

Vicious Storms Hit Southeast Scurry

Stormy weather made yet another return to soggy Scurry County Thursday night and early today, this time inflicting heavy wind damage in the southeastern part of the county.

Hardest hit was the Inadale-Wastella-Pyron area, near the southeast corner of the county.

The Milton Adams farm near Pyron reported some of the most severe damage from the storm. High winds, possibly a tornado, destroyed a large barn on the farm. Three tractors, two pickup trucks and a wide assortment of other farm implements in the barn were damaged or destroyed.

Debris from the barn was scattered several hundred yards to the southeast of the building. Guy Adams, son of the owner and manager of the farm, estimated their total losses in the $150,000-$200,000 range.

Oddly enough, two houses less than 25 yards from the barn were untouched by the winds.

Adolph Villegas' grocery store on U. S. 84 at Wastella also sustained heavy damages. The winds removed the entire front of the building, leaving the rest standing and in relatively good shape.

The family home, right next to the store, was also completely untouched. Two mobile homes, a grain elevator on the RS&P Railroad tracks and part of the gin at Inadale were also damaged by the winds.

Bits and pieces of sheet iron from damaged buildings could be seen scattered in fields all over the area. Witnesses reported that the heavy winds struck the area around 12:30 a.m. Friday.

Snyder got .52 inch of rain, most of it falling in a booming thunderstorm beginning at about 6:45 a.m. The official gauge at the city water plant measured .52 inch, pushing the total for the year to 18.97 inches and the total for June to 6.0 inches.

Heavier rains were reported to the north and northeast of Snyder. It was much lighter to the southwest. Only .10 inch was reported at Lake J. B. Thomas.

Residents around Lake Stamford were evacuated from their homes early today after heavy thunderstorms dumped up to four inches of rain across the area.

Flooding was widespread across Haskell County, the National Weather Service said. Highways between Rule and Rochester and Haskell to Rule and from Rochester to Stamford were closed due to high water.

The flooding came after heavy thunderstorms pounded portions of North Central Texas and the South Plains during the night and early today.

There were reports of possible tornadoes, hail, flash flood producing rainfall and wind gusts of up to 60 mph as the storms roared across a vast area of the northern half of the state.

Severe thunderstorm warnings were issued for several counties and flash flood warnings were issued for Throckmorton, Wichita and Archer Counties.

Wind gusts of up to 60 mph were reported at Abilene, Haskell, Roscoe and in the Lampasas and Goldthwaite areas.

High winds overturned a mobile home on Texas 351 just northeast of Abilene.

One of the areas hardest hit was Throckmorton and Throckmorton County.

Street flooding was reported at Throckmorton where at least one store was damaged by high water, the fire department reported.

Throckmorton firemen also reported that U.S. 283 north of town and Texas 24 west of town were covered by water.

Pea size hail fell at Throckmorton and rainfall estimated at more than 3.5 inches had been recorded there early today and heavy rain was still falling at that time, the National Weather Service said.

A funnel cloud was sighted about 10 miles northwest of Coleman, but authorities said it did not touch the ground.

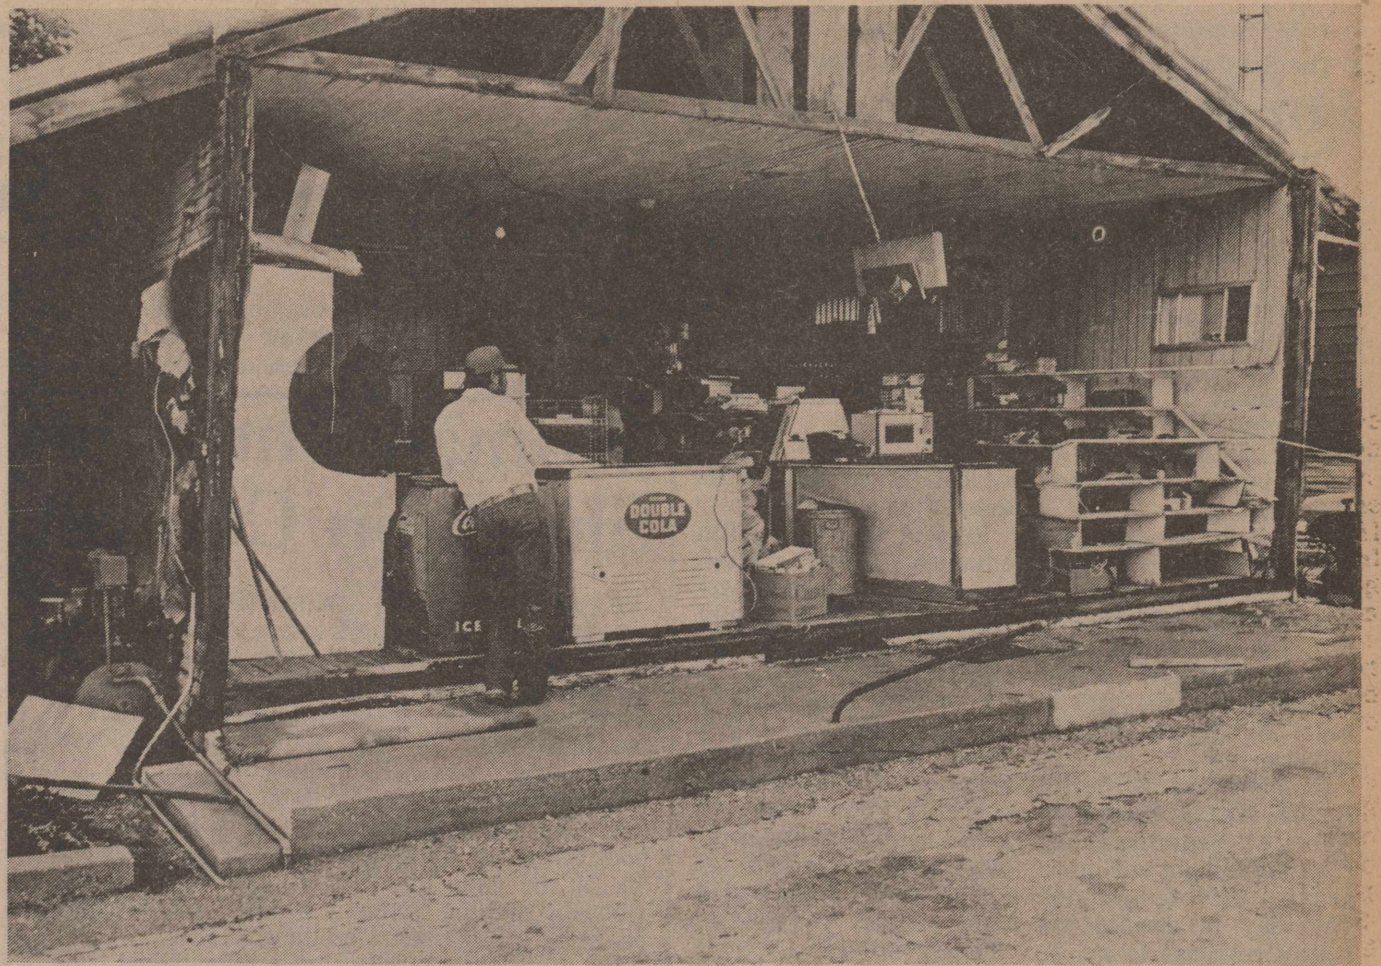

Texas 79 between Archer City and Olney in Archer County was covered with 1-2 feet of water before dawn.

Partly cloudy skies were reported around the rest of the state.

