TWO CONFESS INSURANCE MURDER

BRIDE OF TWO MONTHS HELD IN SLAYING

CONSPIRACY PLOT IS CONFESSED AS CLUES ARE DEVELOPED

(By The Associated Press)

LIBERTY, Nov. 15. — A conspiracy to kill to collect $5,000 insurance today had landed a man and a woman in jail here, both charged with murder in connection with the shooting of D. W. Browney, 62, veteran night watchman for the Texas Gulf Sulphur company.

The plan, both confessed to officers, according to investigators was broached by Mrs. Browney, a bride of some two months. Formerly she was the common law wife of B. Barrow, woodcutter and auto mechanic at Anahuac, the man who admitted he did the killing.

Fired Two Shot

Browney was slain as he sat in his automobile in a pasture near Moss Bluff. Barrow slipped up from behind and fired twice with a shotgun, he told officers. Both shots took effect in Browney's head, killing him instantly.

Bloodhounds were taken to the scene of the killing. They followed a trail for about two miles, where a car had been parked. Farther on it was found that a ferry on a byroad had been used. It was discovered that Barrow had borrowed a shotgun from a friend at Anahuac, saying he was going squirrel hunting.

Taking two shells found at the scene of the shooting, officers found that they fit the gun, which Barrow had returned, and that the gun had been fired at least twice. Anderson and Constable J. H. Gilmore then went on to Anahuac, and arrested Barrow.

He was brought to the jail here and confronted with what the officers had found out. He then admitted the killing and said he and Mrs. Browney had planned it, Chief Deputy Sheriff H. A. Anderson said. Mrs. Browney also was arrested by Sheriff Lowe and Mr. Anderson and brought to the jail where she then signed a statement, admitting plotting her husband's death in order to collect his insurance, Mr. Anderson said.

Debt Issues To Summon Chiefs

PRESIDENT-ELECT ROOSEVELT ACCEPTS HOOVER INVITATION TO CONFER ON WAR PROBLEM; BILLIONS OF DOLLARS ARE INVOLVED

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15—A debt problem of world import, involving billions of dollars owed this nation, today summoned to counsel two of its chosen leaders, President Hoover and President-Elect Roosevelt.

To the chief executive speeding eastward to the White House, the next president dispatched an acceptance of Mr. Hoover's invitation to confer, extended after Great Britain and France had requested a re-examination of obligations aggregating over $8,000,000,000.

Their conference, at a date to be set, was considered a vital step in plotting this government's future action in the international financial controversy descended from the war and an important prelude to the final decision which rests with congress.

Closely watching developments, legislators already were voicing figures as was the apparent intention of congress when, in approving the one-year moratorium, it voted overwhelmingly against further reduction or cancellation.

Nor have possibilities of a default been lost sight of by the administration, whose leaders felt such an occurrence would affect world economic conditions adversely. But they came to believe also that further aid for our European debtors depended primarily on a self-help program for settling currency, armament, tariff and other controversies in a fashion so militant as to impress American public thought.

At Lausanne, in July, the debtor nations accepted a huge reduction

DRIVES CAR IN WATER NEAR ROSWELL

AUTHORITIES PROBING DEATH; HUSBAND IS REPORTED HERE

(By The Associated Press)

ROSWELL, N. M., Nov. 15.—Roswell authorities today were investigating the death of Mrs. Lowell Robinson, 25, of Roswell, formerly a school teacher at Post, Texas, who drove her car off a bank of one of the Deep lakes 15 miles east of here, into 30 feet of water.

Although several witnesses saw the car plunged into the water, it was several hours before it could be recovered. Mrs. Robinson was dead when the machine was taken from the water.

Raymond Ross and Lawrence Ring, two of the witnesses said it appeared the machine had been driven deliberately into the water by Mrs. Robinson. Deputy Sheriffs Sam McCue and E. L. Peck, after an investigation, said they believed she committed suicide. Authorities ordered an inquest to be held today.

Mrs. Robinson was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Newell, of Roswell. She had a nervous breakdown while teaching school at Post this fall and returned to Roswell. Her husband is at Lubbock. She had taught school at Post for several years.

Mrs. Lowell Robinson, formerly of Post, who drove an automobile into a lake near Roswell, had been a violin and piano instructor in the Post public schools nine years. She resigned, because of ill health, after teaching about a month this fall. Since she had been living with her mother at Roswell.

Mrs. Robinson's husband had worked for a lumber company in Post eight or nine years. Eleanor Newell, a sister of Mrs. Robinson, was graduated from Texas Technological college here last spring. A brother was said to be attending Technological college. Francis Newell of Roswell is listed as a sophomore engineer in the 1932-33 student directory.

GETS FREEDOM

FORMER TORCH SINGER GETS FREEDOM

MURDER CHARGES ARE NOLLE PROSSED BY LIGHT EVIDENCE

(By The Associated Press)

WINSTON-SALEM, N. C., Nov. 15.—Murder charges which have been hanging over the head of Libby Holman Reynolds, one-time toast of Broadway, were dropped today by the state of North Carolina.

Solicitor Carlisle Higgins went before Judge A. M. Stack in Forsyth county superior court and asked that a nolle prosse, subject to the approval of the court, be entered in the case charging Libby and Ab Walker, of Winston-Salem, with slaying young Smith Reynolds, her millionaire-husband, last July.

Evidence Insufficient

Higgins based his request on the grounds of insufficient evidence.

Judge Stack concurred and at 12:20 p. m., directed that the motion be formally recorded.

Higgins' statement follows:

"After a careful investigation in this case in which the defendants are under indictment for murder, I am thoroughly satisfied that we have not sufficient evidence to justify the case going to trial. I am authorized to say that Sheriff Transou Scott and Assistant Solicitor Erle McMichael, both of whom have made careful investigations, concur in this opinion.

"Might Be Error"

"It, therefore, becomes my duty to determine what course the state shall pursue and likewise any other question of human judgment. There might be an error of judgment. If I proceed to trial without sufficient testimony any discoveries of additional evidence hereafter would be of no avail

"If I pursue the course I have decided in this case, if there should be additional evidence hereafter the state could proceed to trial. In determining the course that I should pursue I have decided that if I make a mistake it will be the one that leaves a way open for its cor-

U. S. Major Link In French Plan

New Pied Piper Is Racketeer

CHICAGO, Nov. 15 (AP)—Chicago has a new kind of pied piper and he's a racketeer.

Everywhere he goes blue-blooded dogs are sure to follow, and that's because he has perfected some kind of dog food that proves irresistable.

He has left a trail of sad Jimmys, Bettys, and Tommys in his wake, because, once he has lured the pets away, they do not return. Police believe he sells them at good prices at a kennel which, so far, they have been unable to locate.

ATTEMPT TO ABANDON NEUTRALITY MADE IN PROPOSAL

(By The Associated Press)

GENEVA, Nov. 15 (AP) — The French disarmament plan, launched today in its final form, would line up all nations including the United States under a pledge to abandon absolute neutrality in the event of war.

This agreement is recited at the outset of the proposal in the form of a short four-pronged chapter one, enunciating principles to be established for peace.

Chapters Linked

Thereafter follow four more chapters, each linked in with the whole, and all representing the French idea for disarmament parallel with security. The text of the plan runs 4,000 words.

The Hoover plan to cut all armaments by nearly one-third was especially recognized as a factor of the French plan, and the German demand for equality of armaments was given recognition within certain limits.

Here is the general agreement suggested:

"(A) Any war undertaken in breach of the Paris pact (the Kellogg-Briand pact) is a matter of interest to all the powers and shall be regarded as a breach of the obligations assumed towards each of them;

Would Agree

"(B) In the event of a breach or threat of breach of the Paris pact, the said powers shall concert together as promptly as possible with a view to appealing to public opinion and agreeing upon the steps to be taken;

"(C) In application of the pact of Paris outlawing war, any breach of that pact shall involve the prohibition of direct or indirect economic or financial relations with the aggressor country. The powers shall undertake to adopt the necessary measures to make that prohibition immediately effective;

"(D) The said powers declare their determination not to recognize any de facto situation brought about in consequence of the violation of an international undertaking."

The plan then would call for application of the League of Nations covenant, especially article 16 applying to pooling of armies.

PRISONERS TO BE PARDONED

CALIFORNIA GOVERNOR WILL FREE ALL PRO LAW VIOLATORS

(By The Associated Press)

SACRAMENTO, Calif., Nov. 15—Freedom came in sight Monday for about 1,000 persons being held in California prisons and jails on charges of violating the state prohibition law, when Governor James Rolph, jr., announced he intended to pardon all these as a result of the overwhelming vote last Tuesday for repeal of the statute.

Replying to a query from a New York newspaper, the governor announced his intentions to pardon all Wright act violators as soon as the results of the election are certified to him by the secretary of state. The Wright act, in unofficial election returns, was repealed by a vote of approximately 2 to 1.

Proclaims Intention

The governor's announcement proclaimed his intention to "pardon all those who are not guilty of anything outside of the provisions of violating the Wright act."

The governor's announcement was but one of the many developments in the state where willingness to abandon the old order was shown. City authorities in Oakland and other cities in the East San Francisco bay area ordered police to stop all liquor raids. The Oakland council voted to repeal an anti-liquor ordinance, many towns, particularly in northern California, signified their intention of forgetting prohibition.

Wineries Are Active

Wineries of the state hummed with new activity in the light of increased possibilities for the legal sale of their vintages for beverage purposes. Breweries in many towns and cities announced preparations to be ready to sell beer the minute such can be done legally.

TURKEYS SENT TO MARKET

TRAIN LOAD OF BIRDS BRINGS OVER $40,000 TO FARMERS HERE

What is said to be the first train load of dressed turkeys to move as a solid train from the South Plains, left Lubbock Monday night on the Santa Fe for Chicago, New York and New England points, E. Kancher, division freight and passenger agent, said today.

"The train made better than passenger time between Lubbock and Amarillo," Mr. Kancher said. "Actual running time was two hours and 47 minutes. The passenger running time is two hours and 50 minutes."

