Ten Thousand Attend Eliasville Railway Opening Celebration and Barbecue; Kell Sees Normal Times

Special to the Record News.

ELIASVILLE, Texas, July 26.—Fully 10,000 people are estimated to have participated here today in festivities celebrating the advent of the first train to this town over the Wichita Falls and Southern railway. Fifty beeves were slaughtered to provide for an old fashioned barbecue, which was served the visitors.

Declaring the Eliasville community to be one of the richest in natural resources in the country, Frank Kell of Wichita Falls, banker and railroad builder, and president of the Wichita and Southern, told the large crowd assembled to hear him speak, that this road should have been built twelve years ago. Mr. Kell also asserted that he at that time attempted to have the road built, but was thwarted by the veto of a road bill by Thomas P. Campbell, who was then governor of Texas.

Speaking of business conditions as they are at the present, Mr. Kell declared that he felt that prices are now as near the pre-war basis as they will ever be and asserted that he felt the pendulum was ready to swing back from depression to prosperity. Referring to a recent trip which he had made through four of the biggest eastern cities, Mr. Kell declared that he found the financial condition much better here than in the east.

The first train to reach Eliasville was made up at Graham and arrived at 11:30 this morning, the regular train from Wichita Falls arrived about 2 o'clock. Regular train service will be commenced on August 1, according to announcements given out today by railroad officials.

Large representation of citizens were present from Wichita Falls, Fort Worth, Dallas and practically all surrounding towns.

Workmen will begin tomorrow to push the rails on toward Jimkurn, which they expect to reach by August 15.

AGED WOMAN IS BADLY HURT BY SWITCH ENGINE

Condition Such Following Critical Injuries That Physicians Despair of Recovery; Amputation Delayed.

Run down by a switch engine on the Fort Worth and Denver tracks, near Michigan street, Tuesday afternoon shortly after noon, Mrs. M. Ledbetter, 77 years of age, sustained injuries which will necessitate the amputation of her left leg and may cost her her life, according to attending physicians.

The wheels of the engine struck the left leg of the injured woman slightly above the heel, ground off practically all the flesh from the bone along the entire length of the limb, severely crushing the bone above the knee, the physicians announced. A finger on her right hand also was reported broken.

Physicians declared that she seemed to have suffered no internal injuries, but that because of her advanced age the shock had so weakened her that they were forced to delay the amputation of the injured member, until she might have an opportunity to rally.

Mrs. Ledbetter told physicians that she had gone into the tracks to gather some sand for her chickens.

No one could be located Tuesday afternoon who saw the woman when the engine struck her. Persons who were near the scene and who saw her immediately after the accident declared that only a miracle could have prevented her being ground to pieces beneath the wheels of the engine.

The woman was rushed to the Methodist hospital at Call Field by the Merkle-Lunn Undertaking company, immediately following the accident.

At a late hour Tuesday night hospital attendants reported the woman's condition to still be critical with little hope held for her ultimate recovery.

General Dickman Asserts Banning From Public Schools and Church Services Would Aid Americanism.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, July 26.—Foreign languages, dead or alive, should be taught in no American school except universities or private institutions, and a ban placed on their use in the conduct of any church service would aid progress of Americanism to Utopia, Major General Joseph T. Dickman, commanding the southern department, U. S. A., said before a joint session of the Texas legislature this afternoon.

General Dickman, pardoning possible inference of his remarks that he might be urging enactment of legislation on the matter, likewise suggested a standing appropriation of $25,000 to the heirs of mob victims as a preventative to lynching in Texas or elsewhere.

His address on the subject "Americanism" held a praise for the spirit of Americansim as exemplified in the winning of the world war and unstinted praise for the late Theodore Roosevelt's desire to lead a force of volunteers to France as the origin of conscription in the United States, to which in turn the general declared, had everything to do with forcing upon Germany the realization that America was coming in earnest.

General Dickman branded the "hyphenated" policy of supporting foreign language newspapers and urged upon politicians the un-American tactics of bidding for the hyphenated vote, although as he expressed it such admonition appeared to do very little good.

The general expressed himself as not yet satisfied with the status of an American citizen in foreign lands, hoping the time was not far distant when one might be received in a strange land not only "with cupidity by the foreigner but by admiration" on his part.

The Southern department commander motored to Austin shortly after noon to address the legislature upon invitation extended through resolution both by the house and senate.

GOVERNOR SMALL READY TO GIVE UP, ATTORNEY NOTIFIES SHERIFF: JUDGE RULES SUBJECT TO ARREST

By Associated Press

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 26.—Governor Small, from the office of one of his counsels in Chicago,, is reported tonight to have offered to surrender himself without resistance to Sangamon county authorities on warrants charging him with embezzlement of state funds while treasurer of Illinois.

Sheriff Henry Mester announced late tonight that he had received the following message from Chicago:

"To the sheriff of Sangamon county, Springfield, Illinois:

"This is to advise you that Governor Len Small is ready to submit to you or any of your parties or to the sheriff of Cook county, according to your directions, or to any persons designated as agent at any time tomorrow, Wednesday, July 27, 1921, in my office, 1183 Continental and Commercial Bank building, Chicago, Illinois, in submission to the capias which I understand Judge Smith has directed you to execute on the governor. In order to conserve all parties' rights please advise me when you will come to Chicago.

(Signed)
"ALBERT FINK,
"Counsel for Governor Len Small."

Sheriff Mester immediately replied to the message stating that he would be prepared to take a sheriff's bond at Governor Small's convenience, adding that he did not intend to go to Chicago to serve the warrants.

By Associated Press.

SPRINGFIELD, Ill., July 26—Although circuit judge, E. S. Smith today held that Governor Len Small was subject to arrest following indictments on charges of embezzlement and conspiracy to defraud the state while state treasurer, warrants had not been served tonight and the governor left the capitol presumably for his home at Kankakee.

Sangamon county officials announced that "diplomacy" would be used in causing the governor's arrest in the light of his lost claim of immunity, but declared they were determined to go through with the arrest of Governor Small, following Judge Smith's ruling. They designated no time for service of the warrants nor time in which they would allow the governor for his appearance to arrange bond.

Attorney General Brundage, foremost political foe of the governor, and impelling force behind the treasury investigation which resulted in indictments against Governor Small, Lieutenant Governor Sterling and Vernon Curtis, Grant Park Banker, left the capitol for Chicago on the same train with the governor.

Truce overtures by State's Attorney Mortimer, who suggested a conference between county authorities and representatives, were refused at the executive office.

MAKE PARTIAL RESPONSE TO PRESIDENT

Request for Funding Railroad Debts, Characterized As Moral Obligation, Expected to Bring Fight.

By Associated Press.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Partial response was made immediately by congress today to the special message by President Harding requesting that powers of the war finance corporation be broadened to take charge of funds upward of five hundred million dollars of railroad debts and provide additional farm credits.

The president, in his message, transmitted by messenger, declared the government was "morally and legally bound" to fund the railroad debts and was under "impelling moral obligations to provide agricultural credits.

The first step toward meeting the second of the two requests—provision for additional farm credits, had in reality been taken in the senate before the presidential message was read. Senator Kellogg, republican, Minnesota, introduced a bill drafted by Secretary of Commerce Hoover and Director Myer of the war finance corporation and said to have the approval of the president as a substitute for the pending Norris bill, to create a one hundred million dollar farm export corporation. The bill as introduced embraced the president's suggestion to empower the war finance corporation, instead of new federal corporation, as provided in the Norris bill, to advance credits for agricultural exports.

The president's message dealt particularly with railroad financing and declared the proposal that the war finance corporation take charge of funding the railroad debts to the government would cause "no added expense, no added liability, no added tax burden." The president described the proposal as "a simple remedy," contemplating receipt and disposition by the corporation of "ample securities" deposited by the railroads.

The message was referred by the senate to its interstate commerce committee, but Chairman Cummins, in ill health, was out of the city, and when the railroad legislation would be taken up was in doubt. Leaders, however, expected action within the next fortnight. Several senators, opposing any semblance of further government advances to the carriers stated privately that they would fight the legislation.

WASHINGTON, July 26—President Harding, in a special message to congress today, asked it to extend the authority of the war finance corporation to purchase securities, probably up to $500,000,000, now in the hands of the railroad administration, so that the proceeds may be used for settlements with the railways.

This, the president told congress, would open the way to "early adjustment and relief" of the railroad problem. There was no thought, he said, of asking congress for additional money.

Railway claims, based on the "inefficiency of labor" during the war, the president said, were to be waived for the present to hasten settlement without surrender of any rights in court. Although the railways owe the government large sums, the president said, the government also owes the railroads large sums on various accounts.

"No added expense," said the president, explaining his request, "no added investment is required on the part of the government, there are no added liabilities, no added tax burden.

"It is merely the grant of authority necessary to enable a most useful and efficient government agency to use its available funds to purchase securities for which congress already has authorized the issue, and turn them into channels of finance ready to float them.

"The contract covering operation provided that the railways should be returned to their owners in as good condition as when taken over by the government and the transportation act, recognizing that betterment and additions being to capital account, provided that such sums as the railway companies owed the government for betterments and never equipment, added during the period of government operation, might be refunded.

"There has been at no time any question about the justice of funding such indebtedness to the government. Indeed, it has been in progress to a measureable degree ever since the return of the railroads to their owners. It has been limited, however, to such cases as those in which final settlements with the railway administration have been effected. The process is admittedly too slow to meet the situation which the owners of the railroads have been facing and I believe it essential to restore railway activities and essential to the country's good fortune to hasten both funding and settlement.

"Quite apart from the large sums to the government, which we are morally and legally bound to fund, the government admittedly owes the railroad companies large sums on va-

BRITISH SOLONS COME TO SEE PROHIBITION IN IT'S HOME LAIR

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Two members of the British parliament started today a first hand investigation to ascertain how prohibition is working out in the United States. The two, Charles H. Sitch and John E. Davidson, said they would report their findings to the labor party, of which they are members.

Both took occasion to deny predictions of American reformers that England will be dry within ten years, asserting there was little dry sentiment at least in the labor party.

LEGISLATURE AMENDS LAWS NEFF ASKS

Two Bills On Governor's "Law Enforcement Program" Engrossed, But Radically Changed.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, July 26.—Two of Governor Neff's bills of his law enforcement program were engrossed by the house today but not in the form desired by the chief executive. Amendments to both bills killed their original purpose.

The bills engrossed are the suspended sentence law and the Dean prohibition law. The Melson bill proposed the outright repeal of the suspended sentence law as suggested by the governor. However, its original intention was killed when John Davis of Dallas offered the present law as amended at the regular session as a substitute was adopted and the final vote this morning passed it to engrossment. The bill adds automobile theft, criminal assault and bootlegging to the offenses exempt from the provisions.

The amendment to the Dean prohibition law was considered all afternoon following the address of General Dickman, commander of the southern department. The Morris bill proposing to exempt the purchaser from the law, thereby making him a competent witness against the seller.

Crumpton of Bowie, leader of the opposition to the Morris bill, offered a substitute also making the purchaser exempt from the law but also amending it so that the state does not have to negative the exceptions as in the Morris bill. His substitute was adopted and the bill as substituted passed to engrossment.

The graft and extravagance in the state capitol as charged by Governor Neff and as proof of which he submitted evidence to the appropriations committee is to be investigated by a joint legislative committee of three senators and five representatives. A concurrent resolution to that effect was adopted by both branches today. The committee is to have the authority and power of a district court and is to start immediately reporting back to the present session. Senators Witt, Page and Davidson were named as the senate committee. The house committee has not been named.

By a vote of 13 to 10 the senate defeated the resolution proposing to transfer the home economics department of the federal extension service from A. and M. College to the College of Industrial Arts.

During consideration of the Educational budget, in the senate late today Senator Clark offered an amendment to strike from the University of Texas budget the appropriation for the school of sociology. He explained that he had proof that A. B. Wolf, professor of sociology, was a socialist and was teaching socialism in his classes.

I can prove that he admitted before his class one day that he was a socialist and that he said if the pupils knew as much about socialism as he did that they would also be socialists," said Senator Clark.

Senator Dudley of El Paso, by whom Dr. Vinson, president of the University was sitting, explained that the board of regents had investigated similar charges and found them untrue. Senator Hertzberg objected to Senator Clark's remarks, saying that for the three years he had been in the senate Senator Clark had always fought the university. Senator Clark replied that he had never fought the university, was for it and always would be for it. His amendment was tabled.

The senate then approved the Texas University, A. and M. College, Grubbs vocational training school and the John Tarleton College budgets. The appropriation for six state experiment stations that was cut out by the committees was reinstated on the floor of the senate.

Arrival of more ocean tonnage at gulf ports is reported to be the immediate reason for the reductions.

BEAUMONT ORGANIZATION PROMISES "HOT LEAD AND STEEL" FOR KLANSMEN

By Associated Press.

BEAUMONT, Texas, July 26.—Through a communication to a local newspaper it became known today that an organization was being formed in Southeast Texas to combat the Ku Klux Klan. The avowed intention of the organization is to conduct an open warfare against members of the klan. The letter was addressed to the klan.

Special service men, it was stated, have been employed to ferret out the members of the klan, who are threatened with summary punishment.

"We have waited patiently for the officers to do their duty," the communication says, "but it seems they have not the nerve or desire to place under arrest members of your klan who violate the law.

We have formed a club, or a mob you may call it, of more than one hundred fearless men and we are going to stop you people with hot lead and hot steel at the first opportunity and that will not be far off.

