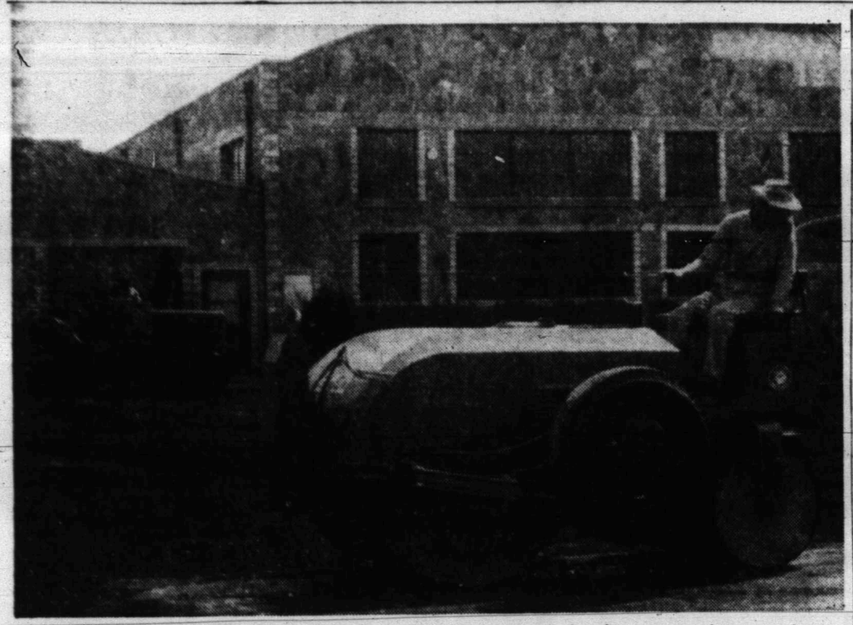
Quemoy Defense Mapped As Bombarding Endures



SCHOOL JOB RUSHED—Men and machines are pictured above as they worked frantically yesterday afternoon to complete improvements to Snyder Junior High School in time for use when school opens Tuesday. Aid Granted To Improve Sewer Farm

A $10,000 federal aid grant has been made to the city of Snyder for expansion of city sewer farm facilities here, Roy Dunlap, city manager, said yesterday.

News of government approval of Snyder's application for the funds came in a telegram from George Mahon, U. S. representative, to the city.

The expansion to the sewer treatment facilities include construction of several earthen ponds for storage and sedimentation of sewage plant effluent.

The funds are made available through the Texas Department of Public Health, which approves such improvements as enhancement to public health facilities.

The federal government pays one-third of the cost of approved projects of this type, Dunlap said, and the $10,000 represents the government's share of the cost of this improvement.

Actually there are to be seven oxidation ponds covering a total of 23 acres of land, and the effluent will be 30 inches deep in the ponds. They will be stocked with fish to eat mosquito lavre and other harmful insects.

KEEPS LEGISLATURE ON CALL—Gov. Orval Faubus signs a resolution extending the emergency session of the legislature, a move to keep anti-integration legislatio naway from court attack. If the session ended, Faubus would have to sign the newly passed package into law within five days. Technically the session doesn't end until Jan. 10, just prior to the start of the regular session and the legislators planned to leave Little Rock and Faubus can sign the bills into law when he chooses. Chiang Talks To Brucker

By FORREST EDWARDS

TAIPEI, Formosa (AP) — Ranking U. S. and Nationalist Chinese strategists discussed the defense of Quemoy Saturday while Communist shore guns kept up a fitful pounding of the Nationalist bastion nudging the Red mainland.

It was the eighth day of an artillery war across five miles of water. The massive concentration of Communist fire on Quemoy and its satellite islands in Amoy Bay has convinced most U.S. military experts here that a Communist landing attempt is being prepared. The Red Chinese Army's Fukien command has broadcast an ultimatum to the Quemoy garrison to surrender or die.

If an invasion is tried it could lead to a war whose extent could not be foreseen.

The United States is not committed to help defend the little offshore islands. But President Eisenhower has authority from Congress to order American forces into action there if he regards that as necessary to the defense of Formosa.

U.S. Army Secretary Wilber M. Brucker and four-star Gen. Isaac D. White, Commander of U.S. Army forces in the Pacific, flew into Formosa in separate planes.

Brucker met for more than an hour with President Chiang Kai-shek, Gen. "Tiger" Wang Shuming, Nationalist chief of staff, U.S. Ambassador Everett Drumright and Rear Adm. Roland Smoot, chief of the U.S. Taiwan—Formosa—Defense Command.

White conferred with Nationalist and American military experts.

These high level talks will continue Sunday and Monday.

Peiping radio said the Red China Defense Ministry had ordered its shore guns to redouble the pounding of Quemoy and its outpost islands.

But the swish of island-bound shells was only sporadic Saturday. The firing tapered off at 2:30 a.m. after the Reds delivered more than 12,000 rounds in a 24-hour period, the Nationalist Defense Ministry said. From then until dark only about 400 shells were reported fired. The Communists lobbed over an occasional shell laden with propaganda leaflets.

The Nationalists claimed their Quemoy defenses were not dented. The Defense ministry said counterfire Friday destroyed 30 Red artillery positions on the mainland in two hours. This was the highest claim so far.

By Nationalist count, the Communists have hammered Quemoy and its outposts with more than 120,000 high explosive shells since last Saturday when they started the attack with a massive, two-hour, 41,000-round barrage.

Mussolini's Widow Observes Memorial

PREDAPPIO, Italy (AP)—With police keeping a wary lookout for possible trouble, the widow of Benito Mussolini Saturday observed the first anniversary of his public burial.

A Mass was said in his memory in the tiny chapel of Predappio Cemetery, where he is buried. His widow, Donna Rachele, their son, Romano, and other members of the family attended.

Ike's Integration View Hurts GOP Campaign

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Eisenhower apparently has added to the burden of Republican congressional candidates in 10 critical states with his go-slower views on racial integration.

Northern Democrats already have begun to picture Eisenhower as reluctant to cooperate in the fight on segregation because of his news conference remark Wednesday that he might have told friends privately he felt there ought to be slower integration in the schools.

These Democrats can be expected to give wide circulation in critical campaign areas such as New York, Michigan and California to the assertion of Roy Wilkins, executive secretary of the National Assn. for the Advancement of Colored People, that Eisenhower's statement was "incredible."

In these and other states where the Negro vote is regarded as important, if not actually critical, Eisenhower's statement is likely to be cited as indicating the Republican top command is only going through the motions on the integration issue.

In meeting this charge, Republican candidates thus far have only what many of them regard as an unsatisfactory explanation by White House press secretary James C. Hagerty. Hagerty insisted there is no divergence between the President's opinion and the Justice Department's action in the Little Rock case in the Supreme Court.

Solicitor General J. Lee Rankin argued before the court Thursday for immediate integration in Little Rock.

Some Republicans obviously had hoped Hagerty would explain the timing and circumstances of what they believed might have been only an offhand remark by the President.

In the absence of any such explanation, however, they lacked fresh ammunition to counter Democratic charges that the head of their party—with whom they are presumed to agree at least in principle—is dragging his feet on the integration issue.

The Republicans, of course, could cite Eisenhower's action in sending federal troops into Little Rock last year. But the President has insisted he acted then to uphold a court order and he has declined to commit himself on the Supreme Court's original school integration opinion.

Unless there are further developments this situation could make all-out support of the President by GOP candidates something of a liability in California, Indiana, Maryland, Michigan, New Jersey, New York, Ohio, Pennsylvania, West Virginia and Missouri.

Byrd Urges Integration Resistence

BERRYVILLE, Va. (AP)—Sen. Harry F. Byrd (D-Va) sounded a no surrender battle cry today in Virginia's fight against school integration.

At the same time, he said he hoped there wouldn't be any violence or riots as the state approaches the showdown stage in the school fight.

"Let our resistence be fortified by the belief that we are fighting to preserve the fundamental principles of our constitutional democracy," Byrd said.

Byrd, lashing out time after time against "the Warren court", said in a speech prepared for his annual apple orchard picnic that "We in Virginia face days of stress and strain, and the eyes of the world will be upon us."

"For just and proper reasons," he added, "the governor and the General Assembly of Virginia, carrying out the expressed will of our people after due deliberation, are refusing to obey an illegal decision of the Warren court."

Virginia officials have adopted Byrd's policy of massive resistance to the Supreme Court's 1954 decision declaring racially segregated public schools to be unconstitutional.

In his speech defending this policy, Byrd observed that the state legislature has voted authority to close any school which has mixed classes.

Virginia faces a showdown this fall with white schools in Norfolk, Charlottesville and Arlington County under court orders to admit Negro students next month.

Krush Acceptance Of Test Ban Seen As Positive Step

By ROY ESSOYAN

MOSCOW (AP) — Nikita Khrushchev's "yes, but" acceptance of the Western proposal to start negotiating an atomic test ban was regarded by Western diplomats in Moscow Saturday as a positive step toward final solution of the nuclear problem.

The Soviet Premier agreed to start talks Oct. 31. He suggested Geneva as the site. He added in effect, however, that Russia would make no guarantee it would not resume its own tests.

On this score, Khrushchev pointed to what he called Western delays in halting tests. He also indicated Russia would be free to resume testing if the talks showed signs of dragging.

But few Western diplomats felt the Soviet Union would put this threat into effect.

"Agreement on nuclear tests, according to all available evidence so far, is still one of its (Russia's) main projects," one diplomat said. The general opinion seems to be that negotiations will start on schedule unless there is a basic change in Soviet policy in the meantime.

It is generally accepted there has been a hardening of Soviet policy in its relations with the West over the past month. But few believe this will affect the Kremlin's repeatedly professed desire for a ban on nuclear tests and a release from the tremendous economic burden such tests entail.

The question of Communist China's role in any universal ban on nuclear tests, however, is a thorny problem that remains to be worked out.

Technical experts agreed at the Geneva meeting on ways to detect nuclear tests that widely scattered control posts are necessary.

SNYDER SPOTLIGHT

By WACIL McNAIR

Those who made the farm tour sponsored by the Snyder Chamber of Commerce last Thursday found general conditions greatly improved. Two consecutive years of relatively heavy rainfall following the big drought produced vegetation in amounts which this area hadn't seen for nearly a decade. Neither 1957 nor 1958 will go into the records books as an ideal year for farming, but both likely will rank above average.

• • •

Speaking of farming, Nolan von Roeder, who knows a thing or two about cotton, believes this year's crop may surprise some observers. Von Roeder made a tour of his own, concentrating his attention on cotton fields, early in the week. He said small stalks of cotton appeared to be fruiting as heavily as any he had ever observed.

"Some of this little cotton is going to turn out a good yield," he predicted.

Von Roeder said he was "fooled" by last year's cotton crop. The ultimate yield in the county was substantially higher than he expected.

The county has its budget hearing scheduled on a holiday this year, but history indicates that it will not result in any inconvenience to taxpayers. Few people turn out for such hearings—usually none. The hearing date was set on Labor Day when the equalization board session was delayed.

The equalization board hearing resulted in a cut in the tax rate from $1.17 to $1.11, but that is not likely to cause any significant changes in the county's operating budget. It is likely to decrease the year-end surplus, which in times past has been used to retire some of the bonded indebtedness ahead of schedule.

For a week now, Snyder area residents have had summer in the day time and fall at night. Temperatures have been in the 60s consistently during the early morning hours, while maximum readings during the days have been in the hight 90s or slightly about the century mark. The greatest contrast so far was a 41-degree range between Thursday's high and Friday morning's low. During that period the mercury meandered from 102 degrees to a chilly 61.

Road Death List Begins To Climb

Motorists swarmed to America's highways for the Labor Day weekend recreation Saturday and brought the inevitable rash of traffic accidents and fierce death.

However, the fatality toll mounted more slowly than an estimate several days ago by the National Safety Council that the three-day holiday would bring 420 traffic deaths.

A council spokesman said the death pace the first day of the weekend looked "encouraging compared with that of Labor Day a year ago when 95 deaths were reported the first 24 hours."

The current accident fatality survey began at 6 p.m. Friday and continues until midnight Monday—a period of 78 hours.

The three-day Labor Day weekend in 1957 took 445 lives in traffic. With 95 drownings and 96 deaths in miscellaneous accidents, the over all death toll was 636.

The record death toll, in 1951, was only 22 higher than last year's — 658. The record Labor Day weekend traffic toll of 461 also was set in 1951.

Normally on a late summer nonholiday weekend, the traffic death total is between 300 and 350. In a nonholiday weekend test survey Aug. 15-18, the Associated Press reported 300 traffic deaths.

In the period two weeks ago, there were 78 drownings and 94 deaths in miscellaneous other accidents, making an over all accident mortality of 472.

Texan Electrocuted On Navy Destroyer

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—An 18-year-old sailor from Texas was electrocuted Thursday while working on the boilers of the destroyer Sperry.

The Navy identified the man as Elvey Wayne Colbert, a fireman of Brashear, Tex.

A Navy spokesman called the death a "freak accident", and said a short circuit apparently developed in a portable electric light drop cord Colbert was using.

An investigation is being conducted by the Navy.

Hearing Tomorrow On County Budget

The county commissioners court will hold its annual budget hearing tomorrow and is expected to adopt the county budget for 1959.

The budget hearing is set for 10 a.m. in the commissioners courtroom, according to Edgar Taylor, county judge.

A tax rate of $1.11 per $100 valuation was set Friday by the county commissioners court after its equalization meeting, rather than the proposed $1.17 figure. The 1.11 rate is nine cents per $100 lower than this year's tax rate.

It will mean a total budget of $1,315,000, based on an estimated 96 per cent collection of the assessment.

County tax collections have been high during the past several years, running 99.07 per cent for 1957, 98.03 per cent for 1956, 99.17 per cent for 1955, 99.17 per cent for 1954, and 98.82 per cent for 1953.

The county budget is slightly lower than this year's $1,429,908.58, while it is higher than budget figures for the four years previous to that.

Taxes are scheduled to be assessed beginning Oct. 1. Geral G. Greene, county tax assesor-collector, said that his office will be forced to use extra help to get the tax rolls complete by that time, if it is possible. It usually takes nine weeks to complete the tax rolls, but the office has only a month now.

