THENTY-SIXTH YEAR

TALCO, TITUS COUNTY, TEXAS, THURSDAY, JUNE 7, 1962

NUMBER 17

State Capital NEWS

By Vern Sanford

Austin. — Crooked-hole well-drilling is the big news at the Capitol.

More than $3,000,000 in penalties is asked by Atty. Gen. Will Wilson in the first suit brought by the state following "crooked-hole" investigations in the East Texas Oil Field. Suit contends that six oil wells were drilled in such a direction that they wound up under someone else's land.

Operators plugged two of them before Texas Railroad Commission engineers could check to see if the holes were straight or crooked.

Suit asked $1,000 a day for each day of operation of each well. Over a two-year period, this comes to $3,442,000.

Commission engineers plan to check more than 1,000 wells.

Humble Oil and Refining Company brought a civil suit against another group of oil operators. Humble says that the operators' crooked wells ended under an Humble lease and have been draining off Humble's oil.

SAFETY IN AGE — If you live to be 100, you'll be safe from death by accidents.

State Health Department statistics reveal that not a single Texan over 100 years of age died in an accident in 1960.

Statistics also reveal that there's something to what they say about Texas weather. Deaths from extreme heat and from freezing both were reported during the year.

Biggest killer for all age groups, except those under one and over 75, is the highway accident.

In the home, fire and explosion are the biggest killers. Falls are in third place.

Home ranks next to the highway as the scene of most accidental deaths.

DOVE HUNTING SEASON — Texas will have representatives at the national dove conference in Washington on June 26 when length and dates of the 1962 hunting seasons will be discussed.

H. D. Dodgen, executive secretary of the State Game and Fish Commission, reports the outlook favorable for a good dove crop in Texas—both mourning and whitewing doves.

VACATION READING STIMULATED — Four annual "Texas Reading Club"—designed to encourage an interest in reading among youngsters—during their summer vacation—is under way.

Sponsored by the Texas State Library and participating libraries in 89 cities and towns, the program enrolled more than 16,000 young people this year. Harold J. Marburger, director of rural library services, State Library, described the reading club as the largest of its kind in the nation.

Youths who read 12 books on their reading level before August 31 will receive a reading certificate signed by Marburger and Dr. Dormon H. Winfrey, director and librarian, State Library.

In addition, all youngsters who enroll will receive a "reading log" to keep a record of books completed during the program.

Books in many instances are being furnished by the State Library thru inter-library loan, bookmobiles, multi-county regional libraries and through the loan of books as an extension service from the library field services.

TOLL ROAD — Only toll road in Texas—the Fort Worth-Dallas Turnpike—seems to be making its way.

The Turnpike grossed $3,245,797 last year, with operating expenses of $937,168. It put $1,641,977 into the fund to pay interest on the $58,500,000 it borrowed to build the road, and to build up its total reserves to nearly $5,000,000.

The Fort Worth-Dallas Turnpike is the only place in Texas where it is legal to drive 70 miles per hour.

Legislature allowed the Turnpike Authority to raise the speed limit to that figure.

SMOKERS PAY — Cigarette smokers are chipping in more than $7,000,000 a month to the State Treasury under the 8-cent sales tax on each package.

Treasurer Jesse James reported income from that source to be $7,700,588 in May.

SCREW WORM CONTROL — Fight against the screw worm fly has been extended northward. Reason is because truck-hauled livestock, infested with screw worms, crossed the control line which was being maintained by aerial distribution of sterile male flies.

Texas Animal Health Commission meets on June 11 to adopt a regulation requiring inspection of livestock as they cross the control line, and spraying them to make sure they do not carry the costly worms into clear territory.

A new distribution point was established at Conroe after outbreaks of screw worms were reported in East Texas.

Program is a bold effort to control this $40,000,000-a-year pest. It is financed by the federal and state governments and by contributions from livestock owners. Most of the money is federal.

Linda Whitney 1962 Queen Of Wright Rodeo

Final performance of the Seventh Annual John D. Wright 7-W Rodeo was held Saturday night.

