Editorial Support Dwindles

By The Associated Press

Newspaper editorial support for President Nixon continues to dwindle in the wake of the partial, edited White House tape transcripts the President released last week.

Past supporters of the President now urging his resignation or impeachment include the Chicago Tribune, the Los Angeles Times, the Spokane Daily Chronicle, the Cleveland Plain Dealer, the Kansas City Times, the Providence Sunday Journal, the Honolulu Star-Bulletin and William Randolph Hearst, editor-in-chief of the Hearst Chain.

The Providence Sunday Journal, which has supported Nixon in all his national campaigns since 1952, said the President's resignation would be his "best last service to his country."

"Strict adherence to the Constitution would still be our preference. But we have been forced to a change of mind" by the transcripts, the Rhode Island paper said. It added that even if Nixon were exonerated by Congress, "he would remain in office a tattered, forlorn and deeply humiliated figure, incapable of commanding the respect or support of Congress or the people."

The Honolulu Star-Bulletin said Nixon "no longer can lead this nation effectively and there is no hope whatever of recovery."

The Rockford, Ill., Register-Star, which also supported Nixon in the past, also urged him to resign.

It said the transcripts showed Nixon and his aides to be "insensitive, immoral and totally without a sense of higher purpose or moral indignation in connection with the scandals of Watergate."

The Sacramento, Calif., Bee said: "The climactic exposures of recent events, particularly the revelations in Nixon's tape transcripts, document a record of presidential misconduct and a moral vacuum in the White House which can only be redressed by the President's stepping down from office."

The Long Island Press called for Nixon's resignation, saying it was clear he "no longer has the public's confidence and cannot lead effectively."

In a direct statement to the President, the Utica, N.Y., Observer-Dispatch, a Gannett Group newspaper, said "The nation cannot function under the cloud you and your associates have caused to hover above government." It said resignation would be "statesmanlike."

Two newspapers which had been staunch defenders of Nixon, the San Diego Union and the Nashville, Tenn., Banner, said that the President had not gone far enough and should release the Watergate tapes themselves.

Newspapers still supporting the President's position include the Columbus, Ga., Enquirer, the Peoria, Ill., Journal-Star, and the Borger, Tex., News-Herald.

The survey by The Associated Press covered nearly 100 of the country's 1,774 daily newspapers. Following are some comments:

The Spokane Daily Chronicle, which has defended Nixon, said that the transcripts showed him "a vindictive, crafty politician, too small a man to occupy the world's most powerful office." Resignation, the paper said, would be the President's "one final service to the nation."

And the Fort Worth, Tex., Star-Telegram recalled its past support for the President, but said: "It would seem to us that there are now reasons for the House to vote a bill of impeachment."

Today In History

BY THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, May 13, the 133rd day of 1974. There are 232 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1606, the first permanent English settlement in America, Jamestown, Va., was founded.

On this date:

In 1809, French forces under Napoleon Bonaparte captured Vienna.

In 1846, Congress declared that a state of war existed between the United States and Mexico.

In 1865, the last engagement of the Civil War took place at Palo Pinto, Tex.

In 1915, the United States protested to Germany against the sinking of the British liner Lusitania.

In 1940, Queen Wilhelmina and Crown Princess Juliana of the Netherlands fled to London ahead of Nazi invaders.

In 1958, Vice President Richard Nixon's limousine was battered by rocks thrown by anti-American demonstrators in Caracas, Venezuela.

Ten years ago: Communist China charged that the United States was responsible for what Peking called an explosive situation in Laos.

Five years ago: More than 100 persons were reported killed in race riots in the Malaysian city of Kuala Lumpur.

One year ago: American diplomat Donald Bruce went to China to open the first U.S. liaison mission since 1947.

Anticrime 'Taps' Nullified

Feds Didn't Follow Law

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Supreme Court dealt a sharp setback to the Justice Department today by invalidating a number of anticrime wiretaps because federal officials failed to follow the law.

The decision could upset federal cases numbering in the hundreds, including organized crime and narcotics prosecutions.

The case turned on whether the Justice Department under former Atty. Gen. John N. Mitchell followed the demands of the Omnibus Crime Control and Safe Streets Act in requesting wiretaps.

The court held that Mitchell did not follow the requirements of the act in a series of wiretap requests that were signed by his executive assistant.

The law specifies that either the attorney general himself or a specially-designated assistant attorney general approve wiretap requests.

The wiretaps requests in question are made to federal judges, who must give approval before the taps can be made.

Justice Byron R. White, writing for an unanimous court, noted that the Nixon administration insisted that it should have wide latitude in delegating the attorney general's authority to request wiretaps because the federal law grants wide latitude among state officials in approving wiretap requests.

White said, however, "it is apparent that Congress desired to centralize and limit this authority where it was feasible to do so, a desire easily implemented in the federal establishment by confining the authority to approve wiretap applications to the attorney general or a designated assistant attorney general.

"To us, it appears wholly at odds with the scheme and the history of the act to construe (it) to permit the attorney general to delegate this authority at will, whether it be to his executive assistant or to any officer of the department other than an assistant attorney general," White said.

The wiretap applications in question were signed by Sol Linderbaum who was Mitchell's executive assistant.

In a companion case the court permitted the government to preserve the evidence gathered in a number of other questioned wiretaps.

In other action today, the court:

—Rejected International Business Machines Corp.'s request for Supreme Court review of a lower court order that it turn over some 700 documents to government antitrust lawyers or face a fine of $150,000 a day.

—Ruled 5-to-4 that the public Chicago Transit Authority can refuse to accept ads calling for President Nixon's impeachment, even though it accepts paid political advertisements for such causes as election campaigns and antiwar positions.

—Refused to hear a plea that universities discriminate against women students when they require them to obey dormitory curfews not imposed on men students.

NIXON'S POSITION UNCHANGED

Panel Prepares Subpoena

By JEFFREY MILLS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — As the House Judiciary Committee prepares to subpoena additional White House tapes, a presidential lawyer says "nothing in contemplation" would cause President Nixon to turn over more Watergate tapes.

J. Fred Buzhardt, counsel to the President, was asked Sunday if Nixon's position is that he would refuse to yield either to a Supreme Court ruling or to a congressional demand for the tapes.

"That's certainly my understanding of the present outlook of the President," Buzhardt replied.

Buzhardt added that he does not feel that the White House ever will be faced with a court decision or a demand from the Senate during an impeachment trial for additional tapes.

The House Judiciary Committee, investigating possible grounds for impeaching Nixon, is expected to issue another subpoena this week. The committee resumes consideration of evidence Tuesday.

Buzhardt also charged that a "malicious and vicious" campaign is afoot to poison the public's mind against Nixon by charging that ethnic slurs were deleted from the Watergate transcripts released recently by the White House.

The New York Times, quoting sources with direct knowledge of Nixon's comments, has reported that Nixon used the terms "Jew boy" and "wop" in referring to public officials.

Buzhardt, appearing on CBS' "Face the Nation," said he had listened to "close to 40" of the tapes and heard no ethnic slurs.

However, a source with access to unedited tapes told The Associated Press: "No reasonable person who heard those remarks could possibly deny that they were racial slurs."

Despite increasing clamor for his resignation, Nixon said over the weekend that he would "never give up."

The President was received with general warmth Saturday night by crowds at Vance Air Force Base and at Oklahoma State University.

To shouts of "Hang in there!" and "We're with you!" Nixon responded: "Believe me, that does your heart good."

Another expression of support came Sunday from Nixon's chief supporter among labor leaders, President Frank E. Fitzsimmons of the International Brotherhood of Teamsters.

"We feel he's no different than any other individual. He should have his day in court, if he is to have one .... We still support him," Fitzsimmons said on NBC's "Meet the Press."

Truck Traffic Near Normal

By The Associated Press

Rocks and sniper fire were directed at a few truck drivers today, but the rigs kept rolling on most of the nation's highways despite a call for a shutdown protest over fuel prices and speed limits.

Scattered incidents of violence occurred in Kentucky, Tennessee, Georgia and Pennsylvania. No injuries were reported.

A truck windshield was smashed by a rock dropped from an overpass on Interstate Highway 65 north of Nashville, Tenn. Police said it was not necessarily related to the shutdown.

Rifle fire flattened two tires on a truck traveling on Interstate 85 near Newnan, Ga. State police increased their surveilance along truck routes, but traffic was said to be near normal.

There were no reports of highway and truck stop blockades that were prevalent in two shutdown protests last winter.

Spot checks in Ohio, a key state in past shutdowns, showed traffic was reported rolling as usual.

Truckers who support the shutdown demand lower fuel prices, higher speed limits, and auditing of oil companies.

Overdrive magazine, a Los Angeles-based publication, called for the shutdown by the nation's 100,000 independent drivers, most of whom own and operate their own rigs.

Overdrive supported trucker shutdowns in December and February which brought about an increase in freight rates and guaranteed supplies of diesel fuel.

Two shots were fired from passing cars into trucks on Interstate 75 early today in Kentucky, but no one was injured, police said. One incident occurred near London, Ky., and the other near the border with Tennessee.

Six Governors To Tour China

McCHORD AFB, Wash. (AP) — Six governors have taken off on a two-week tour of the Peoples Republic of China.

Aboard the White House jet that left Sunday were Govs. Daniel A. Evans of Washington, Arch A. Moore Jr. of West Virginia and Robert D. Ray of Iowa, all Republicans, and Democratic Govs. Marvin Mandel of Maryland, Calvin L. Rampton of Utah and Philip W. Noel of Rhode Island.

Evans, chairman of the National Governors Conference, said the trip had no specific goals. The trip was arranged at the request of the Chinese government by the State Department, which asked Evans to choose the governors.

Briscoe In Private Meeting

AUSTIN (AP) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe, who until now has communicated through emissaries, meets face-to-face with Constitutional Convention leaders today to complain about the new state charter.

Convention president Price Daniel Jr. and vice president A. M. Aikin Jr. planned a private meeting with the governor just before lunch.

Briscoe sent word last week through his executive assistant, Charles Purnell, that three provisions in the charter are repugnant to him. All three could be removed before the constitution is submitted to the voters.

