Bus And Car In Collision In City

TWO SLIGHTLY SHAKEN IN COLLISION ON 16TH STREET

Guy Travis of 2401 Twenty-First street and Jas. Witt of 1812 Eighteenth street, occupants of a Chevrolet sedan, and Joe Foster, driver of a City bus, were shaken up slightly in a collision between Travis' car and the bus at 11:45 a. m. this morning at the corner of Avenue U and Sixteenth street. The bus was overturned in the crash.

Travis was the worst shaken of the trio but was not taken to a hospital. He was "knocked out" momentarily but recovered and left the scene a few minutes after the accident. No passangers were in the bus.

Bus Is Swerved

The bus was traveling west on Sixteenth and Travis was going south on Avenue U when the two vehicles went together. The bus driver swerved his machine to the left and possibly avoided crashing headlong into the smaller car and seriously injuring its occupants. The bus turned over on its side against the curb after its bumper had become entangled in the other machine. The smaller car was turned almost around by the impact.

The accident attracted motorists to the scene for several minutes afterwards and police had to keep cars moving in order to prevent congestion. Several score of people milled around the wreck for thirty minutes after the accident.

Had the accident occurred on the bus' next run, fifteen minutes later, it probably would have been carrying several passengers en route home to lunch from the downtown section, it was said.

WASHINGTON, May 21. (AP)—Enactment of oil production control legislation this session was urged today by Secretary Ickes.

The revised measure would give Ickes almost complete control over production.

The administrator would be empowered to set allowable production quotas not only for states but for individual pools or wells within states. He likewise would be given authority to control imports and to keep a close check on the books and operations of oil companies.

Bar-Fly Now Can Use A Brass Rail

NEW YORK, May 21. —(AP)— The bar-fly — long-suppressed fellow—put his foot down in New York today. He put it down on a brass rail.

This was done with the approval of the state alcoholic beverage control board which decided that, after all, there is nothing wrong about perpendicular drinking.

Since the repeal of prohibition, the feet of Gotham's drinkers have been futilely groping for rails that weren't there.

The town's professional hosts were ready for the come-back.

At the Park Lane, the standees drank at a 40-foot bar which carries out the rustic note supplied by a mill, a mill-wheel and a mill-pond.

The Hotel McAlpin offered patrons a 50-foot bar done in the old-school style of heavy walnut. The McAlpin gave up its frantic search for pieces of its historic horseshoe bar which was sawed up and given away, bit by bit, the night prohibition went into effect.

STRIKERS AND COPS CLASH

EIGHTEEN INJURED AS VIOLENCE FLARES AT MINNEAPOLIS TODAY

(By The Associated Press)

MINNEAPOLIS, May 21.— Riots broke out again early today in the market district and eight policemen and ten strikers fell as 300 pickets and nearly 100 special policemen clashed over the movement of trucks.

One striker was reported to have stabbed a policeman.

Congressman Francis H. Shoemaker F-L., Minn.) was taken into custody at the market place where he was mingling with a crowd of police and striking truck drivers.

Strikers Armed

As several produce firms began moving out trucks loaded with vegetables, berries, and other perishables, both strikers and police were on hand. The majority of the strikers were armed with clubs, bats and poles. Many carried rocks.

As two trucks started out, a mass of pickets stepped into the alleyway to block them. Police clubs swung. The pickets surged into the fray, swinging clubs themselves. Half a dozen policemen dropped to the pavement, and as many pickets, their heads streaming blood.

Picket Wields Knife

One tall picket drew a flashing knife from his belt and swung it viciously. It lashed across the back of a policeman's neck, inflicting a deep gash. Police ran to their cars and unlimbered their riot guns, taking stations around the outskirts of the battle.

The slugging lulled with the appearance of shotguns and strikers fell back.

Congressman Shoemaker, without tie and in shirt sleeves, was carrying a broom handle when officers took him into custody.

Thirteen Die In Week-End Plane Crashes

FDR WILL LET DARROW BOARD EXPIRE

PRESENT TASK TO BE LAST FOR GROUP

GOVERNMENT CONTROL URGED IN REPORT ATTACKING NRA

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, May 21. —President Roosevelt apparently intends to let the Darrow board finish its task of investigating whether there have been monopolistic practices under NRA.

It submitted a partial report last night excoriating the NRA. Clarence Darrow, the chairman, and another member advocated government ownership and control of industry.

To Let Board Die

It was made known today at the White House that the president will permit the board to go out of existence when it finishes its work, expected in a few days.

Hugh S. Johnson, the NRA administrator, who issued a sizzling reply to the report, has demanded the immediate abolition of the board.

Meanwhile, Senator Nye (Republicen, N. Dakota), whose criticism was largely instrumental in leading to the formation of the board, told reporters that "many of the codes are working destruction for small business and entrenching monopoly."

Senator Borah (Republican, Idaho), another critic, withheld comment.

The board, which had been asked by President Roosevelt to review the practices of the National Recovery administration, stabbed at the heart of NRA's principles of industrial codes by saying:

"All competition is savage, wolfish and relentless, and can be nothing else. One may as well dream of making war lady-like as of making competition fair."

The socialistic alternative of government ownership was suggested in a supplementary report signed by Darrow, 77-year-old lawyer, and one other board member—William O. Thompson of Chicago, former law partner of Darrow. It said:

"The choice is between monopoly

PARAGUAY BRACES FOR BIG ATTACK

ASUNCION, Paraguay, May 21.—(AP)—Paraguayan men and guns thrown into position along a 25-mile front today in preparation for a great offensive against the most important Bolivian stronghold in the Gran Chaco, Fort Ballivian.

Bolivian forces opened hostilities yesterday with a surprise attack but were repulsed with the loss of 200 men.

Well-informed sources believed the projected engagement will prove the crucial battle in the warfare over the Gran Chaco jungle border region after sweeping over all Bolivian forts throughout the Chaco, the Paraguayan high command has concentrated approximately 40,000 men divided into four units in the last forests of the Chaco.

Grubbing Begun On Homestead Project

Fifty men from Lubbock county and an equal number from Hockley county this morning began grubbing 2,000 acres on the 4,000-acre federal subsistance homestead project in Hockley county north and east of Ropesville. Some preliminary work was done last week, from 25 to 50 men being employed.

At least 40 days will be needed to complete the work, according to reports. First reports indicated only 2,000 acres were to be grubbed, that acreage to be planted to maize. Later reports indicated the entire acreage would be cleared.

Men for the work are taken from the relief rolls of each county.

HARLINGEN, May 20.—Preliminary hearing was in order today for William Osborne, 16-year-old Premont High school boy, charged with the holdup slaying of J. M. "Jack" Brinck, one-time member of the United States Olympic rowing team and former University of California athlete.

Osborne, arrested last night as he finished a long sleep in a wooded section off the highway where Brinck was slain late Saturday night, admitted the slaying and robbery, which netted him $70.

W. W. Musgraves, customs officer who arrested the youth, said Osborne made a statement detailing the crime and then led them to the place where he had concealed the pistol used in the shooting.

Brinck, en route here from Falfurrias, had picked up the lad as he hitched-hiked along the highway.

The body was held at Alice, Tex., pending word from his father William Brinck, of Winters, Calif., official of the California fruit exchange. Young Brinck was a member of the United States rowing team that completed in Amsterdam in 1928.

POISON LIQUOR PLOT AGAINST EIGHT MEMBERS OF FRATERNAL GROUP BARED

(By The Associated Press)

OAKLAND, Cal., May 21.—Science took up the trail of clues here today in what police said was a poison plot against at least eight members of a fraternal organization.

"Sample" bottles of liquor received through the mail by the eight, all members of the Fruitvale parlor, native sons of the Golden West, were turned over to E. O. Heinrich, criminologist. Police Inspector James Goodnight said he expected an arrest soon.

At the same time, authorities issued a warning to other persons who may have received "sample" bottles of the liquor. Each of the eight bottles turned over to Heinrich contained sufficient poison, Captain of Police Inspectors Alex Trotter said, "to kill a regiment."

Inspector Goodnight said a threatening typewritten letter received by a member of the lodge several weeks ago had been turned over to Heinrich in the belief the character of type was the same as that appearing on wrappers of the poisoned liquor. The eight bottles were mailed May 15 from an Oakland branch postoffice.

Mason Selected As Legion Head

COMMITTEEMAN NAMED TO STATE EXECUTIVE BOARD AT MEETING

H. M. (Hub) Mason of Lockney was elected 19th district committeeman to the state executive board of the American Legion in the closing session Sunday of an organization meeting of Legionnaires and auxiliary women here.

Lee T. Stinson of Snyder, unopposed, was chosen assistant executive commiteeman; E. C. Kuykendall of Plainview as Committeeman Mason's adjutant, and Riley F. Huie, commander of Allen Bros post, No. 148, here, district delegate to a national Legion convention at Miami, and O. L. Weakley of Post as alternate delegate.

