Robert Lee Dam

Report Shows Progress

Cut for the last section of core trench underlying the dam at Robert Lee began Monday.

According to O. H. Ivie, manager of the Colorado River Municipal Water District, approaches for a detour in State Highway 158 were paved last week and traffic was routed over this loop, starting Monday, and will use the detour until the new re-routed section of State Highway 158 around the south end on the dam is completed.

Completion date for the dam is about 40 days from now.

The tour was necessary to prevent the contractor, Clement Brothers, from delaying work on the dam so that the target of starting the closure by October 1 can be met.

Other phases of CRMW construction program at the site of the new Robert Lee dam are progressing on schedule, Ivie reported.

Roland Sherer, who is raising the oil well mounds in the upper basin of the new lake, has installed a sluice of railroad tank cars down the side of a steep hill to make rock for riprap accessible.

About 18 miles of a 36-mile project of 33-inch pipeline between Big Spring and the Martin County well field pump station have been laid Panhandle Construction Co is contractor for that project.

Bids for three sections of pipeline, ranging from 21-inch to 420 inch diameter, are to be opened some time in July, Ivie said.

City Hall And Courthouse Have Shining New Faces

Two improvement projects for public building in the downtown area have just been completed.

Both are part of the "face lifting" in the downtown section currently being backed by city and county officials and the Chamber of Commerce.

Concrete trim of the red brick City Hall has been repainted in a fresh-looking off white.

City furnished paint and materials, said J. A. Sadler, Jr., city manager. Jimmy Harrison was employed to do the painting.

Across the street, west Mitchell County Courthouse exterior presents a new, cleancut, more modern look after extensive work replacing its old cornices.

Masonry abutments at first and third floor levels have been removed by blasting and replaced with concrete ing with plainer, safer concrete strips, on the pay-as-we-go plan.

Cost, said County Judge strips painted white.

Cornices, once considered decorative, were removed for reasons of safety and to prevent rain water from dripping through them between courthouse walls.

Large pieces of the heavy masonry abutment structure were beginning to break and fall off without warning, creating a serious hazard as they extended two feet from third floor exterior walls and could have seriously injured some citizen.

County officials carried out the blasting and replacement. Elmer Martin, was "Between seven and eight thousand dollars."

Project of refurbishing the courthouse exterior required about 5 and a half weeks.

Work is in progress at Mitchell County jail, on the courthouse lawn, to clean and improve its outside look, Judge Martin said. Stonework will be cleaned and repainted after cleaning is done.

Search Creates Unity

Among Lawmen From Four Counties

Law enforcement units from four counties worked in close cooperation here Thursday morning in search of a juvenile car thief from Abilene.

A high speed auto chase, climaxed by a spactacular series of driving antics, touched off the incident.

The 14-year-old youth involved now faces suspension of his porbation for a prior delinquency conviction.

Abilene authorities had been looking for the boy since he was reported missing from his home at 10:15 p.m. Wednesday.

After 1:30 a.m. Thursday Abilene police issued a bulletin concerning a 1968 Buick 4-door hardtop stolen from the 700 block of Clinton St.

Texas Highway Patrolman George Lee of Colorado City was patroling along in Interstate 20 west of town during the early hours of Thursday, concerning himself with the truck traffic.

At about 2:35 a.m. with the Abilene bulletin still fresh in his mind, Lee recognized the Buick as it passed him travelling in his direction, west.

Lee initiated pursuit, and the chase began . . . both cars racing at speeds of 100 miles per hour plus.

"I was having a hard time catching him," Lee later said, describing the early seconds of the chase. He radioed for assistance and C-City night patrolman Brian Blair sped from town to join the pursuit.

About five miles west of Westbrook the Abilene youth saw that Lee was now gaining with increasing speed and decided to add a new twist to what would have been just another high speed chase.

He noticed the high railroad embankment south of the freeway and, as he stated later, figured he could evade the patrolman by getting on the other side where his lights wouldn't show.

