GIRLS AND BOYS

Are You Progressing in the World or Moving Backward?

Are you chained to a small job and a small salary? Are you in a rut where you are just holding your own, where you are not improving yourself and have no future? Don't think you are standing still. You can't; you either move forward or backward. If you are not progressing you are losing ground. You have ambition, you want a good position and prospects for success in the future. Don't allow yourself to stay on a small job and a small income, without making any progress in life. Get your feet on the ladder of success. How are you going to do it.

There are several ways from here to there. You can travel the twenty-five thousand miles around the earth and arrive in the next street, or you can take a straight line across the block and reach your destination in two minutes. The world is full of people trying to cross the block by going around the world. The ones who get somewhere are the ones who know how to select a direct route.

The direct route to a good business is thru the Tyler Commercial College.

If you don't believe this, go out some day and make a dozen applications for positions. Approach the employer and say, "I would like to have some kind of a position," and when you are asked what you can do, tell him you haven't any particular training but that you can do most anything. Ninety-nine times out of a hundred he will tell you he wants a bookkeeper, stenographer, typist, some body who can do some one thing in a superior way.

There is a short cut to business success and there is a long route, and when you are young you have the opportunity to select the one or the other. Doubtless you can get some kind of a job in a business and work up. But don't underestimate the difficulty of the task of working up. Successful business men are too busy to teach school in their office. Select the shorter, direct route, through the T. C. C., and you will reach your destination early enough to enjoy the fruits of the journey.

You do not have to a sage to understand that these things are true but you will be a wise young man or woman if you realize their significance, realize that they apply to you and not to see some one else, and take advantage of the opportunities that the right sort of action will open up. Take a course with us and we will place you in a good paying position as soon as you finish. Fill in coupon below and mail to us for free catalogue, descriptive of our course of Bookkeeping, Shorthand, Business Administration and Finance, Telegraphy, Cotton Classing, etc. and of the largest commercial training institution in America.

Few authors of Western adventure stories have had a better background for their work than EDISON MARSHALL, author of

The Voice of the Pack

With a long line of frontiersmen ancestry, he is himself a resident of the Northwest wherein the scene is laid. He knows the mountains, forests, streams and trails of which he writes. He has combined a charming romance with an unusual amount of nature lore, especially that relating to the forests and wild animals. He introduces bad men of an actual type, yet strangely new to fiction. In picturing encounters with savage beasts he rivals the "Tarzan" stories.

Help That Aching Back!

In your back giving out? Are you tired, miserable, all run down; tortured with nagging backache, lameness and sudden, stabbing pains? If so, look to your kidneys. Overwork, hurry and worry tend to weaken the kidneys. Backache and an all worn out feeling is often the first warning. Get back your health while you can. Use Doan's Kidney Pills, the remedy thousands recommend. Ask your neighbor!

A Texas Case

R. E. Chiles, carpenter, 502 S. 13th St., Catalina, Tex., says: "I had a severe backache. I had to get up a great many times at night to pass the kidney secretions, which were highly colored and burning. These spells got to coming so often I looked for help, and when I was told about Doan's Kidney Pills I commenced to use them. It wasn't long before I was entirely cured."

Mother Says Ware's Baby Powder Saved Her Four Children

Has used this Remedy 14 years and believes it "best on earth" for stomach and bowel trouble.

When a mother writes that not one child, but FOUR, were saved from death by a simple, harmless stomach and bowel remedy, further evidence of its great power is unnecessary. This mother, Mrs. E. G. Ware of Texas, Texas, says: "I have five children, and believe it if were not for Ware's Baby Powder four of them would have died. I have used it for fourteen years, and found it one of the best remedies on earth for stomach and bowel trouble."

Ware's Baby Powder is given to babies in liquid form, mixed with sugar and water, and they love it. Absolutely harmless, 60¢ and $1.20 the package at all druggists. Send for Dr. Ware's booklet on the treatment of the stomach and bowels—free.

Bad Stomach Sends Her to Bed for 10 Months

Eaton's Gets Her Up!

"Over a year ago," says Mrs. Dora Williams, "I took to bed and for 10 months did not think I would live. Eaton's helped me so much I am now up and able to work. I recommend it highly for stomach trouble."

Eaton's helps people to get well by taking up and carrying out the excess acidity and gases that put the stomach out of order. If you have indigestion, sourness, heartburn, belching, food regurgitating, or other stomach distress, take an Eaton's after each meal. Big box costs only a trifle with your druggist's guarantee.

BOY SCOUTS

(Conducted by National Council of the Boy Scouts of America.)

SOME LIVE EAGLES

Troop 15 of Buffalo has passed its ten-year mark and still "going stronger." One of the most interesting features of its organization is its Eagle Life patrol, into which regular troop members graduate on reaching the age of seventeen or on going away to college. These Eagle Life members meet quarterly and have their own officers, organization and constitution, but they also meet with the troop and participate, at least three times a year, in a common program. Troop 15 has several "big ideas." One of these is contained in its slogan, "college for all." At present the troop has 12 boys in college, nine of whom declare that they would not have gone to college if it had not been for the influence of Troop 15. Scholarships amounting to several thousand dollars have been secured through the Eagle scholarship bureau.

Other Eagle departments are a vocational bureau, now in its seventh year, which has filled a real need and been remarkably successful, a travel bureau, which keeps records of journeys, with pictures and data, for the benefit of Eagles or their relatives traveling and the Eagle Troop development, established in 1917, which works through the individual Eagle keeping him active and interested in scouting. Some of the results of this service are: One Eagle a scoutmaster, three Eagles (two of them members of the American Legion) all assistant scoutmasters of Troop 15, five Eagles, assistant scoutmasters in their respective college town, and another, an assistant scoutmaster in the city in which he works.

An extension educational scheme is also another bright idea of the enterprising Eagles, a plan which looks to the encouragement of every Eagle to continue to study after graduation, and in general to enlarge his vision and keep his standards high. Certain annual honors are awarded the Eagles at their June meeting. For instance, the Eagle Feather is awarded the Eagle who has done the most worthwhile work in literature during the year. The Eagle Heart is awarded that Eagle who has done the most during the year to aid in growth and progress of Troop 15. The White Eagle is awarded the Eagle who, out in the world, best upholds the ideals of Troop 15 and the Boy Scouts of America generally for service.

WHAT SCOUTS ARE DOING.

In Kansas City boy scouts annually participate in the sanitary survey of the city conducted under the auspices of the Health department. Over 500 scouts turned out last spring for this service which included a census of fire hazards and health menaces throughout the entire city. Similar service is being rendered in many other cities by scouts.

Among other things, Erie, Pa., scouts last year built bird houses, conducted a Learn-to-Swim campaign, contributed to the Marne Memorial, aided in Salvation Army and Community Chest drive, acted as aides at Rotary Club convention, decorated soldier's graves, co-operated with the state game warden in planting walnut trees and distributed invitations to foreigners to attend Americanization classes.

Troop 1 of Florence, Alabama, took school census, aided chamber of commerce in checking up Federal census, and instructed 2,500 people in the use and location of fire alarm boxes.

Scouts of Bucyrus, Ohio, made an efficient collection of outstanding library books for the public library, conducted a clean-up in an old cemetery resetting stones and markers, acted as guides and messengers for over 400 delegates at the State Young People's conference.

Boy Scouts of Riverside, Cal., took a tree census, reporting not only number but species and location of each. For five years past they have guarded and patrolled the trails leading to the summit of Rubidoux Mountain, on the occasion of the Easter sunrise service.

SCOUTS BUILD MOTOR TRUCK.

A scout is ingenious. If anybody doubts it, let him look at the motor truck which some thrifty boy scouts out in Maxwell, Iowa, have recently built out of junked automobiles, with the addition of a damaged stationary engine which they got at a bargain. The car makes only ten miles an hour but it can and does carry a big load of boys and their duffel when they wish to convey themselves to camp or elsewhere. The hand-built car recently made the trip to the state fair with its owners where it aroused much interest.

The Kitchen Cabinet

He that riseth late must trot all day.—Poor Richard.

WHAT SHALL WE EAT.

For a small family fond of chop suey, a homemade variety will be found most appetizing.

Chop Suey.—Cut celery into two-inch strips, then shred, not too thin; cut one onion in bits. Fry one pound of very thinly sliced round steak, which is cut into inch squares, in suet fat. When brown, add a little water and simmer, adding more water until the meat has cooked an hour, then add the vegetables, salt, pepper and a half teaspoonful of sugar with two or three tablespoonfuls of Figi sauce, which comes in small bottles, retailing for twenty cents. The amount of seasoning depends upon the taste; a spoonful or two of caramel (brown sugar and water) adds a richness of color which makes the product more like the Chinese chop suey.

Junket Ice Cream.—This is not a new dish, but the sauce used with it makes a rather unusual one. To one quart of rich milk and one cupful of cream, warm to lukewarm, add one junket tablet, dissolved in a tablespoonful of water, mix well, add one cupful of sugar and one tablespoonful of vanilla; pour into the freezer can and let stand in a warm room until the junket is set, then chill and freeze as usual. When ready to serve, put the cream in long stemmed glasses and serve with French Nougat.—Roll without stirring one-half cupful of sugar and one-quarter of a cupful of water until it spins a thread four or five inches long then pour over the stiffly beaten whites of three eggs. Beat until glossy, then set aside. Roll together three cupfuls of sugar, one-half cupful of water and one cupful of corn sirup until it forms a firm ball when tried in ice water, or 248 degrees Fahrenheit. Pour this into the first mixture, stirring all the time. When nearly cool, add one tablespoonful of vanilla, one cupful of pecans and one cupful of candied pineapple and cherries cut in pieces. Continue to stir until stiff, then mold in a buttered pan. Candied ginger may be added if desired.

Give what you have to someone; it may be better than you dare to think.—Longfellow.

SOMETHING TO EAT.

When fresh milk is not available why not use condensed or evaporated milk? A most delicate soup may be prepared with a can of unsweetened milk and a can of pea soup. Heat them together and serve piping hot.

Banana Ice Cream.—Peel and mash six bananas, add the strained juice of half a lemon, one and one-half cupfuls of sugar, beat to a cream. Dilute two pint cans of condensed milk with one quart of water, and combine with the fruit mixture. Freeze, using one-third salt and two-thirds ice.

Cereal Pudding With Prunes.—Take one cupful of cooked cereal, two cupfuls of sweet milk, two tablespoonfuls of butter, one-half teaspoonful of salt, the yolks of two eggs, sugar to taste, and flavor with a bit of lemon peel. Mix ingredients and cook slowly in a buttered baking dish. When firm remove from the oven and cover with stewed prunes from which the stones have been removed; spread over this the beaten whites of two eggs, to which a pinch of salt, four tablespoonfuls of sugar and a grating of lemon peel has been added. Return to the oven to brown. Serve with cream.

