U.N. Pushing Toward Vote On India Plan

UNITED NATIONS (P) — The United Nations pushed toward a vote today on India's Communist-condemned plan for ending the Korean War. With U. S. support pledged, its adoption in the face of bitter Soviet bloc opposition was expected by an overwhelming majority.

Despite the rejection by Peiping, Moscow and Pyongyang, the Indian compromise prisoner of war resolution was being shoved through by the non-Communist nations to place responsibility for throwing down a Korean peace squarely on the shoulders of the Reds.

Final Argument Ready
India's V. K. Krishna Menon, who drafted and introduced the resolution, was to give his final arguments—apparently in another attempt to overcome the Communist objections—before the General Assembly's Political Committee this afternoon.

Committee Chairman Joao Carlos Muniz of Brazil told the delegates yesterday he was eager to have a vote on the Indian resolution during today's session as soon as Menon speaks.

Secretary of State Dean Acheson let it be known through a spokesman yesterday that the U. S. delegation has accepted the changes Menon has made in his resolution spelling out in more detail the final destination of prisoners who resist repatriation to their Red-ruled homelands.

Demanding Changes
The Americans had demanded these changes before supporting the Indian plan. As amended, it calls for a repatriation commission to take charge of all prisoners, and for the U. N. to take over the resettling of POWs not repatriated within five months after a Korean truce. U. S. support and that of the 20 Allies who co-sponsored an American resolution on Korea assured the passage of the Indian plan by a wide margin.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Vishinsky also has introduced amendments to the Indian resolution. Western delegates charged yesterday they only transformed it into Russia's own demand that all prisoners must be forced to go home whether they want to or not.

Texas Death Toll Hits 11

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Traffic pushed the violent death toll upward early Friday and Thursday night after the long Thanksgiving Day week end had started calmly.

The traffic count early Friday stood at nine dead and several critically injured and near death. Two persons died from burns.

Thousands of automobiles on the highways for football games and holiday visiting were expected to push the traffic death toll higher today.

The nation's accidental death toll over the Thanksgiving holiday, it appeared today, was the lowest since 1946.

A survey showed 85 persons were killed in traffic accidents and 22 lost their lives from miscellaneous causes during a 30-hour period. The 107 total compared with 135 last year and the 1950 record Thanksgiving holiday toll of 201.

Cold weather and snowpacked and icy highways kept thousands of motorists off the highways and the cut in travel was partially credited with reducing the traffic toll.

This year's traffic toll compared with 102 last year; 94 in 1950; 123 in 1949; 86 in 1948; 107 in 1947 and 69 in 1946.

Woman Attacked By Slasher In Critical Condition

DALLAS (P) — The wife of a socially prominent Dallas doctor was slashed repeatedly about the body, arms and legs by a Negro servant last night at her country home near Carrollton.

Mrs. Margaret Nesbit, 33, was in "fair" condition in a hospital today. Attendants said Mrs. Nesbit, wife of widely-known pediatrician Dr. Harold T. Nesbit, had responded remarkably to treatment.

She had gone to the back door to speak to the Negro servant who lived in quarters behind the home.

36 Dead, Missing In Flaming Plane Crash

Witnesses Helpless To Answer Cries

TACOMA, Wash. (AP) — A four-engined military plane from Alaska crashed in flames in a field south of here shortly after midnight and 36 of the 39 aboard were believed dead.

While scattered fires still marked the scene of the post-holiday tragedy, Deputy Pierce County Coroner Larry Amundsen said 36 were dead or missing.

The plane carried servicemen and dependents. The bodies of four babies were among those found scattered at the scene of the disaster.

At least two witnesses to the tragedy said the plane was afire as it "whooshed" down to a tree-flanked field about a mile from its destination at McChord Air Force Base.

Capt. Jack Easley, public information officer at McChord, said the early reports to the base indicated the plane struck a tree while coming in through the heavy fog for a ground-control approach landing.

All but a section of the tail was destroyed in the resulting fire and explosion. Bodies were scattered over 200 feet from the wreckage.

The crash added to the toll of a disastrous three weeks for military transport aviation around the North Pacific rim.

If the death toll stands at 36 in today's crash, it makes a total of 198 dead or presumed dead along the arc from Korea to Alaska to McChord and Montana. The total includes 91 on three big crashes in Alaska, 55 in two Korea crashes, eight in Montana and eight in a Canadian crash on Vancouver Island.

First witnesses at the scene said they could hear the heart-rending cries of a baby in the burning wreckage. They were helpless to do anything about it.

Many of the passengers were returning to the states for the year-end holidays. The C54 left Fairbanks yesterday morning, stopped at Elmendorf Base at Anchorage, then flew the 1,400 miles to McChord.

Ironically, only the fog kept the plane's occupants from seeing the lights and safety of the big McChord Field before the crash.

The crash scene was strewn with personal belongings. There were many packages indicating the passengers had been shopping, possibly for Christmas, before they started the ill-fated flight.

Hats and clothes were thrown about the field in disarray. Some were partially burned.

Most of the fire was in the forward part of the plane. The tail section and about half the fuselage remained almost intact after being ripped apart by the death-dealing blast.

Names of the dead were not immediately available. The names of the survivors were not known either.

The storm that began rushing through the Panhandle Sunday night brought snow, rain, sleet and combinations of them—totaling seven inches of snow and .73 of an inch of moisture.

All main highways servicing Pampa are reported open to two-way traffic today, although they are considered icy and treacherous. Some county and farm-to-market roads are open to one-way traffic only, according to state highway department engineers.

No planes have landed at Perry Field since Monday and today's morning flight to Oklahoma was cancelled. A county airport officials said, is expected to have the runways and the road to the field cleared early this afternoon.

Best off of all are the county's school-goers who—except for those in McLean, can gambol on Pampa's icy wastes till Monday.

