course, don't want to see the name of the dam changed.

And now comes another band of opponents—in full cry—decendants of the Chickasaw indians.

Mrs. Frankie Love of Denison, a full-blooded Chickasaw and daughter of a former governor of the Indian nation, said:

"If they want to change the name, let them change it to a Chickasaw name." Mrs. Love said the Chickasaw name for "big water" is "Mississippi."

Mrs. Juanita Johnson of Oklahoma City, daughter of another former chief of the Chickasaw Indian nation said:

"The Choctaws had better forget all about changing the name of the dam."

And Mrs. Love said: "They'd better drop this nonsense about changing the name or they will get in a fight they'll never forget."

Meanwhile, Denison citizens were enthusiastically behind the Chickasaws.

"If they can help us keep Denison's name on the dam," said Mayor Harry Glidden, "I'll proclaim a Chickasaw day here in Denison."

Brawny Brooklynites Line Up To Donate Blood To Young Girl

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (INS) — Sixty-four brawny Brooklynites—including Dodger stars Jackie Robinson, Gil Hodges and Don Newcombe—lined up at a Red Cross blood bank today and played Santa Clauses for a little girl, stricken by a rare ailment.

The blood donors, who included 17 New York City policemen and detectives, were led by Magistrate J. Roland Sala. The 64 pints of blood they gave will help 4½-year-old Linda Pietrafesa in her fight to live.

Linda, who is from Massapequa, L. I., is now in Boston Children's hospital, where doctors are giving her special treatment for the rare blood disease, hemolytic aneimia. She needs a pint of blood a day.

The 64 pints collected today, together with a reserve of 78, will be used to transfer credits to the Red Cross Massachusetts blood bank, which will supply Linda with the needed transfusions.

There was nothing sacred or religious about the American Indian's totem pole. It simply represented his claim to wealth and fame.

Aid Is Given To Parents Of Two Children Who Died In Fire

A fund totaling $64.35 and groceries valued at $25 were given Wednesday to Mr. and Mrs. William M. Carmen, parents of the two children who burned to death in a north Lubbock fire on Tuesday.

J. W. Mount of Mount's garage took up the cash collection from mechanics. Several grocery stores provided the food items.

Funeral services were held at 10:30 a.m. Wednesday at the Parkdale Baptist church for Jennifer DeLois Carmen, 16 months, and her brother, William M. Carmen, jr., 4 months.

Rev. Wayne Randolph, pastor of the Parkdale Mission church, officiated. Burial was in Lubbock cemetery under direction of Sanders Funeral home.

CUT IN FEDERAL WASTE SOUGHT

Plan To Streamline Government Operations Studied By Officials

By FELIX COTTEN
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. — Budget bureau officials said today that they are working on a broad three-point plan to streamline government operations and improve management in order to prune waste and save money.

This program is President Truman's response to the remaining recommendations of the Hoover commission for government reorganization, made last spring. A number of those recommendations already have gone into effect.

Budget officials made no estimate as to the amount of money that may be saved by the President's proposals. But they said their many-sided activities will result in these moves by the President for better government in 1950:

1. Submission of legislation at the next session of Congress to carry out reorganization plans that cannot go into effect unless appropriate laws are enacted.

2. Presentation to Congress of new organization plans which under previously-enacted law will go into operation automatically unless vetoed by either house of Congress.

3. Placing in effect of improved management reforms that can be initiated without legislation or submission of reorganization plans to Congress. This means that no basic changes, reshuffling of bureaus, or transfer of functions are involved.

"Performance Budget" Planned

The "performance budget" proposal, repeatedly stressed by the Hoover commission, will be inaugurated in the budget that the President will submit to Congress in January. The central purpose of a performance budget is to set forth clearly in one place the cost of projects and other undertakings.

The President is seeking to finish the government reorganization job in 1950. Budget Director Pace says he believes this can be done.

Mr. Truman has not yet decided what reorganization proposals he intends to approve. Officials said, however, that preparatory work is sufficiently through to permit immediate submission of streamlining proposals to Congress as soon as decisions are made.

Still to be settled are such controversial questions as whether the civil functions of the Corps of Army Engineers are to be transferred to the Interior department, as the Hoover commission recommended. There is strong opposition to this plan in Congress.

Management Study Stated

Officials declared that the area of greatest progress to date has been in the management improvement program, which they described as a broad attempt to apply management engineering to government operations.

A special 12-man advisory committee, headed by Thomas Morgan, president of the Sperry Corp., is at work on this program.

To prepare the plan, each government agency was directed to list with the Budget bureau its management problems and what it is doing about them. These reports are the raw material on which the management engineers are at work.

The Internal Revenue bureau, the Civil Aeronautics administration, and the Defense establishment already have made considerable progress toward simplifying operations and cutting out wasted effort.

One Killed, Seven Hurt In Car Wreck

RANDLETT, Okla., Dec. 21—(AP) One of eight Sheppard Air Force base soldiers en route home on Christmas furloughs was fatally inured today in an automobile-truck collision north of here on U. S. Highway 277.

