Legion Benefit To Be Gala Day For Wellington

Event Will Close With Benefit Dance And Free Car Thursday, Dec. 14

Co - Op Barbecue

Other Organizations And Businesses To Co-Operate In Trades Day

Announcement was made today that the Franks King Post of the American Legion would sponsor a county wide benefit day here on Thursday, December 14, which will terminate with a big Legion Benefit dance Thursday night at which time a new automobile will be given away by the Legion.

December 14 will, more or less, represent a Trades Day for Wellington and the merchants of the city are expected to co-operate in helping make the event a success.

To Assist Veterans

Funds derived from the occasion will be used by the local Legion post to create a fund for the assistance of veterans, who at various times have suffered sudden attacks and in the past have been assisted only after members of the Legion have taken up subscriptions to send them to veterans hospitals for treatment. Legion members stated that this delay often endangered the lives of the afflicted ones and that through the creation of a fund for this purpose a speedy application might prove beneficial in the restoration or prevention of further complications.

Additional funds from the event will be applied on an endowment for needy or destitute veterans in this city and county.

Funeral Services For Mrs. Long

Funeral services for Mattie Jane Long, 43, were held from the Quail Baptist Church Tuesday, November 7, with Rev. V. A. Hansard of Hedley officiating.

Mrs. Long has been a resident of this county since 1918 and died here at 11:40 Sunday. She became a Christian when 14 years old.

She is survived by her husband, R. D. Long, Quail; one daughter, Dorris Marie Long; and four sons, J. R. Long, Burrell Long, Lawson Long and Ira Lee Long, all of Quail; also her mother, Mrs. Joe McDaniel of Crawford, Oklahoma; two sisters, Mrs. Lily Wallace of Elk City and Mrs. Cleo Muncney of Crawford. Step children: Millie Savage, Amherst; Mart Long, Quail; C. Long, Stroud, Oklahoma; Pates Long, Quail; Annie Funberg; Edward Long, Quail and Winnie Lou Pendergrass of Quail.

Full bearers were: Tom Crabbe, Ira Self, Hardy Weaver, John Hugenfelt, Oscar Young and Jim Peggman. Flower girls: Merle Palmer, Joe Owens, Anna Laura Ewing, Lucille Self, Hazel Self and Louise Thompson.

Johnstons Attend M. E. Conference Meet This Week

Rev. and Mrs. T. M. Johnston left Wednesday for Clarendon where they will attend District Conference. Business will be attended to during the days and services will be held each evening. Appointments will be read Sunday evening.

Rev. Johnston has been in Wellington the past two and one-half years and has made many friends in the other churches as well as the Methodist Church.

Effort Is Being Made To Establish Municipal Airport At Fair Grounds

After considering plans for the establishment of a municipal airport at the old Fair Ground location here in Wellington, the City Council Monday night appointed a committee to further investigate the situation and meet with the commissioners court in order to work the project out.

The decision followed the personal appearance of Porter Lovins, Monroe and Mervin Keenan, who spoke in behalf of the project and cited many advantages in favor of the creation of such an airport.

Ernest Scott and Lee Fortenberry were appointed on the committee to investigate and meet with the commissioners for the final decisions, since the county owns a half interest in the Fair Grounds. Flying enthusiasts were optimistic over the project, which would offer an open field for the development of aviation in this county.

In making their appeal to the council, advocates of a municipal field stated that numerous other flyers would stop here—and with the possible increase of aviation as a means of transportation and business aid, that Wellington would be in on the ground floor when aviation reached its peak.

Thieves Close Window After Entering Depot

Thieves entered the office of the M. K. T. depot here Wednesday night, November 1, and took an adding machine and typewriter.

S. G. Henry, agent, said that no efforts were made to break into the safe or bother other fixtures in the office, but that the thieves wandered through the warehouse. One peculiar thing about the robbery was the fact that the thieves, who entered through a window, were considerate enough to close the window behind them as they departed.

This is the third robbery at the Katy depot in the past four years. The first robbery included the knocking of the knob from the safe and the second robbery recorded the loss of a number of tickets.

Unemployed Must Register Each 30 Days To Get Jobs

C. C. Bishop, head of the national re-employment office, today stated that the local bureau had placed nine men out of 17 applicants during the past seven days. "All applications must be renewed within 30 days from the time they are registered," Mr. Bishop said, "where the applications are not renewed, the names are placed in the dead file and new applications are given preference over the old ones."

"Persons who register for employment must have lived in the county for a period of six months and in the state for a period of one year."

Business Houses To Close For Armistice Day Military Parade Saturday Morning

Plans were today complete for a military Armistice Day Parade, sponsored here by the Frank King Post of the American Legion, and the mayor, issued a proclamation asking business houses of the city to close between 10:45 and 11:15 o'clock.

Members of the local Legion post will march in military formation from the Legion Hall around the square and the automobile, which the post plans to give here on December 14, will also be presented Saturday.

As many of the members as possible will wear their uniforms in the parade and others will fall in ranks and march in their civilian clothes, W. H. Lynn, chairman of the event, stated. The merchants have been asked to co-operate in the closing for 30 minutes in order to allow all Legionnaires an opportunity to join in the parade.

The local post plans no other Armistice day program or activities for the public, but will, in all probability, hold a Legion meeting at the hall Saturday night.

The proclamation, issued in behalf of the occasion, reads:

"I, H. Deskins Wells, Mayor of the City of Wellington, Texas, by virtue of the authority vested in me as such, hereby declare Saturday, November 11th, 1933, the

Skyrockets Will Play Irish At Shamrock Friday

Both Teams Out For Victory As Old Feud Is Renewed In Grid Battle

Irish Passes

Three Shifty Backs And Strong Passing Attack Is Irish Mainstay

Playing their second conference game away from home, the Wellington Skyrockets will meet the Shamrock Irishmen on the Shamrock field Friday night, November 10.

Both teams have lost several games this season, but the Friday night game will renew the gridiron feud between the two towns, which has existed for the past ten years and both elevens are expected to put everything they have into the game in hopes of victory.

Lost To McLean

The McLean, Tigers, who won a 30 to 0 victory over the Rockets here Monday night rolled up a 54 point total against the Irishmen at the first of the season.

Indication of radical changes in the Skyrocket line-up have not, as yet been advanced by Coach Billy Jarvis in the coming encounter with the Irish, and there is a strong probability that Wood and Parker, who made startling gains against the Tigers at intervals Monday, will again have a chance to perform when they meet the Irishmen Friday.

Shamrock also played a game Monday night in which they took a 37 to 6 victory over the Turkey Turks. Shoemaker, Blake and McDowens are three of the most dangerous backs on the Irish squad and will in all probability carry the blunt of the Shamrock offense. Shamrock is also becoming (Continued on Page Eight)

Officials Enjoy Salmon Banquet

G. N. Scruggs, nightwatchman entertained a number of county and city officials with a dinner at the City Cafe Monday night. The principal part of the dinner was the serving of fresh salmon, which was sent to Mr. Scruggs by Senator E. B. Palmer of Washington, from which state he is senator.

The salmon weighed 12 pounds. Those who attended the dinner were: Luther Gribble, county judge; George Corry, sheriff; V. L. Williams, deputy; Paul Hardy, constable; Deskins Wells, Mayor; Austin O'Neil, game warden; John Bevers, alderman; P. W. Myers, justice of the peace and Mr. Scruggs.

Blind Man Supports Nine Children

Stating that he had been blind for fifty years and still never asked for assistance, N. D. Johnson of the Rolla community Saturday in a speech urging the members of the gin to support the organization, said that he also had nine children. Following his talk, the gin members voted to refund his ginning money for this year and to do the remainder of his 1933 ginning free of charge. Mr. Johnson protested that charity was not the object of his speech, but the members upheld their decision despite his protests, stating that they knew he was not appealing for charity—and they still wanted to give him his ginning.

Last week a man who could neither read nor write subscribed to The Leader, just because "My Old Lady told me to." Another man said, "My wife has been telling me every time I came to town that I had better not come back without that paper. This time I think she means business."

Linked Cotton Information Another farmer subscribed because The Leader carried information regarding the new cotton loan program, which told him something that he could not find in any other paper.

There were many other reasons expressed as the loyal farmers came to the office during the past seven days and renewed their subscriptions, all of which are gratifying and really cause the management to feel that they are being (Continued on Page Eight)

In an effort to determine the progress and consequences of the N. R. A. program, more than 350 local persons filled in and returned to President Roosevelt, this week, a summary of the wage and hour effects of the Blue Eagle rulings in Wellington.

The cards were distributed through the post office here. They asked direct question as to the number of hours employees work and the amounts they received on July 17 and on October 14, 1933.

The cards bore the following message, signed by President Roosevelt, "Two months ago I invited you to enter into an agree- (Continued on Page Eight)"

"Deeper Devotion" To Be Theme For Nazarenes Sunday

The theme of "Deeper Devotion" will be considered by the local Nazarene Church, and all other Nazarene Churches over the nation Sunday, November 12, according to the announcement of Rev. D. W. Simpson, local pastor, today, who said that Sunday would mark the third week of their Silver Jubilee Anniversaries.

"There is a recognized need of a deeper devotional life," Rev. Simpson said, "more Bible study, more time spent in private prayer and meditation; and a greater devotion to the cause of God, and especially to the projects espoused by the church."

"It is hoped that our people, all over the country, will be deeply awakened along this line, not for one day only, but for all times. Our day, Sunday, will be started off with a surprise prayer meeting. We hope to have a good representation of the church present for that service. Our friends are (Continued on Page Eight)"

Man And Wife, Both Past 60 Years, Pick Cotton To Pay Past Due Taxes

During the past seven days a total of $3,718.15 has been collected in taxes, according to the announcement of C. B. Anderson, county tax collector, today.