500 Attend Meeting

About 500 Legionnaires and auxiliary members atetnded the meeting, which began Saturday and had an official registration of 371, George S. Berry, chairman of the general arrangements committee, reported.

Mason, a member of W. E. Landrum post, No. 141, also is a squadron commander in the 36th division air corps of the Texas National Guard.

In the election of executive committeemen, Mason received 45 and Weakley 41 votes, after a third candidate, Jack Thommam of Levelland, withdrew.

An attempt to throw out Lubbock votes because they were those of the host post was defeated. Lubbock had promised to support Mason's candidacy before this city was selected as the place of the meeting, local Legionnaires said.

Broome Indorsed

A resolution indorsing George Broome of Amarillo as a candidate for the 5th division commandership was passed. A divisional convention will be conducted at Lamesa, June 23-24.

The divisional area extends from the Oklahoma panhandle to the Rio Grande and westward to Taylor county.

A resolution that the post commander of the host city hereafter should be sent to the national convention as delegate from the 19th congressional district was defeated. Smaller posts did not feel they could bear their proportion of the expenses, it was said.

Bob Lindsey, executive committeeman of the 18th district, of Borger, presided at the meeting, at which the 19th district Legion shaped an organization.

George E. Hughes, state department adjutant, and Dr. Bradford Knapp, president of Texas Technological college, spoke at a joint session of the Legion and its auxiliary Sunday afternoon in the Auditorium.

CAUSE OF FIRE NOT LEARNED

DISASTROUS BLAZE IN STOCKYARDS FAILS TO HALT BUSINESS

(By The Associated Press)

CHICAGO, May 21.—Live stock poured into the Chicago stockyards today despite Saturday's disastrous fire which injured approximately 1,100 persons and caused property damage estimated from $8,000,000 to $10,000,000. Less than a dozen were seriousy hurt.

"Business as usual" was the slogan of stockyards officials as workmen set about to clear away the charred ruins for the rebuilding with improvements of the district approximately one-eighth of a square mile.

Cause Undetermined

The cause of the blaze, which leveled scores of private homes, several flat buildings, and more than a dozen major structures, including the International amphitheater, home of the international stock shows, was undetermined. Som investigators, including O. T. Henkle, geenral manager of the stockyards, said they were convinced the conflagration had its origin in a carelessly tossed cigaret.

Henkle said he did not believe there was any truth to reports that the holocaust was the outgrowth of labor troubles.

Fire Chief Michael Corrigan, leader of an army of 2,200 fire fighters who succeeded in checking the flames only after scores of them had been injured, said that spontaneous combustion might have been the cause. Another theory suggested a spark from a locomotive.

Three independent investigations were under way to determine the cause of the fire, which started, officials said, in the stock pens.

WAGES INCREASED

GALVESTON, May 21. (AP)—George J. Horner, general manager of the Clyde-Mallory line, announced that effective today longshoremen's wages were advanced from 50 cents to 60 cents an hour for straight time and from 75 cents to 80 cents for overtime on a basis of a 10-hour day.

'Hello Matilda This Is Hettie'

I just had to call you . . . I am down at Levine's Suit Sale . . . can you imagine, they give you five dollars on an old suit or overcoat on a new one? You know that old brown suit of Henry's, the one he tore on the fishing trip. Well, I traded it off for the prettiest gray one. It is an all wool worsted, light weight . . . and beautifully tailored. You know the collars are hand made. They surely do have style and class, and are so reasonably priced that with the old suit trade-in value, makes a real bargain you can't afford to miss. How do I know what size to get? . . . well I got the same size as his old one. Levine's said I could exchange it if it didn't fit . . . yeah. I know how Zeke is, he is just like Henry . . . Henry never wants to buy a suit, but men need to look nice in their business. That's why I just bundled up that old brown suit and came down . . . suppose you come on down and meet me . . . great! I'll still be here. I've got to pick out a pattern for that piece of material I got Saturday. Oh! didn't I tell you about it. Well, it is a white pigue seersucker with red and navy pin-stripe. It will make up awfully pretty. I hope Mary will like it. Then I want to look at these new Kayser Hose that they advertise as Mirro Kleer . . . sheer hose . . . ringless and shadow proof. Its some new process. I thought I'd ask the sales lady about it.

Cotton Market

NEW YORK REPORT

NEW YORK, May 21. (AP)—Cotton opened quiet, unchanged to 1 lower with a featureless trade awaiting the president's silver message. May 11.45a; July 11.49; Oct. 11.67; Dec. 11.78; Jan 11.83; March 11.93. A-Asked.

There was some liquidation through commission houses and possibly a little selling on a favorable view of weather conditions over the week-end. These offerings were small, but with demand slow, prices sagged to 11.42 for July and 11.74 for December right after the call, making net losses of about 5 to 7 points.

There was sufficient buying on this setback to steady the market, however, and active months were holding within 3 or 4 points of Saturday's closing quotation at the end of the first half hour.

Prices sagged off during the middle of the morning under some July liquidation and scattered selling of later months which appeared to be coming partly from Wall street sources. July declined to 11.38 and December to 11.70, making net losses of about 9 to 11 points on active months. Offerings continued light, however, and the market at midday was 3 or 4 points up from the lowest on covering and trade buying with active months showing net losses of 4 to 6 points.

NEW ORLEANS REPORT

NEW ORLEANS, May 20 (AP)—In the absence of news from Liverpool, that market being still closed for the Whitsuntide holidays, cotton here opened quiet and a shade easier.

First trades showed losses of 1 to 2 points. The market eased off slightly after the start owing to some selling by recent buyers and July dropped to 11.44 and October to 11.60, or 3 to 5 points under Saturday's close.

The market ruled quiet all morning and prices gradually eased off owing to the absence of outside buying. July traded down to 11.39, October to 11.55 and December to 11.68, or 8 to 10 points below Saturday's close.

Near midsession prices rallied 3 to 6 points from the lows on short covering and on steadiness in outside markets. July recovered to 11.42, October to 11.61 and December to 11.73, or 4 to 5 points below Saturday's close.

Stock Market

WALL STREET REPORT

NEW YORK, May 21 (AP)—Financial markets plodded along today with most traders and investors apparently lacking energy to make any decisive gesture toward either buying or selling. Stocks were particularly inert.

Commodities were reasonably steady, although they were not sufficiently active to provide any stimulus for equities. Oats got up about a cent a bushel and wheat and corn improved after early hesitancy. Silver and rubber did better, but cotton lagged. Bonds showed no more enthusiasm than stocks. Foreign exchanges were narrow.

The mining shares were about the only ones that showed any life. Homestake got up around 10 points, U. S. Smelting gained nearly 3, and American Smelting, Howe Sound, Park Utah and Cerro de Pasco firmed fractionally to a point or more. Allied Chemical advanced a point or so, while moderately higher prices were recorded by American Telephone, Johns-Manville, Western Union, Loew's, Continental Can, Chrysler, National Distillers and Union Pacific. American Commercial Alcohol, Santa Fe, Case, National Biscuit and New York Central were somewhat lower. Many stocks were unchanged.

Grain Market

CHICAGO REPORT

CHICAGO, May 21 (AP)—Higher prices for grains early today accompanied reports of abnormal heat and of almost complete absence of moisture relief in drouth areas. Widespread crop deterioration at a rapid rate was indicated. Opening unchanged to 1 3-8 up, July 90 1-4 to 90 1-2, wheat ater rose all around. Corn started at 1-4 to 3-4 advance, and subsequently held near the initial limits.

HEIDELBERG GATHERS BATS

HEIDELBERG, Germany (AP)—A tower is being constructed here to house bats which, it is hoped, will prey upon swarms of mosquitoes coming from swampy spots along the Neckar river. An appeal for live bats resulted in the capture of a thousand or more in attics and the ruins of the ancient castle.

Land Bank Men Are Working In Section

A group of more than 30 federal land bank appraisers, headed by D. S. Gray, Washington, D. C., and J. W. McAnnally, Houston, are headquartering here for an investigation of values over this section.

The group was sent here by the Farm Credit administration, following pleas of South Plains residents for higher valuation on farm properties. There are said to be at least 500 farm loans from the Houston farm loan bank in this section held up because of low appraisal values.

BULGARIA MAY MAKE CHANGE

NEW GOVERNMENT FOR NATION IS DISCUSSED AFTER COUP D'ETAT

BY WADE WERNER
(Copyright, 1934, By Associated Press)

SOFIA, Bulgaria, May 21 (AP)—The possibility of a new government succeeding Bulgaria's Fascist-minded military dictatorship as soon as it has completed its immediate task of reorganizing the country on an authority basis was the subject of discussion and conjecture today.

Questioned by the Associated Press on this point, Kimon Gueorguieff, who became premier under the guns of the military Saturday, avoided a direct denial that his government is temporary.

"It is our intention," he said, "to give this country a strong, stable government."