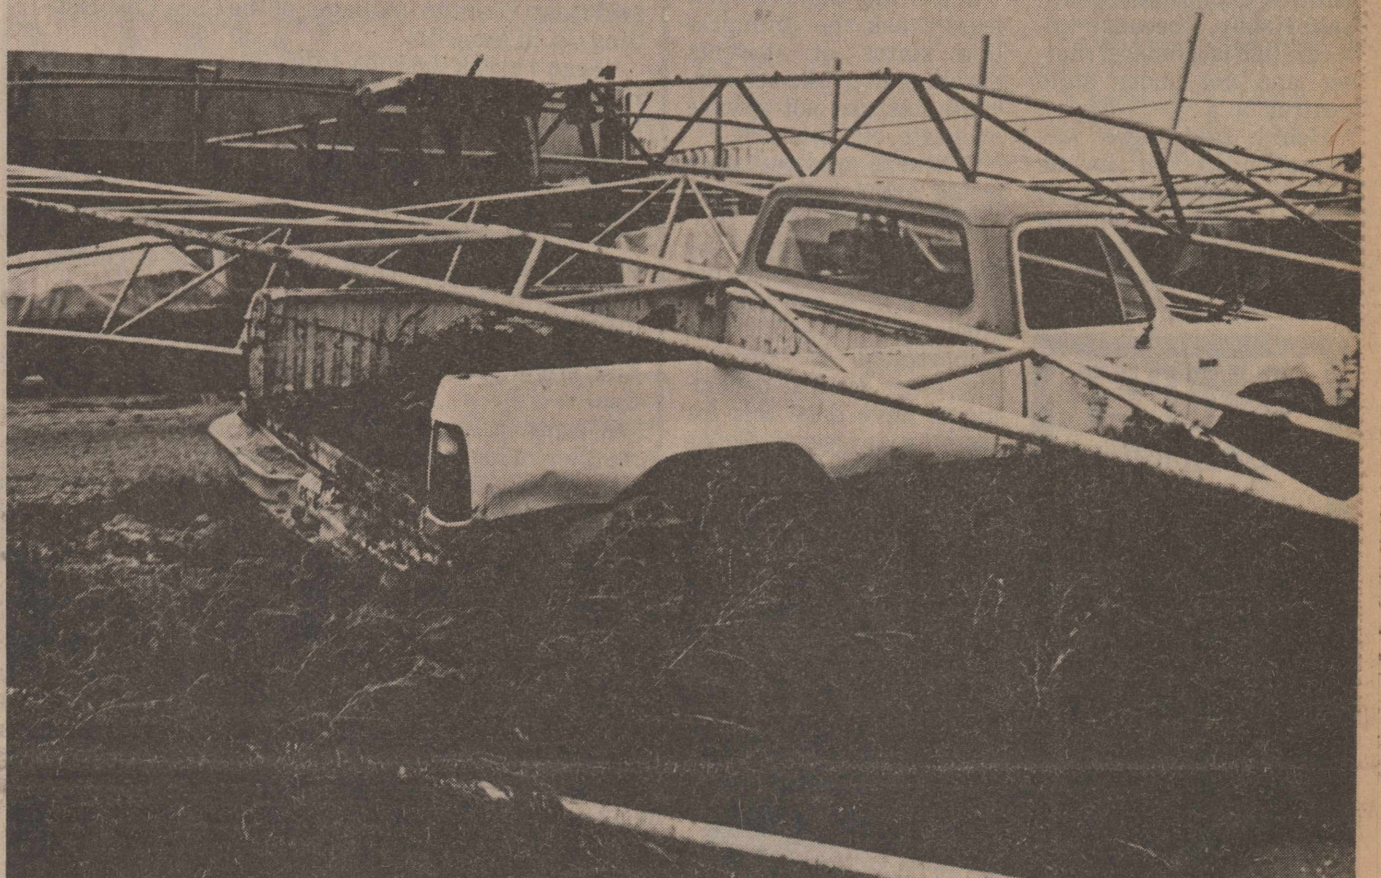

Early morning temperatures were mostly in the 70s, ranging from the 60s in the Panhandle to the low 80s in the Lower Rio Grande Valley.

Forecasts called for scattered thunderstorms over most of the state today and Saturday.

Highs today and Saturday were to be mostly in the 80s and 90s. Lows tonight will again be mostly in the 70s.

OPEN HOUSE—High winds from last night's storms in southeast Scurry and northwest Mitchell Counties tore the entire front off of Adolph Villegas' grocery store on U. S. 84 at Wastella. Villegas' house, not more than 30 feet south of the store, was untouched by the storm. (SDN Staff Photo)

BARN DESTROYED—Very little remains of this barn on the Milton Adams farm near Pyron in southeast Scurry County. High winds, possibly tornadic, struck the farm around 12:30 a.m. Friday. Damages to the barn and its contents were estimated at $150,000 to $200,000. (SDN Staff Photo)

Syria Accuses Israel

DAMASCUS, Syria (AP) — Syria today accused Israel of using nerve gas in a major battle Thursday in which Israeli armored forces defeated Syrian troops in a battle for control of the central Lebanese town, of Bhamdoun, on the strategic Beirut-Damascus highway.

The Israeli military command in Tel Aviv denied Syria's nerve gas claim, saying it was "absolutely ridiculous."

Prime Minister Resigns

BEIRUT, Lebanon (AP) — Lebanon's Moslem prime minister, Shafik Wazzan, resigned today, declaring that Israel's relentless air and sea bombardment of west Beirut was an "escalated blackmail that renders me unable to execute the duties of my office."

As large sections of west Beirut burned from incessant air assaults, Wazzan told reporters he tendered his resignation to Lebanon's Christian president, Elias Sarkis, at the Israeli-tinged presidential palace in suburban Baabda.

Board May Have Erred

WASHINGTON (AP) — A splintered Supreme Court ruled today that a New York school board may have erred in removing nine books from its public school libraries. But the justices failed to come up with a new rule that will guide the nation's school boards on the limits to their power to remove controversial books from schools.

Today's case, from the Island Trees school district on Long Island, had been expected to spell out the rights of students to have access to controversial and sometimes sexually explicit books in public schools.

SNYDER TEMPERATURES: High Thursday, 89 degrees; low, 63 degrees; reading at 7 a. m. today, 63 degrees; precipitation, .52; total precipitation for 1982 to date, 18.97.

WEST TEXAS: Scattered mainly afternoon and evening thunderstorms through tonight, becoming sunny Saturday. Continued very warm afternoons except not so warm Panhandle. Highs lower 80s north to mid 90s south and near 110 Big Bend. Lows lower 60s north to mid 70s south. Highs Saturday mid 80s north to upper 90s south and near 112 Big Bend valleys.

Skills Center Contract Let

Snyder School Trustees awarded a contract Thursday to Chisum Construction Co. of Snyder for construction of a learning skills center on the Humble-Smith Special School grounds.

Chisum's bid of $76,159 was the lowest of four proposals received.

The 60-foot by 36-foot building will provide facilities for programs for the severely and profoundly handicapped, said Dr. Thomas Scannicchio, assistant superintendent-instruction and curriculum. These include the mentally and physically handicapped.

There will be three classrooms for pre-vocational skills, mobility and motor activities, and communication and academic activities. Included will be a hygiene area for teaching physical health and toileting self-care, a kitchen and dining room area for teaching food preparation and serving, a home maintenance area, a living area for teaching home maintenance and social-emotional skills, and an office area for conferences with parents and for staff use.

The contract was awarded at a special session of the board.

Hospital Chairs To Be Replaced

Cogdell Memorial Hospital's board of managers last night told Cy Miller, hospital administrator, to proceed with plans to replace chairs damaged in a hospital waiting room on June 16.

Miller said parents of a juvenile who slashed the chairs had made arrangements to make restitution. Miller said that some 21 chairs were damaged beyond repair and that new ones will be purchased, with the parents paying for the new chairs.

In other business at their regular meeting last night, the board authorized a fee of $5 for hospital staff members to fill out insurance forms on policies beyond the amount required to take care of a patient's hospital bill. Miller said that some patients have several policies. Sometimes it requires two or three to cover expenses, and there will be no charge for these. However, for those in addition to the amounts needed for the hospital bill, the charge for filling out the forms, making the necessary refunds, etc., will be $5 each.