Three Others Added

Leaving Lubbock were 20 refrigerator cars. Three more were picked up at Plainview.

Each car averaged 1,620 dressed birds, or over 32,000 birds out of Lubbock alone. Average weight was estimated at 10 pounds, or total weight of approximately 372,000 pounds. Farmers were estimated to have received over $40,000 for the birds.

The special train is expected to reach Chicago about Wednesday midnight. It was thought there would not be any breakup of the train before that point. Saturday is the arrival date for the cars for New York and New England points.

"Farmers were late in bringing their turkeys into market here," Mr. Kancher explained. "The last car was loaded about 8 o'clock Monday night and the train left soon after that."

TRIAL OF TWO LUBBOCK POLICEMEN FOR AGGRAVATED ASSAULT STARTED

Trial of John L. Croft and Eugene ("Red") Smith, Lubbock policemen, charged with aggravated assault, began in county court this morning. The jury was not selected until 11 o'clock and only about 45 minutes of testimony, that of Franklin D. Brown, a Lubbock lawyer who is the complainant, was taken before Judge E. L. Pitts adjourned court until 1:15 p. m.

Testimony of Brown was not completed this morning. After being quizzed by Vaughn E. Wilson, county attorney, Brown was examined by L. A. Howard, of defense counsel. The two lawyers, Howard and Brown, engaged in verbal hair-splitting which precipitated an exclamation by Brown:

"If you want to argue the law with me, why . . ."

The defense lawyer broke in with, "I'm not arguing the law, Frank; you're the witness."

Brown, on the stand, said he suffered injuries of the throat, neck, and shoulders, and a dislocation at the right shoulder, and lost consciousness after the two policemen took him from his office into a hallway in the Leader building.

Brown testified he offered no physical resistance, although he insisted on remaining in his office until his secretary returned with a bond for which he had sent her to the police station.

He was unusually busy, he said, and, "I felt that the charge was

These Three Will Pick Great Women

BY LILIAN CAMPBELL

WHO ARE the 12 greatest women who ever lived in these United States? What qualities distinguish a woman leader?

A formula soon will be given by Mrs. Maud Wood Park, who was chairman of the congressional committee of the American Woman suffrage was enacted, in 1919; Dr. suffrage was enacted, in 1919; Dr Mary E Woolley, only feminine member of the official delegation from the United States to the Geneva (Switzerland) disarmament conference, and president of Mt. Holyoke college, South Hadley, Mass.; and Ida M. Tarbell, noted author.

They are the judges named in a three-month nation-wide contest for women conducted jointly by the national woman's magazine to determine the characteristics of feminine leadership.

Miss Woolley was herself named one of the 12 greatest living American women in a nation-wide contest conducted two years ago. While Mrs. Mary Wood Park, in her suffrage work, has measured at close range the leadership of such women as Susan B. Anthony. Dr. Anna Howard Shaw and Carrie Chapman Catt.

The likenesses of the women chosen as pre-eminent leaders will be placed on display by the National Council of Women in its exhibit at the Century of Progress exhibition in Chicago in 1933.

Where Does She Get Her "Pep?"

SHE doesn't look seventy. Nor feel that old. The woman who stimulates her organs can have energy that women half her age will envy!

At middle-age your vital organs begin to slow down. You may not be sick, simply sluggish. But why endure a condition of half-health when there's a stimulant that will stir a stagnant system to new life and energy in a week's time?

This remarkable stimulant is perfectly harmless. It is, in fact, a family doctor's prescription. So, if you're tired of trying every patent medicine that comes along, tell the druggist you want a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin. Take a bit of this delicious syrup every day or so, until you know by the way you feel that your lazy liver is again active, and your bowels are poison-free.

Men, women, and children who are run-down, who tire easily, get bilious spells or have frequent headaches, are soon straightened out when they get this prescriptional preparation of pure pepsin, active senna, and fresh laxative herbs. (Syrup pepsin is all the help the bowels need, and you do not form the very bad habit of always taking cathartics.)

Keep a bottle of Dr. Caldwell's syrup pepsin in the house, and take a stimulating spoonful every now and then. It is all that a great many people ever take to keep strong and vigorous, and absolutely free from constipation.

BACKACHE

Take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

If your backache is the result of a tired run-down condition, what you need is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

For nearly sixty years backaches and headaches . . . results of fatigue . . . have yielded to this marvelous medicine which tones up the system and gives women renewed strength and energy. If you are nervous . . . weak . . . or run-down it should help you.

98 out of every 100 women who report to us say that they are benefited by this medicine. Buy a bottle from your druggist today . . . and watch the results.

The cupboard is their home

POULTRY, butter and eggs must never be without cupboards to go to. Behind the daily activity of Swift & Company's organization lie the simple ambitions of 55,000 employes and 48,000 stockholders — to live modestly, but well, and to deal fairly with each other and the rest of the world.

They understand the company's task. A most important part of that task is to buy produce from farmers at more than 100 produce plants, put it into attractive form for consumption and pass it along, without delay and with a minimum of cost, to retailers.

Employes and stockholders understand also the limitations of the job. They realize: (1) that Swift & Company must buy produce in competition with all other dealers and pay what any one else will offer; (2) that Swift & Company must sell whatever it buys at a price which consumers, through their retailers, are able and willing to pay; (3) that the little profit aimed at can be obtained only by keeping down every expense.

Our workers are spread over most of the United States; they are local residents wherever Swift & Company has a produce plant, a packing plant or a branch selling house. They are people just like the farm men and women who have produce to sell, with the same desire to give honest value and to get on in the world by performing real service.

Of our stockholders, more than 40 per cent are women. Their funds are invested in the company because they hope to receive at least moderate dividends. Over a period of years, profits have averaged less than half a cent a pound on all products sold.

Through good times and bad Swift & Company continues to maintain its national market for produce, working near capacity, paying cash to producers and, with the hearty cooperation of employes and stockholders, cutting every operating and selling expense over which it has control.

The Swift & Company national market was made by digging up demand wherever it exists in the United States, by advertising brands of high quality, Swift's Meats, Swift's Premium Milk-Fed Chicken, Golden West Fowl, Swift's Brookfield Butter, Eggs, Cheese and many other products.

You would not allow some passing stranger to repair or overhaul your automobile. Nor should you entrust the servicing of your typewriter or adding machine, that cost $100 or more, to some would-be mechanic who is here today and somewhere else tomorrow.

Our mechanics have had from 4 to 24 years of mechanical experience, and we guarantee every job done by us, and our prices are in line.

There have been some of these (so-called) independent mechanics purporting to be with the Typewriter Sales Company. If temperance prevails, then education can prevail; if temperance fails, then education must fail. —Horace Mann.

"War" Is Over

The election is over now, and the country has signified its desire for a change. And whatever your personal reaction to the verdict returned at the polls may be, there are a few things that it is very important for all of us to keep in mind.

First of all, the country is not going straight to the dogs just because the Democrats won a presidential election. Grass is not going to grow in our streets, the nation is not going to collapse, the American system is not going to vanish from the earth.

Those campaign bogey-men have no substance, and the sooner we forget all about them the better off we shall be.

On the other hand, the victory of Roosevelt is not going to restore prosperity overnight. There are just as many men out of work today as there were before the election; there are just as many idle factories, just as many mortgaged farms, just as many hungry families wondering where the next meal is coming from.

No miracle has happened. To expect that good times are going to come back automatically just because the electorate rose in its wrath and demanded a change is as foolish as to believe all o fthose last-minute prophecies of doom and destruction.

What it all comes down to is simply this: the great problems that got talked about so much during the campaign are still with us, and they demand the most ntelligent and energetic attention America can give them. They won't be solved unless all of us bury the antagonism of the campaign and work shoulder to shoulder to effect the needed reforms.

The election may have made the job easier. The great national hunger for a change—for a "new deal," if you like—has been appeased. The deep resentment of worker and farmer has found relief. People are more ready to be hopeful now than they were a short time ago.

But the big task is still ahead of us. Our chief danger is that we may make the mistake of thinking that the election settled everything. It didn't. It is what happens in the months following the election that is important.

Flapper Fanny

Even the smartest heads find these are trying times.

That Girl on Broadway says the people who talk the most about law and order are the ones who want to lay down the laws and give the orders.

Said in church Sunday by a wee tot:

"Grandmother, will you take me to Washington before Mr. Hoover leaves so's I can see him ride the elephant?"

She doesn't realize that he's already ridden the goat!

Texans who think they've been through a fight in Democratic gubernatorial campaigns are kidding themselves. Just wait until the fight starts over beer!

THIS confounded squabbling within the Democratic party in Texas has gone far enough—at least for the present.

The Fergusons are in the saddle, whether legally or otherwise. And since nothing concrete has been done by their foes in an effort to dislodge them, The Plainsman has a sneaking idea that their votes in the second primary were about as legally procured as the votes cast for anybody else.

We repeat, the Fergusons are in the saddle so why not quit crying now—at least until we have something to cry about?

While The Plainsman voted for Mrs. Ferguson on November 8 because he thought it was the smart political thing to do in the face of her certain victory and for the benefit of Texas Tech, he has never wanted to see the Fergusons in the governor's chair.

Nobody in Lubbock has fought them any harder in their other campaigns.

Nobody has given them less assistance, even in the last general election.

And nobody—not even the staunchest Fergusonite—is any sicker of the intra-party fuss that seemingly will not die.

REASON for this outburst is a letter from Cato Sells, an old-time politician who, of late, hasn't been so successful in hopping from one party to another.

Now that Mr. Sells and his Republocrat group have had the socks beaten off of them, he isn't willing to 'take it on the chin' and like it.

He's still screaming to high heaven in this letter—about a column in length—which he expects to get published in the newspapers.

He doesn't like the way the election went in Texas and he's babbling about it like the three-year old kid who has had his dollie taken away.