The governor contends these provisions would weaken the chief executive:

—Allowing a two-thirds majority of those present and voting in each house of the legislature to override the governor's veto. Briscoe wants to retain the present requirement of two-thirds of those present in the house that originated a bill and two-thirds of the total membership of the other chamber.

—Enabling the legislature to call itself into special session by a petition of two-thirds the members of each house.

—Vacating appointive offices when the incumbents' terms expire, with all terms having expiration dates between Feb. 1 and May 1 of odd-numbered years. Briscoe favors the present constitutional right of a governor to leave a man in office while deciding whether to reappoint him or name a successor.

Italians Favor Divorce Law

By JULIE FLINT
Associated Press Writer

ROME (AP) — Italians in favor of retaining their country's divorce law outpolled those favoring its repeal in first returns today from a two-day referendum.

The referendum on whether to repeal the three-year-old law, which permits divorce after a minimum five-year separation, became necessary after Roman Catholic traditionalists collected more than a million signatures demanding annulment of the law.

With 227 of 69,728 voting districts counted, ballots in favor of the divorce law totaled 44,150 and ballots against 36,235.

Final figures were expected by late evening.

By Sunday night, 73.8 per cent of the 37.5 million registered voters had cast their ballots — 5.1 per cent fewer than at the same stage of the 1972 general elections.

Public opinion surveys before the referendum indicated a slight edge in favor of keeping the law, with up to 80 per cent of those under 30 in favor of it and nearly as many over 55 opposed. But a late trend indicated many people were undecided.

A majority vote against divorce automatically would erase the law from the books. But either a yes or no decision may split the fragile center-left coalition government beyond repair, plunging Italy into another political crisis while the dominant Christian Democrats try to put together the country's 37th postwar government.

The repeal campaign was sponsored by the Vatican and the Christian Democrats, Italy's Roman Catholic party. It was also supported by the neo-fascist Italian Social Movement, a party whose support is normally considered an embarrassment.

Ranged against them were the other three members of the government coalition—the Socialists, Democratic Socialists and Republicans—plus the Communists.

Socialist leader Pietro Nenni warned that repeal of the divorce law would "upset present political relationships," a clear threat to take the Socialists out of the government. But a vote for retention of the law could subject Rumor to pressure from conservative Catholics to break with the leftists.

In the three years since Italy got its first divorce law, fewer than 100,000 couples have filed suit to have their marriages severed, and about 70,000 divorces have been granted.

Rebels Propose Talks

ALGIERS (AP) — Rebel leaders in Portuguese Guinea today proposed "the immediate start of negotiations" with the new Portuguese regime to settle the conflict in the African territory.

A statement issued here said the negotiations could begin "with or without a cease-fire" but warned the rebels were aiming for "the total liberation of our people."

The statement was issued by the executive committee of the African party for the Independence of Guinea-Bissau and the Cape Verde Islands — PAIGC — after an "extraordinary meeting."

PAIGC, whose guerrillas control part of the territory on Africa's west coast, was the first rebel group to accept the principle of negotiations.

Independence movements in Angola and Mozambique, Portugal's two other African colonies, have rejected talks with the Portuguese junta of Gen. Antonio de Spinola.

Briscoe Backed By Local Demos

The primary election results were reflected in the Scurry County Democratic Party's convention Saturday in the Scurry County Coliseum.

The county convention adopted a resolution commending Gov. Dolph Briscoe for his leadership and calling for Gov. Briscoe to head the Texas delegation to the national party's "mini convention" scheduled for next December.

The only other resolution presented at the county convention involved a purely local proposal. The delegates unanimously approved a proposal urging the county executive committee to change the time of precinct conventions from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Counties in Scurry's population bracket may hold their precinct conventions at any hour from 2 p.m. to 9 p.m. that is designated by the county executive committee. Since voting in the primary on the precinct convention date is a requirement for participating in the precinct convention, voters who have not gone to the polls prior to the convention are not eligible to attend. Thus, the 5 p.m. starting time is expected to enhance attendance at the precinct conventions.

Ten delegates and 10 alternates to attend the state party convention next Sept. 18 were elected at the county convention. The delegates are Dan Cotton, Gene Bowlin, Jearld V. Smith, Harold Bennett, George Killam Jr.; Harold Lacik, C.T. McLaughlin, Dr. Duane Hood, Renal B. Rosson and Mel Gilbert. Alternates are N.C. Smith, Mary Killam, Paula Gilbert, Tony Turk, Kyle Smith, Bill Seale, Mrs. Dan Cotton, Mrs. Bill Seale, Mrs. Renal B. Rosson and Wayland G. Holt.

County Chairman Frank Wilson called the convention to order at 2 p.m. and asked the delegates to elect a convention chairman and convention secretary. George Patterson was elected chairman of the county convention and Mrs. Carolyn Darby was elected convention secretary.

Spirits don't exist— not even in Kansas City

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1974 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: I don't know if you believe in spirits. I never did, but something happened that really got me thinking, and I don't know who else to ask about this.

When my husband was in Kansas City on a business trip he looked up an old girl friend just for old time's sake, and she told him that I had visited her some years back under very mysterious circumstances.

Abby, I have never met this woman in my life. In fact, I have never been to Kansas City. Now here is where the spirits come in:

My husband swears that this girl is telling the truth and that somehow my spirit left my body and went to Kansas City to visit Agnes. He says that Agnes described me to a "t," even to the mole I have on my right cheek, so now I don't know what to think.

Can you explain this? I am all bewildered and confused.

WONDERING

DEAR WONDERING: I don't believe in spirits. Even though you've never been to Kansas City or met Agnes, perhaps Agnes has seen you or a picture of you. Or possibly you have been described in detail to her. Don't worry about it. There is no evidence that spirits exist, much less leave the body and go to Kansas City.

DEAR ABBY: I am 14. My mother remarried two years ago. The problem is that before she remarried, she used to spend all her time with me and my little brother. As soon as she remarried she started spending all her spare time with him.

She is always sending us to the movies, park, etc. just to get us out of the house so she can be alone with him. My younger brother doesn't realize it, but our mother buys us things to make up for it. [Her shutting us out.]

Do you think I should have a talk with her and explain how I feel? I don't have anybody to tell my troubles to. Please help me. I feel so alone.

SHUT OUT

DEAR SHUT: Yes. Tell your mother how you feel. It will open the door to conversation and give your mother an opportunity to tell you how she feels, too. Instead of resenting the time your mother spends with her new husband, you should be glad she has found someone with whom she is so obviously compatible. If she's actually neglecting you and your brother, she may not realize it until you speak up.

DEAR ABBY: In response to the mother of an 11th grader who is upset about the four-letter words in the books assigned him to read by his English teacher.

Mrs. Upset states: "If I heard my son using such language as he is being forced to read, he would get five knuckles in the mouth."

As a mother and teacher it is my opinion that there is more suffering in this world caused by parents who think parenthood gives them the right to apply five knuckles in the mouth than by all the four-letter words that ever were.

Just as beauty lies in the eye of the beholder, so does filth in literature. To this beholder, dirty words, if used at all, might better be used to describe man's inhumanity to man: the inhumanity of assuming the right to judge the values of another person and further assuming the right to physically assault another person because of a difference in values.

A WISCONSIN MOTHER AND TEACHER

DEAR MOTHER AND TEACHER: Beautiful! Your students are fortunate, and your children are blessed.

Hate to write letters? Send $1 to Abigail Van Buren, 132 Lasky Dr., Beverly Hills, Cal. 90212, for Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions."

Wishert Rites Here Today

Funeral service was set for 2 p.m. today at the Bell-Seale Funeral Home Chapel for Joe Edward Wishert, 72, former Scurry County resident.

Mr. Wishert died at 10 a.m. Saturday in a hospital at Hico. A native of Lavaca County, he had formerly lived in Snyder for 32 years and had lived at Carlton the past four years. He was a retired farmer-rancher.

The Rev. O.L. Gober was to officiate at the funeral service and burial was to be in the Ira Cemetery, under direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

Surviving are the wife of the home; two daughters, Betty Wishert of the home and Mrs. Mattie Parrish of San Angelo; a brother, John Wishert of Levelland; and two grandchildren.

BARBARA CARTER PERKINS

Medal Is Awarded Snyderite

ABILENE—Barbara Carter Perkins of Snyder received an Anderson Medal, one of the most coveted awards, at Hardin-Simmons University's commencement program Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Perkins, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Carter of Snyder and a graduate of Snyder High School, received the bachelor of music degree.

She was singled out to receive one of the two medals established by the late Mr. and Mrs. George S. Anderson to be awarded at commencement each year to the senior man and senior woman "who have excelled in character, personal development and service to the university."

The recipients of the Anderson medals are selected by a secret committee each year.

Mrs. Perkins, an outstanding music student also was featured on the commencement program, accompanying Peggy Robertson of Breckenridge who sang Mrs. Perkins' own arrangement of Psalm 63.

Mrs. Perkins is a member of Sigma Alpha Iota, women's music fraternity, Phi Phi Phi Social Club, was Sing Chairman for three years and was actively involved in summer missions throughout her college career.

Plan Courses In Reading

The Reading Center at western Texas College will offer a three-hour reading course for students in the first summer session, Gerald M. Corkran, instructor, has announced.

The course is Reading 132, and is designed to help the student improve his vocabulary, comprehension, and reading speed, Corkran said. The positive results gained from the course can give a beginning college student an academic edge at the beginning of the fall term, and can also benefit students who will be getting into advanced courses which require a great amount of reading.

"Reading is a complex skill," Corkran points out, "and every student needs to become as efficient as possible in reading."

Reading is scheduled to meet at 9:30 a.m. Monday through Friday in the Reading Center. Registration for summer school will be held May 29. Persons interested in the course may contact the registrar's office or Corkran at the Reading Center in the Learning Resource Center.

IN TAX AUDIT

Connally May Have Assisted Dairy Co-Op

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — John B. Connally may have assisted the nation's biggest dairy cooperative in a tax audit that failed to uncover the dairymen's massive illegal political donations and alleged kickbacks, the co-op's former lobbyist is quoted as saying.

Bob A. Lilly, former lobbyist for Associated Milk Producers, Inc., said Connally, then Treasury secretary and in command of the Internal Revenue Service, "may have resolved" the tax matter, according to notes taken by a lawyer who interviewed Lilly.