Miller said most hospitals charge for such service, some assessing a fee up to $10. Cogdell formerly had such a charge, but has not assessed it in recent years. He said some patients have as many as six insurance policies.

Miller reported that the hospital staff is working on a plan for a Registered Nurse course for several who have expressed interest here. He said officials of Howard College, which has an RN program, Western Texas College and hospital officials plan to set up a meeting to discuss the possibility of such a program. Miller said some 25 or more Licensed Vocational Nurses here have expressed interest.

A. Z. Glover, president of the board, presided over the session. Other board members attending were Sam Cross, Leon Autry, John Jarrell, Rex Robinson and County Judge Preston Wilson. Roy Kidd was absent.

Keeping tab on our neighbors:

The Hinckley case got the attention of most people the past week. Most are puzzled, if not down right outraged about the verdict.

Lynn Brisendine of the Brownfield News says it was no surprise to him that Hinckley was found to be insane, but the full effect of the jury's verdict is a mystery.

"We have no problem with the insanity issue," says Brisendine. "It would seem to us that any person shooting another person would have to be unstable at the time. It is the 'not guilty,' or 'innocent,' terms that have confused us."

Walter Buckel of the Lamesa Press-Reporter says he sent a roving reporter out to "feel the pulse of rural America regarding the Hinckley verdict. Some comments were unprintable, some were well stated. To sum it up, indignation might be the best word."

Buckel said he had no argument with the American system of justice because it has proven to be the best in the world.

"It's just that sometimes, verdicts are difficult to understand as to whether justice has really prevailed, of whether mockery was made of justice," he concluded.

It did not escape the attention of people in this area that within a week of the Hinckley verdict in a case involving attempted assassination of the president, a woman in Abilene got a life sentence for stealing a fur coat.

Some of our laws are tricky, one being the Texas law on sales tax. Rick Craig of the Hamlin Herald noted what he thought was a conflict. A person bought an item and was charged sales tax, but later was not charged sales tax on a purchase of the same item. But, he found that food products for home use are not subject to the sales tax, but food sold at lunch counters, restaurants, drug stores, concession stands, from push carts and motor vehicles is taxable. There are even more "quirks" in the sales tax law. Candy bars are taxed as confectionary products, but chocolate bits used to make cookies are not taxed.

Two Escapees Back In Jail

Two Snyder men were back in the Scurry County Jail this morning, facing possible additional 2-10 year prison terms.

Ricky Cox and Wiley Hearn escaped from the jail by climbing over the exercise yard fence around 11 a.m. Thursday morning.

Hearn recently transferred back to Snyder from the Texas Department of Corrections was recaptured about 11:30 a.m. Thursday. Sheriff's deputies discovered him hiding under a storage building near Patterson's Used Car Lot about 2 blocks north of the jail.

Cox eluded his pursuers for over 20 hours. He was recaptured by Snyder police officers and Scurry County Sheriff's deputies at 7:20 this morning. A woman had spotted Cox in the alley behind the 3800 block of Galveston and called local police.

According to the arresting officers, Cox offered no resistance when they approached him this morning.

The manhunt for Cox had occupied local law officers all of yesterday afternoon and most of last night until darkness and rains forced them to abandon the chase until morning.

Between the time he was last seen around 11:50 a.m. Thursday and the time of his capture, he had managed to shed his white jailhouse uniform and was found this morning clad only a bathing suit, cap and tennis shoes.

Cox had been serving a five year sentence since having his probation revoked on a burglary conviction. He was in the Scurry County jail awaiting trial on local forgery charges stemming from the passing of a stolen check.

Sheriff's officers report that he is also wanted in Seminole, Texas on auto theft charges.

At the time of the escape, Hearn was serving two 15 year sentences on burglary charges. He had been in Snyder for a fact finding hearing being conducted in the 132nd District Court on behalf of the Texas Court of Criminal Appeals.

His appeal had just been denied when the pair went

Q.—What effect would legalized liquor sales have on the taxes in the Hermleigh School District?

A.—It would depend on how much building and improvements to property in the district would result from the election. Any new buildings, of course, would go on the tax roll, but nobody could project how many there would be.

Federal Government Should Pay

AUSTIN, Texas (AP) — Texas officials say they may sue the federal government if Congress does not reimburse the state for the cost of educating illegal alien children.

Gov. Bill Clements said Thursday that Texas would ask Congress to pay the estimated $62.5 million tab for educating the state's illegal alien students, and may go to court if the government refuses.

Clements, Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, Texas Education Agency Commissioner Raymon Bynum and other state officials met Thursday to discuss the state's response to a U.S. Supreme Court ruling that illegal alien children are entitled to a free public education.

"We are now spending about $62.5 million a year, so that's the amount we think Texas taxpayers are entitled to be relieved of," said Hobby, "because immigration is a federal matter and not under state control."

Hobby said there was "ample precedent" for the state's request, since the federal government now reimburses states for educating Vietnamese and Cuban refugee students.

The prevailing Supreme Court justices in last week's 5-4 decision advocated federal aid, Hobby said.

"This is no new situation," Clements said.

He said the state paid to educate illegal alien children until such expenditures were specifically outlawed in 1975 by the Legislature.

Hobby said the TEA's "best estimate" of the number of illegal alien students currently in Texas is about 25,000, with increases projected at 5,000 a year. Bynum called the figures "conservative."

The state spends approximately $2,500 per illegal alien student per year. Illegal aliens "high cost" students needing bilingual education and other programs, Bynum said.

Since the state cannot legally ask the immigration status of students enrolling in public schools, estimates are not always accurate, officials said.

Clements said the state would ask for the money "on an impact basis."

"Impacting by the federal government is not a new idea in the area of education," he said. "The Department of Defense and other federal departments have done this for many, many years. So we have a good case to make and we think this represents a real possibility."

"I would emphasize that I don't think any are overly optimistic," Clements said.

Hobby said he,

Clements, Attorney General Mark White and House Speaker Bill Clayton would send a joint letter to the Texas congressional delegation and to federal officials requesting the funding.

Clements said he also planned to talk to governors of other border states to ask for their support.

Woman Thought She Won Contest

PAMPA, Texas (AP) — When Ella Blair spelled "HOMERUN" with letters inside Coca Cola caps, she thought she had the answer to some of her financial problems.

Instead, the contest solution has spelled nothing but frustration for Ms. Blair, an unemployed bakery worker in this Panhandle town.

With her winning caps in hand, Ms. Blair asked Coca Cola for the $2,000 contest prize. But the Lubbock Coca Cola Bottling Co. wouldn't pay because six of the caps came from Amarillo and the Amarillo bottling company wouldn't pay because one of the caps came from Lubbock.

Ms. Blair thought she beat million-to-one odds when she found a cap in her driveway with the valuable letter R beneath the cap liner. But the fine print in the contest rules does not allow mixing caps from different bottlers.

"I knew there was some catch," said Ms. Blair, who had planned to buy furniture and make repairs to her house with the prize money.

"We are not liable for caps from other areas," said Dean Pearson, manager of the Coca Cola Bottling Co. in Amarillo.

"I can't break the rules to pay $2,000," said Gene Roberts, manager of the Coca Cola Bottling Co. in Lubbock.

Roberts said his Lubbock plant would pay Ms. Blair the prize money if all caps bear the Lubbock plant's stamp.

So Ms. Blair's son said he plans to take the R to Lubbock next week, buy a few cases of Coke and find the other letters.

Francis Helms, the Coca Cola executive in Atlanta in charge of promotions, said this is not the first problem Coke has had with its latest promotion.

A printing error in Cookeville, Tenn. in March resulted in too many Rs in circulation, but the bottler there paid off $100,000 to 50 $2,000-winners even though the rules protect bottlers from printing errors.

Princess Anne Returns Home

HOUSTON (AP) — Princess Anne has flown home to London, ending a nine-day U.S. trip during which she was accused of being jealous of her infant nephew, heir to the throne of England.

