12 ... limbs to head injuries

Jeff Polk — the 12-year-old son of local radio announcer Glenn and Twila Polk — died early Monday morning as a result of head injuries suffered in a fall here Sunday afternoon.

The youth died at Lubbock General Hospital, where he had been transported for treatment.

Services for him will be conducted Tuesday at 4 p.m. at First Baptist Church. The Rev. Ken Branam will officiate.

Burial will follow in Hillside Memorial Gardens under the direction of Bell-Seale Funeral Home.

He was injured around 2:40 p.m. during an afternoon rehearsal of the White Buffalo Day's Whirlagig being conducted at the Scurry County Coliseum.

He fell some 40 ft. after apparently stepping through the suspended ceiling which covers the coliseum main floor.

Reports are the youth had climbed above the suspended ceiling into a walkway area, apparently searching for a bat he had seen flying through the coliseum.

Other individuals attending the rehearsal said no one was aware the boy had climbed into the ceiling area. He was apparently alone at the time.

Several participants in the Whirlagig presentation were on the coliseum's stage area when the boy fell. He struck the concrete floor just to the front of the stage area.

A unit from Aid Ambulance-Snyder first transported him to Cogdell Memorial Hospital, where he was stablized for transfer to Lubbock.

He died at around 4:10 a.m. there Monday.

Chamber of commerce officials said Monday morning that the Whirlagig portion of the White Buffalo Days event will be canceled. Other activities will go on as scheduled, however.

Both Glenn and Twila Polk were to be featured performers in the second annual presentation of the show. Their son was also a cast member.

The youth was a 7th grader at Snyder Junior High.

As a 9-year-old, he had auditioned and won a small movie role in the film "Independence

To debate...

Candidates await results

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP) — President Reagan and Walter F. Mondale awaited voter reaction after a fast-paced debate that defined differences on domestic issues from taxes to religion, but even many Republicans thought Mondale came out ahead.

A poll conducted by The Gallup Organization for Newsweek magazine, said registered voters who saw the debate picked Mondale as the winner by a tally of 54 percent to 35 percent. A separate poll, done for Mondale's campaign, said respondents picked him as the victor by a spread of 52 percent to 32 percent.

But a Reagan campaign poll said Reagan won, 41 percent to 38 percent and that more than half those who answered said they still intended to vote for Reagan.

Mondale campaign director James Johnson saw in his poll a clear victory for the challenger; Reagan chief of staff James A. Baker III disagreed, but said "even if we did as poorly as a draw, we won."

"The only memorable moments were Mondale's," said John Reilly, a senior political adviser to the Democratic nominee. "I think we won bigger than expected."

Vice President George Bush told reporters in Washington that "President Reagan came out way ahead."

But another Republican, Rep. John McCain of Arizona, said Reagan could have done better.

"I think the President's weakness was that he appeared hesitant with some of his facts, as he has in the past," McCain said. "I thought he held his own pretty well, but I would have liked the President to do better."

Reagan did not say how he felt he had done in the debate. Of his opponent, the president said, "He kept on saying he didn't know what we were going to do (for the next four years). We're going to keep on doing what we've been doing the past four years."

At a post-debate party, Mondale told supporters, "You know what? We're going to win this election."

Rep. Geraldine Ferraro, the Democratic vice presidential nominee, was as partisan as her counterpart, Bush, saying, "Tonight's debate is going to make a difference in those polls."

Both campaigns will anxiously await opinion polls that reflect the judgment of the experts who matter, the 100 million or so Americans who watched the debate televised from the Kentucky Center for the Arts.

The Democratic challenger desperately needed a big boost from the debate to cut into the big lead Reagan has held in recent polls. With one month and one more debate left until Election Day, Mondale was running out of time to close the gap as some polls showed him trailing Reagan in up to 48 of the 50 states.

Standing eight feet apart behind identical lecterns, Mondale and Reagan answered questions from three journalists and spelled out their sharply divergent views of what the past three years have meant to Americans. The debate was scheduled to run 90 minutes but ran 10 minutes longer.

Several times, moderator Barbara Walters of ABC chided the audience for interrupting with applause and at the start she scolded both candidates for not being able to agree on four questioners out of a list of about 100 submitted by the sponsoring League of Women Voters.

Ms. Ferraro and Bush will debate Thursday in Philadelphia.

"I think we have given America back her spirit," said the president, who rephrased his 1980 debate question to ask, "Is America better off than it was four years ago."

After reciting improving economic statistics, Reagan said, "I believe the answer to that has to be yes."

Mondale disagreed with Reagan's assessment of the past four years. "If you're wealthy, you're better off," he said.

Social Security brought one of the sharpest clashes as Mondale insisted that the program for the elderly had been a target of Reagan budget cutting in 1981 and would likely become one again.

In response to a question on what he thought was the most outrageous thing his opponent had said during the debate, Mondale demurred and even offered some kind words for Reagan.

Court oks health unit fixup work

Plans to renovate the interior of the Scurry County Health Unit were authorized Monday by county commissioners.

The court voted to allow the firm of T.E. Shelburne and Son to prepare the plans and specifications for the work.

All work projected is to be completed at the building's interior.

This includes leveling the interior floor — an area which has become severely out of line due to shifts in the building's concrete slab.

The floor will be carpeted also.

In addition, the county plans to rework all of the interior walls. This will involve new sheetrock, which will be covered by a vinyl material.

The cost of the plan preparation was estimated at $1,200.

