BREVITIES

JUDGE MAUSEY TO SPEAK AT METHODIST CHURCH

Judge Mausey of Sweetwater, our District Judge, will speak at the Methodist Church next Sunday morning. Services begin at 11 A. M. Rev. Shewbert, the pastor, will be at Lubbock attending Annual Conference. Every one is extended a cordial invitation to come here this Christian layman who will have a special message for both the young and old. Don't miss it.

T-P SERVICE STATION UNDER NEW MANAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Bennett and his father, G. E. Bennett, of Fort Lupton, Colorado, have purchased the interest of R. N. Moore and Son in the T-P Service Station and took over the business last week.

In addition to their stock of service station supplies such as tires, tubes, accessories, gas and oil, they have added a small variety of fresh fruit and other food items.

They invite your patronage and urge you to come by and make acquaintances.

THE DICKENSONS RETURN HOME

Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Dickenson returned home Tuesday from Denton where he attended the funeral of his sister, Mrs. Lula A. Heard, who was buried there October 31.

Mr. and Mrs. Dickenson left Loraine October 7 for Glenrose in the interest of his health and was called from there to Denton at the death of his sister, Mrs. Heard.

Mr. Dickenson reports that things are looking up fairly well in those parts where he visited. He says the winter wheat is up with only a top moisture and is in need of additional rain badly.

COTTON REPORT

The census report shows that 15,244 bales of cotton prior to November 1, 1939, as compared with 13,428 bales for the crop of 1938.

MRS. RICHEY IS OPERATED WEDNESDAY NIGHT

Mrs. Alfred Richey underwent an appendectomy with Dr. Bruce Johnson as surgeon in the Sweetwater hospital late Wednesday evening after suffering several hours.

According to her physician she shows slight improvement Thursday.

TO DALLAS AND FT. WORTH

Mr. and Mrs. G. B. Tarrt and sons, Wilman and Howard, spent Saturday and Sunday visiting relatives in Fort Worth and Dallas. Mrs. L. G. Baker made the trip with them stopping off at Ranger for a visit.

If you say you love your country And the freedom it bestows, Don't spread the propaganda That it's filled with grief and woes.

If you say you love Old Glory And those who died to give it birth, Then throw away your hammer And don't knock for all you're worth.

If you say you love your country, And the right to speak your mind, Then, for the love of Mike, be honest.

And to the truth be kind. If you say you love Old Glory, And you thrill to see it wave, Don't yip and yell and holler That you're nothing but a slave.

If you say you love your country, Then cease from all your knocks; Don't let yourself again be heard To say its on the rocks. If you do not love your country, And you cannot play its game, In the name of all that's holy Then go back from whence you came.

District Court Opens Criminal Docket Monday

The criminal docket of District Court opened Monday morning with a jury summoned to try some of the 24 indictments turned in by the grand jury the preceding week.

A number of the convictions given were upon pleas of guilty by the defendants. Travis Ross and Berlin Wade plead guilty to 3 charges of theft of chickens and were sentenced to 2 years in the penitentiary in each case.

Pleas of guilty were entered by B. C. Murphy and by Cecil Dennis to driving an automobile while intoxicated and each man was assessed a fine of $50 and five days in jail.

A. O. Perkins plead guilty to the charge of forgery and was given 4 years in the penitentiary. The sentence was suspended.

Joe Hodges was sentenced to 2 years in the penitentiary for burglary upon a plea of guilty before the court.

Victor Ortiz plead guilty to rape before a jury and was given five years in the penitentiary.

W. H. Lemay and O. H. Mize were sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for each of two charges against them for transporting stolen goods into the county, the sentences to run concurrently.

Several divorce cases were heard this week and divorces were granted to Dora Williams from Ivory Williams; Nannie Gordon from A. Gordon; Lela Herman from Glynn Herman; and Mrs. Roy D. McMullis from Roy D. McMullis.

Rev. Shewbert Attends Lubbock Conference

Rev. J. E. Shewbert, pastor of the local Methodist Church left for Lubbock last Tuesday to attend the Northwest Texas Annual Conference, which opens on Wednesday. Bishop Ivan Lee Holt will preside over the conference. At this meeting the final business of this conference as the Methodist Church South will be held and then the new conference of the United Methodist Church will be organized. The delegates from this church which will attend also are: Plez Beaty, Ernest Meadows, and J. M. Bruce.

Rev. Shewbert will receive his ordination for elder at this conference also. He will make the report for the Loraine Church. The conference opened at 2 P. M. Wednesday and will close with reading of the appointments the following Sunday afternoon.

This District will receive a new District Superintendent since Rev. Caradine Hooten, the present one has been transferred to Tyler St. Church, Dallas.

Tarzan Finds A Son Showing at the Hub

Here is the first Tarzan feature made by Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer in three years, since the company acquired the complete screen rights to all of Edgar Rice Burroughs' thrilling tales of the Jungle King, and it is by far the most exciting thrilling, dramatic production of them all. Reuniting Johnny Weissmuller as Tazan and Maureen O'Sullivan as his jungle mate, "Tarzan Finds a Son!" introduces a new young character in Tarzan, Jr. From the standpoint of thrills "Tarzan Finds a Son!" surpasses every one of its predecessors. As to comedy, it likewise tops all of the others, with a gang of six chimpanzees working as stooges for the celebrated Cheeta.

"Tarzan Finds a Son!", showing at the Hub Friday and Saturday, November 17 and 18.

Death Plane Lands in Pasture

Parked in a pasture is the death plane in which Ernest Pletch, 29, barnstorming Hoosier aviator, allegedly killed Carl Bivens, Brookfield, Mo., flying instructor, as the two grappled for control of the ship high above Missouri.

Loraine Party On Deer Hunt In Mason County

At 107, It's the Tooth That Hurts

Discarding her false molars, "Granny" Elizabeth Giragosian, 107, of Racine, Wis., begins cutting her third set of teeth, displays the first two to come in.

Merkel Won By 18 Points Friday

The Loraine Bulldogs continued their downward march to the cellar of District 6A last Friday night when the Merkel Badgers defeated them 18 to 0 on the Merkel field.

The Badgers scored three times in rapid succession early in the game to put it on ice and after that the Bulldogs held them scoreless and threatened several times to score themselves but each time the threat fell short of a score.

The Badgers used a short shovel pass which completely baffled the Bulldogs in the early stages of the game. The Badgers made 12 first downs in the first quarter while the Bulldogs made only 2.

In the final three quarters the Bulldogs climbed up to 12 first downs for their total while the Badgers made only 4 to make their total 16 for the game.

The Bulldogs used 32 passes, completing 8 for 64 yards, and the Badgers intercepted 6 of them. The Badgers attempted 13 passes, completed 6 and had 1 intercepted.

This Friday afternoon the Bulldogs will show their stuff before a home crowd when they entertain the Stanton Buffaloes. The game is to start at 2:30 o'clock at the high school field. A large following of home fans is expected to see the game.

A party of Loraine nimrods left Wednesday for a ranch in Mason County to be on hand when the deer season opened on Thursday. The same party visited the same place last year where they killed seven bucks.

An old house on the ranch is being used as a camp site where they will make headquarters during their stay of several days.

Those in the party were Claude Spikes, W. R. Martin, Jack Walker, Charley Spikes, W. S. Wimberley, Wiley Walker, Mrs. Jack Walker and Mrs. Charley Spikes. Pete Warren accompanied them as cook.

Pete Warren and Jack Walker left Tuesday with a trailer load of groceries to be there and have camp ready for the rest of the party.

Thompsons Annual Round-Up Held

The annual November 11th round-up on the Charlie Thompson ranch south of Colorado City had its day again this year, bigger and better, for the sixth consecutive time since its origin this many years ago.

A chuck wagon dinner and the branding and dehorning of about a hundred head of cattle were the highlights of the days program with Uncle Charlie still retaining the championship as the best roper in the Thompson family. Though Uncle Charlie is near 77 he is still able to swing a mean rope over a whiteface in a skillful manner. His sons strive yearly to best him but up till now they have failed.

The Thompson Roundup, which became an annual affair some six years ago is indeed the happiest period of this large family's life. The event is looked forward to and prepared for from one November 11 to the next. At this last occasion there were between 60 and 70 people enjoyed the festivities with all relatives present but one son, Wiley Thompson, of Stephenville, who was unable to attend.

