One of several reasons that the Scurry County Junior College District Trustees were anxious to hold the district's bond election this month is the current trend in the bond market.

"It is working in your favor," said Joe Smith of First Southwest Co., the college district's fiscal agent. "I wish we could sell them (the bonds) tomorrow."

However, Smith said that the bond market still is likely to be favorable past the first of the year and that if voters here approve the junior college issue, they should sell at a good figure. It requires a month and a half or more following approval at the polls to get a bond issue ready for sale. A fraction of one per cent interest on a $2½ million issue would amount to a substantial amount of money.

So, if the bonds are authorized by the voters and they can be sold on a seller's market, it will benefit the local taxpayers.

You can't win 'em all. There reportedly is a Snyder man who would agree wholeheartedly with that statement, and he would not be referring to football. The word is out that this local man decided to order a special cake for his wife's birthday, which happened to fall on Oct. 30. He suggested that the baker might even put a little Halloween-type decoration on it, since Halloween was so close at hand.

Sure enough, the cake arrived with a Halloween decoration — a caricature of a witch, no less.

A recent "poll" failed to settle many issues between male and female drivers of automobiles. It indicated that women had more patience while under the wheel than men and that they were more cautious, especially with children in the car. On the other hand, it indicated that women drivers take up more than one parking space oftener than men, are much more likely to change lanes or turn without giving a signal and usually do not take notice of emergency vehicles such as ambulances and fire trucks as readily as men drivers do.

Today In History

Today is Thursday, Nov. 4, the 308th day of 1971. There are 57 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history:

On this date in 1952, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower was elected president, defeating Adlai Stevenson.

On this date:

In 1775, the Continental Congress established a daily ration for the army, including one quart of beer for each soldier.

In 1825, the first boat to reach New York City by using the Erie Canal arrived nine days after leaving Buffalo, N.Y.

In 1842, Abraham Lincoln was married to Mary Todd in Springfield, Ill.

In 1884, Grover Cleveland was elected president.

In 1924, Calvin Coolidge - who had succeeded to the presidency on the death of Warren G. Harding - was elected by a huge majority.

In 1939, President Franklin D. Roosevelt signed a law repealing the Arms Embargo Act.

In 1960, French President Charles de Gaulle said his proposal for an "Algerian Algeria" meant freedom for that country with its own government.

In 1965, French President de Gaulle, at the age of 75, announced he would seek election to a second seven-year term.

In 1969, hundreds of young people invaded the Massachusetts Institute of Technology administration building, seeking an end to the war in Vietnam.

AS LEADER OF WORLD'S LARGEST DEMOCRACY

Nixon Welcomes Gandhi

By SPENCER DAVIS
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Nixon met today with India's Prime Minister Indira Gandhi and was expected to urge her to join in a mutual pullback of troops massed along the borders of East and West Pakistan.

Mrs. Gandhi, who arrived Wednesday night for a two-day official visit, was welcomed at the White House today and told President Nixon she came to the United States "in search of some wise impulse that sometimes works to save humanity from despair."

In the formal ceremonies on the South Lawn, she said India is beleagured and that she is haunted by "a man-made tragedy of massive proportions."

In this fashion she referred directly to the flight of some 9.5 million refugees from East Pakistan into India as the result of civil war.

Nixon welcomed Mrs. Gandhi warmly as the leader of the world's largest democracy. He said that "whenever there is tragedy in India the hearts of millions of Americans go out to you." He said he knew that her heart was heavy as she arrived here, and most particularly by the recent floods that had caused many fatalities in south India.

The meeting between the American and Indian leaders comes at a time of deepening crisis in South Asia as refugees continue to flee from East Pakistan at the rate of 30,000 to 40,000 per day.

Mrs. Gandhi was reported ready to urge Nixon to use his utmost influence on Pakistan President Agha Mohammed Yahya Khan including a cutoff of all economic aid until a political settlement is reached.

The Pakistani president has offered to pull back his army which faces nine Indian divisions on West Pakistan's borders, and seven Indian divisions on the frontiers of East Pakistan. Mrs. Gandhi refused and ordered a mobilization of Indian reserves and state militia.

White House officials consider the situation chighly inflammable, and the main U.S. effort is expected to focus on steps to cool things down.

Amchitka Appeal To Top Court

WASHINGTON (AP) — Opponents of a giant underground nuclear explosion put final touches on a Supreme Court appeal today as last-minute preparations for the blast went ahead on Amchitka Island off the Alaska coast.

Environmentalist groups, turned down Wednesday by a U.S. Court of Appeals, said they still hoped to prove that the test scheduled for 5 p.m. EST Saturday is unsafe.

Meanwhile, to dramatize his faith in the safety of the test, Atomic Energy Commission Chairman James R. Schlesinger planned to fly to Alaska today to be present for the test of the Spartan antiballistic-missile warhead.

Seven conservationist groups, headed by the Committee for Nuclear Responsibility, say the explosion is likely to set off earthquakes and tidal waves, spring radioactive waste into the air and kill fish and seals in the northern Pacific Ocean.

They say the government suppressed evidence about environmental dangers by keeping secret adverse reports and withholding government conclusions from a public statement required by law on potential hazards.

Among the evidence cited by the environmentalists was a secret report written by President Nixon's chief environmental adviser in December 1970, which said the Amchitka explosion could trigger a chain reaction of earthquakes all across the Pacific Ocean.

Russell E. Train, chairman of the President's Council on Environmental Quality, said in the report that tests smaller than the five-megaton explosion planned Saturday had set off quakes of less intensity than the blasts.

But he said there was no assurance that the Amchitka test—code-named Cannikin—would follow that pattern.

House Launches Effort To Keep Aid Program

WASHINGTON (AP) — House leaders have launched an effort to keep the Nixon administration's foreign-aid program in operation while Senate foes map plans to slash and revamp it.

A two-hour appearance by Secretary of State William P. Rogers before the Senate Foreign Relations Committee Wednesday failed to end the impasse that has developed since Senate rejection last Friday of the bill extending the aid program.

Rep. George H. Mahon, D-Tex., seeks rules Committee clearance today for House consideration next Tuesday of a continuing resolution to fund the aid program, plus items included in the unpassed defense and District of Columbia appropriations bills. The funds would last until Congress adjourns.

Members of the Foreign Relations Committee, meanwhile, hoped to decide at their fourth meeting of the week whether to seek Senate approval of a new, sharply cut aid bill.

Chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., said after the session with Rogers the committee may have to come up with a new aid measure "to ward off a continuing resolution.

"Either we do something as an alternative or be faced with the necessity of accepting it," Fulbright said.

Current spending authority for the District of Columbia, defense and foreign aid expires Nov. 15, and the administration contends failure to act by then would mean the Agency for International Development would have to shut down, and its 6,500 U.S. employes would lose their jobs. Several senators, however, say AID could use the $4.7 billion already appropriated but as yet unspent.

One obstacle to another attempt to pass an aid bill was removed when Rogers told the committee the administration would accept a spending limit and other restrictions on U.S. operations in Cambodia.

"We did not want a ceiling particularly but certainly we would accept a ceiling if that was the decision of Congress," he told reporters.

Foreign Relations Committee members were in general agreement the panel would have to cut the administration's $3.5-billion aid request by at least $1 billion.

WPI Drops 2nd Month In Row

By BROOKS JACKSON
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Nixon's price freeze dropped wholesale prices an average of 0.1 per cent in October for the second monthly deline in a row, the government said today.

Wholesale prices for consumer finished goods went against the trend, rising 0.2 per cent, but this was attributed largely to a 2.1 per cent increase in food items, most of which are not subject to the freeze. Excluding foods, consumer goods were down 0.3 per cent.

Industrial commodities were unchanged.

When corrected for seasonal variations the wholesale price index showed a 0.1 per cent decline, the same as the unadjusted index, the Labor Department's Bureau of Labor Statistics said.

There were sharp declines in wholesale prices for lumber and wood products, gasoline, natural fuel, electric power, textiles, rubber and plastic products, the bureau said.

On a seasonally adjusted basis, wholesale prices for industrial commodities declined 0.3 per cent, farm products and processed foods and seeds rose 1.4 per cent and consumer finished goods were up 0.6 per cent.

Wholesale prices of American-made cars increased 1.6 per cent in October, the bureau said. But it said this did not necessarily violate the freeze because September prices were entirely for 1971 model cars while October prices are for 1972 models.

The 0.1 per cent decline follows a seasonally adjusted drop of 0.4 per cent for September, the first full month after the President's freeze announcement Aug. 15. However, prices paid by consumers rose on the average in September. Consumer figures for October will be available later this month.