We have sworn vengeance on such people and will shoot down like a mad dog, men whom we learn to be members of this klan. We are going through you people like a bull through a pile of shucks. We are in squads of twelve to twenty-five men and will gang up on any occasion to meet you people at any time or place that we are notified you are to parade or do your dirty work. There are going to be many widows and orphans left in Southeast Texas, if the gang is not disbanded upon the reading of this notice."

LETTER EPIDEMIC AT CORPUS CHRISTI DEVELOPES

By Associated Press.

CORPUS CHRISTI, July 26.—A prominent business man received a letter today signed by the Ku Klux Klan advising him to leave town, that he was an undesirable citizen. He took the letter to the constables office and when he arrived there, the force was reading a letter which had just been received by one of its members. Two others were also received here today.

ATHENS AFFAIR PROVES TO BE ONLY HOAX

By Associated Press.

ATHENS, Texas, July 26.—The mystery surrounding the alleged beating, binding and gagging, and robbing of Earl H. Peters, near Chandler, Texas, July 18, was solved here today, county peace officers announced, when Peters in a sworn statement absolved every person suspected of connection with the affair from blame. Peters who is 24 years of age, was reported to have been taken from a hotel room at Chandler, mistreated and robbed of $214.35 by masked men. The incident aroused a large part of eastern Texas.

In his statement, given out by officials today, Peters says he left the Chandler hotel about ten o'clock Monday night, July 18, walked three miles into the country, gagged himself with a towel and loosely fastened his hands behind his back. He says in the alleged statement that he had only six or seven dollars on his person and that he was not unconscious at any time. He gives no motive for his action in the statement which was sworn to before the county judge here.

Several parties held in connection with the affair have been released but Peters is being held for further investigation, officers said.

TEXARKANA NEGRO WHIPPED AND WARNED

By Associated Press.

TEXARKANA, Texas, July 26.—Masked men tonight entered the dancing pavilion at Spring Lake park, a municipal pleasure ground, and carried off Gordon Harrison, negro, leader of the orchestra.

Harrison was taken from the park to a point nearly two miles out on the Summer Hill road, where, in a piece of woods, he was whipped after which he was brought back close to the place where he was seized. Harrison said the men told him that his whipping was a warning to all negroes to be careful in their relations with white people. The whipping was not severe and the negro's clothes were not removed. About a dozen men participated in the trip to the woods.

MEXICAN VOLCANO IS THREATENING ERUPTION

By Associated Press.

SAN ANTONIO, Texas, July 26.—For the first time in seventy-five years, the volcano of San Miguel threatens an eruption, according to a news dispatch from the city of Mexico, received here today. The volcano is located near the town of San Miguel and for the past two weeks large quantities of vapor and smoke have been pouring from the crater and one day boiling water spouted from the mouth of the volcano. The last eruption of San Miguel occurred in 1846 when two small towns were destroyed.

IRISH PEACE CONSIDERED POSSIBILITY

Government Leaders Evidence Hopeful View of Situation Notwithstanding Silence From Dublin.

LONDON, July 26.—The uncanny silence Dublin maintains relative to the British government's proposals would create uneasiness but for the known fact that the Sinn Fein leaders are engaged in daily discussions of these proposals, which, as Austen Chamberlain, the government leader, revealed in the house of commons today, were only "outlines and principles." This is interpreted to mean that they afford a basis for continued negotiations.

No reply has yet been received by the prime minister from Mr. De Valera.

According to reports current in Dublin, what is called the "rock of Ulster" is the great obstacle which must be taken into consideration.

It is clear from the statements of Lord Birkenhead, lord high chancellor in the house of lords, and Mr. Chamberlain in the house of commons today that the government has not lost hope of a settlement. The former announced that the government was hopeful it would be able to make a statement at an early date.

Mr. Chamberlain went further, clearly indicating that the government expected a late autumn session in order to pass legislation regarding peace in Ireland.

These are not the only favorable signs. Mr. Lloyd George has decided that he will go abroad, as he had previously intended, for a vacation, he desires to be available for any possible development. Moreover, General Jan C. Smuts has booked passage on a liner sailing for South Africa Friday, and it is believed he would not leave England unless convinced that the Irish negotiations were in line for peace.

PELLAGRA AND FAMINE RUMOR ROUSES SOUTH

Public Health Service and Red Cross, However, Respond to President Harding's Appeal for Help.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Quick response was made today to President Harding's call on the public health service and the Red Cross to meet the reported threat of pellagra plague in a large section of the cotton belt.

Officials of the two agencies prepared immediately to carry out the president's request and late today held a joint conference. Officials of eight southern states made their response in the form of a protest that no such serious situation as has been pictured exists.

Surgeon General Cummings and Dr. Joseph Goldberger, pellagra experts of the public health service, met in conference with Dr. Livingston Farrand, chairman, and other Red Cross officials. The session was quite lengthy and on information as to conclusions reached was disclosed. Doctor Cummings stated he would make a report tomorrow to the president.

The response from the south was widespread and varied. The Georgia senate passed a resolution denouncing the report of a pellagra epidemic as "damning;" the secretary of the state board of health declared the disease showed no increase; the Macon chamber of commerce telegraphed a report to the White House. Florida's state health officer contended his state showed a decrease. The state board of health of Alabama also claimed a decrease. The Tennessee health board reported "nothing unusual." South Carolina admitted an increase but no "semi-famine" and contended there "was nothing alarming." Arkansas reported "nothing alarming," and Louisiana reported a decrease. Mississippi acknowledged twice as many cases this year as last, but disclaimed an epidemic or a "semi-famine."

In all cases state health officials took vigorous issue with reports of the public health service which has publicly estimated that due to impoverished diet forced upon them by depression of the cotton market, at least one hundred thousand persons in the southern cotton belt would have pellagra and that ten per cent of them will die. Doctor Cummings said tonight, however, that the public health service would stand by its figures.

Acting upon a letter from Senator Dial of South Carolina, who called his attention to published reports of the public health service announcement, President Harding wrote Surgeon General Cummings and Doctor Farrand, urging them to take appropriate steps to meet the situation described to him as being fraught with "semi famine" and threat of an epidemic of a ravaging disease.

No sooner had the president's letter been published than protests and denials began to pour down.

Public health officials pointed out that their reports only "gave warning that unless something was done to remedy a particular kind of semi-starvation now said to be prevailing, many deaths from pellagra would follow."

After setting out that the depression of the cotton markets and conditions generally have reduced thousands of persons to a limited diet

CITY NATIONAL BANK REVIEWS WORLD'S FINANCIAL CONDITIONS IN MONTHLY LETTER FOR AUGUST

A bank is more than a private business enterprise, reads the August business letter issued by the City National Bank of Commerce. Whatever the nature of its charter it is more or less of a "mutual" and the relations between banker and customer are of necessity reciprocal and the patron and reader is told that the bank accumulates capital—which is no more or less than stored up purchasing power—and loans it to profitable and proper enterprise.

Naturally enough, its depositors are its prefered borrowers for it could not get depositors unless it undertook to work to the advantage of its patrons. Any bank then is in a very real sense the joint undertaking of its stockholders, who supply the initial capital and of its depositors, who as it were, pool their surplus funds in order to make available the capital required to finance the business of the community.

Sound banking, therefore, requires that somebody shall put a dollar into the bank for every dollar the bank loans out, reads the letter. It is because of this that financial institutions are always seeking more and more deposits because the demands of industry and commerce grow ever greater. This is an excerpt which tells its own story and conveys its own lesson.

"When a bank can not readily meet the legitimate loan requirements of its customers, times are hard. When the nation's thrift supplies the requisite funds industrial and commercial prosperity are the logical results. Just now it is apparent that thrift is a national as well as a personal duty."

This August business letter reveals as well as discusses conditions the world over. For instance, the Panama canal traffic grows but unfortunately this can not be regarded as an absolute index to the column of ocean shipping. Canal traffic grows steadily, despite unfavorable conditions. In a year canal tolls have exceeded by one million dollars those of the preceding twelve months. As a result the competition of the canal with trans-continental railroads is commanding attention in Washington.

French finances are reviewed, and the best estimates now fix the French national debt at two hundred and fifty billion francs paper. There is an annual budget of forty billions and present taxes provide but twenty-five billions. Fifteen billions are expected from German sources or indemnity money. The point is made that Germany punctuality and payment are essential and higher taxes must come to the French people.

Crude oil production is given its place in this business review. It is pointed out that intensive development of old oil properties, together with a big season for prospectors in 1929, resulted in an increase of sixty-six million barrels in crude oil production in the United States. This the review says, has resulted in decided price reductions and because of the price reductions there is a notable decrease of work on old properties and a shrinkage of wildcat operations. The tone of the reviewer, however, is optimistic as he says steadily increasing demand for petroleum products has prevented any curtailment of oil prospecting and there is hardly a corner of the world where the hunt for oil deposits is not on.

Speaking of the cotton crop the marked reduction in cotton acreage throughout the south is noted and fair prospects are reported in Arkansas, Oklahoma, southwest Missouri and Texas. An encouraging development has been the shipment of much American cotton to Bombay.

Speaking of European markets it is remarked that the United States desires to sell to all the world and just now the rest of the world decides to sell to the American people.

Norway and Sweden are looking to American trade. Iceland is attempting to interest American capital in the enormous natural resources of the island. All the world knows that there is an ever increasing demand for wood pulp.

Just now government experts say that there are a hundred million cords of Alaskan timber suitable for the manufacture of news print and other grades of paper. These experts also say by careful management two million cords of Alaskan timber a year can be utilized without risk of permanent damage. This should meet about one-third of the pulp requirements of the United States.

Dry farming is gaining in the United States under the newer homestead laws. There are six million four hundred and forty-eight thousand three hundred and sixty-six dry farms in the United States, which is a gain in ten years of more than seventy-six million acres in sections of the west where dry farming has replaced grazing.

There is no lack of binder twine. Galveston warehouses are full of sisal fibre. Montana dry farmers are rejoicing in much larger crops. Maine and Washington promise the largest apple crop in years. Northwestern Iowa potato growers are organizing a co-operative marketing association.

Canada is trying out a mamximum wage system, which provides for docking the pay of careless and inefficient workmen. Italian workmen lost no less than fifty-five million days of work last year through strikes and other labor disputes.

New Zealand has appropriated thirty-five million dollars for the development of hydro-electric power. Australian half of New Guinea may prove a new source of paper pulp and motor spirit. Australian interests are spending one million five hundred thousand dollars in plant erection there.

Speaking of irrigation, Alberta is considering a fifty million dollar development and the Canadian Pacific railway is already serving hundreds of thousands of acres and the success of its gigantic enterprise has led the provincial government to plan even more pretentious works.

There is cheering news from Jugo-Slavia and Roumania and Hungary. Spring drouths were menacing. Now the natives of those countries are harvesting splendid crops of cereals. A month ago all three appeared to face another year of famine.

It is a conservative mid-summer review of business conditions of the world at a glance and places before the reader a vast amount of matter of information value.

MARY MAGDALENE AND EVE GET MOST VOTES

ROME July 26—Eve was the luckiest woman of all time, in the opinion of the women readers of a Roman newspaper that recently held a vote to determine what woman of history their women subscribers would prefer to be, if they could have their choice.

Most of the women said they preferred the role of Eve. They reasoned that Eve, alone among the women of all time, had no competition. Adam had to be true to her—for there were no others to vamp him. And if she did talk too much he couldn't run away; there was no place to go.

Second place in the balloting went to Mary Magdalene, on the ground that after enjoying all the sins of the world, she was forgiven, and then, being made a saint, experienced all the delights of Paradise. Mary's wide range of experience seemed to appeal to the fair voters.

TOUSSAINT TO GO ON TRIAL THIS MORNING

With state attorneys insisting on a jury of twelve men who are not opposed to the death penalty as a punishment for a crime and defendant attorney contending for a jury of men who will accept insanity as a defense the trial of Henry J. Toussaint will open this morning in the 30th District Court before Judge H. F. Weldon.

With both state and defense attorneys laying particular stress to the personnel of the jury doubt was expressed Tuesday as to whether or not a jury would be selected from the special venire of 200 men called to report this morning for jury service. If an additional venire is ordered it is probable that the jury will not be selected before Friday.

By the side of the accused throughout the trial will be his wife who arrived here Monday. So far as known no other relatives will be here from the east, the former home of the Toussaint family. Luther Hoffman, local attorney, who while a major in the army was responsible for the appointment of the accused to an officer's training camp from which he was commissioned a lieutenant in the engineer corps and C. C. McDonald, who has been connected with several of the important criminal cases tried in local courts during the last year will represent the defendant.

H. R. Wilson, recently appointed district attorney and Sam Holliday, assistant district attorney, who was connected with that office at the time the accused is alleged to have shot and killed his father, T. O. Toussaint, local contractor, in February, will have charge of the prosecution. It is expected that another attorney will assist the state.

NEGROES ARE CHARGED WITH P. B. M. THEFT

Charges of burglary and theft over $50 will be filed against two negro men in connection with the robbery of the P. B. M. company last week, it was announced late Monday afternoon by City Detectives Boone and Jackson. According to the detectives no confessions have been obtained from either of the men held. The officers, however, asserted that they have unearthed a chain of evidence, which they believe is conclusive.

A negro service car driver is alleged to have identified negroes, being held, as having been seen near the rear of the P. B. M. Co. shortly after midnight on the night the robbery was committed.

Fred and J. P. Den, the two small sons of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Den, 102 Elm street, who accidentaly found the missing loot Monday morning, were each presented with a check for $42.50 Tuesday by representatives of the P. B. M. Co. The money given the two boys amounted to half of the reward offered by the P. B. M. Co. for the recovery of the goods, which was evenly divided between th boys and the officers who were at that time watching the house from which the clothing had been removed. Additional rewards of $50 in cash for each conviction in connection with the burglary are offered by the P. B. M. store.

