Soviets Call In Envoys To Discuss Talks

By HAROLD K. MILKS

MOSCOW (AP)—Foreign Minister Andrei Gromyko called in one by one the envoys of India, Sweden, Yugoslavia and 11 Communist bloc nations Saturday to tell them officially that the Kremlin is pressing for a summit conference.

It appeared the Russians were preparing to propose that these nations be included in any top-level talks with the West. But diplomats here feel that a conference is still a long way off.

The day-long series of private talks began soon after the Foreign Ministry opened. None of the envoys would disclose what they were told by Gromyko. The Tass news agency said Gromyko gave them information on questions in connection with preparations for a summit meeting.

India was represented by Embassy Secretary V.K. Ahuja in the absence of ambassador K.P.S. Menon who is recuperating near Yalta from an illness. Ahuja said he had transmitted the gist of his talk to Prime Minister Nehru.

Yugoslav sources said Yugoslav Ambassador Vlejko Micunovic had left for Belgrade and that he was represented by his first secretary.

(Yugoslav President Tito, in a speech to his Parliament at Belgrade, renewed Saturday his proposal for the inclusion of neutral nations such as Yugoslavia, India and Sweden in any summit conference.)

The other Communist countries whose representatives were called in are Albania, Bulgaria, Hungary, North Viet Nam, East Germany, Communist China, North Korea, Mongolia, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Romania.

One informant said Gromyko merely notified each envoy officially that talks with the Big Three Western Powers were taking place but did not discuss with them the substance of conversations Thursday and Friday with the U.S., British and French ambassadors.

Many diplomats in Moscow agreed the summit conference talks here have yet to reach the foothills.

SNYDER SPOTLIGHT

"Is the drought broken"

Stanley Noah, the new city councilman, asked that question the other day, and within eight hours a real downpour hit Snyder.

Before the latest rain, this corner maintained that the drought was indeed broken, but Oscar Fowler, the county farm agent who never counts his chickens before they're hatched, said he would be in a better position to answer the question along about harvest season.

It is my opinion that the drought which plagued the Southwest for some seven years has been washed out during the past 12 months, and that if another dry period is encountered it will be a new one, separate and apart from the one that made conversation and news stories for seven years.

The soil was well soaked before Thursday night's rains. However, the hard showers resulted in some benefits. Stock tanks had little opportunity to catch new supplies during the slow rains which fell earlier. And Lake J. B. Thomas got a good catch, which puts it in fine condition for the summer months.

* * *

Our records show that official rainfall figures for April this year already have exceeded those for the same month last year. The 1958 total for the month up to Saturday was 3.75 inches, compared to 3.61 inches for the entire month in 1957.

There was some disappointment over the oil production allowable for May. The Texas Railroad Commission decreed that the eight-day production pattern would continue for next month. However, the oil industry picture appears to be brightening. Some major companies asked for a pattern as high as 13 days for May, and indications are that no pipeline proration will be necessary next month. Independent producers were strong for the eight-day pattern on the basis that an increase at this time might jeopardize the progress made during the past few weeks.

A team of insurance men tagged 399 fire hazzards in commerical and public buildings here during a relatively brief inspection Wednesday. That, of course, means that several times that number exist in and around homes and other buildings not included in the inspection. The big weed crop now developing is going to add more hazards. Snyder should have a whopper of a cleanup campaign this spring.

A surprising number of early risers watched a caravan of 1958 automobiles pass through Snyder shortly before sunrise Wednesday. Twenty-nine of the cars were competing in the annual Mobilgas Econom. Run. It marked the first time the "run" has come to this part of the country, and, of course, it was the first time for the event to include Snyder on its route.

Plan To Halt Nuclear Tests Under Study

WASHINGTON (AP)—Administration officials are whipping into shape a new plan for halting nuclear tests about next Jan. 1 by agreement with the Soviet Union. The plan is pointed toward forthcoming allied talks and a probable summit conference later this year.

Despite the Soviet Union's charge that U.S. nuclear bombers are risking World War III by their operations in the far north, high State Department officials are convinced that both the Soviet Union and the Western powers are moving steadily toward a meeting at the summit. The much debated ban on nuclear tests is considered the most likely subject for agreement.

One new angle developed by U.S. planners in this field, it is understood, is a proposal that if a test ban had to be revoked at the end of two or three years, the atomic powers would guarantee in advance that any furthern tests would be free of fallout.

The most obvious way to eliminate fallout, officials said, would be to explode the atomic devices under ground so that radioactive materials would be sealed in the earth. Ultra high altitude nuclear explosions presumably also would offer a means of fallout control if properly engineered.

Four Nuns, Man Wounded

TRENTON, N.J. (AP)—Four nuns and an unidentified man were shot Saturday night by a berserk young man with a shotgun, police said. They were rushed to St. Francis Hospital, some of them in critical condition.

Hospital authorities did not identify the injured, but said that the wounded man was attempting to aid the nuns when he was shot.

At last reports, the shooting was continuing. Police said they had the young man trapped in a building adjacent to St. Joachim's Convent, with which the nuns are affiliated.

The house was bombarded with tear gas in an effort to get the gunman out. Police said he was very young, perhaps still in his teens.

More specific details were not available immediately.

Johnson Urges Bold Anti-Recession Move

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas, Senate Democratic leader, called Saturday night for bold government action against the recession to make "America's cash registers ring again."

In a challenge to President Eisenhower, who has urged caution on several big measures proposed in Congress, Johnson said that "personally, I don't intend to sit it out."

In a broad indictment of what he labeled the "complacent contentment" of the administration in economic, trade and defense fields, the Democratic leader said in an address prepared for the American Society of Newspaper Editors.

"Too many things have gone too far wrong for me, as an American, to accept the proposition that I must not react vigorously. I believe that vigor is precisely what the moment requires."

Nowhere did Johnson mention Eisenhower or the Republican administration. But despite his assertion that "it is idle to criticize any one group, any one individual, or any one party," he made clear he was directing his shafts at the GOP President and his associates.

Johnson asserted the country had allowed farm income to decline and had seen "business expansion retract and crumple under the weight of burdensome money costs." He said the economy formerly flourished "under the stimulus of necessary spending for necessary public works; yet we have painstakingly deleted such works from our national program for too long."

The Democratic leader has criticized Eisenhower for his vetoes of bills to freeze farm price supports for a year at or above 1957 levels and another measure to authorize 1½ billion dollars worth of new rivers and harbors projects. Eisenhower has opposed any massive public works program at this time because he contends it would feed inflation.

On this point Johnson said:

"I do not question that our government has an obligation to harness runaway inflation. But I do say that there is an equal obligation to keep a bridle on recession before it runs away.

"I, for one, want to hear America's cash registers ring again.

"I, for one, want to see America's workingmen cashing private enterprise pay checks, not relief checks.

"I want to know that America's businessmen are going to the bank to borrow productive capital and not to renew and extend old loans."

Johnson said there are those who assumed the recession would end of its own accord.

"There is an appealing plausibility to the hope that times will be better come November," he said.

Agreement Made For Warrant Issue

The county commissioners court Friday made an agreement with the two Snyder banks for their purchase of special road warrants to be issued for right-of-way in the four-lane highway project on U. S. Highway 84 through Scurry County.

The court several days ago voted for a $375,000 warrant issue for the right-of-way.

According to the agreement with the banks, the county will sell the warrants only as needed for right-of-way funds as the right-of-way purchases are completed, and no more warrants can be issued than the acutal cost of right-of-way for the project. The warrants will probably be in $30,000 and $50,000 denominations.

The Snyder National Bank and West Texas State Bank both agreed to buy the warrants at an annual interest rate of two and one-half per cent. The county has the option to convert the warrants to bonds and call them in at any time.

Right-of-way purchases for the highway project will be started by the commissioners court as soon as the State Highway Department completes surveys and furnishes the county the righ-of-way deeds to be signed by property owners.

Attending the Friday meeting, which began during the morning and lasting into the afternoon, were the commissioners court, Charley Smith of the First Southwest Co., the county's fiscal agent, H. W. Cargile and Hugh Taylor representing the West Texas State Bank, and Roger Mize representing the Snyder National Bank.

The commissioners court previously made an agreement with the State Highway Department, with the agreement providing that each will pay for half the right-of-way in the highway project, and the state will provide all funds for a four-lane divided highway through the county on U. S. 84. The project will be a part of a four-lane program on that highway from Roscoe north to the Scurry-Garza County line, where a four-lane project is now being completed north to Post.

Right-of-way will be 200 feet wide for the project. The highway route will be the same as that now, except in two places. At Snyder, the four-lane highway will run across the north part of town, merging with the present U. S. 84 at the bend near SACROC 2 camp north of Snyder and about a mile east of the traffic pattern southeast of town. At Hermleigh, the highway will be rerouted and run parallel to the Roscoe, Snyder & Pacific Railway tracks.

Unintended Attack Safeguard Fool Proof, McElroy Asserts

By ELTON C. FAY

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Neil McElroy said Saturday the system designed to prevent an unintended, unauthorized nuclear bomb strike against the Soviet Union is fool proof.

He and Gen. Nathan Twining, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff, were emphatic in telling newsmen that absolute safeguards exist against incidents such as Soviet Foreign Minister Gromyko claims could set off atomic war.

The two leaders, back from a meeting of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization in Paris, left the impression they see no reason to change the system under which Strategic Air Command bombers are at constant readiness on the ground and in the air.

McElroy said that "we must let the other guy know he is not going to catch us on the ground." Twining, who long has worked to prepare the nation's primary retaliatory force against the danger of a sneak attack by the Russians, asserted:

"The key is we don't want to get caught on the bases."

SAC uses several methods to guard against surprise. One is the dispersal program, under which elements of bomber wings are deployed to several bases so that all aircraft of the wing would not be wiped out in an attack. The other is the procedure of keeping aircraft constantly aloft, some of them armed with nuclear weapons, ready to head instantly for preselected targets if the Soviets should attack. The warning of attack probably would come primarily from the Distant Early Warning Line in the Canadian north and Alaska.

Heart of the method of preventing unauthorized or accidental attack by American bombers is the "fail safe" system. This sets up definite boundaries beyond which no bomber proceeds, even after starting out on an initial alert, unless a confirmatory message or messages is received.

McElroy, for security reasons, declined to say either how the "fail safe" communications system works or to disclose the boundaries behind which SAC planes must stay unless they receive fully authorized instructions to fly farther.

A bomber, said McElroy, would not proceed "without confirmatory authorization in a way that clearly identifies" its source and authority.

"The protection is the 'fail safe' procedure," he added.

Did the two officials believe this guarantees against any mistakes?

"Absolutely," said Twining.

Gromyko, in a statement read to a Moscow news conference, accused the United States of posing the danger of atomic war by sending planes with nuclear bombs across the Arctic toward Soviet territory.

Voters Turn Down Recreation Center At Polls Saturday

Scurry County's tax-paying voters Saturday turned down by a huge margin a $145,000 bond proposal for construction of youth recreation center.

Unofficail returns from 19 of 20 voting precincts in the county late Saturday night showed 558 votes for the proposal, and 956 votes against the bonds.

The only precinct not reported was Cottonwood Flat, and only a few voters live in that precinct.

Of those reporting to the county clerk's office Saturday night, only two precincts favored the bond proposal. Southwest Snyder (box 18) approved the proposal by 311 to 271, according to the unofficial returns, while Ennis Creek reported seven votes for the bonds and six votes against the bonds. The Lloyd Mountain box went 12-0 against the proposal, and most other rural boxes opposed the proposal by substantial margins.

The proposal was first advanced here by the Parent-Teachers Association city council and the Snyder High School P-TA.

They proposed a building to cost approximately $115,000 in Towle Memorial Park, with the remainder of the funds to be used for equipment, paving and possibly a skating rink adjacent to the building.

The proposal had included plans for full-time supervision by a paid county director. Recreation activities would have included such thing as ping pong, table games, dancing, folk dancing and a variety of other activities.

Those who proposed the recreation center had envisioned it as primarily for teen-agers of the county.

The turnout at the polls Saturday was relatively light for a county-wide issue.

The princess walked across the airport to her waiting liner with her sister, Queen Elizabeth II, and her mother at her side.

She will fly first to Gander, Newfoundland, and then on to Trinidad.

From Trinidad the 27-year-old princess begins an 11,000-mile tour which includes visits to British Guiana, Jamaica, British Honduras and the Bahamas.

Launching Attempt Ends In Explosion

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP)—An Air Force attempt to launch a Thor ballistic missile without publicity ended Saturday in a thunderous explosion.

The missile, designed to carry an atomic warhead at least 1,500 miles, blew up on its launching pad.

Ira Qualifies Two Students

ODESSA, April 19 (Spl.) — Ira and Hermleigh eached placed students in the regional Class B literary meet here.

Ira, however, was the only one in the Snyder area qualifying any students for the state meet. They were Ella Turner, who took first place in the regional shorthand event, and Darla Bryant, who was second in the same contest.

Hermleigh's only placing was fourth in extemporaneous speech by Arlan Groves. The fourth place did not qualify him for state.

The state meet will be May 1-3 in Austin.

Tornadoes Sighted In Panhandle Area

By The Associated Press

Turbulent weather hurled hail and briefly torrential rains at the Texas Panhandle, and there were reports of up to four tornadoes sighted in that area Saturday night.

Moving southward along an east - west line, thunderstorms swept from Texhoma, in the Oklahoma Panhandle, past Canyon, in about two and one-half hours. Canyon is 18 miles south of Amarillo.

Workers in oil field plants at Dumas, 47 miles north of Amarillo, spotted two tornado funnels a short distance north of there in early evening. At least one appeared to be on the ground. There were no reports of damage, however, and it apparently did not strike a populated area.

There also were unconfirmed reports of two funnels dipping near the earth in an area two to three miles north of Amarillo.

Hail stones up to the size of hen eggs covered the ground three inches deep around Sunray, 15 miles northeast of Dumas, and 2½ inches of rain poured down there within 90 minutes. The deluge caused some temporary flooding.

Thunderstorms brought light to heavy rainfall and at least some hail over most of the upper Panhandle.

An unofficial observer estimated the wind hit 90 m.p.h. in a gust or two at Amarillo, where streets flowed gutterfull for a brief period.