The new budget shows the general fund to be slightly less for 1959. The tax levy for airport operation was doubled, that for hospital operation doubled, and that for park operation increased slightly. Library operation is a new part of the budget. The straight general fund budget other than that for operation of various county institutions was almost cut in half.

In other operating costs, the jury fund was doubled, road and bridge fund increased only slightly, permanent improvement fund increased, and road and bridge special fund remained the same.

The budget for the interest and sinking fund decreased slightly, about three cents on the tax rate. Outstanding bonded debt of the county is $1,368,000, plus $375,000 authorized but not yet issued.

Probe Has TV Quiz Programs On Spot

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK (AP)—Some people have long suspected that some television quiz shows exert controls enabling contestants who capture the public fancy to win fabulous prizes.

Now a couple of disgruntled contestants on a couple of programs have lighted matches in television's gunpowder factory. People are running, yelling, pointing, hiding. Some deny that a match has been lighted. Others are trying to scratch matches themselves.

In the midst of the confusion, New York Dist. Atty. Frank S. Hogan, who is investigating at least four quiz shows as the result of complaints, reports that nothing has been uncovered thus far to warrant grand jury action.

An agent long associated with quiz shows probably puts a finger on the source of much of the chaos when he says:

"The public's notion of a fix is a good deal different from that of the producers of some quiz shows. They think of themselves as showmen who must put on a good show. Personally, I don't think their coaching of contestants extends to supplying answer to questions in any show I know of.

"But I do believe that many will do anything short of downright cheating to keep a popular contestant going."

The continued popularity of quiz shows appears to depend on whether the public continues to have faith in them. And this is why the current investigation has such explosive force in network television.

The quiz show business is a mainstay of commercial television in a financially bad year. There are now on the air — or coming, or going — about 25 shows representing a bankroll of almost as many million dollars. The prospect of public and sponsors losing interest in them makes the agencies and networks shudder.

The present trouble began when a stand-by contestant on Dotto filed a complaint with the New York district attorney's office charging the program with irregular practices. The program's sponsor, Colgate-Palmolive, after investigating, informed the producer-owner of Dotto that it washed its hands of the program. The CBS-TV and NBC-TV networks yanked the show from the air without notice.

The district attorney's office identified the complainant as a young part-time butler and bit actor named Edward Hilgemeier Jr., of New York, and announced extension of its inquiry to three other quiz shows.

Next, one newspaper after another, injected the name of Twenty-one, one of quizdom's biggest nighttime shows, into the picture. The New York World Telegram & Sun, which first identified Hilgemeier, quoted Herbert Stempel as saying he deliberately missed a question after winning more than $50,000 on Twenty-one. The winner was Charles van Doren who went on to win $129,000 on the show.

Van Doren, denying any hijinks, expressed shock and amazement. NBC-TV said it had investigated Stempel's charges more than a year ago and found them baseless. Lawyers for Barry & Enright, packagers of Twenty-one said they are instituting libel suits against the World-Telegram & Sun and the New York Journal American.

Later, Barry & Enright produced a statement signed by Stempel March 7, 1957, declaring he never received any help on his answers from anyone.

There seems to be a growing parade of disgruntled quiz show contestants to the district attorney's office and to the desks of some reporters. Some of them are crackpots. Others may be honest people with troubled consciences.

Whatever the ultimate upshot of these bizarre events, it isn't easy — in fact, it seems impossible at the moment — to discover the complete truth.

Tuesday Is Dollar Day In Snyder . . . Don't Miss It

OIL ROUNDUP

Data Gathered In 5-Mile-Deep Holes

HOUSTON (AP)—Drilling for oil nearly five miles below the earth's surface is a big gamble but each experiment offers a laboratory for testing equipment and material.

Industry leaders long have predicted that much of the nation's future oil supply will come from tremendous depths and that exploratory programs will depend on the development of equipment capable of probing such depths.

A test under way in West Oklahoma is attracting interest not only for its depth records but for trouble-free operations that rival tests at much shallower depths.

The No. 5 Rumberger test in the heart of the old Elk City Field this week reached a depth of 22,611 feet to become the third deepest hole ever drilled. If it reaches its projected depth of 24,000 feet it will be exceeded only by a West Texas wildcat that has reached a record 24,357 feet.

Shell Oil Co. began the Elk City test July 13, 1957.

Lacy Wall, the veteran drilling crew boss, says the depth is not the only factor that makes the Elk City test the outstanding project of his 39-year career.

"This has been the most trouble-free job I have ever worked on," said Wall, who started in the Burkburnett Field in 1919 at the age of 16.

The drilling contractors, Helmerich & Payne of Tulsa, also claim the 5 Rumberger is the straightest hole ever drilled below 20,000 feet. The deviation from vertical at 20,000 feet was only 170 feet. A Brantley feed control maintains constant weight on the drill bit, eliminating the inconsistencies of manual controls.

Shell designed the Elk City experiment to test geological formations beneath the hugh Anadarko Basin that long has produced oil from depths as great as 13,500 feet. The basin sprawls across West Oklahoma into the Texas Panhandle, Southeast Colorado, and South Kansas.

The initial objective was the Springer formation. When this sand failed to appear as expected at 17,500 feet, Shell boosted the projected depth to 22,500. The sand appeared at about 22,000 and the planned depth again was increased to 24,000 to permit through analysis of the formation.

The string of drill pipe now required at Elk City weighs over 300,000 pounds but Helmerich & Payne report the rig has required no repairs beyond normal replacement of expendable pump parts such as pistols and liners.

Units from U.S. Steel's oil well supply division provide over 2,000 horsepower for hoisting and 1,800 horsepower for pumping.

Beause of the tremendous loads involved, the rotary table is driven independently by a 250 horsepower engine.

Until Phillips Petroleum Co. began two tests in Pecos County in West Texas and Shell began its Elk City search for the Springer sand the world record depth was the 22,570 feet set in 1955 in South Louisiana.

Phillips' 1-EE University is awaiting new drill pipe and has been idle since reaching the new record of 24,357 feet. The nearby 1-A Montgomery, now the second deepest hole ever drilled, is being tested after reaching 23,400.

Shell's 5 Rumberger is scheduled to pass the 1-A Montgomery, but only another boost in projected depth would permit it to compete with the new record owned by the 1-EE University.

Good Indications In Borden Activity

A discovery was indicated in Borden County, another flowed to test and a wildcat logged shows.

Discovery production, possibly lower Ellenburger, was indicated on two drillstem tests at Midwest Oil Corp. No. 1 A. M. Clayton, et al, in 16-31-6n-T&P, Borden County multipay prospect 12 miles northwest of Gail.

On a one-hour test between 9,048-62 feet, gas surfaced in 27 minutes. Recovery was 2,718 feet of oil and 10 feet of heavily oil-cut mud, no water. Flowing pressure was 250-700 pounds; 20-minute shut-in pressure was 990 pounds.

Operator was running logs at total depth of 9,067 feet.

On an earlier test between 9,610-638 feet in the Ellenburger, recovery was 1,170 feet of gas, 180 feet of heavily gas and slightly oil and sulphur water-cut mud, 90 feet of slightly gas and sulphur water-cut mud and 270 feet of salt water.

It indicated Canyon production on a test between 8,155-173 feet with the recovery of 2,760 feet of gas, 30 feet of oil and gas-cut mud, 60 feet of heavily oil and gas-cut mud and 30 feet of very heavily oil and gas-cut mud.

A still earlier test in the lower Spraberry between 6,570-48 feet, recovered 1,200 feet of oil and gas-cut mud and one gallon of free oil.

The prospect is ¾-mile northwest of Hunt 1-B Clayton, a depleted upper Spraberry producer, and 4¾ miles west of the two-well Dunigan (Pennsylvanian-Ellenburger) field.

Another Assured Borden Discovery

W. A. Moncrief, et al of Fort Worth No. 1 R. C. Miller, in 32-30-6n-T&P, Borden County lower Spraberry prospect and assured Ellenburger discovery, flowed 119 barrels of oil in six hours from open hole.

The project flowed 83 barrels of new oil in four hours through a 19-64-inch choke and open hole between 8,740-754 feet. It then flowed 36 barrels of oil in two hours through a ¼-inch choke.

Operator is now erecting storage tanks.

Spraberry production was indicated on a drillstem test between 8,385-480, with the recovery of 90 feet of heavily oil-cut drilling water, estimated to be 10 per cent oil; 120 feet of drilling fluid; 325 feet of free oil, plus one pint of free oil in the tool, no water.

The strike is two miles south of the two-well Dunigan (Pennsylvanian and Ellenburger) field.

Lone Star Producing Co., Dallas, No. 1 Clarence Porter, in 9-32-3n-T&P, Borden County Ellenburger wildcat, 14 miles southwest of Gail, recovered slight shows of gas in a drillstem test from the Mississipplan.

On a two-hour test between 9,474-91 feet, recovery was the 1,000-foot water blanket plus 30 feet of slightly gas-cut drilling mud.

The project was drilling below 9,500 feet on contract depth of 10,500 feet.

Company Formed For Alaska Exploration

HOUSTON (AP)—Michel Halbouty, Houston independent oil operator, has formed the Halbouty Alaska Oil Co. to explore a 1,250,000 acre tract in Alaska.

The company will headquarter in Houston but also will have offices in Achorage, Alaska, and Denver, Colo.

Captalized at one million dollars, the corporation was chartered in Delaware to explore, drill, produce, refine and transport oil and gas.

Alaska operations are to begin next spring in either the Kenai or Porcupine basins. The 1,250,000 acres are in the Kenai, Porcupine, Koyukuk, Cretaceas, Nushagak, and Bethel Basins and on the Alaskan Peninsula.

Halbouty began acquiring mineral lands in Alaska two years ago.

Halbouty predicted a great oil future for Alaska but said progress will depend on how independent operators move into the area.

"With all of its promise, Alaska will feel little impact from petroleum, unless the independents get a good position," he said. "But they've got to operate rather than be lease brokers. There's plenty of oil there and it is accessible despite reports to the contrary."

SPEAKERSHIP CAMPAIGN SIZZLES

Burkett Calls For Audit Of Members Pledge Cards

By ED OVERHOLSER

AUSTIN (AP)—Joe Burkett Jr., candidate in the sizzling speakership race, said Saturday his opponent had made illegitimate claims of support and called for an independent audit of the member's pledge cards.

Burkett said he had 77 "real and authentic" pledges and Speaker Waggoner Carr had only 63. Carr this week showed reporters 74 pledges plus four sealed envelopes he and his supporters said contained four more support cards.

Both men agreed about 10 House members have not made up their minds. If Carr has 78 votes and Burkett 77 this means about 15 House members have given pledge cards to both. House membership is 150.

"I hereby challenge the present speaker to lay out his pledge cards along with mine to any responsible, impartial individual. . . who would audit the cards, check them against a roster of presently elected Democratic nominees and verify the validity and authenticity of each of the signatures," Burkett said.

"I just want to clear up the air. There has been so much talk and so much propaganda lately . . . I'm tired of the integrity of members being imposed on," he said.

Burkett, of Kerrville, said he had mailed Carr a copy of his proposal to the speaker's Lubbock address.

"I don't think he will accept the challenge," Burkett declared.

He said that after the audit is made "let the man who lacks a majority of the entire membership get out of the race now so that we may move ahead with the quiet and smooth organization of the House for the coming session.

"If Carr continues to press his illegitimate claims without such complete authentication, then he will personally have to accept the responsibility of the probable increased length of the next session along with the extra expense added to the expected deficit."

Ex-Navy Pilot To Try For Record

NEW YORK (AP)—A former Navy pilot hopes to take off Monday in a single-engine executive-type plane to fly around the world in eight days.

George Williams, 34, said he was hired by the Mooney Aircraft Corp., Kerrville, Tex., to set a record in its Mark 20A four-passenger aircraft. He hopes his fist leg will take him nonstop to Rome.

Williams, who sells Mooney aircraft in Mexico City, said no one had ever attempted to fly around the world in a plane of this size. The flight will be refereed by the International Federation of Aeronautics.

He plans to stop in Rome, Bombay, Singapore, Tokyo, San Francisco, Mexico City, and back to Idlewild Airport in New York. He plans to take off, weather permitting, from nearby Westchester County Airport.

Although the Mark 20A is built for four passengers, Williams will fly alone. His wife and five children live in Mexico City.

Williams said he is flying the same plane that was flown by Bill Wyatt, 26, who attempted to set a distance record from Galveston to Rome non-stop last fall. Wyatt hit bad weather over Spain and was forced to make a sea landing. He was rescued by a fishing vessel.

Wyatt died April 18 of a heart condition.

With gas aboard, the 180-horsepower Mark 20A will weigh about 3,850 pounds, just under the federation's limitations for this weight class.

Williams, a veteran of 15 years in the Navy, is a former naval attache to the U.S. embassy in Mexico City.

UNEMPLOYMENT DECLINES

AUSTIN (AP)—"Unemployment is definitely on the downgrade," the Texas Employment Commission said Saturday.

A spokesman added "We are very optimistic. Unemployment dropped from the year's high of 208,500 in June to 195,500 in July. The employment figures, however, also dropped. There were 2,970,400 employed in June and 2,967,300 in July but we expect the seasonal big employment rise in September."

The TEC report showed 2,988,000 persons were employed in July of last year. It said 5.4 per cent of the 3,621,150 labor market force remained unemployed in July, compared to 3.9 per cent in July 1957 and 5.7 per cent this past June.

The report echoed the spokesman's optimism while quoting these statistics. It also said:

Decreasing unemployment is promised for the next two or three months. The July decline started the trend that always follows the heavy June job - application filing after the closing of the schools."

It predicted an increase of 20,000 in the employment force with the ringing of the school bells. The TEC said 5,000 more persons would be employed by school systems this year than in 1957, because of the increase in school age population.

"On the opposite side of the picture," the TEC said, "are lagging metals industries, curtailed employment in defense establishments, and hobbled petroleum exploration and production. These deterrents to employment growth will handicap the push for record employment such as usually is scored by September."

With few exceptions, all major labor market areas in the state showed declines in unemployment from June to July, the TEC said. Lubbock's employment percentage remained at 5.2, Corpus Christi's at 8 and the Beaumont - Port Arthur area increased from 10.2 to 10.3 per cent.

