Muffler Law Will Be Enforced Here

The county and city law enforcement officers and highway patrol are combining to enforce the city ordinance and state law prohibiting the use of illegal type mufflers or cars, Sheriff John Rainey announced this week.

"We have been giving out warnings, but from now on, fines will be assessed," Rainey said.

Two fines of $10 each have been assessed already, Police Chief Bill McCarver said.

Arrests made by city officers will be handled by the city court and arrests made by county officers and highway patrolmen will be handled by justice court.

Both the ordinance and a state law prohibits the use of all except such mufflers as are standard type equipment. The appearance on numbers of cars recently of special type gadgets making loud and obnoxious noises has brought many complaints to the city, it was pointed out.

No Trace of Stolen Jeep

Law enforcement officers have found no trace of the 1948 jeep stolen from Andy Bell at his home near the northeast corner of the town section on Highway 83 late Monday night or early Tuesday October 4, Sheriff John Rainey reported.

Two days later, the sheriff's department located an abandoned 1949 Chevrolet sedan in a cotton field several miles north of town and tire tracks indicating the car and jeep had been driven into the field from Highway 83, and the jeep out of it, apparently turning north on the highway, Mr. Rainey said.

Two sets of footprints were also found in the sandy land around the car. A rise hid it from view of passers-by on the highway. The car was identified through the Department of Public Safety as one stolen from a used car lot in Renoka, West Virginia, about a week earlier.

Let Grain Ripen, Farmers Urged

Moisture, Color Keeping Most Of Grain Sorghum Out of CCC Loan

Little grain sorghum now being harvested is eligible for the government loan, it was learned this week from the ASC office. This is due to two factors, too high a percentage of moisture when the grain is combined and the dark color due to recent wet weather.

The moisture can be overcome if growers will postpone combining until the grain is ripe, however, reports from over the county are that much of the feed is beginning to fall down and some growers feel they must cut now or lose part of their crop.

There is quite a concern over the grain sorghum crop that is now being harvested. Due to the recent wet weather a large percent of the ripened grain sorghum standing in the fields have turned dark or discolored.

Under present CCC loan regulations, any grain sorghums that show "discolor" on the grade det-

Flower Show Plans
Near Completion

Committees working on the Garden Club's big flower show met Wednesday morning, October 12, to make final plans for that event, the first of the kind held here in several years.

Mrs. Charlie Neece, general chairman, urged everyone who has flowers to enter them in the show. "Maybe you feel the dry weather has damaged them, but chances are that they are just as good as the others that will be in the show. We need flowers and more flowers to make it the big success we feel it should be," she declared.

The flower show will be held throughout the day Saturday, October 22.

The entry list includes almost has been doing a good job for us; this area, with both single blossoms, bouquets and arrangements featured.

Ministerial Alliance Makes Plans

Community Thanksgiving
Service on November 23

A community-wide Thanksgiving service will be sponsored Wednesday evening, November 23, by the Wellington Ministerial Alliance, the Rev. Bill Thomas, secretary, announced following a planning meeting Sunday afternoon at the Assembly of God.

The service will be at the First Methodist Church beginning at 7:30 p. m. The Rev. Bob Evans, pastor of Faith Baptist Church, was selected as speaker and music will be by the combined community choir, directed by Homer Peden, music-education director of the First Baptist Church.

The first practice will be held Thursday night, October 20, at the Methodist Church, at 8:00 p. m., and all persons wishing to sing in the choir are invited.

All churches with membership in the ministerial alliance will take part in the Thanksgiving service.

During the session, members approved plans for a petition to be presented the owners of the local theatres asking that motion pictures which members of the Alliance and other residents feel are of low quality not be shown in Wellington. These refer principally to the "adult only" pictures, it was explained.

4-H Calves
Entered In State Fair

Four Wellington 4-H Club members will exhibit their fat calves in the junior livestock division of the State Fair of Texas next week, County Agent J. W. Thomas has announced.

Taking calves are Ada Carole Thomas, daughter of County Agent and Mrs. Thomas; Tony White, son of Mr. and Mrs. Chub White; Leigh Carter, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lynn Carter; and Granville Killian, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Killian.

White showed a fat calf in the junior show last year and placed fourth in the middle-weight division. In the sale of calves that followed the show, his calf brought the highest price of any except the grand champion, reserve champion and champion of classes.

Mr. Thomas will take the youngsters to Dallas Sunday, while Gene Martin is taking the calves. Miss Thomas will exhibit her calf, which came from the Van Zant herd in Wheeler county, in the show division, while the three boys are entering their animals in the market class.

Killian's calf is from the Van Zant herd; Carter's from the H. H. Reeves herd at Shamrock; and White's from the J. W. Kromer herd at Vinson, Okla.

The calves will be sifted Tuesday; the show calves will be exhibited Wednesday and the market class Thursday.

Farm Bureau Holds Annual
Barbecue Saturday

The annual meeting and barbecue of the Collingsworth County Farm Bureau will be held in a split-session this year, with the business meeting coming at 3 p. m. and the barbecue at 6 p. m., W. R. Coleman, president, has announced.

Much of the business session will be given over to a discussion of proposed resolutions which will be presented by this unit at the state convention in December.

Guest speaker at the program following the barbecue will be Senator Grady Hazelwood.

The subject of his speech has not been announced here.

Entertainment numbers will be provided by the four schools of the county.

The barbecue supper will be carried out along the same lines as in past years.

Officers of the Farm Bureau are urging all members and their families to be present at this one big event of the Farm Bureau year.

CORRECTION

Due to a misunderstanding on the part of some members of the Farm Bureau, Riley Dunson, secretary, has announced that the business meeting will begin at 3 p. m., Saturday, October 15, and the barbecue will begin at 6 p. m. All members are urged to attend and visitors are welcome to the afternoon business meeting and the evening barbecue.

