3500 Longshoremen Ordered In General Water Front Strike At Texas Ports

Home Town Talk

By B. D. D.

News comes of the death of Henry Ellis, former editor of the Denison Herald, at his home at Denison Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Ellis was one who lived the finest traditions of newspaper life; he was a courageous and lovable man and he wrote with a force and clarity and understanding that matched the qualities of his mind and heart. From the standpoint of its editorials, at least, he made the Denison Herald one of the outstanding newspapers of his state and section.

Mr. Ellis not only exemplified the finest traditions of newspaper work but he was a Democrat of the old school who scorned to subvert principle to expediency. Talker makes acknowledgment to his memory for good teaching and a splendid example.

Talker remembers years ago of reading Mr. Ellis' editorials with irritation and even indignation especially when he was expounding Democratic doctrine and pointing the party's duty, because they did not agree with Talker's views. In later years Talker came to accept most of what Mr. Ellis advocated, and learned that indignation has its uses in stimulating thought. Talker believes that an editorial that can provoke indignation has served a good purpose. Righteous indignation is a fine emotion. Indignation that causes us to think and either to confirm or change our views has been of benefit.

Photographs in the Daily Times Thursday show how completely the Brazos river bridge on the Newcastle-Throckmorton highway was wrecked Wednesday by the snapping of a cable. Doubtless some impairment of the foundation of one of the supporting towers caused the cable to break.

The pictures will recall to many the wrecking of the cable suspension bridge over Red river north of Byers several years ago. This bridge was caught by one of the whirlwinds that frequently sweep the river bed. It was lifted up and thrown into the bed of the river.

The cable suspension bridges are relics of an older day in Texas. Many of them are now being replaced with concrete structures.

Charles Allen of Cache, Okla., forest ranger in the Wichita mountain reserve, tells us that four of the remaining five antelope placed in the reserve some years ago, were recently found dead bearing out the statement of William T. Hornaday, author of the American Natural History, that it is practically impossible to raise antelope in captivity.

There are many still living who can remember when the prairies of Northwest Texas and the plains of the Panhandle swarmed with these "prairie rovers." They are still to be found in parts of New Mexico but have disappeared from Texas, or almost so. Many efforts have been made to preserve them in captivity with little success.

Mr. Allen writes that an effort will be made to obtain the nucleus of another herd to be turned loose in the buffalo pasture of 8,000 acres in the Wichita preserve. It does seem that 8,000 acres ought to afford scope for even the roving instincts of the antelope.

The Wichita Falls Woman's Forum annual flower carnival opens in the King building at 1012 Scott street with many beautiful exhibits and an interesting program. This has not been a good season for flower growing on account of the drouth earlier in the year and the excessive rains recently. But it has been just the kind of a year to try the mettle of the Woman's Forum and this year's flower carnival promises to be one of the most successful yet held.

The Fritz Motor company which has furnished an exhibition room for the flower carnival for a number of years published a full page advertisement with photographs of its salesmen and department heads in appreciation of the flower show.

The magnitude of the Fritz Motor company's business and organization will be a revelation to many. The company does an annual business running into many hundreds of thousands of dollars. It employs more than 50 persons and has an annual payroll of more than $100,000.

Woman Admits Part In Fort Worth Robbery

FORT WORTH, Oct. 30. (UP)—Fort Worth's woman bandit and her two male companions on Sunday night's robbery of a drug store here, were in city jail tonight.

The woman, arrested Wednesday afternoon, made a confession today, implicating herself, her husband and another man, in the robbery, as well as the theft of an automobile Sunday night.

Oklahoma Bank Robbed By Unmasked Bandits

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 30.—Three men robbed the First National of Fort Gibson, a few miles east of here, of an undetermined amount of money, just as it was closing at 3 p. m. today. The men escaped in a green sedan toward Tahlequah.

UNION CALLS WALKOUT OVER WAGE DISPUTE

Galveston, Houston, Texas City and Corpus Christi Harbors Affected

SETTLEMENT FAILS

Agreement Made on Oct. 12 Fails to Avert Strike Of Dockmen

GALVESTON, Texas, Oct. 30. (AP)—A general water front strike involving the ports of Galveston, Houston, Texas City and Corpus Christi was called here tonight by the Longshoremen's unions.

The strike followed a wage controversy which apparently had been satisfactorily settled Oct. 12, since that time, however, a difference of opinion arose and today the Longshoremen's representatives refused to sign the formal wage agreement

The dispute hinged over vessels employed in the West Indies and Cuba trade by Lykes Brothers, Steamship company, with the Longshoremen demanding that they receive the regular scale of 80 cents an hour for work on these ships, while the company wanted to pay the coastwise rate of 65 cents an hour.

The steamship men claim it has been made plain throughout that wage negotiations carried on did not include these vessels, while the men said they understood they were included.

About 3,500 men, 1,500 in Galveston are involved.

The decision to stop work came tonight after a four-hour meeting.

Hope has been expressed that general cargo loading would be resumed under temporary agreement tomorrow.

Schafer Given Life Term In Woman's Slaying

DALLAS, Oct. 30. (AP)—W. A. Schafer was found guilty of murder in the fatal shooting of Mrs. Dorothy Jones, April 30, and was given a 99-year penitentiary sentence by a jury here today.

Mrs. Jones was shot once while sitting in a parked automobile with Schafer. Ben Musick, a friend, was standing beside the car, and testified he did not see who fired the fatal shot. The defense claimed the shooting was accidental and that the woman and Schafer were to have been married.

Neither Schafer nor his mother, who accompanied him to the jail door after the verdict, displayed emotion.

Road Orders $5,000,000 Additional Equipment

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 30. (UP)—The Pennsylvania railroad within two weeks will begin construction of 1,500 new steel cars costing approximately $5,000,000. The work will provide employment for 600 men.

Five Senatorial Candidates Stake Hopes on Modification Plea

ROBERT J. BULKLEY

"Prohibition is no more needed today than an anti-slavery society," says this Democratic candidate for the senate in Ohio, who is making repeal of the Volstead act the chief plank in his appeal for votes in Tuesday's election.

J. HAM LEWIS

Very wet indeed is the veteran Democratic candidate for the senate in Illinois who opposes Mrs. Ruth Hanna McCormick, Republican dry. But Mrs. McCormick is not entirely dry, having announced that she will abide by the result of the state's prohibition referendum.

DWIGHT W. MORROW

Most prominent of all those who have come out for modification of the prohibition law is this Republican candidate for the senate in New Jersey, often spoken of as a presidential possibility. He favors repeal of the federal law and regulation by states.

JOHN M. HEMPHILL

Newest and perhaps the most interesting figure in Pennsylvania's scrambled political situation is this Democratic nominee for governor, who has the support of a lot of wet Republicans. He opposes Gifford Pinchot, arch dry and Progressive Republican.

MARCUS A. COOLIDGE

Ex-Governor Al Smith of New York, speaking in his behalf, has lent support to the campaign of Marcus Aurelius Coolidge, Democratic nominee for the senate in Massachusetts. This Coolidge is a pronounced wet—and no relation to Cal.

Smoke of Mounting Political Fires Shrouds Answer to Senate Enigma

Rival Party Standard Bearers Shout Victory Amidst Noise Of Final Offensive

By EDWARD J. DUFFY
Associated Press Staff Writer

The election campaigns have flamed into a crackling finale that's bound to have a bearing on the answer Tuesday to the big question—"which party shall dominate the next congress?"

National officers of Republicans and Democrats continue to say they expect the voters to decide their way. But the confidence of neither was such today as to lead to any let-up.

On the contrary, intensity of the electioneering mounts. Speech after speech and statement after statement by prominent party men, clashing as forcibly as do their political faiths, increase the complexity as the day of balloting nears.

The proposition of upholding or repudiating President Hoover's policies and acts keeps affording fuel for controversy from one border to another. Linked with that conflict in many states is the prohibition issue. Still more tinder for the flames has been added in numerous sections by factional differences among party adherents. All in all, it looks as though there will be no way of telling who is being scorched until the Nov. 4 voting is over.

Coolidge Talks

Both parties are concentrating especially on Ohio, Indiana, Missouri, Kentucky and Illinois as well as New York and New England. The campaigns find personal and political considerations running together as one in numerous instances.

In Massachusetts last night, for example, Calvin Coolidge was called

MINE GIVES UP LAST BODIES

Daring Crew Overcomes Deadly Fumes

McALESTER, Okla., Oct. 30. (AP)—The last of the bodies of 29 men entombed in the Wheatley No. 4 coal mine here Monday night were removed from the mine at 8:30 o'clock tonight, and all of them had been identified.

The bodies which the haggard rescue workers previously had been unable to reach due to the presence of deadly black damp, were carried to the surface by a specially trained crew of 10 men who entered the mine wearing oxygen tanks. The bodies were identified as those of Nick Zontic Jr. and Richard Faulkner.

With the identification of the last bodies, one previously unidentified was learned to be that of Marcellus Rosso.

Group Splits

Under the direction of Bill Jones and John Hynol, the 10 men succeeded in reaching the bodies which the black damp had kept others from.

While six of the men, who were recruited from the Rock Island Improvements companies mines at Hartshorne, remained in a fresh air pocket in room three, the other four went to room five, where the bodies lay, and succeeded in recovering them. Because it was possible that their oxygen supplies would become exhausted before their work was completed the men decided to work in two groups, but this proved unnecessary as the first attempt to bring the bodies out was successful.

Probe Delayed

An official investigation to determine the cause of the explosion which snuffed out the lives of 30 men, will not get under way for about a week, Miller D. Hay, state mine inspector, said tonight. Hay said it would be necessary to clear away debris in the mine and clear the interior of the after damp before it would be safe to enter. He predicted this would require a week's work.

Besides the 29 men trapped inside the mine by the terrific explosion, William Conley, working near the mouth of the mine shaft, was killed when the blast hurled him against the tipple.

Oklahoma Indian Pupils to Attend Whites' Schools

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (US)—Indian children of Oklahoma will attend the public schools with the white children in the future, it was announced by the Indian service of the interior department today.

This step is taken in the belief that the Indians will learn more rapidly and advance quicker toward normal citizenship through contact with the whites.

This conclusion was reached after a survey had been made of 100,000 Indians in that state.

Mother Badly Burned Trying to Save Baby

MARSHALL, Texas, Oct. 30 (UP)—An effort to rescue her baby, already carried to safety, resulted in serious burns to Mrs. C. W. Hearne, wife of a Lansing switch farmer, today, when fire destroyed the Hearne home.

Cat's Paw Leads Raiders To Secret Liquor Cache

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (UP)—Federal dry agents, disgusted at finding only a small quantity of gin in John Cagney's southside store today, were about to leave when they saw a cat's paw wriggling and twisting through a hole in the ceiling.

The agents forgot their raiding to help the distressed cat. They discovered the paw had come through a crack in a trapdoor which, when opened, revealed six cases of whisky.

American Killed In German Plane Crash

BOULOGNE, Oct. 30. (US)—James Street, 42, of Newark, N. J., was one of three men killed today when an Imperial Airways plane bound from Paris to London crashed near here.

The other dead were the mechanic, named Mason, and an Englishman named James. The injured are Pilot Flynn, an American named Bolsover and a Briton named Tompkins.

THIRD ATTACK ON PRORATION MADE IN COURT

Temporary Injunction For Sunray Oil Co. Granted At Austin

AUSTIN, Oct. 30. (AP)—The third legal attack on the Texas railroad commission's order for statewide curtailment of oil production was made in district court here today by the Sunray Oil company of Tulsa, Okla., doing business in Gray county in the Texas Panhandle oil fields.

The petition for an injunction, which was temporarily granted pending a hearing, followed the allegations previously made by the Danciger Oil and Refining company and the Young Brothers and Alexander company, in their attacks on the order.

The Danciger injunction will come before the court on a motion by the state to dissolve, Nov. 10, and the decision of the court probably will rule in all three cases.

The principal question raised was whether the state railroad commission has police power, necessary to enforce proration. In the event the court rules that this power is lodged with the commission it would follow that all other objections raised would be overruled, according to Dewey Lawrence, assistant attorney general handling the commission's work.

Prisoner Shot to Death In Fight to Escape

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 30. (AP)—Frank L. Parker, 45, former convict arrested for questioning, was shot to death here today by Paul Desser, a city detective, after Parker drove a stolen motor car into another machine, injuring two women, in an attempt to escape.

Police records show Parker was sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment here July 6, 1925 for motor car theft and was paroled from the Missouri penitentiary about a year ago. He also had police records in San Francisco, his former home, and in Milwaukee.

Alicia Patterson Sets Another Flight Record

ROOSEVELT FIELD, N. Y., Oct. 30. (US)—Miss Alicia Patterson set another women's unofficial flight record today, flying from Roosevelt field to Albany and return in one hour, 59 minutes, and three seconds. The distance is about 280 miles.

Former Greek Dictator Held in Conspiracy

ATHENS, Oct. 30. (AP)—General Theodorus Pangalos, one time dictator of Greece, was arrested at Eleusis tonight after a police raid revealed an alleged plot among army officers and civilians to restore him to his former position of power.

Charades and Phantom Parties Once Favored Halloween Stunts

Mrs. Carrigan Recalls Father's Lost Buggy and Bill Huff the Time He Was Caught by Joseph Hund

By FANNY H. KAY
Written Especially for The Record News

With the last week of October nearly at an end and yellow "punkins" gleaming in the fields these frosty nights, Wichita Falls is looking both forward and backward at Halloween celebrations. Small boys and girls have finally donned the costumes that have hung tantalizingly in bedroom closets for the last two weeks, and party plans have been announced and checked countless times in anticipation of the coming festival. But although the costumes are colorful, and the games are brilliant, Halloween isn't what it used to be, according to some of the Halloween merrymakers of a few years back. Then as now, the days dragged slowly as October drew to a close with its promise of Halloween on the last day of the month. But unlike now, nobody ever thought of buying a costume, according to Mrs. A. H. Carrigan, who is able to recount several interesting details concerning Halloween customs and pranks of the past. Instead of buying a costume weeks in advance of the festive date, as the children and young people do now, the maskers either made their own costumes or depended on last minute pinning and wrapping to make themselves presentable to the hobgoblin horde.

Charades Gave Thrill

Trunks and attics were ransacked in an effort to find long black skirts that might serve to hide childish feet and legs and give the impression of a frightful witch, who carried her broomstick preparatory to a flight through the chilly night air. And there were parties with red apples afloat upon a tub of water where one might duck or not duck. But they usually ducked, she said. One of the most interesting features of the Halloween parties of yesterday, according to some of the old timers (and a good many not so old) were the charades, which they think is becoming one of the forgotten arts today.

But the most fun of all, in the opinion of Mrs. Eugene Sherrod, were the phantom parties, one of which was given at the home of Mrs. W. M. McGregor and seems well remembered by many who were fortunate enough to attend.

To be admitted to a phantom party, a treasured affair at that time, it was necessary to be garbed as a ghost, and the following day found linen closets ruined beyond repair, with favorite sheets and pillow cases turning up with long slits and tears where ghostly eyes had peered forth the night before, and in many cases never turning up at all.

And indeed Halloween would

Librarians Advocate Legislative Control

DALLAS, Oct. 30. (AP)—Legislative supervision of librarian qualifications in southwestern states was advocated today at the fifth biennial meeting of the Southwestern Library association.

Mrs. J. R. Dale, secretary of the state library commission of Oklahoma, said last year 150,000 books were distributed among rural readers of that state.

WILL FRITTS GIVEN DEATH

Haskell County Slayer Gets Extreme Penalty

CLAIREMONT, Texas, Oct. 30. (AP)—Will Fritts today was given the death penalty for the slaying of D. W. Hamilton, who was shot to death at his home near Rochester, in Haskell county, Oct. 24, 1928.

Fritts received the latest verdict without comment and was taken by Sheriff R. R. Goodall of Kent county to the jail at Haskell.

It was the third time in two years the defendant had heard a jury read a verdict directing that the extreme penalty be inflicted.

At a previous trial in Fisher county he had been given death for Hamilton's slaying and a Jones county jury had directed capital punishment be inflicted for the fatal shooting of Earl Hamilton, D. W. Hamilton's 17-year-old son. Father and son were killed at the same time. Both verdicts were reversed and remanded by the court of criminal appeals.

In a second trial for the youth's slaying, an Eastland county jury ordered Fritts imprisoned for 99 years.

Mrs. D. W. Hamilton testified that her son was shot to death after Fritts had called him from their home to the front porch to question him about appearing against him in a liquor law violation case. She said her husband was shot when he rushed to the porch after hearing the shot that killed her son.

Fritts testified in his own behalf at the latest trial for the first time. He claimed he shot in self-defense.

Herbert Hoover Jr. To To Leave White House

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—Improved physically after six weeks at President Hoover's lodge in the Virginia mountains, Herbert Hoover Jr., is to leave the White House tomorrow night for Asheville, N. C., to convalesce from his illness.

He was brought from the lodge to the capital late yesterday by Capt. Joel T. Boone, the White House physician, who will accompany him to Asheville on the train.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (US)—Department store sales throughout the country were 34 per cent greater in September than in August, the federal reserve board announced today.

Earthquakes Spread Death And Destruction Along Upper Adriatic

ANCONA, Italy, Oct. 30. (AP)—Reliable unofficial sources tonight estimated the dead in the earthquake that shook Italy's Adriatic coast today at 25, and the injured at more than 350.

SENIGALLIA, Italy, Oct. 30 (AP)—Three earthquake shocks struck numerous cities along the upper Adriatic coast today, taking at least 15 lives and injuring several hundred persons.

Property damage was enormous, but it was considered remarkable that the toll of lives was not greater for scarcely a building in the cities of Ancona and Senigallia escaped damage. The quake struck terror to a score of towns and villages across 1,000 square miles of northeastern Italy.

Casualty figures were made available by the ministry of the interior and though it was almost certain they would increase as additional inforamtion was received, it was thought unlikely that more than 35 or 40 had been killed in all the quake zone.

The first shock came shortly after 3 o'clock this morning and lasted 20 minutes. There was a tremendous booming from the sea.

TEXAS ASKS $100,000

Oklahoma Wants $15,000,000 for State Highway Extensions

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Next Tuesday about $475,000,000 in bond issues are to be voted on in a score of states.

Figures compiled by S. W. Straus & Co. showed today that $65,000,000 of this money is for projects such as Illinois' plan to enlarge her park area. The $410,000,000 will go for highway improvements, several public buildings, bridges and water front improvements.

Oklahoma is asking her voters for $15,000,000 for highways and Arizona has a $10,000,000 road-building project.

Texas is asking $100,000.

RETAIL MERCHANTS TO MEET HERE TODAY

By FRED L. HASKETT

Committee members of the Better Business campaign met Thursday morning and threshed out more details of the plan. Friday morning the retail merchants have been called for a meeting at the chamber of commerce, 9 o'clock. It is said the invitation has been extended to every merchant in the retail business, whether member of any civic organization or not.

The retail merchants are to devise plans with which to carry through their part of the program. They desire to work out a plan and submit it to the general committee for approval. Spokesmen for some of the merchants are very much impressed with the Better Business campaign and predict that it will meet with success in Wichita Falls and be a real factor in aiding and expanding employment as well as restoring confidence in the minds of people that business is as the people make it.

Burton Stayton, chairman of the publicity committee of the Better Business campaign, added the name of John W. Thomas to his committee membership Thursday.

Roscoe Staton, president of the real estate board and chairman of the research and employment committee, announced Thursday afternoon the members of the committee, as follows: J. M. Bland, Harry

'GERM EATER' CURES CHOLERA

Parasite Devours Bacteria Causing Disease

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Discovery of an effective treatment for Asiatic cholera and dysentery by introduction of a parasite that literally eats up the disease germ is reported to the New York Academy of Medicine.

The new treatment is announced by Dr. Delix D'Herelle, professor of bacteriology at Yale, and the substance used is the still mysterious bacteriophage which D'Herelle himself discovered about six years ago.

Bacteriophage means literally "bacteria eater." Some medical authorities claim it is a chemical poison, but D'Herelle says it is a minute living thing which eats bacteria.

There is a specific bacteriophage for each disease and it develops in convalescing persons.

He treated 10,000 cases of dysentery in Brazil and had only two failures, Dr. D'Herelle said. Four patients in Egypt suffering from bubonic plague were cured by injection of the bacteriophage into the swellings. In India three years ago he treated Asiatic cholera by that method and despite adverse conditions had a mortality rate of only 8.1 per cent among his patients while the general mortality rate from the disease was 62.9.

Three Bandits Raid Bank for $20,000

TOMAH, Wis., Oct. 30. (INS)—Three unmasked bandits today held up the Bank of Tomah and escaped in an automobile with cash estimated at $20,000 by bank officials.

Cashier S. H. Drew and five other employes, including three women, were forced to lie face downward on the floor during the robbery.

The Woman Plays and Plays and Plays on Broadway

Men have been pushed beyond the back-seat stage in two leading Broadway plays this season. "Blind Mice" and "Nine Till Six" were written, staged, directed and acted without the aid of men, though some masculine assistance was probably welcome at the box office. In the triumphant cluster above are pictured nine and approximately three-quarters of the beauties who are making the experiment a success.

INVISIBLE RAYS AID PICTURES

New Photography Method Is Discovered

CHARLOTTESVILLE, Va., Oct. 30. (AP)—Discovery of a new method of photography with invisible ultraviolet rays was reported to the optical society of America at the University of Virginia today.

The new camera's eye is a microscope and its workings were described by A. P. H. Trivelli and L. V. Foster of the Eastman Kodak company.

They said the camera reveals theoretically 19 per cent greater detail of certain kinds of objects. Ultraviolet has been used before to take photographs. The new development is discovery of how to use a different form of ultraviolet, that part of this invisible radiation which is nearest to visible violet light.

Pictures were shown of hollyhock pollen grains seen through visible light and then the new ultraviolet. The latter revealed a row of sharp spines sticking out like points of a crown all around the grains.

Another picture showed a "discodrelfid" worm much more clearly with visible than with ultraviolet light. The reason was that the worm has a protective coating against ultraviolet. It was brought out that many objects may be seen more clearly with ultraviolet but that there are exceptions like the worm which wears a protective coat against sunburn.

DOOM LOOMS FOR GOBBLERS

Big Crop Available at Low Price

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 30.—Tillman county's turkey crop will soon begin moving so that the gobblers can be dressed, packed into barrels and shipped to New York City and other eastern markets in time for the Thanksgiving day dinner. Last year about 20 cars of turkeys were shipped from this county; this was more than was raised by our farmers but some of the big birds were brought from Texas and Cotton county. This year there will probably be no more than 15 cars shipped from Tillman county, said W. G. Whistler, veteran Frederick poultry dealer. Each car will represent about $5,000 for the farmer or his wife.

During the summer the turkeys made their living in great part on grasshoppers and other insects.

In order for the grower to find a market for his turkeys they must be fattened on wheat, barley, corn or some other such feed. Poor turkeys will not be marketable, said Whistler.

Turkeys are now quoted on eastern markets for 35 cents a pound. This indicates that they will not bring a high price on the local market. Wholesale produce buyers announce that there are plenty of turkeys in the United States as a whole and that the consumer is not going to buy unless the price is reasonable.

Two of the Frederick dealers, the Frederick Produce company and William Knaust, will slaughter and dress the turkeys in their local establishments. This will require the services of about 75 pickers which work will begin next week. Several hundred dollars will be paid the pickers.

GROWERS LAMENT DROP IN PRICES

CUERO, Texas, Oct. 30. (UP)—Hundreds of Thanksgiving turkeys gobbled their way around feeding grounds today, bringing little pride to growers in this "turkey capital of the nation."

Sharp drops in market prices have robbed the turkey growers of several thousands of dollars in profits, and the annual turkey trot, when flocks of birds clutter the highways on their way to market, has been postponed until 1931.

BIG CROP AWAITS MARKET

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 30. (UP)—Despite an unfavorable season for raising turkeys the number of birds that will be available for the Thanksgiving and Christmas markets will be practically the same as last year, federal and state statisticians for Oklahoma reported today.

The 1930 turkey crop in the entire nation is three per cent smaller than that of 1929, but larger than either the 1928 or 1917 crops, the report said.

Dry, hot weather during the summer months was unfavorable for raising young turkeys. There was also a shortage of feed supply in some sections.