The bureau said October's wholesale decline "is largely attributable to commodities subject to the provisions of the Presideres stabilization action."

The bureau said prices of raw agricultural products and imported items rose.

Raw agricultural products do not have price ceilings imposed under the freeze, and prices of imported items are legally allowed to rise by the exact amount of extra import duty and currency exchange rate changes brought about by the President's new economic policy.

The decline in the wholesale index brings it to 114.4 per cent of the 1967 level, 3.1 per cent above a year earlier.

Orr Calls Meeting Of Executive Panel

AUSTIN (AP) — Roy Orr, state Democratic party chairman, called today a Nov. 11 meeting of the party's executive committee.

The meeting, first under Orr's chairmanship, will be "to coordinate goals for the upcoming elections in 1972 and to solicit new ideas and thoughts from each and every area," Orr said.

LABOR SURVEY SET

Snyder Eyed As Plant Site

A nationally-known manufacturer of women's and children's outer garments is considering Snyder as a location for a plant, it was announced here this morning.

Officials of the company already have visited Snyder and have conferred with officials of the Scurry County Industrial Foundation, Chamber of Commerce and others.

However, to remain in contention for the plant, Scurry County must prove that enough labor to staff the plant will be available here.

The Snyder Chamber of Commerce is planning an "in-depth" labor survey to be conducted Nov. 18-19-20 to determine the potential labor available here for that type of industry. The Chamber of Commerce has planned the survey at the request of the industrial foundation and the Texas Electric Service Co. through which the initial contact with the company was made.

Chamber officials said that the company indicated that some 100 or more workers would be needed at the outset, with the possibility that the labor force would be increased to around 500 in three years.

Cooperation of the entire community, especially organizations such as civic and service clubs will be sought during the labor survey. Officials of the company are due to be here to observe the survey, and the results will be a major factor in determining whether the firm establishes a plant here.

Conferees OK Removal Of Deadline

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate-House conferees agreed today to remove the six-month deadline voted by the Senate from a compromise measure calling for total U.S. withdrawal from Indochina.

The compromise language, declaring total withdrawal to be U.S. policy provided American prisoners and missing troops are freed, was included in a $21.3-billion military weapons and research authorization bill.

It marks the second time that the conferees, senior members of the Senate and House Armed Services committees, have voted to delete a withdrawal deadline voted by the Senate. On the draft extension bill earlier this year, they eliminated a nine-month withdrawal provision.

Absentee Voting Launched

Absentee voting is under way in the Scurry County Junior College District's $2½ million bond election.

Ballots may be cast this week at the college administrative offices in the former Standard Building near the intersection of College Avenue and Thirty-seventh Street. Beginning next Monday, the site for absentee voting will shift to the administration building on the Western Texas College Campus.

The WTC administration building is being completed this week, and the college's administrative and business offices will move into their permanent quarters on the campus.

Absentee voting in the bond election will continue through Nov. 19. Election day is set for Nov. 23.

If approved, the bond funds will be used to finance construction to complete the WTC campus as it was planned originally. The first phase of construction, which is now in the final stages of completion, did not include the student center, physical education building and some other campus improvements. These two major buildings are included in the completion plans. In addition, a heritage center and museum building, which also would provide valuable educational space, is included in the present proposal.

Powell Presented To Committee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Virginia's senators presented Richmond attorney Lewis F. Powell Jr., one of President Nixon's two Supreme Court nominees, to the Senate Judiciary Committee today as an outstanding lawyer and citizen.

Powell took the witness chair at the start of the second day of the committee's hearings in an overnight switch of plans. This was to allow Sens. Harry F.Byrd Jr., Ind-Va., and William B. Spong Jr., D-Va., to leave in time to attend the funeral of former Sen. A. Willis Robertson.

However, the testimony of Powell himself was not scheduled to start until after the questioning of Asst. Atty. Gen. William H. Rehnquist, Nixon's other nominee for the court, is completed.

Leon Jaworski of Houston, Tex., president of the American Bar Association, and seven past presidents of the ABA, were on hand for the hearings. He is a former ABA president.

Also present in the crowded hearing room were Mrs. Rehnquist and Mrs. Powell and two of the Powell children.

Byrd said Powell is recognized throughout the nation as a lawyer who stands at the very top of his profession.

Spong told the committee that Powell's "forceful and moderating voice" helped Richmond schools avoid the serious disruption that occurred elsewhere in the South after the Supreme Court's 1954 desegregation decision.

He credited Powell with showing calm leadership, perceptive judgment and an open-minded and fair attitude as chairman of the city school board from 1952 to 1961.

Secretary shouldn't censor boss' mail

By Abigail Van Buren

[c 1971 by Chicago Tribune-N. Y. News Synd., Inc.]

DEAR ABBY: I am a secretary and one of my duties is to open my boss's mail. The past few months he has been getting some pornographic advertisements. I didn't examine this material very closely, I just destroyed it. On a few occasions he has asked me if that was "all" the mail there was, and I have said yes.

I'm wondering if I should continue to destroy this disgusting material, or should I get my courage up and give it to him?

You may want to use this in your column since other secretaries must run into the same problem, but if you do, please sign me "WONDERING IF" without disclosing my name or town because if my boss sees this, I won't have to wonder anymore. "WONDERING IF"

DEAR WONDERING: ALL mail addressed to your boss should be handed over to him. For you to act as a self-appointed censor is both presumptuous and illegal. And if he's been anticipating some of the mail you destroyed, and finds out that you intercepted it, you could be IN trouble and OUT of a job.

DEAR ABBY: I am a lonely widow. Several years ago, when I was teaching school in another city, I met a handsome, retired military officer. He was a wonderful dancer, good company, and always a perfect gentleman.

On our third date I said, "I make a good salary as a teacher. How much do you get in the way of retirement pay?"

He never asked me for another date. What did I do wrong? EHTEL IN SAN DIEGO

DEAR ETHEL: You asked him a question with a "ring" in it, for which he was not ready.

DEAR ABBY: My boy friend called me up last night and it turned out to be a rather lengthy conversation as I was in a rather talkative mood. Well, since the calls between us are toll calls, he said, "Let's hang up, and you call me back so you'll pay for the rest of the call."

After I thought it over I became very angry because I thought he was being cheap. Isn't the expense of toll calls part of the cost of courting? Besides, I've ironed and mended his clothes on occasion, and have had him over for meals, so I think I've reciprocated. I told him that a gentleman should not even mention the cost of phone calls to a lady.

Anyway, that incident has come between us. I said I had never heard of such a thing. He said it's being done by other people. What do you think of a boy asking a girl to call him back to save on the toll charge? JUST ASKING

DEAR JUST: It depends upon how much money each party has, and the relationship between them.

DEAR ABBY: My husband lies so much he actually believes his own lies! It is so embarrassing to me and the children.

I told him he needed to see a head doctor, but he thinks everyone should see one but him. Is there any hope for him? He's only 49. Maybe you can reach him. I've given up. LIAR'S WIFE

DEAR WIFE: One who confuses facts with fantasies is out of touch with reality, which is a condition, not a moral deficiency.

There is indeed hope for your "49'er" if he admits he needs help and is willing to seek it.

What's your problem? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. Write to ABBY, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069. For a personal reply enclose stamped, addressed envelope.

Wording Stalls Bishops

VATICAN CITY (AP) — A row over wording of a document on married priests stalled the World Synod of Bishops today.

The dispute broke out when synod officials presented the revised text of one of 19 propositions on the general subject of the priesthood that were voted on Wednesday.

Bishops both for and against the present ban on ordaining married men denounced the revised text as confusing and practically meaningless.

A commission of the 209-member synod had been entrusted with rewriting the paragraph on the basis of 91 amendments presented with the vote.

The original wording had failed to get the required majority of votes. It said: "The possibility of ordaining married men is not admitted, not even in particular cases, unless, attentive to the universal good of the Church the Holy Father in his prudence would judge that the matter should be subjected to examination."

The changes present in the text submitted today included deletion of the words "the possibility" and the shifting of "universal" to modify "Church" instead of "good."

Liberals had hoped for a more drastic revision leaving a wider opening toward married priests.

The result was that the vote on the paragraph was put off until a further revision can be made.

The question of letting married men become priests was of crucial importance to liberals after the synod Wednesday overwhelmingly upheld Pope Paul's rule that priests of the Western Catholic Rite cannot marry.

Paralyzed Auctioneer Not Lazy

CHANUTE, Kan. (AP) — William E. Frederick says there are too many lazy people in the world and he doesn't want to be one of them—even though he is paralyzed from the neck down.

So Frederick, 27, is embarking on a career as an auctioneer. "You've always got something to work with, no matter how bad off you are," he says. "I've got my voice."