The Plainsman isn't cheered up over the idea of another Ferguson administration—never has been and won't be unless the Fergusons give us a much better administration than they did in 1925-27.

But he's willing to quit howling about them—willing to quit poking at them—willing to let them alone until they do something that they deserve censor for.

GOOD Democrats, whether they be, like The Plainsman, of the principle-above-party variety or not, accept the rule of the majority.

The majority has selected the Democratic nominee to be next governor of Texas and that's all there is to it.

Let's give 'Pa' and 'Ma' a chance, whether we like it or not.

They're in there now—and that's that.

A Lubbock father was approached by his young son who wanted a dime to spend.

"What did you do with that money I gave you yesterday?" he asked.

"I gave it to a poor woman", the kid replied.

"That was fine of you", the father returned, reaching for his pocket. "Who was the poor woman?"

"She's a poor woman that sells ice cream cones!"

That Man on Avenue Q says after all, the depression is just a matter of wanting a few things we used to buy and forget.

THERE is always something to be thankful for and in this case The Plainsman is all the more thankful that he's in Lubbock instead of Abilene.

Max Bentley, of The Abilene Reporter-News, will be lucky if he gets through this week with all of his scalp intact.

Reason:

The Baptist general convention is in Abilene.

J. Frank Norris is holding a meeting in Abilene.

(The Plainsman's advice to Brother Bentley is that he go fishing!)

Another Big Game Hunter in the White House

Reconstruction Finance Corporation Proved A "Neutral Ground" As Campaign Issue In Recent Political Drive

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
NEA Service Writer

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—To those who know the ways of politicians, one of the most surprising features of the presidential campaign was the fact that no more political use was made of the Reconstruction Finance Corporation and other federal lending agencies created under the Hoover emergency program.

Dutcher

It was hardly to be expected that there would not be some such minor scandal as arose after the advancement of $102,000,000 for a couple of projects in California. And of course the administration was out on the stump pointing to the R. F. C. as the chief weapon on which it had beaten the depression and saved the country from catastrophe.

There were quite a few cynics who believed that the $300,000,000 voted by Congress for unemployment relief, the $1,500,000,000 for loans on self-liquidating projects, the $125,000,000 for the home loan bank system and other funds would be poured out into the politically important states at a time when the disbursement might have its fullest effect on the administration fortunes.

Those who held that view have been almost completely disappointed. Less then 20 per cent of the money for relief has been authorized in loans. Not a single man has been put to work by the big program of self-liquidating works loans—and not even a dollar of this federal money turned over to anyone, although $135,000,000 in loans has been approved.

The home loan banks have made nary a loan and have not even touched the $125,000,000 to which they are entitled from the R. F. C.

The Hoover program certainly was not without political effect, what between the money actually advanced and promised and the continual ballyhoo and promises as to its general effects. But the restraint which was, in general, exercised during a period when the administration felt rather desperate about the election might well call for more favorable comment than it received.

The only exception was in the loans approved for California—$62,000,000 for the San Francisco Bay bridge project and $40,000,000 for an aqueduct at Los Angeles. The president's California supporters worrying about carrying Hoover's own state, were rather noisy in their shouts that it was the chief executive's intervention which had obtained the R. F. C. grants.

It appeared that the politicians had been talking to Secretary of the Treasury Ogden Mills and that Mills had worked on the president, who in turn put pressure on the R. F. C.

But the corporation's board of directors, now dominated by Democrats, apparently felt there were no political implications in their action. They resented the charges and subsequently seemed to be leaning over backward to avoid any more such incidents before election.

The fact that no funds for the self-liquidating projects have actually been advanced nearly four months after they became available is due to such complications as court injunctions, the necessity of waiting for state legislative action, delay in negotiating contracts and so on. The loans eventually will put men to work.

Instead of handing out the relief loans lavishly to certain states, as might have been expected had their administration been political, the R. F. C. has been extremely conservative in its grants, confining them to states and localities where the need was great and existing efforts both sincere and inadequate. This is in keeping with the president's policy of avoiding federal relief aid except where absolutely necessary.

The home loan banks, meanwhile, are reported swamped with applications for loans, but the administration permitted the system to go from the time Congress passed the home loan act until after election day without making a single loan. The system didn't open until about three weeks before election.

SLICK WORK

LOS ANGELES.—Some nimble fingered pickpocket did a very slick piece of work on Herman H. Breidt, Tujuna Chamber of Commerce president, here recently. Breidt was standing within three feet of Mayor John Porter and he was completely surrounded by public officials. The pickpocket lifted Breidt's two wallets which together contained $50.00.

Governor Pinchot says we think too much of our bankrolls. Well, there's no harm in reminiscing once in a while.

Calvin Coolidge denies he is to become president of New York University. Cal did pretty well, though, in his contacts with at least one big-time institution—the electoral college.

As Brought Over Associated Press Wires Today

(By The Associated Press)

Seeks Reform

CHICAGO—George Brumlik, city greeter pro tem, is out to reform the greeting business.

He proposes to substitute refined, unobtrusive receptions for notable visitors to Chicago for glad-handing and back-slapping, and says he will also abandon the city's two big white automobiles which have been used for visiting dignitaries. Cars of subdued colors are to be used instead.

Brumlik is acting for City Greeter George D. Gaw, whose greeting hand was recently burned in an accident.

Having Fine Time

QUEBEC—Old man winter presented Pilot Ernest Bernier a free trip to Europe. He piloted the liner Duchess of Bedford down river, but when it came time for him to get off at Father Point, a hail and snow storm wouldn't let him. So, he is on his way to Europe, taking things easy and "having a fine time, thank you."

Milking Public

NEW CASTLE, Pa.—Something different in milk rackets is being practiced here as follows:

Thieves, visiting porches where bottles have been left out, scribble notes ordering additional milk. After the delivery they walk off with the extra bottles.

The customers and dealers are unaware of the swindle until the bill is presented weeks later.

Teacher's Fault

CHICAGO—If junior fails in Chicago and blames the teacher he may be right, Hiram B. Loomis, principal of the Hyde Park High school says. Fewer children would fail, he adds, if teachers would assign less work and insisted that it be done thoroughly.

UNLUCKY WILL

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — Lady luck turned against Will Cadwick with a vengeance. Will left his ranch for a visit to town the other day. While in town his car was tagged for overparking and when he returned home he found his house had been robbed. The next day in police court he paid a $5 fine, and then reported the articles taken from his house.

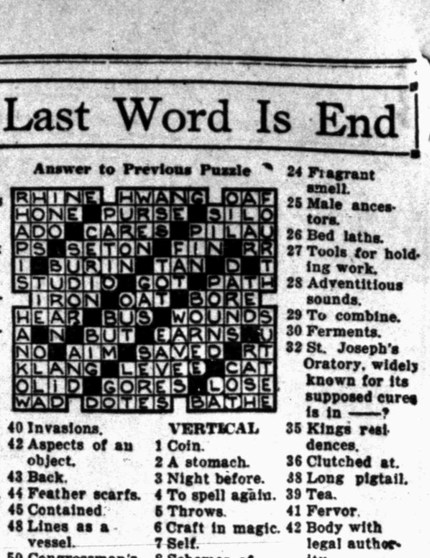

That Canadian farmer who sold two steers for $15.15 and then had to pay a freight bill of $15.10 on them was lucky at that. He didn't lose money on the deal.

PROHIBITION IS LITERALLY "ROOTED IN THE SOIL" OF TWO COMMUNITIES

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 15. (AP)—Prohibition is literally "rooted in the soil" of two California towns and their residents are not particularly concerned about what, if any, steps are taken to repeal national prohibition.

Their lands and their homes are forfeit, should the everlasting prohibition in these two communities be violated, so their interest in repeal of other—and to them lesser—prohibitions is more or less purely academic.

Perpetually "Dry"

In the state that repealed its enforcement law by a two to one majority at the general election, and that has been famous for more than a half century for its fine wines, are two perpetually "dry" communities—Carmel and Ceres.

Written into the deeds by which title passed from the first owners of the sites of both towns are clauses decreeding that intoxicating liquors shall not be made, possessed or drunk on the premises, and providing that for violation of the clause the land and improvements upon it shall revert to the original owners.

Carmel is the artist colony of the Pacific coast—its residents are men and women famous for their pictures, their sculpture or their writings. It has been publicized, upon numerous occasions, for a nudist cult that came to light there, for efforts of its leaders to keep it "natural" and more recently for an outburst when it was proposed a chamber of commerce be organized there.

Ceres, named for the goddess worshipped by a Greek cult as the goddess of "corn and earth," on the other hand knows "no culture than the culture of the soil." But, strangely enough, it is located in the center of the greatest grape growing region of the state.

The arid artists colony was created—before art colonized there—by Frank Powers, a pioneer who once owned most of the area about what is now the town. It was he who specified in the deed of each parcel of land that passed from his hands that should the subsequent owners quench a thrist with anything alcoholic on the property that it should revert to him or his heirs.

C. N. Whitmore, founder of Ceres and once owner of the land upon which it is builded, made the same stipulation for that community.

JOHN N. GARNER'S LIFE : : : : Sketched by R. J. Scott

There was one person in Texas who objected strenuously to Garner's appointment. Miss Etty Rheiner didn't believe that judgeships and poker playing were compatible and she had learned that the 26-year-old judge played an excellent game of poker with his cronies.

Some time later, the young girl went to San Antonio to study stenography, just to occupy her time. One day, when she was returning to her home on a train she was introduced to Judge Garner, whom she had tried to defeat. A few months later she became his bride.

They spent their honeymoon in a boarding house in Uvalde, while their little cottage was being completed. It was just a small five-room cottage but in it they were content and they never have seen happier days, even in the Uvalde mansion which they now own.

Garner as a representative in 1924.

On Sept. 24, 1896, their first and only child, a son, Tully, was born. At this time Garner was again elected judge but suffered his first and only defeat in his political career when he sought a third term. A misunderstood practical joke defeated him.