Freshets Inundate German District

BRESLAU, Germany, Oct. 30. (AP)—Floods caused by melting snow in the Upper Silesian mountains today surrounded the town of Ratibor and completely cut if off from all communications with the neighboring territory.

Low lying fields in the neighborhood were covered with from 10 to 14 feet of water from the swollen river Oder, and farmers were forced to flee to higher ground in boats.

Two persons were reported drowned.

The town of Laband was similarly isolated, through the overflow of the river Klodnitz, while between Laband and Gleiwitz a vast lake was formed.

In parts of Liegnitz, the streets can be traversed only by boat.

Villages in the Eulen mountain district reported today forest lands had been severely damaged by rushing torrents.

The situation is the result of a recent cold snap, bringing the first snow of the winter, which was followed by warm weather that brought a quick thaw.

LINE SOUGHT AT BIG SPRING

Citizens Confer Today At Amarillo

Special to The Record News.

BIG SPRING, Texas, Oct. 30.—Big Spring is putting forth every effort possible to secure the Texas and Pacific Northern railroad and so advised L. C. Porter, general traffic superintendent and D. P. Watts, claim agent of the Texas and Pacific in a meeting here this week.

Agricultural data is being compiled by the organization and statistical information to substantiate the convenience and necessity of the road.

Mr. Porter was assured by E. A. Kelley, chairman of the railroad extension committee of Big Spring that the project was receiving the unanimous support of each town on the proposed line.

Numbers of farmers who live in a territory not now served by a railroad are encouraging the building of this line as a convenience and necessity as many farmers and cattlemen in this section are compelled to haul their products 20 or 30 miles. If the line was built they would be adjacent to the new road.

A delegation of citizens from each town along the proposed line will meeet in Amarillo on Friday to discuss the compilation of facts, prior to the Interstate Commerce commissioin hearing.

KENTUCKY MAY GO DEMOCRATIC

Republican Ruled State May Revolt

GEORGE ROTHWELL BROWN
(Copyr't, 1930, by Universal Service, Inc.)

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Oct. 30.—On the second floor of an old-fashioned five-story red brick building, in this picturesque Ohio river town, dating back somewhere around the eighties, is a walk-up beauty parlor.

Many is the hair that has been made to curl in that little room in the years gone by. Miracles in the hirsute line were performed there. By a slight manipulation in Louisville pompadours were made to curl and bristle, and stand straight up on end as far away as New York and Washington, and faces were paled, or brought to a bright vermillion hue, by the same secret process.

There has never been a beauty parlor quite like it in America. On an historic occasion a professor operating in this little room changed the political complexion of the country.

It was once the sanctum of "Marse" Henry Watterson.

Louisville was a Democratic city in those far-off days, and Kentucky was a state of Democrats, fast horses, able statesmen, "cawn licker," mint juleps, and beautiful women. The fast horses, "cawn licker," mint juleps and beautiful women are here still.

"Marse" Henry passed on to his reward, and Kentucky Republicans entered upon theirs, so that today Kentucky is a Republican state, and Louisville is a Republican city.

There is a chance that after the elections next Tuesday Kentucky will be a Democratic state once more. The G. O. P. hereabouts is not sitting so comfortably. A senator and 11 congressmen are to be chosen and the situation is such that the Republicans may lose a great deal, and cannot possibly gain a thing.

This, of course, is due to the fact, that they gained all there was to gain in that paroxysm of nature known as the Hoover landslide of 1928.

The Republicans can do nothing in this election but lose. The Democrats are in a fair way to capture the senatorship, and to pick up perhaps, as many as five seats in congress to add to that total which John Garner, of Texas, is counting upon to make Nick Longworth an accommodated passenger instead of supreme dictator of, the official house limousine.

This is by no means a prediction that Judge M. M. Logan, the Democratic senatorial candidate, will wrest away the seat now held by Senator John M. Robsion. It is simply a statement of plain fact, namely, that this very thing may come to pass.

30 Cases Cleared From Vernon Docket

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 30.—Thirty cases were disposed of in the first two days and a half of the October term of the 46th district court under Judge W. N. Stokes, a check of the docket revealed Thursday. The court convened Monday for a five-week session.

Sixteen cases have been dismissed for want of prosecution or on motion of the plaintiff in the 30 cases disposed of. Eight of the cases dismissed were divorce suits dismissed for lack of prosecution. One jury civil suit and three non-jury civil suits were dismissed on motion of the plaintiff and four cases were dismissed from the appearance docket.

Local Branch Of A. A. U. W. Gives Lovely Program Tea

The lofty ceilings and handsome furnishings of the lounge in the Wichita club seemed a fitting place Thursday for the meeting of the local branch of the American Association of University Women who set their goal with the national order "50,000 members by the50th anniversary," which will occur in April, 1931.

Mrs. Roy J. Daniel, president of the local branch presided as the meeting was opened and spoke of the purposes of the organization, telling something of its history and accomplishments and announcing the qualifications necessary to become member of the different branches. The total membership in the United States at the present time is more than 35,000. She stated that the Wichita branch met once each month in a general meeting and after giving an outline of the work, introduced the chairmen of the different departments. Mrs. Paul Woodward, chairman of the educational group, was not able to be present. Her work was defined as pre-school work, meeting with 18 or 20 members twice a month.

Miss Elfie Savage was introduced as chairman of the book group and told of the selected new and best books bought by the 22 members and passed from one reader to another. The books, selected carefully include poetry, biography, drama, fiction and history. This group does not hold meetings.

Mrs. Eleanor Pace was introduced as chairman of the international relations group. Mrs. Pace was state chairman in the same group and represented the local association at the state meeting in Waco recently. She told of the programs outlined for the coming year and also gave a brief and extremely good outline of what was done in Waco. The international relations group meets twice a month in a luncheon program and has interesting discussions on international problems.

Miss Mamie Raborn, chairman of the program committee was next introduced and outlined the programs for the coming year, telling the subjects for each meeting and introducing Miss Eva Weber who talked briefly on "Fellowships and Scholarships" and introduced Bernice Trevathan who has the scholarship given by the A. A. U. W. this year.

Collegians Furnish Program

A clever one-act play was given by three members of the Junior College Blue Curtain club, "Chalk Marks on the Gate." Marion Proctor acted as director and the three participating were Pearl Smith, Katherine Ashford and Louis Haynes.

A delightful tea was served and all through the tea hour a subdued background of music was furnished by Durwood Park and Homer Donehoo with their violins with Mildred Anderson accompanying.

Among the members and guests were Misses Olive Kay, Jennie Louise Hindman, Luella Spragins, Ida Jane Collins, Ima Pendergrass, Helen Grace Gould, Eva Weber, Elfie Savage, Madge Davis, Mesdames Joe Farabee, W. H. Sanford, Lloyd, Wayne Somerville, Charles William Wallace, Paul Woodward, Frank Stauffer, R. T. Weidner, Misses Glieth Henderson, Lelia V. Davis, Amanda McDaniel, Fannie Vance, Mrs. Eleanor D. Pace, Misses Montague Thompson, Agnes Zihlman, Llerena Friend, Mesdames A. C. Bierman, E. V. Foran, W. H. Caldwell, L. N. Cason, Anna Witherspoon, Misses Bernice Trevathan, Pauline Shirley, Ethel Farabee, Eloise Kimbell, Elizabeth Turnbough, Kathleen Melat, Mesdames E. M. Friend, Henry C. Fulcher, C. A. PEEPS AT PEOPLE

By MRS. L. N. CASON

Accidents will happen, and ever since we were startled by hearing a reporter exclaim over the woman who was intellectual because she knew how to tell about a football game and felt ourself sink into the depths of ignorance, there seems to have been an accidental campaign for our redemption.

The coach at high school began directing a series of articles on football in the morning paper; we saw and heard Knute Rockne three different times on the screen, and though we learned little, we had football thrills; then we saw Notre Dame in action.

A story in the New Yorker encouraged us—or at least we did not feel so small in our "intellects," when we heard of a college professor who was much interested in football and had an excellent player in his class who was so poor in his studies he was called "dumb." For the sake of the team, the professor passed him, and was conscienceless about it until the next semester when he found ranged in his first class 20 members of that year's football squad.

The story, told in a current magazine, seems to have been a test of intelligence on the side of the professor as well as on that of the player. One reacted to college pride and the other to experience.

Now that it has happened that all these things have occurred right on the trail of the exposure of our ignorance, we wish that we might be told many things we do not know.

We wish to know where the city fathers of Winona Lake, Ind., are while Mrs. Mary Starr of that city, according to the New Yorker, planted ivy round their handsome bronze Venus de Milo in the public square to "cover the indecent figure."

Words in all their beauty we wish to know. We were asked by a young (very young) lady the other day what was the good of an extensive vocabulary. There has always been for us a pleasure in the mere sound of words; we read the dictionary pages and books of synonyms sometimes with as much pleasure as any other literature. We spoke to her of the beauty of words, strung like jewels into sentences.

Then we learned that young ladies of her age were being given a lesson in words. For so many days, they had to find all words possible beginning with a, b, c, etc., without looking in the dictionary. Their vocabularies will certainly be helped and we wish that we had been given such training. Public speaking under Miss Juanita Kinsey is doing this.

The thing that makes us feel that we have no understanding at all is the queer story that appeared in a newspaper about the woman and man thrice married; the third occurrence was because she saw a poem he wrote and liked it. We wish we might see the poem.

Oneal to Give Radio Talk on Amendments

Constitutional amendments upon which voters of Texas will be asked to ballot on Nov. 4 in the general election will be discussed by Ben G. Oneal, state senator-elect, from radio station KGKO at 1 p. m. Friday, it was announced Thursday.

Mr. Oneal speaks as the representative of the legislative amendment committee, which is conducting a campaign purposed to familiarize the people of Texas with the proposed amendments. He will talk 15 minutes.

FELT BLUE AND DISCOURAGED

Lady Was Weak and in Pain—Took Cardui and Says It Helped Her

Forrest City, Ark.—"I was weak and run-down, and had severe pains in my side and back," writes Mrs. L. H. Milton, who lives on Walnut street in this city. "I was in bed for about five weeks, not able to do a thing. This caused me to be blue and discouraged.

"My mother gave me Cardui when I was a girl, and it helped me, so I decided to try it again. I sent for it and began taking it.

"After taking one bottle of Cardui I felt better. I kept on taking it and grew stronger. By the time I had taken three bottles, I was up and able to do my work.

"Now I am well and strong, care for the house, and have time to tell my friends what splendid things Cardui did for me."

If you are run-down, nervous, or suffer every month, take Cardui, a purely vegetable, reconstructive medicine of long established value. Experience of several generations has shown that Cardui helps women to health. Sold everywhere.

Critical Mother Makes Life Of Daughter Unhappy

Dear Miss Dix—I am a girl of 19 and I need advice or sympathy about how to get along with my mother. Here is my trouble. (1) Mother has no faith in me and whenever I would put my arms around her she would say: "Is that the way you act with your boy friends?" so I have quit showing her any affection. (2) She criticizes my boy friends. Not one has the qualifications she admires. One is untidy in his dress. Another has no personality. Another is not good looking. Another has too big a mouth. She doesn't like another's manners. Every boy I go with is a howl in some respect, though goodness knows girls are not chosers. (3) She thinks I am too popular and advises me to give up a few of my dates as it doesn't look right for a girl to be always on the go. I oblige her and immediately she questions: "What's wrong with you? You used to be so popular. Are the young men losing respect for you?"

Miss Dix, I do not pet, drink or smoke, but I can't please my mother. What shall I do?

DESPERATE DAUGHTER.

Answer—When a girl has that kind of a mother all that she can do is to cultivate her funnybone, and pray heaven to send her grace to be able to laugh at her mother's peevish, fretful, childish complaints instead of letting them make her miserable or bitter.

I grant you that that type of mother is a grief, and that she is hard to live with, but perhaps you will have more patience with her when you realize that the reason she takes such a distorted view of you and your friends is because she looks at everything through green spectables.

What ails her is jealousy. She is eaten up with it, and it is very common complaint among mothers. She is jealous of you. She is jealous of every boy and girl with whom you associate. She is jealous of your youth and of your good times, and this jealousy fills her with suspicions, with criticisms, with bitterness, with that cruel mania to torture the one she loves that is the most outstanding characteristic of jealousy.

Once a mother said to me: "You talk about the jealousy of lovers, the jealousy of husbands and wives, I tell you it is nothing to the jealousy that tears a mother's soul to tatters when she sees the child she loves, and who has always belonged to her, beginning to care for other people and find its pleasure away from her."

Your mother belongs to this type of selfish mother who puts her own happiness before her child's, and it is her fear that you may care more for some boy than you do for her that makes her doubt and question your love, just for the joy of having you reassure her of your devotion.

And it is her fear that you may love some boy well enough to marry him and leave her that makes her pull every boy who comes to see you to pieces, and find some fatal defect in his looks, his character or his manners. She may not realize it herself but she is trying to disillusion you, to break the spell of charm that any youth might throw about you. She is trying to prevent any possible romance that might come into your life. Many mothers by their criticisms and their ridicule of every youth their daughters associate with succeed in warding off potential love affairs. This is one answer to the question why so many attractive women, who had plenty of opportunities to marry, are old maids.

And here comes the strangest aspect of this complex mother jealousy, for mothers are not only jealous of their daughters, but they are jealous for them, as your mother shows when she does not want you to be admired and go out, and yet she is chagrined when she thinks that you are being passed over. She cannot endure the thought of your going out with young men and having pleasures in which she has no part, nor can she endure the thought that men do not find you attractive and that other girls are having a better time than you are having.

So there you are, and the only thing you can do is to laugh it off because you cannot reason with jealousy, you cannot combat it, you cannot prove that it is groundless, for it is a species of insanity. If the jealous used any intelligence they would not be jealous, and they would see that jealousy defeats its own end, for nothing kills love quicker than baseless suspicions. Nor can we be nagged into loving any one.

So laugh at your mother and jolly her a little. When a woman complains that her husband doesn't love her and her children don't love her, and that they don't appreciate all that she does for them, she doesn't really believe it. She is just fishing for compliments and making a bid for sympathy, and what she wants is to be told that they simply couldn't live without her and that she isthe dearest thing in the world. she is the dearest thing in the world. —DOROTHY DIX.

Dear Dorothy Dix—About four years ago I became engaged to a fine young woman whose family and my family are great friends. At the time I honestly and sincerely believed myself very much in love with her, but now I have met the girl who is my real mate and I know that my feeling toward the first girl was merely friendly liking. Now the question is, am I honor bound to marry this first girl because I have taken up so much of her time and because it would embarrass her before her friends for me to break off the engagement? The second girl loves me and I feel that nothing can ever alter my love for her, but I want to do the right thing in the matter. What is it?

L. K.

Answer—It seems to me that there is only one honorable and kind thing to do in the matter, and that is to break off the engagement with the girl you have ceased to love and to marry the girl you do love. That is the only thing that would bring any happiness to any one concerned.

You are naturally sorry to hurt the first girl and to cause her any humiliation, but that is your misfortune, not your fault. You have not deliberately flirted with her. You have not deceived her. You were just honestly mistaken in your feelings, and this mistake was occasioned by your never having experienced real love, and so not being able to properly analyze the sentiments you entertained toward her. Thus your conscience is clear and the girl should be broad-minded enough to realize this and to entertain no hard feelings toward you.

If she is as fine a girl as you think she is she will feel this way about it. She will realize that love is not a thing of volition, and that we are not the masters of our own hearts. By no possible effort can we force ourselves to feel toward people as we would like to feel, as it is often our duty to feel toward them. When we cease to thrill at a touch; when the kiss that used to set us on fire leaves us cold and flabby, there is absolutely nothing we can do about it. The romance is over. Finished. Done. And no human power can breathe life again into the corpse of a dead love.

And certaindly no decent woman would want to marry a man who had ceased to love her and had come to love another woman. That would be a daily and hourly torture to her. Far worse than giving him up. How could she endure living with a man knowing that he was bound to her against his will and that he was hating her because she had dragged him away from the woman he loved and wanted? How could she stand knowing that he never looked at her without wishing that another woman was in her place.

What agony to know that she could never please him, never interest him, never win more than a passive liking from him because all his thoughts, all of his heart was with another. No man, no matter how strong his moral principles, could force himself to give even an outward show of kindness to the woman he had married under coercion. Every instinct in him would reseut her tyranny and he would make her miserable not only by his lack of affection, but because he would have to be more than man not to be irritable and cross with her.

No good ever yet came of such a marriage, so why sacrifice three people to a silly and impractical ideal of duty. DOROTHY DIX.

Wichita Negro Plays Good Samaritan

But His Companion Upsets Gospel Parable

While one Wichita Falls negro exemplified the Biblical good Samaritan on the road from Dallas to this city Wednesday, the colored beneficiary of that kindness inverted another gospel parable to his own uses, all of which resulted in his apprehension by county officers here Thursday on charges of theft.

The first negro was en route by automobile from Dallas Wednesday, and volunteered a free ride to his less fortunate fellow. But the benefactor's car listed eventually as one of those which fell by the wayside, temporarily, to await repairs on the inevitable flat. As usual, the wherewithal for prompt remedies was lacking, and the owner back-tracked on foot to the nearest tire-repair station.

It was during the modern Samaritan's absence that his newfound companion, having much time for meditation, apparently remembered another parable admonishing that the needy should receive not only the cloak, but the coat as well. Acting upon that inspiration, he appointed himself recipient of coat, and with it the pants, vest, shoes, pajamas, and other parts of his benefactor's traveling wardrobe, all of which was contained conveniently in a suitcase. The loot also included a full-grown razor.

Returning with the doctored tube, and finding the object of his charity long gone with much desired property, the Samaritan dropped out of character sufficiently to hurry on into Wichita Falls, and betake himself to the county attorney. The accused will face Judge Irvin J. Vogel in the county court at law Thursday morning, it was said.

FLUSH KIDNEYS DAILY BY DRINKING 6 GLASSES WATER

Plain water best diuretic. Add a spoonful Jad Salts to first glass before breakfast to clear intestines of poisons that may pass from intestinal tract to kidneys and invite trouble.

If you have miserable pains in your back, or strained feeling, don't jump to the conclusion you have a bad kidney ailment and start dosing yourself with a lot of medicine. Plain water is the best diuretic—the best flusher of the kidneys you can find.

Drink a full glass one-half hour before breakfast to which you've added a spoonful of ordinary Jad Salts. The water will flush the kidneys. The Jad Salts will cleanse the intestines of the dangerous toxins of Systematic Poisoning which are probably the real cause of those back pains.

According to recent discoveries of able men of science, these toxins frequently pass from the lower intestines to the kidneys, causing pus formations and pain—and inviting trouble. Get them out of your system and chances are, those pains you've diagnosed as "kidney pains" will go like magic. You'll feel a general easing up, less of that horribly tired and strained feeling at your back. You'll feel more snappy and alert than perhaps for years.

You can get the Jad Salts at any corner drug store. Just ask for ordinary Jad Salts. Take as suggested above. Also drink two glasses of plain water between every two meals and at bedtime. Then if your "kidney pains" aren't completely gone in six days or less, see a good doctor. Try this simple way today. You'll be glad that you did.—Adv.

A THREE DAYS' COUGH IS YOUR DANGER SIGNAL

Coughs from colds may lead to serious trouble. You can stop them now with Creomulsion, an emulsified creosote that is pleasant to take. Creomulsion is a medical discovery with two-fold action; it soothes and heals the inflamed membranes and inhibits germ growth.

Of all known drugs creosote is recognized by high medical authorities as one of the greatest healing agencies for coughs from colds and bronchial irritations. Creomulsion contains, in addition to creosote, other healing elements which soothe and heal the inflamed membranes and stop the irritation, while the creosote goes on to the stomach, is absorbed into the blood, attacks the seat of the trouble and checks the growth of the germs.

Creomulsion is guaranteed satisfactory in the treatment of coughs from colds, bronchitis and minor forms of bronchial irritations, and is excellent for building up the system after colds or flu. Money refunded if not relieved after taking according to directions. Ask your druggist. (adv.)

CREOMULSION
FOR THE COUGH FROM COLDS THAT HANG ON

Mothers, Mix This At Home for a Bad Cough

You'll be pleasantly surprised when you make up this simple home mixture and try it for a distressing cough or chest cold. It takes but a moment to mix and costs little, but it can be depended upon to give quick and lasting relief.

Get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. Pour this into a pint bottle; then fill it with plain granulated sugar syrup or strained honey. The full pint thus made costs no more than a small bottle of ready-made medicine, yet it is much more effective. It is pure, keeps perfectly and children love its pleasant taste.

This simple remedy has a remarkable three-fold action. It goes right to the seat of trouble, loosens the germ-laden phlegm, and soothes away the inflammation. Part of the medicine is absorbed into the blood, where it acts directly upon the bronchial tubes and thus helps inwardly to throw off the whole trouble with surprising ease.

Pinex is a highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway Pine, containing the active agent of creosote, in a refined, palatable form, and known as one of the greatest healing agents for severe coughs, chest colds and bronchial troubles.

Do not accept a substitute for Pinex. It is guaranteed to give prompt relief or money refunded.

Auxiliary to Letter Carriers Entertain

Members of the Ladies Auxiliary of the National Association of Letter Carriers No. 129 entertained their husbands with a Halloween party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Henry Wednesday evening.

Lights shaded with pumpkins and other Halloween decorations were used in carrying out the spooky atmosphere. Prizes were awarded to the best looking and ugliest spook.

Following an evening spent in playing games refreshments were served to Messrs and Mesdames J. C. Tucker, L. H. Hood, R. W. Thomas, T. M. Underwood, A. B. Tarr, J. A. Roe, L. A. Waters, Alvin Sigman, Weldon Clarke, P. C. Thomas, W. S. Henry, Miss Dottie Sigman and Mr. Cooper.

Halloween Bridge Given Wednesday Eve

Autumn flowers and the black cats and orange favors of Halloween made the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Dorsey an attractive place for the Halloween bridge party given there Wednesday night.

The four tables arranged for the games were covered in vivid orange and black while score pads and tallies stressed the chosen motif.

In the games M. K. Price won the high prize given to the men and Juanita won high ladies' prize.

Halloween favors were presented the guests on the freshment plates served to Messrs. and Mesdames J. R. Greer, M. K. Price, Harris Straw, Charles J. Milliron, Bob Banner and Misses Louise Banner, Clara Krajca, Juanita Perry, Anna Krajca and Juanita Prince, and the host and hostess.

THOROUGHMAN TRIAL OPENS

Testimony Begins in Conspiracy Case

Special to The Record News

LAWTON, Okla., Oct. 30.—Throughout the day the federal courtroom was filled with interested spectators and the corridors of the courthouse jammed by men and women who had no chance to hear a word spoken in the trial of C. L. Thoroughman, former federal enforcement officer of this district and a former Yukon, Okla., minister, for conspiracy to violate the prohibition laws.

"Preacher" Thoroughman, as he was called, was captured near a still early last spring by enforcement officers. Jim Fain of Lawton is jointly charged with him.

The jury was secured late this afternoon and two government witnesses have testified. The government is building a strong case against its former representative.

'Baering' Down On The News

With ARTHUR (BUGS) BAER

Before voting for your favorite politician find out whether he is running for office or dead storage.

Remember the jails are full of lads who were elected on the reform ticket.

And that the politician who tries to be all things to all men doesn't make a bad caddy for the head keeper.

A chameleon can fake any color but white. We'll take our candidates dry. Or we will take 'em wet. But we don't want them damp.

The patron saint of politicians is the Colossus of Rhodes which was one of the seven wonders of the world because it did the greatest straddling act in history.

Shaw says Einstein is the eighth wonder. Let's make it an even dozen so we can wonder four times why campaign promises evaporate so fast in transit.

All this early 1930 electioneering is the preamble to the big 1931 barbecue.

The Democrats will look much better then. They've had a nice, long beauty sleep.

Air Officials Delay Visit to Wichita Falls

Air officials from Oklahoma City who were to have been in Wichita Falls to confer with the aviation committee of the chamber of commerce here were unable to keep the appointment Thursday, according to announcement Thursday afternoon.

The meeting was planned in an effort to re-establish air service between Wichita Falls and Tulsa and Oklahoma City. The Oklahoma officials will be here probably the first of next week, it was said.

