RAIL PEACE BLOCKED AGAIN

H. N. F's. Mainly About People

Newberryism Rapped—
The Truth Comes Out—
Watch for Business—
Wall Street Says So—

WALL STREET PREDICTS A great industrial expansion this fall. Nearly all rail issues are making new records and there is a big buying movement on in the street. Crude oil price cuts are believed to be over and Wall street says that a general price tendency from now on will be upward. Also that scores of companies possessing facilities to convert crude oil into gasoline and other products are strong in expectation of increased earnings. When Wall street is optimistic the business skies must be clearing and the promise of rich pickings in sight.

Wall street says there will be a twelve million bale cotton crop; Wall street says there will be a five million bale carry-over from last year; Wall street says that it is the demand of the public for cotton cloth that will establish the price of the raw material. Regardless of all this a twelve million bale crop should give the farmers of the cotton states a fair degree of prosperity this year.

GOVERNOR NEFF IS TO MAKE another inspection of the penitentiary and prison farms. The governor made a promise to the people when he abolished the pardon board that he personally would visit the convicts frequently and learn their condition and their wants first hand

Also that he would investigate the merits of every convict who is seeking a pardon and those who had no friends to intercede for them. Some day the lawmakers of Texas will junk the penitentiary plants, sell the prison farms, and make public road builders of the convicts.

ATTORNEY GENERAL WALTER A. Keeling may be a multimillionaire in the near future. Kosse is the newest oil city on the map and the Jones gusher is half a mile from the old Keeling homestead of 107 acres. Austin correspondents say that it is possible that the Keeling tract may be valuable. If the Lord advises Col. A. E. Humphries to get busy and bring in a big gusher on the fringe of the Keeling homestead.

Petroleum made the Hogg family rich but the riches came after the great commoner died. He was at Spindle Top with Former Judge James W. Swayne. They imagined themselves to be multimillionaires one day and a week later found themselves on the verge of bankruptcy. They paid their debts but in so doing they depleted their bank accounts.

Then they called J. S. Cullinan in and the Texas Company was born. Hogg and Swayne lost faith in the enterprise and pulled out. Cullinan stayed in and he put it over. Hogg is dead; Swayne is dabbling in oil; Cullinan is one of the rich and progressive men of the south. Hogg's children never parted with their Brazoria county land. Prospectors drilled. Gushers came in. These gushers made

Nimon Ordered To Enforce All Laws at Dension

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 23.—Col. Charles W. Nimon, commander of Texas guards stationed at Denison and Maj. E. A. Simpson returned to Denison tonight with instructions to vigorously enforce all state laws, particularly the open port act and to guard against prohibition violations, Governor Neff stated tonight.

There is little probability that martial law territory at Denison will be extended, Governor Neff said.

The national guard officers were in conference for several hours today with the governor, Adjt. Gen. Thomas D. Barton and Clifford L. Stone, assistant attorney general. Stone left here tonight from Sherman, where he will assist in prosecution of alleged violators of the open port act before the Grayson county grand jury, which convenes tomorrow.

SENATE SPEEDS UP ON SOLDIER BONUS MEASURE

Passage of Bill This Week Possible

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The senate moved forward so rapidly today in its consideration of the soldiers bonus bill that some leaders regarded passage of the measure before the end of this week as more than a possibility.

Opponents were understood to be disposed to let the bill take its course at this time in the belief that President Harding would veto it. Should he do so, they planned to center their fight against its passage over his veto.

The senate still had no official information as to the executives views other than that contained in his letter read to the house last March, just before that body passed the bill. The president then advised that congress either find a means of financing the legislation or postpone its enactment and some friends of the bill, as well as opponets, believed he still is of that mind.

Replying to a question by Senator Robinson, democrat Arkansas, Chairman McCumber of the finance committee told the senate today that there was no official information as to what the president would do. He added that the changes in the bill by which there would be no heavy draft on the treasury for the next three years would seem to meet every objection the president had urged against the original cash measure.

After it went to work on the bonus late today, the senate agreed to the forty seven committee amendments to the house bill in fifteen minutes. The measure was laid aside temporarily.

BECK CLEARED BY ARMY BOARD

Officer Died "In Line of Duty"

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—Lieut. Col. Paul W. Beck, army air service, who was killed last April in a "gun shot wound in the head" inflicted by a "revolver held in the hands of" Jean P. Day, of Oklahoma City, died "in the line of duty," and his death was "not due to his own wilful misconduct, according to official findings of an army investigating board, made public and approved today by Secretary Weeks. Charges that Colonel Beck was killed during an attack upon Mrs. Day were not substantiated by the report, it was said.

Killed in Day Home

Colonel Beck was killed in the home of Mr. Day after he and several others had been guests at the home one evening. The killing occurred when Mr. Day returned after itaking other guests to their homes and found Colonel Beck and Mrs. Day alone. A coroner's jury subsequently exonerated Mr. Day.

In announcing the board's finding, Secretary Weeks said he would forward the evidence to the Oklahoma attorney general, but he preferred to have that official decide, in the light of the new investigation, what action he might take toward reopening the trial of Judge Day in civil courts.

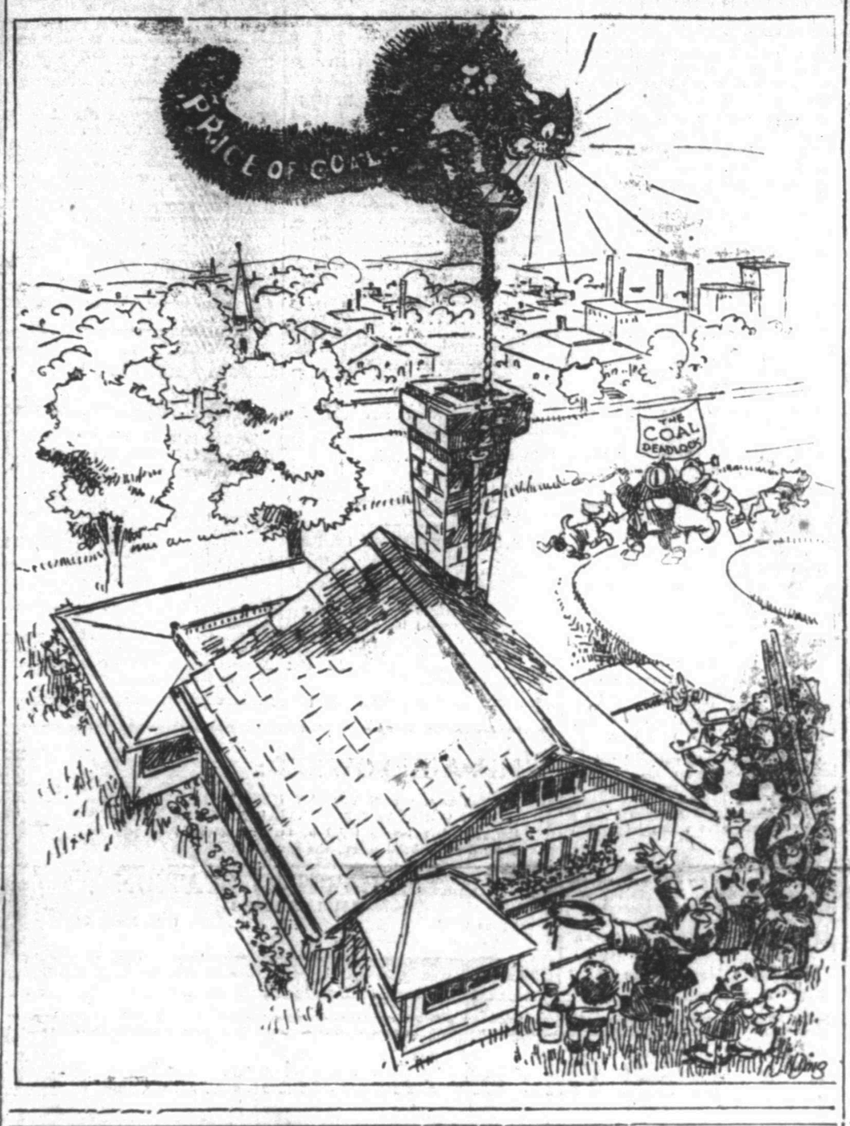

Harding Willing to Defer Ship Subsidy

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—President Harding, in a letter today to Representative Mondell, the republican leader, expressed willingness to have congressional consideration of the administration ship subsidy deferred "until we can rivet the attention of congress with a full attendance."

Success of the measure, the president added, might be jeopardized by pressing for an immediate decision.

But the Family Pet's Still Scared —By Darling

The Candidates Are Saying---

FERGUSON

By Associated Press.

HILLSBORO, Texas, Aug. 23.—Former Governor James E. Ferguson, candidate for democratic nomination for United States senator, in his address here this afternoon charged that his opponent, Earle B. Mayfield, 'is right now hard at work to corral the Mexican vote of south Texas." He exhibited what he termed "written evidence which proves beyond a doubt," that Mr. Mayfield is seeking the Mexican vote. This "evidence" was a hand bill printed in the Spanish language. It was circulated by the "Mexican-American voters league," and called upon all Mexicans in Texas to vote for Mayfield, Ferguson told his audience.

Mexican Votes

Before exhibiting the circular the former governor called upon his audience to "witness the fact that Mayfield is running for the senate on a 100 per cent American platform which demands the absolute cessation of immigration and which has for its slogan 'America for Americans."

He also said that Mayfield "has been tearing around this state madly, waving a little American flag in the faces of his crowds and hollering that we don't want any German-American, Swedish-American or Bohemian-Americans in this country."

Jumps Klan

Mr. Ferguson read the circular, which he had translated. It was purported to be taken from an editorial written by Mr. Ferguson in his paper urging certain restriction of immigration of Mexicans.

He also defended his platform for union labor and the closed shop and attacked the ku klux klan and its alleged activities.

McKinney Banker Named as State Banking Head

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, Aug. 23.—Confirming unofficial reports current here last night, Governor Neff late today appointed J. L. Chapman, McKinney banker, as state commissioner of banking and insurance effective September 1. Chapman succeeds Ed Hall who resigned recently to become an official of a Dallas bank.

In a telegram to Chapman notifying him of the appointment, Governor Neff said his action was based upon testimonials from officials of more than one hundred Texas banks. Chapman has been engaged in banking in Texas for 23 years, at Farmersville and McKinney.

W. W. Woodson of Waco was appointed banking commissioner immediately following Commissioner Hall's resignation but refused to accept the position.

HERRIN MAKES DEATH THREATS

Attorney Warned to "Keep Out"

By Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., Aug. 23.—Threats of death if he goes into Williamson county to conduct an investigation of the Herrin massacre, have been received by Attorney General Brundage, he said tonight, while preparing for the grand jury investigation at Marion Monday.

A letter dated at Herrin and mailed at Pekin advises him to "keep out of Williamson if you know whats good for you."

The attorney general and United States District Attorney C. W. Middlekauff will have personal charge of the grand jury investigation.

MAYFIELD

TYLER, Texas, Aug. 23.—That the disturbance during the speech of James E. Ferguson in Houston Monday night when the speaker was delayed for some minutes by jeering yells following the sudden exodus of a part of the audience was "hatched up by Ferguson and his supporters for the purpose of gaining sympathy," was the charge made by Earle B. Mayfield, candidate for democratic nomination for senator, in his address here tonight. Mr. Ferguson, Mayfield's opponent was speaking in behalf of his candidacy when the disturbance occurred.

Ferguson Beaten

"Jim Ferguson realizes that he is defeated and is making a bid for sympathy," Mr. Mayfield said. "Accordingly, the stampede at Houston was hatched up so as to be able to say a vote for Mayfield is a vote against law and order. As a matter of fact, Jim Ferguson is the last man in the state who ought to talk about law and order. His public record doesn't justify such talk by him.

"The Houston stampede was well planned and carefully executed by Ferguson men, but the public saw through it without difficulty. In Houston the affair is regarded as laughable."

Other Criticisms

Mr. Mayfield's speech included many other criticisms of his opponent. He repeated his charge that Ferguson's declaration that he favors union labor and the closed shop is contradicted by Ferguson's previous connections with labor.

Mr. Mayfield was emphatic in his statement that Ferguson sees defeat. "He sees the handwriting on the wall and has sung his swan song," the speaker declared.

A condition of the settlement was that miners now employed in mines under operation shall not be discriminated against. Operators declared newly mined coal would be on the tracks at mine sidings by Sept. 1.

Seniority Issue Still Unsettled; Split Appears

Union Proposals for Settlement Spurned by Railway Executives; Jewell Declares It's "Lockout to Smash Unions;" Western Men Seeking Individual Settlement Agreement

By The Associated Press.

NEW YORK, August 23.—A majority group of the association of railway executives by a vote of 254 to 4 today rejected the proposal of the big five train service brotherhoods, that carriers end the nation-wide shopmen's strike by reinstating the men with seniority unimpaired and Bert M. Jewell, official spokesman for the strikers, declared the association had closed the door to peace and voted for a lockout to smash unionism.

