New Orleans Blasted By Gulf Storm

(By The Associated Press)

NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 4 — A gulf hurricane smashed its fury against New Orleans shortly after dawn today and blew on into Mississippi a milder gale.

No fatalities or injuries were reported in New Orleans or in its wake along the south Louisiana coast northward to the city.

At the storm's peak winds attained a steady 75-miles an hour with gusts of 90 miles whipping Moisant International airport, 12 miles west of the city.

Damage Less Than $100,000

After a preliminary survey, Mayor deLesseps Morrison estimated damage at less than $100,000. In the business district the winds ripped some signs from their moorings and broke a few plate glass windows. Most downtown stores closed for the day. In residential sections, a few frame structures were wrecked, trees uprooted, and a few power lines blown down.

Nearly seven inches of rain that accompanied the storm flooded streets in some areas. And the wind-whipped water of Lake Pontchartrain splashed over protecting seawalls at the Bucktown community where New Orleans and Jefferson parish (county) to the west join on the lake front.

Residents Evacuated

Residents of the community were evacuated and housed in the nearby municipal yacht harbor building. About 2,000 other residents in some other low-lying communities left their homes for a night of shelter in the city auditorium.

Several boats in the yacht harbor were sunk or damaged.

The center, or "eye," of the hurricane passed over New Orleans about 6:15 a. m., (CST) and lasted an hour and a half. Thereafter winds renewed with force up to 65 miles an hour, but quickly died down. A drizzling rain followed, but by mid-morning the sun was shining.

The storm's first strike on the coast was at Grand Isle, a resort community about 60-miles south of New Orleans. Only minor damage was reported to four beach camps. Waves whipped over sec-

Tech Officials Assume Posts

By OPAL DIXON
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

GETTING acquainted with the operation of Texas Technological college holds primary interest of both the new president, Dr. D. M. Wiggins, and the first vice president in the history of the college, Dr. Edward N. Jones.

The two executives met in the president's office Saturday afternoon for their first conference after taking their offices at the college.

To Make Several Talks

No setting of policies will take place until after they have become better acquainted and studied needs and conditions, they said.

Dr. Wiggins, who arrived in Lubbock Thursday afternoon, said Saturday afternoon, "I have spent two days in meeting deans and members of the staff, chatting with them about problems particularly pertinent to opening of the fall semester."

He already has scheduled several speaking engagements during September. He will make his first public appearance as official representative of Texas Tech Tuesday, when he will address the Rotary club of Seagraves.

Glad To Assume Duties

His first speaking engagement in Lubbock is scheduled for Friday noon, when he will address the American Business club at Hilton hotel.

Thursday night, Sept. 16, he will address the Rotary club at Little-

Lubbock Schools To Open Tuesday

The doors of 19 schools will open in Lubbock Tuesday morning to what is expected to be another record enrollment for the Lubbock Public school system.

Actually, only 16 doors will be opened, since work is not yet complete on two schools, J. T. Hutchinson Junior High and Overton Elementary school, and the old Junior High building, now named Carroll Thompson Junior High, also houses Central Ward school. But, 19 separate administrative units are set up for as many separate schools in the Lubbock system this year.

The number of pupils reporting on Tuesday is expected to exceed 7,964 who enrolled during the first day of the 1947-48 term, but no one was willing to predict how large the increase would be.

Superintendent R. W. Matthews asked people living in rural districts or on bus routes to send their children to the school on their bus route, or, if they wished to furnish private transportation, that they register in the nearest school to their home. Following a check of enrollment, possibly by the end of the first week, transfers may be given into districts which are not crowded, Matthews said.

Cafeterias are to be open on Tuesday in the following schools: George R. Bean, Dupre, K. Carter,

Schuman Still Attempting To Form New French Government

PARIS, Sunday, Sept. 5. (AP)—A new French cabinet was still in the process of being formed early today.

Although an aide of Premier-designate Robert Schuman had said earlier the cabinet would be formed within an hour, no official announcement had been made by 5:30 a. m. Paris time.

Schuman's aides said the premier himself probably also would serve as foreign minister.

States' Rights Political Rally Planned

Gov. Thurmond Will Visit City Thursday

GOV. J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina, presidential nominee of the States' Rights Democrats will arrive in Lubbock Thursday afternoon for a visit and a major political rally in his campaign for the presidency, it was announced here Saturday night.

Accompanying Gov. Thurmond will be Gov. Ben Laney of Arkansas, another States' Rights leader, and a group of approximately 18 other persons, including members of the National Committee of the Southern Demo group.

The announcement that Gov. Thurmond would be the principal speaker for a South Plains States' Rights political rally was made by former Lieut. Gov. John Lee Smith of Lubbock, who received notification of the group's plans early Saturday night in a telegram.

Smith said that the Southern Demo delegation would arrive at Municipal airport about 3:30 p.m. Thursday and would be escorted to a suite of rooms at the Hilton hotel. Conferences with local and area States' Rights leaders will be held as well as a dinner to honor Gov. Thurmond and his party, Smith said. It is believed the group will arrive in a private plane.

Large Turnout Seen

Site of the rally and Gov. Thurmond's talk, which had been tentatively announced the past week from Houston, will be announced later, Smith said.

The visit and rally by the South Carolina governor is expected to attract a large crowd, he being the first presidential candidate to visit Lubbock. There have been reports that others might visit this section, particularly GOP nominee Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York. The talk by Gov. Thurmond in Lubbock will be one of two major addresses he will make in Texas on this visit to the state, Smith said. The Dixiecrat leader is slated

Grain Storage Problem Aired

By A. B. SLAGLE
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Grain storage, the problem that must be answered before farmers can take advantage of the government loan under the price support program, was aired from several angles in a meeting at the courthouse here Saturday afternoon, and it appeared that it is going to be up to the individual farmer to provide storage, probably on the farm.

D. W. Sherrill, county agent, who with Walter Y. Wells of the PMA county office, sponsored the meeting, told the group that practically no public storage will be available, and that a partial survey reveals that only two in ten farmers in this county will have adequate storage on the farm.

Cooperation Pledged

Sherrill believes that permanent storage can be built almost with the difference between market price for the grain, and the loan price, and later in the meeting drew cost estimates from material supply representatives, along with pledges of co-operation from lending agencies.

The county agent suggested that the buildings could be for combination use—for grain storage

Mantz Wins Bendix Air Race Third Time

CLEVELAND, Sept. 4 (AP)—Nattily dressed for the occasion, Paul Mantz of the movies flew the hottest Bendiz race in 18 years today to become the only three-time winner of the cross-country classic.

His average speed of 447.980 miles an hour was about 13 miles an hour slower than the record time he made a year ago.

The Bendix, over a 2045-mile course from Long Beach, Calif., is a race against time. And today only one minute 19 seconds separated the first and third places.

Linton B. Carney, of Houston, using the plane Mantz won with twice, came in a close second with an average speed of 446.112 miles an hour. Jacqueline Cochran, only woman winner of the Bendix and second in 1946, finished third with 445.847 MPH.

Fourth place went to Edmund T. Lunken, of Cincinnati, Ohio, who averaged 441.594 MPH. Fifth and last place was handed to Jesse F. Stallings, of Nashville, Tenn., flying a British mosquito bomber, the only foreign plane in the race.

The Bendix is the traditional opening day feature of the National Air races. This year something new was to be added — an attempt at a new world speed record by an Air Force North American F-86 jet fighter. Poor visibility caused postponement until Sunday, however.

THOUSANDS FLEE VOLCANO

MANILA, Sunday, Sept. 5 (AP)—The main port of Camiguin was abandoned today and two villages were buried under a sea of rock and lava by a self-destroying volcano which is in eruption for the fifth day. An estimated 30,000 Filipinos already have fled the southern Philippines island. The remainder, estimated at 15,000 were fearfully awaiting rescue.

Allies Seeking Two Rail Links With Berlin

By OMER ANDERSON
INS Staff Correspondent

BERLIN, Sept. 4 — The Western Allies were reported tonight to have proposed western control of two of the main railroads linking Berlin with the west.

This presumably would be in return for allied agreement to recognize the Soviet "east mark," under four power control, as Berlin's only legal currency.

Allied sources said the "surprise" railroad proposal, which automatically would end the Soviet land blockade of Berlin's western sectors, was presented at today's session of the "big four" Berlin talks.

Currency Talks Snagged

Currency negotiations among the four military governors was said to have bogged down because of reported Soviet refusal to give iron-clad guarantees of four-power control if the "east mark" is accepted.

German Communists, with Soviet backing, were reported organizing "action committees" in their attempts to win control of the entire former German capital.

Die Neue Zeitung, organ of the U. S. military government, said that Soviet Berlin actions outside of the conference room are "making a mockery" of Soviet protestations in the talks. It added:

Offer to Restore Tracks

"There is no sign that the Soviets will desist from their attempts to conquer Berlin and open the way for the sole sovereignty over all Germany."

The allied railroad proposals were said to have been made in the form of an offer to restore double tracking on the Berlin-Marienborn and Berlin-Obisfelde lines if the second tracks are "internationalized" and placed under exclusive western control.

The Russians when the war ended, tore up the second tracks on both lines, badly crippling traffic and furnishing a pretext for stringent Soviet "control" regulations.

Reliable sources said the Russians expressed willingness to have the western powers double-track

Labor Outlook Remains Dark

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4. (AP)—Annoying dark clouds drifted suddenly into the industrial horizon this Labor Day weekend as the nation prepared to observe the annual holiday Monday.

There had been rumblings of thunder, but most of the forecasts were optimistic. And then a maritime strike broke loose on the West coast and AFL teamsters struck in New York City.

Within 48 hours, 16,000 CIO-Oil Workers walked off the job in nine major California refineries. Little progress toward settlement was reported in any of them.

REV. FRED LAMBERT INJURED

Lubbock Pastor Is Seriously Hurt In Car-Train Collision

THE REV. FRED LAMBERT, 38, pastor of Eastside Baptist church, who suffered severe injuries at 1:52 p. m. Saturday afternoon when his car was struck by a freight train at a crossing 75 feet north of Fifteenth street on Avenue A, was reported still unconscious at 12:15 a. m. today in Lubbock Memorial hospital where he was taken for emergency treatment.

He was driving alone at the time of the accident.

Lambert's car, a 1939 Chevrolet tudor, was struck on the left rear side by the freight, spun around and thrown free of the railroad tracks. Police patrolman D. O. Christesson, who investigated the wreck, estimated the freight to be some 25 to 30 cars in length. Lambert was driving south and the freight, which was coming into Lubbock from Slaton, was travelling northwest.

Suffers Concussion

Santa Fe officials said C. B. Tefertiller, of Slaton, was engineer of the Clovis bound "red ball" freight that was involved in the accident. They estimated the engine was pulling 75 or 80 freight cars at the time of the mishap.

Emergency treatment at Lubbock Memorial hospital, where the patient was taken by a Rix Funeral home ambulance, revealed a 2-inch cut near the right ear, a 2-inch cut of the left forehead, a tiny cut on the left knee, a serious brain concussion and a possible skull fracture.

Several X-ray pictures were taken at the hospital, but results had not been announced.

Car Damaged Heavily

Pilice said that damage to Lambert's car was heavy.

Lambert moved to Lubbock May 1 from Gomez, Texas with his wife and one-year-old daughter, Mary Gayle. He is a graduate of Howard Payne college, Brownwood in the class of 1946.

At 1:25 p. m., at Broadway and Ave. Q, Robert M. Adair, 23, of 2619 Twenty-seventh, suffered what police said were "slight injuries" when his car and one driven by Mrs. Lillie McKinzie Burlison, 56, of 2315 Sixteenth were in collision. Police said they gave Mrs. Burlison a ticket to appear on a charge of "running a red light."

Two Other Wrecks Probed

A 27-year-old Lubbock electrician was jailed Saturday afternoon to face driving while intoxicated charges following an automobile accident on Nineteenth street. Police said that the Lubbock man's pickup truck smash-

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

SUDAN, Sept. 4 — Celebrating the imminent arrival of fall and the harvest season, approximately 2,500 residents of Sudan and the surrounding area today took part in a widely varied program ending the second day of Sudan's third annual Fall Festival.

High point of the celebration was a parade through the business district displaying colorful floats, bands and horsemen, as well as comedians, at noon today.

Other events included a band contest, an old fiddlers' contest, children's contests, quarter-horse racing, baseball tournament, rodeos and dancing Friday and Saturday nights.

Awards Are Made

The Tuesday Study club of Sudan this afternoon was announced first-place winner in the float contest. The float, containing a huge cornucopia, symbol of plenty at harvest time, featured the Festival Queen, Miss Freeda West, and her attendants, Ann Pennington, Leota Vincent, Ottajean Wiseman, Maxine Wiseman, and Charlsie Roark.

FBI Probe Of Close Contest Is Suggested

DALLAS, Sept. 4—Lyndon Johnson led Coke Stevenson by 162 votes tonight in the Texas Election bureau's count from last Saturday's runoff race for the U. S. Senate.

The count at p. m. was Johnson 494,158 votes; Stevenson 493,996.

Bob Johnson, election bureau manager, said it planned to issue no more totals on the election "unless there is an abrupt change" in the vote.

Candidate Johnson was ahead by 58 votes in the noon count of the election bureau today. By 6 p. m. his lead was 181 votes.

163 Counties Official

An official total from Brazoria county gave Stevenson a gain of nine votes. The official count from Galveston county showed Johnson losing ten.

The bureau's tabulation included 163 counties from which the vote had been confirmed as official.

While the official returns were coming in, one of the candidates that the Federal Bureau of Inhirited that the Federal Bureau of Investigation may be asked to probe claims of alleged "irregularities" in the bitterly-fought race.

An official canvass of votes Sept. 13 by the state Democratic executive committee in Fort Worth will name the winner.

The election bureau, an unofficial agency, had been checking its county totals against each county's official canvass as it could get them.

Lubbock, Starr Show Changes

In the 6 p. m. bulletin Johnson's total was 494,168; Stevenson's 493,987.

Between noon and 6 p. m. 27 counties sent in confirmations, causing as many revisions. The biggest changes were noted in Lubbock and Starr counties, in each Johnson gained 50 votes. In Lubbock county Stevenson's total remained unchanged; in Starr county, Stevenson lost one vote. Johnson's get gain in the two counties was 101 votes.

Stevenson's biggest gain was in Chambers county. Johnson lost 96 and Stevenson picked up four.

Johnson Gains 50 Votes Here

The Stevenson forces hired a professional accountant to "stand guard" on the official canvass of August 28 ballots in Lubbock county Saturday afternoon — and Lyndon Johnson picked up 50 more votes than he got in the unofficial tally, made on election night!

An error made when someone mistook an "8" for a "3" in the U. S. Senate count in Box 9, East Slaton, originally gave Johnson 234 votes. The official tally sheet showed Johnson got 284 votes there, to Coke Stevenson's 115, which gave the Austin congressman more than a 2-to-1 lead in Lubbock county.

Accountant Silent

Final, official count in the Senate race for Lubbock county was: Johnson, 6,445; Stevenson 3,218.

Meanwhile the "mystery" of "who hired the accountant" remained officially unsolved, although The Avalanche-Journal had it on good authority that the accounting firm of Condray and Pratas was employed, if not actually paid, by James O. Cade and C. L. Harris, two Lubbock attorneys, who supported Stevenson.

William W. Condray, a member of the accounting firm who was present at the canvass and checked tally sheets, "clammed up" when asked who his clients were.

Attorney Denies Connection

Harris claimed no knowledge of having any connection with the employment of Condray but was present at the canvass and left with the auditor after the final tabulations had been made.

Colorful Parade To Be Feature Of Labor Day Observance Here

By H. L. KIEFER
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

ARRANGEMENTS virtually were complete Saturday for a Labor Day observance Monday which probably will be the most elaborate in Lubbock history.

The most colorful feature will be a downtown parade at 10 a. m. for which, according to union labor officials, considerable rivalry is being evidenced in the preparation of decorated floats. Trophies will be awarded to the best union local and women's auxiliary floats.

The procession will form at Avenue M and move east on Main street to Avenue G, then to Broadway, and then west on Broadway to Avenue Q.

A barbecue for union members and their guests is scheduled at noon at the pits in Mackenzie State park. Carpenters' local No. 1884 is in charge of arrangements.

The program following the meal will include an address by Judge Kilmer Corbin, of Lamesa, Dawson county judge and nominee to the state Senate. A string band will play and several other numbers will provide fun and entertainment. W. M. Barton will be master of ceremonies.

Every Oil Consumer Had Stake In Compact Commission Parley

BY HARVEY SCANDRETT
Associated Press Staff Writer

DALLAS, Sept. 4—Every man who drives an automobile and every person who heats his home with oil had a stake in the Interstate Oil Compact commission meeting in New York this week.

Governors of 21 states—or their representatives—attended. They heard reports crammed with statistics. They made, and listened to, speeches on conservation, cooperation, regulation.

But to the man behind the steering wheel and the housewife with the oil furnace, this was the real news that came out of the gathering.

1. There will be gasoline for automobile tanks for many more years.

2. There will be enough fuel oil this coming winter, if—

Senator Makes Prediction

Senator George W. Malone of Nevada made the prediction about crude oil, from which gasoline is produced. He said 23,000,000,000 barrels of crude oil is known still to be underground. At the present rate of use, this would last about 12 years. After that is gone, and yet unfound oil is used up, there still is oil shale from which he said 100,000,000,000 barrels could be produced.

A committee informed the meeting of the oil prospects for next winter. Even if the weather is normal, said the committee's estimate, the demand for crude oil will be seven per cent greater than it was last year. The committee's belief that the oil industry can keep up with the demand was hinged on three "ifs":

Continued American production of 5,600,000 barrels of crude oil and 415,000 barrels of natural gas liquids daily.

Importation Necessary

Withdrawal of 180,000 barrels daily from storage.

On the day the meeting ended, the American Petroleum institute reported that the nations production hit a new high record last week, a daily average of 5,528,850 barrels.

William J. Murray, jr., member of the Texas Railroad commission, told the meeting that Texas is now producing every barrel of oil that can be taken out without endangering the future life of the state's fields.

The compact commission originally was formed to hold down the production of oil. In the early 1930's, the ungoverned flow from the rich east Texas field and new fields in other states was flooding the market, breaking prices and rapidly depleting the supply.

Less Production Was Aim

First formed by the mid-continent oil states, the commission agreed to hold production down to demand, giving each stage a quota. The state regulatory bodies, in turn, gave quotas to each of its fields and individual wells. The agreement received federal recognition through a "hot oil" law, making it an offense to transport between states petroleum production in violation of state regulations.

In wartime and the booming postwar years, the compact has become concerned with supplying the ever-increasing demand without waste or endangering the future supply.

Ernest O. Thompson, chairman of the Texas Railroad commission, this state's oil regulatory body, told the meeting the compact commission's waste-prevention efforts have accomplished" more than was ever expected."

So well has the commission performed its work, he declared, that interstate compacts might be the solution, rather than centralized control, of many other problems of American life.

Frenship School To Be Opened Monday

Frenship (Wolfforth) school, one of the largest rural high schools in the state, is to open Monday with an anticipated enrollment of more than 500, it was announced here yesterday by Supt E. A. Deering.

First day, however, will be only a half day for students. Buses run on regular morning schedule, then make the return trip at noon. Short class periods are to be held, beginning at 8:40, for study assignments, to be followed by a general assembly at the First Baptist church auditorium, where Supt. Deering is to address the group.

One new bus is being placed in service this year, bringing the total to eight, which allows one for utility or emergency runs on the seven routes. The cafeteria is not to start operations until Tuesday.

Regular class work is to start at 8:40 Tuesday morning.

Members of the faculty, as announced by Supt. Deering, are:

High school—Ray Simmons, principal and coach; Mrs. A. F. Rasor, English and speech; Mrs. Anna Jo Wilson, commercial; Mrs. Lila Wilkins, home economics; John Johnson, vocational agriculture; and Mack Steger, mathematics.

Upper elementary—J. Weldon Bennett, principal; Mrs. Katherine Czerweic, eighth grade; Miss Eleanor Bailey, seventh; Miss Frances Ross, sixth.

Lower elementary—Mrs. John Gentry, Mrs. Noble Lyde, Mrs. R. L. Holden, Mrs. Clemmie O'Neal, Mrs. W. W. Lauderdale, Mrs. Lavone Aaron, Mrs. Betty Boydston, and Miss Ethel Brown.

Lubbock Boys Club Program Will Be Resumed On Monday

The Lubbock Boys club, which has been closed during the past week for general cleaning and minor repairs, is to reopen Monday afternoon for the regular fall and winter program, it was announced yesterday by John Wilson, director.

The club is to open daily Monday through Friday at 3:45 p. m., and at a little later date will also be open on Saturdays, the announcement said.

Supervised activities will be offered under adult leaders, including an outdoor play program, indoor sports and recreation, game room, and library. A picture show, regular weekly event during the winter, will be offered each Wednesday night, beginning this week at 7:30 o'clock.

The club, an agency of the Community Chest, from where it derives its operational budget, showed greatly increased attendance and activities during the summer, with average daily attendance of 409, compared with 389 last summer, Wilson said.

Cong. Mahon To Open His Office In City

Con. Geo. Mahon will open an office on the third floor of the Federal building Monday, he announced Saturday, but plans to spend a greater part of the time during the next three months visiting over the 19th district.

"I'm not going to be in the office regularly, as I plan to visit over the entire district," Mahon said, "but my secretary, Miss Dorothy Rylander, who arrived from Washington Friday night, will be available there every day."

Cong. Mahon said he hoped to see as many of the citizens of the district as possible before returning to Washington for the next session of Congress.

Continental To Limit Boost In Fares To Four Per Cent

Although the majority of the nation's airlines have agreed to comply with the Civil Aeronautics board for a blanket 10 per cent increase in fares, Continental Airlines will limit its fare raise to an approximately four per cent, B. R. Mills, city traffic manager, said he had been informed Saturday by Robert F. Six, Continental president.

Effective date of the fare increase is scheduled for Sept. 12, at which time Continetal will offer a reduction of 5 per cent in round trip rates, Mills said, making the average one-way charge on its system equal to present fares.

Texas Dixiecrats Facing Tough Fight In Seeking State's Vote

By JOE BELDEN
Director, The Texas Poll

AUSTIN, Sept. 4. — Unless the Dixiecrats control the State Democratic Convention in Fort Worth, they stand a slim chance of capturing the Texas electoral vote from President Truman in the November general election.

In a four-way race, with Truman as the Democratic candidate, the Dixiecrats or States Rights Democrats now command only 7 per cent of the votes, according to two trial heats conducted by The Texas Poll in August. In thirteen southern states combined, including South Carolina and Mississippi, the home states of the Dixiecrat nominees a recent Gallup poll showed them with 14 per cent.

In its statewide surveys, The Texas Poll included Republicans as well as Democrats to make up a scientific cross-section of all qualified voters. Each voter was shown a card listing the names of presidential candidates Thomas E. Dewey of New York, Harry S. Truman of Missouri, J. Strom Thurmon of South Carolina, and Henry A. Wallace of Iowa.

The voter was asked: "Will you point out to me the man you favor today?"

Favor:	Mid-Aug.	Late Aug.
Truman	49%	52%
Dewey	27	25
Thurmond	7	7
Wallace	2	2
Undecided	15	14
	100%	100%

Truman's lead is indicative of the part tradition plays in holding Texas Democrats in line for the recognized nominee of their party, even though most of them would rather have had someone else in Truman's place. A statewide survey of Democratic voters conducted on the eve of the Philadelphia convention showed that only 36 per cent favored Truman's nomination.

In the State Democratic Convention September 14, the Dixiecrats will attempt to name new presidential electors pledged to vote for Thurmond instead of Truman if the Democratic Party wins in the general election in Texas. There is no reliable evidence to show how rank and file Democrats all over Texas would settle this sizzling issue which is before the convention. But in at least three counties that were given an opportunity to vote on the question August 28 the Dixiecrats won by an overwhelming majority.

Whoever wins in Texas, a majority of the state's voters believe that the Republicans will elect the next president of the United States

In two surveys, this question was put to a scientific cross-section of voters:

"Regardless of your own political leanings, who do you think will win the presidential election—the Truman Democrats, the States Rights Democrats, the Republicans or the Wallace Third aPrty?"

	Mid-Aug.	Late Aug.
Republicans	56%	53%
Truman Demos	32	33
States Rights Demos	1	1
Wallace Party	1	0
No opinion	10	13
	100%	100%

Except that it covered all qualified voters, instead of only those who were planning to turn out, the late August survey was based on the same cross-section that hit the result of the U. S. Senate race almost perfectly. The poll's pre-election figures were only 1.3 percentage points different than the final election returns.

W. P. Brooks Is Promoted To El Paso Santa Fe Office

Transfer of W. P. Brooks to El Paso as division freight and passenger agent of the Santa Fe railroad and appointment of Dave F. Tipple to succeed him as assistant division freight and passenger agent in Lubbock was announced Saturday.

Brooks had been assistant to Ray Forbes, division freight and passenger agent here, the past two years.

Tipple comes to Lubbock from Dallas. He is married and will reside in the new apartments building being erected on Thirty-fourth street.

Army Finds What Appears To Be Effective Typhoid Remedy

Discovery of what appears to be a highly effective remedy against typhoid fever by an army medical center team from Fourth Army headquarters was announced here yesterday by Major Harold Fulghum, commanding officer of the army and air force recruiting station here.

The discovery was made last winter while the medical team was conducting experiments at Kuala Lampur, capital of Malaya. Engaged in experiments against scrub typhus, the team leader said the new remedy, chloromycetin, which is derived from a Venezuelean earth mold, gives hope that for the first time medical science "has an effective treatment for the dreaded typhus infection," the announcement said.

Significance of the discovery is highlighted by the fact that there were about 4,000 cases of typhoid in this country last year. A bacterial disease, sulfa drugs, penicillin, and streptomycin have proved of little value against it the army announcement set out.

The medical team which went to Malaya primarily to establish the value of the remedy was headed by Dr. Joseph E. Smadel.

FISHING BOAT SINKS

MANILA, Sept. 4 (AP)—A fishing boat containing a crew of undetermined number sank in Manila bay today after a collision with a small United States Navy boat. U. S. Air Force planes and Navy surface craft searched the area for several hours without locating any survivors.

Special Venire Will Report On Monday

A special venire will report at 10 a. m. Monday to 99th District Judge G. V. Pardue, for selection of a jury to hear evidence in the murder trial of Milus Steen, a 36-year-old 215-pound negro.

Steen is charged with murder with malice in connection with the shooting Feb. 23 of Narvis Smith, 23, another black.

Witnesses told District Attorney Lloyd Croslin and assistant District Attorney E. G. Pharr that the shooting happened a brief time after Steen had struck Smith in Steen's grocery store here.

They said that Smith left and that Steen jumped into a pickup and raced away. Coming upon Smith and several other negroes, the witnesses' account said, Steen jumped out and began firing. Some said he shot three times. Smith fell, fatally hit in a hip. He and the others were running from Steen at the time, witnesses said.

Steen surrendered a .45 caliber "thumbuster" pistol to Chief Dep. Sheriff George Eubank and Dep. Carl Francis. The officials said he told them, "I just shot a man and here is the gun."

The state had made application for 17 witnesses, the defense 32, it was said.

Steen will be represented by the law firm of Crenshaw, Dupree, Milan and Crenshaw.

City May Open Farm Camp Bids Tuesday

The city commission probably will be able to open bids Tuesday on the construction of essential buildings for an itinerant cotton pickers' camp to be established in the northern edge of Lubbock, City Manager Marlin R. Smith said Saturday.

He has called several contractors, he said, and others interested were invited to get in touch with him.

City officials have emphasized that it is desirable to get the work started as soon as possible in the effort to get the camp ready by Oct. 1. Pickers already are beginning to come in.

The principal building of the camp will be of simple construction designed primarily to provide shelter, cooking facilities and sanitation conveniences for the itinerants.

The city manager was of the opinion that the cost will be kept within the $6,500 the city commission has appropriated for the project.

L. H. McElroy Is Named New Gaines County Farm Agent

SEMINOLE, Sept. 4 (Special)—L. H. McElroy, a former county agent of Terry county, has been named Gaines county agent, and will arrive here Monday to assume his new duties. He succeeds Kline E. Morris, who resigned in August.

McElroy has been out of the state for about a year doing special post-graduate work in his field, and was the only county agent in Texas chosen to do this special work.

Little Theater Opens Contest

Officials of the Lubbock Little Theater announced Saturday the opening of a contest which will bring two reserved-seat, season tickets to the person who submits before Sept. 19 the best drawing suitable as a permanent cover design for Little Theater programs.

