4,000 Die In Raging Flood

Mercy Planes Rushing Food, Supplies To Guatemala; 100,000 Are Homeless

(By The United Press)

GUATEMALA CITY, Guatemala, Oct. 20—Mercy planes rushed food and medical supplies today to flood-stricken areas of Guatemala where 4,000 were killed and 100,000 made homeless.

A government request for $2,000,000 relief funds went to congress along with casualty reports and estimates that $40,000,000 in property damage was caused by the swirling flood waters.

The floods, worst disaster in Guatemala's history followed 72 hours of torrential rains.

A U. S. embassy amphibious plane, dispatched to the Lake Atitlan region 50 miles west of here, was expected to return a group of trapped American tourists to this capital today.

Reports reaching here from the countryside indicated that towns had been obliterated in landslides, bridges torn from their moorings, highways ripped up, rivers diverted from their courses, and coffee crops destroyed.

The hardest hit areas were the departments of Escuintla, Quezaltenango, San Marcos, Santa Rosa, Jutiapa, Jalapa and Sacatepequez, most of which border on the Pacific ocean.

Survivors described how numerous streams in the mountainous central region of Kuatemala were converted into raging torrents over the weekend, bringing death and destruction to small communities near them.

The said coffee planters on the slopes of mountains were swept away with their families and livestock.

Adobe dwellings melted into heaps of mud and bamboo struc-

HST Congratulates Demo-Led Session For Achievements

(By The Associated Press)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20—With a 75-day breather ahead, members of Congress went home today to listen to the voters' ideas about how to run the country.

Behind they left, along with their accomplishments, an imposing array of issues settled only temporarily—or not at all—in a 289-day session of the Democratic-controlled Congress.

But it had been a busy, if sometimes an acrimonious, session, and the lawmakers greeted adjournment joyfully on both sides of capitol hill.

Problems Pending

There was some horseplay; there were a few notes of criticism. And there was a congratulatory message from President Truman to send the legislators on their way.

In the House chamber, three girls who work for congressional committes serenaded the representatives with "The Eyes of Texas" and "Down by the Old Mill Stream."

In the Senate, Senator Donnell (R-Mo) slyly poked fun at Barkley for his reported romance with Mrs. Carleton S. Hadley, St. Louis widow. Barkley responded in kind.

At Donnell's invitation to visit Missouri during the recess, Barkley grinned broadly. Maybe, he said as the Senate chuckled, but "not in my capacity as vice president."

The lawmakers face a heavy schedule when they return in January. Awaiting them will be such warmed-over international problems as that of extending the European recovery and foreign arms assistance programs, as well as such recurring domestic issues as rent control, extension of the low-rent housing program and repeal of the Taft-Hartley act.

Health Insurance Sought

But some of these may have to yield the spotlight to more controversial measures.

Among those certain to be resubmitted by Mr. Truman are proposals for compulsory health insurance and enactment of civil rights legislation.

He also might ask for an extension of the military draft, which has not operated for several months, in addition to a test of the Brannan farm subsidy pay-

HST Will Ask Higher Taxes

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—President Truman made it clear today he will ask for an increase in taxes at the next session of Congress.

He told a news conference, under questioning, that if anybody can tell him any way to avoid tax increases to meet the deficit, he'd like to be told.

Congress went home last night but will come back in January.

Had Dropped Demand

Mr. Truman last January asked for $4,000,000,000 more taxes, but did not get them. He dropped the demand during the summer because of the business turn-down that had set in.

The statement of new plans to seek a tax increase at the next session grew out of news conference questioning about the $5,000,000,000 deficit which Mr. Truman said he had no plans to meet.

He blamed the deficit on the Republican-controlled 80th Co

DELEGATION DELAYED

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (Special—A committee en route here by plane from Lubbock to present a new plan of cottonseed support prices to the Production Marketing association was scheduled to arrive this afternoon. Winter Pulls Old Trick On Weather Man

Rain, Sleet, Snow Cause Damage To Western States

Remember that "icy, double-barreled blast" that was supposed to blanket the South Plains with snow and freezing temperatures?

Well, it pulled an old, old trick on the weather forecasters and shuffled off to the northeast, missing Lubbock by less than 30 miles.

Red-faced weather observers and reporters doffed their furlined mittens and ear muffs this morning, and offered plenty of good reasons why the blue howler didn't get here after all.

Nobody Is Mad

Meanwhile, nobody was mad because it didn't.

Harold Frost, chief meteorologist at the Weather bureau station, said the maximum today would be in the 70's, followed by somewhat cooler temperatures tonight, probably in the upper 30's with light frost.

The reading at 2 p. m. was 76, following 75-degree readings at 12:30 and 1:30 p. m. The Weather bureau expected this afternoon's high to be 78 degrees.

No moisture was foreseen today, with the possible exception of a light drizzle during the night.

The south line of the cold front which moved down from the northwest halted in a jagged line in western Oklahoma, just south of Childress, somewhat southeast of Lubbock and south of Wink. The coldest part was moving to the northeast.

Minimum Here 53

It hit Amarillo with a minimum temperature of 42 degrees this morning, Roswell, N. M., with 43, and Albuquerque with 34 degrees, with freezing temperatures north of Albuquerque. Lubbock had a minimum of 53 this morning.

The warning served a good purpose, however. It warned South Plains residents that time is growing short to prepare their livestock, automobiles, furnaces and crops for the imminent approach of winter.

And the Weather bureau repeated its belief that it is better to warn the public of a possible cold wave that finally misses the area than to ignore it and take the area by surprise.

FAMILY RELATIONS EXPERT SPEAKS

Methodists Open Conference Here

VAUGHN E. WILSON

By OPAL DIXON
Journal Staff Writer

"There has been more change in family life in our generation than ever before in the history of mankind," Dr. Evelyn M. Duvall of Chicago, executive secretary of the National Council on Family Relations, told approximately 700 ministers and laymen in a Northwest Texas conference Methodist meeting this morning in First Methodist church.

Confusion and bewilderment have resulted, said the speaker and author. "My whole philosophy is that our trouble in family living comes from disruption in being a transition age."

Rules Are Emphasized

A father standing at the head of the table for a worship session for his family of three, as his father once did at the head of his large family, might be greeted by his son with the query, "What's eating you, pop?"

The speaker emphasized three rules parents may follow in rearing children in the Christian faith: By living it vitally themselves, realizing nothing a child hears is as important as what he sees; by sharing opportunities for spiritual development, letting a child share not only family successes but family problems; and by giving children basic security through love, time and attention.

Another speaker on the morning program, Dr. H. I. Robinson, pastor of the host church, also emphasized confusion and bewilderment in speaking on another subject, "Why Do We Need Renewed Emphasis on Our Faith?"

COKE'S OLD PAL FILES CHARGE

Bond Of $500 Set For Sen. Johnson

(By The Associated Press)

AUSTIN, Oct. 20.—A charge of false swearing in an affivadit was filed against Senator Lyndon B. Johnson (D-Tex) in Justice of the Peace P. L. Nairn's court here today.

The charge was brought by Frank Hamer of Austin in connection with the election aftermate in Alice last year.

Nairn set bond at $500 and said he would transfer the case to the 98th district court grand jury now in session. He said he would not issue a warrant until Johnson returns to Austin. Johnson is expected here in a few days.

Hamer said the "false statement" was made in an affidavit filed in 126th district court Sept. 10, 1948, in an injunction suit against U. S. senatorial candidate and former Gov. Coke Stevenson and a number of his supporters including Hamer. Hamer is an old friend and political ally of Stevenson.

Hamer said he had been accused of going into Jim Wells county and " by threat and intimidation" attempting to have voting results changed.

Hamer is a former Texas ranger and at te time of the election squabble was privately employed as a guard over oil properties in South Texas.

District Attorney Bob Long said

Burglars Take $285 Worth Of Property

Two burglaries were reported to investigators here this morning.

From Smith Drilling company, on the Plainview-Clovis cutoff, six rock bits valued at $35 each were taken by intruders who punched a hole in metal wall sheathing and twisted a padlock off a window. The sheriff's office was investigating.

Police said Mrs. Leona Ellis of 713 Third complained that someone removed a $75 watch in a burglary of her quarters.

Progress Slow In Chest Drive

Lubbock's 1950 Community Chest campaign, with a $98,850 goal ahead, made only slight progress during its first two days, reports to the Community Chest office indicated today.

At noon, only $5,312.30 had been reported by only a scattering of workers in the solicitations army, which began canvassing the town Tuesday.

Additional reports were expected to be made this afternoon and early Friday from other team leaders.

Reports Delayed

Complete reports will probably be delayed until the first of next week as many of the teams did not get started in their campaign work until Wednesday and had not had time to make a report today.

Earl Kerr, Community Chest manager, is receiving the reports at the Chest office, 1006½ Fourteenth ,while other reports are being turned into the office of the Continental Air Lines in the Hilton hotel.

J. Ray Dickey, general chairman of the drive, urged workers to complete their contacts of prospective donors as soon as possible.

"We hope to be able to wind up the campaign within a week or ten days," Dickey said. "A long drawn-out campaign is discouraging to solicitors as well as donors."

Unreasonable Rent Hikes Are Opposed

Texas Landlords Urged To Be Cautious As Controls Ended

(By The United Press)

Rent controls died, officially, in Texas today, but landlords were warned to be prudent and conservative in exercise of their new freedom.

Meeting in Fort Worth last night, at a "watch party," the Texas Apartment and Property Owners association, Inc., issued a manifesto that was both jubilant and restrained.

Tapoa's executive committee wired Gov. Allan Shivers on a jubilant note:

"Since statewide freedom from federal rent control begins Thursday, we suggest and request that you designate and proclaim Oct. 20th as V/R day (Victory over Federal Rent Control) in Texas, honoring freedom loving Texans everywhere and particularly those staunch American patriots—our late Gov. Beauford Jester and Hon. Carlton Moore . . ."

Moore, a Houston member of the State House of Representatives, was author and chief pusher of the bill which passed the 51st legislature to

Local Officials Of Oil Union Defy Attempts To Expel Them

HOUSTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—The top two officers in a big CIO union local held to their jobs today, defying attempts of the parent Oil Workers International union to oust them as a result of a long, often-rowdy strike.

The executive committee of local 227, OWIU, voted last night to sustain "all officers"—including Billy Kieke, president, and Arthur Hajecate, secretary-treasurer.

Violations Charged

They were "fired" by telegraph yesterday. OWIU international president O. A. Knight dispatched telegrams from Denver, advising them and the 3,400 members of local 227 of the action.

Knight said both had condoned repeated violations of the OWIU constitution. OWIU headquarters in Denver refused to be specific on the matter, but it was an "open secret" that it was displeased with conduct of a 10-week strike involving the local's workers at Mathieson Chemical corporation in Houston.

Some 35 instances of open or alleged violence have occurred at the strikebound Mathieson plant, which produces fertilizer, and a Harris county grand jury has been looking into the situation this week.

Terms Near End

The strike began Aug. 2 when contract talks broke down.

Both Kieke and Hajecate were elected to their union offices for terms ending in November.

Following last night's vote of confidence by the local executive board, Hajecate said, "considerations expressed in the union's constitution are paramount, and Knight has no authority to supercede them. We will continue in office until our terms expire."

In Denver, Knight fired back, "the local (committee) has exceeded its authority."

Even as the inter-union row developed, district Judge W. M. Holland ordered the local to cease its mass picketing activity. He signed a temporary restrainer, allowing the union to post five pickets at the Mathieson production plant and two at its business office in suburban Pasadena.

Home Chores And Cotton Picking Keep Hillsboro Housewife Extremely Busy

HILLSBORO, Oct. 20 (U.P.)—A wise man once said that woman's work is never done. He might have been talking about Mrs. J. D. Duke, a Hillsboro housewife and mother of two children.

Her day starts at 5 a. m. She fixes breakfast for her husband and children. Then she cleans house and gets the youngsters ready to hand over to a neighbor, who acts as sitter.

By 8:30 a. m., she's in the field, working alongside her husband and other cotton pickers.

By 5:30 p. m., she's back at home, cooking the evening meal, after which she bathes the children and puts them to bed. Then she washes dishes.

Mrs. Duke does the family laundry on Saturdays.

And what does she do with her spare time?

"Oh, that," she said. "Well, I work in a drug store."

Mine Cave-In Fatal To Man

SHULLSBURG, Wis., Oct. 20 (AP)—A section of tunnel ceiling collapsed in a lead and zinc mine last night, crushing one man to death and injuring another.

John Hebenstreit, 25, of Shullsburg, was dead when rescue workers pulled him free from a pile of earth and rocks. A fellow worker, Ralph Rowe, 33, Shullsburg, suffered leg injuries and was hospitalized.

The men were working at the end of a 750-foot tunnel some 330 feet under ground when a six by 10-foot section of the tunnel ceiling fell in.

Occurred In New Mine

Hebenstreit was buried completely, and Rowe's legs were covered so that he could not move to aid his companion. Rowe signaled with his cap light and attracted the attention of Jim Giles, who was working some 750-feet away near the shaft.

Rescue workers lifted rock fragments with jacks and freed Rowe some 40 minutes after the cave-in. Hebenstreit was dead when his body was pulled free.

The mishap occurred in a new mine, three miles south of this southwestern Wisconsin community. The mine was being readied for use by the Calumet and Hecla Copper company. The mine is reputed to be one of the largest in this part of the state.

No other men were working near the cave-in.

Spinster Says She Was Secretly Wed To Wealthy Oilman

HAYS, Kas., Oct. 20 (AP)—A locally prominent business woman claimed today she had been the secret wife of a millionaire oilman for 43 years.

The oilman, Mark Hadley, died last week. His will left the income from his fortune to a Hays Methodist church and a hospital.

Miss Cecilia Deane, a millinery store operator long regarded as a spinster, said she and Hadley were married in 1906 and agreed to keep the marriage a secret because his family would object to the union.

Miss Deane told a reporter they were married in a Catholic church at nearby Damar, Kas. Miss Deane is a Catholic. She said Hadley told her he had no religion "except masonry."

She said Hadley told her a few days before his death that he did not plan any more gifts to the Hadley hospital and the Methodist church.

Henry Kraus, executor of the Hadley estate, and Henry Herman, attorney who filed the will, both said the oilman always had been a bachelor as far as they knew.

Miss Deane's attorney, Oscar Ostrum, said his investigation of old church records had not been completed but added that "several persons" knew of the marriage.

Husband Can Return Home Only To Paint

DALLAS, Oct. 20 (AP)—A court order tells a husband he can't go home except to paint it.

The woman is suing for a divorce, but still wants the paint job done.

Reduction In Rate Of Output Sought For Ector Fields

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (AP)—Reductions of the maximum efficient rates of production in three Ector county fields are proposed by the railroad commission.

The commission yesterday set public hearing for Dec. 6 for operators to show cause why the reductions should not be made.

Reductions are proposed as follows:

1. TXL Devonian field, from top allowable of 233 barrels per well per day, plus 233 barrels for new wells, to 13,700 barrels for the reservoir.

2. TXL Upper Clearfork field, from top allowable of 120 barrels per well per day, plus 120 barrels for new wells, to 70 barrels per well per day plus 70 barrels for new wells.

3. TXL Silurian field, from top allowable of 180 barrels per well per day plus 180 barrels for new wells to 90 barrels per well per day plus 90 barrels for new wells.

Other hearings were set as follows:

Nov. 16.—Application of S. D. Johnson for discovery allowable right and new field designation for the reservoir of his W. R. Cannon well No. 1, Cooke county regular field.

Nov. 16.—Application of Kay Kimbell for discovery allowable rights, new fields designation and field rules for the reservoir of his George Anderson well No. 1, Cooke county.

Nov. 18—Application of the Union Producing company for discovery allowable rights and new field designation for the reservoir of its A. M. McFaddin well No. A-9, Victoria county.

Mary Haworth's Mail

Married To Nice Man, Wife Wonders Why He Won't Call Her By Her First Name

DEAR MARY HAWORTH: I have been married to a nice man for 20-some years and we have many problems and aren't always happy; but today I am writing to ask, what do you think of a man who never calls his wife by her name?

In our early married life I never thought much about it, because then he called me "honey", "darling", etc.; but in later years as these endearments were used less often I began to notice how he avoided calling me Page.

To explain about my name, let's pretend it is Ivy Page Wood (which I've made up). I don't like my first name, so I've always used my middle name, which is my mother's family name and much used in our family for boys and girls alike.

SPEAKS OF SHE, HER, AND "MY WIFE HERE"

AS IT HAPPENS, my husband uses his middle name too, so I can't imagine why he might feel I shouldn't do the same. When we are with friends he refers to me as "my wife here," which certainly sounds odd, as if he had other wives but I am the one he is speaking of. If he has real need to get my attention at times he may call me "Hon—."

Once I said to him, "I suppose people will think my name is 'She' or 'Her,' as that is all they hear from you." Even a horse or dog likes to be called by name. I have never taxed him about this more than twice in all our married life, but now I feel sure he knows that I listen to see how he is going to get around calling me Page.

Lately it seems he even avoids using his own name; as for instance he will telephone friends and talk on until the other party recognizes him. Or if he telephones a stranger on business he will say, "This is Mr. Wood," when his name is asked. Do you think I've caused him to feel guilty about not using my name? I feel it may be the cause of much of our trouble; for I know now that he resents me and feels this is one thing he doesn't have to do. Your comment will be appreciated. Signed P. W.

MEN DON'T WANT MASCULINE WIFE

DEAR P. W.: Firstly I wish to emphasize that the name you've used here is made up; and that if persons known to the audience do have that name, this letter wasn't written by them.

Nextly I wish to underscore the fact that your real middle name—your mother's family name—which you've revealed to me in confidence, is rather commonly used as a given name for men, but seldom applied to girls in spoken address, even though they may have baptismal title to it.

Amongst the people I know I think of several men who answer to this given name, but your letter is my first encounter with a woman who warmly claims it for that purpose. And now that you mention it, I feel that it has interesting character as a name for a woman—but the flavor is ineradicably masculine, nevertheless. And maybe that's why it has always stuck in your husband's throat, as a name he couldn't comfortably call his wife.

OVERTONES OF HER NAME MAY BE BLOCK

TO ILLUSTRATE my point, let's imagine the shoe on the other foot. Suppose your husband's mother's family surname were Grace, and that Henry Grace had been a distinguished name in that family for generations, and that your husband was christened Henry Grace Wood. Then further suppose that he'd always clung to a fancy to be called Grace rather than Henry or Hank. How would you feel and react?

Don't you think it possible, even probable, that you might shrink involuntarily from calling him "Grace darling" in privacy or "Grace" in company, because of the petticoat sound of that name, at least in your ears? And that this block and this evasion would have to do with emotional implications too elusive to be grasped, that threatened somehow to de-sex the marriage for you, if that name were used between you and him?

"What's in a name?" Shakespeare asked. Quite a lot, psycologists infer, insofar as name affects the personality of the indivi-ual who bears it. Perhaps in your case the boylike name had the effect of stirring you unconsciously to social behavior more vigorous than pliable; and perhaps your husband feels he's been denied the intuitive understanding an fully feminine accomodation he'd hoped to find in a wife. Thus the resentment he shows may stem from the two types of discomfiture cited; and the average man at grips with them would be hardput to explain his angle.

Doctors Forced To Finish Operation

RALEIGH, N. C., Oct. 20 (U.P.)—Doctors who removed the appendix of butcher John C. Sykes said today that they only finished the job. Sykes himself made the incision, with one of his own knives.

Sykes' razor-sharp blade slipped while he was carving off a veal cutlet and slashed a big wound in his side. At the hospital, doctors found that he had cut into his appendix. They removed it through the butcher's own incision.