Also, co-op lawyer Jake Jacobsen once told the milk producers' leaders that Connally had written about the matter directly to R.L. Phinney, the IRS district director in Austin, Tex., an informed source said.

Phinney, a long-time friend and former business partner of Connally, acknowledged that he had been involved in the 1971 audit, but denied that Connally or anyone in Washington had contacted him about it.

Connally couldn't be reached and his lawyer, Edward Bennett Williams, declined comment.

Jacobsen, once a friend of Connally, hired one of Connally's senior law partners, Marvin K. Collie of Houston, to handle the tax matter. Jacobsen has testified to Watergate investigators that he checked with Connally in advance to "see if it was OK" to hire Collie, several sources said.

George L. Mehren, the milk producers' chief executive, is quoted in court papers as saying that Collie "got them off on that one but said he could not do it again." Collie, in a telephone interview, said his role was to give legal advice to the co-op.

Mehren and Lilly were interviewed by lawyers conducting an independent probe of the milk producers' political activities. The notes of those interviews were subpoenaed recently and made public in court records.

Coins Taken By Burglars

Burglars took $71 in coins from the Roy Page Fina Station on the East Highway either Friday night or Saturday night.

Sheriff's Authorities, who were notified of the burglary, said the money was taken from the cash register and from a box under it. Entry was gained through a window.

Cow Belles To Meet Tomorrow

A meeting of the area Cow Belles organization will be held at 10 a.m. Tuesday, rather than Wednesday as announced previously. The meeting will be held at Furr's Cafeteria in Big Spring.

Cow Belles is an auxiliary to the Cattleman's Association and it is devoted to promotion of the beef industry. Any woman interested in visiting or joining the organization is invited to attend Tuesday's meeting at Big Spring.

Motorist Is Halted Here

City Police apprehended a motorist here about 4 p.m. Saturday after being alerted by police in Lamesa to be on the lookout for him.

The motorist, Fred Patrick Creley of Beaver, Utah, was charged with auto theft. He was remanded to county jail in lieu of $2,000 bond, which was set by City Judge Gene Dulaney.

Firemen Called

City Firemen extinguished a trailer and furniture fire in the 300 block of the East Highway at 6:30 p.m. Sunday. Owner of the property is Jimmy Gray. Firemen also extinguished a grass fire in the 400 block of Twenty-eighth Street at 3:14 p.m. Saturday.

Courses In Science Set

A four-hour course in Physical Science including study on weather, physics and chemistry will be offered by the Science Department at Western Texas College in the first session of summer school.

Geology and astronomy will be offered in the second session by the Science Department.

Elementary school teachers who teach science concepts from a wide range of science subjects would find these courses useful, Mickey Schmidt, WTC instructor, said. Schmidt will be teaching chemistry, physics and astronomy in the summer sessions and Mrs. Kathy Tully will be teaching weather and geology. Schmidt is also planetarium director and will be demonstrating the teaching possibilities of the planetarium.

The opening course is entitled Physical Science 141, and will meet from 11-12:20 Monday through Friday with labs scheduled during the afternoons. Prospective students may contact the office of the registrar for further information.

PIONEER TEACHERS—These pioneer Fisher County teachers presented the program on the history of early schools at the local level to the members of the Anne Pettus Shelburne Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution of Rotan. They are, left to right, Mrs. Connie Tutt, Mrs. J.R. Strayhorn and Mrs. James B. Day.

Rotan Chapter Of DAR Study Early Education

Members of Anne Pettus Shelburne Chapter Daughters of the American Revolution of Rotan met recently in the home of Mrs. Lester R. Batteas. Miss Baird, Chapter Regent, presided. Mrs. James B. Day voiced the opening prayer and led the group in reciting the Pledge to the Flag and the Americans Creed. The President General's Message was read by Mrs. Jimmy Don Hale.

Mrs. Byron Bowers gave the National Denfense Report which is a regular part of each meeting. Using information from the "National Defender," publication of the NSDAR, she chose for discussion "Beginnings of New International Order". It was emphasized that the intense private talks between Secretary of State Henry Kissinger and Mexican Foreign Minister Emilio Rabasa were a lot more important than either government has indicated at this time. Their discussions centered around how the world-wide energy crisis, food and population problems can be used to push for adoption by the U.N. of a Charter of the "common rights and duties of states". This Charter is being drafted in private meetings in Geneva and is expected to be unveiled before the end of 1974. It is described as the beginning of development of a Constitution for a World Community, or "new international order". It is Kissinger's contention that no one nation can cope with the energy shortage and food problems, and that new international machinery must be set up to handle them. The president's chief foreign policy adviser sees the development of a new international currency under control of the U.N. as a means of financing the new order. It was also noted that in discussing population problems with members of Congress, Kissinger contends that an overall limit must now be placed on the number of persons on earth.

Miss Delila Baird, the chapter's Delegate to Continental Congress of the National Society in Washington D.C., gave a report from that meeting. She exhibited Certificates of Award received by the chapter for outstanding work during the past year. Also shown were pictures off the DAR Museum which is recognized as one of the outstanding museums in the nation.

Mrs. Whit Clark presented Mrs. J.L. McCright, Chapter Bicentennial Chairman, who introduced the program panel. In keeping with the National Bicentennial emphasis on history of early schools at the local level, Mrs. McCright discussed the efforts of early residents in the field of education. She identified some of the earliest schools established in Fisher County and noted that there had been a total of seventy-two bearing eighty names plus one private school on the Jamison ranch. Through consolidation, some with schools of adjoining counties, the number has been reduced to the present four Fisher County Schools. Twenty of the early schools are now included in the Hobbs District, eleven in McCaulley, thirteen in Roby, and fifteen in Rotan. Others consolidated with Sweetwater, Hamlin, Pyron, Roscoe, and a part of the Hobbs Community merged with Scurry County.

Mrs. Connie Tutt, first panelist introduced by Mrs. McCright, entertained the group with her early recollections of schools in the present Hobbs community. Her reminiscences included stories told to her by her mother, her own experiences as a student and later a teacher in the community.

Mrs. James B. Day spoke of her experiences as a teacher in area schools beginning with the one teacher school and continuing into the present. She showed a picture of a school at Cross Roads with her and her sister, the late Mrs. J.V. Hellums, as teachers. Mrs. Day also showed three items that were necessities for the early teacher—a hand bell to open school, a tap bell for classes, and a Holy Bible. She noted that each day's session began with Scripture reading and Prayer. Mrs. Day's presentation was a study in the ever changing scene in the field of education.

Concluding the discussion, Mrs. J.R. Strayhorn noted personal experiences with students that emphasized the impact of the teacher and the school in the development of children and the community as a whole.

In open discussion, it was noted that a number of members of Anne Pettus Shelburne Chapter are teaching, or have taught, in Fisher County Schools. The greatest number represented the Hobbs District that had been discussed by Mrs. Tutt. These included current faculty members Mmes. Jimmy Don Hale, Wayne Harris, Bennie LeBleu, Jerry Marshall, Ricky Williams, and County Counselor Mrs. Rudy Hamric; and others who have taught in the system, Mmes. Whit Clark, James B. Day, N.D. Miers, J.R. Strayhorn, Connie Tutt, and Virgil Weems.

Attending the meeting were Mmes. C.E. Atwell, Batteas, Clark, Hale, Hamric, A.P. Kennedy, Norvelle Kennedy, Day, McCright, Miers, Strayhorn, Tutt, Byron Bowers, J.D. Burk, Weems, and Maurice Young, and Miss Baird.

Music To Hurry By

TORONTO (AP) — Veteran band leader Benny Louis wants to see piped music installed in the Toronto subway system and the Toronto Transit Commission is interested. Louis, who has been asked by the TTC to submit a report, says the speakers could be arranged in such a way that travelers who didn't want to listen to the music or news reports could easily move out of earshot. He said the system would cost $100,000 to install and $60,000 a year to operate.

ARTISTS WORKSHOP HELD—Mr. Bud Biggs, center, presented a watercolor workshop Monday through Friday of last week. Artists from surrounding towns visited the workshop. Pictured, left to right, are Virginia Whitton of Big Spring, Carolyn Walker of Colorado City, Mr. Biggs, Dorothy Browning of Snyder and LaVerne Lee, president of the Snyder Palette Club. In the foreground is a watercolor Mr. Biggs painted at a demonstration on Sunday at Western Texas College.

When you cook new potatoes in their skin, do so in about an inch of boiling salted water. Use about one-quarter teaspoon salt for each half-cup of water.

The Consumer Alert

by John L. Hill
Attorney General

AUSTIN—One popular investment today, and periodically throughout the past, is fine jewelry. Gold jewelry, diamond rings, and other jewelry with precious metals and stones are being purchased in record amounts.

But it is often impossible for an inexperienced consumer to tell if a piece of jewelry or an uncut stone is what it is represented to be.

Reports from other states indicate there is a rash of deceptive practices in segments of today's jewelry market, although most jewelers are honest and depend on customer good will. Sometimes, however, even an unwary jewelry store owner may be "taken."

One report revealed that a jeweler who had been selling "amber beads" for years discovered when he had the beads tested that they were not amber at all. His foreign supplier had misled him.

Federal Trade Commission officials report that the problem is compounded by the fact that so few people who are taken advantage of by deceptive practices in the jewelry industry ever discover the deception and file complaints.

It is usually only when a person has a piece of jewelry appraised for insurance or when he tries to sell it that he becomes aware that he has been taken.

A diamond engagement ring is often the first piece of expensive jewelry many persons purchase. It's of great importance to select a highly reputable jeweler and to depend on his advice when picking a diamond, since for most couples an engagement ring is a major investment.

There are four things to consider when buying a diamond: carat, color, clarity, and cut. And there are two standard grading systems that classify diamonds by these four criteria. One system is used by the Gemological Society of America, the other by the American Gem Society.

Attorneys in our Consumer Protection Division learned of a consumer who bought a diamond from one jeweler, only to have another jeweler appraise the stone a few months later at about half what he had paid for it.