Splitting away from the majority was a group of 25 railroads, principally western lines, which debated a new suggestion of the brotherhoods that individual settlements be effected. This minority while professing to stand with the majority on seniority, indicated that it desired to hear further regarding the individual settlement suggestion.

Hale Holden, president of the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy, joined with members of the majority group in denying that there was any split.

"There is no question of a split," he asserted. "The railroads are all standing pat on seniority and any individual settlement will have to be made in the light of that understanding."

Day's Proceedings

The days proceedings may be briefly outlined as follows:

1—The association met as a whole this morning, almost unanimously decided to continue its stand against restoring the strikers with their ranking unaffected and directed its committee which met last week with the brotherhood chiefs to draw up a resolution embodying this decision.

2—The committee submitted the resolution after the noon recess and after its adoption left for the Grand Central station and transmitted the message to the committee representing the running trades.

3—The brotherhoods then advanced another proposal i. e., that the strikers be "reinstated in the position of the class they originally held on June 30," that all be restored not later than October, and that disputes which might arise over seniority rights be referred to the railroad labor board.

4.—The association adjourned its meeting.

17 CAPTURED IN RADICAL RAID

Communist Meeting Broken Up

By Associated Press

ST. JOSEPH, Mich., Aug. 23.—Although definite announcement of what disposition will be made of the 17 alleged members of the communist party of America detained in the county jail here was withheld today, it was intimated they may be prosecuted under the Michigan criminal syndicalism act.

Following the raid yesterday that resulted in the arrests, federal agents and Sheriff George Bridgman of Berrien county returned to Bridgman, 12 miles south of here, and after digging in the sand of the ravine where the meeting was broken up, unearthed several barrels. The barrels, it is said, contained a list of all radical leaders in the United States, four typewriters, a quantity of stationery, two machines for reproducing circulars, and a large amount of literature.

While Mr. Pena was starting his automobile, he reported, the remainder of the citizens used slurring remarks about him and his subordinates.

Collins Died "With His Boots On" And Fighting to the Very Last

By Associated Press.

CORK, Aug. 23.—Michael Collins fell, fighting to the last against what seemed at first an overwhelming force of irregulars who ambushed his little party in a wild mountain road between Macroon and Bandon.

The commander-in-chief of the national army at Cork and, accompanied by members of his headquarters staff, left at 6 o'clock Tuesday morning to inspect the military positions south of Cork.

Owing to the interruption of communication by the main road the party towards evening took a round-about route for Cork and Bandon.

While preceding by road near Bealnablath at 6:30 in the evening the party was ambushed by about two hundred irregulars.

The battle opened with a few shots fired by the attacking forces; the nationals hastily dismounted and General Collins himself assumed leadership.

At the very outset the dispatch rider in front was badly wounded. Then the nationals settled down to reply to the fire, and within a few minutes the attack developed into a grim engagement. It lasted an hour.

For forty-five minutes the only casualty on the side of the nationals was the dispatch rider. The fighting was nearly ended and the irregulars were on the point of retreating when suddenly Collins fell. It was obvious that he had been mortally wounded but he still fired from the ground and encouraged his men by his unflinching bravery.

In a feeble voice the commander asked for Major General Dalton. Dalton and General O'Connell whispered a few prayers and recited the act of contribution before the general passed away. His body was removed under fire to the armored car, which reached Cork about midnight.

DYNAMITE USED TO SETTLE ROW

Blacks Spring New Method

BIRMINGHAM, Ala., Aug. 24. — Since time began men have been prone to settle disputes by resort to weapons. The stone hammer was superseded by the flint javelin; the bo wand arrow put this out of business. In a more modern day the musket appeared; then the high-powered rifle, poison gase and other inventions of "civilization." But it remained for Will Jackson and Herbert Meadows, negro prisoners, serving a prison sentence at Banner Mines, near here, to bring into use a unique weapon.

Jackson, it is claimed, ignited the fuse of a stick of dynamite with the announced intention of "blowing Meadows to kingdom come." The present earthly kingdom, though seemed to suit Meadows, and he immediately grappled with Jackson. In the struggle which ensued Jackson was thrown to the ground on top of the stick of dynamite. When it exploded a moment later Jackson was instantly killed, his body being badly mangled while Meadows, as a souvenir of the encounter, is minus one arm.

MAINLY ABOUT PEOPLE

SECRETARY OF STATE Charles Evans Hughes is on the rack of public opinion. He invited it and is entitled to all that is coming to him. Truman H. Newberry was his client. He appeared before the supreme court of the United States and argued the Newberry case. He says that Newberry was convicted wrongly and most unjustly.

Senator Atlee Pomerene of Ohio a distinguished lawyer, tears to tatters the Hughes political defense of the Michigan multi-millionaire. This is what the Ohio senator says: "The testimony before the senate committee on privileges and elections showed that one Frederick P. Smith was the confidential agent and attorney of all the Newberry interests, 12 in number, two corporate and ten individual accounts.

SMITH HAD UNLIMITED POWers to check from one individual account to another. These included the accounts of Senator Newberry; his brother John Newberry; the father's and mother's sisters, wives and sons of the Newberrys. Smith testified that John Newberry came to him and said he wanted to finance his brother's campaign, placing no limit on the amount of money that Smith was to give to the campaign committee. He testified further that when John Newberry's account was depleted he checked from Senator Newberry's account and from the other Newberry accounts into that of John Newberry and that as attorney in fact for John Newberry issued his checks payable to Senator Newberry's campaign committee."

This campaign committee disbursed something like three hundred thousand dollars to make the ballot pure and the count honest when Truman H. Newberry and Henry Ford were the contenders for a senatorship. There was no evidence introduced that Henry Ford invested money in the campaign. He said if the people wanted him they could nominate and elect him. That if they did not want him they could vote for the other man. Michigan is a reliable republican state. Its normal republican majority is a hundred thousand. Notwithstanding the brazen use of money by the managers of the Newberry campaign the multi-millionaire only defeated Ford by a mapority of eight thousand.

AND YET A FORMER SUPREME Court justice of the United States who received a very large fee to undertake the defense of Newberry says that his client had been wrongly and most unjustly convicted. Now the secretary of state should rush into public print with a defense of Fall and Denby who handed the Tea Pot Dome naval reserve over to Edward L. Doheny, one of the oil kings of the world. Fall and Denby no doubt had a legal right to transfer this rich field to the California oil king but when Josephus Daniels was secretary of the navy he flatly refused to entertain a like proposition and William Jennings Bryan, who was secretary of state backed Daniels to a finish.

Tea Pot Dome remained a naval reserve until Former Senator Albert Fall of New Mexico became secretary of the interior and then the lid was lifted and the lease hunters broke into the government's petroleum bed.

But Even With 265 Ice Factories Going Texas Is Still Some Warm

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Aug. 23.—The hot summer days have led the Texas industrial congress to turn its energies to statistics regarding ice manufacture, its officials announced today, showing that Texas has 265 exclusive ice-manufacturing plants, besides 26 establishments in other industries that also make ice, the former employing a yearly average of 2,362 wage-earners, ranking second only to Pennsylvania in the number of persons engaged.

Texas ranks fifth among states of the country, both in the value of its production, $9,811,000, and in the value added by manufacture, the leading states being New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio and Illinois.

Ice plants in Texas employ the greatest number of workers this month, and a minimum in January.

Ice factories in the state in 1909 numbered but 182. Most of the Texas plants use distilled water and make what is known as "can" ice, although a few factories produce a small quantity of "plate" ice.

MRS. MILLER IS NOT WEALTHY

Report Branded as False and Unfair

Wichita Falls, Texas, Aug. 23.
To the Voters of Wichita County, Texas:

There are many rumors and misstatements being circulated over the county which are unjust and unfair to Mrs. R. L. Miller, with reference to her financial condition.

Since her husband, Dr. R. L. Miller's death, I have had charge of her business and speak with knowledge.

During the last year of his life, Dr. Miller and his brothers, Stewart M. and Will A. Miller Jr., and his father, Will A. Miller, Sr., were partners in land transactions, during which period some titles were taken in Dr. Miller's name for the convenience of the interested parties. An agreement bearing the four signatures is recorded in the County Clerk's office, Book 172 Pag 112.

After Dr. Miller's death, there was a settlement made with Mrs. Miller, by the doctor's father and brothers, and, in their settlement, Mrs. Miller received two small tracts of land in Wichita county, about 300 acres, which is worth approximately $10,000.00. (Assessed value this year, $5,365.00). That is full value, and there is indebtedness of approximately $5,000.00 against these particular tracts of land, leaving Mrs. Miller an equity of $5,000.00 in the land, which has not and will not return revenue sufficient to pay taxes and interest. As to the indebtedness, I refer you of Mr. N. H. Martin and Fred T. Couper, who hold the notes against the property.

This, with her home, is all of the property that she has with which to support herself and educate her three girls. These statements that Mrs. Miller is rich are untrue and unfair to her.

The statements made herein are true and should silence the numerous false rumors.

W. L. ROBERTSON.

P. S.—All papers and correspondence with reference to the settlement and Mrs. Miller's property are in my possession and can be seen by anyone desiring to do so

Ancient Will, Long Unopened, Discloses Rich Bequest to Son

(By International News Service.)

WORCHESTER, Mass., Aug. 24. There recently came to light in an old Worchester homestead a dusty and torn bit of parchment on which was written the last will and testament of James Munco Schofield, wealthy Scotch merchaant, to James Munro Schofield 2d, of Worchester, naming him as the sole legatee of an estate valued at 190,000 English pounds. The tragedy of the document lay in the fact that the son failed to open the envelope containing the will, which he received vin the year 1845.

The document was brought to the attention of the son and daughter of the beneficiary, William Bacon Schofield and Mrs. E. D. Taylor, both of Worchester, when they came across the document in a secret panel, which seventy-five years ago would have made a millionaire of a boy then recently from Scotland.

As a result of the finding of the age-worn document the changes are that the children of James Schofield 2d will be millionaires.

James Munro Schofield 2d, who came to America in the early thirties paid no attention to possible help that might have come from the police at home. The immigrant, through his own endeavors, made a fortune of his own by making a place of prominence in the business world of Worchester.

The two grandchildren are making active preparation for a trip to investigate their claim. The trip abroad for Mrs. E. D. Thayer and William Bacon Schofield will be in the nature of a holiday, but at the same time they will not neglect the Scotch estate, which was denied their father through freaky circumstances.

federal commission to obtain all of the data possible relating to the coal industry and on which miners and operators were denied representation was passed tonight by the house 219 to 55.

Three separate attempts were made by Representative Bland, republican, Idaho, to amend the bill so as to put representatives of the miners and mine owners on the commission, but all of them failed.

The house voted down a proposal by Representative Denison, republican, Illinois, to reduce the commission membership from nine to five, but the next moment by a overwhelming vote, adopted an amendment by Representative Bankhead, democrat, Alabama, cutting the salary of commissioners from $10,000 to $7,500.

It then put through, virtually without objection, an amendment by Representative Moore, democrat, Virginia, reducing the appropriation for the cost and upkeep of the commission from $500,000 to $300,000.

Four republicans voted against the bill and 24 democrats supported it. It now goes to the senate, where the Borah commission bill, slightly different in some provisions is pending.

FIRST COAL MOVES FROM MINES IN NORTHERN FIELD

HERRIN, Ill., Aug. 23.—The first railroad cars loaded with coal mined in Williamson county on the first day after the resumption of mining operations were seen moving throughout the county tonight, all bound for Chicago and St. Louis. All roads are rushing as many cars as can be spared to the mines, many of which were in actual operation today, the first day of operation since the strike was settled in the Chicago conference yesterday.

Local Girl Seen in Empress Movie

Several patrons of the Empress theater have noticed during the last three days that the Realart picture featuring Wanda Hawley in "The Truthful Liar" also has as one of its leading characters a Wichita Falls girl, Dorothy Manners Green whose mother, Mrs. M. E. Green, is connected with the Stratford hotel.

Miss Green is well known in this city where she made her home for some time prior to entering a movie career that bids fair to be most successful. In the current production at the Empress she has one of the heavy parts supporting the star and in other Realart productions she has also been cast in leading roles.

Judge Doubles Fine After Promise Is Smashed by Boy

A boy who might have stood seven feet tall in his socks faced Judge Marrs yesterday in corporate court on a charge of speeding, and told the magistrate, upon being questioned, that he was "only 15 years old."

He made the ever-present vow that "I'll never do it again, judge," but when the court had investigated further, it was found that he had made the same vow before in the same court on a similar charge.

It was then that Judge Marrs said: "I'll have to double the fine on you, young man, to help you keep your promise. And the next time you are are brought up here it will cost you twice as much, and I'll keep doubling the fines until I've reached the $200 mark."

He was fined $20.

Ham Prices Are Down

Ham—Boiled, Baked (Hot or Cold), Broiled, or Fried—is one of the most appetizing and savory foods that the market offers.

The wholesale price of ham is fifteen to twenty per cent lower than it was six weeks ago.

The U. S. Dept. of Agriculture in an announcement dated June 19, 1922, in referring to vitamins found in meat said, "Various cuts of meat were tried, and in every instance pork was found to be relatively rich in vitamins. Pork tenderloin, fresh ham, smoked ham, and pressed boiled ham were tested and the results were much the same with all of them.