AN UNREDEEMED PLEDGE.

Recently Senator Reed of Missouri said that "Congress, for 7, or 8, or 10 years, has been creating boards to be appointed by the president, to function under rules prescribed by these boards, and they almost amount to a delegation of legislative authority, as the courts have sustained these rules." The more of bureaucracy we have, fellow-citizens, the less freedom do we enjoy. And take the matter of expense; why, here in a Washington dispatch which says that congressional leaders were staggered when they realized that they must provide something like $1,000,000,000 more than the original estimates to meet deficits created by various boards. Too many boards. Too many bureaus. Too many commissions. "We demand," said the democrats in their national platform of 1912, "a return to that simplicity and economy which befits a democratic government and a reduction in the number of useless offices, the salaries of which drain the substance of the people." That's an unredeemed pledge.—Waco Times-Herald.

Cost of government in the United States has been climbing to the skies. It began in the year 1914. There has been a continuous climbing ever since. During war time it was necessary to spend billions.

There was a record to be maintained untarnished. Never had the United States entered or engaged in an unholy war to gain territory, to force an indemnity from a broken foe, to pillage or to loot the weak and the defenseless.

War found the United States without ships. Our merchant marine flag had disappeared from the seven seas. We had to have ships to transport millions of soldiers over seas; to carry millions of tons of supplies over seas; to carry the foodstuffs and munitions of war to sustain our allies and their peoples in foreign lands.

Billions were appropriated and billions were expended. Why the Atlantic was bridged and the ocean transportation facilities made by American genius and daring and money amazed the world. This won the war.

Hundreds of wooden ships were built. They are useless now. They served their purpose. There are men who say it cost a million dollars a day to run the shipping board and all on account of these ships being idle.

Well, the war was waged; the war was won; the sword of might was broken; the divine right to rule and the god annointed emperors and kings were dethroned and disgraced; dynasties were shattered and shrived; military machines were junked; bristling navies were dismantled and the ships sent to Davy Jones' locker.

All these things were done for the freedom of mankind; the smashing of the shackles from the limbs of the oppressed; the advancement of the god-like idea and ideal that Right and Might shall govern on the affairs of men.

There is nothing to regret; there is nothing to bring reproach to our people; there is nothing to cry over.

America waged and won a war for humanity and if the cost of the war on the books today is twenty-five billion dollars it was money treasure and heroic blood freely given to free the world from the domination of the sword and to proclaim to all living things that the principals of liberty and humanity and justice must ever be uppermost in all lands and under all flags.

This is a glorious record. It is a glorious heritage to be passed on to billions of Americans yet unborn.

Now the real men and women of America, facing the morning sunrise, are working out their own destiny and shaping the future of the land they love as the forefathers did in these ancient days when they conquered all enemies at home and abroad; leveled all obstacles; surmounted all barriers and laid the mudsils or foundations for the mightiest and freest nation man ever created or Time had ever known.

SMALL ELECTS HIMSELF A MARTYR.

Governor Lenn Small of Illinois, says that he is being prosecuted by "vested interests, treasury looters and character defamers," and that he was indicted by a grand jury in a county "ruled by the most vicious ring in the state of Illinois." Governor Small was indicted by Attorney General Brundage, a republican office holder, that is Brundage demanded his indictment. He was indicted in a republican county, by a republican grand jury in a republican state. If he is the victim of a gigantic political plot and has arrayed against him all the vested interests, treasury looters and character defamers of Illinois, then the governor had a rocky road to travel. They are going to get his scalp.

TWO IMPORTANT AMENDMENTS

Less than one-sixth of the qualified voters of Texas participated in the election of Saturday, the state over. Of those who participated a majority cast their ballots against the amendment to the constitution calling for the abolition of the board of prison commissioners; a majority voted against the amendment providing for compensation of executive officers of the State; a majority voted against the amendment relating to the mileage and per diem of members of the legislature.

Jones insists that the governor should worry along on a salary of four thousand dollars a year. He insists that the board of prison commissioners may be faulty in its creation and its work but he prefers it to a single head to be appointed by the governor; he insists that the state legislator is receiving all that he is worth.

Jones was discriminating. He voted against increased salaries but he voted for the amendment authorizing the legislature to grant aid to Confederate soldiers, sailors and their widows who have resided in Texas since January first 1910.

In addition to this, a majority of the Jones family voted for an amendment to the constitution providing that only native born or naturalized citizen of the United States, shall be qualified electors in this state and providing that either the husband or wife may pay the poll tax of the other and receive the receipt therefore and permitting the legislature to authorize absentees voting.

The Record News regrets the defeat of the amendment providing for increased compensation of executive officers, but the Record News rejoices that the Confederate aid amendment as it rejoices that the amendment concerning the qualifications of a voter received the approval of the majority of the ballots cast.

It is only right that native born or naturalized citizens of the United States should be qualified electors in Texas. It is the duty of an alien to take his first papers without delay and to do his best to familiarize himself with the federal and the state constitutions and the principals by which underlie American institutions, while awaiting for his second papers.

There isn't an argument against the proposition that a husband or wife may pay the poll tax of the other and now there is no valid reason why the legislature should not enact a measure to authorize absentees voting.

There are thousands of traveling men who are away from home on election day. Why should they be disfranchised?

There are thousands of railroad men out on the road. Why should they be disfranchised?

There are thousands of business men who are called away from home on election day—why should they be disfranchised? There are thousands of mechanics and working men and farmers who may be away from home on election day. Is it just to deny them the right to cast their ballots for the candidates or the policies which they approve?

There were three amendments defeated. The majority of those who voted did not want them. There were two amendments carried. A majority of the voters did want them and their work on election day calls for commendation.

A BOOST FOR BETTER BABIES.

By an overwhelming majority, the senate passed the Shepherd-Towner "Better Baby" bill. Only three votes were cast against it. The bill establishes the system of co-operation between the Federal and state governments for the development of birth hygiene.

An annual appropriation of four hundred and eighty thousand dollars is carried in the bill, ten thousand dollars are to be paid to each state.

One million dollars also is provided for the current fiscal year to be apportioned among the states in the proportion which their population bears to the population of the country.

Congress has appropriated hundreds of millions of dollars for the improvement and protection of livestock and the states of the American union have spent hundreds of millions for the development of better breeds of cattle, horses, mules, sheep, goats and swine.

Of course it is not an effront to civilization for the congress and the states of the Federal union to spend a few thousand dollars in order that child life may be protected and better babies may be the reward of those who have battled for the Shepherd-Towner bill.

Senator Morris Shepherd of Texas has many meritorious measures to his credit. He has added another to his list.

Canada is a province of Great Britain and the lawmakers of Canada enacted a governmental system and appropriated millions years ago, in order that the boy and girl babies of Canada should be given at least the recognition accorded to the baby beeves, baby sheep, baby goats and baby swine.

The Shepherd-Towner bill is not an innovation. It is a human welfare measure and has been endorsed by many of the best minds of the world.

THE LADY AND THE SOLDIER.

Major Bruce R. Campbell of New York says that Mrs. Emma Bergdoll is a liar and no gentleman. Mrs. Bergdoll says that the major solicited a hundred thousand dollars from her and received five thousand dollars to bribe higher ups.

As the major is a loyal son of America and Mrs. Bergdoll a dangerous alien, it is a hundred to one that she will get the hot end of the poker.

Her son, Grover Cleveland should be placed in a penal institution to do penance for his treason to the flag and the mother should be tossed in the duck pond.

The son is yellow streaked and a cowardly rat who ran away when the flag of his country was insulted and threatened. Men of that type are not wanted in this land of the free.

Mrs. Bergdoll paid out thousands of dollars according to her own testimony, to lawyers to do her talking and agents who insisted they had governmental influence to sell. She was trimmed, "comin' and goin'," and she got just what was coming to her.

Her husband accumulated his fortune in America and her son should have been more than willing to fight for the land that gave him a refuge and an opportunity to create an ample fortune.

In time of war, all men, the native and the adopted, should be for flag and home, and that right or wrong.

Those who are not for the flag are entitled to greater condemnation than the alien enemies who flaunt their treason openly and invite punishment.

BIGGEST YEAR IN HISTORY COMING

It is ever the view point. There are men who stand with their backs to the morning and their eyes to the evening star even in mid day. Charles S. Rieman of Chicago, is a big motor man and manufacturer. There are no such things as hard times, declared this man of industry and vision. People he said stopped buying simply because money was tight and they had not sufficient use for the commodities they thought they wanted. Motor cars and the motor car industry, he remarked, have been taken as a criterian of the way money and industry were going in the country. Now these are Reiman's golden words of prophecy: "You can therefore take my statement as authoritive that 1922 will see the biggest year in the history of the industry." It would be well for the gloom talkers who are gloom makers, to read and think and get in the sunshine.

Washington correspondents say that Secretary Mellon and Chairman Martain B. Madden of the House Appropriations committee are for the East as against the West and South. Washington correspondents are reminded that the American people by a majority of seven million voted for a change. If they are getting it, they are getting something that was coming to them. They demanded it, they voted for it and if it pinches why should they growl?

Rippling Rhymes
By WALT MASON

SHOOTING US UP.

Kicks are made against the killers by a lot of grouchy cranks; being staid old social pillars they forget their boyhood pranks. Everywhere I hear them saying, shuddering at every breath, "There's too much impromptu slaying, too much unexpected death. Any youth can get a rifle—guns are now his aims and goals—and then, for the merest trifle, he will shoot us full of holes. We are scared, like farmyard pullets when a hawk flies overhead, for we're always dodging bullets, always burying our dead." Thus the ancient men are knocking, roosting in the parks and courts; and they all consider shocking every kind of modern sports. Age makes people cold and narrow, they can't sympathize with fun; they defend the bow and arrow as against the sawed off gun. And the kicks are growing louder, from these shelfworn, dotard folk; when they're shot with smokeless powder they can't take it as a joke. Every daily paper brings them further news o'er which to cuss; when a charge of buckshot wings them kick up a beastly fuss. And they call for drastic measures cutting short the wave of crime, but the young must have their pleasures in this merry modern time.—Copyright by George Matthew Adams.

TOO MUCH, TOO MUCH.

Your job is not an easy one,
The questions asked must keep you busy;
If I was in your place I know
The questions asked would make me dizzy.

So tell me, if you can, "Why women
Wear furs these days when it's so hot?"

—George Cisco.

They are going to fix the Leviathan up and let her sail the seas again, which is a piece of good news. The repairs are going to cost $12,000,000, and the steamship will not be ready for service before 1923. Most people can remember when it was possible to buy three or four whole steambouts for $12,000,000. The Leviathan will, of course, carry the American flag when she gets all dolled up, and let it be hoped she will have something else to carry.

Would it be correct for scientists and allenists to state that baseball is understood better by men or by women? A woman at a ball game instinctively realizes that the man would rather explain the game to her than have her be too wise. Are clever women liked as much by men as the simple doll variety? Man loves to think himself superior and the intelligent woman is willing to let him have his way. Intuitively the woman knows just how ignorant to be at a ball game. If she is trying to land the man, she just feels her way. If she is married to him, the chances are that she will be with him.

In swimming, the woman does not mind being taught over and over the surf with a woman who apparently is afraid of the waves. He may be a poor swimmer himself; but he likes to give the impression that he is big and brave. The chances are that if anything happened, a professional lifesaver would have to come out after both of them and the man would probably be more frightened than the woman. Many women know this; but marriage is a soft way of getting a living if you pick a live one.

A man always wants to show what he knows and a woman knows when to be ignorant.

FOOLISH WORLD!

The poor man hardly lives his life,
He rarely knows his child or wife,
He simply plods along!
The rich man often is a fool,
Is devil's most effective tool;
Though knowing not, he's doing wrong.
He's sure the world will not endure
When none are rich and none are poor.

—Gus Hanisch.

Breakfast Stories

This husband was not exactly mean but he was careful, and each week he examined his wife's cash account, with growls and grumbles, and he delivered himself of the following:

"Look here, Sarah; mustard plasters, 50 cents; two teeth extracted, $3. There's $3.50 spent in one week for your private pleasure."

Parson Blank, anxious to interest a society woman in the poor of his parish, took her to visit one of the tenements. "Well," he asked after she had glanced around, "what do you think of the life of these poor people? Awful, isn't it?"

The lady raised her lorgnette and, used to regarding everything as a craze, she replied, "Dreadful! I had no idea. But isn't it rather overdone?"

At a production of "The Four Horsemen of the Apocalypse," on the screen in a Broadway house, a woman was heard to ask her companion:

"Do you know anything else this Ibanez has written?"

"Yes," was the answer, "another horse story, called 'Mare Nostrum.'"

Speaking of mixed metaphors—an ex-doughboy was relating his experience somewhere over there.

"I'll say it was some battle. I was up in the air for the time being with my back against the wall, but I resolved to die in the ditch rather than yield an inch, so I continued to advance regardless of the Jerries who were pressing me from the rear."

ALLEGED CHALDEAN PRIESTS CONFESS U. S. OPERATIONS

PARIS, July 26.—Two alleged Chaldean priests arrested here last night on the charge of having fraudulently collected large sums of money which they claimed were for Chaldeans persecuted by the Turks, were said by the police today to be the Rev. George Andre, alias John De Acha, who was known in the United States as John Malick, and the Rev. Cross Blessing, alias Sleemo Breckha.

According to the police the men confessed that before beginning their operations in France they obtained many thousands of dollars from Episcopal clergy and prominent laymen in the United States.