ROD CAMERON CROWNS QUEEN

(Special To The Journal)

BROWNFIELD, Oct. 20—Brownfield's Rotary club today chalked up another successful Harvest Festival after the third annual celebration attracted an estimated 10,000 persons.

During closing events of the day-long program, Miss Ann Snedeker was crowned Harvest Queen of 1949 by film star Rod Cameron.

Crowned By Actor

The stage was darkened until a lone spotlight picked her out sitting on a throne in queenly garb. Cameron then crowned her after a few appropriate remarks.

Several dignitaries from West Texas and New Mexico spoke at various intervals during the busy afternoon, filled with a band concert, an old fiddler's contest, square dance exhibitions, and music provided by Henry Lester and His Rhythm Boys, and the Community Men's Glee club of Brownfield.

New Mexico's Lt. Gov. Joseph Montoya, who was a special guest at the celebration, spoke briefly this afternoon. He paid his compliments to the Brownfield Rotarians for their accomplishments, and spoke on the neighborliness banding Texas and New Mexico together.

Many Mexicans Present

Montoya spoke first in English, then in Spanish, repeating his remarks for the benefit of hundreds of Mexicans present at the gathering. He was introduced by J. O. Gillham, president of the Brownfield State bank.

Harley Sadler, Abilene, prominent West Texas showman, and former legislator, gave the principal address of the day at 2 p.m.

He lauded the community spirit of the Brownfield Rotary club, as evidenced by the success of the festival. He congratulated them on their fine work in the area, typified by the idea of Rotary, "Service Above Self."

Sadler was introduced by Preston Smith, state representative from Lubbock.

State Sen. Kilmer Corbin of Lamesa, Elmo Wasson of Big Spring, district governor of Rotary International, and Chas. A. Guv, editor of The Avalanche-Journal, were introduced and gave brief extemporaneous talks.

Band Gives Concert

The afternoon program opened with a concert by the Brownfield High school band, during which C. K. Kendrick, president of the Rotary club, presented the Lamesa band with the Class AA award, Littlefield with the Class A band award and Whiteface with the Class B award. The three awards were loving cups, and were won during performances in the parade this morning.

Big event for the youngsters during the afternoon was the presentation of western film star Rod Cameron by Hiram Parks. Cameron was kept quite busy autographing items for the children.

A fiddlers' contest attracted quite a crowd during the hour it lasted, and many seemed to enjoy it more than any of the other activities during the day. It was divided into two groups, those under 45, and the "oldtimers" over 45.

Winners Announced

In the under-45 division, Paul Harper of Hobbs, N. M., was named first place winner, Carl Hazelwood of Lovington, N. M., placed second and O. A. "Texas Slim" Cathey of Corsicana was third.

In the "oldtimers" division, J. R. Sullivan of Lovington was named winner of the $75 first prize: Tom Michael of Sweetwater, second prize of $50; R. B. Luce of Big Spring, third prize of $50.

Judges were Lee Hulse, W. B. Ray and W. W. Tapp.

Rotarian Clyde Green was in charge of the Old Fiddlers contest.

Music On Program

The Brownfield Community Men's Glee club, composed of about two dozen townsmen directed by Richard Young, band director at Brownfield High school, and a quartet composed of members of the glee club, gave a beautiful arrangement of songs shortly before evening mealtime.

A Mexican band entertained with Spanish music before coronation ceremonies.

Attendance at the dance closing the day was estimated at more than 300 couples by James H. Dalias, program chairman for the day's activities. "It's the largest crowd I have ever seen at Veterans hall," he said. The dance began at 9 p.m.

Most of the local stores were closed for the day, and schools were dismissed for the festivities.

The day got under way at 10:40 Wednesday morning with a 15-minute demonstration by two jet fighter planes from the Air Force base at Albuquerque.

Thousands lined the streets a few minutes later to see the parade which included bands from Texas Technological college, Lamesa, Littlefield, Whiteface, Plains, Sundown and Brownfield, and several well-decorated floats.

LONG LIST OF GOVERNMENT DEPARTMENTS PROBED

81st Congress Stormy Session From Start To Finish With Sensational Investigations

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—A fast-breaking series of sensational investigations helped make the first sessions of the 81st Congress a stormy one from start to finish.

During their nine and one-half months at the legislative mill, lawmakers launched inquiries into national defense policies, the use of personal influence in government contracting, the atomic program, communist activities and a wide variety of other matters.

They studied the operations of the coal and airline industries, so-called "kickbacks" on marine insurance, uncollected maritime commission bills, and the profits of middlemen in the food and oil business.

Their investigations reached into a long list of government departments—including the White House and the military establishment—and featured the testimony of some of the nation's best-known public officials.

Of all the congressional probes, top billing went to the inquiries into high strategy, the operations of the Atomic Energy commission and the activities of "five percenters."

The stormiest of them—the investigation of bitter navy charges that the nation's seapower is being stripped down to the danger point—is still underway even though Congress has adjourned.

The atomic inquiry is still producing fireworks, too.

A report clearing the Atomic Energy commission of "incredible mismanagement" charges has been approved by the Democratic majority on the Senate-House atomic committee. But the Republican members headed by Senator Hickenlooper of Iowa are at work on a dissenting document.

Employe Suspended

The five percenter inquiry, however, is over for this year and may never be resumed. It dealt with whether improper influence figured in the handling of government business.

That investigation brought President Truman's army aide, Maj. Gen. Harry H. Vaughan, to the witness stand. Another army major general retired before the hearings ended.

The House armed services committee's investigation of national defense planning was touched off last spring by anonymous charges of corruption and political maneuvering in procurement of the air force's prize B-36 bomber.

The committee brought the first phase of the probe to a close by ruling those accusations groundless after a navy civilian employe, Cedric Worth, acknowledged he wrote the ananymous documents. Worth was suspended and later resigned.

Row Denounced

Then the whole issue erupted again when navy Capt. John Crommelin claimed the navy was being "nibbled to death in the Pentagon" by the defense department—and particularly the air force.

That led to angry testimony by a parade of top navy officers. They contended the whole concept of national defense planning, keyed to the atomic-bomb-carrying B-36, was wrong, and they called the B-36 "a billion-dollar blunder."

Secretary of the Air Force Symington and Gen. Omar Bradley, the nation's top military man, vigorously disagreed with the navy view. They said the interservice row was a threat to national security. Secretary of defense Johnson, who has yet to take the stand, has voiced similar concern.

GOP Against Report

The charge of "incredible mismanagement" of the atomic program was brought by Senator Hickenlooper against Chairman David E. Lilienthal and other members of the atomic commission.

It resulted in weeks of public hearings and other sessions behind closed doors last summer. A week ago the 10 Democrats on the joint congressional committee approved a report which said the accusation was not backed up by the evidence.

Six Republicans voted against the report. Hickenlooper called it a "cleverly written whitewash" and said his minority document will supply the proof of his charges.

The five percenter inquiry got started when a Massachusetts furniture manufacturer said he had paid $1,000 to James V. Hunt, a Washington management counselor, for help in seeking a government contract.

The manufacturer, Paul D. Grindle, testifie dthat Hunt once said: "All I have to sell is influence."

Hunt denied it in a sworn statement to the Senate's special investogations subcommittee. He said he never had done anything improper in conducting his business.

Hunt's illness prevented him from testifying and finally forced him out of business. Whether the investigation ever is reopened depends mainly on whether he and another prospective witness, also ill, recover sufficiently to testify.

Earth's Shape Surveyed From A Rock In A Kansas Pasture

LUCAS, Kans., Oct. 20 (NEA)—An un-imposing rock that rises about six inches above the surface of Frank Robinson's pasture 12 miles northwest of here is the center of a project as big as the world itself.

ROBINSON'S ROCK: From the dot in a Kansas field, a new determination of the earth's exact size.

Affixed to the rock is a small bronze plaque. On the plaque is a tiny triangle. Inside the triangle is a dot. And that dot is being used by the United States Coast and Geodetic Survey to measure the size and shape of the earth.

The current project is the second phase of the job. Last year, astronomical calculations were made by geodetic survey officials. This year they are making gravity checks, centering around the rock on Robinson's farm. The scientists will tie the two studies together and get a new determination of the earth's exact size.

Used Before

Robinson's rock has been used before. For about 50 years, it has been the basis of every triangle drawn by surveyors over the whole United States. All buildings surveyed, from the White House to the barn on Old MacDonald's farm, are down on charts as being a certain distance from the rock.

When the marker was first put in place, in 1891, it was just one of many points of reference established across the nation. But it soon became the principal one, when Geodetic Survey officials decided it was the most nearly accurate of them all.

A plumb line at this point, they found, was least likely to be affected by forces other than gravity. More than any of the others, it would show the earth's natural gravity. Its accuracy was attributed to its location—on a barren hilltop, without great mountain ranges or bodies of water or land masses nearby to deflect the plumb line.

Became The Center

It became virtually the geodetic center of the nation. And, in 1913, the rock extended its importance beyond the borders of the United States. Canada and Mexico accorded it recognition as the basis of their surveys, too. So, for all intents and purposes, it became the geodetic center of the whole North American continent.

Gradually, it extended its sphere of geodetic influence around the world. More and more nations adopted it as the point of reference for surveys, until now a maze of triangles, linking most of the earth's surface, are based on the dot in the triangle on the plaque on the rock on the farm in Kansas.

Now a must for tourists, it has gradually been chipped away by souvenir-hunters and the onslaughts of plains winters. But it hasn't been moved, and the rock has now tackled its biggest job as scientists use it to measure the size of the world.

PECOS BOY KILLED

Red-Faced Airline Officials Apologize For Trip To Texas

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (U.P.)—John Williams had a lesson in geography today and a new excuse for coming home late.

The spry 74-year-old jeweler flew from Newark, N. J., to Dallas and back to LaGuardia field in New York in an attempt to reach his home at Fall River, Mass.

It was just a cross-country mix-up, red-faced American airlines officials apologized.

Hostess Startled

Williams boarded an airliner at Newark Tuesday night and took off for what he thought would be the short flight to Providence, R. I. He parked his car there earlier in the day before flying to New York on a buying trip.

When he heard passengers around him looking forward to sights in Mexico City, he just flipped the pages of a magazine contentedly and mused on the idiosyncracies of people who fly.

Five minutes after departure, a hostess looked at his ticket.

"She just seem startled and left right away," Williams said.

F. J. Robinson, an airlines official, came up to him.

"Where are you going, sir?" Robinson asked.

"Providence," came the reply.

"Well, your next stop is Dallas," Robinson answere.

Taken On Tour

He explained the plane Williams boarded mistakenly was on a special flight, taking travel agents to Mexico for a convention.

When the plane landed after midnight at Dallas American arranged a hotel room for its unexpected guest. The airline also bought his meals yesterday, took him on a tour of the city and reissued tickets for the trip to Providence.

His return flight got Williams into New York last night. He planned to take another plane at 12:50 p. m. EST today—in another try to get to Providence.

"They told me not to worry about anything," Williams laughed. "Well, I didn't. I enjoyed it. That was my first trip west of Washington. Maybe I'll tour the whole country next year—by car, that is."

Lubbock Holds Final Workout

Last-minute offensive and defensive changes will come in for attention today at Chapman field as Coach Pat Pattison readies the Lubbock Westerners for Friday night's 8 o'clock date in Amarillo with the Golden Sandies.

The meeting between the two high school grid powers will be the 28th under the Texas Interscholastic league and the first since Lubbock moved into District 3-AA. While in District 1-AA the two teams annually played one of the most decisive games in the district, and since 1939 Amarillo has run up a string of nine straight triumphs over the Hub City representative.

Workouts this week in the Westerner camp have been rather light, but enthusiastic response has been obtained from the entire squad as it prepares for the Sandies tilt.

So far the team members have needed no shot in the arm to make them work hard for the coming game, and the workouts move along at a fast clip. It is doubtful that Coach Pat Pattison will try to key the team up too highly for the Amarillo game, and he considers the tilt — without the usual tradition — as just another game against a powerful opponent.

Practices Routine

Practices this week have been almost routine, but there has been an absence of the hard scrimmaging seen in previous weekly drills. Coach Pattison is not risking the danger of injuring one of the players in practice, and the additional time is being put to use on offensive and defensive drills.

More polish is being applied to the ground game — which in previous contest has averaged 301 yards — and defensive drills come in for a large measure of attention.

Amarillo, in its previous games, has shown that it has a ground and air attack to be reckoned with, and one of its backs, Jack Newby, has run-up a scoring record of 78 points in the first five games this season, accounting for more than half of the Sandstorms' 147 points.

Must Stop Offensive

On the ability of the Westerners to stop the Amarillo offensive will rest the outcome of the Friday game. Game by game the Westerners have outscored the Sandies, averaging 40.4 points per contest to 29.4 for Amarillo, but in no game have the Westerners faced such an offense.

Last week an underrated Pampa team put up a tough fight before losing to Lubbock, 33-20, bringing to light many mistakes being made on defense against a ground and air attack, with passes helping in each scoring drive.

Ticket sales indicate that local fans will be out in force for the clash, with 4,252 ducats in the hands of Lubbock people. Of this number at least 1,000 are student tickets. Persons having tickets reserved should pick them up by noon today at the high school athletic office or they will be sold on a first-come basis.

Special Train To Run

Amarillo officials estimate a packed stadium for the tilt, with the 15,150 seats being sold. Temporary bleachers will be used, and the expected crowd will be more than 16,000.

A special Santa Fe train will carry fans to and from Amarillo, with the round trip ticket set at $6.33. Time of departure is 4 p.m. Friday, with the return being made 45 minutes after the game. Amarilloans will furnish "courtesy cars" to transport fans to and from the game, with cars picking up Lubbock people at the Herring hotel from 6:45 to about 7:15 o'clock.

CROSS COUNTRY RACE SET

AUSTIN, Oct. 20. (AP) — The University of Texas cross country team will stretch its legs today in competition with the North Texas State college Eagles. It is the season opener for the Longhorn harriers.

TEXAS IS FAVORED OVER RICE

Minnesota Picked To Beat Michigan

BY DR. E. E. LITKENHOUS

It'll take some memory-searching to recall a situation similar to this: Minnesota favored over Michigan in their annual "Little Brown Jug" classic.

The Golden Gophers of Bernie Bierman are climbing the heights back to national football prominence and they rate a 7.7 power point margin over once powerful Michigan in the ancient rivalry. Minnesota is ranked fourth nationally while the Wolverines have dropped off to 14th.

Notre Dame, which went into first place last week, will defend its position passively; the Irish are idle in preparation for the bout with Navy October 29.

An intersectional battle with bowl ramifications finds resurgent Kentucky a 23.6 choice over Southern Methodist. The Wildcats rank behind the Irish and California in Litkenhous Difference by Score System standings. California is figured in a 36.7 romp over Washington in a Pacific Coast Conference squabble.

Army is scheduled for a breather, too; the Cadets will whip Columbia, which once ended a long string of Army victories, by 43.2. Cornell is a touchdown choice over Princeton while Dartmouth should measure Princeton by 6-1. Navy is picked by four-tenths of a point in a close one with Pennsylvania.

A top-notcher in the Southwest Conference finds Texas a bare 2.1 winner over Rice, conqueror of S.M.U. Oklahoma will master Nebraska 28.7.

Following is the week-end schedule of college football games with Litkenhous Difference by Score predictions. The figure after the name of each team is its power-point rating. The figure in the last column is the difference between the ratings and therefore the approximate probable difference between the scores they will make in the games. The names of the probable winners are set in boldface type.

Harvesters To Test Lamesans

Another full slate, headed by the annual Lubbock-Amarillo classic, is ready for South Plains football fans this weekend.

A total of 26 games, including 19 conference meetings, involve South Plains teams. All are to be played Friday night except the Kermit-at-Seminole melee, scheduled for Saturday night.

Of paramount interest, even though it has no bearing on the Interscholastic league standings, is the Lubock-at-Amarillo encounter. Amarillo, beaten only by Odessa this year, will provide the first major test of the season for the high-scoring Westerner aggregation. A capacity crowd of more than 16,000 fans is expected to be on hand for the 8 o'clock kickoff at Amarillo's new stadium.

Lamesa Faces Pampa

Lamesa, the area's other perfect-record Class AA outfit, will be in real danger when it tangles with Pampa's well-drilled Harvesters at Pampa. The Harvesters, who last week played Lubbock to a 33-20 score, are expected to give the acid test to a tight Lamesa defense which hasn't yielded a touchdown all season.

Plainview's Bulldogs, of District 1-AA, journey to El Paso for an engagement with Bowie High of that city.

Brownfield's Cubs, badly battered but as game as they come, try again to break into the victory column at Levelland. But even against the Class A Loboes, the Dougle A Cubs will be district underdogs.

3-A Standings Shuffled

In District 3-A, where the standings were shuffled earlier this week when an Abernathy player was declared ineligible (resulting in forfeiture of three games by the Antelopes), one important encounter is on the docket. Crosbyton and Sour, currently tied with Lockney for second place, battle it out at Sour. The loser will be virtually eliminated from the title scramble.

Floydada, the 3-A pacesetter, is expected to have little trouble with eighth-place Matador at Matador. Lockney, bidding to repeat as district champion, will be favored over the visiting Ralls squad. Abernathy, its championship hopes shattered by the ineligibility ruling, will try for its first official conference victory at Paducah. In a non-conference fray, Tulia goes to Lefors.

Two district settos are slated in 4-A North, with Sudan at Morton in the spotlight affair. By winning, Sudan can take over (temporarily, at least) leadership of the circuit, as Littlefield is idle this week. Muleshoe plays at Sundown in a tilt which finds both teams trying for their first district win.

Slaton Team Favored

In 4-A South, Slaton's favored Tigers play hosts to the winless Seagraves Eagles. Post, the loop leader, steps outside the district to meet Snyder at Snyder.

A full five-game card is set in 5-A. As mentioned earlier, front-running Kermit squares off against Seminole at Seminole Saturday night. Other 5-A games involving South Plains elevens are Denver City at Fort Stockton and Andrews at Monahans.

Olton's Mustangs, perched at the top of the 3-B standings, lay their perfect district record on the line at Farwell. Hale Center, Olton's foremost challenger, entertains tough Springlake. Dimmitt travels to Anton, Friona to Whitharral and Spade to Amherst in other 3-B games.

Both Ropesville and Meadow, the top teams in 4-B, face stern tests. Meadow is at Idalou for a tussle with the defending champion Wildcats. Ropesville, sporting an unscored-on record conference competition, is at home against strong New Deal. Frenship plays at Cooper, and Plains at Whiteface in other district engagements. Petersburg is pitted against Kress in a non-conference clash.

Rice "Lineman Of Week" Surprised

HOUSTON, Oct. 20 (AP) — James Alvis (Froggy) Williams, anchor of the Rice line, said today "I'm surprise as all get-out" over being named lineman of the week by the Associated Press.

But it wasn't anything startling to others around the Rice football bailiwick. Coach Jess Neely said it was richly deserved and Williams "is an All-America without doubt. He has been a consistently good player for us for four years, is an excellent student and a fine boy. I am very proud of him."

And Froggy's girl friend—his sweetheart since junior high school days—pretty Miss Robbie Lochridge of Waco, knew it all the time. "He was my championship quarterback in junior high," she murmured and indicated he still was even if he now plays end. Miss Lochridge sees him in every game.

Williams earned the national honor by his great play against Southern Methodist last week when he scored two touchdowns, set up two more, kicked five extra points and brought the comment from Coach Matty Bell of SMU that "he's an All-America if ever there was one." Williams sparked Rice to a 41-27 victory over Southern Methodist.

NMMI To Test Raider Frosh

New Mexico Military Institute will furnish the competition for football squad Saturday night as the Picadors return to action again.