Swift's Premium Hams are always of a uniform high standard of quality, regardless of price. A special cure of sugar and salt, and smoking over hardwood fires impart a flavor that has made "Premium" Ham the world's standard.

Summer time is ham time. Insist on having "Swift's Premium"—see the blue identification tag.

New Graham Well Makes Good Flow In Ardmore field

ARDMORE, Aug. 23.—Judging by present indications, the Graham Mineral Trust-Kirk Oil company's No. 6 Bennett northwest quarter of 31-2s-2w, promises to be the best producer in the Graham field when completed. The well started to make perio flows over the top of the casing through 500 feet of rotary mud while preparations were under way to drill out the plug. The oil is coming from two sands the first of which was topped at 2,514 feet with drill still in it.

The Cottonbelt Petroleum company is preparing to run the 6 5-8-inch casing in its No. 1 Dunlap, southeast of northwest quarter of 31-2s-2w, to the top of the sand encountered at 2,380 feet. The well has 1,800 feet of oil in the hole, and drilled through a sand showing oil at 2,346-67 feet. Cottonbelt company's No. 2, Sparks, southeast of southwest quarter of 30-2s-2w, is trying to loosen tools stuck in the hole with the total depth at 2,320 in pink shale, a formation conforming to that found immediately above the oil sand in the producing offsets to this test. The Cottonbelt-Sparks No. 2 is making about 8,000,000 feet of gas from a sand at 2,285-2,300 feet.

Wirt Franklin's No. 1 Carpenter, southeast of southwest quarter of 22-2s-3w, which extended Fox production one-half of a mile to the north, is holding up its yield in fine manner making 26,000,000 feet of gas and 40 barrels of oil from sand at 2,119-84 feet. C. R. Smith has completed his No. 3 Fee, southeast of northeast quarter of 27-2s-3w, with production of 30,000,000 feet of gas from sand at 2,138-60 feet. Gypsey Oil company's No. 7 Garrett, southwest of southwst quarter of 27-2s-3w, is good for 50 barrels in sand at 2,328-72 feet.

Rockland Oil company is preparing to test a snallow sand at 956 feet which is showing oil and a little gas in its No. 2 Brooks, northwest of southwest quarter of 35-2s-3w. The 12 1-2-inch casing has been cemented on top of the sand. This is believed to be the first time an effort is being made to test this sand in the new Fox district. It was drilled through with the rotary tools in the Empire Davis No. 11 in section 34-2s-3w, and made a favorable showing.

Why Oil Men Fear Humphrey's Well

Oil men fear the production of the Humphreys Oil company, Kosse, Texas, wildcat well, most of all because of the contract they know to exist between that concern and the Prairie Oil and Gas company and Sinclair Crude Oil Purchasing company, calling for the delivery of 33,000,000 barrels of crude at $1.50 per barrel.

Because of this contract, Colonel Humphreys does not care whether the price of oil is 50 cents or $50 per barrel. He knows he can get $1.50 per barrel, rain or shine, and, with the market at its present level, he is enjoying a profit margin not available to mid-cohtinent operators generally.

Furthermore, Colonel Humphreys has only delivered about 12,000,000 barrels on his 33,000,000 barrel order so he has quite a ways to go on his contract as yet.

In the face of such an enviable position, it makes no difference to Humphreys whether he develops Kosse at a fast rate or shuts down, as everybody else is doing. Under such circumstances, it appears likely that he will prosecute drilling rather rapidly in order to complete his contract and make another.

Teapot Dome Activities May Hurt War for Better Price Waged by Others

TULSA, Okla., Aug. 23.—Oil men and the press of the Rocky mountain district seem to think that the independent oil producing industry of their territory is being imposed on by the Standard of Indiana and Sinclair companies in that they insist upon the continuance of their large drilling and tankage erection programs there despite the depressed condition of the crude oil market. The prevailing opinion seems to be that these large concerns should shut down as the independent operators have sougt to do, until the industry gets its equilibrium again, but this opinion carries little weight with the operating departments of the big companies.

It is said that the Standard and Sinclair companies are building steel tankage at Casper, Wyo., and Salt Creek to accommodate over 10,000,000 barrels and at the same time are prosecuting a drilling campaign on over 100 wells. The Denver Post characterizes it as a "deliberate plan in action to increase over-production." The crude price has declined from $1.40 to 70 cents a barrel, so the producers of that district are quite aroused over it.

While the action of the big companies is objectionable to Rocky mountain operators, the objection is not confined to that territory. The contract of Sinclair with the government, in connection with the development of the Teapot dome calls for the building of a pipe line connecting the Teapot with Sinclair's mid-continent pipe line system, so any oil developed in that district will come in direct competition with the mid-continent product and mid-continent oil will not be needed in as great quantities as at present.

The Sinclair company cannot be utterly condemned for the mere prosecution of its drilling campaign on the Teapot because it has contracted an obligation to put down the wells and the deal it made with the government was of such great benefit to the Sinclair company from the producing of the oil to the marketing of it, that it is certainly not going to violate any of the terms of the contract. On the other hand, it is doing the industry an injustice, even though the drilling campaign theer is limited to the necessary wells, because the fact that the lease is proven productive will be a club over the crude oil price even though its actual production is not large.

An interesting example of how a potention production in sight is a heart-breaker to independent operators is the Humphreys well at Kosse, Texas. Even tsough it is not showing as good now as it did in the beginning, it has taken the starch out of a lot of producers.

POLICE SEEK MONEY SHOP

Latin Quarters of Paris Searched

(By International News Service)

PARIS, August 24.—A mysterious ladden studio which is, in reality a veritable factory for turning out counterfeit masterpieces, is the object of search by prefecture detectives.

This factory is somewhere in the Latin quarter. There poor students and starving artists, it is believed, are paid too tempting wages for copying the works of great painters, the originals of which would comand huge prices. These copies are then sold at auctions either deliberately in place of that original, which may be in a private collection, or as a newly discovered" work of the master.

Discovery of such 'art treasures" on the market has led to the belief in the existence of this "masterpiece factory" and to the combining the Latin quarter by the police in search of it.

In particular, spurious works of modern painters of note nave been detected, a variation of the old game of counterfeiting the older masters. All of the counterfeits discovered so far have been signed with the painter's name, cleverly forged.

Thomas Knock, an American art connoisseur, was the first to put the police on the track of the swindlers. Knock recently paid 300,000 francs for a collection of 107 pictures.

Out of this group of pictures an expert picked 43 counterfeits. Among them were works by Cezanne, Pissaro, Matisee, Renoir, Sisley, Sautin and Signac, representing for the most part a popular modern school of painting, the works of whih bring high prices.

A celebrated art critic whose name was not permitted to be published was another victim of the "factory."

Police plan, they say, to investigate every art dealer and many of the studios, on the left side of the Seine. Already, they say, they have discovered a group of bad imitations of work of Carriere. But the whereabouts of the suspected "factory" remains a mystery.

Two Extensions Now on Sand

Two south extension wells in the Texhoma-Archer county pool are on the 1600 foot sand, and preparing to complete.

The Texhoma's No. 1 Netherton and the Texas company's No. 5 Chance have the sand, with a good showing, according to the Wednesday reports from the field. Both are preparing to drill in.

The Texhoma test is one location east of the Texas company well, which is only a short distance from the No. 4 Chance, completed last week in the 1600 foot sand for a nice producer. The No. 4 is reported to have made around 250 barrels for the first few days and to have settled down now to around 175 barrels.

KLAN HELPS CHURCH

BURKBURNETT, Aug. 23.—On Sunday night a small company of klansmen, in mask and robe, entered the Baptist church at Newton during the evening service and handed the pastor, Rev. C. C. Blair, a donation and a note of commendation for the work of the church in that community.

At the request of the pastor, the men paused while he read the letter to his congregation, and offered a short prayer of gratitude. At the close of the prayer they passed silently out as they had entered. This is the fourth public appearance of the Burkburnet ku klux klan in this city and surrounding community.

HOW SONGS ARE WRITTEN

One item in Miss Inez Ford's breach of promise suit is $25,000 for inspiration. It was after looking deeply into her eyes that the defendant, a song writer, was able to reel off his popular song hits. If you have ever read the words of a popular song hit, you may have wondered how it was done. Perhaps this is the explanation.

Humphreys No Longer Threatens To Break Standard Oil's Grip

By H. N. F.

Col. Abram Elijan Humphreys, the man who threatened a year ago to put the Standard Oil company out of business, has brought in a third gusher oil pool in the central Texas field. Kosse is on the map. Kosse has a 15,000-barrel gusher. It has been named for Jones It is known to fame as the Jones well. Col. Humphreys was of the family of Jones before he struck oil at Mexia.

That is, he helped to pay the freight as best he could, as his pocketbook was flat most of the time. Now men say he is worth $100,000,000. He found it in Texas. He praises the Lord for it. He says he would not have found this vast well but the Lord was on his side and helped him along. There are leading citizens of Texas who are not in the oil business who insist that Col. Humphreys and Texas-made millionaires of his type should do something for the public school fund.

That is, that they should pay more than one and one-half per cent tax on their gross receipts There will be lawmakers under the big dome in the city of Austin next winter who will sing the same song. Col Humphreys found vast wealth in Texas. He placed Mexia on the map. He built pipe lines and refineries. But he did not put Deacon John D. Rockefelier out of business. He did not make good his threats. He isn't making threats of late. He is bringing in new fields and new wells.

Many old-time Stanard Oil lieutenants are members of the Humphreys organization. Kosse was a tauk town before the bringing in of the Jones well. Now Kosse promises to be an oil city with everything that goes with an oil city. Col. Humphreys is a very prayerful man. He isn't the owner of the wealth that is in his name. It belongs to the Lord and the Colonel is merely acting as his agent. He is using it for the uplift of mankind. He is employing it for the ebolition of misery and the elimination of ignorance and superstition.

Some of it will go to make the golden rule the guide and conscience of all men. At least months ago the Colonel announced this to be his program and as the oil money continues to roll into his coffers there is no reason why he should change his program. Texas appears to have lakes of oil. Texas has vast fields of iron ore Texas has salt beds or deposits sufficient to supply the world for a hundred years. Texas has mountains of sulphur under the earth, and yet when it comes to educational facilities Texas is away down in the list. It is the same in Mexico.

Mexico is a treasure house of the world when it comes to mineral wealth and petroleum is included in the mineral wealth. Mexico has the richest gold and silver and copper mines in the world. Nationals of other countries control most of this wealth. They are aliens or overlords. And yet Mexico owes a foreign debt of $500,000,000 and the public schools of Mexico are as crude as can be found anywhere in Latin-Indian countries. All the natural resources of Mexico are being exploited but not for the people. Most of the gold goes into the pockets of the aliens who are the overlords of the country. "To have and to hold" is the slogan of the adventurers who have invaded Mexico and seized upon its rich fields and its dazzling wealth This is what the English-speaking Caucasian calls justice to all concerned. There are 15,000,000 Mexicans and 12,000,000 are illiterate. Their heritage has been taken from them and Mexico has been bled white by foreigners since the coming of Cortez in the long ago. He was the first looter of the wealth of the Montezumas but he was in the piker class for those who came after him grabbed millions where he grabbed pennies. This is the age of the cunning and the strong and the most successful of the adventurers of the world pray while they prey.

This is no reflection on the Gospel of the Living God or the teachings of the Lowly Nazarene. When He walked the earth gold did not lure Him pomp did not dazzle Him, arrogance did not terrorize Him and hypocracy did not deceive Him. He was of the people, He believed in the people, He preached to the people, He loved the people and the mammon lovers of the age who were likewise the hypocrits of the age crucified Him because they feared and hated Him. Jesus of Nazareth was the world's first and greatest democrat. He believed in universal love and universal justice and if the Gospel He gave to mankind were literally accepted and lived by all men there would be a paradise here below.

WHO'LL GET IT

NOW the prophets of the petroleum world have been given another jolt. They have been telling the people that the American oil supply would be exhousted in about 40 years. Official Washing lets loose the news that existence of a huge untouched oil field under the Gulf of Mexico is strongly indicated in data just compiled by the naval hydrographic office. This has caused wide speculation in navy circles as to how the oil could be brought out. Why not lease the Gulf of Mexico to the Standard Oil people or to Edward L. Doheny?

If the titans of the Standard are busy elsewhere, call in the California multimillionaire who controls a third of the output of the Mexican fields and not long since leased the famous Tea-Pot Dome petroleum naval reserve from the Harding administration. Senator J. A. Harreld of Oklahoma never hesitates to say that the Tea-Pot Dome is one of the richest of pick-ups in the history of the petroleum industry. Secretary Fall of the interior department and Secretary Denby of the naval department executed the lease to Doheny and his associates.

For eight years Josephus Daniels was secretary of the navy. He drove the lease hunters away with his official club. It is different now.