Propose Widening
Of West Avenue

The first step in the proposal to widen West Avenue from the Southwest corner of the square to the Post Office was taken Tuesday, October 11, when a survey of the sidewalk line was taken by City Manager Bura Handley and Jake Leach.

Mr. Handley said that from this survey, plans and specifications regarding the widening will be worked up to be presented to property owners along the both sides of the block in an attempt to secure their approval of the long-sought measure.

"This block is the worst traffic bottleneck we have left in town. Eventually we hope to widen all the streets for one block off the square, but we think this one needs it first," Mr. Handley said.

Approximately 7 feet would be taken off each side of the street, leaving 8-foot sidewalks in front of the buildings. This would make necessary the installation of new curbs, with the cost to be borne by the property owners.

McGill and King

Warrick Machinery has leased its repair shop to Sam McGill and J. B. King, who have been employed there for several years, Lawrence Warrick and Velma Warrick, owners, announced this week.

The shop will be operated as McGill and King Garage. It will remain in the same location, 605 East Avenue, Lawrence Warrick said.

Mr. King has been employed in the Warrick Machinery shop for six years, both before and after his period of Army service. Mr. McGill has been in the shop four years.

Warrick Machinery is the dealer for Studebaker cars, Case and Ferguson farm machinery. The parts departments were not included in the lease.

First National

Both a Little Battered

Rockets Meet New Grid
Foe at White Deer Fri.

The Skyrockets go to White Deer Friday night, October 14, to meet a team of Deers that are about as battered as they.

Relatively little is known about the strength of the White Deer team and this is the first time the two have ever met on the gridiron.

White Deer has lost two district games, to Stinnett and Panhandle.

"At the first of the season everyone thought White Deer would have a bang-up good club, and although they do have a good team, they have been pretty well plagued with injuries," Coach John Hurley said. "They have three of four boys out, we understand, and that has really hurt their strength."

One backfield player, Mills, is regarded by Coaches Hurley and Frank Lindsey as definitely one of the most outstanding runners in the district. He plays quarterback most of the time, although he will shift to fullback. He does the Deer's punting, passing and 90 per cent of their running.

"He is really a fine player. We have a lot of respect for that boy. He is by far the most outstanding player they have for he does everything and does it well," Hurley commented.

White Deer is another T formation ball club.

Quail Woman
Hurt at Washer

By Mrs. G. T. Stephens
Mrs. W. J. Neeley received a badly bruised and cut hand Wednesday, October 5 while doing her washing at the Quail laundry.

Her left hand was caught in the ringer and before anyone could release it, it was severely injured. Mrs. Neeley was rushed to the Clinic in Wellington where she received immediate attention. It took approximately thirty-five stitches to sew back the torn flesh. At present she is recovering nicely.

Early Area
Minister Dies
At Kerrville

Minister O. M. Reynolds, 71, of Kerrville, who served several Churches of Christ in this area and served other congregations nearby, died unexpectedly Friday evening, October 7, of a cerebral hemorrhage. He was a brother of Mrs. J. S. Dorn of Wellington.

Minister Reynolds was a native of Alabama and was among the first students to enroll in Childress Classical Institute, now Abilene Christian College, fifty years ago.

He has preached at and established a number of congregations in Texas. He was instrumental in building the first Church of Christ in Memphis and at Lelia Lake. He was minister at Hollis and Madill, Oklahoma, Canadian, Amarillo and Plainview, Calif. He did evangelistic work in many parts of the world.

Three Businesses Hold
Opening This Week

The formal opening of the White Way Cafe and Neeley Brothers Conoco Station at the intersection of Eighth Street and Highway 83 will be held as a double event Saturday, October 15.

White Way Cafe, owned by Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Hood, has been moved from a near-by location into the new site and remodeled especially to their specifications.

Neeley Brothers Station also is completely remodeled, and since these are located across the street from the new Farmers Co-op Gin, it makes that area one of Wellington's most modern business spots.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Hood have had many years experience in restaurant business, and they are thoroughly trained in all phases of it's operation. Their new business (Continued on page 8)

Formal re-opening of the Parker Furniture is scheduled for Friday and Saturday, October 14 and 15, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Parker of Hollis, owners, announced this week.

This completely new building, along with new stock, replaces the one destroyed by the tornado in June.

In appearance, the building almost duplicates the one that was lost, although it is designed to give more room for the attractive display of furnishings.

"It is good to be back in business, serving the people of the Wellington area," Mr. and Mrs. Parker declared this week.

The State Health Department's mobile x-ray unit will be in Wellington for the annual county-wide survey from Wednesday, October 26, through Saturday, October 29, Dr. Carter Holcomb, county health officer, said this week.

The location of the unit will be announced later, but it will be in operation from 8:30 a. m. to 5:30 p. m. each day.

Jimmie Kelso is chairman of this year's campaign.

An educational campaign will be carried on in the high school and every effort will be made to reach all parents as well.

"It is especially important that people 55 years of age and over have a chest x-ray, although it is something that everyone above 15 years of age should have," it was pointed out.

Last year 2308 county residents had chest x-rays, the best results ever had.

"This is the only drive in the county that isn't asking you for money," Dr. Holcomb points out. "We just want five minutes of your time and it may save your life."

As in the past, every person over 15 years of age is urged to have a chest x-ray.

Dr. Holcomb pointed out that the x-rays are free, but they are not charity. The state-wide program is paid for by the taxpayers money and is offered in an effort to "eradicate tuberculosis from Texas."

Other chest ailments than tuberculosis are located by the chest x-rays, it was pointed out, including heart ailments, cancer, and other conditions of the chest that should have the attention of the individual's family doctor.