Coronation of Linda Whitney, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Whitney, as Rodeo Queen was by Miss Carolyn Rodgers, last year's Queen as a highlight of the concluding show.

The queen contest is sponsored by Talco Chamber of Commerce, with Whitney Construction Co. being sponsor of the winning contestant. Miss Rodgers presented trophies to the 1962 queen and runner up. Jan Hargrove, John D. Wright, Contractor's entry, was runner up and received a gold belt buckle.

Other entrants and sponsors were: Linda Holmes, Jones & Bonham Dry Goods; Janie Hood, Reed's Fine Service Station; Sue Wright, Cecil's Grocery & Market; Wanda Hanks, Taylor's Variety Store; Rosemary Gartman, Talco Motor Co.

Announcement of winners in the rodeo events awaited final tabulation of points in the various events.

Whitney Catches Two Big Fish

Bob Whitney, a slightly built Arlington State College student, who will tip the scales at about 145 pounds, fought a 200 pound Warsaw to a standstill and then boated it to the Snapper bank in the Gulf of Mexico recently. Whitney boated the 200 pounder after a scrap of about 45 minutes. About 30 minutes later, he landed another 150 pounder. Whitney is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Whitney of San Antonio, former Talco residents. He is the nephew of Mrs. Eunice Harris.

TALCO WOMEN PLACE IN BOWLING TOURNAMENT

Two Talco women, Jean Wilson and Wanda Pittman, placed seventh on the board in the women's doubles in the "Oil Capital Tournament" in Kilgore last week end.

The tournament is sponsored by the Kilgore Evening Lions Club and is for two weeks.

April by failing to lose ground as it had in February and March.

Bureau of Business Research at the University of Texas read its business barometers and concluded that April business was at 128.2 per cent of the 1957-59 average, up 17 per cent over April of 1961. Strength in the sales of automobiles was a major factor in the leveling off from the all-time high reached in January with an index of 132.9 per cent.

Wright Patman's Weekly Letter

1st Congressional Dist. of Texas "Heart of the Gulf Southwest"

Class of '62 will be graduating on more than 1,300 college campuses this month. 425,000 strong they are the largest group of graduates in the history of American education. They have set new records for academic achievement. By all available measurements they are the brightest group of students yet produced by schools and colleges.

These graduates will have little or no trouble getting jobs at the highest starting salary ever received by a newly graduated class. Specialized skills are needed. Particularly sought after will be chemists, physicists, electrical engineers and similar specialists.

Unemployment and skill shortages in America continue to exist side by side. The technical skills demanded by our nuclear space age are in short supply. Many of our larger industrial corporations have talent scouts scouring Europe for needed scientific and technical personnel. Simultaneously we find that 4.4-million people are unemployed. The explanation is that the unskilled laborer is rapidly becoming outmoded. Those without skills or know-how find it increasingly harder to get jobs. It is estimated that automation will eliminate 200,000 jobs a year for the next 10 years. Technological progress has two effects on employment: an ever increasing demand for highly trained personnel, combined with a rapidly decreasing need for the unskilled kinds of labor.

Chinese refugees in neighboring Hong Kong have been fleeing from famine conditions in Red China by the thousands. In April about 20,000 slipped across the line. Of these 15,000 were caught by British border police and sent back. The refugees reports of starvation in southern China aroused the sympathy of the free world.

The President plans to admit between 5,000 and 6,000 of these refugees to this country—far more than the 105 set by our normal annual quota.

While this is a humanitarian act and one which will receive the attention and applause of many nations, particularly those in Asia, we must, even so, subject it to sober analysis. Clearly this is not an approach that our nation can afford to continue using, and I personally question the wisdom of this action. Millions of people in China are reported starving. Food shortages exist elsewhere. We simply cannot admit them all to this country. It is hard to justify admitting any when 5% of our labor force is unemployed.

It makes far more sense to use our food surplus as a means of alleviating human misery through Food for Peace and similar programs. We should never press food on any nation. Instead it should be available—on the basis of demonstrated need—where requested.