SWCD plans county vote

An election for a director to serve in Zone 1 on the Upper Colorado Soil and Water Conservation District is scheduled Thursday at 7:30 p.m. at the Hermleigh Community Center.

To vote in the election, an individual must own agricultural land within Zone 1, which includes the area south of U.S. Hwy. 180 and east of State Hwy. 208 in the southeastern portion of Scurry County.

Prior to the election, coffee and doughnuts will be served and the 1984 State Soil and Water Conservation District film entitled "This Land Called Texas," will be shown.

Swine: Janna Tate and Kevin Tate.

Debbie White, 4-H alumni and Western Texas College student, was the guest speaker. Janna Tate and Tammy Ritchey presented their method demonstration "Why Me?"

David Trevey and Janna Tate served as masters of ceremonies.

"To Make the Best Better" was the theme of this year's banquet.

12 on unclaimed money list

The names of 12 individuals listing a Scurry County address were included in the latest "unclaimed money fund" list released by State Treasurer Ann Richards.

Some 27,000 names are included in the list. Those with county addresses include: (Snyder) April Abrams, Drue R. Best Jr., Venay Boyd, Carol A. Carter, Ann Dietrick, I.S. Dolen, Alfreida Moss, H.D. Pruett and Ernest Townsend; and (Hermleigh) Clearance Henderson, Jim Kenedy and Bartlette D. Smith.

The first state list was published a year ago, and state officials note it resulted in some $2.3 million returned to more than 4,000 individuals.

The list is derived from reports filed by financial institutions regarding accounts officially declared dormant.

Under state law, any account inactive for seven or more years is declared dormant. At that time, financial institutions, corporations and insurance firms doing business in Texas must provide this information to the state treasury.

While checking and savings accounts are the most common, dormancy occurs also in certificates of deposit, cashier's checks, safety deposit boxes, stock dividends, insurance dividends and matured endowments.

The state treasurer does not have the funds, but can match the names of persons listed with the financial institution holding the dormant account.

For more information, individuals should contact Bill Cryer, director of treasury information, at (512) 475-2591.

Phone service 'cut' for some 300

Telephone service for an estimated 300 Snyder customers was interrupted here Monday morning after a work crew dug into and severed an underground phone cable.

Ralph Williamson, new Southwestern Bell manager for installation and maintenance here, said it was hoped 100 percent service could be restored by 6 p.m. Monday.

He said a City of Snyder water crew dug into the cable while making repairs behind a residence at 2109 42nd St.

The area without service around 11 a.m. was bordered to the north and south by 37th St. and Towle Park; to the east by College Ave. and to the west to approximately Ave. Y.

"We appologize for the inconvenience to our customers and hope to have this thing fixed as quickly as possible," Williamson said Monday morning.

New chairman is to get top priority

FORT WORTH, Texas (AP) — The chairman of the newly appointed State Board of Education says the top priority of the board will be to find a replacement for outgoing Education Commissioner Raymon Bynum.

Then, the board will begin interpreting the sweeping education reform law approved by the Legislature this past summer, board chairman Jon Brumley told the Fort Worth Star-Telegram.

Bynum, who will step down Oct. 31, was an opponent of an appointed board but was impressed with the way Brumley handled recent concerns by top administrators in the Texas Education Agency, the Star-Telegram reported Sunday.

The Bynum deputies were concerned that Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby had suggested they may be on the way out. Brumley met with them to reassure them.

"Deputies in the agency need some assurance that they will have an opportunity to perform," Bynum told the newspaper.

Bynum said Brumley is "dedicated and perceptive."

"He will make an excellent chairman," Bynum said.

Brumley was a student at the University of Texas in 1960 when John F. Kennedy exhorted a generation to: "Ask not what your country can do for you; ask what you can do for your country."

"That is the spirit I believe in," Brumley said.

"I believe in effective leadership, and I believe problems can be solved," he told the newspaper.

Brumley, 45, is president of Southland Royalty, Fort Worth's largest independent oil and gas company.

His success in the private sector led to his involvement with Fort Worth public schools. He headed a special committee that recommended evaluation of teachers and lowering of pupil-teacher ratios, measures similar to those adopted for the state by the Legislature.

Growing African violets course slated at college

Growing African violets will be the subject of a Continuing Education course set to begin Oct. 15 at Western Texas College.

Instructor for the course will be Jimmy Ritchey, director of the WTC Christian Student Center. He holds the bachelor's and master's degrees in agriculture and is teaching agronomy at WTC this semester. He has worked with African violets for about six years.

Students in the new course will study the propogation of violets from seeds, by leaf cutting and plant divisions. They will learn the proper soil media for African violets and the best type of pots to use as well as potting methods. They will learn how to make hybrids by crossing flowers.

Providing proper lighting is essential for successful cultivation of African violets, Ritchey says, but it can come from the sun or from artificial lights. Watering should be done from the bottom of the pot and this is another topic to be covered in the course.

Classes will meet from 7-9 p.m. on Mondays from Oct. 15-Nov. 19 in the Christian Student Center. Fees will be $25 per person and each student will have two violets to take home at the end of the course.

To enroll call 573-8511, ext. 240.