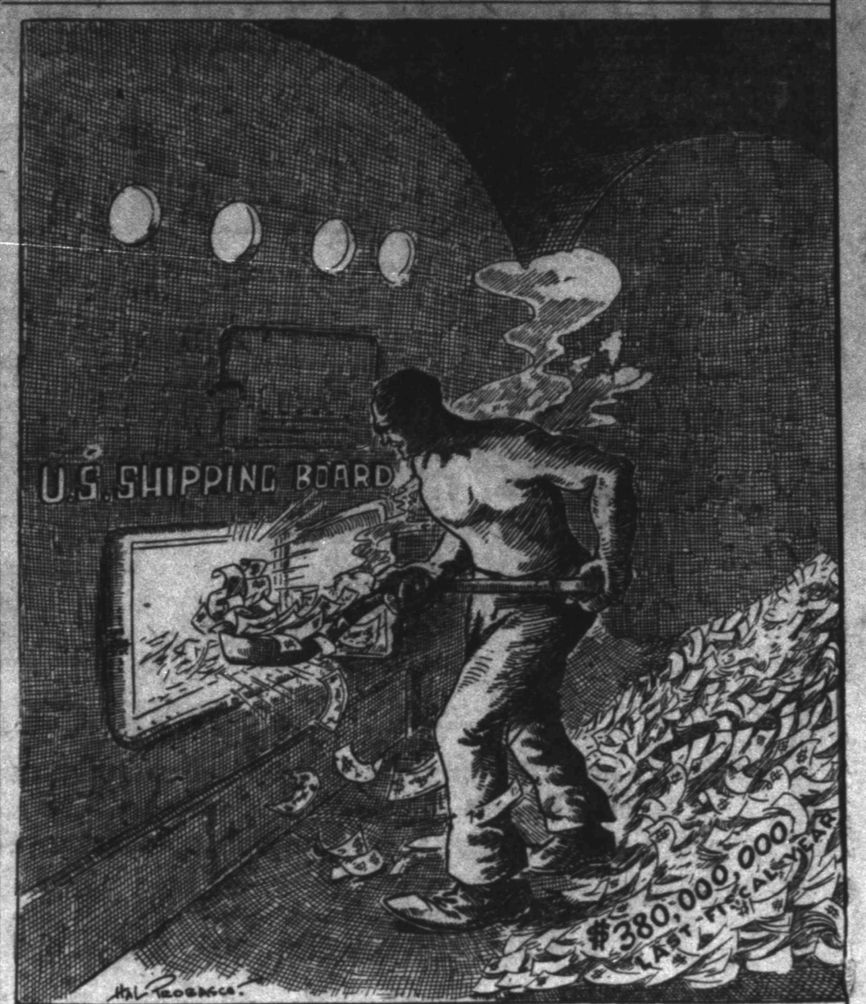

ENGLAND MAY BUILD ELECTRIC BATTLESHIP

LONDON, July 26.—It is possible that the British Navy will shortly possess an electrically driven warship.

It is understood that the admiralty is considering the question of adopting electric propulsion as an experiment in one of the four new $36,000,000 battleships the plans for which are now being decided.

Although the United States adopted the all electric warship some time ago, the British admiralty has always preferred hydraulic to electric power for auxiliary purposes.

Who's Who

CHARLES E. HERRING.

Charles E. Herring, the newly appointed trade commissioner for the U. S. department of commerce at Berlin, has just left Washington to take up his post. For two weeks prior to his departure Mr. Herring was in close conference with officials at the national capital, mapping out his Berlin work.

CHAS. HERRING

Mr. Herring, who is a native of the national capital and a graduate of the George Washington university and the Georgetown law school has been associated with the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce since 1913. His first post was that of a trade attache. He has been assistant chief of the tariff division and chief of the division of foreign investigations. Two years ago he was appointed to investigate trade and economic conditions in Belgium and sent to the bureau valuable reports dealing with rehabilitation of that country. Last fall Mr. Herring became assistant director of the bureau and recently he has been its acting chief.

The position of trade commissioner at Berlin is considered one of the most important of that branch of the American foreign service. It will become still more important as commercial relations get back to normal.

BOY SPENDS SUMMER SAVING DROWNING FOLKS

SYRACUSE, N. Y., July 26.—Chester Myron, a sixteen-year-old lad of this city, recently spent a busy week saving lives at Forth Lake, in the Adirondacks. His Carnegie Hero medal, which has been recommended, will record the names of three women who would have been drowned had not Myron acted valiantly and quickly. Of the three one was Myron's aunt who was about to go down the third time when the boy reached and rescued her. Miss May Weber, member of a wealthy Dayton, Ohio family, was exhausted and had disappeared under the surface when, fully dressed, Myron leaped into the water and brought Miss Weber to safety. The third rescue was performed with the same courage and quickness of action.

CALIFORNIA HAS RECORD MONTH FOR MARRIAGES

SACRAMENTO, Calif., July 26.—June marriages in California this year broke all records in the history of the state for any single month, totalling approximately 5,500, according to an announcement of L. E. Ross, head of the state board of Vital Statistics, today.

Cupid's feat in leading more couples to the marriage altar this June than in the corresponding month last year is considered highly remarkable by the statistician as many romances which were interrupted by the World War had their culmination in the favorite month of 1920. In June last year 5,418 couples were married, this setting a record at that time.

Ross also announced that marriages generally are on the increase, there having been approximately 600 more in the first months of this year than in the same period of 1920.

THE WATCH ON THE OHIO.

YORKVILLE, Ohio, July 26.—Two local aliens placed their clothing in a johnboat and went bathing in the Ohio river.

The boat sank.

Finally they recovered a pair of trousers containing $40. The other pair, containing $40 a watch, have not been located.

SCORES LACK OF RESTRAINT PLACED ON YOUNG PEOPLE

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Chaperones for young folks, and especially for those who take part in what Inspector Grant of the Washington police department calls "jazz auto rides" are being strongly advocated here with Mrs. Giles Scott Rafter, president of the District of Clumbia Congress of Mothers, leading the way.

Inspector Grant believes that the automobile is the "greatest medium of vice," and Mrs. Rafter declares:

"The elimination of chaperones is one of the causes of the decline of mortality among the younger generation—too much freedom will spoil the best of boys and girls."

"The tendency today is a feeling of repulsion against restraint, and the girls and boys are doing pretty much as they please," the police official says. "It would be well if the mother or some responsible person could accompany the young couple on some of their rides, and perhaps the jazz auto riding and wild parties would stop.

"Women, it would seem, are enjoying their first taste of real freedom. They are like a man who takes a drink for the first time. He says to himself, 'Oh, one drink won't hurt me.' But then he takes another and then another, and finally becomes intoxicated.

"That is the way with women and their new freedom. They try all these new fangled things. They think if they do it once they won't want to do it again, but, finally, just like the men they become intoxicated. And these things may be anything from jazz auto riding to spooning."

Mrs. Rafter thinks that the American girl has "too much freedom."

"The parents alone are to blame," she says. "If the girls wear skirts that are too short, rouge, smoke, spend too much money and flirt, it is their parents' fault. They allow them too much freedom.

"I have always been a firm believer in proper chaperonages. The parents should know what their daughters are doing when they are out and who their associates are. Too much freedom will spoil the best of boys and girls."

KIDDIES MATINEE AT STRAND TODAY

Mary Pickford in Daddy Long Legs will be the feature attraction at the kiddies matinee at the Strand this morning. This will be the last of the education series to be given under the auspices of the Parent-Teachers Federation for the summer. The first show begins at 9:30 and the second about 11 o'clock.

COUNTRY WOMEN WANT TO MEET MEN

"Another thing which handicaps the country woman in affiliating with most national organizations is that she does not care especially for a strictly women's organization. She feels a bit selfish in indulging in any social activity for herself, because she knows that her husband and children are in quite as much need of a wholesome social life. Besides that, she realizes that her outlook on life is restricted because she so seldom meets people of differing ideas, and she knows that she can receive comparatively little benefit from associating with other women whose horizons stretch no farther than her own. In her social life she wants new people and new points of view—new things to think about when she returns to the routine of her daily schedule—and such help she receives in a mixed organization. As a New England woman wrote me recently, 'I like a mixed meeting because it gives me a chance to meet men.' She went on to explain that when the neighboring farmers came to see her husband they usually did the talking in the barnyard or the work shop, so that she seldom saw them. At church she could look at the minister and perhaps shake hands with two or three other men on the church steps. All the church societies were for women alone. It was only in the mixe meeting that she met men in a social way and broadened her view of life by discussing politics, the farm business, and current affairs with them on an equal footing. This is apparently one of the chief reasons why the Grange, the oldest farmers' organization, has been so well sustained for more than fifty years, and now numbers more than eight hundred thousand farmers and their wives in its membership. It has survived where many other organizations have failed.

DISCOVERIES.

Flat Rugs—To prevent the edges of a rug curling up overcast them with strong twine and pull tight until the sides lie flat.

Stiffer Frosting—The frosting for the top of a cake should be considerably stiffer than that used for icing and filling the inside layers.

and filling the inside layers, are more easily digested if, after peeling, the pulp is scraped just enough to remove the "fuzz."

Instead of Flour—You can give meat a delicious nutty flavor by rolling it before frying in rolled, toasted cornflakes instead of flour.

Delicious Dressing—To make a delicious dressing for Waldorf salad add a little currant jelly to equal parts of mayonnaise and sour cream dressing and whip.

Scratched Furniture—If your furniture is scratched make a fine paste of linseed oil and a little powdered pumice stone and rub on the damaged surface with a soft cloth.

DESSERTS.

Mother's Johnny Cake—One-half cup molasses, two tablespoons melted butter, one egg, one cup sour milk, one level teaspoon soda, one and one-half cups fine flour, one-half teaspoon baking powder.

Mix molasses and butter, add egg, sour milk with soda dissolved in it. Then add other ingredients. Makes one pan Johnny cake.

Dandy Pudding—One quart milk, four tablespoons cornstarch, one-half cup sugar, three eggs.

Make custard of milk, eggs, yolks, sugar and cornstarch. Flavor with lemon and pour into individual glasses.

Make a meringue of egg whites and cover the top of each glass.

Shortcake—Two cups flour, three teaspoons baking powder, one egg, one tablespoon butter, two tablespoons sugar, sweet milk to make a batter, same as for biscuits.

The above recipe makes a two-layer cake. Split the cakes, slice peaches and sweeten to taste.

"Hotel Otter" Shortcake—Two cups flour, one cup cornstarch, one-half cup butter, two tablespoons of lard, three-quarters cup sugar, two teaspoons baking powder.

Rub all well together with the hands then add one and one-third cups milk and just turn all over with spoon until no crumbs remain. Lay by spoonful in greased pan, then pat this with hands until even and smooth.

Bake in moderate oven. Don't let this dough get brown—just a shade of color.

When cool, cut in squares about two and one-half inches, split and fill cover half with sweetened fruit, lay on top, and cover this with sweetened whipped cream. Cover this all with sweetened fruit, either stewed or fresh.

A LAUNDRY SAVER

In doing the laundry work for small children, particularly in the summer time, I find it very helpful to make a large quantity of medium-thick starch just once each week. I use what I need the day it is made, and then store the rest in a fruit jar in the refrigerator. It is then a very simple matter to starch the necessary pieces each day by diluting with hot water a small quantity of the starch on hand. This relieves me of the necessity of making starch each day and also proves more economical in the end—August Good Housekeeping.

SAVE OUR TREES

"For months past and for months to come there has been and will be a daily cable report saying that so many hundreds or thousands must be added to the long-since appalling total deaths caused by the Chinese famine. The bounty of America has been sufficient to save millions from almost certain death—for a death that is almost certain unless the bounty is long continued or rain comes in time to make the next planting a success instead of the failure that the last three crops have been. For months and months the skies have withheld the life-giving water from a thirsty land, and the hope of bread has died again and again as seed-time has passed with the fields dusty or baked as in an oven. God sleeps, say the stricken ones, meaning whatever deity they worship; but God cannot change the laws that he has made and that China has broken, down to the last jot and tittle.

No less an authority than the United States department of Agriculture gives the ruthless destruction of their forests by the Chinese as a reason why famine and plague today hold that nation in their sinister grip. They have broken the law; they must pay, as we must pay if we continue with our ruthless destruction of our forests. Everywhere the trees are going; north, south, east and west the eye can now reach for miles where only a few years ago woodland sufficient for the needs of nature and the needs of man ringed one round about. No ill effect is as yet apparent over any wide district, but it is bound to come, for denudation, wherever practiced, whether in Ohio or China, leaves naked soil. Floods and erosion follow and when the soil is gone, men must go also, and the process does not take long. Forests not only play an important part in the distribution of mankind over the earth's surface, they deeply affect the spiritual, physical and economic life of any people. A nation that recklessly wastes its heritage of natural resources in its scramble for the pleasures of riches faces ultimate poverty and decadence.

"The lesson of what deforestation means is one which mankind has had many opportunities to learn. It can learn it now in the parched acres of China where millions have three times sowed without reaping, where the pitiless skies leer brazenly down at a starving people. The Chinese masses are ignorant and have not read history; they should be pitied and helped. What will our children's children say of us if we do not soon call a halt to methods that we know are leading us straight toward bankruptcy? Many of our western mountains are as bare as the hills of China; they lie naked to the storms. If all our mountains become like that, America will hardly be worth inheriting. A conservation plank is in the platform of the League of Women Voters. Whether leaguers or not, let's help them fight for it."—W. F. Bigelow, in August Good Housekeeping.