The Oklahoma Highway patrol identified him as Pfc. George E. Brown, 17, Chicago. He died in Sheppard field hospital at Wichita Falls, Tex., at 8:10 a.m.

A car in which the eight soldiers were homeward bound was in collision with a trailer-truck driven by Clyde M. Wakefield of Dallas, said Highway Patrolman John Duke.

The patrol identified the injured men as Pfc. Joseph F. Kirby, 19, Chicago; Cpl. Ernest P. Cybulski, 28, Chicago; Pfc. Norman F. Doris, 21, Milwaukee; Warren E. Rosse, 17, Mattoon, Ill.; Pfc. Marion Travis, jr., 18, Peoria, Ill.; Pfc. Don Deacon, 17, Forest Park, Ill., and Pfc. Robert J. Lamar, 21, Chicago.

Doris and Lamar were listed as critically hurt; Rosse, Travis and Deacon as in serious condition.

Bishop Who Tied Wedding Knot For Barkley May Get Married

WINDER, Ga., Dec. 21 (U.P.)— Mrs. H. A. Carithers said today that "romance seems to be in the air" but she refused to give any details about her forthcoming marriage to the bishop who officiated at Vice President Alben Barkley's wedding recently.

Bishop Ivan Lee Holt said in St. Louis today that he "thinks" he and the prominent Georgia club woman will be married.

"We don't have any definite plans," Mrs. Carithers said.

She said she and Holt had been friends for several years and "good friends" since last summer.

She said she and Holt met through church work.

Mrs. Carithers, who did not deny that wedding bells will ring soon for her, said nothing definite can be announced because of the bishop's schedule which includes extensive trips overseas.

Cancer Claims Life Of Youth Who Had Christmas In October

AUSTIN, Dec. 21 (U.P.) — Johnnie Edwards died last night.

He was happy, his parents hoped, with the memory of a Christmas that came a little early.

Three-year-old John "Buster" Edwards died five days before the Christmas that doctors predicted he would never live to see.

Death was caused by an incurable form of cancer.

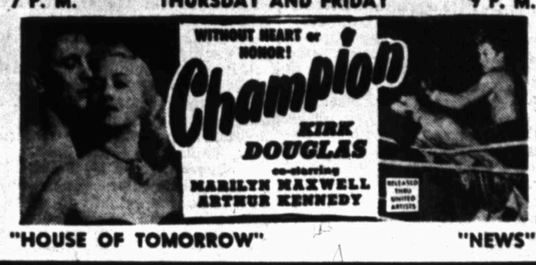

When doctors told his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Echols, that Buster could not get well, Christmas was moved up to October.

The small apartment was gaily decorated. A brightly lighted Christmas tree shown in the living room. Santa Claus made a special visit. Friendly neighbors filled a bulging sack with cowboy boots, a red fire engine and other toys and clothes.

The malignant tumor had caused the removal of one eye.

Buster celebrated, as best he could, his third birthday anniversary on Nov. 25. Doctors said then he was a very sick little boy.

Louisiana Board Of Education Hit

BATON ROUGE, Dec. 21. (AP)—A commission of the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary schools has accused the Louisiana state board of education of violating "all principles of sound administration" in the removal of a college president.

The case is that of the late Dr. Claybrook Cottingham, dropped this year as president of Louisiana Polytechnic Institute, Ruston. He died Aug. 17 in Mexico City.

The association, which determines which colleges in the south shall have their credits officially recognized, took no disciplinary action against the Louisiana colleges under the state board.

The commission's rebuke was made public today when George T. Madison, president of the state board of education, turned over to the board a letter from J. M. Godard, executive secretary of the commission.

In a written statement, A. A. Fredericks, secretary to Gov. Earl K. Long and member of the board of education, said the letter was "uncalled for and is merely face-saving and a smear campaign on the part of one member, M. C. Huntley."

Huntley, a member of the faculty of Alabama Polytechnic Institute, Auburn, is a former secretary of the commission.

Godard wrote that at the November meeting of the southern association in Houston "the decision was reached that disciplinary action in connection with any of the colleges under the direction of the board would not be justified," but that the commission felt its attitude should be conveyed to the board.

Fredericks challenged the statement that Dr. Cottingham was given no opportunity to be heard. He said:

"This letter was not presented to the executive committee of the association nor was it presented to the Southern Association of Colleges. This letter is only from members of the commission within the association.

"No official action of any kind was taken by the Southern Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools."

Dr. Cottingham, who had been president of Louisiana college, Alexandria, for 31 years, was named president of Louisiana Tech in 1941, during the administration of Gov. Sam H. Jones.

In May, 1949, after the election of Governor Long and a number of new board members, the board of education met for the annual election of college presidents. It dropped Dr. Cottingham and appointed R. L. Ropp acting president of Louisiana Tech.

U. S. Airmen Fail To Form Attachment For Dry, Black-Eyed Peas

DALLAS, Dec. 21. (U.P.) — Dry black-eyed peas failed to go over when served at Tinker Air Force base in Oklahoma City, but the vegetable's god-father indicated today the fight will go on.