New System Sought

The real purpose of the bloodless, bulletless coup d'etat, he emphasized, was "not to change persons, but to change the system."

Gueorguieff expressed conviction that the Bulgarian army is unanimously behind the new regime which had won general acclaim today with promises to balance the budget, re-establish credit, raise the cultural level of villages and make credit accessible to farmers.

Recognizing its patriotic duty at a critical moment, the army intervened to upset the outworn governmental system, "although its desire always has been to remain outside the struggle of political parties," the 52-year-old premier said, adding:

"But the recent shameful spectacles exhibited by political parties absolutely convinced us (meaning Guerguieff and his "zveno" nonpartisan group) that there was no other way out except through immediate and effective intervention by our army.

Attitude Explained

"However, the manifesto published Saturday fully explained our attitude.

"We repudiate and condemn the methods the government practiced here up to now. The parties showed themselves absolutely incapable of serving the higher interests of the nation."

Asked how soon recognition of Soviet Russia—casually mentioned in Saturday's manifesto—might be expected, the premier replied rather cryptically:

Dogs Chase Catcher

CHICAGO — To presume on an old saying — when a dog chases a dog-catcher, that's news.

Ordered to capture a mad dog, Dog-Catcher Richard Ardach pursued his quarry into a livery stable. There stood five terriers.

At once the purser became the pursued; was chased from the stable and bit en route.

After finally catching the mad dog, Ardach, returned to the pound, only to be ordered:

"Get your wounds treated, then go back and catch the dogs that bit you."

Patience Of Job

BUTLER, Pa.—Here's patience such as the Bible teaches:

Three times burglars ransacked the home of Mrs. Margaret M. Adams while she was at church, and three times she put her home in order, saying nothing.

But when the burglars came a fourth time while Mrs. Adams was at church, that was too much. She reported all four robberies to the police.

Town-Country Dog

STONEY CREEK, Ont. — A dog lives in Stoney Creek—and thereby hangs a tale.

The home of the dog's master is on the township line, half in and half out of the village. So when the dog is in the front of the house he is a township dog and when he is in the back he is a village pup.

The owner refuses to pay two taxes on one dog, and the dog refuses to stay in one end of the house. So the township assessor and the village assessor are trying to decide who should collect the tax.

Bearing The Bulls

MONROE, Wis.—A device to discourage bulls from butting people has been invented by Frank Sacker.

Several strips of metal are fitted to the bull's head, so fashioned that when the animal lowers its head and contacts an object, sharp steel pins bite into its flesh.

New Traffic Menace

ATLANTA—Marvin Baker, investigator for the solicitor general's office, has found a new traffic menace—a hit-and-run velocipede driver.

Baker was knocked down and bruised by a velocipede as he stepped out of a store.

"Excuse me, mister," said the youthful driver, and hurried on.

AUSTIN, May 21. (AP)—Counties, cities and towns, independent school districts and water control districts had an aggregate indebtedness of $622,078,299 June 30, 1933, the current report of Comptroller George H. Sheppard revealed.

Counties owed $279,813,748 in bonds and warrants; cities and towns $218,282,533; independent school districts $53,667,662, and water control districts $40,314,355.

Make Good Showing

Marienne Reed and Naomi Smith of Temple High school, who won the debate championship at the Interscholastic league meet, entered the national contest at Topeka, Kans., and made the winners extend themselves to triumph. They were defeated in the quarter-finals after having engaged in seven debates, five of which they won.

Watching the national results from the capitol with special interest was Dr. V. E. H. Reed, Marienne's granddad. Dr. Reed, a retired physician, is a state employe. He is proud of his granddaughter's forensic ability. She may be a state senator or a governor some day.

"Weeding Out" Needed

The basement of the state capitol reminds one of the family garage. Stored there are great heaps of papers and things of little value but which the state doesn't feel like destroying. In the attic also are bales of ancient documents and record books. Pretty soon there will have to be a "weeding out" or some state warehouses will, of necessity, have to be constructed or rented.

Women Solons Confer

What did the only woman state senator of New Mexico say to the only woman member of the upper house? Mrs. Wilbur S. Coe, New Mexico senator visiting in Austin, met Miss Margie Neal of Carthage, the Lone Star state's only woman state senator. As Miss Louise Holland, Mrs. Coe was a freshman in the University of Texas in 1917.

NEW STORE TO BE OPENED

HEMPHILL - WELLS CO. WILL BE HOST IN ENLARGED SPACE

Formal opening of Lubbock's largest department store, the Hemphill-Wells company, 1212-1220 Avenue J, in its enlarged space will be Tuesday evening from 7 to 10 p. m., Spencer Wells, general manager, said today in inviting Lubbock and the South Plains to be guests of the store and its staff.

"No goods will be sold that night, but the stock will be on display," he said. "We invite our friends and customers to come and inspect the new store space."

Music To Be Furnished

Music for the occasion will be furnished by Karl Lambertz and his Early Birds from Station WFAA.

Floor space for the enlarged store is 27,850 square feet, an increase of 150 per cent over the former space. It includes 16,350 feet of ground floor space, the largest space of its kind in West Texas; 5,750 feet of balcony space and the same amount of basement space.

A complete rearrangement of departments has been made. The men's department will be in its original location, on the north side of the building, with additional floor space. In the main aisle will be the silk and woolen goods departments, gloves, hosiery, etc.; west aisle, cotton goods, trimmings, linens, draperies household goods; south aisle, notions, patterns and gifts; ladies ready-to-wear, across the front of main space.

On the rear balcony will be the offices on the north side and rest rooms and some added departments. The postoffice will be at a wrapping counter on the main floor. In the rear will be a service department, that will permit movement of stock from the store room to the departments with greater facility.

All sales departments will be on the ground floor, Mr. Wells added. An increased staff to take care of the expected rush following opening has been obtained.

FIFTEEN HELD IN SCANDAL

JAP LEADERS PLACED UNDER GUARDS AFTER FINANCIAL CRASH

BY GLENN BABB
Associated Press Foreign Staff

TOKYO, May 21. (AP)—Armed guards were assigned today to protect the lives of Japanese cabinet members amid fears of terrorism created by the government financial scandal.

Additional arrests brought to 15 the number, headed by Kideo Kuroda, vice-minister of finance, now held on charges of corrupt financial practices. Five finance ministry officials were among them.

The precautionary measures were invoked in the fear ultra-patriotic organizations would seize upon the cabinet's difficulties for a campaign of terrorism.

Premier Saito was watched over by an especially heavy guard.

In addition, orders went out from the home ministry—in charge of maintaining the public peace— for prefectural governors to take any precautions believed necessary in their areas.

It may be a month before the cabinet decides whether to resign as a result of the scandal, according to the consensus of vernacular newspapers. If developments indicate Kuroda and his associates are guilty, the ministry is expected to quit.

Rapid-moving political developments indicated rival leaders were preparing for the crash, should it develop. Word that Gen. Kazunari Ugaki, governor general of Kora and long-time aspirant to premiership, is coming to Tokyo aroused comment.

Crop Losses In Midwest Mount

GRASSHOPPERS SPREAD MORE DESTRUCTION IN GRAIN BELT

(By The Associated Press)

Drouth, aided by grasshoppers and chinch bugs, spread further destruction through the grain belt today, increasing crop losses to as high as 85 per cent in some sections.

Many farmers prayed yesterday in churches for rain. Some rains came, but they were too light to bring much benefit. More local showers were forecast.

Even ideal weather, said agricultural experts, could not now afford any material relief in much of the midwest.

Crops Cut 40 Per Cent

Nebraska farmers reported all crops in the central part of the state, including oats, hay, and other small grains, have been cut 40 per cent. The strawberry crop has been severely damaged and chinch bug damage is the worst in the region's farming history.

Indiana's hay crop is cut 50 per cent and wheat and oats are severely damaged. Corn is germinting slowly. Dust storms have blown away large parts of the onion and mint crops. The fruit crop in the southwestern region is periled. Timber and grass is dying, and small insects and timber fires are adding to the damage.

With hay and pastures most afflicted, crops throughout Wisconsin are menaced. No spring planting has been done in several sections. Corn is suffering.

Minnesota is suffering from an epidemic of grasshoppers. The yield of spring wheat will not reach 85 per cent of normal. Dust storms have blown away plants. Pasture lands are drying up, and oats and hay have been hurt.

Planting Deferred

Some unofficial estimates were that the wheat crop yield in Kansas will not exceed 50 per cent. Corn planting will be deferred in several parts of the state. The apple crop area is hard hit.

In several sections of the grain belt Sunday church services were devoted to prayers for rain. By proclamation of Governor William Langer, Sunday was set aside in North Dakota as a "day of prayer for rain."

Mild rains fell yesterday in Wisconsin, northern Michigan, central Nebraska and Minnesota. Local showers were forecast today for southern Illinois, Indiana, lower Michigan, Wisconsin, Missouri, Iowa, Minnesota, and the eastern parts of the Dakotas, Nebraska, and Kansas. Thunderstorms were predicted for parts of Iowa and Kansas.