The chest x-rays take only a few minutes, there is no pain, and the individual is x-rayed fully clothed. All information given is confidential and so are the results of the x-rays.

If no suspicious conditions are revealed by the x-rays, the individual receives a card to this effect from the State Department of Health. Should there be a condition that indicates further investigation, the family doctor is notified.

These chest x-rays will be accepted by city and county health officers from those who must have health certificates as food handlers, etc. These persons must keep the original x-rays report, however, since no duplicates can be issued.

Schools Dismiss
For Cotton Picking

One county school has dismissed for the cotton picking vacation and two others have set their dismissal dates.

The Dodson school closed Monday, October 10, and will reopen about the middle of November, T. E. Lennon said. Plans are for school to be out five weeks, or if it is necessary, six weeks.

Samnorwood school will be dismissed Friday, October 14, for five weeks, with classes being resumed November 21, Orville Cunningham, superintendent, announced.

The Quail school will be dismissed Friday, October 14, and classes will take up Monday, November 14, according to Supt. Herman Moseley.

Toughest Game Yet

Rocket B Team Plays
Quannah Here Thursday

The Skyrocket B team will play the Quannah Indian B team at Powell Field Thursday night, October 13, in what will probably be the toughest game so far this season.

Quannah is a AA school and the team is expected to be a good one, B Coach Harvey Millsap said. "It seems like our games are getting tougher," he commented.

So far the young Rockets have scored mostly on running plays. They depend heavily on Charles Gibson, a plug in the backfield, and on Carroll Nunnelle, who does a lot of smearing from the line in his defensive game, then on offense, switches to the backfield.

Quarterback James Lee is a tall boy who is developing into a good passer.

"We haven't tried to pass much yet, but when the need arises, we can throw those passes, and we are developing some boys to catch them," Millsap commented.

Injury and illness have been a double jinx on the B team recently.

Jerry Paul Cook was in the hospital with a touch of pneumonia last week and Raymond Pike had a cold so severe he couldn't play in the Memphis game.

Benton Wauer got a broken collar bone and switched from player to team manager. Carl Daves is out with a hip injury, but Coach Millsap expects him back in the play soon. Jerry Lacy, who got a broken ankle in practice, is probably out for the remainder of the season, the coach said.

The B Team has five games to complete this season. The remainder of the schedule includes:

October 20	Childress	there
October 27	Clarendon	there
November 3	Shamrock	here
November 10	Quannah	there

Lon Wellborn seems to know his way around when it comes to rattlesnakes. Recently Lon was riding on the Dukeminier Ranch north of town when his horse simply took to the air. Lon dismounted with his lariat rope and started hitting and talking. I'll get this one, and this one, and this one. When asked if he was seeing things, he said Yep, rattlesnakes. Without moving out of his tracks Lon had killed three rattlesnakes. One snake had 12 rattlers, one had 4 and the other 5 rattlers.

2 Down and 6 Big Ones to Go

Rockets Win Second Conference Game Fri.

Wellington struck quickly again in the opening minutes of play on Powell Field last Friday night to win their second conference game by a score of 12 to 0. On the first play Warner Ford made 19 yards to put the ball on the Wellington 45 yard line. The game was hardly a minute old when Duggie Jamieson slipped through a big hole in the right side of the line and raced 36 yards for the first Wellington tally.

After a Wildcat drive had faltered, Jamieson repeated the performance on the same play, this time going 36 yards for the touchdown. Both tries for conversion failed.

And its is just as well that the Rockets did strike swiftly, for the furiously battling boys from Canadian dominated the play in the second half making six first downs. The Rockets did have one scoring chance in the second half when Don Scott recovered a fumble on the Wildcat 30 yard line; but this break was nullified when the Rockets returned the compliment by fumbling with Canadian recovering. Some very stout line play on the part of Hood, McNabb, Scott, Drake and other linemen, a pass interception by Ford, and three 15 yard clipping penalties against Canadian, were the factors that kept the fired-up Wildcats from turning the Rocket victory into defeat. The Wildcats fielded a very strong line with three tackles over 190 pounds, a 175 pound center and a 170 pound guard. As far as statistics are concerned, the Wildcats won just about everything except the game.

The Wildcats threatened early in the first period, after recovering a Wellington fumble on the Rocket 20 yard line, and drove within inches of the 10-yard line marker where they were held for downs . . . and again failed to capitalize on a Rocket bobble late in the second period when the clock ran out as they were driving inside the 1-yard line.

Garner Schoenhals set up the scoring threat in the dying minutes of the first half when he pounced on a Rocket fumble on the Wellington 29 yard line. The Wildcats racked up a quick first down on the 19, then got a break when pass interference was ruled as Schoenhals, reaching for Tommy Hobby's fourth down pass, was hit from behind on the Rocket 5 yard line. The Wildcats added three more on Bunny Crowell's thrust at left tackle, then drew a 5-yard penalty which set them back to the 7, and the thrust died as time ran out two plays later with Tommy Hobby attempting to drive through from the Skyrockets 1-foot line.

The Wildcats threatened four times in the last half, keeping the ball deep in Rocket territory throughout the final two quarters, but were unable to score as fumbles and penalties proved costly.

One Wildcat threat was set up midway in the second period when guard Luther Ballard pounced on a Rocket fumble on the Wellington 25, and the Wildcats drove to the 18 yard line but were held for downs at that point.

The Rockets fumbled on their first drive out, Tommy Hobby recovering on the 28 yard line, and the Wildcats started another thrust. Hobby passed to Garner Schoenhals for 10 yards and a first down on the 19, Bunny Crowell smashed over right tackle for 12 yards and another first on the 7 yard line, and Johnny Grist and Schoenhals added five more to the 2 yard marker where a 5-yard off-side penalty set the ball back to the 7. On the fourth down try, Tommy Hobby faded to pass, couldn't find a receiver open and raced around right end angling for the corner and was driven out-of-bounds six inches short of the flag.