His political prestige became increased when he was chosen a delegate to a party convention to select a representative. Garner promised to cast his votes for a certain candidate in exchange for the chairmanship of the district congressional campaign committee.

Successful in this, Garner decided that he, himself, wanted to go to congress. He decided the best way to insure his election was to cut his district in two, which was as large as the state of New York. To do this he first got himself elected to the legislature.

TECH JUDGERS PLACE SIXTH

ONE MATADOR MEMBER IS A FIRST-PLACE WINNER MONDAY

Texas Technological college's senior livestock judging team placed sixth at the American Royal Livestock and Horse show at Kansas City, the Associated Press reported Monday. A member of the Matador team was an individual first-place winner.

Ohio State university won the team contest, in which Oklahoma A. & M. college was second, Iowa State college third, and the University of Illinois fourth.

Robert L. Morrison, Colorado Agricultural college, was the highest scoring individual among the college students. La Vern Ginrich, University of Nebraska, ranked second, and Forrest K. Burns of Oklahoma A. and M., third.

Tech First In Cattle

Texas Tech took first place in cattle judging, with Oklahoma A. and M. second; Ohio State was first in horses with Kansas State second; Iowa State was first in swine with Oklahoma A. and M., second. Ohio State was first in sheep with Iowa State second.

Team scores:

Ohio State university 4,364; Oklahoma A. and M., 4,360; Iowa State college, 4,338; University of Illinois, 4,315; University of Nebraska, 4,294; Texas Tech, 4,272; Kansas State college, 4,257; Texas A. and M. college, 4,125; University of Minnesota, 4,125; University of Missouri, 4,040; University of Wisconsin, 3,954; Pennsylvania State college, 3,888.

By classes: Horses — Arthur C. Thomson, Kansas State, first. Hogs —Elmer L. Wilkius, Wisconsin, first. Sheep—La Vern Ginrich, Nebraska, first. Cattle—Curtis Williams, Texas Tech, first.

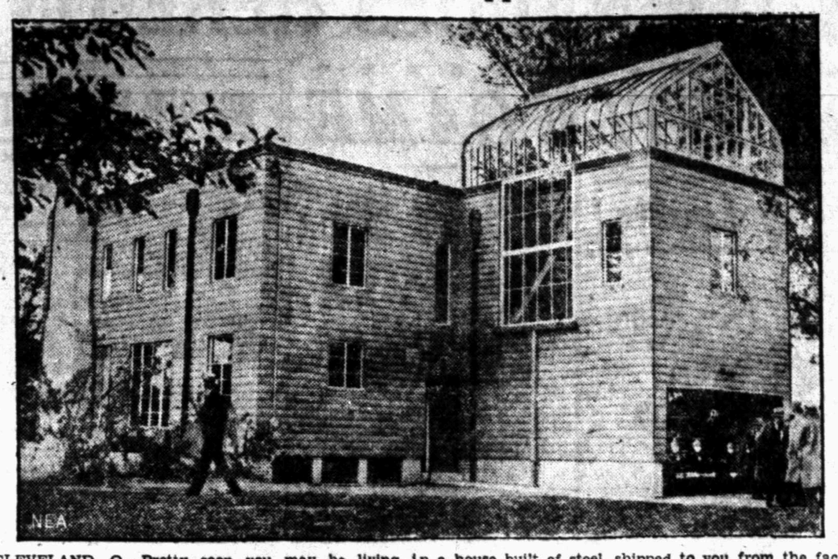

According to a message early Monday from Ray C. Mowery, coach of the Texas Tech livestock judging team at the American Royal Livestock and Horse show in Kansas City, Texas Tech and the University of Nebraska tied for fifth place with 4,294 points.

"I presume that there was a recheck of points made after Mr. Mowery filed his message," Dean A. H. Leidigh said when told that the Lubbock team had placed sixth with 4,272 points.

Members of the team were: Burford Browning, Fluvanna; E. C. Cauble, Stiles; Lanoy Hazel, Spur; Harlan Howell, Brownfield; Ben Jenkins, Gail, and Curtis Williams, Lubbock.

Placings of Tech teams in other years were: 1927—13th out of 14 teams entered; 1928—fourth out of 16 teams; 1930—eighth out of 14 teams and 1931 — ninth out of 15 teams.

And Now—A Steel Home Shipped To Your Lot

CLEVELAND, O.—Pretty soon you may be living in a house built of steel, shipped to you from the factory in parts all ready to be erected on your lot. For the first frameless steel house built in the United States has just been completed at Solon, near here, and its designers are planning to begin mass production in 1933. The wall units of this new type home, illustrated above, are of 20-gauge steel sheets They are insulated with fibre and the exterior is coated with a porcelain enamel. The absence of a frame is an innovation in construction made possible by the steel construction. Designers say this factory-built house can be assembled for much less than the labor cost now required in building a house. The estimated cost of a seven-room house with two-car garage and solarium, like the one shown here, is about $5000.

Interesting Bits Of News And Comment From Austin

BY CHARLES E. SIMONS

AUSTIN, Nov. 15. (AP)—Recent discussions whether the 42nd legislature could consider legislation after Nov. 4, or must yield to the 43rd legislature, elected on Nov. 8, recalled to old timers around the capitol that the same question arose during the administration of Governor O. B. Colquitt, in the early days of the World war.

Governor Colquitt, according to Bruce Bryant, first assistant attorney general, had called a special session of the legislature in October to pass a law authorizing organization of a state bank as an aid to stabilizing markets for products from farms and ranches. The legislature refused to pass the bill and Governor Colquitt with the view of calling the new legislature sought the construction of the attorney general on a provision of the constitution that states the members of the legislature serve from the date of their election.

Ruling Made

C. M. Cureton, then an assistant attorney general and now chief justice of the state supreme court, rendered an opinion holding that the new legislature elected in November could not take office until the next January. The opinion ruled that it was not contemplated by the constitution that newly elected members would sit should a special session be called immediately after the election.

This opinion was resurrected when the question bobbed up as to which legislature, the 42nd or the 43rd, would sit after the November elections to consider oil legislation submitted by Governor R. S. Sterling. Some claimed the constitutional provision was mandatory and that the 42nd legislature, should it be convened prior to election day, would be forced to yield to the new legislature elected Nov. 8.

The governor took this into consideration in pondering over the advisability of calling a special session. He asked Attorney General James V. Allred for an opinion on the subject. Evidently Allred ruled that the 42nd legislature would be the proper one to convene since that was the one called by the governor to act on revision of the oil conservation statutes.

CHILDREN'S RECENT BOOKS PLACED ON EXHIBIT AT COUNTY'S LIBRARY

Children's recent books and new editions of standard classics, all in large print, colorfully illustrated, and in attractive bindings, are on exhibit at the Lubbock county library on the second floor of the courthouse in recognition of National Book week, which began Sunday. "Young America's Book Parade" is the theme advanced at the library here in an attempt to stimulate more interest in good literature among public school children.

Among the newest books is an illustrated copy of "The World We Live In and How It Came To Be" by Gertrude Hartman. This pictorial outline of man's progress from the earliest days to the present time is a typical example of the new type of literature available to the curious youngster of today.

Biblical Account Given

The Biblical account of the beginning of life is the explanation offered in the opening chapter although chemical processes in the formation of minerals, water and the earth are defined in a language intelligible to the average 10 to 15 year old boy or girl.

A colorful description of the world before the existence of man, animated with drawings of the brontosaurus, the dinosaur and other pre-historic mammals makes the book a fascinating as well as an educational narrative.

Theories Explained

The history and development of the physical and natural sciences are dwelled upon briefly. Theories of great astronomers of the past are explained in the vernacular of the junior high school boy.

An illustration showing "an ancient forest which later became coal" is an example of the idea of progress and scientific development which the book succeeds in portraying.

"A Picture Book of Houses" by Emilie A. Verleleux is another educational work which is attractive for its romantic account of the development of man's domestic life. It has vitality and movement in its story of primitive man; his first efforts at making a home and the development of that domicile, in every land, to a comparative description of the present styles of architecture common to Americans, Eskimos, Japanese, Gypsies and countless other peoples. This book is illustrated by the author.

"Beast of the Tar Pits" by W. W. Robinson is a simplified story of animal development in the United States. It is based upon the prehistoric animal remains found in the tar pits of California.

Among the new illustrated editions of popular classics are "Two Little Confederates" by Thomas Nelson Page, "A Tale of Two Cities" and "Scottish Chiefs" all of which are in large print and colorful binding.

The county library has 9,875 volumes, according to Miss Lola Mae Rozzell, librarian. It is free to anyone living in Lubbock county. Miss Rozzell says that it is patronized largely by public school children, both city and rural. It is financed by a tax levy although a number of books have been donated.

Relieves Women's Pains

Here is an example of how Cardui has helped thousands of women:

"I was very thin and pale," writes Mrs. F. H. Scott, of Roanoke, Va. "I suffered from weakness and a severe pain in my back. This pain unnerved me, and I did not feel like doing my work. I did not care to go places, and felt worn, tired, day after day.

"My mother had taken Cardui, and on seeing my condition she advised me to try it. I have never regretted doing so. I took three bottles and it built me up. I gained in weight, my color was better and the pain left my back. I am stronger than I had been in some time."

Cardui is sold by local druggists.

SANTA FE FOLDER ADVERTISES AREA

J. D. Tinsley, agricultural agent of the Santa Fe railroad, passed the week-end here gathering information for a revised edition of the railway's circular advertising the Panhandle-Plains region.

The Santa Fe sends the folder to persons inquiring about industrial and agricultural locations along the Santa Fe lines in West Texas, New Mexico, and in other southwestern states. Mr. Tinsley said the folder, as revised, would have information based on the 1930 census and other recent data.

Gins Total 336

"There are in the Santa Fe territory on the plains, a total of 336 gins that I found," Mr. Tinsley said. "I have the names and addresses of that many.