If there is a huge untouched oil field under the Gulf of Mexico it is a thousand to one shot that some of the big fellows will own or control the Gulf of Mexico in the near future. Stepping on the gas creates a mighty demand and the captains of the oil industry are kept busy. There are said to be 21,000 independent producers and this republican senator from Oklahoma is fearful that they are to be trimmed and skinned and buried alive unless a very hearty tax is placed on oil importations.

Harreld was an oil producer before he became a statesmen and those who know him intimately say that he was more of a producer than he is a statesman. Oklahoma democrats have named Jack Walton of Oklahoma City as their new leader and Scott Ferris is backing Walton for a finish fight. Harreld defeated Ferris for the senate. Then Ferris jumped into oil. Some day after he has made his pile Ferris may take another whirl in politics and do his best to grab a senatorship. He did not lose on account of his unpopularity. He did lost because the fanatical followers of Thomas P. Gore resented the defeat of Gore and neglected to go to the polls on general election day. Harreld promised his constitutents to shut out Mexican crude. His fellow republican senators shut Harreld out by keeping crude on the free list. Harreld is a minnow in the petroleum pond. When he landed in Washington he made the interesting discovery that there were republican petroleum kings outside of the senate who had a thousand times more influence with the administration than the petroleum toga wearers of the senate.

JONES STILL PAYS

STRIKES are costly. For pay of national guardsmen on strike duty and state rangers on similar duty Governor Neff has approved a deficiency fund of $60,000. Of course Jones pays the freight. He pays the high freight rates. He pays the price when there is a coal famine. He pays all the costs when there is a labor strike. He is familiar with the workings of the open port law. He knows that every time there is a new fangled law enacted, it touches him in the pocketbook.

Civilization comes high. Jones knows it. He is forever digging and he is forever paying. He is called a rube by the parasites of society, but if it wasn't for the rube there would be the devil to pay the world over. He works and he sweats. He prays and he saves in order that his family may have a reserve fund to give him a Christian burial when the call comes. A splendid man is old Jones. He carries the world on his shoulders and the gilded human atoms of the world rarely give him a thought.

GERMANY NEEDS RESERVE BANK

A GERMAN mark is quoted at 1,140 to the dollar and yet the foreign correspondents declare that all the Germans are busy, that all the shops and plants are going night and day, that foreign tourists are having the time of their lives in the enemy country and that the German farmers are going to harvest bumper crops this year. What the Germans need is a federal reserve bank with Judge George W. Armstrong of Fort Worth as the governor of the bank.

SEES REPUBLICAN DEFEAT

SAMUEL G. BLYTHE, dean of the political writers of America, says that politically the United States is a mob; politics in this country is guerilla warfare; the prime motive in all our demonstrations is protest; the actuating spirit is change; everybody wants something different; nobody knows what he wants; and lastly, "a large proportion of the republicans of the country continue nominally as republicans because there is nothing else for them to do and it is the same with a large proportion of nominal democrats. There is no where for them to go."

Samuel G. says that the people by a majority of 7,000,000 voted the democratic party out of power because of high taxes. And he predicts that the republican party will be turned out of power for the same reason in the very near future. He tells the reason why. He says the American people are fed up with the stock stuff about the tariff; that as a partisan excitant the tariff has lost its potency; that the congressional politicians have made a miserable, shystering political expedient of the bonus issue and few of them have loked an inch beyond their own district in considering it.

This is what Mr. Blythe says in a remarkable article in the Saturday Evening Post for August 19: "Next to prohibition there has been more political hypocrisy on this bonus than on any questions of congressional policy for years. Samuel G. Blythe in other years was a democrat. Then he became a progressive republican.

Now he is weary of the two old political parties and this is his prediction after reviewing the signs of the times and the financial and industrial conditions of the hour: "One of these days a new party is coming in this country, a new party that will give an outlet for the conviction of the tens of thousands of voters in this country who have discarded both republicanism and democracy because republicanism and democracy no longer mean anything save historically." Thomas Jefferson was the founder of the democratic party. He was the author of the constitution of the United States. There has been no change in his gospel of democracy. There are men who would make the constitution a living yet hideous lie. But they are not in the majority.

There are thousands of men who call themselves democrats who know less of the fundamentals of democracy or a democratic government than an Apache Indian knows of the Sanscrit tongue. There will come a leader or leaders some day who will teach the people as Jefferson taught the people in the long ago. Then the democracy will return to the House of its Fathers. And then those who profess to be democrats will be true to the tenets of the ancient faith. The democratic party was born when the republic was born and the democratic party will never die until this republic has been placed in its shroud by those who had stabbed liberty in the name of liberty.

SPEAKING OF POLITICS

ANOTHER of the Gloom family has come to the surface. He predicts that humanity may stifle itself to death. Prof. Leonard Hill of London is the culprit. This is his scientific and solemn warning: Unless civilization provides for more air for workers and more recreation there is a danger of civilization gradually stifling itself to extinction. Are the politicians included? In this land of the free they are given plenty of air and provide their own gas. And if some of the tribe are telling the truth now and then they indulge in a bit of recreation not sanctioned by the statutes or countenanced by the makers of the conventions which are said to govern polite society. Prof. Leonard Hill should challenge George Bernard Shaw to a joint debate.

OIL AND GAS—MOSTLY GAS

HON. ALEXANDER BRUCE BIELASKI, the gentleman who kidnaped himself in Mexico for ransom purposes, is coming home. He was pronounced not guilty by the Mexican government. All this publicity did not cost A. B. B. a copper cent. He was not compelled to pay the ransom. He walked away from the bandits' cave without the firing of a shot. Even the creases were not taken out of his trousers. It happened in June. He will be in America in early September. He is interested in an oil well in Mexico. He has friends who are interested in an oil well. Wherever there is oil, there is gas.

INSOMNIA

I called on old Doc Graft today, and said, "I'm doomed, I think; I spend the long nights in the hay, and cannot sleep a wink. I've tried the many ancient schemes for bringing slumber near, but from the mystic land of dreams I'm barred for good, I fear. I counted forty million sheep last night, but all in vain; I must get next to gentle sleep, or I shall go insane. Obeying one cheap docs harangues, who boosted exercise, I waked some twenty parasangs, which mailed to close my eyes. And so at last I come to you, your help I now implore; they say you've methods strange and new, no docs e'er used before." "I knew you'd come," the Old Doc cried, when weakness made me pause; "I saw you sick, and so I tried, with zeal, to learn the cause. I find your stand off is no good in any part of town; you owe for hay and coal and wood, and for your wife's best gown. In debts you've always been immersed since you were in your teens; you owe the butcher for his wurst, the grocer for his beans. It would be vain to feed you pills, they would not set you right; go like a man and pay your bills, and you will sleep at night." This was the rede of Old Doc Graft, too good a rede to waste; and down the elevator shaft he dropped me, in his haste.

AUTO CRIPPLES BROOKLYN BRIDGE.

Brooklyn's famous bridge has had to succumb to the motor car. An army in crossing a bridge "breaks step" that the weight of the men may be more evenly divided. Automobiles going over a bridge are "in step," so frequent are the explosions of their motors. The bridge built 40 years ago was intended to accommodate horsedrawn vehicles and pedestrians only. Then came the big trolley cars and subway trains. The bridge, with its four immense cables of 5,925 wires each, was able to stand this strain. Finally automobiles came, especially huge trucks which for years have pounded incessantly over the bridge's gigantic span. Now motor-drawn vehicles are prohibited until the big bridge can be rebuilt in 5 years at a cost of 50 million dollars which is twice the cost of the present bridge. Bridges like people, must keep up with the times.

Lesson No. 51
REVIEW
Detection Circuit for the Vacuum Tube

The vacuum tube as a detector exercises the important function of rectifying oscillations of raido frequency which have been intercepted by the antenna and industicevly or conductively impressed upon the secondary circuit. The grid element in the tube, through its control of the electron flow between filament and plate, causes a fluctuation of the plate current and consequent variation of the telephone current which results in the reception of audible signals.

Electric waves may be divided into two classes; continuous or undamped waves of constant amplitude, and discontinuous or damped waves whose oscillations have decreasing amplitude. The wavelength may be expressed as the distance between the points of two successive waves where the energy is at a maximum or a minimum.

Spark Discharge

A spark discharge in the closed oscillatory circuit of a spark transmitter sets up radio-frequency oscillations of decreasing amplitude. When the condenser alternately charges and discharges across the spark gap, the resultant group of oscillations is damped by the extraction of energy. A minimum number of 23 complete oscillations is necessary for a single spark discharge in order to conform to the governmental regulations.

The Radiation of Electric Waves

Electric waves radiated in all directions from the aerial of the transmitting station are intercepted by receiving antennae but continue with practically undiminished energy. Powerful transmitting stations used in transoceanic communications have aerials so designed and geographically located as to the strongest waves in the direction of the receiving stations with which communication is carried on.

The Coil Aerial

The coil aerial has valuable directional properties both in the transmission and reception of electric waves. It may be used as a direction finder and is capable of receiving signals from long distances when connected to very sensitive amplifiers.

Static Electricity

The interference of stratic charges of electricity with sensitive receiving sets is often so pronounced during the warm summer months as to entirely prevent the reception of radio signals. Small static charges accumulate into a gigantic charge which breaks down the gap between cloud and ground and results in the lightning flash with its millions of volts potential.

Entertaining Passengers by Radio

Several hundred Cornell students on their way to New York City received a musical program by wireless while riding on a special train of the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western railroad. The radio appartus was mounted in one of the cars and while speeding over the rails received the special musical sent out by the General Electric Co., from Schenectady. This is believed to be the first instance of utilizing the radio waves from a broadcasting station for the entertainment of passengers.

Ed Howe sometimes writes poetry and doesn't know it. In our orchard, says he, we have several variety of peachtrees loaded with fruit, and I frequently admire them as I might admire a great painting. These peachtrees are almost as beautiful as wild crab apple trees in early bloom. And when I pick a basket of the peaches, what delicious perfume comes from it! So while peaches do not agree with me very well, I enjoy them as much as the children who visit us, as we invite to help themselves. Wichita Falls Boosted High · By Another Texas Editor

The editors of northwest Texas are still talking about Wichita Falls and the press convention held here recently.

One of the best and most unique pieces written on the affair was recently done by Editor Richard H. McCarty, of The Albany News. It is worth reading, every word of it, and is reprinted here in full:

"Friday and Saturday of last week, the country newspaper boys, belonging to the Northwest Texas Press association, met in the city of Wichita Falls, and for the time being, the city belong to them, yes, it was one round of pleasure, business, joy and good eats.

"Our headquarters was established in the Kemp hotel, and it is one of the best hotels in Texas, nine stories high, has two hundred and forty rooms, all elegantly furnished, and on this occasion, everything was ourn, from management down to bell hop, elevator girls, and those pretty girls in the cafe smiled on us, and everything was served spic and span. And now we want to say, if you ever go to Wichita Falls, don't fail to put up at this elegantly furnished, well served hostelry. O yes, all we had to do was touch an electric button, and a smiling bell hop was at our service, and what yer want boss. And just as soon as we arrived in the city, the chamber of commerce and the press men took us in charge, and the round that they took us from one good thing to another, made us all dizzy headed, and we had a fullness of feeling all the while. The initial meeting of the association was held in the directors room of the chamber of commerce, with Brother Brown of Electra, president of the institution, in the chair, and Brother Shuffler of Olney Enterprise at the secretary's table, and the machinery of the oldest district press association in America was in motion, and by the way, the only district association in the nation recognized by the National Press association—quite a distinction, ain't it?

"Well, it is only brains that count in this fast age of the world, and the Northwest Texas Press associaton has brains sufficient to rule a state or nation or man a chain of corporations. The morning session adjourned about one o'clock, and repaired to the dining room of the Kemp hotel, where the chamber of commerce has prepared a spread fit for the gods, in fact it was just one doggone thing after another, and we were never hungry nor thirsty while we were there, and we did not drink any of your durn bootleg rot either. And then Friday night, the Wichita Falls press men took us away up on the thirteenth floor of the City National Bank building, at which time another one of those big meetings was pulled off, with worlds of good eats, and speech-making on the side.

"Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, editor of the Record News, was toastmaster, and many people were called upon to respond. And by the way, that reminds us, that was the first time that we had ever met that prince of Irishmen, Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, and at long range we did not like him very much, and one of the main reasons, he was the arch enemy of our friend, Joe Bailey, one of America's greatest democrats, and gee how he did throw the hot shot into our political play house, and for the time being he played havoc with it—but sonny, truth crushed to earth will come again.

"Well at first sight of this Irishman, we wilted and forgave, for the reason that he is possessed of that Irish personality that cannot be resisted, and pretty soon, we were walking around arm in arm, made up just like two school boys who had recently had a fight on the campus.

"Be it said of Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald, he is among the strongest editorial writees in the south, yes, he is sure master of the king's English, can dig up more of it, say it louder, stronger, and stay on the job longer than any man we have ever read after, and if he ever engages you in a political scrap, you had better whet your sword. Of course on some matters, political, all within the democratic fold, we disagree, yes, belong to different schools, but always, when newspaper folks meet in conclave, all their differences, political, religious, and otherwise, are pitched into the curcible of good fellowship, meet on a common level, smoke the pipe of peace, and mess out of the same dish. Well, in this Irish prologue, we have lost the trend of our story—The Northwest Press association and its doings on this occasion, but after all, it's only men that make history—poetry, fiction, drama, art and war and governments, he's the one, and the only subject of discussion.