FOSSILIZED REMAINS OF PREHISTORIC MONSTERS FOUND BY LUBBOCK PERSONS

JAYTON, May 21. (AP)—Dr. W. C. Holden of Texas Technological college, Lubbock, accompanied by W. G. McMillan, the bird and reptile man of the recent Yaqui Indian expedition headed by Dr. Holden, Ross Edwards, mayor of Lubbock and also a member of the Yaqui expedition, and C. H. Park, Lubbock business man and amateur archaeologist, visited Jayton last week to inspect an Indian pot of unusual design found recently in this area.

En route to the site of the find, they stopped at the farmhouse of Robert Harrison, a Kent county farmer, who had reported finding the complete lower jaw-bone of a mastodon. Harrison conducted the party to the spot on the banks of the Salt Fork of the Brazos where the jawbone had been discovered.

Other Remains Found

A brief search revealed other fossilized remains of prehistoric monsters thought to be of the same geological age as the mastodon's bones.

In what was said to be a pleistocene deposit the discoveries may prove to be of major importance. The site has been left undisturbed for the present in the hope that careful excavations might bring to light other objects of scientific value.

Dr. Holden's party also was taken to the scene of the discovery of the Indian pot. A two-hour search produced only enough fragments of the pot to make it possible to have it restored, a few crude glass beads, several monoliths, arrow heads and spear points.

The site, on a bluff overlooking a vast scope of territory, was said to have once been an Indian camp ground and several old campfire sites were located.

C. C. Gallagher, L. C. McCombs, A. A. Buttrell, and F. W. Jones, all of Jayton, discoverers of the Indian pot, donated the relic to the Tech museum.

sustained by government, which is clearly the trend in the National Recovery administration, and a planned economy, which demands socialized ownership and control.

"The hope of the American people ... lies in the planned use of America's resources following socialization."

One member of the board dissented from the Darrow findings in a minority report. This member, John F. Sinclair, now resigned, denounced the conduct of the majority and labelled its findings as "at times misleading and unreliable."

Protection Asked

Sinclair urged the president to appoint an "ably staffed, non-political board" to act for the protection of small, independent business which he deemed, in several respects, endangered under the codes.

The NRA itself, in a reply to the review board which was made public simultaneously with the report, defended itself in language as plain as that of the Darrow document. The NRA administrator, Hugh S. Johnson, said:

"A more superficial, intemperate and inaccurate document than the report, I have never seen. In my judgment this board has missed a great opportunity for a real public service. As it is now acting it is of no service to anybody—it is a political sounding board. In view of its fixed prejudices and partisanship and its unfair methods of taking and reporting testimony, the conclusion is inescapable that the board is not proceeding in good faith to fullfill its public obligations.

"Its continuance as an agency of government would enable it to promote private purposes at the public expense, and in my judgment would impair seriously the usefulness of the National Recovery administration."

I was out of town last week but don't expect to leave any more for a long time on acct. of the depression and having to work for a living. Glad you like this column so well. Regards—The Plainsman.)

YOU will be interested to learn that there is a distinct swing over the state to the gubernatorial candidacy of Senator Clint Small. In a politically-minded confab with a bunch of gents the other day this writer was both surprised and delighted to hear that Clint's chances of being elected have been growing by leaps and bounds for the past two weeks. His position is much stronger today than it was at the same time four years ago, when despite his handicap of being a West Texan he ran a whale of a race for governor.

* * *

Publisher Amon Carter of the Ft. Worth Star-Telegram, his editor, Jimmie North, that paper's crack Austin correspondent, Byron Utecht, and Max Bentley, skipper of the Abilene Reporter-News were among those in the conversation and every one had the same story to support: that the conservative every day Texans in all parts of this empire are turning to Senator Small and that he is going somewhere in the campaign if his West Texas friends stay with him.

* * *

PERSONALLY, The Plainsman never has been much on quitting friends who have never quit our part of the country.

A bigger, more experienced and competent man than he was four years ago, Clint Small has never failed to fight West Texas' battles nor has he ever been known to overlook going to bat for Texas Tech at every turn of the road. He has always been one of Tech's champions and in the forefront of every fight staged in Austin to improve the school.

Why anybody in this neck of the woods would want to quit him now—when he's never quit us—is more than this column can figure.

* * *

Clint is getting support this time that he didn't get before when he was purely a West Texas candidate, hence not taken seriously by East and South Texas politicians.

In the San Antonio country and in the vicinity of Houston and Beaumont he has a lot of strength and if West Texas does anywhere near what it should for him he'll be in the run-off with Allred. Otherwise Allred's run-off opponent probably will be McDonald.

LUBBOCK could not hope to exist in its present importance or to expand with the years unless it continues to be the retail capital of the area.

Many Lubbock merchants contribute to the city's growth, making Lubbock the shopping center of the territory and among those merchants are the men who operate Hemphill-Wells company.

A palm today, then, to Spencer Wells, Jake Hassell, Lewis Price and the rest of the organization on the eve of the opening of the company's greatly enlarged and improved store.

In expanding and improving, Hemphill-Wells not alone adds to its own scope and prestige but to the increased possibilities of every business concern in Lubbock.

And Hemphill-Well's expansion at this time certainly must be accepted as concrete evidence of the company's faith in this city and its surrounding country.

Walter Woodul is running like a jackrabbit in his campaign for the lieutenant-governorship. . . . Which ought to suit folks out here, even if he is from Houston. . . . Walter has never failed to get on the firing line for Texas Tech and has been one senator from another part of the state who has declined to let geography blind him to justice.

Press Agents Must Have Weird Dreams At Night To Cook Up Such Strange Yarns To Feed To Motion Picture Fans

DAN THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, May 21—The desk of a Hollywood columnist always reminds me of a waste basket, the typewriter surrounded with stacks upon stacks of paper—notes for future columns jotted down in moments of deep thinking, letters from fans criticizing some item or requesting additional information about their favorite stars, and reams of copy from studios exploiting their players and activities.

It is the studio copy which takes up most of the space—and causes most of the headaches. However, between headaches the columnist sometimes gets a laugh from the utter absurdity of the studio stories.

Really you wouldn't think that normally intelligent human beings could write such things. To prove that they do, let me repeat a few of the things they want you to believe—but which a two-year-old wouldn't.

"Since his role in 'Treasure Island,' Jackie Cooper has made a new collection of cap pistols and has about 20 of them. His mother says she gets no sleep — Jackie gets up at night every so often to fire one of his new toys."

Why not buy him water pistols? They aren't nearly as noisy.

Five-Month Cigar

"Robert Woolsey has been smoking one cigar for three months and estimates that it will last another two. It is a panatella, three feet long, presented to him by some natives in the Straits Settlements. He has it mounted on a music stand in his dressing room and smokes upon it thrice each day."

Even if we didn't know Bob never smokes cigars, except for picture purposes, that would be difficult to believe.

"It's hard to believe, but there's a Hollywood automobile salesman who is convinced that car manufacturers must have taken several tips from Mae West when they built their 1934 crop of speedsters. 'There isn't a new point in our cars that Miss West hasn't got herself,' declares the salesman."

Yes, that is hard to believe.

• • •

Sweet Odor of Roses!

"Since Adele Thomas, former Broadway beauty, came to Hollywood, she's made all the stars envious and made them wonder where she got her delicate, subtly perfumed powders which have so much to do with her intriguing personality and charm.

"Here's how she does it. She keeps potted roses in her boudoir. As each bud opens she puts unperfumed face and body powder between the peals. When the rose ripens she plucks it, wraps it in tissue and puts it away.

"Later, as she needs powder, she breaks out a rose and sprinkles powder from it, upon her powder puff — marvelously perfumed powder created by nature itself."

• • •

Clean Canaries!

"H. W. Hanemann, ace writer and humorist, invented and applied to patent a shower bath for his canary bird. The apparatus is built of glass with water tank attached and is affixed to the side of the canary's cage. From the spout hangs a tiny chain with a ring attached, which the bird pulls whenever it wants to bathe."

Wonders of Wonders

"Al Hall had interviewed some 40 youngsters for 'Little Miss Marker.' Yesterday six-year-old Shirley Temple came in with her lines which she had had two days. She started emoting.

"She went on for 10 minutes when Al had to stop her to keep from crying. She had memorized every line perfectly and delivered them so realistically he believed them himself."

And these are some of the things which the press agents would have you believe about our film celebrities.

TODAY'S JOURNAL EDITORIAL

MRS. EDISON AND HER NEW ROSE

Probably you noticed, in your Evening Journal a few days ago, the pleasing little story that came out of Orange, New Jersey, revealing Mrs. Thomas A. Edison in the role of scientific experimenter. And that success has crowned one of her efforts, as it did many of those of her late and world-famous husband, is not the least pleasing feature of it.