U.S. Rep. Lindley Beckworth, (D-Tex), sent United Press a copy of a letter from Maj. Gen. F. S. Borum, commanding general for the Oklahoma City air material area, Tinker Air Force Base.

Survey Urged By Solon

The Gladewater congressman had asked the general to make a survey of the acceptability of black-eyed peas with the thought in mind they might become a part of the regular menu.

The general, in polite terms, said:

"This installation normally follows the master menu as prescribed through Department of the Air Force channels, and does not run surveys o ffood acceptability However, in this instance we have deviated from normal policy and the results of a survey of acceptability of dry black-eyed peas made at the supper meal Monday, 5 December, follows:

"Number of personnel messing 512.

"Percentage of acceptability 44 percent."

The general then explained that it had been the practice in the Air Force to use only foods with acceptability of at least 80 to 85 percent. "Therefore," he wrote, "We believe it would not be fair to the troops at this station to serve black-eyed peas regularly."

Beckworth has written military installations all over the United States urging them to try the Southern delicacy which tradition says one should eat on New Year's Day for good luck.

There is some dispute among vegetable advocates whether Beckworth or Elmore Torn of Taylor, the famed grass eater, is the biggest booster for black-eyed peas.

MAN CRUSHED TO DEATH

ANGLETON, Dec. 21 (AP) — Ernest Skucius, 43, Danbury, was crushed to death today when a truck he was painting fell on him. Justice of the Peace Luther Copeland, jr., made an inquest verdict of accidental death. The accident occurred at an Angleton contractor's warehouse, where Skucius was employed.

1,500 Children Turn Out For Yule Party At Dunbar School

More than 1,500 children gathered in the gymnasium of Dunbar school Wednesday afternoon for a tumultuous and cheer-filled Christmas party.

The party was arranged and sponsored by Melvin Steen, owner of four grocery stores in the flats, who each year contributes his time and money to brighten the Christmas for youngsters of that section.

This year he was aided by numerous white persons and businesses who filled the gymnasium with crates of oranges, nuts, candies and other foodstuffs, toys and useful items.

Santa Claus Attends

A Santa Claus was on hand to distribute the gifts.

Brief talks were made by Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Avalanche-Journal, who was a special guest at the party. He was introduced by E. C. Struggs, principal of Dunbar school, who also spoke briefly.

Boy Scouts and students at Dunbar High school who helped with the party were Joe Billy Hewing, Calvin Edwards, jr., R. J. Civens, Eddy Johnson, Ray Blue, Willy L. Sneed, Charlie R. Childress and Arthur L. Jones.

Radford Co., 140 pieces of marble gum, 25 pounds of candy, three gross of pencils; Bill Keith of Mead's Bakery, 3,200 miniature loaves of bread and 5,000 whistles; Freshie Co., toys, caps and novelties; Sunshine Biscuit Co., 10 cartons of candy.

Duchess Of Windsor Offered 'Several Jobs,' Duke Says

CHERBOURG, Dec. 21 (AP) — The Duchess of Windsor "has received several offers" of jobs, the duke said today as they embarked on the Queen Elizabeth for the United States.

Asked if the duchess would take a position at a fashion house, her husband replied no.

"Nothing is settled yet and, if some arrangement proves possible, it will be in Europe that we will live," he said.

"I know that everybody has to work today. I am writing three articles of memoirs which will be published in the United States."

Plans For Merger Of Mexico's Telephone Companies Reported

MEXICO CITY, Dec. 21. (U.P.)—Financial circles reported today that plans for a merger of Mexico's two competing telephone companies have been completed. .

According to reports which could not be confirmed immediately, Swedish capitalist Axel Wenner-Gren agreed to merge Telefonos de Mexico Co., of which he is head, with the Mexican Telephone and Telegraph Co., an International Telephone and Telegraph Co. subsidiary.

The two companies "fused" their systems about two years ago. Before that time it was not possible to place calls on telephones of one company to numbers of the other.

Local business circles have said that Wenner-Gren was anxious "to get out of the telephone business." When he purchased the Telefonos de Mexico Co. several years ago, he obviously intended to try to buy out the ITT subsidiary to gain complete control of Mexico's telephone system.

Those plans fell through earlier this year, apparently, and Wenner-Gren has been "losing interest in the affair" since then.

Oil Import Curb Urged By Texans

MIDLAND, Dec. 21 (AP) — Imports of foreign oil must be restricted, say a U. S. senator from Texas and the head of the Independent Petroleum Association of America.

Sen. Lyndon Johnson and J. Ed Warren of Midland spoke last night at a dinner given in their honor by independent oilmen of the Permian basin.

About 245 oilmen from West Texas, New Mexico and Oklahoma attended the dinner. Among the guests were U. S. Reps. Ken. Regan of Midland, George Mahon of Colorado City and Clark Fisher of San Angelo.

"Legislation to limit the importation of oil must and will be enacted at the next session of Congress," Johnson said.

"If not, the oil man has seen his most prosperous days."

The senator said he would use all his influence to retain the depletion allowance for the industry.

Warren declared: "Oil is more important to the security of our nation than the atomic bomb. That is why petroleum has become the football of international politics and intrigue."