After the Rockets had kicked out of the hole, the fired-up Wildcats started another drive which reached the 19 yard line before another fumble halted the threat, the Rockets recovering on their own 20.

The Wildcats launched a final desperate drive in the waning minutes of the game when Bunny Crowell took a punt on his own 10-yard line and raced out to the 25. Tommy Hobby circled left end for 29 yards to a first down on the Rocket 46, Grist added 3 yards over center and Hobby fired a 23-yard aerial to Phil Waters on the 20 yard line . . . but time ran out with the Wildcats driving inside the Skyrockets 18 and a desperate passing attack fizzling in the final seconds.

The Skyrocket attack, which rolled up 5 first downs and 145 yards on the ground in the first quarter, fizzled badly in the last three periods . . . but the two-touchdown lead proved plenty as the Wildcat gridgers were unable to find a scoring punch to cap their drives.

Canadian defenses stiffened after the first period, and the Rockets were held to a net gain of 25 yards in the second period, chalked up a minus-five in the third, and added only 19 yards in the fourth. Wellington failed to make a first down in the second half.

The Wildcats gained only 13 yards . . . and failed to make a first down . . . in the first period; and added only 18 net yards, plus 20 through the air, for two first downs in the second; but drove for eighty-eight yards on the ground and 45 yards through the air, rolling up seven first downs in the second half.

Research Paces Oil's Progress

There are three reasons why America's petroleum industry has been able to supply the ever-increasing demand for energy called for by our mechanized way of life: 1, it has fearlessly invested its capital in the hazardous search for oil and gas; 2, it has steadily expanded its facilities; and 3, it has conducted endless research to find better, more efficient ways to make the oil products America needs.

Research! That's the key to the petroleum industry's progress. And the Humble Company assures itself a place of leadership in this field with two great research laboratories.

In the Humble Research Center in Houston scientists and engineers study all phases of finding, producing, and conserving oil and gas.

In the Research Laboratory at Humble's Baytown, Texas, Refinery, highly skilled technicians seek to develop new and better petroleum products, to improve those we already have, and to develop methods for making these products more efficiently.

Just as America's progress depends on oil, so oil's progress depends on research.

Equipment Moved From Dodson Well

The Skelly Oil Company has moved its drilling equipment away from the H. A. Painter No. 1 test well south of Dodson, after going to a depth of approximately 7,000 feet, it was learned in Wellington Monday, October 10.

The well was drilled as a tight hole after a depth of about 4,000 feet, and no information has been released as to the results of the test.

The wildcat was located 330 feet from the east line and 330 feet from the south line of survey 31, Block O. S., A. B. Smith Survey, south of Dodson.

The contract had called for the well to be drilled to the Ellenburger, expected at around 7,500 feet.

The nearest test made to the Painter test is located approximately five miles northeast in Harmon County.

Indications are that as the picture now is, more drilling activity can be expected across the state line in Harmon County within the next few months.

The lease tract on which the well was drilled contains about 3,500 acres. Adjoining it on the west is a 2,480 block held by Humble Oil and Refining Co., and in the immediate vicinity a 4,200 acre block held by Tidewater.

Mr. and Mrs. Otis Owen of McMahan, Texas, and their son Otis Owen, Jr., are here this week visiting Mrs. Owen's brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Handley.

New Nightwear Is Far Cry From Nightmare

BY EDNA MILES

FASHIONS in sleepwear keep pace, these days, with fashions in ready-to-wear. We have robes in nylon-and-orlon, pleated wool jersey, wool corduroy, silk, satin, nylon, wool and every possible combination of these fabrics.

Gowns come dress-length, ankle-length, with or without matching robes. They come in pale pastels or vivid colors. There are brunch coats for lazy breakfasts, robes to wear in the evening for viewing television or reading, pajamas with their own robes. No excuse at all now for not looking pretty around the house.

For those who tend to like their nightwear comfortable, soft and practical, there's news that you may have all three and still look pretty. One maker of lingerie has brought out a whole line of pajamas influenced by the classic Norwegian ski-sweater prints.

These are done in soft, brushed rayon. They are cut with ski-type trousers and have snug cuffing at neck, wrists, waist and ankles for perfect fit.

Peach of a pair is this combo of a Norwegian ski-print top in screen print pattern, with trousers of same material—brushed nylon. Ensemble is styled by Carter.

Miss Mary Street Becomes Bride of Gene C. Lynch In Austin Ceremony

The marriage of Miss Mary Matilda Street to Gene Cozart Lynch was solemnized in a candle lit and semi-formal wedding Saturday evening, October 8, in the Harris Memorial Chapel of the University Methodist Church, Austin.

Dr. Edmund Heinsohn officiated at the double ring nuptial rites before an archway of white tapers in candelabra entwined with roses and fern.

Marvin Soward, soloist, was accompanied by Miss Eleanor Page, who also played the wedding music.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Street of Wellington. She attended the University of Texas and received a Bachelor of Fine Arts degree from the University of Colorado. Her sorority was Alpha Chi Omega.

Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Lynch of Leona are the parents of the bridegroom. He received a Bachelor of Business Administration Degree from the University of Texas. He is now a graduate student and part-time instructor in the Department of Finance and a member of the American Finance Association at the University.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore an original model gown of chantilly lace over candlelight tulle. The scalloped scoop neckline extended into a slender smooth bodice and the buffant chapel length skirt was scalloped to reveal the encircling pleated nylon tulle ruffle. Her custom finger tip veil of silk illusion fell from a Juliet cap of candlelight lace outlined in seed pearls. She carried a garland bouquet of Marechal Niel roses. For "something old" the bride wore an heirloom cameo necklace, a gift from her grandmother, the late Mrs. Florence Street.