O. I. Griffin Named Manager of LWEC

O. I. Griffin, of Loraine, operator of the local telephone exchange, was named manager Wednesday of the Lone Wolf Electrical Cooperative, Inc., of Colorado City and Mitchell County.

Mr. Griffin reports that work is progressing rapidly on the proposed rural electric project which takes in Pleasant Ridge, Valley View, and Longfellow communities.

Contract for the construction of the line is to be let November 24.

Experienced Cheese Maker In Kansas City Accepts Position

Confess To Theft Of Tires Here

Walter Lemay and O. H. Mize of Colorado City have made an affidavit to Deputy Sheriff J. N. Narrell and other officials that they were the ones who broke into the Jack Walker filling station here on the night of October 15 and took several tires. In their confession the two men told the officers where to find four of the tires in Jacksonville, Texas, where they had sold them. Narrell has an order for the release of the tires to him.

The two men are alleged to be members of a gang that has been taking cars, tires and other merchandise throughout this section for a long time. They were sentenced to two years in the penitentiary for each of two charges against them for transporting stolen goods into the county, the sentences to run concurrently.

Frank Murphy World War Veteran Was Buried Monday

Frank Murphy, a negro, World War veteran died at his home north of Loraine on the Clyde Smith farm Sunday after a continued illness in which he was a sufferer of a lung infection which became aggravated from a poisoned gas exposure during the war.

Funeral services were held Monday afternoon in the local negro church with Rev. B. A. Hubbard officiating. Interment was in the Sweetwater cemetery.

Frank Murphy was the husband of Gussie Lee Murphy, who survives him. Three children and two grandchildren also survive.

JOHNSON HOSPITAL OPENED YEAR AGO

The hospital of Dr. Bruce Johnson celebrated its first anniversary Monday of last week. In its first year of existence the hospital took care of many patients. Approximately four hundred patients having been served here with the old man stork stopping almost forty times.

BLANCHE ROSE WALKER

The Blanche Rose Walker Circle met in the home of Mrs. W. H. Riden Monday afternoon with 8 present. Mrs. Thornhill brought the devotional. We had a very interesting lesson on soul winning by Mrs. L. L. Jarratt.

VISITS IN SPIKES HOME

Sunday visitors in the home of Mrs. J. E. Spikes were H. C. Spikes and Louise and Billie and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Spikes of Roscoe, and Mr. and Mrs. Burr Brown of Coahoma.

HALLMARK—COFFEE

The marriage of Milton Hallmark and Miss Phyllis Coffee of last June at New Braunfels, Texas, was announced Armistice Day when Milton brought his bride home to visit his parents. This came as a surprise to their parents and their friends.

Mrs. Hallmark is the daughter of Mrs. L. C. Coffee now of Williams, Arizona. She attended school at Sweetwater high school and was in the graduating class of 1934.

Milton is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Hallmark of Loraine and attended high school here, graduating in 1934, and attended Texas Tech at Lubbock, graduating in 1938. He has been employed as Textile Engineer at the Textile Mills at New Braunfels since his graduation.

They will make their home at New Braunfels.

Directors of the Loraine Cooperative Association Monday night elected C. T. Marth of Kansas City, Kansas, as manager and cheesemaker for the association. Mr. Marth is a former Texas man and his parents and brothers live near Roscoe where they have lived for 15 years.

Mr. Marth is now employed by the Producers Milk Marketing Company, a farmers cooperative association of Kansas City, where he has been employed for eight years. He is highly recommended as a cheesemaker and business executive. In his experience he has pulled at least two Texas cheese factories out of the hole and turned them into successful enterprises. He is to be here about December 1.

Other business to come before the directors was the discussion of ways and means of financing the organization on a sound basis. The secretary reported almost enough funds in the form of notes and pledges to take up 40% of the cost price of the equipment if it is all collected. The directors urge that everyone who owes the association a note or pledge for preferred stock pay it in at once if possible so that there will be no delay in establishing the plants. All of the notes and pledges will have to be paid in order for the organization to pay for the equipment when it is due. Directors also urge everyone who can to rent a location.

The buildings for the plants are nearing completion and should be ready to receive the equipment very soon. The directors are hopeful that the plants may be ready for operation about Christmas.

Ben Smith Hurt In Car Wreck

B. D. Smith, who left here last Wednesday for Alabama to attend the funeral of an uncle who was killed in a car wreck, was injured in a car wreck himself while on his way there.

Mr. Smith was riding with another brother and his wife when a heavy fog caught them in Mississippi where the accident happened. The Smith car was following another car and plowed into it when the other car hit a truck in front of it. Mr. Smith said the fog was so thick he could hardly see anything.

Mr. Smith suffered a sprained wrist and bruises about the head. They were unable to continue their journey.

MOORE-SCOWN

Miss Laverne Scown and Mr. James Moore were united in marriage Sunday Oct. 29 by Rev. Price at his home in Sweetwater. Laverne is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Scown of the city. Mr. Moore is the son of Oscar Moore formerly of Loraine now residing in Sweetwater. They will make their home in Sweetwater where he is employed. Several friends attended the ceremony.

FROM LUBBOCK

Byron Bennett, who is attending Texas Tech in Lubbock, visited his mother last weekend.

Dutch-Belgian Arbitration Bid Lost in Beer Hall Excitement; Fear of Nazi Invasion Mounts

(EDITOR'S NOTE—When opinions are expressed in these columns, they are those of the news analyst and not necessarily of this newspaper.)

STEEL MILLS BLOSSOM AT GARY, IND.
Some industries expand; neutrality stifles others.

TRADE & INDUSTRY

Repeal of the U. S. arms embargo, which keeps American ships out of combat zones and allows belligerents "cash and carry" rights, not only set off a partial business boom at home but also brought major repercussions in world diplomatic, trade and maritime circles. A survey by the Northwestern National Life Insurance company showed luxury and semi-luxury goods began moving swiftly in September, but Federal Works Administrator John Carmody spiked any boom hopes: Only 500,000 of the 9,000,000 unemployed can expect new jobs.

There was cautious expansion in U. S. industry, where building awards for October totaled $49,910,000 against $12,814,000 a year ago. Many firms announced stock dividends payable in December. Railroads, which coupled their expansion with a plea that they might be permitted to operate without government interference in times of emergency, were offered a new recovery program by Jesse Jones, federal loan administrator. This plan, used first by the Boston and Maine line, calls for postponing debt payments and reducing annual interest charges through a refunding process to be financed by Reconstruction

EUROPE: Cause Celebre?

"This," said Prime Minister Chamberlain, "is not a state of war but a state of siege." He was not far wrong. The French claimed nine of their U. S.-made planes had downed one-third of a 27-plane German force over the western front. There was also a mysterious battle in the North sea from which the

WILHELMINA AND LEOPOLD
Their peace exploded.

Ark Royal reportedly limped home with a captured vessel. But, as usual, the biggest war news was made far from the front.

Some 20 Nazi divisions stationed on their frontiers worried Belgium's King Leopold and The Netherlands' Queen Wilhelmina. Moreover, they heard rumors that Adolf Hitler would invade on November 15, claiming as an excuse that the allies would do likewise if Germany didn't invade first.

Though steadfastly denying any German "ultimatum" for a statement of their positions, the king and queen held all-night consultations with their foreign ministers. Result: A peace appeal was dispatched to all combatants offering Belgian-Dutch mediation services. Britain rejected it politely.

Fuehrer Hitler was less polite. Not waiting to reply directly, he hastened to the beer hall at Munich where his notorious puisch took place in 1923. There, on Nazism's sixteenth birthday, he scorned peace: "There can be only one victor—that is we."

Hardly had Hitler left the beer

hall before a mysterious blast in the empty attic upstairs sent its heavy ceiling crashing on the hangers-on who had stayed behind. Next day, while the Nazi press railed at Jews and the British secret service as "instigators" of the plot, the Wilhelmstrasse offered a $200,000 reward for capture of the perpetrators. While seers wondered if the Munich explosion might not prove another cause celebre like Sarajevo or the Peiping bridge incident, pro-Hitler sentiment began crystallizing in Germany. Dead as a dodo was the Belgian-Dutch peace plea; in fact, the Dutch opened their dykes in self-defense following border clashes that smelled suspiciously like those before the Polish invasion.