"I should think she'll want to rest," said

Richard Tallboy, British consul general, late Thursday. "She's had a very interesting nine days. She's really had a very good visit."

The British consulate was forced to defend Queen Elizabeth's 31-year-old daughter for her responses to questions about the newborn son of her brother, Prince Charles, and his wife, Princess Diana.

Braniff Workers Trying New Jobs

CARROLLTON, Texas (AP) — Bil and Susan Compton can no longer fly to San Francisco for dinner, and they use their Cadillac to look for work mowing lawns and cleaning dead cockroaches from kitchen cupboards.

The former Braniff International ticket agents saw their income drop from $4,000 a month to nothing when the airline shutdown May 12. And they say $600 apiece in unemployment benefits is not enough.

So the couple that used to enjoy the good times of flying to San Francisco for crabmeat on Fisherman's Wharf now face hard times with Bil and Susan's Cleaning and Lawn Service.

"We were looking for quick money," Mrs. Compton said. "It had been five weeks since we had a paycheck. So we got in our Cadillac and drove over to Bent Tree and looked for yards that needed mowing."

"Basically we're doing this because there are no jobs," said Compton.

They said they tried to find work through a job fair and a task force set up to help former Braniff employees. But all of the jobs were sales or fast food and "even McDonald's requires a college degree," said Compton.

Compton, 47, worked for Braniff for 26½ years. Before that, he worked as a flight attendant for the Air Force on VIP flights.

"All he knows is writing tickets," Susan said.

But after the airline collapsed, he turned to mowing waist-high grass while Susan cleans dead cockroaches from kitchen cupboards, she said.

The Comptons hope their lawn and cleaning business is thriving by the time their unemployment checks run out six months from now.

Mrs. Compton, 35, considered trying to get a job as a secretary in Dallas, but she didn't have any office clothes after wearing a Braniff uniform for 14 years.

Americans have been mobilizing demonstrations "against nuclear war." God knows nobody wants nuclear war; what in the world is the purpose of demonstrations against it.

Yet, the largest mass protest in New York history was mounted by ban-the-bomb marchers.

And there have been similar protests in Europe and efforts to protest even in the U.S.S.R.

The latter is evidenced by the fact that Soviet President Brezhnev proclaimed his willingness unilaterally and immediately to renounce first-strike use of nuclear weapons.

Through his foreign minister he said the Soviets would "never be the first to use the A-bomb."

Trick or treat?

Can Soviet President Brezhnev be trusted?

In 1920 the Soviets solemnly signed a treaty with the then independent Georgian Republic pledging non-interference. Less than a year later the Soviets invaded and took over that country.

Similarly, the Soviets have completed and then ignored treaties with Czechoslovakia, Lithuania, Estonia, Latvia, Romania — and more recently Poland and Afghanistan.

The Soviets have already violated in 1973 Limited Test Ban Treaty for nuclear weapons and the 1974 Threshold Test Ban Treaty.

Despite a 1962 agreement with our country, the Soviets have stationed offensive forces in Cuba.

They have violated the Anti-Ballistic Missile Treaty six times and the SALT I Interim Agreement 11 times.

They have ignored the 1925 Geneva Protocol and the 1972 Biological Weapons Convention.

With chemical warfare, the Soviets have killed thousands in Afghanistan, Laos, Kampuchea.

No treaty is worth any more than the honor of its signatories.

And a further consideration, apparently ignored by the anti-nuke, ban-the-bomb protestors is that even if the Soviets could be trusted...

Obviously, they cannot be...

But even if they could be trusted to destroy all nuclear weaponry, then our nation's tiny six percent of the planet's population would be bear meat.

There is no way American mothers can produce enough boy babies to match the limitless hordes of Asia in bayonet war.

Judging from Soviet conduct elsewhere, it might logically be assumed that the Red Army by now would have intimidated us into submission — were it not for the Sword of Damocles which hangs as heavily over their nation as over ours. Nobody wants nuclear war. That's good.

This awesome weapon may keep the bear treed until he learns some table manners. Nothing less would.

Largest Drug Bust Made

MELVILLE, N.Y. (AP) — Federal agents say the seizure of 610 pounds of cocaine valued at up to $30 million was the largest cocaine bust in the Northeast.

Four men armed with automatic weapons and hand grenades were arrested Wednesday by Drug Enforcement Administration agents after a plane bearing the cocaine landed at an airport on Long Island.

Arrested were Robert Humeston, 47, of Sayville, N.Y.; David Silbergeld, 45, of New York City; Brian Monaghan, 43, of New York City; and Fernando Alzate, 37, of Colombia.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Treat your resources respectfully today, or you're not likely to get value received for the dollars you spend. Be a looker, not a shopper.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22) Others may find you a little difficult to deal with today and hard to please. This could be because you, yourself, may not know what you really want.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) Take care today not to become involved romantically with someone who is not right for you, nor you for him or her. Trouble could result.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) Make-do with what you have today. Try not to borrow from friends. Also, be very careful if a pal tries to put the bite on you.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) Situations which start out today as merely a little friendly competition could turn into something far more serious if they are not handled properly.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19) Tasks left to the last minute or those which are begun with no definite plan in mind could turn out to be anything but successful today.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) At social gatherings today, stay close to the one you came with rather than wander off in search of greener pastures. Flirtations could backfire.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Things important to your mate today may not be important to you, or vice versa. If you hope to maintain harmony, find a mutual interest.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) You're a keen observer of others today, but you must guard against a tendency to blurt out unsolicited criticism. What you want to say may be taken wrong.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Subdue temptations to wager or gamble today. You might be lucky for a brief spell, but things could suddenly turn and you'd end up a loser.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Be extremely tactful and tolerant in your one-to-one relationships today, especially when dealing with your mate. These balances are very delicate.

Police Investigate Dognapping Incident

Snyder police are investigating one dognapping and an automobile burglary reported Thursday.

Mrs. Freeman with the Deep Creek Pet Shop called police and reported the theft of a 2 month old black male Chow. The burglar broke a window to gain entry to the store sometime Wednesday night. The missing dog is valued at $200.

Guy Allen called police around noon Thursday and reported the theft of an 8-track tape player valued at $170. The AM-FM tape player disappeared from a 1969 Chevrolet pickup parked at Guy Allen Motors sometime Wednesday day night.

Andy Kellner, with Mal Donelson Chevrolet called police at 7:30 Thursday morning and reported the theft of a 1981 Chevrolet pickup from that business.

Local police received a teletype message from the New Mexico State Police at Socorro around 5:40 p.m. telling them that they had recovered the missing truck and had a 26 year old man in custody for the theft.

The suspect will be returned to Snyder to face felony charges in the incident.

Method To Be Changed

SPRINGFIELD, Ill. (AP) — A bill on the desk of Gov. James R. Thompson would change the official mode of execution in Illinois from electrocution to lethal injection.

The House approved the change Thursday by 91-73 vote, following the Senate's 50-3 vote Monday. There was no indication whether Thompson would sign or veto the measure, which calls for the use of fast-acting barbiturates.

Snyder Leagues

June 24, 1982
FARM LEAGUE
Indians 7, White Sox 6

The Indians rapped out four doubles and four singles to defeat the White Sox last evening. Mark Kuss, Gary Gunset, Tony Hernandez and Billy Nix knocked a double each while Ross Bruns, Jimmy Rankin, Daniel Ramey and winning pitcher Walter Meetze hit a single apiece.

For the White Sox, Wes Dixon and pitcher Dan Scanicchio powered a double each and Brad Blair, Cory Pace and B.J. Claxton knocked a single.

Blair had an unassisted double play in the losing cause.

LITTLE LEAGUE
Indians 6, White Sox 2

Johnny Ray Ward slapped a home run and a single offensively and allowed only two-hit ball from the pitcher's mound as the Indians tagged the Sox yesterday.

Chad Welsh slapped a double and a single for the winners while Van Echols came up with two singles, Mark Garcia had a triple, and Darren McCowen added one single.