Rosy Macaroni.—Break half a package of macaroni into short lengths and cook until tender in boiling salted water. In the meantime open one pint of tomato soup and dilute it with one-half can of boiling water. Add to this one tablespoonful of minced onion, two tablespoonfuls of chopped celery, a pinch of ground cloves, a pinch of soda and two tablespoonfuls of melted butter. Drain the macaroni and blanch with cold water; add one tablespoonful of butter and two tablespoonfuls of cornstarch with this. Add the tomato soup mixture and cook until free from lumps. Have ready a cupful of grated cheese, butter a shallow baking dish and put in a layer of macaroni, cover with sauce and grated cheese and season with paprika and salt. Repeat until the dish is full. Cover with buttered crumbs and bake in a moderate oven thirty-five minutes. Serve hot.

FORCED TO FIGHT FOR HER BREATH

Nashville Artist Tells of Terrible Suffering Experienced by His Wife.

HUSBAND GOES DOWN HILL

Finally Both Decide to Put Tanlac to Test and as a Result Have Enjoyed Best of Health for Past Three Years.

"Both my wife and myself have put Tanlac to the test and we call it the greatest medicine in the world," said J. T. Montamat, 1123 Third Ave., North, Nashville, Tenn., artistic sign painter for the Cusack Company. Mr. Montamat has lived in Nashville for nearly thirty years and is highly respected by all who know him.

"Before my wife took Tanlac she suffered so badly from gas on her stomach and heartburn that she often said she felt like she was smothering to death. She actually had to sit up in bed to get her breath.

"Well, in a short time after she began taking Tanlac her trouble disappeared and she was like a different person. Seeing the good results in her case, I began taking the medicine myself and it soon had me feeling like a brand new man.

"Up to that time I had been troubled with indigestion. I had no appetite and the little I did eat seemed to do me about as much harm as good. I felt so tired and languid I hated to move around, and was getting in such a run-down condition that it worried me.

"Tanlac acted with me just like it did with my wife, and although that was three years ago we have enjoyed the best of health all along. However, I keep a bottle of Tanlac in the house all the time, and when I feel myself getting run down the medicine soon has me feeling all right again. I am convinced that Tanlac's without an equal. Our friends all know how it helped us and I don't hesitate to tell anyone about it."

Tanlac is sold by leading druggists everywhere.—Adv.

LESSON FOR JUNE 12

MAKING THE WORLD CHRISTIAN.

LESSON TEXT—Isa. 11:1-10; Acts 1:6-9.
GOLDEN TEXT—The earth shall be full of the knowledge of the Lord, as the waters cover the sea.—Isa. 11:9.

REFERENCE MATERIAL—Esther 4:13-16; Psa. 33:12; Prov. 14:34.

PRIMARY TOPIC—Jesus' Love for the World.

JUNIOR TOPIC—What Jesus Did for the World.

INTERMEDIATE AND SENIOR TOPIC—Helping to Make a Better World.

YOUNG PEOPLE AND ADULT TOPIC—Christian Patriotism.

If by "Making the World Christian" the lesson committee means the conversion of the world in this dispensation by the preaching of the gospel, then we submit that they are in error, leading the people into false hopes. The main text chosen for our study pictures are the glorious coming age when Christ shall reign over the whole earth. Before this will take place Christ shall come in person and destroy the works of the devil and blind him and cast him into the pit (Rev. 19:11-21; II Thess. 2:3-10).

I. The Reign of Messiah the King (Isa. 11:1-12).

1. Messiah's lineage (v. 1). It was to be of David's line—royal stock. A rod or twig was to come out of Jesse, which indicates that the royal house was in a depressed state.

2. Messiah's qualification (v. 2). (1) The Spirit of the Lord, that is, a divine person proceeding from the Father and Son. (2) Spirit of wisdom, giving insight into all things human and divine. (3) Spirit of understanding, that is, to choose that which is highest and best. (4) Spirit of counsel, that is, the ability to make plans. (5) Spirit of might, that is, the ability to execute His plans. (6) Spirit of knowledge, that is, the ability to perceive the will of God in all things. (7) The fear of the Lord, that is, reverential and obedient fear.

3. The character of Messiah (vv. 3-5). (1) Quick to understand goodness (v. 3). (2) He shall not judge after external appearances (v. 3). (3) Shall not decide upon hearsay (v. 3). Each case shall be decided upon on the basis of absolute and perfect knowledge. (4) He shall defend and avenge the poor and meek of the earth (v. 4). The meek shall inherit the earth when Messiah reigns (Matt. 5:5). (5) Shall smite the earth (v. 4). Those whom He smites are the ungodly inhabitants who are then in federation against Christ. The head of this federation is the Antichrist (2 Thess. 2:8). (6) He shall have a zeal for justice and truth (v. 5).

4. Universal peace (vv. 6-9). This is a picture of the glorious golden age of which poets have sung and for which the wise men of all ages have longed and looked. There will then be peace not only between men, but between animals. This peace and harmony is shown in that in each change suggested each animal is coupled with its natural prey. (1) The wolf shall dwell with the lamb (v. 6). "Dwell" means intimacy, as if the lamb should receive the wolf into its home. The only place and circumstance at present in which the wolf and lamb dwell together is when the lamb is inside the wolf. (2) The leopard shall lie down with the kid (v. 6). (3) The calf, young lion, and fating shall be together (v. 6). They are so gentle and peaceable that a little child can lead them. (4) The cow and the bear shall feed together (v. 7). (5) The lion shall eat straw (v. 7), no longer flesh. (6) The sucking child shall play on the hole of the asp (v. 8). The most venomous serpent shall not harm little children. This blessed condition shall prevail over the whole earth (v. 9).

5. All nations shall gather unto him (vv. 10-12). The glorious reign of Christ shall attract the Gentile nations. This is the full purpose of the kingdom, namely, to attract the nations of the earth to Jesus Christ.

II. The Supreme Obligation of Believers in This Age (Acts 1:6-9). While we are not responsible for bringing in the kingdom, we are under solemn obligation to witness of the salvation which is graciously provided for all who will believe on Christ.

1. The disciples' question (v. 6). They were perplexed as to the time of the kingdom's establishment. They were right in the expectation of the kingdom, but were still in darkness as to the real purpose of God in calling the church.

2. Christ's answer (vv. 7, 8). He turned their attention from the desire to know times and seasons, which belong to God, to their supreme duty. They were to be witnesses of Christ to the uttermost parts of the earth, beginning at Jerusalem.

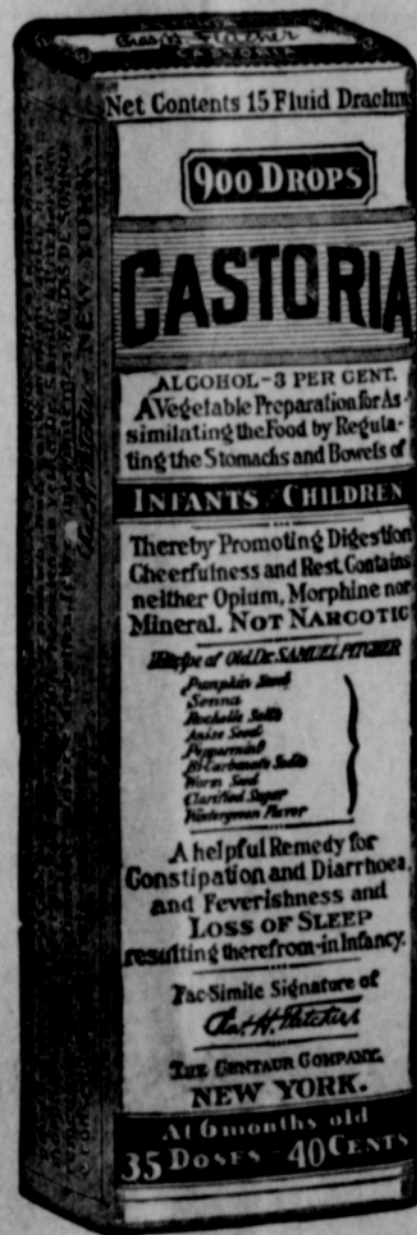

Baby Specialists.

THAT there are Physicians who specialize on Infant ailments you know. All Physicians understand Infant troubles: all Physicians treat them. It is his profession, his duty, to know human ills from the Stork to the Great Beyond.

But in serious cases he calls in the Specialist. Why? He knows as every Mother knows, or ought to know, that Baby is just a baby, needing special treatment, special remedies.

Can a Mother be less thoughtful? Can a Mother try to relieve Baby with a remedy that she would use for herself? Ask yourself; and answer honestly!

Always remember that Baby is just a baby. And remembering this you will remember that Fletcher's Castoria is made especially for Infants and Children.

CASTORIA

The False and the True.

Advertising by the use of large space, the expenditure of huge sums of money have placed on the market, have put in your home, perhaps, many articles that today have been discarded, as you will readily admit.

Do you recall anything that has more modestly appealed to the public than has Fletcher's Castoria: modest in all its claims, pleading at all times—and truthfully—for our babies?

The big splash, the misleading claims may win for a time, but the honest truth-telling advertiser is like the old story of the tortoise that beat the hare.

Mothers everywhere, and their daughters, now mothers, speak frankly, glowing, enthusiastically in praise of Fletcher's Castoria. Speak of it lovingly as a friend that has brought comfort, cheer and smiles to their little one.

To them: to these true mothers no argument can induce them to set aside their bottle of Castoria, their old friend, that they might try even another and unknown remedy for babies. Then, would YOU think of going to YOUR OWN medicine chest to find relief for Baby's troubles? Can you not separate the false from the true?

MOTHERS SHOULD READ THE BOOKLET THAT IS AROUND EVERY BOTTLE OF FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

ASPIRIN

Name "Bayer" on Genuine

Beware! Unless you see the name "Bayer" on package or on tablets you are not getting genuine Aspirin prescribed by physicians for twenty-one years and proved safe by millions. Take Aspirin only as told in the Bayer package for Colds, Headache, Neuralgia, Rheumatism, Earache, Toothache, Lumbago, and for Pain. Handy tin boxes of twelve Bayer Tablets of Aspirin cost few cents. Druggists also sell larger packages. Aspirin is the trade mark of Bayer Manufacture of Monoaceticacidester of Salicylicacid.—Adv.

Many a man mistakes ruffled self-pride for an aroused conscience.

