O. W. Markham, superintendent of schools at Levelland and District 1-AAA chairman, made the presentation. Recipients were head football coach John Conley and school principal T. D. Wiman, Jr.

Dr. C. L. Yarborough, superintendent of Snyder schools, introduced Markham.

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: Yesterday's high 38, Low 31; Today's 7.30 a.m. reading 35; precipitation .15.

NORTH CENTRAL TEXAS — Mostly cloudy with occasional rain this afternoon and in the east tonight and Friday. Warmer Friday.

EAST TEXAS — Mostly cloudy with occasional rain through Friday. Warmer Friday. Moderate variable winds on the coast.

Rains Slacken In West Texas

The sun came out this morning about .15 of an inch of precipitation reported from the sleet and snow that fell yesterday.

Sleet began to fall about 11:30 a.m. yesterday followed by snow.

By The Associated Press

Rains slackened Thursday in West Texas, which needs moisture the most, but continued falling in Central and East Texas.

Rains ranging up to 2.40 inches came just in time to save much dryland wheat, oats and winter grass and green up cattle ranges. For many places it was the best rain in two months.

Moisture was disappointingly small in the High Plains and northern Low Rolling Plains where high winds and drought have hurt wheat.

The forecast was for occasional rain through Friday in all of Texas through Friday except West Texas, where only scattered showers were expected.

Dallas' .8 of an inch was the best rain since Sept. 23. Corsicana, which had only .05 of an inch in all of November, was jubilant over 1.44 inches. Austin's 1.69 in the 24 hours ending at 6:30 a. m. Thursday was the best since February. Unofficial gauges at Austin showed up to 2.5 to 3 inches.

A Weather Bureau observer called the rain "a farmers' and ranchers' special."

A few widely scattered flurries of snow and sleet fell but no hard freezes and no highway icing were reported. The heavy cloud cover that blanketed virtually all of Texas moderated the low temperatures.

The slow, soaking rains were mostly east and south of a line from the Pecos Valley area northeastward to the Childress-Wichita Falls area. No downpours were reported but the nature of the rain was welcomed by farmers and ranchers because it would allow the moisture to soak into the ground with a minimum of runoff.

Shortly before dawn rain was reported by the Weather Bureau as general in the southern and eastern part of the state. Rainfall totals for the 24-hour period ending at midnight included Austin 1.69 inches, Waco 1.45, Corsicana 1.44, College Station 1.26, Palacios 1.10, Texarkana 1.19, San Antonio 1.02, Dallas .88 Fort Worth .79, Mineral Wells .74, Corpus Christi .67, Laredo .46, Wichita Falls .15, Junction .29, El Paso .15 and Abilene .25.

Snow flurries occurred at Childress, Lubbock and Wichita Falls. Sleet fell at Texarkana and sleet, often mixed with rain, was reported at Midland, Big Spring, Snyder, Odessa, Colorado City, Mineral Wells, Fort Worth, Dallas and Colorado City.

Employment Officials To Make Survey Here

The Texas Employment Commission this week is making a survey of Snyder and its trade area in connection with possibility of locating a commission office in Snyder.

There is not now a TEC office here, nor is there a private employment agency, and those who must do business with such an office must work through the Sweetwater TEC office.

The survey is being made at the request of the Chamber of Commerce, which is handling its request through the merchants committee.

The survey will include such factors as the size of the labor force in this area, the amount of industry, and numerous other points.

Steer Brings Large Price

CHICAGO (AP)—The grand champion steer of the International Livestock Exposition sold at auction today for $15 a pound. The 986-pound summer yearling Aberdeen Angus brought a total of $14,700 based its weight Tuesday.

The price is the same as that paid for last year's grand champion, also an Angus.

The money goes to shy, red-haired Nancy Turner, 16, of Champaign, Ill., 4-H Club worker whose calf, Julius, won the junior feeding contest and then went on to take the exposition's top steer award Tuesday.

The steer was bought by Howard Johnson, president of Howard Johnson's restaurants, a nationwide chain. He paid $15 a pound when prime steers were bringing $25.50 a hundred pounds in the open Chicago livestock market.

Estimated Crude Oil Output Is Announced

AUSTIN (AP)—Texas crude oil production is expected to total 1,020,654,047 barrels for 1955, an increase of 65,991,120 over 1954, Railroad Commissioner Ernest Thompson said today.

He said the average increase of 180,797 barrels a day over last year's daily average should mean an increase of $184,775,136 in Texas' oil fevenue. This was based on an average price of $2.80 per barrel.

ROUTE TO GARLAND STADIUM—The above map of the west portion of the city of Garland shows the most convenient routes for reaching the Owl football stadium. B. J. Shelley, Garland city manager and former Snyder manager, drew the map, and he suggests entering Garland from the Northwest Highway on Highway No. 78, and following No. 78 to Kingsley Road. Then turn right on Kingsley and go to First Street, then north on First Street to the football field. This route has good roads, misses the business section of Garland, and brings you to the Snyder side of the stadium.

President Outlines Republican Goals

CHICAGO (AP)—President Eisenhower told the Republican National Committee today that he will "do everything in my power next year to help you report the (Republican) record accurately and fully to the country."

Some GOP leaders viewed this as an expression of Eisenhower's intent to aid the Republican candidates in 1956, whether or not he decides to be a candidate himself.

The President wired members of the committee meeting to make arrangements for their convention starting next Aug. 20 in San Francisco.

The President said: "You have a splendid record to submit to the voters in 1956. I personally am proud of Republican achievements for the peace and the prosperity the security of the American people. I shall do everything in my power next year to help you report the record accurately and fully to the country."

The President outlined these goals:

"Continued progress in the healthy expansion of our economy.

"More equitable sharing of the productivity of that economy.

"Rising levels of health, education and welfare for all.

"An untiring search for a just and enduring peace."

"In striving for these goals, the President said, "you and Republican candidates everywhere will be motivated by a common conviction in the imperishable principles of the American system. So inspired, you will present to the American people both a record of brilliant accomplishment and specific proposals and plans for the future that are worthy of their acclaim and their vote."

The President congratulated the committeemen for what he termed "the great job done under the dynamic leadership of Leonard W. Hall," chairman of the Republican National Committee.

He gave them his best wishes in all their efforts through the months ahead.

The President reminded the committee that they are planning for the election next year of a president, of senators and representatives, and of state and local candidates.

"No job is more important," he said. "Your approach is as citizens concerned with the integrity, the efficiency, the soundness, and the heart that are essential in our American system, so that government may serve all the people.

"And as Republicans, you approach your task with a tested philosophy of government, with a demonstrated fidelity of campaign pledges."

He said the Republican party "must not stand still absorbed in the contemplations of what we have done." Then he listed the goals he saw ahead for his party.

Sinclair Weeks, secretary of commerce, in a speech to the committee, predicted that "prosperity will rise to even higher levels in the first six months of 1956," and that economic growth will continue thereafter if sound policies are maintained.

"Why change?" he asked.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson said the Democrats have picked "agriculture as the major domestic battlefield for 1956," believing it was "smart politics."

5 County Men Show Up At Road Meeting

Five Scurry County men appeared before the State Highway Commission yesterday with delegations from Howard and Mitchell Counties concerning possibility of a state highway designation of a chain of farm-to-market roads in this area.

The proposed state highway would run generally between Tahoka and Colorado City by way of Lake J. B. Thomas in the southwest part of Scurry County, and all the route is now either paved or being paved except a strip between the lake area and the Snyder-Big Spring Highway.

The commission looked with favor on linking farm roads to make them the type which would help carry traffic from one point to another, according to County Judge Edgar Taylor, one of those who testified, but he said commissioners did not make any commitment. They said that nothing could be done before next July 1, when a new year's program begins. The proposal includes the state's paving that portion which is not paved. Commissioners asked questions concerning traffic on the road and learned that some mail routes and school bus routes are in that area and that such a roadway would save several miles to butane-propane trucks going south from the Lion Gasoline Palnat.

Attending the hearing from here were Judge Taylor, Commissioners Pat Moore and T. B. Knight, County Auditor J. P. Billingsley, Sr., and Grady Elder, Chamber of Commerce manager. There were also delegations from Howard and Mitchell Counties.

Comanche Man Killed In Explosion Today

COMANCHE, Tex. (AP)—An explosion in the Topper Fertilizer Co. office in downtown Comanche today killed Carroll E. Anderson, 43, and seriously injured Miss Claudia Fisher, 49.

Constable J. L. Jackson said the blast, which blew both Anderson and Miss Fisher into the street and wrecked the office and adjacent fertilizer manufacturing building, probably resulted from ignition of accumulated gas.

Anderson and Miss Fisher, both employes of the firm, were the only persons in the structure at the time. Jackson estimated the damage at $15,000. Miss Fisher's injuries included compound fractures of both legs.

SANTA CLAUS VISIT SET HERE TUESDAY

Santa Claus has finally scheduled his visit to Snyder, according to Lions Club officials.

Until today, it was not quite definite just when Santa would come here to visit Snyder children, but he notified the Downtown Lions Club today that he will fly into Snyder at 4 p.m Tuesday. He will be taken downtown on a fire truck, and the truck will park on the south side of the square.

John Boren, president of the downtown club, said Santa has requested a new method of distributing candy be tried this year by the Lions, who annually help him in giving candy to children. Instead of just throwing the candy into the crowds, he has asked that two lines be set up for the distribution.

Good Mark Set In Early Hours Of S-D Day In County, State

Safe Driving Day officials were "keeping their fingers crossed" here this morning as they neared the half-day mark with no accidents reported in Scurry County since midnight last night.

Sheriff Homer Whisnand and Police Chief Travis Steele have been, during the 10 days prior to today, urging drivers to be more careful and to try to help themselves prove that careful driving will result in less accidents today. Their goal is no accidents during the 24-hour period today, and, at last report, they were still hoping to reach the goal.

During the safe driving campaign, now 10 days old, there have been 10 accidents in the county, seven of which were in the city limits. The tenth accident occurred at 5:53 yesterday afternoon, according to Arthur Bryant, policeman. It was a collision at Clairemont Road and Payton Street between a 1952 Chevrolet pickup driven by John Graham Gilbert, 1503 Avenue S, and a 1953 Chevrolet four-door driven by John Oliver McCleery, route 3. Damage was estimated by police at $175 to the pickup and $150 to the car.

By The Associated Press

Rainy weather and slick roads were an added hazard as Texas drivers faced a statewide test Thursday to cut down the growing traffic toll.

The goal of Safe Driving Day, observed throughout the nation, was to demonstrate that by driving and walking safely, citizens can cut down the death toll not only on a single day but throughout the entire year.

At 10 a.m., with the morning rush-hour past, no Texas traffic fatality had been reported to The Associated Press.

Rain, sleet, snow and the threat of slick and sometimes icy roads faced drivers in most of the state Thursday. Department of Public Safety officials said they hoped the weather would prompt drivers to slow down.

Started in November, the safe driving campaign will continue through the first 10 days of December, state police director Homer Garrison Jr., said in Austin.

Gov. Shivers in a proclamation joining Texas to the national campaign, named sheriffs and police chiefs as local safe driving day directors.

United States Has Total Of Ten Deaths

By The Associated Press

At least 10 persons were killed in the early hours of Safe Driving "S-D" Day.