Rotarians Hear Talk On Brick Manufacture

Methods of brick manufacture in the Wichita Falls plant of the Acme Brick company were discussed by E. G. Martin, local manager, before members of the Rotary club Thursday noon at the Kemp hotel.

Perfection of methods for using local clay in the production of dry-pressed brick was explained in detail by Mr. Martin.

Guests were introduced by Herbert Voelcker, president.

DEATHS

MRS. GEORGE ROBINSON

Mrs. George Robinson of Texola, Okla., died in a hospital here Wednesday night following a long illness.

Members of the family arrived Thursday, although funeral arrangements probably will not be made until Friday. The body is at the Hines mortuary.

Mrs. Robinson is the wife of a prominent Texola ranchman.

CONGRESS RACE IN FINAL DASH

Last Minute Broadsides Becloud Outlook

on for the first time since he moved out of the White House. He was motivated at least in part by loyalty to an old friend, William M. Butler, running again for the senate. The brief Coolidge theme, on the radio program from Springfield, was support of the Republican state ticket in particular.

Alfred E. Smith, doubtless remembering Massachusetts and Rhode Island voters preferred him to Herbert Hoover two years ago, had returned to New York after addressing his supporters in those states on behalf of the Democratic ticket. Now he's ready to continue speaking in the empire state for re-election of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt. The governor put him up for the presidential nomination at the Houston convention in 1928.

Idaho's Borah has abandoned his own campaign temporarily for a dash into Nebraska and Minnesota, there to acclaim his fellow Independent Republicans, Norris and Schall.

Claims Clash

Unless the Democrats should realize their hopes to increase their senate strength to 49, a majority, the outlook is for another senate in which such independents as Borah, Norris, and Schall hold the balance of power.

The Democrats say they expect, more than hope, to overturn the house by adding at least 53 seats to their present 165 and get the 218 that is a majority. Contrasted with this is the Republican claim they will maintain "a workable majority" in the new house, which will not meet until a year from December. The seats now Republican number 269.

Along with decision of that question, the electorate waits to find how a number of state situations will turn out. Prominent among these are the gubernatorial contests in New York and Pennsylvania and the senatorial contest in New Jersey. Two men whose campaigns have been followed particularly closely are Gifford Pinchot and Dwight W. Morrow.

Both have been mentioned as possible leaders of a national movement to defend prohibition in event that question should become an issue in 1932. And Morrow, who advocates return of liquor control to the states, has been cited as a potential leader of forces favoring repeal of the 18th amendment. He disavowed any aspirations for presidential nomination in 1932, however, coming out for re-election of Mr. Hoover.

As for chances of Democratic control of the senate, a setback was sustained yesterday by Senator Dan Steck being taken ill. Stricken in a Des Moines hotel, he was so weak he had to cancel the rest of his speeches. Iowa normally is Republican, and Steck's position already was threatened vitally by that party's nominee, L. J. Dickinson, now a representative.

Son of Wichita Couple Hurt In California Blast

Mr. and Mrs. George Hawkins, who reside at Burnett and Sixteenth streets, received word Thursday from their son, Eugene Hawkins of Los Angeles, that he had been injured in the blast about ten days ago that destroyed a 12-story Los Angeles building. Although Mr. Hawkins was across the street when the explosion occurred, he suffered a broken leg.

The son did not communicate with his parents until he had been removed from the hospital, it was said.

Merle Gruver Accepts C.-C. Post at Henderson

Merle Gruver, former secretary of the Olney chamber of commerce, visited office of the chamber of commerce here Thursday, according to John Boswell, manager.

Mr. Gruver, it was announced, was in Wichita Falls making arrangements to ship his household furnishings to Henderson, Texas, where he has accepted the chamber of commerce managership.

He was an employe of the chamber of commerce here prior to his acceptance of the position as secretary of the Olney chamber of commerce five years ago. He resigned the position at Olney to settle his father's estate at Monte Vista, Colo.

QUAKE ROCKS ITALIAN CITIES

Nearly Score Killed By Destructive Temblor

Telephone and telegraph communication was impossible and it was feared for a time heavy casualties would be reported from isolated inland towns.

This happened in the earthquake which struck last July somewhat to the south of today's disturbance, but as communication was restored and town after town reported, it appeared he heaviest damage was in Ancona and Senigallia.

Five were killed at Ancona and 50 injured. Ten dead and more than 100 injured were listed here. Not all the villages in the western part of the province of Marche, which includes Ancona, had been heard from, but it seemed certain the deaths would not exceed two-score.

Trains Operate

Airplanes were sent to reconnoiter the isolated sections and determine the extent of damage, but railway service northward from Ancona was not interrupted and trains ran slowly between Ancona and Monte Marchiano.

The epicenter of the quake was in the Adriatic sea off Senigallia and its area extended many miles along the coast, across the upper portion of the peninsula, through the Imbrian and Picenum hills, the northern range of the Apennines and on to the northward of last July's quake zone, where 1,500 perished.

Among the towns which reported damage were Arezzo, Ravenna, Fano, Frabriano, Marberata, Mondalfa, Morozzo, Grottmare, Faenza and Borazzo. Smaller villages also were hard hit and detachments of soldiers were sent to each place.

In every city and town the people dreaded to return to the buildings from which they had fled at the first shock, lest a second convulsion bring the walls toppling upon them.

It was as if some Gargantuan hand had seized the earth to shake it like a carpet. The ground heaved and billowed; walls of ancient buildings caved in on themselves and the people ran to safety in the open.

The three shocks were felt in a wide area from Trieste to Naples and Rome, but the heaviest damage was in a 25-mile semi-circle. The Adriatic boiled, but there was no tidal wave.

WORK IS DONE

Hoover to Keep Silent For Remainder Of Campaign

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (INS)—President Hoover will take no further part in the political campaign which ends next Tuesday, it was announced at the White House today.

The announcement was made to quiet rumors that Mr. Hoover was going to make an eleventh-hour appeal to the country for the election of a Republican congress. It was said he plans no such move.

MANUFACTURERS, themselves . . . designers and creators of exquisite textiles; makers of silk lingerie; of sheer stockings . . . it is these authorities who ask you to wash your fine silks in Palmolive Beads, the new soap for fine things! And their approval is seconded by a committee of 17 celebrated women who witnessed striking tests of this new soap before it was presented to the public.

Every woman knows the names of Cheney, Corticelli, Holeproof, Stehli. Lingerie and silk stockings bearing the labels of Kayser, Phoenix, Luxite, Vanity Fair and Van Raalte are included in millions of wardrobes.

Makers acclaim Palmolive Beads

These manufacturers search constantly for the best way to prolong the life and beauty of their creations. After exhaustive tests with many soaps, they have discovered Palmolive Beads!

"We recommend it for home laundering of even the most delicate washable fabrics," say Cheney Brothers.

"Palmolive Beads are the ideal soap for the cleansing of silk hosiery," so says the Holeproof Company.

Kayser exclaims enthusiastically about the way "Palmolive Beads dissolve and rinse out completely. The olive and palm oils protect sheen, lustre and fibre."

"Because they dissolve and cleanse thoroughly in water of a low temperature," Stehli approves Palmolive Beads so highly . . . and both Phoenix and Luxite call it "ideal."

What further proof could you ask that this soap is, indeed, remarkable? Only a trial in your own washbowl. Buy a package of Palmolive Beads at your dealer's today. They cost no more than old-fashioned flakes.

Typical of the slenderizing charm that characterizes Vanity Fair underthings is this brassiere and bloomer set. "We are glad to recommend Palmolive Beads," say the heads of the Vanity Fair Silk Mills.

Death Means Nothing Speaking of Panics Go Back to 1893 Catch-as-Catch-Can

By EMILE GAUVREAU

The progress of aviation, hard hit by the destruction of the R-101, and now by the crashing of two planes above Trenton, N. J., gets another spurt in the 10-day record flight of Commander Kingsford-Smith from England to Australia. He cuts the previous record by five days. Death means little in this stage of aviation's advancement.

Wall street acts like a patient revived by oxygen tanks. Much money has been put away by watchful gentlemen who will buy when they think the bottom has been reached. Those who guess right will pile up more fortunes.

Financial history repeats itself. We have been through a panic. But our blackest day was not as bad as Friday, Feb. 8, 1895, when there was but one day's supply of gold left in the United States treasury. The government has improved since that day, but there are more gamblers today. And those are the people who have suffered the most.

This has been a mild zephyr compared with 1893, when 15,000 houses went under. There were 158 national bank failures, trade was prostrated, credit shattered, agriculture depressed. Social unrest had almost reached the point of anarchy. Truly we are improving.

Interesting note in physical culture, carried all over the country by an important press association, and which might be headed, "How to keep from growing old." Elsie Janis, once a great stage success, wrestles at her home with Ramon Novarro, film star. "I was about ready to claim victory when Mr. Novarro gave his body a slight twist and my shoulder slipped out of place," says Miss Janis, explaining why her arm is in a sling.

This edifying spectacle indicates the weaker sex strives without letup to overcome its deficiencies.

The publication of General Pershing's war memoirs, a dozen years after the event, will be considered timely enough by all those who take H. G. Wells' prophecy to heart. The menace of another world conflict will make Pershing's "confessions" interesting reading.

Half the things that took place behind closed doors between 1914-1918 are still unrevealed—as witness the Wilson near-break with Berlin in 1916, the acrimonious debate with Great Britain over sea rights, etc., just made known for the first time by the state department.

The people, it seems, supposed to be the rulers of this democracy, have to be satisfied with the "bones" thrown at them by elected overlords. Those who fight, it stands to reason, have a right to know what they are fighting for. It is more patriotic not to fight where secret diplomacy dictates the policy of a free country.

Two Durant Men File $10,000 Libel Suits

DURANT, Okla., Oct. 30. (UP)—Two libel suits asking $50,000 each were filed in the Bryan county district court today by Jule Hicks and O. A. Brewer, who have been identified with the candidacy of W. H. Murray for governor.

The suits ask damages from the Oklahoma Press Publishing company, publishers of the Muskogee Phoenix and Times-Democrat, for printing an alleged libelous story about alleged diversion of funds from the Democratic campaign fund in the interest of Murray's primary campaign.

BETHLEHEM INCOME

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—The Bethlehem Steel corporation today reported third quarter net income of $3,783,425 against $7,691,495 for the previous three months period, and $11,384,720 in the September, 1929, quarter.

Mrs. Joe Kits has a brother that's lived in Chicago almost a year without a scratch. The weather man hits it nearly twice as often as the prosperity forecaster.

Knute Rockne, Notre Dame coach, is to open a broker's office in South Bend. He's in for a good business if he's as bullish with points as his team.

Add embarrassing moments: the situation which confronted the two Japanese admirals when their cruisers collided in maneuvers staged especially for the Mikado recently.

The latest indoor miniature golf course to open in Chicago is illuminated by ultra violet ray lamps. Well, now, that puts a different complexion on the game.

Facts for Taxpayers and Road Builders

TEXAS Highways is a trade magazine issued monthly in the city of Dallas "for the development of Texas." Its October number has been received. Its editor speaks highly of D. K. Martin of San Antonio, the new member of the state highway commission by appointment by Gov. Dan Moody. For instance: "We congratulate the people of Texas upon this happy appointment. We doubt whether a better fitted man for the position could have possibly been secured." Texas Highways carries a column with this caption, "Do You Know That?" . . . These things are there:

"If the Texas highway department had $50,000,000 right now it could be very well utilized to meet the demands for new bridge construction alone; that is for bridges in the main in need of replacement at the present time and as time goes on this demand for the bridges becomes greater as the hazards increase and that highways are not much good without good bridges and without bridges no good at all.

"That all motor registrations in Texas for the year 1918 was less than $275,000, that the total fees collected covering the share that went to the state highway department was less than $2,000,000, that for the year 1929 the total registrations for all classes of motor vehicles was 1,376,433 and that this is an increase of 500 per cent covering an 11-year span of years.

"That the license plates bought for 1918 cost the state more than the 1931 license plates will cost, the number of plates being purchased for 1931 being about five times as great but the cost per pair of plates will be about one-sixth as much as the 1918 costs.

"That a recent survey made by the Cornell university agricultural experiment station to determine what effect road conditions had on the economic life of rural communities show that on hard-surfaced roads farmers possessed more motor trucks than those on gravel and dirt roads, that of the farmers on the hard-surfaced roads only 12 per cent showed any loss in marketing but on gravel roads this percentage was 25 per cent and on dirt roads the percentage was 6.7 per cent.

"That farm relief can be obtained in a large measure with more and better roads in more ways than one and for more reasons than one" is the conclusion of the Texas Highways magazine responsible for the Do You Know That—information herewith given readers of this newspaper.

No Delinquent Taxes

REPRESENTATIVE A. P. JOHNSON of Carrizo Springs will introduce into the forty-second legislature bills providing for the "abolition of delinquent taxes," a workmen's compensation law for state employes and the most stringent lobbying law. His third proposal will make life interesting for members of the third house and the third house membership will crowd the big hotels and the little hotels and many of the exclusive boarding houses. Representative Johnson admits a constitutional mendment will be necessary to effect the changes in handling delinquent taxes. In other words he proposes to "avoid delinquent taxes by not permitting the accumulation of the same." Hence he would sweep all delinquent taxes from the book and never permit any to be added after the sweeping process had been a success. In other words, he would adopt the Louisiana plan. His argument is "not a parish in the state of Louisiana has a dollar of delinquent taxes and that is as it should be, and as I would have it in Texas." More dynamite for the lawmakers; more dynamite for the third house; more copy for the newspapers; more sport for the governor.

Pick and Shovel Age

MINNEAPOLIS city officials have assembled a list of a million dollars worth of needed public improvements and will rotate jobs among the unemployed, giving part time work to an estimated 10,000 or 15,000 men. Picks and shovels instead of machinery will be used. There are no bread lines or soup kitchens in Detroit, an automobile center, and yet there are 83,500 persons who have registered with municipal agencies as being idle.

Records show the majority have so far been able to support themselves and family without appealing to charity. Regardless of all this Mayor Murphy of Detroit says out of this army of unemployed humanity the recognized relief agencies now are supporting 15,000 families and 1,000 single persons. He reminded a reporter that "Detroit workmen have learned to expect adverse conditions and most of them deposit in savings banks to build a reserve to tide them over." A wage earner who fails to provide a reserve is a wage earner who is pinched when a slump comes and this applies to workers in country as well as in city.

Keep the Dollars Moving

GOVERNOR MOODY proclaimed business revival week, acting in concert with governors of southwestern and midwestern states. Governor Moody asked all the people of Texas to buy needed things, put money in circulation and keep the money in continuous interchange. Revival week was sponsored by Lions International in an effort to start an upward trend in business activity. It will open soon in Wichita Falls.

Turn the dollars loose and keep them moving. They speak louder than all the spellbinders and all the prophets and writers of the period! Money is the loudest of all talkers. It has been the loudest since it was invented.

Portrait of a Man Talking to Himself

Funny how some people react to various things...That old cynic, Sime of Variety, was saying that he encountered over 30 people one day who told him they intensely disliked me—until I started paragraphing about Walda and Gloria. ...Which is a heluva reason to switch your opinion of a guy you've intensely disliked personally...The big sentimentalists!...I told Sime how every time I wrote about my sugar pies, two morns later the mail was choked with affectionate letters from all types of readers—mothers, fathers, grandfolks, chorines, business executives and others, who applauded the items about the kids...But how some others would write and tell me that those items made them sick and would I cease?...Too bad about those people...I will continue writing about Walda and Gloria, not only to keep making those readers ill, but because it brings me closer to my pussycats—two of the most important reasons I have to keep working—when my desire is to do a Crater ...For a week, at least...Or a month, maybe...Not that I am tired Of It All, either...I'm not tired...I want more than 20 minutes once a week—to play grocer boy with Walda, and hear her seriously say: "Please, grocer boy, bring me some noodle shoop for my chillun, an' some bibs for my babies, an' some tahtoos," which happens to mean potatoes...I want more than 20 minutes a week to fondle her while she still is a baby—and get that kick out of trying to translate her baby talk—and have Gloria, the most angelic Gloria, tell me that the only boy she likes is me...You can't dash into Childs at 46th, when they're having their dinnee, and grab a moment with your babies—and ask them if they are happy—or if they are having a good dinnee—or howz things?—and then dash out again to make the new play in time...The hell with the new plays—and all the soandsos that go with the racket...Those hostesses at Childs must think I'm a fine daddy...I feel ashamed every time I walk in there..."What kind of a father is that?" they probably ask themselves..."He comes in, pets them a little, and then rushes away!"...Sure he rushes away...If you get your copy in late you get a piece of an alleged mind, that's what you get... What do you think we are running here—a paper just for you?...For what then?—I feel like shouting back...But I mustn't shout anything back. I used to shout a lot back...You stop shouting, or go nuts about matters—when they make it worth your while...When they make it worth your while—you titter at everything—everything seems so trivial...The devil with this and that...Look at that baby face on the wall...Is that a sweet face or is that a sweet face?...She seems so sad in that photo..."Why you no come to see you baby in she apart-ment?"...I can hear her saying over and over again...It makes me miserable...What an ache in my heart the other day when I thought I would miss them returning to the hotel from Childs ...I didn't know whether to take 46th street from 8th or 45th...I wasn't sure which route they used ...But I did meet them coming home, and what fun!...Those taxi drivers who saw us must have thought I was nuts...But I am nuts!...How can you be anything but nuts and neglect your babies for this?...A mag wants an interview, Ruth tells me...They would like also to interview the bride... Huh-huh...They'd better not get anywhere near June...That's my biggest worry—having any interviewer get near June...June would love that...She would like to spill plenty about "success"..."When you were making $25 a week and we had one room and no bath on 47th St. it was heaven!" she said the other day...Of course it wasn't heaven, at all...It was terrible, that's what it was...How the deuce can you be happy on $25 a week? ...To her, however, it was plenty jolly...No children—just June and me...Delicatessen from the joint near the Somerset, and a large container of coca cola and sweet pickles...I didn't know Broadway existed then—even though it is a half a block away...Used to get up at 8 to be at Vaude News office by 9...Some fun, eh, June?... Say! That was a pretty important job, at that, lemme tell you... Wasn't I working for Albee?... Albee!...What a power he was... He's six feet deep today and show business keeps going on, anyhow ...That's what June keeps saying ..."If you really care anything about the three of us you'd do something about it!"..."But I can't do anything about it," I say back. "If I do not hustle around tonight for the next paragraph, then what? Don't you see, honey? Paragraphs! Things! Stuff! To keep them from saying things. If I start getting careless, where is the coin coming from to pay for those fancy skirts, and your dressy boots, and those combinations, and those baby coats with the 'pusy feathers' on Walda's collar, and the very 'smart' and fancy 19-dollar dresses for Gloria and so forth?"...And now look at Ray Long, of Cosmopolitan. He's mad, I think. He's mad because I had an appointment with him the other day at 4 and I couldn't make it. I swore a long time ago I'd never make appointments. Long probably thinks I was giving him some top-hat stuff. But I wasn't ...I tried to go to sleep a little earlier. So what happened? I was just about to fall off when I realized that my radio stuff was only half done, and those dopes up there probably would delete a few paragraphs at the last moment, and what would I do for material if I didn't think up some right then? Well, three hours later I played dead, and when I got up there was just enough time left to read proof and make the radio station. So Mr. Long probably thinks I didn't think he was important enough to keep an appointment with him... Oh, I am so weary of remembering what people not to offend. Keefe was saying how he, too, gets that longing to tell certain people who get on his nerves that they do get on his nerves, and Keefe was saying, also, that being nice to people you really don't give a damn about is what makes you die young...But you mustn't be rude to people... Why mustn't you be rude to people?...What if you are rude to people?.So they quit talking to you! ...Now isn't that a shame—they quit talking to you...That is why Miss Guinan is in the hospital—that, and a misplaced vertebrae, because of a careless osteopath or chiro...Texas is always being nice to people, until she feels like choking...She'd better be careful herself and not do a Jack Donahue, that's what Tex better be careful about...Didn't her physician tell her brother that he couldn't handle her and that her nerves are pretty shot?...They all imagine Tex is a happy woman—no cares or problems—if they only knew!...That maniac who nearly smashed a cabload of people to death at 49th and 7th at 1:15 yesterday morning with his crazy driving is lucky the cops on the beat were asleep at the time. ...A Cadillac sedan it was, numbered 2V176...You can't drive machines in heavy traffic carefully, and try to pick up heavy-hipped things at the same time...Dot Parker would dismiss it with: "Aw, excuse his lust!"...Excuse nothing!...He probably hasn't any children or anyone depending upon him for support...I don't want to shove off because of some bum's carelessness...I want a few more years' time yet—so I can get enough practice at columning to learn how to throw anything into type and be two weeks in advance like the experts do it...Then, perhaps, I will find time to play grocer boy with Walda, and let her ride horseback on my back the way I see fathers do in the movies...I want scribed when he said Paradise was a place where parents are always a snatch of what Victor Hugo de-young, and the children always little

HEARTBREAK GIRL

By ROB EDEN • • •

Gail Stuart, befriended by Nick Walther, wealthy Hollywood man, fails when he gets a screen test for her. She becomes secretary to Carla Cross, the star, who hopes to marry Walther. By a white lie, Gail gets Ross Hardy, her fiance, a chance as Carla's leading man. Carla, driving with Hardy, runs over a woman. Gail assumes the blame when both Ross and Carla urge her to save the star's career. Nick, through his political influence, finally gets Gail off with a reprimand. Ross refuses to take the girl to the opening of his first picture, explaining he must go with Carla. The picture is a big success, but Gail is heartbroken. At home she overhears Ross making love Carla—telling her he loves her.

CHAPTER XXI

The package was out of Gail's hands. Tensely she watched the postman walk slowly over the lawn, his mail sack over his shoulder. He had tucked in the small bundle mechanically after the girl had given it to him. As if it were not important at all. Only part of his day's mail.

Her finger felt strange without the ring, for she had become used to it by this time. It was a part of herself. Now it was gone—back, to Ross. He'd write, or phone or do something when he got it. He couldn't help that. He'd say she should have kept it . . .

After last night she couldn't. After hearing him tell Carla he loved her. Memory of that scene on the porch brought back all the ache she had suffered through the night. Brought it back more poignantly than ever. Ross loving Carla. Wanting her. She loving Ross. Carla—did Carla love Ross, too? She had acted like it last night. Hard to tell about Carla, though. Perhaps she did love Ross.

Carla's beauty, her fame—they had drawn Ross. Made him forget. He was just a boy, blind to everything but himself.

Gail tiptoed quietly into Carla's boudoir. The yellow tea roses were in a big vase on a table. Buds no longer. Great blooming flowers. Yellow as Carla's hair. She was staring at them, seeing not the blossoms but dozens of Carlas in the bouquet when Mary whispered to her that the actress was not yet awake.

"She'll sleep late."

Tired

The girl left the room softly. Why did she feel so queer? So tired? As if she had lost something that was vital to her? The pain that stabbed her now and then bringing back the memory of last night—the porch. It was a pain, a physical pain. Could love do that? If she could only talk to Ross . . . make him see . . .

Mrs. Cross was alone in the sunny breakfast room when she went in, her glasses on, bending over the theater criticisms in the morning papers.

Gail said good morning, and picked up her spoon to eat the grapefruit in front of her. Laid it down again because she had no appetite.

"Carla will be annoyed this morning," Mrs. Cross remarked not taking her eyes from the paper. She was reading slowly, painstakingly, her lips moving as she read.

"Why?"

"Have you read the reviews of the picture?"

"No."

"Well, Carla will think they give too much praise to Ross. They do! He doesn't deserve that much. After all Carla was the whole picture —everything."

Gail took the paper Mrs. Cross had already read and skimmed through the review of "Crossroads." The reviewer had been fair to Carla, but went into ecstasies over Ross Hardy. "A new face in films . . . Hardy will go far . . . by far the finest performance this reviewer has seen for a long time . . . with good direction Hardy will soon be the leading male actor in Hollywood . . . a boy but he does a finished piece of acting . . . Carla Cross was wise in her choice of a leading man this time, for Hardy has made 'Crossroads' one of the outstanding films of the year . . ."

"Won't Carla be mad?" Mrs. Cross looked up. Gail thought she saw a flicker of fear in the woman's face.

"The Times is wrong," she continued. "It says that Ross stole the picture."