Your Birthday

Oct. 9, 1984

This coming year you are apt to fare better in enterprises where you rely on yourself rather than on others. Think twice before entering into partnership arrangements.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Normally you're very tactful and diplomatic when dealing with others. However, today, you might step out of character and be accused of being domineering. Major changes are in store for Librans in the coming year. Send for your year ahead predictions today. Mail $1 to Astro-Graph, Box 489, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019. Be sure to state your zodiac sign.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Don't permit others to put you in a position today where you are forced to work under pressure. Keep them out of your affairs and set your own agenda.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Steer clear of situations today where you may have to side with one friend against another. Regardless of who you choose, you'll be wrong.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Do not be the one who initiates a domestic rumble today. If you assume a "don't do as I do, but do as I say" posture, you'll be asking for trouble.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) This is not a good day to impose your ideas on others. A philosophy that has proven beneficial to you may not be tailored to their needs.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Business dealings are likely to be more complicated than they appear on the surface today. It will prove wise not to accept things at face value.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) In a situation where you share a vested interest with an associate, bend over backwards to be fair today. Selfishness will create complications.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Co-workers won't appreciate it today if you act as a self-appointed supervisor. Do your thing and let them do theirs.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Members of the opposite sex might not see you as charismatic as you envision yourself to be today. Be careful or someone may puncture your ego.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Do not stray from your own sphere of influence today. If you try to project your authority in other areas, you're in danger of being out of bounds.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Try to be tolerant today of persons who are not in accord with your ideas. They are entitled to their opinions.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Instead of spending extravagantly, put something away for a rainy day. If you don't, when you need it later, your wallet may be holding only faded photographs.

Dear Abby

Book for Teens Wins Praise From Parents and Teachers

By Abigail Van Buren

© 1984 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: God bless you for having published the booklet "What Every Teen-Ager Ought to Know." It's the best $2.50 I ever spent. I am 39, and regret that I didn't have that kind of information when I was growing up. Thank God I have it now, because I am a single parent raising two children. Your booklet explains the facts about drugs and sex and the problems of growing up in a direct and honest way without being preachy. I have a girl, 9, and a boy, 11, and they understood it well.

You will probably be surprised to receive a letter such as this from a man.

DENVER DAD

DEAR DAD: Thanks for writing. Your letter made my day. Read on for a letter from another writer who not only appreciated my booklet, she offered a valuable suggestion:

DEAR ABBY: I just received "What Every Teen-Ager Ought to Know." It is excellent. I am a counselor in a junior high school with a large number of Spanish-speaking students. Please consider putting that booklet out in Spanish. And if you do, please point out some cultural differences to make the Spanish edition especially relevant to Hispanics. For example, concerning violence in relationships: Wife beating is sometimes accepted by both wife and husband. The macho man feels that it is OK to beat his wife and children. This attitude should be changed. Abby, you could help to change it. Thank you.

LONGTIME READER

DEAR READER: You are not the first to suggest a Spanish translation of my teen booklet. So, with the help of some friends on the Los Angeles School Board, I finally did it!

For "Lo Que Todo Adolescente Debe Saber," readers should send $2.50 in check or money order to: Abby, Adolescente Espanol, P.O. Box 38923, Hollywood, Calif. 90038. (This includes postage.) Please print your name and address clearly. The English-language edition is available for the same price at the same address.

DEAR ABBY: This is in regard to the Pennsylvania Dutchman's 80-year-old cousin who fathered a son by his 24-year-old wife:

I know of a recorded instance in history where a man 100 years old fathered a child by his 90-year-old wife. His name was Abraham and his wife's name was Sarah. And they named their son Isaac.

This can be documented in the Old Testament in Genesis.

BIBLE BELIEVER IN KENTUCKY

DEAR BELIEVER: I know the story well. According to the Bible, "Sarah laughed" when she was told that she would bear a child. That proves that Sarah had a better sense of humor than most women in modern times.

Arlington workers barely ok contract

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) — The United Auto Workers at the General Motors assembly plant here have approved a national contract, but are still without a local contract.

Local 276 voted Sunday to OK the national labor contract by a vote of 1,014 to 1,008, said union president John Childers.

"This isn't going to change the (national) percentages one iota," Childers said.

Half of the the union locals reporting votes by late Sunday had already rejected the contract.

Local 276, with 4,500 members who went on strike Sept. 14 for a week, but still is without a local contract. Childers said talks on local issues have made no progress, with differences continuing over health and safety issues, production quotas and 2,000 unresolved grievances.

Local 2164 at the Bowling Green, Ky., Corvette assembly plant rejected a contract with General Motors on Sunday. It was the seventh local to do so out of 14 tallied so far. One local leader blamed a $22-a-year hike in union dues.

But two other locals reported Sunday they have approved the pact.

Diet important in colon trouble

DEAR DR. LAMB — My medical book says that diverticulosis is a weakening of the large bowel, with inflammation and outpockets of mucus membrane lining the bowel in the weakened areas. It says that treatment includes elimination of the underlying infection, and sometimes surgery is required.

If this is an infection, can it be cured with medicine or is surgery the answer? I've had this problem for just the past eight months. Can diet help? I eat grains and cereals and drink milk. Can any of these affect the problem?

DEAR READER — You may be confused about what your medical book describes. Diverticulosis is not an infection. It involves spots in the wall of the colon that are weakened, perhaps because an artery penetrates the colon at that point. The inner lining of the colon then ruptures through the weakened muscular wall to form little sac-like projections, which are called diverticula. So they are little ruptures.

If one of these gets inflamed, the condition is called diverticulitis. This is an infection and does require treatment with antibiotics. But probably no more than 1 percent of people with diverticulosis develop diverticulitis as a complication.