Mrs. Edison, it is disclosed, has succeeded in developing what is described as a new and singularly beautiful rose. Success came after four years of effort. The new rose was obtained by crossing Columbia and Killarney plants, and it is regarded as a tribute to the memory of her husband by the gentle woman who shared the great inventor's love for flowers. It was of him she thought as she spoke of the new rose.

"Flowers have made the most important appeal in our domestic life," she said. "Soon after our marriage I found that no matter how absorbed Mr. Edison might be in the experiments of the laboratory, he could always find time to inspect the products of our conservatory and garden."

In her garden are hundreds of plants among which her husband spent many hours in relaxation from his scientific experiments.

The new rose, shell pink in color and with a delicate perfume, has fluted petals and resembles somewhat in appearance that of a carnation.

Dutcher's News And Views OF WASHINGTON

Dutcher

(Copyright, 1934, NEA Service, Inc.)

BY RODNEY DUTCHER
Journal Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON, May 21.—Though the sins of Mr. Edmund F. Erk be as scarlet, much may be forgiven him because his feelings are only human and he used to be a congressman himself.

Mr. Erk is only a clerk in Congressman Michael Muldowney's office now. But he yearns for his old House seat, which Mr. J. Twing Brooks yanked from under him in 1932 by a mere margin of 140 among 70,000 votes.

So he has written a gooey letter, full of love and kisses, to thousands of voters. He wrote on congressional stationery, implied he was still in the House, told how heavy the recovery program burden rested on his shoulders and begged re-election as a Republican—which he used to be—or Democrat.

Several Democratic congressmen massacred Clerk Erk on the floor after Congressman Charles Faddis, friend of Congressman J. Twing Brooks, had led off the denunciation and offered a bill which would make political use of congressional stationery by non-members punishable by $5000 fine and a year in jail.

But just think how you'd feel if you were Clerk Erk! If only 71 of the many voters who swung to J. Twing Brooks in the Roosevelt landslide had realized Erk's value, he would be making $10,000 a year instead of $2900. He would have an office, typewriters, clerical staff, the franking privilege and other perquisites—all paid for by the government—for his political campaign.

His mileage home would be paid, his speeches printed in the Congressional Record for distribution and doubtless would have—as many congressmen have at government expense—a secretary at home to preserve his political interests.

No wonder Clerk Erk was irked! He avoided prison by putting 3-cent stamps on his letters. That seems punishment enough for any ex-congressman.

Darrow Ready to Fight

As if the Darrow report on NRA codes weren't sufficiently embarrassing, the White House now has the problem of whether to eliminate or continue the National Recovery Review Board.

Roosevelt has intimated that he considered the board's work completed, but Darrow and other members of the board don't believe anything of the sort. They think it should last as long as NRA itself and serve as an appeal agency from code authorities for the benefit of small business men.

The only present appeal is to the fellows who made the codes, they say, and code authorities act as legislators, prosecutors, and juries.

The fight over the NRRB's continuance may be hotter than that which has raged over its first report.

Honest Whisky Soon

It won't be long before the buyer of a bottle of whisky can tell just how much alcohol and flavoring and how much real whisky he is getting. The Federal Alcohol Control Administration's labeling regulations are in effect, though it may be several months before bottles on the dealer's shelves are generally labeled, since the law applies only to subsequent bottlings.

There's a story behind the delay in getting the system operating. Distillers pleaded early in April that they hadn't got their labels yet and that immediate enforcement would put many out of work.

FACA asked why no labels. It seemed an NRA code had so curtailed hours that the lithographing industry couldn't get them out fast enough. (Anyway, FACA accepted that excuse and postponed the date.)

He'd Like to Eat His Words

Congressman Francis B. Condon of Rhode Island has a sense of time and place, but sometimes he gets crossed up on it. He introduced a bill which would have the RFC advance $12,000,000 for a privately owned dirigible plant in his state and a couple of big new airships.

He inserted remarks in the Congressional Record so he could issue a pamphlet in praise of the idea. And he issued the pamphlet—just as news broke that the U. S. dirigible Macon had been "destroyed" in a war game and had been considerably damaged.

Week-end MURDER by GABRIELLE E. FORBUSH

BEGIN HERE TODAY

The story opens with a prologue in which a murder is committed by a homicidal maniac. Later he board a train for Long Island, thinking of the pleasant week-end he is to have there. The name of the murderer is not disclosed.

The scene shifts to the Long Island home of LINDA and TOM AVERILL, married three years and much in love. Linda announces that instead of three guests over the week-end they are to have five. The guests will be: COUSIN AMOS PEABODY, elderly, distant relative of Linda's who was in New York on business and invited himself to visit the Averills; CAPTAIN DE VOS, handsome Belgian representing a European perfume manufacturer with whom Averill hopes to do business; MR. STATLANDER, middle-western manager of the firm Averill works for; MARTIN PRATT, former suitor of Linda's whom she has not seen for several years, and LIAN SHAUGHNESSEY, Irish writer on a lecture tour.

Immediately there is trouble. Cousin Amos grows angry at Bunty, a faithful old watchdog. At dinner he quarrels with Shaughnessey and calls him a dangerous rebel for defending Gandhi's work in India. Both men show violent tempers.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER V

Sure in the knowledge that the new lavender sports frock was a triumph of sophisticated simplicity, that her mellow tan brought out bewitchingly the blue of her eyes and the bronze lights of her hair, and feeling decidedly refreshed by a good night's sleep, Linda stepped with lilting freshness down the broad polished stairs. The air was fragrant of fresh roasted coffee within the house and mingled flowers and sea from without. She hoped none of her guests was before her. She had arranged for trays for the two Europeans; the others had assured her they would descend for breakfast. At any rate, Tom was down to do the honors until she arrived.

At the bottom of the winding flight she suddenly saw her husband and his expression annihilated in a second her carefree morning mood. Before Linda knew how she got there she was beside him and had her hand on his arm.

"Tom—what is it? Bingo?"

"No. Oh, no, honey—not the kid. Sorry I scared you!"

"What has happened?"

"Poor old Bunty—"

"Oh!" Linda's eyes filled with tears. "Died in her sleep, poor old dog. Well—we didn't expect—"

Tom looked at her, hesitated, then spoke reluctantly.

"No—she didn't die in her sleep, Binks. Don't raise a row, though, of course, you wouldn't—"

"Tell me quick—someone's coming!"

"She was killed during the night. Out on the lawn toward the garage."

"Tom! The poor old dog! Where is she?"

His jaw set.

"Where you won't see her, Linda. Sorry, but you mustn't—oh, good morning, Mr. Statlander! I hope you rested well last night. Glad we have such clear weather for the Fourth."

He was talking, Linda knew, to give her time to recover herself and in a moment she was able to echo mechanically his pleasant banalities.

"I think breakfast is ready," she said. "If you men will excuse me a moment, I'll see. Take Mr. Statlander into the breakfast room, Tom. I'll just pop into the kitchen—" she bolted through the service door and stood a second or two in the short, cool passage. She wanted, oh, how she wanted, to run upstairs and fling herself childishly across her bed and cry. That poor old dog, that darling Bunty! Tom was so mysterious—what could have happened? Resolutely she put her thoughts on the important, control-saving details of her housewifely duties.

• • •

The girls in the kitchen greeted her dejectedly. Stout Annie, queen of a magnificent new electric range, moved listlessly about this former treasure, seeming not to know or care what her short, competent hands were doing. Rosie was abstractedly filling a water pitcher. Both waited for Linda to speak.

"It's a shame about the poor old dog and you girls know how I feel," she said. "But we've got company and we can't let down before them. Mr. Averill is in the breakfast room with one of the guests. Are you nearly ready?"

More than her matter-of-fac words, the appeal of her voic caught and steadied them. Anni moved more briskly. Rosie counte over her assembled jam dishes, but ter plates and covered muffins wit a seeing eye. Satisfied that a would now move smoothly, Lind went back down the narrow passag As she emerged into the sunny en trance hall, brisk steps sounded o the stairs. Marvin Pratt was com ing down, looking very thorough tubbed and shaved, rubbing h hands with anticipated appetit She greeted him and they joine the others in the little room off th more formal dining room.

Cousin Amos was already there had been down some little while, h asserted proudly. "Roaming—un challenged, this time—" with a flas of reminiscent injured dignit "down to the very water's edge, an enjoying the cool, sweet air of th early morning. I sometimes think he added, "that only those who rea ly love nature, and want to see h at her best, gladly pay the price a little lost sleep to catch the char and fragrance of the untainte morning hours."

At the reference to poor absur Bunt's misplaced zeal Linda ar Tom winced but the talk drifted c and by common consent they d not bring the tragedy to the breal fast table. But it was to come u

LUBBOCK MAN SCORES JAZZ MUSIC

Dear Plainsman: I am making the attempt to put in words some of the things that are on my mind to say, and that is concerning singing and singing conventions. And let me say right here that I emphatically believe in both.