The junior Red Raiders will leave Lubbock Friday for Roswell, where they will face their second gridiron test of the year. Coach Allie White intends to take at least 35 boys to Roswell and while he doesn't predict victory, he is looking for it. He wants to add a scalp to the 59-7 shellacking handed the West Texas State college freshmen.

Team Has Improved

Coach White believes his team is somewhat improved over its last appearance because of almost daily workouts with the Tech varsity. The freshmen, in the main, have been using plays of Tech's foes and may present a varied offensive in Roswell.

Tech probably will start the same crew which did so well against West Texas; All-Stater Jimmie Williams, Phillips, center; All-Stater Buddy Barron, Temple, and Don Gray, Breckenridge, guards; Marlan Ribble, Arlington Heights, Fort Worth, and Charles Goff, McAllen, tackles; All-Stater Alton Linne, Monahans, and James Thames, Alvarado, ends; Carl Madison, Atmore, Ala., all-stater quarterback; All-Stater Waldo Young, Monahans, left halfback; W. H. Barker, Colorado City, right halfback; and Ronnie Miller, Albany, fullback.

Frosh Line Holds

In the West Texas game the Tech line gave little ground, while backs ran wild and passers hit 12 of 21 tosses, including four touchdown heaves. Thames caught all eight passes which went his way; Barker turned in 60 and 85 yard touchdown runs; Miller kicked all five conversions he tried; and Young ran the closing punt back 70 yards for a TD, crossing the goal line after time ran out.

Winners Are Named In Women's Tourney

The regular Wednesday meeting of the Women's Golf association was held yesterday at Lubbock Country club, and a three-way tie resulted in the 18-hole flight.

Play was for blind bogie, and Mesdames T. L. Sampson, Billie Soash and Culver Hill were low with 47. Taking putting honors was Mrs. Wayne Prather with 14 strokes.

Tech Hit By Injuries

Rathbone Hurt During Drill

A pessimist is a man who can follow the medical fortunes of the Texas Tech football squad and still think that he has troubles.

The Red Raiders have had more than their share of minor and major injuries so far this season. And almost every time that they seem almost to be at full strength, something else happens.

Latest casualty to the Raiders is Milton Rathbone, the fine passing quarterback. Rathbone fell during practice Tuesday and injured his right knee to the extent that he will be out of action at least a week.

May See Service

When he first was injured, it was not thought to be serious, but further examination Wednesday disclosed torn ligaments in his knee. After two doctors finished probing, they declared that he would be out at least two weeks and possibly the remainder of the season.

If there is improvement during the next seven days, marked improvement, he may be able to return for limited action. If there isn't much improvement, he'll probably be sidelined for the rest of the season.

The loss of the quarterback leaves Tech with just two signal men, Ernest Hawkins and Bill Lyman. John Moughon, the fine-looking sophomore, could play, but the coaches would rather keep him out of action this year so that he'd have three full years of activity.

Tech yesterday settled down to dummy scrimmage in preparation for the game here Saturday afternoon against Arizona, which will furnish the opposition in Tech's second Border Conference game of the year.

Coach Dell Morgan took various defensive units over to the practice field, one by one, to work against plays Coach Bob Winslow's eleven probably will use. Coach Polk Robison sent the freshmen squad through the most popular plays and the Raiders showed some signs of improvement.

Coach G. B. Morris and Coach Tipp Mooney, meanwhile, were whipping the varsity through a long, steady offensive dummy drill. Emphasis was on blocking, which hasn't been good all year, on the whole. As the session wore on, linemen were making blocks better and opening the secondary for the backs.

Arizona indicated yesterday that they hope it is cold and wet in Lubbock Saturday. Winslow sent the squad through a two-hour scrimmage with the temperatures in the low 40s and rain pouring down. The squad was divided into four teams which alternated on defense and offense.

It was the final hard workout of the week for the Wildcats, who entrain Friday night for Lubbock. Winslow said that Thursday's workout will be light.

At the conclusion of the Raider practice session, Coach Morgan said that there was noticeable improvement on the Tech squad this week. He was unhappy, though, about the large number of minor injuries on the squad.

"It seems like every time we walk on the field, some one hurts an ankle, an elbow, a back, a shoulder or something else. "We're snakebit this year."

WALKER "VERY SICK" WITH FLU

SMU Grid Team To Win For "Doaker"

By WILBUR MARTIN
Associated Press Sports Writer

Southern Methodist university football players had a battle cry for the Kentucky game:

"Win for Doak."

The players gathered in a secret meeting yesterday and Fullback Dick McKissack reportedly told them they had to beat undefeated, untied Kentucky in the Cotton bowl Saturday "for Doak."

Doak Walker, the Mustang's All-America quarterback, is in the hospital with the flu. He was taken there yesterday afternoon and his doctor said he was "very sick" though not "seriously sick."

Walker will miss the Kentucky game and may not be in shape for the game with the University of Texas Oct. 29.

While the loss of Walker staggered supporters of Southern Methodist, there was a note of gloom at at least one other Southwest conference school.

There was also two denials that head coaches planned to quit.

Rice Coach Jess Neely said his team looked "very, very bad," in practice yesterday.

"I've never seen a team let down so much in a few days time," he declared.

Rice stomped Southern Methodist, 41-27, last week. It meets Texas this week.

Texas Christian university Coach L. R. (Dutch) Meyer denied a report he planned to quit at the end of the season. An official of Southern Methodist university denied Matty Bell was stepping down.

Dr. E. D. Mouzon, chairman of the athletic council of Southern Methodist, labeled as "pure bunk" a report that Bell would quit and be succeeded by Assistant Coach H. N. (Rusty) Russell.

Lubbock, Wichita Falls Are Favored

Pampa Picked Over Lamesa

By ED FITE
United Press Sports Writer

The state's select circle of unbeaten, untied schoolboy football teams appears to be in for a sizeable trimming this week.

Of the nine perfect records teams playing on the 49-game schedule, one definitely will fall when Highland Park and Wichita Falls collide in the top attraction of the week, while Lamesa and Galena Park seem in definite danger and Lubbock's contest with Amarillo certainly can not be listed as a cinch.

Only Ysleta, Grand Prairie, Marshall and Henderson—plus Port Arthur and Corsicana, which do not play—seem safe.

Lamesa runs into a double tough Pampa team that gave Wichita Falls and Lubbock trouble aplenty before bowing and Lamesa doesn't appear to be in a class with the Coyotes and Westerners.

Galena Park meets once-beaten Galveston in its first real test of the season.

Lubbock Is Picked

Ysleta plays Borger, Grand Prairie meets Mineral Wells, Marshall plays Beaumont South Park and Henderson engages Tyler.

We're picking Lamesa and Galena Park to lose, but sticking with Lubbock. Wichita Falls is our choice over the pass-minded Scotties.

Our luck was a bit better last week as we picked 37 out of 50 with two ties for a .760 average. That gave us a season mark of .731 on 225 right and 19 ties out of 321 games.

This week's schedule, by districts (our picks marked with "W"):

Class AA.

1—Friday: Lubbock (W) at Amarillo, Lamesa at Pampa (W).

2—Friday: Hollis, Okla., (W) at Quanah, Highland Park at Wichita Falls (W).

3—Friday: Brownfield at Levelland (W).

5—Friday: Breckenridge (W) at Brownwood.

6—Friday: Cisco at Stephenville (W-X), Grand Prairie (W) at Mineral Wells.

Denton Is Favored

7—Friday: McKinney (W) at Greenville, Bonham at Denison (W-X), Sherman (W) at Gainesville (X).

8—Friday: Denton (W) at Sulphur Springs (X).

9 — Friday: Texarkana (W) at Gladewater (X), Beaumont South Park at Marshall (W), Kilgore at Longview (W-X), Tyler at Henderson (W-X).

10—Friday: Jacksonville at Nacogdoches (W-X), Palestine (W) at Bryan (X), Conroe (W) at Lufkin (X).

KNOTT GETS POST

DALLAS, Oct. 20. (AP) — Jack Knott, one-time big league player and scout, is the new business manager for Austin of the Class B Big State baseball league. Knott said yesterday he had signed a contract and planned to move to Austin to assume his duties Nov. 1.

Between the Lines by Joe Kelly

THE Day, as opposed to "De" Day, is approaching with infinite slowness. It almost seems as though the 24-hour period from one day to the next was doubling up to make time go slower. Friday night seems like an inestimable space away. And yet this is Thursday and tomorrow night teams from Lubbock and Amarillo finally get together to settle this year's supremacy between the two cities. For the benefit of the 4,000 fans and more going from here to Amarillo for the game, we'd like to say that this is unofficially the game of the year for Lubbock. Even though the tilt doesn't count in the district standings, most persons would rather see Lubbock beat Amarillo than win the state championship.

On the other hand, Coach Pat Pattison is taking the smart viewpoint of considering it just another game on the schedule. All of which doesn't mean that he's not scratching his thin hair these nights figuring out ways to win. He is. Moreover, he already has devised ways and means to confuse the Golden Sandies. If they work, all will be well, except that a certain party named Bull, Howard Lynch to you, who coaches the Sandies, also will be scratching his thin hair this week coming up with ways and means to stop Lubbock. In spite of all efforts made by both coaches, both squads probably will consider it the game of the year for them. Anything can happen and probably will.

Further investigation, spurred by telephone calls from Lockney and Floydada, seems to shed new light on the case of the ineligible Abernathy player. Fred Miller of Abernathy, in all good faith, says that they did not intentionally violate conference rules and we believe him. For that matter, we think that the other superintendents in the conference do also. Fred said last night that "I'm not bitter at anyone. Members of the district committee are my friends and I want them to be my friends when it's all over." That seemed to be the feeling of other committee members. But this is th history on the case of Wayne Wolf.

A meeting was held on Sept. 7 at which time question of eligible players arose. Fred brought up Wolf's case at that time and the committee told him to investigate thoroughly. If he were satisfied, so would be the committee. Other players were ruled on at that time. At a later meeting, Wolf's name was not mentioned by anyone, although more than one school believed him not eligible. As a result, a meeting was called Oct. 12 to decide on his eligibility. Not enough evidence was produced, one way or the other, to prove anything, so the district committee charged that it could do nothing until more definite proof on ineligibility was secured.

Such proof was obtained and a special meeting was called for Monday night, with only Tulia's superintendent absent. At that time sworn affidavits proving ownership of property in Petersburg, including REA and telephone subscription, was presented to the committee. In addition, a letter from Dr. Rhea Williams, TIL director, was presented in which Dr. Williams said that while he could not rule, he would interpret the player in question to be ineligible. Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Wolf gave as their address Route 1, Petersburg. According to Article 8, Section 13, of the TIL, parents must not resige outside the district in which a player is participating. This was the basis for a secret vote by the committee, a vote that unanimously ruled him ineligible.

I. T. Graves, district chairman from Floydada, regrets the entire situation and hastens to assure the public that it was not a case of two teams getting beaten and then complaining. The protest already had been made long before a game was played. Graves also is sorry that ill will has been promoted and hopes the entire thing dies down immediately. Sid Reeves, Lockney superintendent, was quick to admit that he filed a protest, but said that he did it to protect the faithful Lockney players, who worked hard and honestly and deserved fair treatment. He also regrets the situation, hopes there are no hard feelings and is sincere in his statement that the entire situation could have been avoided if action had been taken earlier.

We are quick to agree with all individuals. It is an unfortunate situation, one which created considerable ill feeling all around. But the more we have learned on the case, the more we feel that it was an honest mistake on Abernathy's part and that the district committee did the only thing that it could do. We hope that feelings die down quickly on the part of all member schools and that tranquility returns to District 3-A. It can be summed up as Fred Miller making an honest mistake and the district protecting their football squads. There should be no revenge feeling remaining. The sooner the incident is forgotten, the better it will be for all parties concerned.

New Drive Slated On "Bonus Rule"

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 20 (AP)—Baseball's "noble experiment—" the bonus rule—is under attack again.

Conceived in 1946, nursed through 1947 and 1948, and subject to a minor operation in 1949, the law still is an eye-sore to many major and minor league club owners.

The most outspoken critic of the rule is Bob Carpenter, president of the Philadelphia Phillies.

The 33-year-old Philly boss has opposed the rule since its adoption by the major and minor leagues in Los Angeles in December, 1946. Since then he has led several unsuccessful fights for its repeal.

Parks Defeats Fenton In Go

Canada came out the winner in the wrestling feature at Sled Allen's arena last night, with Herb Parks of North Bay, Ontario, beating Rod Fenton of Alberta, Canada, in the All-Canadian final.

The Northern province drew all the cheers last night as Parks withstood a heavy pounding by Fenton to take both falls without losing a decision. The near capacity crowd enjoyed the good match and approved the result.

But the best match of the night was the semi-final, where a pair of riotous old timers put on a show that put the younger wrestlers in the shade. Al Getz and Alex Kasaboski, both of whom are almost fathers to the present crop of wrestlers, staged a semi-final that had the crowd shouting most of the time. And all they got out of it was a draw.

In the preliminary, Charley Carr stopped Dick Brooks in a good curtain raiser.

Parks and Fenton, who argued afterwards as to which was the gateway to the north, Edmonton or North Bay, did most of their arguing in the ring. Fenton cuffed up the North Bay wrestler early and opened a slight cut on his forehead. It didn't stop Parks, who took a gruelling first fall decision in 17 minutes when Fenton was disqualified for throwing Parks over the ropes.

Parks came back in the second fall to win in 12 minutes with a series of drop kicks and inside stepover toehold. It was a bruising match and had the crowd howling for Parks to apply the finisher.

Kasaboski won the first fall from Getz in 24 minutes with a reverse crab, after the two old timers had shown the crowd some fine wrestling. It was an interesting match, with plenty of action.

Solon Asks Study Of Proposed Merger For Telegraph Systems

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—A full congressional study of the Western Union company's proposal for a single national telegraph system was promised today by Senator McFarland (D-Ariz.)

McFarland, chairman of a Senate communications subcommittee, said the plan submitted by Walter P. Marshall, president of Western Union, will be taken up when Congress meets again in January.

Marshall, in a letter McFarland made public yesterday, said "this nation should have a single record communications company under private management and with appropirate government regulation for the protection of the public."

Western Union should be the nucleus of such a system, Marshall said, adding that the company is prepared, under certain conditions, to:

Depends On Legislation

1. Buy the national and international telegraph business of the American Telephone and Telegraph Co., American Cable and Radio Corp., RCA Communications, Inc., and any other telegraph carrier operating in the United States.

2. Cooperate with the national defense establishment in developing an integrated system of domestic communications, making use of all the most advanced technological methods.

Marshall said his proposals were dependent on the enactment by Congress of necessary legisaltion, satisfactory negotiations for purchase and the availability of credit for financing.

His recommendations, he said, would assume the nation of "a sound, solvent and aggressive record communications system both in the domestic and international field and would permit effective competition between the three forms of rapid communiactions" —telegraph, voice and airmail.

He said the time long since has passed when competing companies in the three fields of rapid communication "have any economic desirability."

Operating At Loss

Western Union, operating at a loss, "is now at a cirtical point in its history," Marshall said, and cannot continue to spend "vast sums in technological improvement of its art" under present competitive handicaps.

Marshall blamed the company's deficits on competition from the teletypewriter systems of telephone companies and the federal government's own communication systems, plus the 25 per cent federal excise tax on telegraph messages.

McFarland wrote in reply:

"I am afraid the facts support your conclusion that unless a better policy is worked out for our communications system, Western Union will be compelled to merge with a government system or some competing form of service."

Bowling Results

Fast action predominated in the Business Bowling league last night, and Mark Halsey's, Dahlson Furniture and Household Supply won three games each from their opponents.

Two 507 series aided Mark Halsey in downing Stanolind, with Moore rolling 218-507 and Ed Hendrix, sr., 181-507. Maciula was high for the losers with 168-490.

Pee Wee Bean paced Reeves Insurance with 205-575, but Dahlson's won three games anyway. For the winners L. D. Cunningham had 178-506.

Household Supply didn't need its handicap in defeating Hub Laundry three games to none, and Buckner shouldered a large part of the load with a 187-550 series that was tops. O. C. Bumpass was high for the losers, and he kegled 196-528.

In the final match West Texas Gas and Sears split, but the Gassers held a two-and-one game edge. E. L. Donelson scored 165-458 for West Texas Gas, and Homer Wright paced Sears with 168-475.

LEAGUE RESULTS GIVEN

Only one team was able to gain a split in Commercial league bowling last night, with Southwest Public Service winning one game and dropping two to No Name 7. The other three matches were won by three-game victories, with Russell-Hardin, Nelson Electric and No Name 3 on the winning end. High individual game and series honors were taken by Maxine Buckner of Russell Hardin with 210-548 as she enabled her team to defeat No Name 3 three games to none. Bennie McNally rolled a respectable 181-513 for the same team, and Judy Burns' 127-370 was high for the losers, operating with a 50 point handicap.

Hemphill-Wells could not overcome the 56-point handicap of Nelson Electric and bowed without a game. High series in this match was Hemphill's Artie Reed with 173-497, and Snes Green rolled 181-478 for the winners.

No Name 3 took a decided step upward in the standings with a triple win over Lubbock Tailoring, and L. Williams and B. Slover led the way with 180-469 and 180-469 series respectively. The best effort by the Tailors was Gail Tyson's 162-435 series.

In the final match No Name 7 took the measure of Southwest Public Service in two games, with Irene Daniels splitting pins for 162-438. Flo Christensen had 161-433 and Brittie Bledsoe 162-426 for Southwestern.

Dunbar Will Battle Odessa Here Tonight

Dunbar's Panthers will attempt to hit the victory trail again tonight when they meet Odessa at 8 o'clock at Chapman field.

The Panthers lost their last two games, both played away from home, with Wichita Falls winning, 12-6, and Abilene, 19-0. Dunbar earlier defeated Hobbs, 40-12, Amarillo, 20-7, and Midland, 27-7.

Coach Damon Hill is expecting the Dunbar team to snap back with a victory tonight. Center Odell Gary, who came down with a light pneumonia attack last week in Abilene, is back in school but not likely to play.

Admission to the game will be 74 and 30 cents.

Pioneers To Tangle With Levelland "B"

The Lubbock High school Pioneers travel to Levelland today for a 7 p. m. date with the Levelland "B" team, and in a home game Dunbar's Panthers entertain Odessa at Chapman field at 8 o'clock.

A tough contest is expected with Levelland's B team, and the Pioneers will be playing hard for a victory. The Pioneers have one loss, a tie and three victories on their slate, and would like to see another mark in the win column.

The Panthers go after their fourth win against two losses against Odessa.

Other senior high games send the Westerners to Amarillo Friday, and Saturday the Cowhands entertain Odessa's B team in a return game at Chapman field. The only Cowhand loss was to Odessa, a 13-19 decision, and coaches have been working the Lubbock squad hard preparing for the Saturday game.

O. L. Slaton Junior high is scheduled to play at Brownfield this afternoon, and Saturday afternoon J. T. Hutchinson goes to Plainview for a game.

Only one change in the Pioneer lineup is apparent tonight, with Ben West moving into the right guard slot in place of Charles Nix.

Two Persons Hurt In Auto Mishaps Here

Two persons were taken to Lubbock hospitals Wednesday as the result of collisions in and near the city. Neither was seriously hurt.

Miss Alice Armstrong, 18, of Lubbock route 1, was taken to Lubbock Memorial hospital for treatment of face lacerations suffered in a two-car collision on East Broadway near the entrance to Mackenzie park about 7:15 p.m.