Talk of slowdown in economy because of saturation of the market for goods ignores tremendous unfilled domestic market. While it is true that America's 58.3-million homes have more conveniences and necessities than ever before, 13-million American homes have no washing machines, 11-million have no telephone, almost 11½-million homes have no automobile. The potential market for some appliances is fantastic. 43-million homes have neither a food freezer unit or a clothes dryer. 46-million have no air conditioner.

Protest against increase in National Debt was lodged by me last week before the Ways and Means Committee. In my testimony, I pointed out that the requested increase from $300-billion to $308-billion can be attributed to hikes in the interest rate under the Eisenhower "tight money-high interest" policy. The additional cost of the accumulated interest load required to service the National Debt, caused by increases in the rate of interest from 1952 through 1960, was $8.5-billion, which is $5.5-billion more than the propos-

Connally, Smith Win Democratic Nominations

Texas Democrats picked their nominee for governor Saturday from two men who never held elective office. Voters chose John Connally of Ft. Worth over Don Yarborough of Houston. Connally polled over 51 per cent of the total vote cast.

Democrats also chose nominees for three other state-wide races. Preston Smith of Lubbock won the nomination over Speaker of the House James Turman of Guber for lieutenant governor.

Waggoner Carr was named attorney general, defeating Tom Reavley.

Joe Pool was elected congressman at large over Woodrow Bean.

The Democratic nominees will face Republican nominees in the general election in November.

Second Democratic Primary election in Titus County Saturday drew 3200 voters to the polls, down considerably from the 5700 cast in the first primary. No local offices were to be determined, as Cecil Franklin was unopposed in the run off race for county judge with the withdrawal of the incumbent, Harry Taylor, following the first primary.

In the state races Don Yarborough captured the county's popularity with 1795 votes. John Connally polled 1335, for governor.

For lieutenant governor James A. Turman polled 1877 to 1194 for Sen. Preston Smith.

In the run off for attorney general, Waggoner Carr received a vote of 1864 to 1117 for Tom Reavley.

Joe Pool was favored by Titus County for congressman at large, drawing 1789 as compared to 1213 for Woodrow Bean.

The vote at Talco was: Connally 50, Yarborough 75; Turman 84, Smith 43; Carr 81 and Reavley 44; Pool 78 and Bean 45.

Eye-OpenersCONTACT LENSES

Few people know that Renaissance artist
 Leonardo da Vinci was also a student of optics... in 1508 he drew and described a tiny lens which looked amazingly like present-day contact lenses! But it wasn't until 1827 that Sir John Herschel, British scientist, detailed the modern concept of such lenses.

As recently as 10 years ago, a fitting required having a cast made of the eye, trying different liquids between eye and lens, and wearing lenses that covered the eye completely.
 Many wearers gave up in discomfort and discouragement, returned to full-time use of their regular prescription eyeglasses.

The Man's World

THE FIRST SHAVE

That first shave is an occasion to remember... Of course, the first thing he does is wash his face carefully, let it remain wet and apply shaving cream.

As Dad has learned, warm water does the softening job... shaving cream keeps water from evaporating, provides lubrication for smoother shaves. Creams containing anti-bacterial agents are especially useful for teenagers with skin problems.

Since no two people have the same skin and beard (youngsters usually have lighter whiskers and sensitive skin) an adjustable safety razor is important. Dialed to a low number, it gives less blade edge angle and a gentle first shave.

Memo for the Boss:

Big Thinking Pays Off IN ANY SMALL BUSINESS

Managers of small businesses sometimes feel that statistics, efficiency and long-range planning are peculiarities of the jobs of big business executives, and have little or nothing to do with their small stores or shops. Yet very few ideas can be as wrong as this one!

About eight out of every ten businesses in America employ less than ten people. These companies operate on a narrow margin of capital—and every year thousands of them go out of business because their managers make mistakes their budgets can't afford. For a mistake is much more expensive when you can't afford it than when you're part of an industrial giant with rich financial reserves.

ADVERTISING AS AN EXAMPLE

To illustrate the point, marketing executives in large organizations keep records and dig up formulas to determine how much they must spend in advertising to maintain a certain volume of business. Yet many small organizations which may literally be forced out of business if a certain volume isn't maintained never bother with establishing the ratios necessary to tell them how much advertising they need to survive.