I believe I can safely and truthfully say that singing is the greatest and one of the most wonderful arts known to the human mind. There is nothing so enticing, so elevating and so inspiring as the right kind of singing.

We have a devine injunction in the Book of all books that tells us how to sing, that is, in the spirit and devine understanding. Don't understand me to say that I believe that everything that is called singing is singing. It seems that so few people understand and know anything about the definition of singing, so let me quote, "It is reading or reciting musically," and anybody with common sense knows that for any one to read correctly they must take time to recognize all regularities.

As I see it, a man or woman must know some things before they can become authors of music, as music is one of the greatest subjects known to the human mind. It seems to me there should be some preparedness before entering into the publishing business. I have said all of the above to say this, that this jazz music stuff has and is capturing most of our so-called leaders. It has gone to such an extent that most of our ministry has been forced to declare against it for this jazz stuff should not be tolerated by our church people and especially in our church houses that have been dedicated for the true worship of our Lord.

Thus our so-called singing conventions have made and are making it awfully hard to get any of our church buildings to hold their conventions. Let me say again, that I am for the singing conventions but not the kind that our leaders have led it into, when they had just as soon sing something vulgar as to sing a real gospel song.

What I have here said is for the elevating of our singing and our singing conventions.

W. R. Campbell.

Golfers of Lubbock Meadowbrook B and Slaton Santa Fe clubs had quite an argument at Meadowbrook Sunday in a South Plains Golf league contest and after all the smoke had cleared from the battle scene, Meadowbrook players stood one match up in the closest pairings this season in the league. Meadowbrook won 13 to 12, but only after two matches had been carried 20 holes, three for 19 holes and seven ended one up.

Paul Reed, Avalanche-Journal circulation manager, saved the day for the locals in the final match by nosing out Huckabee of Slaton, one up, while a tense gallery of several score players looked on.

Anderson and Howell and Carter and Branch went for 20 holes.

RAMBLERS WIN DOUBLE BILL ON SUNDAY

LUBBOCK BASEBALLERS DOWN SHALLOWATER AND ANTON TEAMS

Lubbock Ramblers gave baseball fans a treat at College avenue park Sunday afternoon by winning a twin bill, defeating Anton 11 to 2 in the first game and nosing out Shallowater 6 to 4 in the nightcap. The last game was seven innings.

Manager Hollis Payne sent in his best lineup against the strong Anton aggregation which has been a consistent winner in games this season. Bull Thompson had the Hockley county nine well under his thumb, however, and allowed only four hits while his mates were banging out twelve, including a home run by Hillard and triples by Jack Thompson, Gaither, Anderson and Ramsey.

In the second game, Tracy Watson, another star hurler, let down slightly and Shallowater scored four runs from six hits. He hit a home run with a mate aboard in the second and his mates pounded Allen for six other hits including a home run by Jack Thompson and a triple by Ramsey to put the locals in the lead early in the game.

Next Sunday, the Ramblers meet the strong Phillips 66 club of Hobbs, N. M., in a game here at the same park.

PLAY WILL START TODAY IN LOCAL SOFTBALL LOOPS

Lubbock's two softball leagues, composed of 12 teams entered by local business firms, get under way this afternoon with games scheduled at 6:15 o'clock. Only one league of 10 teams operated last week.

National league games will be played at Twenty-third and Avenue K and all American league games at College Avenue park.

This afternoon Quicksall-Pryor accessory men meet Marvin Bakers in the American league contest and Lydick Roofers tangle with Federal Employes in the National league game.

Three more teams are needed to complete the two leagues of eight teams each, Lubbock Poultry and Egg having a team ready to enter one of the leagues and will do so when another team is organized. Six teams now comprise each league. Any firm or organization wishing to enter a team should get in touch with Lee Jones at J. & J. Sporting Goods company.

Moreland Beats Francis Ouimet

CUP TEAM CAPTAIN IS ELIMINATED IN THE BRITISH AMATEUR

PRESTWICK, Scotland, May 21. — (AP) —Gus Moreland, 23-year-old youngster from Dallas, Texas, staged a sensational rally today to eliminate Francis Ouimet, veteran American Walker cup team captain, in the first round of the British amateur golf championship, one up.

Three down at the halfway mark as a result of Ouimet's brilliant 33, two under par, the doughty Texan came back with a smashing spurt, squaring the match at the 13th and then taking a one-hole lead at the 14th where the Boston veteran missed a short putt. From there on it was a ding-dong battle with Moreland grimly clinging to his one-hole advantage.

Meets Fischer Next

By his victory, Moreland qualified to meet another United States star, Johnny Fischer of Cincinnati, in the second round. Fischer easily disposed of his first round opponent, K. Graham Patrick, a little known Scot from Stirling, 4 and 3.

After Moreland had taken the lead for the first time at the 14th, Ouimet came back to square the match again at the 15th. They fought on even terms through the next two holes but the Texan won the 18th and with it the match with a par four while Ouimet was taking a five.

Teeing off at the home hole before a gallery of at least 4,000, Ouimet drove into a deep trap to the left of the green, while Moreland's ball fell to the other side of the green. The Texan laid his second shot five feet from the pin. Ouimet barely got out of the pit on his second and was ten feet short on his third. After missing his first putt he conceded the hole and the match to Moreland, who got down in two putts, knocking in the second one with one hand. The gallery cheered wildly as the players shook hands.

Game Goes To Pieces

Ouimet's game went to pieces on that back nine after he had an apparently unsurmountable lead of three-up at the halfway mark. The Bostonian couldn't have hit a barrel with his putts while Moreland, although frequently in trouble, made a series of remarkable recoveries and putted brilliantly to win four of the first five holes on the incoming side. The Texan equalled par on eight holes, his only mistake occuring on the 15th, where he three-putted and allowed Ouimet to win the hole and square the match.

Jack McLean, 23-year-old Scotch star and second choice to Johnny Goodman, American open champion, in the betting odds, eliminated J. J. Cowan of Carlisle City, two and one.

In the event he wins his second round match McLean will face the winner of the Fischer-Moreland encounter in the third round Wednesday.

Roger Wethered, 1923 titleholder, gained the second round at the expense of F. McGloin, jr., of West Kent, winning 5 and 4.

H. Chandler Egan, 50-year-old Pacific coast star, became the first American to suffer elimination at the hands of a British player. The Oregon apple rancher was conquered by J. Wallace of Troon, 3 and 2.

Egan trailed all the way, being two down at the ninth.

Burly Cyril Tolley, who won the British title in 1920 and 1929, vanquished D. McMaster of Banfurly, 3 and 1.

Jesse Guilford, the big Boston seige gun and former American champion, cut down R. A. Howell of Willingdon, 2 and 1.

In a thrilling extra-hole match, Jack Westland of Chicago qualified for the second round, defeating Robert Harris, former British champion and three times captain of John Bull's Walker cup forces, on the 21st hole. Harris had a wafer-thin lead of one hole at the ninth.

HOUSTON WINS TWIN BILL

MISSIONS ALSO TAKE DOUBLE VICTORY AT EXPENSE OF CATS

(By The Associated Press)

A round of doubleheaders featured the Texas league pennant race yesterday with Houston and San Antonio the only teams strong enough to emerge with double victories. The Houston Buffaloes trimmed Oklahoma City, 3 to 1 and 2 to 0. Bill Beckman and George Payne were in great pitching form for the Buffaloes. Beckman stopped the Indians with six hits. Payne allowed three in the seven-inning nightcap.

The second-place San Antonio Missions swept a twin bill from Fort Worth, 8 to 6 and 7 to 5. Earl Caldwell and Hal Wiltse hurled the route for San Antonio, Caldwell outpitching Wilkins to win the opener, and Wiltse besting Lefty Johns in the second. Fort Worth rallied for four runs in the seventh inning of the second game but could not overtake the Misisons early lead.

Oilers, Exporters Split

The Tulsa Oilers stopped Beaumont's winning streak at three straight with a 2 to 1 decision in the first game. The league-leading Oilers dropped the second, 4 to 0. The Oilers collected only three hits off Sullivan and McLaughlin in the opener but were handed the game when Sullivan walked the bases full in the second inning which later accounted for two runs. A crowd of 3,000 saw the Exporters come back to win the second behind the airtight pitching of Judge Schulz. Judge stopped the Oilers with two hits.

After winning three consecutive Sabbath doubleheaders, the Dallas Steers split even with Galveston, the Steers taking the first, 8 to 1, and losing the second, 6 to 3. John Whitehead, ace right-hander, limited the Buccaneers to six hits to win the first game. His mates pounded out 16 hits with Eddie Hock's four bingles showing the way.

Sal Gliatto, little right-hander, after gaining a 3 to 0 lead in the second game, weakened to allow the Bucs two runs in the fifth and four in the sixth to lose. Gliatto worked four hitless innings before the Bucs solved his offerings and started scoring. Gliatto received news of a family death just as he started for the mound, but insisted on finishing the game.