The symptoms most people complain about are related to spasm of the colon, distention and crampy pain. It is not even clear whether these are caused by the diverticula or if the diverticula develop because of the underlying spastic colon.

An attack of diverticulitis is of short duration and is much like an attack of acute appendicitis. After you recover from the attack, you usually do not have another one. But people do have recurrent complaints, which are more properly related to a spastic colon.

Yes, diet is very important in the management of diverticulitis. Most doctors believe that unless one of the complications is present, a diet that contains lots of bulk is helpful. However, you need to avoid things that produce gas, which may include bran or even bulk laxatives. Milk may also cause gas, which contributes to the spastic-colon symptoms.

I have discussed the proper diet in a new issue of The Health Letter, Special Report-20, Diverticulosis: Pockets of the Colon, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Please explain dilation of the aorta. Is it a more diplomatic way of saying "aneurysm of the aorta"?

DEAR READER — No. Dilation of the aorta means just that — the aorta is dilated. The aorta is the large artery that receives blood from the left side of the heart when it contracts and carries oxygenated blood to the body. It often widens as people get older. One reason for this widening is the gradual loss of elastic fibers in the wall of the aorta. It is not an indication of significant heart disease and will not lead to other problems.

But an aneurysm is a sacular pouch. You can consider it as a break in the structure of the aorta's wall. It is like a big thinned bump on the side of a tire, ready to blow. And that is the danger of an aneurysm of an artery: It may rupture at any time, causing an emergency.

Organizations hold banquet for officers

Members of the Noon Kiwanis Club, the Golden K Club and the Kiwanianne Club met on Sept. 29 at K-Bob's Steak House for an installation banquet. Joe Johnson of Odessa, lieutenant governor of division 22 installed officers with Jim Tully, past lieutenant governor, as master of ceremonies.

Don Edgmon gave the invocation; Virgil Mott sang "America;" and Albert Lewis led the Pledge of Allegience to open the meeting. Janna Tate provided dinner music.

"Kiwanian of the Year" award was presented to Billy "Speedy" Prince by Troy Williamson, outgoing president of the Noon Club. Williamson also presented Hubert Cargile with a 35 year "Legion of Honor" pin and certificate.

The Golden K Club chose Buster Starnes as its "Kiwanian of the Year."

New officers for the Noon Kiwanis Club are Mike Monroe, president; Steve Payson, president elect; Tom Holcomb, first vice president; Harley Bynum, second vice president; and Mike Banta, secretary-treasurer. New directors include Bobby Beard, Joe Cheyne, Richard Dupree, Sammy Hancock, Gilbert Merritt and Rodger Sullenger.

Golden K members elected Pat Johnson, president; Bernhard Bartels, vice president; and Pete Glass, secretary-treasurer. James Beckham, Andy Deen, Olin Johnson, Ray Summers and John Wiman became new directors.

New Kiwanianne officers installed by Roy McCloskey, district Kiwanianne director, were Judy Bynum, president; Debra Cheyne, vice president; Delores Merritt, secretary; and Joann Prince, treasurer. Elected to serve as directors were Thelma Deere, Pat Edgmon and Barbara Williamson.

Roy Rosson closed the meeting with the benediction.

Untangling it for 12 tricks

By James Jacoby

Expert partnerships always have careful guidelines to determine whether a four no-trump bid is asking for aces or simply inviting a slam. Even when four no-trump is invitational, the normal expert agreement is that the partner of the four no-trump bidder will answer aces when his hand warrants accepting the invitation. So it was with the current deal. The five-club bid by South showed either zero or four aces, and North carried on to six with confidence.

The bidding was fine, but our declarer got trapped in the play. Cover the East and West hands, and plan what you would do in six no-trump with the opening lead of the spade jack. South won the spade queen in dummy and promptly led the queen of clubs. When that lost to the king in the West hand, the slam was set because declarer no longer had sufficient entries to dummy. He needed to get to dummy twice, the first time to lead to his jack of hearts and the second time to score the heart king.

The winning line after winning the spade queen is to immediately lead a heart to the jack. If that wins, declarer simply gives up a club to the king and collects 12 tricks. If it loses, he can still play ace of hearts, get to dummy with a diamond to throw his third diamond on the heart king, and then fall back on the club finesse.

MOTHER'S COOKIES

1¼ cups stirred unbleached all-purpose flour
¼ teaspoon baking powder
¼-pound stick butter, cut in 8 pats
1-3rd cup sugar
1 large egg, separated
1 tablespoon grated orange rind
1 tablespoon orange juice
1-3rd cup finely chopped pecans

On wax paper stir together flour and baking powder. In a medium bowl cream butter and sugar; add egg yolk and beat to blend. Stir in orange rind. Add flour mixture and orange juice; stir until smooth. Cover and chill until firm enough to handle. On saran shape into a 2-inch-wide roll. Cover and chill overnight. With a long sharp thin-blade knife slice ⅛-inch thick; if roll becomes too soft to slice, freeze briefly. With a wide spatula place an inch apart on ungreased cookie sheets. Beat egg white until foamy; brush over cookies; sprinkle with pecans. Bake in a preheated 350-degree oven until lightly browned around edges — about 12 minutes. With a wide spatula remove to wire racks to cool completely. Makes almost 3 dozen.

Twists for spy lovers

THE FOURTH PROTOCOL. By Frederick Forsyth. Viking Penguin Inc. 389 Pages. $17.95.