To become "a really good auctioneer, you have to have that personality and gift for gab," he says. "But I'm willing to work on it. I call to myself an hour or so every day. It's a natural because I've been around auctions and cattle all my life."

It was around cattle that disaster struck Frederick on an August morning in 1965, a few days before his 21st birthday.

He was helping a friend round up some cattle when his horse stepped in a ditch and fell. Frederick's neck was broken.

LOOK NOW, YOU MAY NOT SEE THEM OPENING DAY — These deer are roaming the fields and woods around Fredericksburg today, but they may disappear under cover once the hunting season begins. Art Kowert of the Fredericksburg Standard was able to get close enough to the herd of does and the two bucks to get these pictures. The odds against the hunters getting anywhere near as close are much greater. (AP Wirephoto)

Report Issued On Higher Education

WASHINGTON (AP) — A Carnegie Commission on Higher Education study concludes that the 494 small, little-known colleges with relaxed admission policies are the kind "most likely to become extinct."

Unless steps are taken to save some of them, the report said, "American higher education may suffer a severe loss of its diversity."

The institutions represent nearly one-fourth of the undergraduate colleges and enroll about 500,000 students.

The report, called "The Invisible College" and to be published by McGraw Hill, was released in Cleveland today by Dr. Clark Kerr, president of the commission, and the two authors, Alexander W. Astin of the American Council of Education and Calvin B.T. Lee, chancellor of the University of Maryland.

The 494 "invisible" colleges are further indentified by the two authors as having unselective admission policies as reflected in the average academic ability of their students and small enrollments. Seventy per cent of the schools have fewer than 1,000 students, 50 per cent fewer than 750.

Although suggesting that both the states and federal government should try to help the schools stay alive, the writers said that "institutions that are plainly incompetent...have no particular right to support or survival."

In support of the invisible colleges, Astin and Lee note that they "provide a warmer, more cohesive atmosphere; give students a greater opportunity to participate in more activities and offer programs that suit the less able and less well-prepared students who currently impose a heavy burden on many public institutions because of their great numbers."

Almost all colleges, both public and private, have financial problems but nothing to the extent of the invisible college, the report said.

"The invisible college is caught in a bind between the elite colleges, which are able to charge high tuition fees because of their popularity with prospective students," the report said, "and the public institutions which lack the prestige of the elite colleges but can attract students because of their very low fees."

The report recommends that states, possibly through higher education coordinating agencies, study the problem and provide long-term support to private schools. It also recommends that the smallest schools consider increasing their student bodies.

Educational Station On Cable Here

Cable television subscribers in Snyder will receive the educational station in Dallas beginning this week, it was announced this morning.

Mel Gilbert, executive vice president of Snyder Community Antenna Television, said that tests associated with addition of Channel 13 in Dallas to the SCAT line-up began Tuesday. At present, the educational station will share the channel 8 slot on SCAT with WFAA-TV. The educational station's programs will be carried throughout the day, except for the 6 p.m. and 10 p.m. news, Monday through Friday, on WFAA-TV. On Saturdays and Sundays, the WFAA-TV news will be carried at 10 p.m. only.

This sharing procedure hopefully will endure for only a few weeks, Gilbert said. As soon as some problems are resolved, SCAT hopes to put the educational station on a channel of its own, probably soon after the first of the year.

Gilbert said that SCAT had been trying to obtain the educational station's programs by microwave for some time and that it became available this week but that another microwave channel was not available at this time. So, it was decided to retain the WFAA-TV newscasts and put the educational station on channel 8 temporarily for the remainder of the day, since a substantial amount of the WFAA-TV programs are duplicated on other cable stations.

Officers For TSEA Named

Officers have been elected by the Texas Student Education Association at Western Texas College, according to Miss Linda Miller, instructor in math.

The officers are Carl Evans of Hamlin, president; Dee Osborne of Snyder, vice president; Sara Fincher of Snyder, secretary; Linda Sue Tippens of Snyder, treasurer; Robbie Baize of Snyder, membership chairman; Paul Morales of Lubbock, publicity; Marvin Giles of Snyder, parliamentarian.

Meetings of the organization are set for Nov. 10 and Dec. 8 from 12 noon to 1 p.m. in room 7A-107. Dues have been set at $5 per year.

The club will sponsor such activities as dances, car washes and collection of toys for needy children. One of the highlights of the year will be a trip to the state convention at San Antonio.

Basic Training Is Completed

FORT POLK, LA. —Pvt. Jerry V. Martin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Martin Jr. of 1901 Merrill, Snyder, recently completed eight weeks of basic training at the U.S. Army Training Center, Infantry, at Fort Polk.

He received instruction in drill and ceremonies, weapons, map reading, combat tactics, military courtesy, military justice, first aid, army history and traditions.

ACS President Criticizes Plan

By BRIAN SULLIVAN
AP Science Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The president of the American Cancer Society said today that some medical organizations should devote more of their energy to educating American doctors about cancer.

The sharp and unusual attack at the American Cancer Society's annual meeting came from Dr. H. Marvin Pollard, who criticized opponents of President Nixon's plan to set up a separate cancer agency.

Pollard, in a speech prepared for the meeting, said that the average doctor has a low level of suspicion of cancer in his patients and this hampers early diagnosis.

"Also, my own feeling is that if some of our major educational organizations, including the American Association of Medical Colleges, through its spokesmen, would concentrate their efforts on the field of cancer education, rather than attempting to maintain the status quo of the National Institutes of Health, far more would result," Pollard said.

Although the administration's "conquest of cancer" plan is strongly supported by the cancer society, it has evoked equally strong opposition from a broad segment of the medical and scientific community.

The program includes moving the National Cancer Institute from under the wing of the National Institutes of Health and having it report directly to the President.

The National Institutes of Health has supported major medical research programs for years and other institutes under its wing are concerned with such problems as heart, lungs, allergic and neurologic diseases. Critics of the Presidents's plan argue the move could lead to the destruction of the parent organization.

Pollard also indicated what the cancer society can do in educational areas and what direction it will go now that the Federal government is stepping up its research effort.

Two Vehicles Are In Mishap

Minor damage resulted from a two-car collision in the 4000 block of Austin at 3:45 p.m. Wednesday.

Involved were the 1964 Model Oldsmobile of Betty Kenney Menges, 3001 Crockett, and the 1969 Model Ford of Bobby R. Jordan, Route 1, Fluvanna. Officer Melvin Sanders investigated the mishap.

FFA Teams Place First In Contest

Channel Cleanup Plan Agreed On

By PAUL RECER
Associated Press Writer

HOUSTON (AP)—Federal and state pollution fighters agreed to a set of recommendations for the cleanup of the Houston Ship channel Wednesday, but the results were weaker than some measures originally proposed.

The key recommendation calls for the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency and the Texas Water Quality Board to work in private conferences to review pollution permits already issued to industries and sewage plants along the channel.

It calls for each pollution source to achieve an allocated limit of discharge quality by December, 1974.

The Texas Water Quality Board had heatedly resisted the original measure and R. A. Vanderhoff of the EPA said the final recommendation accomplished little.

"The only thing we have accomplished is that we might be able to work more cooperatively," he said. "We really haven't settled anything."

Hugh Yantis of the WQB said the new recommendation creates "a private debating society" wherein state agency and EPA personnel will discuss the proper level for discharge permits.

Under the plan, the two agencies will strive to achieve a minimum pollution level in the Houston Ship Channel of 35,000 pounds of biochemical oxygen demand, a measure of the strength of pollution.

Yantis said a public hearing will be required for each change in discharge permits. There are about 300 such permits in the Galveston Bay system.

But the key to the new system will be the behind-the-door negotiations between the EPA and the state agency. It is during these sessions, says Vanderhoof, that the limits set on each polluter will be worked out.

During the public hearings this week and last June, the EPA and the Water Quality Board had frequent disagreements on the proper pollution limits. This bickering now goes behind closed doors, said Yantis.

"We created a private debating society which brings the EPA into our processes," said Yantis.

Vanderhoof agreed, but noted that the debates are weighted in favor of the federal agency. All polluters along the channel, he said, must also get a federal permit from the Corps of Engineers and the EPA controls approval of these permits where there is an environmental question involved.

"We can always go to court," he said, "and we've shown already that we're ready to if necessary."

Cub Pack Has Halloween Party

Den 1 and Den 4 of Cub Scout Pack 37 held a joint Halloween Party Saturday at the home of Al Wheeler.

The boys arrived in costume and prepared to venture through "Spook House." They entered over the rolling floor with the assistance of Roy Harlan, to be met and welcomed by a "headless" man. Meeting them in the middle room were a maze of bats, spiders and a "dismembered" man. The casket in the last room contained the ghosts of Kevin Harlan and Valita Wheeler. Before leaving, they were "branded" by Hub Evans.