THE WOMEN WHO SHOULD MARRY

"The slow progress of the world is all because there is not enough love in it, and there is not enough love in it because the real mothers haven't done all the mothering; and the real mothers haven't done all the mothering because always, in the past, marriage was the only honorable calling for a woman, and all women rushed into it. But life today offers many honorable callings—a calling for every gift. Then let me implore you, you women at the turning of the ways, in the interest of unborn humanity, of more love in the world, of peace on earth, unless the maternal instinct dominates you—unless you crave a home, feel eager to begin feathering a nest with the softest, gentlest down of pure, high love—unless all this is paramount with you, stay out of marriage. Turn your steps toward science, to the laboratories, but keep your hands off this sacred human problem!

"Perhaps the maternal instinct dominates the majority of women. I do not know; I am not statistician. But I do know there are enough who do not have it to botch the job well-nigh to wreck the world. Then leave maternity—with self-respect and understanding. Leave it, turn from it, find your own high and honorable calling. But you who have the gift, oh, you most sacredly gifted among women, you first violins in God's great orchestra—accept the call of nature, find your mate, and do this greatest of all earthly work. Find in the knowledge that it is God's greatest work your unending staff and stay, your reason for being. The child puts you in the race, into the future makes you of the long, unending stream. Then go up to God, its hand in yours!—Anne Shannon Monroe in August Good Housekeeping.

ASK ME

Clem—"The Midnight Bell" is a Hoyt play. Older theater goers, those past the flapper age, remember when Hoyt plays were the talk of the town. An interesting coincidence in connection with the cast of Charles Ray's picture, "The Midnight Bell," is that Van Dyke Brooke, who has the part of the village storekeeper, and is the father of the girl in the picture, played a prominent part in the Hoyt stage play.

Elsie—Marcia Manon is married to J. L. Frothingham. Kid McCoy is one of the old time pugilists. His real name is Norman Selby. He is a member of the Buck Jones company at present. I do not know the name of the picture on which he is working. Will let you know as soon as I discover it.

Geneva—There have been rumors at various times that David Warfield was about to enter the field of films. At last there is a well authenticated report that his services have been secured for both the "Music Master" and "The Return of Peter Grimm." That certainly makes me glad as you could possibly be. Those plays have always been favorites of mine.

Villapigue—Kenneth Webb is not an actor but a well known director. At present he is directing the Whitman Bennett productions. He is a graduate of Columbia university and the author of the following musical comedies and comic operas: "The Dream Girl," "The Forbidden City," "The Mountaineers," "The Best Sellers," and "The Rainbow Cocktail." He can be reached at the Lambs club, New York City.

Becker—Theda Bara is married. Oh, yes, there have been denials and all sorts of stories regarding it. The fact is, the marriage was a secret for a time, which gave rise to the conflicting stories. She is now Mrs. Charles J. Brabin. Her husband is a motion picture director for Fox.

Carwithin—It is true that Mae Murray will head her own producing company. It will be called the Tiffany productions. Her first picture will be "Peacock Alley."

Deignan—"The Gate of a Hundred Sorrows," and "Soldiers Three" are being prepared for the screen. Rudaration. "Without Benefit of Clergy" has just been released.

Detroit—It is true that the actors and actresses some times undergo severe privations during the filming of a picture. While some of the scenes from "The Golden Snare" were being shot, the thermometer registered 55 degrees below zero. In fact the camera failed to function several times, but not so the actors and producers; they were on the job in spite of the weather. Ruth Renick plays the lead in this picture.

Adrian—Wesley Barry is at present working on "School Days," an adaptation of the Gus Edwards success of some time ago. No, Marshall Neilan is not directing this picture, it is William Nigh.

A KIDDY'S SAND TABLE

We desired a sand table for our youngster to use on the porch in inclement weather. The sand tables for sale in the stores were both expensive and clumsy, so I bought a second hand kitchen table for a reasonable price, and my husband did the rest. He nailed the table drawer shut and cut out of the table top the surface above the drawer. This made an excellent cavity for the sand. Around the edge and set back a few inches, he nailed a strip of wood as a guard-rail for the sand. Then he sawed off the table legs to make the table the proper height for the baby. With the pieces of sawed-off legs and a few planks, he made a bench to fit the table. Then he painted both sand table and bench, and the outfit delighted the youngster.—August Good Housekeeping.

HEALTH OF WOMEN

How many perfectly well women do you know? Isn't it true that in order to keep up with the march of progress the endurance of woman is often strained to its utmost, and the tax upon her physical system is in many cases greater than she can stand. Headaches develop, and nervous irritability, backache, dragging down sensations, and other painful ailments peculiar to women. The reliable remedy when a woman gets into such a condition is Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, as for nearly half a century it has proved the natural restorative for these troubles.—Adv.

PURCHASES LEE'S GETTYSBURG HOME

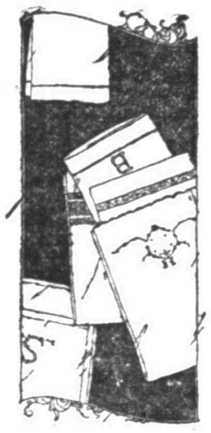

GETTYSBURG, Pa., July 25.—The old stone house on the edge of this town which was General Lee's headquarters during the battle of Gettysburg has been purchased by Daley, who will convert it into a museum. Lee ate and slept in this house, but went to the cupola of the seminary a short distance away to make observations on the progress of the battle. Included in the sale is the little white house across the road where John Burns, aged citizen hero, was carried when wounded.

BE BOWMAN BEATS BUFFS, SPUDS NICKING BOLDEN FOR 13 HITS AND WINNING OPENER 6-4

By C. F. CARTER

The Spudders left their home uniforms and their road uniforms in the bhouse yesterday and appeared on the field wearing their batting B. V. s. This tricky bit of work completely fooled George Whiteman, with result that the Spuds were able to hammer the daylights out of Bill lden at the well known psychological moment—and thereby annex the ning game of the "serious" 6 to 4.

Abe Bowman was on the hill for Spudders, and the big right-hand- pitched a good steady game with exception of an occasional squirt generosity in issuing coupons en- ing the bearer to free occupation first base. Abe held the Buffs eight scattered hits, however, ich is a darn sight more than se far-famed Panther box artists re able to do in the recent Fort rth battle of Who Run. Abe, 'll say, did his little bit in getting Spudders off on the right foot, d the Buffs as a result are going have a tough job on their hands ring the balance of their stay in city that faith and Kemp and ll built.

While credit goes to Danny Clark lifting the apple out of the park th two men on the sacks, Tex Mc- nald was the real batting hero of afternoon. Tex continued to suf- from his recent attack of hittitis, d pounded out a double and three gles out of four journey to the tter's box.

Houston got away to a one-run d in the first, although they suc- ded in macing Big Abe for only blow. Johnny Baggan started with a walk. Darringer flied out Jake Miller. Bailey singled to t, and Johnny went to second. schoff pegged to first in an effort nip Bailey off the bag, and Bag- n sneaked to the third cushion. hiteman fouled out to Tex Mc- nald, but Baggan scored a min- later on a double steal. Doyle lked, and Charlie Miller flied to ell Griggs, who pulled a beautiful nning catch.

Give Umps an Error

The Spudders tied the count in the ird on three clean hits. Bescher acked a two-timer to deep center, d went to third on Buddy's sacri- e, scoring when Tex cracked a ngle through the box. Danny Clark ammed the pill to center for a sin- e, the ball being momentarily de- yed en route by Umpire Tom Ir- in's right leg. Miller flied to Bag- n, and Griggs fouled out to Eif- rt.

The Buffs slipped into the lead gain in the fourth on two singles d a sacrifice, and scored another the fifth on a walk, a stolen base d a single. The Spudders got one ack in their half of the fifth, al- ough it took three hefty hits to rn the trick. Buddy Tanner laid ne against the center field fence so ard that the ball bounced twenty et back into George Whiteman's ands, and Buddy was thrown out second base. Tex McDonald laid nother against the same fence for sure-enough two-bagger this time. lark popped to Blades, but Jake iller smacked a single that scored ex, Jake being thrown out at sec- nd on the play.

But the durn Buffs kept it up, nd again grabbed a marker in the ixth on two singles, a sacrifice and well-executed squeeze play—and hen the Spudders landed on Bill olden like a thousand o' brick in the ast of the seventh canto, as follows, o-wit, namely:

Bowman was thrown out by lades. Bob Bescher walked, stole econd and then pilfered third while olden was also walking Buddy Tan- er. Tex, as usual, came through in pinch, soaking a single to right that ored Bob and placed Buddy on hird. Danny Clark found one he ked, and shot 'er over the right field all—that made the score 6 to 4 in he Spudders' favor, and we didn't t any more, nor did Houston, thank ou, which is all as it should be, and erything is lovely and the goose angs high.

IRISH MEUSEL GOES TO GIANTS IN TRADE WITH PHILADELPHIA

NEW YORK, July 26.—The transfer of Emil "Irish" Meusel, hard hitting Philadelphia National outfielder, to the Giants, announced last night, adds another chapter to the series of exchanges between New York and Philadelphia clubs this season.

In the trade New York gave the Phillies Curtis Walker, an outfielder, and Walter Henline, a catcher. The last named, now with the Indianapolis American association club, has been the property of the New York club since last fall. A few weeks ago McGraw traded Goldie Rapp, Lee King and Lance Richburg to the Phillies for John Rawlings and Casey Stengel. Another deal was the exchange of Monroe and Winters for Pitcher Causey.

The new Giant is a brother of Bob Meusel, Yankee outfielder. He has made twelve home runs to date. Meusel recently was suspended by Manager Bill Donavan of the Phillies for indifferent playing.

EASTERN PRO SETS RECORD OF 68 IN SIWANOY EVENT

MOUNT VERNON, N. Y., July 26.—Cyril Walker, Englewood, N. J., professional, set a new competitive course record in the opening round of the metropolitan golf association open championship tournament at Siwanoy today, turning in sixty-eight for the eighteen holes.

JAWN M'GRAW'S FISTS GET HIM IN BAD AGAIN

PITTSBURGH, July 26.—A capias for the arrest of John J. McGraw, manager of the New York Giants, was issued in court here late today by Judge Marshall Brown with special bail fixed at $3,000. The action arose out of a suit for $20,000 damages filed this afternoon by counsel for George M. Duffy, of Pittsburgh. The petition alleged that Duffy was attacked by McGraw in a hotel here on June 3.

NATIONAL PITCHERS ARE "THUMBING THE BALL"

CHICAGO, July 26.—National League pitchers are resorting to the old trick of "thumbing" the ball, now prohibited, it was declared today by several members of the pitching staff of the Chicago Cubs.

The Davis substitute is practically identical with the suspended sentence law passed at the regular session of thirty-seventh legislature, but vetoed by the governor.

WHEN BILL BURNS TOLD ALL; TWO OTHER PLAYER WITNESSES

At right, Bill Burns, testifying in baseball trial, and, together, Nemo Leibold and John Collins, two other state's witnesses.

The testimony of Bill Burns, former big league ball player, stands out as the sensation of the trial of the former members of the Chicago White Sox for the alleged throwing of the world's series of 1919. Burns, indicted, turned state's evidence with the promise of immunity and has told the whole story of how Chick Gandil, Eddie Cicotte and six other members of the team agreed to lose when promised money by Abe Attell and others implicated in the deal. Nemo Leibold and John Collins, former members of the Chicago club and now with the Red Sox, were snapped while waiting to testify for the state.

ARNOLD HAS TROUBLE FINDING PARTNERS TO STAND HIS PUNCHES

BURKBURNETT, Texas, July 26.—A quintette of hired help engaged to work out with Jack Arnold, Dallas, for this boxer's forthcoming bout against Kid Cole here Thursday night, signified tonight that they were "through," expressing the opinion that Arnold carried too hefty a punch for their respective liking.

The Texan featherweight champion boxed around his various hired (and tired) help until he was left with a clear field. He showed a punch that carries all kinds of weight behind it, while his rope skipping and general demeanor in the ring was that of a tired boxer who had everything that goes to make up a fistic expert.

Cole, who will endeavor to capture the champion's title Thursday, has a host of friends and admirers who are sanguine that the Burkburnett boxer will win. These fans do not overlook the fact that Cole was knocked out by Arnold July 4, but they maintain that the Kid was not in the best physical condition for a long distance battle.

The dog sat down on a live wire, startling the crowd with its yelps.

ZIGGY SEARS WILL BE OUT OF CATS' LINEUP FOR WEEKS

By Associated Press.

FORT WORTH, Texas, July 26.—Ziggy Sears, left fielder of the Fort Worth club of the Texas league, will be unable to play for several weeks because of a badly fractured left collar bone he sustained in the game with Houston yesterday, it was announced by his physician today. Sears ran into Cecil Coombs, center fielder, in an attempt to catch a ball. Coombs was uninjured.

CLUB THAT BACKED LYNCH-HERMAN GO DRAWS SUSPENSION

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The International Sporting club that promoted the bout at Ebbets field last night in which Pete Herman recovered the bantamweight title from Joe Lynch, was suspended indefinitely today by the state boxing commission.

Harry Burchell, secretary of the commission, said that the suspension was because of the "crude manner in which the exhibition was conducted."

One ticket booth was robbed of $500 and many people climbed fences, broke gates and appropriated seats for which they had not paid.

The resolution now goes to the senate.

WISDOM and WORSE

By C. F. C.