Shortly after sunup, the toll by states included: Ohio four, Michigan two, and Illinois, Indiana, Louisiana and New York, one each.

In Indiana, a car police said was without lights smashed into the rear of a semitrailer near Richmond, on U. S. 40, killing Robert M. Johnson, 44, of Centerville, Ind. He died at 12:27 a.m. EST as he was being extricated from the wreckage.

Less than 90 minutes after the start of S-D Day in Illinois, Gerald La Grow, 27-year-old sailor, was killed when struck by a truck. The accident occurred at 1:25 a.m. CST.

L. T. Ball, 22, of Plymouth, Mich., was killed at 2:19 a.m. EST when he lost control of his car and hit a culvert in Canton Township, a Detroit suburb.

The third fatality reported was Donald Mosher, 23, of Glens Falls, N. Y., who lost his life when his car left a highway and struck a tree near Glens Falls about 3 a.m. EST.

BIG SPRING (AP)—Dr. Phillip Sainburg, charged with kidnaping his own child in New York and facing possible contempt of court in Longview fired a counterattack yesterday with a suit asking custody of the child.

He is charged in New York with taking Phillip II, 4 from an Ithaca N.Y. nursery Nov. 14 and returning him to Big Spring the doctor's home.

He faces contempt proceedings Friday in Longview because he failed to turn the child over to officers for return to the doctor's former wife Doris Blanchard of Ithaca.

Harriman Described As 'Utility Man'

WASHINGTON (AP)—Gov. Averell Harriman of New York was described by Sen. Sparkman (D-Ala) in sports language today as a "utility man" candidate for the 1956 Democratic presidential nomination.

Harriman has said he is not an active candidate for the nomination although he expects to be New York's "favorite son" choice.

But Harriman's chief booster, Tammany leader Carmine DeSapio, said yesterday the historical role of New York governors in party affairs "should dispel the idea that Harriman is only a token or favorite son candidate."

Sparkman, who heard DeSapio's talk to the National Press Club, said in a later interview he thinks DeSapio "is engaged in holding Gov. Harriman in reserve for whatever might happen in the pre-convention campaign."

"He has the governor in a 'utility man' role where he could be rushed into the contest at any time," he added.

Sparkman said he doesn't think Harriman's advanced status poses any new threat to Adlai E. Stevenson, the 1952 candidate whom Sparkman is supporting in his race for the 1956 nomination.

The senator said he couldn't imagine anything that might knock Stevenson out of his place as front runner except unexpected defeats in presidential delegate primaries.

Stevenson plans to visit New York next week to discuss financial and other campaign plans with supporters there. But it is considered unlikely that he will authorize any move now toward chipping his way into the state's 98 nominating votes. DeSapio predicted these will be united behind Harriman in the early balloting at Chicago next August.

Plans For Dealing With Farm Situation Outlined By Benson

CHICAGO (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Benson today announced a six-point program for dealing with the acute farm situation. He said it will be presented to Congress in January.

In a speech prepared for a meeting of the Republican National Committee, he said President Eisenhower had recently approved the plan. It includes:

1. Stepped up surplus disposal and expansion of exports.

2. A vigorous pruchase program to remove gluts.

3. Enlarged soil conservation and incentive payment programing, especially in drought areas.

4. Expansion of the rural development program for low-income farm families.

5. Stepped-up research, emphasizing lower production costs, new uses for farm products, and expansion of markets.

6. A speedup in a 10-state Great Plains program to make better use of wheat and grazing land.

Benson said the program, now in preparation, was not ready for discussion in detail.

"It will be no nostrum, no one-shot remedy, no cure-all," he said. "It will be constructive."

Answering repeated attacks by Democratic leaders he said farm proposals of Adlai Stevenson and Gov. Averell Harriman of New proportions."

He said the Democrats have picked "agriculture as the major domestic battlefield for 1956" after failing in prophesying "disaster" and attacking Eisenhower's "churchgoing activities."

"The same people who had shackled the farmer with price controls . . . who sought to ram the Brannan plan down the throat of agriculture, suddenly began poping up all over the place with quack remedies and discarded nostrums.

"Even when the best possible farm program is evolved, it is unlikely to bear the imprint of such agricultural experts as Jake Arvey and Carmen DeSapio."

Bensen's reference was to Jacob M. Arvey, veteran Chicago Democratic leader, and his fellow Democratic national committeeman, Carmen DeSapio of New York.

Data Filed On Campaign

AUSTIN (AP) — Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey's denial of responsibility for or knowledge of who paid for certain political advertisements allegedly placed in his behalf in 1954 was contained in a deposition filed in 53rd District Court yesterday.

A court-appointed officer took Ramsey's answers to 72 questions submitted by attorneys for C. T. Johnson of Austin, whom Ramsey defeated for lieutenant governor last year.

Johnson secured the deposition for possible use in his $36,300 damage suit filed Oct. 4 against Ramsey, Vernon Sanford, and the Texas Press Asn. Sanford is the association's executive secretary.

Fire Record For Snyder Is Commended

The fire department has answered a total of 128 fire calls in the past 12 months, according to a report by N. W. Autry, retiring fire chief, made at the annual firemen's Thanksgiving banquet held Monday night.

Of the 128 fire calls, 32 were outside the city limits, and 96 inside.

Only 10 of the fires were considered serious enough to warrant hooking hose to a fire plug.

"Even though we cannot boast of a lesser loss total than last year, we can present a loss total which is certainly commendable to a city the size of Snyder," Autry said.

During the period the fire department 24 drill meetings with four members of the department having compiled a perfect attendance record, and two others having attended 95 per cent of the drills.

Those with perfect attendance records are T. L. Keller, Kenneth Woods, G. L. Autry, Jr., and Murray Boyd. The two men who attended all but one drill were B. L. Brown and Bob von Roeder.

During the year three members of the department were sent to the firemen's training school at College Station enabling Snyder to maintain a five per cent credit to all insurance buyers.

Insured losses in Snyder from November 1, 1954, to Nov. 1, 1955, totaled $86,159.42, Autry said.

Check Placed In Evidence At Chapa Trial

TYLER (AP)—A check for $1,421 which D. C. Chapa is accused of appropriating for his own use was introduced by the state in the trial of the former Duval County official yesterday.

The check was from the Texas Consolidated Oil Co. to the Benavides School District for Texas.

The state also introduced a receipt for taxes amounting to $1,465, a difference of 3 per cent, the usual discount for early payment of taxes.

The check and the receipt were identified by Otis Griffin Dallas, employe of the Oil Company. He had no explanation why the receipt was greater than the taxes actually paid.

Defense attorney Percy Foreman said he intended to prove that the oil company owned no property in Duval County.

Mrs. Dora Canales, a key state witness and a former employee in the school district's tax office, broke down and sobbed while on the stand.

Mrs. Canales testified the school district tax books were always kept in Chapa's desk and said that she did not know if Chapa had another full time job other than tax collector.

She identified a rubber stamp bearing the defendant's signature. Foreman commented that another former employe of Chapa's office might have had the "ability and design to purloin" funds of the office.

Mrs. Canales testified that "almost anybody" could have endorsed checks from the school district office. She said the deputies were not given the oath of office and were not under bond, that anyone in the office could make tax adjustments or corrections, and that Chapa was frequently away from his office for weeks.

Meeting On Poll Tax Drive Slated Tonight

A special meeting has been scheduled tonight to encourage the purchase of poll tax receipts by Scurry County voters.

The session is set for 7:30 p.m. in the District Courtroom.

Ray Ashley and R. H. Jones have made arrangements for the meeting in behalf of the West Texas Labor Council. All persons of voting age, both men and women, are being urged to attend.

Jones said the council, along with other groups and individuals, hoped to stimulate interest in poll taxes, since 1956 is an important election year. Voters must pay their poll taxes by Jan. 31 to become eligible to cast ballots in the 1956 elections.

Radar Unit For City Police Is Discussed

Possibility of purchasing a radar unit for city police to use in checking violations of Snyder speed laws was discussed at the Kiwanis Club's luncheon meeting Wednesday in the Hilander.

L. A. McClanahan, who is a member of a special committee named earlier by the Chamber of Commerce to check into the matter, was in charge of the program.

McClanahan said interested individuals have expressed an interest in such a project, and that many felt that radar unit could be purchased by contributions of citizens. He said tht local police department had emphasized that such equipment definitely would not be used merely to bring in fines to the city, but to enforce the laws and help elimienate traffic hazards.

McClanahan introduced E. W. (Red) Green, state highway patrolman, who told of some of the experiences state officers have had in operation of radar units on state and federal roads. Green said that in Scurry County alone traffic deaths averaged eight per year on state and federal roads up to the past year.

For approximately one year since radar was put into use, he said the county had recorded only one traffic death on a state, or federal highway.

Also, Green pointed out that speed was determined to be a contributing factor in 59 per cent of the more than 2,000 traffic deaths in Texas last year. All statistics indicate that radar checks have reduced speeding on the highways, he said.

McClanahan said that contributions of $1 each would be sought for purchase of a radar unit for the City of Snyder. Contributions may be mailed to H. W. Cargile at the West Texas State Bank, or to B. Frank Maddox at the Snyder National Bank.

7 Guards Charged In Bribery Racket

NEW YORK (AP)—Seven guards have been accused of running a bribery racket in city prison with a "fixed price" for favors to inmates ranging from 50 cents for a stroll in the corridor to $35 for a bottle of scotch.

Manhattan Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan said last night a "tip"—followed by painstaking police work—led to the arrests.

Hogan said privileges for a fee included the arranging of card and dice games, extra food, liquors, visiting from cell to cell and $85 whisky and cold cuts party in a prison store room.

Booked early today on charges of taking illegal fees, a felony, and delivering contraband, a misdemeanor, were:

Angelo Ferraro, 34, Lorenzo Regester, 32, and Robert T. Meacle, 30, all of Brooklyn; John McKnight, 40, and Joseph K. Gavin, 31, Queens; and Walter Smith, 43, and James B. Henderson, 32, Manhattan.

Hogan told this story:

About a month ago a Brooklyn man being held in city prison on a larcency charge took word to Brooklyn Dist. Atty. Edward S. Silver of the alleged peddling and bribery racket.

Patrolman Michael Lizzio and Policewomán Norma Trentalange, posing as the brother and fiancee of a prisoner, rented an apartment on West 72nd Street and got word to the guards they wanted favors for the inmate and had a lot of money to pay for them.

Twelve times since Nov. 1 transactions for illegal favors took place, and each time $50 in marked money was handed over. Hidden in a clothes closet of the apartment was another officer with an active tape recorder.

The police list of the guards' alleged price scale:

A steak sandwich, $1; change to a more desirable cell, $40; a stroll in the corridor, 50 cents; a visit to another prisoner's cell, $1; delivery of money from the outside, $15; a quart of scotch, $35.

Protest Sent To Russians On East Berlin

BERLIN (AP) — French sources here said today the U.S., British and French ambassadors in Bonn have sent a protest to the Russians against the Soviet contention that East Berlin is no longer occupied and is to be regarded as part of the East German Communist Republic.

These officials said the protest maintains that Berlin must continue to be regarded as a four-power city under agreements that date back to 1945.