To avoid such disappointments, have the jeweler indicate on the sales receipt the exact description of the diamond according to one of the two standards mentioned. The receipt should state which standard was used and should indicate precisely the diamond's carat size, clarity, color and cut.

"Carats" and "points" are terms of weight for diamonds. There are 100 points to a carat, so a quarter of a carat is written ".25." It takes 142 carats to make one ounce. The Federal Trade Commission standards require that there be no more than one-half point variance from the exact weight in grading a diamond.

Diamond color can range from colorless to canary yellow, with the colorless ones generally preferred. A very few diamonds can be accurately described as "blue-white," but they are quite rare. Occasionally a diamond may naturally possess an unusual tint, but it is also true that artificial methods such as subatomic particle radiation, heat treatment, or chemical methods may be used to tint a diamond or to conceal an off-tint. Such treatment should be disclosed to the purchaser.

Clarity refers to the absence of imperfections in a diamond. Most of them have imperfections, but if they are not visible to the naked eye, the stone is more valuable. Most jewelers advise consumers to purchase a stone with as few invisible flaws as possible. They say that any diamond with visible flaws is likely to have poor resale value.

Cutting is the fourth thing to consider. It's the method by which jewelers shape a diamond and arrange its facets (or reflecting surfaces) to get brilliance and fire. Experts advise consumers not to compromise on the quality of a diamond's cut, since poor cutting can ruin a diamond's proportions and beauty.

Jade and American Indian jewelry are two other types of jewelry especially popular today.

Because of increased trade with China and a corresponding interest in Chinese goods, jade is now in the limelight. It has been valued in China for thousands of years, although the best jade comes from Burma.

Our attorneys have reports from a consumer agency in the East about a woman whose $6,000 "jade" jewelry piece turned out to be green garnet worth about $1,000, so investigate carefully before investing.

Due to the recent upsurge of interest in American Indian silver and turquoise jewelry, many amateur collectors are combing the market for good buys.

Experts warn that it's not the cost of the materials that makes Indian jewelry so valuable, but the quality of workmanship. Therefore, it is very important to rely on the guidance of a good dealer who generally trades directly with the tribes producing quality jewelry.

If you have a consumer problem, consult our Consumer Protection Division, your county or district attorney, or your local Better Business Bureau.

Forest Fire Rages

SANTA FE, N.M. (AP) — A forest fire raging through high country timber near Angel Fire in far north New Mexico defied containment by 90 weary fire fighters early today.

But fire crews brought two other forest fires in northern New Mexico under control, and contained a fourth blaze south of the stateline, although it continued out of control on the Colorado side late Sunday.

The fires charred some 4,200 acres of forest land during the weekend.

The Angel Fire blaze consumed some 600 acres of spruce and fir timber on private land near the recreation area east of Taos by late Sunday after jumping the fire lines Saturday evening, said Gary Blackwell of the state Forestry Department.

Before the windblown fire crossed the lines and again raged out of control, Blackwell said, it had been contained early Saturday at about 200 acres.

"The wind has been pretty tough," Blackwell said. "Right now we're just barely holding our own."

He said the fire was burning through "an old sale area so there's lots of slash fuel on the forest floor."

State Forester Ray Polasky said the fire may have been man-caused. The investigation was continuing.

Authorities said the other three fires apparently were caused by lightning.

Blackwell said crews fighting the uncontained fire were being assisted on the ground by 10 bulldozers.

He said two helicopters and several aircraft had been dropping fire retardant chemicals on the runaway blaze during daylight hours.

The largest of the weekend fires burned across some 2,000 acres of Kaiser Steel property in the Raton area of northwest New Mexico, north of the Canadian River, and crossed into Colorado.

Blackwell said the fire was contained except for a 100-acre section on the Colorado side.

SINCE WHEAT PRICES DROP

Bakers And Markets Are Asked To Cut Prices

WASHINGTON (AP) — The fall of wheat prices by 40.3 per cent since early January has prompted calls for bakers and supermarkets to lower prices.

Bakers in January called for limited export controls on wheat, predicting soaring prices this spring and then a bare granary before the bumper winter crop harvest.

Neither controls nor higher prices nor a complete disappearance occurred, although stocks are down to the lowest levels in 22 years.

Agriculture Secretary Earl L. Butz, several congressmen and various wheat-interest organizations now are taking their turns in the spotlight by telling bakers to apply their economics to themselves and cut prices.

However, latest USDA statistics show, as usual, "the villain theory" is an oversimplification of reality in seeking to pinpoint the causes of prices.

For example, USDA market-basket figures for March show the farm value of wheat in a one-pound loaf of white bread fell 11.6 per cent from February at the same time as the retail price went up 4.6 per cent and the middlemen's margin rose 10.5 per cent.

Compared with three months before, the margin went up 6.1 per cent, the retail price went up 6.6 per cent and the farm value went up 8.9 per cent.

And again, compared with March 1973, the margin is the lowest percentage increase of the three, with a 25.4 per cent boost at the same time that the wheat-value was up 84.8 per cent and the retail price was up 33.9 per cent.

The market basket compilers also have just finished the first comprehensive USDA study in a decade of the markups, costs and profits of all sectors of the marketing chain for 19 major food items.

Its bread section showed that, for all of 1973, the farm value of the wheat in that pound loaf—which is much less common than the 1½-pound loaf—rose by 45 per cent, or 1.7 cents.

The retailer's 5.4-cent margin was 0.8 per cent greater than in 1972. the baker's margin rose about 25 per cent to 15.9 cents. The miller's margin rose 67 per cent to a penny.

Profits in lower-priced 1972 were 0.53 cents a loaf for the grocer, 0.6 cents for the miller, 0.9 cents for the baker.

And while farmers' prices are falling to close the gap between higher revenues and higher costs, middlemen presumably feel the same inflationary pinch in fuel, transportation and especially the labor costs which account for 50 to 67 per cent of the markups of all food items, the study indicated.

Boston Is NBA Champ

By MIKE O'BRIEN
AP Sports Writer

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Boston Celtics' Coach Tom Heinsohn had the last move, and it spelled checkmate for the Milwaukee Bucks.

In an championship series highlighted by the cerebral gymnastics, adjustments and countermoves of a chess match, Heinsohn's 11th hour tactical change paid off Sunday in the Celtics' 12th National Basketball Association title.

Old pro John Havlicek drew the Bucks' defense away from the middle, allowing Dave Cowens to shoot over and slash through it for 28 points as the Celtics buried the Bucks in the seventh and deciding game 102-87.

Cowens, while spotting Milwaukee's 7-foot-2 Kareem Abdul-Jabbar five inches in height, also pulled down a game-high 14 rebounds. Boston's 47-42 board control fueled a fast break attack which, along with ceaseless pressure defense, finally wore down the Bucks in the fourth quarter.

"This was the greatest series ever," exulted Heinsohn, a star forward for the Celtics during their dynasty of the 1960s.

Havlicek, voted the series' Most Valuable Player, sank only six of 20 shots Sunday after having averaged 28 points in the first six games.

But with the Bucks double teaming Havlicek almost every time he advanced to the front court, Heinsohn ordered the Boston captain to decoy Milwaukee's defense away from the middle.

Bucks' reserve guard Jon McGlocklin, who sank six of eight shots despite a painful calf injury, insisted the Celtics had shown nothing new.

But McGlocklin paid the Celtics full credit. "They outplayed us. They outhustled us," he said. "They're probably the most emotional team in the league. Maybe they're better than we are. Obviously they are. They beat us."

Down 17 points midway in the third quarter, Abdul-Jabbar and Mickey Davis led the Bucks to within 71-68 as the fourth period started.

But Cowens touched off eight consecutive Boston points as the Celtics regained momentum.

Davis scored 13 of his 15 points in the second half.

"Everybody kept their poise," Heinsohn said. "They made a good run at us, but they had a good distance to come from and they expended a lot of energy trying to catch up."

"We were more aggressive," said Boston defensive ace Don Chaney who, despite foul trouble, helped hold Buck playmaker Oscar Robertson to two baskets in 13 shots.

Bucks' Coach Larry Costello said the Celtics' constantly pressing defense was more effective than any offensive adjustments made.

Buck Bob Dandridge, hounded by Havlicek, scored 14 points. His running mate at forward, Cornell Warner, added just one.

Robertson, 35, who may have played the last game of his brilliant 14-year NBA career, said the Celtics "just outplayed us. We did the best we could, but a better team beat us today."

Because the Bucks had earned $40,000 for the best record in the NBA during the regular season, their share of the championship money is more than the Celtics'. Boston's victory Sunday was worth $100,000 for a playoff total of $215,000. The Bucks' $65,000 share as final-round losers will enable them to split a pot of $220,000.

Davis Cup Zone Results

By The Associated Press

The Netherlands and South Africa clinched their Davis Cup zone playoffs Sunday while France, India and West Germany all took the lead in their European Zone tennis matches.

Egypt and Yugoslavia were tied 2-2 Sunday when the deciding match was stopped because of darkness. It was to be resumed Monday morning.

George Berner of Finland scored his country's only victory in their match, defeating Rolf Thung 6-4, 2-6, 6-3, 8-6. Jan Hordijk of The Netherlands beat Finland's Pekka Saila 6-0, 6-1, 6-1, completing the 4-1 match victory and sending The Netherlands into the European Zone quarter-finals.

South Africa eliminated Colombia 3-0 in the American Zone competition.

Colombia had won the right to face South African by defeating the United States 4-2.