"Of this amount, $3,213.15 was paid by 32 different persons," Mr. Anderson said. "The remaining $505 was paid on current, 1933 taxes. The per capita payment on delinquencies was $61.79."

"Many persons are paying two years delinquent taxes in addition to the 1933 taxes. This is very unusual and would indicate

Farmers Warned To Exercise Care In Gathering Crop Since Rain

Lynn P. Talley Interprets Terms Used In Instruction Forms

Cotton farmers of Collingsworth county have been busy during the last few days securing Government cotton loans through brokers, ginner and other authorized agents. While no definite figures are available thus far on the number of bales that are being handled this way it is known that a majority of the farmers have been holding their cotton for the past few weeks in anticipation of securing the loan. The loan question represents approximately an increase of $12.50 a bale over what the farmers would have received if he had sold his cotton at the prevailing market price.

May Receive More

While the farmer secures 10c now in the form of a loan, he will receive more if the price of cotton has advanced beyond the 10c mark before he sells. Opinion among cotton men of the county is divided as to the future price, but the majority opinion believes that the Government inflation program will advance the price beyond the loan allowance, and that the farmers will receive a nice balance when they sell their cotton.

Due to the effect of the recent rains, cotton growers are being warned to be careful in gathering their cotton. Cotton classifiers declare that while it has been easy to make the 10c loan standard that it will be more difficult from now on due to the weather. Turkey Market Opened Monday

The turkey market, which was scheduled to open Monday, failed to cause unusual attention here this week, previous to the Thanksgiving Day sales.

It is estimated that turkeys will bring around 10 cents a pound this year—but no definite information as to the actual price had been received Wednesday.

Income from turkey sales in this county has been of considerable consequence during recent years as two and three cars of turkeys have been shipped out regularly, netting local farmers a total of around $8,000 annually, and some individual farmers have received as much as $350 from their turkey sales.

Between now and Thanksgiving the local sales are expected to show a big increase and all of the local produce houses anticipate a good business from this source.

a sincere attempt to get all old accounts cleared up.

"An interesting thing this week was that one man, 65, and his wife, 63, picked cotton and paid their delinquent taxes in full, besides supporting themselves. They worked five days each week and have no income, whatever, except labor with their hands."

"This response indicated that no pressure is needed in most cases and the authorities are very appreciative of this fine attitude."

Goodrich Dealers Urge Preparation For Winter Roads

Winter in most sections of the United States brings motorist difficulties and inconveniences unless the car owner takes steps to prepare for the season, according to L. Z. Cone and M. M. Kern, Goodrich tire dealers in Wellington.

"Cold weather, snow and ice disturb the average driver's peace of mind and without every possible precaution adds materially to the hazards of even normal driving.

If every motorist would consult his favorite service station in the Fall of the year in anticipation of the changing climatic conditions to come, there would be fewer accidents and greater personal satisfaction for all car owners.

"One of the first considerations should be the starting battery and the entire electrical system, including spars plugs, coils and generator.

"Tires, of course, should be capable of giving good traction and skid resistance on all kinds of roads. Good tires are cheap insurance against mishaps and delays.

"We have noticed an increase in the number of owners who give their cars Fall attention to assure safe and comfortable transportation in spite of winter's moods.

"It is simply good business and usually results in a direct saving to car owner."

MAY ABANDON FORT

Fort Brown, near Brownsville, may be abandoned by the War Department as a result of the damage done to the post by the hurricane that recently swept the Rio Grande Valley. Officers estimated it will take $100,000 to restore the post, and since its abandonment was previously considered, it is now expected the government will not consider it worth restoring.

Another border post will soon pass out of existence, for on October 10 bids will be received by the War Department for leasing the 434-acre Fort D. A. Russell property at Marfa. It may be used as a sanatorium, school, resort or dude ranch. The post cost $750,000 and contains 130 buildings.

THE MOST IMPORTANT TIME IS NOW!

The Farmer Co-op Gin needs to gin your cotton now more than ever before. During fair weather we had all we could do, but as the season draws to a close, it is more important that the farmers of this community bring their cotton to this gin. If we can stay busy it will go for much in the way of clearing up the indebtedness of the gin. It costs almost as much to keep the gin running on a few bales a day as it does to run at capacity, and we would like for you to remember during the remainder of the ginning season that your gin needs to stay busy.

On Thursday, December 14, the big barbecue promised the farmers will be held in Wellington. Six beeves and seven hogs have already been promised, but more will be secured before the barbecue is held. Plans are already underway, and if you are asked to help in making them a success, we respectfully ask your co-operation.

But while we ask your help in making the barbecue a success, we would like for you to remember that this is only the commemoration of a more important event--and that was the saving of the Farmers Co-Operative Gin, which was and is of the utmost importance to the cotton growers of this county. The fact that this gin has been kept in the hands of the farmers who built it will have a tremendous bearing upon the prosperity of this county. Your continued support of the gin is essential if this program is to be carried out to a successful conclusion.

ALTUS, Okla.—Evidently believing the policy of fighting fire with fire to be a sound practice, a machine gun has been purchased for use of Sheriff Henry Savage and his deputies.

Appropriation of $215 has been allowed for this purpose by the Jackson County board of commissioners and the gun has been ordered.

Members of the county law enforcement group claim they will now be prepared to cope with the type of bandits who are infesting Oklahoma. With bank robberies becoming numerous in this state, and since most criminals are now armed with machine guns, the need of the additional firearms for local officials was felt by the board of commissioners.

Savage and his deputies have not announced where their "practice" range will be located.

Attribute Colds And Sore Throats To Unneeded Heat

AUSTIN, Tex.—"With the cold months almost here, it is again in order to advise regarding inside temperature. Undoubtedly thousands of homes are constantly overheated during the winter. In fact, there are many families who tolerate an indoor temperature in the cold months to which they would and do strenuously object in summer. Such persons not only are uneconomical with the coal bill, but are endangering their health as well," states Dr. John W. Brown, State health officer.

"People enjoying an overheated temperature become soft and with bodily pores behaving however, imperceptibly as they do in summer time, the system is at a decided disadvantage in defending itself against the sudden change from a tropical or sub-tropical heat to the penetrating cold.

"Consequently colds, bronchitis troubles and pneumonia, taking advantage of the situation, step in and do much unnecessary, and not infrequently, fatal damage. You will agree that this is entirely too high a price to pay for a few extra degrees of unneeded heat.

"For example, a certain family typical of many hundreds, has again started on its annual program of colds and sore throats. However, this does not alter its affection for super-heat. Sixty-eight to 70 degrees is the health temperature. A thermometer kept within that range, plus proper humidity, is a great health safeguard. More than are doing so need to erect it. What does your thermometer read?"

Rabies Prevail During Winter

AUSTIN, Tex.—The State Hygienic Laboratory of the State Department of Health received over two thousand animal heads during the past year for examination to determine whether or not the animal had rabies. Luckily, only about one-fourth of the heads received were positive for rabies. Three hundred and twenty-seven persons were given treatment at the State Laboratory; others were treated in their home towns.

Rabies is transmitted to man through a bite or having a cut exposed to the saliva of a rabid animal. Bites through clothing are not as dangerous as bites on exposed surfaces, because the saliva is wiped off as the tooth passes through the cloth.

If a person is bitten, the offending animal should be penned, if possible, for a period of ten days. If the animal is normal at the end of that time, the case can be dismissed. If it is necessary to kill the animal, this must be done in such a manner that the brain is not destroyed. If it is, an examination to determine whether or not the animal had rabies will be impossible. If the head is sent to the Pasteur Institute, care should be used in properly icing it to prevent decomposition.

Rabies is commonly supposed to be a disease of warm weather, but the warmth of weather has no influence on the disease. On the contrary, rabies is more prevalent during the winter months because exposure to the cold lowers the resistance of the animal. It is true that more dogs are killed during the summer months, but the percentage of rabies is low.

It's Gas-Heating Time Again!

AS AUTUMN FADES INTO WINTER the gas heaters will be used longer hours. And again Natural Gas will be on the job, keeping you comfortably warm. Naturally, this increased use is reflected in gas bills during the winter. In fact, residential heating customers use approximately half of their total annual gas consumption during this period.

By following a few simple rules in the use of your heating appliances, the most efficient and economical service can be obtained.

1ST. Do not light a heater before heat is needed. Natural Gas produces instantaneous heat. And do not leave heaters burning after the need has passed.

2ND. Do not let the heaters burn higher than necessary. As soon as the room becomes comfortably warm lower the flame to a point where the temperature will remain uniform.

3RD. Keep all appliances in proper adjustment. A blue flame indicates the appliance is functioning efficiently. Your gas company will make a free inspection and adjustment of appliances at your request.

4TH. Use modern appliances. Recent developments have brought ap-

Chevrolet Will Open Plant Soon

JANESVILLE, Wis.,—Re-opening of the assembly plant of the Chevrolet Motor company here in the near future was promised today by Ellery L. Wright, former Plant Manager.

Mr. Wright has been in the city for the past several days supervising painting and general reconditioning of the huge plant on Industrial Avenue, which was by far the largest employer of local labor prior to its being closed in September of last year.

Mr. Wright warned that no employment is now available at the plant, and emphasized further that when operations resume here after more than a year of idleness only workers formerly on the rolls will be recalled.

With the assembly line in full operation, as well as the adjacent Fisher body plant, upwards of 1,500 local men again will find employment here with the largest division to General Motors, Mr. Wright estimated.

Mr. Wright let it be known that he will resume management of the local plant when production gets under way. He said he did not think this could take place for the next month or more. Meanwhile, the plant is being prepared, and new machinery installed for the assembly of the latest models of the company.

The plant here was taken over by Chevrolet from the old Sampson Tractor Company and placed in operation in February, 1932. From that date until the closing of the plant in September, 1932, more than 800,000 Chevrolets had been assembled here. This turned into local channels of trade many millions of dollars in payrolls and sustained the bulk of the population of Janesville.