Highway patrolmen said the accident occurred as Ralph Eugene Brewer, 22, who was driving west on East Broadway, stopped his car prior to turning left from the thoroughfare. The car in which Miss Armstrong was riding, driven by Billy Glenn Cooper, 19, struck the Brewer vehicle on the left rear fender. Brewer was charged with having no rear lights on his car.

Mrs. Maxine C. Chalmers, 30, of 3202 Thirty-third, was taken to West Texas hospital following an accident at Eighth and Ave. K about 5:30 p.m. She was released after examination.

Billy Jo O'Neal, 24, of Lubbock route 5, was charged with drunkenness, negligent collision by failure to yield right of way, and having no operator's license as a result of the mishap. Police said Mrs. Chalmers was traveling north on Ave. K in a car driven by her husband when the vehicle was struck on the right rear fender by O'Neal's westbound 1941 Oldsmobile.

O'Neal posted three bonds of $100 each in connection with the charges.

TEXAS LADY LOSES 47 POUNDS

The following remarkable story shows conclusively that Barcentrate DOES take off fat.

It contains nothing harmful. In fact, it contains ingredients that make you feel better. No starvation diet—no weakness—no hunger. Barcentrate, the original grapefruit juice recipe, takes off fat quickly, safely and you can eat plenty.

Here is proof

Here is what Mrs. H. P. Bishop, Route 2, Stamford, Texas, wrote us:

"I am very glad to endorse Barcentrate, so please accept my sincere thanks and appreciation for the great benefit I derived from its use. I not only lost weight, but also looked and felt better in every way.

"I had to have a very serious operation and was told that I must lose a lot of weight before the operation could be performed. I went on a diet and tried very hard to reduce, but wasn't losing much weight until I heard of Barcentrate. I began taking it and could soon tell the difference in the way I felt and the weight I was losing. I weighed 200 pounds when I started and I lost a total of 47 pounds and was able to undergo my operation. I can truthfully recommend it to others, since it did so much for me."

At all druggists

If you are overweight and want to take off ugly fat, just go to your druggist and ask for four ounces of liquid Barcentrate. Pour this into a pint bottle and add enough grapefruit juice to fill bottle. Then take just two tablespoonfuls twice a day. If the very first bottle doesn't show you the simple, safe way to take off weight, return the empty bottle for your money back.

Varied Intramural Program Announced

George Philbrick, Tech athletic instructor, has announced a wider and more varied intramural sports program at the college, with touch football and tennis already in full swing on the campus.

In addition to the late fall sports and hangover sports from summer, handball and bowling has been added to the program and competition in these events should begin before October ends. In the spring, golf and fencing, added to the program this year, will be undertaken.

SERVICE BALKS

GREENVILLE, S. C. (U.P.) — The Red Cross hated to turn down the woman who wanted $30 to get her son home. But, explained the Home Service program, it had no provision for furnishing bond. He was in jail.

INFORMATION RELAYED TO WIFE

Secret Radio Transmitters Operated By Convict Found

HOUSTON, Oct. 20 (AP)—Three clandestine radio transmitters operated by a prisoner have been seized at the Mississippi penitentiary at Parchman, Miss.

Joe McKinney, Federal Communications commission regional manager said they were operated by Frank Moody, serving 50 years for armed robbery.

He said Moody had been making illicit daily broadcasts from the prison for four years.

Here is the story McKinney told the Houston Post:

For the past three months Moody had been using the transmitters in a campaign to obtain an indefinite suspension of sentence from Mississippi Gov. Fielding Wright.

FCC Is Notified

Receiving the broadcasts were persons at Pascagoula and Bucatunna, Miss. They in turn relayed the information to Moody's wife to help her plea for Moody's release.

Early in October two maateur radio operators, one in Arkansas and one in Tennessee, advised the Federal Communications commission in Washington of strange broadcasts.

By use of long range direction-finders FCC agents localized the unlicensed broadcasts to a 100-mile area. Mobile direction finders went into the Parchman area and localized the section from which the broadcasts were originating.

Sunday federal men entered the trustees' cage at Parchman. Moody was summoned.

Equipment Is Found

"He saw the game was up," McKinney said, "grinned, and took us to his cot. After we had acquired the two transmitters there he took us to the little four by six guardhouse and pointed out the other one."

Prison Supt. Marvin Wiggins told the Houston Post:

"We had no idea whatever of Moody's radio activities until the federal men tipped us off three weeks ago."

The FCC men had been monitoring Moody's daily broadcasts for three weeks. He went on the air each morning at 5 o'clock and talked steadily to Pascagoula or Bucatunna until 7:30 a. m. His transmitter in the guardhouse enabled him to continue his broadcasts during his hours of duty there, McKinney said.

To Lose Privileges

As a trusty, Moody, now only 28, although he had been a prisoner for 10 years for his last offense, had many privileges. He was permitted to take correspondence courses in radio and became the prison radio mechanic and repairman.

"He's a mighty smart fellow," Wiggins said. "We let him have various radio parts as elements of his training and he certainly made the most of them."

"When Wiggins found out what Moody was up to," McKinney said, "he certainly put a crimp in Moody's clemency plans. Any action that might have been taken was no longer in question. And we were informed that Moody will lose his trusty status and all his privileges," McKinney said.

The penalty for unlicensed broadcasting is a maximum fine of $10,000 and two years imprisonment.

Higher Taxes

gress which he said passed a rich man's tax reduction bill.

Told that Dr. Edwin G. Nourse, resigning chairman of the economic advisory council, had said he was unhappy over deficit financing, the President said he was just as unhappy, as who isn't.

Has No Recourse

The President said he doesn't believe in deficit financing. But he commented that there is a flat charge of $35,000,000,000 against the government and he has no recourse but to meet it the best way he can.

Then someone asked if he had any remedy which would involve a request for a revision of the tax structure.

He said it may require a raise in taxes and then went on to say he doesn't know of any other way to meet the deficit.

He said the deficit was brought about through no fault of the President.

Mr. Truman gave reporters permission to quote the following answer to the question as to whether he might request tax revision:

"Certainly, we've got to find money to run the government and that's all there is to it."

Southpaw Dads Said Best Diaper Pinners

FRENCH LICK, Ind., Oct. 20 (INS)—Left-handed fathers are the best at pinning up their offspring's diapers.

This statement was made today at the National Institute of Diapers Service at French Lick, which has just completed a survey of 5,000 families.

street side of Senior High school and arrive in Amarillo about 6 p. m. The buses will leave immediately after the game and parents were advised to meet the returning buses between 1:30 and 2 o'clock Saturday morning at the Eighteenth street side of the building.

Short School Schedule

The Senior High school will observe a short schedule Friday. The building opens at 8:25, students are tardy at 8:30 a. m. Classes will be conducted from 8:30 to 1:30 p. m.

"We are asking the cooperation of parents in not requesting that students leave early to go to Amarillo," Honey said. "We are making a special concession in running a short schedule which counts as a full day of school."

School bus students will not be counted tardy if they arrive late.

Ticket sales for the busses continued until 4:30 o'clock this afternoon. Round trip fare was $2.75.

Advised To Take Lunches

Students were advised to take sack lunches on the buses, as arrival time in Amarillo is 6 p. m. and the buses leave downtown for the stadium at 6:45, giving little time to eat in Amarillo restaurants.

Hurley Carpenter of TNM & O Coaches said the buses would be staggered at half-mile intervals on the trip.

Capt. E. L. Posey of the Texas Highway Patrol urged motorists to use extreme caution. He announced that the Lubbock district office will have six patrol cars on the highway and traffic laws will be rigidly enforced. The Amarillo district office will also patrol the highway.

Cooperation Is Necessary

Capt. Posey admitted that the heavy highway traffic and possible after-game revelry provided a perfect situation for possible disaster on the highway.

"We could have 100 cars patrolling the highway and still fail if we don't get cooperation of the motorists," he commented.

Meanwhile, R. H. Forbes, Santa Fe passenger agent, estimated 300 persons or more would ride a special gridiron train which leaves for Amarillo at 4 p. m. Friday. He urged persons to pick up tickets as soon as possible in order that the railroad can provide most comfortable transportation.

Amarillo fans will provide "courtesy cars" to meet the train and carry Lubbock fans to the game or elsewhere.

The train will leave Amarillo on the return trip an hour after the game.

Daily Market Reports

Stock Market

STOCKS ON DECLINE

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—Prospects for higher taxes next year apparently frightened away stock buyers in today's market.

Stock prices started to decline in mid-morning just about the time President Truman indicated he would be forced to ask Congress for higher taxes.

The decling was slow but no support showed up until the last few minutes of trading. Closing quotations in some cases were above the lows of the day.

Rising tendencies appeared for a while after the opening of the market but they soon disappeared. Losses extended to more than a point for key issues. Only a handful managed to stay above water.

The President also indicated that he had no plans to effect a quick settlement of the coal and steel strikes, which may have influenced selling too.

The market started off at a fast clip and big blocks of stocks were splattered all over the ticker tape. Business slowed as prices slipped but turnover hit a rate of around 1,300,000 shares for the full session.

Douglas Aircraft was a strong spot through the session. The price jumped around 3 points following news after the close yesterday that directors had voted a special dividend of $1.50 a share.

American Woolen was hampered by an unfavorable earnings report and the price dropped more than a point.

done for people and face the fact that it is confusion and bewilderment in religion," he said. The war had its effect indirectly, but many good people are confused and bewildered theologically, he said.

"The place for most of them to get their help," he added, "is at the altar—in church or at home.

"I beg you today for your sake, your friends' sake, the world's sake and for Christ's sake to forget, in your preaching at least, for awhile that the atom bomb may end all living. Let us stress the fact that there is no great living without faith in God. If the atom bomb did come, it would kill many, but it is my idea the brush, the forest (used as synonyms for confusion and bewilderment) will devour more than the bomb or sword."

Others Will Speak

Bishop William C. Martin of Dallas led a worship session opening the morning program and also presided for the session. The two-day meeting which opened this morning is being held as part of the "Advance for Christ and His Church" four-year program of the Methodist church.

Mrs. B. B. Wedemeyer of Waco was to speak at 2:30 p. m. on "Methodist women and the Deepening of Our Faith." Carl S. McFall of Frederick, Okla., was to speak at 3 p. m. on "Methodist Men in a Day of Christian Advance." A forum hour was to follow on the missionary emphasis in the Advance program.

Youth Meeting Set

A youth meeting will be conducted from 6:30 to 7:30 o'clock tonight in St. John's Methodist church under leadership of Bishop Hazen G. Werner of Columbus, O.

An evening worship program will follow at 8 p. m. in First Methodist church and will be open to all Methodists wishing to attend and any others interested. Bishop Werner will speak on "Our Christian Conception of the Worth of Man."

In the session this morning, Dr. Robinson substituted for Dr. Warren Johnston of Fort Worth, who was unable to attend.

Changes Are Listed

Elaborating on her comments this morning on disruption in family life, Dr. Duvall listed several changes.

Place In Home Needed

As result of the industrialized age, families no longer are held together by economic necessity. Another factor in the change is that families "are more on the go," not being rooted on the old home site as they once were. A third factor is that families "are considerably more democratic," having moved away from the autocratic age when papa was undisputed head of the house, children were to be seen and not heard and frequently were hushed when the father arrived.

The trend toward numerous activities outside the home has led to "more individualization in living" and each family member needs a place—in the home—where he can be accepted and heard and therefore talk through and feel his anxieties and disappointments and worries and dreams.

Project For Community

In that respect, the modern family has more opportunity than the family in grandmother's day. Grandmother was busy making her bread and churning her milk and doing many other duties and did not have time to listen to talk and consider the emotional security of her family. "Rearing children is not a job for parents alone, but is a community project," she said.

To strengthen family life, churches can provide more adequate pre-marital counseling, she said. She suggested pastors equip themselves for such counseling. They can provide more adequate marriage counseling, so married couples may find a place to get the kind of help they need.

Churches can provide wholesome recreation for teen-age boys and girls to get acquainted and develop patterns of social life, she said.

Further, specific education should be offered, especially in the church, where those taking part can learn what it means to be a husband or wife; to be a father or mother.

Churches can expand parent education, getting groups of parents of children of given ages together with the object of getting parents to think through their own confusion on child rearing.

"We aren't going to help our children in the way we were reared," she said. Such parent education classes could help the parent to know what to do when trouble arises, as well as to receive guidance in daily living.

Such courses might be taught by a pastor, a director of religious education or a mother with advanced training. Excellent materials for such courses are available, she said.

Works Published

The speaker has two children. Her husband, Dr. Sylvanus M. Duvall, is professor of social science and religion at George Williams college in Chicago.

Mrs. Duvall is author of "Building Your Marriage" and "Keeping Up with Teen-Agers," both of which were published by the Public Affairs committee, Inc., of New York; "Family Handbook,' issued by NBC following a series of network programs presented by Mrs. Duvall, "When You Marry," which was published in 1945 and was a Book of the Month selection, and was co-authorer with her husband in "Marriage is What You Make It" and "Leading Parents Groups."

She is associate editor of "Marriage and family living," journal of the National Council on Family Relations, published quarterly. She was co-chairman with Reuben Hill of the committee on Dynamics of Family Interaction for the National Conference on Family Life in May of 1948.

Program Given

She has taught in several colleges and universities.

Speeches will be given Friday morning by Bishop Martin and by Bishop Ralph B. Cushman of St. Paul, Minn. A forum hour will be conducted on "Where We Are and Where We Go Next in the Advance," with preaching and teaching emphasis. The two-day meeting is a part of the "Advance for Christ and His Church" four-year program in the Methodist church. The Friday morning closing session will be conducted from 8:30 a. m. to 12 noon, preceded by communion service from 7:30 to 8:30 a. m.

Rent Controls

bring decontrol to Texas. The late governor, after much soul-searching, signed it—in the face of federal pressure.

It was the Moore bill that became effective today, wiping out the last remnant of rent control.

To their fellow landlords, TAPOA gave this counsel:

"We urge all property owners to use their newly gained freedom reasonably . . . do not harbor grudges or attempt retaliation toward tenants as a class, because that would be un-American . . . we earnestly urge property owners of Texas not to raise rents unreasonably."

Freedom for landlords was nothing new for many towns aid cities.

With Amarillo the first to take such action, some two dozen had secured decontrol last spring and summer by action of their local governing bodies, as provided by the national rent control law.

Dallas, however, was the only one of the four maor metropolitan areas to take decontrol on a local basis. To the other big cities—Houston, Fort Worth and San Antonio—it was a new thing, this landlord freedom, after seven years of federal control.

unexpected cold wave endangered their crops and ranchers in the Dakotas were warned to protect their stock against possible deep snow.

A cold front that hit the west was creeping eastward, carrying freezing rain, snow and sleet into the upper Mississippi valley after scourging the Rockies and much of the Pacific coast.

Mercury On Dive

Temperatures sank below freezing far into Southern California. Mountain cities report lows of 10 degrees and minimums of 22 to 25 frequent in Colorado. Seattle, Wash., and Portland, Ore., expected lows of 27. The eastern part of the country, enjoyed balmy weather, however, with the mercury expected to climb to 70 today at New York.

In advance of the cold front, a broad band of drizzling showers straddled the nation along the Mississippi from Canada to the Gulf of Mexico.

High winds also did considerable damage along the Pacific shoreline. The city of Redondo Beach, Cal., voted $34,000 to repair its battered sea wall. A 165-foot fishing barge, the Manana, was capsized there.

Meanwhile, two storms on the Atlantic plagued ships carrying 10,000 passengers and even the mighty Cunard liner Queen Elizabeth was late to arrive in New York.

Woman Fails To Kill Rival

MARSHFIELD, Mo., Oct. 20 (U.P.) —Mary Margaret Evans, an attractive, though bruised, telephone girl, sat in jail today charged with the attempted sleeping tablet murder of the wife of her lover.

Her intended victim, Mrs. Rex Rainey, 42, wife of a local undertaker, was recovering in a hospital from injuries received in defending herself from the 31-year-old Miss Evans.

On Business Trip

Police sought Rainey, believed to be in Kansas City on a business trip at the time of the attempt yesterday on the life of his wife.

The shapely Miss Evans admitted to police that she came 25 miles from Springfield, Mo., armed with a stomach pump, chloroform, sleeping tablets, a box of red pepper, a flashlight, rubber gloves and a toy pistol intending to commit a "perfect crime."

She explained her motive as the "climax of a five year love affair with Mrs. Rainey's husband."

She put the red pepper in her shoes, she said, because she read once that would prevent bloodhounds from trailing her.

She said she planned to chloroform Mrs. Rainey and use the stomach pump to administer a solution of sleeping tablets and water while the victim was unconscious.

Mrs. Rainey was alone and sleeping in an apartment of the undertaking establishment when the younger woman placed a wad of chloroform-saturated cotton under her nose, Miss Evans told police.

The undertaker's wife awoke and started fighting. Although she was beaten on the head with a flashlight and the toy pistol, she seized Miss Evans' wrist, bit her hand and tore a rubber glove from three fingers, fracturing one finger.

Apartment A Shambles

The apartment was left a shambles.

Miss Evans broke away, she said, and drove back to Springfield. She was arrested when a friend with whom she left her torn and blood-spattered clothing called authorities.

Mrs. Rainey was sent to a Springfield hospital with severe bruises.

A former Marshfield resident, Miss Evans moved to Springfield four years ago but continued seeing Rainey, she said. She was a switchboard operator for a plumbing firm.

She said Rainey knew nothing of the murder plot.

Texas Soldier Will Marry Georgia Wac

TOKYO, Oct. 20 (AP)—An Army private from Texas and a WAC sergeant from Georgia are going to be married—and settle down in Georgia.

"There's nothing wrong with Texas," said Pfc. Robert E. Noble, Dallas. "We just decided we'd live in Georgia when we leave the service.

He and Sgt. Montez Hardy of Williamson, Ga., have set their wedding for Oct. 29 here.

Noble, 26, met the 24 year old WAC two years ago while her family was visiting in Texas. They didn't see each other again until about six months ago in Japan.

The bridegroom is slated for discharge next Aug. 1; his fiance, the following October.

"Dear" Hunting Of Hubby Irks Spouse

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20 (AP) —Mrs. Leona Schluessell, 23, told police that her husband went "dear" hunting instead of deer hunting and then married a teen-ager in a shirt Mrs. Schluessell had made for him.

Bus-driver Francis Schluessell, 25, was booked on suspicion of bigamy yesterday on his wife's complaint. She said that he left home Oct. 7 to go hunting but instead wed 16-year-old Carol White in Las Vegas, Nev., the next day.

"What makes me the maddest," Mrs. Schluessell told officers, "is that he not only wore a new white shirt I made for him to marry this girl in but also had the nerve to ask me to finish a pair of slacks for him too."

Home Furniture Is Fire-Damaged Today

Fire that started when a blowtorch blew up and spread flames to paints, lacquers and thinner stock damaged a half to two-thirds of the floor area of Home Furniture shop, at 1918 Nineteenth, this morning, firemen said.

J. S. Scitern, owner, had not announced his estimate of loss, nor had fire adjusters.

Firemen said they answered an alarm about 10:15 o'clock and called in equipment from all three fire stations.

A pumper, three boosters and a hose wagon were employed in fighting the blaze, which threatened briefly to get out of control and spread to Oran Bain's furniture warehouse and a beauty shop to the westward of Home Furniture.

Almost 1,000 feet in two hose lines were laid, and firemen fought the fire with four nozzles.

Other equipment stood by.

Firemen said they had answered one other alarm, at noon. A pile of boxes and crates caught fire at rear of Sandlin Bros. grocery, at Eighth and Ave. M, but damage was slight.

Likely to be emphasized by the president will be plans for expansion of the atomic bomb making project to meet the threat of Russian possession of the destructive weapon.