Frederick Forsyth, the English author of "The Day of the Jackal" and "The Odessa File," jumps from stage to stage so fast in "The Fourth Protocol" that it makes your head spin. Outside an apartment in London. Inside an apartment in Moscow. Another apartment in London. Another apartment in Moscow. London. Moscow. London.

And that's just the first chapter. You hope this hop, skip and jump will end once the plot is laid, but it doesn't. And soon enough you don't mind.

The time is 1987, and the General Secretary of the Communist Party in the Soviet Union has decided to launch a covert action in Great Britain aimed at detonating a small nuclear bomb to mobilize opinion against the Conservative government and trigger a peaceful revolution. He hasn't told the KGB.

The plot requires the violation of the Fourth Protocol, a secret addendum to the Nuclear Nonproliferation Treaty which prohibits nations from smuggling a small nuclear device into another country and detonating it.

British agent John Preston doesn't know of the plan but he knows enough about the political climate in his country to pursue his hunches, despite the misgivings of his superiors.

"The Fourth Protocol" attempts to look into the future, using as characters such real figures as British traitor Kim Philby, a high-level personal consultant to the General Secretary in the book's vision of Moscow.

It works best, though, as an exciting tale of espionage, filled with the sorts of twists spy-story aficionados love.

Warm-up needed

Before every exercise session, do warm-ups, as athletes do, to limber up muscles.

Stand with feet comfortably apart, raise arms straight up, stretch them, lower them and relax.

Repeat slowly three times, then switch to stretching with arms out at sides, with four repeats.

Now clasp hands behind head and bend to alternate sides, for count of six. Finish with six toe touches, each arm swinging out and down to opposite foot, standing straight, but relaxed, between each touch.

Choose moisturizer

Moisturizer creams and lotions come in one of three formulas: petroleum jelly base, glycerol or phospholipid.

Labels tell you which kind is in the jar. To find one that works best for you, use each kind for a month every day.

Discount "youth" claims; look for practical aspects such as absorbency, no perfume and lasting effects after you stop using the moisturizer.

When you find one, use it daily for long-term results.

LAFF-A-DAY

"You've got it backwards, dear... the ARTIST is supposed to suffer, not the viewer."

Sigh of relief: Payton overtakes record

by The Associated Press

It was a classic pitchout to Walter Payton. He took the ball around left end and ran right into the National Football League record book.

With the modest six-yard gain Sunday, Payton swept past Jimmy Brown on the NFL all-time rushing list and at the same time led the Chicago Bears to a 20-7 victory over the New Orleans Saints.

"I'm glad I don't have to do it every week," Payton said after a 154-yard rushing day.

Payton, who started the day needing only 67 yards to surpass Brown's 12,312, broke it early in the third period. He finished with 12,400.

"I was so nervous I had the shakes," said Payton. "I tried to conceal it the last three weeks. But it was hard on me, my family and my friends. There was a lot of pressure."

Elsewhere, it was St. Louis 31, Dallas 20; New York Jets 17, Kansas City 16; Washington 35, Indianapolis 7; Miami 31, Pittsburgh 7; New England 17 Cleveland 16; Denver 28, Detroit 7; Tampa Bay 35, Minnesota 31; Philadelphia 27, Buffalo 17; Atlanta 30, Los Angeles Rams 28; Los Angeles Raiders 28, Seattle 14; Cincinnati 13, Houston 3, and San Diego 34, Green Bay 28.

The New York Giants host the San Francisco 49ers tonight.

Payton, carrying the ball 32 times, also surpassed another Brown standard by going over the 100-yard mark for the 59th time in his career.

Redskins 35, Colts 7

Joe Theismann riddled Indianapolis with 17 completions in 20 attempts for 267 yards and four touchdowns.

Washington's John Riggins had 94 yards and one touchdown, leaving him 24 short of becoming the fifth player in NFL history to rush for 10,000 career yards.

Theismann, who had passed for only four touchdowns in five previous games this season, had 162 yards in the second quarter alone as the Redskins turned a 7-7 tie into a rout.

Dolphins 31, Steelers 7

Dan Marino threw a pair of second-quarter touchdown passes in a successful return to his hometown as Miami remained unbeaten at 6-0.

Marino, the former University of Pittsburgh star, completed 16 of 24 passes for 226 yards. Miami rolled to a 21-0 lead with a pair of second-quarter touchdowns in just over a minute. Marino has a league-leading 17 scoring passes.

Patriots 17, Browns 16

Tony Eason fired a 42-yard touchdown pass to Stephen Starring on a perfectly executed flea-flicker play and then hit Starring with a 24-yard pass to set up Tony Collins' game-winning touchdown run in the fourth quarter, as New England overcame a 16-3 deficit.

Broncos 28, Lions 7

A bruising Denver defense led by Steve Wilson and Rulon Jones smothered Detroit's mistake-prone offense.

The Broncos recovered three of four Detroit fumbles - including one Jones returned five yards for a touchdown. Denver also intercepted seven passes - four off Gary Danielson, who hadn't thrown one all year - and registered six sacks.

Eagles 27, Bills 17

Ron Jaworski threw for two touchdowns and ran for another while Paul McFadden hit two field goals to lead Philadelphia over Buffalo.

The Eagles dominated the game after Buffalo quarterback Joe Dufek went down with a knee injury late in the second quarter. The Bills fell to 0-6.

Falcons 30, Rams 28

Atlanta kicker Mick Luckhurst booted his third field goal of the game, a 37-yarder as time expired.