Special bulletins had alerted the northeast Texas Panhandle and adjacent areas of Oklahoma and Kansas earlier against severe thunderstorms and the possibility of an isolated tornado.

Hail apparently buffeted the Sunray area heaviest. Some crop damage was expected to result, but farmers said it probably would not be permanent.

Well to the north, meanwhile, a tornado funnel moved over Stilwell, Kan., about 15 miles south of the Kansas City limits, without touching the ground. A disastrous twister struck only 5 miles north of there last May 20.

There also was an unconfirmed report of a tornado 2 miles west of Paola, Kan., which is 30 miles west of Kansas City.

Sewell Quits Race; Daniel Has No Foe

CORSICANA (AP)—Dist. Judge James Sewell, a firm liberal, withdrew Saturday from consideration as a candidate for governor in 1958.

Sewell noted his term as judge is for a 4-year term which began Jan. 1, 1957.

"If I were to abandon this place it would seem to me I would be betraying the trust which the people of this county gave me at my own request," he added.

The Corsicana judge's statement came 24 hours after Gov. Price Daniel said he will seek re-election.

Ralph Yarborough, who has the backing of the party's liberal wing, has yet to say whether he will seek re-election to the Senate or run for governor.

Sewell said:

"For several weeks I have received considerable encouragement from people of all walks of life in all parts of the state to become a candidate...I am very highly honored...I have given the matter a great deal of...I agree that Texas needs a good Democrat as governor...

"But I will not make the race for governor at this time because I am deeply obligated to my homefolks here in Navarro County who elected me to the office I presently hold.

"It may well be that in a later year, if it seems I might better serve my county, state and nation as governor of Texas, I might ask that honor...

Cotton Says Demos Stage 'Field Day' Of Criticism

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. Cotton (R - NH) accused Senate Democrats Saturday of arranging a field day of criticism of President Eisenhower by scheduling hearings on two vetoed bills.

Cotton, a member of the Senate Public Works Committee, characterized the action of Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson of Texas in sending the vetoed rivers and harbors and farm price freeze bills back to committees as a propaganda move.

"The Democrats are inviting the proponents of these bills to come in and attack the President," Cotton said. "They expect to have a field day of criticism of the President."

Although Johnson told the Senate he wants Eisenhower's supporters as well as backers of the bills to have their day in court, Sen. Aiken (R-Vt) said in a separate interview he thinks the Democratic action was taken "for the publicity they can get out of it."

Even before formally scheduling hearings by the Senate Agriculture Committee on the farm bill, Chairman Ellender (D-La) teed off on Eisenhower's veto of the rivers and harbors measure.

Ellender said in a recorded radio broadcast he is becoming "sick and tired of seeing the President take the position that nothing is too good for the rest of the world, but that all the American taxpayer deserves are "chins up speeches."

Ellender said that through the foreign aid program the United States has built dams, waterways, levees and other projects in other parts of the world.

"Yet," he said, "when it comes to building something in our own country, designed to benefit our own citizens, the President decided enough studies have not yet been made."

Aiken, a member of the agriculture committee, said he doesn't believe enough votes will be changed by hearings before that group to override the President's rejection of the farm bill. This measure, aimed at holding crop price supports at or above 1957 levels for one year, was passed finally by the Senate on a 48-32 vote March 21.

Sen. Mundt (R - SD) said he thinks the Democrats realize they haven't the votes to override and plan to have the hearings to drum up more support.

Cotton said he would not be surprised if the public works committee winds up hearings on the rivers and harbors bill by revising it to eliminate some of the water projects objected to by Eisenhower in his veto message.

"Every time this bill has been vetoed they have pared out a little of the rotten spot in the apple," he said. "Maybe they'll find it expedient to pare out some more and bring in another bill."

The measure was passed by the Senate 32-11 in its final form April 2, with 33 senators not voting. Approval of two-thirds of those voting is needed to override a veto and Cotton said he doesn't believe proponents have sufficient strength to override.

OIL ROUNDUP

Independents Are Gathering Forces

HOUSTON (AP)—Independent oil operators are rounding up support for efforts by a Texas congressman to have Congress limit oil imports.

An official of the Independent Petroleum Assn. of America (IPAA) said this week the bill submitted by Rep. Frank Ikard would accomplish the objectives sought by IPAA for three years.

Texas Independent Producers & Royalty Owners Assn. (TIPRO) officials said the bill would make certain that oil imports increased only when domestic production is increasing.

Both groups said efforts by the executive branch to cut imports have helped but that the resulting reductions have been inadequate.

Ikard's bill was among suggested changes the House Ways and Means Committee began considering this week while preparing recommendations on the proposed extension of the Reciprocal Trade Agreements Act. Ikard is a member of the committee.

The bill would limit imports to the ratio they bore to domestic production in 1954—about 16 per cent—as recommended in 1955 by a special cabinet committee on fuels policies.

Importers would seek the right to import oil by submitting competitive bids. The government would issue licenses to the highest bidders.

TIPRO in the past has supported an equalization tariff as an effective means of curbing imports. The 5,000-member Texas group this week, however, issued a memorandum saying the Ikard bill is superior to the numerous other courses considered.

The memorandum said acceptance of the bill would avoid objections of some to a straight tariff program and would avoid deficiencies of straight quota plans.

The Ikard plan was described as a self-executing means of administering a limitation without running the risk of extending federal control.

TIPRO said no straight quota plan has as yet been devised for allocating imports' rights without involving discriminations and encouraging federal controls.

Ten To Testify Before Import Panel

CORPUS CHRISTI (AP)—Ten witnesses will testify before the Governor's Oil Import Study Commission here April 25. Chairman French Robertson of Abilene said Saturday.

Railroad Commissioner William Murray Jr. is among them. The board seeks information relating to the effects of foreign oil on the state's economy.

Other witnesses are Gordon Lewis of Corpus Christi; T. G. Peters, manager of the Alice Chamber of Commerce; Jerome O'Brien of San Antonio, president of the Texas Independent Producers and Royalty Owners Assn.; W. B. Wood, Dallas tax consultant; state Rep. Ben Glusing of Kingsville; John Scott, Dallas banker; Byrd Harris of Corpus Christi; John Crutchfield of Corpus Christi and Virgil Crane of Corpus Christi.

New Illness Suffered By Sir Winston

By JACK SMITH

LONDON (AP)—Sources close to the family of Sir Winston Churchill said Saturday the former prime minister has suffered a new attack of illness that alarmed his household.

The 83-year-old wartime leader was reported to be better now although not entirely recovered.

The informants would not disclose the nature of the latest illness or say why it had not been announced.

Churchill, recovered only last month from a serious attack of pneumonia and pleurisy. He was stricken while vacationing on the French Riviera.

He returned to England April 3 and went immediately to Chartwell Manor, his country estate in nearby Kent County.

On April 9 his secretary announced Churchill was calling off a planned visit with President Eisenhower at the White House later this month.

"Sir Winston is well but it is considered inadvisable that he should undertake the journey at present," the secretary said.

Apparently some days later Churchill fell ill again and his personal physician, Lord Moran, was hurriedly summoned.

Informants said few persons were told of Moran's visit although he remained in attendance several days.

Lord Moran was understood to have left Chartwell Friday. Two male nurses were reported to be still in attendance and Moran is always within reach by telephone.

New Chapel Dedicated At School

GATESVILLE, Tex. (AP)—A $75,500 chapel was dedicated Saturday at the Gatesville State School for Boys. It is the first to be constructed and given to the state by private contributors.

"This beautiful house of God represents a bond between these boys in trouble and a large number of people who have shown they care about them and want to encourage their spiritual growth which is so important to all human lives," Gov. Price Daniel said at the ceremonies.

The Wichita Falls District of the Methodist Foundation provided most of the funds.

Next month a chapel will be dedicated at the Gainesville State School for Girls. It was built under supervision of the Methodist Foundation with a contribution from Frank Wood of Wichita Falls.

Both state schools house delinquent youths.

"In accepting this chapel on behalf of the State of Texas, I dedicate it to the principles of Christianity and love of God upon which this country was founded," Daniel said.

"I dedicate it to the generations of service to the youth of this school, with the prayer that those who worship here will receive he blessings of almighty God and will return to their communities with the faith and moral principles necessary for good citizenship and useful lives."

Lana Visits Cheryl Again

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Lana Turner visited her 14-year-old daughter, Cheryl Crane, in Juvenile Hall Saturday.

The actress wore dark sunglasses as she entered and as she left the hall, where her daughter has been held since fatally stabbing her mother's sweetheart, John Stompanato, April 4.

Miss Turner and her daughter will appear in Juvenile Court in Santa Monica next Thursday, when a decision on the girl's custody will be made by Superior Court Judge Allen T. Lynch, acting on recommendations of the probation investigators.

There are several possibilities that could come from the hearing. Cheryl could be returned to her mother; to her father, restaurateur Stephen Crane, or to her maternal grandmother, Mrs. Mildred Turner; or she could be placed in a foster home or in a state institution.

Woman Faces Bigamy Count

FORT WORTH (AP)—Dist. Atty. Roy Grogan of Weatherford filed a charge of bigamy Saturday against the woman who was married April 10 to once-wealthy Hobart Upham.

Grogan said Parker County sheriff's deputies had gone to Abilene city jail to pick up the woman, who gave her name to police as Dorothy Faye Markland.

She admitted to officers she was the wife of a Cortez, Colo., man at the time a Weatherford justice of peace married her to Upham for a $1 fee.

She was arrested in Abilene Friday morning after Upham complained she left him stranded in a Corpus Christi tourist court. Police found her in the car he described, but found it belonged to her.

Experts In Yemen To Launch Program

Cairo (AP)—Cairo newspapers say experts from Red China, Poland, and East Germany have arrived in Yemen to aid in a large-scale development program. A 16-man team from Peiping is studying construction of a big road network. A Polish group is aiding in planning new port facilities. The East Germans are helping with electric power and telephone networks.

Week Set Up For Cemetery Work

An entire week has been declared Snyder Cemetery Week here during which time residents are being urged to spend some time helping to restore the cemetry grounds.

The special week opens Monday and will last through Saturday.

It was scheduled last last week after a special cemetery workday planned the week before was rained out.

Mayor Harold Bennett, who has issued a special proclamation for the week, and Mrs. B. L. McKinley, co-chairman at the cemetery work project, have urged all residents to spend some of their time during the week at the cemetery. Workers should take their own tools.

The 30-acre cemetery has a cover of weeds on the majority of its grounds, although there are many well-kept grave plots.

The Snyder Cemetery Association board now has performed at the cemetery as much as available fund will allow. Funds are limited, however, coming from few sources, and not adequate to care for individual graves, except those for which money is paid and designated for that purpose.

That leaves several hundred graves unkept, grown up in weeds, and this year's weed crop has a good start.

A movement is underway here, headed by Mrs. Carl Herod and sponsored by the garden clubs of Snyder, to secure adequate financing for care of the cemetery.

It was proposed, however, to have the initial work project at the cemetery to save between $4,000 and $5,000, the estimated cost of one overall weeding of the grounds.

Residents have been asked to go to the cemetery one or more days after they complete their regular day's work, or during the day if they can, and hoe weeds. They can do their work at any place in the cemetery they desire, picking out the places needing the work themselves.

The Mayor's proclamation follows:

WHEREAS hundreds of the graves of our relatives and friends are located in the Snyder Cemetery, and

WHEREAS the Snyder Cemetery has been a public burial ground for Snyder since before the turn of the century, and

WHEREAS there are no funds nor any public agency to care for the cemetery grounds and the grounds are badly in need of weeding,

NOW, THEREFORE, I, Harold Bennett, mayor of the City of Snyder, Texas, do hereby declare the week of April 21-26, Monday through Saturday, as Snyder cemetery Week and urge residents of Snyder to take some time out during the week to work at the cemetery.

Harold Bennett
Mayor, City of Snyder

Lake Is Near Record Level

Lake J. B. Thomas was getting back near the fullest it has ever been by the time water stopped pouring into the lake Saturday.

By about 4 p.m. yesterday water was only trickling into the lake after heavy rains in the watershed Thursday and Thursday night added 2.19 feet to the lake's level.

The lake's elevation stood at 2,-253.12 feet at 4 p. m. yesterday, while it was 2,252.93 before the Thursday rains.

The fullest the lake has ever been was 2,255.75 in October, 1955. Elevation of the lake when it reaches the service spillway level will be 2,258 feet, so the lake now lacks only 2.88 feet being full.

The weekend rise represented an addition of some 13,000 acre-feet of water to the lake, or nearly four billion gallons.

The lake at this point has some 185,000 acre-feet of water and covers about 7,400 acres of area.

Hearing Set On Road Job

The Texas Highway Dept. will hold a public hearing in the courthouse here at 2 p. m. next Friday to inform the public of details concerning improvements to Highway 350 in Snyder.

The hearing will be held in compliance with Section 116 (C) of the Federal Aid Highway Act of 1956 for the purpose of fully informing the public of the location and design of the new improvements planned for Highway 350 in the City of Snyder.

The proposal calls for widening Highway 350 (the Big Spring Highway) from the Deep Creek bridge to the Cogdell Memorial Hospital area, and will include straightening a double curve near Thirty-first St.

Services were held at Wilkerson Funeral Home at Brady, and burial was at Rest Haven Cemetery there.

Survivors include his wife; two sons, Roy Bruce of Big Spring and Andrew Bruce of Midland; four other daughters, Mrs. E. L. Campbell and Mrs. Jeffry Coleman of Freer, Mrs. L. J. Patterson of Midland, and Mrs. Bill Maey, of Calgary, Canada; 12 grandchildren and nine great-grandchildren.

Princess Steals Show In Monaco

MONTE CARLO, Monaco (AP)—Little Princess Caroline stole the show Saturday as her month-old brother, Prince Albert, was officially presented to the citizens of Monaco.

The year-old princess interrupted a speech by the mayor of Monaco with a loud "Ah!" into the microphone. This evoked a burst of laughter from the crowd of 1,500 persons standing in the palace courtyard.

Then little Caroline, abruptly took a sip of champagne from her father's glass while he wasn't looking. The delighted crowd applauded.