Praise Means Everything

Gail took the Times. It was true. The reviewer was even more enthusiastic than the Examiner. Was Ross reading the criticisms now, too? Was he gloating over them? Ross had had his chance, and made good.

The girl was thinking of something Sarah Morton had said to her recently. That Hollywood either praised or didn't praise. There was no middle course. Praise meant everything.

Ross was made now. Nothing to worry about. A good break, and he had come through.

What if she hadn't phoned to Max Brackett that day? Lied to him that she was speaking for Carla Cross? What would have happened to Ross, then? Probably he would still be an extra, pawning his watch.

Then, too, Sarah had said something else, and Sarah spoke from experience. "When you go up, you go like a rocket. Nothing can stop you. You have to look out about this time, and be careful. I wasn't. That's why I slipped. But I know better this time. I won't slip again."

Sarah in the reviews had come in for her share of praise. Gail was glad. She liked the dark haired actress who had once been at the top of the Hollywood ladder. She knew what it meant to her to be mentioned prominently in a picture again.

"You're either in or you're out," Sarah had said. "If you're in, you're lucky, but you don't realize it. Hollywood spoils people quicker

"You should have cut Ross down, Max. It wasn't right, playing him up so much."

Answers to Questions

By FREDERIC J. HASKIN

What is your question? Whatever it may be, unless it be a request for legal, medical, or financial advice, it will be answered without cost to you, and you will receive the reply in a personal letter. Write your question clearly and briefly, enclose two-cent stamp for return postage, and address the Record News Information Bureau, Frederic J. Haskin, Director, Washington, D. C.

A.—William Christianman was the first man buried and is interred in grave No. 19, near the Ord Gate.

Q.—How long has The Green Pastures been running in New York? —S. L.

A.—On Oct. 11 the play completed its 32nd week and 261st performance. The length of its run is still undetermined.

Q.—Where is the carriage in which Josephine drove away when she finally parted from the emperor?—S. W.

A.—"L'Opale," as the carriage was called, is still on show at Malmaison.

Q.—What man carries the heaviest life insurance in this country?—N. B.

A.—Pierre S. DuPont of Wilmington, Del., with policies aggregating seven million dollars, heads the latest list of persons carrying heavy life insurance.

Q.—Did Bobby Jones win the American amateur golf championship before he won the American open?—J. H. T.

A.—Jones first won the American amateur in 1924, the year following his first victory in the American open.

Q.—Where did the British Press association known as Reuters get its name?—J. F.

A.—Reuters, the principal British and International News agency, took its name from Baron Julius de Reuter who founded it about 80 years ago.

Q.—What became of the Harding dog, Laddie Boy?—M. S.

A.—The late Mrs. Harding gave Laddie Boy to a secret service man stationed in Boston. The dog died about a year ago last January. He was considered by far the most famous pet to have been in the White House and certainly the most loved.

Q.—What are the names of the satellites of Jupiter and Neptune? —J. C. S.

A.—Jupiter has nine moons or satellites, four of which are named as follows: Io, Europa, Ganymede, and Callisto. Neptune has one moon named Triton, but it is generally referred to as the satellite of Neptune.

Q.—Why is the passion flower thus named?—J. W. H.

A.—It received its name from imaginative persons among the first Spanish settlers in America, who pictured in the flower a representation of the Lord's passion. The filamentous processes were supposed to represent the crown of thorns, the three styles the nails of the cross and the five anthers the marks of the wound.

Q.—Is it possible to build a house that will be practically noise proof in a great city like New York?—C. W.

A.—Dr. E. E. Free, a recognized authority, says: "A family can have a quiet house within a hundred yards of the noisiest street corner in New York and it will cost no more to build it than an ordinary noisy house will cost. Noise, indeed, is even easier to keep out of a properly built house than rain or sewer gas."

Q.—Did any French Huguenots settle in North Carolina?—S. E. E.

A.—The first settlers on the Pamlico river were Huguenots, who came southward from Virginia about 1690. Archdale and later Bath counties were erected to meet their governmental needs. They settled the town on the south bank of Pamlico river, which was incorporated in 1705 as Bath. Likewise, about 1700, the earliest settlers on the Neuse river were Huguenots from Mannikintown, Va. The Huguenost played a less conspicuous part in early North Carolina than in South Carolina and even Virginia.

Q.—How long after the Y. M. C. A. was organized did the Y. W. C. A. come into existence?—G. G.

A.—The Y. M. C. A. was first organized in London, England, in 1844. The association movement was originated by a young man who came to live in the city from the country. The first American association was organized in Boston, 1851, upon the model of that already existing in London. The Y. W. C. A. dates from the year 1855, when Miss Emma Roberts formed the English Prayer union and Mrs. Arthur Kinnaid opened at London the General Female Home and Training institute, equipped with library, Bible classes and employment bureau. The first organization of this kind in the United States was the Ladies' Christian association of New York City in 1858.

The Record News Offers A New Booklet, The Fifteenth Census

This is the first publication in booklet form of the population figures of the 1930 census, giving the population of continental United States and of the detached territories over which the American flag flies. The population is given by states, with the 200 leading cities in the order of their rank, and with all cities of 2,500 or over. All the figures are compared with the 1920 census.

The figures have been compiled from the preliminary announcements of the census bureau and are subject to revision. However, they are virtually final and official, for comparatively few changes are being made.

This is an invaluable booklet for school and office. Send 10 cents today for your copy, using this coupon.

QUARANTINE ON BIRDS LIFTED

Parrot Import Ban Dropped By Government

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (AP)—The quarantine against parrots, in effect since January 24, was lifted today by the public health service.

Under strict sanitary regulations which, it is believed, will guard against further outbreaks of psittacosis, such as occurred last holiday season, the parrots again will be allowed to enter America's pet shops.

Shipments will be restricted to a maximum of 100 birds, in sanitary crates of not more than 10 birds each, allowing one cubic foot of space per bird. At each port of entry, a 15-day period of detention under observation of a quarantine officer will be required. Parrots excluded from entry will be deported at once.

Individual privately owned parrots, which have been under observation before importation, will not be detained. Such parrots have been allowed to enter for several months.

HEARTBREAK GIRL

than any other place in the world. People forget so easily what they've been before they were famous. I did. I was a cash girl in a store before I made the grade, and I forgot it. I'm remembering now, but I'm wishing I remembered when I had everything my way. I'm 27 now. No, I know I don't look it—I look about 19. You may think it's too late to start again, but it isn't. It's never too late in Hollywood."

Look Ahead

Why was she thinking of Sarah now? And the things Sarah said? Because of Ross? She wished that she had confided to Sarah about Ross. Sarah would have understood.

"You've got to look ahead in Hollywood, my dear. If you don't you are lost. You think when you're making big money that you'll always make big money. Forever. But you won't. You're asleep while you're making the big money—so asleep that you spend it all, and then you wake up when it's gone. I did. I was earning more than Carla—Five thousand dollars a week two years ago. I spent it—all. And I've nothing to show for it. I'm saving part of my salary now. I get only five hundred now, but it seems a lot to me, because I had a terrible time for a year. Not a part. No work."

Gail knew that Carla, too, spent all of her salary. Was everybody the same in Hollywood? Spending all they earned? Never looking toward the future?

Would I be that way, too? The girl puzzled over the problem, as she folded up the paper.

Mary came into the breakfast room for the papers. Carla had asked for them she said. Mrs. Cross handed them to her hesitantly and looked inquiringly at Gail.

"Are you going up?"

"Why, yes."

"I don't think I'll go this morning—" Mrs. Cross knew her daughter's attitude when reviews of her pictures were not so good for herself. She preferred to keep away on these mornings.

As Gail went through the hall, she ran into Max Brackett. He was all smiles, as he started up the stairs with her.

"Great reviews, weren't they?" For all the papers had lauded his direction.

Carla was sitting up in bed when they entered her bedroom, her blond hair spread over the many pillows at her back, a filmy chiffon jacket over her shoulders. She was sipping her coffee, and took the papers from Gail in silence. The girl saw a frown gather on her forehead, saw the red lips purse up tightly. Impatiently she pushed her coffee further over on the filigreed gold tray which held the individual service.

Carla Angry

"Fine reviews, Carla," Max said, his finger in his vest. He was sitting on one of the fragile French chairs, his big frame filling it to capacity.

Carla said nothing, but the frown deepened. Carefully she read the first review, then the second.

"Well?" Max asked when she looked up, and savagely reached for a cigaret. She stabbed a match on the tray and blew it out fiercely.

"I don't see what you see so fine in them, Max. They certainly don't give me a lot." Scorn in her voice. The white hand that lifted the cigaret to her lips was trembling.

"Gives the picture a lot, Mr. Werber phoned me this morning. He is tickled to death. It'll make a lot of money for him."

"You should have cut Ross down, Max. It wasn't right playing him up so much."

"Part demands that Ross is in almost every sequence. We discussed that at the time."

"Yes, but you should have played me up more—" her voice rose until it was almost a cry.

"Don't get temperamental, Carla. You know the picture is good. Without Ross, it would have been mediocre. See the direction end for once. Ross did a fine job."

"I shan't have him for a leading man any more, Max. I won't stand this! It's ridiculous, praising a boy who has never had a big part before. Praising him above a star! I tell you I won't play in another picture with him! And that's final!" She stamped out the cigaret and glared at Max. Max was urbane. Nothing could dampen his glow this morning. Hadn't Mr. Werber phoned early this morning, gotten him out of bed in fact, to tell him how fine "Crossroads" was?

"Well, you won't have to, Carla. Won't have to play again with Ross. Mr. Werber told me this morning in view of his fine acting Ross was to be featured in his next picture."

TROOPS TRAIL HEAD HUNTERS

Rampaging Savages Kill 86 Japanese

TOKYO, Oct. 30.—A tribe of head-hunting savages which went on a rampage and killed at least 86 Japanese in central Formosa was being hunted in the jungles and mauntain fastneases of that island today by 2,000 soldiers and police.

The punitive expedition, commanded by Major General Kamata, faced the handicap of operating in tropical rains but evidenced a determination to track down the savages and prevent an repetition of the massacre.

Troops occupying Musha, the village in which the killings occurred Monday, found the savages had decapitated their victims and had taken the heads as trophies.

The Japanese force occupied the town last night only after it had beaten off two savage attacks. Six airplanes from Heito flew over the area and bombed various savage camps with uncertain effect. Statements from neighboring tribes indicated the principal grievance of the rebels was the corvee, or forced labor, on roads and other public works under Japanese direction. Pay for this work is little or nothing.

Veteran Metropolitan Newspaperman Dies

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Romolo A. Fanciulli, 45, for many years a newspaper man in Washington and New York, died last night. During the last three years he has been editor of The Winged Foot, a magazine published by the New York Athletic club. He was a son of the late Francesco Fanciulli, composer, musical director and conductor of the United States Marine band.

Business Slump Proves Adequate Defense for Defendant in Court

KANSAS CITY, Kan., Oct. 30. (AP)—Recognizing business depression as a defense, Judge E. L. Fischer refused in Wyandotte county district court here today to sentence a man to the penitentiary on his plea of guilty of wife and child desertion and advocated an "alimony farm" as one of the greatest needs of the state.

Cyril M. Stillson, former army captain, pleaded guilty 30 days ago to abandoning his wife, Mrs. Gertrude Stillson, a former high school teacher, and their two children. His attorney pleaded today that Stillson was without employment and thus unable to pay $5 a week for support of his family.

"I am not going to send this man to the penitentiary," Judge Fischer said. "I believe that if this man could find employment he would provide for his wife and children. He certainly can not provide for them in the penitentiary, and he can not seek work from there."

The case was continued to Nov. 24, and if Stillson can show he is still unable to find work sentence will be suspended again.

Vernon to Welcome Baptist Association

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 30.—The Elliott Baptist church will be host to the Wilbarger-Foard Baptist association worker's council at the next monthly meeting, Nov. 25, according to arrangements made at the October meeting of the association held at the Crowell church.

The association voted to send teams of workers to the group of churches in the organization, which do not have regular pastors, to speak on the missionary program of the church at the regular Sunday services Nov. 2 and 9. Collections for state missions will be conducted at these churches. The council voted to follow this plan at a business session held during the afternoon at the meeting with Rev. E. F. Lyon of Vernon, moderator, presiding.

Expense of operating the 48 state governments is twice that of 1917.

Pioneer Pastor Sues Spouse for Divorce

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 30. (UP)—Dr. W. H. B. Urch, pioneer Oklahoma pastor, sued Mrs. Barbara Schlabach Urch for divorce in district court today. He charged abandonment.

The couple was married Aug. 31, 1928 in Santa Monica, Calif., shortly after he had given up his pastorate of the Central Presbyterian church here to move to Pasadena, Calif.

Dr. Urch had been a minister in Oklahoma more than 50 years, having served 25 years in pastorates here.

DRAIN FILL

Colder days will soon be here. The oil you used this summer should not be expected to fully protect your engine, any more than light summer clothing should be expected to protect you in the frosty days to come. Besides, that oil may have been exposed to considerable wear and mileage—enough to render it less than completely effective.

Fill with the correct winter grade of the new Texaco Motor Oil—longer-lasting, crack-proof. Every Texaco dealer has an accurate chart which shows exactly the grade for your car. Alert, free-flowing at zero, this revolutionary new golden motor oil will reduce winter engine wear to a minimum.

then..

LISTEN

HEAR the difference before you feel it at the wheel. "How," you ask, "can this new Texaco make so much difference in the sound of my engine?" Because it is full-bodied and crack-proof! The new Texaco protects thoroughly, completely, from the first cold thrust of flashing pistons to the last mile of a long fast drive. It is free from all cold-sensitive impurities—free from all hard-carbon-forming elements.

Drain and refill with the correct winter grade of the new Texaco Motor Oil today—then listen! Remember, that new quietness means more than better daily performance. It means that in the crankcase of your engine is a tougher, longer-lasting motor oil that cuts dollars from your lubrication expense and adds miles to the life of your car. Yessir, Them Were the Days of Real Halloween Pranks and Parties

Wichita Falls Residents Recall Chills, Thrills and Laughs on Witches' Night

never have been Halloween at all without spooks. Mrs. Carrigan remembers one year when Seth Mayfield appeared in a particularly impressive costume. In some manner he had contrived to fix a mask out of a skull, and with the aid of phosphorous around the various openings, presented a gruesome sight in the Halloween darkness.

The program of activities was not markedly different from the present time, according to several persons who are willing to recount their experiences. There was usually a party of some kind, similar to those of today. Refreshments consisted of autumn harvest fruits, apple cider, pumpkin pie, and nuts. And there was generally a fortune teller, who by devious and numerous devices was able to forecast the future.

In the absence of a planned party, hobgoblins, ghosts, witches and their ilk gathered as soon as darkness came and the lamps were lit, and with extreme caution mapped out plans for the evening's activities. Tick-tacking, doorbell ringing, the occasional removal of a gate in the days of fences; and before the coming of the automobiles, the removal of buggy wheels.

William Huff tells an amusing story concerning one Halloween which he remembers. It was a fine night, and with perfectly working plans a group of boys removed the wheel from a buggy belonging to Joseph Hund who had a farm nearby at that time. But there was only one difficulty. The boys were caught, and at the point of a buggy whip, according to Mr. Huff, they recovered and replaced the missing wheel. Another trick which Mr. Huff recalls was one which is still common: Ringing door bells by means of sticking a toothpick alongside the bell button. Of course, he explained, the bell would ring until someone came out and removed the toothpick.

Mrs. Carrigan's Buggy

But concerning buggies, Mrs. Carrigan remembers one even better than that, because in her story the whole buggy disappeared. It seems that at the time of her reference, the old city standpipe stood on the lot just in back of her girlhood home at the corner of Tenth and Austin. And of course, according to Mrs. Carrigan, it was an extremely unpopular sight to them. But it evidently appealed to the spirit of the practical jokers, for on the following morning of that particular Halloween, someone had drawn her father's buggy partially up the standpipe. And there it hung.

Halloween here as elsewhere has always been a time of great celebration. It is supposed to be the one night of all the year when spirits are able to gather and hold high holiday. And it is the night of all the year when the curious are able to find out about the future, according to folklore and common practise. At parties frequently, young ladies are requested to walk downstairs backwards with a mirror in one hand; and if fate and the Halloween spirits are kind she may catch a fleeing glimpse of her future mate. According to song and story, merrymakers throughout the Christian world celebrate the day in similar fashion. Although the game "All Hallows Eve" is derived from the following day which is All Hallows Day, or All Saints Day, a religious festival there is nothing churchly about the Halloween activities. It is probably a pagan relic or some bit of mediaeval superstition, which is celebrated to the autumn harvest. Some people have thought that it may be due to the custom of praying for departed saints on All Hallows Day which has given rise to the belief that on Halloween, the spirits both of dead and living beings can always leave the body and walk abroad. But that is a matter of conjecture. It has always been regarded as a time when supernatural influences prevail and eerie spirits of the invisible world are allowed to gather.

It seems clearly allied with the German Walpurges night, the witch festival on the summit of the Brocken in the Hartz mountains held in the spring of the year. The celebration of All Saints Day was formerly held at this time also, and it is considered possible that much of the witch idea was transferred to the autumn date when All Saints day was changed in the Christmas calendar.

Nutcrack Night

One of the most astounding things about the celebration of Halloween in Scotland is the belief which the peasants have in the charms' efficacy. The night there as in southern England is called Nutcrack night, due to the fact that so many nuts are cracked by the people trying to learn the identity of their future mates.

According to Robert Burns poem, "Halloween," two nuts are named and then thrown into the fire. When the shells burst, it can be told by the direction of their falling whether those two individuals will be affinities are not. And this is only one of a dozen means by which the canny Scots can divine their fate.

And one of the most common devices for learning one's future mate at Halloween time in local circles has always been the "salt test." When the marriage pixies are about, if a young lady follows directions closely she will be permitted to look upon the face of her future mate in her dreams, this one night of all the year.

At bed time, she must eat a small quantity of salt, and then go to bed without quenching her thirst. If luck is with her, the Halloween spirits will bring her a dream of her future husband; and he will bring her a cup of water in the dream.

One point which has been considered important is the composition of the cup he carried. If it was gold or silver and set with precious stones, he would be wealthy. But if he bore a cup of tin or some modest vessel, his state in life was surely lowly. Proud indeed were the title girls who could report a dream of golden goblets on the day following the salt test.

And so with Halloween at hand again, and small folks all agog with anticipation, it is interesting to some people to look back and realize that it is quite probable that for two thousand years and more, Halloween revelers have been dancing in the light of bon fires built to keep the powers of evil in the distance.

AMERICA'S BIGGEST SELLER!

Never Ending Search

For better ways to cut food prices

As food merchant to a nation, A&P bears a responsibility greater than that demanded of a mere trader in food. Selling food to great numbers of families involves the well-being of millions of people. Reducing the nation's food bill calls for more than the slashing of grocery prices.

It calls for everlasting watchfulness for better methods of food growing and producing, of shipping, of handling and storing, of marketing and retailing food—command of every invention and every means known to man for assisting the flow of food from its sources to the store counter.

Because A&P assumes the entire task of bringing food from producer to consumer, its responsibility to the public is greater than if it performed but a small part. Its search for better methods must be never-ending. Its way of lowering the cost of food to the consumer must be the best.

A&P makes food prices low by the best methods of Today. A&P will keep food prices low by the best methods of Tomorrow.

MERCHANTS TO MEET TODAY

Retailers to Draft Plans For Part in Trade Revival

Awker, Walter S. Curlee, J. B. Marlow.

J. C. Mytinger, chairman of the general committee, was unable to push through some plans Thursday because of the fact some whom he desired to see were out of the city. Chairman Mytinger is confident that the plans will be fully completed for the campaign before Saturday.

School Enrollment Gains

All committee members are receiving encouragement from the citizenship and some merchants are reporting that there is greater activity in reconditioning homes than for many months. The information released by public school authorities that the enrollment in the public schools is higher now than the same date a year ago, was considered as a real index as to the city's welfare. Reports have gone out that the population is in recession but the school figures tell a different story.

Dr. J. W. Cantwell, city superintendent of schools, stated that present enrollment in pupils from seven years through high school grades is 41 greater than the same time a year ago, two months previous to the period of the nationwide business depression. There are now enrolled 7,354 pupils in the above classification. Last year the number was 7,345.

In the six-year classification there is a much larger gain than for the same period during last year. This is attributed to the fact that a tuition charge was made last year and this year these pupils are of scholastic age. Last year there were enrolled 407. This year the number is 764, a gain of 357.

Enrollment of Junior college has declined, attributed to the higher tuition rate which was made effective this year. The figures are 251 last year and 174 for 1930.

Labor Officials Interested

Chairman Mytinger has also received a communication from a representative of the Labor council, who expressed pleasure that a united effort is to be made in Wichita Falls for the benefit of employment and business. Labor is pledged to do all within its power to make the campaign a success.

Property owners, professional and industrial leaders, bankers and oil men are enthused over the plans and have promised both moral and financial support in the movement.

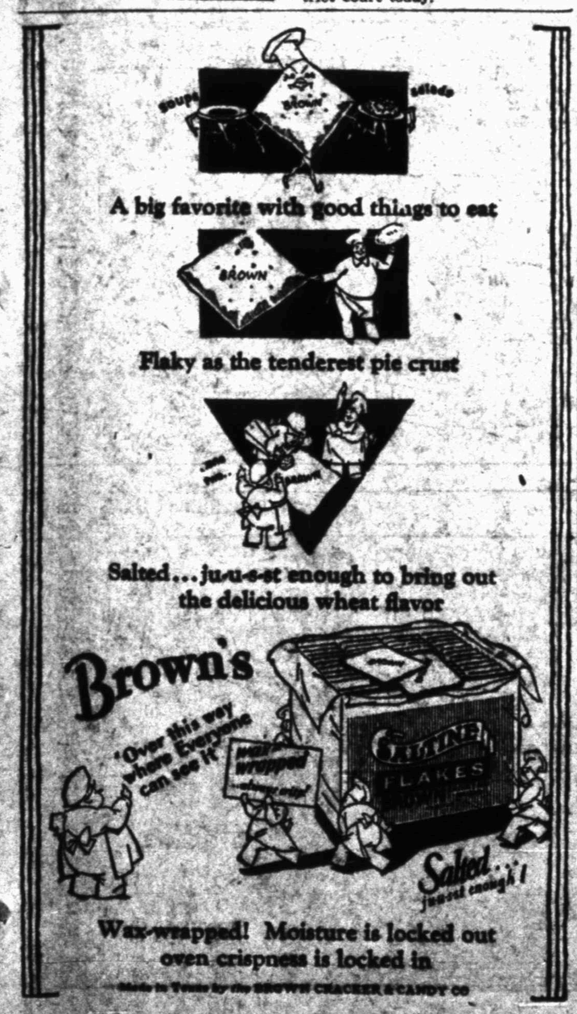

Suggestions have been received by the general committee to start the campaign off with some kind of a celebration. Nothing concrete has been decided upon but the opinion prevails even among the committee members that the suggestion is a wise one.

Dallas Is Awakening

The better business movement, which first took root in Wichita Falls as regards Texas cities, has now reached Dallas, according to a number of stories that appeared in the Dallas papers Thursday.

One of the first proposals made in Dallas is for the immediate spending of $2,000,000 for the improvement of existing property. The suggestion was made that 100 men agree at once and make it known that they will spend $25,000 each on improvements.

Evangelist Asks Men to Attend Church Instead of Wolf Rodeo

"Good sportmanship" is the way Dr. M. E. Dodd described the work of personal soul winning in his sermon Thursday night at the First Baptist church on the subject, "Fishing for Men."

He said there are three methods of fishing in the sea of Galilee—the seine method, the net method and the hook and line method. The one Jesus commends as the most satisfactory to himself and to all is the individual hook and line method.

The subject for Friday morning will be "Won by One," and Friday night, "The Greatest Need of a Christian," or "The Assurance of Salvation."

The pastor, Dr. O. L. Powers announced that there would be a mass meeting for men on Sunday afternoon in the auditorium of the First Baptist church.

Speaking of this announcement, Dr. Dodd said his subject would be "White Life for Men," and that the appeal would be made to the decent manhood of the community to come to church Sunday afternoon instead of going to the Sunday afternoon dog and wolf fight.