For the White Sox, Bert Otto and Jeff Franklin offered a single each. Shane McCarter took the loss.

Athletics 9, Cardinals 5

Skip Jones belted a home run and a triple and took winning pitcher honors as the A's defeated the Cardinals on Thursday. Teammates Jason West and Tommy Lane contributed two singles each while Danny Gambol added one single.

For the Cardinals, Harvey Guerrero, Terry Garza, Lee Fletcher, Dax Richard, John Griffin and pitcher John Pena hit a single apiece.

GIRL'S SOFTBALL
Rangerettes 14, Blue Angels 11

In a 33-hit ballgame, the Rangerettes overcame an 11-6 deficit in the seventh inning to defeat the Blue Angels last evening. Sophie Castillo slugged a triple and a single for the winners while Kammie McNew and winning pitcher Paula Caldwell rapped three singles apiece. Also hitting for the Rangerettes were Connie Ray, a double and a single; and Robbye Morales, Debbie Yandrich and Cindy Neves, a single apiece.

Hitting for the Angels were Sandra Powell, four singles; Chenell Reeves, a double and two singles; Susan White, three singles; Tracey Hicks and Sheila Martin, a double and a single each; Dana Gunset, two singles; and Mikki McBride and Pam Hardy, a single each.

Tomboys 25, Demons 18

Rebekah Powell cracked a triple and two singles and Dana Smith offered three singles as the West Texas Tomboys took care of the Demons yesterday. Christy Greene plugged two singles for the winners while Pam Batchelor, Tammie Wadkins, Shannon Fletcher and winning pitcher Teri Henry, a single apiece.

Monica Hincjos led the Demons with a triple and a single while Stacey Owens, Christy Quintella and Josie Hernandez hit a single apiece.

Rotan 17, Crushers 16

Shelly Hayes led a 12-hit charge to aid Rotan past Snyder's Crushers here last night. Haynes rapped a home run and two singles. Nita Hernandez added a double and two singles.

For Snyder, Denise Yandrich and Dora Hernandez slapped two doubles and two singles apiece while Wendy Hodge had a double and a single. Lisa McNew, Lisa Welch and Becky West powered a pair of singles each and Karen Doty added one.

Little Rascals 18, Jenkins' Angels 14

Diana Espinosa and winning pitcher Susan Harrison rapped a triple, a double and two singles apiece to power the Racscals to victory yesterday. Wendy Wadkins knocked a double and a single and Lezli Flower, Kellye Myers, Regina Romero and Felicia Perry knocked a single apiece.

For the Angels, Jennifer Pate slugged a double and two singles and Louise Cates had two singles. Jennifer Spence knocked one single.

June 22, 1982

GIRL'S SOFTBALL
Astros 27, Demons 23

Winning pitcher Yolanda Anderson slammed a home run and a triple to aid the Astros over the Demons on Tuesday. Pam Batchelor rapped two doubles and two singles to get four of the Astros 13 hits. Christie Valadez, Angela Smith and Chiva McKinley managed a double and a single each and Marcie Chrane popped one single.

Paula Caldwell hit a home run and a single for the Demons. Monica Hinojos came up with three singles and Cindy Martinez had two. Nicole Williams had a double and Melissa Hodge, Shawna Chrane and Alicia Valadez offered one single apiece.

Sweetwater 7, Snyder Seniors 6

Snyder led 6-2 going into the bottom of the seventh but some errors and three walks opened the doors for the Raiders of Sweetwater. Bunny Roe pitched 6½ innings for Snyder, giving up just three hits, no walks and four strikeouts before the Sweetwater rally.

Snyder got three doubles from losing pitcher Susie W. Lee and two doubles from Becky Hernandez. Roe came up with three singles and Andrea Hamilton, Johna Jackson, Paula Beuerlein, Teresa Smith and Debra Quintella hit two singles apiece. Von Dale Henry had one single.

Sweetwater got a single each from Sabra Collin, Tonya Harbor and winning pitcher Sandra Costillo.

Matlack Pulled But Not Before Cuffing Angels

ARLINGTON, Texas (AP) - Jon Matlack was breezing along against the Oakland A's with a three-hitter, the bases empty and one-out to go when a funny thing happened to a chance for his first complete-game victory of the year.

"I looked up and saw someone coming ... I figured it was the manager," Matlack said.

Indeed, Texas Ranger Don Zimmer arrived with the hook and called Danny Darwin out of the bullpen

Rib Injury

Delays Bout

BROCKTON, Mass. (AP) - A fractured rib will delay but not cancel middleweight champion Marvin Hagler's title defense against Fulgencio Obelmejias.

Promoter Bob Arum said Thursday he hoped for an Oct. 2 date for the fight, which originally was scheduled for July 15.

"I would hope that we'll be able to go right back to San Remo (Italy) for the Obel fight," Arum said.

Dr. Nishan Kechejian said Thursday a bone scan showed Hagler fractured a rib in a bout with a sparring partner and the injury would keep him out of boxing for two to three months.

Kechejian said the broken rib in Hagler's lower chest area would take at least eight weeks to heal.

Hagler injured his ribs Tuesday evening in a training session with Bobby Watts.

Hagler, who trains by choice in Provincetown, was taken first to Cape Cod Hospital Tuesday night, where doctors said initial tests indicated a possible cartilage injury.

But Kechejian ordered the bone scan X-rays after further examination Wednesday. He said the injury is where bone meets cartilage on the right side of the rib cage.

"I just want to fight," said Haigler.

Rogers Used Cocaine Too

by The Associated Press

George Rogers, the National Football League's leading rusher in 1981, reportedly is one of more than a dozen present and former members of the New Orleans Saints who have told federal investigators they bought cocaine from a former Saints running back or a convicted drug dealer.

Rogers spent more than $10,000 last season to buy cocaine, the New Orleans Times-Picayune, the States Item said Thursday in a copyright story. The newspaper quoted sources as saying Rogers told a federal grand jury he paid for cocaine with personal checks on several occasions.

The story identified the sources only as being familiar with the federal inquiry into cocaine use by Saints players. The newspaper quoted its sources as saying Rogers was one of more than a dozen present and former members of the Saints who have told investigators they bought cocaine from either Mike Strachan, a former New Orleans running back who has been indicted by a federal grand jury on cocaine-distribution charges, or Joselyn Bruno, who was convicted of conspiring to sell the drug.

The trial for Strachan, who faces a seven-count indictment involving cocaine dealing and conspiracy to sell cocaine, is to begin next Thursday.

NFL officials declined to comment on the article, but said they are cooperating "with the authorities connected with the grand jury."

In another development, columnist Jack Anderson said on ABC's "Good Morning America" Thursday that undercover federal narcotics agents have secretly infiltrated a narcotics ring operating inside the NFL.

He gave no other details except to say that a federal investigation is now focused on the Saints, and that an "official, confidential" list of suspects contains the names of Rogers, ex-Saints player Chuck Muncie, now with the San Diego Chargers; Saints quarterback David Wilson and Strachan.

Rogers, who was named winner of the 1980 Heisman Trophy at South Carolina as college football's top player, became the NFL Rookie-of-the-Year in 1981 after rushing for 1,674 yards.

He could not be reached for comment by the newspaper. Ed Holler, a business adviser and friend of Rogers', who was contacted in Columbia, S.C., told the newspaper he discussed the matter with Rogers and Rogers would have no comment.

Holler also told The Associated Press that neither he nor Rogers would comment on the matter.

In New York, Dick Maxwell, director of information for the NFL's National Conference, told the AP:

"We are aware of the story. As for the specific information in the article, we have no comment. We have cooperated with the authorities connected with the grand jury, and we will continue to cooperate with them."

Wade, Goolagong Fall As Competition Rises

WIMBLEDON, England (AP) - It was a day of the young defeating past champions here yesterday as Virginia Wade and Evonne Goolagong fell to youth.