The French indicated that the protest has been sent to Soviet Ambassador G. M. Pushkin in East Berlin. It stems from the statement of Soviet Maj. Gen. P. A. Dibrova that East Germany is now sovereign and East Berlin is the capital of that sovereign state.

Dibrova made his disclosure on Tuesday in a meeting with U.S. Maj. Gen. Charles L. Dasher Jr. who went to the Russian headquarters with a protest against the detention of four Americans, including two congressmen, in East Berlin last Sunday.

The Lord maketh poor, and maketh rich: he bringeth low, and lifteth up. I Samuel 2:7.

EDITORIALS

From The Daily Grist

Curious little bits in the day's grist of news:

In colorado Springs a sheriff's deputy had to drive 106 miles an hour to overtake a speeding motorist. The speeder was armless—he said he had been born without arms—and since the car had no special equipment ,the deputy concluded the man had used one foot to steer with and the other to manipulate the brake and accelerator. Next case . . .

In Phoneix, Ariz., a lady with an armload of Christmas wrappings and carving knives was intercepted as she left a fashionable store. After a brief parley the lady paid $70.28 for the goods, and left the place hurriedly—in a 1956 Cadillac. . .

In Rutland, Vt., a motorist drew a fine of $75 in municipal court after pleading guilty to driving with a suspended license. Soon he was back in court on the same charge, but this time His Honor was in a sterner mood: 6 to 12 months in the House of Correction . . .

Preparedness pays. Years ago Samuel Lipson, who operates a labor agency in Boston, kept a police whistle handy just in case somebody tried to stick him up. One day this week somebody tried, and Samuel gave a blast on his whistle. A traffic officer came a-running, just too late to grab the fleeing wouldbe robber. . .

At Whitesburg, Ky., this week a man with a unique distinction died and was buried. His record: He had married and divorced the same woman seven times. Perpetual emotion? . . .

Those Farm Surpluses

The fly in the ointment of farm prices are the surpluses which hang around the neck of our agricultural economy like the albatross hung around the neck of the Ancient Mariner. The presence of these surpluses will necessarily continue to color the thinking and planning of all groups having to do with a healthy farm economy as long as they exist.

How to get rid of them is the No. 1 headache. If they were given away at home or abroad they would upset everything for them one to three years. If they were simply destroyed—a wellnigh impossible physical chore—there would be a justifiable howl from the taxpayers who, in effect, bought and paid for them in the first place. Besides, how could we justify their destruction when half the world is underfed and underclothed?

These surpluses are valued at $7 billion, with the three major ones ranking as follows: Wheat $2.7 billion, cotton $1.6 billion, corn $1.4 billion. The balance is made up of lesser crops like tobacco, wool and the like.

Suppose these surpluses were divided into three equal piles, under a declared policy of disposing of them at the rate of one pile per year over a period of three years. In disposing of each pile in turn, suppose the annual program would be: Sell half on the world market for what it would bring, regardless of price; sell half on the domestic market for what it would bring, also regardless of price.

Then, to prevent the senseless piling up of fresh surpluses, change the basis of price support from acres to units of production. Instead of an allocation of acres, the farmer would be allocated so many bales of cotton, so many bushels of wheat, so many bushels of corn. On these allocated bales and bushels he would be granted parity price supports of, say 90 percent; on whatever he would get no price support, but would have to dispose of it as best he could, for whatever it would bring .

Under that program there would be no incentive to break new ground, or to plant 100 acres when 50 acres would do just as well.

In wartime there were incentives to encourage all-out production. What is needed now are incentives to discourage overproduction, to repair the damage done to the soil by years of forced production, to take submarginal land out of production, to balance and stabilize the crops, to make it possible once more for the average farmer to make a living off the land.

Merely pegging farm prices in relation to an arbitrarily determined parity, and to base it on acreage instead of units of production, will only aggravate, not solve, the problem.

First, the surpluses must be got rid of gradually to prevent too great a shock to the whole agricultural economy—but they must be got rid of. Second, the small family-type farm is worth preserving, and whatever is done by way of solution should take that into consideration. And third, the plight of agriculture should not be made a political football. Congress must take a good hard look at the situation and disregard selfishness, political and otherwise, in devising a workable solution, lest the collasp of our agricultural economy reach a stage of paralysis and drag the rest of the national economy down with it.

Politicians Can Become Confused Over Definitions Of Simple English Words

By JAMES MARLOW
AP Foreign News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—If the English language had a mother and father they'd probably cry at what happens when the politicians of both parties start throwing their baby around.

Secretary of State Dulles, whose handling of foreign policy will be one of the Democrats' targets in the presidential campaign, wants foreign policy criticism—if any—to be "constructive."

The Democrats and Dulles may run into a little difficulty seeing eye to eye on what is "constructive."

And Adlai Stevenson, who thought he was putting his best foot forward in starting his drive for the presidency on a note of "moderation," suddenly discovered that a couple of very prominent Democrats abhor the word.

In the 1952 campaign Dulles may have thought he was "constructive" with his blasts at the Democrats' foreign policy. They didn't seem to think so at the time and may even throw some of his 1952 speeches back at him in 1956.

In 1952 he said, "We should create crises for Russia instead of Russia creating crises for us." He's been secretary since 1953 but this country has created no crises for Russia.

In 1952 he said many nations feared the United States "may rashly precipitate atomic warfare." But Dulles, as secretary, reportedly gave American allies the jitters when he talked of "massive retaliation" against the Reds.

In 1952 he proposed a plan to "disintegrate the empire of Soviet Rusia" from within. How? By 'passive resistance, slowdowns and noncooperation" in the satellites.

This got such a bad reaction—to some Dulles seemed to be urging the unarmed satellite people to revolt against their Communist masters—that a few days later he said he meant only there were peaceful ways" to do the job.

But in the years since Dulles became secretary, the satellites are just as firmly satellites as before.

It was is his Nov. 19 speech, outlining his program if elected president, that Stevenson said, Moderation is the spirit of the times." He added that moderation must not be confused with stagnation.

This didn't sit well with New York's Gov. Averell Harriman, who insists he's not actively seeking the Democratic presidential nomination although he has made so many speeches lately that some people are unconvinced.

He told a news conference—the day after Stevenson's speech — there is no such word as moderate" in the Democratic party. It is not known whether Harriman looked up the word before he used it.

But the American College Dictionary says of "moderation": quality of being moderate, restraint; avoidance of extremes; temperance.

If Harriman doesn't want to be considered moderate, he can hardly want to be considered the opposite, which is immoderate. The dictionary says of "immoderation": exceeding just or reasonable limits; excessive; extreme.

Although Harriman hasn't said anything so far that makes any program he has look much different from Stevenson's, he nevertheless got a lot of publicity mileage out of his criticism.

Then Michigan's Gov. G. Mennen Williams got in on the act. He said: It is upsetting now to hear from our side counsels for a pause for breathtaking and moderation . . ."

But so far he hasn't offered anything very startling either.

'Holly Crisis' No Problem If You Happen To Own Farm

By INEZ ROBB

Citizens of the 20th Centruy are used to taking the bitter with the better. We stagger from crisis to crisis, often with the conviction that an honest man can't win.

But for once the nation is confronted with a crisis on which I have a good, firm half nelson. This is the great holly crisis in which the nation faces the upcoming Yuletide with such a shortage of the stuff that it will be easier to deck the halls with swags of diamonds than with boughs of holly.

A record November freeze in holly country has cut the crop to 15 percent of normal, and is causing retailers to confuse the wine-red berries with pigeon-blood rubies.

If there is one thing I love better than holly at Christmastime it is — if honesty is still the best policy—mistletoe, on which an investor is apt to get a little more mileage for his money.

Still and all, it has been my custom for years to deck the house with a world of holly at Christmas, and the current shortage and the astronomical prices this year aren't going to stop me. Because for the first time since we started supporting a small farm in New Jersey, the place is going to pay off this Yuletide.

The farm came complete with a big, aggressive-type holly tree or maybe a holly bush. It seemed a small, inoffensive shrub, planted at the southeast corner of the front porch, when we acquired Wild Oat. But loving care and expensive fertilizers have transformed it from a Milquetoast into a kind of burly Khrushchev character.

The holly has spread in all directions, intimidating and making a nervous wreck of the yew on the south side of the porch and completely blocking the screen door on the east. It is a particularly beautiful type of holly, boasting bright green leaves edged in white, and probably this fact alone has gone to its head.

About a month ago, we came to the firm conclusion that this big, handsome bully was begging for discipline. So the decision to give it a good trimming was made long before the current holly crisis developed.

True, our holly has no berries. This is because it leads a celibate life. I never knew until I acquired a holly that the sex life of holly is the berries, if not Freudian.

There are male and female holly trees, and unless one cultivates both, there are no berries. (It has always been said that the placd to learn the facts of life is down on the farm, and ain't it the truth)

We have often thought of buying our holly a mate, but we are still uncertain as to its sex. And considering its present aggressive behavoir pattern, we have hesitated to introduce a member of the opposite sex into its life, least it get completely out of hand.

So, come Christmas, I'll get one of those do-it-yourself kits and wire the appropriate red berries on our beautiful, wayward holly. But best of all in this situation is the feeling that for once in my life, I have a crisis licked, and not vice versa.

So the citizens voted on blank ballots, writing in the names of their candidates. Alex Smith got the job with 24 votes. His nearest competitor, G. C. Baker, got 2.

Enormous Birth Rate Increase Leads To Teacher Problem That Defies Solution

BY WALTER LIPPMANN

In a preceding article I argued that the White House Conference on Education should make definite recommendations on whether and on how Federal aid should be given to education.

There is a grave shortage, which threatens to become much worse, in the supply of class rooms and of teachers. The class rooms can be built when the money is provided: the only question is whether all the necessary money can be provided by the states separately, or whether a Federal contribution is required.

The shortage of teachers calls also for more money to attract and to hold competent men and women. But money alone will not solve the problem. The arithmetic of our rapidly growing population shows that by the conventional standards enough teachers cannot conceivably be found.

The problem is set forh clearly in a pamphlet called "Teachers for Tomorrow," which is published by The Fund for The Advancement of Education, a creation of the Ford Foundation. (I should say for the sake of the record that while I have had nothing to do with the preparation of the pamphlet, I am a member of the board of the fund which is responsible for the pamphlet.)

* * *

Few of us, myself included, have realized until recently how enormously and how suddenly the American birth rate is increasing. During the '40s the enrollments year by year in elementary schools remained steady at about 20,000,000 children. This year the enrollment has jumped up to 29,000,000. But when the babies born in the past five record-breaking years are ready for school, enrollment will be pushing 35,000,000. This means that for every 100 enrolled in elementary schools during the '50s there will be 170 at the beginning of the '60s. The big increase in the secondary schools will come a little later, as the children grow older. By the end of the '60s, which is only four Presidential terms away, the children who have already been born will be enough to push secondary school enrollment up by more than 70 per cent of what it is today.

The burden of the colleges will be still greater, in part because of this increased birth rate and in part because a growing proportion of the young demand a college education. College enrollment will be double the present number some time after 1966.