Warren said prime requirements for health in the oil industry are: (1) Incentives to keep large amounts of risk capital, and (2) saving the American petroleum market for American oil production.

Howard Hughes Pays $140,000 For Rights To Broadway Hit; Cary Grant Gets Role

BY LOUELLA O. PARSONS
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 21. — Howard Hughes isn't sparing any expense on Cary Grant's first picture for RKO. He has just paid $140,000 for the film rights to "Oh, Mistress Mine."

From New York Harold Friedman, of the Brand and Brand agency, telephoned me to say that his office closed the deal with Howard for the Terrace Rattigan hit, which starred Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne.

The play enjoyed a 21-month run in London, played 452 performances on Broadway and toured the United States with phenomenal success.

Cary, who I told you some time ago had made a deal for a certain number of pictures with RKO, will be thrilled to step into this lush Alfred Lunt role. However, due to the nature of the script, it will have to be carefully censored for the screen.

New Comedy Is Hit

I had the best time I've had in months when I saw "Francis," the movie Arthur Lubin directed for Universal-International about the talking mule. It's so spontaneously funny.

I suppose you know the "inside" on how Lubin tried to peddle the comedy to top producers and they told him, "how can you make a movie about a mule that talks?

Now Lubin has another "animal" up his sleeve. He has acquired H. Allen Smith's hilarious story, "Rhubarb," about a cat who inherits $10,000,000 and a baseball team! The Cat doesn't talks, but, believe me, he has strange experiences. The first star Arthur has talked to about "Rhubarb" is Bob Hope, and Mister Hope has taken to it like catnip!

Actress Has New Role

Vera Zorina, who has been off the screen far too long, is planning to do a return in "Mike MacAuley," a story about the four GI's who are sent out to blow up a bridge in Italy. On their way they find a swank casino operated by a German officer. That, of course, is where Zorina fits in. She plays an Italian dancer in the cafe.

Fred Finklehoffe, who produced the stage play, "The Heiress," in New York and was co-producer of "The Egg and I," has written the story for Zorina in conjunction with Leo Liberman, former war hero who served in Italy.

Before Zorina makes the move, Finklehoffe will present the play on Broadway and he is hoping to be able to borrow Van Heflin.

Ferde Grofe, the composer who wrote the thrilling "Grand Canyon Suite," has written a new musical-narration, "Atlantic Crossing" — and before the music notes are barely dry, he has sold it to Polan Banks.

Making a movie from a musical composition is certainly something new under the Hollywood sun and Banks says that the script will stick close to the musical mood created by Grofe and the narration by Ethel LaVane, French lyricist.

Truman, Eisenhower Lead List Of 10 Most Admired Men Today

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute Of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., Dec. 21 — The two men who are being most widely talked about as rival candidates for the presidency in 1952—Harry S. Truman and General Dwight D. Eisenhower—top the list of the ten men living anywhere in the world whom American voters most admire.

The American Institute of Public Opinion's 1949 annual "Admiration Derby" shows Winston Churchill, Britain's former prime minister, ranking third and General Douglas MacArthur, fourth.

Herbert Hoover's name also ranks high in the leading mentions, and there are three newcomers to the top ten: Bernard Baruch, elder statesman and advisor to presidents; Vice-President Alben W. Barkley, 1949's most famous bridegroom; and Senator Robert A. Taft, who has been actively campaigning for re-election in Ohio and is prominently mentioned as a possible GOP presidential candidate for 1952.

Here are the results of the survey:

"What man, living today in any part of the world, that you have heard or read about do you admire the most?"

The top ten in order of frequency of mention were these:

1. President Truman
2. Gen. Dwight Eisenhower
3. Winston Churchill
4. Gen. Douglas MacArthur
5. Herbert Hoover
6. Pope Pius XII
7. Sen. Robert A. Taft
8. Bernard Baruch
9. Alben W. Barkley
10. Gov. Thomas E. Dewey

Last year President Truman also lead the list—the 1948 survey was conducted a month after his triumphant re-election. General Eisenhower was second, General MacArthur, third, and Mr. Churchill, fourth. The others were George C. Marshall, then Secretary of State, Mr. Hoover, Governor Dewey, Pope Pius, Harold E. Stassen, and Albert Einstein.

Statesmen Named Oftenest

An interesting sidelight of the survey is that statesmen and military generals comprise most of the top ten.

Although ours is an age of science and inventions, no men who have earned their spurs in science turn up among the leading ten mentioned, although Albert Einstein does receive a good many votes.

Nor are any men now active in business or industry rated in the top group by the public.

In addition to the top ten, the following men in various professions were mentioned:

Politics: Henry A. Wallace, Yugoslavia's Marshal Tito, Dr. Ralph Bunche, former Secretary of State George Marshall, Harold Stassen, James Byrnes, and many others.

Military: General Jonathan Wainwright, General Omar Bradley, General James Doolittle, Admiral Louis Denfeld, Gen. Claire Chennault, Field Marshall Viscount Montgomery, Gen. Mark Clark.