THINK BIG — AND GROW BIG

Every big business was once a small business. In almost every case, it grew big because its management thought big.

Bain-Harville Rites at Bogata

Miss Billie Ruth Bain and Joseph Burton Harville were married at 8 p. m. Friday in a formal double ring ceremony at Bogata Baptist Church. Rev. Alvin Blacklock of Wilkinson, was the officiant. The vows were repeated before an altar decorated with baskets of glads, and arch of greenery and white glads, with candles over the arch and two candelabra.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Bain of Johnstown, Mr. and Mrs. V. D. Harville of Cuthand.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of silk-faced peau de soie, with embroidered butterflies in mock pearls and french beads accenting the demure bodice, pleated skirt and big candy box bow above the chapel train. The bodice buttoned down the back and was fashioned with long, pointed, buttoned sleeves and a scoop neckline. Her Queen's crown was of crystal with open work pearl, pearl spray and a crystal teardrop, and she wore a strand of pearls, gift of the groom, and carried a white Bible, topped with white orchids.

The bride's sister, Mrs. John W. Horn of Corpus Christi, was matron of honor. Misses Sandra Anderson, Mary Ann Vaughan, Nancy Wood, Betty Marie Gill of Bogata, were bridesmaids. All the bride's attendants were dressed in identical costumes: street length pink cotton satin dresses, fashioned similar to the bride's gown. Short veils were attached to their pink bow hats, and they carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Music was furnished by pianist, Mrs. Harvey Jean of Longview, who played traditional wedding march and "Sweet Memories." Soloist, Miss Carol Ann Hawkins, sang "I Love You Truly" and "The Lord's Prayer."

The groom was attended by his brother, Morris Harville, and ushers were John W. Horn, Donnie Strain, Doane Roberts, Stanley Williams, with Strain and Roberts lighting the altar tapers.

The Educational Building at the church was decorated with white mums for the reception. The refreshment table, laid with cutwork cloth over pink, had a centerpiece of white mums and the bridal bouquet. The three tiered white cake trimmed in pink and decorated with bridal figurines, punch and salted nuts were served by Misses Wood, Gill and Hawkins of Bogata, and Jean Bain of Fordyce, Ark. Guests were registered by Mrs. David Hudson of Bogata.

For a short wedding trip, the bride wore a blue sheath dress with jacket, white accessories and orchid corsage. Both the newlyweds are '62 graduates of Bogata High School, and will make their home in Bogata.

ABUNDANT LIFE

by ORAL ROBERTS

LISTEN TO THE VOICE

The most important subject in the universe is God. It is absolutely essential to the happiness of people to know God. Yet there are millions to whom God is an unreal, vague, mystical being. They do not know nor understand Him.

Who is God? What is the truth about God?

First, His rank is supreme. His power, rule, and reign transcend all earthly rulers and all human thrones and powers. He knows no boundaries, either by miles or men.

Second, God is the source of all life. He created all life and made man His masterpiece. He made him a giant—spiritually, mentally, physically.

Third, God is the source of all power. He is the only self-existing being. He is the only being not dependent upon anything or anybody. Yet upon Him all other beings are dependent.

Fourth, God's youth is eternal. The word that best expresses God which is most descriptive of His being is the word "Jehovah"—the God who has been; the God who is now; the God who shall always be.

God Himself said, "I change not." He is the same today, yesterday and forever. He is forever young.

God knew our mortal minds could not comprehend the mystery of Himself as a self-existing Spirit. So the Son of God came in the likeness of flesh, took on the form of a human being, and began to express God to the human family. When you know Jesus, you will understand God.

Jesus was perfect in strength. He was never sick. Disease never marred His flesh. Mentally, Jesus was perfect intelligence, perfect wisdom. His spirit was perfect love.

If you want to know more about God, listen to the voice and speech of Jesus. It is a perfect voice.

God is supreme. He is the source of all life. He is the source of all power. His existence is eternal. His youth is eternal. His embodiment is in Jesus Christ of Nazareth.