Candy Reynolds, 25, went against the trend by upsetting fifth-seeded Hana Mandlikova, a 20-year-old Czech, 6-2, 3-6, 6-4, as did 27-year-old Joanne Russell, a 6-7, 6-3, 7-5 winner over No. 8 Mima Jausovec, 26, of Yugoslavia.

Virginia Wade, the 1977 champion, extended Marjorie Blackwood, Canada's No. 1-ranked woman, to 7-6, 7-5 before bowing out. Evonne Goolagong was ousted by Zina Garrison, an athletic 18-year-old from Houston who is being favorably compared to the young Billie Jean King.

Only two ranked women were scheduled to see action today, with top-seeded Martina Navratilova taking on Anne White and No. 7 Pam Shriver going against 15-year-old Kathy Rinaldi.

Meanwhile, the real Billie Jean King played her 100th singles match at the All-England Lawn Tennis and Croquet Club, scoring a 6-3, 6-2 victory over Claudia Pasquale of Switzerland.

Navratilova dispatched fellow American Beth Norton, 6-3, 6-3; third-seeded Tracy Austin stayed on the baseline and had to work before sending Alycia Moulton packing 6-4, 7-5; No. 4 Andrea Jaeger went the distance against South Korea's Duk Hee Lee 4-6, 6-4, 7-5; sixth-seeded Wendy Turnbull of Australia staved off Holland's Marcella Mesker 6-4, 7-6; No. 7 Pam Shriver defeated fellow American Kim Jones 6-1, 6-1, and No. 9 Sylvia Hanika of West Germany defeated American Paula Smith 6-2, 6-4.

The highest ranked men's player on today's card was No. 3 Vitas Gerulaitis, who took on New Zealander Bruce Derlin.

In other matches, Stan Smith, who upset ninth-seeded Andres Gomez of Ecuador in a first-round match, met Hank Pfister; Chip Hooper, who scalped No. 8 Peter McNamara in the opening round, played Russell Simpson; fifth-seeded Johan Kriek of South Africa faced West German Peter Elter and No. 6 Gene Mayer played Australian Brad Drewett.

Yesterday, Jimmy Connors got his first serious test from a resurgent John Alexander. Connors posted a 6-3, 4-6, 6-1, 7-6 win to join top-seeded John McEnroe in the third round.

No. 7 seeded Mats Wilander defeated Ndaka Odizor of Nigeria 7-6, 6-4, 6-0.

Twice during his career, Wilt Chamberlain made 18 consecutive field goals in a basketball game.

In a game against Seattle, played in Boston, Chamberlain, then with Philadelphia, missed 22 free throws.

In the 1961-62 NBA season, Chamberlain of Philadelphia, had a record scoring average of 50.4.

SAUCE TARTARE

As it is often made by French Canadians.

1 cup mayonnaise, preferably homemade
1 tablespoon finely chopped capers
1 tablespoon finely chopped pimiento-stuffed green olives
1 tablespoon finely chopped cornichons (unsweetened pickled gherkins)
1 tablespoon minced parsley

Just before serving, stir together all the ingredients. Or mix ahead and store, tightly covered, in the refrigerator. Makes 1 1/4 cups.

Receive Doctoral Degrees Together

NEW YORK (AP) — Evelyn and Paul Moschetta, who both received doctoral degrees in June from Yeshiva University's Wurzweiler School of Social Work, claim that working toward the same goal was good for their marriage.

"If only one marriage partner is immersed in fulfilling the extraordinary demands of a doctoral program, the other would have to be a saint to put up with it," said Moschetta. "Whereas, if you're in it together, each understands and empathizes with the other's problems and pressures."

"The intellectual benefits of sharing ideas, of using each other as a sounding board, are enormously rewarding," said Mrs. Moschetta. "But," she added, and her husband agreed, "you have to have a good marriage to do it. Then the goal becomes a commitment, not only to yourself, but to your partner as well."

It is a second marriage for both the Moschettas, who met while they were studying for their master of social work degrees at Adelphi University. After graduating in 1972, they went into private practice, specializing in marriage counseling.

The Bay Shore, L.I., couple feel their marriage has stood the test of time and stress, and see it as a living example of a "vital marriage," the subject of Mrs. Moschetta's dissertation. Mrs. Moschetta, who is a Holocaust survivor, explored the "expressions of caring" between the partners in 25 "vital-total marriages," so identified by clergy who agreed to assist in the search for research subjects.

Moschetta's dissertation endeavored to discover which factors contributed to the differing therapeutic approaches utilized by different therapists.

HERMLEIGH NEWS

By ADALA DRENNAN

HERMLEIGH—Mrs. Ota Groves accompanied her brother, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. (Dub) Spykes, to Little Rock, Ark. recently where they attended an electric co-op conference. Mr. Spykes is manager of the co-op in Pearsall.

Guests last week of the Lloyd Reeves were his grandchildren, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Reeves, from Magnolia, Ark.

Mrs. Marva Allen returned Sunday from Wright, Wyoming, where she spent a month with her husband who is with Brown and Root Construction Co. there. While there she visited Mt. Rushmore and Devil's Tower.

Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Cornett of Snyder, Mrs. Norma Soules, and Christie and Donnie Lloyd of Farmersville were guests of Mrs. Raymond Lloyd Saturday afternoon.

Father's Day guests of Mr. and Mrs. Mack Warren were Mrs. Martha McCoy of Churchtown, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Ted Williams of Post; Mr. and Mrs. Bill Glass of Odessa; Mr. and Mrs. Bubba Warren of Midland; Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Buchanan, Sheila and Angie of Snyder; Mr. and Mrs. Mike Shaw and children of San Angelo; Mrs. Steve Cooper and boys of Post; Mrs. Dub (Joy) Wright; and Mrs. Ray (Nell) Wright.

Mrs. Ben Nachlinger and Mrs. Louise Vest joined a group of senior citizens at Snyder on a tour of fourteen states by chartered bus. In one day they had breakfast in Monroe, La., took a break in Jacksonville, Miss.; had lunch in Birmingham, Ala.; and supper in Chattanooga, Tenn. While in Nashville they visited Opry Land and took a three hour tour of celebrity's homes.

They took a train ride which is the world's steepest inclined railway in Tennessee and spent the night on houseboats on the Tennessee River across from the World's Fair. From there they saw Boone Tavern which is in the foothills of the Cumberland Mountains in Beren, Ky. They saw the Big Red Mile Race Track and the trotters and pacers after which they toured Shakers Village at Pleasant Hill, Ky.

The group enjoyed a tour of the Mississippi River as well as viewing Niagara Falls, N.Y. and crossing into Canada. While in Detroit, Mich., they enjoyed seeing the Ford Museum.

Other states not mentioned were Louisiana, Ohio, Georgia, Indiana, Pennsylvania, and North Carolina. The group of 47 senior citizens traveled 545 miles in two weeks.

Guests of Mr. and Mrs. Osman Jackson were their grandchildren, Renea and Matt Jackson, of Childress and their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Don (Twila) Williams, Jackie and Dona of Lubbock.

To keep apples looking appetizing for display on a fruit tray or in a fruit salad, dip the freshly-sliced pieces in lemon juice.

mother; Mrs. Bert Herley, her mother; the honoree; Mrs. Jackie Pylant, mother of the prospective groom; and Mrs. Ruby Reese, his grandmother. The couple will be married July 3 in the bride's home. (SDN Staff Photo)

Back in the '30s, Bridge World magazine devoted one page or so a month to experts at their best and worst. Here is a hand from a 1987 IMP match in England that certainly shows them at their worst.

The bidding in the box occurred at table one. North's bid of three hearts was supposed to say to South, "I can stop hearts. If you can stop clubs, then bid three no-trump."

South complied and while the defense was not perfect, it did take five tricks for a one-trick set.

We can't see why North thought of no-trump. He should have insisted on diamonds and reached either five or six. Six depends on a spade finesse which is on for declarer.

At the other table, East did not bid over the double. South elected to pass and West managed to scramble seven tricks for his contract.