Showing decreases in July from June were: San Antonio 4.5 per cent from 4.6 per cent; Austin 4.5 from 4.6; Dallas 4.6 from 5.0; El Paso 4.6 from 5.1; Abilene 5.4 from 5.7; Amarillo 5.1 from 6.4; Wichita Falls 6.1 from 6.7; Fort Worth 7.0 from 7.4; Houston - Baytown 7.0 from 7.3; Galveston - Texas City 7.8 from 8.0; San Angelo 9.2 from 9.3; and Texarkana 9.7 from 10.3.

Work On School Inspected

The Snyder school board Friday afternoon made an inspection tour of the junior high school and improvements being made there there for use this school year and for the next.

Work on improvements for use this school year was complete for the most part, but the board made some exceptions. Employes A. P. Kasch & Sons, contractors on the job, were working through this weekend to complete what what was needed for school to get underway by Tuesday.

William A. Turner, engineer for Fred Buford & Associates of Dallas, the schools' architects and engineers in the building program, said improvements completed at the junior high include installation of new blackboards where they were needed, painting of ceilings and walls in all rooms, new asphalt tile flooring in all classrooms in the north wing of the building, new ceramic tile walls in the toilets, and a change in the gas distribution system.

Generally, the weekend work is a major cleanup of the building so it can be put to use, Turner said. There are a few other portions of the project to be finished for this school year, but they will not be complete for a few days. Connecting covered walks between the gymnasium and the shop-band building will be complete within a few days, as will the covered walkway between the north end of the shop and band building and the south entrance of the main building. A new north entrance in the shop-band building and a new toilet in that building are still not complete but will be within a few days.

A new football practice field is complete on the west portion of the junior high campus. A field house on the old junior high practice field, which will be made into a junior high playing field by next year, should be complete in about a month, Turner said. Drill piers are poured, and the foundation will probably be poured this week.

Asphalt topping was being poured this weekend on the playground area on the east side of the junior high campus. That will include all the playground on the eastern half of the campus, running from the main building around the shop-band building to the gymnasium.

An addition to the building which is to be completed for next year's use is in progress. That addition, which will be on the east side and will have two floors, will allow expansion of cafeteria, science, and homemaking facilities.

At the new Stanfield Elementary School in south Snyder, Alston Construction Co. of Sweetwater, general contractor, is now erecting structural steel on the north classroom wing. After completion of the steel erection, the company will be ready for masonry work on walls and concrete floor slabs, expected to start in about a month or six weeks.

At that school, which is to be ready for the 1959-60 school year, curb and gutter have been poured on the drive-in zones on Forty-third Street, and workers are getting ready to top the parking lot and a portion of the play area on the south side of the school.

The school board will take bids on Sept. 25 for the new junior high school to be built just west of El Paso Avenue and north of the West Elementary School. That school is to be complete by the 1959-60 school year.

King's Ramson Going To '59 Miss America

By JOSEPH R. COYNE

ATLANTIC CITY, N.J. (AP)—A king's ransom awaits the queen who next Saturday will be crowned Miss America of 1959.

The girl who succeeds Marilyn van Derbur of Denver, Colo., in the coveted year-long reign can expect rewards totaling more than $150,000—broken down into a $10,000 scholarship, about $75,000 for personal appearances and endorsements, a wardrobe, auto and other gifts worth $25,000, and about 150,000 miles of expense paid travel including a trip to Italy and a year-round New York hotel suite.

The Miss America Pageant also spends about $20,000 for the winner's business manager and chaperone to accompany her on trips and it picks up an estimated $3,000 telephone tab.

Seeking the title this year are 51 beauties from 46 states, New York City, Chicago, Washington, D.C., Hawaii and Canada. The only states not represented are Wyoming and Montana.

One week of excitement, parades, interviews and competition in evening gown, swim suit and talent must be completed, however, before the new Miss America will be known.

And it's here that the Miss America Pageant claims it is different.

While most other contests mainly use the tape measure as a basis for judging, the Miss America Peageant believes beauty is not just skin deep.

So again this year there's more emphasis on talent, personality and brains than ever before.

The $10,000 first prize scholarship indicates the extent of this emphasis.

Last year's winner received a $5,000 scholarship and $5,000 in cash. But pageant officials felt a good college education for Miss America would run close to $10,000 so they dropped the cash award in favor of a bigger scholarship.

Other high-ranking contestants will receive scholarships totaling $27,000.

Greater stress was also placed on brains at the local and state levels, where scholarships worth $150,000 were set up during the past year. This raised the total grass roots awards to a quarter of a million dollars.

More scholarships mean better screening of candidates and the selection of the more talented and intelligent girls as Miss America contestants, says Miss Leonra S. Slaughter, the pageant's executive director.

Why all this emphasis on scholarships and brains anyway? Shouldn't a beauty pageant concentrate on the beauty, period?

That's how it was in the pageant's early years. But when Miss Slaughter came upon the scene in 1935 drastic changes were instituted.

The term bathing suit was dropped and swim suit substituted for the brief costumes the contestants now wear for briefer and briefer periods each year.

Miss Slaughter believes fine looks have their place but should not be over-emphasized. She explains it this way:

"Miss America is one-third talent, one-third intellect and one-third beauty. We are trying to select the ideal American girl, not the most beautiful."

U. S. Bonds In Decline

NEW YORK (AP)—U.S. government bonds declined sharply this week. The downturn brought further weakness in municipal bonds and some high-grade corporates.

Traders said the bond markets were making adjustments in line with an expected economic comeback.

Corporate bond losses were not as severe. Investment quality securities showed firming tendencies early in the week, but gave ground the last three sessions. The low yield and utility components of The Associated Press bond averages closed the week at new lows for the year. Foreign bonds improved slightly.

Cabin Cruiser Found Safe After Storm

NEW YORK (AP)—The Golden Eye, a 47-foot cabin cruiser feared lost in Hurricane Daisy, was found safe but disabled today 250 miles off Norfolk, Va.

The five men aboard, on what started a week ago as a trip from Bermuda to Brielle, N.J., were reported in good condition.

A Swedish tanker, the Josefina Thorden, spotted the yacht shortly after midnight while en route from Philadelphia to the Persian Gulf.

The tanker radioed the Coast Guard cutter Campbell, which was in the same general area.

The Campbell arrived alongside the Golden Eye at about 5 a.m. She took the five yachtsmen aboard and then started towing the pleasure craft to Norfolk.

The disabled boat had water in one engine and her two generators and radio were out of commission.

Search for her had begun after she failed to arrive as scheduled at Brielle Monday.

The hurricane Friday kept American-based planes of the Coast Guard, Navy and Air Force from continuing a search they had conducted along the 640-mile route from Bermuda to the north Jersey shore.

The cruiser sailed from Bermuda a week ago.

In Hamilton, Bermuda, names of the five aboard were given as Bo'sun mate 3-c Delain F. Barrett of Kerrmoor, Pa.; Fireman Carl E. Cotton of Atlanta, both from the U.S. naval station in Bermuda; Ross Robinson, a Bermuda seaman; and two Bermuda taxi drivers, Christopher Brimmer of Spanish Point and Wilfred Woodley of Pembroke.

Another Surge Predicted In Industrial Production

AUSTIN (AP)—The director of the Texas Bureau of Business Research said Saturday indications point toward the beginning of another upward surge in industrial production.

John Stockton outlined several factors which he said show the 1957-58 recession is running its courses.

"A logical conclusion from these facts would be that the forces tending to slow down and finally reverse the decline are becoming strong enough to give considerable assurance that the turning point has already been passed," Stockton said.

He compared the recession with the two in 1948-49 and 1953-54. In both previous recessions the decline was very slight and was actually little more than a leveling off from the previous strong upward movement. He said the pattern during 1957-58 was rather eratic but the downward drift of the business index was very much the same.

Stockton said the largest single segment of Texas business is represented by consumer spending and throughout the past 12 months retail sales have shown unusual stability. The decline in automobile sales have been largely offset by an increase in sales of nondurable goods.

"The strength of consumer demand in Texas during the past year has reflected the continued high level of total consumer income in spite of unfavorable situations in certain industries," he said. Total nonagricultural employment for the first seven months of 1958 averaged only 0.7 per cent below the same period last year.

He pointed to the income of farmers as one of the brighter spots in the economy. For the first seven months of the year farm income was 27 per cent above the same period of last year.

"This has been an important factor in supporting the level of consumer spending at a time when other sources of income were suffering a decline," Stockton said. He said the increase in farm income has tended to counterbalance the decline in oil income.

Expenditures of business concerns for new plant and equipment have shown a steady decline since the third quarter of 1957 and 1958 expenditures will be about 17 per cent below last year. But Stockton said the amount spent will have been exceeded only in 1956 and 1957.

A sharp decline in building permits during the winter seemed to indicate that this industry was feeling the effects of the general decline in business but since April the volume of new building authorized has been at near-record levels. The total for seven months is 13 per cent higher than for the comparable period last year.

Fort Worth Watches Rats

FORT WORTH (AP)—City and county health authorities are keeping a close watch on the hordes of rats which have migrated to the county and which have moved into Fort Worth's fringes.

Steel traps are being used in one swanky area where rats have been seeking drinking water in palatial swimming pools.

The trapped rodents are inspected for fleas and lice. So far all caught have been healthy, carrying only small red type lice usually found on birds.

City sanitarian Roy Adams and county sanitarian W. L. Brewer agree that the rats are not the type to invade homes but prefer the field.

Thousands of the rodents have migrated along the river levees but their burrowing into the embankment is not threatening weakening of the levees, Brewer said.

Retail Sales Steady In July

AUSTIN (AP)—The Bureau of Business Research said today retail sales in Texas during July were steady with June.

Cumulative sales for the year were one per cent below 1957.

Durable goods stores reported sales were off five per cent from June and eight per cent for the year. Nondurable goods were up two per cent over June and also for the year.

In the January-July comparison, farm implement dealers registered an 11 per cent increase in sales while lumber and building material dealers showed a 3 per cent boost. The bureau said motor vehicle dealers made the poorest showing.

Best results in the nondurable lines from June were family clothing stores, up 13 per cent, liquor registered increases over June 1958, 11 were ahead of July 1957 stores, up 12 per cent, groceries up 11 per cent and women's ready-to-wear stores up 8 per cent. For the cumulative month, drug store sales were up 8 per cent, country general stores up 7 per cent and good stores up 6 per cent.

Department and apparel stores in 22 of the 29 reporting cities and 12 topped the January-July sales. Largest increases over July were made by Plainview, up 19 per cent, Beaumont, up 7, Marshall and Victoria, up 6 per cent.

Sales for the January-July comparison were up 6 per cent in Port Arthur and Victoria, and 4 per cent in Bryan, Lubbock, Paris and Plainview. Sales were behind in Houston, down 9 per cent and Texarkana and Waco, down 8 per cent.

Total retail sales increases over June were registered by Brownsville, up 17 per cent, Big Spring, up 14 per cent, Port Arthur, up 8 per cent and Amarillo and San Angelo, up 6 per cent.

The July ratio of credit sales to net sales was 65.3 per cent, some 3.1 points below June 1958. Advertising linage in 27 Texas newspapers was 7 per cent below June 1958.

Grain Futures Are At Best In Weeks

By GIL MAYO
AP Business News Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The grain futures market scored its best prices advances this week since the Middle East crisis more than a month ago when U.S. Marines were sent into Lebanon.

In fact, it was only the second time since then that all contracts were ahead of the closes of the previous week.

Until Friday, the market was generally steady to strong with only minor occasional flurries of selling, mostly by profit-takers. The major influence sparking the general bullishness was resumption of Chinese Communist-Nationalist fighting and the statement by President Eisenhower that the United States would not renege on any responsibility in the defense of Formosa. The communists had threatened to invade the Nationalist-held offshore islands and to "liberate" Formosa.

Another major factor was a report that the cool weather had set back maturity of both corn and soybeans.

At the end of the week, wheat was 1¾-4½ cents a bushel higher than a week ago, September $1.86 ½-⅞; corn ⅛-2¾ higher, September $1.24⅞; oats ⅜-1¾ higher, September 61¾-⅞; rye 4½-6¾ higher, September $1.25¾-⅝; soybeans 2⅞-4⅛ higher, September $2.24¼-⅛; lard 17 to 50 cents a hundred pounds higher, September $12.82.

The market weakness on Friday was described as a renewal of profit-taking and liquidation by traders who wanted to be relieved of any large commitments over the three-day holiday.

TV Stars To Appear In Prison Show

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Texans coming here in October for the Texas Prison Rodeo will see Western television stars, too.

The chairman of the Texas Board of Corrections, H. H. Coffield of Rockdale, said Richard Boone, Dale Robertson, Ward Bond and Robert Culp will make appearances on successive Sundays in October.

The TV stars were engaged to help boost ticket sales for the 27th annual prison rodeo. The money goes to the prisoners' welfare fund.

Coffield pointed out the need for additional welfare funds because of the growth of the Texas penal system. He said that since the Legislature does not appropriate funds for inmate welfare work, net proceeds from the prison rodeo is the only way inmates can receive a number of services not provided by the state.

Performances will be given on the four Sundays of October, 5-12-19-26.

Quiet Convention Is Held In Kansas City

KANSAS CITY (AP) — It's the quietest convention in town.

When the delegates greeted each other warmly but noiselessly in the hotel lobby.

It's the 17th triennial convention of the Missouri Assn. of the Deaf.

The entire business of the convention, which runs through Sunday, is conducted in sign language.

A dinner meeting tonight will be followed by a dance to the rhythmic vibrations caused by a juke box.

Girl Killed By Runaway Car

MOBERLY, Mo. (AP)—A runaway car broke up a backyard birthday party and killed a 4-year-old girl Friday.

The victim was Mary Diane Davidson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Davidson.

Witnesses said the car went out of control as it turned a corner. It leaped a curb, hit a tree, then roared backward, hit a parked car and plowed into the Davidson's back yard. The child, on her tricycle, was struck just before the car smashed into another tree and stopped.

Mary Diane and five neighbor children were celebrating the birthday of her brother, Joey, 6.

The driver of the car was Mrs. Lulu Chamier, 75, widow of Arthur B. Chamier, prominent Moberly lawyer, and mother of Richard J. Chamier, former state senator.

Mrs. Chamier suffered a nose fracture, bruises and shock. She was hospitalized.