The drawings, for which no particular specifications have been set, may be submitted by mail or in person to G. V. Pardue, jr., 1917 Thirteenth, before Sunday Sept. 19. The prize, in actuality a patron membership in the group, will be awarded by the Little Theater board of directors, sitting as contest judges.

The contest announcement, which came as result of a meeting of the board of directors following Friday night try-outs for parts in "You Can't Take It With You," was issued simultaneously with the decision to produce Charlotte Bronte's "Jane Eyre" as the fourth scheduled production of the newly-formed theater group during the 1948-49 program season.

"Jane Eyre," though the last to be chosen fro production, will be presented third in a series following the staging of Laura," a mystery, on Dec. 13. The other scheduled production is Rose Franken's "Claudia."

Mrs. Charles Cobb, who is directing the first production, Kaufman and Hart's rollicking comedy, "You Can't Take It With You." said after Friday's try-outs that the entire cast would probably be announced during the middle of the week, pending results of Monday night's part-reading rehearsals in the county courthouse. Date of the play is Oct. 4.

Officials of the group also announced that a full-scale membership drive, to be conducted jointly with the Optimist club, will begin on Tuesday, Sept. 7, with special emphasis on securing a nucleus of patron memberships for which minimum price has been set at $25.

The directors also amended the constitution of the group to the effect that a patron membership will entitle the member to two season tickets rather than one, as previously provided.

Amarillo Auto Mechanic Is Indicted In Death Of Baby

AMARILLO, Sept. 4 (AP)—Auto mechanic Orla A. Brinkley, 38, was under a four-count indictment today in the death Monday night of his stepson, Joseph Michael Getz, 20 months old.

The indictment includes charges of beating with a strap and belt and with an unknown instrument with malice aforethought.

An investigation started when an undertaker and hospital nurses noted many bruises and abrasions on the child's body.

T. O. Milan Of Lubbock Named Head Of Javcee Committee

ABILENE, Sept. 4 (AP) — Carl B. Everett of Gladewater is new chairman of the Texas Junior Chamber of Commerce Aviation committe and T. A. Milan of Lubbock heads the War Memorial Fund committee.

Both were named by Melvin B. Evans of Wichita Falls, president of Texas Jaycees, during a visit to headquarters here yesterday.

Brownwood C-C Sticks To Guns After Asking Coke To Speak

BROWNWOOD, Sept. 4 (AP)—It's hard for an organization to take sides in the political battle between Coke Stevenson and Lyndon Johnson without having half the people against you.

That's what the Brownwood Chamber of Commerce learned yesterday.

The chamber invited Stevenson to address the quarterly membership meeting Sept. 28. He accepted.

When the news was publicized in the Brownwood Bulletin, telephones started ringing. The callers were Johnson supporters, demanding that their candidate be given a voice too.

But the chamber stuck to its guns. The speaker will be Stevenson, win, lose or draw.

WHY STARVE TO TAKE OFF FAT?

When you buy Barcentrate, you buy a preparation for taking off weight. You do not pay for a printed diet. Barcentrate is not a vitamin tablet to fortify you against weakness while on a starvation diet. You need never know a hungry moment while reducing with Barcentrate. It contains no harmful drugs, but does contain ingredients to make you feel better.

Barcentrate when mixed with grapefruit juice does this: First, cuts down your desire for sweets and fatty foods, but you do not have to FORCE yourself. Barcentrate takes care of your DESIRE. Second, dehydrates and eliminates, so that water is carried away—almost like melting fat. At the same time you feel better, more peppy, more alive, but never starved or hungry.

Lost 22 Pounds

"I lost 22 pounds taking Barcentrate and I feel much better in every way. I eat anything I want and I gladly recommend it to anyone who wants to lose weight."—Gertrude Billings, Route 1, Devine, Texas.

15 Pounds Lost

"I lost 15 pounds taking Barcentrate and can now control my weight. I feel much better in every way and I gladly say, 'It's Barcentrate to control the weight'."—Mrs. Gayle Matthews, 925 Threadneedle Street, Beaumont, Texas.

REQUESTS ALREADY RECEIVED

Tickets For 'Queen For A Day' Program Go On Sale Here Today

Approximately 500 requests for tickets already have been received for the "Queen for a Day" broadcasts which will be the daytime feature of the first three days of the Panhandle-South Plains fair here Sept. 27 through Oct. 2.

This announcement was made Saturday by Elmer East, ticket chairman for the Lubbock Lions club, sponsors of the event.

He announced further that the tickets for the three days of the broadcasts have been printed and will go on sale in limited numbers in the Mark Halsey drug stores about noon today. Hop Halsey, operator of the stores, is a member of the Lions club.

Lions To Handle Tickets

As far as practicable, East said, Lions club members in cities and towns throughout the Lubbock territory will be given preference in handling tickets in their localities.

But he gave assurance that any place of business in any community which desires to handle tickets will be given consideration. Requests, East said, should be addressed to the Lubbock Lions club at the Hilton hotel.

The local committee, he added, now is working on some method which will insure that the tickets are prorated on an equitable basis throughout the territory served by the fair. Roughly, the present plan is to reserve about half the tickets for Lubbock and distribute the remainder in the territory. But there is a possibility, he said, that the Lubbock proportion will have to be cut to 40 per cent of the total.

Office Is Swamped

For the next few days, East said, the Lions club will have its hands full in taking care of mail reservations. Extra help has been employed but, according to East's declaration as he worked in Lions headquarters in the Hilton last night, "We are swamped, and it looks like it will get a lot worse before it gets better."

But there is one difficulty about mail requests, East said.

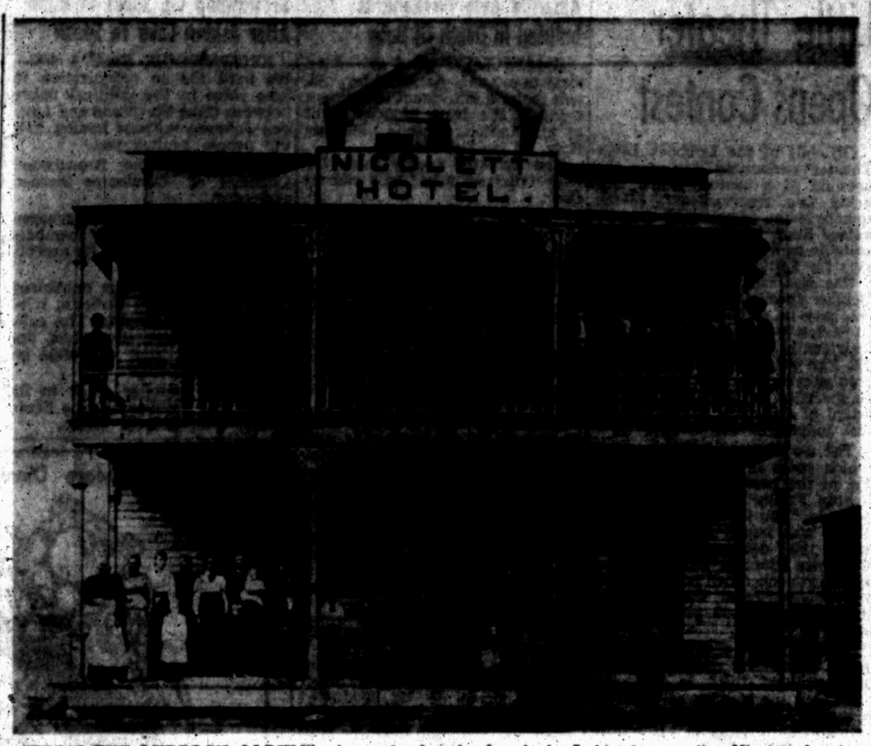

Too many do not specify the day they will want to attend the "Queen" broadcast. The day must be specified, he emphasized.

If this is done, he said, the Lions should be able to get tickets mailed out within a very few days after requests for reservations are received.

Tickets to the fairgrounds during the three mornings of the broadcasts, it was explained, will be $1.50 entitling the holder to admission to the grandstand, where the program will be presented. Each ticket includes a stub on which any woman can write reasons why she would like to be the "queen" for that day. She will deposit the stub as she enters the grandstand.

From these stubs, judges will select the 25 they deem best. These 25 women will elaborate on their reasons for wanting to be queen during the pre-broadcast program between noon and 1 p. m. each day. Five of these will go on the national Mutual network, heard by millions of listeners, between 1 and 1:30 p. m daily. The eventual winner, chosen from among the five, will receive awards worth hundreds of dollars.

Jack Bailey, the usual master of ceremonies, will conduct the program. Mutual will fly a large crew to Lubbock to make necessary installations and handle other details of the broadcasts.

"FROM THE LUBBOCK ALBUM"—An early day landmark in Lubbock was the Nicolett hotel, which stood at what now is the corner of Broadway and Ave. H, where Dunlap's Department store now is located. Wildcatters Bring In 11 Oil Wells Over State During Week

AUSTIN, Sept. 4. (AP)—Wildcatters brought in 11 successful oil wells in Texas during the last week, the Railroad commission reported today.

Oil well completions totaled 191, bringing the total for thus far this year to 4,959 as compared with 3,819 for the same period last year.

There were 17 gas well completions, making a total of 471 for the year, topping the figure for 1947 by 59.

Motion For New Trial For Man Convicted Of Rape Is Denied

CORSICANA, Sept. 4 (AP) — A motion for a new trial for William R. Ray, convicted of rape, was overruled here today.

Defense attorney H. S. Beard said that the ruling will be appealed.

Ray was convicted of raping a nine-year-old Fort Worth Fireman's daughter in a Fort Worth park last April. The case was transferred here on a change of venue and the verdict was returned last July.

Beard today argued before district Judge A. P. Mays that a new trial should be allowed because, he said, District Attorney Al Clyde during the trial had referred to the defendant as William "Ruthless" Ray. Ray's middle name is Ruthes.

The convicted man is a resident of Vernon. He was a sergeant at Carswell Army Air base Fort Worth, at the time of his arrest.

John W. Lynch Undergoes Operation At Mayo Clinic

John W. Lynch, 2826 Twenty-seventh, who underwent major surgery for a brain tumor Saturday morning in Mayo clinic, Rochester, Minn., was reported by relatives here to be "in very serious condition" with a slight change for the better at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Lynch, the relatives said, had had blood transfusions following the operation. He had been suffering from the growth since last February, and, accompanied by Mrs. Lynch, had gone to Mayo's early in the summer for treatment, but returned to Lubbock within a few weeks.

He returned to the clinic about two weeks ago, and since that time had undergone a series of preliminary examinations and treatments prior to Saturday's operation. Mrs. Lynch went to Minnesota early last week.

Pennsylvania Governor Has State's Best Tended Gardens

HARRISBURG, Pa., Sept. 4 (AP)—Two of Pennsylvania's most luxurious and well-tended gardens are kept in top condition by the experienced hand of Gov. James H. Duff.

The governor's seven-acre private gardens at his home in Carnegie, Pa., are one of the state's show places. Tracts at his Indiantown Gap summer residence will yield hundreds of pounds of produce this season.

The state's chief executive designed most of the landscaping at his summer home and supervised transplanting of 40,000 trees to that area.

Gov. Duff offers only one piece of advice to beginners.

"You've got to keep on top of it," he said, "else you don't have a garden."

AREA FARMERS URGED TO ENTER

Preparations Are Pushed For Fair Agricultural Exhibits

With only 22 days remaining before opening of the Panhandle-South Plains fair, preparations are being made for display of South Plains products in divisions within the agricultural department

"It is the show window of the South Plains and farmers can help improve it year to year by taking an active interest and showing their products," D. W. Sherrill, general agriculture superintendent, said Saturday.

Sherrill urged farmers to obtain copies of fair catalogs to learn what exhibits they can enter.

Officials Hold Meeting

Superintendents in the agriculture department met Saturday morning in the office of Sherrill, Lubbock county agent. Superintendents of divisions within the agricultural department are Mashall W. Howard, superintendent of county exhibits; Earl Fine, superintendent of veterans vocational agriculture exhibits; L. M. Hargrave, superintendent of vocational agriculture, educational department, and Walter Y. Wells, superintendent of individual exhibits.

In addition, W. L. Trice is superintendent of agriculture in the junior agricultural and livestock department. Lee Roy Colgan is superintendent of livestock in the junior department.

Hargrave said Saturday all 12 boothes for vocational agriculture, educational department, exhibits have been taken.

Will Accept Exhibits

Five exhibits will be shown in the veterans vocational agriculture department, a new department which will offer exhibits of crops and also educational material provided by veterans. Exhibits are to be in place by 9 a.m. Sept. 27 and remain in place until 6 p.m. Oct. 2.

Greater interest than in earlier years has been shown in individual exhibits. Individual exhibits will be accepted any time the farmers want to bring them in, said Wells. Divisions are provided for exhibits of cotton, grain and seeds, sheaf grains and seeds, grain sorghum heads, hay, corn, vegetables, fruit and miscellaneous crops. Entries in the department will close at 6 p.m. Sept. 26, by which time exhibits are to be delivered to the superintendent, and will remain in place until 6 p.m. Saturday, Oct. 2.

Counties over this area are preparing for county exhibits. Fair officials have heard of no county not planning to enter an exhibit. Premiums for best county displays will range from a first place $100 prize through 15 prizes, the smallest being $25.

Deadline Set Sept. 25

Entries for county exhibits will close at 6 p.m. Sept. 25 and all exhibits are to be in place no later than 9 a.m. Sept. 27, any exhibit not in place by that time being penalized 25 points.

Agricultural products actually grown in the county from which an exhibit comes and farm equipment are to be used. No artificial decoration may be used, according to rules.

In addition, agricultural department exhibits will include one special cotton exhibit sponsored by the South Plains cotton improvement committee. Members of a committee planning the exhibit are W. N. Williamson, chairman, L. O. Buchanan and L. M. Hargrave.

All exhibits will be shown in he agricultural barn. Sherrill said that the more interest shown in the agricultural exhibits, the better chance the department will have of obtaining improved facilities.

Sherrill said drouth conditions may reduce the number of entries from dry land farms, but that entries from irrigated farms "could be the best we've ever had."

Judges will be: County exhibits, George Samson, Post; veterans vocational agriculture, T. L. Leach and A. H. Leidigh; individual, Dr. A. W. Young; vocational agriculture, educational department, T. L. Leach and A. H. Leidigh.

In the junior agricultural and livestock department, agricultural exhibits will be received as late as 8 a.m. Monday, Sept. 27, and will remain in place until 6 p.m. Oct. 2. All boys and girls contesting in that department must be regularly enrolled club members of counties having county or home demonstration agents or both, or be students of vocational agriculture departments.

All field crop exhibits should be carefully wrapped—each head, ear or plant separately—and placed in a strong box. The name of the club member should be plainly written on the outside of the box and a label bearing exhibitor's name placed on inside, rules specify.

A delicious addition to a packaged fudge mix are walnuts and chopped dates. Chop the walnuts and dates that go into the fudge and then decorate each square with a slice of date or half a walnut immediately after pouring and marking.

PLAN AGRICULTURAL EXHIBITS—Superintendents in the agricultural department of the Panhandle-South Plains fair were photographed as they met Saturday morning in the office of D. W. Sherrill, Lubbock county agent and superintendent of the agricultural department of the fair; They are making plans for exhibit of extensive displays representing agriculture of this area. Hargrave, superintendent of vocational agriculture, educational department, exhibits; Walter Y. Wells, superintendent of individual exhibits, and Sherrill. (Staff Photo).

State School Head Says Charges Untrue

AUSTIN, Sept. 4 (AP) — State school Superintendent L. A. Woods today declared untrue charges made against him of non-cooperation and allowing unbusinesslike handling of state aid funds.

The charges were leveled at Dr. Woods in a letter he received yesterday from a Gregg county grand jury and district attorney

The grand jury's letter, dated Sept. 1, followed by several days the filing of a civil and criminal suits against Mrs. Bertha D. Allen, Gregg county superintendent. The grand jury asked that Mrs. Allen be ousted because of alleged official misconduct, incompetency in office and gross carelessness in the discharge of her official duties.

Indicted On Two Charges

Mrs. Allen has been indicted on charges of perjury and theft over $50. She was temporarily suspended from office by court order pending disposition of the ouster suit.

Replying by letter to the grand jury and district attorney, Dr. Woods pictured the Gregg county situation as a Longview "feud" and told his critics: "your trouble is closer to home than the State Department of Education."

Charges against Mrs. Allen include an allegation that claims for reimbursement of funds spent for lunches for Gregg county school children were altered.

The grand jury recommended to Dr. Woods that he seek enactment of a law whereby the offices of the county school superintendent and other departments of education be audited at least annually.

Replied Dr. Woods: "I understand you have a county auditor and it is the duty of said auditor to audit all public school funds coming under the jurisdiction of the county superintendent and county board . . . If the county auditor and the county board had been more alert in performing your legal duties with reference in your present difficulty."

Man Invents Water Tap With Ear-Pull Faucets For Kitchen

EVANSVILLE, Ind. Sept. 4 (U.P.) —Victor Barnett thinks kitchen plumbing needs novelty treatment.

Barnett has a patent pending on a water tap for the kitchen sink. The faucet is metal cast in the shape of an animal's head. Pull down the left ear, you get hot water. Yank the right, cold water.

You can have most any kind of animal you want, Barnett says. But the ones with the biggest ears are the handiest, such as the jackrabbit and the donkey.

CAB May Increase Rates Paid Braniff For Hauling Mail

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 (U.P.) — The Civil Aeronautics board proposed today almost to quadruple the rates paid Braniff Airways, Inc., for hauling mail.

The proposed rates will become final unless Braniff objects.

The airline would get a base rate of 22 cents per plane mile where the average passenger "load factor" is not more than 55.99 per cent.

The rate would decline as the line's passenger business picked up. In no event would it drop below 8.30 cents per plane mile.

Braniff now is paid on a different system, receiving 60 cents per ton-mile of mail.

CAB experts estimated that Braniff would be paid about $2,085,000 annually under the proposed rates. Under the present scale the line is expected to get about $540,000.

In addition, Braniff would get a retroactive check for $1,563,154 to cover the higher rate for the period Nov. 27, 1946, to March 31, 1948.

Golfer Loses Two Balls On Only One Stroke In Accident

INDIANAPOLIS, Sept. 4 (U.P.)— Elton Leffler reports the questionable distinction of losing two golf balls on one stroke.

Leffler tried to chip out of a river bank predicament. The ball rolled into the stream. He unwrapped a new ball and dropped it to try again.

SMALL ENOUGH FOR PERSONALIZED SERVICE

The oil industry is producing more oil for you

. . . but it's a big job!

A SEISMOGRAPH CREW creates miniature earthquakes with dynamite charges and records the shock waves with delicate instruments. The records are then studied to see if they reveal likely oil formations. The seismograph crews operate on the plains and prairies of Texas, on the ranges of New Mexico, in Mississippi's farm lands, in the bayou country of Louisiana, and in the open Gulf of Mexico—wherever there is a chance that possible oil-bearing formations may be found.

You have asked the oil industry to produce nearly twice as much oil in 1948 as we produced in 1941; that's what today's increased use of oil products amounts to.

To produce oil, it is necessary first to find it. And finding oil is not easy; it's not like looking for buried treasure; it's not a matter of old maps and digging with shovels in romantic spots. The search for oil is a hugely expensive undertaking. It is a scientific project on the grand scale. It involves a careful study of geology and such feats as measuring the difference in the pull of gravity at different places, and tracing the shock of the miniature earthquake created by setting off a small dynamite charge.

But with every possible scientific aid, the scientists still can't say, "Drill here for oil." Instead, they say, "Drill here and you may find oil." And these days, about 90% of the exploratory wells find no oil—they are what the oil men call "dry holes"

Today, the industry is hunting and finding oil sometimes two miles and more deep in the earth. Humble, for example, this year completed a producing well in Chambers County, Texas, that is 12,026 feet deep, and many exploratory wells are drilled even deeper. All this makes the search sometimes slow, always expensive; and it adds thousands of dollars to the cost of drilling a well.

But the industry is producing more oil than ever before in its history, and is finding enough additional oil to maintain its reserves. You can help this effort by making your personal demands for petroleum reasonable, by cooperating with programs designed to conserve oil products for the uses to which they are best adapted, by the exercise of patience as the oil industry acts to meet the need.

THIS PICTURE was made at a test well going down near Trinity, Texas. It is a "wildcat well." Scientists have said there may be oil here, but only the well can prove definitely that there is, or is not, oil at this spot. Humble will drill about 245 wildcat wells this year if materials are available.

OIL GEOLOGISTS examine surface rocks in an effort to find evidences of underground formations which may contain oil. Their work leads to additional exploration by other methods, and to the drilling of exploratory wells. The geologist seeks rock outcrops usually found in creek bottoms and dry ravines, cliff sides and canyons; his tools are the geologist's hammer, the surveyor's transit, education, experience.

SEPTEMBER SURGE NOTED

Lubbock Building Shows Signs Of Revival After August Lag

New construction as reflected by city building permits showed signs of the usual fall revival last week after a typical August lag.

Permits for construction costing $150,545 were issued during the first four days of September as compared with $887,564 during the whole of August.

While the August total exceeded that of the same month in 1947 by 17 per cent, or $129,002, it was substantially under the $1,235,000 monthly average of 1948.

Five permits have accounted for $138,000 of the new construction authorized this month.

The largest was to Mrs. Nellie M. Jarett, owner, and W. G. McMillan, contractor, for a modernistic one-story business building costing $33,000 at 1217 Avenue K. The contractor said the foundation will support two floors and the building may be carried to that height without interruption of construction.

Second largest of the permits was to Robert Maxey for a brick veneer residence at 3301 Twenty-third street shown by the permit to cost $32,500. It is being built for his own occupancy.

Others among the larger permits of the week included:

Carl Hensley, contractor and E. L. Massie, owner, pumice tile filling station at 323 College avenue, $25,000; E. R. Little contractor, and B. H. Abel, owner, frame residence at 3302 Twenty-fourth, $27,500; and Gaynor Construction co., contractor, and Franklin Stores, Inc., owner, remodeling at 1201 E. Broadway, $20,000.

Permit total for the year was increased to $9,681,133.

MAYBE A STATE DOG FOR TEXAS—Senator Rogers Kelley of Edinburg, has announced that he will introduce a bill in the next session of the Texas Legislature to make the "chihuahua" the state dog of Texas. Here three of the little chihuahuas find a resting place in one of the Senator's shoes. (NEA Telephoto).

Solon Puts In Good Word For Chihuahuas

Sen. Rogers Kelley To Seek Official State Dog For Texas

By CLAUDE RAMSEY
United Press Staff Writer

EDINBURG, Sept. 4 — Texas has no state dog, and State Senator Rogers Kelley said tonight that's a shame.

Kelley gazed thoughtfully at the shoe he had just pulled off and in which three full-grown dogs sat comfortably. Yes, sir, it's a shame, he said, that Texas has no state dog.

Then he started talking about Chihuahuas, the little critters in his big shoe.

"That dog is more Texan than Mexican and I'm going to do something about it."

To Introduce Legislation

Then he warmed up to his subject and his voice boomed:

"I'm going to introduce a resolution at the next session of the legislature to make the Chihuahua the official dog of Texas.

"The Mexican Chihuahua isn't all Mexican.

"It's Texan too. Like you and me.

"Sure it came from Mexico. But so did Texas. All this gr-r-eat country came from Mexico.

"It's high time we corrected the false impression that's been going around about the Chihuahua."

Kelley looked in some big books in his office and discovered the pocket-sized dog is a native of Mexico.

"But Coahuila state, Mexico, included all this Rio Grande country, practically the whole state of Texas," he argued.

Mexico Kept The Dog

"Texas got away from Mexico—but the little dog didn't."

To hear him tell it the big senator from Hidalgo county has been bombarded with wires, telephone calls and letters from Chihuahua lovers who want the little dog recognized.

"I won't be able to rest until I introduce the resolution," he concluded.

Kelley reached for another book, read a while and observed that the state had an official flower, the bluebonnett; an official song, "Texas Our Texas;" an official flag, the Lone Star flag which it inherited from the republic of Texas; and an official bird, the mockingbird.

"But no official dog," he said. "And here this forsaken friendly little dog has been neglected."

The very thought of it made the senator look sad. But only for a moment. He smiled as he remembered how he'd make up everything to the Chihuahua at the next legislature.

WATER RESISTANT

Lack Of Rain Is Blow To Crops

Grain production on this county's unirrigated land has been cut by at least one-half by dry weather of the past three or four weeks, and dry land cotton has suffered a similar or worse fate, according to estimates yesterday by County Agent D. W. Sherrill in his weekly crop condition report.

Sherrill sets out that there is very little of either surface or subsoil moisture except on irrigated land.

On irrigated land, of which there are approximately 50,000 acres in grain sorghum in the county, estimated yields remain at 2,500 pounds per acre, and dry land estimates range from nothing up to 600 pounds per acre, compared with a general average of 800 pounds a month ago.

Cotton Fares Worse

Of the estimated 100,000 acres of dry land grain in the county, 50,000 acres are estimated to average 600 pounds per acre, and the other 50,000 is placed at nothing to 600 pounds.

Cotton has fared perhaps even worse.

Esimates on dry land yield range from nothing to one-third bale per acre, with the average placed at 1/5 to 1/4 bale, probably nearer the former. Estimates on irrigated cotton also have been lowered, with the county-wide average now placed at three-fourths bale per acre compared with a bale a month earlier.

On that basis the estimated 87,000 acres of irrigated cotton would yield 65,250 bales, and the probable 208,000 acres of dry land would produce 41,000 bales, for a county total of 106,250 bales.

This compares with 108,935 ginned in the county last year, and also with earlier season estimates placing the crop fully equal or better than last year.

Agriculture sources point out that dry land cotton does not have the prospects of last year due to almost complete lack of subsoil moisture throughout the season, whereas last year's record crop was attributed largely to subsoil moisture.

Sherrill's report sets out that livestock in the county are in good shape. Pastures are dry, but feed is good, water plentiful, and marketing about normal.

Harvest of potatoes and onions is about completed, and producers are starting harvest of small vegetables.

State Revenue May Reach One Billion

AUSTIN, Sept. 4 (AP) — Texas' revenue during the current two-year fiscal period is expected to reach one billion dollars.

The state started the new fiscal year Sept. 1—the second of the period—with $74,076,814 surplus in its general revenue fund. Total cash in all state funds was $176,827,380.

Revenue during the first year of the current two-year fiscal period was 513 million dollars, Comptroller George Sheppard said.

"A billion dollar biennium seems certain provided current levels are maintained," Sheppard said. "The state's revenue was almost exactly double the revenue of 254 million in 1945, emphasizing the sensitivity of state revenue to changes in quantity production and dollar value.

"The greatest single item of income for this year was 87 million dollars crude oil tax, exceeding motor fuel tax for the first time in history."

The comptroller again noted that inflation had a great deal to do with increased state revenues.

"Now Is The Time For All Good Men And True"...
To get their heating equipment ready for winter

Clean...adjust...test...repair!

After a summer's idleness, all types of gas heating equipment should be inspected, cleaned, adjusted, tested, and, if necessary, repaired.

Why not call your plumber or heating contractor NOW and get your heating equipment in readiness for those first cool mornings. You'll be glad you did, as you will avoid the rush later and possibly avoid inconvenience, too.

Light furnace pilot lights!

While you are at it, you may as well light the pilot lights on your central furnace or floor furnaces. These tiny pilots use so little gas you'll never notice the difference on your gas service bill, but will make it possible for you to have heat at a moment's notice.

When will that first cool spell come? We don't know. But most folks usually want heat sometimes during September.

This month marks the completion of our twenty-first year of service in West Texas.

Registration Of Students Is Set At Tahoka Tuesday

TAHOKA, Sept. 4 (Special) — All vacancies in the public school faculty have been filled, and the school system is preparing for registration of students Tuesday, according to Vernon Brewer, superintendent.

New faculty members and the work to which they are assigned are Joel Williams, history; Lee Coffman, mathematics; Miss Maradee Foster, English, journalism, and speech; Mrs. Joe Harder, second grade; and Mrs. Jakie Weather, first grade.

Men Are Included On Elementary Faculties

In eight elementary schools of the Lubbock system at least one man is included on the faculty this year, according to R. W. Matthews, superintendent. As vacancies occur in other elementary faculties the plan is to add a man Matthews said.

'I have always felt that elementary students need a man around to assist in their education," Matthews said as he explained that these men will be regular classroom teachers and also have charge of all recreation work in the school. There is also an increase in the number of masculine teachers in the secondary schools of Lubbock this year, Matthews said, estimating that the secondary schools have 35 per cent men teachers this year. In 1944 only 12 per cent of the secondary teachers were men.