"O yes, great, grand, glorious, heroic, intellectual, builder of governments and the founder of creeds, a devil and an angel in one, preaches the gospel of love and mercy, then in turn will unsheathe his sword and slay his millions and pull down governments—a vandal and a devil. And folks, when all life on this mundane sphere becomes extinct then it will be nice and quiet down here, and then the clergy and the devil will take a long vacation.

"Well, anyhow, we expect that you are wondering what all this has to do with the meeting of the Northwest Texas Press association at Wichita Falls. Well as said above, our subject is man, and he alone organizes institutions and builds cities, and that's our subject. And that leads us to say that Wichita Falls is one of the fastest growing and best cities on the map of grand old Texas, just at the gateway of the panhandle, an empire within itself and on this occasion, the iron gate swung back on its golden hinges, and bade the press boys a hearty welcome. Yes, she is a city of beautiful homes, handsome women and big-hearted men, and the valley of the Wichita is overshadowed with sky scrapers, checkered with railroads, irrigation dams and ditches and street car lines, and about 40,000 folks live within the corporate limits of the western giant. Has two first class daily papers, The Record News, with Hugh Nugent Fitzgerald sitting on the tripod, and the Wichita Daily Times, and Ed Howard, one of the pioneer newspaper men of the west is the man behind the gun.

"The association was in session two days, Friday and Saturday, an excellent program was before the body, and much foundation work was done, yes, it was edifying, inspirational and educational. For the next ensuing year O. H. Harrison of Seymour Banner was elected president, and Brother Edwards of People Review, Henrietta, vice-president, and Ralph Shuffler of Olney Enterprise, secretary and treasurer. The place of next meeting will be Wichita Falls; in fact there is a move on foot to make this city the permanent home of the Northwest Texas Press association—they just treated us so nice, we can't stay away."

The Once Over

NOW FOR A RAJAH OF HOTELS AND RESTAURANTS.

AMERICA IS FAST BECOMING over-commissioned. You can't turn around without seeing somebody about to accept or just accepting a commissioner-hip of the arts, sciences, business, or pleasures, at salarie of $100,000 a year "and up."

Now the retaurant and hotel men are casting about for a Judge Landis, Will Hays, or Gus Thomas to guide them. Applicants are numerous. There isn't a male resident of the United States over eighteen years of age who doesn't think he knows more about how hotels should be run than the men who run them.

A determined quest for the right man to become the Maharajah of Meats and Mashed Potatoes, Grand Mogul of Mezzanine Floors, Royal Rajah of the Room and Bath, and Overlord of Overbearing Night Clerks is on. The winner will get a salary of $100,000 a year, a season pass to all the hotels and restaurants, three helpings of butter wherever he stops, and a snappy salute from all headwaiters.

He will be the absolute boss in all vital issues which may arise in the hotel business. Such as, for instance, the question whether the cake of soap which is put in the modern hotel bathroom shou'd be large enough to be easily distinguishable from lump sugar; whether coffee should continue to be made by boiling the chef's pipe, and whether it is a pretty compliment to paint "STOLEN FROM THE ALGAZA HOTEL" on the back of sheets and pillow cases, even in the rooms of honor guests and trusties.

Stern punishment will be handed offenders against the playing rules as set down by the Mogul of Meals, Methods and Mohair Mattresses. Hotel proprietors who disregard orders will be sentenced to sleep in one of their own beds. Second offenses will bring an edict commanding them to spend forty-eight hours trying to get hot water. Habitual offenders will be ordered to try to get an outside telephone call through the hotel switchboard. This will amount practically to a life sentence.

Something will have to be done by the Imperial Beagle of Bonifaces about the Hotel Detective. He must be made more intricate. Up to the present time the Hotel Detective has been one face you could recognize instantly as a face you had seen somewhere before.

As a matter of fact, you had seen it every place before.

There ought to be something done to make him stop walking around with his hands behind his back, toothpick in his mouth, court plaster on his chin and Elks Pelvis-bone on his watch fob.

And he should be compelled to stop playing his eyeballs cross-corner.

There should be something done, too, in the line of limitation of uniforms and armaments by hotel doormen. People are getting tired mistaking Schwartz, the taxicab caller, for General Joffre and Admiral Sims.

And there should be some steps taken toward disciplining the young lady at the cigar counter who gives you That Insecticide Look when you ask if she has any good 10-cent cigars.

But it is good business. One bottle of the stuff delivered to a guest who only expected to stay one night will keep him in his room for a week.

Of the opportunity for food reform in American restaurants little need be said. If the restaurant rajah does his duty the public will rally 'round his standard and demand that he be president. Any restaurant proprietor who allows his steward to continue serving chopped tire casings as chicken a la king should, it seems to us, be barred from playing until May 22, and fined at least as much as Babe Ruth.

Can you blame a glove for squeezing a pretty girl's hand.

The frock shown in the sketch, designed for a girl of 12 to 14 years, is one of the coat type models in such high favor, and so generally smart and becoming either to members of the younger generation or their elders. This dress was developed in a navy basket weave wool fabric trimmed with self fabric in tan, with cross stitch embroidery in various high colors giving an additional trimming touch. The round collar has little cross stitch motifs bordering it, the same finish appearing about the facing of the small setin pocket. The long self-fringed panel and odd shaped cuffs give to the frock a suggestion that makes it very much out of the ordinary.

Self fringe often finishes frocks of coarse weave wool fabric. One smart little school frock recently seen that featured this trimming was of a basket cloth in red and white check. The dress was a two piece model. The skirt was fringed at the edge, and the smock-like upper part of the garment was fringed both at the edge and about the sleeves. Set-on pockets were trimmed with red cross stitch embroidery, and a red patent leather belt and red ribbon tie also appeared on the dress.

In selecting a coat for the 12 to 14-year-old girl, those designed on sports lines clamor vigorously for attention. Such a coat, made of the best quality of material and smartly fur-trimmed, is not as expensive as models on more elaborate or dressy lines, and the sports coats are usually in decidedly better taste.

Beautiful rough weave fabrics in plain color, smart plaids and plaid back materials galore appear for fall and winter. One of the new and practical ideas is half-lining with chamois. A plain coat may have the lower part lined with a plaid velour, with upper part and sleeves chamois lined, this feature adding little if any to the cost of the garment.

And fur collars are decidedly approved by Dame Fashion.

JUST THINK

Fannie Hurst and Joseph Hergesheimer

What do men and women think of each other? The age old question is being discussed by Fannie Hurst and Joseph Hergesheimer in a current magazine. "The most valuable thing a woman possesses is the idealized view of the man she loves; when it is gone her happiness goes with it," Hergesheimer says in a current issue of McCalls. "The man who is viewed with merely reasonable eyes by his wife feels that he is no more than a scarecrow." Fannie Hurst says: "Men want their wives and sweethearts to fit into the man-established scheme of things along the lines of least existence. Blue eyes are easier to cope with than gray matter. That is often the answer to "What does he see in her?"

WORTHAM SHOW TO HELP FAIR

It'll Try Hard to Please Here

Wortham Brothers are just as much interested in the success of the Texas-Oklahoma fair as the people of Wichita Falls are and are going to put in a whole lot of extra work here because it is the initial exposition. H. Sanger, general agent of the Wortham shows made the forgoing statement Wednesday afternoon, while he was up to his neck in arranging details for his shows here September 30 to October 4 inclusive.

"I am wiring today for two construction men who will be on the job from the time they arrive here until the shows come," said Mr. Sanger, "and you can take it from me we are going to put something worth while on for the people. We want to see this fair a big success and we know it is going to be a big success. We feel that we are a part of it."

Mr. Sanger laid off the grounds for the midway and assisted in arranging the locations for other attractions such as exhibits of various kinds. The space laid off for the midway is 800 by 1000 feet and in addition the Wortham shows will take up another space of 500 foot front just off from the midway. This space will be between hangars 8 and 9. There will be 30 shows and eight riding devices with the Wortham attractions.

Mr. Sanger said he is glad the directors of the fair have decided to prohibit gambling devices. He will have men on the grounds to aid the local officers in keeping such devices down. It is often the case that gambling devices work into fairs under some other name but Wortham shows carry with the company that is coming here two of the best known detectives in the country just for the purpose of seeing that everything is on the square. These two detectives know all the ruses that games generally work it is said, and know personally most all of those who try to work them so that they will be of value in keeping such operations out.

She was bleeding from a dozen hurts when police arrived in response to her telephone sent in as quickly as she recovered sufficiently to reach the phone.

COLLECT FOR FAIR

Members of committees who went out for the fair association Wednesday to get in all the outstanding stock subscriptions reported considerable success.

In fact it is said that every person they saw paid their subscription so that they brought in several thousand dollars. There are others they have not seen as yet however, and as the association is in need of the money right away the committees will keep in the field until they reach all those who have subscribed.

Little Stories For Bedtime

OLD MAN COYOTE DOES A LITTLE PLANNING.

Old Man Coyote had a very good reason for not digging up all of Farmer Brown's Boy's traps after he found them. He was about to dig them up just to show Farmer Brown's Boy how little he was afraid of any traps that he might set when an idea came to him that made him grin. A sly, crafty grin it was. Old Man Coyote was still grinning as he sat watching jolly, round, red Mr. Sun drop slowly behind the Purple Hills and Old Mother West Wind follow him, taking her children, the Merry Little Breezes, with her in her big bag.

Not once that night did any one hear the terrible voice of Old Man Coyote, sounding like many voices, for he took the greatest care that none should know what he was about. He had a special reason. In the first place, he knew that old Granny Fox had led Bowser the Hound over to his home in the far corner of the Green Meadows, and he knew that she had done this so that Farmer Brown's Boy might find it. He knew that Granny Fox would watch where she could see all that went on there, so of course she had seen Farmer Brown's Boy set those terrible traps. She would be very sure that Old Man Coyote couldn't get out without getting caught, and he wanted her to continue to think so.

In the second place, he knew that if he howled Farmer Brown's Boy would be sure to hear him, and then he would know that he had not been caught, and he had a very special reason for wanting Farmer Brown's Boy to think that he was caught. You see, he wanted Farmer Brown's Boy to visit those traps the next morning. He hoped he would take Bowser the Hound with him. If possible, he would make sure that he did.

So very patiently all night long Old Man Coyote waited not far from Farmer Brown's dooryard. He didn't even take the trouble to get something to eat. He was too much interested in making his plans.

"As soon as it is daylight that boy will get up and start to look at those traps," said he to himself. "Probably he will take that pesky dog, but I must make sure of that. If I make a noise out around the henhouse and frighten the chickens so that they cackle he will be sure to let Bowser loose, and if he does that I'll see to it that Bowser has no trouble in finding my tracks. And if he does——" Old Man Coyote did not finish, but there was a wicked twinkle in the eye he cocked up at the moon. It was very plain that Old Man Coyote had a dark, deep plan that concerned Bowser the Hound and Farmer Brown's Boy.

Now, patience is a virtue when it is in a good cause. Patience is one of the things Old Man Coyote had learned best. I am afraid it is not always a virtue in his case, but, anyway, there is no one who can be more patient to get what he wants. So all the night long he lay in the grass waiting for the breaking of the new day, and not once by any sign did he show that the night seemed long. So still he lay that Hooty the Owl passed over his head twice so close that his great soundless wings almost brushed Old Man Coyote's head, and yet Hooty did not see him.

But patience, if persisted in long enough, brings its own reward, and it was so now. Little by little the Black Shadows began to withdraw, and 'way down low in the very edge of the sky, where it seems to meet the earth, there were signs that jolly, round, red Mr. Sun was about to throw off his nightcap and get up. Old Man Coyote drew in very close to Farmer Brown's henhouse and waited.

RAIN STILL NEEDED

Wichita county and the immediate territory looks mighty good compared with some of the counties farther west, according to County Farm Agent Guy R. Jones, who has just returned from the west.

"The rains we had here were local," Mr. Jones said, "and helped the cotton crop considerably, but they did not extend farther west than Electra. Some of the western counties are almost burned up by the hot winds and the crops are in bad shape."

WAS A BROKEN-DOWN WOMAN
Then I Began Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Medicines

Donaldsonville, La.—"I write with pleasure to praise your medicine—Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound—which has done so much to restore my health. I was a broken-down woman until my husband brought me a bottle of your Vegetable Compound and one of Lydia E. Pinkham's Blood Medicine. I had been having pains every month and at intervals between, was weak and seemed to be smothering at times, but in a week I felt like another woman. I also used Lydia E. Pinkham's Sanative Wash. It did me a lot of good too. I cannot praise your medicines too much and will be more than glad to recommend them to any woman who is suffering from female troubles. You may print my testimonial, as it is true." Mrs. T. A. LANDRY, 612 Miss. St., Donaldsonville, La.

Note Mrs. Landry's words—"as it is true." Every letter recommending Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound is genuine. It is a statement telling the merits of these medicines just as the women in your own neighborhood tell each other.