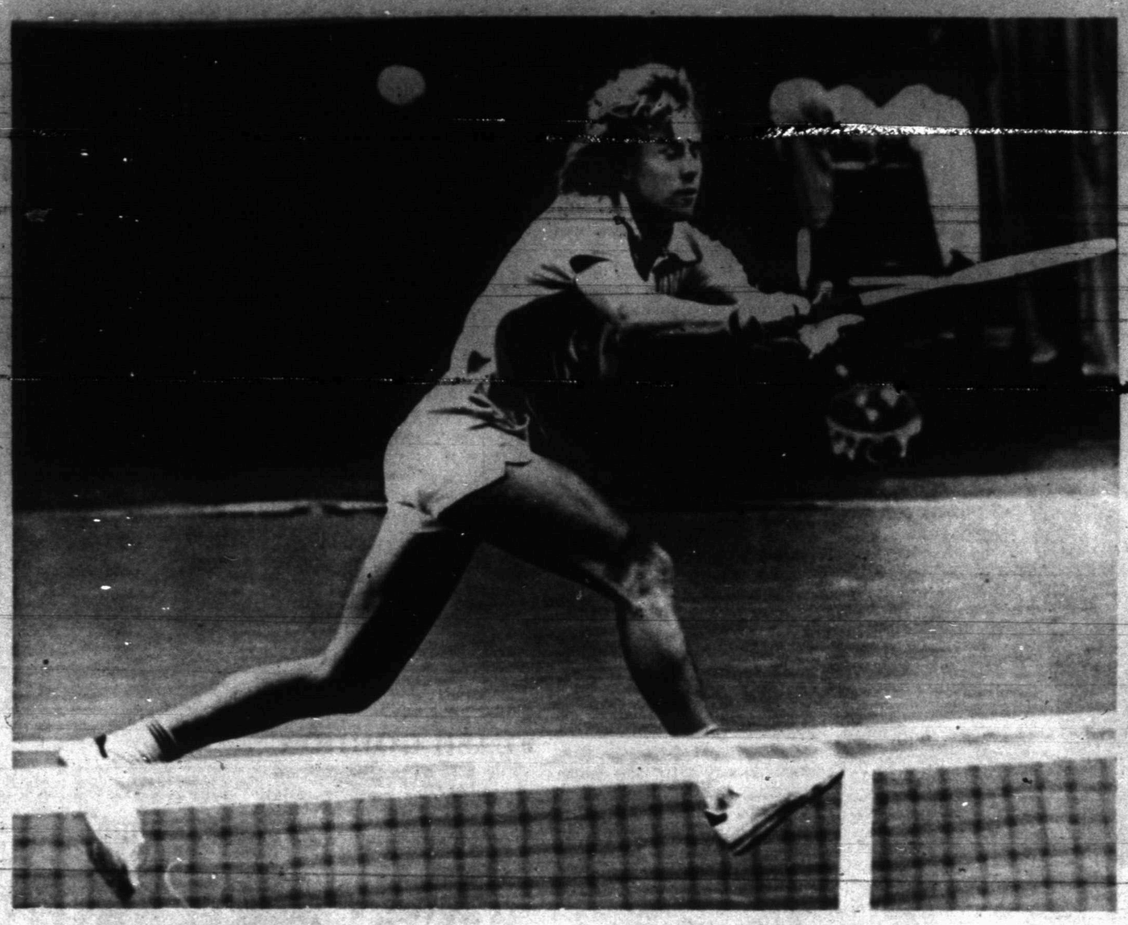
South Africa will face the winner of European Zone A.

A French doubles team of Francois Jouffret and Pierre Barthes beat an Austrian team, to win a 2-1 match edge over Austria.

India led Australia two sets to one when darkness halted play in the fourth set of a doubles match with the score tied 5-5.

West Germany led Spain 2-1 after winning the doubles match.

American golfers have won the past five Canadian Open titles.



HUSTLIN' YOUNGSTER—Bjorn Borg, 17, of Soderbalje, Sweden, takes long strides to make recovery of shot hit to him by Jan Kodes, Prague, Czechoslovakia, in semi-final match of World Championship of Tennis Tourney in Dallas Friday night. Borg won the match 4-6, 6-4, 6-3, 6-2 but lost the championship Sunday afternoon to John Newcombe. (AP WIREPHOTO)

Newcombe Beats Borg In Dallas Net Finals

DALLAS (AP) — The future may belong to wonderchild Bjorn Borg of Sweden, but big John Newcombe capped a nine-month campaign Sunday to prove he's the current king of tennis.

The 29-year-old mustachiod Newcombe, looking much like a gunfighter with his duck walk and dark features, overcame a dazzling start by the 17-year-old Scandanavian sensation to capture the World Champions of Tennis 4-6, 6-3, 6-3, 6-2.

Newcombe, who sacked $50,000, a diamond ring, a Cadillac, and a fur coat for his wife on Mother's Day, said "Nine months ago I wanted to win this (tournament) and become No. 1 and now I've done it."

In upping his prize money to $174,085 for the year, Newcombe became the second Australian to win this prestigious event. Ken Rosewall won the first two WCT finals and Stan Smith of the United States took it last year.

Newcombe, playing the sprightly Swede with the floppy Prince Valiant haircut for the first time, said "I think it's obvious that he's going to be one of the leading players for many years. He has certainly achieved a lot at an early age."

Obviously fond of his vanquished foe, Newcombe offered almost fatherly advice, telling the youngster: "I think there's a great danger of overplaying and I think because he's so good at 17 everyone wants him to play every week...If he's really smart about it he'll just take a month off now and then. He's got plenty of time. The way he hits the ball (so hard) he's going to have a lot of trouble with his arm in a few years unless he rests now and then.

Newcombe said he hopes his five-year-old son, Clint, will become as fine "a gentleman, sportsman and champion as Borg."

"It's a pleasure to see a young man now and today who doesn't get the big head with success," Newcombe said. "There are so many young sportsmen around who get very big headed at 17 with a few wins. I don't know Borg that well but from what I've observed he appears not to be bigheaded...I think he's a pleasure to have around."

Borg, who won the biggest paycheck of his life with the $20,000 runnerup prize, said "He was too good for me. There is no doubt he is the No. 1 tennis player in the world.

The idol of the world's teenyboppers said he became physically drained after the first set.

"I think today I was first a little bit tired in my body," Borg said. "The first set I played well, but he started playing better and better. I had pressure on me to hit a good return every time and that was too much for me."

Borg upped his winnings to $76,645 for the year in the match played before a sellout crowd of 9,071 in Moody Coliseum.

Newcombe said his next outing will be in the Alan King Tournament and then he will play World Team Tennis until Wimbledon.

Borg is off to help Sweden in the Davis Cup. He couldn't even have driven the Cadillac if he had won it for another three weeks. He'll be old enough then to get a driver's license.

Detroit Loses To Boston In Tenth

By BRUCE LOWITT
AP Sports Writer

If Detroit's fans didn't like Dick McAuliffe when he was with the Tigers, they're positively furious now that he's not with 'em.

McAuliffe hit a tie-breaking double in the 10th inning that lifted the Boston Red Sox to a 4-3 victory over the Tigers Sunday.

Carl Yastrzemski and Rico Petrocelli singled off John Hiller before McAuliffe pulled a double down the right field line to beat his former teammates.

In Sunday's other American League games, the Chicago White Sox beat Texas 5-4, Oakland mauled Minnesota 9-2 and, in a pair of doubleheaders, Milwaukee swept the New York Yankees 7-3 and 5-1 and Kansas City took two from California 3-2 and 5-2. Baltimore's twinbill at Cleveland was rained out.

"It feels strange, very strange," McAuliffe said about playing against Detroit in Tiger Stadium. He'd been with Detroit since 1961 but wanted to return to his native New England, so the Tigers dealt him to the Red Sox for Ben Oglivie last October.

Detroit bunched its three runs on one hit—Willie Horton's homer in the first.

It was Hiller's third straight relief appearance in the series and for the third straight time he couldn't check Boston. He got a victory Friday although the first batter he faced slugged a three-run homer. And he was the loser in relief Saturday.

White Sox 5, Rangers 4

Pat Kelly hit a two-run homer in a three-run third inning and Ken Henderson and Ed Herrmann drove in runs in a decisive seventh that gave the White Sox their victory over Texas and Ferguson Jenkins.

A's 9, Twins 2

Dave Hamilton, in his first start of the season, pitched seven solid innings and Oakland pounced on the Twins for five runs in the fifth inning to coast to victory.

Brewers 7-5, Yanks 3-1

George Scott, Johnny Briggs and Don Money drove in two runs apiece in Milwaukee's opening-game triumph, then rookie Kevin Kobel tossed a three-hitter for his first major league victory and Scott and Dave May hit homers in the rain-shortened, eight-inning nightcap.

Royals 3-5, Angels 2-2

Hal McRae and Fran Healy hit fifth-inning homers and McRae had a tie-breaking single in the ninth in the Royals' first-game victory, then McRae and Frank White drove in two runs apiece in a five-run eighth-inning outburst that made it a sweep over the Angels.

In the National League, Philadelphia edged Pittsburgh 8-7, Chicago topped New York 4-3, Los Angeles outlasted San Diego 15-9 in 13 innings and, in two doubleheaders, Cincinnati swept Houston 5-0 and 4-2 and Atlanta split with San Francisco, winning 5-1 and losing 6-2. St. Louis at Montreal was rained out.

Cards Giants Win LL Tilts

The Cardinals clipped the Indians 10-7 and the Giants bested the Athletics 11-4 in Little League baseball games here Saturday night.

The Giants' Scott Crenwelge and Shawn Ragland combined forces on the mound for a 3-hitter. For the A's, John Simmons clouted a homer and a double and Barry Mayo singled.

The Giants collected 12 hits. Shawn Ragland hit a homer and a double. John Reese smashed two doubles. Greg Merritt hit a double and a single. Tommy Peek doubled. Scott Wilson hit two singles. Neil Paige, Scott Crenwelge and Neal Evans each hit one single.

The A's scored three times in the 1st and once in the 3rd. The Giants tallied twice in the 1st, four times in the 3rd and five times in the 4th.

Although they lost, the Indians outhit the Cardinals 11-4 with Paul Gafford giving up only four hits to the Cards. John Smylie, the winning pitcher, homered, and William Robinson, Doug Nikias and Peter Valesquez each hit a single. The Cards scored three times in the 1st and seven times in the 5th.

For the Indians, Thomas Selman hit a home run and two singles. Curtis Gafford doubled and stroked two singles. Roger Patterson slashed three singles. Keith McClain and Ricky Gambol each hit a single. The Tribe scored twice in the 1st, once in the 3rd, once in the 5th and three times in the 6th.

Giants Cards WIN In FL

The Cardinals nipped the Indians 18-17 and the Giants whipped the Atheltics 10-3 in Farm League action here Saturday night.

The Cards' Jimmy Hodges and Bobby McArthur combined forces for a three hitter, yielding only singles to Randy Lyon, Terence Dennis and Dennis Young. The Tribe scored four times in the 1st, seven times in the 2nd, and six times in the 4th.