"Another thing, all of the compresses are located on our lines such as the one here at Lubbock, and at Brownfield, Littlefield, Slaton, Lamesa, Floydada, Ralls and Plainview, are high density presses. Their average capacity is 100 bales an hour. There are also 178 elevators, with a capacity of 11,000,000 bushels

The railroad, according to Mr. Tinsley, is constantly receiving inquiries about locations, price of land, etc. The railroad sends these letters to chambers of commerce in the territory inquired about and also sends the writer a copy of the booklet.

Two doses is usually enough to kill the most stubborn, hang-on cough. A bottle surely does it or you get your money back.

Of course if you want a sweet, sugary sedative Bronchuline Emulsion is not the cough medicine for you. Bronchuline contains no habit-forming drugs of any kind.

But it certainly kills a cough! No doubt about it. Or Mark Halsey Drug and all other good druggists guarantee to give your money back. —Adv.

MATADORS PREPARE FOR TITLE GAME

SPYING ON SPORTS

BY COLLIER PARRIS

It's a big year for voting, and the ballot-casting isn't over. Lubbockites have another chance to vote, this time for a football team and a football schedule.

Election day is November 24, and the polls are located at the Texas Tech football field. The public is to vote for or against Texas Tech's 1933 football schedule, tentative arrangements of which will be announced within the next paragraph or so. If the vote carries, you will see some games here next fall that will thrill your soul and put Lubbock on the map in a bigger way. If the move is defeated, you won't even see the Matadors in Lubbock next fall. They'll play their games away from home.

The tentative schedule, subject to change for better or worse depending on the results of next week's voting, has been announced by Messrs. Cawthon and Smith and Stangel as follows, to-wit and viz.:

Sept. 23—University of Arkansas at Lubbock.

Sept. 30—Southern Methodist university at Lubbock.

Oct. 7—University of New Mexico at Lubbock.

Oct. 14—University of Arizona at Tucson.

Oct. 21—Louisiana Poly at Lubbock.

Oct. 28—University of Denver, University of Kansas or University of Missouri, at Lubbock or at Denver, Lawrence or Columbia.

Nov. 4—Texas Christian university at Lubbock, or Loyola university of Los Angeles at Los Angeles.

Nov. 11—Simmons university at Abilene.

Nov. 18—Baylor university at Lubbock.

Nov. 23—Centenary college at Lubbock or Shreveport.

Now who said Texas Tech couldn't get any football games? There are thirteen school just itching to play Texas Tech. At least that many more, of equal calibre, would like to play Tech next year.

Whether the games are here at Lubbock or somewhere else remains for the fans to say on Thanksgiving day. That's when Simmons' Cowboys come to Lubbock for the annual battle between the two old rivals. You are to express your vote for Tech's 1933 schedule by going out to the Tech field, paying a reasonable poll tax at the box office and sitting in the grandstand during the game. If enough of you vote that way, you will see some great college teams here next year. In addition to voting, you see a good ball game. You are not advised to go to the field with the advance idea that Tech will have a field day over the Cowboys. Only once in this 7-year history of Tech have the Matadors defeated Simmons, and that by a scant one-touchdown margin. If you appreciate Tech and its football team, you will vote. Also, you will see a football game.

Lubbock High school's Westerners (bless 'em) go to Amarillo on Thanksgiving day to meet the touted Sandies in the district championship game. There are fans in Lubbock to provide ample support to the Westerners on that day and at the same time cast an overwhelming vote in favor of Tech here. If the grandstand and bleachesr are filled at the Tech-Simmons game, Tech will bring a host of good teams here next year. If the crowd and the vote is not bountiful, Texas Tech and its opponents will take it as meaning Lubbock is not appreciative of the best college team it ever had, one of the best teams in the country and one of the high-scoring machines in the United States. Not many teams have scored 331 points this season, or any other season.

One of his friends here gets a letter from Chief Jones, alternate tackle on the Lubbock High team last year, in which Jones says he started the game for Haskell against St. Louis U. as regular tackle. Jones took a liking to Coach Lone Star Deitz here at the coaching school last year, and Coach Deitz said it would be oke by him if Chief, an Indian himself, wanted to come to Haskell. He's been playing pretty fair football, according to accounts received here.

Jack Buckler, the lad who's scoring touchdowns for Army this season, just missed being a Texas Tech Matador. He went to Tech before he went to West Point, receiving his appointment to the soldier school when he was a sophomore here in 1930. He entered Tech in 1928 and went two years. His home is at Waco. It appears that Jack was not recognized as a coming gridiron star when he went to Tech, but he's playing some nice games this fall.

Robert Harron, a writer for the New York Evening Post, in detailing the Army-Harvard game, had this to say about Buckler:

"It came time for Jack Buckler, Army left halfback, who had already scored three touchdowns against Harvard, to leave the game. This had been a day they'd hear about down home in Waco, Texas. But he wasn't through yet. He had been thinking, as well as kicking, passing and running.

"The substitute, Simons, came running out, reported. Buckler turned to the officials.

"'Is it all right if I talk to him,' he asked.

"'It's all right provided he doesn't talk to you or to any one else until a play has been run.'

"'Now,' said Buckler to Simons, 'watch this end; he's cutting this way; and that tackle; he's going so and so; but you can got get im? Good luck,' or words to that effect. The incoming Cadet obeyed rules, followed advice and another touchdown came presently."

STRONG CLASS B TEAM SET FOR GAME

CONTEST TO BE LAST BEFORE AMARILLO HOLIDAY TILT

The Lamesa High school Golden Tornadoes, strong Class B team of this district, will invade Lubbock Friday and challenge the Lubbock High school Westerners to a football game at Matador Field.

Announcement of the game was made yesterday from the offices of high school authorities after previous announcements had been to the effect that no game would be played here this week. The school authorities of Lubbock and Lamesa concluded arrangements for the game yesterday.

Coach McCollum's Tornadoes, strong Class B team, defeated Slaton's Tigers last week, although the game was a scoreless tie. The victory was credited because of Lamesa's greater number of 20-yard zone penetrations. The Tornadoes also have tied Big Spring, Class A team of District 3.

Lamesa held Lubbock, 32 to 0, last year.

Next week finds Lubbock playing one of the most important games of the season when the Westerners tangle with Amarillo High at Butler Field in Amarillo, whereon no Sandsterm team has been defeated since the name was given the field.

In renewing the Thanksgiving classic, the teams will find themselves battling for the District 1 football championship of the Texas Interscholastic league, the winner to represent the Panhandle in the continuation of Texas' high school gridiron tournament.

Lubbock won the district championship last year—won it by defeating Amarillo's Sandies. But the game was not on Butler Field. Lubbock lost, 25 to 2, at Butler Field last year, winning on the Lubbock field after the race had been thrown into a three-way tie. There will be no three-way tie this season, unless one of the most unexpected upsets in the history of the district results in the Amarillo-Borger game this week. Pampa, the other party in the "big three," has been definitely eliminated with two defeats. Lubbock saw to that last Friday when it defeated Pampa, 6 to 0, at Pampa.

Beginning yesterday, the campaign to beat Amarillo is on, but there are few critics, coaches and controllers who will suggest that Lubbock will win the Thanksgiving game. Amarillo's great line, running before a crack backfield, is the big favorite, no matter how you figure it.

Coach Chapman appears to have settled on a lineup, a backfield at least, unless complications arise between now nd Turkey day. There may be changes in the line, particularly at the tackle and end positions. There is heated competition between Richard Godeke, Possum Blackwell and Dalton Blagg for the wing stops.

U. S. Army Team Is Winner In Contest

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (AP)—The international military jumping championship still belongs to the United States army team.

Major Tupper Cole's American trio defeated France, Canada and the Irish Free State in that order in the championship at the national horse show last night, winding up with only four faults against eight for France, 20 for Canada and 24 for the Irish Free state.

Major Cole, on the chesnut gelding, Joe Aleshire, and Lieut. C. W. Raguse on Ugly, completed the difficult course in faultless fashion, but Tan Bark, ridden by Lt. E. F. Thomoson, faltered at one obstacle and was charged with four faults.

TECH TO MEET NEW MEXICO SATURDAY

CLASH WILL FEATURE HOMECOMING DAY FOR LOBO TEAM

Texas Tech's Matadors, winners in nine of ten starts this season, will journey to Albuquerque, N. M., this week-end for their second Border conference game of the season. They meet the University of New Mexico Loboes in a Homecoming day game Saturday afternoon.

The Matador mentors were of the opinion that if the gridders did not play better football this week than they did against Baylor last Friday, they were in line for a defeat Saturday.

Lineup Switched

While the Techsters played good enough last week to defeat the Southwest conference team, 14 to 2, their display of talent did not meet with the full and satisfactory approval of the coaches, who instigated a move in yesterday's practice designed switch the lineup so as to provide the most formidable lineup against New Mexico.

Carlton Luper and Malcolm Martin, starting ends on the shock troops, were moved up to the first team yesterday and Matt Hitchcock and Yancy Price, previous regular ends, were demoted to the shock troops. The changes were made, Cawthon said, because Luper and Martin outplayed Price and Hitchcock against Baylor here last week.

Lacey Turner, who has been running with the starting team or shock troops, was promoted yesterday to the regular lineup, replacing Captain Ross Ayers at guard. Turner evidently had not been tipped off that the Matadors were supposed to go easy with the Bears of Baylor, or at least he didn't take the tip seriously. His playing was outstanding.

Those three were the outstanding changes. Others have been made and will be made this week, particularly in the shock troops. As in the case of the University of Arizona game, about nine members of the Tech team are ineligible to play in this week's game at Albuquerque, since it is a conference game.

Clark And Dowell Out

Adrian Clark and Gwynn Dowell, starting backfield aces, will not be eligible. Johnny Beauchamp probably will start at quarter with Butts probably starting at halfback in Dowell's place.

The Matadors have but two afternoons in which to prepare for the Loboes, who went down, 32 to 7, here last year in the first game between the clubs. They leave Thursday afternoon for Albuquerque. A light workout Friday afternoon, consisting of warming up exercises and signal drill, will be held on the New Mexico field.