After Eric Dickerson gave the Rams a 28-27 lead midway through the fourth quarter on a 47-yard TD run, Atlanta marched 66 yards on 12 plays to set up the winning field goal.

Raiders 28, Seahawks 14

Marc Wilson, filling in for an injured Jim Plunkett, tossed a 58-yard touchdown pass to Marcus Allen with 5:32 remaining to break a 14-14 tie and lead Los Angeles over Seattle.

Wilson, seeing his first action of the season after Plunkett and pulled stomach muscle, completed 12 of his 19 passing attempts for 309 yards and two touchdowns.

Cincinnati 13, Houston 3

Jim Breech kicked a pair of field goals and rookie quarterback Boomer Esiason made his first NFL start a success with a 3-yard touchdown run that led Cincinnati over winless Houston.

Esiason led the Bengals to their first victory after five losses by sprinting untouched into the end zone on a quarterback draw in the third quarter for a 10-3 lead.

Chargers 34, Packers 28

Dan Fouts pierced the Green Bay secondary for 369 yards and three touchdowns.

Fouts completed 30 of 49 passes, the 38th time in his 12-year career that he has passed for over 300 yards. San Diego's Earnest Jackson rushed a club-record 31 times for 94 yards while Kellen Winslow had a team-record 15 catches for 157 yards.

Cardinals clobber Cowboys

IRVING, Texas (AP) - The Dallas Cowboys and Washington Redskins meet next Sunday in a National Conference Eastern Division showdown, but don't count out the fast-closing St. Louis Cardinals in the title chase.

"I tried to tell my team" said Dallas Coach Tom Landry. "They just didn't realize how potent the Cardinals could be."

The high-scoring Cardinals, now 3-3, shattered a seven-year Texas Stadium jinx Sunday with a rousing 31-20 victory over the Cowboys.

The loss dropped Dallas to a 4-2 record and into a tie with the Redskins. Not since Dallas dropped a 38-0 game to St. Louis in 1977 had the Cowboys been whipped so decisively at home.

The New York Giants can make it a three-way logjam at 4-2 in the NFC East by defeating the San Francisco Giants tonight.

St. Louis quarterback Neil Lomax hit three touchdown passes, including shots of 70 and 45 yards to Roy Green. Green caught 8 passes for 189 yards and Lomax completed 19 of 29 passes for 354 yards.

"Neil Lomax has had some good games but perhaps none better than this one," said Cardinal Coach Jim Hanifan. "I'm very satisfied with the win but Dallas is still leading the division. It was our day today."

The Cardinals also played Dallas so tough on defense that Landry removed heavily booed starter Gary Hogeboom in the third period.

Landry put in Danny White, who threw a fourth quarter 10-yard touchdown pass to rookie tight end Fred Cornwell. Landry said he wasn't certain who would start in Washington next Sunday but indicated it probably would be Hogeboom.

Hogeboom said he wasn't assured a starting berth against Washington.

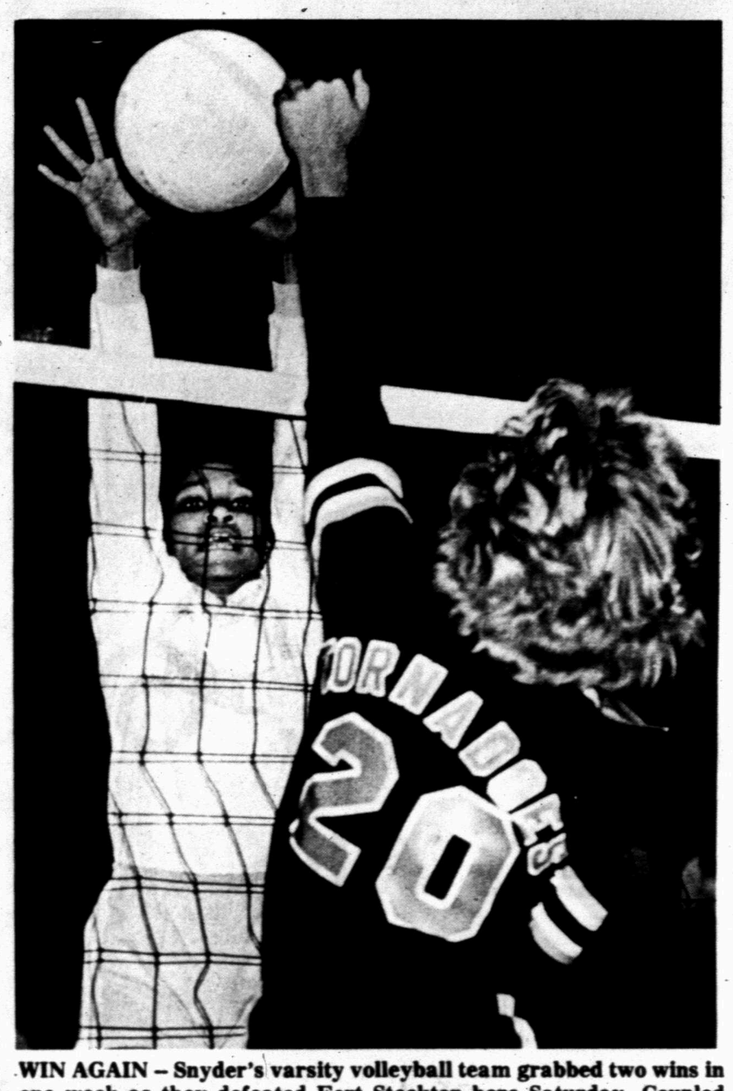
"I wasn't pleased that I was yanked but you've got to try something," Hogeboom said. "We were down and needed something to get us going offensively."