We come now to what we may call the Impossible Arithmetic of the Teacher Problem. Our present ratio of teachers to pupils is supposed to be one teacher for every thirty elementary pupils, one teacher for every twenty - five secondary pupils, and one teacher for every thirteen college pupils. To have enough teachers—if the present teaching system is to be maintained—it would be necessary to recruit by 1965 an additional half million elementary and secondary school teachers. For the colleges we shall by present standards need in the next fifteen years about double the number of existing teachers.

* * *

We cannot hope to find that number of teachers. We cannot hope to do so even when—as we must—we have raised teachers' salaries. The number of teachers needed will be one-half of all college graduates of every variety. At present one-fifth of all college graduates go into teaching. It just is not possible that in the next ten years one-half of all college graduates will go into teaching, that as many college graduates will go into teaching as go into all other professions and vocations combined.

"It will be impossible," says the Ford pamphlet, "under the present pattern of teacher recruitment and teacher utilization to secure anywhere near enough good teachers for our schools and colleges over the next fifteen years."

It will be necessary, therefore, to find ways of enabling teachers to teach a larger number of pupils. The arithmetic of the situation allows no escape from this conclusion.

That being the case, the obvious remedy is to supply the qualified teachers with aides who can take over the housekeeping and clerical chores, leaving the teachers more time to teach. We shall have to apply to the teaching profession the general prinicipie which Mr. Dael Wolfle, director of the Commission on Human Resources and Advanced Training, states as follows: "A trained expert seldom works alone. A lawyer has his clerks, an engineer his draftsmen, a doctor his nurses and technicians, a research scholar his assistants. How much the expert accomplishes is partly determined by his own ability, put partly by the number and skill of his assistants and by the efectiveness with which he uses them."

Experiments along these lines are being conducted in a number of school systems and colleges. The results have been encouraging. But we are only at the beginning of what is bound to mean great changes in the system and practice and teaching.

In this field the White House Conference is not called upon—as it is on the question of Federal aid—to make recommendations to the government. Here the problem belongs to the schools and colleges in the states, and any recommendations that come from the conference will be addressed to them. For the Feredal government as such is not involved.

Guatemala's First Lady Not New To Washington

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Pretty brunette Odilia de Castillo-Armas who was wined and dined amid great fanfare as Guatemala's First Lady when she accompanied her husband here first came to Washington as an ordinary tourist two years ago.

She said that her part in the successful revolt led by her husband against his country's communist regime was just being at the side of duty. Her role as operator of a grocery store was in the nature of a front for underground activity. It took supreme courage and initiative.

Mrs. Castillo-Armas has no children of her own but in Guatemala she said she is called "Mother" by thousands of underprivileged youngsters. One of her country's leading social workers, she took time out from the strenuous round of official entertaining in the couple's honor to visit numerous American orphanages and settlement houses. She said her shopping in this country had been mostly for sweaters and warm clothing for poor children back home.

For her tour of the United States, the president's wife brought an extensive wardrobe of beautiful specially-designed clothes made in Guatemala. She arrived here wearing a svelte black dress, Persian lamb coat and small hat of shocking pink velvet with matching velvet purse. On one occasion she wore a three-piece suit of coral and gray tweedy-looking material woven in an authentic Indian design. Her evening gowns were stunning. At the state dinner given at Anderson House by Vice President and Mrs. Nixon she wore a strapless close-fitting black velvet gown with a deep V cut in the top front bodice. With it she wore long white gloves, diamond necklace and earrings. On another occasion she wore a beautiful gown with blue and green full flounced skirt and black halter-top. At an afternoon reception she appeared in a striped silver and blue metallic frock with pleated skirt and plain sleeveless top.

Standards For Housing Cause Hot Controversy

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The still lively demand of many Americans for a new house—and how much responsibility the government has to help them get one—is one of today's hottest questions.

Builders, mortgage lenders and government money managers are sharply divided on the causes of the current drop in the number of new homes being started — and whether the home-building industry needs a new shot in the arm through easier credit and lower interest rates.

And today a leading New York bank comes out flatly against government attempts to set or enforce "arbitrary standards of housing."

The Guaranty Trust Co. in its December survey asks what is really meant by such words as "substandard" housing, "decent" housing, "adequate" housing, or housing "needs."

"Obviously," says the bank, "they express someone's idea of the sort of living quarters the people ought to have. In practice, they usually express the idea or ideas arrived at by some public official or board appointed by a paternalistic government to resolve, in behalf of the people, a personal question which the people are apparently presumed to be incapable of resolving for themselves."

In a free economy, the bank holds, 'adequate" housing should mean only "that quantity and quality of housing which users are able and willing to buy and pay for at free-market levels of cost, in view of the other possible ways of spending their money."

The bank contends that the government shouldn't tell people how they are to be housed any more than what food to eat or what clothing to wear.

The recent decline in home building, however, has brought concern in other quarters. Builders, naturally, don't like it. Many of them blame the slowing down on the government's policy of tightening mortgage payment rules, tightening the supply of credit, and letting interest rates rise.

The Department of Commerce, on the other hand, thinks the decline will be mild. It predicts that almost as much will be spent next year as this on home building—around 16 billion dollars.

Missing: One Law

HELENA, Mont. (AP)—For several months of 1955, Montana had no law against drunken driving, a district court ruled. The Legislature repealed a section of law covering drunken driving and the governor signed the repeal into law March 20 although the substituting legislation did not take effect until July 1. Judge Victor H. Fall confirmed that oversight in November by dismissing a charge of driving while intoxicated filed in May.

Judicial Waiting

HANOVER, Va. (AP)—Judge Leon Bazile was on time for his address to the woman's club but was thirty minutes late in speaking. He found the ladies grouped around a television set watching one of their members participate in a national give-away program, and joined in watching the screen. After the program was over he spoke and departed.

RADIO-TV REPORT

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—In the arts it's always pleasant to find a genuine long-hair with a naturally crew-cut personality. Such a man is Leonard Bernstein — conductor, composer, pianist—who at the age of 37 has three lifetimes of musical achievement behind him and is rather tired of being referred to as a "young-genius."

Bernstein has taught me almost all I know about music. He's done this on Omnibus (CBS-TV) by interpreting Beethoven last season and jazz this season in two exciting programs. Now he's returning to Omnibus next Sunday with a symhonic orchestra to discuss the art of conducting—or is a conductor necessary? When he's finished, I'm sure I'll know something about conducting.

Not enough to conduct the New York Philharmonic Symphony, as Bernstein did at the age of 25. But enough.

Bernstein lives and composes in a vast high-ceilinged apartment in an old rococo apartment house on one of the noisiest corners in New York. It has the sole geographical advantage of being just across the street from Carnegie Hall. He has a beautiful blonde wife, a beautiful 4-year-old daughter and a plump baby son.

A candid, friendly man whose hair is not literally cut to crew length, Bernstein said:

"I don't keep any regular schedule. I get up any time from 9 to 12 in the morning. I work at what I want to or at what's most pressing. Maybe I won't work at all in the evening or maybe till midnight and sometimes I get to bed at 5 a.m."

Bernstein's accomplishments since he graduated from Harvard and became the protege of conductor Serge Koussevitzky fill 12 pages of unlarded facts. Item: composer of the symphonies "Jeremiah" and "The Age of Anxiety." Item: composer of the music for that popular hit "On the Town."

It's difficult for any artist to explain the why and wherefore of his work. When asked his theory on how he moves with such facility between jazz and classical music, he says:

"I was born and grew up in America where I heard both classical and jazz. It's just as natural to me to be close to jazz as anything else. If it's music it excites me."

LITERARY GUIDEPOST

THREE YEARS WITH GRANT, as recalled by war correspondent Sylvanus Cadwallader; edited by Benjamin P. Thomas (Knopf).

Cadwallader reported the Civil War for the Chicago Times and, later, the New York Tribune. He was talented, untiring, enterprising. He had self-assurance almost to the point of bumptiousness. He had special privileges and he made the most of them.

About those privileges. Cadwallader had a pass, signed personally by U. S. Grant, enabling him to go anywhere without hindrance. He could draw upon military supplies for subsistence and equipment. He could, and did, send dispatches in Grant's personal military pouch. He could bypass Washington censorship and a ban on the use of the telegraph for press reports by organizing a messenger relay to take his copy direct to New York, each messenger carrying a Grant-signed pass.

Grant had reason to trust Cadwallader. The reporter made it a point never to violate a confidence. He had the idea that his position as correspondent carried certain responsibilities and dignities. The correspondent had shepherded Grant through a monumental three-day drunk, shielding him from disgrace.

Cadwallader emerges from "Three Years with Grant" as a man worthy of study in his own right. But the book's chief claim to attention is its protrait of Grant in the heat of battle, relaxing and offguard with his friends, in moments of decision and indecision. It is a revealing picture.

Cadwallader's journal never before has been published. It lay neglected for years, unknown to all save a few historians, in the Illinois State Historical Library until the late Lloyd Lewis ran across it, with glee, during his researches on Grant. Intelligent editing by Thomas contributes immensely to making it a fresh, vibrant document.

Tigers Leave At 7 A.M. Tomorrow For Garland

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

JOHN BARKER, DALLAS NEWS sports scribe who is assigned the duties of following the Garland Owl football fortunes, has gone out on the limb on Saturday's bi-district game pitting the Owls and our Tigers.

Here is what Barker writes:

"This promises to be the most evenly matched game of the four Triple-A playoff games and looks to be the one that will show the most offense. The Tigers will outweigh the Owls, but the nod goes to Garland. The Owls are exceptionally tough on their home field. Garland 27, Snyder 20."

Baker probably won't be by himself in picking Garland to win this week. The Owls have been ranked No. 1 in the state all year long and there are a lot of scribes who think the Garland team is unbeatable.

We're certainly glad the Tigers don't go along with the scribes' thinking on this matter.

Barker also picks Texarkana to beat Gainesville, 20-7; Port Neches to defeat Temple, 14-7; and Alice to trim Victoria, 21-7.

Our picks, as is found in the prediction ballot elsewhere on this page, is the same as Barker's except that we have Snyder over Garland.

All 1-AAA Team Due For Release Sunday

The 1955 All-District 1-AAA team is due for release in next Sunday's paper.

One coach and one sports scribe from each member city are picking the all-1-AAA team.

Our personal ballot listed five Tigers on the first team, end Milton Ham; tackle Wiley Denson; guard Shorty Grimmett; and backs Jack Spikes and Joe Baxter.

There is only one player who made the all-district team last year who is still around this season. He is Jerry Graves of Big Spring. Graves, 205-pound center, is almost sure to make it again this season.

Speaking of "all - conference men," congrats are in order to Snyder's Grant Teaff and Hermleigh's Bill Houston upon making the "All Texas Conference team" as members of the McMurry Indians.

Teaff, who played a lot of football for the Tigers before going to college, made the All-TC team at tackle. Houston made it at center.

Two West Virginia scribes still refuse to give up on the University of West Virginia Mountaineers.

West Virginia, despite two humiliating losses to Pitt and Syracuse, are still ranked No. 1 in the nation by two sports writers.

The two first place votes, however, didn't help the Mountaineer cause much as the West Virginians wound up in 19th place.

That's one drawback to these football polls. Too many scribes are biased in turning in their weekly ballot.

How could anyone in his right mind believe that West Virginia is the No. 1 team in the nation?