HOWERTH WILL FACE KIRK IN MAIN EVENT

BOXING CARD TONIGHT TO OFFER AT LEAST 26 ROUNDS

With Jack Kirk, 158, of Lubbock, and Herschel Howerth, 160, of Amarillo matched in the main event, Lubbock National Guard will present a program of 26 or more scheduled rounds of boxing tonight at the Auditorium.

Efforts were being made this morning to add another bout to the card, curtain-raiser of which will begin at 8 o'clock, a guardsman said.

Kirk To Stay Here

Kirk, who formerly fought on the Pacific coast, has obtained a job and joined the National Guard here, indicating he intends to remain in Lubbock permanently. In the last mitt circus here, Kirk showed stamina enough to rally and knock out J. D. Spann, 159, of Plainview in the fourth period of a scheduled 8-round semi-windup. Spann earlier had cut and otherwise punished the former Californian.

Bernard Bogan of Lubbock nad Kermit Wooldridge of Abernathy will trade punches in tonight's semi-final event, billed for four rounds. They are lightweights and have met before.

Two negro lightheavy weights, George Jenkins, who appeared on the last card, and Henry Patterson will tromp the rosin four rounds or less in a preliminary. Two other 4-round fights between dark-skinned glovemen are on the program.

WOMAN'S GOLF PLAY BEGINS

STARS QUALIFY TODAY FOR MATCHES WHICH START TUESDAY

BY BILL PARKER
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, May 21 (AP)—Mrs. Sam Hopkins of Texarkana, Mrs. George Thompson of Fort Worth and Mrs. Harry Croft of Dallas cracked tee shots down the first fairway today to be the inaugural threesome in the qualifying round of the Women's Texas Golf association championship.

It was the eighteenth annual tournament and boasted a powerful field of low handicap players seeking the title held by Miss Aniela Gorcyzca, the attractive Fort Worth sharpshooter who won medalist honors as well as the crown last year at Galveston.

Matches Start Tuesday

Miss Ann Matteson, a four handicap player from San Antonio; Miss Hilda Urbantke of Austin, a quarter-final player last year, and Mrs. F. B. Hadlock from El Paso trailed as the second trio off the tee for the 18-hole qualifying round. The 32 low will qualify for the championship flight. Match play competition starts tomorrow and extends through Saturday, when the 36-hole finals will be played.

The threesome promising to draw the largest gallery was Miss Aniela Gorczyca, Mrs. Dan Chandler and Miss Betty Jameson. Miss Gorczyca won the Texas, Southern, Fort Worth City and Fort Worth Invitation championships last year. She also qualified for the Women's National. Mrs. Chandler formerly held the state title, and was the current old Mexico champion. Miss Jameson, the 15-year-old long-hitting star of the local Lakewood Country club, two weeks ago won the southern, and four weeks ago won the local city crown. Today's medalist promised to be one of these three players.

Professional George Aulbach, after a thorough inspection of the course, pronounced it in perfect condition for a week of stiff tournament competition. Women's par over the championship course is 78.

Bids Asked On Two Projects In Gray

PAMPA, May 21 (Special)—Gray county commissioners on June 2 will open bids on two construction projects of much interest in this county.

One set of bids will be for an 800-foot wooden bridge across the McClellan creek in east central Gray county where scores of new oil wells are being drilled. This bridge was asked by the oil industry. The creek is wide, sandy, and nearly impassable for heavily loaded trucks.

The other bids will be on laying of caliche on the Pampa-McLean road, the cross-county thoroughfare. The commissioners court has authorized printing of $100,000 in paving bonds already voted. Of this sum, $30,000 was recently sold at par for 4 per cent, on the basis of fives, through the Brown-Crummer company.

Dean Boys Help Cardinals Gain

DIZZY AND PAUL WIN AS TEAM ADVANCES TO SECOND PLACE

BY HUGH S. FULLERTON, JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

The St. Louis Cardinals, perched proudly in second place in the National league standing, can look back on a fine stroke of business—signing of the Dean boys from Bradenton, Fla., for pitching duty.

In the course of the Cards' winning streak which has brought 16 victories out of 20 games and carried them from a seventh-place tie to a spot only a single game behind the pace-setting Chicago Cubs, Dizzy and Paul Dean have accounted for seven victories without a single loss.

Win Over New York

It was big brother Jerome Herman, known as the dizzy one, who helped the Cards to a 9 to 5 victory over New York yesterday. Up to the ninth inning he allowed only four hits and three runs, accounted for by an error and Mel Ott's eighth homer of the season.

The Pirates took the worst kind of punishment as they dropped to third place under the Phillies' 23-hit assault that piled up a 16 to 4 score. Chicago's Cubs, still on top, saw their lead dwindle when Van Ligle Mungo of Brooklyn came back after only two days of rest and limited them to six hits, while his battery-mate, Al Lopez, led the Dodgers to a 5 to 1 triumph.

The cellar-dwelling Cincinnati Reds put up a great scrap to escape their twenty-first defeat of the season but finally yielded to Boston, 1 to 0, in the tenth inning of a hurling duel between Ben Cantwell and Silas Johnson.

Only the first, fourth and last places in the American league standing remained in the same hands after a day of keen battling among the closely bunched teams. The Cleveland Indians moved into second place by blasting an 8 to 5 victory over the league-leading Yankees.

Detroit Takes Drop

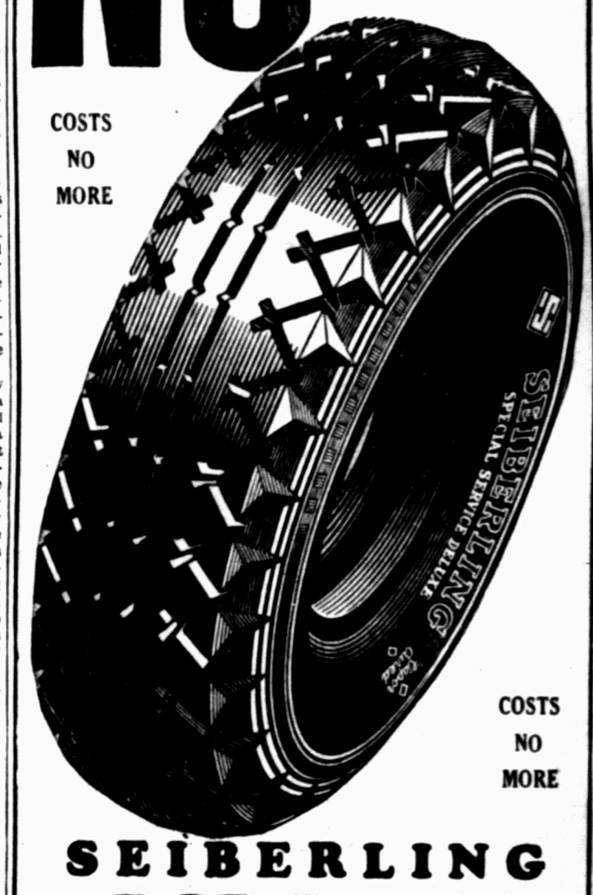

Detroit took the corresponding drop when Bob Burke came through with a six-hit hurling performance against the Tigers and Washington used five doubles off Schoolboy Rowe to gain a 4-1 triumph.

St. Louis and Boston moved up a notch apiece by trimming Philadelphia and Chicago, respectively, and the defeated A's went down two places to seventh. Three runs in the eighth off Johnny Carum, third Philadelphia pitcher, gave the Browns a 10 to 7 decision. The Red Sox had to overcome a long Chicago lead after Zeke Bonura hit his ninth and tenth home runs of the season but won, 6 to 5, when Eddie Morgan hit for the circuit with two aboard in the seventh.

HAS EXTRA HOOF

LLANO, May 21 (AP)—A colt having five hoofs was born on the Percy Franklin ranch in Llano county Friday, May 11. The extra hoof was perfectly formed from the ankle down and was joined to one of the front feet. The animal walked on its four hoofs, the fifth not quite touching the ground. The extra hoof was successfully amputated.

Texas Cowboys To Perform In England

SAN ANGELO, May 21 (AP)—Loops across the sea!

A hundred cowboys, masters of the romantic trade of cattle ranching, leave Montreal, Canada, this week for London to give the English a sample of the rodeos famous in Texas.

Most of the rodeo stars are from Texas. Included among those from the San Angelo country are Harold Jackson, Dan Utley, Mrs. Dan Utley, Pete Eyck, C. M. Bery, T. J. M. Berry, T. J. Richards, Allen Holder, E. Parde, Jake McClure, Cleve Jones, Howard Westfall, Tuffy Welch and Bob Crosby.

Canadian cattle will be taken to use in the events. The ropers will fight for a $9,000 purse. Instead of tying a calf down after roping him, a bell will be placed around its neck.