Government Charged With Faking Photographs in Baker Murder Trial

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (US)—A charge that the government had used "crooked" photography in its prosecution of Herbert M. Campbell, accused of the murder of Mary Baker, pretty navy clerk, was hurled at the prosecution today.

The charge was brought by Albert M. Hamilton, noted ballistics expert for the defense, who was the star witness of the day.

Denying that Campbell's revolver could have fired the bullets that killed Miss Baker, the witness brought his sensational charge against Col. Calvin H. Goddard, a ballistics expert of Evanston, Ill., and Dr. Wilmer Souder of the bureau of standards, who have been engaged by the government.

Manipulation Charged

He said Goddard had manipulated a comparison microscope to make it appear the bullets taken from the girl's body were similar to those fired by Campbell's gun.

Then he added that Dr. Souder had resorted to "phony photography" which he described as double photography by slicing up bullet pictures and rearranging them single fashion and rephotographing them to look as though only one picture had been taken.

He claimed the plates plainly showed "fibrous edges" which he pointed out to the jury "for their own information."

This startling testimony came late today after an earlier clash between the experts in the science of ballistics over the identity of the gun that killed Mary Baker.

Hamilton, noted criminologist, fired the opening broadside of the defense with his contention that the fatal bullets could not have come from Campbell's revolver.

In the meantime Colonel Goddard the government's gun expert, was waiting an opportunity to tell the jury the results of his test.

Colonel Goddard, it was announced, had completed his microscopic examination of 10 test bullets and five revolvers with which he tested his skill in bullet identification. If this test shows the government has made a previous mistake, Assistant U. S. Attorney William H. Collins said he would move for acquittal of the prisoner.

CITY LOSES $2,000 SUIT

Court Upholds Verdict In Whitney Case

The city of Wichita Falls lost its last fight in the damage suit brought by the late D. G. Whitney and others when the supreme court Thursday dismissed an application for a writ of error brought by the city against the affirmation of the $2,000 judgment awarded in the trial court here. According to Associated Press dispatches, the supreme court declined to act on the grounds of lack of jurisdiction. Attorneys said the ruling was equivalent to an affirmation of both the trial court and the appellate court decisions.

The suit, asking $27,000 damages, brought by Mr. Whitney more than two years ago, alleged that offensive odors arising from the city dumping grounds had damaged the value of his adjacent property. The $2,000 award was appealed to the court of civil appeals and there affirmed. The application for a writ or error followed. Thelbert Martin, city attorney, said Thursday night that the city's final move would be an application for a re-hearing of the petition.

Business Men Urged To Use Retail Records

"Business men of Wichita Falls may protect themselves against losses from persons who live beyond their means or from persons who buy carelessly, and who do not intend to meet obligations when due by keeping in contact with the Wichita Falls Retail Merchants association," said George W. Sosebee, of the Wichita Falls Retail Credit Grantors' association, at a meeting held Thursday evening in the dining room of the Kemp hotel.

Approximately 40 members of the grantors' association were present. Various problems regarding credits were discussed. Names beginning with the letter "P" were brought before the organization.

Giant Flying Boat To Travel to Amsterdam

ALTENRHEIN, Switzerland, Oct. 30. (US)—The giant flying boat, DO-X, powered by 12 American motors in six "push-pull" banks atop the huge single wing, will be ready Saturday to start for Amsterdam on what may be the first leg of a transatlantic flight to New York.

Two Americans will be members of the crew of nine. They are Lieut. Charles Schildhauer, formerly of the U. S. navy, and Harvey Brewton, technical assistant and electrical engineer. The two passengers, Karl H. von Wiegand and Lady Grace Drummond Hay, will board the craft at Amsterdam.

Curtis Murder Trial Opens in Greenville

GREENVILLE, Texas, Oct. 30. (UP)—Trial of J. H. Curtis, 60, for murder in connection with the slaying of Pennington Mallow, 17, of Kingston, last April opened in district court today.

COTTON QUEEN TAKES THRONE

Annual Festival Closes At Frederick

Special to The Record News.

FREDERICK, Okla., Oct. 30.—Final program of Oklahoma's second annual cotton festival in progress in Frederick this week was held at the city auditorium Thursday night when Miss Margaret Bryan as Miss Altus was crowned Queen Cotton. She was selected Tuesday night from a bevy of six beauties, John O. Coffee, head of the Cameron Agricultural college of Lawton, and two other members of his faculty, acting as judges. Luther M. Wagnon, secretary of the local chamber of commerce, announced the decision Wednesday night, as the six contestants were called to the stage. Miss Bryan was the recipient of several beautiful bouquets presented by the Kiwanis club, Rotary club, chamber of commerce, and others of Altus. Some of these she had been instructed to give to the queen.

Great interest was aroused Wednesday night in the Frederick baby revue in which more than a score of children from two to five years of age were entered. The stage was decorated to represent a bastile with two boy guards at the entrance and a herald at each of the wings. All were in the uniform of knights, the guards with drawn swords and the heralds with bugles. The latter announced the beginning of the revue with strains from their bugles. All this had a wonderful effect on the little tots as they were led on the stage, one at a time, and passed in review before the large audience.

So difficult was it for the judges to select the four winners that about half of the young contestants who had not been eliminated were called to the stage a second time and while they stood in single file the selection was made as follows: Joye Beth Carr, age 2, first; Patricia Jo Kendrick, age 3, second; Betty Joyce Fugate, age 3, third; Joyce Fisher, age 2, fourth.

AUTO STRIKES MAN

B. F. Stengel, 1612 Polk street, was struck by an automobile driven by Elwood Johnston, who resides on the Petrolia road, late Thursday afternoon at the intersection of Ninth and Ohio streets. An ambulance was called but Mr. Stengel was apparently uninjured except from shock.

Traffic Signals Will Guide Salmon to Sea

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif., Oct. 30. (AP)—In a campaign against submarine traffic accidents, the United States bureau of fisheries is installing traffic signals to guide inexperienced young salmon down Pacific coast streams to the ocean.

Enticing but fatal byways—irrigation ditches and shallow creeks—are being marked with traffic signs even a fish will understand. The traffic signals are electrically charged nets across the entranceway to the dangerous bypaths. These nets have a forceful way of telling the young salmon he is getting into dangerous waters.

Woman Flier Jailed On 'Hot Check' Charge

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 30. (AP)—Mrs. Juanita E. Burns, aviatrix, remained in a county jail cell today because she lacked $2,000 bail. She was arrested yesterday on a forgery charge as the result of giving an assertedly worthless $5 check to a cleaning plant in San Gabriel suburb.

R. E. Etherson, San Gabriel cleaner, signed the complaint. Mrs. Burns said she had funds to cover the check at the time it was issued, but declared the cleaning establishment failed to cash the check until her account had been exhausted.

Thurston Heads U. S. Latin-American Division

WASHINGTON, Oct. 30. (UP)—Secretary of State Stimson today appointed Walter C. Thurston of Phoenix, Ariz., to succeed Dana G. Munro as chief of the department's division of Latin-American affairs. Munro recently was selected as minister to Haiti.

Thurston, a veteran in the foreign service, has been assistant chief of the Latin-American division since April, 1929.

They had NEVER tasted BEANS like these

In that Western camp where Uncle William first made Brown Beauty Beans famous, they had never known the different, delectable flavor held only by these plump brown mountain beans.

Uncle William's secret way of cooking them—in his own savory sauce—added to their rich goodness; made his eating place renowned; made him rich—and made Brown Beauty Beans famous.

Of course, people elsewhere wanted them, too—and now they come in cans. Meaty, tender, delicious and different in flavor, nourishing and satisfying, they offer a welcome change from the sameness of other foods.

Try them in chile con carne

When you telephone your grocer, ask him for the free recipe for chile con carne. It's delicious. You will like them in salads, baked in a loaf, au gratin and many other ways.

Welcome is mealtime when Dairy Maid Korn Kernels are served. Try them today. Sprinkle with sugar and serve as a cereal, or with butter and seasoning as a vegetable. Steam creamed in rich milk, their toothsome natural flavor will delight your whole family. Your grocer has a supply; ask him now to send some over. Recipe folder free.

Health and Diet Advice

By DR. FRANK McCOY
Author of "The Fast Way to Health"

Questions in regard to health and diet will be answered by Dr. McCoy who can be addressed in care of this paper.

Protect the Teeth With Diet

The art and science of dentistry has made an enormous stride within the last quarter of a century, not only in the mechanical field, but also in discovering the relation of the teeth to health, and the relation of the diet to the teeth.

All modern dentists realize the value of a good diet in preserving the health and in protecting the teeth. It is even probable that dentists as a class have been earlier in recognizing the value of a protective diet than physicians of other schools. Some very interesting experiments have been performed in trying to find out the cause of pyorrhea and trench mouth. In the examination of several hundred patients it was found that all of the patients suffering from pyorrhea had been living on a diet which was deficient in vitamin C, and it was also found that this trouble was much easier to correct when the diet was first corrected.

Dr. M. T. Hanke, of the University of Chicago, took a group of people suffering from pyorrhea, inflammation of the gums, and tooth decay and placed them on a diet rich in this substance. In keeping track of a group of one hundred patients he found that 15 of them did not adopt his diet and in these the gum condition grew worse, but every one of the 85 who used the correct diet, showed a gain for the better, and in many cases their pyorrhea and gum inflammation were entirely cured within 60 days, dental treatments also being used in addition to the diet. Gums which had been bleeding easily ceased bleeding, spongy gums became firmer, and tooth decay was stopped.

This diet of Dr. Hanke was not unusual or freakish and yet it overcame that frequent disorder of modern life, bleeding gums. He advocated a diet which was rich in protein foods, supplemented by a diet that contained plenty of foods with vitamin C; to be exact, a diet consisting of plenty of meat, eggs, milk, a half head of lettuce and fresh fruit daily, and one pint of orange juice with the juice of one lemon. This diet not only brought about an improvement in the gum troubles, but also the general health so that the patient reported being less tired and had fewer colds than ever before.

If you are suffering from any gum disorder, you should see that your food contains plenty of vitamins. Here is a list of some of the foods which are rich in vitamin C. Oranges, lemons, grapefruit, tomatoes, sprouting grains or legumes, green leaves, celery, lettuce, spinach, cabbage, etc.

Such foods when combined with the proper dental regimen not only aid in curing modern gum troubles but also in preventing their development. Fortunately, the foods containing vitamin C are almost all alkaline-forming and also have a tendency to overcome systemic acidosis so that the saliva which bathes the teeth can become more alkaline.

After you have corrected your diet you should call up a competent dentist and make an appointment as soon as possible so that he can treat your mouth. Between the treatments at his office he will probably tell you of some preparation he wants you to use to keep the gums free from bacteria until he can build up the natural resistance. I am sure that your dentist will be able to give you many helpful ideas about diet. Of course, he is chiefly concerned in teaching you how to grow and preserve good teeth, but at the same time this purpose is being accomplished, you will also find that your general health is improving.

QUESTIONS AND ANSWERS

Chiropractic Treatments

Question: A. F. writes—"I would like to know your opinion of chiropractic treatments. I am no chiropractor or follower of any one health method; I merely ask for your unbiased opinion."

Answer—The fact that practically every state in the union has a law regulating the practice of chiropractic is assurance that there is a great deal of recognized value in this method of treatment. Chiropractic is defined as the science of adjusting the spinal vertebrae with the hands by means of a specific thrust. There is much difference of opinion about whether or not the spinal vertebrae actually get out of position, but there is no question but what the stimulation given to the spinal nerves through chiropractic treatment is helpful in bringing about increased tone to those parts of the body which receive the added stimulation.

Bread

Question: Mrs. O. J. writes—"I wish to know if the genuine whole-wheat bread is fattening. Also, rye bread."

Answer—Any bread may be considered "fattening."

Pneumonia

Question: Mrs. R. D. asks—"What are the symptoms, cause, effect of pneumonia? Does it leave the health permanently wrecked. Can a person have pneumonia more than once?"

Answer—A complete answer to your question would be too long to print in this column. Upon receipt of your name and address I would be very glad to send you a special article I have prepared on this subject. In partially answering your question I would say that pneumonia is a very serious disorder. It often permanently injures the lungs, and can occur several times.

'Proxy' Convict May Serve His Own Term

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 30. (INS)—William L. Probst, who attempted to serve a prison term by proxy, today was faced with the prospect of serving in person a sentence of a year and a day in Leavenworth.

Probst who persuaded Andrew Homoky to serve a sentence in Leavenworth penitentiary for him today pleaded guilty to a conspiracy in United States district court and was given the year and a day sentence by Federal Judge Faris.

Homoky also pleaded guilty to the conspiracy and was given a 10-months' sentence in the city jail. Homoky's sentence however was dated from Jan. 30. He had been held in the city jail awaiting trial.

MUSKOGEE U. S. ATTORNEY DIES

Veteran Prosecutor Passes After Long Illness

MUSKOGEE, Okla., Oct. 30. (UP)—United States District Attorney Frank Lee, of the eastern Oklahoma district, died today.

The veteran prosecutor had been ill several months and had been able to attend to his duties only at intervals the past six weeks.

His 40 years of service in the department of justice included posts as assistant district attorney and assistant in territorial days. He had been located at Hugo, McAlester and Antlers and other southern Oklahoma points.

He recently was appointed for another four-year term by President Hoover.

Lee died suddenly early today. He worked at the office yesterday for the first time in several days and apparently was improving in health.

Funeral services will be held Friday at 2 p. m. at the Baptist church of which he was a member.

Lee was born in Indiana in 1861. He came to Indian territory in 1903 from Sherman, Texas, where he had entered the justice department service 10 years previously.

He moved to Muskogee in 1908. During the war he was secretary of the district justice board and received the appointment of district attorney in 1921, a position he has held since that time.

Lions at Electra Adopt Better Business Program

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 30.—Earl Haltom, representative of the local Lions club, appeared before the board of directors of the chamber of commerce at their meeting and explained the better business project suggested by Lions International. The plan is to create jobs for the unemployed by making needed repairs and improvements on the homes, and in this way build up confidence. The board voted unanimously to accept Mr. Haltom's suggestions and appointed a committee composed of Ed Barr, Leroy Reynolds, and Ed Moreland to work in cooperation with other civic organizations in the movement for the betterment of this community.

Electra to Hold Free Tuberculosis Clinic

Special to The Record News.

ELECTRA, Texas, Oct. 30.—A tuberculosis clinic will be held in Electra on Thursday, Nov. 13, with Dr. H. F. Carman of Dallas and Miss Pearl Rorabaugh as examiners. Registrations for examination must be made before the time scheduled for the clinic. These registrations can be made by calling the members of the local T. B. board, Robert P. Hall, Mrs. I. K. Williams, and Mrs. W A. Gault.

A clinic was held in April and much benefit was derived from it. The examination will be free.

FORMER OFFICIAL DIES

GENESEO, N. Y., Oct. 30. (AP)—Charles D. Newton, 69, former attorney general of New York state, died here today.

She Acts While Her Baby Sleeps

Helen Hayes says her baby daughter won't interfere with her stage career—and she doesn't intend to slight Miss Mary, either. Insert shows Charles MacArthur, proud father.

Actress Finds Time for Her Career, Her Daughter and Her Husband

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Mother, wife and actress—and Helen Hayes has no fear of not fulfilling her duties in all three roles.

Now she has returned to the stage in the drama based on Liam O'Flaherty's novel, "Mr. Gilhooley," but at the same time she's an attentive mother to Miss Mary Hayes MacArthur, aged eight months.

It was just after she was hailed as a star in "Coquette" that Miss Hayes became the wife of Charles MacArthur, novelist and playwright.

The play went on tour and when it reached the Pacific coast, Miss Hayes withdrew from the cast to welcome little Mary.

Then Jed Harris, producer of the show, brought up a new problem before Actors' Equity officials by claiming the baby's birth was "an act of God"—and therefore that he shouldn't be held liable for salaries of actors who were thrown out of work when the show closed without notice.

But Harris later paid the salaries, Mary MacArthur grew her first tooth, MacArthur began writing movies and Miss Hayes returned to the stage.

"I don't see why my baby should interfere with my stage career," Miss Hayes says. "I am with her for several hours each day, which is as long as any baby should have to be with its mother.

"She's the most wonderful baby in the world, of course, and she needs plenty of rest. So while she sleeps I come to the theater for my performances. My work as an actress does not at all conflict with my duties as a mother."

As for the father, he, too, has his own ideas about the upbringing of his daughter.

"I don't see any use of getting excited about where we are going to educate her," he explained. "Listen, that baby will learn plenty right here around the house."

MacArthur believes his baby should grow up in proper surroundings. In the first place he didn't like all the pink and blue furnishings in the nursery—so he brought in a huge billiard table as the baby's first toy.

FARMER DIES IN GUN BATTLE

Oklahoman Prefers Death To Arrest

TAHLEQUAH, Okla., Oct. 30. (UP)—Claud Claxton, a Cherokee county farmer, was dead today because he "hated officers so much he chose to shoot it out rather than be arrested."

He was killed last night in a gun battle with Deputy Sheriff Grover Bishop. The deputy was shot in the right hand but he had fired three bullets into Claxton's body before a charge from the farmer's shotgun knocked his pistol from his hand.

Bishop went to Claxton's home last night to serve a warrant charging felonious assault. Sunday night Claxton went to church. He sat near Deputy Sheriff Fred Sly. When church was over, Claxton produced a pistol and lined Sly and five other men against a fence, threatening them with death.

Officers said Claxton "was in the habit of doing such stunts." He had served three penitentiary terms and had been examined for insanity but found sane, they said.

Sly disarmed Claxton and sent him home.

When Bishop went to arrest him last night, Claxton told the officer "If you're an officer, I'm going to kill you, I hate officers."

The gun battle followed.

Missouri Official Warns His State To Say 'Show Me' to Oil Promoters

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., Oct. 30. (AP)—Every person approached by agents offering oil interests should realize the extreme danger and before thinking of investing should advise with their personal banker or broker, F. T. Stockard, state securities commissioner, said today in an October warning against promotion schemes.

"Schemes that should be taken advantage of 'now or it will be too late' should be avoided," he said. "They won't stand investigation."

"What is called 'proration' is on now in the large oil fields," he added. "Production is restricted. No one is making money, and the little fellows are all getting eaten up by the big ones. Local money is shy, and promoters have to look elsewhere for suckers. Therefore, like grasshoppers in a drouth, the promoters are hunting greener fields. The one fellow who wins gets into the limelight. The promoters see that his luck is heralded to the public. The thousands or tens of thousands who lose where one wins are never heard of. They don't want it known, and the promoter is anxious that it is not known."

ELECTION BOARD

OKLAHOMA CITY, Oct. 30. (UP)—The state election board today appointed Earl Williams, Tonkawa, on the Kay county board to succeed G. M. Cassidy, Tonkawa, who resigned. Both are Democrats.

HERE'S THE SEVENTH PUZZLE IN THE TIMES-RECORD NEWS "SCRAMBLED LETTER CONTEST"

The Times-Record News is conducting one of the most absorbing contests ever designed for the entertainment of its readers. To stimulate interest in it, and to make it a profitable as well as an enjoyable pastime for the next few weeks, a grand total of 39 prizes aggregating $100 will be awarded for the winning solutions.

Every other day there will be printed a letter of the alphabet in scrambled form, similar to the "B" above. These scrambled sections, when cut apart and properly assembled, will form the accompanying letter indicated. Each letter will be printed once in The Times and Record News.

This new game is extremely fascinating. It requires a high degree of skill to arrange these apparently simple sections in such forms as to make a perfect capital letter. "Scrambled Letters" has swept the country like a storm. Big business executives have taken it up as a genuine test of their ingenuity. Parties are formed in hundreds of communities to work out the puzzle in interested groups.

Each letter will appear in both papers. Full details about entering the contest are published herewith. Remember, 39 prizes make it well worth your time in matching your wits against this brand new intelligence test.

PRIZES ARE AS FOLLOWS

First prize	$25.00
Second prize	15.00
Third prize	10.00
Fourth prize	5.00
Ten prizes at $3 each	30.00
Twenty-five prizes at $1 each	25.00
Grand total	$100.00

Read These Rules

The Times-Record News Nu-Way alphabet puzzles include the 26 letters of the alphabet. The publication of the various letters of the alphabet will cover a period of several weeks. These letters appearing in the paper are cut into pieces of varying shapes, the object being to place these parts together so they will form the respective letters as illustrated in outline accompanying the pieces.

An outline and its entire parts will be published in the Times and Record News every other day, a different letter of the alphabet being presented. The publication of all letters of the alphabet will cover a period of several weeks.

Anyone who is a resident of Wichita Falls or this section may participate in this profitable fun, except employes of the Times and Record News or their families. You pay nothing to enter. Each letter, as it appears in the Times and Record News may be traced or copied free of charge from the files at the office of this newspaper.

The Times and Record News will pay $100 in cash prizes to the persons who send in the nearest correctly solved complete set of puzzles in accordance with the rules. This does not necessarily mean that you have to solve all the puzzles to win. The prizes will be paid to the persons whose entries rank the highest. Neatness, accuracy and simplicity are the prime requisites. Accurate cutting and correct assembling of the pieces to form each respective letter. Entries that are elaborate will receive no more consideration than the simplest ones. Young and old thus have an equal chance to win.

Take the page of the Times or Record News wherein the puzzles are published. Cut the pieces carefully along the outside of the black border and paste these pieces neatly so that you completely cover the letter appearing opposite, and repeat this operation every week with the new letters in the Nu-Way alphabet puzzles published in the Times and Record News until you complete the full alphabet.

Puzzle solutions are to be submitted only in complete sets five days after all letters of the alphabet have been published in the Times and Record News. Do not send in each puzzle separately. When you have the complete set of 26 puzzles, or parts thereof, mail first class, postage prepaid, or bring them to the Times and Record News alphabet puzzle department. All entries must be in by midnight five days after the last puzzle has been published in the Times and Record News. The winners will be announced as soon thereafter as possible. Be sure that mailed entries have name and address of sender and sufficient postage is used.

In addition to your entry, you must send an advertisement of one of the advertisers shown on any of the letters clipped from the Times or Record News during this contest period, and a letter not exceeding 50 words in length telling why you can profitably deal with this concern.

Good Performance at Low Cost

MANY SEVERE TESTS SHOW THE SUBSTANTIAL WORTH

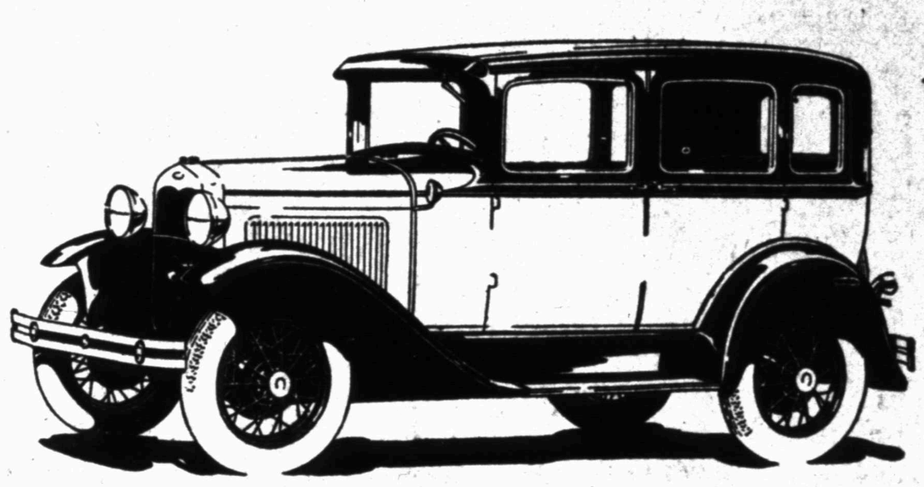

THAT HAS BEEN BUILT INTO THE FORD CAR

Low Ford Prices

There is a Ford car for every need and purpose at an unusually low price. Appointments and upholstery are in keeping with its mechanical excellence.

Standard Bodies
Roadster	$435
Phaeton	440
Coupe	495
Tudor Sedan	495
Sport Coupe	525
Fordor Sedan	600
De Luxe Bodies
De Luxe Roadster	520
De Luxe Phaeton	625
De Luxe Coupe	545
De Luxe Sedan	640
Convertible Cabriolet	625
Town Sedan	660

All prices f. o. b. Detroit, plus freight, delivery and spare tire. Bumpers extra except on De Luxe Roadster and De Luxe Phaeton. You can purchase a Ford for a small down payment. Ask your Ford dealer for details of the Universal Credit Company financing plan.