Exporters Lambast Wheeler and Ruth for Decisive Win

SPUDDERS BUMPED FOR GAME AND HALF CUT AS PANTHERS STAGE BIG BUFF TROUNCING

Jacobus Holds Sluggers While Mates Whale Everything in Sight; Ramsey Finally Stops Parade After Damage Already Done; Allen Keeps Eye on Two-Base Fence; Second Loss

Special to The Record News.

BEAUMONT, Texas, August 23.—The Exporters pasted the offerings of Wheeler and Ruth at will today and dragged down the second game of the series, 11 to 2 when Jacobus proved effective against the slugging Spudders.

Wheeler was relieved after permitting two runs and Ruth went to the mound, but eight hits and an error netted the Exporters eight runs in the sixth inning. Ramsey replaced Ruth in the seventh and gave up but one run, the result of two passes and a wild pitch, together with one hit.

The Spudders did not resemble a club that had waded so successfully through the schedule as they have during the past seven weeks, while the Exporters showed themselves qualified to do battle with the best.

A shifted line-up greeted the few Exporter fans who journeyed to the park for the matinee. Joe Mathes went to first and sent Jimmy oD,le to left field. The first six hitters of the Beaumont club swung their flails determinedly and each of them hammered out at least a pair of safeties, with doubles and triples interspersed through the long string of swats.

Pug Allen hammered two over the short field fence, bringing his total for the two games to five. Only two Spudders located the near barrier, Summa and Bescher.

Jacobus hurled an exceptionally good game and allowed but seven hits for the day. Summa, Tanner and Bescher each had a brace while Jake Miller added the other.

The Exporters got away to a two run lead in the second when Allen laid off with a double over the right fence. Edington singled to right and went to second when Miller threw to the plate sending Allen back to third. Stansbury doubled to center and both runners counted.

Spuds Get Starter.

In the fourth the Spudders chalked up their first counter. Summa started with a double. Miller sent a long fly to center. Beck was thrown out at first by Edington, Summa taking third and scoring when Jacobus uncorked a fast one to the stand as he pitched to White.

The first of the sixth saw the count even and the game left up to Ruth. After Adams was out short to first, Summa singled to center and stole second immediately. Miller poked a base hit into center and Summa counted the second and last Spudder run o fthe day.

The Big Sixth.

Ruth received a terific bombardment in the sixth when the Exporters counted eight runs after two hitters had been retired. Stansbury opened with a single to center. Brennan forced the runner at second when he hit to the pitcher. Fedor drew a pass. Jacobus flied out to Bescher. Doyle dropped a short single in right filling the bases for Joe Mathes who promptly unloaded them with a triple so deep left center. Anderson doubled to center and Mathes counted. Allen dropped his second of the day over the two-bag wall for another run. Edington whaled the fence in right and Allen tallied. Stansbury got his second hit of the round when he singled to left and Edington went to second. White took Brennan's grounder and threw wild to first and Edington scored. Fedor singled to center and Stansbury counted. Jacobus ended the agony when he popped to White.

As the seventh opened, Ramsey went to the box for the Spudders. Although it was his first appearance in the box, he allowed but one hit, a single by Mathes, to the Exporters who seemed to hit anything Ramsey passed three hitters but was effective.

The game reduced the Spudder's lead to one and one-half games when the Panthers took both ends of a dual contest at Houston.

MURPHY'S RISE READS LIKE FICTION

Jimmy Murphy, is a late edition of the Horatio Alger series or at least his past performances sound that way.

Two years ago Jimmy had no more idea of fame than a gust of wind and today he's known as the king of auto speed demons, the fastest gazabo on terra firma—riding upon the upholstered luxury of fame and fortune and hanging up victories with all the regularity of a fruit grower picking orange.

It's all very gay indeed.

At the inaugural race at the Los Angeles motor speedway in 1920, he won with a non-stop run, averaging 103.2 miles an hour.

In 1921 he made the spectators dizzy trying to watch his car tear around the track at the French Grand Prix.

Murphy set up a record that looks like a pyramid in winning the 250-mile international sweepstake race at of 110.6 miles an hour and at times, San Francisco; maintaining a speed getting over the course at 113. By this time the speed cops were wondering if they had been telling the truth when they accused certain parties of speeding along the boulevards and the hitherto speed demons were painting "For Sale" on their faithful chariots and pushing them around in the front yard.

Jimmy then grabbed off the 500-mile conflict at Indianapolis, the fastest 500, by the way, ever covered on that well known speedway, and that ain't all—on July 4th, last, he added to his laurels by winning the eleventh annual Tacoma speedway classic.

Fans Planning Bonus for Spudders When They Grab Texas Gonfalon

There's a movement on foot to raise a substantial bonus for the Spudders if they'll go into the Dixie series

The fans have been talking this for several days, and yesterday afternoon in a meeting just a few of the faithfuls, decided to present the matter to the public in the form of a mass meeting to be held Saturday afternoon.

H. S. Ford has tendered the use of the Palace theatre for the get-together affair and the meeting will be called to order at 3 o'clock, a full hour before the game starts. This is the date for the opening game of the Galveston series and it is thought all who can possibly attend will be there.

At present, no definite plans of action have been decided upon and this is one reason the meeting is to be an open forum of the fans. The fans will be the ones to put the thing over and since that is the case, those fostering the movement are anxious that all have a voice in the matter.

Fort Worth has done the same thing for the past two years and has been highly successful with it. More than $10,000 was raised last year, and likely this much more will be raised this year.

Of course the fund will not be offered as an incentive to the Spuds, "our boys," for they are already giving all they have to the team. They're fighting with their hardest right now, just as they have for the last seven weeks. But with the purse, it is to be a matter of good faith and appreciation for the effort of the team

The fans can and will give toward the movement. Many who can't afford to do so will come through with their regardless of how it hurts. That's the kind of fans we have here, and they're the kind to put such a thing over.

YOUTHS STAGE GREAT FIGHTS

By Associated Press.

BOSTON, Aug. 23.—The national doubles lawn tennis championship play at Longwood today was marked by a demonstration of youthful strength by a pair of western lads, Walter Westbrook of Detroit, and James Hennessy of Indianapolis, who battled the Australian Davis cup team, Gerald L. Patterson and Pat O'Hara Wood, through three extra game sets. The scores were 7-5, 8-6, 8-6.

Equally spectacular was the play of the junior champions, Arnold M. Jones, and W. W. Ingraham of Providence, who won a set from the playing through champions, W. T. Tilden II. and Vincent Richards. The scores were 6-3, 6-4, 4-6, 8-6.

At the close they were still fighting hard, and Tilden and Richards called on all the court craft they could muster to win.

Today's play completed the third round, W. M. Washburn, and R. Norris Williams, former Davis cup team, and the Kensey brothers, Pacific coast titlists, advancing, while the victories of the Australians and of Tilden and Richards, pushed them to places at the bottom and top respectively of the semi-final round.

The Kinseys must meet W. M. Johnston and Wallace Johnson for the other semi-final place in the upper half and Williams and Washburn will be opposed by Jean Borotra of France and N. W. Niles of Boston, for the bracket with the Australians in the lower half.

The national mixed double championship inaugurated today, brought together several notable partnerships including some international alliances. In the national mens and womens championships, Mrs. Molla Bjurstedt Mallory and "Bill" Tilden teamed again.

Miss Helen Wills, the girl star had as partner Robert Kinsey, her fellow Californian, and Mrs. William Henry of Los Angeles played with Count De Gamor of the Spanish Davis cup team.

Spiking 'Em

By "SPIKE" COOPER

What do you think of it by now, fans?

"Pog's" suggestion has set well with many faithful Spudder supporters and several have agreed that if we'll all bear down with a stack of messages to the league prexy, then he'll realize the attitude of the supporters here.

Here's a letter which came yesterday:

"Relative to the suggestion of POG it appears to me a good one. Some steps should be taken to correct the false impression that seems prevalent outside of Wichita Falls. For the past three weeks I have been out of the city. Fort Worth papers (The Fort Worth Record in particular, have carried heavy headlines proclaiming to the world at large that the "Spudders face banishment" and "Spudders guilty of doctoring balls" etc., until they have educated vast numbers of fans outside this city to believe that the Wichita Falls team has resorted to unfair tactics to boost their unbroken string of wins to 25.

"Personally, I do not believe that they have doctored any balls. I am unwilling to concede that they have been guilty of playing dirty ball, but granting that they have been guilty of playing dirty ball, it ill-becomes the Dallas and Fort Worth clubs to howl because they have set numerous precedents. Kraft hit Jake Miller in the back and put him out of the game for several days; was that dirty? Davenport, acording to the Fort Worth Record, deliberately threw at Kraft seven times in a recent game between the Cats and Peacock Alley; was that dirty? Thus far, everybody seems content with a mild denial of the charge against our team. Let's do a little fighting. Set a date and let's bury Doak with several hundred telegrams.

"A WICHITA FALLS FAN."

Yes, the fans are in a fighting mood. Now is the time to bear down in support of the best team in the league, for R. O. Harvey has said he'd let nothing stand between him and a fair decision in the mater. Let's not let him fight the case alone. It's a little thing in its way, but a big help to Harvey and the team if we all unite in the suggestion.

Somebody name the day and we'll all shower down with messages to Dallas.

Friend Fan suggests certain incidents of the past where the Cats and Dallas club have been decreed guilty of unsportsmanlike acts.

In all probability they have. And were they not versed in the underhand methods, then there could never have been any accusation hatched up against the Spudders.

Yes, we can all draw our own conclusions.

Now arises one, Phineas T. Bugg, poet laureate of Creosote crossing, penning for the Rotary spokesman as follows:

"The game is lost," sobbed Skipper Jim,
"It's far too late to save it."
"Grieve no," Snipe Conley said to him
"I'll make an affidavit.
'Tis no to be that Wichita Falls
Should our own valiant club lick.
My nose knows something of the balls,

If through the publishing of this bit of verse we've violated any release dates or copyrights, then we apologize with the following explanation:

Phineas T. Bugg has proven himself a scholar and student to be ranked with the best of today and it is consideration of publicity to the poet that it is here reprinted.

Art Weiss, junior member of the Spudder outfield who has been out with a "flat wheel" for the past month is getting in shape to start an argument for his position. He's out tramping around on the bum dog now, and is feeling real frisky.

Every afternoon of late, he has been taking light workouts and can hardly wait for his day to dawn again. The swelling has disappeared from the injured member and the plucky youngster hardly favors the bad ankle at all.

Weiss will join the Spudders in Fort Worth next week, and will likely not get into the game for several days, but he wants to be down where the fight is thickest.

He's too good a man to keep him down long and he has that determination which counts so much.

We're watching for you, Art.

Well illustrated with art, the Port Arthur Daily News comes forth with the following:

"They're going to keep an eye on the Wichita Falls Spudders from here on out. That club has been convicted of annointing baseballs with creosote and now it is rumored that the Spuds intend to smear 'em with green persimmon juice next, so as to close the mouths of talkative spitball pitchers."

"Pat" Pattison gets credit with us for that crack. Pat, we figure you're with us, even though your present habitat is far distanct.

Pour it on 'em down there, Pat, that's what we're doing up here. Lots o' fans are going to be surprised when the Spuds are exonerated soon.

BALLOONS POPULAR IN GOLF TOURNEY

By Associated Press.

OAKLAND HILLS COUNTRY Club, Birmingham, Mich., Aug. 23.—Playing over a course in perfect condition, but which proved to be one of the toughest propositions ever bucked in a tournament contest, approximately 140 golfers today shot the 18 holes of the Oakland Hills links in the first qualifying round of the western open tournament with Mike Brady, local professional, leading the field with a 72, the only par score of the day.

The feature of the play was the altitude of the scores, for most of them were in the eighties, with 28 running under the four score figures.

At 12 years old Beethoven was organist in a church in Bonn, Germany.

The package was properly and correctly addressed to the Dallas shipper at San Antonio, sent registered and special delivery.

EXHIBIT PLANS ARE ENDORSED

Spaces to Be Drawn Friday

Burton Stayton, R. D. Kennedy, Lamar Fain, Bert Bean, O. W. Smith and A. L. Winston, composing the Retail Merchants' association committee on the fair exhibits, met in the chamber of commerce rooms Wednesday afternoon and endorsed the manner in which the association has arranged exhibit space at the fair grounds.

A meeting of all retail merchants has been called for Friday morning at 10 o'clock in the chamber of commerce rooms to draw for exhibit space at the fair. Members of the committee said it is important that all merchants be there as those not there will have to select their space from that which is left, unless they are at the meeting Friday morning.

The two hangars, 6 and 7, to be used by the retail merchants are directly across the street from the coliseum where the free acts will be on and near the entrance so that they will be among the best located booths on the grounds, it is said.

Seymour to Vote On Hospital Bonds

Special to The Record News.

SEYMOUR, Tex., Aug. 23.—Petitions have been presented to the commissioners' court for an election providing for the building and equipping of a county hospital. The election has been ordered for Saturday, Sept. 31 and calls for a bond issue in the sum of $100,000.