Coaches pushed the Matadors through a stiff workout yesterday, stressing new plays which will be used against New Mexico. A scrimmage probably will be held this afternoon.

While they are favorites to whip the Loboes, the Matadors are being advised to take the game seriously and look for the breaks, at the same time preventing breaks which would give New Mexico just what it wanted.

Homecoming Game

It is homecoming day at the University of New Mexico Saturday, and the game with Texas Tech has long been heralded as one of the most outstanding of the season. The Loboes have pointed to the Matadors for several weeks, and reports from authoritative sources have come to Lubbock that New Mexico will be ready to put up a battle.

Tom Churchill, assistant coach at New Mexico, who scouted the Tech-Baylor game, stated that the Loboes might be defeated, but they would give Tech a game they'd not forget the next day.

The religion of ancient Egypt had its origin in a low kind of fetishism, of animism, of purely African character.

BEER, BASEBALL AND BABE RUTH IN MIND OF COLONEL JACOB RUPPERT

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Nov. 15 (AP)—Beer, baseball and Babe Ruth were in the mind of Colonel Jacob Ruppert of New York today.

Not that the three subjects are related to one another, but it happens the colonel is president of the United States Brewers association, owns the world champion New York Yankee baseball club, and has to get the famous slugger's signature on a new contract.

Ruppert is at French Lick for his annual 21-day rest. He thinks the Yankees have a great chance to win the American league pennant in 1933 and does not anticipate any trouble in signing the highest salaried ball player in history.

"Babe's all right; he will sign at the proper time," Ruppert said.

Return of real beer interests the colonel more than anything else right now. He believes he Volstead act will be modified during the short term of congress to permit manufacture of the drink.

"If that is done, my own brewery will be ready to produce the real stuff on a minute's notice," Col. Ruppert said. "It will mean great activity in the other 500 breweries in the United States and the opening of others.

'I believe the brewers, if permitted to manufacture real beer will within one year have under way a $200,000,000 building program."

Col. Ruppert said his association had figured that a government tax of $5 or $6 on a barrel of beer would raise more than $500,000,000 a year.

Vanderbilt Drops Tulane From List

NASHVILLE, Tenn., Nov. 15 (AP)—Russ Cohen, member of the Vanderbilt coaching staff and former head football coach at Louisiana State university, announced last night Vanderbilt had severed athletic relations with Tulane and that L. S. U. would replace Tulane on future Commodore schedules.

The booing to which Vanderbilt coaches and players were subjected when the Commodores played Tulane in New Orleans this fall in a game that ended in a 6-6 deadlock and the insistence by Tulane officials that the Commodores return to New Orleans for any future games were given by Cohen as the reasons for the action.

FIELDS IS TO RISK TITLE

OPPONENT IS SOUGHT FOR WELTERWEIGHT CHAMP AT CHICAGO

CHICAGO, Nov. 15 (AP)—Jackie Fields, world welterweight champion, will defend his title December 8 at the Coliseum, if a suitable opponent can be obtained.

Fields already has signed for a championship bout with Young Corbett of Fresno, Calif., at San Francisco February 22. However, the earlier match is planned to enable him to defend his title before his National Boxing association time limit expires December 28.

Match Proposed

A match between George Nichols, Buffalo, recognized by the National Boxing association as light heavyweight champion, and Frankie Battaglia, Winnipeg, Manitoba, was in prospect today for the Chicago stadium, November 30.

Battaglia, winner of 26 of his last 30 bouts on knockouts, is growing so rapidly that he is finding it difficult to make the middleweight limit. In his last bout, in which he defeated Young Terry, Trenton, N. J., Battaglia weighed 163 pounds.

Tuffy Griffiths, Sioux City, Ia., heavyweight, will meet John Schwake of St. Louis, in a ten-round bout at St. Louis November 28.

Barney Ross, Chicago contender for the world lightweight championship, has signed for a ten-round bout with Johnny Farr of Cleveland, at Milwaukee November 25.

ARLINGTON PAIR WINS TOURNAMENT

CORSICANA, Nov. 15 (AP)—Their combined ability to shoot par golf in spite of a powerful wind storm, gave Col. L. D. Irons, Arlington amateur, and A. McCombs, Arlington professional, the weekly amateur-pro sweepstakes of the Texas Professional Golfers association here yesterday over the Corsicana Country club course. The winning team shot a 38-33—71.

Irons was the individual star. He clicked with five birdies on the 18 holes, three of them hole-out approach shots. But he ruined his chance to shoot subpar golf by three putting five of the slick greens.

G. G. Nowell, pro, and Adrian Rowland, amateur, both of Waco, tied for second place with Floyd Boone, pro, and Charles Holloway, amateur, both of Corsicana. This pair of twosomes turned in a best ball of 75 each.

Third place went to Howard Estep, pro, and Johnny Avon, amateur, both of Dallas, who toured the layout in 76 strokes. The remainder of scores were extremely high, some finishing in the 90s.

L. G. Wilson of Dallas was the official starter. The next amateur-pro will be next Monday at Houston.

WORM MENACE FACES STATE

PINK BOLLWORMS ARE INVADING AT LEAST TWO COUNTIES

A pink bollworm invasion is threatening Texas, and in at least two counties—Presidio and Brewster—already is a serious menace to cotton, R. V. Miller, secretary of the state plant and seed board, said here Monday.

Recent floods along the Rio Grande have an added menace in that there is no way of telling how far the bollworm has been spread along the valley.

Just Back From Trip

"I am just back from a trip to the Big Bend country and the situation there is serious," Mr. Miller said. "I went out into the fields and found many cases of 100 per cent infestation, 100 per cent worms and several in other stages, on the stalks.

"We found many first and second instarts on bolls that were not open. We found all stages of the worm.

"I know from personal observation that the worms can live under water for 30 days at a time. I have seen that. The worms stick two seeds together and hide. They have plenty of food and they can hide all winter."

From Old Mexico

Mr. Miller explained that the present threat is believed to have come from Old Mexico. The floods along the Rio Grande are thought to have sent the pink bollworm down the river. Evidences have been found in these two counties but Mr. Miller fears that the menace has gone all down the river.

The state of Texas is cooperating with the federal government of Mexico in a campaign to eradicate the pink bollworm. "We have had splendid co-operation from Mexico," Mr. Miller said.

Ispiation of several thousand acres where the worms have been found is planned. Sterilization of seed and other methods will also be used to fight the worms.

rection hereafter."

"If the defendants are not guilty, the least the state can do now is to stop the prosecution. If they are guilty, then the door should not be closed to a prosecution should sufficient evidence to justify it be available at any time hereafter.

"It will be recalled that practically all of the evidence which is now available was presented to the coroner's jury which heard the testimony and so far as I know, all of the witnesses who attended the party. Likewise the evidence of all persons who were in the house at the time of the killing as well as the evidence of the physician who made the post-mortem examination and found the evidence insufficient to justify a charge against any person and while the grand jury who preferred such a charge, and while I have no criticism to make of their action, for I know that it was honest and sincere, yet the grand jury did not have the benefit of the evidence of any witness who was present at the party or who was in the house at the time of the shooting. For these reasons, I request that a nolle prosse be entered in this case."

not a serious one and that the City of Lubbock would not be seriously discommoded if I didn't get down there (City hall) until the latter part of the week."

Brown filed the charges, alleging the officers injured him, when they sought to arrest him for overrunning a stop sign. The attorney pleaded guilty of the traffic law violation and then appealed the case to county court. County Attorney Wilson asked dismissal of the appeal case because "it alleged an impossible date." It was dismissed.

N. Y. U. Running Ace Makes Record Time

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (AP)—George Barker, New York university's long distance running ace, finally has realized an ambition of three years standing.

Beaten off in two previous attempts at the title, Barker yesterday outran a field of 111 rivals to win the intercollegiate cross country championship in new record time.

The New York university star ran the six mile course in Van Cortlandt park in 28 minutes, 56 4-5 seconds, nearly 30 seconds under the record set at 29:26.6 by Dan Dean of Pennsylvania last year.

Barker won by a good 50 yards from Joe McCluskey of Fordham with Tom Ottey of Michigan State third and Arthur Foote of Harvard fourth.

Manhattan college won the team title with 71 points; Syracuse was second with 111; New York university third with 115; Michigan State fourth with 120, and Penn State fifth with 120.

DAILY MARKETS

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (AP)—Cotton futures opened steady, unchanged to 2 points decline in response to lower Liverpool cables and under scattered selling. Dec. 6.27; Jan. 6.33; March 6.44; May 6.53; July 6.64; Oct. 6.78.

There was some liquidation and southern selling in the late months, but price fixing was reported in December and prices steadied on trade and commission house buying. Liverpool bought here on the differences and there was further buying through brokers with Japanese connections. Prices worked from 6.27 to 6.38 for December and from 6.52 to 6.64 for May. The general list was steady and about 9 to 10 points net higher at the end of the first hour.

The census report showing domestic consumption of 502,244 bales for October against 491,655 for September and 461,023 for October last year was about in line with the forecasts. Liverpool cables said trade calling had been supplied by hedging and liquidation promoted by the easier ruling of Egyptian. Futures in Alexandria were 15 to 18 points lower for achmouni and 27 to 28 points lower for sakellaridis.

Offerings continued light later in the morning and the market held steady with prices working slightly higher on continued trade or commission house buying and some scattered covering. December advanced to 6.40, or about 13 points from the opening quotations and 12 points above yesterday's close. The general market showed net gains of about 10 to 14 points at midday. Reports reaching here from the south said there was a slightly better spot inquiry with the basis very firm this morning.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, Nov. 15 (AP)—Cotton opened quiet and somewhat easier today as Liverpool cables were lower than due. First trades here showed losses of two points and the market eased slightly after the start of continued hedge-selling. December dropped to 6.26 and March to 6.42, or 3 points down from yesterday's close.