Men who will begin work in the elementary schools this year are as follows: George R. Bean, A. H. Smith; Central Ward, C. W. Gee; Dupre, Quentin Marshall; East Broadway, W. E. Lowrance; K. Carter, George Mills; McWhorter, R. B. Durham, Roscoe Wilson, Milton Greer; and Thirty-sixth Street, R. Lloyd Neelley.

As an experiment two men were on duty in elementary schools last year and students and parents liked the plan so much it is being extended to other elementary schools this year, Matthews said.

All Vacancies In Lorenzo School System Are Filled

LORENZO Sept 4 (Special)— All vacancies in the Lorenzo school faculty have been filled, according to D. L. James, superintendent.

High school teachers are Charles W. Wood, principal; Miss Lou Nell Peters, Mrs. H. E. Winningham, Mrs. Dalton L. James, and Samuel B Martin.

Members of the elementary school faculty are M. F. Loftis, principal; Marshall Johnson, Mrs. R. L. Bowman, Mrs. Pat Sheridan, Mrs. Arline Williams, Mrs. Marshall Johnson, and Mrs. Marrol F. Loftis.

Communists In Poland Divided

WARSAW, Sept. 4 (AP)—Poland's workers (Communist) party admitted today that "rightist and nationalist deviations" had developed within its ranks.

It called on President Boleslaw Bierut to help solve its troubles.

The party failed to disclose immediately the scope of the movement away from the strict Moscow policies ordered for Communist parties but it made an urgent request that the nation's chief executive resume an "active role" in party affairs.

Bierut, technically non-partisan as president but long identified with the workers movement before he took office, announced he had accepted.

Party Shakeup Rumored

The central committee of the workers party said its decision on what to do about rightist and nationalist elements within the party will be published tomorrow.

The call to Bierut to drop his non-party role and get into the full stream of Communist party activities lent strength to widely circulated reports that Wladislaw W Gomulka, Poland's first vice premier and secretary-general of the workers party, is on the way out as party chief or was asked to take a back seat in the party organization.

There was unconfirmed reports Gomulka already has resigned as secretary-general. Gomulka has been seriously ill but now is reported to have returned to Warsaw to resume his work.

The central committee's announcement said Bierut's help was needed at the moment of impending fusion of the workers party and the leftwing socialist party. Both parties agreed to merge last spring.

Points Of Disagreement

Since then they have been carrying out purges of all within their ranks whose views failed to confirm with those of the Russian Communists and the Cominform.

Gomulka often has been reported to have disagreed with the Cominform ouster and denunciation of the Yugoslav Communist party. The Polish party organization solidly supported the Cominform, however.

Gomulka also was said to be at odds with the other top ranking men in his party on the Communist call for socialization of production in all peasant villages.

Bierut, after receiving the letter from the central committee, informed the state executive council, which rules Poland by decree when parliament is not in session, that he had agreed to resume party activity.

Seagraves School System Opens Fall Term With Total Enrollment Expected To Hit 900

SEAGRAVES, Sept. 4 (Special)—Seagraves schools opened for the 1948-49 session Wednesday with 800 pupils in attendance. Late enrollment through this week and on Monday is expected to increase the total to 900, Supt. Ross A. Buckner said.

Of the total enrollment, 175 are high school students.

Faculty members met Wednesday, students met for class assignments and general assembely Thursday and class work started Friday morning.

Faculty Is Complete

The faculty of 32 members is complete, with the exception of the homemaking department, which is expected to be filled within the next few days, Buckner said. The vacancy occurred last week when Miss Hazel Louise Cook resigned as head of the department because of illness.

Mrs. Maybell Smith was added to the faculty recently as head librarian. She has 10 years experience in the work which includes 6 years with the Oklahoma university, two years in public schools and two years in the army.

The library here was set up last year in accordance with state regulations for affiliation with the Southern Association which requires a trained librarian. The local library is one of the 12 set up as demonstration libraries for examples in the state.

Heads Of Schools

School heads include Buckner, superintendent; Cason Smith, high school principal; and Chas. R. E. Weaver, principal of grade school. Prior to coming here last year Buckner was superintendent of Cotton Center schools 10 years. He was graduated from WTSC at Canyon, and has a degree from Texas Tech.

Smith is a graduate of Howard Payne college at Brownwood and formerly was superintendent of schools at Sparenburg and Eola. He has been here three years.

Weaver is a former WTSC graduate and attended Texas Tech. He taught school in Silverton and Munday before coming here three years ago.

Wallace Denied Use Of Fair Park Bandshell For Speech

DALLAS, Sept. 4 (AP)—The Dallas park board says Henry Wallace cannot speak in the Fair Park bandshell here Sept. 28.

Sam Barbaria, Dallas Progressive party leader, termed the board's refusal yesterday "discriminatory" and said he felt it was "due entirely to the fact that we will not segregate negroes from whites."

Park director L. B. Houston, who announced the board's decision, said the refusal was due to the preparations for the opening of the State Fair of Texas Oct. 9.

The fair has scheduled daily events in the bandshell this year, Houston said, and workmen are already preparing the shell.

Barbaria said negotiations for the bandshell began more than two weeks ago.

"At that time," he said, "we learned that the bandshell would be available. We offered to pay $150, the usual hiring fee for the shell.

"But Thursday, Houston asked if we intended to segregate negroes from whites. I said we did not intend to do so, as it was against the spirit of the party. He said this presented a 'special case'."

The next day, Barbaria said, he, the Rev. Stacy Adams, negro Progressive party candidate for lieutenant governor of Texas, and Howard Daniels, negro businessman, were informed that the bandshell would not be available.

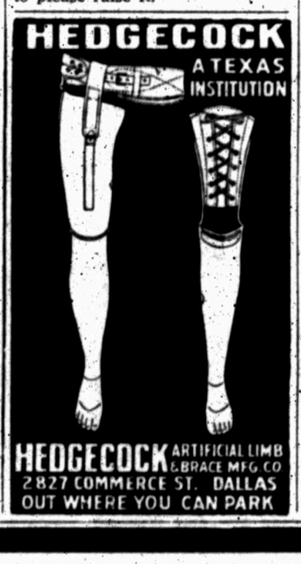

Even Cloud Of Complaints On Taxes Has Silver Lining

TYLER, Sept. 4 (AP)—There's always a silver lining to any dark cloud.

The Tyler tax equalization board had been snowed under by complaints from hundreds of taxpayers because of the increased tax load.

W. E. Farmer reported to the board.

He thought the $37,330 valuation placed on his property was much too low and requested the board to please raise it.

Little Change Noted In Area Cotton Crop

Little change in the condition of the South Plains cotton crop has been shown during the past week, K. N. Clapp, area observer reported Saturday.

While slight further deterioration was noted in some of the dry land crop, it may have been offset in some degree by widely scattered showers.

But rain is needed urgently, he said, to prevent continuing losses to the approximately 1,600,000 acres of the dryland crop. Irrigated areas, exceeding 400,000, continue to flourish, Clapp said.

Clapp, who is area manager of Anderson, Clayton & co., made no revisions in his Aug. 28 forecast of an 806,000 bale crop on the South Plains. The figure is about 300,000 more than the annual average, but 138,000 under 1947 ginnings and 153,000 below the all-time record total of 959,000 bales in 1937.

Bexar County Receives First Federal Hospital Aid Check

AUSTIN, Sept. 4 (AP)—A check for $41,405 was received today by Bexar county representatives marking the first payment of federal funds for hospital construction in Texas.

The check was presented R. L. Reader, Bexar county commissioner, by Dr. George W. Cox, state health officer. The payment marked the first draft against Texas' share of $4,840,125 granted the state by the hospital survey and construction act of 1946.

Funds included in today's payment will be used for the financing the 100-bed Bexar county tuberculosis hospital, a branch of the Robert B. Green hospital at San Antonio.

The federal act makes available funds up to one-third the difference between what the county can pay to meet its needs for the hospital facilities and the total cost of construction.

Plans call for eventual participation in the plan by some 60 other Texas counties.

Among those present when the check was presented were Charles S. Bond, of the Bexar county district attorney's office, and county commissioners A. L. Ploch and Dan Traugott.

Schools To Open Doors Tuesday

Chris Harwell, George M. Hunt, McWhorter, Sanders, and Dunbar. According to Mrs. Dora Nell Carroll, director of cafeterias, the cafeteria at Roscoe Wilson will be opened on Monday, September 13. Five more cafeterias are to be opened later in the year, Mrs. Carroll said.

Class Schedules Given

According to Floyd Honey, principal of Senior High school, all Senior High guidance teachers are to be on duty in their rooms at 1 o'clock Monday afternoon to make schedule changes which are absolutely necessary. The book-room will also be open for students who have not received their books. On Tuesday morning students of Senior High will report at 9 o'clock to their guidance teachers to receive their schedules and preliminary instructions. Regular classroom work will begin at 9:15. Students who have 8 a.m. classes scheduled will not report for them until Wednesday morning, Honey said.

Because of lack of space and to accomodate working students the Senior High school has scheduled some special classes at 8 and 12 o'clock. Students who have 12 o'clock classes are to be given an 11 o'clock lunch hour.

Some On Half Day Schedules

At the Carroll Thompson Junior High where students are to attend a full day schedule, pupils in grades 8 and 9 are asked to report to their home room teacher, Carl Bailey, principal, said. Students in grade 7 are to report to the auditorium where they will receive instruction.

Half-day schedules are to be run at the new O. L. Slaton Junior High school for both students of Slaton and the J. T. Hutchinson Junior High. This arrangement will be continued until the Hutchinson school is completed, Supt. Matthews said. Slaton students will attend school from 8 a.m. until 12:30 and the Hutchinson students from 12:30 until 5 p.m. Students who ride the bus are to be given a full day schedule. All students of these two schools are being asked to report to the school auditorium at Slaton school at the beginning of their school day.

Until the completion of the Overton school the Roscoe Wilson building will house the students of both schools on a half-day schedule. Plans are to allow some students of each school a full day schedule, but until the enrollment has been determined definite plans cannot be made, Matthews said. The students of Wilson school will attend in the morning and the Overton students in the afternoon.

All students in grades one through six who are attending the Lubbock schools for the first time are asked to register Monday afternoon at 1 o'clock in the elementary school in their residential zone, Ishmael Hill, director of elementary education, said. Other elementary students may report with book cards and report cards on Tuesday morning.

Grain Storage

when needed, or for use by farm labor or to store implements and machinery. It has been shown, he said, that implements deteriorate 12 per cent more each year if left exposed to weather hazards, and that repair bills are 25 to 36 per cent higher. Thus, he reasoned, housing soon pays for itself.

Dealers Join Discussion

A representative of one lumber material supply house here said his company has built granaries of 100,000 pounds capacity for delivery to farms at a cost of about $500, delivered and ready for use. In case the farmer wanted to build his own granary, cost of materials is about $325 on the same capacity bin, he said.

Another dealer did not quote prices, but said materials are plentiful.

A representative of one steel-material concern here said steel structures ready for assembly on the farm cost 40 to 60 cents per hundred square feet, and that the company would spare a man to serve as foreman for the erection. Of the quonset type, the buildings are available in 20, 24, 32, and 40 ft. widths.

Details of the loan program were explained by Wells, whose PMA office administers the program for the Commodity Credit corporation, lending agency.

Loan Is $2.28

He said the loan is $2.28 a hundred pounds for grade 2 or better grain, and that the only cost after acceptable farm storage is provided is two cents per cwt., netting the producer $2.26. The producer agrees to deliver to the CCC the same grade and quantity of grain named in the loan, or producer pays the difference in settlement.

Grain must stay in the bin not less than 30 days before inspection for the loan, and moisture cannot exceed 13 per cent.

He said there are no particular specifications on the storage bin, with provisions only that it keep the grain in and keep other things out, such as weather damage and rodents and weevils.

Conservation Film Shown

Wells also mentioned the purchase agreement program, under which the producer is guaranteed the support price next April 30, and he can handle the grain any way he desires but must be responsible for delivery of the stipulated grade and quantity of grain.

The meeting here followed a similar program Friday night at Roosevelt school (Acuff), where much interest was shown in farm storage, Sherrill said. That area, normally a heavy cotton producer, has an unusually heavy acreage in grain this year because a hailstorm wiped out an estimated 50,000 acres of cotton too late to replant to that crop.

Preceding the storage discussion, a soil conservation film was shown, depicting the ravages of "piracy" farming and its effects on the general health of people and animals.

The film sought to show that depletion of minerals in the soil has a direct bearing on the general health and stamina of both humans and animals.

Sherrill announced that a similar meeting is scheduled for Thursday night, starting at 8 o'clock, at Becton, in the northeast part of the county, and that others will be arranged if desired.

WAA OFFICIAL TO VISIT IN LUBBOCK THURSDAY

DALLAS, Sept. 4 (AP)—Duncan D. Myers of the War Assets administration announced today that he will visit two West Texas points next week to inspect grain storage facilities in charge of WAA.

The WAA has approved plans to release unused portions of airports for emergency grain storage and is seeking more storage space.

Myers said he will inspect the South Plains Air Field near Lubbock Thursday and the Pantex ordnance works near Amarillo Friday. He plans conferences with warehousemen, elevator men, growers and others to explain leasing arrangements at available sites.

He said the WAA will give blanket approval for the release of all available buildings still under the agency's jurisdiction.

Labor Outlook

took a swift—though possibly brief—turn for the worse. The summer calm was ended shrilly on the eve of the 66th anniversary of Labor's own holiday. In the number of big strikes besetting parts of the nation, it was the worst Labor day since V-J day.

Meanwhile, both President Truman and his political rival, Gov Thomas E. Dewey of New York, bid for support of the AFL vote Mr. Truman did it by indirection, blasting the record of the GOP controlled Congress on labor and living costs. Gov. Dewey said he had been assured that the Dewey-Warren Republican presidential ticket "will have substantial labor support at the polls Nov. 2."

President Truman meantime will formally open his campaign Monday for the labor vote in a major speech in Detroit.

Johnson Leads Coke

That meant a net gain in that county of 100 votes for Stevenson.

It was one week ago to the day that Texas citizens cast their ballots in the nip-and-tuck Democratic primary.

Tonight, neither candidate could be certain of victory. Final, official vote tabulations are scheduled for next Sept. 13 in Fort Worth. A subcommittee of the State Dem-

JOHNSON TO GIVE REPORT

AUSTIN, Sept. 4. (AP) — Senatorial candidate Lyndon Johnson said tonight he would give a report "to my fellow citizens" over a statewide radio network Monday.

In his second formal statement today, Johnson said "I can assure my fellow Texans that I have won by a comfortable majority as I have always contended I would do since the trend set in Saturday night."

This statement was issued after the Texas Election bureau 5:20 p. m. count showed him to be leading Coke Stevenson by 181 votes.

ocratic executive committee is to tabulate the official vote then.

The noon count by the TEB gave Johnson 494,195 votes and Stevenson 494,137.

When the election bureau closed for the night Friday, Johnson had a 17-vote lead.

Votes Certified

The frequent changes in totals were caused by official reports coming to the election bureau, which substituted these tabulations for its earlier unofficial tabulations.

Throughout Texas, county Democratic committees were certifying their vote today.

A week ago, Stevenson took a large lead as the votes began to roll in. This lead was chopped away until Johnson went ahead Sunday. Then Stevenson edged ahead during the week until Friday, when Johnson forged ahead again.

Johnson today from Austin suggested that if an investigation of the primary is to be made that the Federal Bureau of Investigation be the agency.

Can Furnish Leads

"Since this is a federal election, the Federal Bureau of investigation, a disinterested and efficient agency, would be the proper agency to conduct it. I can furnish some good leads to such an investigating body.

"When the honest count is in and all the votes cast are canvassed; as I have maintained throughout the counting of votes, I will have a comfortable majority."

Johnson also said, "While a large metropolitan newspaper and their candidate were leading me by fictitious votes, all was quiet and serene. When the official count, the honest count, put Lyndon B. Johnson in the lead, that newspaper and their candidate started screaming.

Asks Explanation

"I would like for them to explain how they corrected me out of 400 votes in one county, 225 in another, more than 200 in Harris county, and to top it all, from their own columns, in today's paper, it appears they have corrected me out of 2,000 votes in Dallas county, in a two-time certification to state chairman before the votes were even canvassed.

"I am trying to stop the same thing from hapening in other counties. By their slanted headlines and their front-page editorials, that newspaper and their candidate are trying to throw up a smoke screen in an effort to blind the good people of this state to what that newspaper and their candidate are trying to do to Johnson."

Changes Reported

"It's a peculiar thing that my opponent and his newspaper sponsor thus far have made no mention of some counties that did a complete about-face, but when he trails by 17 votes, they cry for an investigation to be conducted by a committee the majority of which are his old cronies and his financial, voting and speaking supporters. That's like a mother being asked to judge a baby show in which her twins are entered."

Paper Suggests Probe

In relation to the reports of suggested investigations of the election, The Dallas Morning News was quoted in a front page Sunday morning edition as saying that "The News wishes to join Mr. Johnson in his suggestion of an FBI investigation."

In all of the revisions between noon and 6 p.m. Johnson lost 31 votes and Stevenson lost 154.

Changes between noon and 6 p.m. included:

Bell, Johnson gained eight; Stevenson lost 65.

Ellis, each lost 11.

Freestone, Johnson gained 52, Stevenson lost two.

Goliad, Johnson lost one.

Haskell, Johnson lost two.

Karnes, Johnson lost one and Stevenson gained six.

Palo Pinto, Johnson lost one.

Throckmorton, Johnson lost six, Stevenson gained five.

TEXAS DEMO ELECTORS QUIZZED ON PARTY LOYALTY

AUSTIN, Sept. 4 (AP) — Texas Democratic electors were asked today to stand up and be counted on the party-loyalty-Dixiecrat issue.

State Democratic executive committee Chairman Robert W. Calvert sent telegrams to the 23 electors demanding an answer before next Saturday on the question of whether or not they would cast their votes for President Truman as the party's presidential nominee.

He reminded them that the May convention at Brownwood pledged them to support all the nominees of the Democratic party, and said he wanted to know how the electors stood for the information of the Fort Worth convention's delegates.

Charles Cobb, Lubbock attorney and Lubbock county chairman of the Johnson-for-Senator club, also was present and checked tally sheets along with Condray.

Other Charges Made

Ab Humphries, long-time political observer, was also present as the official canvass was being made.

Humphries for many years was prominent as a leading Ferguson supporter in this area. Coke Stevenson also was one of the Ferguson lieutenants back in the heyday of the Bell county governor.

Prior to the canvass, Chairman Ellis revealed that total expenses for the year's Democratic primaries had exceeded the committee's budget by less than $3. Total expenses were $4,523 compared to a budget set up by the committee of $4 521.08.

Four other changes were made in totals in the official canvass. T. E. May, successful candidate for county treasurer picked up ten votes and J R. Shipp lost ten votes, making the count May, 4,963; Shipp, 4,556.

A. A. Gartman, unsuccessful candidate for commissioner of precinct 2, lost two votes from the unofficial count, ending up with a total of 739 votes.

Geo. B. Jones, winning constable candidate, ended up with 3,309 votes compared to 3,310 given in the unofficial count.

56 Persons Killed In Holiday Accidents

(By The Associated Press)

Fifty-six persons died accidentally as the Labor Day weekend got underway with a rush of motorists to the highways.

Forty-eight of the dead were traffic victims; five were drowned, and three others died of miscellaneous causes attributed to the holiday.

The combination of a three-day weekend and a forecast of good weather sent millions to resort spots and other vacation points.

Gov. Thurmond, along with Gov. Fielding L. The two men officially accepted the nomination in Houston later this summer.

Gov. Thurmond is a comparative newcomer to politics. He was said to be serving as attorney general of South Carolina when World War II started. He enlisted in the service as an infantryman, was wounded four times and received several decorations. He reached the rank of colonel.

RUSSIANS RELEASE SIX U. S. SOLDIERS IN BERLIN

BERLIN, Sunday, Sept. 5 (AP)—U. S. Military police said today the Russians took six American soldiers into custody in Berlin during the night but later released all of them.

Names of the soldiers were withheld pending an investigation. The police also declined to disclose the circumstances surrounding the incident.

The arrests were the first in more than a week.

Parnell Farmer Is Fined $411

When the judicial air cleared Saturday in two courts, reporters were told that W. F. House, 24, of Parnell, Texas, was "out" $411.40 in fines and court costs, plus several cases of whisky, wine, gin and beer. Also, he faces payment for damages to his car, perhaps to two others damaged in collision with his.

His charges grew out of an arrest Friday night after a spirited chase of the police and liquor board inspectors.

In county court, House, who gave his occupation as farmer, was fined $300 and costs of $22.40. In corporation court he was fined $89— for running two red lights, driving on the wrong side of the street, having no operator's license, driving without lights, making a left turn from an alley, speeding through an intersection, cutting a corner on a left turn, and negligent collision.

Vagrancy Raids Underway

Meanwhile, Saturday night, officials were speculating on the possibility that another weekend might pass without serious gunplay or knife injuries.

Since police uncapped a series of vagrancy ids Aug. 19, there has not been reported a single incident of knifings and shootings here, it was announced Saturday morning.

Police on Aug. 19, announcing that they were tired of seeing loafing, shiftless negroes gathered about the town, commenced a drive that has produced 98 vagrancy arrests. Both whites and negroes have been gathered into the net. In addition, 26 charges of vagrancy by prostitution were filed, for a total of 124 vagrancy arrests.

County and precinct officials joined in, and fines have ranged upward to the $200 statutory limit.

Officials said they had arrested numerous persons who are known bootleggers, associates of prostitutes and petty thieves.

Breaches of the peace, particularly in the negro section, dropped off quickly and significantly, it has been noticed by officials since the first raid.

Weekends before that time usually produced several investigations into violence.

Police said the vagrancy charges would continue so long as persons insist upon staying here without working or else are unable to show a means of livelihood.

Joe Miller of Lubbock route 4 informed the sheriff's department that a generator was stolen off his irrigation well.

C. W. Bellamy reported to police Saturday afternoon that a boy's red Monarch bike had been stolen from in front of the Chief theater.

Indicative of the drive being made by local law enforcement officers on vagrancy and drunkenness, city police records late Saturday night showed that during the day 12 persons had been jailed for vagrancy and eight for drunkenness. Two others had been confined to face charges of driving while intoxicated and one for disturbance.

County officers chipped in with six negro residents of Queen City arrested to face charges of gaming. Arresting officers said a "big dice game" was underway when the raid was made. One man was placed in county jail for drunkenness.

S. D. Hipp, 1007 Ave. G, reported to police that his maroon James motorcycle, license YJ-1606 was stolen Saturday night from where it was parked at 17th and Texas.

First Bale Of Lamb County Cotton Sold At Littlefield

LITTLEFIELD, Sept. 4 (Special)—Lamb county's first bale of cotton, brought in Aug. 26 by L. E. Downs who farms five miles southeast of Spade, was sold here today for 30 cents a pound. Sale of the bale, which weighed 462 pounds, was sponored by the local Chamber of Commerce.

In addition to the 30 cents per pound, Littlefield merchants made up a premium list for the grower raising the total amount which he received for the bale to $401.

The cotton was planted April 26, exactly four months before it was gathered. It was dry-land cotton, and was ginned by Spears Massy Gin, four miles north of Littlefield.

One-quarter of the total volume of the nation's printing is normally done in New York state.

field. At noon Sept. 23, he will address members of the City Federation of Women's clubs in Lubbock. He will speak the night of Sept. 23 at an inter-city Rotary meeting in Lubbock.

He will speak Sept. 29 at a Rotary club meeting at Dallas.

A few minutes after shaking hands with Dr. Jones, whom he has known about 16 years, Dr Wiggins said the prospect of association with Dr. Jones was one of the happy things about coming to Texas Tech. "I am happy to have him as the first vice president of Texas Technological college," he said. Dr. Jones and I together look forward with a great deal of enthusiasm to our work with the faculty of the college, people of Lubbock and of West Texas."

Have Worked Together

Dr. Wiggins, who left his position as president of Texas Mines and Metallurgy at El Paso to come to Texas Tech, and Dr. Jones, who left his office of president of Texas College of Arts and Industries at Kingsville, first met when Dr Wiggins was a dean at Hardin-Simmons university and Dr. Jones was a dean at Baylor university. Dr. Wiggins took the presidency of Texas College of Mines and Metallurgy in 1939 and Dr. Jones went to Kingsville in 1942.

They have been together at times as members of the Council of Presidents of State Supported Colleges and Universities in Texas.

Dr. Jones said Saturday afternoon that, "The one item that is uppermost in my mind is the opportunity to get acquainted with members of the staff as rapidly as possible and through them learn more than I now know of the strong points of Texas Tech and the problems which will need our combined attention."

Dr. and Mrs. Jones and two children arrived in Lubbock Friday afternoon and moved into the home they have purchased at 3204 Twenty-seventh.

"We are most pleasantly and favorably impressed with all we have seen in our visits to Lubbock," Dr. Jones said. "We are anticipating the privilege of many new associations, both on and off the campus."

The plans of Dr. and Mrs. Wiggins to live at Hilton hotel about three weeks and then to move into an apartment in Dormitory 3 West to live while the president's home is being remodeled had previously been announced.

The college board of directors recently decided the president's residence would be remodeled.

Labor Day Program

announced as the closing event for an observance in which, according to those making arrangements, the approximately 5,000 union labor members in the immediate Lubbock area will participate.

Banks, most official offices, practically all establishments employing union labor exclusively and numerous other business firms will be closed throughout the day.

The Retail Merchants association announced that most of its member firms will remain closed until after the parade, and then will be open for business during the remainder of the day. This is in accord with terms of their holiday closing agreement, it was explained.

Most firms which still are observing the summertime 5 p. m. closing will go back to 6 o'clock Tuesday, the association said.

Heavy Traffic Expected

Larry Copenhaver, secretary of Lubbock Lumbermen's association, said operators of practically all lumber yards have indicated they will observe the all-day closing.

Holiday traffic is expected to be heavy. The State Highway patrol, police and county authorities joined in the admonition to "drive carefully."

Actually, the holiday observance — and the consequent holiday traffic — is expected to begin today. Preparations have been made for some of the biggest Sunday picnicking crowds of the summer at Mackenzie State park and at Buffalo lakes.

An added attraction at Buffalo this afternoon will be motorboat races. Nothing special has been planned there for Monday, but preparations have been made for large picnic and fishing crowds.

Local unions to participate in the Labor Day parade include barbers, boilermakers, bricklayers, Building Trades Council, Brotherhood of Railway Carmen, Carpenters, Cement finishers and plasterers, Brotherhood of Railway Clerks, Order of Railway Conductors, Electrical workers, fire fighters, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, American Federation of Government Employes, insulators, iron workers, hod carriers and laborers, lathers, machinists, motion picture machine operators, operating engineers painters, printers, roofers, sheets metal workers, teamsters, telephone workers, and Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen.

Women Students At Texas Tech To Get Better Social Guidance

A program stressing increased social supervision and individual guidance of women students at Texas Technological college will be initiated at the opening of school this fall.

Emphasis in the new program, which augments the existing social routine, is on counseling for every woman student; a fuller social program; and increased attention to scholastic attainment by women students.

An enlarged staff of trained counselors has been necessary to set into operation such a complete guidance plan, Mrs Margarette W. Walker, dean of women who began duties Sept 1, said. She will appoint three trained counselors for each dormitory who will work with the residence directors and be assisted by junior counselors.

Student Counselors Included

A staff thus enlarged has two women available to the 300 women students in each dormitory at all times instead of one woman over the entire group. With the assistance from junior counselors, to be two graduate students and four senior students, in each dormitory a counselor will be able to work with every 50 students.

"The main purpose of the new program is to make our girls as comfortable and happy as possible. We hope to give them every individual attention they require, and see to it they have the best and most fun while living in our dormitories. At the same time, we want to help them become good scholastics who have time to study and a proper place for study and research. Our new program has been built around these objectives," Mrs. Walker said.

Working in close co-operation with Mrs. Walker to co-ordinate the entire program and bring in closer contact the individual student with the college are two newly appointed assistants in the dean of women's office, Miss June La Verne Hanson and Mrs. Lorraine Hudson.

Duties Are Defined

Miss Hanson has been delegated to direct general office procedure, student activities, housing and student employment. Mrs. Hudson will serve as social director and counselor for the women's dormitories.

Residence directors are to be Mrs. Edna W. Eikel in Women's Dorm Three East, Mrs. Elizabeth Young, Drane Hall, and Mrs. Cecile C. Turner, Women's Dorm Three West. As directors, they will continue to serve as official hostesses, supervise the dormitory social program and welfare of the women residents. All three of the directors have served in this capacity at the college.