From the Panhandle to the Rio Grande, the Associated Press reported, the weather bureau predicts, light rains, freezing in some places and mixed with snow or sleet in others.

Forecast for all West Texas today was cooler than normal, warmer Saturday and colder again Sunday and Monday.

Pampa mercury has run a seven-degree gamut from a high Thursday of 25 to a low early this morning of 18. At 11:30 a.m. the temperature was 24 degrees.

Both Stevens and Livesay admitted they robbed Blocher after the execution.

Stevens, 51, Amarillo, smelter worker, had been scheduled for execution the night of Oct. 31, but seven hours before he was to walk his last mile, Gov. Allan Shivers signed a 30-day stay. This was to allow a new appeal for clemency, which failed.

Stevens and Thomas Livesay, 30, Amarillo, were convicted of murder in the robbery and fatal beating of Joshua Blocher. The 65-year-old eccentric was beaten to death in his cabin in the small community of Progress, which he founded in Bailey County. Livesay was given a life sentence.

Officials Baffled Winnie Ruth Escapes Again

PHOENIX, Ariz. (P) — The out-again-in-again trunk murderer, Winnie Ruth Judd, led searchers a baffling chase today after her sixth escape from the State Hospital for the Insane.

Red-haired Winnie squirmed out through a sawed window screen last night.

With her customary craftiness, she left nothing to show just how she circumvented the many precautions taken to keep her in.

It was her second escape this year from the hospital where she has been confined since 1933.

In 1931 she killed two girl friends and shipped their dismembered bodies to Los Angeles as baggage.

She was sentenced to be hanged but was found insane just 72 hours before she was scheduled to go to the gallows.

Her flight last night set off a frantic search not only for 48-year-old Winnie but for an unknown accomplice or accomplices.

"She had help some way or other to make the escape," said Dr. M. W. Conway, hospital superintendent.

Sheriff's Lt. Frank Mitchell agreed. "She definitely had help," he said.

Mitchell led a band of officers and hospital attendants on an unproductive search of the dark, shrub-dotted asylum grounds.

This, Dr. Conway said, is how Winnie got out:

Sorry, Kids, Santa Postpones His Visit

Mr. and Mrs. Santa Claus are snowed in. According to a cablegram received here the couple will not be able to do here for their pre-Christmas visit.

In accordance with the message the Chamber of Commerce Merchants Activities Committee, sponsor of city holiday activities, has postponed the Christmas party and program scheduled for 7 p. m. today.

Sons Keep Mother's Body Unburied For Two Years

DETROIT (P) — Authorities today sought to determine the cause of death of an 87-year-old woman whose body was kept for two years by her two sons in an upstairs room of her home in Detroit's Eastern Market district.

Police made the macabre discovery of the skeleton of Mrs. Emily Lemersal yesterday during an investigation of reports that all was not well at the Lemersal home.

When police attempted to enter the rundown house, one of the two sons, Stanley, 55, shot himself. He was found mortally wounded on a bed in another room.

Stanley, before he died, said he and his brother, Russell, 50, kept the body of their mother because they did not have funds to bury her.

Covered With Rags
Mrs. Lemersal's skeleton was found on a bed. The skeleton had been covered with old rags. Police said Russell who was arrested Wednesday, was held without charge for questioning.

Howard Schumann, 55, a nephew of Mrs. Lemersal, told police he had heard rumors that his aunt was dead. He said the two brothers had barricaded themselves in the house and refused to talk with him.

The mystery deepened as police began asking questions of neighbors. Neighbors hadn't seen Mrs. Lemersal for two years. (See SONS KEEP, Page 2)

CIO Officials Confer With Ike On 'Welfare Of Labor'

NEW YORK (AP) — A group of top-ranking officials of the CIO conferred today with President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower on the "welfare of labor" in his forthcoming administration.

Joseph Curran, president of the National Maritime Union, told reporters as the group entered the general's Hotel Commodore headquarters that "we have some recommendations to make" concerning "the welfare of labor."

Asked if the group would recommend a secretary of labor — one of the two cabinet posts still unfilled in the incoming administration — Curran replied:

"We have no recommendations on that."

The group, besides Curran, included Allen S. Haywood, executive vice president of the CIO; James B. Carey, secretary-treasurer; Arthur J. Goldberg, general counsel; Jacob S. Potofsky, president of the Amalgamated Clothing Workers; Emil Rieve, president of the Textile Workers; David J. McDonald, acting president of the United Steel Workers; and Walter P. Reuther, president of the United Automobile, Aircraft, Agricultural Implement Workers of America.

Earlier, Mrs. Vijaya Lakshmi Pandit, head of the Indian delegation to the United General Assembly, conferred briefly with Eisenhower. She said she had known the general for several years and that her visit was purely social. She declined all further comment.

Ike Names Press Sec.
Yesterday Eisenhower designated James C. Hagerly as press secretary and retired Maj. Gen. Wilton B. Persons as special assistant.

Selection of the two executive aides was announced yesterday by Eisenhower's headquarters while he rested at his home preparing for what promises to be a heavy week end schedule.

Included in the round of appointments today were meetings with India's top United Nations delegate and CIO chiefs.

The 43-year-old Hagerly was at his home in Albany, N. Y., with his wife and two sons when informed of his appointment.

Another Due Following Day . . . Execution Slated Sunday For Killer Of Panhandle Recluse

HUNTSVILLE (P) — Lester Stevens, convicted of murder in the 12-cent robbery and fatal beating of a Panhandle recluse, is scheduled to die in the electric chair Sunday night.

On the following night — shortly after midnight Monday — another execution is scheduled. The doomed man the second night is Alton Paris, Negro father of 13 children. He killed a wildlife biologist who caught him shooting ducks on an East Texas game preserve.

Stevens, 51, Amarillo, smelter worker, had been scheduled for execution the night of Oct. 31, but seven hours before he was to walk his last mile, Gov. Allan Shivers signed a 30-day stay. This was to allow a new appeal for clemency, which failed.