The plant, along with the Fisher Body operation and dockage, has more than 600,000 square feet of floor space, and assembles both cars and trucks for a large area of the north-central west.

Health Officer Advocates New Deal For Bodies

AUSTIN, Texas—In speaking of New Deals, Dr. John W. Brown, State Health Officer, suggested that every one should declare a New Deal for their health. Many persons overdid the annual vacation instead of relaxing and giving the body a chance to recuperate tried to see how much they could do in the time allotted to them. As a result many such persons are now complaining about their tired condition. Vacations spent in such a fashion would seem to need a repeat dose at this time of the year. In making this statement there is no idea of suggesting that one quit work and do the whole thing over. The point is to give the body a new deal. With the crisp autumn days it would be to everyone's advantage to make the most of them. Instead of staying in an over-heated room, step out into the open each day for a walk. It may be that a few less bridge games will be played or fewer movies seen, but your body will not miss them. On the contrary it will be benefited by the fresh air and exercise.

It may be advisable to give the stomach a new deal. Not that any starvation diet is being advocated; only that if one has been habitually over-eating or under-eating, then to return to normalcy. It will be wise to give the body its eight hours of sleep each night of which it has likely been so consistently deprived for a long time.

The beauty of this new deal is that it will not cost any money and at the same time make up for the vitality building opportunity lost during the summer. Such a program is quit worth while. Try one!

Chemical diets including a new human virility which will transfer the nation's executive control to men and women of 65 was forecast last week to the American Chemical Society.

These new diets, said Prof. H. C. Sherman of Columbia University, will be the outgrowth of the recently developed but now familiar protective diets, of milk, fruits, eggs and vegetables. The laboratory discoveries to carry on, he said, already have been made, but many of them have not yet been translated into popular menus.

"The expectation of life," he said "will be extended from 70 to 77 year. Man at his chosen tasks will be at the height of his powers at 65 instead of 58. The age at which it is difficult to get new jobs in a field, now commonly put at 45, will be 52.

"Adults nearing 60 should learn as readily as the young. It is noteworthy that farmers of 50 are just as willing to take up new methods as younger men, as shown by the readiness with which they are adopting the suggestions of county agencies in the national recovery movement.

"Age will yield less readily to youth, and older men and women will to a greater extent rule in human affairs."

When Miss Ethel Ronigan of Chicago was arrested for drunkenness it took five policemen to put her in a cell.

Cattle Feeding Sharply Reduced

Cattle feeding in Texas and in most eastern States as well as in the Corn Belt is expected to be on a reduced scale this winter, the United States Department of Agriculture reports. Feed prices are much higher than a year ago and returns from cattle feeding last winter were not encouraging to feeding operations this year.

A short crop, relatively high feed prices, failure of the fat cattle market to make a seasonal advance since June, poor returns on feeding operations last season and difficulty in financing operations are expected to result in relatively light feeding this season in the Corn Belt. Shipments of feeder stock into the belt from July to October 1 this year were the smallest in at least fifteen years, about 30 per cent smaller than in the same period of 1932 and 17 per cent smaller than the previous highest movement.

With relatively large market supplies of cattle there will be ample supplies of unfinished cattle to meet any increased demand for stockers and feeders this fall and winter. Demand will depend largely on feed and fat cattle price trends.

Arabs Protest Against Jews

JERUSALEM—A few minor affrays, in which several persons were slightly injured and a few were arrested, accompanied Arab demonstrations planned for today in protest of a recent increase of Jewish immigration.

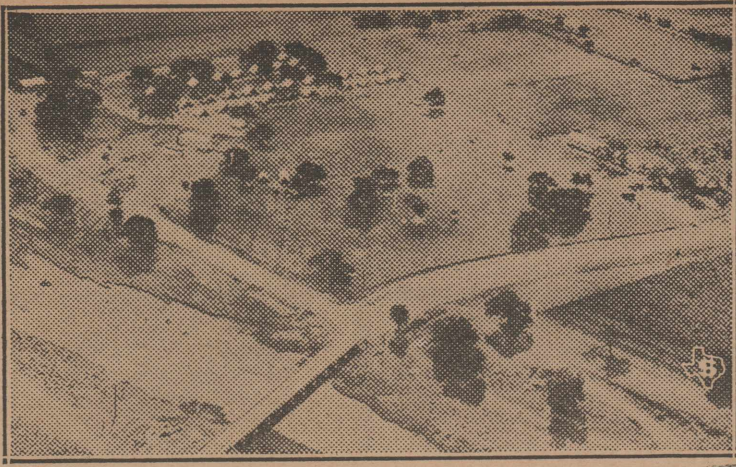

Tin helmeted British police and other officials patrolled the streets armed with sticks.

Crowds of Arab demonstrators sang songs directed against Zionism and against the government as they emerged from the mosques where, under the demonstration plans, they were called to prayers.

As soon as the demonstrators emerged from the mosques, however, they were quickly dispersed as the control methods the police had arranged to meet the emergency were put into operation.

Officials who inspect the breweries in Australia are given tea and coffee for refreshments.

Texas Students To Test Material For Road Department

Austin, Texas—Approximately 98 per cent of the 26,846 samples and specimens of materials tested by the University of Texas Bureau of Engineering Research during the year ending August 21, 1933, were tests made for the State Highway Department, according to Raymond F. Dawson, testing engineer in charge of the bureau. With the recent completion of the new State Highway Building and the opening of the State Highway Laboratory, the University bureau has been relieved of the duty of testing highway materials for the State and will hereafter have more time to give to primary objects of the bureau.

In addition to the Highway Department tests, the bureau tested materials for the University of Texas, for counties, municipalities, State departments and individuals free of charge. During the year one commercial test was made for which a fee was charged.

Stock Shipments Indicate Increase

AUSTIN—An increase of nearly 33 per cent over the 2,844 cars shipped in September, 1932 was recorded in livestock shipments of 3,776 cars from Texas to Fort Worth and interstate points during September, according to the University of Texas Bureau of Business Research. Of the four classes of livestock only cattle showed a decline in carload forwardings for September. Compared with the same months last year shipments respectively were: Cattle 1,429 and 1,617; calves, 643 and 601; hogs, 1,111 and 295; sheep, 593 and 331.

"For the year to date shipments to Fort Worth and interstate points totalled 40,279 cars, an increase of 10 per cent over the 36,636 cars forwarded during the corresponding period of 1932," the report said. "During this period shipments of cattle and sheep were about the same as last year; calf shipments increased considerably, and hog forwardings more than doubled.

"As to the destination of the September shipments the most noteworthy changes from a year ago are the five-fold increase of hogs to Fort Worth, the marked increase of cattle, calves and sheep to Los Angeles, and of sheep to Colorado points, California points other than Los Angeles, Kansas, Kansas City, other Missouri points and New Mexico.

"Similar marked changes occurred in the important livestock districts of the State, compared with last September. In the northern half of the Panhandle only half as many cattle and less than third as many calves were shipped and no rail shipments were received, while more hogs and sheep were forwarded and three times as many sheep were received. In the southern half of the Panhandle cattle and calf shipments were only one-fourth and one-half those of last year respectively, while hog shipments were four times as great. Sheep were unimportant both years. The Trans Pecos country forwarded less than a third as many cattle and calves and double the number of sheep while the Edwards Plateau shipped slightly fewer cattle and almost double the calves and more than twice as many sheep."

Nazarenes Will Observed Day Of Appreciation

By D. W. SIMPSON

Church Appreciation Day was observed by the 2,000 Churches of the Nazarene Sunday. Certain features of the history of the church were emphasized.

The official beginning of the church was twenty-five years ago at Pilot Point, Texas, at which time the union took place. Since that time the church has made much progress. They are now operating 2,000 churches scattered over the United States and Canada, with a membership of more than 200,000. Churches and parsonages are valued 13 1-2 million dollars, schools at 1-2 million; the revenue of the church amounts to 3 1-2 million dollars annually.

Among the institutions maintained by the church are six colleges and two junior colleges and Bible schools. These are: Eastern Nazarene College, Wollaston, Mass.; Trevecca College, Nashville, Tenn.; Olivet College, Olivet, Ill.; Bethany-Peniel College, Bethany, Okla.; Northwest Nazarene College, Nampa, Idaho; Pasadena College, Pasadena, Calif.; Bresee College, Hutchinson, Kan.; and Northern Bible College, Red Deer, Alberta, Canada. The latter two being Bible schools.

In addition the church operates three hospitals—Bresce Memorial Hospital, China; Raleigh Fitkin Memorial Hospital, Africa; Nazarene Sanitarium, Nampa, Idaho, as well as Rest Cottages at Pilot Point, Texas and Kansas City, Mo.

From the church publishing house at Kansas City, twenty periodicals are issued with an annual circulation of 8 million copies. These consist of eight weeklies, including the Herald of Holiness, the official church paper; five monthlies and seven quarterlies. The publishing houses valued at more than one-quarter million dollars and its annual sales amount to another quarter million. Mr. M. Lunn is the manager of the publishing house.

Quite appropriately, the trade mark of the Nazarene Publishing House typifies purposes and aims of the church as well as its work of co-ordinating in many branches of endeavor. This design is a lamp resting upon the open Bible illuminating the globe with this slogan "The Full Gospel to the Whole World by the Printed Page."

The church has, since its founding, been particularly interested in young people's activities. In 1908, there were 523 members in the various young men's and women's societies. Then in 1923 the Nazarene People's Society was organized with 12,768 members, and it became recognized as a department of the general church. Since then the membership has grown to about 45,000. Spiritual objectives are outlined and all forms of worldliness are taboo. The Rev. D. Shelby Corlett, Kansas City, is general secretary.

Cruelty to Animals? Are We to Laugh?