Demand Seen For New Cars

DETROIT (AP) — Many new cars will be needed in 1959; the auto industry this year borrowed nothing from its future market; upward of a million persons deferred new car purchases in 1958; they should be back in the market next year.

That's the thinking of auto industry experts who predict 5½ million car sales in 1959. They are counting heavily on an accumulation of unsatisfied demand.

Some industry analysts say the estimated of 5½ millions sales next year is conservative. Some say the total could reach six millions units, plus whatever volume foreign makes are able to capture.

Oct. 1 marks the start of the new model year for the car industry.

Teacher Doubling As Wheat Harvester

PLAINVIEW, Tex. (AP)—School teacher Reese Masten harvests wheat during the summers for three reasons:

1. To make some extra money.
2. To keep in physical shape.
3. For information on how to run a school.

Each summer, Masten, his brother, J. B., and their sons, Jimmie and Larry, start out with their combines in the Texas Panhandle and end up in North Dakota.

Masten got into the harvesting business through necessity during depression days. He needed extra money to supplement his school-teaching salary.

He and his brother now operate a three-combine outfit. And they have them fixed up where they really enjoy operating the equipment.

Each cab is tightly constructed and has a squirrel-cage fan on top to swish in nice, clean fresh air and blow away the dust. And for music and other entertainment there is a radio.

But Masten's first love always is his school. And he keeps talking school on his long wheat trek each summer.

"When you're around a combine with your khaki clothes on people don't mind lowering the boom on the schools and how they are run," he said. "They don't know they're talking with a teacher and will say what they really think. Those who talk with a teacher and know he's a teacher pull their punches a little bit. . .at times."

Masten was enthusiastic about this year's Dakota wheat crop. He recalled one 910-acre that averaged 48 bushels of high grade wheat to the acre.

Reserve Unit Is Due Back

Members of the 700th Engineer Pipe Line Co., Snyder's Army Reserve unit, are due to return here today after a two-week encampment at Fort Polk, La.

The 24 men have been on the unit's second encampment since its organization here.

Most of the men were to return on a special train which was scheduled to arrive here at about 5 p.m.

The local unit, commanded by Lt. Robert Barman, worked on a problem of constructing an airstrip while at the camp. The project included the building and operation of a pump station to supply water to the construction project.

Negro Youth Group's Sitdown At Stalemate

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — A Negro youth group's "sitdown" for food service in a downtown luncheonette continued into its eighth day in a stalemate today.

Only six members of the NAACP-sponsored Youth Council showed up in the John A. Brown Co.'s luncheonette Friday, but the young Negroes said they would continue their effort.

Some 150 appeared Thursday. White persons held all the seats and didn't release them until other white diners arrived.

Crop Outlook Is Brighter

COLLEGE STATION, Tex. (AP)—Late August rains dotting much of the state have brightened the outlook for Texas farmers and ranchers, the Texas Agricultural Extension Service said Saturday.

Its weekly report said the moisture gives new hope for late crops, pastures, and seedbed preparation and planting of early small grains.

"However, district agriculture agents report many sections are still dry and a good general rain would be very beneficial," Extension Service director John E. Hutchison said.

Harvest conditions, except where temporarily delayed by showers, have been near ideal with good yields as cotton picking moves into high gear in Central Texas and the Gulf Coast area and is well under way in North Texas and the rolling plains, he added.

Grain sorghum harvest is reported more than half finished in many rolling plains counties and is started in West Texas and beginning in the Lubbock area.

Much seedbed preparation is in progress and small grains are being planted. Moisture has brought up volunteer oat growth in Central Texas.

Vegetable production varies from seedbed preparation and some planting in the Valley and Winter Garden to full harvest in the Panhandle. Peanuts in the West Cross Timbers need rain to mature.

In North Texas, Ted Martin said at Denton, "rain over much of the district will benefit the cotton crop and seedbed preparation as well as improve ranges and pastures. Livestock still is in good condition. Grain sorghum yields are good and some cotton is being harvested in the Bonham-McKinney-Greenville area."

Ranges in far West Texas are in poor to fair condition and need rain, but irrigated crops are in excellent condition with grain sorghum harvest well under way and cotton harvest expected to begin in a week or 10 days, Ray D. Siegmund said at Fort Stockton. Livestock remains in fair to good shape and goat shearing is in progress.

Pickers are needed for cotton harvest in the Gulf Coast area, said Silver Whitsett at Rosenberg. The yield outlook is good. Rice harvest is well under way along with corn, and most of the grain sorghum is out of the fields. Pastures are reviving after some good showers, but a general rain is needed.

South Texas ranges and pastures will benefit from scattered showers, but more rain is needed badly, Joe Rothe reported from Weslaco. Cotton harvest is generally finished in the Valley and Coastal Bend with above average yields.

Joe M. Glover said at Gonzales that cattle in South Central Texas are generally in good condition but pastures need rain. Rain also is needed for land preparation for fall planting. Cotton harvest is about complete in most sections and corn harvest is well under way. Caldwell County's broomcorn crop has been harvested.

Wheat seeding is under way in the Panhandle after good rains in Hansford, Ochiltree and Lipscomb counties, but more rain is needed elsewhere to justify sowing, and to mature grain sorghums, Knox Parr reported from Amarillo.

Row crops in the irrigated area are fruiting and maturing, Parr said, but there's some damage from false chinch bugs. Native pastures are dry, but are furnishing ample grazing for cattle already fat. Carrots, cantaloupes, potatoes and other vegetables are being harvested in the Hereford area.

South Plains sorghum and cotton crops are making very good progress, W. H. Jones said at Lubbock. Grain sorghum harvest is getting under way in some counties.

Spotted rains in the eastern part of Central Texas—the Waco-Temple-Marlin area—left soil moisture in fair to good condition, but farther west in the West Cross Timbers area peanuts need rain to mature, R. G. Burwell said at Stephenville. Land preparation is under way for all small grain seeding and some farmers have planted on dry soil in hopes for rain and early grazing. Grain sorghum harvest has passed its peak and cotton harvest is gaining momentum.

Northeast Texas peanuts, sweet potatoes and late feed crops had a big boost from scattered rains, and both peanuts and sweet potatoes are expected to make a good crop again this year, John H. Survoik said at Mount Pleasant. Early cotton is being harvested. Livestock is in good condition with the market steady.

At Nacogdoches, Walter L. Scott said conditions in deep East Texas are improved after some rain. Much cotton has been harvested and corn harvest is underway. Pastures are improving and livestock is generally in good condition.

At Vernon, James G. Simmons said farmers and ranchers in the Rolling Plains are taking advantage of the moisture by preparing land and seeding small grains. Cotton harvest has begun in several counties and there is light to heavey bollworm damage. Early grain sorghum harvest is resulting in good yields. A good general rain will improve over-all conditions.

Pastures and ranges in the Edwards Plateau need rain as conditions vary from poor in Coke County to good in Real County. Showers brought a little surface moisture, but the submoisture is about gone. Late crops also need the moisture, concluded Roy L. Huckabee at San Angelo. Grain sorghum harvest is in progress and peanut harvest has begun in the Mason County area. Livestock remains in good to excellent condition with much activity in marketing calves in the Llano area.

Shell Oil Reorganizes Territories

HOUSTON (AP)—Shell Oil Co. told Saturday of the reorganization of its Houston area production territories.

Effective Monday the East Texas and Houston divisions will be combined into a single unit with overall administrative headquarters in Houston. Kilgore will continue as a district production office for supervision of East Texas operations.

E. D. Cumming, vice president, said reassignment of personnel will be very gradual, extending over a two-to-three year period. He said some employes will be transferred to Kilgore and others to Houston.

H. K. McKinnon, at present the East Texas Division production manager at Kilgore, has been named manager of the consolidated unit. The present Houston Division manager, J. W. Moore, will become production superintendent on the Houston area staff.

Division production superintendents in the new organization will be R. L. Walker at Kilgore and C. H. Taylor at Houston. Walker currently is the East Texas Division mechanical engineer at Kilgore. Taylor has been production superintendent for the Houston Division.

Soviet Spaceman Forecast

By ALTON BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Writer

AMSTERDAM (AP) — Within perhaps a year, a Russian will fly into space and come home again, space experts predicted Saturday.

Several Western scientists cited a minimum timetable of a year or Russia to send a man orbiting around the earth in a recoverable satellite or at least give him a brief rocket high jump of a few hundred miles into space.

Making the first human leap into space seems to be the main Soviet target, delegates said at the close of the General Assembly of the International Astronautical Federation.

But they don't put it past the Russians to try to grab off the further glory of making the first explorations of the moon and embarrass the United States again.

"I'm flabbergasted they haven't done it yet," said Dr. Kurt Stehling of the Naval Research Laboratory, Washington, D. C.

"We gathered the definite impression here that the Russians want to be first to the moon," said Dr. August Frederick Staats, of Bremen, president of the German Rocket Society.

"The Russians said it wasn't true that they had already tried once and failed," Staats continued.

"We urged them not to try to hit the moon but just to circle it. This is in line with the idea no one should contaminate the moon with anything until it can first be learned whether any kind of life exists there naturally.

"The Russians agreed this was a good idea, but if—Soviet Premier—Khrushchev told them to land a rocket on the moon—because that might have bigger propaganda value—then I'm sure they would try to hit it."

Staats agreed with Stehling and others that man-in-space could be a reality within a year or two. England's Kenneth W. Gatland, vice president of the British Interplanetary Society, estimated 5 to 10 years.

Tests Could Be Detected

By WARREN ROGERS JR.

WASHINGTON (AP) — East-West experts officially reported today that sneak atomic weapons tests could be detected by 180 monitoring stations around the world. About 10 would be in the United States, 14 in Russia and 8 in Red China.

The report was the result of seven weeks of secret talks among scientists from the United States, Russia, Britain, France, Canada, Poland, Czechoslovakia and Romania.

President Eisenhower called a week ago for diplomatic talks starting Oct. 31 and looking toward an international agreement to halt nuclear weapons tests.

Russia accepted the date Friday night. A Moscow Radio broadcast said the date was agreeable with Premier Khrushchev and that he favored Geneva as a conference site.

Eisenhower had offered to suspend nuclear tests unilaterally, as Russia did five months ago, as soon as the talks got underway.

The scientists' 25-page report was made public by the State Department.

The report called for:

1. A network of control posts around the globe. About 170 would be land-based and 10 aboard ships. They would be manned by 30 detection experts each and total staff of 9,000.

2. Creation of an "international control organ." It would run the global system, pick the staff, select the detection devices, study reports and generally see to it that no nation cheated on any international ban on nuclear tests.

3. Use of weather-reconnaissance aircraft to sample the air for radioactivity. They would rush to a suspicious area to see if a bomb had been set off or whether it was only an earthquake.

The report did not go into the question of whether there should be an international ban on test explosions.

As to whether cheating could be detected, it said:

"It is technically feasible to establish, with the capabilities and limitations indicated below, a workable and effective control system to detect violations of an agreement on the worldwide suspension of nuclear weapons tests. . .

"The conference considers that whatever the precautionary measures adopted by a violator he could not be guaranteed against exposure, particularly if account is taken of the carrying out of the inspection at the site of the suspected explosion."

The report said the 170 land-based posts would include 110 on continents, 20 on large oceanic islands and 40 on small oceanic islands. The 10 ships would drift about 1,200 to 2,000 miles apart—perhaps 6 or 7 in the Pacific and the others in the South Atlantic and Indian oceans.

The recommended pattern was described as a "5-kiloton system." That meant the system could nab with "good probability" any kind of nuclear explosion — underground, underwater, ground, high altitude—down to those with the power of 5,000 tons of TNT.

The report said the recommended network could spot a nuclear blast down to 1 kiloton on the ground or as high as 60 miles. Above that altitude, it said it would be difficult to say for sure it was a nuclear explosion and not simply lightning.

Explosions down to 1 kiloton in the ocean or underground would be detected, it said. But they might be confused with earthquakes since 1-kiloton earthquakes occur about 10,000 times a year.

Big Question Mark Faces Stock Market

By ED MORSE
AP Business News Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — The stock market reached this Labor Day weekend with a huge summer rally behind it and a question mark ahead.

An estimated 18 billion dollars was added to the quoted value of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange during June, July and August, based on the rise in The Associated Press average.

The AP 60-stock average rose during this period from $170.10 to Friday's close of $184.70.

The advance reached its crest on Aug. 11 when the AP average stood at $186.50, not far below its record high of $191.50 reached in April 1956.

Labor Day is a traditional milestone or dividing line for business and the stock market so the question in Wall Street is, "where do we go from here?"

Will business and the economy continue to improve? Will the stock market resume its attack on the all-time highs?

Last week brought no firm indications of where the market was heading. Stocks ended the week with a slight gain, reflected by a 30-cent rise in the AP average. This was entirely due to a late rally on Friday caused mainly by technical factors and featured by a speculative flurry in lower-priced stocks.

A continued rise in steel production and the spurt in building construction awards over year-ago figures were bullish factors. On the bearish side, there was a stiffening in interest rates highlighted by the spreading to Kansas City of the discount rate rise to 2 per cent from 1¾ per cent.

Yemen, a tiny nation on the southwest border of Saudi-Arabia, has skyscrapers although the buildings are only a few stories high. But, each building is atop mountain ridges about two miles high.

OUR VIEW

Honoring Those Who Toil

Tomorrow is Labor Day, and aside from those who must labor because of vital services rendered, such as peace officers, hospital employes, newspaper personnel, firemen, telephone operators, etc., it will be a holiday.

Why is the holiday observed?

Well, according to the U. S. Department of Labor, which apparently is the appropriate government agency to comment on it, the observance was started by labor itself. The Central Labor Union in New York City is credited with initiating the event in 1882. The first observance was held on Tuesday, but two years later the first Monday in Septemebr was selected for the holiday, and that date has endured, although the observance was not particularly widespread until the turn of the century.

Subsequently, various states joined the trend that started in New York, until finally, all 48 states had Labor Day Laws by 1923, when Wyoming, the last to fall in line, gave the observance official recognition.

The early-day observances usually were highlighted by special events in the nation's industrial centers, featuring displays and big parades.

Times have changed, the Dept. of Labor notes, with the emphasis now on addresses by leading union officials, industrialists, educators and clergymen.