Auto Taken In Burglary

Somebody is driving around today in a three-year-old automobile, following the burglary of Plains Motor Co., 113 N. Frost, and the attempted burglary of W.Y. Stationery, 119 N. Frost.

Taken sometime Wednesday night, police think, the car was not discovered missing till early Thanksgiving afternoon. Stolen was a '49 coupé.

First discovered was a broken window at the rear of the stationery store. Two iron bars, stretching across the window between the brick sides, had been tipped out and used to break the window.

But the break-in next door in the car agency was not known till about 2:15 p.m. Police Chief Jim Conner said, when the owner, Jim Cornutt, notified police. Evidently, police figure, the bars were used to break in the agency window, too.

Nothing else was reported stolen.

11 Czechs Facing Death On Gallows

VIENNA, Austria (AP) — Eleven former Czechoslovak Communist leaders — including architects of the coup that swept their country into the Soviet orbit today — faced death on the gallows as confessed traitors to their country.

Heading the list as convicted ringleaders in a "Zionist-Trotskyist" plot to overthrow their pro-Moscow government, are Rudolph Slansky, former secretary general of Czech Communist party, and former Foreign Minister Vlado Clementis. All but three of the 11 are Jews.

Three other Jewish co-defendants were given life prison sentences yesterday at the close of a week-long purge trial in Prague. The trial marked the virtual anti-Semitism and an obvious attempt to blame the group for Czechoslovakia's failure to fulfill Russian requisitions for supplies and war materials.

BIRTHDAY SUITS—Oldest and newest dress uniforms of the United States Marine Corps are modeled by two Marines at the Capitol, in Washington, as part of the Corps' celebration of its founding 177 years ago on Nov. 10. One vestige of the old uniform remains in token form in the light collar of the blouse. It was originally a leather neck-stock, which protected the wearer from sword cuts, and gave to the Corps their nickname of "Leathernecks."

NAVY

(Continued From Page One) tember cast grave doubts on the effectiveness of aircraft carriers. As if in reply, meanwhile the official "Naval Aviation News" declared the aircraft carrier is essential to control of the sea, although both land and carrier based planes are needed to wage war successfully.

Kelly said Loosbrook's analysis strongly suggests the need for "re-evaluation of the carrier task force as a full-fledged weapons system."

Kelly, a vice president of Western Airlines, Los Angeles, said in his article that the "Boger's launching of pilotless planes" "proved nothing that hadn't been proved before." He added: "They were public relations missions pure and simple—and expensive ones, at that."

A Navy spokesman said Sept. 13 that the Helicat robots were only experimental and makes shift guided missiles. He said better ones were being developed.

SONS KEEP

(Continued From Page One) the sons had been seen to bury a box beside the house in the fall of 1950. Police said both sons were described as heavy drinkers.

Detectives found Mrs. Lemerzall's bones on a rusty bed. They were covered by a heap of rags. Detectives quoted Russell Lemerzall as saying that after his mother's death her pet spitz dog had refused to eat and died of starvation. "Of course," he told police, "we couldn't keep a dead dog around the house, so we put him in a big wooden box and buried him beside the house."

Grace Friend

Dear Madame:
Enclosed is a prayer for mothers in which, I thought, many of your readers would be interested.

Thank you for your kind attention.

A MOTHER'S PRAYER

Make me a wise mother, O Lord. Keep me calm and give me patience to bear the small, irritating things in the daily routine of life. Give me tolerance and understanding to bridge the gulf between my generation and that of my children.

Let me not be too ready to guide my children's stumbling feet, but allow me to be ever near to bind their bruises.

Give me a sense of humor that I may laugh with them but never at them.

Let me refrain from preaching with words. Keep me from forcing their confidences, but give me a sympathetic ear when my children come to me.

Help me to teach them that life must not be filled with compromises, but must be replete with victories.

Make me humble. Keep my children close to me, O Lord, though miles may separate us.

And let Thy light so shine upon me that they, too, will perceive Thy Glory. Amen.

PEN PAL
Dear Miss Friend
Could you tell me where I could get a pen pal?

I'm sure many people would be interested to know.

I prefer a French or Irish one if that makes any difference. Thank you in advance.

Little Girls Reaching Young Lady Status Begin To Want Frills And Furbelows

By ALICIA HART
NEA Beauty Editor
If you have a little girl about six years old, better prepare yourself for a sudden change from nursery habits to ideas befitting her young-lady status.

One of the first requests will probably revolve around her bedroom. This is the time in most youngsters' lives when they crave feminine fuss and furbelows. Of course, the fact you must face is that these delicate furnishings will make no difference in her eyes to bounce and climb as well as play with things that splatter and splash.

But don't despair. A little girl's room doesn't have to be fragile just because it looks that way. With the furnishings and materials available today, you can have easy-to-keep prettiness and durability in one package.

The best gauge of practicality is washability. If every inch of the youngster's room can be tubbed, sponged or sussed, it's bound to be as suited to the tomboy in her nature as to the sugar and spice.

There are a variety of ways to achieve hard-wearing fanciness. One of the best is glazed cotton chintz. Curtains in a flowered pattern, with matching dust ruffles for the bed, and a coverlet in plain, white, quilted, glazed cotton will give the youngster's room a "marshmallow" look she will love.

But even more important to you, spots and splatters can be removed from such materials with soapsuds and a soft sponge. Just squeeze the sponge through the suds and smooth it firmly over the spots. Rinse with the sponge rung out in clear, warm water.

When a complete laundry job is necessary, any of these items can be put in the washing machine. Ironing is easy because it's done on the right side to revive the surface of the glazed finish.

If you would like to contribute a dressing table to the little lady's room — just the right to punish was not so important as why we punished."