This fine picture shows cruelty to animals, as practiced at the Rodeo at the State Fair of Texas, and promptly berated by the Society for Prevention of Cruelty to Animals. Poor cow! (bull, steer?) Is he (she, it) getting a good neck twisting, or not? Of course the plucky matador, Sammy Stewart of Fort Worth, who was knocked out, and Charlie Johnson of Midland, whose face and body were ripped wide open, don't count. Frank McCarroll, world's champion bulldogger, managed to get the bull by the horns and throw him, ending the rampage of the infuriated animal. One man was hurt badly and two slightly. Everyone—except the steer—intended this to be a burlesque bull fight.

Be Jolly Club Meets With Mrs. Alley

Mrs. E. W. Alley was hostess to the members of the Be Jolly Club and several guests at her home, Tuesday afternoon, October 31. Autumn flowers and other fall motifs were used.

In the contract bridge games, Mrs. Vernon Morris received high score prize for guests and Mrs. Fred Decker low for guests. Mrs. A. L. Cochran received high score prize for members and Mrs. Ben Boston low for members.

Seated were: Mrs. E. W. Moss, Mrs. N. R. Cocke, Mrs. Ray Goodson, Mrs. Jack Deahl, Mrs. A. Bailey, Mrs. R. K. French, Mrs. J. T. Willis, Mrs. Bill Moseley, Mrs. Bennett Bond, Mrs. J. D. Circles 5 And 6 Hold Social Hour At Hopper Home

Circles No. 5 and 6 of the Baptist Church met in the home of Mrs. W. J. Hopper, Monday afternoon, October 30, at 3 o'clock for a meeting and social hour. The house was decorated with colors of Halloween. Goblins and witches were centered about the room each waiting for their turn for a delicious piece of pumpkin pie and hot coffee.

A shower of gifts were given to the leaders. Games of knot tying and riding the brooms with the witches were played.

Attending this party were: Mesdames B. B. Bellow, A. B. Breedlove, John Pritchard, R. D. Oldham, Ray Morgan, Ed Pryor, Jack Ball, Herschel Hopper, Skeet Burden, Bob Alford, Sam Woodside, Roy Mims, Marshall Johnson, Marlow, W. P. Varnell, J. S. Hopkins, Howard Lowry, Jay Ratliff, E. B. Home Economics Club Organizes

Those girls of the Home Economics Department interested in the club met Monday and Tuesday afternoon to elect officers and to decide on the club colors, motto, song, yell, name, and emblems. Officers elected were: Pauline Coe, president; Nellie Simms, vice president; Bliss Miller, treasurer; Dorothy Strong, secretary; Naomi Slay, song leader; and Virginia McMinn, chairman of the program committee. Vella Mae Handley and Nellie Simms are other members of this committee.

They decided to meet the first and third Tuesday of every month. Club colors are yellow and white; the club motto is "As our girlhood is now, so shall our womanhood be tomorrow." The club song and yell were also chosen. The name of the club will be the Se-Co Club. Ten cents a month for dues will be given. Fay Handley, Dale Gulley, and Helen White are on a committee to choose the club emblem. The club has decided to have a year book. In this will go any article on Home Economics that the staff can find. The girls expect this to be the best club they have ever had and are working hard to make it the best.

For the year's work, we have chosen a study of The Charm School. In addition to our regular programs, we plan to sponsor a style show, a Personality Contest, and a Guest Day in high school.

Chess by mule team and then returned to Mississippi for Mrs. Isabelle, her parents and her brother, Albert Q. Bonner, then only 13. Emma Bonner, a cousin, also accompanied them.

As the store was not finished and all dugouts were occupied, the new arrivals had to seek shelter in a tent which they pitched on the site of the present courthouse. Later they moved into quarters back of the store. They were soon to have their first experience with a West Texas sandstorm and norther. By boarding up the windows and piling plenty of wood on the fire they managed to get by all right. The wind blew great piles of sand away that had been hauled in for use in building the courthouse. After that when a sandstorm came Mrs. Bonner would remark, "Well, I see the courthouse sand is on the move again."

Accustomed to the listless weather of Northwestern Mississippi, Mrs. Isabelle found the Texas Panhandle "a rather terrifying place" at first but soon became acclimated and consoled to the absence of ordinary conveniences. There was not a rocking chair in the county.

On her first wedding anniversary Isabelle bought his wife a rocking chair—a wicker rocker—which he had ordered from New Orleans. The next year her first daughter, Jan, was born. The big chair served a double purpose then, as rocker and cradle. Jan, now Jan Isabelle Fortune, poet and writer of Dallas, was the first baby girl born in the county. People came from miles around to see the rocker and the baby.

Wellington grew slowly, improvements being few and far between. It was the country around Wellington which developed fast. The Rocking Chair Ranch, the Horse Shoe Ranch and many others used Wellington as a center.

Wellington went "dry" when its one and only saloonkeeper closed his place and moved away. Nobody ever opened another one. It was years before Wellington had a church. A visiting minister came in occasionally. The pioneer citizens had to do everything for themselves, attend the sick, conduct funerals and bury the dead. Bad weather often delayed the mail and newspapers were rarely seen. When a paper or magazine did arrive it became a "circulating library" and was passed from house to house.—Ft. Worth Star-Telegram.

picture releases and is considered an inside revelation of the world war co-operations and hardships.

Although there is little actual fighting in the story, since the greater part of the action takes place in a German prison camp, and the picture is actually a powerful love drama, several hundred extras of all nationalities are used and many scores of former heroes responded to the casting call. Of these, perhaps the most interesting is Captain M. J. Shannon.

Captain Shannon, born in Ireland, and educated in England, enlisted in the British Air Forces at the outbreak of the war, and later joined the 91st Squadron of the American Air Force. By the time the Armistice was signed, his record for bravery and unusual achievements on the field of battle had topped anything ever conceived in the brain of the most imaginative motion picture scenarioist. He was, for instance, the only lone flyer to bring down, single-handed, a German Zeppelin!

He brought down fifty-eight enemy planes and seven balloons. He received every high honor given by the Allies for bravery. And he was himself brought down three times, once in flames behind the German lines!

Strangely enough, his picture role in "Captured," parallels that part of his actual war experience, since, after being brought down and taken to the prison camp, he is one of the group under the leadership of Leslie Howard, who escape, by capturing several nearby enemy planes.

which may be attributed to the stellar performance of the Sky-rockets in the first half and the fact that Capt. "Cricket" Christenson was held out most of the game because of injuries.

During the first half of the game McLean penetrated the Wellington 20-yard line three times and accounted for three first downs. Wellington made one first down. During the second half the Tigers penetrated the Wellington 20-yard line six times and made five first downs. The Rockets made another first down.

The fact that Wellington dropped the McLean tangle is certainly not a reflection of the team, however, because three McLean counters came after punts had been blocked and the Rockets held the McLean boys better than most other teams in this immediate section.

stakes (so they would swell and hold the tent up properly.) The commanding officer happened to pass and stopped them, since then the old boys are more particular about what they tell the new ones to do. The new recruits got their initiation just the same as we did, only I think we played more tricks on them than the boys did us at Fort Sill. We were prepared for them and they learned a lot about the C. C. C. quickly. lonesome, unhappy—or whether you are well, happy and contented, Doctor Bull will make you feel better. It is said that more people who never attend a movie otherwise, go to see Will Rogers, than any other film star in the world. In this case it will probably bring some who haven't heretofore been attending. It is a foregoing conclusion that no regular picture fan would miss Will Rogers. Adding these virtues, it seems reasonable to guess that "Doctor Bull" will be one of the few attractions causing the Ritz to wish they had more seats.

There are fourteen important stars in the new Barbara Stanwick picture, "Baby Face," which plays in the Ritz on Wednesday and Thursday of next week. George Brent shares the stellar roles with Miss Stanwick. The story concerns a girl who is so alluring that it is hard for her to go straight, and her surroundings make it all the worse. But in the final analysis of the human elements which chart the course of love and loyalty or traitors and dishonesty, you'll find a climax that will hold you spell-bound.

On Friday and Saturday The Texan theatre presents Tom Keen in "Crossfire." Edward Kennedy and Betty Furness support the trusty Western actor, with many more subordinate stars of excellent repute. It is a story where Tom out-shoots, out-fights and out-wits everybody and everything to clear his name for the sake of his sweetheart.

On Sunday, Monday and Tuesday, the Texan announces the presentation of "Headline Shooter," which will furnish as many thrills as the average person can possibly absorb, according to advance reports. Probably those who saw the special Universal Two Reeler at the Ritz, entitled "The World's Greatest Thrills," can appreciate what is in store for them when they see this picture. William Cargan, Francis Dee and numerous others appear.

On Wednesday and Thursday, picture fans will find entertainment in the Texan according to their very liking. The feature is "From Arizona to Broadway," and imagine a cast like this: James Dunn (Bad Boy Dunn), Joan Bennett, Herbert Mundin, Sammy Cohen, Merna Kennedy and eight other principal stars. Then try to imagine the daring thrills of the West and the colorful events of the East—blend them together, and you have the neucleus of this fast moving comedy-drama.

Education Week For Nation Held From Nov. 6-12

County Superintendent
Urges People To Talk
And Improve Schools

Lists Program

Week Sponsored In Effort
To Show Public Aims Of Educational Program

By J. D. WILSON

The public school building is the house of the people. The American common school is the expression of a mighty faith. It has grown up out of need and aspiration. It is the bulwark of those Democratic ideals and rights for which mankind has sacrificed and suffered through the ages. It is the home of light and of reason. Its main purpose is to fight ignorance, selfishness and greed. Its aim is to help people to be happy. It is the hope of a better tomorrow. The common school is a true friend of the people.