Refreshments were served by Pearl Wheeler, Sandra Harlan and Evelyn Evans. Those attending were (Den 1) Bruce Nolan, Brad Floyd, Jeffery Pylant, Tommy Peek, Robert Jones, Steven Wheeler, Wade Sands, den chief, and guest John Donaldson, (Den 4) Ricky Harlan, Neil Evans, Cris Raines, Stephen Hami, Robert Richter and Darby Scott.

ROAST DUCK — Canned chestnuts, apple and sausage are the mainstay of the stuffing.

Roast Duck Is Gourmet Fare

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

A friend of ours, a good bachelor cook, uses canned chestnuts from France along with apples and sausage for the mainstay of a stuffing for roast duck. Recently we followed suit with delicious results. The stuffing recipe makes a lot; if you have any leftover just heat it in a double boiler or wrapped in foil in the oven and serve at another meal.

The recipe suggests that you use a slow oven for roasting the duck and that you turn the bird midway. But if you have a favorite method for roasting duck at a higher temperature, don't hesitate to use it.

ROAST DUCK WITH FRENCH CHESTNUT STUFFING

½ pound bulk pork sausage
4 (about 1½ pounds) yellow Delicious apples (pared, cored and cut into 8ths)
¼ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon thyme
¼ teaspoon cinnamon
1 tablespoon sugar
¼ cup port
1 can (1 pound, 5 ounces) whole chestnuts packed in water and salt, drained (marrons entiers au naturel)
5 to 6-pound duckling

In a 10-inch skillet over moderately low heat, mashing with a fork, cook sausage until it is light brown in color and fat is emitted. With a large slotted spoon remove sausage to a large mixing bowl.

In the sausage fat cook apples, covered and stirring often, until almost tender and slightly transparent looking; they should hold their shape. With a large slotted spoon remove apples and add to sausage.

Stir together the salt, thyme, cinnamon, sugar and port and add to sausage and apples; mix gently. Add chestnuts and mix gently again.

Stuff mixture into body and neck cavities of duck, skewering closed. Roast breast-side down on a rack in a shallow roasting pan in a preheated 325-degree oven, turning midway, until skin is brown and crisp—about 2½ hours.

Makes 6 servings.

Antique Newspaper Becomes Big Success In Four Years

By BOB INGLE
Associated Press Writer

TUSCALOOSA, Ala. (AP) — It started in the kitchen, advanced to the bedroom and wound up in the dens of about 100,000 homes.

The brief, but true, history of an infant publication, Antique Monthly, born of a hobby, nourished by enthusiasm and reared by hard work until—at age four—it's the big boy on its block, a giant of the industry.

Mother of the enormously successful enterprise is Gray D. Boone, wife of newspaper publisher James Boone.

Always a housewife, she combined her husband's publishing know how, and a few of his supplies, with an equal measure of love for antiques, a flair for writing, a way with people and a sense of adventure.

It all started on a kitchen table in Suffolk, Va., where Boone was publisher of the News Herald. "I told Jim I wanted to put out a newspaper on antiques," Mrs. Boone remembered.

"So we sat at the kitchen table and he would tell me how many pages I would have to type to fill the space in the paper."

It took three nights at the table to put together the first small edition. It was distributed locally to about 3,000 persons—free.

Boone, who admits he didn't think his wife's paper would blossom into an internationally distributed 69-page monthly with 100,000 circulation, told her he'd go along with it provided she did two things: consult a lawyer and a public accountant and follow their advice.

The first edition caught on, advertising came in and the whole operation became so big it had to be moved to a spare bedroom. When Boone became publisher of the Tuscaloosa News, the antique paper came too, and was set up in another spare bedroom.

The staff of six full-time and six part-time employes left the bedroom two years ago for a modern new building across the parking lot from Boone's paper. It has its own press and circulation center. The offices are carpeted, paneled and furnished with antiques.

The family always comes first, says Mrs. Boone, an attractive, energetic woman with a big smile and zippy way about her. "We have a housekeeper but I spend much time at home."

The Boones have three children; Kenneth, 11; Buford, 9, and Mary Frances, 6.

Her interest in antiques began very early, Mrs. Boone says. A native of Baytown, Tex., near Houston, she spent the summers with a relative in Ashland, Va., who had "a big old house and a love for history."

That interest grew with time. "When we were first married our home was early attic," Mrs. Boone says.

The antique business is booming today, she adds. She attributes it to a trend toward conservatism and appreciation of early America; a revival of old fashioned patriotism.

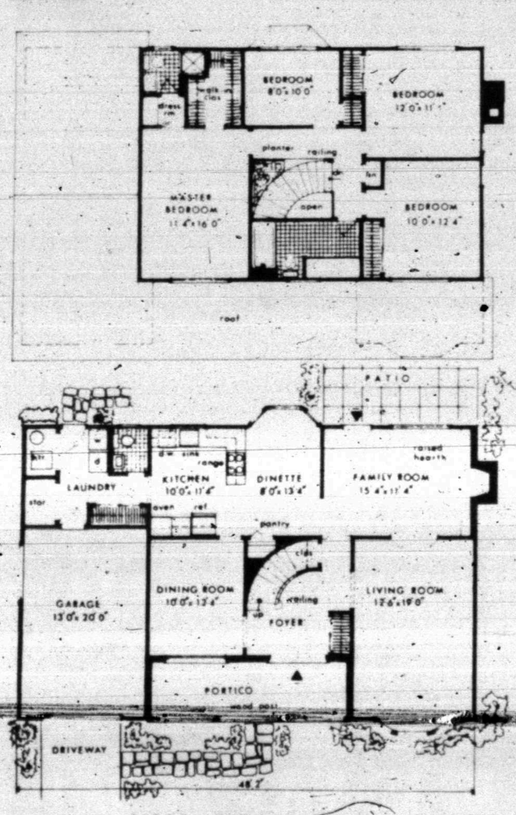

"Antiques are a key to a culture. Our forefathers were not all backwoodsmen. Paul Revere, for instance, was an artist and a silversmith. Thomas Jefferson designed furniture."

Mrs. Boone admits the publication's success was a shock and had she known what it was to become, and the work involved, it would have never crossed her kitchen table.

"It's a real challenge. We owe it to hard work, competent advice and good luck," she said, beaming at the latest issue.

Suit Filed On Welfare Drugs

AUSTIN, Tex. (AP) A suit challenging the state welfare drug prescription procedure was on file here today after being transferred from Denison.

Denison druggist John Burtis joined in the suit with several other pharmacists to argue that restrictive regulations on welfare prescriptions are impractical for both doctors and druggists.

Their suit says that the State Welfare Department, by imposing such requirements, is in effect practicing medicine and pharmacy.

The suit was moved to Austin because it is directed against a state agency.

There are many ways to remove rust from metal. Among them are such time-tested but laborious methods as scraping, wire brushing, steel wooling and sanding and the use of a long list of chemical preparations and abrasives, including jellies and rust erasers.

Since it is a combination of air and moisture that causes metals like iron and steel to corrode, the development of rust can be prevented by placing a coating between the surface of the metal and the air-moisture mixture. The coatings most commonly used are oils, paints, primers, waxes, silicones, greases, lacquers, varnishes and at least a dozen other kinds of products.

Obviously, then, the easiest and simplest way to keep from removing rust from metal is to prevent it with the use of a coating. Yet all of us have seen painted and other protected metal surfaces which eventually have corroded. This is because coatings either have worn off or have been knocked off in one way or another. Once rust takes hold, even in a tiny, almost invisible area, it spreads slowly but surely, even eating its way underneath two coats of paint.

Example: You have a metal object well protected by paint, but which has been banged into something hard, knocking off a chip of paint. If a portion of the bare metal is exposed—a portion no longer than the head of a pin—rust is likely to develop in time, especially if the object is left outdoors. Sometimes it won't even be noticed until the paint begins to crack as the rust eats it way underneath.

It once was necessary to take off every particle of rust and get down to the bare metal before repainting. There now are rust-inhibiting primers on the market which can be applied over rust and prevent it from spreading. But even these require that all loose rust be scraped off before applying the coating. Paints with the same rust inhibiting qualities now are available in different colors. These also will hold over rust provided that loose particles are first removed.

When the inner workings of an outdoor lock fail to turn easily because of an accumulation of rust, the condition can usually be corrected by using powdered graphite from a squirt container. The graphite is blown into the lock by squeezing the tube. Don't make the mistake of using oil in locks, since it tends to become sticky when it dries and can make the balky condition worse.