Thus, these successful people agreed upon only one thing. They agreed that to be effective, any action must have an effective idea behind it. They were telling us that any punishing action we take is only as enlightening as the idea it promotes.

Unless we know that successful shirking on home chores impairs Harry's happy trust in himself, we may not have an effective idea behind the punishment for shirking. If we force him to rake leaves because we are angry at him for leaving his chore to us, he may not be enlightened by our discipline, but he made resentful by it. What he gets out of raking leaves depends on how successful we are in convincing him that we are less interested in promoting our own convenience than we are in his self-respect.

So I cannot oblige the correspondent who wants me to recommend punishing actions to take against a defiant teen-age daughter. I have no way of knowing what idea she wants to promote to her daughter.

We're back at the old stand. No matter what action we take, we cannot persuade other people to believe as we do unless we have persuasive reasons for our beliefs.

Let's Get It Right

A semantic trick of left-wingers is to imply a distinction between "property rights" and "human rights," whereas property rights are basic human rights and such an implied distinction is false.

By implication, there are two sets of "rights," one belonging to human beings and the other to property which cannot have rights. Since human rights are more important, it is natural for the unwary to react in favor of "human rights."

Property rights are human rights. The implied distinction is false. The real difference is of another kind.

What are the "property rights" thus disparaged by being set apart from "human rights"? They are among the most ancient and basic of human rights, and among the most indispensable to freedom and progress. They are the prerogatives implicit in the elemental right to the product of one's labor, which men have always regarded instinctively as belonging to them almost as intimately and inseparably as their own bodies.

The ownership of property is the right for which, above all others, man has struggled through the centuries in his slow ascent from serfdom. It is the right for which he struggles today in countries emerging from feudalism.

The right to own property means the right to use it, to save it, to invest it for gain, and to transmit it to others. It means freedom from unreasonable search and seizure and from deprivation without due process of law or without just compensation. It might also be fairly taken to imply a guarantee against unjust or excessive taxation, because "the power to tax involves the power to destroy." For a like reason, it should imply assurance against debasement of the money in terms of which the property's value may be reckoned.

The "Bill of Rights" in the United States Constitution recognizes no distinction between property rights and other human rights.

The ban against unreasonable search and seizure covers "persons, houses, papers, and effects," without discrimination. No person may without due process of law, be deprived of "life, liberty, or property"; all are equally inviolable.

The Founding Fathers realized what some present-day politicians seem to have forgotten: that a man without property rights is not a free man.

Now what about the so-called "human rights" that are represented as superior to "property rights"? What about the "right" to a job, the "right" to a standard of living, the "right" to a minimum wage or a maximum work week, the "right" to a "fair" price, the "right" to bargain collectively, the "right" to security against the adversities and hazards of life, such as old age and disability?

Consider the "right" to a job. One man's "right" to a job implies an obligation on the part of someone else to give him a job. In an economy of private enterprise, a job arises from a voluntary contract entered into for the sake of mutual advantage. Has the employer a "right" to the market that enables him to offer the job?

So with other so-called "human rights." These are not rights in the constitutional sense but social programs which the government has undertaken or been asked to promote. These programs, unlike true rights, are selective, compulsive, complex, and experimental. Hence, they need to be carefully considered with due regard to the serious threats they may involve to the real and basic human rights that have enabled free men to build a great nation with the highest level of material well-being.

All Substitutes Fail

The political planners are always trying to "legislate" changes in the ancient, natural law of supply and demand. But that law seems to have a habit of keeping right on working, despite all the orders and regulations and pronouncements that come out of Washington.

The experience with meat prices during a very recent five-week period offers an interesting example of this. During those weeks, all wholesale meat prices declined and all reached levels below the legal ceilings. The result was better buys for the consumer at retail. Prices for the popular cuts generally have been under those of a year before.

There is nothing mysterious and nothing arbitrary about the law of supply and demand. To put it simply it works like this: When the supply of any commodity increases without any widespread increase in demand, the price tends to drop; when, on the other hand, the supply diminishes without an equivalent decrease in demand, the price tends to rise. And that is the reason why, in the case of products such as meat whose supply is strongly influenced by seasonal changes and conditions, the price we pay varies to a considerable extent in the course of a year.

That also indicates why political price controls, long enough continued, can actually stimulate inflation rather than minimize it. As world-wide experience shows, controls eventually discourage the producer and lead to a decrease in production. They breed scarcity. And when that happens, prices always zoom no matter what man-made law says, and more of the affected commodities pass out of the legitimate channels of trade and are diverted to the black markets.

The law of supply and demand has been in effect since civilizations began. An almost endless number of substitutes for it have been tried — and all have failed.

BETTER JOBS

By R. C. HOILES

Owning One's Body

I received a very interesting letter the other day from an ex-school teacher who really is an educator. She used to teach in Los Angeles, but she now lives in Texas. She has been having in her home her nephew, a son of her brother who is now deceased. The boy's mother is a Spaniard and lives in a Latin country. The nephew lives with his aunt part of the time to get English culture. The boy's older brother was educated in both the United States and Latin countries. Now listen to this:

"This year I have my youngest nephew with me, so I have a chance to present to him the individual-to-individual form of education in which I believe. Of course, we ran head-on into the tyranny of the public schools soon after he arrived. My nephew spent eleven minutes in the high school, which I have been forced to help finance for three years and my sister for thirty. He was sent home because he did not choose to be vaccinated. The refusal of school officials to discuss the issue was in line with your own experience. I believe I have studied vaccination more than any of these school officials. For I am a studious person, always eager to read, to discuss, and to learn. Yet I would never presume to say whether or not the children of these school officials should be vaccinated. They do so presume for the fact that they can collect my tax money no matter what I think of their performance gives them a feeling of irresponsible power. I am more troubled about the children who are in the school than these officials administer than about my nephew who is out of it. These children are being taught that they do not own their own bodies, and, by implication, that they do not own their own souls. I'm all for Texans' owning their own bodies if they don't own their own souls."