Thus, the observance of Labor Day is not merely a tribute to one segment of the nation population. Instead, today it is a mass salute honoring everyone who toils and contributes to the nation's strength, freedom and leadership.

Those who labor in this country are more than we sometimes think.

Nautilus Skipper Came From Hills

As far as the boy could see, in every direction, the green hills of Tennessee stretched to the horizon.

Twelve-year-old William Robert Anderson had never tasted the salt tang of the sea nor heard the roar of ocean waves. But he looked beyond the hills and dreamed of a strange far world of ships. . . .

Twenty-five years later, Cmdr. Anderson, U.S. Navy, blinked in the glare of television floodlights as he described the dramatic moment when the submarine Nautilus crossed the North Pole under the ice at 11:15 p.m., Aug. 3, 1958.

In the past, brave men had died to reach that goal. Anderson spoke humbly in telling what happened: "I suggested a period of silence in tribute to Him who had given us guidance on our journey and as a gesture of dedication to those who had preceded us, either in failure or success."

The skipper of the Nautilus related the incident to newsmen in a hot, crowded metal hut at London Airport, in England. Gleaming on the chest of his white dress uniform was the gold Legion of Merit medal, pinned there a few days earlier by President Eisenhower at the White House.

His eyes were red-rimmed with fatigue. He had had little sleep since a U.S. Air Force helicopter plucked him off the deck of the Nautilus somewhere off Iceland at the end of the subpolar trip — and he had slept barely 40 winks during the epic 1,830-mile voyage under the arctic icecap.

Yet he handled the tumultuous hero's welcome accorded him in England as calmly as though it were all in the day's work.

"He's the sort of officer who always thinks first about the welfare of his men," said a Nautilus crew member, Machinist Mate Richard Wood of Oklahoma City, Okla.

In October last year Anderson ventured within 180 miles of the North Pole, but was forced to turn back when the Nautilus' gyro compasses began to whirl crazily.

This time he made it. The Nautilus flashed under the pole from the Pacific to the Atlantic like a gray ghost at 20 knots, while the crew — 115 officers, crew members and scientists — dined on steak, French fries, creamed peas and carrots, fresh fruit salad, fresh bread and north pole cake.

What scenic wonders did they behold?

"The ice overhead — a fascinating sight," said Anderson dryly.

Though Anderson himself discounted the idea of danger — "We had no close calls of any sort whatever," he reported crisply — others pointed to the obvious perils of tunneling through the dim realm beneath the arctic ice.

For one thing, the 12-foot-thick icecap had blacked out the Nautilus' radio contact with the outside world. There was apparently no chance to call for help in a major emergency such as a breakdown of the propulsion system or a collision-ripped hull.

Then, too, there was the question of vaguely charted mountain ranges jutting up from the bottom of the polar sea.

"Few soundings have been taken up in the arctic basin," Anderson said. "We had no definite assurance this trip could be made. . . . no assurance there was not a range of underwater mountains that would come up to the point where it might almost meet the ice. . . ."

Anderson was born on the 550-acre farm in tiny, landlocked Bakerville (population 97), Tenn., where his parents, Mr. and Mrs. David H. Anderson, live today.

The youngest of three children, Anderson was a quiet, but attentive boy.

"We can never remember his giving us the slightest trickle of trouble," says his mother.

Anderson had a hankering for mathematics at an early age. He used to sit in the family car and work out problems on the speedometer—time-distance problems.

Scientists Set To Go Darwin's Route

By ALVIN STEINKOPF

LONDON (AP) — Half a dozen men are getting set for a sentimental journey into the past.

They plan to retrace important sections of the historic trail Charles Darwin covered 125 years ago during his five-year, round-the-world voyage on the ship Beagle. The cruise gave him much of the material for his monumental work on evolution, "The Origin of Species," a book that advanced the theories of natural selection and survival of the fittest.

The six-man expedition will be headed by Dr. Martin Holdgate, a 27-year-old British zoologist. He leaves next week for Santiago, Chile, where he will join other members of the group.

The expedition will poke among thousands of little known islands off southern Chile, many of which were visited by Darwin. And the scientists hope to gather data enabling them to expand some of the great naturalist's concepts.

The expedition is sponsored by the Royal Society of Britain, foremost scientific organization in the country, and the Royal Society of New Zealand. Cooperating with them are the University of Chile, and the Chilean navy, which will provide ships to take the little expedition to remote, uninhabited spots among the islands.

"Possibly we'll spot something that escaped Darwin's sharp eyes," said Hodgate. "That may be too much to hope for, but our approach will be somewhat different from his. He was concerned with the origin of species. We will be more concerned with the spread of the species. Why should there be similar creatures at the tip of South America and in New Zealand and Tasmania? How did they make the big jump? Over a bridge of land which may have existed long ago? Over Antarctica when, eons ago, it was a warm continent? Or did they ride on a log carried along by ocean currents?"

Holdgate believes that the botanist of the expedition, Dr. Eric Godley of the New Zealand Department of Scientific and Industrial Research, has the best prospects of turning up some scientific excitement.

"Dr. Godley hopes to find some very old pollen, possibly of plants which no longer exist," said Holdgate.

"There is pollen at the very bottom of some bogs, and some of it is of plants which no longer grow in Chile. It can be identified. So there is a botanical history of the land concealed in the muck of the bogs, and if we are wise enough we should be able to read it. The geologists should help us estimate the age of the bogs, and maybe throw some light on climatic and other changes which have come over this fascinating corner of the earth."

The scientists tracing the spread of species hope that at the southern tip of Chile they may encounter a few members of a vanishing race — the primitive Patagonian Indians.

"We should be happy to meet some of them, and will be prepared with some simple presents," said Holdgate. "Their understanding of local conditions might even be helpful, but they are not our primary interest. I'm taking some color film, just in case."

The expedition is a reconnaissance party, Holdgate said.

If its inquiries hold out a promise that there is much more to learn on the Darwin trila larger expedition may be sent.

Galveston Pushes Bright Students

GALVESTON (AP)—Each child in Galveston gets a chance next week for the first time to begin learning at school as much as his mind can absorb.

Bodies will be strengthened, too.

The new setup in the Island City's public schools includes such innovations as Spanish in elementary classes and programs to push the brightest students forward as fast as they can progress.

"The academically talented in many instances will be in regular classes and will be moved into the special education program gradually," said Dr. Morgan Evans, who is beginning his second term as superintendent.

This year's program emphasizes:

1. The individual ability of each student.
2. Consideration of the parents.
3. Permitting each student to move or stay in particular group on the basis of his daily performance, not necessarily dependent on report card time.

Parents will be kept fully informed of the special work offered their children."

"These advanced courses will be available but they are not compulsory," Dr. Evans said. "They will be open to students who are capable of taking them, but if the parents do not wish their children to participate, we shall ask no reasons if the parents request withdrawal."

The classwork for each grade will be uniform, but the intensity of the subject matter will change with the ability of the specific groups. However, none of the group ratings will be ironclad.

"Just as we are teaching to the individual so must the individual perform," Dr. Evans said. "Therefore, if on any given day the teacher or the student feels the work in that group is either above or below the student's ability, the child will be moved into another group without loss of subject classwork being suffered.

Segregation Struggle Continues In South

By JIM LAXSON

ATLANTA (AP)—Although the spotlight still is on the explosive Little Rock situation, the struggle to maintain separate schools for whites and Negroes goes on steadily—if less dramatically—in other segregation strongholds of the South.

The border states, which began desegregation after the 1954 Supreme Court decision ordering integration, continue a constant lowering of racial barriers in the classrooms.

But in the heart of the segregation area, legislatures have stiffened their opposition to the order with nearly 200 new laws aimed at upholding traditional separate-but-equal school facilities.

Louisiana, Mississippi and Virginia are the latest to adopt legislation to close their public schools if integration is forced on them.

Alabama, North Carolina, Georgia and South Carolina took such action earlier. In addition, Arkansas, Florida, Texas and Tennessee have put anti-school-integration statutes on their books.

Legislative defiance usually has taken the form of permissive laws to operate public schools on a private basis with special tuition grants or a less extreme pupil placement law.

When school bells ring in the new year next month, 777 of approximately 3,000 Southern school districts will be integrated. More than two million white children and more than 325,000 Negro children will be involved in "integrated situations." Only a handful of these will be outside the border states.

A year ago, 738 districts had begun or accomplished desegregation since the 1954 school decision. Two years ago the figure was 208 districts.

A solid wall of school segregation has been maintained in Alabama, Florida, Georgia, Louisiana, South Carolina, Mississippi and Virginia. But a few chinks are beginning to appear.

Integration has proceeded on a limited basis in Tennessee, North Carolina and Kentucky after sporadic violence last year. It has met with less resistance in Texas, and in Oklahoma practically none.

Alabama's "placement" law, which gives local school boards almost unlimited police power to say where individual pupils go to school, has survived its first court test but is being appealed to the U.S. Supreme Court.

A three-judge federal panel held that the law is not unconstitutional on its face, but said it might later be held unconstitutional in its application.

Incoming Gov. John Patterson has said he will advocate legislation to close the schools automatically if any are ordered integrated. Pupils and teachers would be absorbed by other schools.

The existing law gives school boards the right to close schools which are threatened with integration but it isn't mandatory.

Florida's public school segregation is 100 per cent now, but two court suits have challenged it.

One originated in West Palm Beach, the other in Miami. Negroes failed in each case to get an order from Judge Emmet Choate of the Federal District Court in Miami directing public schools to integrate.

The decision has been appealed to the Circuit Court of Appeals in New Orleans.

Graduate schools at the University of Florida in Gainesville were ordered this summer by a federal judge to drop racial barriers. The state did not appeal.

Two Negroes have applied to enter the university's law school and have been required to take a test to be graded by a national testing concern.

This, in effect, is a petition for integration.

Superintendents of the schools involved have taken the requests under advisement. Getting the petitions into federal court by way of local boards, county boards and the state courts is conceded to be an expensive and time-consuming process.

Similar petitions were filed in Orangeburg, Florence, Sumter, Charleston, Greenville and Spartanburg counties. They got no further than the county boards.

In Virginia, the Norfolk school board has denied application by 151 Negroes who seek admission to the city's white public schools.

The board, which said it attempted to approach the problem "from the standpoint of sound education," had been directed by a federal district judge to advise him of its actions on the applications of 87 of the Negroes.

The 87 had taken tests and interviews under the board's local pupil assignment plan. The remainder of the 151 had boycotted the tests or had failed to complete them.

The board made its announcement after two justices of the State Supreme Court of Appeals granted an injunction until Oct. 15 restraining the board from executing its pupil assignment plan.

The board's action in denying the 151 applications was taken before receiving official notification of the Supreme Court injunction.

Later, a federal judge said at a hearing that he has no intention of assigning the Negroes to white schools because "that is the duty of the Norfolk school board."

Aside from Oak Ridge, which operates under federal auspices and starts its fourth year of complete integration in September, there will be integrated schools in only two Tennessee systems this fall.

They are Clinton High School, which started mixed classes two years ago, and second-grade classes in Nashville, where the first-grade classes in some schools were integrated for the first time last year.

Both first and second grade classes in some Nashville schools will be integrated this year under federal court order.

Nashville's grade-a-year plan, however, is under court attack by parents who claim it will never benefit their children.

The city desegregated first grades amid violent demonstrations last fall in the temporary first-step plan. The final plan approved by the court would continue the temporary plan, desegregating the second grade this year and one additional grade each year.

Thirteen Negroes are to attend normally all-white schools in three of North Carolina's largest cities this year.

Limited integration began last year with 11 enrolled. One withdrew after a week but the other 10 completed the school year.

Four will attend two schools at Winston-Salem: seven will go to one school in Greensboro; and two others will attend two schools at Charlotte.

However, the Charlotte school board has pending reassignment applications from 23 additional Negro pupils.

Four court cases aimed at overturning the state's school segregation laws are pending in North Carolina courts.

In Kentucky, more than 10,000 Negroes — approximately one fourth of the Negro school population — attend 262 integrated schools.

At Fulton, the city schools are under a federal court order to integrate this year.

There will be approximately 320,000 white and 3,750 Negro pupils in mixed classes in Texas this year, mostly in the southern and western parts of the state where concentration of Negroes is relatively light.

The 1957 Legislature passed a law requiring school boards to call local option elections before schools are integrated. Only one district out of 1,800 has been integrated under this plan.

Litigation is pending in the Houston and Dallas systems which are under federal court orders to integrate "with all deliberate speed."

Integration in Oklahoma has moved forward without incident.

Integration has been accomplished in 342 schools, 161 elementary and 181 high schools.

An estimated 6,600 Negroes are attending classes in Oklahoma schools with whites.

Gun Runner To Court In Brownsville

TYLER (AP) — Marco Antonio del Conde, arrested at nearby Gilmer last Sunday in connection with a cache of firearms intended for Cuban rebels, is being returned to Brownsville for an appearance in Federal Court there.

Federal Judge Joe Sheehy postponed any action here until the 32-year-old Mexican national appears before Federal Judge James V. Allred in connection with a two-year suspended sentence given del Conde last march in another gun running case.

Del Conde pleaded guilty before Shey in Tyler in connection with the cache found near Gilmer.

"I am guilty, I had the guns," Del Conde said.

The judge then ordered the slightly built man to Brownsville to settle a prior probated sentence assessed after a Coast Guard cutter rammed a boat loaded with automatic weapons and captured Del Conde and 34 other men.

Judge Sheey said Del Conde would be sentenced here after Judge Allred rules on the suspended case at Brownsville.

In the Gilmer cache were 94 machine guns, a 22 milimeter cannon and four .55 caliber antitank guns.

Del Conde told the court he was attempting to get the weapons to "my friend," Cuban Rebel Leader Fidel Castro.

He told officers he and another man dumped the weapons in a field as officers closed in on them. The second man has not been arrested.

Walker Urges Strong Guard

FORT WORTH (AP)—Every attempt should be made to maintain National Guard divisions at highest efficency and strength, the World War II commander of the 36th Division said Saturday.

Past and present members of the division gathered for their 33rd annual reunion.

Maj. Gen. Fred Walker, retired, of Arlington, Va., spoke out in an interview against cut backs in National Guard divisions and branded such moves efforts to fulfill "some sort of political promise."

He said that "When anyone goes so far in politics as to weaken our defense structure, they are not being fair to their constituents."