The Cardinals collected nine safeties. Allen Early, Bobby McArthur and Darrel Collins each stroked a triple and a single. Daniel Peraliz socked a home run. Albert Ricardo hit a double. James Bloom singled. The Cards scored seven times in the 1st, twice in the 3rd, eight times in the 5th and twice in the 6th.

The Giants Clif Payne and Doug Scott threw a 6-hitter at the Athletics. Louis Beuerline paced the A's with a double and two singles. Frizbie Bible, James Troutman and Loyd Sands each hit a single. The A's scored single runs in the 1st, 3rd and 4th.

The Giants rapped 13 safeties, led by Ricky Harlan, who stroked a triple, double and single. D.W. Loftin, Clif Payne and Kevin Harlan each socked two singles. Gary Clinkinbeard, Richard Fargason, Paule Schaufele and Doug Scott each hit a single. The Giants scored five times in the 1st, and five times in the 3rd.

Dave Hill Makes Great Comeback

By BOB GREEN
AP Golf Writer

HOUSTON (AP) — Dave Hill says it's all a misunderstanding. A mistake. Perhaps a misquote.

He's not mad at the Houston Golf Association.

"I don't have any fuss with 99 per cent of the members of the HGA," Hill said. "I've just got a fuss with one man."

The stormy, controversial Hill made the comments after a dramatic comeback victory in the final round Sunday, shooting a seven-under-par 65 for a 276 total and a one-stroke triumph over Steve Melnyk, Rod Curl and Andy North in the Houston Open.

Then he took off at the press.

"I don't like to talk to the press," Hill said. "Everytime I do, it comes out wrong. Everytime I do, they cut me. Ol' Davey don't have much blood left. They don't hear what I say. They hear what they want to hear."

He particularly objected to an article in a local paper and said he'd like to meet the author. "I flunked English and he writes like I do," Hill said.

It all centered on comments Hill made Saturday. He said then the only reason he had come to this tournament was "to get even."

He had been refused permission by John Davis, executive director of the HGA, to withdraw from this tournament a year ago. He flew into town late Wednesday night, took a motel near the airport and said he "got up at five o'clock" to make an early tee time.

"I didn't know where the course was. I took a cab. It cost me $32. The cab driver couldn't find it either," he said.

He played one round and, as he is entitled to do, then withdrew.

"It cost me $500 to play one round of golf," he said.

He came back this year looking for an avenging victory.

It came on a dramatic final round after he apparently had fallen out of contention with a 74 in Sunday's morning round. A double round of 36 holes was forced when Friday's play was rained out.

He played the front nine in the afternoon in 32, four under par. He dropped two birdie putts of 15 feet, two-putted for a birdie on a par-five and chipped close on the other one.

Melnyk, Curl and North were one stroke back at 277. Melnyk had a final 70, Curl and North 69s in the muggy heat.

HGA President Bill Chapline, in making the presentation after Hill's victory, handed him a check and said:

"I hope this makes up for the cab fare we owe you."

Hill looked at the $30,000 check and replied:

"Hell, it even makes up for the plane fare."

A new spring series of races for 3-year-old thoroughbred races at Aqueduct has been named for fillies of the past. The races are named after Rosetown, Busanda, Searching and Ruthless. Ruthless beat colts in the first Belmont Stakes in 1867.

Foyt Sets Fast Pace

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — Crafty veteran A.J. Foyt accomplished about what was expected of him, but up-and-coming rookie Tom Sneva had a few folks shaking their stopwatches after the first day of qualifying for the May 26 Indianapolis 500.

Foyt, 39, a veteran of 16 Indianapolis starts, hurtled around the 2½-mile Indianapolis Motor Speedway oval Saturday at an average of 191.632 miles an hour for four laps. That was more than six m.p.h. faster than anyone else except veteran Wally Dallenbach, who used an exotic new turbocharger to average 189.683 m.p.h.

"I'm not too happy with the run," the three-time Indy winner drawled. "I darn near hit the wall coming out of the third turn on one lap.

"The speed is not what we expected to do."

Rain delayed qualifying for more than three hours and most of the crowd of more than 100,000 had started for the exits by the time the 24-year-old Sneva, last of the day's 15 qualifiers, took the track.

The bespectacled Sneva took the car out and ripped off the first lap at 186.220 m.p.h., a speed surpassed only by Foyt and Dallenbach and equal to speedster Bobby Unser's quickest.

He slowed slightly on his second and third laps as ominous thunderstorms rumbled toward the track. His final circuit, as rain started to fall, dropped to 183.673 m.p.h. on the darkening track.

"The first time out, it wasn't really raining, but some observer hit the panic button," Sneva recalled. "But on the last lap of the second try it was really starting to come down."

He added, "Down the backstretch it was really getting dark. I was wiping the rain off my visor, and praying, 'Please don't turn on the yellow light; let me finish the run.'

"It's pretty scary going 200 m.p.h. in the rain, in the dark, with no headlights."

The ensuing heavy rains washed out the time trials until next Saturday, when defending Indianapolis champion Gordon Johncock is first in line. Johncock and Mario Andretti are considered the only real threats among the 19 drivers still eligible to knock Foyt off the pole.

INFLATION, INTEREST, IMPEACHMENT

Three Evil I's Cast Spell Over Stock Market

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — A spell has been cast over the stock market by three evil I's that have produced in it a state of near paralysis. Inflation, interest rates and impeachment have stared down investors. They're afraid to move. On Thursday of last week, for example, the market showed some signs of courage, advancing nearly 15 points as measured by Dow Jones' industrial index. The evil I's seemed briefly to have lost their concentration.

But the spell returned Friday. Early in the day the big national banks begain raising their prime lending rate again, this time to 11.25 per cent. As quickly as the prime rose, stock prices fell.

By the close of the day the industrial index lost every point it had gained the day before, back to within a fraction of 850. And as the day wore on the evil I's seemed to be focused more sharply than before.

Impeachment talk grew in volume, most significantly among members of the President's own party, leading to conclusions in the markets that a continuation of political unrest was certain.

The market never ignores political issues, because the latter almost always impinge on economic issues. Moreover, so long as controversy embroiled the President, uncertainty would prevail. The market cannot tolerate uncertainty.

Impeachment talk is unsettling; it is an evil I.

Some fair news about inflation occurred Thursday when the government announced that wholesale prices rose in April by 8.4 per cent, less sharply than in any of the previous six months. And farm prices dropped too.

But on Friday the influential Business Council, made up of the leaders of major corporations, heard their own advisers tell them that unemployment was due to rise sharply and that prices would continue their upward climb.

And so the market shrank back to a lower reading, to an average price more in keeping with the realities. Investors fear to commit their money when inflation, impeachment and high interest rates are staring them in the eye.

Inflation forces up business costs, which can only be recovered by raising prices. These higher prices in turn force buyers to seek equality and they too demand an increase in the number of dollars they get to spend.

High interest rates also increase the costs of business, which cut into profits. But even more significant for the stock markets, high interest draws money away from equity investments.

Impeachment, when looked upon in the historical perspective of 1980, might prove to be the least evil of the I's because, eventually, it will go away. But inflation and high interest seem to be like stationary satellites in the sky, set to stay a long, long while.

Teacher's Dream Comes True

CORDIA, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Ruby Amburgey, who has been planning her "dream trip" to England for nearly 20 years, will be going in July, thanks to two years of conniving by her high school English students.

Mrs. Amburgey has dreamed of visiting the home of her favorite authors—Shakespeare, Lord Tennyson, Wordsworth and Robert Browning—since 1956, when, as a teacher at the two-room Bearville School in Knott County she began saving for the trip. Since 1964 she has taught English to all four grades at Cordia High School.

But even more than that, she has wanted to pay a visit to St. Paul's Cathedral in London, to see a list of American servicemen killed in action during World War II. The list includes the name of her late husband, Arnold Amburgey, killed in France in 1944.

Fate denied her the trip, however. Shortly after she began teaching, her father became paralyzed from a tumor on his spine, her mother went blind from glaucoma, and her sister-in-law died and left Mrs. Amburgey with two young girls to raise.

Her father died last year and her two nieces now are finishing high school. She still cares for her mother.

But this week her dream came true. The 11 students in the senior class at Cordia presented Mrs. Amburgey with a check for $600. It was the result of two years of cake sales, minicarnivals and profits from the school newspaper.

The two-year, money-raising effort was plotted in secret with the cooperation of Cordia's principal, Randall Smith.

The $600 check—which covers all expenses and spending money for a two-week tour of England—was presented to Mrs. Amburgey at a "class day" celebration Thursday night. It also happened to be Mrs. Amburgey's 53rd birthday.

She said, "I tried to speak, but I couldn't. I cried."

Hedge On Cotton Crop

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department's Economic Research Service, in its latest outlook digest, continues to hedge its predictions about this year's cotton crop.

On the one hand, it said Friday, recent high cotton prices and rising demand for natural fibers that consume less energy in processing could prompt farmers to plant almost 2.5 million more acres, for a moderate increase in production.

On the other hand, no gain, or even a retreat, could be prompted by several factors. These include the instability of those prices; the tight supplies of fuel, fertilizer, machinery and chemicals throughout the Cotton Belt; lack of rain on the Texas High Plains; lower yields from less-productive land coming back into cultivation; consumer resistance to higher clothing prices, and recovery of the petroleum situation for synthetic-fiber makers.

August-December cotton prices were the highest since the Civil War and prices continue to be double those of a year ago.

Those high 1973-crop prices meant an extra $1 billion for cotton growers. The additional $700 million in government payments meant a record cotton-lint income of $3.5 billion.

The heaviest polar bear was a 2,210 pound specimen, 11 feet 1½ inches tall. It was displayed at the Seattle World's Fair in April 1962.

Junior Editors' Quiz on MILK GLASS

QUESTION: What is milk glass and is it still made?

ANSWER: Beautiful glass has been made for thousands of years all over the world and the process of making it has changed little through the years. Collectors are especially interested in the glassware of the 18th and 19th centuries, such as holly amber, hobnail, sandwich glass, lacy glass, Tiffany glass, cranberry glass, Mother of Pearl glass, cut glass and many others.