It is evident from the above that this woman is an American, a Christian and an educator. She couldn't put up with majority mob rule education any longer so in 1949 she resigned from the Los Angeles schools.

Communists In Schools

On the kind of education the youth is getting in majority rule education, the Human Events magazine of October 22 in an article written by Felix Wittmer under the heading of "Good Morning, Mr. Stevenson" has this to say:

"If there are Communist teachers," you said in the same speech in New York. Why the 'if,' Governor? Do you still have any doubt that our school systems, on all levels, are thick full of Communist and fellow-travelers? Don't you know that the Communist Party, itself, in a public report, has boasted of 1,200 dues-paying members who were employed in the school system in the City of New York alone? Do you live in fairyland, Governor?"

In the same article Mr. Wittmer addresses Mr. Stevenson as the "Socialist candidate for the American Presidency."

THE CURIOUS AMERICAN

By WILLIS E. STONE

Federal Judge Leon Yankelevich suddenly ordered the immediate trial of only two of the 1400 defendants in the federal government's Fairbrook (Calif.) water rights grab.

By this surprise move he added emphasis and urgency to the political device of creating a crisis for the sake of solving the crisis, always tending to add to the totalitarian nature of government by plundering the private rights of private people to private property.

The political contention in this case is that the range to be allotted the suit to determine the water rights of the land purchased for the Camp Pendleton installation. While this sounds fine, it just isn't so. The water rights attached to the purchased land were well identified and have never been contested. It is the water rights of the civilian community, which have belonged to the farms for more than a century, which is now being politically attacked.

In calling for this sudden trial, Judge Yankelevich contended that the suit could not be settled with a congressional bill to preserve personal property rights. This is a new angle of tyranny — to deny the right of the legislature to legislate.

He also made a pronouncement which will range to the average American ears. He said that the suit had to be tried because each of the defendants was a plaintiff.

This Fairbrook water grab, initiated in January, 1951, has been an unsavory affair, filled with deceit, double talk and double dealing. Such grabs seldom survive publicity, and when the Los Angeles Times gave publicity to it, the wave of public resentment apparently forced the political attack to be withdrawn. It was assumed as long ago as June 26, 1951, that the water grab had been killed and the story was so carried in the Los Angeles papers.

This news seems to have been merely a political device to confuse public opinion, the only defense of private rights.

We learned in July, 1951, that even President Truman would intervene. In August, 1951, the Public Lands Committee of the Congress held hearings, in which strange facts were revealed.

Fact No. 1. That Camp Pendleton did not then, nor had it ever, felt the need for the water the Justice Department was trying to grab.

Fact No. 2. That the government, having taken this 200 square miles of property from the tax rolls, and not finding need for the full utilization of the property, sub-leased hundreds of acres to tenant farmers for agricultural production and supplied them with water which C A M P PENDLETON HAD, BUT DID NOT REQUIRE.

Now this "on again, off again" political conquest is suddenly "on again" at least to two defendants. By similar surprise tactics, small

It will be like soaking rain breaking a drought to have a national administration that will advocate thrift and economy in government, that will advocate a balanced budget, that will attempt to cut expenses so that taxes may be lowered.

The administration for the past 20 years has taken the opposite view. It has consistently acted upon the assumption that any end desired could be gained by spending enough money. Whenever the goal failed to materialize it never ascribed the failure to this method of attaining it but rather to the fact that not enough money was spent. Its constant solution for all problems, therefore, has been: SPEND MORE MONEY.

The natural result was to discourage thrift and self-reliance among the people. Setting no example of these fundamental virtues itself, the federal government could not expect the people to exercise them. The "government" batches of defendants may be "tried" at various income tax places by the advocates of total government. One "victory" for government seizure and all the defendants will then become automatically guilty of encroaching upon government property, and be punished accordingly.

This political conquest of the property and enterprises of the American people must be stopped. It CAN be stopped, and all the ground lost to socialism can be restored, by getting action on the "Proposed 23rd Amendment," now pending in Congress as H. J. Res. 491. It provides that: THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES SHALL NOT ENGAGE IN ANY BUSINESS, PROFESSIONAL, COMMERCIAL, FINANCIAL, OR INDUSTRIAL ENTERPRISE EXCEPT AS SPECIFIED IN THE CONSTITUTION.

Ike's Regime Morally Bound To Seek Sound United States

By THURMAN SENSING
Southern States Industrial Council
Nashville, Tennessee

It will be like soaking rain breaking a drought to have a national administration that will advocate thrift and economy in government, that will advocate a balanced budget, that will attempt to cut expenses so that taxes may be lowered.

The administration for the past 20 years has taken the opposite view. It has consistently acted upon the assumption that any end desired could be gained by spending enough money. Whenever the goal failed to materialize it never ascribed the failure to this method of attaining it but rather to the fact that not enough money was spent. Its constant solution for all problems, therefore, has been: SPEND MORE MONEY.

The natural result was to discourage thrift and self-reliance among the people. Setting no example of these fundamental virtues itself, the federal government could not expect the people to exercise them. The "government" batches of defendants may be "tried" at various income tax places by the advocates of total government. One "victory" for government seizure and all the defendants will then become automatically guilty of encroaching upon government property, and be punished accordingly.

This political conquest of the property and enterprises of the American people must be stopped. It CAN be stopped, and all the ground lost to socialism can be restored, by getting action on the "Proposed 23rd Amendment," now pending in Congress as H. J. Res. 491. It provides that: THE GOVERNMENT OF THE UNITED STATES SHALL NOT ENGAGE IN ANY BUSINESS, PROFESSIONAL, COMMERCIAL, FINANCIAL, OR INDUSTRIAL ENTERPRISE EXCEPT AS SPECIFIED IN THE CONSTITUTION.