How can we express God? We can express God best in one word: Love. For God is love. It is for this reason that He gives good things to the world. That is why all things that are good come from God. It is love, constantly and unendingly shown, that makes us realize that God is a good God.

resulted in saving the $250,000 helicopter which otherwise would have been destroyed to prevent its falling into the hands of Viet Cong guerrillas that infest the surrounding hills and jungles.

Specialist Thomas, a veteran of four years army service, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Therb Thomas of Deport.

Deport Man Helps Recover Helicopter

Specialist 4 Therbert J. Thomas of Deport, husband of Mrs. Jeannie Thomas of Canton, now serving as an aircraft mechanic in South Vietnam, was recently commended for his exemplary efforts in assisting to recover a helicopter which had crashed near the outpost of Tung-Heo, a small isolated garrison approximately 20 miles west of Danang, South Vietnam.

The helicopter had sheared a landing gear while approaching a small clearing atop the fortified hill-position manned by Vietnamese soldiers. The aircraft had rolled backwards over the edge of the hill on its side, shattering rotor blades and damaging controls and other components.

Specialist Thomas was a member of the recovery team flown into the rugged terrain to effect temporary repairs on the downed helicopter. The recovery took four days of laborious effort in the sweltering 100 degree temperatures, after which the crippled helicopter was flown back to Danang from where it will subsequently be evacuated for major repairs.

Alcorn Claims Farmers Can Stand Fluctuations Better Than Tycoons

Editor's note: Achin Alcorn, philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Sulphur, looks at the stock market this week, from quite a distance.

Dear Editor: I know farmers aren't supposed to be as, well, let's say, mentally alert as big business men, they're supposed to use brawn more than brain, but sometimes I wonder.

For instance, when the stock market took a nose-dive recently, what happened? Why, big business men all over the country began shuddering members of the Stock Exchange got jittery, the newspapers were full of expert advice and explanations, and people began wondering if the bottom was going to fall out of things. Is this another 1929? they asked.

Some people with stocks even became a little panicky, and the more worried they got the more they sold. "Why, just think," one man complained, "yesterday my stock was worth $70 a share. Now it's worth $40." He was plenty worried.

But here's the point. Every time somebody sold a stock, somebody else bought it, and after it was all over the stocks apparently climbed back up to about where they were before. People were kicking themselves at first for not selling sooner, then kicking themselves for having sold.

Business people ought to associate with farmers more and they'd come to learn how to be calm under such situations. It happens all the time in farming. Many's the time I've had a crop in the field I figured was worth so much money, only to find out when I hauled it to market it was worth 30 per cent less. Every farmer knows what it is to have a steer worth $100 today and $70 tomorrow.

If farmers got panicky under such a situation, they'd stay that way most of the time. Wild fluctuations in the stock market may run big business men berserk, but fluctuations in farm prices are as ordinary to a farmer as dry weather when he needs a rain and rainy weather when he needs sunshine.

On top of this, most of the losses in the stock market are paper losses, a stock will keep, it's not like a hog that's ready for market. In farming, the losses aren't paper losses. This doesn't necessarily prove that farmers are smarter. They just don't scare so easy. Yours faithfully A. A.

A LITTLE MOMENTUM

A little school girl said: "Daddy, I need 50 cents to take to school today."

"What for?"

"My teacher is resigning, and we're raising money to give her a little momentum."

APPRECIATIVE

Nephew: "Thanks very much for the present."

Aunt: "Oh, that's nothing to thank me for."

Nephew: "That's what I thought but mother told me to thank you just the same."

Speaking of space problems...

There's an easy answer to this one—a new Electric Refrigerator-Freezer

It may seem a shame to part with a perfectly good refrigerator that seems to last forever. But families and appetites grow—refrigerators don't. So, if you need more refrigerated storage space, buy a new combination Refrigerator-Freezer and get two appliances in the floor space of one. A roomy refrigerator section for fresh foods and a separate freezer section for quantity storage of frozen foods. See your appliance dealer soon about a combination Refrigerator-Freezer. Like having a supermarket in your own kitchen!