CONGRESS: Committee Time

Home to the stamping grounds went most senators and congressmen when the special neutrality session adjourned. But between sessions is a fine time for committee hearings. Still in session is Martin Dies' un-Americanism group, ballyhooing for another appropriation. Two other groups, working out legislative suggestions for next January's term, are:

House Tax Subcommittee. Opening its hearings under Tennessee's Rep. Jere Cooper, the committee talked about broadening income tax bases. But there was a disinclination to offer concrete proposals. It was announced final determination of a program will await the opening of congress. Two official reasons: (1) The treasury is studying taxes, soliciting suggestions from business and industry; (2) National defense needs for the next fiscal year are not yet known. Besides, the committee is wondering about taxes on excess war profits, not knowing where to turn. Equally important, how would tax revision be received in an election year like 1940?

(At Washington, Secretary of the Treasury Morgenthau told reporters any initiative for raising the U. S. debt limit above $45,000,000,000 must come from congress, not from himself or the White House. Present debt: About $41,000,000,000.)

NLRB Investigating Committee. Deferring hearings until its Chairman Howard Smith (Dem., Va.) gets well, the house labor committee found new kindling for its campaign against the labor board in a new strike technique, the "slowdown." Defined Ohio's Rep. Harry Routhahn: "The slowdown is almost the same as the sitdown." Its origin, he said, could be traced to the northwest lumber camps, thence to the recent Chrysler strike.

Mother Takes Witness Stand Before Dies Committee

A boast that Communists would take over the government and armed forces of the United States was told to Martin Dies, right, of Texas, chairman of the Dies committee investigating un-American activities, by Mrs. Dolcie Crawford, left, of Frederick, Md. Mrs. Crawford's son, William McCuiston, was arrested recently in connection with a New Orleans murder, and the man who "tipped off" the police that her son could be apprehended made the boast to her, according to Mrs. Crawford.

As British Merchant Ships Swarm the Seven Seas

Swarming over the seven seas on any given day are 1,545 British merchant ships, easy prey for Nazi submarines. Another 705 British merchantmen are in foreign ports on the same day. As vital to British lifelines as her navy, the cargo-carrying vessels cruise over 90,000 miles of ocean and sea lanes. To peace-time England the merchant fleet carries almost 48 per cent of all her food. Today it must bring the same food, plus steel, oil, guns, planes and war essentials. It's a huge job for England to convoy those 1,545 ships daily. Key to the numbers on the map shown in inset.

'Now, Here's the Way It Appears to Me'

It must have been a matter of grave consequence judging from the facial expression of Rep. Luther A. Johnson of Texas, right, who whispers into the ear of Rep. James A. Shanley of Connecticut. Johnson probably wears a happier look now, for the arms embargo repeal, which he backed, was adopted. Shanley advocated retention of existing embargo legislation.

'Somebody Please Throw That Man Out'

When the cameraman surprised Countess Barbara Hutton Haugwitz-Reventlow, left, and Bob Sweeney, her new heart interest, while dining in a New York hotel, their companion, Countess Dorothy DiFrasso, jumped to the rescue and threw her fur piece over "Bab's" face, requesting that the cameraman be thrown out. Sweeney was too busy ducking.

Soldier's Return

Eager to help England win the war was Charles Conner, 14, of Chicago. He stowed away on board a transatlantic liner, then jumped the ship when it reached a British contraband inspection point. Authorities restrained him from joining the army and sent him home.

Red Cross Worker

Helen Keller, famous blind scholar and lecturer, has her new Red Cross bonnet adjusted by nine-year-old Betty Lou Morris. Miss Keller added to her other activities by joining the organization at the roll call workers' rally held in Philadelphia.

New for the Mirror And Old Piano Stool

By RUTH WYETH SPEARS
THE illustration shows what became of the mirror and piano stool which the bride had left over last week. To the mirror and stool were added two wooden boxes from the grocery. These were placed on end about 18 inches apart and a shelf of 1/2-inch pine screwed to the top. A frame was then screwed to the back of the boxes as shown here. A curtain rod was placed across the top and the mirror hung lengthwise under it. An arm was fastened to the front of each box. Paint was next. White, because white furniture is smart and because it matched the woodwork. The flowered chintz in tones of rose and blue-green with narrow frills of the plain blue-green tone matched the window curtains.

The dressing table skirt was made with a one-inch heading at the top and tacked along the ends of the table and the hinged arms with thumbtacks through a double strip of the plain material.

DOAN'S PILLS

Rotten Apples

WERE you ever a youngster back East, where they bought apples by the barrel and stored them in the cellar over against the long winter evenings? When winter came, did you spend most of your Saturdays sorting over the barrels of apples, picking out the rotten ones so they would not make the whole barrel that way?

And didn't you and the family eat nothing but rotten apples the next week?

Isn't life like that? And didn't you live in the kitchen, because the parlor should not be mussed up? And isn't it the truth that you lived in the kitchen all your life?

And didn't you always wear your old clothes, because you had to keep the good ones to go to meeting on Sunday? And as a result, weren't you run down at the heel and patched on the seat most of the time?

And did you ever get over it? Haven't you gone through life with an inferiority complex, holding musty ideas and most of the time the same old worn-out notions until they were ready for the grab-bag? Do you still wait for somebody else to step ahead and do the pioneering?

You do—if you're still eating rotten apples.—W. L. Y. Davis, in Los Angeles Tribune.

Gems of Thought

NOR deem the irrevocable past as wholly wasted, wholly vain, if rising on its wrecks, at last to something nobler we attain.—Longfellow.

Happiness never lays its finger on its pulse. If we attempt to steal a glimpse of its features, it disappears.—Alexander Smith.

As a moth gnaws a garment, so doth envy consume a man.—Chrysostom.

Better it were, that all the miseries which nature owns were ours at once, than guilt.—Shakespeare.

Be at war with your vices, at peace with your neighbors, and let every year find you a better man.—Franklin.

Courage does not consist in the absence of fear, but the subjugation of it.

It is as easy to call back a stone thrown from the hand, as to call back the word that is spoken.—Menander.

Then Eloise and Edith came in, and presently the men, and Lucy and Del from a trip to the small porkers, and Adelaide going out with Del to dinner was uncomfortably aware that Jane had either artlessly or artfully refused to discuss with her the women who had been loved by Frederick Towne!

The dinner was delicious. "Our farm products," Delafeld boasted. Even the fish, it seemed, he had caught that morning, motoring over to the river and bringing them back to be split and broiled and served with little new potatoes. There was chicken and asparagus, small cream cheeses with the salad, heaped-up berries in a Royal Worcester bowl, roses from the garden. "All home-grown," said the proud new husband.

Jane ate with little appetite. She had refused to discuss with Adelaide the former heart affairs of her betrothed, but the words rang in her ears. "The women that Ricky has loved."

Jane was young. And to youth, love is for the eternities. The thought of herself as one of a succession of Dulcineas was degrading. She was restless and unhappy. It was useless to assure herself that Towne had chosen her above all the rest. She was not sophisticated enough to assume that it is, perhaps, better to be a man's last love than his first. That Towne had made it possible for any woman to speak of him as Adelaide spoke, seemed to Jane to drag her own relation to him in the dust.

The strength of the wind increased. The table was sheltered by the house, but at last Delafeld decided, "We'd better go in. The rain is coming. We can have our coffee in the hall."

Their leaving had the effect of a stampede. Big drops splashed into the plates. The men servants and maids scurried to the rescue of china and linen.

The draperies of the women streamed in the wind. Adelaide's tulle was a banner of green and blue. The peacock came swiftly up the walk, crying raucously, and found a sheltered spot beneath the steps.

From the wide hall, they saw the rain in silver sheets. Then the doors were shut against the beating wind.

They drank their coffee, and bridge tables were brought in. There were enough without Jane to form two tables. And she was glad. She wandered into the living-room and curled herself up in a window-seat. The window opened on the porch. Beyond the white pillars she could see the road, and the rain-drenched garden.