Fair Enough... Lovestone Program Described As Rival Communism Version

Do you believe in "equal rights"? Sure you do! Everybody does, or claims to these days. But what do you mean by "equal rights"? Do you mean that every citizen and group of citizens in our country has exactly the same rights before the law as every other citizen or group of citizens? Don't answer too quickly. Stop a minute and think.

Consider the "right to strike," a practically sacred right to millions of organized labor-union members. If you defend this right, do you also grant it to every other group of citizens in America? Do you grant it to landlords, for instance? Should they, like you and your associates, have the right to join together in the withholding of their product from the market in an attempt to better their personal incomes, just as you do? If not why not?

Do you grant this right to doctors? Do they, as free and equal citizens of the United States, have the same right as steel workers, or coal miners, or bus drivers, to "go on strike" together in order to increase their living standards? If not why not?

What possible reason can there be for granting this economic right to some and denying it to others? Is someone saying that a strike by landlords or doctors would be unthinkable because it would endanger "the public welfare"? It certainly would, but do not strike by labor unions also endanger "the public welfare"?

Consider the recent strike by Chicago's elevator operators. This strike did not hurt the building owners who employ them. The individuals and companies who maintained offices in Chicago's buildings could not possibly move out and go elsewhere, yet they were helplessly coerced by a strike which had nothing whatsoever to do with them. Thousands of innocent individuals endangered their health and lives by taking up innumerable flights of stairs. Many businesses were completely stopped. Sick patients in need of treatment were denied any way to reach their doctors' offices.

Perhaps you think that just the self-employed should be deprived of this right of group action and coercion. Suppose doctors got together and agreed that none of them would perform an operation for less than $100. Suppose a few doctors refused to go along. Should the majority then have the right, in economic self-protection, to physically stop this minority of "non-union doctors" from working at a lower rate? Self-employed barbers get together to set a minimum price on haircuts, and then often use physical force to prevent any dissenting barbers from undercutting them. Is such coercion wrong for one group, but right for another? If so — why? Union members on strike insist upon preventing anybody from working, including non-union workers, in order to force their own economic management. Their use of physical violence, property destruction, and threats to workers' families are commonplace. They have even committed murder, with police and politicians looking the other way!

It is high time that all Americans faced and answered this question: Why should some groups be granted the right to strike, while other groups are denied that right? Why should some groups be allowed to get away with violence and destruction, for which anyone else would be severely prosecuted? Why should some groups be encouraged to put their own private interest first, while other groups are legally prevented from so doing? And how can any such obvious examples of special privilege and inequality be enforced before the law, be defended by anyone who professes to believe in "equal rights"?

Neither political party has yet faced this basic issue of equal rights for all before the law. If any group's right to work — or not to work — is to be legally protected, then everybody's right to work — or not to work — must be equally protected. If one group is granted the right of economic coercion, then all groups must be granted the same right. Or — if it is morally wrong for any group to jeopardize the public welfare, then it must be equally wrong for all groups. "Equal rights" must mean this — or it means nothing!

For the Soviet Union, the Soviet Union, despite its present bureaucratic distortions, is a working-class state in the economic sense and socialist in its foundations. In international labor solidarity and militant class struggle rather than in non-aggression pacts with imperialist powers, do we see the means of defending the Soviet Union and the very spirit of the October revolution.

"The best interests of the Russian revolution and the Soviet masses demand the elimination of the Stalin regime and the establishment of democracy in the soviets. Only through the gradual extension of (such) collaboration among the revolutionary political organizations of labor can sound foundations be laid for a genuine, revolutionary, working-class internationalism."

"This is pure Marx and pure Russian Communism. It is pure Stalinism. And Lovestone broke with Stalin only because Stalin made Moscow the imperial headquarters of imperial, world-wide Communism. Stalin was willing to make deals with Roosevelt, even Hitler, to gain his ultimate end, which was the same end that Lovestone opposed such compromises with rival movements.

Thus far Stalin has been very successful, with his conquest of the Balkans, the Baltic and Eastern Germany and his picnic war in Korea. At worst a slight inconvenience to Russia but a human, political and economic tragedy to the capitalist West. Lovestone and Trotsky believe in more or less independent Communist ventures in many countries all coordinated through a central high command, not exclusively Russian. Lovestone said his was a militant socialist organization. Military had been elaborated in an earlier publication, which called for the distribution of guns to the "workers" with which to kill American soldiers, policemen, vigilantes or individual civilians who should resist the Communist terror.

Fighting Harvesters Outlast Bulldogs, 34-26

By BUCK FRANCIS

Green And Gold Forced To Erase Half - Time Deficit

The Fighting Harvesters, refusing to give in to an upset-minded Borger Bulldog eleven, closed out their season yesterday by outlasting the Bulldogs at Harvester Park, 34-26, before a freezing Thanksgiving crowd of approximately 2,000 fans.

It was the same old story for the Borger team who led at half-time only to lose their advantage in the final two quarters. The Bulldogs left the field at the intermission holding tenaciously to a 7-6 lead. It was the sixth time in their seven conference games that the Bulldogs were either ahead or tied at the halfway mark.

For a while in yesterday's game, it looked like "Lady Luck" was going to lead Borger to an upset win. Three times during that torrid second half in which 47 points were scored by both teams, a "fluke" Borger pass completion led to three Bulldog scores, one resulting in a direct score.

But even this wasn't enough as the battling Harvesters were not to be denied. Midway through the third period the Harvesters pulled away to what appeared to be a safe 20-7 lead but then the breaks started going against the Harvesters and early in the fourth Borger had tied the count at 20-20.