A good way to keep outdoor locks in working order is to use the powdered graphite about once a year even if the locks appear to be all right. Rust in general can be prevented by inspecting the coating of all metal products periodically to determine whether a new coating is necessary.

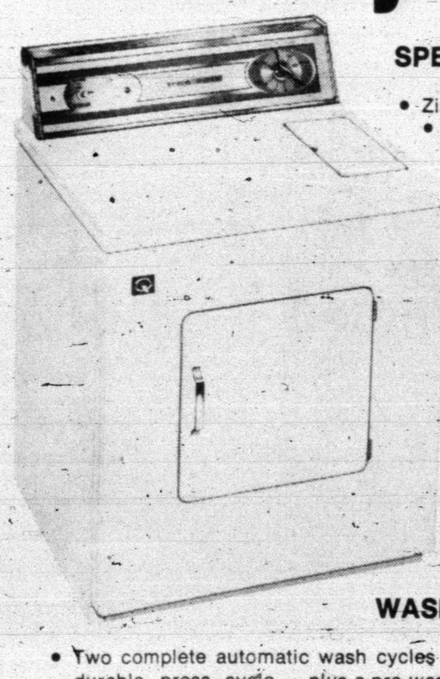

West PTA To MEET

The West Elementary PTA will meet in the Speech Arts room Nov. 8th at 7:30 p.m. The program is titled "What's New in Curriculum." It will be a discussion of what is being taught in our present day schools, as compared to the schools of a generation ago. Tigers Face Another "Must" Game Friday

Snyder's Tigers face another "must" football clash Friday night when Lamesa's Golden Tornadoes invade Tiger Stadium. Kickoff is on tap for 7:30 p.m.

A loss would virtually eliminate the Tigers from the District 3-AAA title race. A victory would give them a shot for at least a share of the crown. Snyder is 3-3-1 for the campaign while Lamesa is 5-2. In district play, the Tigers are 3-1 while the Tors are 2-2.

In Lamesa, the Tigers will be facing their toughest defensive team since the Big Spring game. The Tornadoes have yielded only 57 points this season and only 38 in league play. On the other hand, the Tigers have given up 136 points for the season and 58 in district action.

However, the Tigers of Coach Maurice (Mo) Hodges are the biggest scoring team in the district. For the campaign, the Tigers have posted 152 points with 108 in district. Lamesa, on the other hand, has scored 130 for the distance and 48 in district play.

The two teams have met four common opponents. Both teams have knocked off Sweetwater and Colorado City, and both teams have lost to Dunbar. Lamesa owns a 23-6 decision over Andrews while Snyder lost 27-20 to the same team. Comparative scores would indicate it should be a close game.

The Tigers and Tornadoes have tangled 26 times since 1925, and the Tors went away the winner in 17 of those games. The last two contests have been close. Lamesa won 7-6 in 1969 and 9-3 last year. The Tigers haven't beaten the Tors since 1967 when they posted a 9-0 decision.

Snyder has been very effective with the Winged-T and I formations this season. Quarterback Butch Buchanan, a 175-pound senior, is a capable passer, and he often gains valuable yardage running with the ball. Fullback Mike Glassscock, 202-pound senior, is hard to bring down. Halfback Jiimmy Dyess, 180-pound junior, and tailback Sammie Harrison, 145-pound senior, both can go for the distance.

Defensively, the Tigers employ an Oklahoma 5 alignment, anchored by Mike Line, 208-pound senior tackle, and Sandy Land, 251-pound senior tackle.

Coach Robert James' Lamesa crew operates from a Wishbone T attack, and seveal veterans man the backfield. Included are quarterback David Sisson, a 180-pound senior; halfbacks Monty Bedwell and Wayne Hogg, 155-pound seniors; and, fullback Kirby Marshall, a 200-pound senior.

The Tornadoes try to run over their opponents. Failing that, they will use quick pitchouts to their fast halfbacks and allow Sisson to throw the ball — something he does quite well.

Defensively, Lamesa has a five man front with an umbrella defense, led by Marshall, Terry Martin, a 195-pound junior; and, Kent McCauley, a 200-pound sophomore.

Lamesa has seven men who see double duty while the Tigers have only four.

Both teams are about equal in experience, size, depth, and speed. The team with the most desire probably will win.

McNeese State Is Rated No. 1

By The Associated Press

McNeese State, winner of all seven games this season, has vaulted into first place in this week's Associated Press college division football poll.

The Cowboys from Lake Charles, La., second a week ago, received 11 of 18 first-place votes and 324 points today in balloting by a panel of sports writers and broadcasters.

While the Cowboys, who finished with a 5-6 record last year, were registering their seventh triumph of this season, a 17-7 decision over Troy (Ala.) State last Saturday, Delaware, last week's top-ranked team, was upset by Temple 32-27 for its first setback in seven games.

The defeat dropped the Blue Hens into third place. They collected one first-place nomination and 225 points.

Eastern Michigan, 6-0-1, garnered two first-place ballots and 288 points; and climbed from fourth to second.

North Dakota, named No. 1 by three voters, advanced one place, going from fifth to fourth.

Louisiana Tech and Western Kentucky, each 6-1, jumped three places apiece, being named fifth and sixth, respectively.

Tennessee State, also 6-1, held seventh. Akron, upended by Central Michigan 10-7 for its first loss in seven games, plunged from third to eighth. North Dakota State, beaten by South Dakota State 20-13, fell from sixth to ninth, and Boise State was placed tenth.

The top ten teams in the Associated Press College division football poll with season records and total points on a 20-18-16-14-12-10-9-8 etc. basis:

Estacado Matadors Are Ranked No. 7

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The focal point of The Associated Press schoolboy football poll centers on Port Arthur this weekend where two of the AP's top 10 slug it out for city supremacy.

Top ranked port Arthur Jefferson tangles with fifth ranked Port Arthur-Lincoln in the key game of the week.

Lincoln leaped two places to fifth following last week's losses by No. 3 Galveston Ball and No. 5 Hurst Bell. Bell dropped to 10th and Ball disappeared from the top 10.

Silsbee in Class AAA, Eastland in Class AA, and Sonora in Class A continued to lead their respective divisions.

San Antonio Churchill was a casualty in the AAAA listings after it was tied 7-7 by San Antonio Lee, which moved into the No. 9 spot. Unbeaten Conroe also is a newcomer in the Class AAAA list as the No. 8 team.

Sixth ranked Ennis dropped from the Class AAA list after a 6-6 tie with Wilmer Hutchins. Tidenhaven replaced Ennis which was No. 6 in the list, becoming No. 10.

Forney was eliminated from the Class A rankings after a 12-0 loss to sixth ranked Crowley.

Woodsboro and Diboll were losers in Class AA and dropped from the top 10. Austin Westlake and Bowie moved in as No. 9 and No. 10.

Hayes Leaves Game Early

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Elvin Hayes, Houston's reluctant center, staged another walkout while the New York Knicks staged a walkaway victory over the Rockets, but this time it apparently had nothing to do with his dispute with Coach Tex Winter.

Hayes, who had refused to go into a game as a substitute last Sunday, failed to show up for a voluntary workout Monday and a mandatory practice session Tuesday drawing the wrath of Winter. He then begged out of Wednesday night's contest, complaining of a stomach ailment.

He did not return to the National Basketball Association game after leaving midway in the third period. Before departing, the usually high-scoring Hayes netted only one field goal in each half, as the Knicks romped to a 117-98 victory.

Elsewhere in the NBA, Phoenix edged Buffalo 100-98, Cincinnati trounced Philadelphia 124-100, and Chicago downed Atlanta 113-100.

Earlier Wednesday, Hayes met with Winter and the Rockets' management in an effort to resolve their differences.

Lamar Hosts Goliad, Toros

The junior high school football teams close out their season tonight with Lamar 8th grade hosting Big Spring Goliad at 6 p.m., followed by a 7:30 p.m. clash between Lamar 9th grade and the Big Spring Toros.

Travis 8th grade will be in Big Spring for a 5:30 p.m. tussle with Runnels, followed by a 7:30 p.m. skirmish between Travis 9th grade and the Brahmas.

The varsity Tigers host Lamesa at 7:30 p.m. Friday, and the junior varsity Bengals will be at Lake View for a 2 p.m. contest Saturday.

Trevino Is Popular On Golf Tour

MEXICO CITY (AP) Lee Trevino had addressed the ball and was ready to start his backswing when the click of a camera which wasn't supposed to be there disturbed his concentration.

He backed off, walked around muttering to himself and again addressed the ball.

"Click," went the camera again.

Again Trevino backed off, obviously angry.