THE BEAUTY OF FINE UPHOLSTERY

The beauty of fine upholstery gives charm and distinction to the interior of the new Ford Town Sedan. In this type, as in the De Luxe Coupe and De Luxe Sedan, you may choose luxurious mohair or fashionable Bedford cord. The rear seat of the Town Sedan has a folding center arm and side arm rests. Driver's seat is adjustable. All appointments are in quiet good taste and body colors are rich and attractive. A dome light, toggle grips, and silk curtains are provided in the rear compartment.

THE sturdiness and reliability of the new Ford, so evident in the customary, every-day uses of a motor car, are revealed also in many unusual tests of stamina and endurance. Over deeply rutted roads, through desert sands and deep snow, it has gone forward to new conquests of time and distance. From every corner of the world come reports of its good performance.

In England, the new Ford won three gold medals, one silver medal, and one bronze medal in the run from London to Exeter. In Peru it won first and third places in the reliability run over the tortuous Amanceas Road. A Mexican general tells how one of the first of the new Fords in that country was driven from Acapulco to Atoyac "over a difficult country where there are no roads at all and the land is strewn with rocks and soft sand. Natives along the way saw their first automobile with positive wonder."

In Java, a new Ford was driven to the top of the Dieng Plateau, one of the highest mountains in Java. Previously the ascent to the old Hindu statues at the summit had been made only by horseback to the rest-house, thence on foot. In Poland a new Ford won the 2000-mile international race from Warsaw to Lemberg to Warsaw.

Two years ago, a new Ford fought its way along rough wagon trails to become the first car in history to cross the Peace River Block from St. John to Hudson Hope, from the Alberta boundary to the western border of the block.

In 1930, the new Ford won the winter race arranged by the Royal Automobile Club of Sweden. This race was over slippery mountain roads. At times the car was half hidden by snow. Frequently the temperature was 20 degrees below zero.

These severe tests show the enduring quality that has been built into the new Ford and its ability to stand up under gruelling driving conditions. Long, hard service will confirm your first impression of quality and increase your pride in its capable performance. The value of simplicity of design, good materials and accuracy in manufacturing is especially apparent after the first twenty-five thousand miles.

CUB-EAGLE TILT TODAY OPENS SENSATIONAL GRID PROGRAM

TWO CONTESTS DECIDE TITLES

Sandies Meet Lubbock And Nocona Faces Jacksboro

By FRED THOMPSON

Two district championships will be at stake and a third league-leading team will have its championship hopes either boosted to the sky or reduced materially today and Saturday as one of the most glamorous week-ends of football is ushered in.

The two games which directly involve title aspirations are the Olney-Chillicothe game today at Chillicothe and the Amarillo-Lubbock game at Lubbock Saturday. The Olney-Chillicothe scrap will decide which of the two teams will come forth as conquerers in class B, district No. 3. The Amarillo-Lubbock game will herald the champion in class A, district No. 4. The third game which promises to be a thriller will be the Nocona-Jacksboro game at Jacksboro. Nocona is an undefeated, hard-scrapping little outfit in class B of the interscholastic league's northern half of district No. 4, while Jacksboro, though considerably lower in the standings, is regarded as a determined stumbling block which any team in the district must first hurdle before strutting away with the championship. Graham also is undefeated in this loop, but will not play a conference engagement this week.

Thrillers Everywhere

These three games head the card from the standpoint of deciding the leading clubs in the various conferences, but one might peer into almost anybody's back yard this week-end and find a battle well worth talking about. Every member of class B, district No. 3 will be in action, and every member but one in class A, district No. 1 will be in action. In class B, district No. 4, only one scrap in addition to the Nocona-Jacksboro game is scheduled, it being Bowie's contest at Bridgeport.

Local interest will, of course, be centered in the Coyotes game with Childress Bobcats here Saturday. It will mark the first time the Bobcats have played the Coyotes in a conference engagement, Childress High school having graduated from class B only this season. So far the Bobcats have made a splendid showing, defeating Quanah and Vernon, both of whom walked away with victories over the Coyotes. They lost to Amarillo and Lubbock, of course, and also to Electra, but the fact that they defeated Quanah and Vernon is enough to exalt them into the position of favorites in Saturday's tussle.

Bitter Game Promised

A bitterly-fought game is promised, nevertheless, as Coach Barry Holton's Pack is a-weary of being defeated, and in a last orgy of determination the Coyotes Saturday will make their bid for a notch in the win column.

Games today in class B, district No. 3, besides the Olney-Chillicothe game, include Archer City at Megargel, Seymour at Henrietta, and Fairview at Burkburnett.

Choosing a favorite in the Olney-Chillicothe game is risky business. Both teams have whipped everything in sight so far. From one viewpoint, Chillicothe is the favorite, in that it has tackled and whipped one team more than the Cubs have. The Eagles' record credits them with victories over Megargel (12 to 6), Burkburnett (53 to 0), Henrietta (79 to 0), and Seymour (32 to 6). Meanwhile the Cubs have participated in but three conference games, defeating Archer City (51 to 0), Fairview (65 to 0), and Burkburnett (38 to 6). Chillicothe's victory over Fairview by the forfeit route was not counted in this summary.

They Always Win!

But the Cubs have a tradition behind them that harks further back than records of this one season, and for that reason the Eagles had better watch out. Olney in the past has made it a habit to produce championship winners in this district, and when they take the field against the Eagles today a picturesque tradition will be at stake.

From all indications, the Chillicothe game will be more than well attended. Olney fans, about 200 strong, will make the trip to Chillicothe, and the latter city doubtless will all but turn out en masse.

Archer City last week was bumped out of the first place tie by Olney, and this week will have a tough assignment when they tackle the Megargel Bluebirds at Megargel. The Olney defeat is the only one the Archer county lads have tasted, and today the team holds the fort in second place. Megargel, meanwhile, has shown its strength in upsetting Seymour and Burkburnett, and their contest with Archer City should prove one of the toughest in the district. Seymour should have little trouble with their foes when they invade Henrietta, and Burkburnett should conquer the visiting Fairview team, but these tail-enders might at any time tire of their lowly station and spring an upset.

What About Lubbock?

Turning to district No. 1 games of Saturday, the schedule finds three tilts carded in addition to the Coyote-Bobcat game. Amarillo and Lubbock, of course, will be participants in the first. Then comes Pampa at Vernon and Electra at Plainview.

Whether or not the Lubbock Westerners have championship potentialities will be definitely brought out Saturday. Defeated only once, by Pampa at the outset of the season, the Westerners have one of the most powerful backfields seen in this corner of the district in several seasons, and their line is about as strong. If one were seeking a logical reason for their defeat by Pampa, it might be said that it resulted more from overeagerness, coupled with the fact that the game was played early in the season when the Westerner machine was not clicking up to par. This is not offered as an alibi at all, but as a probability, for Pampa did play upstate football, and won by sheer ability. Our conjecture that the Westerners lost on account of their very freshness at the game will be proved or disproved Saturday, when we learn whether or not their machine has improved enough to withstand the charge of the Sandies. If the Westerners have polished up their attack in victories over Wichita Falls, Childress and Electra, it stands as good a chance as any team to defeat Amarillo, for the Sandies have tackled weaker opposition in winning their four starts.

The Sandies' Record

The Sandies have won over Quanah, Childress, Pampa and Plainview, and only one of them—the Pampa Harvesters—can be rated as anything like stiff competition. Unfortunately, the Pampa game at Amarillo, was played in a vast sea of mud, and we will never know just how strong either of the teams were capable of being on that drizzly day.

Meanwhile the Westerners conquered Wichita Falls, Childress and Electra, after losing to Pampa, and in their Childress and Electra games they met better opposition than did the Sandies in their games with at least two teams, Quanah and Plainview.

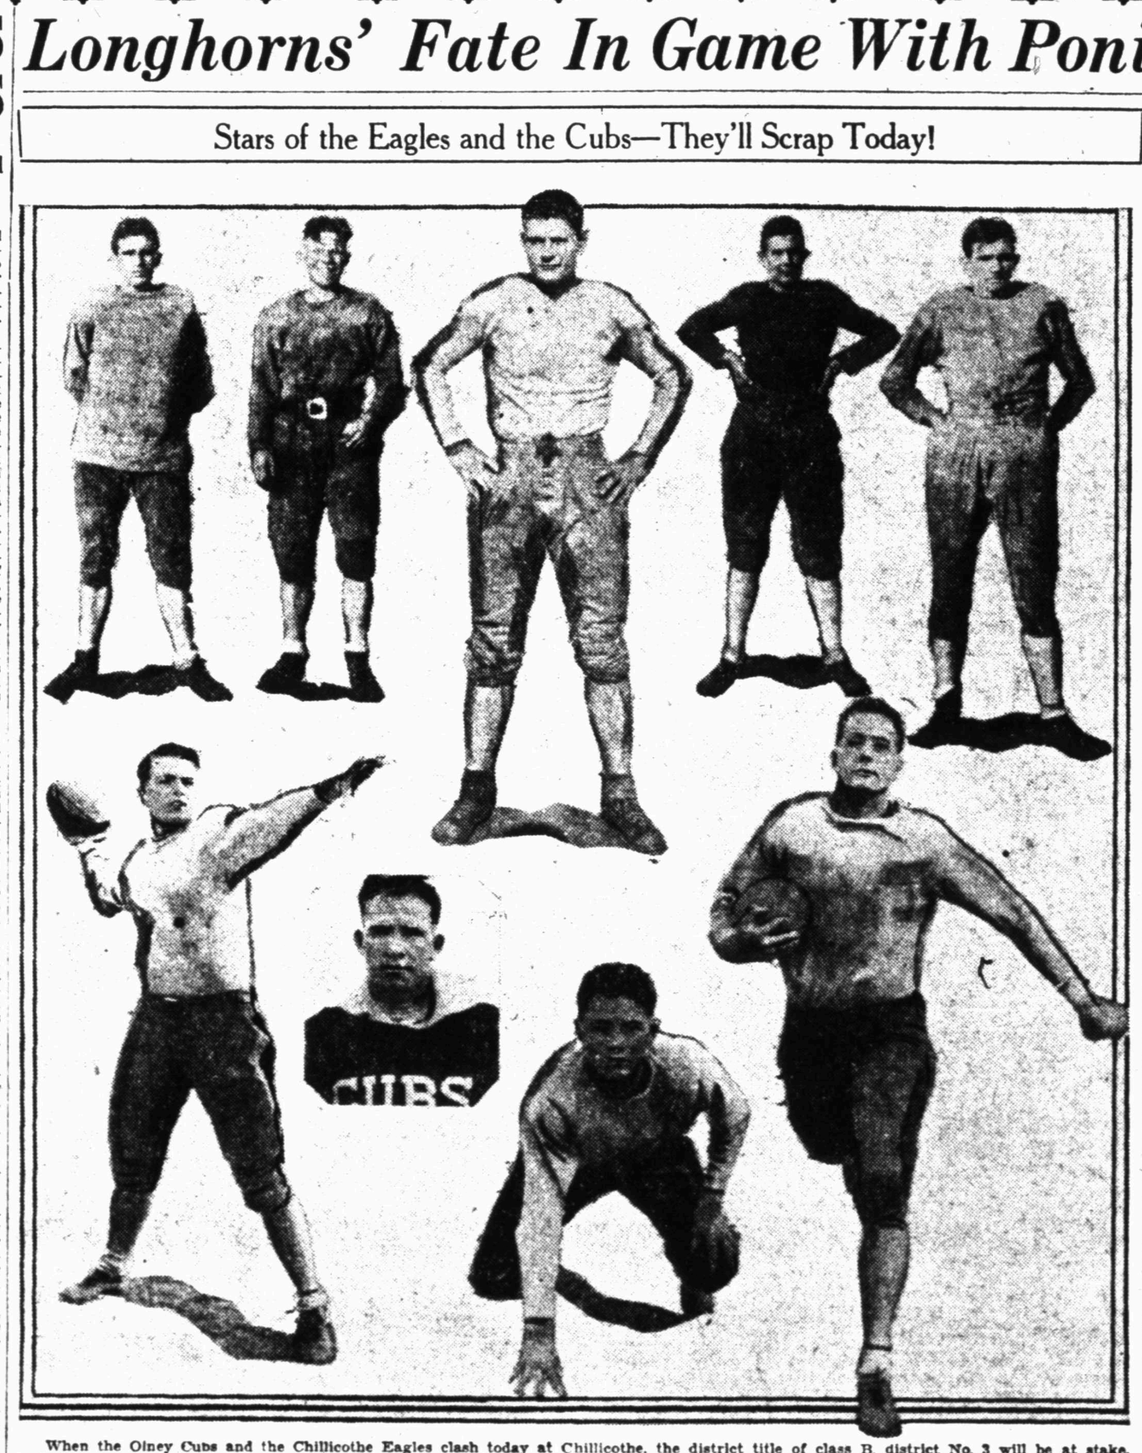

Whether or not Vernon will continue to occupy the second place position in the standings will also be decided Saturday when they run up against the powerful Pampa Harvesters. Each has lost but one game, but Pampa's victory over Lubbock makes the Harvesters favorites. The Electra Tigers should have little trouble beating Plainview.

Quanah, remaining member of the district, will play the Altus, Okla., team today in a practice game at Quanah.

In addition to games in the three conferences listed above, other high school teams in Northwest Texas and Southern Oklahoma will do their share to make it a grand and glorious week for football lovers. A Missouri in three games was held scoreless while its opponents, Colorado, St. Louis and New York, piled up 66 marks.

Longhorns' Fate In Game With Ponies Hinges On Dexter Shelley

Stars of the Eagles and the Cubs—They'll Scrap Today!

When the Olney Cubs and the Chillicothe Eagles clash today at Chillicothe, the district title of class B, district No. 3 will be at stake, and above are shown a few scrappers from both teams who are, if anything, tougher than they look—and they look pretty tough. The five lettermen from last year who compose the iron and steel of the Chillicothe team are shown in the group at the top. On the left, is W. E. Ramsey, Eagle fullback, 162-pound ball lugger who played tackle last year. He is a whale of a line backer. Next to him stands Julian Hughes, quarterback and captain of the team, three-year man, a small, shifty triple threat player who is an expert on passing. The big boy in the center is E. C. Creighton, alternate captain, 157-pound halfback who also is playing his third year. He also is shifty with the ball, and a sweet punter. Next to him is S. D. Wiginton, 162-pound center. Wiginton is playing his second year, and in the opinion of Volney Hill, his coach, he is "what a center ought to be." The last man is Herschell Ramsey, 157-pound end who is playing his third and last year. In 1929 he was prominently mentioned as all-district end. He weights about 162 pounds and is a power on the defense.

In the group below are the big guns of the Cubs, and their coach. They are, reading left to right, Rankin Goode, quarterback, regarded as the most valuable player on the Cub machine, an alert signal caller and a fine broken field runner. He is a senior who boasts a straight "A" record in his school work. Coach Albert Acker, whose teams have won the championship of the district for the last two years. He is in his third year at Olney. Wilson Gilmore, flashy end, an alert defensive man who can receive passes. He weights 175 pounds and loves to fight. He is a two-letter man. And finally, J. C. Duckworth, 180-pound halfback who is fast and excellent on the defense.

NOCONA TEAM SEEKS REVENGE

Indians, Losers Last Year, Again Meet Jacksboro

Special to The Record News.

NOCONA, Texas, Oct. 30.—The Nocona Indians will storm the Jacksboro fort Friday in what is expected to be an eventful game for more reasons than one. It will be remembered that Jacksboro and Nocona fought it out on Nocona soil last year for the district championship and the Indians succumbed to defeat.

This is the main reason that Friday's game will be thrilling from start to finish. Nocona has only three last year letter men, while Jacksboro is said to have about seven. According to results of contests so far between both elevens and other teams the Indians and Jacksboro crowd are pretty evenly matched.

CUBS OFF FOR CHILLICOTHE

Team Rehearses and Spends Night at Vernon

By JACK WILLIAMS
Records News Correspondent

OLNEY, Texas, Oct. 30.—Capt. Braxton Gilmore and 15 teammates left here today en route to Chillicothe to defend their regional championship crown against Coach Volney Hill's Eagles Friday. The Cubs expected to take a light workout at Vernon this afternoon and remain there overnight.

"We are confident," Captain Gilmore said, "but realize that the Eagles will be a hard bunch to whip. We expect to win after a close, hard fight."

The entire squad is in the best of condition and with the brilliant performance at Archer City last week to give them confidence, indications are the best game of the year will go down in history Friday.

Hard Drivers in Line-Up

In the Cub line-up will be found some of the hardest driving high school players in Texas. The line has weight, speed and a willingness to carry the fight to the opponents. With the Gilmore brothers, Wilson and Braxton, guarding the ends it is difficult to pass them. On the offense these boys can go after passes with uncanny ability. Capt. Braxton Gilmore is an excellent leader and a dangerous man in a broken field. At the tackle posts Gus Kuehn and "Sup" Alsup divide 325 pounds of weight about equally and are aggressive. Alsup is playing his first year on squad A. Kuehn is a senior and is just now playing up to his 1929 standard, when he was mentioned for regional honors by several coaches. Right guard will be found the hardest fighting piece of football machinery on the team. Bill Hill is the man. He weighs only 160 pounds but holds his own with heavier men. He fils well into the offensive play and is a steadly tackler. Bill played his best game at Archer City Friday. Coach Acker is depending on him to keep the line on the job.

Opposite Hill will be a man who got his chance after Watson Rux was ruled out by Superintendent Shuikey. His name is "Speedy" Sullivan. He weighs 170 and is a good blocker. Ray O'Brian gets first call at center post with "Blackie" Reynolds in reserve. Ray is the lightest man on the regular squad and is game to carry the fight of a full 60 minutes. Red Vaughn and Talmidge Brown can be called on to fill the guard posts in case they are needed. They will be regulars next year and promise to fill the shoes of stars of the past without loss of strength.

West Due to Play

"Ox" West, a letter man from last years' champions will likely see service at end or guard. He has been on the injured list for a month.

Coach Acker's backfield combination has power, speed and football knowledge. Under the leadership of the brilliant Rankin Goode at the signal calling position, every weapon known to modern football can be brought into play. Goode can pass, kick and run. He plays the safety position in a manner that would bring joy to any coach. He has been the most consistent ground gainer for the Cubs all season. J. C. Duckworth at halfback combines speed, power and pass-catching ability to add a bit of the sensational to Olney's attack. At the other halfback post will be found the third of the Gilmore brothers, George. He is playing his first year and has been on the bench most of the season. It was discovered that he could do most any job assigned him and now he is a regular. His blocking clears the way for his teammates and once given the ball he is hard to stop. He is a jewel of consistency. He is a clever player the fullback position and is a marvelous defensive man. His power plays haven't been stopped this year. He does most of the kicking for his team. Norman Goldsmith is the fastest man on the A squad and will see service. He may start at a halfback post. Frank Rue and Sandy Hamilton can be called to service in the backfield and may see services Friday.

Train Plans Abandoned

Enthusiasm is at its height in this little oil town. With prospects for fair weather, plans for a special train to Chillicothe were abandoned at the last moment today. Two hundred and fifty fans are expected to join a great automobile caravan that will leave here early Friday. Supt. Bruce Shulkey said that over half the student in the high school were expected to attend the game to cheer their team. School will not be dismissed, however.

Olney turned out in a body last night to attend a pep rally on the school campus. The rally lasted only 30 minutes but had all the marks of a college rally. There were bonfires, speeches that could not be heard and predictions of various kinds. Most certain of all was the feeling that the Eagles would meet a fighting team that has not tasted defeat for several years.

The game will be called at 3:30 p. m.

List of additional games carded for today includes:
Throckmorton at Munday.
Crowell at Matador.
Wellington at Wheeler.
Grandfield, Okla., at Ryan, Okla.
Temple, Okla., at Waurika, Okla.
Tipton, Okla., at Eldorado, Okla.
Crowbton (at Spur.
Memphis at Shamrock.
Lawton, Okla., at Walters, Okla.
Sayre, Okla., at Mangum, Okla.
Merkel at Haskell.
Turkey at Clarendon.
Duncan, Okla., at Anadarko, Okla.
Alvord at Sanger.
Hedley at Estelline.
Tucumcari at Dalhart.
Frederick, Okla., at Snyder, Okla.
Hamlin at Stamford.

LUGGER GETS LAST CHANCE

If He Rounds Into Form Steers May Win

By GAYLE TALBOT JR.
Associated Press Sports Writer

DALLAS, Oct. 30.—The saga of Dexter Shelley, captain and halfback of the Texas Longhorns, will approach its climax Saturday at Memorial stadium. Against the Mustangs the big ball-carrier will be afforded one of his last opportunities to regain the form which made him a terror to opposing teams in 1928 and landed him on the mythical all-conference eleven in 1929, despite a poor showing in the latter part of the season.

Perhaps the biggest single factor to be considered in doping this week's clash at Austin revolves about the Orange leader. Should Shelley suddenly regain his form of '28 or nearly '29, as Longhorn followers confidently believe he will, and join Koy in a concerted attack on the Pony defense, it would be exceedingly tough on the Mustangs.

With Shelley at his best, the Steers probably could spot the Ponies a couple of their justly-famous aerial touchdowns and then knock them loose with a running game. With Shelley only luke warm, it is very doubtful their "power" tactics will get far against the Methodists' staunch line. As Shelley goes Saturday, so, very likely, will go the Longhorns.

Both camps are pretty well steamed up over the impending fray. The Steers are understood to be wroth "clean through" over their defeat by Rice last week, and, anyway, would rather lick the Mustangs than any team, with the possible exception of the Aggies. They will be primed to the limit. The Ponies likewise are taking themselves very seriously. The S. M. U. campus ordinarily is pretty calm, even before one of these "crucial" games, but there is paprika in the air this week.

STEER AND PONY CAMPS ARE FREE OF INJURIES

Both Texas and Southern Methodist came through their battles of the past week without incurring serious injuries and will be at full strength for their headliner Saturday at Austin. It will be a fair fight in that respect.

Louie Long, star mustang end, received a knee injury against Indiana that kept him out of practice a while this week, but physicians announced there was nothing serious and that he would in all probability be going strong before Saturday. Weldon Mason and Malcolm Powell, hurt in the Notre Dame bout, will be back in the Pony lineup after watching both the Baylor and Indiana melees from the sideline. They are vital cogs in the Mustang machine.

The Longhorns, according to reports, received nothing worse than a battering from the horde of reserves thrown against them by Rice. They are in tiptop shape and in a dangerous frame of mind; peeved because they permitted themselves to be beaten after they had outplayed the Owls for three quarters. Ernest Koy, who carried the brunt of the Steers' running attack of Houston, came out of the fray bruised, but otherwise in the pink.

TEAMS FOUGHT THRILLING BATTLE LAST YEAR

The Longhorns and Methodists supplied a thrilling battle here last year, despite the fact neither was able to score. Saturday's fray should be equally entertaining.

Nona Rees, Steer quarterback, put the biggest kick into the 1929 tussle when he took the opening kick-off near his own goal line and raced within 20 yards of the Mustang line before he was brought down by Mason. It was on that play that Mason received a head injury which hampered him the remainder of the season and left doubt whether he would be able to play this year.

Later in that same game Vic Saufley, pony end, stood on Texas' goal line and dropped a pass squarely in his arms. Had he held it the Methodists would have won that game and, as it turned out, the conference title. It doubtless was the year's most costly muff.

STEERS WON LAST FROM METHODISTS IN 1920

Texas has had a rare time trying to win from the Morrison men in recent years. Their last victory was in 1920. The best they have gotten since then were scoreless ties in 1925 and 1929. Several times they have been on the verge of taking the Ponies, but in each instance something has cropped up to deny them.

A red-hot argument arose after the 1928 tilt at Austin, won by the Mustangs, 6 to 2. Longhorn adherents claimed—and still do, for that matter—that Rufus King plunged across for a touchdown that should have made the count Texas 8, S. M. U. 6. They even produced movies to prove their point; but the referee's decision that King was stopped short of the last line still stands.