The Harvesters moved ahead, 27-20, when Ed Dudley, who had another field day for the Green and Gold, plowed over the Borger one, climbing a 48-yard drive. Dudley scored four touchdowns for the Harvesters and added an extra point for a 28-20 lead. The Harvesters scored their 101 points for the season. Borger came back to score again minutes later when Bubba Hillman got credit for a pass completion although it was knocked down by the Harvesters and almost intercepted. The play, good for 29 yards that placed the ball on Pampa's 26, was finally caught by Dean May who was on the ground. May snared the ball as it was falling to the ground after Dudley had knocked it down.

The Bulldogs went on from this point to score but they failed to tie the score when Eddie Ward's kick was wide. That made it 27-26 with 65 seconds left and the Harvesters, not content with a one-point margin, scored before time ran out. Dudley, on a double reverse, scampered wide for 33-yards and the game's final touchdown.

Dudley's 33-yarder for the concluding score of the day gave him ground gaining honors for the game, barely edging out teammate Harold Lewis who turned in a hangup performance for the Harvesters. Dudley gained 101 yards on 12 carries, as compared with 97 yards in 17 attempts for Lewis. The game, played on a soggy field as result of a five-inch snow, started out as if the two teams were set for a defensive battle. Neither team scored in the first quarter. Borger made the most serious threat in the initial quarter, getting again in the Harvesters' 17 before going down. A bad center on a fourth down punt attempt by the Harvesters gave the Bulldogs the ball on the Pampa 23 but the Bulldogs could gain only six yards in four tries and the Harvesters took over on downs.

Pampa got to Borger's 28 for their nearest approach for a score in the first quarter. Dudley's 63-yard punt drove the Bulldogs back deep in their own end of the field, the boot eventually led to Pampa's first scoring drive. The Harvesters' defense held back minutes later on their own 41 following a Borger punt and from there went to the Bulldogs' 28 only to be stopped.

The Harvesters opened the second quarter on a well executed pass and run play. J. N. Wright passing to Dudley, the play covering 65 yards. Dudley slipped past the Borger secondary and caught the pass on the dead run about the Borger 30 and raced across untouched. The Harvesters' only point conversion of the game that failed followed and Pampa led, 6-0.

A 50-yard return of the ensuing kickoff by Borger's Eddie Ward quickly got the Bulldogs back in the game. The run placed the ball on Pampa's 35 and the Bulldogs, in six plays had a score. DeLain Chaney drove over the extra point and Borger's conversion was true and Borger took the lead for the only time of the game, 7-6. There was no further scoring in the first half.

The Harvesters regained the lead five minutes after the intermission when Wright's 20-yard pass combination pelted off again in a score, this time for 46 yards. Dudley was streaking down the middle of the field when Wright tossed the perfect strike to him on the Borger 15 and raced over easily from this point. David Enloe split the uprights to make it 13-7 and the Harvesters were never behind thereafter although they were tied on one occasion.

Dudley set up the third Pampa score with a pass interception. He grappled the Borger toss out of the air on the Bulldog 40 and returned it 25 yards to the 15. Three plays later Enloe bucked over the four. Dudley ran over further ahead, 20-7. Shortly before the third period ended, Borger again capitalized on a "fluke" pass completion to turn it into a score. Hillman, intending a pass to Bob Covington, had it knocked high in the air by Dudley and the ball came down in the arms of Toby Yows on the Harvester 20 and Yows scampered on over for the score. Borger's kick was good and reduced the Harvester lead to 20-14. That was all the third period scoring.

Steve Off Threat The Harvesters staved off a serious scoring threat early in the fourth, the Bulldog drive halted on the Pampa five. But the Borgerans, after getting the ball back following a punt, tied the score on a 28-yard pass play. Hillman losing to Yows in the flat who raced across with the tieing counter. Ward's kick was wide and the score remained tied at 20-20.

Three plays following the kickoff, the Harvesters took the lead again. Enloe returned the kickoff 17-yards back to Borger's 48 to set up the score. Lewis made nine and then took a pass from Wright for 38 yards that placed the ball on the one from where Dudley plowed over. Enloe's kick was good to make it 27-20, with four minutes left in the game.

Borger took the ensuing kickoff and drove 55-yards for their final TD, the aforementioned 29-yard pass play from Hillman to May aiding in the drive. The Harvesters stopped the drive on the four but the Pampans were off side on the fourth down try and

BULLDOG SPLASH — Eddie Ward, Borger Bulldog halfback, is hit by an unidentified Harvester after a 10-yard gain in yesterday's Pampa-Borger tilt at Harvester Park. The run was the longest of the day for the Bulldogs. Ward gained 22 yards in 10 tries to trail J. D. Wisenhunt by one yard as the leading Bulldog carrier. Wisenhunt had 23 yards on 13 carries. Coming in to aid on the tackle are James Phippen (No. 87) and James Hawkins (No. 57). The Harvesters won the offensive battle 1-26. (News Photo)

Confident Olton Publisher Prints 'Extra' Before Game

OLTON, Tex. (AP) — The Olton Enterprise, a weekly, has put out an extra for the first time in its 26-year history.

"If you knew Olton you wouldn't ask why. The town—all 1,197 citizens—is football mad. And on Thanksgiving Day the Olton High School Mustangs defeated Lefors 13-7, in schoolboy football.

The extra was on sale in the football stands as soon as the game was over.

"Only thing we didn't have was the score," admitted Roy Martin and his partner, Royce Vernon, put out the paper.

"We figured our boys were gonna win," Martin explained. So the two went down to the shop early yesterday and set it all up. They dropped the name of the paper's name down a penalty gave the Bulldogs new life. The penalty moving the ball to the Pampa one, J. D. Whisenunt plowed over from the point two plays later. Ward's attempted tying conversion attempt was a partially blocked and the Harvesters still led, 27-26.

With only 65 seconds remaining after the final Borger tally, the Harvesters scored in two plays after Borger's attempted untied kickoff failed to go 10-yards and the Harvesters look over on the 35 and then Dudley made 13 to the end zone. Enloe's kick was good, following a swarm of blockers around right end for the remaining 35-yards. Enloe's kick was good to complete the scoring. Pampa 24, Borger 26.