Ex-Tiger Is Head Coach At Alice

Head football coach at Alice High School, one of the eight teams in the state Triple-A playoffs, is a native Snyderite. He is Theo Rigsby.

Rigsby played for the Tigers in 1931. The Bengals that year won the Regional championship. The Tigers beat Commanche, 13-0, in the regional finals.

Rigsby went on to Hardin-Simmons after graduating at SHS and then entered the coaching field.

This is his fourth year at Alice. Prior to going to Alice, Rigsby coached at Corpus Christi.

Theo's parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Rigsby, 209 29th St., and a brother, Roswell Rigsby, still reside here.

Another brother Byrl Rigsby, who played with Theo on the 1931 championship team here, now resides in Andrews.

Alice is unbeaten this season in 10 starts. She plays Victoria at Victoria in bi-district Friday night.

Garland Holds No. 1 Rating In Triple A

The Tiger footballers will depart at 7 a.m. tomorrow bound for the site of Saturday's bi-district clash against the Garland Owls.

The game will be unreeled on the Williams Stadium turf Saturday at 2 p.m.

Thirty-three Tigers will make the trip along with two student managers and the three coaches.

The Tigers will drive to Dallas tomorrow where they'll set up headquarters during their East Texas stay. The Bengals will be quarted at Melrose Hotel in Dallas.

The Tigers will take their final home workout today before boarding the chartered bus tomorrow morning.

Coach John Conley will send the Bengals through their final pregame workout tomorrow at Dal-Hi Stadium in Dallas.

Garland will likely go into the game Saturday as a distinct favorite. The Owls are undefeated in 10 games and are ranked the top Triple-A team in the state, according to a state-wide poll taken by the Dallas Morning News.

Snyder, however, is only one notch back of the Owls as the Tigers are ranked No. 2 in the state.

Garland set a record this year of having been ranked No. 1 in the poll every week during the season.

This week's second place rating is the highest the Tigers have been this season. They were third last week but moved into second this week ahead of unbeaten Alice.

One oddity in this week's Dallas News Ratings is that Gainesville, one of the eight teams gaining the Triple-A playoffs, isn't ranked in the Top 10. The other seven teams are included in the top eight teams.

The three teams who are in the top 10 but who didn't make the playoffs are Harlandale, Levelland and Beaumont South Park.

Following is the week's Dallas News Top 10 with season records in parenthesis:

1. Garland (10-0).
2. Snyder (9-1).
3. Alice (10-0).
4. Port Neches (8-2).
5. Texarkana (7-1-2).
6. Temple (7-2-1).
7. Harlandale (8-2).
8. Victoria (7-3).
9. Levelland (8-1-1).
10. Beaumont South Park (8-1-1).

Port Neches Star Eligible

AUSTIN (AP)—The Interscholastic League Executive committee has ruled that Gordon le Bouef of Port Neches is eligible to play in the Port Neches-Temple Class AAA football game Saturday.

His eligibility had been challenged by Temple under the league's amateur rule. The game Saturday is in the first round playoff for the state triple A title.

The committee declared there was not enough evidence to prove that the Port Neches player was taken to College Station by a former student of Texas A&M to see the SMU game Nov. 5 solely because of his athletic ability.

SWC Again Fools Experts

FORT WORTH (AP) — Did the sports writers and sports casters ever miss on the 1955 Southwest Conference football race!

They couldn't have been farther wrong than if they'd made a determined effort.

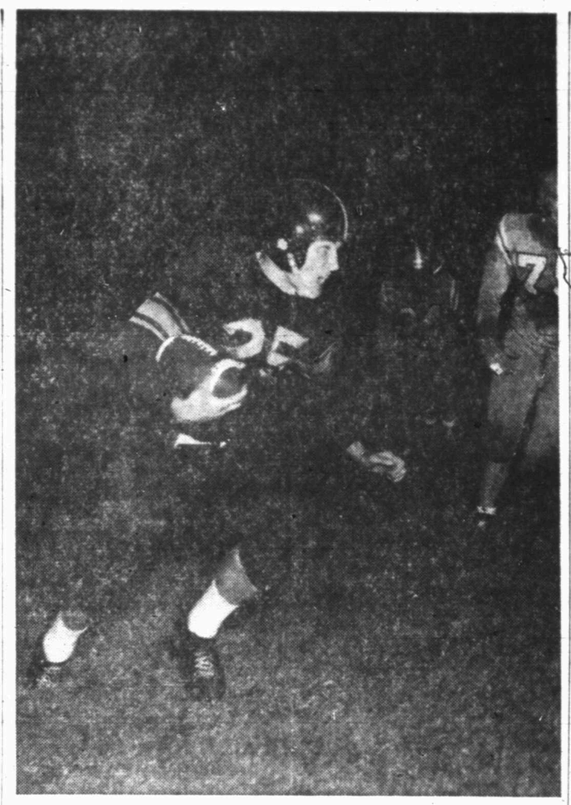
They picked Rice to win and Texas A&M to finish last. They put Southern Methodist second, Baylor third, Texas fourth, Texas Christian fifth and Arkansas sixth.

Here's the finish:

1. Texas Christian
2. Texas A&M
3. Texas
4. Arkansas
5. Southern Methodist and Baylor tied
7. Rice

The selections are collected each year by the Texas Christian University news service. This has been going on for 22 years. And this year was the worst for the experts.

Warren Spahn is the only member of the Milwaukee Braves who played with the Boston Braves in 22 games.



MR. BOYD ON THE MOVE—Bobby Boyd, star Garland Owl halfback, is shown ripping off a sizeable gain against Grand Prairie. The above run was for 21 yards. Boyd later raced 79 yards for the touchdown that won the game for the Owls, 18-14. (Garland News photograph)

Speed, Blocking Keynote To Owl's Unbeaten Season

BY JIM REAPSOME
Sports Editor
Garland Daily News

GARLAND, Dec. 1—In rolling up 10 straight victories this season without a loss, the Garland High Owls have relied mostly upon speed and sharp blocking.

Garland's team is not heavy as high school teams go. In fact, the offensive starters average only 159 pounds, while the defensive unit averages 172.

The backs are particularly light, so that in gaining 3,004 yards this year they have used quick thrusts off tackle and quick pitchouts for end sweeps.

Two little guards, Alvin Moore (147) and Roger Brand (150), have been the key to the success of many of these plays. Although usually outweighed, their speed and scrappy blocking has more than made up for the lack of beef.

Bobby Boyd and J. R. Wynne have been the chief ground gainers this year. Boyd, a 161-pound halfback, accounted for 1,388 yards on 170 carries for an average of 8.2 yards per carry. Wynne, a quick-exploding fullback who weighs only 149, ran 727 yards on 109 carries.

Coach Bill Ellington has mixed this strong running game with some timely passing by quarterback Arthur Douglas. Douglas completed 32 out of 65 attempts for 494 yards.

The Owls started the season with only one regular in the backfield and that was Boyd. However, Wayne developed fast at fullback and has been the mainstay there all season. His defensive play has also made him an important cog in the Garland victory march.

Boyd, of course, is the most highly-regarded player in recent Garland history. A three sport letterman (basketball and baseball in addition to football), he has led District 2-AAA in scoring the last two seasons. This year he socred 145 points on 22 touchdowns and 12 placements and one rushed extra point.

Douglas was green at quarterback, but he has been reliable on his handofis and has done an acceptable passing job. He also does the punting for Garland. His average over the season was 32 yards on 23 punts.

The right halfback position has been shared by Floyd Blackwell and Charles Bailey. Bailey started until mid-season, then Blackwell took over. However, Blackwell dislocated his elbow in the Grand Prairie game and is out for the season. Bailey is a sophomore who weighs only 141, but is very fast.

In the line the Owls started with plenty of seasoned material, although they lost three all-district starters from last year's team. Lowell Baker and Tommy Turner have been the regular ends. Both are good pass receivers. Baker led the team with 16 receptions. Baker also specializes in downfield blocking and all-around defensive play. He kicks off for Garland.

Larry Scott and Billy Weaver are a pair of aggressive tackles. Weaver is adept at getting through to rush enemy passers and kickers.

Moore and Brand play guard only on offense. Joe Bob Johnson (208) and Wayne Mullins (221) replace them on defense. Coach Ellington feels these two boys have a big responsibility against Snyder's heavy backfield.

Rex Coldwell is the offensive center. He is replaced by linebacker Arlis James on defense. The defensive play of James has been one of the most noteworthy things of the season in Garland. A rugged 181-pounder, James plays hard and fearlessly.

Other defensive starters are Jim Shugart (for Douglas) and Jerry Brackett (for Turner).

The Owls have been devoting their practices this week almost entirely to defensive strategy. The only scrimmage work was a 15-minute session Tuesday afternoon.

Ellington was pleased with the workouts Monday and Tuesday. He said his team was in good shape.

A record crowd of 8,000 fans is expected for the game. Mayor H. A. Walker has proclaimed this week as "Garland Owl Week." Many business firms expect to be closed durng the game Saturday afternoon.

In addition to the regular seating capacity of 5,200 in Williams Stadium, another 1,500 temporary bleachers have been erected in the end zones.

Wichita Joins Triple-A Loop

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Wichita became a member of the American Assn. today as a farm club of the Milwaukee Braves in place of the abandoned Toledo baseball club.

The Triple A American Assn., after a four-day franchise wrangle, finally ironed out its difficulties by successfully negotiating with the Western League for its Kansas territory.

The deal was completed 16 hours after Milwauke reluctantly agreed to discard its plan to move the Toledo franchise to Miami. The Florida city's hope for Triple A ball was revived, however, by reports that an insurance executive, Sid Salomon, had requested ana option to purchase the Syracuse club in the International League to move it to Miami.

Snyder's Teaff; Hermleigh's Houston Make All-TC Team

ABILENE, (AP — Jerry Millsapps, Howard Payne quarterback, was the only unanimous choice for the All-Texas Conference football team released today by Jerome Vannoy, conference president.

The team was selected by press, radio, publicity and athletic departments.

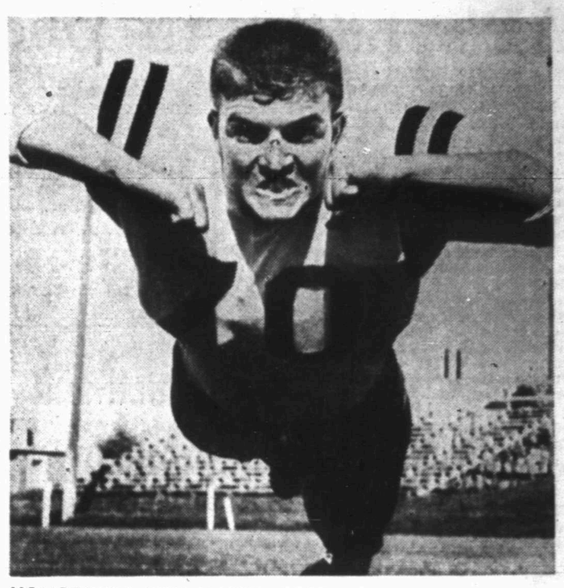
Halfback Dave Smith of Howard Payne and fullback Elroy Payne, tackle Grant Teaff and halfback Weldon Brevard, all of McMurry, were near unanimous picks for the team that came out with 12 men.