Prince Rainier of Monaco and his wife, the former Grace Kelly of Philadelphia, showed off their son to nearly all the Monacan citizens, who alone were allowed to witness the ceremony. There are about 2,000 citizens, but only those over 10 were admitted to the courtyard.

The presentation was a prelude to Prince Albert's baptism Sunday.

Princess Grace, radiant in a light beige suit with a salmon colored scarf, stood smiling at the top of the palace staircase with the baby prince in her arms. Beside her was Prince Rainier holding little Caroline. Little Albert was quiet almost to the end, when he began to cry.

Hoover Does Well After Operation

NEW YORK (AP)—Former President Herbert Hoover, nearing 84 and plagued by recurring gall bladder attacks, had the organ removed Saturday. His excellent general health brought him through the operation like a man 20 to 25 years younger.

"The doctors could not be more pleased with his condition," said one of his two sons, Herbert Hoover Jr. "They say everything is very wonderful."

The son made the report to newsmen at 1 p.m., about four hours after the conclusion of the hour-and-a-quarter surgery. Young Hoover added:

"There is no emergency in connection with this operation. My father had been bothered for some time, and he and his doctors decided this would be a good time to attend to it—a time when he wasn't suffering from it."

Hoover's other son, Allan, of Greenwich, Conn., also was at the hospital, the Harkness Pavilion of the Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center, during the operation.

After learning of the success of the surgery, President Eisenhower sent Hoover a message wishing him a speedy recovery.

TAKING SOIL TEMPERATURE—Jake Greene, head of the high school agriculture department here, checks temperature of the soil. His department will furnish information for farmers here on soil temperatures until planting time.

Temperature Of Soil Will Be Checked

At this time of year, soil temperature information becomes important to the farmer, since he uses it to determine when to plant.

Such information will be furnished, beginning today, by the high school agriculture department here through press and radio for the benefit of farmers.

Jake Greene, head of the agriculture department here, said he will furnish information daily on 10-day averages of soil temperatures taken at 7:30 a.m. daily.

Yesterday, the 10-day average stood at 53.5 degrees Fahrenheit.

The minimum temperature for cotton planting, most agriculturists say in this area, is 60 degrees for a 10-day average.

Soil temperature, moisture, depth of the planting furrow, depth of seed cover, and planting equipment all contribute to the type stand the farmer will have on cotton.

Cool nights and thunderstorms keep soil temperatures too low for satisfactory germination for several days after the last frost date. The average last killing frost in this area ranges from March 31 to April 17, according to past records, and the average date is April 3. The last frost which has fallen this spring came on April 8.

Tests indicate that 30 per cent or more cottonseed usually come up if planted when the minimum soil temperature averages 60 degrees eight inches deep in the bed for 10 days.

The highest percentage of this emergence in this area is from May 10 to May 25. The last practical date for planting is from June 15 to 20.

Doctors Develop New Pregnancy Test

By RENNIE TAYLOR
AP Science Reporter

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. (AP)—A simple, five-minute test now can show when a woman is likely to become pregnant, says a doctor who specializes in the treatment of sterility.

The procedure has been used so far only in physicians' offices, but studies are under way to determine whether women might be taught to use it at home.

First results of the method were described Saturday to the American Society for the Study of Sterility in a paper by Dr. Charles H. Birnberg of the Jewish Hospital, Brooklyn.

With 27 women who were seeking to become pregnant by artificial insemination, the test pinpointed the theoretical time of ovulation—the few hours during which a human egg is released from the ovaries and remains subject to fertilization in the womb.

Twenty of the women became pregnant by following the signs of this test, Birnberg said.

The procedure is based upon the finding by Birnberg that at ovulation time the secretions of the cervix or mouth of the womb contain glucose, a form of sugar.

He hit upon the idea of making a cervical test for sugar to determine the best theoretical time for insemination.

The test is made with an applicator consisting of a small stick about twice the length of a toothpick with a small cotton swab on one end. The cotton is treated with two chemicals, one which turns sugar green and the other which intensifies the greenness.

The swab is placed against the cervix, left there for five minutes, then withdrawn. A faint greenish hue appears on the swab at about two days before ovulation. It becomes progressively more intense as ovulation time approaches.

At its greenest, Birnberg said, the egg presumably is in the middle of a period of about 36 hours during which it is subject to fertilization. An egg remaining unfertilized breaks down and disappears after this period, he said.

There are more complicated ways of using the test to determine earlier phases of egg formation, Birnberg reported.

Pepper has long been king of spices. When Alaric the Goth beseiged Rome in 408 A.D. he demanded 3,000 pounds of pepper as ransom.

Pitman To Take Post In Kansas

Lee Pitman, counselor at the junior high in the pupil personnel services program here, has resigned his post effective at the end of the school year to accept a year's internship in the Wichita, Kan., Guidance Center.

In the internship program, he will receive advanced training in individual testing and counseling techniques.

Pitman came to Snyder in the fall of 1954 when the schools here began the coordinated pupil personnel services program in cooperation with the mental health division of the State Department of Health.

At that time he was working toward a Ph.D degree in educational psychology at the University of Texas. While at the university he worked part-time as a recreational therapist for the Brown Schools for Exceptional Children and served as a teaching fellow in the department of education psychology.

A native of Michigan, Pitman received his bachelor degree from Eureka College at Eureka, Ill., and his master degree in speech and psychology from Bradley University at Peoria, Ill. He has completed his residence work for his doctorate and lacks only a dissertation, on which he will work this summer.

Pitman plans to work as a school psychologist after the year of advanced training at the Wichita center. He is a member of the American Psychological Association, the American Personnel and Guidance Association, and the National Education Association.

Miss Ila Fern Warren, a consultant for the state health department of fulltime loan to the Snyder schools during the three-year experiment in coordinated pupil personnel services, will terminate her services as a visiting teacher here at the end of the current school year.

The school board early this month voted not to renew the experiment agreement with the state, which would provide continuation of the coordinated pupil personnel program in effect the past three and one-half years. The schools will have a program similar but in some ways different to that in the experiment.

Although no longer providing services for the schools here after the school year ends, Miss Warren will continue in Snyder for some time to complete writing reports on her work here as part of her professional employment of the mental health division.

The state placed Miss Warren here during the experimental program to give the schools high-quality professional services to children, parents, and schools not readily available otherwise. The services of Miss Warren and Harry Itzkow, who recently resigned to accept an Everett, Wash., position, were designed in the experiment to demonstrate what professionally-trained and experienced caseworkers can contribute to a school system when functioning as one of the specialized services in the coordinated pupil personnel program. The state's current plan calls for other developmental phases of this type mental health program and assignment of Miss Warren to other responsible positions directed toward its implementation.

Miss Warren came here in 1954 from East St. Louis, where she was supervisor of the East St. Louis Child Guidance Center and instructor in the George Warren Brown School of Social Work.

She had previously been supervisor of the children's department in a family and children's service and had experience as social caseworker, Foster Home Finding consultant, and high school teacher.

She received her master degree from the School of Social Service Administration, University of Chicago. She is a member of the National Conference on Social Work, National Association of Social Workers, Psychiatric and School Social Work sections, and the American Association of University Women.

Successor To Scott Named

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP)—Gov. Luther Hodges Saturday announced the appointment of B. Everett Jordan to the United States Senate to succeed the late W. Kerr Scott.

Jordan, 61, is prominent in North Carolina Democratic circles and is a former chairman of the state party.

In a special news conference, Hodges said Jordan will serve until a general election in November. However, Hodges said he will ask the State Democratic Committee to nominate Jordan as the party's candidate in the election.

Whoever is elected in November will serve until 1960, the end of Scott's term.

Man Stabbed As He Spanks Wife

NEW HEBRON, Miss. (AP)—A 44-year old businessman playfully spanked his wife as she peeled turnips Friday night and was stabbed fatally when she whirled in surprise.

Town Marshal John B. Newsom identified the dead man as Earl Seay, and said he died shortly after being stabbed in his home. Newsom said Mrs. Seay told him her husband walked from the kitchen to the bathroom where he died.

Nab Suspect In Robbery

MARLOW, Okla. (AP)—A robber took about $5,000 from the First National Bank of Marlow at gunpoint Friday. A man identifying himself as Cecil Quick, 20, of Odessa, Tex., was captured 20 minutes later.

Duncan police said he handed over a pistol and a bundle of cash and confessed the robbery.

Penn Babb Jr., 24, bank cashier, said the robber entered the bank just before closing time, ordered him, his father and three others to get behind the counter. He then told an employe to fill a sack with cash.

"He made a move like he was going to hit my father and I grabbed at him," Babb said. "But I saw that his revolver was loaded and backed away hurriedly."

The elder Babb said the man shoved the gun against his son and said, "I'll kill you."

A New Safety Campaign

Gov. Price Daniel has announced plans for opening a traffic safety campaign Wednesday, which he hopes will result in saving 254 lives in Texas. That would equal one life for each county in the state.

Traffic safety is a sort of continuing process, which often meets with some success during periods of special emphasis, but lags sharply in the interim. In that respect, those who devote their time and energy to promoting traffic safety face problems similar to churches, which plan special events such as revival meetings, or evangelistic campaigns, from time to time. Both need more cooperation on a day-to-day basis.

Traffic safety involves a lot of "little" things, because little acts of carelessness and little miscalculations lead to big accidents on the streets and highways. Failure on the part of a driver to give the proper signal when making a turn, or turning from the wrong lane of traffic may appear as insignificant violations of little-needed regulations, but they can cause fatal accidents.

The saddest fact of all is that many times the driver actually guilty of the infraction may not be involved in the accident himself, but merely be the cause of someone else losing life, limb or property.

These things, as well as other fundamental rules for driving, should be emphasized continuously. Yet, if a never-ending full-scale campaign is carried out, there is a danger that it will become monotonous and fall on deaf ears.

If Gov. Daniel's campaign does reduce traffic fatalities by 254, or even half that amount, it will be worth far more than the time, work and money required to put it on.

Here's Comparison Of New, Old Plans

WASHINGTON (AP) — Here is a comparison between the way things are now handled in the Pentagon, and the way they would be under President Eisenhower's defense reorganization proposal:

1. NOW: Defense secretary coordinates three separately administered military departments. Each of the three is legally responsible for its own administration and operations under overall policies decided by the government.

PLAN: The defense secretary would be the sole recognized administrator at the Pentagon with authority to assign work to the military departments which they would carry out under his direction.

2. NOW: Defense secretary shares with the three service secretaries the right to volunteer opinions and recommendations to Congress.

PLAN: The defense secretary would be the only Pentagon spokesman empowered to carry administration's defense views to Congress, unless the legislators specifically request service secretaries and officials to speak up.

3. NOW: Defense secretary assembles and reviews manpower and material requirements presented by the three services through their secretaries and the joint chiefs.

PLAN: The secretary would be empowered to determine the size and composition of major military forces after considering recommendations of the joint chiefs.

4. NOW: Defense secretary is specifically prohibited by law from transferring, reassigning, abolishing or consolidating combat functions traditionally or legally assigned to the separate services.

PLAN: The secretary, after serving 30 days notice on Congress, could order major changes in traditional service roles and missions, short of outright abolition or merging of the services.

5. NOW: Defense secretary participates in but has no specific legal authority to establish unified commands, such as the All-Service Command in the Pacific now headed by a Navy admiral. His authority is similarly vague with respect to the specified commands such as the Strategic Air Command made up of men and units of a single service, who answer to the Joint Chiefs of Staff through their separate services.

PLAN: The secretary could, with presidential approval, organize or reorganize major fighting commands at home or abroad. He would have the sole authority, with the advice of the Joint Chiefs to assign forces to such commands.

6. NOW: Defense secretary participates as an administrator and agent of the administration in major military policy decisions. But operating orders to the major combat commands, though based upon Joint Chiefs' recommendations, are transmitted to the commands through the separate service secretaries primarily involved.

PLAN: The secretary would have direct authority to issue military operating orders to major commands. The orders would go through the joint chiefs and their newly established operations section, bypassing the three subordinate military departments.

Traffic Death Costs $40,000

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN (AP)—How much is a life worth?

On a cash basis, safety experts say a traffic death costs the state's economy $40,000.

Last year in Texas, 125,000 persons were killed or hurt while property damage amounted to $45a a minute.

Gov. Price Daniel says he believes the problem has exceeded the disaster stage in Texas and said Saturday he hopes to develop traffic safety councils in each of the state's 254 counties to crusade for safety.

Texas' intensive grass-roots traffic safety campaigns will be set in motion Wednesday when the governor speaks over 150 radio stations while safety conscious officials hold meetings in most counties.

All county judges were urged by Daniel to call in law enforcement officers, school superintendents, mayors, prosecuting attorneys, school driver training instructors and student council members from the high schools to organize locally. Members of the State Highway Patrol and Highway Department were asked to sit in.

The meetings were requested to discuss major causs of traffic accidents and means by which safety could be improved. They also were asked to state how many, if any, more highway patrolmen were needed, what the governor and state agencies can do to help reduce the highway slaughter, and dangerous road sections that need eliminating.

The broadcast and simultaneous meetings at 9:30 a.m. form the focal point of a public awareness campaign launched several months ago by the governor's office. A Texas Traffic Safety Council has been created and a Rio Grande Valley newsman, Brad Smith, has joined the governor's staff to coordinate the statewide safety program.

A crackdown on enforcement of moving vehicle laws, particularly speeding, will be urged by the governor. Smith said last year speeding was the prime factor in 57 per cent of the deaths outside city limits. Drunk driving accounted for about one third of these deaths.

The Texas Legislative Council, with a sensitive ear from the governor's office, is studying proposals to permit the Highway Department to raise or lower the speed limit from 60 miles an hour for certain zones. A similar proposal was defeated by last year's Legislature.

Daniel said he favors state aid in paying the salaries of driver education teachers in the secondary schools.

"An average Texan killed by an auto would contribute about $40,000 to the economy of the state. Just look at the tremendous payoff if you can give a student good driving knowledge at a cost of $35 to $40 a semester," Smith said. He said only about 500 of 1,600 high schools offer a program "in some form."

Smith said reaction from the county judges on the proposed campaign "is tremendous." He said some such as Oscar Dancy of Cameron County had called two public meetings.