After a time the rain stopped, and the world showed clear as crystal against the opal brightness of the western sky. The peacock came out of his hiding-place, and dragged a long, heavy tail over the sodden lawn.

It was cool and the air was sweet. Jane lay with her head against a cushion, looking out. She was lonely and wished that Towne would come. Perhaps in his presence her doubts would vanish. It grew dark and darker. Jane shut her eyes and at last she fell asleep.

She was waked by Towne's voice. He was on the porch. "Where is everybody?"

It was Adelaide who answered him. "They have motored into Alexandria to the movies. Eloise would have it. But I stayed—waiting for you, Ricky."

"Where's Jane?"

"She went up-stairs early. Like a sleepy child."

Jane heard his laugh. "She is a child—a darling child."

Then in the darkness Adelaide said, "Don't, Ricky."

"Why not?"

"Do you remember that once upon a time you called me—a darling child?"

"Did I? Well, perhaps you were. You are certainly a very charming woman."

Jane, listening breathlessly, assured herself that of course he was polite. He had to be.

Adelaide was speaking. "So you are going to make the announcement tomorrow?"

"Who told you?"

"Edith."

"Well, it seemed best, Adelaide. The wedding day isn't far off—and the world will have to know it."

A hushed moment, then, "Oh, Ricky, Ricky!"

"Adelaide! Don't take it like that."

"I can't help it. You are going out of my life. And you've always been so strong, and big, and brave. No other man will ever match you."

When he spoke, his voice had a new and softer note. "I didn't dream it would hurt you."

"You might have known."

The lightning flickered along the horizon showed Adelaide standing beside Towne's chair.

"Ricky"—the whispered words reached Jane—"kiss me once—to say 'good-by.'"

CHAPTER XVI

Young Baldwin Barnes, on Saturday morning, ate breakfast alone in the little house. He read his paper and drank his coffee. But the savor of things was gone. He missed Jane. Her engaging chatter, the spirited challenge, even the small irritations. "She is such a darling-dear," was his homesick meditation.

Oh, a man needed a woman on the other side of the table. And when Jane was married, what then? Edith!

Oh, if he might! If Philomel might sing for her! Toast and poached eggs! Nectar and ambrosia! His little house a castle!

"But it isn't mine own," the young poet reminded himself; "there is still the mortgage." He came down to earth, cleared the table, fed the pussy-cats. Then he went down to the post-box to get the mail.

The Barnes' mail was rarely voluminous, rarely interesting. A bill or two, a letter from Judy—some futile advertising stuff.

This morning, however, there was a long envelope. In one corner was the name of the magazine to which, nearly six months before, Baldy had sent his prize cover design. The thing had almost gone out of his thoughts. He had long ceased to hope. Money did not miraculously fall into one's lap.

Towne, riding like mad along the Virginia roads.

He tore open the envelope. Within was a closely typed letter and a pale pink check.

The check was for two thousand dollars. He had won the prize!

Breathless with the thought of it, deprived of strength, he sat down on the terrace steps. Merrymaid and the kitten came down and angled for attention, but Baldy overlooked them utterly. The letter was astounding. The magazine had not only given him the prize but they wanted more of his work. They would pay well for it—and if he would come to New York at their expense, the art editor would like to talk it over!

Baldy, looking up from the pregnant phrases and catching Merrymaid's eye upon him, demanded, "Now, what do you think of that? Shall I resign from the office? I'll tell the world, I will!"

Oh, the thing might even make it possible for him to marry Edith. He could at least pay for the honeymoon—preserve some sense of personal independence while he worked towards fame. If she would only see it. That he must ask her to live for a time—in the little house. He'd make things easy for her—oh, well, the thing could be done—it could be done.

He flew up the steps on the wings of his delight. He would ride like the wind to Virginia—find Edith in a rose-garden, fling himself at her feet. Declare his good fortune! And he would see her eyes!

Packing his bag, he decided to stop in Washington, and perpetrate a few extravaganzas. Something for Edith. Something for Jane. Something for himself. There would be no harm in looking his best.

He arrived at Grass Hills in time for lunch. His little flivver came up the drive as proudly as a limousine. And Baldy descending was a gay and gallant figure. There was no one in sight but the servants who took his bag, and drove his car around to the garage. A maid in rose linen said that Mr. and Mrs. Simms were at the stables. Miss Towne was on the links with the other guests, and would return from the Country Club in time for lunch at two o'clock. Miss Barnes was up-stairs. Her head had ached, and she had had her breakfast in bed.

"Will you let her know that I am here?"

The maid went up and came down to say that Miss Barnes was in the second gallery—and would he go right up.

The second gallery looked out over the river. Jane lay in a long chair. She was pale, and there were shadows under her eyes.

"Oh, look here, Janey," Baldy blurted out, "is it as bad as this?"

"I'm just—lazy," she sat up and kissed him. Then buried her face in his coat and wept silently.

"For heaven's sake, Jane," he patted her shoulder, "what's the matter?"

"I want to go home."

He looked blank. "Home?"

"Yes." She stopped crying.

"Baldy, something has happened—and I've got to tell you." Tensely, with her hands clasped about her knees, she rehearsed for him the scene between Adelaide and Frederick Towne. And when she finished she said, "I can't marry him."

"Of course not. A girl like you. You'd be miserable. And that's the end of it."

"Utterly miserable." She stared before her. Then presently she went on, "I stayed up-stairs all the morning. Lucy and Edith have been perfect dears. I think Edith lays it to the announcement of my engagement tonight. That I was dreading it. Of course it mustn't be announced, Baldy."

He stood up, sternly renouncing his dreams. "Get your things on, Jane, and I'll take you home. You can't stay here, of course. We can decide later what it is best to do."

"I don't see how I can break it off. He's done so much for us. I can't ever—pay him—"

In Baldy's pocket was the pink slip. He took it out and handed it to his sister. "Jane, I got the prize. Two thousand dollars."

"Baldy!" Her tone was incredulous.

He had no joy in the announcement. The thing had ceased to mean freedom—it had ceased to mean—Edith. It meant only one thing at the moment, to free Jane from bondage.

He gave Jane the letter and she read it. "It is your great opportunity."

"Yes." He refused to discuss that aspect of it. "And it comes in the nick of time for you, old dear."

Their flight was a hurried one. A note for Lucy and one for Towne. A note for Edith!

Jane was not well was the reason given their hostess. The note to Towne said more than that. And the note left for Edith was—renunciation.

Edith coming home to luncheon found the note in her room. All the morning she had been filled with glorious anticipation. Baldy would arrive in a few hours. Together they would walk down that trellised path to the fountain, they would sit on the marble coping. She would trail her hand through the water. Further than that she would not let her imagination carry her. It was enough that she would see him in that magic place with his air of golden youth.

But she was not to see him, for the note said:

"Beloved—I make no excuse for calling you that because I say it always in my heart—Jane has made up her mind that she cannot marry your uncle. So we are leaving at once."

"I can't tell you what the thought of these two days with you meant to me. And now I must give you up. Perhaps I must give you up, I don't know. I came with high hopes. I go away without any hope at all. But I love you."

Edith read the note twice, then put it to her lips. She hardly dared admit to herself the keenness of her disappointment.

She stood for a long time at the window looking out. Why had Jane decided not to marry Uncle Frederick? What had happened since yesterday afternoon?

From Edith's window she could see the south lawn. The servants were arranging a buffet luncheon. Little tables were set around—and wicker chairs. Adelaide, tall and fair, in her favorite blue and a broad black hat stood by one of the little tables. She was feeding the peacock with bits of bread. She made a picture, and Towne's window faced that way.

"I wonder—" Edith said, and stopped. She remembered coming in from the movies the night before and finding Adelaide and Towne out on the porch. And where was Jane?

Towne did not eat lunch. He pleaded important business, and had his car brought around. But everybody knew that he was following Jane. Mystery was in the air. Adelaide was restless. Only Edith knew the truth.

After lunch, she told Lucy. "Jane isn't going to marry Uncle Fred. I don't know why. But I am afraid that it is breaking up your house party."