Cuticura Soap for the Complexion. Nothing better than Cuticura Soap daily and Ointment now and then as needed to make the complexion clear, scalp clean and hands soft and white. Add to this the fascinating, fragrant Cuticura Talcum, and you have the Cuticura Toilet Trio.—Adv.

She Raked the Hay.

"Oh, come into the garden, Maud. What Maud did the poet mean?" "Maud Muller, of course."

If You Have a Pain try Yacher-Balm. Keep it handy, and avoid imitations.—Adv.

His Hobby.

"What is your husband's hobby?" "Complaining about my extravagance, I think."

What to Take for Disordered Stomach

Take a good dose of Carter's Little Liver Pills—then take 2 or 3 for a few nights after. You will relish your meals without fear of trouble to follow. Millions of all ages take them for Biliousness, Dizziness, Sick Headache, Upset Stomach and for Sallow, Pimples, Blotchy Skin. They end the misery of Constipation. FOSTER'S WEATHER BULLETIN (Copyrighted)

Washington, D. C., June 14—Indications are that July will not be an excessively hot month and I am not fearing extensive damages by hot winds or dry weather. There are always exceptions but I do not expect them to be extensive. In most sections of America and Canada the indications are favorable for July crop-weather to be normal. If it materially varies from a general average I would say that July will average wetter and cooler than usual. Rain fall for July will be located much the same as the average of May and June.
But most rain is expected in the Atlantic States with diminishing rain in direction of the Rockies' crest. This does not refer to inches of rain but to rain normals. Normal rain in some sections is one inch per month, other sections all the way up to ten inches.
When I say more rain I mean more than normal. I am expecting most rain during the weeks centering on July 4, 16 and 27. Coolest weather during the weeks centering on June 30
July 8 and 27.

Storm forces of July will average normal at least, with probabilities favorable to greater than usual intensity. The most severe storm periods will center around July 4, 16 and 27.
July, August, September and October are the hurricane or tropical storm months. The indications do not favor a hurricane but they do favor a tropical storm of less severity during the week centering on July 9. Such a tropical storm appeared in the week centering on June 5. That kind of a southern storm usually pulls down a severe northwestern cool wave. Probably the most severe storms of July will appear during the week centering on 16. But these July storms are not expected to be so dangerous as the storms early in June. Frosts seldom occur in North America from July 1 to Aug. 20, but unusually cool weather is expected during week centering on July 9.

My temperature forecasts for May averaged 78 per cent, near four fifths good. That is very much better than any mere guesser can do. These are daily temperature forecasts published more than a month in advance. They are tested by the U. S. Weather Bureau daily temperature records and by the accepted scientific methods. I regard this success as a world-beater, never before equaled. The forecasts are not based on sun spots, but on planetary positions. My rainfall forecasts for May are believed to be equally good, but they have not been tested by the records. My test forecast for August daily temperatures will be sent out last part of June.

I have carefully read the Co-operative Farmers' pamphlet giving their proposed methods for marketing farm products, particularly grain and believe that every producer and every consumer should read it. The pamphlet is sent free. Address that organization at Chicago and the pamphlet will be sent you free.

HOGVILLE

While on his way to the grist mill on Petunia Ridge, Friday, Zero Peck's wagon tire came off and he had gone some distance before he missed it, and says he is sorry he missed it all,
as he had a devil of a time getting it back on. In this Zero seems to have stumbled into one of the greatest mysteries of his time. He cannot understand how a tire can be so loose and come off so quick, and then be so darn hard to get back on the wheel. He had not been driving more than four or five minutes when the tire ran off, and it took him about three hours to get it back on and then he had to use several yards of baling wire wrappings to keep it from dropping off before he got the wheel back on the wagon. On the rest of the trip he kept a close eye on all the rest of his tires and other parts of his wagon.

A cousin of Alexander Moseley who was reported dead yesterday, came to life again. Alex says he was just a little slow about it, as he had done gone and gotten a hair cut for the funeral. He will insist that the cousin bear the expense of the hair cut, but will not approach him on the subject until he has fully recovered from the nervous shock of having been dead. He will say nothing about having to wash his face and hands, as he would have soon needed that anyway.

Lum Mathews is now more than 90 years old and says it seem to him he has more work unfinished and supposed to be done than he has done in the past 90 years. Lum was always bad about getting behind with his work and it seems the longer he lives the further behind he gets.

Styles seem slow to change in Hog-ville. Zero Peck came to this town years ago and he still wears the same hat and smokes the same pipe he wore and smoked when he came here. The Hogville Civic Improvement Society
(all women members), which takes it on itself to look after the town, may soon bring such pressure to bear that he will have to get a new pipe or quit smoking. There seems to be a great deal of sentiment of this kind developing here.

Several of the Hogville male citizens have missed their summer hair cuts on Saturday night on account of listening to the telling of funny jokes by the barber who did not get through telling them until closing time. It has been decided that no one next Saturday night will laugh at any of his jokes and try to impress him with the seriousness of the hair cutting situation in this town, and hot weather is right now upon us.

It is believed that Yam Sims has the only listening mule in captivity. Very frequently, he says, when he takes Miss Flutie Belcher out driving the mule stops, throws back its ears, listens a minute, then shakes its head and trots on.

Atlas Peck is thinking about moving to Rye Straw, but there is not a vacant house in town now. Some public spirited capitalist ought to put up a vacant house or two.

The Dog Hill preacher has been asked to go over into the Calf Ribs neighborhood and preach a trial sermon at the church, and if he suits the congregation they will make him an offer. They don't seem to like the preacher they have as he says what he thinks.

HOW TO SELECT LAYING HENS.
(By J. W. Jennings, County Agent.)

Everyone keeping poultry should make a practice of culling his flock every fall. Very often one-third of the hens may be culled out without materially affecting the egg production, thus very greatly reducing the feed bills. If the following facts are closely observed, anyone should be able to detect the best layers:

1. Hens that molt in September, October and November and molt quickly are the heaviest layers.
Early and slow molters should be culled out. Experiments have shown that 200-egg hens do not begin to molt until November.

2. Among the Rock, Wyandottes, Rhode Island Reds and Leghorn breeds hens with pale colored shanks are better layers than those with bright yellow shanks. Heavy producers will convert the feed into eggs rather than deposit it in the body cells. This indication holds good only in the fall of the year. The above principle also applies to the color of the ear lobes in breeds with yellow, creamy or white lobes. This does not apply to breeds having red ear lobes.

3. A constitutionally strong bird that passes through the molt quickly and easily is better than one that develops all kinds of ailments during the molt.

4. Hens that show the least brood-iness are better layers than those that are broody a large part of the time.

5. A hen with closely worn toe nails indicates a better layer than one with long nails, as this indicates that she is a good rustler. A lazy bird is not a good producer.

6. A hen that goes into the molt with a ragged plumage is a better layer than one with smooth plumage, as this also indicates hard work during the preceding season.

7. A hen that is off the roost early in the morning and returns to it late in the evening indicates a good layer for the same reason.

8. Hens that go to roost with a full crop is a good layer.

9. A hen to be in a laying condition must carry some body fat. A real poor hen cannot be a laying hen.

10. Rather large comb and wattles for the breed are considered good characteristics.

11. Early pullets are the best layers. Keep the early pullets.

"Margaret, isn't the Society column slim this week? I wish they'd get more news."

"Margaret, the society column is certainly slim today, isn't it?" said Mrs. Helen Blueblood as she sat in her parlor talking to Miss Margaret Highbrow.

"Yes, I think it's just ridiculous to get out a paper with no more society in it than today's paper has," replied Miss Margaret as she tilted her aristocratic nose in the air, and her patrician nostrils quivered with disapproval.

"Say, I certainly did have a time fibbing about that party I gave a few nights ago. The society editor called me up for the story on it, but you know of course, I simply couldn't give it to her. Why, what would Mrs. Finehair think if she knew I gave a social affair and didn't invite her? She never would invite me to one of her socials again."

"Well, that's just what I thought when the society editor called me up the other morning about the card party at my house," replied Miss Blueblood. "I tried to explain to the girl that I just couldn't invite all of my friends and I didn't want them to know about my giving a party. Then, the pert young thing had the effrontery to ask me how the women could expect her to get out a good society page, if all the women refused to give any society news they knew of. I told her that was none of my affair, but I told her if I were society editor, I just knew I could get out and get lots of news."

"Well, you couldn't get much if all of the women tried to keep their parties out like you do," she told me, "and I got angry and hung up in her face."

"I wish they'd get somebody who would get society news," answered Mrs. Highbrow. "I want to know what's going on in this town."

Three other women the same morning told the society editor the same thing. They didn't want their social doings in the paper because they feared some of those who were not invited might take offense. And all of them wondered why the paper didn't give an account of what the other four were doing.

Celebrated Wedding Anniversary.

Missionary Society.

The society met in a prayer service at the church Monday, after which all that were present enjoyed the splendid report of Mrs. Pember from the annual meeting at Quana. It seemed that each one felt they had attended the Conference, and Mrs. Pember was given a rising vote of thanks for bringing us the excellent report. And as we look across the vast sea of our work, O! Master, we feel the challenge of thy call and turn to thee for strength, fit us for thy work lest we fail thee.

During the past few days this theatre has been badly handicapped on account of trouble with its power plant, but the engine has been repaired and they have also secured another for emergency use.

Mr. McCelvey, the new manager, is planning to give the people a show every night in the week just as soon as he can arrange his program, and has some assurance that his power plant will give uninterrupted service.

On Saturday night, June 18, he is going to give absolutely free a 100-pound sack of sugar to some one attending the show. This is a premium worth while and you should be there to get it. Premiums will also be given each Saturday night in future until further notice.

BAPTISTS COLLECT $25,000,000 CASH

REDEMPTION OF PLEDGES EN COURAGING—SOUTHWIDE PROGRAM IS LAUNCHED.

COMPLETE GREATEST YEAR

Reports to Southern Baptist Convention at Chattanooga Show Marked Progress Along Every Line of Organized Work.

DR. J. H. RUSHBROOKE

Baptist Commissioner For Europe

Collections in cash totaling $25,103,424.64 have been made for general causes fostered by the Baptist 75 Million Campaign since the campaign was launched in 1919, according to a report to the Southern Baptist Convention, which has just adjourned its Chattanooga session, by Dr. L. R. Scarborough, general director of the campaign, and chairman of the Conservation Commission. The fact that $12,924,943.60 of this amount was collected during the past year, under the most depressing conditions known in years, is very encouraging to the denominational leaders, they say.

Will Seek the Unsaved.