St. Louis built a 14-13 halftime lead. Lomax drilled tight end Doug Marsh with a 20-yard touchdown pass and Stump Mitchell ran three yards for another score after a 44-yard Lomax-to-Green connection.

Tony Dorsett's 31-yard touchdown run provided Dallas' brightest offensive moment in the first half.

The Cardinals buried Dallas in the third period on the long-distance calls from Lomax to Green.

Landry said, "We could have been in good shape going to Washington next week if we could have won. Now we are going to have to fight for everything."



WIN AGAIN -- Snyder's varsity volleyball team grabbed two wins in one week as they defeated Fort Stockton here Saturday. Coupled with an earlier victory over Lamesa, the Tigers improved their record to 8-1 in District 2-4A play. The girls, tied for the district lead, will travel to Andrews on Tuesday. Above, Snyder's Karlene Thompson blocks a spike by a Lamesa player. (SDN Staff Photo)

Tech whips Aggies

by The Associated Press

The top-ranked Texas Longhorns, who thoroughly defeated Oklahoma last year, may have to do it again Saturday without the quarterback who led them to victories over Auburn and Penn State.

No. 1-ranked Texas, who coasted to a 38-13 victory over Rice Saturday night, received a scare when Todd Dodge hyperextended his right knee on one of his two touchdown passes.

Texas Coach Fred Akers said it would be known today whether Dodge would be available for the game against the unbeaten and untied Sooners in their annual Red River rivalry in the Cotton Bowl.

The game has received coast-to-coast attention and will be nationally televised by ABC beginning at 2:30 p.m. CDT after the World Series game is over.

In other SWC games, Texas Tech shocked Texas A&M 30-12, Texas Christian squeaked by Arkansas 32-32, and Houston outlasted Baylor 27-17.

To understand the impact of Texas Christian's amazing victory over Arkansas, you have to realize that Horned Frog Coach Jim Wacker was a senior in high school the last time the Fort Worth school won in Fayetteville.

"Absolutely incredible," said Wacker. "Our kids just wouldn't quit even when we fell behind by two touchdowns."

The Horned Frogs rallied from a 31-17 deficit to win 32-31 on Anthony Gulley's two-point conversion to James Maness in the final 10 seconds.

It was a day in which every home team lost.

Texas Tech assistant Coach Tom Wilson, who was fired at Texas A&M and is now the offensive coordinator for the Red Raiders, got the game ball in the victory over A&M.

"It felt good, real good," said Wilson.

There are only three teams now unbeaten in SWC play, Texas, SMU and Houston.

In SWC games this week, Texas Tech and Arkansas meet at Little Rock; SMU is at Baylor in the 11:30 a.m. SWC TV game of the week, Texas A&M is at Houston; and Rice is at TCU.

RAIDERS WIN FOR WILSON

COLLEGE STATION - Just call this one "Wilson's Revenge."

The Tech offensive coordinator called all the right shots in a big Texas Tech fourth period and blew the previously unbeaten Aggies right out of Kyle Field.

The Aggies could manage only four field goals against a rugged Tech defense.

COUGARS SLIDE BY BEARS

WACO - On a good night for duck hunting, the Houston Cougars surprised Baylor with a passing game.

Quarterback Gerald Landry threw for two touchdown passes.

"We were jumping the run too much," said Baylor Coach Grant Teaff. "They did a good job of getting the ball to their tight end, Carl Hilton."

Hilton caught 5 passes for 116 yards.

Padres defeat Cubs, 6-3; will host series Tuesday

SAN DIEGO (AP) -- The San Diego Padres won their first National League pennant Sunday, capping a historic playoff comeback.

Sparked by the play of Tony Gwynn, Steve Garvey and a bullpen full of hard-nosed relievers, the Padres defeated Cubs ace Rick Sutcliffe 6-3 in Game Five of the NL Championship Series.

San Diego won the best-of-5 series after losing the first two games in Chicago, a playoff deficit from which no National League team had ever recovered. To do it, they had to recover from a 3-0 deficit Sunday with a four-run rally in the seventh inning when Gwynn had a tie-breaking double, Garvey delivered an insurance run with a single and Cubs' first baseman Leon Durham contributed a crucial error.

The Padres will face American League champion Detroit in the World Series, beginning here Tuesday night.

SHS spikers cage Panthers; travel to Andrews Tuesday

Snyder's varsity volleyball team has advanced its District 2-4A record to 8-1 after disposing of Fort Stockton here Saturday.

The Tigers, 19-11 on the season, will trek to Andrews for their next match to be held at 7:30 Tuesday.

Snyder defeated the Panthers 15-9 in the first game Saturday, dropped the second 14-16, then came back to romp 15-3 in the third and take the match.

"The girls didn't play as well as they have before," said Coach Penny Bane, "but it did show that they can come back when they are down by a few points. Fort Stockton was really up and they played well. At times we just kind of sat back on our heels and we had to fight back hard to catch up."

Donna Anderson led Snyder in serving with 8 points in the first game. Hope Hernandez had 7 in the second game, and Anderson scored 8 again in the third.

Coach Bane is looking for a tough match in Andrews.

"We won in two games here, but it was a hard two games," she said. "They dink a lot and hit over on the second hit a lot and they use a short set. They do a lot of different things like that. I'm expecting a tough match at their place."