Pop Boone, genial sport scribe of the Fort Worth Record, is simply a wreck of his once proud self. Pop, to whom life is sackcloth and ashes when the Panthers do a nose dive, may recover from the shock of the recent Fort Worth-Houston series but he will never be the same. Hearken to Pop, as he voiced his woes in yesterday's paper:

"Boy, if you ask me, I say the world is sure upside down tonight. I only got one hope to my name, and that is that the Cats has gottit all out of their systems, I got no alibis to offer and no excuses. When a veteran of many wars like Donalds, who hasn't started against us this year, can walk out there and shut us out while Wachtel, one of the leading pitchers of the league, is scored on five innings in succession; when this vet can turn right around and come back and turn us back while Joe Pate, the leader of the league, is hammered outta the box; when all our old reliables muff thrown balls and boot easy chances and throw the ball away; when Lefty walks four men in one inning then lets a left-hand batter triple with the bases full—brother, when all these things happen and a lotta more, I forgot and hope I never remember the world is sure upside down. The score in the first game was 5 to 0 and the second 14 to 9.

"When my ball club looks worse than it ever has, when it drops a double-header to a crippled nine like the Buffs, then all I can hope for is that they will come back today and from now on, relieved of all worry and strain, get in there and play their regular game. And, brother, that's what will happen, sure as taxes."

Billy Bee, of t'other Fort Worth daily, also is in a dazed and paralyzed condition. But Billy tries to alibi the Cats in a left-handed fashion by sarcastically stating that for Dallas to climb into first place at the expense of San Antonio is equivalent to a husky man beating up an old apple woman. Houston was a crippled club when it hit Fort Worth, Billy—but the old apple woman certainly knocked the husky Panthers cockeyed.

The real meat of the situation is this: That the Cats are human, and when someone throws a monkey wrench into —akey Ats' fine piece of baseball machinery something has got to crack. The present series between the Spudders and the Buffs will help to determine the exact strength of George Whiteman's Houston crew—but at the moment of writing this we are prone to believe that Houston cleaned Fort Worth not so much because the Buffs showed remarkable strength as because the Cats just struck a streak of midsummer madness and finally busted under the strain. If the streak is going to last a while longer, may we not earnestly urge all other Texas league clubs to kick the Panthers in the mush right now while the kicking is good? For there's no telling when the tribe of Atz will start a mad rush up the ladder again, and if the Spudders are to win out in this second half they certainly will need a little outside help in keeping the Cats properly subdued.

Ziggy Sears and Cecil Coombs crashed together in chasing a fly ball in the second game of that Houston-Fort Worth double-header. The last report we had stated that Ziggy had been rather badly hurt, his collar bone possibly broken. We don't wish any serious injury to the ziggerino, but at the same time if something should happen to Sears that wouldn't hurt him much, wouldn't deprive him of his pay and would keep him out of the Panther line-up a few weeks—well, even that would help. The Lord knows the Spudders have had their share of accidents.

It's mighty doubtful of Froggy Rothfuss will wear a uniform again this year. In fact he may be headed this morning for his home in Newark, N. J., to rest for the balance of the season. That was a vicious wallop Froggy received when Dick Humphries' fast ball caught the Spudder outfielder in the head—and the old bean, according to Froggy, simply wouldn't quit aching. A long rest at home, with a chance to let the old night breeze from the Atlantic blow through his aching head, will probably put Rothfuss in shape for the next season, when, we, suppose, he'll report to the Pirates for spring training—and then, we hope, he'll be back to help the Spudders win their 1922 pennant.

BLACK SOX TO TAKE STAND IN OWN DEFENSE

CHICAGO, July 26.—The defense in the baseball trial will send at least four of the former Chicago White Sox players, charged with conspiracy to throw the 1919 world series to Cincinnati, to the witness stand to testify in their own behalf, it was announced tonight as the state entered the last half of the ninth inning in its presentation of evidence.

Chick Gandil, named by state witnesses as one of the organizers of the alleged $100,000 sell-out; Buck Weaver, Swede Risberg and Happy Felsch, are the men it was announced positively would testify.

Eddie Cicotte, Joe Jackson and Claude Williams, the three players who confessed to the grand jury last fall that they were paid to throw games, also may take the stand in their own defense.

The state will finish its case tomorrow.

The defense announcement came after the confessions of Cicotte, Williams and Jackson had been read to the jury today, creating a distinct surprise in court circles.

Court adjourned this morning while attorneys went over the grand jury confessions, eliminating all names except those of the men making them and a few men not implicated in the case but which had to be left in to preserve continuity of the statements.

At the afternoon session they were read to the jury by a state attorney with court stenographers who originally took them down checking the reading from their shorthand notes.

MINISTER ASKS SALARY CUT.

WORCESTER, Mass., July 26.—Rev. Elsworth W. Phillips, pastor of the Memorial church, Summer street, has requested a salary reduction.

Rev. Mr. Phillips declared that he has noted that members of his parish have been compelled to accept wage cuts of from 10 to 20 per cent, and therefore he believes it is only fair for him to stand by his congregation.

"I believe in a fair day's pay for a fair day's work," declared Rev. Mr. Phillips. "My work during the summer months is much easier than during the winter months."

CUPID PROSTRATED.

ST. CLAIRESVILLE, Ohio., July 26.—Although Cupid is pictured as not being burdened with clothing, the little love god, apparently, couldn't stand the heat in Belmont county, Ohio's ninth largest county.

Evidence that diminutive Dan deserted this county is found in the fact that for four days not one marriage license was issued at the courthouse, although there are 100,000 residents in the county.

CATTLEMEN TO TAKE FIGHT TO WASHINGTON

Special to the Record News.

FORT WORTH, Texas, July 25.—Frank Kell attended the meeting of the executive committee of the Texas Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association.

This session was called to consider the Bankers' Cattle Loan Pool Plan, the provisions and details of which have been given in the columns of the Record News from time to time.

Mr. Kell addressed the committee and declared the fifty million dollar bankers' pool inadequate to meet the present emergency in the cattle industry.

A committee was appointed by the chair to go to Washington to present the claims of the cattle industry to the war finance corporation.

Members of the committee are Frank Kell, Marion Sansom of Fort Worth, R. L. Ball of San Antonio, A. C. Williams of Fort Worth and Congressman Claud B. Hudspeth of El Paso.

Mr. Kell advocated government support, functioning through a modification of the present pool by means of guarantees.

He advocated the choice of Mr. Sansom as a logical man to be placed in charge of government financial aid should the war finance corporation recognize the petition of the cattlemen for direct government relief.

He insisted that the bankers' pool should be liberalized in its methods so as to reach not only the cattlemen capable of making commercial paper but also those whose herds of she stuff, calves and yearlings are now covered by mortgage equal to and many times in excess of the present value, applying the same basis for establishing credit as he has already indicated in interviews which have been given space in the Record News, he said. Unless aid is given it will result in a national disaster for the reason that the cattle business is at its very lowest ebb and no one knows what cattle are worth now, he said. Moreover in his opinion the present condition was paralleled to that of the war period and the same brand of patriotism is demanded in handling it.

The Wichita Falls banker and railroad builder also suggested that a plan be adopted on which all could agree, getting the rank and file of the industry behind the committee before it started its work at the capital of the nation.

There is more than half a billion investment in the cattle industry in Texas and this industry is menaced as never before, Mr. Kell said to the committee: "It is necessary that we be of one mind, for we want no back fire from home and go to Washington City to get what we can get."

Marion Sansom, who is a member of the executive committee of the Texas Cattle Raisers' association, a member of the Dallas Federal Reserve bank board and who was connected with the war finance corporation when direct loans were made to the cattlemen by the government, said that he was satisfied Governor W. P. G. Harding of the Federal Reserve board favored the government as the agency for handling the proposed loans, but the bankers' pool was formed in New York City before Governor Harding could return to Washington from his tour of inspection of conditions in the southwest.

Mr. Sansom read many letters in which the writers stated that there was no way of getting direct loans from the Stock Growers Financial corporation fund for the cattlemen. He said that there are more than four hundred million out on cattle loans and that the fifty million dollar fund proposed by the bankers' pool would fall far short of being adequate. Marion Sansom was born on a Texas cattle ranch and has been engaged in the cattle industry and banking almost from his boyhood.

Of course the cattlemen returned thanks to the inventors of the bankers' pool which headed off government recognition of the needs of the imperiled industry by the substitution of the plan proposed by New York bankers. This is the full text of the resolution offered by Mr. Kell and unanimously adopted by the cattlemen who attended the Fort Worth meeting:

"The executive committee of the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association, after carefully considering the Bankers' Cattle Loan Pool plan, believe it will offer much relief to the cattle industry, for which we are very thankful; however, it is feared that by reason of the great financial distress it will not furnish adequate protection to production."

FORT WORTH TO GET NEW HOSPITAL

Special to the Record News.

FORT WORTH, Texas, July 26.—Fort Worth is to have a new and modern hospital, to cost one million dollars, it was learned today.

The structure, an enlargement on the Harris Memorial Hospital, will be erected on the site of the home of Thomas B. Yarbrough, an entire block, comprising one and one twentieth acres, and bounded by Lake, Sixth, Cannon and Hornsby avenues. It will be owned by the Central Texas Conference and will have the support of a hundred thousand members, it was announced by Judge W. Erskine Williams, secretary of the board of directors of the Harris Memorial Hospital, and member of the Central Texas Conference.

According to members Judge Williams is largely instrumental in formulating plans for the big project.

The building will be of brick and stone, with a frontage of one hundred and fifty feet, and is planned to ultimately rise between four and six stories, and to have four hundred rooms. Nothing will be left undone in the way of modernity and the most advanced ideas of convenience and comfort of patients, will be followed.

IMPROVING CONDITIONS EASES RATE

By Associated Press.

KANSAS CITY, July 26.—Suspension of the progressive discount rate for the tenth federal reserve district August first was announced today by the Kansas City federal reserve bank. The discount rate remains at 6 per cent, but with the penalties now attached to borrowings in excess of a member's proportionate buying power.

"The progressive discount rate will be suspended until such time as new conditions arise which may justify its re-application," said an announcement by Governor J. Z. Miller, Jr. "General conditions have so manifestly improved that it is felt it may be suspended at this time."

NEW ORLEANS, July 26.—Officials of the New Orleans association of commerce, who yesterday telegraphed to Louisiana members of congress a protest against resale in this country of supplies sold to French interests after the armistice, today announced five shiploads of supplies, valued at approximately one hundred million dollars, were due here by August 31. Already blankets, nails and horse shoes, valued at more than five hundred thousand dollars, are stored here, they asserted.

The supplies are those the United States sacrificed to French interests following the war, it is declared.

rious accounts such as compensation, depreciation and maintenance. * * *

By vote of 86 to 39 the house passed to engrossment the Davis substitute to the bill repealing the suspended sentence.

The house committee on agriculture has reported adversely the bills by Representative Stevenson proposing abolishing the department of agriculture and the department of marketing and warehouses, a favorable minority report being given. The bills would plce these duties on Texas A. and M. College.

"The way now would seem to be clear to very early adjustment and relief, except for the fact that the railway administration, though possessing assets, does not command the funds necessary to meet what will be its admitted obligations.

"There is no thought to ask congress for additional funds. Perhaps five hundred million dollars will be necessary. The railroad administration has, or will have in the progress of funding, ample securities to meet all requirements if congress only will grant the authority to negotiate the securities and provide the agency for their negotiation.

"With this end in view you are asked to extend the authority of the war finance corporation so that it may purchase these railway funding securities accepted by the director general of railroads. No added expense, no added investment is required on the part of the government, there is no added liability, no added tax burden. It is merely the grant of authority necessary to enable a most useful and efficient government agency to use its avilable funds to purchase securities for which congress already has authorized the issue and turn them into the channels of finance ready to float them.

"I can readily believe that so simple a remedy will have your prompt sanction. The question of our obligations cannot be raised, the wisdom of affording early relief is not to be doubted, and the avoidance of added appropriation or liability will appeal to congress and the public alike.

"Pending proposals for relief and their discussion have already brought to the attention of congress the very promising possibilities of broadening the powers of the war finance corporation for the further relief of agriculture and livestock producers. This corporation has proven itself so helpful in the relief thus far undertaken, that I cannot help but believe that its broadened powers, as have been proposed, to meet agricultural needs, will enable it wholly to meet the nationwide emergency. This is an impelling moral obligation to American farming in all its larger aspects, and it will be most gratifying to have your early sanction.

"In the case of the railroads there is a moral and constructual obligation, and your favorable action is no less urgent and will no less appeal to public approval. Railway solvency and efficiency are essential to our healthful industrial and commercial life. Everything hinges on transportation.

"After necessary and drastic curtailments, after borrowing straights, after meeting their financial difficulties, the railways need only this financial aid which the fulfillment of our obligations will bestow, to inaugurate their far-reaching revival. Its affects will be felt in various industries and will banish to a large degree the depression which, though inevitable in war's aftermath, we are all so anxious to see ended."

With this message the president sent also to congress a large amount of data from Director General Davis of the railroad administration, showing the progress of liquidation so far and treating present financial conditions.

There was transmitted with President Harding's message a memorandum from Director General Davis of the railroad administration saying the railroad situation made the refunding policy advisable. "Manifestly," the director general said, the roads were not adequately equipped to move traffic now."

Out of 425 roads taken over by the government, he said, 184 had filed claims aggregating $758,032,000, and the government had settled up to July 15, last, forty-three per cent of these with $68,141,000 in cash payments against claims aggregating $225,468,000.

During the control period, the director said, there was expended on improvements to the roads $1,144,000,000 which he declared was a sum properly chargeable to capital account. Of this amount $381,000,000 was spent for locomotives and new rolling stock. The roads which received the equipment gave back to the railroad administration evidences of indebtedness for this amount.