Feeling the need of conserving the spiritual interests of the people as well as the financial aspects of the campaign, the convention asked the Conservation Commission to seek to enlist, through the state and associational organizations, all the 27,000 local Baptist churches in the South in a larger evangelistic effort during the next twelve months, the aim being to induce as many individual members of the churches as possible to win at least one soul to Christ during the new year. Reports to the convention showed that there were 173,595 persons received into the local Baptist churches by baptism during the past year, and a much larger number will be sought during the year ahead.

Would Evangelize Europe.

One of the interesting actions of the convention was the decision to back up fully the Foreign Mission Board in its program for the evangelization of the new European territory of Spain, Yugoslavia, Hungary, Roumania, the Ukraine and Southern Russia. Dr. J. H. Rushbrooke, of London, Baptist Commissioner for Europe, addressed the convention, telling how he had distributed the relief funds contributed by Baptists for the needy families of those countries and how the giving of this relief had opened wide the door of missionary opportunity.

Work on the older foreign fields during the past year was unusually successful, the board reporting receipts of $2,404,988 for its missionary operations and $278,000 for relief work, as well as $100,000 worth of clothing; 6,998 baptisms on the foreign fields; 187 of the 611 churches self-supporting, with a total of 405 foreign missionaries and 978 native workers employed.

Home Mission Board Active.

The Home Mission Board reported 77,072 additions to the churches through its instrumentalities, church extension operations of $1,248,000, and 298 patients treated at the Tubercular Sanatorium at El Paso.

During the year the receipts of the Sunday School Board reached $1,147,721.73, and the board turned back into general work of the denomination the sum of $189,000.

Although only three years of age, the Relief and Annuity Board, which seeks to supply the needs of aged, dependent ministers and their families, has doubled the number of beneficiaries receiving aid from the denomination as well as the amount of relief given. It now has permanent resources in excess of $900,000.

HEARD AROUND TOWN.

Yesterday afternoon
 J. T. Pinkston
 Came into the office
 And sat down to chat a while
 And several years ago
 He used to work
 On The Slatonite
 In this town
 And he began telling me
 How they ran things
 In those days
 And whenever a farmer
 Would come to town
 He'd usually drop in
 With a dozen eggs
 Or a country ham
 Or a frying-size chicken
 Or something of that kind
 And he'd leave them
 For the editor
 And in return
 The editor would write him up
 And give him
 A nice little puff
 About what a fine farmer he was
 And Pinkston said
 That on some days
 He'd seen enough stuff
 In the office
 To keep a family
 Living comfortably
 For a week or more
 And after a while
 He left the office
 But he made me think
 About those old days
 And I sort of wished
 That I'd been here then
 And some folk say
 That the old days
 Are coming back again
 And maybe they are
 But just the same
 I just want to say
 That I'm willing to bet
 The editor in Pinkston's time
 Didn't have a thing on me
 When it comes to eating
 And if a farmer
 Should happen to drop in
 And drop a country ham
 Somewhere around my desk
 I'd run his picture
 And devote the rest of the paper
 To his family history
 Provided it was all right
 And probably I'd be dead
 In the bargain.

GEORGE MARRIOTT, POPULAR
LIBRARIAN, HAS BIRTHDAY

On last Thursday George Marriott, popular librarian at the Santa Fe Reading Room, was sixty years old and is not ashamed of it. Mrs. Marriott was away attending the bedside of her father in Shreveport, La., and Mr. Marriott had no thought of any particular celebration, but along late in the afternoon people began to arrive at the reading room, suspiciously guarding large baskets and packages that they carried. Pretty soon the dining table was spread with refreshments that would tempt the palate of any one, and the party invited Mr. Marriott to preside at his birthday dinner, which he did in usual captivating manner. Some of the guests had provided cigars and the gentlemen enjoyed an after dinner smoke, following which the party engaged in dancing until a late hour.

Those present were: Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McKirahan, Virginia and Wilson McKirahan; Mr. and Mrs. L. B. Parker, Elaine Parker; Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Levey, Miss Dorothy Levey, Gilder Levey; Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Anton, Mary and Charlotte Anton; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Walter; Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Sutton; Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Goin; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Marriott, Audrey, Pauline and Charles Marriott; Milton Boisclair; Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Callaway; J. A. Molyneaux; G. E. Elkins.

FATHER OF J. S. EDWARDS
DIED IN NORTH CAROLINA

W. C. Edwards, aged about eighty-five years, died at the family home in Mill Spring, North Carolina, about 11 o'clock last Saturday night. He had been in failing health for a number of years.

Deceased was a member of the Methodist church. His wife preceded him to the grave about twenty years ago. He is survived by three sons, as follows: E. B. and W. B. Edwards of Tyrone, N. C., and J. S. Edwards of this city.

J. S. Edwards was unable to attend the bedside of his father on account of his own illness, but kept in touch with his condition by wire daily. He spent several weeks there visiting him during the past summer.

BASEBALL.

The local Elks and Masons crossed bats at the ball park Tuesday, and it was some game, believe me. It resulted in defeat for the Masons by a score 5 to 3, which indicated that both teams were pretty well supported by real ball players.

Batteries for the Elks: Walker and Case; Masons, Minor and Taylor.

Feature of the game was the fielding of Barton.

The Masons recently defeated the Odd Fellows in two straight games and now the Elks are crowing because they defeated the Masons. The Elks and Odd Fellows will play a game in the near future. These games are arranged for the benefit of the Cemetery Association, and should be well patronized.

The Slaton Baseball Club will go to Clovis for games Sunday and Monday. On Tuesday they will play Portales, going from there to Roswell for a four-game series Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday.

BUSINESS STANDING.

One of the greatest needs in rural communities at the present time is financial standing at the banks. Farmers who have bank accounts have few difficulties in buying and selling and in meeting their business associates on business terms. Those who have no business standing with business men are handicapped on the market whether they buy or sell. A small deposit in the bank is a great asset to any farmer and more of them should have this advantage.—Farm & Ranch.

The Voice of the Pack

Love story, adventure story, nature story—all three qualities combine in the "Voice of the Pack," a tale of modern man and woman arrayed against the forces of age-old savagery.

Prologue.

—1—

If one can just lie close enough to the breast of the wilderness, he can't help but be imbued with some of the life that pulses therein.—From a Frontiersman's Diary.

Long ago, when the great city of Glitcheapolis was a rather small, untidy hamlet in the middle of a plain. It used to be that a pool of water, possibly two hundred feet square, gathered every spring immediately back of the courthouse. The snow falls thick and heavy in Glitcheapolis in winter; and the pond was nothing more than snow water that the inefficient drainage system of the city did not quite absorb. Besides being the despair of the plumbers and the city engineer, it was a severe strain on the beauty-loving instincts of every inhabitant in the town who had any such instincts. It was muddy and murky and generally distasteful.

A little boy played at the edge of the water, this spring day of long ago. Except for his interest in the pond, it would have been scarcely worth while to go to the trouble of explaining that it contained no fish. He, however, bitterly regretted the fact. In truth, he sometimes liked to believe that it did contain fish, very sleepy fish that never made a ripple, and as he had an uncommon imagination he was sometimes able to convince himself that this was so. But he never took hook and line and played at fishing. He was too much afraid of the laughter of his boy friends. His mother probably wouldn't object if he fished here, he thought, particularly if he were careful not to get his shoes covered with mud. But she wouldn't let him go down to Glitcheapolis creek to fish with the other boys for mud cat. He was not very strong, she thought, and it was a rough sport anyway, and besides—she didn't think he wanted to go very badly. As mothers are usually particularly understanding, this was a curious thing.

The truth was that little Dan Failing wanted to fish almost as much as he wanted to live. He would dream about it of nights. His blood would glow with the thought of it in the springtime. Women the world over will have a hard time believing what an intense, heart-devouring passion the love of the chase can be, whether it be for fishing or hunting or merely knocking golf balls into a little hole upon a green. Sometimes they don't remember that this instinct is just as much a part of most men, and thus most boys, as their hands or their lips. It was acquired by just as laborious a process—the lives of uncounted thousands of ancestors who fished and hunted for a living.

It was true that little Dan didn't look the part. Even then he showed signs of physical frailty. His eyes looked rather large, and his cheeks were not the color of fresh sirlion, as they should have been. In fact, one would have had to look very hard to see any color in them at all. These facts are interesting from the light they throw upon the next glimpse of Dan, fully twenty years later.

Except for the fact that it was the background for the earliest picture of little Dan, the pool back of the courthouse has very little importance in his story. It did, however, afford an illustration to him of one of the really astonishing truths of life. He saw a shadow in the water that he pretended he thought might be a fish. He threw a stone at it.

The only thing that happened was a splash, and then a slowly widening ripple. The circumference of the ripple grew ever larger, extended and widened, and finally died at the edge of the shore. It set little Dan to thinking. He wondered if, had the pool been larger, the ripple still would have spread; and if the pool had been eternity, whether the ripple would have gone on forever. At the time he did not know the laws of cause and effect. Later, when Glitcheapolis was great and prosperous and no longer untidy, he was going to find out that a cause is nothing but a rock thrown into a pond of infinity, and the ripple that is its effect keeps growing and growing forever.

The little incident that is the real beginning of this story was of no more importance than a pebble thrown into the snow-water pond; but its effect was to remove the life of Dan Failing, since grown up, far out of the realms of the ordinary.

And that brings all matters down to 1919, in the last days of a particularly sleepy summer. You would hardly know Glitcheapolis now. The business district has increased tenfold. And the place where used to be the pool and the playground of Dan Failing is now laid off in as green and pretty a city park as one could wish to see.

Some day, when the city becomes more prosperous, a pair of swans and a herd of deer are going to be introduced, to restore some of the natural wild life of the park. But in the summer of 1919, a few small birds and possibly half a dozen pairs of squirrels were the extent and limit of the wild creatures. And at the moment this story opens, one of these squirrels was perched on a wide-spreading limb overhanging a gravel path that slanted through the sunlit park. The squirrel was hungry. He wished that some one would come along with a nut.

There was a bench beneath the tree. It there had not been, the life of Dan Failing would have been entirely different. If the squirrel had been on any other tree, if he hadn't been hungry, if any one of a dozen other things hadn't been as they were, Dan Failing would have never gone back to the land of his people. The little bushy-tailed fellow on the tree limb was the squirrel of Destiny!

BOOK ONE

Repatriation.

CHAPTER I.

Dan Failing stepped out of the elevator and was at once absorbed in the crowd that ever surged up and down Broad street. He was just one of the ordinary drops of water, not an interesting, elaborate, physical and chemical combination to be studied on the slide of a microscope. He wore fairly passable clothes, neither rich nor shabby. He was a tall man, but gave no impression of strength because of the exceeding sparseness of his frame. As long as he remained in the crowd, he wasn't important enough to be studied. But soon he turned off, through the park, and straightway found himself alone.