"Lady," he said to the women with the camera, "I'll pose for you all you like when I get through, but please don't do that when I'm playing."

And he walked around muttering some more, then got off the shot.

He went immediately to the highly embarassed woman, grabbed her program to autograph it, bussed her on the cheek, posed for a picture and then headed down the fairway. Behind him he left a fan for life.

It was a small action, a tiny incident, but just part of the way Trevino has quickly established himself as one of the most popular players pro golf has ever known.

Trevino, the top-heavy favorite for the title when he set out in the first round of the Mexican National Open today, presents a grinning face, nonstop chatter and a happy-go-lucky attitude to the world. But he has a dead serious approach to the game and his responsibilities to it.

Tohill Named Frog Coach

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Texas Christian University named Billy Tohill today as head football coach to succeed Jim Pittman who died of a hert attack during the Texas Christian-Baylor game at Waco Saturday.

Tohill, 32, had been assistant head coach in charge of the TCU defense and was named interim coach shortly after Pittman succumbed.

The new coach is a Mississippi State graduate who was on Pittman's staff at Tulane for five years and came to TCU when Pittman took the job here.

The selection was made by a committee of school officials appointed by TCU Chancellor James Moudy.

Sources close to the school said the selection of Tohill was influenced because he was in a position to carry out the program Pittman had started.

Additionally, recruiting organized by Pittman was well under way, and Tohill, working with Pittman for several years, is well aware of Pittman's approaches which have been very successful.

Landry Names Staubach

DALLAS (AP) — Tom Landry wasn't his usual Southern gentleman self. He was curt and grim.

He beat around the bush talking about injuries and the kicking game before he finally got down to the reason his weekly Wednesday press conference was jammed to the rafters with reports.

"I will go with Staubach at quarterback," he said.

Roger Staubach, the third-year man from Navy, was getting his long awaited shot at running the Dallas ship which is floundering much the way it did last year before the Cowboys won seven consecutive games in a drive to the Super Bowl.

It meant an end to the controversial two quarterback system and a demotion for seven-year veteran Craig Morton, who led Dallas to the Super Bowl in 1970 despite a sore arm.

Landry said "We reached the point where I must make a choice at quarterback. The only reason I will make a choice is for only one reason...if any part of our team is concerned right now possibly that we don't have an established number one quarterback working for us if that upsets them at all, and I'm not sure it does, really, but if it's a possibility, I feel I must make a choice."

Landry said it was a "real shame" he had to make a choice because he considered both quarterbacks performing well with Staubach rated No. 2 in the National Football Conference and Morton No. 5.

The computer-minded Landry will continue to call the plays in the Dallas offense, shuttling the tight ends. Last week he shuttled the quarterbacks except for the final six minutes in a 23-19 loss to Chicago. He left Morton in at the last.

"I think it's Roger's time to make a move," Landry said. "I have confidence in him or I wouldn't have picked him. Don't ask me if we will go seven games (with Staubach). Who knows? If you make a choice expect seven games, but anything can change from week to week."

Feds Shrinkage Of Money Supply Puzzling

By JOHN CUNNIFF
AP Business Analyst

NEW YORK (AP) — At the very time the administration is attempting to accelerate the economy, the semi-autonomous Federal Reserve Board is shutting off the fuel, or the money supply, official figures show.

The puzzling behavior, which is antogonistic to the goals toward whose fulfillment the President has asked sacrifices of all segments of the economy, has brought about an actual shrinkage of the money supply.

Financial analysts here attribute some of the stock market's sharp decline to the lack of investment funds. They add that a continuation of tight money could stall a decline in interest rates and subdue economic confidence also.

The Fed describes its role as the fostering of "a flow of credit and money that will facilitate orderly economic growth, a stable dollar, and long-run balance in our international payments."

Figures show, however, that in the weeks of Oct. 15 and 22 the money supply declined on an annual percentage basis after having grown at more than 13 per cent during some previous weeks.

The abrupt policy change came in the week after the President announced his new economic plan.

Each week thereafter the growth in the supply of money—currency in circulation, plus checking accounts—lessened until the flow went into reverse in the week ended Oct. 15.

The shrinkage is largely the result of actions by the Fed's Open Market Committee, made up of the seven members of the Board of Governors and the presidents of five regional Federal Reserve banks. It meets regularly in Washington to decide the makeup of the system's securities portfolio.

When the Fed buys securities, mainly those of the U.S. government, it has the effect of creating bank reserves, thus permitting the nation's banks to make loans and other investments.

The result, in the Fed's own words, "affects indirectly every phase of American enterprise and commerce and every person in the United States."

This is not the first time that Fed activities have run counter to a President's goals.

Several presidents have come into direct conflict with the board since its founding in 1913, and some critics have challenged its independence as anachronistic.

John Wright, influential head of Wright Investors' Service, which numbers some 1,000 banks and many large brokerage houses among its clients, claims the Fed has more power over the economy than the President.

Some members of the Open Market Committee, he maintains, do not understand the working of the economy. Some are not trained economists. Some, he said, are incapable of making national as opposed to regional decisions.

Wright claims that if the tight money policy is pursued it will bring about a market collapse.

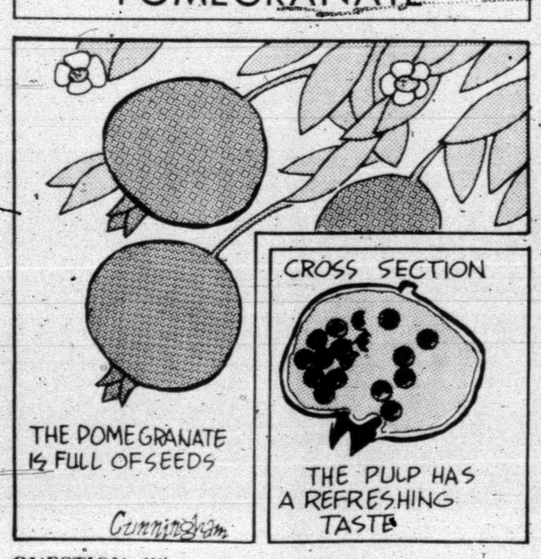

Similar criticisms of the Fed have been common in recent years, but its defenders maintain that its independence is its strength and that in checking presidential power it has helped avert serious financial problems.

During the Johnson administration the Fed thwarted an attempt by the President to pursue an all-out guns and butter policy. That is, domestic expansion concurrent with spending for the Vietnam war.

By putting on the brakes that time the Fed brought about a money crunch that not only distressed investors but put corporate treasurers into frantic competition for funds.

Fed defenders claim the crunch was needed to slow an unhealthy, inflationary expansion. Its critics claim that any abrupt change in money supply is dangerous to the economy.

Junior Editors Quiz on POMEGRANATE

QUESTION: What is a pomegranate?

* * *

ANSWER: The pomegranate is a fruit, since it has seeds which were originally a part of a flower. It is one of the most ancient fruits. There are frequent references to the pomegranate in the Old Testament. According to many authorities, the fruit is probably a native of Persia. It has been grown in Africa and throughout the East for many centuries. Today, it is grown extensively in the warm climate of California, Arizona, Alabama, Nevada, Utah and Florida.

The pomegranate is about the size of an orange. It has a thin, tough, leathery rind and varies in color from pale yellow to purple. The rind is lined with a layer of pulp or pulp, which may be thick or thin. Inside this may be found large seeds coated with pulpy flesh. It is in season from October to January.

The fruit is eaten raw for a dessert. The flesh is sucked from the pits or seeds and the juice is used in beverages and ices. The juice is highly prized in the making of gelatin desserts, icing for cakes, fruit drinks and pudding sauces. Grenadine, used in the flavoring of drinks, is made from pomegranate juice.

Mayor Rides Bike To Work

DALLAS (AP) — Dallas cycling enthusiasts got a push from City Hall Tuesday as Mayor Wes Wise and 50 others rolled along to work on bicycles.

Wise, after completing the journey on his daughter's 10-speed bike, said he felt better. He said he also plans to check with all city agencies involved to see what can be done to encourage bicycle commuting in an effort to relieve congestion and pollution.

Tuesday's outing included Victor Hancock, 47, who rides his bike daily to his executive job at the Federal Building from his home in Richardson—17½ miles away.

Hancock carries a fresh shirt in a pack and he says it takes him an hour and five minutes each way.

Today's Youth Wanting Change

LONDON (AP) — Billy Graham says that the young generation, for all its sex permissiveness, drug-taking and rebellion, is showing signs of wanting a change.

"The revolt of our youth today is not against the older generation as such, but against the lack of integrity and sincerity in their elders," the American evangelist told a meeting of British businessmen Tuesday.