The market later rallied however as some trade buying developed on covering by shorts who found contracts scarce. December advanced to 6.33 and March to 6.49, up 7 points from the initial lows and four points above the close of yesterday.

The consumption statistics for October showing 502,244 bales consumed by domestic mills, although considerably larger than last year, were about as expected, and had no immediate market effect.

The market continued to improve most of the morning owing to firmer stocks and grain. There was also more trade buying and less pressure from hedges. December advanced to 6.38 and March to 6.53, up 11 to 12 points from the early lows and 8 to 9 points above yesterday's close.

Towards noon, the market eased moderately, losing five to six points from the top on a moderate reaction in stocks and some realizing.

DEBT PROBLEM

in German reparation payments in a settlement whose fulfillment depended upon revision of debts owed the United States. Since, the American people have elected a president whose platform flatly opposed cancellation.

In expounding that platform, Governor Roosevelt mentioned Lausanne in a campaign address, saying:

"It's solution (the debt problem) has been brought measurably nearer by the recent results at Lausanne. The danger now is that they may turn a united front against us. The debts will not be a problem—we shall not have to cancel them—if we are realistic about providing ways in which payment is possible through the profits arising through the rehabilitation of trade."

President Hoover's invitation to Governor Roosevelt reiterated his own stand against cancellation and added that "we should be receptive to proposals from our debtors of tangible compensation in other forms than direct payments in expansion of markets for the products of our labor and farms." Mr. Hoover also linked armament reduction with the debt question.

ROSCOE TURNER SETS NEW EAST-WEST TRANSCONTINENTAL RECORD MONDAY

(By The Associated Press)

BURBANK, Cal., Nov. 15—Breaking the transcontinental East-West speed record by two hours and 17 minutes, Roscoe Turner set his airplane down at the United airport at 5:15 p. m. (pst) Monday, 12 hours and 33 minutes out of New York.

Turner abandoned tentative plans for an about-face in an effort to establish a new round trip record between Los Angeles and New York, explaining that it would be necessary to do some work on his ship.

The previous New York-Los Angeles speed record of 14 hours, 50 minutes was set by Frank Hawks on Aug. 6, 1930.

Turner said he averaged 190.2 miles an hour against strong headwinds the entire distance. He left New York at 4:46 a. m. (pst).

Turner took off from here at 2:34 a. m., last Saturday in an effort to set a new round trip speed record between New York and Los Angeles but damage to his landing gear in setting the ship down at Columbus, Ohio, forced him to abandon the attempt.

THREE-FOURTHS OF LUBBOCK THEFTS AND BURGLARIES ARE COMMITTED BY TRANSIENTS, ACCORDING TO POLICE

Three-fourths of Lubbock's felony and petty theft and burglaries are committed by transients, it was said at police station yesterday.

With these types of crime on the increase, possibly drawing some offenders from the ranks of the unemployed and hungry, police are anticipating a busy winter. At present there are eighteen officers on the force, and two patrol cars work Lubbock thoroughly during the night hours.

Afraid Of Light

"A crook is more afraid of a light than of an officer," it was said at police station last night. "Merchants would help us and perhaps save themselves an expensive robbery by lighting up the backs and fronts of their stores and warehouses.

"In the residential sections, light extensions at the back of houses would cost very little and serve to frighten burglars away at night."

Some Lubbock merchants already are requiring an employe to sleep in a back room of their stores. Police advise other business men to follow this method.

Petty raids frequently total as many as 15 or 20 a week; other weeks they are fewer.

Picked Up Gloves

"Now, the other night a couple of boys, cotton pickers from Cooper, picked up three pairs of gloves and a bottle of shoe polish in a store," it was pointed out. "They had money in their pockets, too.

"One of the suspects in the Levine burglary gave his home address in California.

"At least three-fourths of the burglaries and thefts are by transients, floaters.

"However," and here came an optimistic note, "they are already playing shy of Lubbock because of the reception being given them here."

Starvation and exposure may lead some men into crime for the first time this winter, but many other persons will refuse the temptation, it was said at the station.

Amateurs Dangerous

The few who yield—the amateur criminals—probably will be more dangerous than professional crooks, because they are nervous and afraid of jail. They are likely to shoot when a professional would not, the police department said.

The apprehension of the amateur, also, will be more difficult. Ordinarily, it was explained at the station, police can round up a group of known criminals, check finger prints, examine alibis, and in many instances find the offender.

Benefit of the patrol automobiles was stressed. No estimate could be made of the number of crimes prevented by the roving cars, and several burglaries have been solved by picking up suspicious persons.

LENOID SHOWER WILL PROVE WHETHER METEORS CAUSE ELECTRICAL STORMS

NEW YORK, Nov. 15. (AP)—Man's first opportunity to discover whether electrical storms accompany showers of meteors may come Wednesday night when the Leonid meteors are expected to reappear for one of their rare visits to earth.

The idea that the bombardment of a large number of these meteors may cause a magnetic storm is advanced by A. M. Skellett, of the Bell laboratories. He has published a suggestion to scientists generally to set up the instruments which record magnetic disturbances.

Magnetic storms ordinarily come in the form of intense electrical radiation from sun spots. The electronic rays "ionize" the upper atmosphere, by breaking up atoms so that they are electrically charged. Skellett says the impact of a meteor smashing through the air probably breaks it up sufficiently to cause ionization.

Usually there are too few meteors to make a test possible. A great shower might electrify enough atmosphere to affect instruments, but the testing devices did not exist the last time there was a meteoric storm, which was the Leonid display of 1866.

"The Leonids," Skellett says, "are the swiftest of the recurring meteors and therefore have the most energy for ionization."

They strike the upper atmosphere at average speeds of 44 miles a second.

The Leonids apparently do all their damage at altitudes of higher than 50 miles. They travel so fast that those heading directly downward toward the earth are consumed by frictional heat long before they reach the surface. There is no record of a Leonid ever striking the earth since their occasional showers were first reported in 902 A. D.

WCTU BATTLES WET DRIVE

"BEER BALLYHOO" IS ASSAILED BY MRS. DE VAN WATTS

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Nov. 15.—Mrs. Claude De Van Watts, president of the Texas chapter of the Woman's Christian Temperance union Monday fired a broadside at what she termed "the beer ballyhoo."

"Since the victory of the Democratic party, the beer ballyhoo seems to be a reality to many simple-minded wets," she stated, pledging the W. C. T. U. to obstinatey fight any attempt to repeal the Eighteenth amendment or modify the Volstead act.

Mrs. Watts outlined the plan of campaign to be followed by the dry organization. It included a movement to send petitions to congress from every W. C. T. U. chapter.

"Every church in the state has been asked to help sign up the greatest petition ever sent to congress," she stated, expressing confidence that the dry cause would triumph.

Mrs. Watts took cognisance of a plan to modify the Dean law at the next session of the Texas legislature. The Dean law is Texas' bone dry statute.

"The Dean law is a good law," she stated. "We will work to save it.

"Even in these days when we are apparently a decided minority, we are confident that we shall win this war. The line shall not break where we stand—the beer ballyhoo shall not penetrate."

SEEK HIGHWAY COMPLETION

MAJOR TEXAS SYSTEM OF CONNECTED ROADS IS GOAL OF GROUP

(By The Associated Press)

FORT WORTH, Nov. 15.—Completion of a major system of connected highways in Texas by January 1, 1936, was set as the principal goal of the Texas Good Roads association at an organization meeting here Monday.

W. O. Huggins, Houston, prominent in highway work in Texas for many years, was elected permanent chairman of the association. W. W. Gibbard, Dallas; H. C. Meyer, Rockdale; D. D. Harrigan, San Antonio; Paul D. Thomas, El Paso; J. S. Bridwell, Wichita Falls, and J. F. Barnett, Palacios, were elected as vice presidents.

Every Section Represented

About 100 business men and highway officials from practically every section of the state were present to hear the purposes and proposed plans of the association outlined in talks by T. B. Warden, Dallas, temporary secretary, and J. F. Barnett, Palacios, a director.

Barnett declared that "such an association as we have started has unlimited possibilities for service to the people of Texas through its efforts in preserving our present highway system and in encouraging consistent improvement of the system."

He said that a membership of 25,000 men and women interested in the highways of Texas is possible within a few months. The association proposed to name a director for each of the 31 senatorial districts of Texas and will seek the co-operation of all state and county officials, especially county commissioners.

FOUR BOYS WIN CHICAGO TRIPS

Trips to the International Livestock exposition in Chicago have been awarded four South Plains Four-H club boys by the Santa Fe railway for excellence of demonstrations of scientific production of crops and livestock, in cooperation with county farm agents. The railroad each year offers 19 trips to boys in counties along its lines in Texas.

Winners were:

Anthony Woodward, route 1, Shallowater, Lubbock county, on a demonstration in hegari.

Ancel Miller, Amherst, route 1, Lamb county; cotton demonstration.

J. C. Cordill, Hale Center, route 2; Hale county, beef cattle demonstration.

J. T. McDaniel, Kress, Swisher county, swine demonstration.

Officials To Go Along

M. T. Payne, state boy club agent; H. H. Williamson, vice-director and state agent of the extension service, and L. F. Dinan, Galveston, agricultural agent for the G. C. and S. F., will accompany the party.

The South Plains group will probably leave Lubbock Thanksgiving afternoon and meet with William Hill, of Gray county, at Amarillo. The boys from the other sections of the state are to meet at Fort Worth Friday, November 25.

Value of the trip is estimated at $100. Lubbock county has won nine such trips since 1924.

ADDRESSES CLEANERS

WACO, Nov. 15 (AP)—Walter H. Franks, managing director of the National Association of Dyers and Cleaners addressing the sixth annual convention of the Texas association Monday, asserted that Cleaners, addressing the sixth annucooperate to educate the public in paying a better price for quality service." He said the poorly equipped cleaning shops were unable to give this service.

Thirty thousand free return tickets were issued to mark the opening of the Pickadilly Railway extension from Finsbury Park to Arnos Grove, England.