The noise and bustle of the crowd—never loud or startling, but so continuous that the senses are scarcely more aware of them than of the beating of one's own heart—suddenly and utterly died almost at the very border of the park. The noise from the street seemed wholly unable to penetrate the thick branches of the trees. He could even hear the leaves whispering and flicking together, and when a man can discern this, he can hear the coughs of a mountain lion on a trail at night. Of course Dan Failing had never heard a mountain lion. Except on the railroad tracks between, he had never really been away from cities in his life.

At once his thought went back to the doctor's words. They were still repeating themselves over and over in his ears, and the doctor's face was still before his eyes. It had been a kind face; the lips had even curled in a little smile of encouragement. But the doctor had been perfectly frank, entirely straightforward. There had been no evasion in his verdict.

"I've made every test," he said.

"They're pretty well shot. Of course, you can go to some sanitarium, if you've got the money. If you haven't—enjoy yourself all you can for about six months."

Dan's voice had been perfectly cool and sure when he replied. He had smiled a little, too. He was still rather proud of that smile. "Six months? Isn't that rather short?"

"Maybe a whole lot shorter. I think that's the limit."

There was the situation: Dan Failing had but six months to live. He began to wonder whether his mother had been entirely wise in her effort to keep him from the "rough games" of the boys of his own age. He realized now that he had been an underweight all his life—that the frailty that had thrust him to the edge of the grave had begun in his earliest boyhood. But it wasn't that he was born with physical handicaps. He had weighed a full ten pounds; and the doctor had told his father that a sturdier little chap was not to be found in any maternity bed in the whole city. But his mother was convinced that the child was delicate and must be sheltered. Never in all the history of his family, so far as Dan knew, had there been a death from the malady that afflicted him. Yet his sentence was signed and sealed.

But he harbored no resentment against his mother. It was all in the game. She had done what she thought was best. And he began to wonder in what way he could get the greatest pleasure from his last six months of life.

"Good Lord!" he suddenly breathed. "I may not be here to see the snows come!" Dan had always been partial to the winter season. When the snow lay all over the farm lands and bowed down the limbs of the trees, it had always awakened a curious flood of feelings in the wasted man. It seemed to him that he could remember other winters, wherein the snow lay for endless miles over an endless wilderness, and here and there were strange, many-toed tracks that could be followed in the icy dawns. But of course it was just a fancy. He wasn't in the least misled about it. He knew that he had never, in his lifetime, seen the wilderness. Of course his grandfather had been a frontiersman of the first order, and all his ancestors before him—a rangy, hardy breed whose wings would crumple in civilization—but he himself had always lived in cities. Yet the falling snows, soft and gentle but with a kind of remorselessness he could sense but could not understand, had always stirred him. He'd often imagined that he would like to see the forests in winter.

In him you could see a reflection of the boy that played beside the pond of snow water, twenty years before. His dark gray eyes were still rather large and perhaps the wasted flesh around them made them seem larger than they were. But it was a little hard to see them, as he wore large glasses. His mother had been sure, years before, that he needed glasses; and she had easily found an oculist that agreed with her.

Now that he was alone on the path, the utter absence of color in his cheeks was startling. That meant the absence of red—that warm glow of the blood eager and alive in his veins. Perhaps an observer would have noticed lean hands, with big-knuckled fingers, a rather firm mouth, and closely cropped dark hair. He was twenty-nine years of age, but he looked somewhat older. He knew now that he was never going to be any older. A doctor as sure of himself as the one he had just consulted couldn't possibly be mistaken.

He sat down on a park bench, just beneath the spreading limb of a great tree. He would sit here, he thought, until he finally decided what he would do with his remaining six months.

He hadn't been able to go to war. The recruiting officer had been very kind but most determined. The boys had brought him great tales of France.

FIRST VENTURE OF LIPTON

Friend Tells How He Took Chance With Patrons of a Rundown Grocery.

Dr. J. H. Ostrander, a personal friend of Sir Thomas Lipton, told recently for the first time the story of Lipton's initial business venture, an exchange states.

Lipton's first business venture was an event in one little corner of Glasgow. He bought for a few pounds a sorry old rundown provision shop that had changed hands a score of times; everybody had failed. It was in a neighborhood where profits were meager and housewives close traders, and where sharp practice and indifferent ethics precluded credit. So when Lipton announced that he would trust any decent neighbor once all foresaw his doom.

Lipton, however, did not mean that he would carry accounts 30 days, for at this period five such accounts would have swamped him. As he himself put it: "In misfortune I will carry any decent chap till Saturday night. I will be a friend to you in spite of prevailing business rules; but if you break faith with me you will lose a friend

It might be nice to go to France and live in some country inn until he died. But he didn't have very long to think upon this vein. For at that instant the squirrel came down to see if he had a nut.

It was the squirrel of Destiny. But Dan didn't know it then.

Bushy-tail was not particularly afraid of the human beings that passed up and down the park, because he had learned by experience that they usually attempted no harm to him. But, nevertheless, he had his instincts. He didn't entirely trust them. After several generations, probably the squirrels of this park would climb all over its visitors and sniff in their ears and investigate the back of their necks. But this wasn't the way of Bushy-tail. He had come too recently from the wild places. And he wondered, most intensely, whether this tall, forked creature had a pocket full of nuts. He swung down on the grass to see.

"Why, you little devil!" Dan said in a whisper. His eyes suddenly sparkled with delight. And he forgot all about the doctor's words and his own prospects in his bitter regrets that he had not brought a pocketful of nuts.

And then Dan did a curious thing. Even later, he didn't know why he did it, or what gave him the idea that he could decoy the squirrel up to him by doing it. That was his only purpose—just to see how close the squirrel would come to him. He thought he would like to look into the bright eyes at close range. All he did was suddenly to freeze into one position—in an instant rendered as motionless as the rather questionable-looking stone stork that was perched on the fountain.

Where Dan Failing decides to spend his last six months and who he really is, are interesting features of the next installment of "The Voice of the Pack."

Preserving Spiders' Webs.

Amateur entomologists will be interested in a suggestion made by Doctor Lutz for the preservation of all kinds of spiders' webs, says the Independent. The webs should be sprayed from an atomizer with artists' shellac, and then, if they are of the ordinary geometric form, pressed carefully against a glass plate, the supporting strands being at the same time severed. After the shellac is dried, the plates carrying the webs can be stored away in a cabinet. Even dome-shaped webs may be preserved in their original form by spraying them with shellac and then allowing them to dry before removal from their supports. Many spiders' webs are very beautiful, and all have interesting characteristics of the species to which they belong.

The Problem of Food.

The man or woman who lives on well-cooked food has more ambition and more strength to do the worthwhile things in life than the one who eats irregularly and amid unpleasant surroundings, says Good Housekeeping. It isn't necessary that large amounts of money should be spent for food, but it is essential that thought and care should be mixed with every menu. Some day those who now look upon the preparation of meals as irksome may get the new vision—the big idea that food and progress are linked together, and that without vision of the true place of good food in our daily lives from childhood to old age, the people perish!

Ideas Confused.

"How are the women here as conversationalists?"

"The light one over there is rather heavy, but the dark girl beside her is very light."

and I will lose my business." Thus he put them on their honor. And it won; won because sympathy and fellowship dominated the boy and excited like attributes in others.

Spread of Bathing in Europe.

Bathing came to Europe as one of the good results of the Crusades. The Knights of the Cross found baths in general use among the Saracens, and seeing what good things they were, on returning from those wars took the initiative for their introduction. In this they were highly successful first in England and from that to other countries. So popular did the bath become that it became customary to have one before ceremonies such as marriage or knighthood, and the people have been ever since learning the value of keeping their skins clean.

The Power in a Tree.

A young man wished to measure the force that drives the sap upward in trees and shrubs. So he cut a vine and tied a bladder over its end. In two hours the bladder was greatly distended, and inside of three hours it burst with a pop, so great is the force that drives sap upward.—Popular Science Monthly.

ALL HIT BY WAGE REDUCTION

Skilled and Unskilled Employees of the Norfolk and Western Railroad to Be Treated Alike.

Sweeping reductions in wages for more than 25,000 Norfolk and Western employees, including members of all railway organizations, both skilled and unskilled labor have been brought to light.

A meeting between representatives of trainmen and conductors and Norfolk and Western officials held at Roanoke a short time ago, at which time a proposed reduction was discussed, resulted in a request by the trainmen that a reply to the road's proposals be deferred.

Railway telegraphers on the Norfolk and Western system, the shop crafts, the clerks' organization, clerks, engineers, firemen, trainmen, conductors and maintenance of way employees have had the wage-reduction proposals made to them.

OTHER LABOR NOTES

Tug and dredge men at the head of the lakes resumed work after accepting a reduction of $15 in wages.

Responsible employees of the Kay-see company of Cleveland, O., participate in the profits of the company as a reward for their faithfulness.

Chesapeake and Ohio tugboat engineers struck at Newport News, Va., in sympathy with the seamen, refusing to move either American or foreign ships.

The molders' strike at the Chicago Hardware foundry in North Chicago, Ill., in progress since February 3, was called off. The workmen accepted a 20 per cent wage cut.

In New York the International Jewelry Workers' union is resisting the effort of the employers to replace the 44-hour week with the 48-hour and re-establish other prewar conditions.

Coal mine operators in New South Wales intimate that they must close down at the expiration of government control, claiming that to continue under present conditions would mean bankruptcy.

The Flint (Mich.) plant of the Chevrolet Motor company began increasing its force at a rate that will add from 1,200 to 1,500 men within the next two weeks, with all departments operating on full time.

The port of Boston was idle, following a walkout of union tugboat engineers. The engineers struck when an attempt was made by owners to substitute non-union firemen for union men on strike.

The executive committee of the Philadelphia Pressmen's union ordered a strike which affects 4,000 commercial pressmen. Press feeders already had joined the compositors in their strike for a 44-hour week.

Governor Channing Cox of Massachusetts signed the Voluntary Association bill, under which labor unions can be sued in court. Labor leaders have termed the bill the "most vicious blow against labor ever made."

New York "wet wash" laundry wagon drivers now draw down an average of $100 to $115 weekly. The only artisans ahead of them are rabbit skinner and window cleaners, who are said to sometimes make more than $200 a week.

Quelling a riot of 400 striking building trades laborers and sympathizers, several policemen of Rochester, N. Y., were severely bruised, two rioters seriously shot and fifty others, both men and women, stunned and mutilated by riot sticks.