Also here for the two-day program was Maj. Gen. Miller Ainsworth, retired, of Luling, who commanded the division in Texas from 1949-1953. Ainsworth, a banker, also served in the 36th during World War I.

Hagan Trial Set Tuesday

CUERO, Tex. (AP)—C.O. Hagan, charged with conspiring to steal $146,000 from the State of Texas, is scheduled for trial here Tuesday on an indictment growing out of the veterans land scandals.

Hagan, of Yoakum, is jointly charged with C. P. Ernster of Victoria and Henry Robinson, a Cuero negro. The trial has been postponed several times.

Ernster was convicted on a charge he had misrepresented a written instrument in a veterans land deal but his 5-year sentence was thrown out by the Court of Criminal Appeals.

Hagan's charge stems from a sale of land under the GI aid program in 1953. Motions to sever Ernster and Robinson from Hagan's trial were expected to be made.

TEAR GAS DISPERSES DEMONSTRATORS—Tear gas bombardment routs demonstrating oil workers at the Mexico City headquarters of Pemex, government oil monoply. The demonstrators are involved in a jurisdictional fight for control of the oil workers union. A nationwide strike was threatened after police drove sitdown hunger strikers from Pemex headquarters and the tear gas sent an estimated 50 persons to hospitals. (AP Wirephoto)

No Disputes In State's GOP

WICHITA FALLS (AP) —Harmony and a denunciation of Democrats will move to the forefront Sept. 9 when Texas Republicans move into Wichita Falls for their unheralded state convention.

With no major dispute in sight, the convention is expected to take on aspects of a state-wide pep rally for the party's candidates who have cropped up where they have never appeared before.

The keynoter will be Rep. Bruce Alger of Dallas, the party's lone congressman from Texas.

The only controversy in sight appears the abortive plan to substitute state Chairman Thad Hutcheson of Houston for Roy Whittenburg of Amarillo as a November opponent for Sen. Ralph Yarborough.

Hutcheson nipped that idea with the blunt statement that Whittenburg is the GOP nominee for the Senate.

Party leaders will be on hand Sept. 8 for the statutory meeting of the State GOP Executive Committee with the convention to follow the next day.

Republicans have four candidates for state offices but the spotlight will be on two of three candidates for Congress and a host of legislative hopefuls.

The GOP hopes to re-elect Alger in his race against state Rep. Barefoot Sanders and will throw its big Houston organization behind T. E. Kennerly in his drive to gain the state's new 22nd District seat. The new district was carved out of a chunk of Harris County in the area where Republicans pull a heavy vote.

A third congressional candidate is Joseph E. Ross of Rusk, running in staunchly Democratic East Texas District 7.

Republicans have long trained their sights on the Legislature and last year issued a blistering report on what they considered Democratic misdeeds. Some 23 candidates are in the field from 10 districts.

Republican state candidates — Ewin Mayer for Governor, Whittenburg for senator, Grover Carothers for agriculture commissioner and John Q. Adams for the Supreme Court—are conceded little chance for victory.

Pioneer Family To Have Reunion

JACKSONVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Several hundred members of the Killough family are expected here Sunday and Monday for their annual reunion. The Killoughs were pioneer East Texas Pioneers and leaders.

Memorial services will be held at 11 a.m. near the site of the Killough massacre of 1838, in which 18 members of the family were killed or missing after an Indian raid.

Ferree Leads By Four At Vancouver

VANCOUVER (AP)—Jim Ferree shot a 3-under-par 69 to hold his four-stroke margin Saturday after three rounds of the $42,000 British Columbia Centennial Open Golf Tournament. He had a 54-hole total of 199.

Fred Hawkins, 34-year-old boyish-looking pro from El Paso, Tex. blazed a 7-under-par 65 to take over second place with a 54-hole total of 203. He was one stroke ahead of Dow Finsterwald who shot a 2-under-par 70.

Deadlocked at 205 were Bill Casper and Ken Venturi. They were seven strokes behind Ferree going into the third round and each returned with a 4-under-par 68.

Don January came out of nowhere with the day's best round—a sparkling 64—for a total of 206. January fired 10 birdies, six after the turn, but went over regulation figures on the par-fourth 10th and 16th holes.

The big attraction was Ferree, the whiz from Winston - Salem, N.C., who plastered the course for a fantastic 11-under-par 61 Friday. The 27-year-old blond, last off the tee in the field of 90 professionals and five amateurs, went out in even-par 37 and toured the back nine in three-under 32 over the 6,500-yard Point Grey course.

Seixas In Surprise Win Over Nielsen

By WILL GRIMSLEY
Associated Press Sports Writer

FOREST HILLS, N.Y. (AP)—The old "war horse" of American tennis, Vic Seixas, unseeded and almost forgotten, fought his way back into the limelight Saturday with a brilliant victory over Denmark's Kurt Nielsen in the first round of the U.S. national championships.

The veteran Davis Cup ace from Philadelphia, who turned 35 Saturday, chopped down the tournament's seventh-seeded player in a tense 2½ hour struggle on the West Side club's center court. The score was 6-2, 4-6, 6-4, 8-10, 8-6.

Seixas clinched the match with a volleyed placement in the corner, climaxing a love game. Then he was so weary he could not rush to the net to shake hands with his victim. Wearily he trudged around the net posts.

The match was hailed as one of the finest, most exciting first-round duels ever staged on the famed center court at Forest Hills.

Seixas, although No. 1 ranked nationally, was unseeded because he had spurned the circuit this year to work at his stock salesman's job in Philadelphia. Nielsen was seeded seventh.

Seixas beat Nielsen in the Wimbledon finals in 1953. Saturday's repeat of that famous match overshadowed all other tournament developments which saw the unslowed advance of Australia's two big Davis Cup guns, Ashley Cooper and Neale Fraser, and the emergence of Brazil's "Little Sabre," Maria Ester Bueno, as a real threat to Althea Gibson's women's crown.

Cooper, the Wimbledon champion and No. 2 seed, and the left-handed Fraser, seeded fourth, both won easily as did Dick Savitt of New York, seeded eighth. Althea Gibson and Miss Bueno were joined in the second round by two other seeded players, Britain's towering Christine Truman and Mrs. Beverly Baker Fleitz of Long Beach, Calif.

Cooper smashed Gordon Davis, Southern California student from Santa Monica, Calif., 6-1, 6-2, 6-4. Fraser toppled Courtney Henderson, an Army private from Dallas, 6-2, 6-2, 8-6.

Savitt, of New York, won over Lorne Main of Canada 6-3, 6-1, 6-1.

Miss Gibson, shunted off the center court by the spectacular Miss Bueno, defeated Carole Wright, an 18-year-old Brooklyn College southpaw 6-1, 6-2.

Miss Bueno, eliciting "ohs" and "ahs" from the gallery, downed Mimi Arnold of Redwood City, Calif., the United States' No. 6 ranked woman, 6-2, 9-7.

Two Casualties Hit SHS Camp

Two casualties hit the Tiger grid camp over the weekend but neither occurred on the playing field.

The Tigers opened their full drills Friday with two players missing that had previously figured in the Bengal plans.

Jimmy Don Robinson, an end, and Charles Gladson, a center, both sophomores, were not among those reporting Friday.

Robinson is believed to be giving up football to devote more time to his studies while Gladson has been advised to sit out this season because of a pulled hip muscle he suffered playing baseball.

Both boys were fine prospects and their absence will be keenly felt this fall.

Meanwhile the Tigers went though two-a-day drills Friday and Saturday as they began preparations for their season opener with Borger here Sept. 12.

Most of the opening drills were centered around fundamentals with a little contact work mixed in.

The Tigers will hold two workouts Monday and then start single workouts daily Tuesday which is the opening of school.

Eighty-seven boys had reported to the high school grid camps that includes the varsity, "B" team and Freshman team.

College Gridsters Open Drills Monday

NEW YORK (AP)—College football gets down to the hard-knocks stage Monday of readying its controversial new look for the 1958 season.

It used to be that the start of autumn drills was simply the tell-tale sign that the season-opening kickoff was only two to three weeks away.

This year harried coaches will be faced with the dilemma the majority foresaw when the rules makers adopted the option of a two-point play following a touchdown.

This provides that a team can score two extra points if it can run or pass into the end zone from the opponent's 3-yard line after a touchdown. If a team prefers to go conservative, the old style placekick or dropkick from the three counts for one point.

Lions, Bears Clash In Dallas Friday

DALLAS (AP)—The kings of Texan - strewn Lions, come to town next week to battle the mighty Chicago Bears in an exhibition game.

It will be the eleventh pro game sponsored by the Dallas Salesmanship Club for the benefit of its Boys Camp. This one is due to endanger the record attendance set back in Doak Walker's days with the Lions.

It was in 1951 that 56,000 turned out to see Walker, the Southern Methodist great, lead the Lions to a 31-21 victory over the New York Giants.

Next Friday night when the Lions and Bears clash in the Cotton Bowl, more than 50,000 are due to be in the stands.

The Lions, world's champions last autumn, come to Dallas with a pre-season record of two victories and one loss. The Lions took a 35-19 thumping from the College All-Stars but beat the Cleveland Browns 17-7 and the Giants 26-7 in pro competition.

The Bears won their first two games of the exhibition schedule, whipping the Chicago Cardinals 24-7 and the Philadelphia Eagles 3-0.

BUCKIN' THE LINE

By BUCK FRANCIS
News Sports Editor

AT LEAST 15 OF THE 20 seniors on the Tiger football squad last season are going to attend college this fall which, we think, is very remarkable.

And it could be the other five are planning to further their education this fall at some college as we have been unable to contact them.

So, the ones we have been able to contact, the percentage is 100 of last year's seniors going to college this fall.

Four of the Tiger gridsters off the 1957 squad will continue their football careers this fall with one more still undecided.

Gaining football scholarships are tackle Bill Phillips at TCU, tackle Larry Mullins at Texas Tech, quarterback Dickie Martin at Texas Western and center Maxey Ware at Cisco Junior College.

End John Ward, who is Abilene Christian bound, may continue his grid career at ACC.

Two Gridders Going On Track Scholarships

Two other Tiger grid seniors last year gained athletic scholarships but in another sport. Halfback Bud Morgan and end Rex Wilson both won track scholarships.

Morgan, state low hurdles champ for the past two years, will attend North Texas State on a track scholarship while Wilson who won the state high hurdles crown last spring, has accepted a track scholarship at University of Texas.

University of Texas leads with most boys off the 1957 squad with three. In addition to Wilson, the others who'll continue their education at Texas are guard Bill Crowell and halfback James Barber, neither of whom will play football.

Three schools, Texas A & M, Hardin-Simmons and North Texas State, are the choice of two Tiger grid seniors. Halfback Gary Vice will join Morgan at North Texas and will play baseball if that school takes up the diamond sport next spring as it is contemplating on doing.

Guard James Patterson and quarterback Richard Newman are going to Hardin-Simmons and guard John Burris and fullback Eddie Dyer have chosen Texas A&M, all of whom will forego the grid sport in college.

Percentage Is High

Center Larry Page will attend Draughon's Electronic School in Lubbock.

The boys we've been unable to contact in regards to their college intentions are end Dwayne Merritt, tackle Jerry Davis, guard Bill Jennings and halfbacks James Vincent and Israel Hinojos.

Four Tiger athletes other than football players are also entering college this fall. Basketballer Leon Reed is headed for Cisco Junior College and baseballers Neil Boyd, David Hale and Carrol Wylie are going to North Texas State, East Texas Sate and Texas Tech respectively.

We doubt there's many schools if any, that can top the Tigers, percentagewise,in the number of seniors going to college.

Lowly Sens Knock Off Yankees Again

WASHINGTON (AP) — The cellar-dwelling Washington Senators knocked off the American League-leading New York Yankees for the second straight day Saturday. With 10,388 fans looking on and Vito Valentinetti and Dick Hyde collaborating in a six-hit pitching effort, the Senators won 3-1.

Valentinetti, a cast-off of Cleveland and Detroit earlier this season, made only his fifth start and lasted seven innings. The Yankees got all of their hits off him.

As a precaution, Senators Manager Cookie Lavagetto called in his brilliant relief specialist, Dick Hyde, to work the last two innings. The right-handed submariner mowed down the last six New Yorkers in success to record his 18th save of the year. He also has won nine and has been a key pitching figure in half of Washington's 54 victories.

The Senators, now only one game short of their entire 1957 victory total of 55, pecked out nine hits off Yankee pitchers Art Ditmar and Virgil Trucks.

Dallas Gal Open Resumes

DALLAS (AP)—The nation's greatest women golfers come here next week to resume a tournament that was halted by rain five months ago.

It's the $8,500 Dallas Open, which has drawn 24 of he top feminine players and which will feature a struggle for the lead in money winnings.

When the tournament was held last April the gals got in only one complete round, with Betsy Rawls, the Texan, and Alice Bauer tying for the lead with 1-under-par 70's. The next day they had to quit because of a terrific rain, but left with the understanding that they would return in August to play the thing over again.

The tournament opens next Thursday with a procter-pro in which each girl will pair with a man professional and two tournament sponsors. There will be $1,000 in prize money.

Heading the list of contenders here will be Fay Crocker, Louise Suggs, Beverly Hanson and Marlene Bauer Hagge, each with more than $10,000 in winnings this year.

Miss Rawls also will be here but Alice Bauer won't. She has gone home where her father is suffering from a heart attack.

Cubs Buy Hurler From Portland

CHICAGO (AP) — Right-handed pitcher John Buzhardt, 22, Saturday was bought by the Chicago Cubs from their Portland affiliate of the Pacific Coast League.

Buzhardt has a 7-10 record for Portland in 26 games, walking only 36 batters in 144 innings. In his last game, he blanked Spokane 3-0.

Gene Donovan, while battling W. F. Bailey Jr., in a match at the Salt Lake Country Club, dazzled his opponent with a birdie, 17th and 18th holes of the new course.

Gil Roesler, senior Army halfback, is also a hurdler and high jumper on the track team.

Utah Open Next On Tour

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—The $17,000 Utah Open beginning here Friday ought to be called the "sandwich tournament."

It's a thin slice of big time golf between seasoned dough, the $42,000 Vancouver open this weekend and the $25,000 Denver Open the following week.

But like all good sandwiches, it's the personal touch that counts.