Milk glass or opal glass also is a favorite collector's item. It is an opaque, pressed glassware, usually of milk white color. Some pieces are found in blue, green, black and sometimes pink. One of the rarest types has a pattern of wheat sheaves pressed on the surface. It was heavily produced in the 1880s. Many of the original pieces are around, e.g., all kinds of tableware, covered dishes, candlesticks, lamps and ornamental pieces. It is still being produced today, and antique collectors have difficulty in discerning the original pieces from the reproductions.

DUE TO PRICE HIKES

More Children Facing Starvation

By WILLIAM N. OATIS
Associated Press Writer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — Many more children in poor countries face the danger of starvation because of new high food prices, the head of the United Nations Children's Fund said today.

"Before the recent price rises, it was estimated that ... there were some 10 million severely malnourished children in the world with a high risk of mortality," Executive Director Henry R. Labouisse said in a report to UNICEF's 30-nation executive board.

"Now we have to expect a considerable increase in their number.... It appears unlikely that there will be sufficient food and funds available for supplementary feeding on a scale to deal with the probable increase in child malnutrition."

The UNICEF board is meeting for the next two weeks at U.N. headquarters in New York.

Labouisse warned that food surpluses have vanished and, since prices went up, government appropriations buy considerably less of what food there is.

He said food prices are up mainly because drought has cut supply, population increases have boosted demand and people in the richer countries are eating more meat, which diverts grain to animal feed.

"Of particular concern to UNICEF," he said, "prices for staple foods are rising rapidly in developing countries, where the lower income group spend approximately 80 per cent of their income on food ....

"In the food deficit countries, a larger number of children in the lower income groups will suffer severe or moderate malnutrition. In fact, if past experience is any guide, young children will suffer first and most in any situation of scarcity .... We should be preparing not only for famines recognized as such, but for a widespread deterioration of nutrition among young children of lower income families ...."

He stressed the need to "act quickly."

The report said UNICEF expects $80 million or more this year from government contributions, greeting card sales and trick-or-treat collections to spend on regular aid to children and mothers in 115 countries, including North and South Vietnam.

Labouisse said because a 20 per cent general price rise is expected during 1974, it is especially important that UNICEF take in $100 million in 1975.

Birthdays Marked On Air Force One

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two birthdays were celebrated aboard Air Force One during the trip back here from President Nixon's weekend address to the University of Oklahoma's 1974 graduates.

The President and Mrs. Nixon presented a birthday cake at the celebration early Sunday on the 66th birthday of Rep. John H. Camp, R-Okla., who with his wife accompanied them on the trip.

Brazos Basin Plan Discussion Is Set

The West Central Texas Council of Governments and the Brazos River Authority will sponsor a public meeting May 24 in Abilene to discuss development of a water quality management plan for the Brazos River Basin and adjacent Gulf Coast areas.

The basin-wide planning will be discussed in general but the emphasis will be on those aspects relating to Brown, Callahan, Comanche, Eastland, Fisher, Haskell, Jones, Kent, Knox, Nolan, Scurry, Shackelford, Stephens, Stonewall, Taylor, and Throckmorton counties. Meetings of this type have been scheduled in other sections of the Brazos watershed where specifics of plans affecting those areas will be discussed.

The meeting will be held at 2 p.m. in Room 207 of the Abilene Civic Center, 1100 N. 6th Street.

Colonel Walter Wells, General Manager of the Authority, said purpose of the meeting is to describe the procedures to be used in developing the basin-wide water quality management plan, present the stream standards and other factors on which the plan will be based, answer questions about the planning and offer opportunity for comment and suggestions from the public.

The Authority was designated by the Governor's office more than two years ago as the State agency to develop a basin-wide plan for improving and protecting the quality of surface water in the 45,000 square miles of the Brazos Basin and adjoining areas of the Gulf Coast. The basin-wide plan will provide the basis for actions in the above counties needed to meet the effluent limitations and stream standards established by the Texas Water Quality Board under the Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments of 1972.

Wells said interested citizens and citizen groups, representatives of governmental agencies, representatives of business and industry, farmers and ranchers and "all who are interested in good water" are invited to attend the meeting.

"Public meetings are being held throughout the Brazos Basin to assure that the basin-wide plan is responsive to the desires and needs of the people in the planning area", Colonel Wells said.

The plan is being developed by environmental engineers, water quality specialists and other staff members of the Authority, working in close cooperation with the Texas Water Quality Board, the Division of Planning Coordination in the Governor's office and regional planning agencies and local governments in the planning area. All of these agencies, with other interested State and Federal agencies, are represented on a Planning Advisory Committee established by the Authority to help guide the planning and assure proper coordination with all concerned.

Children Enjoyed Disaster

MIAMI (AP) — For five long hours 53 shipwrecked Bahamians clung to a tiny rock island only 20 by 30 feet in the Atlantic Ocean and waited for rescue. They were drenched by the surf.

But for the children, at least, it seemed rather more of an adventure than a disaster, according to one of the U.S. Coast Guard helicopter pilots who rescued them.

"Some of the kids thoroughly enjoyed it," said Lt. Cmdr. Edward L. Murnane. "They were actually smiling after we picked them up."

Murnane and a second helicopter pilot, Lt. Cmdr. Jan Long, flew the passengers a mile and a half to a larger island, from where they were taken to Nassau in four Bahamian boats.

"When we got there, the rock was covered with people. They were about three feet from the water," Long said of the men, women and children who had been ferried in a dinghy to the rock after the Bahamian inter-island freighter San Salvador Express ran aground Sunday north of Ship Channel Cay some 27 miles east-southeast of Nassau.

Senate Heads For Bitter Fight On Education Bill

By JOE HALL
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate is heading into a bitter floor fight over renewed efforts to virtually kill court busing orders as a method of achieving school desegregation.

The first voting showdown on the issue will come Wednesday.

But there may be other tests before the Senate finally disposes of the massive $23 billion education bill serving as the vehicle for the busing battle.

The Senate will resume debate on the standby energy bill when it convenes today but turn to the education measure later in the afternoon and stay on it the rest of the week.

In the House, the Judiciary Committee on Tuesday will resume its closed-door staff briefings in the Nixon impeachment inquiry and continue them on Wednesday and Thursday.

Wednesday the House will debate the bill to compensate Mississippi poultry growers for destruction of contaminated chickens.

Both sides expect the Senate vote on antibusing amendments to be extremely close.

Busing foes say they have the best chance ever to get through the Senate an effective provision to kill desegregation plans which make use of extensive transportation of grade and high school students.

Civil rights groups are mounting an all-out effort to defeat the antibusing riders.

They point out that Friday will be the 20th anniversary of the historic Supreme Court school desegregation decision and say it would be ironic if Congress marks the occasion by heavily diluting the rights guaranteed in that ruling.

The House, which acted on the education bill in March, included in it strong antibusing language similar to that which it has adopted previously.

The Senate always has stalled the antibusing provisions.

However, in the last big Senate fight on the issue, in 1972, Sen. Robert P. Griffin, R-Mich., came within three votes of winning with an amendment to strip courts of the power to order busing for desegregation purposes.

In the new battle, the Wednesday showdown will come on an amendment of Sen. Edward J. Gurney, R-Fla., to insert into the Senate bill the House antibusing provision adopted in March.

This provision would require the courts to consider many alternative remedies before ordering any busing. And then busing would be limited to the next closest school to the pupil's home.

It also would permit reopening of all previously settled busing cases and their re-determination on the basis of the new limitations.

Craftspeople In Printing

Career Corner
by Joyce Lain Kennedy

what job would you like to see explored in this column?

Dear Joyce: Would you write about typesetting jobs for printing? -- T.J., Los Gatos, Calif.

Our nation has been accused of everything in the book -- except perhaps being one of few words. More than 400,000 printing craftspeople work to move the output from the writer's typewriter and artist's brush to the reader's eye and trash collector's truck.

THESE CRAFTSPEOPLE usually specialize in one area of printing: typesetting (composing room occupations), platemaking, presswork or binding. The first group – some 170,000 workers in composing room occupations – is particularly affected by the technological upheaval in the printing industry. While no one can anticipate the precise technological impact on composing room jobs in the future, the trend is moving from mechanical to electronic, from manual skills to automated systems. Some typesetting occupations will diminish, others will gain.

OCR (Optical Character Recognition) systems are gaining. Those return payment envelopes with squiggly bars that companies send along with your charge acount bills illustrate copy which will be "read" by an OCR machine. Newspapers and typesetting firms increasingly are using OCR systems to set type. Copy is prepared on a specially equipped typewriter and the job of keyboard operator can be mastered in a few weeks by a crack typist.

MOST OCR keyboard operators work at the employer's place of business but some typesetting firms, publishers, and manufacturers with their own in-plant printing departments are farming out OCR work to do at home.

The home-based OCR typists often are supplied with a typewriter, paid by the page, and expected to pick up and return assignments. (Homemakers interested in this work should check help-wanted ads, probably under "home typists," and solicit typesetting firms and publishers.)

ALSO UPSWINGING are phototypesetting machine operators. Phototypesetters run high speed machines in which type is produced by a photographic process rather than by a hot metal process. The phototypesetter's work is turned over to a paste-makeup person (also called paste-up or assembly artist), who arranges the type in the right format for the page, editing out goofs. In addition to phototypesetter and paste-makeup person, another occupation likely to expand is (customer) service person. This job calls for ability to mark-up the type selections for layouts, and some design skill is required. The service person often works directly with the customer in planning the final appearance of the printed job.

DOWNSIDE, composing room occupations expected to remain stable or decline include: hand compositors, linotype or intertype machine operators, monotype keyboard operators and monotype caster operators. (For an explanation of these occupations, order Occupational Outlook Reprint No. 137, "Printing and Publishing," for 30 cents from Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D.C. 20402.) Not all printers will find it economical or advantageous to use high technology electronics in the foreseeable future, and there will continue to be some good job opportunities in declining occupations.

MOST TYPESETTERS learn their skills through apprenticeship -- up to 6 years. Some shorten the time by 2 to 2½ years through vocational programs, Armed Forces training, or learning faster. This is a good paying field. Substantial numbers of typographers are members of the International Typographical Union.