Women's Lib Break For Man

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — "Dear Poor Man's Philosopher:

"I am a young man going with a nice girl who wants me to marry her. I am not against marriage itself, but my girl is a strong believer in the Women's Liberation Movement, and I'm afraid I'll wind up henpecked and dominated.

"What should I do?

"Perplexed"

Dear Perplexed:

What should you do? Why, marry the young lady, of course.

There are thousands—perhaps hundreds of thousands—of young men in America today who feel themselves in the same plight you do.

But your fears are groundless. The Women's Liberation Movement should not be looked upon with dread and suspicion by men. It should instead be greeted with open arms and glad cries. For it may result in the greatest advancement of men in the history of human relations.

It is his unwillingness to treat woman as his equal that has enchained man for centuries. Instead he treated her as either a child or a goddess and alternately pampered or idolized her.

What a cushy place the world became for a smart woman. She could throw a tantrum and get her way or stand on her pedestal and demand man's groveling worship.

In time the legend spread that women were dainty, defenseless flowers to be guarded against all possible dangers and treated with a host of foolish and unnecessary courtesies. The legend also grew up that women were romantic-hearted and too flighty to deal with money matters.

What a fraud, palmed off on bumbling man by women themselves!

The average woman, as every other woman knows, has the heart of a tigress and the mind of a steel trap.

But now, for a reason known only to themselves, women want to dress, act, and work like men and to be treated as their equals. They want to step off their protected pedestals and go into the marketplace.

One wonders what the advantage to them is unless they wish to work themselves to death at an earlier age—just like men.

But what a lucky break it is for a sensible young man. As his bride strives more and more to be like him, he can warily become more and more like she used to be—and perhaps in time climb up on the pedestal she deserted.

Yes, young man, let Mildred get the ulcer in the family. All you have to do is pat her on the back every morning and give her a lollipop on her birthday, and she'll purr like a kitten.

Any man who fights women's liberation is fighting against his own.

US Says POW Letters Curtailed

By MICHAEL GOLDSMITH
Associated Press Writer

PARIS (AP) — The United States accused North Vietnam today of sharply curtailing the number of letters American prisoners have been allowed to write to their families in the past six months.

U.S. negotiator William J. Porter told the 135th weekly session of the Vietnam peace talks that the number of letters from prisoners had been cut by more than 85 per cent since last year, and fewer than 50 of the acknowledged 339 prisoners in North Vietnam have been allowed to write.

He said the 339 prisoners were allowed to send 1,300 letters in the six months from May to October of last year. In the same period this year, only 170 letters have been received by the families, Porter said.

"North Vietnamese officials have said all prisoners may write monthly", he continued. "By this standard, the acknowledged 339 prisoners in North Vietnam should have sent over 2,000 letters in these half-year periods.

"The Geneva prisoner-of-war convention's minimum requirement—two letters and four cards per month—calls for over 4,000 letters and 8,000 cards from this number of prisoners per half year."

Hanoi has consistently refused to apply the Geneva Convention to its American prisoners, contending that they were captured while bombing civilian targets and therefore are war criminals.

Porter also said no letters at all have been received from 200 Americans missing in South Vietnam and believed held by the Viet Cong in the Cambodian jungle. The Hanoi and Viet Cong delegations were led by lesser ranking officials for the eighth successive week, and they did not respond to Porter's challenge.

North Vietnamese representative Nguyen Minh Vy told Porter that the prisoners would be released only if the United States pulls all its armed forces out of South Vietnam unconditionally.

Both Vy and Viet Cong delegate Nguyen Van Tien accused Defense Secretary Melvin R. Laird of "preparing new military adventures against the Vietnamese and other Indochinese peoples" during his current visit to Saigon.

Tien said all Laird's previous visits to South Vietnam have led to prolongation and expansion of the war, and the same could be expected of his present trip.

Wives Watch Games Too

DALLAS (AP) — The theory that many wives are turned into poor braved widows with the coming of the football season may not have a defense to stand behind.

There are fewer football widows on Monday night that one Dallas theater chain anticipated.

ABC Interstate Theaters began letting unescorted women into the movies for $1 during the Monday night televised football game, but apparently many of the gals are watching the game too.

"There just hasn't been any rush to take advantage of the offer," said Interstate manager Lynn Harris.

Clean Cars Developed In Europe

WASHINGTON (AP) — A top U.S. air-pollution official says European auto makers have developed test vehicles apparently able to meet the United States' 1975 and 1976 emission standards.

Dr. John T. Middleton, director of the air-pollution-control office of the Environmental Protection Agency, told newsmen he and an aide saw low-pollution test cars in Germany, Sweden, Italy, France and Britain during recent visits.

EPA announced several weeks ago that an experimental auto engine developed by the Ford Motor Co. also appeared capable of meeting the future standards, which require 90 per cent reductions in emission of common pollutants.

Ford quickly protested that the engine was a long way from readiness for commercial production.

So are the European versions, Middleton said, but he added, "What it means is that they have the technology. It's just a matter of getting them into production economically."

Middleton said some of the European engines were improved internal-combustion engines—the kind now commonly used—but others were other types, such as a modernized steam engine, an electric-battery engine, or a hybrid combining batteries and fuel combustion.

Sniper Takes Own Life

CARLSBAD, N.M. (AP) — For two hours, 23-year-old Michael O'Hearn was holed up in a school building tower, taking potshots with a rifle.

"He kept saying 'I'm in trouble and I can't come down'," said Sheriff Tom Granger, who tried to talk O'Hearn down from the three-story tower.

What was troubling O'Hearn, a former [illegible] remain a mystery.

The last shot O'Hearn took with the 30-30 rifle claimed his own life.

O'Hearn fired an estimated 20 shots during the ordeal but the most serious reported injury to those outside the tower was a slight arm wound to a deputy sheriff.

"There's a man upstairs with a gun!" Jeanette Methola screamed Wednesday as she ran into the office of Asst. Principal Joe Stell.

Carrying a gunnysack with the 30-30 rifle protruding from the top and carrying a .22 automatic, O'Hearn had entered Carlsbad Mid High School and gone to the second floor.

He went into the class of Mrs. Harold Olive and demanded a key to the tower. Mrs. Olive wrote a note and told Jeanette to take it to the office.

After haggling with Stell and Principal Merl Anderson, O'Hearn had the door to the tower unlocked. Anderson asked O'Hearn "very politely" to go inside, and closed and locked the door.

School officials called the police, who blocked off streets in the area and ordered people out of sight.

From the tower of the junior high school building O'Hearn had a clear view through windows from all four sides.

Sheriff Granger eventually was able to get close to O'Hearn.

"We talked about 10 minutes and then he told me to leave," the sheriff said.

"There was no indication he would come down. If there had been, I guess we'd still be talking."

As Granger was leaving he pulled the pin on a tear gas grenade and tossed it at O'Hearn.

The young man retaliated by shooting back at officers on the second floor roof before fatally wounding himself in the throat.

Officials say he was a Vietnam veteran discharged from the Navy in 1966 for mental reasons and that he later was a patient at the state mental hospital.

O'Hearn was single. He recently had returned to Carlsbad but he became very depressed when he couldn't find work, friends said.

Stanley Named To VA Commission

AUSTIN (AP)—Gov. Preston Smith has appointed George Stanley of Port Arthur to the Veterans Affairs Commission.

Stanley, a service officer for the American Legion, replaces Charles Ford of Longview, who died. Stanley's term will expire Dec. 31.

Plan Is Considered To Market Tainted Turkeys

By G. DAVID WALLACE
Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Agriculture Department is considering a plan which would enable Swift & Co. to market 50,000 turkeys tainted with DDT-like chemicals if the meat can be made to measure up to federal standards.

The plan, which could save Swift $300,000 by government estimates, consists of cooking the chemicals out of the turkeys, then clearing them for use in frozen dinners, soups and pot pies. Officials emphasized in interviews that the meat would have to be proven safe.

If adopted, the plan would be the closing chapter in what remains the most mysterious incident yet involving contamination of food by a family of industrial chemicals called polychlorinated biphynels, or PCBs. The chemicals have been blamed for skin ailments in humans and liver disease and birth defects in test animals.

The contaminated turkeys were discovered at the Swift & Co. plant in Detroit Lakes, Minn., last August. Officials still have not disclosed the source of the contamination.

Agriculture Department experts say something evidently contaminated fat used as a finishing ration and fed to the turkeys in their last six weeks before slaughter.

"We now have reason to believe there was one hot shot of fat into one ration," said Dr. Fred J. Fullerton, director of field operations for the department's Consumer and Marketing Service.