Miss Hanson has come to Lubbock from Eugene, Ore., where she held a position with United Air Lines. She is a graduate of Oregon State college with a BA degree in education, and from the University of Chicago with an MA degree in education. She has had special training in guidance and testing at Columbia university.

Experience Given

For three years she was a high school teacher in Oregon giving special attention to student counseling. She was employed later as supervisor of testing with the Oregon State Board of Health and on leaving the State staff, she became a case report writer for the Education Records bureau, New York, and later moved on to Los Angeles, Calif., where she was recruiting representative for Federal Civil Service offices.

Mrs. Hudson holds a bachelor of arts degree in education from East Central college, Ada, Okla. She did graduate work at Columbia university in case work on a counseling level. She has had experience as a teacher and in student counseling and was associated with the American Red Cross hospital service in case work. Mrs. Hudson was also employed by Thoedate Soule, director of social service staff, at New York hospital.

Mexico Denies Farm Pay Cut By Workers

MEXICO CITY, Sept. 4 (U.P.)—The Mexican government migrant labor commission today denied that Mexican braceros working legally in the United States can be used to drive American farm labor salaries down.

Alfonso Guerra, chief administrative officer of the foreign ministry and a member of the commission, said that the U. S.-Mexican migrant labor agreement provides that Mexican laborers "will not be employed to displace American workers nor to lower salaries."

Are Paid Same Salaries

He said the agreement "obliges employers to pay Mexican workers the same salaries that U. S. workers obtain for similar jobs in the region wherein they work."

Guerra made his statement in a point by point refutation of declaration credited to H. J. Mitchell, president of the Farm Workers union, opposing employment of Mexican laborers for farm labor in the United States.

Guerra said the pact between the two nations does not either violate provisions of the Mexican constitution or "promises made to workers" at the recent Bogota conference.

"The migratory labor question was not discussed at Bogota," Guerra said. He added "never has the legality of the arrangements made on this subject with the United States been questioned."

Mrs. Hermon Edwards of Route 5, Lubbock, manager of the Mayfair Shop at 1211 Broadway, has been named winner of a $500 cash award and an all-expense paid trip to New York City for having placed her store among the top 10 of 106 such stores in percentage of increase in sales for the first six months of 1948.

Report Of Crewless Bomber Flying Over Hamburg Probed

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 4 (AP)—U. S. Air Force headquarters announced today it is investigating mystifying reports that a crewless B-29 Superfortress was seen flying over the Hamburg area yesterday.

While the wreckage of a B-29, abandoned by its crew over the Netherlands because of engine trouble yesterday, has not yet been found, one of its rescued crew members was quoted at Vlissingen as saying the ship plummeted into the Schelde estuary.

The Hamburg area is more than 200 miles from the point where the B-29 crew bailed out. A line from there to the Hamburg area would place the mystery plane on a direct course toward Russia.

"Air Force officers are investigating indications that the B-29 Superfortress reported to have crashed after its crew bailed out yesterday over Holland later was sighted in the Hamburg area still flying at 10,000 feet," the headquarters announcement said.

"Official reports from the Hague stated no wreckage had been found in the area where the plane was unofficially reported to have crashed. A large number of Dutch air force planes continued the search (for the wreckage) today."

LUBBOCK AVALANCHE-JOURNAL Sports

WESTERNER GRIDDERS IN ACTION—Some of the boys who will be in the Lubbock High school Westerner lineup when the local gridders tangle with Odessa Broncos of District 3-AA Friday night at Jones stadium are shown in the photos above. At extreme left Jim Wilson, a rangy end who won a reserve letter with the Westerners in 1947 as a back, reaches for a pass. Left, center, speedster Charley Williams heads for paydirt. Williams, one of the three Lubbock lettermen, was a sprint star with the Westerner track team this spring and has been alternating at the quarterback and halfback slots since fall drills opened. Above are three of the top Westerner line candidates. Left to right are Co-Captain Jack Bryant, a 225-tackle; Guard Morris Moyers, a 221-pounder who played with the Cowhands in 1947; and Center Wendell Gailey. Bobby Brown, triple threat halfback, is shown at extreme right as he gets ready to fire a pass downfield. (Avalanche-Journal Staff Photos).

Westerners Battle Odessa Broncos Friday

Tech Holds Drill Under Simulated Game Conditions

They knocked heads at Texas Tech yesterday afternoon, as the 1948 gridiron candidates got their first solid taste of simulated game conditions, without the confining regulations of a game.

It all started, ahead of schedule, when line coach G. B. Morris suggested to Coach Dell Morgan that they test the lines a little to see what they could do. Morgan jumped at the suggestion and added one of his own; why not let the backs have at little contact work too?

Full Size Scrimmage

That brought on a full sized scrimmage and from the way the players responded, the spirit was killing, even if the ability and timing was off. But a good deal of valuable information was gleaned from the scrimmage, information that will be used during the coming week to correct natural mistakes.

The Red Raiders open their schedule Sept. 18, giving the coaching staff only a week and a half to get ready for the first game. In the meantime, West Texas will have played one game and will be that much more tested. The Buffaloes, under the wily tutoring of Coach Frank Kimbrough, are said to be loaded this year. The Buffs have a small squad, not deep in material, but strong on the starting line and with good replacements.

Players Not Tested

Knowing that Kimbrough will go all out to lick Tech, the Raider coaching staff is not taking the game lightly. They realize that the players are not tested and many of the second string men will be starting for the first time. Coach Morgan could start a seasoned teams, but it would not be as strong as last year's eleven. And his reserves have yet to be proven.

This year's eleven, far from shaping up with any definite form, should be heavier in the forward wall and faster in the backfield. The switch of Bud Conley to fullback gives line-plunging power, while such speedsters as Glenn Lewis, Zac Henderson, Walt Maloney, Charley Reynolds, Cal Steveson, Herman Bailey, Tim Hatch and others give a fast starting backfield.

Fight For Quarterback Spot

A real fight for the quarterback spot is developing among Milton Rathbone, Shaff DeGaish, Bill Lyman and Ernest Hawkins, although not necessarily in that order.

It should be a good year for the Raiders, despite the presence of four Southwest Conference powers, and the fight for positions will help a lot.

Tickets Available For Raider Games

Contrary to rumors now in circulation, there are plenty of tickets left for the four home games to be played by the Texas Tech football team this year.

Morley Jennings, Tech athletic director, said last night that season tickets already purchased will be ready for delivery tomorrow. The tickets must be picked up not later than 6 p.m. Sept. 15 and can be obtained in the new offices at Jones Stadium.

In regards to the current ticket shortage rumor, Jennings said: "That is not true. There are plenty of season tickets available and these may be secured any day from 8 a. m. until 5 p. m. in the Tech ticket office in the new stadium."

Texas Tech's first home game will be with West Texas on Sept. 18.

Kielty Annexes Western Crown

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 4 (INS)—Dot Kielty, long-driving Curtis Cup star from Long Beach Cal., today won the Women's Western Amateur golf championship at San Francisco with an uphill 1-up victory over Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex.

The match was played at the Olympics clubs's Lake Side course.

Two down with three holes to play, the battling California girl acme swinging back with powerful drives, straight irons and true putts to win three holes in a row and annex her first major championship.

The winner carded 1-hole medal play rounds of 75-77 today—but despite the fact she was even par for the day, she barely nosed out the pugnacious Texans.

Miss Kielty was one-up at the end of the morning round, but Miss Riley, who recently annexed the Trans-Mississippi championship, came roaring back in the afternoon. She evening the match at the end of the 22nd and went two up at the 26th.

MISS CANADA WINS RACE

DETROIT, Sept. 4. (INS)—Sleek Miss Canada skimmed to victory today in the first heat of the Silver Cup race on the Detroit River, breaking all silver and gold cup records. The black hulled invader from Ingersoll, Canada averaged 73.881 over the 45-mile course and won over the Dossin Brothers' entry, Miss Pepsi, by 200 yards.

Six Schools Set To Start Season

At least six Class 3-A high schools will open their football schedules Friday night, but there will be no conference games until later in the season.

All eight schools in 3-A, Abernathy, Crosbyton, Floydada, Lockney, Matador, Paducah and Ralls, open their seasons Friday night against outside competition. They have been practicing the past three weeks and are ready for the long grind.

Lockney, Floydada and Spur are being tabbed as the schools in the district to beat for the championship, but several of the coaches say that they have surprises in store. Most of the teams lost valuable players and will be reaching into the generally limited reserve list for starting players. But if past performances hold true, most of the reserves will mature.

Will Field Green Eleven

Lockney, under Coach Curtis Kelley, which tied for the district title in 1947, will field a relatively green eleven. But Coach Kelley has some weight in his line to help him. A pair of tackles, 230-pound Ewell D. Kelley and 280-pound Delbert Shearer, should help to start with. And he has three ends that are experienced.

Topping the three will be difficult; all are over six feet and in Calvin Pyle, Joe Keeter and Charles Crouch will lie much of the offensive power. Coach Kelley also has Donnie Bybee, an experienced center, to help solve his line problems.

The backfield is green, with only Jimmy McGowan back from last year's letter winners. McGowan is a wing back on the single wing system.

35 Candidates Report

Lockney has seven men on which to build, with 35 boys out this fall. Among the promising prospects is Robert Hucklebury, a guard, on whom the Longhorns are counting. The Steers are going into the season with hopes of bettering the seven and two record they had last season. To help with the task this year is Metz LaFollette, a West Texas graduate of 1944.

Floydada's Whirlwinds are being regarded with an air of suspicion and there is reason for it. Coach L. F. Greshem has eight lettermen, evenly divided between linemen and backs, on hand and a good-sized squad out for practice. The team, including the backfield, will weigh about 155 pounds, which is plenty of heft.

This is Coach Greshem's fourth year at Floydada and last year's record was not his best, but the

Sports Study

By Earl Scudday

Although only three grid games were played Friday on the South Plains, the tussles indicated that this area will again field some of the top Class A teams in the state. Last fall the South Plains boasted half a dozen A powers—including Levelland, Seminole and Tahoka—and there were many sports fans who believed that our regional champ, Levelland, could have won the state championship if there had been a complete playoff. This season, the Class A trail will reach all the way to a state title, and it seems certain that this area will be well represented in the playoffs.

Probably the most surprising victory of the opening encounters was turned in by Seminole. The Indians, without the services of most of their stars in 1947, were rumored to be weak on offense this season. But that 250 yards rushing, against Class AA Lamesa, should end all doubts on that issue. Seminole, barring a reversal of form during the next few games, will be rated as one of the co-favorites to cop the District 5-A title. Monahans, now faced with a district hearing on an alleged rule violation, is the other favorite in the loop.

Sundown uncorked a zazzle-dazzle offense to outscore Denver City, to loom as a threat to Levelland and Littlefield in 4-A, while Sudan turned in a creditable jab in overpowering little Springlake, 19-0. Rain caused numerous fumbles in the Denver City-Sundown setto and made the boys look a little more inexperienced than they really are. Both Sundown and Sudan should develop into strong title threats.

Lubbock High's Westerners open a new gridiron era Friday night at Jones stadium, when they tangle with the Odessa Broncos of District 3-AA in one of the feature clashes in the state. The Westerners, playing their first game under Head Mentor C. R. Pattison, will also be playing their first game in the new stadium. Most of the boys on the Westerner roster have never played in a high school football tilt.

But the Westerners, although they will be 20-point underdogs in the setto, are expected to give the fans something to cheer about for the first time in several years. The local schoolboys have shown fine spirit and determination in the three week training grind, as well as enough physical ability to cause plenty of trouble for opponents. The youngsters wearing the Black and Gold tackle hard, block hard, run hard and are battling all the time. The Westerners are inexperienced and will probably make plenty of mistakes in the early season games, but Lubbock fans will have the satisfaction of watching a fighting, heads-up team in action. They may get beat, yes, but whipped—no.

The Lubbock eleven faces a long, tough road this season. Odessa, San Angelo, North Side of Fort Worth, Austin and Childress are all double-rough non-conference foes. Then in district the Westerners will have to battle the old Amarillo jinx, as well as Borger, Pampa, Plainview and Brownfield. At least three of the loop opponents have more experience and are rated higher than the Lubbock boys.

But the Westerners, if they continue to keep their spirit high and continue to develop under the able direction of Coaches Pattison, Bill Floyd and Fred Taylor, can turn the district race into a dog-fight. Exactly 10 years ago an unheralded Lubbock team beat the Sandies for the district title, then went all the way to the state finals. The next year the Westerners won the state championship—chiefly on spirit. The "Cinderella Kids" of '39 had some fine players, but it wa stheir never-say-die determination that carried them to victory. And what they did, this Lubbock team of a decade later could do.

Yes, this Odessa game Friday night should prove very interesting. It may be the start of a "new deal" in 1-AA grid warfare.

Yankees Defeat Nationals, 9-7

NEW YORK, Sept. 4. (AP)—Yogi Berra came through twice with the bases loaded, driving in four runs, as the New York Yankees notched their seventh straight victory today, 9-7, over Washington, to remain a half game behind the leading Boston Red Sox.

Two big innings, five runs in the third and four in the fourth, enabled the Yanks to overcome an early Washington lead. It was the second time this season they have put together a seven-game win streak.

Wildness by Washington pitchers who walked ten contributed heavily to the Yankee's success as three runs were forced across by walks with the bases loaded. Joe DiMaggio drove another across with a single, one came home on an outfield fly and Berra took care of the rest.

Hubber-Gasser Tilt Postponed When Lights Fail

The Lubbock Hubbers had their game with the Borger Gassers last night in Borger called because of darkness.

Some enthousiastic fan, possibly alarmed by the scoring threat the Hubbers were staging, may have sabotaged the transformer system. But Borger Baseball club officials declared that a short circuit caused the trouble.

So a large Ladies Night crowd went home with their ticket stubs and an even larger crowd is anticipated today, when a doubleheader will be played. The first game will start at 2:30 p. m. and both tilts will run seven innings.

Lights Go Off

night during Hubber battihg last night during Hubber batting practice, but after a search of the wires, electricians got the power on again. But the long delay set the game back to 9:45 before it could start.

Manager Eddie Carnett, with a reeord of four wins and two losses, was on the mound and had allowed only two hits, both for extra bases. Chris Haskins was on the mound for Lubbock and had given up a single.

Called In Second

Chick Fowler led off the first with a triple, but left stranded when Gene Hixson and Manager Jackie Sullivan grounded out, third to first, and Virgil Richardson fanned.

Larry Gilchrist singled, but was erased when Verdun Gilchrist hit into a double play. Leon Mitchell walked and Gordon Nell flied to Hixson to end the inning.

Frank McAlexander fanned to lead off the second, but Don Moore doubled. After the count reached two and two on Jackie Wilcox, the lights went out and the game was called off.

Non-Title Clash To Open 1948 Slate

Pampa, Brownfield And Plainview Open Class AA Gridiron Season

By EARL SCUDDAY
Avalanche Journal Sports Writer

Lubbock High's youthful Westerners will open their rugged 10-game 1948 grid slate here Friday night at Texas Tech's new Jones stadium with a non-conference clash against the powerful Odessa Broncos of District 3-AA.

The Lubbock-Odessa setto will be the feature tilt in the weekend football schedule that sends most of the Class AA and A elevens in West Texas into action. In other

DEADLINE IS SET

Persons who have reserved season tickets for the Lubbock High school games have been requested to pick up the duests at the Senior High athletic office not later than Thursday, E. J. Lowrey, business manager, reported Saturday night. Season tickets are still available for fans who have not made their reservations, Lowrey said.

AA contests Plainview will play host to highly-rated Polytechnic of Fort Worth, North Dallas will invade Pampa and the Brownfield Cubs journey to distant Pecos.

Lubbock In Spotlight

But it is the Westerner-Bronco clash that will hold the state grid spotlight. Coach Joe Coleman's Flying Red Hosses have advanced into the state playoffs for the last three years, winning the state AA crown in 1946. The Broncos have not been defeated in a regular season game since 1944, when the Westerners turned the trick in a non-title encounter and San Angelo triumphed in a 3-AA tussle.

The Odessans went to the quarter-finals in 1945; losing to Wichita Falls; were undefeated in their '46 championship season; then went all the way to the semi-finals last season. The Broncos have won 26 of their last 27 games to set a modern Texas schoolboy record.

New Coaching Setup

The opening clash will be the first tilt for the Westerners under a new coaching setup. C. R. (Pat) Pattison, who mentored the Wichita Falls Coyotes to the quarter-final playoff bracket in 1946, is the head man in the Westerner staff, assisted by Line Coach Bill Floyd and End Mentor Fred Taylor. Floyd served as line coach at Texarkana High school last season, while Taylor joined the local group direct from Texas Chrsitian university.

But the coaches are not all that are new in the Hub city grid picture. The Texas Interscholastic league eight-semester restriction, combined with the 18-year-old age limit and graduations, dropped practically all of the 1947 Westerner squadmen from the roster and shifted most of the hopes for a successful season to the graduates of the strong '47 Cowhand squad.

Only two regulars of the '47 Westerner eleven — Back Don Decker and Tackle Jack Bryant—will be available for duty at kick-off time Friday night, with three other lettermen—Backs Charley Williams and Bill Bridge and End Jim Wilson—on the roster.

Odessa One Of Top Teams

Heading the Odessa stalwarts, ranked as one of the top two teams in the state, are two regulars of the '47 semi-finalists. Jimmy (The Bull) Patterson, hard-running 185-pound halfback, and all-district Tackle Don Thompson are both slated for starting assignments against the Westerners. Other veterans include Halfback James (Sonny) Mobley, Guard Gervais Johnson, Guard Dale Stroope and Tackle Robert Williams.

Both teams will depend heavily on "B" team graduates and even a few junior high products, with the Odessans holding an edge in experience.

The setto will provide an interesting contrast in offensive formations. The Broncos are confirmed advocates of the fast-breaking T-formation, while Pattison's crew features a powerful modified single wing attack. The emphasis with the Broncos is on speed and tricky ball-handling, with the Westerners depending on a well-balanced running and passing assault on the goal line.

A crowd of approximately 15,000 persons is expected in Jones stadium for the opening tussle of the '48 slate, including a large delegation from the Sand Hills city. Attendance, if weather conditions are favorable, should set a new home game record for the local schoolboys.

Dukes Nose Out Loboes, 9 To 8

ALBUQUERQUE, Sept. 4 (Special)—Seven-hit hurling by Don Cantrell and the heavy slugging of Len Mulcahy gave the league-leading Albuquerque Dukes a 9-8 victory over the Lamesa Loboes here tonight.

Mulcahy had a perfect night at the plate, as he slammed out two home runs and two doubles in four trips. Jim Skidgel paced the Loboes with three safeties in five attempts.

The mound win was the eighteenth of the season for Cantrell, a right-handed.

Between The Lines. . .

By Joe Kelly

This being a quiet, cloudy Friday afternoon, we've decided to lay off any opinions, thoughts, contraversial issues or other heavy subjects. Instead, we'll start off with a tale Curtis Barrett told us the other day that seems worthy of passing on. It concerns Joe Dean Phillips of San Angelo, a former member of the Pampa Oilers of the West Texas-New Mexico League, in 1939. Grover Seitz, the innimitable, also gets in the act.

Seems Phillips, who has a brother playing in the American Association now, was somewhat of a shucks as a centerfielder and as a hitter. He was an integral part of the Oiler machine that was battling for first place and the loop pennant. But the vagaries of playing in the infant loop, with inadequate parks, poor facilities and all the other handicaps of a struggling league, came to the foreground with devastating affect one night. That was the night Phillips, roaming the center garden for the Oilers, was bitten by a rattlesnake!

They rushed the injured member to the hospital and did their best for him. They used every drug and antidote that was known and finally succeeded in stopping the venemous fluid from taking his life. In the meantime, his afflicted leg swelled to the size of an overripe watermelon and was encased in bandage. Poor Phillips could hardly move and was more or less numb. The Oilers were more or less numb without his bat and fielding ability in the lineup, too. And Grover was completely numb over the loss. The Oilers were faced with a cruical series and an inadequate replacement and missed Phillips like the Hubbers would miss their entire infield.

Finally Grover could stand the strain no longer. He put on his battered fedora, stormed into the hospital and dashed into Phillips' room. He paused momentarily when he saw the outfielder's white face, then pelted headlong into his passionate oratory. Phillips was letting the team down. The Oilers would lose the pennant without him. How could he lay there, eating three solid meals a day, loafing, enjoying being waited on when he knew that his teammates were playing with broken hearts. He was ungrateful. He didn't want Pampa to win. How could he treat his manager that way?

"But Grover," Phillips stammered, my leg is swollen badly. I couldn't possibly play with it as it is." Did that stop Grover? No, he went on with his pleas, his scolding. Phillips was letting his family down, he wasn't playing fair. All Grover's life he had dreamed of such a ball player and of a pennant and here it was literally flying out the window while Phillips lay in a hospital bed, no sicker than a man with a cold. It was his duty to come back.

Swayed by the impassioned pleas, Phillips weakly agreed to come back and play, leg or no leg, pain or no pain. He crawled from the bed, and, with the help of Grover, put on his clotnes. His pants barely fitted over his swollen leg, but they went on. Grover bundled him into a cab before the hospital found out he was leaving and they went to the ball park. Phillips suited up and rested before the game was due to begin.

When the game opened there was a shaky, ill Phillips in center field. He could barely move, let alone run, but he was there. He also could swing a bat, even though it lacked his former power. Grover was happy. Did his bat and arm win the game? It would be fine to say that his hit decided the crucial contest, or that he robbed a player of a hit, to save the game, but history is cruel and accurate. Phillips didn't do either of these things. He calmly and contentedly passed out along about the fourth inning while standing in certerfield, racked with pain.

That ought to be quite a football game over at Dallas the night of Sept. 15, when the Philadelphia Eagles meet the Los Angeles Rams in a benefit game for the Woodland Springs Camp for Boys. It's the second in an annual series in which the Salesmanship club brings the champion and championship favorites to the Southwest. This year fans will have a chance to see such established stars at Steve Van Buren, Bob Waterfield and others. They also will see former local favorites, such as Joe Cook and Steve Johnson of Hardin-Simmons, John Magee of Rice, H. J. Allen of Texas, Tom Scott of Kilgore Junior college, Noel Cudd of West Texas, and Duane Byars of Lockney, also a West Texas graduate.

THE ROUNDUP: O. C. Foster has left Bert Kahn's Health club . . . Ralph Earhart and Walt Schlinkman are the top offensive men on the Green Bay Packer eleven . . . Charles Ferguson and Dan Finley of the newspaper staff are the rival managers in today's battle of the Avalanche-Journal. It will be the printers against the rest of the paper and no one is covering any bets . . . Grover Seitz wants to finish fourth so the Oilers can beat out the Dukes . . . Bill Serena has been moved from third to short to plug Buffalo's headache spot and has been doing fine there . . . Bud Conley is being fitted with contact lenses. Then watch him go . . . Glad to see Frank McAlexander pounding the cover off the ball again . . . Collier's All-American this year will be picked strictly from films of college games, not on reports . . . Labor Day tomorrow and the Hubbers end the regular season with two games in Amarillo . . . See you at the Shag-nasty's!

Whirlwinds still won six against three losses and one tie.

Cline Goes To Fullback

Coach Greshem is making two switches in position this year, moving Bobby Cline from center to fullback to give him a line plunger and changing Junior Perry from a back to an end to give him an offensive pass receiver. Among the other linemen on hand are Reese Grubbs and Bill Haney, tackles, and Don Booth, a guard. The backfield men will be Bobby Finley, Billy Jeter and Bobby Bishop.

These will be the nuclei of the eleven that is being touted as a possible conference winner.

Coach Sam Hawks at Spur High school has the other team that is being tabbed as the one to beat and the Bulldogs might come through. They have nine lettermen returning and several promising newcomers, with spirit on the squad at a high peak. Coach Hawks has 27 men reporting to him for daily sessions and the Bulldogs are ready.

Several New Mentors

Crosbyton's chiefs, under a new coach, Fred J. Cunningham of Oklahoma City university, also is being eyed cautiously, while Paducah, last year's co-champions, also are working under a new coach, O. M. Isbell succeeds R. N. "Stormy" Davis, who has gone to Cisco Junior college.

Boyce Box, a West Texas graduate, has taken over the rains at Abernathy and the Antelopes are looking forward to surprising a lot of followers this year.

Red Amonette, at Matador last year, has taken charge at Ralls, but the Jackrabbits are not looking forward to a good year, due to lack of first rate material. And Rafe Nabors, a Lubbock boy, is in charge at Matador, after serving at Tulia.

Friday night's opening games will be New Deal at Abernathy; Slaton at Floydada; Chillicothe at Paducah; Tulia at Lockney; Spur at Haskell; Hale Center at Crosbyton; and Post at Ralls.

Getz, Weidner Will Meet In Mat Feature

Al Getz, the durable Dutchman from iPttsburgh, Pa., and Boston Billy Weidner will tangle in the two of three falls main event Wednesday night at Sled Allen's arena.

Both of the grapplers have been consistent winners in the local arena and, since they both have gained reputations as rough contestants, the bout should be a crowd-pleaser.

Rod Fenton, the Canadian grunt-and-groan representative, will meet veteran Jack Carter of New Zealand in the two of three falls semi-final setto. Carter was a regular competitor on cards here about a year ago, but has been touring the West coast for several month.

Rex Mobley of Borger faces tough George Lopez of Tampico, Mex., in the one fall, 20-minute preliminary clash. Mobley notched an impressive win over Gorilla Poggi here last week and will be shooting for a main even spot with a triumph Wednesday.

Tickets will go on sale at 9 o'clock Wednesday morning at Wylie's drug. Matches start at 8:30 p.m.

Boston Now Two Games Up On Brooks

Top Braves Divide Bill With Phillies

BOSTON, Sept. 4 (AP)—Merely marking time by splitting a doubleheader with the Philadelphia Phils, the top-place Boston Braves pulled two games ahead of the defeated Brooklyn Dodgers today before a 17,884 crowd.

The Phils, inspired by the aging Schoolboy Rowe's five-hit pitching, came from behind to take the opener, 4-3. Vernon Bickford then squared matters by twirling a neat 8-1 triumph for the Tribesmen in the nightcap.

Bill Voiselle was the Braves' first-bame starter and Jeff Heath sent him away to a flying start by tripling in Tommy Holmes and Earl Torgeson in the first inning. In the top half of that frame, Harry (The Cat) Brecheen's two-bagger and the first of three Boston errors gave the Phils their initial run.

Raffensberger's bid for a shutout was ruined by a Hank Sauer error, but Sauer redeemed himself later by starting the Reds' winning rally with a single to left in the eighth.

Plains Officials To Hold Rules Meeting

Annual rules interpretation meeting of the South Plains Officials and Coaches association will be held at 9 o'clock this morning at the Hilton hotel, officials have announced.

Most of the area mentors and game officials will attend the meeting, which will feature a discussion of regulations by Ab Curtis, noted Southwest official.

SEQUENCE SETS NEW RECORD

CHICAGO, Sept. 4. (INS) — Sequence, a beutiful Count Fleet filly who's never lost a race, set a new time record for the Princess Pat stakes today as she held off eight swift foes in the $53,150 classic for distaff juveniles. Skillfully guided by the ancient Freddie Smith, Brownell Combs' Sequence broke on top and stayed right there to beat Louis Haggins' Stole by a nose. Mrs. Al Sabath's trim, swift, Alsab's Day got the show, while Pail of Water, the betting choice, languished next to last.

STEER STAR—Tom Landry, co-captain and fullback on the Texas university gridiron eleven, is being looked upon as one of the chief hopes at the university this year. Landry is an 193-pound back who has been called the greatest defensive back since Harison Stafford. He was moved from quarterback to fullback last year and averaged five yards a try from that point on. He is a good kicker, able passer and a vicious tackler.

RICE CO-CAPTAINS NAMED

HOUSTON, Sept. 4 (AP) — Huey Keeney, fleet-footed, fine kicking back, and Ed Parker, veteran, husky and seasoned tackle, are co-captains of the Rice Owls for 1948. That was the announcement from Coach Jess Neely after tabulation of the votes of the players Saturday afternoon. Keeney, who was All-Southwest back in 1946, and has lettered three times with the Owls, is only 20 years old. Parker is an Owl by adoption.

SPOTLIGHT on SPORTS

By JOE HOLMES
Bow-and-arrow Bear Hunter

I remember reading a story not so long ago about young Les Essig and his now famous bow-and-arrow bear hunt. Young Les was only fourteen, and he was accompanying his father on a polar bear hunt to James Bay, Canada. The crew was on the look-out for smaller game, when Les's dad spotted a polar bear in the water. Then the excitement began.