10 Bills Hanging

Congress left 10 major bills hanging fire when it closed up shop last night with final approval of a new farm price support measure and passage of the foreign arms aid bill.

The House approved and left on the Senate's doorstep bills dealing with displaced persons, social security expansion, a $1,500,000,000 public works program, oleomargarine tax repeal and pension increases for war veterans.

The Senate, in return, passed along to the House a revised version of the Taft-Hartley act (opposed by the administration), a national science foundation bill, and an aid to education measure.

Neither House acted on committee-approved measures for postal rate increases and authorization for Mr. Truman's program of industrial aid to underdeveloped countries.

UMT In Doubt

Not even the committees took seriously the President's proposal for universal military training, but he may revive it again next January.

As Congress went home, it could count among its achievements in 186 actual working days a rounded program of foreign policy legislation. This included extension of the European recovery program, approval of the Atlantic pact, inauguration of military assistance to Europe and continuation of the reciprocal trade agreements authority.

In a statement, Senator Lucas of Illinois, Democratic leader of the Senate, said this proved Congress had "rejected the counsels of the isolationists."

He said it proved further that the lawmakers were "not duped by the propaganda of the pro-communists" who, he said, joined with isolationists in an attempt to wreck the bipartisan foreign policy.

On home issues, Congress voted pay raises for federal employes, from the President on down the line, and upper military salaries. It approved some reorganization plans, extended rent control and voted export controls.

The lawmakers also passed a housing bill, expanded the hospital construction program, authorized rural telephone loans and lifted the minimum wage level from 40 to 75 cents an hour.

But while the work done by Congress met with the approval of administration chiefs, Republican leaders attacked it.

Woman Slain By Daughter

HAYWARD, Calif., Oct. 20. (U.P.) —A 15-year-old bobby soxer, who said she couldn't remember a time when her mother didn't drink, stabbed her parent to death with a kitchen knife last night after a quarrel over her boy friend.

Hysterical and shaking, Celeste Morrow was taken to the Alameda county juvenile detention home, where she was held for investigation of murder.

Body Is Found

In a Spanish-style house in San Lorenzo village nearby, authorities found the body of her mother, Mrs. Celeste Morrow, 41. She had been stabbed between the shoulder blades with an eight-inch knife.

Celeste, whose friends called her "Molly," told authorities a sordid tale of constant drinking in the family home. She said her mother and father, a second engineer aboard the President liner now at sea, went on drinking bouts when he was at home.

"I never had any care or affection," she told authorities between sobs. "My mother didn't want me to have any friends."

Celeste said she came home from school yesterday with a friend, Freddie Klarenbach, 17. Her mother ordered him out of the house, she said. He drove her to the hairdresser.

Grabbed Up Knife

"When I got back home, we argued some more," authorities quoted her.

"I don't know what made me do it. It wasn't any different from any other night."

She said she ran from a bedroom into the kitchen and picked up the knife. Then she returned and plunged it into her mother's back.

"My mother was standing sideways to me in this little room and I killed her."

"My mother struck me at different times and last night she shook me."

Deputies found a half-empty bottle of gin in the house.

Klarenbach told deputies Celeste called him about 6 o'clock. He heard her say:

"I've stabbed by mother. I think she's dead. Help me!"

Unwed Mother And Father May Yet Have Happy Ending

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20 (AP)—There may be a happy ending to the story of a young unwed mother and the 21-year-old GI student-father who wants his baby.

The ex-serviceman, Leroy Hedge, has obtained a court order preventing the baby, born last Saturday, from being placed for adoption, Robert J. Sullivan, Hedge's attorney, said the lad wants to marry the girl, but that "moral and religious" obstacles had prevented it. He also hinted at family opposition.

Hearing Set

Superior Judge Thomas J. Cunningham urged Sullivan to do everything possible to have Hedge and Loretta Miller, 17, married.

"I cannot understand," said the judge, "why they are not married forthwith, since this boy has admitted he is the father of the child."

Hedge filed his unprecedented paternity suit Monday, asking to be declared the legal father of the child.

Yesterday Miss Miller was instructed to appear Nov. 2 to show cause why the order restraining adoption proceedings should not be continued until Hedge's suit comes to trial.

Inquest Verdict Is Returned In Death

An inquest verdict of death resulting from natural causes will be entered by C. E. Lynn, justice of peace and ex-officio coroner, in connection with an investigation into he finding of the body early today of John C. Blohm, 72, of Toledo, O., in a tourist court here, Lynn said.

Blohm, who had stopped overnight en route from a hospital in Florida to Portland, Ore., was accompanied here by Mrs. Blohm and his nurse, Mrs. Mildred Corey. Mrs. Corey found the body at 4:30 o'clock. Death may have been two hours earlier, Dr. Fred P. Kallina, county health officer, said. The victim had suffered high blood pressure.

The body was taken to McDonald Funeral home, which had not announced funeral arrangements. A daughter lives in Portland.

Scientists May Have Discovered Cause Of High Blood Pressure

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20 (AP) — The basic cause of the man-killer, high blood pressure, may have been discovered by two University of Southern California scientists.

One of them, Dr. Morris H. Nathanson, told the Los Angeles heart institute yesterday that the substance believed responsible for the malady is nor-adrenalin. Related to adrenalin, it produces precisely the type of blood pressure humans suffer from, he said.

Dr. Nathanson said he and an an associate, Dr. Harold Miller, found that the substance is secreted in the body. He added that it won't be understood fully until "we learn what it is that causes the bodies of some people to fail to consume nor-adrenalin rapidly enough to keep its pressure action within safe bounds.

"Some breakdown in the mechanism of things that inhibit the substance must be searched for," he declared.

Dr. Morley J. Kert described a new diet which has had "dramatic success" in treating 60 high blood pressure sufferers. Purpose of the diet, he said, is to reduce the amount of sodium from the food. Sodium is largely obtained in the form of salt.

DISCRIMINATION MAY BE WEAKER

Women Sparsely Represented In General Assembly Of UN

By BARBARA BUNDSCHU
United Press Staff Writer

FLUSHING, N. Y., Oct. 20 — The United Nations, concerned since its beginning with the rights of women, has only 15 women among the more than 400 delegates and alternates to the UN general assembly. They hail from 12 of the 59 member nations.

Sixteen other nations list women as advisers, interpreters or top-level secretaries to their assembly delegations.

Fewer At Top Level

In the United Nations secretariat women are better represented numerically. A recent UN survey showed 1,400 women and 1,700 men on the payroll. The women are sparsely represented at top levels, however, with only 26 per cent holding professional rank as opposed to 71 per cent of the men. It must be said, however, that secretaries to top officials, who make more money than many professional workers and wouldn't trade their jobs for anything, are listed below professional level.

Four of the top-ranking delegation women — Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt of the United States, Mrs. Cairine R. Wilson of Canada; Mrs. Sucheta Kirpalani of India, and Senora Carmen Vial De Senoret of Chile—are full-fledged delegates. The other 11, from Australia, Belgium, Denmark, Mexico, the Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, the United Kingdom, and the United States—are alternates.

Serve In Many Jobs

"Certainly we serve without any discrimination," Senora De Senoret said. "I, think that women's representation is increasing, partly, perhaps through the influence of the UN."

Mrs. Wilson feels her own country is more backward in recognizing women in government positions than some of the Latin American nations usually believed to keep their women strictly at home.

In lower echelons of the secretariat women feel there is little discrimination against themeas to sex. They serve as translators, interpreters, protocol officers, and secretaries and assistants in almost every department.

Ann Sheehan, formerly a New York secretary, a watime Spar, and supervisor of a UN secretarial pool, returned recently from eight months in Korea as secretary to the UN mission.

Miss Sheehan said she applied for a job as soon as the UN came to New York, "because I had ideals." She said she'd learned—if only from her typing pool of Americans, British, French, Canadians and Russians — that "it's difficult working with so many different nationalities. It makes me understand the political problems are more difficult than I thought they were."

Her ideals are a little less enthusiastic, Miss Sheehan said, but she still has them and she has what she think i a good job.

DISTRIBUTIVE EDUCATION PROGRAM PROVING SUCCESS

Lubbock Students Earn While They Learn As They Take Jobs With Local Business Firms

Fifty-four students of Senior High school are using down-town and suburban business firms as laboratories for gaining practical experience along with their required three R's and, at the same time are making a total of $1,024 per week in training wages, according to A. B. Reese, coordinator of the distributive education program in Lubbock.

This means that each of the 54 students averages making more than $19 per week, Reese said.

Program Not New

The distributive educaional program is not new to the Lubbock school system. It was begun 20 years ago and each year the program has made it possible for students to gain fundamental knowledge while receiving practical experience. The course is open to all students who plan to make their careers in retail, wholesale or service selling businesses.

This year 38 business firms are cooperating in the training program, main objective of which is to bridge the gap between school and employment for high school graduates. Students receiving that type, training receive laboratory credit as well as their training wage for work done in down-town stores. Work done outside of school is carefully supervised by Reese who also gives students classroom instruction in special distributive education subjects and works with training sponsors and managers during the afternoon to improve the working ability and performance of the students.

Advice Is Offered

Of prime importance in the distributive education program is the advisory committee which is composed of seven members of business firms whose purpose it is to offer advice to school authorities and assist in the program. This year the advisory committee includes: A. W. Lawrance, Mrs. Gladys Workman, M.L. Zukav, Arnold Behrend, J. D. Thomas, A. B. Watkins, and Elmer V. East.

This program is closely related with the business education classes offered in Senior High school. Students who are enrolled receive training in additional subjects to the book-keeping, typing, and shorthand offered in the commercial department since they study stock control, buying, merchandising, selling, advertising, display, personnel work, credit office work, interior decoration, and any other fields associated with retail, wholesale, or service selling work, Reese explained.

This year the firms taking part represent a variety of business firms from retail clothing stores, department stores, theatre, to an advertising agency and an aircraft company.

Cottonseed Support Plan Is Sought

Hearing To Be In Washington

A committee representing farmers, ginners and oil mill operators left Lubbock by airliner late Wednesday for Washington where they are scheduled to present a new plan for handling cottonseed support prices to officials of the Production Marketing association this afternoon.

Members of the group are George A. Simmons, manager of Lubbock Cotton Oil Co.; Roy B. Davis, manager of the Plains Cooperative mill, Lubbock; Ray Grisham, of the Western Cotton Oil Co., Abilene; W. O. Fortenberry, ginner and farmer, New Deal; Logan Sowder, ginner and farmer, Idalou, and G. L. Jackson, farmer, Abernathy.

Rep. George Mahon, requested by long distance telephone to make the arrangements, said PMA officials agreed to confer with the committee in the national capital at 1:30 p.m. today.

The decision to send the committee to Washington followed a meeting of representatives of oil mill operators, ginners and farmers in Lubbock at which agreement was described as unanimous that the present cottonseed support program is unworkable and is costing the cottonbelt "millions of dollars."

The new plan to be presented would involve, in gist, the purchase of cottonseed by the ginner at the prevailing market price and the reimbursement of the producer by the government of the difference between that amount and the government support figure, which is $49.50 a ton.

Dissatisfaction Widespread

The workings of the support program have caused widespread dissatisfaction since it was announced. In theory, the program would guarantee the farmer a minimum of $49.50 a ton for his cottonseed. In practice, few have been getting that amount.

Under the program originally announced, the farmer was required to furnish proper storage, assume all losses in weight and deterioration and deliver the seed before April 30, 1950, to the Commodity Credit corporation or a mill designated by that agency.

The plan did not work because few farmers could meet the storage requirements.

On Oct. 4, the CCC announced a new program whereby seed would be purchased on an "as is" basis through contracts with ginners at $46.50 a ton—$3 less than the parity price.

Spokesmen of ginners termed the proposed contract unworkable for several reasons, one of them being the question of their ability to provide storage for the seed purchased and for which they

Airport Work Gets Approval

The President approved Wednesday an appropriation of $187,493 to repair runways damaged by wartime use at Lubbock Municipal airport, according to a telegram to The Morning Avalanche from Sen. Lyndon Johnson.

The damage occurred while the airport was under lease to the government as part of South Plains Army Air field.

City officials credited Ed Colby, airport manager, with having originated the claim which received final approval with the President's signature after having been passed by the Senate and House.

Rep. George Mahon, of Lubbock and Colorado City, was the chief sponsor of the measure in the House and Senator Johnson in the Senate.

City Manager Steve Matthews said all the money will be required to put the runways in first class condition.

The work, he added, will be among the first city projects scheduled next spring. The runways are built of crushed rock and asphalt, which cannot be applied satisfactorily during cold weather.

Several weeks were required for the preparation and presentation of the claim. Colby, formerly with the War Assets administration, first reported the city was eligible for reimbursement for the wartime damage. The municipal airport board, composed of Ray Hinchey, Robert H. Bean and Bob Walker, supervised preparation of the detailed claim, which was approved by the city commission and introduced in Congress by Representative Mahon.

Ping pong, billiards and commenting on the pretty legs of girls also came in for acid comment as symbols of "so-called western culture" and unworthy of the youth of a "people's democracy."

Locations For Tests Staked

Thomas W. Doswell, Henry Ford II, and others, have staked locations for four new explorations on the west side of the Sharon Ridge-Canyon field of Southwest Scurry County. All are to explore the Canyon reef lime at about 7,200 feet.

No. 4 C. W. Addison will be located 660 feet from north and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 122, block 25, H&TC survey.

Their No. 5 C. W. Addison will be 660 feet from north and west lines of the southwest quarter of section 122, block 25, H&TC survey.

Location for No. 6 C. W. Addison is to be 660 feet from south and west lines of section 122, block 25, H&TC survey.

The fourth project will be 660 feet from south and east lines of the southwest quarter of section 122, block 25, H&TC survey.

All of the ventures are about one-half mile south of Knapp. Drilling is to begin immediately with rotary tools.

DRILLING TO 7,000 FEET IS PLANNED

N. G. Landrum of Dallas No. 1 Crowder School is to be a stepout from production from the Canyon reef on the southwest side of the furtherest northwest extension to the Kelly field of Central Scurry county.

It is to drill 7,000 feet, using rotary tools.

The proposed drillsite will be 147.580 feet from south and east lines of section 205, block 97, H&TC survey, and five miles southwest of Snyder.

NO. 7 JOLLY COMPLETED FOR 1,745 POTENTIAL

Cities Service Oil Company No. 7 Jolly has been completed in the North Snyder field for a calculated daily potential of 1,745 barrels of 42.5-gravity oil.

The 24-hour potential was based on a six hour flow through a three-quarter inch tubing choke, natural with no water.

Gas-oil ratio of the new oil was 769-1.

It was completed from open hole between the five and one-half inch oil string cemented at 6,546 feet and the total depth at 6,856 feet in the Canyon reef.

The new producer is 660 feet from south and 1,980 feet from west lines of section 393, block 97, H&TC survey.

IN HOLLYWOOD: BY ERSKINE JOHNSON

Audie And Wanda Doing O. K. --But Not Until Separated

HOLLYWWOD, Oct. 20 (NEA) —You figure out this one:

Before their separation, Audie Murphy and Wanda Hendrix played their important love scenes for "Sierra." UI brass hats looked at the film, called it "unsatisfactory," and ordered retakes.

Audie and Wanda, meanwhile, had called their lawyers.

They replayed the love scenes between glares.

The brass hats looked at the new film.

Announced the studio: "Wonderful."

Elyse Knox is bowing out of the Ann Howe role in the Joe Palooka series at her own request. Monogram will stage a nation-wide "For Blondes Only" contest to find a replacement.

There won't be two Valentino film biographies after all. Independent producer Jan Grippo has thrown in the sponge and will join Eddie Small in producing a big-time epic. Small's lawyers convinced Grippo that the former has priority on the picture because he already has $300,000 invested in the story.

Red Skelton heard about the comedy scenes in "Battleground" and asked M-G-M to see the picture. "How'd you like it?" he was asked.

"Great," said Red. "I'm glad I saw it before Milton Berle. Now I've got six new comedy routines."

Don't worry, Red. Milton, according to Warner Brothers, is now stealing from himself. The studio says he's lifting stuff from his recently completed movie, "Always Leave Them Laughing," for his TV show. The Brothers Warner aren't laughing.

We'll Be Watching

Fashion prediction from Paramount's Edith Head:

"U. S. women will be busting out in sweater silhouettes this spring. Sweaters, not blouses, will be the thing. We're going to have sweaters made of all kinds of fabrics." Goody, goody.

Shelley Winters announced that hospital visit was for a stomach disorder. Now she's confessing it was just a bad case of hives. Shelley and Farley Granger are still an item. He returned from San Francisco by plane the other morning and Shelley was there to meet him. Wonder if Shelley and Montgomery Clift will get together now that they're in "An American Tragedy."

Betty Garrett is out of "The Skipper Surprised His Wife." She surprised the studio with her baby announcement . . . Gloria de Haven leave M-G-M to freelance after she completes "Summer Stock."

Susan Hayward has decided that the makeup shades she's been using aren't bright enough to fully complement her light autumn tresses. She's makeup testing at Max Factor's, with special tints formulated to meet the situation. I'll bet Susie gets another Oscar nomination for Goldwyn's "My Foolish Heart."

Steve Hannagan and Ann Sheridan are dating again . . . Merle Oberon will do another movie for RKO and then return to Paris to make her home . . . If that girl who thought Bob Walker was flirting with her is reading this, she can set her mind at ease. Bob is taking treatments for a nervous twitch in his eye.

Missed The Boat

Hollywood can blush again for not recognizing Janet Blair's talents. She's up for four new Broadway shows . . . Get your footwarmers ready: Sonja Henie has started rehearsing for her ice show which starts in December.

Mimic Arthur Blake is readying a howler on Great Garbo. He'll comb his hair over his face and sing "Baby, It's Skol Outside."

Cathy Downs was posing for cheesecake in a skimpy swimsuit. It reminded me:

"When girls went swimming years ago,
They dressed like Mother Hubbard.
Nowadays of bolder whim
They dress more like the cupboard."

Prediction: Paul Douglas will get the role of Mack Sennett in Paramount's film biography of the one time king of film comedy.

How old do you feel department:

Johnston's censorship office just mixed four Diana Lynn publicity stills for "Rogues of Sherwood Forest" as being "too sexy."

And just the other day, it seems, Diana was playing bobby-sixers on the screen.

FIGHTING RENEWED

SEOUL, Oct. 20 (AP)—Renewed border fighting with Communist North Korea forces cost the lives of 40 (South) Korean republic soldiers during the past week, government sources reported today.

J. Gallacher pulled a bus with his teeth at Coatbridge, Scotland, to show his strength.

Bogart Unconcerned By Brawl Over Panda In New York Club

By BOB THOMAS
Associated Press Staff Writer

HOLLYWOOD, Oct. 20. (AP) — Humphrey Bogart, veteran of "the battle of the pandas," is back in Hollywood with no bitterness about the big-town battleground.

"Me bitter about New York? Nonsense!" he snorted "I'll be going back there as soon as I finish my picture and Betty (Lauren Bacall) finishes hers."

The movies mug and animal lover has just returned after a nitery skirmish which was as fully reported as any conflict since World War II. There were reports that he was being silent about his teapot-tempest with two glamor girls over possession of two giant panda dolls.

But when I found him testing makeup and hair for "in a lonely place," there was no indication he had clammed. In fact, it was Bogart on the half-shell. Verbally, I mean.

Blow For Freedom

Bogart spoke nostalgically of the brief trial in which he was cleared of assault charges. The judge was "a nice guy—the Frank Morgan type." As for the actor's accuser, "she claimed all she wanted to do was pinch my panda—that's a laugh!"