During American Education Week people should think of their schools and realize what they are doing for youth of America. The people should renew their faith in themselves and in their children. Let them discuss their problems and determine how their schools may be made better.

It is a fact that increased appreciation of the public for the work of public schools is vital in the present economic emergency. Success in the public school system depends upon the wide co-operation of the people.

The National Education Association has selected the following program for American Education Week:

General Theme: "Meeting The Emergency In Education."

Wednesday, Nov. 8—What citizens may do to protect the schools.

Thursday, Nov. 9—Home and school co-operation.

Friday, Nov. 10—The schools and reconstruction.

Saturday, Nov. 11—The schools and loyalty to law.

Sunday, Nov. 12—Safeguarding character essentials.

I believe that when the people understand the great services which the schools perform, they will wish to continue those services to their children.

Thirty Students From County In Canyon College

CANYON, Tex.—Collingsworth County has had thirty students enrolled in the West Texas State Teachers College during the first split semester of this year. It is expected that there will be additions to this number when the second split semester begins on November 20.

This college is the only one in Texas which has arranged so that students can pay their fees in four parts of $16.50 each, and can take nine weeks' work and have it complete and receive credit thereon. This "New Deal" has enabled hundreds of college students to study this year who could not attend school under the plans in vogue heretofore.

John M. Isabelle Opened First Store In Wellington Back In Pioneer Days

John Miller Isabelle was in the timber business in Mississippi 40 years ago. He was tired of the timber business and yearned for an opportunity to start life all over again in a new and different section of the country.

Isabelle's attention was attracted to West Texas, a new and promising land and it was to West Texas that he headed. Collingsworth County has just been organized and three towns were in a race for the county seat. Isabelle looked them over, decided to go to Wellington, voted for that town and Wellington was made the county

Built For Two

There are lots of ways of getting to school, if you happen to be resourceful. Ellen Hoard and Jimmy Davis, students of the College of Mines, El Paso, seem to have found a solution to their transportation problems in the bicycle built for two. It's not very modern, but at least has the quality of dependability.

McLean Tigers Win Over Local Eleven 30 To 0

Skyrockets Hold Tiger
Score Down With Stellar
Playing In First Half

What started off as one of the best football games of the season, turned into a race track here in the second half Friday night as the McLean Tigers hit their stride and made four touchdowns in the second half of the game.

The Skyrockets held the Tiger eleven to 6-0 during the first half of the game and played some unusual football as they stopped the McLean backs time after time. For six consecutive times during the first quarter the plucky Skyrockets held the Tigers for practically no gain as the Tigers threatened to score within the Wellington five yard marker.

During the second half, however, the Tigers hit their stride which has made them famous over this section of the Panhandle and rolled up 24 more points. They failed to pass the 50 point margin which they made against Memphis and Shamrock, however, (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 2)

Ritz And Texan Will Present Unusual Films

Will Rogers Will Answer
Call For Something Good
In "Doctor Bull"

Texan Screen

"Headline Shooter" And
"From Arizona To Broadway" Features

According to the management of the Ritz and Texan theatres, amusement lovers won't even have to toss a coin to decide whether they will attend a movie or not. The attractions scheduled for these two theatres during the next week contain many outstanding pictures and noteworthy stars.

The last day of the Ritz engagement presenting Edward G. Robinson and Kay Francis in "I Loved a Woman," said to be one of the most powerful dramas seen this season, takes place today. Each of these stars have given the public outstanding performances in every appearance they have made, and to see them together is nothing short of a genuine treat.

Col. Tim McCoy
The "Colonel" affixed to the name of Tim McCoy is not a nick name or a gift, but was earned by many years in the United States Cavalry. His knowledge of Indian sign language was responsible for getting him into pictures, and in his latest thrill-packed Western, "The Whirlwind," he lives up to his standard of popular Westerns. It will be shown Friday and Saturday at the Ritz.

Will Rogers Scores Again
Will Rogers has never disappointed his millions of admirers, but according to advance information he is going to over-joy them with his new role as Doctor Bull in the picture of the same title. This super-special of Will Rogers fame is scheduled for opening at the Saturday night Prevue, running through Sunday, Monday and Tuesday. This famous philosopher-comedian is vested with more knowledge about his neighbors, community secrets, etc., than was ever his privilege before, but even though he is tremendously considerate of everybody's feelings, his role as Doctor Bull offers the greatest opportunity of his life to diversify in his characterization. No matter whether you are sick, (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 2)

District Cotton Classes Lowered

Seventy-two per cent of the cotton from this district was classed during the past week as spotted and yellow, according to the U. S. Department of Agriculture report Tuesday.

About 20 per cent of the cotton was classed as White or Extra White and grade Middling or Strict Middling. Less than 1 per cent of the cotton from that district was classed as Low Middling and below on the White and Extra White Standards. Fifty-three per cent of the cotton from that area was 15-16 and 31-32 inch in staple length. Less than 1 per cent was classed as 1 1-16 inches or longer; while 36 per cent was classed as 7-8 and 29-32 inch. Slightly more than 4 per cent of the cotton from that area was ungradeable on futures contracts. A free per cent was classed as shorter than 7-8 inch.

New C. C. C. Boys Are Now At Work

By JOHN HOLT
FORT DAVIS, Okla., Nov. 7.—Everything is quite lively in the Tree Army Co. 1806 since the new recruits have come. There are 207 in camp now and of course there is always something exciting going on. We are getting a lot of work done these days. Our work at present consists of road work, tree surgery and one detail of men are building a large dance pavilion in the park, which will be nice when completed.

Most of the boys are in good health and peppy and most of them had rather work than loaf on the job because it is rather cold; therefore, we get more work done on the cool days than on the warm sunny days.

David Dodson and his mother, Mrs. D. B. Dodson of the Lutie Community, left last week for Los Angeles, California, where they expect to make their home in the future.

Both Mrs. Dodson and her son are well known throughout the county, Mr. Dodson having come here in the pioneer days of the county. Mr. Dodson is widely remembered as an ardent worker for the welfare of the county and member of the county school board.

County Library Holds Interest Past Ten Days

New Books Arrive And More New Books Expected Here Soon

With an average of 65 visitors each day and 125 on Saturdays, Mrs. C. C. Ryan, assistant librarian said today that the county library was continuing with a thriving business this fall. The number of books loaned during the past ten days has been exceptionally numerous due to the bad weather conditions, which have kept rural residents from working over the county.

Western stories and light fiction still continue to hold the lead in popularity. Mrs. Ryan also stated that a large order of new books was expected to arrive at the library in the near future.

New books received recently are: "Blair's Attic," and "Silver Key," mystery stories; "The Rim of the Prairie," "Red Pepper Returns," "American Beauty," Les Miserables, "The Conquest of Happiness," "Cowboy," and "The Outlaws of Eden."

The new books include varied sorts of fiction with an assortment of western stories, a few mysteries and other forms of light reading material.

New C. C. C. Boys Are Now At Work

By JOHN HOLT
FORT DAVIS, Okla., Nov. 7.—Everything is quite lively in the Tree Army Co. 1806 since the new recruits have come. There are 207 in camp now and of course there is always something exciting going on. We are getting a lot of work done these days. Our work at present consists of road work, tree surgery and one detail of men are building a large dance pavilion in the park, which will be nice when completed.

Most of the boys are in good health and peppy and most of them had rather work than loaf on the job because it is rather cold; therefore, we get more work done on the cool days than on the warm sunny days.

Grace Goodnight Buried October 20

Funeral services for Grace Ann Goodnight, 38, were held Friday, October 20, from the First Methodist Church with Rev. C. H. Williams of LeFors and Rev. T. M. Johnston of Wellington, officiating.

Mrs. Goodnight died Thursday morning at her home. She was well known in this county having lived here for a period of 30 years and was a member of the Methodist Church. She was born at Montague County, Texas, in March 1895, and was 38 years, seven months and 12 days of age at the time of her death.

She is survived by her father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Tibbets of Allamore; two brothers, O. L. Tibbets of Allamore and M. T. Tibbets of LeFors; three sisters, Mrs. B. F. Williams of LeFors; Mrs. H. G. Garvin of Darrouzett, and Mrs. O. S. Mular, of McLean; three children, Mrs. S. N. Whittington and C. E. Allen, both of Hedley and W. M. Goodnight.

Pall bearers were J. K. Porter, Jerry Dean, Chester Lowry, A. B. Smith and John Hayhurst.

Drama Service Now Available

AUSTIN, Tex.—There is now available to high schools of the state, through the drama service instituted by the University of Texas Bureau of Public School Interests and operated in conjunction with the University Extension Loan Library, approximately 2,000 titles, including full length plays, one acts and books on play production, including works on directing, make-up, costuming, and lighting, according to Morton Brown, director of the drama service.

Toggery Employs Wichita Man In Cleaning Plant

Roy Horn this week announced that The Toggery had added W. D. West of Wichita Falls, to the force of The Toggery.

"Mr. West has been in the cleaning business for the past 18 years and is thoroughly experienced in every phase of the business. While at The Toggery, he will specialize in dry cleaning and alterations," Mr. Horn said.

Mr. West stated that he was well pleased with Wellington and believed The Toggery to have one of the most modern and up-to-date cleaning plants in the Panhandle.

Legion Film To Be Shown Here On November 17

"Captured," Unusual War
Epic Will Bring Prison
Camp To Ritz

Arrangements were closed this week for the presentation of "Captured," the film which features every nation in the World War. The picture will come to Wellington under the auspices of the local American Legion Post, which will receive a percentage of the gate receipts, and will be featured at the Ritz for one day only, Friday, November 17.

The play includes an unusual cast, featuring Leslie Howard, Douglas Fairbanks, Jr., Paul Lukas and Margaret Lindsey. It has in several cities been acclaimed as the most daring of 1933 motion (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 2)

Stovall Attends State Meeting At College Station

John O. Stovall, county agent, left Saturday afternoon for College Station, where he is attending a meeting for the County Agents of Texas. The session opened Monday and will continue throughout the week.