Weekend MURDER

By GABRIELLE E. FORBUSH

soon after when a slam of the screen door announced an arrival and Lian Shaughnessy, bearing his breakfast tray, appeared with the smiling, guileless face of a schoolboy.

"Oh, you shouldn't have bothered, Mr. Shaughnessey! Rosie would have collected that!"

"Sure and it was no bother to save the girl the trip," he asserted blithely. "And 'twas a thought for her and two for myself at that. A bit of my breakfast muffin saved, you see, to propitiate the wee white monster that set upon me in the —TWO— Chapt 5 Week end murder dark last night as I entered my temporary abode. It took a kick that I'm sorry I made so late, the morning, to free me from the little beast's attentions. I'd have made my peace or bribed my way across the grass, at least, but I did encounter the little dog at all."

"I'm sorry Bunty troubled you last night," said Tom soberly. "She is—she was something of a watch-dog, but I never knew her suspicious before. I'd have shut her up or sent her away yesterday if I'd known she was going to pecute our guests. I—I wish I had, for her sake, as well as for all ours," he went on, realizing that he was no use avoiding mention what must seem, to all these sinners, a minor domestic tragedy. Bunty won't bother any of you anymore. She—died—in the night."

"Ah—distemper?" Cousin Amos looked rather alarmed. rhaps that accounts. Will you her—I understand they test the in—"

"She wasn't mad and won't be examined," Tom broke savagely. "The old dog simply mangled to atoms. Cousin os, on the very lawn Mr. Shaughnessey speaks of some time after all went to bed."

• • •

An outburst of startled lamations interrupted him.

"You mean deliberately killed? . . . "Any traces . . . ? "Did you say there'd been burs—?"

"Deliberately killed—paces—and there have been bur operating around these partice the summer homes began op in the spring It may be—"

"Poor little devil!" The man's voice vibrated with the sentimental tenderness of hi "I'm sorry for that kick—I at!"

Tom glared at him. ew the little dog had not de such rough treatment and pecially he could not forgive it.

"You—you couldn't h Linda tried to palliate the s he did move quickly for an ol sometimes, and you must hen surprised—"

"We both were!" finessey laughed with the heart ndon of the easily amused and hecked himself at his host's of disapproval.

"I'll be back in a m—" said Linda suddenly, and ipstairs. The men watched hat ease. Then, abruptly, dec hat the rest could content elves a while without him. excused himself and followed Halfway up the stairs he m Belgian coming down, and ned his suave greeting with brevity. Then, repenting, he ed and turned.

"Excuse me, DeV re a bit upset this morning nothing serious. Be down . You'll find the others in room—"

Averill did not fi ia enjoying the relaxation ood cry" as he expected. she was sitting on the edge bed, very calm and poised by the door as though waiting n. When he did come she a tone of concentrated fury.

"Tom—you're de it wasn't an accident?"

"Couldn't have been, honey. The poor old dog was—well, just smashed!"

"Well, then—do you realize that whoever did it is right in this house now?"

"Linda!" He was shocked into a seriousness he seldom betrayed. "What on earth—? Why—?"

"Reason enough. I told you last night that every man of the lot has a terrible temper—the sort that would break out into goodness-knows what. Bunty did behave badly—I can't think why. Several of them had trouble with her and others might have. Mr. Shaughnessey admits he kicked her."

"I think that rules him out." Tom was so satisfactory. No matter how unreasonable one's notions, he always gave them fair consideration. "He wouldn't own up to it so quickly. Besides, he may be hot-tempered and impetuous, but that—"

• • •

Linda's lips set more firmly.

"He's strong as an ox. And if he were annoyed—look how furious he got at Cousin Amos last night. He was just white with rage. I could see his hands shake! I wouldn't have been surprised if he'd strangled him! But then, every one of them could have done it!"

"Linda, darling, don't say that! Probably it was that burglar gang."

"In the first place, burglars poison dogs and get rid of them quietly. They don't bother to—to mess them up the way you describe. That takes sudden temper. And then, if it were burglars, why didn't they go ahead and burgle when the dog was out of the way?".

"May have been afraid the fuss was overheard."

"Was the place locked up?"

"Oh, sure. But of course with so many windows—"

"Can't you look on them for scratches or something?"

"Yes, and I can ask all the people here to try to remember whether they heard any noises or disturbance last night."

"Of course, probably every one—except the one who did it—went right off to sleep. I know I did."

"So did I. But Linda—"

"What?"

"Shaughnessey didn't go over to the garage by himself. I walked along the roadway with him and stood right at the edge of the grass until he went in the door. I didn't see Bunty then."

They looked at each other.

"He must have come out afterwards. And he must have thought someone heard him or he wouldn't have taken pains to mention the kick. He really sort of dragged that in, Tom."

"Probably he wasn't sleepy and just wanted to roam about."

"Um!" There was a wealth of incredulity in the grim syllable. "Well, what ought we to do?"

"Nothing, my dear. Absolutely nothing! What can we do—interrogate him or any of the others?"

"No-no, I suppose not. But, oh, Tommy, this gang is queer. There's something in the air—I told you last night—"

"Now you're having what the Victorians called the vapors. A sensible kid like you, Binks! I'm ashamed. Come on—we must go down. Ready?"

Three Ticks Cost Texan $1,200 Each

SAN ANGELO, May 21 (AP)—Ticks at $1,200 each!

That is the amount a Texas ranchman at Encinal estimates three cattle ticks cost him recently. He was moving about 700 cattle from his ranch to the north. Two inspectors had passed his cattle at the ranch but at the pens there were eight inspectors and some federal men. They located two ticks.

The result was a quarantine and an order to be dipped. The cattle were run through an arsenic dip and 10 days later inspected again. This time one tick was found and the order came to dip again.

Meanwhile the ranchman had fed the cattle 100 bales of hay a day. They lost weight and walked around weakly with their tongues hanging out. They were in no condition to ship, so the ranchman sold them, at an estimated loss of $3,500.

A continuous fight is waged along the border against ticks. One ranchman's herd was infected when a bull swam the river from Mexico. No attempt is made to clean up in the country south of the border.

More than 70,000 foreign and counterfeit coins were placed in telephone boxes and automatic stamp machines in England last year.

What SHE TOLD WORN-OUT HUSBAND

SHE could have reproached him for his fits of temper—his "all in" complaints. But wisely she saw in his frequent colds, his "fagged out," "on edge" condition the very trouble she herself had whipped. Constipation! The very morning after taking NR (Nature's Remedy), as she advised, he felt like himself again—keenly alert, peppy, cheerful. NR—the safe, dependable, all-vegetable laxative and corrective—works gently, thoroughly, naturally. It stimulates the eliminative tract to complete, regular functioning. Non-habit-forming. Police Seek Easy Way To Kill Dogs

PAMPA, May 21 (Special)—If forboding and fear constitute pain, maybe local officers are not so smart, after all.

Slaying of homeless, friendless and hungry dogs by a heartless dog-catcher caused a furore last year. He was claimed to have used an ax in the presence of a group of boys to whom the sight was a shock.

This year, the city commission ordered the dogs killed in a "painless" gas chamber. Fumes from an auto exhaust are used.

But the animals, sensing their doom, moan and bark. If there is an easier death, the police department would like to know of it.

Man-eating sharks off the coast of New South Wales are being exterminated by a tiny parasite similar to a prawn and less than one inch long.

POOL TO OPEN

PAMPA, May 21—May 26 has been set as the opening date for the second season of the municipal swimming pool. Harry Kelly, high school teacher, will be general manager, assisted by Archie Lee Walstad, former high school athlete.

Get the Life-Saving Protection of the Golden Ply

HAPPY, carefree conversation changed to breathless terror. Beautiful new cars turned into hideous wrecks. Nerves shattered. All because someone trusted to luck . . . neglected to take the proper precaution against blow-outs.

Don't gamble on tires. Know that the tires on your car will give you real blow-out protection. For today, due to high-powered motors and whirlwind revolutions of small, modern wheels, the heat generated inside the tire is terrific. Rubber and fabric begin to separate. A tiny blister forms and grows—until BANG! A blow-out!

To protect you from these blow-outs, every new Goodrich Safety Silvertown has the amazing Life-Saver Golden Ply. This remarkable invention resists intense heat. Rubber and fabric don't separate. Thus, blisters don't form inside the tire. The great, unseen cause of blow-outs is prevented before it begins.

Racing daredevils tested out the Golden Ply at breakneck speeds, on the world's fastest track. Not one blow-out. Similar tires without the Life-Saver Golden Ply failed at one-third the distance the Golden Ply Silvertowns were run.

Freedom from blow-out fears! Months of extra mileage! In Goodrich Silvertowns with the Life-Saver Golden Ply you get both—at no more cost than other standard tires. Get a set of Goodrich Silvertowns today.

This insignia indicates that the Goodrich Company complies fully with the tire manufacturing industry code.