But neither Fullerton nor his special assistant, Dr. Joseph Stein, would speculate on what contaminated the fat. "I think I know," said Stein. "If it ever comes to where we have some proof, we'll give you a call," said Fullerton.

Can it happen again?

"If it's true what I think, that source has been eliminated," said Stein.

A three-state survey in September led the department to declare the incident an isolated one. Officials said at the time they would test the turkeys lot by lot to see if any were safe enough to be released for Thanksgiving tables.

The tests found every lot contained excessive levels. The federal guideline for PCBs sets a maximum permissible level of 5 parts per million. Stein said many of the turkeys contained 100 parts per million and some had over 300.

Stein said the salvage operation being considered by Agriculture is feasible because PCBs concentrate in animal fat. Poultry has very little fat between muscle, so stripping the fat from the birds would dispose of most of the PCBs, he said, and cooking would get the rest.

In any case, said Stein, the specially processed birds would not be cleared for sale unless post-processing tests showed them to be safe.

Swift spokesmen said it would be after Thanksgiving before the firm gets together with Agriculture to do something with the birds.

U Thant Has Bleeding Ulcer

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) — U Thant, the ailing secretary-general of the United Nations, is suffering from a recurrence of a bleeding peptic ulcer that he had seven years ago.

A U.N. spokesman said Wednesday the ailment was revealed by medical tests made at the Elroy hospital in New York, where Thant was taken Tuesday after suffering a spell of extreme weakness.

Prince Philip Giving Up Polo

LONDON (AP) — Prince Philip is giving up one of the loves of his life—polo.

Buckingham Palace sources said that at 50 he feels he may be past it. Besides, he has been troubled by nagging wrist trouble.

The prince took up the game regularly in 1949 and it has occupied much of his spare time since. He became one of the country's leading players, captaining the exclusive Windsor Park team and playing for England. But he also developed the wrist trouble and last May he carried his right arm in a sling because of inflamed membranes.

Buckingham Palace said the royal string of polo ponies will be disbanded.

Prince Charles, also a polo player, has his own mounts.

October Auto Sales Break Old Record

By STEPHEN H. WILDSTROM
Associated Press Writer

DETROIT (AP) — U.S. automakers had their best month in history in October as buyers took advantage of savings under the price stabilization program, and imported car sales dropped below the October 1970 figure.

October was the second full sales month under President Nixon's new economic program that led to a rollback in the price increases of new domestic model cars, promised a lower excise tax and placed a surcharge on imported autos.

October traditionally is the U.S. industry's biggest month and the four major domestic automakers sold 933,713 cars last month, breaking the mark of 855,328 set in October 1968.

Imported car sales for the month were 106,267, pushing the grand total for October to 1,039,980. It was the first time this year that foreign car sales for any one month were behind those for the same month in 1970.

Last October, 118,143 foreign cars were sold. Importers blamed the drop in sales largely on supply shortages caused by East and West Coast dock strikes.

Only 629,152 domestic cars were sold in October of last year, largely because of a strike at General Motors.

October domestic sales were 48.5 per cent above October, 1970, 14.2 per cent ahead of October 1969, and 5.5 per cent over the 1968 record.

GM topped the 500,000 sales mark for the first month ever.

Ford and American Motors also registered increases, as only Chrysler slipped behind its previous two year figures.

Ford President Lee A. Iacocca, after seeing preliminary sales figures for October, predicted a record sales year for the industry.

"In fact," he said, "the market is very strong, and for all of 1971 it now appears the industry will, for the first time ever, exceed the 10-million car sales mark."

Iacocca's prediction included import sales, expected to reach about 1.55 million for the year.

October import-sales figures for Volkswagen and Datsun, which both had to battle the new import surcharge, strengthened earlier indications that the sharp growth of foreign sales had been stemmed as both reported a drop in sales over the same period a year ago.

Volkswagen's October sales dropped from 57,858 last year to 34,853 this year, while Datsun reported sales of 11,869 last month, down from 12,446.

Chrysler sold 130,636 cars for October, compared with 156,641 for the month last year.

The only automaker whose yearly sales are running behind 1970 is American Motors. AMC did enjoy a good October, though, selling 30,051 cars, up from 28,088 last year.

AMC's marketing vice president, R. William McNeely, gave credit for the surge to the firm's "buyer protection plan" which gives customers free warranty service on virtually anything that goes wrong with their cars in the first year of ownership.

Over-all U.S. automakers report selling 7,180,189 cars so far this year, a 14.8 per cent increase from last year and up nearly 1 per cent from 1969.

Iranian Thieves To Be Deported

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—Two Iranians are awaiting deportation after pleading guilty to bank theft, grateful to a Texas judge for allowing them to return home.

Shortly after their arrest, the two thought for sure they would be taken out and shot, officials said.

Ordered deported in an immigration hearing this week were Abdul Montaleb Fayoj, 28, and said Norhesian Zardouz, 21, who identified themselves as Carpet dealers from Tehran, Iran. They were jailed here last month after pleading guilty in Abilene, Tex., to charges of stealing $1,150 from an Abilene First National Bank teller.

Officials said they also were accused of similar thefts from two other Texas banks — $1,350 from Austin's Capital National Bank, and $800 from the Texas Bank and Trust Co. in San Marcos.

They were arrested on Sept. 28, the day of the Abilene theft.

Taylor County Sheriff Ray Trammel of Abilene said that when they were later taken to be formally arraigned, they cried and hugged each other. He said an interpreter explained they thought they were going to be shot, common punishment for such an offense in Iran.

At their trial before State Dist. Court Judge J. Neil Daniel, they were elated to learn they would be deported rather than imprisoned.

They bowed to their court-appointed lawyer and smothered his hand with kisses.

Zardouz told the judge through an interpreter:

"When I get back to Iran, My wife and I will pray for you and I will lead a good life."

At the trial, an interpreter said those suspected of a crime in Iran can expect to be beaten with a whip until they confess.

Judge Daniel ordered them to make restitution of $3,300—the total amount taken from the three banks. Officials said they quickly did so after their Oct. 13 trial with a money order sent by a friend in Tehran.

"I hope this will be a lesson and they will go home and never get in trouble again," the judge said at the trial. "They are lucky to be getting out as light as they are."

Immigration officials said they were ordered deported for violating their visitors' status by "engaging in illegal activities." Spokesmen said they will be sent home as soon as paper work is completed.

Connally Ill In Indonesia

JAKARTA (AP) — Treasury Secretary John B. Connally arrived in Indonesia today and said he was suffering from an upset stomach.

"I'm as weak as a kitten," he told newsmen as he arrived from Bangkok for a five-day official visit to Indonesia. He canceled a meeting with Sultan Hamengku Buwono, the minister for economic, financial and industrial affairs, and planned to spend the rest of the day in his hotel room.

Connally is scheduled to go to Bali Saturday for three days, then fly on to the Philippines and Japan.

Charges Violation

MADISON, Wis. (AP) — A state penitentiary inmate claiming "enforced sexual segregation" violates his religious freedom, has asked a U.S. district court to order his transfer to the Wisconsin Home for Women at Taycheedah.

Robert McGregorn 40, serving a 10-year term at Waupun State Prison for car theft and robbery, said in a petition filed Wednesday he has a Biblical mission to "be fruitful and multiply and replenish the earth."

'Contract' Spurs Reports

SAN ANTONIO (AP) — The disclosure of an alleged death threat against Rep. Henry Gonzalez has spurred a flurry of reports, including one that a militant Mexican-American group wants him killed.

The reports mounted after Gonzalez confirmed that the Federal Bureau of Investigation warned him of the threat, saying it presumably was linked to his exposes in the Texas stock scandal.

The San Antonio Democrat has made a steady stream of House speeches on the scandal since last June.

As reports continued to circulate Wednesday, a police sergeant announced that a group of officers will offer to serve while off duty, at no cost, as bodyguards for Gonzalez when he visits here.

When first contacted in Washington, Gonzalez discounted rumors that a Mexican-American group was behind the threat.

But the San Antonio News said Wednesday an unnamed police spokesman reported sources indicated a militant Mexican-American organization in Houston has put out a "contract" for his life.

"They are not kidding, either," the spokesman told the News. "They mean business. They want Congressman Gonzalez out of the way." The group was not identified.

The spokesman said it was possible Gonzalez had not yet been told of the latest information in the case, the News said.

Inspector Jack Hutton, head of the police investigative division, said Wednesday he was unaware of any Mexican-American group's involvement.

He said little information had been obtained so far, except for word from another agency that "there is a contract out to kill him and two people are involved."

Gonzalez said he will seek out the advice of San Antonio Police Chief E. E. Peters. "It's something I certainly can't laugh off and at the same time, I don't want to overreact to it," he said from Washington.