Daniel said the goal of the safety crusade will be to save 254 lives, one for each county, or 10 per cent of the 2,539 persons killed on streets and highways in 1957.

Political Crisis Looms In Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO (AP) — The ominous rumble of political thunder heralds a storm ahead for Brazil. This country's severe economic crisis and growing political instability seem to be opening the gates to social turmoil.

In Latin America, strong words by the Roman Catholic Church often can be symptomatic of developing unrest. And the church's highest dignitaries this week issued a stern warning to the government to move swiftly or risk panic and chaos.

Signs of unrest are increasing. Last week in Sao Paulo commuters rioted because of poor train service.

Monday night, in Rio's fashionable Copacabana section, 50 persons ripped apart a bakery they suspected of grinding old dirty bread and selling it as meal.

Scores of mothers in Rio have gone on hunger strikes because of lack of school facilities for their children.

Above all there is constant grumbling—growing louder every day — against uncontrolled inflation. Prices in the first two months of this year alone rose by 5 per cent, and it is estimated they went up 4 per cent more in March.

The political situation, which three months ago appeared stable, has deteriorated. At the basis of the new instability is the Communist question.

A federal court recently granted freedom from arrest to Communist leader Luis Carlos Prestes after he had spent 10 years in hiding. He must still face charges of subversion.

Prestes' victory was the signal for increased Communist activity. There has been talk of legalizing the party, which was outlawed in 1947.

The most immediate problem facing Brazil is the economic crisis. Government coffers are just about bare of foreign exchange. Import commitments are increasing. The revenue from exports is dropping. The government is storing 10 million bags of surplus coffee, at tremendous cost to the taxpayers, because it fears a surplus could cause a price slump on the world market.

The government has been forced to issue more money, decreasing the cruzeiro's value. The free market price of the cruzeiro has fallen from 90 to the U.S. dollar in December 1957 to 122 today.

Inflation in these circumstances has been rolling ahead unchecked.

Warm Sunshine Farmer's Biggest Need

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Farmers' biggest need is a lot of warm sunshine, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said today.

"Soil moisture conditions were improved very much in almost all the state by showers after high winds dried the surface, making seedbed preparation difficult, but lingering cool temperatures have delayed some planting and much germination and growth of crops and pastures," Director John Hutchison said after checking reports from district farm agents.

Only in South Texas and the Lower Rio Grande Valley is surface moisture needed for crop and pasture growth, he added.

Crops range from up and growing slowly in South Texas to planting as far north as the Rolling Plains and in far West Texas.

Livestock remains in good condition over most of the state, and is improving in East Texas and the Gulf Coast area after a hard winter.

Home gardens and commercial vegetables also are improving, but growth is slow due to cold soil.

The outlook for a good fruit crop is bright.

Land is being prepared rapidly where soil conditions permit, but some farmers are holding back planting until temperatures are warmer.

A few sunshiny days between showers keeps hopes of North Texas farmers high. Some corn has been planted, but the soil still is too cold for good planting conditions, and time is running out. Pastures are excellent and there's a strong demand for cattle. Small grain growth is excellent.

South Plains (Lubbock) farmers have prepared seedbeds on about 75 per cent of their crop acreage. Rain replenished needed surface moistur. Wheat is making good growth.

Conditions in far West Texas were improved by rain after high wind sapped surface moisture. The subsoil still has adequate moisture. Cotton is being planted but germination is slow. Small grain and alfalfa are making good growth. Livestock is in good condition.

Land preparation for grain sorghum and cotton planting in the Edwards Plateau (San Angelo) is nearing completion. Livestock and pastures are in good shape.

The hard surface in the Gulf Coast area was softened by rain for more land preparation, even though work was delayed by wet fields. Rice farmers have been trying to make up for lost time and some have planted. Vegetables are improving. Improving pastures promise much benefit to livestock after a very hard winter.

Some corn and sorghum will require replanting, due to poor germination, but moisture conditions now are ideal, said Joe Glover at Gonzales. Cotton in the southern sections is 75 to 100 per cent planted. Onion prospects have improved. Pastures are excellent and livestock is thriving.

Some hail damage was experienced by tender vegetation in northeast Texas, but the main need is for more sunshine. Tomatoes are being set in some fields, but are at least 15 days late. Peas and cucumbers being produced under contract are being planted. Sweet potato slips are ready for the field.

Many pastures are being fertilized and limed and cattle are taking on weight as pastures improve in the northeast. A farm labor shortage exists in Cass County.

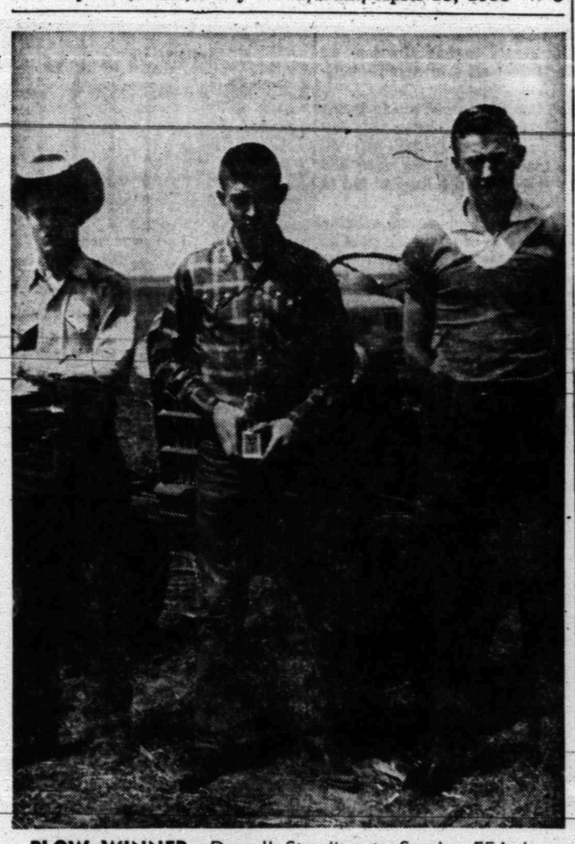

In deep East Texas, pastures are improving much to the need of livestock and much planting of crops is underway.

Corn and sorghum has been planted in some fields as far north as Wichita County in the Rolling Plains. Rain helped surface moisture, which was getting short, but delayed some field work. Small grain growth is excellent but there's light to medium greenbug damage in Archer, Hardeman, Stephens, Throckmorton, Wichita and Young counties.

The situation in Central Texas, which holds for much of the state, was summed up this way by R. G. Burwell at Stephenville:

"Light rains made the soil moisture ideal for crops, but cold soil is retarding growth. Cotton planting has begun and will progress very rapidly as soil warms. The prospects for fruit is good and as pastures improve livestock becomes in an even better condition."

Texans' Eyes Turn Toward San Jacinto

SAN JACINTO MONUMENT, Tex. (AP)— The eyes of Texas will shift Monday to the battlefield on which Texas won its independence from Mexico 122 years ago.

Led by Sam Houston, a band of 910 pioneers routed Gen. Santa Anna, president and dictator of Mexico in a 20-minute battle April 21, 1836.

The casualties were 630 Mexicans killed, 208 wounded and 730 taken prisoner. Nine Texans were illed and 30 were wounded.

The battle was the concluding military event of the Texas Revolution. Every year state historical and patriotic groups come to the battlefield and the monument to honor the men who took part.

Gov. Price Daniel, a member of the Sons of the Republic of Texas, will speak at the battleground at 2 p.m. Monday. The Sons and Daugters of the Republic will hold their annual meetings. Wreaths will be placed at the base of the monument, the only monument in the nation to hold recognition as an official post office.

Most schools, banks and public offices throughout the state will be closed for the day.

The San Jacinto Battleground is a state park of 460 acres on the Houston ship channel about 20 miles from the city. The monument is 570 feet tall, 15 feet higher than the Washinggon monument, and is topped with a 35-foot high star.

One of the eight inscriptions on the exterior base of the monument attests to the importance Texans place on the victory at San Jacinto. The inscription reads:

"Measured by its results, San Jacinto was one of the decisive battles of the world. The freedom of Texas from Mexico won here led to annexation and the Mexican War, resulting in the aqquistion by the United States of the states of Texas, New Mexico, Arizona, Nevada, California, Utah and parts of Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas and Oklahoma."

Snyder FFA Youth Wins Plow Event

Darrell Sturdivant, Snyder High School vocational agriculture student, yesterday was named district winner of the 1958 Future Farmers of America tractor operators contest here.

The district contest was held yesterday morning at the Jack Ramsey farm, 18 miles west of Snyder. The district covers six counties.

Sturdivant the day before had won the county tractor contest. As district winner, he will receive an engraved trophy at an honor banquet for FFA district winners at San Antonio on July 15.

He will also participate in the state tractor operators' contest, to be held the same day, which is the day prior to the opening of the state FFA convention there. A new Ford tricycle tractor will be awarded the state winner for Ford implement dealers in Texas, who sponsor the contests. Second place winner will be given a 21-jewel wristwatch, and third place winner will get a 17-jewel wristwatch.

Judges for the contest were Nolan von Roeder, Ira Burchett, Ray Haney, J.C.Massingill, and Walter Bishop. Floyd Boston and Kenneth Goforth directed the contest.

Florida Vegetables Hit Texas Market

By The Associated Press

Fresh vegetables grown in Florida arrived on the Texas market this week in greater variety and increased supply.

Although prices are slightly lower, they are still higher than normal for this season, the U.S. Department of Agriculture says.

Green beans, new potatoes, squash, radishes and green corn lead the vegetables in larger supply. Supplies of squash from South Texas also are up.

About unchanged in price are carrots, bunched greens, spinach, iceberg and leaf lettuce, bulk turnips and green onions.

The price also is about steady on tomatoes, although quality is only fair. Slightly higher but in good supply are old crop potatoes, onions and cabbage.

Best buys in fruits are Washington winesap apples, bananas, avocados and California lemons. Oranges and grapefruit are higher, although Valencia oranges from California should be appearing in increased supply by the end of the week.

Fryers, eggs and dairy products are best protein buys this week. Fresh pork roasts also offer good values. Beef prices are about unchanged, with variety meats the most economically priced.

Texas food shoppers will find many good values in canned and frozen fruits and vegetables as stocks of most items are large and time for processing new crops is not far away.

Since the canned and frozen food industries prefer not to carry over last year's pack, you'll see many items featured at reduced prices. Among these are canned and frozen green peas, corn, spinach, green beans, pears, peaches and frozen strawberries.

Canned tuna and chum salmon continue to rate a place on the best buy list. Frozen whiting, fish sticks, perch fillets are also plentiful and attractively priced.

Bid Is Rejected

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP)— The government has rejected as too low a bid of about $15,000 for the luxurious 17,000 - acre ranch once owned by the ousted dictator Juan Peron in Buenos Aires Province.

Still Seized, Mother Of Eight Is Jailed

DALLAS (AP)—A mother of eight was jailed Friday night after officers seized a still and 20 gallons of illegally distilled whiskey in her home.

Officers said her only comment was "You've got me. You've got the still. That's all you need."

The woman, 28, said her husband was in jail for unpaid traffic tickets and that she had supported her children on "relief checks" and her work as a housemaid.

No charges were filed at once. Relatives were caring for the eight children, 5 to 14.

Crop Reporting Board Is Little-Criticized Agency

By OVID A. MARTIN
Associated Press Farm Reporter

WASHINGTON (AP) — One agency of the government does things that often plague and confound the politicians, but seldom draws any criticism.

The agency in this extraordinary position is the Agriculture Department's Crop Reporting Board.

It issues scores of reports annually on production of various farm commodities and on farm prices. Many of these reports affect government decisions — and political strategy.

Yet the board is held in such high regard that its findings are accepted without question.

A typical example of this was the reaction to its last regular monthly report on farm prices, issued March 28.

This came in the midst of a battle between the Eisenhower administration and the Democrat-controlled Congress over a bill to freeze farm price supports at not less than 1957 levels.

The bill was on the President's desk when the Crop Reporting Board issued its farm price report for March. These reports are issued on the last Friday or the last working day of the month.

This particular report turned out to be one of the most favorable, from the administration standpoint, ever issued by the board. It showed that farm prices increased 4 per cent between mid-February and mid-March. This was the sharpest monthly advance since February 1951. It put prices 11 per cent above a year earlier.

Naturally, the report pleased administration leaders. It provided a much more favorable background for the subsequent presidential veto.

But not a single word of criticism of the board's report came from the bill's sponsors, even though the board is in an agency administered by their chief foe, Secretary of Agriculture Benson.

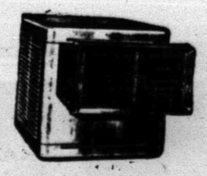

As if to demonstrate that it spares no toes, the board two weeks later issued a crop report that forecast a new surplus-producing winter wheat crop — a crop that would cause new headaches for Benson and the administration.

It is easy to understand why the board is held in high regard and its reports are accepted as works of integrity. It is manned by career civil service employes, both professional and clerical. Most of the professional employes are trained in the science of statistics. They regard their work with the pride of other professional people.

The board gets its basic information from more than half a million farmers who serve as voluntary crop reporters.

Tigers 4th In Regional; 2 Qualify For State

News Sports Editor

LUBBOCK, April 19 — The Tigers placed fourth in the Conference AA division and qualified two for the state meet in the Region 1 track and field meet held on the Texas Tech cinderpath here Saturday.

As expected, Abilene and Andrews ran 1-2 in the team honors, the Eagles winning with 31½ points to 25½ for Andrews. Amarillo was third with 20 and the Tigers fourth with 15 points.

Bud Morgan and Rex Wilson were the two Tigers gaining a spot in the state meet. A third Tiger missed a trip to the state meet through a piece of ill luck.

Bill Dubose tied for second in the high jump with Eugene Franklin of Abilene but since only one could go to state, a coin was tossed to determine which boy would go to state along with the winner of the event, Charles Giesey of Midland.

Franklin called the coin toss correctly and the trip to Austin.

Both Morgan and Wilson placed second in their specialties, Morgan in the 180-yard low hurdles and Wilson in the 120-yard high hurdles.