There has been talk among some of the weighter (around 200 pounds) Hollywood commentators that Bogart's legal victory might bring changes. Perhaps it would alter the relations of public to movie star.

"I'd say it compared to the Dreyfus case," he mused. "You might report that I struck a blow for freedom. Not to mention the pursuit of happiness.

"This may well be the turning point. It's time somebody wised some people up about the notion they can push celebrities around."

TO RECEIVE DEGREES

NORTHAMPTON, Mass., Oct. 20 (AP)—Mrs. Eleanor Roosevelt and Princess Wilhelmina of the Netherlands are among 12 world famed women receiving honorary degrees at Smith college's seventh anniversary convocation today.

The first political convention to be telecast was the 1940 meeting of the Republicans in Philadelphia.

Jobless Rail Worker Confesses Starting Rooming House Fire

KANSAS CITY, Oct. 21 (AP)—An unemployed railroad worker signed a statement yesterday saying he started a fatal rooming house fire because his landlady angered him.

Seven persons died in the fire.

Police Lt. Charles Welch said 43-year-old Alva O. Merritt made an eight-page statement in which he said he threw a lighted match into a box of rubbish to start the blaze.

The statement quoted him as saying Mrs. Ed Bayse, owner of the house, chided him for drinking and keeping company with a girl friend and that it irritated him.

The fire occurred September 30. Many occupants of the two-story building were old age pensioners. Merritt said he moved out of the house two days before the fire.

No formal charges have been filed. Police reported Merritt had a record of 64 previous arrests.

Females Grabbed And The Males Melted

Couple To Give Up Collecting Bachelors In Favor Of Snails

By HAL BOYLE
Associated Press Staff Writer

NEW YORK.—After a dozen years of marriage Frances and I have given up collecting bachelors.

There simply is no future in it. We are going to collect old buttons or stamps or something like that from now on—anything but bachelors.

In our heyday however, we probably had the best collection of bachelors in America. Frances became an expert in their care and feeding.

Buzz Subsidies

Soon after we set up housekeeping in Greenwich village, our apartment, for some reason or other, became a bachelor hive. We had boy bachelors and girl bachelors—gay, eager young people who kept our place buzzing.

After a few years the buzz began to subside.

"It isn't so noisy around here as it used to be," said Frances. "Our collection of bachelors seems to be a little smaller."

Well, we checked and found the reason. Something had been getting at our boy bachelors. Know what it was? It was our girl bachelors. As soon as Frances taught a boy bachelor to comb his hair and keep his fingernails clean, one of the girl bachelors would grab him and drag him to the altar. After that, of course, they weren't bachelors.

Down To Last Man

Well, with the attrition of the years we finally were down to our last bachelor. He was a kind of modified slothful type. He began as a helpful bachelor, but deteriorated.

"We're going to have to get rid of him," said Frances. "He's beginning to act like you. He won't run to the grocery store, sits in your chair and reads the newspapers—and just grunts when I ask him a question."

But I think the real thing she had against him was that he had gotten so he could whip her at gin rummy.

Anyway, he got married the other day and now is beating his own wife—at gin rummy.

"What'll we collect now, dear?" I asked Frances.

"Snails," she said. "Anything but bachelors."

It had a slight show of gas and a rainbow of oil in a drillstem test at 2,395-2,410 feet, a slight show of oil at 2,450-60 feet. It made sulphur water at 2,525 feet. It drilled to a total depth at 2,555 feet.

This failure is 330 feet from north and west lines of section 42, block 6, H&GN survey, and one mile south of Post Development Company No. 1 Payne, a San Andres failure drilled in 1921. The dry hole is also one and three-quarter miles northwest of P. W. Anderson No. 1-A Miller, which was recently plugged and abandoned.

DRILLSTEM TEST FOR GAINES WELL SET

A drillstem test is to be run in the Canyon reef lime of the Pennsylvanian at Forest Oil Corporation and Anderson-Prichard Oil Corporation No. 1-A Parmer, slated deep wildcat in Southeast Gaines county, 15 miles southeast of Seminole.

The prospector encountered soft drilling at approximately 11,222 feet. The zone from there down to the current bottom had shown porosity and some oil stains.

Operators have not officially picked the top of the Canyon reef.

The wildcat is scheduled to dig to 15,000 feet, if necessary, to find and explore the Ellenburger. Location is 860 feet from west and 660 feet from south lines of labor 12, league 317, Parmer County School Land survey.

would be responsible. Few have signed contracts to buy seed in accordance with the terms proposed by the federal agency.

Under the new plan adopted in Lubbock, and to be presented in Washington today, the ginner would buy cotton at the prevailing market price.

Would Get Ticket

The farmer would receive this cash and a ticket showing the number of pounds in each bale ginned.

The plan proposes that farmers be paid the difference between the price received at the gin and the support of $49.50 a ton when they present their tickets to the PMA, which is an agency of the CCC.

The plan proposes further that this system be made retroactive to apply to all 1949 cottonseed already sold.

Supporters of the proposal argued that it would insure the speedy movement of seed through existing channels and avert the danger of heavy losses through damage, followed by shortages and high prices of cottonseed products next year.

Divorce Conference Will Be Conducted

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (INS)—Dr. Peter Lindstrom's New York attorney said today he will confer "within a few days" with lawyers for screen star Ingrid Bergman before any divorce action is begun.

The attorney, Lawrence Brinn, who said he was a "friend of the doctor," would not say when or where the conference will take place.

Brinn asserted that no agreements have been made by either party and that it has not been decided where the suit will be filed.

He said he did not know whether Dr. Lindstrom will come to New York for consultation.

Capt. L. D. Coly, district director of the naval reserve, will represent Rear Admiral L. F. Reifsnider of New Orleans in the commissioning ceremonies. Lt. J. E. Ruzic is in charge of the station.

Several prominent Lubbock citizens will take part in the commissioning as well as Dr. E. N. Jones, vice-president of Texas Tech. The ceremonies will be conducted in front of the Center at Eighth and College avenues and an inspection tour by Capt. Coly and his party will follow.

Coly To Arrive Tuesday

Capt. Coly will arrive here Tuesday with Commander A. H. Ashton from New Orleans. Others of the official party will include Commanders F. J. Sabathier and R. D. Hutchins, also of New Orleans, who will arrive Wednesday.

Col. Robert P. Riordan, head of the Tech Reserve Officers Training corps, and Mrs. W. E. Klien, president of the Lubbock Navy Mothers club.

The NRTC here has been in operation for approximately one year and has been commanded by Lt. Ruzic for a month. The unit consists of 156 enlisted men and 18 officers, with emphasis in the training program being placed on radar, radio, electronics and electricity.

Public Inspection Slated

Open to the public, the commissioning services will be by acting chaplain, Col. James E. Becker of LAFB. Following the official inspection tour by the naval officers, the center will be open to the public for inspection.

Other Lubbock citizens who will be official guests at the ceremonies include Robert Sission, head of the Veterans' Administration office here; A. B. Davis, manager of the Lubbock Chamber of Commerce; Col. H. D. Wallace, wing commander at Lubbock Air Force base; R. W. Matthews, superintendent of Lubbock public schools; Chas. A. Guy, editor of The Avalanche-Journal; W. D. Groce, commander of the American Legion post; W. T. Gaston, Tech business manager; and Lt. Col. Ross Ayers, commanding officer of the 132nd Field Artillery battalion of the National guard.

Lily Pons Strikes At Paris Fashions

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 20 (AP)—Paris fashions, spinster opera stars and New York City took a beating today from Lily Pons, tiny coloratura soprano.

In almost the same breath, she adopted San Francisco as her own.

"This is my pet city," she said. Then in lovely fashion she gave out with these other observations:

"New York City is a crowded, dirty madhouse!

"Paris fashions—sut! First they are too long—now they are too short! I theenk the the American women wear them best. They have the most beautiful shapes. Me I'm too petite, always in the middle."

The singer appears tomorrow night in the San Francisco opera company's single performance of "Lucia."

Promising New Drugs Are Now Undergoing Tests On Humans

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (U.P.)—Several "highly promising" new drugs have been discovered and are now undergoing tests on human beings, a chemist disclosed today.

The new drugs include fungistatin and bacillomycin which, according to Dr. Peter Regna, have activity against some of the fungus diseases. Athlete's foot is among the fungus diseases.

Regna, who is affiliated with the Charles Pfizer & Co., pharmaceutical house and a large manufacturer of penicillin, said that scientists today are broadening their search for new drugs to find agents that will go after the viruses, such as cause polio and the common cold.

Drugs Are Isolated

In a report to the American Chemical society, Regna said "several highly promising antibiotics (drugs) which may fulfill some of the needs, have been isolated and are now being evaluated clinically."

The most valuable drugs isolated in the last two years, he said, are polymyxin, aureomycin, chloromycetin and anti-fungal agents, such as fungistatin and bacillomycin.

"While the administration polymyxin has been observed to produce certain toxic manifestations (unfavorable side reactions)," he said, "It has been used with success in the treatment of whooping cough, colon bacillus infections and in certain types of influenza."

Uses Are Listed

Chloromycetin, he said, has "shown a low order" poison in the treatment of epidemic and scrub typhus, undulant fever, virus pneumonia, rocky mountain spotted fever, typhoid fever and in certain urinary infections.

He said that aureomycin has been useful against rickettsial diseases, eye infections, virus pneumonia, also undulant fever.

More than 100 new drugs produced by molds, fungi, and highe plants have been studied in the last 10 years, he said, but only a few are being used in the treatment of disease. Actually, he said, only penicillin and to a lesser extent, streptomycin," have satisfied the requirements of a dependable drug and thus have become an integray part of modern medicine."

Patience By U. S. Is Needed To Avert War, Lecturer Says

"War with Russia is imminent unless Americans can develop perseverence and an almost inexhaustive patience for use in their dealings with the Soviets."

That is the opinion of Dr. Gerhart H. Seger, noted lecturer and New York newspaper editor, who spoke on "America's Foreign Policy," before more than 150 persons at the Knife and Fork club banquet at the Hilton Wednesday night.

Policy Claimed Effective

Dr. Seger said that contrary to the assertions of many, the United States does have an effective foreign policy, as evidenced by the diplomatic victories achieved with the Berlin Blockade and the Marshall Plan.

"As for the Russian atom bomb, there is a possibility, and I stress the word possibility, that a balance of power against Russia is the answer," he said. "As with poison gas in World War Two, the fear of retaliation also may be an important factor to consider."

After only four years of work, impatient Americans already are branding the UN a failure, which is not fair, he asserted. "It has the job of bringing peace to a world which has been fighting for thousands of years, and it cannot be expected to get the job done in four years."

As a naturalized U.S. citizen from Germany, Dr. Seger had many interesting facts to present concerning the nation of his birth.

He said the Morgenthau policy for Germany, which would have reduced it to an agrarian state, had long been abandoned because U.S. State department officials realized that it could not be done without punishing other European nations as well.

"For better or for worse, Germany is an integral part of the economy of Western Europe, and in order to rebuild the other nations of Europe, it was necessary to rebuild Germany."

Production Shows Boost

Dr. Seger made note of the currency reform in 1948, and the changes it made in German life. "Only four weeks after the reform, production in Western Germany had increased 27 per cent, and is still increasing," he commented.

The speaker took issue with a common conception today, one that the German is naturally submissive to leadership and cannot adjust himself to the responsibilities of democracy.

The German has been under imperialism for many centuries, and it will take him time to become adjusted, more time than the 14 years of the Weimar Republic, he said. The Germans already are well on their way to development of a democracy as evidenced by the resounding defeat of the extremists in the recent election.

Occupation Is Lauded

Dr. Seger praised the American occupation as being more helpful to the reconstruction of Germany than any of the other three occupation forces. "The British have a colonial view toward Germany, and the French have made the mistake of making no distinction between Nazis and non-Nazis.

"All Hitler's victims were not Jews," he revealed. "About 90 per cent of the prisoners in his concentration camps were Christians, including myself.

"As for the Russian occupation, it is, in one word, pathetic," Dr. Seger stated.

Dr. Seger became an American citizen in 1942, after escaping from a concentration camp at Oranienburg, and has been a member of the Reichstag, the legislature of the old Weimar Republic.

Cecil H. Cale, former president of the club, introduced Dr. Seger. Dr. A. G. Barsh, president, presided.

Thieves' Tire Work Was Rather Slick

COLUMBUS, O., Oct. 20. (AP)—Mort A Rooney of Columbus came up with a new one today.

Thieves who stole two tires from his brand new car took the trouble to put back two old ones in their place.

The trouble is, Rooney told police, he didn't notice the switch until one of the old tires blew out, so he's not sure when the new tires were stolen.

CONGRESS EMPHASIZES DEFENSE

HST Wins Most Of Foreign Policy Plans Aided By Reds

By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER
Associated Press Staff Writer

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20.—With an indirect assist from Russia, President Truman won out on virtually all his most urgent foreign policy proposals in the congressional session which ended last night.

Administration officials agreed that the total effect of several congressional actions greatly strengthened the position of the United States and its allies in the cold war.

These actions, some of which might never have been proposed had it not been for worry over Russia, were topped by ratification of the Atlantic pact and the o. k. for the $1,314,010,000 foreign arms program.

Committee Gets Credit

In a letter to Chairman Connally (D-Tex) of the Senate foreign relations committee, Secretary of State Acheson praised the committeemen for their "magnificent accomplishments of this session."

He particularly praised Connally and Republican foreign policy leader, Senator Vandenberg of Michigan, and said that he hopes to maintain a close working relationship with the Senate group in the future.

At a news conference preceding the release of the letter, however, Acheson conceded that he had had some anxious moments during the session. He also said he regretted the failure of Congress to act on President Truman's "point four" program for building up backward areas of the world.

Rougher Going Seen

Mr. Truman and his secretary of state in fact not only failed to get some of their major requests fulfilled but they also failed to obtain action in some cases as fast as they wanted it.

The impression prevails among officials now that the honeymoon is over, so far as the period of high-speed congressional action on important foreign affairs is concerned.

From here on the going is expected to be rougher, especially for proposals to send billions abroad and particularly when there is no dramatic point of conflict between this country and Russia.

This trend actually appeared to be well started in the session which has just ended. There was a long hard fight on funds to finance the second year of European economic recovery and it was not until the final hours tha action was completed on the appropriation of $1,314,010,000 for foreign arms aid.

Pressure Expected

Moreover the chances that the administration would get substantially all the money it asked to help rearm western Europe under the Atlantic pact appeared slim until the President's announcement of Russia's atomic explosion added to the pressure on capitol Hill.

Altogether the White House and State department sent Congress 18 foreign affairs proposals, including the Atlantic treaty and foreign arms program.

Of those, 11 went through, some after stiff debate, and seven failed of approval before adjournment. They are still subject to action next session, however, and some, such as the point four project, may win passage then.

Aside from the bills and treaties bearing directly on foreign policy, there were others in the military and atomic energy fields which will directly affect this country's position of power and leadership in the conflict with Russia.

Quick congressional approval for Mr. Truman's plan to enlarge the nation's atomic energy plants —another reaction to the Russian explosion—was regarded by officials as on the credit side.

But some military and diplomatic authorities feared adverse reactions abroad to the row over basic strategy among the army, navy and air force which occurred on the congressional sounding board.

TO BUY WHEAT

ROME, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Italian mission has arrived in Moscow to buy Russian wheat, the Italian news agency Astra reported today.

"Mercy" Slaying To Remain Under Study

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20 (AP)—A coroner's jury couldn't decide whether the "mercy shot" killing of 10-year-old Robert Elliott by his brother, Richard, 15, was accidental or homicidal.

Richard, who didn't testify, wept through the inquest and fainted as he left the room, tumbling partway down a staircase. He was revived by his father, Dr. Harold M. Elliott.

Juvenile Officer Kenneth Carpenter related the story Richard had told him earlier: that Richard shot his brother accidentally while showing him a pistol and then said: "He was moaning. I just couldn't stand it, so I shot him again to end his agony."

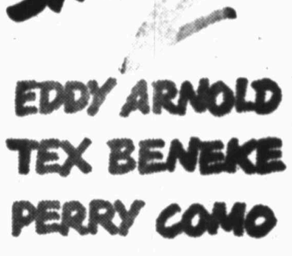

Carpenter added that West Los Angeles boys are selling and buying guns "like hotcakes." Two adults involved in the case, William Straube, 22, and Paul Vincent, 41, will appear at a hearing Nov. 9 on charges of violating an ordinance prohibiting giving, lending or selling a gun to a juvenile.

Iceland now has 1,002 tractors on its farms.

SLAVS AND CZECHS CONTENDERS

UN Voting Today On Contest For Security Council Seat

NEW YORK, Oct. 20 (AP)—The United Nations assembly votes today in the hotly contested race between American-supported Yugoslavia and Soviet-backed Czechoslovakia for a seat in the security council.

They are contending for the seat the Soviet Ukraine will give up Dec. 31 after a two-year term as Russia's only team-mate in council debate and voting.

Many of the 59 national delegations predicted Yugoslavia had a big margin over Czechoslovakia. But they were not certain the Yugoslavs would get the necessary two-thirds majority vote at the outset.

Reds Make Threats

The Russian campaign to elect Czechoslovakia was climaxed by a statement of Russia's Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky that the Soviet bloc would regard Yugoslavia's election as neither lawful nor just. He warned two days ago in a news conference that it might have "painful consequences" for the U. N.

The election is being held during a new outburst of Yugoslav-Russian word strife in Europe growing out of Yugoslavia's expulsion from the Cominform (communist information bureau) nearly two years ago. Premier Marshall Tito of Yugoslavia charged last night that Russia was massing troops in warmongering gestures against him.

The balloting is secret. On the basis of informal pre-election polls, several sources indicated Yugoslavia had a chance to win on the second or third ballot—perhaps even on the first one.

India May Get Seat

The assembly transferred its activities to the blue and gold halls of the U. N. at Flushing for the voting.

The council terms of Canada, Argentina and the Ukraine end Dec. 31.

If all 59 nations vote, each successful contestant has to get 40 votes, or a two-thirds majority.

There seemed to be no doubt before the voting began that India would get enough votes on the first ballot to get Canada's seat and that Ecuador would succeed Argentina.

Czechoslovakia entered the meeting with votes of eight announced backers: Russia and the satellite members of the Moscow bloc, Britain, Norway and Denmark. The latter three were sure for only the first ballot.

May Shift Votes

If neither gets a two-thirds majority, the voting continues and some delegations may shift position in the subsequent balloting.

Neither a compromise nor any serious dark horse was foreseen when the balloting began today. Two years ago it took 12 ballots in six weeks time to pick the Ukraine for its present seat. That contest ended when India withdrew and broke a deadlock after neither could get a two-thirds majority.

Elections are scheduled also to pick six members of the economic and social council and three members of the trusteeship council.

SEW FOR HOSPITAL—Wives of three Lubbock letter carriers sewed rubber sheets, bound rubber aprons for use in K-P duty, made screen covers, and made surgical wrappers and dressings at the hospital at Lubbock Air Force base Wednesday. They are pictured above with the chief nurse. From left to right, they are Mrs. J. M. Willson, Mrs. Eugene Heath, Capt. Alleda Kreiser, chief nurse who directed the work, and Mrs. B. E. Terrell. The women were serving as volunteer workers from the Lubbock county chapter of the American Red Cross. A group from the auxiliary to the Lubbock unit, National Association of Letter Carriers, probably will work again today in the base hospital. (Staff Photo).

Lubbock Women Donate Their Services

Woman's Touch Is Needed In LAFB's Decorative Features

The "woman's touch" is needed in some decorative features at Lubbock Air Force base.

Curtains are not available either for wards or individual rooms in the base hospital.