Admiral W. S. Benson, chairman of the United States shipping board, announced that six government ships have been taken from the United States Transport company because the company signed an agreement with striking marine workers maintaining the old wage rate. The vessels had been allocated to the company.

By a vote of 17 to 5, the Illinois house of representatives industrial affairs committee reported favorably the bill to establish a commission to investigate and fix a minimum wage scale for women workers. This is the bill personally indorsed for three months by Miss Jeanette Rankin, former member of congress. The vote is considered a distinct victory for the measure.

At Bridgeport, Ohio, the Aetna-Standard plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company resumed operations in full. The plant will operate three days a week. The Wheeling Steel corporation tin plate plant at Yorkville is working twelve mills. Early resumption of the Laughlin plant of the American Sheet and Tin Plate company in Martins Ferry, Ohio, two weeks, is anticipated.

The wage scale that will be put into effect by the Building Employers' association of Holyoke, Mass., under open-shop conditions was announced. It provides 80 cents an hour or less for general building mechanics, 65 cents or less for mason tenders, 90 cents or less for bricklayers, masons and plasterers. The association provides that none of its members shall make an agreement with any union in the Building Trades council during 1921.

GALOMEL DYING FAST IN SOUTH

"Dodson's Liver Tone" Is Taking the Place of Dangerous, Sickening Drug.

You're bilious, sluggish, constipated and believe you need vile, dangerous calomel to start your liver and clean your bowels.

Here's Dodson's guarantee! Ask your druggist for a bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone and take a spoonful tonight. If it doesn't start your liver and straighten you right up better than calomel and without griping or making you sick I want you to go back to the store and get your money.

Take calomel today and tomorrow you will feel weak and sick and nauseated. Don't lose a day's work. Take a spoonful of harmless, vegetable Dodson's Liver Tone tonight and wake up feeling great. It's perfectly harmless, so give it to your children any time. It can't silitate so let them eat anything afterwards.—Adv.

ANOTHER WOMAN ESCAPES

Mrs. McCumber Avoided a Serious Operation by Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound in Time

Georgetown, Ill.—"After my first baby was born I suffered so with my left side that I could not walk across the floor unless I was all humped over, holding to my side. I doctored with several doctors but found no relief and they said I would have to have an operation. My mother insisted on my taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and I soon found relief. Now I can do all my own work and it is the Vegetable Compound that has saved me from an operation. I cannot praise your medicine too highly and I tell all of my friends and neighbors what the Compound did for me." — Mrs. MARGARET McCUMBER, 27 S. Frazier St., Georgetown, Illinois.

Mrs. McCumber is one of the unnumbered thousands of housewives who struggle to keep about their daily tasks, while suffering from ailments peculiar to women with backache, sideaches, headaches, bearing-down pains and nervousness, and if every such woman should profit by her experience and give Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a trial they would get well.

SHOW UNEVEN HEM

Vandyke Mode Featured in Gowns for Afternoon Wear.

French Designers Are Showing Dresses Short in Front and Very Long at Back.

Some of the new French models for afternoon wear show the popular uneven hem; the favorite idea seems to be the uneven, vandyke points at either side, sometimes as many as three. When the skirt is longer back and front than at the sides it looks rather untidy, but the longer sides give a quaint and not unbecoming outline.

Curiously enough, writes a Paris fashion correspondent, Redfern and Doucet are both showing dinner gowns which are notably short in front and very long at the back. When I say short in front I mean something remarkably short—cut up in fact to show the lower limbs half way up to the knees. In some cases a semi-transparent plaited petticoat is introduced and this is often made of silver or gold lace. The cut-up front is distinctly becoming.

Black gowns for afternoon and evening wear are becoming ubiquitous. Every possible material is called into use, but the two popular stuffs are panne and charmeuse—especially panne.

I recently saw an exquisite dinner gown made of black panne, which had irregular embroideries worked in pale gold threads strewn over the tunic over-dress. There was a heavy, irregular fringe of gold and jet beads and the upper part of the corsage was made up entirely of fine gold lace. At the waist there was a cluster of purple grapes and a few bright red roses.

Hardly any of the new evening dresses have sleeves of any kind. The arms are bare right up to the shoulder; very often the back is equally bare, but this fashion is not meeting with the approval of the best Parisiennes. Some of the Rue de la Paix dressmakers are showing such grossly exaggerated evening models that women of fine taste have revolted.

Wide Sailors Back.

The wide, flat-brimmed sailor hat is back with us and already popular.

CORRECT FOR THE LUNCHEON

Bisques and Bouillions Should Be Served in Two-Handled Cups—the Latest.

Bisques and bouillions are the correct soups for luncheons and should be served in two-handled cups (the newest form is the two-handled cup which is very shallow and broad—known as a "cream soup cup"). The use of bouillon cups at dinner or of soup plates at luncheon stamps the hostess as ill-informed. Roast beef or mutton may not be offered as the hearty course at luncheon; chops, croquettes, patties, birds or broiled chicken are correct. A formal luncheon may be started with a fruit course of berries, grapefruit or melon; or with a cocktail of mixed fruits; or with clams, crab meat or oysters.

Leading Colors.

One dress of burnt orange linen has collar and cuffs of Maderia embroidery. Burnt orange and honeydew are the leading shades.

STREET GOWN OF BLUE CREPE

This extremely modest street gown was developed by a Parisian designer. The fabric is moroccan crepe and of blue crepe, soutached with gold braid. A belt buckle of cloth, cut in an antique design, completes the ensemble.

BRIEF FASHION NOTES

Drawnwork on light frocks is a very popular form of decoration.

Double stitching is used as trimming on tailored serge suits.

Plaited flounces are used on sleeves as side panels and as tunics.

An effective mode is the hanging of loose panels from a low waist line.

Swagger coats have high-buttoned necks and narrow fitted shoulders.

Among new fabrics for evening are self-tone brocades and beaded nets.

Falottes in square and oblong shapes are in much demand for evening gowns.

Taffeta for hats is used in a combination brim of the taffeta and a crown of leghorn.

Plaid and striped ginghams are being used for warm weather separate skirts for both children and grownups.

The "handkerchief" drape is one of the new ideas evolved to bring about the uneven line at the skirt edge so much favored this season.

To terminate with ostrich tips the long ribbon streamers which fall below the skirt of the dancing frock is the very latest. These tips may match in color with the dress or may be in vivid contrast.

Many lace dresses have skirts in deep, overlapping flounces; other models show lace draperies and almost invariably the lace falls here and there below the edge of the underskirt, making a soft, shadowy effect above the ankles.

Much Sun Fades Hair.

It is a bad thing to wear a hat too often. It is also a bad thing never to wear a hat at all, unless the hair happens to be unusually strong and oily. It is not a good thing to go outdoors too much in the hot summer sun without a head-covering. Nothing is better than to dry the hair in the sun after the shampoo, letting the warmth of the sun's rays reach every part of the scalp. But to go out under too hot a sun by the hour will tend to bleach the top of the hair while the underneath part will stay its natural color.

LONG SLEEVE, BELL-SHAPED

Arm Coverings for Morning and Afternoon Frocks Are Nearly All Full Length.

Marked features at the Paris openings show the straight silhouette of former seasons, the low waistline, and a new note sounded in the entrance of full circular skirts with decidedly flat backs. Sleeves for morning and afternoon frocks are nearly all full length and are set in at deep arm holes. They are quite slim and widen at the wrists to form something like the old-fashioned bell shape. Neck lines are square or rounded and the new tailored dresses show many high collars. Tailored dresses are made of all kinds of crepe materials, printed chiffons, and waxed taffetas are extensively used. Narrow valenciennes lace is featured as trimming on serge and crepe frocks.

Coats and Vests.

In addition to the capes and cape coats, there is a leaning toward coats with vests of contrasting color.

WOMEN NEED SWAMP-ROOT

Thousands of women have kidney and bladder trouble and never suspect it.

Women's complaints often prove to be nothing else but kidney trouble, or the result of kidney or bladder disease.

If the kidneys are not in a healthy condition, they may cause the other organs to become diseased.

Pain in the back, headache, loss of ambition, nervousness, are often times symptoms of kidney trouble.

Don't delay starting treatment. Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, a physician's prescription, obtained at any drug store, may be just the remedy needed to overcome such conditions.

Get a medium or large size bottle immediately from any drug store.

However, if you wish first to test this great preparation send ten cents to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., for a sample bottle. When writing be sure and mention this paper.—Adv.

SPLINTER MARKS FAR NORTH

Little Peninsula Extending Into Lake of the Woods in Canada Is American Territory.

Many Americans have worried about a stubby little peninsula which extends from Canada into the Lake of the Woods north of the forty-ninth parallel, which marks the established boundary between Canada and the United States from the Lake of the Woods to Puget sound.

This small area, chopped off from Canada and surrounded on three sides by the waters of the Lake of the Woods, belongs to the United States. Disregarding Alaska, it is the northernmost land of the American republic.

No map shows any town or village in the remote and isolated region. It appears merely as a trackless forest wilderness.

Now it is indicated that there is a village in this forgotten enclave, for a post office has been established at Penasse, and a weekly mail service is maintained. During the winter the service will be by horse and sleigh across the ice of the lake.

In the summer a motorboat will be used.

SOMEWHAT HARD TO EXPLAIN

Principal Could Hardly Have Chosen More Inopportune Moment to Make His Entry.

I was a callow school teacher, nervous and anxious to please, writes a correspondent. In my first year I followed the usual scheme, substituting or cadeting for teachers absent for various causes. I was at a school one day teaching in the absence of a woman who was ill. During the morning exercises I read a couple of chapters from a story, as was her custom. I cannot remember the name of the book, but I had just read "But here comes the author of all our troubles," when the door suddenly opened and in walked the principal. The room, composed of high-school sophomores, burst into one prolonged roar of laughter. The principal, a man insistent upon his dignity, waited patiently, but one burst of laughter followed another. I tried to explain, but began to laugh myself. Finally, realizing that it was the only way to restore order, he left the room. Later I explained and he saw the joke.

Bridal Superstition.

According to old belief it is an omen of good luck—a long and happy married life—for a bride to slip as she passes up the aisle on her way to the altar.

Every man likes to hear a wise woman—because she always talks to him about himself.

A man talks about love as if he were ashamed of the conversation.

Slaton's Four Big Stores Throw Up Their Hands and Call in the PRICE CUTTER!

H. G. CLARK HIMSELF, IS HERE

These Four Big stocks have been turned over with full authority to make any prices necessary to pass them out to the people of this community in eight days.