MORRISON EXPECTED TO USE STRONGEST MEN

It will be interesting to see whether Coach Morrison will have the nerve to use his "A" and "B" teams against the big Orange eleven as he did against Indiana last week. Two separate and distinct units were sent against the Hoosiers, with the veterans predominating on the "A" squad. If the truth must be told, the "B" team, which included little Charlie Hearon, looked liked the better of the two. The only real regulars in the "B" lineup were Kattman, Koontz and Sprague.

A good bet is that the Mustang mentor will forget all about that and place his strongest possible combination on the field Saturday, with Hearon posibly replacing Gilbert at quarterback. It might have been safe to experiment on Indiana, but the Longhorns are different.

GENTS ARE FAVORITES OVER TEXAS AGGIES

Those observers who go in for predicting on a big scale are nearly unanimous in the opinion that Centenary will throw the Aggies for another loss—their fifth straight—Saturday at Kyle field. If the Gents do turn the trick it will give them a record of two victories and a tie against Southwest conference teams, with one to go. They are scheduled to play Arkansas Nov. 27 at Shreveport.

It is not exactly cut-and-dried, however, that the Gents will take the Aggies. Having defeated Baylor last week, the Louisiana eleven likely is feeling its oats these days and will be more or less confident. The Aggies are bad medicine for any team that steps on Kyle field in that frame of mind, as witness their draw stand against T. C. U. two weeks ago.

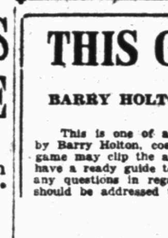

THIS GAME OF FOOTBALL

BARRY HOLTON, COACH OF THE WICHITA FALLS HIGH SCHOOL COYOTES

This is one of a series of explanatory articles written for The Record News by Barry Holton, coach of the Coyotes. They will appear daily. Students of the game may clip the articles as they appear, and by preserving them in a notebook have a ready guide to fine points of the game. Mr. Holton will be glad to answer any questions in regard to the game coming to the mind of the reader. These should be addressed to this newspaper.—Editor.

THE KICK-OFF

I have told you what the playing field is like, have spoken about the players, have told you how the game is timed, now I will roughly tell you the purpose of the game, that is, just what each team tries to do while out there. Many people go to the games, sit there and enjoy themselves, but never know at all what the players have in mind as they do this or that. My attempt today will give you something like a clear idea of the game from this angle. Recall to mind now what I said about each team having a goal line. If team A is headed north its goal line is on the south; B's goal line is on the north. In other words, A is headed toward B's goal and hopes to advance across B's goal line with the ball in its possession. B, likewise, hopes to carry the ball across A's goal line. One team then always has the ball and is trying to advance with it. This we call offensive football. The other team at this time is trying to stop the first team, playing defensive football. In one line then, the game is twofold. Trying to cross the other team's goal line with the ball or trying to keep the opponents from crossing yours. A team is always playing offensive or defensive football. One team must have the ball and the other must be on defensive. I will admit that a team changes from offense to defense very quickly at times, or the other way around, defense to offense.

HOLTON

Now I must start one team with the ball so we will imagine the two teams on the field after the toss. (The toss, you will recall, is when the two captains meet in the center of the field and flip the coin to see which takes the ball). Let us imagine team A and team B headed south. Play is started then by team B kicking the ball to team A. This play is called the kick-off and is made at the beginning of the game and at the beginning of the second half. It is also made after a team scores either by touchdown or field goal. To make the kick-off a team kicks from on or behind its own 40-yard line by using a place-kick. Place-kick is made when man holds the ball for kicker or when kicker fixes the ball on the ground. Variations of the kick-off are: the ball may be kicked anywhere on the 40-yard line. Near one or the other sideline or in the middle of the field. The rules permit the ball to be kicked anywhere inside this 40-yard line. That is, between a team's own 40-yard line and its own goal-line. Never beyond its own 40-yard line unless a penalty has been inflicted. This I will cover later. In most cases a team will kick from a point on the 40-yard line. But remember a team may deviate from the way I say. Now the restriction on this kicking team during and before the kick-off is that every man on the kicking team, except the fellow holding the ball, must be behind the ball till it is kicked. If on the kick-off a member of the kicking team is ahead of the ball when it is kicked, the ball is brought back and the kicking team has to kick again from a point five yards behind the previous spot. A team, if offside more than once, is penalized each time five yards. All of us have seen the ball sent into the air on a beautiful kick, caught by a player on the other team who runs back up the field with it, then the officials take the ball and order it rekicked, five yards back. What has happened? The kicking team was ahead of the ball, offside. However, the receiving team may refuse the penalty and play will continue just as though no one was offside. The receiving team would not know the opponents were offside till the ball is declared dead. That is when the man catching the ball, we will say, had caught the ball and returned it as far as possible. Circumstances would determine whether or not the team would refuse the penalty. If receiving team did not make appreciable return of kick-off, they would take the penalty and have the ball kicked again. However, if they did return for good distance, they no doubt would refuse the penalty and keep the ball. One thing that can happen here is: Suppose the ball goes across the side-line between the goal lines before a player on the team receiving the ball touches it. What happens? The ball is brought back and kicked again from the same spot. Suppose it goes out of bounds between goal lines the second time, what then? In this case the ball is not kicked again. The receiving team is given the ball on its own 40-yard line and must be put in play by a scrimmage. (A scrimmage takes place when the ball is placed on the ground and teams line up as they generally do and the ball is passed back). There are a few other modifications of kick-off but an explanation of these will be made later. I have told you now how the ball is kicked on the kick-off and the restrictions placed on kicking team. The receiving team at kick-off must be behind a line 10 yards in advance of spot of kick. If a team kicks on its 40-yard line, the restraining line for other team is on the 50-yard line. Ten yards way in all cases. The receiving team generally scatters its men over the field so some one of them can get the ball. The restrictions on the receiving team are: No one on receiving team can be ahead of the restraining line till the ball is kicked. If one of receiving team is ahead of restraining line before ball is kicked, the ball is kicked off again and the point of kick is established five yards down the field. This penalty may be refused if the kicking team so desires. Finally the ball must travel on the kick-off 10 yards, unless it touches an opponent. If it goes 10 yards, or touches an opponent before going ten yards, either team may get possession of it. If receiving team gets it it may run with it, pass it backward, or kick it. If kicking team gets it, the ball is dead at point of recovery.

Tomorrow—Continuation of Kick-off.

Many Entries In Stock Car Race

There will be a large number of entries for the stock car race Sunday at the Texas-Oklahoma fair ground race track.

Oran Golden of Elk City, Okla., with his Pontiac, wired his entry in yesterday. Golden narrowly escaped death at Cushing, Okla., this summer. While Golden was warming up his car on the half-mile oval, a Chevy pulled out of the pits and a collision could not be prevented as the fast Pontiac came roaring down the track. The impact threw Golden high in the air, wrecked both cars, and injured the drivers seriously. While recuperating from this accident Golden rebuilt his car. His appearance here will be his first since the near-fatal smashup.

Henry Williams, an old favorite and a local driver, will be at the wheel of his Whippet. Williams is said to be the only one-arm driver in the country today. Williams won the first 100-mile stock car race that was introduced on the Wichita Falls race track last year. A crowd of 8,000 people saw Williams take the victory flag last year.

LOCAL TEAM STAGES RALLY

Beckmen Return Fire With Lateral Heaves

By FRED THOMPSON

In a fast battle that ultimately resolved into a sensational air attack by both teams, Vernon Junior High school defeated the Reagan Junior High school warriors of Wichita Falls Thursday afternoon in a conference engagement on Wilson field. The Reagan bunch showed remarkable improvement, and came up to the standard of the Vernon team in all respects with the exception of the long pass. The Reaganites ate up yardage on the lateral toss, but the hefty gains made by the visitors on long passes proved too much.

The score was 12 to 0. Taking the ball for long gains on off tackle plays in the first quarter, the Reagan team marched steadily toward the goal; only to lose the ball on the 11-yard line on downs. From then on the Vernon line held like a rim of steel. In the second quarter Reagan proved its line was likewise as strong. The teams discovering neither could plough through the other's line with profit, the air attack opened in the third quarter and Vernon speedily made two thrilling counters within the space of a few minutes. The first was negotiated by a 20-yard pass Brown to Bowden and a 15-yard pass, Bowden to Jackson, with Grogan and Bowden mixing up an assortment of end runs and line plunges to get the ball over, Bowden finally making the touchdown. Then as the quarter rapidly neared the close, Vernon hastily got possession of the ball after the kickoff, and a pass aggregating about 25 yards, Bowden to Brown, was received by Brown on the 20-yard line, and he scampered across with little opposition. Attempts for extra points failed in both instances, the first being an attempted line plunge, and the second a try at a place kick.

Reagan Starts Passes

The Reagan team opened up its lateral pass attack in the fourth quarter with amazing results, Ballard, Reagan left half, tossing to Cleo Creecy time and again to speed the fleet Creecy to sensational gains around end. The onward march of the home team was slowly eating up the distance as the game drew to its end, and the final whistle found the Reaganites in possession of the ball at a heartbreaking distance of nine yards from the Vernon goal.

The defeat marked the second conference loss for Reagan in as many starts, Coach Beck's boys having lost to Denton in its opening game, 44 to 0. For Vernon it meant all accounts squared, the visitors having lost their opening game to Zundelowitz at Vernon, 6 to 0. The Vernon lads now rank in second place, with Zundy and Denton holding a tie for the top position.

Proof that the Vernon invaders depended mainly on their massive passes is reflected in the number of first downs each team made. Reagan made 19 to Vernon's 11. The Reagan warriors opened up the first quarter with sensational off tackle and end runs and in the frame piled up a total of six first downs, being kept from scoring only by the determination of the visitors to hold their line in the pinches.

Vernon Falls Short

In the same quarter Vernon made only three first downs. In the second period, Vernon again was short, making two to Reagan's four. In the third quarter, however, Vernon's passes accounted for five first downs to Reagan's three. Then in the last period, Reagan came through with six to Vernon's one.

Cleo Creecy was the outstanding ground gainer on the Reagan team, while Bowden, fullback, and Grogan, right half, alternated in carrying the ball for Vernon with sensational results.

The Reagan players took the visitors by surprise with their rapid-fire attack in the first period. Vernon won the toss and decided to kick against the wind, choosing the west goal. Krebs booted it to Cleo Creecy, who was nailed on his 32-yard line. Cleo then started his heavy gaining with a nine-yard run around his right end. Ballard took it for an off-tackle again of about three yards. Ballard and Creecy then took the ball alternately in four smashes through the tackles and around ends and lodged the ball on the Vernon 30-yard line before the visitors had so much as warmed up. Hill, Reagan right half, took it through the line for about two yards, and then Creecy went around right end for five. A pass, Creecy to Ballard, failed, and Reagan lost the ball on the 11-yard line. Reagan's failure to push across gave the visitors encouragement aplenty, and between the long runs of Grogan and Bowden they were in little danger the remainder of the period.

Punting Exhibition

The second period saw the lion's share of punting attempted in the game. In possession of the ball on the opponent's 42-yard line shortly after the second period opened, Reagan lined up to punt and Ruby booted it for about 20 yards. Vernon returned to Reagan's 45-yard line, chiefly through the efforts of Grogan. A penalty took Vernon back near the 38-yard line. After a short gain through the line, Vernon gave the ball to Bowden, who booted 25 yards to Reagan's 30-yard line, Robinson recovering and returning for about five yards. Creecy couldn't gain much around right end, and Ruby punted, Bowden recovering and returning about three yards to put the ball in mid-field. A Vernon pass was intercepted and a punt gave Reagan the ball on their 25-yard line. Ballard crashed through the line for about eight yards. Creecy and Stingel made slight gains and two other plays took the ball to their 42-yard line. A pass was blocked by Snyder, Vernon center, and Ruby punted 25 yards out of danger.

Pass Is Blocked

Reagan blocked a Vernon pass, but the visitors on three plays through the line gained about 15 yards. A pass, Grogan to Brown, netted about 15 yards, but Vernon was brought back to midfield on a penalty. Bowden made a run around right end for five yards shortly before the half ended.

With no one having scored, Vernon took the initative in the third quarter and opened its air attack. After the first kickoff, Vernon was brought back for offside, and forced to kick again from the 35-yard line. Reagan punted to the 32-yard line. Two gains through the line took the ball to Vernon's 40-yard line, and Bowden passed to Brown for 20 yards. Bowden and Grogan gained 30 yards in eight swift plunges through the line, taking the ball to the 10-yard line, but a penalty set them back five yards, and there they lost the ball on downs. Reagan booted it back to their 40-yard line, and Bowden returned it to the 30-yard line. A pass failed. Then Bowden passed to Jackson for a long gain of about 20 yards, and in two plays Bowden took it over.

Soon after the kickoff, Vernon regained possession of the ball and Bowden placed it on the 30-yard line with a gain of about five yards. Then his long pass was received by Brown on the 20-yard line, and Brown shook off a few would-be tacklers and scored the second Vernon touchdown.

Reagan sailed in with might and main in the last quarter. A pass, Ballard to Stingel, put the ball on Vernon's 35-yard line. Ballard then made a lateral pass to Cleo Creecy, who raced to the 25-yard line. Stingel gained two yards through the line. A lateral pass gained nothing, and a second one was blocked. Creecy fumbled a third pass on the fourth down, giving Vernon the ball. Two plays gained nothing, and a penalty took Vernon back to the 15-yard line. Grogan was thrown for a loss of two yards, and then he punted to his 45-yard line, Fletcher recovering and returning about two yards. Ruby then punted, Bowden recovering on his 30-yard line. Bowden got away for about a seven-yard gain. Then two passes failed, and Vernon was penalized for five yards. Grogan punted to Reagan's 30-yard line. Reagan completed a pass for 10 yards, and a succession of lateral passes, Ballard to Creecy, took the ball swiftly down the field to the nine-yard line, and the home team was kept from scoring only by the boy who blows the whistle.

'Unsung Heroes of the Line' Are Principal Delight of Fordham Coach

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 30.—The unsung heroes of the line, carving out paths for flashy backs who reap the glory, taking the battering, missing the headlines—those are the boys to delight the heart of bespectacled Frank Cavanaugh, football's "iron major" and head coach at Fordham university.

Defense is Cavanaugh's forte. He has builded a massive eleven at Fordham that has piled up 14 straight victories and has yet to be scored on this fall. His teams boast forward walls of human concrete buttressed with steel. They are the front line trenches, throwbacks to the shrapnel-doused ditches he commanded during the war years in France.

So it isn't any wonder he feels sports writers fail to give adequate attention to the linemen who make it possible for the backs to run and then desperately hold the fort when the other fellows bid to wipe out the advantage. He suspects, though, the reading public probably isn't interested in the niceties of line play and probably wouldn't know what you were talking about unless you stuck rather close to the sensational runs and spectacular passes, backs capitalising opportunities given by the perspiring linemen.

The good big man is always better than the good little man in the line, all other things being equal, Cavanaugh believes, and he likes to balance little fellows like Capt. Tony Siano, his great center, with players like bik Frank Foley, a massive tackle. Intelligence and speed are the main requisites of a good lineman and he likes to get them young, 19 years old if possible.

Cavanaugh thinks Knute Rockne's teams are most likely to demoralize a good defense because of the perfect cohesion of the Notre Dame offense. Knute will take the same play you are using and gain eight yards with it after you have gained two.

"Then," says the "iron major," "the morale of the boys goes to pieces. They can't help saying to themselves, 'wow, we're in for a licking'."

Florida's freshman football team has two ends named Goodyear and Hood.

CITY MEDALIST RETAINS LEAD

Mrs. R. R. Fisk Victor Over Mrs. C. O. Davis

Mrs. R. R. Fisk, medalist, defeated Mrs. C. O. Davis in the championship flight of the all-city women's golf tournament at the Wichita Falls Golf and Country club Thursday afternoon, to retain her lead over a field of 19 entered in the meet. Scores of the matches were not posted.

In the other championship matches Mrs. J. R. Jarboe defeated Mrs. F. L. Waggoner, Mrs. F. C. Rochon defeated Mrs. H. A. Kendall, and Mrs. W. P. Bolding defeated Mrs. Fred Couper.

Today Mrs. Fisk will be matched against Mrs. Jarboe, and Mrs. Rochon will play Mrs. Bolding. In the championship consolation, Mrs. C. O. Davis will play Mrs. Waggoner, and Mrs. Kendall will be matched with Mrs. Couper.

In the second flight Thursday Mrs. Roy Carter defeated Miss Winnie Maye Giddings, Mrs. G. H. Hampshire defeated Mrs. H. D. Prichard, and Mrs. H. L. Ruehl defeated Mrs. H. P. Ledford.

Pairings for this flight today include the following: Mrs. Carter vs. Mrs. H. D. White, Mrs. R. L. Hargrave vs. Mrs. Hampshire, Mrs. Ruehl vs. Mrs. J. W. Caldwell Jr., and Mrs. W. W. Haney vs. Mrs. J. H. Fletcher. In the second flight consolation, Miss Giddings will play Mrs. Prichard. Mrs. Ledford drew a bye.

Waco-Corsicana Game Today Will Shed Light on New Title Contender

CORSICANA, Texas, Oct. 30. (UP)—The "big four" of district four football competition will be reduced to the "big two" after two East Texas classics this week-end. Two camps of Tigers, from Waco and Corsicana, will meet here Friday and Temple and Corsicana High schools, undefeated in district competition, will clash at Temple.

The Waco-Corsicana game, heralded as the season's premier high school spectacle in this section of the state, is expected to produce a district champion and a favorite for state-wide honors.

A crowd of 5,000 fans from Dallas, Waxahachie, Ennis, Hubbard, Hillsboro, Dawson, Purdom, Frost, Blooming Grove, Athens and Tyler is expected to witness the game here.

Both Teams Even

The two teams will take the field this season exactly even in district competition. Each has won one game, scoring 19 points. Neither has lost a game this season. Corsicana holds the best offensive record for the season, with 238 points in six games against 20 points for their opponents. Waco has the best defensive record.

Both teams have developed the spin play and have perfected dozens of plays hinging on the spinner. Both claim speed and triple threat men.

Coach Paul Tyson of Waco has issued pessimistic reports as to the chances of his team, but the game is considered a toss-up. The local Tigers will have an advantage in weight.

The probable starting lineup of the Corsicanans, as announced by Coach John Pierce, is Crowther and Stewart, ends; Richardson and Speed or Benson, tackles; Stamps and Middleton, guards; Vanderlaan or Pollard, center; Hightower, quarter; Wilson and Hall or Ross, halves; Clarke or Hornbeak, full.

Clebume and Temple, while undefeated in district play, both have suffered defeats this season. The outcome of the game at Temple, however, is expected to produce a strong contender for the title.

Dalhart Special Bears Fans to Tucumcari

Special to The Record News.

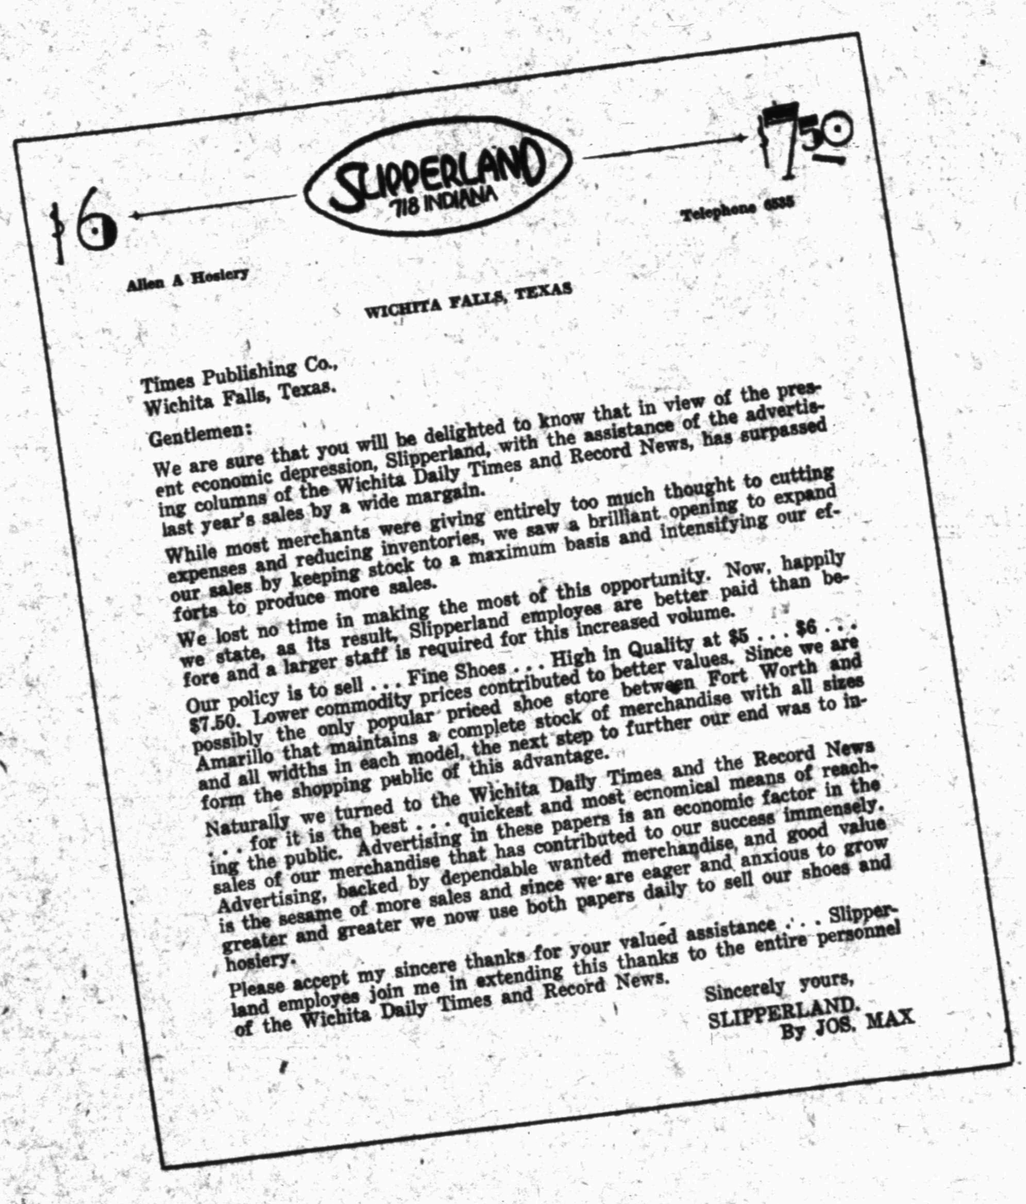

DALHART, Texas, Oct. 30.—A special Rock Island train carrying between 200 and 300 football fans will leave Dalhart Friday morning for Tucumcari, N. M., where the Dalhart Wolves will battle the Tucumcari eleven. The train is being sponsored by the Dalhart Chamber of Commerce and has been guaranteed by a number of local business men.

The Wolves have had a most successful season to date, their record showing that they have not allowed their goal line to be crossed. Among the victims of the local squad have been the strong Clayton, N. M., Yellowjackets and the Liberal, Kan., Redskins. They have also defeated the Stratford and Texhoma teams and the Amarillo Tanangans.

Four of the De Pauw university football team are ministers, three of the Methodist Episcopal church and one Church of Christ.

NEW YORK COTTON

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Early declines in cotton were followed by recoveries on a renewal of trade buying and covering today, but prices eased off again in the later trading under further southern selling combined with liquidation and probably some selling by local reactionists. March contracts after easing off to 11.60 early advanced to 11.77, but later broke to 11.58 and closed at that figure. The general market closed easy at net declines of 11 to 18 points.

Private advices reaching the trade here from Japan said that owing to poor trade in both yarn and piece goods mills were reluctant in following advances, and that the recent advance had tended to widen the difference between American and Indian cotton. This was not generally discussed as a factor in the day's market, but may have had a contributing influence on the decline.

Liverpool cables said hedging and foreign selling had been absorbed by calling in that market and reported a maintained demand for cotton cloth from China, but a poor business with India. Exports today 34,045 making 2,138,989 so far this season. Port receipts 72,905. U. S. port stocks 3,644,744.

Futures closed easy, 11 to 18 points lower; spot quiet; middling 11.25.