Payne was picked as outstanding player of the year and was placed on the all-conference team for the thirdstraight year. Doug Cox of champion McMurry was picked as coach of the year.

The twelfth man on the team is a spare guard. Leland Maples of Howard Payne and David Sullivan of McMurry tied for one guard spot.

McMurry placed eight men on the team and Howard Payne four. Eastern New Mexico, third member of the league, failed to win a spot.

Ends—Tommy Watkins, McMurry, and Louis Holt, Howard Payne; Tackles—Charles Mote, McMurry, and Grant Teaff McMurry; Guards—Bob Harden, McMurry; David Sullivan, McMurry, and Leland Maples, Howard Payne; center — Bill Houston, McMurry; quarterback — Jerry Millsapps, Howard Payne; Halfbacks—Weldon Brevard, McMurry, and Dave Smith, Howard Payne; fullback—Elroy Payne, McMurry.



HOMETOWN BOY MAKES GOOD—Grant Teaff, former Snyder Tiger grid star, has been named on the All-Texas Conference football team for the 1955 season. Teaff was a 60-minute man at tackle for the champion McMurry Indians the past fall.

24 Playoff Tilts Set In Schoolboy

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
The Associated Press

Twenty-four games this weekend will whittle Classes AAAA and AAA to their semi-finals and Classes AA and A to quarter-finals in the schoolboy football race.

Every battle counts in a state championship drive but the biggest game of the season matches undefeated, untied Tyler and unbeaten, untied Corpus Christi Miller in the opening fight for the Class AAAA crown.

From this game Saturday at Tyler will probably come the team to battle Abilene, the defending champion, in the finals.

Abilene is overwhelmingly favored to reach the big one again, starting the march back to the finals Saturday against thricebeaten El Paso High at El Paso. Then will come a clash with the winner of the Fort Worth Paschal-Dallas Sunset game at Fort Worth Friday night.

The Tyler-Miller clash sends two of the state's brightest stars—Charles Milstead of Tyler and Larry Dueitt of Miller—into a duel.

In the other first round game of Class AAAA Houston Reagan meets Baytown, the unbeaten, untied champion of defense.

Abilene, Sunset, Tyler and Baytown are favorites.

Class AAA also opens the state playoff with four games. The feature matches undefeated, untied Garland, the championship favorite, with a stout outfit from Snyder at Garland Saturday afternoon. Gainsville will be at Texarkana and Temple at Port Neches in other Saturday games. Friday night unbeaten, untied Alice clashes with beaten, untied Alice clashes with Victoria at Victoria.

Garland, Texarkana, Port Neches and Alice will be favored. Port Neches would have been the choice over Temple without an eligibility protest the latter filed against Port Neches star, Gordon le Bouef. Since le Bouef was cleared it makes Port Neches an even stronger choice—it'll be madder than usual and have its star back, too.

Classes AA and A have eight games apiece.

Defending champion Phillips of AA faces what could be its sternest test of the season thus far in undefeated, untied Stamford. In fact, there are those who think Stamford will topple a Phillips team that isn't as strong as last season.

Breckenridge, another AA favorite, gets Crane and should win without trouble.

Two games in class AA match unbeaten teams. Phillips has only a tie to mar its record. Stamford boasts a perfect mark. Unbeaten, untied Refugio plays Nederland, which has been tied.

Class AAAA: Friday night: Baytown over Houston Reagan at Baytown, Dallas Sunset over Fort Worth Paschal at Fort Worth; Saturday: Abilene over El Paso High at El Paso, Tyler over Corpus Christi Miller at Tyler.

Class AAA: Friday night: Alice over Victoria at Victoria; Sataurday: Garland over Snyder at Garland, Texarkana over Gainesville at Texarkanaa, Port Neches over Temple at Port Neches.

Paul Hornung's 38-yard field goal against SMU was the first the Notre Dame star ever kicked in his career.

Only One Texan Chosen On AP's Little All-America 11

By HAROLD CLAASSEN

NEW YORK (AP)—The Associated Press' Little College All-America football team for 1955, made up of representatives from 11 different colleges that won a total of 75 games, is named today with a line that averages 210 pounds to the man and boasts the country's leading scorer in the backfield.

Nate Clark of Hillsdale, Mich., is the terrific touchdown tallier. He led the collegiate players of the entire country with 144 points and is the only junior among the backfield foursome that also includes Gene (Great) Scott of Centre College, Dave Burnham of Wheaton and Charles Sticka of Trinity College at Hartford, Conn.

Up front are ends Charles Schultz of all-winning Alfred, and Richard Donlin of Hamline, chosen Monday in the second draft of the professional football draft by Baltimore.

The tackle slots are manned by Charles Gibbons of Rhode Island, who will display his ability in the Refrigerator Bowl on Sunday, and Vincent Vidas of Drexel's unbeaten team.

Steve Myhra of North Dakota University, and Wixie Robinson of Pepperdine at Los Angeles are the guards, flanking Hubert (Duke) Cook of Trinity at San Antonio, Tex.

RELATE BERLIN INCIDENT—Safely back in West Berlin, Rep. Harold C. Ostertag (R-NY) listens with arms folded as a uniformed escort officer, Lt. James T. McQueen, tells interviewers how East German Communist police held his congressional party at pistol point in East Berlin. Rep. Ostertag, Mrs. Ostertag and Rep. Edward P. Boland (D-Mass.) were detained along with Lt. McQueen, of Mullins, S.C., for four hours during a visit to the city's Russian sector. In background is Charles H. ## Man Admits Rape Slaying

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Dec. 1 (AP)—Police said today a cab driver admitted the rape-slaying of an 8-year-old Canton, Ill., girl.

James Christensen, superintendent of the Illinois State Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation, said that Lloyd Miller, 29, also of Canton, signed a statement admitting the slaying of Janice May last Saturday.

The girl's stripped and beaten body was found hidden among some upended railroad cars.

Christensen said Miller signed the statement after hours of questioning since his arrest in Danville Monday night. He had steadfastly denied any connection with the slaying.

Miller, who has been held on a technical charge of grand larceny in connection with the taking of a cab from Canton to nearby Pekin, was not charged immediately with the rape-slaying.

Man May Owe Life To Alert Neighbor

ASHLAND, Ky. (AP)—Tom Turner, a sign painter convalescing from an operation, may owe his life to alert neighbors.

While Turner was asleep, fire broke out in his home. His wife, a nurse, was at work. Turner slept on.

Members of the Gerald Barber family saw the fire and roused Turner, who crawled out a window.

The house was destroyed.

Russian Deal On Unification Is Ruled Out

BONN, Germany (AP) — Foreign Minister Heinrich von Brentano told the Russians today that normal relations between West Germany and the Soviet Union are impossible so long as Moscow blocks the reunification of Germany.

In a government declaration delivered to the cheers of the Bundestag, Von Brentano firmly ruled out separate, bilateral negotiations between Bonn and Moscow on the East-West deadlock over the question of uniting his divided nation.

"The German people are not prepared to strike any deal jeopardizing their freedom," he declared.

Referring directly to Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov, Von Brentano said:

"He once managed to sign a treaty with Hitler and Von Ribbentrop and thus seal an alliance between two totalitarian systems. He will not be able to bring about such a treaty again, neither with the (West German) Federal Republic of today nor with the reunified Germany of tomorrow."

Von Brentano did not repudiate the agreement which Chancellor Konrad Adenauer made with the Soviets in Moscow in September to establish diplomatic recognition. But he said such relations are only "an event of technical importance for the time being."

HITLER'S PRIVATE LIFE

Rommel Is Made Field Marshall

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another in the series on the private life of Adolf Hitler as told by personal valet.)

BY HEINZ LINGE
Hitler's Personal Valet

(WORLD COPYRIGHT 1955)

BERLIN. — When the German army was held fast by frost on the Russian front in the winter of 1941, Hitler was able to give more and more time to the war in North Africa.

He had long been uneasy about the ability of his Italian ally to carry out the war in North Africa, and he felt that if the conquest of Egypt were to be achieved, it would require German troops and the direction of a German general.

Hitler picked Erwin Rommel for the job and sent him to the front.

I first remember Rommel when he came to headquarters as staff colonel in charge of transport in Poland. There already were stories around headquarters of his meticulous obedience to Hitler's personal orders, and these were brought to the notice of Hitler.

Senior officers and party leaders had complained personally to Hitler that Rommel had been overzealous in carrying out orders on an occasion when they wanted to join in a "party day" celebration.

Instead of securing Rommel's dismissal, Hitler sent for him and congratulated him on his exact obedience to the Fuehrer's orders.

After his first personal meeting with Rommel, Hitler remarked to me:

"He is a good party man. He thinks as I do. His plans are my own plans. I trust that man. I think that one day he will be a field marshal."

Thereafter Hitler took Rommel with him to every military conference on plans for the conquest of Poland.

"Like me," Hitler said, "Rommel is a man of the people. He understands the German people and he will be the man who will carry out the tasks which are in my mind. He understands me and he will be able to reach the minds of the soldiers, and will convey accurately what I think."

After each conference Rommel and Hitler would sit together studying maps, and pinpointing objectives.

I believe Rommel impresed Hitler with the clarity of his mind. He was alert and intelligent, he knew his own mind, and, in the early days at least, was not afraid to speak out. He did not always agree with the Fuehrer and was not afraid to say so.

When the Polish campaign ended and the attack on France was about to begin, Hitler decided to reward Colonel Rommel. He asked him what he would like to do in France.

"I want to command a Panzer division," Rommel replied.

Immediately he took over the 7th Panzer Division under General Guderian.

He was an immediate success in Hitler's eyes and in May, 1940, about halfway through the blitzkrieg, Hitler made a special journey to the forward headquarters to congratulate both Guderian and Rommel.

During the campaign in France, so far as I can remember, Rommel was the only senior officer who was not given detailed orders from headquarters. He was allowed to move and fight his division as he thought fit.

Gauleiter Hanke was attached to forward headquarters at the time. Previously he had been first State Secretary to Dr. Goebbels and, therefore, well known to Hitler. Hanke was moved out of Goebbels' ministry because of his outspoken views on an affair Goebbels was having with a film actress.

It may well be that Hanke's presence at battle headquarters, where he was greatly impressed with Rommel's abilities, eventually led to his selection as the Commander-in-Chief of North Africa. I remember Hitler telling me that Hanke had impressed him with his descriptions of Rommel as "a strong man, a leader of men, a man who knew what his objectives were and went straight for them."

Of course, Hitler's previous association with Rommel helped a great deal and it may be that Hanke was merely telling Hitler what he thought he wanted to know.

In any case, Hitler eventually was saying: "Rommel is a man who sees things as I see them. He is better than my generals. He is also a good party man."

All this was stored in Hitler's mind, and when it became obvious that Mussolini's early successes in North Africa would not continue, he talked it over with Admiral Raeder and made up his mind that the forces there must be under German control.

At that time he also was quite frank in saying that he wanted any fighting carried out as far from Germany as possible.

He talked about a "tongs" movement or encircling pincer movement, which after Egypt was conquered would enable the German armies in Russia to sweep down and make contact with the other German soldiers at Alexandria.