"I hope it is," said Lucy, calmly. "Delafeld is bored to death. He wants to get back to his pigs and roses. I am speaking frankly to you because I know you understand. I want our lives to be bigger and broader than they would have been if we hadn't met. And as for you"—her voice shook a little—"you'll always be a sort of goddess blessing our hearth."

Edith bent and kissed her, emotion gripping her. "Your hearth is blessed without me," she said, "but I'll always be glad to come."

Towne, riding like mad along the Virginia roads, behind the competent Briggs, pondered over Jane's letter.

"I was not up-stairs last night when you came. I was asleep in the window-seat of the living-room, just off the porch. And your voice waked me, and I heard what you said, and Mrs. Laramore. And I can't marry you. I know how much you've done for me—and I shall never forget your goodness. Baldy will take me home."

Enclosed was a pink check.

Towne blamed Adelaide furiously. Of course it was her fault. Such foolishness. And sentimentality. And he had been weak enough to fall for it.

Yet, as he cooled a bit, he was glad that Jane had showed her resentment. It was in keeping with his conception of her. Her innocence had flamed against such sophistication. There might, too, be a hint of jealousy. Women were like that.

As they whirled through Washington, Briggs voiced his fears. "If we meet a cop it will be all up with us, Mr. Towne."

"Take a chance, Briggs. Give her more gas. We've got to get there."

With all their speed, however, it was four o'clock when they reached Sherwood. Towne was still in the clothes he had worn on the links. He had not eaten since breakfast. He felt the strain.

He stormed up the terrace, where once he had climbed in the snow. He rang the bell. It whirled and whirled again in the silence. The house was empty.

HOUSEHOLD QUESTIONS

New Hot-Water Bottle.—Add a teaspoonful of glycerine to the hot water when filling a new rubber hot-water bottle for the first time. This keeps the rubber soft and in good condition.

When Glass Breaks.—A handful of moistened absorbent cotton will pick up bits of broken glass without endangering the fingers.

Removing Odors.—Odors can be removed from bottles by rinsing with cold water to which a little dry mustard is added.

Care of Electric Cord.—Don't twist, bend or tie the so-called cord attached to your electric iron. It is not a cord, but two bundles of wires.

INDIGESTION

Sensational Relief from Indigestion

and One Dose Proves It
If the first dose of this pleasant-tasting little black tablet doesn't bring you the fastest and most complete relief you have experienced, get another bottle back to us and get DOUBLE MONEY BACK. This Ballan tablet helps the stomach digest food, makes the excess stomach fluids harmless, and lets you eat the nourishing foods you need. For heartburn, sick headache and upset so often caused by excess stomach fluids making you feel sour and sick all over—JUST ONE DOSE of Ballan proves speedy relief. See everywhere.

Lost Wanderer

If any man fancies that there is some easier way of gaining a dollar than by squarely earning it, he has lost the clue to his way through this mortal labyrinth, and must henceforth wander as a chance may dictate.—Horace Greeley.

GIVE THAT COLD THE AIR

QUICK WITH THIS FIRST-THOUGHT FIRST-AID FOR HEAD COLDS, NASAL MISERIES, PENETRO NOSE DROPS—2 DROPS—THEY SOOTHE AS THEY TOUCH, THEY COOL AS THEY VAPORIZE, THEY SHRINK AS THEY ACT—AND FRESH-AIR BREATHING IS FREER AGAIN.

Creation of Idleness

It is idleness that creates impossibilities; and where men care, not to do a thing, they shelter themselves under a persuasion that it cannot be done.—South.

Isn't This Why You Are Constipated?

What do you eat for breakfast? Coffee, toast, maybe some eggs? What do you eat for lunch and dinner? White bread, meat, potatoes? It's little wonder you're constipated. You probably don't eat enough "bulk." And "bulk" doesn't mean the amount you eat. It's a kind of food that forms a soft "bulky" mass in the intestines and helps a movement. If this is your trouble, may we suggest a crunchy toasted cereal—Kellogg's All-Brans—for breakfast. All-Brans is a natural food, not a medicine—but it's particularly rich in "bulk." Being so, it can help you not only to get regular but to keep regular. You won't have to endure constipation, you can avoid it. Eat All-Brans daily, drink plenty of water, and life will be brighter for you! Made by Kellogg's in Battle Creek.

A Loose Tongue

Never yet did any man repent of having spoken too little, whereas many have been sorry that they have spoken too much.—Arabian Nights.

Reward for Efforts

It never will rain roses; when we want to have more roses we must plant more trees.—George Eliot.

Few of us realize that grand songs of the west, "Home On The Range," has become classified as being the greatest loved of American songs.

But why shouldn't it be when within the loved verses we find the spirit of the pioneers of the west—the cowboy of the range—and in these lie our heritage. In these verses, within the ecstasy of music of our people, we have the the strains of this most beloved visualization of our "home on the range." We become as the spirit of adventure, Freedom, brotherhood and romance. None of these arise from the strains of Shue-bert's Symphony or from any the music of European composers. It is just as difficult for us to understand as their language, or customs, or environment.

Some people will argue that the reason we don't appreciate such high class (they prefer to call it such) is brought about because of our ignorance, as I had it put to me today. If their contentions are right, then I am ready to confess my idiocy. At that I am man enough to admit what I like and not attempting to fool myself or Mr. and Mrs. Public. I am thankful to my creator he has given me the mind of my people, their likes, dislikes and the disposition of not to be backward in my reasons.

I say we need stronger emphasis on our own songs and customs than try to create the culture of Europe. It is easy to see what their culture has brought them.
In fact I would dare a wager the dictators from the home country of all this symphony music would gladly trade their throne for a
"home on the range" over here in the U.S.A.

NOBODY'S
BUSINESS

BY JULIAN CAPERS JR.

AUSTIN—Pensions for the aged continued to be the major political issue in Texas this weekend, as Austin seethed with discussion of the prospects of a special session, and saw a new style in Legislative procedure being tried out. Gov. W. Lee O'Daniel having failed to get agreement from a majority of legislators on his sales tax proposal, checked the problem back to the solons, by indicating he will not call a special session unless the legislators agree in advance to pass a specific tax bill. Leaders of the anti-sales tax group, joined by several House members who supported SJR 12, the constitutional sales tax program of special interests and Gov. O'Daniel, were seeking pledges by mail to an omnibus bill, similar to the one passed by the House, and killed in Senate committee, at the regular session.
Observers here discounted the probability of getting the solons to tie their hands in advance by a pledge to vote for any bill, and the special interest lobbyists continued a high pressure drive throughout the State to mobilize sentiment behind a movement to oppose any special session.

NOVEMBER PAY-OFF

Meanwhile, Texas pensioners to the total of 121,646, were assured November checks averaging $8.24 each, with the approval by the Federal Social Security board of the grant for the month from Federal funds. The new setup of the State Welfare Board has not yet been approved by the Social Security board, but the November grant was delayed regardless.

An indication of growing opposition to the economic lunacy of wild-eyed pension schemes elsewhere in the United States was seen in the defeat by substantial majorities, of the $50-a-month-for-all-over-60 plan in Ohio, and the
"ham-and-egg" or $30-a-month-
Thursday brainstorm in California. Voters apparently are becoming gradually aware that unless reason is applied to the social security program, it will bankrupt
those who have to pay the taxes to support Utopia.

STATE EYES DALLAS

Throughout Texas, spectators were watching with interest a political situation in Dallas, where James Aston, 28-year-old city manager, former A&M football star, is handling an issue that is full of political dynamite. A group of Dallas firemen brought suit against the city to collect alleged back pay for "overtime" which accrued after the state law fixing minimum hours and minimum wages for city firemen was enacted. Aston, backed by the city council, retaliated by slashing the city's contribution to the Firemen's pension fund enough to meet the claim of $65,000, if the firemen win. He also delivered an ultimatum to the firemen that all must resign from the Dallas Firemen's Union, an AF of L affiliate by November 23, or lose their city jobs. Aston is the youngest manager of a large city in the United States, and his handling of the ticklish issue in Dallas is regarded as having a large bearing on his future.

That the State doesn't have all the economic problems was indicated, also, when it was announced Dallas County's general fund overdraft had mounted to the unprecedented level of $849,516, and county politicians asked Attorney General Gerald Mann to okay a scheme to refund the debt by issuing warrants, without a vote of the taxpayers. Ex-Attorney General Bill McCraw previously had hedged such a refunding scheme was illegal.