This left a balance of $763,000,000, Mr. Davis said, in improvements to tracks and terminals "which, if not funded, must be deducted from the amount due from the railroad administration to the carriers in final settlement."

TEXAS RESERVES TO BE DESIGNATED AS NINETIETH DIVISION

SAN ANTONIO, July 26.—With the announcement from Washington that Brigadier General Jacob F. Wolters, Texas national guard, of Houston, has been nominated by President Harding to be a brigadier general in the organized reserves of Texas, it was stated at headquarters of the eighth corps area that the units of the reserve will be allocated to the various towns and cities of the state some time in the near future.

The war department has allotted one infantry division to Texas to be called the Nineteenth division and in addition various corps and army troops. Colonel Sterling Price Adams of Dallas heads the board and General Wolters is detailing other members.

SPECIAL RATE ON WHEAT IS ASKED I. C. C.

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS
Record News Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26.—The Panhandle plains chamber of commerce of Amarillo, Texas, today asked the interstate commerce commission to grant an emergency freight rate on shipments of wheat to New Orleans at the same rate as to Galveston, with a view of relieving congestion at the latter port.

Millions of bushels of wheat are stored on the ground in the Panhandle section of Texas and Oklahoma, the commission was told.

The embargo on shipments of wheat to Galveston, imposed some time ago, was removed yesterday by the commission and empty cars ordered to proceed to the Panhandle.

PRODUCTION OF OIL DECREASES DURING JUNE

By BASCOM N. TIMMONS
Record News Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, D. C., July 26.—For the first time this year, the average daily production of petroleum showed a decrease in June, according to figures announced today by the United States geological survey. While the same rank is maintained by all the larger producing states, Oklahoma, still in second place, crept closer to California.

Decreased daily production is reported for Texas, Louisiana, Wyoming, Kentucky, Illinois, West Virginia, Montana, New York and Colorado.

Stocks were increased in June by more than 7,000,000 barrels. Pipe line and tank farm stocks, together with stocks of Mexican oil held by importers at the end of June amounted to a new record figure of 161,000,000 barrels, sufficient at the current rate of consumption to meet demands for 112.8 days.

The estimated value of the oil produced in June was $52,900,000, considerably less than half the value of the production for June, 1920, although the production in June of last year was three million barrels less than in June of this year. California's average daily production for June was almost the same as in May. Oklahoma's daily average was 324,534 barrels in June, compared with 324,120 in May.

Texas produced a daily average of 276,633 barrels in June, compared with 287,000 in May. Louisiana's daily average dropped from 82,032 in May to 75,900 in June.

PELLAGRA AND FAMINE RUMOR ROUSES SOUTH

GREATLY EXAGGERATED SAYS HEAD OF BANK.

By Associated Press.

DALLAS, Texas, July 26.—Famine is not threatened in any section of Texas and that portion of Oklahoma, Louisiana, Arizona and New Mexico, embraced in the eleventh federal reserve district and neither is there danger of an epidemic of pellagra in those sections, according to federal officials here.

"Greatly exaggerated," was the term used by Judge W. F. Ramsey, chairman of the board of the Dallas reserve bank, when shown Washington dispatches indicating a possible incipient famine among cotton planters owing to low prices of the staple. "Folks in the eleventh district are practicing economy amounting to real hardship or sacrifice, but there is no famine or fear of famine."

S. C. Kile of the fourteenth district, United States public health service, comprising Texas, Oklahoma and Arkansas, declared there is no threatened pellagra epidemic in the district. Public health service in the territory, he said, has not been called upon for assistance beyond the normal service. He said he had received no orders from Washington regarding the reported pellagra and famine situation.

Nothing Alarming Says Carrick.

By Associated Press.

AUSTIN, Texas, July 26.—There is no reason to be alarmed over the pellagra situation in Texas, Dr. Manton M. Carrick, state health officer, said today. He pointed out that there has been a slight increase in the last year saying this was due to the financial depression. He further said that sickness usually follows such depression. The disease is not reported regularly to the health department but the reports that have been received show that there were 72 cases in the first six months of this year.

Some in South Oklahoma.

STOCK MEN SEEK DUTY ON HIDES

BY BASCOM N. TIMMONS,
Record News Staff Correspondent.

WASHINGTON, July 26.—The Southern Tariff association today filed with the finance committee of the senate a request for a hearing before that committee on the matter of a tariff duty on hides.

The application was filed on behalf of the American National Live Stock association, the Texas and Southwestern Cattle Raisers' association, the Missouri Live Stock association, the Arizona Cattle Growers' association, the New Mexico Cattle and Horse Raisers' association, the cattle sanitary board of New Mexico, the Cochise County Cattle Growers' association and more than 200 chambers of commerce and organized industries. It was announced that request would be made to restore the 15 per cent duty which was proposed in the house but voted down there.

Vigorous effort will be made by representatives of the cattle industry to have the senate reverse the action of the house as to hides.

SAYS CIGARETTES DIRECT CAUSE OF JUVENILE CRIME

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Cigarette smoking is regarded by court officials throughout the country as one of the chief causes of juvenile crime in addition to the deleterious effect of tobacco on the health of boys and girls, according to an investigation just compiled by the board of public morals of the Methodist Episcopal church.

Questionnaires were mailed to judges of juvenile courts, and answers received by the board indicate that a large percentage of the officers who deal with juvenile crimes are convinced that cigarette smoking is a direct cause of delinquency.

Others call attention to the bad effects of the use of cigarettes on school work, with resultant truancy, idleness, bad associations and crime.

Smoking tends to break down the health and to cause abnormal viewpoints and moods, and thus lead indirectly to crime, in the opinion of some judges, while others say that the use of cigarettes by minors is an effect of idleness and truancy rather than a cause.

Lack of parental control is blamed in some quarters for the prevalence of cigarette smoking among delinquents.

An unexpected number of the court officials, however, the board stated, refer to "demoralizing motion pictures as a crime cause, some speak strongly in regard to bad conditions usually obtaining at pool rooms and a great many refer to the divorce evil, and the increasing lack of interest by parents in the home as a direct cause of the breakdown of moral character in children."

SCHOOL BOARD TO PURCHASE NEW DESKS

The purchase of approximately 1000 single desks to furnish newly constructed school rooms was ordered at a meeting of the school board, held Tuesday afternoon at the high school building. The exact number of the seats needed will be announced within a few days, according to W. W. Brown, business manager of city schools.

W. M. Priddy, W. R. Ferguson, Mrs. M. M. Addiekes and W. B. Chauncy, were appointed a committee to inspect school buildings in Dallas, Fort Worth and Tulsa, Okla. for the purpose of obtaining first hand information on the latest improvements being used in the construction of school buildings. The committee probably will leave next Monday, according to Mr. Brown. They will be accompanied by Mr. Brown and Lee Clark, superintendent of city schools, who has been spending a few days here looking after school interests.

Mr. Clark will leave the party and return to Austin, where he is taking work leading to the degree of master of arts. Mr. Clark announced Tuesday that he expected to complete his work in time to return to his duties here during the latter part of August.

PUBLIC INVITED TO NORTH SIDE REVIVAL SERVICES

A cordial invitation to the public to attend the revival services being held at the North Side Methodist church was issued Tuesday by Rev. W. A. Betts, pastor. The services are announced for 4 o'clock in the afternoon and 8:30 of evenings.

Rev H. D. Knickerbocker, pastor of the First Methodist church, is announced to conduct the services on Thursday evening and Rev. W. L. Tittle, pastor of the Floral Heights Methodist church, on Friday evening.

Wants Some Other Day To Be Hung

CHICAGO, July 26.—Carl Wanderer, sentenced to be hanged next Friday for the murder of his wife, her unborn babe and the "ragged stranger," wishes the day of execution were Saturday, according to prison officials, "or even Thursday," he added, "then I'd feel better."

According to the authorities, it was on Friday that Wanderer planned his crime, it was on Friday that the police saw through his hoax of the ragged stranger and it was on Friday that he was arrested.

A jury on Friday sentenced him to die and his subsequent appeals were lost on Friday.

MEDICOS HEAR TWO PAPERS AT MONTHLY MEET

Two papers, one on the treatment of goiter and one on the value of the X-ray diagnosis, were reported to have been the feature of the regular monthly meeting of the Wichita County Medical association held Tuesday night at the Chamber of Commerce offices.

The paper on the treatment of the goiter was read by Dr. Curtis Rosser of Dallas and the other by Dr. K. K. Beall, of Fort Worth, both well known and prominent physicians and surgeons of their cities.

The reading of the papers was followed by a round table discussion.

FISHERMAN HUNTS TURTLES, OWLS BITE

MARTINS FERRY, Ohio., July 26.—William Morgan, camping on Captina creek, baited two big hooks with meat to catch turtles.

Examining the hooks later, he found the bait intact.

So he twirled the line, preparatory to casting them into the stream again. They caught in a tree and he left them there.

Next morning, two large owls were found hanging to the lines, having been caught while nibbling at the meat.

TRADING IS ACTIVE IN WALL STREET

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 26.—Trading in stocks today was a trifle broader and more active, but the increased dealings were largely at the expense of values, many leaders showing extreme declines of one to two points.

President Harding's message to congress urging payment of obligations to the transportation systems, farm credits and facilitation of exports failed to stimulate bullish initiative in the slightest degree.

Rails were listless and little altered, but steels, equipments, oils, motors and the many specialties were under intermittent pressure. Leathers were adversely affected by the poor quarterly statement of the Central Leather company, and advices from the Middlewest and New England indicated further slackening of industrial porduction.

The only development in the money market was a slight reduction of rates for bank acceptances and additional buying of commercial paper. Another reaction in foreign exchange was again ascribed to sales in London and Paris of sterling bills against purchases of dollar exchange.

Business in the bond market fell off slightly, but the recent strong tone among rails and new corporate offerings was fully maintained. Liberty issues were irregular, but most internationals ignored the weakness of exchange, showing variable advances.

EXPORT SALES BOLSTER UP WHEAT MART

CHICAGO, July 26.—Export sales failed to aggregate one million bushels but had a strengthening effect on the wheat market today. Prices closed steady at the same as yesterday's finish to 1¼ higher with September at 1.23¾ to 1.24 and December 1.26½ to 1.26¾. Corn lost ⅛ to ⅜@¼c and oats ⅛@¼ to ⅛c. Provisions varied from 5 cents decline to 15 cents advance. Exports were after wheat at the interior points and at the seaboard as well as here. The southwest in particular noted a brisk cash demand and it was said Belgium, Holland and Germany were in the market as buyers.

Prospects of showers eased the corn market. Oats were depressed by country selling. Higher quotations on hogs made provisions show a tendency to advance.

EARLY COTTON BRINGS STRONG BEAR PRESSURE

NEW ORLEANS, July 26.—While the cotton market was steady at small advances during the opening and again on the close and net results were losses of 22 to 23 points, heaviest trading and greatest selling pressure came in the half hour following the report of the first bale of the new Georgia crop arriving at Savannah. Last year the first Georgia bale was reported on August 4. The trade was surprised at this earliness and a selling movement immediately set in.

Early selling was due to poor cables but after losses of 8 to 10 points the market became decidedly steady on claims of much better feeling in spot market of the interior and claims of severe deterioration in Texas, especially in sections where boll weevils and worms are most numerous. Some ponts contended that the crop had suffered deterioration of 30 per cent in the last few days and estimates were numerous that Texas as a whole would lose from 5 to 7 points in condition for the month of July. The market toward noon was 11 to 15 points higher than previous close with October at 11.86. In the early session October traded as low as 11.65.

Late in the day the market became very active with heavy selling for both accounts under which October fell to 11.51 at which level trading months were 20 to 24 points under yesterday's final prices.

NEW YORK COTTON.

By Associated Press.

NEW YORK, July 26.—The really important movement in the cotton market today came just before the close when prices had a perpendicular drop of over thirty points under heavy selling by a leading commission house and private cables from Manchester that there was no demand nor any prospects for trade revival until September or October. The market closed barely steady at a net decline of 23 to 29 points.

An opening market was steady with prices two to ten points lower in sympathy with poor cables and reports of favorable weather in the belt. Rallies followed and for the greater part of the day the undertone was very steady with little pressure in evidence and sentiment rather inclined to be more buoyant on reports of a better spot demand at New Orleans and renewed Wall street and trade buying which readily absorbed scattered offerings from local and southern sources. In view of continued favorable weather over the belt, however, it was difficult to arouse outside buying interest on crop news and when heavy selling appeared near the close it found the market poorly organized for resistance.

Several houses had pessimistic Manchester cables which, added to earlier reports of a small speculative interest in Liverpool caused a gloomy feeling among traders here. At one time after the opening October reached 12.35 but on the late break it went to 11.75 and the whole market closed practically at the lowest of the day.

SUSPECT FOR ROBBERY IS RELEASED

One suspect, held in connection with the Saturday night theft of clothing and other personal property from W. H. McCutchen's room at Kemp Kort, has been released, according to police headquarters announcement Tuesday. Other clues are being followed it was intimated by officials.

Mr. McCutcheon was away from his room for the night, and his room was the only one visited, and so far as known the only room which any attempt was made to enter.

The burglar made his way about the building very leisurely, making two trips from the third floor with his loot, according to persons on the lower floor who saw him, but supposed it was some one preparing to catch a train. He left a suit case and some other articles at the entrance, and made a second trip, turning on lights on the stairs, and stopping at the water cooler for a drink, according to occupants of the third floor, who remembered the rather unusual commotion at a rather late hour, when the burglary was reported.