Mrs. Thomas Groves Stewart of Shreveport, La., was matron of honor. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Florence Street Buchanan of Austin, cousin of the bride, and Miss Ann Caroline Overton of Denver, Colorado.

The attendants wore identical ballerina length gowns of blue crystalet. Their headdresses were of matching crystalet and they carried garland bouquets of Red Rome Glory roses.

Raja Hassen of Haskell, was best man. Groomsmen were Marvin Hancock of Haskell and Dan Farlow of New Boston.

For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Street wore an azure blue suit dress with mauve hat and gloves and the groom's mother, Mrs. Lynch, chose a navy blue ensemble and matching accessories. Both corsages were of pink sweetheart rosebuds.

The reception was held immediately after the ceremony in the church parlor. A candlelight satin cloth covered the bridal table which held a silver candelabra with blue tapers and the double-ring cake decorated with yellow roses.

Serving in the houseparty were Mrs. Norman Pitts, Mrs. C. C. Odenburg, Mrs. Albert McQuown, Mrs. James McMullen, all of Austin, Mrs. Charles Smith of Edinburg, and Miss Peggy Pegrum of San Antonio.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip, Mrs. Lynch was wearing a tobacco brown dress with matching jacket. Her accessories were black and she wore a corsage of yellow roses.

Oklahoma-Texas Singing Draws Crowd of 3,500

A crowd estimated at between 3,000 and 3,500 attended the annual Oklahoma and Texas Singers Association convention in Wellington during the weekend, W. S. Brewer reported.

These singers came from six and possibly more states. "It was the best singing in a long time, we were told over and over," Mr. Brewer, president of the Fifth Sunday Singing Convention, said.

Approximately a dozen quartets coming from over a wide area, appeared on the program, their numbers alternating sessions of group singing.

Officers of the association, elected last year for two year terms, include Elmo Hudgins of Pampa, re-elected president; W. B. Johnson of Manitou, Oklahoma, first vice-president and E. J. Cooper of Shamrock, second vice-president.

Tech Homcoming November 5-6

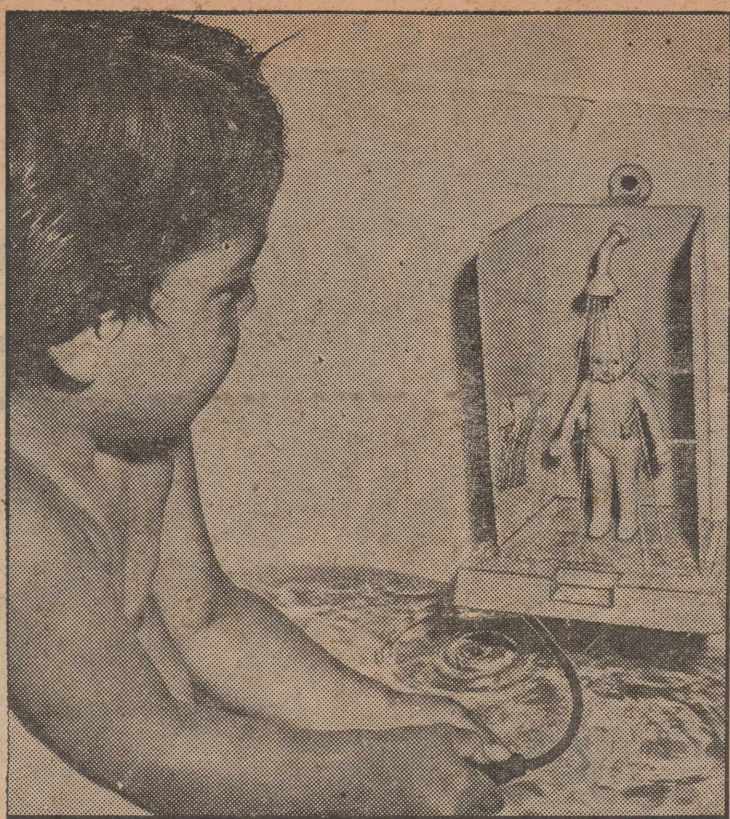

LUBBOCK — Texas Tech will celebrate its 28th annual Homecoming Friday and Saturday, November 5-6, L. C. Walker, executive secretary of the Tech Ex-Students Association, has announced.

The University of Arizona Wildcats will be served up as gridiron fare for the more than 5,000 Tech alumni expected to participate in 1955 Homecoming activities.

Highlighting this year's program will be the first campus-wide selection of a Tech Homecoming Queen. Last year's queen, the first in Tech history, was named by the Double T Club, an athletic organization.

Other student activities will include decoration of the campus, pep rally and bonfire, downtown parade and Homecoming dance. The students will also be in charge of alumni registration.

Virginia Carr, senior coed from Lubbock, has been named student Homecoming chairman. She will be assisted by the following project chairmen: Tommie Lynn, Lubbock, Homecoming Queen; Benny Bedford, Midland, parade; Bill Ray, Baird, campus lighting; Frank Calhoun, Port Lavaca, campus signs; and Norma Chapman, Austin, alumni registration.

HEY, SANTA!—Dolie's shower, attached to side of tub with a suction cup, makes quite a splash with this young lady in New York City as she squeezes bulb which forces water through shower head. Santa's helpers, the nation's toy manufacturers, are hoping that in-play tests such as this one will accurately indicate demand for toys as Santa prepares for the Christmas shopping rush.

At the beginning of our ownership we never dreamed there could be such deep and lasting rewards of friendship and such opportunity for community service.