Theologians: Dr. Albert Schweitzer, Monsignor Fulton J. Sheen, E. Stanley Jones and many other prominent and local men of religion.

Science: J. Robert Oppenheimer, Vannevar Bush, Karl Compton, Harold Urey.

Authors: George Bernard Shaw, Will Durant, John Steinbeck, John Gunther, Pierre Van Paasen.

Labor: John L. Lewis, Philip Murray, Walter Reuther.

Radio: Walter Winchell, Lowell Thomas, Drew Pearson, Milton Berle, Gabriel Heatter, Fulton Lewis, jr., and others.

Movies: Bing Crosby, Bob Hope, Clark Gable, Roy Rogers, Lew Ayres, John Wayne.

Sports: Joe Louis, Jo DiMaggio, Ted Williams, Lou Boudreau, Connie Mack, Jackie Robinson, Jack Dempsey.

'World's Largest' Santa Claus Built By Kerens People

KERENS, Dec. 21. (AP)—Kerens has built what it believes is the world's largest Santa Claus.

Everyone in town helped in putting together the 42-foot St. Nick which towers over a downtown intersection, higher than nearby houses.

It took two weeks to build the huge model, which is the brain child of Manager Howell Brister of the chamber of commerce.

Weighs 1,500 pounds

Weighing about 1,500 pounds, Santa was assembled and dressed while lying prone. Then he was raised by a Texas Power and Light company crew.

His dimensions: 42 feet tall, 26 feet around the middle, 14 feet across the shoulders, 13½ feet arm stretch, 84-inch feet. His head, four feet wide and five feet high, weighs 200 pounds. Baylor university art students designed the face.

His beard, made of 1¼ inch rope, was a community venture. Seven-foot strips of rope were placed in barber shops, beauty parlors, stores and other public places. As customers waited they unraveled the rope which makes up the beard.

Uniform Major Project

Santa's uniform was made from 171 yards of red, white and black oil cloth. The white plywood buttons are nine inches in diameter. The belt is 18 inches wide and has a buckle 18 by 24 inches.

Merchants and businessmen scoured nearby oil fields for structural steel to build the frame on which Santa rests. Members of the veterans school and shop, headed by H. L. Ivy, H. K. Henley and Cecil Parker, built the framework.

Two six-foot men were models. They are O. S. Spurlock and Hardy Mayo. Santa was constructed on a 7-to-1 ratio.

Floodlighted at night, Santa has attracted thousands of people to this Navarro county town.

BOND ISSUE DEFEATED

PAMPA, Dec. 21. (AP)— Gray county voters defeated by a three to one margin yesterday a proposal to issue $150,000 in bonds for erection of two exhibit buildings at the fair grounds here.

Reconnaissance Stressed In Ordering Of B-36 Type Planes

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (AP)— A study of Air Force orders for B-36 type planes showed today more than one third of the 10-engine giants will be equipped only for reconnaissance.

This emphasis on target intelligence appears to come from two major factors:

1. The importance of placing each atom bomb where it will be most effective, because of the cost of the bomb and the expense of delivering it.

2. Realization of the difficulty of searching out targets in the one probable enemy—Russia—because of the distance, vast area, rugged terrain, weather and scarcity of information.

The reconnaissance version of the B-36 is the RB-36. It is alike in nearly all respects except that it is not equipped to bomb.

Thus far the Air Force has announced orders for 170 B-36 planes and is expected to announce shortly orders for at least 34 more. Of those, nearly 80 either were ordered as RB-36's or as B-36's to be converted to the reconnaissance version.

The Air Force now has two B-36 groups—7th and 11th—operating out of Carswell airbase at Fort Worth, and is sending planes to the 28th wing being organized at Rapid City, S. D., airbase.

A new branch of science known as X-ray absorptometry, which means measuring the amount of an X-ray beam absorbed in passing through a substance, promises to become increasingly important as a method of chemical analysis and of chemical control.

Oil Lease Rules On Public Lands Given

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21. (U.P.)— The Interior department today announced conditions under which it will lease public lands to oil and gas drillers pending revision of the leasing laws.

Leasing generally was suspended several months pending congressional action on proposed changes in the mineral leasing rules. The department said this general suspension will continue until March 31. At that time, the situation will be re-revived in the light of what Congress has done, if anything.

In the meantime, Secretary of Interior Oscar L. Chapman said, individual leases may be granted under these conditions:

1. "When the applicant desires to drill and will agree to commence actual drilling operations within six months of date of issuance of lease."

2. "When the record discloses the land is committed to an approved unit plan or that the land is within an area designated by the geological survey as logically subjected to unitization."

3. "When the lands are on the same structure or would be an integral part of a compact drilling unit which the applicant will agree to commence drilling within six months of the date of issuance of lease."

Director Marion Clawson of the department's bureau of land management said applications are pending for oil and gas leases in practically every state except the Middle Atlantic and New England areas.

The great majority of these applications, Clawson said, are from Mississippi and Louisiana.