Les got his bow and arrow and asked his dad if he could get him. The first arrow was shot from about seventy-five feet, and hit the bear in his left flank. The next one struck his shoulder bone, and shattered. The third arrow got him right between the shoulders, and he folded up in a sea of blood. This huge polar bear weighed 1800 pounds, and stood nearly nine feet high. What a thrill for a lad of fourteen! The real thrill came a few days later at Moose Factory, Ontario, when the news reached the native Cree Indians that Les had killed a polar bear with his bow and arrow. The young Indian boys stood and stared at young Essig. They'd never heard of such a thing.

You may not be looking for a bear with bow-and-arrow, but we know you'll be looking for plenty of doves during this season . . . so remember, SPORT CENTER for guns and ammunition. We've got plenty! Adv.

Richardson Climbs Back Into Top Batting Spot With .391

Sullivan Has .379 To Tie Walker

Virgil Richardson, Hubber first baseman, climbed back into the team batting league for the statistics period ending Aug. 31, pounding the ball at a .391 clip to ease ahead of Manager Jackie Sullivan and Floyd Walker.

Sullivan slipped a few points to .379, at which point he was tied by Walker. And Don Moore brought his average up to .350 to place fourth in the Hubber batting attack.

Among the pitchers, Royce Mills continued to show the best mark for the year with 14 victories and three defeats, although Roland Miller, recent hurling addition, has a perfect slate at four victories and no defeats.

Hubbers In Tie

The Hubbers also went into a tie for the lead in team fielding, posting a .951 mark for the season, and they were third in team batting on .319. Curiously enough, the first four teams in team batting reflected their exact positions in the pennant chase.

Bob Crues of Amarillo, who already has set a new mark in home runs and runs batted in for the league, continues to lead in four departments. He leads in runs with 174, in total bases with 443, in home runs with 62 and in runs batted in with 235.

Manager Herschel Martin of Albuquerque has stolen the double crown away from Doug Lewis of Amarillo, leading by three two-base blows on 58. Len Attyd of Albuquerque continues to pace the triple hitters with 18. Ron Bowen of Albuquerque leads in hits with 218, five more than Crues.

Gilchrist Leads In Walks

Verdun Gilchrist of Borger still paces the field in walks on 168, while Eddie Skrabacz of Lamesa heads the strikeout victims on 124. Frank Okrie of Albuquerque has the most sacrifice hits, 15, and Rocky Stone of Abilene has the most stolen bases, 38, two more than his teammate Gus Stathos.

There are only four .400 hitters in the league at present and they are headed by Martinat .419. Following him are three Amarillo players, Ted Clawitter with .412 Buck Fausett with .404 and Crues with .401. Manager Eddie Carnett of Borger is the fifth man in the top five on an average of .399.

Richardson holds more team records for the Hubbers than any other player at present, although pressed by Sullivan. Richardson leads in total bases on 349, in doubles with 44, in home runs with 35, in bases on balls with 115 and in runs batted in on 190.

Sullivan Has 155

Sullivan has the lead in runs with 155, in hits with 196 and in triples with 14. Chick Fowler has the most solen bases on the team with 20, as well as the most strikeouts, 108.

BILLOWS' TITLE HOPES UPSET

Turnesa Comes From Behind To Win U. S. Amateur Golf Crown

MEMPHIS, Tenn., Sept. 4 (INS)—Slender little Willie Turnesa today won the U. S. amateur golf championship for the second time.

The Elmsford, N. Y., fire extinguisher salesman snuffed out the hopes of Ray Billows of Poughkeepsie, N. Y., perennial runner-up in the National Amatuer (this was his third time) by a score of 2 and 1. The 34-year-old Turnesa was forced to call upon all the experience and finesse which won him the British Amateur in 1947 and this same U. S. Amateur in 1938 in order to defeat the pudgy ex-caddie from Racine, Wisc., today.

Billows Goes Ahead

True, Turnesa had taken the lead on the ninth hole early this morning. But he saw his fighting competitor wipe out that lead by winning the 28th and 29th holes—and then he actually saw Billows go ahead with a par on the 30th.

What Billows did on the 29th, for one example, was enough to crack any man. But still Turnesa, youngest of the golfing clan Turnesa and master of the irons, came back to win.

After cutting Turnesa's lead on the 28th hole to 1 up, Billows reached the green on the 465-yard par-5 29th in two shots and then rammed home a 10 foot putt for an eagle, squaring the match.

The poker face of Turnesa schielded any show of emotion, but he bogeyed the next hole and Billows went 1 up for the first time since the sixth hole.

Turnesa, however, ripped right back to win the 31st and square the match with par. He birdied the 377-yard 32nd by knocking in a 10-foot putt to go 1 up.

Then he stretched his advantage to 2 up by winning the 33rd with a par, and matched Billows stroke for stroke to get halves on the next two holes and close out the match.

The victory put Turnesa all even with Billows in their four matches. Previously they battled thrice in the New York State Amateur tourney, with Billows winning twice and Turnesa once.

Turnesa won the U. S. amateur in 1938 beating B. Patrick Abbott, 8 and 7. Billows lost to Johnny Goodman 2 up in the finals of the 1937 National Amateur and to Bud Ward by 7 and 5 in the windup of the 1939 event.

McLane Defeats Taylor In AAU Swimming Event

AKRON, O., Sept. 4 (INS) — Defending champion Jim McLane gained revenge over Jack Taylor today by beating him six meters in the 400-meter free style of the National A. A. U. swimming and diving championships.

McLane, the New Haven swim club artist who lost the 1,500-meter free style to Akron's Taylor in a shocking upset yesterday, scored today in 4:53.5

He also served as anchor-man insurance to the New Haven swim club team that beat Cincinnati Coca Cola and Ohio State in the 800-meter free style relay. The winning time was 9:21.

A third New Haven triumph in the four events on today's program went to Olympic champion Allan Stack, the famous Yale man, who led all the way in winning the 100-meter backstroke in 1:07.7. Howard Patterson of Michigan State was second and Bruce Bourke of the Palm Beach, Australia, swim club, third.

Another Australian, John Davies of the North Bridge swim club Australia, finished second to Olympic champ Joe Verdeur in the 200-meter breast stroke.

With one day's competition remaining, defending champion Ohio State has a narrow point lead of 35 to 33 over the Brighton Hotel entry from Atlantic City, N. J. The New Haven swim club has 32.

Seminole To Meet McCamey Eleven

Area Class A Teams Slate Games Friday

Most of the Class A gridiron teams of the South Plains swing into action Friday night, following last week's three "lid-blasters," with 17 games scheduled for members of Districts 4-A and 5-A.

The powerful Seminole Indians of 5-A, upset winners over Lamesa of 3-AA last week, play host to a conference foe—McCamey—this weekend; while another winner in an initial tussle, Sundown, battles the Tahoka Bulldogs at Sundown.

Lobos Meet Lamesa

Levelland's Lobos, defending regional champions in Class A, will try to duplicate Seminole's win over Lamesa Friday night on the Tornadoes' home gridiron in one of the feature settos of the slate. Coach Truett Rattan's youngsters are rated as one of the top powers in the north half of 4-A, but the encounter with Lamesa should provide a basis for comparison between the Levelland and Seminole elevens.

Littlefield, another north half 4-A contender, plays host to Dalhart and Muleshoe, also of 4-A, will tangle with Springlake of 3-B at Muleshoe.

Two Others Play Friday

Two other 4-A teams will see action Friday, as Andrews invades Sudan and Morton journeys to Whiteface. Sudan drubbed Springlake, 19-0, in an opening setto last week.

Three other south half 4-A elevens have games carded this week. Slaton's Tigers will battle the Floydada Whirlwinds at Floydada, Post's Antelopes will go to Ralls and little Hermleigh, a Class B squad, will battle Seagraves on the Eagles' home turf.

All of the District 5-A representatives will play Friday, with the Seminole-McCamey tilt and the Andrews-Sudan clash as two of the feature games. In other tussles Denver City's Mustangs will go to Kermit, Colorado City journeys to Monahans to tangle with the potent Green Wave and Wink battles Fort Stockton. Pecos plays host to the Brownfield Cubs of 1-AA in the final encounter.

Schroeder, Parker Humble Aussies In Davis Cup Play

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Sept. 4 (AP)—It took Frankie Parker and Ted Schroeder just about three hours and 15 minutes today to crush and bury land down under.

In one of the most disastrous routs in Cup history, Parker humbled Bill Sidwell, "baby" of the Aussie side, 6-4, 6-4, 6-4, and Schroeder humiliated the 35-year-old Adrian Quist, 6-3, 4-6, 6-0, 6-0.

So one-sided was the opening day's competition that the 8000-odd who sat in the big horseshoe tennis stadium had few chances to cheer. Quist, once one of the world's great tennis players gave a sad spectacle as he lost 12 straight games to Schroeder. He practically gave up.

Texas Aggies Hold Workout

COLLEGE STATION, Sept. 4 (Special) — There is some shifting going on in the backfield of the Texas A&M College football team which is striving to get into shape for the opener with Villanova college in Philadelphia on September 18.

Robert Goode, the 205-pound halfback from Bastrop who was an all-conference whiz in 1945, has been moved to fullback in Coach Harry Stiteler's T-formation attack.

Bobby Goff of Kenedy, a 190-pounder who lettered as a blocking back in 1944, has been moved from fullback to the right half position.

Kenneth Voss, a 200-pound fullback from Gatesville who was held out of competition last year, also has been moved to the right half post.

Leading Aggie Scorer

Goode has lettered three seasons and was the leading Aggie scorer last year with 42 points, but his last two seasons have been mediocre ones in comparrison with his play in 1945, when he received the Texas A&M most valuable player award.

Stiteler believes the six-foot-three Goode, who has stepped the 100 in 10.1 and was a member of last season's sprint relay team, is ready for another fine season.

Voss did not get to play last season because the squad was loaded with fullbacks. In spring training he looked good at both ball-carrying and blocking, so he has been moved to the important right half spot.

Four Are Ineligible

Of the 10 tackles listed, four were ineligible last season, two are lettermen, one is a squadman, two played for the freshman team and one is a junior college graduate eligible immediately.

James Flowers, former all-state center, looked so good in spring training that he grabbed a starting post opposite Letterman James Winkler, the Associated Press all-conference man. Winkler, three times a letterman, is heavy man at 225 pounds.

Then there are Dwayne Tucker, a 210-pounder who formerly attended Baylor; Murry Holditch, a 215-pounder who has performed at Navarro Junior college, and Percy Burk, a 205-pounder who spent a year at Stephen F. Austin college.

Settegast After Letter

The latter three and Flowers, ferenee breast stroke champion who slipped in grades last season, may cause the Aggies to be deep in tackle reserves.

Letterman Marion Settegast, 210, will be after his third letter. Milton Routt, former West Pointer and younger brother of the late All-American Joe Routt, is lightest at 195 pounds.

Skyline Gun Club To Sponsor Inter-Club Meeting Today

An inter-club gun shoot will be held this afternoon at 2 at the Skyline club's range on North College avenue and all interested clubs are invited to take part in the shoot.

Art Johnson, manager, said that replies had been received from at least two clubs already and more are expected to show up for the regulation shoot.

Immediately after the shoot, Johnson said that an organizational meeting would be held with an aim to form a West Texas Trapshooter's association. All persons interested in forming such a club are urged to attend.

HOGAN LEADS UTAH OPEN

RENO, Nev., Sept. 4 (AP) — Ben Hogan, probably the best golfer in the world off his present record, led the $25,000 Reno Open today as it went into the second round. Holder of the U. S. Western Open titles, plus the P. G. A. championship, Hogan teed off with 67 shots behind him and three rounds to go, ending next Monday.

Tips On Proper Way To Train Your Bird Dog

Old-Timer Says Over-Training Can Spoil Bird Dog For Owner

By HART STILWELL
Special Staff Writer

Many years ago I was talking to an old-time Texas bird hunter who seemed to have a sort of magic touch in handling dogs. Since my dogs usually break point, chase birds, chew dead birds, refuse to retrieve, and commit a few other assorted crimes, I asked the old-timer how he managed to get such fine results out of his dogs.

"Well," he said, "I keep one thing in mind. A well-trained bird dog is like a well-trained child—no good."

"What's wrong with a well-trained child?" I asked him.

"Just no good. Everything he does, why he does it because he's been drilled to do it, not because he found out himself. He expects to be yelled at or told 'no' every little while. He's always worried something he does or says might be wrong. Some day a child trained that way will get his hands on a gun, and the first thing he might do is shoot the people who've been yelling at him. Same way with a bird dog. You train one too much and he might sneak up on you some day and bite you while you're bending over."

No bird dog of mine has ever sneaked up and bit me while I was bending over, and I've owned dogs during the past twenty years that did almost everything else a bird dog shouldn't do. So I prodded the old-timer a little more, trying to find out some of his secrets.

He told me. The first thing to do in training a dog, he said, is to teach it to stop and come in when you call — and the next thing to do is not to make it stop and come in unless there's a real reason for doing so. And you've got to do this training in such a way as not to frighten the dog.

"You show me a bird dog that comes in with his head down and his tail between his legs, and I'll show you a bird dog that's not trained right. Don't whip a dog. You can spank a little puppy, maybe, just the way the mother knocks it around sometimes. But when it gets older, whipping it kills its spirit. It loses its dignity, and who wants a bird dog with no dignity?"

"Nobody," I assured him.

"You teach a dog to stop when you call him, then you've got the job two-thirds finished. He hits a scent, you call, he stops. If he's got any brain at all, he'll soon catch on to the rest. Then you drop a bird, he runs for it, like any dog will, and picks it up. You call him. He stops. Then you call him on in. You see how simple it is?"

"Sure," I said, "except that I miss the bird and he chases it. Then when he finally gets it, he's so far away he eats it before I reach him."

"That's bad," he said. "Better take me along next time, so you won't worry about getting birds on the ground.'

He went on talking. "Most of the things a hunting dog does, he's learned from his ancestors, not from some knuckleheaded hunter. Remember, he's a hunter — born that way. If he's got any nose at all, he'll hunt. When he hits a strong scent, he'll stop for a second or two. Then if he's got and sense, he'll soon learn what you're hunting — especially if I'm along to knock the birds down when they get up.

"But about that retrieving business, that's where so many people cross up a dog, because bringing in a bird and giving it away isn't exactly natural for a hunting dog. I know one man had a pointer he worked on for months. It got so good it would do tricks that made people stand with their eyes bugging out and their mouths open. I owned the brother to that dog. I didn't bother much about that retrieving business — just threw a stick out once in a while and when he picked it up, I'd call him. He'd come in. I'm a little shy about too much retrieving since old Prince brought me a set of false teeth . . . "

"Brought you what?" I asked.

"A set of false teeth. Don't know where he got them. He brought in everything he found. But the teeth weren't so good — wouldn't fit.

"Anyway, about this man with the hot-shot retriever. We went out the opening day of the season, and you know what that retriever did?"

"What?"

"Well sir, he just walked along behind his boss, smelling the quail in the bag — the ones my dog pointed and retrieved — waiting for his master to throw one out so he could retrieve it. Wouldn't hunt a lick. That's the only game he knew, retrieving. The man had to give him away. Talk to me about retrievers."

I went home and went to work on the pointer pup I was training for the coming hunting season. I taught him to come to me, the way the old-timer suggested. And he'd retrieve a little, and I let it go at that. He had plenty of spirit—and he had a good nose and plenty of sense.

Then when we got out hunting together I was all set. I had my dog trained the right way — I wouldn't have to call him twice. I remembered what the oldtimer said, that "most people ruin bird dogs just whistling or yelling at them all the time, the way most mothers do their children." I didn't do that.

When my dog winded quail he barged in and chased them half a mile. When I finally dropped a stray, he rushed to it and ran off with it. By the time I got to him he had eaten the bird. I finally gave him away.

Sometimes I think I don't have that magic touch the old-timer had. So I do the best I can — I hunt with friends who have well-mannered bird dogs. It's much simpler, and it doesn't cost a third as much.

Texas Fields Heavy Line

AUSTIN, Sept. 4 (Special)—In the coming 1948 football campaign, the Texas Longhorns will offer a strange comparison in size—with one of the heaviest lines in history—and with one of the lightest backfields.

An early-September guess at the starting Steer lineup indicates a weight average in the line of about 210 pounds; in the backfield it barely reaches to 168 pounds per starter.

Incidentally, that line total will climb up to some 213 pounds per man when Peppy Blount, the pass-catching specialist, replaces durable Dale Schwartzkopf, the smallest along the row at 191.

The light backfield results from including two of Texas little 'uns of a year ago, Billy Pyle and Byron Gillory, at the halfback posts, and from co-Capt. Tom Landry weighing in at only 185. Of course, quarterback Paul Campbell's 174 pounds doesn't boost the total far.

There isn't one real big man, as football linemen go, in the proposed Texas starting lineup, despite its husky average. But from tackle to tackle, there's a consistent mark—the lightest being 207 and the heaviest being 219. The ends, Lewis Holder at 193, and Schwartzkopf, pull down the average slightly.

For a company dish, fry chicken and make cream gravy, then add oysters to the gravy and serve with hot biscuits.

Your Realtor Guides You Safely

If it is your first transaction, the important step if either buying or selling your home, offers no pitfalls if you deal with a "Realtor." If you are an old experienced trader, you will know from your own experience that the most reliable and dependable real estate dealers are "REALTORS" and are active members of your local Real Estate Board. You are assured that the word "REALTOR" carries protection, ability and honesty.

BECAUSE
No real estate dealer can become or remain a Realtor unless he has been thoroughly investigated and admitted to membership in your local Real Estate Board and by his honest dealings is permitted to remain a member of said board. Therefore your trust in your "Realtor" is well founded.

ALSO
It will cost you nothing extra to deal with your "Realtor," however, it might cost you untold worry and financial losses not to have the protection of a "Realtor." You are entitled to the best. Next time

GOVERNORS TO BE ON PROGRAM

Plans For States' Rights Meet In Dallas Wednesday Announced

(Special To The Avalanche-Journal)

HOUSTON, Sept. 4 — No nominations for local or state offices will be made at the Statewide convention of the States Rights Democrats to be held in Dallas Wednesday at Fair Park auditorium, it was announced here Saturday by Palmer Bradley, chairman of the Advisory Committee of the States Rights Democrats. All activities will be centered on the presidential and vice-presidential nominations of Governors J. Strom Thurmond of South Carolina and Fielding Wright of Mississippi.

The Statewide convention will again pledge its followers to the principles for which the Democratic Party is supposed to stand, will certify the names of Governors Thurmond and Wright to the secretary of State as the nominees of the party for president and vice-president, thus assuring that these names will be on the ballot, and the convention will name a State Executive Committee to guide the destinies of the movement.

Governors On Program

Governors Thurmond and Wright will be speakers at a States Rights Rally at the auditorium on Wednesday night. Between the close of the convention and the speaking of the candidates, Chairman Bradley said he would call a special meeting of the newly elected State Executive Committee in order to acquaint them with progress made in the campaign to date and plans for an intensive campaign in the future.

Rumors have been afloat and have found their way into the columns of Texas newspapers to the effect that the convention would nominate a prominent state official to oppose the election of Governor Jester in the General Election.

"Despite the fact that Governor Beauford H. Jester deserted the pledge he made to other Southern Governors on March 13, 1948, to support this movement, we have no intentions of nominating a candidate to oppose him in the General Elections of November 2," Chairman Bradley said. "And despite these rumors, we do not intend to nominate anyone for local or state offices."

Chairman Bradley charged the opposition with spreading the rumors. "They already feel the impact of our campaign to restore Texas to the Democratic form of government, and take it out of the hands of machine controlled state conventions.

"Our fight is more than to save the South. It is to save the nation. If our campaign is lost and the winning party can do to the South what Dewey, Wallace and Truman have pledged themselves to do, then tomorrow they can do the same thing to the dairy lands of the north, the lumber of the country they see fit to wreck. The fight is too important to lower our levels and try to get revenge against state officials who have deserted solemn pledges they seemingly made in good faith.

"Our campaign is to be conducted on a grass roots level. Our organization is built at the crossroads of the state, then to the community and then to the county level. From the county level it goes into the district, the region and then into the statewide organization. The people will be acquainted with the facts as they are now represented by Candidates Dewey, Truman and Wallace, each of whom has subscribed to platforms which will destroy the moral, economic and social fabric of the South."

European Crops Hit By Weather

(By The Associated Press)

European farmers beset by a late spring and heavy summer rains are looking enviously at an American bumper harvest picture that is without parallel in the nation's history.

The all-around crop prospect in the United States is one of such abundance that the country's transportation and storage facilities already are being strained to the limit.

For most of the countries in Western Europe, on the other hand, unfavorable summer weather, plus shortages of machinery and manpower in some areas, will mean crops generally below prewar levels.

But even so, the European harvest promises to be a heartening improvement over that of last year — with production of some commodities expected to be double the 1947 figures.

The situation in America shapes up this way:

The winter wheat crop of nearly 1,000,000,000 bushels already has been harvested — bringing the total winter and spring crop to 1,284,000,000 bushels, the second largest in history. Log jams at elevators and rail shipment embargoes have characterized the winter wheat harvest, and prices have dropped below government support levels.

America's record-smashing corn harvest of more than 3,500,000,000 bushels now is almost a certainty. Farmers are racing to put up additional crib space to handle the crop. Grain traders think it will test the whole government price-support program, possibly cracking it to pieces.

The oat crop, virtually all harvested, will be the third largest in history. Rice will set a new record. Grain Sorghum production beat all previous marks. Flaxseed production will be the second-largest in expected to reach a new high.

When potatoes are "waxy" it means they probably contain a larger proportion of protein to starch than they do when they are "mealy". Waxy potatoes are good for salad and scalloped dishes and for creaming since they retain their shape well.

Total Of 191,648 Persons Participate In Summer Recreational Activities In City

A grand total of 191,648 participants in recreational activities during the summer was announced Saturday in a summary by the City Recreation department.

"We have just completed one of our biggest and most successful recreation programs since the recreation department was organized five years ago," said A. C. Hamilton, City Recreation department superintendent.

Swimming was limited by weather conditions in July, but 150 more swimmers visited the city swimming pool this year than last, he said. The total in June, July and August was 53,900, compared to 53,750 in 1947 and 34,127 in 1946.

Other Totals Given

In some cases, as in that of park attendance, participation figures were compiled from estimates of daily attendance.

Participation figures given, in addition to the swimming total, were:

Party house, 3,250; Carver Heights Community center, 14,966; Community Center, Sixth and Ave. B, 3,174; Burns park, 4,971; Carlisle park, 12,341; wading pool in Mackenzie park, 17,992; Mexican park, 27,450; Pioneer park, 21,654; Wagner park, 11,175; Booker T. Washington, 14,123; square dancing, 505; softball leagues, 734; city tennis tournament, 94; day and overnight camping, 280.

Attendance at shows in parks was 54,250, which figure was included in the total park attendance.

Numbers of spectators during the three months in activities listed were announced as: Swimming pool, 32,000; softball, 31,600; tennis tournament, 1,500, a total of 65,100.

To Present Shows

Beginning in October, shows will be presented in Carver Heights Community Center on Thursday nights and Community Center at Sixth and Ave. B on Friday nights.

The community Center at Sixth and Ave. B is closed for general repairs. It will re-open Sept 17. The area west of the building will be hard-surfaced as basketball and volley ball area.

During the winter, the two centers will continue to operate on present schedules. Square dancing and also instruction will be conducted twice monthly.

An organized 'teen-age club is to have planned activities each week during the winter.

The usual Hallowe'en parade and Christmas programs will be conducted. In sports, there will be the city basketball league and T.A.A.F. basketball tournament. Two annual events, bicycle parade and races and South Plains relays will be conducted.

Farmers' Field Day Set Friday

Farmers and others interested have the opportunity of a preview next Friday of many of the things to be shown the nation's leading industrialists and specialists at the Beltwide Cotton Mechanization conference scheduled here Oct. 14-16.

The occasion will be the annual field day for farmers, in which several agencies are cooperating, including the extension service, soil conservation service, soil conservation districts, the experiment station, Texas Tech college, and the chamber of commerce here.

The day's program centers around the experiment station and the college.

Scheduled to meet at 9 o'clock at the experiment station, the group will spend the morning there, inspecting and hearing explanations of various types of equipment and crops, with Don Jones, station superintendent, and his staff available to answer questions.

Each one who attends is asked to bring a sack lunch, but drinks —coffee and cold pop will be served as courtesy of the chamber of commerce.

From 1 to 2:30 o'clock the group is to visit at least two individual farms where soil conservation practices are being carried out, then go to the Tech college farms, where various irrigation and crop methods will be observed.

The college barns will be visited, and the artificial insemination program will be explained, along with inspection of the milking parlor and feed mixtures used at the college.

D. W. Sherrill, county agent, asked that farmers and others drop their work for the day and join the party, feeling that many worthwhile ideas and suggestions will result.

He said many of the things that will be observed and studied during the mechanization conference will be inspected during the day, and set out that very few local people will have opportunity to attend the conference on account of the large crowd of visiting notables here for the October meeting.

The field day is next Friday, Sept. 10, and the meeting is open to anyone interested.

SCATTERINGS

EL TEATRO, only professional summer theater in the Southwest and youngest in the country, organized at Santa Fe, N. M., by an Amarilloan, actress-producer Ann Lee, is out of the experimental stage. Contrants for next year already have been signed and the theater on St. Michael's college campus has been leased. A special performance of 'The Bad Man", starring Don Porter in the title role, to be given Monday, will close the season . . . The death of Oley Speaks means the loss to America of one of its most prolific composers of songs; his coupositions have been favorites of concert stars through the years. How would booming baritones have gotten along without his "On The Road to Mandalay" for instance? Other favorites of ours are "Sylvia," "Morning" and "The Prayer Perfect."

Hats are pretty this season. Which may explain the slogan: "It's no longer the New Look, or the Old Look. But it's the For You Look." Those famous mad hatters John and Frederic have split up and the latter retained the trade name, while the other launched out with the simple "Mr. John." Incidentally, he is introducing two new colors this fall: "John Brown," and "Disappointed Strawberry," the latter a sickly looking, pinkish lavender. . . . Along the fashion grapevine one hears another new look is coming up for '49. (Do we have to go through that again?)

Ruth McClellan And Billy Keith Wed In Bowie Baptist Church

MISS RUTH McCLELLAN of Lubbock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. K. McClellan of Bowie, became the bride of Billy Mack Keith, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. L. Keith of Crosbyton Thursday night at 7 o'clock in the Bowie First Baptist church. Rev. Albert McClellan, brother of the bride from Oklahoma City, Okla., read a double ring ceremony before an altar decorated with candellabra against a background of palms and accented with tall white baskets of gladioli.

The two central aisles of the church were illuminated by candles attached to the backs of the pews and marked with white satin bows.

Miss Inez Rudy of Bowie played an organ prelude including "Love Song," "Nuptial Song," "Promise Me" and Meditation from "Thais." "I Love You Truly" was played during the ceremony. Mrs. J. E. French of Eastland, vocalist, sang "Because" and Schirmer's The Lord's Prayer. Traditional wedding marches were used.

Miss Dawkins Is Bride Of Fred Stubbs In Service At Methodist Church

MISS ROSE MARY DAWKINS, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Dawkins, 3103 Twenty-sixth, became the bride of Frederick Lewis Stubbs, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Q. Stubbs, 3420 Ave. P, Friday night at 8 o'clock in the First Methodist church with Dr. H. I. Robinson reading a double ring ceremony.

Against a background of woodwardia ferns, white tapers in candlelabra lighted the arrangements of white gladioli and white asters which decorated the altar. White tapers and small arrangements of white asters and gladioli and greenery marked the bridal aisle.

Mrs. Mamie I. Neal, organist played a musical prelude consisting of the theme from the second movement of Tschaikoswky's "Fifth Symphony," Chopin's "Etude Op. 10, No. 6," and the theme from Tschaikowsky's "Romeo and Juliet" overture. Chopin's "Nocturne Op. No. 2" was played by William A. Harrod. Beethoven's "I Love You" was sung by a quartet composed of Henri Deane Pierce, Jerry Thrush, Jay Morris and George Waters. Traditional wedding marches were played, and "Indian Love Call" was a musical background for the ceremony.