In a sense he did just that. Lee saw the Buick make a sudden swerve to the left and dart across the dividing median, the eastbond lane, the bar ditch, the service road beyond, and then right up the railroad embankment.

"Next thing I knew," recapped Lee, "He was driving right down the railroad tracks that run parallel to Interstate 20."

The Buick rattled down the tracks for about 200 yards until the driver finally lost control. Skidding down the opposite side of the embankment the car dead-centered a heavy telephone pole, clipping it off at the ground.

By the time Lee had crossed over to investigate, the young man, uninjured, had escaped on foot.

It would be almost 4½ hours before any officer knew the true identity (and age) of the fugitive. Until then they had to expect the worse.

Transfer Of Cotton O.K. In 85 Counties

Mitchell County farmers, who voted against transfer of cotton acreage allotments by sale or lease for 1969, are still eligible to buy or lease additional cotton acreage in the 85 Texas counties who approved transfer of allotment out of their counties, according in Curtis Latimer, ASC chairman.

When approved by at least two-thirds of cotton growers in any county, cotton acreage allotments may be transferred out of the county but never out of the state, Latimer explained.

The present law permitting counties to vote on selling or leasing allotments out of the county expires in 1969.

Not affected by such referendum votes are transfer of allotments by sale or lease within the same county and transfers across the county line (in the same state) from one farm to another owned or controlled by the same person.

Farmers in Mitchell County, who turned thumbs down on transfer of acreage out of their own county, can lease or buy acreage al-

Will your air conditioning turn your home into a pressure cooker this summer?

A breakdown on a typical summer day could accomplish just that! That's why you ought to consider gas air conditioning right now! It's built to be relied on. Gas air conditioning is built simply, ruggedly, with no compressor, fewer moving parts. That means less things to go wrong . . . and added years of dependable service and comfort.

Call Lone Star Gas for a free estimate on reliable gas air conditioning.

Witnesses Will Attend Assembly

As the "Good News For All Nations" District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses, to be held in the San Angelo Coliseum, July 11-14 draws nearer, the local presiding minister, Don R. DeJulio, has announced some of the features and highlights of the program.

About 40 of the Colorado City congregation will attend he said.

"The four-day meeting will convene Thursday afternoon, July 11, with an address of welcome by the assembly chairman and Watchtower representative, Donald Boyd", said DeJulio.

"From the first day of the San Angelo assembly to the last", DeJulio said, "the program will focus attention on the Bible as God's Word of Truth as 'God News For All Nations'."

Fundamental Bible truths will be thoroughly discussed, and practical counsel given on the problems of everyday life will be considered by dramatization, discussion and discourse.

Friday's program will be highlighted by an ordination service conducted for new ministers.

Some 5,000 delegates are expected by Sunday when the convention will reach a grand climax with the public talk "Man's Time About to Give Way to God's Rule" by L. K. M. Dugan, district supervisor, Brooklyn, New York.

Lions Club At Loraine Installs Slate

Formal installation of new officers of the Loraine Lions Club took place at a party with wives as honor guests, Tuesday evening.

John Hamlin of Snyder was installation officer.

New officers are Bill Scarber, president; Royce Boykin, first vice president; Boyce Mabon, second vice president; Archie Sowbrough, third vice president; Ray Preston, secretary; Ronald Bruce, treasurer; Homer Hart, tail twister; T. J. Green, Jr., Lion Tamer; and Royce Mabon, song leader.

New directors of the Lorain Lions Club are Herbert [illegible] and Joe Terry as holdover directors.

Forrest Smith arrived within minutes along with Police Chief Jesse Browning and other city policemen. Two other Texas Highway Patrolmen from Colorado City, Buddy Hartenburger and Jim Mauldin wheeled in from the night to join the search.

But units from other counties also responded to the situation and offered invaluable assistance. Arriving on the scene from Big Spring were two more Highway Patrol units, an assistant identification officer, a Captain and patrolman from the Big Spring police department, and one Howard County Sheriff's unit.