Lubbock county chapter of the American Red Cross offered to receive calls from persons volunteering to donate services in sewing curtains, to give material for curtails or to give discarded curtains in good condition.

Gifts Are Sought

The Red Cross also will receive gifts of current magazines and pocket editions or books for delivery to the base hospital.

No funds are available at present for curtains for the hospital, the library or for several dayrooms at the base.

Curtains for the base chapel are expected to be sent here from the inactivated Smoky Hills Air Force base at Salina, Kans.

Wives of several city mail carriers serving as volunteer workers from the Red Cross sewed hospital supplies at the base Wednesday. Another group will work today.

Miss Leah Jackson, field representative of the Red Cross representing the midwestern area office, St. Louis, visited the base Wednesday. She plans to seek help of chapters in surrounding counties in providing curtains for the hospital.

The Swiss ended most price controls.

ASKS FOR JAIL

BANGOR, Me. (U.P.)—An innocent man went to jail here — at his own request. Joseph Hadfield, 29, was cleared of an assault charge but two of his friends were held for trial. Madfield asked — and received — permission from the judge to go to jail along with his pals, pending final dispostion of the case.

Iowa Youth Is Held For Stabbing Father

DAVENPORT, Ia., Oct. 20 (INS)—A 17-year-old Davenport youth today was being held for the alleged stabbing of his father with a war-time trench knife.

Robert Tunnicliff, jr., told police he slashed his 39-year-old father with the knife because "he was beating my step-mother."

The father, meantime, was reported in critical condition at a Davenport hospital with wounds in his back and shoulder.

The step-mother, however, told a different version of the affair. She denied that her husband had been beating her and said she was in the kitchen of their home when the stabbing occurred.

The youth's mother died in a Texas auto accident last Christmas day. The father and boy also were injured at that time.

Charges have not yet been filed, pending outcome of the elder Tunnicliff's wounds.

ONE MORNING ON TAYLOR 3991—
A ring-by-ring description of one morning in the busy life of Mrs. R. E. Sivley, 2115 Rutland St., Houston, Texas, (TAylor 3991).

7:00 Saved my husband's pocket knife with an early call to Cleo. She found it in his navy pants before she started our family washing.

"Thanks so much for the lift"

8:15 Dorothy, my sister-in-law, phoned to offer me a lift to the bridge luncheon today. She'll be by at 11:30. That will be a big help!

"...and thanks for a wonderful bargain!"

This is just one morning's record in the diary Mrs. Sivley kept for five days of all the telephone calls she and her husband made and received. Score for the five days was 25 separate conversations, two of them long distance calls from Austin, the rest local calls. Cost per local call—about two cents.

Like most people, Mrs. Sivley had never realized how much she depended on her telephone to run her household—or how many good times started with a telephone call. When she figured the actual cost, she added a footnote to her diary—"Thanks for a wonderful bargain."

Every year brings further progress in telephone service. New telephones added so you can call more people, more people can call you. Improvements made so you can hear better, get your calls through quicker, enjoy more trouble-free service. The result—a real bargain today that keeps growing in value every year!

SOUTHWESTERN BELL TELEPHONE CO.

8:20 Called Mrs. Charlot to see whether she can stay with Beaver (our son, age 3½) while I go to the luncheon. My lucky day! She can.

What else gives so much for so little?

9:45 Mother phoned from Austin, wanted to hear Beaver's voice, said she was lonesome for her grandson. He was cute, carried on quite a conversation.

10:30 Called a real estate agent about a house I saw advertised in the newspaper. Only five rooms and too high priced. So-o we're still looking!

10:45 My good friend, Jen, called to exchange the latest news. We made a date to spend the day together a week from tomorrow.

11:30 Dorothy had to hunt for her car keys, called to tell me she would be a few minutes late. That gives me a few more minutes to get ready.

SURPLUSES FACTOR IN POLICY

Price Supports, Production Control Okayed By Congress

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20. (AP)—Congressional passage of new farm legislation cleared the way today for a 1950 agricultural program embracing (1) high level price supports and (2) production controls for basic crops.

But for some products not subject to government controls, a reduction in price guarantees appeared likely.

Approval by President Truman of the new legislation, permitting continuance indefinitely of price supports at or near wartime levels, was taken for granted.

Vote Overwhelming

The bill finally whipped through Congress yesterday, on the last day of the session. The vote in the House was 175 to 34 and in the Senate it was 46 to 7.

Just before passage there was some criticism of the measure as unfair to consumers.

Senator Ives (R-NY), one of the losing seven in the Senate vote, said there was not a member who regards the bill as fair to both consumers and farmers. Rep. Fulton (R-Pa), from Pittsburgh, suggested that perhaps Santa Claus had a part in drafting the bill.

Senator Hickenlooper (R-Iowa) argued on the other side that farmers have never demanded excessive economic support and would not get it under the new program. Rep. Cooley (D-NC) called it "a bill to give America a stable economy."

Crop Shifts Encouraged

Senator Aiken (R-Vt) said the bill would encourage farmers to shift from basic crops, of which the country now has a surplus, to dairying, livestock and a "balanced agriculture."

Even without Mr. Truman's signature to make the new bill law, the agriculture department would have had authority to support the basic crops—wheat, cotton, corn, tobacco, rice and peanuts—at 90 per cent of parity next year. Such action would be permitted under the so-called Aiken farm law passed by the 1948 Congress, if a new bill had not been passed.

But some commodities which the government now is supporting at 90 per cent of parity may not fare as well in 1950. Included are eggs, flaxseed, and soybeans. In fact, the department already has announced that flaxseed will drop to 60 per cent next year.

Surpluses Big Factor

The department has indicated that it will follow a general rule of supporting products at 90 per cent of parity—the maximum allowed—only when there is no surplus, or when it has authority to invoke controls to keep down surpluses.

Under the new bill two separate parity formulas will be in the picture for the next four years, both pegged to the concept of parity as a fair price for the farmer's products in relation to the cost of things he has to buy.

One of the formulas is the present one. The other is a Senate revision, which takes into account the farmer's hired labor costs. The measure instructs the agriculture department, in figuring parity for the basic crops for the next four years, to use the one more advantageous to the farmer. In 1954 the Senate's revised version would take effect alone.

As of now, production control authority exists only in the case of the basic crops. Secretary of Agriculture Brannan asked Congress to broaden this authority to include the great bulk of farm commodities, but it did not do so.

Atom-Driven Plane Predicted By Martin

LONDON, Oct. 20. (AP)—Atomic-powered planes "in the foreseeable future" is the vision of Glenn L. Martin, chairman of the board of the American aircraft company bearing his name.

Martin makes the prediction in the 1949-50 edition of the authoritative Jane's "All The World's Aircraft," published today.

Martin wrote, however, that big planes powered by atomic energy would be "appallingly expensive." Pilotless guided missles, he declared will be perfected to "operate at such high efficiency that the piloted fighter (plane) will be largely obsolete."

Jane's also lists a new Russian single-jet fighter with a reported top speed of 652 miles an hour.

Husband's Ideas On Egg Yolks Force "Little Woman" To Scramble Marriage

LOS ANGELES, Oct. 20 (AP)—Marion Jane Renner, 20-year-old housewife, said her husband so egged her on that she was forced to scramble their marriage.

"If I'd break a yolk while cooking egggs for my husband he'd make me eat the egg," she told the court yesterday.

"I had to eat five eggs one morning.

"When I fixed his eggs sunny side up perfectly, he would only cut them up and eat them anyway."

Superior Judge Charles C. Johnson thought that was carrying a yolk too far and granted her an uncontested divorce from William Renner, 22.

20-30 Club Holds Weekly Meeting

Twenty-one members and two guests attended the weekly meeting of the Lubbock 20-30 club Wednesday night in Hotel Lubbock.

The guests were Ed Langford of Dallas and Ray BeBolla.

Club members discussed plans to participate in the inter-club proposal to open the various Lubbock business and civic clubs to Air Force personnel at LAFB.

A report from a special committee was heard concerning the club's project of replacing 20-30 road signs on all incoming Lubbock highways. Signs for the project are nearing completion.

The club last night welcomed Conrad Ward back into active membership. His membership was placed on the inactive list when he moved to New Orleans several months ago.

Wallgren Gets Federal Post

WASHINGTON, Oct. 20 (AP) — In sharp contrast to action earlier in the year, the Senate last night confirmed President Truman's nomination of Mon C. Wallgren to be a member of the Federal Power commission.

In another of its last acts of the session just ended, the Senate confirmed the nomination of James M. Mead to the Federal Trade commission.

Both are Democrats who once served with Mr. Truman in the Senate, Wallgren from Washington state and Mead from New York.

Takes Olds' Job

Earlier this year, Mr. Truman's nomination of Wallgren to head the National Security Resources board was bottled up in a Senate committee despite urgent White House requests for action. Critics said Wallgren, an old friend of the President, wasn't qualified to plan the nation's mobilization should war come.

Mr. Truman finally withdrew the nomination. Then another opening appeared, when the Senate rejected especially pressing White House demands to Give Leland Olds a third term on the power commission. Beaten on Olds, Mr. Truman named Wallgren for the spot only last Tuesday. He was confirmed last night on a vote of 47 to 12.

As a member of the power commission Wallgren will deal with such matters as regulation of electric utilities. Mead, on the trade commission, will help supervise government activities in the field of fair trade practices, etc. The Senate confirmed his appointment by a voice vote. Both jobs pay $15,000 a year.

TWO OFFICERS KILLED

DALTON, Ga., Oct. 20 (AP)—Attempting an emergency landing on a hastily-lighted football field, a small navy plane crashed into a cemetery last night, exploded and burned. Two reserve officers were killed and a Wave was seriously injured. Both officers were from Atlanta.

STUDENT FLIER KILLED

CORPUS CHRISTI, Oct. 20 (AP) A navy student flier, William H. Babin, 19, of Baton Rouge, La., was killed yesterday when his fighter plane crashed and burned as he was making a landing approach to the auxiliary air station at Cabaniss field.

Santa Fe Agent At Kress Found Dead

TULIA, Oct. 20 (AP) — H. A. Eckler, Santa Fe agent at Kress, was found dead on the floor of his station late Wednesday afternoon. He had lived in Kress since Jan. 18, 1947, going there from Hamlin.

Mr. Eckler is survived by his widow and two married daughters. Funeral arrangements are pending at Wallace Funeral home, Tulia.

Dale Wallace, of the funeral home, was called to Kress shortly after 6 o'clock. Wallace said a railroad brakeman told him Mr. Eckler had taken a telegraph message at 5:15.

It was reported that the body was found by Robert Morton, operator of a Kress grain company, when Morton went to inquire about shipping a load of grain.

FALSE TEETH
That Loosen Need Not Embarrass

Many wearers of false teeth have suffered real embarrassment because their plate dropped, slipped or wabbled at just the wrong time. Do not live in fear of this happening to you. Just sprinkle a little FASTEETH, the alkaline (non-acid) powder, on your plates. Holds false teeth more firmly, so they feel more comfortable. Does not sour. Checks "plate odor" (denture breath). Get FASTEETH at any drug store. adv

WE had a letter the other day from Mrs. R. D. Kidd, jr., of Ralls.

Formerly on the staff of the Phoenix and Times-Democrat at Muskogee, Okla., Mrs. Kidd was commenting on the chaotic conditions throughout the world and she dropped a thought that is worth thinking about.

Wrote she:

"I believe that ever person . . . in this world has at the roots of his being a large-scale view." Then she went on to say that if editors, writers—all of us—would probe at that large-scale view, the great mass of people would lend their support to peace and to cooperative improvement of all kinds.

Come to think of it, Mrs. Kidd puts her finger on the greatest latent strength in all the universe, the power of the thinking of mankind; or, if you prefer, upon the power represented in the souls of all mankind.

Her contention that every person has at the roots of his being a large-scale view certainly is compatible with Genesis, Chapter 2, Verse 7:

"And the Lord God formed man of the dust of the ground, and breathed into his nostrils the breath of life; and man became a living soul." It also is compatible with Genesis, Chapter 1, verse 27: "So God created man in His own image, in the image of God created He him; male and female created He them."

Certainly, man, made in the image of God must have a large-scale view at the roots of his being and from man, as Mrs. Kidd further suggests, some day can come a chain of reaction for peace and for good—a chain more powerful than that of our most recent "bogey-man," the atomic bomb.

THE INTERSTATE Commerce subcommittee in the national House of Representatives took an interesting action the other day—one all but lost in the press of more sensational news. This action was in authorizing the appropriation of $5,000,000 in federal funds each year for five years to meet up to one-half the cost of new medical school construction.

Whether the subcommittee's action will be approved by the entire Interstate Commerce commission, then by the House the Senate and the president, remains to be seen. Perhaps it will fail of passage during the present session, due only to lack of time.

But whatever the case, the action is forward-looking. And while it may not appeal to the more socialistic-minded of the nation, it marks the trail toward

BY DREW PEARSON: JOHN L. LEWIS COMPLAINS ABOUT COAL STRIKE CONFERENCE LEAK

Navy Official Gets Admirals' Silent Treatment

WASHINGTON—John L. Lewis was so miffed about a Washington Merry-Go-Round account of his oratory at a recent closed-door session on the coal strike that he ordered his right-hand man, John Owens, to bawl out the southern coal operators for allegedly leaking the story.

PEARSON

Owens carried out his instructions, waving the newspaper clipping at Joseph Moody, president of the southern coal producers.

"We know you leaked the story," protested Owens. "Well, you're talking to the wrong people. These columnists all have their price."

Moody vigorously and correctly denied that he had been the source, but added: "Let's be honest. You were there and so was I. Won't you agree that the story was an honest and factual account of what happened?"

"But it didn't make Mr. Lewis look very good," growled Owens.

Battle Of The Admirals

One of the angriest men in the battle of the admirals is the under-secretary of the navy himself, Dan Kimball.

Kimball was invited to an off-the-record meeting of 60 top navy officers in Monterey, Calif., Sept. 21. Officially the meeting was a routine review of naval problems, but Kimball sensed something special was going on. For those present included Admiral Arthur Radford, lead-off man in the navy revolt, together with Vice Admiral Gerald F. Bogan. Therefore, Undersecretary Kimball made a brief speech, pleading with the admirals to lay their cards on the table.

"If you think we're not getting a fair deal," Kimball said, "then let's speak up. After all, I'm one of your own. I used to be assistant secretary of the navy for air. I know your problems."

Kimball told the admirals that President Truman had ordered waste removed from the defense spending picture, and that the defense budget would have to be cut two billion dollars by 1951.

"If you feel this is wrong," Kimball said, "speak up. I promise you we'll get a fair hearing. I can walk into Louis Johnson's office any time I want and get a hearing. So now is the time to talk."

The admirals looked down their noses, gave Kimball silent treatment. Yet it was at this very same meeting—without telling the undersecretary of the navy—that Admiral Bogan wrote his now famous letter complaining about navy morale. And it was at this meeting also that Admiral Radford added his postscript to the letter that touched of fthe powder keg in Washington.

ISOLATIONIST Nevadan — Senator Tom Connally, Texas Democrat, rallied a group of senators the other day to vote against an amendment by Senator George Malone, Nevada Republican . . . "Let's get out there and vote," stirred Connally. "I don't know what it's about, but it was offered by Malone. So I'm against it." . . . Many senators feel the same way about the gentleman from Nevada, who is one of the leading isolationists in Congress.

Unhappy Hindu—Prime Minister Nehru of India is irked at the State department for the man-killing tour of the U. S. A. they've arranged. During his 26-day stay he will see virtually nothing but banquet tables, formal receptions and luncheons. What he really wanted was a chance to get acquainted with the plain people of the United States so he could decide how Indian should line up in the future. But the State department disregarded this and arranged for 30 formal parties during the 26 days.

Feuding senators—Washington's bumptious Senator Cain, a Republican, tried to make political capital on the Senate floor over a $238 check paid by a group of universities to Senator Magnuson, a Democrat, also from Washington. The money covered Magnuson's travel expenses to New Orleans for a speaking engagement sponsored by the universities. What Senator Cain didn't mention is that he, too, has kept a few speaking engagements—has flown to Honolulu to take part in the Town Meeting of the Air; to Walla Walla, Washington, to speak locally; and to Boston to speak before the apartment house owners. In each case, Cain's expenses were paid in full by the sponsoring organizations.

Shipping Bonanza

Capitol newsmen were skeptical when Representative Porter Hardy of Virginia announced there would be a complete and forthright probe of the Maritime commission and its squandering of taxpayers' money on ship contracts.

So many congressional committees have been spreading the whitewash of late that newsmen doubted Hardy would make good his promises—especially since he hails from he big maritime area around Norfolk.

However, the courageous Virginian not only confirmed all that alert Comptroller General Lindsay Warren had said about Maritime commission waste, but went even further. Hardy produced evidence showing that the commission had entered into agreements with the U. S. lines, American Export lines, and the American President lines for the sale of six ships for $70,000,000, though the ships had cost the government $150,000,000 to build.

The Hardy subcommittee also found that most of the $28,000,000 being spent for so-called "national defense features" on the six new vessels—at no cost to the purchasers—was an outright gift because many of these features can be utilized commercially in peacetime.

The report, supported by able expenditures committee Chairman William Dawson of Illinois, urged that steps be taken to recoup as much as possible of this largesse to the shipping lines; also that maritime laws be rewritten to prevent such extravagance in the future.

a solution of the doctor shortage over the U.S.

We don't need socialized medicine in this country, with all its bureaucracy, inefficiency, graft and expense.

What we do need is more doctors being turned out than are now being turned out, or than have been turned out in recent years.

Give the nation enough medical schools to train sufficient doctors and the resultant competition will straighten out today's bad situation from both the angles of cost and shortage of practitioners.

Action by the subcommittee is the first intelligent attack on the problem.

Let us hope it is continued.

Judge Medina Gains Respect Of Americans For Red Trial

NEW YORK, Oct. 20—About the first man of lofty stature to come down the public pike in recent years, it seems to me, is Judge Harold Medina, who is, I hope, at this moment nursing a double martini and wiggling his toes, sans shoes. He's earned a rest, and a binge, if he wants one, because the public may put him back to work pretty soon.

RUARK

Judge Medina, as you probably know, is the long-patienced gentleman who pulled his handlebar mustaches for the nine long months of the sedition trial, while 11 Communists and their lawyers tried their level best to drive him nuts. The trial ended last week; the Communists were found guilty; Medina sentenced five of the lawyers to jail terms for contempt of court.

There have been few longer and tougher trials, from the standpoint of the judge, in the history of jurisprudence. Medina was forced to face all the weapons of organized Communism—confusion, intimidation, racial slurs, a constant attempt by the legal counsel to throw the court into an uproar goad the judge to honest fury, and thereby force a mistrial.

Errors Are Avoided

Medina let the lawyers and the defendants romp off with literal murder—while the trial was being heard. He did this simply because a sentence of contempt of court for any one of the counsel would have disrupted the proceedings and possibly gained a mistrial for the legal eagles. He endured insult and insolence such as few judges have been called on to take. He coped with a concerted attempt to haze him into either loss of temper or actual physical breakdown.

The actions of Messrs. Sacher, Isserman, Gladstein, Crockett, and McCabe were clearly in contempt from start to finish—so much so that there was considerable indignation over Medina's forebearance in his handling of the men who attempted to knock him loose from his dignity and authority.

Medina dedicated himself to the trial. It is not commonly known that he reviewed each day's proceedings, after hours, passionately searching for any obscure legal pimples which might possibly provide the shrewd defenders with a claim for mistrial. This work often took four, five hours of his own time—time he needed deserately to recoup his draining strength.

MEDINA became an anchorite. He gave up everything for the trial—all personal pleasures, all other business, all distractions. When he was not actively working he sat and waited for energy to flow back into his tissues, for his task was roughly that of a lone football player trying to stand off a whole team for nine months.