Since our last anniversary we have moved to a new location, into a beautiful modern building. We know by the things you've told us that it's a pleasure for you to visit us here. We feel we are doing a better job of serving you, and this is one of the goals we have set for ourselves.

On this Anniversary, we assure you that our store will continue its operation along the policy of accuracy and friendliness we have observed during the last 19 years, one that has made it a family drug store for so many, and a leader among drug stores of this area.

Congratulations Whiteway Neeley Brothers

We are indeed proud of our part in preparing the building that Whiteway and Neeley Brothers will occupy. This new area is another step in the building program that is making Wellington a better looking town and a finer place in which to trade.

As business firms go, ours is a new one, but it was established with the same faith in the town—the same confidence in our future—that is being shown by Whiteway in moving to a new location and Neeley Brothers in establishing a new business.

Revolutionary New Ford Cars Were Displayed September 23

Safety features offered for the first time by any automobile company, power equal to the Thunderbird, and lower body silhouettes are available in 1956 Ford cars which 6,800 Ford dealers place on display Friday, September 23.

The new Fords will be built in four series offering 18 body styles, two more than in 1955. They are available in 13 solid exterior colors, or 21 two-tone combinations.

A "Thunderbird Y-8" engine leads the power selections available for 1956. It is installed on Fairlane and Station Wagon models, and develops 202 horsepower for Fordomatic, or 200 hp for overdrive or standard transmission. Customline and Mainline Fords offer a Y-8 engine developing 176 hp for Fordomatic, or 173 hp for overdrive or conventional drive. Also, the economical Ford six, increased to 137 hp, is available on all models with all transmission types.

Ford safety research, coupled with studies of medical groups, led to development of a "lifeguard design" in 1956 models.

New door latches give added protection against the chance that doors may open under impact. They have been proved in full scale crash tests at Dearborn, Mich.

To keep the driver's chest from hitting the steering column in a crash, the new three-spoke Ford steering wheel has its center hub recessed 3 1/8 inches below the wheel rim.

Rear view mirrors have a special backing designed to prevent shattering.

Front and rear seat mountings have been strengthened so they will resist greater impact.

In addition, Ford offers two optional devices. Seat belts, designed to withstand pull up to 4,000 pounds, will help to hold occupants inside cars, and to prevent forward motion. Foam plastic padding for instrument panels and sun visors will help to absorb impact if a person is accidentally thrown forward.

Styling advances in the Ford for '56 include a new grille with oblong parking lights at the outer ends, set in frames which wrap around the fender sides. Body side molding is restyled for Fairlane, Station Wagon and Customline models. Restyled tail lamps and deck lid handles, a larger recessed hood ornament, and a completely new instrument panel are offered in all models.

The 1956 Victoria is 1 1/2 inches lower than the comparable 1955 model. Two door and four door sedans also have new tops reducing total car height almost a full inch. However, headroom was not reduced since the contour change is mostly along the top's center line, and fabric headlinings are installed closer to the steel top.

An addition to the line is the Parklane Station Wagon, a two door car which offers an eight by five-foot load space with tailgate extended. It is fitted inside with deluxe upholstery and trim combinations, and has special bright metal trim inside and outside. Early in the model year, Ford will start production of a new four door Victoria style in which side pillars have been eliminated to provide all-around vision.

A 12-volt electrical system is standard on 1956 models, providing 80 per cent faster engine cranking and more capacity to handle the increasing number of accessories being ordered on cars today. The new 30-ampere Ford generator has 61 per cent greater power output than last year's model. Batteries have 22 per cent more capacity.

Optional convenience and comfort features in the 1956 Fords include power steering, as well as power-operated brakes, seats, and window lifts. Air conditioning, fresh air heaters, and tinted safety glass are available. This year Ford offers a signal-seeking radio which automatically selects new stations. A dual-range automatic control adjusts the set for city or country listening.

Elmer Sorrels has returned home after spending three months working in Twin Falls, Idaho.

Mish Dukeminier returned last week from an extended trip. He was joined in McAlister by his daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. F. H. Adams. They went to Tyler to see his grandson, Dan Adams, play football. From Tyler they went to Mt. Hope, Ala. This was the first trip to Mt. Hope, birthplace of Mr. Dukeminier, he had made in 51 years. It was a treat to visit with relatives there. Leaving Alabama the party traveled through Kentucky and Tennessee on to Elizabeth, Pennsylvania to visit another daughter, Mrs. C. E. King and later to Columbus, Ohio, to see his brother, Price Dukeminier.

Your Volunteer Fire Department Stands Between You and Destruction

The volunteer fire department is the very heart of the system that provides protection to families like yours in hundreds of communities of the nation. Wellington's department is made up of men who are your friends and your neighbors. We ask your cooperation in observing these common sense rules which may prevent a costly fire in your home or your business house.

YOU CAN HELP

1. Clean out old papers and rags in garage and attic and store rooms.
2. Be sure no inflammable liquids are kept in the house.
3. Be sure matches are kept away from small children.
4. Check all electric cords for signs of wear.
5. Clean and check all heating equipment, or have an expert to do it.
6. Be sure that the electric wiring can handle the load you have on it.

RURAL SERVICE

About 30% of all fire calls locally are to rural areas.

WELLINGTON FIRE FACTS!

1. Fire losses in Wellington last year were 23. This enables us to keep our 20% credit. Some of our unfortunate neighbors have a 15% penalty. This is a spread of 35%.
2. It should be remembered at all times that the people of Wellington pay for fire losses and not insurance companies.
3. We are in the process of acquiring radio equipment for our fire department, which will make it more efficient in getting to fires quickly.