Wears Traditional White

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white bridal satin designed with a low neckline outlined by ruffles, a basque bodice with ruffled peplum, a full skirt falling into a short train and cap sleeves complimented by matching satin gauntlets. Her shoulder length veil of bridal illusion was attached to a Juliet cap of illusion ruffles edged in orange blossoms. A strand of pearls belonging to the bride's mother was something old, and her gown was something new. Something borrowed and blue was a garter belonging to Mrs. Fray Smith. A dime was down in her slipper for luck. The bridal bouquet was of white Phalaenopsis orchids and stephanotis arranged in a showered arm fashion.

Mrs. D. N. Barrett, of Hobbs, N. M., sister of the bride and matron of honor, carried a modern colonial bouquet of red roses and wore a gown of turquoise satin designed with a high collarless neckline, cap sleeves and matching gauntlets and a slightly flared skirt with a circular tunic joined at the waistline. A half halo of flowers was worn in her hair.

Wearing a dove gray satin gown fashioned with a off-shoulder portrait neckline, basque bodice, long tightly fitted sleeves and a circular flared skirt, Miss Mary Frances Payne, attended the bride as maid of honor. She also wore a floral half-halo and carried a modern colonial bouquet of red roses.

Has Six Bridesmaids

Carrying colonial arrangements of gold toned chrysanthemums, wearing floral half-halos and gowned in dresses identical in design to the maid of honor's dress except for their cap sleeves and the six bridesmaids. Misses Marjorie Allen and Margy Bullen

Bill Medley of Lubbock served as best man and ushers were Bill Aycock and A. J. Smith, jr., of Lubbock, and Vincent Stine, brother of the bride.

Howdy folks:

As I approached my favorite hangout I heard a mighty roar, and when I opened the Coral door everybody was laughing their heads off. Bee had just confessed she was a little afraid to move to the Decorators Studio for fear there would not be anything for her to do, and she would be sitting around and holding her hands. She is working nights and instead of holding her hands she is holding her aching feet. I never saw any place that resembled a bee hive so much—everybody had blue prints and photographs on their desks and were snatching fabric and carpets to hide for their particular job.

While that little blonde, who was afraid she couldn't find anything to do, had two sets of blue prints and begging everybody not to use all the carpet so she could start her jobs.

Beulah was unpacking another barel of Wedgwood, this time all white—including White Vine design ((CC on CC) which has been much in demand—also Edme, Wellsley and Athenian.

James was unpacking that so-called little tray from Baker Furniture that lets out into a six foot buffet table. It's in warm nut brown and just the thing for that small house that wants to have big parties. It blends with either modern or traditional.

Don't think just because there is a lot of houses in the making behind those Coral doors that the brides are being neglected. There are still those beautiful packages going out to at least fifteen brides, and table appointments being planned for others each day.

Anne was putting the finishing touches on a most unusual table setting. One of those hand-made yellow Cockcroft china's laid on grey organdie and linen cloth, with Royal Danish silver and smoked glass touched off with two silver compotes filled with colored glass fruit which makes an ensemble no one could resist.

James, Anne and Bee are going to Dallas Saturday to buy more China, Silver and Crystal, also expecting to take care of some of their drapery problems by meeting Eastern representatives and burning the midnight oil. Bee wants to stay Monday night for Nieman-Marcus style show which Fredda assures her is just fine if her feet will stand it after three days work searching for special pieces to fill special jobs.

I'll report next week how Bee looks. Now do have a heart, don't everyone rush down Tuesday morning and ask Bee to wait on you, she may be a little foot weary. See you next week same place, Decorators Studio, corner Broadway and N.

P.S. Was about to forget to tell you the Studio will be closed Monday, Labor Day. Adv.

DURING one of the especially warm days last week, a friend asked if we knew just three or four miles from Lubbock it was below zero. Yes, it's a gag. The answer is straight up . Music and news still rate as tops in types of programs with the greatest listening audience, according to a recent survey; two current crazes in radio programming are giveaway shows and amateur hours. Disc jockeys, who came into popularity a year ago, are still riding high and may retain their position for another year . . Why do so many drivers keep their arms on the left car window, with elbow extending out? There is a lot less clearance between vehicles as they pass on a highway than many seem to realize and it doesn't take much hand and arm extension from the side of a passenger car to strike the side of a passing truck or car.

Going From Shirtsleeves To Shirtsleeves In Three Generations New Success Story

By HAL BOYCE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK.—A white collar friend of mine says he has decided against buying his infant heir a set of nursery blocks.

'I'm going to bring him home a stack of bricks to play with," he said grimly. "And instead of sending him to college I'm going to make him study up on the entrance examinations for the bricklayers' union."

He said he had decided this after reading that union bricklayers here now get $27 for an eight-hour day—that's $135 for five days. And overtime brings extra rates.

"What's the use of raising my boy to be a white collar worker," sighed my friend, "If he won't earn enough even to send the collar to the laundry?"

New Look Is Frazzled

He was half-kidding, but there is no doubt that the new look for the white collar class is beginning to be 'the frazzled look." Today it is the man in overalls who is the glamor boy on pay night. His jeans rustle with the tender music of many bank notes.

But the poor white collar worker—he's fallen on evil days. His prestige and pocketbook are lower than the underbelly of an earthworm. Momentarily at least he is the lost generation, the man squeezed hardest by the high price of porkchops. He has to fight so hard now just to keep up appearances that he no longer can afford to play the great American game of keeping up with the Joneses. This is particularly true if neighbor Jones hoists a hammer for a living or fixes leaks in people's bathrooms.

Worker Is Aristocrat

For the man with the callous—the bricklayer, the plumber, the carpenter, the farmer—is the present aristocrat among, those who mail for money, and he paints the town red on Saturday night, while the white collar man sits at home glumly pondering why he frittered away his youth learning to conjugate "amo, amas, amat" when he could have been learning a trade.

Sons of white collar fathers are taking off their coats in order to make more money than their fathers ever did. Going "from shirtsleeves to shirtsleeves in three generations" is no longer a record of family failure.

It's the new American success story.

ELEMENTARY DIRECTOR—Mrs. Grace McCracken, who began her work as Elementary director of the First Baptist church this week, has been Educational director of the First Baptist church in Stillwater, Okla., for the past two years. She had previously served as Elementary director in the First Baptist churches of Oklahoma City and Amarillo, and she was asked to direct conferences for elementary workers during the annual meeting of the Southwestern Religious Education association held at the Baptist Seminary in Fort Worth last week.

Money Sought Here For Negro Nursery

With the exception of adequate financial backing, all major hurdles have been cleared in the effort to establish and set into operation here a day nursery for negro children of pre-school age, according to joint announcements issued here Saturday by members of white and negro nursery boards cooperating in the project.

Mrs. R. Fred Adkins of 1705 Thirty-fourth, who is spearheading financial arrangements for the white board, explained that a suitable building structure has already been obtained and put on location across the street from Dunbar school, 2311 East Ave. D, but that "approximately 3 to 4 thousand dollars is still needed to put the building in shape." The negroes bought and paid for the lot.

In stating the need for the negro day nursery, Mrs. Adkins explained, "Most of the mothers work, and that leaves one of two paths open to them in caring for themselves, or take an older child out of school to care for them. We feel the need of making our children better citizens, regardless of color."

The majority of Lubbock's service organizations have been contacted in the past 10 day and advised the need for immediate financial aid for the nursery project. The money will go for a new roof, lining, floor, plumbing and caretaker's apartment for the nursery structure, a barracks building obtained from Abilene through Robert E. Maxey.

After the building, which will accomodate about 100 children, is suitable for operation, Lubbock's colored people will be responsible for its expenses and maintenance, and the white nursery board will continue to function only as an advisory board, Mrs. Adkins explained. "In fact, they have already started a tag drive to raise funds for operation of the nursery."

Practical Joke Fatal To Bride

HARTFORD, Ky., Sept. 4 (HS)—A tragic climax to an old custom of "charivari" for a newly married couple was revealed today when officials declared state police might be called in to investigate the drowning of a 17-year-old bride.

In central Kentucky, it has been a practice for years for friends of a newly wed couple to visit them unexpectedly, make considerable noise with bells and soundmakers, and demand a "treat."

Couple Taken To Pond

When couples decline a treat they are compelled to pay a forefeit—usually in the form of a harmless practical joke.

The whole process is called a "charivari."

Last Wednesday night, about 20 friends of Mr. and Mrs. James House called at their McHenry, Ky., home in Ohio county.

They roused the young couple and when House declined to treat them, escorted him and his pretty bride of three days to Broadway pond, about a mile away.

Bride Disappeared

A confused account of what then happened was given at an inquest held today in Hartford. But all witnesses agreed that House and his bride were pushed or waded into the waters of the pond.

Mrs. House disappeared from view. Three hours later, her body was recovered by Sheriff Elmer Emory. Coroner William Randley said she had drowned.

County Attorney Malum Lake ordered all witnesses held for a September grand jury hearing.

Mr. and Mrs. Ben Slaughter of Chicago are visiting in the homes of two Lubbock aunts, Mrs. W. G. Dingus, 2502 Twenty-first, and Mrs. E. A. Manning, 2326 Twenty-sixth.

The Slaughters, accompanied by her mother, Mrs. G. P. Callan, are en route from Chicago to San Antonio where they will make their home.

Brave Dog Needed To Help Phonemen

OMAK, Wash., Sept. 4. (U.P.)—Telephone company workmen tried to string a line through a 16-inch conduit yesterday by tying it to a rabbit.

They put a brown, mongrel dog into the pipe to inspire the rabbit. The rabbit did just what he was supposed to for about 300 yards. Then he turned and chased the dog.

The linemen are now looking for a braver dog.

ALIENS RETURNED

HIDALGO, Sept. 4 (AP) — The U. S. immigration service stations here and at Thayer returned 22,502 aliens to Mexico last month by voluntary deportation procedure. This was a new high for one month.

CENTENARIAN RECALLS CIVIL WAR INCIDENTS

Lubbock Woman To Observe 100th Birthday Wednesday; Expects To Live Much Longer

By BILL CLARK
Avalanche-Journal Staff Writer

Those who believe old age is only a state of mind might well look to Mrs. A. M. Robertson of 2110 Ave. M for confirmation.

God willing, Mrs. Robertson will observe her 100th birthday anniversary Wednesday, but in her own words, "I feel only 50," and her sense of humor and interest in the world makes her as young as tomorrow though she's old as a century.

She was excited about having her picture made by a press photographer at the home of her daughter, Mrs. J. D. Ross.

"Are you going to tell them I'm pretty?" she asks teasingly.

Sweetheart Killed In War

"Do you remember the Civil War?" the reporter retorts.

"Remember it!" she exclaims. "I carded and spun. I knitted socks and helmets for the soldiers."

And taking the conversation from there, she continued:

"I had a sweetheart then. Nobody knew it, but his name was Jim Ferrell. He was lost in the war, and that's why I was an old maid."

Her daughter, Mrs. Ross, registers alarm and hastily interrupts:

"But Mama, you weren't an old maid!"

"I was until I got married. Nobody else called me an old maid, and I had boy friends, but I was. That's why I got married—in self-defense."

And she smiles at her joke. She was about 25 when she married.

Longer Life Expected

How did she live so long, this petite little lady who pieced a quilt at 97, and who today scans the newspaper headlines, hears and sees and talks as well as persons 40 years her junior?

"I've just lived the best life I know how. Live as pure and good and clean in life as you can and ask the good Lord to help you."

"They always told me I would live to 110 or 115, and I believe I will," she muses. "Yes, I've got a good start."

She was born in the hills of Tennessee, Smith county, on Sept. 8, 1848. She came to Texas, to Hopkins county, in 1850 with her parents and lived there 79 years before coming to the South Plains.

Her earliest memories are of Clara, an old negro mammy who was her nurse, and of a little negro girl named Lily and a little negro boy named Anniper. She recalls how faithful they were, and how much she loved them.

Log Cabins Still Practical

"If I could see that old mammy today I would hug her and squeeze her neck," she says. "I remember one time when I told Clara, 'I love you, Clara' and her old eyes brimmed with tears."

During the Civil War Mrs. Robertson, whose name was Helen Marr Strother, lived with her mother, and older sister and the sister's two children. The menfolk were gone to war. They used to sit by the hearth and pick cotton seeds out of the baskets of cotton by hand.

And she has something to say about the current housing shortage. "We had double log cabins that were chinked and just as nice as they could be. And people could do it today if they wanted to."

She wants copies of her pictures. "I want to send them back to Tennessee and show them that we can live in Texas as well as Tennessee."

Birthday Party Planned

And she wants to go back to Tennessee. "I just want to go back and see those hill." She has never been back, and can't remember them, of course, since she was only two when her family left to come to Texas.

She had periods of sickness in her lifetime, but she was never in a hospital until she fell and broke her hip about 18 months ago. The doctors despaired of her recovery, her daughter says, but the bone has healed, although she is confined to a wheel chair or bed most of the time. She loves to watch children, and loves to visit with people.

Her birthday Wednesday will be celebrated with open house from 3 to 6 p. m. at the home of Mrs. Ross. Her other two children, Floyd Robertson of Lubbock route 4, and Dr. A. T. Robertson of Sulphur Springs, plan to be here. She also has 16 grandchildren and 15 great-granchildren.

She has been a member of the Church of Christ 86 years.

Lots Of Men And Kids Make Up Film Following Of Beery

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 4—"Beery will talk."

That message, whispered into the phone by an MGM aide, was a signal for action. Wally was just back from a trip to Europe and was willing to converse. Beery the inscrutable! Beery, Hollywood's best-known, best-loved screen slob!

I hastened out to Culver City and found the actor plumped in a chair in a studio office. His face was shaven, his hair combed, but the Beery informality wasn't lacking: he was in shirt sleeves with the collar spread wide.

Beery talked about his film following, a band of enthusiasts only slightly less rabid than supporters of the Brooklyn baseball club.

"A lot of men like my pictures," he divulged. "They resent seeing those pretty boys on the screen all the time.

"I also attract a lot of kids—and that's a good thing. Because the old man and old lady want to go along to the show that two or three of their brats are going to.

"And they'll know they'll be getting good clean entertainment with a few laughs thrown in. They won't get any filth in my pictures."

Beery has been a film commodity since the early flicker days when he played a Swedish parlor maid. He has weathered every kind of cycle. "For awhile, I played nothing but kings," he recalled. "Then it was sea pictures and I didn't shave for two or three years. Then it was westerns, then I played Mexicans and so forth."

Returns With Sparring Mate

In his next opus, "The Big Harp," he returns to his screen sparring mate, Marjorie Main.

"We do a picture together about every two years," he said. "That's enough." He added that it's a backwoodsy story of the early 1800's, "and she can let herself go—spit tobacco and everything."

The next film will be his last under his contract with MGM, where he has stayed two whole decades. Would he sign again? "I don't know—they haven't discussed it."

Then he snickered, "I'll find a job somewhere—always have."

U. S. FORCES TO LEAVE KOREA

Japan And Nearby Bases Seen As U. S. Western Defense Line

By GEORGE DURNO
INS Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4 — A State department spokesman indicated today that the United States has decided that Japan and adjacent islands will stand as America's westernmost defensive bulwark.

This apparent military decision ties in with Secretary of State Marshall's recent statement that U. S. occupation forces are being withdrawn as rapidly as possible from South Korea, only American outpost on the Asiatic mainland.

State department spokesman Michael J. McDermott was questioned about Gen. Douglas MacArthur's statement that the Japanese have embraced Democracy and will resist Communism.

Occupation Costs Soar

Specifically McDermott was asked whether the Far Eastern supreme commander had cleared his remarks through the State department.

McDermott replied in the negative, but added "Gen. MacArthur has plenty of leeway."

It has not been denied that decision to abandon Korea even though Communists may gain control, was based on strictly strategic reasoning.

Occupation of South Korea, with Russia controlling the northern zone, is costing between 200 and 300 million dollars annually.

The Army has 24,000 troops immobilized there who could better be used elsewhere.

Other Bases Better

Finally, it is reported, Japan and Okinawa are considered better strategic bases of operation in event of trouble in the Far East.

Marshall said the U. S. military government in Korea was turning over its functions as rapidly as possible to the newly elected government of President Syngman Rhee.

Complete withdrawal, he added, would have to await United Nations General Assembly action on the report of its special commission which supervised the Korean elections.

Soviets Set Up Own Rule

The Russian command in North Korea refused to admit the U. N. commission and would not let Koreans in their zone vote last May.

Instead, the Soviets have set up a Communist puppet government in the northern half of the country. Most of Korea's industry is located there.

MacArthur, in Tokyo declared: "There can be no fear concerning the future pattern of Japanese life, for the Japanese people have fully demonstrated both their will and their capacity to absorb into their own culture sound ideas, well-tested in the crucible of western experience, in lieu of those concepts responsive to the myths and legends which have so handicapped their past."

The General added significantly:

"The council tables of the world have failed to produce a just resolution of the vital issues among nations and men, and fear rips the people of many lands as the spectre of war still hovers over the earth."

PROPOSED LUTHERAN CHURCH HERE—Ground-breaking ceremonies will be held at 5 p. m. today at 2122 Eighteenth, the location of the proposed new $36,000 Shepherd King American Lutheran church, pictured above from the drawing of architect James Atcheson. Guest speaker at this afternoon's ceremony will be Rev. A. C. Schiff, jr., pastor of the Calvary American Lutheran church of San Angelo. The church, which probably will be completed early in 1949, will be of brick veneer construction with a 27 by 70 foot chapel capable of seating 250 persons, according to Rev. David V. Sieberg, pastor. Since the organization of the congregation on Sept. 15, 1946, worship services have been conducted in the chapel of the Plains Funeral home.

Great Britain Selling Rubber To U. S. For Stock-Piling

LONDON, Sept. 4 (AP) — The board of trade announced today Britain is selling the United States part of her stocks of natural rubber for stock-piling purposes.

This was the first transaction under the Anglo-American economic cooperation agreement through which Britain undertook to facilitate the supply of raw materials to the United States for stockpiling.

The board said the United States has agreed that it will be regarded as a special inter-government transaction and will in no way affect America's buying program for stock-piling from current production.

TEXAN IS KILLED

ABERDEEN, Md., Sept. 4 (AP)—Pvt. Wayne B. Melson of Whitesboro, Texas, was killed last night when a truck and a car collided on route 40 near here. He and Pvt. Frank Devers of Butte, Mont., were hitchhiking along the highway when they were hit. Both were stationed at Edgewood arsenal.

No Headlights, Brakes, Top Or Gas Line, But Auto Runs

PORTLAND, Ore., Sept. 4 (AP)—Police investigating an accident found the automobile had no license plates, no headlights, no brakes, no top and no gas line.

One teen-ager drove it while another sat on the front fender and poured gasoline into the carburetor through a hose.

It worked too, until they ran into a parked car.

REFUGEES REPATRIATED

ROME, Sept. 4 (AP)—More than 16,000 European displaced persons and refugees have been repatriated or resettled since Jan. 1, 1948, from Italy to North and South America, Australia, Canada and other countries overseas, the International Refugee Orgonization (IRO) announced today.

Czech Leader Died As Victim Of Misplaced Trust In Russia

By DeWITT MACKENZIE
AP Foreign Affairs Analyst

Czechoslovakia's Eduard Benes died a victim of misplaced trust, for there is no doubt his stout heart was broken by the Red rape of the republic which he helped found and twice served as president.

Benes placed trust in Bolshevist Russia, only to see the government of the little republic seized by Communists in a coup last February. He would have stopped the tragedy if he could, but in the extremity he was helpless.

He had gambled on Moscow's professions of good will and he had lost.

The conquering Communists, reportedly backed by an infiltration of Russian police, browbeat Benes until he was a wreck. Then came the violent death of Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk, son of Dr. Thomas Masaryk, co-founder of the republic and Benes' lifelong friend. The Communists said Jan Masaryk had jumped to his death from a window of the foreign ministry, but some who claim to know say he was the victim of foul play.

Benes Resigns Presidency

It was then that Benes resigned the presidency—a broken, disillusioned man. The Communist government still called him "president" in the official announcements as he lay in death. And well they might, for Benes lives on in the hearts of his enslaved people. He remains their leader as they struggle through the dark valley of servitude towards the light of a new freedom.

So Benes was the victim of a misplaced trust, but one hazards the belief that history will say he had no other choice than to cast the lot of his people with Russia. He had seen Czechoslovakia made the pawn of mistaken efforts at appeasement by the western European powers—he who was more western in his ideals than many westerners themselves. He had seen his country's Sudetenland sacrificed to the raucous demands of Hitler. Finally he had seen hobnailed boots of Nazi military.

Felt Sold Down River

Small wonder that Czechoslovakians felt the Western powers had sold them down the river. Small wonder that when the world war finally was over, Czechoslovakia should have looked towards Moscow for security.

Undoubtedly Benes must have had his hours of fear and mistrust as Russia imposed her will on country after country and flung the iron curtain across Europe. He was a statesman of broad experience and scarcely could have avoided suspicions regarding the rapidly developing Communist aggression. However, by that time it was too late for him to join with the western world. Czechoslovakia was a prisoner in the Red land of satellites.

Thus I think we must conclude that while Benes' trust in the Soviet Union was misplaced, yet events over which he had no control forced him to his decision. His fate and his beloved country's fate can be charged to appeasement.

NEW HEMPHILL-WELLS STORE—Newest addition to the retail district of Lubbock is the temporary home of Hemphill-Wells company at Thirteenth and Ave. K, pictured above. The picture is the first in a series of photographs the Avalanche-Journal will carry in its columns in familiarizing its readers with business developments around town. The department store will occupy the above quarters until the company's new store is completed on the old site at Thirteenth and Ave. J. The temporary home, containing basement and balcony, cost approximately $200,000 and has 17,000 square feet of sales floor space. (Staff Photo.)

Expelled Russian Consul Thinks He Might Return To New York On Mission With U.N.

STOCKHOLM, Sept. 4 (AP) — The newspaper Stockholms Tidningen today quoted Jacob Lomakin, former Russian consul general in New York, as saying he might return to the United States as a member of the United Nations commission on freedom of the press.

The newspaper carried a report of an interview with Lomakin aboard the Swedish liner Stockholm. Lomakin, whose ouster was demanded by the U. S. State department, is scheduled to arrive at Gothenburg Monday.

Rent Jacked Up

The paper said Lomakin sharply criticized the United States for its "general unfriendliness" towards the Soviet Union. He was quoted as saying he would warn Soviet authorities not to reopen their consulates in the United States and that the landlord of the New York consulate this year raised the rent from $15,000 to $50,000.

Lomakin was said to have established himself as a good clay pigeon marksman and a mediocre shuffleboard player during the voyage. He said he probably would stay in Stockholm for a week and then go to Moscow. From Moscow he said, he will go either to the U. N. assembly session in Paris or to the Crimea for a vacation.

A combination seat and carryall for the beach, lawn parties, and barbecues is among the latest things designed to add pleasure to outings. It is made of extra heavy, waterproof, glazed cotton drill so sand and dirt won't stick.

Plane Crew Member Dies In Netherlands

FLUSHING, The Neherlands, Sept. 4 (AP)—Sgt. Walter Doyle-Roquet of Tucson, Ariz., died in St. Joseph's hospital here today. He was one of the crewmen who parachuted from an American Superfortress bomber which crashed in the Netherlands yesterday.

Artificial respiration had been applied for many hours but doctors were unable to save Doyle-Roquet.

The 21-year-old Mechanic was brought unconscious into Flushing harbor yesterday by a fishing boat. He was one of the last members of the B-29 crew rescued.

The giant Superfortress had been taking part in the four-day air war over Great Britain and as part of the "attacking force" had flown over the Netherlands to get out of radar range of defense forces in the mock war.

Six others of the 11-man crew have gone to the Hague. The other four remained in the hospital but they are suffering only from shock.

Catholic Leader Freed Quickly By Security Police In Warsaw

WARSAW, Sept. 4. (AP)—Msgr. Zygmunt Kaczynski, chief spokesman for the Catholic hierarchy in Poland, was freed today only 72 hours after his arrest by Polish security police.

The prelate's quick release set a postwar record. Kaczynski had been accused of "anti-state activities" and never before has anyone so charged been freed in such a short time. Security police investigations often have lasted a year or more.

An official announcement said Kaczynski, close friend of August Cardinal Hlond, primate of Poland, had placed himself at the further disposition of security authorities. He will be kept under surveillance pending completion of an investigation.

Walks Out Of Prison

Kaczynski walked out of prison in Warsaw as reports spread that thousands of his parishioners at Warsaw's All Saints church had decided to defy police authorities and stage a mass demonstration demanding his freedom.

Kaczynski's arrest aroused deep resentment among the Catholics of Warsaw. They learned about it only from foreign broadcasts since the government controlled and censored press made no mention of his arrest.

The prelate is director of the weekly Catholic organ Tygodnik Warzawski, regarded as the most powerful voice of the church in this 96 per cent Catholic country. Six editorial employes of the newspaper were seized by security police at the same time Kaczynski was arrested.

Staff Member Arrested

An official announcement said a member of the newspaper staff, Kazimierz Studentowicz had been arrested by frontier guards while seeking to cross the Polish border.

The announcement indicated Studentowicz was believed to be implicated in the departure from Poland last October of Karol Popiel, president of the Catholic Christian Labor party, who went to Paris.

The government at that time asserted Popiel had not fled the country and would return although his party had been made virtually inoperative by actions of the security police. Popiel did not return to Poland.

The annuoncement said Studentowicz had been involved in 'conspiracy and illegal activities." It added that security police had closed the offices of Tygodnik Warzawski.

Was Education Minister

Kaczynski was minister of education in the Polish government in exile in London during the war. He was regarded as a friend of the late President Roosevelt and visited the White House on several occasions. He often acts as a spokesman for Cardinal Hlond.

Tygodnik Warzawski for several months has been at odds with the pro-Communist Polish press. These papers have accused Pope Pius XII of "anti-Polish" statements. They attacked a letter the pontiff sent to German bishops a few months ago and rebuked the church for failing to take a stand on Poland's western frontier.

Prior to Kaczynski's arrest, security police seized Pawel Jasinica, editor of Tygodnik Powszechny in Krakow. That paper usually reflects the views of Adam Cardinal Sapieha, archbishop of Krakow. So far as is known, however, the newspaper's offices were not closed.

Marriage Of Theater Couple Ends In Reno

RENO, Nev., Sept. 4 (INS) — A speedy Reno divorce today ended the 12-year secret marriage of theater czar Lee Shubert and Marcella Swanson Shubert, one-time showgirl toast of Broadway.

The still-beautiful Mrs. Shubert charged extreme mental cruelty. She told Judge William McKnight that she no longer could abide the 73-year-old impresario's refusal to acknowledge publicly that they were wed.

The divorce proceedings came after a property settlement had been worked out by Shubert attorneys. Lloyd Smith, Reno lawyer who handled Marcella's case in cooperation with Shubert's New York counsel, William Klein, declined to specify the amount of cash involved.

Some have estimated it at $2,000,000. When asked if the amount is substantial, Smith said: "Substantial? That's a very good word for it."

Marcella, handsome in a black and green raw silk dress and a green straw picture hat with a black band, was extremely nervous when she left the courtroom. She consented to pose briefly for cameramen.

Marcella's written complaint alleged extreme mental cruelty which "made her life miserable and seriously affected and impaired her health." It stated that she and the producer were wed in Berlin on July 29, 1936, and have no children.

New Gadget For Iron Lung Credited With Saving Polio Victim; General Use Planned

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 4 (INS)—A simple rubber and metal gadget which greatly improves the operation of an iron lung was described today as "the only thing" that saved the life of Reginald Denny's polio-stricken daughter, Mrs. Barbara Denny Simmons.

General hospital officials said that as the new device comes into general use it will save the lives of numerous other infantile paralysis victims.

The gadget is a small, supplemental bellows installed on the conventional polio respirator or iron lung. It counteracts the harsh pull of the large bellows and allows the patient to breath almost normally.

Only Two Available

Another of its advantages is that it shuts off the flow of oxygen while the patient is exhaling.

The device was developed by V. Ray Bennett, the hospital's consulting engineer. The hospital has only two of them now, but plans to install it on all of its more than 30 respirators as soon as possible.

Mrs. Simmons was the second person to receive the benefits of the developments. She was in a very critical condition when her respirator was equipped with the device. Although it saved her life, her condition is still serious.

The first to be benefitted was a 22-year-old youth, whose life was saved when he was on the verge of death. He has shown steady improvement.

Roosevelt Grandson Better

Twenty-three new patients were admitted to the hospital today for a 1948 total of 1310. While the epidemic continues, authorities said the virulence of the disease appears to be diminishing.

Meanwhile, at the Corona naval hospital, the late president Roosevelt's grandson, Curtis (Buzzie) Dall Boettiger was reported almost completely recovered.