The exact object of the statewide meeting has not been made public by the College Station officials, but it is supposed that the meeting this week will concern the farmers of this county and the acreage production for 1934.

Thirteen Rural Schools In Session As Eight More Districts Open Monday

As eight additional schools Monday re-opened their terms in this county, J. D. Wilson, county superintendent, stated that 13 rural schools of the total 41 were now operating in this county.

Several of the eight schools, which started Monday, and not expected to start for sometime, but due to bad weather conditions, which prevented the gathering of cotton by the children, the schools opened ahead of schedule.

Mr. Wilson said that most of the schools would continue their present terms right on up to Christmas and following a short recess would complete their terms.

Taylor Creamery Adds Kelcy Faust To Produce Force

That Kelcy Faust is now with the Taylor Creamery and will handle the produce market was announced this week by Fred Taylor.

"Mr. Faust has been in the produce business for the past 25 years and we feel that we are fortunate in securing his services with our concern," Mr. Taylor said. "After buying turkeys for that long, he is thoroughly experienced and this assures our customers of getting the best of grading, weights, prices, etc."

"We have also just received a car of apples direct from the Missouri orchards and have them on sale at the present time. We feel that our apples are of the best quality obtainable and we have a complete line, including all grades of apples."

Thirteen Rural Schools In Session As Eight More Districts Open Monday

Schools which opened Monday were: Lutie Fresno, Nicholson, Dozier, Plymouth, Abra, Bowen and Seale. The five schools which were already in session were: Dodsonville, Pleasant Point, Kesler, Bean Hill and Enterprise.

The average length for all of the rural schools in this county has been estimated at slightly over eight months by Mr. Wilson, who stated that the terms would extend over this period if state aid was anything up to par and said that a large number of the schools of this county should be able to enjoy a nine month (Continued on Page 8, Sec. 2)

A CATHEDRAL RESTORED

News from France that the magnificent Rheims Cathedral has been restored, after the terrible damage it suffered during the war, will be most pleasing to every lover of architectural beauty. Americans will take especial pride in the fact that this restoration has been made possible largely through the generous donations of John D. Rockefeller, Jr., of New York.

Rheims Cathedral is one of the finest specimens of Gothic architecture in the world, as well as one of the most historic. It stands on the site of the former church in which Clovis, founder of the kingdom of the Franks, was baptized in the year 496. There is a French legend to the effect that a dove brought from heaven a sacred vial of oil for this baptism.

The present cathedral was begun in 1212 and completed about a century later, but numerous alterations have been made from time to time. Here Joan of Arc caused Charles VII to be crowned in 1429, and here the kings of France were crowned for several centuries.

Many of the elaborate sculptures which adorn the cathedral were destroyed or damaged during the war, but fortunately, photographs and casts existed to enable artists to copy the lost masterpieces. So, once again Rheims Cathedral stands forth in its pristine glory and transcendent beauty.

RAT DAMAGE ENORMOUS

Damage by rats to produce and property amounts to 200 million dollars annually in the United States, according to an estimate by the secretary of agriculture of North Dakota, who recommends the waging of a constant and relentless campaign against this pest.

Measures recommended include keeping waste feed and garbage in covered containers until destroyed; preventing accumulations of trash and refuse; making corn cribs and graineries rat-proof; and adopting any means whereby the supply of rat food may be reduced.

Among the means for destroying rats the most effective is poisoning, for which purpose government experts recommend powdered barium carbonate, which is inexpensive and has the added advantage of being odorless and tasteless, therefore more readily eaten by the rodents when it is applied to their bait. Care must be taken, of course, that it is not placed in the way of children or domestic animals. When poison can not be used, trapping is suggested as the next best method to be employed.

In addition to the property destruction they cause, rats tend to spread disease, and from every standpoint they are an unmitigated nuisance. A nation-wide rat extermination campaign might be considered as an aid to unemployment relief.

CHIEF HUMAN DESIRES

According to an advertising authority, people are most easily sold something which they strongly desire, or for which such desire of the average person, it is said, including the following:

To make money; to escape physical pain; to be comfortable; to avoid effort; to receive praise; to sidestep trouble; to attract the opposite sex; to be popular; to have enjoyment; to be in style; to save time—and some other desires closely allied to these.

The above list consists principally of desires for things not absolutely essential to existence, as are food and clothing. When one stops to think of it, most modern desires are for conveniences and luxuries hardly dreamed of a century ago.

In fact, if people were suddenly to become satisfied with the mere necessities of life a majority of all industrial and business enterprises would have to go out of business. The creation of new desires which make for a higher standard of living has been due largely to the power of advertising.

New devices and products which add to human satisfaction, comfort and enjoyment would make slow headway without advertising to create a desire for them on the part of the public.

APPEAL TO CURIOSITY

How people will respond to something which appeals to their curiosity is illustrated in a story from Budapest, where a bookseller circulated an advertisement, translated as follows:

"What must a young girl know before marriage? From the book which I supply to order, the young girl will learn, not what every young girl is told before marriage, but what the young girl of today will find it indispensable to know if she is to prove herself really modern. For reasons easily to be understood, it is not advisable to sell such a book over the counter, but on receipt of the price, four pengoe, it will be sent, discreetly packed, to any address."

The price quoted is about the equivalent of one dollar, so orders poured in by the thousands. Not only young girls, but persons of both sexes and all ages, bought eagerly in the expectation of thrills.

The books were delivered as promised, but were found disappointing. Some customers prosecuted the bookseller for fraud, but he was acquitted. It was held by the court that the books sold through the advertisement really contained information which "a young girl should have before marriage."

They were cook books.

Rosa Flausch, a blond beauty of 19 years was selected by a committee of artists as the prettiest girl in the Austrian capital.

The railroads in this country scored an almost 100 per cent safety record in 1932, only one passenger having lost his life in a train accident last year.

WELLINGTON

People . . . Places . . . Philosophy

By Jimmie Gillette

Now that the duck season is open and quite a few persons are hunting ducks, here is a story from the wide open spaces.

Best Story Of The Week

Last Saturday afternoon J. L. Anderson, former scout master, pulled a stunt that even rivals the great Wimpy, undisputed hamburger king. Just before dark J. L. killed a duck, which happened to be the first one of the day to come by—but the duck fell into the middle of a lake about 100 yards across. So intent was J. L. upon having a duck dinner that he peeled off his boots—and you remember how cold it was Saturday—and waded out to the middle of the lake to get the duck. That boy must certainly like baked duck. I sure hope that the cold water didn't make him too sick to eat the duck.

These rains we have had lately are pretty sure to give the county some good winter wheat, even if they did suspend cotton picking for a while.

We Are Proud Of Our Schools

This county certainly has plenty of reason to be proud of its school trustees. Last week The Leader carried an article to the effect that Collingsworth was the only county in the state of Texas to have paid its teachers in full during the entire three year depression. Texas is the biggest state in the entire union—and that is something of which to be proud—but when our county is the only county in the largest state, we do have something to brag about. We have good teachers, too. In fact, I haven't heard of but one teacher who was not initiative. This fellow took all of the surplus vegetables, bought a beef and had a community canning day up in Wheeler county. Then when those terrible, cold days came along the teachers living in the adjoining teacherage, opened up the cans and cooked a big pot of soup, warmed up some beans, and beef—and stirred up some cocoa. The little tikes filed by and got a nice hot lunch, all without cost to anyone.

Judge E. H. Small told me about the incident, which happened at the Kelton school the other side of Shamrock. That is what I call initiative. Real initiative. If this is a result of the depression, let's have more depression. I would like to meet that fellow for I believe him to be a genius. A man who can take the meager things at hand in a little rural school and not only meet, but even better the advantages of the biggest city schools in the country, because he served the lunch without cost to the kiddies, is a real man and I would like to shake his hand.

Stranger Things Have Happened

Lots of times we get to reading about strange things which have happened around over the world and we wonder how such coincidences can possibly happen. But, if we would just realize it, strange things happen right here in this county. All strange things happen in percentages, it seems to me. One time S. R. Pinkston got thirteen spades while he was playing bridge. That is state-wide and world-wide news anywhere it happens. Not so long ago Ring Lardner wrote an article in the O. O. McIntyre style and marvelled all the while at Damon Runyon's feet; I just wish he could have seen

Lester Benges and Ed Pryor's feet. . . Two men here in Wellington Jimmie Richards and Jack Watson, both have the same initials, E. O. Richards and E. O. Watson, but neither of them are called by a name which the initials represent. . . Frank Gallagher has been eating chickens which were hatched in an incubator and mothered by a pup, which takes an unusual interest in the fowls. . . The city of Wellington one time had more cotton gins than any other town (no matter how large or small) than any other town in the world. . . Collingsworth County copped practically every blue ribbon, including sweepstakes and seven first places, at the State Fair on its hay exhibits—yet hay is not recognized as one of the leading commodities of this section. . . One local lady, she prefers to keep her name unknown, has written and sold three stories to the True Story Magazine. . . Cotton, the leading commodity of this county was not grown here for many years, because it was thought this country was only adopted for cattle raising. . . The old timers used to send their cotton to Quanah and Henrietta, the nearest cotton gins. . . Several dinosaur bones have been discovered in the Marella and Quail communities. Miss Effie and Miss Zeffie Childress have taught two generations of children in some local families. . . Miss Katherine Boverie was formerly a Latin instructor in the Wellington schools. . . The first graduation exercises ever attempted by the local schools were thwarted by a sandstorm, which drove the audience to their homes. S. P. Buster states that he knew Billy, The Kid, intimately. . . Ross Wilkerson has never been in the new courthouse since it was completed.