In both cases, it was an Abilenean nosing out the Tigers for hurdle honors. Iran King nipped Morgan at the tape in 19.3 to win the lows while Bob Swafford captured the highs with a hair-thin victory over Wilson at 14.5.

All hurdles and sprints were run into about a 5-mile an hour wind.

Morgan ran fourth in the highs while Wilson ran fourth in the lows.

The hurdle races turned out to be an all Abilene-Snyder duel as all places in both hurdles wore either Eagle or Tiger colors.

Morgan held a slight lead coming into the final hurdle but King put on a burst of speed in the final second to edge Bud out.

It was the first 180-yard low hurdle loss for Morgan this season. Morgan had twice previously beaten King, once in the West Texas Relays and the other in the preliminaries here Friday in which Morgan ran 19.4, the same as he ran today. Morgan had the best prelim time.

Wilson also had the best preliminary time in the highs at 14.7.

John Ward, a third Tiger, qualified for the finals in both hurdles but failed to place in Saturday's running.

In addition to the eight hurdle points, the Tigers picked up three points in each the broad jump and high jump and one with a fourth place finish in the 440-yard relay.

Morgan tied for second in the broad jump with Joe Ted Davidson of Amarillo for 2½ points and Lynn Atkinson gave the Tigers another half-point in tying for fourth. Morgan and Davidson jumped 21 feet 10 inches.

Andy Springer of Abilene won the broad jump with a record leap of 22-6.

Dubose jumped 5-10 in tying for second in the high jump while Wilson jumped 5-8 to tie for fourth.

The Tiger 440-yard relay team, composed of Morgan, Atkinson, Wilson and Ward, turned in a good performance but they were running against some stiff competition, Andrews recording a 42.9 to set a new record in winning the event.

Six new records were set in the Conference AA division. In addition to Springer's record in the broad jump and Andrews' new mark in the spring relay, other records were set as follows:

Baylus Bennett, 13 feet ½ inch in the pole vault; R. E. Merritt of Andrews in the 440-yard dash in 49 flat, and Bobby Barrett of Midland in the mile run in 4:28.2.

Mickey McGrew in the shot put and Ronnie Giles in the discus were other Tigers gaining the finals but did not place.

Dickie Martin vaulted 11 feet 3 inches before getting eliminated in some of the classiest pole vaulting seen in the region meet here in years. Five vaulters did 11.6 or better, three going 12 or better.

Giants Pound Bums, 11-4, Before 41,303

By JACK HAND

LOS ANGELES (AP)—Five more home runs sailed over the handy left field screen at the Los Angeles Coliseum Saturday as the San Francisco Giants crushed the Dodgers, 11-4, before 41,303 sunbaked fans.

The crowd dropped off 37,000 from Friday's record throng but it was larger than all but two of the other clubs' openers.

Ruben Gomez, who had shut out the Dodgers in the San Francisco opener with a six hitter, won his second game although three of the seven hits off him were home runs by Gil Hodges, Charley Neal and Dick Gray.

Hank Sauer, a two-homer man Friday, continued his love affair with that 250-fence in left. He slugged a Danny McDevitt pitch over the 42-foot screen about 30 rows into the stands in the four-run third inning. That broke the game wide open. Orlando Cepeda also cleared the barrier just after Ron Negray had replaced McDevitt.

Jim Davenport, leading hitter in the National League when the activities started, made up for his "boner" in Friday's game by touching third base three times en route to score. The fine looking rookie third baseman of the Giants singled, doubled and walked in four trips.

Davenport rapped three drives off that trick screen in left Friday and two more Saturday.

Willie Mays bounced a ground rule double over the six-foot centerfield fence at the 425-foot mark in the first inning and Duke Snider of the Dodgers bounced another double over the same low fence in right field in the fourth.

He beat his teammate, Bobby Morrow, the Olympic sprint champion, for the second time in three weeks in the 100, edging Morrow by inches. The latter also was credited with a 9.3 time.

Morrow didn't run in the 220 which Woodhouse won by 10 yards.

The times will not be submitted because there was no wind gauge on the track and there was an estimated five miles per hour wind at the backs of the 100-yard dashmen and 10 miles per hour behind the 220 men. The allowable wind for a record is 4.473.

Still a third world's mark was equaled when the Abilene Christian sprint relay team of Waymond Griggs, James Segrest, Woodhouse and Morrow did the 440 yards in 40.2.

And Abilene Christian turned in the third fastest time in the nation this year for the mile relay in running the event in 3:11.5. Morrow did a 46.6 anchor leg.

The marks were set in a triangular meet in which Abilene Christian beat North Texas State and Texas Tech. ACC rolled up 86 points, North Texas State had 39 and Texas Tech 17.

The North Texas State mile relay team ran a 3:11.9 in finishing second to Abilene Christian.

Abilene Christian College freshman Calvin Cooley missed the world's record by two-tenths of a second in the 220-yard low hurdles, which he won in 22.4.

In the freshman division of the meet Abilene Christian scored 75 points, Cisco Junior College 43, Texas Tech 22 and North Texas State 7.

NEITHER WILL COUNT, THOUGH

Woodhouse Ties Two World Marks

ABILENE, Tex. (AP)—Bill Woodhouse of Abilene Christian equaled the world's record in both the 100- and 220-yard dashes Saturday, turning in wind-aided times of 9.3 and 20.0.

Redlegs Trip Pirates, 9-6

PITTSBURGH (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs beat the Pittsburgh Pirates 9-6 Saturday by combining five Pirate errors and an 11-hit attack into a free scoring game.

Dick Groat committed three of the Pirates' five errors. The errors allowed the Redlegs to score three unearned runs—the margin of victory.

Tiger Frosh Third In Abilene Meet

ABILENE—Snyder's ninth grade track team finished third in a field of nine teams here Saturday.

North Abilene Junior High won the meet with 40 1-3 points, while Lee of San Angelo was second with 26½ points, barely edging out Snyder with 26 points.

Other team totals showed Graham with 16 points, Sweetwater 13½, Lincoln of Abilene 11 1-3 and South Abilene with 6½. Stamford's team was late in arriving at the meet and only competed in a few events.

Jesse Crawford was Snyder's leading point-getter. He won the 50-yard dash in 5.6 seconds and the 100-yard dash in 10.3 seconds. In addition he finished second in the 220. McDaniel of Lee won the 220, setting a new record of 22.2. Crawford's time in that event was 22.7. Billy Harless finished fourth in the 220.

Tommy Minton won the shot put with a toss of 49 feet and 5 inches, and was third in the discus throw with 142 feet and 8 inches.

Snyder's 880-yard relay team tied for third and fourth. The team is composed of Bobby Brown, Morris Craig, Perry Caldwell, Billy Harlees, Tommy Minton and Robert Strickland.

The 440-yard relay team tied for second. On the 440 team are Perry Caldwell, Billy Harless, Tommy Minton and Larry Patterson. A new record of 46.5 was set in the 440-yard relay. Snyder's time in that event was 47.7.

Perry Caldwell tied for third in the pole vault to round out the Snyder scoring.

Records Fall In 33rd Kansas Relays

LAWRENCE, Kan. (AP) — Gail Hodgson, the tremendous middle-distance star of the Oklahoma Sooners, and Eddie Southern of The Texas Longhorns, led their teams to bristling record performances as seven meet standards were smashed in the 33rd Kansas Relays Saturday.

Hodgson, the sophomore from South Africa, ran the mile in the unofficial time of 4:07 in anchoring Oklahoma's distance medley team to a relays record of 9:50.8. In the first half of the program Friday he did the anchor leg of the sprint medley in 1:48 as the Sooners bettered the American and intercollegiate records of 3:19.5 for that event.

Southern, one of the nation's fastest quarter - milers, was clocked in 44.6 seconds in anchoring Texas to victory in the university mile relay. The time of 3:09.1 was 2 5-10 seconds under the relays record set by Oklahoma A&M in 1955.

The other meet records:

University 880 yard relay: 1:23.5 by Oklahoma State's Orlando Hazley, Ken Covert, Vernon Haddox and Bob McFarling.

University 2-mile relay: 7:24.8 by Michigan State's Brian Castle, Robert Lake, David Lean and Willie Atterberry.

College 2-mile relay: 7:39.9 by Howard Payne's Van Owens, Louie Hayes, Don Shepard, and Bobbie Pullig.

Javelin throw: 232-8 by Bruce Parker, Texas.

3000-meter steeple chase: 9:12.5 by John Macy, University of Houston competing unattached.

The track was fast despite a heavy rain Friday night.

Howard Payne's record in the 2-mile relay marked the third straight year that the Brownwood, Tex., team altered the standard for that event here. Their record last year was 7:41.2.

Al Oerter, Kansas Olympic discus champion, was the only individual titlist to win two events in the relays. He was first in the shot at 55 feet 8 inches. He won the discus on a throw of 175-2 Friday, one of his weakest efforts.

In other outstanding jobs Buddy McKee, of East Texas State, beat Keith Gardner, Nebraska, in the 120-yard high hurdles in 14 seconds falt. It was the second fastest high hurdles in history of the relays.

Aggies Clip Ponies, 4-0

COLLEGE STATION (AP)—Wayne Schaper, making his first conference start, pitched the Texas Aggies into a second place tie with SMU Saturday by shutting out the Mustangs 4-0.

The Aggies and SMU now stand 6-3 in SWC play behind Texas.

Schaper, senior right-hander from Galveston, gave up seven hits but allowed only one man to reach third and three more to reach second. He was backed with excellent fielding, his mates playing perfect ball and coming up with four defensive plays.

A double play erased one threat in the sixth and outfielders Dickie Thomas and Jim Smotherman each made a great play on line drives while Bo Paradowski made a great save on a hot liner in the 8th.

Fans Disapprove Experimental Game

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Houston University swept an experimental double-header with Sam Houston State, 2-0 and 3-1, and fans Saturday promptly turned thumbs down the revised rules tested in the twin bill.

With the aim of speeding up the game, there were only two outs per inning, two strikes constituted a putout and it took only three balls for a walk.

Tigers Divide With Abilene

ABILENE, April 19 — The Snyder Tigers made history here Saturday when they gained an even split in a doubleheader with the Abilene Eagles.

The Tigers, who won the first game, 5-4, recorded their first victory in history over the Eagles in Abilene.

Abilene bounced back to gain an even split Saturday by winning the second game, 6-4.

Norman Gladson hurled the Tigers to the opening game victory with a six-hitter.

The Tigers backed Gladson up with 11 hits off two Abilene hurlers.

The Bengals surged ahead in the opening frame with three runs and they were never headed. The Tigers made it 5-1 in the third and then staved off the Eagles' bid in the late innings.

Gladson finished strong, retiring the Eagles in order in the seventh while pitching to the "meat" of the Eagle power, Jerry Dehlinger, Pat Armstrong and Bill Sides.

Gary Vice led the Tigers in the first game with three hits while Johnny Drake and Coleman John each got a pair of safeties. Both of Drake's hits were doubles.

The Tigers got off on the right foot in the second game, too, jumping to a 2-0 lead after their turn at bat in the first frame.

Abilene came right back to score three runs and take the lead on two walks, one hit and an error.

The Tigers never caught up after that but made a game bid to catch up in the seventh inning when they scored twice and had the tying runs on the base paths when the final out was made.

Two Abilene pitchers held the Tigers to five hits in the second game. Roger Mac Evans, ace of the Eagle staff, was summoned to save the game for the Warbirds.

The split left the Tigers with a season record of seven wins and 10 defeats while Abilene's record stodd at 14-4 after Saturday's games.

The Tigers will meet Rotan in Snyder Monday, starting at 4:15. Monday's game will make up last Friday's postponed tilt.

Sievers Blow Drops Sens

WASHINGTON (AP)—Roy Sievers opened the last of the ninth inning with a home run off Mike Fornieles to lift Washington to a 3-3 tie with Boston and the Senators took it from there to inflict a 4-3 defeat on Leo Kiely.

The Red Sox got only three hits off Pedro Ramos and Truman Clevenger, the winner, but one was a sixth inning two-run homer by Jackie Jensen, his fourth, which gave Boston a 3-2 lead. Jensen, who has batted in eight of the nine runs Boston has scored this season, accounted for the other run in the first inning when his sacrifice fly scored Jim Piersall.

Cubs Whack Cards, 6-3

CHICAGO (AP)—Walt Moryn and Dale Long produced five runs with homers in the eighth inning Saturday to propel the come-from-behind Chicago Cubs to a 6-3 victory over the St. Louis Cardinals.

COACHES, LIKE MOST other professions, rely on the "breaks" that may come their way in climbing the ladder to success.

Before going any further, we don't mean you have to be a "big Time" coach to be successful in this field.

We believe any coach, regardless of whether he's coaching in the elementary schools or in the universities, he is successful if he instills good character in the boys under his jurisdiction.

The "success" we speak of in the opening paragraph deals mostly with salaries and prestige. Naturally, the bigger the school the bigger the salaries will be.

The fellow we have in mind at the moment of getting a break that is leading to big things is one Jim Myers, Texas A&M's brand new football coach.

Myers needed only one year to prove himself as a head coach. The "youthful" Aggie mentor graduated from Tennessee in the spring of 1947 and for the enusing 10 years he served as an assistant coach, nine of which were spent under Red Sanders.

Break Comes

Then last year Myers got his break when Iowa State hired him as its head football coach, his first head coaching position.

Myer's job at Iowa State last fall caught the eye of Texas A&M. The Aggies even went so far as to hire Myers "twice" before Jim finally set up camp in Aggieland.

Myers informally accepted the Aggie post around the first of the year but when all that "flareup" arose on the Aggie athletic board, Myers withdrew his name from the candidates list.

Once the Aggie board got straightened out, A&M again went to work on Myers.

Finally, with the help of the Aggie student body, Myers was pursuaded to reconsider to which Jim did.

As result, the Southwest Conference has its first single wing coach since Bowden Wyatt left Arkansas in 1954.

Popularity Booms

Myers, virtually an "unknown" two years ago, is now one of the countrys best known coaches, mainly because he got that break that sent him to Iowa State after 10 years of serving as an assistant.

Myers' first job was an assistant at Wofford College in 1947. In 1948 he signed as assistant to Red Sanders at Vanderbilt. When Sanders moved to UCLA in 1949 he took Myers with him. Jim then served as Sanders' right-hand man until moving to Iowa State.