Jeremy Flint, who reported the hand in his 1970 book called "Tiger Bridge," blames both North players for doubling instead of just overcalling with one diamond. We agree that a diamond overcall is superior action with the North hand and would surely lead to a five- or six-diamond contract. But we feel that this time the double should have worked also.

High-Living Stepson Is Strictly Low-Rent

By Abigail Van Buren
© 1982 by Universal Press Syndicate

DEAR ABBY: My wife and I are 62 and 63 and just retired. This is a second marriage for both of us. Her 24-year-old son by a previous marriage is living with us. He has a good job, but he likes to live high. He has a $35,000 sports car, a $1,200 health spa membership and plenty of money for ski trips, but he can't pay his mother the $25 a week he agreed to pay her for living at home, getting meals when he wants them and all his laundry done. My wife even has to pay his telephone bills.

This was bad enough, but when she had to pay his income taxes, I hit the ceiling!

I say this irresponsible young man should be put out on his own. He's had several chances to move in with friends and share expenses, but he doesn't budge. My wife and I would get along perfectly if it weren't for him. He is the only thing we ever argue about.

I finally blew up and told my wife that either her son moves out, or I will. Am I wrong?

UP TO HERE

DEAR UP: You're "wrong" only if you're not prepared to back your play. Moral: Never issue an ultimatum unless you're prepared to follow through.

DEAR ABBY: A few years ago my husband, whom I loved very much, left me for another woman. I was heartbroken. I had a dear friend who was very supportive of me when I was going through this, but in my deep grief I couldn't stand to see her so happily married, so I told her that her husband had somebody else, too.

I'm sure she didn't believe me, but she didn't get mad at me, and it was never mentioned again. However, after that we drifted apart, and now we rarely see each other unless we meet accidentally on the street or in a store.

I am now happily married to a fine man and the lie I told keeps bothering me. I miss the friendship we used to have.

This is really getting to me. Should I break down and tell her the truth? Or just try to start the friendship all over again and not mention it?

SORRY

DEAR SORRY: If you want to revive the friendship, tell her the truth, apologize and clear the air.

***

DEAR ABBY: Are your familiar with the enclosed piece? I think it's beautiful and have been trying to find out who wrote it, but have had no success.

I hope you not only think it's worth sharing with your readers, but will help me find the author.

MARIE V. IN TACOMA

DEAR MARIE: I have heard portions of it quoted, but don't know who wrote it. Will the author please come forward? Please, only the author. (Whenever I publish something and ask who wrote it, at least a dozen people claim authorship.)

ON YOUTH

"Youth is not entirely a time of life — it is a state of mind. It is not wholly a matter of ripe cheeks, red lips or supple knees. It is a temper of will, a quality of the imagination, a vigor of the emotions.

"Nobody grows old by merely living a number of years. People grow old only by deserting their ideals. You are as young as your faith, as old as your doubt; as young as your self-confidence, as old as your fears; as young as your hope, as old as your despair.

"In the central place of every heart, there is a recording chamber; so long as it receives messages of beauty, hope, cheer and courage, you are young.

"When the wires are all down and your heart is covered with the snows of pessimism and the ice of cynicism, then and then only have you grown old."

Do you hate to write letters because you don't know what to say? Thank-you notes, sympathy letters, congratulations, how to decline and accept invitations and how to write an interesting letter are included in Abby's booklet, "How to Write Letters for All Occasions." ## ERA Supporters Say Campaign A Success

WASHINGTON (AP) — Even though the fight to ratify the Equal Rights Amendment has failed, a leading supporter says the decade-long campaign has changed the nation.

"We have raised the consciousness of the nation about women," said Sonia Johnson on her return from Illinois where she had fasted for 37 days to demonstrate support for the ERA.

Ms. Johnson, who was excommunicated from the Mormon Church for her involvement in the ERA campaign, arrived at National Airport Thursday with Sister Maureen Fiedler of Washington and Mary Barnes of Raleigh, N.C.

The three women were among seven who participated in the Illinois fast.

Ms. Johnson of Sterling, Va., said the ERA effort "has revolutionized this country ... hundreds of thousands of women have been politicized."

During a 10-year lobbying campaign, only 35 of the needed 38 states have ratified the amendment. The deadline is June 30.

The National Organization for Women, the backbone of the ERA campaign, announced Thursday that it was shifting its focus in the fight for women's rights.

Oliver Cromwell captured Drogheda, Ireland, in 1649 and executed the entire garrison of more than 3,000 men.

Jaycees, Jayceettes... Organizations Name Officers

Snyder Jaycees and Jayceettes installed new officers in joint ceremonies held at an informal barbecue.

Incoming officers for the Jaycees are Wayne Nobles, president; Joe LaRoux, internal vice president; Lynn Smith, external vice president; Robert Pinkston, secretary and state director; Gary Conway, treasurer; Leon Franks, district director; and local directors Sam Tuggle, Bobby Hataway, Andrew Ramirez and Joel Wetmore.

Jayceette officers are Jennifer Brown, president; Glenda Powell, vice president; Nancy LaRoux, state director; Belya LaRoux, secretary treasurer; and local directors Helen Richardson and Nina Earles.

SENIOR SERVICE AWARD—Snyder Jaycees honored Jack McGlaun with a distinguished service award for his service to the community. Making the presentation at a recent barbecue and officer installation ceremony was Robert Pinkston.

Fallout May Hurt U.S. Japanese Ties

TOKYO (AP) — Japanese press reports today criticized the United States' use of undercover FBI agents to nab employees of two of Japan's largest electronics firms in the "computerscam" industrial espionage case.

The scandal, involving the Hitachi and Mitsubishi electronics giants, broke Tuesday when the FBI arrested seven Japanese and two Americans in California and issued warrants for 12 more Japanese.

They were accused in an operation involving the purchase of computer secrets stolen from International Business Machines Corp., America's largest computer-maker.

"Computerscam" shocked the business community here, sent Hitachi stock plummeting on the Tokyo stock market, and led many Japanese to fear an escalation of trade friction with the United States, still bristling over an $18 billion trade deficit with Japan last year.

Fatherhood Slows Down The Prince

LONDON (AP) — Fatherhood made Prince Charles late for a royal appointment, where his subjects presented him with a 1901 feeding bottle, a knitted doll and two tubes of diaper rash cream.

They were gifts from the management and staff of a pharmaceutical factory he opened Thursday in southeast London.

A crowd carrying signs that read "Welcome Dad," greeted Charles on his first public engagement since the birth Monday night of Britain's blond, blue-eyed heir apparent.

The Prince of Wales apologized for keeping his public waiting 20 minutes for his arrival — a rare occurrence on royal visits, which are usually timed to the split second.

"I had one or two things to contend with — which, I may say, I am delighted to contend with," he said.

British reporters immediately took this to mean Charles is giving Princess Diana and nurse Anne Wallace a hand in changing the baby's diapers. Buckingham Palace said only: "You'll have to put your own interpretation on it."

Like any proud father, Charles couldn't seem to stop talking about his child, who has yet to be named.

"The birth of our son has given us both more pleasure than you can imagine," the prince said. "It has made me incredibly proud and somewhat amazed."

The baby is second in line to the British throne after his 33-year-old father, who was present at the delivery.

The infant and his mother, who will be 21 on July 1, remained out of sight behind the doors of Kensington Palace, where Diana and Charles make their London home.

DAVID HOUSTON

When David Houston recorded a song called "Almost Persuaded," it immediately went to the top of the national charts in the United States and Canada, also the European countries. It captured two grammy awards. But this was only the beginning for David Houston. Then came eighteen number one country hits! David has also had number one country duets, "After Closing Time" with Barbara Mandrell and "My Elusive Dreams" with Tammy Wynette.

In July of 1981 David Houston hit the national charts with "Texas Ida Red." This record attracted the attention of David Stallings and he signed David to record for Delta Records. David Houston's first Album for Delta is "Texas Honky Tonk" which is also the title of his brand new single written by David and his manager Tillman Franks.