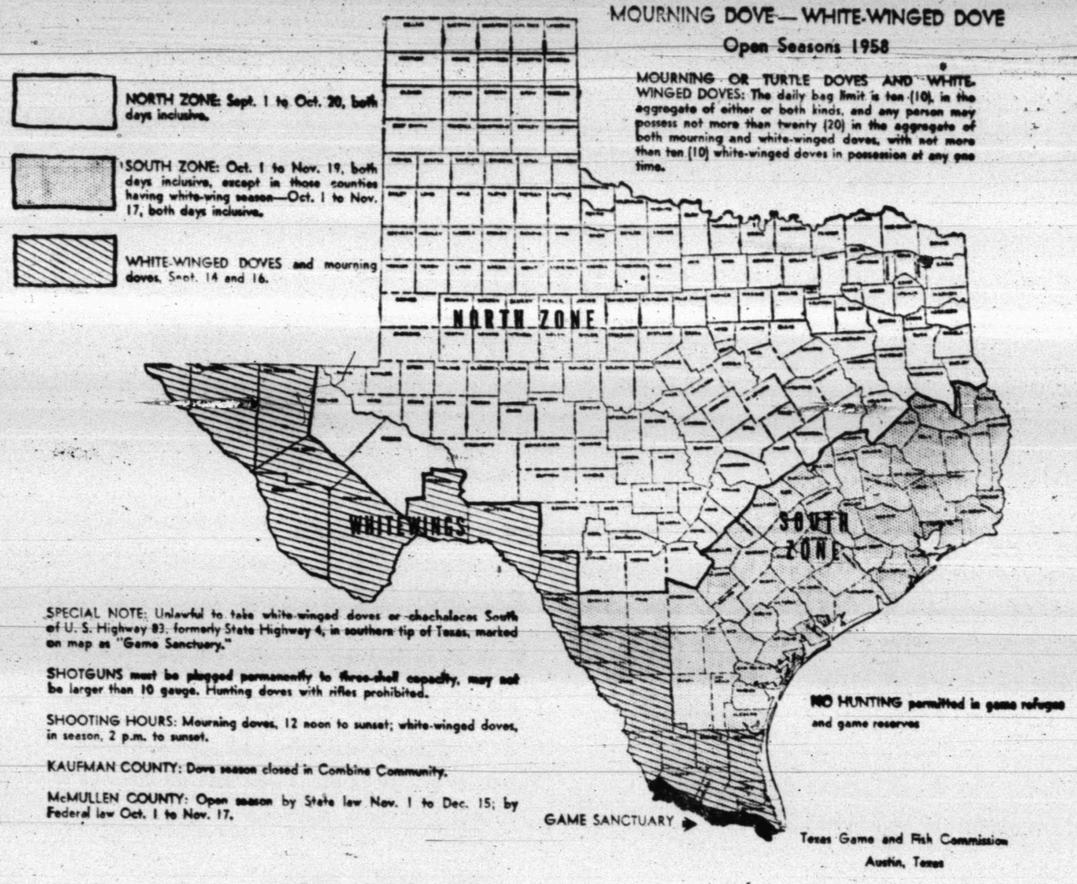
Knowing it might prove difficult to draw some of golfdom's top shooters to a low-price event between the Vancouver and Denver shows, Utah Golf Assn. President Steve Dunford and his tournament committee tried the direct contact method.

For the past several weeks they have been buttonholing big-name pros at tournaments in the Midwest, Canada and the West.

"How are you fixed for lodging in Salt Lake City? Now, here are some good places to eat. What about arrangements for your family? Anything at all we can do?"

It paid off and consequently some of the best will be at the Salt Lake Country Club for the 72-hole play starting Friday. The rounds continue through Monday.

Dunford & Co. has assurances the pack will be led by such as top money-winner Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa. The roster includes Jimmy Turnesa, Mike Souchak, Doug Ford, Gene Littler, Dick Mayer, Art Wall Jr., Billy Casper and Dow Finsterwald.



Braves Snap Back, Rip Pirates, 9-1

MILWAUKEE (AP) — Milwaukee's Lew Burdette beat back the menacing Pittsburgh Pirates Saturday with a double and a triple good for four runs and an effective 10-hit pitching job that added up to an armchair-easy 9-1 Braves' victory.

Burdette, with home run help from Frank Torre and Eddie Mathews, put the National League leading Braves 7 games ahead of the runnerup Pirates once again.

A County Stadium turnout of 28,648 witnessed Burdette's 16th triumph, his fifth in a row and ninth since the All-Star game. He has lost 9, including only 2 since the inter-league classic.

Curt Raydon, an ex-Braves' farmhand, was shelled from the mound in the third when Milwaukee registered six runs. He absorbed the loss, his fourth against seven victories.

Pittsburgh, which left eight runners stranded, notched its lone run off Burdette in the fifth on a pair of singles, a forceout and Bob Skinner's double.

Orioles Rap Red Sox, 7-2

BOSTON (AP)—Baltimore rookie Milt Pappas needed one-pitch relief from Billy O'Dell Saturday as he held Boston to seven hits en route to a 7-2 triumph by the Orioles.

Homers by Foster Castleman and Bob Nieman were the chief supporting blows while Jim Busby provided the field gems.

Pappas was lifted after Pete Runnels doubled home Boston's second run with two out in the ninth. Southpaw O'Dell was summoned from the bullpen and on the first pitch Gene Stephens tapped meekly back to the mound.

Pappas, a right-hander from Detroit, did not allow a hit for 4 two-thirds innings. Then successive singles by Pete Daley, pinch-hitter Bill Renna and Don Buddin produced a Red Sox run.

Busby, who was inserted in center field to tighten the defense midway in the contest, pulled Pappas out of jams in the seventh and eighth innings.

GOOD CROP SEEN

Dove Season Opens Tomorrow

AUSTIN, Aug. 30 —Dove hunters open the season in the North Zone of Texas Monday, Sept. 1, with one of the best crops of doves in years, according to the director of law enforcement of the Game & Fish Commission. The South Zone will open one month later, except in the Rio Grande Valley counties where white-winged and mourning doves may be shot on Sept. 14 and 16, from 2 p.m. until sunset.

The director gave a few warnings for shooters:

Be sure you have your new 1958-59 hunting license, on sale with wardens, sporting goods stores and county clerks.

Shooting starts at 12 noon and ends at sunset. Be sure to check your time and don't shoot by moonlight.

The limit is 10 doves per day. After the first day you may have 20 mourning doves in your possession. This doesn't mean you can put 20 in the deep freeze and then go out and kill another daily limit.

Be sure to get permission from landowners for hunting on their property. You can be arrested for trespassing.

Don't shoot across roads, highways or public property. Stay off of wildlife refuges.

Your gun must be plugged to hold not more than two shells in the magazine and one in the chamber—three shots in all.

Look before you shoot. A charge of bird shot in a man's face has a way of irritating him.

Don't shoot from an automobile. Wardens will get you in a hurry.

If you are inclined to be careless, check your life insurance policy.

Redlegs Bop Phils, 12-3

CINCINNATI (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs, whose hitting has been on the puny side most of the season, clubbed Philadelphia pitchers for 16 hits Saturday and an easy 12-3 victory.

Frank Robinson got four hits for the Cincinnatians and drove in three runs. Jerry Lynch and Pete Whisenant also drove in three tallies each. Whisenant and Walt Dropo each got home runs for the Redlegs while Wally Post and Harry Anderson clubbed circuit blows for the Phils.

The victory stretched Cincinnati's sixth-place margin over the Phils to 2½ games.

Tom Acker, taken out for a pinch hitter when the Redlegs came from behind in a five-run sixth inning, was credited with the victory. Reliever Brooks Lawrence's job was made easy when Cincinnati climbed on John Anderson for six more runs in the seventh.

Robinson and Lynch were the heroes of the Redlegs' big sixth. They each drove in a pair of runs.

Lary Hurls, Bats Tigers Past Chisox

CHICAGO (AP) — Frank Lary, slender right-hander, pitched and batted the Detroit Tigers to a 6-3 decision over the Chicago White Sox Saturday. In recording his 14th victory Lary hit his first home run of the year and two singles to pace an 11-hit Tiger attack.

Harvey Kuenn, who made one hit in four times at bat in his bid for the individual batting championship, injured his right arm sliding into second base and was forced to leave the game. The injury was not considered serious.

Russia 10 Years Off In Tennis Campaign

FOREST HILLS, N. Y. (AP)—The Soviet Union is turning out tennis players on an assembly line basis but won't be a serious Davis Cup contender for at least 10 years, Fred Perry said Saturday.

"They are very enthusiastic over the game and determined to make good," said the former world net king from Britain, "but tennis is different than track or swimming or some of the other things in which the Russians excel."

Perry was brought in by Russia to install a big scale tennis program. He spent 18 days behind the Iron Curtain last summer, and is slated to return soon to see how the program is progressing.

New CC Pro Here Assumes Duties

BOB HENDERSON
. . .new Country Club pro

Bob Henderson, a golf professional of less than a year, has taken over the pro duties at Snyder Country Club.

Henderson, 28, succeeds Shanty Hogan as the local pro.

Henderson comes to Snyder from the new Country Club course in Sweetwater. He had served as assistant pro at the Sweetwater course since its opening last December. It was at that time that Henderson turned pro.

Prior to joining the pro ranks in golf, Henderson had been associated with the Santa Fe Railroad for 10 years.

Henderson was reared in Santa Anna in Coleman County. He graduated from Santa Anna High School in 1947.

Upon graduation from high school, Henderson went to work for Santa Fe at Brownwood. He served four years with the railroad company at Brownwood before being transferred to Sweetwater in 1951.

Henderson continued with Santa Fe until taking the assistant pro's job at the new Sweetwater Country Club last December.

Henderson has been competing in amateur tournaments throughout the West Texas area the past several years.

The Snyder Country Club course isn't new to Henderson. Bob competed in the invitational tournament here last year and advanced to the finals in the First Flight before losing to Buster Tuttle of Lamesa.

Henderson competed in football and baseball at Santa Anna High School, making Honorable Mention fullback his senior year. Henderson was a first baseman in baseball.

Henderson, upon taking over the pro duties here, said:

"I'm glad to be associated with the Snyder Country Club and already I have met a lot of fine people here.

"I'd like to take this opportunity to invite all persons in this area interested in golf to come out and see us."

Henderson, his wife, the former Miss Betty Ann McCaughan of Santa Anna, and their three children, Diane, 8; Elizabeth, 6; and Rob, 5; moved into their home at the Country Club late last week.

Virginia Palmer, Davie Floyd Wed In Double Ring Vows Read Friday

The Thirty - seventh Street Church of Christ was the setting for the marriage of Virginia Lou Palmer and Davie Keith Floyd Friday evening at 8 o'clock.

C. Dale Brooks, minister, read the double ring ceremony before a setting of white mums, gypsophilia and candelabras with white tapers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Palmer, 123 Twentieth Place. The bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ennis Floyd, 1000 Thirty - first Street.

Given in marriage by her father the bride wore a gown of lace and chiffon over satin. Her veil was of French illusion.

Her bridal bouquet was a purple orchid surrounded by tiny white carnations.

Carolyn Sue Palmer attended her sister as maid of honor. Her gown was of pink silk organza and she carried pink carnations.

Janis Ragsdale and Clovis Ann Terry were bridesmaids. Their gowns were of blue silk organza and they carried pink carnations.

A reception was held in the home of the bride's parents. The bridesmaids bouquets centered the lace laid table. Janis Ragsdale presided at the three tiered wedding cake. Clovis Terry registered guests.

Make Quick Summer Meals

In the summer, a family can get hungrier and demand food quicker than at any other time of the year, believes the Texas Beef Council.

During busy vacation schedules homemakers may find themselves doubling as short-order cooks, when they have neither the time nor the inclination to spend meal-preparation hours in the kitchen.

"Minute Beef Steaks" are thin slices of round, flank, or other steak processed by a machine which takes the place of old-fashioned "pounding." Served either as an entree or as a sandwich filling, they are deliciously nourishing, and require something less than 10 minutes in the kitchen.

To serve five: Dredge 5 "Minute" steaks with flour. Brown on both sides in cooking oil or drippings. Season with salt and pepper and fry at moderate temperature until done, turning occasionally. Allow 4 to 6 minutes for cooking.

Take the left overness out of yesterdays rolls. Just place them on heavy aluminum foil, sprinkle generously with milk and wrap tightly. Heat in oven until warm. Remove from foil and serve on warm platter. Presto! Fresh rolls.

SADIE FERN HILLIS

Saddie Fern Hillis Named Gold Star 4-H Club Girl

Sadie Fern Hillis of the Plainview 4-H Club was named Scurry County's Gold Star Girl for 1958 by a judging committee Wednesday.

Miss Hillis, 17, will be a junior student at the Hermleigh High School this year.

The judging committee was composed of Mrs. Howard Hogue, chairman of Triple E committee of the Home Demonstration Council; Mrs. Wayland Mathis, a 4-H leader; Betty Pylant, last year's Gold Star winner and Barbara Floyd.

Miss Hillis is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Hillis.

Miss Ruby Butts, county home demonstration agent, took the committee to visit the homes of the three girls selected as nominees for the Gold Star Award. Each girl was asked to show as much as possible of her work to judges in the 40-minute period alloted.

This is the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hillis to receive the Gold Star Award. Betty Hillis won the award in 1953, Alma Nell Hillis in 1955 and now Sadie Fern. The award is presented each year by the Texas A&M College to the most outstanding 4-H girl and boy in the county.

Miss Hillis has been in 4-H work six years, has canned 303 jars of food, prepared 178 meals aside from baking many pies, breads, cookies and cakes. She is well accustomed to making all kinds of candies.

She is very active in housework, washing ironing and the many other chores that need to be done around a farm home. Sadie Fern is not only interested in canning vegetables but in growing them. She planted vegetables and cared for them.

The lawn and shrubs at the Hillis home are as pretty as you see in the city, due to Sadie Fern's care and special attention.

Miss Hillis has raised chickens and lambs in previous years but did not participate in the livestock and poultry project the past two years.

For the past four years she has been a junior clothing leader as well as making 120 garments for herself. She has done some sewing for friends to make money to invest in her other needs and projects. She has won one blue and five red ribbons in dress reviews. She now has 40 ribbons won in 4-H competition.