Sanders, incidentally, was a candidate at one time for the A&M vacancy.

Quite possibly Sanders, when he didn't take the Ag job, recommended Myers strongly for the post and A&M took it from there.

Detroit Raps Indians, 9-1

DETROIT (AP) — Center fielder Harvey Kuenn backed up Paul Foytack's brilliant pitching with three base hits and solid defense work as the Detroit Tigers routed the Cleveland Indians 9-1 Saturday at Briggs Stadium.

One of Kuenn's hits was a three-run homer that landed atop the left field screen and bounced into the seats. It came in the fourth inning off Cal McLish, second of five Cleveland pitchers, and gave the fast-balling right-hander a six-run cushion.

Foytack, coming off the worst spring training showing of his career with an earned run average of 14.06, limited the Indians to six singles. He lost his shutout in the eighth inning when battery mate Red Wilson was guilty of interference.

The Tigers, squaring the weekend series at one game apiece, and tinued their tremendous early season hitting with 19 safties. Kuenn, Frank Bolling, and Billy Martin each collected three.

Yanks Stave Off Orioles To Win, 4-3

NEW YORK (AP)—The new York Yankees coasted along for eight innings Saturday behind some superb pitching by little Bobby Shantz, then needed everything they could get to stave off a ninth-inning rally and gain a 4-3 victory over the Baltimore Orioles.

Ryne Duren, third Yankee pitcher to appear in the ninth, finally snuffed out the rally when he started a game-ending double play with the tying run on third base.

The Orioles, blanked with three hits in the eight innings, got to the 32-year-old Shantz in the ninth after the Yanks had scored their last two runs in the eighth. They touched him for three more hits and two runs.

Bob Grim relieved and didn't retire a man as ex-Yankee Gene Woodling's pinch single brought in the third Oriols run. Then Durren appeared and made pinch hitter Jim Marshall hit one back at him. He took the ball on the first bounce, fired to Gil McDougald to get Woodling at second and McDougald threw to Bill Skowron to complete the double play.

Villanova Bidding For Three Titles

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Villanova runners, champions of the NCAA and IC4-A, seek to make track history at the Penn Relays next Friday and Saturday with a bid for three relay titles for the third straight year, a feat never accomplished in the meet's 64 years.

Two great sprinters—Olympic champ Bobby Morrow of Abilene Christian and Duke's Dave Sime—emerge as the carnival's main individual attractions in a two-day competition involving some 4,000 track and field stars from 500 schools and colleges. It's the biggest Penn Relays ever.

Morrow and Sime will run Saturday in a specially arranged 100-yard dash, challenged by three still-unnamed sprinters, one of whom is expected to be Morrow's speedy teammate, Bill Woodhouse.

Morrow, winner of three Olympic medals, has raced Sime three times, but won only once. Sime was injured before the Olympic tryouts and failed in a bid for the U.S. team.

Sime holds the most recent victory, winning two weeks ago in the American Business Club Relays at Big Spring, Tex. Morrow lost another race eight days ago at Abilene, finishing second behind Woodhouse.

Villanova, with ace miler Ron Delany the key man, is anxious to score the carnival's first triple-triple." It is defending titles in the one-mile, sprint medlay and distance medlay relays. The sprint and distance races Villanova has won the past two years, but it is already a three-time winner in the mile relay, and out to make it "No. 4," which would be another Penn Relay first.

World Golf Parley Set

NEW YORK (AP)—Thirty-four nations will be represented at a planning conference for the first world amateur golf team championship at Washington, D.C., May 2-3, the U.S. Golf Assn. said Saturday.

The meeting of delegates representing national amateur golf organizations throughout the world is expected to be the largest ever held in scope and purpose.

The world team championship is scheduled for October of this year at the Old Course in St. Andrews, Scotland. Exact dates will be fixed at the coming conference.

The proposed form of the tournament calls for 72 holes of stroke play at 18 holes per day. Each team will be composed of four players and the aggregate of the three lowest scores will be the team score to decide the championship.

Spahn Blanks Phillies, 1-0, For First Win

By RALPH BERNSTEIN

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Warren Spahn shut out the Philadelphia Phillies 5-0 at Connie Mack Stadium Saturday, helped by a lusty 13-hit attack—including two home runs—and the sparkling defense of his Milwaukee teammates.

Spahn had a one-hitter going through the first seven innings as the 36-year-old veteran befuddled the Phillies with his assortment of curves and sinkers. A 21-game winner for the world champions last year this was Spahn's first win of 1958. He allowed 5 hits, struck out 4 and walked 3.

Milwaukee, in winning for the second time in the three-game series which winds up Sunday, scored its first run in the fourth inning on singles by Joe Adcock and Johnny Logan and an error on a routine grounder by Phils's shortstop Chico Fernandez.

The Braves added another tally off starter Curt Simmons in the fifth when rookie Mel Roach, playing his first game as an outfielder in order to allow Manager Fred Haney to stock his batting order with right-handers against the southpaw, hammered a home run into the left field seats.

Roach, normally an infielder also singled and made a fine play in the second inning which saved a run.

Adcock wrapped up the game for Milwaukee in the seventh when he parked one of relief pitcher Jack Meyer's serves against the facade in left field for a three-run homer. Schoendienst, who had three singles, and Henry Aaron were aboard.

Alcaldes Are Plentiful In La Villita

By HARVEY SCANDRETT
Written for The Associated Press

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—La Villita has more alcaldes—honorary that is—than France has premiers.

It is a San Antonio custom for the mayor to trundle visiting notables over to La Villita, 240-year-old one-time residential core of old San Antonio, and proclaim them honorary alcaldes—or mayors.

Those so honored include New York's mayor, Robert Wagner, and such peppery personages as Sarah Churchill and Glenn McCarthy.

Ordinarily the visitors see little more than the cluster of ancient adobe houses in a setting of palm, banana and orange trees and tropical flowers a few steps from the Alamo.

Restored several years ago as an arts and crafts center and historic shrine, La Villita was dubbed "Williamsburg with a Sombrero" by a mayor's secretary.

But come San Jacinto Day, April 22, and three days thereafter, La Villita will be pulsing with gayety and good living.

Four "Nights in Old San Antonio," recalling romantic times of other centuries, will be a public participation event of the Fiesta San Jacinto, which annually celebrates the final defeat of the Mexican tyrant, Santa Anna.

In Cos House, where Gen. Cos surrendered the city in 1835 to Ben Milam's Anglo-Texans, senoritas will serve tacos, enchiladas and other tangy dishes of a complete Mexican dinner.

Across the street in La Casita (the little house), hausfraus will dish up heaping plates of sauerkraut, frankfurters and potato salad.

In Navarro Plaza, within the walls of La Villita, vendors will offer such delicacie as sliced papaya; pepitas, green pumpkin seeds fried in olive oil, nopalitos, tender strips of young cactus and pan dulce candy.

Italian pizzas, Irish stew and other national dishes will be served elsewhere.

Young dancers will perform on the Arneson River Theater stage, separated from its audience by the narrow channel of the San Antonio River. A burlesque of the formal coronation of the fiesta queen will be held on the same stage and the teater's stone and sod tiers will seat judges and viewers of the fiesta's river parade.

There are 67 over-water bridges in New York City.

Suit Against Majors To Be Tried Soon

PORTSMOUTH, Va. (AP)—Frank D. Lawrence said Saturday his $250,000 damage suit against the major leagues will be tried within 30 days, and that Kentucky Gov. A. B. "Happy" Chandler, former commissioner of baseball, has agreed to testify in his behalf.

Lawrence, owner of the Portsmouth club in the disbanded Class B Piedmont League, sued in 1951, charging that the majors had violated baseball Rule 1-A on territorial rights by invading his franchise area with radio and television without his permission. The Piedmont League disbanded in September 1955.

Second Phase Of Cancer Drive Set

The second phase of the Scurry County drive in the 1958 Cancer Crusade is scheduled to get underway Tuesday.

It will be the house-to-house campaign, headed by Mrs. Theo Lamb.

Mrs. Lamb said there are about 200 women who will be volunteer workers in that part of the campaign. Although Tuesday will be the main day in that part of the drive, some of the women are already making their contacts.

The downtown campaign, headed by Jim Thompson, got underway last week and is expected to end by Tuesday. In that campaign, workers were contacting business owners.

Mrs. Lamb, in preparing for the house-to-house campaign, urged housewives to discuss with their husbands what they would like to give to the Cancer Crusade so they will be prepared for the workers when they call at their doors.

"Only business owners were being seen in the downtown campaign," Mrs. Lamb said, "So their husbands will not be contacted unless they own a business." For employes of businesses, the house-to-house campaign will be the only contact the Cancer Crusade will make.

The Cancer Crusade is an educational as well as financial campaign. In the drive, workers are giving residents folders which urge checkups for cancer, danger signals, and how the Cancer Crusade funds turn into research, education, and service.

The seven danger signals listed as possible cancer symptoms: unusual bleeding or discharge, a lump or thickening in the breast or elsewhere, a sore which will not heal, persistent change in bowel or bladder habits, persistent hoarseness or cough, persistent indigestion or difficulty in swallowing and change in a wart or mole.

Some 40 million Americans now living will be struck by cancer if present rates continue. Some 1,000 scientists are pressing a search for an ultimate cure. Developments include new surgical techniques, radiation with atomic chemicals, and supervoltage machines, promising drugs, data on the relationship of cancer and harmones, cancer and viruses, and better understanding of both the normal and cancerous human cell. Until recently, one-fourth of all those with cancer were saved by surgery x-ray, or radium. Now one-third are being saved. One-half could be saved through earlier diagnosis and better treatment.

Healy Named ASNE Head

WASHINGTON (AP)—George W. Healy Jr. was elected president of the American Society of Newspaper Editors (ASNE) Saturday. He is editor of the New Orleans Times-Picayune.

Felix R. McKnight, executive editor of the Dallas Times Herald, was elected treasurer. McKnight also is president of The Texas Associated Press Managing Editors Assn.

Healy, 52, is former chairman of The Associated Press Managing Editors Assn.

Installation was at the annual banquet tonight.

J. R. Wiggins, executive editor of the Washington Post, was moved up from second vice president to first vice president, succeeding Healy. Wiggins is in line to head the society a year from now.

Carl E. Lindstrom, executive editor of the Hartford (Conn.) Times, was elected second vice president. He has been secretary. Turner Catledge, managing editor of the New York Times, who was treasurer, became secretary.

The officers were chosen by the society's 60 directors today.

Range Plan Is Protested

WASHINGTON (AP) — Six Oklahoma women here for a national Democratic women's conference called at the White House Saturday to protest Army plans to expand Ft. Sill, Okla., by using 300,000 acres as a missile range.

Mrs. Merle Watkins of Hobart, spokesman for the group said 30,000 people in a rich farming area would be affected and would lose their homes and business.

She said there was much waste land in the United States which could be used for the purpose. She added that as far as they know the project "doesn't come under the emergency classification."

Mrs. Watkins said both the Democratic and Republican parties in Oklahoma are opposed to the expansion.

Bryce Harlow, special assistant to the President, promised the women they would be given a chance to state their side before land is actually taken over for the project.

Galveston Picked As Convention Site

TYLER (AP)—The Texas Student and Graduate Nurses Assn. selected Galveston Saturday for their next convention site.

Miss Kathleen Clayton of Houston was elected president of the student nurses. Mrs. Sadie Brown of San Antonio was chosen head of the graduate nurses.

Best seller on the list of U.S. Government publications is called "Infant Care." And "Prenatal Care" is a runner-up.

Smart Girls Never Try To Change A Man

IF YOUR MAN adores wide open spaces, don't try to wean hm away. It won't work anyway. It's better that you learn to like his green pastures, says singer and movie actor Guy Mitchell, an outdoor man, and proud owner of a 17,000-acre ranch outside Tucson, Ariz.

"An easy way to lose a man," he says, "is to insist he give up a life he loves. Even if you are shy about sports, riding a horse, for instance, try to learn anyway. Admit you are a beginner, let your boy take the lead rope, and he'll feel like a knight."

It's a good idea, though, not to take lessons from a boy you like. "You'll think every valid criticism is a personal affront," says Mitchell, who found out by trying to teach his own wife.

On the other hand, don't try to impress your friend, if you are a neophyte, by asking for a spirited horse at the riding stables. He will know the difference, and you will just be miserable riding over your head.

"The first-time rider would do well not to ride a horse from public stables," he says. "It's better to ride a horse that a friend owns, or one at a dude ranch. Don't hesitate to be lady-like, asking for the mounting block, etc."

Every guy pictures himself as adventurous, says Mitchell, and women should go along with the idea to help prove he is a hero.

A 14-ounce bottle of catchup contains 1¾ cups; handy to remember when you are following a recipe for barbecue sauce.

Now Is The Time For Spring Repairs

Check your house as well as the garden for signs of winter damage. Heavy burdens of snow and ice which afflicted much of the nation may have caused hard-to-spot damage which can be repaired easily now but, if ignored, may cause expensive trouble.

Dampness can be a symptom — indicating a hidden leak which can rot wood destroy plaster and destroy interior walls.

Check the foundation for cracks and loose pieces of mortar. Repair them at once, before they become more extensive and can weaken the foundation, cause the house to settle and crack the plaster.

Heavy loads of snow and ice can open joints, making hidden leaks into which rain can seep. Check particularly around doors and windows.

Auxiliary Starts Work At Cogdell Hospital Tomorrow

The Ladies Auxiliary to the Cogdell Memorial Hospital will start regular operation tomorrow. The uniforms were issued by Mrs. Skipper Joyce Wednesday and the ladies are ready for their many duties at the hospital.

There will be at least four women in their cherry uniforms on duty each day. Two days a week six women will be in service. Two in the mending room as well as the four on floor duty.

The ladies will render many services to patients, visitors and to the hospital. Besides mending sheets and other hospital supplies, other projects now under consideration is the rental of televisions and the taking of pictures of new babies.

All work by this volunteer group will be under the supervision of Mrs. Maurine Pilcher, superintendent of nurses at the hospital.