A license weight man from Sweetwater, and license weight sergent from Abilene also joined the search.

The various law enforcement officials coordinated their efforts in patroling Interstate 20 and nearby farm [illegible] residents and operators of nearby rest areas, searching [illegible] and stopping and warning truck drivers to [illegible] a hitchhiker.

When daylight approached [illegible] Frank Deregibus and two private pilots from [illegible] began searching [illegible] from the air. Still the quest proved unfruitful. A later questioning revealed the juvinile was not as active as his hunters. After seeing that the roads were well patroled to prevent a crossing, he [illegible] for a two hour period [illegible] he managed to work across Interstate 20 into another field. But then he became hampered by the [illegible].

Afraid to leave his cover and be spotted by one of the [illegible] he was seen squatting in the field by Jesse Garcia, a highway construction laborer as he was to work.

A quick apprehension that followed brought the [illegible] to Colorado City for questioning. After a limited statement here he was handed over to Taylor County Juvenile Officer, Jack Landrum.

In April the boy had been declared a juvenile delinquent but his commitment to the Gatesville State Boys School was suspended. It is now probable that a petition will be filed to revoke his probation.

Local officials had nothing but praise for out-of-town law enforcement personal who joined the search. As one patrolman stated, "It was a great show of cooperation" between agencies of the counties involved.

CONVERSATION CORNER

Ruth Coffey's

LETTERS from a man to his wife are usually purely personal, rarely saved for any length of time, and are hardly ever made public unless, of course, the husband writing the letter happens to be President of the United States.

The plain vanilla, average type husband these days does not spend too much time writing letters, anyhow. There is always the long distance telephone.

Then, too, there is always the picture post card like the one Jake Merritt used to tell about. Seems one man got in such a hurry he scribbled this line to his wife on a post card "Having a lovely time. Wish you were her."

But he wondered how come she had packed up and gone home to Mother when he got back home, too.

WAS BROWSING through that friend-in-need volume, "Bartlett's Familiar Quotations," the other day when a letter from a very famous man to his wife came to light.

His name was John Adams and the letter to Mrs. Adams was penned early in July, 1776.

"I am apt to believe that (this day) will be celebrated by succeeding generations as the great anniversary festival. It ought to be commemorated as the day of deliverance, by solemn acts of devotion to Almighty God.

"It ought to be solemnized with pomp and parade, with shows, games, sports, guns, bells, bonfires and illuminations, from one end of this continent to the other, from this time forward forever more."

KNOW the day he meant? Independence Day, of course! It is supposed to be celebrated July fourth.

How long ago and far away seem the ideas of how the day should be commemorated, as written by John Adams, destined to be the second President of this country!

"Acts of devotion to God . . . shows, games . . . bells . . . bonfires." Seen any of those on the Glorious Fourth the past few years?

We have kept the "sports and guns" part, Heaven knows. And we have turned the bonfire into charcoal broilers for hot dogs or a rotisserie decorated with chicken.

GONE is the bunting, usually on an outdoor temporary stage. Gone are the bands playing "Stars And Stripes Forever."

Gone are the parades that used to stir the heart. Silent are the bells. Still are the drums.

Gone are the orators . . . the recitations of "Hats Off, The Flag Is Passing By."

Now, as if that weren't enough, Washington D. C. has decided to reshuffle all the holidays except July Fourth, Thanksgiving, and Christmas.

President Lyndon B. Johnson signed the bill Friday which makes Columbus Day, Veterans Day, Memorial Day, Labor Day and even George Washington's BIRTHDAY fall on Monday from now on, come 1971.

Next thing you know Easter Sunday will be on Friday at the rate this country is going.

SEEN LATELYS include Mabel (Mrs. Frank) Kelley on the downtown scene. She was saying the the McClouds, Austin, Mary Anne, Melinda and Sharon, visited the Grand Canyon and Las Vegas enroute to their home for the summer in Reno, Nevada.