This great album also contains vocal versions of "Cotton Eyed Joe," "Put Your Little Foot" and features Johnny Gimble on the fiddle. This album contains some of the songs David has always wanted to record such as "Fraulien," "You Done Me Wrong," "Rye Whiskey" and "Wild Side of Life." It also contains his great classic "Almost Persuaded."

The David Houston Show features Country Music's best singing with a Texas dance beat. The entire show is fast paced designed to appeal to the young fans as well as to the traditional Country Music fans.

Democrats...

To Open Conference

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Big name Democrats are polishing up the anti-Reagan rhetoric as they ready the opening of a three-day party conference that gives a half-dozen would-be presidents a chance to seize the spotlight.

"The bankruptcies, the unemployment, the pain we are suffering in America is something we think should be changed and changed directly," party Chairman Charles T. Manatt declared at a news conference, getting in his licks against President Reagan before others take over at today's opening session of the mid-term conference.

"We Democrats do not believe that an ideology that provides less jobs, high interest rates, social insecurity and the highest number of bankruptcies since the Great Depression is one we should support," the party leader said.

Even before the session opened, Manatt and others stressed the party was unified in opposition to the president.

"We are together on the essentials. We agree on 95 percent or more of the issues," said the Rev. Robert Drinan, the former House member who leads the liberal Americans for Democratic Action. "The Reagan administration is a disaster for this nation."

Amidst the anti-Reagan activity, GOP Chairman Richard Richards called a news conference in the Democratic convention city to defend the president and assert "the average American is better off today" than before Reagan took office.

Richards aside, though, there were indications of discord bubbling just below the surface among the Democrats.

Rep. Gus Savage, D-Ill., complained that a Reagan-backed budget mandating billions of dollars in cuts from social programs was able to pass Congress this week only with Democratic help.

While the party chairman was talking to reporters and chairing a meeting of the full Democratic National Committee, the unannounced presidential hopefuls spent their day at private meetings, news conferences and campaign-style public events.

Former Vice President Walter F. Mondale met with unemployed automotive workers, rode a subway and attended a fund-raising luncheon for Rep. Bob Edgar, D-Pa., while his campaign aides distributed an ample supply of red and white "Mondale 1984" campaign buttons. "Be sure to vote for me on straw ballot," he later told several hundred people at a reception.

Sen. John Glenn, D-Ohio, called a news conference, the first of several he has planned, and said he hasn't decided yet whether to run for president in 1984. "I'm keeping my options open," he said in the time-honored phrase of a man who wants to run for president.

Sen. Gary Hart, D-Colo., met with reporters, insisting it was "too early for me or anybody else to be arguing our case" for the White House.

Sens. Alan Cranston of California, Ernest Hollings of South Carolina and Edward M. Kennedy of Massachusetts also were in Philadelphia pondering presidential candidacies.

Argentina's Bignone Promises Freedom

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina (AP) — President-designate Gen. Reynaldo Bignone, in an unprecedented meeting with Argentina's civilian political leaders, promised to lift a ban on political activity next month and hold elections by 1984.

"I am satisfied," the retired army general said after the four-hour private meeting Thursday with the heads of 13 nationally recognized political parties.

The leader of Argentina's second-largest party said Bignone's suggested election date was too late because his government could fall before then.

"The military junta is disintegrating, which is a matter of concern because it deprives the nation of stability," said Carlos Contin, head of the Radical Union.

Deolindo Bittel, leader of Argentina's largest party, the Peronists, said there should be elections "within the shortest time possible." Earlier Thursday the Peronists signed a labor union-backed document favoring July 31, 1983, as election day.

Bignone, 54, invited the party leaders to meet with him Thursday afternoon in the Congress Building, which has been used only for ceremonies since the legislature was disbanded following the 1976 military coup that ousted President Isabel Peron.

The meeting was seen as a good-will gesture by Bignone, who was chosen by the army Tuesday to be Argentina's new president.

Bignone's selection prompted the navy and air force to give up their seats on the three service branch junta and withdraw from the day-to-day running of the government. They opposed naming another army general to replace President Leopoldo Galtieri, ousted last week following Argentina's defeat by the British in the undeclared Falkland Islands war.

Gospel Music Set Here

The Sparkle City Lions Club is sponsoring a concert, talent contest and gospel music beginning at 7 p.m. June 29 in Scurry County Coliseum. The talent contest will kick off the evening's festivities followed by gospel music.

Special guests will be the Brashear Family of Russellville, Ark. and the Crystal River Quartet of Lubbock.

To enter the talent contest call 573-6515 or Don Cheek host of the gospel music show on Sunday mornings on radio station KSNY.

Proceeds will be used for the Kerrville Crippled Children's Camp and the eye bank program.

The camp is open to children ages 7-16 who have a visual, hearing or physical handicap, and is operated free of charge to parents of these children.

The Brashear Family began its gospel ministry in 1972 and have traveled extensively throughout the U.S. and Canada. They have won many titles including Favorite Mixed Group of 1981, and they presently host the Dixie Land Gospel Quartet Convention in Russellville. In February of this year, the Russellville mayor proclaimed them goodwill ambassadors for the city.

The Crystal River Quartet has toured from the east to the west and have been featured on the PTL Club in North Carolina and also the Western Deserts Gospel Singing in Victorville, Calif.

The group is composed of four brothers.

HEALTH

Lawrence E. Lamb, M.D.

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

DEAR DR. LAMB — Exactly how dangerous is aspirin? Recently I got into a conversation with another woman while sunning at a local beach. She said when her hubby walked out on her a month earlier she tried to kill herself by taking a half-filled large bottle of aspirin before going to bed. She said she woke up an hour later than usual the next morning with a groggy head and some pain in the stomach and that was all.

I have mentioned this to a couple of friends later and they said they always take more than the prescribed amount of aspirin for their headaches.

I have always stuck to the two aspirin every four hours regardless of pain, because I thought there was real danger otherwise. How much is safe? Is the only harm from aspirin to the stomach lining? Does the same apply to mixtures such as Excedrin?

DEAR READER — I strongly disapprove of taking more than recommended of any medicines — whether those you can buy without a prescription or those prescribed by your physician. Recommended dosages are set to keep you out of trouble. They are based on a lot of careful research. More of a non-prescription medicine should be taken only when recommended by a doctor. To use an example, consider how many people get into trouble with non-prescribed sleeping preparations.

Now, aspirin is fairly safe but not totally innocuous. To give you an idea of the different reactions, death in adults has been caused by as little as 10 to 30 grams. Most aspirin tablets contain 325 mg (five grains) or about a third of a gram. As much as 130 grams has been ingested without causing death. Some people are particularly sensitive to aspirin.

In addition to digestive problems and bleeding, aspirin can cause ringing of the ears and serious chemical derangements. The latter is particularly apt to occur in children.

Yes, the aspirin in Excedrin and other preparations has the same effect. A list of common medicines containing aspirin is included in The Health Letter number 8-8, Aspirin and Related Medicines, which I am sending you. Others who want this issue can send 75 cents with a long, stamped, self-addressed envelope for it to me, in care of this newspaper, P.O. Box 1551, Radio City Station, New York, NY 10019.

DEAR DR. LAMB — My problem is I take cold easily if I get in a draft, or exposed to cold.

Yesterday I talked to a woman 90 years old in good health and of sound mind. She says to keep from taking a cold she takes a half teaspoon of baking soda in a glass of water every morning and this keeps her from catching a cold.

Before I starting to do this, I thought I would write for your opinion.

DEAR READER — A half teaspoon of baking soda is not likely to do you any good or do you any harm. If you took more on a regular basis it could be harmful since it is completely absorbed. When used with lots of milk you can develop calcium deposits in soft tissues.

Colds are contagious diseases caused by organisms and are not from cold exposure. Your resistance may be lower than other people's. Air conditioners are often contaminated with fungi. The spores are circulated in the air and cause respiratory illnesses that resemble colds. Allergic responses are also sometimes confused with colds.