I AM MAKING THIS STATEMENT FOR THE PURPOSE OF PREPARING YOU FOR ONE OF THE MOST UNUSUAL ANNOUNCEMENTS IN SLATON'S MERCANTILE HISTORY. I AM GOING TO TELL YOU THE PLAIN FACTS PERTAINING TO THE RETAIL BUSINESS

WITHOUT EVASION OR SUBTERFUGE, AND WITH THE CERTAIN KNOWLEDGE OF YOUR ABILITY TO CORRECTLY JUDGE THE CIRCUMSTANCES AND ANALYZE THE PECULIAR SITUATION THAT CONFRONTS US ALL TODAY—NO MATTER WHETHER LABORER, BANKER OR MERCHANT.

THE PUBLIC STOPPED BUYING AND THE MANUFACTURER STOPPED PRODUCTION! WILL THAT BRING PRICES DOWN AND PUT US ALL ON A NEIGHBORLY BASIS? I LEAVE THAT TO YOU TO ANSWER. BUT HERE'S A CERTAINTY—THE MERCHANT CAN'T STOP SELLING! HE MUST KEEP HIS STOCK TURNING, KEEP HIS CLERKS BUSY, PAY HIS RENT AND OTHER EXPENSES. THESE THINGS HE MUST DO, AND WHEN HE FAILS TO MAKE EXPENSES OVER HIS COSTS, HE MUST GET THEM UNDER COST BY USING PART OF HIS ORIGINAL CAPITAL TO MEET CURRENT EXPENSES, AND THAT IS SUICIDAL.

There's a Stopping Place

WHEN PRICES START DOWNWARD THEY ARE JUST AS HARD TO HOLD ON A REASONABLE BASIS AS THEY ARE WHEN GOING UPWARD. BUT THERE MUST BE A MIDDLE GROUND, A PRICE BASIS FAIR TO ALL CONCERNED, ELSE THE MERCHANT AND MANUFACTURER MUST GO BANKRUPT AND THE CONSUMER FIND HIMSELF OUT OF A JOB.

ALL WILL SELL OUT—Not to Quit Business But to Stay in Business

TO SELL A STOCK TODAY THERE'S NO SUCH THING AS MAKING A PROFIT. IT'S THE SHORTEST CUT TO TAKING THE MINIMUM LOSS AND START IN BUSINESS ALL OVER AGAIN ON THE NEW MARKET—TO BE ABLE TO BUY AND SELL ON TODAY'S PRICES. THESE FOUR SLATON MERCHANTS PROPOSE TO DO THAT VERY THING. AND WHEN THE PRESENT STOCKS ARE SOLD—WHEN THEY ARE IN YOUR HANDS AT PRICES PEOPLE ARE WILLING TO PAY, THE FIRMS' BANK ACCOUNTS WILL SHOW THEIR ACTUAL WORTH TO BE PROBABLY LESS THAN TWO-THIRDS THE ACTUAL CASH VALUE OF THE MERCHANDISE, THUS NOT ONLY WIPING OUT ALL THE CONTEMPLATED PROFITS BUT A GOOD PART OF THE ORIGINAL COST. NO OPPORTUNITY HAS BEEN OFFERED YOU IN YEARS TO COMPARE WITH THIS.

SALE STARTS FRIDAY AT 9 O'CLOCK

AND WILL CONTINUE UNTIL SATURDAY NIGHT, JUNE 25—JUST EIGHT DAYS. EVERY PRICE WILL BE DRASTICALLY REDUCED—REDUCED UNTIL IT MEETS THE PUBLIC IDEA OF FAIRNESS.

THIS IS NOT TO BE CLASSED WITH THE ORDINARY SALE, BUT IS HEAD AND SHOULDERS ABOVE ANYTHING THAT HAS EVER BEEN ATTEMPTED IN THE HISTORY OF LOCAL RETAILERS. WE ASK YOU IN ALL FAIRNESS TO YOURSELF, TO BE SENSIBLE, FOR NOW IS THE TIME TO EXERCISE YOUR SENSE, BECAUSE BARGAIN BRILLIANCY DOMINATES THIS ENTIRE ADVERTISEMENT.

Here is an Announcement in which action is the prime consideration, and we pay the price to get it:

Our message to you is going to be short and sweet. We have this stock. We cannot afford to have it on our hands any longer and we are out to move it and move it quickly. What is the elixir for a quick movement of stock these days? That's right—Prices. Very well. Then we are going to sell this entire stock at sub-seller prices—prices so low that were we to quote them all here it would be most natural for you, without opportunity for thorough inspection to under-rate the merchandise and discount the values represented.

All we say is this. We must have action and if you will "talk turkey" to us, we will talk business to you.

Customers who have bought Dry Goods and Clothing from us for years need no reminder that these goods are without a peer from the standpoint of intrinsic merit and full value. Those who have not, should take this opportunity to become acquainted with the wonderful class of merchandise that we handle and find out why we have set the standard in our field and maintained it for so many years. Action begets action, so do not hesitate but attend this sale at your earliest convenience, because we are not going to stop at anything, but have determined to give you values that will make you talk about this sale for years to come.

M. D. JONES

AND NOW LET'S TALK ABOUT FURNITURE.

FOR WEEKS AND MONTHS PRICES IN OTHER GOODS HAVE BEEN TUMBLING "BACK TO NORMAL" WAS THE SLOGAN, AND BACK THEY WENT. NOW FOR FURNITURE!

Today the cost of producing furniture is almost where it was two years ago. The savings are big, the values are phenomenal. We have taken advantage of every opening for our customers. Our warehouses are filled with furniture bargains which we feel almost certain will not be seen so cheap again.

On Friday next and each day thereafter we will feature certain lots of specials which will crowd our furniture floor with values and customers.

Read our furniture advertisements fully. Walk through our furniture floor Friday. Study the pieces and prices. This is one of the largest and busiest furniture departments in the country because we have the RIGHT GOODS AT REAL SAVINGS!

A. E. HOWERTON

Every statement in this circular is true. Nothing has been overdrawn—just facts. Should you be one of the few persons that fail to take advantage of this far-reaching opportunity that has been made for your benefit, you will have no one to blame but yourself.

This is the greatest merchandise offering of recent years in good, reliable merchandise. Everything is select stock throughout, and we were able to obtain great price concessions from one of the country's best manufacturers, and the punch of our cash in hand broke the high price walls.

In inaugurating this sale of sales, we feel certain that it will meet with your approval, because it will make your dollar worth more than one hundred cents. It gives every penny you spend here during the progress of this sale more power. It gives you the opportunity to pick what you want from the biggest and best stocks of merchandise in this entire community, and this campaign will go down on record as the biggest and boldest bargain event ever known in the State of Texas.

J. M. SIMMONS

We will take the entire community by storm, in the biggest, boldest and most drastic price revision ever attempted in the history of local retailing.

We have gone through every department in this store and have reserved nothing—held back nothing—everything, hundreds of new things are placed on sale.

A visit to this gigantic sale will make your old pocketbook glad, and will make your dollars have more than a hundred cents purchasing power.

Remember, this is not an every day sale, but a sale head and shoulders above anything you ever saw. Don't delay. Come Friday, and profit through this immense undertaking.

A visit will convince you how far you can stretch the purchasing power of a dollar. Every article in this big stock has been cut to the limit and it would take many pages to list the hundreds of money-saving opportunities that await you here.

Come early to this gigantic merchandise movement. Compare the prices and when you have figured the savings on your purchases, you will be glad that you came here bargain hunting for you and the good people of this community.

J. V. HOLLINGSWORTH

Co-Operative Sale Greatest Event in History of Slaton

TODAY WILL BE LIKE "CIRCUS" DAY FOR THE CITY.

People coming for miles for Great Bargains!

Without a doubt Friday will be the greatest day ever known in the city of Slaton. When four large stores like M. D. Jones, Dry Goods; Howerton's, Furniture; J. V. Hollingsworth, Drugs, and J. M. Simmons' Grocery combine and throw their entire stocks out at the mercy of the public a Mighty Bargain Mob is bound to take advantage of it.

Unbelievable bargains, such articles as Gingham for 5c yard, Percales 10c yard, lanterns worth $2.00 for 25c, Drinking Glasses worth 15c for 4c, sugar $8.75 per hundred pounds, flour $4.85, and 75c box of face powder with a 30c bar of toilet soap for 25c, men's suits worth up to $35.00 for $9.85, and 150-yard spools of cotton thread 2 spools for 5c, women's shoes for 95c and men's, women's and children's hose at 5c pair, promises to place everyone in a position to realize the full purchasing power of every penny.

A Master Stroke.

This great sale is the most progressive step ever taken by Slaton merchants and means that the people for fifty miles around are going to buy necessities that have heretofore been prohibitive on account of high prices. Poor and rich alike will rub elbows and although eight days is sufficient time for everyone to make their purchases there will be a grand rush for the cream of the stocks.

Over 35,000 People Invited.

This is the widest advertised sale ever known in this country. Every person within 50 miles of Slaton has been notified and thousands have signified their intention of being first in line.

No Prizes Offered.

You will notice that throughout the large eight-page circulars there is item after item of necessities at ridiculously low prices. In preference to offering large and costly prizes these stores thought it more desirable to give each and every customer more for their money than they could find elsewhere.

In eliminating the prize feature it enabled them to make prices much lower than seems believable. Prizes must be paid for by all and a prize can be enjoyed by only a few. LOW PRICES can be enjoyed by everyone.

The public wants to pay the low dollar. That's why Slaton will resemble a young city Friday and Saturday.

This Co-Operative Sale is under the direction of H. G. Clark, a very capable and experienced man in this line. He has just completed several large sales in this section and has been very successful.

650 QUARTS BOOZE SEIZED BY OFFICERS AT PLAINS

Brownfield, June 15.—Sheriff Keller of Yoakum county arrested a man at Plains yesterday and took from his car nearly 200 quarts of whiskey. An hour later the sheriff of this place intercepted a big Cadillac touring car with a man and his wife and took from the car 450 quarts of whiskey. The two cars were apparently traveling together but had become separated at Plains. Both were from El Paso and said they were headed for Ft. Worth.

REV. A. V. HENDRICKS ATTENDING SUMMER SCHOOL

Rev. A. V. Hendricks, pastor of the local Methodist church, left Tuesday for Dallas to attend the Summer School of Theology at the Southern Methodist University. The church is paying the expense of Rev. Hendricks, which is indele commendable.

Announcement is made that Mr. Shackelford will address the congregation at the Methodist church Sunday morning in behalf of the Christian Education campaign.

Wilselma Theatre PROGRAM.

Friday, June 17, "Hold Me Tight," comedy; "Parlor Bull," comedy; "Son of Tarzan," serial.
Saturday, June 18, "Society Snobs," a feature picture.