FAMOUS FOOTBALL PLAYS

CALIFORNIA has a spinner buck that is a wow—if it works.

The Bears leave the man carrying the ball very much on his own, but, as shown in the sketch to the left, he has a clear field in front of him if his fellow players do their part in taking out their men.

On the play the ends stay in close formation on the line to block the opposing tackles. The ball is snapped to the carrier, who whirls to fake a pass to another back, and then turns and dashes into the line.

The other backs have faked receiving the ball and run to one side of the line, two men forming interference for the other who, to all appearances, has the ball.

The opposing backfield, if not on its toes, is drawn in the direction of the three offensive backs, and the man with the ball plows through.

GINNINGS FOR AREA GAIN

NOVEMBER 1ST TOTAL GREATER THAN SAME DATE LAST YEAR

Aided by clear weather the last 13 days of October, Lubbock county farmers ginned 18,161 bales of cotton to swell to 458 bales the excess on November 1 over the total bales reported to that day last year.

"Tabulation of the department of commerce of the number of bales of cotton ginned in Lubbock county from 1932 crop prior to Nov. 1, 1932, is 35,009 bales counting round as half bales, as compared to 34,551 up to the same period last year," C. M. Oakley, special agent of the department, of Anton, reported Monday.

The Oct. 18 report said that 18,848 bales had been ginned in 1932 as compared to 20,391 to the same date in 1931.

Four thousand and one bales more cotton were ginned from Oct 18 to Nov. 1 this year than for the same 13 days of 1931, according to the report.

COTTON HOLDING REPORTED HERE

The week-end cotton business in the Lubbock market was not as large as that of the previous week, local buyers said yesterday.

A definite holding of cotton on the part of farmers is reported by brokers and buyers. One man estimated that one-third of the crop ginned was being held. Others placed the figure at about one-fourth.

Lubbock county's crop is estimated at more than half picked. A large amount of the crop is in the field, piled up. Other counties range from 20 to 40 per cent of the crop picked.

Gins all over the territory were busy the past week working double shifts and well into the night. The crop is much improved in grade and staple over previous weeks, with less green cotton being picked.

Farmers report little trouble in securing enough pickers. Business men state that there is still a considerable era of spending on the part of pickers and farmers.

The area of Alaska is nearly equal to that of Texas, California, Montana, Maryland and Delaware combined.

To Be Buried

Saying the government has "made a mess of of fighting demon rum," Mrs. Myra McHenry, above, 83-year-old prohibionist of Wichta Kan., has decided the eighteenth amendment should be repealed and states' rights instituted. She was a lieutenant of Carrie Nation when that prohibition zealot went about with a hatchet smashing Kansas saloons. Upon Carrie Nation's death her hatchet went to Mrs. McHenry. For 30 years Mrs McHenry, with the hatchet as her symbol, has carried on a spectacular prohibition campaign and has been jailed many times as a result of her zeal.

IRISH FARMERS ORGANIZE

Farmers of the Irish Free State have organized the United Farmers and Ratepayers Association. Frank McDermott, an independent member of the Dail, presided at the first meeting, which was held in the Mansion House in Dublin. Resolutions were passed asking the Government to restore the overseas markets and warning it that farmers could not pay taxes and land annuities under present conditions.

NOVEMBER IS NOT MONTH TO PUT OUT POISONED GRAIN FOR PRAIRIE DOGS

November is not the month to put out poisoned grain for prairie dogs, Don Spencer, district investigator of the U. S. Biological survey, said after an investigation of repeated failures of poisoned grain to do the work.

"During this month there will be no success with poisoned grain for the prairie dogs will not eat even clean grain," Mr. Spencer said. "We tried fresh maize and they would not eat it.

"Probably by next month we will find the dogs eating the poison. Ranchers will be spending money uselessly to attempt to poison prairie dogs now."

Conducts Experiment

Mr. Spencer is here on a field trip and expects to remain in Lubbock until Thanksgiving. He is securing prairie dogs for an experiment to determine if the cost of poisoning them can be reduced.

So far about 30 dogs have been captured in traps sent for the use by Mr. Spencer and J. M. Hill, jr., field man here. They received a lot more traps and now expect to have 30 traps in operation. A dog a day should be averaged in each trap, according to Mr. Spencer.

Recently the field investigator offered 10 cents each for live dogs without broken legs. "I guess the farm boys were too busy gathering cotton to bother with catching dogs," Mr. Spencer commented in saying he had not received a single dog.

Tests Are Made

Stomach tests are being made here with dogs to determine how much and what kind of poison is best suited to kill the animals. The poison is fed through a stomach tube and notations made on the effect of each sized dose.

"Grain now costs $4.50 a hundred pounds," Mr. Spencer said. "We believe we can cut the cost to $2 a hundred. If we can, it will mean a great saving to ranchers and others whose properties are overrun with dogs. The new poison should be effective, too."

Antidote Sought

Another experiment being conducted here is that of developing an antidote for strychnine poisoning in animals. There is no known antidote for this poison in animals and until recently none for the human race.

Two physicians working in connection with research work at Harvard university recently announced the discovery of a new antidote, in itself a poison. Its trade name is "Phenolarbala Sodium."

Mr. Spencer is working on the development of the antidote for animals. At the same time the research laboratory of the U. S. Biological survey at Denver is working along the same line.

Mr. Spencer's title is that of district investigator of control methods. His territory includes Colorado, Texas, Arizona, Oklahoma and New Mexico.

WILL WATER BURN?

CHRISTIANS HOLD CONVENTION HERE

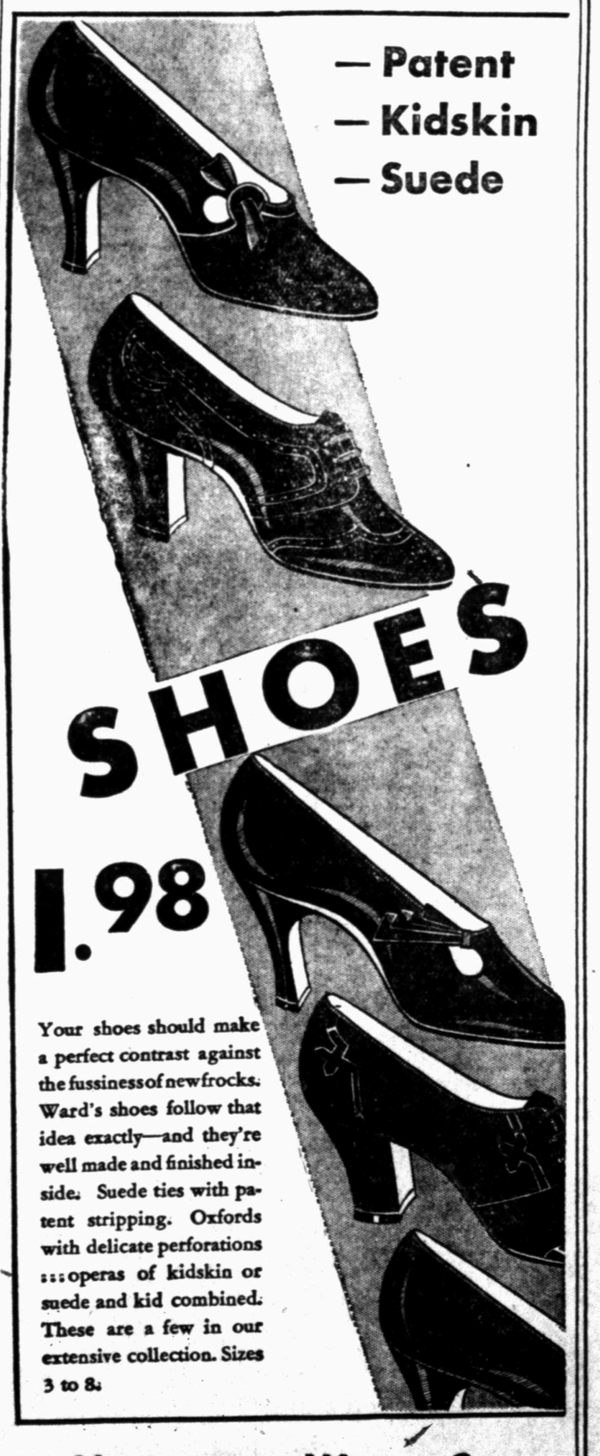

A convention Monday at the First Christian church here attracted about 150 persons from Spur, Lamesa, Plainview, Floydada, Slaton, Clarendon, and other Panhandle-Plains churches. Three sessions, sponsored by the United Christian Missionary society, were conducted.

Stephen J. Corey, president of the society, of Indianapolis, Ind., Miss Martha Gibson, returned missionary from Japan, Mrs. Berta McMasters of Fort Worth, and the Rev. D. B. Titus of Roswell, N. M., were members of the team conducting the program here. "Building Tomorrow's World" was the general theme of the meetings.

All members of the team spoke at the morning, afternoon, and evening sessions, using different phases of world-wide missionary work as their subjects. Corey presided at the banquet in the Bible school annex of the church last night. About 120 persons attended, the Rev. Walter P. Jennings, pastor said.

The group, on the tenth annual tour of one-day conventions, will be in Amarillo next. Mr. Corey preached at both services at First Christian church Sunday.

CRITICISM OF NEW CONTRACT BRIDGE RULES MAY BRING ABOUT NEW ORDER

BY TOM O'NEIL

NEW YORK, Nov. 15 (AP)—Widespread criticism of the new rules for contract bridge prompted a prediction by George Reith that future changes would be made by a representative body instead of the exclusive Whist club.

He suggested, however, that those who disapprove the new code would do a public service by accepting them for the time being at least.

Mr. Reith is chairman of the card committee of the knickerbocker club and was among those called into consultation by the Whist club of New York after it had formulated the new code with the Portland club of London and the commission Francaise du Bridge. Bridge.

Seeks Cooperation

He is actively engaged in seeking cooperation between the American Bridge league and the United States Bridge association with a view to regulation of championships and future changes in rules.