It is thought that very little opposition will be met with as the petition is supported by a majority of the largest tax payers in the county. Resolutions were presented with the petition sponsored by the Silas Baker post, American Legion, endorsing the project and requesting that the hospital if constructed be known as the Baylor County Memorial hospital to commemorate the heroism of the eight Baylor county boys who were killed in France.

Wichita Klansman Talks at Rayland

Special to The Record News.

VERNON, Tex., Aug. 23.—Bands of white-robed klansmen entered two rural churches of Wilbarger county Sunday night and at each left substantial financial offerings and letters of commendation for the pastors. At Lockett, where Rev. Edgar Pippin is pastor, the minister made a splendid speech of appreciation, and at Rayland, where Rev. Hankins fills the pulpit, one of the kansmen, said to be from Wichita Falls, made a short talk to the congregation.

Runs Into Curb to Prevent Crash Gets Arrested and Pays Fine for It

Admitting with a smile on his face that he had been guilty of reckless driving, and informing the court that "I drove into the curbing to avoid running into the ladies who reported me to the police," a middle-aged man who appeared in corporate court before Judge J. P. Marrs yesterday morning willingly paid his fine of $15, and thanked the magistrate for "being lenient with me."

The defendant said that he was driving at a moderate rate of speed when he came into a jam of traffic, and was forced to turn aside, hitting the curbing and breaking his right front wheel from the impact. He also admitted that he had had several drinks of intoxicating liquors, but denied that he was drunk.

It was his first appearance in any court, he said, and the first time in his life that he had ever been arrested.

JITNEY TURNS TURTLE

Special to The Record News.

PADUCAH, Aug. 22.—A jitney turned a complete turtle last Saturday afternoon as a party of men were coming in over the Chalk road to Paducah.

A shower of rain that had previously fallen, caused the road to be in a very slick condition, and as the driver of the Ford attempted to pass around a wagon, the rear wheels skidded and he lost control of the car, which turned up side down into the ditch.

All of the five men who occupied the car received slight injuries, one of them having his collar bone broken.

HUNDREDS GET W K A F MUSIC

Baseball Scores Also Put On

Hundreds of radio receiving sets in the Wichita Falls vicinity and thousands over the United States turned in at 360 meters heard the concert given Wednesday night by W K A F at Wichita Falls.

The big broadcasting plant of the W. S. Radio Supply company has been completed in every detail with the 80-foot cage aerial and cage lead-in ready for action. The plant has been completed at a heavy cost.

There was a concert Wednesday night and baseball scores were sent out by The Record News. The same procedure will be taken tonight and by Friday morning the big programs will be announced in detail.

A concert broadcasted out of Oklahoma City Wednesday night at 360 meters which was picked up here is of special interest in that W. Van Vacter, former local high school boy, played the saxaphone in the University of Oklahoma orchestra that put on the concert there.

FORT WORTH CATTLE

By Associated Press

FORT WORTH, Aug. 23.—Demand for cattle was at a low ebb Wednesday, but receipts were liberal. At least 3,500 head were on offer. In addition were 1500 head of calves. As on other days recently, the cattle supply was badly mixed and Jackpot consignments were in the majority. A few cars of steers sold at a seasonable hour on a near steady basis, and calves were elling steady to 25c lower, but otherwise there wa not much to the market. Cow and mixed cattle were quoted weak to 25c lower.

Salemen had to accept a decline of 15 to 25c on hogs, although receipts were limited to 500 head. Two cars brought $8.90 and most of the run cleared at 8.50 to 8.75.

Now That's Rather Odd

SPOKANE, Wash.—Demosthenes lived in 384 B. C., or something like that, spoke a language now reputed to be dead, but he is nevertheless a very live issue in the democratic congressional campaign being waged in this part of the state by Fred Schade.

The trouble started when Schade in a political speech, accused Demosthenes of being a traitor to his country and called the ancient orator a "damned dirty Greek." The Spokane colony immediately, through their leaders, demanded a retraction.

Schade refused to retract and told the "Greek boys" to study up on Greek history.

Senate Ag Men Flay Fluctuations

By Associated Press

WASHINGTON, Aug. 23.—The senate agricultural committee informally reporting today the Capper-Tincher futures trade bill, declared that the fluctuations in prices since the original futures trading act was held unconstitutional had done much to "confirm the belief of the farmer that prices were being manipulated to his distinct disadvantage."

Grain exchanges contend, according to the statement, that the fall in price was due to the unusually heavy hedging sales, but the committee statement added, the belief persisted that the drop resulted from "short selling by professional speculators."

WHEAT FAILS TO MAKE CHANGE

Export Demands Are Light

By Associated Press.

CHICAGO, Aug. 23.—Wheat prices averaged higher today but best prices were not maintained and at the finish there was little change from the previous close. Final figures were unchanged to 1-4c higher with September $1.02 5-8 to 1.02 3-4 and December $1.03 5-8 to $1.03 3-4; corn was 1-8 to 7-8c up, oats held steady and provisions were unchanged to 10c higher. There was some change in sentiment noted in the wheat market and also further short covering, which carried values above the outside figure of the previous week.

Fresh export demand was reported as slow, although Liverpool showed a better undertone and closed higher.

Threshing is reported as making rapid progress in the Canadian northwest and the movement of spring wheat is said to be increasing with hedging pressure there becoming more pronounced. The available supply now is said to be 95,889,000 bushels against 118,502,000 bushels last year. Settlement of the coal strike and the increase of 20 per cent in wages of common labor by the steel corporation had some effect, some traders regarding this as forecasting a better industrial situation.

Corn was unsettled. Dry and hot weather prevailed in the south with further damage reports and the forecast indicated generally fair weather but with slightly lower temperatures. Prices advanced sharply on the bulge, there being a good class of selling of September, the market being easily influenced by small orders either way. Some rain was reported in parts of Nebraska, Illinois and Indiana.

Oats followed corn and provisions were firm, houses with export connections being fair buyers of October lard.

NEW YORK BONDS

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Speculative railroad mortgages, several of which moved to a new high ground, featured today's irregular movement in bonds on the New York stock exchange.

Missouri, Kansas & Texas adjustment 5s, which are dealt in on a "when issued" basis, broke through for a new high on a gain of 2 3-4 points, presumably on belief that the 5 per cent for 1922 will be paid next April without fail. Frisco income sixes also moved to a new high level.

In the industrial group, Chile copper 6s established a new peak, but weakness was noted in Marine 6s, Cerro de Pasco 8s and United Drug 8s. Gains of a point or more in Mexican 5s and city of Berne 8s featured the foreign securities. Liberty bonds continued weak.

Total sales par value amounted to $14,302,000.

COTTON GAINS 5 TO 10 POINTS

Early Rises Wiped Out Later

Special to The Record News.

NEW ORLEANS, Aug. 23.—While there were wide gains in the early trading in cotton today, all of the hard spots of the session attracted the most extensive kind of liquidation from the long side so that there were times when all of the advances were lost and at one stage the trading positions were 4 to 13 points under the close of yesterday. Last prices were at net gains of 5 to 10 points, October closing at 22.21c a pound.

Marked strength was displayed during the first call, in response to a much higher Liverpool than due and to the raise in wages announced by leading steel companies of the country. After bulging 34 to 36 points the market ran into heavy profit taking from the long side and most of the gains were wiped out. At their best the trading months were 35 to 42 points over yesterday's close with October up to 22.56.

A private condition report of 60.0 per cent of normal indicating a crop of but 11,000,000 bales, was a sustaining influence for a while but liquidation finally became the dominating factor.

NEW YORK COTTON

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—There was an increase of realizing or liquidation of long accounts as prices approached the 23 cent level in the cotton market again today, and early advances were followed by reactions. December contracts sold off from 22.0 to 22.40, but recovered part of the loss on continued bullish crop reports, closing at 22.62. The general market closed very steady, at net advances of 7 to 13 points.

The market opened firm at an advance of 23 to 28 points on unexpectedly strong Liverpool cables, reports of continued unfavorable crop progress in the south, and covering by sellers of late yesterday. In the morning a further advance followed a private report placing the condition of the crop at sixty, and the indicated yield at 1,000,000 bales and there was also bullish comment on the weekly review of the weather bureau.

The demand seemed to slacken on the advance to 22.90 for October and 22.74 for January, however, and realizing became more active during the early afternoon and a few stop orders were uncovered on the decline to 22.42 for October and 22.23 for January or about 45 to 50 points from the early high level and four to 12 points lower. Later the market steadied again on covering and some trade buying was reported on rallies of about 20 points from the lowest. Reports from Berlin to the department of commerce indicated that German takings of American cotton for the next six months would not exceed half the German consumption of the last six months, were probably a factor on the early afternoon decline.

Prices Change; Mostly Downward, During Active Day

By Associated Press

NEW YORK, Aug. 23.—Irregular price changes, mostly downward, took place in today's fairly active stock market, presumably in response to the failure of the anthracite coal strike negotiations and the pessimistic reports from the meeting of railroad presidents.

Rail shares, especially the anthracite carriers, sold off substantially at the opening but recovered somewhat later. A few issues like Northern Pacific, Missouri Pacific preferred, Louisville, Pittsburgh and West Virginia and Western Maryland, closed at slight gains. Mexican petroleum furnished the individual feature of the session, rising nearly 9 points on announcement that the company had settled for five months export taxes to the Mexican government. Allied pan-American issues sti.ngthened in sympathy, with some improvement also being noted in General Asphalt, Mexican Seaboard issues, Cosden, Houston and some of the other domestic oils.

Possibility of a rate war because of the increased competition in trans-Atlantic service was blamed for the continued weakness of international mercantile marine preferred which slipped back 4 1-2 to a new low record on comparatively extensive trading. American international corporation, Atlantic Gulf and other shipping shares receded in sympathy.

Demand for equipment shares was centered today in Pullman car, which advanced 3 3-8 points. Other equipments were irregular. American and Lima locomotives and American car and foundry showing nominal gains, while Baldwin locomotive and General Electric were relatively backward.

Passing of its dividend cause pronounced weakness in the Worthington pump, which fell 4 points to a new low, while speculative disappointment over the failure of Montana Power directors to declare an extra dividend was held responsible for the reaction in that stock. American telephone sold off more than 1 1-2 points on confirmation of reports that a further issuance of stock is to be made in the near future.

The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord

A Real Cord Tire for Small Cars at a Popular Price
The new Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord in the 30 x 3½ inch clincher type is a tire that the small car owner will warmly welcome.
It gives him, at a price lower than the net price he is asked to pay for many "long discount" tires, every advantage of quality cord tire performance, for it is a quality tire through and through.
It is made of high-grade long-staple cotton; it embodies the reliable Goodyear quality of materials; its clean-cut tread engages the road like a cogwheel.
The scientific distribution of rubber in this tread—the wide center rib and the semi-flat contour—gives a thick, broad surface that is exceedingly slow to wear.
The tough tread stock in this tire is carried down the sidewalls clear to the bead, making it rut-proof to an extraordinary degree.
In every particular it is a representative Goodyear product, built to safeguard the world-wide Goodyear reputation.
Despite its high quality, and the expertness of its construction, it sells at a price as low or lower than that of tires which lack its important features.
The 30 x 3½ inch Cross-Rib Cord clincher $12.50
This price includes manufacturer's excise tax
Goodyear Cross-Rib Tread Cord Tires are also made in 6, 7 and 8 inch sizes for trucks

RECORDS TALK

FRED K. SMITH vs. W. W. (Pat) MURPHY

38 Years a Citizen of Wichita County

1—Fred K. Smith has endured the hardships for 38 years in the making of Wichita County, making Wichita County his home for these many years as his home of his choice, lending his every effort for the betterment of his county and the citizenship of his county, and no substantiated charge has ever been made against him within those years.

2—Smith seeking to better the condition of the office which he now holds, sought the appointment of a matron at the hands of the commissioner's court of our county to better the condition of the woman and the girl prisoners.

3—Smith has added in the department through the offices of his good wife, referred to in the court house circles as the "infantile department," a home is provided at the county jail with the Smith family, where waifs and motherless and fatherless babes, and babes for whom no home can be had are taken in infancy, nursed, labored with as no one except a mother can understand. Fourteen of such babes, during the short term of Smith in office, have been so cared for until each were placed in a christian home. For these labors and duties no fees of office or remuneration was provided and none is asked.

3 Years in Wichita County

1—Three years ago Pat Murphy was holding a political job in Dallas. On account of the great demand for men in other fields of activity in the boom days, Wichita County being without an auditor, sought one and employed Murphy, bringing him here for a particular job. Murphy has been only three years in the county and has drawn a warrant from the county for each and every month since he has been here.

2—Murphy having no regard, he failing to see the great need of this betterment, through his authority as auditor to draw the county warrants, refused to pay for such a matron, but now admits the need of such assistance and says if elected he will appoint a matron for such duties.