White Convict Charged With Attack On Young Negro Girl

WRENS, Ga., Dec. 21. (AP)— A negro school girl was attacked and brutally beaten near here and Sheriff James Hubbard announced he had charged a life-term white convict with attempted rape.

"If she dies," Sheriff Hubbard added, "it will be murder."

The sheriff named the convict as Pete Coleman, 30, and said he received his life term for the slaying in 1947 of Bertha Mehrtens.

Hubbard said the girl, 14-year-old Dorothy Carswell, was attacked Monday morning on the way to school.

Part Of Nation's Surplus Food Distributed To Welfare Groups

By SARAH McCLENDON
Avalanche Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21.—At this time of year when people's thoughts turn to distributing food to the needy, the office of Sen. Tom Connally has an explanation from the Agriculture department telling what happens to food surpluses in this country.

In Texas, for example, over 325,000 pounds of surplus food was donated to welfare families during the past 1949 fiscal year. This was part of 17.5 million pounds of surplus commodities distributed by the Agriculture department in Texas. The foods included canned fruits, dried fruits, dried eggs, canned grapefruit juice, honey, concentrated orange juice and Irish potatoes.

Food Donations Approved

Replying to a letter sent to Senator Connally by Gary A. Tate of Knott, Assistant Secretary K. T. Hutchinson of the Agriculture department said food may be donated to families now receiving public assistance, according to provisions of Section 32 of the Act of Aug. 24, 1935, providing for distribution to nonprofit school lunch programs, charitable institutions and other needy groups. However, he said the department has asked that school lunch program needs be completely met before foods are offered to other eligible groups, and then distribution is by priority and commodities involved must be in danger of deterioration.

Once that determination of deterioration danger is made, the Commodity Credit corporation is authorized to offer the commodities to the Munitions board for use in making payment for commodities not produced in the U. S. Any commodities not disposed of in this way may then be made available, free at the point of storage, to school lunch programs, Bureau of Indian Affairs, public and private welfare agencies serving needy groups within the U. S., and lastly to private welfare organizations for the assistance of needy persons outside the U.S.

Hutchinson said it is not yet known whether these provisions of the 1949 act will make available sufficient surplus commodities to justify substantial increases in welfare family distribution by state agencies. In recent years, welfare family distribution has been limited "because the number of potential eligible recipients and the volume of commodities available have not been large enough to justify expenditures by states, of the amount of funds required to maintain delivery facilities for family distribution."

Oklahoma Ticket Scalper Adds Incidental Expenses To Charge

NORMAN, Okla., Dec. 21. (U.P.)—An Oklahoma football fan complained today that it was the "incidental expenses," and not the $22.50 he had to pay for four Sugar Bowl tickets, that bothered him.

The fan, an Oklahoma City dry cleaner, said that incidental expenses attached to the tickets to the Oklahoma-Louisiana State game Jan. 2 cost him $45.08.

The scalper, an Oklahoma university student, itemized his expenses as follows:

"Bonus paid to get tickets together, $3.50; pay for other man's standing in line, $1; pay for my standing in line, $1.50; working 21 hours getting priority slips from other students and missing two classes, $2.10; paid baby sitter 35 cents an hour for eight hours while I was getting priority slips, $2.80.

"And bought fellow who had the three slips two bottles of beer to get him to come down from $15 each to $7.50 each, $.40; cab fares and telephone calls, $1.20; coffee to get fellow with one slip to come down from $15 to $10, $.05; miscellaneous expense, including one-cent tax on beer, $.56.

New Mexico Solons Discuss Support For Governor Candidate

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP) — Senator Chavez (D-NM) said today he is "pretty sure" that he and Senator Anderson (D-NM) will support the same Democratic candidate for governor of New Mexico in 1950.

Chavez told a reporter today following a conference with Anderson.

Chavez said the two did not discuss any particular candidate for the governorship whom they would support.

"But I am pretty sure we will get together," he said.

Favors Brother In Race

"I am still for my brother, Judge David Chavez, for the governorship and I am pretty sure that he will run."

Chavez plans to visit his brother in Puerto Rico over the Christmas holidays.

Senator Anderson told a reporter he and Chavez had attempted to find a basis where they would try to support the same candidate.

"We have worked together satisfactorily in the Senate and want to continue this relationship," he said.

Miles Favored For House

Anderson said he and Chavez agreed that Rep. John Miles, who has been mentioned as the Democratic candidate for governor, ought to seek reelection to the House.

"Seniority is the important thing and we thought it would be better if he ran for the House again," Anderson added.

Anderson said no final decision was reached as to whether the two senators "would or would not support anyone."

Chavez said he and Anderson have agreed they would not support Miles for governor.

POSTAL RECEIPTS HIT HIGH

UVALDE, Dec. 21. (AP)—Postal receipts in Uvalde for 1949 hit a new high, Postmaster J. P. Molloy announced today. Receipts through Dec. 19 were $53,044.78, he said. Previous high, set during the war when an Army field was near here, was $48,404.44.

The team of Amos and Andy, on the air since 1925, started out as Sam and Henry.

A television show such as "Stop the Music" requires a cost of 138 persons to put it on the air.