Nothing to Brag About

Travelers claim to have seen this sign posted in a coun-

INTRODUCING THE SENIORS

Wilda Marie Finch was born in Loraine, Texas, Sept. 22, 1922. She is five feet four inches tall, weighs 116 pounds, has brown eyes, medium complexion, and is well liked all about L. H. S.

Wilda began her school days at Longfellow. From there she went to Lone Star up until last year when she became a member of our class.

Wilda's favorite sports are skating and tennis. Wilda has won first place in tennis for two years at the county meet. She is a member of the Spanish club.

Wilda doesn't like movies nor football; and she simply hates fruit cakes (of all things to hate!)

As a child she always preferred to play with boys rather than girls. Wilda is a good sport, and we're proud to say that she's a SENIOR!

SENIOR NEWS

For sometime the Seniors have been planning to go to Court as we have been studying about the same in Civics. So, Monday morning we came to school expecting to have a class, and found out that court in Colorado City had begun. The class almost went wild for joy! At 10:30 A. M. 38 seniors, a post-graduate, and Coach stacked and piled themselves into the bus, and the next thing we knew we were in the Courthouse.

Well, dumb us that had never been inside before, went up the wrong stairs the first time! At last we stealthily crept into the courtroom where a case was already in progress. It seemed as though all eyes turned on us, and for a moment the defendant was forgotten, but then Seniors sometime feel that way you know. Well we got settled and heard the last statements made by Mr. Barber to the jury. The seats were so high that some of us could not see; but only heard.

The next case was a Mexican case, and Mr. Gregory thought it best for the girls not to hear it; so instead of hearing the trial, the girls were taken through the county jail by Mr. Gregory. The girls appreciated this very much and all agreed what a terrible thing it was to be in jail. One girl got so excited she fell through the steps! Once we were in the courtroom we all sauntered thru the streets of Colorado City 'window shopping' and met the boys for lunch in the Broadway Cafe. After lunch we all gathered in front of the Courthouse, and at 1:30 P. M. we again went to the courtroom and listened to the final case. It was not so long as we expected—as the two defended pleaded guilty before the court, and there was no jury. Judge Mauzey sentenced them to two years in that State Penitentiary for each case, and the court adjourned. The Seniors arrived on the L. H. S. campus at 2:45 P. M. We all had an excellent time and I'm sure we learned quite a bit. We are looking forward to going again in the next term of court if an important murder case of some kind is brought up. All in all, we agree that it was more than just educational.

SOPHOMORE NEWS

The Sophs are working to gather up books for the library. We thing we're goinb to win that holiday.

In English the Sophs are studying poetry. Royce Mahon has all of the romances figured out ahead of time. Miss Young says he's been seeing too many movies.

The Sophomore Class has a new member. The name is Nellie Prescott. We're glad to have her in our class.

The newest pair of initials to be coupled together are S and S. By the way, they're a Junior and a Sophomore.

That's all till next week and remember if you have any old books give them to the Sophomores. We will appreciate them.

BAND NEWS

The band played a short concert Friday evening on the Armistice Day program. The program began with Taps and ended with the "National Anthem".

The band is very sorry that Alvin Jarratt is sick for we need him at our band practice. Get well quick, Alvin.

We want to thank LaRue West for helping us out on our formation Friday night at Merkel.

If you heard the band Friday afternoon you were probably surprised by hearing "Beer Barrel Polka." We received it Thursday and we hope to have some more new pieces later on.

We had a new member to go with the Band Friday night. She was small but it was Dorothy Jean Hallmark.

And with "Adieu" we close 'till next week. Hurrah for the Band.

FRESHMAN NEWS

Ho-hum, we're still sleepy from our Armistice Holiday and ball game at Merkel.

If any of the other three classes in high school tell you that they are going to win that half day holiday, by bringing in the most books, you will know that they are just "foolin'".

One of our classmates, Mary Layfield, had a birthday Thursday. She was fourteen. The girls gave her fourteen licks and one to grow on and wished her many happy birthdays in the future.

Who says the fish are green!

Well here's one I wouldn't say was so green. He is Segale Yarbrough who came to our school from Bauman. He composed the following poem.

Germany's Dictator
The dictator of Germany, I'm sure you all know,
Just started a war a few months ago,

He is already from us, so they say,
He's crawled in a mountain for a while to stay.

So he knows it's not healthy, to be strolling around,
And thought he'd play safe, and stay underground,

All of his servants must obey, like that,
And be on their feet as quick as a cat.

He's been doing good, but is not right now,
And he's hollering for them to stop somehow,

hey say they are fighting to finish the end,
So he takes back off to his mountain den.

He's afraid the bullets will keep passing his ears,
For the rest of his life, or for two or three years,

He's getting so angry he started drinking gin,
And the first thing he knows he'll be back in his den.

The Senior Class of Loraine High School attended District Court in Colorado City Monday in interest of their Civics class.

Monday was the opening of the Criminal Docket and the class learned much from going.

Bauman News

Last Friday afternoon the boys and girls basket ball teams from Brownlee came over to play ball. Both games were very interesting and our boys and girls did some good playing. The Brownlee girls were victorious with a high score 14 to 0, but our boys only lost by one point, the score being 8 to 9. Those who didn't play did their part by furnishing plenty of yells.

Hattie Mae Wiggins entertained the girls of the sixth grade with a slumber party Halloween night. A delicious supper was served at six o'clock and plate favors were Halloween dolls made with orange coored all day suckers and balek and orange crepe paper. Then games suitable for the occasion were played and awards were given to the best player in several contests. Popcorn was served at a late hour and the game of "eye" was next in order.

As it seemed as if those who were still present (for seen plenty). Every one enjoyed this party very much and looking forward to another such occasion. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wiggins and son, Mavis Webb, Leta Yarbrough, Juanice Bruce and the hostess.

Alma Ruth Collier entertained her Sunday School Class with a Halloween party Tuesday night. Everyone reported a good time, with plenty of ghosts present.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Anders and daughters, Louise and Enla Fay, visited Mrs. Anders and mother at Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. O. J. Anders have moved to Sgroville, Texas, near Dallas. We regret very much to lose them from our community.

Mr. and Mrs. Mabel Bruce and daughters visited with J. H. Beatty and family Sunday afternoon.

Both the Webb and Thompson families have been away the past week at the bedside of Mrs. Webb and Mr. Thompson's father who was injured by his horse falling on him. We are glad to report that he is much improved this week.

Mrs. Retha Hogue of Lubbock visited her mother, Mrs. J. D. Yarbrough and family Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Wiggins visited their son, D. W. Wiggins, and wife Sunday.

Alvie Redden visited his mother and father, Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Redden, over the week end. He is a Senior at State Teachers College, Canyon, Texas.

Miss Lois Sisson visited her parents in Abilene over the week end.

Mr. and Mrs. Luther Anders entertained a number of their friends Friday night with a supper, honoring Mr. and Mrs. Oral Richburg who are moving away. Chicken and dressing and all the "trimmings" were served and from all reports, everyone enjoyed it very much. The house was beautifully decorated with cut flowers and pot plants. Various games and radioing were the forms of entertainment. Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. Garland Cary and children, Mr. and Mrs. Russel Cope and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Walker and daughters.

ONE OUT OF EVERY FOUR ADULTS HAS—

Sinus Disease.

According to leading doctors "sinus trouble is one of the most prevalent diseases of today. This dreaded and severely painful disease is caused by and follows the COMMON COLD." All kinds of serious complications besides sinus infection follow the common cold. America's Public Health Enemy Number One, the common cold germ wages its attack to pave the way for such serious illnesses as bronchitis, pneumonia, tuberculosis and other serious health-wrecking diseases. Frequently cold infection extends into the ear or mastoid.

HEAT YOUR ENTIRE HOME FOR YOUR HEALTH'S SAKE

DURING the common cold months, or winter season, it is especially important to take every precaution to protect your health. Quick changes of temperature should be avoided. Sudden changes of temperature, such as occur when going from a warm room into a cold one, make it easy for you to "catch cold." For your health's sake, and to obtain the greatest value from the fuel you use, heat your entire house and provide adequate ventilation during the short winter season.