BRITISH PORT SWANSEA MAY BE OIL CENTER

LONDON, July 26.—Swansea, one time leading coal port in the United Kingdom, is likely to develop into the greatest oil port of the country.

Already facilities have been made for supplying fuel to reconverted oil burning warships, besides the rapidly growing fleet of British and foreign oil burning vessels.

The Anglo-Persian Oil company has sunk $40,000,000 into this new venture and it has a large measure of support from the British government.

The crude oil is unloaded at Swansea and pumped through pipes underground to refineries, which are situated in a new town which has been built on the outskirts of the city. After treatment the oil is returned by the same way for distribution.

Huge storage tanks have been erected and wharves constructed, where three vessels can load and discharge simultaneously.

When the scheme is developed and extended six or seven vessels are expected weekly with crude oil cargoes.

Although large sums are in the experiment, it is stated that the venture is only yet in its infancy, and that in a few years Swansea will be offering serious competition to American oil companies.

HOLY SMOKE.

ST. LOUIS, Mo., July 26.—Pipes, like cats, always come home. So says Bob Wise, local telegrapher, who has had returned to him from Chicago a friend's shell of a "smoke wagon" which was left on the desk of a friend he was visiting. Two years ago the same pipe was returned from New York by a friend. A year before that the clerk of a Savannah, Ga., hotel sent the pipe back to Wise, after he had left it in his room.

JUDGE BERRY ON RAISINS.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, July 26.—A religious question was decided in a booze case here. Arraigned in municipal court, Ben Markeson declared that booze, found in a raid on his house, No. 667 Parsons avenue, was intended for religious purposes.

Deciding that raisin whiskey, customarily, is not used for sacramental purposes, Judy Berry fined Markeson $100 and costs.

SERVICE FOR OVERSEAS MAN WEDNESDAY

Funeral services for Charles E. Hope, who met death on the battlefields of France and whose body arrived Tuesday night, will be held Wednesday afternoon at the Riverside cemetery, with the Rev. O. L. Powers in charge of the services.

The deceased was the son of H. M. Hope of this city and was killed by a fragment of a German shell shortly after noon on October 10, 1918.

The body was received Tuesday night by the Hines Undertaking company and removed to their parlors, where it will be held until the services are held Wednesday afternoon.

A letter received by F. S. Hope, a brother of the deceased, from Captain William R. Englehart, Battery E, 322nd Field Artillery, A. E. F., says in part:

"Shortly after noon on October 10, your brother, who was serving as a cannoneer on No. 1 gun during the barrage which we were firing for our own infantry, was hit by a stray shell from a German 240 field piece. The Germans had been shelling very heavily a small town about a thousand yards from our battery, but at no time were any of our men in danger of that fire, when, without warning, this one and only shell went astray and landed about 10 yards in front of the gun your brother was serving. A very large fragment of the shell struck him and he, along with two other men of the gun crew, were instantly killed. I personally went to the spot a few seconds after the accident and found your brother dead. The noise of our guns made it impossible to hear the usual whistle of the shell."

DETROIT TO BUILD WORLD'S LARGEST SPAN

DETROIT, July 26—If original plans of promoters of the international bridge to Windsor are carried out the Detroit river will be bridged by the longest and heaviest span in the world.

Preliminary work on the bridge has been completed and permission for the work obtained from the Canadian parliament and the United States congress to proceed with the project which will cost, it is estimated, $30,000,000.

The span will be 1,805 feet long. There will be two roadways each 28 feet in width, paved with concrete; two 7-foot sidewalks, also paved with concrete, and two trolley tracks.

CONSTITUTIONALITY OF ANTI-BEER BILL MAY BE TESTED

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Another Supreme court test of the constitutional limits of the prohibition law is now inevitable, since the senate has decided to outlaw "medicinal" beer.

Opponents of the Willis-Campbell anti-beer bill asserted today that the measure will be declared unconstitutional. They declared that the national prohibition act gives to congress no authority to interdict the manufacture or sale of liquor of any kind for "non-beverage purposes."

Many senators, in fact, strong in their antagonism to the anti-beer bill, today pointed out what seemed to them its absurdities. That it will not stand the test of the courts was their prediction.

Review of the provisions of the national prohibition act, ratified by the legislatures of most of the states, left to the governor, in its enforcement work, no power to prohibit purely medicinal liquors, whether spirituous or malt, according to the contention of these senators.

"Dry" leaders, however, in this as in other matters, are irreconcilable and they are willing to take their chances on having the new law thrown out by the courts. If it goes through the long process of litigation, through appeal from one court to another, of course the "drys" will win an advantage, which may be considered important, even if it shall be only temporary.

This discussion of the merits of the anti-beer bill, which has brought about a sharp realignment of opinion in congress, is entirely aside from the pros and cons of prohibition from the moral viewpoint. It may be said, too, that some of the government's chief legal advisers take the view that the senate, following the lead of the house, which rode rough shod over all opposition that presented itself, has gone too far in the move to further raise the restrictions against alcoholic liquors, which doctors should be left free, in their judgment, to prescribe for known ailments.

Of course, these opponents of the new beer legislation recognized that the prohibition law conferred extraordinary powers upon enforcement officials in the matter of regulating the "medicinal" traffic, which, they say, is clearly legalized by the national act. But this authority, it is held, was given to govern permits and other procedure set up to surround the handling of medicinal liquors.

"Wet" leaders admit that congress can go any length to prohibit liquor for "beverage" purposes, but say that congress has overleaped its constitutional powers in interfering with proper use of "non-beverage" liquors of any kind. Although the "wets" have been beaten all the way in their many court contests over the "dry" laws they are still alive and active and now stand ready, it is understood, to launch the new attack alleging the unconstitutionality of anti-beer legislation, and with the United States Supreme court as the objective.

Important Announcement

For owners of production located in the northwest and Electra fields.

I have completed arrangements whereby an almost unlimited amount of money will be invested in production located in the northwest fields and Electra fields. I assure you that this arrangement does not refer to the "So-called New York concerns" that have pretended to buy production here for the past two years. These purchasers are real oil people and your production will be inspected by experienced oil men.

You will not be asked to sell for part cash and balance in part of the production, but an outright purchase will be made without an option or a tieup of any kind. If you really want to sell and willing to sell at a price which would be in line with present conditions, either call, phone or wire me at

PURPOSES OF LEGION TOLD; KLAN SCORED

The American Legion, "Ku Klux Klan" and the protective tariff were the chief matters discussed by Judge Joe Hatchett, on the regular program, and by Fred K. Spurlock of Electra, and J. G. D. Howard. All of the speakers expressed themselves as being against the "invisible empire," with its masked activities.

Judge Joe Hatchett, first commander of the Pat Carrigan post of the American Legion, was on the regular program for a talk on the American Legion and its purposes. Before giving the purpose of the legion, the judge took a little time to take a crack at the exponents of a protective tariff and the Ku Klux Klan.

"The purpose of the American Legion," declared the judge, "is to join ex-service men together to impress upon the public the necessity of peace time obligations to the government as well as during war."

"There is too much running to the government for one's personal troubles and too much 'leaning on' the government," he said.

"Those who seek to take out of the other fellow's pocket to make up for their own losses," was the way the speaker characterized those who seek to protect their business by a tariff.

Judge Hatchett also declared against the Ku Klux Klan, saying that it was unAmerican and utterly without excuse.

Fred K. Spurlock, a visiting attorney from Electra, was called on for a talk and responded with an attack on the K. K. K. as it is said to exist at the present time in the South.

"There was at one time, immediately after the civil war, when there was a need for a secret organization such as the 'invisible empire,'" declared Mr. Spurlock, "but that time is past."

"It is time for good citizens and educated men to take a definite stand against this organization of lawless men whose very masked faces admit of the illegality of their actions," declared the speaker.

"Destroy the cause," declared J. G. D. Howard, who spoke following the remarks of Mr. Spurlock, "which has caused the springing up of this organization, or you will not be successful in stamping it out."

"The cause of the K. K. K.," he added, "is the presence of laws which were passed by a minority and which are not respected by the general public. Until the laws are brought back into good repute by repealing the bad ones," he said, "people will always look beyond the law."

Visitors at the luncheon included Dr. Curtis Rosser of Dallas, who extended an invitation to Wichita Falls "millionaires" to come to Dallas when they decided to settle down.

Music for the program was furnished by Frank Loew and orchestra. Announcement was made that the Wichita Falls baseball team would be present at the next luncheon of the club as the guests of the club.

TWO CONCRETE MIXERS BEING USED ON ROAD

For the first time both mixers are now in operation on the construction of the concrete road between Iowa Park and Electra. Due to the recent heavy rains in the vicinity of Iowa Park the track used to convey material from the central plant is soft and has delayed work at that end of the road. Both mixers are expected to be operating at capacity before the end of the week.

Wichita Falls, Her Oil Pools and Her Marmon Fans Feature July Edition of Marmon News

Wichita Falls and her oil fields, and also her Marmon enthusiasts are given a double page story, with illustrations, in this month's Marmon News, just out. The magazine goes all over the country, this nation wide publicity for Wichita Falls being due to the enterprise of the local agency, the Fritz Motor Car company.

As introduction the readers of the Marmon News are told about the remarkable growth of Wichita Falls, and of the great oil fields of which it is the operating center, and across the page is a panorama picture of the Burkburnett townsite oil field, and extensions.

Then Wichita Falls' record as an automobile center as well as an oil center, is set out, with the fact that automobile sales during 1920 reached fifteen million dollars, the big spring automobile show is also given mention.

Several Wichitans who have owned more than one Marmon have recounted their "experiences" in the article, including J. I. Staley, who has a record of a two hundred and fifty mile run in seven hours; J. L. Mears and W. D. Cline who are both driving their fourth Marmons at present, and Guy J. Brown, who has a record of thirty thousand miles with one car, and says he will "want another one if there's any way in the world to wear this one out."

The three essays in the recent school students contest on "Why I like a Marmon Automobile," are in which Mortimer Clopton won the first prize, are also printed, the second and third choices being Israel Delp and Louise Scott.

FINAL ACTION ON HOSPITAL IS POSTPONED

Due to the failure to call the members of the county commissioner's court in special session Tuesday afternoon the announced joint meeting of the court and the city council to discuss the taking over the Methodist hospital at Call Field was postponed.

The meeting will not be held until Monday. It is expected that at the meeting the details in connection with the city and county taking over the operation of the hospital and the price to be paid for equipment and supplies will be agreed upon.

Final action in the matter cannot be taken until the $75,000 hospital bond issue has been approved by the attorney general's department. The transcript of the issue voted six weeks ago is now being prepared by the county Clerk, Harris.

LEOPARD CANNOT CHANGE SPOTS

Mr. Dodson, the "Liver Tone" Man, Tells the Treachery of Calomel.

Calomel loses you a day! You know what calomel is. It's mercury; quicksilver. Calomel is dangerous. It crashes into sour bile like dynamite, cramping and sickening you. Calomel attacks the bones and should never be put into your system.

When you feel bilious, sluggish, constipated and all knocked out and believe you need a dose of dangerous calomel just remember that your druggist sells for a few cents a large bottle of Dodson's Liver Tone, which is entirely vegetable and pleasant to take and is a perfect substitute for calomel. It is guaranteed to start your liver without stirring you up inside, and you can not salivate.

Don't take calomel! It can not be trusted any more than a leopard or a wild-cat. Take Dodson's Liver Tone which straightens you right up and makes you feel fine. Give it to the children because it is perfectly harmless and doesn't gripe.—Adv.

WILEY SMITH GIVEN FIFTEEN YEARS IN PEN

After deliberating an hour and half a jury in the 30th District court late Thursday afernoon, brought in a verdict of guilty in the case of Wiley Smith charged with highjacking and sentenced the accused to fifteen years in the state penitentiary.

The case went to the jury after noon Tuesday. The state closed its case after examining one more witness in the morning in addition to the testimony presented Monday afternoon. The defense after placing one witness on the stand sprang a surprise by closing its case. The testimony of the one witness did not aid the defense.

E. L. Fulton, county attorney, H. R. Wilson, district attorney opened for the state in the arguments with C. C. McDonald, special attorney employed for the state closing with a strong plea for the conviction of the accused.

The trial of Smith opened Monday morning. The state relied mainly on circumstantial evidence with a partial identification of the accused by two witnesses.

According to the testimony, Smith, with a revolver in his hand held up and robbed Virgil Grisson at 1108 Fillmore street on the night of June 8th, when the latter drove to his garage.

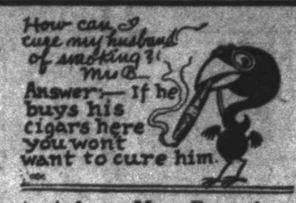

Smith showed no surprise when the verdict was read by the clerk. Smith is well known in the city. He was a witness for the state in the trial of Doc Snow last year having been present in the gambling hall at Kemp City on the night that Snow was alleged to have shot down two officers.

During the last year the crude oil production in California reached a total of 105,613,706 barrels, the largest ever recorded.

WILL FACILITATE BUSINESS ON BORDER

WASHINGTON, July 26.—Rescinding by Mexico of orders requiring passports of all foreigners entering Mexico will have the effect, it was explained authoritatively today, of facilitating the transaction of business between citizens living along the frontier. The Mexican order provides for the unrestricted passage of the international boundary line to a depth of forty miles. It is expected that abolition of the rule providing for the issuance of permits to those visiting Mexican border towns also will be revoked.

State department representations in connection with the immigration authorities, which claimed that the passport regulations along the frontier seriously interfered with business led to the decision of the Mexican government, it was said.