Former French Official Leaps To Death In New York City

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (U.P.) — Jacques Stern, 68, former French minister of colonies and secretary of the French navy, leaped to his death from his ninth floor apartment at 8:30 a. m. today.

Stern had lived here for eight years and had a son in New York hospital suffering from polio. He left two notes. The contents were not disclosed immediately.

Police said Stern returned from a visit to France about three months ago.

Passers-by saw Stern's body plunge to the sidewalk in front of his duplex apartment on 81st street, just off fashionable Park avenue.

He was pronounced dead by doctors from Roosevelt hospital.

O'Dwyer, Bride Aboard Small Cruiser On Atlantic Waters

FORT LAUDERDALE, Fla., Dec. 21. (INS)—New York's Mayor William O'Dwyer and his pretty bride, the former Sloan Simpson, were honeymooning in Atlantic waters off South Florida today aboard the 46-foot cruiser "Almar II."

The honeymoon yacht set out from Fort Lauderdale this morning after remaining overnight at swank Bahia-Mar yacht basin, 75 miles south of Stuart, where the couple was married yesterday.

The 59-year-old O'Dwyer, a native of Ireland, and his 33-year-old fashion stylist bride did not say where they would spend the remainder of their honeymoon—but they were believed headed for the Florida Keys or Cat Cay, an exclusive Bahamas fishing resort 60 miles east of Miami.

Waters between Florida and the Bahamas were choppy today, however, and that condition may have prevented the newly-weds from making the trip to Cat Cay in the small cruiser.

Grand Jury Indicts Four Bank Employes

SHERMAN, Dec. 21. (AP) — A federal grand jury today indicted four members of the staff of the First National bank of Paris, Tex., for conspiracy to violate U. S. banking laws, misapplication of funds and making false entries over a period from Dec. 21, 1942 until Aug. 6, 1949.

Federal District Attorney Warren G. Moore said that the amount misapplied during the time of alleged conspiracy totaled approximately $70,000.

Morris Fleming, vice-president and trust officer of the bank, was indicted on 21 counts; Alfred Kidd, assistant trust officer, on 15 counts; William H. Snow, assistant trust officer, on 20 counts, and Ann Marshall, bank employe, on 19 counts.

The indictment alleged setting up fictitious accounts to be used to conceal and carry out conspiracy and transfer of trust funds to these accounts.

Charges against the defendants were filed by the Federal Bureau of investigation Sept. 26 before the U. S. commissioner in Paris.

In a statement to the Associated Press after the charges were filed, Fleming said that he was innocent of any wrongdoing.

CONSUMER MAY GET BREAK

U. S. To Continue Supporting Egg Prices At Reduced Level

WASHINGTON, Dec. 21 (AP)—The government announced today that it will support producer prices of eggs in 1950 at a national average of 37 cents a dozen. This is about 8 cents less than this year's average farm prices.

This means, Agriculture department officials said, that consumer prices next year may average 8 to 10 cents a dozen below this year's prices.

Actual retail prices will depend upon production. A sharp cut in output might prevent prices from dropping as much as the reduction in the support price.

Higher Production Expected

But, officials said, 1950 egg production is expected to be 2 or 3 percent higher than this year.

The 1950 support program will be designed to reflect about 75 percent of parity compared with 90 percent this year. Parity is a legal standard for measuring farm prices. It is designed to be equally fair to farmers and consumers.

Secretary Brannan, said in a statement that he was "extremely reluctant" to reduce the support price for eggs.

"Under the circumstances, however, with no other means than purchases to carry out our commitments to egg producers, there is no alternative," he said.

Storage Seems Pointless

"I see no point in moving large quantities of eggs into government storage when at a slightly lower price level they would move more directly into consumption."

Brannan has said previously that he would prefer to allow egg prices to seek their natural level and make payments to farmers to assure them a fair return. This plan, proposed at the last session of Congress, is strongly opposed by some farm groups.

The department now has about $90 million tied up in surplus dried eggs acquired under support operations this year and last.

The department did not announce at this time what method will be used to carry out the support program. This year it bought dried eggs from processors who paid poultrymen at least 35 cents a dozen for nest-run ungraded eggs.

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Dec. 21 (AP) — Cotton futures were steady today in quiet trading. Mill buying, along with some New Orleans demand for new crop months met only limited commission house profit taking and hedging.

Washington trade advices said that Italy this week had received a new $30,000,000 cotton purchase credit for the ECA, estimated to cover around 185,900 bales of cotton.

STOCK MARKET LOSES GROUND

NEW YORK, Dec. 21. (AP)—Despite selective strength in a number of leading issues, the stock market today lost ground.

American Telephone fell back 1⅛ to close at 144⅜. Directors voted a stock offering to employes of subsidiaries and authorized a $200,000,000 debenture issue for plant improvement and extension.

There were other losses of a point or more in such scattered issues as Santa Fe 98, Goodrich 67, and American Can 99¾.

Standing out on the topside were Illinois Central up 1⅜ at 35, Studebaker up 1¼ at 26, Superior Oil of California up 10 at 220, and U. S. Gypsum up 1 at 113½.