CONSTIPATED! Gas Crowds Heart.
"For years I had occasional constipation, headaches and pains in the back. Awful gas bloated my bowels. Adiake always helped right away. Now I eat sausage, bananas, pie, anything I want and never feel better." - Mrs. Mabel Schott. The things happen when you are constipated. FIRST: Accumulated wastes swell up bowels and press on nerves in the digestive tract. SECOND: Partly digested food starts to decay forming GAS, often bringing on sour stomachs, indigestion, and heartburn. Adiake keeps you up until you sometimes gasp for breath. Adiake gives double relief with DOUBLE ACTION. BALANCED Adiake contains three laxatives and five carminatives relieves STOMACH GAS almost at once. It often clears bowels in less than two hours. No griping, no other effects, just quick results.

Pull the Trigger on Constipation, and Pepsin-ize Acid Stomach Too

When constipation brings on acid indigestion, bloating, dizzy spells, gas, coated tongue, sour taste, and bad breath, your stomach is probably loaded up with certain undigested food and your bowels don't move. So you need both Pepsin to help break up that rich undigested food in your stomach, and Laxative Senna to pull the trigger on those lazy bowels. So be sure your laxative also contains Pepsin. Take Dr. Caldwell's Laxative, because its Syrup Pepsin helps you gain that wonderful stomach relief, while the Laxative Senna moves your bowels. Leads to the power of Pepsin to dissolve those lumps of undigested protein food which may linger in your stomach, to cause belching, gastric acidity and nausea. This is how Pepsin-izing your stomach helps relieve it of such distress. At the same time this medicine wakes up lazy nerves and muscles in your bowels to relieve your constipation. So see how much better you feel by taking the laxative that also puts Pepsin to work on that stomach discomfort, too. Even finicky children love to taste this pleasant family laxative. Buy Dr. Caldwell's Laxative—Senna with Syrup Pepsin at your drugist today!

MEMORIES OF THANKSGIVING PRICELINESS HEIRLOOMS

Cooking the Thanksgiving Dinner

Incredible as it may seem the calendar is bringing Thanksgiving time again and with it comes to every homemaker thoughts for the Thanksgiving menu—plans for its preparation and anticipation of the family's return.

Today, however, I want to reverse this whole situation. I want to suggest to you that enjoyment of your family on Thanksgiving day should be the keynote of every one of the plans that you make for the day. Now that does not mean for one minute that I am suggesting that the Thanksgiving dinner be slighted. I couldn't do that, for who of us for one minute would sacrifice those precious memories of Thanksgiving dinners at grandmothers that are really priceless heirlooms. No, I say—we won't sacrifice the dinner—but we will plan it so that you will be as free as possible on Thanksgiving day so that you too can enjoy the family and let the family enjoy you. A miracle you say? No—not really—just wise planning—plenty of work the day before perhaps—but time—no worry—and an easy dinner on Thanksgiving—and that's worth while isn't it?

How to do it? Well here are my suggestions. First, it is entirely possible to clean, prepare and even stuff the turkey the day before Thanksgiving rather than on Thanksgiving morning. Then put it on a rack in an open roasting pan and store it in your refrigerator overnight. If you have a mechanical refrigerator it will be running of course. If you have an ice refrigerator, be sure to get an ample supply of ice so that your refrigerator can really work for you over this holiday.

Vegetables—salads—relishes, including celery, radish roses, etc., even desserts, one and all can be gotten ready on Wednesday and as I say, then all that remains for Thanksgiving day is just the cooking, the table setting and later the serving of the viands.

Below I am including a number of Thanksgiving recipes which are all planned for just such Thanksgiving ease. And—a happy Thanksgiving to each one of you.

Roast Turkey.

Allow ¾ to 1 pound of turkey per person served. Dress, clean, stuff and truss turkey. Brush well with unsalted fat and place on rack in large open roasting pan. (Store over night in refrigerator if desired).

Roast in moderate oven (325 degrees) allowing approximately 20 minutes per pound roasting time for a 12-pound turkey, 17 minutes per pound for an 18-pound turkey and 15 minutes per pound for a 22-pound turkey.

Brush with melted butter just before serving.

Dressing for Turkey.

10 cups soft bread crumbs
1 cup butter (melted)
1 tablespoon salt
1 cup chopped parsley
2 tablespoons poultry seasoning
Mix all ingredients thoroughly and use for stuffing the turkey. Note: This amount of dressing is sufficient for a 10-pound turkey. If a larger turkey is to be stuffed the recipe should be increased proportionately.

Giblet Gravy.

Pour off liquid in pan in which turkey has been roasted. From liquid skim off 6 tablespoons fat; return fat to roasting pan and brown with 6 tablespoons flour. Add 3 cups stock in which giblets, neck, and tip of wings have been cooked; or if preferred, 3 cups milk may be substituted instead of the stock. Cook, stirring constantly, until thick; then season to taste with salt and pepper. Add giblets (cut in small pieces), heat well, and serve hot.

Oranged Sweet Potatoes.

(Serves 6-8)
Parboil 6 medium sweet potatoes, peel and slice lengthwise. (Prepare to this point on Wednesday and store overnight in refrigerator.) Arrange slices in baking dish and sprinkle with ½ cup brown sugar, dot with 2 tablespoons butter and add 1 tablespoon grated orange rind. Pour over this ½ cup orange juice and scatter 2 tablespoons brown sugar and a little paprika over top. Bake covered for 30 minutes in moderately hot oven (375 degrees). Uncover and bake approximately 15 minutes longer.

Creamed Onions With Cream Cheese.

(Serves 6)
2 pounds small white onions
3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
2 cups milk
½ teaspoon salt
1 block cream cheese

Boil onions until tender in salted water. (This can be done on the day before Thanksgiving and in this way the onions will be all ready for their final baking on Thursday.) Melt butter, add flour and stir thoroughly. Add milk and salt and stir until thick. Then add 1 block of cream cheese broken in small pieces. When blended, pour over onions in a baking casserole. Sprinkle with buttered cracker crumbs and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees) until cracker crumbs are browned. Serve at once.

Cabbage-Pineapple Gelatin Salad.

1 tablespoon unflavored Gelatin
½ cup pineapple juice (canned)
1 cup water (boiling)
1½ teaspoon salt
1½ tablespoons vinegar
2 cups cabbage (shredded)
1 cup pineapple (diced)

Soak gelatin in the cold pineapple juice. Add to hot water and stir until dissolved. Add salt and vinegar. Chill. Add remaining ingredients and pour into mold. Chill until set.

Pumpkin Pie.

(Makes 2 pies)
3 cups pumpkin
4 eggs
1½ cups brown sugar
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon grated nutmeg
¼ teaspoon ginger
¼ teaspoon cloves
¼ teaspoon allspice
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
4½ cups milk (scalded)
To cold canned or cooked pumpkin add the eggs (slightly beaten). Blend salt and spices with the brown sugar. Mix pumpkin mixture with the brown sugar mixture, and to this add the scalded milk.
Pour into pie plate lined with pastry dough. Bake 10 minutes in a hot oven (450 degrees), or until crust is set. Then reduce heat to a moderate oven (350 degrees), and bake until filling is firm—about 45 minutes. (These too can be baked on the day preceding Thanksgiving.)

Homemade Bread for Young and Old.

All the world loves homemade bread and what is more home-made than the old-fashioned hot butterscotch rolls, homemade bread, parker house rolls, etc., that mother used to make? WARNINGS AND PROMISES

LESSON TEXT—Matthew 7:1-14.
GOLDEN TEXT—And as ye would that men should do to you, do ye also to them likewise.—Luke 6:31.

"How to Win Friends and Influence People" may be worthwhile to study, unless it is done from a purely selfish desire to be popular so that one may make more money and get on in the world. Everyone should desire to make more friends and better friends, and the Christian in making friends should make them for his Lord as well as for himself. Actually the best of the rules and suggestions offered on this subject are already an integral part of Christian conduct as revealed in the Word of God.