The hours set for the auxiliary ladies to be on duty are 8:30 to 11:30 a.m. 2 to 5 p.m. six days a week, and on Sunday's from 2 to 5 p.m. and 5 to 8 p.m.

Now Is The Time . . .

for all good men to come to the aid of the picnic.

Yes, men, while the little woman is getting together all the goodies that are so essential for the "inner man's" enjoyment of the traditional picnic, it's the time for you to provide the little necessary extras that will make the picnic a rousing success . . . for Mom and everyone.

During the sultry days of July, for example, why should Mom pack the washables — table cloth, napkins, etc — knowing full well when the picnic's over she's the one who will have to wash and iron them?

Chivalry is not dead, gentlemen! Rally round the festive board and bring home some gay, colorful paper napkins and a practical, disposable paper tablecloth. It will not only add to the ease and comfort of the day but will probably be a conversation piece for some time to come. Who knows, it might inspire the lady of the house to reward you on the morrow with some of those special appetizing foods you love so much but take so much time to make — yumm! After all, she didn't have to do all the laundry after the picnic so she will have the precious time to cater to your culinary whims.

PAPER NAPKINS PRACTICAL

You don't have to use paper napkins just for picnics, either. There are so many practical as well as decorative uses for these boons to modern times. There are all shapes and kinds of paper napkins available for whatever the situation may be . . . whether it be everyday use in the home, special parties, or even formal entertaining. Foremost etiquette authorities agree that with today's lovely textures and patterns, paper napkins are correct for any occasion.

Cooking vegetables in a small amount of water helps keep their fresh flavor. You can cook snap beans that are Frenched, for instance, in one-half cup of boiling water if you use a heavy saucepan and maintain simmering with low heat.

Altrurian Club Hears Program On Venezuela

Mrs. H. G. Towle was hostess to the Altrurian Club at the Martha Ann Club, Friday at 3 p.m.

Mrs. John Leftwich, president, presided over the business session.

Mrs. C. C. Miller presented an interesting program on South America. She told of thr recent trip she and her husband made recently. She said in part:

"We landed by plane in Venezuela, and went to Caracas to visit our daughter, Mrs. Bill White. We traveled the new autopista highway, LaGuaira to Caracas,the cost of this beautiful scenic high way cost $70,000,000. The capitol buildings were beautiful, one of the famous rooms is the Salon Eliptico with its heroic paintings.

"Toward the end of December the temperature is lowest, and it is highest from June to September. The streets cross each other at right angles. runing due east and west, or north and south, and the principal thorough-fares are paved with stone, and have sidewalks of cement.

"The capitol building occupies an entire square, and area of more than two acres. It includes the halls in which both chambers of the national Congress hold their sessions. The rooms of the High Federal Court and the Departments of Public Instruction and the Interior are in the galleries on the east and west sides of the capitol. La Casa Amarilla (the Yellow House), official residence of the President of the republic, is situated west of the Plaza Bolivar.

"On the north side of the same square is the main post-office. Nearby are the archbishop's palace the cathedral and the municipal palace. Opposite the southern facade of the capitol are the university buildings (Gothic architecture with interior gardens); the old temple of San Francisco and the Exposition Palace, the western wing of which contains the Bolivar Museum, the headquarters of the Academy of History, and the corresponding branch of the Spanish Royal Academy.

"The national library and museum are housed by the university Other characteristic buildings are: The National Pantheon, the Masonic Temple, the three markets, the National Benevolent Institute, the Arsenal, the Institute of Arts, and Trades and the Municipal Theatre."

Mrs. Miller told of the farming habits and stock raising. She also gave an interesting discription of the celebrations that take place at Christmas time.

Artists Caravan To Be Held For All Who Are Interested

Done any painting out of doors lately? You don't have to be a proven Rembrandt or Picasso to be eligible for the Artists Caravan — just a lover of Nature and painting.

WHAT? Landscape, still life or figure painting — Caravaners will have the opportunity to explore new byways of their favorite mode of painting in congenial company and a vacation atmosphere. Members of the Caravan will meet at spots selected for paintable qualities at convenient distances from their homes in the Snyder-Big Spring-Lamesa area. Canvas shading and wind protection will be provided by stretching awnings between parked cars, or by umbrellas furnished by participants if preferred. In the sheltered areas still life and figure painting will be carried on during the morning hours when lighting and temperature conditions are most favorable. During these hours demonstrations will be given in oil, watercolor and casein in a variety of techniques. Following a picnic lunch, criticism and a problems clinic will be held after the painting at each location has been finished. Members of the Caravan desiring individual assistance may make arrangements during the afternoon with Mr. Parkinson at the rate of five dollars per hour. Pending the outcome of arrangements now being studied, one day will be devoted to work indoors at a centrally located place where films, slides and other study aids may be better employed and will permit the continuation of work during unfavorable weather.

WHEN? Friday, June 6, is the tentative date for registration and an orientation talk, at which time a map and schedule of the itinerary will be furnished each member. On Monday, June 9, the first week of the Caravan will begin, running daily thru Friday with Wednesday set aside for indoor meeting unless weather conditions make another day a better choice. The Carvanan will continue in operation for five weeks if sufficient members are enrolled to meet expenses. This span of time will enable some to join for as little as two weeks and still gain much benefit from the mobile painting group. Those who join for the full length of time will benefit by a series of lectures and demonstrations dealing with a succession of special problems in landscape painting and foreground treatment, trees, windmills, perspective of buildings, reflected color, texture rendering and others on request. Time allotted to still life and figure will depend upon the number of participants interested in these activities.

WHERE? A general meeting to answer questions and draft final plans for the Caravan is tentatively set for Wednesday April 30th at 1 p.m. at "The Barn", at Snyder. (Those who can't make it on this date, if you will notify Mr. Parkinson, he will meet with you on the following Saturday at 1 p.m. at the same place). On April 30th the regular art class will meet at 2 p.m. instead of 1 p.m. When we meet together at the Barn, suggestions for painting sites of special interest will be considered, and deposits, of $10 per enrolling member will be collected at this time. This deposit is refundable if less than ten persons enroll. Those who cannot attend this meeting may mail their deposits to Rod Parkinson at 2505 39th Street, Lubbock. No funds are available for publicity, so you will do yourself a favor by inviting friends whom you feel would benefit by joining the Artists Caravan. There is no age minimum but probably high school age would constitute the youngest persons who would gain much benefit. Of course, any member of participants' families will be welcome to visit the painting sites so long as they do not hinder the artists at work. Make your plans now for a summer vacation short on miles but long on satisfaction!.

New Highway Map Ready

AUSTIN (AP) — A colorful new state highway map decorated with pictures of pretty girls and flowers and packed with Texas information is being distributed by the Highway Commission.

The free map is available to anyone writing the Highway Department at Austin or at district offices, or at highway information stations.

It shows 1,812 towns contrasted with the 567 of the 1948 map. State and U.S. highways have been increased by 2,026 in 10 years and farm roads from 620 to 17,126. All are shown on the map.

There were no roadside parks on the 1948 map and the latest calls attention to the new total of 1,026 resting spots along the highways.

Howard Payne Sets Dedication Event

BROWNWOOD (AP)—Eight speakers, an historical pageant and dedication of the new $50,000 naval reserve electronics building on the campus are set for April 20-25 at Howard Payne College's annual Democracy-in-Action Week.

The speakers include Dr. John Tower, assistant professor of political science at Midwestern University at Wichita Falls.

The Gardeners Corner

All's well that ends tree wells on the grounds of the new dream castle.

Gaping wells around trees are not only unnecessary and undesirable, they are dangerous to the tree and to the adult or youngster who may fall into them. So says J. L. Heston, who points out proper fills are the real answer to tree root aeration.

Roots must breathe. Any prolonged stoppage of air is harmful. Even a large excavation around a tree trunk hardly assures an adequate air supply. It will aerate only that portion of the root system adjacent to the tree. Very important are the roots at the extremities. These pick up nutrients and moisture. Since the root system generally extends, as far, or farther than the branch spread, tree wells at best can do only a partial job.

This is definitely not always better than nothing at all. Wells may have a tendency to hold water. And waterlogging can smother a tree as effectively as clay or high piles of soil around roots.

Fills sometimes are unavoidable. They should be made of porous materials such as gravel, coarse sand or rock and finished with the very best top soil that will nurture lush lawns. Special tiles to insure aeration and drainage may have to be installed in some instances.

To assure that fine trees will continue to thrive, it is best to call in professional tree men, along with the architect and builder, before the land is cleared.

The Girl With 22 Suitcases

The doorman at the hotel scratched his head, looked at the pretty pretty young girl, and at the luggage on the sidewalk. "Young lady, are all these yours" Jean Carter, a 20-year-old strawberry blonde from Atlanta, Ga., smiled and said in her soft Southern way, "They sure are." The doorman counted 22 suitcases. Who was this lovely young girl Where had she been, and where was she going The mystery is easily explained. As the 1958 Maid of Cotton, Jean Carter will travel some 50,000 miles In January, she flew via British Overseas Airways to Jamaica. After visiting 30 major U. S. cities and three in Canada, she will head for Europe next summer What does Jean have in her suitcases As befitting the representative of the cotton industry, she has a wardrobe of cotton fashions styled by 42 famous designers. A 500-word story tells about the Maid of Cotton tour, also contains packing tips.

Getting Laughs Is Easy, Gould Says

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP) — "You can make anybody laugh within a minute," said comedian Sid Gould. "The only thing that prevents them from laughing is the determination to win some money."

That's the simple idea behind Make Me Laugh (ABC-TV, Thursdays), which was the target of some unkind remarks from this quarter when it made its debut four weeks ago.

"I agree with Sid," said comedian Louis Nye. "A minute is enough time to make a person laugh."

"I don't believe it," I said. "That's why I challenged you guys to come down to the bullpen and give you each a minute to make me laugh."

They stared thoughtfully. Gould has sad dark eyes and a mobile face. Nye has bright blue eyes and a deadpan expression.

"You're easy," Gould said. "We've been talking about five minutes and you've laughed five times."

"I have not.

"You have too, Nye said. "It was a sort of grin, but you won't print that because it'll make you sound like a grinning fool.

"A laugh is any time you show your teeth, said Gould.

"Mmm-mmm," I replied through tight lips. "Go ahead."

"No rush," said Gould. "Why don't you ask us some questions first, like is it easier to make men or women laugh?"

"Okay." I slumped lower in my chair. "Which is easier?"

"They're both the same," said Gould.

"Both the same," echoed Nye.

I slumped even lower and waved a hand wearily.

"Want to begin?" asked Nye.

"Go ahead."

Leaping to his feet, he sprang to my side, rested a hand on my shoulder, faced an imaginary audience, and began a staccato German speech. My imagination rioted. He was the Nazi functionary and I was lolling, weary dictator.

I laughed.

"I told you," said Gould. "You're easy."

"Maybe for him. Not for you. Go ahead."

His face seemed to squash like foam rubber, his eyes expressed an extraordinary sadness, and he lisped about an imaginary Roy Smick. I wanted to laugh, but I didn't.

His expression changed. He thrust his face close to mine and said, "Charlie, you'll never know what lonesome is till you get to herding cows."

I laughed.

Shrugging and spreading his hands eloquently, he sat back and studied me morosely.

"Look here," I said in some alarm, "that's not a funny line. Reduce that to print and say that I laughed at it and I'll sound like a terrible idiot."

"Well?" asked Sid Gould.

Producers Would Still Employ Lana

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — "Would you hire Lana Turner for a movie?"

This question was put to a dozen producers this week at the Screen Producers Guild dinner. These are the men who make the casting decisions, who can make or break a star.

Their answer was unanimous: absolutely yes.

"I wouldn't hesitate to cast her in a picture if I had the right property," said Buddy Adler, production chief at 20th Century-Fox.

"I not only would cast her, I'm actively seeking her for 'The Sound and the Fury,'" said Jerry Wald, who produced Lana's current starring film, "Peyton Place."

He added: "We've had a spot check around the country of reactions by audiences watching 'Peyton Place.' The response has been warm and sympathetic."

Said David O. Selznick: "Certainly I would cast Lana if I had the right part for her. Church authorities have stated that they will not censure performers because of their private lives."

Producer-star John Wayne was vehement in his reply: "Sure, I'd hire her! If people don't stop picking on that poor girl, I'd star her in the green rushes." He referred to the uncut versions of a day's work in a studio.

Veteran Bryan Foy remarked: "Lana will be bigger than ever. The tide of public opinion is going in her direction."

William Thomas, a veteran exploiter of films, had this realistic comment: "I'd like to have a small piece of her next picture. It'll be a smash. It's what you call a freak attraction — people who haven't even seen a movie will go to watch her. After the first picture, her career will settle down to what it was before."

It is ironic that Lana's first picture after her daughter Cheryl's fatal stabbing of Johnny Stompanato will be the one on which she stands to profit the most. The film is "Another Time, Another Place," the first production by her own Lanturn Productions.

Paramount is releasing the film and is rushing it into the nation's theaters in the next few weeks.

Attorney To Be Honored

AUSTIN (AP)—Charles Francis, Houston attorney, will be honored April 25 at the University of Texas law school's outstanding alumnus of 1958.

The university law students and faculty named Francis for the honor Saturday.

Francis, 64, received his bachelor of arts degree from the university in 1915. He received his law degree two years later. He was born in Denton.

He is vice president and general counsel of the Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. Francis helped establish in 1952 the Law School Foundation. It is a fund-raising group dedicated to provide salary supplements for distinguished law professor and support legal research. The foundation has raised $400,000 in six years.

Lunt, Fontanne Stir B'way

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP) — Alfred Lunt and Lynn Fontanne are stirring double Broadway excitement.

They have a new, drastically different play.

They have a theater of their own.

They discuss the drama with articulate urbanity, and comment on the playhouse with almost naive wonder.

"What can anyone say about being made an institution" remarks Lunt. "You are terribly pleased, and startled—and a lot of other words. You just cannot say it simply."

Miss Fontanne simply smiles and turns to the play in which she and her husband have forsaken frothy comedy brilliance for dramatic depth.

The work is entitled "The Visit," by a young Swiss writer, Friedrich Duerrenmatt. The Lunts' limited 12-week engagement begins here May 5, following a swing through other cities.

"I have never known people to talk so much and so endlessly about a play, and one which led to so many family argument," Miss Fontanne comments.