While we were at Wolfschanze, I remember Hitler saying, "Rommel is the man to go there to see what the Italians are doing. He fought against them in the first war and he must know their weaknesses and their strength. He will know what they are worth."

Finally, when reports came in that the Italians were short of oil and fuel in North Africa and were having difficulty in supplying their armies by sea, Rommel was called in, promoted, and sent to Africa.

Before he left, Hitler told him bluntly that as the man on the spot, he would have to carry on the campaign entirely on his own. He said he was already helping the Italians in Greece and Albania, and now he thought it wiser to send German troops to North Africa because he felt certain the British would be reinforcing their army there.

Rommel obviously was a man of action in Hitler's eyes. I remember how very pleased the Fuehrer was when he heard that immediately after Rommel arrived in North Africa he went forward in a tank to inspect the position. He then said to both German and Italian soldiers.

"You are complaining that you are short of oil and fuel. Ahead of you is the enemy with supplies of oil and fuel. Go and collect it from them."

As I look back on the events, I think it was then that Hitler made one of his greatest mistakes. He had become so obsessed with the idea that Rommel was one of his greatest generals — if not the greatests — that he sent to North Africa a writer from the Propaganda Department, Ingemar Gerndt, with orders to build up Rommel in the German press until he had become an idol of the German people.

At headquarters, Hitler took the decisions to throw everything that could be spared to the assistance of Rommel. Italian shipping was being sunk by British submarines and there were great loses of supplies. Hitler decided that German crews and German ships would be used as much as possible.

To build up Rommel's public personality, Hitler brought him home to appear at the Sports Plast in Berlin after the campaign was well under way.

It was rare for Hitler to stand in the shadows, but on his occasion Rommel stood in the spotlight and Hitler remained a pace or two behind while the audience cheered and cheered.

Several times Rommel was brought to headquarters, sometimes to Rastneburg, and on occasion to forward headquarters at Winniza in the Ukraine. Together he and Hitler studied the war maps and afterwards Hitler said, "He is a man standing on his own feet."

All this time the Propaganda Department was building up Rommel. Photographs appeared of him in the front line, in tanks, in conferences and so on.

After Rommel captured Tobruk, I remember Hitler said: "I promoted 12 generals to the rank of field marshall, after the fall of France, and look how they have reached a stalemate in Russia. I had made up my mind that never again would I make one of my generals a field marshal. But with Rommel victorious in North Africa, I must make him a field marshal of Germany."

He came striding in, not very tall, but very sure of himself. He saluted formally, the Fuehrer returned his salute. As the two men shook hands, Hitler became excited and clapped Rommel on the shoulder.

"You are the best man in my army," Hitler said, "and I put my whole trust in you."

Hitler then formally handed to Rommel the baton of a field marshal.

Rommel said little beyond expressing his formal thanks, but it was easy to see that he was pleased and proud.

Illegally Parked Auto Is Held Up

BOSTON (AP)—Police ordered a tow truck to remove an auto parked illegally outside City Hall.

As the tow truck began its operations, the car's driver raced out of City Hall and explained he was picking up the city paymaster to deliver police pay checks to police headquarters.

"This is one we can't afford to tow away," said the policeman as he ordered the tow truck off.

Cold Spell Breaking Up

By The Associated Press

The cold weather over most of the eastern two thirds of the country appeared breaking a little in sections of the mid-continent today, but not much relief was in prospect for the eastern part of the country.

Early morning temperatures were higher from Texas northward into the Dakotas. But they still were below freezing as far south as Oklahoma and northwestern Texas and between 10 and 18 degrees in the Dakotas.

The warming trend was expected to spread over much of the north central region during the day.

Temperatures in the eastern areas were mostly in the 20s this morning and the cold air extended southward as far as Jacksonville, Fla., which reported a chilly 30.

Rain fell in Texas while freezing rain, snow and sleet spread northeastward into Oklahoma, southeastern Kansas and southwestern Arkansas.

Grandfather Dresser

LAWRENCEBURG, Ky. (AP) — Stewart McBrayer, a banker, went to an auction, saw an antique dresser he liked and bought it. He later found a note on the back of the dresser saying a furniture company had purchased it for W. S. McBrayer, his greatgrandfather.

Homemade Fudge Helped By Use Of Marshmallow Cream

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

HOMEMADE FUDGE, we find, benefits from the use of marshmallow cream and morsels of semisweet chocolate. So easy to make this way, so richly flavored-and velvety as new-fallen snow on Christmas Eve! We heartily recommend this recipe to anyone who enjoys making candy for holiday gifts and parties.

FUDGE AND NUGGETS
. . . make good gifts for your friends

Along with the fudge, you might also like to make these professional-type Chocolate Nuggets. They have a layer of caramel (made from bought candy) and an upper layer of pecans and chocolate.

New jumbo packages of small pieces of semi-sweet chocolate will be useful for your holiday candy making. The big package contains twice as much chocolate as the familiar six-ounce one.

If you are giving this candy away for gifts, we'd like to tell you about some simple interesting wrappings we saw lately. Decorations for the wrappings are made from labels, seals and stars. For instance you can paste wide labels together to make a red-striped decoration for a small package, with bright stars parading on the white stripe. Or by sticking just the tips of narrow labels (for boughs) onto a label tree trunk; decorate with tiny star seals. Two red-edged labels at right angles make a candle and holder to light another Christmas package; a shiny legal seal makes the "flame," and the handle is a red-edged round label with the center cut out.

MARSHMALLOW CREAM FUDGE

Ingredients: One jar (7½ ounces) marshmallow cream, 1 small can (6 ounces) evaporated milk, ½ cup butter, 1½ cups sugar, ½ teaspoon salt, 2 packages (6 ounces each) or 1 jumbo package (12 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate pieces, 1 teaspoon vanilla, ½ cup chopped nuts (if desired.)

Method: Stir marshmallow cream, evaporated milk, butter, sugar and salt together in a saucepan; stirring constantly, bring to a full boil; continue to stir and boil 5 minutes over moderate heat. Remove from heat. Stir in chocolate, vanilla, and nuts (if used) until chocolate is melted. Pour into greased pan (8 by 8 by 2 inches); chill until firm. Makes about 2¼ pounds.

CHOCOLATE NUGGETS

Ingredients; confectioners' sugar, ¾ pound vanilla caramels (42) 1 tablespoon butter, 1 tablespoon water, ¾ cup pecans (coarsely chopped), 1 package (6 ounces) semi-sweet chocolate pieces, 3 tablespoons light corn syrup, 1 tablespoon water.

Method: Butter cookie sheet well; sift confectioners' sugar over buttered sheet. Put caramels, butter and 1 tablespoon water in top of double boiler; allow to stand over boiling water until melted. Add pecans; keep warm over hot water. In another double boiler put chocolate, corn syrup, and 1 tablespoon water; allow to stand over hot (not boiling) water until melted; remove from heat. On the prepared cookie sheet, drop the caramel mixture by teaspoonsfuls; drop the chocolate mixture by half teaspoonsfuls on top of caramel mixture. Chill until firm. Makes 3½ dozen (about 1½ pounds) nuggets.

Cookies Can Star For The Holidays

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

HOLIDAY TIME brings back childhood memories of wonderful cookies. When I was a little girl, the cookbook published by a Canadian flour milling company was a favorite in our household. We were always delighted when on baking days my mother turned to the chapter called "Small Cakes of All Kinds."

There was a subhead under that main title that stated these small cakes were commonly called "Goodies" and still a third subhead that termed them "Jam-Jams."

When recently I opened my mother's old cookbook, I noted that there were three kinds of Jam-Jams: plain sugar cookies put together with jam, gingerbread cookie sandwiches, and oatmeal cookies with a date, rasin or fig filling. Of that assortment, my mother made the Oatmeal Jam-Jams most frequently, and not only at holiday time but all the year through. My sisters and I downed dozens of the cookies, and my mother felt the combination of rolled oats and dried fruit was a nutritious one.

We've brought that recipe for Oatmeal Jam-Jams up-to-date so you can try them on your family. They are a fine substantial sweet and store well. Make some to give away; keep some to serve as dessert for your tree - trimming supper.

This new version of Oatmeal Jam-Jams calls for grinding the rolled oats; this technique helps to give nutty flavor and crisp texture—both attributes that are delicious with the soft date filling. The filling itself takes on flavor from the grated orange rind and orange juice with which it is heated

OATMEAL JAM-JAMS

Ingredients: 1¾ cups uncooked rolled oats (quick or old - fashioned), 1¼ cups sifted flour, ¼ teaspoon baking soda, ½ teaspoon salt, ½ cup shortening (soft), 1 cup sugar, 2 eggs, 1 tablespoon milk, 1 teaspoon vanilla, Date Filling.

Method: Grind oats with fine blade of food chopper; there should be 1¼ cups of the gound oats. Sift together flour, baking soda, and salt into a mixing bowl. Add shortening, sugar, eggs, milk, vanilla, and ground oats. Mix until smooth, about 2 minutes. Roll out on lightly floured board to ⅛-inch thickness. Cut with floured medium-sized round cookie cutter. With a small star-shaped cutter, cut the center out of half the cookies. Place the plain circles of dough on a lightly greased cookie sheet. Place about a teaspoon of Date Filling on each. Cover each with a star-cut circle, pressing edges together. Reroll scraps of dough and cut out as above. Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven 8 to 10 minutes. Makes about 3 dozen cookies.

Note: A doughnut cutter may be used for cutting the top circles of the cookie dough, and a matching size plain round cookie cutter may be used for the bottom circles.

DATE FILLING

Ingredients: 1 package (6 ½ ounces) pitted dates, 1 cup sugar, ⅛ cup orange juice, 1 teaspoon grated orange rind.

Method: Slice dates; put in saucepan with sugar, orange juice and grated orange rind; cook over low heat until thickened, stirring often (5 to 10 minutes). Cool thoroughly.

Junior Cooks Have Fun With Cookies

BY VIVIAN BROWN
APNewsfeatures Writer

Let the youngsters have a hand in baking Christmas cookies. Little girls love to putter around in the kitchen licking up the icing bowl or putting the okay on Mom's apple pie.

Even the tiniest tots may lend a hand in a constructive way. You might start off a youngster by letting her help coat the chicken with flour in the paper bag or add the raisins or nuts to a cake or bread batter. She'll adore picking the grapes off the bunch for salad and might even help cut out the biscuits Mom has mixed and rolled out. Or let her tear bread apart for turkey stuffing.

Safety should be taught first. The sharp knife and hot stove are dangers she should be aware of, and her kitchen projects should not include recipe adventures in those areas. She shouldn't start her cooking lessons with boresome experiments. Little things she'd enjoy eating herself are best bets for interesting small fry in the kitchen.

A national little sister contest has little girls between the ages of 4 and 6 competing in the culinary department. Their accomplishments run from breaking eggs to grating cheese and tossing popcorn. One little girl contestant, aged 4, makes delicious coconut crispies, a recipe her mother taught her. There's no dough to mix, just a yummy mixture of margarine, brown sugar and coconut, baked on graham crackers, an ideally simple combination, easy to put together. Mom can pop the cookies in the oven at the right time.

It's good to emphasize personal cleanliness and clean-up-as-you-go to your budding chef. It'll teach her good work habits and make the adventure a cooperative one. Measuring can help teach her how to count.