Freshmen and junior varsity contests will precede the varsity match at 5 and 6:30 respectively.

JV WINS TOO

Snyder junior varsity also defeated the Panthers here on Saturday, 15-10 and 15-3.

Monica Hinojos scored seven points in the first game while Leslie Ward and Donna Clay led in the second game with 6 points each.

"These girls played real well. They seem to be improving with each game," said Coach Bane.

Rodeo team takes second at Alpine

ALPINE -- Western Texas College men's team racked up 220 points to take second place in the Sul Ross State Univeristy NIRA Rodeo, held here over the weekend.

The Westerners were paced by the efforts of Van Hale, Tony Hecksher, Bliss Mayhan and Donnie Yorks.

Western also got a fine performance from Glenn Jordan, who won the average in steer wrestling with an 11.2. Jordan, who was not on the designated six-member team and thus could not contribute point-wise, placed second in the long go-round and third in the short go.

Sul Ross State won the men's division with 330 points. Third was Tarleton State University with 160, followed by Eastern New Mexico with 70, Odessa with 55, New Mexico Junior College with 20 and Howard College with 15.

Western Texas' women did not place in their division which was won by Tarleton with 220 points. Sul Ross had 120 for second place.

WTC's Hale chalked 132 points on two head to place second in the saddle bronc riding. He had placed second in both the long and short go.

Hecksher took second in the average in bareback riding with 132 points. He had tied for second in the long go and tied for third in the short go.

Bliss Mayhan of WTC won the bareback long go with a 70 and scored a 56 in the short go to finish fourth in the average with a 126.

In other action, Donnie Yorks had tied for third place in the calf roping with a 9.9, but took a no-time in the short-go Sunday. Tobin Tate scored a 72 on his bull in the long-go and a 69 in the short but finished out of the average.

Tana Whatley was the only WTC representative to reach the women's short-go. She had clocked a 3.1 in the breakaway - fourth place - but no-timed in the finals.

Former Western Texas performers Kyle Rowland and Ruby (Dusek) Lee placed well here. Rowland, competing for Tarleton now, won the average in the calf roping with an 18.2. Lee, with Angelo State, was second in the breakaway with a 6.4.

Winner Sul Ross State got another top performance from Tuff Hedeman, who won the average in both the saddle bronc riding (144) and bull riding (155).

Western Texas will compete in the Vernon Regional Junior College NIRA Rodeo in Vernon beginning Thursday.

Totonac Indian men in Veracruz State of southeastern Mexico still practice their centuries-old flying dance atop 100-foot poles. These voladores (fliers) dangle from ropes that slowly unwind as the men dive toward the ground.

Boosters sponsor bus to 'Stockton

Snyder All-Sports Booster Club is sponsoring a bus to Fort Stockton for Friday's Snyder-Fort Stockton football game.

The bus will leave Snyder High School at 3:30 Friday and return following the ballgame.

Cost is $20 per person.

Interested fans should contact Snyder Athletic Center or Burgess-McWilliams Pharmacy to reserve seats.

Storm threatens landing

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — Challenger's astronauts today began three uninterrupted days of training their powerful radar camera on the jungles, deserts and seas of Earth, while forecasters watched a tropical storm that could interfere with the shuttle's Florida landing plans.

Radar targets today, the fourth day of the mission, included Brazilian jungles, the Egyptian desert and the North Sea, where West German scientists are creating an artificial oil slick.

As Challenger circled overhead, Mission Control tracked tropical storm Josephine, churning 600 miles southeast of Florida in the Atlantic Ocean and moving northwest.

Rites Tuesday for local youth

Day." The film was shot on location near Merkel

Jeff won the part of the nephew of the lead character, beating out some 300 other youth who had auditioned.

He was born in Lubbock on Oct. 31, 1971. Locally, he was a member of the 7th grade football team and was a singer in the Church Youth Choir for First Baptist Church.

He is survived by his parents; a sister, Amy, of the home; a brother, Jason, of the home; his paternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T.C. Polk of Post; and his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. J.M. Hill of Lubbock.

The family asks that memorials be made to the Boys Club or to a favorite charity.

Suspect kicks windshield out

Snyder police officers jailed 11 suspects on misdemeanor charges over the weekend including one woman charged with criminal mischief for damaging a police patrol car Sunday night.

According to police reports, officers answered a domestic disturbance call at a west Snyder residence at 8:45 p.m. Sunday.

A woman involved in the argument was taken into custody by officers and, after being placed inside the patrol vehicle, she reportedly kicked the windshield out of a City of Snyder patrol car.

In other action, city officers logged seven arrests for public intoxication, two for DWI and two on traffic warrants Saturday and Sunday.

One of the men charged with DWI was also charged with driving on a suspended license.

Local's vehicle overturns in park

A local driver apparently lost control of his vehicle here Sunday night, overturning it and crashing into a Towle Park residence's fence.

In addition, a 17-year-old passenger in the vehicle sustained minor injuries in the accident. Vincent Valdez of Snyder was hurt when the 1977 Chevrolet he was riding in went out of control and overturned in the 2700 Block of Towle Park road.

According to police accident reports, Ricky Chaidez of 1801 19th St. was driving the car eastbound when he apparently lost control of the vehicle. It came to rest in the back yard of the James Vincent residence at 2702 42nd St.

A section of fence valued at $300 was damaged in the mishap.

Chaidez was arrested by city police and charged with driving while intoxicated following the mishap.