In his handling of the insults and diversions presented by the lawyers, he was fair to the point of seeming weakness—again, in an effort to hand the lads all the rope sufficient for a hanging. Most people I've talked to were tickled to death that he finally hit the lawyers with the book, at the trials end.

At 61, Medina is a vigorous, robust man. He is sufficiently wealthy—self-accrued wealth—to be above the economic demands on the small politician. He has devoted his life to the law, and is generally accorded to be a genius in his knowledge of it. I doubt if even the scum who booed his entrance to the courthouse, in organized daily rabble-rousing, would charge him with a lack of integrity. If there is a truly liberal man, in the matters of race, religion and politics, it is Harold Medina.

Gets Public Praise

Medina has hit the public here with an impact I have not seen since young Tom Dewey sent a flock of thugs to jail. Just over the weekend, his capture of the public imagination seems as complete as Joe DiMaggio's. All around you hear Medina for governor, even Medina for president.

Speaking only for me, I buy it all the way. We have been surrounded, since the war, by so many small, cheap people—bickerers and bargainers and back-slappers and log-rollers—that a man with the intelligence, poise and tough integrity of Medina shines like a diamond on a pig's snout. I think Judge Medina will suddenly discover that he can be the people's cherce for anything he wishes. And while it'll cut into his earned relaxation, I hope he goes along with it.

Never met the man in my life, but anything he runs for, he's got a solid "aye" vote here.

Robinson Crusoe should have been content on that island. He wasn't bothered by the overlapping of various taxes.

BY RUTH MILLETT: TO THE LADIES

The Feminine Viewpoint

"YOU say 'most unhappy housewives have one thing in common.'

Well, I'll tell you what a mere male thinks they have in common—not enough to do so that they have time for sitting around stydying over whether they are happy or not." So writes one of my men readers.

MILLETT

That's a popular masculine belief, Mister. But it's mostly a myth.

At least it's not true of the frustrated housewives who writes to me.

Many of them enclose a schedule of a typical day in their lives—and those schedules would make enlightened reading for a lot of men who claim the whole trouble with women is that they have too much time on their hands.

The housewife who gets up at 6:30 and keeps on the jump until 8 o'clock, cooking, washing dishes, scrubbing, washing clothes, ironing, baby-tending, and so forth and so on, isn't being made unhappy by too much leisure.

OPERATE ON FULL SCHEDULE

WOMEN don't have to have leisure to brood in. A woman has plenty of time to figure out whether she is getting anything out of life or not while she has her hands in the dishpan, is bent over an ironing board, or is down on her hands and knees scrubbing a bathroom floor.

If women with leisure time on their hands are unhappy, I don't hear much about it.

So far as my mail indicates, such women know a good thing when they see it and are doing just dandy.

The ones I hear complaints from are women who have too much work and too little fun in their lives, who have too many responsibilities and too little encouragement, who are giving every day far more than they get in return.

There may be women in the world who have been made unhappy by an automatic washing machine, but I haven't met one—in person or through my mail.

WALLGREN'S NEW APPOINTMENT

The President's nomination of his old friend and loyal supporter, former Gov. Mon C. Wallgren, of Washington, to membership on the Federal Power commission seems likely to be approved without too much opposition in the Senate. No good reason is apparent why it should not be approved.

No one pretends that the genial Mr. Wallgren is one of the nation's giant intellects. But he probably is as well qualified for this job as anyone likely to be nominated. There, at least, can be no question as to his patriotic qualifications for the position in which he would succeed the radical, Leland S. Olds, whose re-appointment properly was blocked by the Senate.

True, the Senate also refused to allow the President to name Mr. Wallgren chairman of the very important National Security Resources board a few months ago. But it isn't likely the same opposition will arise to his appointment to the power commission job, which will be more commensurate with his capabilities and in which he cannot do great harm.

France's First Maneuvers Since War Reveal The Need Of Standardization

By DAVID S. BOYER
NEA Staff Correspondent

WITTLICH, French Zone, Germany, Oct. 20. (NEA)—"Pardon mon General . . . but you're dead, sir!"

With a snappy salute, a French "sous-lieutenant" beamed out these words near the Moselle river in Germany, flashed his identification card, to prove he was an "enemy," and picked up the phony hand grenade he had just tossed at the commanding general's feet.

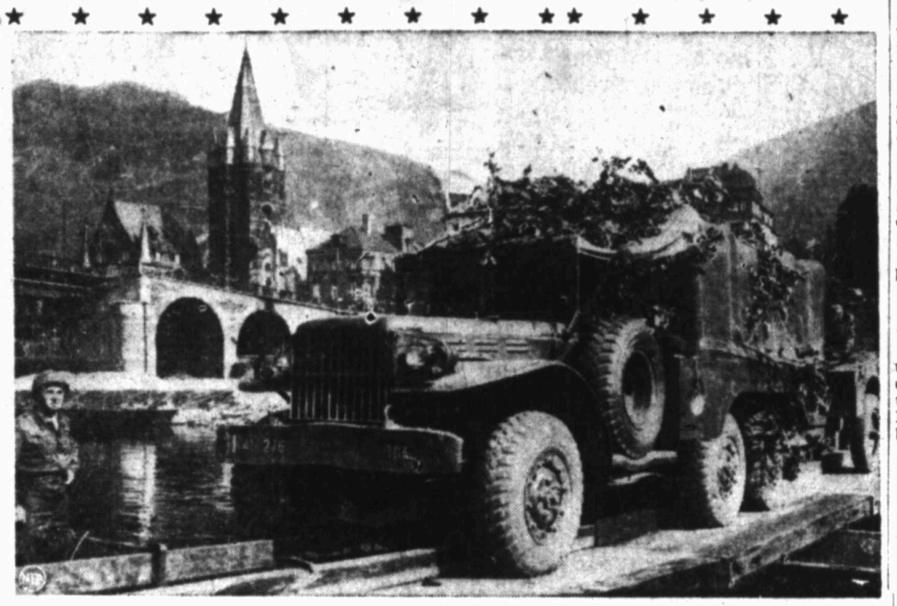

By the rules of the French war games, the general was really dead, "hors de combat." A fifth column detachment, wearing "enemy" uniforms, had penetrated 100 miles through the general's entire army, surprised him in his headquarters. American, French and British referees decided the general had had it.

But Lt. Gen. Augustin Guillaume, commanding French occupation troops in Germany and directing the first large-scale French maneuvers since the war, decided differently. The war games couldn't go on with one of two armies minus its general. He would have to be revitalized.

Should Be Lesson

The incident, General Guillaume declared, should be a lesson for French officers and men everywhere. In modern war, the dangers in the rear—from spies, partisans, paratroops and enemy soldiers is friendly uniforms — is sometimes as great as the dangers at the front from guns and planes.

RETURN ENGAGEMENT: An American-made truck leads units of the invading "Blue" army across the Moselle River on a pontoon bridge during French Army maneuvers in Germany.

The French war games, which included fighting elements of the British, U. S., Luxembourg and Belgian armies, were a prelude to larger scale British-American maneuvers in the British zone of Germany.

High ranking officers from 10 Atlantic Pact countries who observed the French games were in accord that the maneuvers demonstrated a "high degree of effectiveness" in liaison and cooperation.

One incident notably marred the record.

Convoys Destroyed

A company of paratroops, dropped by the French "Blue" army across the Moselle in "Red" army territory, managed to "destroy" a series of Red army-convoys before counteraction was taken. A detachment of French infantry and a group of British paratroops were sent to surround them.

Unhappily, the British paratroops wore the same red berets as the French paratroops. The Britishers were wiped out by their French allies, while the invading paratroopers looked on gleefully from a nearby wood.

The question of standardization of Allied uniforms, not so much discussed as standardization of equipment, was thrown into relief. Enemy troops able to confuse Allied forces by using as disguises any one of a number of uniforms, might thus exploit a "secret" weapon.

Contrast Is Striking

The contrast between well-shod, well-uniformed American troops with their new jeeps, tanks and trucks, and French outfits in cast-off American and British uniforms and, with "surplus" American vehicles and captured German guns, was striking evidence of the French need of supplies and arms.

The French army built around a nucleus of officers who saw active duty in the last war, is a conscript army of boys who were in their early teens during the German occupation of France. Their training is rigorous, but the army lacks the equipment to make it thorough.

Competent drivers, for example, are at a premium. Our jeep driver, a boy of 19 who will be discharged soon, after a year's service, handled a jeep in dangerous tank and half-tank traffic about as skillfully as an Illinois farm girl piloting a new Buick through downtown Chicago.

One French tank failed to negotiate a curve, plunged off a bridge, killing two members.

French officers gritted their teeth and hoped their drivers could carry on.

The generation of French boys under the flag today grew up under the German occupation, when there were no cars to be driven. Recruits of the next few years may be better.

Sick of reading stuff like this?

There is a remedy for these headlines . . . but it isn't easy.

Records of thousands of juvenile delinquents show that what they lacked was the attention and love of a normal, secure and happy home life.

They also needed a decent place to blow off steam. A chance to grow up with healthy, sturdy bodies. (An astonishing number of young "criminals" were just trying to compensate for a minor physical handicap . . . like poor eyesight, for instance . . . just trying to prove they were "as good as anybody.")

Here's what you can do to help:

Red Feather contributions work wonders . . . through services that offer family counsel, child guidance—services that provide interesting places to play under the eye of wise and understanding adults . . . gyms, clubs, craft shops, scouting, and neighborhood centers.

So when your neighbor calls for your Red Feather pledge, be sure to give enough. Give enough to keep some basically fine boy or girl in this town from making headlines that make you sick.

Juvenile delinquency spreads like a disease. One mind influences another. You never know but what the child you help may be your own.

Everybody benefits . . . Everybody gives

Call us about our listings, try your best to get the locations, so you can just drive by, but it's a two to one bet that won't have any success. Koreans Face Death Penalty

SEOUL, Oct. 20 (AP)—Seoul district court today decreed death for four young Koreans for the March 17 slaying of Mrs. Ethel Underwood, 60, wife of a prominent American educator and missionary.

Three others were sentenced to life terms; one to 15 years and one to two years. The nine defendants, all in their early twenties, were members of a leftist students' organization.

Another Woman Target

Mrs. Underwood was shot to death by one of two men who forced their way into her home while she was entertaining faculty wives of Chosun Christian college at tea.

The defendants testified they went there to kill Mo Yoon Sook, woman writer who was critical of Russian policies. Miss Mo hid in a closet when she heard Mrs. Underwood scuffling with the intruders in the front hall. She is now with the Korea delegation at Lake Success.

The victim was the wife of Dr. Horace Underwood, whose father founded the college.

Negroes Fined On Flim-Flam Charges

ATLANTA, Oct. 20 (U.P.)—Two negroes with a new angle wiggled out of counterfeiting charges here yesterday, but it cost them $52 each in fines on a "flim-flamming" count.

Willie Houston, 28, of Salina, Kans., and Benny Wheeler, 42, of Detroit didn't actually manufacture any bogus money, officers said.

Instead they offered for sale, at $1,000 each, kits which they claimed would produce realistic greenbacks.

Flim-flam charges were the only ones that would stand up, police said.

F. Critz Hahn, and how he has turned his living room into a permanent railroad yard.

Soft Roadbed Of Iowan's Rail Line Is Made Of Oriental Rugs

CEDAR RAPIDS, Ia., Oct. 20 (AP)—There's many a model train layout in this country, but the plush roadbed of the miniature railroad operated by F. Critz Hahn, Cedar Rapids industrialist, engineer, airplane pilot and radio amateur, is worth a word on its own.

The roadbed is made of oriental rugs.

For the last three years, walking in the Hahn living room has been hazardous. Except for a small space devoted to furniture which had been pushed back against the wall, the floor is devoted to fast flying model expresses, lumbering freights, or busy work trains ready to clean up wrecks.

Wreck "Danger"

At any time a miniature of the City of Denver may come scooting out from beneath a divan. The Hahns wouldn't think of moving the occasional table a quarter-inch from its present position for fear of wrecking the "5:40 Express" as it whizzes past the table leg.

How does Hahn reconcile his wife to all the clutter? He bought her a train. As a matter of fact he bought a train for every member of the family which includes two daughters.

Three years ago, just before Christmas, Hahn bought one train in a model shop. Since then his rolling stock and equipment has mounted steadily until the layout takes up all of the living room and has a four-foot spur into the hallway.

Like most model builders, Hahn tired of ready-made cars and began to build his own to become the envy of model builders in many parts of the country.

Has 38 Switches

Since the track runs over rugs, it wasn't practical to build it to scale. But he has 350 feet of track, 38 switches, a bridge over a non-existent river, a log-loader, a coal loader and a water tower.

The whole assembly is placed in front of the pushed-back divan and Hahn sits in comfort as he high-balls his rolling stock.

Hahn is not quite sure where his empire will run if he expands. He casts a glance at Mrs. Hahn as he confesses that he is "negotiating for a right-of-way into the dining room."

Continental Crew Is Pipe-Laying Winner

BOWIE, Oct. 20 (AP)—A Continental Oil company crew won the first national pipe-laying contest in six minutes, 40.1 seconds. That's the time it took them to couple and uncouple 330 feet of two-inch oil pipe.

The contest was held yesterday on the street around Bowie's square and climaxed an oil progress celebration.

Stanolind Oil company finished second in seven minutes, five seconds. The Wichita Construction company was third in seven minutes, seven seconds.

Sentences For Reds Are Due

NEW YORK, Oct. 20. —The 11 convicted communist leaders come up for sentence tomorrow, facing no more than a possible five years in prison and fines.

Most people had thought they could get up to 10 years.

However, a revision of the Smith act carries a maximum penalty of only five years for conspiracy. They also can be fined up to $10,000 each.

Apparently, the revision escaped even the defense attorneys. Throughout the nine-month trial that ended Oct. 14 they spoke of the maximum prison penalty as 10 years.

New Trial Asked

The Smith act forbids any one to advocate violent overthrow of the U. S. government. The 11 defendants were convicted by a federal jury of conspiring to violate the act.

It developed yesterday that about a month after their indictment on July 20, 1948, the Smith act was changed to provide the lighter penalty.

The defense moved yesterday to set aside the guilty verdict and gain a new trial. The lawyers also asked that sentence be deferred.

They filed motions contending that there was no evidence at the trial that the Smith act had been violated. They also said the evidence failed to sustain a guilty verdict and that the Smith act is unconstitutional.

It's all gone now. The last 5,812 acres of the original 119,000 were sold yesterday, to 22 veterans. They paid a total of $114,405.

News About People

In our midst today is an expert on marriage. She is Dr. Evelyn M. Duvall of the University of Chicago. She also bears the title of executive secretary of the national council on family relations.

The happily married mother of teen-age children says the primary cause for the alarming divorce rate is that the current married generaetion was brought up in a horse and buggy era and isn't accustomed to the faster pace of living required of today's livers.

Another factor but not a cause is that women are now more independent, says Dr. Duvall. "Grandma may have hated grandpa," she illustrated, "but she couldn't get up and leave. If a woman is unhappy today, she tells her husband off without trying to find a solution to the problem, leaves and gets a job," she added.

Neurosis is another factor. Two neurotics seldom last out a marriage, according to the doctor of human development.

However, Dr. Duvall holds the teen-age generaetion in high esteem. "Their sex standards are no worse than those of preceding generations, she said, because recent surveys reveal that the standards are relatively constant. However, she did believe the current generation is more frank in their quest for knowledge concerning sex, love and marriage. For that reason, she advocates classroom instructions under responsible teachers.

Purpose of the organization is to strengthen family life throughout the nation. A strong family is the foundation our nation, she asserted.

ARMIES ADVANCING ON KWEILIN

China Reds Aim Death Thrust At Nationalists On Mainland

By WAYNE RICHARDSON
Associated Press Staff Writer

HONG KONG, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Communists stabbed westward today in what may be the death blow to the Nationalists on China's mainland.

Chinese newspapers here reported that two government armies were routed in a Red thrust at Kweilin in the southwest. There was no confirmation.

Red Gen. Lin Piao appeared to be trying to split the shattered Nationalist domain in two with a quick knockout of its last big mainland force—the 200,000-man force of Gen. Pai Chung-Hsi.

Press accounts said the conqueror of Manchuria, Tientsin and Hankow sent veterans of the Reds' fourth field army straight at Pai's home base, Kweilin. The Kwangsi province city is 250 air miles northwest of Canton.

Move West Of Canton

The dispatches said two of Pai's armies were blasted along the Kwangsi-Hunan border. The Reds were reported racing along the rail line to Kweilin; and had either taken or bypassed Chuanhsien, only 70 miles to the northeast.

To the south, another Communist force commanded by Gen. Chen Keng was reported slashing westward from the newly won Canton area. These troops were said to be less than 50 miles from the Kwangsi border. Their drive was along the west river.

The push on Kwangsi seemed in itself evidence that the Reds were determined to extend their control quickly over the entire mainland.

Only two days ago, Nationalist quarters at Chungking expected the Comunists' westward drive would be aimed at Kweichow, almost defenseless province just north of Kwangsi. They thought the Reds would take it and cut off Pai's armies from Chungking, new Nationalist refugee capital to the northwest.

Instead, Lin's Reds appeared to be concentrating their power on the cream of the remaining Nationalist forces defending Pai's native province.

Evacuation Pushed

Pai withdrew southwest into Kwangsi from Hunan when the Reds put the heat on Canton. He did it rather than risk Red entrapment by going south to defend Canton.

Press reports said a wholesale evacuation of Kweilin's civilians already was underway. It was signalled, they said, by the transfer of the Kwangsi provincial government to Yungning (Nanning), deep in the southwestern part of the province.

Pai was reported still in Kweilin.

Possession of Kwangsi would put the Communists on the border of Yunnan province in China's far southwest. They would then be within easy striking distance of Kunming, Yunnan's capital.

There has been much speculation that the Nationalists would try to set up their provisional capital at Kumming if they were chased from Chungking.

Kwangsi itself would put the Communists on the border of French Indochina.

Sub "Lost" In Naval Attack

ABOARD USS ELDORADO, Oct. 20 (AP)—The Miki fleet, on its way to liberate Hawaii from a mythical aggressor, has lost a scouting submarine to the first land-based plane counterattack.

The navy reported today the submarine Perch, loaded with reconnaisance troops, was theoretically bombed and sunk 50 miles off Oahu bay.

The Perch's mission was to land a beach scouting force in advance of a full scale amphibious assault by the Second infantry division from Fort Lewis, Wash.

During the preceding night, the destroyer Frank Knox was torpedoed and sunk by the aggressor submarine Bergall. The Knox was part of the screen for Rear Admiral B. J. Rodgers' carrier invasion force.

Three hours later the Bergall was caught and sunk by the destroyer escort Raby and the destroyer Chandler.

Miki task force losses now are two carriers, one transport, two destroyers and one submarine. The aggressor has lost seven submarines.

Umpires stress that in the controlled training exercise Rodgers' force is limited to maneuvering in a 100-mile-wide course.

The aggressor submarine force is given advance positions on the Miki fleet's course. By these controls, both submarines and antisubmarine planes get repeated detection and attack drills.

New System Invented To Refuel In Flight

WICHITA, Kans., Oct. 20. (AP)—The "flying boom," a new system of refueling airplanes in flight, has been developed.

The Boeing airplane company reported yesterday it perfected a new method in which gasoline is pumped from a tanker plane to another craft through a telescoping metal pipe.

Under previous refueling systems, a flexible hose with gravity fuel flow generally was used.

The company said its method is designed to enable Air Force planes to refuel faster and at higher altitudes than possible previously.