Other games in the district yesterday saw Lubbock wallowing Amarillo, 40-13; Odessa dumping Midland, 26-0; and Abilene winning over San Angelo, 26-6.

Steers Stampede Texas Ags, 32-12

AUSTIN (AP) — Texas posted its second clean sweep of South-west Conference football in three years Thursday and looked toward Tennessee in the Cotton Bowl. The Longhorns rampaged to 32-12 victory over their arch rival, Texas A&M, yesterday, to make it six victories in six conference outings — a repeat of 1950.

The fearsome foursome of Gib Dawson, T. Jones, Billy Quinn and Dick Ochoa massaged the Aggie line for 64 yards, to make it six victories in six conference outings — a repeat of 1950.

The Texas football squad takes out from practice until Dec. 3 busy. Assistants Eck Curtis, Bill Dubose and J. T. King will fly to Nashville to watch Tennessee play Vanderbilt Saturday.

Tennessee scouts already have gotten a good view of Texas, watching the Longhorns against both Texas Christian and A&M. Scout Ike Peel said here yesterday that Texas had one of the best Split T teams in the country.

In addition to scouting each other, Coaches Ed Price of Texas and Gen. Bob Neyland of Tennessee will exchange films. Ochoa, who ran for 97 yards, got the fourth Texas touchdown. The other two points came on a safety when Don Kachitk of the Aggies fumbled behind his goal line. Connie Magourik and Ray Hans scored the Aggie touchdowns on line plunges.

Quinn made the first Texas touchdown on a 14-yard run around left end with a pitchout. The Aggies came back to drive to the Texas 10 but lost their chance at a touchdown when Magourik fumbled on the four.

Jones then steered a 96-yard Texas drive for another touchdown which Dawson made with a sevotal to 13 touchdowns, on more than Bohn Hilliard of Texas made 20 years ago.

The final Texas touchdown came in the fourth period and was set up by an Aggie fumble that gave the Longhorns the ball on A&M 32. A penalty against the Aggies moved the pigskin to the 13. Jones, Quinn and Ochoa alternated in ramming to the two from where Ochoa banged over. A&M took the kickoff and rolled over 78 yards to its first touchdown. Passes from Ellis To Magourik and Hooper moved the fumble set up the second Aggie counter. Magourik and Charlie Hall did most of the gaining in the 41-yard march.

Texas scoring: Touchdowns — Quinn 2, Dawson, Ochoa; conversions: Dawson 3; field goal: Dawson; safety: Kachitk fumbled but recovered in end zone. Texas A&M scoring: Touchdowns, Magourik, Haas.

Texans Finally Win A Game

NEW YORK (AP) — Thanks to the Detroit Lions the National Football League has an undisputed champion.

The Lions upended Green Bay 48-24 in a Thanksgiving Day game yesterday to give them sole possession of the national conference's No. 1 spot. But they'll only get a trophy perch alone for only a couple of games.

The Los Angeles Rams, each only half game behind Detroit, tangle in the former city Sunday and the winner will climb back into a tie with the Lions.

Quarterback Bobby Layne tossed three touchdowns passes as the Lions laced the game with 17 points against the Packers in the final period. Layne completed 16 of 30 aerials for 249 yards and ran the ball 13 times for 63 yards.

At Akron, O., the orphaned Dallas Texans won their first league game by upsetting the Chicago Bears 27-23. Frank Tripucka, with only 34 seconds left in the game, plunged over from the one.

Leading by 18 points at one time, the Texans trailed in the fourth quarter. Led by Tripucka, who completed 16 of 26 passes, they started a 75-yard march to the deciding touchdown.

ACC Captures Texas C. Title

ABILENE (AP) — Abilene Christian College had the Texas Conference championship sacked up for the second season in a row today.

The Wildcats whipped Howard Payne, 62-6, yesterday to clinch the undisputed title. Red Rushing, Ray Hansen and Stan Staples each counted two touchdowns in the rout of the nine Yellow Jackets.

Six of the nine touchdowns were on passes. Wally Bullington kicked eight of nine extra points.

JACOBY ON BRIDGE

Expert Knows Time To Break The Rule
By OSWALD JACOBY
Written for NEA Service

When the National Tournament begins in Miami at the end of this week, the newspaper reports of the goings-on will probably concentrate on all the weird bids and plays that are made rather than on the routine bids and plays.

This is not based entirely on the principle that it's news when a man bites a dog. Experts make more unusual plays than average players do because an expert knows when to break the rules.

Take the case of the old bridge rule: "Second-hand low." Millions of bridge players follow this rule obediently, without ever questioning it. They are usually right in so doing, but the expert finds the right time to break such a rule—as in today's hand.

West found the killing opening lead when he opened the ten of spades. Dummy played low and East signalled with the king of clubs. Declarer took the ace of spades and led a low club. Dummy took the ace and West played the low club, and declarer would make his contract by finessing dummy's ten of clubs. East would win this trick with the queen, of course, but would then be unable to defeat the contract.

Dummy's queen of spades would be a sure stopper, and declarer would make his game contract with five club tricks, two diamonds, one heart, and one spade.

The expert West foils this plot by playing the jack of clubs at the second trick! This simple "second-hand-high" play has a profound effect on the play of the hand.

If West is allowed to hold the trick with his jack of clubs, he can lead another spade to defeat the contract at once. If dummy wins the first club trick, the club suit can never be brought in. And without the long club suit, South cannot hope to make his game contract.

More Red Air Fields

HONG KONG (AP)—An underground press dispatch from Canton says the Chinese Communists now have 15 air fields in the South China provinces of Kwangtung and Kwangsi. The dispatch estimated there are 340 planes on the fields ranging from trainers to swift, Russian-made MIG JET FIGHTERS.