I. Avoid Judgment (vv. 1-5).

By not judging others censoriously we escape such judgment of ourselves both by God and by our fellow man. The admonition, "Judge not," obviously does not mean that we are not to exercise our God-given ability to discern between good and evil, nor does it mean that we are to stand silent in the presence of wrongdoing. Verse 6 in this very chapter calls for the use of judgment (see also I Thess. 5:21).

In all such judgment we are to avoid an unkind spirit and to the hypocrisy described in verses 3 to 5. We are to be certain that our own lives are above reproach regarding that which we condemn (v. 5). The none too common exercise of correcting our own faults will serve a salutary twofold purpose of improving ourselves and of making us too busy to find fault with others.

II. Be Reverent (v. 6).

While we are not to judge others, we are not to go to the opposite extreme of being so lenient in our attitude that we permit ungodly men to profane and trample down sacred things. This does not mean, as some would have us believe, that we are not to present the gospel to the lowest of sinners; for example, to a drunkard. Only thus can such a drunkard be saved. But it does mean that in dealing with holy things we are not only to be reverent ourselves, but we are to be careful that we do not permit wicked men to misuse and to profane the holy things of God.

III. Pray in Faith (vv. 7-11).

Here is a straightforward promise from the lips of our Lord Himself, assuring us that prayer will be answered. It seems that He must have foreknown that some would feel that the promise was too good to be true, so He stated it in three-fold form and repeated it twice. Why not believe it, act on it, and receive the answer? Observe that there is to be importunity in prayer, we are to seek if we would find. "Our Lord does not guarantee to us anything at first asking. God does not open His treasure to a passing bugle-call or the tap of a careless hand which just touches the door and then passes on. Prayer is not a momentary wish or a transitory whim. It is the utterance of a confirmed and persistent and unwavering longing. If you want a prayer answered, you must go on praying" (J. G. Greenough).

We have included the so-called Golden Rule under this section because the word "therefore" links it with that which goes before. Dr. G. Campbell Morgan aptly says, "If we omit the 'therefore,' we cannot obey the verse. If we retain the 'therefore,' and are driven to ask, to seek, to knock, and to know that the Listener to the asking, to the seeking, to the knocking, is our Father, then the rule is golden with heaven's own light, but in no other way."

The Golden Rule is really the fulfillment of the law and the prophets, but in the light of Christ's glory it is also a great principle of Christian love and consideration.

IV. Walk in the Narrow Way (vv. 13, 14).

The road to heaven is a narrow way because it is built to carry us through the quicksands of this world to a glorious consummation. It is not a dismal road, for it is lighted by God's glory; and it is not a lone-some road (even though few go that way), because Jesus walks with us. The entrance is easy; there is much company, but one soon finds that the company is distasteful—just fellow sinners. Jesus is not going that way. The best people, God's people, are going the other way. The road leads into all kinds of by-ways where pitfalls abound. The earthly pleasures one thought to enjoy have, as MacLaren puts it, "a strange knack of losing their charm and at the same time increasing their hold."

Full of Grace

I will neither be content with what measure of grace I have, nor impatient of God's delay; but every day I will endeavor to have one drop added to the rest; so my last day shall fill up my vessel to the brim.—Joseph Hall.

New 'Antiques'
Taps for Evil Spirits

The captain of one New York's private yacht draws a larger salary than the master of the Queen Mary, the colored manager of a Harlem dance hall is paid more than the governor of Pennsylvania, and a Midwesterner received more money as the president of a local musicians' union in 1938 than Mr. Roosevelt received as President of the United States.

For a number of years, at least three-quarters of all "antiques" imported into this country have been fakes.

Because it handles only large accounts, the First National bank of New York city has fewer depositors than stockholders.

The three volleys fired into the air at military funerals were originally intended to frighten away evil spirits and, therefore, prevent them from entering the mourners' hearts, which stood ajar at the burial of a comrade.—Collier's.

SAVING MONEY With Cotton Bags

The peasant influence is new and interesting. One of the smartest aprons we've seen this season is in the dirndl manner. This was made from one large Cotton Bag. Use the full width of the Bag but cut a strip from the length of the Bag to be used for the belt and sash ends. The apron is gathered on to the tight belt and several rows of brightly colored tape or rick rack are sewed in rows across the bottom about three inches apart. Or a cross stitch design in bright colors is an effective trim. If you do not have a large Cotton Bag ready for use, one can be purchased for just a few cents from your grocer or baker.

Other Cotton Bag Sewing ideas are illustrated in a free booklet. Send to National Cotton Council, Box 18, Memphis, or Textile Bags, 100 N. LaSalle St., Chicago.

Methodist Church

J. E. Shewbert, pastor

Your pastor is writing this Tuesday morning and is leaving for Conference Tuesday afternoon. Conference will open at 2 P.M. Wednesday afternoon at the First Methodist Church at Lubbock. Bishop Ivan Lee Holt will preside during this conference.

I will be away next Sunday but let me urge everyone to come out for Sunday School and church just the same. Carry on just as if your pastor were here. Judge Mauney of Sweetwater will speak. He is a fine Christian layman and he will have something to say that will help every person, both young and old.

We go to conference with a good report made possible by the cooperation of every one. The whole program of the church has been carried on in every department. We have had 42 additions this year with 28 on profession of faith; two good revivals were held with deepening spiritual results to our members in addition to those who found Christ as their saviour for the first time. We are grateful for them and pray as the years go by their faith may increase. We have an increased average attendance in Sunday school over last year amounting to about 18%; attendance at church services has been splendid. All financial obligations have been met. We closed our books for the year on October 31st which enabled us to begin the new year on Nov. 1st. The total amount raised for all purposes amounts to $2,726. This means this amount was raised in about 11 months since we closed out early this year, and this lacks just a little being an average of $250.00 each month for all purposes.

Your pastor deeply appreciates your work and wants every last member to know that he does. May no one receive the praise except our Heavenly Father for all of us did what we did, not for self, but for the ongoing of the work of Christ and the redemption of the world. May God's rich blessings rest upon each one and may we give Him the praise by living closer to Him.

I will return next Monday. In case of necessity you may reach me at the Methodist Church at Lubbock.

Remember to come out to all services next Sunday morning. The young people will meet at 6:15 P. M. There will be no night services. Bro. Godfrey will be back and has invited you to come over and worship with our Baptist friends. Remember I shall be praying for you next Sunday, even though I shall not be here.

ruled the new hot-check law, enacted at the regular session is legal until some court throws it out. Mann, declaring he never ruled against a criminal statute, if there was any base of doubt at all, indicated he believed the law violates the state and Federal constitutions. Sponsors of the law are rather unhappy about it, because under its terms, the holder of a hot check cannot file a charge against the maker, collect the debt, and then drop the charges, as was heretofore the custom. Most hot-check holders don't want to send the check passer to prison—they just want to collect the debt. Much ado about nothing is the best description of the work of the House committee headed by Lon Alsop, to revise the rules of the lower legislative body. New rules will have to be adopted by any succeeding legislature. There is a normal turnover of 50 percent in House membership, and next time, it probably will be higher. New members will probably not approve the proposals of the committee to limit the committee service and other powers of "freshmen" will have the votes at the next regular session. The committee session here was attended by Alsop, Bryan Bradbury, Abilene; E. H. Thornton, Galveston, Dewitt Hale, Farmersville, and Jim Taylor, Kerens.

GLEANERS CLASS

The Gleaners S. S. Class met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. G. A. Hutchins. The meeting was called to order by the new president, Mrs. John Mahon.

The class song was sung after which prayer was led by Mrs. J. E. Price. Dues were paid and reports from different committees were heard and Mrs. J. G. Bruce led the Bible Study, with Mrs. Ed Williams and T. C. Wilson assisting. Mrs. Bruce was appointed chairman of the Christmas program to be had in the home of Mrs. John Mahon in December.

During the social hour every one expressed their thanks for what they had to be thankful for.

Refreshments of chicken sandwiches, olives, potato chips, mince meat pie, and whip cream and chocolate were served to 15 members and 2 visitors.

As the guests departed each was told by the hostess to go to the flower garden and get themselves a bouquet.

SLEEP IN A GOOD BED

I am making mattresses at the same place. My prices are still reasonable. My work is the best, as most of you know.

See me if you need anything from a baby mattress to an inner-spring mattress.