Here's the recipe for coconut crispies: Allow ¼ cup (½ stick of margarine) to soften at room temperature. Beat it until creamy with a wooden spoon. Add a little of the ½ cup of light brown sugar at a time, beating well after each addition. Add half of a ½ cup of shredded coconut (¼ cup) blend it all well. With a spatula, spread the mixture on 12 graham crackers. With fingers, sprinkle the remaining coconut over each cracker. Place on a cookie sheet. Bake about 5 minutes at 400 degrees F. (hot oven) or until brown. Remove from the oven and cool. Makes 12 crispies.

GOOD—Says Evanna Lien, four-year-old, of her very own cookie mix. She is a contestant in a national contest.

Engineer For Train Suffers Heart Attack

Monmouth, Ill., Nov. 30 (AP)—The engineer of a Chicago, Burlington and Quincy Railroad's passenger train, the Nebraska Zephyr, suffered a heart attack last night.

The engineer, E. M. Peck of Galesburg, died shortly before the train reached Monmouth.

The fireman, J. J. Wilson, also of Galesburg, halted the train and another engineer, V. M. Daniels of Burlington, who was riding to Galesburg, brought it on into Monmouth.

Large Estate Left By Childless Widow

FRESNO, Calif. (AP)—Mrs. Cora Nidere, 85, who made an oil fortune on 80 acres of barren land she inherited, left an estate in excess of two million dollars, including $1,827,350 in cash.

She died a week ago after a long illness. A childless widow, she left no will. A petition for letters of administration lists seven nieces and nephews as legal heirs.

Mrs. Nidever inherited the property near Coalinga, Calif., from her mother Mrs. Hester Binkley, who had homesteaded it at the turn of the century. Oil was discovered in 1939.

Report Is Released On Army's Reserves

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Army has enlisted slightly over 4,500 six-month trainees in the first eight weeks of the new reserve program.

The figures were made public today by the Army in answer to an inquiry on progress of this phase of the latest of a long series of efforts to create a full-fledged reserve system.

These pre-draft age youths have volunteered for six months of active training, followed by 7½ years of reserve liability. Not all of them actually are entering training camps immediately. Many have been granted deferred status to allow them to complete high school and other studies.

The goal of the Defense Department is to have 95,000 trainees by next June 30, a beginning toward an eventual pool of 2½ million trained men who could be called to duty in another war.

Before the program began last Oct. 3, officials talked of getting 5,000 trainees to enlist each month. Officials of the National Security Training Commission, the group which is monitoring the program passed by the last Congress, contend now, however, that the six-month training phase of the program is off to a "slower start than we had expected."

But both commission members and Army officials insist that it is too soon to judge the success of the program.

Chairman David Sarnoff of the commission thinks one thing that has retarded the program so far is failure of parents and the eligible youths to understand the choices and advantages in completing their stint of military training early.

But he also comments that if the program "doesn't get off the ground" after a trial, it will be a matter requiring changes by Congress. Congress had declined to operate the reserve training system through use of selective service methods.

Doctor Claims Child's Finger Sucking Trivial

BOSTON (AP)—A New York pediatrician said today parents place too much importance upon trivial actions—like finger sucking—by their children.

Dr. Harry Bakwin told the American Medical Assn.'s ninth clinical session that finger sucking by babies is no more a psychiatric problem than "gum chewing in children and cigarette smoking in adults."

Most such "behavior problems" are trivial, even when they seem of major importance, he said. The family doctor can handle them by giving "a few simple, commonsense suggestions," he said.

He warned in a prepared address that even more serious problems of childhood may not be psychiatric and "it is a mistake to asume that these usually arise from parental mismanagement."

Before blaming it on the parents, he said, the family doctor should make sure the child is not suffering from such things as minor brain damage, visual or hearing defects or chronic disease.

"There are so many behavior problems that the general physician must treat them (because) there are not enough psychiatrists," he said. "Unfortunately the general physician has been frightened by fear, engendered by the psychiatrists, that he may 'do harm' by the incompleteness of his knowledge."

Dr. Harold Jacobziner, assistant commissioner of the maternal and child care services of the New York City Department of Health, told the session that accidental poisoning of children isn't really accidental.

A recent study, he said, shows that poisonings occur in direct proportion to the degree of accessibility of the poisoning agent.

Out of 454 cases studied, Dr. Jacobziner said, 40 per cent resulted from agents available in open places and 16 per cent were from agents in closed but unlocked places easily reachable by a small child.

Coal Use Rising

CLEVELAND (AP)—Coal, its fortunes diminished for a time by competition from other fuels, is on the way back to prosperity on a wave of industrial expansion, a coal industry expert said last night. J. R. Forsythe of New York, general manager of the Keystone Coal Buyers Manual, predicted that by 1970 coal production would have increased 100 per cent to an output of 800 million tons a year.

Canada Boosts Plan For 18 Nations In UN

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP)—Threatened by vetoes from both sides of the Iron Curtain, Canada doggedly took her plan to bring 18 nations into the United Nations before the Special Political Committee today.

Canadian Delegate Paul Martin, chief mover behind the 27-nation resolution to admit all 18 applicants, prepared to introduce it soon after the opening of the membership debate.

The 60-nation committee will give the much discussed Canadian proposal its first public airing. But its fate rests with the Security Council, where Nationalist China has threatened to veto Communist Outer Mongolia and Russia has warned she will turn thumbs down on the whole package deal if any of the five Red candidates are rejected.

To be admitted to the U.N., an applicant must get seven affirmative votes in the 11-nation Security Council and escape the big power veto. It must then win approval of two thirds of the Assembly.

Some delegates were hopeful the Chinese or the Russians might be persuaded to relax their positions before a final vote is taken.

U.S. Chief Delegate Henry Cabot Lodge Jr. conferred on the membership issue yesterday with Victor A. Belaunde, Peruvian chairman of a Good Offices Committee trying to break the membership deadlock, and U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold. Hammarskjold and Belaunde also talked with Soviet Deputy Foreign Minister V. V. Kutnetsov.

The United States has said it would abstain on all five Communist applicants—Outer Mongolia, Albania, Hungray, Romania and Bulgaria—but is not campaigning against them.

President Eisenhower sent two direct appeals to the Chiang Kai-shek government to do likewise, but the Nationalists announced their decision to veto Outer Mongolia.

The 13 non-Communist applicants are Finland, Portugal, Ireand, Jordan, Austria, Ceylon, Nepal, Libya, Cambodia, Laos, Spain, Italy and Japan.

Calling All Girls, Jailbird To Marry

"I am a lonely boy in jail here and have decided to propose to any girl or marry her here in jail, so if any of you lonely girls want to hook up with a jail bird just drop me a line."

Foster is being held for court action on a number of charges, including forgery, illegal whisky distilling and obtaining property under false pretenses.

Kleburg Lie Detector Test Brings Dispute

KINGSVILLE (AP)—The Kleberg County attorney and the sheriff were at odds today on what a lie detector test disclosed in the slaying of Don Worden by his wealthy bride, Mrs. Sunny Canales Worden.

County Atty. Royce Johnston disputed yesterday a report by Sheriff Jim Scarborough that the lie detector showed Mrs. Worden 42, was telling the truth about the way she shot down her husband and buried him on lonely Padre Island.

Johnston said the tests were inconclusive.

Scarborough had no comment on Johnston's statement.

The county attorney said he and Dist. Atty. Sam Jones prepared a list of questions for Mrs. Worden during the test. He said she did not answer those questions having a direct bearing on her guilt or innocence answering only those leading to no definite conclusions.

Johnston also said she refused to take further tests.

Persons cannot be forced to take lie detector tests. Mrs. Worden volunteered. The results are not admissable in court.

Mrs. Worden says she shot her husband, 43 a San Antonio real estate operator after he said he was going to force her to shoot her daughter Maria Teresa 5, and then force her to kill herself.

She said she buried Worden in a grave he had made her dig earlier on Padre Island off the Texas coast.

The shooting she said, was with a jeweled pistol. She led officers to the weapon.

Mrs. Worden said her husband mesmerized her gave her pills which put her under his power and obtained $90,000 in cash a $45000 home and jewelry.

She had been divorced only a short time from wealthy oilman-rancher Praxides Canales of Premont when she married Worden.

The slaying occurred Oct. 22. The body was found Oct. 29 by fishermen and was identified Nov. 1 when Mrs. Worden voluntarily told her story to a Texas Ranger.

She is free on $5000 bond on a charge of murder. A grand jury has heard her case but has returned no indictment.

Hotel Registration By TV Is Foreseen

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A hotel executive says sidewalk television receivers and transmitters will allow tired, dusty travelers of the future to register at a hotel without getting out of their cars.

"It will no longer be necessary for prospective patrons to look for a parking space before going in a hotel to make inquiries," Tom L. Powell, president of the American Hotel Assn., said yesterday.

Sidewalk TV will be installed by hotels throughout the nation, said Powell, owner of the Plaza, San Antonio, Tex.

Although aspirin does not affect normal body temperatures, doctors often find it helps to reduce high temperatures.

Racial Issue Discussed By State Delegate

WASHINGTON (AP)—The head of the Texas delegation to the White House Conference on Education, Dr. Edwin Rippy, said today he believes racial desegregation in schools is inevitable.

"I don't believe anything is going to stop it," he said. "Therefore, we should face the problem and handle it in the best way possible."

A Dallas physician and School Board president, Rippy said the scheduled for consideration during the conference.

In response to a question, however, he said:

"It is my conviction that we should come to grips with the racial issue. The board can take either of two courses. It can conclude that our schools should be desegregated. Or, it can sit and do nothing until forced to do so by the courts.

"It seems to me that the first course is the prefereable one to follow. Then we can see that the transition is made in an orderly fashion."

He said he could not speak about the desegregation problem in other parts of Texas, but stated he realized the action of school districts in large metropolitan areas undoubtedly would have an influence on action taken by adjoining school districts and some farther away.

Rippy strongly opposed federal aid to education, declaring such aid would lead eventually to control of state school systems.

"We in the Texas delegation don't believe this is a negative attitude," he said.

"We are convinced that policies regarding the education of our children should arise at the local level. That is a safeguard of democracy."

Texas participants in the conference include 70 men and women, including 4 Negroes. About 40 per cent are educators. The res. include lawyers, ministers, businessmen, wives and others.

Fire Chief Finds New Use For Fire Helmet

DALLAS (AP)—Battalion Fire Chief A. D. Marable found a new use for his fire helmet when he helped evacuate 20 residents from a burning rooming house.

When shouts failed to rouse a 45-year-old deaf mute woman, he awakened her by shaking her. Unable to make the terrified woman understand, Marable finally took off his fire helmet and flashed his light on the lettering.

"She got the idea fast," Marable said. "She grabbed a robe and ran out then."

Friendly Back Slap Is Not Appreciated

WEST COVINA, Calif. (AP)—John H. Wallace entered a bank during a holdup yesterday. He mistook a man holding a machine gun for a friend, walked up behind him and slapped him on the back.

It was the wrong thing to do, at least at that particularly moment. The man whirled, snarled at Wallace and ordered him behind a counter, where four women tellers and several patrons were huddling.

The holdup man and a confederate got away with $16,000.