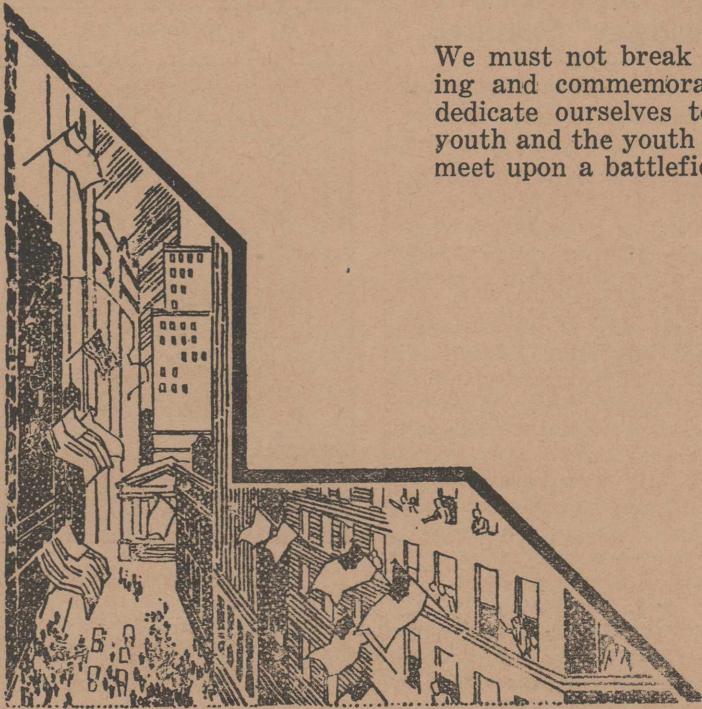

We Shall Not Fail Them . . .

TODAY we pay homage to those men who fought and bled upon a glorious battlefield. They were men of indomitable will and unswerving purpose and we can well cherish their memory. But let us not forget the idealism for which those men fought—they fought not to win a war, but to win everlasting peace.

We must not break faith with them! In remembering and commemorating their stirring deeds let us dedicate ourselves to their ideal and pray that our youth and the youth of other nations shall never again meet upon a battlefield.

ANOTHER SEARCH FOR BURIED TREASURE FAILS

Another search for traditional treasure buried in South Texas by Spaniards two centuries ago has come to naught. Inspiration for the search is said to have been inspired by a book entitled "Coronada's Children," written by Professor J. Frank Dobie. The site of the most recent search tallies with the description given by the author of the traditional "Los Mine of the Padres."

Ten men were employed by a woman to dig for the treasure, with promise they were to share in the alleged $7,000,000 in buried gold. The men were paid 75 cents a day and furnished food and lodging. When the search ended the net results of the excavation were two horseshoes and pieces of rusted scrap iron.

AMAZING NEW TIRE WILL SAVE LIVES

No Extra Cost to Public. Come in and See the New Silvertown

THIS year thousands will be killed or injured by accidents due to blow-outs. Will you be one of them? Not if you use this new kind of tire . . . this tire that makes you 3 times safer from blow-outs at high speeds.

Today's high speeds—40, 50, 60 and 70—cause terrific heat INSIDE the tire. This heat causes rubber and fabric to separate. A blister forms . . . and grows bigger and bigger . . . until BANG! A blow-out! And you're headed for trouble or worse.

To protect you from blow-outs, every new Goodrich Safety Silvertown Tire has the amazing Life-Saver Golden Ply. This new invention resists heat . . . rubber and fabric don't separate. Thus blisters don't form inside the tire. The CAUSE of blow-outs is eliminated beforehand.

The best part of this good news is that you don't have to pay a single penny extra for this Golden Ply protection. Thanks to the Goodrich crusade to save lives, we can give you this new Safety Silvertown for the same price as any other standard tire.

Why take chances? That blister . . . that blow-out in the making . . . may be in your tires right now. Come in today.

BANDMASTER FROM TEXAS

A bale of East Texas cotton helped to make Victor Grabel, born on a farm in Kaufman county, one of the leading bandmasters in the United States. Recently at Chicago he directed the Chicagoland Music Festival held at Soldier Field. The late John Philip Sousa once stated that Mr. Grabel was "one of the finest bandmasters in America."

When a youngster Mr. Grabel moved from Kaufman county to Malakoff, in Henderson county. At the age of 15 he managed a farm. With the proceeds of a bale of cotton he purchased a cornet and joined the local band. When Mr. Grabel entered T. C. U. he became its band leader. He studied in Ohio and Pennsylvania and for a time directed the Third Regiment band of Hollsboro.

Threat Adds Three Years To Term For Young Pampa Boy

A dramatic threat uttered by Clyde DeLong, 18, local youth convicted of forgery, added three years to his penitentiary sentence in 31st district court today.

Judge W. R. Ewing, on the recommendation of the district attorney had previously heard DeLong's plea of guilty in a sympathetic spirit and had the minimum sentence of 2 years in mind. During the judge's talk before sentence, he stopped and gave DeLong a chance to talk.

"I'll kill him," snapped the youth after blaming Murray Freundlich, to whom he gave the forged check, for the indictment.

Judge Ewing finished his remarks with terse severity, assessing the maximum penalty of 5 years because of the "criminal spirit" shown by DeLong.

As he was being led from the court room, the youth pointed to Freundlich and hissed, "I'll get you yet."

DeLong had been listed as a "bad boy" in sheriff's records for some time. He was sentenced to a year in the state reformatory in February of last year. The check he admitted forging and giving Mr. Freundlich was for $23.50.

The local merchant was on the jury which convicted DeLong for burglary last year.

Government Wheat Review Board To Have Farm Members

Farmers familiar with conditions in the wheat producing regions of the country will be among members of the "county acceptance organization," a review board which will give final inspection to acreage-reduction contracts when the contracts are sent to Washington, it was announced today by the wheat section of the Agricultural Adjustment Administration.

George E. Farrell, associate chief of the wheat section, today announced plans for the organization to review county records and the contracts. The board will include farmers, statisticians, and extension service workers from the principal wheat States.

"With these men from the major wheat areas on the board, farmers may be certain that the records from their counties will receive sympathetic and informed consideration," Mr. Farrell said.

"The record of each county will be accepted as a unit; the county records will be considered in the order in which they are received," the wheat section head announced.

"After the county wheat production control association has made the individual farm allotments and contracts have been signed, the applications contracts and association records are forwarded to Washington, where the acceptance board will check the county totals of farmers who participate, the total acreage involved, and also the acreage not included in the wheat program. Another item which the board will check is the budget adopted by the county association. This is done to insure that expense to farmers in every county is held to a minimum.

"In addition to checking county totals, the board will review in detail a number of contracts selected at random from each county.

"As each county is accepted, it will be given a number, and adjustment payments under the program will be paid in the order in which the county records are approved. If for any reason a county report cannot be accepted, the member of the board who is from the area in which the county is located will be given an opportunity to present the case to the board.

"Rejected county reports will be returned to the county for correction when necessary. Such rejected reports will not receive a number until they are corrected in the county, sent back to Washington, and given final approval by the county acceptance organization."

BEAN HILL

By Seventh Grade Pupils

The school pupils had a Halloween party with fifty-seven pupils, patrons and guests present. The party was given at the school building with a goodly number of ghosts, goblins and witches present. Games were played until refreshments were served.

The P. T. A. met at its regular meeting, Thursday evening with only twenty present due to the extremely bad weather. We appreciate the presence of the faithful few and sincerely hope all will be present for the December meeting.

The Sunday school met as usual with a nice attendance, but our superintendent, Mr. Wallace suffered a severe headache and could not be present.

Deck's DIDACTICS By H. D. W.

On the editorial page of The Leader is a very finely worded pictorial editorial which prays that our youth and the youth of other nations shall never again meet upon a battlefield. It is headed, "We shall not fail them." It occurs to me that we will probably fail them in the future just as we have in the past. We failed them when we allowed war hysteria to plunge this nation into war. We failed them when millions were squandered in graft while overseas veterans were dying by the thousands for want of the proper care at the right time. We failed them when officers were allowed to draw unusual compensation for no injuries, while soldiers disabled on the field of battle and the widows of those who died there were receiving a pittance or nothing at all. And we will fail another generation, now in its teens, unless we strive at all times to develop a sentiment for permanent peace.

Much of this mentioned above has been out of our hands as far as control was concerned. There is one thing right here at home where the proposition is squarely up to us. The Frank King Post of the American Legion is endeavoring to raise money for a very worthy combination of purpose. The most important of these is to build up a fund to take care of disabled veterans and see that they are given immediate attention when the need develops. In the past it has been necessary for officials to have to take up donations in order to get veterans to the hospital. In some instances the element of time was most important. With a fund for this purpose the officials in charge can make immediate arrangements to see that the members of the Legion are given needed attention on time. When you help further the project of a big benefit day on December 14, remember that you are doing more than help raise money for a worthwhile organization. You are helping in many cases to save the life of a man who risked his in the interest of all of us.

I have been asked to remind the farmers of this county to be very careful in picking and pulling their cotton from now on if they expect to receive the fullest benefits from the Government 10c loan plan. It is important that the cotton be picked clean and that it be pulled dry if it is to measure up to the specifications necessary to secure the 10c loan. Cotton that falls below the 10c basis will represent a considerable loss to the grower, and since bad weather has started it is essential that it be clean if the handicap imposed by bad weather is to be overcome. While the weather was fair, it did not make much difference, for practically every bale was measuring up to standard or better, but now greater care in gathering the cotton will be needed.

Among about thirty or forty other duties Johnnie Wallace is seeking to raise money for the Red Cross. In this connection I would like to say that the Red Cross has spent more money in Collingsworth County during the past three years than we have paid to the organization. It is a great humanitarian movement caring for the sick and the destitute, and once each year we are asked to take part in the work. Your membership helps perform the most direct and practical relief service to stricken people that has ever been known in the history of the world. The Red Cross button is a badge of honor that should be worn with pride by every man and woman who has a sense of compassion for his fellowman.