Capt. Robert E. Duncan said the 18-year-old youth was in "fine shape" and would suffer no difficulties as a result of the attack.

Boettiger was released from quarantine and will be discharged from the hospital as soon as a study of his case has been completed.

Young Girl Burns To Death When Fires Destroys House

BIG SPRING, Sept. 4. (AP)—Sylvia Lopez, 3, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ysabel Lopez, was burned to death yesterday when fire destroyed a house on a farm 25 miles northwest of here.

Four other Lopez children escaped without serious injury. The parents were working in the field when the fire started.

The raven is the largest bird of the crow family.

Locations Staked For Wildcats In Dawson, Borden, Dickens Counties; Operations Are Expected To Be Started At Once

STAKING of locations for wildcats in northwest Dawson, southwest Dickens counties, were the features of the oil exploration activity on the South Plains during the last seven days.

Operations are slated to start at each of the ventures at once.

The Dawson county prospector was staked by Childress Royalty Company as its No. 1 Scanlan to be 467 feet from south and east lines of section 89, block M, EL &-RR survey.

It is to be a 5,000 foot project, to explore into the San Andres section of the Permian, which produces in the Welch field. It is about seven and one half miles southwest of that pool.

To Test Borden Project

H. L. Hunt, of Dallas, is to test to the Ellenburgher at his No. 1 Clayton & Johnson in Borden county. It is located five and one half miles south of the town of Gail, and 660 feet from south and west lines of the north half of section 24, block 31, T & P survey, T-4-N.

It is contracted to drill to about 8,000 feet, using rotary tools.

Wildcats In Dickens County

Magnolia Petroleum company is to start operations at once at its No. 1 T. D. Wiley, which is scheduled to be an 8,200-foot wildcat in southeast Dickens county.

The prospector will be four miles northeast of Spur, and 660; feet from north and west lines of the northwest quarter of section 305, H &GN survey.

The projected depth of the centure is due to take it into the Ellenburger.

Garza Wildcat Drilling

In northwest Garza county, three miles southeast of Southland, Honolulu Oil Corporation No. 1 Shelby County fee, had reached 3,-214 feet in lime and was making more hole.

This slated 5,400-foot wildcat is 440 feet from east and 3,360 feet from north lines of the Shelby county school lands survey, Abstract 397, which make it about three and one half miles north of the nearest producing oil wells in the PHD field of northwest Garza county.

Deep Wildcat In Dawson

The southwest Dawson county exploation, Seaboard Oil company of Delaware No. 2 Lee, 440 feet from north and east lines of section 47, block 34, T-5-N, T & P survey, was drilling lime and shale below 6,139 feet.

This schedule 10,600 foot wildcat, to test into the Ellenburger, is 15 miles southeast of Lamesa.

In extreme southeast Gaines county, Magnolia Petroleum Company No. 1 Hicks was waiting for cement to set on the 9 5-8 inch casing set on bottom at 5,892 feet with 450 sacks of cement.

It will drill out the plug and drill ahead to the contract depth of 12,500 feet. It is 14 miles southwest of Lamesa and 660 feet from north and west lines of tract 16, league 273, Loving county school land survey.

Gaines Test Going Deeper

Argo Oil Corporation No. 1-N Jones, in northeast Gaines county and 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 496, block G, CCSD & RGNG survey, had penetrated below 10,661 feet in lime and shale and was continuing.

This development was originally contracted to go to 9,500 feet, and was then ordered to dig deeper in hopes of finding commercial production. It was shutdown at a total depth of 10,438 feet in lime and shale for sometime before operator decided to drill to 11,500 feet to try to find and test the Devonian. It is about 10 miles southwest of the town of Denver City.

Project Is Plugged Back

Honolulu No. 1 Riley, in central-northeast Gaines county, 660 feet from north and 1,980 feet from east lines of the southeast quarter of section 123, block G, WTRR survey, was swabbing out after acidizing through the perforations above the plugged back total depth of 5,585 feet.

This project was drilled to a total depth of 7,522 feet, and was plugged back to try to complete it from this section in the San Andres which had some fair shows of oil when it was drilled through.

Other Gaines Projects

In northwest Gaines county, Texas Gulf Producing company No. 1 Oil Development Company fee, 660 feet from south and east lines of section 316, block G, CCSD & RGNG survey, was making hole under 7,870 feet in lime and shale. It is about ten miles northwest of Seminole.

In south-central Gaines county, about 13 miles south of Seminole, Shell Oil company, Inc., No. 1 Hawkins, slated 12,000 foot test, located 1,983 feet from north and 665 feet from east lines of section 8, block A-23, psl survey, was drilling ahead below 7,610 feet in lime.

To Go To 12,000 Feet

A drillstem test at 7,238-304 feet recovered 114 barrels of gas and water cut oil, and 10 barrels of salt water. The tester was open two hours, gas came to the surface in one hour and fifteen minutes. It was not gauged or estimated. The prospector was drilling ahead toward the 12,000 foot destination.

Cities Service Oil company No. 2 Proctor, in west-central Gaines, 10 miles west of Semnole, had reached 6,324 feet in lime and was going ahead. It is 1,980 feet from north and east lines of section 355, block G, CCSD&RGNG survey, and is a quarter of a mile stepout from the Cities Service No. 1 Proctor.

Terry Project Abandoned

The southwest Terry county wildcat, Central Oil company of Tulsa No. 1 Myrtle Scales Edwards, has been plugged and abandoned. It drilled to a total depth of 5,858 feet in lime, and had no shows of oil, gas or water in any of the horizons penetrated.

It was located 440 feet from south and west lines of section 21, block C-36, psl survey.

In northeast Terry county, Seaboard No. 1 E. M. Hinson, was drilling below 10,252 feet in lime and shale.

This wildcat has already shown for small production from the Cisco lime in the Pennsylvanian, and operator is now continuing to the Ellenburger to try to produce it from that formation. It is ten miles northeast of Brownfield, and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 91, block 4-X, psl survey.

Installing Pump

Honolulu No. 11-B Dean, in southeast Cochran county, and 660 feet from north and west lines of the west 441.75 acres in the east three-quarters of league 89, Lipscomb county school land survey, was at a plugged back depth of 5,105 feet and was installing a pump.

It is due to test after the pump is installed and try to complete as a commercial oil well. It is 18 miles west of Sundown, and two miles west of the nearest producers in the southwest side of the Slaughter field.

Taking Drillstem Test

The semi-wildcat exploration in south-central Cochran county, Stanolind Oil & Gas company No. 2 Birtie T. Brown, 660 feet from east and 2,655 feet from north lines of section 4, block L, psl survey, took a drillstem test with total depth at 10,430 feet.

Unofficial sources reported that it made 30 barrels of fluid in 45 minutes, which was, all or mostly all, oil. It is continuing to test.

Hockley Project Testing

The deep southeast Hockley county wildcat, Honolulu Oil Corporation and Signal Oil & Gas company No. 1-24 Ellwood was to make tests of a Pennsylvanian lime section.

That project had set 5½-inch casing at 9,602 feet with 200 sacks of cement and was waiting for the cement to set. It will then, perforate the casing and test through those perforations from about 9,450 to the plugged back total depth of 9,602 feet.

The prospector drilled through the Ellenburger to a depth of 11,-633 feet and bottomed in granite at that depth. There were no shows of oil in the Ellenburger, but that formation had some water.

It is four miles north of Ropesville and 660 feet from north and west lines of section 24, block 5, Wilbarger county school land survey.

Other Projects In Hockley

In east-central Hockley county, Woodley Petroleum company No. 1 J. J. Alderson, et al, was making hole under 5,155 feet in lime.

This wildcat exploration is 660 feet from north and west lines of section 10, block A. R. M. Thompson survey, about three miles northeast of the town of Smyer, and one mile west of the nearest completed well in the original Symer field. It is scheduled to go to around 6,300 feet.

Trying For Completion

Another east-central Hockley county development, Honolulu No. 1-B-13 Ellwood, was running tubing, preparatory to testing and trying to complete from the Glorieta section of the middle Permian. It drilled to 6,043 feet in lime and was plugged back to 5,995 feet.

This exploration, 1,980 feet from south and 660 feet from east lines of section 13, block A, R. M. Thompson survey, is a southeast flanker to the discovery well to open the Spade field, which produces from the Glorieta lime.

Drill Pipe Stuck

Honolulu No. 2-A-13 Ellwood, 660 feet from west and 1,980 feet from north lines of section 13, block A, R. M. Thompson survey was at a total depth of 5,950 feet in lime and was trying to recover stuck drill pipe. It is a one quarter of a mile stepout from the Spade producer, and is due to dig to about 6,000 feet. Drilling will be resumed when the pipe is loose.

Sunray Oil corporation and Skelly Oil company No. 1 Kimbrough in southeast Parmer county, had progressed to 7,943 feet in lime and dolomite and was continuing.

Other Wildcats Drilling

World Council Of Churches In Argument Over Economic System

By MAX HALL
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—The World Council of Churches, an organization of Protestant churches in more than 40 countries, meeting at Amsterdam, has been having an argument over capitalism.

This argument has stirred much interest and curiosity especially in the United States, the largest capitalistic country in the world.

Here's what it's all about:

Thursday the council received from one of its sections a report entitled "the church and the disorder of society," which said, in part:

"The Christian church should reject the ideologies of both communism and capitalism, and should seek to draw men away from the false assumption that these are the only alternatives. Each has made promises which it could not redeem."

Capitalism Qualified

Yesterday Charles P. Taft, a United States delegate, objected to the wording of the report which was released while he was absent from the council sessions.

Taft, president of the Federal Council of the Churches of Christ in America, said he would fight for an amendment changing "capitalism" to "laissez faire capitalism." He said this is the kind of capitalism the majority of the section had in mind, and not capitalism in all its variations.

This French expression, pronounced "lessay fair," literally means "let do." That is, "let people do what they choose."

In economics, laissez faire is the doctrine which demands that the government stay out of economic affairs. It opposes governmental interference intended to regulate or foster industry or labor.

The laissez faire doctrine originated more than 200 years ago.

U. S. Has Changed

Adam Smith, the 18th-century English economist, was one of the men whose name is often associated with that theory. He preached economic freedom, individual enterprise, and a minimum of governmental interference with what he called "the natural order of things."

The principles of Adam Smith are not popular in Europe today, and even the United States has gotten pretty far away from them.

Our anti-trust laws, our taxation policies, the Federal Trade commission, the Interstate Commerce commission, the Securities & Exchange commission, the National Labor Relations board, the president's economic council—all these are, in a way, "interferences."

But in the United States, unlike many European countries, resistance to governmental regulation is a powerful and continuing force.

English System Cited

Dr. John C. Bennett, another American delegate who had a lot to do with drawing up the original report, told reporters it is difficult to define this middle road. He said it could not be defined in terms of a label, such as socialism, but would mean "experimentation between certain limits."

A correspondent for the Chicago Daily News quotes Bennett as saying:

"There can be no hard and fast Christian economic system, but the closest thing to what we have in mind is the democratic socialism in England."

Both Taft and Bennett were on the committee that drafted the report.

Taft, an Episcopalian, is a corporation lawyer from Cincinnati who specializes in labor relations. He is a broth of Senator Robert A. Taft of Ohio. During the war he was a government official whose job it was to promote community welfare projects.

Bennett, a Congregationalist, is a professor at the Union Theological Seminary in New York.

FORREST HOME CONTEST
Drawer 30
Lubbock, Texas

Gentlemen:

I OWN MY OWN HOME BECAUSE:

Though it takes a "lot" for a home of your own,
Still I wouldn't trade with a King on a throne!

Americans are intelligently proud and proudly protective of our way of living, and day in and day out our home is like a shrine to that American way. There's much more to our home than its material elements, for in it:

Self-respect and self-esteem set the Flagstone of Pride.

While intelligence and environment lay the Cornerstone of Heritage.

But the central asset of this gilt-edged investment is the Hearthstone of Security. When you've watched this home of your own triumph over depression, inflation, the chaos of war, and the possible loss of the bread-winner of the family, then you learn the wisdom of owning a home of your own.

It is then that this home truly becomes to each member of the family, a sterling standard of his own achievement.

Yours very truly,

Mrs. John H. Hudspeth

Lubbock, Texas

SEMINOLE'S NEW HIGH SCHOOL—Seminole High school students this year will attend their classes in the building pictured above, one of the most modern of its kind in Texas. The building was recently completed by the board of trustees of Seminole Common School district. It blends architecturally with Seminole's fine elementary schools and vocational shop building nearby. Construction of the buildings were largely financed by revenues from oil producing wells located within the bounds of the school district. (Photo Courtesy The Seminole Sentinel.)

82-Year-Old Congressman From Illinois Is Ready To Defend Demos From GOP Attacks

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Sept. 4.—Adolph Sabath, a Democrat and the dean of the House of Representatives, is 82—a few years over twice my age. He challenged me to a walk between the capitol and the House office building. He pulled up at his office door three lengths in front, and fresh as a daisy. I was panting like a small boy who had just been snagged by the truant officer.

That's the way the congressman from Illinois operates. He works his help to a frazzle. At the end of the day Scotty Shaw, his secretary who is gray and paunchy, too, is limp. But the old man still is bright-eyed and bushy-tailed, as the saying goes.

Campaigning Old Stuff

Sabath has been in Congress for 21 consecutive terms. So running for another term is no ordeal for Adolph. Just old stuff.

'Am I going to campaign?"

The Chicago Democrat sucked on his cigar for a second and exploded.

"Of course I'm gonna campaign. Not for myself—but for the Democratic party. The smear these Republicans are putting on the good name of Franklin Roosevelt and Harry Truman! I've been on capitol hill for 42 years, man and old man, and I've never seen anything like it."

The congressman is about the best dressed man in the government and a personable fellow to boot.

Letters All Answered

He answers personally every letter he gets from a constituent—whether it comes from a toddling non-voter or somebody even outside his district. He gets the doggondest mail.

From people wanting to know how to tell one yellow canary from another. Kids who want patterns for doll dresses. Folks who want to know where to get the most for their dough on work clothes for women. On the ABC's of mending. On keeping poultry in the back yard. On how to smoke out and do away with bedbugs. On tasty recipes for pickles and relishes. And on what to do if the corn borer gets too boring.

The congressman, sitting in his cool office, talked at length about his campaign plans. Finally he got up and clamped on his straw skimmer.

"I need some air," he said. "Let's go for another walk."

I said I had another appointment.

Kermit-Andrews Highway Will Be Opened Formally Sept. 14

KERMIT, Sept. 4. (AP)—Sept. 14 has been set aside as the date for the formal opening of the Kermit-Andrews highway, first complete inter-county connecting link in the proposed Broadway-to-Big Bend highway.

The ceremony will be held at the Winkler-Andrews county line at 6 p. m., followed by a barbecue. Members of the Broadway-to-Big Bend association also have been invited to a luncheon meeting at Kermit preceding the ceremonies.

Socialite And Writer Plans To Be Married For Fifth Time

GREENWICH, Conn., Sept. 4. (INS)—Cornelius Vanderbilt, jr., socialite and writer, was disclosed today to have applied for a license to marry for the fifth time.

Vanderbilt, 50, listed his intended bride as Patricia Wallis, 28, of Los Angeles. She is reported to be a niece of singer Jeannette MacDonald.

Greenwich Justice of the Peace John J. O'Brien said that under Connecticut's five-day waiting law, Vanderbilt and Miss Wallis cannot be married until Monday midnight.

To make a delicious relish, chop some green peppers so that you have about a cup, add a cup of chopped sweet red peppers and a small onion that has been finely diced. Put a cup of vinegar in a saucepan and bring to the boiling point, add a quarter cup of sugar and a half teaspoon of salt, stir well, and pour over the vegetables. Let this relish stand for several hours before serving it. It may be kept in a refrigerator for several days longer.

The CHIROPRACTOR-and You
UNABLE TO WALK
Case History No. 868; Age 30; Symptoms; Unable to walk; indigestion; nervousness; occasional headaches; heart trouble, dizziness; Fever; Constipation.
X-RAY PICTURES OF SPINE FIND CAUSE
This case was carried into the STEPHENS CHIROPRACTIC CLINIC in a chair. X-Ray pictures of his spine revealed that his top most vertebra next to his skull was badly out of alignment with the skull bone above and the second vertebra in his neck below producing a severe pressure on the spinal cord.

The Neurocalometer (nerve test) analysis revealed a severe and exact amount of nerve interference existing between the brain and the affected region of his body.
SPECIFIC CHIROPRACTIC REMOVED THE CAUSE
Scientific Adjustments corrected the cause of his troubles and the following letter proves beyond dispute what chiropractic has done for him:
"Dear Dr. Stephens:"
"When I first came to your office I was carried in by means of a chair. I was very nervous and was constantly bothered by indigestion. Every thing I ate caused gas which in turn caused my heart to become crowded. I also suffered from the after affects of rheumatic fever. I had not walked in about four or five months. An X-Ray was taken of my spine and you adjusted me accordingly. I began to improve almost immediately."
"Now I have been under your care about three months and have had only two adjustments. I was able to walk in about a month after the first adjustment. At present I am able to be up all day and do small chores about the house. I am steadily gaining and believe that in a few more months I will be as well as ever."
"Your grateful patient."

Birth-Marks Can Be Removed If Treated Early, Doctors Report

By PAUL F. ELLIS
United Press Science Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 4.—Three Philadelphia doctors reported today that unsightly birth blemishes can be made to disappear if treated early by X-ray.

Their new concept is in contrast with older techniques that recommended treatment in later life.

The experts, Drs. Eugene P. Pendergrass, James C. Katterjohn and James B. Butchart, of the University of Pennsylvania hospital, made their report in the American Journal of Roentgenology and Radium Therapy.

Marks Called Hemangiomas

They recalled that the birth-marks are known as hemangiomas and that the condition is feared most by mothers because of the cosmetic deformity which it often leaves upon infants and children. The lesions range greatly in size and are usually reddish or purlish in color.

"The condition," they said, "is congenital and the most important thing about the lesion is that whatever treatment is given should be given early; that is, as soon after birth of the infant as possible, or as soon as the blemish appears."

Over the years, they said, many physicians did not recommend treatment, largely because they had been taught that most of the blemishes would disappear spontaneously.

The doctors based their new findings on a study of 506 blemishes on 406 patients.

"We do not believe in watchful waiting," the doctors said. "A hemagioma treated at three weeks of age requires less treatment and respond better than one treated at three months."

They said there is no doubt that some lesions heal spontaneously, but that "it is not possible to predict with assurance which lesions will remain quiescent, grow or disappear spontaneously."

1. Radiation can be administered without harmful effects.
2. Small doses of radiation will enhance any natural tendency of the lesion to disappear.
3. The results are excellent and are superior to any other method we have observed.

"We have observed our results over a period of 20 years and in no instance have we obtained unsatisfactory results that can be attributed to radiation," they said.

All Plainview students, whether new or old, may call at the school in advance for an application form. All new students must obtain physician's and recommendation blanks. All students must have their transcripts and smallpox vaccination certificates on file before they enroll.

Iron Curtain Can't Be Raised By Magic

LAUSANNE, Switzerland, Sept. 4. (AP)—Even a magician can't find a legal way to escape from behind the iron curtain, the international magic congress was told today.

The expected delegation from eastern Europe failed to arrive. The only explanation came from a Hungarian magician, who advised his colleagues by mail that no magic he knew could produce a Hungarian visa.

British delegate Jack Salvin said nobody was disturbed by the absence of the Russians, even before the war they always were trying to steal magic secrets, he said.

Defective heating equipment caused 47,500 fires in a single year, and damages of more than $35,000,000.

Head Of University Wants No Arguments With Little Woman

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 4 (AP)—Harold E. Stassen who will debate current political issues at the drop of a hat doesn't want any arguments with the "little woman."

The new University of Pennsylvania president yesterday inspected the Mount Airy home the institution would like to rent for him as a residence.

"I like the neighborhood and it's a fine house," said the former Minnesota governor, "but I can't make any commitments yet.

Retired Grand Opera Star May Come To U. S. For Lecture Tour

ABERDEEN, Scotland, Sept. 4 (AP)—Mary Garden, grand opera star, who retired in 1934, says she may return to the United States as a lecturer. The 71-year-old soprano made her American debut in 1907.

Carleton Smith of New York, director of the National Arts foundation, has offered to send her on a tour of 25 American cities for lectures on her operatic interpretations.

Miss Garden was born in Aberdeen.

Development Of "Texas' Last Frontier" Is Underway At Morton

Weatherbeaten Sign Symbolizes Change In Cochran County Town

By BILL CLARK
Axalanche-Journal Staff Writer

MORTON, Sept. 4—On a weatherbeaten little frame building in Morton's business district is a peeling, painted sign: "Morton J. Smith Office."

To the residents of Morton that painted sign is an early-day relic of this youthful Cochran county seat, named after the late Morton J. Smith of Lubbock. It provides a stirring contrast beween the Morton of 25 years ago and today's town that is cautiously but firmly forging ahead to take its place among the South Plains' leading cities.

The story of Morton has been capably written by Eddie Irwin, a young Marine veteran who married a Morton girl. A student at Butler university in Indianapolis, Irwin has worked this summer as a staff member of the Morton Tribune, in which his material recently appeared.

In 1900 Cochran county had a population of 25. Ten years later that figure had increased to 65 but the 1920 population showed an increase of only two more. It was not until 1924 that an election to organize the county carried, and the present site of Morton was named as the seat.

In about 1924 Minnie Slaughter of the renowned Slaughter ranching family engaged Morton J. Smith to sell 20,000 acres of her Cochran county land to prospective settlers. She wanted to realize $12.50 an acre from the land, and Smith received land in return for his services.

Construction of the Cochran courthouse began in 1925, and the structure, even today the most imposing public building in Morton, was completed in 1926 after numerous difficulties.

The Tribune proclaims Morton as "Texas' Last Frontier," and it is a good description. To the east lie the wealthy Hockley-Cochran oil fields, themselves a frontier in industrial development, and to the west lie farm and ranch lands whose potential remains to be developed.

Projects Described

With a population of some 3,500 today, Morton has engaged in its greatest growth since the end of the war.

Among projects completed are lateral highway paving financed by a $500,000 bond election in 1947, extensive street paving and sewer extensions in 1946, a $25,000 airport in 1945, a $20,000 city hall and fire department building constructed in 1946, and a $125,000 hospital financed by the county; and new schools.

And the completion of public improvements has been paced by the construction of private business buildings which is expected to continue. One project on which work may be started shortly is a theater and store building of Wallace Blankenship, theater chain operator. The cost will exceed $80,000.

A $100,000 bond issue will be voted on Sept. 18 for the purpose of extending the city's water system. Mayor Tom McAlister points out that this will be the fourth time since 1941 that Morton has found it necessary to extend water service in the city, and that a bond issue has not failed in recent years.

Expansion Indicated

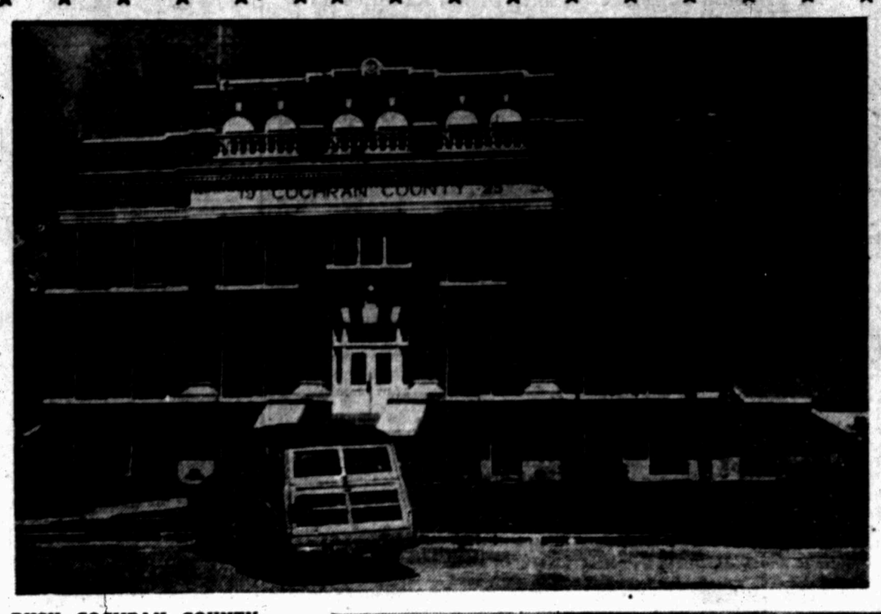

Utility connections, the barometer of a city's growth, are interesting. Water meters show an increase from 136 to 629 in five years; electric meters have increased from 468 in 1945 to 782 today. Gas meters have climbed from 42 in 1942 to 400 today. In the depths of the depression Morton had a public pay telephone and a private telephone, Miss Ines Walden, chief operator, recalls. Today 250 telephones are in operation, with a waiting list of 70.

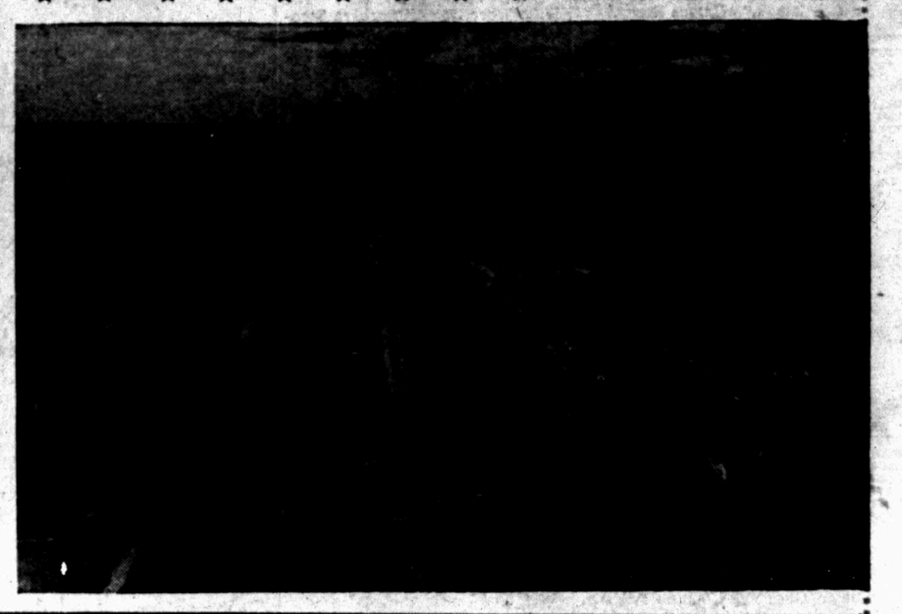

With deposits of approximately $2.5 million, the Morton First State bank's records also reflect the steady growth of the city. W. W. Williamson, president, opened the bank and still operates it.

Most of Morton's prosperity is attributable to agriculture, despite the steady encroachment of the oil fields toward the town. Cochran couny produces in excess of 6.5 million barrels of oil yearly.

County Agent Homer E. Thompson estimates that 220,000 acres of the county's 229,000 acres of tillable land are under cultivation this year, a contrast with the total of 550 acres under cultivation in 1921.

With approximately 40 irrigation wells in service, Cochran county relies heavily on dry-land farming. The County Farm bureau has a membership of 230 Cochran county farmers. Cotton, grain sorghums and wheat are principal crops.

Sonny Tufts Is On The Wagon

By GENE HANDSAKER
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 4.—Movie town's new apostle of clean living is Sonny Tufts. He has slimmed down from 225 pounds to 190. Doesn't have to hold in his tummy any more for a film scene. That is a trick he learned 15 years ago when he was a lifeguard one summer vacation from Yale, and there were pretty girls around Old Orchard Beach, Me.

SONNY TUFTS

Sonny has been on the wagon 11 months. People ask him, "Don't you miss it?" and Sonny replies emphatically, "No." He says, "It's dull at night, but you feel wonderful in the morning. Now I'm ready for closeup at 9 a. m. Back at Paramount, I'd have the ice bags out and be asking, 'When's that closeup'?" Now a freelance actor, the 6-foot 4-inch, clear-eyed Sonny is currently a pro football player with Victor Mature in RKO's "Interference."

It was a closeup of himself in acrobatic shorts in "Variety Girl" that made "Sonny decide he'd have to do something. "I looked like the Queen Mary coming into dock," he told me. He got cryptic: "It was a feeling of vanity. When you're not in shape and you're selling war bonds or entertaining soldiers, you see the disappointment on their faces. That'll snap you back quicker than anything. Keep yourself in shape and you can go on forever in pictures. Look at Coop (Gary Cooper). He must be over 50, and he still looks young." Coop admits to being 47.