CITY OF WELLINGTON

Rubber Gas Hose and Overloaded Wiring Cause Many City Fires

A principal cause of fires in Wellington homes is the use of rubber hose on heater and cook stoves, and in businesses it is overloading the electric wiring system, according to Lawrence Warrick, who this week is retiring as chief of the Wellington Volunteer Fire Department.

Taking National Fire Prevention Week as the occasion to point up these dangers, Mr. Warrick added that overloading the electric wiring also presents a danger in homes of the town.

"We found that most of the residential fires started from heaters and cook stoves connected to the gas jet with a rubber hose. Now, I think it is alright to use a rubber hose if it's changed often enough. But when they are used for a number of years, the hose gets rotten, and then there's real danger," Warrick declared.

"The codes call for copper tubing to be used to connect gas stoves, but it's soft, and housewives move their stoves to clean under them, and that's likely to break the tubing. Regardless of which type of connection you use, the Fire Department urges you to be careful."

Turning his attention to business fires, Mr. Warrick continued, "I would say that 95 per cent of the business houses here, and residences, too, were wired away back when we used four or five ordinary light bulbs and nothing more in the way of electrical equipment. Only the houses built in the last ten years are wired for the type and amount of electrical equipment we use today.

"Lots of buildings here are wired with no more than No. 14 wire and that is entirely too light for the load people put on it. Generally you don't think about that. We are using more lights. Then we buy an electric radio, electric mixers, electric refrigerators, and other equipment run by electricity.

"Originally we wired our houses for a few light bulbs, 50 or 60 watt bulbs at that. We didn't want to run up an electric bill. We need to think about that from the standpoint of fire prevention and safety now.

"With winter coming on and frost just a few weeks away, dead grass is going to be a hazard, and that is something else we should watch. A disastrous fire can start from a grass fire," the retiring fire chief reminded.

Denzil Lacy New Club President

The Spanish Club met recently and elected new officers for the coming year. Denzil Lacy was elected president, while Clyde Powell was elected vice-president. Other officers include secretary, Bette Elliott; treasury, Molly Denley; reporter, Linda Singley; and program chairman, Cynthia Watkins.

It was decided to hold their meetings every first Thursday night of each month and called meetings will be held during school time if necessary.

Benjamin Franklin was the publisher of the Philadelphia Zeitung, which in 1732 was the first foreign-language newspaper in the American colonies.

An old English law stated that the truth of a statement made it none the less libelous. In fact, its being true was an "aggravation of the crime."

DON'T MISS! SPECIAL EGG CLINIC

We want to invite you to attend this important egg production meeting.

Hear how new, high-efficiency test rations produce more eggs per bag of feed . . . also latest feeding and management information will be presented.

We'll have a Research Center film about a new concept in feeding for high egg profits.

A Former Firecracker Stars for Memphis

Rocket B Team Wins From Memphis 20-7

The Skyrocket B team won a 20-0 victory over the Memphis Cyclone B team Friday night, Oct. 7, on the Cyclone's Field and they might have left their opponents scoreless had it not been for a youngster who learned football on the Wellington gridiron.

This game is regarded as the highlight of the season up to now, according to Harvey Millsap, B team coach. Although they won, the boys agreed with their coach the game was the toughest yet.

Charles Gibson ran over two of the Rocket tallies. One of these was on a 50 yard run. He got the other touchdown by plugging away for short gains. James Lee scored the other touchdown and one extra point, while Charles Welch scored the other extra point.

The Memphis lone score came when they recovered a Rocket fumble in the Rocket 20 to 30 yard area, and was helped materially when the Wellington boys got a 15 yard penalty a few minutes later. Most of the gains for Memphis were made by Teddy Wheeler, who formerly attended Wellington schools and played on the Firecracker team in junior high.

Outstanding linemen in the Memphis game were Carroll Nunzelle, who plays halfback on offense; James Ammons, a sophomore tackle who has gained considerable polish just recently; and Junior White and Glen Warrick as ends.

The victory over Memphis brought the B team record to three games won, one tied and none lost.

The first game of the season, against Canadian, wound up in a scoreless tie, although the Rockets outplayed their opponents.

Clarendon fell victim to the Rocket B's 40-0 in the second contest. Then along came McLean and the Skyrocket B pulled out a victory of 20-0.

The starting lineup in the Memphis game included:

Glen Warrick and Junior White, ends; Jerry Belew and James Ammons, tackles; Don Branch and Robby Langford, guards; Eulan Branch, center; James Lee, captain, quarterback; Carrol Nunzelle and Charlie Welch, halfbacks; and Charles Gibson, co-captain, fullback.

Two Rockets On Ranger Team

Two Wellington football stars are continuing grid careers at Ranger Junior College, Lonnie Wood and Ed Bawcom.

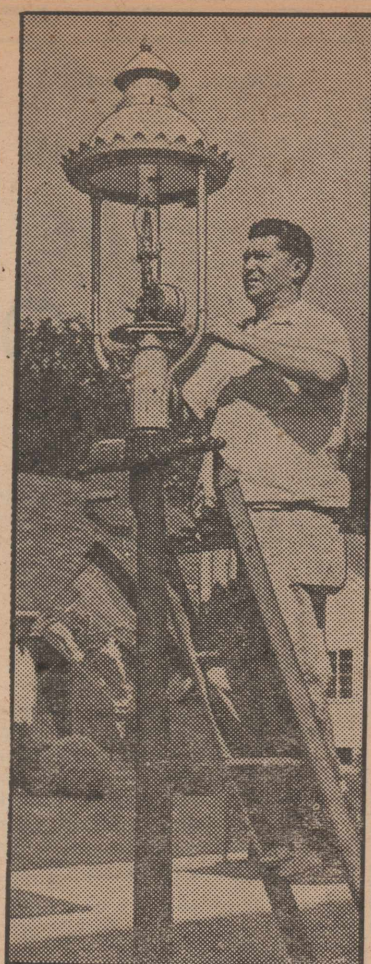

Wood is playing quarterback and has led his team to two victories, against one defeat. He has averaged five yards each time he carried the ball and his gains on passing are 39.5. He was hospitalized part of last week with strep throat, but nevertheless he played in the game a few days later and turned in a fine performance.