Milk Goes Metric

SYDNEY (AP) — Milk is the latest product to go metric as Australia moves deeper into the system.

Milk bottles now hold 600 millilitres, a little more than the old pint bottle, the equivalent of 568 millilitres. The cost in Sydney for the new bottle is 16 Australian cents (24 U.S. cents) compared with 15 cents (22.5 U.S. cents) for the old pint.

INVITATION TO BID
SCURRY COUNTY LIVESTOCK BUILDING
SNYDER, TEXAS 79549

Sealed proposals addressed to Preston Wilson, County Judge, of Scurry County Commissioners Court, for the construction of:

SCURRY COUNTY LIVESTOCK BUILDING

will be received up to and not later than 10:00 A.M. May 28, 1974. At this time they shall be publicly opened and read aloud in the Commissioners Court Room on the second floor of the Court House, Snyder, Texas.

Combined proposals will be received for General Construction; Plumbing; Heating & Air Conditioning; and Electrical Work.

Copies of the Drawings and Specifications are on file and may be seen in the office of the Architect. One complete set of Documents may be obtained upon the deposit of fifty dollars ($50.00). Deposits will be returned to each actual bidder upon return of the Documents in good condition within five (5) days from the bid opening date. Additional copies may be obtained upon similar deposit, but cost of reproduction will be deducted from deposit. Sub-Contractors are requested to use plans of Contractors or those placed in Plan Rooms for their convenience.

Any Contractor taking out Drawings and Specifications that does not bid the work, shall forfeit his plan deposit unless he returns the plans seven (7) days prior to Bid Date.

Each bidder must submit a Cashiers Check, Certified Check, or Bid Bond payable without recourse to the order of the Owner in the amount of five percent of the largest total amount of his proposal. This is considered a guarantee that the bidder will enter into a contract and execute contract surety within ten days after notice of award. The successful bidder must furnish bonds in the amount of one hundred percent of the contract price, for the faithful performance and payment of all obligations thereunder.

The Owner reserves the right to hold the bids for a period of thirty (30) days after the time set for the submission of the bids. If the successful bidder executes and delivers agreement, bonds, and insurance certificates, the Cashiers Check or Certified Check will be returned.

The Owner reserves the right to accept or reject any or all proposals.

BIG SHIPMENT—Alvis Minton, manager of Ezell-Key Feed and Seed Store, 1615 Twenty-sixth Street, stands in front of a big shipment of field seed that was recently received at the store. They have all kinds of hybrid sudan grasses, common and sweet sudan, Red Top cane, forage sorghums and a line of DeKalb and PAG seeds.

Full Line Of Field Seed Is On Hand At Ezell-Key Store Here

Ezell-Key Feed and Seed Store, 1615 Twenty-sixth Street, has recently received in a big shipment of seed.

"We've got a full line of field seed," said Alvis Minton, manager of the store, "Including hybrid sudan grasses, common and sweet sudan, Red Top cane, forage sorghums and a line of De Kalb and PAG seeds."

Ezell-Key also has Kow Kandy (a hybrid sudan), lawn grass seeds, bulk garden seed, and pepper and tomato plants.

Ezell-Key also specializes in feeds, and they have every kind of feed for your cattle, horses and sheep. In addition, they have a full line of dog food and cat food.

Ezell-Key is the local headquarters for farmers, ranchers, gardeners and cowboys. The firm has a full line of cowboy supplies and leather goods, including saddles, blankets, lariats, bridles, halters, reins, girts, cinch straps, tie-downs, spur leather, and curb chains. The firm also has some electric clippers, electric fencers and hotshots.

Garden insecticides and fertilizers for gardens also are available at Ezell-Key Feed and Seed Store.

"We have Ferti-lome and Ferti-lome products such as Dieldrin, Chordane, Sevin, and Malathion," said Minton.

Ezell-Key also has herbicides and weed and brush killers and cattle sprays and vaccines.

Some people may not realize it, but you can purchase whole-hog sausage at Ezell-Key Feed and Seed Store for only $3 for a three-pound roll.

Whatever your problem on the farm, in the garden or on the ranch, the friendly personnel at Ezell-Key Feed and Seed Store are always glad to help you if they can. Telephone inquiries are always welcomed. Just dial 573-6691 and the chances are, you'll discover they have just what you've been looking for.

Male Art Thieves Sought

DUBLIN, Ireland (AP) — Police looking for the male members of the gang that pulled off the $20 million art robbery two weeks ago surrounded a lonely farmhouse near the village of Sonnagh on Sunday, but two men inside escaped with guns blazing.

Only two of the 30 policemen involved were armed, and they did not return the fire. The fugitives raced across the fields to a highway, commandeered a passing Volkswagen and sped off in it.

Army helicopters joined the search in County Mayo in western Ireland, but no one had been captured by early today.

Police refused to say whether they knew if the men were in the gang of four men and a woman that stole the 19 paintings from the country mansion of Sir Alfred Beit outside Dublin.

The paintings, which included works by Rubens and Vermeer, were recovered unharmed May 4 in a cottage in southwest Ireland, and Bridget Rose Dugdale, 33-year-old revolutionary daughter of an English insurance millionaire, was arrested with them. Four men are still at large.

Winds Fan West Texas

By The Associated Press

Clouds crept up the Rio Grande Valley to Del Rio as overcast skies formed across Central Texas, but most other state points were under clear skies today.

Moisture from the Gulf caused the spreading cloudiness in southern sections.

Steady winds fanned far West Texas and the Panhandle. Before dawn Amarillo reported gusts to 39 miles per hour.

Forecasters predicted no major weather changes except for possible widely scattered thundershowers with the passage of a weak cool front through the state.

The front should move southeastward into South Central Texas by late Tuesday.

Temperatures at dawn today generally were in the 60s and 70s with the cooler readings in the southeast.

Guns Top Autos In Violence Toll

By The Associated Press

Homicides far outraced traffic smashups as the No. 1 killer during the Mothers Day weekend in Texas.

By midnight Sunday, 16 persons had died violently including ten in shootings and a stabbing. Four persons drowned.

The usual leading causes of Texas violent deaths—traffic collisions—claimed only two lives.

Deaths occurring between 6 p.m. Friday and midnight Sunday were included in the list.

Investigators said John Jannasch, 34, of San Antonio was killed Sunday evening when another man blasted him with a 12-gauge shotgun to end an argument. Officers charged a 55-year-old San Antonio man in that killing.

Three shooting deaths came at McKinney when two robbers forced an elderly store operator and two teen-agers to lie on the floor and then shot them to death about dawn Saturday.

Officers identified the trio as Preston Broyles, 73, of Farmersville, operator of the store; and Gary Coker and Billy St. John, both 18 and of Princeton, a community near McKinney.

Oscar Taylor, 39, of Houston died in another shooting. Houston police said the fatal gunfire came at the end of an argument with a woman.

Investigators searched for the identity Sunday of a man gunned down late Friday night on a street near downtown Dallas. Authorities said robbery apparently was the motive in that death.

Joyce McDonald, 47, of Dallas was stabbed to death late Friday during what police termed a domestic quarrel. Officers jailed a 45-year-old man in connection with the woman's death.

Sherman Cassidy Davis, 35, of Perryton drowned Saturday while fishing from a boat at the Martin Canyon area of Lake Meredith. Investigators said Davis tried to swim to shore when the boat swamped.

Officers said Jimmy Middleton, 73, drowned while checking a trot line in the Llano River about 17 miles northeast of Junction Saturday.

John L. Hollingsworth, 21, of Austin was killed early Saturday when his motorcycle collided with a car, police said. The smashup occurred during heavy fog.

James Earl Brinson Jr., 41, a Houston stevadore, was struck and killed by a car on the Eastex Freeway Sunday.

A 15-year-old girl was presumed drowned Sunday after disappearing in a strong Gulf Coast undertow near Matagorda beach. She was tentatively identified as Teresa Nunoz, 15, of Hungerford.

Clark Galloway, 20, of Houston, drowned Sunday in an apartment swimming pool.

Prisoners Recaptured

LITTLE ROCK, Ark. (AP) — Three escaped federal prisoners were arrested at a cabin near Hot Springs, a spokesman for the FBI said Sunday.

The prisoners were identified as Donald Edward Horton, 34, Weldon Gene Roby, 36, and Albert Jesse Cordell, 34.

Horton and Roby escaped from the federal correction institution at Seagoville, Tex., on May 5, the FBI said.

Both men were on furlough at the time.

Cordell escaped from the federal correction institution at Texarkana, Tex., on April 29. He was convicted of a narcotics violation, the FBI said.

The FBI said Horton, formerly of Little Rock, was convicted of aiding and abetting in the making of plates for counterfeiting notes and passing counterfeiting notes. He was serving a five-year prison sentence.

Roby of Alice, Tex., was convicted at Fort Worth on a narcotics violation and was serving a five-year term, the FBI said.

Letter To Editor

To The Daily News:

In the course of learning about the aspects of local economy, we, the economics class of Snyder High School, would like to express our appreciation to several businesses who were kind enough to show the operations of their businesses and to explain their economic value to Snyder.

We would like to extend our special appreciation to SACROC and R.E. Smith for providing meals during a field trip. We are grateful to Diamond M Museum, Wickes Mobile Homes, City Hall, Scurry County Courthouse, Snyder Daily News, Snyder National Bank, Post Office, Southwestern Bell Telephone, Ezell-Key Feed Company and Western Texas College.

In response to invitations, the following people presented discussions to the class: H.W. Cargile, Gary Roberts, Charles Ketchum, Roy Hanson, Jimmy Dyess and Charlie Yoast.

We appreciate these businesses and people because of their concern in conjunction with a growing and economically-sound community.

Thank you,
1974 Snyder High School Economics Class

Brennan Does Fast Turn Around

BUFFALO, N.Y. (AP) — Labor Secretary Peter Brennan did a fast turnaround after calling Vice President Gerald R. Ford "the President" in an introduction at a labor leaders luncheon.

"Er, ah, I mean, the Vice President," Brennan said Friday as the audience began chuckling. Then he added, "There will be a lot of talk about that tonight. It was just a Freudian slip."