She is president of the Plainview 4-H Club this year and has held the positions of reporter two years and secretary one. She has made three radio broadcasts, one television appearance and written 34 articles to be published in the local newspaper concerning 4-H work.

Miss Hillis has attended all of the camps held in the county and has attended district meetings and participated in team and individual competition, each time returning with a prize ribbon. Besides her ribbons she has sweepstake ribbons, a gardening pin, clothing metal, canning pin, and a beautification of home grounds metal.

Miss Hillis said "I have thoroughly enjoyed the experiences I have had as a 4-H Club member, and learned a great deal that I could not have learned if I had not been in 4-H. I shall always strive to follow the 4-H motto: 'To make the best better'. It has been a great honor for me to have been chosen the Gold Star 4-H Girl of Scurry County for 1958".

Other nominees for the award were Eudera House daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Travis House, south of Ira. Miss House has nine ribbons, medals and an outstanding girl locket to her credit. She has been active in home improvement in such ways as papering, varnishing, laying linoleum and making curtains.

Clothing is another favorite project, and she has made 32 pieces since January and 69 in her six years of 4-H work. This does not include three quilts she has made.

Miss House has prepared 625 packages of fruit and vegetables for freezing and canned 42 jars of food. When not in school Eudera prepares the noon and evening meals.

Other work includes raising chickens and turkeys and she has bought two calves.

Helen Stirl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Stirl of the Lone Wolf community was the other nominee. Miss Stirl has won two dress review pins, canning and freezing food awards, a locket for the outstanding girl and a certificate of completion of 4-H work.

Helen has 43 garments and 52 articles of sewing to her credit. She has baked 274 products and helps with the family meals. In her vegetable work she has canned 137 quarts of food and prepared 351 for freezing. She has also helped in raising the products she has prepared.

She has worked on yard improvements around the home. Miss Stirl was on the committee who planned the dress review recently. She has six years of leadership credit as well as leadership marks in recreation at camp, crafts and at district camp. She has held such offices as food leader one year, clothing leader three years, reporter vice-president, and secretary of her club.

MRS. BILLY SAM HOUSTON

Phyllis Ann Lockhart, Billy Houston Wed In Seminole Baptist Church

The First Baptist Church of Seminole was the setting for the Saturday evening marriage of Miss Phyllis Ann Lockhart and Billy Sam Houston of Hermleigh.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Lockhart Seminole are parents of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Sam Houston, Hermleigh are parents of the bridegroom.

The Rev. H. D. Christian read the doublering ceremony at 7 p.m. amid baskets of white gladiolis and candelabras holding white tapers. The pews occupied by the parents were marked by white satin bows.

Celest Golden rendered organ music and accompanied Mrs. Janeil Argian who sang "Through the Years", "Walk Hand in Hand" and "The Wedding Prayer".

The bride given in marriage by her father wore a gown of Chantilly type lace over net and taffeta. Designed with a Sabrina neckline the fitted bodice had long sleeves ending in points over the hands, and terminted with a point at the centerfront waistline. The voluminous floor length skirt was made of tulle and was highlighted by full length panels of lace flowing to the hemline. She carried white carnations on a white Bible. Her finger-tip veil fell from a crown-like terria.

Mrs. Alfred Sims of Seminole and sister of the bride, served as matron of honor. She wore a pale pink street-length dress of embroidered cotton satin, with a Sabrina neckline and full skirt. She wore a headpiece of pink satin bows and carried a nosegay of pink roses. Lloma Poe of Abilene, attended as bridesmaid and wore a gown identical to the matron of honors.

Bill Voss of Hermleigh served as best man and Bobby Hayworth of Big Spring was groomsman.

A reception following their ceremony in the home of the brides parents, 408 Avenue H, Northwest. Receiving guests were the bride's mother, the grooms parents, and the bride's attendants.

Dawn Dahlofer presided at the register and Jan Briggs served punch. Mrs. Richard Hardin, sister of the groom presided at the cake, assisted by Mrs. B. T. Baggett, Mrs. J. C. Chancellor and Mrs. O. T. White.

The table was laid with white accented by pink net and bows and was centered with the attendants nosegays.

Big Season For Hollywood Entertainers

HOLLYWOOD (AP—Entertainment is booming in the show business capital of the world.

Never can I remember so much prime entertainment of all kinds in the Hollywood area. And the public is buying. If this prosperity can be continued and spread throughout the nation, show biz need have no worries.

The Hollywood Bowl is finishing a record season that has offered everything to all audiences, longhairs and crewcuts.

The Greek Theater, once a civic white elephant, has been booming this season. Maurice Chevalier, Danny Kaye, Jose Greco, Cyril Ritchard, the ballet and now Jerry Lewis have proved to be surefire attractions.

That fabulous invalid, the theater, is booming. Eve Arden breezed into town as "Auntie Mame" and she'll have one of the longest runs in recent times at the Biltmore.

Half a block away at the Philharmonic Auditorium, "The Music Man" is displaying his brassy ware nightly to packed houses.

Disneyland, Pacific Ocean Park and Marineland are doing great.

And don't leave the movie business out of the picture. Hollywood is bringing up its biggest guns to aim for the late-summer trade.

Last weekend, Gregory Peck tossed a party to celebrate his "Big Country" premiere and it looked as if the old days had returned to Hollywood. The picture was worth it. A Western in the truly epic tradition, it is movie making at its best.

There are others too: "Cat on a Hot Tin Roof," a fine, taut drama with superb acting; "Reluctant Debutante," all fluff and delightful; "The Defiant Ones," a return to tight, meaningful storytelling; "White Wilderness," a Disney delight; "The Hunters," a jet film, etc.

On that optimistic note, I'll take off for a fortnight to rest up for the opening of the fall show biz season.

GETTING A LIFT — Paul Anderson, 235-pound Olympic weightlifting champion, gives a lift to comedy writer and director Hal Kanter on the set of "Once Upon a Horse," which stars Dan Rowan, left, and Dick Martin. Rowan and Martin, already stars of the night club circuit and of television, will make their movie debut in the picture.

Contest Losers Make Stars

By JAMES BACON
AP Motion Picture Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—It's nice to win a beauty contest but it's better to lose—if you want to become a movie star.

The history of beauty contest winners has been dismal in Hollywood, but losers go on to stardom. Take Vera Miles, who lost out in the Miss America contest some years back. Even she can't remember the name of the girl who won the year she entered.

In the recent Miss Universe contest, Evy Norlund as Miss Denmark wasn't one of the five finalists. Yet she is the one of the 79 international beauties who wound up with a movie contract.

Max Arrow, talent director at Columbia Pictures, watched the telecast of the Long Beach beauty pageant. It was a miniature screen test for the 20-year-old Evy.

Arnow had a look at another beauty contest loser a few years ago. He took her to the late Harry Cohn and urged that she be signed. That was Kim Novak.

He has the same feeling about Evy—also a blonde. She's getting the same buildup that Kim got four years ago. Columbia even fixed her up with a room at the nearby Studio Club, the YWCA-like habitat that Kim called home even after she reached stardom.

Evy's selection for a contract indicated a trend in Hollywood beauty, especially as it relates to box office. A few years ago, every new starlet signed by a studio could roughly fall into two categories. Either she was a Marilyn Monroe type or a Grace Kelly type.

Evy, a shapely blonde with an intriguing accent, is a Scandinavian Brigitte Bardot. The Bardot category is a blending of the Kelly-Monroe types with that added something that only foreign girls have.

Evy had no dramatic training before Columbia signed her. The daughter of an architect, she was a top fashion model in Copenhagen when she won out over several hundred girls for the Miss Denmark title.

"I didn't think I would ever get to the United States as a tourist but here I am under contract to a big movie studio. It's incredible," she said.

But then, how many tourists look like Brigitte Bardot?

Stewart's Wife Is Catching All Fish

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Jimmy Stewart made a fisherman out of his wife—and it's very embarrassing. She's getting all the big ones.

The lanky actor interrupted a deep sea fishing trip this week to start production on "The FBI Story."

"For once I was glad to quit fishing and start a picture," he says. The reason: While Jimmy was hauling in puny mackerel, Mrs. Stewart was hooking giant marlin.

"Last year we were in Acapulco," Stewart tells," and Gloria hooked a 12-foot sailfish, fought him for awhile — with no assistance from me — and then landed him all by herself.

"So far we haven't found a wall wide enough to hang it—and the fish, thank heavens, is down in the basement where I'm not reminded of it.

"But Gloria is talking about adding a trophy room onto the house so we can hang that fish on the wall. And I taught her how to fish!"

There is a difference in working hours between U. S. Congress and the Canadian House of Commons in Ottawa. Congress meets at noon. In Canada the Commons take a longer lunch, usually meets in mid-afternoon—but, it does not stop work until about about midnight.

Broadway Slated To Add Oriental Touch

By WILLIAM GLOVER

NEW YORK (AP)—Broadway is launching its new show season with a new boxoffice lure—Oriental excitement.

By odd coincidence, three producers have seized upon Far East themes for major Broadway enterprise. The exotic trend highlights a crowded theatrical agenda.

Every available theater has been leased. Some shows have been postponed because of the congestion.

The projects of Far East allure are "the World of Susie Wong" and "The Flower Drum Song," both based upon best-seller novels, and "Rashomon," being adapted from a smash Japanese movie.

An additional Oriental note may be provided if plans materialize for staging of "Kataki," a drama about World War II Japan seen earlier by TV fans as "The Sea is Boiling Hot."

Among the stars set to light up Broadway's sky between now and spring will be Helen Hayes, Tallulah, Bankhead, Paul Muni, Eli Wallach, Dorothy Gish, Barry Sullivan, Sam Levene, Charles Boyer, Claudette Colbert, Joseph Cotten.

Television is sending along Arlene Francis, Imogene Coca, Tom Poston and Rod Steiger.

Particularly provocative play prospects include "J.B.," by Archibald MacLeish; "Epitaph for George Dillon," Broadway's third script from England's angry young man, John Osborne; and "A Touch of the Poet," another posthumously published Eugene O'Neill drama.

In the musical comedy division, the big news is return to creation and production of Richard Rodgers and Oscar Hammerstein II after several seasons of silence, with "The Flower Drum Song."

London's Old Vic company is stopping by with a Shakespearean repertory after a national tour, while France's Theatre National Populaire will be making an initial visit.

Scheduled Broadway arrivals are as follows:

"Howie," a comedy about a TV quiz whiz, Sept. 17; "A Swim in the Sea," drama, Sept. 30; "Handful of Fire," another drama, Oct. 1; "A Touch of the Poet," Oct. 2; "Drink to Me Only," a courtroom comedy, Oct. 8.

The season's first musical "Goldilocks," music by Leroy Anderson, text by Walter and Jean Kerr, Oct. 9; "The World of Suzie Wong," Drama, Oct. 14; French Theater Troupe, Oct. 14; "The Girls in 509," comedy, Oct. 14; "Make a Million," another TV lampoon, Oct. 16.

"Once More — With Feeling," Comedy, Oct. 21; "The Pleasure of His Company," comedy, Oct. 22; "Epitaph for George Dillon," drama, Oct. 22; "Patate," comedy Oct. 28; "The Marriage-Go-Round," comedy, Oct. 29; "The Man in the Dog Suit," whimsy, Oct. 30

"Crazy October," comedy, Nov. 3; "La Plume de Ma Tante," revue, Nov. 3; "Comes a Day," Nov. 6; "The Flower Drum Song," musical, Nov. 27; "The Cold Wind and the Warm," drama, Dec. 4; Old Vic company, Dec. 9; "Whoop Up," musical, Dec. 18.

Former Star Back To Resume Career

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Mrs. Horace Dodge is back in town to resume her acting career.

The former Gregg Sherwood was a Hollywood starlet five years ago and had just signed for a role in the movie "Sudden Fear." She married the automobile heir instead and the part went to Gloria Grahame, who got an Oscar nomination.

Kaye Recalls Jerry Lewis' Struggle To Get To Top

HOLLYWOOD (AP — Irving Kaye read the other day that Jerry Lewis grossed seven million dollars in one year from television, movies, night clubs and records.

"Well," said Kaye, "that's $700,000 I lost this year."

And he's right.

Irving has been with Jerry all the comic's show-business life—18 years. In fact, Irving was entertainment director at a borscht belt resort when a gangling busboy pleaded for a chance to entertain the guests. The busboy was Jerry.

From the Catskills, Irving took Jerry on the road with him.

"I remember one night in Buffalo," recalls Irving. "We were sitting in a $2.50 a night hotel room. Jerry was making funny faces and mouthing words to phonograph records in the show. I think he earned $80 a week at best.

"He was just a kid but he was grateful for the chance I gave him. He said then: 'Irving, someday I'm going to be a big star in the big money.'

"I told him he'd have to change his act, forget about mouthing phonograph records. He agreed and said he wanted to show his gratitude. He wrote on a piece of paper and handed it to me."

The paper read: "I promise to pay Irving Kaye 10 per cent of my income when I become a big star. (signed Jerry Lewis."

Kaye kept the paper a little while and then tore it up.

But Irving doesn't have to worry. Jerry has taken care of him for life with a job and an annuity. He's one of the comedian's television assistants.

It's a hilarious relationship. Once in New York, the two took a taxi for a short trip. Irving paid the fare and asked Jerry how much he should tip.

Jerry kiddingly said $30 and walked away. A few weeks later, Irving put in an expense account: cab fare 75 cents, tip $30. Kaye had given the big tip.

High Theater Tab Blamed For Slump

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Director Jesse Hibbs lays the blame for the current slump in the movie business directly on the high cost of theater admissions.

Hibbs says that if the distributors and the exhibitors could get together on what he calls a fair price the public would get the movie habit again.

He cites first run movies showing in the Los Angeles area for admissions that range from $1.80 to $3.30.

"It's just too expensive for a movie," he argues.

Roast Potatoes

Roast and toast for tastiness. Fork whole, unpeeled potatoes and tightly wrap each in heavy duty foil. Place in moderately hot coals to cook for about 1 hour, turning every 10 minutes. Foil wrapping and forking is necessary to prevent potato from burning and to give a good "baked-potato" flavor. Roasting on top of grill may be done, allowing more time. Check often. To wrap: Lay potato on sheet of foil and use a pharmacists fold, ends folded together. Close by twisting open edges.