In the motion picture group, a burst of activity was whipped up in the final hour. Losses were wiped out and replaced with small gains.

This is the third straight day that the market has declined, and the total loss amounts to about one-third of the gain chalked up last week.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks lost .3 of a point at 70.4. The industrial component dropped .4 of a point, rails .1 of a point, and utilities .2 of a point.

Today trading came to 1,270,000 shares as against 1,300,000 Tuesday and 1,420,000 on Monday. That is quite a ways under those 2,000,000 share days of last week.

The market also was a lot broader on the upside. Today there were 1,105 individual issues traded as against 1,140 Tuesday. Just a week ago a new record high of 1,191 individual issues were traded.

Warner Bros. was the most active up ¾ at 16½.

Stocks going lower included Standard Oil (NJ) 68¼ off ¾, American Can 99¾ off 1, and Youngstown Sheet and Tube 75½ off ⅞. Others down included U. S. Steel, Chrysler, Goodyear, Montgomery Ward, Philco, Anaconda Copper, and Pan American Airways.

Small gains were made by General Motors 69½, Sears Roebuck 43¼, Paramount 22½, and Gulf Oil 65⅝.

After the market close, U. S. Smelting resumed dividend payments with a declaration of 25 cents. The payment was cut to 25 cents from 50 cents in July and passed in October. The stock closed at 37⅝ off ⅝.

Prices were scrambled in the curb market with trading amounting to 270,000 shares as against 300,000 shares Tuesday. Higher were Technicolor, Humble Oil and Cities Service. Directors of Cities Service authorized redemption of the company's 5 percent gold debentures amounting to $41,569,700. Lower were Louisiana Land, Bunker Hill and Sullivan, and Creole Petroleum.

In the bond market, five issues of AT&T dropped in heavy trading. Rail loans were slightly lower. In the over the counter market, long term treasuries were up a bit.

Marriage Of Actor Clark Gable Brings Blues To Bevy Of Former Girl Friends

By JAMES PADGITT
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 21. — A bevy of beauties—ranging from studio secretaries to movie queens and society glamour girls— sang the blues today while Clark Gable and Lady Sylvia Ashley packed their bags for their honeymoon trip to Honolulu.

The collective gasp that went up from the he-man actor's former girl friends when they first heard that the "king of the movies" and the thrice-married one-time London manicurist had eloped and were married still reverberated in Hollywood.

For the sizeable group of lovelies listed in Gable's well-thumbed date book voiced their shock in a wail that was heard from sound stage to sound stage and from night club to night club on the fabulous Sunset strip.

But Gable and his bride went right on with their packing at Gable's sprawling Encino ranch home where they repaired immediately after the ceremony at the Alisal ranch in Santa Barbara yesterday.

The couple said that they would sail for Honolulu tomorrow night from San Francisco.

Gable had long been reckoned as immune to another trek to the altar following the tragic death of his beloved Carole Lombard, his third mate, in an airplane crash in 1942.

The husky screen actor had played the Hollywood field in his evenings out. For a time his romance with this or that beauty was reported as "hotter than hot," but finally the gossips just stopped speculating.

Since Carole's death he was rumored at some time or other seriously interested in Virginia Grey, film producer Joan Harrison, Joan Crawford, Anita Colby, Paulette Goddard, Dolly O'Brien Dorelis, Marilyn Maxwell, and a half dozen studio secretaries.

His frequent dates with Lady Sylvia, the widow of silent screen star Douglas Fairbanks, did not cause too much comment in the gossip columns. They had long been friends.

Gable had been out with Miss Harrison a few nights before his wedding. They attended a sneak preview of his last picture and held hands all through the show.

Elaine White, one of the secretaries that Gable escorted around town, said that she couldn't believe the news yet.

Marilyn Maxwell, who had dates with Gable in Europe on his last trip, said "the news just leaves me limp, but I'm glad for him."

The newlyweds honeymoon in Honolulu until he starts his next picture, "To Please a Lady," late next month. He plays a hard-boiled, "hard to get" racetrack driver who meets his nemesis in Barbara Stanwyck in that one.

The two plighted their troth, cut a towering wedding cake and sipped champagne while case after case of photographers' flashbulbs exploded around them.

Joan Garceau, Gable's long time secretary, revealed that the popular actor had popped the question to Lady Sylvia last Monday night and that they decided to get married as soon as possible.

It was the fourth marriage for each.

Lady Sylvia, the daughter of a London pub-keeper, gave her age as 39 in obtaining the wedding license. She married her first husband in 1927. He was Lord Anthony Ashley, son of the Earl of Shaftesbury.

The marriage ended in the divorce courts in 1936 with Lord Ashley naming Douglas Fairbanks, sr., as the co-respondent.

Doug, sr., had just been divorced by Mary Pickford at the time. Fairbanks and Lady Sylvia were married in Paris in 1936. He died of a heart attack three years later, leaving Lady Sylvia more than $1 million.

Lady Ashley returned to the nobility for her third husband in 1944 when she married Edward John Baron Stanley of Alderly. He divorced her four years later on desertion charges.