"People are still talking about it three days after seeing it."

She regards it as the most significant play they have appeared in since the 1940 production of "There Shall Be No Night."

As to what their fans may think of the change in acting mood, Lunt comments: "We have never let anything like that affect our selection of roles. We have done this type of drama before."

It will, they admit, surprise spectators familiar only with such recent Lunt-Fontanne outings as "O Mistress Mine," "I Know My Love," "Quadrille" and "The Great Sebastians," which have kept them busy on Broadway, in London and on tour for 10 years.

The drama, which has an extra dimension of allegory, concerns a woman's vengeance upon a former lover.

Quinine, chief defense against malaria, is produced from the cinchona tree which grow mainly in Venezuela and Bolivia.

Paul Baker Is Praised For Baylor Theater Direction

By MARSHALL COMERER
The Associated Press

Genius . . . experimental . . . imaginative. These are words used to describe the work of Paul Baker as director of the Baylor Theater and especially his productions each spring that climax another year of work.

This year the play is "The Golden Stairs" by Ramsey Yelvington of Boerne, a Baylor Theater alumnus. It is an expanded version of his one-act play, "Korea," presented last fall at Baylor. Its subject is the reaction of a German-West Texas family to news that an only son has died in action in Korea.

It is a symbolical drama. An unmarried aunt of the family, with Godlike simplicy and goodness, talks with her angle. She is the only one that can do this and thus symbolizes the difficulty of living in union with God.

The deep grief felt by the family is expressed by them and by forces of their minds.

An old soldier, who has fought in all his country's wars, symbolizes the continuing fight for a warless one world. He brings the family a flag used in the funeral service for one of its kinsmen who died fighting Germans. When he disclaims a belief that the sacrifices of war need no flat, he is driven from the farm to haunt the dreams of his persecutors.

In the father surge the forces of a hard-working man with no credence in books, no need for religion's explanation of life, and no idea of the kinship of his new and old fatherlands. In the death of his son begins his education in the meaning and glory of sacrifice.

Baker appeals to his audience's senses rather than its intellect in interpreting the truths the author seeks to expound. The result is an overpowering display of theater technique that submerge and blur the play.

Virgil Beavers designed the abstract sets of metal pipes, draped with gauze and adorned with horseshoes and discarded cogwheels. Deft lighting and an overcast color scheme of powdered shale gave actors a scultural quality.

Baker again employed a wide range or sound effects. Some came in the dark. There were hisses from unseen voices and the last words of sentences trailed away in echoes.

In the family's grief at the news of their own son's death, actors' voices were stilled. Their reactions came in the voices of hidden actors.

"The Golden Stairs" continues at Studio One of the Baylor Theater through May 10. There are no performances Sunday or Monday.

Janet Makes Press Agent

By JAMES BACON

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Nomination for Hollywood's prettiest press agent — Janet Leigh.

And few press agents work as hard as does Janet.

She has contacted me at least six times in the last six months — never about her own or husband Tony Curtis' careers. Janet is selling Share, Inc.

Share is a group of young Hollywood wives who banded together in 1953 to work for charity. Their pet project is the Exceptional Children's Foundation which helps the mentally retarded child.

It was a neglected field, mostly because parents of such children often want to keep them in the house. The battle was half won when Share started an education program for parents so that children could be taken out of attics, so to speak.

The wives of Share then put their famous husbands' talents to work for a series of annual parties and shows. Among the wives are Mrs. Jeff Chandler, Mrs. Dean Martin, Mrs. Gordon MacRae, Mrs. Sammy Cahn, Mrs. Jay Kanter, whose father heads Para mount and whose husband is an MCA executive; Mrs. William T. Orr, whose husband runs Warners' TV wing; and Mrs. Martin Melcher who is Doris Day.

"We raised enough money in five years to build and support the Child Guidance Center, the only clinic for mentally retarded children west of Chicago," says anet. "Many of these children can, with expert instruction, be taught to take their place in society. Our center has done wonders."

Scottish historian Dr. Annie Dunlop says: "If Scotland can learn to live with England — and it has — there's no reason why the rest of the world can't get along too."

Recession Hits Farms Less Than Cities, Survey Shows

By ROBERT GOLDENSTEIN

CHICAGO (AP) — The recession seems to be hitting farms less seriously than cities.

A nationwide survey by the The Associated Press shows that farmers in many sections see 1958 as largely unchanged from 1957 — a year of industrial prosperity.

This does not mean things are extremely good on the farm. They're simply not getting worse.

Secretary of Agriculture Benson said in a speech earlier this month at Preston, Idaho: 'One of the basic concerns of all Americans is that farmers are not participating equitably in the national well-being they have helped to create. Ther has been some real hardship among farm families. You know it and I know it, and I would be less than honest with you if I told you that I have a simple cure-all for all farm problems."

True, per capita farm income in 1957 set a new record high of $993. But this still was far below the nonfarm per capita average of $2,045.

Even so, many farmers are seeing their world through rosy glasses.

There are some excptions, notably in parts of the South. Cold, wet weather has delayed planting preparations and farm operations there and a poor 1957 crop left many farmers with more debts and lower cash reserves.

But in the Southwest, where the long drought has been broken, spring sales of farm equipment have reached a six-year peak and enthusiasm is running high.

An Illinois livestock farmer: "We had our recession two years ago and are doing all right now."

A farm spokesman in Nebraska: "Nebraska farmers had their recession in 1955 and 1956. The current national recession finds them with a bumper crop year behind them and good prospects for another bumper year ahead."

An Iowa agriculture spokesman: "Farmers are pretty well satisfied with their economic prospects due to good livestock prices and good 1957 crops."

A New Mexico cattleman: "Cattle ranchers and bankers can now meet and smile at each other for the first time in years."

Farm spokesmen cite several factors for their view that the recession isn't heading toward the farms:

Food sales nationally have been running about 8 per cent ahead of last year although other retail sales beclined slightly. Traditionally, consumers cutting expenditures usually economize last on food."

The end of the long drought put a prop under the farm economy in the Southwest last year and crop prospects in the area are excellent again for 1958. Growing conditions also are favorable in most other major crop areas.

The mild winter on western ranches was kind to cattle. Losses were nil.

Cattle prices are up some 20 per cent over a year ago and hog prices are ahead 15 per cent. No sharp decline has been forecast. Prices also are somewhat higher on poultry and eggs, and some fruits and vegetables.

Farm prices in mid-March reached 87 per cent of parity, the highest level since April, 1955. Parity is a standard for measuring farm prices in relation to costs of things the farmer buys.

But there still are some clouds on the farm horizon.

Freezes caused severe crop losses in Florida and parts of the Rio Grande Valley, leaving some growers with big debts.

Despite bullish 1958 prospects, sales of new farm equipment the first two months of this year ran from 6 to 10 per cent below the comparable 1957 period.

"I've never seen so much optimism reflected in such few sales," said a spokesman for a Chicago farm equipment manufacturer. "Maybe the pickup will come in April and May."

In Louisiana, Dr. M. D. Woodin, head of agricultural economics at Louisiana State University, said unfavorable weather cut the value of farm production 12 per cent in his state in 1957.

"This year's income will do well to remain at the 1957 level," he said. "Farmers are beginning the 1958 crop year with more debts and lower cash reserves than usual."

But from Maine to California, most farmers, state farm representatives and university spokesmen who were contacted look upon 1958 as a year of promising potential for the farmer.

The economic end result will depend a great deal on how the weather behaves during the growing season and how well farm prices hold up in relation to the cost of things the farmer buys.

Construction Increase In State Noted

AUSTIN (AP) — The Bureau of Business Research said Saturday building construction authorized in Texas last month was almost three times the anticipated seasonal upswing.

Construction rose 29 per cent in March from February. The normal increase is about 10 per cent.

The University of Texas said economic uncertainty apparently restrained some development and builders in February and weather also postponed plans for buildings, especially homes.

Total dollar value of building permits issued in Texas for the first three months was one per cent behind 1957.

Increases in authorizations for schools and churches were chiefly responsible for the gain recently in the nonresidential category.

Per capita building authorized in March was $21.95 compared with $17.05 in February and $18.46 in March of last year.

Seventeen cities had over $100 per capita authorized but only Midland and Garland were cities with substantial populations.

Richardson had the highest building construction rate at $964.05 and was one of six communities in Dallas County that exceeded the $100 level.

Other cities included Midland ($152.40 Groves (279.15) in Jefferson County and Lake Jackson ($125.89) in Brazoria County.

Among the larger cities, El Paso ($40.77) ranked first followed by Houston ($34.07), Austin ($24.16), Dallas ($22.71), Fort Worth ($15.90) and San Antonio ($11.34).

Increase In Demand For Loans Seen

DALLAS (AP)—An increased commercial loan demand with no material change in interest rates was predicted Saturday by bankers in the 11th Federal Reserve District for the rest of 1958.

The commercial loan demand for the first quarter was above expectations and is expected to be at even a higher level by the end of the year, W. W. Overton Jr., a member of the executive council and the credit policy commission of the American Bankers Assn., said a survey disclosed.

"Although no significant changes in credit policy were reported, there has been a readjustment of collection rates on some oil loans with the daily production rates now allowed in Texas," he said. "There were no reports of adjustments in consumer loans."

He said first quarter economy reports by the bankers were "good and up" in the district, made up of Texas and parts of adjoining states, with the Houston area "level."

"On analysis of business conditions the consumer demand has been maintained at fairly high levels, while consumer incomes also have been held up despite the somewhat enlarged number of unmployed in the Southwest," he said.

He said that the oil industry would probably continue its downward trend because of decreased production but predicted that this would be counterbalanced to a large extent by the upward movement in construction and an improved outlook for agriculture.

Hillside Gardens Plan Expansion

The Hillside Memorial Gardens here have embarked on a new development which will open the largest of seven gardens planned at the cemetery located southwest of the city.

Troy Shafer, manager, said that the new development will embrace approximately seven acres. It will be the second of seven gardens planned for ultimate development here, with the seven to cover 20 acres. A three acre garden has been open here for several years.

Focal point of the largest garden now being developed will be a feature of Italian marble, which is being hand sculptored by Dominic Zappia. All seven gardens will have features depicting important events in the life of Christ, Shafer said.

In conjunction with the new development, Hillside Memorial Gardens already has asked for bids on furnishing and planting 500 trees and shrubs in the new seven-acre garden.

The Hillside Memorial Gardens operate their own water and irrigation system for maintaining trees and plants.

The cemetery here is operated by Dunwood Service Co., the parent company, in San Angelo, which operates cemeteries in six other cities. Their other cemeteries are located in San Angelo, Ballinger, Paris, Langview, Orange and Lake Charles, La.

Cuts In Aid Bill Seen As Panel Meets

WASHINGTON (AP) — Cuts of up to a half billion dollars in President Eisenhower's $3,900,000,000 foreign aid bill were predicted Saturday as the House Foreign Affairs Committee prepared for closed - door voting sessions on the measure.

Rep. Vorys of Ohio, a senior committee Republican and pilot of aid legislation on the House floor, said he expects the bill will reach the floor within two weeks.

Vorys expressed confidence that the always controversial measure will emerge from the committee "in pretty good shape" and without a heavy cut.

The Ohioan declined to specify how much might be trimmed from the legislation which Secretary of State Dulles has called a rockbottom amount for American and Free World security next fiscal year.

But two other committee members ventured figures of up to a half billion dollars in separate interviews.

Rep. Wayne Hays (D-Ohio) said he would like to see a slash of around 500 million dollars, concentrated on military and defense support items.

"We are sending too many military items to countries that can't use them," he said.

Eisenhower wants $1,800,000,000 for arms aid and 835 million dollars for economic help to support foreign defense programs.

NEW FEATURE—The above feature will be a focal point in the new development at Hillside Memorial Gardens here. The new development, which will embrace some seven acres, will be the largest of seven planned for ultimate use. One three-acre development already is open. Features in all of the seven gardens will depict highlights in the life of Christ. The feature above will be hand sculptored from Italian marble by Dominic Zappia.

France Doing Business As Usual Without Government

By GODFREY ANDERSON

PARIS (AP) — For the 25th time since the war, France is without a government to mind her shop — but the customers will find business much as usual.

Before the fall of the Cabinet of Premier Felix Gaillard last Tuesday ushered in the latest crisis, France had already gone through "301 days without government since the Fourth Republic was founded in 1946.

Technically, of course, there is always a French government in office. One set of ministers does not hand in its portfolios to the President until the next one is ready to accept them.

But the lame-duck ministers are only caretakers and sometimes they hardly go near their ministries while the political crisis lasts.

Who then really runs France when there is no government to govern?

The answer is the civil servants. A small band of top officials, who stay on the job as the politicians come and go, really hold power in their hands. They run their departments with professional efficiency whether there is a "patron" (boss) behind the big Empire desk in the minister's room or not.

In fact, French Cabinet ministers have relatively little to do with the day-to-day running of their departments even when they are there. Their job is rather to ram departmental legislation through the balky Parliament, make weekend speeches throughout the country, eat dinners and put up a representative front.

During the period in which France has had 20 premiers, she has only had five foreign ministers — Robert Schuman, Georges Bidault, Antoine Pinay, Pierre Mendes-France and Christian Pineau. All except Pineau have had their turn as premier too. But foreign diplomats complain it is sometimes hard to find anyone of sufficient stature to talk with when the post is temporarily vacant.

The men who stay on and really run France are among the top brains of the country. Somber-suited, often elegant, sporting the red ribbon or rosette of the Legion of Honor in their lapel, they are often graduates of the state's top Polytechnique School and expert technicians in their fields.

These men may get salaries up to 350,000 francs ($833) monthly plus bonuses of 100,000 francs ($238) monthly and unspecified expense accounts.

Student Is Found Dead

EL PASO (AP) — Robert Taylor, 23, a junior at Texas Western College here, was found dead in the bedroom of his apartment Friday morning.

Police said they were told by his wife, Elizabeth, that her husband had been despondent over grades.

Taylor's body was found with a plastic bag over his head. It was held in place by a belt around his neck. Police said a tube ran from the bag to a gas jet of the kitchen stove.

His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Taylor Sr., of Corpus Christi.