Tufts' wife used to tell him, "You never graduated from Yale." Sonny says, "I just liked to have fun." When he did graduate in 1935, Sonny adds, Yale President Charles Seymour whispered, "How'd you do it? I'd never have believed it." The sheepskin ceremonies were on a network, and Sonny says his mother heard the remark in Boston.

Now Bowen Charleton Tufts III, the Back Bay Boston banker's son who once chipped rust off a tramp steamer to earn his passage to Paris, has a smiling seriousness about him. He pumps a bike and rides horseback around his Mulholland Drive home, dives for abalone along the coast, watches his diet, and limits himself to about six cigarets a day. "There's nothing worse than one of those guys who stands around looking smug at his friends at a party," Sonny added, "but I have more fun than they do."

The nation's only Elizabethan theater, perhaps the only one outside of England, is situated in Ashland, Ore., where the Oregon Shakespearean Festival Association presents plays each August in the old English style.

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 4—Exclusively Yours: Here's good news for kids. The famous soap box derby, held at Akron, O., every year, is headed for the screen. And not just in the newsreels, either. The rest of the story will be filmed in Hollywood, with a big-name cast to be announced soon.

Jolson To Appear In London; Mae West Set For Road Tour

By RUTH BRIGHAM
INS Staff Correspondent

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 4.—Al Jolson ain't giving up yet, not by a long shot. The veteran showman is all set to do a stint at the London palladium in October. The way that place pays, no wonder they lured Jolson.

And Mae West says there's plenty of life in the old gal yet (who said old?) and she's going to spread the good news throughout the country when she takes to the road on a night club tour this fall.

Model Babs Beckwith has been seen places with Attorney Greg Bautzer since she arrived in Hollywood, but Babs is setting her wagon to a higher star. Chummy with Howard Hughes, you can look for her to become another Ann's Colby, only she'll ply her brainy and beautiful talents at RKO, more 'n likely. . . .

Hotel Deal Reported

Hotel man Conrad Hilton is said to be dickering for the Drake Hotel in Chicago, offering seven millions. . . .

Lew Ayres and Eileen Howe a twosome . . . she's the girl John Alden Talbot was going with in Palm Beach last spring . . . now doing a bit part in "The Lucky Stiff". . .

Jay Gould is tired of being the playboy around Hollywood and is all set to produce his first movie. It's about a Texas oil man and is tentatively titled, "Enter Mr. Webster." Brian Donlevy may take the top role. . . .

Arline Judge's and Lana Turner's Beverly Hills homes are currently on the market for sale. Just coincidence.

Alida Vallee and husband, Oscar De Mejo, are not only not contemplating divorce. They're so furious at the rumors they plan to sue an Italian newspaper for stating they they were divorcing. . . .

Goldwyn Switches Cast

Those of you who enjoyed "The Bishop's Wife" might be interested in knowing this:

During production time the shooting was well into it's second month when Sam Goldwyn decided to switch the cast. Cary Grant thus became the bishop, which David Niven had been playing, and Niven cast aside his bishop's robes to become Loretta Young's husband.

A neat bit of a change, as the box office proved, making up for the million dollars that the switch cost in production. . . .

Director Mike Curtiz is going to be kinder to actors from now on. He knows what it's like. He turned actor this week, playing himself in "Two Guys and A Gal." He has exactly 12 words of dialogue and he stayed up "the whole damn night to study." Next day, actor Curtiz confidently appeared on the set—and blew his lines seven times.

Hollywood never misses a trick. Diana Lynn, who has a broken arm, and a month more to go in a sling, has ordered slings of shantung silk in colors to match her dresses.

APPEARS HERE — Bob Wills, above, and his Texas Playboys will appear at the Cotton Club southeast of Lubbock for a dance engagement Wednesday night. Price of admission will be $2.50 per person, tax included.

Nice Luggage Of Stranger Had Man Fooled For Moment

PITTSBURGH, Sept. 4 (AP) — "Gee that's a nice bag," said Robert Brozell to a stranger he saw walk past with a piece of luggage.

An officer did Brozell's bidding.

Patience, Talent, Imagination Desired

Fall Wardrobe Need Not Be Costly, With Correct Plans

By PHYLLIS BATTELLE
INS Staff Writer

NEW YORK, Sept. 4—There are two ways to plan a wardrobe inexpensive enough to keep the wolf from breathing hot gusts on your doorstep:

1. Plan it with a pencil and a conservative pocketful of money.

2. Plan it with a needle and a closetful of last season's clothes.

Method No. one means talking turkey with still-wearable costumes of past years . . . talking turkey with the family budget. . . and buying only necessities, making sure there's no "turkeys" in the fall, '48, wardrobe.

Fashions Are Versatile

Method No. two takes more patience, talent, imagination. This fall's fashions are versatile. A well-manipulated needle can convert old style to high style.

Here how:

The medieval waistcoat is a tricky new mode. It's a snug-fitting, sleeveless jacket which buttons down the front to meet the top of a skirt. It may be fashioned of fabric to match the skirt, or of fabric and color to complement it.

An outgrown jacket, a too-short skirt, a heavy wool ski-sweater—any one of these is easily converted to a waistcoat.

Leading pattern houses have inexpensive directions for these high-style jackets.

The most decorative of waistcoats are made of rich velveteens, with gilt, jeweled or jet buttons paced down the front. The sportiest are stitched of corduroy, with leather or glass-covered bridal buttons.

A last year's suit can be changed into a '48 mood waistcoat suit. Simply cut out the sleeves, nip in the waist, pare off the peplum and the lapels. Use odd pieces of fur or contrasting fabric to add glamour and further define the new waistcoat's slenderizing lines.

Remove the waistband from the old skirt and try pulling the fabric tight across the stomach in front, allowing all the fullness to bunch together in the center back.

Skirt No Longer

Skirts are to be 12 inches from the floor for daytime length this winter. This is no longer—in some cases, a bit shorter — than the well-styled skirts of last winter. So length should be no problem.

However, if the full skirts happen to be a bit too shy—convert them to new slim styles. Buy a pattern for a slender skirt with a short, hip-length peplum, top. Probably the vast amount of fabric in the bouffant skirt will allow for re-cutting to new style requirements.

Newest suit-shoes are dark pumps with light-colored spats effects. They're expensive. Instead of investing, buy or have made a pair of gray felt or velveteen spats to fit over last year's black or brown footwear.

Other pumps, dressy ones, may be given the new look with the addition of jet or jewelled buttons stitched on the toes.

Give Coat New Lining

Change a last season's cloth coat by giving it a new lining. Colorful linings are a thing of the future.

Be bold. Insert a fire-engine red rayon crepe lining into a gray coat. Match it in a blouse to be worn with a gray wool skirt, and there's a luxury-priced-looking three piece ensemble.

Line a plain back coat with dashing leopard-stencilled crepe, velvet, or moderately-priced coney fur. Fur linings, too, are tops in popularity.

Easiest style accessory of all to make is the stole—a long shawl to be draped over the shoulders for indoor wear and over the head for outdoors.

It can be made, with a minimum of time and effort, from any long straight swatch of fabric. Discarded evening gowns, skirts, coats, capes—and even summer blankets—can become bewitching as stoles.

Court Is Like Quiz Program For Minute

CAMDEN, N. J., Sept. 4 (AP) — U. S. District Court Judge Thomas M. Madden thought for a minute yesterday he was running a quiz show.

Court proceedings were interrupted by a former Philadelphia naval yard employe who only wanted to know how he could go about suing the city of Philadelphia.

The would-be litigant—identified himself as Charles Biddle Atlee of Camden. He said he was the great-great grandson of Pennsylvania Supreme Court Justice William Augustus Atlee.

Atlee told the jurist he was tired of Philadelphia city officials hounding him for $267 in unpaid wage taxes.

"I want to charge Philadelphia with illegal taxation, defamation of character and attempted legal arrest."

He explained he had given up his navy yard job to avoid paying the tax.

Atlee was referred to the legal clinic of the Camden Bar association by Judge Madden.

WRITE A LETTER!

Protect Yourself!

EVERY farmer, business man and other resident of the South Plains has a direct personal interest in trying to discourage the return of cotton acreage controls which the U. S. Department of Agriculture is considering. Every one of us in these parts has a personal stake which should cause him, or her, to accept the invitation of the Agricultural department to write a letter, stating personal reactions to the restoration of controls.

One of the many reasons South Plainsmen have for opposing controls might appear selfish, although actually it seeks nothing more than justice. Another most important, reason, which concerns every American in every part of the country, is linked vitally with the proposition of national security.

Let's examine the selfishly just reason first. If cotton acreage should be reduced, the biggest cuts almost certain would be in areas where acreage has been increased the most during the last few years. That sort of procedure would hit the South Plains very, very hard.

Cotton acreage in this area has been increased more than in practically any other part of the country, for two principal reasons. One is that considerable areas of our virgin soil are broken up and put in cotton each year. The other is that the South Plains happens to be one of the finest spots, if not the finest for short staple cotton in the world. In nearly all other cotton areas cotton acreage has been gowing down.

Consequently, if cotton acreage cuts should be based on the average of planted areas for any period of former years —and this formula almost certainly would be applied—the biggest cuts likely would be out here. They would reduce the area's most important cash crop — an action which would be costly to every person on the South Plains. It almost certainly would reflect itself in less buying, fewer jobs and probably in property value declines. This is the equitable reason for opposing reductions.

NOW consider the matter from the national security viewpoint. If acreage is cut, the reason will be the fear of a surplus which might cause a price collapse. But is there danger of a serious surplus?

The estimated 1948 crop approximated 15,000,000 bales. Carryover is about 3,000,000. The prospective supply thus is about 18,000,000 bales. But about 10,000,000 bales will be required for current domestic needs. Another 5,000,000, or thereabouts, is scheduled for export.

This would leave about 3,000,000 bales in reserve for emergencies. It isn't enough—not by a great deal. The U. S. had a 13,000,000-bale surplus when World War II began. That was not enough. Shortages became critical. To let reserves drop to 3,000,000 bales now, with world conditions as unsettled as they are, would be to invite disaster. Cotton is almost as essential a war material as oil and rubber.

How might YOU help prevent restoration of controls?

Well, the Agriculture department invites letters on the subject. YOU can write YOUR letter, telling how you feel about controls, and why. Address it to the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D. C. Send copies to your senators and representative in Congress, and to any other persons of influence you may know.

Letters can do no harm. They might help. Most officials who read them want to do what is best and fairest. They pay a great deal of attention to letters which obviously are from the grassroots.

If letters do not block acreage controls, they might help obtain equitable treatment for the South Plains from officials who may not be aware of the conditions peculiar to this particular area.

Write a letter, or letters. The possibility they might help justifies the time and inconvenience they might involve.

An authority says the average person suffers two colds a year. Yes, he keeps one from autumn to spring and spring to autumn.

VOTERS DISAGREE WITH HST'S CHARGE OF POLITICS

BY GEORGE GALLUP, Director
American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., September 4—The American people believe the House un-American Activities committee is unearthing valuable information the country should have, and disagree with those who charge that its spy hearings are purely politics.

In a study of opinion across the country the Institute asked representative voters whether or not the hearings should be continued. Eight out of ten who have followed the hearings answered in the affirmative.

GALLUP

This issue is almost certain to be one of the most hotly debated ones of the current presidential campaign. Republican strategists can be expected to bring their big guns to bear on President Truman's accusation that the hearings are only a red herring designed by G.O.P. Congressmen to distract attention from their own shortcomings in dealing with the high cost of living.

On this particular issue the Republicans will be starting with a large advantage. Asked the specific question whether or not the hearings are political in nature, the people who have followed the investigations vote by more than four to one against the Truman viewpoint.

To get at the important facts of this issue the Institute asked its field representatives to put a series of questions to a cross section of the nation's voters.

The first question was asked to find out how many people were familiar with the House hearings: "Have you heard or read about the Congressional spy hearings?"

Seventy-nine per cent said they had heard or read about the investigations, and 21 per cent said they had not.

Those who had followed the hearings were then asked:

"Do you think Congress should continue with its spy investigations — or do you think Congress should call them off?"

The answers:

Should continue investigations	79%
Should call off investigations	15
No opinion	6

THE NEXT question was designed to find out to what extent people who had followed the hearings agree with the red herring charge:

"Do you think there is something to these spy investigations—or do you think it is a case of playing politics?"

Three out of four respondents see some fire in the smoke of the hearings, as the following table shows:

Not purely politics	74%
Purely politics	17
No opinion	9

Politically speaking, the most important fact in today's survey is that President Truman's viewpoint on the hearings is strongly opposed by independent voters as well as by Democrats and Republicans.

Republicans give greater support to the House Committee than Democratic or independent voters. The following table gives the answers by party affiliation to the question whether the spy investigations are primarily politics.

By Party Affiliation

	Rep.	Dem.	Ind.
Not purely politics	84%	71%	65%
Purely politics	8	19	24
No opinion	8	10	11

People who say they are going to vote for Henry Wallace in the main believe that the hearings are primarily political in nature.

Throughout the eleven-year history of the un-American Activities committee the public has tended to be critical of some of its methods, but still substantial majorities of voters believed its

Looking At Life - - - - - - By Erich Brandeis

PROBABLY I deserve this good-natured criticism which came in the mail today from Los Angeles.

But aren't we all proud of our ailments? Don't we all love to talk about our operations and boast about our bravery in the face of doctors and nurses?

What else distinguishes most of us from our fellow humans except our greater aches and pains and the size of our doctor bills?

BRANDEIS

This is what Ted Tenebaum, who terms himself "an old vaudeville actor," writes:

"I'm so glad to see you preen and pride yourself on your new-found invalidism. But why be so lugubrious about it? Don't you know that you have just begun to live?

"How about an old-timer like me giving you a few pointers? Perhaps it will save you from committing the mistakes and follies that I committed, and it may spare you the misery of anticipating the worst.

"My dad, about 40, died when I was 12. Somehow, for 28 years I lived in dread and terror. In some childish way I got the idea that when I reached that age, I too would die.

"Well, I passed 40, and I didn't die. What a letdown. It worried me not to worry.

"Three months after I was married I was inducted into the army in 1917. Being a silly goat like you are, I made my wife promise that she, too, would find herself a fine man if I failed to return. I was worried about the war and still had my worry about dying at 40.

Well, I didn't die and got back from the war. After a checkered career as a vaudeville actor I broke down in 1927 with a case of tuberculosis. I was a bed patient for 6 months and ambulant for 7 more months.

Trying to get well kept me so busy that it wasn't until my 42nd birthday that I remembered I was supposed to die on my 40th birthday.

"I went into business and with the help of my wife and my two boys I made a success of it.

"Well, to make a long story short, here I am, 57, feeling better than ever, with not a worry in the world.

"Recently a doctor gave me an examination. He told me that neither his examination nor the X-rays showed that I ever had tuberculosis.

"YE GODS, I thought. To have lived a life of sham all these years, to have coddled myself, to have tried to palm my sweet wife off on some rascal! Whew! Now I was really sick for a few days until I got over it.

"Some there you are, Erich. For crying out loud, quit being so d---n brave. You'll probably live to be eighty and break your neck skidding on a banana peel.

"Don't set your house in order. Don't plan for your wife. Quit bossing her around. Let her

COX HAVING BATTLE

Campaigning Is Hot

By ROBERT S. ALLEN
Special Correspondent

WASHINGTON—This week may see another spectacular political upset in the South. Representative Gene Cox, long-time stormy Georgia petrel, is having the battle of his career to retain the seat he has held for 12 consecutive terms. The combination of a slashing opponent and a widely publicized thrashing incident has Cox going around in circles.

Several months ago, Cox was beat up by two brothers of a girl who formerly worked in his office. They accused him of making improper advances.

Cox's opponent is J. Neely Peacock, jr., young Navy combat veteran. His campaigning has been so effective that Cox resorted to the charge that Peacock is being secretly supported by A. F. Whitney, head of the railway trainmen, and the CIO. Cox's district is largely rural and generally anti-labor.

Cox's tactics, however, may boomerang.

Peacock has blasted back that Cox is getting Republican backing. Peacock is charging that Representative Ross Rizley, Okla., Republican chairman of the House campaign investigating committee, sent an agent to Georgia for the express purpose of helping Cox. According to Peacock, this G.O.P. agent is Robert Barker, a $7,500-a-year employee of the committee.

Big Eater

When Connecticut's forthright Senator Raymond Baldwin invited a group of G.O.P. colleagues to talk over party affairs, he carefully excluded certain Old Guarders. Several days later, Senator John Bricker buttonholed Baldwin.

"How come you let me out of your meeting to clean up the Republican party?" the Ohioan asked.

Barring some unexpected upset, the supply of coal, oil and natural gas will be from 10 to 20 per cent greater than last winter. Certain sections may encounter shortages, but the country generally will have enough winter fuels to meet normal needs.

Of the three major fuels, coal is in best supply. Reserve stocks are now so ample that restrictions on foreign export were removed September 1. Fuel-oil output is now 10 per cent above that of last year—an increase slightly above the expansion in the use of this fuel. Also, reserve stocks are considerably ahead of 1947.

The natural-gas situation likewise is greatly improved. The Appalachian area, hardest hit last winter, will get 20 per cent more this year. The Midwest, which also had shortages, likewise will have a greater supply as a result of heavily boosted reserves. However, conservative use of this fuel will still be in order.

If everyone uses restraint, there will be enough fuels for all this winter.

Relaxed

As chief of Naval operations during the war, no one was stricter than Admiral Ernest J. King in demanding "spit-and-polish" appearance from officers and are still burning from King rankings on men. More than one Navy veteran's ears this score.

But time has wrought a marked change in the old seadog's attitude. Now retired, he lounges about in loose, baggy trousers and a battered yellow sweater. And he wears this rig in the prim precincts of the Army-Navy club. Club rules strictly enjoin "proper" attire. But King dresses as he wishes and no one, so far, has dared question him about it.

A MEMBER of the U. S. Supreme court is in for a jolt when the House un-American activities committee publishes its secret interrogation of Alger Hiss. This is what will be revealed:

Representative Richard Nixon: "Mr. Hiss, who sponsored you for a government job when you first came to Washington?"

Hiss: "I don't know whether I should say. He's a very important man and it may not be right to get his name involved in this investigation."

Nixon: "That's all right; go ahead and tell us."

Hiss: "Well, it was Felix Frankfurter."

NOTE—The Supreme court justice, then on the Harvard law faculty, installed scores of protèges in government jobs. During that period, the surest way to land a Washington job was a word from Frankfurter.

Unique

Wall street banker Ferdinand Eberstadt is a man of unique talents or unique connections.

He is author of the armed services' unification plan. A compromise on the plan has encountered heavy going in its brief and stormy career. It has been costlier than the old setup and there has been little, if any, diminution in interservice warring.

In fact, the results have been so questionable that ex-President Herbert Hoover, head of the commission preparing a report on government reorganization, set up a special committee to study the military unification. But curiously the person named by Hoover to make this survey is Eberstadt, the author of the plan he is now investigating.

Another interesting aspect of the appointment is that Eberstadt is a member of the banking firm with which Defense Secretary James Forrestal was long associated before coming to Washington. Forrestal, too, is a member of the Hoover commission and thus will be able to pass on his own record.

PRESIDENT TRUMAN is quietly nursing a bombshell he will detonate during his western campaign tour.

It will be the announcement that a number of reclamation projects will have to be shut down because the G.O.P.-controlled Congress failed to provide sufficient funds. Top among these projects are Boysen in Wyoming, Heart River and Angostura in the Dakotas. The President will charge this is another example of congressional disregard of public welfare.

Job had patience but we bet he never was bothered about the basement in his home getting wet after a rain.

The neck of the American man is getting larger, says a writer. Maybe it is because he is all the time sticking it out.

Many a man leads a touch and go existence. They make constant touches in order to keep going.

It is said the dime tip is returning. Maybe soon they will begin dropping buttons in the church collection plate.

SHUTE FINE CRAFTSMAN

"No Highway" Interesting Book

"NO HIGHWAY," by Nevil Shute; (Morrow).

LOOKING at it one way, this novel wanders all around, from a supposed visit of the youthful Jesus to Glastonbury when His uncle, Joseph of Armiathea, was engaged in the Cornwall-Palestine tin business, back to the great pyramid, and on up to the atom and estimates of how quickly fatigue will break down an alloy.

Looked at another way, it all ties in together very neatly, for Shute is a fine craftsman. If he doesn't make you believe that a child in England working a ouija-board devise can locate a little piece of metal lost in the wilds of Labrador, that a brand-new clean world will dawn in 1994, or that the research scientist is the traditional breakfast-egg-spattered muddy-duddy who can't tell a dish-mop from a hot-water heater, at least he interests you.

NEVIL SHUTE

The scientist, Theodore Honey, has in his laboratory a tail from the plane which England hopes will secure for her a fair share of transatlantic travel. Honey has rigged up a system of cams to pound it day and night, and predicts that at about 1,400 hours it will crystallize and collapse. The government laboratories, represented by Dr. Scott, Honey's superior and the narrator, are on the point of ordering the manufacturer to ground these planes at 700 hours. Scott is all the more determined to act as he learns that the only one of them to crash did so at the end of Honey's estimated time.

There's a Hollywood star, Monica Tearsdale; a beautiful airline stewardess, Marjorie Corder; Honey's daughter, Elspeth; Scott and his wife, and designers, manufacturers. There's a plane trip during which you very excitedly wonder from one minute to the next whether it will crash. And the plot is flavored with the currently popular spice of possible Russian knavery.

Shute, himself a distinguished aeronautical engineer, dramatizes the conflict between the theorist and the man of affairs. This is a good book to read during a plane trip, because it's all about the problem of safety; but then again, it's a bad book to read in the air, because accidents do occur. You decide when, for you'll enjoy it though it is by no means a must.

"NO BUGLES TONIGHT," by Bruce Lancaster; (Little, Brown).

"NO Bugles Tonight" has all the ingredients of the standard Civil war novel, plus one. The added ingredient — and the one which lifts the book a good cut above standard—is Bruce Lancaster.

At that, this isn't Lancaster at his best. "No Bugles Tonight" hasn't the freshness and the sharp character-etchings of "The Scarlet Patch" nor does it have the meticulous detailing of his earlier "Guns of Burgoyne." For all that, it has drive and action and sound historical background-ing.

The span of the story extends from the Andrews raid in 1862 to the Battle of Lookout Mountain in 1863. Other writers have used the Andrews raid—a daring attempt by a handful of Unionists to wreck Confederate railroad operations in Georgia—as the field for their entire story; Lancaster uses it merely as a springboard. The leader, James Andrews, remains an influence through all the pages, however, for it is his example which teaches the hero, Artilleryman Whip Sheldon, that a cause can be greater than a man.

The real theme of the story is the Union underground in the South—the maintaining of the "islands" which were avenues of communication and observation posts, combined. Sheldon takes over the job of keeping contacts open with these islands and his adventures behind Confederate lines are the backbone of the book. Of course, there are a couple of girls in there, too, Southern belles who work for the Union, but they are more or less standard equipment for this kind of novel.

Max Miller Again

"THE TOWN WITH THE FUNNY NAME," by Max Miller; (Dutton).

THE Moray eel that's picked up in a lobster pot; the sealion that slaps a swimmer's bald head; the Institute of Oceanography that has no crew, no school spirit, no alma-mater song; Perky like a beachcomber when he's out fishing but as elegant as Beau Brummel at a party . . . little things seen walking along the shore or from a window facing the sea make grist for this Miller.

MILLER

The town where nothing happens yet where this author makes so many things matter is La Jolla, which is very different indeed, he says, from San Diego. But it probably isn't the only town in this country where there are cocktail parties, and a Mrs. Billings from Massachusetts, and friend Ray, and even a Perky.

And it isn't the only town that offers a man an invitation to reflection, though Miller is one of the few men to accept. He writes unobtrusively, quietly, though not apologetically; if we want to come along he'd be glad to have us.

His book opens a lobster fishing time and closes as the next season rolls around. Miller can be very indignant about the wasteful abalone fishermen, the lobster "war" and the driftwood that floats up on his patch of shore but falls into some one else's hands. He can be very funny about the ouija board that uses naughty words, perhaps because they're short and easy to spell.

Most of the time, however, he lets his mind wander. He makes a note of the embarrassed accident victim who doesn't wait to thank his rescuer but "prefers to vanish." He is interested in learning that "everyone's life has a catch to it somewhere." He wonders why town and city boosters "do not themselves go to places which already are crowded . . . and leave the rest of us alone." Or he "would just as soon that history would stop occurring for a while."

History does stop occurring while you read his agreeable essays, but life goes on.

"Find Me In Fire"

"FIND ME IN FIRE," by Robert Lowry; (Doubleday).

ROBERT Lowry is one of the younger writers to come out of the war and has attracted considerable attention. His new novel, "Find Me in Fire" is the story of a maimed war veteran who returns to his midwestern home town to try to find himself. In the process he also helps several residents of the town into new channels that affect their future lives.

Lowry's purpose is to bring down to an understandable level in terms of a small community the awful enormity of a world conflict. The writing is tough and not for the easily disturbed.

TO OPEN KINDERGARTEN — Mrs. Lillie Vanderpool Smith, above formerly of Dallas, will open a new kindergarten Sept. 9 in the Educational department of the Broadway Church of Christ. The school will be known as the Jack and Jill Kindergarten and a nursery school will be onerated in conjunction with it. Children from three to six years of age will be enrolled in the two schools. Mrs. Smith will be assisted by Mrs. Howard Hughes in operation of the project.

Funds Will Be Sought For Camp

CANYON, Sept. 4 (Special)—A campaign to raise $65,000 for improvements at Ceta canyon, Methodist encampment near here which has attracted more than 3,000 boys, girls and adults during summer camps, will be conducted the first week in November.

Rev. Edgar A. Irvine, camp manager, will have charge of the campaign and plans to be present for each of the district Methodist meetings the first week in November, attending two each day.

Improvements Are Planned

The campaign, which was approved at the Northwest Texas conference session in Lubbock in May, is designed to raise funds to build a manager's home, dining hall, two or three new bath houses a health center, to improve the auditorium, complete the staff house, improve roads and the water system, for landscaping and to finish cabins already on the grounds, paying for application of asbestos siding, refinishing roofs and painting interiors.

The Methodist encampment grounds include 316 acres lying within the canyon. Rev. Mr. Irvine said a conservative estimate of value of land and improvements was $78,500.

"At present, we are handicapped for space, especially in the dining hall," he said. The proposed dining hall would seat 300, while present capacity is 140. At present there is no manager's home on the grounds. After construction of such a home, Rev. Mr. Irvine and his family will move from their present home at Canyon to Ceta canyon to live.

Several Camps Constructed

Plans for improvement of the auditorium call for partially enclosing the structure, now open on three sides. A lounge and reading room are to be situated in rear of the auditorium for use in summer camps and also for use in winter.

Sufficient facilities are to be provided for use in winter to accommodate small groups.

Water for the camp is provided by natural springs that have a gravity flow to the camp grounds. The water is boosted by pressure pumps for use in camp.

During this summer, camps have included: Seven for intermediates, two youth camps, two junior camps, one for children's workers of the conference, a young adult retreat, a layman's conference and a Wesleyan Guild camp.

Other Meetings Set

A ministers' retreat is to be conducted Monday through Thursday. Methodist student councils of Texas Technological college and West Texas State Teachers college are to attend a joint camp in September.

A nurse and one or more life guards have been on duty all summer. Water in the concrete swimming pool is tested periodically for purity and is treated to meet state requirements.

An Amarillo city fogging machine sprayed the grounds with DDT early in the summer. The Amarillo Health department checks water.

Plans for camp improvements provides for spending of $5,000 for road improvements, $5,000 on the water system and $3,500 for landscaping.

The campaign will be the first conference-wide campaign for funds to improve the camp grounds, said the camp manager. He said improvements would begin as soon as money becomes available.

Gallup Poll

hearings should be continued. This was true in the early days, when the group was popularly known as the Dies Committee, and, according to latest survey results, the Committee's objectives are still approved by a majority of voters.

For example, last December voters who had followed the investigation of Hollywood showed a pronounced sentiment in favor of punishment for the committee's witnesses held in contempt of Congress for failing to answer questions on alleged Communist connections.

The Institute has been keeping tabs on attitudes toward the committee's operations ever since the beginning. Even while the full weight of the New Deal was hurled against it in 1938, three voters in every four thought Congress should appropriate funds for another year of study of Nazi and Communist fifth-column activities.

Critics have charged committee members fail to listen to both sides, disregard rules of evidence and use the hearings for political purposes. However, every time the committee's life was in jeopardy voters overwhelmingly favored its extension, even after strong attacks upon it by President Roosevelt himself.