NEW ORLEANS MARKET

NEW ORLEANS, Oct. 30. (AP)—The cotton market was only moderately active today and prices were decidedly erratic. After easing off 10 to 12 points in early trading on indifferent cables and overnight selling orders, the market rallied on good trade buying and price fixing and on a statement by a member of the farm loan board that the cooperaives were exporting a large amount of cotton.

This bulge carried prices 17 to 19 points above the lows. All this gain was lost in the late trading on selling by ring traders in advance of the holiday here Saturday and to force a reaction. The close was steady and at or near the bottom showing net losses for the day of 9 to 10 points.

Liverpool came in 1 point better to 2 worse than due which private cables attributed to hedge and foreign selling. First trades here showed losses of 4 to 7 points and prices eased off further in early trading on numerous overnight selling orders. December dropped to 11.23, January to 11.38 and March to 11.61, or 10 to 12 points below the close of yesterday.

Later in the morning the market rallied on good trade buying and price fixing by mills and on very favorable advices from the domestic cotton goods markets. Near noon December trade up to 11.33, January to 11.46 and March to 11.74, a recovery of 8 to 13 points from the earlier lows. Around mid-afternoon prices bulged sharply, making new highs on a reported exporting of large amounts of cotton by the cooperatives. December advanced to 11.40, January to 11.57 and March to 11.80, or 17 to 19 points above the early lows. All of this gain was later lost on selling by ring traders for a reaction in advance of the holiday here on Saturday, prices dropping practically to the lows. The close was at or near the bottom at net losses for the day of 10 points on the active months.

Port receipts 72,969, for week 367,915, for season 4,391,446, last season 4,151,195. Exports 29,045, for week 129,687, for season 2,093,113, last season 1,977,130. Port stocks 3,659,269, last year 2,341,293. Combined shipboard stock at New Orleans, Galveston and Houston 171,910, last year 206,771. Spot sales at southern markets 44,929, last year 42,724.

Futures closed steady at net decline of 9 to 10 points:

General List Yields Moderately Under Selective Selling Movement

By BROADAN WALL

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (US)—The stock market today closed lower, but again it was evident that concentrated pressure existed against a limited group of stocks whose individual situations were unfavorably regarded.

While this selling was under way, the general list yielded moderately yet the average setback was insufficient to warrant the statement of widespread liquidation. It was rather a selective selling movement in which bearish operations succeeded only in special situations. Their success was undisputed in a few issues, such as Coca Cola, which broke over 11 points, Canada Dry, which sold down five points at one stage, and a few other similar specialties.

Perhaps the most disturbing weakness of the day was a five-point reaction at the low in American Telephone and Telegraph, but the disposition was to ascribe weakness in this prime issue and in several others to "tax-selling." The commodities failed to extend cheer, selling generally lower. Money furnished some satisfaction to the optimistic fundamentals, by remaining at 2 per cent in the face of the usual month-end demands. However, money has failed as a potent factor stock marketwise, up to the present at least.

Exceptional decline in Coca Cola unsettled the entire list. It represented further proof of the changed character of the market, so frequently commented upon here, where it has been stated that any issues seemingly "out-of-line" with the main body of the market, would attract bearish activity. The argument of the bears on Coca Cola is the same as that applied to Eastman Kodak and the other high-priced specialties: its ratio to earnings is unwarrantedly high. The prohibition question enters into the selling of Coca Cola, with the firming of sugar prices also stressed. Coca Cola's weakness obviously need not reflect a general situation, except in its significance of the influence of the price-ratio factor.

Selling of Bethlehem Steel, which approached its former low, was more important. Weakness in this issue reflected expectations which were fully confirmed in the quarterly statement of the corporation, showing earnings for the September period of 63 cents a share, against the $1.50 quarterly dividend which, incidentally, was maintained. Nine-months' per share net was $5.09, so that it is reasonable to assume the dividend for the full year will not be covered. The stock, however, is selling to yield about 8½ per cent on the current dividend, and even on a $5 rate would yield 7 per cent, while on a $4 basis the yield would be close to 6 per cent.

Steel common could not surmount the pressure in Bethlehem, and further weakness in Republic Steel preferred, which declined to a yield basis almost of 12 per cent, very plainly indicating uncertainty regarding the dividend. The remarks of Bethlehem's president indicated that no early revival in the industry is looked for.

National Dairy Products was rather an exception to the general trend, scoring a slight fractional advance on reports that the company is planning another acquisition, probably involving a Maryland dairy property. The Copper shares as a group displayed the greatest firmness, as optimism increased over the prospects for successful outcome of the negotiations seeking international cooperation in the industry. The foreign representatives are understood to be in more reasonable mood than ever before to proposals seeking correction of the evils responsible for the prevailing low prices.

United Aircraft dipped to a new low, but met greater support than on previous days. Buying of this stock is not predicated on any immediate improvements in profits, the management being content to enjoy the prestige of being probably the only leading aviation enterprise to show a net profit for the year. The important factor in Aircraft is the disposition to write-off every possible charge, bringing inventories to an absolute minimum level, so that the company will be in powerful position to enjoy the full benefits of the revival in the industry when it develops.

While the rumors growing out of nervousness continue to spread of overhanging difficulties, fundamental position of the market improves without interruption. The further decline of $101,000,000 in brokerage loans reported by the federal reserve, to the lowest total since June, 1926, is concrete evidence of this improvement. The market continues dominated by the "selective selling" movement seeking out "soft spots." Investment demand exists, but is not hurried.

'Achievement Day' Set In Breckenridge Saturday

Special to The Record News.

BRECKENRIDGE, Texas, Oct. 30.—Plans for conducting the annual achievement day for Stephens county 4-H club girls and boys here Saturday are rapidly taking shape, according to Frank Lochridge, county farm agent.

On achievement day, rural boys and girls meet at the Breckenridge city hall where they exhibit their year's work and receive prize awards from the local chamber of commerce.

Mr. Lochridge said that a program was being planned which calls for short talks from the youths and from local business men.

There are 500,000 children in Chicago's public schools.

Grain

TEXAS CASH GRAIN

FORT WORTH, Oct. 30. (AP)—Trade on the cash grain market continued slow today with dealers upset by the gyrations of the contract markets which, however, were not followed fully by cash prices. Mills were bidding nominally 86@87c for No. 1 hard wheat of any protein delivered Texas common points. Other grains were very slow with prices largely nominal. Grain sorghums reaching market are still carrying a heavy moisture content and are grading poorly as a consequence.

Estimated receipts—Wheat, 3 cars; corn, 10; oats, 1; barley, 2, and sorghums, 4.

Corn—No. 2 mixed 87@88c, No. 2 white or yellow 89@90c.

Oats—No. 2 red, according to seed quality, 49½@51½c. No. 3 white delivered Texas group one points 48¼@48½c.

Barley—No. 2 nominally 64@65c.

Sorghums—No. 2 milo per 100 pounds $1.55@1.60; No. 2 kaffir $1.35@1.37.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—Bigger receipts of corn in Chicago led to a lower finish for prices of all cereals today, especially of corn itself. Coincident with the downward sweep of corn values was word that the federal farm board coarse grain advisory committee has been called to meet Nov. 17 to consider reports of importations of foreign corn and barley into the United States. There was also a late announcement that 240,000 bushels of rye were being brought back from a Canadian port to Chicago.

Closing quotations on corn were heavy at the day's bottom level, ⅝@1⅝c a bushel lower than yesterday's finish. Wheat closed unchanged to ½c down, oats ¼@⅜c off, and provisions unchanged to a setback of 10c.

Right from the outset corn prices were headed downward. The arrivals of corn in Chicago showed a decided increase, totaling 209 cars, against 131 cars a week ago and 105 cars at this time last year. Furthermore, advices were at hand that there would be plenty of corn moving from Nebraska, and that the western part of the state had more corn than for five years.

In the face of corn market depression, the wheat market not only failed to hold rallies but suffered from stoploss selling as the day drew to an end. Earlier, wheat had averaged higher owing largely to advices indicating possible shrinkage of the Argentine wheat crop because of rust and also on account of frost danger.

Provisions went lower, responsive to downturns both of hog values and of grain.

Closing indemnities: Wheat—December 76⅞c, 78⅛@78¼c; March 81c, 82⅝c; May 82⅝@82⅞c, 84⅝c. Corn—December 73⅝c, 75⅛@76c; March 77c, 79c; May 79⅝@79½c, 81⅛c.

PIT NOTES

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (US)—Evidences of increased demand for Canadian wheat were a supporting factor under the wheat market today. Smaller Russian shipments and some concern in export circles over the rust reports from South America were given as reasons for the growing interest in Manitobas.

While the corn market was extremely weak, indications are that there is a large eastern demand. It makes its appearance on all the setbacks and serves to temper bearish enthusiasm.

A generous movement of corn with the unfavorable husking reports that have been received would tend to suggest a heavier feeding of substitutes on the farms and sale of the most marketable of the commodities.

The Canadian pool is reported to have dropped the initial payment on barley another five cents a bushel effective tomorrow.

With the recent covering of shorts in the Liverpool market because of the reports of Argentine rust, Broomhall notes a contraction in the open interest in that market.

Livestock

MIDWESTERN LIVESTOCK

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 30. (AP) (U.S.D.A.)—Cattle trade around the 11-market circuit was depressed by fairly liberal supplies and a sharply lower dressed beef market. Most all markets reported an extremely dull trade on slaughter cattle with prices generally 25@50c lower. Highly finished yearlings held about steady with 747-pound mixed yearlings in Chicago scoring $13.50. At the river markets short fed western steers turned at $7.75@9.50 and a spread of $5.00@7.50 took bulk of the straight grassers. Aggregate receipts were estimated at 32,000.

Opening hog trade was on a 10@25c lower basis but on late rounds at most points the full 25c decline was enforced. The day's extreme top of $9.50 was paid both a. Chicago and St. Louis. Offerings were around 90,000.

The supply of sheep approximated 61,200. Killing calses were unevenly steady to 25c higer. Chicago had a top of $8.50 on native lambs and realized $8.40 on rangers. Choice range lambs at Kansas City and St. Joseph made $7.75.

TEXAS LIVESTOCK

FORT WORTH, Oct. 30. (AP)—Livestock trading here today was very slow and values were inclined to be sharply lower.

Weighty bulls were $4.50 and down; light bulls around $3.25. Yearlings sold from $6.00@8.00. Cows went at prices from 25@50c lower. Canners sold from $2.25@2.65; cutters around $2.75 and butcher cows from $3.00@3.75. Fat cows went at $5.00@5.50.

Slaughter calves sold around 25c lower. Steer calves sold at $7.40 and mixed heifer and steer calves at $7.00 and down.

Truck hogs sold strong to 15c higher with a top of $9.35. Packing sows sold from $7.25@7.50.

Sheep were steady with some shorn fat yearlings at $5.25 and some shorn fat wethers at $4.50. Fat goats at $2.50.

FORT WORTH, Oct. 30. (UP)—Hogs—Receipts 1,000 truck hogs strong to 15c higher; no good rail hogs offered; low grade rail butchers $8.40; truck top $9.35; bulk $9.10@9.25; packing sows $7.50; choice light $9@9.35; choice medium $9.15@9.35; and choice heavy $8.25@9.25.

Cattle—Receipts 3,500; slaughter steers scarce, slow to lower; around $6.00 down; trade in other classes poorly tested; good fat cows $5@5.25; stock calves, quotably steady, well bred steer calves $7.40; better mixed stock calves $6.75@7.00; heavies $6.00.

Sheep—Receipts 1,500; steady; shorn fat lambs and yearlings $6.00; good shorn fat yearlings $5.25; shorn fat wethers, mixed ages, $4.50; fat goats $2.50.

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (INS)—Hogs—Receipts 37,000, 10 to 20c lower; top $9.50; bulk $8@9.40; heavy $9.30@9.50; medium $9.35@9.50; light $9@9.30; light lights $8.90@9.15; packing cows $7.60@8.70; pigs $8.25@9.00; holdovers 8,000.

STOCKS GAIN AT REFINERIES

Seasonal Increase in Stored Products Starts

Special to The Record News

TULSA, Okla., Oct. 31.—Stocks of gasoline at Mid-Continent refineries apparently have started to make their customary gains for the fall season. Analytical figures compiled by economists and refiners shows that gasoline stocks showed a gain of 4 per cent, totalling 95,109,000 gallons for the week of Oct. 24, some 3,661,000 gallons more than for the week of Oct. 17.

Gains occurred in all of the states, viz: (Figures in thousands of gallons):

	Past Week	Prev. Week
Oklahoma	36,988	36,721
Kansas	13,333	12,972
N. C. Texas	26,093	24,880
West Texas	10,348	8,940
La.-Ark.	8,347	8,935
Totals	95,109	91,448

Shipments of gasoline declined 8.7 per cent, averaging 44,359,000 gallons for the district, against 48,567,000 gallons the previous week. Oklahoma refiners shipped 17,397,000 gallons; North Central Texas 8,611,000 gallons; North Louisiana-Arkansas, 8,347,000 gallons, and West Texas 2,245,000 gallons.

Crude oil runs to stills fell off eight-tenths of one per cent, averaging 305,976 barrels a day, against 308,536 barrels a day the week before. Other oils processed, averaged 34,396 barrels a day, compared with 35,283 barrels a day. Runs of crude by states:

State—	Past Week	Prev. Week
Oklahoma	101,274	92,093
Kansas	55,718	59,631
N. C. Texas	72,891	67,141
West Texas	33,694	43,223
La.-Ark	42,399	46,448
Totals	305,976	308,536

Production of kerosene declined 7.7 per cent, averaging 5,461,000 gallons; shipments increased 5.2 per cent, being 5,775,000 gallons. Stocks declined 1.2 per cent, to 24,200,000 gallons.

Stocks of stove distillate gained, while those of gas oil and fuel oil declined.

DRY GOODS MARKET

NEW YORK, Oct. 30. (AP)—Cotton goods were firm today and activity was broadening into more of the finished and unfinished lines. Rayon prices were somewhat irregular with a fair volume of business being done on 150 denier for lining fabrics. Raw silk was easier and quiet. Silk merchandise for fall was in moderate demand. It is now expected that curtailment of burlap production in Calcutta mills will continue until March at least. More sales of spot goods in woolen markets were reported.

Committees Named For Vernon Drive

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Texas, Oct. 30.—Fifteen committees of two men each were named at a meeting of the Wilbarger County Welfare association committee to conduct a one-day drive for funds for 1931, Rev. E. L. Moore, chairman, said.

The treasurer's report revealed that the association had spent $3,726 in 1930 with a balance on hand of $400, discounting present obligations. The 1931 budget was set at $3,500 with the expectation of raising the entire amount. "It will take every cent of it or more to take care of calls expected this winter," Reverend Moore said.

The drive will be launched Wednesday, Nov. 5, and every effort will be made to complete it in one day. The business men named on the committees to conduct the drive will meet at the Liberty cafe here Tuesday evening, Nov. 4, to complete plans for the campaign to be conducted the following day.

ELECTRICITY SALES

CHICAGO, Oct. 30. (AP)—The Middle West Utilities system reported today that for the first eight months of 1930 residential sales of electricity increased 22.5 per cent over the same period of last year. Rural sales increased 46.6 per cent. Large power sales were 6.2 per cent ahead.

PARADE LAUNCHES ANNUAL FLOWER CARNIVAL

SHOW BOOTHS OPEN TODAY

Pretty Girls and Baby Austin Win Prize

By MRS. L. N. CASON
The Record News

An American Austin covered with brilliant flowers and adorned beside with two pretty girls in old-fashioned flowing tulle frocks was the winning car in the parade that inaugurated the Forum Flower carnival Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Stafford Helm was at the wheel with Herman Smith beside him and Madelyn McCarty and Roberta Shaw were the pretty girls atop the baby car.

Mayor Walter Nelson, Temple Shell and L. T. Burns were judges and the Austin driven by Misses Margaret Peery and Dolores Peavey received honorable mention and much attention. Many beautiful cars were among those in the parade as Graham Paige, Chrysler, Chevrolet, Dodge, Ford and Fritz Motor company furnished their latest models.

Paul Seeds' "Les Cavalleros" gave the music for the parade. The handsome uniforms were an added attraction and people crowded the sidewalks to watch the boys striding manfully along with perfect time and rhythm. Dicky Seeds and Bobby Burns, youngsters of 8 and 9 years, had some "hurrahs" all their own.

All Ready for Friday

Inside the King building, 1012 Scott avenue, people were as busy Thursday as the proverbial bees in the hive. The enormous space that looked somewhat bare on Wednesday had taken on colors of yellow and orange and maroon. Great panels of everlasting flowers ordered by D. L. Fritz and loaned for the flower carnival, stood against the walls and adorned the corners.

Tables were set in the dining room and luncheon was served to a number of workers and visitors Thursday. Friday, the real carnival will be on and everything is to be seen from the Panhandle display, the booth where Featherston-Hawkins and Vague have their white Austin enshrined, the radio and the special "midway features" the Texas Electric company display, fashions, to the cakes and pies and candies.

Mrs. Thomas D. Moore, who is special buyer for the forum during the carnival has received many gifts during the last day of the preparation. Among these are: Bowie Sash and Door company, heavy building paper; Empire company, wrapping paper; McAfee Produce, all lettuce and cabbage to be used in the tea room; Mrs. Evans, a gallon of Maid Well dressing; Renfro Drug, box of gum, box of bar candy and ball of twine; Wolff Brothers Cigar company, several cartons of matches; P. B. M. company, blue ribbon for the prizes; Armour company, two hams which White House Market baked; Merchants Biscuit company, biscuits for tea room; Bert Bean Coffee company, all coffee to be used in tea room.

Merchant's Booth Display

Mrs. James P. Bowen, in charge of the merchants' booth for the writers department stresses the splendid cooperation of local merchants; all but four gifts, a handsome piece of Spode, two toilet sets and a kitchen clock, were given locally. Donations are as follows:

John L. Jones Furniture company, bathroom stove; Wichita Cigar and Tobacco company, cedar chest; Zale Jewelry, string of pearls; Art Jewelry, pieces of silver; Kruger Jewelry company, silver bonbon dish; Nunn Electric company, automatic electric toaster; Southwestern Paint and Glass company, mirror; The Decorators, mirror; Wichita Hardware company, smoker; Wichita Wire and Iron company, iron trellis; Railey Printing company, tooled leather purse; Cargill Book and Stationery store, make-up box; Lovelace Book store, handsomely bound volume of Shakespeare; Wichita Seating company, folding iron chair; Brown Cracker and Candy company, three boxes of chocolates; Buchanan Office Supply, bronze desk set; Miller Clock company, handsome kitchen clock; Roger-Gallet, two toilet sets; Copeland & Thompson, Spode bowl; Wichita Falls Tent and Awning company, lawn chair; J. H. Littekin, concrete lawn jardeniere; Humphrey Printing company, tickets; Publix Theaters, all signs needed; Wichita Falls Pattern company, several wooden ice bowls.

Mrs. C. P. Burton will be in charge of the candy booth which will be directly between the cold drink and the pie and cake booths. Junior Forum girls will assist in sales of candy. Assisting will be Mesdames Bob Moore, Woodward Bass, E. A. Brosch, Irvin J. Vogel, and Misses Mary Lou Hull, Marjorie Bright, Mary Tancred, Alice Marrs, Mathilda Donnell, Mary Clare Burton, Jennie Louise Hindman, Maretta Hunt, Louise Nickell, Christine Burton, Amy Meredith, Marguerite Peery and Delores Peavy.

Cooperation Stressed

Cooperation of the business men of the city has been particularly stressed since the first plans for the Flower Carnival began. Florists were working Thursday to make the exhibit sponsored by the Garden club just as attractive as their own superb plants.

The Wichita Mill and Elevator company had made the tea room workers happier by donating all the flour needed. Penney, Kress, Woolworth, McCrory and Silver all donated liberally. Mesdames Newton Maer, Claude Woods, William Huff and Carrie Joline who have been working all day each day, prophesy the greatest of the autumn celebrations.

Ligon Smith Orchestra Sought for C.-C. Dance

Plans for the Junior chamber of commerce fall dance were discussed at a meeting of the social committee Thursday afternoon, according to T. J. Waggoner Jr., chairman.

The definite date of the event was to have been decided at the meeting Thursday, but due to efforts being made to secure Ligon Smith's orchestra, which is playing in Fort Worth, the exact date of the dance probably will not be known until Friday, it was said. If the Ligon Smith orchestra is available, it is planned to make the date of the dance conform to one suitable to the orchestra.

City Manager Lectures Students on Government

City Manager George D. Fairtrace's office was turned into a school room for about an hour Thursday morning when he lectured the eighth grade from the Mankins school on "City Government." Following the lecture the students asked questions pertaining to the lecture.

STATE: Betty Compson and Lowell Sherman in "Midnight Mystery." Cartoon, comedy, serial and sound news.

MAJESTIC: "Doughboys" with Buster Keaton and Cliff Edwards. Short subjects and news.

For a good ghastly Halloween picture, see "Midnight Mystery" at the State. It will be as efficacious as mince pie in producing nightmares, and who ever heard of a peaceful sleep on Halloween night?

It is mystery in the new light style, and yet as horrible as any of the old thrillers. There is murder, suicide, a deathbed confession and a good old gruesome setting in a thunderstorm on an island, where the madman has the only gun and the key to the only boat.

And yet there is the humorous touch that has been in movie mysteries ever since Philo Vance got started with Eugene Pallette as his yes-man. Lowell Sherman is an adept at the nonchalant murderer's style.

Even if Betty Compson does look as if she had either just had her face lifted or her tonsils removed, she still has the ability to put over real dramatics. She has learned to keep her head high and thus not betray the none too youthful chin, and she deserves considerable credit for plugging away and making a success in the talkies as well as in silent films. Few have been stars in both.

There is a moral—perhaps two of them. One is aimed at the practical joker. The other, infinitely more important, is based on the truth of the fact that you can call a woman ugly, awkward or immoral (not that it is advisable) and probably get away with it, but no one ever gets away with making fun of a woman's work. As Dorothy Parker rhymed it—"But say my verses do not scan, and I get me another man!" The tip is free.

A Krazy Kat comedy, the regular Rin-Tin-Tin hair-raising serial, another comedy and the regular news feature complete the bill. The cartoon is exceptionally good.

Court Names Cases For Trial Nov. 10

Criminal cases for trial before Judge P. A. Martin in the 79th district court during the week beginning Nov. 10 were set Thursday by District Attorney Sam B. Spence as follows:

Sam Parks, forgery and theft over $50; Alfred Jennings, theft over $50; Carl Holcomb, burglary and chicken theft; Jesse Ellison, negro, murder; C. H. Acker, John Williams, Roy Allen, Ray Fowler and T. J. Cossey, liquor cases; Jake Stephenson, theft over $50; J. R. Criswell, arson; A. C. Varner, bond forfeiture; Arthur Fraley, burglary of a private residence; Clara Lane, whisky case; J. H. Brower, swindling; and W. S. Clark, forgery.

FOUR CITIES IN ROAD MEETING

Tulsa and Lawton to Join Caravan to Wichita

Citizens of Tulsa and Lawton, Okla., will accompany the large delegation from Oklahoma City to be here Nov. 14 to meet with chamber of commerce officials and others interested to formulate plans for the continuance of the pavement from Lawton to the free bridge across Red river at Burkburnett, according to announcement Thursday by John Boswell, manager of the chamber of commerce.

The proposed continuation of the pavement is to fill in the unpaved portion between Lawton and the river, which on its completion will give an all-weather highway from Wichita Falls to Oklahoma City and Tulsa. The highway, it was explained, is very important from a military standpoint and last year was named a U. S. highway due to its strategic route from Fort Sill to the Mexican border. For this reason, federal aid will probably be given in paving the strip between Lawton and Burkburnett.

A large number of former residents of Oklahoma City have agreed to form a part of the reception committee to meet and greet the visitors next month at the state line, it was announced by Mr. Boswell, who requested that any residents of Oklahoma City now in Wichita Falls communicate with the chamber of commerce here.

CITY RETIRES BONDS

A check for $34,000 covering bonds issued in 1920 for general improvements will be mailed Friday to the Central Hanover Bank and Trust company in New York City, it was announced by W. E. McBroom, city clerk.

Payment of $5,000 worth of water and sewer extension bonds will also be made Friday, Mr. McBroom said. The water and sewer bonds were made in 1920 for the purpose of extending the water and sewer lines to the Highland addition during that year.