3—Ouring the tenure of office of Smith's predecessor and while Pat was auditor, bills were allowed and paid for automobile repairs, gasoline and other expenses incurred in the discharge of the duties of the office, but since taking the oath of office by Smith, Murphy, through his authority as officer and the drawer of warrants, has refused to pay these items, though he had theretofore, making it more difficult for Smith to discharge his duties of office in the serving of papers, the arrest of criminals, in the caring of the infantile department. All of these expenses incurred being deducted from the $3,500 allower him per annum as his maximum fees of office.

The first of the year Pat announced for tax collector, running against Mr. M. L. Tittle, who is a brother-in-law of our prominent townsman, J. M. Bland.

In the year 1919, J. M. Bland and his associate, Mack Thomas, owned the oil and gas lease to Lots 1 to 6, inclusive, Block 1, L. & S. Second Addition to the Town of Burkburnett. For some reason these lots were not rendered to the county assessor for taxes, though rendered to the City of Burkburnett. The Commissioners Court ascertaining that they were not rendered by the board's rendition No. 716, district school 14-BB assessed this oil lease for taxes and valued it at $24,000.00 under head of "raised to $24,000.00."

The board's assessment of these lots for taxes bears on the back thereof pencil notation CANCELLATION CERTIFICATE NO. 662, 1919 TAXES, MARKED "DOES NOT EXIST" and possibly through faith in his brother-in-law, Mr. Tittle, innocently surrendered the rendition of assessment of $24,000.00 of property taxable, and lost to State of Texas, County of Wichita and School District of Burburnett several hundred dollars in money. This assessment had been reported to the Comptroller of the State of Texas as taxable property but was canceled in the comptroller's office as shown by telegram to a member of this committee from the comptroller, by Comptroller's Certificate No. 45706.

Murphy was our auditor at that time as he is now, and no doubt it is not unsafe to presume that before announcing for tax collector he found this club to rap our good friend, Mr. Tittle, with and it is likewise as true that with such a club every time Tittle was struck our friend Bland's head would ache.

There was an immediate necessity for the organizing of a political machine. Mr. Bland was present at the meeting of some twenty citizens, (the names of some others will be called before Saturday). This political machine was begun and within a few days organized under the disguised name of the Law Enforcement League, the main object of which (to the people was law enforcement) but was the nomination of a sheriff. Mr. Bland and two others were placed upon a committee of three known as the executive committee to find this mysterious man to serve our county through its sheriff's office.

Murphy was nominated. The transaction above was not heard of until by constant and diligent work of this committee the information came to light only yesterday when the final proof was procured.

In the nomination of Murphy did this executive committeeman see the saving of his brother-in-law as collector and the smothering of tax dodging, believing that there was no other source for its leak? Since which time Murphy has had his arms around these men trusting to ride that much through this political machine into the office to which he had been switched through the work of this machine.

This property that did not exist was sold to the Penn Burk Oil Company for $15,000.00, under date of May 17, 1920, the record of this transfer may be found in volume 160, page 636, of the deed records of Wichita County.

In a letter from the City Secretary of Burkburnett of recent date he says, "I find that Thomas and Bland paid the taxes on lease on Lots 1 to 6, Block 1, L. & S. Second Addition, year 1919."

While Pat was auditor of the county, giving his full time (?) for the salary he agreed to work for, he not only audited the city books of Burkburnett and drew compensation on the county's time, but while provided with an assistant to take care of the heavy duties of his office, he audited the books of the Burkburnett Machine & Tool Company and made their income tax report, for hire.

FERGUSON WON'T BRING OLD SALOON BACK, SAYS LEWELLYN

People Need Have No Fear of Voting to Send Farmer Jim to Senate, He Asserts

Charging that "Earle B. Mayfield is promising the people of Texas that he will do as they desire if he is elected to the United States senate, when he is sworn by the black midnight oath of the ku klux klan he took out in a pasture to do what the imperial wizard in Atlanta, Ga., orders him to do," that "he is the candidate of a deadly menace" and that his "opponent is a great statesman and ought to be elected," Dwight Lewelling of Dallas, one time candidate for gubernatorial honors in Texas, spoke to a crowd of 200 persons yesterday afternoon in the 78th district court room for fully two hours in behalf of the candidacy of ex-Governor James E. Ferguson.

Carlton Introduces Him.

The speaker was introduced by W. T. Carlton, who said in his introductory remarks that "when my choice in Charles A. Culberson had been vanquished, I looked at these two remaining candidates and asked myself 'Who is behind them?' and 'Whose candidates are they, anyway?'

"I'm not going to try to fight the battles of James E. Ferguson," Mr. Carlton continued, "I've got to fight the battle of the house of Carlton and I'm trying to preserve my right as a free, American citizen. There's a power sprung up within this republic and that power preaches one thing and practices another."

"When I received the request to come here and address you," Mr. Lewelling began his address, "I considered it more of an order than of a request. It is a pleasure for me, as an American who believes in all the great fundamental truths that this government is founded upon, to come here and address you.

"Some people in our fair state seem to think a masked order meeting in the dead of night should direct our affairs, and a few who say they are not klansmen and do not believe in the ku klux klan have given their support to Mayfield.

"We have a great danger facing us today, and it is but the foreshadow of a day of terror in this land which is coming, the like of which you and I have never seen. And already you can see the flashes of lightning and hear the crash of distant thunder, as the impending danger draws nearer. So why not we, as men and women of this great land, forestall this great danger, friends?

"I've never been a supporter of Ferguson before because I'm a prohibitionist; but I say to any prohibitionist who may hesitate over voting for Ferguson for his stand on the liquor question that you may vote for him and never fear any return of the open saloon.

"Ferguson, despite misrepresentations made by Mayfield, has consistently maintained that he is opposed to the open saloon, but that when he is elected, he will await the voice and the action of the people.

"Mayfield, for the first time in his life, is deeply interested in prohibition—now that we have it as a fixture—he suddenly is greatly alarmed, especially when he sees the senatorship fading away from the grasp of the ku klux klan.

"He's sworn to them—he took a dark midnight oath that he would do everything they bid him do; and now he comes to you and tells you that if you elect him he will be a prohibitionist, and it's a thing that's absolutely new to him—and yet he is sworn by that solemn dark, midnight oath that he will do exactly what these heads of the ku klux klan who don't even live in Texas tell him to do."

Arraigning ministers who leave the holy pulpit of God, as he said, to "enter into dirty politics," the speaker attacked Rev. H. D. Knickerbocker, and said that his path and the "path of God have gone off on two angles that are diametrically far apart."

"You are running a masked candidate who is sworn to do what a masked order tells him to do—not what you tell him," he continued, returning to the klan issue.

Narrating five causes why he is opposed to the Ku klux klan Mr. Lewelling demanded: "Shall we have a republic or an empire? Shall we follow the 'stars and stripes' they follow—'stars for some and stripes for the rest'—or shall we follow the flag of our great republic?"

The speaker declared that Mayfield favors the continuity of the federal reserve system, while Ferguson, he said, favors the abolition of that institution, plans a $500 cash bonus for the soldiers of the world war, and "is the statesman candidate of the people of Texas."

GUY MARKS, SLAIN IN MEXICO, KNOWN HERE

Attorney W. R. Watkins of this city has received a communication from the American consul in Torreon, Mexico, asking what disposition is to be made of the body of Guy Marks, slain there several days ago by Mexican bandits. Mr. Watkins was attorney for Mr. Marks who is well known here and who still has some oil leases in this territory.

Tom Martin and Guy Marks were together when attacked and robbed near Torreon. Mr. Marks was stabbed six times and Mr. Martin was shot and left for dead, it is said.

It is probable that the body of Mr. Marks will be shipped to his old home in Marysville, Ohio.

600 TEACHERS COMING

Detailed arrangements are being rapidly completed for the entertainment of the 600 teachers who will be here September 4 to 8 inclusive for the big teachers' institute.

The committee in charge is seeking the names of persons who are willing to let teachers stay in their homes and give them one meal a day at reasonable rates.

JOSEPH M'INTYRE DIES WEDNESDAY

Joseph McIntyre, aged 22, died at 11 o'clock Wednesday morning in his home, 1401 Giddings street, after a long period of illness. Mr. McIntyre had not been in good health for some time and for the past several days his condition had been regarded as critical.

Funeral services will be held Thursday morning at 9 o'clock in the Sacred Heart church with Father George officiating. Burial will be in the Sacred Heart cemetery.

7 MEN 3 WOMEN CAUGHT IN RAID

Returning from a raid conducted three and a half miles south of Electra, deputy sheriffs working under Sheriff Fred K. Smith brought seven men and three women to Wichita Falls Tuesday night at a late hour, and placed them behind steel bars, charged with selling and having whiskey in their possession.

The officers, Deputy Sheriffs Kinsner, Lay, Daves, Bryan and Bradford, located five cases of chocktaw beer, all of which was cached in a "whiskey joint" located south of Electra.

The defendants yesterday appeared before the grand jury of the thirtieth district court.

SUES FOR $7,500

Stating in his petition that he is 60 years of age, M. H. Edwards instituted suit in the 78th district court yesterday against the Fort Worth & Denver railroad company for $7,500 damages for injuries he claims to have received while in the employ of the defendant company.

The plaintiff sets forth in his petition that he was injured permanently injured when thrown from a motor car near Iowa Park, the car, according to the petition, being derailed.

WHAT GREECE IS AFTER

This map, originally published in "The London Times," sows the territory in Anatolia and Thrace which was to be restored to Turkey under the Paris agreement of March 22.

International observers profess to see in the latest moves of ing Constantine of Greece an attempt to force the allies to give up their policy of indecision, which they have pursued since the end of the World war, and take some definite action to settle the territorial disputes in Asia Minor growing out of the disruption of the old Turkish empire.

DOUBLE FINES FOR SPEEDERS

Second Charge Will Cost Heavily

Judge John P. Marrs established a new precedent in corporate court yesterday morning when he fined a defendant $20 for speeding, with the announcement that "in the future, all defendants brought into this court for a second time on the same charge will be fined double the amount they would be fined ordinarily."

It was intimated by Judge Marrs that there are too many defendants appearing in corporate court a second, third and even a fourth time charged with the same offense that they have promised him on the other occasions they would never do again.

"General" E. H. Gipson, city prosecutor, concurred in the remarks made by Judge Marrs, and intimated his willingness to "prosecute to the limit" those defendants "who are so weak they can't keep their promises."

MOTHER'S CLUB MEETS

The Barwise Mother's club will meet this afternoon at 3 o'clock with Mrs. R. L. Brackwell. With the school term fast approaching some matters of importance are to come up at the meeting, it is said.

MAN AND 15-YEAR BOY HELD ON CHARGE OF SELLING BOOZE

Raiding a place on Barwise street early yesterday morning, Officers Tom Shook and Bob Miller returned later to the police station with a boy 15 years old and his father, both of whom were lodged in the city prison on charges of selling whiskey.

Shook, in speaking of the arrest yesterday morning, asserted that "the boy is the youngest bootlegger I ever arrested in my career of arrests among that class."

Both the boy and his father will be turned over to federal authorities.

WHIPS MAN AND PAYS $10 FOR IT

Asserting to the court that he had whipped another man "because he accused me of stealing," a defendant who appeared before Judge J. P. Marrs yesterday morning was fined $10 on the face of his own evidence.

The defendant said that he had faced his accuser and had questioned him relative to the accusations, whereupon the latter cursed him, bringing on the fight.

The latter, who appeared at the hearing, illustrated to the court how his assailant had attacked him by pounding on his own head and exclaiming to Judge Marrs that "this is the way he hit me."

Charges of fighting docketed against this person were dismissed.

NEGRO CHALLENGES WORLD, PAYS FINE

"He approached me on the matter or fighting with him, your honor, and I informed him that we would not participate in any altercation."

A negro minister made this assertion yesterday morning in corporate court during the trial of a negro layman, who was charged with brandishing a weapon in midair, and challenging the world of blackdom to mortal combat, provided those who faced him were the same who had informed the police department of his actions with a negress.

Judge Marrs fined the negro $25 for disturbing the peace.

TARIFF MEET SET

The tariff meeting of the Texas-Louisiana tariff bureau for the month of September will be held in the Hotel Galvez at Galveston, according to information received by the local railroad fraternity yesterday.

It is understood, that a large number of subjects which were passed over from the last meeting held at Dallas, will augment the list on the docket considerably, and that as a result a busy meeting will follow.

THE TEXAS-OKLAHOMA FAIR AT WICHITA FALLS, SEPT. 30 TO OCT. 4

To The Democratic Voters of Wichita County—

We, the undersigned members of the Womans Mayfield Club, take this means of commending to the voters of this county, the ladies in particular, the candidacy of Honorable Earle B. Mayfield for United States Senator.

We have satisfied ourselves that the unkind charges advanced against his personal character by his political enemies are without foundation. We believe he will serve the people of this state with credit and with distinction. The great issue in this campaign is the fair name of the State of Texas, and we hope no patriotic citizen will fail to meet the responsibilities of citizenship in this great campaign, and that a full vote will turn out at the polls on next Saturday and elect Mr. Mayfield by an overwhelming majority.

There are many other ladies who are active supporters of Mr. Mayfield whose names do not appear hereon for the reason that lack of time has made it impossible to get to all of them with this instrument.