Clem and Frances Myers were lunching together . . . So were Puddy and Rush Neff.

Fannie Cooper (Mrs. Paul) was an office dropin . . . So were Joe Earnest, Myrtle (Mrs. Oren) Lipps, nice Eddie Braswell, and Don DeJulio.

TALKED to FF (favorite person) Mrs. J. Ed Richardson who plans to leave next Friday for Ft. Worth. She expects to spend a month as guest of her sister, Mrs. Lucille Gentry.

Did you know that Gloria Richardson, daughter of Porter and Anita, is attending summer school at McMurry College where she'll join her two brothers Dick and Bob, both McMurry students, this fall.?

FRIDAY night must have been Colorado City night at the Fandangle in Albany.

Jan and Bobby Lemons, their children, Dawn and Robert, Bobby's parents Mr. and Mrs. H. B. Lemons of Fluvanna had tickets and were planning to go.

Ross and Mamie Hargrove, their daughter Doris, her husband Jack McKenney and their sons also went over to see the colorful Fandangle performance. The Hargroves were accompanied by Mrs. Nolan Fincher and Son Rusty.

Montie and G. D. Foster were among other C'Citians with tickets for the Friday night show.

HAD a lunch hour chat with nice Dr. Elton Berkman who was just back from conferences in Austin.

He will fly from Dallas (commercial plane, not private this time) to Seattle, Washington, where wife Virginia is already visiting.

The couple usually vacations in the state of Washington about this time every year.

HEAR TELL Charlie Smith is trying to recover from a pinched nerve.

That a Texas Tech co-ed has a new engagement ring.

And that most members of Mitchell County Bar Association went to Abilene Friday afternoon for swearing in ceremonies for Eldon Mahon, new United States District Attorney for the Northern District of Texas.

Reception which followed, hosted by Taylor County Bar Association, was in the Petroleum Club.

MISS JOY LYNN HARMON, . . . to wed Carroll Bowles.

Joy Lynn Harmon to Wed Carroll Bowles

Mr. and Mrs. G. A. Harmon of 417 Cypress Street announce the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Miss Joy Lynn Harmon, to Billie Carroll Bowles of Fort Hood.

Parents of the prospective bridegroom are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bowles of Rule, former Loraine residents.

Wedding of the betrothed couple will take place the evening of July 20. The seven o'clock ceremony will be in First Baptist Church in Loraine.

The bride-elect is a 1968 graduate of Colorado High School.

Her fiance was graduated from Loraine High School and attended Angelo State College in San Angelo before entering the Army. He is now stationed in Fort Hood after a tour of duty in Vietnam.

AT LADIES' NIGHT

Capt. White Speaks To Evening Lions

Capt. James B. White of Webb Air Force Base in Big Spring was guest speaker for a recent ladies' night for Evening Lions Club in Civic House.

Capt. White spoke on air force and space technology and the space program in particular.

He cited rewards of such a program as being prestige, control of outer space, location of mineral sources in space and increase in knowledge.

Capt. White supplemented his talk with projection pictures illustrating moon flights, orbital procedures, lunar probes and return capabilities.

Capt. White, a native of Clearwater, Fla., is a graduate of Air Force Academy with a bachelor of arts degree and has a master's degree from Georgetown University.

His father is a retired Air Force major general. His brother, Lt. Col. Ed White, was fatally injured in an Apollo accident at Cape Kennedy.

Cap. White is a T-38 instructor pilot, an academic instructor and a test pilot at Webb AFB. He has tentatively accepted a position at Air Force Test Pilots School, one of the requirements for entry into the space program.

Special guests for the evening dinner program in addition to Capt. White were Mrs. White, Major and Mrs. L. D. Egan of Webb AFB, Mr. and Mrs. B. D. Mason, Miss Jackie Eason, Miss Mona McCarley and Miss Charlsa McCarley and wives of club members.