Bawcom plays fullback and has been consistently the ground gainer since the season opened. He hits the line with such force that it is hard for him to be tackled, reports from the Rangers indicate.

375,000 Children In Texas Ride School Buses

Texas now is transporting 375,000 school children annually in 8,060 school buses at a cost of $16,200,000 according to figures of the American Automobile Manufacturers Association. The figures were obtained from the Office of Education.

School bus transportation has been increasing rapidly in Texas, both in the consolidation of rural schools and in the provision of bus transportation for city schools. This has been made possible with improved highway conditions.

Editorial Comment — The Wellington Leader

Parents Call for "Old-Fashioned" Education

A group of South Texas citizens, concerned about the welfare of their school-age children, are recommending a return to "old-fashioned" education and Americanism in the public schools.

Their concern and the trend of thinking is similar to that of many parents in many places and it took tangible shape in a meeting at Houston where seven resolutions were passed pertaining to this subject. The action will be heard, for it was at a preliminary education conference of the Sixth Texas Senatorial District, and later the resolutions will be introduced at the state, then White House level.

Here is what the parents recommended according to a United Press Release:

1. Make English, algebra, geometry, trigonometry, chemistry and physics a required part of high school curriculum.

2. Outlaw the teaching by one teacher such "core subjects" as geography, history, reading and spelling all in one grade.

3. Teaching of history, on a state and national level, should be from "reputable textbooks."

4. Return to the ABC method of grading where it has been abandoned.

5. Use phonics as the basic method for teaching reading.

6. Re-emphasize the teaching of American patriotism and eliminate all "propaganda subversive to American love of country such as UNESCO (United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization)."

7. Establish the reason for high school "drop outs."

This is the line of thinking many Collingsworth parents are following and is also parallel to the re-examining of school policies and methods going on over the country. It is what the White House Conference on education is for.

The emphasis again being put on those basic studies all through school can result in more education in the real meaning of the word. Many a youngster who knew he was going to hate Latin or English or Math or Science learned that, although he had to put out hard work on their mastery, they provided a boaster base for that part of his education which followed, and were a source of satisfaction through the years that followed.

It is becoming apparent, also, that much of the knowledge necessary for the so-called atomic age goes back to these same basic studies that have been out of fashion for some years.

The need for men and women with greater knowledge of mathematics and science is just one illustration.

Discipline in Education

An open and unbiased mind is the ultimate goal of education, Associate Justice Will R. Wilson of the Texas Supreme Court told summer graduates of the University of Houston. That goal is seldom achieved, he reminded, except through scholastic discipline.

Graduation, or the completion of a specified course at a university, far from being the end, is only the beginning of an education. The best that a university can do for a student, Wilson said, is to train him to discipline his mind, to develop a mental stamina that will hold fast to basic truths even in the most trying situations.

Some university students arrive at commencement day with full realization of this simple, but important fact. They know their education has only just started, that their years in the university have been but a training period for the fuller life ahead, how to meet it, interpret it, and make the most of it for themselves and their fellows.

But unfortunately, a great many reach the important milestone of graduation secure in the belief that they are "educated" in the fullest sense of the word.

As Justice Wilson pointed out, information is not education. A vast amount of information is of little practical use unless the mind is disciplined to evaluate it and apply it properly.

Education is not a static state. As long as there is an inquiring mind, the horizons of knowledge will continue to advance.

Bible Comment
For October 16Allegiance Is Price
We Pay for Salvation

"Every man has his price" is a cynical observance which contains a grain of truth in that everything that is worth while costs something. This is as true of our soul's salvation and of our spiritual life as it is of worldly things.

God so loved the world that He gave His Son; Jesus died that we might have life and redemption; prophets, priests and saints have made their sacrifice of love for the heritage that we enjoy.

The Kingdom of God, which Jesus proclaimed and made the very center of His teachings and the goal of discipleship, Jesus assured us is not of this world. Its aims, its standards, its sense of worth and values—all are different from those of the kingdoms of earth. But the heavenly kingdom is like the kingdoms of earth in this, that it demands the full allegiance of those who would be its subjects.

We shall never see the church and Christianity effecting their full conquest over sin and evil, and performing their most influential part in building a better world, until those who would be Christians understand this better, and give themselves more fully to the faith that they profess.

There is a real cost of discipleship, of allegiance—but the pearl of great price is neither disillusioning nor is it disappointing.

Since the Volos region of Through voluntary contributions to the American Red Cross Children's Fund, junior members last year provided relief for young disaster victims here and abroad by providing comfort and recreation articles for hospitalized children.

Through group instruction meetings, the American Red Cross last year provided safety information to an average of eight persons per minute.

Red Cross volunteers during the year 1954 reported for duty at an average rate of one every eighteen minutes to assist in the collection of blood for civilian and national defense use.

FIRE PREVENTION WEEK — OCTOBER 9-15

Fire Prevention Is Another Name for Sound Business Judgment

Each year fire takes a shocking toll . . . in lives lost, in property damaged, . . . in futures ruined. The bitter irony is that much of this loss could be prevented. . . BY YOU. Fire feeds on careless deeds, and only care and caution can stop them. We urge you, from the standpoint of dollars and cents, check your property for fire hazards.

The last five years have been a little lean in this area, and that makes fire loss even more of a disaster. We hope you will join us in looking at fire prevention as one way of exercising sound business judgment.