On Saturday night the management of this theatre will also award the 100 pound sack of sugar to some one attending the show.

Aid for Confederate Soldiers.

On the fourth Saturday in July we will vote on a constitutional amendment proposing to increase the amount of pensions for Confederate soldiers and their widows, and if it should be adopted the tax rate would be increased from 5 to 7 cents on the $100 worth of property. Soon these worthy people will pass away. Then this tax will not be collected. The question now is, are we willing to increase their comforts a little while they are with us?

FEDERATED SHOP CRAFTS AIDS FLOOD SUFFERERS

E. F. Eastridge, secretary-treasurer of the Federated Shop Crafts of Slaton, states that the organization here contributed $101.45 to the flood sufferers among the shop crafts on the Santa Fe system at La Junta, Colo., and the money has been forwarded to them. That is quite a nice sum for this organization to donate considering that so few of the men are now at work.

"The Voice of the Pack" is a new serial story starting in this issue of The Slatonite. Be sure to read it.

A Gripping Interesting Story from Mr. Simmons:

WHEN WE START THROWING ALL OF OUR HIGH GRADE GROCERIES INTO THIS PRICE MAELSTROM, IT WILL BE OF SUCH DRASTIC, SWEEPING AND SENSATIONAL CHARACTER AS WILL CAUSE THE REMARKABLE SAVINGS OF THIS SALE TO THUNDER ACROSS THE ENTIRE STATE. THE DEPENDABILITY OF THE MERCHANDISE PURCHASED AT J. M. SIMMONS IS WELL KNOWN TO THOUSANDS OF PEOPLE THROUGHOUT THE STATE—PEOPLE WHO LOOK FORWARD TO KEEPING THEIR SAVINGS IN THE MOST DEPENDABLE BANKS—WISELY DO THE SAME IN BUYING OUR GROCERIES, AND LOOK NO FURTHER THAN HERE FOR VALUES AND HONEST GOODS. WE FEEL JUSTIFIED IN STATING THAT THERE ARE HUNDREDS OF ECONOMIC PEOPLE WHO HAVE PURCHASED THEIR GROCERIES FOR THE PAST EIGHT YEARS AT THIS STORE, AND WHEN WE ANNOUNCE SUCH A SARDONIC PRICE SMASHING EVENT, IT SPREADS LIKE WILD FIRE.

OUR BIG, GIGANTIC STOCK WILL BE ON SALE AT PRICES THAT WILL AMAZE YOU, AND YOU SHOULD ARRANGE TO COME EARLY, AS THERE WILL BE THOUSANDS HERE TO JOIN YOU. BE HERE EARLY BECAUSE GRATEFUL, CLAMORING AND ENTHUSIASTIC MOBS WILL SURELY STORM OUR DOORS, BECAUSE THIS CAMPAIGN IS INVOLVING A HECTIC BLAST IN MERCHANDISING. DON'T DELAY, BECAUSE DELAY SPELLS DISASTER! WE HAVE ARRANGED OUR STOCK SO THAT YOU CAN WAIT ON YOURSELF, EVERY ARTICLE SHOWING WHERE FORMER PRICES HAVE BEEN CUT TO THE BONE.

About Grocery Sales

YOU OFTEN SEE DIFFERENT ARTICLES OF A GROCERY STOCK ADVERTISED, BUT YOU SELDOM SEE A STORE-WIDE MASSACRE OF GROCERIES. WE HAVE GONE INTO THIS GREAT CO-OPERATIVE SALE WITH OUR COATS OFF AND WE MEAN TO SELL GROCERIES IN WAGON LOAD LOTS. OUR PRICES WILL CAUSE PEOPLE TO COME FROM A DISTANCE OF FIFTY MILES AND BUY BY THE CASE LOTS AND HUNDRED POUNDS. NEVER IN THE HISTORY OF WESTERN TEXAS HAVE THE PEOPLE HAD A LIKE OPPORTUNITY. NECESSITIES TO THE LIFE OF EVERY PERSON PLACED ON BARGAIN COUNTERS MEANS THAT OUR DOORS WILL BE STORMED FROM OPENING TIME UNTIL CLOSING TIME. WE'LL SELL OUT, NOT TO QUIT BUSINESS, BUT TO STAY IN BUSINESS. WE'LL MAKE ENEMIES AND WE WILL MAKE HUNDREDS OF FRIENDS THAT HAVE NEVER BEFORE VISITED OUR STORE. WE HAVE DECIDED THAT THE PUBLIC TODAY WANT TO PAY THE LOW PRICE. THE LOW PRICE IS THE ELIXIR OF BIG BUSINESS, AND WE'RE GOING AFTER BIG BUSINESS WITH OUR SHIRT OFF.

It is impossible for us to price everything in this big advertisement, but we can promise you that everything in the store will be reduced until it meets the public idea of fairness. It will pay every farmer within fifty miles of this store to lay in their summer supply of groceries. We want you to know that we are one of you, that you are one of us and this shall be the greatest buying opportunity ever known in Western Texas.

Laundry Soap 6 bars 25c

Arm & Hammer soda 3 for 25c

YOU'LL RUB SHOULDERS WITH ALL YOUR NEIGHBORS. YOU'LL BE SURPRISED TO FIND HOW MANY OF YOUR FRIENDS ARE AMONG THEM. THIS SALE IS SIMPLY A STOCK REDUCING NECESSITY IN WHICH WE SHOULD ER OUR LOSS AND ALSO GAIN IN THE FRIENDS WE MAKE.

There's a whole lot of satisfaction these days in discovering a way to be thrifty in your buying needs. It's not an easy thing to do—with high labor and material costs still prevailing everywhere even a millionaire, in these trying times, gets a genuine thrill in putting over a good bargain buy. That's why prominent business men, bankers, professional men, as well as farmers and high salaried mechanics and skilled workers are trooping to this store in regiments. You'll save REAL MONEY coming here while this sale is in progress.

Remember

A SAFEGUARD LIKE YOU WERE NEVER BEFORE OFFERED IN CLOTHING BUYING.

We Guarantee Clothing Against Further Decline

Our intensive study of markets leads us to believe that prices of fine clothing are now at their lowest. With many of the greatest clothing factories hardly sewing a stitch for reasons too many to enumerate here; with the quantity of merchandise which they can deliver quickly extremely limited; and with the likelihood of little lessening of demand there is only one direction in which prices can go if they leave the present levels—upwards. Therefore when you buy at this sale, you are actually taking a cash dividend from a situation for which there is hardly a precedent. The risk of this guarantee is ours—the profit is yours.

To encourage early morning shopping we will sell to the first 25 people to enter our store Friday morning when the doors open at Nine o'clock 1 box Garden Court face powder and one bar 30c toilet soap, this is an unprecedented offer and only 25 will be sold at the low price of 25c for both. Total value $1.05 all for a Quarter.

FANCY STATIONERY, CUT GLASS, IVORY GOODS One Half Price

WE MUST USE COMPARATIVE PRICES IN ORDER TO IMPRESS UPON YOUR MIND THE ALMOST UNBELIEVABLE BIGNESS OF THE VALUES WE ARE ABLE TO GIVE YOU DURING THIS MONSTER SALE. HOWEVER, WHEN WE SAY "A DOLLAR'S WORTH FOR 50c" WE HONESTLY BELIEVE THAT THE COMPARATIVE PRICE OF $1.00 IS WHAT YOU ARE ACTUALLY PAYING IN THE AVERAGE STORE TODAY, AND SO ON DOWN THE LINE, EVERY ITEM QUOTED IS BASED ON WHAT WE HONESTLY BELIEVE TO BE TODAY'S VALUE IN OTHER STORES.

This Sale emphasizes the sincere, value-giving policy of this store—a policy that means clearance of incomplete lines before another season begins. Our guarantee of satisfaction is without any limitations; we want you satisfied. If you say you're not, money cheerfully refunded. We are determined to "clean house"—to make things hum. Dependable merchandise is now placed on display at prices which will prove irresistible. At no time in our business history have we ever staged and put into action an event in such a whirl-wind fashion.

The striking feature in this sale is the utter disregard for all Profits and Costs. These low prices will mean Record Volume.

These Price Smashes will Make This Store Hum

HERE'S THE ABSOLUTE TRUTH ABOUT THIS SALE: REMEMBER THIS IS A DRASTIC DISPOSAL IN WHICH MERCHANDISE IS BEING OFFERED REGARDLESS OF COST OR LOSS. THE SACRIFICE IS SO UNPRECEDENTED THE CUTS IN PRICES ARE BOUND TO EXHAUST EVEN SOME LARGE LINES IN LESS THAN A DAY'S TIME. SO DON'T EXPECT THE ASSORTMENTS HERE ADVERTISED TO LAST BEYOND STORE CLOSING TIME SATURDAY. WE'LL TRY TO KEEP STORE STOCKS REPLENISHED FROM STOCK ROOMS AS LONG AS THE STOCKS HOLD OUT, BUT YOU KNOW THERE'S A LIMIT TO EVEN THIS IN AN HONOR-BRIGHT SALE OF THIS SORT.

We don't fool around waiting for conditions. A nation-wide price-adjustment is on, and we're not going to be caught at this time loaded with such overstocks as every department is now groaning under. Would you give a dollar for what formerly cost two or three dollars, if you needed the article? Well, that is how deep the sacrifice is in many lines, and most of the lines on which the greatest sacrifice is being made are not being published. You must come to learn.

We've steadily worked for a good many years to make our name represent quality in merchandise. We'd rather not sell at all if we can't be sure of your satisfaction. We stand on that—100 per cent satisfaction—or money cheerfully refunded. The magnitude of today's occasion will electrify crowds of Bargain Seekers. This Sale offers unusual saving opportunities. Who would miss such a chance?

These men tell you straight from the shoulder why I am here. Now, I have rolled up my sleeves, ready to smash down all price barriers in this big store. I have also hired over fifty extra salespeople, and have them busy as bees, re-arranging their stocks and marking down goods to advertised prices.

"I AM THE BOSS," AND LET ME SAY RIGHT HERE THAT MY PRICES WILL MAKE GRATEFUL, CLAMORING, ENTHUSIASTIC MOBS STORM OUR DOORS.

I am known from coast to coast as a gleeful, sardonic price smasher. I have been given a free rein to make prices and have been informed by these men that never in the history of their business have they been compelled to resort to such drastic measures.

I promise you the greatest bargains on the best quality of merchandise that can be purchased in the markets today. Believe every word that is printed in this immense advertisement because prices throughout the stores have been mowed down like a vicious contagion, and this shall be Slaton's Greatest Sale.