The banks of Collingsworth County have nearly a million dollars on deposit, and their loans are decreasing, which means that the farmers are getting out of debt. This means better business for the merchants next spring and summer and better living conditions for the people as a whole. Whether you realize it or not the Government's program has helped tremendously in enabling the people of this community to pay their debts. Even if nothing more is done, we have already received great benefits, but thank goodness the program is still continuing.

I certainly have been having plenty to eat during the last few days. W. A. Colson brought me in some of the best sorghum syrup that I ever tasted. The next day my father-in-law brought me several big thick steaks, and the same afternoon John Savage brought me a big sack of roasting ears. Can you imagine that—June corn in November. John wanted to know if I was going to complain because the corn had not been shucked and silked. I didn't, because I heard that Mrs. Savage thought I was an ungrateful cuss when I commented on the chicken she sent me and wondered why it hadn't been picked and dressed. But that is not all. On Monday G. N. Scruggs asked me over to dinner with a number of officials, and fresh salmon was served. It was sent all the way from Seattle Washington, and it was the best tasting fish I ever ate.

M. P. WATKINS, Manager

Mexican Government To Open Pancho Villa Ranch For Public Settlement

LAREDO, Texas—The ranch of the late Pancho Villa, notorious revolutionary chieftain, of approximately 180,000 acres, and known as "Hacienda de Canutillo," in the state of Durango, 60 miles from the city of Parral, Mexico, where Villa was assassinated in 1923, will soon loom as one of the richest agricultural tracts in old Mexico.

The place was given this name after the Mexican government secured the original hacienda from the Jurado family and presented it to Villa. Villa later acquired the adjoining hacienda known as Las Nievens, where Tomas Urbino, his right hand man in his bandit exploits was born. He added the adjacent farms, Le Caritena, El Cristo, San Antonio and E. Torreoncita to the original hacienda and named the vast holding of about 180,000 acres "Hacienda de Canutillo." Through the center of this great area flows the Rio Florida, providing ample water for irrigation. Over 3,000 acres of growing crops are now watered by that stream.

After the death of Villa 10 years ago his widow administered affairs on the hacienda, but recently the Mexican government reclaimed the land and decided to open it up to settlement and cultivation. Already on the hacienda are about 1,200 residents including many followers of Villa in his days of glory.

According to Col. Manuel F. de la Garza of the Mexican army engineering department, who is spending his vacation with his family at his home in Laredo, the "Hacienda de Canutillo" has been subdivided into about 720 farms of about 250 acres each. These farms are now being sold to agriculturists by the Mexican government, with the condition that all who acquire holdings must put the land into cultivation and grow crops at all seasons of the year. Those who cannot cultivate the entire acreage must release the uncultivated part. Those acquiring the land pay annuities to the government for it. Already many of the 250-acre tracts have been taken up and within a short time the former Villa hacienda promises to become one of the fruit and vegetable paradises of Mexico, as the virgin soil is very fertile.

Villa's home occupied a portion of a large adobe structure divided into three parts, the home, a church and a large storeroom, which included a garage and blacksmith shop. These surround a spacious patio in which many of the rarest flowers and plants of Mexico were grown at all times.

Mrs. Morris Wells Honoree Friday At Shower

Friday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock friends of Mrs. Morris Wells were invited to the home of Mrs. Clifton High where Mrs. High and Mrs. Deskins Wells were joint hostesses in entertaining with a shower for Mrs. Wells.

Diane Wells and John High presented Mrs. Wells with the gifts as she entered the door. A short program was given with the following numbers: Mrs. Jack Deahl, piano selections; Miss Katherine Lynn, tap dance; Mrs. Charles Crews, vocal solo; Miss Claudia Elliott, reading. Mrs. Jack Deahl accompanied Mrs. Crews and Miss Lynn.

The rooms were attractively arranged with bouquets of roses and chrysanthemums. Shoulder corsages were given to the guests as favors and were made of rosebuds and autumn daisies.

Martin Coyle Is Named Head For General Motors

DETROIT, Mich.—Appointment of Martin E. Coyle as General Manager of all Chevrolet Motor Company operations brings into the limelight a man who for the past decade has played an increasing important part in the shaping of the destiny of the largest manufacturing division of General Motors.

Mr. Coyle assumed full control of Chevrolet on Oct. 16, following the advancement of W. S. Knudsen, former general manager of Chevrolet, to be post as executive vice president of General Motors with headquarters in Detroit. The advancement of Mr. Coyle came just one week after his 46th birthday, and brought into the public eye a man who has worked quietly behind the scenes with Mr. Knudsen in shaping policies and determining administrative procedure of Chevrolet practically since the two men were first associated together in the company in 1922.

Mr. Coyle has spent nearly half his lifetime in the continuous employment of General Motors. He entered the organization in the fall of 1911 in a clerical capacity, and has served with the central office or with its divisions without interruption since that date.

Police Break Up NRA Rioters At New York Hotel

NEW YORK—Mounted police rode their horses through crowds of rioters recently at NRA headquarters at the Hotel Pennsylvania in midtown New York. Police said radicals numbering 3500 were responsible for the disorders. More than fifty arrests were made. Groups of demonstrators bearing placards and banners, were pushed back to sidewalks and police attempted to chase them out of the neighborhood.

More than 2,000 strikers in the cleaning, dying and tailoring industry assembled at the hotel at 10:30 A. M.

NRA officials charged the demonstration was inspired by a communistic faction which refused to be taken into right wing unions following NRA meditation in a threatened strike of 25,000 workers of neighboring shops.

Under the terms of the meditation right wing unions were to be recognized and cut prices in the industry were to be abolished.

Banners carried by the demonstrators proclaimed a right to select their own labor organizations.

NEW WAY TO CURE MEATS

The United States Department of Agriculture has designed a meat curing box that has been revised by Texas A. & M. College at Bryan, Texas. It is claimed that farmers who use it will not have to depend so much upon the weather when killing their hogs in the fall and winter. It can be built at a cost of about $28 and will hold 800 to 100 pounds of dressed meat. Blueprints of the box and directions for its making and its use have been prepared and are available through county farm agents. The use of this box should enable farmers to avoid losses from meat spoiling when the weather turns warm during the winter after hogs have been killed.

Legion Benefit--

John W. Harper, Dr. E. W. Jones, J. N. Wallace and Dick Wiley was named to head the occasion.

At their meeting Thursday night the members adopted the above plan for raising funds for the Wellington post and although they have sponsored many movements for the welfare of the community, such as cleaning the cemeteries, Boy Scout organizations, etc., this is the first time they have actually tried to raise funds through a direct appeal to the public—and the present plan is considered as greatly needed at the present time by the county and community.

The Farmer's Co-Op Gin managers have also announced their intention of giving their free barbecue on the same date of the Legion Benefit program; other organizations and business houses have also expressed the intention of co-operating to the fullest extent with the movement to make the day one of the biggest in the history of Wellington.

year distributed among distressed families 104,000,000 garments and ceased from government surpluses. According to Dr. C. E. High chairman of the local chapter, the benefits from this program have been felt in nearly every county in the United States. Altogether, the chapter leader added, the food and clothing needs of 25,000,000 individuals, representing a fifth of the country's entire population, were partially met by the Herculean distribution task.

Of the total amounts distributed 330 barrels of flour and 1,050 ready made garments were sent out by the National organization. In addition this county was allotted 5,000 yards of piece goods which either were made into clothing by volunteer sewing groups or by beneficiaries able to sew for themselves.

With a spirit comparable to wartime enthusiasm 600,000 volunteer workers helped in the nation-wide program, performed at a cost of $685,000 to the Red Cross. Without the service of volunteers in this and the thousands of other communities benefitted by the operation, such a task would have been impossible, Dr. High said.

"Co-operation throughout the program was community-wide and is evidence that all organizations and persons can unite in Red Cross to meet perplexing situations. The cotton distribution was under the direction of Miss Katherine Boverie, who gave careful thought to meeting each problem as it developed. The flour distribution was also handled by Miss Boverie.

"The success of the entire operation," Dr. High said, "is due to the fact that Red Cross with its 3,700 chapters, covering every section of the United States, stands ready to go into action when needed. The annual Roll Call, conducted as it is every year between Armistice Day and Thanksgiving, provides the income necessary to keep that organization ready to function quickly when emergencies arise. The regular programs of safety and health education are continued through the response to the invitation for annual membership enrollment. Between Novem-while wet or that is ginned wet, will be turned back in many instances according to the classes. For this reason it is pointed out that care should be used in gathering the cotton if the fullest benefits are to be secured from the loan provisions.

The following instructions from Lynn P. Talley regarding loans have been received in Wellington this week:

The Executive Committee of Commodity Credit Corporation has adopted the following interpretations in respect to certain terms in the provisions of "Instructions C. C. Form 1."

1. Term "marks" as used in paragraph 12 to include tags. In this connection wa rehouse receipts need not state grade in their written or printed terms but must state weight.

2. In connection with the provisions of paragraph 14, lending agencies and subsequent holders of eligible paper will necessarily have to carry a risk as to the uninsurable portion of the loan in cases where insurance coverage cannot be obtained for the full amount of the loan. This risk should be small in view of the fact that such lending agencies and holders will doubtless know the quality of the cotton pledged as collateral to paper held by them.

3. "Eligible cotton" as used in paragraph 1. Round bales are eligible. Middling tinges and strict low middling spotted cotton acceptable on same basis as low middling.

4. "Producer" as used in paragraph 1 includes share croppers. The following interpretations have also been made of certain terms used in the agreements, C. C. Form A:

The terms "federal agency or instrumentality" as used in paragraph 7, includes the Federal Sur-
